MUSIC AND FROCKS OF LONG AGO AT CLUB'S CONCERT

Quaint Program Proves of Great Interest at Charter Night Celebration

 the program because of a severe cold.

Adding greatly to the charm of the sketch were the harp music, beautifully played by Edna Hopkins and the piano accompaniments by Gertrude Champlain Erb.

The club women were also assisted by Blossom Moore and Cecilia Mae Fischer, two of the most talented pupils of the Pearl Keller School of Dancing and Dramatic Art. These two little girls assisted the club in the previous presentation and their parts last night were anxiously awaited by those attending.

Blossom Moore gave a garden dance in a cunning little black colonial frock and powdered wig. Her very clever dancing and happy manner won for her the highest praise.

Equally as talented is Cecilia Mae Fischer, who gave a reading and dance, "A Dream of Long Ago." She was gowned in a cunning colonial creation of old rose flowered taffeta and lace and her illustrated story of grandma's dancing party and flirtations was a bit of real artistry and was the inspiration for much applause.

Surprise Feature

The romance in the "Old Fashioned Garden" was introduced as a surprise feature at the close of the program, when Blossom Moore and Cecilia Mae Fischer came onto the stage and taking Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb by the hands led her to the footlights, while the wedding march was played. Mrs. Erb, whose marriage was an event of just a week ago today, was formerly Miss Gertrude Champlain and she is a prominent member of both the music club and the music section.

In congratulating her, Mrs. Jones spoke in appreciation of her work and then presented her with a basket of pink rose buds, expressive of the wishes of the club members for happiness.

Another honor for Mrs. Erb came when Gertrude Heideman, president of the junior department of the music club, came upon the stage and after expressing the appreciation of the juniors for her help and interest in their activities, presented her with a gift of silver from the junior organization.

The club women taking part in the "Old Fashioned Garden" were Helen Graham Cole, Phoebe Armstrong Marlene, Riffa Leighton, Florence Cowan Parker, Mildred Cowan Meadows, Helen E. MacMillin, Emma Hopkins, Gladys Gibbs Sherman, Zettie Duncan Nash and Virginia Freeman.

The March program of the club will be featured by the appearance of Carl Gantvoort, baritone, and Calmon Labovski, pianist.

Different Types Of Human Nature Demand Denominations

THAT there are many denominations is one of the oftener-heard criticisms of the Christian church. "There can't be much good in the church or the denominations would get together and settle their differences," is a charge that is frequently made.

No two things in nature have been created alike; no two persons are exactly the same, either physically or mentally. So, isn't it to be expected that human beings should arrive at conclusions through different processes of thinking and reasoning? Many types of human nature make up mankind but all are racing toward the same goal.

Many religious denominations working along different lines are all putting forth their efforts for the ultimate good. The differences between Christian denominations are not fundamental. They are all endeavoring to interpret the will of the Divine and apply these truths to life. The denominations are like different paths and trails all leading to the mountain top.

"It takes all kinds of people to make a world," is also true of churches. And there being so many different kinds of people the wonder of it is that there are not more church denominations.

If you have been guilty of this criticism of the Christian church, think this over.

 handkerchief and doesn't like afternoon teas or gossip."

She's Got Sack!
 "My husband makes his home a perfect 'haven of rest' by crabbing if anyone else sits in his chair," admits another confidential report. "He insists that his beefsteak must be done in a certain way and no other. He breaks forth in loud, wet sobs if anyone has grabbed the newspaper before he sees it."

"I've often thought such men should be sewed up in a sack and left someone's back lot like a troublesome Tabby—and I've got the sack."

Some virtues as well as faults are possessed by husbands, according to the replies to the questionnaire.

"My husband's virtues far outweigh his faults," asserted one wife. "Our home is far happier than the average."

He Knows Too Much
 A father declares: "Our children agree that he is a good dad. He has many virtues. He is on time at church and business. He is a good husband whose virtues far outnumber his faults. Perhaps the most extraordinary fault is that he thinks he knows so much more than I. Perhaps it is so, but it would be kinder of him not to tell it so often."

"Love is the encounter which changes little souls into large souls," exclaims another epistle. "My husband loves his family. If my husband has a fault, it is that, in his desire to please, he may be a bit extravagant and not lay up enough money for the future."

One husband commands the respect of his wife because "He is always square in his dealings with other men. He will not be a party to any unfair thing in his work even if it means the loss of his position."

 school. A committee was authorized to be appointed by the president to consider plans of this nature in use elsewhere in high schools, and to report to the club when it had completed its investigations.

Miss Jennie Freeman spoke briefly on "Class Dues," after which there was discussion of the subject, it being brought out that the budget system was being worked successfully in many schools.

Teaching Life Work
 Miss Maud Soper, who presented the subject of "Ethics for Teachers," gave a review of an article published in a recent issue of the National Educational magazine, in which it was argued that teaching should be regarded not as a stepping-stone to other professions or occupations, but as a lofty profession in itself, and a life work.

To raise teaching to this height the article brought out, salaries should be sufficient to make it possible for teachers to buy all books necessary, to enable them to travel and expand, and to give them a chance to attend important meetings and conferences in the profession.

If teaching is to rank among the other professions, was the concluding thought of the meeting, it must be compensated accordingly.

Cartwright Speaks In Glendale Feb. 22

SEN. G. W. CARTWRIGHT Who Will Lecture in the Glendale Union High School Auditorium on February 22

Interest in the visit of Senator George W. Cartwright to Glendale on February 22, when he will deliver a lecture in the auditorium of the Glendale Union High school, is growing as the date for the event nears and as a wider knowledge of Senator Cartwright is gained by the people of this city.

Senator Cartwright served in the California assembly for several years and is the author of the law bearing his name that is still on the books of the state of California. His contributions to modern literature include "The Mutual Interests of Labor and Capital," and he is now working on another book which will be published shortly under the title of "Fundamentals of Permanent Prosperity." His services as a lecturer for the National Educational Association, of which he is vice president, have won him an envied place on the lecture platforms of the country, and the message that he brings to Glendale next Thursday is said to be one that no forward-looking person who has the interests of America at heart can afford to miss.

Burglars Attempt to Rob Eagle Rock Home

Housebreakers were frightened away from the W. E. Bruce home at 157 Eddy avenue, Eagle Rock, last night, after they had broken a window to gain entrance. The indications were that they were just about to enter the house when the family returned at 11:30 after an evening away from home.

No clue was left other than what may develop after a photograph for finger prints is taken.

TERROR SPREADS IN RUHR REGION

German Youths in Guerrilla War Fire on French Commander

DUSSELDORF, Feb. 17.—Guerrilla warfare similar to that raging in Ireland is breaking out in the Ruhr. According to reports to the French from the "front," bands of German youths, armed with revolvers, are creating terror. An attempt was made to shoot General Laignelot, of the French forces.

French Seize City
 ESSEN, Feb. 17.—French troops today occupied Gelsenkirchen in reprisal for the refusal of the municipality to pay the 100,000,000 marks fine imposed earlier in the week.

Soldiers Killed, Report
 BERLIN, Feb. 17.—Berlin newspapers today printed an unconfirmed report that many Belgian soldiers had been killed in a train wreck near Duren. Duren is 18 miles east of Aix-La-Chapelle.

New Device to Speed Up Telegraph Service
 BERLIN, Feb. 17.—A long stride in improving European international communications, which the war so fundamentally disturbed, has been made, according to experts, by the installation of the new Siemens automatic telegraph machine in the Berlin and Budapest wireless stations, for service between the two cities.

The Siemens instrument operates at a normal speed of approximately 160 words a minute, whereas the best manual sending in the United States, where the art of telegraphy has been brought to its highest point, is said to average only forty words a minute on the fastest wires. Manual radio-telegraphy is much slower.

High speed sending and receiving machines of another type are also being used in the Berlin-New York radio service. The operator merely "punches" the message on a tape, which is fed into the sending machine. The receiving machine on the other side automatically records the message in code on another tape, and the operator has merely to copy it in plain language on the typewriter. These transatlantic machines go so fast that, according to radio operators, it is impossible to copy them on the typewriter.

The United States produces from two to three billion bushels of corn annually.

In Iceland whistling is forbidden as a breach of the divine law.

PROTECTION!

—against death, old age, total disability, accident or sickness is all most desirable and valuable, but, like every good thing, must be paid for. No insurance company will sell you a life policy and "throw in" total disability, accident and health protection—you may be sure of that. So, when anybody tells you he can secure a policy "paying five other way, he is paying for all the ways.

EARTH'S JUBILEE
SPEAKER'S TOPIC

Promise of Deliverance Is Told in Message at Sunday Lecture

George P. Ripper will speak at the Chamber of Commerce hall, Glendale, tomorrow, Sunday night at 7:45 o'clock. His subject will be "Earth's Great Jubilee."

"To many people the Bible is an uninteresting, dry, old book," said Mr. Ripper, recently. "Because they think it is merely a record of the lives of people who died thousands of years ago, and of events and conditions which happened when business men shipped their freight by oxcart
and dictated to stenographers who wrote their notes on blocks of stone with a hammer and chisel. If people only knew that it is full of news about the 20th century they might be willing to cancel a visit to the 'movies' and read it a little oftener. Even a curiosity seeker can find out what it says about the present day methods of travel and transportation; the marvelous increase of knowledge on every subject;
the disputes between labor and capital resulting in universal unrest; the World War of 1914-1918; the 'influenza' epidemics;
the famines of 1920; the revolutions in Europe; the restoration of Palestine to the Jews, etc.,
etc."

Mrs. John W. Munn of 350 Arden avenue, entertained at her home on Monday of this week with a luncheon and cards, the guests being Mrs. L. F. Berndt, Mrs. H.
E. McCartney and Mrs. L. C.
Wolfe.

Mrs. C. M. Pomeroy and her two sons, Harvey and Wesley, left this morning for Redondo Beach, where they will spend the weekend visiting at the home of Mrs.
Pomeroy's sister, Mrs. Roy Mc-Cracken.

Mrs. Robert F. Kolts of 406
East California avenue is confined to her home with a severe case of jaundice. She expects to be able to resume her duties on the faculty of the local high school within the next few days.

Jubilee Coming
"The fallen, blinded, groaning creation has for centuries plodded in its weary way, defeated at every step, even its best endeavors proving fruitless, yet ever hoping that the Golden Age dreamed of by its philosophers was at hand. It knows not that a still greater deliverance than that for which it hopes and groans is to come through the Great Emancipator, the Messiah
—the despised Nazarene and His followers, who, as the sons of God, will shortly be manifested in Kingdom power for its deliverance. When the great enslaver, Sin, is shorn of his power; when the great prison house of death is opened and a release is presented to each prisoner, signed in the precious blood of the Lamb of God, which takes away the sin of the world, that will be Earth's Great Jubilee."

Mr. Ripper has promised to present some remarkable lines of Bible chronology showing just where the Great Jubilee will begin. All are urged to take advantage of this opportunity of hearing this lecture. The lecture is entirely free and no collections will be taken.

Bridge Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kull of 429 West Palm drive entertained yesterday afternoon with a bridge luncheon in honor of Mrs. Mack Bergstrom of San Lake City, sister of Mrs. Louis Weber of 445 West Palm drive.

The floral decorations for the affair were strikingly beautiful, great bowls of vari-hued sweet peas adorning every nook of the living-room, while the dining-room table carried a massive cut-glass globe brimming with them.

The favors were Chinese Bud-dhas, in delicate design. A feature of the lovely luncheon was a salad entree, each plate arranged in the likeness of a butterfly.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bergstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kull, Mrs. George Dewey, Mrs. Allen Greensides and Mrs. Earl Hutchison.

Following the luncheon, bridge was played, high scores being made by Mrs. Dewey and Mrs. Greensides.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THE INCONCEIVABLE MEANNESS

Self-justification is the law of human thought.

I don't suppose anyone ever did anything so mean, so selfish, so wicked that he did not, nevertheless, find means to justify his deed to himself.

But I heard of something the other day that I cannot conceive of anyone's being able to justify.

A very dramatic true story precedes the part that has to do with this inconceivable meanness.

A Passion for Life Insurance

Some years ago there lived a young man, who, although he was apparently a pleasant, normal young man, must have been unbalanced in some way. Though he had only as much money as a young man of 25 or 26, and though he had a wife to support, he had a passion for taking out enormously large insurance policies.

Rumor went about that he had taken out $150,000 on himself.

Rumor was wrong. He had insurance policies to the extent of $450,000, and he was aiming to make it half a million.

How on earth could he pay the premium on all these even for a few months?

When the question was asked, vague answers of real estate deals by which he had made much money on the side were given.

The real answer came out when he was arrested for forgery.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Dr. Peters cannot answer personal letters, requests for diagnoses, and so forth. She can send information only to those who write for articles which she announces from day to day in this column that she will send to inquirers for them; and then only when the rules of the column are complied with—letters not more than 250 words in length and plainly written in ink, and a stamped envelope enclosed that bears your full name and complete address. Other questions may be sent if desired with the understanding that they will not be answered by mail, but will be considered in this column if suitable and as soon as possible, in their turn.—The Editor.

"Dear Doctor:

"You dear Miracle Worker! I am writing to you as the last means of securing some relief. I am 4 feet 9 inches tall and am 17 years old. I have done everything in my power to grow taller. Please, please, Doctor, save my life. Tiny."

Dear girl, you have three or four years yet to grow, so don't be discouraged. Drink a quart of milk at least every day and eat plenty of the green leaf vegetables, eat whole wheat bread and have meat, eggs or cheese—preferably cottage cheese—once a day, so that you will get your vitamins and mineral salts and protein. Get some gymnastic exercises and out-of-door exercises also. Perhaps by taking thought you can add one cubic to your stature.

While undoubtedly the height is more or less determined by inheritance, we know that proper diet does influence it, because the Japanese children who are born in America and grow up on the varied diet that we have here are taller and larger than their parents.

so worth it—you'll feel the benefit for a long, long time. And such a summer need not interfere with housework, or social activities.

F. E. H.—The easiest way to keep the skin clear of blackheads is to dissolve all the soil in the skin one each day by rubbing into it plenty of cleansing cream. Remove this with a hot or warm damp cloth and then proceed to treat the skin as usual either by washing it with warm water or a massage with fine cream, but in any case, always close the pores again with either an ice rub or dashes of very cold water. A daily warm bath will also do much to keep the face clear of blackheads, as it keeps the pores freed over the whole body and they are less apt to grow coarse over parts of the face. Consult the doctor about the inflamed eyelids. Compresses of hot water laid over the lids every day will help them also and not interfere with any other treatment.

Cinderella—An excellent shampoo is made by dissolving some castile soap in hot water. Use this as you would any liquid soap when washing the hair. To gain in weight drink plenty of milk and be generous in the use of butter and olive oil.

This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. Drop this batter by teaspoons onto a greased pan and bake in a hot oven."

E. N. S.: "Citron Preserves. Some time ago one of your readers, 'Mrs. B. G. P.' asked for a citron preserve recipe, so tried to do as Mother used to. I think that large citrons are best for preserving as they have fewer seeds. First pare and cut the fruit into cubes three-quarters of an inch square, removing all seeds. Soak these cubes in salt and water for three or four hours, to remove the strong taste (overnight), then drain off this water and boil in fresh water. When tender and the salt taste is gone, weigh the fruit and add to it one-half its weight of granulated sugar and one finely-cut lemon. Boil till this is amber-color and the juice-strapy. Now add one-half pound of raisins and cook 15 minutes longer. This can be kept in jars covered with paraffin, or it may be canned."

E. M. S.: "Sour Cream Chocolate Cake: Frosting: Put into a saucepan two tablespoons of powdered cocoa, one-half cup of sugar and one-half cup of sour cream; let this boil gently till the sugar is dissolved, then cool a little and heat till the right consistency to spread."

CLERKS PRACTICE NEW DANCE STEPS

Postoffice Staff Preparing For Washington Hop Next Wednesday

That puzzling noise that has been baffling visitors to the Glendale postoffice for the last week or two has at last been traced to its source.

It has been caused by the clerks practicing a lot of new steps for their George Washington birthday dance that is to be held on Wednesday night, February 21, in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce, and Assistant Postmaster George Hallett is authority for the statement that the clerks are working twice as fast as usual when they can glide around the floor at their work, distributing mail in the boxes in time to a snappy tune.

Anyway, everyone has been limbering the ailed foot in preparation for the affair, and the local clerks are going to show their visitors from the Los Angeles and Pasadena offices something new in glides and dips and the other peculiarities of the modern dances.

Henry Weger and Miss Irene Rich head the refreshment committee, and Lloyd Gomes and Norman Ashcroft, the directing heads of the reception committee, have enlisted every other clerk in the office to take the heavy work off their shoulders.

The decorations will be in the national colors, and a number of patriotic specialties will be scattered through the program of the evening.

AUTOMOBILE SECTION

CHANGE IN SPEED RULE ON BRIDGES

Limit Is Fixed Through That Of District in Which You Travel

How fast can motorists travel over bridges in the state of California? Have you ever had any trouble with bridge speed regulations, asks the Automobile Club of Southern California.

If so, you will be interested to know that there has been a change in speed regulations over bridges throughout California. No longer can arbitrary speed limits be specified on bridges or anything that looks like bridges by any body of people other than the law as contained in the State Motor Vehicle Act.

This law says that the speed of automobiles over bridges should be governed by the speed limit in the district where the bridge is located. That is, if the bridge is in a thirty mile speed limit on a county road or state highway, the speed over that bridge will be the same as it is on the highway. If the speed limit on the highway where the bridge is located is fifteen miles an hour, as provided in the State Motor Vehicle Act in congested districts and certain localities, then you must not go over fifteen miles an hour over the bridge.

Eagle Rock Arrest
This decision has been made by the State Supreme Court in the case of Fred F. McLain who was recently arrested for traveling more than twenty-eight miles per hour over the Colorado Street bridge in Eagle Rock, California. McLain admitted that he was traveling faster than the fifteen mile limit prescribed by the Highway Commission on that bridge. The decision of the court which accompanied the order discharging McLain from custody is considered by officials of the Automobile Club as of far reaching effect as the bill virtually nullifies any speed regulation made by the Highway Commission which is at any rate at variance with the maximum speed limit established by law.

Australia to Secure Data on Highways

The Australian government has sent an engineer of roads and bridges to this country to study the construction of American highways, particularly as to the cost of laying the different types of roads, durability, maintenance costs, drainage and grading. Australia is contemplating an expensive roadbuilding program.

RESISTANCE TO SKIDDING

When caught on a wet highway without chains, it is advisable to let out a portion of the air in the tires. Release enough air to give the tire more traction surface, and in this way the tendency to skid will be lessened, although it will not eliminate the danger of skidding.

Banner Year For 1923 Predicted By Leading Auto Parts Builder

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—With a steady yet thrilling movement—America is encircling the globe with automobiles. Automobiles are becoming more and more complete. The automobile is becoming more and more an all-weather, all-season vehicle. The efficiency of the automobile is being increased more and more through simplification and interchangeability of parts and units.

The automobile is becoming more and more essential in social, commercial and industrial life.

The automotive industry is developing more and more along railroad lines. The automobile is meaning more and more to millions of men and women in terms of human freedom.

This is not the prayer of the automotive industry, but, according to M. L. Hemingway, general manager of the Motor and Accessory Manufacturers' Association, a summary of current conditions. These conclusions are based on an intensive and analytical survey just completed by the association, which embraces in its membership more than 425 of the leading manufacturers of automotive parts and equipment.

A recapitulation of the opinions of the principal executives of the industry, who replied to Mr. Hemingway's questions, reveals:

1—That the 1923 outlook in the automotive industry is unquestionably good.

2—That 1923 passenger car production will probably equal that of 1922, which, according to present indications, will set a new high mark for the industry.

3—That truck production will show an increase in 1923.

4—That renewals during 1923 will alone require 1,800,000 vehicles.

5—That the re-entry of the farmers into the buying market will add substantially to car and truck sales.

6—That there will be good export business for the automotive industry, particularly in the South American and Far Eastern areas.

7—That the financial situation in the industry during 1923 will be marked by continuation of keen competition, strengthening the well-established companies and putting the others to the final test.

8—That fundamental credit conditions will be sound and well stabilized.

9—That car manufacturers are giving greater emphasis to closed cars, sport models and light sixes.

10—That more and more accessories and devices, which in the past have been regarded as extras, are being adopted as standard equipment by accessory manufacturers.

In making public this survey, General Manager Hemingway declared that parts and accessories are no longer an incidental or secondary part of the annual automobile.

"It is becoming manifest that the public is motor wise," said Hemingway. "Not only the men, but even the women are learning to look under the hood in buying automobiles. The trend of motor car and motor car advertising demonstrates this beyond the question of a doubt. The general public demands specific information about the parts and units of the vehicle and pry into every nook and cranny of the machine. This attitude of the public is reflected in the emphasis which producers are giving to the complete car, ready for use in every detail."

Auto Club Moves to New Quarters in L. A.

Bag and baggage the Los Angeles headquarters of the Automobile Club of Southern California has moved to its permanent building at Adams and Figueroa streets, Los Angeles, marking an epoch in automotive history for this part of the country.

The Los Angeles office of the auto club has occupied quarters on Figueroa near Pico since 1914, but, according to officials of the organization, the rapidly growing membership of the club has indicated that a change to larger quarters was necessary for the last three years.

In order to secure adequate accommodations a permanent building was erected at Adams street, located on the club's own property which symbolizes the permanence and effort of the Southern California club.

MOTOR POPULATION

Only 9 per cent of the 11,000,000 motor vehicles in the United States are in cities with over 500,000 population. Thirty-three per cent are in towns with fewer than 1000 people.

KEEP MIXTURE LEAN

When it is necessary to employ the low gear for a considerable period it is possible to obviate the overheating that would ordinarily result by keeping the mixture in the leanest possible condition.

Bill Seeks to Put R. R. Board in Charge

One of the bills that will be acted upon by the Legislature of California when it resumes its session next month is that introduced by Senator F. Arbuckle of Fillmore. This bill seeks to place all auto operators engaged in the transportation of persons or property for compensation, under the jurisdiction and control of the Railroad Commission and would levy a tax of 7 per cent on the gross receipts.

This bill would apply not only to what are known as franchised motor carriers, but to all types who receive compensation for their services, except those engaged in the transportation of persons to or from a public school. It would apply to the vast majority of trucks now in use.

A proposition making provisions similar to those incorporated in Senator Arbuckle's measure appeared on the ballot at the recent general election in this State and was defeated by a vote of 499,458 to 136,271.

GOOD INSULATION

Examine the electrical system at different intervals. Wires may work against some part of the chassis or engine, which chafes and wears away the insulation. Cover these with friction tape or secure them in such a way that they will not rub. When current commences to leak out, the battery may be ruined or the wires burned away.

TOURING BUREAU TELLS OF ROADS

Transcontinental Travel Now Comes to This State on Southern Highway

The general road conditions throughout the west for motorists have just been reported upon by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Hundreds of inquiries have been received at the club offices in regard to condition of highways leading to Mexico City and various points in Mexico from the United States. And the touring bureau quotes a report submitted by the American consulate at Guaymas which says that it is not possible to reach Mexico City by automobile from any point along the border of Southern California, Arizona or New Mexico. It is possible, however, to drive to Mexico City by entering Mexico at Laredo, Texas. The trip over that route is not an inviting one especially to those who are not familiar with the country. Taken as a whole the report, which is on file at auto club offices, shows that Mexican roads at present are nothing to boast about.

Favor Southern Route

The bulk of transcontinental travel coming to California over the National Old Trail road is favoring the extreme southern route via Tucson, Lordsburg and Deming to Mesilla Park, thence north via Socorro through Albuquerque. The roads will be passable between Albuquerque and Denver to Kansas City the balance of the winter between storms. No trouble should be encountered in traveling over the Raton Pass as the road has been recently improved. The Midland Trail is passable from Southern California north via Mojave and the Owens River Valley to Big Pine and Bishop. It is not advisable to attempt to reach Salt Lake City at present over this route, nor will it be until better weather improves conditions in the mountain regions of Western Nevada and on the desert between Ely and Salt Lake City.

Bankhead Highway

The Lincoln highway and the higher altitudes of Wyoming will also offer adverse going until about April 1.

The Bankhead highway from San Diego east is open between San Diego and El Centro and no rain has fallen in the Imperial Valley during the last few days. Motorists taking this route, says the Auto club, to Florida should inquire at the El Paso club to determine their routes across Texas.

RIDING OVER STONES

Riding over stones cannot always be avoided, but when this annoyance must be met with it is well to remember to put the soft pedal on the speed so as not to tip stones. A lot of things, including crankcases, battery boxes, drain cocks and other exposed underparts of the chassis become damaged or broken when stones are tipped and hurled upward with great force by the wheels of a speeding car.

EFFICIENCY IN TOWING

Do not allow a car to tow another to be towed unless the tow line is as short as may be consistent with clearness and control. Let the car being towed have some one at the wheel and brakes. Go slowly and carefully, especially at street crossings, corners and entering or leaving a building or driveway where pedestrians may easily fail to notice the rope and try to cross between.

BIGGEST YEAR IN INDUSTRY LOOMS

Trade Journal Asserts 1923 Will Be Best in Auto History for U. S.

In 1923, according to the February issue of the Automobile Trade Journal, the automotive market can safely absorb 10 per cent more motor vehicles than were sold last year, when 3,500,000 cars and trucks were produced.

Other conditions remaining satisfactory, this promises to be the most successful year, for both maker and dealer, in the entire history of the 'automobile business.

Approximately 1,650,000 passenger cars will pass their sixth year of service some time during the next twelve months, and under normal economic conditions, must be replaced. This represents the largest replacement market which has been available since the establishment of the automotive industry.

For New Owners
About 800,000 cars will be required for what we may term "new owners." This estimated requirement will, of course, be modified by existing industrial and agricultural conditions. It is estimated that 75,000 cars will go into the export trade. Adding these together, we find a demand for approximately 2,225,000 passenger cars.

In the commercial car field, the percentage of trucks needed for replacement is not quite so large as in the passenger car field. Approximately 125,000 commercial cars will be replaced during the coming twelve months, if business conditions continue on a fairly even keel. A demand for 135,000 trucks for new owners is (Continued on Page 7)

Engine Inspection at State Border Ceases

The doors of California are to be swung wide and a welcome extended to every tourist who wishes to bask in its sunshine and enjoy its flowers, according to Will H. Marsh, director of the division of motor vehicles.

The system of compelling those who enter California to have their cars submitted to officers of the department for immediate engine inspection is to be abandoned. Residents of other states entering California will be asked to register their machines and will be granted an emblem from the state of California showing such registration, upon proper identification. Until they desire to register their machines under the laws of California or transfer it to a resident of the state, engine inspection will not be demanded. For this reason, the head of the department sounds a warning to all dealers and to all contemplated purchasers of machines registered from other states that no such purchase should be made unless the machine has been properly registered under the laws of California. To do so is taking a long chance which may result in loss to the buyer.

The tourist privilege is granted in order that the visitor to California may travel its highways unmolested by traffic officers, but such registration in no wise guarantees the title of the car in its operator.

Color Band Markings Assist Auto Drivers

Tourists motoring to Washington, D. C. will find no difficulty in following the main arteries of traffic in the National Capital as a result of color band markings for the main routes, worked out by the American Automobile Association and adopted by the District of Columbia commissioners. Funds for painting these color bands on the lamp posts along the routes through the city have been appropriated and the work of outlining the main arteries of travel has started.

The color band scheme, which has already been adopted in the New England States, New York and Pennsylvania through the cooperation of State and A. A. officials, is declared by experts to be the simplest practical plan of routing a traveler through a strange city and as many other States are planning to install this system it is not unlikely that the time is close at hand when a motorist can follow a given color line from coast to coast.

Several Reasons Why Fan Belt May Slip

Slipping of the fan belt may be caused by several things. The belt may be oily, greasy or too loose; the fan may be tight on its bearings; possibly from lack of lubrication, or the pulley may be loose on the shaft.

NEVER OVERLOAD CAR

An owner of an automobile should never overcrowd his car nor permit objects or passengers to project beyond the sides. Running board, mudguards and hoods are not meant to carry persons or property.

DE PALMA IS POPULAR DRIVER Something of 'Dark Horse' In Coming Contest

THIS STATE NOW IN FIRST PLACE

Ralph DePalma, AUTOMOBILE racing brought fame and money to Ralph DePalma many years ago, but Ralph does not have to depend upon fickle Dame Fortune to "keep the wolf from the door," for he commands a very substantial salary anywhere as an automotive engineer and designer of the highest type.

Starting out when still but a boy as a bicycle racer, he later graduated into the motorcycle racing game, and then, almost twenty years ago, took up the newer sport and profession of automobile racing and achieved considerable success even in the earlier days of the game.

Not until his victory in the Vanderbilt Cup race of 1912, however, was the name of DePalma one to conjure with in motor car racing. That victory, and a victory in the same event two years later, brought DePalma before the public as a real racing star, and from that day to this his appearance on the track always brings forth cheers and applause from the stands.

DePalma's popularity as a race driver is not altogether due to his achievements in the game, but to his well-known, good sportsmanship and his happy faculty of being able to smile with equal facility in defeat or victory. Some of DePalma's more notable victories were achieved in (Continued on Page 6)

Passenger Automobiles in California Take Lead In Registrations

California leads every other state in the Union in the number of passenger cars its residents own, according to figures just given out in a yearly recapitulation issue of Motor Registration News of Oakland, a statistical journal which specializes in recording sales of all make motor cars and trucks in California.

There are 803,710 automobiles in California, according to this publication which also shows that New York state is second with 781,070 and Ohio, third with 740,000. In total number of motor vehicles—cars and trucks—New York is first; Ohio, second and California, third.

In this same recapitulation number it is shown that California bought 169,197 cars and trucks in 1922, an amount 46 per cent larger than was recorded in 1921. Of this total, 150,628 are represented by automobiles and 18,569 by trucks. The passenger car increase is equivalent to 45 per cent, and the gain in truck business amounts to 57 per cent.

South Takes Lead
The eleven Southern California counties bought in 1922, 84,495 automobiles, and the forty-seven northern counties purchased 66,133 cars.

The southern district gained 50 per cent over its 1921 trade and 78 per cent over its 1920 total. The northern section increased 40 per cent over its 1921 business, which was 7 per cent less than its 1920 total.

Motor News tabulations also show that in 1920 the south bought 49 per cent of all the cars sold in California; in 1921 it purchased 54 per cent and 1922 its residents took 56 per cent of all the motor cars coming into the state.

A similar comparison for the north is 51 per cent of the cars in 1920, 46 per cent in 1921, and 44 per cent in 1922. Every county in the state increased over its 1921 volume the gains varying from 2 per cent to 148 per cent. Placer county had the lowest increase and Lake county the largest.

Gains Are Noted
The ten leading counties show gains in order of their importance as buying sections to this extent: Los Angeles, 53 per cent; San Francisco county, 33 per cent; Alameda county, 51 per cent; Fresno county, 68 per cent; San Diego county, 43 per cent; Orange county, 40 per cent; Santa Clara county, 35 per cent; Kern county, (Continued on Page 7)

DE PALMA PROVES POPULAR DRIVER

Good Sportsmanship Aids Him in Holding Large Share of Race Fans

The Elgin road-races of 1913 and 1914, important events on the Chicago Speedway in 1917 and the same year at Cincinnati. His road race record of 93.4 miles an hour stood for some time, while in 1919 he won the Sheephead Bay race of 500 miles at an average speed of 113.7 miles an hour, a mark which still stands for that distance and was only broken in 250-mile competition by Jimmy Murphy in the Los Angeles Speedway event December 3rd, last.

DePalma's thorough knowledge of racing cars and their mechanism makes him something of a "dark horse" in any race and he is so considered in the big 250-mile event on the Los Angeles Speedway bowl February 25th. Improvements he has made in his Duesenberg Special warrant the prediction that he will have his mount capable of better than 120 miles an hour in that event and this speed, together with his long experience as a race driver, promises dangerous competition for the remainder of the field, fast as it is.

Difficult Test for Autos to Be Staged

The longest and the most difficult reliability trial in the world has been promoted this year by the Australian Motor club over the Alps of Victoria.

Eighty-four competitors entered for the competition which began on November 15 and it is taking place on a course of 1012 miles, the greater part of which winds in and out over forest paths with gradients reaching over 6000 feet.

During this arduous course different trials of speed, reliability and fuel consumption, carried out under special regulations, will take place.

LONGEVITY OF SPRINGS

Springs should be taken apart once a year and graphited. This will keep them flexible and afford the car the protection for which the springs were designed, instead of getting dirty, rusty and stiffening very perceptibly.

TAX IMPORTED AUTOS

An import duty amounting to 10 per cent of the value of automobiles and trucks is to be imposed by Mexico. Automobiles have been admitted into that country free of duty since January 1, 1919.

EXTRA FEATURES IN SPECIAL SIX

Studebaker Engineers Make Many Improvements in Latest Models

Shipments of the Special Six Studebaker cars that have been delivered to the Packer Auto Co., 245 S. Brand, within the past few days reveal a number of refinements that have not hitherto been embodied in any cars of the same price as that at which these cars sell. One of the new features is as engineering development that entirely eliminates the period of vibration that is found in practically all cars and that permits the driver to run his car under any conditions without the least vibration.

The sun visor is part of the windshield, and the automatic windshield wiper adds to the convenience of the car, which is fitted with a stop and tail light combined, and also with an all wood steering wheel such as is only found on the highest priced cars on the market.

The Packer Auto Company yesterday announced shipment of Big Six Studebakers which will be sold, Steve Packer asserts, before many days, as the demand for Studebakers of all models is increasing by leaps and bounds, rendering it difficult for the firm to fill its orders under several weeks. Other shipments that are now on the way will be delivered to buyers as soon as they arrive.

NEW AGENCY FOR CHALMERS NAMED

Glendale Motor Co. Handles New Line Together With Maxwell

The one big item of interest in Glendale Automobile Row is the announcement by the Glendale Motor Car company, 124 West Colorado street, that they have taken on the distribution of the Chalmers in the Glendale territory, which includes Eagle Rock, Sunland, Tujunga, La Crescenta, La Canada and other adjacent towns.

The Maxwell and Chalmers have been operating under the same financial control for the past three years but under separate management and in separate factories. Both the Maxwell and Chalmers factories are now under control of the Maxwell-Chalmers corporation, and under practically the same management, which makes this organization one of the strongest, financially, in the automobile business.

Under the policy adopted by the Maxwell-Chalmers corporation, these two cars will be handled together by the same dealers, throughout the entire country.

"The Glendale Motor Car company will carry a complete line of Maxwell-Chalmers parts and will give the Chalmers owners the same high standard of service they have been giving the Maxwell owners in the past," said Mr. Clark.

IMPROVEMENT IN SERVICE STATION

Painting of Building Adds to Comfort of Firm's Wide Clientele

Improvements that are now under way at the C & B Service Station at the corner of S. Brand and Colorado will materially enhance the appearance of the building and will make for the comfort and convenience of the patrons of the establishment. The outer part of the station has been painted and the workmen are now engaged in putting the finishing touches to the interior of the office and storeroom.

Business, according to the heads of the concern, keeps on growing at a rate unprecedented since they opened the establishment, and the new grease pit adds greatly to the facilities of the firm rendering full service to their customers.

Recent purchases of Oldfield tires have placed the C & B Service Station in an enviable position in this market, as the tires were bought at an exceptionally low figure, and the saving on these tires has been passed on to the firm's customers in the shape of reduced prices, which has made a big hit with tire buyers in Glendale, the proprietors say.

PROPER CIRCULATION

An easy way to tell if the water is circulating properly in the cooling system is to feel the top and bottom of the radiator with the back of the hand. With a pump the water at the bottom will be warm, because the pump draws it down. If the pump stops, the water will cool off immediately, owing to the action of the fan.

ROAD PROGRESS

According to Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads, greater progress was made on the nation's highways during the last year than in any similar period in the history of the country.

NECKITIS PROVES SEVERE DISEASE

If Complaint Becomes Too General There's No Telling What May Happen

Have you ever been troubled with "neckitis?"

According to word received by officials of the Automobile club of Southern California from various western points, motorists have developed some severe cases of "neckitis" as a result of throwing back their heads to gaze upward at funny things to be seen in the sky these nights.

If this complaint becomes general throughout Southern California there is no telling what may happen to traffic conditions, say officers of the club safety bureau. Hundreds of motorists can be seen out any evening star-gazing for the purpose of seeing Mercury, the star named after the fleet-footed young god of Mt. Olympus, who is paying his fifth visit to this section in the last half century. Mercury has been visible from dark to about 6 a. m. at fifteen degrees against the horizon to the southwest. Many cases of "neckitis" were contracted, according to observers, the other night when the blushing Venus edged up to the moon and staged a kiss with the man therein.

No Slam Is Intended
"Star-gazing" is heap bad medicine, say safety bureau officers, if, by star-gazing, is meant "rubbering" at everything under the heavens but the road and approaching motor cars.

Motorists who drive while gazing hither and yon instead of tending to their knitting as they should, are becoming a serious menace to the touring public, it is reported. No slam is intended for the good people who park their cars in safe places, throw back the tops of the machines and indulge in a little astronomical research, but a very serious complaint is registered by the Automobile club with motorists who do their hypothetical astronomy work while propelling the cars along crowded boulevards.

OVERLAND SHIPS TRAINLOAD HERE

Giant Mogul Hauls Cars to Coast From Factory in Record Time

The delivery of forty-five carloads of Willys-Knight and Overland cars at Los Angeles this week marked one of the biggest shipments that had ever left the factories at Toledo for the west coast, and the shipment was hauled by one of the new giant Mogul engines that are to be used in connection with the crack overland trains of the Union Pacific. The shipment came through in seven days, exactly half of the time taken by the fastest passenger trains.

Harry Kennedy, sales manager of George T. Smith, 228 S. Brand, was on hand when the consignment rolled in and insisted on securing a government statement of the newest models of both cars for his customers here, many of whom are to receive demonstrations of the riding qualities of the Overland and Willys-Knight cars within the next few days. Mr. Kennedy declares that the easiest way to sell a car to one of his prospects is to take him for a ride in it, and the convincing arguments put up by the riding comfort of the Willys-Knight and Overland models of the present vintage invariably clinch the bargain satisfactorily to both parties to the transaction.

GET AGENCY FOR ELECTRIC LINES

Psenner Bros. Lay in Stock of Leading Lines of Auto Accessories

The application of Psenner Brothers, 601 South Brand, for appointment as local agents for the distribution of Delco, Remy, Klaxon and Wagner automobile electric equipment has been confirmed from the head offices of the various firms this week, and the agency is now receiving a full and complete stock of the various lines manufactured by these houses, so that all demands of Glendale motorists can be supplied at a moment's notice with standard merchandise.

The building occupied by Psenner Brothers was recently remodeled, and Herman Psenner, the manager, insisted on the installation of an up-to-date department for the storage of a large variety of automobile accessories, and this storeroom is now filled with every conceivable need for the auto.

A special department is devoted to battery service, and the members of the firm stand absolutely behind every piece of work that is turned out by their shop, guaranteeing it to give entire satisfaction to the purchaser, and any failure of the work to satisfy will be remedied without any question or hesitation.

REO PHAETON IS CREDIT TO LINE

Model Noted for Beauty and Comfort Displayed in White Showroom

The new Reo Phaeton that has been received by Harry E. White, Inc., San Fernando and Brand, is one of the snappiest models that has ever been put on the market by the Reo Motor Car Co., combining, as it does, the acme of beauty and the Reo sturdiness that have won for this car its high standing in the motor world today.

Every convenience has been included in the Reo Phaeton that could possibly be sought by the motorist, and the low, rakish lines of the car give it an appearance that speaks of speed and power in eloquent terms, while the double chassis, helped by the deep springs in the cushions, absorbs the shocks of the road and lends comfort to the passengers, whether the car is crawling over the smooth pavements or battling its way over mountain trails.

ALLEGED SLAYER BEGS FOR MERCY

Woman Admits Asking Price Of Revolver Equipped With Silencer

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—"Oh, spare me! Spare me!"

This shrill cry came from Mrs. Lillian Raizen, on trial for the murder of Dr. Abraham Glickstein when a dramatic move on the part of Assistant District Attorney Gallagher broke one of the most important elements in the defense case, that the killing was unpremeditated.

The prosecutor asked Mrs. Raizen if she had not written a letter to a Florida hardware firm asking the price of a revolver with a silencer.

"No, I did not," she replied. Gallagher produced the letter and passed it to the witness. She turned pale.

"Spare me—oh, spare me," she sobbed.

Mrs. Raizen identified the signature on the letter as hers.

THIS STATE NOW IN FIRST PLACE

Passenger Automobiles in California Take Lead in Registrations

Only seven of the leading fifty selling makes registered a loss over 1921 sales, and with two exceptions this group constitute cars that are fairly well down the list. Tremendous increases are shown by various makes classed among the first twenty, one car selling well under the $1000 mark having a state gain of 141 per cent. Another make selling above the $2500 figure, and in quantities, is 100 per cent ahead of its 1921 performance.

One for Every Fifteen Despite the already great number of cars in California, the story of 1922 sales, as recorded by Motor News, brings to light the fact that one new car was bought by every fifteenth person in Los Angeles county; in Kern county by one in every fourteen, and in Fresno county by one in every eighteen persons.

In San Francisco the new car purchase ratio was one for every thirty-six residents; in Alameda county, one for every thirty-five residents; in San Diego county, one for every twenty-two; in twenty-six; in San Joaquin county, one for every twenty-four; in Sacramento county, one for every twenty-five, and in Orange county, one for every thirteen persons. The last named county made the best showing in this respect of any section in the state.

There were 169 different makes of cars sold during the year, ranging in totals from 1 to 48,981. In 1921 there were 152 makes to enter the list.

Los Angeles county bought 60,184 of the 150,628 cars sold during the year, nearly 40 per cent of the total.

BIGGEST YEAR IN INDUSTRY LOOMS

Trade Journal Asserts 1923 Will Be Best in Auto History for U. S.

(Continued From Page 5) anticipated. About 15,000 trucks will be sufficient for the export trade. This brings the total estimated requirements for 1923 to 175,000 commercial cars, making a total of 2,800,000 passenger cars and trucks, or an increase of about 10 per cent over last year's production.

Small Cars Predominate Of the estimated output of 2,525,000 passenger cars for 1923, Ford may be counted upon to turn out at least 1,150,000. The General Motors units should collectively build about 460,000 passenger cars. A selected group of other leaders, consisting of Durant, Dodge, Studebaker, Overland, Maxwell, Hudson-Essex and Nash, should collectively turn out 725,000. This would leave a total production of approximately 100,000 for all other manufacturers of passenger cars in business.

It is expected that of the cars built in 1923, 34 per cent will sell for less than $500; 33 per cent will be in the $500 to $1000 class; 19 per cent in the $1000 to $1500, 7 per cent in the $1500 to $2000 class, 3 per cent in the $2000 to $2500 class, and 4 per cent in the class selling above $2500.

Of the estimated output of 275,000 commercial cars for 1923, Ford will produce about 125,000. General Motors should turn out about 15,000. A group of leading truck companies, consisting of Dodge, White, Reo, International Harvester, Republic, Mack, Packard and Autocar, should collectively build about 75,000. This leaves a total production of only about 60,000 for all other truck makers.

40,000 Car and Truck Dealers There are now 40,889 automobile and truck dealers in the United States. Of these, 2,485 are in cities of over 500,000 population, 3,481 are in cities with populations between 100,000 and 500,000, 8,192 are in cities with populations between 10,000 and 100,000, while 26,371, or more than half the total, are in small towns having a population of less than 10,000.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—All British aeroplanes, military and civil, will, in future, when flying at night, have to carry white rear lights on each wing tip and on the tail, according to a new British air ministry regulation. "Lighting up time" will be half an hour before sunset.

PASSING ON ROAD

When overtaking another automobile on the road, pass to the left and do not pull over to the right until entirely clear of the car. The purpose of this is to prevent this dangerous practice of "cutting in," which has been the cause of many accidents.

SNUBBER EFFICIENCY

Spring check leaves are excellent tools, particularly for country driving. They are, in reality, snubbers, preventing up-kick, yet not curtailing the downward motion of the body of the car. Practically speaking, they are half-length, almost flat leaves, placed on the top of springs. When the rebound comes they hold the body in gentle check and are ideal for fast going over a rough road.

HINTS FOR THE MOTORIST

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered by Mr. Clough in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Copyright, 1923, by the International Syndicate
SAFEGUARDING THE SPRINGS

With deep snow on the ground, the springs suffer pretty hard usage, with the car climbing in and out of icy ruts and jolting over car tracks, which are then much below the road level. Spring breakage is then by no means an unlikely and it is in order to keep the clips, that hold them to the axle, securely tightened. Looseness at the clips permits the leaves to separate slightly and causes the stresses to act upon them individually and not upon the springs as a unit. Tightening a spring clip usually involves loosening the lock nuts, tightening the main nuts forcibly and resetting the lock nuts. Shock absorbers and snubbing devices should also be inspected, to see that they are exerting their full effect in controlling spring recoil, as when this is permitted to become excessive the leaves separate, until finally the entire stress comes on the master leaf or leaves, sometimes causing its failure. When rattle, due to side play of spring ends in their supports, makes adjustment necessary, care must be taken that eye bolts are not taken up so tightly as to prevent free motion of the spring ends upon them, as this is likely to cause breakage of the main leaf. By jumping up and down on the running board one can tell if the spring ends have free play.

BEST PRACTICE IN COASTING

F. H. S. asks: What is the proper thing to do, in order to save gasoline, when a car is coasting down hill? Sometimes I shut off the ignition and put the gear lever in neutral, but more often I just throw out the clutch and fully close the throttle lever, so that the engine just keeps going.

Answer: If the saving of gasoline is the only consideration, stopping the engine by cutting off the ignition is the best method, as of course, no gasoline is consumed, when the engine is not running. However, we do not recommend this practice, because it possesses objections which more than outweigh the resulting small gasoline saving. It is laborious, involves useless wear and tear on the gears and the starter and throws work on the brakes which had better be partly done by the retarding effect of the engine, if kept in gear.

RUNNING CAR WITHOUT GENERATOR

C. H. A. writes: The generator on my car has "gone bad" and I shall have to remove it for repairs. Can I run my car without it and what precautions, if any, should I take?

Answer: You can do so, but you will have to depend, of course, on the electrical energy stored in your battery, at the time you disconnect the generator. Using the starter would consume this very soon and so you will have to hand crank the engine.

The lights should be used as little as possible or preferably not at all and the dimmers only should be lighted, unless absolutely necessary. Don't blow the horn needlessly. The battery should be fully charged, when the generator is removed, so that the amount of stored energy may be at a maximum and you will find that this will operate the ignition system for a long time. You can test your cells for gravity, after a while, and if you find the state of charge rather low, you can have the battery recharged from an

JESS TIPS BEAM AT 259 POUNDS NOW

Challenger Ready to Enter Ring With Dempsey Today, He Claims

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—By his own personal and exclusive admission of weighing 259 pounds in his elastic sleeve garters, Jess Willard proclaimed his belief that he is in better condition at this non-essential moment than he was when the bell rang for the first round at Toledo, Ohio. We will not take issue with Jess on that point. Indeed, we will go further and declare that indubitably he is in better condition than when the bell rang for the fourth round on that memorable occasion. However, we digress to no purpose.

"I weighed 259 pounds when I stepped on the scales at Madison Square garden two days ago," declared the ex-champion, who will leave New York on Sunday on a buck-hunting tour of the country. "If I had to jump in the ring with Jack Dempsey tomorrow, I would be better fitted, morally and physically, to fight for the heavy-weight title than I was in the Toledo affair. Make no mistake, if I get another fight with him, you will see a different Willard in action."

For all of the derision levelled at him by gentlemen of the press, Willard's appearance does not belie his words. His eye is clear, the muscles of his face are firm and comparatively lean, his skin has a healthy tinge and his abdomen, never slyph-like, is not an ex-brewer's line and it's of some standing in the community even so far as to say Willard is 100 per cent improved in condition over his appearance in this locality four or five weeks ago.

Big League Recruits

'RED' ORMSBY

NEW AMERICAN LEAGUE UMPIRE. THIS IS HIS THIRD YEAR AS A PROFESSIONAL ARBITRATOR.

A NEW TARGET FOR BUGS TO SHOOT AT

STEP UP FANS AND TAKE A SHOT AT THE NEW UMP!

WOOD COWAN

HEY YOU BALL PLAYERS! BEFORE PICKING A QUARREL WITH ORMSBY YOU'D BETTER LOOK UP HIS WAR RECORD

Recruits to the ranks of the umpires are almost as important as players, and this season will see its quota of new faces behind the ump's mask or calling decisions at the bases.

There's Emmett Ormsby, drafted into the ranks of American league arbitrators, who has made the grade in mighty fast time. This is his third year as a professional ump. In 1921-22 he served as a target for fans to throw pop bottles at in the West-ern league and he made good with a vengeance. Evidently the magnets feel that Ormsby's skull has become hard enough to withstand missiles hurled by St. Louis bugs, so he has been called to the majors.

Emmett, we will admit, is not a name to throw fear into the hearts of unruly players. But in view of the fact that his nickname is "Red," ballsters had better go slow about stirring up this baby's wrath.

First a star twirler in semi-pro teams around Chicago in 1915, the following year found him in a St. Paul uniform, but "Red" jumped the club and joined the marines when he entered the war. After being in several minor engagements he saw some real fighting in the Argonne where he was badly gassed. After his discharge Ormsby found his usefulness impaired, but loving the game, he took up umpiring and did so well that in two years he is ready for the majors.

Ormsby has everything in his favor—he is fearless, diplomatic, likeable, has a good voice and a big strapping physique. Mighty few ump's have these qualities along with the ability to handle players without useless friction. If "Red" can manage major league ball games and players as smoothly as he did in the minors, he should be arbitrating and banishing unruly ball clouters to the showers for many seasons to come under the big tent.

TREMAINE WHIPS CURTIN IN SIXTH

Loser Refuses to Continue When Officials Deny Claim of Foul

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Carl Tremaine, bantamweight champion-to-be as sure as slow poison, scored a tenth round knockout over Irish Johnny Curtin in the sixth round at Madison Square Garden last night when the latter declined to continue an uneven battle and was counted out while standing on his feet amorously embracing Patsy Haley, the referee.

Curtin had entered a claim of foul, a protest that was allowed neither by Haley nor the club physician, who examined Curtin immediately after he had gained his corner.

There was no foul struck, although Curtin gave a semi-convincing imitation of a man hit below the belt. He had all the pantomimic testimony at his disposal, but seemed to forget that the science of medicine knows no instance of a man getting to his feet in the middle of a count after being struck in the groin with sufficient force to be knocked down.

Failed to Convince
Neither does it make allowances for the same individual hopping around the enclosure on one protesting leg for several minutes thereafter and then walking from the ring unaided.

Curtin was hit so hard in the pit of the stomach that he may have thought he was fouled, but the belief if any, was only a passing one, for the closing moments of his pantomime seemed to lack spontaneity, if not actual sincerity. In a comparatively few moments, he had hurried from the ring without further ado and there was no adverse demonstration in spite of the fact that the house was pro-Curtin.

As in all his previous appearances, Tremaine had everything.

Willard Leaves Gotham On Barnstorming Trip

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, will leave New York tonight, accompanied by Ray Archer, for an extended tour of the country, giving exhibitions. He will open on Monday night in Detroit.

After a period of indefiniteness as to whether a polo series would be played on the famous Coronado fields in southern California, arrangements have been completed for a full polo program. Major Colin G. Ross, secretary of the Coronado Country club has announced a whole month of polo at Coronado opening next Tuesday, February 20.

Coronado Country club has held a unique place in the polo sport on the Pacific coast for many years past, and the prospect of no games this year was a sad blow to players all over the country. Now, however, Major Ross has arranged a series that will compare with any former year's tourneys. Denver, Colo., and Wichita, Kan., are both sending teams to Coronado and the men and their ponies are due at Coronado next Monday. Riverside, Calif., which has fast been coming to the front in polo, will send its full strength team and San Mateo, Calif., is also figuring on being represented. After the Coronado tournament the teams will travel north to Del Monte to participate in the annual tournament there in March.

FIGHT RESULTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—In last night's fights Carl Tremaine, Cleveland, scored a technical knockout over Irish Johnny Curtin, Jersey City, sixth round; Harry Galfund, Brooklyn, got the decision over Earl France, California, sixth round; Ed Wilson, New York, knocked out Sailor Walters, California, second round.

After traveling the victorious road since the opening of the Pacific Coast Conference basketball series, the Stanford varsity quintet at last met its Waterloo.

Strange to say, the team to beat the Stanford aggregation was its old rival, the University of California, which has been more or less of an in and outer on the courts this season. The Stanford defeat does not necessarily mean that the Coast Conference title is lost to the team, but it will have to be on its toes for the remaining games of the championship series.

Cross-country running is becoming a lost art all over this country. It is this phase of athletics wherein European nations are ahead of America and beat us in the long-distance grinds when the Olympic games come 'round each four years. The Pacific Association of the A. A. U., which covers government of amateur sports in Central, northern California and Nevada is trying to foster a regular cross-country race. It is to be open to novice runners and will be held on March 4. The race is to be four and one-half miles and will be laid out through the Golden Gate park in San Francisco.

One would believe that automobiles are displacing horses, but figures given out by the Department of Agriculture at Washington show that there are today actually more horses in this country than before the great strides of the auto. In the matter of thoroughbred racing horses it is significant that there is a revival of breeding all over the country. An instance of this is seen by the announcement that 1,555 horses are entered in the Yonkers, N. Y., meets this year, an increase of more than 300 horses over last year.

He sure is some shot," the jewel thief Joseph Levy, thought to be in a dying condition at Central Emergency hospital today, as a result of being wounded by Joseph Burman, stock broker, who ran to Mrs. Burman's aid when Levy attempted to rob her of $7,000 worth of diamonds at her suite at the Palace hotel.

Levy followed Mrs. Burman to her rooms not knowing Burman was there. Mrs. Burman cried for help and Burman responded. Levy slammed the door, but Burman, a former naval officer, fired through the door and hit him.

Levy was armed only with a toy pistol when he attempted the holdup.

Considering the popularity of handball and the many years in which it has been played, it is rather remarkable that the A. A. U. national handball championships to be held at St. Paul, Minn., starting on March 19 and continuing through the 24th will only be the fifth annual event of this character.

The first two events were held in Los Angeles, Calif., the third at Detroit and the fourth at Milwaukee. A newcomer into the national field of competition this year will be the Olympic club of San Francisco. This club has fostered and encouraged handball among its members for many years and it has a half dozen or more courts on the upper stories of its handsome home that are second to none in the country.

In keeping with its policy, this club has kept out of national championship competition until it had developed a class of players of championship caliber, and this it believes it now has done. A round robin tournament, just concluded, has settled on three men to represent the winged O. These men are Joe "Red" Murray, Jack Donovan and Lane McMillan. These men will arrive in St. Paul on the 15th of next month and have four days in which to familiarize themselves with conditions before championship play starts.

The Californians will make every possible inducement and offer every argument for the holding of the next tournament in San Francisco. Certainly no finer facilities than the Olympic club

The MUCKER by Edgar Rice Burroughs

But their haste spoiled their marksmanship. The bullets zinged and zipped against the rocky little fortress...

One by one the Pimans dropped until but a single Indian rushed frantically upon the white man...

Eddie Shorter had raised himself painfully upon an elbow that he might witness the battle...

Billy turned to look at him when the last of the Pimans was disposed of and seeing his condition...

"You order he still," he cautioned the Kansan. "Tain't good for you to move around so much."

"It was worth it," whispered Eddie. "Say, but that was some scrap. You got your nerve standin' up there against the bunch of 'em; but if you hadn't they'd have rushed us and some of 'em would a-got in."

"Funny the boys don't come," said Billy. "Yes," replied Eddie, with a sigh; "it's milkin' time now, an' I figured on goin' to Shawnee this evenin'."

Billy Byrne was bending low to catch his feeble words, and when the voice trailed out into nothingness he lowered the tousled red head to the hard earth...

Could it be that the thing which glistened on the eyelid of the toughest guy on the West Side was a tear?

The afternoon waned and night came, but it brought to Billy Byrne neither renewed attack nor succor. The bullet which had dropped him momentarily had but creased his forehead.

Again he heard a sound from the same direction. It was not at all unlike the frightened gasp of a woman. Billy emitted a low growl, in fair imitation of a growling dog that has been disturbed.

Again the gasp, and a low: "Go away!" in a faint feminine tone—and in English!

Billy uttered a low: "S-s-sh!" and tiptoed closer. Extending his hands they presently came in contact with a human body which shrank from him with another smothered cry.

"Barbara!" whispered Billy, bending closer. A hand reached out through the darkness, found him, and closed upon his sleeve.

"Who are you," asked a low voice. "Billy," he replied. "Are you alone in here?"

"No, an old woman guards me," replied the girl, and at the same time they both heard a movement close at hand, and something scurried past them to be silhouetted for an instant against the path of lesser darkness which marked the location of the doorway.

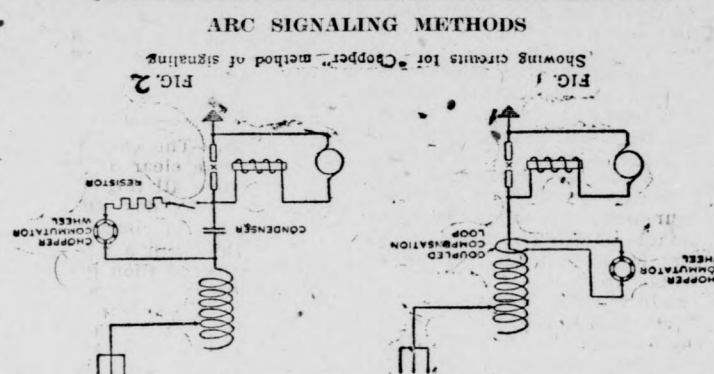

"There she goes!" cried Barbara. "She heard you and she has gone for help."

"Then come!" said Billy, seizing the girl's arm and dragging her to her feet; but they had scarce crossed half the distance to the doorway when the cries of the old woman without warned them that the camp was being aroused.

Billy thrust a revolver into Barbara's hand. "We gotta make a fight for it, little girl," he said. "But you'd better die than be here alone."

WEALTH IN TOMB OF EGYPT'S KING Explorers Thrilled by Rich Store of Treasure in Ruler's Shrine

LUXOR, Egypt, Feb. 17.—The inner chamber of the 3,000-year-old tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen, in the Valley of the Kings, with its sarcophagus and Egyptian relics of dazzling splendor, was re-sealed today, following the informal opening yesterday, but will be opened again tomorrow.

Some of those who were permitted to enter the inner chamber believe that the king's mummy is in a second inner coffin, wrapped in sheets of gold outside the perfumed linen covering the body. In view of the fact that Tut-Ankh-Amen died very young, and allowing for the natural shrinkage that followed the Egyptian custom of embalming, it is the opinion of Egyptologists that the corpse will be found to be almost as small as that of a child.

Queen Elizabeth of Belgium will be among those entering the inner chamber tomorrow.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Why Upset the Heavens? For Vocational Training Hoe Your Own Row In The News' Columns

—By Gil A. Cowan—

ALONG comes a scientist and says if you drop electrically charged sand on clouds rain will be created and fog banks cleared.

Two days later another scientist says the scheme is impractical. And we are inclined to believe the latter is right.

In the first place, what methods can be used in transporting sufficient sand above the clouds to act as a rainmaker?

Again, if two or three cartloads of charged sand were carefully sprinkled on the clouds, like the salt we once put on a bird's tail, what sort of a mud bath would result?

Maybe the good Lord didn't make things mechanically perfect and perhaps man can improve on a lot of His work, but the clouds and the fog and the rain and the sun and the moon and daylight and dark are all in His scheme of affairs while we shouldn't try to upset too quickly.

And if they can move up into the green Verdugo hills where they don't have it. But what's the use of saying so. Some people are not satisfied any place with anything. We know a few who aren't satisfied with Glendale, but that doesn't alter the fact that the rest of us moved here because it IS Glendale.

Here's hoping it keeps the same.

Good news for the former service men in California who are rehabilitating themselves is contained in the announcement that Governor Friend W. Richardson has ordered $200,000 restored to the budget for vocational education.

So doing, $255,000 federal aid is received under the terms of the Smith-Hughes act, and the good work being conducted by the various high schools throughout the state will be carried on.

Another budget item worthy of restoration is the appropriation for the forestry department which also will gain federal funds and California dollars will thus do double duty. Senator A. E. Johnson of Pasadena, who represents this district, is fostering a measure which will keep the foresters on the job.

It is remarkable that more real flaws are not discovered in the budget, considering the haste with which it was made up under the adverse circumstances which confronted the new administration. But, all in all, we are betting that Mrs. Nellie Brewer Pierce and her boss, the governor, will get a lot of the departments back to a business basis, which is the big idea in the Richardson regime.

Every once in a while public officials forget they are spending the people's money. Then they do things which their better judgment would ward against. Sometimes we think that pupils in the schools are unmindful they are being educated at the public's expense.

Of course, the teachers are blamed in many instances for things over which they have no control and the whole educational system is considered rotten because a few political pettifoggers get into office. They creep in because of the public's negligence.

A scandal now engages the Los Angeles school system which would never have been light had officials been true to their charge and ousted those who create trouble.

Once in a while we hear criticism of the man who runs his own business and hires and fires help, but you can bet your bottom dollar that he knows what he is doing.

If a few more school officials were changed, like Methodist ministers, they would confine themselves to the problems in hand and their records for efficiency would merit the proper recognition.

Some people believe they can become great through the organization of self-praise societies. Some believe strength lies in their ability to tear down others' pedestals. And all of these die a slow death by their own devices. The man who paddles his own canoe finds himself unsung down deep in the hearts of his countrymen.

Wonder if some of the readers of The Glendale Evening News are enjoying all of the good things of life as presented in this issue of your home-town daily paper?

Scanning the columns in advance of publication the writer sees a dozen things which should interest each and every one.

For instance, there is more local news than is found in the average newspaper in a city twice the size. Society events, personal items, besides the big events of the day in Glendale, are faithfully chronicled by a tireless force of workers who are here, there and everywhere in the quest for valued nuggets of news.

Then there are the church announcements which are of utmost importance, and the woman's page and the magazine page, with its Uncle Wiggly stories for the children, and the sports news, not to mention a half dozen other features.

In the Development Section today the wonderful progress and prosperity of Glendale are noted—something which will be quite convincing to your eastern friends.

The Automobile Section also should come in for its share of attention, both the advertising and the hints to motorists are well worth perusal.

But, best of all, perhaps, is the profit to be obtained in reading

STEADY PROGRESS IN BENMAR HILLS

City of Burbank Takes Big Interest in Project; Well Balanced Program

Benmar Hills, near Burbank, will today give its first public demonstration of the progress thus far made toward the accomplishment of its unique purpose of becoming a model American city of 100,000 people.

Comprising about 3,000 acres just to the west of Burbank, Benmar Hills affords the one logical field for Burbank to take care of her rapid growth. Instead of permitting this growth to follow the haphazard course characteristic of most cities, the promoters of Benmar Hills conceived the plan of directing it most carefully, making provision well in advance for every feature of a well balanced, beautiful American community.

So far as is known, Burbank is the only city in the country associated with such a project. The enterprise is being directed by the Southern California Corporation, Oliver O. Clark, one of its officers, outlined the details of the plan as follows:

"It seemed to us that Burbank possessed an opportunity which will eventually prove priceless, namely, to so direct and control her future development that she shall round it off with perfect balance.

"Every thriving community needs a business section, an industrial section, a civic center, and residential sections, carefully graded as to their restrictions to meet the requirements of every class of people. The problem in community building is to zone these various elements, so that they shall be located to the best advantage of individual property owners and of the city as a whole.

"With a tract like Benmar Hills, this was comparatively easy. It stretches from the San Fernando boulevard up to the foot of the mountains. Along the boulevard obviously was the proper place for the commercial section, with the civic center just to the north and with the industrial section on the other side of the railroad tracks on the north.

"Then beyond the civic center are afforded ideal residential locations.

"With these fundamentals of community development provided, it remained then to round out with individual features. Included in the plans, therefore, are sites for a superb country club and golf links, a tourist hotel, public parks, a mountain lake, community playground and athletic grounds, beautiful boulevards, streets and drives, schools, clubs and churches.

"Then fitting into this great plan, a University and conservatories of art and music have been projected, completing the intention to make the model city a world metropolis of culture and education.

"Such is the vision guiding the destinies of Benmar Hills. And there are many steps toward the realization of this wonderful conception that we are in a position to show those who visit Benmar today.

"The city of Burbank has officially received deeds to the 20-acre site for its civic center, whereupon it is agreed there will be erected the post office, city hall, library and other public buildings. The city has also erected a $250,000 high school on Benmar Hills location, and chosen another site for a new grammar school. Two churches have also been projected for the erection of new and handsome buildings.

"More than $1,000,000 worth of property in Benmar Hills has been purchased, including every business lot available, and scores of residence sites. The development of the tract is being carried on by the Southern California Corporation, whose directors include the following well known California business and professional men: H. L. Carnahan, who was for many years the Corporation Commissioner of California; Gavin W. Craig, one of the Associate Justices of the District Court of Appeals of California; L. E. Behymer, who for more than thirty years has managed practically all of the Grand Operas and big concerts given in Los Angeles; George D. Rogers who for thirty years was the Executive Secretary of John D. Rockefeller; Frank L. Meline, one of the largest builders and real estate operators in Los Angeles county; John D. Radcliff, president of the Burbank School Board, and one of the leading progressive citizens of Burbank; William H. Thomas, a member of the bond house of Drake, Riley & Thomas, and T. C. Stevens, a member of the bond firm of Stevens, Page & Sterling.

Huge Homesite Program For This Year Under Way In Glendale District

STRONG LICENSE LAW IS FAVORED

Safeguards for Investors Are Urged by President of Realty Association

After visiting more than a dozen realty boards in the past month, and addressing their annual banquets, President Frazier O. Reed of the California Real Estate association reported finding realty dealers very strongly in favor of a stronger real estate license law.

"Newspaper comments through out California are supporting the realty dealers in more than one hundred of our board cities," President Reed declared in a statement today. "We are seeking to provide still greater and surer safeguards around the investors in real property. And we desire to render better service to our clients, the sellers, as well as the buyers."

"The qualification test for realty brokers, which was unanimously endorsed at the state convention, is being widely supported. Many lawmakers with whom I have conversed favor our colonization amendment which would give the real estate department the right to investigate all land colonization projects, upon its own initiative."

"Word comes to me through our State Association news department, which is in touch with over one hundred daily newspapers, and from our wide circle of

Year 1923 Will Set Another New Record In Glendale's Construction

"DAY BY DAY in every way Glendale is getting larger and larger!" Such is the cry of local boosters who proudly point for verification to the official statistics at the city hall. These demonstrate that this community is in the midst of an unabating wave of prosperity—which continues to be more impressive with the passage of each month.

Nineteen twenty-three will be another banner year for Glendale, according to H. C. Vandewater, superintendent of the municipal building department. He called attention to the fact that the permit for the new high school plant has not been issued yet and probably will be brought in soon to swell this month's total.

Records show that, even if each succeeding month does no more than equal the record for the same month last year, the total for 1923 will exceed that of 1922. However, the months of this year refuse to be held down to last year's monthly totals and are exceeding them by large amounts.

For instance, January of this year closed with a total of $1,024,336 worth of building permits upon record. This sum exceeds the total for last January of $512,155 by $512,181, or just twice; the total for January, 1921, of $143,783, by $880,553 or almost six times; and the total for January, 1920, of $155,531, by $768,805 or about five and a half times.

Although February is only half gone, $242,650 worth of building permits have been issued already. This means that only $179,240 worth of permits must be issued before the month will equal last February's total of $421,890.

The entire total for February, 1921, of $197,678 has now been exceeded by this month by the sum of $44,972, and indications are that this month's business will be twice as large as February, 1921, before the first of March.

The entire total for February, 1920, of $144,715 has now been exceeded by this month by the sum of $87,935 and indications are that this entire month will be three times as large.

Total building so far this year amounts to $1,243,036, which is over one-fifth of the entire total of $6,305,971 for 1922, and over one-fourth of the entire total of $5,099,201 for 1921. It is almost half the entire total of $3,136,664 for 1920 and twice the total of $587,015 for 1919.

After surveying such figures there is no question but what Glendale is the greatest place in which to live—not to forget it is a better place in which to make a safe and sound investment. You will be doing yourself an injustice not to share in the prosperity of Glendale by purchasing property at this time.

TELLS OF FIRST SIGHT OF CALIF.

Senator Cole Describes Real Estate Condition in State's Infancy

Cornelius Cole, United States senator from California when President Andrew Johnson was at the bar of impeachment, addressed the California realtors at their annual convention in Santa Ana on "California Real Estate in 1849."

Senator Cole told of the Spanish land grants and the difficulties arising from the overlapping and insufficiency of these titles, and described his first view of California in the following interesting vein:

"Your President, Mr. Tatum, was looking for some person with sufficient observation and experience to remember the early conditions of real estate in California and settled upon me quite by accident. He may perhaps have made a mistake except in one respect. So far as age and residence are concerned, he made none. I have been a resident of California for more than seventy-five years. I came to California overland in 1849 and at that time was 27 years of age, so you can add 27 and 73 and you will come pretty near my age."

First View of State

"My first view of California was from the high, snow-capped Sierras east of Sacramento on the twenty-second of July of that year. At that time I looked down upon what I thought was all of California; but it was a small portion of this great state. It was then one unbroken wilderness to all appearances. There had been no effort made either to improve or to mutilate it by white men. It had the appearance of one great forest, as one looked down upon it. It was a grand sight at that time, as a view of California has been to everybody since. A couple of days later I arrived at Sutter's Fort—later the location of Sacramento, the capital of the state. Captain Sutter was then residing at his fort. He received us with kindness, and we appreciated it very much. He was in possession then of eleven square leagues of land, something over 50,000 acres. He claimed also 32 leagues further to the north, including the Feather River country. So that he was master at that time to all intents and purposes of a domain of more than 150,000 acres."

No Real Estate Men

"That gentlemen of the California Real Estate association, was the condition of California in reference to real estate at that time. There was not a full-fledged real estate agent in the country. They had not developed to any great extent. There were a good many floaters in those days, but no permanent residents, except a very sparse and widely separated population of the Spanish race."

Notwithstanding his 100 plus years, Senator Cole stood erect as a soldier and talked vigorously and uninterruptedly for twenty minutes. His address is of such historical importance to the real estate profession, that, upon motion of F. P. Bloodgood, president of the Santa Ana Realty Board, it will be preserved for posterity. The full address was printed in the February issue of California Real Estate.

Building Owners and Managers to Convene

The first annual Pacific Coast conference of the building owners and property managers will convene at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles, Friday morning, February 23, and continue over Saturday the 24th. There will be four sessions of this interesting conference when vital problems affecting the ownership of buildings and other city properties will be discussed. The late A. G. Bartlett was to have been the chairman of the conference and the acting chairman will be Shirley C. Ward of Los Angeles. The secretary is P. R. Kent of 407 Wright-Caldender building, Los Angeles. In a statement to the news department of the California Real Estate association today, Secretary Kent declared that it was especially requested of all realtors and property managers affiliated with local boards and the State Association to attend this conference. President Frazier O. Reed of the California Real Estate association received an invitation to address the conference.

During the twenty-five years of American occupation of the Philippines the school attendance in the islands has increased from 4604 to nearly 50,000 pupils.

About $8,000,000 is invested in the raising of silver foxes in captivity in the United States, and about 500 ranches are engaged in the industry.

'Logical Location' Is One Reason for Growth of Glendale

"WHY Glendale?" has become the cry of astounded suburbs in the vicinity of Los Angeles who have watched the rapidity of this city's growth.

Logical location is the best answer, for here there are direct highways into Los Angeles.

The Pacific Electric with its new subway will be enabled to give Glendale faster service than Hollywood.

Again, the property in Glendale is more desirable than elsewhere. It is an independent, self-governed municipality with the best there is to offer the home-maker.

And above all, it is an American city, free from any one influence, populated by the higher class of citizens and rightly called an "ideal home town."

Realtors Are Active In State Legislature

The directory of the California State legislature, just issued, contains the names of four assemblymen listed as in real estate or real estate and insurance. These representatives are Speaker Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach; Joseph F. Burns, and Harry F. Morrison of San Francisco, and Fred B. Noyes of Yuba City, according to the State Association news department.

In the state senate, realty licenses are held by Senator Egbert J. Gates of Los Angeles, President pro tem Arthur H. Breed of Oakland and Senator Jos. A. Rominger of Long Beach. Senator F. A. Arbuckle of Santa Barbara, Ventura district, was the organizer of the Ventura County Realty Board and its first president. Senator Gates has introduced the realty license bill for amendment.

Lieut. Gov. C. C. Young of Berkeley is also a realtor, and has been one of the leaders in real estate license law legislation in which California has led the world.

PROJECTS MAKE PROVISION FOR MORE THAN 100,000 POPULATION

Thousands Of Acres Of Desirable Land to Be Subdivided; Big Sums for Investment

HOME SITES for more than 100,000 additional people will be placed on the Glendale realty market in 1923 if present projects are carried out. No less than 7500 acres of desirable foothill and city property will be subdivided or under the course of subdivision during the year.

Figuring five lots to an acre, that makes 37,500 lots, and averaging 3.35 persons to each home on every lot, finally builded, the grand total is far above the hundred thousand mark.

More important, however, than mere multiplication of figures are the factors behind this tremendous development program. Millions of dollars are being rushed here by outside interests who see the immense possibilities of providing homes for one's thousands of friends who are headed this way.

One Seattle realtor, whose name is withheld, is said to be negotiating the purchase of 1620 acres of canyon property to the east of Glendale which will bring 5,000 more homes tributary to this city.

Edwards & Wilsey own large acreage in Scholl canyon, also, which they are reserving for early subdivision, it is understood, while the F. P. Newport company has acquired 300 acres additional in the last year to augment its 1000 acres of Verdugo Woodlands.

Sparr Heights, the great project now moving forward under the direction of the Francis-Barnum-Walters company, includes 1500 acres of residential property and another 700 acres for foothill estate on the slopes of Mount Verdugo. Former Senator Francis of Iowa is a member of the firm, while Mr. Barnum is a nationally known realtor and Mr. Walters has had highly successful experience in the Southern California field.

Several well-organized realty firms have recently come into being to handle a large amount of the subdivision work and civil engineers are at a premium.

Industrial factor entering into the development of Glendale along with its residential growth. The R. L. Kent company has taken a ninety-nine year lease on a large tract west of the Southern Pacific tracks, adjoining Glendale, where a number of great concerns are being located.

BURBANK

The City Beautiful

Makes the first great demonstration of its progress TODAY!

Progress toward a magnificent destiny—as a CITY OF 100,000 PEOPLE, possessing every essential and every beauty of a MODEL AMERICAN COMMUNITY.

What BENMAR HILLS Invites You to See Today

The 20-acre site acquired by the City of Burbank for its model civic center. The new $250,000 Burbank High School. Location of the new Burbank grammar school. Sites already selected for two splendid churches. More than $1,000,000 worth of residence and business property already sold. Sites for a public auto park, public playground, and another large park of 130 acres in the foothills already acquired by the City of Burbank. Complete details of a scientifically prepared, soundly conceived plan to make of Burbank "The City Beautiful of America!"

An Ideal Combination

The things you will see at BENMAR HILLS today are actual accomplishments in the realization of the most splendid enterprise ever launched in any community. Burbank, a community certain to grow tremendously—and Benmar Hills, a beautiful terrain right at hand to accommodate that growth! Such is the golden opportunity which here presents itself. To make the most of that opportunity, there was conceived the plan of directing Burbank's future development in the minutest degree—of directing her expansion so carefully that she might become a model city of 100,000 people or more, possessing every essential and every beauty of an ideal American community.

Model Civic Center

As a nucleus to the model city thus conceived, there was selected and deeded to the City of Burbank, a site for a model Civic Center for the future location of Burbank's Post Office, City Hall, Library and other public buildings. In the lower central portion of the city, at the base of the foothills and mountains, it is proposed to develop 160 acres as a University Campus, on which to build a great University, together with institutions of art and music. Between these two points—the University Campus and the Civic Center—is already planned a magnificent boulevard, 266 feet wide, to be University Avenue. Surrounding the University Campus, and to the east and west of University Avenue, will be other residence districts with carefully graduated restrictions. Along San Fernando Boulevard will be developed one of the finest, most attractively designed commercial centers in any American city. And below the boulevard is an industrial section, in which are already located some of the most modern factories now operating in Southern California.

This is but the merest outline of "The City Beautiful." Other features, for which plans are definitely made and well advanced, are a Country Club, Tourist Hotel, Auditorium, a Mountain Park of 130 acres, embracing a beautiful lake, a public playground, public auto park, finely parked and improved streets and boulevards, aircraft landing station—in fact, every feature necessary to the social, cultural and economic life of a highly organized American community of 100,000 people.

Prominent Men in Control

The development of Benmar Hills is being directed by the Southern California Corporation. Ample financed, it is rapidly carrying forward the various activities leading to a realization of this great community vision. The directors of the company include the following well-known business and professional men: H. L. Carnahan, who was for many years the Corporation Commissioner of California; Gavin W. Craig, one of the Associate Justices of the District Court of Appeals of California; L. E. #### Rasmus Is Named Industrial Commissioner of City At Council Meeting

The Glendale City Council has appointed Gustav Rasmus to the post of industrial commissioner for Glendale, with the object of promoting the commercial growth of the city and to arrange for the settlement here of additional manufacturers who will add to the industrial development of the city.

Mr. Rasmus is president of the Pop Chemical Company, Inc., which will shortly open a factory here to manufacture the germant of which he is the inventor, and before coming to Glendale he was head of the industrial bureau of Denver, where he was responsible for a substantial increase in the commercial life of that city. One of his accomplishments was the establishment of a reduction works valued at $20,000,000, and his experience as a mechanical and civil engineer will be a distinct asset to him in his work as industrial commissioner for Glendale.

Will Bring Factories

Mr. Rasmus is at present in communication with a number of firms that are seeking locations for factories and other kinds of commercial establishments, and it will be his endeavor to bring these firms and others to Glendale, as a part of his and the city's program for the extension of Glendale's industrial life. The establishment of business houses here, Mr. Rasmus claims, will mean the building of many homes and the circulation of immense sums of money through the payrolls that will go to the workers to be employed in the various firms, and this will work for the prosperity of the city and of all its citizens.

A project on which the new commissioner is working at present is a survey of the raw resources of the state, with a view to presenting this data to interested parties as a means of persuading them of the practicability of making Glendale a manufacturing and distributing point for their products.

CREW OF TUSCAN PRINCE RESCUED

All Hands on Wrecked Ship Taken Off Island on Vancouver Coast

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 17.—No lives were lost when the British steamship "Tuscan Prince" crashed ashore on Village Island at the entrance to Barclay sound on the west coast of Vancouver Island at 1 o'clock on Wednesday morning during a blinding snowstorm.

Although a heavy sea was running and the ship pounded heavily, all hands, numbering forty-three officers and men, were able to make the rocky island. They endured untold hardships while awaiting succor.

Fourteen of the men were taken off last night by the British lifeboat and the remainder spent the night on the island, a south-easterly gale and driving rain making their domicile a most unpleasant one.

The chief objection to the plain people is that some of them are so darned plain.

England has nearly 900 women magistrates.

Glendale District Is On Eve of Further Great Development

GLENDALE today is on the eve of the greatest development era any residential city in the world has enjoyed.

It calls for the need of city planning on a scale such as old residents can hardly believe possible.

Population is pouring in here from the four corners of the earth. Property values have risen in certain parts of the city $160 to $360 per lot in the last thirty days.

The demand for Glendale homesites seems always to equal the supply, regardless of the rapidly with which new plats can be prepared. All eyes are upon Glendale and the citizens and business houses and building firms must be prepared.

Three years from now the change will be so marked that the whole world will gasp in amazement at "the city of homes" which jumped from a village in 1905 to one of the greatest suburban centers on the Pacific coast. Glendale has but begun to grow!

COLLECTOR TELLS OF DEPRECIATION

Deduction From Income Tax Allowed a Value as Asset Lessens

By REX B. GOODCELL, Collector of Internal Revenue. Depreciation is that inevitable lessening in value which is inherent in any building, machine, or other fixed asset used in a business.

It makes no difference how thorough and complete the repairs and replacements may be, the fact remains that the value and efficiency of such assets are gradually diminishing. Depreciation is caused by actual use which tends to wear out. If a building or machine is allowed to remain unusual or idle, age will cause depreciation. The idea that I wish to convey is that depreciation is one of the universal order of things that cannot be eliminated. So bear in mind that depreciation is a most important item in computing your income tax.

The factors to be considered in determining the amount of depreciation to be charged off are, first, the original cost of the asset, including all expense incurred in connection with placing it in a position to return you rent or other value; second, the probable life of the asset which gives an idea as to what portion of the cost should be charged off each year.

Rates Standardized

Yes, there are a few rates of depreciation which through long use have become more or less standardized. They are: machinery, 16 per cent; furniture and fixtures, 10 to 15 per cent; autos and trucks, 20 to 25 per cent; frame buildings, 3 1/2 to 5 per cent; brick buildings, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 per cent; concrete and wood buildings, 2 per cent; concrete and iron buildings, 1 per cent.

A Los Angeles taxpayer purchased in 1921 a house and lot for $20,000; the value of the house exclusive of the lot was $15,000; it was 5 years old when he acquired it and is in all probability good for 20 years yet. What depreciation may the taxpayer claim for 1922? The probable life of this house being 20 years, he may claim 1-20, or 5 per cent of $15,000, or a deduction of $750.00 from his 1922 income. No, he may not claim depreciation on his residence, nor on his automobile, unless the latter is actually used in his business.

Knotty Question

A few days ago, a taxpayer told me that he had purchased in 1914 a lot and frame house for $5000, which he has rented ever since. The value of the house when purchased was $2500. In 1922, he sold it for $9000. One of the knottiest things I ever tried to do was to make that man see where he should return a profit of $4800 instead of $4000. Now, you will all agree $5000 is capital invested, or purchase price; but there is another fact to be given consideration. He had charged depreciation on that house at the rate of $100 a year for 8 years, or $800. We assume then that he had received $800 in depreciation prior to time of the sale. I could not make him understand that this $800 returned to him in depreciation must be deducted from the original cost of the house, which leaves $4200 to be deducted from $9000, giving a profit of $4800 on which he must pay tax.

ARREST SUSPECT IN JEWEL THEFT

Victim of Half Million Dollar Robbery Identifies Man. Caught After Chase

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The Schoelkopf jewel robbery mystery is solved, Inspector John Coughlin stated today.

BUYERS TURN TO HILLS FOR HOMES

Congestion in City Drives Investors to Locate in Sparr Heights

To those who remember the old Verdugo Park of twenty-five years ago and the table-land that sloped up to the foot of the Sierra Madre range from what is now La Crescenta boulevard, the state highway between Pasadena and San Fernando, the present aspect of that territory is amazing.

At that period this section was a sportsman's paradise. There were rabbits by thousands and it was an easy matter to secure the limit of quail, twenty-five birds, in those days in an hour. The writer has several times done this, shooting out of a buggy while driving between Glendale and what is now Sunland.

However, these happy days are gone. The rabbits have been practically exterminated and what few quail are left "use" the high ridges far from the boulevard.

Sick Homes in Hills

The tremendous expansion of Los Angeles has driven home-seekers who desire to escape from its noise and confusion and congestion to the hills. Pasadena and Hollywood for a while offered an outlet, but they were soon filled and are now thoroughly settled. Then came Glendale, and it has already a population of 40,000 and is daily growing.

Then Montrose, La Canada, La Crescenta and Sunland awoke and began to grow like Jonah's gourd. And now comes Sparr Heights. The sale of nearly a million dollars' worth of property in this tract in about five months is a conclusive proof that it was placed on the market at a most opportune time and that its location is highly strategic.

Room For 250,000

This territory will house 250,000 people and all roads that tap it pass through Sparr Heights or the way to Los Angeles. Here of necessity must develop another city, sufficient unto itself, which will satisfy the social and domestic needs and conserve the economic welfare of the whole territory within the confines of the above-mentioned ranges.

It was the perception of this inevitable future that led shrewd buyers and investors to place their money here, and a faith in this great future that has inspired the owners of Sparr Heights to plan its development upon such broad and comprehensive lines.

BIG DEMAND FOR HOMES IN HILLS

Beauties of Glendale Crest Bring Many Prospects To Tract Office

The demand for high class foothill homesites is heavier at the present time than ever before in the history of Southern California according to J. D. Millar of the J. D. Millar Realty Company.

"Since we placed Glendale Crest on the market two weeks ago the inquiries we have had for these view lots has certainly far exceeded our anticipations," said Mr. Millar.

"The fact that we have all the conveniences and accessibility of the city and the natural beauty and view of the mountains has helped us make many sales."

"Several buyers were fortunate in selecting lots which have live oak trees on them. These beautiful old oaks were all saved in clearing the property and lend much to the general beauty of the tract."

Wilson Will Build

"One of the first houses to be constructed will be that of Mr. Wilson of Glendale, a member of the hardware firm of Wilson & Bell. A nine room foothill home will be built on a site of two lots that commands a really wonderful view."

"Our street work, sidewalks and other improvements are being rushed and a large gang of men are on the property to complete them at the earliest possible moment."

"We are keeping our tract office open every day of the week to accommodate the many visitors that come to inspect the view. Being on Sycamore Drive at Verdugo Road, and only one block from the Wilson Ave. car line, Glendale Crest is very easily reached from Glendale."

Hugo Schoelkopf of Buffalo at a New Year's party here.

Other identifications of Biddulph are expected to be made here by guests of the party. Biddulph was brought to New York today.

6,000-Mile Chase

Mrs. Schoelkopf picked out his picture January 7 in the rogues' gallery here, starting a 6,000-mile chase which led from New York to the Pacific coast into Canada and back to New York state, ending with the arrest by Detective Joe Daly.

THOMPSON TRACT DRAWING BUYERS

Improvements and Trees Add Value and Beauty to New Development

Completion of the paving work, curbing and sidewalks in the Seymour-Hardy-Thompson tract, that runs from North Brand boulevard to Central avenue, in the 900 block, just beyond where the cars for Burbank make the turn, has attracted considerable attention to the values that are being offered by the owner of the property to homeseekers in Glendale, and the prospects for the speedy sale of the entire tract are exceptionally bright, according to Mr. Thompson.

All of the improvements have been installed and paid for, and the variety in the sizes and prices of the lots offers a wide choice to those who are seeking to purchase homesites. The property is further enhanced by the live oak and pepper trees that dot it in profusion and that have been preserved in laying out the tract, so that the fortunate buyers will be Upon her return to Glendale Mrs. Williams is to have work started on the $45,000 apartment house she is to build on a prominent corner in the north section of the city. Another important inducement for purchasers is the proximity of the tract to churches, schools and car lines, which adds materially to the desirability of the property included in the tract.

Picture a pioneer viewing this valley for the first time 50 years ago and finally settling on a 90-acre tract of his own choosing in preference to any other spot in the district that might have been his. Now you have an understanding of why the Hahn estate has long been recognized as the favored spot in or near Glendale. It was hand picked 50 years ago, and, until now, has remained intact as acreage, while Glendale built up nearly solid all around it. ### Fully Improved Lots Selling at Less Than Raw Acreage Nearby—Thousands Will Be Made in Resales Here

We bought this land at away under its market value and thus are enabled to sell these lots with all improvements in for less than is being asked for raw acreage in the immediate neighborhood. Where else can you buy a homesite with all these advantages for $1150? Certainly it cannot be duplicated in Glendale or in Los Angeles, or, we believe, in Southern California. No wonder Glendale residents are snapping up these lots nearly as fast as we can show them. We cannot urge you too strongly to act now before this opportunity passes forever.

The Edwards and Wildey Co. have always marketed their subdivisions at such low original prices as to allow a big margin for profit on resales. The history of our every subdivision in Glendale has been a record of steadily increasing values that have meant big profits for original buyers. Doubled and trebled values in a few years' time have not been the exception, but rather the rule. Our 17 years' experience in subdividing fine properties in Glendale, Eagle Rock, Hollywood and Los Angeles is back of Kenilworth Park. Thousands will be made in resales here.

OPEN NEW TRACT AT CITY LIMITS

Golden Rule Heights Open Along Verdugo Road On Easy Payments

Golden Rule Heights is the name of a new tract being marketed by J. P. Lamber and John Yung, composing the Golden Rule firm with offices at 622 East Broadway.

This new subdivision is located along Verdugo road, just south of the Glendale city limits, and lying in Los Angeles. It is bounded on the north and west by Glendale.

Picturesque Verdugo road provides frontage for a few of the choice homesites while other hillside lots may be obtained on Tiburon and Evelyn streets.

Crushed rock and oiled streets now are being put in and the exceptionally low purchase price includes the street work, cement sidewalks and curbs, water, gas and electricity. Water from the city of Glendale already supplies the property.

$3500 Restrictions

For those who are interested in low initial payments and easy terms, Messrs. Lampert and Yung invite them to drive south from Glendale on Verdugo road and stop at their sign on the west side of the boulevard and get the view, also realize the values which are bound to increase within a short time.

The yellow 5-cent cars are within walking distance. Schools are close by and restrictions of $3500 will make it a most desirable homing place, according to Mr. Yung. Lots are 60 feet wide and the two streets to the knoll sites lead into Verdugo road, a direct artery into Los Angeles which will become an 80-foot boulevard under the Los Angeles city plan.

Belgians Send Mayor Of Duisburg to Jail

AIX LA CHAPELLE, Achen, Feb. 17.—Lord Mayor Jarres, of Duisburg, today was sentenced to one month in jail by a Belgian military court for disobedience. He took an appeal. Duisburg is in the Franco-Belgian zone of military occupation.

SURROUNDINGS OF SUPERB BEAUTY

Glendale Heights Prove Big Attraction; Large Number Secure Homesites

If you would live amid surroundings of superb beauty and exquisite refinement, where, along graceful rolling drives, magnificent view lots face to the west, the ocean, to the east, Pasadena, Eagle Rock and Los Angeles; to the north, the San Fernando valley, Montrose, La Canada; and to the South Elysian park, Hollywood and Beverly Hills—if you want these things and others that make life richer for having lived, you will find them, surprisingly, in Glendale Heights, the Haddock-Nibley realization of a dream, located at the corner of Palmer and Adams, extending out over the grassy, eucalyptus-crowned hills for eighty matchless acres.

But you will have to hurry if you want these things, states Frank Winn, in charge of sales. Of the 500 lots in the development, all but a handful of those in the last unit have been sold, and over fifty are already built on, some of the houses going up to cost in excess of $20,000.

Make Investments

Among others who have bought property at Glendale Heights, are Mr. Pendroy and Mr. Fairbanks, of Glendale, and G. W. Dick, from Bournemouth, England.

Mr. Dick, who is building a fine home for his son, R. S. Dick, on one of his adjacent lots, and is planning to landscape the other, states that in all his travels in England, Scotland, Wales, France, Italy and even Switzerland, he has never seen such a beautiful and sheltered pocket amid the mountains as Glendale Heights.

Another tribute to the beauty of the location, states Mr. Winn, lies in the fact that a number of artists and authors have bought lots in the tract and plan to develop a colony.

Rush Improvements

As all improvements are being rushed in, including gas, water, electricity, with all roads curbed and surfaced with rock and oil, these lots are ready to build upon immediately. The company, moreover, is in a position to supply, every want, from a small, inexpensive lot to a site for a man-

HILLCREST LOTS ATTRACT BUYERS

High Location of Property Affords Wide Vista of Mountains

The values offered in the over-size lots in Hillcrest, "the subdivision beautiful," and the terms on which they are placed on the market, constitute one of the outstanding real estate events in Glendale's history, according to Arthur Campbell, 110 East Broadway, who is putting the property before local investors on a basis of 10 per cent down and the balance on easy terms.

Hillcrest lies just south of Kenneth road, in one of the most attractive sections of Glendale, and every lot commands a beautiful view of a wide sweep of majestic hills and sun-kissed valleys, where ideal homesites are to be secured at prices that make this one of the most alluring prospects in the Southland, and as the property lies in the path of the logical spread of this city, the opportunity for a profit on the investment is proving a strong argument with those who have been investigating the property.

The streets are already in, as are the electric and gas mains, and everything about the property is in shape to permit the immediate building and occupancy of high-class homes. Mr. Campbell maintains an office at the tract and has representatives there daily to attend to clients.

Finished houses, too, may be had for as little as $500 down, with the balance in easy payments.

As the building restrictions run from $2000 to $6000, a reasonable latitude is allowed without in any way lowering the high standards set for the tract.

Mr. Winn states that plans are now complete for the continuation of York boulevard through till it joins Adams street, which is the main street of the tract. This improvement is certain to greatly increase the value and desirability of property thus influenced, and should be studied over by the prospective purchaser with the aid of a map. The result, Mr. Winn feels, will be a visit to Glendale Heights.

DR. C. G. DWIGHT BUYS BIG TRACT

Secures J. V. Vickers Estate For $50,000 Through T. W. Watson Agency

The seventeen acres lying north of Mountain street between Brand boulevard and Louise street, belonging to the J. V. Vickers estate has been sold during the last week to Dr. Corydon G. Dwight of Madison, Wisconsin. The purchase price was $50,000. The sale was consummated through the agency of T. W. Watson Company, of 708 E. Broadway.

Dr. Dwight left for Madison, Wisconsin Sunday morning. However, before leaving he had plans well started for the clearing and plowing of that portion of the plot lying between Mountain street and the base of the hills, and for the planting of several thousand palms and evergreens in nursery. These he intends to use in beautifying the plot.

T. W. Watson has charge of this work for Dr. Dwight, and is also working out a plan for subdividing the property.

Mr. Watson says that Dr. Dwight purchased this piece of ground largely for the purpose of selecting therefrom a site for his winter home. When this site has been selected and subdivision plans worked out, announcement will be made through these columns of a date when reservations may be made by those who may desire to secure residential sites on this beautiful place.

Improvements and restrictions will be of a nature that will ensure a high class residential section.

WILL ENTERTAIN BOARD OFFICERS

Regional Council Will Meet As Guests of Realtors At Long Beach

At Long Beach, in the Hotel Virginia, upon invitation of State Vice-President Henry P. Barbour and the Long Beach Board of Realtors, will be held March 19, a regional council of local board presidents and secretaries, and state directors and officers, according to the State Association news department.

While addressing a local board recently, Vice-President Barbour became impressed with the need for additional education and instruction of local board officers. Inasmuch as he has planned for some time to entertain the sixteen realty boards of his seventh regional district of the State Association, he has extended an invitation to State President Frazier O. Reed and all the directors and officers of the association to be the guests at this council which will occupy a whole Saturday, March 10, and be topped off with a grand state banquet.

Multiple Listing

Last year Vice-President Barbour, then serving his fourth term as head of the Long Beach Board of Realtors, entertained the State Association officers, with President C. C. C. Tatum as the guest of honor.

One of the big topics that will be discussed at the Long Beach council, will be multiple listing. Many local boards are going in for or desiring more light on this much-discussed method of increasing realty sales. Recently Merced realtors adopted multiple listing, and other boards are giving it a trial. Where multiple listing groups have been formed within a board, and every realtor who goes into the plan is sold on the idea, success results to all concerned, including buyer, seller and agent. The Southwest Realty Board of Los Angeles is a notable example of a successful practice of the multiple listing plan. Realty Board problems will also be discussed at Long Beach.

Hahn Estate IS NOW SUBDIVISION

Many Buyers Take Advantage of Chance to Get Part of Property

Selling fully improved lots at less than the cost of raw acreage in the immediate neighborhood sounds almost too good to be true. Yet that is just what is being done at Kenilworth Park by the Edwards & Wilder Company. Kenilworth Park is the old Hahn estate which has remained intact as acreage for fifty years. It has been right in the path of Glendale's greatest growth and, although the land was ripe for subdivision years ago, the owners would not sell because of sentimental reasons.

That many Glendale real estate buyers were just waiting for this land to be opened is apparent by the immediate sales activity that was created by the first announcement a week ago. Buyers have been keen to snap up the property which has for years stood in the way of the city's expansion.

Amid Fine Homes
Unit No. 1 of Kenilworth Park is bounded by Glenwood Drive on the north, the Glendale-Burbank car line on the south and Kenilworth Ave. on the east. The property is surrounded by some of the finest residential development in the Glendale district.

It is predicted by many local real estate experts that this new subdivision offers the greatest possibilities for profit in resales for original buyers of any tract in the district. This is claimed because of the fact that Edwards & Wilder bought the land at a remarkable low figure and are retailing the lots at a proportionate saving. Also the fact that the sections surrounding the property are fully developed and the buyer will not have to wait for future development to increase the value of his property.

In reference to the new tract W. F. McPherson says: "The fixed policy of the Edwards & Wilder Company has always been to retail their subdivisions at a low enough price to allow original buyers a wide margin for profit on resales. Kenilworth Park is no exception to the rule."

Great Opportunity
"I firmly believe this property offers the investor the greatest opportunity for profit of anything in the district. Many a local resident can recall some mighty big profits made in former Edwards & Wilder subdivisions in Glendale. Notable among these were 'Kenilworth' and Glendale Foothill Gardens. Yet I believe Kenilworth Park offers greater opportunities than either of these."

Kenilworth Park lots are selling at $1150 and up including such improvements as cement sidewalks, curbs, crushed rock streets, gas, water and electricity. The terms are $150 down and $15 a month.

ARMY TO DECIDE USE OF RAILWAYS

British Officers on Rhine Confer With French on Ruhr Outlet

PARIS, Feb. 17. — French efforts to obtain the use of railways through the British military zone on the Rhine will be taken out of the hands of the civilian authorities and turned over to military officers in the Rhineland, it was announced this afternoon.

After hearing the report from Minister of Public Works Le Troquer upon the break-up of the Anglo-French conference at London, the cabinet ordered General De Goutte, commander-in-chief of the French troops in the Rhineland and Ruhr, and General Payot to go to Cologne to confer with General Gudley, commander of the British army of occupation, upon the possibility of effecting a "working agreement."

General Payot had accompanied Minister Le Troquer to London to request use of railways through the Cologne area for movements of Ruhr coal, French troops and military supplies.

The decision today indicated that France will not appeal to the allied Rhineland commission for permission to use the Cologne bridgehead railways except as a last resort.

REAL ESTATE ETHICS

By WILLIAM MAY GARLAND
Director-at-Large, California Real Estate Association and Former President National Association of Real Estate Boards

ETHICS are the basic principles of right action, or, in other words, they constitute the science of human duty. Certain standards have been established in many lines in business, certain goals have been set, certain ideals have been outlined—in short, certain ethics have been developed. Such progress has been made by realtors.

Los Angeles, the city which we all love, had the honor of being the environment which inspired the adoption of a "Code of Ethics" for the National Association of Real Estate Boards—a set of practices founded upon the Golden Rule and the guide for every member of each of the 465 boards belonging to the national organization which is made up of the most influential operators and brokers in America. They alone have the right to use the term "realtor."

That event of events took place at the eighth annual convention in 1915. Many another national organization has since emulated the realtors of the nation. The real estate leaders in the United States thus blazed the trail for the revealing of a quickened conscience in several other business lines.

Our code has five sections. The first relates to the duties of the broker to his fellow brokers, while the second part treats of the duty of the agent to his client. The duties of the broker to the customer are considered in the third section, while four timely suggestions to owners and investors comprise "Section 4." The final division of the code emphasizes the benefits of uniting to enforce right principles and right practices. This code is the embodiment of the highest business ideals.

In our business there are offered innumerable opportunities for sharp practices and dishonesty—far more temptations than are found in the average vocation. Therefore, ethics of the "science of human duty" should always be uppermost in our thoughts and in our deeds.

But a careful survey by an unprejudiced observer without doubt would conclusively show that, considering the number of chances for unprincipled conduct, the percentage of honest transactions would be so startlingly large that it would overwhelm completely the comparatively few and scattered instances of fraud which ordinarily attract so much attention, particularly in a new city or state which is developing rapidly and in which there is such a large volume of real estate business.

In brief, realtors have an effective code of ethics because it is more than theory; it has been and is truly a guide to right action—the practical application of high standards and fine ideals.

RUSH TO SETTLE AT SCHOOL SITE

Work on New Building Sign For Buyers to Locate At Eagle Glen

The actual beginning of work on the new high school, on East Broadway, seems to have been the signal for a home-seekers' rush to that section of Glendale, according to real estate men whose business it is to note the trend of the market for building lots. Since the turning of the first spadeful of earth at the 21-acre site a couple of weeks ago, there has been a wonderfully active demand for homesites, with prices stiffening and the supply of desirable property fast diminishing.

That the eagerness to locate near the new school is not confined to Glendale people, is the experience of H. V. Henry, local manager of J. Harvey McCarthy company at Eagle Glen Heights, he says. Because of the fact that two main boulevards, East Colorado and Broadway, pass by the school site, the attention of a large number of motorists is directed to the building activities. Every day, Mr. Henry says, automobile parties stop at Eagle Glen Heights office, which adjoins the school site, and ask questions as to the probable date of the completion of the school buildings and the opportunities that exist for the purchase of lots nearby.

Know About Glendale

"The extensive advertising which Glendale has received as the fastest growing city in the country, together with its reputation as a community of homes of the better sort, is evidenced in the knowledge which inquirers disclose concerning Glendale," Mr. Henry declared. "Our advantages are recognized as well as the solid character of our achievements. The beginning of construction work on the new school has quickened this interest to a remarkable degree, and I feel sure, in common with other business men I have talked to, that the erection of the school marks a further era of home-building, especially in that section of the city."

Values Increase
The rise in the values of property near the school has been marked, Mr. Henry points out. In his opinion the school authorities made a remarkably good purchase and he believes that it could not be duplicated at the present time for twice the amount paid. He cites one offer made for a particularly desirable homesite at Eagle Glen Heights, which a few months ago was sought for $2,000 and for which the owner recently refused a profit of 150 per cent. This, of course, is an extreme illustration, he says, but there is not a lot in the neighborhood of the school that can be bought today for less than a 50 per cent advance over the price of six months ago. The rush of home-seekers has resulted in the sale of all the Eagle Glen Heights property, he says, with the exception of a very few lots.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Souvenir hunting visitors to the Capitol are largely responsible for an annual deficit of $36,000 in the house of representatives restaurant. DUBLIN, Feb. 17.—Irregular republicans carried their guerilla warfare into the heart of Dublin dynamiting buildings.

SHRINERS' ROADS LEAD TO CAPITAL

300,000 Nobles Are Expected in Washington for June Convention

By ROBERT THORNBURGH, For International News Service
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Nobles of the Mystic Shrine from four corners of America, will "fold their tents like the Arabs" and—no, not silently, but with the blare of bands and the din of the caravan—sweep over the hot sands of the desert toward Washington in June for the annual convention of Masonry's great social order.

Every one of the 200,000 Shriner expected in the national capital for the great assembly knows what it is to swing "onto the rope" as they cross the desert in the wake of the camel-led caravan of Nobles—dusty, foot-scorched, but happy in the anticipation of the revelations and joys which await them at the oasis—the journey's end.

Many Nobles Expected
 Alamas Temple, the host to the 1923 convention, has already made reservations for more than 100 Shrine temples, and it is expected that within three months practically every temple in America will have arranged for delegations of from ten to 5,000 Nobles. Washington Shriner are going to outdo the efforts of San Francisco's gigantic entertainment of Shrinedom last year. To do this they have raised a fund of $200,000 and have committees numbering hundreds at work on the preliminary arrangements. Washington will truly be a Mecca for the fez-capped delegation, making up the most picturesque of all national conventions staged in the United States.

Among the most noteworthy of the caravans will be one of automobiles, which will come from the temples of California. A pilot car from San Francisco has already traversed the route and is preparing a map of the best roads to be followed by the Nobles from the Golden Gate.

Alamas Temple is preparing parking spaces for the 35,000 automobiles expected from various temples. Practically every vacant lot in the capital will be filled with automobiles, while already space for 350 Pullman cars to bring other Shriner has been laid out.

Plan For Great Crowd
 Hotels are preparing to handle Washington's biggest crowd. Several new structures are being rushed to completion in anticipation of the event. With provision in private homes, it is believed the capital will be adequate to take care of the thousands of Shriner.

Alamas Temple will devote over $70,000 to decoration of the city. One of the monuments to greet the fez-wearers will be a gigantic Sphinx at the Treasury end of Pennsylvania avenue. The Sphinx has a peculiar significance to Shrinedom, being, as it is, an inhabitant of the dusty desert and accustomed to the roaming caravans which pass by in search of Mecca.

An estimate by Joseph S. Edgerton fixes the value of daily food consumption of the convention at $3,000,000. He said to feed all the visiting Shriner would require a table fifty miles long, and, while it was not so declared, other authorities insist the roar of this hungry throng as they hurriedly put away the camel fodder would create an echo that would be heard in every section of the civilized world.

Elaborate Parade
 The Shrine parade, featuring one day of every national convention, will be the most elaborate event of the kind ever held in Washington. Miles and miles of black-tasseled fezes will pass down Pennsylvania avenue, as a representative throng of the nation looks on.

Several hundred Shrine bands will be present. Committees are arranging to erect band stands in every section of downtown Washington, so there will be a continual concert from the opening day until the convention comes to a close.

It is expected that the formal opening of the keys of the nation will be handed to the imperial council of the Ancient Arabic order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, by President Harding.

Appraisal Committees Set Property Values

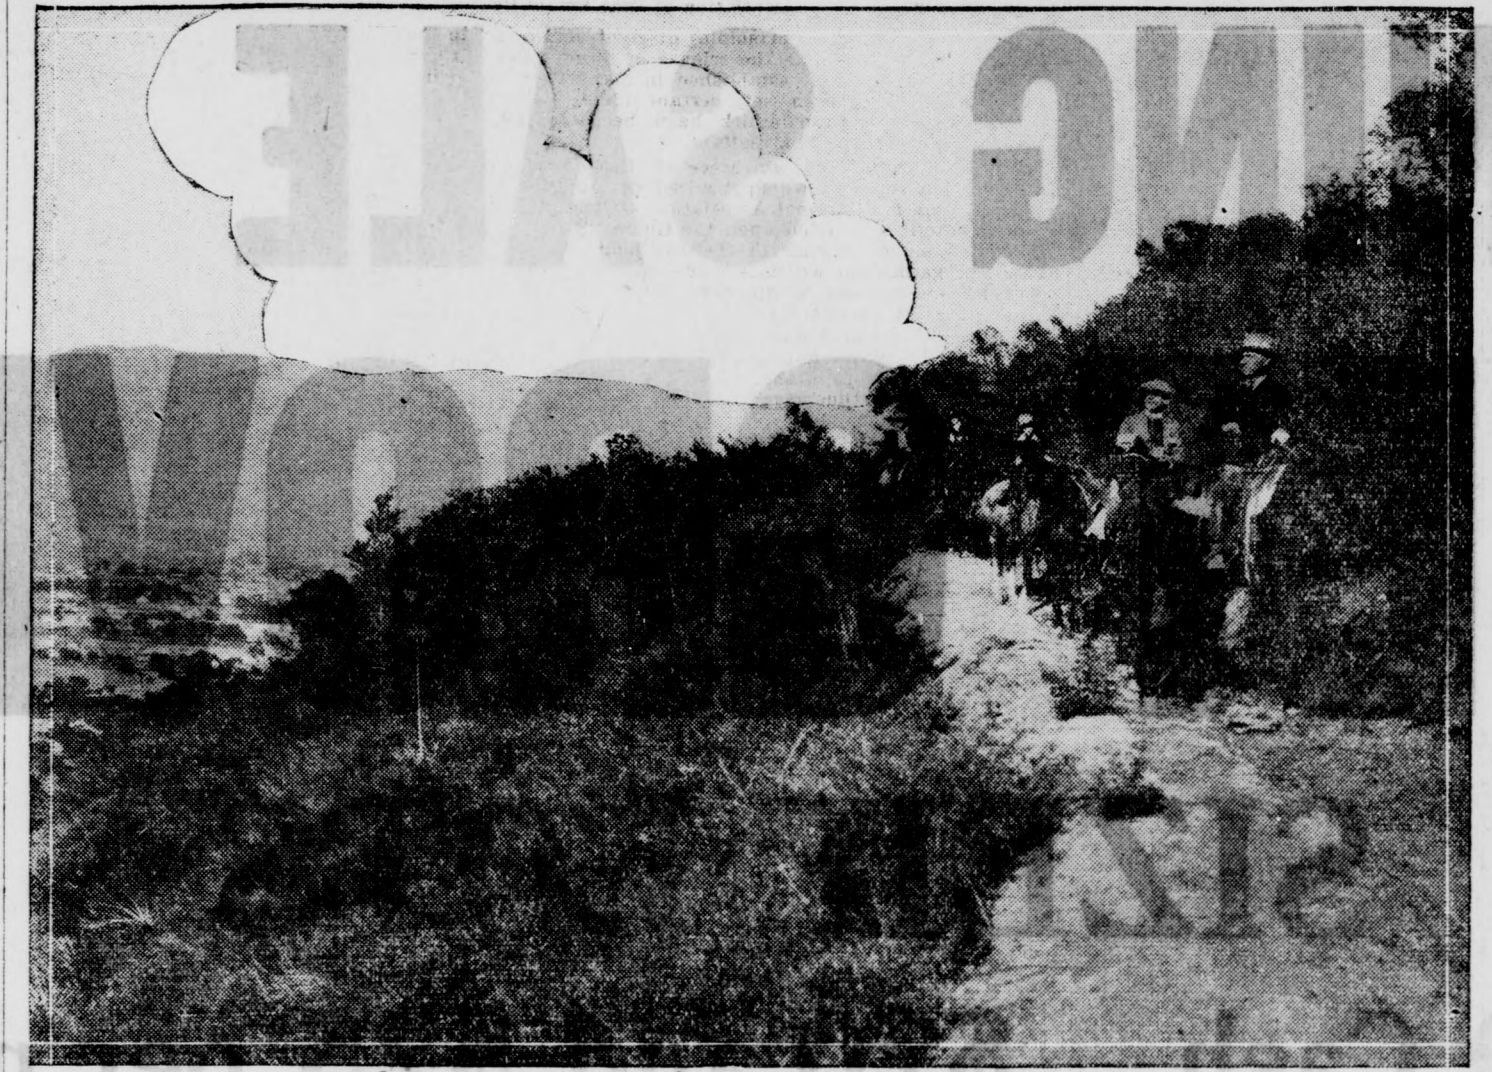

During the past year the Stockton Realty board's appraisal committee made appraisals totaling $1,773,000 for the city of Stockton, according to the news department of the California Real Estate association. These appraisals were made free of charge to the city. Also the Stockton realtors appraised $479,000 worth of property for individuals.

The appraisal committee of the Pasadena Realty board handled $1,130,000 for local property owners, and some of the appraisals were for the larger business properties, according to Vice-President J. W. Wright, chairman of the Pasadena committee.

In many other cities the realty boards are appraising a large amount of public and private property. Notably is this the case in Oakland and Los Angeles where realtors are unusually active in behalf of their home cities.

BRANCH OFFICES FOR INCOME TAX

Collector Plans to Avoid Congestion in Final Hours of Payment

Thirty thousand income tax returns have already been filed by taxpayers in the Southern California district, and, basing his estimate on the increased number of returns so far filed, Collector Rex Goodcell estimated yesterday that personal returns this year would pass the 225,000 mark. This would set a new record for the district.

For the convenience of taxpayers three branch offices were opened today and will remain open until midnight of March 15, the final date for filing of returns. Deputy collectors will be in charge of these branch offices. They will assist taxpayers in preparing their returns which may be filed and the tax paid at the branch offices.

Branch Locations
 Branch No. 1 will be located in the directors' room in the basement of the Union Bank & Trust company, Eighth and Hill streets. Use the Hill street entrance. Deputy Collectors Lovie and Satterwhite in charge.

Branch No. 2 will be in the Chamber of Commerce, 130 South Broadway, in the south wing on the second floor. Deputy Collectors Preston and Franklin in charge.

Branch No. 3 will be in the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, 6530 Hollywood boulevard, with Deputy Collectors Curson and Shackleton in charge.

Collector Goodcell urges taxpayers to take advantage of the branch offices as they have been opened to relieve the congestion of taxpayers at the federal building. Taxpayers who wait until the last day to make their returns will face a veritable jam of eleventh hour filers.

Strong-Arm Style of Realty Sales Scored

Strong-armed salesmanship methods were denounced by President Edwin Hart of the Los Angeles Realty board in his talk before the 150 students who attended the opening lectures of the real estate courses being given by the University of Southern California in the extension division classrooms in the realty board building, according to the news department of the California Real Estate association.

"Some authorities imply that the proof of good salesmanship is the ability of selling someone something that he does not want," said President Hart. "I disagree entirely with this idea, particularly in relation to real estate. It is a salesman's duty to encourage the buyer to purchase property suited to his needs and financial ability. A forced sale is a bad sale for all parties concerned. No legitimate broker will allow a sale to go through his office if it has been secured through the stimulation of ignorant, speculative greed, commonly incited by the promise of a quick turn and a large profit."

Smooth auto highways are so commonplace in Glendale as to be "old stuff," but not every one knows that there are within the limits of this city several miles of highways of the early pioneers, the saddle trails, and yet, within a ten-minute ride of the center of Glendale, at the northern part of the city, trails wind into the hills, affording vistas of the ocean, valley and city.
