MURDERED HIS WIFE IN ITALY

PORTER CHARLTON ARRESTED AT HOBOKEN

Makes Full Confession—Brother of Victim Attempts to Shoot Prisoner

(Times Leased Wire.)
Hoboken, N. J., June 23.—Porter Charlton, the young American college man, who has been sought by the police of two continents on suspicion that he murdered his wife, Mary Scott Cassel Charlton, of California, in the Villa Legnazzi on the shores of Lake Como, Italy, was arrested here today. He confessed to the murder.

The body of Mrs. Charlton was found in an iron trunk at the bottom of Lake Como, June 19th. The Charltons had been spending their honeymoon at a villa on the shores of the Italian lake. They had been married but three months.

After the finding of the body Charlton disappeared and at first it was believed he also had been murdered. Later the local police obtained clues which they claim pointed to Charlton as the murderer. Descriptions of the young man were telegraphed to leading cities of Europe and America. He was reported to have been seen in various European cities at different times.

Charlton was arrested upon arrival of the North German Lloyd liner Princess Irene from the Mediterranean. Charlton had been under surveillance on the Princess Irene. The Hoboken police were notified of this by wireless and a number of policemen were on hand when the vessel docked.

At first Charlton refused to admit his identity. Later he said he was Charlton. Then he denied committing the murder, but under fierce questioning by the police broke down and confessed.

Several detectives boarded the steamer on her arrival here. They opened the cabin of a man registered as "Jack Coleman, Omaha, Neb.," and found Charlton.

At the police headquarters he made a detailed signed statement. First of all he confessed to the murder of his wife. He stated that he had frequently used vice language.

On the day he killed her, according to Charlton's confession, she had cursed him. He struck her with a mallet and after putting her body in a trunk, threw it into Lake Como. On the following day he went to Genoa to elude the authorities.

While Charlton was calmly making his confession, Capt. Scott, brother of the murdered woman, listened in silence. "Almost abruptly Charlton made a serious charge against his dead wife. Scott rose, drew a revolver and pointed it at the prisoner. Charlton sprang from his chair and fell to his knees begging the captain not to shoot. A detective and other policemen grappled with the infuriated army officer and wrested the weapon from his hands.

Father's statement.
Washington, D. C., June 23.—"I refuse to believe that the Hoboken murder suspect is my son," cried Judge Paul Charlton today. The judge then collapsed and could say no more.

Judge Charlton is the father of Porter Charlton. He is employed in the bureau of insular affairs in the war department.

London, June 23.—Since the death of King Edward until yesterday the royal standard was flown over Buckingham palace in honor of the Queen Mother, who is still in residence there. As the royal standard is flown only for a monarch the fact that it was used by the Queen Mother was the source of considerable speculation. The only reason for her use of the standard was that there was no flag existing for that rank in Great Britain.

THE LIBERAL CHIEFTAIN

Fourteen years ago to-day the Liberal party was returned to power in the Dominion, led by the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, who had been in Parliament since the general election of 1874 and had been Minister of Inland Revenue in the Mackenzie cabinet. On that occasion the Liberal majority was 34, representing a turn-over of 65 from the results of 1891. A. A. Selfe Suicides in a Vancouver Hotel—Brother Gone Over From Victoria
 (Times Leased Wire.)
 Vancouver, June 23.—"I will be down in a minutes." This was the answer A. A. Selfe gave through the telephone in his room to the clerk in a Cordova street hotel this morning. A few minutes later when the room door was broken open Selfe had committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a 44-calibre Colt.

Last night Selfe took his grip and left the hotel, but returned about an hour later with two suit cases, and told the clerk that he would like the same room for another night. He had just gone to his room when two gentlemen came in and asked for him. In answer to the call he immediately came down stairs and the three chatted away for almost an hour. Selfe retired to his room and seemed to be in the best of spirits.

This morning about twenty-five minutes to nine the two gentlemen returned and again asked the clerk if they could see Selfe. He answered the call and stated that he would be right down. After waiting for about ten minutes the clerk was asked to ring again, but this time there was no answer. A letter to the proprietor of the hotel asked that his belongings be sent to "R. H. Selfe, Carlyle street, Victoria."

On enquiry at the office of Howell & Selfe, Langley street, to-day it was learned that H. R. Selfe, brother of the dead man, had left for Vancouver on the midnight boat, on reception of a telegram. No one here knows whether the call to Mr. Selfe had any connection with to-day's tragedy or not. The dead man was not known here.

WILL BE GREAT ROSE EXHIBIT

VERY MANY ENTRIES ARE BEING RECEIVED

Show To-morrow Promises to Out-class Anything Yet Held Here in Quality and Quantity

Baskets of roses, bowls of roses, roses of all varieties and in immense numbers, will be on exhibition in the Assembly hall after 1 p. m. The show this year is expected to be a great one, as entries are coming in from all classes of the community. The class for novices is proving very popular, the prizes being unusually large, and the fact that four prizes are offered makes the winning very easy.

It is surprising how much more interest is being taken in the annual event this year than in seasons past. Ask anyone on the street if they contemplate taking it in, and they will invariably answer "yes." The rose is a popular flower in this city, and its popularity is on the increase. There are here hundreds of people who have come from the prairies and who have very little knowledge of the possibilities of rose culture. Many of these will be present in order to get in touch with the trend of affairs and to learn something about the queen of all flowers. It is a difficult matter to go to a florist and ask him to give you the roses that one would like. The only way is to go to the show and make a list of the best roses there, and then to either place the order at once or keep the list on hand until autumn, which, by the way, is not very far away.

The great feature of the show this year will be the decorated baskets, over twenty entries for which have already been received. Any foliage is allowed in the decoration of these, but for the bowls of roses nothing but their own foliage is allowed in the setting.

Several trade exhibits will be staged, these to include flowers of all kinds. One dealer has asked for 125 square feet on which to set out his exhibit.

Those who wish to see the exhibition at its best should attend in the afternoon, as the flowers at that time are at their brightest and most beautiful. For those who cannot come in the afternoon, however, the evening is a good substitute. A promenade concert will be given in the evening by Miss Thain's orchestra, assisted by Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Harry Pooley as vocalists. Ice cream and tea will be served, and outside of the flowers the entertainment will in itself be well worth the entry money, which is put very low this year in order that no one who wishes to attend may be kept away.

Mrs. Peterson will declare the show formally open at 3 p. m., but the doors will be open to those who wish a few minutes after 1.

HEARING POSTPONED.

Vancouver, June 23.—The trial of Frewen vs. the Grand Trunk Pacific Town & Development Company, which is associated in the defence, G. H. Hays, president of the G. T. P., came to an abrupt temporary stop yesterday when the defence failed to produce the list of upset prices on Prince Rupert properties at the public auction last May. These, together with certain affidavits ordered to be forthcoming, must be on hand on Monday, when the trial will be resumed before Chief Justice Hunter.

Following the cross-examination of the plaintiff, Mr. Frewen, the defence applied for an adjournment till the production of the papers in question, which was granted.

INSURANCE MEN TAKING NOTICE

One last Bulletin told how one of the policy holders of the Prudential Insurance Company dying in Detroit, Mich., Mrs. D. E. Johnston, of St. Johns street, was notified with a letter of the case and death was expected when she was put on the Renal compound. She made a fine recovery and saved a great deal of money in a case in another policy-holder of the Prudential Ins. Co. in the same city, who was nearly down and out with Bright's Disease, being put on the treatment. At last advised this case, too, was going right.

We now have a letter from a Sacramento man in which he says: "I am in the life insurance business and once in a while, I know that your compound is a wonder, why can't I put these people on it and fit them for examination. I will say that I may present you with a bill for $500.00 for the praise I have given your Compound."

He is not the first party who has seen this opportunity. One of the State officials of Nevada came to see us and outlined a proposition to establish an insurance company to insure the lives of people afflicted with Bright's Disease and Diabetes, charging double the ordinary rates and putting them on this treatment. Numbers have been fitted for insurance, although some of them were actually in extremis. For instance, in our pamphlet will be found the case of Mrs. R. Lester Bell, of Auburn, N. Y., who was in the Auburn hospital and was expected to die during the week when put on Fulton's Renal Compound. One year from that time she passed for life insurance.

The case of Mrs. Wacker, the 4th street merchant, of San Francisco, also comes to mind in this connection. He did not think he would live but a few months, and was nearly down and out with diabetes when put on Fulton's Renal Compound. He later passed for $5,000.00 life insurance.

An interesting fact in Wacker's case was that a bereavement set up a nervous condition that caused the disease to re-appear and he was very much discouraged, due to the fact that he had not been cured. However, he went on the Compound again and made the second recovery and now looks like an athlete. And this was all several years ago, showing that the results are real.

We are pleased to see the Insurance people sitting up and taking notice. The large Insurance Companies will ultimately realize that they can save hundreds of thousands of dollars by having their agents advise policy-holders who have these diseases of the goodness of this treatment. Moreover, it is humane.

For Bright's Disease, Fulton's Renal Compound is the best. For Diabetes, Fulton's Diabetes Compound. It can be had in your city at D. E. Campbell's drug store. Literature mailed free. Address John S. Fulton Co., 645 Battery Street, San Francisco, Cal. We desire to hear from you and advise you every case not making the usual recovery.

PREDICTS WAR BETWEEN STATES AND JAPAN

Writer in London Graphic Declares There Are Indications of Approaching Conflict

London, June 23.—Gerard Finnes is the latest English naval expert to predict that the United States and Japan are drifting toward war. Finnes declares that "the minor explosions of war talk may be taken as a serious indication that both countries will fight, and he criticises American officials for not making greater preparations for the struggle he predicts will soon come."

"There are a hundred indications," he says in an article in the Graphic, "that a collision between Japan and the United States is approaching."

"The Japanese have a profound disbelief in the war-worthiness of the American navy and an acute realization of the fact that the 'strategical situation is overwhelmingly in their favor."

"It is objected that the Japanese are too poor to fight. When will people realize the fact which all history teaches that it is the poor nations—not those who have grown rich and comfortable—which fight, and Japan is rich enough to afford war because, directly or indirectly, she will make war pay for itself."

"It is furthermore a profound mistake to suppose that the Japanese look upon war as we do. They do lip-service to aspirations after peace, but in their hearts they regard war as cleansing and antiseptic. In a land where the proudest ambition of every man is to die for his emperor, where every mother cradles her child with glorious fate for her son, there is no thought of stricken homes to turn the wavering scale in favor of peace."

WESTERN CROPS IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

No Damage on Account of Heat—Weather Beneficial to Grain

Winnipeg, June 23.—That the weather generally has been beneficial to the crops in the Western Canadian country is the gist of the information contained in the C. P. R. weekly report issued yesterday.

At Emerson the wheat is ten inches high and the weather is warm and favorable. No damage is reported on account of heat.

At La Riviere the weather has been very warm and rain is needed.

Broadview says that the growth is good, while Rapid City is forging ahead in fine style, the wheat being sixteen inches high in this district. At Medicine Hat and Moose Jaw the crops are reported to be in excellent condition, while at Calgary, where there has been no rain for the past week or so, no damage is reported.

Arcoia writes: "Three or four hours' good rain. Weather hot, with local showers. Grain growing fast."

Another report from Regina and Lethbridge, but no damage. Wheat in Arcoia is 15 to 22 inches high, while oats and barley are 7 to 10 inches high.

Lost Mountain says: "About six hours' good rain. Weather warm, and some light showers. Wheat ten inches to a foot high."

Nokomis reports wheat 15 inches high. Conditions favorable.

Saskatoon says: "About three hours' medium rain. Weather very warm. Wheat is in spot blade in Asquith. Good growth."

Edmonton also reports satisfactorily, a similar remark applying to Lacombe, Macleod and Crow's Nest.

MANY GOVERNMENT CASES TO BE HEARD

Standard Oil and Tobacco Trust Suits to Come Before U. S. Supreme Court

Washington, June 23.—Fully one-third of the time of the United States Supreme court at its next term, beginning in October, will be occupied with the consideration of cases in which the government is a party or in which it is interested, because they involve the construction of federal laws.

According to a review of the situation made at the department of justice, the court has advanced the date for hearing 52 cases between October 17th and January 3rd of next year. Of these the government is interested in no less than 43.

They include the Standard Oil and Tobacco Trust cases, those involving the constitutionality of the corporation tax, the New York World libel suit, the Buck's stove and range case against the American Federation of Labor involving the boycott question and the contempt proceedings against Samuel F. Gompers, the validity of the commodity clause of the Hepburn law as it applies to the coal carrying railroads, and the Hipolite egg case, which is the first to be brought under the pure food law.

In the first three hundred cases before the court on regular call this government has about one in every four. This not only indicates the activities of the department of justice, but emphasizes the tremendous interest which the government and the people have in securing a full bench.

U. S. PRESIDENCY.

Ohio Democrats Endorse Boom of Governor Harmon for Nomination in 1912

Dayton, Ohio, June 23.—The Democrats of Ohio yesterday formally endorsed the boom of Judson Harmon for the presidential nomination in 1912 and then renominated him for governor of Ohio. The endorsement of his presidential boom came in the form of a resolution, which was adopted unanimously.

"We invite the attention of the nation to Judson Harmon and the work he has been doing in Ohio," the resolution declared. "Two years hence the work here will be completed and we can then, spare him for larger duties. The nation needs a real man and the Ohio Democracy presents and endorses him for the presidency in 1912 Judson Harmon."

The platform adopted favors conservation and denounces the administration of Richard A. Ballinger as secretary of the interior for "dismissing tried and true officers, whose only aim was the preservation to the people of their resources."

SCHOOLS CLOSED.

Madrid, June 23.—The government yesterday closed seven schools conducted by the order of Christian Brothers. The action was taken in fulfillment of the imperial decree of May 21st, which directed that unauthorized religious orders seek immediate authorization under the law of 1887 under pain of dissolution and the closing of their establishments in the event of non-compliance.

MARRIAGE POSTPONED.

London, June 23.—The wedding of Dorothy Deacon, the American beauty, and Prince Albert Radziwill, which was scheduled for yesterday, was postponed and the reason is a mystery.

The only reason given by the Prince and Miss Deacon was that they were non-residents of London and could not comply with the marriage requirements.

This explanation, however, does not satisfy the friends of Miss Deacon, who believe that the opposition of the Prince's mother has become effective. The mother of the Prince, from the time the young people became engaged, requested that the marriage be postponed for two years. The Prince was determined not to keep Miss Deacon waiting and with his aunt came to London a few days ago, about the time Miss Deacon and her mother, Mrs. Baldwin, arrived from New York.

MEXICAN SITUATION.

Naco, Ariz., June 23.—Gen. Torres, governor of Sonora, is en route to Cananea with 200 troops, according to advice received here. General Torres denies that he has been advised that trouble will occur there. General Kosterlitzky, commanding the Sonora rurales, arrived at Naco, Sonora, to-day, and is guarding the customs house. Troops are being hurried to Manzanillo to prevent uprisings there.

SUMMER SKIN TROUBLES

Sunburn, blistering and irritation are the commonest form of summer skin troubles, and Zam-Buk ends these very quickly. It works in two ways. As soon as applied, its antiseptic powers get to work and kill all the poison in a wound, a sting or a sore. This generally ends the smarting and the pain. Then Zam-Buk begins the healing process, and fresh, healthy tissue is built up. For sore, blistered feet, sore hands, heat rashes, baby's heat spots, sore places due to perspiration, etc., you can't equal Zam-Buk.

Also unguented for cuts, ulcers, abscesses, piles, and all inflamed and diseased conditions of skin and subjacent tissue. Druggists and stores everywhere sell Zam-Buk, price 50c box, but you are warned against accepting any of the harmful imitations.

POLITICS NEAR THE DOG DAYS

The people of Canada are more interested in the maintenance of good government and of progressive government than they are in the comparatively trivial matter of party politics. That is probably the reason, combined with the fact that this is the holiday season of the year when men give themselves over as much as possible to mental and physical relaxation, why but little interest is manifested in Mr. Borden's annual party promenade. The leader of the Conservative party, we are told, attracted and addressed only about five or six hundred people on his appearance in the greatest Conservative stronghold of Canada, Toronto. This lack of enthusiasm is said to be accounted for by the fact that Torontonians care nothing for politics. "They just vote Conservative." And these same people, strange though it may appear in the light of the facts, will flock by the thousand to hear Laurier, who appeals both to their imagination and their intelligence, but when polling day arrives prejudice proves stronger than reason and common sense, and they vote for the candidates of the opposition. It is a fortunate thing for the country that all the people are not as the narrow and intellectually impenetrable dwellers in the beautiful capital of Ontario. Yet Toronto has been the home of many eminent men of sound political views. In bygone days William Lyon Mackenzie battled there even to the shedding of blood against the apostles of reaction. George Brown thundered against the autocracy and the intolerance of the Family Compact. And while the good seed sown may appear to have fallen upon stony ground as far as the city is itself concerned, it bore fruit in the province and throughout the Dominion, and Liberalism with Sir Oliver Mowat as its chief apostle dominated Ontario for nearly thirty years, and the indications are that under Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his successors that it will prevail in the Dominion for an equally protracted period.

Mr. Borden does not attract the multitude because neither in his personality nor in his policy does he appeal to them. When a leader cannot command the loyal adherence of those directly associated with him, that is the best possible indication that neither can he win the confidence of the "body politic." Under him the Conservative party has been practically scattered to the winds. There is no cohesion in it. It is divided in counsel at the head, and this condition is reflected throughout its whole body. Its policy is one of negation, and nothing else. Mr. Borden's platform contains but one constructive plank. That is a declaration of belief that the N. P. must be born again. In face of the criticism to which high protection is being subjected at the present day in the original home of exclusive tariffs and the hostility to such a policy in the sections of Canada which are rapidly becoming the strongest in voting power, there is as much likelihood of new life for the N. P. as there is of the lamented residents of the cemetery at Ross Bay becoming the quick of Victoria.

"On the other hand the policy of the Laurier government, both in its conception and its operation, is one which appeals with overpowering force to the people of Canada. Develop the country is the keynote of that policy. Reserve the public lands and the natural resources for the benefit of the people and render these resources available for the people by the construction of railways and other public works. That, together with the development of markets for the products of the country, is the policy of the Laurier government. That policy has been abundantly justified by an unexampled growth of population and unprecedented increase in wealth and prosperity. There is no country in the world so much talked about as Canada is today. Almost universal attention is concentrated upon us. And to a large extent these things are due to the constructive policy of the Liberal government. The last idea that is likely to enter the head of the people is that "it is time for a change."

INDIAN TITLES

An animated but purposeless controversy is proceeding in the local press and the title of Indians to reserves and lands which are not under reserve. The aboriginal tribes are wards of the Dominion government, and possibly in a legal sense cannot possess an absolute title to any of their landed possessions. But in these days we are living under a comparatively benevolent dispensation. The time has passed when might lords it over right. There was a time in the history of this country when military arrogance carried Indian in chains across the ocean and presented them as a spectacle before one of the most powerful and assumedly most highly civilized of the royal courts of Europe—placed the captives before royal eyes as trophies of martial valor. But times and circumstances have changed. We are sometimes told that the people of the present day are after all not so very different from their forefathers. The fact that such a thing would be impossible in these days, however, may be accepted as evidence that the world is going forward. International public opinion would not tolerate any such proceedings. Might is not omnipotent in either an international, a national or a very much more restricted sense. Grievous wrongs are still inflicted upon individuals as a consequence of the perversion of law. Whatever the legal title of the Indians to their reserves, they have a moral right to them; and moral right is, or ought to be, the foundation of all law. The tribes of Canada have not been subjected to injustice in any part of Canada with the knowledge of their guardians. They will be protected in the future just as effectively as they have been in the past. Whatever questions may arise respecting the disposition of reserves under new conditions which are continually developing as a consequence of the growth of new centres of population, the Dominion government will take care that the Indians shall suffer no wrong.

The Vancouver Province pretended that it did not want a Canadian navy, or at all events it supports the party which cavils at the cost of a Canadian navy and advocates a contribution of twenty million dollars in support of the Imperial navy on the ground of "the German menace," but at the same time our mainland contemporary is anxious to have the impression go abroad that Vancouver is to be the Pacific station of the "baby navy." It says the Canadian cruiser Rainbow, now being fitted out at Portsmouth, will be ready for sea in about a month. "Her initial voyage will be to Vancouver, and the residents of the coast will have the first opportunity of seeing the baby of Canada's new navy." It may be that the Province does not know that the Pacific station of the Canadian fleet has already been determined. The Imperial dockyard at Esquimalt has been acquired by the Canadian government, and the permanent headquarters of the fleet will be there. That will be the objective point of the cruiser Rainbow and the future abiding-place of the many sisters that will be added to her in course of time.

However enviable the lot of our neighbor may appear to be, there is a human but perhaps selfish consolation in the thought that every shoulder must bear its own burden. Many a clergyman, says an American contemporary, will sympathize with the Presbyterian divine who, though he has long successfully ministered to one of the oldest churches in Chicago, recently resigned because he felt that his true function, that of preacher and pastor, was obscured by the executive duties that fall, almost inevitably, upon the head of a metropolitan church. He had to manage institutions, preside over societies, solicit endowments, and act as charity trustee, bond broker, gymnasium director, settlement worker, school official and even bill collector, and, being "essentially a religiousist," such activities, seemed to him not only wasteful but wrong. There are many young men who are equipped with capacity for executive work, he says, and to such belong the pastorates of urban churches. Possibly that is true. Perhaps it is still more true that no man should be expected to combine the incongruous duties of priest and promoter, except he be fully persuaded that he can do so successfully. In any church there should be some devoted men or men who would be willing to relieve the minister of such burdens and set him free to fix his heart and his mind upon the things of the spirit.

Count Zeppelin was "turned down" by the Kaiser, but the Count has won. One of his airships, the Deutschland, has made a trip between two points in the Fatherland, carrying passengers. The aerial craft is now said to have more business than she can accommodate. There was a time when a legend was printed on all steamship time tables to the effect that the vessels mentioned would sail for certain places on given dates "wind and weather permitting." We do not know whether the Deutschland's movements are subject to any such qualifications, but if they are not, look out for news of a catastrophe. Perhaps it might be as well to keep your eyes open anyhow.

If we have misrepresented the Colonist, may we be permitted to express regret? We are told it is not true that our contemporary said pedestrians must go on the highways at their peril. Yet what other construction could be placed upon the statement that a little child who was killed by a speeding motor car on the streets of Seattle had no right to cross the thoroughfare for the purpose of meeting her father? This expression of opinion was so extraordinary when printed that it was commented upon in very condemnatory terms by almost every newspaper in the country.

Hon. George P. Graham, Dominion Minister of Railways and Canals, said recently that the era of railway building had begun in Canada. As soon as the National Transcontinental line is completed other works of just as great importance and necessity will receive the attention of his department. That is the proper attitude for the head of the railway department of a country of such magnificent distances and undeveloped areas as Canada.

"There is a bar away up aloft in the Parliament building that is often spoken of as the House of Commons bar." How did the Colonist acquire this "inside" information? Is it, like an expert knowledge of the fascinating game of billiards, evidence of a mispent youth? Or (more likely) does it indicate that the writer has indulged not wisely but too well on the occasions of his visits to the wicked capital?

Oh, Mr. Bowser assumed to intervene between Dominion officials and their duty because he has an idea of "what decency requires." This explanation is from the Colonist apropos of the visit of the Gaokwar of Baroda, and may be interpreted as meaning that the officials instructed have not a proper sense of "what decency requires."

The Colonist must be taking a rest. We have not heard a word about his policies or his ideas for two whole days. This silence seems unnatural, portentous, ominous.

McEWAN RIDES THREE WINNERS

FIRST CLASS CARD OFFERED YESTERDAY

J. M. Brown Repeated With Wins by Harka and Miss Raphael Yesterday

The performance of Jockey McEwan, who rode five horses into the money, three first and two seconds, and the two wins of J. M. Brown, were the features of yesterday's racing at the Willows.

J. M. Brown repeated with Miss Raphael and Harka. He got Miss Raphael into the leading position after McEwan's rail run up the straight at a tempting price of seven to one, and Harka an even choice with the favorite Enchanter, drew the win away from the latter stride by stride in the last hundred yards, when it looked as if there was only one horse to win.

McEwan is developing into some rider. He rides his horses with his head and hands both. From a strong field, all class, he slipped away on Sister Julia in the first six-furlong event and pushed her nose to the front, taking the rail at the turn into the stretch. McEwan kept the mare to the rail all the way round, and beat off the Belle of Iroquois by half a length. McEwan rode Harka a winner also, making Brown's mare respond to a final call which outpointed Shelton on the favorite.

Incentive opened the day, winning the four and a half, from Calla and Wamboro. Lycurgus, Riley and White were the jockeys who figured, in the order given. Auburndale, from the same stable as Wamboro, the former backed by his owner down to favorite price, failed, and the other starters were Solved and Canique.

With Redan and Prince Brutus in the five furlongs, Miss Raphael did not look to the wise ones the right kind for their money. Miss Raphael, however, had a few backers who thought her fine run of Saturday was not all a fluke, and these got between 6 and 8 for their investment. Prince Brutus tried to get through where there was no room at the barrier and stumbled. His heart went down like a match and he never got into his stride. Miss Raphael raced Semproille for the water tank-rail and made it, keeping the lead and putting two lengths between herself and the gelding by the time the presiding judge was passed. Redan ran an unassuming third, and Renee W. Cliff Rogers, and Brutus were the also-rans.

There was one little bay filly in the third race, five furlongs for three-year-old non-winners, and that was Fay Muir, which fluctuated between 3 and 4, and finally went to the post fairly well supported at the longer price.

Aristolat and Estelle M. divided public opinion as favorites and with Herwinda raced to the turn, with Fay Muir on Herwinda's haunches watching to slip to the rail. The advance guard of three broke and spread at the tank turn, while McEwan kept the filly tight laced on to the rail, slipped through, and went to the front. Estelle second, Herwinda third. Other starters were Maternus, G. N. Randall, Aristolat.

Sister Julia was a fretful sister in the six furlongs, and at the start she fretted the other entries to pieces. The horses were nearly fifteen minutes getting away, and then Julia was off in the first three, with Thurbet and Belle of Iroquois. McEwan rode for the rail and made it, coming into the turn. He held the same position all the way, and his rail ride won the race. Belle or Iroquois was his only contender, and would have won with an exchange of positions, being less than half a length to the bad as they went past the post. Thurbet was third. The others were Trocha and Senator Warner. Sister Julia started at 6 to 1.

The much sought Magnifico, with King up, failed to respond yesterday in the six furlongs, although the talent backed it down to even money. Mr. Hose, Delmas and Old Settler were the order. The second horse made a beautiful attempt to get on an equality with the leader and picked up five lengths in two furlongs, while Old Settler, which looking like second money, fell away in the final effort and was beaten by Delmas. The also were Hope So and the favorite, Magnifico.

In the last race, also six furlongs, Enchanter, everybody's favorite, failed to enchain, and left it to Harka to take the last few yards to stretch out along the track in great shape and beat the favorite out by a nose. Harry Rogers was third. Enchanter led from the start but was taken by surprise in the last few strides. Melos, Julia C. and Toby were the also-rans.

The results in detail were:
Four and a half furlongs—Incentive (Lycurgus), Calla (D. Riley), Wamboro (J. White), Time, :57.
Five furlongs—Miss Raphael (McEwan), Semproille (McIntyre), Redan (King), Time, 1:02.
Five furlongs—Fay Muir (Anderson), Estelle M. (Matthews), Herwinda (McEwan), Time, 1:03 1/2.
Six furlongs—Sister Julia (McEwan), Belle of Iroquois (Riddle), Thurbet (McIntyre), Time, 1:16.
Six furlongs—Mr. Hose (Riddle), Delmas (Wilson), Old Settler (McEwan), Time, 1:17 3/5.
Six furlongs—Harka (McEwan), Enchanter (Shelton), Harry Rogers (White), Time, 1:17 3/5.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR B. C. A. U. FIELD MEET

Will Be Held in Victoria, Probably During Fair Week

Victoria has been chosen and favored for the holding of the annual field meet of the B. C. A. U., the date for which has not yet been decided on. It will be held either during the first two weeks of August or the third week of September. The regular date for this event in the past has generally been set on the first Saturday in August.

At present arrangements are now under way for the holding of this affair in connection with the annual fair of the B. C. Agricultural association. If negotiations are satisfactory the meet will be held on Wednesday afternoon, September 28. The local athlete favor this plan, as they think that a meet like this should be held in conjunction with the fair, the same as is done in the east, as it is then largely patronized.

Vancouver clubs and other associations in the province which intend to be represented in this great athletic carnival would prefer to have the meet held on Saturday, because if they have to come here during the week they claim that they lose too much time. An athlete in good standing, however, ought not to mind losing a few days' work to compete in one of the greatest field meets that has yet been pulled off in this province.

If the amateur union holds the meet during the fair week then the Victoria branch will put on a meet next month so as to get the local athletes into condition for the provincial assemblage of renowned competitors in the different events. If, however, the union finds it impossible to stage this big attraction in connection with the fair then the meet will be held at Oak Bay in August.

DOUBLE-HEADER IS OFF THIS WEEK END

Ballard Will Play One Game Here Saturday Against the Local Nine

There will be no double-header this week-end at the Royal park, but the Ballard ball team will be here to play on Saturday afternoon against the Victoria nine.

Sorphils and Robertson will form the battery for Victoria on Saturday afternoon, and the line-up will be determined, according to the managerial statement this morning, to what it was when Victoria lined up against stronger teams than the Spirits and played errorless ball.

Ballard is a strong nine by reputation and will undoubtedly put up a big game Saturday afternoon. The Victoria team will have a shadeful, the heat of the affair, and if his team does not it will be no fault of his, for he has been putting those ball players through the mill and making-over process this week till they hardly know themselves. The full and complete line-up of both teams will be announced to-morrow.

Beacon Hill Beat Empress.

Beacon Hill overwhelmingly defeated the Empress ball team in the city league last night at Beacon Hill diamond, and maintained the lead of the city league. The score was 29 to 4.

The Hills developed another pitcher. This time it is Bobby, brother of Ed. Steele. Scott received the Beacon Hill pitcher's curves, and the battery for the Empress was Menard and Baker.

SPORT NOTES

Two extra attractions have been added for the military sports on Saturday. They are the Balachava mile race and the inter-company tug-of-war.

The two-mile walk is open to those only who appear at the starting post in full uniform. The sports will be conducted on a quarter-mile track, especially laid out.

The races are proving the big sport attraction this week. From the crowd that was there yesterday it appears Victoria always has time, when there is a horse race on.

The Y. M. C. A. is pulling off swimming handicaps. These are very popular. The events are held at the Gorge weekly. The second handicap is to be held to-morrow night.

Don't try to collect bets made at your city office on the race track. When you do and get to fighting there, the race game is blamed for it.

The money for the seats at the Langford-Kaufman fight, which was knocked out by Governor Gillette, is being refunded to the holders of tickets today.

Johnson's camp leaves for Reno tonight. A special car will convey the champion, with his sparring partners and trainers, Hart, Furey, Cotton, Mills and Kaufman will be in the party.

The Knights of Columbus and the U. C. T. meet to-night at the Hill diamond in the city league.

AUSTRALIA AS MARKET FOR FISH

OPPORTUNITIES FOR EXTENSION OF TRADE

Canadian Commissioner at Melbourne Makes Special Report on the Subject

Continuing the publication of special reports from Canadian trade commissioners, the weekly bulletin of the department of trade and commerce presents a lengthy report from D. H. Ross, Melbourne, on the Australian market.

From a special return prepared in advance of publication, through the courtesy of the Commonwealth statisticians, the figures relating to the extent and value of the imports of fish into Australia for the year 1909 are herein made available and recapitulated.

Quantity	Value
United Kingdom	6,306,573
Canada	1,703,622
U. S. of America	4,704,252
Other countries	2,725,419
	15,440,066

Several small shipments of herrings from the Maritime Provinces have reached the Australian market at various times, but unfortunately have found little favor. As regards appearance, the Canadian herring is admittedly superior to those imported from Britain, Norway or Holland—being larger and firmer fish. On the other hand the small shipments from Canada have arrived in a more or less inferior condition. The curing was not done sufficiently well to enable the fish to stand the long ocean voyage of some 11,000 miles. Some shipments arrived quite "rusty," and necessitated entire re-packing on arrival, which, obviously, prejudiced the market against any Canadian herring. The other countries competing for this trade use very strong brine, and add a large portion of coarse salt in each cask, which appears to preserve the fish.

The most saleable package is a small stout cask—securely held together by four strong iron hoops—containing 22 dozen herrings. The contents vary from 20 to 22 dozen, and it is necessary for the exact contents of each cask to be marked outside. Barrels containing 60 to 70 dozen, such as Nova Scotia packers have sent to this market, are far too large for Australian requirements, and hence are not in demand.

Herrings imported from Great Britain, Norway, etc., always contain "the roe and milt," and the Australian public have become accustomed to such packing. Canadian herrings received here were without the roe, and consequently are unpopular, and practically unsaleable to dealers. There is a demand for several thousand casks of salt herring in Australia every year. The principal delivery is before the Lenten season, but the sales are made quite six months earlier.

It would be well for Canadian packers of salt herring to follow the lead of one of the most popular brands of herring imported into Australia from overseas. This line is packed by N. Saffling, Yarmouth, England, in small casks, well hooped, with an abundance of coarse salt distributed amongst the fish. The herring, from a Nova Scotian point of view, are small and (those submitted by an importer for inspection) by no means fat. Each fish contained the roe and the contents of the cask were 22 dozen of a uniform size and splendidly packed.

These British packers are represented by Australian agents who recently quoted, for quantities, 18s. (44.38) per cask duty paid and delivered into the Melbourne wholesaler's warehouse—less 2 1/2 per cent. discount in 30 days. The customs duty is 5s. ($1.21) per 112 lbs., and the two dozen weigh, approximately, 56 lbs. White salted herrings in tins containing one-half dozen, one dozen and two dozen in a tin, and sold by some British packers at 8s., 14s. and 24s. 6d. ($2.19, $3.40 and $5.96) per dozen tins, respectively, also meet with a fair sale.

Wholesale grocers in Melbourne state that about 20 years ago, a quantity of salt mackerel was sold in handy kits or tubs each containing about two dozen extra quality of salt mackerel was sold in handy kits or tubs each containing about two dozen extra quality of fish, well preserved in brine, of good quality at that time came from the United States, but for some reason the trade inclining trade. Importers suffered heavy losses, and to any Canadian packers, they are requested to forward full particulars to this office.

Some years ago there was considerable demand for salt salmon in barrels and half barrels, but this is now a declining trade. Importers suffered heavy losses by deterioration if the fish came forward too late for the season or were unsold at the end of the season. There is still a comparatively small import trade being done in this line, and were

With the exception of a few odd lots from European countries, the whole of the Australian importations of salted fish—including extracts and caviare—came from the United Kingdom. To a great extent these lines comprise high class and comparatively expensive delicacies. The total value of the imports in 1909 being $2,082.

The Australia importation of smoked or dried fish—not salted—is comparatively limited. The extent of the trade is some 710,000 lbs. of fish valued at $1,420,000.

The principal sources of supply are the United Kingdom, Norway and China. Unspecified fish of which there is no classification of the various species—is represented in the trade returns as 15,322 cwt. of the value of $26,656. In this schedule in order of importance the principal business is done by the United Kingdom, the United States, Belgium, Norway and Canada.

The bulk of the imports of fish into Australia is packed in tins or cans. The principal countries interested in this trade are the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, Norway and Portugal. Salmon in tins and herrings in tins—and in a variety of forms—are the best selling lines in Australia. The extent and value of the importations in 1909 are for general information, submitted herewith:

Quantity	Value
United Kingdom	6,306,573

U. S. of America	4,704,252
Other countries	2,725,419

An endeavor was made in Melbourne to create a demand for codfish packed in drums, each 100 lbs., but it was found this package was not required.

The Australian import trade in codfish is a most unattractive state owing to the difficulty in landing the fish in good condition. The losses experienced the last few months have been very excessive. One shipment in particular was unfortunate in arriving during a period of intensely hot weather, and a large quantity had to be destroyed. It has been the custom of packers to guarantee the quality of their goods on arrival at Melbourne and other Australian ports, so that—outside the disappointment and loss of prospective profit—local dealers have not suffered much financial loss. The bulk of the supplies that came to the Australian market—during the last few years—were packed and shipped at Seattle, U. S. A.

Now that there is a direct steamer service from eastern Canada to the principal ports in Australia, it should be worth while for some fish packers in the Maritime Provinces to endeavor to solve successfully the problem of landing and packing codfish, ensuring the keeping qualities of their product. The packer who solves the problem of how to keep the cod in good condition for eighteen months to two years will command the entire Australian trade. Some importers state that codfish should retain its quality, equal to that of the fish, in tin lined cases. Others of the contrary opinion, giving as a reason that boneless cod in paper packets would cause some dampness which would rust the tin lining. The position is that if it were possible to successfully pack codfish in tin lined cases at a reasonable cost, it would be the only way of creating a trade that would give satisfaction to buyers and sellers alike.

Packers in British Columbia enjoy the principal Australian trade in the best qualities of canned salmon—such as sockeye. In recent years there has been an improvement in the packing of Alaska red salmon, and as there is a difference of about 1s. 6d. ($1.09) per case in the landed cost of this quality in Australia against the higher cost of sockeye, the trade has expanded to such an extent as to have attracted the serious attention of Vancouver shippers. The principal packers in British Columbia have excellent representation in Australia.

The importation of canned lobsters into Australia is a limited trade which in high class goods is held by a Nova Scotian packer who has spent much time and money in placing his product on the market. The line is fairly well advertised, but on account of its cost, he holds about the only market for it. At times small consignments of lobsters come from South Africa, but this line is not favored by the trade.

There is a considerable quantity of canned oysters imported into Australia, the line most extensively sold is that of Thomas Kensett & Co. (U.S.A.) The cans hold about three quarters of a pound, and four dozen cans are packed in each case. Several hundred cases were recently sold in Melbourne at 3s. 4 1/2d. (82 cents) per dozen (c.l.f.e.) including exchange.

In the minor—though not unimportant—lines of canned fish imported into Australia are, those of every variety (as quoted by London and Aberdeen firms) true sardines from Europe and American sardines (presumably pilchards) in oil, smoked sardines from Norway, anchovies, prawns, shrimps and white bait—in smoked fish, herrings, haddock and salmon are favored.

The very low quotations of British exporters for canned fish of the varieties noted in this paragraph makes it doubtful if this trade would be sufficiently attractive for Canadian canners. Trade in herrings, etc., runs largely on brands that have been on the market for years and considerable energy would be required to place new brands with retailers.

Fresh, smoked or dried (but not salted), or preserved by cold process, per lb. 1d.

Potted or concentrated, including extracts of and caviare, ad val. 2s. per cent.

Preserved in tins or other air-tight vessels including the weight of liquid vessels, per lb. 1d.

Not elsewhere indicated, per cwt., 5s.

Oysters, fresh, in shell, per cwt., 2s.

In January, 1909, the fisheries investigation steam trawler Endeavor, built at Sydney to the order of the Commonwealth government, was launched and put into commission two months later. This vessel was built after specifications obtained from government of Norway, and is equipped with the most modern apparatus, cold storage, etc. Incidental to the exploration of the fishing grounds, considerable quantities of marketable fish have been caught by the Endeavor. The government has applied the application of modern methods and expert experience, has undertaken the scope of its fisheries investigation upon the following lines:

1. By various means of capture to ascertain what marketable food-fishes may be found in the ocean waters adjacent to Australia.

2. In what quantity may be taken.
3. To what extent they migrate, and where.
4. How they may conveniently and economically be captured.
5. By systematic survey to find out and chart suitable fishing grounds.

In a report recently issued by the Commonwealth Director of Fisheries, it is stated that "Australians have gradually become meat-eaters through living away from the coast and without rapid means of communication. Many of these people have subsequently settled in the larger cities where the population now adhere to the country practice of having meat three times a day, so that the want of fish has not increased in proportion to the population."

It is certainly true that through various causes the development of the Australian fisheries has been slow, and the value of imported fish considerably exceeds the earning of the local fisherman.

The reasons stated to explain this state of affairs are that the number of experienced fishermen is small, their gear limited and the restricted demand caused by the organized high prices brought about by middlemen and retailers.

One of the principal obstacles hitherto in the way of increasing exports of Canadian fish from Atlantic ports to Australia was that shipment had to be made via New York. This will to some extent be obviated by the new line of cargo steamers, which, however, may cause some coastal handling. Exporters of fish from the Maritime Provinces desire a more minute report upon their special lines in regard to Australian trade are assured of their inquiries being thoroughly investigated on making application to this office.

HITCH IN RUSSIA'S NAVAL PROGRAMME

Committee of Empire Council Refuses to Endorse Government's Appropriations

Reconstructing the Russian navy is proving difficult business. The maritime budget committee of the Council of Empire has refused to endorse any of the government's appropriations as a protest against the failure to uproot the old abuses in the navy department and to reorganize the service from top to bottom, says a London dispatch. The government announces that it proposes to apply 500,000,000 rubles ($375,000,000) to a shipbuilding programme. The Council of Empire's committee replies with some revelations regarding the building of the installation of Dreadnoughts now in hand at the navy yards near St. Petersburg.

Each of these battleships was to have cost 25,000,000 rubles and been ready for commission in four years from last spring—i.e. 16 months conceded that none will be ready before six years. This heavy extra cost and delay is due to the government insisting on building them in home yards at a time when they had not the plant for making the material nor technical labor for understanding how to convert the designs into ships.

The committee reports that the upkeep of the Russian navy in 1903, before the Japanese war, when there really was a war fleet, was 107,000,000 rubles, and 40 per cent. of that sum was assigned to building. This year, when there is no war fleet and the ships in commission are described as "old goldfishes," the appropriation is 95,000,000 rubles, and 15 per cent. of that is marked for constructional purposes. The navy department has not had the courage to reduce the personnel to a proportion approaching the half dozen ships of war now fit for service. The entire naval personnel in Japan amounts this year to 35,000 men, while Russia has still 44,000 men.

In Vladivostok the cost of the men on the navy pay-roll is this year 5,500,000 rubles. It includes a navy commandant with a large staff, and the entire sea-going strength of two cruisers.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

A group of us, of which a newspaper artist was one, were discussing things journalistic the other day and the conversation turned upon the work of several of his brother artists. With each one who was named he had some fault to find. The technique of the first was "rotten."

The faces that the second drew had no expression. The third had no sense of motion. The fourth was a fairly decent draughtsman, but didn't have a real snappy idea once a month. And so on.

Now, all these criticisms may have been absolutely fair and just. I am not enough of an artist to judge whether they were or not.

But even if they were absolutely merited, that could not prevent the instinctive feeling that swept over all of us that this man was jealous of the men he criticized.

Never run down the achievements of any one in the same line of work that you are.

It doesn't pay. If you must show your critical ability, show it in regard to some kind of work that you do not do, for otherwise, no matter how justifiable your criticisms may be, you will always run the risk of arousing in your hearers the antagonistic feeling, "He is jealous!"

The feeling may be entirely unjust and unfounded. I grant that. But unjust or not, it is a feeling that it pays to avoid rousing when it can be done so easily as by keeping one's mouth shut at the proper time.

A young teacher came to me the other day highly indignant. "Some of the folks from my home town," she announced, "asked me what I thought of Ruth as a teacher. I didn't like her methods at all, so I just said so, and explained where I thought she was wrong, and now I hear I am terribly jealous of Ruth's success. Now, isn't that unjust, when they asked me themselves?"

"Yes," I admitted, "unjust, but inevitable." "What else could I have said but what I thought, when they came and asked me?" indignantly.

"Isn't Ruth good in some things?" I asked. "Yes, but I TOLD them her good points," hotly.

"Well, couldn't you have been telling the whole truth," argumentatively. "Need one always tell everything one knows and thinks in order to be truthful?"

"No," thoughtfully. "I suppose not, but I WASN'T jealous. They asked me what I thought and I told them." "That's the way we all feel when we try to be honest critics of our fellow workers."

But that also is the way we are all apt to get judged. And I don't think it pays. If it ever becomes necessary to judge a brother workman's output for someone who desires to know its value with a view to purchase, one must, of course, speak of defects as well as merits.

But under any other conditions it seems to me it is far better from a purely utilitarian, as well as a moral, standpoint to speak what good one can and then lock one's lips.

RELIABLE RECIPES

A very attractive salad that is particularly tasty for summer has jelly as its basis. For the jelly there is wanted half a box of gelatine soaked for half an hour in two cups of cold water and then dissolved in two cups of boiling water. Add a cupful of finely shredded cabbage, two cups of celery cut fine, a quarter of a can of sweet red peppers cut in small dice, a teaspoonful of salt, the juice of a lemon and half a cupful of sugar. Turn into a mould and chill. The large mould may come to the table on a bed of green salad or the jelly may be diced and served in pepper or tomato shells. In any case it should be accompanied by mayonnaise. The jelly is sometimes set in individual moulds, which are lined with strips of sweet red pepper.

For strawberry sponge, soak half a box of gelatine in a cup and a half of water until when it is soft dissolve in the same quantity of hot water. Add a cupful of sugar and when the jelly is cool but before it begins to thicken stir in a pint of strawberries that have been washed and rubbed through a sieve. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and when the mixture is thoroughly blended turn into one large or several individual moulds and place on the ice. Serve with a custard made with the yolks of the egg or serve with cream.

For a delicious cherry pudding, sift together two cupfuls of flour, two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a quarter cupful of sugar and a salt-spoonful of salt. Stir in a third of a cupful of milk and a quarter of a cupful of melted butter. Add the beaten whites of three eggs and a little more milk if it is necessary to make a soft paste. At the last stir in a cupful of stoned cherries. Serve the pudding with a sauce made with a cupful of sugar, a level tablespoonful of cornstarch, a pint of cherry juice and a tablespoonful of butter. To give the sauce a rich color, add a trace of fruit red vegetable coloring paste. It should be just the color of the cherries.

For delicious ice cream, mash a quart of strawberries with two cupfuls of sugar, add the juice of half a lemon, and let the fruit stand for an hour. Then press the mixture through a coarse cheese cloth and mix it with a quart of cream. Freeze as usual. To give a strawberry color instead of the diluted tone that cream and strawberries always have, use a little coloring paste when the cream is half frozen. In using these coloring pastes, the least possible quantity is wanted.

POTLATCH AT QUAMICHAN

STRANGE DANCES OF THE COAST INDIANS

Most Are Religious in Their Character, But Natives Are Very Reticent

(Special Correspondence.)
Duncan, B. C., June 22.—The Indian festivities at the Quamichan village have finished and to-day the visiting Indians from Vancouver and the different parts of our own island are returning to their homes by canoes, wagons or train. The great givers of the potlatch were Leo Whinnam and Mrs. Binn, Indian Leo gives his share to the memory of his two children, who died some time ago, and Mrs. Binn gives her part in memory of her husband, who died a year ago. The moneys Binn owed are all paid and what was owing to him was gathered in during the potlatch, and Mrs. Binn and Indian Leo have both given many free-will offerings in memory of their dead. Blankets have been thrown among the crowd to be scrambled for by the men of lower rank and by the boys. These blankets are the ceremonial ones made of strands of the wool of the mountain goat or sheep, and the crowd scramble to get a hand on the blanket. Those who succeed have it cut in pieces and divided amongst them. At a potlatch they may get a great many pieces and as the wool is not very plentiful these are valued. They are taken home, and the Indian women re-weave them. These blankets are not used as coverings, except for honored guests and extreme cold, but only on ceremonial occasions, and are exchanged at a fixed value at any time. Interspersing the serious paying and giving of the potlatch are various dances, some of them of religious origin. Last week there were performed the death dance, or Swywo dance, the black dance, and other dances of the same name and origin which it was impossible to understand, and during one evening the ordinary religious service of the shakers was held. The death dance is performed by masked men. Each tribe sends its own dancing men, who dance to show their mourning and their respect for the dead. They are always men of repute, and their dance has been handed down from generation to generation since time beyond memory. They say that the original dance was taught by the spirits to the first created men before they came to earth and before they were formed as they now are, and they also say that the mask of the owl or deer or eagle that they now wear represents all the heads they had in the beginning. Their theory seems to be that man has evolved from some lower organism. Clad in buckskins trimmed with feathers and with the enormous bird or animal masks and in bare feet the dancers come into the arena from a sort of dressing room erected in the open. While their feet are keeping a gradually increasing time, followed by a slower time to be again increased, the audience seated in a circle on the ground beat the same time with sticks. The dancers continue until they are exhausted, and the giver of the potlatch shows his appreciation in gifts of blankets to the dancers. These are the Indian swowooth blanket made of mountain sheep wool, the standard value of which is $50. Two years ago at the Somenos potlatch the solemnity of the death dance was relieved by the impish figure representing as nearly as could be gathered the spirit of fun. This singular dark figure clad in skins teased the other dancers, to the amusement of the audience. This buffoon, in his dance that time had his place in the dance. At a potlatch that attains any dignity the dead will be called back from the spirit world for a day to share in the festivities. On Wednesday last at day-break the mediums between the living and the dead visited Indian Binn's burial place and called his spirit back. In the supposed presence of Binn's spirit and through her minister of ceremonies, Mrs. Binn gave her husband's last messages to his friends. His portrait was carried around the circle of his friends and each given a present of money in remembrance. Instead of the photograph or a figure in effigy which is used now-a-days, the people of older times took the body from the grave during this ceremony, but that custom is no longer permitted. After the ceremony was over the body was again returned to its resting place to be then forgotten, but the spirit after years came back to be re-incarnated in some descendant who would fittingly take the character of his an-

WINS FORTUNE IN A DERBY SWEEP

Officer of the Indian Army Receives $160,000 on Outlay of $3.25

A fortune of $160,000 was won on an outlay of less than a pound by one man who saw Lemberg win the Derby yesterday afternoon, says the London Express of June 2nd.

The lucky sportsman was Captain H. T. Raban, of the Indian Army, now in England on a year's leave, who drew the winner in the Calcutta Sweep. "No. 22,211" was the winning ticket purchased by Captain Raban, who is the stepson of the Rev. C. E. Chard, rector of Hatch-Beachamp, in Somerset.

Captain Raban, who is an assistant military accountant of the first class in the Indian Army Accounts Department, has been staying with his relatives in Somerset since his return to England on leave. He bought two other tickets for members of his family, in addition to that which has now brought him the great prize. The Calcutta sweep is the largest of its kind in the world, nearly half a million tickets being sold in all parts of India and the east, as well as in England.

When Captain Raban learned that he had drawn Lemberg he sold half his ticket for $5,000, retaining his right to the other half of the prize, which is worth nearly $50,000 as a whole.

The history of the Calcutta sweep has many romances. It was started by the Calcutta Turf Club as a comparatively small affair, but it has grown in popularity until now nearly every sportsman in the east and the colonies takes one or more tickets. The tickets, which cost ten rupees, or roughly $2.25 each, are keenly competed for, and syndicates buy up large numbers, and pool the result. Even to draw a starter in the race means a large cash prize, and the second and third horses draw amounts in proportion to the first prize.

One year the prize of $10,000 was won by the six-year-old daughter of a courtier named by an Indian raffle, and the family was instantly lifted into prosperity.

A windfall from the Derby sweep last year fell to a valet at a West End club, who sold half his ticket for $20,000 and retired on the proceeds.

HOUSE WITHOUT CHIMNEYS.

If Santa Claus is as enterprising as he is represented to be he is very busy just about now developing a method of filling stockings without climbing down chimneys, because the electric light companies, electrical engineers, manufacturers of electric specialties and other designing persons with electric eyes to grind are doing their honest best to abolish the familiar trees that have so long served the benevolent purposes of the good saint. The house without chimneys has already appeared and its attractions are so alluring that it is likely to be copied extensively. Where chimneys are there dust and grime and soot and ashes and smoke and coal gas and cold and draught and sour tempers and appalling bills are also. Any householder would be glad to get rid of these afflictions if he could retain the heat for the sake of which they are endured. That the heat and an almost endless list of other comforts and conveniences can be had without the chimney or any of its accompaniments in any home in which ordinary electric lighting current is available has been abundantly demonstrated. Indeed, the electrical experts have passed beyond the stage of showing that electric household appliances will work and are now busy making economy tests to establish their cheapness. A citizen of Schenectady, New York, without waiting for the importunities of designing salesmen, built a handsome residence in which there was no chimney, furnace, register, radiator, base burner, gas fixtures or cook stove. By making inquiries of the coal dealer, the contractor and the local electric light company and then doing a few simple sums in arithmetic he established the fact that electric heating, cooking and lighting appliances could be installed as cheaply as the usual steam heating outfit and coal or gas ranges with their necessary chimneys, and that the cost of operation would be as low, or at least that any small increase would be more than offset by enhanced comfort and convenience. When this model electric house was described to the New York Electric Society, the fact was developed that it was by no means the only one of its kind.

HOUSE WITHOUT CHIMNEYS.

Other houses at Schenectady and elsewhere have been heated successfully by electricity, though some of them having been built before the dawn of the electric era may have left over chimneys, steam radiators and other relics of a less advanced age. In fact, tireless inventors have made electricity in the household as handy ector, as he would also take his name and totem. A short time ago an Indian used this belief to strengthen the Indian claim to the lands. He was having his special mask made for his young son. On being asked how his ancestors had first received this mask he explained that at the beginning of the world the great spirit had given to each created Indian his mask of bird or beast and had put him on the land he was to hold. When his spirit came back to earth again he came in the same place and did not move about as the white people do. His idea was that after many early lives on the same piece of land it was rather hard to be deprived of it, and the idea of the mask being handed down and his idea that the spirit came back to carry on the honors and to claim the mask and totem to his name proved the fact and established the claim. This is another illustration from Col. Roosevelt's belief that "to consider the dozen equal savages who hunted at long intervals over a territory of a thousand square miles as owning it outright, necessarily implies a similar recognition of the claims of every wild hunter, squatter, harvester or wandering cattle-man." The Indian said that not all Indians believed this, but only those in the inner circle of knowledge. We roughly call the Indians pagans, but there are as many variations in their paganism as there is in our own Christianity. One evening last week a religious dance, the shaker dance, was performed. This is a religious ceremony, partaking of parts from various religions overlaid on entirely Indian customs. The dance and the chanting are peculiarly Indian. The great spirit is believed to come to the assembly and take possession, or as a revivalist would say, "take hold," of the dancer, and at the same time sing a peculiarly penetrating chant, which may be heard half a mile away. A certain amount of the Christian religion has been adopted, passages of the Scripture may be quoted, prayers to the great spirit are made. An Indian agent says that they sometimes pray for those in authority over them, particularly for the Indian agent if he is present. Candles are lighted on an altar similar to ritualistic forms of worship, and altogether this religion is an adaptation of all the religions they know to the Indian customs. The service is entirely Indian and is not sanctioned by the Catholic or the Protestant churches. It is indeed most difficult for any white person to obtain admission. Totally different from this in meaning, but still having some of the same features was the black dance, which was performed in one of the large houses last week. This dance is performed only when the Indians are alone or when strong compulsion is used by others to obtain admission. The dance as performed last week had many of the objectionable features eliminated, the men and women being separated in one of the corners of the house, as to the meaning of this dance, which is condemned by the Indian agents and the clergy. They were even more reserved in regard to another dance which also took place. Only the preparations for this were seen and no explanation could be had. A sort of drum about fifteen feet long made about 8 by 10 inches at the end, was covered with beryllium. On one side were drawn human faces and polyp-like objects. On the top were small holes a few inches apart, and these were filled with short wooden pegs, to which were attached strands of the wool of the mountain goat. Great secrecy was maintained both as regards this object and the dance to be performed around it. One who is well versed in Indian affairs but who was refused a clear explanation, says he thinks it represents the evolution of man from the low object similar to the polypoid to the perfect face.

HOUSE WITHOUT CHIMNEYS.

For the potlatch, with its ceremonies and orations is woven into the religion and life of the Indian and for us to understand his thoughts it would be necessary to live with the Indian, to think with him and after a lifetime one would still fall short of understanding him.

MEME REJANE AT REHEARSAL.

Mme. Rejane has her own way of conducting rehearsals, no doubt based on her teaching abilities. On one occasion she was endeavoring to impress upon a young actor the necessity of a tragic expression. "Put yourself in his place," she said. "But I have never been through such an experience," the other pleaded. "Well, then," retorted the actress, "imagine you have lost three or four hundred dollars at baccarat, and that you have been dismissed from the company." His face fell. "There you have it," she said. "Keep that expression and you will win." "For a young woman who could not weep to order she tried a heroic cure." "Very well. I will take the part away from you. You are not pretty enough." This had the desired effect, and the floodgates opened. "Weep like that and you will be the hit of the piece," exclaimed Rejane, triumphantly. —M. A. P.

FORT GEORGE

The Coming Metropolis of the Last Great West

Hundreds of settlers and homeseekers are pushing to Fort George and its vicinity. All transportation into Fort George is crowded to its limit. The congestion of freight at Soda Creek is so great that the transportation companies will not be able to handle any new shipments to Fort George until about the end of August. Do you know that in one day 75 wagon loads of freight left Ashcroft for Fort George, and the rush is increasing? Before another year is up there will be a population at Fort George of 2,000 people, and 5,000 before the railway gets there in 1912.

Our subdivision is within 1 1/2 miles of the steamboat landing where all freight and passengers are landed. Our lots are all 50x125 ft. each, and our price is only $150 each; 1 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months, 7 per cent.

AMUSING COMEDY AT VICTORIA LAST NIGHT

Miss Roberts Plays in Lighter Vein and Pleases Audience—New Play To-morrow

"The Marriage of Kitty," re-named "The Grass Widow," furnished a couple of hours fun at the Victoria last night. Miss May Roberts surprised those who had witnessed her previous performance in the emotional role of "Forget-Me-Not" with a clever characterization of Kitty, the country girl, who afterwards becomes Lady Parks. Her acting was delightfully humorous and was greatly appreciated by the big audience present.
Lillian St. John, as Madame de Sarnia, the Persian widow, was quite entertaining. Her "hysterics" were real enough for anybody and gave life to the piece. The other two characters were capably handled.
On the whole the comedy is a most amusing one as the company presents it. A noticeable improvement has been made in the scenery, the expansion of the one somewhat suggestive feature, which marred the original, "The Grass Widow" will be repeated to-night, and the engagement of Miss Roberts will end with two performances on Friday and Saturday evenings of "The Judge and the Girl," a character comedy especially written for Miss Roberts and in which she has made a great hit.

Fruit, confectionery and ice cream will also be kept, and in the new building which the firm moves into on July 1st there will be wide verandas, from which a fine view of the sea can be had, which will be fitted up for sitting out. There will be light to add to the enjoyment. The firm will also conduct a parcel delivery, and in other ways serve the wants of residents the year round. E. B. L. Rogerson and C. Carter are the members of the firm.

The funeral of Bernice Randolph, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Heisterman, whose death occurred yesterday morning at the Royal Jubilee hospital, after a lingering illness, took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence, 834 Pemberton road. Dean Deull conducted the services both at the house and the graveside. There was a number of sympathizing friends present and many floral offerings covered the casket.

What Other People Think

RIGHTS OF PEDESTRIANS.

To the Editor: Again I thank you for maintaining the right of pedestrians to a chance for their lives in the use of the streets from law-breaking automobile drivers, who, I see, have resolved to interview the police-commissioners and protest against police interference with their law-breaking proclivities. I send you a clipping from a Seattle paper. The case referred to is the killing of my little niece and the one as to which the legal editor of the Colonist justified the automobile by saying: "Automobiles have rights upon the streets"; "it may be said that a child has a right to cross the street to meet its father, but it has not."

Let us take care that automobiles gain no such rights in our streets and let us be thankful that we live in a country where judges are appointed, not elected, and where politicians have not "the pull" with judges and courts.
C. T. DUPONT.
Stadacona, June 23, 1910.

"DOPE."

To the Editor:—Apparently apropos of nothing I was suddenly asked yesterday by a lady who had alighted from a train car to tell her the exact meaning of "dope." I requested her reason for subjecting me to such a severe mental strain. She told me she had been sitting behind two men who were going on to the races and overheard one of them saying with out any disguise that a certain horse would "not come in as he had doped her pretty well"; and, speaking of another horse, he said he had "doped him" also. I checked her by a minute description of this species of the genus ruffian, with a constant downward tendency, even to be a ghoul if the necessity arose.
How is this little incident, which the lady unconsciously brings to light, for undisciplined ruffianism?
It speaks volumes in itself, and season after season Victoria is swarming with tripper-gentry of that description, that clean sportsmen would not think of associating with, or, to use the old-fashioned expression, "would not touch with a forty-foot pole."
"CLEAN SPORT."

CHIEF COOPER COMPLAINS AND EXPLAINS.
To the Editor:—On my return from Cowichan, where I have been visiting for

ISLAND ARTICLES.

Secretary McGaffey of Development League Writes Further Descriptive Matter in Periodicals.
Several special articles from the pen of Ernest McGaffey, secretary of the Vancouver Island Development League, dealing with Vancouver Island, are being published by various periodicals. Since taking the position Mr. McGaffey has written a large number of fine descriptive articles which have been published in magazines throughout the continent and have done much to popularize Vancouver Island with people living far away.

Among the later of these mentioned a beautifully illustrated description of salmon fishing in Island waters, which appears in the current

SPORT FOR THE BOYS.

The careful regulation of physical exercise to the capacity of individual pupils is urged by the council of the British Medical Association.

An instructive article in the council's official organ states that in paper-chases and school house runs, so far as they entail competition, and therefore, to some extent, the strain of racing, boys should be selected and grouped for a specified distance in accordance with their physical capacity. The plan of running all boys, young, elder, strong and less vigorous—together over the same distance is not to be recommended. Special measures must be taken to ensure that the smaller and weaker boys are not called upon for excessive or too prolonged exertion.

Medical examination and skilled supervision are also needed in rowing, boxing and swimming. Competitions in long-distance swimming and in long-distance diving are dangerous for the young.

There should be an ample interval—one hour at least—between the end of a substantial meal and the beginning of strenuous exercise. The neglect of this rule is responsible for much of the evil attributed to over-exertion. The nature, quality and quantity of food and hours of meals require careful consideration and adjustment.

Special caution is required in permitting a resumption of active exercise to convalescents—particularly after diphtheria, influenza, rheumatism and measles, and during a period of rapid growth. It is recommended that each boy should be subjected to a thorough medical examination by the school medical authority when he first enters the school.
