Morris, Robert, a Delegate and a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Liverpool, England, January 20, 1734; came to Oxford, Md., in 1747; attended the public schools; became a merchant in Philadelphia in 1748; signed the nonimportation agreement of 1765; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1776–1778; signer of the Declaration of Independence; located upon the Manheim estate; representative in the state assembly 1778–1779, and 1780; superintendent of finance 1781–1784; established the Bank of North America; member of Pennsylvania legislature in 1785–1787; Delegate in the Constitutional Convention of 1787; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1789, to March 3, 1795; declined position of Secretary of the Treasury under President Washington; became financially involved by unsuccessful land speculations, which caused him to be imprisoned for debt from February 16, 1798, to August 26, 1801; died in Philadelphia, Pa., May 8, 1806.

Morris, Samuel Wells, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., September 1, 1786; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Wellsboro, Tioga county, Pa.; judge of the district court; first treasurer of Wellsboro county; postmaster for many years; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1841); died in Wellsboro, Pa., May 25, 1847.

Morris, Thomas, a Senator from Ohio; born in Berks county, Pa., January 3, 1776; attended the public schools; enlisted as a ranger and fought against the Indians in 1792; moved to Columbia, Ohio (now a part of Cincinnati), in 1795, and clerked in a store; moved to Williamsburg, Ohio, in 1800; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Bethel, Ohio, 1804; member of the state house of representatives from Clermont county 1806–1807; from Clermont and Champaign counties 1808–1809; from Clermont 1810–1812, and 1820–1821; state senator 1813–1815, 1821–1823, 1825–1829, and 1831–1833; judge of the state supreme court 1815–1820; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1833, to March 3, 1839; nominated for Vice President of the United States on the Liberty ticket with J. G. Birney in 1843; died in Bethel, Ohio, December 7, 1844.

Morris, Thomas, a Representative from New York; born in Philadelphia, Pa., February 26, 1771; attended school in Geneva, Switzerland, 1781–1786, and the University of Leipsic 1786–1788; returned to Philadelphia; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Canandaigua, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives 1794–1796; elected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801–March 3, 1803); resumed the practice of law in New York City in 1803; elected United States marshal for the eastern district of New York, and served for many years; died in New York City, March 12, 1849.

Morrison, George Washington, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Fairlee, Vt., October 16, 1809; attended the public schools; moved to Manchester, N. H.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Manchester in 1836; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Wilson, and served from March 3, 1851, to March 3, 1853; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Thirty-second Congress; elected to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election to the Thirty-fourth Congress; died in Manchester, N. H., December 21, 1888.

Morrison, James Lowery Donaldson, a Representative from Illinois; born in Kaskaskia, Ill., April 12, 1816; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Belleville, Ill.; served in the Mexican war as lieutenant colonel of Bissell's regiment of Illinois volunteers July 1, 1846, to July 1, 1847; member of the senate of Illinois in 1854; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Lyman Trumbull, before the beginning of the Congress, and served from December 1, 1856, to March 3, 1857; died in St. Louis, Mo., August 14, 1888.

Morrison, John Alexander, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Colerain, Lancaster county, Pa., January 31, 1814; attended the public schools, and studied medicine; located in Cochranville, Pa., and practiced his profession; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); died in Cochranville, Pa., July 27, 1904.

Morrison, Martin Andrew, a Representative from Indiana; born in Frankfort, Ind., April 15, 1862; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Butler university in June, 1883, and from the University of Virginia; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Frankfort; county attorney; member of the school board of the city of Frankfort; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Morrison, William Ralls, a Representative from Illinois; born in Monroe county, Ill., September 14, 1825; attended common schools and McKendree college, Illinois; served in the war with Mexico; went to California with the gold seekers in 1849, but returned to Illinois in 1851; studied law and was admitted to the bar; clerk of the circuit court of Monroe county, Ill., 1852–1854; member of the Illinois house of representatives 1854–1860, and again 1871–1872, and served as speaker 1859–1860; organized and was colonel of the forty-ninth Illinois infantry in the Civil war; was severely wounded in the siege of Fort Donelson; while in command of his regiment in the field was elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); re-elected to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1887); delegate in the Union national convention in Philadelphia in 1866, and in the Democratic national conventions of 1856, 1868, 1884, and 1888; appointed by President Cleveland a member of the Interstate commerce commission; reappointed by President Harrison in July, 1892; chairman of the commission from September, 1891, to December 31, 1897; resumed the practice of law in Waterloo, Ill.

Morrissey, John, a Representative from New York; born in county Tipperary, Ireland, February 12, 1831; came to the United States in 1833, and located in South Troy, N. Y.; attended the public schools; moved to New York City in 1848; went to California in 1851; returned to New York; proprietor of gambling houses in New York and Saratoga; purchased the controlling interest in the Saratoga race course in 1863; elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1871); elected to the state senate in 1875 and 1877; died in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 1, 1878.

Morrow, Jeremiah, a Representative and a Senator from Ohio; born near Gettysburg, Pa., October 6, 1771; attended the public schools; moved to the Northwest Territory (now the state of Ohio) in 1795; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1802; member of the territorial house of representatives 1801–1802; member of the state senate in 1803; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1813); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1813, to March 3, 1819; presidential elector on the Monroe ticket in 1821; governor of Ohio 1823–1826; again a state senator 1827–1828; state representative 1829–1830, and 1835–1836; state canal commissioner; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas Corwin; reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress, and served from December 7, 1840, to March 3, 1843; died in Twenty-mile Stand, Warren county, Ohio, March 22, 1852.

Morrow, John, a Representative from Virginia; elected to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1809).

Morrow, William W., a Representative from California; born near Milton, Wayne county, Ind., July 15, 1843; moved with his parents to Adams county, Ill., in 1845; went to California in 1859; attended the common schools; appointed special agent of the Treasury Department in January, 1865, and placed in charge of a large shipment of treasure to California; employed during the next four years in confidential positions under the Secretary of the Treasury; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1869; assistant United States attorney for California 1870–1874; chairman of the Republican state central committee of California 1879–1882; attorney for the state board of harbor commissioners 1880–1883; delegate in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1891); United States circuit judge ninth judicial circuit of California, and a resident of San Francisco, Cal.

Morse, Elijah Adams, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in South Bend, Ind., May 25, 1841; moved with his parents to Massachusetts in 1852; attended the public schools, the Boylston school in Boston, and Onondaga academy, New York; enlisted in the Union army in the fourth Massachusetts regiment in the Civil war; served three months under General Butler in Virginia and one year under General Banks in Louisiana; taken prisoner at the capture of Brashear City, La.; promoted to corporal; manufacturer of stove polish in Canton, Mass.; member of the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1876; elected to the state senate in 1886 and 1887; member of the governor's council in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1897); died in Canton, Mass., June 5, 1898.

Morse, Elmer Addison, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Franksville, Racine county, Wis., May 11, 1870; attended the common schools of Racine county; was graduated from Ripon college in 1893; elected county superintendent of schools of Racine county and reelected in 1895; attended the law school of the University of Wisconsin, and was admitted to the bar in 1900; served as city attorney of Antigo for three terms; elected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Morse, Freeman H., a Representative from Maine; born in Bath, Me., February 18, 1807; attended the public schools; member of state house of representatives 1840–1844; mayor of Bath, Me.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); again member of the state house of representatives 1833–1856; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); member of peace congress in 1861; appointed by President Lincoln consul at London.

Morse, Isaac Edwards, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Attakapas, La., May 22, 1809; attended the Norwich (Vt.) military academy, and was graduated from Harvard college in 1829; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in New Orleans, La., and in St. Martinsville, La., 1835–1842; member of the state senate; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Peter E. Bossier; reelected to the Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses, and served from December 2, 1844, to March 3, 1851; unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-second Congress; attorney general of Louisiana in 1851; appointed by President Pierce minister to New Granada, to demand indemnity for the murder of American citizens crossing the Isthmus of Panama; died in New Orleans, La., February 11, 1866.

Morse, Leopold, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Wachenheim, Rhenish Palatinate, Bavaria, August 15, 1831; attended the common schools in Wachenheim; came to the United States in early life and settled in Boston, Mass.; merchant; twice elected a delegate to Democratic national conventions; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1885); reelected to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889); died in Boston, Mass., December 15, 1892.

Morse, Oliver Andrew, a Representative from New York; born in Cherry Valley, Otsego county, N. Y., March 26, 1815; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Hamilton college, New York, in 1833; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Cherry Valley, New York; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); died in New York City, April 20, 1870; interment in Cherry Valley, Otsego county, N. Y.

Morton, Jackson, a Senator from Florida; born near Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania county, Va.,

August 10, 1799; attended the public schools, and was graduated from William and Mary college in 1815; moved to Pensacola, Fla.; engaged in lumber business; delegate to the constitutional convention of Florida in 1838; presidential elector on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket in 1848; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1849, to March 3, 1855; deputy to the provisional congress of the southern states in Montgomery, Ala., in February, 1861; member of Confederate congress 1862–1865; died in "Lessland," Orange county, Va., November 28, 1878.

Morton, Jeremiah, a Representative from Virginia; born in Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania county, Va.; attended William and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va., studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Raccoon Ford, Va.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-second Congress; died in Lessland, Orange county, Va., November 28, 1878.

Morton, John, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Morris Ferry, Delaware county, Pa., in 1724; attended the public schools; for many years a land surveyor; member of the colonial general assembly 1764–1775, and served the last four years as speaker; high sheriff 1766–1770; judge of supreme court of the province; Delegate in Continental Congress 1774–1777; gave the casting vote of the Pennsylvania delegation on the adoption of the Declaration of Independence; signer of the Declaration; died in Ridley Park, Delaware county, Pa., in April, 1777.

Morton, Levi Parsons, a Representative from New York; born in Shoreham, Vt., May 16, 1824; attended the public schools and Shoreham academy; clerk in a general store in Enfield, Mass., 1838–1840; taught school in Boscawen, N. H., 1840–1841; commenced mercantile business in Hanover, N. H., in 1845; moved to Boston in 1850, and entered the dry goods business in New York City in 1854; engaged in the banking business in 1863 in New York City; appointed by the President honorary commissioner to the Paris Exhibition of 1878; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); Vice President of the United States March 4, 1889 to March 3, 1893; governor of New York 1895–1897; an investor in realty and a writer; resident of Washington, D. C.

Morton, Marcus, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Freetown, Mass., December 19, 1784; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Brown university in 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Taunton, Mass.; clerk of the Massachusetts senate in 1811; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821); executive councilor in 1823; elected lieutenant governor in 1823; judge of the supreme court 1825–1840; governor of Massachusetts 1840–1841 and 1843–1844; appointed by President Polk collector of customs in Boston, and served from 1845 to 1849; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1853; member of the state house of representatives in 1858; died in Taunton, Mass., February 6, 1864.

Morton, Oliver Perry, a Senator from Indiana; born in Salisbury, Wayne county, Ind., August 4, 1823; apprenticed to a hatter and worked at the trade four years; was graduated from Miami university in 1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1847, and commenced practice in Centerville, Ind.; elected circuit judge in 1852; unsuccessful as the Republican nominee for governor in 1856; elected lieutenant governor in 1860, and upon the election of Governor Henry S. Lane to the United States Senate became governor of Indiana; elected governor in 1864; elected as a Union Republican to the United States Senate; reelected, and served from March 4, 1867, until his death, in Indianapolis, Ind., November 1, 1877.

Moseley, Jonathan Ogden, a Representative from Connecticut; born in East Haddam, Conn., in 1762; was graduated from Yale college in 1780; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in East Haddam, Conn.; state's attorney for Middlesex county 1797-1805; elected as a Federalist to the Ninth, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1821); colonel of the state militia and justice of the peace of East Haddam, Conn., for several years; moved to Saginaw, Mich., where he died September 9, 1839.

Moseley, William Abbott, a Representative from New York; born in Whitesboro, Oneida county, N. Y., October 20, 1798; was graduated from Yale college in 1816; studied medicine and practiced; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Buffalo, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives in 1835; member of the state senate 1838-1841; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); died in New York November 19, 1873.

Moses, Charles Leavell, a Representative from Georgia; born in Coweta county, Ga., May 2, 1856; attended the country schools, and was graduated from Mercer university in 1876; became a farmer and teacher; for several years principal of the Newnan academy for boys; after 1886 devoted his time exclusively to agricultural interests; member of the farmers' alliance; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1897).

Mosgrove, James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Kittanning, Pa., July 14, 1821; attended the common schools; engaged in the iron business; president of the First national bank in Kittanning, Pa.; elected as the Democrat and Greenback candidate to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883).

Moss, McKenzie, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Christian county, Ky., January 3, 1868; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1893, and commenced practice in Bowling Green, Ky.; successfully contested as a Republican the election of John S. Rhea to the Fifty-seventh Congress, and served from March 25, 1902, to March 3, 1903; elected judge of eighth judicial district of Kentucky, and a resident of Bowling Green, Ky.

Moss, Ralph W., a Representative from Indiana born in Center Point, Clay county, Ind., April 21, 1862; attended common schools, Purdue university for two years; engaged in farming; member of the Indiana state senate 1905-1909; elected to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Mott, Gordon N., a Delegate from Nevada Territory; born in Zanesville, Ohio, October 21, 1812; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Zanesville in 1836; moved to Texas during its struggle for independence and served nine months as a volunteer; returned to Ohio and resumed the practice of law; moved to California in 1849; elected judge of Sutter county in 1850; appointed district judge in 1851; appointed justice of the supreme court of Nevada; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Thirty-eighth Congress, and served from January 11, 1864, to March 3, 1865.

Mott, James, a Representative from New Jersey; born in that state; elected to the Seventh and Eighth Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1805); for many years treasurer of the state of New Jersey; died near Shrewsbury, N. J., December 10, 1813.

Mott, Richard T., a Representative from Ohio; born in Mamaroneck, N. Y., July 21, 1804; attended the Quaker seminary in Dutchess county, N. Y.; engaged in mercantile pursuits; moved to Toledo, Ohio, in 1858, and engaged in real estate and many business enterprises; mayor of Toledo 1845-1846; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); served as chairman of the citizens' military committee during the Civil war; died in Toledo, Ohio, January 22, 1888.

Motte, Isaac, a Delegate from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., December 8, 1738; served in Canada in the French and Indian war in 1756; served in the Revolutionary war; was active in defending Fort Moultrie and was promoted colonel September 16, 1776; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1780-1782; member of the state convention that ratified the Federal Constitution; died in Charleston, S. C., May 8, 1795.

Moulton, Mace, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Concord, N. H., May 2, 1796; attended the public schools; sheriff of Hillsboro county in 1845; state councilor 1848-1849; elected to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); died in Manchester, N. H., May 5, 1867.

Moulton, Samuel Wheeler, a Representative from Illinois; born in Wenham, Mass., January 20, 1821; attended the public schools; moved to the South, where he remained some years, and then located in Illinois in 1845; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Shelbyville, Ill.; member of the state house of representatives 1852-1859; presidential elector on the Buchanan ticket in 1857; president of the board of education of the state of Illinois 1859-1876; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); reelected to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); died in Shelbyville, Ill., June 3, 1905.

Mouser, Grant Earl, a Representative from Ohio; born in Larue, Marion county, Ohio, September 11, 1868; attended the Larue union schools, and Ada university; was graduated from the Cincinnati law school in June, 1890, and was admitted to the bar; elected prosecuting attorney in 1893; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1909); resumed the practice of law in Marion, Ohio.

Mouton, Alexander, a Senator from Louisiana; born in Attakapas parish, La., November 19, 1804; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Georgetown college, District of Columbia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice in Lafayette parish, La.; member of the state house of representatives 1827-1832, and served as speaker during the sessions of 1831 and 1832; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Twenty-second Congress; reelected to the state house of representatives in 1836; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alexander Porter, and served from January 12, 1837, until his resignation, March 1, 1842; governor of Louisiana 1842-1846; president of the Southwestern railroad convention which met in New Orleans in January, 1852; president of the vigilance committee of Lafayette parish in 1858; delegate to the national convention at Charleston, S. C.; president of the state convention which voted Louisiana out of the Union January 23, 1861; died near Vermillionville, La., February 12, 1885.

Mowry, Daniel, jr., a Delegate from Rhode Island; born in Smithfield, R. I., August 29, 1729; received a limited schooling, and learned the cooper's trade; member of the general assembly in 1766-1776; judge of the court of common pleas 1776-1781; took an active part in pre-Revolutionary movements; Delegate in the Continental Congress in 1780-1782; clerk of Smithfield for twenty years; died in Smithfield, R. I., July 6, 1806.

Moxley, William J., a Representative from Illinois; born in county Cork, Ireland, in 1851; came with parents to the United States and located in Chicago; engaged in manufacturing and banking; member of the Republican state central committee four years, and member of the executive board of the Cook county central committee two years; colonel on Gov. Yates's staff four years; twice a presidential elector and once an electoral messenger; was elected November 23, 1909, to the Sixty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William Lorimer, and served from December 10, 1909, to March 3, 1911; resumed business activities in Chicago.

Mozley, Norman Adolphus, a Representative from Missouri; born in Johnson county, Ill., December 11, 1865; attended the common schools; taught school; went to Missouri in 1887; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1891, and practiced in Bloomfield, Mo.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); resumed the practice of law in Bloomfield, Mo.

Mudd, Sydney Emanuel, a Representative from Maryland; born in Charles county, Md., February 12, 1858; attended Georgetown college, District of Columbia, and was graduated from St. John's college, Annapolis, Md., in 1878; read law privately and attended the law department of the University of Virginia; was admitted to the bar in 1880, and practiced; elected to the state house of delegates in 1879, and 1881; elector on the Garfield and Arthur ticket in 1880; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); elected to the state house of delegates in 1895, and served as speaker; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1896; elected to the Fifty-fifth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1911); died in Philadelphia, Pa., October 21, 1911.

Mueller, Nicholas, a Representative from New York; born in the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg

November 15, 1836; attended the common schools in the city of Metz and afterwards the Luxemburg Athenæum; came to the United States and located in New York City; engaged as a railroad ticket agent for over twenty years; one of the promoters and original directors of the Germania bank, New York; member of the state assembly 1875-1876; member of the state central committee in 1875; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); reelected to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); again elected to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1899, until his resignation, December 1, 1902; a resident of New Brighton, Richmond borough, New York City.

Muhlenberg, Francis Samuel, a Representative from Ohio; born in Philadelphia, Pa., April 22, 1795; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice; private secretary to Governor Heister 1820-1823; moved to Pickaway county, Ohio; member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Twentieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William Creighton, jr., and served from December 19, 1828, to March 3, 1829; died in Pickaway county, Ohio, in 1832.

Muhlenberg, Frederick Augustus Conrad, a Delegate and a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in La Trappe, Pa., January 1, 1750; pursued an academic course; studied theology, and ordained in Germany as a minister of the Lutheran church October 25, 1770; preached in Trappe, Pa., 1780-1783, and New York City 1773-1776; when the British entered New York he felt obliged to leave, and returned to Trappe, Pa., and then to New Hanover, Pa., and was pastor of Lutheran congregations there and in Obly and New Goshenhoppen until August, 1779; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1779-1780; member of the state house of representatives 1780-1783; delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1790; president of the state convention called to ratify the Federal Constitution; elected to the First, Second, Third, and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1797); was Speaker during the First and Third Congresses; president of the council of censors of Pennsylvania; state treasurer; register of the Pennsylvania land office 1797-1801; died in Lancaster, Pa., June 4, 1801.

Muhlenberg, Henry Augustus, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Lancaster, Pa., May 13, 1782; pursued classical studies; studied theology, and ordained to the Lutheran ministry in 1802; pastor of Trinity church in Reading, Pa., 1802-1828; resigned on account of ill health; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, and Twenty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1829, until his resignation February 9, 1838; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1835, and 1838; offered by President Van Buren the positions of Secretary of the Navy and minister to Russia, both of which he declined; minister to Austria February 8, 1838, to September 18, 1840; nominated as the Democratic candidate for governor in 1844, but died before the election in Reading, Pa., August 12, 1844.

Muhlenberg, Henry Augustus Philip, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Reading, Pa., July, 1823; pursued classical studies; was graduated from Dickinson college; studied law, was admitted to the bar in July, 1844, and commenced practice in Reading, Pa.; member of the state senate three years; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1853, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 9, 1854.

Muhlenberg, John Peter Gabriel, a Representative and a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in La Trappe, Pa., October 1, 1746; pursued classical studies; attended the University of Pennsylvania 1760-1763; studied in the University of Halle, Germany, irregularly 1763-1766, and served in a German regiment of dragoons; returned to Philadelphia, Pa., and studied theology; was pastor of Lutheran churches in New Germantown and Bedminster, N. J.; removed to Woodstock, Va., and was ordained a priest in the Episcopal church April 21, 1772, by the Bishop of London; member of the Virginia house of burgesses in 1774; prominent in pre-Revolutionary movements; entered the Revolutionary army as colonel of the eighth Virginia (German) regiment; brigadier general of the Continental army February 21, 1777, and served to the close of the war; brevet major general September 30, 1783; returned to Pennsylvania; elected vice president of the supreme executive council of Pennsylvania in 1785; presidential elector in 1797; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); reelected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795), and again elected to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801); elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1801, until his resignation later in the month; appointed by President Jefferson supervisor of revenue for Pennsylvania January 6, 1801, and collector of customs at Philadelphia January 11, 1803; died near Philadelphia, Pa., October 1, 1807.

Muldrow, Henry Lowndes, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Lowndes county, Miss.; was graduated from the literary department of the University of Mississippi in 1856, and from the law department in 1858; was admitted to the bar in 1859, and began practice in Starkville, Miss.; entered the Confederate army in 1861 and held various positions until he attained the rank of colonel of cavalry; district attorney for the sixth judicial district of Mississippi 1869-1871; elected to the state legislature in 1875; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1885); First Assistant Secretary of the Interior during the first administration of President Cleveland; resigned in 1889, to resume the practice of law in Starkville, Miss.; delegate in the Mississippi constitutional convention of 1890; appointed chancellor of the first district of Mississippi in September, 1899; died in Starkville, Oktibbeha county, Miss., March 3, 1905.

Mulkey, Fred William, a Senator from Oregon; born in Portland, Oreg., January 6, 1874; was graduated from the University of Oregon in 1896, and from the New York law school of New York City in 1899; was admitted to the bar; member of the Portland city council 1900-1902, and its president in 1901; chairman of the Oregon state tax commission; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John H. Mitchell, and served from January 23, 1907, until March 3, 1907; resumed the practice of law in Portland, Oreg.

Mullin, Joseph, a Representative from New York; born in Ireland; emigrated to the United States when quite young and located in Watertown, N. Y.; attended the public schools; held several local offices; elected to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849).

Mullins, James, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Bedford county, Tenn., September 15, 1807; completed preparatory studies; apprentice to the millwright's trade; colonel of the state militia in 1831; sheriff of Bedford county 1840-1846; compelled to flee from his home on account of his loyalty to the Union in 1862; served in the Union army 1862-1864; served as speaker of the state house of representatives in 1865; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); died in Shelbyville, Tenn., June 26, 1873.

Mumford, George, a Representative from North Carolina; native of Rowan county, N. C.; attended the common schools; member of the house of commons of North Carolina 1810-1811; elected to the Fifteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1817, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 31, 1818.

Mumford, Gurdon Saltonstall, a Representative from New York; native of that state; attended the common schools; elected to the Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1811); presidential elector in 1812.

Mungen, William, a Representative from Ohio; born in Baltimore, Md., May 12, 1821; moved with his parents to Ohio in 1830; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; editor and publisher of the Findlay Democratic Courier; served two terms as auditor of Hancock county, Ohio; member of the state senate in 1851; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1856; entered the Union army in 1861 as colonel of the fifty-seventh Ohio volunteers; elected to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); died in Findlay, Ohio, September 9, 1887.

Monroe, James, a Representative from New York; born in Albemarle county, Va., September 10, 1799; was graduated from West Point in 1815; served in the war with Algiers, 1815; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twenty-seventh Congress; member of the state senate 1852-1855; moved to Orange Mountain, N. J., where he died September 7, 1870.

Murch, Thompson Henry, a Representative from Maine; born in Hampden, Penobscot county, Me., March 29, 1838; attended the common schools; passed his early life at sea; learned the stonemason's trade and followed it eighteen years; became editor and publisher of the Granite Cutters' International Journal in 1877; elected as a Greenback Labor Reformer to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); died in Danvers, Mass., December 15, 1886.

Murdock, Victor, a Representative from Kansas; born in Burlingame, Kans., March 18, 1871; moved to Wichita in 1872; attended the common schools and Lewis academy, Wichita; moved to Chicago in 1891 and served as a newspaper reporter; managing editor of the Wichita Daily Eagle; clerk of the central division, southern department, Kansas appellate court. 1895-1897; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Chester I. Long; reelected to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses and served from November 9, 1905, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Murfree, William Hardee, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Hertford county, N. C., October 2, 1781; was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1801; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Edenton, N. C.; member of the house of commons of North Carolina in 1805, and 1812; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1817); moved to Nashville, Tenn., where he died in 1828.

Murphy, Arthur Phillips, a Representative from Missouri; born in Hancock, Pulaski county, Mo., December 10, 1870; attended the public schools of Pulaski county and the school of mines and metallurgy at Rolla, Phelps county, Mo.; studied law and was admitted to the bar March 4, 1894, and engaged in practice; unsuccessful candidate for election as prosecuting attorney of Pulaski county in 1898; attorney for the Creek Nation of Indians; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1907); reelected to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911); candidate for governor of Missouri; a resident of Rolla, Mo.

Murphy, Charles, a Representative from Georgia; native of South Carolina; moved to Decatur, Ga., in 1825; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; member of the Georgia legislature for several terms; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); died in Decatur, Ga., January 16, 1861.

Murphy, Edward, jr., a Senator from New York; born in Troy, N. Y., December 15, 1836; was graduated from St. John's college, Fordham, N. Y., in 1857; city alderman 1864–1866; elected mayor of Troy in 1875, and reelected in 1877, 1879, and 1881; chairman of the Democratic state committee of New York in 1887, and reelected four times; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1893, to March 3, 1899; president of the Troy gas company and vice-president of the Manufacturers' National bank of Troy; delegate in the Democratic national conventions of 1880, 1884, 1888, 1892, and 1896; died in Elberon, N. J., August 3, 1911.

Murphy, Everett J., a Representative from Illinois; born in Nashville, Ill., July 24, 1852; moved with his parents to Sparta, Ill.; attended the high school; elected city clerk of Sparta in 1877, but resigned in 1878, and moved to Chester, to accept the appointment of deputy circuit clerk; sheriff of Randolph county; elected to the general assembly of Illinois in 1886; appointed warden of the Southern Illinois penitentiary in 1889; moved to East St. Louis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); appointed warden of the state penitentiary in Joliet, Ill., July 1, 1899.

Murphy, Henry Cruse, a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., July 5, 1810; was graduated from Columbia college in 1830; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1833, and commenced practice in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1833; prosecuting attorney for Kings county; mayor of Brooklyn, N. Y., 1842–1843; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1846; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); unsuccessful candidate for election to the Twenty-ninth Congress; reelected to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849); minister to the Netherlands 1857–1861; member of the state senate 1861–1873; delegate to the state constitutional convention 1867–1868; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., December 1, 1882.

Murphy, James William, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Platteville, Wis., April 17, 1858; was graduated from the state normal school in Platteville in 1873; taught school for five years; was graduated from the law department of the university of Michigan in 1880, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Platteville, Wis.; served four years as district attorney of Grant county; mayor of Platteville 1904, and 1906; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1909); resumed the practice of law in Platteville, Wis.

Murphy, Jeremiah Henry, a Representative from Iowa; born in Lowell, Mass., February 19, 1835; attended the schools of Boston and the state university of Iowa; read law, was admitted to the bar in April, 1858, and practiced; elected mayor of Davenport in 1873; elected to the state senate of Iowa in 1874, and served four years; again elected mayor in 1879, and held the office one year; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); died in Washington, D. C., December 11, 1893.

Murphy, John, a Representative from Alabama; born in Columbia, Robeson county, S. C., in 1786; was graduated from South Carolina college in 1808; served as clerk of the state senate 1810–1817; moved to Alabama in 1818; member of the state constitutional convention of 1819; studied law and was admitted to the bar; member of the state senate in 1822; governor of Alabama 1825–1829; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); died in Clarke county, Ala., September 21, 1841.

Murphy, Nathan Oakes, a Delegate from Arizona Territory; born in Jefferson, Me., October 14, 1849; attended the public schools; taught school in Wisconsin; settled in Prescott, Ariz., in April, 1883; secretary of Arizona Territory in 1889; governor of the territory 1892–1894; delegate in the Republican national convention in Minneapolis June 7, 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); again appointed governor of Arizona Territory, and served 1898–1902; died in Coronado, San Diego county, Cal., August 22, 1908; interment in Arlington cemetery, Washington, D. C.

Murray, Ambrose Spencer, a Representative from New York; born in Wallkill, N. Y., November 27, 1807; attended the common schools; held several local offices in Goshen, N. Y.; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1859); died in Goshen, N. Y., November 8, 1885.

Murray, George Washington, a Representative from South Carolina; born near Rembert, Sumter county, S. C., September 22, 1853; taught school in 1874; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895); successfully contested as a Republican the election of William Elliot to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and was seated June 4, 1896, and served until March 3, 1897.

Murray, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Lancaster, Pa.; attended the common schools; held several local offices; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Lancaster; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821).

Murray, John L., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Wadesboro, Ky.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Wadesboro; held several local positions; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839).

Murray, Robert M., a Representative from Ohio; born in Concord, Lake county, Ohio, November 28, 1841; attended the schools of Willoughby, Lake county, Ohio, and Oberlin, Ohio; studied law and was admitted to the bar; cashier of the First National bank in Painesville, Ohio; moved to Piqua, Ohio, in 1879; mayor of Painesville, Ohio, from April, 1877, to 1879; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885).

Murray, Thomas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Northumberland county, Pa.; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823).

Murray, William, a Representative from New York; born in Wallkill, Orange county, N. Y., October 1, 1803; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1855); died in Goshen, N. Y., August 25, 1875.

Murray, William Vans, a Representative from Maryland; born in Cambridge, Md., in 1762; completed preparatory studies; studied law in the Temple, in London, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Cambridge, Md., in 1785; member of the Maryland state legislature; elected as a Federalist to the Second, Third, and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1791–March 3, 1797); minister resident to the Netherlands 1797–1801; died in Cambridge, Dorchester county, Md., December 11, 1803.

Mutchler, Howard, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Easton, Pa., February 12, 1859; attended the public schools and the Phillips academy, Andover, Mass.; read law with his father in Easton; before qualifying for admission to the bar became editor and publisher of the Easton Daily Express and the Northampton Democrat; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of William Mutchler, and served from August 7, 1893, to March 3, 1895; reelected to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1903).

Mutchler, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Northampton county, Pa., December 21, 1831; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected prothonotary of Northampton county in 1860, and 1863; appointed assessor of internal revenue in March, 1867, and served until May, 1869; chairman of the Democratic state committee of Pennsylvania 1869–1870; delegate in Democratic national conventions from 1876 until his death; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); reelected to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1885); again elected to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1889, until his death in Easton, Pa., June 23, 1893.

Myers, Amos, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Lancaster county, Pa., April 23, 1824; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Clarion, Pa., in 1846; held several local offices; appointed district attorney in 1847; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865).

Myers, Leonard, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Attleboro, Bucks county, Pa., November 13, 1827; pursued classical studies; attended the university of Pennsylvania in 1842, studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Philadelphia, Pa.; held several local offices; major of the ninth Pennsylvania militia during the emergency service of September, 1862; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Forty-fourth Congress; died in Philadelphia, Pa., February 11, 1905.

Myers, William Ralph, a Representative from Indiana; born in Clinton county, Ohio, June 12, 1836; moved with his parents to Madison county, Ind., October, 1848; attended the common schools; learned the painter's trade; taught in the common schools; enlisted in company G, forty-seventh Indiana volunteers as a private; was promoted to orderly sergeant, second lieutenant, first lieutenant, and captain; served four years and three months; elected county surveyor of Madison county in 1858; after returning from the army, taught school; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1871; superintendent of the public schools of Anderson 1868–1869; served as a member of the school board of Anderson; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); died in Anderson, Ind., April 18, 1907.

Nabers, Benjamin D., a representative from Mississippi; was a native of Tennessee; attended the common schools; moved to Hickory Flat, Miss.; held several local offices; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); defeated as a Whig for the Thirty-third Congress; moved to Tennessee; Presidential elector in 1861.

Naphen, Henry Francis, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Ireland August 14, 1852; moved with his parents to Lowell, Mass.; studied under private tutors; attended the public schools; was graduated from Harvard University in 1878; attended Boston University Law School; admitted to the bar in 1880 and practiced in Boston; member of the school committee of Boston in 1882 for three years; member of the state senate in 1885 and 1886; appointed bail commissioner by the justices of the superior court; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1903); died in Boston, Mass., June 8, 1905.

Nash, Abner, a Delegate from North Carolina; born in Prince Edward county, Va., August 8, 1716; moved with his parents to New Berne, N. C., and attended the common schools; studied and practiced law; served in the house of commons in 1777, 1778, 1782, and 1785; elected governor of North Carolina in 1779-80; Delegate to the Continental Congress from 1782 to 1786; died in Philadelphia, Pa., while on his way to take his seat in Congress December 2, 1786.

Nash, Charles E., a Representative from Louisiana; was a native of Opelousas, La.; educated in New Orleans; bricklayer; private in the eighty-third regiment United States Chasseurs d'Afrique April 20, 1863; promoted to sergeant major; lost a leg at the storming of Fort Blakeley; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); defeated for the Forty-fifth Congress.

Naudain, Arnold, a Senator from Delaware; born near Dover, Del., January 6, 1790; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Princeton college in 1806 and from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1810 and commenced practice; surgeon general of the Delaware militia in the war of 1812; member of the state house of representatives, and served as speaker in 1826; served in the state senate; defeated for governor of Delaware by six votes; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Louis McLane; reelected in 1832 and served from January 13, 1830, until his resignation, June 16, 1836; resumed the practice of medicine in Wilmington, Del.; collector of the port of Wilmington, Del., 1841-1845; moved to Philadelphia, Pa., in 1845 and practiced medicine; died in Odessa, Del., January 4, 1872.

Naylor, Charles, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia county, Pa., October 6, 1806; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1828; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Francis J. Harper; reelected to the Twenty-sixth Congress and served from ———, 1837, to March 3, 1841; captain of a company of volunteers in the Mexican war; died in Philadelphia, Pa., December 24, 1872.

Neal, Henry Safford, a Representative from Ohio; born in Gallipolis, Ohio, August 25, 1828; was graduated from Marietta college in 1847; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1851; elected to the state senate in 1861 and 1863; commenced practice in Ironton, Ohio; appointed consul to Lisbon, Portugal, in 1869; by the resignation of the minister resident became chargé d'affaires in December, 1869; in July, 1870, resigned and returned to Ohio; delegate to the Ohio constitutional convention in 1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1883); appointed Solicitor of the Treasury by President Arthur, which position he held until a successor was appointed by President Cleveland; died in Ironton, Ohio, July 13, 1906.

Neal, John Randolph, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Anderson county, Tenn., November 26, 1836; attended the common schools and was graduated from Emory and Henry college, Virginia, in June, 1858; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1860; enlisted in the Confederate army; elected captain of a cavalry company, which afterwards became a part of the sixteenth battalion Tennessee cavalry, and promoted to be lieutenant colonel of the battalion; member of the house of representatives of Tennessee, 1874; elected to the state senate in November, 1878; speaker of the senate in 1879; elector on the Hancock and English ticket in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4 1885-March 3, 1889); died in Rhea Springs, Rhea county, Tenn., March 26, 1889.

Neal, Lawrence Talbott, a Representative from Ohio; born in Parkersburg, Va. (now West Virginia), September 22, 1844; pursued classical studies; moved to Chillicothe, Ohio in 1864; studied law and in 1866 was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1867; city solicitor in 1867-1868; member of the state legislature in 1867-1868; declined a reelection; prosecuting attorney of Ross county, Ohio, in 1870, and resigned in October, 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); defeated for the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses; defeated for the state senate in 1887; delegate to the Democratic national conventions in 1888 and 1892; defeated by William McKinley for governor of Ohio in 1893; died in Chillicothe, Ohio, November 2, 1905.

Neale, Raphael, a Representative from Maryland; was a native of St. Mary county, Md., and resided at Leonardstown; received a limited education; elected to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1825; died in Leonardstown October 19, 1833.

Neece, William H., a Representative from Illinois; born in what was then Sangamon county, now part of Logan county, Ill., February 26, 1831; moved with his parents to McDonough county; attended the common schools; read law and was admitted to the bar in 1858; member of the city council of Macomb in 1861; member of the state legislature in 1864; member of the constitutional convention in 1869; again elected to the legislature in 1871; elected to the state senate in 1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); after leaving Congress resumed the practice of law; also devoted his time to the raising of cattle; died in Macomb, Ill., January 6, 1909.

Needham, James Carson, a Representative from California; born September 17, 1864, in Carson City, Nev., in an emigrant wagon, his parents being at the time en route across the plains to California; attended the public schools of California; was graduated from the San Jose high school, and from the University of the Pacific in San Jose in 1886; also from the law department of the University of Michigan in 1889; clerk in the Adjutant General's office in Washington, D. C.; resigned from the War Department; began the practice of law in November, 1889, in Modesto, Cal.; defeated for the state senate in 1890; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Negley, James Scott, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in East Liberty, Allegheny county, Pa., December 22, 1826; was graduated from the Western University of Pennsylvania in Allegheny in 1846; served in the Mexican war in the Duquesne Grays, first Pennsylvania volunteers; entered the Union army as brigadier general April 19, 1861; commanded a division in Patterson's command, three months' service; took part in the battle of Falling Waters; organized and equipped a brigade of infantry and artillery for the West, and joined General Sherman October, 1861; participated in the Buell campaign in Tennessee; defended Nashville in 1862, and received special commendation for this service; promoted to major general for distinguished services and gallantry on the field of the battle of Stone River; commanded a division and took a prominent part in the campaigns of Tullahoma, Chattanooga, Alabama, and Georgia; succeeded Jay Cook as a member of the board of managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1875); reelected to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1887); after leaving Congress became engaged in railroading; died in Plainfield, N. J., August 7, 1901.

Neill, Robert, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Independence county, Ark., November 12, 1838; attended the common schools; took a course in land surveying under a tutor in Ohio in 1859; elected county surveyor of his native county in August, 1860; entered the Confederate army in May, 1861, as a private soldier in company K, first regiment Arkansas mounted riflemen, Gen. Benjamin McCulloch's brigade, Army of the West; promoted to the grade of first lieutenant in 1862, and to that of captain in 1863; clerk of the circuit court of Independence county in 1866–1868; read law, and was admitted to the bar in 1868; commenced practice in Batesville in 1872; lieutenant-colonel of Arkansas state guards 1874–1877; brigadier-general of state militia 1877–1882; delegate to the Democratic national convention in St. Louis June, 1888, and vice-president of the convention for Arkansas; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1897); died in Batesville, Independence county, Ark., Feb. 16, 1907.

Neilson, John, a Delegate from New Jersey; born at Raritan Landing, near New Brunswick, N. J., March 11, 1745; completed preparatory studies; attended the University of Pennsylvania in 1758; merchant in New Brunswick 1769–1775; entered the Revolutionary army as captain of New Jersey militia in 1775; appointed colonel of second regiment, Middlesex county, New Jersey, militia, 1776; brigadier general of militia 1777; deputy quartermaster-general for New Jersey 1780–1783; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1778–1779; delegate to the state constitutional convention which ratified the Federal Constitution in 1790; member of the state assembly 1800–1801; resumed the occupation of shipping merchant; Lafayette presented him with a sword in 1824; died at his home, Raritan Landing, near New Brunswick, March 3, 1833.

Nelson, Homer Augustus, a Representative from New York; born in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., August 31, 1829; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; judge of Dutchess County 1855–1862; colonel of the one hundred and fifty-ninth New York volunteer infantry in the Civil war, resigned in 1863; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867), defeated for the Thirty-ninth Congress; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1867; secretary of state of New York 1867–1870; member of the state senate in 1881; appointed a member of the commission to report a revision of the judiciary article in the state senate in 1890; died in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 25, 1891.

Nelson, Hugh, a Representative from Virginia; born in Yorktown, Va., September 30, 1768; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1790; speaker of the state house of representatives; judge of the general court; Presidential elector on the Pinckney ticket in 1809; elected to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1811, until his resignation, January 14, 1823; minister to Spain, serving from January 15, 1823, to November 23, 1824; died at his home "Belvoir," Albemarle county, Va., March 18, 1836.

Nelson, Jeremiah, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Rowley, Mass., September 14, 1769; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1790; merchant in Newburyport, Mass.; held several local offices; elected as a Federalist to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1807), elected to the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1825), and again elected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1833); died in Newburyport, Mass., October 2, 1838.

Nelson, John, a Representative from Maryland; born in Frederick, Md., June 1, 1791; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1811; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1813; commenced practice in his native town; held several local offices; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823); minister to Naples October 24, 1831, to October 15, 1832; Attorney General of the United States and Secretary of State (ad interim) under President Tyler, 1843–1845; died in Baltimore, Md., January 8, 1860.

Nelson, John Marrot, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Burke, Dane county, Wis., October 10, 1870; was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in June, 1892; superintendent of schools in Dane county in 1892 and 1894; resigned to accept the position of bookkeeper in the office of the secretary of state, where he served from 1894 to 1897; edited The State 1897–98; correspondent in state treasury 1898–1902; was graduated from the law department of the state university 1896; and pursued a post-graduate course 1901–1903; elected as a Republican to Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1909).

Nelson, Knute, a Representative and a Senator from Minnesota; born in Voss, Norway, February 2, 1843; came to the United States in July, 1849, and resided in Chicago, Ill.; moved to Wisconsin in 1850; served as a private and noncommissioned officer in the fourth Wisconsin regiment during the Civil war; wounded and taken prisoner at Port Hudson, La., June 14, 1863; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1867; member of the Wisconsin assembly in 1868 and 1869; moved to Douglas county, Minn., in 1871; county attorney 1872–1874; member of the state senate 1875–1878; Republican presidential elector in 1880; member of the board of regents of the state university from February 1, 1882, to January 1, 1893; elected to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1889); governor of Minnesota in 1892 and reelected in 1894; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate January 23, 1895, and took his seat March 4, 1895; reelected in 1901 and 1907 for the term ending March 4, 1913; author of the bill for the creation of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

Nelson, Roger, a Representative from Maryland; born in Frederick, Md., in 1735; completed preparatory studies; served in the Revolutionary Army; wounded at the battle of Camden and attained the rank of brigadier general; studied law, and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Frederick; held several local offices; elected to the Eighth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Daniel Hiester; reelected to the Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Congresses, and served from November 6, 1804, until his resignation, May 14, 1810; associate justice of the fifth judicial circuit of Maryland; died in Frederick, Md., June 7, 1815.

Nelson, Thomas, a Delegate from Virginia, born in Yorktown, Va., December 26, 1738; was graduated from Trinity college, in England; elected a member of the house of burgesses while on his way home from England; member of the first provincial convention in Williamsburg in 1774; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1775–1777; appointed commander of the Virginia state forces in 1777; again a Delegate to the Continental Congress 1779–1780; governor of Virginia 1781; died at "Offley," Hanover county, Va., January 4, 1789.

Nelson, Thomas Amos Rogers, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Roane county, Tenn., March 19, 1812; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from East Tennessee college in 1828; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1832; commenced practice in Washington county, Tenn.; presidential elector on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket in 1848; appointed commissioner to China March 6, 1851, but did not go then, and resigned July 2, 1851; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1861); reelected to the Thirty-seventh Congress, but prevented by the Confederates from proceeding to Washington to take his seat; delegate to the Union national convention in Philadelphia in 1866, and to the Democratic national convention in New York July 4, 1868; judge of the state supreme court, 1870–1871; died in Knoxville, Tenn., August 24, 1873.

Nelson, Thomas Manduit, a Representative from Virginia; born in Oak Hill, Mecklenburg county, Va., September 27, 1782; attended the common schools; captain of the tenth regiment infantry and major of the thirtieth and eighteenth infantries in the War of 1812; after the war reduced to captain, and resigned his commission May 15, 1815; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Thomas Gholson; reelected to the Fifteenth Congress, and served from December 4, 1816, to March 3, 1819; declined a reelection; died near Columbus, Ga., November 10, 1853.

Nelson, William, a Representative from New York; born in Clinton, N. Y., June 29, 1784; completed preparatory studies; studied law, and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Peekskill, N. Y., in 1807; for thirty years served as district attorney for Putnam, Rockland, and Westchester counties; served in both branches of the state legislature several years; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1851); died in Peekskill, N. Y., October 2, 1869.

Nes, Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in York, Pa., May 20, 1799; completed preparatory studies; studied and practiced medicine; elected as an Independent to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); reelected to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses and served from March 4, 1847, until his death in York, Pa., September 10, 1850.

Nesbitt, Wilson, a Representative from South Carolina; resided in Spartansburg, S. C.; attended the public schools; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819).

Nesmith, James Willis, a Representative and a Senator from Oregon; born in Washington county, Me., July 23, 1820; moved with his parents to New Hampshire; attended the common schools; from there to Ohio, and in 1843 to Oregon; studied law and was appointed judge in 1845; United States marshal for Oregon 1853–1855, when he resigned; appointed superintendent of Indian affairs for Oregon and Washington Territories in 1857; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1861, to March 3, 1867; appointed minister to Austria, but his nomination was not confirmed; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of J. G. Wilson, and served from December 1, 1873, to March 3, 1875; died in Rickreall, Oreg., June 17, 1885.

Neville, Joseph, a Representative from Virginia; born in 1730; served in the Revolutionary army; elected to the Third Congress, (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1795); died in Hardy county, Va., March 4, 1819.

Neville, William, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Washington county, Ill., December 29, 1843; moved with his parents to Chester, in Randolph county, in 1851; attended McKendree college, Lebanon, Ill.; served in the Union army as second sergeant company H, one hundred and forty-second Illinois infantry in the civil war; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1874; elected to the Illinois legislature as a Democrat in 1872; moved to Nebraska in May, 1874; elected to the Nebraska legislature from Omaha in 1876; moved to North Platte in April, 1877; elected judge of the thirteenth judicial district for a four-year term in 1891; elected as a Populist to the Fifty-sixth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of William L. Greene; reelected to the Fifty-seventh Congress and served from December 4, 1899, to March 3, 1903; died in Douglass, Ariz., April 5, 1909.

Nevin, Robert Murphy, a Representative from Ohio; born in Highland county, Ohio, May 5, 1850; attended the public schools in Hillsboro, Ohio; was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university in Delaware, Ohio, in June, 1868; moved to Dayton, Ohio, in July, 1868; admitted to the bar May 10, 1871; elected prosecuting attorney of Montgomery county in 1887; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1907).

New, Anthony, a Representative from Virginia and Kentucky; born in Gloucester county, Va., in 1747; completed preparatory studies; studied and practiced law; colonel in the Revolutionary army; elected as a Democrat from Virginia to the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth Congresses (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1805); moved to Kentucky and located in Elkton; elected as a Democrat from Kentucky to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1813), Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819), and Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823); died in Todd county, Ky., March 2, 1833.

New, Jephtha Dudley, a Representative from Indiana; born in Vernon, Jennings county, Ind., November 28, 1830; attended Vernon academy and Bethany college, Virginia; studied law; elected mayor of Vernon; admitted to the bar and practiced until 1864; served two years of that time as prosecuting attorney; elected judge of the district court of common pleas in 1864–1868; resumed practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); declined the nomination to the Forty-fifth Congress; elected to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); elected judge of the sixth judicial circuit of Indiana in 1882 and served for six years; supreme court commissioner of Indiana in 1889; appointed appellate judge in 1891; nominated by the Democratic party as a candidate for supreme judge in 1892, but died before the election in Vernon, Ind., July 9, 1892.

Newberry, John Stoughton, a Representative from Michigan; born in Waterville, Oneida county, N. Y., November 18, 1826; moved with his parents to Michigan when a child, residing successively in Detroit, Ann Arbor, and Romeo; completed preparatory studies in Romeo academy; was graduated from Michigan university in 1847; spent two years in civil engineering on railroads; studied law in Detroit, and was admitted to the bar in 1852; made the admiralty of the western lakes and rivers a specialty for seventeen years and published the first volume of admiralty reports of decisions of cases arising on those waters; engaged in several large manufacturing enterprises in 1864; declined political honors of every kind previous to his election as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881; died in Detroit, Mich., January 2, 1887.

Newberry, Walter Cass, a Representative from Illinois; born in Sangerfield, Oneida county, N. Y., December 23, 1835; pursued an academic course; enlisted in the Union army as a private in the eighty-first New York volunteers; was promoted lieutenant in 1861; captain in 1862; major of the twenty-fourth New York cavalry in 1863; lieutenant colonel and colonel in 1864 and was brevetted brigadier general, March 31, 1865, for gallant and meritorious service at Dinwiddie Court House where he was severely wounded; moved to Petersburg, Va., in 1865; elected mayor in 1869; superintendent of public property for the state for four years; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1876; postmaster in Chicago, 1888–1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893).

Newbold, Thomas, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Chesterfield township, Burlington county, N. J., February 8, 1760; member of the state assembly 1797, and 1820–1822; elected as a Democrat to the Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1813); died in Springfield township, Burlington county, N. J., December 18, 1823.

Newcomb, Carman A., a Representative from Missouri; born in Mercer county, Pa., July 1, 1830; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Iowa, where he was a judge for five years; moved to Missouri and resumed practice; served in the Missouri legislature 1865–66; elected as a Radical to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1869).

Newell, William Augustus, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Franklin, Ohio, September 5, 1817; was graduated from Rutgers college in 1836, and from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1839; began practice in Allentown, N. J.; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1851); governor of New Jersey 1856–1860; delegate to the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864; reelected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867); defeated for the Fortieth Congress; defeated as Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey in 1877; died in Allentown, N. J., August 8, 1901.

Newhard, Peter, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Allentown, Pa., July 26, 1783; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar and practiced; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843); died in Allentown, Pa., February 19, 1860.

Newlands, Francis Griffith, a Representative and a Senator from Nevada; born in Natchez, Miss., August 28, 1848; attended Yale college and the Columbian college law school in Washington, but prior to graduation was admitted to the bar; moved to San Francisco and practiced law; continued in the active practice of his profession until 1886, when he became a trustee of the estate of William Sharon, formerly United States Senator from the State of Nevada; engaged actively in the agitation of the silver question, and was for years vice-chairman of the national silver committee; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1903); elected to the United States Senate and took his seat March 4, 1903. Reelected in 1909 for the term ending March 3, 1915.

Newman, Alexander, a Representative from Virginia; born near Orange, Va., October 5, 1804; pursued an academic course; held several local offices; elected to the Virginia legislature in 1836; postmaster of Wheeling 1845–1849, when he resigned; elected to the Thirty-first Congress, but died before the convening of Congress, in Pittsburgh, Pa., September 8, 1849.

Newnan, Daniel, a Representative from Georgia; was a native of North Carolina; completed preparatory studies; ensign of the fourth United States infantry; promoted to first lieutenant in 1799, and resigned January 1, 1802; commanded the Georgia volunteers in the Creek war 1812–1814, major general of militia; elected as a States Rights Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1833); died in Walker county, Ga., January 16, 1851.

Newsham, Joseph Parkinson, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Preston, Lancashire, England, May 24, 1837; attended the common schools; emigrated to the United States with his parents and settled in Monroe county, Ill., 1839; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Edwardsville, Ill., 1859-1861; served in the Union army on the staffs of General Fremont and General Smith; adjutant of the thirty-second Missouri volunteer infantry, and resigned July 4, 1864; moved to Louisiana in 1864 and practiced law in Donaldsonville; moved to St. Francisville, La., in 1867; member of the constitutional convention 1868-1869; established the Feliciana Republican; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); successfully contested the election of Michael Ryan, Democrat, to the Forty-first Congress, and was seated on May 23, 1870, and served until March 3, 1871.

Newton, Cherubusco, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Louisiana May 15, 1848; pursued an academic course; taught school, studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1870 and commenced practice; elected to the state senate in 1879 and served four years; declined a judgeship in 1885; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889).

Newton, Eben, a Representative from Ohio; born in Goshen, Conn., October 16, 1795; attended the common schools; moved to Portage county, Ohio; studied law and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Canfield, Ohio, in 1823; member of the state senate in 1842; judge of the third judicial circuit; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); defeated for reelection; president of the Ashtabula & New Lisbon Railroad Co. 1856-1859.

Newton, Thomas, Jr., a Representative from Virginia; born in Norfolk, Va., November 21, 1768; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Norfolk; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh and to the thirteen succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1829); presented credentials as Member-elect to the Twenty-first Congress, but the election was successfully contested by George Loyall, who took the seat March 9, 1830; reelected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); died in Norfolk, Va., August 5, 1847.

Newton, Thomas Willoughby, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Alexandria, Va., January 18, 1804; attended the common schools; moved in 1820 to Arkansas and located in Little Rock; moved to Shelby county, Ky., and returned to Little Rock in 1837 and became cashier in a bank; elected to the Twenty-ninth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Archibald Yell, and served from February 6, 1847, to March 3, 1847; died in New York September 22, 1853.

Newton, Willoughby, a Representative from Virginia; born in Westmoreland county, Va., December 2, 1802; received a limited education; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); died in Westmoreland county, Va., May 10, 1874.

Niblack, Silas L., a Representative from Florida; successfully contested election of Josiah T. Walls to the Forty-second Congress and served from January 29, 1873, to March 3, 1873; defeated as the Democratic candidate at large for the Forty-third Congress.

Niblack, William Ellis, a Representative from Indiana; born in Dubois county, Ind., May 19, 1822; attended Indiana university, but did not graduate; studied law and was admitted to the bar; practiced in Vincennes, Ind.; elected to the state house of representatives, 1849 and 1853; member of the state senate 1850-1852; circuit judge from January, 1854, to October, 1857; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of James Lockhart; reelected to the Thirty-sixth Congress and served from December 7, 1857, to March 3, 1861; delegate to the Democratic national conventions in 1864, 1868, and 1876; reelected to the Thirty-ninth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1875); judge of the supreme court of Indiana 1877-1889; again elected to the state house of representatives in 1889-1891 and served as speaker; died in Indianapolis, Ind., May 7, 1893.

Nicholas, John, a Representative from Virginia; born in Williamsburg, Va., January 19, 1761; attended the common schools; was graduated from William and Mary college; elected as an Anti-Federalist to the Third, Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1799); moved to Geneva, N. Y.; member of the state senate 1806-1809; judge of the court of common pleas 1806-1819; died in Geneva, N. Y., December 31, 1819.

Nicholas, Robert Carter, a Senator from Louisiana; born in Hanover, Va., in 1793; was graduated from William and Mary college; served in the War of 1812 as captain and major; moved to Louisiana and became a sugar planter; secretary of state of Louisiana; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles E. A. Gayarre, serving from 1836 to 1841; died in Terrebonne parish, La., December 24, 1857.

Nicholas, Wilson Carey, a Representative and Senator from Virginia; born in Williamsburg, Va., January 31, 1761; was graduated from William and Mary college; served in the Revolutionary army; delegate to the state constitutional convention which ratified the Federal Constitution; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Henry Tazewell, and served from January 3, 1800, to 1804, when he resigned; collector of the port in Norfolk 1804-1807; elected to the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses and served from March 4, 1807, until his resignation, November 27, 1809; governor of Virginia 1814-1817; died in Milton, Va., October 10, 1820.

Nichols, John, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Wake county, N. C., November 14, 1834; attended the common schools; apprenticed to the printing business; attended Lovejoy academy; engaged in the book and job printing business and newspaper publishing; principal of the North Carolina institute for the deaf and dumb and the blind 1873-1877; revenue-stamp agent in Durham, N. C., 1879-1881; appointed postmaster in Raleigh, N. C., in 1881-1885; secretary and treasurer of the State Fair Association; elected as an Independent to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); chief of the division of mail files and records of the Treasury Department during President Harrison's administration until his resignation July 1, 1893; returned to Raleigh, N. C., and was in the internal-revenue office.

Nichols, Matthias H., a Representative from Ohio; born in Sharpstown, N. J., October 3, 1824; attended the common schools; printer; moved to Ohio in 1842; studied law and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Lima, Ohio; prosecuting attorney for Allen county; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1859); died in Cincinnati, Ohio, September 15, 1862.

Nicholls, John Calhoun, a Representative from Georgia; born in Clinton, Jones county, Ga., April 25, 1834; attended William and Mary college, Virginia; studied law and was admitted to the bar; soldier in the Confederate army; delegate to the Democratic national convention that nominated John C. Breckinridge for President; member of the state constitutional convention of 1865; presidential elector on the Seymour and Blair ticket of 1868; elected to the Georgia senate in 1870 and served five years; delegate to the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); reelected to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); died in Blackshear, Ga., December 25, 1893.

Nicholls, Thomas David, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne county, Pa., September 16, 1870; attended public schools; studied mining by correspondence in the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton; in 1897 passed a state examination and received a mine foreman's certificate of competency; district president of District No. 1, United Mine Workers of America, 1899; elected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911).

Nicholson, Alfred Osburne Pope, a Senator from Tennessee; born in Williamson county, Tenn., August 31, 1808; was graduated from Chapel Hill university, North Carolina, in 1827; studied law; and was admitted to the bar in 1831; commenced practice in Columbia, Tenn.; edited the Western Mercury in Columbia 1832–1835; member of the state house of representatives 1833–1839; appointed to the United States Senate as a Democrat, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Felix Grundy, and served from December 25, 1840, to October 17, 1843; edited the Nashville Union 1844–1846; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1859, to March 3, 1861, when he retired, but was formally expelled by resolution of July 11, 1861; chief justice of the supreme court of Tennessee 1870–1876; died in Columbia, Tenn., March 23, 1876.

Nicholson, John, a Representative from New York; born in Herkimer, N. Y., in 1765; received a limited education; studied law and was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1811); died in Herkimer, N. Y., January 20, 1820.

Nicholson, John Anthony, a Representative from Delaware; born in Laurel, Del., November 17, 1827; completed preparatory studies; superintendent of free schools for Kent county in 1851; studied law and was admitted to the bar and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1869).

Nicholson, Joseph Hopper, a Representative from Maryland; born in Maryland in 1770; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1799, until his resignation March 1, 1806; chief justice of the sixth judicial district of Maryland; judge of the court of appeals; died in Anne Arundel county, Md., March 4, 1817.

Nicoll, Henry, a Representative from New York; born in New York, October 23, 1812; was graduated from Columbia college in 1830; studied law and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in New York; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1847; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849).

Niedringhaus, Frederick G., a Representative from Missouri; born in Luebbecke, Westphalia, North Germany, October 21, 1837; attended the common schools; emigrated to the United States and located in St. Louis, Mo., in November, 1855; in 1862 began the stamping of tinware, etc.; in 1874 invented what is called "granite ironware;" elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1891).

Niles, Jason, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Vermont, December 19, 1814; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); defeated for reelection; died in Kosciusko, Miss., July 7, 1894.

Niles, John Milton, a Senator from Connecticut; born in Windsor, Conn., August 20, 1787; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1817; commenced practice in Hartford, Conn.; established the Hartford Times; county judge 1821–1826; member of the state house of representatives in 1826; postmaster in Hartford in 1829; appointed as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Nathan Smith; subsequently elected, and served from December 21, 1835, to March 3, 1839; Postmaster General 1840–1841; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1843, to March 3, 1849; died in Hartford, Conn., May 31, 1856.

Niles, Nathaniel, a Representative from Vermont; born in South Kingston, R. I., April 3, 1741; attended Harvard college and was graduated from Princeton college in 1766; studied law and practiced; studied theology and preached; moved to Orange county, Vt.; member of the state house of representatives in 1784 and served as speaker; judge of the supreme court 1784–1788; elected to the Second and Third Congresses (March 4, 1791–March 3, 1795), died in Fairlee, Vt., October 31, 1828.

Nisbet, Eugenius Aristides, a representative from Georgia; born in Union Point, Ga., December 3, 1803; completed preparatory studies; attended Powellton academy, Hancock county, Ga., 1815–1817; studied law and began practice in Macon, Ga.; member of the state house of representatives; defeated as the Whig candidate for the Twenty-fifth Congress; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843); judge of the supreme court of Georgia; died in Macon, Ga., March 18, 1871.

Niven, Archibald Campbell, a Representative from New York; born in Newburgh, Orange county, N. Y., December 8, 1803; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847); died in Monticello, Sullivan county, N. Y., February 21, 1882.

Nixon, George Stuart, a Senator from Nevada; born April 2, 1860, in Placer county, Cal.; attended the public schools; studied telegraphy; in 1881 he was transferred to Nevada, where he served three years as a telegraph operator, and in 1884 accepted a clerical position in a bank in Reno; president of three banks in the state and largely interested in mining, stock raising, and farming; member of the Nevada legislature as a Republican in 1891; elected to the United States Senate, January 25, 1905; reelected and served from March 4, 1905 until his death in Washington, D. C., June 6, 1912; interment in Reno, Nevada.

Nixon, John Thompson, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Fairton, Cumberland county, N. J., August 31, 1820; was graduated from Princeton college in 1841; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1845; practiced in Bridgeton, N. J.; member of the state house of representatives 1848–1850, and speaker in 1850; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1863); appointed United States judge for the district of New Jersey in 1870; died in Stockbridge, Mass., September 28, 1889.

Noble, David Addison, a Representative from Michigan; born in Williamstown, Berkshire county, Mass., November 9, 1802; was graduated from Williams college in 1825; studied law in Albany and New York City, was admitted to the bar, and practiced for a time in the last-named city; moved to Monroe, Mich., in 1831, and continued in the practice of law; city recorder, alderman, and mayor of Monroe; member of the state legislature in 1847–1848; prosecuting attorney and probate judge of Monroe county; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-fourth Congress; manager of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railroad for four years; delegate in the Democratic national convention of 1864; died in Monroe, Mich., October 13, 1876.

Noble, James, a Senator from Indiana; born near Berryville, Clarke county, Va., December 16, 1785; moved with his parents to Campbell county, Ky., in 1795; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Brookville, Franklin county, Ind., in 1811; member of the territorial legislature; elected to the United States Senate; reelected in 1821 and 1827, and served from November 8, 1816, until his death, in Washington, D. C., February 26, 1831.

Noble, Warren Perry, a Representative from Ohio; born in Pennsylvania, June 14, 1821; attended the common schools; moved to Ohio; studied law and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Tiffin, Ohio; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives 1856–1860; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1865); defeated for the Thirty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Tiffin, Ohio, until his death, July 3, 1903.

Noble, William H., a Representative from New York; born in that state in 1788; resided in Cato; received a limited education; studied law, admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); defeated for reelection; died in Rochester, N. Y., February 5, 1850.

Noell, John William, a Representative from Missouri; born in Bedford county, Va., February 22, 1816; completed preparatory studies; moved with parents to Perry county, Mo., in 1833; engaged in milling and storekeeping; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Perryville, Mo.; clerk of the circuit court for Perry county, 1841–1850; member of the state senate, 1850–1854; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1863); reelected to the Thirty-eighth Congress, but died before it assembled in Washington, D. C., March 14, 1863.

Noell, Thomas Estes, a Representative from Missouri; born in Perryville, Mo., April 3, 1839; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Perryville in 1858; major Missouri state militia, July, 1861, to April 1, 1862; captain nineteenth infantry, United States army, March, 1862, until his resignation, February 20, 1865; elected as a Radical to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1869); reelected to the Fortieth Congress, but died before it assembled in St. Louis, Mo., October 4, 1867.

Nolan, Michael Nicholas, a Representative from New York; born in Ireland May 4, 1833; came to this country at the age of 10 years; attended the public schools in Albany; studied law and was admitted to the bar; director of the National Savings Bank of Albany; fire commissioner of Albany for ten years; elected mayor of Albany in 1878; reelected in 1880 and 1882 while serving as a Member of Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); died in Albany, N. Y., May 31, 1905.

Noonan, Edward T., a Representative from Illinois; born in Macomb, Ill., October 23, 1861; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1882; was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1883; member of the senate of Illinois 1890–1894; colonel on the staff of Governor Altgeld 1893–1897; annually elected attorney for the board of West Chicago park commissioners 1893–1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901).

Noonan, George H., a Representative from Texas; born in New Jersey; emigrated in 1852 to Texas; located in Medina county; studied law and was admitted to the bar and practiced; judge of the district court in 1862–1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901); after leaving Congress resumed the practice of law.

Norcross, Amasa, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Rindge, N. H., January 26, 1824; attended the common schools and Appleton academy, New Ipswich; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1847; member of the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1858, 1859, and 1862; elected to the state senate in 1874; assessor of internal revenue August, 1862, until May, 1873, when the office was abolished; mayor of the city of Fitchburg in 1873 and 1874; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1883); died in Paris, France, April 2, 1898.

Norris, Benjamin W., a Representative from Alabama; born in Monmouth, Me., in 1819; was graduated from Colby university in 1843; merchant; delegate to the Free Soil convention in Buffalo in 1848; held several local offices; delegate to the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864; paymaster in the Union army 1864–65; became a planter in Alabama after the war; member of the constitutional convention of Alabama in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1869); died in Montgomery, Ala., January 27, 1873.

Norris, George William, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Sandusky county, Ohio, July 11, 1861; attended district schools; afterwards taught school; attended Baldwin university, Berea, Ohio, and the northern Indiana normal school, Valparaiso; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1883; moved to Nebraska in 1885, and located in Furnas county; three times prosecuting attorney; declined further nomination; elected district judge in 1895, and reelected in 1899; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Norris, Moses, Jr., a Representative and Senator from New Hampshire; born in Pittsfield, N. H., November 8, 1799; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1828; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1832; commenced practice in Barnstead; served two terms in the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); reelected to the state house of representatives in 1847 and chosen speaker; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1849, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 11, 1855.

North, William, a Senator from New York; born in Fort Frederick, Pemaquid, Me., in 1755; attended the common schools; moved with his mother to Boston, Mass.; aid-de-camp to Major-General Baron de Steuben in the Revolutionary army; after the war settled in Duanesburg, N. Y.; member of the state assembly and elected speaker; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John S. Hobart, and served from May 21, 1798, to March 3, 1799; appointed adjutant-general of the army with the rank of brigadier-general, and served from 1798 to 1800; died in Duanesburg, N. Y., January 3, 1836.

Northway, Stephen Asa, a Representative from Ohio; born in Christian Hollow, Onondaga county, N. Y., June 19, 1833; moved in 1840 with his parents into the township of Orwell, Ashtabula county, Ohio; attended the district school, Kingsville academy, and Orwell academy; taught school; studied law in 1858 and admitted to the bar in 1859; elected prosecuting attorney and located in Jefferson in 1861; reelected prosecuting attorney in 1863; elected to the state house of representatives in 1865 and served two years; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1899); died in Jefferson, Ashtabula county, Ohio, September 18, 1898.

Norton, Daniel Sheldon, a Senator from Minnesota; born in Mount Vernon, Ohio, April 12, 1829; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Kenyon college, Ohio; served in the Mexican war; after the war returned to Ohio; studied law and was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Mount Vernon in 1852; moved to Minnesota and practiced; served six years in the Minnesota state senate; elected as a Union Conservative to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1866, until his death in Washington, D. C., July 13, 1870.

Norton, Ebenezer F., a Representative from New York; was a native of Buffalo, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; practiced law; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831).

Norton, Elijah Hise, a Representative from Missouri; born in Logan county, Ky., November 24, 1821; completed preparatory studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Platt City; moved to Missouri; judge of the circuit court of Missouri 1852–1860; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 1861–March 3, 1863).

Norton, James, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Marion county, S. C., October 8, 1843; pursued an academic course; left school in 1861 to enter the Confederate army; served through the war in the army of Northern Virginia; more than once wounded, a minie ball at one time passing through the body and right lung; from this wound he had sufficiently recovered to be able to return to the army just in time, with Petersburg, to be captured; after the war reentered school, but did not finish regular course; elected county school commissioner in 1870 and reelected 1872; served as a member of the house of representatives of South Carolina 1886–87 and 1890–91; elected comptroller general of the State 1894 and reelected 1896, which office he resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John L. McLaurin; reelected to the Fifty-sixth Congress and served from December 6, 1897, until March 3, 1901.

Norton, James Albert, a Representative from Ohio; born in Seneca county, Ohio, November 11, 1843; attended the public schools; enlisted in Union army in August, 1862; sergeant company K, one hundred and first Ohio volunteer infantry; promoted to first lieutenant and adjutant one hundred and twenty-third United States colored infantry in 1864; mustered out of service at close of the war in 1865; began the practice of medicine in 1867; continued that profession until 1879; admitted to the bar in 1879; served six years in the Ohio house of representatives 1873–1879, and was speaker pro tempore for two years; appointed commissioner of railroads and telegraphs, when he resigned to accept position in railroad service; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1903).

Norton, Jesse O., a Representative from Illinois; born in Bennington, Vt., December 25, 1812; was graduated from Williams college in 1835; moved to Illinois; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1840 began practice in Joliet, Ill.; member of the state constitutional convention in 1847; member of the state house of representatives in 1851-52; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); judge of the eleventh district of Illinois 1857-1862; reelected to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); delegate to the national Union convention in Philadelphia in 1866; died in Chicago, Ill., August 3, 1875.

Norton, Nelson Ira, a Representative from New York; born in Great Valley, Cattaraugus county, N. Y., March 30, 1820; received a limited education; farmer; held several local offices; member of the state assembly in 1861; presidential elector on the Grant and Wilson ticket in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Augustus F. Allen, and served from December 6, 1875, to March 3, 1877; died in Hinsdale, N. Y., October 28, 1887.

Norton, Richard Henry, a Representative from Missouri; born in Troy, Lincoln county, Mo., November 6, 1849; attended the St. Louis university, where he took the classical course; was graduated from the law department of Washington university, St. Louis, in 1870; admitted to the bar, and practiced his profession; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893); on leaving Congress he devoted his time to practicing law and farming.

Norvell, John, a Senator from Michigan; born in Danville, Garrard county, Ky., December 21, 1789; attended the common schools; learned the trade of printer; studied law and was admitted to the bar; edited an anti-Federalist paper in Philadelphia 1816-1832; moved to Michigan Territory; appointed postmaster of Detroit; delegate to the state constitutional convention in Detroit May 11, 1835; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from January 26, 1837, to March 3, 1841; resumed the practice of law in Detroit; member of the state legislature in 1842; United States district attorney of Michigan 1845-1849; died in Hamtramck, Mich., April 11, 1850.

Norwood, Thomas Manson, a Senator and Representative from Georgia; born in Talbot county, Ga., April 26, 1830; pursued an academic course; was graduated from Emory college, Oxford, Ga., in 1850; studied law and was admitted to practice in February, 1852; moved to Savannah in March, 1852, where he practiced law; member of the Georgia legislature in 1861-62; alternate Democratic elector in 1868 on the Seymour and Blair ticket; elected to the United States Senate in November, 1871; after a contest for his seat with Foster Blodgett he was admitted to his seat December 19, 1871, and served until March 3, 1877; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); resumed the practice of law in Savannah, Ga.; appointed judge of the city court of Savannah in 1896, and served twelve years; retired to his country home "Hancock Hall," near Savannah, Ga.

Nott, Abraham, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Saybrook, Conn., in 1767; was graduated from Yale college in 1787; went to Georgia and subsequently to Camden, S. C., in 1789; studied law and in 1791 was admitted to the bar; held several local offices; elected as a Federalist to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801); resumed the practice of law in Columbia in 1804; president of the court of appeals in 1824; died in Fairfield, S. C., June 19, 1830.

Nourse, Amos, a Senator from Maine; born in Bolon, Mass., December 17, 1794; was graduated from Harvard college in 1812; studied medicine, and practiced in Bath; medical lecturer at Bowdoin college 1846-1854; held several local offices; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Hannibal Hamlin and served from January 24, 1857, to March 3, 1857; judge of probate of Sagadahoc county; died in Bath, Me., April 17, 1877.

Noyes, John, a Representative from Vermont; born in Atkinson, N. H., April 2, 1764; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1795; moved to Brattleboro and engaged in mercantile trade; member of the general assembly in 1808-1810 and 1812; held several local offices in Vermont; elected as a Federalist to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); died in Putney, Vt., October 26, 1841.

Noyes, Joseph Cobham, a Representative from Maine; born in Portland, Me., September 22, 1798; received a limited education; merchant in Eastport; member of the state house of representatives in 1833; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); moved to Portland and engaged in the banking business; died in Portland, Me., July 21, 1868.

Nuckolls, Stephen Friel, a Delegate from Wyoming; born in Grayson county, Va., August 16, 1825; completed preparatory studies; moved to Missouri in 1846 and became a merchant; moved to Nebraska territory in 1854; held several local offices; served in the Nebraska legislature in 1859; moved to Colorado territory in 1860 and engaged in mining; moved to New York City in 1864; moved to Dakota territory in 1867 and located in Cheyenne and in 1869, upon the organization of Wyoming territory, was elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871).

Nuckolls, William Thompson, a Representative from South Carolina; born near Hancockville, S. C., February 23, 1801; was graduated from the South Carolina university in 1820; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and began practice in Spartanburg, S. C.; elected to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1833); died on his plantation near Hancockville, S. C., September 27, 1855.

Nugen, Robert Hunter, a Representative from Ohio; born in Washington county, Pa., July 16, 1809; moved with his parents to Ohio in 1811 and located in Columbiana county; in 1828 moved to Tuscarawas county; received a limited education; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863).

Nunn, David Alexander, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Haywood county, Tenn., July 26, 1835; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Brownsville; presidential elector on the Bell ticket in 1860 and in 1864 on the Republican ticket; member of the state house of representatives 1866-1867; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); defeated as the Independent Republican candidate for the Forty-first Congress; reelected to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); again defeated for the Forty-fourth Congress.

Nute, Alonzo, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Milton, N. H., February 12, 1826; attended the common schools; moved to Natick, Mass.; returned to New Hampshire in 1848 and engaged in the manufacture of boots and shoes in Farmington; in the spring of 1861 entered the Union army in the sixth New Hampshire volunteers, and served until incapacitated for duty on the staffs of Generals Griffin and Rush Hawkins; member of the New Hampshire house of representatives in 1866; elected to the state senate for 1867-1868; delegate to the national Republican convention in Cincinnati in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); died in Farmington, N. H., December 24, 1892.

Nutting, Newton Wright, a Representative from New York; born in West Monroe, Oswego county, N. Y., October 22, 1840; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Oswego, N. Y.; member of the school committee of Oswego county from January 1, 1864, to January 1, 1867; district attorney of Oswego county from January 1, 1869, to January 1, 1872; county judge of Oswego county from January 1, 1878, to March 4, 1883, when he resigned; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); reelected to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); died in Oswego, N. Y., October 15, 1889.

Nye, Frank Mellin, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Shirley, Piscataquis county, Me., March 7, 1852; attended the common schools; and the academy in River Falls, Wis.; studied law and was admitted to the bar; district attorney of Polk county, Wis.; member of the Wisconsin assembly 1884-1885; moved to Minnesota; county attorney of Hennepin county 1893 to 1897; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911); declined a renomination; resumed the practice of law in Minneapolis, Minn.

Nye, James Warren, a Senator from Nevada; born in Madison county, N. Y., June 10, 1814; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; defeated as the Antislavery candidate for the Thirty-ninth Congress; moved to Syracuse, N. Y.; appointed governor of Nevada territory in 1861; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate; reelected and served from February 1, 1865, to March 3, 1873; died at White Plains, N. Y., December 25, 1876.

Oakley, Thomas Jackson, a Representative from New York; born in Dutchess county, N. Y., in 1783; was graduated from Yale college in 1801; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; surrogate of Dutchess county 1810-1811; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); member of the state assembly 1816, 1818-1820; attorney general of New York 1819; elected as a Clinton Democrat to the Twentieth Congress and served from March 4, 1827, to May 9, 1828, when he resigned to become judge of the superior court of the state of New York, which position he held until 1836; chief justice of the supreme court of New York 1846 and served until his death in New York City, May 11, 1857.

Oates, William Calvin, a Representative from Alabama; born in Pike (now Bullock) county, Ala.,

November 30, 1835; pursued elementary studies at home; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1858; practiced in Abbeville 1859-1861; entered the Confederate army as captain of company G, fifteenth Alabama infantry, in July, 1861; appointed colonel in the provisional army of the Confederacy for valor and skill displayed on the field, May 1, 1863, and assigned to the command of his old regiment; the forty-eighth Alabama regiment was also placed under his command; wounded four times slightly and twice severely, losing his right arm in front of Richmond; resumed the practice of law in Abbeville in 1865; delegate to the national Democratic convention held in New York in 1868; member of the state house of representatives 1870-1872; unsuccessful candidate for the nomination for governor in 1872; member of the constitutional convention of 1875; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1895); governor of Alabama in 1894; brigadier-general of volunteers in the Spanish-American war and stationed at Camp Meade, Pa.; resigned and resumed the practice of law; died in Montgomery, Ala., September 9, 1910.

O'Brien, James, a Representative from New York; born in Kings county, Ireland, March 13, 1841; attended the common schools; alderman of the city of New York in 1864 and 1866; sheriff of the city and county of New York in 1867; state senator in 1871; ran for mayor of the city of New York in 1873, but was unsuccessful; elected as an Anti-Tammany Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); died in New York City, March 5, 1907.

O'Brien, Jeremiah, a Representative from Maine; born in Machias, Me., January 21, 1778; attended the public schools; elected to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1829); defeated as a candidate for the Twenty-first Congress; served six terms in the state legislature; died in Boston, Mass., May 30, 1858.

O'Brien, William J., a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., May 28, 1836; pursued classical studies in St. Mary's college, Baltimore; studied law; was admitted to the bar and in 1858, began practice in Baltimore; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); resumed the practice of law; elected judge of the orphan's court of Baltimore in 1901; died in Baltimore, Md., November 13, 1905.

Ochiltree, Thomas Peck, a Representative from Texas; born in Livingston, Sumter county, Ala., October 26, 1839; moved with parents to Texas in infancy; attended public schools; volunteered in 1857 as a private in Capt. John G. Walker's company of Texan rangers in the campaign against the Apache and Comanche Indians in 1854-1855; editor of the Jeffersonian in 1860-1861; a delegate to the Charleston and Baltimore conventions of 1860; served in the Confederate army; appointed United States marshal of Texas by President Grant; editor of the Houston Daily Telegraph in 1866-1867; appointed commissioner of emigration for Texas; elected as an Independent to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); moved to New York city; died in Hot Springs, Va., November 25, 1902.

O'Connell, Joseph Francis, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, December 7, 1872; attended the Mather school of Boston and prepared for college at St. Mary's parochial school; was graduated from Boston college in 1893 and from the law department of Harvard university in 1896; was admitted to the Suffolk bar in 1897 and engaged in the practice of law; elected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in Boston, Mass.

O'Connor, Michael Patrick, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Beaufort, S. C., September 29, 1831; was graduated from St. John's college, Fordham, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar; member of the state legislature for seven years, from 1858 to 1865; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); died in Charleston, S. C., April 26, 1881.

Odell, Benjamin Barker, jr., a Representative from New York; born in Newburgh, N. Y., January 14, 1854; attended the public schools, Newburgh academy, Bethany (W. Va.) college, and Columbia college, New York City; entered upon a commercial career; for ten years represented the Seventeenth district on the Republican state committee and chairman of the executive committee; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1899); elected governor of the State of New York, November, 1900, and reelected in 1902; president of the chamber of commerce of Newburgh, N. Y.

Odell, Moses Fowler, a Representative from New York; born in Tarrytown, N. Y., February 24, 1818; completed preparatory studies; several years entry clerk in the New York custom-house and after securing several promotions became public appraiser; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1865); appointed navy agent at the city of New York in 1865; and served until his death in Brooklyn, N. Y., June 13, 1866.

Odell, Nathaniel Holmes, a Representative from New York; born near Tarrytown, N. Y., October 10, 1828; completed preparatory studies; engaged in boating on the North river; served several years in the state assembly; engaged in the banking business in Tarrytown; elected three times county treasurer of Westchester county; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); postmaster of Tarrytown 1887–1892, and 1894–1898; died in Tarrytown, N. Y., October 30, 1904.

O'Donnell, James, a Representative from Michigan; born in Norwalk, Conn., March 25, 1840; moved with his parents to Michigan in 1848; pursued preparatory studies and learned the printer's trade; enlisted as a private in the first Michigan infantry, and served two years; participated in the first battle of Bull Run; elected recorder of the city of Jackson for four terms, 1863–1866; established the Jackson Daily Citizen in 1865; Republican presidential elector in 1872; mayor of Jackson in 1876 and 1877; appointed in 1878 as aid-de-camp on the staff of Governor Crosswell, with the rank of colonel; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fifty-first, and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1893); returned to Jackson, Mich., and devoted his time to the publication of the Jackson Daily Citizen; disposed of his paper and retired in 1910.

O'Ferrall, Charles Triplett, a Representative from Virginia; born in Brucetown, Frederick county, Va., October 21, 1840; appointed clerk pro tempore of the circuit court of Morgan county, Va., in 1855; elected clerk in 1857; in May, 1861, enlisted in the Confederate cavalry as a private; passed through all the grades from sergeant to colonel, and at the surrender of Lee was in command of all the Confederate cavalry in the Shenandoah valley; studied law in Washington college, Lexington, Va.; was graduated in 1869 and located in Harrisonburg; member of the general assembly of Virginia 1871–1873; judge of the county court of Rockingham county 1874–1880; Democratic state canvasser 1880–1883; Democratic nominee for Congress in 1882, and was seated May 5, 1884, after contesting the claims of John Paul; was reelected to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from May 5, 1884, to March 3, 1895; governor of the state of Virginia January 1, 1894, to January 1, 1898; died in Richmond, Va., September 22, 1905.

Ogden, Aaron, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Elizabethtown, N. J., December 3, 1756; was graduated from Nassau Hall (Princeton) in 1773; served in the Revolutionary army; studied law and was admitted to the bar; presidential elector in 1800; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Schureman, and served from February 26, 1801, to March 3, 1803; governor of New Jersey in 1812; died in Jersey City, N. J., April 19, 1839.

Ogden, David A., a Representative from New York; born in Morristown, N. J., January 10, 1770; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar and began practice in Madrid, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives 1814–1815; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); died in Montreal, Canada, June 9, 1829.

Ogden, Henry Warren, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Abingdon, Va., October 21, 1842; moved with parents to Warrensburg, Mo., in 1851; attended the common schools; entered the Confederate service and served through the war; first lieutenant of company D, sixteenth Missouri infantry, and afterwards on the staff of Brigadier-General Lewis, second brigade, Parsons's division of Missouri infantry; paroled at Shreveport on the 8th of June, 1865; remained in Louisiana and engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the constitutional convention in 1879 and of the house of representatives 1880; reelected in 1884, and was speaker of the house from 1884 to 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Newton C. Blanchard; reelected to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses, and served from May 12, 1894, to March 3, 1899; died in Benton, La., July 23, 1905.

Ogle, Alexander, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Frederick, Md., August 10, 1765; completed preparatory studies; moved to Somerset, Pa.; member of the state legislature 1806–1812; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); died in Somerset, Pa., October 14, 1852.

Ogle, Andrew Jackson, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Somerset, Pa., March 25, 1822; completed preparatory studies; elected prothonotary of Somerset county in 1843; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-second Congress; appointed chargé d'affaires to Denmark January 22, 1852, but died a few days later in Somerset, Pa., Oct. 14, 1852.

Ogle, Charles, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Somerset, Pa., in 1798; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar and began practice in Somerset; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1843); reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress, but died in Somerset, Pa., May 10, 1841, before the assembling of the Congress.

Oglesby, Richard James, a Senator from Illinois; born in Floydshurg, Oldham county, Ky., July 25, 1824; moved with his parents in 1836 to Decatur, Ill.; received a limited schooling; studied law and in 1845 was admitted to practice; served in the Mexican war; spent two years mining in California; returned to Illinois; elected a state senator in 1860 and served one session, when he resigned to enter the Union army; colonel of eighth Illinois infantry April 25, 1861; brigadier-general of volunteers March 21, 1862; major general November 29, 1862; resigned May 26, 1884; governor of Illinois 1864–1869; again elected in 1872, but resigned January 13, 1873, having been elected to the United States Senate; served in the Senate from March 4, 1873, to March 3, 1879; died in Elkhart, Ill., April 24, 1899.

O'Grady, James M. E., a Representative from New York; born in Rochester, N. Y., March 31, 1863; attended the Rochester schools; was graduated from the University of Rochester in 1885; admitted to the bar in the fall of 1885; school commissioner of the city of Rochester 1887–1892; member of the state assembly 1893–1898, and speaker of the assembly 1897–1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901).

O'Hara, James E., a Representative from North Carolina; born in New York City February 26, 1844; pursued an academic course; studied law in North Carolina and at Howard university; admitted to the bar in June, 1871; engrossing clerk in the constitutional convention of North Carolina in 1868; also in the legislature of 1868–1869; member of the state constitutional convention of 1875; chairman of the board of commissioners for the county of Halifax 1872–1876; claimed to have been elected to the Forty-sixth Congress, but the certificate of election was given to William H. Kitchin; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); died in Newbern, N. C., September 16, 1905.

Ohliger, Lewis P., a Representative from Ohio; born in Rheinpfalz, Bavaria, January 3, 1843; emigrated to America in October, 1854, and located in Canton, Ohio, in 1857; moved to Wooster, Ohio, and engaged in the wholesale drug and grocery business; elected county treasurer in 1875 and 1877; Democratic presidential elector in 1884; appointed postmaster of Wooster in November, 1885, and served until February, 1890; appointed a trustee of the Wooster and Lodi railway; delegate to the Democratic national convention of 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John G. Warwick, and served from December 5, 1892, to March 3, 1893; internal-revenue collector of the Cleveland, Ohio, district 1893–1898.

Olcott, Jacob Van Vechten, a Representative from New York; born in New York City May 17, 1856; attended the public schools, the College of the City of New York, and Columbia college law school, and was graduated from the latter in May, 1877; was admitted to the bar May 17, 1877, and commenced practice in New York City; member of the board of civil-service commissioners of New York City 1895, 1896, and 1897; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in New York City.

Olcott, Simeon, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Bolton, Conn., October 1, 1735; was graduated from Yale college in 1761; studied law, and began practice in Charlestown, N. H.; appointed chief justice of the court of common pleas in 1784; judge of the superior court in 1790, and in 1795 chief judge of the court; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Samuel Livermore and served from June 17, 1801, to March 3, 1805; died in Charlestown, N. H., February 22, 1815.

Oldfield, William Allan, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Franklin, Izard county, Ark., February 4, 1874; attended the common schools of the county and was graduated from Arkansas college, Batesville, in 1896; studied law; was admitted to the bar; elected prosecuting attorney in September, 1902, and reelected in 1904; enlisted as a private in Company M, second regiment Arkansas infantry, war with Spain; was promoted to first sergeant of the same company, and later to first lieutenant, and was mustered out with that rank in March, 1899; elected to the Sixty-first and Sixty-second Congresses (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1913).

Olds, Edson Baldwin, a Representative from Ohio; native of Vermont; completed preparatory studies, was graduated from the medical department of the university of Pennsylvania in 1829, and practiced medicine in Circleville, Ohio; served several years as a member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1855); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-fourth Congress; arrested for disloyalty and imprisoned in Fort Lafayette in 1862; while in prison was elected a member of the Ohio state house of representatives, was released from prison and served; member and presiding officer of the Ohio state senate; died in Lancaster, Ohio, January 24, 1869.

Olin, Abram Baldwin, a Representative from New York; born in Shaftsbury, Vt., September 1, 1812; was graduated from Williams college, Massachusetts, in 1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar and in 1838 began practice in Troy, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1863); judge of the supreme court of the District of Columbia 1863–1878; died in Washington, D. C., July 7, 1879.

Olin, Gideon, a Representative from Vermont; born in East Greenwich, R. I., October 22, 1743; moved to Vermont; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; for several terms a member of the state house of representatives and served one term as speaker; judge of the Bennington county court; elected to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1803– March 3, 1807); died in Shaftsbury, Vt., August 6, 1822.

Olin, Henry, a Representative from Vermont; born in Shaftsbury, Vt., May 6, 1768; attended common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; moved to Leicester, Vt., in 1788; member of the state house of representatives for several terms, 1799-1825; delegate to the state constitutional conventions of 1814, 1822, and 1828; associate judge of the Addison county court 1801-1806 and 1810-1824; elected to the Eighteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Charles Rich, and served from December 13, 1824, to March 3, 1825; died in Salisbury, Vt., August 16, 1837.

Oliver, Addison Samuel, a Representative from Iowa; born in Washington county, Pa., May 4, 1833; was graduated from Washington college in 1850; moved to Arkansas, where he taught school; returned to Pennsylvania, studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1857 in western Iowa; member of the Iowa state house of representatives in 1863 and the state senate in 1865; elected judge of the fourth judicial circuit in 1868 and twice reelected; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); became a resident of Onawa, Iowa, with winter residence in Loma Linda, Cal.; died in Onawa, Iowa, July 7, 1912.

Oliver, Andrew, a Representative from New York; born in Springfield, N. Y.; January 16, 1815; was graduated from Union college in 1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar and in 1838 began practice in Penn Yan, N. Y.; judge of the court of common pleas 1843-1847; elected judge of the surrogate and county courts in 1846; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); defeated as the American candidate for reelection to the Thirty-fifth Congress; county judge and surrogate 1872-1877; died in Penn Yan, N. Y., March 6, 1889.

Oliver, George Tenner, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Ireland, during a visit of his parents abroad, January 26, 1848; was graduated from Bethany college, West Virginia, in 1868; studied law, was admitted to the bar of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, in 1871, and practiced for over ten years in Pittsburgh, Pa.; retired from practice in 1881 and engaged in steel manufacturing until 1891, when he disposed of his manufacturing interests; engaged in newspaper publication in 1900; published the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times and Pittsburgh Chronical-Telegraph; president of the Pittsburgh central board of education 1881-1884; presidential elector in 1884; delegate to the Republican national convention of 1904; declined the appointment to the United States Senate in 1904 to succeed Matthew Stanley Quay, deceased; was elected United States Senator, March 17, 1909, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Philander C. Knox; was reelected for the full term of six years, beginning March 4, 1911.

Oliver, Mordecai, a Representative from Missouri; born in Anderson county, Ky., October 22, 1819; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1842 began practice in Richmond, Mo.; circuit attorney for the fifth judicial circuit in 1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857).

Oliver, William M., a Representative from New York; native of Springfield, N. Y.; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar and began practice in Penn Yan; appointed first judge of the court of common pleas for Yates county in 1823, and reappointed in 1838; state senator and lieutenant governor in 1830; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843).

Olmsted, Marlin Edgar, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ulysses township, Potter county, Pa.; attended the common schools and Coudersport academy; assistant corporation clerk and promoted to corporation clerk in charge of collection of taxes from corporations under Pennsylvania's revenue system; studied law in Harrisburg and was admitted to the bar of Dauphin county November 25, 1878; elected to represent Dauphin county in the proposed constitutional convention in 1891; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

O'Neill, John Henry, a Representative from Indiana; born in Newberry, S. C., October 30, 1837; attended country schools, and was graduated from the Indiana state university in 1862; read law and was admitted to the bar; was graduated from the law department of Michigan university in 1864; located in Washington, Ind., the same year; represented Daviess county in the state legislature in 1866; appointed prosecuting attorney for the eleventh judicial circuit in 1873; elected to the office in 1874, but resigned before his term was completed; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); resumed the practice of law in Washington, Ind.; died there July 15, 1907.

O'Neil, Joseph Henry, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Fall River, Mass., March 23, 1853; one year later his parents moved to Boston; attended the common schools; member of the Boston school committee, 1874-1878; member of the Massachusetts house of representatives 1878-1882 and 1883-1884; member of the board of directors for public institutions for five years, was chairman of the board the last eighteen months; city clerk of Boston, 1887-1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); appointed assistant treasurer of the United States at Boston by President Cleveland; president of the Federal Trust company of Boston.

O'Neill, Charles, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 21, 1821; was graduated from Dickinson college; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; member of the state house of representatives 1850-1852 and 1860; of the state senate in 1853; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1871); and reelected to the Forty-third and to the ten succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1873, until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., November 25, 1893.

O'Neill, John, a Representative from Ohio; born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 17, 1821; was graduated from St. John's college, Maryland, studied law, was admitted to the bar and in 1842 began practice; moved to Muskingum county, Ohio, in 1844; elected prosecuting attorney of Muskingum county in 1845; held various county offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); died in Zanesville, Ohio, May 25, 1905.

O'Neill, John Joseph, a Representative from Missouri; born in St. Louis, Mo., June 25, 1846, of Irish parents; attended the common schools; engaged in manufacturing; elected to the state legislature from St. Louis in 1872, and reelected in 1874 and 1876; elected to the municipal assembly in 1879 and 1881; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1889, and March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); contested the election of Charles F. Joy in the Fifty-third Congress, and was seated April 3, 1894; resumed the practice of law; died in St. Louis, Mo., February 19, 1898.

O'Reilly, Daniel, a Representative from New York; born in Limerick, Ireland, June 3, 1838; pursued an academic course; came to the United States with his parents in July, 1856, and settled in Brooklyn, N. Y.; member of the Brooklyn board of aldermen 1873–1875 and 1878–1879; elected as an Independent Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); died in Bayville, L. I., September 23, 1911.

Ormsby, Stephen, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Ireland in 1759; came to Philadelphia when a boy; pursued classical studies; studied law; was admitted to the bar and began practice in Danville, Ky.; judge of the circuit court; elected to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1813); defeated for reelection to the Thirteenth Congress by John Simpson, who was soon afterwards killed; elected to the Thirteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John Simpson; reelected to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from May 24, 1813, to March 3, 1817; died in Jefferson county, Ky., in the spring of 1844.

Orr, Alexander Dalrymple, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Loudoun county, Va., in 1765; moved to Mason county, Ky.; received a limited schooling; served as a member of the state house of representatives in 1792; elected to the Second, Third, and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1791–March 3, 1797); died in Paris, Ky., June 21, 1835.

Orr, Benjamin, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Bedford, N. H., December 1, 1772; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1798; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1801 began practice in Topsham, Me.; moved to Brunswick; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); died in Brunswick, Me., September 5, 1828.

Orr, Jackson, a Representative from Iowa; born in Washington Courthouse, Ohio, September 21, 1832; completed preparatory studies; moved to Iowa and served as captain in the tenth Iowa infantry in the Union army, August 15, 1861, to August 8, 1863; member of the state legislature in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1875); moved to Denver, Colo., and practiced law.

Orr, James Lawrence, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Claytonville, S. C., May 12, 1822; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1843 began practice in Anderson, S. C.; engaged in newspaper work; member of the state house of representatives in 1844; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1859); was speaker of the House of Representatives in the Thirty-fifth Congress; served in the Confederate congress; elected governor of South Carolina as a Republican; United States circuit judge; delegate to the Republican national convention in Philadelphia in 1864; minister to Russia; died in St. Petersburg, Russia, May 6, 1873.

Orr, Robert, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Westmoreland county, Pa., in 1785; attended the public schools; served in the war of 1812; served two terms as a member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1829); died in Kittanning, Pa., May 29, 1876.

Orth, Godlove Steiner, a Representative from Indiana; born in Lebanon, Pa., April 22, 1817; attended the Gettysburg college, Pennsylvania; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Indiana; member of the state senate in 1843–1848, and served one year as president; presidential elector in 1848; member of the peace conference in 1861; served as captain of a company of volunteers during the Civil war; elected to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1871), and reelected to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); appointed minister to Vienna; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); died in Lafayette, Ind., December 16, 1882.

Osborne, Thomas Ward, a Senator from Florida; born in Scotch Plains, N. J., March 9, 1836; moved with his parents to New York in 1842, and located in Wilna; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; entered the Union army as captain in 1861; served until the close of the war; attained the rank of colonel; located in Florida, and resumed the practice of law; held several local offices; moved to Pensacola; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and served from June 18, 1868, to March 3, 1873; died in New York City December 18, 1898.

Osborne, Edwin Sylvanus, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Bethany, Pa., August 7, 1839; attended the University of Northern Pennsylvania and the New York State and National law school; was graduated in 1860; practiced law in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; served in the Union army during the war; held the rank of major-general, and was commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, in 1883; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1891); died in Washington, D. C., January 1, 1900; interment in the Arlington national cemetery.

Osborne, John Eugene, a Representative from Wyoming; born in Westport, Essex county, N. Y., June 9, 1858; was graduated from the high school of Westport; studied medicine, and was graduated from the University of Vermont in the class of 1880; moved to Rawlins, Wyo., and engaged in the practice of medicine; later engaged in raising live stock upon the open range; elected in 1883 to the Wyoming territorial legislature; chairman of the territorial penitentiary building commission in 1888; mayor of the city of Rawlins the same year; an alternate in the Democratic national convention of 1892; governor of Wyoming in 1893; renominated but declined; member of the bimetallic Democratic national committee for the State of Wyoming in 1895; chairman of the Wyoming delegation in the national convention in Chicago in 1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); engaged in banking and stock raising, Rawlins, Wyo.

Osborne, Thomas Burr, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Fairfield, Conn., July 8, 1798; was graduated from Yale college in 1817; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Fairfield, Conn.; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843); moved to New Haven, Conn., in 1848, and was a professor in the Yale law school; died in New Haven, Conn., September 2, 1869.

Osgood, Gayton Pickman, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Salem, Mass., July 4, 1797; was graduated from Harvard college in 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Salem; moved to North Andover in 1819; member of the state house of representatives 1829–1831; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); died in Andover, Mass., June 26, 1861.

Osgood, Samuel, a Delegate from Massachusetts; born in Andover, Mass., February 3, 1748; was graduated from Harvard college in 1770; studied theology; served several years as a member of the state house of representatives; member of the Provincial congress; entered the Revolutionary army as captain and left the service as colonel and assistant quartermaster; Delegate from Massachusetts in the Continental Congress 1780–1784; first commissioner of the United States Treasury 1785–1789; Postmaster-General 1789–1791; moved to New York City; member of the state house of representatives 1800–1802; supervisor of New York 1801–1803; naval officer at the port of New York, where he died August 12, 1813.

Osmer, John H., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in England, January 22, 1833; emigrated to America with his parents when a small boy and located in Harrisburg, Pa.; moved to Center county, Pa., a few years later; received a limited schooling; pursued an academic course; began the study of law in 1856 and in 1858 was admitted to the bar and began practicing in Elmira N. Y.; moved to Franklin county, Pa., in 1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); delegate to the Republican national convention of 1876; resumed the practice of law in Franklin, Pa.

Otero, Mariano S., a Delegate from New Mexico; born in Peralta, Valencia county, N. Mex., August 29, 1844; attended the University of St. Louis, Mo.; engaged in commercial pursuits and stock raising; probate judge 1871–1879; nominated by the Democratic convention as Delegate to the Forty-fourth Congress, but declined; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); died in Albuquerque, Bernalillo county, N. Mex., February 1, 1904.

Otero, Miguel Antonio, a Delegate from New Mexico; born in Valencia, N. Mex., June 21, 1829; was graduated from St. Louis university, Missouri; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1852 began practice in Albuquerque, N. Mex.; member of the territorial house of representatives; declined the appointment of district attorney; attorney general for the territory; elected a Delegate to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1861).

Otey, Peter Johnson, a Representative from Virginia; born in Lynchburg, Va., December 22, 1840; attended the Virginia military institute and was graduated July 1, 1860; while a cadet he participated in the defense of Virginia in the John Brown raid; entered the profession of engineering on the Virginia & Kentucky railroad; in April, 1861, he joined the Confederate army and remained in the infantry until the close of the war; organized and built the Lynchburg & Durham railroad; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1895, until his death in Lynchburg, Va., May 4, 1902.

Otis, Harrison Gray, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., October 8, 1765; was graduated from Harvard college in 1783; studied law; in 1786 was admitted to the bar and began practice in Boston; served several years as a member of the state house of representatives and three years as speaker; was state senator 1805–1813 and served as its president; elected as a Federalist to the Fifth and Sixth Congresses (March 4, 1797–March 3, 1801); district attorney for Massachusetts; member of the Hartford convention of 1814; judge of the court of common pleas 1814–1818; overseer of Harvard college 1810–1823; fellow of Harvard 1823–1825; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1817, to May 30, 1822, when he resigned; defeated as the Federal candidate for governor of Massachusetts in 1823; mayor of Boston 1829–1832; died in Boston, Mass., October 28, 1848.

Otis, John, a Representative from Maine; born in Leeds, Me., August 3, 1801; was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1823; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Hallowell, Me.; served several years in both branches of the state legislature; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); died in Hallowell, Me., October 17, 1856.

Otis, John Grant, a Representative from Kansas; born near Danby, Rutland county, Vt., February 10, 1838; pursued an academic course at Burr seminary, Manchester, Vt.; attended Williams college, Massachusetts, and Harvard law school; admitted to the bar of Rutland county, Vt., in the spring of 1859; moved to Topeka, Kans., in May, 1859; served in the second regiment of volunteers at the time of the Price raid; engaged in the dairy business; state agent of the grange from 1873 to 1875, and the state lecturer from 1889 to 1891; elected as the People's Party candidate to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893).

Otis, Norton Prentiss, a Representative from New York; born in Halifax, Vt., March 18, 1840; attended the public schools of Albany and Yonkers, N. Y.; connected with manufacturing in various capacities; elected mayor of Yonkers, N. Y., in 1880; elected to the state assembly in 1883; president of the New York state commission to the Paris exposition of 1900; president of St. John's riverside hospital, of Yonkers; defeated for Congress in 1900; elected to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905); died in Yonkers, N. Y., February 20, 1905.

Otis, Samuel Allyne, a Delegate from Massachusetts; born in Barnstable, Mass., November 24, 1740; was graduated from Harvard college in 1759; became a merchant in Boston; state representative in 1776, 1784-1787; member of the board of war 1776; collector of clothing for the Continental army in 1777; member of the Massachusetts constitutional convention; took an active part in Revolutionary affairs; Delegate from Massachusetts to the Continental Congress 1787-88; for thirty years secretary of the United States Senate from its first session in 1789, and died, while holding the position, in Washington, D. C., April 22, 1814.

Otjen, Theobald, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in West China, St. Clair county, Mich., October 27, 1851; attended the Marine City (Mich.) academy and a private school in Detroit; employed as foreman in the rolling mill of the Milwaukee Iron company in Milwaukee 1870-1872; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, March 25, 1875; admitted to the bar at Ann Arbor; practiced law in Detroit until the fall of 1883, when he moved to Milwaukee; member of the common council of the city of Milwaukee in 1887; reelected for three successive terms and served seven years in all; trustee of the Milwaukee public library 1887-1891; trustee of the public museum 1891-1894; candidate for comptroller of the city in April, 1892, but defeated; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1907); defeated for the Sixtieth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Milwaukee, Wis.

Oury, Granville H., a Delegate from Arizona; born in Abingdon, Va., March 12, 1825; moved to Missouri in 1836; commenced the study of law in 1846 and was admitted to the bar in Bowling Green, Mo., in 1848; moved to Texas the same year, and in 1849 removed to California and engaged in mining; took up his residence in Arizona in 1856; commenced the practice of law in 1865; elected to the territorial legislature in 1866, 1873, and 1875; elected speaker of the house the first two sessions; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885).

Outhwaite, Joseph Hodson, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cleveland, Ohio, December 5, 1841; attended the public schools of Zanesville, Ohio; taught two years in the high school of that city; principal of a grammar school in Columbus, Ohio, three years; read law while teaching and was admitted to the bar in 1866; practiced law from 1867 to 1871 at Osceola, Mo.; elected prosecuting attorney of Franklin county, Ohio, in 1874, and again in 1876; trustee of the County children's home 1879-1883; trustee of the sinking fund of the city of Columbus in 1883; reappointed in 1884 for a term of five years; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1895); appointed a member of the commission to codify the laws of the United States; civilian member of the board of ordnance and fortifications 1895-1899; died in Columbus, Ohio, December 9, 1907.

Outlaw, David, a Representative from North Carolina; native of Bertie county, N. C.; was graduated from the North Carolina university in 1824; studied law, was admitted to the bar and began practice in Windsor, N. C.; served three years as a member of the state house of representatives; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1853); defeated for the Thirty-third Congress.

Outlaw, George, a Representative from North Carolina; native of Bertie county, N. C.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; elected a member of the house of commons; member of the state legislature in 1796-1797, and of the senate 1802, 1806-1808, 1810-1814, 1817, 1821, and 1822; elected to the Eighteenth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Hutchins G. Burton, and served from January 19, 1825, to March 3, 1825; died August 15, 1835.

Overman, Lee Slater, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Salisbury, Rowan county, January 3, 1854; was graduated from Trinity college, North Carolina, June, 1874; taught school two years; private secretary to Governor Zebulon B. Vance in 1877-1878, and private secretary to Governor Thomas J. Jarvis in 1879; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Salisbury, N. C., in 1880; member of the legislature, sessions of 1883, 1885, 1887, 1893, and 1901; choice of the Democratic caucus for speaker in 1887, and defeated by one vote; speaker of the house of representatives, session of 1893; president of the North Carolina railroad company in 1894; choice of the Democratic caucus for United States Senator in 1895, and defeated; president of the Democratic state convention in 1900; president of the Salisbury savings bank; member of the board of trustees of the state university; chosen presidential elector for the state at large in 1900; elected to the United States Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1903; reelected in 1909 for the term ending March 3, 1915.

Overstreet, James, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Barnwell district, S. C., February 11, 1773; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; elected to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1823); died near Salisbury, N. C., May 24, 1822; interment in China Grove, N. C.

Overstreet, James Whetstone, a Representative from Georgia; born in Screven county, Ga., August 28, 1866; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Mercer university, Mercer, Ga., in 1888; studied law in Augusta, and was admitted to the bar in April, 1892; served one term in the legislature; member of the Democratic state executive committee in 1905-1906; in December, 1902, was appointed judge of the city court of Sylvania, Ga.; resigned October 1, 1906; and on October 3 was elected to the Fifty-ninth Congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rufus E. Lester, and served from December 3, 1906, to March 4, 1907; resumed the practice of law in Sylvania, Ga.

Overstreet, Jesse, a Representative from Indiana; born in Franklin, Ind., December 14, 1859; was graduated from the Franklin high school in 1877, and from Franklin college in 1882; studied law under the direction of his father and in 1886 was admitted to the bar and began practice in Franklin; served as member of the Republican state central committee of Indiana in the campaign of 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1907); defeated for election to the Sixty-first Congress; died in Indianapolis, Ind., May 27, 1910; interment in Columbus, Ind.

Overton, Edward, jr., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Towanda, Pa., February 4, 1836; was graduated from Princeton college in 1856; studied law and was admitted to the bar in May, 1858; practiced in Towanda; entered the Union Army in September, 1861, as major of the fiftieth regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers; promoted to lieutenant colonel in 1863, and from that time commanded the regiment until mustered out October, 1864; served as register in bankruptcy from 1867 until 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1881); died in Towanda, Pa., September 18, 1903.

Overton, Walter Hampden, a Representative from Louisiana; born near Louisa Courthouse, Va., in 1783; moved with his father to North Carolina in infancy, and to Tennessee in 1801; attended the public schools; entered the army May 3, 1808, as first lieutenant of the seventh infantry; captain December 3, 1810; promoted February 21, 1814, to be major of the third rifles; transferred to the artillery corps May 17, 1815; brevetted lieutenant colonel December 23, 1814, "for gallant conduct in the battle of New Orleans, La."; resigned October 31, 1815; located in Louisiana and engaged in planting; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831); died near Alexandria, La., January 4, 1846.

Owen, Allen Ferdinand, a Representative from Georgia; born in Wilkes county, N. C., October 31, 1816; moved to Talbotton, Ga.; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); consul general to Habana; died in Talbotton, Ga., April 7, 1865.

Owen, George Washington, a Representative from Alabama; born in Brunswick county, Va., in 1798; completed preparatory studies; moved to Mobile, Ala., and was mayor; elected to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1829); collector of the port of Mobile in 1829; died in Mobile, Ala., August 18, 1837.

Owen, James, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Bladen county, N. C., December 7, 1784; received a limited schooling; member of the state house of representatives 1808–1811; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); died in Wilmington, N. C., September 4, 1865.

Owen, Robert Dale, a Representative from Indiana; born in Glasgow, Scotland, November 9, 1801; pursued classical studies; came to the United States with his parents in 1823 and located in New Harmony, Ind., and aided in the establishment of a social community; was editor of the Free Enquirer, published in New York 1828–1831; returned to New Harmony in 1832; member of the state house of representatives 1835–1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); defeated for reelection to the Thirtieth Congress; appointed chargé d'affaires at Naples in 1853, and minister 1855–1858; died in his summer home on Lake George, June 25, 1877.

Owen, Robert Latham, a Senator from Oklahoma; born in Lynchburg, Va., February 2, 1856; attended private schools in Lynchburg, Va., and Baltimore, Md., and was graduated from Washington and Lee university, Lexington, Va., in 1877; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Virginia and Oklahoma; member of the Democratic national committee, 1892–1896; vice chairman of the Democratic campaign committee in Oklahoma in 1906; nominated June 8, 1907, as the choice of the Democracy of Oklahoma for the United States Senate in a state-wide primary; appointed, and subsequently elected to the United States Senate, and began service December 11, 1907; term to expire, under the election, March 3, 1913.

Owen, William Dale, a Representative from Indiana; born in Bloomington, Ind., September 6, 1846; attended the Indiana state university in 1865, and entered upon the study of law; relinquished law for the ministry; pastor of a Christian church until 1878; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1891); secretary of state in 1894.

Owens, George Welshman, a Representative from Georgia; born in Savannah, Ga., August 29, 1786; attended school in Harrow, England, and was graduated from the University of Cambridge; studied law in the office of Mr. Chitty, in London; returned to Savannah, Ga., was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Savannah; elected as a Unionist to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835–March 3, 1839); died in Savannah, Ga., March 2, 1856.

Owens, James W., a Representative from Ohio; born in Springfield township, Franklin county, Ind., October 24, 1837; entered Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, in 1859, and was graduated in 1862; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; enlisted in the Union Army as private in the twentieth Ohio volunteer infantry, and served during the first three months' service; reenlisted and was made first lieutenant company A, eighty-sixth Ohio volunteer infantry, and on the reorganization of that regiment was made captain of company K; attended law school in Ann Arbor, Mich.; elected prosecuting attorney of Licking county in 1867, and reelected in 1869; elected to the state senate in 1875 and 1877; was president of the senate; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1893); died in Norwalk, Ohio, March 30, 1900.

Owens, William Claiborne, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Scott county, Ky., October 17, 1849; was graduated from the law department of Columbia college, New York, in 1872; elected county attorney for Scott county in 1874, and resigned in 1877; served five terms in the Kentucky legislature, one term as speaker of the house of representatives; Democratic elector in 1880, and delegate to the Chicago convention in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897).

Owsley, Bryan Young, a Representative from Kentucky; born near Crab Orchard, Ky., August 19, 1798; attended the schools of Lincoln county; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Jamestown, Ky., and was clerk of the circuit court in 1827; presidential elector on the Harrison ticket in 1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1845); register of the United States land office with residence in Frankfort, 1845–1849; died in Frankfort, Ky., October 27, 1849.

Paca, William, a Delegate from Maryland; born in Wye Hall, Harford county, Md.; October 31, 1740; was graduated from Philadelphia college in 1759; studied law in Annapolis, Md., and in the Middle Temple, London, England, and was admitted to the bar; returned home and began practice in Annapolis; member of the provincial assembly 1771–1774; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1774–1779; signer of the Declaration of Independence; state senator 1777–1779; chief justice of Maryland 1778–1780; chief justice of the court of appeals 1780–1782; governor of Maryland 1782–1786; was influential in establishing Washington college in Chestertown, Md., in 1786; delegate to the state convention in 1788; United States judge for the district of Maryland from 1789 to 1799; died in "Wye Hall," Queen Anne county, Md., October 23, 1799.

Pacheco, Romualdo, a Representative from California; born in Santa Barbara, Cal., October 31, 1831; was instructed by private tutors; engaged in nautical pursuits, subsequently in agriculture; member of the state senate in 1851 and again in 1861; member of state house of representatives in 1853–1855 and 1868–1870; county judge 1855–1859; state treasurer 1863–1866; lieutenant-governor in 1871–1875; became governor when Governor Booth was elected to the United States Senate in 1875; nominated on the Republican ticket for the Forty-fifth Congress and received the certificate of election and served from March 4, 1877, to February 7, 1878, when he was succeeded by Peter D. Wigington, who contested his election; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); minister to Guatemala under President Harrison and retired in 1893; died in Oakland, Cal., January 23, 1899.

Packard, Jasper, a Representative from Indiana; born in Austintown, Mahoning county, Ohio, February 1, 1832; accompanied his parents to Indiana in 1835; was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1855; taught school; located in Laporte, Ind.; studied law, and in 1861 admitted to the bar; entered the Union Army; private in forty-eighth Indiana infantry October 24, 1861; first lieutenant January 1, 1862; captain September 12, 1862; lieutenant colonel one hundred and twenty-eighth Indiana infantry March 17, 1864; colonel June 26, 1865; brevet brigadier general March 13, 1865, "for meritorious service"; mustered out April 10, 1866; auditor of Laporte county two years; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1879); was commandant of the state soldiers' home, Lafayette, Ind., and died there December 13, 1898.

Packer, Asa, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Groton, Conn., December 29, 1805; attended the public schools; moved to Springfield, Pa., in 1820; learned the trade of a carpenter; moved to Mauch Chunk, Pa., in 1833; became interested in the production of coal and in railroads; member of the state house of representatives 1842–1843; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1857); founded the Lehigh university; delegate to the national Democratic convention in New York in 1868; died in Philadelphia, Pa., May 17, 1879.

Packer, Horace Billings, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wellsboro, Pa., October 11, 1851; attended the Wellsboro academy and Alfred university, New York; studied law; was admitted to the bar of Tioga county, August 26, 1873; district attorney 1875–1879; elected to the state house of representatives in 1884, and re-elected in 1886; state senator 1888–1892; presided over the Republican state conventions of 1893 and 1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1901).

Packer, John Black, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Sunbury, Pa., March 21, 1824; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Sunbury; district attorney 1845–1847; served in the state legislature of Pennsylvania 1850–1851; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1877); declined a renomination; died in Sunbury, Pa., July 7, 1891.

Paddock, Algernon Sidney, a Senator from Nebraska; born in Glens Falls, Warren county, N. Y., November 9, 1830; pursued an academic course; studied law; moved to Nebraska in 1857 and was admitted to the bar and practiced in Omaha; appointed territorial secretary by President Lincoln in 1861, which office he held until the state was admitted into the Union in 1867; performed the duties of acting governor part of this time; located in Beatrice, Nebr.; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1881; appointed a member of the Utah commission 1882–1886; again elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1887, to March 3, 1893; died in Beatrice, Nebr., October 17, 1897.

Padgett, Lemuel Phillips, a Representative from Tennessee; born November 28, 1855, in Columbia, Tenn.; attended private schools of the county and was graduated from Erskine college, Due West, S. C., in 1876; began the study of law in September, 1876, and was admitted to the bar in March, 1877; began practice in Columbia, Tenn., in January, 1879; Democratic presidential elector in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the state senate in 1898 and served during the term; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Page, Carroll Smalley, a Senator from Vermont; born in Westfield, Vt., January 10, 1843; pursued an academic course; engaged in business in Hyde Park, Vt.; president of the Lamoille county savings bank and trust company and of the Lamoille county national bank, both of Hyde Park; director of the Swanton savings bank and trust company, of Swanton, Vt., and of several other corporations; state representative 1869–1872, and state senator 1874–1876; member of the Republican state committee 1872-1890, and chairman 1886-1890; delegate in the Republican national convention in 1880; savings bank examiner 1884-1888; governor of the state 1890-1892; elected to the United States Senate October 21, 1908, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Redfield Proctor, for the term ending March 3, 1911, and reelected for the term ending March 3, 1917.

Page, Charles Harrison, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Gloucester, Providence county, R. I., July 19, 1843; attended the public schools; enlisted in the Union Army as a private in company A, twelfth regiment Rhode Island volunteers; mustered out July 29, 1863; went to Illinois and resumed studies in the Illinois state normal school at Bloomington and the Southern Illinois college at Carbondale; returned to Rhode Island in 1869; taught school in Scituate until the spring of 1870, when he entered the law department of the University of Albany, N. Y., and was graduated in 1871; admitted to the bar the same year; returned to Rhode Island and was admitted to the bar of that state in 1872; member of the state house of representatives 1872-1873; state senator in 1874 and 1875, 1884-1885, and 1890; candidate for attorney-general in 1879; member of the National Democratic conventions of 1880, 1884, and 1888; nominated for Congress in 1884, and, after a contest, the seat was declared vacant; was elected in a special election to the Forty-ninth Congress and served from February 25, 1887, to March 3, 1887; elected to Fifty-second Congress at a special election held February 21, 1891; reelected to the Fifty-third Congress at a special election April 5, 1893; died in Providence, R. I., July 21, 1912.

Page, Henry, a Representative from Maryland; born in Princess Anne, Somerset county, Md., June 28, 1841; received preparatory instruction at the school of Anthony Bolivar, West Chester, Pa.; entered the University of Virginia and remained until the breaking out of the war in 1861; major in the Union army; entered upon the study of law, and was admitted to the bar in 1864; began practice in Princess Anne, Somerset county, Md.; member of the constitutional convention of 1867; state attorney for Somerset county 1870-1884; elector on the Democratic ticket in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1891, until September 3, 1892, when he resigned to accept a judgeship on the Maryland court of appeals; appointed chief judge of the first judicial district of Maryland in August, 1892; elected to the position in November, 1893, for a term of fifteen years; died in Princess Anne, Md., January 7, 1913.

Page, Horace Francis, a Representative from California; born in Orleans county, N. Y., October 20, 1833; attended the public schools; moved to California in 1854; a stage proprietor and mail contractor; nominated for the state senate by the Republican convention of El Dorado county in 1869, and defeated; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1883); died in San Francisco, Cal., August 23, 1890.

Page, John, a Representative from Virginia; born in "Rosewell," Gloucester county, Va., April 17, 1744; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1763; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1776; colonel in the Revolutionary army; elected as a Democrat to the First, Second, Third, and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1797; governor of Virginia 1802-1805; died in Richmond, Va., October 11, 1808.

Page, John, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Haverhill, N. H., May 21, 1787; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; member of the state legislature several years; served five years as register of deeds for Grafton county; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Isaac Hill, and served from June 8, 1836, to March 3, 1837; several years state councilor; governor of New Hampshire 1840-1842; died in Concord, N. H., September 8, 1865.

Page, Mann, a Delegate from Virginia; born in "Rosewell," Gloucester (near Matthews) county, Va., in 1749; pursued classical studies and was graduated from the college of William and Mary; removed to Mansfield, Spottsylvania county; was a Delegate to the Continental Congress in 1777; died in Mansfield, Va.

Page, Robert, a Representative from Virginia; born in Virginia in 1764; received a limited schooling; a member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Federalist to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801); died in Janesville, Va., January 1, 1840.

Page, Robert Newton, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Cary, Wake county, N. C., October 26, 1859; attended the Cary high school and Bingham military school; moved to Moore county in 1880, and engaged in the lumber business; treasurer of the Aberdeen and Asheboro railroad company; moved to Biscos, Montgomery county in 1897; elected to the legislature of 1901; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911); reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Page, Sherman, a Representative from New York; born in Connecticut May 9, 1799; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Unadilla, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives in 1827; judge of the court of common pleas in Otsego county; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); died in Unadilla, N. Y., September 27, 1853.

Paige, David Raymond, a Representative from Ohio; born in Madison, Lake county, Ohio, April 8, 1844; was graduated from Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1865; engaged in the hardware business in Akron, Ohio; county treasurer four years 1875-1879; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); died in New York City June 30, 1901.

Paine, Elijah, a Senator from Vermont; born in Brooklyn, Conn., January 21, 1757; was graduated from Harvard college in 1781; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1784; moved to Windsor, Vt.; practiced law and cultivated a farm; began a settlement at Williams-town, established a cloth factory, a saw and grist mill; member of the constitutional convention in 1786; member of the state house of representatives 1787-1791; judge of the state supreme court 1791-1795; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1795, to January, 1801, when he resigned; United States judge of the district of Vermont from 1801 until his death in Williamstown, Vt., April 28, 1842.

Paine, Ephraim, a Delegate from New York; born in Canterbury, Conn., August 19, 1730; went with parents to Nine Partners, N. Y.; pursued preparatory studies; studied medicine and practiced in Amenia, Dutchess county, N. Y.; delegate in the Provincial Congress of 1775; county judge 1778-1781; member of the council of appointment in 1780; state senator 1780-1784; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1784-1785; died in Amenia, N. Y., August 10, 1785.

Paine, Halbert Eleazer, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Chardon, Ohio, February 4, 1826; was graduated from Western Reserve college in 1845; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1848 began practice in Cleveland, Ohio; moved to Milwaukee, Wis., in 1857; entered the Union Army in May, 1861, as colonel of the fourth Wisconsin volunteers; in January, 1863, promoted to the rank of brigadier general, and in the following June lost a leg at Port Hudson; brevetted major general in March and resigned in May, 1865; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1871); died in Washington, D. C., April 7, 1905.

Paine, Robert T., a Representative from North Carolina; born in Edenton, Chowan county, N. C., February 18, 1812; attended Trinity college, Conn. studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state house of commons 1838, 1840, 1844, 1846, and 1848; colonel of a North Carolina regiment in the war with Mexico; held several local offices; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); moved to Washington county, Texas, in 1859; died in Galveston, Texas, February 8, 1872; Interment in Brenham, Tex.

Paine, Robert Treat, a Delegate from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., March 11, 1731; was graduated from Harvard college in 1749; studied theology; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Boston; moved to Taunton in 1759; member of the colonial house of representatives in 1773; delegate to the Provincial congress 1774-1775; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1774-1778; signer of the Declaration of Independence; attorney general of Massachusetts 1777-1790; member of the executive council 1779-1780; delegate to the constitutional convention in 1779; moved to Boston in 1780; judge of the supreme court of Massachusetts 1790-1804; died in Boston, Mass., May 11, 1814.

Paine, William W., a Representative from Georgia; resident of Savannah, Ga.; elected to the Forty-first Congress, upon the readmission of Georgia to representation; qualified under the act of July 6, 1868, and served from January 24, 1871, to March 3, 1871.

Palen, Rufus, a Representative from New York; born in Palenville, Greene county, N. Y., February 25, 1807; moved with parents to Fallsburg, where he received a limited schooling; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); died in New York City, April 26, 1844.

Palfrey, John Gorham, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., May 2, 1796; completed preparatory studies in Phillips academy, Exeter, N. H., and was graduated from Harvard college in 1815; studied theology and was ordained minister of Brattle Square Unitarian church, Boston, June 17, 1818; editor of the North American Review 1835-1843; state representative 1842-43; secretary of the state of Massachusetts 1844-1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); defeated as the Free Soil candidate for reelection; postmaster of Boston 1861-1867; devoted himself to literary pursuits; died in Cambridge, Mass., April 26, 1881.

Palmer, A. Mitchell, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born May 4, 1872; attended the public schools and prepared for college at the Moravian parochial school, Bethlehem, Pa.; was graduated from Swarthmore college in 1891; appointed official stenographer of the forty-third judicial district of Pennsylvania, 1892; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1893, and practiced in Stroudsburg, Pa.; director in the Scranton trust company, Stroudsburg national bank, and other financial and industrial institutions; member of the Democratic state executive committee of Pennsylvania; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Palmer, Beriah, a Representative from New York; native of New York; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state house of representatives 1792-1795; elected to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805).

Palmer, Frank Wayland, a Representative from Iowa; born in Manchester, Ind., October 11, 1827; moved with parents to Jamestown, N. Y., in boyhood, and was apprenticed to the Jamestown Journal in 1841; was joint owner and subsequently sole proprietor of the Jamestown Journal 1848-1858; member of the state assembly for two terms; moved to Dubuque, Iowa, in 1858; editor and one of the proprietors of the Dubuque Times; state printer of Iowa 1861-1869; located in Des Moines in 1861; published and owned the Iowa State Register; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1873, and purchased an interest in the Inter-Ocean and became its editor in chief; postmaster of Chicago 1877-1885; appointed public printer, Government printing office, Washington, D. C., in 1897, and served until September, 1905; died in Chicago, Ill., December 3, 1907.

Palmer, George W., a Representative from New York; born in Hoosick, N. Y., January 13, 1818; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Plattsburg, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); delegate to the national Republican convention in Baltimore in 1864.

Palmer, Henry Wilber, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Clifford, Susquehanna county, Pa., July 10, 1839; attended Wyoming seminary, Kingston, Pa.; Fort Edward institute, Fort Edward, N. Y., and the national law school of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; was graduated from the last-named institution in 1860; admitted to the bar in Peekskill, N. Y., in 1860; and in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in 1861; served in the pay department of the Union Army in the Civil war in New Orleans 1862-63; member of the constitutional convention of Pennsylvania in 1872-73; attorney general of the state 1879-1883; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1911); died in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., February 15, 1913.

Palmer, John, a Representative from New York; born in Hoosick, N. Y., in 1785; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Plattsburg in 1810; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); reelected to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); judge of the Clinton county court; died in Plattsburg, N. Y., December 8, 1840.

Palmer, John McAuley, a Senator from Illinois; born in Scott county, Ky., September 13, 1817; moved with his father to Christian county, Ky., and to Madison county, Ill., in 1831; attended the common schools of Kentucky and Illinois, and entered Alton (now Shurtleff) college in 1835, where he remained a year; taught school and studied law 1835-1838; was admitted to the bar in December, 1839, and practiced in Carlinville, Ill., 1839-1861; elected probate judge of Macoupin county in 1843 and 1847; member of the state constitutional convention of 1847; county judge 1849-1852; state senator 1852-1854; resigned in 1854, became an Independent candidate, and elected in 1855; again resigned in 1856; delegate in the convention of 1856 in Philadelphia which nominated John C. Fremont; elector on the Republican ticket in 1860; member of the peace conference in Washington in 1861; served in the Civil war; colonel of the fourteenth Illinois infantry May 25, 1861; brigadier general of volunteers December 20, 1861; major general November 29, 1862; mustered out September 1, 1866; located in Springfield, Ill., in 1867; Republican governor of Illinois in 1869-1873; supported Horace Greeley in 1872 and Samuel J. Tilden in 1876; delegate in the national Democratic convention of 1884; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1891, to March 3, 1897; resumed the practice of law; defeated candidate for President as a Gold Democrat in 1896; died in Springfield, Ill., September 25, 1900.

Palmer, Thomas Witherell, a Senator from Michigan; born in Detroit, Mich., January 25, 1830; attended the public schools and Thompson's academy in Palmer, now St. Clair, Mich., and the Michigan university; engaged in many manufacturing enterprises and in farming; served on the board of estimates of Detroit and as state senator 1879-1880; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1883, to March 3, 1889; appointed United States minister to Spain in 1889 by President Harrison, and two years later resigned; president of the World's Columbian exposition 1890-1893; retired to his Wayne county farm near Detroit, Mich.

Palmer, William Adams, a Senator from Vermont; born in Hebron, Conn., September 12, 1781; completed preparatory studies; studied law in Hebron and Chelsea, Vt., was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Danville, Vt.; served six years as member of the state house of representatives; two years as state senator; several years as clerk of the Caledonia county court; judge of the supreme court 1816-1818; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Fisk, and served from October 20, 1818, to March 3, 1825; delegate to the constitutional convention in 1828 and 1835; governor of Vermont 1831-1835; died in Danville, Vt., December 3, 1860.

Parke, Benjamin, a Delegate from Indiana Territory; born in New Jersey September 2, 1777; received a limited schooling; moved to Lexington, Ky., in 1797; studied law, and was admitted to the bar; moved to Vincennes, Indiana Territory, in 1801; attorney general of the territory 1804-1808; representative in the first territorial legislature in 1805; elected, as a Democrat, a Delegate to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses, and served from December 12, 1805, to March 1, 1808, when he resigned; territorial judge 1808-1817; judge of the United States district court for Indiana 1817-1835; died in Salem, Ind., July 12, 1835.

Parker, Abraham X., a Representative from New York; born in Granville, Addison county, Vt., November 14, 1831; attended the St. Lawrence academy and the Albany law school; was admitted to the bar in Albany, N. Y., in 1854, and practiced in Potsdam, N. Y.; served in the New York assembly 1863-1864, and as state senator 1868-1871; elector on the Republican presidential ticket in 1876; secretary of the state normal school at Potsdam; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1889); First Assistant Attorney General September 8, 1890, to March 4, 1893; returned to Potsdam, N. Y., and resumed the practice of law.

Parker, Amasa Junius, a Representative from New York; born in Sharon, Conn., June 2, 1807; moved with parents to Hudson, N. Y., in 1816; was graduated from Union college, New York, in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1828 began practice in Delhi, N. Y.; member of the state assembly 1833-1834; regent of the state university in 1835; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); vice chancellor and circuit judge, third circuit, 1844-1847; justice of the supreme court for the third district 1847-1855; appointed United States attorney for the district of New York in 1859, and was tendered the Russian mission the same year, but declined both; delegate in the state constitutional conventions of 1867 and 1868; regent of the University of the state of New York 1835-1844; one of the founders of the Albany, N. Y., law school in 1851; died in Albany, N. Y., May 13, 1890.

Parker, Andrew, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Cumberland county, Pa., May 21, 1805; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); died in Mifflintown, Pa., January 15, 1864.

Parker, Hosea Washington, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Lempster, N. H., May 30, 1833; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1859; member of the New Hampshire state legislature 1859-1860; moved to Claremont in 1860 and practiced his profession; delegate to the Democratic national convention of 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875).

Parker, Isaac, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., June 17, 1768; was graduated from Harvard college in 1786; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Castine; held several local offices; elected to the Fifth Congress (March 4, 1797–March 3, 1799); United States marshal for the district of Maine; moved to Portland, Me.; chief justice of the supreme court of Maine 1814–1820; professor of law in Harvard university 1816–1827; died in Boston, Mass., May 26, 1830.

Parker, Isaac Charles, a Representative from Missouri; born in Belmont county, Ohio, October 15, 1838; completed preparatory studies; studied law in Barnesville academy, Ohio, and after being admitted to the bar moved to Missouri in 1859 and began practice in St. Joseph; served in the Union Army; city attorney for St. Joseph, Mo., 1862–1864; elected circuit attorney in 1864 and resigned in 1867; elected circuit judge for six years in 1868, but resigned in 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1875); judge of the United States court for western Arkansas, and served until his death in Fort Smith, Ark., November 17, 1896.

Parker, James, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., in 1768; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and began practice in Gardiner, Me. (then Massachusetts); elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815); reelected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1821); died in Gardiner, Me., November 9, 1837.

Parker, James, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Bethlehem, N. J., March 3, 1776; was graduated from Columbia College, New York, in 1793; moved to Comeback, N. J., in 1797; served eleven years as a member of the state house of representatives; presidential elector on the Jackson ticket in 1824; collector of customs at Perth Amboy, N. J., 1829–1833; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1837); member of the different boundary commissions to obtain a settlement of the boundary question between New York and New Jersey; delegate to the constitutional convention of 1844; died in Perth Amboy, N. J., April 1, 1868.

Parker, John, a Delegate from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., January 24, 1749; was graduated from the Middle Temple, London, England, in 1775; practiced law in Charleston, S. C.; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1786–1788; died near Charleston, S. C., April 20, 1822.

Parker, John Mason, a Representative from New York; born in Granville, N. Y., June 14, 1805; attended Granville academy and was graduated from Middlebury college, Vermont, in 1828; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1833 began practice in Owego, N. Y.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1859); justice of the supreme court of New York 1859–1873, and sat as a justice of the general term of the third department 1867–1873, and as member of the court of appeals; died in Owego, N. Y., December 6, 1873.

Parker, Josiah, a Representative from Virginia; born in Macclesfield, Isle of Wight county, Va., May 11, 1751; pursued preparatory studies; member of the committee of safety in 1775, and of the Virginia convention that held sessions in March, July, and December of that year; commissioned major in the fifth Virginia regiment February 13, 1776; lieutenant colonel July 28, 1777, and colonel April 1, 1778; served under Gen. Charles Lee in Virginia until the fall of 1776, when transferred to Washington's army; rendered distinguished service at the battles of Trenton, Princeton, and the Brandywine; resigned from the army July 12, 1778; member Virginia house of delegates 1780–1781; naval officer at Portsmouth, Va., 1786; defeated for delegate to the Virginia convention of 1788; elected to the first six Congresses (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1801); died in Macclesfield, Va., March 18, 1810.

Parker, Nahum, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Shrewsbury, Mass., March 4, 1760; participated in the Continental army under General Gates, and in the battles that resulted in the capture of Burgoyne's forces at Saratoga in 1777; settled in Fitzwilliam, Cheshire county, N. H., in 1786; member of the board of selectmen 1790–1794; clerk and town treasurer 1792–1815; representative in the state legislature 1794–1804 and 1806–1807; member of the governor's council 1804–1805; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1807, to June 1, 1810, when he resigned; justice of the court of common pleas for Cheshire and Sullivan counties 1807–1813; an associate justice of the western circuit 1813–1816; judge of the court of sessions, Cheshire county, 1821, and of the court of common pleas, Hillsborough county, 1822; member of the state senate and its president in 1828; died in Fitzwilliam, N. H., November 12, 1839.

Parker, Richard, a Representative from Virginia; born in Richmond, Va., December 22, 1810; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Berryville, Va.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); elected judge of the thirteenth judicial circuit of Virginia.

Parker, Richard Elliott, a Senator from Virginia; born in Rock Spring, Westmoreland county, Va., December 27, 1783; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state house of representatives several terms; served as colonel of the thirty-fifth Virginia regiment 1812–1814; returned to practice in Westmoreland county; for many years judge of the general court and circuit court of Virginia; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Benjamin W. Leigh, and served from December 12, 1836, to March 13, 1837, when he resigned; elected by the legislature of Virginia one of the judges of the court of appeals, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Dabney Carr; declined the position of attorney general tendered by President Van Buren in 1840; died at the "Retreat," Snickersville, Va., September 6, 1840.

Parker, Richard Wayne, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Newark, N. J., August 6, 1848; was graduated from Princeton college in 1867 and from the law school of Columbian college in 1869; was admitted to the bar of New Jersey in 1870 and practiced in Newark; member of house of assembly 1885–1886; unsuccessful Republican candidate for the Fifty-third Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1905); reelected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in Newark, N. J.

Parker, Samuel W., a Representative from Indiana; born in Jefferson county, N. Y., September 9, 1805; was graduated from Miami university, Ohio, in 1828; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Connorsville, Ind.; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives 1836-1841; state's attorney for two years; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); presidential elector 1844-1856.

Parker, Severn E., a Representative from Virginia; native of Northampton county, Va.; received a common school training; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices, and served a number of years as a member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); died in Northampton county, Va., October 21, 1836.

Parker, William Henry, a Representative from South Dakota; born in Keene, Cheshire county, N. H., May 5, 1847; served in the Union Army from June 24, 1861, to October 16, 1866; resigned from the army while stationed at Fort Kearney, Nebr. T.; was graduated from the law department of Columbian university (now George Washington), Washington, D. C., in 1868, and was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of the District of Columbia; appointed collector of internal revenue of Colorado Territory by President Grant, June 24, 1874; resigned July, 1876, upon his appointment as assistant United States attorney of Colorado Territory; subsequently appointed United States attorney of Colorado; moved to Deadwood, Dak. T., July, 1877, and practiced law; member of the constitutional convention of the proposed state of South Dakota, June 30, 1885; elected a member of the state house of representatives in 1889, and state's attorney of Lawrence county in November 1902, and 1904; was elected to the Sixtieth Congress, and served from March 4, 1907, until his death in Deadwood, S. Dak., June 26, 1908.

Parks, Gorham, a Representative from Maine; born in Westfield, Mass., May 27, 1794; was graduated from Harvard college in 1813; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Bangor, Me.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); United States marshal for the district of Maine 1838-1841; United States attorney for the district of Maine in 1843, and resigned in 1845 to become United States consul at Rio Janeiro, which position he held until 1849; died in Bay Ridge, Kings county, N. Y., November 23, 1877.

Parmenter, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., March 30, 1789; completed preparatory studies; held various local offices; one of the pioneers in the glass industry in East Cambridge; organized the New England Glass company; was president of the Middlesex bank and filled other positions of trust; elected to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1845); naval officer at the port of Boston 1845-1849; died in East Cambridge, Mass., February 25, 1866.

Parrett, William Fletcher, a Representative from Indiana; born near Blairsville, Posey county, Ind., August 10, 1825; attended public schools and Asbury (now De Pauw) university in Greencastle, Ind.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Evansville, Ind., until 1852; moved to Oregon, where he practiced law for two years and a half; returned to Evansville in 1854 and moved to Boonville in 1855; Democratic presidential elector in 1856; member of the legislature in 1858 and served during the general and special sessions; appointed and subsequently elected judge of the fifteenth circuit and served 1859-1865; returned to Evansville; reelected circuit judge for a term of six years in 1865; resigned and was appointed judge of the first circuit and three times elected, 1873-1884; resigned in December, 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893); died in Evansville, Ind., June 30, 1895.

Parris, Albion Keith, a Representative from Massachusetts and a Senator from Maine; born in Hebron, Me., January 19, 1788; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1806; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1809 began practice in Paris, Me.; prosecuting attorney of Oxford county in 1811; member of the general court in 1813 and state senator in 1814; elected as a Democrat from the then state of Massachusetts to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1815, to February 3, 1818, when he resigned; judge of the district court of the United States, district of Maine, 1818-1820; delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1819; judge of probate for Cumberland county 1820-1821; governor of Maine five terms, 1822-1827; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1827, to August 26, 1828, when he resigned; judge of the supreme court of Maine 1828-1836; Second Comptroller of the United States Treasury 1836-1850; returned to Portland, Me.; mayor of the city in 1852; declined a reelection; was defeated candidate for governor in 1854; died in Portland, Me., February 11, 1857.

Parris, Virgil Delphini, a Representative from Maine; born in Buckfield, Me., February 18, 1807; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Buckfield; member of the state house of representatives 1833-1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Timothy J. Carter; reelected to the Twenty-sixth Congress and served from May 29, 1838, to March 3, 1841; state senator 1842-1843, a part of the time was president pro tempore and acting governor of the state; United States marshal for the district of Maine 1844-1848; died in Paris, Me., June 13, 1874.

Parrish, Isaac, a Representative from Ohio; native of Ohio; resided in Cambridge; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); reelected to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847).

Parrott, John Fabyan, a Representative and a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Portsmouth, N. H., August 8, 1767; attended the common schools; member of the state house of representatives in 1811; held various local offices; defeated as the war candidate for the Thirteenth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1819, to March 3, 1825; postmaster of Portsmouth, N. H., 1826; died in Greenland, N. H., July 9, 1836.

Parrott, Marcus Junius, a Delegate from Kansas; born in Hamburg, S. C., October 27, 1828; was graduated from Dickinson college, Pennsylvania, in 1849; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Ohio; state representative 1853-1854; moved to Kansas and located in Leavenworth; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); died in Dayton, Ohio, October 4, 1879.

Parsons, Edward Young, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Middletown, Ky., December 12, 1842; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1865 began practice in Henderson, Ky.; moved to Louisville; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress and served from March 4, 1875, until his death in Washington, D. C., July 8, 1876.

Parsons, Herbert, a Representative from New York; born in New York City, October 28, 1869; attended private schools in New York City; St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H.; Yale university; the University of Berlin, Germany, and the Harvard law school; was graduated from Yale in 1890; practiced law in New York City; twice elected alderman of the city of New York, and served four years, 1900-1904; elected to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in New York City.

Parsons, Richard C., a Representative from Ohio; born in New London, Conn., October 10, 1826; pursued classical studies; moved to Ohio in 1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1851; held various public offices in Cleveland, Ohio; served several terms in the state house of representatives and one term as speaker; declined the mission to Chile in 1861; appointed consul at Rio Janeiro and resigned in 1862; collector of internal revenue at Cleveland for four years; marshal of the Supreme Court of the United States 1866-1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); defeated as the Republican candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law in Cleveland, Ohio.

Partridge, George, a Delegate and a Representative from Massachusetts, born in Duxbury, Mass., February 8, 1740; was graduated from Harvard college in 1762; taught school in Kingston, Mass., and studied theology; Delegate in the Provincial congress 1774-1775; member of the general court 1775-1779; sheriff of Plymouth county 1777-1812; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1779-1782 and 1783-1785; member of state legislature 1788; elected to the First Congress and served from March 4, 1789, to August 14, 1790; endowed Partridge seminary in Duxbury; died in Duxbury, Mass., July 7, 1828.

Partridge, Samuel, a Representative from New York; native of New York; received a limited schooling; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843).

Paschal, Thomas M., a Representative from Texas; born in Alexandria, La., December 15, 1845; moved with his parents to Texas in the spring of 1846 and located at San Antonio; went to Danville, Ky., and attended Center college; was graduated in 1866; returned to San Antonio; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and practiced; city attorney in 1867; United States commissioner for western district of Texas; judge of criminal district for San Antonio in 1868 and resigned same year; moved to Castroville, Tex., in 1870; district attorney twenty-fourth district; moved to Brackett, King county, in 1873, and practiced law until 1875, when elected judge twenty-fourth judicial district; reelected in 1880 and 1884; appointed by Governor Coke extradition agent between the United States and Mexico in 1876, and reappointed by Governor Roberts in 1880; returned to Castroville in 1885 and elected judge of the thirty-eighth judicial district in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Castroville, Tex.

Pasco, Samuel, a Senator from Florida; born in London, England, June 28, 1834; came with his father to Charlestown, Mass., in 1844; was graduated from the Charlestown high school in 1854 and from Harvard college in 1858; went to Florida in January, 1859, and was principal of Waukeelah academy, near Monticello, 1859-1861; entered the Confederate army as a private in the third Florida volunteers in July, 1861; wounded and captured at Missionary Ridge and remained in prison till March, 1865, when paroled; returned to Florida in 1865 and was again principal of Waukeelah academy 1865-1866; clerk of the circuit court of Jefferson county 1866-1868; admitted to the bar in 1868; Democratic presidential elector in 1880; president of the constitutional convention of 1885; member of the state house of representatives 1886 and chosen speaker in April, 1887; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; was reelected and served from March 4, 1887, to March 3, 1899; was appointed to fill vacancy caused by the expiration of his term, no successor having been elected, and served under this appointment from March 4, 1899, to April 19, 1899; member of the Isthmian canal commission 1899-1905; resumed the practice of law in Monticello, Fla.

Paterson, John, a Representative from New York; born in New Britain, Hartford county, Conn., in 1744; attended the common schools; held several local offices; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Yale college in 1762; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in New Britain and in Lenox, Mass.; member of the Berkshire convention of 1774, and of the general court that became the first provincial congress in 1774; raised a regiment and participated in the Revolutionary war; colonel of the regiment from April to December, 1775; colonel of the Fifteenth Continental infantry January 1, 1776; brigadier general February 21, 1777, and served to the close of the war; brevet major general September 30, 1783; after the war returned to Lenox, Mass., and was commander of the Massachusetts troops in putting down Shay's rebellino; moved to Lisle, Broome county, N. Y., in 1790; member of committee to revise the constitution of the state of New York in 1801; elected to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805); chief justice of Broome county until his death in Lisle, N. Y., July 19, 1808.

Paterson, William, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Antrim, Ireland, December 24, 1745; came with parents to Philadelphia, Pa., in 1747; moved with them to Trenton and to Princeton, N. J., in 1750; was graduated from Princeton college in 1763; studied law, and in 1769 began practice; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1776; attorney general of New Jersey 1776-1783, when he resigned; elected a delegate to the Continental Congress 1780, but did not serve, owing to his duties as attorney general; member of the New Jersey convention that ratified the Federal Constitution in 1787; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1789, to March 2, 1790, when he resigned; governor of New Jersey 1791-1793; justice of the Supreme Court of the United States and served from March 4, 1793, until his death in Albany, N. Y., September 9, 1806.

Patten, John D., a Representative from Pennsylvania; was elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885).

Patterson, David Trotter, a Senator from Tennessee; born in Greene county, Tenn., February 28, 1818; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; engaged in manufacturing; elected a judge of the circuit court in 1854 and 1862; elected as a conservative to the United States Senate and served from May 4, 1865, to March 3, 1869; died in Afton, near Greenville, Tenn., November 3, 1891.

Patterson, George Robert, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Lewistown, Mifflin county, Pa., November 9, 1863; attended public schools and Lewistown (Pa.) academy; engaged in mercantile pursuits in 1880; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses and served from March 4, 1901, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 21, 1906.

Patterson, George W., a Representative from New York; born in Londonderry, N. H., November 11, 1799; completed preparatory studies; settled in Leicester, N. Y., in 1825, and engaged in farming and the manufacture of farming implements; held several local offices; eight years a member of the state legislature; two years speaker of the house; moved to Chautauqua, N. Y., in 1841; delegate to the national Republican conventions of 1856 and 1860; elected lieutenant governor of New York in 1848; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879).

Patterson, Gilbert Brown, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Maxton, N. C., May 29, 1863; prepared for college in the Laurinburg high school, North Carolina, and was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1886; read law in the University of North Carolina; admitted to the bar September, 1890; was elected to the legislature of North Carolina in 1898 and 1900; elected to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); resumed the practice of law in Maxton, N. C.

Patterson, James O'Hanlon, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Barnwell, S. C., June 25, 1857; attended private schools in Barnwell and in Augusta, Ga.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in May, 1886; twice elected probate judge of Barnwell county; member of the South Carolina legislature in 1898-1904; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in Barnwell, S. C.

Patterson, James Willis, a Representative and Senator from New Hampshire; born in Heniker, N. H., July 2, 1823; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Dartmouth college; professor in Dartmouth 1854-1865; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives in 1862; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1867, to March 3, 1873; again a professor in Dartmouth college; again a member of the state house of representatives 1877-1878; appointed state superintendent of public instruction from 1885-1893; died in Hanover, N. H., May 4, 1893.

Patterson, John, a Representative from Ohio; born in Ireland, February 10, 1771; came with parents in youth to the United States and located in St. Clairsville, Ohio; attended public schools, and became a merchant; first mayor of St. Clairsville; member of the state general assembly in 1807-1808; associate judge of the court of common pleas of Belmont county February, 1818-February, 1821; was elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); died in St. Clairsville, Ohio, February 7, 1848.

Patterson, John James, a Senator from South Carolina; born in Waterloo, Juniata county, Pa., August 8, 1830; was graduated from Jefferson college, Pennsylvania, in 1848; engaged in newspaper work; for ten years editor of the Harrisburg Telegraph; engaged in banking; served several terms as a member of the state house of representatives; served as a colonel in the Union army during the Civil war; moved to South Carolina in 1869; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1873, to March 3, 1879; engaged in the construction of electric railways and electric-lighting plants; with residence in Mifflintown, Pa., and died there September 28, 1912.

Patterson, John O'Hanlon, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Barnwell, S. C., June 25, 1857; attended the private schools in Barnwell and in Augusta, Ga.; studied law and was admitted to the bar in May, 1886; twice elected probate judge of Barnwell county, and was a member of the South Carolina legislature in 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, and 1904; was elected to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); died in Barnwell, S. C., November 25, 1911.

Patterson, Josiah, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Morgan county, Ala., April 14, 1837; brought up on a farm; attended the old field schools, and for two years the Somerville academy; read law and was admitted to practice in April, 1859; entered the Confederate army in September, 1861, as first lieutenant in the first Alabama cavalry, and in May, 1862, promoted to the rank of captain; in December, 1862, promoted to the rank of colonel and assigned to the command of the fifth Alabama cavalry; commanded a brigade of cavalry during the last year of the war; surrendered the fifth Alabama cavalry May 19, 1865; returned to the practice of law; located in Florence, Ala., in January, 1867, and in Memphis, Tenn., in March, 1872; elected to the lower branch of the state legislature in 1882; elector on the Democratic ticket in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1897); defeated for the Fifty-fifth Congress as a Gold Democrat; died in Memphis, Tenn., February 10, 1904.

Patterson, Malcolm Rice, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Somerville, Ala., June 7, 1861; was graduated from the Christian Brothers' college, Memphis, and subsequently took a special library course at Vanderbilt university, Nashville; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1883, and practiced in Memphis, Tenn.; elected district attorney for Shelby county in 1894 for eight years; resigned September 10, 1900; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1901, to November 5, 1906, when he resigned; governor of Tennessee 1906 and 1908; resumed the practice of law in Memphis, Tenn.

Patterson, Thomas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Lancaster county, Pa., October 1, 1764; completed preparatory studies; moved to West Middletown, Pa.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1825); died in West Middletown, Pa., November 17, 1841.

Patterson, Thomas J., a Representative from New York; native of New York; attended the public schools; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845).

Patterson, Thomas MacDonald, a Delegate, a Representative, and a Senator from Colorado; born in county Carlow, Ireland, November 4, 1840, and with his parents came to the United States in 1849; attended the common schools in New York City and Astoria, Long Island; moved to Crawfordsville, Ind., in 1853; worked in printing office there three years, and at the bench as a watchmaker and jeweler for five years; entered Asbury, now De Pauw, university, Greencastle, Ind., in 1862, and later Wabash college, Crawfordsville, Ind.; moved to Denver in 1872; elected city attorney in the spring of 1874; elected the last Delegate to Congress in 1874, and elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress in 1876; refused to support Cleveland for President in 1892, and aided in carrying Colorado for General Weaver; united with the People's party in 1893, and was a delegate to the Populist national convention in 1896; Bryan presidential elector in 1896 and again in 1900; permanent chairman of the national Populist convention of 1900; elected to the United States Senate January, 1901, by the joint votes of Democrats, Silver Republicans, and Populists, and served from March 4, 1901, to March 3, 1907; resumed newspaper work in Denver, Colo.

Patterson, Walter, a Representative from New York; native of Columbia county, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; member of the state house of representatives in 1818; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823); county judge of Columbia county 1828–1829.

Patterson, William, a Representative from Ohio; native of Maryland; moved to Mansfield, Ohio; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1837).

Patterson, William, a Representative from New York; born in Londonderry, N. H., June 4, 1789; attended the common schools; in 1815 moved to Rensselaerville, Albany county, N. Y.; moved to Lyons, Wayne county in 1816; engaged in the manufacture and sale of fanning mills; moved to a farm near Warsaw, N. Y., in 1822, and engaged in agricultural pursuits; located in Warsaw, N. Y., in 1837; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress and served from March 4, 1837, until his death, in Warsaw, N. Y., August 14, 1838.

Pattison, John M., a Representative from Ohio; born in Clermont county, Ohio, June 13, 1847; entered the Union Army in 1864; was graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware, Ohio, in 1869; admitted to the bar of Hamilton county, Cincinnati, in 1872; elected to the state legislature in 1873; attorney for the committee of safety of Cincinnati 1874–1876; elected vice president and manager of the Union Central life insurance company of Cincinnati in 1881, and president in 1891; elected state senator to fill vacancy caused by the death of Judge Ashburn, February, 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895); governor of Ohio in 1905; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 18, 1906.

Patton, David H., a Representative from Indiana; born in Fleming county, Ky., November 26, 1837; attended the Collegiate institute at Waveland, Ind.; enlisted in the thirty-eighth Indiana regiment in 1861, attaining the rank of colonel; was graduated from the Chicago medical college in 1867; practiced medicine in Remington, Ind.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); moved to Oklahoma and resumed the practice of medicine.

Patton, John, a Delegate and a Representative from Delaware; born in Kent county, Del., April 26, 1746; attended the common schools; served in the Revolutionary Army; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1785–1786; elected to the Third Congress and served until February 14, 1794, when he was succeeded by William Latimer, who contested his election; reelected to the Fourth Congress (March 4, 1795–March 3, 1797); died in Dover, Del., December 26, 1800.

Patton, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Covington, Tioga county, Pa., January 6, 1823; moved to Curwensville, Clearfield county, Pa., in 1828; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits and in lumbering 1844–1860; organized the First National bank of Curwensville in 1864 and elected its president; organized the Curwensville bank, which succeeded the First National, and was elected its president; delegate to the Whig national convention in Baltimore in 1852 and to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); presidential elector in 1864, and elected to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889); died in Philadelphia, Pa., December 23, 1897; interment in Curwensville, Pa.

Patton, John, jr., a Senator from Michigan; born in Curwensville, Clearfield county, Pa., October 30, 1850; prepared for college at Phillips academy, Andover, Mass.; was graduated from Yale college in 1875; was graduated from the Columbia law school, New York City, in 1877; moved to Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1878, and practiced law; member of Republican state committee 1884–1886; president state league of Republican clubs; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Francis B. Stockbridge, and served from May 5, 1894, to January 15, 1895; member board of library commissioners of Grand Rapids; died in Grand Rapids, Mich., May 24, 1907.

Patton, John Mercer, a Representative from Virginia; born in Virginia in 1796; attended Princeton college, and was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1818, but never practiced; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Fredericksburg, Va.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Philip P. Barbour; was reelected to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from May 31, 1830, to March 3, 1839; moved to Richmond, Va., and resumed practice; judge of the court of appeals of Virginia; died in Richmond, Va., October 29, 1858.

Paul, John, a Representative from Virginia; born in Rockingham county, Va., June 30, 1839; attended the common schools; entered Roanoke college, Virginia, in the fall of 1860, but left in April, 1861, and entered the Confederate army as a lieutenant in the first Virginia cavalry, and served during the war; after the war studied law in the University of Virginia, and was graduated in 1867; commonwealth attorney of Rockingham county 1870-1877; member of the state senate 1877-1881; elected as a Readjuster to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1881, to May 5, 1884, when he was succeeded by Charles T. O'Ferrall, who contested his election; appointed judge of the United States district court for the western district of Virginia by President Arthur; died in Harrisonburg, Va., November 1, 1901.

Paulding, William, a Representative from New York; born in Tarrytown, N. Y., March 7, 1770 completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New York City; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1821; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); served in the war of 1812; mayor of New York City 1824-1826; died in Tarrytown, N. Y., February 11, 1854.

Pawling, Levi, a Representative from Pennsylvania; was elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819).

Payne, Henry B., a Representative and Senator from Ohio; born in Hamilton, Madison county, N. Y., November 30, 1810; was graduated from Hamilton college in 1832; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Cleveland, Ohio, 1834-1846; member of the state senate 1849-1851; Democratic candidate for the United States senatorship in the protracted contest of 1851, and for governor against Salmon P. Chase in 1857; presidential elector in 1848; delegate to the Democratic national conventions of 1856, 1860, and 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); member of the Electoral commission in 1876; candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1880 and 1884; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1885, to March 3, 1891; died in Cleveland, Ohio, September 9, 1896.

Payne, Sereno Elisha, a Representative from New York; born in Hamilton, Madison county, N. Y., June 26, 1843; attended the Auburn academy and was graduated from the university of Rochester in 1864; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1866, and practiced in Auburn, N. Y.; city clerk of Auburn 1867-1868, supervisor 1871-1872; district attorney of Cayuga county 1873-1879; president of the board of education of Auburn 1879-1882; appointed a member of the American-British joint high commission in January, 1899; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); reelected to the Fifty-first and to the ten succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Payne, William Winter, a Representative from Alabama; born in Fauquier county, Va., January 2, 1805; completed preparatory studies; moved to Franklin county, Ala., in 1825; represented Franklin county in the state legislature in 1831, and moved to Sumter county; elected a representative 1834-1838; defeated candidate for the state senate in 1839; again elected to the state house in 1840; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1847); defeated for reelection to the Thirtieth Congress; returned to Virginia in 1847 and engaged in farming and planting near Warrenton; chairman of the Democratic state convention in Richmond in 1859; died in Warrenton, Va., September 2, 1874.

Paynter, Lemuel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Delaware in 1788; attended the common schools; moved to Philadelphia, Pa.; served in the war of 1812 and became major, and lieutenant colonel of the ninety-third regiment of Pennsylvania militia; held various local positions; state senator in 1833; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); died in Philadelphia, Pa., August 1, 1863.

Paynter, Thomas H., a Representative and a Senator from Kentucky; born in Lewis county, Ky., December 9, 1851; attended the common schools, Rand's academy, and Center college, Danville, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and engaged in practice in Greenup, Ky.; appointed county attorney for Greenup county by appointment 1876-1878 and by election 1878-1882; elected to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses and served from March 4, 1889, to January 3, 1895, when he resigned; judge of the court of appeals of Kentucky 1895-1906 when he resigned; was elected to the United States Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1907.

Payson, Lewis Edwin, a Representative from Illinois; born in Providence, R. I., September 17, 1840; moved to Illinois in 1852; attended the common schools and Lombard university, Galesburg, Ill.; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Ottawa, Ill., in 1862; moved to Pontiac, Ill., in January, 1865, and practiced law; judge of county court 1869-1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1891); died in Washington, D. C., October 4, 1909.

Peabody, Nathaniel, a Delegate from New Hampshire; born in Topsfield, Essex county, Mass., March 1, 1741; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and began practice in Plaistow, N. H., in 1761; resigned a royal commission to enter the Revolutionary Army; served at the capture of Fort William and Mary, New Castle, Del.; elected a member of the committee on safety and its chairman January 10, 1776; adjutant general of the New Hampshire militia July 19, 1777, and commanded a brigade in Rhode Island in 1779; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1779-1780; member of the state constitutional convention 1782-1783; was again elected to the Continental Congress in 1786, but did not take his seat; served eight years as a member of the state legislature and one year as speaker; major general of militia 1793-1798; was confined in a debtor's prison for some time; died in Exeter, N. H., June 27, 1823.

Pearce, Charles Edward, a Representative from Missouri; born in Whitesboro, Oneida county, N. Y., May 29, 1842, and subsequently became a resident of the city of Auburn, N. Y.; attended Fairfield seminary and was graduated from Union college in 1863; enlisted in the Union Army; commissioned captain, battery D, sixteenth New York heavy artillery, in 1863; promoted to the rank of major in June, 1864; appointed to the staff of Maj. Gen. A. H. Terry after the capture of Fort Fisher, and on the occupation of Wilmington detailed as provost marshal general of the eastern district of North Carolina; resigned from the army in the fall of 1865; settled in St. Louis, Mo., in 1866, where he studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1867; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1888; appointed chairman Sioux Indian commission in 1891; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); died in St. Louis, Mo., January 30, 1902.

Pearce, Dutee Jerauld, a Representative from Rhode Island; born on the island of Prudence, R. I., April 10, 1789; was graduated from Brown university in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Newport, R. I.; held various local offices; attorney general of Rhode Island 1819-1825; presidential elector on the Monroe ticket in 1821; several years a member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1837); died in Newport, R. I., May 9, 1849.

Pearce, James Alfred, a Representative and a Senator from Maryland; born in Alexandria, Va., December 8, 1804; was graduated from Princeton college in 1822; studied law and was admitted to the bar, and in 1824 began practice in Cambridge, Md.; moved to Louisiana in 1823 and engaged in planting; returned to Kent county, Md., and resumed the practice of law in Chestertown; served in the state house of representatives in 1831; elected to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); defeated for reelection to the Twenty-sixth Congress; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); elected as a Whig to the United States Senate in 1843 and four times re-elected (the last time as a Democrat), and served from March 4, 1843, until his death in Chestertown, Md., December 20, 1862.

Pearce, John Jameson, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., February 28, 1826; completed preparatory studies; ordained a minister in the Methodist Episcopal church when 18 years of age; continued in the ministry as a member of the Wyoming and Philadelphia conferences until 1854; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); declined a reelection; moved to Conneaut, Ohio.

Pearre, George Alexander, a Representative from Maryland; born in Cumberland, Md., July 16, 1860; attended private schools; Allegany county academy in Cumberland; St. James college near Hagerstown, Md.; Princeton college, and was graduated from the University of West Virginia in 1880; studied law for a year; was graduated from the law school of Maryland university in Baltimore; admitted to the bar in 1882; in 1887 began practice in Cumberland, Md.; state senator 1890-1892; prosecuting attorney 1895-1899; elected to the Fifty-sixth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in Cumberland, Md.

Pearson, Albert Jackson, a Representative from Ohio; born in Centerville, Belmont county, Ohio, May 20, 1846; moved with his parents, at an early age, to Beallsville, Monroe county, Ohio; attended the common schools and normal school at Lebanon, Ohio; private soldier in company I, one hundred and eighty-sixth Ohio volunteer infantry during the Civil war; read law, was admitted to the bar in September, 1868, and began practice in Woodfield, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Monroe county for three successive terms; member of the state senate two years; probate judge of Monroe county six years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); died in Woodfield, Ohio, May 15, 1905.

Pearson, John James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Delaware county, Pa., October 25, 1800; attended the common schools; a grammar boarding school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in August, 1822, and practiced in Mercer county; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Banks, and served from December 5, 1836, to March 3, 1837; member of the state senate 1838-1842; appointed president judge of Dauphin and Lebanon counties, Pa., April 7, 1849, and served until January, 1882; died in Harrisburg, Pa., May 30, 1888.

Pearson, Joseph, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Rowan county, N. C., in 1776; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Salisbury, N. C.; served two terms in the house of commons of North Carolina; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh, Twelfth, and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1815); while in Congress fought a duel with John George Jackson, of Virginia, and on the second fire was wounded; died in Salisbury, N. C., October 27, 1834.

Pearson, Richmond, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Richmond Hill, N. C., January 26, 1852; was graduated from Princeton college in 1872; studied law and was admitted to the bar of North Carolina in 1874; in the same year appointed United States consul to Verviers and Liege, Belgium; resigned in 1877; member of the North Carolina legislature in 1885 and 1887; elected as an Independent Protectionist to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses and served from March 4, 1897, to March 3, 1899, and from May 10, 1900, to March 3, 1901; in last-named Congress the certificate of election was given to William T. Crawford, Democrat, who was unseated by a resolution of the House, May 10, 1900; appointed United States consul to Genoa, Italy, December 11, 1901; appointed by President Roosevelt in 1902 as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Persia; later transferred to Greece and Roumania.

Pease, Henry Roberts, a Senator from Mississippi; born in Connecticut, February 19, 1835; completed preparatory studies; taught school for eleven years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; entered the Union Army as a private and attained the rank of captain; superintendent of education of Louisiana while that state was under military rule; appointed superintendent of the education of freedmen in Mississippi in 1867; elected superintendent of education of Mississippi in 1869; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Adelbert Ames, and served from February 3, 1874, to March 3, 1875; postmaster of Vicksburg, Miss., in 1875; established the Mississippi Educational Journal; removed to Dakota.

Peaslee, Charles Hazen, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Gilmanton, N. H., February 6, 1804; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1824; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Concord, N. H., in 1828; served in the New Hampshire state legislature 1833-1837; adjutant-general of the militia; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1853); collector of the port of Boston in 1853-1857; died in St. Paul, Minn., September 20, 1866.

Peck, Erasmus D., a Representative from Ohio; born in Connecticut, September 16, 1808; was graduated from Berkshire medical college in 1829; moved to Ohio in 1830 and practiced medicine; served two terms in the Ohio state legislature; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Truman H. Hoag; reelected to the Forty-second Congress and served from April 23, 1870, to March 3, 1873.

Peck, George Washington, a Representative from Michigan; born in New York City, May 8, 1818; pursued classical studies; attended Yale college and studied law in New York city; moved to Michigan in 1839 and located in Brighton, Livingston county; was admitted to the bar in 1842 and practiced in Brighton 1842-1845; elected to the state house of representatives 1846-1847, and served as speaker the last term; moved to Lansing, Mich., when the state capital was located there in 1847, and was the first postmaster of Lansing; secretary of state of Michigan 1848-1849; editor and proprietor of the Lansing Journal, and state printer, 1852-1855; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); defeated for reelection; mayor of Lansing in 1864; moved to East Saginaw, Mich., and practiced law 1864-1873; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1873, and to Hot Springs, Ark., in 1880, and to Bismarck, Mo., in 1882; died in the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Gage, in Saginaw, Mich.

Peck, Jared Valentine, a Representative from New York; born in Port Chester, N. Y., September 21, 1816; attended the common schools; held several local offices; member of the state assembly in 1848; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); died in Rye, N. Y., December 25, 1891.

Peck, Lucius Benedict, a Representative from Vermont; born in Waterbury, Vt., November 17, 1802; pursued classical studies and attended the Military academy at West Point two years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Barre, Vt., in 1826; moved to Montpelier, Vt., where he practiced his profession; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851); United States district attorney for Vermont 1853-1857; president of the Vermont and Canada railroad; died in Lowell, Mass., December 28, 1866; interment in Montpelier, Vt.

Peck, Luther C., a Representative from New York; native of Connecticut; completed preparatory studies; moved to Pike, N. Y.; held various local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); died in Nunda, N. Y., February 16, 1876.

Peckham, Rufus Wheeler, a Representative from New York; born in Rensselaerville, Albany county, N. Y., December 20, 1809; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Albany, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); elected a justice of the supreme court for the third judicial district, and served from 1861 to 1869; died at sea November 22, 1873.

Peddie, Thomas Baldwin, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Edinburgh, Scotland, February 11, 1808; emigrated to America in 1833 and located in Newark, N. J.; completed preparatory studies; engaged in manufacturing; served two terms in the state legislature; twice elected mayor of Newark; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); died in Newark, N. J., February 16, 1889.

Peek, Hermanus, a Representative from New York; native of Albany, N. Y.; moved to Schenectady, where he completed preparatory studies; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821).

Peel, Samuel West, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Independence county, Ark., September 13, 1832; attended the common schools; elected clerk of the circuit court of Carroll county, Ark., in 1858 and 1860; entered the Confederate service in 1861 as a private, and elected major of the third Arkansas infantry, and later colonel of the fourth regiment Arkansas infantry; at the close of the war commenced the practice of law in the Arkansas courts; appointed prosecuting attorney of the fourth judicial circuit in 1873; elected, upon the adoption of the new constitution, in 1874, to the same office; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1893); a resident of Fort Smith, Ark., and retired.

Peelle, Stanton Judkins, a Representative from Indiana; born near Richmond, Wayne county, Ind., February 11, 1843; attended common schools and Winchester seminary, Indiana; enlisted in company G, Eighth regiment Indiana volunteers, August 5, 1861; December 10, 1862, was promoted to a second lieutenant in company K, fifty-seventh Indiana, and served until the close of the war; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Winchester, Ind.; moved to Indianapolis in 1869; deputy district attorney of Marion county, Ind., for two years; member of the Indiana state house of representatives 1877-1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); presented credentials as a Member-elect of the Forty-eighth Congress, and served from March 4, 1883, to May 22, 1884, when he was succeeded by William E. English, who contested his election; chief justice of the Court of Claims, Washington, D. C.

Peery, William, a Delegate from Delaware; sat in the Continental Congress 1785–1786; died in Cool Spring, Sussex county, Del., December 14, 1800.

Peffer, William Alfred, a Senator from Kansas; born in Cumberland county, Pa., September 10, 1831; attended a public school; began teaching at the age of fifteen years; moved to Indiana in June, 1853, and located in St. Joseph county; moved to Missouri in September, 1859, and purchased a farm in Morgan county; because of the war moved to Illinois February, 1862, and enlisted as a private in company F, eighty-third Illinois infantry, the following August; promoted to second lieutenant March, 1863; served as regimental quartermaster and adjutant, post adjutant, judge-advocate of a military commission, and depot quartermaster in the engineering department at Nashville; mustered out of service June 26, 1865; studied law while in the army, was admitted to the bar in August, 1865, and began practice in Clarksville, Tenn.; moved to Kansas in January, 1870, and practiced there until 1878; elected to the state senate in 1874; Republican presidential elector in 1880; elected to the United States Senate as a member of the People's party, and served from March 4, 1891, until March 3, 1897; engaged in statistical and compilation work for Congress in Washington, D. C.; died in Grenola, Kans., October 7, 1912.

Pegram, John, a Representative from Virginia; born in Dinwiddie county, Va., November 16, 1773; attended the common schools; held various local offices; was a member of the Virginia house of delegates for many years and of the state senate for eight years; elected to the Fifteenth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Peterson Goodwin, and served from November 16, 1818, to March 3, 1819; major general of state militia in the War of 1812; United States marshal for the eastern district of Virginia under President Monroe's administration; died in Dinwiddie county, Va., April 8, 1831.

Peirce, Robert Bruce Frazier, a Representative from Indiana; born in Laurel, Ind., February 17, 1843; served in the Civil War as second lieutenant of company H, one hundred and thirty-fifth regiment of Indiana volunteers; was graduated from Wabash college in 1866; studied law at Shelbyville, Ind., was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Crawfordsville in 1867; elected prosecuting attorney in 1868 and reelected in 1870 and 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); receiver of the Texas, St. Louis and Kansas City Railway; died in Indianapolis, Ind., December 5, 1898.

Pelham, Charles, a Representative from Alabama; born in Person county, N. C., March 12, 1835; moved with his parents to Alabama in 1838; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Talladega, Ala., in 1858; entered the Confederate army in 1862 and served as first lieutenant of company C, fifty-first Alabama regiment; elected judge of the tenth judicial circuit in 1868, and while discharging the duties of that office was elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); died in Poulan, Worth county, Ga., January 18, 1908.

Pelton, Guy R., a Representative from New York; born in Great Barrington, Mass., August 3, 1825; completed preparatory studies; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New York in 1851; held various local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); defeated for the Thirty-fifth Congress.

Pence, Lafe, a Representative from Colorado; born in Columbus, Ind., December 23, 1857; attended the common schools and was graduated from Hanover college, Indiana, in 1877; studied law, was admitted to the bar December 23, 1878, and practiced in Columbus, Ind., until September, 1879, when he moved to Winfield, Kans.; lived there until March, 1881, when he moved to Rico, Colo.; practiced law in Rico until 1884, when elected to the state legislature and, after the session in 1885, located in Denver; county attorney for Arapahoe county in 1887 and 1888; elected as the candidate of the Populists and Silver Democrats to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895); moved to New York, where he was interested in railroading; returned to Denver, Colo., and later moved to San Francisco, Cal., where he resumed the practice of law.

Pendleton, Emond, a Delegate from Virginia; born in Caroline county, Va., September 9, 1721; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1744, and practiced; justice of the peace in 1751; member of the Virginia house of burgesses 1752–1774; member of the committee of correspondence in 1773 and of the colonial convention of 1774; governor of the embryo colony 1774–1776; presiding judge of the court of appeals; member of the Continental Congress 1774–1775; member of the Virginia constitutional convention of 1787, and its president; died in Richmond, Va., October 23, 1803.

Pendleton, Edmund Henry, a Representative from New York; received a liberal schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced for several years in Hyde Park, Dutchess county, N. Y.; county judge in the fifth New York district in 1830; was elected as a Whig to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1833); died in New York City in 1862.

Pendleton, George Cassety, a Representative from Texas; born in Coffee county, Tenn., April 23, 1845; attended country schools of Warren county, Tenn., and the Hannah high school in the same county; afterwards attended the Waxahachie academy in Ellis county, Tex.; located in Bolton, Tex., and engaged in mercantile pursuits and in farming; entered the Confederate service as private in Fount's company, Burford's regiment, Parson's brigade, Texas cavalry; member of the Texas legislature three terms and its speaker one term; elected lieutenant governor in 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1897); engaged in the practice of law in Temple, Tex.; president of the Temple national bank.

Pendleton, George Hunt, a Representative and a Senator from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, July 25, 1825; pursued an academic course in schools of Cincinnati and in Europe; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Cincinnati; member of the state senate of Ohio 1854-1856; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh, and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1865); Democratic candidate for Vice President on the ticket headed by George B. McClellan in 1864; delegate in the Loyalist convention in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1866; defeated Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio in 1869; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1879, to March 3, 1885; minister to Germany in 1885; died in Brussels, Belgium, November 24, 1898.

Pendleton, James Monroe, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in North Stonington, Conn., January 10, 1822; completed preparatory studies; merchant for seven years in Westerly, R. I., and then engaged in banking, insurance, and manufacturing; served in the Rhode Island state senate 1862-1865; delegate to the national Republican convention in Chicago in 1868; presidential elector on the Grant and Colfax ticket in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); died in Westerly, R. I., February 16, 1889.

Pendleton, John Overton, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Wellsburg, Brooke county, W. Va., July 4, 1851; moved with his parents to Wheeling, W. Va.; attended Aspen Hill academy, Louisa county, Va., 1865-1869, and Bethany college, W. Va., 1869-1870; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Wheeling in 1874; Democratic nominee for state senator in 1886, but defeated; presented credentials as Member-elect in the Fifty-first Congress and served from March 4, 1889, to February 26, 1890, and was then succeeded by George W. Atkinson, who contested the election; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Wheeling, W. Va.

Pendleton, John Strother, a Representative from Virginia; born in Culpeper county, Va., March 2, 1802; pursued preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Culpeper county; member of the state legislature several terms prior to 1840; chargé d'affaires to Chile 1841-1844; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); chargé d'affaires to the Argentine Confederation 1851-1854; died near Culpeper, Va., November 19, 1868.

Pendleton, Nathanael Greene, a Representative from Ohio; born in Savannah, Ga., August 25, 1793; moved to New York City with his parents; was graduated from Columbia college in 1813; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served in the War of 1812; moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1818 and practiced law; member of the state senate 1825-1829; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); died in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 16, 1861.

Pennington, John Brown, a Representative from Delaware; born near Newcastle, Del., December 20, 1825; pursued an academic course in Newcastle and Newark, Del., and was graduated from Jefferson college, Pa.; went to Indiana and engaged in teaching; returned to Delaware, studied law, and was admitted to practice in April, 1857; member of the state house of representatives in 1857; clerk of the house in 1859, 1863, and 1871; delegate to the Democratic national conventions in Charleston and Baltimore in 1860; appointed United States attorney for the district of Delaware in 1868 by President Johnson, and attorney general of the state by Governor Ponder in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); died in Dover, Del., June 1, 1902.

Penn, Alexander G., a Representative from Louisiana; born in Patrick county, Va.; completed preparatory studies; moved to the parish of St. Tammany, La., in 1821, and engaged in planting; served in the state house of representatives; postmaster of New Orleans 1845-1849; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John H. Harman-son; reelected to the Thirty-second Congress, and served from December 30, 1850, to March 3, 1853; died in Washington, D. C., May 8, 1866.

Penn, John, a Delegate from North Carolina; born in Caroline county, Va., May 17, 1741; received a limited education; studied law with Edmund Pendleton, was admitted to the bar, and in 1762 began practice; moved to Granville county, N. C., in 1774; elected a Delegate to the Continental Congress in 1775; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; reelected in 1777 and 1779; receiver of taxes for North Carolina in 1784; died in Granville county, N. C., September 14, 1788.

Penniman, Ebenezer Jenckes, a Representative from Michigan; born in Lansingburgh, N. Y., January 12, 1805; received a limited schooling; moved to New York City and became a merchant; moved to Plymouth, Mich., in 1835 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected as a Whig and Free-soiler to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); died in Plymouth, Mich., April 12, 1890.

Pennington, Alexander Cumming McWhorter, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Newark, N. J., July 2, 1810; completed preparatory studies; attended the United States military academy 1826-1828; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Newark; held various local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); served two terms in the state legislature; moved to New York City, and died there January 25, 1867.

Pennington, William Samuel, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Newark, N. J., May 4, 1796; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from Princeton in 1813; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Newark in 1820; governor of New Jersey 1837-1843; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); defeated as the Republican candidate for reelection to the Thirty-seventh Congress; died in Newark, N. J., February 16, 1862.

Pennybacker, Isaac Samuels, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Shenandoah county, Va., September 12, 1805; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Harrisonburg, Va.; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); United States judge for the western district of Virginia 1839-1845; elected to the United States Senate and served from December 3, 1845, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 12, 1847.

Penrose, Boies, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., November 1, 1860; was prepared for college by private tutors and in the schools of Philadelphia; was graduated from Harvard college in 1881; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1883, and practiced in Philadelphia; elected to the state house of representatives in 1884; state senator in 1886; reelected in 1890 and 1894; president pro tempore of the senate in 1889 and 1891; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1897; reelected in 1903 and in 1909 for the term expiring March 3, 1915.

Perce, Legrand Winfield, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Buffalo, N. Y., June 19, 1836; completed preparatory studies and attended the Wesleyan college in Lima, N. Y.; studied law and was graduated from the Albany, N. Y., law school in 1857, and admitted to the bar; entered the Union Army in 1861; appointed second lieutenant of the sixth Michigan volunteers, and captain in June, 1862; brevetted major at Port Hudson in May, 1863; brevetted lieutenant-colonel and colonel in 1865; settled in Natchez, Miss.; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); died in Chicago, Ill., March 16, 1911.

Percy, Le Roy, a Senator from Mississippi; born in Washington county, Miss., November 9, 1860; attended the University of the South and was graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia in 1881; returned to Mississippi and began practice in Greenville; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Anselm J. McLaurin, and served from February 23, 1910, to March 3, 1913.

Perea, Francisco, a delegate from New Mexico territory; born in Padillas, N. Mex., January 9, 1831; received a limited schooling; elected as a Republican a delegate to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865).

Perea, Pedro, a Representative from New Mexico; born in Bernalillo, N. Mex., April 22, 1852; attended St. Michael's college, Santa Fe, N. Mex., Georgetown university, District of Columbia, and St. Louis university, St. Louis, Mo.; principally engaged in farming and sheep raising; at one time president of the First national bank of Santa Fe; four times a member of the council of the New Mexico legislature; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); died in Bernalillo, N. Mex., January 11, 1906.

Perham, Sidney, a Representative from Maine; born in Woodstock, Me., March 27, 1819; completed preparatory studies; engaged in farming; member of the state house of representatives of Maine in 1854, and its speaker; held various local offices; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1869); governor of Maine 1871-1874; appraiser in the Portland custom-house; died in Washington, D. C., April 10, 1907.

Perkins, Bishop, a Representative from New York; native of New Hampshire; moved to Ogdensburg, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855).

Perkins, Bishop Walden, a Representative and a Senator from Kansas; born in Rochester, Lorain county, Ohio, October 18, 1841; attended the common schools and Knox academy in Galesburg, Ill.; read law in Ottawa, Ill.; admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice; served four years in the Union army, first as sergeant in the eighty-third Illinois infantry, and adjutant and captain in the sixteenth United States colored infantry for two years and six months; located in Oswego, Kans., in 1869; county attorney of Labette county the same year; elected probate judge of the county in 1870 and 1872; appointed judge of the eleventh judicial district of Kansas in February, 1873, and in November of that year elected for the unexpired term; reelected in November, 1874, and again in November, 1878, and held the office for almost ten years; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1891); appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Preston B. Plumb, and served from January 1, 1892, to March 3, 1893; died in Washington, D. C., June 20, 1894.

Perkins, Elias, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Norwich, Conn., April 5, 1767; was graduated from Yale college in 1786; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced a short time; elected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803); served as judge of the New London county court until he became ineligible on account of age; mayor of New London 1829-1832; died in New London, Conn., September 27, 1845.

Perkins, George Clement, a Senator from California; born in Kennebunkport, Me., August 23, 1839; had limited educational advantages; at the age of twelve went to sea as a cabin boy; followed the sea for several years; shipped "before the mast" on a sailing vessel bound for San Francisco, Cal., in 1855; engaged in mercantile business in Oroville, Cal.; subsequently engaged in banking, milling, mining, farming, whale fishing, and the steamship business, operating steamships on the coasts of California, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Alaska, and Mexico; elected to the state senate in 1869, and served eight years; president of the chamber of commerce of San Francisco and the San Francisco art association; director of the California academy of sciences and other public institutions; elected governor of California in 1879, and served until January, 1883; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate July 24, 1893, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Leland Stanford, and took his seat August 8, 1893; subsequently elected to fill the unexpired term; reelected in 1897, 1903, and in 1909 for the term ending March 3, 1915.

Perkins, George Douglas, a Representative from Iowa; born in Holly, Orleans county, N. Y., February 29, 1840; moved to Wisconsin and learned the printer's trade in Baraboo; in connection with his brother started the Gazette in Cedar Falls in 1860; enlisted as a private soldier in company B, thirty-first Iowa, August 12, 1862; discharged from Jefferson barracks, Mo., January 12, 1863; moved to Sioux City, Iowa, in 1869 and became editor of the Journal; member of the Iowa senate 1874-1876; appointed United States marshal for the northern district of Iowa by President Arthur and removed by President Cleveland; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1899); delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1876, 1880, 1888, and 1908; a resident of Sioux City, Iowa, and editor and publisher of the Journal.

Perkins, James Breck, a Representative from New York; born in St. Croix Falls, Wis., November 4, 1847; moved with his parents to Rochester, N. Y., in 1856; attended the Rochester schools and was graduated from the University of Rochester in 1867; studied law, was admitted to the bar in December, 1868, and practiced in Rochester; city attorney 1874-1880; lived in Paris 1890-1895, engaged in work on French history; returned to Rochester in 1895, and served in the state assembly in 1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1901, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 11, 1910; interment in Rochester, N. Y.

Perkins, Jared, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Unity, N. H., April 21, 1793; received a limited schooling in Winchester, N. H.; studied theology and was a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church and a presiding officer; state councilor 1846-1849; served in the state house of representatives; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-third Congress; died in Nashua, N. H., October 14, 1854.

Perkins, John, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Louisiana July 1, 1819; was graduated from Yale college in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New Orleans; traveled in Europe; appointed a judge of the circuit court in 1851; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); served in the Confederate Congress.

Perrill, Augustus Leonard, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hardee county, Va., January 20, 1807; moved to Pickaway county, Ohio; received a limited schooling; elected to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); died in Pickaway county, Ohio, June 3, 1882.

Perry, Aaron F., a Representative from Ohio; born in Leicester, Vt., January 1, 1815; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Columbus, Ohio, and later in Cincinnati; member of the state house of representatives 1847-1848; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress and served from March 4, 1871, to 1872, when he resigned; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 11, 1893.

Perry, Eli, a Representative from New York; born in Cambridge, N. Y., December 25, 1799; attended the common schools; engaged in business in Albany, N. Y., in 1827 and continued until 1852; city alderman two years; served in the state legislature; mayor of Albany 1851-1863; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); defeated for the Forty-fourth Congress; died in Albany, N. Y., May 17, 1881.

Perry, John Jasiel, a Representative from Maine; born in Portsmonth, N. H., August 2, 1811; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Oxford, Me.; member of the state house of representatives 1839-1843 and of the state senate 1846-1847; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); reelected to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); delegate to the peace congress in 1861; edited the Oxford Democrat; moved to Portland; died in Portland, Me., May 2, 1897.

Perry, Nehemiah, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Ridgefield, Conn., March 30, 1816; pursued classical studies; moved to Newark, N. J., and engaged in the clothing business; member of the state legislature several years; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865); died in Newark, N. J., November 1, 1881.

Perry, Thomas, a Representative from Maryland; born in Maryland in 1808; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Cumberland; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); circuit judge 1851-1861 and 1864-1871; died in Cumberland, Md., June 27, 1871.

Perry, William Hayne, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Greenville, S. C., June 9, 1837; attended the Greenville academy; was graduated from the Furman university, Greenville; entered the South Carolina college in Columbia, but left there before graduation; was graduated from Harvard college in 1857; read law in Greenville, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served in the Confederate cavalry; member of the state convention of South Carolina in 1865; of the state legislature 1865-1866; solicitor of the eighth judicial circuit of South Carolina in 1868-1872; member of the state senate 1880-1884; elected as Democrat to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1891); died in Greenville, S. C., July 7, 1902.

Persons, Henry, a Representative from Georgia; born in Monroe county, Ga., in 1834; moved to Talbot county, Ga., in 1836; was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1855; captain of cavalry in the Confederate service; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881).

Peter, George, a Representative from Maryland; born in Georgetown, D. C., September 28, 1779; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Georgetown college; entered the Army as second lieutenant in the ninth infantry in July, 1799; transferred to the artillery and promoted and in May, 1808, organized and commanded the first light battery of artillery in the country; resigned June 11, 1809; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Alexander C. Hanson; reelected to the Fifteenth Congress, and served from December 2, 1816, to March 3, 1819; served in the state house of representatives; elected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1827); defeated for reelection to the Twentieth Congress; died near Darnestown, Md., June 22, 1861.

Peters, Andrew James, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Jamaica Plain, Boston, Mass., April 3, 1872; was graduated from Harvard college in 1895 and from the Harvard law school in 1898; was admitted to the bar and practiced; member of the state legislature in 1902; of the state senate 1904-1905; served five years as member of the Massachusetts militia; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Peters, John A., a Representative from Maine; born in Ellsworth, Me., October 9, 1822; was graduated from Yale college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state house of representatives 1862-1864; attorney general of the state 1864-1866; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1873); appointed a judge of the supreme court of Maine in 1872; chief justice in 1883; resigned from the bench in 1901; died in Bangor, Me., April 2, 1904.

Peters, Mason Summers, a Representative from Kansas; born in Clay county, Mo., September 3, 1844; attended the William Jewell college in Liberty, Mo.; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1875; moved in 1886 to Wyandotte county, Kans.; engaged in the live-stock commission business; served four years as clerk of the court of Clinton county, Mo.; returned to Kansas and elected as a Democrat-Populist to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); reengaged in business in Kansas City, Kans.

Peters, jr., Richard, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born near Philadelphia, Pa., June 22, 1743; was graduated from the university of Pennsylvania in 1761; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Philadelphia; register of the admiralty 1771 until the Revolution; entered the Revolutionary army and served as captain 1771; secretary of the continental board of war and served from June 13, 1776, to June 8, 1781; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1782-1783; member of the state assembly 1787-1790, and served as speaker; served in the state senate in 1791 and was speaker; judge of the district court of Pennsylvania 1792-1828; died in Philadelphia, Pa., August 22, 1828.

Peters, Samuel Ritter, a Representative from Kansas; born in Walnut township, Pickaway county, Ohio, August 16, 1842; attended common schools and college; enlisted in the Union army in the fall of 1861, and was mustered out in June, 1865, having held successively the offices of sergeant, second lieutenant, first lieutenant, adjutant, and captain; elected in the fall of 1874 to the state senate of Kansas; appointed in March, 1875, judge of the ninth judicial district; elected to the judgeship in the fall of 1875, and reelected in 1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1889); resumed the practice of law in Newton, Kans.; member of the board of managers of the state reformatory; appointed postmaster of Newton in 1898 and twice reappointed; editor of the Newton Daily Kansan-Republican; died in Newton, Kans., April 21, 1910.

Petrie, George, a Representative from New York; born in Little Falls, N. Y., September 8, 1793; attended common schools; elected to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); died in Little Falls, N. Y., May 8, 1879.

Petrikín, David, a Representative from Pennsylvania; completed preparatory studies; studied law; was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); died in Danville, Pa., March 1, 1847.

Pettibone, Augustus Herman, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Bedford, Cuyahoga county, Ohio, January 21, 1835; attended Hiram college, Ohio, and was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1859; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in La Crosse, Wis.; entered the Union army as a private in 1861; promoted to second lieutenant, captain, and major of the twentieth Wisconsin volunteers; resumed the practice of his profession in Greenville, Tenn., in 1865; elected attorney general for the first judicial circuit of Tennessee; presidential elector on the Grant and Colfax ticket in 1868; for several years assistant United States district attorney for the eastern district of Tennessee; elector on the Hayes and Wheeler ticket in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1887).

Pettigrew, Ebenezer, a Representative from North Carolina; native of that state; attended common schools; held various local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837).

Pettigrew, Richard Franklin, a Delegate and a Senator from South Dakota; born in Ludlow, Vt., July, 1848; moved with his parents to Evansville, Rock county, Wis., in 1854; attended the academy; entered Beloit college in 1866; member of the law class in the University of Wisconsin in 1869; went to Dakota in July, 1869, in the employ of a United States deputy surveyor; located in Sioux Falls; engaged in Government surveying and the real estate business until 1875; engaged in the practice of law; elected to the Dakota legislature as a member of the council in 1877 and reelected in 1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); elected to the territorial council in 1884 and 1885; elected to the United States Senate October 16, 1889, under the provisions of the act of Congress admitting South Dakota into the Union, and served from December 2, 1889, reelected in 1895, and served until March 3, 1901; moved to New York City and practiced law; removed to Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

Pettis, Solomon Newton, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ashtabula county, Ohio, October 10, 1827; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1848 began practice in Meadville, Pa.; associate justice for the Territory of Colorado 1861-1862; returned to Meadville, Pa.; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Darwin A. Finney, and served from December 7, 1868, to March 3, 1869; died in Meadville, Pa., September 18, 1900.

Pettis, Spencer Darwin, a Representative from Missouri; born in Virginia in 1802; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Fayette, Mo.; held various local offices; elected to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); died in St. Louis, Mo., August 26, 1831.

Pettit, Charles, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Hunterdon county, N. J., in 1737; received a thorough English training; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served several years as deputy secretary of the province of New Jersey; clerk of the council; clerk of the supreme court, and of the pleas court; surrogate and keeper and register of the records of the province of New Jersey; aide-de-camp to Governor William Franklin, March 8, 1771; secretary of state of New Jersey and aide to Governor Livingston, October 8, 1776; assistant adjutant general on the staff of Gen. Nathaniel Greene in the Revolutionary army, March 2, 1778, until his resignation March 20, 1781; declined the promotion to quartermaster general; became an importing merchant in Philadelphia; member of the state house of representatives; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1785-1787; died in Philadelphia, Pa., September 3, 1806.

Pettit, John, a Representative and a Senator from Indiana; born in Sacketts Harbor, N. Y., June 24, 1807; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, moved to Lafayette, Ind., where he began practice in 1838; served two terms as a member of the state house of representatives; United States district attorney; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1849); delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1850; presidential elector on the Pierce and King ticket in 1852; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of James Whitcomb, and served from January 11, 1853, to March 3, 1855; chief justice of the United States courts in Kansas; elected in 1870 supreme judge of Indiana; died in Lafayette, Ind., January 17, 1877.

Pettit, John Upfold, a Representative from Indiana; born in Fabius, Onondaga county, N. Y., September 11, 1820; was graduated from Union college in 1839; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Wabash, Ind., in 1841; consul to Maranham, Brazil, 1850-1853; judge of the circuit court; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1859); died in Wabash, Ind., March 21, 1881.

Pettus, Edmund Winston, a Senator from Alabama; born in Limestone county, Ala., July 6, 1821; attended common schools of Alabama and Clinton college, in Smith county, Tenn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and commenced practice in Gainesville, Ala.; elected solicitor for the seventh circuit in 1844; served as a lieutenant in the Mexican war; resigned the office of solicitor in 1849 and went with a party of his neighbors on horseback to California; elected judge of the seventh circuit after his return to Alabama in 1855, but resigned in 1858, and moved to Dallas county; resumed the practice of law; entered the Confederate army as major of the twentieth Alabama infantry in 1861, and soon afterwards was made lieutenant colonel of that regiment; made a brigadier general of infantry in October, 1863, and served until the close of the war; returned to Selma, Ala., and practiced law; in November, 1896, elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1897; reelected in 1903, and served until his death in Hot Springs, N. C., July 27, 1907.

Peyton, Balie, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Gallatin, Tenn., November 26, 1803; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Gallatin, Tenn.; held various local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); served as aide-de-camp on the staff of Gen. W. J. Worth, during the Mexican war; was voted a sword by the legislature of Louisiana for gallantry in this war; minister to Chile 1849-1853; moved to New Orleans; United States attorney for Louisiana; moved to California; returned to Tennessee; presidential elector on the Bell and Everett ticket in 1860; died near Gallatin, Tenn., August 19, 1878.

Peyton, Joseph Hopkins, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Sumner county, Tenn., May 20, 1808; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine, was graduated from a regular college in 1837, and practiced a short time; held various local offices; member of the state senate in 1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1843, until his death near Gallatin, Tenn., November 11, 1845; interment in Congressional cemetery, Washington, D. C.

Peyton, Samuel Oldham, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Bullitt county, Ky., January 8, 1804; completed preparatory studies; was graduated in medicine from the Transylvania university in 1827, and began practice in Hartford, Ky.; state representative in 1835; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-first Congress; again elected to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); died at Hartford, Ky., January 4, 1870.

Phelan, James, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Aberdeen, Miss., December 7, 1856; moved with his father to Memphis, Tenn., in 1867; attended the private schools and the Kentucky military institute, near Frankfort, in 1871; entered the University of Leipsic, Saxony, in 1874; received the degree of doctor of philosophy in February, 1878; returned to Memphis; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1881; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses and served from March 4, 1887 until his death January 30, 1891.

Phelps, Charles Edward, a Representative from Maryland; born in Guilford, Vt., May 1, 1833; moved with his parents to New Jersey in 1837, and to Maryland in 1841; pursued classical studies in St. Timothy's Hall, near Catonsville, Md., and was graduated from Princeton in 1852; studied law in Harvard law school, was admitted to the bar, and in 1855 began practice in Baltimore, Md.; held several city offices; entered the Union army August 20, 1862, as lieutenant colonel of the seventh regiment Maryland volunteers; colonel April 13, 1864; brevetted brigadier general March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service"; honorably discharged September 9, 1864; awarded Congressional medal of honor March 30, 1898, "for, when the division and brigade commanders were wounded in the assault at Laurel Hill, Va., May 8, 1864, he succeeded to the command and led the brigade with distinguished gallantry and was wounded within a few feet of the enemy's works and taken prisoner"; was recaptured by General Sheridan; elected as a Union War candidate to the Thirty-ninth Congress and as a Union Conservative to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869); resumed the practice of law in Baltimore, Md.; judge on the supreme bench of Baltimore City; died at "Walbrook," Md., December 27, 1908.

Phelps, Darwin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in East Granby, Conn.; moved to Ohio, where he completed preparatory studies and attended Western university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Kittanning, Pa., in 1835; served one term in the state house of representatives; delegate to the national Republican convention in Chicago in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871).

Phelps, Elisha, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Simsbury, Conn., November 7, 1779; was graduated from Yale college in 1800; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Simsbury; served several years in both branches of the state legislature, and as speaker of the house in 1821 and 1829; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1821) and reelected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1829); state comptroller 1830–1834; appointed a commissioner to revise and codify the state laws in 1835; died in Simsbury, Conn., April 18, 1847.

Phelps, James, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Essex, Conn., January 12, 1822; completed an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Essex; member of the state house of representatives 1853, 1854, and 1856, and of the state senate 1858–1859; elected a judge of the superior court of Connecticut in 1863 for a term of eight years, and reelected in 1871; elected a judge of the supreme court of errors of the state in 1873, and resigned in 1875; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1883); died in Essex, Conn., January 15, 1900.

Phelps, John Smith, a Representative from Missouri; born in Simsbury, Conn., December 22, 1814; was graduated from Trinity college, Hartford, Conn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Simsbury; moved to Springfield, Mo.; in 1837; served in the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth, and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1863); colonel in the Union army; military governor of Arkansas; defeated as the Democratic candidate for the Thirty-eighth Congress; governor of Missouri 1877–1881; died in St. Louis, Mo., November 20, 1886; interment in Springfield, Mo.

Phelps, Launcelot, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Windsor, Conn., November 9, 1784; moved with his father to Colebrook, Conn., in 1794; attended the common schools; studied medicine, was licensed to practice, and practiced in Colebrook many years; engaged also in agricultural pursuits, and was interested in mercantile business in Hitchcocksville (now Riverton), Conn., where he resided for a time; returned to Colebrook; held various local offices; member of the state general assembly for several terms; elected to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835–March 3, 1839); died in Colebrook, Conn., September 1, 1866.

Phelps, Oliver, a Representative from New York; born in Windsor, Conn., October 21, 1749; completed preparatory studies; became a merchant in Granville, Mass; served in the commissary department of the Colonial army; settled in Sufield, Mass.; held successively the offices of member of assembly, state senator, and member of the governor's council; assisted in the organization of the Phelps and Gorham syndicate in 1788 and acted as the representative of that company in the exploration of the Genesee country and in negotiations for the extinction of the Indian title to the land; removed to Canandaigua, N. Y., in 1802; served as first judge of the county from the date of its organization, 1789, until 1793; elected to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1805); judge of the circuit court; died in Canandaigua, N. Y., February 21, 1809.

Phelps, Samuel Shethar, a Senator from Vermont; born in Litchfield, Conn., May 13, 1793; was graduated from Yale college in 1811; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served in the war of 1812 as paymaster; began practicing in Middlebury, Vt., in 1815; member of the legislative council in 1831; judge of the supreme court of Vermont 1831–1838; member of state senate 1838–1839; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate; was reelected and served from March 4, 1839, to March 3, 1851; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of William Upham, and served from January 17, 1853, until March 16, 1854, when the Senate decided that he could not hold his seat by appointment; died in Middlebury, Vt., March 25, 1855.

Phelps, Timothy Guy, a Representative from California; born in Chenango county, N. Y., December 20, 1824; completed preparatory studies; moved to California and located in San Mateo; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); died in San Mateo county, Cal., June 11, 1894.

Phelps, William Wallace, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Oakland county, Mich., June 1, 1826; was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1848; held various county offices; appointed register of the United States land office at Red Wing, Minn.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); editor of the Red Wing Sentinel in 1860; died in Spring Lake, Mich., August 3, 1873.

Phelps, William Walter, a Representative from New Jersey; born in New York City August 24, 1839; was graduated from Yale college in 1860 and from the Columbia college law school in 1863; retired from the practice of law in 1868, refusing a judgeship offered by Governor Fenton; elected to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); candidate for reelection to the Forty-fourth Congress, but defeated; delegate to the national Republican conventions of 1880 and 1884; minister to Austria in 1881; relinquished the position in 1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1889); declined a renomination; appointed in 1889 by President Harrison one of the commissioners to represent the United States at the International Congress on the Samoan question, which met in Berlin; appointed minister to Germany, and served until 1893; appointed a special judge of the court of errors and appeals of the state of New Jersey; died in Englewood, N. J., June 17, 1894.

Philips, John Finis, a Representative from Missouri; born in Boone county, Mo., December 31, 1834; attended the State University of Missouri and was graduated from Centre college, Danville, Ky., in 1855; studied law; member of the constitutional convention of Missouri in 1861; commissioned colonel in 1862, and commanded a regiment of cavalry in the Union army until the close of the war; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); elected to the Forty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of A. M. Lay; appointed United States judge of the western district of Missouri by President Cleveland; a resident of Kansas City, Mo., and retired.

Phillips, Fremont Orestes, a Representative from Ohio; born in Lafayette, Medina county, Ohio, March 16, 1856; moved to Medina in 1873; attended the Medina high school, Medina normal school, and Kenyon college; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1880 and practiced; held the office of probate judge of Medina county; elected to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law in Medina, Ohio.

Phillips, Henry Myer, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., June 30, 1811; completed preparatory studies; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); defeated for the Thirty-sixth Congress; died in Philadelphia, Pa., August 3, 1884.

Phillips, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Chester county, Pa.; received a limited schooling; elected as a Federalist to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823).

Phillips, Philip, a Representative from Alabama; born in Charleston, S. C., December 13, 1807; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Charleston, S. C., December 14, 1828; member of the state convention of 1832; served two years as a member of the legislature; moved to Mobile, Ala., where he resumed the practice of law; member of the Alabama state legislature in 1844 and 1851; delegate to the national Democratic convention of 1852; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); declined a renomination; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.

Phillips, Stephen Clarendon, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Salem, Mass., November 4, 1801; was graduated from Harvard university in 1819; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Salem; served in the state house of representatives 1824–1829 and in the senate in 1830; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Rufus Choate; reelected to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses and served from December 1, 1834, to 1838, when he resigned; mayor of Salem 1838–1842; defeated as the Free Soil candidate for governor in 1848 and 1849; engaged in the lumber business in Canada; perished in the burning of the steamer Montreal on the St. Lawrence river, June 26, 1857.

Phillips, Thomas W., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in that section of Beaver county now included in Lawrence county, Pa., February 23, 1835; attended the common schools and was privately instructed; engaged in the oil business; president of the producers' protective association 1887–1890; president of the Citizens' national bank of Newcastle; member of the board of trustees of Bethany college, West Virginia, and of Hiram college, Ohio; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1897); member of the Industrial commission until its dissolution.

Phillips, William Addison, a Representative from Kansas; born in Paisley, Scotland, January 14, 1824; emigrated to the United States in 1838 and located in New York City; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; engaged in newspaper work; moved to Kansas; entered the Union army in 1861 as major; served in the Kansas state legislature; elected as a Republican to the Fortv-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1879); died in Fort Gibson, Ind. Ter., November 30, 1893.

Philson, Robert, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Ireland; emigrated to the United States and located in Pennsylvania; received a limited schooling; held various offices; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1821).

Phister, Elijah Conner, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Maysville, Ky., October 8, 1822; attended the seminary of Rand and Richardson, Maysville, Ky., and was graduated from Augusta college, Kentucky, in August, 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1844; mayor of Maysville in January, 1848; circuit judge 1856–1862; member of the state legislature 1867–1871; appointed by Governor Leslie one of the commissioners to revise the state statutes in 1872, but declined; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); died in Maysville, Ky., May 16, 1887.

Phoenix, Jonas Phillips, a Representative from New York; born in Morristown, N. J., January 14, 1788; received a limited schooling and became a merchant in New York City; held several offices under the city government; presidential elector on the Harrison and Tyler ticket in 1841, elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); elected a member of the state house of representatives in 1848; again elected to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); died in New York City, May 4, 1859.

Pickens, Andrew, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Paxton, Pa., September 19, 1739; attended the common schools; moved to South Carolina in 1752; entered the Revolutionary army as captain, and attained the rank of brigadier general; served in the campaign against the Cherokee Indians in 1782; served several years as a member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1795); elected major general of militia in 1795; died in Pendleton district, S. C., August 11, 1817.

Pickens, Francis Wilkinson, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Tagaloo, S. C., April 7, 1805; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Edgefield district in 1829; engaged in planting; served several years as a member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Nullifier to the Twenty-third Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of George McDuffie; reelected to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses, and served from December 8, 1834, to March 3, 1843; member of the state house of representatives in 1844; member of the Nashville convention of 1850; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Cincinnati in 1856; minister to Russia 1858-1860; elected Confederate governor of South Carolina and took an active part in the Civil war; died in Edgefield, S. C., January 25, 1869.

Pickens, Israel, a Representative from North Carolina and a Senator from Alabama; born in Cabarrus county, N. C., January 30, 1780; moved to Burke county, N. C., received a limited schooling; state senator in 1809; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1817); appointed register of the land office of Mississippi territory in 1817; governor of Alabama 1821-1825; appointed from Alabama to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Henry Chambers, and served from February 17, 1826, until November 27, 1826; died near Matanzas, Cuba, April 24, 1827.

Pickering, Timothy, a Senator and a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Salem, Mass., July 17, 1745; was graduated from Harvard college in 1763; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1768, and began practice in Salem; appointed a judge of the court of common pleas for Essex county in 1775 and judge of the provincial maritime court; entered the Revolutionary army as colonel; appointed adjutant general May 24, 1777; elected by Congress quartermaster general (vice General Greene); Postmaster General 1791-1794; appointed Secretary of War January 2, 1794, and Secretary of State December 10, 1795, holding the last position until May 10, 1800; farmer in Pennsylvania; returned to Massachusetts in 1802; defeated candidate for the Eighth Congress; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Dwight Foster; reelected and served from March 4, 1803, to March 3, 1811; defeated for reelection in 1811; member of the executive council; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); returned to his farm near Wenham, Mass.; died in Salem, Mass., January 29, 1829.

Pickett, Charles Edgar, a Representative from Iowa; born in Van Buren county, Iowa, January 14, 1866; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Iowa state university in 1888 and from the law department in 1890; was admitted to the bar, and engaged in practice in Waterloo, Iowa; regent of the state university from 1896 to 1909; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Pickler, John Alfred, a Representative from South Dakota; born near Salem, Washington county, Ind., January 24, 1844; moved with his father to Davis county, Iowa; entered the army and served in the third Iowa cavalry; was mustered out as captain in that regiment; subsequently served six months as major of the one hundred and thirty-eighth United States Iowa cavalry; was graduated from Iowa state university in 1870, and from the Ann Arbor law school in 1872; was admitted to the bar and practiced; elected district attorney of Adair county, Mo., in the fall of 1872; moved to Muscatine, Iowa, in 1874; Garfield elector in 1880; member of the state legislature in 1881; moved to Dakota in 1883; elected to the Dakota legislature in 1884, and elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1897); resumed practice of law; died in Franklin, S. Dak., June 13, 1910.

Pickman, Benjamin, jr., a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Salem, Mass., September 30, 1763; was graduated from Harvard college in 1784; studied law under Chief Justice Parsons, in Newburyport, Mass., and was admitted to the bar, but soon relinquished the practice of law and engaged in commercial pursuits; member of the general court 1801-1802 and 1812-1813; senator in 1802-1804; member of the executive council of the state 1805-1806, 1808-1809, 1813-1815, and 1819-1821; drafted the answers of the house to the governor's speeches in several sessions; elected to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); in 1820 member of the convention to revise the constitution of the state of Massachusetts; overseer of Harvard college 1810-1818; president of the directors of the Theological school at Cambridge and prominently identified with many religious and educational societies; died in Salem, Mass., August 16, 1843

Pidcock, James Nelson, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Whitehouse, Hunterdon county, N. J., February 8, 1836; attended the district schools; engaged in civil engineering 1850-1857; farmer and dealer in live stock after 1857; state senator from Hunterdon county 1877-1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); died in Whitehouse Station, N. Y., December 17, 1899.

Pierce, Charles W., a Representative from Alabama; born in New York in 1823; completed preparatory studies; moved to Illinois; served as lieutenant of Illinois volunteer infantry in the Union army; after the war remained in Alabama and located in Demopolis; held various public offices; elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869).

Pierce, Franklin, a Representative and a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Hillsboro, N. H., November 23, 1804; was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1824; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1827 began practice in Hillsboro; member of the state house of representatives 1829-1833; served as speaker 1832-1833; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1837, to February 28, 1842, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in Concord; served in the Mexican war as colonel; commissioned brigadier general in March, 1847, and remained in Mexico until the close of the war; member of the New Hampshire state constitutional convention of 1850, and its president; elected President of the United States, receiving 254 electoral votes against 42 votes for Winfield Scott, and serving from March 4, 1853, to March 3, 1857; died in Concord, N. H., October 8, 1869.

Pierce, Gilbert Ashville, a Senator from North Dakota; born in East Otto, Cattaragus county, N. Y.; moved to Indiana in 1854; attended the university of Chicago law school two years; enlisted in company H, ninth Indiana volunteers, in 1861, and elected second lieutenant of the company; appointed captain and assistant quartermaster by President Lincoln; promoted to lieutenant colonel in November, 1863; appointed a colonel and inspector, and special commissioner of the War Department, and served until October, 1865; member of the Indiana legislature in 1868; assistant financial clerk of the United States Senate 1869-1871; resigned to accept an editorial position on the Chicago Inter-Ocean; served as associate editor and managing editor for twelve years; became connected with the Chicago News in 1883; appointed governor of Dakota in July, 1884; resigned in November, 1886; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from November 21, 1889, to March 3, 1891; died in Chicago, Ill., February 15, 1901.

Pierce, Henry Lillie, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Stoughton, Mass., August 23, 1825; pursued classical studies; engaged in manufacturing; held various local offices; member of the state house of representatives 1860-1866; mayor of Boston 1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of William Whiting; reelected to the Forty-fourth Congress, and served from December 1, 1873, to March 3, 1877; declined a renomination; mayor of Boston in 1878; died in Boston, Mass., December 17, 1896.

Pierce, Joseph, a Representative from New Hampshire; attended school in Amherst; served in the Revolutionary war in Col. Pierce Long's regiment 1775-1776; was elected to the Seventh Congress and served from March 4, 1801, until 1802, when he resigned; died in Stafford county, N. H., in 1828.

Pierce, Ray Vaughn, a Representative from New York; born in Stark, Herkimer county, N. Y.; August 6, 1840; attended public and private schools and was graduated from a medical college in 1862; practiced medicine in Titusville, Pa., 1862-1866; moved to Buffalo, N. Y., in 1867, and engaged in the manufacture and sale of proprietary medicines and established the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute; member of the state senate 1877-1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); a resident of Buffalo, N. Y., and a manufacturer and publisher.

Pierce, Rice A., a Representative from Tennessee; born in Dresden, Weakley county, Tenn., July 3, 1848; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar of the supreme court in Raleigh, N. C., in July, 1868; began practice in Union City, Obion county, Tenn., in 1869; elected district attorney general of the twelfth judicial circuit in 1874; reelected in 1878 for eight years; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); reelected to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893), and reelected to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1905).

Pierce, William, a Delegate from Georgia; born in Georgia about 1740; completed preparatory studies; served in the Revolutionary army with distinction and received a sword from Congress; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Savannah, Ga.; member of the state general assembly; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1786-1787; delegate from Georgia to the convention which framed the Federal constitution; died in Savannah, Ga., December 10, 1789.

Pierson, Isaac, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Orange, Essex county, N. J., August 15, 1770; was graduated from Princeton college in 1789; studied medicine, was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City, and began practice in Orange, N. J.; elected assessor of Orange April 13, 1807, and served one year; president of the medical society of New Jersey in 1827; sheriff of Essex county one term; elected to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1831); died in Orange, N. J., September 22, 1833.

Pierson, Jeremiah Halsey, a Representative from New York; born in Newark, N. J., September 13, 1766; moved with parents to Richmond, Mass., in 1772; attended the public schools of Richmond and Stockbridge, Mass., and completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Massachusetts and later in New York City in 1795; justice of the peace 1802-1807; associate justice of the court of common pleas in 1808; largely instrumental in securing the construction of the Erie railroad; elected as a Federalist to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); died in Ramapo, N. Y., December 12, 1855.

Pierson, Job, a Representative from New York; native of New York; attended the common schools; was graduated from Williams college in 1811; held several local offices; elected to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1835); died in Troy, N. Y., April 9, 1860.

Pigott, James Protus, a Representative from Connecticut; born in New Haven, Conn., September 11, 1852; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Yale college in 1878 and from the law school in 1880; was admitted to the bar, and practiced in New Haven, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives in 1885 and 1886; chairman of the state delegation in the Democratic national convention of 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); delegate at large to the Democratic national convention at Kansas City in 1900; resumed the practice of law in New Haven, Conn.

Pike, Austin Franklin, a Representative and a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Hebron, N. H., October 14, 1819; pursued an academic course; studied law and was admitted to the bar of Merrimack county in July, 1845; member of the state house of representatives in 1850, 1851, 1852, 1865-1866, and was speaker of the house the last two years; member of the senate in 1857-1858 and president the last year; delegate in the Philadelphia convention which nominated General Fremont in 1856; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress and served from March 4, 1873, to March 3, 1875; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1883, until his death in Franklin, N. H., October 8, 1886.

Pike, Frederick Augustus, a Representative from Maine; born in Calais, Me., December 9, 1817; received a thorough English training; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1840 began practice in Calais; one year edited the Calais Advertiser; served a number of years as a member of the state legislature and one year as speaker of the house; prosecuting attorney for Washington county; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1869); again elected to the state legislature; defeated as the Liberal Republican candidate for the Forty-third Congress; died in Calais, Me., December 2, 1886.

Pike, James, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Salisbury, Mass., November 10, 1818; pursued classical studies; studied theology and was graduated from the Wesleyan university, Connecticut; minister 1841-1854; moved to New Hampshire; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); colonel of the sixteenth New Hampshire infantry October 28, 1862, to August 20, 1863; after leaving Congress resumed preaching and became presiding elder of the Dover district; died in Newfields, N. H., July 26, 1895.

Pile, William A., a Representative from Missouri; born near Indianapolis, Ind., February 11, 1829; completed preparatory studies; studied theology and became a minister in the Methodist Episcopal church and a member of the Missouri conference; entered the Union army; chaplain first Missouri light artillery June 12, 1861; lieutenant colonel thirty-third Missouri infantry September 5, 1862; colonel December 23, 1862; brigadier general of volunteers December 26, 1863; brevet major general April 9, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service in the siege and capture of Fort Blakeley, Ala.;" mustered out August 24, 1865; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); defeated for reelection; governor of New Mexico 1869-1870; minister resident to Venezuela 1871-1874, when he resigned; died in Monrovia, Cal., July 7, 1889.

Piles, Samuel Henry, a Senator from Washington; born in Livingston county, Ky., December 28, 1858; attended private schools in Smithland, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and located in Snohomish, Wash., in 1883; in 1886 moved to Spokane, Wash., and later in the same year to Seattle, where he practiced; assistant prosecuting attorney 1887-1889; city attorney of Seattle 1888-1889; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1905, to March 3, 1911; resumed the practice of law in Seattle, Wash.

Pilsbury, Timothy, a Representative from Texas; born in Newbury, Mass., April 12, 1789; attended the public schools; located in Maine; served in the Maine legislature and was a member of the executive council; defeated for Congress; moved to Ohio, then to Louisiana; and then to Brazoria, Tex.; served in the house of representatives and the senate of the Republic of Texas; elected as a Calhoun Democrat to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); defeated for reelection; died near Danville, Tex., November 23, 1858.

Pinckney, Charles, a Delegate, a Senator, and a Representative from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., March 9, 1758; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1779; member of the provisional legislature 1779-1780; taken prisoner by the British in 1780; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1777-1778, and again in 1784-1787; also a member of the United States constitutional convention of 1787; member of the state constitutional convention in 1788 and 1790; governor of South Carolina 1789-1792 and 1796-1798; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Hunter and served from December 4, 1798 to December, 1801, when he resigned; minister to Spain 1803-1805; member of the state legislature 1806; governor of South Carolina 1806-1808; again a member of the state legislature 1810-1814; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); died in Charleston, S. C., October 29, 1824.

Pinckney, Henry Laurens, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., September 24, 1794; was graduated from South Carolina college in 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Charleston; member of the state house of representatives 1816-1832; mayor of Charleston; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); again mayor of Charleston 1839-1840; collector of the port of Charleston; died in Charleston, S. C., February 3, 1863.

Pinckney, John McPherson, a Representative from Texas; born in Grimes county, Tex., May 4, 1845; attended the public schools and was privately instructed; a private soldier in the Confederate army; served four years in the fourth Texas regiment, Dodd's brigade; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and entered upon practice in 1875; served ten years as district attorney for the twenty-third judicial district of Texas, and three years as county judge of Waller county; was elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth Congress November 17, 1903, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas H. Ball; reelected to the Fifty-ninth Congress and served from December 7, 1903, until he was assaulted and killed in Hempstead, Tex., April 24, 1905.

Pinckney, Thomas, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., October 23, 1750; was graduated from Oxford university, England; studied law in the Temple in London, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Charleston, S. C., in 1773; major in the Revolutionary army, and captured at the battle of Gum Swamp in 1780; governor of South Carolina 1787-1789; member of the state legislature in 1791; minister to Great Britain January 12, 1792, to July 28, 1796; minister to Spain November 24, 1794, to November, 1795; elected as a Federalist to the Fifth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William Smith; reelected to the Sixth Congress, and served from November 23, 1797, to March 3, 1801; appointed major general in the war of 1812, and served throughout the war; president general of the Society of the Cincinnati 1825-1829; died in Charleston, S. C., November 2, 1828.

Pindall, James, a Representative from Virginia; native of Virginia; attended the common schools; held various local offices; elected as a Federalist to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1817 to 1820, when he resigned.

Pindar, John Sigsbee, a Representative from New York; born in Sharon, Schoharie county, N. Y., November 18, 1835; attended the common schools and Richmondville seminary; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1865; elected president of the village of Cobleskill in 1882, 1883, and 1884; chairman of the Democratic county committee for ten years; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law in Cobleskill, N. Y.; was elected to the Fifty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of David Wilber, and served from December 1, 1890, to March 3, 1891; died in Cobleskill, N. Y., June 30, 1907.

Pinkney, William, a Representative and a Senator from Maryland; born in Annapolis, Md., March 17, 1764; pursued classical studies; studied medicine, but did not practice; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1786, and began practice in Harford county, Md.; member of the state constitutional convention in 1788, and of the state house of delegates 1789-1792; elected to the Second Congress, and served from March 4, 1791, to November of that year, when he resigned, the question of ineligibility being raised on account of nonresidence; member of the executive council of Maryland 1792-1795; again a member of the house of delegates in 1795; one of the commissioners at London under Jay's treaty 1796-1804; attorney general of Maryland 1805; joint minister to Great Britain with James Monroe 1806-1807, and minister plenipotentiary 1807-1811; returned to Baltimore in 1811; served in the state senate; Attorney General of the United States December 11, 1811, to February 10, 1814; wounded at the battle of Bladensburg, Md., August 24, 1814; elected to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from January 8, 1816, to April 23, 1816, when he resigned, having been appointed minister to the Two Sicilies; minister plenipotentiary to Russia 1816-1818; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Alexander Contee Hanson, and served from December 21, 1819, until his death, in Washington, D. C., February 25, 1822.

Piper, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; was elected to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1817).

Piper, William Augustus, a Representative from California; born in Franklin county, Pa., in 1825; attended common schools; moved to St. Louis, Mo.; served in the Mexican war; moved to California in 1848 and in 1849 located in San Francisco, where he engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); defeated for reelection.

Pirce, William Almy, a Representative and a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Scituate, R. I., February 29, 1824; attended district schools and Smithfield seminary; taught school; engaged in the manufacture of cotton goods 1854-1863; assessor of internal revenue for the second district of Rhode Island 1862-1873; elected state senator in 1855; member of the state house of representatives in 1858, 1862, 1879, 1880, and 1881; and again elected state senator in 1882; chairman of the Rhode Island delegation in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1880, and member of the Republican national committee 1880 and 1884; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1885, to January 25, 1887, when the seat was declared vacant on account of irregularities in the election; died March 5, 1891, in Johnston, R. I.

Pitcher, Nathaniel, a Representative from New York; born in Litchfield, Conn., in 1777; received a limited schooling; moved to Sandy Hill, N. Y.; member of the state assembly 1806, 1815-1817; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1821; lieutenant governor of New York in 1826 and acting governor upon the death of Governor Clinton, 1827-1829; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1823); reelected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); died in Sandy Hill, N. Y., May 25, 1836.

Pitkin, Timothy, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Farmington, Conn., January 20, 1766; was graduated from Yale college in 1785; studied law with Oliver Wolcott, was admitted to the bar in 1788, and began practice in Farmington; member of the state assembly 1790-1805, and speaker five years; elected to the Ninth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1819); died in New Haven, Conn., December 18, 1847.

Pitman, Charles W., a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of New Jersey; attended the common schools; moved to Pottsville, Pa.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851).

Pitney, Mahlon, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Morristown, N. J., February 5, 1858; attended public schools; entered Princeton college in 1875, and was graduated in 1879; studied law for three years and was admitted to the bar in June, 1882, and practiced in Dover, Morris county, N. J., 1882-1889; returned to Morristown; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1895, until January 10, 1899, when he resigned; state senator 1899-1901, and president of the senate in 1901; associate justice supreme court of New Jersey 1901-1908; chancellor 1908-1912; appointed associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States February 19, 1912, and took the oath of office March 18, 1912.

Plaisted, Harris Merrill, a Representative from Maine, born in Jefferson, N. H., November 2, 1828; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from Waterville college, Me., in 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1856 began practice in Bangor, Me.; served in the Union army; lieutenant colonel of the eleventh Maine infantry October 30, 1861; colonel May 12, 1862; brevet brigadier general of volunteers February 21, 1865; major general March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service during the war;" honorably discharged March 25, 1865; member of the state legislature 1867-1868; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1868; attorney general of Maine 1873, 1874, and 1875; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Samuel F. Hersey, and served from December 6, 1875, to March 3, 1877; governor 1881-1882; died in Bangor, Me., January 31, 1898.

Plant, David, a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Stratford, Conn., March 29, 1783; was graduated from Yale college in 1804; studied law in the Litchfield, Conn., law school, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Stratford; member of the state house of representatives 1819-1820, and its speaker; state senator 1821-1823; lieutenant governor of Connecticut 1823-1827; elected to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); died in Stratford, Conn., October 18, 1851.

Plants, Tobias Avery, a Representative from Ohio; born in Beaver county, Pa., March 17, 1811; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Pomeroy, Ohio; served several years as a member of the state legislature; elected as a Federalist to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1869); judge of the court of common pleas; died in Pomeroy, Ohio, June 19, 1887.

Plater, George, a Delegate from Maryland; born in Sotterly, near Leonardtown, St. Marys county, Md., November 8, 1735; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1753; studied law and began practice in Annapolis, Md.; member of Maryland house of delegates in 1758; naval officer at Patuxent 1767–1771; judge of the provincial court 1771–1773; member of the council 1773–1774; represented St. Marys county in the Annapolis conventions of 1776; delegate in the Continental Congress 1778–1781; president of the state constitutional convention which ratified the Federal Constitution; presidential elector in 1789; governor of Maryland in 1791; died in Annapolis, Md., February 10, 1792; interment in Sotterly, Md.

Plater, Thomas, a Representative from Maryland; a native of Annapolis, Md.; received a limited education; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; elected to the Seventh and Eighth Congresses (March 4, 1801–March 3, 1805).

Platt, James H., jr., a Representative from Virginia; born of American parents in St. Johns, Canada, July 13, 1837; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from the medical department of the University of Vermont in 1859; entered the Union army in 1861 as first sergeant of the third Vermont volunteers; served as captain and lieutenant colonel and assigned to duty as chief quartermaster of the sixth corps, but declined; settled in Petersburg, Va., April 6, 1865; elected a member of the constitutional convention of Virginia in 1867; moved to Norfolk, Va.; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1875); defeated as the Republican candidate for the Forty-fourth Congress.

Platt, Jonas, a Representative from New York; born in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 30, 1769; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Poughkeepsie; held various local offices; elected to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799–March 3, 1801); appointed a justice of the supreme court of New York February 23, 1814; died in Peru, N. Y., February 22, 1834.

Platt, Orville Hitchcock, a Senator from Connecticut; born in Washington, Conn., July 19, 1827; was graduated from Gunn academy, Washington, Conn., and attended the Litchfield law school; was admitted to the bar in 1849 and practiced in Philadelphia, Pa., 1849–1851, and in Meriden, Conn., after 1851; clerk of the state senate 1855–1856; secretary of state of Connecticut in 1857; member of the state senate in 1861–1862; member of the state house of representatives in 1864 and 1869, and served as speaker in 1869; state's attorney for New Haven county 1877–1879; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1879; re-elected in 1885, 1891, 1897, and 1903; served from March 4, 1879, until his death in West Meriden, Conn., April 21, 1905.

Platt, Thomas Collier, a Representative and a Senator from New York; born in Owego, N. Y., July 15, 1833; was prepared for college in the Owego academy and attended Yale 1849–1850; entered mercantile life and was president of the Tioga national bank at its organization; largely interested in the lumbering business in Michigan; clerk of Tioga county 1859–1861; elected to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1877); elected to the United States Senate January 18, 1881, and served from March 4, 1881, to May 16, 1881, when he resigned with his colleague, Roscoe Conkling, on account of a disagreement with President Garfield over Federal appointments in New York; secretary and director of the United States Express Company in 1879, and in 1880 elected president of the company; member and president of the board of quarantine commissioners of New York 1880–1888; delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1876, 1880, 1884, 1888, 1892, 1896, 1900, and 1904; member of the national Republican committee; elected to the United States Senate in 1896; reelected and served from March 4, 1897, to March 3, 1909; died in New York City, March 6, 1910.

Platt, Zephaniah, a Delegate from New York; born in Dutchess county, N. Y., in 1740; received a thorough English training; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1784–1786; district judge for several years; one of the projectors of the Erie canal; died in Plattsburg, N. Y., September 12, 1807.

Pleasants, James, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Goochland county, Va., October 24, 1769; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Goochland; state representative in 1796–1803; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Sixteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1811, until December 14, 1819, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John W. Eppes, and served from December 10, 1819, to December 15, 1822, when he resigned to become governor of Virginia; delegate to the state constitutional convention 1829–1830; died near Goochland, Va., November 9, 1839.

Plowman, Thomas Scales, a Representative from Alabama; born June 8, 1843; joined the Confederate service in May, 1862, as a member of company F, fifty-first Alabama cavalry, and was engaged in all the battles of the regiment from Murfreesboro to Atlanta; severely wounded in the battle of Atlanta, July 22, 1864; engaged in the mercantile business in Talladega, Ala.; three times mayor; delegate in the national convention in St. Louis in 1888; for a number of years president of the First National bank of Talladega; presented credentials as Member-elect and as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress and served from March 4, 1897, to February 9, 1898, when he was succeeded by William F. Aldrich, who contested his election; member of the state senate in 1912.

Plumb, Preston B., a Senator from Kansas; born in Delaware county, Ohio, October 12, 1837; attended the common schools; learned the art of printing and afterwards aided in establishing the Xenia News; moved to Kansas in 1856 and established the Emporia News; member of the Leavenworth constitutional convention of 1859; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1861; elected to the lower house of the Kansas legislature in 1862; reporter of the supreme court; in August, 1862, entered the Union army as second lieutenant in the eleventh Kansas infantry, and served successively as captain, major, and lieutenant colonel; member and speaker of the Kansas house of reprerepresentatives in 1867, and member in 1868; relinquished the practice of law and became president of the Emporia national bank in 1873; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate; reelected in 1883 and 1888; served from March 4, 1877, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 20, 1891.

Plumb, Ralph, a Representative from Illinois; born in Busti, Chautauqua county, N. Y., March 29, 1816; attended the common schools; engaged as a merchant for eighteen years; elected in 1855 a member of the lower house of the Ohio legislature; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served in the Union army as captain and quartermaster of volunteers 1861-1865; was brevetted lieutenant colonel; engaged in coal mining and railroad building; mayor of Streator, Ill., 1882-1885; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); died in Streator, Ill., April 8, 1903.

Plumer, Arnold, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Cooperstown, Pa., June 6, 1801; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); died in Franklin, Pa., April 28, 1869.

Plumer, George, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Pittsburgh, Pa., December 5, 1762; received a limited schooling; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1827); died near West Newton, Pa., June 8, 1843.

Plumer, William, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Newburyport, Mass., June 25, 1759; moved with his parents to Epping, N. H., in 1768; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1787 in Epping; held various local offices; served eight terms in the state house of representatives and two years as speaker; president of the state senate 1810-1811; member of the state constitutional convention in 1791-1792; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Sheafe, and served from June 17, 1802, to March 3, 1807; governor of New Hampshire 1812-1813 and 1816-1819; presidential elector in 1820; retired and was devoted to literary pursuits; died in Epping, N. H., December 22, 1850.

Plumer, William, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Epping, N. H., October 9, 1789; was graduated from Harvard college in 1809; studied law, was admitted to the bar, but never practiced; United States commissioner of loans 1816-1817; served several years in both branches of the state legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1827); member of the constitutional convention of 1850; died in Epping, N. H., September 18, 1854.

Plumley, Frank, a Representative from Vermont; born in Eden, Vt., December 17, 1844; attended the public schools, an academy, and was one year in Michigan university, law department; was admitted to the bar in Lamoille county, Vt., May, 1869, and began practice in Northfield; state's attorney of Washington county 1876-1880; district attorney of the United States for the district of Vermont 1889-1894; appointed a member of the Vermont court of claims in 1902; chief judge 1904-1906; was appointed umpire by President Roosevelt in 1903 of the mixed commissions of Great Britain and Venezuela, and Holland and Venezuela, sitting in Caracas; was later selected by France and by Venezuela as umpire in the French-Venezuela mixed commission, which sat in Northfield in 1905; trustee of Norwich university; elected to the state house of representatives in 1882, and to the state senate in 1894; delegate in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1888; chairman of the Vermont Republican convention in 1886; for many years trustee of the Northfield savings bank and its vice president; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Plummer, Franklin E., a Representative from Mississippi; native of Virginia; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Westville, Miss.; held various local offices; elected to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1835); died in Jackson, Miss., September 24, 1802.

Poehler, Henry, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Lippe-Detmold, Germany, August 22, 1833; attended common schools; emigrated to the United States in April, 1848, and settled in Iowa; moved to Henderson, Sibley county, Minn., in 1853; engaged in mercantile business; elected a member of the first state legislature in 1857-1858, and reelected in 1865; state senator 1872-1873; and 1876-1877; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); defeated for reelection in 1886; candidate for state treasurer, and defeated; moved to Los Angeles, Cal., in 1896.

Poindexter, George, a Delegate, a Representative, and a Senator from Mississippi; born in Louisa county, Va., in 1779; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Richmond, Va.; moved to the Territory of Mississippi in 1802 and practiced law in Natchez; held various offices; attorney general of the territory under Governor Claiborne; member of the state general assembly in 1805; elected a Delegate from Mississippi territory to the Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1813); United States district judge for the territory; served in the War of 1812; elected a Representative to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); governor of Mississippi 1819-1821; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Robert H. Adams; subsequently elected and served from October 15, 1830, to March 3, 1835; moved to Kentucky and practiced law in Lexington; returned to Jackson, Miss., and died there September 5, 1853.

Poindexter, Miles, a Representative and a Senator from Washington; born in Memphis, Tenn., April 22, 1868; attended Fancy Hill academy, Rockbridge county, Va., and Washington and Lee university, Lexington, Va., in both the academic and law departments, and was graduated from the law department in June, 1891; located in Walla Walla, Wash., October 10, 1891, and began the practice of law; in November, 1892, was elected prosecuting attorney of Walla Walla county; October 10, 1897, moved to Spokane; assistant prosecuting attorney for Spokane county for six years, until elected judge of the superior court in November, 1904; remained upon the bench until nominated for Congress, September 8, 1908; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911); elected to the United States Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1911.

Poinsett, Joel Roberts, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., March 2, 1779; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine in Edinburgh, Scotland, and attended the military school in Woolwich, England; sent to South America by President Madison in 1809 to investigate the prospects of the revolutionists there; returned to South Carolina; held various local offices; elected as a Federalist to the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1825); minister to Mexico 1825–1829; Secretary of War under President Van Buren 1837–1841; died in Statesburg, S. C., December 12, 1851.

Poland, Luke Potter, a Senator and a Representative from Vermont; born in Westford, Vt., November 1, 1815; attended the common schools and Jericho academy; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in December, 1836, and practiced in Waterville, Vt.; register of probate 1839–1840; prosecuting attorney of Lamoille county 1844–1845; member of the constitutional convention of 1843; elected a judge of the supreme court of Vermont in 1848–1860; became chief justice in 1860, and served until November, 1865, when he resigned; appointed and subsequently elected to the Senate of the United States, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Jacob Collamer; was re-elected and served from November 21, 1865, to March 3, 1867; elected a Representative to the Fortieth, Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1875); elected to the Vermont house of representatives in 1878; elected by the legislature a trustee of the University of Vermont and State Agricultural college; president of the First National bank of St. Johnsbury for twenty years; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); declined a renomination; died in his country home near Waterville, Vt., July 2, 1887.

Polk, James Knox, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Little Sugar Creek, Mecklenburg county, N. C., November 2, 1795; moved with his parents to Tennessee in 1806; was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1818; studied law, and in 1820 was admitted to practice; served in the state legislature 1823–1825; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1839); served as Speaker from December 7, 1835; governor of Tennessee in 1839; elected as a Democrat President of the United States in 1844, and served from March 4, 1845, to March 3, 1849; declined a renomination; died in Nashville, Tenn., June 15, 1849; interment within the grounds of the state capitol.

Polk, Rufus King, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Columbia, Maury county, Tenn., August 23, 1866; attended the Webb's academy, Culleoka, Tenn., and Lehigh university, South Bethlehem, Pa.; was graduated a mining engineer; served as first lieutenant company F, twelfth regiment Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, in the war with Spain; interested in the manufacture of iron and steel as general manager of the Danville Bessemer company; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1899, until his death, in Philadelphia, Pa., March 5, 1902.

Polk, Trusten, a Senator from Missouri; born in Sussex county, Del., May 29, 1811; was graduated from Yale college in 1831; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in St. Louis, Mo., in 1835; a delegate to the Missouri state constitutional convention of 1845; presidential elector in 1848; inaugurated as governor of Missouri in January, 1857, but soon afterwards resigned; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1857, to January 10, 1862, when he was expelled for disloyalty; was a prisoner of war in 1864; judge in the military courts of the department of Mississippi 1864–1865; died in St. Louis, Mo., April 16, 1876.

Polk, William Hawkins, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Maury county, Tenn., May 24, 1815; attended the University of North Carolina 1832–1833; was graduated from the University of Tennessee; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Columbia, Tenn., in 1839; state representative 1842–1845; minister to Naples 1845–1847; major in the Mexican war 1847–1848; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); died in Nashville, Tenn., December 16, 1862.

Pollard, Ernest Mark, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Nehawka, Cass county, Nebr., April 15, 1869; attended the district school in Nehawka and was graduated from the Nebraska state university, in Lincoln, in 1893; engaged in business and in apple growing; member of the state legislature 1896–1897 and 1898–1899; president of the Nebraska Republican league in 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Elmer J. Burkett; reelected to the Sixtieth Congress, and served from December 4, 1905, to March 4, 1909.

Pollard, Henry M., a Representative from Missouri; born in Plymouth, Vt., June 14, 1836; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1857; served in the Union army as major of the eighth regiment of Vermont volunteers; moved to Chillicothe, Mo., in 1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879).

Pollock, James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Milton, Pa., September 11, 1810; was graduated from Princeton college in 1831; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Milton, Pa.; judge of the court of common pleas; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Henry Frick; reelected to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses, and served from April 23, 1844, to March 4, 1849; governor of Pennsylvania 1855–1858; delegate to the peace convention in Washington, D. C., in 1861; director of the mint in Philadelphia 1861–1867; died in Lock Haven, Pa., April 19, 1890.

Polsley, Daniel Haymond, a Representative from West Virginia; born near Fairmont, Va., November 28, 1803; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced several years in Wellsburg, Brooke county, Va.; became a farmer; member of the West Virginia constitutional convention of 1861; elected governor of the loyal state of Virginia in 1861; elected judge of the seventh judicial district of West Virginia in 1863; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1869); died in Point Pleasant, W. Va., October 14, 1877.

Pomeroy, Charles, a Representative from Iowa; born in Meriden, Conn., September 3, 1825; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; engaged in farming; moved to Iowa in 1855; a presidential elector on the Lincoln ticket in 1860; appointed receiver of the United States land office at Fort Dodge, Iowa, in 1861; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); died in Washington, D. C., February 11, 1890.

Pomeroy, Samuel Clarke, a Senator from Kansas; born in Southamptton, Mass., January 3, 1816; was graduated from Amherst college, Mass.; moved to New York City, where he resided several years; returned to Southamptton, Mass.; held various local offices; member of the legislature in 1852–1853; moved to Kansas in 1854; settled in Lawrence; moved to Atchison, Kans., in 1859, and was its mayor; delegate to the national Republican conventions of 1856 and 1860; elected to the United States Senate; reelected and served from April 4, 1861, to March 3, 1873; defeated as a candidate for the United States Senate in 1873; resided in Washington, D. C., for several years; died in Whitinsville, Mass., August 27, 1891.

Pomeroy, Theodore Medad, a Representative from New York; born in Cayuga, N. Y., December 31, 1824; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Hamilton college, N. Y., in 1842; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and practiced in Auburn, N. Y., 1846–1870; district attorney of Cayuga county 1850–1856; member of the general assembly of New York in 1857; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1869); was elected Speaker of the House March 3, 1869; mayor of Auburn, N. Y., 1875–1876; state senator 1878–1879; engaged in the banking business in Auburn after 1870; first vice president and general counsel of the American Express company; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1860 and 1876 and temporary chairman of the latter; died in Auburn, N. Y., March 23, 1905.

Pond, Benjamin, a Representative from New York; born in Stockbridge, Mass., in 1768; attended the district school; moved to Poultney, Vt., then to Crown Point, N. Y., in 1800; was a soldier in Captain Walker's thirty-seventh regiment of New York volunteers in the War of 1812; was a justice of the peace and for several years judge of the court of common pleas of Essex county with residence in North Hudson; member of the state assembly 1808–1810; elected as a Whig to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1813); reelected to the Fourteenth Congress, but died, before it assembled, in Schroon Lake, N. Y., October 6, 1814.

Pool, John, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Pasquotank county, N. C., June 16, 1826; was graduated from the university of North Carolina in 1847; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Elizabeth City, N. C., 1847–1856; elected a state senator in 1856, 1858, 1864, and 1865; was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1865; elected to the United States Senate in 1865, but not permitted to take his seat, as the state had not been allowed re-representation; again elected in 1868, and served from June 25, 1868, to March 3, 1873; died in Washington, D. C., August 18, 1884.

Poole, Theodore Lewis, a Representative from New York; born in Jordan, Onondaga county, N. Y., April 10, 1840; attended common schools; enlisted as quartermaster sergeant in the one hundred and twenty-second regiment New York volunteers July, 1862; wounded in the battle of Cold Harbor, Va., June 1, 1864; discharged as captain and brevet major July 3, 1865; county clerk of Onondaga county 1868–1870; United States pension agent for the western district of New York 1879–1888; commander of the department of New York, Grand Army of the Republic, 1892; engaged in various manufacturing industries and corporations; director of the Bank of Syracuse; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); died in Syracuse, N. Y., December 23, 1900.

Pope, John, a Senator and a Representative from Kentucky; born in Prince William county, Va., in 1770; completed preparatory studies; studied law, and moved to Springfield, Ky.; was admitted to the bar and practiced in Washington, Shelby, and Fayette counties; served several years as a member of the state house of representatives; a presidential elector on the Jefferson ticket in 1801; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1807, to March 3, 1813; territorial governor of Arkansas 1829–1835; returned to Springfield, Ky.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1843); defeated for reelection to the Twenty-eighth Congress; died in Springfield, Ky., July 12, 1845.

Pope, Nathaniel, a Delegate from Illinois Territory; born in Louisville, Ky., January 5, 1784; was graduated from the Transylvania university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1804 located in St. Genevieve, Mo., where he began practice; moved to Springfield, Ill., and appointed secretary of the Territory of Illinois in 1809; elected a Delegate to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1819); appointed United States judge for the district of Illinois in 1818, and held that position until he died, in St. Louis, Mo., January 23, 1850.

Pope, Patrick Hamilton, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Louisville, Ky., March 17, 1806; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); defeated for reelection to the Twenty-fourth Congress; died in Louisville, Ky., May 4, 1841.

Poppleton, Early Franklin, a Representative from Ohio; born in Belleville, Richland county, Ohio, September 29, 1834; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Elyria, Ohio; elected to the state senate in 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); died in Delaware, Ohio, May 6, 1899.

Porter, Albert Gallatin, a Representative from Indiana; born in Lawrenceburg, Ind., April 20, 1824; attended the preparatory department of Hanover college and was graduated from Indiana Asbury university in 1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1845 began practice in Indianapolis; held various local offices; reporter of the Indiana supreme court in 1853–1857; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1863); appointed First Comptroller of the Treasury March 5, 1878, and served until 1880; governor of Indiana 1881-1884; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1888; minister to Italy, 1889-1892; died in Indianapolis, Ind., May 3, 1897.

Porter, Alexander, a Senator from Louisiana; born near Armagh, county Tyrone, Ireland, in 1786; came to the United States in 1801 with an uncle, and located in Nashville, Tenn.; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Attakapas, La.; moved to St. Martinsville, La., in 1810; delegate to the convention which framed the state constitution in 1811; judge of the state supreme court 1821-1833; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Josiah S. Johnston, and served from December 19, 1833, to January 5, 1837, when he resigned; again elected to the United States Senate for term beginning March 4, 1843, but did not qualify or take his seat; died in Attakapas, La., January 13, 1844.

Porter, Augustus Steele, a Senator from Michigan; born in Canandaigua, N. Y., January 18, 1798; was graduated from Union college in 1818; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Detroit, Mich.; mayor of Detroit in 1838; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from January 20, 1840, to March 3, 1845; moved to Niagara Falls, N. Y., in 1848, and died there September 18, 1872.

Porter, Charles Howell, a Representative from Virginia; born in Cairo, N. Y., June 21, 1833; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Greene county, N. Y.; entered the Union Army in 1861 as a member of the first New York mounted rifles; moved to Norfolk, Va.; held various local offices; member of the constitutional convention of Virginia in 1867 and 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); died in Cairo, N. Y., July 9, 1897.

Porter, Gilchrist, a Representative from Missouri; native of Virginia; received a limited schooling; moved to Bowling Green, Mo.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); defeated as the Whig candidate for reelection to the Thirty-third Congress; elected to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857).

Porter, Henry Kirke, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Concord, N. H., November 24, 1840; attended public and private schools, and fitted for college at the New London academy, New London, N. H.; was graduated from Brown university, Providence, R. I., in 1860; pursued professional studies in Newton theological seminary, Newton Center, Mass., and in Rochester theological seminary, Rochester, N. Y., 1861-1866; enlisted in the forty-fifth Massachusetts volunteer militia in 1862 and mustered out of service in July, 1863; began business in Pittsburgh, Pa., in May, 1866; vice president Pittsburgh chamber of commerce; member board of trustees Western Pennsylvania institute for the blind; elected to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905).

Porter, James, a Representative from New York; born in Williamstown, Mass.; was graduated from Williams college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Skaneateles, N. Y.; served two terms in the state assembly; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); register of the court of chancery in Albany, N. Y., where he died.

Porter, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Pennsylvania; received a limited schooling; elected to the Ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Michael Leib; reelected to the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses, and served from December 8, 1806, to March 4, 1811.

Porter, Peter Augustus, a Representative from New York; born in Niagara Falls, N. Y., October 10, 1853; attended St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H., 1865-1871, and was graduated from Yale university in 1874; member of the New York state assembly 1886-1887; introduced and passed the first bill for great power development at Niagara Falls; nominated by Independent Republicans, indorsed by Democrats and Independence League, and elected to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909).

Porter, Peter Buel, a Representative from New York; born in Salisbury, Conn., August 4, 1773; was graduated from Yale college in 1791; studied law in Litchfield, Conn., was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Canandaigua, N. Y., in 1793; held various local offices; member of the New York assembly in 1802; moved to Buffalo, N. Y., in the fall of 1802; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1813); served in the War of 1812; major general of New York volunteers 1812-1815; presented a gold medal under joint resolution of Congress of date November 3, 1814, "for gallantry and good conduct in the several conflicts of Chippewa, Niagara, and Erie, Upper Canada;" elected to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1815, to January 23, 1816, when he resigned; secretary of state of New York 1815-1816; appointed by John Quincy Adams Secretary of War, and served from June 21, 1828, to March 9, 1829; died in Niagara Falls, N. Y., March 20, 1844.

Porter, Timothy H., a Representative from New York; native of New Haven, Conn.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Olean, N. Y.; member of the state assembly 1816-1817, and the state senate 1823; elected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1827); again a member of the state senate 1828-1831, and of the state assembly 1838-1840.

Posey, Frank P., a Representative from Indiana; native of that state; elected to the Fiftieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Alvin P. Hovey, and served from February 6, 1889, to March 3, 1889.

Posey, Thomas, a Senator from Louisiana; born in Fairfax county, Va., July 9, 1750; received a limited schooling; held various local offices; moved to the western frontier of Virginia in 1769; served in the French and Indian war, also in the Revolutionary war; appointed brigadier general in 1793; moved to Kentucky in 1794; served in the state senate, and was its presiding officer in 1805-1806; served as lieutenant governor of Kentucky for four years; moved to Attakapas, La.; appointed a United States Senator, to fill vacancy caused by the declination to serve of John N. Destrahan, and served from October 8, 1812, to December 1, 1812; governor of Indian Territory in 1813, and appointed Indian agent in 1816 and held the position until his death in Shawneetown, Ill., March 19, 1818.

Post, George Adams, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Cuba, Allegany county, N. Y., September 1, 1854; pursued an academic course; for several years secretary of the motive power department of the Erie railway; studied law and was admitted to practice; located in Montrose, Pa.; one of the owners and editors of the Montrose Democrat; removed to Susquehanna Depot, Pa.; elected burgess in February, 1877, and served one year; candidate for presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); moved to New York City.

Post, Jotham, a Representative from New York; native of that state; was graduated from Columbia college; member of the state house of representatives 1794–1797; elected as a Federalist to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815).

Post, Morton Everet, a Delegate from Wyoming territory; born in Monroe county, N. Y., December 25, 1840; pursued an academic course; moved to Colorado in 1860, and in 1867 moved to that portion of Dakota now Wyoming; elected county commissioner of Laramie county in 1870, and reelected in 1872; elected a member of the legislative council in 1878; engaged in business as a banker and stock grower; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1885); moved to Los Angeles, Cal.

Post, Philip Sidney, a Representative from New York; born in Florida, Orange county, N. Y., March 19, 1833; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1855; entered the Poughkeepsie law school; admitted to the bar in Illinois in 1856; entered the Union army; second lieutenant, fifty-ninth Illinois infantry, July 17, 1861; first lieutenant and adjutant July 21, 1861; major January 17, 1862; colonel March 20, 1862; brevet brigadier general of volunteers December 16, 1864, "for gallant and distinguished service in the battle Nashville, Tenn."; honorably mustered out December 8, 1865; awarded a Congressional medal of honor March 8, 1893, "for having with his brigade attacked a strong position at Nashville, Tenn., December 15 and 16, 1864, under a terrible fire of grape canister and musketry, where he was struck down by a grape shot"; appointed consul to Vienna in 1866; promoted consul general to Austria-Hungary 1874; resigned in 1879; commander Department of Illinois, Grand Army of the Republic, in 1886; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth, and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1887, until his death, in Washington, D. C., January 6, 1895.

Poston, Charles D., a Delegate from Arizona territory; born in Hardin county, Ky., April 20, 1825; attended the public schools; moved to California in 1850 and located in San Francisco; clerk in the customhouse in San Francisco for four years; moved to Arizona in 1854; superintendent of Indian affairs; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865).

Potter, Allen, a Representative from Michigan; born in Saratoga county, N. Y., October 2, 1818; attended the common schools; moved to Michigan in 1838; located in Kalamazoo in 1845; engaged in manufacturing and banking; held various local offices; elected as an Independent candidate to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); died in Kalamazoo, Mich., May 8, 1885.

Potter, Clarkson Nott, a Representative from New York; born in Schenectady, N. Y., April 25, 1825; was graduated from Union college in 1842; was graduated from Rensselaer polytechnic institute as a civil engineer in 1843; surveyor in Wisconsin; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New York City in 1847; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1875); reelected to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); president of the Democratic state conventions of 1875 and 1877; delegate in the Democratic national conventions of 1872 and 1876; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor in 1879; trustee of Union college 1863–1882; president of the American bar association 1881–1882; died in New York City January 23, 1882.

Potter, Elisha Reynolds, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Little Rest, in South Kingston, R. I., November 5, 1764; learned the blacksmith's trade and was also a farmer; served as a private in the Revolutionary war; attended Plainfield academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in South Kingston; member of the state house of representatives 1793–1796, 1798–1808, and 1816–1835; was speaker during five terms; elected as a Federalist to the Fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Benjamin Bourne; reelected to the Fifth Congress, and served from December 19, 1796, to 1797, when he resigned; reelected to the Eleventh, Twelfth, and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1815); defeated as a candidate for governor of Rhode Island in 1818; died in South Kingston, R. I., September 26, 1834.

Potter, Elisha Reynolds, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Kingston, R. I., June 20, 1811; was graduated from Harvard college in 1830; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1832, and practiced in South Kensington, R. I.; served several years as a member of the state house of representatives and as state senator; adjutant general of the state 1835–1837; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); defeated for reelection; state commissioner of public schools 1849–1854, when he resigned; associate justice of the Rhode Island supreme court March 16, 1868, until his death, in South Kingston, R. I., April 10, 1882.

Potter, Emery Davis, a Representative from Ohio; born in Providence, R. I., October 7, 1804; studied law in Cooperstown, N. Y., was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Toledo, Ohio, in 1834; held several local offices; judge of the circuit court for counties of northern Ohio; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); elected to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); district judge of the Territory of Utah; died in Toledo, Ohio, February 12, 1896.

Potter, John F., a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Augusta, Me., May 11, 1817; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1857 began practice in East Troy, N. Y.; served one term in the state house of reprerepresentatives; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1863); defeated as the Republican candidate for reelection; appointed consul general of the United States to the British Provinces in North America; died in 1899.

Potter, Orlando Brunson, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Charlemont, Mass., March 10, 1823; attended the district school, Williams college, and Dane law school, Cambridge; admitted to the bar in Boston February 12, 1848; practiced law in Boston and Middlesex county, Mass., five years, during which time he became interested in manufacturing; moved to New York in 1853 and devoted himself to farming; on August 14, 1861, he laid before Secretary Chase a plan for a national banking system; nominated for Congress in the Tenth Congressional district of New York in 1878, but defeated; elected as a Union Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); declined a renomination; member rapid transit commission of New York City; died in New York City January 2, 1894.

Potter, Robert, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Granville, N. C.; attended the common schools; was a midshipman in the United States navy 1815–1821; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Halifax, N. C.; member of the house of commons of North Carolina in 1826; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831); moved to Texas in 1835; member of convention that declared the independence of Texas, March 2, 1836; was a member of the Texas senate; killed near his home on Caddo Lake, Tex., April 1, 1842.

Potter, Samuel John, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in South Kensington, R. I., in 1751; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; was deputy and lieutenant governor 1790–1803; presidential elector in 1792 and 1797; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1803, until his death, in Washington, D. C., October 14, 1804.

Potter, William W., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in 1790; completed preparatory studies in Bellefonte, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); reelected to the Twenty-sixth Congress, but died before the assembling of the Congress in Bellefonte, Pa., October 28, 1839.

Pottle, Emory Bemsley, a Representative from New York; born in Naples, N. Y., July 4, 1815; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Naples, N. Y.; a state representative in 1847; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); died in Naples, N. Y., April 18, 1891.

Potts, David, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chester county, Pa., November 27, 1794; completed preparatory studies in Pottstown; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1839); died in Warwick, Chester county, Pa., June 1, 1863.

Potts, Richard, a Delegate and a Senator from Maryland; born in Upper Marlboro, Md., July 19, 1753; Delegate in the Continental Congress, 1781–1782; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles Carroll, and served from February 4, 1793, to October 24, 1796, when he resigned; died in Frederick county, Md., November 26, 1808.

Pou, Edward William, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Tuskegee, Ala., September 9, 1863; attended the University of North Carolina; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Smithfield, N. C.; presidential elector in 1888; elected solicitor of the fourth judicial district of North Carolina in 1890, 1894, and in 1898; while serving his third term as solicitor was elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Pound, Thaddeus Coleman, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Elk, Warren county, Pa., December 6, 1833; pursued an academic course in Milton academy, Wisconsin, and Rushford, Allegany county, N. Y.; moved to Rock county, Wis., in May, 1856; engaged in the manufacture of lumber; president of the Union lumbering company and of the Chippewa Falls and Western railway; member of the legislative assembly in 1864, 1866, 1867, and 1869, and served the last year as speaker pro tempore; lieutenant governor 1870–1871; delegate to the Republican national convention in Philadelphia in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1883).

Powel, Samuel, a Representative from Tennessee; was elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817).

Powell, Alfred H., a Representative from Virginia; born in Loudoun county, Va., March 6, 1781; was graduated from Princeton college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1800 began practice in Winchester, Va.; served several years as a member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1827); delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1830; died in Loudoun county, Va., 1831.

Powell, Cuthbert, a Representative from Virginia; born in Alexandria, Va., March 4, 1775; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Alexandria; mayor of Alexandria; moved to Loudoun county; held various local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); died in Langoolen, Loudoun county, Va., May 8, 1849.

Powell, Joseph, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Towanda, Pa., June 23, 1828; completed preparatory studies; engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); defeated for reelection to the Forty-fifth Congress; died in Towanda, Pa., April 24, 1904.

Powell, Lazarus Whitehead, a Senator from Kentucky; born in Henderson county, Ky., October 6, 1812; was graduated from St. Joseph college, Bardstown, in 1833; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1835 began practice; served in the state legislature as a member in 1836; presidential elector on the Polk and Dallas ticket in 1844; governor of Kentucky 1851–1855; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1859, to March 3, 1865; delegate in the national Union convention in Philadelphia in 1866; died near Henderson, Ky., July 3, 1867.

Powell, Levin, a Representative from Virginia; born in Loudoun county, Va., in 1738; completed preparatory studies; served in the Revolutionary army and rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel; delegate in the state convention which ratified the Federal Constitution; elected as a Federalist to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799–March 3, 1801); died in Bedford, Pa., August 6, 1810.

Powell, Paulus, a Representative from Virginia; a native of Virginia; attended Amherst college; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1859); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-sixth Congress.

Power, Thomas Charles, a Senator from Montana; born near Dubuque, Iowa, May 22, 1839; attended the common schools, and took a three years' course in civil engineering in Sinsiniwa college, Wisconsin; practiced engineering, and taught school three years; employed on a survey in Dakota in 1860; engaged in trade on the Missouri river 1861–1867; located in Fort Benton, Mont.; president of a line of steamers; located in Helena in 1876; member of the first constitutional convention of Montana in 1883; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1888; nominated by the Republicans for governor in 1889, and defeated; elected to the United States Senate, and served from January 2, 1890, to March 3, 1895.

Powers, Gershom, a Representative from New York; was elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831).

Powers, Horace Henry, a Representative from Vermont; born in Morristown, Lamoille county, Vt., May 29, 1835; was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1855; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1858; member of the state house of representatives in 1858; prosecuting attorney of Lamoille county in 1861–1862; member of council of censors in 1869; member of the constitutional convention of the state in 1870; member of the state senate 1872–1873; speaker of the house of representatives in 1874; judge of the supreme court of Vermont from December, 1874, to December, 1890; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law in Morrisville, Vt.

Powers, Lewellyn, a Representative from Maine; born in Pittsfield, Somerset county, Me., October 14, 1836; was graduated from the Colburn classical institute; attended Colby university two years, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Albany, N. Y.; admitted to the bar in 1861, and began practice in Houlton, Me.; attorney for the state for the county of Aroostook 1864–1871; collector of customs for the district of Aroostook 1868–1872; member of the state house of representatives for six terms, and speaker of the house one term; elected governor of Maine in 1896, and reelected in 1898; elected to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles A. Boutelle; reelected to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from December 2, 1901, until his death, in Houlton, Me., July 28, 1908.

Powers, Samuel Leland, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Cornish, N. H., October 26, 1848; fitted for college at Kimball Union academy and at Phillips Exeter academy, New Hampshire, and was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1874; subsequently studied law in the law school of the University of the city of New York and in Worcester, Mass.; was admitted to the bar in 1876 and practiced in Boston, Mass.; located in Newton, Mass.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1907).

Poydras, Julien de Lallande, a Delegate from Orleans Territory; born in Nantes, France, April 3, 1746; completed preparatory studies; founded the Female Orphan Asylum in New Orleans; elected to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1811); died in Pointe Coupee, La., June 25, 1824.

Pratt, Charles C., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in New Milford, Pa., April 23, 1854; attended school in New Milford, Pa., Bloomsburg, Pa., and Great Barrington, Mass.; elected to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911).

Pratt, Daniel Darwin, a Representative and a Senator from Indiana; born in Palermo, Me., October 26, 1813; moved with his parents to New York; was graduated from Hamilton college in 1831; moved to Indiana in 1832 and located in Indianapolis in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1836 began practice in Logansport, Ind.; member of the Indiana state legislature in 1851 and 1853; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress, but before taking his seat was elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1875; commissioner of Internal Revenue from May 15, 1875, to August 1, 1876; died in Logansport, Ind., June 17, 1877.

Pratt, Henry Otis, a Representative from Iowa; born in Foxcroft, Me., February 11, 1838; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from the law department of Harvard university; moved to Iowa in 1862; served in the Union army; began the practice of law in Charles City, Iowa, in 1864; member of the state house of representatives 1869–1871; elected to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1877).

Pratt, James Timothy, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Cromwell, Conn., December 14, 1804; received a limited schooling; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Hartford, Conn.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); defeated for the Thirty-fourth Congress; died in Wethersfield, Conn., April 11, 1887.

Pratt, Le Gage, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Sterling, Mass., December 14, 1853; attended public schools; in 1869 entered upon a commercial career, first in Boston and afterwards in Chicago; engaged in newspaper work 1884–1886; state agent for a life insurance company and later general superintendent of agencies; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1909); died in Newark, N. J., March 9, 1911.

Pratt, Thomas George, a Senator from Maryland; born in Washington, D. C., February 18, 1804; completed preparatory studies and attended Georgetown university, District of Columbia; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Upper Marlboro, Md.; served several terms as a member of the state house of representatives, and six years in the state senate; governor of Maryland 1844-1847; moved to Annapolis in 1848, and practiced law; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Reverdy Johnson, and served from January 12, 1850, to March 3, 1857; delegate in the national Democratic convention of 1864; died in Baltimore, Md., November 9, 1869.

Pratt, Zadock, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Stephentown, N. Y., October 30, 1790; received a limited schooling; tanner; served as a state senator in 1830; a presidential elector on the Van Buren ticket in 1836; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); reelected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); presidential elector on the Pierce ticket in 1852; delegate to the national Democratic convention in Baltimore in 1852; died in Bergen, N. J., April 6, 1871.

Pray, Charles N., a Representative from Montana; born in Potsdam, St. Lawrence county, N. Y.; attended the Middlebury college, Vermont, and Chicago college of law; was admitted to the bar and engaged in practice in Fort Benton, Mont.; served as assistant prosecuting attorney of Chouteau county 1897-1898; elected prosecuting attorney in 1898, and reelected in 1900, 1902, and 1904; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Prentiss, John Holmes, a Representative from New York; born in Worcester, Mass., April 17, 1783; printer and foreman of the New York Evening Post; moved to Cooperstown, N. Y., in October, 1808, and published the Freeman's Journal 1808-1849; postmaster of Cooperstown 1833-1837; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); president of the Bank of Cooperstown; died in Cooperstown, N. Y., June 26, 1861.

Prentiss, Samuel, a Senator from Vermont; born in Stonington, Conn., March 31, 1782; located in Northfield, Mass.; completed preparatory studies and was instructed in the classics by a private tutor; studied law in Northfield and in Brattleboro, Vt.; was admitted to the bar in 1802 and practiced in Montpelier in 1803-1822; served as a state representative 1824-1825; elected chief justice of the state supreme court in 1850; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1831, to April 11, 1842, when he resigned; originator and successful advocate of the law to suppress dueling in the District of Columbia; appointed judge of the United States district court of Vermont in 1842 and occupied that position when he died in Montpelier, Vt., January 15, 1857.

Prentiss, Sergeant Smith, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Portland, Me., September 30, 1808; was prepared for college in Gorham academy and was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1826; studied law in Gorham and in Cincinnati, Ohio; moved to Natchez, Miss., was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Vicksburg; member of the state house of representatives in 1835; contested the election of John F. H. Claiborne to the Twenty-fifth Congress, and the election was set aside by the House; subsequently elected to fill vacancy caused by this action and served from May 30, 1838, to March 3, 1839; moved to New Orleans, La., in 1845, and practiced law; died in Longwood, near Natchez, Miss., July 1, 1850.

Prescott, Cyrus Dan, a Representative from New York; born in New Hartford, Oneida county, N. Y., August 15, 1836; pursued an academic course; studied law in Utica and in Rome, N. Y.; was admitted to the bar in 1859; member of the board of aldermen of the city of Rome 1874-1876; member of the state assembly in 1878; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); died in Rome, Oneida county, N. Y., October 23, 1902.

Preston, Francis, a Representative from Virginia; born in Greenfield, Botetourt county, Va., August 2, 1765; was graduated from the College of William and Mary in 1783; studied law with George Wythe, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Montgomery and Washington counties; member of the state house of delegates and a state senator; elected to the Third and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1797); located in Abingdon, Va., and practiced law; colonel of volunteers in the War of 1812; died in the home of his son, William C. Preston, Columbia, S. C., May 25, 1835.

Preston, Jacob Alexander, a Representative from Maryland; born in Harford county, Md., in 1796; attended the common schools, studied medicine, and was graduated from the University of Maryland in 1816, medical department, and practiced in Harford, Baltimore, and Cecil counties; served with a Maryland regiment in the war of 1812; elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); died in Perryman, Harford county, Md., August 2, 1868.

Preston, William, a Representative from Kentucky; born near Louisville, Ky., October 16, 1816; was graduated from St. Joseph's college, Kentucky; attended Yale college and was graduated from the Harvard law school in 1838; began practice in Louisville, Ky.; lieutenant colonel of the fourth Kentucky volunteers in the war with Mexico 1846-1848; delegate in the state constitutional convention in 1849; member of the state house of representatives 1850-1853; presidential elector on the Scott ticket in 1852; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Humphrey Marshall; reelected to the Thirty-third Congress and served from December 6, 1852, to March 3, 1855; defeated for the Thirty-fourth Congress; minister to Spain 1858-1861; served in the Confederate army and attained the rank of major-general; again served in the state legislature in 1868; died in Lexington, Ky., September 27, 1887.

Preston, William Ballard, a Representative from Virginia; born in Smithfield, Va., November 25, 1805; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1823; was graduated from the law school and engaged in practice in 1826; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); Secretary of the Navy 1849-1850; served in the Confederate congress; died in Smithfield, Va., November 14, 1862.

Preston, William Campbell, a Senator from South Carolina; born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 27, 1794; was graduated from the College of South Carolina in 1812; studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1820, and in 1823 began practice in Virginia; located in Columbia, S. C., in 1822; member of the state legislature 1829-1832; elected as a Calhoun Nullifier to the United States Senate and served from November 26, 1833, to December, 1842, when he resigned; president of the College of South Carolina 1846-1851, and trustee 1851-1857; died in Columbia, S. C., May 22, 1860.

Price, Andrew, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Chatsworth Plantation, near Franklin, St. Marys Parish, La., April 2, 1854; attended various private schools and the collegiate department of Cumberland university, Lebanon, Tenn.; was graduated from the law department of Cumberland university in 1875; continued his legal studies for two years in the law department of Washington university in St. Louis, Mo., and was graduated in 1877; practiced law in St. Louis until the fall of 1880, when he returned to Louisiana and engaged in sugar planting; delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father-in-law, Edward J. Gay; reelected to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses and served from December 2, 1889, to March 3, 1897; died in Lafourche Parish, La., February 5, 1909.

Price, Hiram, a Representative from Iowa; born in Washington county, Pa., January 10, 1814; attended the common schools; engaged in farming and mercantile pursuits; moved to Davenport, Iowa, in 1844; president of the State Bank of Iowa 1859-1866; during the Civil war was appointed paymaster general, the only officer of that rank known to Iowa; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1869); declined a renomination; president of the Davenport and St. Paul railroad company; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); United States Commissioner of Indian Affairs 1881-1885; died in Washington, D. C., May 30, 1901.

Price, Hugh Hiram, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Black River Falls, Jackson county, Wis., December 2, 1859; attended the public schools and the University of Wisconsin; engaged in milling and the lumber business; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of his father, William T. Price, and served from February 2, 1887, to March 3, 1887; died in Denver, Colo., December 25, 1904.

Price, Rodman McCamley, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Sussex county, N. J., May 5, 1816; pursued classical studies in Princeton college, but did not graduate; studied law and was admitted to the bar; purser in the navy in 1840, and was stationed in San Francisco; prefect and alcalde in 1846; member first constitutional convention of California; returned to New Jersey; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); defeated as the Democratic candidate for reelection; governor of New Jersey 1854-1857; delegate to the peace congress in Washington, D. C., in 1861; died in Oakland, Bergen county, N. J., June 7, 1894.

Price, Samuel, a Senator from West Virginia; born in Fauquier county, Va., August 18, 1805; moved with parents to Preston county in 1817; received a preparatory training; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Nicholas and Braxton counties, and then in Lewisburg; held various local offices; served as a member of the state house of representatives 1834-1836; prosecuting attorney for Braxton county 1836-1850; again served in the state house of representatives 1847-1852, excepting one year; delegate to the constitutional convention 1850-1851 and 1861; elected lieutenant governor of Virginia in 1863, and continued until the close of the war; delegate to the constitutional convention of West Virginia in 1872 and was its president; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Allen T. Caperton, and served from August 26, 1876, to January 26, 1877; died in Lewisburg, W. Va., February 25, 1884.

Price, Sterling, a Representative from Missouri; born in Prince Edward county, Va., September 20, 1809; completed preparatory studies and attended Hampden-Sidney college, Va.; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Keytesville, Mo.; member of the state house of representatives and its speaker 1840-1844; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress and served from March 4, 1845, to August 12, 1846, when he resigned to participate in the Mexican war; colonel of the second Missouri infantry August 12, 1846; brigadier general of volunteers July 20, 1847; honorably discharged November 25, 1848; returned to Missouri and engaged in farming on the Bowling Green prairie; governor of Missouri 1853-1857; state bank commissioner 1857-1861; served in the Confederate army; after the war went to Mexico, but returned to Missouri; died in St. Louis, Mo., September 29, 1867.

Price, Thomas Lawson, a Representative from Missouri; born near Danville, Va., January 19, 1809; attended the old field schools; moved to Missouri in 1831, and in 1832 located in Jefferson City; conducted stage lines, and was a manufacturer; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the expulsion of John W. Reid, and served from January 21, 1862, to March 3, 1863; defeated for reelection; a delegate in the national Democratic conventions of 1864 and 1868; died in Jefferson City, Mo., July 15, 1870.

Price, William Pierce, a Representative from Georgia; born in Dahlonga, Lumpkin county, Ga., January 29, 1835; attended Furman university, in Greenville, S. C., in 1854, but left before graduating to take editorial charge of a newspaper; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1856 began practice in Greenville, S. C.; served several years as a member of the state legislature; removed to Georgia in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); died in Dahlonga, Ga., November 4, 1908.

Price, William Thompson, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Huntingdon county, Pa., June 17, 1824; attended the common schools; engaged in lumbering and farming; member of the Wisconsin assembly in 1851 and 1882; member of the state senate in 1857, 1870-1871, 1878-1879, 1880-1881; president of the senate 1879; county judge of Jackson county in 1854 and 1859; presidential elector in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses and served from March 4, 1883, until his death in Black River Falls, Wis., December 6, 1886.

Pridemore, Auburn L., a Representative from Virginia; born in Scott county, Va., June 27, 1837; completed preparatory studies; served in the Confederate army and attained the rank of colonel; after the war began the study of law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Jonesville, Va.; member of the state senate 1871-1875; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879).

Prince, Charles Henry, a Representative from Georgia; born in Buckfield, Oxford county, Me., May 9, 1837; received a limited schooling and became a merchant; captain of company C, twenty-third Maine infantry from September 10, 1862, to July 15, 1863; after the war located in Augusta, Ga., and was cashier of a bank; postmaster of Augusta for twelve years; state superintendent of education; delegate to the state constitutional convention; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); returned to Buckfield, Me., and engaged in manufacturing; member of the Maine senate in 1901; delegate in several Republican national conventions; died in Buckfield, Me., April 3, 1912.

Prince, George Washington, a Representative from Illinois; born in Tazewell county, Ill., March 4, 1854; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Knox college, Galesburg, Ill., in 1878; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1880, and practiced in Galesburg, Ill.; elected city attorney of Galesburg in 1881; chairman of the Republican county central committee of Knox county in 1884; elected a member of the lower house of the general assembly of Illinois in 1888; reelected in 1890; candidate for attorney general of Illinois on the Republican ticket in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Philip Sidney Post; reelected to the Fifty-fifth, and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from December 2, 1895, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Prince, Oliver Hillhouse, a Senator from Georgia; born in Montville, Conn., in 1782; completed preparatory studies; moved with parents to Georgia; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Macon, Ga.; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas W. Cobb, and served from November 7, 1828, to March 3, 1829; perished in the wreck of the packet ship Home, near Ocracoke Inlet, N. C., October 9, 1837.

Prince, William, a Representative from Indiana; born in Ireland in 1772; was elected to the Eighteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1823, until his death, in Princeton, Ind., September 4, 1824.

Prindle, Elizur H., a Representative from New York; born in Newton, Conn., May 6, 1829; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; district attorney of Chenango county, N. Y., 1860-1862; member of the state assembly in 1863; member of the state constitutional convention in 1867 and 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); died in Norwich, N. Y., October 7, 1890.

Pringle, Benjamin, a Representative from New York; born in Richfield Springs, Otsego county, N. Y., November 9, 1807; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced for a number of years; president of a bank in Batavia, N. Y.; judge of Genesee county court; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); member of the state house of representatives in 1863; appointed judge of the court of arbitration in Cape Town under the treaty with Great Britain; died in Hastings, Minn., June 7, 1887.

Pritchard, Jeter Connelly, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Jonesboro, Tenn., July 12, 1857; attended Martins Creek academy; apprenticed as a printer in the Jonesboro Tribune-Herald office; moved to Bakersville, Mitchell county, N. C., in 1873; joint editor and owner of the Roan Mountain Republican until 1887, when he moved to Marshall, Madison county; Garfield elector in 1880; elected to the state legislature in 1884, 1886, and 1890; Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in 1888, and the Republican caucus nominee for United States Senator in 1892; delegate at large to the Minneapolis convention in 1892; elected president of the North Carolina protective tariff league in 1891; candidate for Congress in 1892; licensed to practice law in 1887; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Zebulon B. Vance; reelected in 1897, and served from January 23, 1895, to March 3, 1903; appointed a justice of supreme court of the District of Columbia March 30, 1903; appointed judge of the United States circuit court, fourth judicial circuit.

Proctor, Redfield, a Senator from Vermont; born in Proctorsville, Vt., June 1, 1831; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1851, and from the Albany law school in 1859; practiced in Boston, Mass., 1860-1861; enlisted in the third regiment of Vermont volunteers in 1861; was appointed quartermaster with the rank of lieutenant; served on the staff of General William F. Smith as brigade and division quartermaster; promoted major of the fifth regiment and colonel of the fifteenth; was mustered out in 1863; returned to Vermont and engaged in the practice of law, and became interested in the development of the marble industry; representative in the state legislature in 1867-1868 and 1888; member of the state senate and president pro tempore 1874-1875; lieutenant governor of the state 1876-1878; governor 1878-1880; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1884, 1888, and 1896; appointed Secretary of War by President Harrison in March, 1889; resigned from the cabinet in November, 1891; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of George F. Edmunds; subsequently elected to fill the vacancy, and twice reelected, and served from November 2, 1891, until his death, in Washington, D. C., March 4, 1908.

Proffit, George H., a Representative from Indiana; born in New Orleans, La., September 5, 1807; completed preparatory studies; member state house of representatives 1832, 1836, 1837, and 1838; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); appointed by President Tyler minister to Brazil, and served from June 7, 1843, until August 10, 1844, when he returned home, the Senate having refused to confirm his appointment; died in Louisville, Ky., September 5, 1847.

Prosser, William Farrand, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Williamsport, Pa., March 16, 1834; received a limited schooling; studied law, but never practiced; went to California in 1854; engaged in mining; returned to Pennsylvania in 1861 and entered the Union army as a private in the Anderson troop; served throughout the war in the Army of the Cumberland; served as quartermaster of the fifteenth Pennsylvania cavalry until 1862, when he was placed in command of one of its companies; transferred to the second Tennessee cavalry and adjutant during its organization; commissioned major in March, 1863, lieutenant colonel in March, 1864, and colonel in June, 1865; after the war located on a farm near Nashville, Tenn.; was elected a member of the Tennessee house of representatives in 1867; a director of the Tennessee and Pacific railroad; in March, 1868, appointed one of the directors on the part of the state for the Edgefield and Kentucky railroad; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); defeated for reelection; went to the Territory of Washington in 1879 as a special agent of the Interior Department; delegate in the first constitutional convention of Washington; harbor line commissioner; mayor of North Yakima; city treasurer of Seattle 1908–1910; died in Seattle, Wash., September 23, 1911.

Pruyn, John Van Schaick Lansing, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., June 22, 1811; pursued classical studies and was graduated from the Albany academy in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1832 began practice in Albany; held several local offices; appointed a regent of the state university in 1844, and in 1862 became chancellor of the university and president of the board of regents; a state senator in 1861; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Erastus Corning, and served from December 7, 1863, to March 3, 1865; reelected to the Fortieth Congress (March 3, 1867–March 3, 1869); died in Clifton Springs, N. Y., November 21, 1877.

Pryor, Luke, a Senator and a Representative from Alabama; born in Madison county, Ala., July 5, 1820; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and practiced in Athens, Ala.; also engaged in farming; member of the Alabama legislature 1855–1856; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy occasioned by the death of George S. Houston, and served from January 7, 1880, to November 24, 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); died in Athens, Ala., August 5, 1900.

Pryor, Roger Atkinson, a Representative from Virginia; born in Dinwiddie county, Va., July 19, 1828; was graduated from Hampden-Sydney college in 1845, and from the University of Virginia in 1848; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1849, and practiced a short time in Petersburg, but abandoned the law on account of ill health; engaged on the editorial staff of the Washington Union in 1852 and the Richmond Enquirer in 1854; appointed special minister to Greece in 1854; returned home and established The South in 1857, and after it had failed was on the staff of the Washington States; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of William O. Goode, and served from December 7, 1859, to March 3, 1861; served in the Confederate army; member of the Virginia Confederate house of representatives; captured by the Union troops in November, 1864, and confined in Fort Lafayette, but soon afterwards released; moved to New York City and practiced law 1866–1890; delegate in the Democratic national convention of 1876; judge of the court of common pleas of New York 1890–1894; justice of the New York supreme court 1894–1899; retired upon reaching the age limit; appointed official referee by the state legislature in 1912.

Pugh, George Ellis, a Senator from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, November 28, 1822; was graduated from Miami university in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1843 began practice in Cincinnati, Ohio; served in the Mexican war as captain of the fourth Ohio volunteers; returned to Cincinnati and resumed the practice of law; member of the state legislature 1848–1849; city solicitor in 1850; state attorney general in 1852–1854; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1855, to March 3, 1861; delegate in the Democratic national convention of 1860; defeated as the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor in 1863; defeated as the Democratic candidate for the Thirty-ninth Congress; delegate to the state constitutional convention, but withdrew from its deliberations and resumed the practice of law; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, July 19, 1876.

Pugh, James Lawrence, a Representative and a Senator from Alabama; born in Burke county, Ga., December 12, 1820; pursued an academic course in Alabama and Georgia; moved with parents to Alabama in 1824; licensed to practice law in 1841; Taylor elector in 1848, Buchanan elector in 1856, and state elector for Tilden in 1876; elected to the Thirty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1859, to January 21, 1861, when he presented a signed communication declaring his purpose, and withdrew; joined the Eufaula rifles in the first Alabama regiment as a private; elected to the Confederate congress in 1861, and reelected in 1863; after the war resumed the practice of law; president of the state convention of the Democratic party in 1874; member of the convention that framed the state constitution of 1875; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George S. Houston; twice reelected, and served from November 2, 1880, to March 3, 1897; died in Washington, D. C., March 9, 1907.

Pugh, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Hillstown township, Bucks county, Pa., June 2, 1761; attended the common schools; held various local offices; elected to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1809); died in Doylestown, Bucks county, Pa., July 13, 1842.

Pugh, John Howard, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Chester county, Pa., June 23, 1827; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine, and was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1852; began practice in Burlington, N. J., in 1854; elected president of the Mechanics' national bank of Burlington in 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); died in Burlington, N. J., April 30, 1905.

Pugh, Samuel Johnson, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Greenup county, Ky., January 28, 1850; went with parents to Lewis county in 1852; attended Chandler's select school, Rand's academy, and Centre college, Danville, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Vanceburg, Ky.; held successively the offices of city attorney, 1872-1873; master commissioner of the circuit court, 1874-1880; county attorney, 1878-1886; county judge, 1886-1890; delegate to the Kentucky constitutional convention, 1890-1891, and state senator, 1893-1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law in Vanceburg, Ky.

Pugsley, Cornelius Amory, a Representative from New York; born in Peekskill, N. Y., July 17, 1850; attended the public schools, and was instructed in higher branches by a private tutor; clerk and assistant postmaster; engaged in the banking business; president of the Westchester county national bank of Peekskill; member of the chamber of commerce, New York City; president of the board of trustees of the Field library, Peekskill; trustee and treasurer of the Peekskill military academy; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); resumed business in Peekskill.

Pugsley, Jacob Joseph, a Representative from Ohio; born in Dutchess county, N. Y., January 25, 1838; moved to Ohio with parents in 1839; was graduated from Miami university; admitted to the bar; served in both branches of the state legislature; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); trustee of the Boys' industrial school, Lancaster, Ohio, for fifteen years; retired, and a resident of Hillsboro, Ohio.

Pujo, Arsène Paul, a Representative from Louisiana; born near Lake Charles, Calcasieu parish, La., December 16, 1861; attended public and private schools of Lake Charles; studied law and was admitted to the bar October 23, 1886; practiced in Lake Charles, La.; member of the state constitutional convention of 1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Pulitzer, Joseph, a Representative from New York; born in Makdo, near Buda Pesth, Hungary, April 10, 1847; received his early training from a private tutor; came to the United States in 1864; enlisted as a private in the Union army at the age of seventeen in the first New York (Lincoln) cavalry, in Kingston, N. Y., September 30, 1864; mustered out in Alexandria, Va., June 5, 1865, and resumed civil life in St. Louis, Mo; studied law and admitted to practice by the supreme court of Missouri; elected to the Missouri legislature in 1869 and was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1874; entered journalism in 1867 as a reporter on the St. Louis Westliche Post, and became managing editor and part proprietor; founded the St. Louis Post-Dispatch December 10, 1878, by purchasing the Dispatch and uniting it with the Evening Post, and continued to own and publish it until his death; moved to New York City in the spring of 1883, and bought the New York World; delegate in the Cincinnati convention in 1872, that nominated Horace Greeley for the presidency; delegate in the Democratic national convention of 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1885, until April 10, 1886, when he resigned; died on board his yacht in the harbor of Charleston, S. C., October 29, 1911.

Purcell, William Edward, a Senator from North Dakota; born in Flemington, N. J., August 3, 1856; attended common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar of New Jersey in 1880; went to Dakota territory in July, 1881; located in Wahpeton; was appointed by President Cleveland United States attorney for the territory of Dakota April 5, 1888; resigned in May, 1889, having been elected a member of the constitutional convention for the new state of North Dakota; was a member of the joint committee appointed by the constitutional convention of North Dakota to divide the property and adjust the indebtedness between the states of North and South Dakota; district attorney of Richland county, N. Dak., from October 1889, to January 1, 1891; elected state senator in November, 1906; appointed United States Senator January 29, 1910, to fill the vacancy in term commencing March 4, 1909, caused by the death of Martin N. Johnson and the resignation of Fountain L. Thompson, and served from February 1, 1910, to February 1, 1911; resumed the practice of law in Wahpeton, N. Dak.

Purdy, Smith M., a Representative from New York; a native of Chenango county, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845).

Purman, William J., a Representative from Florida; born in Center county, Pa., April 11, 1840; completed preparatory studies; studied law; entered the Union army as a private and served on special duty at the War department until transferred to Florida in 1865; remained in Florida and elected a member of the constitutional convention in 1868; state senator; judge of Jackson county court 1868-1869; elected to the state senate and served 1869-1873; assessor of United States internal revenue for the district of Florida 1870-1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1873, until February 6, 1875, when he resigned; reelected to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); defeated for the Forty-fifth Congress.

Purviance, Samuel A., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Butler, Pa., November 8, 1809; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Butler, Pa.; delegate to the constitutional convention in 1836; member of the state house of representatives in 1838-1839; delegate in the Whig national convention of 1844; presidential elector in 1848 on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1860, 1864, and 1868; attorney general of Pennsylvania in 1861; died in Pittsburgh, Pa., February 14, 1882.

Purviance, Samuel D., a Representative from North Carolina; native of North Carolina; attended the common schools; elected to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805).

Puryear, Richard Clausell, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Mecklenburg county, Va., February 9, 1801; pursued classical studies; engaged in mercantile pursuits; moved to Huntsville, N. C.; served in both branches of the state legislature; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1857); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-fifth Congress; delegate from North Carolina to the Confederate provincial congress which assembled at Richmond in 1861; died in Yadkin county, N. C., July 30, 1867.

Pusey, William Henry Mills, a Representative from Iowa; born in Washington county, Pa., July 29, 1826; attended Washington and Jefferson college; was graduated in 1847; engaged in banking; member of the state senate 1858–1862; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); died November 15, 1900.

Putnam, Harvey, a Representative from New York; born in Brattleboro, Vt., January 5, 1793; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Attica; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of William Patterson and served from March 4, 1838, to March 3, 1839; member of the state senate 1843–1846; elected to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1851); died in Attica, N. Y., September 20, 1855.

Quackenbush, John Adam, a Representative from New York; born in Schaghticoke, N. Y., October 15, 1828; attended the district schools and the academy in Stillwater, N. Y.; farmer and speculator in farm products and lumber; elected supervisor of his town 1860–1862; chairman of the board of supervisors of Rensselaer county in 1862; member of the state assembly in 1862; sheriff of Rensselaer county 1873–1876; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1893); died in Schaghticoke, N. Y., May 11, 1908.

Quarles, James Minor, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Louisa county, Va., February 8, 1823; moved with his father to Kentucky in 1833; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; moved to Clarksville, Tenn.; state attorney for the tenth judicial district; elected as a National American to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1861); died in Nashville, Tenn., March 3, 1901.

Quarles, Joseph Very, a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Kenosha, Wis. (then Southport), December 16, 1843; entered the University of Michigan in 1862, and in 1864 entered the Union army in the thirty-ninth Wisconsin volunteers; mustered out as first lieutenant company C, and returned to Michigan university and was graduated in 1866; studied law, was admitted to the bar and in 1868 engaged in practice in Kenosha; district attorney for Kenosha county 1870–1876; mayor of Kenosha in 1876; member of the state assembly in 1879; state senator 1880–1882; moved to Racine, Wis.; six years later made Milwaukee his home; elected to the United States Senate as a Republican and served from March 4, 1899, to March 3, 1905; appointed United States district judge, eastern district of Wisconsin; died in Milwaukee, Wis., October 7, 1911.

Quarles, Julian Minor, a Representative from Virginia; born in the county of Caroline, Va., September, 1848; attended Pine Hill and Aspen Hill academies, Louisa county, Va., and the university of Virginia; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1874 in Staunton, Va.; judge of the county court of Augusta county, Va., for several years, and resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901).

Quarles, Tunstall, a Representative from Kentucky; native of Virginia; attended the common schools; moved to Kentucky; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1817 to 1820, when he resigned; moved to Cape Girardeau, Mo., and became receiver of public moneys in the United States land offices.

Quay, Matthew Stanley, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Dillsburg, York county, Pa., September 30, 1833; prepared for college at Beaver and Indiana academies; was graduated from Jefferson college in 1850; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1854; elected prothonotary of Beaver county in 1856 and reelected in 1859; lieutenant in the tenth Pennsylvania reserves; colonel of the one hundred and thirty-fourth Pennsylvania volunteers; lieutenant colonel and assistant commissary general; military state agent at Washington; private secretary to the governor of Pennsylvania; major and chief of transportation and telegraphs; military secretary to the governor of Pennsylvania 1861–1865; member of the legislature 1865–1867; secretary of state 1872–1878; recorder of the city of Philadelphia, and chairman of Republican state committee 1878–1879; secretary of the commonwealth 1879–1882; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1872, 1876, and 1880; elected state treasurer in 1885; elected to the United States Senate as a republican; re-elected, and served from March 4, 1887, to March 3, 1899; member and chairman of the Republican national committee in 1888; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1892; defeated for reelection to the United States Senate in 1899 by a deadlock existing throughout the session of the legislature; appointed United States Senator by the governor of Pennsylvania to fill the vacancy caused by the failure of the legislature to elect, but by resolution of the Senate of April 24, 1900, was declared not entitled to the seat; was nominated to succeed himself by the Republican state convention and reelected January 15, 1901; took his seat in the Senate January 17, 1901, and served until his death in Beaver, Pa., May 28, 1904.

Quezon, Manuel L., a Resident Commissioner from the Philippine Islands; born in Baler, Province of Tayabas, August 19, 1878; received primary and secondary training in the college of San Juan de Letran, obtaining the degrees of bachelor of arts and expert land surveyor; studied law in the university of St. Thomas; was admitted to the Filipino bar in April, 1903; major of the Philippine army, and was detailed, first, to Gen. Aguinaldo's staff and then as chief of staff of the general commanding the department of Central Luzon; under the American government held the office of prosecuting attorney for the province of Mindoro, and was subsequently transferred to the Province of Tayabas; provincial governor of Tayabas, in 1906–1907, when he resigned to become delegate in the Philippine assembly, where he was the floor leader of his party; elected Resident Commissioner to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Quigg, Lemuel E., a Representative from New York; born in Cecil county, Md., February 12, 1863; attended the public schools of Wilmington, Del.; moved to New York City when seventeen years of age and engaged in newspaper work; after a year of service as reporter of the New York Times obtained control of the Flushing (L. I.) Times, and conducted that paper for several years; joined the editorial staff of the New York Tribune in 1885; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John R. Fellows; reelected to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses, and served from February 14, 1894, to March 3, 1899.

Quincy, Josiah, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., February 4, 1772, attended Phillips Andover academy, and was graduated from Harvard college in 1790; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Boston; defeated as candidate for the Seventh and Eighth Congresses; State Senator 1804–1805; elected as a Federalist to the Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1813); member of the state senate 1813–1820, and of the state house of representatives 1821–1822, served the last year as speaker; delegate in the constitutional convention of 1820; mayor of Boston 1823–1829; during his administration the Faneuil Hall market was established and the erection of Bunker Hill monument was begun; president of Harvard college 1829–1845; died in Quincy, Mass., July 1, 1864.

Quinn, John, a Representative from New York; born in Ireland August 9, 1839; came to the United States at the close of the Civil War; located in New York City; engaged in the real-estate and building business; president of the West Side electric light and power company and one of the founders and a director of the Homestead bank of New York; elected to the state assembly in 1882; member of the board of aldermen 1885–1887; delegate in the Democratic national convention in Chicago in 1884 and in St. Louis in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891).

Quinn, Terence James, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., October 16, 1836; completed preparatory studies; alderman for several years; second lieutenant in the New York state militia, which was sent to the defense of Washington in April, 1861, and again in 1862; served in the state assembly in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth Congress and served from March 4, 1877, until his death in Albany, N. Y., June 18, 1878.

Quitman, John Anthony, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Rhinebeck, N. Y., September 1, 1799; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Hartwick seminary in 1816; an instructor in Mount Airy college, Pa., in 1818; studied law, was admitted to the bar; moved to Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1820; moved to Natchez, Miss., in 1821, and practiced law; member of the state house of representatives in 1826–1827; chancellor of the state in 1828; resigned in 1835, having been elected to the state senate, and made its president; acting governor, 1835–1836; held various local offices; served in the Mexican war as brigadier-general and as major-general; Presidential elector on the Cass and Butler ticket in 1848; governor of Mississippi 1850–1851; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1855, until his death at "Monmouth," his plantation in Mississippi, July 17, 1858.

Radford, William, a Representative from New York; born in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 24, 1814; received a limited schooling; moved to New York City in 1829 and became a merchant; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1867); defeated for the Fortieth Congress; died in Yonkers, N. Y., January 18, 1870.

Raines, John, a Representative from New York; born in Canandaigua, N. Y., May 6, 1840; attended the public schools; taught school; studied law, was graduated from the Albany law school in 1861, and entered practice in Geneva, N. Y.; raised company G, eighty-fifth regiment New York volunteers, in 1861, and served in the armies of the Potomac and North Carolina as captain until July, 1863; member of the assembly of the state of New York in 1881, 1882, and 1883; state senator in 1886–1889; president of the board of education of Canandaigua; alternate at large to the Republican national convention in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1893); elected to the New York state senate in 1894, to fill an unexpired term; 1895, 1898, 1900, 1902, 1904, 1906, and 1908; was president of the senate 1904–1909; died in Canandaigua, N. Y., December 16, 1909.

Rainey, Henry Thomas, a Representative from Illinois; born in Carrollton, Ill., August 20, 1860; attended public schools, Knox academy, and Knox college, Galesburg, Ill., and was graduated from Amherst college, Massachusetts, in 1883; studied law and was graduated from the Union college of law, Chicago, Ill., in 1885; was admitted to the bar and practiced in Carrollton, Ill.; master in chancery for Greene county, Ill., for six years and resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Rainey, Joseph H., a Representative from South Carolina; born in Georgetown, S. C., June 21, 1832; received a limited schooling; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1868; member of the state senate in 1870, but resigned, having been elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress to fill vacancy caused by the action of the House of Representatives in refusing to accept the credentials of B. Franklin Whittemore; and reelected to the Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses; served from December 12, 1870, to March 3, 1879; died in Georgetown, S. C., August 1, 1887.

Ramsay, David, a Delegate from South Carolina; born in Dunmore, Lancaster county, Pa., April 2, 1749; was graduated from the College of New Jersey in 1765; studied medicine and was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1773, and began practice in Cecil county, Md.; located in Charleston, S. C., in 1773; member of the state house of commons 1776-1783; served in the Revolutionary Army as surgeon; captured at the fall of Charleston in May, 1780, and imprisoned at St. Augustine, Fla., for eleven months; Delegate from South Carolina to the Continental Congress 1782-1786; president pro tempore during the last term; served several years in the state senate, and its president for seven years; was assassinated by a maniac in Charleston, S. C., May 8, 1815.

Ramsay, Nathaniel, a Delegate from Maryland; born in Lancaster county, Pa., May 1, 1741; was graduated from the College of New Jersey (Princeton) in 1767; signer of the declaration of freemen of Maryland; delegate in the Maryland convention of 1775; appointed captain in Smallwood's Maryland regiment January 14, 1776; joined the Continental army in July, 1776, and was promoted lieutenant colonel of the Third Regiment, Maryland line, December 10, 1776; was with the army at Valley Forge during winter of 1777-1778; was taken prisoner while following Gen. Charles Lee in his retreat from Monmouth, June 28, 1778, and while in command of a regiment; he obtained an exchange December 14, 1780; was promoted lieutenant colonel June 1, 1779, and retired January 1, 1781; practiced law in Cecil county, Md., 1781-1783; in Baltimore, 1783-1790; Delegate in the Continental Congress, 1775, and 1785-1787; appointed United States marshal for Maryland by President Washington and served 1790-1798; naval officer, port of Baltimore, 1794-1817; died in Baltimore, Md., October 23, 1817.

Ramsey, Alexander, a Representative from Pennsylvania and a Senator from Minnesota; born near Harrisburg, Pa., September 8, 1815; attended Lafayette college; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1839, and began practice in Harrisburg; secretary to the presidential electors in 1840; clerk of the state house of representatives in 1841; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); territorial governor of Minnesota 1849-1853; mayor of St. Paul in 1855; governor of Minnesota 1860-1863; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1863, to March 3, 1875; Secretary of War 1879-1881; for four years chairman of Utah commission appointed in 1882; resigned in 1886; president of Minnesota historical society; delegate to centennial of Federal constitution convention in 1887; died in St. Paul, Minn., April 22, 1903.

Ramsey, Robert, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Warminster, Bucks county, Pa., February 15, 1780; attended the public schools of Hartsville; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); and reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); died in Warwick, Bucks county, Pa., December 12, 1849.

Ramsey, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Sterretts Gap, Pa., September 7, 1779; attended public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Carlisle, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1831); died in Carlisle, Pa., September 5, 1831.

Ramsey, William Sterrett, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Carlisle, Pa., June 12, 1810; pursued classical studies; attaché to the American legation in London; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1839, until his death in Baltimore, Md., October 17, 1840.

Randall, Alexander, a Representative from Maryland; native of that state; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843).

Randall, Benjamin, a Representative from Maine; born in Massachusetts in 1789; was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1809; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Bath, Me. (then Massachusetts) in 1814; member of the state senate in 1833; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); appointed collector of customs for the port of Bath, and served until his death in Bath, Me., October 14, 1857.

Randall, Charles Sturtevant, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in New Bedford, Mass., February 20, 1824; attended a private school, the Friends academy, New Bedford, and in France; retired from mercantile business in 1872; state senator 1883-1884; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); died in New Bedford, Mass., August 17, 1904.

Randall, Samuel Jackson, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia October 10, 1828; attended the University academy in Philadelphia; engaged in business; member of the city council of Philadelphia four years; member of the state senate 1858-1859; member of the first troop of Philadelphia in 1861 and served in the Union Army three months of that year, and again as captain in 1863; was promoted provost-marshal at Gettysburg; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, and Forty-sixth Congresses; elected Speaker of the House for the last session of the Forty-fourth, for the Forty-fifth, and Forty-sixth Congresses; reelected to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses; served from March 4, 1863, until his death in Washington, D. C., April 13, 1890.

Randall, William Harrison, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Madison county, Ky., July 15, 1812; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar; in 1835 began practicing in London, Ky.; clerk of the circuit and county courts of Laurel county for several years; elected to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1867); district judge of the fifteenth Kentucky district for ten years; died in London, Ky., August 1, 1881.

Randell, Choice Boswell, a Representative from Texas; born in Georgia January 1, 1857; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1878; moved to Texas in January, 1879; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Randolph, Edmund Jennings, a Delegate from Virginia; born in Williamsburg, Va., August 10, 1753; was graduated from William and Mary college, studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Williamsburg; served in the Revolutionary Army, and was aide-camp to General Washington; attorney-general of Virginia in 1776; Delegate from Virginia in the Continental Congress 1779–1782; governor of Virginia 1786–1788; resigned in 1788, and took a seat in the state assembly, that he might participate in the codification of the laws of Virginia; member of the convention that framed the Federal Constitution; appointed Attorney-General of the United States September 26, 1789; transferred to the State Department as Secretary of State, January 2, 1794; was invited to resign in August, 1795, owing to false charges preferred by Minister Fauchet of France; died in Clarke county, Va., September 13, 1813.

Randolph, James Fitz, a Representative from New Jersey, born in Middlesex county, N. J., June 26, 1791; received a limited schooling; printer; edited the New Brunswick Fredonian, 1812–1842; United States collector of internal revenue, 1815–1846; clerk of the court of common pleas and member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Twentieth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of George Holcomb, and was reelected to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses and served from December 1, 1828, to March 3, 1833; president of a bank in New Brunswick; died in Easton, Pa., January 25, 1872.

Randolph, James H., a Representative from Tennessee; born in Jefferson county, Tenn., October 19, 1825; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1850; member of the state legislature 1857–1858 and 1860–1861; state senator in 1865; elected judge of the second judicial circuit of Tennessee in 1869; reelected after the constitutional convention in 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879).

Randolph, John, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Cawsons, Chesterfield county, Va., June 2, 1773; attended Walker Murray's school in Orange county, Va., the grammar school of the college of William and Mary, the College of New Jersey, 1787–1788, and Columbia college 1788–1789; studied law and was admitted to the bar; a Representative in the Sixth–Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1799–March 3, 1813) as a States-rights Democrat; defeated as the anti-Mason candidate for the Thirteenth Congress; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817); defeated for reelection to the Fifteenth Congress; elected to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1825); appointed a United States Senator, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Barbour, and served from December 9, 1825, to March 3, 1827; participated in a harmless duel with Henry Clay April 8, 1826; defeated for reelection in 1827; elected a Representative to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1829); member of the Virginia constitutional convention of 1829; minister to Russia May 26, 1830, to September 19, 1830, when he resigned; died in Philadelphia, June 24, 1833.

Randolph, Joseph Fitz, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Monmouth county, N. J., in 1803; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1825 in Freehold; prosecuting attorney for Monmouth county; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 2, 1843); member of the state constitutional convention of 1844; judge of the state supreme court 1845–1852; moved to Trenton in 1852, and shortly afterward to Jersey City, where he died March 20, 1873.

Randolph, Peyton, a Delegate from Virginia; born in Tazewall Hall, Williamsburg, Va., in 1721; was graduated from William and Mary college; studied law at the Inner Temple, London, England, and was appointed king's attorney for Virginia in 1748; served many years in the Virginia house of burgesses, and was its speaker several years; president of the Virginia conventions of 1774–1775; delegate in the Continental Congress in Philadelphia, Pa., September 5, 1774, and elected its president, but resigned October 22, 1774, to attend the state legislature; reappointed to the Second Congress, which met in Philadelphia in 1775, and again forced to resign on account of ill health; died in Philadelphia, Pa., October 17 1785; remains rest beneath the chapel of the college of William and Mary.

Randolph, Theodore Frelinghuysen, a Senator from New Jersey; born in New Brunswick, N. J., June 24, 1816; attended Rutgers grammar school; merchant; moved to Vicksburg, Miss., and engaged in business in 1840, but returned to New Jersey and located in Jersey City in 1852; became interested in mining and the transportation of ores, and was president of the Morris and Essex railroad; elected to the house of assembly of the state legislature in 1859; to the state senate in 1862 and 1863; governor of New Jersey, 1869–1872; elected to the United States Senate as a Democrat, and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1881; died in Morristown, N. J., November 7, 1883.

Randolph, Thomas Mann, a Representative from Virginia; born in Goochland county, Va., October 1, 1768; attended the university of Edinburgh, Scotland, 1785–1788; colonel of the twentieth infantry, 1813–1814; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1807); governor of Virginia 1819–1822; died in Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, his father-in-law, June 20, 1828.

Raney, John Henry, a Representative from Missouri; born in Gravelton, Wayne county, Mo., September 28, 1849; attended common schools;

read law in Greenville, Mo.; admitted to practice in 1881; elected judge of the county court of Wayne county and served one term; elected and served three full terms as prosecuting attorney of Wayne county; Republican nominee for Representative in 1888, but defeated; delegate to the Republican national convention in Minneapolis in 1892; one of the board of regents of the state normal school located in Cape Girardeau, Mo., 1893-1895; elected to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); resumed the practice of law in Piedmont, Mo.

Rankin, Christopher, a Representative from Mississippi; native of Washington county, Pa.; completed preparatory studies; moved to Natchez, Miss.; held several local offices; elected to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1827); died in Washington, D. C., March 14, 1826.

Rankin, Joseph, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Passaic, N. J., September 25, 1833; pursued an academic course; served in the Union army three years; in the Wisconsin legislature eleven years; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); died in Washington, D. C., January 24, 1886.

Ranney, Ambrose Arnold, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Townshend, Vt., April 17, 1821; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1844; studied law in Woodstock, Vt., was admitted to the bar in 1848, and began practice in Boston, Mass., in 1848; corporation counsel 1855-1857; member of the state house of representatives in 1857, 1863, and 1864; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law; died in Boston, Mass., March 5, 1899.

Ransdell, Joseph Eugene, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Alexandria, La., October 7, 1858; attended the public schools of Alexandria, was graduated from Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., June, 1882; studied law and was admitted to the bar June, 1883, and began practice in Lake Providence, La.; where he also engaged in the growing of cotton; district attorney of the eighth judicial district of Louisiana, 1884-1896; member of the levee board of the fifth Louisiana levee district from May, 1896, until after his election to Congress August 29, 1899; member of the state constitutional convention of 1898, which framed a new constitution for the state; took an active interest in levee building on the Mississippi river for many years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Samuel T. Baird; reelected to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses, and served from December 4, 1899, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Ransier, Alonzo J., a Representative from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., January 3, 1836; received a limited schooling; held various local offices; member of the state constitutional convention of 1868; member of the state house of representatives in 1869; presidential elector on the Grant and Colfax ticket in 1868; elected lieutenant-governor in 1870; delegate to the national Republican convention in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); died in Charleston, S. C., August 17, 1882.

Ransom, Matt Whitaker, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Warren county, N. C., October 8, 1826; was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1847; studied law and was admitted to the bar, and first practiced in Warrenton, N. C.; Whig presidential elector in 1852 and attorney general of North Carolina the same year; resigned in 1855; member of the state legislature 1858-1860; peace commissioner to the provisional congress in Montgomery, Ala., in 1861; entered the Confederate army and served as private, lieutenant colonel, colonel, brigadier general, and major general; at the close of the war took up his residence in Weldon, N. C., in 1866; elected to the United States Senate as a Democrat in January, 1872, and took his seat April 24, 1872; reelected in 1876, 1883, and 1889; served from January 30, 1872, to March 3, 1895; United States Minister to Mexico, 1895-1897; died near Garrysbury, N. C., October 8, 1904.

Rantoul, Robert, jr., a Senator and Representative from Massachusetts; born in Beverly, Mass., August 13, 1805; was graduated from Harvard college in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Salem and South Reading, moved to Gloucester in 1832; member of the state house of representatives 1834-1838; moved to Boston in 1839; United States district attorney for Massachusetts 1845-1849, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate as a Democrat to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Webster, and served from February 1, 1851, to March 3, 1851; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress and served from March 4, 1851, until his death in Washington, D. C., August 7, 1852; interment in Beverly, Mass.

Rapier, James T., a Representative from Alabama; born in Florence, Ala., in 1840; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held various local offices; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); defeated for the Forty-fourth Congress.

Rariden, James, a Representative from Indiana; native of Kentucky; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Centerville, Ind.; served in both branches of the state legislature; delegate to the state constitutional convention; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); died in Cambridge City, Ind.

Rathbun, George, a Representative from New York; native of Auburn, N. Y.; received a limited schooling; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847).

Rauch, George W., a Representative from Indiana; born near Warren, Huntington county, Ind., February 22, 1876; attended the common schools, Valparaiso academy, and the Northern Indiana law school; admitted to the bar in 1902, and began practice in Marion, Ind.; elected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Rawlins, Joseph Lafayette, a Delegate and a Senator from Utah; born in Salt Lake county, Utah, March 28, 1850; pursued a classical course in the university of Indiana; professor in the university of Deseret, in Salt Lake City, Utah, for two years, until 1875; admitted to the bar in that year and practiced; elected as a Democrat a Delegate to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895); defeated for the Fifty-fourth Congress; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1897, to March 3, 1903.

Raum, Green Berry, a Representative from Illinois; born in Golconda, Ill., December 3, 1829; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and practiced in Golconda, 1853–1856; moved to Kansas and practiced there, 1856–1857; returned and located in Harrisburg, Ill.; entered the Union army as major of the fifty-sixth Illinois volunteers, and attained the rank of brigadier-general; resigned his commission May 6, 1865, and engaged in railroad building; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867–March 13, 1869); defeated for reelection; United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue, 1876–1883; Commissioner of Pensions, 1889–1893; engaged in the practice of law in Chicago, Ill., until his death, December 17, 1909.

Rawls, Morgan, a Representative from Georgia; born in Bullock county, Ga., June 29, 1829; attended the public schools, and pursued an academic course; engaged in agricultural pursuits; unsuccessful candidate for delegate to the Union convention of 1860; enlisted in the Confederate army in 1861 as a captain of infantry; elected colonel of the fifty-fourth Georgia volunteer infantry in 1862; wounded July 22, 1864, in the battles around Atlanta, Ga.; member of the state house of representatives 1863–1864, 1868–1869, and 1870–1871; member of the reconstruction state convention of 1865; presented credentials as a Democratic Member-elect to the Forty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1873, to March 24, 1874, when he was succeeded by Andrew Sloan who contested his election.

Ray, George Washington, a Representative from New York; born in Otselic, Chenango county, N. Y., February 3, 1844; attended the common schools and Norwich academy; private in company B, ninetieth New York volunteers, and brigade clerk, first brigade, first division, nineteenth army corps; discharged at the close of the war; studied law and was admitted to practice in November, 1867; chairman of the Republican county committee of Chenango county; member of the Republican state committee in 1880; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); member of the board of education of Norwich academy and Union free school; re-elected to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1891, to September 11, 1902, when he resigned to accept the United States judgeship for the northern district of New York.

Ray, Joseph Warren, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Morris township, Greene county, Pa., May 25, 1849; attended the common schools and was graduated from Waynesburg college in 1874; studied law and was admitted to practice in the courts of Greene county in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891).

Ray, Ossian, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Hinesburg, Vt., December 13, 1835; went to Irasburg, Vt., in early childhood; attended the common school and an academy in Derby, Vt.; studied law five years in Irasburg and in Lancaster, N. H., to which place he moved in 1854; admitted to the bar in 1857, and practiced in Essex and Coos counties; member of the state legislature 1868–1869; solicitor for Coos county 1862–1872; delegate in the Republican national convention in Philadelphia in June, 1872; United States attorney for the district of New Hampshire from February 22, 1879, to December 23, 1880, when he resigned; elected to the Forty-sixth Congress as a Republican to fill vacancy caused by the death of Evarts W. Farr, and reelected to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses, and served from January 8, 1881, to March 3, 1885; died in Lancaster, N. H., January 28, 1892.

Ray, William H., a Representative from Illinois; born in Dutchess county, N. Y., December 14, 1812; moved to Oneida county, N. Y., in 1813; attended the common schools; moved to Illinois in 1834; engaged in the banking business in 1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875).

Raymond, Henry Jarvis, a Representative from New York; born in Lima, N. Y., January 24, 1820; was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1840; moved to New York City and studied law; interested in newspaper work; member of the state assembly in 1850; established the New York Times in 1851; delegate in the Whig national convention of 1852; lieutenant governor of New York in 1856; delegate to the national Republican convention in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867); died in New York City, June 18, 1869.

Raymond, John Baldwin, a Delegate from Dakota territory; born in Lockport, Niagara county, N. Y., December 5, 1844; moved to Tazewell county, Ill., in 1853; enlisted as a private in the thirty-first Illinois infantry in 1861; promoted to captain of company E of that regiment after the siege of Vicksburg in 1863; served through the war and remained in Mississippi; published the Mississippi Pilot at Jackson, Miss., during the reconstruction of that state and until 1877; appointed United States marshal of Dakota territory; declined a reappointment; elected as a Republican Delegate to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); died in Fargo, N. Dak., January 3, 1886.

Rayner, Isidor, a Senator from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., April 11, 1850; attended the University of Maryland and was graduated from the University of Virginia; in the University of Virginia he took the academic and law courses, and upon his return to Baltimore was admitted to the bar in 1871; in 1878 elected to the state legislature for two years, and was chairman of the Baltimore delegation; in 1885 elected to the state senate for four years, but resigned and became the Democratic candidate for Congress, and in 1886 was elected to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889), and to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1895); attorney-general of Maryland 1899–1903; elected to the United States Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1905; reelected in 1911 for the term ending March 3, 1917.

Rayner, Kenneth, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Bertie county, N. C., in 1808; attended Tarborough academy; admitted to the bar in 1829; moved to Hereford county; member of the state constitutional convention of 1835; member of the state house of representatives seven years; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1845); presidential elector on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket in 1848; appointed solicitor of the Treasury in 1877, and served until 1884; died in Washington, D. C., March 4, 1884.

Rea, David, a Representative from Missouri; born in Ripley county, Ind., January 19, 1831; completed preparatory studies; moved to Missouri in 1842; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Savannah, Mo.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); died in Savannah, Ga., June 13, 1901.

Rea, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pennsylvania in 1755; completed preparatory studies; served in the Revolutionary army; several years a member of the state legislature; elected to the Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1811); defeated for the Twelfth Congress; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815); died in Chambersburg, Pa., February 6, 1829.

Read, Almon Heath, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Shelburne, Vt., June 12, 1790; was graduated from Williams college in 1811; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Montrose, Pa.; served in both branches of the state legislature; state treasurer in 1840; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1845); died in Montrose, Pa., June 3, 1844.

Read, George, a Delegate and a Senator from Delaware; born in Cecil county, Md., September 18, 1733; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1752 began practice in New Castle, Del.; attorney general for lower Delaware in 1763; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1774–1777; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; president of the state constitutional convention in 1776; vice president of the state under this constitution; delegate from Delaware to the Federal constitutional convention; member of the state house of representatives 1779–1780; judge of the United States court of appeals in admiralty cases in 1782; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1789, to December 2, 1793, when he resigned; chief justice of Delaware; died in New Castle, Del., September 21, 1798.

Read, Jacob, a Delegate and a Senator from South Carolina; born in South Carolina in 1752; completed preparatory studies; studied law in England; was admitted to the bar and began practice in Charleston, S. C.; served in the Revolutionary army as colonel; member of the state house of representatives; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1783–1786; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1795, to March 3, 1801; judge of the United States court for the district of South Carolina and served from 1801 until his death in Charleston, S. C., July 17, 1816.

Read, James, a delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., August 11, 1718; received an academic training, studied law, was admitted or readmitted to the bar in September, 1781; sat in the Continental Congress 1787–1788.

Read, Nathan, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Warren, Mass., July 2, 1759; was graduated from Harvard college in 1781; studied medicine and was an inventor; elected as a Federalist to the Sixth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Samuel Sewall and reelected to the Seventh Congress and served from November 25, 1800, to March 3, 1803; moved to a farm near Belfast, Me.; judge of the court of common pleas; died near Belfast, Me., January 20, 1849.

Read, William B., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Hardin county, Ky., December 14, 1820; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1849 began practice in Hodgenville, Ky.; served several years as a state senator; defeated as the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of Kentucky in 1863; delegate to the Democratic national conventions in Charleston and Baltimore in 1860, and in Chicago in 1864; member of the state house of representatives 1867–1869; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1875).

Reade, Edwin G., a Representative from North Carolina; born in Orange county, N. C., November 13, 1812; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1836 began practice in Roxboro, N. C.; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); president of the reconstruction convention which met in Raleigh in 1865; associate justice of the supreme court of North Carolina 1868–1874; died in Raleigh, N. C., 1894.

Reading, John R., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia county, Pa., November 1, 1826; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine, was graduated from the Jefferson medical college in Philadelphia in 1847, and began practice in Somerton, Pa.; presented credentials as a Member-elect and as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1869, to April 13, 1870, when he was succeeded by Caleb N. Taylor, who contested his election; defeated as the Democratic candidate for the Forty-second Congress.

Ready, Charles, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Readville, Tenn., December 22, 1802; was graduated from Greenville college, Tennessee; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state house of representatives in 1835; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1859); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-sixth Congress; died in Murfreesboro, Tenn., June 4, 1878.

Reagan, John Henninger, a Representative and a Senator from Texas; born in Sevier county, Tenn., October 8, 1818; attended a common school and Southwestern college, Marysville, Tenn., Nancy academy and Boyds Creek academy; studied law and was admitted to the bar; settled in the Republic of Texas in May, 1839; joined the army and participated in campaigns against the Cherokee Indians; deputy surveyor of the public lands, 1839–1843; elected to the state house of representatives for two years in 1847; judge of the district court, 1852–1857; resigned and reelected for six years in 1856; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); elected to the secession convention of Texas in 1861; deputy to the provisional congress of the Confederacy; appointed postmaster-general of the Confederacy March 6, 1861; reappointed in 1862 and occupied the position until the close of the war; also appointed acting secretary of the treasury of the Confederacy for a short time preceding the close of the war; member of the state constitutional convention of 1875; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1887); elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1887, to June 10, 1891, when he resigned; returned to Texas and appointed a member of the railroad commission of the state and served 1897–1903; died in Palestine, Tex., March 6, 1905.

Reding, John Randall, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Portsmouth, N. H., October 18, 1805; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Haverhill, N. H.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1845); naval storekeeper at Portsmouth 1853–1858; mayor of Portsmouth; served in the state house of representatives; died in Portsmouth, N. H., October 8, 1892.

Reed, Charles M., a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of that state; attended the public schools; engaged in steamboating on the great lakes; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); died in Erie, Pa., December 16, 1871.

Reed, Edward C., a Representative from New York; born in Fitzwilliam, N. H., March 8, 1793; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Homer, N. Y., in 1814; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1833).

Reed, Isaac, a Representative from Maine; born in Waldoboro, Me., in 1810; received a limited schooling and became a merchant; six years a member of the state house of representatives; defeated for the Thirty-second Congress; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Charles Andrews, and served from June 25, 1852, to March 3, 1853; elected state treasurer in 1856; died in Waldoboro, Me.

Reed, John, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in West Bridgewater, Mass., September 2, 1781; was graduated from Brown university in 1803; tutor in that institution for two years, and principal of the Bridgewater, Mass., academy 1806–1807; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Yarmouth, Mass.; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1817); and reelected to the Seventeenth and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1841); lieutenant governor of Massachusetts 1845–1851; died in West Bridgewater, Mass., November 25, 1860.

Reed, John, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Framingham, Mass., November 11, 1751; was graduated from Yale in 1772; practiced law, 1773–1780; studied theology, and ordained a Congregational minister in 1780; moved to West Bridgewater, Mass.; elected as a Federalist to the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Congresses (March 4, 1795–March 3, 1801); served as chaplain in the United States navy; died in West Bridgewater, Mass., February 17, 1831.

Reed, Joseph, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Trenton, N. J., August 27, 1741; was graduated from the college of New Jersey (Princeton) in 1757; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1762; was a law student in the Temple, in London; returned in 1767 and began practice in Trenton, N. J.; took an active part in pre-Revolutionary affairs; moved to Philadelphia, Pa., in October, 1770; member of the committee of correspondence in 1774; president of the Pennsylvania convention in January, 1775; accompanied General Washington to Cambridge as his aid-de-camp and military secretary in July, 1775; served during the campaign of 1776; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1777–1778; president of the supreme executive council of Pennsylvania 1778–1781; aided in founding the university of Pennsylvania, of which he was a trustee 1782–1785; died in Philadelphia, Pa., March 5, 1785.

Reed, Joseph Rea, a Representative from Iowa; born in Ashland county, Ohio, March 12, 1835; attended the common schools and Hayesville, Ohio academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Council Bluffs, Iowa, after 1857; served during the Civil War as an officer in the second battery, Iowa light artillery, from July, 1861, to June, 1865; member of the Iowa state senate in 1866 and 1868; judge of the district court from September 1, 1872, to January 1, 1884, and judge of the supreme court of the state from the latter date to March 1, 1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); chief justice of the court of private land claims 1891–1904; a practicing lawyer in Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Reed, Philip, a Senator and a Representative from Maryland; born in Kent county, Md., about 1760; completed preparatory studies; captain in the Revolutionary Army; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert Wright and served from December 29, 1806, to March 3, 1813; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); successfully contested the election of Jeremiah Causden to the Seventeenth Congress and served from March 20, 1822, to March 3, 1823; died in Huntingville, Md., November 2, 1829.

Reed, Robert Rentoul, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Washington, Pa., March 12, 1807; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Washington and Jefferson College, Pa., in 1824, and from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1829; began practice in Washington, Pa.; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); member of state legislature 1863–1864; died near Washington, Pa., December 14, 1864.

Reed, Thomas Brackett, a Representative from Maine; born in Portland, Me., October 18, 1839; was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1860; studied law; acting assistant paymaster, United States navy, from April 19, 1864, to November 4, 1865; admitted to the bar in 1865 and commenced practice in Portland, Me.; member of the state house of representatives 1868–1869 and of the state senate in 1870; attorney general of Maine 1870–1872; city solicitor of Portland 1874–1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and to the eleven succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1877, to September 4, 1899, when he resigned; Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Fifty-first, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses; moved to New York City and engaged in the practice of law; died in Washington, D. C., December 7, 1902; interment in Portland, Me.

Reed, Thomas Buck, a Senator from Mississippi; born near Lexington, Ky., May 7, 1787; attended the schools of Lexington and Princeton university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Lexington in 1808; moved to Natchez, Miss., in 1809; appointed city clerk in 1811; unsuccessful candidate for Delegate in Congress in 1813; attorney general of Mississippi 1821–1826; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of David Holmes, and served from January 28, 1826, to March 3, 1827; reelected after a popular primary, and served from March 4, 1829, until his death in Lexington, Ky., while upon his way to Washington, D. C., November 26, 1829.

Reed, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Marblehead, Mass., in 1777; received a limited education; merchant; elected as a Federalist to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1815); died in Marblehead, Mass., February 18, 1837.

Reeder, William Augustus, a Representative from Kansas; born in Cumberland county, Pa., August 28, 1849; went with parents to Ipava, Fulton county, Ill.; pursued preparatory studies and taught school; moved to Kansas and was principal of the Beloit public schools; engaged in the banking business in the city of Logan, Kans., August 18, 1876; in 1890, engaged in irrigation farming; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1911); located in Los Angeles, Cal.

Reese, David Addison, a Representative from Georgia; born in Charlotte, N. C., March 3, 1794; attended public schools and instructed in the classics by private tutor; studied medicine and was graduated from the Philadelphia (Pa.) medical college, and practiced; moved to Monticello, Ga.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); died in Auburn, Ala., December 16, 1871.

Reese, Seaborn, a Representative from Georgia; born in Madison, Morgan county, Ga., November 28, 1846; attended the university of Georgia, which institution he left in his senior year, 1868; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Sparta, Ga.; member of the general assembly of Georgia 1872–1874; solicitor general of the northern judicial circuit 1877–1880; presidential elector on the Hancock ticket in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh Congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alexander H. Stephens; reelected to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses and served from December 4, 1882 to March 3, 1887; died in Sparta, Hancock county, Ga., March 1, 1907.

Reeves, Henry Augustus, a Representative from New York; born in Sag Harbor, N. Y., December 7, 1832; attended private school in Sag Harbor, the Southampton academy, the university of Michigan for three years, and was graduated from Union college, New York, in 1852; studied law and was admitted to the bar; edited the Republican Watchman in Greenport in 1858; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); supervisor 1872–1881, and 1882–1894; member of state assembly in 1887; member state commission in lunacy 1889–1897; editor of paper in Greenport, N. Y.

Reeves, Walter, a Representative from Illinois; born near Brownsville, Pa., September 25, 1848; moved with his parents to Illinois in 1856, where they settled upon a farm in La Salle county; attended the public schools and became a teacher; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Mount Vernon, Ill., in 1875; began practice in Streator, Ill.; was elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1903); declined appointments to Federal positions; died in Streator, Ill., April 9, 1909.

Reid, Charles Chester, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Clarksville, Johnson county, Ark., June 15, 1868; entered the state university in Fayetteville in 1883; was graduated from the law department of Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn., in 1887; began practice in Morrilton, Ark.; elected prosecuting attorney of his judicial district in 1894; reelected in 1896; voluntarily retired from office in 1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1911); located in Little Rock, Ark., and practiced law.

Reid, David Settle, a Representative and a Senator from North Carolina; born in Rockingham county, N. C., April 19, 1813; attended the public school; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1834 began practice in Wentworth, N. C.; member of the state senate 1835–1842; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); defeated as the Democratic candidate for governor of North Carolina in 1848; elected governor in 1850, and reelected in 1852; elected to the United States Senate and served from December 6, 1854, to March 3, 1859; delegate to the peace congress in 1861; died in Wentworth, N. C., June 19, 1891.

Reid, James Wesley, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Wentworth, Rockingham county, N. C., June 11, 1849; pursued an academic course; tutor in Emory and Henry college, Virginia, from which he was graduated in 1869; studied law and was admitted to the bar in June, 1873; county treasurer of Rockingham county, 1874–1884; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Alfred M. Scales; reelected to the Forty-ninth Congress and served from January 28, 1885, to December 31, 1886, when he resigned; moved to Idaho in 1887 and engaged in the practice of law; died January 1, 1902.

Reid, John W., a Representative from Missouri; born in Lynchburg, Va., June 14, 1821; attended the common schools; moved to Missouri in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Jefferson City, Mo., in 1844; captain in the Mexican war; two years a member of the state legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress and served from March 4, 1861, to August 6, 1861; entered the Confederate army; expelled by resolution of December 2, 1861.

Reid, Robert Raymond, a Representative from Georgia; born in Prince William parish, Beaufort district, S. C., September 8, 1789; attended South Carolina college; moved to Augusta, Ga.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1810; justice of the supreme court of Georgia 1816–1818 and 1823–1825; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Forsyth, and reelected to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses and served from February 18, 1819, to March 3, 1823; mayor of Augusta 1827–1830; judge of the superior court of Georgia; appointed United States judge for the district of east Florida in 1832; governor of the territory of Florida 1839–1841; president of the convention which framed a constitution for the state of Florida; died in Tallahassee, Fla., July 1, 1841.

Reilly, James Bernard, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in West Brunswig township, Schuylkill county, Pa., August 12, 1845; attended the Pottsville high school, from which he was graduated in 1862; read law and was admitted to the bar January 11, 1869, in Pottsville; elected district attorney of Schuylkill county, October 8, 1871, and served until January 1, 1875 elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1880; nominated by the Democratic county convention for law judge of his county in 1881 and again in 1882, and also as the candidate for Congress in 1884, but was defeated at the election; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1895); United States marshal for eastern district of Pennsylvania 1896–1900; resumed the practice of law in Pottsville, Pa.

Reilly, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Abnerville, Indiana county, Pa., February 22, 1836; received a limited schooling; entered the service of the Pennsylvania railroad company April 10, 1854; appointed superintendent of transportation April 1, 1865; resigned upon being elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); defeated for reelection; president of the board of city commissioners of Altoona in 1872–1873; president of the Bells Gap railroad company 1872–1873.

Reilly, Wilson, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Waynesboro, Pa., August 8, 1811; attended common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Chambersburg, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-sixth Congress; died in Chambersburg, Pa., August 26, 1885.

Reily, Luther, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Myerstown, Pa., October 17, 1794; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and began practice in Harrisburg; held various local offices; participated in the war of 1812 as a private in Capt. R. M. Crane's company of Pennsylvania volunteers and as an assistant surgeon; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); died in Harrisburg, Pa., February 20, 1854.

Relfe, James H., a Representative from Missouri; native of Virginia; moved to Missouri; received a limited schooling; studied medicine and began practice in Caledonia, Mo.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847).

Remann, Frederick, a Representative from Illinois; resident of Madison, Ill.; elected to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, until his death in Madison, Ill., July 14, 1895.

Rencher, Abraham, a Representative from North Carolina; native of Wake county, N. C.; was graduated from the university of North Carolina in 1822; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Chatham county; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1839), and was reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); chargé d'affaires to Portugal 1843–1847; governor of the Territory of New Mexico 1857–1861.

Revels, Hiram R., a Senator from Mississippi; born in Fayetteville, N. C., September 1, 1822; moved to Indiana and attended the Quaker seminary in Union county, and became an ordained minister in the African Methodist Episcopal church; lectured among his people in the states of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, and Missouri; preached in Baltimore, Md.; at the breaking out of the Civil war assisted in the organization of the first two colored regiments in Maryland; taught school in St. Louis, Mo.; went to Vicksburg, Miss., as chaplain of a colored regiment in 1864; returned to Mississippi and located in Natchez in 1868, and held various local offices; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1865, and served from January 20, 1870, to March 3, 1871 (the first negro to sit in the United States Senate as a duly qualified Member); president of Alcorn agricultural university, Rodney, Miss.; moved to Richmond, Ind., and became pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church; died in Aberdeen, Miss., January 16, 1901.

Reyburn, John Edgar, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in New Carlisle, Clark county, Ohio, February 7, 1845; instructed by private tutor and attended Saunders institute, West Philadelphia; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Philadelphia in 1870; member of the state house of representatives 1871, 1874, 1875, and 1876; member of the state senate four years from December 1, 1876, and re-elected November, 1880; elected president pro tempore for the session of 1883; re-elected senator November, 1884, and again elected November, 1888, for a term of four years; presidential elector in 1904; elected to the Fifty-first Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of William D. Kelley; re-elected to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses, and served from February 24, 1890, to March 3, 1897; re-elected to the Fifty-ninth Congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Robert Adams, and to the Sixtieth Congress, and served from December 3, 1906, to April 1, 1907, when he resigned, having been elected mayor of Philadelphia; served as mayor from April, 1907, to December 4, 1911; a manufacturer of Philadelphia, Pa.

Reynolds, Edwin Ruthvin, a Representative from New York; born in Fort Ann, N. Y., February 16, 1816; pursued classical studies; principal of the Albion academy, Orleans county, N. Y., for six years; county superintendent 1843-1845; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Albion, N. Y.; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Silas M. Burroughs, and served from December 5, 1860, to March 3, 1861; judge and surrogate of Orleans county 1863-1868; died in Albion, N. Y., July 4, 1908.

Reynolds, Gideon, a Representative from New York; born in Petersburg, N. Y., August 9, 1813; received a limited schooling; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851); died in Hoosick, N. Y., July 13, 1896.

Reynolds, James B., a Representative from Tennessee; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); reelected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825).

Reynolds, John, a Representative from Illinois; born in Montgomery county, Pa., February 26, 1789; located with his parents in the vicinity of Kaskaskia, Ill., in 1800; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Cahokia in 1812; elected a justice of the Illinois supreme court in 1818; member of the state house of representatives 1827-1829; elected governor of Illinois in 1831, and in 1832 took the field as commander of the state militia in the Black Hawk war; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Charles Slade; reelected to the Twenty-fourth Congress, and served from December 1, 1834, to March 3, 1837; defeated for reelection to the Twenty-fifth Congress; elected to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); again a member of the state house of representatives in 1846 and 1852, and served the last term as speaker; died in Belleville, Ill., May 8, 1865.

Reynolds, John Hazard, a Representative from New York; born in Moriah, N. Y., June 21, 1819; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Albany in 1843; postmaster of Albany in 1853; moved to Kinderhook, N. Y., and practiced law there 1843-1852; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); resumed the practice of law; appointed a judge of the commission of appeals of the state, which position he held until the expiration of the court by constitutional limitation July 1, 1875; died at his country residence in Kinderhook, N. Y., September 24, 1875.

Reynolds, John Merriman, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Lancaster county, Pa.; was graduated from the First Pennsylvania state normal school and from Columbian university; engaged in the practice of law and banking in Bedford, Pa.; member of the state legislature 1873-1874; elected prosecuting attorney of Bedford county in 1875; in 1892 one of the commissioners to select a site and build an asylum for the chronic insane in Wernersville, Pa.; delegate in the Democratic national conventions of 1888 and 1892; Assistant Secretary of the Interior April 15, 1893, to June 1, 1897; supported Mr. McKinley for the Presidency in 1896, and was afterwards identified with the Republican party; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses; resigned January 17, 1911. Resumed the practice of law in Bedford, Pa.

Reynolds, Joseph, a Representative from New York; born in Easton, Washington county, N. Y., September 14, 1785; completed academic studies; moved to Virgil, N. Y., in 1809; organized a company of riflemen for service in the War of 1812; was a major, colonel, and brigadier general in the state troops; justice of the peace 1815-1837; member of the state assembly in 1818; judge of Cortland county 1821-1839; Jackson presidential elector in 1832; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); died in Cortland, N. Y., September 24, 1864.

Rhea, John, a Representative from Tennessee; born in the Parish of Langhorn, county of Londonderry, Ireland, in 1753; came with parents to the United States and located first in Philadelphia, Pa., and a little later in Maryland; moved to eastern Tennessee in 1778; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from Princeton in 1780; member of the Patriot force in the battle of King's Mountain in October, 1780; clerk of the county court of Sullivan county in the proposed state of Franklin and subsequently in North Carolina, 1785-1790; member of the house of commons of North Carolina, and of the state convention that ratified the Federal Constitution in 1789; delegate in the constitutional convention of Tennessee in 1796; attorney general of Greene county, Tenn., 1796; member state legislature 1796-1797; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1815); appointed United States Commissioner to treat with the Choctaw Nation in 1816; reelected to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1823); died in Sullivan county, Tenn., May 27, 1832.

Rhea, John Stockdale, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Russellville, Logan county, Ky., March 9, 1855; attended Bethel college, Russellville, Ky., and Washington and Lee university, Lexington, Va.; licensed to practice law in the fall of 1873; elected prosecuting attorney for Logan county in 1878 and 1882; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1884 and in 1888; delegate to the national Democratic conventions of 1892 and 1896; elected as the candidate of the Democratic and Populist parties to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1905). Resumed the practice of law and farming in Russellville, Ky.

Rhea, William Francis, a Representative from Virginia; born in Washington county, Va., April 20, 1858; attended Oldfield school and a college for three years; studied law, was admitted to the bar; soon afterwards elected judge of the county court of Washington county, and served four years; elected to the state senate and served four years; elected judge of the city court of Bristol; resigned in 1895 and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1903); member of the state corporation commission and a resident of Richmond, Va.

Rhett, Robert Barnwell, a Representative and a Senator from South Carolina; born in Beaufort, S. C., December 24, 1800; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Beaufort in 1824; up to this time he had been known by his family name of Smith, but he dropped it and resumed the name of an ancestor, Rhett; member of the state legislature in 1826; attorney general of South Carolina in 1832; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1849); member of the Nashville convention of 1850; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of John C. Calhoun, and served from December 18, 1850, to 1852, when he resigned; delegate to the South Carolina secession convention in 1861; moved to St. James Parish, La.; delegate in the Democratic national convention of 1868; died in St. James Parish, La., September 14, 1876.

Rhinock, Joseph Lafayette, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Owenton, Owen county, Ky., January 4, 1863; attended the Covington public schools; served as a Democrat in the city council of Covington, and was mayor 1893-1900; was the organizer and first president of the Jefferson Democratic club, of Covington; elected to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); engaged in financial enterprises in New York City.

Rhodes, Marion Edwards, a Representative from Missouri; born in Bollinger county, Mo., near Glen Allen, January 4, 1868; completed preparatory studies; located in Washington county in 1891; principal of the Potosi public school for three years; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1896, and entered practice in Potosi, Mo.; in 1900 was elected prosecuting attorney of Washington county and reelected in 1902; elected to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); resumed the practice of law in Potosi, Mo.

Rhodes, Samuel, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1711; received a limited schooling and became a carpenter and builder; member of the city council in 1741; member of the provincial assembly 1761-1764 and 1771-1774; commissioner to the Indians at Lancaster, Pa., and in the West; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1774-1775; mayor of Philadelphia in 1774; founder and member of board of managers of the Pennsylvania hospital 1751-1781; director of the Philadelphia library; died in Philadelphia, Pa., April 7, 1784.

Ricaud, James Barroll, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., February 11, 1808; was graduated from Washington college, Md.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Chestertown, Md.; member of the state house of representatives in 1834 and of the state senate 1836-1844; presidential elector in 1836 on the Harrison ticket and again in 1844 on the Clay ticket; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); died in Chestertown, Md., January 24, 1866.

Rice, Alexander Hamilton, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Newton Lower Falls, Mass., August 30, 1818; was graduated from Union college in 1844; paper manufacturer in Boston; mayor of Boston in 1856 and 1857; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1867); delegate in the Philadelphia Loyalists convention in 1866 and in the Republican national convention of 1868; governor of Massachusetts 1876-1878; died in Boston, Mass., July 22, 1895.

Rice, Americus Vespuccius, a Representative from Ohio; born in Perryville, Ashland county, Ohio, November 18, 1835; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Union college, New York, in 1860; law student when he enlisted in the Union army in 1861; captain twenty-first Ohio infantry April 27, 1861; captain fifty-seventh Ohio September 2, 1861; lieutenant colonel February 8, 1862; colonel May 31, 1865; mustered out January 15, 1866; manager of private banking house; delegate in the Democratic national convention in Baltimore in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); died in Washington, D. C., April 4, 1904; interment in Arlington cemetery.

Rice, Benjamin Franklin, a Senator from Arkansas; born in East Otto, Cattaraugus county, N. Y., May 26, 1828; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Kentucky and practiced his profession; member of the state legislature 1855–1856; presidential elector in 1856; moved to Minnesota in 1860; captain in Minnesota volunteers in the Union army and served three years; settled in Little Rock, Ark., in 1864; resumed the practice of law; active in organizing the Republican party in Arkansas; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and served from June 23, 1868, to March 3, 1873; died in Tulsa, Okla., January 19, 1905.

Rice, Edmund, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Waitsfield, Vt., February 14, 1819; attended the common schools; went to Kalamazoo, Mich., November, 1838; read law; appointed register of the court of chancery in 1841 and later was master in chancery; clerk of the supreme court, third circuit; served as register and master until 1845, when the court was abolished, and clerk until 1849; enlisted to serve in the Mexican war in 1847; commissioned first lieutenant, company A, first regiment Michigan volunteers; detailed as acting assistant commissary of subsistence and acting assistant quartermaster; mustered out in August, 1848; moved to St. Paul, Minn., in July, 1849, and practiced law until 1856; president of the Minnesota and Pacific railroad company 1857–1863; St. Paul and Pacific railroad 1863–1872, and trustee 1879; president St. Paul and Chicago 1863–1877; member of the territorial legislature 1851; state senator 1864–1866, 1874–1876; member of the state house of representatives 1867, 1872, 1877, and 1878; mayor of St. Paul 1881–1883; reelected in 1885, and resigned in February, 1887; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889); died in White Bear, Minn., July 11, 1889.

Rice, Edward Young, a Representative from Illinois; born in Logan county, Ky., February 8, 1820; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Illinois and located in Montgomery county; elected county recorder in 1847; member of the state legislature 1849–1850; judge of the Montgomery county court for two years; master in chancery 1853–1857; judge of the eighteenth circuit of Illinois, and reelected in 1861 and 1867; member of the state constitutional convention 1869–1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); died in Hillsboro, Ill., April 16, 1883.

Rice, Henry Mower, a Delegate and a Senator from Minnesota; born in Waitsfield, Vt., November 29, 1816; completed preparatory studies; resided in the Territories of Iowa, Wisconsin, and Minnesota; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1857); elected to the United States Senate and served from May 11, 1858, to March 3, 1863; elected treasurer of Ramsay county in 1878; died in San Antonio, Tex., January 15, 1894; interment in Oakland cemetery, St. Paul, Minn.

Rice, John Birchard, a Representative from Ohio; born in Fremont, Ohio, June 23, 1832; was graduated from the medical department of the university of Michigan and from Jefferson medical college, Philadelphia, Pa.; lecturer on military surgery and obstetrics in the Charity Hospital medical college and medical department of the university of Wooster in Cleveland, Ohio; served on the medical staff during the Civil war as assistant surgeon of the tenth, and surgeon of the seventy-second Ohio volunteer infantry, and as surgeon-in-chief of division in the fifteenth army corps and of the district of Memphis; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); died in Fremont, Ohio, January 14, 1893.

Rice, John Blake, a Representative from Illinois; born in Easton, Talbot county, Md., May 28, 1809; received a limited schooling; went on the stage in New York in 1839; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1847, and was manager of a theater; also managed theaters in Bangor, Me., Buffalo, N. Y., and Milwaukee, Wis.; retired from the stage in 1857, and from theatrical management in 1861; elected mayor of Chicago in 1865 and 1867; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress and served from March 4, 1873, until his death in Norfolk, Va., December 17, 1874.

Rice, John Hovey, a Representative from Maine; born in Mount Vernon, Me., February 5, 1816; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1848; county attorney for Piscataquis county 1852–1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1867); collector of customs at the port of Bangor, Me., 1861–1871; moved to Washington, D. C., and practiced law; died in Chicago, Ill., March 14, 1911.

Rice, John M., a Representative from Kentucky; native of Floyd county, Ky.; received a limited schooling; member of the state house of representatives in 1859 and 1867; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1873).

Rice, Theron Moses, a Representative from Missouri; born in Mecca, Trumbull county, Ohio, September 21, 1829; attended the academy in Chester, Ohio, where he remained four years; taught district school during the winter months; read law and was admitted to the bar in June, 1854, and practiced for about three years in Mahoning county, Ohio; moved in the spring of 1858 to California, Moniteau county, Mo.; served in the Civil war 1861–1865, in the United States infantry volunteer service from Missouri; received gradual promotions from first lieutenant to colonel; returned to Missouri in the spring of 1866 and renewed the practice of law in Tipton, Moniteau county; elected in 1868 circuit judge, and served six years; elected as a National Greenbacker to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); died in Boonville, Mo., November 7, 1895.

Rice, Thomas, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Pownalborough, (now Wiscasset, Me.) March 30, 1768; was graduated from Harvard college in 1791; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1819); died in Winslow, Me., August 25, 1854.

Rice, William Whitney, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Deerfield, Mass., March 7, 1826; fitted for college in Gorham academy, Maine; was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1846; preceptor in Leicester academy, Massachusetts 1847–1851; studied law in Worcester, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and practiced in Worcester; appointed judge of insolvency for the county of Worcester in 1858; mayor of the city of Worcester in 1860; district attorney for the middle district of Massachusetts 1869–1874; member of the state house of representatives in 1875; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law in Worcester, Mass.; died there March 1, 1896.

Rich, Charles, a Representative from Vermont; born in Warwick, Hampshire county, Mass., September 13, 1771; moved to Shoreham, Vt.; received a limited schooling; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815) and was reelected to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses and served from December 1, 1817, until his death in Shoreham, Vt., October 15, 1824.

Rich, John T., a Representative from Michigan; born in Conneautville, Crawford county, Pa., April 23, 1841; pursued an academic course; moved with parents to Addison county, Vt., in 1846, and to Elba, Lapeer county, Mich., in 1848, and engaged in farming; member and chairman of the board of supervisors of Lapeer county; member of the state house of representatives in 1872 and reelected in 1874, 1876, and 1878; speaker of the house during the last two terms; state senator in 1880; resigned his seat in the senate March 21, 1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); defeated for reelection; state railroad commissioner 1887–1891; governor of Michigan 1892–1896; collector of customs at Detroit 1898–1906; state treasurer, to fill vacancy; collector of customs at the port of Port Huron, Mich.

Richards, Gabriel, a Delegate from Michigan; born in La Ville de Saintes, France, October 15, 1767; pursued classical studies and studied theology in the seminary of Angers, France, and in Paris; took the order of priesthood October 15, 1790; emigrated to the United States in 1792, and located in Baltimore, Md., June 24, 1792; professor of mathematics in St. Marys college, Maryland; sent by Bishop Carroll as a missionary to the Indians and was stationed in Kaskaskia, Ill.; located as a missionary in Detroit, Mich., in 1796; published a periodical in the French language, entitled "Essais du Michigan," and some Roman Catholic books; elected a Delegate to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825); returned to Detroit and officiated as grand vicar of the bishop of Ohio; died in Detroit, Mich., September 13, 1832.

Richards, Jacob, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Chester, Pa., 1773; elected to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1809); died near Chester, Pa., July 20, 1816.

Richards, James Alexander Dudley, a Representative from Ohio; born in Boston, Mass., March 22, 1845; spent his early life in Boston and New York City; went to Ohio in 1861; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1867; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law; died near New Philadelphia, Ohio, December 4, 1911.

Richards, John, a Representative from New York; born in Wales, April 13, 1765; resided in Johnsbury; received a limited schooling; state surveyor 1810–1812; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825); died in Caldwell, N. Y., April 18, 1850.

Richards, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; successfully contested the election of James Morris to the Fourth Congress and served from January 18, 1796, to March 3, 1797.

Richards, Mark, a Representative from Vermont; native of New Haven, Conn.; received a limited schooling; moved to Vermont; served eight years as a member of the state house of representatives; presidential elector on the Madison ticket in 1813; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821); elected lieutenant governor of Vermont in 1830.

Richards, Matthias, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in 1757; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; judge of Berks county court in Pennsylvania 1788–1797; elected to the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1811); died in 1830.

Richardson, David Plunket, a Representative from New York; born in Macedon, N. Y., May 28, 1833; was graduated from Yale college in 1856; studied law in Rochester, N. Y., was admitted to the bar in 1859; entered the Union army in 1861, and served between three and four years; moved to Angelica, N. Y., in 1866; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); resumed the practice of law in Angelica, N. Y.; died in Angelica, Allegany county, N. Y., June 20, 1904.

Richardson, George F., a Representative from Michigan; born in Jamestown, Ottawa county, Mich., July 1, 1850; attended the common schools; elected township clerk eight years in succession; member of the state legislature in 1885, and 1891 was elected speaker pro tempore; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895); located in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Richardson, Harry Alden, a Senator from Delaware; born in Camden, Del., January 1, 1853; moved with parents to Dover in 1856; attended the city schools and the academy in East Greenwich, R. I.; engaged in business in Dover, Del., as a canner and packer; in 1890 nominated by the Republicans for governor and was defeated; elected to the United States Senate as a Republican in January, 1907, for the term expiring March 3, 1913.

Richardson, James Daniel, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Rutherford county, Tenn., March 10, 1843; attended the country schools and Franklin college, near Nashville; entered the Confederate army before graduating and served nearly four years, the first year as private and the remaining three as adjutant of the forty-fifth Tennessee infantry; read law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice January 1, 1867, in Murfreesboro, Tenn.; member of the state legislature and elected speaker of the house in 1871; state senator 1873–1874; delegate to the St. Louis Democratic convention in 1876, to the Chicago Democratic convention in 1896, and to the Kansas City Democratic convention in 1900, over which he presided as permanent chairman; in February, 1900, made chairman of the Democratic congressional committee; editor and compiler of Messages and Papers of the Presidents; nominee in caucus of the Democratic members of the House of Representatives in the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses for Speaker; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth, and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1905); a resident of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and sovereign grand commander of Scottish Rite Masonry, southern jurisdiction.

Richardson, James Montgomery, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Mobile, Ala., July 1, 1859; attended common schools; editor of a newspaper; served one term as representative in the state legislature and two terms as prison commissioner; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1907).

Richardson, John Peter, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Hickory Hill, S. C., April 14, 1801; was graduated from South Carolina college in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Fulton, S. C.; member of the state house of representatives; judge of the circuit court; was elected as a States Rights Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Richard T. Manning, and was reelected to the Twenty-fifth Congress, and served from December 19, 1836, to March 3, 1839; governor of South Carolina 1840–1842; died in Fulton, S. C., January 24, 1864.

Richardson, John Smythe, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Sumter, S. C., February 29, 1828; pursued an academic course in Cokesbury, S. C.; entered the South Carolina college in 1847 and was graduated in 1850; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1852, and began practice in Sumter, S. C.; entered the Confederate service as a captain of infantry and served under Gen. J. B. Kershaw until after the first battle of Manassas, where he was wounded; served as adjutant of the twenty-third South Carolina regiment; elected a member of the state legislature in 1865, and served until 1867; appointed agent of the state of South Carolina in 1866, to apply for and receive the land scrip donated to South Carolina by Congress; delegate from South Carolina to the St. Louis national Democratic convention in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); died in Sumter, S. C., February 24, 1894.

Richardson, Joseph, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Billerica, Mass., February 1, 1778; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1802; studied theology and was ordained over the first parish in Hingham July 2, 1806; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1820; member of the state house of representatives 1821–1822 and of the state senate 1823, 1824, and 1826; elected to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1831); died in Hingham, Mass., September 25, 1871.

Richardson, William, a Representative from Alabama; born in Athens, Ala., in 1845; attended public schools; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served in the Confederate army; judge of the court of probate and county court of Madison county, Ala., from 1875 to 1886; Democratic elector in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph Wheeler; reelected to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses, and served from December 3, 1900, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Richardson, William Alexander, a Senator from Illinois; born in Fayette county, Ky., October 11, 1811; was graduated from Transylvania university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice at Rushville, Ill.; moved to Quincy; served in both branches of the legislature; speaker of the house one year; presidential elector on the Polk ticket in 1844; enlisted as captain in the Mexican war, and promoted to the rank of major; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, and Thirty-fourth Congresses, and serving from March 4, 1847, to August 25, 1856, when he resigned; governor of Nebraska Territory 1857–1858, when he resigned; was reelected to the Thirty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1861, to January 29, 1863, when he resigned; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Stephen A. Douglas, and served from January 30, 1863, to March 3, 1865; died in Quincy, Ill., December 27, 1875.

Richardson, William Merchant, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Pelham, N. H., January 4, 1774; was graduated from Harvard college in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Groton, Mass.; elected as a Federalist to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1811, to April 18, 1814, when he resigned; moved to Portsmouth, N. H., in 1814; United States attorney in 1814; appointed chief justice of New Hampshire in 1816; died in Chester, N. H., March 23, 1838.

Richey, Thomas, a Representative from Ohio; native of Pennsylvania; moved to Somerset, Ohio; received a limited schooling; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849) and to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855).

Richmond, Hiram Lowton, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chautauqua county, N. Y., May 17, 1810; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1838 began practice in Meadville, Pa.; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); died in Meadville, Pa., February 9, 1885.

Richmond, James Buchanan, a Representative from Virginia; born in Turkey Cove, Lee county, Va.; attended Emory and Henry college; practiced law in the circuit and county courts of Lee, Scott, and Wise counties, Va., and in the court of appeals at Wytheville, Va.; held the office of orderly sergeant and captain of company A, fiftieth Virginia infantry, during the first year of the war; afterwards major of the sixty-fourth Virginia regiment for a time, and was promoted to lieutenant colonel sixty-fourth Virginia regiment; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881).

Richmond, Jonathan, a Representative from New York; born in Dartmouth, Mass., July 31, 1774; completed preparatory studies; moved to Aurora, Cayuga county, N. Y., in 1813; United States internal-revenue collector; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1821); died in Aurora, N. Y., July 29, 1865.

Riddle, Albert Gallatin, a Representative from Ohio; born in Monson, Mass., May 28, 1816; moved to Newbury, in the Western Reserve of Ohio, in 1817; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and began practice in Geauga county, and was prosecuting attorney of the county 1840–1846; representative in the state legislature 1848–1850; moved to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1850; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); consul at Matanzas, Cuba, 1863–1864; returned to Washington, D. C., and resumed the practice of law; was retained by the State Department to aid in the prosecution of John H. Surratt for the murder of President Lincoln; law officer of the District of Columbia 1877–1879; died in Washington, D. C., May 16, 1902.

Riddle, George Read, a Senator from Delaware; born in New Castle, Del., in 1817; pursued classical studies; studied civil engineering; several years engaged in the construction of railroads and canals; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1848, and began practice in Wilmington, Del., in 1848; commissioner in 1849 to retrace "Mason and Dixon's line;" delegate to several national Democratic conventions; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1855); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-fourth Congress; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James A. Bayard and served from February 2, 1864, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 29, 1867.

Riddle, Haywood Yancey, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Van Buren, Hardeeman county, Tenn., June 20, 1834; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1857 began practice in Ripley, Miss.; moved to Smith county, Tenn., in 1858; served in the Confederate army; moved to Lebanon, Tenn.; employed in the county clerk's office for five years; reappointed for six years in 1870, but resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Samuel M. Fite; reelected to the Forty-fifth Congress, and served from January 5, 1876, to March 3, 1879.

Riddleberger, Harrison Holt, a Senator from Virginia; born in Edinburg, Shenandoah county, Va., October 4, 1844; attended the common schools; served three years in the Confederate army as second and first lieutenant of infantry and as captain of cavalry; returned to Edinburg and became editor of the Tenth Legion Banner; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served as commonwealth attorney of his county 1876–1880; also two terms of two years each in the house of delegates and one term of four years in the state senate; editor of the Shenandoah Democrat and later of the Virginian; member of the state committee of the Conservative party until 1875; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of 1876 and on the Readjuster ticket of 1880; elected as a Readjuster to the United States Senate in 1881 and served from March 4, 1883, to March 3, 1889; died in Woodstock, Va., January 24, 1890.

Rider, Ira Edgar, a Representative from New York; born in Jersey City, N. J., November 17, 1868; attended the public schools in city of New York, the College of the City of New York, and was graduated from the St. Lawrence university; practiced law in New York City; secretary of the borough of Manhattan 1898–1902; elected to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1905).

Ridgely, Edwin Reed, a Representative from Kansas; born near Lancaster, Wabash county, Ill., May 9, 1844; attended district school during the winter months; in 1862 enlisted as a private in company C, one hundred and fifteenth Illinois volunteer infantry and served to the end of the war; moved to Girard, Kans., in 1869, and engaged in general merchandising; lived in Ogden, Utah, from 1889 to 1893; left the Republican party in 1876 because of its financial policy; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1901); resumed farming near Arma, Kans.

Ridgeley, Henry Moore, a Representative from Delaware; born in Dover, Del., August 6, 1779; completed preparatory studies; studied law and began practice in Dover; secretary of state of Delaware 1817–1827; elected as a Federalist to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1815); elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Nicholas Van Dyke, and served from January 12, 1827, to March 3, 1829; died in Dover, Del., August 6, 1847.

Ridgely, Richard, a Delegate from Maryland; sat in the Continental Congress 1785-1786.

Ridgway, Joseph, a Representative from Ohio; born on Staten Island, New York, May 6, 1783; attended the public schools; carpenter; moved to Cayuga county, N. Y., in 1811; moved to Columbus, Ohio, and established an iron foundry; member of the state house of representatives 1828-1832; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1843); died in Columbus, Ohio, February 1, 1861.

Ridgway, Robert, a Representative from Virginia; born in Virginia; pursued classical studies; claimed to have been elected to the Fortieth Congress, but not admitted to his seat; elected as a Conservative to the Forty-first Congress; died in Cool Well, Va., October 17, 1869.

Rife, John Winebrenner, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Middletown, Dauphin county, Pa., August 14, 1846; attended the common schools; learned the trade of tanner; served in the civil war as a member of the one hundred and ninety-fourth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers; member of the house of representatives of Pennsylvania, 1885-1886; president of the Middletown and Hummelstown railroad company; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893); died in Middletown, Pa., April 17, 1908.

Riggs, James Milton, a Representative from Illinois; born in Scott county, Ill., April 17, 1839; attended common school and college; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; elected sheriff of Scott county in November, 1864, and served two years; represented Scott county in the house of the twenty-seventh general assembly of Illinois, 1871-1872; elected state attorney for Scott county in November, 1872, and served four years; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law in Winchester, Ill.

Riggs, Jetur Rose, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Morris county, N. J., June 20, 1809; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and was graduated from the New York medical college; practiced medicine; member of the state house of representatives one term; went to California in 1849; returned to Paterson, N. J.; state senator 1855-1858; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); died in Drakesville, N. J., November 5, 1869.

Riggs, Lewis, a Representative from New York; was a native of Cortland county, N. Y.; received a limited schooling; studied medicine, was licensed to practice, and practiced in Cortland county; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); died November 6, 1870; interment in Homer, Cortland county, N. Y.

Riker, Samuel, a Representative from New York; born on Long Island, N. Y., April 8, 1743; received a limited schooling; member of the Newtown committee of correspondence in 1774; lieutenant of light horse in the Revolution; member of the state house of representatives in 1784; elected to the Eighth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Smith, and served from November 5, 1804, to March 3, 1805; reelected to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1809); died May 19, 1823.

Rinaker, John Irving, a Representative from Illinois; born in Baltimore, Md., November 1, 1830; moved to Springfield, Ill., in December, 1836; studied in the Illinois college for one term and then went to McKendree college, Lebanon, Ill., and was graduated in 1851; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and located in Carlinville, Ill.; served in the Union army; raised and organized the one hundred and twenty-second regiment Illinois volunteer infantry in 1862; colonel September 4, 1862; commanded a brigade in the sixteenth corps of the Army of the Tennessee and made brevet brigadier general for gallant and meritorious service in the field, March 13, 1865; mustered out July 15, 1865; presidential elector on the Republican ticket in 1872 and 1876; delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1876 and 1884; member of the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners of Illinois 1885-1889; successfully contested as a Republican the election of Finis E. Downing to the Fifty-fourth Congress and served from January 5, 1896 to March 3, 1897; returned to Carlinville, Ill., and resumed the practice of law.

Ringgold, Samuel, a Representative from Maryland; born in Chestertown, Md., January 15, 1770; received a limited schooling under a private tutor; state senator for several years; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Roger Nelson, and to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1815); and to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); died in Hagerstown, Md., October 18, 1829.

Riordan, Daniel Joseph, a Representative from New York; born in New York City, July 7, 1870; attended public schools until 1886, when he entered Manhattan college, and was graduated in 1890; engaged in the real estate business; member of the state senate in 1902 and 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); reelected to the Fifty-ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Timothy D. Sullivan; reelected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses, and served from December 3, 1906, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Ripley, Eleazar Wheelock, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Hanover, N. H., April 15, 1782; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1800; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Waterville, Mass. (now Maine); member of the state house of representatives in 1807 and 1811; speaker the last term; moved to Portland, Me., in 1812; state senator; served in the war of 1812; lieutenant colonel of the twenty-first infantry March 12, 1812; colonel March 12, 1813; brigadier general April 15, 1814; brevet major general July 25, 1814, "for gallant conduct in the battle of Niagara Falls, Canada; presented by resolution of Congress of date November 3, 1814, a gold medal with suitable emblems and devices in testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of his gallantry and good conduct in the several conflicts of Chippewa, Niagara, and Erie"; resigned February 1, 1820; located in Jackson, La.; member of the Louisiana state senate; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); died in West Feliciana, La., March 29, 1839.

Ripley, James Wheelock, a Representative from Maine; native of the Maine district of Massachusetts; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Fryeburg; served in the war of 1812; member of the state house of representatives 1814-1819; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Enoch Lincoln, and reelected to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses, and served from December 4, 1826, to March 12, 1830, when he resigned on account of ill health; appointed collector of customs for Passamaquoddy district of Maine; died in Fryeburg, Me., June 17, 1835.

Ripley, Thomas C., a Representative from New York; born in Schaghticoke, N. Y.; received a limited schooling; elected to the Twenty-ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Richard P. Herrick, and served from December 7, 1846, to March 3, 1847.

Risley, Elijah, a Representative from New York; born in Connecticut in 1780; moved to Chautauqua county, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); died in Fredonia, N. Y., January 9, 1870.

Ritchie, Byron Foster, a Representative from Ohio; born in Grafton, Ohio, January 29, 1853; moved to Toledo in 1860; attended the public schools of that city and was graduated from the Toledo high school in 1870; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895).

Ritchie, David, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Canonsburg, Pa., August 19, 1812; was graduated from Jefferson college in 1829; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1835, and began practice in Pittsburgh; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1859); county judge for one year; died in Pittsburgh, Pa., January 24, 1867.

Ritchie, James Monroe, a Representative from Ohio; born in Dunfermline, Scotland, July 28, 1829; came to the United States in 1832; early schooling was limited; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Toledo; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1880; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); resumed the practice of law in Toledo, Ohio.

Ritchie, John, a Representative from Maryland; born in Frederick, Md., August 12, 1831; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine; abandoned it for law; was admitted to the bar and began practice in Frederick in 1854; presidential elector on the Breckenridge and Lane ticket in 1860; elected to serve four years as state attorney for Frederick county in 1867; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); defeated for reelection.

Ritter, Burwell C., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Barren county, Ky., January 6, 1810; received a limited schooling; served two terms in the state house of representatives; elected as a Conservative to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867).

Ritter, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Exeter, Pa., February 6, 1779; received a limited schooling; printer; member of the state constitutional convention of 1836; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); died in Reading, Pa., November 24, 1851.

Rivers, Thomas, a Representative from Tennessee; native of Tennessee; received a limited schooling; held various local offices; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857).

Rives, Francis E., a Representative from Virginia; born in Virginia; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); declined a renomination; died in Littleton, Va., November 30, 1861.

Rives, William Cabell, a Representative and Senator from Virginia; born in Nelson county, Va., May 4, 1793; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1809; studied law under Thomas Jefferson; was admitted to the bar and practiced in Nelson county; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1816; member of the state house of delegates 1817-1819, and 1819 and 1822; moved to Albemarle county in 1821; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1829); minister to France 1829-1832; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Littleton W. Tazewell, and served from December 10, 1832, to February 22, 1834, when he resigned; again elected a United States Senator from Virginia to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Tyler; reelected and served from March 4, 1836, to March 3, 1845; again minister to France 1849-1853; served as a delegate from Virginia to the Confederate Provisional congress in Montgomery, Ala., and Richmond, Va., in 1861; representative from Virginia to the second Confederate congress; died near Charlottesville, Va., April 25, 1868.

Rives, Zeno J., a Representative from Illinois; born in Hancock county, Ind., February 22, 1874; moved with parents to Litchfield, Ill., in 1880; attended the city schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar October 12, 1901, and practiced in Litchfield; appointed city clerk in June, 1903; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); resumed the practice of law in Litchfield, Ill.

Rixey, John Franklin, a Representative from Virginia; born in Culpeper county, Va., August 1, 1854; attended the common schools, Bethel academy, and the University of Virginia; lawyer and farmer; commonwealth attorney for Culpeper county twelve years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death in Washington, D. C., February 8, 1907.

Roach, William Nathaniel, a Senator from North Dakota; born in Loudoun county, Va., September 25, 1840; attended the city schools and Georgetown college; clerk in the quartermaster's department during the civil war; moved to Dakota Territory in 1879; interested in mail contracts for several years; took up land in Dakota and engaged in agriculture; mayor of Larimore 1883-1887; member of the territorial legislature, session of 1885; Democratic candidate for governor at the first state election and defeated; renominated at the next election and again defeated; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1893, to March 3, 1899; moved to New York City, where he died September 7, 1902.

Roane, John, a Representative from Virginia; born in Uppowac, King William county, Va., February 9, 1766; completed preparatory studies; presidential elector on the Washington ticket; member of the state house of representatives; delegate to the state constitutional convention 1788; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh, Twelfth, and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1815); and to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1833); and to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); died at his residence in Uppowac, King William county, Va., November 15, 1838.

Roane, William Harrison, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Virginia in 1788; completed preparatory studies; held various local offices; member of the state house of delegates; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Richard Parker, and served from March 14, 1837, to March 3, 1841; died in Tree Hill, near Richmond, Va., May 11, 1845.

Robb, Edward, a Representative from Missouri; born in Brazeau, Perry county, Mo., March 19, 1857; attended the common schools, Brazeau academy, Fruitland normal institute, and the Missouri state university; was graduated from the law department of the Missouri state university in March, 1879; was admitted to the bar the same year, and located in practice in Perryville; elected prosecuting attorney of Perry county in 1880, and reelected in 1882; elected a member of the legislature in 1884 and 1886; assistant attorney-general of the state, 1889-1893; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1905); resumed the practice of law in Perryville, Mo.

Robbins, Asher, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Wethersfield, Conn., October 26, 1757; tutor in Rhode Island college (now Brown university) 1782-1790; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Providence; moved to Newport in 1795; appointed United States district attorney in 1812; member of the state assembly 1818-1825; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James De Wolf; reelected, serving from October 31, 1825, to March 3, 1839; again member of the state assembly; died in Newport, R. I., February 25, 1845.

Robbins, Edward Everett, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Robbins Station, Westmoreland county, Pa., September 27, 1862; attended the public schools, Indiana normal school, and Eldersridge academy; was graduated from Washington and Jefferson college in 1881; registered as a law student at Greensburg in the same year, and in 1882 entered the Columbia law school in New York; admitted to the Westmoreland bar April 8, 1884, and engaged in practice in Greensburg; nominated for district attorney in 1886; elected in 1888 to the state senate, and served until 1892; chairman Republican county committee in 1885; served as major of volunteers in the War with Spain in 1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899).

Robbins, Gaston Ahi, a Representative from Alabama; born in Goldsboro, N. C., September 26, 1858; moved to Randolph county, N. C.; attended Trinity college and was graduated from the university of North Carolina in 1879; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1880, and entered practice in Selma, Ala.; presidential elector on the Cleveland and Hendricks ticket in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1893, to March 13, 1896, when he was succeeded by William F. Aldrich, who contested his election; reelected to the Fifty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1899, to March 8, 1900, when he was again succeeded by William F. Aldrich, who contested this election.

Robbins, George Robbins, a Representative from New Jersey; born near Allentown, Monmouth county, N. J., September 24, 1808; was graduated from the Jefferson medical college, Philadelphia, in 1837; practiced; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); died in Hamilton Square, Mercer county, N. J., February 22, 1875.

Robbins, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Lower Dublin, Montgomery county, Pa., in 1808; received a limited schooling; steel manufacturer at Philadelphia; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1855); declined reelection; elected to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); died in Philadelphia, Pa., April 27, 1880.

Robbins, William M., a Representative from North Carolina; born in Randolph county, N. C.; pursued classic studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; officer in the Confederate army; served in the North Carolina state senate in 1868 and 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1879).

Roberdeau, Daniel, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born on the island of St. Christopher, West Indies, in 1727; moved to Philadelphia, Pa., in boyhood; completed preparatory studies; engaged in the lumber business; member of the state assembly 1756–1760; manager of the Pennsylvania hospital 1756–1758 and 1766–1776; member of the council of safety; first brigadier general of Pennsylvania troops in 1776; elected Delegate to the Continental Congress and served from 1777 to 1779; moved to Alexandria, Va., in 1785; died in Winchester, Va., June 5, 1795.

Roberts, Anthony Ellmaker, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chester county, Pa., October 29, 1803; received a limited schooling; engaged in mercantile business in New Holland; moved to Lancaster, Pa.; sheriff of Lancaster county 1839–1842; United States marshal for the eastern district of Pennsylvania 1849–1853; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1859); died in Lancaster, Pa., January 25, 1885.

Roberts, Charles B., a Representative from Maryland; born in Uniontown, Md., April 19, 1842; was graduated from Calvert college, New Windsor, Md., 1861; studied law; presidential elector on the Seymour ticket in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); died in 1899.

Roberts, Ellis H., a Representative from New York; born in Utica, N. Y., September 30, 1827; was graduated from Yale college in 1850; became editor of the Utica Morning Herald in 1851; delegate to the national Republican convention of 1868; member of the state assembly in 1867; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1875); defeated for reelection to the Forty-fourth Congress; served as Treasurer of the United States for several years.

Roberts, Ernest W., a Representative from Massachusetts; born in East Madison, Me., November 22, 1858; attended the public schools of Massachusetts and Highland military academy, Worcester, Mass.; was graduated from Boston University law school and was admitted to the bar in 1881; member of the city council of Chelsea in 1887 and 1888; member of the Massachusetts house of representatives of 1894, 1895, and 1896; member of the Massachusetts senate 1897 and 1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Roberts, Jonathan, a Representative and a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Upper Merion, Pa., August 16, 1771; received a limited schooling; served in both branches of the Pennsylvania state legislature; elected to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1811, to February 24, 1814, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Michael Leib, was reelected, and served from February 24, 1814, to March 3, 1821; appointed collector of customs at the port of Philadelphia by President Harrison; removed by President Tyler; died on his farm, "Robertsville," King of Prussia, Pa., July 21, 1854.

Roberts, Robert W., a Representative from Mississippi; native of Delaware; received a limited schooling; moved to Scott county, Miss., and located in Hillsboro; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847).

Roberts, William Randall, a Representative from New York; born in Cork county, Ireland, February 6, 1830; emigrated to the United States in July, 1849; received a limited schooling; merchant in New York City; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1875); appointed minister to Chile by President Cleveland; died in New York City, August 9, 1897.

Robertson, Edward White, a Representative from Louisiana; born near Nashville, Davidson county, Tenn., June 13, 1823; moved in 1825 to Iberville parish, La.; attended the country schools and the preparatory department of Centenary college, Louisiana; entered Augusta college, Kentucky, in 1842; entered the Nashville university, Tennessee; commenced the study of law in 1845; served in the war with Mexico in 1846 as orderly sergeant of the second Louisiana volunteers, a six months' regiment; member of the state house of representatives 1847–1849; was graduated from the law department of the university of Louisiana in 1850; practiced in Iberville parish; again elected to the state house of representatives in 1853; state auditor of public accounts in 1857–1862; entered the Confederate service in March, 1862, as captain of a company which he had raised for the twenty-seventh Louisiana infantry; after the war resumed the practice of law in Baton Rouge; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1883); reelected to the Fiftieth Congress, and served from March 4, 1887, until his death, in Baton Rouge, La., August 2, 1887.

Robertson, George, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Mercer county, Ky., November 18, 1790; was graduated from Transylvania university; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and began practice in Lancaster, Ky.; held various local offices; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821); member of the state house of representatives, 1822–1827, serving four years as speaker; declined the appointments of governor of Arkansas territory tendered by President Monroe, the ministry to Colombia in 1824, and to Peru in 1828; elected state secretary of state in 1828; justice of the court of appeals of Kentucky in 1829; chief justice, 1829–1834; resumed the practice of law in Lexington, Ky.; professor of law in Transylvania university 1834–1857; member state legislature 1858, and 1851–1853; justice of the court of appeals for the second Kentucky district 1864–1871, and acting chief justice part of the time; died in Lexington, Ky., May 16, 1874.

Robertson, John, a Representative from Virginia; born at "Belfield," near Petersburg, Va., in 1787; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from William and Mary college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Richmond, Va.; attorney general of Virginia; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Andrew Stevenson; reelected to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses, and served from December 8, 1834, to March 3, 1839; judge of the circuit court of Virginia for several years; died at "Mount Athos," near Lynchburg, Va., July 5, 1873.

Robertson, Samuel Matthews, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Plaquemine, La., January 1, 1852; attended the Collegiate institute of Baton Rouge, and was graduated from the Louisiana state university in 1874; completed a course of law study and was admitted to practice in 1877; elected a member of the state legislature in 1879; member of the faculty of the Louisiana state university and Agricultural and Mechanical college in 1880; filled the chair of natural history in that institution and the position of commandant of cadets; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, Edward White Robertson, reelected to the Fifty-first, and to the eight succeeding Congresses, and served from December 5, 1887, to March 3, 1907; superintendent of the Louisiana school for the deaf since 1908.

Robertson, Thomas Austin, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Hodgenville, Larue county, Ky., September 9, 1848; was graduated from Cecilian college, and afterwards from the law university of Louisville; served one term in the Kentucky legislature; several times elected commonwealth attorney of the eighteenth judicial district; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); died in Elizabethtown, Ky., July 18, 1892.

Robertson, Thomas Bolling, a Representative from Louisiana; born at Belfield, near Petersburg, Va., in 1773; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1807; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Petersburg; moved to Orleans Territory in 1805; attorney general of the territory; secretary, by appointment of President Jefferson and by reappointment, 1807-1811; appointed United States district judge for Louisiana; moved to New Orleans; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1812, to April 20, 1818, when he resigned; governor of Louisiana 1820-1824; resigned in November, 1824; United States judge, district of Louisiana, 1824-1827; returned to Petersburg, Va.; died in White Sulphur Springs, Va., November 5, 1828.

Robertson, Thomas James, a Senator from South Carolina; born in Fairfield county, S. C., August 3, 1823; was graduated from South Carolina college in 1843; member of the state constitutional convention of 1865; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy in term beginning March 4, 1865; reelected and served from July 15, 1868, to March 3, 1877; died in Columbia, S. C., October 13, 1897.

Robertson, William Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Bedford, N. Y., October 10, 1823; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state assembly in 1849-1850; state senator 1854-1855; judge of Westchester county, N. Y., for twelve years; presidential elector in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); again a state senator; collector of the port of New York by appointment of President Garfield and on account of which, very largely, Senators Conkling and Platt resigned May 16, 1881; died in Katonah, N. Y., December 7, 1898.

Robeson, George Maxwell, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Oxford, N. J., in 1827; pursued an academic course and was graduated from Princeton college in 1847; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1850, and practiced in Newark, and afterwards in Camden; appointed prosecutor of the pleas for Camden county in 1858; attorney general of New Jersey in 1867, and served until he resigned, June 22, 1869, to accept the position of Secretary of the Navy, which he held from June 25, 1869, until March 12, 1877; resumed the practice of law in Camden, N. J.; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); died in Trenton, N. J., September 27, 1897.

Robie, Reuben, a Representative from New York; born in Corinth, Orange county, Vt., July 15, 1799; moved to Bath, Steuben county, N. Y.; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); died in Bath, N. Y., January 21, 1872.

Robinson, Christopher, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Providence, R. I., May 15, 1806; was graduated from Brown university in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; state attorney general in 1854; elected as an American Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); defeated for the Thirty-seventh Congress; minister to Peru 1861-1866; delegate from Rhode Island to the Loyalist convention held in Philadelphia in 1866; died in Woonsocket, R. I., October 3, 1889.

Robinson, Edward, a Representative from Maine; born in Cushing, Me., November 25, 1796; completed preparatory studies; merchant at Thomaston, Me.; served two years in the state senate; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Jonathan Cilley, and served from April 28, 1838, to March 3, 1839; presidential elector on the Harrison ticket in 1840; died in Thomaston, Me., February 20, 1857.

Robinson, George Dexter, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Lexington, Mass., January 20, 1834; attended Lexington academy and Hopkins classical school, Cambridge, Mass., and was graduated from Harvard college in 1856; principal teacher at the Chicopee high school 1856-1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Cambridge, Mass., in 1866, and commenced practice in Chicopee, Mass.; member of the general court of Massachusetts in 1874, and of the state senate in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1877, to January 7, 1884, when he resigned; governor of Massachusetts 1884-1887; resumed the practice of his profession in Springfield; died in Chicopee, Mass., February 22, 1896.

Robinson, James C., a Representative from Illinois; born in Edgar county, Ill., in 1822; studied law and was admitted to practice in 1834; served as a private in the Mexican war; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh, and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1865); reelected to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875).

Robinson, James McClellan, a Representative from Indiana; born in Allen county, near Fort Wayne, Ind., May 31, 1861; attended district and public schools; studied law and was admitted to practice in the state and United States courts in 1882; prosecuting attorney 1886-1890; defeated in 1892 for the congressional nomination; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1905); resumed the practice of law in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Robinson, James Sidney, a Representative from Ohio; born near Mansfield, Richland county, Ohio, October 14, 1827; attended the common schools; acquired the art of printing; moved to Kenton, Ohio, December 31, 1845; edited and published the Kenton Republican; chief clerk of the Ohio house of representatives in 1856; enlisted in company G, fourth Ohio volunteer infantry, April 17, 1861; first lieutenant April 18, 1861; captain May 4, 1861; appointed major of the eighty-second Ohio volunteer infantry December 31, 1861; lieutenant-colonel April 9, 1862; colonel August 29, 1862; brevetted a brigadier-general December 9, 1864; brigadier-general January 12, 1865; brevet major-general March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service during the war"; mustered out August 31, 1865; chairman of the Republican state executive committee of Ohio 1877-1879; appointed commissioner of railroads and telegraphs in Ohio in January 1880; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1881, to January 12, 1885, when he resigned; secretary of state of Ohio 1884-1888; died in Toledo, Ohio, January 14, 1892.

Robinson, James Wallace, a Representative from Ohio; born in Darby, Union county, Ohio, November 28, 1826; was graduated from Jefferson college in 1848 and the Cincinnati law school in 1851; practiced in Marysville, Ohio; served three terms in the Ohio state legislature; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); defeated for the Forty-fourth Congress; died in Marysville, Ohio, June 28, 1898.

Robinson, John Buchanan, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Allegheny City, Pa., May 23, 1846; was graduated from the United States naval academy in 1868; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Media, Pa.; elected to the state legislature in 1884; reelected in 1886; and to the state senate in 1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1897); in May, 1900, appointed United States marshal for the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

Robinson, John L., a Representative from Indiana; a native of Kentucky; completed preparatory studies; moved to Rushville, Ind.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1853); appointed United States marshal for the southern district of Indiana in 1853; held the position until his death, in Rushville, Ind., March 21, 1860.

Robinson, John McCracken, a Senator from Illinois; born in Scott county, Ky., April 10, 1794; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Carmi, Ill., in 1818; judge of the state supreme court; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of John McLean; reelected and served from December 11, 1830, to March 3, 1841; died in Ottawa, Ill., April 27, 1843; interment in Carmi, Ill.

Robinson, John Seaton, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Wheeling, W. Va., May 4, 1856; attended the public schools; studied law and was admitted to the bar by the supreme court of West Virginia in 1880; located in Madison, Nebr., in 1884; elected county attorney of Madison county in 1886, and reelected in 1890; elected judge of the ninth judicial district of Nebraska in 1893, and reelected in 1895; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1903); defeated for the Fifty-eighth Congress; died in Madison, Nebr., May 25, 1903.

Robinson, Jonathan, a Senator from Vermont; born in Hardwick, Mass., August 24, 1756; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1796, and began practice in Bennington, Vt.; town clerk 1795-1801; member of the state legislature 1789-1802; judge of the Vermont probate court 1795-1798, and 1815-1819; chief justice of Vermont 1801-1807; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Israel Smith, and served from October 10, 1807, to March 3, 1815; again a member of the state legislature in 1818; died in Bennington, Vt., November 3, 1819.

Robinson, Joseph Taylor, a Representative from Arkansas; born August 26, 1872; attended the common schools and the University of Arkansas; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Lonoke, Ark.; member of the general assembly of the state in 1895; presidential elector for the sixth Congressional district of Arkansas in 1900, and selected as electoral messenger; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Robinson, Milton Stapp, a Representative from Indiana; born in Versailles, Ind., April 20, 1832; received a limited schooling; studied law; was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Anderson, Ind., in 1851; presidential elector on the Republican ticket in 1856; appointed a director of the Michigan City prison in 1861, but resigned after a few months; entered the Union Army in September, 1861, as lieutenant-colonel of the forty-seventh Indiana volunteer infantry December 13, 1861; colonel of the seventy-fifth Indiana volunteer infantry October 29, 1862; brevet brigadier-general March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service during the war"; resigned March 29, 1864; state senator 1866-1870; delegate to the national Republican convention in Philadelphia in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); appointed to the state appellate bench in March, 1891; chief justice at the time of his death in Anderson, Ind., July 28, 1892.

Robinson, Moses, a Senator from Vermont; born in Hardwick, Mass., March 15, 1741; pursued classical studies in Dartmouth college; moved to Bennington, Vt., in 1761; studied law; was admitted to the bar; practiced; chief justice of Vermont in 1778; governor of Vermont 1789-1790; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from October 17, 1791, to October 15, 1796, when he resigned; died in Bennington, Vt., May 26, 1813.

Robinson, Orville, a Representative from New York; born in Richfield, Oswego county, N. Y., October 28, 1801; completed preparatory studies; state representative in 1834, 1836, and 1837; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); again elected a member of the state legislature in 1856; died in Oswego, N. Y., December 1, 1882.

Robinson, Jr., Thomas, a Representative from Delaware; born in Georgetown, Sussex county, Del., in 1800; attended common schools and was graduated from Princeton; studied law with his father, Peter Robinson, and was admitted to the bar in 1823; treasurer of Sussex county in 1825; law court commissioner 1831-1832; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); died in Georgetown, Del., October 28, 1843.

Robinson, William Erigena, a Representative from New York; born in Unagh, near Cookstown, in the county Tyrone, Ireland, May 6, 1814; attended the classical school in Cookstown, and Belfast college in 1834; came to New York City in November, 1836; was graduated from Yale college in 1841; connected for two years with the Yale law school; assistant editor of the New York Tribune in 1843 and its only Washington correspondent; also wrote Washington correspondence for the Richmond (Va.) Whig, the Boston Atlas, the Louisville Journal, and other papers; admitted to the New York bar in 1854; practiced law in New York City; appointed by President Lincoln assessor of internal revenue for the third district of New York in 1862; elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); reelected to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); died in Brooklyn, N. Y., January 23, 1892.

Robison, David F., a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of that state; received a limited schooling; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857).

Rochester, William Beatty, a Representative from New York; born in Hagerstown, Md., January 29, 1789; attended public schools, and was graduated from Charlotte Hall, St. Mary's county, Md.; was aide-de-camp to General McClure in the war of 1812; studied law and was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Bath, N. Y.; member of the state legislature in 1818; presidential elector in 1821; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); state circuit judge from April 21, 1823, until 1826, when he resigned; defeated as a candidate for governor; chargé d'affaires to the Federation of Central America in 1827; located in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1828, and was president of the branch bank of the United States; was drowned in the wreck of the steamer Pulaski, off the coast of North Carolina, June 15, 1838.

Rockhill, William, a Representative from Indiana; born in Burlington, N. J., February 10, 1793; received a limited schooling; moved to Fort Wayne, Ind.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); died in Fort Wayne, Ind., January 15, 1865.

Rockwell, Francis Williams, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Pittsfield, Mass., May 26, 1844; attended the public schools and Edwards' Place school, Stockbridge, Mass.; was graduated from Amherst college in 1868 and from the Harvard law school in 1871; practiced law in Pittsfield; appointed one of the special justices of the district court of central Berkshire in 1873, resigning in 1875; elected to the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1879, and to the senate in 1881 and 1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of George D. Robinson; reelected to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses, and served from January 26, 1884, to March 3, 1891; resumed the practice of law in Pittsfield, Mass.; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1900.

Rockwell, Hosea Hunt, a Representative from New York; born in Laurenceville, Tioga county, Pa., May 31, 1840; attended the common schools; served as private in the Twenty-third New York volunteers; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Elmira in 1869; member of assembly in 1877; city attorney of Elmira; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); resumed the practice of law in Elmira, N. Y.

Rockwell, John Arnold, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Norwich, Conn., August 27, 1803; was graduated from Yale college in 1822; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Norwich; twice elected to the state senate; judge of the county court; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); defeated for reelection; died in Washington, D. C., February 10, 1861.

Rockwell, Julius, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Colebrook, Conn., April 26, 1805; was graduated from Yale college in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Pittsfield, Mass., in 1830; member of the general court of Massachusetts 1834-1838, and served three years as speaker; state bank commissioner 1838-1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1851); delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1853; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward Everett, and served from June 3, 1854, to January 31, 1855; presidential elector on the Fremont ticket in 1856; again a member of the general court in 1858 and served as speaker; appointed a judge of the superior court of Massachusetts in 1859, resigned in 1886; died in Lenox, Mass., May 19, 1888.

Roddenbery, Seaborn Anderson, a Representative from Georgia; born in Decatur county, Ga., January 12, 1870; moved to Thomas county in early childhood; attended common schools and Mercer University, Macon, Ga., for three years; occupied the chair of language and mathematics in South Georgia college one year; member of the Georgia legislature 1892-1893, and declined reelection; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in October, 1894; appointed judge of county court, Thomas county, in 1897 for four years, declined reappointment; mayor of Thomasville, and reelected without opposition in 1905; president of the board of education of Thomas county for four years, and member of board of trustees of Young's Female college and of the Norman institute; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of James M. Griggs, and served from February 28, 1910, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Rodenberg, William A., a Representative from Illinois; born near Chester, Randolph county, Ill., October 30, 1865; attended the public schools and was graduated from Central Wesleyan college, Warrenton, Mo., in 1884; engaged in teaching for seven years; attended the St. Louis law school, and was admitted to the bar; a delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1896 and 1908; elected to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); appointed a member of the United States civil service commission by President McKinley, March 25, 1901; resigned April 1, 1902, in order to again make the race for Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Rodey, Bernard Shandon, a Delegate from New Mexico; born in County Mayo, Ireland, March 1, 1856; emigrated with parents to Canada in 1862; read law in Boston, Mass.; moved to New Mexico in the spring of 1881; court stenographer of second district of New Mexico in 1882; admitted to the bar in 1883, and practiced in Albuquerque; city attorney 1888-1889; member of the territorial legislative council (senate) in 1889; member of the constitutional convention of New Mexico in 1890; elected as a Republican Delegate to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1905); sole judge of the Federal court of Porto Rico 1906-1910; appointed United States attorney for the second division of Alaska in July, 1910.

Rodman, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Bensalem, Pa., October 7, 1757; completed preparatory studies; served in the Revolutionary war and commanded a company during the whisky insurrection; several years a member of the state legislature; elected to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); died in Bensalem, Pa., July 27, 1824.

Rodney, Cæsar, a Delegate from Delaware; born in Dover, Del., October 7, 1728; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; high sheriff of Kent county, 1755-1758; justice of the peace and judge of all lower courts; captain in Kent county militia in 1756; superintendent of the printing of Delaware currency in 1759; member of the state assembly for several years; superintendent of the loan office in 1769; an associate justice 1769-1773; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1774-1776; served in the Revolutionary army; again elected as a Delegate to the Continental Congress, 1777-1778; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; re-elected, but before taking his seat elected president of Delaware, 1778-1782; declined a reelection; died in Dover, Del., June 29, 1784.

Rodney, Cæsar Augustus, a Representative from Delaware; born in Dover, Del., January 4, 1772; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from the university of Pennsylvania in 1789; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Wilmington, Del., in 1793; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805); one of the managers to conduct the impeachment trial of Judge Samuel Chase; appointed Attorney-General of the United States by President Jefferson and continued by President Madison; served from January 20, 1807, to December 5, 1811, when he resigned; served in the war of 1812; member of Delaware committee of safety in 1813; state senator in 1815; sent to South America by President Monroe as one of the commissioners to investigate and report on the propriety of recognizing the independence of the Spanish-American Republics; elected to the Seventeenth Congress and served from March 4, 1821, to January 24, 1822, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate, and served from January 24, 1822, to January 29, 1823, when he resigned; appointed minister plenipotentiary to Buenos Aires; died in Buenos Aires, S. A., June 10, 1824.

Rodney, Daniel, a Representative and a Senator from Delaware; born in Lewes, Sussex county, Del., September 10, 1764; received a limited schooling; presidential elector in 1809; governor of Delaware 1814-1817; elected to the Seventeenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Cæsar A. Rodney, and served from December 2, 1822, to March 3, 1823; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Nicholas Van Dyke, and served from November 8, 1826, to January 12, 1827; died in Lewes, Del., September 2, 1846.

Rodney, George B., a Representative from Delaware; born in New Castle, Del., in 1803; was graduated from Princeton college in 1820; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1845); delegate to the peace congress in Washington in 1861; died in New Castle, Del., June 18, 1883.

Rodney, Thomas, a Delegate from Delaware; born in Sussex county, Del., June 4, 1744; justice of the peace 1770 and 1784; member of the assembly to elect delegates in 1774; member of the council of safety in 1775; colonel of Delaware militia during the Revolutionary war; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1781–1783 and 1785–1787; speaker of state assembly in 1787; superintendent of Kent county almshouse in 1802; appointed United States judge for Mississippi Territory in 1803; died in Rodney, Miss., January 2, 1811.

Rogers, Andrew J., a Representative from New Jersey; born in Hamburg, N. J., July 1, 1828; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1852 began practice; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1867).

Rogers, Anthony A. C., a Representative from Arkansas; born in Sumner county, Tenn., February 14, 1821; received a limited schooling; moved to Arkansas in 1854; candidate of the Union men for delegate to the state convention in 1861; earnestly opposed secession; arrested for his loyalty, imprisoned, and forced to give bonds to answer the charge of "treason against the Confederate government;" elected to the Thirty-eighth Congress, but was not allowed to take his seat, his State not having been loyally reconstructed; elected as a people's candidate to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); defeated as a Democratic candidate for reelection.

Rogers, Charles, a Representative from New York; born in Northumberland, Saratoga county, N. Y., April 30, 1800; completed preparatory studies at Sandy Hill; served in the state house of representatives in 1833–1837; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); died in Sandy Hill, Washington county, N. Y., January 13, 1874.

Rogers, Edward, a Representative from New York; born in Connecticut in 1787; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Williams College in 1809; studied law and was admitted to the bar and began practice in Madison, N. Y.; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841); died in Galway, N. Y., May 23, 1857.

Rogers, James, a Representative from South Carolina; native of South Carolina; was graduated from South Carolina college in 1813; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Yorkville; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835–March 3, 1837); defeated for reelection; elected to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843).

Rogers, John, a Delegate from Maryland; native of Maryland; received a liberal schooling; was a member of the committee of safety, 1774–1775; trustee of the Lower Marlborough academy in 1775; delegate in the Continental Congress, 1775–1776; one of the executive council on the organization of the state government in February, 1777; chancellor of Maryland from March 10, 1778, until his death in Annapolis, Md., September 23, 1789.

Rogers, John, a Representative from New York; born in Caldwell, N. Y., May 9, 1813; completed preparatory studies; located in Black Brook, Clinton county, and was for many years a manufacturer of iron; was supervisor of the town of Black Brook for ten years, and held other local offices; was elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); died in Fort Edward, N. Y., May 11, 1879.

Rogers, John Henry, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Bertie county, N. C., October 9, 1845; moved to Mississippi in 1852; joined the ninth Mississippi regiment volunteers, Confederate service, as a private, in March, 1862; promoted to first lieutenant in same regiment, and served through the war; attended Center college, Danville, Ky., and was graduated from the University of Mississippi, at Oxford, in 1868; admitted to practice law in Canton, Miss., in 1868; moved to Fort Smith, Ark., in 1869; elected circuit judge in 1877; reelected in 1878, and resigned in May, 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1891); declined a reelection and returned to the practice of law in Fort Smith, Ark.; member of the Democratic state convention in 1892; delegate in the national Democratic convention of 1892; appointed United States district judge for the western district of Arkansas by President Cleveland in November, 1896; died in Little Rock, Ark., April 17, 1911.

Rogers, Sion Hart, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Wake county, N. C., September 30, 1825; was graduated from North Carolina university in 1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Raleigh; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); served in the Confederate army as a lieutenant in the forty-seventh North Carolina regiment; was attorney general of the state in 1862 and 1865–1866; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); defeated for reelection; died in Raleigh, N. C., August 14, 1874.

Rogers, Thomas J., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Waterford, Ireland, in 1781; emigrated to the United States in 1784 and located first with parents in Easton, Pa., and acquired the art of printing; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Ross; reelected to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses and served from March 24, 1818, to April 20, 1824, when he resigned; appointed register and recorder of deeds for Northampton county, Pa.; trustee of Lafayette college, 1826–1832; brigadier general in the state militia; United States naval officer, port of Philadelphia; died in New York City, December 7, 1832.

Rogers, William Findlay, a Representative from New York; born in Forks township, near the borough of Easton, Pa., March 1, 1820; attended common schools; entered a printing office in Easton, Pa.; foreman in the office of the Buffalo Daily Courier; served in the Civil war as colonel of the twenty-first regiment, New York volunteers; mustered out in 1863; appointed commissioner of enrollment, and afterwards provost-marshal of the thirty-second district of New York; comptroller of the city of Buffalo in 1867, and mayor in 1869; secretary and treasurer of the park commissioners in 1871; nominated for the state senate in 1878, but declined; brevetted brigadier-general United States volunteers in 1865 for "faithful and meritorious services;" elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); superintendent of the soldiers and sailors' home at Bath, N. Y., 1887-1897; died in Buffalo, N. Y., December 16, 1899.

Rollins, Edward Henry, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Somersworth (Rollinsford), N. H., October 3, 1824; attended academies in Dover, N. H., and South Berwick, Me.; engaged in mercantile pursuits; chairman of the Republican state committee of New Hampshire at its organization, and for many succeeding years; member of the state legislature 1855-1857, and served the last two years as speaker of the house; chairman of the New Hampshire delegation in the National Republican convention in Chicago in 1860, which nominated Lincoln and Hamlin; elected to the Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1867); secretary of the Union Pacific railroad company in May, 1869, and treasurer in April, 1871, resigning those positions before taking his seat in the Senate; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1877, to March 3, 1883; died in Isle of Shoals, New Hampshire, July 31, 1889.

Rollins, James Sidney, a Representative from Missouri; born in Richmond, Madison county, Ky., April 19, 1812; was graduated from the University of Indiana in 1830; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Boone County, Mo.; served several years in both branches of the state legislature; defeated as the Whig candidate for governor in 1848 and 1857; elected as a Conservative to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865); as a Whig delegate in the Philadelphia Union convention of 1866; was styled "the father of the University of Missouri," and was for twenty-five years one of its board of curators and for sixteen years president of the board; died in Columbia, Mo., January 9, 1888.

Roman, J. Dixon, a Representative from Maryland; native of Maryland; received a thorough English training; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Hagerstown; president of the Hagerstown bank; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); presidential elector on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket in 1849 and on the Buchanan and Breckinridge ticket in 1857; died near Hagerstown, Md., January 19, 1867.

Romeis, Jacob, a Representative from Ohio; born in Weisenbach, Kingdom of Bavaria, in Germany, December 1, 1835; attended the village schools until April, 1847, when he came with his parents to America; attended the public and select schools of Buffalo, N. Y.; engaged in shipping business and railroading; located in Toledo, Ohio; elected to the board of aldermen of the city of Toledo in 1874, reelected in 1876, and president of the board in 1877; elected mayor in 1879, 1881, and 1883; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889).

Romero, Trinidad, a Delegate from the Territory of New Mexico; born in Santa Fe, N. Mex., June 15, 1835; attended the common schools; merchant; member of the territorial house of representatives in 1863; probate judge of San Miguel county, N. Mex.; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879).

Roosevelt, James John, a Representative from New York; born in New York City December 14, 1795; was graduated from Columbia college in 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1818, and began practice in New York City; councilman; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives in 1835 and 1840; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); declined a reelection; engaged in the cultivation of a farm; elected a justice of the supreme court for the New York district in 1851 and served one term as ex-officio judge of the state court of appeals until 1859; United States attorney for the district of New York; died in New York City April 5, 1875.

Roosevelt, Robert Barnwell, a Representative from New York; born in New York City, August 7, 1829; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New York City; fish commissioner of the state of New York; edited for several years the New York Citizen; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); was minister to the Hague by appointment of President Cleveland; died in Saville, N. Y., June 14, 1906.

Root, Elihu, a Senator from New York; born in Clinton, Oneida county, N. Y., February 15, 1845; attended common schools and was graduated from Hamilton college in 1864; taught in the Rome academy in 1865; was graduated from the law school of the University of the City of New York in 1867, when he was admitted to the bar; engaged in practice in the city of New York; appointed by President Arthur in March, 1883, United States attorney for the southern district of New York, and served until July, 1885; was delegate at large in the state constitutional convention in 1894, and chairman of the judiciary committee; member of the commission on Alaskan boundary, appointed by President Roosevelt; appointed Secretary of War August 1, 1899, and retired January 31, 1904; appointed Secretary of State July 7, 1905, and resigned January 22, 1909; elected to the United States Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1909; counsel for the United States in the North Atlantic fisheries arbitration at The Hague in 1910; chairman of the Republican National convention in Chicago in 1912.

Root, Erastus, a Representative from New York; born in Hebron, Conn., March 16, 1773; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1793; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1796, and began practice in Delhi, N. Y.; member of the state assembly 1798-1802; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805); reelected to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); state senator 1812-1815; elected to the Fourteenth Congress and was seated after a contest of the election of John Adams December 13, 1815; served to March 3, 1817; again a member of the state assembly 1818-1822; elected lieutenant-governor in 1822 and defeated for reelection in 1823; again a member of the state assembly in 1830; elected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); defeated as the Whig candidate to the Twenty-sixth Congress; major-general of militia; again state senator 1840-1844; died in New York City December 24, 1846.

Root, Jesse, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Coventry, Conn., December 28, 1736; was graduated from Princeton in 1756; studied theology in Andover and preached for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1763 began practice in Hartford, Conn.; captain, lieutenant-colonel, and adjutant-general in the Revolutionary army; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1778-1783; state attorney 1785-1789; appointed a judge of the superior court in 1789 and its chief justice in 1796-1807, when he resigned; member of the state house of representatives; died in Coventry, Conn., March 29, 1822.

Root, Joseph Mosley, a Representative from Ohio; born in Brutus, N. Y., October 7, 1817; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1829 began practice in Norwalk, Ohio; held various local offices; member of the state senate in 1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1851); died in Sandusky, Ohio, April 7, 1879.

Roots, Logan Holt, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Perry county, Ill., March 26, 1841; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from the Illinois state normal university in 1862; assisted in recruiting the eighty-first Illinois volunteers; served in various responsible positions in the army until the close of the war; settled in Arkansas and engaged in planting and trading; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); defeated for reelection; died in Little Rock, Ark., May 30, 1893.

Rose, Robert L., a Representative from New York; born in Geneva, N. Y., October 12, 1804; received a limited schooling, and engaged in farming; held several local offices; elected as a Clay Democrat to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851).

Rose, Robert Selden, a Representative from New York; born in Henrico county, Va., in 1772; attended the common schools; removed to Geneva, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives in 1811, 1820, and 1821; elected to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1827); reelected to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); died in Waterloo, N. Y., November 24, 1835.

Rosecrans, William Starke, a Representative from California; born in Kingston, Ohio, September 6, 1819; attended the United States military academy at West Point and was graduated July 1, 1842; brevet second lieutenant United States corps of engineers July 1, 1842; second lieutenant April 3, 1843; first lieutenant March 3, 1853; volunteer aide de camp and colonel engineers of Ohio volunteers from April 23 to June 12, 1861; colonel of the twenty-third Ohio infantry June 12 to June 17, 1861; brigadier-general May 16, 1861; major-general March 21, 1862; by resolution of March 3, 1863, received the thanks of Congress "for distinguished gallantry and good conduct at the battle of Murfreesboro, Tenn."; brevet major-general March 13, 1865, "for gallant and distinguished service at the battle of Stone River, Tenn."; resigned March 28, 1867; brigadier-general February 27, 1889, and retired March 1, 1889 (act of February 27, 1889); located in California; declined the offer of the directorship of the branch mint in 1867; United States minister to Mexico 1868-1869; and the Democratic nominee for governor of California; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); Register of the Treasury 1885-1893; died near Redondo, Los Angeles county, Cal., March 11, 1898.

Ross, David, a Delegate from Maryland; born in Maryland about 1750; sat in the Continental Congress 1786-1787.

Ross, Edmund Gibson, a Senator from Kansas; born in Ashland, Ohio, December 7, 1826; received a limited schooling; apprenticed to a printer; moved to Milwaukee, Wis., and was employed in the office of the Milwaukee Sentinel four years; moved to Kansas in 1856 and became editor of the Kansas Tribune; member of the state constitutional convention in 1859; entered the Union Army as a private and attained the rank of major; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of James H. Lane; was subsequently elected, and served from July 19, 1866, to March 3, 1871; defeated as the Democratic candidate for governor in 1880; removed to New Mexico in 1882; appointed governor of the territory by President Cleveland in May, 1885; died in Albuquerque, N. Mex., May 8, 1907.

Ross, George, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in New Castle, Del., in 1730; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1751, and began practice in Lancaster, Pa.; member of the colonial assembly 1768-1776; elected a Delegate to the Continental Congress 1774-1777; signer of the Declaration of Independence; member of the convention of Pennsylvania; appointed in April, 1779, judge of the court of admiralty for Pennsylvania; died in Lancaster, Pa., July 16, 1779.

Ross, Henry Howard, a Representative from New York; born in Essex, Essex county, N. Y., May 9, 1790; was graduated from Columbia college, New York, in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Essex, N. Y.; adjutant on the staff of Gen. John E. Wool at the battle of Plattsburg, September 11, 1814; elected as a Whig to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1827); county judge of Essex county in 1847–1848; presidential elector on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket in 1848; died in Essex, N. Y., September 14, 1862.

Ross, James, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in York county, Pa., July 12, 1762; completed preparatory studies and taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1784, and began practice in Washington, Pa.; removed to Pittsburgh in 1795; delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1789–1790; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate, to fill the vacancy caused by the Senate declaring the election of Albert Gallatin void; reelected, and served from April 24, 1794, to March 3, 1803; was defeated for governor in 1799, 1801, and in 1808; died near Pittsburgh, Pa., November 27, 1847.

Ross, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Solebury, Bucks county, Pa., February 24, 1770; studied law in West Chester, Pa., was admitted to the bar in 1792, and engaged in practice in Easton, Pa.; member of the state legislature in 1800; elected to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1811); reelected to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1815, to February 24, 1818, when he resigned to become president-judge of the seventh judicial district; transferred to the state supreme court bench in 1830, and served until his death, in Easton, Pa., January 31, 1834.

Ross, Jonathan, a Senator from Vermont; born in Waterford, Vt., April 30, 1826; attended the public schools, St. Johnsbury academy, and was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1851; was principal of the Chelsea and Craftsbury academies 1851–1856; read law, and was admitted to the bar in January, 1856; returned to St. Johnsbury and practiced until 1870; state attorney for Caledonia county 1862–1863; represented St. Johnsbury in the lower house of the legislature 1865, 1866, and 1867, and in 1870 elected to the senate; judge of the supreme court of Vermont 1870–1890; chief justice 1890–1899; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Justin S. Morrill, and served from January 11, 1889, to October 18, 1900; chairman board of state railroad commissioners 1900–1902; died in St. Johnsbury, Vt., February 23, 1905.

Ross, Lewis Winans, a Representative from Illinois; born in Seneca county, N. Y., December 8, 1812; moved to Illinois; completed preparatory studies, and attended Illinois college in 1837; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Lewistown, Ill.; member of the state legislature in 1840, 1841, 1844, and 1845; presidential elector in 1848; member of the state constitutional conventions of 1861 and 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1869); died in Lewistown, Ill., October 29, 1895.

Ross, Miles, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Raritan township, Middlesex county, N. J., April 30, 1827; received a practical English training; engaged in the vessel business; filled many local offices; for two years a member of the state assembly; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1883); died in New Brunswick, N. J., February 22, 1903.

Ross, Sobieski, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Condersport, Pa., May 16, 1828; completed preparatory studies; civil engineer, and engaged also in farming; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1877); died in Condersport, Pa., October 25, 1877.

Ross, Thomas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Pennsylvania; was graduated from Princeton college in 1823; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1853).

Ross, Thomas Randolph, a Representative from Ohio; born in New Garden township, Chester county, Pa., October 26, 1788; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Lebanon, Ohio, in 1810; elected to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1825); lost his eyesight in 1866; died on his farm near Lebanon, Ohio, June 28, 1869.

Rothermel, John H., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Richmond township, Berks county, Pa., March 7, 1856; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar August 20, 1881, and engaged in practice in Reading, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Rothwell, Gideon F., a Representative from Missouri; born in Callaway county, Mo., in 1836; was graduated from the University of the State of Missouri; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Moberly, Mo.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); resumed the practice of law in Moberly, Mo.; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1884; appointed in 1889 member of the board of curators of the University of Missouri, of which board he was president 1890–1894; died in Moberly, Mo., January 18, 1894.

Rousseau, Lovell Hillary, a Representative from Kentucky; born near Stanford, Ky., August 4, 1818; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1841 began practice in Bloomfield, Ind.; member of the state house of representatives 1844–1845; captain in the Mexican war; served in the Indiana state senate; returned to Kentucky and resumed law practice in Louisville; member of the Kentucky state senate; served in the Union army; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1865, to July 21, 1866, when he resigned, after having made an assault upon Representative Grinnell, of Iowa, in the capitol; subsequently reelected, and took his seat December 3, 1866, and served until March 3, 1867; appointed brigadier general in the Regular Army and assigned to duty in Alaska; while visiting friends in New Orleans, before starting, his conduct led General Sheridan, who was in command then, to make complaint against him; returned from Alaska to testify in the impeachment trial, and was himself assigned to the command from which Sheridan was removed; died in New Orleans, La., January 7, 1869.

Rowan, John, a Representative and a Senator from Kentucky; born in York county, Pa., July 12, 1773; moved to Louisville, Ky.; received a thorough classical training; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Louisville; secretary of the state of Kentucky in 1804; elected to the Tenth Congress, and served from January 9, 1809, to March 3, 1809; judge of the court of appeals in 1819; elected to the United States Senate, and served from November 10, 1825, to March 3, 1831; died in Louisville, Ky., July 13, 1843.

Rowe, Peter, a Representative from New York; born in Crescent, N. Y., March 10, 1807; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); died in Schenectady, N. Y., April 17, 1876.

Rowell, Jonathan Harvey, a Representative from Illinois; born in Haverhill, N. H., February 10, 1833; was graduated from Eureka college, Illinois, and the law department of the University of Chicago; was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Bloomington, Ill.; state attorney of the eighth judicial circuit of Illinois 1868–1872; presidential elector on the Garfield and Arthur ticket in 1880; served three years as a company officer in the seventeenth Illinois infantry; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1891); resumed the practice of law; died in Bloomington, Ill., May 15, 1908.

Rowland, Alfred, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Lumberton, Robeson county, N. C., February 9, 1844; attended the common schools; entered the Confederate army in May, 1861, and served as a lieutenant in company D, eighteenth regiment of North Carolina state troops until May 12, 1864; captured in battle of Spotsylvania Court-House and imprisoned at Fort Delaware until June, 1865; studied law and was admitted to the bar in January, 1867; register of deeds for Robeson county in 1867; member of the general assembly of North Carolina 1876–1877 and 1880–1881; Cleveland and Hendricks elector in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891); died in Lumberton, Robeson county, N. C., August 2, 1898.

Royce, Homer Elihu, a Representative from Vermont; born in East Berkshire, Vt., June 14, 1820; attended the academies of St. Albans and Enosburg, Vt.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1842 began practice in Berkshire, Vt.; member of the state house of representatives 1846–1847; state prosecuting attorney in 1848; state senator 1849–1851, 1861, and 1868; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857– March 3, 1861); elected associate justice of the supreme court of Vermont in 1870; appointed chief justice in 1882; resigned in 1890; died in St. Albans, Vt., April 24, 1891.

Royse, Lemuel W., a Representative from Indiana; born in Kosciusco county, Ind., January 19, 1848; attended common schools; read law and was admitted to the bar in 1874 and engaged in practice in Warsaw, Ind.; elected prosecuting attorney for the thirty-third judicial circuit of Indiana in 1876; mayor of the city of Warsaw 1885–1891; Republican elector in 1884; member of the Republican state central committee 1886–1890; delegate to the Minneapolis convention which nominated Harrison for his second term in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1899); resumed the practice of law in Warsaw, Ind.

Rucker, Atterson Walden, a Representative from Colorado; born in Harrodsburg, Mercer county, Ky., April 3, 1847; attended the common schools of Kentucky and Missouri; served four years in the Confederate army; was admitted to the bar in Lexington, Mo., and practiced law in the courts of Missouri and Kansas before moving to Colorado in 1879; served upon the bench (court of record) in Lake county, Colo.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911). Re-elected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Rucker, William Waller, a Representative from Missouri; born near Covington, Va., February 1, 1855; moved with parents to western Virginia in 1861; attended the common schools; moved to Chariton county, Mo., in 1873; engaged in teaching district schools; continued the study of law and was admitted to the bar in 1876; prosecuting attorney of Chariton county 1886–1892; judge of the twelfth circuit 1892–1899; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1911). Re-elected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Ruffin, Thomas, a Representative from North Carolina; native of Edgecombe county, N. C.; was graduated from Chapel Hill university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Goldsboro; circuit attorney 1844–1848; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1861); retired from the House on the secession of North Carolina; delegate to the Confederate provisional congress in Richmond in July, 1861; served in the Confederate army as colonel of the first North Carolina cavalry; died while a prisoner of war in Alexandria, Va., October 17, 1863.

Ruggles, Benjamin, a Senator from Ohio; born in Wyndham county, Conn., in 1783; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Marietta, Ohio; moved to St. Clairsville, Ohio; president judge of the court of common pleas for the third judicial circuit, 1810–1815; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and twice reelected; served from March 4, 1815, to March 3, 1833; presidential elector on the Harrison ticket in 1836; died in St. Clairsville, Ohio, September 2, 1857.

Ruggles, Charles Herman, a Representative from New York; born in New Milford, Conn., February 10, 1789; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Kingston, N. Y.; member of the state assembly in 1820; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823); circuit judge and vice chancellor of the second judicial district of New York, 1833–1846; moved to Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; member state constitutional convention of 1846; judge of the Dutchess county court; again elected a member of the state assembly; judge of the court of appeals, 1847–1855; died in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 16, 1865.

Ruggles, John, a Senator from Maine; born in Westboro, Mass., October 8, 1789; was graduated from Brown university in 1813; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Skowhegan, Me., 1815–1817; moved to Thomaston in 1818; member of the state house of representatives, 1823–1831, and its speaker 1825–1829 and 1831; judge of the court of common pleas, 1831–1834; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Peleg Sprague, and served from January 20, 1835, to March 3, 1841; died in Thomaston, Me., June 20, 1874.

Ruggles, Nathaniel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Roxbury, Mass., November 11, 1761; was graduated from Harvard college in 1781; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Roxbury, Mass., appointed judge of the general sessions in 1807; chief justice in 1808; was elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1819; died in Roxbury, Mass., December 19, 1819.

Rumple, John Nicholas William, a Representative from Iowa; born near Fostoria, Ohio, March 4, 1841; attended public schools, afterwards Western college, Iowa, and the Iowa state university; enlisted in company H, second Iowa cavalry, August, 1861, and remained in the army until October, 1865; mustered out as captain; studied law, was admitted to the bar in February, 1867, and entered practice in Marengo, Iowa; member of the state senate and of the board of regents of the state university for six years, also curator of the state historical society; member of city council, mayor, solicitor, member of school board; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress and served from March 4, 1901, until his death in Chicago, Ill., January 31, 1903.

Rumsey, Benjamin, a Delegate from Maryland; born in Bohemia Manor, Cecil county, Md., in 1730; member of the Maryland convention of December 29, 1775; member of the Council of Safety of 1776; a Delegate in the Continental Congress, 1776–1778.

Rumsey, David, a Representative from New York; born in Salem, Washington county, N. Y., December 25, 1810; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and practiced for several years in Bath, N. Y.; surrogate of Steuben county 1840–1844; held many local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1851); delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1867; member of the commission to propose amendments to the state constitution in 1872; appointed justice of the state supreme court, to fill a vacancy, in 1873; elected to the office in the fall of the same year; died in Bath, N. Y., March 12, 1883.

Rumsey, Edward, a Representative from Kentucky; native of that state; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839).

Runk, John, a Representative from New Jersey; native of that state; completed preparatory studies; presidential elector on the Harrison and Tyler ticket in 1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847).

Ruppert, Jacob, jr., a Representative from New York; born in the city of New York, August 5, 1867; attended the Columbia grammar school; engaged in the brewing business; member of the seventh regiment, National guard of New York, before his appointment as aid-de-camp, with the rank of colonel, on the staff of Governor Hill, and subsequently as senior aid on the staff of Governor Flower; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1907).

Rush, Benjamin, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born near Philadelphia, Pa., December 24, 1745; was graduated from Princeton college in 1760; studied medicine in Philadelphia, Edinburgh, London, and Paris; began practice in Philadelphia in August, 1769; held several professorships in the Philadelphia medical college; sat in the Continental Congress 1776–1777; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; entered the Revolutionary army as surgeon-general of the middle department in April, 1777; made physician-general in July, 1777; resigned in February, 1778; delegate to the state constitutional convention which adopted the Federal Constitution; planned the Philadelphia dispensary in 1785; treasurer of the United States mint at Philadelphia from 1799 until his death, in that city, April 19, 1813.

Rusk, Harry Welles, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., October 17, 1852; attended the private schools, and was graduated from the Baltimore City college in 1866, and from the Maryland university law school in 1882; admitted to the bar and practiced in Baltimore; six years a member of the Maryland house of delegates, and four years a member of the Maryland senate; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William H. Cole; reelected to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses, and served from December 6, 1886, to March 3, 1897; resumed the practice of law in Baltimore, Md.

Rusk, Jeremiah McLain, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Morgan county, Ohio, June 17, 1830; received a limited schooling; moved to Vernon county, Wis., in 1853; held various local offices; member of the Wisconsin state legislature in 1862; served in the civil war; major of the twenty-fifth Wisconsin volunteers August 14, 1862; lieutenant-colonel September 16, 1863; brevet colonel and brigadier-general of volunteers March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service during the war;" mustered out June 7, 1865; bank comptroller of Wisconsin 1866-1867, and again elected for 1868-1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1877); declined ministry to Uruguay and Paraguay tendered by President Garfield; governor of Wisconsin 1882-1889; Secretary of Agriculture March 5, 1889, to March 5, 1893; died in Viroqua, Wis., November 21, 1893.

Rusk, Thomas Jefferson, a Senator from Texas; born in Camden, S. C., August 8, 1802; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Georgia; moved to Nacogdoches, Tex., in 1835; delegate to the convention which declared for the independence of Texas, March 2, 1836; first secretary of war of the new republic; at the battle of San Jacinto took command of the forces after General Houston was wounded, and retained it until October, 1836, when he resumed his duties as secretary of war; chief justice of the supreme court of Texas 1838-1842; president of the convention that confirmed the annexation of Texas to the United States in 1845; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected and served from February 21, 1846, until his death; was elected president pro tempore of the Senate March 14, 1857, in the special session of the Senate; died in Nacogdoches, Tex., July 29, 1857.

Russ, John, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Ipswich, Mass., October 29, 1767; completed preparatory studies; moved to Hartford, Conn.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1823); judge of the Hartford probate court 1824-1830; died in Hartford, Conn., June 22, 1832.

Russell, Benjamin Edward, a Representative from Georgia; born in Monticello, Fla., October 5, 1845; moved to Decatur county, Ga., in 1854; attended the common schools; entered the Confederate army as a drummer boy in the first Georgia regiment; upon the disbanding of this regiment, immediately enlisted in the eighth Florida regiment, and continued with it the last three years of the war with the rank of first lieutenant; captured at the battle of Sailors Creek, Virginia, April 6, 1865, and imprisoned at Johnsons Island, Ohio, until all of the Confederate armies had surrendered; entered the printing business; editor of the Bainbridge, Ga., Democrat; delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1877; delegate to the national Democratic convention of 1880; mayor of Bainbridge in 1881-1882; representative in the legislature 1882-1883; postmaster of Bainbridge 1885-1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1897); resumed the publication of the Bainbridge Democrat; died in Bainbridge, Ga., December 4, 1909.

Russell, Charles Addison, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Worcester, Mass., March 2, 1852; received a public school and collegiate education, and was graduated from Yale college in 1873; city editor of the Worcester Press 1873-1879, and associate editor of the Worcester Spy 1879-1880; engaged in the manufacture of wool; member of the house of the general assembly of Connecticut in 1883; secretary of state of Connecticut 1885-1886; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth, and to the seven succeeding Congresses and served from March 4, 1889, until his death; nominated for the Fifty-eighth Congress, but died before the election, in Killingly, Conn., October 23, 1902.

Russell, Daniel Lindsay, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Belville, Brunswick county, N. C., August 7, 1845; attended the Bingham school in Orange county, N. C., and the university at Chapel Hill; studied law and was licensed to practice in June, 1866; elected to the state legislature in August, 1864, and reelected in October, 1865; elected judge of the superior courts for the fourth judicial circuit in April, 1868, and served six years; elected in 1871 to the constitutional convention from the county of Brunswick; again elected to the legislature in November, 1876; delegate to the Republican convention in Cincinnati in 1876; Hayes elector for the state at large in 1876; elected as a Nationalist to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); elected governor of North Carolina in 1896; died in Belville, N. C., May 14, 1908; interment in Maysville, Jones county, N. C.

Russell, David, a Representative from New York; born in Petersburg, N. Y., in 1780; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Salem, N. Y.; served as a member of the state assembly 1826 and 1830; district attorney for the northern judicial district of New York; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1841); died in Salem, N. Y., November 24, 1861.

Russell, Gordon, a Representative from Texas; born in Huntsville, Ala.; attended the Sam Bailey institute, Griffin, Ga., and Crawford high school, Dalton, Ga., and after a two years' course at the University of Georgia received from that institution the degree of A. B.; taught school in Dalton, Ga.; read law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Texas in 1879 and located in Van Zandt county; moved to Tyler, Smith county, in 1895; elected county judge of Van Zandt county in 1884, and at the end of one term relinquished the office to resume the practice of law; elected district attorney of the seventh judicial district in 1892; reelected in 1894; elected district judge of the seventh judicial district in 1896, and reelected in 1900; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Reese C. De Graffenreid; was reelected to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses, and served from December 2, 1902, to June 15, 1910, when he resigned to become United States district judge, eastern district of Texas.

Russell, James M., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in York, Pa., November 10, 1786; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Bedford, Pa.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Joseph Lawrence and served from January 3, 1842, to March 3, 1843; died in Bedford, Pa. December 20, 1870.

Russell, Jeremiah, a Representative from New York; born in Saugerties, N. Y., January 26, 1786; received a limited schooling; held several local offices; presidential elector on the Van Buren ticket in 1836; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); defeated for reelection to the Twenty-ninth Congress; died in Saugerties, N. Y., September 30, 1867.

Russell, John, a Representative from New York; native of that state; elected to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1809).

Russell, John Edwards, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Greenfield, Mass., January 20, 1834; was instructed by private tutors; traveled extensively in South and Central America; returned to Massachusetts and became interested in mail transportation west of the Mississippi and in steamship lines upon the Pacific coast; engaged in farming; elected secretary of the Massachusetts state board of agriculture in 1880; five times reelected; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889); twice defeated for governor of Massachusetts; member of the deep waterways commission; died in Leicester, Mass., October 28, 1903.

Russell, Jonathan, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Providence, R. I., February 27, 1771; was graduated from Brown university (then Rhode Island college) in 1791; studied law and was admitted to the bar, but did not practice; became a merchant; appointed by President Madison to the diplomatic service in France; transferred to England, where he was chargé d'affaires when war was declared against the United States in 1812; minister to Norway and Sweden January 18, 1814, to October 16, 1818; commissioner to negotiate a treaty of peace with Ghent in 1814; returned home in 1818, and located in Mendon, Mass.; member of the general court of Massachusetts in 1820; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823); died in Milton, Mass., February 16, 1832.

Russell, Joseph, a Representative from New York; native of that state; received a limited schooling; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847); reelected to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853).

Russell, Joseph James, a Representative from Missouri; born near Charleston, Mississippi county, Mo., August 23, 1854; attended the public schools and Charleston academy; after reading law and obtaining a license to practice was graduated from the law school of the Missouri state university; county school commissioner for Mississippi county, Mo., 1878–1879; elected prosecuting attorney in 1880 and 1882; a Cleveland elector in 1884; elected to the state legislature in 1886 and 1888; in the first term was elected speaker pro tempore and in the second term speaker of the house; in 1892 was a delegate to the Democratic national convention that nominated Grover Cleveland; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1909); defeated for reelection to the Sixty-first Congress. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Russell, Leslie W., a Representative from New York; a resident of Ogdensburg, N. Y.; elected to the Fifty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1891, to September 11, 1891, when he resigned.

Russell, Samuel L., a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Pennsylvania; completed preparatory studies; held various local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855).

Russell, William, a Representative from Ohio; born in Ireland in 1782; emigrated to the United States and located in West Union, Ohio; received a limited schooling; held several local offices; was a representative in the state legislature 1809–1810, and 1811–1813; state senator 1819–1821; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1833); defeated for the Twenty-third Congress; moved to Portsmouth, Ohio, and elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); died in Portsmouth, Ohio, September 28, 1845.

Russell, William Augustus, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Wells River, Vt., April 22, 1831; pursued an academic course in Franklin, N. H.; engaged in the manufacture of paper in Exeter, N. H., in 1852; moved in 1852 to Lawrence, Mass.; member of the state house of representatives in 1869; delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1868 and 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1885); after leaving Congress devoted his time to the manufacture of paper; died in Boston, Mass., January 10, 1899.

Russell, William Ferio, a Representative from New York; born in Saugerties, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; became a merchant; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); died in Saugerties, N. Y., April 29, 1896.

Rust, Albert, a Representative from Arkansas; native of Virginia; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Eldorado, Ark.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); defeated for reelection; elected to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1861); brigadier-general in the Confederate army; died in Eldorado, Ark., April 3, 1870.

Rutherford, Robert, a Representative from Virginia; native of Virginia; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected to the Third and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1797); defeated for reelection to the Fifth Congress.

Rutherford, John, a Senator from New Jersey; born in New York City September 20, 1760; was graduated from Princeton college in 1776; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in New York City, 1779–1787, and later in Edgerston, N. J.; presidential elector in 1798, 1813, and 1821; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1791, to December 5, 1798, when he resigned; member of the New York and New Jersey boundary commission in 1826, and of the New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania boundary commission, 1829-1833; died in Rutherford, N. J., February 23, 1840.

Rutledge, Edward, a Delegate from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., November 23, 1749; completed preparatory studies; studied law at the Temple in London, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Charleston in 1773; elected to the Continental Congress, 1774-1777; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; appointed a member of the first board of war in June, 1776; again elected in 1779, but did not take his seat; captain and lieutenant colonel of a company of volunteer artillery in the Revolutionary army; taken prisoner when the British captured Charleston, and imprisoned at St. Augustine a year; exchanged; member of the state legislature in 1782 and for several terms thereafter; member of the state constitutional convention of 1790, and was author of the act abolishing the law of primogeniture in 1791; was tendered the appointment of associate justice of the United States Supreme Court in 1794, but did not accept; governor of South Carolina from 1798 until his death in Charleston, S. C., January 23, 1800.

Rutledge, John, a Delegate from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., in 1739; pursued classical studies; studied law at the Temple in London; returned to Charleston, S. C., where he began practice in 1761; was attorney-general pro tempore in 1764; elected to the Provincial Congress at New York in 1765, and to the Continental Congress, 1774-1777; elected president of South Carolina, 1776-1778, and governor, 1779-1782; again elected a Delegate to the Continental Congress, 1782-1783; elected one of the state chancellors in 1784; delegate in the Philadelphia convention that adopted the Federal Constitution; member of the state convention to ratify the Federal Constitution; received the electoral vote of South Carolina for Vice-President in 1789; associate justice of the United States Supreme Court, serving from 1789-1791; elected chief justice of South Carolina, 1790, and resigned in 1795; nominated by President Washington in 1795 to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, and presided at the August term, but the Senate, December 15, 1795, refused to confirm him; died in Charleston, S. C., July 23, 1800.

Rutledge, John, jr., a Representative from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., in 1766; completed preparatory studies; studied law with his father, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Charleston, S. C.; held several local offices; elected as a Federalist to the Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1803; died in Philadelphia September 1, 1819.

Ryall, Daniel Bailey, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Trenton, N. J., January 30, 1789; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Freehold, N. J.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); died in Freehold, N. J., December 17, 1864.

Ryan, James Wilfrid, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Norwegian township, Schuylkill county, Pa., October 16, 1858; moved to Mahanoy City with his parents, where he attended the public schools; then attended the high school of Frackville, and after graduating taught in the public schools; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1884; elected district attorney in 1892 and served until January, 1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); died in Mahanoy City, Pa., February 26, 1907.

Ryan, Thomas, a Representative from Kansas; born in Oxford, N. Y., November 25, 1837; moved with parents to Bradford county, Pa.; attended Dickinson seminary in Williamsport, Pa.; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1861; served in the Union army 1862-1864; moved to Topeka, Kans., in 1865; county attorney for eight successive years; assistant United States attorney for Kansas 1873-1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1889); reelected to the Fifty-first Congress, but resigned before it assembled; minister to the Republic of Mexico 1889-1893; appointed First Assistant Secretary of the Interior by President McKinley and reappointed by President Roosevelt; served until 1907, when he was sent to Muskogee, Okla., as the personal resident representative of the Secretary of the Interior; a resident of Muskogee, Okla.

Ryan, William, a Representative from New York; born in Tipperary, Ireland, March 8, 1840; came to the United States with his parents, who settled in Stanwich, Conn., in 1844; attended district schools; in the spring of 1859 went to the Rocky mountains and engaged in prospecting, mining, and Indian campaigning until 1861, when he returned home and settled in Port Chester, N. Y.; engaged in farming and teaching, and later in the mercantile business; held local and county offices; member of the state assembly 1891-1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); resumed business as a merchant in Port Chester, N. Y.; president of the Port Chester savings bank and president of the village of Port Chester in 1912.

Ryan, William Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Hopkinton, Mass., May 10, 1860; moved to Buffalo with his parents in 1866; attended the public and high schools; engaged in general insurance and bonding business; elected to the board of supervisors of Erie county in 1894, and reelected in 1897; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1909); delegate in the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in 1904; a resident of Buffalo, N. Y.

Ryon, John Walker, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Tioga county, Pa., March 4, 1825; attended the common schools and Millville academy, Orleans county, N. Y., and Wellsboro academy, Wellsboro, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1847, and practiced in Pottsville, Pa.; elected district attorney of Tioga county in 1850; reelected in 1853, and held the office until 1856; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); died in Pottsville, Schuylkill county, Pa., March 12, 1901.

Sabath, Adolph J., a Representative from Illinois; born in Bohemia April 4, 1866; attended grammar and high school; came to the United States in 1881 and located in Chicago, Ill.; was graduated from the Chicago College of Law in 1891, and was admitted to the bar; appointed justice of the peace for the city of Chicago; police magistrate from 1897 to 1907; member of the central and executive committees of the Democratic party; delegate in the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in 1904; declined the nomination for municipal judge; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Sabin, Alvah, a Representative from Vermont; born in Georgia, Vt., October 23, 1793; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Columbian college, Washington, D. C.; studied theology; served in the War of 1812; served ten years as a member of the state house of representatives; secretary of state of Vermont in 1841; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1857); delegate in the first Anti-Slavery national convention; died in Sycamore, Ill., January 22, 1885.

Sabin, Dwight May, a Senator from Minnesota; born near Marseilles, La Salle county, Ill., April 25, 1843; attended the country schools and Phillips academy, Andover, Mass.; served in the Union army; engaged in lumbering and the general manufacture of railroad cars and agricultural machinery; moved to Stillwater, Minn., in 1868; member of the state senate of Minnesota in 1872–1875; member of the state house of representatives 1878 and 1881; member of the Republican national committee for Minnesota; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1872, 1876, 1880, and 1884; chairman of the Republican national committee December 12, 1883; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 3, 1883, until March 3, 1889; died in Chicago, Ill., December 22, 1902.

Sabine, Lorenzo, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Lisbon, N. H., February 28, 1803; completed preparatory studies; engaged in banking, and later as a merchant in Eastport, Me.; member of the state house of representatives for three terms; deputy collector of customs; moved to Massachusetts in 1849; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Benjamin Thomas, and served from December 28, 1852, to March 3, 1853; located in Boston, Mass., where he died April 14, 1877.

Sackett, William Augustus, a Representative from New York; born in Aurelius, N. Y., November 18, 1811; moved to Seneca Falls, N. Y.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1853); died in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., September 6, 1895.

Sadler, Thomas William, a Representative from Alabama; born near Russellville, Franklin county, Ala., April 17, 1831; moved with his parents to Jefferson county, Ala., in 1833; pursued an academic course; moved to Autauga county, Ala., in 1855; engaged in mercantile pursuits until the Civil war; volunteered and served in the division of the Confederate army commanded by Gen. Joseph Wheeler; engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; county superintendent of education from 1875 to 1884; Hancock elector in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law until his death in Prattville, Ala., October 29, 1896.

Sage, Ebenezer, a Representative from New York; born in Chatham (now Portland), Conn., August 16, 1755; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Yale college in 1778; studied medicine and practiced; moved to New York and settled in Sag Harbor; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh, Twelfth, and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1815); presented credentials as a member elect to the Sixteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1819, to January 14, 1820, when he was succeeded by James Guyon, jr., who contested his election; delegate in the convention for amending the constitution of New York; died in Sag Harbor, N. Y., January 20, 1834.

Sage, Russell, a Representative from New York; born in Shenandoah, Oneida county, N. Y., August 4, 1816; moved with parents to Durhamville in 1818; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Troy, N. Y.; alderman of Troy 1845–1848; for some years treasurer of Rensselaer county; delegate in the Whig national convention of 1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1857); moved to New York City in 1863, and engaged in the banking business; became president and director of several railroad companies and financial institutions; died in Lawrence, Nassau county, Long Island, N. Y., July 22, 1906.

Sailly, Peter, a Representative from New York; born in Lorraine, France, April 20, 1754; came to the United States in 1783, and located in Plattsburg, N. Y.; engaged in business; associate justice of the court of common pleas 1788–1796; commissioner of highways and school commissioner in 1797 and 1798; supervisor of schools in 1799 and 1800; member of the state assembly in 1803; first judge of the county in 1804; elected as a Democrat to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1807); appointed by President Jefferson collector of customs at Plattsburg in 1807, and held the office until his death, March 16, 1826.

St. Clair, Arthur, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Thurse, Caithness, Scotland, in 1734; attended the University of Edinburgh, and studied medicine under Dr. John Hunter; purchased a commission as ensign in the sixtieth foot, May 13, 1757, and came to America with Admiral Boscawen's fleet; served under Gen. Amherst at the capture of Louisburg, July 26, 1758, and under Gen. James Wolfe at Quebec September 30, 1758; resigned April 16, 1762, and located in Ligonier valley, Pa., in 1764, and erected mills; surveyor of the district of Cumberland in 1770; justice of the court of quarter sessions and of common pleas; member of the proprietary council, justice, recorder, and clerk of the orphans' court; prothonotary of Bedford and Westmoreland counties; colonel of Pennsylvania militia in July, 1775; colonel of the second Pennsylvania battalion January 3, 1776; brigadier-general of the Continental army August 9, 1776; major-general February 19, 1777, and served to the close of the war; major-general and commander of the United States Army March 4, 1791; resigned March 5, 1792; was a member of the Pennsylvania council of censors in 1783; a Delegate in the Continental Congress from November 2, 1785, to November 28, 1787, and its president in 1787; governor of the Northwest Territory upon its formation in 1789, and served until November 22, 1802; returned to Pennsylvania, and located upon a small farm upon the summit of Chestnut Ridge; died in Greensburg, Pa., August 31, 1818.

St. John, Charles, a Representative from New York; born in Orange county, N. Y., October 8, 1818; attended the common schools; engaged in lumbering on the Delaware River; merchant; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1875); presidential elector in 1880; died in Port Jervis, N. Y., July 6, 1891.

St. John, Daniel B., a Representative from New York; born in Sharon, Conn., October 8, 1808; engaged in the mercantile and real estate business in Monticello, N. Y., in 1831; elected to the state assembly as a Henry Clay Whig in 1840; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849); moved to Newburgh, N. Y.; delegate in the Union national convention in Baltimore in 1860; unsuccessful candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket in 1860; member of the state senate in 1875; delegate in the national Democratic convention in St. Louis in 1876; chief register in the banking department of New York state; died in New York City, February 18, 1890.

St. John, Henry, a Representative from Ohio; native of New York; received a limited schooling; moved to Tiffin, Ohio; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847).

St. Martin, Louis, a Representative from Louisiana; born in St. Charles parish, La., May 17, 1820; attended St. Mary's college, Missouri, and Jefferson college, Louisiana; elected to the state legislature in 1846; appointed register of the United States land office for the southeastern district of Louisiana by President Polk; reelected to the legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); engaged in mercantile pursuits; appointed register of voters for the city of New Orleans; presented credentials to the Thirty-ninth Congress, but was refused admission, as it was held that Louisiana was not then a state in the Union; contested the election of J. Hale Sypher to the Forty-first Congress, but the seat was declared vacant; delegate in the Democratic national conventions that nominated Pierce, Seymour, Tilden, and Hancock; presidential elector on the Tilden ticket; for several years occupied a position in the municipal government of New Orleans; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1887); died in New Orleans, La., February 9, 1893.

Salmon, Joshua S., a Representative from New Jersey; born near Mount Olive, Morris county, N. J., February 2, 1846; attended the seminaries in Charlottesville, N. Y., and School-eyes Mountain, N. J.; was graduated from the Albany law school in 1873, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Boonton; prosecutor of the pleas for Morris county from April, 1893, to April, 1898; elected to the state legislature in 1877; Democratic candidate for the state senate in 1883; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1899, until his death, in Boonton, N. J., May 6, 1902.

Saltonstall, Leverett, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Haverhill, Mass., June 13, 1783; pursued classical studies; attended Phillips academy in Exeter, and was graduated from Harvard college in 1802; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Salem in 1805; unsuccessful as the Whig candidate from the Essex south district in 1820; elected to the state house of representatives and served as speaker; member of the state senate and its president in 1831; mayor of Salem, Mass., 1836–1838; presidential elector on the Webster ticket in 1837; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1820; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Stephen C. Phillips; reelected to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses, and served from December 5, 1838, to March 3, 1843; an active member of the Massachusetts historical society, the American academy of arts and sciences, and other literary and historical associations; overseer of Harvard 1835–1845; published an historical sketch of Haverhill; died in Salem, Mass., May 8, 1845.

Samford, William James, a Representative from Alabama; born in Greenville, Meriwether county, Ga., September 16, 1844; attended the common schools; moved in early childhood to Chambers county, Ala.; entered the University of Georgia, but left and enlisted in the Confederate army as a private in the forty-sixth Alabama regiment; made first lieutenant, and was in command of a company at the close of the war; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Opelika, Ala., in 1867; alternate presidential elector for the third Alabama district in 1872; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1875; Democratic presidential elector in 1872 and 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); elected to the general assembly in 1882; member of the state senate in 1884–1886 and 1892, and served as president of the senate in 1886; governor of Alabama, 1900–1901; president of the board of trustees of the university of Alabama; died in Tuscaloosa, Ala., June 11, 1901.

Sammons, Thomas, a Representative from New York; born in Sammonsville, Montgomery county, N. Y., October 28, 1762; attended the public schools; served as an officer in the Revolutionary war; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1803– March 3, 1807); unsuccessful as the Democratic candidate for the Tenth Congress; reelected to the Eleventh and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1813); died in Johnstown, N. Y., November 20, 1838.

Sample, Samuel C., a Representative from Indiana; born in Maryland; moved to Indiana and settled in South Bend; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845).

Sampson, Ezekiel Silas, a Representative from Iowa; born in Huron county, Ohio, December 6, 1831; attended the public schools, a private school in Mount Pleasant, Iowa, and Knox college, Illinois; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Sigourney, Iowa, in 1856; prosecuting attorney in 1856–1858; enlisted in the Union army as captain in the fifth Iowa infantry in 1861, and lieutenant-colonel in the same regiment when mustered out in 1864; returned to the practice of law in Sigourney, Iowa; member of the state senate in 1866; judge of the sixth district of Iowa from January, 1867, until January, 1875; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); died in Sigourney, Iowa, October 7, 1892.

Sampson, Zabdiel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Plympton, Mass., August 22, 1781; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Brown university in 1803; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Plympton; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1817, to July 26, 1820, when he resigned; appointed collector of customs at Plymouth, Mass., and served until his death in Plymouth, Mass., July 19, 1828.

Samuel, Edmund William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in England, November 27, 1857; came with his parents to Ashland, Schuylkill county, Pa.; employed in a coal breaker and in coal mining; attended the public schools; learned the drug business and began the study of medicine; was graduated from the Jefferson medical college in Philadelphia, March 13, 1880, and commenced practice in Mount Carmel, Pa.; served three years as school director in Mount Carmel; elected as a _____ to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1907); resumed the practice of medicine in Mount Carmel, Pa.

Samuels, Green Berry, a Representative from Virginia; born in Shenandoah county, Va., February 1, 1806; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841); resumed the practice of law; elected judge of the circuit court in 1850, and of the court of appeals; died in Richmond, Va., January 5, 1859.

Sanders, Wilbur Fiske, a Senator from Montana; born in Leon, Cattaraugus county, N. Y., May 2, 1834; attended the common schools; taught school in New York; moved to Ohio in 1854, where he continued teaching; studied law in Akron, Ohio, and was admitted to the bar in 1856; recruited a company of infantry and a battery of artillery in the summer of 1861, and in October following was commissioned a first lieutenant in the sixty-fourth Ohio infantry, of which regiment he was made adjutant; acting assistant adjutant-general on the staff of Gen. James W. Forsyth; assisted in 1862 in the construction of defenses along the railroads south of Nashville; resigned and located in Idaho (now Montana), and engaged in the practice of law and also became interested in mining and stock raising; Republican candidate for Delegate to Congress in 1864, 1867, 1880, and 1886; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1868, 1872, 1876, and 1884; member of the legislative assembly of Montana 1872–1880; declined the appointment of United States attorney for Montana tendered by President Grant in 1872; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate January 1, 1890, and served from April 16, 1890, to March 3, 1893; died in Helena, Mont., July 7, 1905.

Sandford, Thomas, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Westmoreland county, Va., in 1762; pursued classical studies; moved to Kentucky in 1792; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1799; member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1807); died December 10, 1808.

Sandidge, John Milton, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Franklin county, Ga., January 7, 1817; moved to Louisiana and became a planter; member of the state house of representatives 1846–1855, and served two years as speaker; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1852; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1859); died in Bastrop, La., March 30, 1898.

Sandord, James T., a Representative from Tennessee; native of Virginia; attended the common schools; moved to Columbia, Tenn.; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825).

Sands, Joshua, a Representative from New York; born in Queens county, N. Y., in 1758; received a limited schooling; member of the state senate 1792–1799; collector of customs at the port of New York in 1797; elected to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1805); reelected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1827); died September 13, 1835.

Sanford, John, a Representative from New York; born in Amsterdam, Montgomery county, N. Y., January 18, 1851; was graduated from Yale college in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1893); engaged in the manufacture of carpets in Amsterdam, N. Y.

Sanford, John, a Representative from New York; native of that state; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); member of the state senate in 1851; died in Amsterdam, N. Y., October 7, 1857.

Sanford, Jonah, a Representative from New York; native of that state; member of the state house of representatives 1827–1830; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831).

Sanford, Nathan, a Senator from New York; born in Bridgehampton, Long Island, November 5, 1777; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1799, and began practice in New York City; United States commissioner in bankruptcy in 1802; United States attorney for the district of New York 1803-1816; member of the state house of representatives 1810-1811, and served as speaker in 1811; member of the state senate 1812-1815; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1815, to March 3, 1821; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1821; chancellor of New York from August 1, 1823, until his resignation in January, 1826; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1825, to March 3, 1831; died in Flushing, N. Y., October 17, 1838.

Sanford, Stephen, a Representative from New York; born in Montgomery county, N. Y., May 26, 1826; pursued classical studies; carpet manufacturer; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871).

Sapp, William Fletcher, a Representative from Iowa; born in Danville, Ohio, November 20, 1824; attended the public schools, and pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in June, 1850, and practiced in Mount Vernon, Ohio; elected prosecuting attorney in 1854 and 1856; moved in 1860 to Omaha, Nebr.; appointed in 1861 adjutant-general of Nebraska Territory; elected a member of the territorial legislative council; entered the Union army in 1862 as a lieutenant-colonel of the second Nebraska cavalry, and served until mustered out; moved to Council Bluffs, Iowa, and practiced law; member of the state house of representatives in 1865; appointed United States district attorney for Iowa in 1869, and served until 1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); died in Council Bluffs, Iowa, November 22, 1890.

Sapp, William Robinson, a Representative from Ohio; born near Cumberland, Md., March 5, 1804; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); collector of internal revenue under General Grant; died in Mount Vernon, Knox county, Ohio, January 6, 1875.

Sargent, Aaron Augustus, a Representative and a Senator from California; born in Newburyport, Mass., September 28, 1827; learned the printer's trade; moved to California in 1849; established the Journal in Nevada City; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854 and practiced; district attorney for Nevada county, Cal., 1855-1856; elected to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); reelected to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1873, to March 3, 1879; practiced law in San Francisco 1879-1882; appointed by President Garfield United States minister to Germany in 1882 and held the office until the action of the German authorities in excluding American pork from the Empire made his incumbency personally distasteful, and then resigned; declined the mission to Russia; returned to California in 1884; died in San Francisco, Cal., August 14, 1887.

Sauerhering, Edward, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Mayville, Wis., June 24, 1864; attended the public schools and was graduated from the Chicago college of pharmacy in 1885; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); superintendent of commission of public works; justice of the peace; a resident of Mayville, Wis.

Saulsbury, Eli, a Senator from Delaware; born in Mispillion Hundred, Kent county, Del., December 29, 1817; attended the common schools and Dickinson college, Pa.; member of state legislature 1853-1854; moved to Dover, Del., in 1856; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1857, and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1876, and 1883, and served from March 4, 1871, to March 3, 1889; died in Dover, Del., March 22, 1893.

Saulsbury, Willard, a Senator from Delaware; born in Mispillion Hundred, Kent county, Del., June 2, 1820; attended the common schools and Dickinson college, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Georgetown, Del.; attorney-general of Delaware 1850-1855; delegate in the Democratic national convention of 1856; elected to the United States Senate; reelected, and served from March 4, 1859, to March 3, 1871; delegate in the Democratic national convention of 1864; chancellor of the state in 1874, until his death in Dover, Del., April 6, 1892.

Saunders, Alvin, a Senator from Nebraska; born in Fleming county, Ky., July 12, 1817; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; moved with his father to Illinois in 1829, and to Mount Pleasant, Iowa (then a part of Wisconsin Territory), in 1836; postmaster of Mt. Pleasant for seven years; studied law, but never entered upon its practice; engaged in mercantile and banking pursuits; member of the state constitutional convention of 1846; member of the state senate for eight years; member of the first Republican convention ever held in Iowa; delegate in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1860; one of the commissioners appointed by Congress to organize the Pacific railroad company; governor of the Territory of Nebraska 1861-1867; delegate in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1868; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 5, 1877, to March 3, 1883; died in Omaha, Nebr., November 1, 1899.

Saunders, Edward Watts, a Representative from Virginia; born in Franklin county, Va., October 25, 1860; attended the common schools, the Bellevue high school of Bedford county, Va., and was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1882; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Rocky Mount, Va., in 1882; member of the state legislature a number of terms; elected speaker of the house in 1899; elected judge of the fourth circuit in 1901; judge of the seventh circuit; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Claude A. Swanson; reelected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses and served from November 6, 1906, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Saunders, Romulus Mitchell, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Caswell (then Orange) county, N. C., March 3, 1791; pursued classical studies, and attended the University of North Carolina 1809-1811; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1812 began practice in Milton, N. C.; member of the house of commons of North Carolina 1815, 1817, and 1819, and served two years as speaker; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1827); declined a reelection; attorney general of the state 1828-1831; judge of the superior court in 1835-1840; defeated on the Democratic ticket for governor in 1840; reelected to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1845); minister to Spain 1846-1849; again elected a member of the state house of commons 1850-1852; judge of the superior court 1852-1856; member of the board of commissioners to revise the laws of North Carolina; trustee of the University of North Carolina 1819-1864; died in Raleigh, N. C., April 21, 1867.

Savage, John, a Representative from New York; born in Salem, N. Y., in 1779; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Union college in 1799; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced in Salem, N. Y., 1800-1819; served in the state assembly in 1814; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1819); United States district attorney; state comptroller 1821-1823; chief justice of the state supreme court 1823-1837; assistant United States treasurer in New York City; presidential elector on the Polk and Dallas ticket in 1845; died in Utica, N. Y., October 19, 1863.

Savage, John Houston, a Representative from Tennessee; born in McMinnville, Tenn., October 9, 1815; attended the common schools; served as a private in the Seminole war; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Smithville, Tenn.; colonel of state militia; attorney general of the fourth Tennessee district 1841-1847; presidential elector on the Polk and Dallas ticket in 1844; major of the fourteenth United States infantry in the Mexican war, and promoted to lieutenant-colonel; elected to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); declined a reelection; reelected to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); colonel of the sixteenth Tennessee infantry in the Confederate army, and was wounded at Perryville and Murfreesboro; member of the state legislature in 1877-1879 and 1887; died in McMinnville, Tenn., April 5, 1904.

Savage, John Simpson, a Representative from Ohio; born in Clermont county, Ohio, October 30, 1841; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Wilmington, Ohio, in 1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; died in Wilmington, Ohio, November 24, 1884.

Sawtelle, Cullen, a Representative from Maine; born in Norridgewock, Me., September 25, 1805; was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1829 began practice in Norridgewock; register of probate 1830-1838; member of the state senate 1843-1844; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); reelected to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851; died in Englewood, N. J., November 10, 1887.

Sawyer, Frederick Adolphus, a Senator from South Carolina; born in Bolton, Mass., December 12, 1822; was graduated from Harvard college in 1844; taught school in Gardiner, Me., 1844-1847; in Wiscasset, Me., 1847-1851; in Lowell, Mass., and Nashua, N. H., in 1852; in Wakefield, Mass., 1853-1855, and in Boston, Mass., 1855-1859; took charge of the normal school in Charleston, S. C., in 1859; given a pass for himself and family through the lines and allowed to return to the North in 1864; returned to Charleston and was active in advancing reconstruction measures in 1865; appointed collector of internal revenue in the second South Carolina district in May, 1865; elected to the United States Senate, and served from July 16, 1868, to March 3, 1873; Assistant Secretary of the Treasury 1873-1876; connected with the coast survey 1874-1880; special agent of the War Department 1880-1887; died in Sewanee, Tenn., July 31, 1891.

Sawyer, John Gilbert, a Representative from New York; born in Brandon, Vt., June 5, 1825; attended the common schools and Millville academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; justice of the peace from January 1, 1852, to April, 1858; district attorney of Orleans county from January 1, 1863, to January 1, 1866; judge and surrogate of Orleans county, Vt., from January 1, 1868, to January 1, 1884; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1891); resumed the practice of law in Albion, N. Y., until his death, September 5, 1898.

Sawyer, Lemuel, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Camden county, N. C., in 1777; prepared for college at Flatbush academy, Long Island, N. Y., and was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1799; attended the University of Pennsylvania for a time; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1804, and began practice in Elizabeth, N. C.; member of the state house of representatives in 1800 and 1801; presidential elector on the Jefferson ticket in 1804; elected as a Democrat to the Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1813); reelected to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1823); unsuccessful candidate for election to the Eighteenth Congress; elected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1829); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twenty-first Congress; located in Elizabeth, N. C.; department clerk in Washington, D. C., until his death, January 9, 1852.

Sawyer, Philetus, a Representative and a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Whiting, Rutland county, Vt., September 22, 1816; moved with his father's family to Crown Point, N. Y., in 1817; attended the common schools; went to Fond du Lac county, Wis., in 1847 and engaged in the lumber business; member of the legislature of Wisconsin in 1857 and 1863; mayor of Oshkosh in 1863 and 1864; delegate in the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864, in Cincinnati in 1876, and in Chicago in 1880; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1875); elected to the United States Senate and reelected and served from March 4, 1881, to March 3, 1893; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; died in Oshkosh, Wis., March 29, 1900.

Sawyer, Samuel Locke, a Representative from Missouri; born in Mount Vernon, N. H., November 27, 1813; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1833; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Amherst, N. H., in 1836; settled in Lexington, Mo., in 1838; circuit attorney of the sixth judicial circuit of Missouri in 1848, and reelected in 1852; delegate in the Missouri constitutional convention of 1861; delegate in the Democratic national convention in 1868; elected judge of the twenty-fourth judicial circuit in 1871 and reelected in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); died in Independence, Mo., April 1, 1890.

Sawyer, Samuel T., a Representative from North Carolina; born in Chowan county, N. C., in 1800; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Edenton; member of the state house of representatives 1829–1832; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); defeated for reelection; moved to Norfolk, Va., and engaged in newspaper work; died in Norfolk, Va., November 29, 1865.

Sawyer, William, a Representative from Ohio; native of St. Marys, Ohio; elected to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1849).

Say, Benjamin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1756; attended the Quaker schools and studied medicine in the University of Pennsylvania; commenced practice in Philadelphia; served in the Revolutionary war; elected to the Tenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph Clay; reelected to the Eleventh Congress, and served from November 16, 1808, until his resignation in June, 1809; founder of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia, and its treasurer 1791–1809; died in Philadelphia, Pa., April 23, 1813.

Sayers, Joseph Draper, a Representative from Texas; born in Grenada, Miss., September 23, 1841; moved with his father to Bastrop, Tex., in 1851; attended Bastrop military institute; entered the Confederate army in 1861 and served continuously until April, 1865; attained the rank of major; taught school; studied law in Bastrop, Tex., and was admitted to the bar in 1866; member of the state senate in 1873; chairman of the Democratic state executive committee 1875–1878; lieutenant governor of Texas 1879–1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth, and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1885, until his resignation January 16, 1899; governor of Texas 1899–1903; resumed the practice of law in Austin, Tex.

Sayler, Henry Benton, a Representative from Indiana; born in Montgomery county, Ohio, March 31, 1836; moved to Clinton county, Ind.; attended the common schools; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served in the Union army as lieutenant, captain, and major; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); elected judge in 1882 and served six years; died in Huntington, Ind., June 18, 1900.

Sayler, Milton, a Representative from Ohio; born in Lewisburg, Preble county, Ohio, November 4, 1831; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Miami University in 1852; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; member of the state legislature 1862–1863; member of the city council of Cincinnati 1864–1865; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1879); speaker pro tempore of the house of representatives; died in New York City.

Scales, Alfred Moore, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Reidsville, Rockingham county, N. C., November 26, 1827; pursued classical studies, attended the Caldwell institute in Greensboro and the University of North Carolina 1845–1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and practiced in Madison, N. C.; solicitor of Rockingham county in 1853; member of the general assembly of North Carolina 1852–1853, and 1856–1857; presidential elector on the Breckenridge and Lane ticket in 1860; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); volunteered in the Civil war as a private in the Confederate army, afterwards promoted and served as captain, colonel, and brigadier-general; resumed the practice of law in Greensboro, N. C.; again a member of the general assembly 1866–1869; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1875, until his resignation, December 30, 1884, to become governor of North Carolina; governor of North Carolina, 1884–1888; engaged in banking in Greensboro, N. C., until his death, February 9, 1892.

Scammon, John Fairfield, a Representative from Maine; born in Saco, Mass., (now Maine), October 24, 1786; attended the public schools; merchant; member of the state house of representatives 1817, 1820, and 1821; collector of customs in Saco 1829–1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847); member of the state senate in 1855; died in Saco, Me., May 23, 1858.

Scarborough, Robert Bethea, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Chesterfield, S. C., October 29, 1861; attended the common schools and Mullins, S. C., academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar May 27, 1884, and commenced practice in Conway, S. C.; member of the state senate from Horry county, S. C., and was elected president pro tempore in 1898; lieutenant-governor of South Carolina in 1899; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1905); resumed the practice of law in Conway, S. C.

Schell, Richard, a Representative from New York; born in Rhinebeck, N. Y., May 15, 1810; completed preparatory studies; merchant; moved to New York in 1830 and became a wholesale dry goods merchant; member of the state senate in 1857; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of David B. Mellish, and served from December 7, 1874, to March 3, 1875; died in New York City, November 10, 1879.

Schenck, Abraham H., a Representative from New York; born in Dutchess county, N. Y., in 1777; pursued classical studies; member of the state house of representatives 1804-1806; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); engaged in manufacturing; died February 20, 1831.

Schenck, Ferdinand Schureman, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Middlesex county, N. J., February 11, 1790; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and practiced; member of the state house of representatives 1829-1831; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); reelected to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); member of the state constitutional convention of 1844; died in Camden, N. J., May 17, 1860.

Schenck, Robert Cumming, a Representative from Ohio; born in Franklin, Ohio, October 4, 1809; was graduated from Miami university in 1827, and was a tutor for three years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Dayton, Ohio; member of the state legislature 1841-1843; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1851); appointed minister to Brazil, and also accredited to Uruguay, Argentine Confederation, and Paraguay 1851-1854; entered the Union army May 17, 1861, as brigadier general of volunteers; promoted to major general September 18, 1862, to date from August 30, 1862; resigned December 3, 1863; reelected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1871); delegate in the Philadelphia Loyalist convention of 1866; member of the Alabama claims commission in 1871; minister to Great Britain 1870-1876, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C., until his death, March 23, 1890.

Schermerhorn, Abraham Maus, a Representative from New York; born in Schenectady, N. Y., December 11, 1791; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from Union college in 1810; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1812; moved to Rochester, N. Y., in 1813; held several local offices; engaged in the banking business; mayor of Rochester in 1837; member of the state house of representatives in 1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); died in Rochester, N. Y., August 22, 1855.

Schermerhorn, Simon Jacob, a Representative from New York; born in Rotterdam, Schenectady county, N. Y., September 26, 1827; attended the common schools; engaged in farming; supervisor; elected to the state legislature in 1862; a director and trustee in local banks; Cleveland elector in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); died in Rotterdam, N. Y., July 21, 1891.

Schirm, Charles Reginald, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., August 12, 1864; attended the public schools; began a four years' apprenticeship at iron molding; attended Washington and Jefferson college, Washington, Pa.; taught school in Pennsylvania and Maryland; studied law and was admitted to the Baltimore county bar March 6, 1896; member of the house of delegates of Maryland 1898-1900; appointed counsel to the board of police commissioners for Baltimore city and served 1899-1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Baltimore, Md.

Schleicher, Gustave, a Representative from Texas; born in Darmstadt, Germany, November 19, 1823; attended the University of Giessen; became a civil engineer and was employed in the construction of several European railroads; emigrated to Texas in 1847, and in 1850 settled in San Antonio; member of the state house of representatives 1853-1854; served in the state senate 1859-1861; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses and served from March 4, 1875, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 10, 1879.

Schley, William, a Representative from Georgia; born in Frederick, Md., December 15, 1786; moved with parents to Georgia in childhood; completed preparatory studies; attended the academies of Louisville and Augusta, Ga.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1812 began practice in Augusta, Ga.; judge of the superior court 1825-1828; member of the state house of representatives in 1830; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); governor of Georgia 1835-1847; president of the Georgia medical college, Augusta, for several years; died near Augusta, Ga., November 20, 1858.

Schneebeli, Gustav Adolphus, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Neusalz, Prussia, May 23, 1853; came with his parents to the United States and settled in Bethlehem, Pa.; later removed to Nazareth, Pa., and entered upon a mercantile career; founded the knit-goods industry of the Nazareth waist company; in 1888 he established a lace manufacturing company, of which he became sole owner; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); resumed the manufacturing business in Nazareth, Pa.

Schoolcraft, John L., a Representative from New York; native of Albany, N. Y.; received a limited schooling; merchant; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); died in St. Catherines, Canada, May 11, 1860.

Schoonmaker, Cornelius C., a Representative from New York; born in Shawangunk, Ulster county, N. Y., in June, 1745; received a limited schooling, but became a surveyor; member of the committees of vigilance and safety during the Revolutionary war; member of the state assembly 1777-1790; member of the state convention for the adoption of the Federal constitution; elected to the Second Congress (March 4, 1791-March 3, 1793); again a member of the state assembly 1795-1796; died in Shawangunk, N. Y., in the spring of 1796.

Schoonmaker, Marius, a Representative from New York; born in Kingston, N. Y., April 24, 1811; attended the common schools and Kingston academy, and was graduated from Yale college in 1830; was admitted to the bar in 1833; member of the state senate 1849-1850; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); auditor of the canal department of New York state 1854-1855; superintendent of the banking department; resumed the law practice in Kingston, N. Y.; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1867; president of the board of directors of Kingston; died in Kingston, N. Y., January 5, 1894.

Schumaker, John Godfrey, a Representative from New York; born in Claverack, N. Y., June 26, 1826; completed preparatory studies in the Lenox, Mass., academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1847; moved to Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1853; district attorney for Kings county; corporation counsel for the city of Brooklyn 1862-1864; member of the state constitutional conventions of 1862, 1867, and 1894; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); reelected to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); died in Brooklyn, N. Y., November 23, 1905.

Schuneman, Martin G., a Representative from New York; a native of Ulster county, N. Y.; attended the common schools; elected to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1807).

Schureman, James, a Delegate and a Representative and Senator from New Jersey; born in New Brunswick, N. J., February 12, 1756; was graduated from Rutgers college in 1775; became a merchant; served in the Revolutionary army; member of the state house of representatives 1783-1784, 1785, 1788; member of the provincial congress of New Jersey 1786; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1786-1787; elected as a Federalist to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); reelected to the Fifth Congress (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1799); elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Rutherford and served from December 3, 1799, until his resignation February 6, 1801; member of the state senate and council of New Jersey 1808, 1810, 1812; mayor of New Brunswick; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); died in New Brunswick, N. J., January 22, 1824.

Schurz, Carl, a Senator from Missouri; born in Liblar, Germany, March 2, 1829; pursued classical studies; came to the United States in 1852 and located in Philadelphia, Pa.; moved to Watertown, Wis., in 1855; studied law and was admitted to the bar; unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor of Wisconsin; engaged in the practice of law in Milwaukee, Wis.; delegate in the Chicago convention of 1860; appointed minister to Spain in 1861, but soon afterwards resigned; appointed brigadier general of volunteers in the Union army; engaged in newspaper work after the war in St. Louis, Mo.; delegate in the Chicago convention of 1868; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1875; Secretary of the Interior of the United States 1877-1881; editor of New York Evening Post 1881-1884; contributed to Harper's Weekly 1892-1898; president of National civil service reform league 1892-1901; author; died in New York City, May 14, 1906.

Schuyler, Philip, a Delegate and a Senator from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., November 20, 1733; attended the common schools of Albany and studied under a private tutor in New Rochelle, N. Y.; served in the Revolutionary army; commissioned captain June 14, 1755; served under Gen. Phineas Lyman; appointed chief commissary in 1756; resigned from the British army in 1757, and in 1758 rejoined Gen. Bradstreet as commissary with the rank of major; sent to England to settle colonial claims in 1758; returned in 1763 and engaged in the lumber business in Saratoga, N. Y.; built the first flax mill in America; boundary commissioner to settle the line between New York and Massachusetts in 1764; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1775-1777; appointed one of the four major generals in the Continental army in 1775, but became involved in military disputes and resigned in 1779; state senator from the western New York district 1780-1784, 1786-1790, and 1792-1797; again a Delegate in the Continental Congress 1778-1781; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1789, to March 3, 1791; again elected and served from March 4, 1797, to January 3, 1798, when he resigned; died in Albany, N. Y., November 18, 1894.

Schuyler, Philip J., a Representative from New York; born in Dutchess county, N. Y., in 1768; received a limited schooling; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); died in New York City, February 21, 1835.

Schwartz, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Berks county, Pa., October 27, 1793; attended the public schools; served in the War of 1812 as a lieutenant; became a merchant and later a farmer; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1859, until his death in Reading, Pa., June 20, 1860.

Scofield, Glenni William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Dewittville, Chautauqua county, N. Y., March 11, 1817; was graduated from Hamilton college in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Warren, Pa., in 1842; district attorney 1846-1848; member of the state assembly 1850-1851; served in the state senate 1857-1859; appointed president judge of the eighteenth judicial district of Pennsylvania in 1861; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1875); appointed Register of the Treasury and served 1878-1881; associate justice of the United States Court of Claims 1881-1891; died in Warren, Pa., August 30, 1891.

Scott, Charles Frederick, a Representative from Kansas; born in Allen county, Kans., September 7, 1860; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the University of Kansas in 1881; went to Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona, and was engaged chiefly in clerical work; returned to Iola, Kans., in 1882 and edited the Iola Register; appointed regent of the university in 1891 for a term of four years and has been twice reappointed; elected as a Republican to the state senate of Kansas in 1892 and served for four years; Republican presidential elector in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1911) reengaged in newspaper work in Iola, Kans.

Scott, Charles L., a Representative from California; born in Richmond, Va., January 23, 1827; was graduated from William and Mary college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Richmond, Va.; went to California in 1849; resumed the practice of law in 1851 in Sonora, Calif.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861).

Scott, Gustavus, a Delegate from Maryland; born in Prince William county, Va.; attended King's college, Aberdeen, Scotland; returned to America; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Somerset county, Md.; delegate in the Annapolis convention of July 22, 1774; member of the association of the freemen of Maryland; member of the first constitutional convention of Maryland; member of the state assembly in 1780 and 1784; one of the commissioners to superintend the erection of the Capitol in Washington; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1784–85; died in Washington, D. C., in 1801.

Scott, Harvey D., a Representative from Indiana; native of Ohio; attended the public schools; moved to Terre Haute, Ind.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857).

Scott, John, a Delegate and a Representative from Missouri; born in Hanover county, Va., May 18, 1785; moved with parents to Indian Territory in 1802; was graduated from Princeton college in 1805; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Ste. Genevieve, Mo., in 1806; elected a Delegate from Missouri Territory to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from December 2, 1816, to January 13, 1817, when his seat was declared vacant; elected a Delegate to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses, and served from December 1, 1817, to March 3, 1821, Missouri becoming a state; elected to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1827); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twentieth Congress; died in Ste. Genevieve, Mo., October 1, 1861.

Scott, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Marsh Creek, near Gettysburg, Pa., December 25, 1784; tanner and shoemaker; elected to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831); died in Alexandria, Huntingdon county, Pa., September 22, 1850.

Scott, John, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Alexandria, Pa., July 24, 1824; attended the common schools and Marshall college, Chambersburg, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846 and practiced in Huntingdon, Pa. 1846–1869; prosecuting attorney 1846–1849; member of the revenue commission in 1851; member of the state legislature in 1862; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1875; moved to Pittsburgh, Pa.; general solicitor of the Pennsylvania railroad 1877–1895; died in Philadelphia, Pa., November 29, 1896.

Scott, John G., a Representative from Missouri; born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 26, 1819; completed preparatory studies; moved to Missouri and engaged in mining; unsuccessful as the Democratic candidate to the Thirty-eighth Congress; then elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John W. Noell, and served from December 7, 1863, to March 3, 1865.

Scott, John Morin, a Delegate from New York; born in New York City in 1730; attended the common schools and was graduated from Yale college in 1746; one of the founders of the Sons of Liberty; member of the New York general committee in 1775; member of the provincial congress in 1775; brigadier general in the Revolutionary war; member of the state senate 1777–1782; secretary of state of New York 1778–1779; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1780–1783; died in New York City September 14, 1784.

Scott, Nathan Bay, a Senator from West Virginia; born in Guernsey county, Ohio, December 18, 1842; attended the common schools; engaged in mining in Colorado 1859–1862; enlisted in the Union army in 1862 as a private in the Ohio volunteers, and was mustered out in 1865; after the war engaged in the manufacture of glass in Wheeling, W. Va.; elected to the city council in 1880 and served two years as president; elected to the state senate in 1882 and 1886; member of the Republican national committee in 1888, and a member of the executive committee a greater portion of the time; appointed Commissioner of Internal Revenue by President McKinley, and entered that office January 1, 1898; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate on January 25, 1899, reelected in 1905, and served from March 4, 1899, to March 3, 1911; engaged in banking business in Washington, D. C.

Scott, Owen, a Representative from Illinois; born in Jackson township, Effingham county, Ill., July 6, 1848; attended the common schools; taught school; superintendent of schools for Effingham county, Ill., for eight years; was admitted to the bar by the Illinois supreme court January 10, 1874, and practiced law for ten years; engaged in newspaper work; published the Effingham Democrat; became proprietor and manager of the Bloomington Daily and Weekly Bulletin; elected city attorney and mayor of Effingham; deputy collector of internal revenue; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); moved to Decatur, Ill., and became manager of the Decatur Herald.

Scott, Thomas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Pennsylvania; attended the public schools; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1791); reelected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1795).

Scott, William L., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Washington, D. C., July 2, 1828; attended the common schools; settled in Erie, Pa., in 1848, and was employed as a clerk in the shipping business; engaged, in 1850, in the coal and shipping business, and owned several vessels on the great lakes; subsequently became interested in the manufacture of iron and in the mining of coal, as well as the construction and operation of railroads; district delegate in the Democratic national convention held in New York in 1868; delegate from the State of Pennsylvania in the Democratic national convention in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1880; member of the Democratic national committee 1876-1884; elected mayor of Erie in 1866 and 1871; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); died in Erie, Pa., September 19, 1891.

Scoville, Jonathan, a Representative from New York; born in Salisbury, Litchfield county, Conn.; attended various educational institutions in Massachusetts, including the scientific department of Harvard university; engaged in business in Canaan, Conn., in 1851, as an iron manufacturer and mine owner; moved to Buffalo, N. Y., in 1860, and established a car-wheel foundry; the succeeding year established a second foundry in Toronto, Canada; elected to the Forty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Ray V. Pierce, and served from January 29, 1881, to March 3, 1883; re-elected to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); elected mayor of Buffalo; died in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1891.

Scranton, George Whitfield, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Madison, Conn., May 11, 1811; completed preparatory studies; moved to Belvidere, N. J., and engaged in the manufacture of iron, and in 1840 began smelting ore with anthracite coal in Slocum, Pa. (now Scranton); president of two railroad companies; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); died in Scranton, Pa., March 24, 1861.

Scranton, Joseph A., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Madison, Conn., July 26, 1838; moved to Pennsylvania in 1847; pursued an academic course; collector of internal revenue 1862-1866; postmaster of Scranton, Pa., 1874-1881; delegate in the Republican national convention in Philadelphia in 1872; founded the Scranton Daily Republican in 1867; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); reelected to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); again reelected to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891) and to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1897); died in Scranton, Pa., October 12, 1908.

Scroggy, Thomas Edmund, a Representative from Ohio; born in Harveysburg, Warren county, Ohio, March 18, 1843; attended the public schools; engaged in manufacturing; served in the Civil war; enlisted July, 1861, as a private in company H, thirty-ninth Ohio infantry, and served in that capacity and as corporal until July 4, 1864, when he was shot through the right shoulder and lung in an assault on the Confederate works at Nickajack Creek, Ga.; honorably discharged and mustered out at Camp Dennison in March, 1865; in June, 1865, engaged in retail business in Xenia, Ohio; studied law; elected justice of the peace in 1869, served one term; was admitted to the bar September 8, 1871, and began practice in Xenia; served three terms as clerk and three terms as solicitor of the city of Xenia, Ohio; common pleas judge in 1898, again elected for a term of five years, beginning February, 1904; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); retired and a resident of Tulsa, Okla.

Scudder, Henry J., a Representative from New York; born in Northport, N. Y., in 1825; was graduated from Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., in 1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in New York City; elected to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); died in New York City, February 12, 1886.

Scudder, Isaac W., a Representative from New Jersey; born in Elizabeth, N. J., in 1818; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Jersey City, N. J.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875).

Scudder, John A., a Representative from New Jersey; born in that state in 1767; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and practiced; held several local offices; elected to the Eleventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of James Cox, and served from December 3, 1810, to March 3, 1811; moved to Indiana; died November 6, 1836.

Scudder, Nathaniel, a Delegate from New Jersey; born in Huntington, Long Island, N. Y., May 10, 1733; was graduated from Princeton college in 1751; studied medicine and practiced in Monmouth county, N. J.; delegate in the provincial congress of New Jersey in 1774; member of state house of representatives, and served as speaker 1776; lieutenant-colonel of New Jersey militia in 1776, and colonel in 1781; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1777-1779; killed while resisting an invading party of the British army in Blacks Point, near Shrewsbury, N. J., October 17, 1781.

Scudder, Townsend, a Representative from New York; born in Northport, Suffolk county, N. Y., July 26, 1865; attended schools in England; was graduated from Columbia law school, New York, in 1888, and was admitted to the bar of New York in 1889; served four terms as counsel for Queens county, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); reelected to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905).

Scudder, Treadwell, a Representative from New York; born in Islip, N. Y.; received a limited schooling; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); member of the state house of representatives in 1828.

Scudder, Zeno, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Barnstable, Mass., August 18, 1807; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Barnstable, Mass.; served in both branches of the legislature and elected president of the state senate in 1848; elected to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1851, until his resignation, March 4, 1854; died in Barnstable, Mass., June 26, 1857.

Scull, Edward, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pittsburgh, Pa., February 5, 1818; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1844; moved to Somerset, Pa.; in 1846 and practiced until 1857; elected prothonotary and clerk of the court and served three years; on March 4, 1863, appointed collector of internal revenue by President Lincoln; removed by President Johnson in September, 1866; appointed assessor of internal revenue by President Grant April, 1869; appointed collector March 22, 1873, and served until August, 1883, when the district was consolidated with another; published and edited the Somerset Herald 1852-1887; delegate in the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864, in Cincinnati in 1876, and in Chicago in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1893); died in Somerset, Pa., July 10, 1900.

Scurry, Richardson, a Representative from Texas; native of Tennessee; moved to Texas; elected to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853).

Seaman, Henry J., a Representative from New York; native of that state; elected as an American to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847).

Searing, John A., a Representative from New York; born in North Hampstead, N. Y., May 14, 1805; completed preparatory studies; sheriff of Queens county, N. Y., in 1848; member of the state house of representatives in 1853; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); died in Minniola, Miss., May 6, 1876.

Searle, James, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in New York City about 1730; completed preparatory studies; moved to Philadelphia, Pa., in 1765; engaged in the lottery business 1776-1778; member of the Navy Board 1778; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1778-1780; commissioner to France and Holland, to negotiate a loan for the state of Pennsylvania 1780-1782; located in New York City in 1784 as agent of an importing house; returned to Pennsylvania in 1785; trustee of the University of Pennsylvania 1779-1781; died in Philadelphia, Pa., August 7, 1797.

Seaver, Ebenezer, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Roxbury, Mass., January 8, 1763; was graduated from Harvard college in 1784; farmer and jurist; member of the state house of representatives 1794-1802, 1822, 1823, and 1826; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1813); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirteenth Congress; member of the state constitutional convention of 1820; died in Roxbury, Mass., March 1, 1844.

Sebastian, William King, a Senator from Arkansas; born in Vernon, Tenn., in 1814; was graduated from Columbia college, Tenn.; studied law; was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Helena, Ark.; prosecuting attorney 1835-1837; circuit judge 1842; judge of the state supreme court 1842-1846; Democratic presidential elector in 1848; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Chester Ashley, and served from March 4, 1848, to July 11, 1861, when he was expelled; did not take any part in the Confederate movements, and after the Federal troops occupied Helena, Ark., moved to Memphis, Tenn., where he died; the Senate subsequently revoked the resolution of expulsion and paid the full amount of his salary to his children; died in Memphis, Tenn., May 20, 1865.

Seddon, James Alexander, a Representative from Virginia; born in Falmouth, Va., July 13, 1815; was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1835; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); reelected to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); declined a reelection; member of the peace convention in 1861; delegate from Virginia to the provisional Confederate congress in Richmond, Va., in July, 1861; secretary of war in the Confederacy, November 20, 1862; died in Goochland county, Va., August 19, 1880.

Sedgwick, Charles Baldwin, a Representative from New York; born in Pompey, N. Y., March 15, 1815; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Syracuse, N. Y.; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); died in Syracuse, N. Y., February 3, 1883.

Sedgwick, Theodore, a Delegate, a Representative, and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in West Hartford, Conn., May 9, 1746; pursued classical studies; studied theology, but abandoned it for the law; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Barrington, Mass.; moved to Sheffield, Mass.; served in the Revolutionary expedition against Canada in 1776; member of the colonial and state house of representatives, 1782-1783; delegate in the Continental Congress 1785-1786; again member of the state house of representatives, 1787-1788, and elected speaker; elected to the First, Second, Third, and Fourth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1789, to December 6, 1796, when he resigned to become United States Senator, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of George Cabot, and served from December 21, 1796, until March 3, 1799; delegate in the state convention that adopted the Federal Constitution in 1788; reelected to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801) and served as Speaker; judge of the supreme court of Massachusetts; died in Boston, Mass., January 24, 1813.

Seeley, John Edward, a Representative from New York; born in Ovid, N. Y., August 1, 1810; was graduated from Yale college; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; elected county judge and surrogate of Seneca county, N. Y., and served 1851-1855; presidential elector in 1860 and 1864; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); died in Ovid, N. Y., March 30, 1880.

Seeley, Julius Hawley, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Bethel, Conn., September 14, 1824; was graduated from Amherst college in 1849; studied theology and was graduated from Auburn theological seminary in 1852; ordained in 1853; pastor of the first reformed Dutch church, Schenectady, N. Y., 1853-1858; professor of mental and moral philosophy in Amherst college, 1858-1876; elected as an independent to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); declined a reelection; accepted an invitation to deliver a course of lectures in India in 1872; member of the commission to revise the tax laws of Massachusetts; died in Amherst, Mass., May 12, 1895.

Seerley, John J., a Representative from Iowa; born in Toulon, Ill., March 13, 1852; was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1875; principal of the Iowa City high school in 1876; was graduated from the law department of the University of Iowa in 1877, and was admitted to the bar; city solicitor of Burlington, Iowa, for six years; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election to Congress in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893).

Segar, Joseph E., a Representative from Virginia; born in King William county, Va., June 1, 1804; attended the common schools; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); presented credentials on February 17, 1865, as United States Senator-elect, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Lemuel J. Bowden, but was not permitted to take his seat; unsuccessful Republican candidate for election to the Forty-fifth Congress; died in 1885.

Selby, Thomas Jefferson, a Representative from Illinois; born in Delaware county, Ohio, December 4, 1840; attended the common schools; studied law, admitted to the bar in 1869, and commenced practice in 1875; sheriff of Jersey county, Ill., 1864–1866; published the Jersey County Democrat 1866–1870; county clerk 1869–1877; mayor of Jerseyville, Ill., two terms; state attorney for Calhoun county 1888–1900; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1903); state's attorney, and resides in Hardin, Ill.

Selden, Dudley, a Representative from New York; member of the state assembly in 1831; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1833, until his resignation July 1, 1834; member of the board of trustees of the first national bank of New York City; died in Paris, France, November 7, 1835.

Selye, Lewis, a Representative from New York; born in Chittenango, N. Y., July 11, 1808; attended the common schools; manufacturer; moved to Rochester, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1869).

Semmes, Benedict I., a Representative from Maryland; born in Charles county, Md., November 1, 1789; was graduated from the Baltimore medical school in 1811; practiced a few years at Piscataway, Md., and subsequently engaged in farming; member of the state house of representatives 1825, 1827, and 1828; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1833); reelected to the state house of representatives in 1842, and 1843.

Semple, James, a Senator from Illinois; born in Green county, Ky., January 5, 1798; attended the common schools; served in the Black Hawk war; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Clinton county, Ky.; moved to Edwardsville, Ill., in 1827; member of the state house of representatives 1828–1833, and served as speaker four years; attorney general of Illinois 1833; chargé d'affaires to Colombia October 14, 1837, to April 1, 1842; judge of the state supreme court 1842–1843; appointed, and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Samuel McRoberts, and served from December 4, 1843, to March 3, 1847; died in Elsay, Ill., December 20, 1866.

Sener, James B., a Representative from Virginia; born in Fredericksburg, Va., May 18, 1837; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; army correspondent of the Southern associated press with Gen. Lee's army; delegate in the Republican national convention in Philadelphia in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); died in Washington, D. C., November 18, 1903.

Seney, George Ebbert, a Representative from Ohio; born in Uniontown, Fayette county, Pa., May 29, 1832; moved with his parents to Tiffin, Ohio, in November, 1832; attended Norwalk (Ohio) seminary; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and practiced in Tiffin; candidate for presidential elector on the Buchanan and Breckinridge ticket in 1856; judge of the court of common pleas in 1857; in July, 1862, enlisted in the one hundred and first Ohio regiment, and subsequently commissioned a first lieutenant, and acted as quartermaster of the regiment until near the close of the war; delegate in the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate; died in Tiffin, Ohio, June 11, 1905.

Seney, Joshua, a Delegate and Representative from Maryland; born near Church Hill, Queen Anne county, Md., March 4, 1756; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1773; studied law, and was admitted to the bar; member of the house of delegates of Maryland; judge in Baltimore, Md.; member of the Continental Congress, 1787–1788; farmer; elected to the First and Second Congresses, and served from March 4, 1789, until his resignation, May 1, 1792; presidential elector in 1792; chief justice of the county court 1792–1796; died near Church Hill, Queen Anne county, Md., October 20, 1798.

Senter, William Tandy, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Grainger county, Tenn., May 12, 1801; attended the common schools; held several local offices; farmer and minister; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); died in Panther Springs, Tenn., August 28, 1848.

Sergeant, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 5, 1779; attended the common schools and the University of Pennsylvania; was graduated from Princeton college in 1795; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1799, and practiced in Philadelphia for fifty years; deputy attorney general for Philadelphia in 1800; commissioner of bankruptcy for Pennsylvania in 1801; member of the state legislature 1808–1810; elected as a Federalist to the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1823); president of the Pennsylvania board of canal commissioners 1825; envoy to the Panama congress 1826; re-elected to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1829); unsuccessful Whig candidate for election as Vice President of the United States in 1832; president of the convention of 1838 to remodel the constitution of Pennsylvania; again elected to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1837, until his resignation, September 15, 1841; declined the appointment of United States minister to England in 1841; died in Philadelphia, Pa., November 25, 1852.

Sergeant, Jonathan Dickinson, a Delegate from New Jersey; born in Newark, N. J., in 1746; moved with his parents to Princeton, N. J., in 1758; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1763; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; clerk to the state convention in 1774; secretary of the New Jersey convention in 1775; member of the state constitutional convention of 1776; elected to the Continental Congress and served 1776, and until his resignation in June, 1777; attorney general of Pennsylvania in 1777–1780; member of the council of safety, Pennsylvania, 1777; moved to Philadelphia, Pa., in 1780; counsel for the state in the Wyoming land controversy with Connecticut in 1782; died in Philadelphia, Pa., October 8, 1793.

Sessions, Walter Loomis, a Representative from New York; born in Brandon, Vt., October 4, 1820; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Jamestown, N. Y.; taught school several years; commissioner of schools; member of the state assembly 1853–1854; member of the state senate in 1859; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1875); re-elected to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1887); state commissioner to the World's Columbian exposition in Chicago, Ill., in 1893; died in Panama, N. Y., May 27, 1896.

Sessinghaus, Gustave, a Representative from Missouri; born in Koela, Prussia, November 8, 1838; emigrated to the United States and settled in St. Louis, Mo.; member of the school board 1878–1880; successfully contested the election of Richard G. Frost to the Forty-seventh Congress, and served one day only, March 3, 1883; died in St. Louis, Mo., November 16, 1887.

Settle, Evan Evans, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Frankfort, Ky., December 1, 1848; was graduated from Louisville high school in June, 1864; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1870, and practiced in Owenton, Owenton county, Ky.; county attorney in 1878, 1882, 1886, and resigned in 1887; elected to the Kentucky legislature and served 1887–1888 and 1889–1890; delegate in the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 3, 1897, until his death in Owenton, Ky., November 16, 1899.

Settle, Thomas, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Rockingham county, N. C., March 9, 1789; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1812, and began practice in Wentworth, N. C.; member of the state house of commons 1816; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821); declined a reelection; re-elected to the house of commons 1826–1827, and served as speaker in the last session; judge of the superior courts of North Carolina in 1832; died in Rockingham county, N. C., August 5, 1857.

Settle, Thomas, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Rockingham county, N. C., March 10, 1865; attended the public schools of North Carolina and Florida, and Georgetown college, District of Columbia; studied law in Greensboro, N. C., and was admitted to the bar in October, 1885; elected as a Republican solicitor of the ninth judicial district in 1886 and 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifty-fifth Congress.

Severance, Luther, a Representative from Maine; born in Montague, Mass., October 28, 1797; moved with his parents to Cazenovia, N. Y., in 1799; attended the public schools; learned the printer's trade in Peterboro, N. Y.; established the Kennebec Journal in Augusta, Me., in 1825; member of the state house of representatives in 1829; served in the state senate 1835–1836; again member of the state house of representatives 1839–1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); vice-president of the Whig national convention in Philadelphia, Pa., June 7, 1848; United States commissioner to the Sandwich Islands 1850–1854; died in Augusta, Me., January 25, 1855.

Sevier, Ambrose Hundley, a Delegate and a Senator from Arkansas; born in Greene county, Tenn., November 10, 1801; completed preparatory studies; moved to Missouri in 1820 and to Little Rock, Ark., in 1821; clerk of the Territorial house of representatives; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1823; member of the territorial house of representatives 1823–1827, and served as speaker in 1827; elected as a Whig to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1827, until the territory was admitted into the Union as a state, June 15, 1836; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected, and served from September 18, 1836, until his resignation March 15, 1848; minister plenipotentiary to Mexico to negotiate the treaty of peace between that republic and the United States, and served from March 15, 1848, until June 4, 1848; died in Jefferson county, Ark., December 31, 1848.

Sevier, John, a Representative from North Carolina and Tennessee; born in Rockingham county, Va., September 23, 1745; attended the common schools and the academy at Fredericksburg, Va.; moved with his brothers to Watauga county, N. C., in 1773 and settled on the Holsten river, North Carolina (now Tennessee); captain of colonial militia under Washington, in Governor Dunmore's war against the Indians 1773–1774; county clerk and district judge in 1777–1780; received the thanks of the North Carolina legislature for meritorious service at the battle of Kings Mountain, October 7, 1780; elected as a Democrat from North Carolina to the First Congress (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1791); general in the provincial army; on the admission of Tennessee was chosen governor and served 1796–1801, and 1803–1809; elected from Tennessee to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1815); commissioner to determine the boundary between Georgia and the Creek territory in Alabama until his death near Fort Decatur, Ala., September 24, 1815.

Sewall, Charles S., a Representative from Maryland; born in Elkton, Md.; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected to the Twenty-second Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of George E. Mitchell, and served from December 3, 1832, to March 3, 1833; reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of James W. Williams, and served from January 7, 1843, to March 3, 1843.

Sewall, Samuel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., December 11, 1757; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Harvard college in 1776; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Marblehead, Mass.; member of the state legislature; elected to the Fifth and Sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1797, until his resignation January 10, 1800; associate judge of the supreme court of Massachusetts 1801–1813, and was chief justice 1813–1814; presidential elector in 1801; died in Wiscasset, Me., June 8, 1814.

Seward, James Lindsay, a Representative from Georgia; born in Dublin, Laurens county, Ga., in 1813; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Thomasville, Ga.; member of the state legislature 1836–1842; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1859); resumed the practice of law in Thomasville, Ga., until his death November 21, 1886.

Seward, William Henry, a Senator from New York; born in Florida, N. Y., May 16, 1801; attended Farmers Hall academy, Goshen, N. Y., and attended Union college 1816–1819; left college and taught school 1819–1820; returned, and was graduated in 1820; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Auburn, N. Y., in 1823; member of the state senate 1830–1834; unsuccessful as the Whig candidate for governor in 1834; elected as a Whig governor of New York 1838–1842; elected to the United States Senate in 1849; reelected, and served from March 4, 1849, to March 3, 1861; secretary of state of the United States in President Lincoln's and President Johnson's cabinets from March 5, 1861, until March 3, 1869; made a tour of the world and was received with the highest honors at all foreign courts; largely instrumental in securing redress from Great Britain for damage wrought American shipping on the high seas by the Alabama, and in concluding with Russia the arrangement for the purchase of Alaska by the treaty of March 30, 1867; died in Auburn, N. Y., October 16, 1872.

Sewell, William Joyce, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Castlebar, Ireland, December 6, 1835; came to the United States in 1851; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Chicago, Ill.;

returned to Camden, N. J., in 1860; commissioned captain of the fifth New Jersey volunteers August 28, 1861; lieutenant colonel July 7, 1862; colonel January 6, 1863; resigned July 6, 1864; recommissioned colonel of the thirty-eighth New Jersey infantry October 1, 1864; brevet brigadier general of volunteers March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service in the battle of Chancellorsville, Va."; major general of volunteers March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service during the war"; honorably mustered out June 30, 1865; awarded medal of honor March 25, 1896, "for having assumed command of a brigade at Chancellorsville, Va., May 3, 1863, where he rallied around his colors a mass of men from other regiments and fought those troops with great brilliancy through several hours of desperate conflict, remaining in command though wounded and inspiring them by his presence and the gallantry of his personal example"; after the war became connected with railroads in New Jersey; elected to the state senate from Camden county in 1872, 1875, and 1878, and served as president of the senate 1876, 1879, and 1880; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1881, until March 3, 1887; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1876, 1880, 1884, 1888, and 1892; one of the national commissioners for New Jersey of the World's Fair in Chicago; in command of the second brigade of the National guard of New Jersey; reelected to the United States Senate in 1895 and 1901, and served from March 4, 1895, until his death in Camden, N. J., December 27, 1901.

Sexton, Leonidas, a Representative from Indiana; born in Rushville, Ind., May 19, 1827; was graduated from Jefferson college, Pennsylvania, in 1847; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Rushville, Ind.; member of the state house of representatives in 1856; lieutenant governor of Indiana 1873–1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); died in Parsons, Kans., July 4, 1880.

Seybert, Adam, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., May 16, 1773; attended the common schools; completed the medical course in the University of Pennsylvania in 1793; continued studies in Europe; returned to Philadelphia and engaged in business as a chemist and mineralogist; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh, Twelfth, and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1815); reelected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); died in Paris, France, May 2, 1825.

Seymour, David Lowrey, a Representative from New York; born in Wethersfield, Conn., December 2, 1803; was graduated from Yale college in 1826; tutor at Yale college 1828–1830; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and began practice in Troy, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives in 1836; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); reelected to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); district attorney and master of chancery; member of the constitutional convention of New York in 1867; died in Lanesboro, Mass., October 11, 1867.

Seymour, Edward Woodruff, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Litchfield, Conn., August 30, 1832; was graduated from Yale college in 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1856, and practiced; member of the Connecticut house of representatives in 1859, 1860, 1870, and 1871; member of the state senate in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law; in November, 1889, was appointed a judge of the supreme court of Connecticut; died in Litchfield, Conn., October 16, 1892.

Seymour, Henry William, a Representative from Michigan; born in Brockport, Monroe county, N. Y., July 21, 1834; attended the Brockport collegiate institute and the Canandaigua academy, and was graduated from Williams college, Williamstown, Mass., in 1855; studied law in Albany, N. Y., taking lectures at the Albany law school, and was admitted to practice May, 1856; engaged in the manufacture of reapers, and subsequently in the manufacture of lumber and in farming; elected to the state house of representatives in 1880; member of the state senate in 1882 and 1886; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Seth C. Moffatt, and served from December 22, 1887, to March 4, 1889; died in Washington, D. C., April 6, 1906.

Seymour, Horatio, a Senator from Vermont; born in Litchfield, Conn., May 31, 1778; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Yale college in 1797; taught school in Cheshire, Conn.; studied in the Litchfield law school, and was admitted to the bar in 1800, and commenced practice in Middlebury, Vt.; postmaster of Middlebury 1800–1809; member of the state council 1809–1814; state's attorney for Addison county 1810–1813 and 1815–1819; elected as a Clay Democrat to the United States Senate in 1821; reelected in 1827, and served from March 4, 1821, until March 3, 1833; unsuccessful Whig candidate for governor of Vermont in 1836; judge of the probate court 1847–1856; died in Middlebury, Vt., November 21, 1857.

Seymour, Origen Storrs, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Litchfield, Conn., February 9, 1804; was graduated from Yale college in 1824; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1826, and began practice in Litchfield, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives and its speaker in 1850; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1855); judge of the superior court of Connecticut 1855–1863; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1864; judge of the state supreme court 1873; chief justice of Connecticut in 1873; again member of the state legislature in 1880; died in Litchfield, Conn., August 12, 1881.

Seymour, Thomas Hart, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Hartford, Conn., September 29, 1807; was graduated from Middletown military academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1833, and began practice in Hartford, Conn.; engaged in newspaper work; judge of probate; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); served in the Mexican war; major Connecticut infantry March 16, 1847, and of the ninth United States infantry April 9, 1847; lieutenant colonel of the twelfth infantry August 12, 1847; brevet colonel September 13, 1847, "for gallant and meritorious conduct in the battle of Chapultepec, Mexico"; honorably mustered out July 25, 1848; unsuccessful candidate for governor of Connecticut in 1849; presidential elector on the Pierce and King ticket in 1852; governor of Connecticut 1850–1853; minister to Russia 1853–1858; again the unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1863; died in Hartford, Conn., September 3, 1868.

Seymour, William, a Representative from New York; native of Connecticut; moved to Binghamton, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835–March 3, 1837).

Shackleford, John Williams, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Richlands, Onslow county, N. C., November 16, 1844; attended the common schools and Richlands academy in Richlands, N. C.; entered the confederate army at the age of seventeen and attained the rank of lieutenant; democratic member of the state house of representatives in 1872, and was reelected in 1874 and 1876; member of the state senate in 1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1881, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 18, 1883.

Shackleford, Dorsey William, a Representative from Missouri; born in Saline county, Mo., August 27, 1853; attended the public schools; taught school 1877–1879; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Boonville, Mo., May 9, 1879; served as prosecuting attorney of Cooper county, Mo., 1882–1886 and 1890–1892; judge of the fourteenth judicial circuit of Missouri from June 1, 1892, until his resignation September 9, 1899; elected as a Democrat August 29, 1899, to the Fifty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Richard P. Bland; reelected to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses, and served from December 4, 1899, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Shafer, Jacob K., a Delegate from Idaho Territory; born in Rockingham county, Va., December 26, 1823; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from the law school of L. P. Thompson, in Staunton, Va., in 1846; moved to Stockton, Cal.; was admitted to the bar, and began practice; elected district attorney of the fifth judicial district of California in 1850; mayor of Stockton in 1852; judge of San Joaquin county court 1853–1862; moved to Washington (now Idaho) territory in 1862; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871).

Shafroth, John Franklin, a Representative from Colorado; born in Fayette, Mo., June 9, 1854; was graduated from the university of Michigan in 1875; studied law, was admitted to the bar in August, 1876, and practiced in Fayette, Mo., until October, 1879; moved to Denver, Colo.; elected city attorney in 1887 and 1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress; reelected as a Silver Republican to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses; presented credentials as a Democrat member-elect to the Fifty-eighth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, until February 15, 1904, when he declared the conviction that Robert W. Bonyng, contestant, was duly elected and entitled to the seat held by him; elected governor of Colorado in 1908, and reelected.

Shallenberger, Ashton Cokayne, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Toulon, Stark county, Ill., December 23, 1862; attended the common schools and the University of Illinois; moved to Nebraska in 1881 and located in Polk county; moved in 1887 to Alma, Harlan county, Nebr.; engaged in banking and stock raising; elected Democratic member of the Nebraska bimetallic league; temporary chairman of the Democratic state convention in 1897; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1903), as the candidate of the Democratic, Populist, and Silver Republican parties; governor of Nebraska 1908–1911; a resident of Alma, Nebr.

Shallenberger, William Shadrack, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Mount Pleasant, Westmoreland county, Pa., November 24, 1839; attended the public schools and Mount Pleasant academy, and was graduated from Lewisburg university in 1862; engaged in mercantile pursuits; entered the Union army in 1862 in the one hundred and fortieth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, and soon afterwards appointed adjutant of the regiment; wounded in the battles of Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, and the Wilderness; mustered out of service in October, 1864; engaged in the mercantile business in Rochester, Pa.; chairman of the Beaver county Republican committee in 1872 and 1874; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1883); served as Second Assistant Postmaster General from 1897 to 1907; a resident of Washington, D. C.

Shanklin, George S., a Representative from Kentucky; native of Kentucky; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; presidential elector on the McClellan and Pendleton ticket in 1864; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867).

Shanks, John Peter Cleaver, a Representative from Indiana; born in Martinsburg, Va. (now West Virginia), June 17, 1826; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Portland, Ind.; member of the state legislature in 1854; served in the Union army; colonel and aide de camp to General Fremont September 20 to November 19, 1861; colonel and aide de camp March 31, 1862, to October 9, 1863; colonel of the seventh Indiana cavalry October 9, 1863; brevet brigadier general of volunteers December 8, 1864; major general of volunteers March 13, 1865, "for faithful and meritorious service during the war"; mustered out September 19, 1865; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); reelected to the Fortieth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1875); died in Portland, Ind., January 23, 1901.

Shannon, Richard Cutts, a Representative from New York; born in New London, Conn., February 12, 1839; was graduated from Waterville (Me.) college (now Colby university); served as a volunteer in the Union army during the civil war; appointed secretary of the United States legation at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in 1871, and served until March, 1875, when he resigned; took charge of the Botanical garden railroad company in 1876, an American enterprise in Brazil, of which he subsequently became the vice president and general manager, and finally president; was graduated from the law school of Columbia college in 1885, and was admitted to the New York bar; appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Nicaragua, Salvador, and Costa Rica in 1891, and served until April, 1893; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1899).

Shannon, Thomas, a Representative from Ohio; born in Washington county, Pa., November 15, 1787; served in the War of 1812 and attained the rank of captain; member of the state house of representatives 1819–1822, and 1824–1825; served in the state senate in 1829, and 1837–1841; elected to the Nineteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of David Jennings, and served from December 4, 1826, to March 3, 1827; died in Barnesville, Ohio, March 16, 1843.

Shannon, Thomas B., a Representative from California; born in Westmoreland county, Pa., in 1827; attended the public schools; moved to Illinois in 1844, and to California in 1849; merchant; served four years in the state legislature; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); collector of customs in San Francisco.

Shannon, Wilson, a Representative from Ohio; born in Mount Olivet, Belmont county, Ohio, February 24, 1802; was graduated from Transylvania college, Kentucky; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in St. Clairsville, Ohio; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Twenty-third Congress; attorney for Belmont county 1833–1835; state prosecuting attorney in 1835; governor of Ohio 1838–1840, and 1842–1844; United States minister to Mexico 1844–1845; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); governor of Kansas Territory 1855–1856; resumed the practice of law in Lawrence, Kans., where he died August 31, 1877.

Sharon, William, a Senator from Nevada; born in Smithfield, Ohio, January 9, 1821; entered Athens college in 1842, and remained there two years; moved to St. Louis, Mo.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Carrollton, Ill.; moved to California in 1849 and engaged in business in Sacramento; went to San Francisco in 1850 and was a dealer in real estate; moved to Virginia City, Nev., in 1864, as the manager of the branch of the Bank of California, and became interested in mines; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1881; resided in San Francisco, Cal., until his death, November 13, 1885.

Sharp, Solomon P., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Virginia in 1780; moved to Kentucky; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1799 began practice; served several terms in the state house of representatives; attorney general of Kentucky; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1817); again elected to the legislature and was assassinated in November, 1835.

Sharp, William Graves, a Representative from Ohio; born in Mount Gilead, Ohio, March 14, 1859; moved with his parents to Elyria, Ohio; was graduated from the public schools and from the law department of the University of Michigan, in 1881, and was admitted to the bar and practiced; elected prosecuting attorney of Lorain county; engaged in the manufacturing business; Democratic presidential elector in 1892; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Congress in 1900; delegate in the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in 1904; elected as Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Sharpe, Peter, a Representative from New York; native of that state; completed preparatory studies; member of the state house of representatives 1814–1820, and served as speaker; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1821; presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Seventeenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1821, to December 12, 1821, when he was succeeded by Cadwallader D. Colden, who contested his election; elected to Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825).

Sharpe, William, a Delegate from North Carolina; born in Cecil County, Md., December 13, 1742; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Mecklenburg county, N. C., in 1763; surveyor; member of the provincial congress in 1775; delegate in the convention in Halifax, 1776, and helped to frame the first constitution of the state; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1779–1782; member of the state house of commons 1781–1782; died in Iredell county, N. C., July 1, 1818.

Shartel, Cassius M., a Representative from Missouri; born in Crawford county, Pa., April 27, 1860; moved with his parents to Knox county, Mo., and resided there until 1873; moved with his parents to Chautauqua county, Kans.; attended the common schools and spent one year in college; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Sedan, Kans., in 1881; moved to Nevada, Mo., in 1887 and practiced law; removed to Neosho, Mo., and practiced; delegate in the Republican national convention in Philadelphia in 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1907).

Shattuc, William B., a Representative from Ohio; born in North Hector, N. Y., June 11, 1841; moved with his parents to Ohio, in 1852; attended the public schools; commissioned officer in the Union army during the Civil war; an officer in the railway traffic service for thirty years previous to 1895; elected to the state senate in 1895; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1903); died July 13, 1911.

Shaw, Aaron, a Representative from Illinois; born in Orange county, N. Y., December 19, 1811; attended Moutgomery academy, New York; studied law in Goshen, N. Y., and was admitted to the bar; moved to Lawrence county, Ill., in 1833; delegate in the first internal improvement convention of Illinois; elected state attorney by the legislature of Illinois; member of the state legislature; elected circuit judge of the fourth judicial district of Illinois and served six years; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); reelected to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); died in Olney, Richland county, Ill., January 7, 1887.

Shaw, Albert Duane, a Representative from New York; born in Lyme, Jefferson county, N. Y., December 27, 1841; attended Belleville and Union academies, and Canton university; enlisted as a private in company A, thirty-fifth New York volunteers, in June, 1861, and served out the term of enlistment; appointed a special agent of the War Department in 1863, stationed at provost marshal's headquarters in Watertown, N. Y., and served until the close of the war; member of the state assembly in 1866; appointed colonel of the thirty-sixth regiment, national guard, state of New York, in 1867, and resigned to accept the position of United States consul at Toronto, Canada, in 1868; promoted to Manchester, England, in 1878; elected department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic of New York in 1896; unanimously elected commander in chief of the national encampment in 1899; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Charles A. Chickering, and served from December 3, 1900, until his death; reelected to the Fifty-seventh Congress, but died before the assembling of the Congress in Washington, D. C., February 8, 1901.

Shaw, Frank Thomas, a Representative from Maryland; born in Woodsboro, Frederick county, Md., October 7, 1841; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the medical department of the University of Maryland in 1864; located in Uniontown, Carroll county, Md., and practiced until November, 1873; elected clerk of the circuit court for Carroll county in 1873 and 1879; declined the nomination for Representative to the Forty-seventh Congress; member of the Democratic state central committee of Maryland; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889); member of the state legislature in 1890; state tax commissioner 1890–1894; appointed by President Cleveland collector of customs for the port of Baltimore; retired, and a resident of Westminster, Md.

Shaw, George Bullen, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Alma, Allegany county, N. Y., March 12, 1854; attended the public schools; lumber manufacturer; mayor of Eau Claire, Wis., in 1888 and 1889; delegate in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1884; supreme chancellor Knights of Pythias of the World from July, 1890, to August, 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1893, until his death in Eau Claire, Wis., August 27, 1894.

Shaw, Henry, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Castleton, Vt., in 1788; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Lanesboro, Mass., in 1810; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821); member of the Massachusetts house of representatives for eighteen years; presidential elector in 1833; moved to New York City in 1848; member of the New York house of representatives in 1853; moved to Newbury, Vt., in 1854; died in Peekskill, N. Y., October 17, 1857.

Shaw, Henry Marchmore, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Newport, R. I., November 20, 1819; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania, in 1838, and began practice in India town, N. C.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); reelected to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); served in the Confederate army and was killed near Newbern, N. C., November 1, 1864.

Shaw, John G., a Representative from North Carolina; born near Fayetteville, N. C., January 16, 1859; attended the common schools; engaged in the naval-store business; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1888; member of the general assembly in 1888; located in Fayetteville, N. C.; elected county attorney for Cumberland county in 1890, and held the position four years; Democratic presidential elector in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); resumed the practice of law.

Shaw, Samuel, a Representative from Vermont; born in Dighton, Mass., December, 1768; received a limited schooling; moved to Putney, Vt., and studied medicine, and began practice in Castleton, Vt., in 1799; imprisoned for a bitter denunciation of President Adams, but liberated by the people; member of the state house of representatives in 1799; elected to the Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1813); served in the United States army; hospital surgeon April 6, 1813; honorably discharged June 15, 1815; reinstated September 13, 1815; post surgeon April 18, 1818; resigned December 31, 1818; died in Clarendon, Vt., July 9, 1834.

Shaw, Tristram, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Exeter, N. H., May 23, 1786; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843); died in Exeter, N. H., March 14, 1843.

Sheafe, James, a Representative and a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Portsmouth, N. H., November 16, 1755; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Harvard college in 1774; merchant; member of the state house of representatives; elected to the state senate; elected as a Federalist to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799–March 3, 1801); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1801, until his resignation, June 14, 1802; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1816; died in Portsmouth, N. H., December 5, 1829.

Sheakley, James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Sheakleyville, Pa., April 24, 1829; pursued classical studies; went to California in 1849; returned to Pennsylvania in 1854 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); appointed United States Commissioner to Alaska by President Cleveland in July, 1887, and served five years; delegate in the Democratic national convention in Chicago in 1892; governor of Alaska 1893–1897; again returned to Pennsylvania in 1898; elected mayor of Greenville, Pa., in 1909.

Sheats, Charles Christopher, a Representative from Alabama; born in Walker county, Ala., April 10, 1839; attended the common schools; elected a member of the secession convention in 1860 and refused to sign the ordinance of secession; member of the lower house of the general assembly in 1861, and expelled for his adherence to Unionism in 1862; imprisoned for treason by the Confederates, could not obtain a trial, and was not released until after the close of the war; member of the constitutional convention in 1865; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1867; presidential elector on the Grant ticket; consul to Denmark in 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); died in Decatur, Ala., May 27, 1904.

Sheffer, Daniel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in York county, Pa., May 24, 1783; studied medicine in Philadelphia and commenced practice in York Springs, Pa.; associate judge of Adams county, Pa., for twenty-four years; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twenty-sixth Congress; died in York Springs, Pa., February 16, 1880.

Sheffey, Daniel, a Representative from Virginia; born in Frederick, Md., in 1770; pursued classical studies; located in Abbeville, Va.; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served in the house of delegates; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1817); died in Staunton, Va., December 3, 1830.

Sheffield, William Paine, a Representative and a Senator from Rhode Island; born in New Shoreham, R. I., August 30, 1820; completed preparatory studies; attended Kingston academy (R. I.), and was graduated from Harvard law school in 1843; was admitted to the bar in 1844, and began practice in New Shoreham; delegate in the state constitutional conventions of 1841 and 1842; member of the state house of representatives in 1845; moved to Tiverton, R. I., and again elected to the state house of representatives 1849–1853; moved to Newport, R. I., and again elected to the state house of representatives 1857–1861; elected as a Union candidate to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); again served in the state house of representatives 1875–1884; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Henry B. Anthony, and served from November 19, 1884, to January 20, 1885; died in Newport, R. I., June 2, 1907.

Sheffield, William Paine, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., June 1, 1857; attended Phillips academy, Andover, Mass., 1873, and was graduated from Brown university in 1877; studied law in the university of Paris and in Harvard law school; was admitted to the bar in 1880 and engaged in the practice of his profession in Newport, R. I.; commissioner on abolishing Narragansett tribe of Indians in 1880; colonel on the staff of Gov. George Peabody Wetmore; member of the state house of representatives; member of the commission to revise the constitution of the state in 1897; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911); defeated for reelection to the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses; member of the committee to revise the constitution of the state; member of the Republican national committee in 1913; and is a resident of Newport, R. I.

Shelden, Carlos Douglas, a Representative from Michigan; born in Walworth, Walworth county, Wis., June 10, 1840; moved with his parents to Houghton county, Mich., in 1847; attended the Union school, Ypsilanti, Mich., and returned to his home in the fall of 1861; served through the Civil war as captain in the twenty-third Michigan infantry; returned to Houghton and entered mercantile business with his father; elected to the state house of representatives in 1892; member of the state senate in 1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1903); died in Houghton, Mich., June 24, 1904.

Sheldon, Lionel Allen, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Worcester, Otsego county, N. Y., August 30, 1829; moved with his parents to Ohio; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Oberlin college; studied law, was admitted to the bar and began practice in Elyria, Ohio; judge of the probate court; delegate in the Republican national convention in 1856; commissioned brigadier general of the militia; served in the Union army; lieutenant colonel of the forty-second Ohio infantry November 27, 1861; colonel March 14, 1862; brevet brigadier general of volunteers March 13, 1865, "for faithful and meritorious service"; honorably mustered out December 2, 1864; located in New Orleans, La., and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1875); presidential elector on the Hayes and Wheeler ticket in 1877; returned to Ohio in 1879; delegate in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1880; governor of New Mexico 1881–1885; moved to Pasadena, Cal.; delegate in the Republican national convention in St. Louis in 1896; a resident of Pasadena, Cal.

Sheldon, Porter, a Representative from New York; born in Victor, N. Y., September 29, 1831; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Randolph, N. Y.; moved to Rockport, Ill., in 1857, and practiced; member of the Illinois constitutional convention of 1861; returned to Jamestown, N. Y., in 1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); died in Jamestown, N. Y., August 15, 1908.

Shell, George Washington, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Laurens county, S. C., November 13, 1831; attended country school; entered the Confederate army in April, 1861, and remained in the service until the surrender at Appomattox; served as private, lieutenant, and captain; resumed farming; served as clerk of court for six years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1895); died in Laurens county, near Laurens, S. C., December 15, 1899.

Shellabarger, Samuel, a Representative from Ohio; born in Clark county, Ohio, December 10, 1817; was graduated from Miami university in 1841; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Springfield, Ohio, in 1846; member of the state house of representatives 1852–1853; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-eighth Congress; reelected to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1869); minister to Portugal April 21, 1869, to December 31, 1869; civil service commissioner 1874–1875; again elected to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); resumed the practice of law until his death in Washington, D. C., August 7, 1896.

Shelley, Charles Miller, a Representative from Alabama; born in Sullivan county, Tenn., December 28, 1833; moved with his father to Selma, Ala., in 1836; received a limited schooling; became an architect and builder; entered the Confederate army in February, 1861, as lieutenant, and was stationed first at Fort Morgan, and afterwards attached to the fifth Alabama regiment; was commissioned brigadier general, and served under Gen. Joseph E. Johnston and General Hood; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1881); presented credentials as a member elect to the Forty-seventh Congress, but the election was contested by James Q. Smith, and the seat declared vacant July 20, 1882; subsequently elected to fill vacancy thus caused, and served from November 7, 1882, to March 3, 1883; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-eighth Congress, and served until January 9, 1885, when he was succeeded by George H. Craig, who contested his election; a resident of Birmingham, Ala.

Shepard, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Westfield, Mass., December 1, 1737; attended the common schools; volunteered in defense of the frontier settlements against the incursions of the French and Indians in 1754; two years later was appointed to the office of sergeant; was lieutenant under General Abercrombie, and was promoted to be captain under General Amherst; served six years in the French war, and took part in the battles of Fort William Henry, Ticonderoga, Crown Point, Isle aux Noix, St. Johns, and Montreal; returned to Westfield; one of the committee of correspondence for Westfield in 1774, to carry out the resolves of the provincial congress, and lieutenant colonel of minute men in April, 1775; entered the colonial army in May, 1775, as lieutenant colonel in the regiment commanded by Col. Timothy Danielson; commissioned colonel of the fourth Massachusetts regiment in 1776; when the British landed at Pells Point he was appointed by Washington to guard the retreat of the troops from Long Island; served with Washington during the retreat through New Jersey and the subsequent successes at Trenton, Princeton, and Monmouth; dispatched to the northern army under Gates, and took part in the battles which led to the surrender of Burgoyne on October 17, 1777, and in the retreat from Rhode Island in 1778; commanded a brigade under General Lafayette in 1780, which he retained until the close of the war in 1783, having participated in twenty-two battles; elected to the lower branch of the general court of Massachusetts in 1785 and 1786; chosen major general of the fourth division, Massachusetts militia, in 1786; complimented by the general court of Massachusetts for his gallantry in the successful defense of the Springfield arsenal; appointed in 1796 to treat with the Penobscot Indians and in 1797 with the Six Nations; presidential elector for the first and second elections under the constitution 1788-1792; member of the governor's council of Massachusetts 1792-1796; elected to the Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1803); died in Westfield, Mass., November 11, 1817.

Shepard, William Biddle, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Newbern, N. C., May 14, 1799; was graduated from the University of North Carolina; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Elizabeth City, N. C.; elected as a Whig to the Twentieth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1837); declined another election; member of the state senate 1838-1848; died in Elizabeth City, N. C., June 20, 1852.

Shepherd, Charles Biddle, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Newbern, N. C., December 5, 1807; was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Newbern, N. C.; elected to the state legislature, to fill out the unexpired term of Charles Spaight in 1831; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); died in Newbern, N. C., October 31, 1843.

Shepley, Ether, a Senator from Maine; born in Groton, Mass., November 2, 1789; attended Groton academy, and was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1811; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1814, and began practice in Saco, Mass., (now Maine); member of the state house of representatives in 1819; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1820; United States attorney for the district of Maine 1821-1823; moved to Portland, Me.; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1833, until his resignation March 3, 1836; justice of the supreme court of Maine 1836-1848; chief justice of the supreme court 1848-1855; died in Portland, Me., January 15, 1877.

Shepler, Matthias, a Representative from Ohio; native of Pennsylvania; moved to Ohio and settled in Bethlehem; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839).

Sheppard, John Levi, a Representative from Texas; born in Bluffton, Chambers county, Ala., April 13, 1852; moved with his mother to Morris county, Tex.; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Daingerfield, Tex., in 1879; district attorney of the fifth judicial district 1882-1888; district judge of the same district 1888-1896; temporary chairman of the Democratic state convention in 1892; appointed delegate to the bimetallic convention in Chicago in 1893; delegate in the Democratic national convention in Chicago, in 1896; served as the Texas member of the presidential notification committee, which met in New York City in August, 1896; retired from the bench in the winter of 1896-1897; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1899, until his death in Texarkana, Tex., October 11, 1902.

Sheppard, Morris, a Representative from Texas; born May 28, 1875, in Wheatville, Morris county, Tex.; attended the common schools of Daingerfield, Pittsburg, Cumby, Austin, and Linden, and was graduated from the University of Texas in 1895, and from Yale university in 1898; elected sovereign banker, or national treasurer of the Woodmen of the World in 1899; elected the first president of the Texas fraternal congress in Dallas in 1901; was admitted to the bar and began practice in Pittsburg, Tex., in 1898; moved to Texarkana in 1899; literary editor Texas Woodman and Woodman Journal, of San Antonio and Dallas, respectively; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress, November 15, 1902, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John L. Sheppard; reelected to the Fifty-eighth, and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from December 1, 1902-March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Shepperd, Augustine H., a Representative from North Carolina; born in Rockford, N. C.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Surry county, N. C.; member of the house of commons of North Carolina 1822-1826; elected to the Twentieth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1839); unsuccessful candidate for the Twenty-sixth Congress; reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); again elected to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851).

Sherburne, John Samuel, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Portsmouth, N. H., in 1757; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1776; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Portsmouth, N. H.; served in the Revolutionary army; attained the rank of brigade major of staff; elected to the Third and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1797); United States attorney for the district of New Hampshire 1801-1804; United States judge for the district of New Hampshire from May, 1804, until his death in Portsmouth, N. H., August 2, 1830.

Sheredine, Upton, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore county, Md., in 1740; moved to a farm near Liberty, Frederick county, Md.; member of the state constitutional convention of 1776; judge of the Orphans court of Frederick county; elected to the Second Congress (March 4, 1791-March 3, 1793); died in his home, near Liberty, Frederick county, Md., January 14, 1800.

Sheridan, George A., a Representative from Louisiana; born in Millbury, Mass., February 22, 1840; completed preparatory studies; moved to Illinois; entered the Union army as captain; moved to Louisiana in 1866; sheriff of Carroll parish, La., in 1867; elected as a Liberal to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); appointed recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia in 1878.

Sherley, J. Swagar, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Louisville, Jefferson county, Ky., November 28, 1871; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Louisville male high school June, 1889; studied law in the University of Virginia and was graduated June, 1891; was admitted to practice September, 1891, at the Louisville bar, and practiced in state and federal courts; elected to the Fifty-eighth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Sherman, James Schoolcraft, a Representative from New York; born in Utica, N. Y., October 24, 1855; pursued an academic and collegiate course, and was graduated from Hamilton college in 1878; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1880, and practiced; president of the Utica trust and deposit company, and president of the New Hartford canning company; mayor of Utica in 1884; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1892; chairman of New York state Republican convention in 1895, and again in 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891); reelected to the Fifty-third, and to the seven succeeding Congresses; elected Vice President of the United States in 1908, and served from March 4, 1909, until his death in Utica, N. Y., October 30, 1912.

Sherman, John, a Representative and a Senator from Ohio; born in Lancaster, Ohio, May 10, 1823; attended the common schools and Homer academy, Lancaster, Pa., 1835–1837; junior rodman of an engineer corps 1839; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1844, and began practice in Mansfield, Ohio; delegate in the Whig national convention in Philadelphia June 7, 1848, and served as secretary; delegate in the Whig national convention in Baltimore June 16, 1852; moved to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1853; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1861); delegate in the Republican national convention in Philadelphia June 7, 1860; president of the first Ohio Republican state convention in 1855; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Salmon P. Chase; reelected in 1866 and 1872, and served from March 21, 1861, until his resignation, March 8, 1877; Secretary of the Treasury of the United States during the Hayes administration; reelected to the United States Senate in 1880, 1886, and 1892, and served from March 4, 1881, until his resignation, March 4, 1897; Secretary of State of the United States from March 5, 1897, until his resignation, April 25, 1898; retired to private life; died in Washington, D. C., October 22, 1900; interment in Mansfield, Ohio.

Sherman, Judson W., a Representative from New York; native of that state; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859).

Sherman, Roger, a Delegate, a Representative, and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Newton, Mass., April 19, 1721; moved with his parents to Stoughton (now Canton), Mass., in 1723; attended the public schools; learned the shoemaker's trade; moved to New Milford, Conn., in 1743; surveyor of New Haven county 1745; studied law and was admitted to the bar in February, 1754; member of the general assembly in 1755 and 1758–1761; justice of the court of common pleas 1759–1761; moved to New Haven, Conn., in June, 1761; member of the state house of representatives 1764–1766; elected to the state senate 1766–1785; judge of the superior court 1766–1789; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1774–1781, and 1783–1784; signer of the Declaration of Independence and a member of the committee which drafted it; member of the committee to prepare the articles of confederation; the only Delegate in the Continental Congress who signed all four of the great state papers—the declaration of 1774, the articles of confederation, the declaration of independence, and the federal constitution; mayor of New Haven 1784, until his death; delegate in the constitutional convention in Philadelphia 1787; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789–1791); elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William S. Johnson, and served from June 13, 1791, until his death in New Haven, Conn., July 23, 1793.

Sherman, Socrates N., a Representative from New York; native of Vermont; moved to Ogdensburg, N. Y.; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863).

Sherrill, Eliakim, a Representative from New York; born in Greenville, Ulster county, N. Y., February 16, 1813; attended the public schools; tanner and farmer; held several local offices; major in state militia; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849); member of the state senate 1854; organized the one hundred and twenty-sixth New York volunteer regiment and became its colonel; wounded at Harpers Ferry, W. Va., September 15, 1862, but remained in the service; commanded the third brigade, third division, second army corps, after Colonel Willard's death, July 2, 1863, at the battle of Gettysburg until he was mortally wounded on July 3, 1863, and died July 4, 1863.

Sherrod, William Crawford, a Representative from Alabama; born in Courtland, Ala., August 17, 1831; attended the common schools and was graduated from Chapel Hill college, N. C.; planter; member of the state house of representatives 1859–1860; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Charleston, S. C.; served in the Confederate army; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); member of the state senate in 1875; retired and resides in Wichita Falls, Tex.

Sherwin, John Crocker, a Representative from Illinois; born in St. Lawrence county, N. Y., February 8, 1838; attended the common schools; Gouverneur Wesleyan seminary in New York and Lombard university in Illinois; studied law and was admitted to the bar; county clerk of Kane county, Ill.; city attorney of Aurora, Ill.; enlisted in the Union army during the civil war in the eighty-ninth Illinois volunteer infantry and served until its close; elected as a Republian to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); died in Benton Harbor, Mich., January 1, 1904.

Sherwood, Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Bridgeport, Conn., October 9, 1817; moved with his parents to Schuyler county, N. Y., in 1817; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1847, and practiced in Wellsboro, Pa.; held several local offices; served in the Texas army under Sam Houston in 1836 and 1837; moved to Georgia county, Pa., in 1840; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); died in Wellsboro, Tioga county, Pa., November 10, 1896.

Sherwood, Isaac R., a Representative from Ohio; born in Stanford, Dutchess county, N. Y., August 13, 1835; attended the common schools, the Hudson river institute, Claverick, N. Y.; Antioch college, Ohio, and the Ohio law college, Poland, Ohio; editor of the Williams County Gazette, Bryan, Ohio, in 1857; elected probate judge of Williams county in October, 1860; enlisted April 22, 1861, as a private in the fourteenth Ohio volunteer infantry; commissioned first lieutenant and adjutant of the one hundred and eleventh Ohio infantry September 6, 1862; major February 13, 1863; lieutenant colonel February 12, 1864; brevet brigadier general of volunteers February 27, 1865; honorably mustered out June 27, 1865; located in Toledo, Ohio, and was editor of the Toledo Commercial; political editorial writer on the Cleveland Leader; secretary of state of Ohio in 1868 and 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); editor of the Toledo Journal in 1875; elected probate judge of Lucas county in 1878 and 1881; reelected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Sherwood, Samuel, a Representative from New York; born in Washington county, N. Y., April 24, 1779; completed preparatory studies; moved to Delhi, N. Y., in 1798; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1800, and practiced in Delhi, N. Y.; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815); moved to New York City in 1830, and died there October 31, 1862.

Sherwood, Samuel B., a Representative from Connecticut; born in that state in 1767; was graduated from Yale college in 1786; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Saugatuck, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); died in Saugatuck, Conn., April 27, 1833.

Shiel, George K., a Representative from Oregon; native of Ireland; emigrated to the United States and located in Oregon; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863).

Shields, Benjamin G., a Representative from Alabama; resided in Demopolis, Ala.; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); chargé d'affaires in Venezuela 1845–1850.

Shields, Ebenezer J., a Representative from Tennessee; native of Georgia; moved to Tennessee and located in Pulaski; was graduated from the university of Nashville in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Pulaski, Tenn., for several years; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835–March 3, 1839); died in Memphis, Tenn., May 20, 1846.

Shields, James, a Senator from Illinois, Minnesota, and Missouri; born in Dungannon, county Tyrone, Ireland, May 6, 1806; emigrated to the United States; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Kaskaskia, Ill.; member of the state house of representatives in 1836; auditor of state 1839; supreme court judge in 1843; Commissioner General Land Office 1845–1847; served in the Mexican war; brigadier general of volunteers July 1, 1864; brevet major general April 18, 1847, "for gallant and meritorious conduct at the battle of Cerro Gordo, Mexico"; honorably discharged July 24, 1848; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate from Illinois, and served from March 4, 1849, to March 3, 1855; moved to Minnesota in 1855; reelected to the United States Senate from Minnesota, and served from May 12, 1858, to March 3, 1859; moved to California; served in the Union army as brigadier general of volunteers from August 19, 1861, until his resignation March 28, 1863; returned to California; moved to Carrollton, Mo., and practiced law; appointed adjutant general of the state in 1877; United States Senator from Missouri from January 24, 1879, to March 3, 1879; died in Ottumwa, Iowa, June 1, 1879.

Shields, James, a Representative from Ohio; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831); died July 17, 1831.

Shinn, William N., a Representative from New Jersey; native of that state; farmer; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1837).

Shipherd, Zebulon R., a Representative from New York; native of Washington county, N. Y.; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815).

Shippen, William, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., October 1, 1712; was graduated from Princeton College in 1754; studied medicine in Europe, and commenced practice in Philadelphia, Pa.; founded the medical school of Philadelphia; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1778–1780; died in Germantown, Pa., November 4, 1801.

Shiras, George, III, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Allegheny, Pa., January 1, 1859; attended Phillips academy, Andover, Mass., and was graduated from Cornell University in 1881, and from the Yale law school in 1883; was admitted to the Connecticut and Pennsylvania bars in 1883, and commenced practice in Pittsburgh, Pa.; member of the Pennsylvania legislature 1889–1890; unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in 1890; elected as an independent to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1905).

Shively, Benjamin Franklin, a Representative and a Senator from Indiana; born in St. Joseph county, Ind., March 20, 1857; attended the common schools, the Northern Indiana normal school, and the University of Michigan; admitted to the bar; taught school 1874-1880; engaged in journalism 1880-1884; secretary of the National antimonopoly organization in 1883; elected to the Forty-eighth Congress as a National Antimonopolist, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William H. Calkins; reelected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, and Fifty-second Congresses, and served from December 1, 1884, to March 3, 1893; resumed the practice of law in South Bend, Ind.; defeated as the Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana in 1896; elected to the United States Senate in 1909, for the term ending March 3, 1915.

Shober, Francis E., a Representative from North Carolina; born in Salem, N. C., March 12, 1831; was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1851; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1854; served in both branches of the North Carolina legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); chief clerk of the United States Senate in the Forty-fifth Congress, and after the death of Secretary Burch was made Acting Secretary of the Senate during the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses; died in Salisbury, N. C., May 29, 1896.

Shober, Francis Emanuel, a Representative from New York; born in Salisbury, N. C., October 24, 1860; attended the common schools; was graduated from St. Stephen's college, Annandale, N. Y., in 1880; engaged in ministerial and educational work in Dutchess county, N. Y.; reporter on the News-Press, of Poughkeepsie; editor of the Rockaway Journal, at Far Rockaway, N. Y.; member of the editorial staff of the New York World; member of the state senate 1887-1891; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905); resumed newspaper work in New York City.

Shoemaker, Lazarus Denison, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Forty Fort, Luzerne County, Pa., November 5, 1819; attended Nazareth hall, Nazareth, Pa., and Kenyon college, Gambier, Ohio, and was graduated from Yale college in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and began practice in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; member of the state senate 1866-1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); died in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., September 9, 1893.

Shonk, George Washington, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Plymouth, Pa., April 26, 1850; attended Wyoming seminary, Kingston, Pa., and was graduated from Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., in 1873; was admitted to the bar of Luzerne county, Pa., September 29, 1876, and commenced practice in Wilkes-Barre; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); interested in coal mining in Pennsylvania; died in Washington, D. C., August 14, 1900.

Shorter, Eli Sims, a Representative from Alabama; born in Monticello, Ga., March 15, 1823; was graduated from Yale college in 1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Eufaula, Ala.; became a planter; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); died in Eufaula, Ala., April 29, 1879.

Shoup, George Laird, a Senator from Idaho; born in Kittanning, Armstrong county, Pa., June 15, 1836; attended the public schools of Freeport and Slate Lick; moved with his father to Illinois in June, 1852; engaged in farming and stock raising near Galesburg, Ill., until 1858; moved to Colorado in 1859; engaged in mining and mercantile pursuits until 1861; in September, 1861, enlisted in Captain Backus's independent company of scouts, and soon thereafter commissioned second lieutenant; ordered to Fort Union, N. Mex., in 1862; kept on scouting duty on the Canadian, Pecos, and Red rivers until 1863; during this time promoted to first lieutenant; ordered to the Arkansas River; had been assigned in 1862 to the second Colorado regiment of volunteer infantry, but retained on duty in the cavalry service; assigned to the first Colorado regiment of cavalry in May, 1863; member of the convention to prepare a constitution for the proposed state of Colorado in 1864; returned to active duty in the army; commissioned colonel of the third Colorado cavalry in September, 1864, and mustered out in Denver; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Virginia City, Mont., in 1866, and also in Salmon City, Idaho; member of the territorial legislature; delegate in the Republican national convention in 1880; member of the Republican national committee 1880-1884, 1888-1892; United States commissioner for Idaho at the World's cotton centennial exposition in New Orleans, La., 1884-1885; appointed governor of Idaho Territory 1889; elected governor of Idaho October 1, 1890; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, December 18, 1890; reelected in 1895, and served from December 29, 1890, to March 3, 1901; died in Boise City, Idaho, December 21, 1904.

Showalter, Joseph Baltzell, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Smithfield, Pa., February 11, 1851; attended the public schools and Georges Creek academy; taught school for six years; studied medicine in Long Island college hospital, Brooklyn, and was graduated from the college of physicians and surgeons of Baltimore, Md.; practiced medicine for a number of years in Chicora, Pa.; engaged in the production of petroleum and natural gas; elected to the state house of representatives in 1886; elected to the state senate in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); a resident of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Shower, Jacob, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore county, Md., February 22, 1803; was graduated from the University of Maryland in 1825; Democratic member of the state legislature; clerk of the circuit court of Carrol county 1842-1850; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1851; elected as an Independent to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); died in Manchester, Md., May 25, 1879.

Shuford, Alonzo Craig, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Catawba county, N. C., March 1, 1858; attended the common schools and Newton college; engaged in agricultural pursuits; joined the Alliance in 1889; made county lecturer, and later district lecturer; elected delegate to the labor conference in St. Louis in February, 1892; also delegate in the Populist convention in Omaha July 4, same year; elected vice president of the state Alliance in 1894; elected as a Populist to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1899).

Shull, Joseph Horace, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Lynchburg, Va., August 17, 1848; took a special course in Lafayette college, Easton, Pa.; was graduated from the University of New York, New York City; was graduated in medicine in 1874, from the Bellevue hospital medical college, New York.; taught in the public schools of Pennsylvania for four years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1879, and practiced; associate editor of the Monroe Democrat from 1881 to 1886; member of the state senate, 1886–1891; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1905; president of the Delaware Valley railroad company; resumed the practice of law in Stroudsburg, Pa.

Shultz, Emanuel, a Representative from Ohio; born in Stouchsburg, Berks county, Pa., July 25, 1819; moved to Miamisburg, Montgomery county, Ohio, in 1838; engaged in mercantile business and in manufacturing; member of the state constitutional convention of 1873; elected a member of the state legislature in 1875 and served two years; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883).

Sibley, Henry Hastings, a Delegate from the Territories of Wisconsin and Minnesota; born in Detroit, Mich., February 20, 1811; received a limited schooling; studied law; elected a Delegate from the Territory of Wisconsin to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849); elected a Delegate from the Territory of Minnesota to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1853); member of the territorial legislature of Minnesota 1855; member of the constitutional convention of Minnesota in 1857; governor of Minnesota in 1858; served in the Union army; brigadier general of volunteers September 29, 1862, to March 4, 1863; again brigadier general of volunteers March 20, 1863; brevet major general of volunteers November 29, 1865, "for efficient and meritorious service"; honorably mustered out April 30, 1866; died in St. Paul, Minn., February 18, 1891.

Sibley, Jonas, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Sutton, Mass., March 7, 1762; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives for seventeen successive years; member of the state senate 1819; presidential elector in 1820; delegate in the constitutional convention of 1820; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; died in Sutton, Mass., February 5, 1834.

Sibley, Joseph Crocker, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Friendship, N. Y., February 18, 1850; attended the county schools; taught school and studied medicine; engaged in the oil refining business in Franklin, Pa.; manufacturer and farmer; mayor of Franklin, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895); reelected to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901); again elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1907); permanent chairman of the Republican state convention of 1902; engaged in farming and stock raising in Franklin, Pa.

Sibley, Mark Hopkins, a Representative from New York; born in Great Barrington, Mass., in 1796; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Canandaigua, N. Y., in 1814; state representative 1834–1835; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); state senator in 1841; county judge in 1847; died in Canandaigua, N. Y., September 8, 1852.

Sibley, Solomon, a Representative from Michigan Territory; born in Sutton, Mass., October 7, 1769; completed preparatory studies; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1785; moved to Marietta, Ohio, and commenced practice; moved to Detroit, Mich., in 1797; delegate to the territorial legislature in 1799; mayor of Detroit, Mich.; elected to the Sixteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William W. Woodbridge; reelected to the Seventeenth Congress, and served from November 20, 1820, to March 3, 1823; judge of the state supreme court 1824–1836; died in Detroit, Mich., April 4, 1846.

Sickles, Daniel Edgar, a Representative from New York; born in New York City October 20, 1825; printer; attended the New York university; member of the state assembly in 1847; major Twelfth National guards 1852; corporation attorney 1853; secretary of legation, London 1853–1855; member of the state senate 1856–1857; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); served in the Civil war; colonel of the seventieth New York infantry June 20, 1861; brigadier general of volunteers September 3, 1861; major general of volunteers November 29, 1862; honorably mustered out January 1, 1868; colonel of the forty-second United States infantry July 28, 1866, and unassigned March 15, 1869; retired with rank of major general April 14, 1869; brevet brigadier general March 2, 1867, "for gallant and meritorious service in the battle of Fredericksburg, Va."; major general March 2, 1867, "for gallant and meritorious service in the battle of Gettysburg, Pa."; awarded medal of honor October 30, 1897, "for most distinguished gallantry in action at Gettysburg, Pa., July 2, 1863, both before and after the loss of a leg while serving as major general of volunteers commanding the third army corps"; entrusted with a special mission to South American Republics 1865; declined the position of minister to Holland and Mexico; minister to Spain 1869–1875; chairman of New York state civil service commission 1888–1889; sheriff of New York city 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895); retired and a resident of New York city.

Sickles, Nicholas, a Representative from New York; native of Kinderhook, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835–March 3, 1837); died in Kingston, N. Y., May 13, 1845.

Sill, Thomas Hale, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Windsor, Conn., October 11, 1783; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Erie, Pa., in 1812; member of the constitutional convention of Pennsylvania; elected as a Whig to the Nineteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Patrick Farrelly, and served from April 3, 1826, to March 3, 1827; reelected to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831); presidential elector on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket in 1848; died in Erie, Pa., February 7, 1856.

Silsbee, Nathaniel, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Salem, Essex county, Mass., January 14, 1773; completed preparatory studies; merchant; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821); member of the state house of representatives in 1821; member of the state senate 1823–1825, and served as speaker; presidential elector in 1824, and 1836; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Lloyd, and served from 1826 to 1835; died in Salem, Mass., July 15, 1850.

Silvester, Peter, a Representative from New York; born in Kinderhook, N. Y.; received a liberal education; elected to the First and Second Congresses (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1793).

Silvester, Peter, a Representative from New York; born on Long Island, N. Y., in 1734; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Albany, N. Y.; member of the Albany common council in 1772; member of the committee of safety in 1774; served in the first and second provincial congresses of 1775 and 1776; moved to Kinderhook, N. Y., and practiced law; appointed judge of the court of common pleas of Columbia county in 1786; member of the state senate 1796–1800; served in the state assembly in 1788, 1803, 1804, 1805, and 1806; elected to the First and Second Congresses (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1793); regent of the university of the State of New York; died in Kinderhook, N. Y., October 15, 1808.

Silvester, Peter Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Kinderhook, N. Y., February 17, 1807; was graduated from Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1830, and practiced in Coxsackie, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1851); died in Coxsackie, N. Y., November 29, 1882.

Simkins, Eldred, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Edgefield district, S. C., August 30, 1779; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1805, and began practice in Edgefield Court House in 1806; served several terms in the state legislature; lieutenant governor of the state 1812–1814; elected to the Fifteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1817, until November 3, 1817, when he resigned; reelected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1821); declined a reelection; member of the general assembly in 1824; died in Edgefield district, S. C., November 17, 1831.

Simmons, Furnifold McLendel, a Representative and a Senator from North Carolina; born in Jones county, N. C., January 20, 1854; was graduated from Trinity college, North Carolina, in 1873; studied law and was admitted to the bar in November, 1875; moved to Newbern, N. C., in 1876, and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889); appointed collector of internal revenue in 1893, and served during the second administration of President Cleveland; in the campaigns of 1892, 1898, and 1900 chairman of the Democratic executive committee of the state; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and took his seat March 4, 1901; reelected in 1907 for the term ending March 3, 1913.

Simmons, George Abel, a Representative from New York; born in Lynne, N. H., September 8, 1791; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1816; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Keeseville, N. Y.; member of the state constitutional convention of 1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1857); died in Keeseville, N. Y., October 28, 1857.

Simmons, James Fowler, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Little Compton, R. I., September 10, 1795; pursued classical studies; farmer and manufacturer; member of the state house of representatives 1828–1841; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1841, to March 3, 1847; returned to Johnson, R. I.; reelected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1857, to August 15, 1862, when he resigned; died in Johnson, R. I., July 10, 1864.

Simmons, James S., a Representative from New York; born in Frederick county, Md., November 25, 1861; attended Liberty academy and Frederick college; engaged in the real estate business in Niagara Falls, N. Y.; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Simms, William E., a Representative from Kentucky; native of that state; received a limited schooling in Paris, Ky.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1861).

Simon, Joseph, a Senator from Oregon; born in Bechtheim, Germany, February 7, 1851; came to the United States with his parents and settled in Portland, Oreg., in 1857; attended the public schools; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1872; member of the city council 1877–1880; secretary of the Republican state central committee in 1878; chairman of the Republican state central committee of Oregon 1880, 1884, and 1886; delegate in the Republican national convention in Minneapolis in 1892; member of the state senate in 1880, 1888, and 1894–1898, and served as president in 1889, 1891, 1895, and 1897, and at the special session of 1898; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate October 6, 1898, to fill vacancy in the term commencing March 4, 1897, and served until March 3, 1903; mayor of Portland, Oreg., 1909–1911.

Simonds, William Edgar, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Collinsville, town of Canton, Hartford county, Conn., November 24, 1842; attended the Collinsville high school, and was graduated from the Connecticut state normal school in New Britain, and from the Yale law school; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Hartford, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives in 1883 and 1885, and served as speaker in 1885; enlisted as a private in company A, twenty-fifth Connecticut regiment of infantry, August 18, 1862; promoted to be sergeant major before muster into the United States service; promoted to second lieutenant of company I of his regiment at the battle of Irish Bend, La., April 24, 1863; discharged from service by reason of expiration of term August 26, 1863; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); France decorated him a chevalier of the legion of honor in 1893; commissioner of patents 1891–1893; resumed the practice of law in Hartford, Conn., until his death March 14, 1903.

Simons, Samuel, a Representative from Connecticut: born in Bridgeport, Conn., in 1777; pursued an academic course; held several local offices; taught school; studied medicine and practiced in Bridgeport, Conn.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); died in Bridgeport, Conn., January 13, 1847.

Simonton, Charles Bryson, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Tipton county, Tenn., September 8, 1838; was graduated from Erskine college, South Carolina, in August, 1859; enlisted as a private in the Confederate army in April, 1861; subsequently elected second lieutenant, and afterwards captain; severely wounded in the battle of Perryville, October 8, 1862, and disabled from any further active duty during the war; elected clerk of the circuit court of Tipton county in March, 1870; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in May, 1873; member of the state house of representatives in 1877 and 1878; president of Covington city school board; editor of the Tipton Record in Covington, Tipton county, Tenn.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1888); chairman of the Democratic state convention of 1886; Democratic presidential elector in 1892; United States district attorney of Tennessee 1895–1898; died in Covington, Tenn., June 10, 1911.

Simonton, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Hummelstown, Pa.; received a limited schooling; elected to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843; died in South Hanover, Pa., May 18, 1846.

Simpkins, John, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in New Bedford, Mass., June 27, 1862; attended the public schools of Yarmouth, St. Mark's school, Southboro, Mass., and was graduated from Harvard university in 1885; served in the Massachusetts senate in 1890 and 1891; presidential elector for Harrison and Reid in 1892; president of the Republican club of Massachusetts in 1892 and 1893; member of the Massachusetts Republican state committee in 1892, 1893, and 1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses and served from March 4, 1895, until his death in Yarmouth, Mass., March 27, 1898.

Simpson, Jerry, a Representative from Kansas; born in the province of New Brunswick March 31, 1842; moved with his parents to Oneida county, N. Y.; began life as a sailor and followed the seas for twenty-three years; served in the Civil war in company A, twelfth Illinois infantry; moved to Kansas in 1878 and settled near Medicine Lodge, Barber county, and engaged in farming and stock raising; unsuccessful candidate for the Kansas legislature on the Independent ticket from Barber county; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifty-fourth Congress; reelected to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897–1899); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifty-sixth Congress; died in Wichita, Kans., in 1902.

Simpson, Richard Franklin, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Laurens, S. C., March 24, 1798; was graduated from the University of South Carolina in 1816; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Pendleton, S. C.; held several local offices; member of the state senate; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1849); engaged in farming; died in Pendleton, S. C., October 28, 1882.

Sims, Alexander Dromgoole, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Brunswick county, Va., June 11, 1803; was graduated from Union college, Schenectady, N. Y.; took charge of the Darlington (S. C.) academy in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Darlington, S. C., member of the state house of representatives 1840–1844; elected to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1845, until his death in Kingstree, S. C., November 16, 1848.

Sims, Leonard H., a Representative from Missouri; native of North Carolina; received a limited schooling; moved to Springfield, Mo.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847).

Sims, Thetus Willrette, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Wayne county, Tenn., April 25, 1852; attended Savannah College, Savannah, Tenn., and was graduated from the law department of the Cumberland university, in Lebanon, Tenn., June, 1876; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Linden, Tenn.; county superintendent of public instruction for Perry county, Tenn., 1882–1884; presidential elector on the Cleveland and Stevenson ticket in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Singiser, Theodore Frelinghuysen, a Representative from Idaho Territory; born in Churchtown, Cumberland county, Pa., March 15, 1845; attended the common schools; learned the art of printing; served in the Union army during the Civil war as a private in company E, sixth regiment Pennsylvania reserves; participated in the campaigns and battles of the army of the Potomac up to and including Antietam; honorably discharged in February, 1863; reentered the army in June, 1863, as captain of company A, twentieth regiment Pennsylvania cavalry, and in active service with his command until the spring of 1865, when honorably discharged; engaged in mercantile and editorial pursuits; assistant assessor of internal revenue 1866-1867; studied law and was admitted to the bar; employed in the United States treasury from June, 1875, to 1879; appointed receiver of public moneys in Oxford, Idaho, in February, 1879; engaged in mining in Idaho and Utah; secretary of the Territory of Idaho in 1880; acting governor of Idaho during the winter of 1881-1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); engaged in mining; died in Chicago, Ill., January 23, 1907.

Singleton, James Washington, a Representative from Illinois; born near Winchester, Frederick county, Va., November 23, 1811; attended the Winchester academy; moved to Illinois in 1833; studied and practiced medicine; studied law and was admitted to the bar; engaged in farming; served six terms in the legislature; member of the state constitutional conventions of 1847 and 1861; elected brigadier-general of Illinois militia in 1844; president of and constructed the Quincy and Toledo railroad; also president of and constructed the Quincy, Alton and St. Louis railroad; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); died in Baltimore, Md., April 4, 1892.

Singleton, Otho Robards, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Jessamine county, Ky., October 14, 1814; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from St. Joseph's college, Bardstown, Ky., and from the Lexington law school; was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Canton, Miss., in 1838; member of the Mississippi house of representatives two years; served in the Mississippi senate six years; presidential elector on the Pierce and King ticket in 1852; elected to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); re-elected to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1857, until his retirement, January 12, 1861; a representative from Mississippi in the Confederate congress 1861-1865; reelected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1887); died in Washington, D. C., January 11, 1889.

Singleton, Thomas D., a Representative from South Carolina; native of that state; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected as a Nullifier to the Twenty-third Congress, and died before the assembling of the Congress, November 25, 1833.

Sinnickson, Clement Hall, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Salem county, N. J., September 16, 1834; was graduated from Union college, New York, in 1855; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Salem, N. J., in 1858; captain in the Union army; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); resumed the practice of law in Salem, N. J.

Sinnickson, Thomas, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Salem county, N. J., in 1745; completed preparatory studies; merchant; captain in the Revolutionary army; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); reelected to the Fifth Congress (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1799; died in Salem, N. J., May 15, 1817.

Sinnickson, Thomas, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Salem, N. J., December 13, 1786; merchant; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state house of representatives; judge of the court of common pleas for twenty years; elected to the Twentieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Hedge Thompson, and served from December 1, 1828, to March 3, 1829; died in Salem, N. J.

Sipe, William Allen, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Harrisonville, Fulton county, Pa., July 1, 1844; attended the public schools and the Cassville academy, Cassville, Huntingdon county, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in August, 1865, and practiced in Huntingdon, Pa.; moved to Indianapolis, Ind., in January, 1867, and practiced; moved to Pittsburgh, Pa., December, 1868, and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Alexander K. Craig; reelected to the Fifty-third Congress, and served from December 5, 1892, to March 3, 1895; resumed the practice of law in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sisson, Thomas Upton, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Attala county, Miss.; moved with his father to Choctaw county, Miss.; attended the common schools of the county, the French Camp academy, Mississippi, and was graduated from the southwestern Presbyterian university in Clarkesville, Tenn., in 1889; principal of the Carthage high school 1880-1890, and of the graded schools of Kosciusko, Attala county, Miss., in 1890-1892; was graduated from the law department of Cumberland university, Lebanon, Tenn., and was admitted to the bar in Memphis, Tenn., in 1894, and practiced in Winona, Miss.; member of the state senate; Democratic elector in 1900; elected district attorney of the fifth judicial district in 1903; unsuccessful candidate for governor of Mississippi in 1907; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Sitgreaves, Charles, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Easton, Pa., April 22, 1803; moved with his parents to New Jersey in 1806; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Easton, August 17, 1824, and began practice in Philipsburg, N. J.; member of the state assembly 1831-1833; major commandant in the state militia 1828-1833; member of the legislative council 1834-1835; served in the state senate 1851-1854; president of the Belvidere and Delaware railroad company; mayor of Pittsburgh, Pa.; president of a national bank in Pittsburgh; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869); engaged in banking and railroading; died in Philipsburg, Pa., March 17, 1878.

Sitgreaves, John, a Delegate from North Carolina; born in Newbern, N. C., about 1740; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in his native town; served in the Revolutionary army, and attained the rank of major general; member of the Continental Congress, 1784-1785; member of the house of commons, 1786-1789; United States district attorney for North Carolina from 1789 until his death, in Halifax, N. C., March 4, 1802.

Sitgreaves, Samuel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 16, 1764; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Philadelphia, Pa., September 3, 1783, and began practice in Easton, Pa., in 1786; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1790; elected as a Federalist to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1795, until his resignation in 1798; United States commissioner to Great Britain under the Jay treaty; president of the Easton bank, 1815-1827; died in Easton, Pa., April 4, 1827.

Skelton, Charles, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Buckingham township, Bucks county, Pa., April 19, 1806; moved to Trenton, N. J.; held several local offices; engaged in the shoe business; studied medicine and practiced; superintendent of public schools of Trenton, N. J.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); died in Trenton, N. J., May 20, 1879.

Skiles, William Woodburn, a Representative from Ohio; born in Stoughstown, Cumberland county, Pa., December 11, 1849; moved with his parents to Richland county, Ohio, in 1854; attended the district schools, and was graduated from Baldwin university, Berea, Ohio, in 1876; studied law, was admitted to the bar July 24, 1878, and commenced practice in Shelby, Ohio; manufacturer; member of the Republican state central committee; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1901, until his death in Shelby, Ohio, January 9, 1904.

Skinner, Charles Rufus, a Representative from New York; born in Union Square, Oswego county, N. Y., August 4, 1844; attended the common schools, Clinton liberal institute, and was graduated from the Mexico academy, New York, in 1866; member of the board of education of Watertown, N. Y., in 1875, 1878, and 1881; member of the state assembly 1877-1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Warner Miller; reelected to the Forty-eighth Congress and served from December 5, 1881, to March 3, 1885; editor of the Watertown Daily Republican until January 1, 1896; city editor of the Watertown Daily Times; deputy state superintendent of public instruction 1886-1892; supervisor of teachers' training classes and teachers' institutes in the state department of public instruction 1892-1895; superintendent of public instruction 1895-1898; elected president of the National educational association in 1896; assistant appraiser of merchandise for the port of New York, 1909-1911.

Skinner, Harry, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Perquimans county, N. C., May 25, 1855; attended the Hertford academy and the Kentucky university; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1876, and practiced in Greenville, N. C.; town councilman in 1878; elected to the state assembly in 1890; chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Pitt county; chairman of the Democratic executive committee of the first congressional district, and member of the state central committee; chairman of the Populist executive of Pitt county and on the state central committee; trustee of the state university; elected as a Populist to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); United States district attorney for the eastern district of North Carolina in 1902 and 1906; resumed the practice of law in Greenville, N. C.

Skinner, Richard, a Representative from Vermont; born in Litchfield, Conn., May 30, 1778; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from the Litchfield law school, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Manchester, Vt., in 1800; state attorney for Bennington county in 1801; judge of probate 1806-1812; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); associate justice of the state supreme court in 1815, and declined the office of chief justice in 1816; member of the state house of representatives and speaker in 1818; governor of Vermont 1820-1823; chief justice of the supreme court of Vermont 1824-1829; died in Manchester, Vt., May 23, 1833.

Skinner, Thomas Gregory, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Perquimans county, N. C., January 21, 1842; attended the University of North Carolina; studied law and was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of North Carolina January, 1868; enlisted for the Civil war and attained the rank of lieutenant; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress November 20, 1883, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Walter R. Pool; reelected to the Forty-ninth Congress, and served from December 19, 1883, to March 3, 1887; again elected to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); resumed the practice of law in Hertford, N. C., and died there December 22, 1907.

Skinner, Thomson Joseph, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Colchester, Conn., in 1752; completed preparatory studies; member of the Massachusetts house of representatives, and served in the state senate; presidential elector in 1792; delegate in the state convention of 1788; state treasurer 1806-1807; elected as a Democrat to the Fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Theodore Sedgwick; reelected to the Fifth Congress and served from January 27, 1797, to March 3, 1799; again elected to the Eighth Congress and served from March 4, 1803, until August 10, 1804, when he resigned; died in Boston, Mass., January 29, 1809.

Slade, Charles, a Representative from Illinois; attended the public schools; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress, and served from December 2, 1833, until his death in Knox county, Ind., July 26, 1834.

Slade, William, a Representative from Vermont; born in Cornwall, Vt., May 9, 1786; was graduated from Middlebury college in 1807; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1810, and began practice in Middlebury in 1810; engaged in editorial work; presidential elector on the Madison ticket in 1812; established the Columbian Patriot, which he edited 1814-1816; secretary of state of Vermont 1815-1823; judge of the Addison county court; clerk in the state department, Washington, D. C., 1823-1829; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-second, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1843); reporter of decisions of the state supreme court 1843-1844; governor of Vermont 1845-1846; died in Middlebury, Vt., January 18, 1859.

Slater, James Harvey, a Representative and a Senator from Oregon; born in Sangamon county, Ill., December 28, 1826; attended the common schools; went to California in 1849; settled in Oregon in 1850; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1854; clerk of the district court of the Territory of Oregon for Benton county 1853-1856; member of the territorial assembly 1857-1858; member of the legislative assembly of Oregon; district attorney for the fifth judicial district in 1886; presidential elector on the Seymour ticket in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1879, until March 3, 1885; resumed the practice of law; appointed one of the railroad commissioners of Oregon in 1889, and served two years; died in La Grande, Oreg., January 28, 1899.

Slayden, James Luther, a Representative from Texas; born in Graves county, Ky., June 1, 1853; attended the country schools and Washington and Lee university, Virginia; cotton merchant; member of the state house of representatives in 1892; declined a renomination; engaged in farming and mining; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Slaymaker, Amos, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in London Lands, Pa., March 11, 1755; received a limited schooling; served in the Revolutionary army; farmer; elected to the Thirteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Whitehill, and served from December 12, 1814, to March 3, 1815; died in Salisbury, Pa., June 12, 1837.

Slemons, William Ferguson, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Weakley county, Tenn., March 15, 1830; attended Bethel college; moved to Arkansas in 1852; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and practiced; member of the Arkansas state convention of 1861; entered the Confederate army in July, 1861, and served through the Civil war; resumed the practice of law; elected district attorney in 1866, and legislated out of office in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1881); resumed the practice of law in Monticello, Ark., and a justice of the peace.

Slemp, Campbell, a Representative from Virginia; born in Lee county, Va., December 2, 1839; engaged in farming and real estate business; attended Emory and Henry college, Virginia; served in the Confederate army as captain and lieutenant colonel in the twenty-first Virginia battalion, and colonel of the sixty-fourth regiment, composed of infantry and cavalry; elected to the house of delegates in 1879 and 1881; defeated in 1883; unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor in 1889; presidential elector on the Harrison ticket in 1888, and on the McKinley ticket, in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1903, until his death in Big Stone Gap, Va., October 13, 1907.

Slemp, Campbell Bascom, a Representative from Virginia; born in Lee county, Va., September 4, 1870; page in the house of representatives of Virginia 1881-1882; was graduated from the Virginia military institute; commandant of cadets in the Marion military institute for one year; adjunct professor of mathematics, Virginia military institute; resigned in 1901, to enter professional and business life; chairman of the Republican state committee in 1905; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth Congress, December 17, 1907, to fill vacancy caused by the death of his father, Campbell Slemp; reelected to the Sixty-first Congress, and served from January 6, 1908, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Slidell, John, a Representative and Senator from Louisiana; born in New York City in 1793; was graduated from Columbia college in 1810; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New Orleans; unsuccessful candidate for the Twenty-first Congress; United States district attorney 1829-1833; elected as a state rights Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1843, until his resignation, November 10, 1845; appointed minister to Mexico, but that Government refused to accept him; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Pierre Soulé; reelected, and served from December 5, 1853, until his retirement, January 28, 1861; arrested in Habana on the English mail steamer Trent while on his way to England and brought to the United States and confined in Fort Warren; released, and sailed for England January 1, 1862; died in Cawes, Isle of Wight, England, July 29, 1871.

Slingerland, John I., a Representative from New York; born in Jerusalem, Albany county, N. Y., March 1, 1804; attended the public schools; farmer; member of the state house of representatives in 1843; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); died in Slingerlands, N. Y., October 26, 1861.

Sloan, Andrew Scott, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Morrisville, N. Y., June 12, 1820; attended the public schools, and the Morrisville academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and began practice in Morrisville, N. Y.; clerk of Madison county court in 1847; moved in 1854 to Wisconsin and located in Beaver Dam; member of the state house of representatives in 1858; appointed judge of the circuit court for the third district in 1858; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); judge of Dodge county court in 1868; attorney general of Wisconsin in 1873; judge of the circuit court for the thirteenth district in 1881; died in 1895.

Sloan, Andrew, a Representative from Georgia; born in McDonough, Ga., June 10, 1845; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1866; moved to Savannah, Ga.; deputy collector of customs; resumed the practice of law; successfully contested the election of Morgan Rawls to the Forty-third Congress, and served from March 24, 1874, to March 3, 1875; died in Silver City, N. Mex., September 22, 1883.

Sloan, Ithamar Conkey, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Morrisville, Madison county, N. Y., May 9, 1822; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Janesville, Wis., in 1854; district attorney of Rock county, Wis., 1858-1862; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); special counsel for the state of Massachusetts, 1874-1879, in the Granger law cases; died in Janesville, Rock county, Wis., December 24, 1898.

Sloan, James, a Representative from New Jersey; native of that state; held several local offices; elected to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1809); died in Gloucester county, N. J., November, 1811.

Sloane, John, a Representative from Ohio; born in York, Pa., in 1779; moved to Ohio; completed preparatory studies; member of the state house of representatives 1804-1806; United States receiver of public moneys in Canton, Ohio, 1808-1816, and in Wooster, 1816-1819; colonel of militia in the War of 1812; elected to the Sixteenth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1829); clerk of the court of common pleas for seven years; secretary of state of Ohio three years; United States Treasurer 1850-1853; died in Wooster, Ohio, May 15, 1856.

Sloane, Jonathan, a Representative from Ohio; native of Massachusetts; was graduated from Williams college in 1812; moved to Ohio; member of state house of representatives; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837).

Slocum, Henry Warner, a Representative from New York; born in Delphi, N. Y., September 24, 1827; was graduated from West Point and became second lieutenant, first artillery, July 1, 1852; served in the Seminole war and promoted to first lieutenant March 3, 1855; resigned his commission October 31, 1856; settled in Syracuse, N. Y.; studied law while in the army, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Syracuse, N. Y.; elected to the state legislature in 1859; entered the Union army as colonel of the twenty-seventh New York volunteers in May, 1861; wounded at the first battle of Bull Run; promoted to brigadier general of volunteers August 9, 1861; major general of volunteers July 4, 1862; resigned his commission September 28, 1865; returned to Brooklyn, N. Y., and practiced law; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for secretary of state of New York; presidential elector in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); elected a Representative at large from New York to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); died in Brooklyn, N. Y., April 14, 1894.

Slocumb, Jesse, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Spring Bank, Dobbs (now Wayne) county, N. C., in 1774; completed preparatory studies; engaged in farming; held several local offices; member of the court of pleas and quarter sessions; register of deeds 1802-1808; elected as a Federalist to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1817, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 20, 1820.

Sloss, Joseph H., a Representative from Alabama; born in Somerville, Ala., October 12, 1826; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Edwardsville, Ill., in 1849; member of the legislature 1858-1859; returned to Alabama; served in the Confederate army; mayor of Tusculumbia, Ala.; elected as a conservative Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for the Forty-fourth Congress.

Small, John Humphrey, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Washington, N. C., August 29, 1858; attended the common schools, and Washington and Trinity college, N. C.; taught school 1876-1880; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in January, 1881; superintendent of public instruction of Beaufort county, N. C., in 1881; solicitor of the inferior court of Beaufort county 1882-1885; editor of the Washington Gazette 1883-1886; attorney of the board of commissioners of Beaufort county 1888-1896; member of the city council from May, 1887, to May, 1890; mayor of Washington, N. C.; Democratic presidential elector in 1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Small, William Bradbury, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Limington, Me., May 17, 1817; moved with his parents to Ossipee, N. H.; attended the public schools and Philips Exeter academy, Exeter, N. H.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and began practice in Newmarket, N. H.; solicitor of Rockingham county, N. H.; member of the state house of representatives, and of the state senate in 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); died in Newmarket, N. H., April 7, 1878.

Smalls, Robert, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Beaufort, S. C., April 5, 1839; moved to Charleston, S. C., in 1851; appointed pilot in the United States Navy, and served in that capacity on the monitor Keokuk in the attack on Fort Sumter; served as pilot in the Quartermaster's Department; promoted as captain for gallant and meritorious conduct December 1, 1863, and placed in command of the Planter, and served until she was put out of commission in 1866; member of the state constitutional convention of 1868; member of the state house of representatives in 1868; elected to the state senate, to fill a vacancy in 1870, and re-elected in 1872; an active member and officer in the state militia; delegate in the Republican national conventions in Philadelphia in 1872, and in Cincinnati in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); defeated for the Forty-sixth Congress; successfully contested the election of George D. Tillman to the Forty-seventh Congress, and served from July 19, 1882, to March 4, 1883; reelected to the Forty-eighth Congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Edmund W. M. Mackey; re-elected to the Forty-ninth Congress, and served from March 31, 1884, to March 3, 1887); appointed collector of the port of Beaufort, S. C.

Smart, Ephraim Knight, a Representative from Maine; born in Prospect, Mass. (now Searsport, Me.), September 3, 1813; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Camden, Me.; postmaster of Camden in 1838; member of the state senate 1841 and 1842; moved in 1843 to Missouri; returned to Camden in 1845; again served one term as postmaster of Camden; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849); reelected to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); collector of customs at Belfast 1853–1858; again a member of the state house of representatives 1858, and of the senate 1862; moved to Biddeford, Me., in 1869, and established the Maine Democrat; died in Camden, Me., September 29, 1872.

Smart, James Stevenson, a Representative from New York; born in Baltimore, Md., June 14, 1842; moved with his parents to Coila, Washington county, N. Y., in 1849; attended Cambridge academy, Union college, and was graduated from Jefferson college, Pennsylvania, in 1863; served in the Union army 1861–1865, and attained the rank of captain; engaged in newspaper work; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); collector of internal revenue for the northern district of New York; member of the Republican state central committee for many years; died in Cambridge, N. Y., September 17, 1903.

Smelt, Dennis, a Representative from Georgia; native of that State; received a limited schooling; participated in the Revolutionary war; elected to the Ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph Bryan; reelected to the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses, and served from December 26, 1806, to March 3, 1811.

Smilie, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ireland in 1741; emigrated to Pennsylvania in 1760; attended the common schools; soldier in the Revolutionary war; member of the state house of representatives; moved to Fayette, Pa., in 1780; member of the constitutional convention of 1790; served in the state senate; presidential elector in 1796; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1795); presidential elector in 1797; elected to the Sixth, and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1799, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 29, 1812.

Smith, Abraham Herr, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Manor township, Lancaster county, March 7, 1815; was graduated from Dickinson college in 1840; studied law in Lancaster, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and practiced; member of the state house of representatives 1843–1844; served in the state senate in 1845; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third, and the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1885); died in Lancaster, Pa., February 16, 1894.

Smith, Albert, a Representative from Maine; born in Hanover, Mass., January 3, 1793; was graduated from Brown university in 1813; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Portland, Me., in 1817; member of the state house of representatives in 1820; United States marshal for the district of Maine 1830–1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; died in Boston, Mass., May 29, 1867.

Smith, Albert, a Representative from New York; born in Cooperstown, N. Y., June 22, 1805; completed preparatory studies; moved to Batavia, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; member of the state assembly in 1840; elected as a Republican to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); moved to Milwaukee, Wis., in 1850, and practiced law; justice of the peace 1851–1859; judge of the county court 1859–1870; died in Milwaukee, Wis., August 27, 1870.

Smith, Arthur, a Representative from Virginia; born in Isle of Wight county, Va., November 15, 1785; was graduated from William and Mary college; studied law, but did not practice; served in the war of 1812; member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1825); died in Smithfield, Va., March 30, 1853.

Smith, Ballard, a Representative from Virginia to the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1821).

Smith, Bernard, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Norristown, N. J., in 1776; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; postmaster of New Brunswick; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1821); appointed register of the land office at Little Rock; died in Little Rock, Ark., July 16, 1835.

Smith, Caleb Blood, a Representative from Indiana; born in Boston, Mass., April 16, 1808; moved with his parents to Ohio in 1814; was graduated from the Miami university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Connersville, Ind.; founded and edited the Indiana Sentinel in 1832; member of the state house of representatives 1833–1836, and served as speaker in 1836; elected to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1849); presidential elector in 1840; moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, and practiced law; presidential elector on the Fremont ticket in 1856; president of the Republican national convention of 1860; Secretary of the Interior under President Lincoln March 5, 1861, to January 1, 1863; resigned to become judge for the district of Indiana; died in Indianapolis, Ind., January 7, 1864.

Smith, Charles Brooks, a Delegate from West Virginia; born in Wood county, Va. (now West Virginia), February 24, 1844; attended the common schools; enlisted in the Union army, and mustered out in 1865; twice elected mayor of the city of Parkersburg, W. Va.; elected sheriff and treasurer of the county of Wood 1880–1884; delegate at large in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); died in Parkersburg, W. Va., December 7, 1899.

Smith, Daniel, a Senator from Tennessee; born in Stafford county, Va., October 28, 1748; attended William and Mary College; surveyor; moved to Augusta county, Va.; deputy surveyor of Augusta county, in 1773; justice of peace 1776; major of the Washington militia; high sheriff of the county in 1780; commissioned colonel in the second battalion and fought in several battles of the Revolution; moved to Sumner county, Tenn., at the close of the war; appointed by President Washington secretary of the territory south of the Ohio River January 7, 1790; presidential elector; member of the constitutional convention of 1796; made the first map of Tennessee; general of militia; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Andrew Jackson, and served from October 6, 1798, to March 3, 1799; elected to the United States Senate, and served from December 2, 1805, to March 31, 1809, when he resigned; died in Rock Castle, Sumner county, Tenn., June 6, 1818.

Smith, David Highbaugh, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Hart county, near Hammonville, Ky., December 19, 1854; attended the public schools and the colleges at Horse Cave, Leitchfield, and Hartford, in Kentucky; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; county attorney for Larue county 1878-1881; superintendent of common schools for Larue county 1878; elected to the state house of representatives in 1881; member of the state senate 1885-1893, and served as president pro tempore 1891-1893; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1907).

Smith, Delazon, a Senator from Oregon; born in Berlin, N. Y., in 1816; was graduated from Oberlin college, Ohio, in 1837; studied law and was admitted to the bar; edited the True Jeffersonian in Rochester, N. Y., and the Western Empire in Dayton, Ohio; special United States commissioner to Quito, Ecuador, 1842-1845; moved to the Territory of Iowa in 1846 and entered the ministry; moved to the Territory of Oregon in 1852, where he edited the Oregon Democrat; member of the territorial house of representatives 1854-1856; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1857; elected to the United States Senate, and served from February 14, 1859, to March 3, 1859; died in Portland, Oreg., November 19, 1860.

Smith, Dietrich Conrad, a Representative from Illinois; born in Ostfriesland, Hanover, April 4, 1840; emigrated to the United States and resided in Pekin, Ill., after 1849; entered the Union army in 1861; lieutenant of company I, eighth Illinois volunteer infantry; left the service as captain of company C, one hundred and thirty-ninth Illinois volunteer infantry; member of the general assembly of Illinois; for many years a banker and manufacturer, and also engaged in the construction and management of railroads in Illinois; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); reengaged in banking; retired, and a resident of Pekin, Ill.

Smith, Ellison DuRant, a Senator from South Carolina; born in Lynchburg, Sumter (now Lee) county, S. C., August 1, 1866; attended the private and public schools of Lynchburg, Stewart's school, Charleston, S. C., the University of South Carolina, and was graduated from Wofford college, Spartanburg, in 1889; member of the State legislature 1896-1900; merchant and planter; field agent and general organizer in the cotton protective movement for three years, his territory covering the entire South; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate March 4, 1909 for the term expiring March 3, 1915.

Smith, Edward Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Smithtown, Long Island, in 1809; attended the public schools; farmer; held several local offices; elected as a Fusion candidate to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863).

Smith, Francis Orman Jefferson, a Representative from Maine; born in Brentwood, N. H., November 23, 1806; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Portland, Me., member of the state house of representatives in 1831; served in the state senate in 1833, and its president; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1839); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twenty-sixth Congress; assisted Professor Morse in perfecting and introducing the electric telegraph; died in Deering, Me., October 14, 1876.

Smith, George, a Representative from Pennsylvania; elected to the Eleventh and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1813).

Smith, George Joseph, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Kingston, Ulster county, N. Y., November 7, 1859; attended the public schools in Kingston; engaged in the banking and manufacturing business in 1879; chairman of the Republican county committee of Ulster county; delegate in the Republican national convention in Philadelphia in 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905); engaged in the real estate business in New York City.

Smith, George L., a Representative from Louisiana; born in Hillsboro county, N. H., December 11, 1840; completed preparatory studies; served in the Union army; located in Louisiana and engaged in mercantile pursuits; held several local offices; engaged in newspaper work; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Samuel Peters, and served from December 3, 1873, to March 3, 1875.

Smith, George Washington, a Representative from Illinois; born in Putnam county, Ohio, August 18, 1846; moved with his father to Wayne county, Ill., in 1850; learned the trade of blacksmithing; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the literary department of McKendree college in Lebanon, Ill., in 1868; studied law in Fairfield, Ill.; was graduated from the law department of the university at Bloomington, Ind., in 1870, and was admitted to the bar; Republican presidential elector in 1880 on the Garfield and Arthur ticket; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first, and to the nine succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1889, until his death in Putnam, Wayne county, Ohio, November 30, 1907.

Smith, Gerrit, a Representative from New York; born in Utica, N. Y., March 6, 1797; was graduated from Hamilton college in 1818; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1853; elected as an Ultra-Abolitionist to the Thirty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1853, until his resignation in 1854; died in New York City, December 28, 1874.

Smith, Green Clay, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Richmond, Ky., July 2, 1832; was graduated from Transylvania university in 1849; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1852; school commissioner 1853-1857; served in the Mexican war; commissioned second lieutenant of the first Kentucky infantry June 9, 1846; honorably mustered out June 8, 1847; served in the Union army; colonel of the fourth Kentucky cavalry March 15, 1862; brigadier general of volunteers June 11, 1862; brevet major general of volunteers March 13, 1865, "for meritorious service during the war"; resigned December 1, 1863; elected as a Union candidate to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1863, until his resignation in 1866; governor of Montana 1866-1869; ordained to the ministry of the Baptist church in 1869, and settled in Frankfort, Ky.; became an evangelist, and in 1876 was the candidate of the national Prohibition party for President of the United States; pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist church in Washington, D. C., from 1890 until his death, June 29, 1895.

Smith, Henry, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Baltimore, Md., July 22, 1838; moved with his parents to Massillon, Stark county, Ohio; moved to Milwaukee in 1844; attended the public schools; millwright; member of the common council of Milwaukee 1868-1872; member of the state legislature in 1878; again a member of the common council 1880-1882; city comptroller 1882-1884, and from that date a member of the common council until February 14, 1887; elected as the People's Party candidate to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); alderman of Milwaukee, Wis., for fourteen years.

Smith, Henry Cassorte, a Representative from Michigan; born in Canandaigua, N. Y., June 2, 1856; moved with his father to a farm near Palmyra, Lenawee county, Mich., in 1857; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Adrian college in 1878; taught school; studied law, and was admitted to the bar September 25, 1880, and began practice in Adrian, Mich.; city attorney of Adrian; alternate delegate in the Republican national convention in St. Louis in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1903); resumed the practice of law until his death in Adrian, Mich., December 7, 1911.

Smith, Hezekiah B., a Representative from New Jersey; born in Bridgewater, Vt., July 24, 1816; attended the common schools, and learned the trade of a cabinetmaker; for many years engaged in perfecting and manufacturing wood-working machinery; elected as a Democrat and Greenbacker to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); died in Smithville, N. J., November 3, 1887.

Smith, Hiram Yipsilanti, a Representative and a Senator from Ohio; born in Piqua, Ohio, March 22, 1843; pursued an academic course, and was graduated from the Albany law school in 1866; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1866; district attorney of the fifth judicial district of Iowa 1875-1879; member of the state senate 1882-1884; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John A. Kasson, and served from December 2, 1884, to March 3, 1885; died in Des Moines, Iowa, November 4, 1894.

Smith, Horace Boardman, a Representative from New York; born in Whitingham, Vt., August 18, 1826; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Williams college, Massachusetts, in 1847; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New York; held several local offices; justice superior court of New York; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); after retirement from Congress resumed the practice of law in Elmira, N. Y., until 1883; justice of the supreme court of New York state 1883-1888; died in Elmira, N. Y., December 28, 1888.

Smith, Isaac, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of that state; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815).

Smith, Isaac, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Trenton, N. J., in 1736; was graduated from Princeton college in 1755; tutor in Princeton 1755-1758; studied medicine and practiced; colonel in the state militia; (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1797); associate justice of the supreme court of New Jersey 1777-1804; presidential elector in 1800; first president of the Trenton banking company; died in Trenton, N. J., August 29, 1807.

Smith, Israel, a Representative from Vermont; born in Suffield, Conn., April 14, 1759; was graduated from Yale college in 1781; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Rupert, Vt.; member of the state house of representatives 1785, and 1788-1791; moved to Rutland, Vt.; delegate in the constitutional convention of 1791; elected as a Democrat to the Second, Third, and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1791-March 3, 1797); appointed chief justice of the supreme court in 1797; elected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1803, until his resignation October 1, 1807; governor of Vermont 1807-1808; presidential elector 1809; died in Rutland, Vt., December 7, 1810.

Smith, James, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Ireland in 1718; came to the United States with his father in 1727, and located in Pennsylvania; attended the public schools and Philadelphia academy; surveyor in Cumberland county; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Shippingport; moved to York, Pa.; raised a company for the purpose of resisting Great Britain in 1774; delegate in the provisional conference in Philadelphia; engaged in the manufacture of iron; delegate in the state convention of January, 1775; member of the Continental Congress 1776-1778; signer of the Declaration of Independence; member of the state house of representatives in 1780; brigadier general of state militia; State councillor; resumed the practice of law in York, Pa., until his death, July 11, 1806.

Smith, James, jr., a Senator from New Jersey; born in Newark, N. J., June 12, 1851; attended the common schools; member of the city council of Newark; declined the nomination of mayor; manufacturer of leather in Newark; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1893, to March 3, 1899; unsuccessful candidate in the primaries for the United States Senate in 1912; president of the Federal trust company of Newark, N. J.

Smith, James S., a Representative from North Carolina; native of Orange county, N. C.; studied medicine and practiced in Hillsboro, N. C.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821).

Smith, Jedediah Kilburn, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Amherst, N. H., November 7, 1770; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; representative in the general conventions of 1803 and 1804; member of the state senate 1804–1806 and 1809; elected to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1809); councillor 1810–1815; associate justice of the court of common pleas 1816–1821, and of the court of sessions 1821–1823; chief justice of the court of sessions 1823–1825; died in Amherst, N. H., December 17, 1828.

Smith, Jeremiah, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Peterboro, N. H., November 29, 1759; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Rutgers college, New Jersey, in 1780; served in the Revolutionary army; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1786, and began practice in Peterboro, N. H.; district attorney, 1798–1801; member of the state house of representatives 1788–1790; member of the constitutional convention 1791–1792; elected to the Second and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1791, until his resignation July 26, 1797; United States district attorney for New Hampshire 1798–1800; chief justice of the superior court of New Hampshire 1802–1809; presidential elector in 1809; governor of New Hampshire 1809–1810; again chief justice of the supreme court of New Hampshire 1813–1816; died in Dover, N. H., September 21, 1842.

Smith, J. Hyatt, a Representative from New York; born in Saratoga, N. Y., April 10, 1824; elected as an Independent candidate to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); died in Brooklyn, N. Y., December 7, 1886.

Smith, John, a Representative from Vermont; born in Barre, Mass., August 12, 1789; attended the common schools; moved to St. Albans, Vt.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1810, and began practice; state attorney for Franklin county 1826–1832; served nine years as member of the general assembly, and was speaker three terms; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; became interested in the construction of railroads; died in St. Albans, Vt., November 26, 1858.

Smith, John, a Senator from Ohio; born in Hamilton county, Ohio, in 1735; prepared for the ministry and was pastor of the first Baptist church in Columbia, Lorain county, Ohio, in 1790; member of the territorial legislature 1799–1803; elected upon the admission of the state of Ohio into the Union as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from April 1, 1803, until his resignation, April 25, 1808; sent by President Jefferson on a special mission to Louisiana in 1804, and was charged with having been connected with the conspiracy of Burr and Blennerhassett, and a motion to expel him from the Senate failed by one vote; died in Hamilton county, Ohio, June 10, 1816.

Smith, John, a Representative and a Senator from New York; born in Brookhaven, N. Y., February 12, 1755; completed preparatory studies; member of the state assembly 1784–1799; delegate in the convention which adopted the Federal constitution in 1788; elected as a Democrat to the Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1799, until his resignation February 23, 1804; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of De Witt Clinton; reelected, and served from February 4, 1804, to March 3, 1813; United States marshal for the district of New York 1813–1816; died in Brookhaven, N. Y., June 25, 1816.

Smith, John, a Representative from Virginia; native of Virginia; elected to the Seventh, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1801–March 3, 1815; died in Rockville, Md., March, 1836.

Smith, John Armstrong, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hillsboro, Ohio, September 23, 1814; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Miami university in 1834; studied law, and was admitted to the bar; member of the state legislature 1841–1842; member of the state constitutional convention of Ohio in 1851; elected as a ————— to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1873); resumed the practice of law; member of the state constitutional convention of 1873; died in Hillsboro, Ohio, March 7, 1892.

Smith, John Ambler, a Representative from Virginia; born in Village View, Va., September 23, 1847; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Richmond, Va., in 1867; held several local offices; member of the state senate in 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C., and died there January 6, 1892.

Smith, John Cotton, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Sharon, Conn., February 12, 1765; was graduated from Yale college in 1783; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Sharon, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives 1793, 1796, 1800, and served the last year as speaker; elected as a Federalist to the Sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Jonathan Brace; reelected to the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Congresses, and served from November 17, 1800, until his resignation in August, 1806; judge of the supreme court of Connecticut in 1809; lieutenant-governor of Connecticut in 1810; governor 1813–1818; died in Sharon, Conn., December 7, 1845.

Smith, John Quincy, a Representative from Ohio; born in Warren county, Ohio, November 5, 1824; attended the common schools and Miami university; farmer; member of the state senate 1860–1861, and 1872–1873; member of the state house of representatives 1862-1863; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); United States Commissioner of Indian Affairs 1875-1877; United States consul-general to Montreal, Canada, 1877-1882; died in Oakland, Clinton county, Ohio, December 30, 1901.

Smith, John Speed, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Jessamine county, Ky., July 31, 1792; attended the common schools; served in the Indian campaign of 1813 under General Harrison; member of the state house of representatives in 1819; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); again a member of the state house of representatives, and served one term as speaker; United States attorney for the district of Kentucky; died in Richmond, Ky., June 6, 1854.

Smith, John T., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa.; attended the common schools; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845).

Smith, John Walter, a Representative and a Senator from Maryland; born in Snow Hill, Md., February 5, 1845; attended private schools and Union academy; engaged in the lumber business in Maryland, Virginia, and North Carolina; president of the First National bank of Snow Hill and director in many business and financial institutions; elected to the state senate in 1889, 1893, and 1897, and served as president of the senate during the session of 1894; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1899, until his resignation, January 12, 1900; governor of Maryland 1900-1904; delegate at large in the Democratic national convention in Kansas City in 1900, and in the St. Louis convention of 1904; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by death of William Pinkney Whyte, and took his seat March 26, 1908; reelected for the term ending March 3, 1915.

Smith, Jonathan Bayard, a delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., February 21, 1742; received a thorough English education and was graduated from Princeton college in 1760; secretary of the Philadelphia committee of safety 1775-1777; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1777-1778; prothonotary of the court of common pleas 1778-1781; justice of the court of common pleas; alderman of Philadelphia 1792-1794; auditor-general of Pennsylvania 1794; died in Philadelphia, Pa., June 16, 1812.

Smith, Joseph S., a Representative from Oregon; born in Fayette county, Pa., June 20, 1824; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; prosecuting attorney for the third judicial district of Washington territory in 1855; elected to the legislature and served as speaker of the house; United States district attorney of Washington territory for two years; resigned and moved to Oregon; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871).

Smith, Josiah, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Pembroke, Mass., in 1745; was graduated from Harvard college in 1774; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state legislature; elected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803); died in Pembroke, Mass., April 4, 1803.

Smith, Madison Roswell, a Senator from St. Louis, Mo.; born in Glenallen, Bollinger county, Mo., July 9, 1850; attended the public schools and Central college in Fayette, Mo.; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1874; taught school; began active practice of law in 1877; elected to the state senate in 1886; declined further election; served four years as reporter of the St. Louis court of appeals and resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); after retirement from Congress resumed the practice of law in Fannington, Mo.

Smith, Marcus Aurelius, a Delegate and a Senator from Arizona; born near Cynthiana, Ky., January 24, 1852; attended Transylvania university, Lexington, Ky.; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Arizona in 1881; elected prosecuting attorney of his district in 1882; elected a Delegate as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1895); reelected to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); again elected to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903) and to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1909); elected to the United States Senate, upon the admission of the state of Arizona into the Union, for the term expiring March 3, 1915.

Smith, Melancthon, a Delegate from New York; born in Jamaica, N. Y., in 1724; elected to the Continental Congress 1785-1788; died in New York City July 29, 1798.

Smith, Meriwether, a Delegate from Virginia; born in Bathurst, Va., in 1730; completed preparatory studies; served several years as a member of the colonial and state house of representatives; delegate to the Revolutionary conventions of 1775 and 1776; delegate to the state convention that adopted the Federal Constitution; delegate to the Continental Congress 1778-1782; member of the Virginia house of delegates; died in Merigold, Essex county, Va., January 25, 1790.

Smith, Nathan, a Senator from Connecticut; born in Woodbury, Conn., January 8, 1770; received a thorough English education; attended Litchfield law school, was admitted to the bar and began practice in New Haven, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives; state's attorney for New Haven county; delegate to the Hartford convention of Federalists in 1814; United States attorney for Connecticut; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1825; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1833, until his death, in Washington, D. C., December 6, 1835.

Smith, Nathaniel, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Woodbury, Conn., January 6, 1762; attended the public schools; farmer and cattle dealer; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1787, and practiced in Woodbury, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives 1789-1795; elected as a Federalist to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1799); member of the state senate 1800-1805; judge of the supreme court of Connecticut 1806-1819; delegate to the Hartford convention of 1814; died in Woodbury, Conn., March 9, 1822.

Smith, O'Brien, a Representative from South Carolina; elected to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1807).

Smith, Oliver Hampton, a Representative and a Senator from Indiana; born on Smiths island, near Trenton, N. J., October 23, 1794; moved to Indiana in 1817; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Connersville, Ind.; member of the state house of representatives in 1822–1824; prosecuting attorney for the third judicial district 1824 and 1825; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1829); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1837, to March 3, 1843; declined the Whig nomination for governor in 1845; engaged in the railroad business in Indianapolis; died in Indianapolis, Ind., March 19, 1849.

Smith, Perry, a Senator from Connecticut; born in Woodbury, Conn., May 12, 1783; completed preparatory studies; studied law at the Litchfield law school, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New Milford, Conn., in 1807; member of the state house of representatives 1822–1824; judge of probate court 1824–1835; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1837, to March 3, 1843; died in New Milford, Conn., June 8, 1852.

Smith, R. Barnwell, a Representative from South Carolina; elected to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863).

Smith, Richard, a Delegate from New Jersey; born at Burlington, N. J., March 22, 1735; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Philadelphia, Pa., and later in New Jersey; member of the state assembly; recorder of the courts of Burlington, N. J.; treasurer of New Jersey in 1776; Delegate to the Continental Congress, 1774–1776; resigned on account of ill health in 1776; moved to Laurens, N. Y., in 1790; died near Natchez, Miss., September 17, 1803.

Smith, Robert, a Representative from Illinois; born in Peterboro, N. H., June 12, 1802; attended the public schools; farmer; moved to Illinois and located in Alton; member of the state house of representatives 1836–1840; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1849); reelected to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); died in Alton, Ill., December 21, 1867.

Smith, Samuel, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Peterboro, N. H., November 11, 1765; received a limited education; wall-paper manufacturer; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815); died in Peterboro, N. H., April 25, 1842.

Smith, Samuel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; elected to the Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1811).

Smith, Samuel, a Representative and a Senator from Maryland; born in Carlisle, Pa., July 27, 1752; moved with his father to Baltimore, Md., in 1759; attended the public schools; engaged in the mercantile business; served in the Revolutionary war as captain, major, and lieutenant colonel; engaged in the shipping business; brigadier general of the state militia; member of the state legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Third and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1803); elected to the United States Senate; served from March 4, 1803, to March 3, 1815 acting secretary of the United States navy in Jefferson's cabinet in 1805; served in the war of 1812; reelected to the Fourteenth and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1815, until his resignation December 17, 1822; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of William Pinkney, and served from December 16, 1822, to March 3, 1833, when he resigned; major general of the state militia; elected mayor of Baltimore, Md.; died in Baltimore, Md., April 22, 1839.

Smith, Samuel A., a Representative from Pennsylvania; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1833).

Smith, Samuel Axley, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Mouroe county, Tenn., June 26, 1822; received a limited education; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and began practice in Cleveland, Tenn.; district attorney general 1845–1850; delegate to the national Democratic convention at Baltimore in 1848; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1859); appointed by President Buchanan Commissioner of the General Land Office in 1860; served in Confederate army in 1861; died in Ladd Springs, Polk county, Tenn., November 25, 1863.

Smith, Samuel William, a Representative from Michigan; born in Independence, Oakland county, Mich., August 23, 1852; attended the common schools in Clarkston and Detroit; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan, and was admitted to the bar in 1873; prosecuting attorney of Oakland county 1880–1884; member of the state senate 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Smith, Sylvester Clark, a Representative from California; born near Mount Pleasant, Iowa, August 26, 1858; attended the district schools and Howe's academy, Mount Pleasant; moved to California in 1879; farmed and taught school in Colusa county; taught school in Kern county in 1883; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1885, and commenced practice in Bakersfield, Cal.; employed to edit the Kern County Echo; resumed the practice of law; member of the state senate 1894–1902; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Fifty-eighth Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Smith, Thomas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817).

Smith, Thomas, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born near Cruden, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, in 1745; came to the United States and located in Bedford, Pa., February 9, 1769;

deputy surveyor; held several local offices; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1772; served in the Revolutionary army as deputy colonel of militia; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1776; member of the state house of representatives 1776-1780; delegate in the Continental Congress 1780-1782; judge of the supreme court of Pennsylvania 1794-1809; died in Philadelphia, Pa., March 31, 1809.

Smith, Thomas, a Representative from Indiana; born in Fayette county, Pa., May, 1798; moved to Indiana; tanner; attended the public schools; located in Versailles, Ind.; member of the state senate; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); reelected to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the Twenty-seventh Congress; died in Versailles, Ripley county, Ind., April 12, 1876.

Smith, Thomas Alexander, a Representative from Maryland; born near Greenwood, Del., September 3, 1850; attended the public schools and Denton academy; taught school in Delaware, Maryland, and Michigan; moved to Ridgely, Md., and was appointed agent of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad; school commissioner of Caroline county 1889-1893; member of the state senate in 1894 and 1896; candidate for comptroller of the state treasury 1897; chief of the Maryland bureau of statistics and information 1900-1903; first vice-president of the National Association of Labor Statisticians 1903-1904; member of the board of state aid and charities 1903-1904; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); land commissioner of Maryland in Annapolis; a resident of Ridgely, Md.

Smith, Truman, a Representative and Senator from Connecticut; born in Roxbury, Conn., November 27, 1791; was graduated from Yale in 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1818, and began practice in Litchfield, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives 1831, 1832, and 1834; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); presidential elector on the Clay and Frelinghuysen ticket in 1844; reelected to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1849, until his resignation May 24, 1854; moved to New York; judge of the slave-trade court in New York, 1862-1870; died in Stamford, Conn., May 3, 1884.

Smith, Walter Inglewood, a Representative from Iowa; born in Council Bluffs, Iowa, July 10, 1862; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in December, 1882, and commenced practice; judge of the fifteenth judicial district of Iowa 1890-1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth Congress in November, 1900, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Smith McPherson, and at the same time elected to the Fifty-seventh Congress; reelected to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses; resigned March 15, 1911, to accept an appointment as United States circuit judge in the eighth judicial circuit.

Smith, William, a Delegate and a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., April 12, 1728; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1777-1778; prominent merchant; elected as a Federalist to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); Auditor of the Treasury July 16, 1791, to November 27, 1791; presidential elector in 1792; died in Baltimore, Md., March 27, 1814.

Smith, William, a Representative from South Carolina; native of South Carolina; received a thorough English education; held several offices; elected as a Federalist to the First and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1789, until his resignation July 10, 1797; minister to Portugal 1797-1801; died on his plantation in South Carolina September 9, 1801.

Smith, William, a Representative and a Senator from South Carolina; born in North Carolina in 1762; moved to York district, South Carolina; pursued classical studies; was graduated from Mount Zion college, Winnsborough, S. C., in 1789; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Charleston, S. C., in 1784; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives; elected to the state senate 1806-1808, and served as president of the senate in 1808; circuit judge of the district court; elected as a Democrat to the Fifth Congress (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1799); elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Taylor; reelected in 1817, and served from December 4, 1816, until March 3, 1823; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; again elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John Gaillard, and served from December 7, 1826, until March 3, 1831; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; declined the offer of judge of the Supreme Court of the United States; moved to Huntsville, Ala., in 1833; declined the appointment of associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1836; member of the state legislature 1835-1839; died in Huntsville, June 10, 1840.

Smith, William, a Representative from Virginia; a native of Chesterfield, Va.; completed preparatory studies; elected to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1827).

Smith, William, a Representative from Virginia; born in King George county, Va., September 6, 1796; completed preparatory studies; attended Plainfield academy, Conn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Culpeper county, Va.; member of the state senate 1830-1835; successfully contested the election of Linn Banks to the Twenty-seventh Congress, and served from December 4, 1841, until March 3, 1843; governor of Virginia, 1845-1848; moved to California in 1850; president of the constitutional convention at Benicia, Cal., in 1850; returned to Virginia; elected to the Thirty-third, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1861); colonel of the forty-ninth Virginia infantry in the civil war; served in the Confederate congress; again a member of the state legislature; governor of Virginia in 1864; died in Warrenton, Va., May 18, 1887.

Smith, William Alden, a Representative from Michigan; born in Dowagiac, Mich., May 12, 1859; attended the common schools; moved with his parents to Grand Rapids in 1872; appointed a page in the Michigan house of representatives in 1879; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1883; assistant secretary of the Michigan senate in 1883; president and principal owner of the Grand Rapids Herald; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1895, to January 11, 1907; elected to the United States Senate in January, 1907, for the term ending March 4, 1913; subsequently elected to fill vacancy caused by the death of Russel A. Alger, and took his seat February 11, 1907; reelected for the term expiring March 3, 1919.

Smith, William Alexander, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Warren county, N. C., January 9, 1828; attended the public schools; farmer; member of the state constitutional convention in 1865; member of the state senate in 1870; president of the North Carolina Railroad in 1868 and of the Yadkin River Railroad; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); died in Richmond, Va., May 16, 1888.

Smith, William E., a Representative from Georgia; born in Augusta, Ga., March 14, 1829; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1848, under a special act of the legislature, and practiced; also a planter; ordinary of Dougherty county, Ga., in 1853; solicitor general of the Southwest circuit in 1858–1860; enlisted in the Confederate army as a first lieutenant in the fourth Georgia volunteers; elected captain in April, 1862; elected to the Second Confederate congress in 1863; declined the office of circuit judge in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1881); after retiring from Congress resumed the practice of law; died in Albany, Ga., March 11, 1890.

Smith, William Jay, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Birmingham, England, September 24, 1823; emigrated to the United States and located in Orange county, N. Y.; printer; moved to Tennessee in 1846; served in a regiment from the state in the Mexican war; located in Hardeman county, Tenn., and engaged in horticulture; served in the Union army during the civil war and became brevet brigadier-general; member of the state constitutional; member of the state house of representatives; served in the state senate; surveyor of the port of Memphis, Tenn.; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); resides in Memphis, Tenn.

Smith, William Nathan Harrell, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Murfreesboro, N. C., September 24, 1812; was graduated from Yale college in 1834, and from Yale law school in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Murfreesboro, N. C., in 1839; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives in 1840; served in the state senate in 1848; solicitor of the first judicial district of North Carolina; reelected to the state house of representatives in 1858, but resigned, having been elected as a State Rights American to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1861); served in the Confederate congress, 1862–1865; chief justice of the supreme court of North Carolina, 1878–1889; died in Raleigh, N. C., November 14, 1889.

Smith, William Orlando, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, Pa., June 13, 1859; attended the public schools; learned the printing trade; publisher of the Reynoldsville Herald; worked in the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., six years; one of a company of ten printers to establish the Washington Craftsman, a deceased organ of the International Typographical Union, and was its first associate editor; returned to his native county in 1884 and successively edited the Punxsutawney Tribune and the Punxsutawney Spirit; elected member of the state house of representatives, 1889–1898; editor of the Bradford (Pa.) Daily Era in 1891; in January, 1892, purchased a half interest in the Punxsutawney Spirit; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1907).

Smith, William Robert, a Representative from Texas; born in Smith county, Tex., August 18, 1863; attended the country schools and was graduated from Sam Houston normal institute, in Huntsville, Tex., in 1883; studied law in Tyler, Tex., admitted to the bar in 1885, and practiced in Tyler until February, 1888; moved to Colorado, Tex., and continued practice; judge of the thirty-second judicial district of Texas 1897–1901; elected to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Smith, William Russell, a Representative from Alabama; born in Russellville, Ky., August 8, 1813; pursued classical studies; attended the university of Alabama; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Greensboro, Ala., in 1834; served in the campaign against the Creek Indians in 1836; moved to Tuscaloosa, Ala., in 1836 and engaged in newspaper work; founded and edited the Mirror; mayor of Tuscaloosa, in 1839; member of the state house of representatives 1842–1843; elected brigadier-general of militia; judge of the seventh judicial circuit; brigadier-general of state militia; elected as a Union Whig to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1855); reelected as a National American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; member of the state constitutional convention in 1861; representative in the First and Second Confederate Congresses; devoted himself to the practice of law and literary pursuits; died in Tuscaloosa, Ala., February 26, 1896.

Smith, William Stephens, a Representative from New York; born in Long Island, N. Y., November 8, 1755; was graduated from New Jersey college in 1774; served in the Revolutionary army as aid-de-camp to General Sullivan in 1776; on the staff of General Lafayette 1780–1781, and then transferred to staff of General Washington; fought in twenty-two engagements of the Revolution; secretary of legation in London in 1784; returned to America in 1788; surveyor of the port of New York; member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815); died in Smith Valley, town of Lebanon, N. Y., June 10, 1816.

Smith, Worthington Curtis, a Representative from Vermont; born in St. Albans, Vt., April 23, 1823; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from the university of Vermont in 1843; studied law, but did not practice; engaged in the iron trade; assisted in raising the first Vermont volunteers in 1861; member of the state house of representatives in 1863; elected to the state senate 1864–1865, and was unanimously elected president pro tempore of that body in 1865; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1873); died in St. Albans, Vt., January 2, 1894.

Smithers, Nathaniel Barratt, a Representative from Delaware; born in Dover, Del., October 8, 1818; was graduated from Lafayette college, Pennsylvania, in 1836; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Dover, Del., in 1840; secretary of state of Delaware; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of William Temple, and served from December 7, 1863, to March 3, 1865; delegate in the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864; died in Dover, Kent county, Del., January 16, 1896.

Smoot, Reed, a Senator from Utah; born in Salt Lake City, Utah, January 10, 1862; moved with his parents to Provo, Utah; attended the common schools and the state university, and was graduated from the Brigham Young academy in 1880; banker and woolen manufacturer; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1908 and 1912; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1903; reelected in 1909 for the term expiring March 3, 1915.

Smyser, Martin Luther, a Representative from Ohio; born in Wayne county, Ohio, April 3, 1851; attended the common schools and was graduated from Wittenberg college, Springfield, Ohio; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served one term as prosecuting attorney of Wayne county; elected to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891) and to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1907).

Smyth, Alexander, a Representative from Virginia; born in the island of Rathlin, Ireland, in 1765; came to the United States and located in Botetourt county, Va., in 1775; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Abingdon, Va.; moved to Wythe county, Va.; member of the state house of representatives from 1792 to 1808; inspector-general of the army in 1812; resumed the practice of law; again a member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Fifteenth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1825); reelected to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses, and served from March 4, 1827, until his death, in Washington, D. C., April 17, 1830.

Smyth, George Washington, a Representative from Texas; born in North Carolina, May 16, 1803; moved with his parents to Alabama and later to Murfreesboro, Tenn.; surveyor; moved to Texas (then Mexico) and became commissioner of titles; appointed as Texas commissioner in charge of the boundary line between the Republic of Texas and the United States; farmer; commissioner of the general land office of the state in 1848; moved to Texas; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); declined re-nomination to the Thirty-fourth Congress; served in the Confederate army; member of the constitutional convention; died February 21, 1866.

Smyth, William, a Representative from Iowa; born in county Tyrone, Ireland, January 3, 1824; completed preparatory studies; came to the United States and located in Pennsylvania in 1838; moved to Iowa in 1844; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Marion, Iowa, in 1847; prosecuting attorney of Linn county; judge of the district court for the fourth judicial district of Iowa; served two years in the Union army; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); died in Marion, Iowa, September 30, 1870.

Snapp, Henry, a Representative from Illinois; born in Livonia, Livingston county, N. Y., June 30, 1822; moved to Rochester, N. Y.; attended the common schools; moved to Homer, Ill., studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Joliet, Ill.; member of the state senate, 1869–1871; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); died in Joliet, Ill., November 26, 1895.

Snapp, Howard Malcom, a Representative from Illinois; born in Joliet, Ill., September 27, 1855; attended the public schools and Chicago university; was admitted to the bar in 1879 and commenced practice; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1896; master in chancery from 1884 to 1903; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in Joliet, Ill.

Sneed, William Henry, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Davidson county, Tenn., August 29, 1812; completed preparatory studies; moved with his father's family to Rutherford county, Tenn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state senate 1843–1845; moved to Knoxville, Tenn., in 1845, and practiced; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); died in Knoxville, Tenn., September 18, 1869.

Snider, Samuel Prather, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Mount Gilead, Ohio, October 9, 1845; attended Oberlin college, Ohio; left that institution in 1861, and enlisted as a private soldier in the sixty-fifth Ohio volunteer infantry; served in Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi; served in west Tennessee as captain in the thirteenth United States colored infantry; after the civil war engaged in commercial pursuits, and became a resident of Minnesota in 1876; organized and built the Midland railway; engaged in farming, mining, and manufacturing; served in the Minnesota legislature, 1884–1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); engaged as dealer in lands.

Snodgrass, Charles Edward, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Sparta, White county, Tenn., December 28, 1866; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Crossville, Tenn., in 1888; never held or sought any other elective office; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1903); judge of the fifth judicial circuit; resides in Crossville, Tenn.

Snodgrass, Henry Clay, a Representative from Tennessee; born in White county, Tenn., March 29, 1848; attended Sparta academy; studied law at the university in Lebanon, Tenn., was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Sparta, Tenn.; attorney-general of the fifth judicial circuit for eight years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law after leaving Congress.

Snodgrass, John Fryall, a Representative from Virginia; born in Berkeley county, Va. (now West Virginia), March 2, 1804; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Parkersburg, Va.; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1850; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); died in Parkersburg, Va., June 5, 1854.

Snook, John Stout, a Representative from Ohio; born near Antwerp, Paulding county, Ohio, December 18, 1862; was graduated from the Antwerp graded schools in 1880; attended the Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware, Ohio; was graduated from the law school of the Cincinnati college in May, 1887; was admitted by the supreme court to practice in the state of Ohio, and began practice in Antwerp, Ohio; moved to Paulding, Ohio, in 1890 and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1905); resumed the practice of law in Paulding, Ohio.

Snover, Horace Greeley, a Representative from Michigan; born in Romeo, Macomb county, Mich., September 21, 1847; attended the public schools and Dickenson institute; was graduated from the literary department of the university of Michigan in 1869 and from the law department in 1871; was admitted to the bar in 1871; moved to Port Austin, Mich., in 1874 and engaged in the practice of law; principal of the public schools; probate judge of Huron county from January 1, 1881, to January 1, 1885; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1899); after leaving Congress engaged in the banking and real estate business in Port Huron, Mich.

Snow, Herman Wilbur, a Representative from Georgia; born in Laporte county, Ind., July 3, 1836; moved with his parents to Kentucky; educated himself entirely; taught school several years; was admitted to the bar; enlisted as a private in the one hundred and thirty-ninth Illinois volunteer infantry; served in Illinois, Missouri, and Kentucky, and rose to the rank of captain; after expiration of first enlistment reenlisted in the one hundred and fifty-first Illinois infantry, and rose to the rank of lieutenant-colonel; provost-marshal-general of Georgia on Major-General Steedman's staff; with his regiment when Brigadier-General Wofford surrendered 10,400 Confederate troops to Steedman at Kingston, Ga.; at the expiration of service resumed teaching in the Chicago high school for three years; elected to the Illinois legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); elected Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives for the Fifty-third Congress; engaged as banker in Sheldon, Ill.

Snow, William W., a Representative from New York; born in Heath, Franklin county, Mass., April 27, 1812; attended the public schools; moved to Oneonta, N. Y., in 1831; merchant, and engaged extensively in agricultural pursuits; inspector of common schools; supervisor of Oneonta; member of the state house of representatives in 1844; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); again a member of the state legislature in 1870; died in Oneonta, N. Y., September 3, 1886.

Snowden, William Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Liskeard, England, June 6, 1840; emigrated with his parents to the United States in 1846, and located in Allentown, Pa.; attended the Allentown academy, and was graduated from the Harvard law school in 1865; was admitted to the bar and began practice in Allentown, Pa.; county solicitor, 1868; district attorney, 1872; delegate to the Democratic state convention, 1875; city solicitor, 1886; served in the civil war and was wounded in the Battle of Antietam; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889); died in Allentown, Pa., March 3, 1907.

Snyder, Adam Wilson, a Representative from Illinois; born in Connellsville, Fayette county, Pa., October 6, 1799; attended the common schools; moved to Cahokia, Ill.; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1820; served several years in the Illinois state house of representatives; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Twenty-fourth Congress; elected as a Van Buren Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois, but died before the election in Belleville, St. Clair county, Ill., May 14, 1842.

Snyder, Charles Philip, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Charleston, Kanawha county, W. Va., June 9, 1847; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; prosecuting attorney of Kanawha county, W. Va., 1876–1884; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John E. Kenna; reelected to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses and served from December 3, 1883, to March 3, 1889; a resident of Charleston, W. Va.

Snyder, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Selingsgrove, Pa., January 29, 1793; served as captain in the war of 1812; elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); died in Selingsgrove, Pa., August 15, 1850.

Snyder, Oliver P., a Representative from Arkansas; born in Missouri November 13, 1833; completed preparatory studies; moved to Arkansas in 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the general assembly of Arkansas 1864-1865; delegate to the constitutional convention in 1867; Republican presidential elector in 1868; member of the state senate; one of the committee to revise and rearrange the statutes of Arkansas in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875).

Sollers, Augustus R., a Representative from Maryland; native of that state; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843), and reelected to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855).

Somers, Peter J., a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Menominee Falls, Waukesha county, Wis., April 12, 1850; attended the common schools, normal school, and pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1874, and practiced; attorney of the city of Milwaukee 1882-1884; elected to the common council in 1890, and upon its organization elected president; trustee of the public library; mayor of Milwaukee in 1890-1894; elected to the Fifty-third Congress at a special election held April 4, 1893, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John L. Mitchell, and served from August 27, 1893, to March 3, 1895; resumed the practice of law; moved to Nevada; district judge of Esmeraldo county, and reelected in 1910 for term ending 1914.

Somes, Daniel E., a Representative from Maine; a native of New Hampshire; moved to Biddeford, Me., and engaged in manufacturing; mayor of Biddeford 1855-1857; president of the City bank 1856-1858; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861).

Sorg, Paul John, a Representative from Ohio; born in Wheeling, W. Va., September 23, 1840; moved to Cincinnati in 1852; apprenticed to a molder; attended night school in Cincinnati; in the sixties began the manufacture of tobacco on a small scale in Cincinnati; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress at a special election to fill vacancy caused by the death of George W. Houk; reelected to the Fifty-fourth Congress and served from May 21, 1894, to March 3, 1897; died in Middletown, Ohio, May 27, 1902.

Soule, Nathan, a Representative from New York; a native of that state; member of the state house of representatives in 1837; elected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833).

Soulé, Pierre, a Senator from Louisiana; born in Castillon, France, in September, 1802; completed preparatory studies; taught school; engaged in literary pursuits; imprisoned for publishing revolutionary articles, but escaped and came to the United States, and reached New Orleans in 1825; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1826; member of the state senate in 1845; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Alexander A. Barrow, and served from January 21, 1847, to March 3, 1847; again elected and served from March 4, 1849, until his resignation, April 11, 1853- minister to Spain 1853-1855; resumed the practice of law in New Orleans, La.; died in New Orleans, La., March 26, 1870.

Southall, Robert Goode, a Representative from Virginia; born in Amelia county, Va., December 26, 1852; attended the Washington Academy and high school of Amelia county; deputy clerk of Nottaway county for fourteen years; was graduated from the law school of the University of Virginia in June, 1876, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in January, 1877; delegate to the Democratic convention at St. Louis in 1888 and at Chicago in 1896; member of the state house of delegates 1899-1903; commonwealth's attorney of Amelia county, Va.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); judge of the judicial circuit court of Virginia; a resident of Amelia county, Va.

Southard, Henry, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Hempstead, Long Island, October 7, 1747; moved with his parents to Baskingridge, N. J., and worked on a farm; served nine years as a member of the state legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1811); reelected to the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1821); died in Baskingridge, N. J., May 22, 1842.

Southard, Isaac, a Representative from New Jersey; born in New Jersey; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Clay Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833).

Southard, James Harding, a Representative from Ohio; born in Washington township, Lucas county, Ohio, January 20, 1851; attended the public schools and was graduated from Cornell University in 1874; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1877; assistant prosecuting attorney of Lucas county; elected prosecuting attorney of said county; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Sixtieth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Toledo, Ohio.

Southard, Milton Isaiah, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hanover, Ohio, October 20, 1836; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from Denison university, in Granville, Ohio; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1863, and commenced practice in Toledo, Ohio; prosecuting attorney for Muskingum county, Ohio; 1867-1871; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1879); moved to New York City and practiced law; died in Zanesville, Ohio, May 4, 1905.

Southard, Samuel Lewis, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Baskingridge, N. J., June 9, 1787; was graduated from Princeton college in 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Kensington, N. J.; deputy-attorney for several years; appointed law reporter by the state legislature; served one week as a member of the state legislature, when he resigned to become associate justice of the supreme court of New Jersey; presidential elector on the Monroe and Tompkins ticket in 1820; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James J. Wilson, and served from February 16, 1821, to March 3, 1823; Secretary of the Navy ad interim; Secretary of the Treasury ad interim March 7, 1825, to July 1, 1825; also Secretary of War ad interim; attorney-general of New Jersey; governor of New Jersey in 1832; again elected to the United States Senate, was President pro tempore, and served from December 2, 1833, until his resignation, May 3, 1842; died in Fredericksburg, Va., June 26, 1842.

Southgate, William W., a Representative from Kentucky; a native of Covington, Ky.; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839; presidential elector in 1840 and 1844; died in Covington, Ky., December 26, 1844.

Southwick, George Newell, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., March 7, 1863; attended private school and later public schools; was graduated from the Albany high school in 1879; from Williams college in 1884; attended the Albany law school; early in 1885 entered the service of the Albany Morning Express, in both an editorial and a reportorial capacity; official reporter of the legislature for the Associated Press in 1886, 1887, and 1888; in the last-mentioned year became managing editor of the Morning Express, and early in 1889 of the Albany Evening Journal; chairman of the Republican state convention in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifty-sixth Congress; again elected to the Fifty-seventh, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1911); died in Albany, N. Y., October 17, 1912.

Spaight, Richard Dobbs, a Delegate and a Representative from North Carolina; born in Newbern, N. C., March 25, 1758; attended the University of Glasgow; returned home in 1778 and joined the Continental army as aid-de-camp to General Caswell; member of the North Carolina house of commons 1781–1786 and 1792; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1783–1785; delegate to the Federal constitutional convention; governor of North Carolina in 1792; elected to the Fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Nathan Bryan; reelected to the Sixth Congress and served from December 10, 1798, to March 3, 1801; member of the state senate 1801–1802; mortally wounded in a duel with Henry Stanley and died September 6, 1802, in Newbern, N. C.

Spaight, Richard Dobbs, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Newbern, N. C., in 1796; was graduated from the university of North Carolina in 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Newbern, N. C.; elected to the state house of representatives, 1819–1820; member of the state senate, 1820–1822; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825); again a member of the state senate, 1824–1834; governor of North Carolina, 1835–1837; retired to his farm and devoted himself to agricultural pursuits; died in Newbern, N. C., November 2, 1850.

Spalding, Burleigh Folsom, a Representative from North Dakota; born in Craftsbury, Orleans county, Vt., December 3, 1853; attended the Lyndon literary institute, Lyndon, Vt., and was graduated from Norwich university in 1877; studied law in Montpelier, Vt., and was admitted to the bar in March, 1880, and commenced practice in Fargo, N. Dak.; superintendent of public instruction of Cass county, Dakota territory, from 1882 to 1884; member of commission to relocate capital of the territory of Dakota and build capitol; member of the North Dakota constitutional convention in 1889; member of the joint commission provided by the enabling act to divide the property and archives of the territory of Dakota between the states of North and South Dakota; twice elected chairman of the Republican state central committee; chairman of the Cass county Republican committee; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901); reelected to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1905); associate justice of the supreme court of North Dakota in 1907; reelected in 1908; chief justice of the state supreme court in 1911.

Spalding, George, a Representative from Michigan; born in Scotland, November 12, 1836; emigrated with his parents to the United States in 1843; settled in Buffalo, N. Y.; attended the public schools; accompanied his parents to Monroe, Mich.; taught school in 1860–1861; mustered into the United States service for the Civil war June 20, 1861, as a private and sergeant in company A, fourth regiment Michigan volunteer infantry; first lieutenant August 5, 1861; captain January 13, 1862; lieutenant colonel of the eighteenth Michigan infantry July 18, 1862; colonel twelfth Tennessee cavalry February 24, 1864; brevet brigadier general of volunteers March 21, 1865, "for valuable service during the campaign in Tennessee"; mustered out of service October 24, 1865; postmaster of Monroe, Mich., 1866–1870; special agent of the Treasury Department 1871–1875; mayor of Monroe, Mich., 1876; president of the board of education; was admitted to the bar in 1878; member of the board of control State Industrial Home for Girls 1885–1897; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1899); again appointed postmaster of Monroe, Mich.

Spalding, Rufus Paine, a Representative from Ohio; born in West Tisbury, Mass., May 3, 1798; was graduated from Yale college in 1817; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Little Rock, Ark., and began practice in Trumbull county, Ohio; moved to Portage county, Ohio, in 1821; member of the state legislature of Ohio, 1839–1840 and 1841–1842; served one term as speaker of the house; judge of the supreme court of Ohio, 1849–1852; resumed practice of law in Cleveland, Ohio; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1869); died in Cleveland, Ohio, August 29, 1886.

Spalding, Thomas, a Representative from Georgia; born in Frederica, St. Simons island, Glynn county, Ga., March 26, 1774; completed preparatory studies; studied law, but abandoned it in order to give his personal attention to his large estate; elected to the general assembly of Georgia; member of the constitutional convention of 1798; successfully contested the election of Cowles Mead to the Ninth Congress and took his seat December 25, 1805, and served until his resignation in 1806; member of the state senate; commissioner on the part of the state of Georgia to determine the boundary line between Georgia and the Territory of Florida; president of the convention at Milledgeville in 1850; died on his way homeward at the residence of his son near Darien, Ga., January 4, 1851.

Spangler, David, a Representative from Ohio; born in Sharpsburg, Washington county, Md., December 2, 1796; moved with parents to Zanesville, Ohio, in 1802; attended public schools; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1837); died in Coshocton, Ohio, October 18, 1856.

Spangler, Jacob, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in York, Pa., in 1768; received a limited schooling; surveyor; elected as a Whig to the Fifteenth Congress and served from December 1, 1817, until his resignation, April 20, 1818; surveyor general of Pennsylvania; died in York, Pa., June 17, 1843.

Sparkman, Stephen Milancthon, a Representative from Florida; born in Hernando county, Fla., July 29, 1849; attended the common schools; taught school for three years; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1872; state attorney for the sixth judicial circuit, 1878–1887; member of the state and congressional committees from 1890 to 1892, when he was elected chairman; declined the position of circuit judge for the sixth judicial circuit in 1888, also the position of associate judge on the supreme court bench in 1891; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Sparks, William Andrew Jackson, a Representative from Illinois; born near New Albany, Ind., November 19, 1828; moved with his parents to Illinois in 1836; attended country schools; taught school, and was graduated from McKendree college, Ill., in 1850; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1851; United States land receiver for the Edwardsville (Ill.) land office, 1853–1856; Democratic presidential elector in 1856; member of the state house of representatives in 1856 and 1857; served in the state senate, 1863 and 1864; delegate to the Democratic national convention at New York in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1883); Commissioner of the United States General Land office, 1895 to 1898; died in St. Louis, Mo., May 7, 1904.

Spaulding, Elbridge Gerry, a Representative from New York; born in Summer Hill, N. Y., February 24, 1809; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Buffalo, N. Y.; mayor of Buffalo in 1847; member of the state house of representatives in 1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); treasurer of the state of New York, 1854–1855; elected as a Union candidate to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1863); returned to Buffalo, N. Y., where he organized the Farmers and Mechanics' national bank in 1864; died in Buffalo, N. Y., May 5, 1897.

Spaulding, Oliver Lyman, a Representative from Michigan; born in Jaffrey, N. H., August 2, 1833; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from Oberlin college, Ohio, in 1855; moved to Michigan and taught school; was admitted to the bar in 1858, and began practice in St. Johns, Mich.; regent of the university of Michigan; served in the Union army; captain in the twenty-third regiment Michigan volunteers August 1, 1862; major February 13, 1863; lieutenant colonel April 6, 1863; colonel April 16, 1864; brevet brigadier general of volunteers June 25, 1865, "for faithful and meritorious service during the war"; honorably mustered out June 28, 1865; resumed the practice of law in St. Johns, Mich.; secretary of state of Michigan 1866–1870; member of the Republican state committee, 1871–1878; declined the position of United States district judge of the Territory of Utah in 1871; special agent of United States Treasury department, 1875–1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); chairman of the commission sent to the Sandwich Islands, to investigate alleged violations of the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty in 1883; again a special agent of the United States Treasury in 1885, and 1889–1890; Assistant Secretary of the Treasury 1890–1893; president of the first congress of American republics, held in New York City in January, 1903; again a special agent of the United States Treasury, with residence in Washington, D. C.

Speed, Thomas, a Representative from Kentucky; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819).

Speer, Emory, a Representative from Georgia; born in Culloden, Monroe county, Ga., September 3, 1848; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from the university of Georgia in August, 1869; studied law at the school of the university; entered the Confederate army as a volunteer in the fifth Kentucky regiment, Lewis brigade, and remained with that command until the surrender of the Confederate forces; was admitted to the bar in 1869, and began practice in Athens, Ga.; solicitor-general of Georgia, 1873–1876; unsuccessful candidate for the Forty-fifth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); United States attorney for the northern district of Georgia, 1883–1885; district judge of the southern federal judicial district of Macon, Ga.

Speer, Robert Milton, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Cassville, Pa., September 8, 1838; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Huntingdon, Pa., in 1859; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1875); delegate to the Democratic national conventions in 1872 and 1880; died in New York City, January 17, 1890.

Speer, Thomas Jefferson, a Representative from Georgia; born in Monroe county, Ga., August 31, 1837; attended common schools; merchant; held several offices under the Confederacy; member of the constitutional convention in 1867–1868; member of the state senate 1868–1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); died in Barnesville, Ga., August 18, 1872.

Speight, Jesse, a Representative from North Carolina and a Senator from Mississippi; born in Greene county, N. C., September 22, 1795; attended the public schools; member of the state house of representatives and served as speaker; member of the state senate, 1823-1827; elected to the Twenty-first and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1837); moved to Plymouth, Miss.; elected to the state house of representatives and chosen speaker; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate from Mississippi and served from March 4, 1845, until his death, in Columbus, Miss., May 1, 1847.

Spence, John Selby, a Representative and a Senator from Maryland; born near Snow Hill, Md., February 29, 1788; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Berlin, Md.; held several local offices; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); and to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1835); assistant postmaster general; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Robert H. Goldsborough, and served from January 11, 1837, to October 24, 1840, when he died in Berlin, Md.

Spence, Thomas Asa, a Representative from Maryland; born in Accomac county, Va., February 20, 1810; was graduated from Yale college in 1829; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practicing in Snow Hill, Mo.; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); assistant attorney-general for the Post-Office Department, 1872-1877; died in Washington, D. C., November 10, 1877.

Spencer, Ambrose, a Representative from New York; born in Salisbury, Conn., December 13, 1765; attended Yale college, and was graduated from Harvard in 1763; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Hudson, N. Y.; city clerk, 1786-1793; elected to the state assembly, 1793-1795; member of the state senate, 1795-1804; assistant attorney-general in 1796; attorney-general of New York 1802-1804; presidential elector in 1809; justice of the state supreme court, 1804-1819, and chief justice, 1819-1823; resumed practice of law in Albany, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); mayor of Albany, 1824-1826; president of the national Whig convention at Baltimore in 1844; moved to Lyons, N. Y., in 1839 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Lyons, N. Y., March 13, 1848.

Spencer, Elijah, a Representative from New York; a native of Columbia county, N. Y.; received a limited education; member of the state house of representatives in 1819; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823).

Spencer, George Eliphaz, a Senator from Alabama; born in Jefferson county, N. Y., November 1, 1836; pursued classical studies; attended Montreal college, Canada; moved to Iowa; secretary of the state senate in 1856; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1857 and began practice; entered the Union army as a captain, and when he resigned from the service, July 4, 1865, was brevetted brigadier-general for gallantry on the field; settled in practice in Decatur, Ala.; appointed register in bankruptcy for the fourth district of Alabama in May, 1867; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate; reelected and served from July 25, 1868, to March 3, 1879; retired to his ranch in Nevada; died in Washington, D. C., February 19, 1893.

Spencer, James B., a Representative from New York; born in Salisbury, Conn., April 26, 1781; received a limited education; served as captain in the war of 1812; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); died in Fort Covington, N. Y., March 26, 1848.

Spencer, James Grafton, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Port Gibson, Miss., September 13, 1844; attended Oakland college in 1861; entered the Confederate army as a private in Cowan's battery of light artillery; served until the close of the war; returned to his home and began farming; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); engaged in the real estate and insurance business near Port Gibson, Miss.

Spencer, John Canfield, a Representative from New York; born in Hudson, N. Y., January 8, 1788; was graduated from Union college in 1806; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and began practice in Canandaigua, N. Y.; served in the war of 1812; postmaster of Canandaigua, N. Y.; judge-advocate general in 1813; assistant attorney-general for western New York in 1815; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); member of the state assembly, 1820-1821, and served one year as speaker; served in the state senate 1824-1828; special attorney general to prosecute the abductors of Morgan; again a member of the state assembly 1831-1832; secretary of state of New York in 1839; appointed Secretary of War by President Tyler, October 12, 1841, and served until March 3, 1843; Secretary of the Treasury March 3, 1843, to May 2, 1844, when he resigned; died in Albany, N. Y., May 18, 1855.

Spencer, Joseph, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in East Haddam, Conn., October 3, 1714; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; judge of probate in 1753; served in the French war in 1758; member of the Connecticut council in 1776; brigadier-general in the Continental army; commissioned major-general August 9, 1776, and resigned June 14, 1778, because Congress had ordered an investigation of his military conduct in 1777; Delegate to the Continental Congress in 1779; member of the Connecticut council in 1780, and was annually reelected until his death in East Haddam, Conn., January 13, 1789.

Spencer, Richard, a Representative from Maryland; born in "Spencer Hall," Talbot county, Md., October 29, 1796; attended the common schools; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1819; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the state house of representatives; engaged in literary pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); died in "Cottage Hill," near Mobile, Ala., September 3, 1868.

Spencer, William B., a Representative from Louisiana; born in Catahoula Parish, La., February 5, 1835; was graduated from Centenary college, also from the law department of the university of Louisiana; was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Harrisonburg, La., 1857-1861; served in the Confederate army; elected as a Democrat (successfully contested the election of Frank Morey and took his seat) to the Forty-fourth Congress, May 31, 1876, and served until his resignation, January 8, 1877.

Sperry, Lewis, a Representative from Connecticut; born in East Windsor Hill, town of South Windsor, Hartford county, Conn., January 23, 1848; attended district school and Monson academy, Monson, Mass.; was graduated from Amherst college in 1873; studied law, was admitted to the bar in March, 1875, and commenced practice in Hartford, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Hartford, Conn.

Sperry, Nehemiah Day, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Woodbridge, New Haven county, Conn., July 10, 1827; attended public and a private school; worked on a farm and in a mill; taught school for several years; member of the common council in 1853; alderman of the city in 1854; secretary of state of Connecticut in 1855-1856; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1864; member of the executive committee and secretary both of the national and executive committees; chairman of the Republican state committee for a series of years; chairman of the recruiting committee of New Haven during the war; postmaster of New Haven, 1861-1885; again postmaster from 1889 to 1893; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1911); died in New Haven, Conn., November 13, 1911.

Spight, Thomas, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Tippah county, Miss., October 25, 1841; attended common and high schools of the county, and the college in Purdy, Tenn, also the Lagrange (Tenn.) Synodical college; entered the Confederate army as a private and was captain of his company; taught school and engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Ripley, Miss.; member of the state house of representatives, 1874-1880; presidential elector on the Hancock ticket; district attorney of the third judicial district; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William V. Sullivan; reelected to the Fifty-sixth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1905); resides in Ripley, Miss.

Spink, Solomon Lewis, a Delegate from Dakota; born in Whitehall, N. Y., March 20, 1831; completed preparatory studies; taught school several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Burlington, Iowa, in 1856; moved to Paris, Ill., in 1860 and began the publication of the Prairie Beacon; served in the state legislature; secretary of the Territory of Dakota, 1865-1869; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); resumed the practice of law in Yankton, S. Dak., until his death there September 22, 1881.

Spinner, Francis Elias, a Representative from New York; born in German Flats, Herkimer county, N. Y., January 21, 1802; pursued classical studies; engaged in banking; entered the state militia and promoted to the rank of major-general; held several public offices; appointed deputy sheriff in 1829; elected sheriff 1835; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1861); treasurer of the United States March 16, 1861, until his resignation July 1, 1875; suggested and successfully urged the employment of women in the Treasury Department; died in Jacksonville, Fla., December 31, 1890.

Spinola, Francis B., a Representative from York; born in Stony Brook, Long Island, N. Y., March 19, 1821; attended Quaker Hill academy, in Dutchess county; member of the state assembly; elected to the state senate; appointed brigadier-general of volunteers October 2, 1862, "for meritorious conduct in recruiting and organizing a brigade of four regiments, and accompanying them to the field;" honorably discharged from the service August, 1865, after having been twice wounded; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Charleston in 1860 and alternate to the Democratic national convention of 1884; engaged in manufacturing business; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, and Fifty-second Congresses, and served from March 4, 1887, until his death in Washington, D. C., April 12, 1891.

Spooner, Henry Joshua, a Representative and Senator from Rhode Island; born in Providence, R. I., August 6, 1839; attended the public schools; was graduated from Brown university in 1860; studied law; entered the Union army in 1862 as second lieutenant in the fourth regiment Rhode Island volunteer infantry; served in the armies of the Potomac and the James, and mostly in the ninth army corps; soon after the battle of Antietam was promoted to first lieutenant and adjutant of the same regiment; mustered out of service in 1865; was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of Rhode Island in 1865 and engaged in practice in Providence, R. I.; commander of the department of Rhode Island, Grand Army of the Republic, in 1877; member of the general assembly of Rhode Island, 1875-1881, and served as speaker, 1879-1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Nelson W. Aldrich; reelected to the Forty-eighth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifty-second Congress; again a member of the general assembly of Rhode Island in 1902; resumed the practice of law in Providence, R. I.

Spooner, John Coit, a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Lawrenceburg, Dearborn county, Ind., January 6, 1843; moved with his parents to Wisconsin and settled in Madison June 1, 1859; was graduated from the university of Wisconsin in 1864; private in company D, fortieth regiment, and captain of company A, fiftieth regiment, Wisconsin infantry volunteers; brevetted major at the close of the war; private and military secretary of Governor Lucius Fairchild, of Wisconsin; studied law, admitted to the bar in 1867, and practiced; assistant attorney-general of the state; moved to Hudson and practiced law, 1870-1884; member of the state assembly in 1872; member of the board of regents of Wisconsin university; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1885, to March 3, 1891; chairman of the Wisconsin delegation to national Republican convention in 1888 and in 1892; unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor of Wisconsin in 1892; moved from Hudson to Madison in 1893; again elected January 27, 1897, to the United States Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1897; declined the position of Secretary of the Interior tendered by President McKinley in 1898; declined the appointment as member of the United States and British Joint High Commission tendered by President McKinley in 1898; declined the position of Attorney General, to take office March 4, 1901, tendered by President McKinley January 3, 1901; reelected for the term beginning March 4, 1903, and served until his resignation April 30, 1907; located in New York City, and engaged in the practice of law.

* Sprague, Charles Franklin, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Boston, Mass., June 10, 1857; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Harvard university in 1879; studied law at the Harvard law school and Boston university, and was admitted to Suffolk bar; member of the common council of Boston in 1889 and 1890; member of the state house of representatives in 1891 and 1892; member of, and latterly chairman of, the board of park commissioners of the city of Boston in 1893 and 1894; elected to the Massachusetts senate in 1895 and 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); died in Providence, R. I., January 30, 1902.

Sprague, Peleg, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Rochester, Mass., December 10, 1756; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1786; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1787 in New Bedford, Mass.; moved to Keene, N. H.; solicitor for Cheshire county; elected to the Fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Jeremiah Smith, and served from December 15, 1797, to March 3, 1799; declined a renomination, and died in April, 1800.

Sprague, Peleg, a Representative and a Senator from Maine; born in Duxbury, Mass., April 27, 1793; was graduated from Harvard college in 1812; studied law at the Litchfield law school, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Augusta, and later in Hallowell, Me.; member of the state house of representatives, 1821 and 1822; elected as a Whig to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1829; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1829, until his resignation, January 1, 1835; resumed practice of law in Boston in 1840; presidential elector for Harrison and Tyler in 1841; United States district judge of Massachusetts, 1841-1865; died in Boston, Mass., October 13, 1880.

Sprague, William, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Cranston, R. I., November 3, 1799; pursued classical studies; merchant; member of the state assembly, and served as speaker, 1832-1835; elected to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); declined a reelection; governor of Rhode Island, 1838-1839; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Nathan F. Dixon, and served from February 18, 1842, until his resignation, January 17, 1844; presidential elector on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket in 1848; died in Providence, R. I., October 19, 1856.

Sprague, William, a Representative from Michigan; born in Providence, R. I., February 23, 1809; attended the public schools; moved to Michigan and settled in Kalamazoo; studied theology and was ordained as a minister; presiding elder Methodist Episcopal church, Kalamazoo district 1844-1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); retired to his farm near Oshtemo, Mich.; died in Kalamazoo, Mich., September 19, 1868.

Sprague, William, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Cranston, R. I., September 12, 1830; completed preparatory studies; attended the schools of Cranston and the Irving institute, Tarrytown, N. Y.; engaged in the calico-printing business, also locomotive manufacture; governor of Rhode Island, 1860, 1861, and 1862; served in the Union army; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate; reelected and served from March 4, 1863, to March 3, 1875; retired from public life and engaged in agricultural pursuits at his country seat, near Narragansett Pier, R. I.

Sprague, William Peter, a Representative from Ohio; born near Malta, Morgan county, Ohio, May 21, 1827; received a limited education; merchant; engaged in banking in McConnellsville, Ohio; member of the state senate, 1860-1861 and 1862-1863; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); died in McConnellsville, Ohio, March 3, 1899.

Sprigg, James C., a Representative from Kentucky; a native of Maryland; completed preparatory studies; moved to Shelbyville, Ky.; held several local offices; elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843).

Sprigg, Michael Cresap, a Representative from Maryland; born in Frostburg, Md.; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; served several terms in the state legislature; president of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal company; presidential elector on the Monroe ticket in 1820; elected to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1831); died in Cumberland, Md., December 28, 1845.

Sprigg, Richard, jr., a Representative from Maryland; a native of Maryland; elected to the Fourth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Gabriel Durall; reelected to the Fifth Congress and served from May 6, 1796, to March 3, 1799; again reelected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803).

Sprigg, Thomas, a Representative from Maryland; a native of Maryland; elected to the Third and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1797).

Sprigg, William, a Representative from Maryland; served in the Seventh Congress; resigned, and succeeded by Walter Bowie.

Spriggs, John Thomas, a Representative from New York; born in Peterborough, Northamptonshire, England, 1827; was graduated from Union college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; county treasurer; district attorney of Oneida county; mayor of Utica; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); died December 23, 1888.

Springer, William McKendree, a Representative from Illinois; born in New Lebanon, Sullivan county, Ind., May 30, 1836; moved to Illinois with his parents in 1848; attended Illinois college, Jacksonville, and was graduated from the University of Indiana, Bloomington, in 1858; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1859; secretary of the state constitutional convention of Illinois in 1862; member of the state legislature in 1871 and 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C., after the expiration of his term in Congress; United States judge for the northern district of Indian territory; chief justice of the United States court of appeals of Indian territory; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C., until his death there, December 4, 1903.

Spruance, Presley, a Senator from Delaware; born in Kent county, Del., September 11, 1785; manufacturer in Smyrna, Del.; merchant; member of the state constitutional convention of 1831; member of the state senate and served as president; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1847, to March 3, 1853; died in Smyrna, Del., February 13, 1863.

Squire, Watson Carbosso, a Senator from Washington; born in Cape Vincent, Jefferson county, N. Y., May 18, 1838; attended Falley seminary, Fulton, N. Y.; was graduated from the Wesleyan university, in Middletown, Conn., in 1859; principal of the Moravia institute at Moravia, N. Y.; enlisted in company F, nineteenth New York infantry, in 1861, for three months' service; promoted to first lieutenant; after five months' service was mustered out; studied law, was graduated from the Cleveland law school in 1862, and was admitted to the bar in June, 1862; raised a company of sharpshooters, of which he was commissioned captain; in the battles of Chicamauga, Chattanooga, Nashville, Resaca, and other engagements; made judge advocate of the district of Tennessee, with headquarters in Nashville; subsequently engaged with the Remington Arms Company; purchased large interests in Washington territory in 1876, and moved to Seattle in 1879; governor of the territory of Washington July 2, 1884, and served three years; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate November 21, 1889; re-elected in 1891, and served from November 20, 1889, to March 3, 1897; resumed the practice of law in Seattle, Wash.

Stackhouse, Eli Thomas, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Marion county, S. C., March 27, 1824; attended the country schools; worked on his father's farm; taught school; enlisted in the Confederate army for the civil war; served in Longstreet's corps, army northern Virginia, and was surrendered as colonel of his regiment; before reconstruction was three times elected to represent his county in the state legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress and served from March 4, 1891, until his death in Washington, D. C., June 14, 1892.

Stafford, William H., a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Milwaukee, Wis.; attended the public schools and Harvard college; was graduated from the Harvard law school, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Milwaukee; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911); defeated for renomination in 1910.

Stahle, James A., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in West Manchester township, York county, Pa., January 11, 1830; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; enlisted August 24, 1861, as captain of company A, eighty-seventh Pennsylvania volunteers; promoted to major January 1, 1863, and to lieutenant colonel May 9, 1863; honorably discharged at expiration of term of service, October 13, 1864; deputy collector of internal revenue at York; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); resumed farming.

Stahlnecker, William Griggs, a Representative from New York; born in Auburn, Cayuga county, N. Y., June 20, 1849; pursued an academic course; engaged in mercantile business; member of the New York produce exchange; mayor of Yonkers, N. Y., 1884–1886; delegate to the Democratic state convention in Saratoga, N. Y., in June, 1884; delegate to the national Democratic convention in Chicago, Ill., in July, 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1893); died in Yonkers, N. Y., March 26, 1902.

Stallings, Jesse Francis, a Representative from Alabama; born near Manningham, Butler county, Ala., April 4, 1856; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from the university of Alabama in 1877; studied law at the law school of the university of Alabama, was admitted to the bar in April, 1879, and commenced practice in Greenville, Ala.; elected by the legislature of Alabama solicitor for the second judicial circuit in November, 1886; resigned the office of solicitor in September, 1892; delegate to the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law and is a resident of Birmingham, Ala.

Stallworth, James Adams, a Representative from Alabama; born in Conecuh county, Ala., April 7, 1822; received a thorough English education; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state house of representatives; solicitor of the second judicial circuit of Alabama in 1849 and 1853; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses and served from March 4, 1857, until January 21, 1861, when he withdrew; died near Evergreen, Conecuh county, Ala., August 31, 1861.

Stanard, Edwin Obed, a Representative from Missouri; born in Newport, N. H., January 5, 1832; moved with his parents to the territory of Iowa; completed preparatory studies; went to St. Louis, Mo.; taught school three terms in Illinois; was graduated from a commercial college in St. Louis in 1855; engaged in the commission business in 1856; engaged in milling business in St. Louis; lieutenant governor of Missouri for two years; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); engaged in the manufacturing of flour in St. Louis, Mo.

Stanberry, William, a Representative from Ohio; born in Essex county, N. J.; attended the common schools; moved to Ohio; held several local offices; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1833); died in Newark, Ohio, January 27, 1872.

Standeford, Elisha David, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Jefferson county, Ky., December 28, 1831; attended the common schools; studied medicine; engaged in banking and manufacturing; member of the state senate in 1868 and 1871; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); president of the Louisville, Nashville and Great Southern railroad 1875–1879; died in Louisville, Ky., July 26, 1887.

Standifer, James, a Representative from Tennessee; elected as a Whig to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825) and to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831), and the three succeeding Congresses; reelected to the Twenty-fifth Congress but died while on his way to Washington, D. C., near Kingston, Tenn., August 24, 1837.

Stanford, Leland, a Senator from California; born in Watervliet, Albany county, N. Y., March 9, 1824; pursued an academic course; studied law and admitted to practice in the supreme court of New York; moved to Port Washington, Wis.; engaged in the practice of law; moved to California in 1852, where he became associated in business with his brothers, at first in business at Michigan Bluffs, and in 1856 moved to San Francisco to engage in mercantile pursuits on a large scale; delegate to the national Republican convention at Chicago in 1860; elected governor of California and served from December, 1861, to December, 1863; president of the Central Pacific railroad company; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1885, until his death in Palo Alto, Cal., June 21, 1893.

Stanford, Richard, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Vienna, Dorchester county, Md., March 2, 1767; completed preparatory studies; moved to North Carolina about 1793 and established an academy in Hawfields, Orange county; elected as a Democrat to the Fifth Congress and to the nine succeeding Congresses and served from March 4, 1797, until his death in Georgetown, D. C., April 9, 1816.

Stanley, Augustus Owsley, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Shelbyville, Shelby county, Ky., May 21, 1867; attended the State college, Lexington, Ky., and was graduated from Center College, Danville, Ky., in 1889; professor of belles-lettres in Christian college and principal of Marion academy 1889–1894; commenced the practice of law in 1894; Democratic presidential elector in 1900; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Stanly, Edward, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Newbern, N. C., about 1811; was graduated from the American Literary, Scientific, and Military academy, Norwich university, in 1829; studied law and was admitted to the bar and practiced in Beaufort, N. C.; member of the state house of commons and served one term as speaker; attorney general of North Carolina in 1847; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1843); reelected to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1853); moved to California in 1853 and practiced law; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1857; for a few months military governor of North Carolina in 1862, but resigned and returned to California; died in San Francisco, Cal., July 12, 1872.

Stanly, John, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Newbern, N. C., April 9, 1774; member of the state house of commons in 1798 and 1799; elected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801–March 3, 1803); reelected to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1811); again a member of the house of commons of North Carolina, 1812–1815, 1818, 1819, 1823, 1825, and 1826; died in Newbern, N. C., August 2, 1833.

Stanton, Benjamin, a Representative from Ohio; born in Mount Pleasant, Jefferson county, Ohio, June 4, 1809; studied law; admitted to the bar, and in 1834 began practice in Bellefontaine; member of the state senate in 1841 and 1842; delegate to the state constitutional convention; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); reelected to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1861); lieutenant governor of Ohio in 1862; moved to Wheeling, W. Va., and resumed the practice of law; died in Wheeling, W. Va., June 2, 1872.

Stanton, Frederick Perry, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Alexandria, Va., December 22, 1814; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Columbian college, Washington, D. C., in 1833; taught school; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Memphis, Tenn.; elected to the Twenty-ninth and to the succeeding four Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1855); governor of Kansas territory 1858–1861; moved to Virginia and subsequently settled in Florida; died near Ocala, Fla., June 4, 1894.

Stanton, Joseph, a Representative and Senator from Rhode Island; born in Charlestown, R. I., July 19, 1739; served in the expedition against Canada in 1759; member of the general assembly of Rhode Island 1768–1774; served as colonel in the Revolutionary army; delegate to the constitutional convention in 1790; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from June 7, 1790, to March 3, 1793; again a member of the state assembly 1794-1800; elected to the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1807); died in Charlestown, R. I., in 1807.

Stanton, Richard Henry, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Alexandria, Va., September 9, 1812; completed preparatory studies; attended Alexandria academy; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Maysville, Ky.; postmaster at Maysville; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1855); presidential elector on the Buchanan ticket in 1856; state attorney for his judicial district in 1858; delegate to the Democratic national convention at New York in 1868; elected district judge 1868-1874; died in Maysville, Ky., November 10, 1891.

Stanton, William H., a Representative from Pennsylvania; a resident of Scranton, Pa.; elected to the Forty-fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Winthrop W. Ketchum, and served from December 4, 1876, to March 3, 1877.

Starin, John Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Sammonsville, Fulton county (then a part of Montgomery county), August 27, 1825; pursued an academic course; commenced the study of medicine in 1842; established and conducted the drug and medicine business in Fultonville from 1845 to 1858; postmaster at Fultonville, N. Y., 1848-1852; largely engaged in the transportation business through the city, river and harbor, and waters of Long Island Sound; director of the North River Bank, New York City, and the Mohawk River National Bank; interested in agriculture and stock raising; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); engaged in railroading; member of the New York City rapid transit commission; died in New York City, March 22, 1909.

Stark, Benjamin, a Delegate from Oregon; born in New Orleans, La., June 26, 1820; pursued classical studies; was graduated from the Union school, New London, Conn., in 1835; merchant; moved to Oregon in 1845; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1850; member of the territorial house of representatives in 1851; member of the state house of representatives in 1860; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Edward D. Baker and served from October 29, 1861, to September 12, 1862; delegate from Oregon to the Democratic national convention in 1864; moved to Connecticut; delegate from Connecticut to the Democratic national convention at New York City in 1868; died in New London, Conn., October 10, 1898.

Stark, William Ledyard, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Mystic, New London county, Conn., July 29, 1853; was graduated from the Mystic Valley institute, in Mystic, Conn., in 1872; afterwards went to Wyoming, Stark county, Ill.; taught school and clerked in a store; attended the Union college of law, Chicago, Ill.; admitted to the bar by the supreme court of Illinois in January, 1878; moved to Aurora, Nebr., in February, 1878; superintendent of the city schools; deputy district attorney; judge of the county court of Hamilton county, Nebr.; declined further nomination; served as major and judge advocate general of the Nebraska national guard; elected to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1903), being the candidate of the People's, Independent, Democratic, and Silver Republican parties; retired and a resident of Aurora, Nebr.

Starkweather, David Austin, a Representative from Ohio; born in Preston, Conn., January 21, 1802; received an academic education; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Canton, Ohio; judge of one of the higher courts in Stark county, Ohio; member of the state house of representatives 1833-1835; served in the state senate 1836-1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); resumed the practice of law in Cleveland, Ohio; reelected to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); defeated for reelection to the Thirtieth Congress; presidential elector on the Cass and Butler ticket in 1848; United States minister to Chile 1854-1857; died in Cleveland, Ohio, July 12, 1876.

Starkweather, George Anson, a Representative from New York; born in Preston, Conn., May 19, 1794; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Union college, New York, in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Cooperstown, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); resumed the practice of law in Milwaukee, Wis.; died in Cooperstown, N. Y., October 15, 1879.

Starkweather, Henry Howard, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Preston, Conn., April 29, 1826; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Norwich, Conn.; member of the state legislature in 1856; delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1860 and 1868; postmaster of Norwich, Conn.; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1867, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 28, 1876.

Starr, John Farson, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 25, 1818; completed preparatory studies; moved to Camden, N. J., in 1844; merchant; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); died in Atlantic City, N. J., August 9, 1904.

Stearns, Asahel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Lunenburg, Mass., June 17, 1774; was graduated from Harvard college in 1797; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Chelmsford, Mass.; elected to the state senate to fill a vacancy February 4, 1813; moved to Charleston, Mass., in 1815; elected as a Federalist to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); member of the state house of representatives 1817; professor of law at Harvard college 1817-1829; again a member of the state senate 1830-1831; died in Cambridge, Mass., February 5, 1839.

Stearns, Ozora Pierson, a Senator from Minnesota; born in Dekalb, Lawrence county, N. Y., January 15, 1831; attended Oberlin college and was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1858 and from the law department of that university in 1860; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Rochester, Minn.; elected attorney for Olmstead county in 1861; served in the Union army during the Civil war as a lieutenant in the ninth Minnesota infantry and as colonel of the thirty-ninth United States colored troops; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Daniel S. Norton, and served from January 18, 1871, to March 3, 1871; died in California June 2, 1896.

Stebbins, Henry G., a Representative from New York; born in New York in 1812; completed preparatory studies; engaged in banking; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress, serving from March 4, 1863, until his resignation October 24, 1864.

Stedman, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Cambridge, Mass., January 21, 1765; was graduated from Harvard college in 1784; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1787 began practice; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives in 1802; elected to the Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Congresses and served from March 4, 1803, until his resignation, July 16, 1810; died in Newburyport, Mass., August 31, 1831.

Steele, George Washington, a Representative from Indiana; born in Fayette county, Ind., December 13, 1839; attended the common schools and the Ohio Western university, in Delaware, Ohio; read law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Hartford City, Ind.; enlisted in the eighth Indiana regiment, but could not be mustered into this regiment on account of excess in numbers; mustered into the twelfth Indiana on May 2, 1861, and served in this regiment and the one hundred and first Indiana until the close of the war—the first year in the Army of the Potomac, the latter three in the Army of the Cumberland, and with Sherman to the sea; mustered out as lieutenant-colonel in July, 1865; commissioned and served in the fourteenth United States infantry from February 23, 1866, to February 1, 1876; resigned and engaged in farming and pork packing until 1882; declined the appointment as director of the Union Pacific Railroad; first governor of Oklahoma, and resigned after serving twenty months; elected to the Forty-seventh and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1889); re-elected to the Fifty-fourth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1903; elected governor of the National Military Home, in Marion, Ind., in 1903.

Steele, John, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Salisbury, N. C., November 1, 1764; completed preparatory studies; became a farmer; member of the state house of commons in 1787–1788, 1794–1795, 1806, 1811, and 1813; elected as a Federalist to the First and Second Congresses (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1793); appointed Comptroller of the Treasury July 1, 1796; reappointed by President John Adams and resigned December 15, 1802; again elected to the state house of commons and died the same day, August 14, 1815, in Salisbury, N. C.

Steele, John B., a Representative from New York; born in Delhi, N. Y., March 28, 1814; was graduated from Williams college, Massachusetts; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Cooperstown, N. Y.; district attorney for Otsego county; moved to Kingston; judge of Ulster county; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1865); died in Kingston, N. Y., September 24, 1866.

Steele, John Nevett, a Representative from Maryland; born in Weston, Dorchester county, Md., February 22, 1796; resided in Vienna; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Littleton P. Dennis; re-elected to the Twenty-fourth Congress and served from June 9, 1834, to March 3, 1837; defeated as the Whig candidate for governor of Maryland in 1838; died in Cambridge, Md., August 13, 1853.

Steele, Walter Leak, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Steeles Mills (now Littles Mills), Richmond county, N. C., April 18, 1823; attended Randolph-Macon college, Wake Forest college, and was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1844; member of the state house of commons in 1846, 1848, 1850, and 1854; served in the state senate in 1852 and 1858; delegate to the Democratic national conventions in Charleston and Baltimore in 1860; secretary of the state convention of 1861, which passed the ordinance of secession; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1881); after leaving Congress engaged in cotton manufacturing; died in Baltimore, Md., October 16, 1891; interment in Rockingham, N. C.

Steele, William Gaston, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Somerville, Somerset county, N. J., December 17, 1820; pursued an academic course; banker; elected to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1865); died in Somerville, Somerset county, N. J., April 22, 1892.

Steele, William Randolph, a Delegate from Wyoming; born in New York City July 24, 1842; completed preparatory studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and practiced; served in the Union army; moved to Wyoming territory; elected a member of the legislative council in 1871 and resigned in 1873; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1877); died in Deadwood, S. Dak., November 30, 1901.

Steenerson, Halvor, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Dane county, Wis., June 30, 1852; moved with his parents to Houston county, Minn.; attended the common schools and the high school in Rushford, Minn.; studied law at Union College of Law, Chicago, was admitted to the bar in 1878 and commenced practice; moved to Crookston, Minn., in April, 1880; county attorney 1880–1882; member of the state senate in 1883 and 1885; delegate to the Republican national conventions in Chicago in 1884 and 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Re-elected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Steenrod, Lewis, a Representative from Virginia; born in Ohio county, Va. (now West Virginia), May 27, 1810; attended the common schools; elected to the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1845); died near Wheeling, Ohio county, W. Va., October 3, 1862.

Stenger, William Shearer, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in London, Pa., February 13, 1840; was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., in 1858; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1860 began practice in Chambersburg, Pa.; district attorney of Franklin county 1862–1871; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879; secretary to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 1883–1887; resumed the practice of law in Philadelphia, Pa.

Stephens, Abraham P., a Representative from New York; born near New City, Rockland county, N. Y., February 18, 1796; justice of the peace; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); died in Nyack, N. Y., November 25, 1859.

Stephens, Alexander Hamilton, a Representative from Georgia; born near Crawfordsville, Taliaferro county, Ga., February 11, 1812; attended the common schools and was graduated from the University of Georgia, in Athens, in 1832; taught school eighteen months; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Crawfordsville in 1834; member of the state house of representatives 1836–1840; member of the state senate in 1842; elected to the secession convention of Georgia in 1861; elected by that convention to the Confederate Congress at Montgomery, Ala., February 4, 1861, and chosen vice president under the provisional government by that Congress; elected vice president of the Confederacy; one of the commissioners on the part of the Confederacy at the Hampton Roads conference in February, 1865; elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Mark A. Cooper; reelected to the Twenty-ninth, and to the six succeeding Congresses and served from December 4, 1843, to March 3, 1859; elected to the United States Senate in 1866 by the first legislature convened under the new constitution, but was not allowed to take his seat; elected to the Forty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Ambrose R. Wright; reelected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses and served from December 1, 1873, until his resignation, November 4, 1882; elected governor of Georgia in 1882; died in Atlanta, Ga., March 4, 1883.

Stephens, John Hall, a Representative from Texas; born in Shelby county, Tex.; attended the common schools in Mansfield, Tarrant county, Tex., and was graduated from the law department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., in June, 1872; admitted to the bar, and practiced in Montague, Montague county, and Vernon, Wilbarger county, Tex.; member of the state senate in 1889–1892; resumed the practice of law in Vernon, Tex.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1913). Re-elected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Stephens, Philander, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Montrose, Pa., in 1788; received a limited education; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1833); died in Springfield, Pa., July 8, 1842.

Stephenson, Benjamin, a Delegate from Illinois; a native of Kentucky; in 1809 moved to Illinois and located in Randolph county; held several local offices; served in the war of 1812; elected to the Thirteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Shadrack Bond; reelected to the Fourteenth Congress and served from November 14, 1814, to March 3, 1817.

Stephenson, Isaac, a Representative and a Senator from Wisconsin; born near Fredericton, York county, New Brunswick, June 18, 1829; attended the common schools; lumberman, farmer, and banker; moved to Milwaukee, Wis., in 1845, and engaged in the lumber trade in Escanaba, Mich.; moved to Marinette in 1858; held various local offices; member of the Wisconsin legislature in 1866 and 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1889); resumed the lumber business in Marinette, Wis.; elected to the United States Senate May 17, 1907, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John C. Spooner; reelected for the term expiring March 3, 1915.

Stephenson, James, a Representative from Virginia; born in Gettysburg, Pa., March 20, 1764; moved to Martinsburg, Va. (now West Virginia); volunteer rifleman under General St. Clair in his Indian expedition in 1791; brigade inspector; member of the state assembly in 1800, 1801, and 1802; elected as a Federalist to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1805); reelected to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1811); again elected to the Seventeenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Thomas Van Swearingen; reelected to the Eighteenth Congress, and served from December 2, 1822, until March 3, 1825; died in Martinsburg, W. Va., August 7, 1833.

Stephenson, Samuel Merritt, a Representative from Michigan; born in Hartland, Carlton county, New Brunswick, December 23, 1831; moved with his parents to Maine; moved to Delta county, Mich., in 1846 and engaged in lumbering; moved to Menominee, Mich., in 1858; largely interested in real estate, lumbering, general merchandising, and farming; chairman of the board of supervisors of Menominee county for several years; member of the state house of representatives 1877–1878; elected to the state senate 1879–1880, and 1885–1886; Republican presidential elector in 1880; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1884 and 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1897); died in Menominee, Mich., July 31, 1907.

Sterigere, John B., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Upper Dublin, Pa.; moved to Morristown; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1831).

Sterling, Ansel, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Lyme, Conn., February 3, 1782; resided in Sharon; elected to the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1825); died in Sharon, Conn., November 6, 1853.

Sterling, John Allen, a Representative from Illinois; born near Leroy, Ill., February 1, 1857; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Illinois western university in 1881; superintendent of the public schools of Lexington, Ill., 1881–1883; was admitted to the bar in December, 1884, and commenced practice in Bloomington; state's attorney of McLean county 1892–1896; member of the Republican state central committee of Illinois 1896–1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Sterling, Micah, a Representative from New York; born in Lyme, Conn., November 5, 1784; was graduated from Yale College in 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Adams, Conn.; moved to Watertown, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823); died in Watertown, N. Y., April 10, 1844.

Sterrett, Samuel, a Representative from Maryland; born in that state in 1756; completed preparatory studies, studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Baltimore, Md.; held several local offices; elected to the Second Congress (March 4, 1791–March 3, 1793); died in Baltimore, Md., July 12, 1833.

Stetson, Charles, a Representative from Maine; born in New Ipswich, N. H., November 2, 1801; moved with his parents to Hampden, Me., in 1802; attended Hampden academy and was graduated from Yale college in 1823; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Hampden in 1826; held a number of local offices; moved to Bangor, Me., in 1833; judge of the Bangor municipal court 1834–1839; member of the state executive council 1845–1848; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); died in Bangor, Me., March 27, 1883.

Stetson, Lemuel, a Representative from New York; a native of that state; completed preparatory studies, studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Keeseville; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); judge of Clinton county 1847–1851; again a member of the state house of representatives.

Stevens, Aaron Fletcher, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Derry, N. H., August 9, 1819; completed preparatory studies, studied law, and was admitted to the bar; served four terms in the state legislature; held several local offices; served in the Union army as major of the first New Hampshire volunteer infantry and brigadier-general by brevet; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1871); again elected to the state legislature and served several terms; died in Nashua, N. H., May 10, 1887.

Stevens, Bradford Newcomb, a Representative from Illinois; born in Boscawen, N. H., January 3, 1813; was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1835; taught school six years; moved to Bureau county, Ill., in 1846; merchant and a farmer; held several county offices; elected as an independent Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); died in Tiskilna, Ill., November 10, 1885.

Stevens, Charles Abbot, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Andover, Mass., August 9, 1816; manufacturer of flannels and broadcloths in Ware, Mass.; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Alvah Crocker and served from January 27, 1875, to March 3, 1875; died August 5, 1892.

Stevens, Frederick Clement, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Boston, Mass., January 1, 1861; attended the common schools of Rockland, Me., and was graduated from Bowdoin college, Brunswick, Me., in 1881, and from the law school of the University of Iowa in 1884; was admitted to the bar in 1884 and commenced practice in St. Paul, Minn.; member of the state house of representatives, 1888–1889 and 1890–1891; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Stevens, Hester Lockhart, a Representative from Michigan; born in Lima, Livingston county, N. Y., October 1, 1803; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Rochester, N. Y.; major-general of militia of western New York; moved to Pontiac, Mich.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; died in Georgetown, D. C., May 7, 1864.

Stevens, Hiram S., a Delegate from Arizona; born in Weston, Vt., in 1832; received a limited education; located in that part of New Mexico now Arizona in 1856; member of the territorial legislature of Arizona 1868–1873; elected as an Independent to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879).

Stevens, Isaac Ingalls, a Delegate from Washington Territory; born in Andover, Mass., March 25, 1818; was graduated from West Point in 1839; entered the Corps of Engineers; served on the staff of General Scott in Mexico; an assistant in the Coast Survey; governor of Washington territory 1853–1857; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); entered the Union army as a colonel of the seventy-ninth New York Highlanders; appointed brigadier-general, major-general, and commanded a division; killed at the battle of Chantilly, Va., September 1, 1862.

Stevens, James, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Fairfield, Conn., in 1768; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1821); postmaster at Stamford, Conn., in 1822; died in Stamford, Conn., April 16, 1835.

Stevens, John, a Delegate from New Jersey; born in New York City about 1708; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; commissioner to define boundary line between New York and New Jersey; vice president of the council of New Jersey, 1776–1782; elected to the Continental Congress in 1784; presided over the state constitutional convention, December 18, 1787; died in May, 1792.

Stevens, Moses Tyler, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in North Andover, Essex county, Mass., October 10, 1825; was graduated from Phillips academy, Andover, in 1842; attended Dartmouth college and left that institution in 1843 to learn business of manufacturing woolen goods, and engaged in that business in North Andover; member of the state house of representatives in 1861; served in the state senate in 1868; president of Andover National Bank; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1895); died in North Andover, Mass., March 25, 1907.

Stevens, Robert Smith, a Representative from New York; born in Attica, Wyoming county, N. Y., March 27, 1824; pursued an academic course; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1856; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); after the expiration of his term in Congress retired from public life on account of ill health; died in Attica, N. Y., February 23, 1893.

Stevens, Thaddeus, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Danville, Vt., April 4, 1793; attended Peacham academy and the university of Vermont, and was graduated from Dartmouth college; moved to Pennsylvania in 1814; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Gettysburg; member of the state house of representatives 1833–1835, 1837, and 1841; member of the state constitutional convention in 1838; appointed a canal commissioner in 1838; moved to Lancaster, Pa., in 1842; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1853); reelected to the Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1859, until his death; chairman of the managers on the part of the House of Representatives in the impeachment trial of President Andrew Johnson; died in Washington, D. C., August 11, 1868; interment in Lancaster, Pa.

Stevenson, Adlai Ewing, a Representative from Illinois; born in Christian county, Ky., October 23, 1835; moved with his parents to Bloomington, Ill., in 1852; attended the Illinois Wesleyan university and Centre college, Kentucky; was admitted to the bar in 1858; master in chancery 1860–1864; district attorney 1865–1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); reelected to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); delegate to the national Democratic conventions 1884 and 1892; First Assistant Postmaster General 1885–1889; Vice-President of the United States 1893–1897; member of the commission to Europe to try to secure international bimetallism in 1897; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Vice President of the United States in 1900 and for governor of Illinois in 1908; retired and a resident of Bloomington, Ill.

Stevenson, Andrew, a Representative from Virginia; born in Culpeper county, Va., in 1784; pursued classical studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Richmond, Va.; member of the state house of representatives 1804–1820; speaker of the house of representatives several years; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1823, until his resignation, June 2, 1834; served as Speaker of the National House of Representatives 1827–1834; minister to Great Britain 1836–1841; died at his home, "Blenheim," in Albemarle county, Va., January 25, 1857.

Stevenson, James S., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in York county, Pa.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; elected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1829); died in Pittsburgh, Pa., October 17, 1831.

Stevenson, Job Evans, a Representative from Ohio; born in Ross county, Ohio, February 10, 1832; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; member of the state senate 1863–1865; moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1873); resumed the practice of law in Cincinnati, Ohio; retired from the practice of his profession and resides in Lexington, Ky.

Stevenson, John White, a Representative and a Senator from Kentucky; born in Richmond, Va., May 14, 1812; attended Hampden-Sydney academy and was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1832; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Covington, Ky., in 1841; county attorney; member of the state legislature 1845–1847; member of the Kentucky constitutional convention of 1849; delegate to the Democratic national conventions of 1848, 1852, and 1856; Democratic presidential elector in 1852 and 1856; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); elected lieutenant-governor of Kentucky in 1867; elected governor in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1871, to March 3, 1877; chairman of the Democratic national convention at Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1880; died in Covington, Ky., August 10, 1886.

Steward, Lewis, a Representative from Illinois; born in Wayne county, Pa., November 20, 1824; attended the common schools; moved with his parents in 1838 to Kendall county, Ill.; studied law and was admitted to the bar; engaged in farming and manufacturing; Democratic candidate for governor in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); died in Plano, Ill., August 27, 1896.

Stewart, Alexander, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Fredericton, York county, New Brunswick, September 12, 1829; attended the common schools; moved to Marathon county in 1849 and settled where the city of Wausau is now located, and engaged in the lumber business; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1901); died in Washington, D. C., May 24, 1912.

Stewart, Andrew, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Fayette county, Pa., June 11, 1791; received a good schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1815, and began practice in Uniontown, Pa.; United States attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1829); reelected to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1835); defeated for reelection; again elected to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1849); died in Uniontown, Pa., July 16, 1872.

Stewart, Andrew, jr., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Uniontown, Fayette county, Pa., April 6, 1836; attended Sewickley Academy and Madison College; studied medicine and attended Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, Pa.; enlisted as a private in the eighty-fifth Pennsylvania volunteer regiment and served as first lieutenant; regimental adjutant, December 1, 1861; captain, assistant adjutant-general, September 1, 1862; breveted major of volunteers for gallant service at Plymouth, N. C., and lieutenant-colonel of Volunteers October 25, 1865, for meritorious service during the war; honorably mustered out February 2, 1866; was confined in Libby, Macon, Charleston, Columbia, and other southern prisons for over a year; delegate to the Republican national convention in Cincinnati; presented credentials as a Republican Member-elect to the Fifty-second Congress and served from March 4, 1891, until February 26, 1892, when he was succeeded by Alexander K. Craig, who contested his election.

Stewart, Archibald, a Delegate from New Jersey; elected to the Continental Congress 1784–1785.

Stewart, Charles, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Memphis, Tenn., May 30, 1836; attended the common schools; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Houston, Tex.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fifty-first, and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1893); after his retirement from Congress resumed the practice of law; died September 21, 1895.

Stewart, David, a Senator from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., September 13, 1800; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Reverdy Johnson, and served from December 6, 1849, to January 14, 1850; died in Baltimore, Md., January 5, 1858.

Stewart, Jacob Henry, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Clermont, N. Y., January 15, 1829; moved with his parents to Peekskill, N. Y.; attended the common schools; studied medicine and was graduated from the University Medical College of New York City; moved to St. Paul, Minn., in 1855; member of the state senate 1858–1859; surgeon in the Union army; captured at the first battle of Bull Run, paroled, and allowed to care for wounded at Sudley Church hospital; mayor of St. Paul in 1864, 1868, 1872–1874; postmaster at St. Paul 1865–1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); died in St. Paul, Minn., August 25, 1884.

Stewart, James, a Representative from North Carolina; born in that state in 1770; attended the common schools; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); died February 3, 1842.

Stewart, James Augustus, a Representative from Maryland; born in Dorchester county, Md., November 24, 1808; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Cambridge, Md.; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1861); member of the court of appeals of Maryland; chief justice of the circuit court of appeals from 1867 until his death; died in Cambridge, Md., April 3, 1879.

Stewart, James Fleming, a Representative from New York; born in Paterson, N. J., June 15, 1851; attended public and private schools in Paterson and was graduated from the University of the City of New York in 1870; admitted to the bar and practiced in New York City until 1875; three times appointed recorder of Paterson, N. J. (the criminal magistrate of the city); elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1903); resumed the practice of law in Paterson, N. J., and died there January 21, 1904.

Stewart, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; elected to the Sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Thomas Hartly; reelected to the Seventh and Eighth Congresses and served from February 3, 1801, to March 3, 1805.

Stewart, John, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Chatham, Conn., February 10, 1795; completed preparatory studies; farmer; studied law and was admitted to the bar; member of the state legislature; judge of the county court; elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); died in Chatham, Conn., September 16, 1860.

Stewart, John David, a Representative from Georgia; born in Fayette county, Ga., August 2, 1833; attended the common schools and Marshall college; taught school two years in Griffin; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1856; elected probate judge and served as such five years; lieutenant and captain in the thirteenth Georgia regiment during the civil war; member of the Georgia legislature 1865–1867; ordained a minister of the Baptist Church in 1871; mayor of Griffin, Ga., 1875–1876; judge of the superior court from November 7, 1879, until January 1, 1886; resigned to become a candidate for Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891); died in Griffin, Ga., January 28, 1894.

Stewart, John Knox, a Representative from New York; born in Perth, Fulton county, N. Y., October 20, 1853; moved with his parents to Amsterdam; attended the public schools and Amsterdam Academy; sewer commissioner of the city; for a long time a director of the Farmers' National Bank of Amsterdam and the Chuctanunda Gas Light Company; also vice president of the Amsterdam Board of Trade; member of the state assembly 1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1903).

Stewart, John Wolcott, a Representative and a Senator from Vermont; born in Middlebury, Vt., November 24, 1825; was graduated from Middlebury college in 1846; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1850; prosecuting attorney of the county three years; member of the state house of representatives eight years and speaker of the house four years; member of the state senate two years; governor of Vermont, 1870–1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1891); appointed to the United States Senate March 24, 1908, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Redfield Proctor, and served from March 24, 1908, until October 21, 1908; retired and resides in Middlebury, Vt.

Stewart, Thomas Elliott, a Representative from New York; born in New York City, September 22, 1824; completed preparatory studies, studied law, and was admitted to the bar; held several local offices; member of the board of education; Park commissioner; member of the state assembly in 1865 and 1866; elected to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1869); died in New York City, January 9, 1904; interment in New Milford, Conn.

Stewart, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Mercer, Pa., September 16, 1811; was graduated from Jefferson college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Mercer, Pa.; member of the state senate for three years; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); died in Mercer, Pa., October 17, 1876.

Stewart, William Morris, a Senator from Nevada; born in Lyons, Wayne county, N. Y., August 9, 1827; moved with his parents to Mesopotamia township, Trumbull county, Ohio; attended Lyons union school and Farmington academy; teacher of mathematics in the former school; attended Yale college, 1849–1850; moved to San Francisco, Cal., in May, 1850; engaged in mining in Nevada county; studied law and was admitted to the bar; district attorney in 1852; attorney general of California in 1854; moved to Virginia City, Nev., in 1860; engaged in early mining litigation and in the development of the Comstock lode; member of the territorial council in 1861; member of the constitutional convention in 1863; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1864; reelected in 1869 and served from December 15, 1864, to March 3, 1875; resumed the practice of law in Nevada, California, and the Pacific coast generally; reelected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1887, 1893, and 1899, and served from March 4, 1887, to March 3, 1905; declined further election; died in Washington, D. C., April 23, 1909.

Stiles, John Dodson, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Luzerne county, Pa., January 15, 1823; completed preparatory studies, studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1844 commenced practice; held several local offices; delegate to the national Republican convention in 1856, to the Philadelphia national Union convention in 1866, and the Democratic national convention in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Thomas B. Cooper; reelected to the Thirty-eighth Congress, and served from June 3, 1862, to March 3, 1865; again elected to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); died in Allentown, Pa., in October, 1896.

Stiles, William H., a Representative from Georgia; born in Savannah, Ga., in January, 1808; completed preparatory studies, studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Savannah; solicitor general for the eastern district of Georgia 1833–1836; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); chargé d'affaires to Austria 1845–1849; served in the Confederate army as colonel; died in Savannah, Ga., December 20, 1865.

Stillwell, Thomas N., a Representative from Indiana; born in Stillwell, Ohio, August 29, 1830; received a thorough English education; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Anderson, Ind.; member of the state legislature in 1836; served in the Union army; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867); minister resident to Venezuela 1867–1868; died in Anderson, Ind., January 14, 1874.

Stivers, Moses Dunning, a Representative from New York; born near Beemerville, Sussex county, N. J., December 30, 1828; attended Mount Retirement seminary, in Wantage, Sussex county, N. J.; taught school; engaged in mercantile pursuits for seven years; county clerk of Orange county 1864–1867; collector of United States internal revenue for the eleventh district of New York; proprietor of the Orange county Press in 1868; also one of the proprietors and editors of the Middletown Daily Press; delegate to the national Republican convention in 1880; president of the New York State Press Association in 1887; trustee and secretary of the Middletown Savings Bank; director of the Merchants and Manufacturers' National Bank of Middletown; unsuccessful Republican candidate for Congress in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); died in Middletown, N. Y., February 2, 1895.

Stockbridge, Francis Brown, a Senator from Michigan; born in Bath, Me., April 9, 1826; attended the common schools; clerk in a wholesale house in Boston 1843–1847; moved to Chicago and opened a lumber yard; interested in saw-mills in Saugatuck, Mich., in 1851; moved to Kalamazoo, Mich., in 1863; elected to the state legislature in 1869; member of the state senate in 1871; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1887; reelected in 1893, and served from March 4, 1887, until his death in Chicago, Ill., April 30, 1894.

Stockbridge, Henry, jr., a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., September 18, 1856; attended Williston seminary, Easthampton, Mass., and was graduated from Amherst college in 1877; was graduated from the law school of the University of Maryland in 1878, and was admitted to the bar in April, 1887; engaged on the editorial staff of the Baltimore American; in December, 1882, appointed an examiner in equity by the supreme bench of Baltimore; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); appointed United States commissioner of immigration port of Baltimore in 1891; resigned in 1893; elected judge of the supreme court of Baltimore in November, 1896; appointed judge of the Maryland court of appeals in April, 1911, and elected to the position in November, 1911; a resident of Baltimore, Md.

Stockdale, Thomas Ringland, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Greene county, Pa., March 28, 1828; was graduated from Jefferson college in 1856, and from the university of Mississippi in 1859; settled in Pike county, Miss., in 1857 and taught school; admitted to the bar and practiced in Woodville, Miss., 1859–1861; enlisted in the civil war as a private in the sixteenth Mississippi infantry in 1861; elected successively lieutenant, adjutant, and major of that regiment; elected major of Stockdale's battalion of cavalry in 1863, and commanded the outposts of the army at Port Hudson till it was invested; made lieutenant colonel of the fourth Mississippi cavalry in 1864; at the close of the war resumed the practice of law in Summit, Miss.; delegate to the national Democratic convention in 1868; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1872 and 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1895); appointed judge of the supreme court of Mississippi December 1, 1896; died in Summit, Miss., January 8, 1899.

Stockslager, Strother Madison, a Representative from Indiana; born in Mauckport, Harrison county, Ind., May 7, 1842; attended the common schools, Corydon High School, and the State University in Bloomington; taught school; served in the Union army during the civil war as second lieutenant and captain in the thirteenth Indiana cavalry; deputy county auditor two years; deputy county clerk two years; appointed by Andrew Johnson as assessor of internal revenue; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Corydon in 1871 and practiced; editor of the Corydon Democrat; member of the state senate 1874–1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1885); assistant commissioner of the General Land Office in 1884; appointed Commissioner of the General Land Office; resigned March 4, 1889, but remained in charge until June 20, 1889; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Congress in 1894; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.

Stockton, John Potter, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Princeton, N. J., August 2, 1826; was graduated from Princeton college in 1843; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1849; state reporter to the court of chancery; United States minister to Rome, Italy, 1857–1861; presented credentials as a Democratic Senator-elect to the United States Senate, and took his seat December 4, 1865, but on March 27, 1866, the Senate declared the seat vacant; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1875; attorney-general of New Jersey 1877–1892; delegate to all the Democratic national conventions from 1864 until his death; died in New York City, January 22, 1900.

Stockton, Richard, a Delegate from New Jersey; born in "Morven," near Princeton, Somerset county, N. J., October 1, 1730; attended West Nottingham academy and was graduated in the first class from Princeton college in 1748; studied law and was admitted to the bar in August, 1754 and commenced practice in Princeton, N. J.; member of the provincial council of New Jersey 1768–1774; judge of the provincial supreme court; elected to the Continental Congress 1776–1777; was a signer of the Declaration of Independence; unsuccessful candidate for governor of New Jersey in 1776; elected, but declined the position of chief justice of the supreme court in 1776; died at "Morven," near Princeton, N. J., February 28, 1781.

Stockton, Richard, a Senator and a Representative from New Jersey; born in Princeton, N. J., April 17, 1764; was graduated from Princeton college in 1779; studied law, admitted to the bar in 1784, and commenced practice in Princeton, N. J.; presidential elector on the Washington and Adams ticket in 1792; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Frederick Frelinghuysen and served from November 12, 1796 to March 3, 1799; declined a reelection; again presidential elector in 1801 on the Adams and Pinckney ticket; candidate for governor of New Jersey in 1801; member of the state legislature 1813–1815; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815); declined a reelection; died at "Morven," near Princeton, N. J., March 7, 1828.

Stockton, Robert Field, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Princeton, N. J., August 20, 1795; attended Princeton college; entered the United States Navy in 1811 and attained the rank of commodore; sent to the Pacific coast in October, 1845; conquered California in 1846; returned home and resigned his commission May 28, 1850; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1851, until his resignation, January 10, 1853; president of the Delaware and Raritan canal 1853–1866; comptroller of New Jersey; delegate to the Peace congress at Washington, D. C., February 13, 1861; died in Princeton, N. J., October 7, 1866.

Stoddard, Ebenezer, a Representative from Connecticut; born in West Woodstock, Conn., May 6, 1786; was graduated from Brown university in 1806; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in West Woodstock, Conn.; served several years in the state legislature; elected to the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1825); lieutenant governor of Connecticut in 1837; died in Woodstock, Conn., August 11, 1848.

Stoddard, John Truman, a Representative from Maryland; born in Charles county, Md., October 1, 1790; was graduated from Princeton college in 1810; served in the war of 1812; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); died in Charles county, Md., July 19, 1870.

Stokely, Samuel, a Representative from Ohio; born in western Pennsylvania January 25, 1796; pursued an academic course in Washington, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Steubenville, Ohio, in 1817; United States land receiver 1827-1828; member of the state senate 1837-1838; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); general in the state militia; died in Steubenville, Ohio, May 23, 1861.

Stokes, James William, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Orangeburg county, S. C., December 12, 1853; attended the common schools; was graduated from Washington and Lee university, Virginia, in 1876; taught school for twelve years; was graduated in medicine from Vanderbilt university, Tennessee; returned to the farm in 1889; president of the State Farmers' Alliance two terms; elected to the state senate in 1890; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Chicago in 1892; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1892; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Congress in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses and served from March 4, 1895, until his death in Orangeburg, S. C., July 6, 1901.

Stokes, Montfort, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Virginia, March 12, 1762; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Turner; reelected and served from December 4, 1816, to March 3, 1823; member of the state senate in 1826; elected to the state house of representatives in 1829 and 1830; governor of North Carolina 1830-1831; resigned to superintend the removal of the Indians west of the Mississippi River; Indian agent for Arkansas territory; died in Fort Gibson, Ark., November 4, 1842.

Stokes, William Brickly, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Chatham county, N. C., September 9, 1814; attended the public schools; farmer; served several years in both branches of the legislature; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); entered the Union army in 1862 as major of Tennessee volunteers and promoted to colonel and subsequently brevetted major general; reelected to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful Republican candidate for the Forty-second Congress; supervisor of internal revenue for Tennessee; resumed the practice of law; died in Alexandria, Tenn., March 4, 1897.

Stone, Alfred Parish, a Representative from Ohio; born in Worthington, Mass., June 28, 1813; merchant in Columbus, Ohio; elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Herman Allen Moore, and served from December 2, 1844, to March 3, 1845; acting treasurer of Ohio in 1856; collector of internal revenue for the Columbus district of Ohio in 1862; died in Columbus, Ohio, August 2, 1865.

Stone, Charles Warren, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Groton, Mass., June 29, 1843; attended Lawrence academy, Groton, and was graduated from Williams college in 1863; admitted to the bar in 1867 and practiced; county superintendent of schools of Warren county in 1865; trustee Pennsylvania state college; member of the state house of representatives 1870-1871; member of the state senate 1877-

1878; lieutenant-governor of Pennsylvania 1879-1883; secretary of the commonwealth from January 18, 1887, until his resignation to accept the nomination for Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Lewis F. Watson; reelected to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses and served from December 1, 1890, to March 3, 1899; unsuccessful candidate for governor; died at his home near Warren, Pa., August 15, 1912.

Stone, David, a Representative and a Senator from North Carolina; born in Hope, N. C., February 17, 1770; was graduated from Princeton college in 1788; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1790 began practice; member of the state house of representatives 1791-1794; judge of the supreme court of North Carolina 1795-1798; elected as a Democrat to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801); elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1801, until his resignation about February 17, 1807; judge of the supreme court of the State; governor of North Carolina 1808-1810; again elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1813, until his resignation in 1814; died in Hope, N. C., October 7, 1818.

Stone, Eben Francis, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Newburyport, Mass., August 3, 1822; attended North Andover academy and was graduated from Harvard university in 1843 and from the law department of the university in 1846; was admitted to the bar in 1847 and commenced practice in Newburyport, Mass.; member of the state house of representatives; served in the state senate; enlisted in the Union army during the civil war and commanded the forty-eighth regiment of Massachusetts volunteer militia during its term of service; mayor of Newburyport in 1867; again a member of the state house of representatives 1867-1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1887); after his retirement from Congress resumed the practice of law in Newburyport, Mass., until his death, January 22, 1895.

Stone, Frederick, a Representative from Maryland; born in Clifton, Va., February 20, 1820; was graduated from St. John's college, in Annapolis, Md.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and commenced practice in Port Tobacco, Md.; appointed by the legislature as one of the commissioners to revise the rules of pleading and practice in the state courts; member of the state house of representatives 1864-1865; elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); associate judge of the court of appeals, 1881-1890; died near La Plata, Md., October 17, 1899.

Stone, James W., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Taylorsville, Ky., in 1813; attended the common schools; studied law; admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); reelected to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); died in Taylorsville, Ky., October 13, 1854.

Stone, John W., a Representative from Michigan; born in Wadsworth, Medina county, Ohio.

July 18, 1838; attended public schools and the Spencer, Ohio, academy; moved to Allegan county, Mich., in 1856, and commenced the study of law in 1859; county clerk of Allegan county in 1860; admitted to the bar in January, 1862; reelected county clerk in 1862; prosecuting attorney 1864-1870; president of Allegan village in 1872; circuit judge of the twentieth judicial circuit of Michigan April, 1873, until his resignation November 1, 1874; moved to Grand Rapids and practiced law; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); appointed United States attorney for the Western Michigan district in 1882; moved to Houghton, Mich., in 1887, and engaged in the practice of law; elected circuit judge, twenty-fifth Michigan circuit, in April, 1890, and served until December 31, 1909; elected justice of the state supreme court in April, 1909, for the term ending December 31, 1917; a resident of Lansing, Mich.

Stone, Joseph Champlin, a Representative from Iowa; born in Westport, N. Y., July 30, 1829; moved to Iowa territory in 1844; attended the public schools; was graduated from the medical department of the St. Louis university, Missouri, in 1854; enlisted as a private in the Union army and was made adjutant of the first Iowa cavalry; promoted to captain and assistant adjutant general of volunteers in 1862; resumed the practice of medicine; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); died in Burlington, Iowa, December 3, 1902.

Stone, Michael Jenifer, a Representative from Maryland; born in Port Tobacco, Charles county, Md., about 1750; completed preparatory studies; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); died in Charles county, Md., in 1812.

Stone, Thomas, a Delegate from Maryland; born in Pointon Manor, Charles county, Md., in 1743; completed preparatory studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Frederick, Md., in 1764; moved to Charles county, Md., in 1771; member of the state senate, 1779-1783; elected to the Continental Congress, 1775-1779 and 1784-1785; died in Alexandria, Va., October 5, 1787.

Stone, William, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Delphi, Tenn., January 26, 1791; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; was a captain in the Creek War, commissioned brigadier-general for gallantry in the Battle of the Horse Shoe; served with General Jackson in the Battle of New Orleans; was presented a cane by Congress for bravery in the Battle of Tippecanoe; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); died in Delphi, Tenn., February 18, 1853.

Stone, William Alexis, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Delmar township, Tioga county, Pa., April 18, 1846; attended the state normal school, Mansfield, Tioga county, Pa.; served in the civil war as second lieutenant of company A, one hundred and eighty-seventh Pennsylvania volunteers; after the war, lieutenant colonel in the national guard of the state; studied law in Wellsboro, Pa., was admitted to the bar in 1870, and practiced in Wellsboro and Pittsburgh, Pa.; district attorney of Tioga county; United States attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1891, until his resignation, November 9, 1898; governor of Pennsylvania, 1899 to 1903; resumed the practice of law in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Stone, William H., a Representative from Missouri; born in Schanugunk, N. Y., November 7, 1828; completed preparatory studies; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1848, and became a manufacturer; president of the St. Louis Hot Pressed Nut and Bolt Company; member of the state house of representatives; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); died in 1901.

Stone, William Joel, a Representative and a Senator from Missouri; born in Madison county, Ky., May 17, 1848; was graduated from Missouri university; admitted to the bar in 1869; prosecuting attorney of Vernon county, Mo., 1873-1874; presidential elector on the Tilden and Hendricks ticket in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1891); governor of Missouri 1893-1897; member from Missouri and vice chairman of the Democratic national committee; elected to the United States Senate, and took his seat March 4, 1903; re-elected for the term ending March 3, 1915.

Stone, William Johnson, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Lyon (then Caldwell) county, Ky., June 26, 1841; attended the common schools and Q. M. Tyler's collegiate institute in Cadiz, Trigg county, Ky.; farmer by occupation; member of the state house of representatives in 1867, 1875, and 1883, and served as speaker of the house during his second term; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1895); engaged in the mercantile business in Kuttawa, Lyon county, Ky.

Storer, Bellamy, a Representative from Ohio; born in Portland, Me., March 9, 1798; was graduated from Bowdoin college; studied law in Boston, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1817; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); declined a renomination; presidential elector on the Clay ticket in 1844; served as judge of the superior court of Cincinnati from its organization in 1852 until 1871, when he resigned; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 1, 1875.

Storer, Bellamy, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, August 28, 1847; was graduated from Harvard college in 1867 and from Cincinnati college in 1869; was admitted to the bar in April, 1869; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); Assistant Secretary of State of the United States in 1897; United States minister to Belgium 1897-1899; appointed United States minister to Spain in 1899; appointed minister to Austria-Hungary in 1902.

Storer, Clement, a Representative and a Senator from N. H.; born in Kennebunk, Me., September 20, 1760; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and began practice in Portsmouth, N. H.; captain of militia, and held successive commissions to that of major-general; member of the state house of representatives in 1810-1812 and served one year as speaker; elected to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1809); elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Jeremiah Mason and served from June 27, 1817, until March 3, 1819; died in Portsmouth, N. H., November 21, 1830.

Storm, Frederic, a Representative from New York; born in Alsace, France, July 2, 1844; came to this country with his parents in 1846; attended the public schools of New York City; member of the state constitutional convention in 1894; elected to the state assembly in 1895; for sixteen years a member of county Republican committee, and three times its chairman; founder of the Flushing hospital; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); after leaving Congress engaged in the banking business in Bayside, N. Y.

Storm, John B., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Hamilton township, Monroe county, September 19, 1838; was graduated from Dickinson college in 1861; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1863; county superintendent of public schools for seven years; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); reelected to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); president-judge of the forty-third judicial district of Pennsylvania; died in Stroudsburg, Pa., August 13, 1901.

Storrs, Henry Randolph, a Representative from New York; born in Middletown, Conn., September 3, 1787; was graduated from Yale college in 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1808, and began practice in Utica, N. Y.; judge of Oneida county for five years; elected as a Federalist to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); reelected to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1831); moved to New York and resumed the practice of law; died in New Haven, Conn., July 29, 1837.

Storrs, William Lucius, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Middletown, Conn., March 25, 1795; was graduated from Yale college in 1814; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1817 began practice in Middletown, Conn.; member of the state legislature in 1827-1829 and 1834; served as speaker the last year; elected to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); reelected to the Twenty-sixth Congress and served from March 4, 1839, until his resignation in June, 1840; associate judge of the court of errors; professor of law at Yale college 1846-1847; chief justice of the court of errors from 1856 until his death in Hartford, Conn., June 25, 1861.

Story, Joseph, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Marblehead, Mass., September 18, 1779; was graduated from Harvard college in 1798; studied law, admitted to the bar in 1801, and began practice in Salem; member of the state house of representatives 1805-

1807; elected as a Democrat to the Tenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Jacob Crowninshield and served from December 20, 1808, to March 3, 1809; again a member of the state house of representatives in 1811, and speaker; associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States until his death in Cambridge, Mass., September 10, 1845.

Stoughton, William Lewis, a Representative from Michigan; born in New York March 20, 1827; completed preparatory studies; moved to Sturgis, Mich.; studied law, admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; United States district attorney for the district of Michigan in March, 1861, and resigned in few months to enter the Union army; served as colonel and brigadier-general, and promoted to the rank of major-general by brevet; member of the state constitutional convention in 1867; attorney-general of Michigan 1867-1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); died in Sturgis, Mich., June 6, 1888.

Stout, Byron Gray, a Representative from Michigan; born in Richmond, Ontario county, N. Y., January 12, 1829; moved with his parents to Michigan in 1831; was graduated from the Michigan state university in 1851; studied law; elected to the state legislature in 1854 and 1856 and chosen speaker of the house; member of the state senate in 1860 and served as president pro tempore; member of the Philadelphia convention of 1866; delegate to the national Democratic conventions of 1868, 1880, and 1888; engaged in private banking prior to 1869; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); died in Pontiac, Mich., June 19, 1896.

Stout, Lansing, a Representative from Oregon; born in Pamela, N. Y., March 27, 1828; completed preparatory studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and in 1851 moved to California and began practice; member of the state house of representatives 1856; moved to Portland, Oreg., in 1857; judge of the Multnomah county court in 1858; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); again a member of the state house of representatives; died in Portland, Oreg., in 1870.

Stover, John H., a Representative from Missouri; born in Aaronsburg, Center county, Pa., April 24, 1833; completed preparatory studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and in 1857 began practice in Aaronsburg; held several local offices; enlisted in the Union army in 1861 for the civil war as a private and successively chosen captain and major; commissioned colonel of the one hundred and eighty-fourth Pennsylvania volunteers; after the war moved to Versailles, Mo., and practiced law; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph W. McClurg and served from December 7, 1868, to March 3, 1869.

Stow, Silas, a Representative from New York; born in Middlefield, Middlesex county, Conn., December 21, 1773; moved to Lowville, N. Y.; appointed judge of Oneida county, January 28, 1801; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); sheriff of Lewis county 1814-1815; judge of the same county 1815-1823; died in Lowville, N. Y., January 19, 1827.

Stowell, William H. H., a Representative from Virginia; born in Windsor, Vt., July 26, 1840; attended the high schools in Boston, Mass.; merchant; moved to Virginia in 1865; collector of internal revenue for the fourth district in 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1877).

Stower, John G., a Representative from New York; was a native of Madison, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); member of the state senate 1833-1834.

Strader, Peter Wilson, a Representative from Ohio; born in Warren county, N. J., November 6, 1818; moved with his parents to Ohio in 1819; attended the common schools; printer; employed on a steamboat on the Mississippi river 1835-1848; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); died in Ashtabula, Ohio, February 25, 1881.

Strait, Horace Burton, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Potter county, Pa., January 26, 1835; attended the common schools; moved to Indiana in 1846, and from there to Minnesota in 1855; entered the Union army in 1862 as captain in the ninth Minnesota infantry; promoted to major of said regiment in 1864; served at the close of the war as inspector general on the staff of General McArthur; elected mayor of Shakopee in 1870, 1871, and 1872; trustee of the Minnesota hospital for the insane 1866; engaged in mercantile, manufacturing, and banking pursuits; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1879); reelected to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1887); died near El Paso, Tex., February 25, 1894.

Strait, Thomas Jefferson, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Chester district, S. C., December 25, 1846; attended the common schools of Maysville, S. C., and Cooper institute, Mississippi; entered the Confederate service in 1862, and in company A, sixth regiment of infantry until November, 1863; transferred to company H, twenty-fourth regiment, Gist's brigade, and served as a sergeant therein until the close of the war; was graduated from the South Carolina medical college with distinction in 1885; member of the state senate in 1890; elected as an Alliance Democrat to the Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1899); resumed the practice of medicine in Lancaster, S. C.

Stranahan, James Samuel Thomas, a Representative from New York; born in Peterboro, N. Y., April 25, 1808; attended the common schools and Cazenovia seminary; founded the town of Florence, Oneida county, N. Y., in 1832; elected to the state assembly in 1838; moved to Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1844; elected alderman of that city in 1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); died in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., September 3, 1898.

Strange, Robert, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Virginia, September 20, 1796; was graduated from the Hampden-Sidney College; studied law, admitted to the bar, and practiced in Fayetteville, N. C.; member of the state house of commons, 1822-1823 and 1826; judge of the superior court of North Carolina, 1826-1836; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Willie P. Mangum, and served from December 5, 1836, until his resignation February 22, 1840; resumed the practice of law in Fayetteville, N. C.; solicitor for the fifth judicial district of North Carolina; died in Fayetteville, N. C., February 19, 1854.

Stratton, Charles C., a Representative from New Jersey; born in Swedenboro, Gloucester county, N. J., in 1796; attended the common schools; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Twenty-sixth Congress, but not allowed to take his seat; reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); engaged in farming; died in Swedenboro, N. J., March 30, 1859.

Stratton, John, a Representative from Virginia; native of Virginia; attended the common schools; elected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803).

Stratton, John Leek Newbold, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Mount Holly, N. J., November 27, 1817; was graduated from Princeton College in 1836; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Mount Holly; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); delegate to the National Loyalists convention in Philadelphia in 1868; died in Mount Holly, N. J., May 17, 1889.

Stratton, Nathan T., a Representative from New Jersey; a native of Mullica Hill, N. J.; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855).

Straub, Christian M., a Representative from Pennsylvania; a native of that state; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855).

Straus, Isidor, a Representative from New York; born in the Palatinate of Bavaria, February 6, 1845; came to this country in 1854 with his mother and settled in Talbotton, Ga.; attended Collinsworth Institute and prepared to enter the West Point Military Academy when the breaking out of the war prevented; moved to New York City in 1865; elected as a Democrat on January 30, 1894, to the Fifty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Ashbel P. Fitch, and served from February 14, 1894, until March 3, 1895; resumed the mercantile business in New York City; lost in the wreck of the steamship Titanic April 15, 1912.

Stradbridge, James Dale, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Liberty township, Montour county, Pa., April 7, 1824; was graduated from Princeton College in 1844; was graduated in medicine from the University of Pennsylvania in 1847; entered the army as a brigade surgeon of volunteers and served throughout the civil war; prisoner in Libby Prison three months; after the war resumed his practice; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); died in Danville, Pa., July 19, 1890.

Street, Randall S., a Representative from New York; born in Catskill, N. Y., in 1780; pursued classical studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Poughkeepsie; state attorney for his judicial district in 1810 and 1813; lieutenant-colonel of militia in the war of 1812; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1821); resumed practice of law, until his death in Monticello, N. Y., November 21, 1841.

Strickland, Randolph, a Representative from Michigan; born in Dansville, Livingston county, N. Y., February 4, 1823; attended the common schools; taught school; moved to Michigan in 1844; studied law, admitted to the bar, and in 1849 began practice; prosecuting attorney for Clinton county in 1852, 1854, 1856, and 1858; member of the state senate in 1861 and 1862; provost-marshal 1863–1865; delegate to the national Republican convention in 1856 and 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); died in Battle Creek, Mich., May 5, 1880.

Strode, Jesse Burr, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Farmers township, Fulton county, Ill., February 18, 1845; attended the public schools; enlisted as a private in the fiftieth Illinois infantry in January, 1864, and was with his regiment during the Atlanta campaign, the march to the sea, through the Carolinas and Virginia, and the grand review in Washington; mustered out of the army in July, 1865; entered Abingdon (Ill.) College; principal of the graded schools of Abingdon eight years; mayor and councilman of Abingdon; studied law, moved to Plattsmouth, Nebr., May 1, 1879, and was admitted to the bar in November, 1879; district attorney in 1882–1886; moved to Lincoln in 1887 and practiced law until November, 1892; judge of the district court; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1899); resumed the practice of law after leaving Congress; prosecuting attorney for the third district of Nebraska, and resides in Lincoln, Nebr.

Strohm, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in that state October 16, 1793; completed preparatory studies; taught school for several years; located in Providence, Pa.; member of the state house of representatives 1831–1833; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1849).

Strong, Caleb, a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Northampton, Mass., January 9, 1745; was graduated from Harvard college in 1764; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1792; member of the committee of correspondence and safety 1774–1775; member of the state house of representatives 1776–1778; elected to the state senate 1780–1788; county attorney 1776–1800; member of the national convention which framed the Constitution of the United States, but did not sign the same; member of the Massachusetts constitutional convention which ratified the Constitution of the United States in 1787–1788; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate; reelected and served from March 4, 1789, to June 1, 1796, when he resigned; presidential elector in 1809; governor of Massachusetts 1800–1807 and 1812–1816; died in Northampton, Mass., November 17, 1819.

Strong, James, a Representative from New York; born in Windham, Conn., in 1783; was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1806; moved to Hudson, N. Y.; elected as a Federalist to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1821); reelected to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1831); died in Chester, N. J., August 8, 1847.

Strong, Jedediah, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Litchfield, Conn., November 7, 1738; was graduated from Yale college in 1761; was admitted to the bar; member of the state legislature 1771–1801; elected to the Continental Congress in 1774, but declined; member of the committee on inspection 1774–1775; county attorney 1780–1791; sat in the Continental Congress 1782–1784; member of the Connecticut convention to ratify the Constitution of the United States in 1788; died in Litchfield, Conn., August 21, 1802.

Strong, Julius Levi, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Bolton, Conn., November 8, 1828; attended Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn., and Union college in New York; entered the law school at Balston Spa; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1853 began practice in Hartford, Conn.; member of the legislature of Connecticut in 1852 and in 1855; city attorney; president of the common council; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses and served from March 4, 1869, until his death in Hartford, Conn., November 7, 1872.

Strong, Luther Martin, a Representative from Ohio; born near Tiffin, Seneca county, Ohio, June 23, 1838; attended the common schools and Aaron Schuyler's academy in Republic; taught school; enlisted as a private in the forty-ninth Ohio volunteer infantry early in 1861; elected captain of company G and promoted to major and lieutenant-colonel; senior officer of the regiment and in command thereof from about the time of the fall of Atlanta until after the battle of Nashville, but could not be commissioned colonel because the regiment had become greatly reduced in numbers by service; resigned March 13, 1865, on account of wound; studied law and was admitted to the bar by the supreme court of Ohio January 30, 1867; located in Kenton and practiced; member of the board of education; elected to the state senate in 1879 and 1881; judge of the court of common pleas; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1897); died in Kenton, Ohio, April 26, 1903.

Strong, Selah Brewster, a Representative from New York; born in Brookhaven, Suffolk county, N. Y., May 1, 1792; was graduated from Yale college in 1811; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1814 began practice in New York City; served in the war of 1812 as ensign and quartermaster, lieutenant and captain in the tenth regiment, third brigade, New York City and county troops; removed to Brookhaven in 1820; state attorney for Suffolk county; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); appointed March 27, 1846, circuit judge by Governor Wright and was confirmed, but did not accept; judge of the supreme court for the second judicial district from June 7, 1847, to June 1, 1860; member of the state constitutional convention in 1868; died in Setauket, N. Y., November 29, 1872.

Strong, Solomon, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Amherst, Mass., March 2, 1780; was graduated from Williams college in 1798; member of the senate of Massachusetts 1812-1813; elected to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1819); judge of the court of common pleas 1818-1842; again a member of the state senate 1843-1844; died in Leominster, Mass., September 16, 1850.

Strong, Stephen, a Representative from New York; born in Lebanon, Conn., October 11, 1791; moved to New York; attended Hamilton college, Clinton, N. Y.; was admitted to the bar in 1822; district attorney of Tioga county 1836-1838, and again from 1844 to 1847; elected county judge February 2, 1843; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); resumed the practice of law in Owego, N. Y.; moved to Watertown, N. Y., in 1861 and practiced; died in Watertown, N. Y., April 15, 1866.

Strong, Theron Rudd, a Representative from New York; born in Salisbury, Conn., November 7, 1802; moved to Palmyra, N. Y.; attended the common schools; studied law and was admitted to the bar; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives in 1842; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); associate justice of the supreme court of New York in 1851; judge of the court of appeals in 1859; moved to Rochester, N. Y., in 1860 and practiced law; died in New York City, May 14, 1873.

Strong, William, a Representative from Vermont; born in Lebanon, Conn., in 1763; moved with his parents to Hartford, Vt.; engaged extensively in land surveying; member of the state legislature in 1798-1799, 1801-1802, 1815-1818; sheriff of Windsor county 1802-1810; judge of the supreme court of Windsor county in 1817; member of the council of censors in 1834; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1815; reelected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821)); died in Hartford, Conn., January 28, 1840.

Strong, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Somers, Conn., May 6, 1808; attended Plainsfield academy and was graduated from Yale in 1828; taught school in New Haven, Conn.; studied law, and in 1832 admitted to the bar in Philadelphia and began practice in Reading; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851); associate justice of the supreme court of Pennsylvania 1857-1868; resumed the practice of law in Philadelphia, Pa.; associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States 1870-1880; died in Lake Minnewassa, N. Y., August 19, 1895.

Strother, George F., a Representative from Virginia; born in Culpeper county, Va.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Culpeper; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1817, until his resignation, February 10, 1820; receiver of public moneys in St. Louis, Mo.

Strother, James French, a Representative from Virginia; born in Culpeper county, Va., September 4, 1811; completed preparatory studies and attended St. Louis university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Culpeper, Va.; member of the state house of representatives and served as speaker; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1850; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); died in Culpeper, Va., September 21, 1860.

Strouse, Myer, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Oberstrau, Bavaria, Germany, December 16, 1825; emigrated with his father to the United States in 1832 and located in Pottsville, Pa.; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; edited the North American Farmer in Philadelphia 1848-1852; began practice in Pottsville in 1853; elected to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); resumed the practice of law; attorney and solicitor for the "Mollie McGuire" outlaws 1876-1877; died in Pottsville, Pa., February 11, 1878.

Stroud, William F., a Representative from North Carolina; born in Orange county, N. C., December 7, 1832; attended the Bingham School, High Hill academy, and the Graham Institute; moved to Chatham county in 1861; member of the state constitutional convention in 1875; nominated by the Populists for Congress in 1892 in the Fourth Congressional District; again nominated by the Populists in 1894; elected as a Populist to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899).

Struble, Isaac S., a Representative from Iowa; born near Fredericksburg, Va., November 3, 1843; attended the common schools; enlisted and served three years as a private in company F, twenty-second Iowa infantry; attended the state university; studied law and was admitted to practice in 1870 in Ogle county, Ill.; settled in Lemars, Iowa, in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1891); resumed the practice of law in Lemars, Iowa.

Strudwick, William, a Representative from North Carolina; native of that state; received a limited education; held several local offices; elected to the Fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Absalom Tatum and served from December 13, 1796, to March 3, 1797.

Stuart, Alexander Hugh Holmes, a Representative from Virginia; born in Staunton, Va., April 2, 1807; attended William and Mary college; was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1828; was admitted to the bar, and in 1828 began practice in Staunton; served in the state house of representatives 1836-1838; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress

(March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); presidential elector on the Clay ticket in 1844 and the Taylor ticket in 1848; Secretary of the Interior 1850–1853; member of the state senate 1857–1861; delegate to the national Union convention in 1866; presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Ninth Congress, but was not admitted; died in Staunton, Va., February 13, 1891.

Stuart, Andrew, a Representative from Ohio; born in Pennsylvania August 30, 1823; moved to Stubenville, Ohio, in 1850; was editor of the American Union newspaper 1850–1857; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); defeated for reelection; died in Washington, D. C., April 30, 1872.

Stuart, Archibald, a Representative from Virginia; born in Lynchburg, Va., December 2, 1795; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Campbell county; served as an officer in the War of 1812; member of the state legislature; member of the state convention of 1829–1830; resided in Mount Airy, N. C.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); member of the state convention of 1850–1851; died in Patrick county, Va., September 20, 1855.

Stuart, Charles E., a Representative and a Senator from Michigan; born in Columbia county, N. Y., November 25, 1810; studied law and was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Kalamazoo, Mich.; member of the state legislature in 1842; elected to the Thirtieth Congress as a Democrat to fill vacancy caused by the death of Edward Bradley, who never qualified, and served from December 6, 1847, to March 4, 1849; defeated for reelection to the Thirty-first Congress; reelected to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1853, to March 3, 1859; member of the Union convention in Philadelphia in 1866; died in Kalamazoo, Mich., May 19, 1887.

Stuart, David, a Representative from Michigan; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., March 12, 1816; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Detroit, Mich.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); moved to Chicago, Ill.; enlisted in the Union army and was commissioned lieutenant colonel forty-second Illinois volunteer infantry, July 22, 1861; colonel of the fifty-fifth Illinois infantry, October 31, 1861; brigadier general of volunteers, November 29, 1862; appointment negated by the Senate, March 11, 1863; resigned April 3, 1863; resumed the practice of law in Detroit, Mich., and died there, September 11, 1868.

Stuart, John Todd, a Representative from Illinois; born near Lexington, Ky., November 10, 1807; was graduated from Center college in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Springfield, Ill.; major in the Black Hawk war in 1832; member of the state house of representatives 1832–1836; unsuccessful candidate to the Twenty-fifth Congress in 1836; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843); member of the state senate 1848–1852; reelected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); law partner with Abraham Lincoln; died in Springfield, Ill., November 23, 1885.

Stuart, Philip, a Representative from Maryland; born near Fredericksburg, Va., in 1760; completed preparatory studies; moved to Maryland; served in the Revolutionary army as lieutenant in the third Continental Dragoons; wounded at Eutaw Springs, September 8, 1781; transferred to Baylors Dragoons, November 9, 1782; served in the War of 1812; elected to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1819); died in Washington, D. C., August 14, 1830.

Stump, Herman, a Representative from Maryland; born on Oakington Farm, in Harford county, Md., August 8, 1837; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1856, and commenced practice in Belair, Md.; interested in agricultural pursuits; elected to the state senate in 1878, and served as president of that body in 1880; chairman of the Democratic state convention in 1879; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1893); commissioner general of emigration under President Cleveland; after leaving Congress resumed the practice of his profession in Belair, Md.

Sturgeon, Daniel, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Adams county, Pa., October 27, 1789; was graduated from Jefferson college, and Jefferson medical college, Philadelphia, Pa.; commenced the practice of medicine in Uniontown, Pa., in 1813; member of the state house of representatives 1818–1824; served in the state senate 1825–1830, and served as president of that body 1827–1830; auditor-general of Pennsylvania 1830–1836; state treasurer 1838–1839; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected and served from March 4, 1839 to March 3, 1851; treasurer of the United States mint in Philadelphia, Pa., 1853–1858; died in Uniontown, Pa., July 2, 1878.

Sturges, Jonathan, a Delegate and a Representative from Connecticut; born in Fairfield, Conn., August 23, 1740; was graduated from Yale college in 1759; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Fairfield, Conn.; sat in the Continental Congress 1774–1787; elected to the First and Second Congresses (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1793); associate justice of the state supreme court 1793–1805; presidential elector in 1797 and 1805; died in Fairfield, Conn., October 4, 1819.

Sturges, Lewis Burr, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Fairfield, Conn., March 15, 1763; was graduated from Yale college in 1782; elected as a Federalist to the Ninth, and to the succeeding five Congresses (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1817; moved to Norwalk, Ohio, and died there March 30, 1844.

Sturgiss, George Cookman, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Poland, Mahoning county, Ohio, August 16, 1842; moved to Morgantown, W. Va., in 1859; attended the Monongalia academy and taught in that school for a short time; studied law and was admitted to practice in 1863; was paymaster's clerk under Maj. James V. Boughner, paymaster of United States Volunteers; county superintendent of free schools 1865-1869; member of the house of delegates of West Virginia 1870, 1871, and 1872; prosecuting attorney of the county for eight years; in 1880 was the Republican nominee for governor of the state; United States attorney for the district of West Virginia; the first president of the State Board of Trade and of the State Association for the Promotion of Good Roads; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in Morgantown, Va.

Sturtevant, John Carey, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Spring township, Crawford county, Pa., February 20, 1835; attended the common schools; engaged in teaching and farming for a number of years; officer in the house of representatives in Harrisburg 1861, 1862, and 1864; member of the state house of representatives in 1865 and 1866; delegate to the Republican state convention in 1865, and six times reelected, the last in 1890; presidential elector in 1888; moved to Conneautville, Pa., in 1867; engaged in the hardware business; engaged in manufacturing and milling till 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); after leaving Congress engaged in the banking business in Conneautville, Pa.

Sullivan, George, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Durham, N. H., August 29, 1771; was graduated from Harvard college in 1790; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Exeter, N. H., in 1793; member of the state house of representatives in 1805; attorney-general of New Hampshire 1805-1806; elected to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); again a member of the state house of representatives in 1813; member of the state senate 1814-1815; again attorney-general of the state 1816-1835; died in Exeter, N. H., April 14, 1838.

Sullivan, James, a Delegate from Massachusetts; born in Berwick, Mass. (now Maine), April 22, 1744; completed preparatory studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Biddeford; active in Revolutionary movements; member of the provincial congress of Massachusetts in 1775; judge of the superior court in 1776; elected to the Continental Congress in 1782; judge of probate for Suffolk county; state attorney-general 1790-1807; governor of Massachusetts 1807-1808; died in Boston, Mass., December 10, 1808.

Sullivan, John, a Delegate from New Hampshire; born in Berwick, Me., February 17, 1740; received a limited education; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Durham; took an active part in pre-Revolutionary movements; elected to the Continental Congress 1774-1775; brigadier-general and promoted to major-general, but resigned in 1779; again elected to the Continental Congress 1780-1781; attorney-general of New Hampshire 1782-1786; president of that State 1786-1787; member of the convention that ratified the Federal Constitution; speaker of the state house of representatives; presidential elector in 1789; again chosen president of New Hampshire; judge of the United States district court of New Hampshire; died in Durham, N. H., January 23, 1795.

Sullivan, John Andrew, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., May 10, 1868; attended the public schools, the high school, and was graduated from the Boston university law school in 1896; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Suffolk, Mass., in 1896; member of the state senate 1900-1902; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); resumed the practice of law in Boston, Mass.; appointed a member of the Boston finance commission in July, 1907, and served until the commission expired; in June, 1909, became chairman of the permanent finance commission which was created by statute; resides in Boston, Mass.

Sullivan, Timothy Daniel, a Representative from New York; born in New York City February 6, 1863; attended the public schools; engaged in the real estate and theatrical business; elected to the state assembly in 1886 and served until 1894; member of the state senate 1894-1903; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses and served from March 4, 1903, until July 27, 1906, when he resigned; reelected to the state senate in 1908 and 1910; resident of New York City.

Sullivan, William Van Amberg, a Representative and a Senator from Mississippi; born near Winona, Miss., December 18, 1857; attended a country school near Sardis, in Panola county, and the University of Mississippi, and was graduated from the Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn., in 1875; was admitted to the bar in 1875 and commenced practice in Austin, Tunica county; moved to Oxford, Miss., in 1877; member of the board of aldermen; delegate to the Democratic national conventions in 1892 and 1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress and served from March 4, 1897, until May, 1898, when he resigned; appointed and subsequently elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Edward C. Walthall, and served from May 31, 1898, until March 4, 1901; after leaving the Senate took up his residence in Washington, D. C.

Suloway, Cyrus Adams, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Grafton, N. H., June 8, 1839; attended the common schools and Kimball academy; pursued an academic course; studied law in Franklin, N. H., was admitted to the bar in 1863, and commenced practice in Manchester, N. H.; member of the state house of representatives 1872-1873 and again in 1887-1893; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1913). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Sulzer, William, a Representative from New York; born in Elizabeth, N. J., March 18, 1863; attended the public schools and Columbia college; was admitted to the bar in 1884; member of the state legislature 1889-1894 and served as leader of the majority of the assembly in 1892 and was speaker of the assembly in 1893; leader of the minority of the state assembly in 1894; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1913). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Summers, George W., a Representative from Virginia; born in Fayette county, Va., March 4, 1804; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from Ohio university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Kanawha, Va.; member of the state house of representatives 1830-1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1845); delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1850; Whig candidate for governor in 1851; judge of the eighteenth judicial circuit of Virginia 1852-1858; died September, 1868.

Sumner, Charles, a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., January 6, 1811; pursued classical studies; was graduated from Harvard college in 1830; studied law and was graduated from the Cambridge law school in 1834; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Boston, Mass.; appointed reporter of the United States circuit court; lectured at the Cambridge law school 1835-1837; traveled in Europe 1837-1840; elected to the United States Senate in 1851 after a prolonged contest by a coalition of Democrats and Free-Soilers; re-elected in 1857, 1863, and 1869, and served from December 1, 1851, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 11, 1874; interment in Cambridge, Mass.

Sumner, Charles Allen, a Representative from California; born in Great Barrington, Mass., August 2, 1835; attended Trinity college, Hartford, Conn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and engaged on patent cases; moved to California in 1850; served during the Civil war; moved to Nevada; member of the state senate and served as president of that body; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); died in San Francisco, Cal., January 31, 1903.

Sumner, Daniel Hadley, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Malone, Franklin county, N. Y., September 15, 1837; attended the common schools; studied law; admitted to the bar in Michigan in 1868; settled in Waukesha, Wis., in 1870, and practiced; elected district attorney of Waukesha county and served in 1876 and 1877; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); died in Waukesha, Wis., May 29, 1903.

Sumter, Thomas, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Virginia, July 14, 1736; moved to South Carolina; attended the common schools; engaged in the war against the Cherokees; colonel of a regiment in the Revolutionary army and promoted to the rank of brigadier general in 1780; voted the thanks of Congress January, 1781; opposed to ratification in conventions of the Federal Constitution; elected to the First and Second Congresses (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1793); reelected to the Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1797, to December 15, 1801, when he resigned; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles Pinckney; reelected and served from December 3, 1801, until his resignation, in 1810; died in South Mount, S. C., June 1, 1832.

Sumter, Thomas D., a Representative from South Carolina; was a native of Pennsylvania; moved to Statesbury, S. C.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843).

Sutherland, George, a Representative and a Senator from Utah; born in Buckinghamshire, England, March 25, 1862; was brought by his parents to the United States in 1864 and settled in Utah; received a common school and academic education; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan in 1883, and was admitted to the bar in that State in March, 1883, and commenced practice in Utah in that year; member of the state senate 1896-1900; delegate to the Republican national conventions in 1900, 1904, 1908, and 1912; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); declined a renomination to the Fifty-eighth Congress; elected to the United States Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1905; reelected for the term expiring March 3, 1917.

Sutherland, Jabez Gridley, a Representative from Michigan; born in Onondaga county, N. Y., October 6, 1825; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1848; prosecuting attorney of Saginaw county, Mich., in 1848-1849; delegate to the state constitutional conventions in 1850 and 1867; member of the state house of representatives in 1853; circuit judge 1863 and 1869; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1879); died in Berkeley, Cal., November 20, 1902; interment in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Sutherland, Joel Barlow, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Gloucester county, N. J., in 1791; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the university of Pennsylvania in 1812; served in the War of 1812 as assistant surgeon to "Junior Artillerists of Philadelphia," transferred to the line and was appointed in 1814 lieutenant colonel of rifles in the state militia; member of the state house of representatives 1813-1816; physician to Lafayette; member of the state senate 1816-1817; abandoned medicine for the practice of law; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1837); defeated as a Whig candidate for the Twenty-fifth Congress; associate judge of the court of common pleas of Philadelphia, Pa., 1833-1834; died in Philadelphia, Pa., November 15, 1861.

Sutherland, Josiah, a Representative from New York; born in Hudson, N. Y.; received a limited education; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853).

Sutherland, Rhoderick Dhu, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Scotchgrove, Jones county, Iowa, April 27, 1862; attended the common schools and Amity College, College Springs, Iowa; admitted to the bar in Nuckolls county, Nebr., in 1888; elected county attorney in 1890, 1892, and 1894; elected as a Populist to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); after leaving Congress returned to Nelson, Nebr., and practiced law.

Swan, John, a Delegate from North Carolina; was a native of that State; completed preparatory studies; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1787-1788.

Swan, Samuel, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Somerset county, N. J., in 1771; elected to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1831); died in Brunswick, N. J., August 24, 1844.

Swann, Edward, a Representative from New York; born March 10, 1862; attended the common schools and was graduated from Columbia college in 1886; admitted to the bar and was engaged in practice in New York City; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Amos J. Cummings and served from December 2, 1902, to March 3, 1903.

Swann, Thomas, a Representative from Maryland; born in Alexandria, Va., February 3, 1809; attended Georgetown college and the university of Virginia; studied law; secretary of the Neapolitan United States commission; moved to Baltimore in 1834; director and president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad 1847–1853; president of the Northwestern Virginia Railroad; mayor of Baltimore 1856–1858; governor of Maryland 1865–1869; elected to the United States Senate in 1866, but declined to leave the governor's chair; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1879); died near Leesburg, Va., July 24, 1883.

Swanson, Claude Augustus, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Swansonville, Pittsylvania county, Va., March 31, 1862; attended the public schools; taught public school for one year; attended for one session the Virginia agricultural and mechanical college; was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1886; admitted to the bar, and practiced in Chatham, Va.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third, and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1893, until January 30, 1906, when he resigned; governor of Virginia 1906–1910; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John W. Daniel for the term expiring March 3, 1911. Re-elected for the term ending March 3, 1917.

Swansick, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; elected to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses and served from March 4, 1795, until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., July 31, 1798.

Swart, Peter, a Representative from New York; born in Schoharie, N. Y., July 5, 1752; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state house of representatives 1798–1799; elected to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1809); member of the state senate 1817–1820; died in Schoharie, N. Y., December 9, 1829.

Swasey, John Philip, a Representative from Maine; born in Canton, Me., September 4, 1839; attended the Canton public schools, Dearborn Academy, Hebron Academy, Maine State Seminary, and Tufts College; enlisted in the Union army during the Civil War and was appointed first lieutenant in company K, seventeenth Maine regiment; was admitted to the bar in 1863; assessor of internal revenue 1869–1870; member of the state house of representatives in 1874; served in the state senate 1875–1876; member of Governor Robie's council in 1883–1884; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles E. Littlefield; reelected to the Sixty-first Congress and served from December 7, 1908, to March 3, 1911; resumed the practice of law in Canton, Me.

Swearingen, Henry, a Representative from Ohio; native of Pennsylvania; moved to Smithfield, Ohio; held several local offices; elected to the Twenty-fifth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Kilgore; reelected to the Twenty-sixth Congress, and served from December 3, 1838, to March 3, 1841.

Swearingen, Thomas Van, a Representative from Virginia; born near Shepherdstown, W. Va., May 5, 1784; attended the common schools; elected to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1819, until his death in Shepherdstown, W. Va., August 19, 1822.

Sweat, Lorenzo De Medici, a Representative from Maine; born in Parsonville, Me., May 26, 1818; was graduated from Bowdoin College in 1837 and from Harvard law school in 1840; was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New Orleans, La.; returned to Portland, Me.; held several local offices; member of the state senate in 1862; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); defeated for the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses; delegate to the Union national convention in Philadelphia in 1868; died in Portland, Me., July 26, 1898.

Sweeney, William N., a Representative from Kentucky; born in that state, May 5, 1832; attended the common schools; studied law, admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); died in 1895.

Sweeny, George, a Representative from Ohio; born near Gettysburg, Pa., February 22, 1796; moved to Bucyrus, Ohio; elected to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843); prosecuting attorney of Crawford county 1844–1851; died in Bucyrus, Ohio, October 10, 1877.

Sweet, Willis, a Representative from Idaho; born in Alburg Springs, Vt., January 1, 1856; attended the common schools and the Nebraska State University; learned the printer's trade in Lincoln, Nebr.; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Moscow, Idaho, in September, 1881, and engaged in practice; appointed United States attorney for Idaho in May, 1888; appointed associate justice of the supreme court of Idaho November 25, 1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress upon the admission of the state of Idaho into the Union; reelected to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses and served from December 1, 1890, to March 3, 1895.

Sweetser, Charles, a Representative from Ohio; was a native of Vermont; moved to Delaware, Ohio; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1853).

Sweney, Joseph Henry, a Representative from Iowa; born in Warren county, Pa., October 2, 1845; attended the public schools of Pennsylvania and Iowa and was graduated from the Iowa State University; was admitted to the bar, and carried on farming in connection with the practice of law; enlisted in the Union army and served as sergeant in company K, twenty-seventh regiment Iowa Infantry; colonel of the sixth regiment national guard of Iowa for four years and brigadier and inspector general of the state; member of the state senate from 1883 to 1891, and served as president pro tempore in 1886; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891; resumed the practice of law in Osage, Iowa.

Swift, Benjamin, a Representative and a Senator from Vermont; born in Amenia, N. Y., April 8, 1780; completed preparatory studies; studied law, admitted to the bar, and began practice in Bennington, Vt.; moved to Manchester and then to St. Albans; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Whig to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1831); elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1833, to March 3, 1839; died in St. Albans, Vt., November 11, 1847.

Swift, Zephaniah, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Wareham, Mass., February 27, 1759; was graduated from Yale College in 1778; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Windham, Conn.; elected as a Federalist to the Third and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1797); secretary of the French mission in 1800; appointed a judge of the supreme court in 1801 and chief justice 1806–1819; member of the state house of representatives; died in Warren, Ohio, September 27, 1823.

Swinburne, John, a Representative from New York; born in Deer River, Lewis county, N. Y., May 30, 1820; attended the public schools and academies of Denmark and Lowville, Lewis county, and the academy in Fairfield, Herkimer county; was graduated from the Albany Medical College in 1847 and commenced practice as a physician and surgeon; appointed in 1861 chief medical officer on the staff of Gen. John F. Rathbone, and placed in charge of the depot for recruits in Albany; appointed by Governor Morgan in May, 1862, auxiliary volunteer surgeon at the front, with the rank of medical superintendent of New York wounded troops, and reappointed June 13 by Governor Seymour; appointed by the Surgeon-General of the United States and assigned to duty in Savage Station by General McClellan; taken prisoner of war June 29, 1862; appointed by Governor Seymour in 1864 health officer of the port of New York, and reappointed by Governor Fenton in 1866, holding the position six years; in charge of the American Ambulance Corps during the siege of Paris by the Prussians in 1870–1871; elected mayor of Albany in 1882 and counted out, but after fourteen months' litigation was awarded the office by the courts; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1887); died in Albany, N. Y., March 28, 1889.

Swoope, Jacob, a Representative from Virginia; was a native of that state; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1811).

Swope, John Augustus, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Gettysburg, Pa., December 25, 1827; was graduated from Princeton College in 1847; studied medicine, but relinquished practice after a few years in order to engage in mercantile pursuits; became president of the Gettysburg National Bank in 1879; engaged in manufacturing and agricultural pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of William A. Duncan; reelected to the Forty-ninth Congress and served from January 5, 1885, to March 3, 1887; moved to Washington, D. C., and engaged in banking business; died in Washington, D. C., December 6, 1910.

Swope, Samuel F., a Representative from Kentucky; was a native of that state; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857).

Sykes, George, a Representative from New Jersey; was a native of that state; attended the common schools; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847).

Sykes, James, a Delegate from Delaware; born in Dover, Del., March 27, 1761; studied medicine, and was admitted to practice; member of the state senate and served as speaker; clerk of peace 1777–1792; sat in the Continental Congress 1777–1778; clerk of the state house of representatives in 1796; served as governor of Delaware under the constitution of 1792 and served from March, 1801, to January, 1802; died in Dover, Del., October 18, 1822.

Symes, George Gifford, a Representative from Colorado; born in Ashtabula county, Ohio, April 28, 1840; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; enlisted as private in company B, second regiment of Wisconsin volunteers, April 12, 1861; wounded in the first battle of Bull Run; adjutant of the twenty-fifth Wisconsin infantry; in the Sioux Indian campaign of 1862; in the Vicksburg campaign of 1863 and the Atlanta campaign of 1864 and wounded in the battle of Atlanta, July 22, 1864; commissioned colonel of the forty-fourth regiment of Wisconsin volunteers in August, 1864; commanded the post in Paducah, Ky., during the summer of 1865, and was mustered out with his regiment in Madison, Wis., about September 1, 1865; practiced law in Paducah, Ky.; associate justice of the supreme court of Montana Territory 1869–1871; resumed the practice of law in Helena, Mont.; moved to Denver, Colo., in 1874; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889); after leaving Congress devoted his time to the management of his personal interests and practiced law; died in Denver, Colo., November 3, 1893.

Symmes, John Cleves, a Delegate from New Jersey; born on Long Island, N. Y., July 21, 1742; completed preparatory studies; moved to New Jersey; chairman of the committee of safety of Sussex county in 1774; member of the legislative council; served in the Revolutionary army; chief justice of the state supreme court 1777–1787; elected to the Continental Congress 1785–1786; moved to the Northwest Territory and settled in North Bend, below Cincinnati; appointed by Congress one of the three judges of the Northwest Territory in 1788, and held the position until Ohio became a State; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, February 26, 1814.

Sypher, Jay Hale, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Perry county, Pa., July 22, 1837; was graduated from Alfred university; studied law and was admitted to the bar; entered the Union army as a private and rose to the rank of brigadier-general; after the war resumed the practice of law in New Orleans, La.; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses and served from July 18, 1868, to March 3, 1873; presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Forty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1873 to March 3, 1875, when he was succeeded by Effingham Lawrence, who contested his election; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; died in Baltimore, Md., May 9, 1905.

Taber, Stephen, a Representative from New York; born in Dover, N. Y., March 7, 1821; completed preparatory studies; moved to Queens county and engaged in farming; member of the state legislature 1860-1861; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869).

Taber, Thomas, a Representative from New York; born in Dover, N. Y., May 19, 1785; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the state house of representatives in 1826; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas J. Oakley, and served from December 1, 1828, to March 3, 1829; died in Roslyn, Long Island, N. Y., March 21, 1862.

Tabor, Horace Austin Warner, a Senator from Colorado; born in Holland, Orleans county, Vt., November 26, 1830; attended the common schools and received instruction from a private tutor; moved to Quincy, Mass., and pursued the stonemason's trade; moved to Kansas in 1855; member of the Topeka legislature when it was dispersed by order of President Pierce; moved to Denver, Colo., in 1859, settled in Leadville in 1860; engaged in mercantile pursuits; postmaster of Leadville; mayor 1878-1879; treasurer of Lake county; lieutenant governor of Colorado 1878-1884; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry M. Teller, and served from January 27, 1883, until March 3, 1883; postmaster of Denver, Colo., until his death, April 10, 1899.

Taffe, John, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Indianapolis, Ind., January 30, 1827; completed preparatory studies; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Indianapolis, Ind.; moved to Nebraska in 1856; served in both branches of the Nebraska territorial assembly; enlisted in the Union army as a major of the second Nebraska cavalry; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1873).

Taft, Charles Phelps, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, December 21, 1843; attended the common schools and was graduated from Phillips academy in 1860, from Yale college in 1864, and from Columbia college law school of New York in 1866; went to Germany and was graduated from the University of Heidelberg in 1867; was admitted to the bar and practiced law in Cincinnati, Ohio; member of the state house of representatives in 1871; editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star; member of the board of sinking-fund trustees of the city of Cincinnati; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); resumed newspaper business in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Taggart, Samuel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Londonderry, N. H., March 24, 1754; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1774; studied theology, licensed to preach in 1776, and was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry February 19, 1777, and installed as pastor of a church in Colerain, Mass.; journeyed as a missionary through western New York; elected as a Federalist to the Eighth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1817); died in Colerain, Mass., April 25, 1825.

Tait, Charles, a Senator from Georgia; born in Louisa county, Va., February 1, 1768; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Elbert county, Ga.; rector and instructor in the Richmond academy, in Augusta, in 1795; presiding justice of the superior court of Georgia 1803-1809; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Milledge; reelected and served from November 27, 1809, to March 3, 1819; moved to Wilcox county, Ala., in 1819; appointed by President Monroe, United States district judge for Alabama, May 10, 1820, and served until 1826, when he resigned and engaged as a planter until his death near Claiborne, Ala., October 17, 1835.

Talbert, William Jasper, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Edgefield county, S. C., in 1846; attended the common schools and Due West academy, Abbeville, S. C.; served in the Confederate army throughout the war; engaged in farming; member of the state house of representatives 1880-1884; elected to the state senate in 1884; superintendent of the state penitentiary; held various positions in the Farmers' Alliance; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1903).

Talbot, Isham, a Senator from Kentucky; born in Bedford county, Va., in 1773; moved with his father to Harrodsburg, Ky.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Versailles, Ky.; moved to Frankfort, Ky., and continued practice; member of the state senate 1812-1815; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Jesse Bledsoe, and served from January 3, 1815, to March 3, 1819; again elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William Logan, and served from October 19, 1820, to March 3, 1825; died near Frankfort, Ky., September 25, 1835.

Talbot, Silas, a Representative from New York; born in Dighton, Mass., January 11, 1751; completed preparatory studies; went to sea on a coasting vessel; merchant in Providence, R. I.; lieutenant and captain in the Revolutionary army; promoted to the rank of major; commissioned captain in the Continental navy September 17, 1779, and retired September 23, 1801; moved to Albany, N. Y., and engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of state house of representatives 1792-1793; elected as a Federalist to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); again commissioned by President Washington, May 11, 1798, captain in the United States navy; resigned September 21, 1801; died in New York City, June 30, 1813.

Talbott, Albert Gallatin, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Bourbon county, Ky., April 4, 1808; completed preparatory studies; located in Danville, Ky.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); died in Philadelphia, Pa., September 8, 1887; interment in Danville, Ky.

Talbott, Joshua Frederick C., a Representative from Maryland; born near Lutherville, Baltimore county, Md., July 29, 1843; attended the public schools; began the study of law in 1862; joined the Confederate army in 1864, and served as a private in the second Maryland cavalry throughout the war; was admitted to the bar September 6, 1866; prosecuting attorney for Baltimore county 1871-1875; defeated for reelection; delegate to the Democratic national convention in St. Louis, Mo., in 1876, and the convention of 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1885); appointed insurance commissioner of Maryland in October, 1889, and resigned in January, 1893; reelected to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); again elected to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911); delegate to the Democratic national convention in Denver, Colo., in 1908. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Taliaferro, Benjamin, a Representative from Georgia; born in Virginia in 1750; completed preparatory studies; served in the Revolutionary war as a lieutenant in the rifle corps commanded by Gen. Morgan; was promoted to captain; captured by the British at Charleston; after independence had been established located in Georgia; member of the state senate and its president; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1798; elected to the Sixth and Seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1799, until his resignation in 1802; judge of the superior court; died in Wilkes county, Ga., September 3, 1821.

Taliaferro, James Piper, a Senator from Florida; born in Orange, Va., September 30, 1847; attended the common schools and the William Dinwiddie school in Greenwood, Va.; enlisted in the Confederate army in 1864, and served until the war ended; resumed his studies in college; moved to Jacksonville, Fla.; engaged in the lumber business; president of the First National Bank of Tampa; elected as a Democrat, April 19, 1899, to the United States Senate, for the term commencing March 4, 1899; reelected in 1905, and served from April 19, 1899, to March 3, 1911; resumed business in Jacksonville, Fla.

Taliaferro, John, a Representative from Virginia; born in Hays, King George county, Va., in 1768; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Fredericksburg, Va.; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803); presidential elector on the Jefferson ticket in 1805; successfully contested the election of John Hungerford to the Twelfth Congress, and served from December 2, 1811, to March 3, 1813; presidential elector on the Monroe ticket in 1821; elected to the Eighteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of William L. Ball; reelected to the Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Congresses, and served from April 8, 1824, to March 3, 1831; again elected to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1843); librarian of the United States Treasury department, 1850, until his death in his residence, "Hagley," in King George county, Va., August 12, 1852.

Tallmadge, Benjamin, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Brookhaven, Long Island, N. Y., February 25, 1754; was graduated from Yale college in 1773; superintendent of Wethersfield high school 1773-1776; joined the Revolutionary army as lieutenant in the Continental line, June 20, 1776; promoted captain of dragoons December 15, 1776; major, April 7, 1777, and colonel, September 5, 1779; led the expedition against Fort George, at Oyster Bay, L. I., for which he received the thanks of Congress; in charge of Major John Andre until his execution; postmaster of Litchfield, Conn.; held several local offices; elected as a Federalist to the Seventh, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1817); died in Litchfield, Conn., March 6, 1835.

Tallmadge, Frederick Augustus, a Representative from New York; born in Litchfield, Conn., August 29, 1792; was graduated from Yale college in 1811; studied law in the Litchfield law school, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New York City in 1813; served in the War of 1812; alderman of New York City in 1834; common councilman in 1836; member of the state senate 1837-1840; recorder of the city of New York 1841-1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); again recorder of the city of New York 1848-1851; superintendent of the Metropolitan police 1857-1862; clerk of the New York court of appeals 1862-1865; resumed the practice of law in New York City; died in Litchfield, Conn., September 17, 1869.

Tallmadge, James, a Representative from New York; born in Stanfordsville, Dutchess county, N. Y., January 28, 1778; was graduated from Brown university in 1798; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and in New York City; served in the War of 1812, and commanded a company of home guards in defense of New York; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); declined a renomination; delegate in the state constitutional conventions of 1821 and 1846; member of the state assembly in 1824; lieutenant governor of New York 1826-1827; died in New York City, September 29, 1853.

Tallmadge, Nathaniel Pitcher, a Senator from New York; born in Chatham, Columbia county, N. Y., February 8, 1795; was graduated from Union college in 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1818, and began practice in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives in 1828, served in the state senate 1830-1833; elected as a Conservative Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1839, and served from March 4, 1833, until June 17, 1844, when he resigned; appointed by President Tyler governor of Wisconsin Territory; resided in Fond du Lac, Wis., from September 13, 1844, until his removal from office, May 13, 1845; died in Battle Creek, Mich., November 2, 1864.

Tallman, Peleg, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Tiverton, R. I., July 24, 1764; attended the public schools; served in the Revolutionary war on the privateer Trumbull, and lost an arm in an engagement in 1780; captured and imprisoned in England and Ireland 1781-1783; became a merchant in Bath, Me.; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); declined a renomination; member of the state senate 1821-1822; died in Bath, Me., March 12, 1840.

Tannehill, Adamson, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Frederick county, Md., in 1752; attended the public schools; served in the Revolutionary War as captain of riflemen; moved to Pennsylvania and became a farmer near Pittsburgh; held several local offices; brigadier general of Pennsylvania volunteers in the United States service from September 25, 1812, until December 31, 1812; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); died near Pittsburgh, Pa., July 7, 1817.

Tanner, Adolphus Hitchcock, a Representative from New York; born in Granville, N. Y., May 23, 1833; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Whitehall, N. Y.; entered the Union army in 1862 as a captain, and made lieutenant colonel of the one hundred and twenty-third regiment of New York volunteer infantry; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); died in Whitehall, N. Y., January 14, 1882.

Tappan, Benjamin, a Senator from Ohio; born in Northampton, Mass., May 25, 1773; attended the public schools; printer and engraver; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Steubenville, Ohio, in 1799; member of the state house of representatives in 1803; served in the War of 1812 as aid to Gen. William Wadsworth; held several local positions; county judge and judge of the fifth Ohio circuit court of common pleas; United States district judge of Ohio in 1833; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1839, to March 3, 1845; died in Steubenville, Ohio, April 20, 1857.

Tappan, Mason Weare, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Newport, Sullivan county, N. H., October 20, 1817; attended Kimball Union academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and began practice in Bradford, N. H.; served in the state house of representatives 1853-1855; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1861); served in the Union army as colonel of the first New Hampshire volunteer infantry; again a member of the state legislature 1860-1861; resumed the practice of law; appointed attorney general of the state in 1876, which position he held until his death in Bradford, N. H., October 26, 1886.

Tarbox, John Kemble, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Methuen, near Lawrence, Mass., May 6, 1838; pursued classical studies; engaged in newspaper work; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1860, and practiced; served in the Union army as first lieutenant in the eighth Massachusetts volunteer infantry; member of the state house of representatives 1868, 1870, and 1871, and of the state senate in 1872; mayor of Lawrence in 1873 and 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Forty-fifth Congress; city solicitor of Lawrence, Mass., in 1882 and 1883; insurance commissioner of Massachusetts 1884-1887; died in Boston, Mass., May 28, 1887.

Tarr, Christian, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Baltimore, Md.; moved to Pennsylvania; received a limited schooling; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821).

Tarsney, John C., a Representative from Missouri; born in Lenawee county, Mich., November 7, 1845; attended the common schools; enlisted in the fourth regiment Michigan infantry in August, 1862; mustered out of the service in June, 1865; entered the high school in Hudson, Mich.; was graduated in March, 1869, from the law department of the University of Michigan, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Hudson, Mich.; moved to Kansas City, Mo., in 1872; city attorney of Kansas City in 1874 and 1875; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 9, 1889-March 3, 1895); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, to February 27, 1896, when he was succeeded by Robert T. Van Horn, who contested his election; associate justice of the supreme court of Oklahoma 1896-1899.

Tarsney, Timothy Edward, a Representative from Michigan; born in Ransom, Hillsdale county, Mich., February 4, 1849; attended the common schools; became a marine engineer; was graduated from the law department of Michigan University in 1872, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in East Saginaw, Mich.; justice of the peace 1873-1874; city attorney 1875-1878, when he resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); moved to Detroit, Mich., and engaged in the practice of law; corporation counsel of Detroit; died in Detroit, Mich., June 8, 1909.

Tate, Farish Carter, a Representative from Georgia; born in Jasper, Pickens county, Ga., November 20, 1856; attended the common schools and North Georgia agricultural college, in Dahlonega, Ga.; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1880; member of the general assembly of Georgia six years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1905); elected United States district attorney for the northern district of Georgia; a resident of Jasper, Ga.

Tate, Magnus, a Representative from Virginia; born in Berkeley county, Va., in 1760; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; engaged in agricultural pursuits; appointed justice of the Berkeley county court, May 19, 1798; sheriff of Berkeley county, 1819-1820; moved to Virginia; elected to the house of delegates of Virginia, 1797, 1803, 1809 and 1810; elected as a Federalist to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); died near Martinsburg, Va., March 30, 1823.

Tattnall, Edward F., a Representative from Georgia; a native of Savannah, Ga.; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1827).

Tattnall, Josiah, a Senator from Georgia; born in Bonaventure, Ga., in 1764; completed preparatory studies; went with his father to England at the outbreak of the Revolutionary war, and attended Eaton college; ran away from England and enlisted under Gen. Anthony Wayne in 1782; colonel of a regiment of state troops in 1793 for protection against the Indians, and was promoted to brigadier general in 1801; member of the state house of representatives 1795-1796; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Jackson, and served from February 20, 1796, to March 3, 1799; governor of Georgia 1801; resigned in November, 1802; died in Nassau, New Providence, June 6, 1803; interment in Bonaventure, Ga.

Tatum, Absalom, a Representative from North Carolina; elected to the Fourth Congress and served from March 4, 1795, to 1796, when he resigned.

Taul, Micah, a Representative from Kentucky; native of Virginia; moved to Kentucky; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817.)

Taulbee, William Preston, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Morgan county, Ky., October 22, 1851; attended private schools; studied for the ministry; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1881; elected clerk of the Magoffin county court in 1878 and 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); declined a renomination; died in Washington, D. C., March 11, 1890.

Tawney, James Albertus, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Mount Pleasant township, near Gettysburg, Adams county, Pa., January 3, 1855; apprenticed with his father as a blacksmith; subsequently learned the trade of machinist; moved to Winona, Minn., August 1, 1877, where he was employed as a blacksmith and machinist until January 1, 1881; studied law and was admitted to the bar July 10, 1882; attended the law school of the University of Wisconsin; elected to the state senate of Minnesota in 1890; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third, and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for renomination; appointed by President Roosevelt a member of the International Joint Commission for the settlement of questions between the United States and Canada.

Taylor, Robert Walker, a Representative from Ohio; born in Youngstown, Ohio, November 26, 1852; was graduated from Western Reserve university June, 1872; taught in the high school in New Lisbon (now Lisbon), Ohio; superintendent of schools 1873-1874; editor of the Buckeye State, a newspaper, in New Lisbon, Ohio, from January, 1875, to November, 1876; was admitted to the bar in April, 1877, and commenced practice; elected prosecuting attorney of Columbiana county in 1880 and served until January, 1886; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1903; declined a renomination to the Fifty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Youngstown, Ohio; appointed by President Roosevelt United States district judge for the northern district of Ohio; died in Cleveland, Ohio, November 25, 1910; interment in Lisbon, Ohio.

Taylor, Abner, a Representative from Illinois; born in Maine; contractor, builder, and merchant; member of the general assembly 1884-1886; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1884; moved to Chicago, Ill.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893); died in Washington, D. C., April 14, 1903.

Taylor, Alexander Wilson, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Indiana county, Pa., March 22, 1815; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1841; clerk of the court of Indiana county 1845-1848; member of the state legislature 1859-1860; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); resumed the practice of law in Indiana, Pa.

Taylor, Alfred Alexander, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Happy Valley, Carter county, Tenn., August 6, 1848; attended the schools of Edge Hill and Pennington, N. J.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1870, and practiced; member of the state legislature 1875-1876; candidate for elector on the Hayes and Wheeler ticket in 1876; candidate for elector on the Garfield and Arthur ticket in 1880; unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor in 1886; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); declined further renomination; engaged in the practice of law in Johnson City, Tenn., and interested in agricultural pursuits.

Taylor, Arthur H., a Representative from Indiana; born in Caledonia Springs, Canada, February 29, 1852; moved with his parents to Yates county, N. Y., and from there to Indianapolis, Ind.; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; elected prosecuting attorney for the eleventh judicial circuit of Indiana in 1880 and 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Indianapolis, Ind.

Taylor, Caleb N., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Berks county, Pa., July 27, 1813; completed preparatory studies; engaged in farming; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1869); successfully contested the election of John R. Reading to the Forty-first Congress, and served from April 13, 1870, until March 3, 1871.

Taylor, Edward Livingston, jr., a Representative from Ohio; born in Columbus, Ohio, August 10, 1869; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Columbus high school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1891, and practiced in Columbus; was elected prosecuting attorney of Franklin county, November 4, 1899; reelected November 6, 1902; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Taylor, Edward Thomas, a Representative from Colorado; born in Metamora, Woodford county, Ill., June 19, 1858; attended the common schools of Illinois and Kansas, and was graduated from the high school in Leavenworth, Kans., in 1881; moved to Leadville, Colo.; principal of Leadville high school 1881–1882; studied law, was graduated from the university of Michigan in 1884, admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Leadville, Colo.; elected superintendent of schools of Lake county in 1884; deputy district attorney in 1885; in 1886 moved to Aspen, Colo., and in 1887 to Glenwood Springs, and continued to practice his profession; elected district attorney of the ninth judicial district in 1887; member of the state senate 1896–1908, and served as president pro tempore for one term; city attorney five terms and county attorney two terms; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Taylor, Ezra Booth, a Representative from Ohio, born in Nelson, Portage county, Ohio, July 9, 1823; attended common and select schools and academies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Portage county in 1845; elected prosecuting attorney in 1854; moved to Warren, Trumbull county, Ohio, in 1861; judge of the court of common pleas for the ninth judicial district from March, 1877, until his resignation, September 5, 1880; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James A. Garfield; reelected to the Forty-seventh, and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from December 13, 1880, to March 3, 1893; resumed the practice of law; died in Warren, Ohio, January 29, 1912.

Taylor, George, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ireland in 1716; received a good schooling; came to the United States in 1736 and settled in Durham, Pa.; engaged in the manufacture of iron in Northampton, Pa.; member of the colonial house of representatives 1764–1769; colonel of militia; appointed judge of the county court in 1770; again a member of the provincial house of representatives in 1775; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1776–1777; signer of the Declaration of Independence; moved to Easton, Pa., and died there February 23, 1781.

Taylor, George, a Representative from New York, born in Wheeling, Va., October 19, 1820; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Indiana; moved to Alabama in 1844; moved to Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1848, where he practiced; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C., and died there January 18, 1894.

Taylor, George Washington, a Representative from Alabama; born in Montgomery county, Ala., January 16, 1849; while a schoolboy in Columbia, S. C., enlisted in the Confederate army; served a few weeks with the South Carolina state troops on the coast near Savannah, Ga., and then enlisted in company D, first regiment South Carolina cavalry, and served as a courier until the end of the war; was graduated from the South Carolina university in 1867; taught school, studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Mobile, Ala., in 1871; member of the state assembly of Alabama in 1878; state solicitor for the first judicial district of Alabama, 1890–1892; declined further election; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1911); chairman of the Alabama state Democratic convention in 1901. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Taylor, Isaac Hamilton, a Representative from Ohio; born near New Harrisburg, Carroll county, Ohio, April 18, 1840; attended the common schools and completed an academic course; studied law, and was admitted to the bar; clerk of courts in Carroll county, Ohio, from January, 1870, until February, 1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1887).

Taylor, John, a Senator from Virginia; born in Caroline county, Va., in 1750; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1770; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1774; served in the Revolutionary War as major; member of the state legislature 1779–1787; colonel of militia under Gen. Lafayette; retired from the practice of law and engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Richard Henry Lee; reelected for the term commencing March 3, 1793; and served from October 18, 1792, until his resignation May 11, 1794; presidential elector on the Adams-Jefferson ticket in 1797; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by death of Stevens T. Mason, and served from June 4, 1803, until December 7, 1803; again elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Pleasants; reelected, and served from December 18, 1822, until his death in Caroline county, Va., August 20, 1824.

Taylor, John, a Representative and a Senator from South Carolina; born near Columbia, S. C., May 4, 1770; was graduated from Princeton college in 1790; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1793 began practice in Columbia, S. C.; engaged in planting; member of both houses of the state legislature for several years; elected to the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1807, until his resignation, December 31, 1810; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas Sumter; reelected, and served from December 19, 1810, until 1816, when he resigned; again elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifteenth and the Seventeenth Congresses; member of the state senate in 1822; governor of South Carolina 1826–1828; died at Taylors Hill, in Columbia, S. C., February 23, 1832.

Taylor, John J., a Representative from New York; native of Massachusetts; moved to Oswego, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855).

Taylor, John L., a Representative from Ohio; born in Stafford county, Va., March 7, 1805; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828, and began practice in Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1829; major general in the state militia for several years; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1855); served as clerk in the Interior department in Washington, D. C., and died there September 6, 1870.

Taylor, John May, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Lexington, Tenn., May 18, 1838; attended the academy in Lexington and Union university, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; was graduated from the law school of Cumberland university, Lebanon, Tenn.; was admitted to the bar, and practiced; enlisted in the Confederate army and was elected first lieutenant in June, 1861, and promoted to captain; elected major of the twenty-seventh Tennessee regiment in 1862; elected mayor of Lexington in May, 1869; delegate in the state constitutional convention of Tennessee in 1870; attorney-general of the eleventh judicial circuit of Tennessee 1870–1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law; elected criminal judge; member of the court of civil appeals; died in Lexington, Tenn., February 17, 1911.

Taylor, John W., a Representative from New York; born in Charlton, N. Y., March 26, 1784; was graduated from Union college in 1803; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1807, and began practice in Ballston Spa, N. Y.; organized Ballston Centre academy; justice of the peace in 1808; member of the state assembly, 1812–1813; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth, and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1833), and served as speaker during the second session of the Sixteenth Congress, and in the Nineteenth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Ballston Spa, N. Y.; member of the state senate 1840–1841, but resigned in consequence of a paralytic stroke; moved to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1843, and died there September 8, 1854.

Taylor, Jonathan, a Representative from Ohio; native of Connecticut; moved to Newark, Ohio; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841).

Taylor, Joseph Danner, a Representative from Ohio; born in Belmont county, Ohio, November 7, 1830; attended the common schools and Madison college; taught school and was principal of the Fairview high school; studied law in Cincinnati, Ohio, and was admitted to the bar in 1859; was graduated from the Cincinnati law college in 1860; entered the Union army as captain in the eighty-eighth Ohio volunteer infantry and was judge advocate of the department of Indiana; citizen judge advocate in Indianapolis, Ind., in 1865; twice elected prosecuting attorney of Guernsey county; delegate in the Philadelphia Loyalists' convention of 1866; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1880; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Jonathan T. Updegraff; re-elected to the Forty-eighth Congress, and served from January 16, 1882, to March 3, 1885; re-elected to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1893); died in Cambridge, Ohio, September 19, 1899.

Taylor, Miles, a Representative from Louisiana; native of the state of New York; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Donaldsonville, La.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1855, until February 5, 1861, when he retired.

Taylor, Nathaniel Green, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Happy Valley, Carter county, Tenn., December 29, 1819; was graduated from Princeton college in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; presidential elector on the Scott ticket in 1853; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Brookins Campbell, who never qualified, and served from March 30, 1854, to March 3, 1855; presidential elector on the Bell and Everett ticket in 1860; re-elected to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867); Commissioner of Indian Affairs from March 26, 1867, to April 21, 1869; died in Happy Valley, Carter county, Tenn., April 1, 1887.

Taylor, Nelson, a Representative from New York; born in South Norwalk, Conn., June 8, 1821; attended the common schools; enlisted for the Mexican war as captain of the first New York infantry, August 1, 1846, and was honorably mustered out September 18, 1848; located in Stockton, Cal.; member of the state senate in 1849; elected sheriff in 1855; president of the board of trustees of the state insane asylum 1850–1856; moved to New York City; studied law, was graduated from the Harvard law school in 1860, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the Thirty-seventh Congress; served in the Union army as colonel of the seventy-second New York infantry, July 23, 1861; brigadier-general of volunteers, September 7, 1862; resigned from the service, January 19, 1863; resumed the practice of law in New York City; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867); died in South Norwalk, Conn., January 16, 1894.

Taylor, Robert, a Representative from Virginia; born in Orange, Va., April 29, 1763; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Orange, Va.; held several local offices; member of the state senate 1804-1806, and served as speaker; elected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1827); died on his estate, "Meadow Farm," in Orange county, Va., July 3, 1845.

Taylor, Robert Love, a Representative and a Senator from Tennessee; born in Happy Valley, Carter county, East Tennessee, July 31, 1850; attended common schools in Athens, Tenn., and Pennington, N. J.; engaging in making bar-iron and in tobacco raising; studied law in Jonesboro, Tenn., was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1880 and 1882; practiced law in Johnson City, Tenn., in 1880; presidential elector on the Cleveland and Hendricks ticket in 1884; pension agent in Knoxville, Tenn., 1885-1887; governor of Tennessee, 1887-1891; again Democratic presidential elector on the Cleveland ticket in 1892; resumed the practice of law in Chattanooga, Tenn.; again served as governor of Tennessee, 1897-1899; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in January, 1907, for the term beginning March 4, 1907, and served until his death in Washington, D. C., March 31, 1912.

Taylor, Vincent Albert, a Representative from Ohio; born in Bedford, Ohio, December 6, 1845; attended the common schools; enlisted for the Civil war in May, 1864, in company H, one hundred and fiftieth Ohio volunteer infantry, and in August of the same year in company H, one hundred and seventy-seventh Ohio volunteer infantry, and served until the close of the war; began business as a manufacturer; member of the Ohio senate, 1888-1890; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); president of the Taylor Chair Company and a resident of Bedford, Ohio.

Taylor, Waller, a Senator from Indiana; born in Lunenburg county, Va., before 1786; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state legislature; moved to Indiana in 1805, and located in Vincennes; territorial judge in 1806; served as aid-de-camp to Gen. William H. Harrison in the war of 1812; appointed territorial judge; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected and served from November 8, 1816, to March 3, 1825; died in Lunenburg, Va., August 26, 1826.

Taylor, William, a Representative from New York; born in Suffield, Hartford county, Conn., October 12, 1791; moved with his parents to Onondaga county, N. Y.; attended the public schools; studied medicine and was admitted to practice; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1839); member of the state house of representatives in 1841 and 1842; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1846; died in Manlius, N. Y., September 16, 1865.

Taylor, William, a Representative from Virginia, native of Alexandria, Va.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Rockingham county, Va.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses, and served from

March 4, 1843, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 17, 1846

Taylor, William P., a Representative from Virginia; born in Fredericksburg, Va.; received a limited schooling; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twenty-fourth Congress.

Taylor, Zachary, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Haywood county, Tenn., May 9, 1849; attended the common schools and was graduated from the Virginia military institute as senior captain July 4, 1872; was graduated from the law school of Cumberland university, Lebanon, Tenn., in January, 1874, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Covington, Tenn., in 1878; served in the state senate in 1880; postmaster of Covington, Tenn., from July 1, 1883, to January 1, 1885, when he resigned; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); located in Memphis, Tenn., and engaged in general life insurance business; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1896; a resident of San Antonio, Tex.

Tazewell, Henry, a Senator from Virginia; born in Brunswick county, Va., in 1753; was graduated from William and Mary college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1773 began practice; member of the provincial house of burgesses in 1775; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1776; judge of the state supreme court 1785-1793; judge of the high court of appeals in 1793; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Taylor, and served from November 18, 1794, until his death; elected President of the Senate pro tempore December 7, 1795; died in Philadelphia, Pa., January 24, 1799.

Tazewell, Littleton Waller, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Williamsburg, Va., December 17, 1774; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1791; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1796, and began practice in James City county; member of the state house of delegates 1796-1800; elected as a Democrat to the Sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Marshall, and served from November 26, 1800, to March 3, 1801; moved to Norfolk, Va., in 1802; representative in the Virginia legislature in 1816; one of the commissioners of claims under the treaty with Spain ceding Florida in 1820; declined the mission to Great Britain; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Taylor; reelected, and served from December 7, 1824, to July 16, 1832, when he resigned; elected President of the Senate pro tempore July 9, 1832; served as governor of Virginia from 1834 until his resignation in 1836; died in Norfolk, Va., March 6, 1860.

Teese, Frederick Halstead, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Newark, N. J., October 21, 1823; was graduated from Princeton college in 1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Newark, N. J.; member of the state house of representatives in 1860-1861, and served as speaker; presiding judge of the court of common pleas of Essex county from 1864, until his resignation in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); died in New York City, January 7, 1894.

Telfair, Edward, a Delegate from Georgia; born in Scotland in 1735; pursued classical studies and was graduated from the Kirkcudbright grammar school; came to the United States in 1758 as agent of a commercial house and located in Virginia; moved to Halifax, N. C.; established a commission house in Savannah, Ga., in 1766; active in pre-Revolutionary movements; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1777-1779 and 1780-1783; one of the signers of the Articles of Confederation; commissioner to treat with the Cherokees; governor of Georgia, 1786-1793; died in Savannah, Ga., September 17, 1807.

Telfair, Thomas, a Representative from Georgia; born in Savannah, Ga., about 1780; was graduated from Princeton college in 1805; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Savannah, Ga.; elected to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); died in Savannah, Ga., April 2, 1818.

Teller, Henry Moore, a Senator from Colorado; born in Granger, Allegany county, N. Y., May 23, 1830; attended Rushford academy and Alfred university; taught school; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Binghamton, N. Y., in 1858; moved to Illinois in 1858, and to Colorado in 1861; major general of Colorado militia, 1862-1864; upon the admission of Colorado as a state was elected as a Republican to the United States Senate and took his seat December 4, 1876; reelected December 11, 1876, and served from November 15, 1876, until his resignation, April 17, 1882; Secretary of the Interior in the cabinet of President Arthur, April 6, 1882-March 4, 1885; again elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1885; reelected in 1891; again elected, and as an Independent Silver Republican in 1897, and then, as a Democrat, in 1903, and served from March 4, 1885, to March 3, 1909; declined further re-nomination; member of the Monetary Commission in 1908; resumed the practice of law in Denver, Colo.

Teller, Isaac, a Representative from New York; born in Dutchess county, N. Y., in 1798; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Gilbert Dean, and served from December 4, 1854, to March 3, 1855; died in Matteawan, N. Y., April 30, 1868.

Temple, William, a Representative from Delaware; born in Queen Anne county, Md., February 28, 1814; completed preparatory studies; merchant in Smyrna, Del.; member of the state house of representatives in 1844, and served as speaker; acting governor of Delaware from May, 1846, to January, 1847; member of the state senate 1845-1854; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress, but died before the assembling of the Congress, in Smyrna, Del., May 28, 1863.

Tener, John Kinley, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in County Tyrone, Ireland, July 25, 1863; came to the United States in 1872; attended the public and high schools of Pittsburgh, Pa.; was employed by manufacturing firms and corporations in and about Pittsburgh, played professional base ball 1885-1890; in the banking business in Charleroi, Pa.; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1909, to January 16, 1911, when he resigned.

Ten Eyck, Egbert, a Representative from New York; born in Schodack, Rensselaer county, N. Y., April 18, 1779; was graduated from Williams college in 1799; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Watertown, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives 1812-1813, and served as speaker; delegate in "the state" constitutional convention in 1822; elected to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1827); judge of the Jefferson county courts; died in Watertown, N. Y., April 11, 1844.

Ten Eyck, John Conover, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Freehold, Monmouth county, N. J., March 12, 1814; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1835, and began practice in Mount Holly, N. J.; prosecuting attorney for Burlington county 1839-1849; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1844; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1859, to March 3, 1865; appointed a member of a commission to revise the New Jersey constitution April 24, 1875, and for a time was president of the commission; died in Mount Holly, N. J., August 24, 1879.

Tenney, Samuel, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Byfield, Mass., November 27, 1748; was graduated from Harvard college in 1772; taught school in Andover, Mass.; studied medicine and began practice in Exeter, N. H.; surgeon in the Revolutionary war; after the war returned to Exeter; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1788; judge of probate for Rockingham county 1793-1800; elected to the Sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William Gordon; reelected to the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Congresses, and served from December 8, 1800, to March 3, 1807; died in Exeter, N. H., February 6, 1816.

Terrell, Joseph Meriwether, a Senator from Georgia; born in Greenville, Ga., June 6, 1861; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1882, and commenced practice in Greenville, Ga.; served as a representative in the general assembly 1884-1887; member of the state senate in 1890; attorney general of Georgia 1892-1902; governor of Georgia from October, 1902, to July, 1907; resumed the practice of law in Atlanta, Ga.; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Alexander S. Clay, and served from November 17, 1910, until his resignation, July 14, 1911; resumed the practice of law in Atlanta, Ga., and died there November 17, 1912; interment in Greenville, Ga.

Terrell, William, a Representative from Georgia; born in Fairfax county, Va., about 1786; moved with his parents to Georgia; pursued classical studies; attended the Medical college of Philadelphia and commenced practice in Sparta, Ga.; served several terms in the state legislature; held various local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821); declined a renomination; died in Sparta, Ga., July 4, 1855.

Terry, Nathaniel, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Enfield, Conn., January 30, 1768; was graduated from Yale college in 1786; judge of Hartford county court 1807–1809; member of the state house of representatives twelve sessions; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); member of the state constitutional convention in 1818; mayor of Hartford, Conn., in 1830; general of the state militia; died in New Haven, Conn., June 14, 1844.

Terry, William, a Representative from Virginia; born in Amherst county, Va., August 14, 1824; was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1848; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and began practice in Wytheville, Va.; engaged in newspaper work; served in the Confederate army as a lieutenant in the fourth Virginia infantry; promoted to major in 1862; colonel in February, 1864, and was commissioned brigadier general May 20, 1864; resumed the practice of law in Wytheville; elected as a Conservative to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); reelected to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); after leaving Congress resumed the practice of law; drowned while trying to ford Reed Creek, near Wytheville, Va., September 5, 1888.

Terry, William Leake, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Anson county, N. C., September 27, 1850; moved with his parents to Tippah county, Miss., in 1857, and to Pulaski county, Ark., in 1861; attended Bingham's military academy, North Carolina, and was graduated from Trinity college, North Carolina, in June, 1872; studied law, was admitted to the bar in November, 1873, and practiced; member of the city council 1877–1879; member of the state senate 1878–1879, and served as president of the senate in the session of 1879; city attorney of Little Rock, Ark., 1879–1885; defeated for election to the Fiftieth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1901); unsuccessful candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law in Little Rock, Ark.

Test, John, a Representative from Indiana, a native of Salem, N. J.; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Brookville, Ind.; held several local offices; elected as a Clay Democrat to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1827); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twentieth Congress; reelected as a Whig to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1831); presiding judge of Indiana circuit court; moved to Mobile, Ala.; died near Cambridge City, Ind., October 9, 1849.

Thacher, Samuel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Cambridge, Mass., July 1, 1776; was graduated from Harvard college in 1793; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New Gloucester, Mass., in 1797; moved to Warren, Mass., in 1800; member of the state house of representatives 1801–1811); elected to the Seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Silas Lee; reelected to the Eighth Congress, and served from December 6, 1802, to March 3, 1805; sheriff of Lincoln county 1814–1821; again a member of the state house of representatives in 1824; moved to Bangor, Me., in 1866, and died there, July 19, 1872.

Thatcher, George, a Delegate and a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Yarmouth, Mass. (afterwards Maine), April 12, 1754; was graduated from Harvard college in 1776; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in York, Pa., in 1778; moved to Biddieford, Mass. (now Maine), in 1782; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1787–1788; elected to the First, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1801); district judge in Maine 1792–1800; judge of the supreme court of Massachusetts 1800–1820; judge of the supreme court of Maine 1800–1824; delegate in the state constitutional convention of Maine in 1819; died in Biddieford, Me., April 6, 1824.

Thayer, Andrew Jackson, a Representative from Oregon; born in Lima, N. Y., November 27, 1818; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1849, and began practice in Lima; crossed the continent in 1853, and located upon a farm near Corvallis, Oreg.; practiced law and followed agricultural pursuits; moved to Trenton, Oreg., and continued in practice; appointed by President Buchanan United States attorney for the district of Oregon March 2, 1859, and resigned after six months' service; presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Thirty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1861, to July 30, 1861, when he was succeeded by George K. Shiel, who contested his election; state district attorney for second district 1862–1864; circuit judge of the second judicial district of Oregon from 1870 until his death in Corvallis, Oreg., April 28, 1873.

Thayer, Eli, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Mendon, Mass., June 11, 1819; attended the common schools, the academies in Bellingham and Amherst, Mass., and the Worcester Manual Labor school; taught school in Douglass, Mass., 1835–1836; assisted his father in a county store in Millville 1836–1840; taught school in Hopkinton, R. I., 1842, and had charge of the boys' high school in Providence, R. I., in 1844; was graduated from Brown university in 1845, and was an instructor in Worcester academy 1845–1848; studied law, was admitted to the bar, but did not practice; founded the Oread collegiate institute, a school for young women, in 1848; member of the Worcester school board in 1852; alderman of the city 1852–1853; member of the state house of representatives 1853–1854; while in the legislature secured a charter, originated and organized the New England Emigrant Aid company, which had for its purpose the sending out of an advance colony of antislavery settlers to Kansas, which resulted in that Territory being an antislave state; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); delegate accredited from Oregon in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1860; died in Worcester, Mass., April 15, 1899.

Thayer, John Milton, a Senator from Nebraska; born in Bellingham, Mass., January 24, 1820; was graduated from Brown university in 1841; moved to Nebraska in 1854; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and commenced practice in Omaha, Nebr.; brigadier general and major general of the territorial forces operating against the Indians, 1855-1861; captured the Pawnees and placed them on reservations in 1859; member of the territorial legislature in 1860; served in the Union Army as colonel of the first Nebraska volunteer infantry, July 21, 1861; promoted to brigadier general of volunteers October 4, 1862; appointment expired March 4, 1863; brigadier general of volunteers March 13, 1863; brevetted major general of volunteers March 13, 1865, for "gallant and meritorious service during the war"; resigned July 19, 1865; returned to Omaha, Nebr.; member of the state constitutional convention in 1866; upon the admission of Nebraska as a state was elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 1, 1867, to March 3, 1871; appointed by President Grant governor of Wyoming territory February 10, 1875, and served four years; department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic of Nebraska in 1886; governor of Nebraska 1887-1891; resumed the practice of law in Lincoln, Nebr., and died there March 19, 1906.

Thayer, John R., a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Douglass, Mass., March 9, 1845; attended the common schools and Nichols academy, in Dudley, Worcester county, and was graduated from Yale college in 1869; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1871, and commenced practice in Worcester, Mass.; served in the city council 1874-1876, and as alderman 1878-1880; one of the trustees of Nichols academy for fifteen years; unsuccessful candidate for district attorney in 1876; elected a representative to the general court of Massachusetts in 1880 and 1881; unsuccessful candidate for mayor of Worcester in 1886; elected to the Massachusetts senate in 1890 and 1891; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1905); resumed the practice of law in Worcester, Mass.

Thayer, Martin Russell, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Petersburg, Va., January 27, 1819; attended the Mount Pleasant classical institute in Amherst, Mass., and Amherst college; moved with his parents to Philadelphia, Pa., in 1837; was graduated from the university of Pennsylvania in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and began practice in Philadelphia, Pa.; commissioner to revise the revenue laws of Pennsylvania in 1862; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); declined a renomination; judge of the district court of Philadelphia 1867-1874; president-judge of the court of common pleas of Philadelphia 1874 until his resignation in 1896; elected by the judges of the common pleas court prothonotary of Philadelphia; died in Philadelphia, Pa., October 14, 1906.

Theaker, Thomas Clarke, a Representative from Ohio; born in York county, Pa., February 1, 1812; completed preparatory studies; moved to Bridgeport, Ohio, in 1830; machinist and wheelwright; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; member of the board of commissioners to investigate the Patent Office; served as commissioner of patents from August 17, 1865, until June 6, 1868; died in Oakland, Md., July 16, 1883; interment in Bridgeport, Ohio.

Thibodeaux, Bannon Goforth, a Representative from Louisiana; born upon the St. Pridget plantation in the Parish of Terrebonne, La., December 22, 1812; attended the schools of Hagerstown, Md.; member of the state constitutional conventions of Louisiana in 1845 and 1852; held several local offices; elected to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); died in the parish of Terrebonne, La., March 5, 1866.

Thistlewood, Napoleon B., a Representative from Illinois; born in Kent county, Del., March 30, 1837; attended the public schools; moved to Illinois in 1858; enlisted in the Union army in 1862; commissioned by Governor Richard Yates September 24, 1864, as captain of company C, ninety-eighth Illinois infantry; served in the Army of the Cumberland, in Wilder's brigade, and with Wilson's cavalry corps, and wounded at Selma, Ala., April 2, 1865; mayor of Cairo, Ill., 1879-1883 and again 1897-1901; department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for Illinois in 1901; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of George W. Smith; reelected to the Sixty-first Congress, and served from February 26, 1908, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Thomas, Benjamin Franklin, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., February 12, 1813; moved with his parents to Worcester in 1819; was graduated from Brown university in 1830; studied law in Cambridge, Mass., was admitted to the bar in 1833, and began practice in Worcester, Mass.; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives in 1842; commissioner of bankruptcy in 1842; judge of probate 1844-1848; presidential elector on the Whig ticket in 1848; judge of the Massachusetts supreme court 1853-1859, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law; elected as a Conservative Unionist to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); engaged in the practice of law; nominated by Governor Bullock for chief justice of the supreme court of Massachusetts in 1868, but the nomination was not confirmed by the council; died in Salem, Mass., September 27, 1878.

Thomas, Charles Randolph, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Beaufort, Carteret county, N. C., February 7, 1827; was graduated from the University of North Carolina in June, 1849; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Beaufort, N. C.; moved to Newbern, N. C., and practiced; member of the state convention of North Carolina in 1861; elected secretary of state of North Carolina in 1864; judge of the superior court in April, 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1875); resumed the practice of law in Newbern, N. C., and died there February 18, 1891.

Thomas, Charles Randolph, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Beaufort, N. C., August 21, 1861; attended the Newbern academy, the Emerson institute, Washington, D. C., and was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1881; studied law with his father and in the Greensboro law school, North Carolina; was admitted to the bar in October, 1882, and commenced practice in Newbern, N. C.; member of the state house of representatives in 1887; attorney for the county of Craven 1890–1896; Democratic presidential elector in 1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1911); declined a renomination to the Sixty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law in Newbern, N. C.

Thomas, Christopher Yancy, a Representative from Virginia; born in Pittsylvania county, Va., March 24, 1818; attended the common schools and was graduated from a private academy in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1844, and began practice in Martinsville, Va.; member of the state senate 1860–1864; member of commission to settle the boundary line between Virginia and North Carolina; prosecuting attorney for Henry county; member of the state constitutional convention in 1868; elected in 1869 to the state house of representatives; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Forty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Martinsville, Va., February 11, 1879.

Thomas, David, a Representative from New York; native of Washington county, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; member of the state house of representatives 1794–1800; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1801, to May 1, 1808, when he resigned; treasurer of the state of New York 1812–1813.

Thomas, Francis, a Representative from Maryland; born in Frederick county, Md., February 3, 1799; attended St. John's college, Annapolis; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1820, and began practice in Franklinville, Md.; member of the state house of representatives in 1822, 1827, and 1829, and served the last year as speaker; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1841); president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal company 1839–1840; governor of Maryland 1841–1844; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; member of the state constitutional convention of 1850; reelected as a Union Republican to the Thirty-seventh, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1869); collector of internal revenue 1870–1872; delegate in the Loyalist convention of 1866; United States minister to Peru from March 25, 1872, to July 9, 1875; retired from public life and devoted his time to agricultural pursuits; killed by a locomotive while walking on the railroad tracks near Franklinville, Md., January 22, 1876.

Thomas, George Morgan, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Lewis county, Ky., November 23, 1828; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and practiced; elected county attorney of Lewis county as a Whig in 1854, and served four years; elected to the state legislature in 1859 and 1861; commonwealth attorney for the tenth judicial district; Republican presidential elector in 1864, 1868, and 1872; county judge in 1868; Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in 1871; again a member of the legislature in 1872 and 1873; circuit judge in the fourteenth judicial district 1874–1880; United States district attorney 1881–1885; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889); appointed solicitor of internal revenue by President McKinley; a retired resident of Vanceburg, Ky.

Thomas, Henry Franklin, a Representative from Michigan; born in Tompkins, Jackson county, Mich., December 17, 1843; attended Albion college in 1859; enlisted in the seventh Michigan cavalry as a private in 1862; promoted to first sergeant of company D, and in July, 1864, promoted to be second lieutenant; renewed his studies in the Ypsilanti normal school; was graduated from the medical department of Michigan university in 1868, and commenced practice in Constantine, St. Joseph county, Mich.; moved to Allegan, Mich., in 1870; member of the state house of representatives 1873–1874; served in the state senate 1875–1876; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1897); surgeon in the Michigan soldiers home 1907–1908; member of the Michigan pardon board 1909–1910; retired from the practice of medicine and a resident of Allegan, Mich.

Thomas, Isaac, a Representative from Tennessee; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817).

Thomas, James Houston, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Iredell county, N. C., September 22, 1808; was graduated from Columbia college, Tennessee, in 1830; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Columbia, Tenn.; attorney general of Tennessee 1836–1842; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1851); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; reelected to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1861).

Thomas, Jesse Burgess, a Delegate from the territory of Indiana and a Senator from Illinois; born in Shepherdstown, Va., in 1777; moved with his parents to Kentucky in 1779; studied law in Mason county, Ky., was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Lawrenceburg, Indiana territory, in 1803; member of the territorial legislature in 1805–1808, and served as speaker of the house; elected a Delegate from Indiana territory to the Tenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Benjamin Parke, and served from December 1, 1808, to March 3, 1809; moved to Kaskaskia and later to Edwardsville, Ill.; upon the organization of the territory was appointed judge of the United States court for the northwestern judicial district; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1818, and served as president of the body; upon the admission of Illinois as a state was elected as a Whig to the United States Senate; reelected in 1823, and served from December 3, 1818, to March 3, 1829; delegate in the Whig national convention in Harrisburg, Pa., in 1839; moved to Mount Vernon, Ohio, and died there May 3, 1853.

Thomas, John Chew, a Representative from Maryland; born in Perryville, Cecil county, Md., October 15, 1764; was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1783; moved to Anne Arundel county, Md.; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Philadelphia, Pa., December 15, 1787; elected as a Federalist to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799–March 3, 1801); died in Leipsville, Pa., May 10, 1836.

Thomas, John Lewis, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., May 20, 1835; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Baltimore, Md.; held several city and county offices; state attorney in 1863; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1863; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867); unsuccessful Republican candidate for reelection; collector of the port of Baltimore, Md.; died in Baltimore, Md., October 15, 1893.

Thomas, John Robert, a Representative from Illinois; born in Mount Vernon, Jefferson county, Ill., October 11, 1846; attended the common schools and Hunter collegiate institute, Princeton, Ind.; served in the Union army during the civil war, and rose from the rank of private to that of captain of company D, one hundred and twentieth Indiana infantry; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1869; city attorney of Metropolis, Ill., 1869–1870; served as state attorney from 1871 to 1874; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1889); United States judge in Indian Territory June 30, 1897, to June 30, 1901; elected first member of Congress from the Indian Territory under the Sequoyah Constitution, in 1905; nominated for judge of the supreme court by the first Republican state convention of Oklahoma, but declined the nomination; member of the Oklahoma State Code Commission, 1908–1910; resumed the practice of law in Muskogee, Okla.

Thomas, Lot, a Representative from Iowa; born near Markleysburg, Fayette county, Pa., October 17, 1843; attended the district school and Vermillion institute, in Hayesville, Ohio; moved to Iowa in 1868; taught school a couple of terms in New Virginia, Warren county; attended the law department of the Iowa state university in Iowa City, and was admitted to the bar; moved to Buena Vista county and located in Storm Lake in 1870, and commenced practice; judge of the fourteenth judicial district of Iowa from January, 1885, until his resignation August 26, 1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1905); died on a train near Yuma, Ariz., March 16, 1905.

Thomas, Ormsby B., a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Sandgate, Bennington county, Vt., August 21, 1832; moved with his parents to Wisconsin in 1836; attended the common schools and was graduated from the National law school of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; was admitted to the bar in Albany, N. Y., in 1856, and practiced in Prairie du Chien, Wis.; district attorney of Crawford county, Wis.; member of the state assembly in 1862, 1865, and 1867, and of the Wisconsin state senate in 1880 and 1881; Republican presidential elector in 1872; served in the Union army during the civil war as captain of company D, thirty-first regiment Wisconsin volunteer infantry; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1891); resumed the practice of law in Prairie du Chien, Wis., and died there, October 24, 1904.

Thomas, Philemon, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Orange county, Va., February 9, 1763; attended the public schools; served in the Revolutionary war; moved to Kentucky; delegate to the state constitutional convention; member of the state legislature; moved to Louisiana in 1806, and settled on the banks of the lower Mississippi river; member of the state legislature; leader of an uprising against the Spanish authorities, who exercised authority over what is now Mississippi and Louisiana in 1810–1811; major general of Louisiana militia 1814–1815, and served in that capacity in the war of 1812; settled in Baton Rouge, La.; elected to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1835); died in Baton Rouge, La., November 18, 1847.

Thomas, Philip Francis, a Representative from Maryland; born in Easton, Talbot county, Md., September 12, 1810; attended the academy in Easton, and was graduated from Dickinson college, Carlisle, Pa., in 1830; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Easton, Md.; member of the state constitutional convention in 1836; member of the state house of delegates, 1838, 1843, and 1845; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841); declined a renomination; resumed the practice of law; governor of Maryland 1848–1851; judge of the land office court of eastern Maryland; comptroller of the United States Treasury 1851–1853; collector of the port of Baltimore, Md., 1853–1860; declined the position of treasurer of the United States tendered him by President Buchanan; United States commissioner of patents from February 16 to December 10, 1860; Secretary of the Treasury of the United States from December 10, 1860, to January 11, 1861; reelected to the state house of delegates in 1866; presented credentials as a Senator-elect to the United States Senate, but, on February 19, 1868, was refused a seat on the ground of "having given aid and comfort to the rebellion"; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); again elected a representative to the Maryland legislature in 1878; resumed the practice of law in Easton, Md., and died there October 2, 1890.

Thomas, Richard, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in West Whiteland, Pa., December 30, 1744; attended the common schools; served in the Revolutionary army and commanded the fifth battalion Chester county militia of the Flying Camp; elected to the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Congresses (March 4, 1795–March 3, 1801); died in Philadelphia, Pa., January 19, 1832.

Thomas, Robert Young, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Logan county, Ky., July 13, 1856; attended the common schools and was graduated from Bethel college, Russellville, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice; member of the state legislature in 1886; served as commonwealth's attorney for the seventh judicial district; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Thomas, William Aubrey, a Representative from Ohio; born in Wales June 7, 1866; attended the public schools of Niles and Mount Union college, Alliance, Ohio, and later Rensselaer polytechnic institute, Troy, N. Y.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles Dick; reelected to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses, and served from December 5, 1904, to March 3, 1911; engaged in the manufacture of iron in Niles, Ohio.

Thomasson, William Poindexter, a Representative from Kentucky; born in New Castle, Henry county, Ky., October 8, 1797; completed preparatory studies; served in Captain Duncan's company in the War of 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Corydon, Ind.; served in the Indiana state legislature; prosecuting attorney of Corydon in 1818; in 1841 moved to Louisville, Ky.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); declined a renomination; moved to Chicago, Ill., and resumed the practice of law; served in the Union army in the seventy-first regiment of New York volunteer infantry; died in Lagrange county, Ky., December 22, 1882.

Thompson, Albert Clifton, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Brookville, Jefferson county, Pa., January 23, 1842; attended the common schools and Jefferson college, Cannonsburg, Pa.; served in the Union army during the civil war as second lieutenant of company B, one hundred and fifth Pennsylvania volunteer infantry; promoted to captain of company K, in the same regiment, November 28, 1861, and served until March 23, 1863, when he was discharged for wounds received in battle; studied law, and was admitted to the bar December 13, 1864, and commenced practice in Portsmouth, Ohio, in 1865; elected probate judge of Scioto county, Ohio, in October, 1869; elected common pleas judge of the seventh judicial district of Ohio in October, 1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1891); after leaving Congress resumed the practice of law; appointed by President McKinley chairman of the commission to revise and codify the criminal and penal laws of the United States June 21, 1897; appointed United States judge for the southern district of Ohio September 13, 1898; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, January 26, 1910.

Thompson, Benjamin, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Charlestown, Mass., August 5, 1798; attended the public schools; merchant; member of the state house of representatives 1830–1831 and 1833–1836; served in the state senate in 1841; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847); declined a renomination; reelected to the Thirty-second Congress and served from March 4, 1851, until his death in Charlestown, Mass., September 24, 1852.

Thompson, Charles Perkins, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Braintree, Mass., July 30, 1827; attended the public schools and the Hollis institute of Braintree; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and began practice in Gloucester, Mass., in 1857; United States assistant district attorney 1855–1857; member of the state house of representatives in 1871 and 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Forty-fifth Congress; city solicitor of Gloucester, Mass., in 1874, 1875, 1877, 1879; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor of Massachusetts in 1880 and in 1881; judge of the superior court of Massachusetts 1885–1894; died in Gloucester, Mass., January 19, 1894.

Thompson, Charles Winston, a Representative from Alabama; born in Macon county, near Tuskegee, Ala., December 30, 1860; attended the common schools, the Park High School in Tuskegee, Ala., and was graduated from Bryant & Stratton's Business College, Louisville, Ky., in 1878; engaged in the mercantile business; appointed by Governor Joseph F. Johnston in 1896 a member of his staff as lieutenant colonel and served in that capacity until the end of his term; president of the bank of Tuskegee, Ala.; county superintendent of education for Macon county from 1886 to 1888; member of the senate of Alabama in 1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses and served from March 4, 1901, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 20, 1904.

Thompson, Fountain L., a Senator from North Dakota; born near Scottsville, Ill., November 18, 1854; moved to Girard, Ill., in 1865, where he resided until 1888; attended grammar and high schools in Girard, Ill.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, but did not practice; member of the board of supervisors of Macoupin county; entered mercantile business in 1872; moved to a farm near Cando, Towner county, N. D., in 1888; delegate in the first Democratic county convention that assembled after statehood, and was chosen chairman; county judge for eight years; in 1891 he engaged in the real estate and loan business in Cando, and later established the Thompson realty company, of which company he was president; vice-president of the First National bank of Cando, and president of the First National bank of Rocklake; interested in farming; school director six years, alderman of Cando four years, and mayor two years; appointed as a Democrat United States Senator to fill vacancy caused by the death of Martin N. Johnson, and served from November 10, 1909, to January 31, 1910, when he resigned.

Thompson, George Western, a Representative from Virginia; born in St. Clairsville, Ohio, May 14, 1806; was graduated from Jefferson college in 1824; studied law in Richmond, Va., was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in St. Clairsville, Ohio; moved to western Virginia; appointed United States attorney for the district of Virginia in 1849; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress and served from March 4, 1851, until his resignation, July 30, 1852; judge of the circuit court of Virginia; retired from the practice of law and resided on his estate near Wheeling, W. Va., until his death February 24, 1888.

Thompson, Hedge, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Salem, N. J., in 1779; elected to the Twentieth Congress and served from March 4, 1827, until his death in Salem, N. J., July 23, 1828.

Thompson, Jacob, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Leasburg, Caswell county, N. C., May 15, 1810; was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1831; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1834, and in 1835 began practice in Chickasaw county, Miss.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1851); declined a renomination; declined an appointment to the United States Senate tendered by Governor Brown in 1845; Secretary of the Interior under President Buchanan from March 6, 1857, until he resigned, January 8, 1861; served as inspector-general in the Confederate army; governor of Mississippi 1862–1864; confidential agent of the Confederacy to Canada 1864–1865; died in Memphis, Tenn., March 24, 1885.

Thompson, James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Middlesex, Butler county, Pa., October 1, 1806; completed preparatory studies; learned the printer's trade; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and began practice in Erie, Pa.; member of the state house of representatives 1832–1834, and served as speaker in 1834; presidential elector on the Van Buren ticket in 1836; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1838; presiding judge of the sixth judicial district court 1838–1844; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1851); resumed the practice of law; again a member of the state house of representatives in 1855; declined further renomination; judge of the supreme court of Pennsylvania 1857–1866; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; chief justice of the supreme court of Pennsylvania 1866–1872; resumed the practice of law in Philadelphia, Pa., and died there January 28, 1874.

Thompson, Joel, a Representative from New York; born in Stanford, Dutchess county, N. Y., October 3, 1760; attended the common schools in Smyrna, N. Y., and was graduated from Union College; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served several years in the state assembly; served in the Revolutionary War; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815); died in Brooklyn, N. Y., February 8, 1843.

Thompson, John, a Representative from New York; native of Stillwater, N. Y.; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799–March 3, 1801); again elected to the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1811).

Thompson, John, a Representative from New York; born in Rhinebeck, N. Y., July 4, 1809; was graduated from Union and Yale colleges; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); died in New Hamburg, N. Y., June 1, 1890.

Thompson, John Burton, a Representative and a Senator from Kentucky; born near Harrodsburg, Ky., December 14, 1810; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Harrodsburg, Ky.; served as commonwealth's attorney; member of the state legislature in 1835 and 1836; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Simeon H. Anderson; reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress and served from December 7, 1840, to March 3, 1843; again elected to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1851); lieutenant governor of Kentucky 1852; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1853, to March 3, 1859; died in Harrodsburg, Ky., January 7, 1874.

Thompson, John McCandless, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Butler county, Pa., January 4, 1829; attended the common schools and Witherspoon institute; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and began practice in Butler, Pa.; member of the state house of representatives 1859–1860 and served one year as speaker; entered the Union army during the civil war and served as major and subsequently as lieutenant colonel of the one hundred and thirty-fourth regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Ebenezer McCunkin and served from January 5, 1875, to March 3, 1875; reelected to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); died in Butler, Pa., September 3, 1903.

Thompson, Mark, a Representative from New Jersey; elected to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1795–March 3, 1799).

Thompson, Philip, a Representative from Kentucky; a native of that state; received a limited education; held several local offices; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825); died February 20, 1829.

Thompson, Philip Burton, jr., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Harrodsburg, Ky., October 15, 1845; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Harrodsburg; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1885); located in Washington, D. C., and died there, December 15, 1909.

Thompson, Philip Rootes, a Representative from Virginia; born in Culpeper county, Va., March 26, 1766; member of the state house of delegates 1793–1797; elected to the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1801–March 3, 1807); died in Kanawha county, Va., July 27, 1837.

Thompson, Richard Wigginton, a Representative from Indiana; born in Culpeper county, Va., June 9, 1809; pursued classical studies; moved to Louisville, Ky., in 1831; clerk in a store; moved to Lawrence county, Ind.; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1834, and began practice in Bedford, Ind.; member of the state house of representatives 1834-1836; served in the state senate 1836-1838 and served for a short time as president pro tempore; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; presidential elector in 1840 on the Harrison and Tyler ticket; reelected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); declined a renomination; declined the office of Austrian minister tendered him by President Taylor, the office of Recorder of the General Land Office tendered by President Fillmore, and a seat on the bench of the Court of Claims tendered by President Lincoln; presidential elector on the Lincoln and Johnson ticket in 1864; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1868 and in Cincinnati in 1876; judge of the fifth Indiana circuit court 1867-1869; Secretary of the Navy under President Hayes from March 12, 1877, until his resignation, December 21, 1880; chairman of the American Committee of the Panama Canal Company; director of the Panama Railroad Company; died in Terre Haute, Ind., February 9, 1900.

Thompson, Robert A., a Representative from Virginia; born in Kanawha, Va. (now West Virginia); completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-first Congress; moved to California and appointed state land commissioner.

Thompson, Thomas Larkin, a Representative from California; born in Charleston, W. Va., May 31, 1838; attended the common schools; moved to California in 1854 and engaged in the printing business; purchased the Sonoma Democrat in 1860 and was the editor of that paper; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Cincinnati in 1880; secretary of state of California 1882-1886; declined a renomination; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); appointed World's fair commissioner, April 4, 1891; appointed United States minister to Brazil 1893; died in Santa Rosa, Cal., February 1, 1898.

Thompson, Thomas Weston, a Representative and a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Boston, Mass., March 15, 1766; was graduated from Harvard college in 1786; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Salisbury, Mass., 1791-1810; postmaster of Salisbury, N. H., 1798-1803; moved to Concord, N. H., in 1810 and practiced; member of the state house of representatives in 1807, 1808, 1813, and 1814, and served as speaker in 1813 and 1814; elected to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1807); state treasurer of New Hampshire 1809-1811; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Nicholas Gilman, and served from June 24, 1814, to March 3, 1817; trustee of Dartmouth college 1801-1821; died in Concord, N. H., October 1, 1821.

Thompson, Waddy, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Pickensville, S. C., September 8, 1798; was graduated from South Carolina college in 1814; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1819, and practiced; member of the state legislature 1826-1830; solicitor of the western circuit; presidential elector on the Floyd ticket in 1833; brigadier general of militia 1832; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1841); United States minister to Mexico 1842-1844; moved to Madison, Fla., and engaged in cotton raising; appointed solicitor general of a circuit in 1868; died in Tallahassee, Fla., November 23, 1868.

Thompson, Wiley, a Representative from Georgia; born in Amelia county, Va., September 23, 1781; moved to Elberton, Ga.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1833); died in Fort King, Fla., December 28, 1835; interment in Elberton, Ga.

Thompson, William, a Representative from Iowa; born in Pennsylvania in 1813; attended the common schools; moved to Iowa and located in Mount Pleasant; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Thirty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1849, till June 29, 1850, when he was succeeded by Jesse D. Brown, who contested his election; served in the Union army during the Civil war as captain, first Iowa cavalry, July 31, 1861; major, May 18, 1863; colonel, June 20, 1864; brevet brigadier general volunteers, March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service"; honorably mustered out March 15, 1866; recommissioned captain, seventh cavalry, July 28, 1866; brevet major, March 2, 1867, "for gallant and meritorious service in action at Prairie Grove, Ark."; lieutenant colonel, March 2, 1867, "for gallant and meritorious service in action at Bayou Metoe, Ark."; retired December 15, 1875; died October 7, 1897.

Thompson, William George, a Representative from Iowa; born in Butler county, Pa., January 17, 1830; attended the common schools and the Witherspoon institute in Butler, Pa.; studied law in Butler, Pa., was admitted to the bar, October 15, 1853, and practiced; emigrated to Iowa in 1853 and located in Marion; prosecuting attorney of Linn county 1854-1856; member of the state senate 1856-1860; served during the Civil war as major of the twentieth Iowa volunteer infantry in 1862; presidential elector at large in 1864; district attorney for the eighth judicial district; chief justice of the supreme court of Idaho from January 13, 1879, and until he resigned in April, 1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Rush Clark; reelected to the Forty-seventh Congress, and served from December 1, 1879, to March 3, 1883; member of the state house of representatives in 1885; judge of the eighteenth judicial district of Iowa January, 1894-1906; died in Kenwood Park, Iowa, April 2, 1911.

Thomson, Alexander, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Franklin county, Pa., January 12, 1788; apprenticed as a sickle maker; moved to Bedford, Pa.; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Chambersburg, Pa.; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Eighteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Todd; reelected to the Nineteenth Congress, and served from December 6, 1824, to May 1, 1826, when he resigned; mayor of Lancaster, Pa.; president judge of the sixteenth judicial district until 1838; professor in the law school of Marshall college, Lancaster, Pa.; died in Chambersburg, Pa., August 2, 1848.

Thomson, John, a Representative from Ohio; was born in Ireland November 20, 1780; emigrated, with his parents, to America in 1781; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and moved to New Lisbon, Ohio, where he practiced; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1827); reelected to the Twenty-first, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1837); died in New Lisbon, Ohio, December 2, 1852.

Thomson John Renshaw, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Philadelphia, Pa., September 25, 1800; attended Princeton college, but left in the junior year to engage in mercantile pursuits; went to China in 1817, and became a merchant in Canton in 1820; United States consul at that port 1823–1825; returned home and resided in Princeton, N. J.; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1844; director and secretary in the Delaware and Raritan canal company; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert F. Stockton; reelected in 1857 and served from March 4, 1853, until his death in Princeton, N. J., September 12, 1862.

Thorington, James, a Representative from Iowa; born in North Carolina in 1816; was graduated from the University of Alabama; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Davenport, Iowa; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); United States consul to Aspinwall 1871–1883; died in Santa Fe, N. Mex., June 13, 1887.

Thornburgh, Jacob Montgomery, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Newmarket, Tenn., July 3, 1837; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Knoxville, Tenn., in May, 1862; entered the Union army as a private and promoted until he became colonel of the fourth Tennessee cavalry in June 1863; returned to Jefferson county, Tenn., and practiced law; moved to Knoxville, Tenn., in 1867; appointed attorney general of the third judicial circuit of Tennessee and elected in 1869 and 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1879); retired from public life and resumed the practice of law in Knoxville, Tenn., and died there September 19, 1890.

Thornton, Anthony, a Representative from Illinois; born in Bourbon county, Ky., November 9, 1814; was graduated from Miami University, Ohio; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Shelbyville, Ill.; delegate to the state constitutional conventions in 1847 and 1862; member of the state legislature in 1850; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867); elected justice of the supreme court of Illinois, 1870; president of the state bar association; died in Shelbyville, Ill., September 10, 1904.

Thornton, John Randolph, a Senator from Louisiana; born in Iberville Parish, La., August 25, 1846; moved with his parents to Rapides Parish, La., in 1853; attended the state university until 1863, when he volunteered in the Confederate army and served until the close of the Civil War; engaged in agricultural pursuits until 1877; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice; judge of Rapides Parish 1878–1880; member of the state constitutional convention in 1898; member of the board of supervisors of the state university; one of the three Louisiana commissioners to conference on uniform laws for the United States and vice-president of that body; appointed, and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Samuel D. McEnery, and took his seat December 12, 1910, for the term ending March 3, 1915.

Thornton, Matthew, a Delegate from New Hampshire; born in Ireland in 1714; emigrated with his father to the United States and settled in Wiscasset, Me.; moved to Worcester, Mass.; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and practiced in Londonderry, N. H.; colonel of the state militia during the Revolutionary War; justice of the peace; delegate to the provincial convention 1775 and served as its president; speaker of the general assembly from January 5, to September 12, 1776; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1776–1778; signer of the Declaration of Independence; chief justice of the court of common pleas; judge of the superior court of New Hampshire 1776–1782; moved to Exeter, N. H., in 1779; member of the general assembly in 1783; served in the state senate in 1784; state councillor in 1785; died in Newburyport, Mass., June 24, 1803.

Thorp, Robert Taylor, a Representative from Virginia; born in Granville county, N. C., March 12, 1850; attended Horner academy, Oxford, N. C., and was graduated from the law department of the university of Virginia in 1870, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Boynton, Mecklenburg county, in 1871; commonwealth attorney for that county 1877–1895; successfully contested as a Republican the election of William R. McKenney to the Fifty-fourth Congress and served from May 2, 1896, to March 3, 1897; successfully contested the election of Sydney P. Epes to the Fifty-fifth Congress and served from March 23, 1898, to March 4, 1899; resumed the practice of law in Norfolk, Va.

Throckmorton, James Webb, a Representative from Texas; born in Sparta, Tenn., February 1, 1825; attended the common schools; emigrated with his father to Collin county, Texas, in 1841; studied medicine in Princeton, Ky., and practiced in Collin county, served as a surgeon during the Mexican war; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state legislature 1851–1856; presidential elector on the Scott ticket in 1852; member of the state senate 1856–1861; member of the secession convention of Texas; served as captain and major in the Confederate army from the spring of 1861 until November, 1863; again elected to the state senate in 1865; brigadier general of state troops in 1864 and commander on the northwest border of the state; delegate to the reconstruction convention under President Johnson's proclamation and chosen the presiding officer of that body; elected governor of Texas and was inaugurated August 8, 1866; removed by order of General Sheridan August 9, 1867; resumed the practice of law in Collin county, Texas; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); reelected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); presidential elector at large on the Hancock and English ticket in 1880; unsuccessful candidate for United States Senator in 1881; died in McKinney, Tex., April 21, 1894.

Throop, Enos Thompson, a Representative from New York; born in Johnstown, Montgomery county, N. Y., August 21, 1784; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1806, and began practice in Auburn, N. Y.; clerk of Cayuga county; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress and served from March 4, 1815, until his resignation in June, 1816; circuit judge of New York 1823–1827; elected lieutenant governor of New York in 1828 and became governor when Martin Van Buren was made Secretary of State of the United States March 12, 1829; elected governor of New York 1830–1833; naval officer of the port of New York 1833–1838; United States minister to Naples 1838–1842; resided in Kalamazoo, Mich., 1847–1867; returned to his estate, "Willowbrook," near Auburn, N. Y., and died there November 1, 1874.

Thropp, Joseph Earlston, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Valley Forge, Chester county, Pa.; attended the public schools, Friends Central high school, Philadelphia, Pa., and was graduated as a civil engineer from the Polytechnic College of Pennsylvania in 1868; engaged in his profession in Minnesota, reaching the rank of division engineer; entered the iron business in 1870 in Everett, Pa.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901).

Thruston, Buckner, a Senator from Kentucky; born near Winchester, Gloucester county, Va., February 9, 1764; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from William and Mary college in Williamsburg, Va.; elected a member of the state legislature in 1788–1790; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Lexington, Ky.; elected clerk of the first state senate that convened in Kentucky; one of three commissioners to settle boundary disputes between Kentucky and Virginia; one of the district judges of Kentucky for more than seven years; appointed United States judge of the court of the Territory of Orleans, but declined, having been elected Senator; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1805, to December 18, 1809, when he resigned; judge of the United States circuit court for the District of Columbia until his death in Washington, D. C., August 30, 1845.

Thurman, Allen Granberry, a Representative and a Senator from Ohio; born in Lynchburg, Va., November 13, 1813; moved with his father to Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1819; attended the Chillicothe academy; private secretary to Governor Robert Lucas in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1835, and practiced in Ross county, Ohio; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847); declined a renomination and resumed the practice of law; associate justice of the supreme court of Ohio in 1851–1854; chief justice of that court 1854–1856; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio in 1867; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1874 and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1881; member of the electoral commission of 1876; unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the United States Senate in 1881; resumed the practice of law in Columbus, Ohio; delegate to the Democratic national conventions in 1876, 1880, and 1884; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Vice-President of the United States in 1888; died in Columbus, Ohio, December 12, 1895.

Thurman, John R., a Representative from New York; a native of New York City; was graduated from Columbia College in 1835; moved to Warren county, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); died in Chestertown, N. Y., in 1857.

Thurston, Benjamin Babock, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Hopkinton, R. I., June 29, 1804; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the state house of representatives; presidential elector on the Van Buren ticket in 1837; lieutenant governor of Rhode Island in 1838; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; reelected to the Thirty-second, Thirty-third, and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1857); after leaving Congress moved to New London, Conn., and died there May 17, 1886.

Thurston, John Mellen, a Senator from Nebraska; born in Montpelier, Vt., August 21, 1847; moved with his parents to Madison, Wis., in 1854, and two years later to Beaver Dam, Wis.; attended the public schools and was graduated from Wayland university, Beaver Dam, Wis.; studied law; was admitted to the bar May 21, 1869, and commenced practice in Omaha, Nebr.; member of the city council 1872–1874; city attorney of Omaha 1874–1877; member of the Nebraska legislature 1875–1877; presidential elector on the Garfield and Arthur ticket in 1880; member of the Republican national convention in 1884 and 1900; temporary chairman of the Republican national convention in 1888; assistant attorney for the Union Pacific railway company in 1877, and in February, 1888, appointed general solicitor; unsuccessful Republican candidate for United States Senator in 1893; elected, as a Republican, January 15, 1895, to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1895, to March 3, 1901; chairman of the Republican national convention in St. Louis, Mo., in 1896; appointed United States commissioner to the St. Louis Exposition March 6, 1901; moved to Washington, D. C., and engaged in the practice of law.

Thurston, Samuel Royal, a Delegate from Oregon Territory; born in Monmouth, Me.; April 17, 1816; attended Wesleyan seminary, Readfield, Me., Dartmouth college, and was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Brunswick, Me.; moved to Burlington, Iowa, in 1845, and practiced; editor of the Iowa Gazette; moved to Oregon City, Oreg., in 1849 and engaged in the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); died at sea on his way home from Washington April 9, 1851, and was buried in Acapulco, Mexico; final interment in Salem, Oreg.

Tibbatts, John Woolister, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Lexington, Ky., June 12, 1802; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Newport, Ky.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); served in the Mexican war as colonel; died in Newport, Ky., July 5, 1852.

Tibbitts, George, a Representative from New York; born in Warwick, R. I., January 14, 1763; pursued classical studies; engaged in business in Lansingburg, N. Y., in 1784; moved to Troy, N. Y., in 1797; member of the state legislature in 1800; elected as a Federalist to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1805); member of the state senate 1815–1818; unsuccessful Federalist candidate for lieutenant governor of New York in 1816; member of the commission on state prisons which reported in favor of the Auburn system in 1824; member of the commission which had charge of the construction of Sing Sing prison; mayor of Troy, N. Y., 1830–1836; died in Troy, N. Y., July 19, 1849.

Tichenor, Isaac, a Senator from Vermont; born in Newark, N. J., February 8, 1754; was graduated from Princeton college in 1775; studied law in Schenectady, N. Y.; appointed assistant commissary general, in 1777, and was stationed in Bennington, Vt.; was admitted to the bar and began practice; member of the state house of representatives 1781–1784; state councillor 1787–1792; one of the commissioners to settle the boundary question with New York 1789; member of the state board of censors in 1792–1813; associate judge of the state supreme court 1791–1794, and its chief justice, 1795–1796; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Moses Robinson, and served from October 18, 1796, to October 17, 1797, when he resigned; governor of Vermont 1797–1807, and 1808–1809; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1815, to March 3, 1821; died in Bennington, Vt., December 11, 1838.

Tiffin, Edward, a Senator from Ohio; born in Carlisle, England, June 19, 1766; attended the common schools; studied medicine; came to the United States in 1784 and located in Charlestown, Va.; attended lectures in the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1789; preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church in 1790; moved to Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1796, and continued to preach and practice medicine; member of the territorial house of representatives in 1799 and again in 1809–1811, and served as speaker; president of the convention that formed the constitution of Ohio in 1802; elected first governor of the state in 1803 and reelected in 1805; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1807, to March 3, 1809, when he resigned; elected to the state legislature in 1809 and served as speaker; resumed the medical profession in Chillicothe, Ohio; appointed by President Madison the first commissioner of the general land office 1812–1814; with the consent of the President and the Senate exchanged offices with Josiah Meigs and became surveyor general of the Northwest Territory, which position he held until removed by President Jackson July 1, 1829; died in Chillicothe, Ohio, August 9, 1829.

Tift, Nelson, a Representative from Georgia; born in Groton, Conn., in 1810; moved to Charleston, S. C., in 1826 and engaged in mercantile business; moved to south Georgia in 1835; founder of the city of Albany, Ga.; served as justice of the peace, judge of the inferior court, and colonel of militia; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress, and served from July 25, 1868, to March 3, 1869; claimed election to the Forty-first Congress under the same credentials presented in the previous Congress, but the House by resolution of January 28, 1870, declared that he was not entitled to his seat; contested the election of Richard H. Whitley to the Forty-first Congress, but no action was taken thereon; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1877; died in Albany, Ga., November 21, 1891.

Tilden, Daniel R., a Representative from Ohio; a native of Connecticut; attended the public schools; moved to Ravenna, Ohio; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847).

Tilghman, Matthew, a Delegate from Maryland; born on the "Hermitage," Queen Anne county, Md., February 17, 1718; completed preparatory studies; justice of the peace for Talbot county; delegate in the general assembly of Maryland 1751–1777, and served as speaker of the house of delegates 1773–1775; president of the revolutionary convention that directed the affairs of the colony 1774–1777; member of the committee appointed to draw up the protest against the stamp act; chairman of the committee on correspondence 1774; chairman of the committee on safety 1775; sat in the Continental Congress 1774–1777; president of the state constitutional convention in Annapolis in 1776, and it was during his absence that the Declaration of Independence was adopted and signed; resigned his seat in Congress and was elected a member of the state senate in 1777; reelected, but resigned before the expiration of his term; died at the estate "Hermitage," in Queen Anne county, Md., May 4, 1790.

Tillinghast, Joseph Leonard, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Taunton, Mass., in 1791; moved to Rhode Island and pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1811, and began practice in Providence, R. I.; member of the state house of representatives and served as speaker several terms; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1843); trustee of Brown university 1833–1844; died in Providence, R. I., December 30, 1844.

Tillinghast, Thomas, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in East Greenwich, R. I.,

August 21, 1742; completed preparatory studies; member of the state house of representatives 1772-1773; held several offices under Revolutionary authorities; again a member of the state house of representatives 1778-1780; judge of the court of common pleas in 1779; member of the council of war; associate justice of the state supreme court 1780-1797; elected to the Fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Elisha R. Potter, and served from November 13, 1797, to March 3, 1799; reelected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803) died in East Greenwich, R. I., August 26, 1821.

Tillman, Benjamin Ryan, a Senator from South Carolina; born in Edgefield county, S. C., August 11, 1847; pursued an academic course; left school in July, 1864, to join the Confederate army, but was stricken with a severe illness. engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected governor of South Carolina in November, 1890, and reelected in 1892; founded the Clemson Agricultural college, Fort Hill, S. C., in 1893; established the Winthrop Normal and Industrial college for women in Rock Hill, S. C.; member of the state constitutional convention in 1895; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1894 and took his seat March 4, 1895; reelected in 1901 and again in 1907 for the term ending March 3, 1913; nominated at a primary election for the term beginning March 4, 1913.

Tillman, George Dionysius, a Representative from South Carolina; born near Curryton, Edgefield county, S. C., August 21, 1826; pursued an academic course in Penfield, Ga., and in Greenwood, S. C., and attended Harvard university, but did not graduate; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1848, and practiced in Edgefield, S. C.; member of the state house of representatives 1854-1855; volunteered during the Civil war and served in the third regiment of South Carolina state troops in 1862, and shortly after its disbandment entered the second regiment of South Carolina artillery, and served until the close of the war; again a member of the state house of representatives in 1864; member of the state constitutional convention in 1865, held under the reconstruction proclamation of President Johnson; served in the state senate in 1865; unsuccessful Democratic candidate to the Forty-fifth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Forty-seventh Congress and served from March 4, 1881, until July 19, 1882, when he was succeeded by Robert Smalls, who contested his election; reelected to the Forty-eighth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1893); member of the state constitutional convention in 1895; died in Clarks Hill, S. C., February 2, 1902.

Tillman, Lewis, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Bedford county, Tenn., August 18, 1816; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; served in the Seminole war as a private; clerk of the circuit court 1852-1860; served as a private in the Civil war; editor of a newspaper in Shelbyville, Tenn.; clerk of the chancery court; colonel of state militia before the war; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); died in Shelbyville, Bedford county, Tenn., May 3, 1886.

Tilson, John Quillin, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Clearbranch, Tenn., April 5, 1866; attended public and private schools and was graduated from Yale law school in 1893; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in New Haven, Conn.; enlisted as a volunteer for the war with Spain and served as second lieutenant in the sixth United States volunteer infantry; major in the second regiment infantry, Connecticut national guard; member of the state general assembly 1904-1908, and served as speaker in 1907; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Tilton, James, a Delegate from Delaware; born in Kent county, Del., June 1, 1745; attended Nottingham academy, Md., and was graduated from the medical department of the university of Pennsylvania in 1771, and began practice in Dover, Del.; entered the Revolutionary army as surgeon, and in 1777 was in charge of the military hospital in Princeton, N. J.; after peace was declared he resumed the practice of his profession in Dover, Del.; sat in the Continental Congress 1783-1785; moved to Wilmington, Del.; government commissioner of loans 1785-1801; served several years as a member of the state house of representatives; Surgeon General of the United States army 1813-1815; died near Wilmington, Del., May 14, 1822; interment in the Wilmington and Brandywine cemetery.

Tipton, John, a Senator from Indiana; born in Sevier county, Tenn., August 14, 1786; received a limited schooling; moved to Harrison county, Ind., in 1807; served with the "Yellow Jackets" in the Tippecanoe campaign, and attained the rank of brigadier general of militia; sheriff of Harrison county, Ind., 1815-1819; member of the committee to locate the state capitol in 1821; served in the state house of representatives 1819-1823; one of the commissioners to select a site for a new capital for Indiana in 1820; commissioner to determine boundary line between Indiana and Illinois; appointed U. S. Indian agent for the Pottawatamie and Miami tribes in March, 1823; laid out the city of Logansport, Ind., April 10, 1828; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of James Noble; reelected in 1833, and served from January 3, 1832, until March 3, 1839; died in Logansport, Ind., April 5, 1839.

Tipton, Thomas Foster, a Representative from Illinois; born in Franklin county, Ohio, August 29, 1833; moved to McLean county, Ill., in 1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice; state attorney for the eighth judicial district of Illinois 1867-1868; elected circuit judge of the eighth judicial circuit in 1870, and on the reorganization elected circuit judge of the fourteenth judicial circuit; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); died in Bloomington, Ill., February 7, 1904.

Tipton, Thomas Warren, a Senator from Nebraska; born in Cadiz, Ohio, August 5, 1817; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Madison college, Pennsylvania; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served in the state legislature in 1845; moved to Brownsville, Nebr.; member of the state constitutional convention in 1867; member of the territorial council of Nebraska in 1860; studied theology; chaplain in the Union army during the civil war; upon the admission of Nebraska as a state was elected to the United States Senate; reelected in 1869, and served from March 4, 1867, until March 3, 1875; resumed the practice of law; died in Washington, D. C., November 26, 1899.

Tirrell, Charles Quincy, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Sharon, Mass., December 10, 1844; attended the common schools and was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1866; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1870 in Boston, Mass.; elected to the general court of Massachusetts from Weymouth in 1872; member of the state senate 1881 and 1882; Republican presidential elector in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1901, until his death in Natick, Mass., July 31, 1910.

Titus, Obadiah, a Representative from New York; born in Dutchess county, N. Y., January 20, 1789; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Millbrook, N. Y.; elected county judge; sheriff of Dutchess county, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); died in Dutchess county, N. Y., September 22, 1859.

Todd, Albert May, a Representative from Michigan; born near Nottaway, St. Joseph county, Mich., June 3, 1850; attended the district school, and was graduated from the Sturgis high school; studied some time at the Northwestern university; engaged in growing and distilling of essential oils; elected as a Fusion candidate to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1899); resides in Kalamazoo, Mich.; president of Society of Chemical Industry; trustee of Kalamazoo college.

Todd, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Hartford, Conn., in 1779; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected to the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1821, until 1824, when he resigned; president judge of the court of common pleas for the sixteenth judicial district; associate judge of the state supreme court; died in Bedford, Pa., April 4, 1830.

Todd, John Blair Smith, a Delegate from Dakota Territory; born in Lexington, Ky., April 4, 1814; moved with his parents to Illinois in 1827; was graduated from the United States military academy in 1837; commissioned second lieutenant in the sixth infantry July 1, 1837; first lieutenant December 10, 1837, and captain November 8, 1843; served in the Florida war 1837–1842, and the war with Mexico; resigned, September 16, 1856, and became an Indian trader; settled in Fort Randall, Dakota Territory; elected to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); successfully contested the election of William Jayne to the Thirty-eighth Congress and served from June 17, 1864, to March 3, 1865; appointed brigadier general of volunteers in the Union army, September 19, 1861; appointment expired July 17, 1862; served as speaker of the Dakota house of representatives 1867; governor of Dakota Territory 1869–1871; died in Yankton, Dakota Territory, January 5, 1872.

Todd, Lemuel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Carlisle, Pa., July 29, 1817; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Dickinson college; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1841; elected to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); unsuccessful Union candidate for reelection; served in the Union army; reelected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); died in Carlisle, Pa., May 12, 1891.

Toland, George Washington, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., February 8, 1796; attended the common schools; was graduated from Princeton college in 1816; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1843); died in Philadelphia, Pa., January 30, 1869.

Tomkins, Caleb, a Representative from New York; born in Westchester county, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives 1804–1806; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1821).

Tomkins, Christopher, a Representative from Kentucky; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1835); died in Glasgow, Ky., in 1845.

Tomlinson, Gideon, a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Stratford, Conn., December 31, 1780; was graduated from Yale college in 1802; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Fairfield, Conn.; elected to the Sixteenth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1827); governor of Connecticut 1827–1831, when he resigned; trustee of Trinity college 1832–1836; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1831, to March 3, 1837; died in Fairfield, Conn., October 8, 1854.

Tomlinson, Thomas A., a Representative from New York; a native of New York; received a limited education; member of the state assembly 1835–1836; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); died in Keeseville, N. Y., June 18, 1872.

Tompkins, Arthur Sidney, a Representative from New York; born in Schoharie county, N. Y., August 26, 1865; attended the public schools of Clarkstown and Nyack until 1878; studied law in Nyack and Tarrytown, was admitted to the bar in 1886, and practiced; police justice of Nyack, N. Y., 1887–1889; served in the state assembly in 1890; county judge of Rockland county 1893–1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1903); elected justice of the supreme court of New York in 1906 for a term of fourteen years.

Tompkins, Cydnor Bailey, a Representative from Ohio; born in Belmont county, Ohio, November 8, 1810; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from the Ohio university, Athens, Ohio; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in McConnellsville, Ohio; member of the Republican state convention of 1855; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); died in McConnellsville, Ohio, July 22, 1862.

Tompkins, Daniel D., a Representative from New York; born in Scarsdale, Westchester county, N. Y., June 21, 1774; was graduated from Columbia college in 1795; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1797 began practice in New York City; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1801; member of the state assembly in 1803; elected as a Democrat to the Ninth Congress and served from March 4, 1805, until his resignation before the assembling of the Congress, July 2, 1805; associate justice of the state supreme court 1804–1807; governor of New York 1808–1813; declined the position of secretary of state of the United States, tendered by President Madison; elected Vice President of the United States in 1816; reelected in 1820 and served from March 4, 1817, to March 3, 1825; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1821 and served as its president; died on Staten Island, N. Y., June 11, 1825.

Tompkins, Emmett, a Representative from Ohio; born in McConnellsville, Morgan county, Ohio, September 1, 1853; moved to Athens county, Ohio; attended the public schools and the Ohio university, Athens Ohio; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1875 and practiced; elected city solicitor and mayor of Athens, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Athens county; member of the state legislature; moved to Columbus, Ohio, in 1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1903); resumed the practice of law in Columbus, Ohio.

Tompkins, Patrick W., a Representative from Mississippi; a native of Kentucky; received a limited education; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Vicksburg, Miss.; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849); moved to California; died in San Francisco, May 16, 1853.

Tongue, Thomas H., a Representative from Oregon; born in Lincolnshire, England, June 23, 1844; moved with his parents to Washington county, Oreg., November 23, 1859; was graduated from Pacific university, Forestgrove, Washington county, Oreg., in June, 1868; moved to Hillsboro, Oreg., in 1868; studied law, was admitted to the bar in September, 1870, and commenced practice; chairman of the state Republican convention in 1890; delegate to the Republican national convention in Minneapolis in 1892 and the Oregon vice president of that convention; again the permanent chairman of the state Republican convention in 1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and to the two succeeding Congresses and served from March 4, 1899, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 11, 1903.

Toole, Joseph Kemp, a Delegate from the Territory of Montana; born in Savannah, Mo., May 12, 1851; attended the public schools in St. Joseph, Mo., and the Western Military Academy at Newcastle, Ky.; studied law; moved to Helena, Mont., in 1870; was admitted to the bar in 1871 and practiced; district attorney of the third judicial district in Montana 1872–1876; member and president of the territorial council 1879–1883; member of the state constitutional convention in Helena, Mont., in 1884 and 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889); first governor of Montana, in 1889; reelected in 1900 for the term expiring January 1, 1905; and resides in Helena, Mont.

Toombs, Robert, a Representative and a Senator from Georgia; born in Wilkes county, Ga., July 2, 1910; attended the University of Georgia and was graduated from Union college, New York, in 1828; studied law at the University of Virginia and began practice in Washington, Ga., in 1828; commanded a company in the Creek war in 1836; representative in the Georgia legislature 1837–1840 and 1841–1844; Whig candidate for speaker of the house in 1842; delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1844; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1853); elected to the United States Senate in 1852; reelected in 1858, and served from March 4, 1853, to March 14, 1861, when he was formally expelled; member of the state sovereignty convention in Mill-edgeville, Ga., January 16, 1861; served in the provisional congress; secretary of state of the Confederacy; brigadier general in the Confederate army; after the war he escaped arrest and went to Europe; returned to his home in Washington, Ga., in 1867; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1877; died in Washington, Ga., December 15, 1885.

Toucey, Isaac, a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Newtown, Fairfield county, Conn., November 5, 1796; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1818, and began practice in Hartford, Conn.; state attorney for Hartford county 1822–1825; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835–March 3, 1839); unsuccessful Democratic candidate for reelection; again state's attorney for Hartford county 1842–1844; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor of Connecticut in 1845; defeated again in 1846 by popular vote, but was elected by the legislature; again defeated for governor in 1847; appointed Attorney General of the United States by President Polk 1848–1849; served in the state senate in 1850; member of the state house of representatives in 1852; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1851, and served from May 12, 1852, to March 3, 1857; Secretary of the Navy of the United States under President Buchanan 1857–1861; resumed the practice of law; died in Hartford, Conn., July 30, 1869.

Tou Velle, William Ellsworth, a Representative from Ohio; born in Celina, Ohio, November 23, 1861; attended the public schools and was graduated from the Celina high school in 1879 and from the Cincinnati law school in 1889; appointed postmaster of Celina, Ohio, in 1885, but resigned to enter law school; was admitted to the bar and practiced in Celina, Ohio, elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in Celina, Ohio.

Towne, Charles Arnette, a Representative and a Senator from Minnesota and a Representative from New York; born in Oakland county, Mich., November 21, 1858; attended the common schools and was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1881; was admitted to the bar in 1885 and practiced in Michigan; moved to Duluth, Minn., in 1890, and continued practice; elected as a Republican from Minnesota to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket in 1896 and 1898; declined the nomination for Vice President of the United States by the national conventions of the Populist and Silver Republican parties in 1900; appointed as a Democrat by Gov. Lind to the United States Senate, December 5, 1900, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Cushman K. Davis, and served from December 6, 1900, until January 28, 1901; moved to New York City, in June, 1901, and practiced law; elected as a Democrat from New York to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1907); resumed the practice of law in New York City.

Towns, George Washington Bonaparte, a Representative from Georgia; born in Wilkes county, Ga., May 4, 1801; received a limited education; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1824, and began practice in Montgomery, Ala.; returned to Talbotton, Ga., in 1826 and practiced law; member of the state house of representatives 1829–1830; served in the state senate 1832–1834; elected as a Union Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress and served from March 4, 1835, to September 1, 1836, when he resigned; reelected to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); again elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Washington Poe, and served from January 27, 1846, to March 3, 1847; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; governor of Georgia 1847–1851; resumed the practice of law; died in Macon, Ga., July 15, 1854.

Townsend, Amos, a Representative from Ohio; born in Fayette county, Pa., in 1831; moved at an early age to Cleveland, Ohio; for 10 years a member of the city council, and served 7 of those years as president; member of the state constitutional convention in 1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1883); died in St. Augustine, Fla., March 17, 1895.

Townsend, Charles Champlain, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Allegheny City, Pa., November 24, 1841; attended the common schools; manufacturer of wire rivets and wire nails; served two years in the Union army during the Civil war as a private in company A, ninth regiment Pennsylvania reserve volunteer corps, and afterwards as adjutant of the first Pennsylvania cavalry; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891).

Townsend, Charles E., a Representative from Michigan; born near Concord, Jackson county, Mich., August 15, 1856; attended the common schools in Concord and Jackson, and the literary department of Michigan University; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1895, and practiced in Jackson, Mich.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Elected to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1911.

Townsend, Dwight, a Representative from New York; born in New York City, September 26, 1826; pursued an academic course; merchant; elected to the Thirty-eighth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry G. Stebbins and served from December 5, 1864, to March 3, 1865; reelected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); died in New York City, October 29, 1899.

Townsend, George, a Representative from New York; born in Lattingtown, township of Oyster Bay, Queens county, N. Y., in 1769; engaged in farming; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1819); died in Lattingtown, township of Oyster Bay, Queens county, N. Y., August 17, 1844.

Townsend, Hosea, a Representative from Colorado; born in Greenwich, Huron county, Ohio, June 16, 1840; attended Western Reserve college, Ohio, in 1860; left school to enter the Union army and enlisted in the second Ohio cavalry in 1861; promoted to lieutenant and resigned in 1863 on account of disability; was admitted to the bar in Cleveland, Ohio, and commenced practice in Memphis, Tenn., in 1865; elected to the state legislature in 1869 and served one term; moved to Colorado in 1879; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1893); United States judge for the southern district of Indian Territory.

Townsend, James, a Representative from New York; a native of Queens county, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected to the Second Congress and served from March 4, 1791, until his death, before the assembling of Congress, in Oyster Bay, N. Y., in May, 1791.

Townsend, Martin Ingham, a Representative from New York; born in Hancock, Mass., February 6, 1810; moved with his parents to Williamstown, Mass., in 1816; attended the common schools and was graduated from Williams college in 1833; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1836, and commenced practice in Troy, N. Y.; district attorney of Rensselaer county 1842–1845; delegate to the state constitutional convention 1867–1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); United States district attorney for the northern district of New York, 1879–1887; member of the state constitutional convention in 1890; regent of the university of the state of New York 1873–1903; retired from practice in 1901 and died in Troy, N. Y., March 8, 1903.

Townsend, Washington, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in West Chester, Pa., January 20, 1813; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1844, and began practice; deputy attorney under Attorneys General Darragh and Cooper; delegate to the Whig national convention in Baltimore, Md., in 1852; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1877); resumed the practice of law in West Chester, Pa., and died there March 18, 1894.

Townshend, Norton Strange, a Representative from Ohio; born in Clay-Coaton, Northamptonshire, England, December 25, 1815; came to the United States with his parents in 1830 and settled in Avon, Ohio; educated himself by the use of his father's library; taught a district school; studied medicine and was graduated from the university of Physicians and Surgeons in New York in 1840; delegate to the World's Anti-slavery convention in London, England, in 1840; studied medicine in the hospitals of London, Paris, Edinburgh, and Dublin; returned to Ohio and resumed the practice of medicine in Avon, Ohio, in 1841; moved to Elyria, Ohio; elected to the state legislature in 1848; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1850; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); abandoned the medical profession and engaged in agricultural pursuits near Avon, Ohio; member of the state board of agriculture 1858–1863 and 1868–1869; medical inspector United States Army with the rank of lieutenant colonel 1863–1865; professor of agriculture in Iowa Agricultural college in 1869; visited the agriculture and veterinary schools and botanic gardens of Great Britain and Ireland; attended the national fairs of Shrewsbury, Edinburgh, and Ireland; resumed the chair of agriculture in the state university of Ohio; died in Columbus, Ohio, July 13, 1895; interment in Avon Center, Lorain county, Ohio.

Townshend, Richard Wellington, a Representative from Illinois; born in Prince George county, Md., April 30, 1840; went to Washington, D. C.; attended the public and private schools; page in the national House of Representatives; moved to Fayette county, Ill., in 1858; taught school in Fayette county; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in McLeansboro, Ill., in 1862; clerk of the circuit court of Hamilton county 1863–1868; prosecuting attorney for the twelfth judicial circuit, 1868–1872; moved in 1873 to Shawneetown, Ill., and practiced; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Baltimore in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1877, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 9, 1889.

Tracewell, Robert John, a Representative from Indiana; born in Warren county, Va., May 7, 1852; moved with his parents to Harrison county, Ind., in 1854; was graduated from Hanover college, Indiana, in 1874; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Corydon, Ind.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; appointed Comptroller of the Treasury by President McKinley in 1897.

Tracey, Charles, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., May 27, 1847; was graduated from the Albany academy in 1866; served in the Papal Zouaves at Rome, Italy, portions of the years 1867–1870; appointed aid-de-camp to Gov. Tilden, of New York, January 1, 1877; appointed manager of the House of Refuge in Hudson, N. Y., by Gov. Cleveland and reappointed by Gov. Hill in 1886; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Nicholas T. Kane; reelected to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from December 5, 1887, to March 3, 1895.

Tracey, John P., a Representative from Missouri; born in Wayne county, Ohio, September 18, 1836; attended the public schools of Ohio and Indiana; studied law; taught school; moved to Missouri in 1858; enlisted as a private in the Union army for the Civil war, March 1, 1862; mustered out with the rank of first lieutenant March 10, 1865; commissioned lieutenant colonel of Enrolled Militia in April, 1865; was admitted to the bar in May, 1865, and commenced practice in Stockton, Mo., whence he moved to Springfield, Mo., in 1874 and engaged in journalism; presidential elector on the Grant ticket in 1868; Republican candidate for railroad commissioner in 1878; commissioned United States marshal for the western district of Missouri February 4, 1890, and served until March 4, 1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); after leaving Congress became engaged in newspaper work in Springfield, Mo.

Tracy, Albert Haller, a Representative from New York; born in Norwich, Conn., June 17, 1793; pursued classical studies; studied medicine; moved to New York state in 1811; abandoned medicine and studied law; was admitted to the bar and in 1815 began practice in Buffalo, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1825); declined a judgeship tendered by Gov. De Witt Clinton and a Cabinet position offered by President John Q. Adams; member of the state senate 1830–1837; unsuccessful Whig candidate for United States Senator in 1839; tendered a seat in the Cabinet by President Tyler, but declined; died in Buffalo, N. Y., September 12, 1859.

Tracy, Andrew, a Representative from Vermont; born in Hartford, Conn., December 15, 1797; attended Royalston and Randolph academies, also Dartmouth college for two years; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1826, and commenced practice in Quechee, Vt.; moved to Woodstock, Vt., in 1838 and practiced law; member of the state house of representatives 1833–1837; served in the state senate in 1839; unsuccessful candidate for Congress in 1840; again a member of the state house of representatives in 1843–1845, and served as speaker; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); declined a re-nomination; resumed the practice of law; died in Woodstock, Vt., October 28, 1868.

Tracy, Henry W., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ulster township, Bradford county, Pa., September 24, 1807; completed preparatory studies; studied law with Aaron Burr; engaged in business in Standing Stone, Pa., Havre de Grace, Md., and Towanda, Pa.; attended Angelica seminary in Allegany country, N. Y.; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1860; member of the state house of representatives in 1861–1862; elected as an independent Republican to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); collector of the port of Philadelphia in 1866; died April 11, 1886.

Tracy, Phineas Lyman, a Representative from New York; born in Norwich, Conn., December 25, 1786; was graduated from Yale college in 1806; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Batavia, N. Y., in 1813; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1833); declined a re-nomination; Democratic presidential elector in 1840; appointed presiding judge of Genesee county, N. Y., in 1841, and continued in that office until 1846, when he retired from professional life; died in Batavia, N. Y., December 23, 1876.

Tracy, Uri, a Representative from New York; a native of Franklin, Conn.; was graduated from Yale college in 1789; moved to Oxford, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1807); reelected to the Eleventh and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1813).

Tracy, Uriah, a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Franklin, Conn., February 2, 1755; was graduated from Yale college in 1778; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Litchfield, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives and served as speaker in 1793; elected as a Federalist to the Third and Fourth Congresses and served from March 4, 1793, to December 6, 1796, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Jonathan Trumbull and served until his death; was President pro tempore of the Senate May 14, 1800; died in Washington, D. C., July 19, 1807.

Trafton, Mark, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Bangor, Me., August 1, 1810; completed preparatory studies; studied theology and was ordained pastor of a church in Westfield, Mass.; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); unsuccessful as the American candidate for the Thirty-fifth Congress; resumed his ministerial duties and was pastor of a church in Mount Wallaston, Mass.; died in West Somerville, Mass., March 8, 1901.

Train, Charles Russell, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Framingham, Mass., October 18, 1817; attended Framingham academy, and was graduated from Brown university in 1837; studied law at Harvard university, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Framingham, Mass., in 1841; member of the state house of representatives 1847–1848; district attorney 1848–1854; declined the appointment of associate justice of the supreme court of the United States in 1852; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1853; delegate to the national convention in Philadelphia in 1856; member of the governor's council 1857–1858; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1863); served in the Union army as a volunteer aid-de-camp to General McClellan; delegate to the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864; moved to Boston, Mass.; again served in the state house of representatives 1868–1871; attorney general of Massachusetts 1871–1878; retired to private life and resumed the practice of law; died in Conway, N. H., July 29, 1885.

Trapier, Paul, a Delegate from South Carolina; served in the Continental Congress 1777–1778.

Treadwell, John, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Farmington, Conn., November 23, 1745; was graduated from Yale college in 1767; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Farmington, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives 1776–1785; member of the governor's council in 1785; member of the Continental Congress 1785–1786; member of the state council 1786–1797; lieutenant governor of Connecticut in 1798–1800; judge of probate and the supreme court of errors 1789–1809; judge of the court of common pleas; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1788; governor of Connecticut 1809–1811; died in Farmington, Conn., August 19, 1823.

Tredway, William Marshall, a Representative from Virginia; born in Prince Edward county, Va., in August, 1807; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; judge of the circuit court of Virginia; member of the secession convention of Virginia in 1861; resumed the practice of law in Chatham, Va., and died there, May 1, 1896.

Tredwell, Thomas, a Representative from New York; born in Smithtown, Long Island, N. Y., in 1742; was graduated from Princeton college in 1764; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Plattsburg, N. Y.; delegate to the provisional congress of New York 1774–1775; delegate to the state constitutional convention 1776–1777; member of the state assembly 1777–1783; judge of the court of probate 1778–1787; member of the state senate 1786–1789; delegate to the convention that ratified the Constitution of the United States in 1788; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1788; surrogate of Suffolk county in 1787–1791; elected to the Second and Third Congresses (March 4, 1791–March 3, 1795); delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1801; again served in the state senate 1803–1807; surrogate of Clinton county 1807–1831; died in Plattsburg, N. Y., January 30, 1832.

Treloar, William M., a Representative from Missouri; born near Linden, Iowa county, Wis., September 21, 1850; attended the common schools; moved to Iowa in 1864; attended the high school and the Iowa Wesleyan university in Mount Pleasant, Iowa; moved to Missouri and taught English and music in Mount Pleasant college, Huntsville, in 1872; located in Mexico, Audrain county, in 1875, where he taught in the Synodical female college in Fulton, Hardin college, and the public schools of Mexico; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); appointed postmaster of Mexico, Mo., April, 1898; engaged in music publication in Kansas City, Mo.

Tremain, Lyman, a Representative from New York; born in Oak Hill, Greene county, N. Y., June 14, 1819; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1840 began practice in Durham, N. Y.; elected supervisor of Durham in 1842; appointed district attorney in 1844; elected surrogate and county judge of Greene county in 1846; moved to Albany, N. Y., in 1853 and practiced law; elected attorney general of New York in 1857; defeated for lieutenant governor in 1862; member of the state assembly 1866-1868, and served as speaker; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); died in New York city, November 30, 1878.

Trezvant, James, a Representative from Virginia; a native of Sussex county, Va.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Jerusalem, Va.; attorney general of Virginia; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1820; served in the state house of representatives; elected to the Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1831); died in Southampton county, Va., September 2, 1841.

Trigg, Abram, a Representative from Virginia; born in Bedford county, Va.; completed academic studies; held local offices; delegate in the Virginia convention of 1788 that ratified the Federal constitution; served as an officer under General Washington in the Revolutionary war; elected to the Fifth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1801); died in Washington, D. C., May 17, 1804.

Trigg, Connally F., a Representative from Virginia; born in Abingdon, Va., September 18, 1847; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Abingdon, Va.; elected commonwealth attorney for Washington county in 1872, which position he held until he resigned in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); died in Abingdon, Va., April 23, 1907.

Trigg, John, a Representative from Virginia; born in Bedford county, Va., in 1748; received a liberal schooling; served as a captain in the Virginia militia during the Revolutionary war; member Virginia house of delegates 1784-1792; member of the convention to ratify the Federal constitution in 1788; elected to the Fifth, and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1797, until his death in Bedford county, Va., June 28, 1804.

Trimble, Carey Allen, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hillsboro, Ohio, September 13, 1813; was graduated from the Ohio university in 1833; studied medicine and was graduated from the Cincinnati medical college in 1836; tutor for four years; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; died in Columbus, Ohio, May 4, 1887.

Trimble, David, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Frederick county, Va., in June, 1782; was graduated from William and Mary college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Mount Sterling, Ky.; served in the war of 1812; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1827); died in Trimble's Furnace, Ky., October 26, 1842.

Trimble, John, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Roane county, Tenn., February 7, 1812; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Nashville, Tenn.; attorney general of Tennessee 1836-1842; member of the state house of representatives 1843-1844 and served in the state senate 1845-1846, and 1859-1861, when he resigned; again elected 1865-1867, when he resigned; United States attorney from 1862 to 1864, when he resigned; elected as a National Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); died in Nashville, Tenn., February 23, 1884.

Trimble, Lawrence S., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Fleming, Ky., August 26, 1825; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Paducah, Ky.; member of the state house of representatives 1851-1852; judge of the equity and criminal court of the first judicial circuit of Kentucky 1856-1860; president of the New Orleans and Ohio Railroad Company 1860-1865; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1871); died in Albuquerque, N. Mex., August 9, 1904.

Trimble, South, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Wolfe county, Ky., April 13, 1864; attended the public schools of Frankfort and Excelsior institute; farmer by occupation; elected to the Kentucky house of representatives in 1898 and again in 1900, and served as speaker the last year; was in that capacity during the memorable Goebel contest; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1907); Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor of Kentucky, 1907; elected clerk of the national House of Representatives in the Sixty-second Congress.

Trimble, William Allen, a Senator from Ohio, born in Woodford, Ky., April 4, 1786; was graduated from the Transylvania college; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1811, and began practice in Highland, Ohio; adjutant in the campaign against the Potawatomi Indians in 1812; major of Ohio volunteers, May 7, 1812; taken prisoner at the capture of Detroit; major of the twenty-sixth United States infantry, March 18, 1813; brevetted lieutenant colonel September 17, 1814, for gallantry at Fort Erie, where he was severely wounded; lieutenant colonel of the first infantry, November 30, 1814; transferred to the eighth infantry May 17, 1815; resigned March 1, 1819; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1819, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 13, 1821.

Triplett, Philip, a Representative from Kentucky; a native of Virginia; moved to Kentucky and located in Owensboro; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843).

Trippe, Robert Pleasant, a Representative from Georgia; born in Jasper county, Ga., December 21, 1819; moved with his father to Monroe county, and settled near Culloden; attended Randolph-Macon college in Virginia, and was graduated from the university of Georgia in 1839; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Forsyth, Ga.; member of the state assembly in 1849-1853; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1859); member of the state senate 1859; member of the Confederate Congress; enlisted as a private soldier in the Confederate army during the Civil war; resumed the practice of law in Forsyth, Ga.; associate justice of the state supreme court from 1872 until 1875, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in Atlanta, Ga., and died there, July 22, 1900.

Trotter, James Fisher, a Senator from Mississippi; born in Brunswick county, Va., November 5, 1802; moved with his father's family to eastern Tennessee; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1820, and commenced practice in Hamilton, Monroe county, Miss., in 1823; member of the state senate several terms; elected judge of the circuit court of Mississippi in 1832; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Black, and served from January 22, 1838, to July 10, 1838, when he resigned; judge of the supreme court of Mississippi from 1839 until his resignation in 1842; moved to Holly Springs, Marshall county, Miss.; resumed the practice of law in 1840; vice chancellor of the northern district of Mississippi 1855–1857; professor of law at the university of Mississippi 1860–1862; appointed circuit judge in 1866, and served until his death in Holly Springs, Miss., March 9, 1866.

Trotti, Samuel Wilds, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Barnwell, S. C., July 18, 1810; attended the common schools; was graduated from the South Carolina university, 1832; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served in the Seminole war; member of the state legislature; elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress, to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Samson H. Butler, and served from December 17, 1842, to March 3, 1843; died in Fairfield district, S. C., June 24, 1856.

Troup, George McIntosh, a Representative and a Senator from Georgia; born in McIntosh Bluff, Ala., September 8, 1780; was graduated from Princeton college in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and, in 1799, began practice in Savannah, Ga.; member of the state house of representatives 1803–1805; elected to the Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1815); elected as a State Rights Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William W. Bibb; reelected and served from November 13, 1816, until September 23, 1818, when he resigned; governor of Georgia 1823–1827; again elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1829, to March 2, 1833, when he resigned; died in Dublin, Laurens county, Ga., May 3, 1856.

Trout, Michael Carver, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Hickory township, Mercer county, Pa., September 30, 1810; elected recorder of Mercer county, Pa., in 1843 and served one term; elected prothonotary for six years; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-fourth Congress; died in Hickory township, Mercer county, Pa., June 25, 1873.

Trowbridge, Rowland Ebenezer, a Representative from Michigan; born in Elmira, N. Y., June 18, 1821; moved to Michigan; was graduated from Kenyon college, Ohio; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the state senate 1856–1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); reelected to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1869); commissioner of Indian affairs 1880–1881; died in Birmingham, Mich., April 20, 1881.

Trumbo, Andrew, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Bath county, Ky., September 13, 1799; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1824 in Owingsville, Ky.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847); presidential elector in 1848 on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket.

Trumbull, Jonathan, a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Lebanon, Conn., March 26, 1740; was graduated from Harvard college in 1759; member of the colonial legislature of Connecticut, and served as speaker of the house; appointed by the Continental Congress paymaster of the Northern Military Department in 1775; first comptroller of the United States Treasury, 1778; secretary and first aide-camp to General Washington; elected as a Federalist to the First, Second, and Third Congresses (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1795), and served as speaker in the Second Congress; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1795, to June 10, 1796, when he resigned; lieutenant governor of Connecticut 1789–1795; became governor in May, 1798, on account of the death of Governor Wolcott; was elected eleven consecutive terms, and served until his death in Lebanon, Conn., August 7, 1809.

Trumbull, Joseph, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Lebanon, Conn., March 11, 1737; was graduated from Harvard college in 1756; served in the Continental Congress 1774–1775; served in the Revolutionary army as commissary general 1775–1777; commissioner of the board of war 1777–1778; died in Lebanon, Conn., July 23, 1778.

Trumbull, Joseph, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Lebanon, Conn., December 7, 1782; was graduated from Yale college in 1801; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1803, and, in 1804, began practice in Hartford, Conn.; made president of the Hartford bank in 1828; member of the state house of representatives in 1832; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William W. Ellsworth, and served from December 1, 1834, until March 3, 1835; reelected to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843); again a member of the state house of representatives in 1848; governor of Connecticut 1849–1850; again elected to the state house of representatives in 1851; died in Hartford, Conn., August 4, 1861.

Trumbull, Lyman, a Senator from Illinois; born in Colchester, Conn., October 12, 1813; attended Bacon academy; taught school in Connecticut 1829–1833; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Greenville, Ga.; moved to Belleville, Ill.; member of the legislature of Illinois in 1840; secretary of state of Illinois 1841–1842; justice of the supreme court of Illinois 1848-1853; elected to the Thirty-fourth Congress, but before the beginning of the Congress was elected as a Republican to the United States Senate; twice reelected, and served from March 4, 1855, to March 3, 1873; resumed the practice of law in Chicago, Ill.; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois in 1880; died in Chicago, Ill., June 25, 1896.

Tuck, Amos, a Representative from New Hampshire; born at Parsonsfield, Me., August 2, 1810; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Exeter, N. H.; elected as an Independent to the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1853); delegate to the Republican national convention in 1856 and 1860; delegate to the peace congress in 1861; defeated for the Thirty-third Congress; appointed naval officer of the port of Boston by President Lincoln; trustee of Dartmouth college many years; died in Exeter, N. H., December 11, 1879.

Tucker, Ebenezer, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Burlington, N. J., November 15, 1757; attended the common schools; served in the Revolutionary army; studied law, and was admitted to the bar; held several local offices; moved to Tuckerton, N. J.; elected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1829); judge of the court of common pleas; appointed first collector of revenue, port of Tuckerton; also the first postmaster by Gen. Washington; died in Tuckerton, N. J., September 5, 1845.

Tucker, George, a Representative from Virginia; born in the town of St. Georges, Bermuda, August 20, 1775; came to Virginia about 1787; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Lynchburg, Va.; member of the state house of representatives in 1815; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1825); professor in the university of Virginia 1825-1845; died in Sherwood, Albemarle county, Va., April 10, 1861.

Tucker, Henry St. George, a Representative from Virginia; born in Williamsburg, Va., December 29, 1780; pursued classical studies; attended William and Mary college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Winchester, Va.; served in the war of 1812; elected to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1819); chancellor of the fourth judicial district 1824-1831; president of the Virginia court of appeals 1831-1841; professor of law at the university of Virginia 1841-1845; declined the portfolio of Attorney General of the United States, tendered by President Jackson; died in Winchester, Va., August 28, 1848.

Tucker, Henry St. George, a Representative from Virginia; born in Winchester, Va., April 5, 1853; was graduated from the Washington and Lee university, Lexington, Va., in 1875; was admitted to the bar in 1876, and commenced practice in Staunton, Va.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1897); elected professor of constitutional law in Washington and Lee university, in Lexington, Va.; was president of the Tercentennial Exposition in Jamestown, Va., 1904-1905.

Tucker, John Randolph, a Representative from Virginia; born in Winchester, Va., December 24, 1823; attended a private school and Richmond academy and was graduated from the university of Virginia in 1844; was admitted to the bar in 1845 and began practice in Winchester, Va.; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1852 and 1856; attorney general of Virginia 1857-1865; professor of equity and public law at Washington and Lee university, Lexington, Va.; resumed the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1887); elected professor of constitutional law in Washington and Lee university, in Lexington, Va.; died in Lexington, Va., February 13, 1897.

Tucker, Starling, a Representative from South Carolina; a native of Halifax county, N. C.; moved to Mountain Shoals, S. C.; received a limited education; held several local offices; elected to the Fifteenth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1831); died in Mountain Shoals, S. C., February 4, 1834.

Tucker, Thomas Tudor, a Delegate and a Representative from South Carolina; born in Port Royal, Bermuda, June 25, 1745; attended the common schools; studied medicine at the University of Edinburgh; moved to South Carolina and practiced; served as a surgeon in the Revolutionary war; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1787-1788; elected as a Federalist to the First and Second Congresses (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1793); United States Treasurer from December 1, 1801, until his death in Washington, D. C., May 2, 1828.

Tucker, Tilghman M., a Representative from Mississippi; a native of North Carolina; completed preparatory studies; moved to Hamilton, Miss.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Columbus, Miss.; member of the state house of representatives; governor of Mississippi 1841-1843; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); died in Alabama April 30, 1859.

Tufts, John Q., a Representative from Iowa; born near Aurora, Ind., July 12, 1840; moved with his parents to Iowa in 1852; pursued classical studies; farmer; member of the Iowa legislature 1869, 1871, and 1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877).

Tully, Pleasant Britton, a Representative from California; born in Henderson county, Tenn., March 21, 1829; attended the public and private schools; moved with his father to Phillips county, Ark.; went to California in 1853 and engaged in mining; resided in Gilroy, Cal., after 1857; studied law and was admitted to the bar; elected a delegate at large to the state constitutional convention in 1879; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); resumed the practice of law; died in Gilroy, Cal., March 24, 1897.

Turley, Thomas Battle, a Senator from Tennessee; born in Memphis, Tenn., April 5, 1845; served through the civil war as a private in the Confederate army; graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia in 1867, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Memphis, Tenn.; appointed as a Democrat and subsequently elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Isham G. Harris and served from July 20, 1897, to March 3, 1901; declined a renomination and resumed practice in Memphis, Tenn.; died in Memphis, Tenn., July 1, 1910.

Turnbull, Robert, a Representative from Virginia; born in Lawrenceville, Va., January 11, 1850; attended the common schools and was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1871; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Lawrenceville, Va.; member of the state senate in 1894; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1901; delegate to the Democratic national conventions in 1896 and 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Francis R. Lassiter and took his seat March 16, 1910. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Turner, Benjamin Sterling, a Representative from Alabama; born in Halifax county, N. C., March 17, 1825; moved to Alabama in 1830, where, by clandestine study, he obtained a fair education; became a merchant; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); defeated for the Forty-third Congress.

Turner, Charles, jr., a Representative from Massachusetts; a native of Massachusetts; was graduated from Harvard college; studied theology and became pastor of a parish in Duxbury, Mass.; successfully contested as a war Democrat the election of William Baylies to the Eleventh Congress; reelected to the Twelfth Congress, and served from June 28, 1809, to March 3, 1813; defeated for reelection.

Turner, Charles Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Wentworth, N. H., May 26, 1861; attended the district schools; moved to New York City in November, 1879; entered Columbia college in 1886 and pursued a course of two years; after leaving college engaged in the ice business; candidate for state senator in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank T. Fitzgerald, and served from December 9, 1889, to March 3, 1891; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.

Turner, Daniel, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Warren county, N. C., September 21, 1796; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from the United States military academy at West Point in 1814 and was commissioned second lieutenant of artillery in 1814; served in the war of 1812 as acting assistant engineer; resigned his commission May 17, 1815; student for two years at William and Mary college, Virginia; member of the house of commons of North Carolina 1819–1823; elected to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1829); principal of the Warrenton, N. C., female seminary; superintending engineer of the construction of public works at the Mare island navy yard until his death in San Francisco, Cal., July 21, 1860.

Turner, Erastus Johnson, a Representative from Kansas; born in Lockport, Erie county, Pa., December 26, 1846; attended college in Henry, Ill., 1859–1860; enlisted in company E, thirteenth Iowa infantry, in 1864, and remained till the close of the war; attended Adrian college, Michigan, 1866–1868; was admitted to the bar in 1871, moved to Hoxie, Kans., in 1879, and practiced; elected a member of the legislature in 1881 and 1883; secretary of the Kansas board of railroad commissioners April 1, 1883–August 1, 1886; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891); practiced law several years in Washington, D. C., and later removed to Seattle, Wash.

Turner, George, a Senator from Washington; born in Edina, Mo., February 25, 1850; attended the common schools; studied law and was admitted to the bar; United States marshal for the southern and middle districts of Alabama 1876–1880; associate justice of the supreme court for the territory of Washington from July 4, 1884, till February 15, 1888; member of the state constitutional convention in 1889; elected as a Fusionist to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1897, until March 3, 1903; counsel for the United States at The Hague in the Northeastern Fisheries arbitration with Great Britain in 1910; appointed by President Roosevelt a member of the international joint commission for the settlement of questions between the United States and Canada.

Turner, Henry G., a Representative from Georgia; born in Franklin county, N. C., March 20, 1839; attended the common schools and the University of Virginia in 1857; moved to Brooks county, Ga., in 1859 and taught school; enlisted in the Confederate army as a private in 1861 and served throughout the Civil war, attaining the rank of captain and being severely wounded at the battle of Gettysburg, Pa.; was admitted to the bar in 1865; presidential elector on the Horace Greeley ticket in 1872; member of the state legislature in 1874–1875, 1876; delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1876; again elected to the state legislature in 1878 and 1879; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1897); resumed the practice of law in Quitman, Ga.; died in Raleigh, N. C., June 9, 1904.

Turner, James, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Southampton county, Va., December 20, 1766; moved with his father to Warren county, N. C., in 1770; attended the common schools; private in the Revolutionary army in a company of North Carolina volunteers; member of the state house of representatives 1797–1800; served in the state senate 1801–1802; governor of North Carolina 1802–1805; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1805; reelected in 1811, and served from March 4, 1805, to November 21, 1816, when he resigned on account of ill health; died in Bloomsbury, N. C., January 15, 1824.

Turner, James, a Representative from Maryland; born in Harford county, Md., in 1783; completed preparatory studies; captain in the militia in the war of 1812; moved to Parkton, Baltimore county, in 1811; served as a justice of the peace; collector of taxes in 1817; member of the house of delegates 1824-1833; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); defeated for reelection; again served in the house of delegates; member of the state senate 1855-1859; died in 1861.

Turner, Oscar, a Representative from Kentucky; born in New Orleans, La., February 3, 1825; moved with his parents to Fayette county, Ky., in 1826; completed preparatory studies; moved to Ballard county, Ky., in 1843; attended the law department of the Transylvania university, in Lexington, Ky., in 1847; was admitted to the bar and practiced until 1861; commonwealth attorney 1851-1855; served in the state senate of Kentucky 1867-1871; elected as an independent Democrat to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1885); died in 1896.

Turner, Oscar, jr., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Woodlands, Ballard county, Ky., October 19, 1867; attended the public schools of Washington, D. C., and the Louisville Rugby school; studied law at the University of Louisville and was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1886; traveled very extensively; was admitted to the bar and began practice in 1891 in Louisville, Ky.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901; died in Louisville, Ky., July 17, 1902.

Turner, Smith Spangler, a Representative from Virginia; born in Warren county, Va., November 21, 1842; cadet at the Virginia Military institute when the civil war commenced, and subsequently given an honorary diploma; enlisted in the Confederate army in 1861; served with Gen. T. J. Jackson as drill officer; an officer of Pickett's division during the remainder of the war; once wounded, and, about the close of the war, badly injured and disfigured by an explosion of gunpowder; taught mathematics in a female seminary in Winchester, Va., 1865-1867; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1869, and practiced in Front Royal, Va.; member of the Virginia legislature 1869-1872; prosecuting attorney for Warren county, Va.; for eight years a member of the state board of visitors of the Virginia Military Institute; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles T. O'Ferrall; reelected to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from February 12, 1894, to March 3, 1897; died in Front Royal, Va., April 8, 1898.

Turner, Thomas, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Richmond, Ky., September 10, 1821; attended the Richmond academy and was graduated from Center college, Danville, Va., in September, 1840; studied law at the Transylvania Law school, Lexington, Ky.; was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Richmond, Va.; moved in November, 1854, to Mount Sterling, Ky.; appointed commonwealth attorney in March, 1846, and resigned in 1849; member of the state house of representatives 1861-1863; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); died in Mount Sterling, Ky., September 11, 1900.

Turner, Thomas J., a Representative from Illinois; born in Trumbull county, Ohio, April 5, 1815; completed preparatory studies; moved with his parents to Butler county, Pa., in 1825; moved to St. Paul, Decatur county, Ind., in 1833, and later to Freeport, Ill.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; judge of probate in 1842; postmaster of Freeport in 1844; elected state district attorney in 1845; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); member of the state house of representatives in 1854, and served as speaker; elected first mayor of Freeport, Ill., in 1855; member of peace congress in Washington, D. C., in 1861; enlisted in the Union army for the civil war, May 24, 1861, and served as colonel of the fifteenth Illinois volunteer infantry; resigned on account of ill health in 1862; member of the state constitutional convention in 1863; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1871 and resumed the practice of law; died in Hot Springs, Ark., April 4, 1874.

Turney, Hopkins Lacy, a Representative and a Senator from Tennessee; born in Smith county, Tenn., October 3, 1797; served in the Seminole war; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Winchester, Tenn.; member of the state house of representatives 1828-1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1843); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1845, until March 3, 1851; resumed the practice of law; died in Winchester, Tenn., August 1, 1857.

Turney, Jacob, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Greensburg, Pa., February 18, 1825; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Greensburg, Pa.; elected district attorney for Westmoreland county in 1850 and 1853; presidential elector on the Buchanan ticket in 1856; member of the state senate; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879; died in Greensburg, Pa., October 4, 1891.

Turpie, David, a Senator from Indiana; born in Hamilton county, Ohio, July 8, 1829; was graduated from Kenyon college in 1848; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1849, and practiced in Logansport, Ind.; appointed by Governor Wright judge of the court of common pleas in 1854-1856; judge of the circuit court in 1856; member of the legislature of Indiana in 1852 and 1858; elected to the United States Senate in 1863, to fill the vacancy caused by the Senate expelling Jesse D. Bright and served from January 14, 1863, to March 3, 1863; member of the state house of representatives and served as speaker 1874-1875; one of the three commissioners to revise the laws of Indiana in 1878-1881; appointed United States district attorney for Indiana in August, 1886, and served until March 3, 1887; delegate at large to the Democratic national convention in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate February 2, 1887; reelected in 1893 and served from March 4, 1887, until March 3, 1899; died in Indianapolis, Ind., April 21, 1909.

Turpin, Louis Washington, a Representative from Alabama; born in Charlottesville, Va., February 22, 1849; moved with his parents to Perry county, Ala., in 1858; tax assessor of Hale county seven years; unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in 1882; presented credentials as a Democratic Member-elect to the Fifty-first Congress and served from March 4, 1889, until June 4, 1890, when he was succeeded by John V. McDuffie, who contested his election; elected to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1895); died in Greensboro, Hale county, Ala., February 3, 1903.

Turrill, Joel, a Representative from New York; born in Shoreham, Vt., February 22, 1794; was graduated from Middlebury college in 1816; studied law in Newburgh, N. Y.; moved to Oswego, N. Y.; was admitted to the bar, and practiced; justice of the peace; district attorney for Oswego county; county judge, 1828–1833; member of the state house of representatives in 1831; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1837; surrogate of Oswego county in 1843; United States consul to the Sandwich Islands 1845–1850; died in Oswego, N. Y., December 28, 1859.

Tuthill, Joseph Hasbrouck, a Representative from New York; born in Blooming Grove, N. Y., February 11, 1811; attended the public schools; clerk of Ulster county 1843–1847; member of Ulster county board of supervisors for several years; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); died in Ellenville, N. Y., July 27, 1877.

Tuthill, Selah, a Representative from New York; born in Blooming Grove, Ulster county, N. Y., October 26, 1771; completed preparatory studies; member of the state legislature in 1805 and again in 1820; elected to the Seventeenth Congress, but died in Goshen, N. Y., September 7, 1821, before the assembling of Congress; interment in Marlboro, Ulster county, N. Y.

Tweed, William Marcy, a Representative from New York; born in New York City April 3, 1823; completed preparatory studies; alderman in New York City 1852–1853; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); member of the board of supervisors for New York county in 1858; defeated as the Peace candidate for sheriff in 1861; school commissioner; deputy street commissioner in 1861; commissioner of the department of public works in 1870; member of the state senate 1868–1870; tried in 1874 on charges of official embezzlement, found guilty, and sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment; escaped in December, 1875, and captured in Spain; brought back to the United States on a man-of-war; died in New York City, April 12, 1878.

Tweedy, John Hubbard, a Delegate from Wisconsin; born in Danbury, Conn., November 9, 1814; was graduated from Yale college in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1836 began practice in Milwaukee, Wis.; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849); defeated as the Whig candidate for governor in 1848; died in Milwaukee, Wis., November 12, 1891.

Tweedy, Samuel, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Nine Partners, Dutchess county, N. Y., March 8, 1776; member of the state house of representatives; served in the state senate; held many local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); died in Danbury, Conn., July 1, 1868.

Twitchell, Ginery, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Athol, Mass., August 26, 1811; completed preparatory studies; interested in the carrying of mails and stagecoaches; engaged in railroading; president of the Boston & Worcester railway in 1857; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1873); died in Brookline, Mass., July 23, 1883; interment in Worcester, Mass.

Tyler, Asher, a Representative from New York; born in Bridgewater, N. Y., May 10, 1798; was graduated from Hamilton college in 1817; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Ellicottville, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); moved to Elmira and engaged in railroad operations; died in Elmira, N. Y., August 10, 1875.

Tyler, David Gardiner, a Representative from Virginia; born in East Hampton, Long Island, N. Y., July 12, 1846; entered Washington college, Lexington, Va., in 1862, leaving there in 1863 to join the Confederate army; served as a private in the army of northern Virginia, surrendering at Appomattox; went to Europe in October, 1865, and pursued a course of classical studies in Karlsruhe, Grand Duchy of Baden; returned to the United States in 1867 and was graduated from Washington college; was admitted to the bar in 1870 and began practice in Charles City county, Va., in 1869; director of state lunatic asylum in Williamsburg, Va., 1884–1887; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1888; resumed the practice of his profession; elected to the state senate in 1891; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1897); again elected to the state senate in 1899; elected judge of the fourteenth judicial circuit of Virginia in 1904, re-elected in 1908 and 1912, and resides in Charles City county, Va.

Tyler, James Manning, a Representative from Vermont; born in Wilmington, Vt., April 27, 1835; attended the Brattleboro academy; was graduated from the Law university of Albany, N. Y., and was admitted to the bar in September, 1860; member of the state legislature in 1863 and 1864; state attorney in 1866 and 1867; trustee of the Vermont asylum for the insane in 1875; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); resumed the practice of law in Brattleboro, Vt.; appointed one of the judges of the supreme court of the state in September, 1887, and served until his resignation, December 1, 1908; retired and resides in Brattleboro, Vt.

Tyler, John, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Charles City county, Va., March 29, 1790; was graduated from William and Mary college in 1807; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and practiced; member of the house of delegates 1811-1816; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John Clopton; reelected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses and served from December 16, 1817, to March 3, 1821; again a member of the house of delegates 1823-1825; governor of Virginia 1825-1827; elected to the United States Senate in 1827; reelected in 1833 and served from March 4, 1827, until February 29, 1836, when he resigned; member of the house of delegates in 1839; elected as a Whig Vice President of the United States on the Harrison ticket in 1840; became President of the United States after the death of President Harrison April 4, 1841, and served until March 3, 1845; delegate to the peace convention in 1861 and served as president; delegate to the Confederate Provisional Congress in 1861; elected to the Confederate Congress, but died before the assembling of the congress in Richmond, Va., January 18, 1862.

Tyndall, William Thomas, a Representative from Missouri; born in Christian county, Mo., January 16, 1862; pursued an academic course; taught school 12 years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1893, and practiced in Sparta, Mo.; appointed postmaster in Sparta, Mo., by President Harrison and also by President McKinley; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907).

Tyner, James Noble, a Representative from Indiana; born in Brookville, Ind., January 17, 1826; pursued an academic course and was graduated from Brookville academy in 1844; spent 10 years in business; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1857, and began practice in Peru, Ind.; secretary of the state senate 1857-1861; presidential elector in 1860; special agent of the Post Office Department 1861-1866; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel D. Pratt; reelected to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1875; appointed by President Grant governor of Colorado, but declined; appointed Second Assistant Postmaster General, serving from February 26, 1875, to July 12, 1876, and as Postmaster General from July 12, 1876, to March 3, 1877; appointed by President Hayes First Assistant Postmaster General, and served from March 16, 1877, to his resignation in October, 1881; assistant attorney general for the Post Office Department, 1889-1893, and from May, 1897, to 1903; delegate to the International Postal Congresses in Paris in 1878 and in Washington in 1897; died in Washington, D. C., December 5, 1904.

Tysen, Jacob, a Representative from New York; born in Staten Island, N. Y., October 8, 1773; attended the common schools; moved to New York and located in Richmond; studied law, and was admitted to the bar; served as judge of Richmond county; supervisor of the town of Castleton, Richmond county, 1811-1821; member of the state senate in 1828; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); died at Staten Island, N. Y., July 16, 1848.

Tyson, Job Roberts, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., February 8, 1803; completed preparatory studies; taught school in Hamburg, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1827, and began practice in Philadelphia, Pa.; held several local offices; served in the state house of representatives; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress; died in Woodlawn Hall, Montgomery county, Pa., June 27, 1858.

Udree, Daniel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; a native of Philadelphia, Pa.; attended the common schools; moved to Berks county and became a merchant; member of the state house of representatives 1799-1805; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John M. Hyneman, and served from December 6, 1813, to March 3, 1815; reelected to the Sixteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph Heister, and served from January 8, 1821, to March 3, 1821; again elected to the Seventeenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Ludwig Worman; reelected to the Eighteenth Congress, and served from December 23, 1822, to March 3, 1825; died in Reading, Pa., July 22, 1828.

Underhill, John Quincy, a Representative from New York; born in New Rochelle, N. Y., February 19, 1848; attended the private and public schools and the College of the City of New York; engaged in the business of fire insurance; president and trustee of his native village several times; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); died in New Rochelle, N. Y., May 21, 1907.

Underhill, Walter, a Representative from New York; born September 12, 1795; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); died in White-stone, Long Island, N. Y., August 17, 1866.

Underwood, John William Henderson, a Representative from Georgia; born in Elbert county, Ga., November 20, 1816; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Rome, Ga., in 1834; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1850; member of the state house of representatives in 1857, and served as speaker; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1859, until he retired from the House, January 23, 1861, and joined the Confederacy; after the war, resumed the practice of law in Rome, Ga.; for several years a judge of the superior and supreme courts of Georgia, and a member of President Arthur's tariff commission; died in Rome, Ga., July 18, 1888.

Underwood, Joseph Rogers, a Representative and a Senator from Kentucky; born in Goochland county, Va., October 24, 1791; moved with his uncle to Barren county, Ky., in 1803; was graduated from Transylvania college in 1811; studied law; served in the war of 1812 as lieutenant in the thirteenth Kentucky infantry; was admitted to the bar in 1813, and began practice in Glasgow, Ky.; held several local offices; member of the state house of representatives 1816-1819; moved to Bowling Green, Ky., in 1823; presidential elector on the Clay ticket in 1824; again a member of the state house of representatives 1825-1826; Whig candidate for lieutenant governor of Kentucky in 1828; judge of the court of appeals 1828-1835; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1843); declined renomination and resumed the practice of law; presidential elector in 1844; again a member of the state house of representatives in 1846, and served as speaker; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1847, to March 3, 1853; served in the state legislature in 1861; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Chicago in 1864; died near Bowling Green, Ky., August 23, 1876.

Underwood, Oscar Wilder, a Representative from Alabama; born in Louisville, Jefferson county, Ky., May 6, 1862; attended Rugby school, Louisville, and the University of Virginia; was admitted to the bar in 1884, and commenced the practice of law in Birmingham, Ala., in 1884; chairman of Democratic executive committee for the ninth district in 1892; presented credentials as a Democratic Member-elect to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, to June 9, 1896, when he was succeeded by Truman H. Aldrich, who contested his election; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Underwood, Warner Lewis, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Goochland county, Va., August 7, 1808; completed preparatory studies; moved to Kentucky in 1825; was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1829; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Bowling Green, Ky., in 1830; moved to Texas in 1834; attorney general for the eastern district of Texas; declined a position in General Houston's cabinet; removed to Bowling Green, Ky., in 1840; member of the state house of representatives in 1848; served in the state senate 1849-1853; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); declined a reelection; appointed by President Lincoln as United States consul to Glasgow, Scotland, and served from 1862 to 1865; returned to the United States and practiced law in San Francisco, Cal.; returned to Kentucky in 1866; died near Bowling Green, Ky., March 12, 1872.

Updegraff, Jonathan T., a Representative from Ohio; born in Jefferson county, Ohio; attended the common schools and Franklin college; studied medicine and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1845, and later from the medical schools of Edinburgh and Paris; practiced his profession, but devoted a large share of his time and interests to agricultural pursuits; served as a surgeon in the Union army during the civil war; Republican presidential elector in 1872; member of the Ohio senate in 1872 and 1873; temporary president of the Republican state convention in 1873; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses and served from March 4, 1879, until his death in Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, November 20, 1882.

Updegraff, Thomas, a Representative from Iowa; born in Tioga county, Pa., April 3, 1834; attended private schools, the University of Notre Dame, Ind., and an academy in Binghamton, N. Y.; clerk of the district court of Clayton county, Iowa, 1856-1860; was admitted to the bar in 1860, and commenced practice in McGregor, Iowa; member of the state house of representatives in 1878; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); member of the board of education and city solicitor of McGregor, Iowa; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1888; reelected as a Republican to the Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1899); died in McGregor, Iowa, October 4, 1910.

Upham, Charles Wentworth, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in St. Johns, New Brunswick, May 4, 1802; came to the United States and resided in Boston, Mass., in 1816; was graduated from Harvard college in 1821; studied theology; clergyman in Salem, Mass., 1824-1844; member of the state house of representatives 1840-1849; defeated as the Whig candidate for the Thirty-second Congress; mayor of Salem, Mass., in 1852; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1853; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); defeated for reelection; member of the state senate in 1857-1858 and served as president of that body; again a member of the state house of representatives 1859-1860; died in Salem, Mass., June 14, 1875.

Upham, George Baxter, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Brookfield, Mass., December 9, 1769; was graduated from Harvard college in 1789; member of the state house of representatives and served two years as speaker; elected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803); died in Claremont, N. H., February 10, 1848.

Upham, Jabez, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Brookfield, Mass., August 23, 1764; was graduated from Harvard college in 1785; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Sturbridge, Mass.; later went to Claremont, N. H.; moved to Brookfield, Mass., and practiced law; member of the state house of representatives in 1804, 1805, 1806, and 1811; elected to the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1807, until his resignation in 1810; died in Brookfield, Mass., November 8, 1811.

Upham, Nathaniel, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Deerfield, N. H., June 9, 1774; pursued classical studies; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1823); died in Rochester, N. H., July 10, 1829.

Upham, William, a Senator from Vermont; born in Leicester, Mass., August 5, 1792; moved with his father, to Vermont in 1802; was graduated from the University of Vermont; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Montpelier, Vt., in 1812; served in the state house of representatives in 1827-1828; state attorney for Washington county in 1829; again a member of the state house of representatives in 1830; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate in 1843; reelected in 1849 and served from March 4, 1843, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 14, 1853.

Upson, Columbus, a Representative from Texas; born in Onondaga county, N. Y., October 17, 1829; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Syracuse, N. Y., in 1851; settled in San Antonio, Tex., in 1854 and engaged in the practice of law; served in the Confederate army as a volunteer, with rank of colonel, on the staff of Gen. W. H. C. Whiting; appointed by the Confederacy associate justice of Arizona in 1862; Democratic presidential elector in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Gustave Schleicher; reelected to the Forty-seventh Congress and served from June 2, 1879, to March 3, 1883; resumed the practice of law.

Upson, Charles, a Representative from Michigan; born in Southington, Conn., March 19, 1821; pursued classical studies; taught school in Farmington, Conn.; studied law at the Yale law school; was admitted to the bar in 1847, and began practice in St. Joseph's county, Mich.; elected county clerk in 1848; prosecuting attorney two years; member of the state senate 1855-1856; moved to Coldwater, Mich., in 1856, and practiced law; elected attorney general of Michigan in 1861 and 1862; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1869); judge of the fifteenth circuit court from 1869 until his resignation, December 31, 1872; member of the commission to revise the state constitution in 1873; declined the position of commissioner of indian affairs in 1876; died in Coldwater, Mich., September, 1885.

Upson, William Hanford, a Representative from Ohio; born in Worthington, Franklin county, Ohio, January 11, 1823; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Western Reserve college in 1842; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Akron, Ohio; member of the state senate 1854-1855; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); appointed associate justice of the supreme court of Ohio in 1883; elected judge of the circuit court of Ohio in 1884, and served till 1894; died in Akron, Ohio, April 13, 1911.

Upton, Charles Horace, a Representative from Virginia; born in Belfast, Me., August 23, 1812; was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1834; moved to Falls Church, Va.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); United States consul to Geneva, Switzerland; died in Geneva, Switzerland, June 17, 1877.

Urner, Milton G., a Representative from Maryland; born in Liberty District, Frederick county, Md., July 29, 1839; attended the common schools, and Freeland seminary, Montgomery county, Pa., also Dickinson seminary, Williamsport, Pa.; taught school; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1863; elected state attorney for his native county in 1871, serving four years; Republican presidential elector at large for Maryland in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883).

Vail, George, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Morristown, N. J., July 21, 1809; completed preparatory studies; attended Morris academy in Morristown, N. J.; manufacturer of telegraph instruments; appointed by the governor of New Jersey to represent the state at the world's fair in London, England, in 1851; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); United States consul to Glasgow, England, 1858-1861; returned to this country and settled in Morristown, N. J.; member of the court of pardons; judge of the New Jersey court of errors and appeals; died in Morristown, N. J., May 23, 1875.

Vail, Henry, a Representative from New York; a native of New York; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); died in Troy, N. Y., June 25, 1833.

Valentine, Edward K., a Representative from Nebraska; born in Keosauqua, Van Buren county, Iowa, June 1, 1843; attended the common schools; enlisted in the Union army for the Civil war in the sixty-seventh Illinois infantry; promoted to second lieutenant and honorably discharged; in the spring of 1863 reenlisted as a private in the seventh Iowa cavalry; promoted to adjutant of the regiment and served until June, 1866, having been twice breveted for "efficient and meritorious services"; located in Nebraska in 1866; appointed register of the United States land office in Omaha in 1869; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected judge of the sixth judicial district in 1875; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1885); died in West Point, Nebr.

Valk, William W., a Representative from New York; a native of South Carolina; moved to Flushing, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857).

Vallandigham, Clement Laird, a Representative from Ohio; born in New Lisbon, Columbiana county, Ohio, July 29, 1820; attended a classical school conducted by his father and Jefferson college, Canonsburg, Pa.; moved to Maryland and for two years preceptor of Union academy, in Snow Hill; removed to New Lisbon, Ohio, in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and began practice in Dayton, Ohio; member of the state legislature 1845-1846; edited the Daily Empire 1847-1849; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Cincinnati in 1856; successfully contested, as a Democrat, the election of Lewis D. Campbell to the Thirty-fifth Congress; reelected to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses, and served from May 25, 1858, to March 3, 1863; defeated for reelection to the Thirty-eighth Congress; arrested by the Union military authorities in 1863 for treasonable utterance and banished to the Confederacy; went from Wilmington to Bermuda and thence to Canada, where he remained until after the war; during his exile was defeated as the Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Chicago in 1864 and in New York in 1868; unsuccessful candidate for United States Senator in 1868; died in Lebanon, Ohio, June 17, 1871.

Van Aernam, Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Marcellus, N. Y., March 11, 1819; pursued an academic course; studied medicine at the Geneva and Willoughby medical colleges and practiced; member of the state legislature in 1858; surgeon in the Union army 1862-1864; elected to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869); Commissioner of Pensions 1869-1871; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); resumed the practice of his profession in Franklinville, N. Y., and died there, June 1, 1894.

Van Allen, James Q., a Representative from New York; a native of Rensselaer county, N. Y.; attended the public schools; member of the state house of representatives in 1804; elected to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1809).

Van Allen, John E., a Representative from New York; a native of Rensselaer county, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; elected to the Third, Fourth, and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1799); member of the state house of representatives 1800-1801.

Van Alstyne, Thomas Jefferson, a Representative from New York; born in Richmondville, Schoharie county, N. Y., July 25, 1827; attended the common schools and Moravia academy, Hartwick seminary, and was graduated from Hamilton college in 1848; studied law in Albany and was admitted to the bar in 1849; judge of Albany county 1871-1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); mayor of Albany, N. Y., 1898-1900; died in Albany, N. Y., October 26, 1903.

Van Auken, Daniel Myers, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pike county, Pa., January 15, 1826; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Milford, Pa.; prosecuting attorney of Pike county 1855-1859; elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); resumed the practice of law in Milford, Pa.; served as district attorney 1893-1896; died in Milford, Pa., November 7, 1908.

Van Buren, John, a Representative from New York; born in Kingston, N. Y., May 13, 1799; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Kingston, N. Y.; member of the state assembly 1831; judge of Ulster county 1836-1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); district attorney 1846; died in Kingston, N. Y., January 16, 1855.

Van Buren, Martin, a Senator from New York; born in Kinderhook, N. Y., December 5, 1782; attended the district schools and Kinderhook academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in New York City, and in 1803 began practice in Kinderhook, N. Y.; moved to Hudson, N. Y., in 1809; surrogate of Columbia county; member of the state senate 1813-1820; attorney general of New York 1815-1819; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1821; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1827 and served from March 4, 1821, to 1828, when he resigned to become governor of New York; resigned March 12, 1829, to become Secretary of State of the United States, and resigned August 1, 1831, having been appointed minister to Great Britain, but the Senate rejected the nomination; elected Vice President in 1832; elected President of the United States in 1836; defeated as the Democratic candidate in 1840 for reelection; the antislavery candidate for President in 1848; died in Kinderhook, N. Y., July 24, 1862.

Van Cortlandt, Philip, a Representative from New York; born in New York City, August 21, 1749; pursued classical studies; attended Coldenham academy, and was graduated from Columbia college in 1758; became a civil engineer; served in the Revolutionary army and mustered out of the service as brigadier general; delegate to the state convention which adopted the Federal Constitution in 1788; member of the state assembly 1788-1790; served in the state senate 1791-1793; elected as a Democrat to the Third, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1809; died in Van Cortlandt Manor, Groton, N. Y., November 1, 1831.

Van Cortlandt, Jr., Pierre, a Representative from New York; born in Van Cortlandt Manor, Groton, N. Y., August 29, 1762; attended the common schools and was graduated from Rutgers college, New Brunswick, N. J.; studied law in the office of Alexander Hamilton, and was admitted to bar; member of the state assembly 1811-1812; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); presidential elector on the Jefferson ticket in 1800 and on the Harrison ticket in 1840; died in Peekskill, N. Y., July 13, 1848.

Van Duzer, Clarence Dunn, a Representative from Nevada; born near Mountain City, Nev., May 4, 1866; attended the public schools and was graduated from the State University of Nevada in 1889 and Georgetown law college in 1893; was admitted to practice in the supreme court of the District of Columbia in 1893; appointed by the governor of Nevada in 1892 state land agent, to reside in Washington city; engaged in mining; elected district attorney of Humboldt county in 1898; elected to the state house of representatives in 1900 and served as speaker; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); resumed mining operations in Nevada; a resident of Gold Range, Nev.

Van Dyke, John, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Lamington, N. J., April 3, 1807; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1836, and began practice in New Brunswick, N. J.; mayor of New Brunswick 1846-1847; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851); judge of the New Jersey supreme court 1859-1866; member of the state senate; moved to Minnesota in 1868; judge of the third judicial district; died in Wabasha, Minn., December 24, 1878.

Van Dyke, Nicholas, a Delegate from Delaware; born in Newcastle county, Del., September 25, 1738; studied law in Philadelphia, Pa., was admitted to the bar in 1765, and practiced in New Castle county; deputy to the state constitutional convention of July, 1776; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1777-1782; signer of the articles of confederation; member of the commission of five to consider the admission of New Hampshire into the Union in 1781; member of the council of Delaware in 1777, and served as its speaker in 1779; appointed judge of admiralty February 21, 1777; served as president of Delaware from February 1, 1783, until his death in New Castle county, Del., February 19, 1789.

Van Dyke, Nicholas, a Representative and a Senator from Delaware; born in New Castle, Del., December 20, 1769; was graduated from Princeton college in 1788; studied law, was admitted to the bar in New Castle, Del., in April, 1792; member of the state legislature in 1799; elected as a Federalist to the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1811); served in the state senate 1815–1817; elected to the United States Senate in 1817; reelected in 1823, and served from March 4, 1817, until his death in New Castle, Del., May 21, 1826.

Van Eaton, Henry S., a Representative from Mississippi; born in Hamilton county, Ohio, September 14, 1826; was graduated from Illinois college; moved to Woodville, Miss., in 1848; taught school; studied law and was admitted to the bar; elected district attorney in 1858; member of the state legislature in 1859; enlisted in the Confederate army and served during the Civil war; resumed the practice of law; appointed chancellor of the Tenth Mississippi district in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); died May 30, 1893.

Van Gaasbeck, Peter, a Representative from New York; born in Ulster county, N. Y.; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1795).

Van Horn, Burt, a Representative from New York; born in Newfane, Niagara county, N. Y., October 28, 1823; attended Yates academy in Orleans county and Colgate university of New York; engaged in fruit growing; member of the state assembly 1858–1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); reelected to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1869); engaged in real estate business; died in Lockport, N. Y., April 1, 1876.

Van Horn, George, a Representative from New York; born in Otsego county, N. Y., February 5, 1850; attended the common schools, the Cooperstown seminary, and the New Berlin academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in February, 1871, and practiced in Cooperstown, N. Y.; elected clerk of Otsego county in 1881, and reelected in 1884; twice elected supervisor of Otsego; member of the Democratic county committee; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); died in Cooperstown, N. Y., May 3, 1904.

Van Horn, Robert Thompson, a Representative from Missouri; born in East Mahoning, Indiana county, Pa., May 19, 1824; attended the common schools; apprenticed to a printer; moved to Ohio in 1844, and in 1855 settled in Kansas City, Mo.; established the Kansas City Journal; elected mayor of Kansas City in 1861 and again in 1865; enlisted in the Union Army during the Civil war and was lieutenant colonel of the twenty-fifth Missouri volunteer infantry; member of the state senate 1862–1864; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1865–

March 3, 1871); collector of internal revenue of the sixth district of Missouri 1875–1881; delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1864, 1868, 1872, 1876, and 1880; reelected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); successfully contested the election of John C. Tarsney to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from February 27, 1896, to March 3, 1897; resides in Kansas City, Mo.

Van Horne, Archibald, a Representative from Maryland; elected to the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1811).

Van Horne, Espy, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Lycoming county, Pa.; elected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1829); died in Williamsport, Pa., June 25, 1829.

Van Horne, Isaac, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Bucks county, Pa., January 13, 1754; served in the Revolutionary Army; elected to the Seventh and Eighth Congresses (March 4, 1801–March 3, 1805); receiver of public moneys in Zanesville, Ohio, 1805–1826; died in Zanesville, Ohio, February 2, 1834.

Van Houton, Isaac B., a Representative from New York; a native of Rockland county, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); died in Clarkstown, N. Y.

Van Ness, John Peter, a Representative from New York; born in Ghent, N. Y., in 1770; completed preparatory studies and attended Columbia college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, but never practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh Congress; lost his seat in Congress by accepting the position as major of the Militia of the District of Columbia January 17, 1803; elected mayor of Washington, D. C.; held several local positions; died in Washington, D. C., March 7, 1847.

Van Rensselaer, Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., in 1810; was graduated from West Point Military Academy in 1831; commissioned brevet second lieutenant of the fifth United States infantry July 1, 1831, and resigned January 27, 1832; engaged in agriculture pursuits near Ogdensburg, N. Y.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); served in the Union army as a colonel; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 23, 1864.

Van Rensselaer, Jeremiah, a Representative from New York; born in New York in 1741; was graduated from Princeton college in 1758; took an active interest in the Revolutionary war; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1791); presidential elector in 1801; lieutenant-governor of New York 1801–1804; died in Albany, N. Y., February 22, 1810.

Van Rensselaer, Killian K., a Representative from New York; born in Greenbush, Rensselaer county, N. Y., June 9, 1763; completed preparatory studies and attended Yale college; studied law and was admitted to the bar; private secretary to Gen. Schuyler; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1801–March 3, 1811); died in Albany, N. Y., June 18, 1845.

Van Rensselaer, Solomon, a Representative from New York; born in Rensselaer county, N. Y., August 6, 1774; completed preparatory studies; entered the United States Army; promoted to captain of a volunteer company; again promoted to major January 8, 1799, and mustered out in June, 1800; adjutant-general of state militia in 1801, 1810, and 1813; served in the war of 1812 as lieutenant-colonel of New York volunteers; elected as a Federalist to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses and served from March 4, 1819, to January 14, 1822, when he resigned; postmaster at Albany, N. Y., 1823-1839; delegate from New York at the opening of the Erie Canal November 4, 1825; died near Albany, N. Y., April 23, 1852.

Van Rensselaer, Stephen, a Representative from New York; born in New York City, November 1, 1764; attended Princeton college and was graduated from Harvard college in 1782; member of the state assembly 1789-1791 and 1798; served in the state senate 1791-1796; elected lieutenant-governor of New York in 1795; major of militia in 1786, colonel in 1788, and major-general in 1801; major-general of volunteers in the war of 1812; member of the canal commission 1816-1839, and served four-teen years as its president; reelected to the state assembly in 1818; member of the state constitutional convention of 1821; elected as an Adams man to the Seventeenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Solomon Van Rensselaer; reelected to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses, and served from March 12, 1822, to March 3, 1829; died in Albany, N. Y., January 26, 1839.

Van Schaick, Isaac W., a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Cöxsackie, Greene county, N. Y., December 7, 1817; attended the common schools; engaged in the manufacture of flour; moved to Wisconsin in 1861; elected to the Milwaukee common council in 1871; member of the state assembly 1872-1874; served in the state senate 1877-1878, 1879-1880, and 1881-1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); reelected to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); died August 22, 1901.

Van Trump, Philadelph, a Representative from Ohio; born in Lancaster, Ohio, November 15, 1810; completed preparatory studies; editor of the Lancaster Gazette and Enquirer; delegate to the Whig national convention in 1852; president of the Bell and Everett state convention in 1860; judge of the court of common pleas 1862-1866; elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1873).

Van Valkenburg, Robert Bruce, a Representative from New York; born in Prattsburg, Steuben county, N. Y., September 4, 1821; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Bath, N. Y.; member of the state assembly in 1852, 1857, and 1858; in command of the recruiting depot in Elmira, N. Y., and organized seventeen regiments for the civil war; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865); took the field as colonel of the one hundred and seventh regiment of New York volunteers, and was its commander at the battle of Antietam; appointed acting commissioner of Indian affairs in 1895; United States minister to Japan 1866-1869; returned and became a resident of Florida; associate justice of the state supreme court until his death in Suwanee Springs, Fla., August 2, 1888.

Van Voorhis, Henry Clay, a Representative from Ohio; born in Licking township, Muskingum county, Ohio, May 11, 1852; attended the public schools and Denison university; was admitted to the bar in 1874, and practiced in Zanesville, Ohio; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1884; elected as a Republican to Fifty-third, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1905); engaged in the banking business and resides in Zanesville, Ohio.

Van Voorhis, John, a Representative from New York; born in Decatur, Otsego county, N. Y., October 22, 1826; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Rochester, N. Y.; member of the board of education in 1857; city attorney in 1859; appointed collector of internal revenue in 1862; delegate to the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); reelected to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Rochester, N. Y., and died there, October 20, 1905.

Van Vorhes, Nelson Holmes, a Representative from Ohio; born in Washington county, Pa., January 23, 1822; moved in 1832 to Athens county, Ohio; engaged in agricultural pursuits; an apprentice to a printer for six years; member of the state house of representatives 1850-1872 and served four years as speaker; elected probate judge in 1854, but resigned; defeated in 1858 as a Whig candidate for Congress; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1860; entered the Union army as a private in 1861 and was mustered out as colonel; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); died in Athens, Ohio, December 4, 1882.

Van Winkle, Marshall, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Jersey City, N. J., September 28, 1869; attended the public schools; studied law, and was admitted to the bar; appointed counsel to the county tax board, but resigned; assistant prosecutor of the pleas of Hudson county, N. J.; resumed the practice of law; defeated for Congress in 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); resumed the practice of law in Jersey City, N. J.

Van Winkle, Peter Godwin, a Senator from West Virginia; born in New York City, September 7, 1808; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1835 began practice in Parkersburg, Va.; abandoned his profession and became treasurer and later president of a railroad company in 1852; member of the Virginia constitutional convention in 1850; member of the Wheeling reorganization convention in 1861; member of the West Virginia constitutional convention which framed the constitution of West Virginia; served in the state house of representatives in 1863; elected as a Union man to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1863, to March 3, 1869; delegate to the Loyalist's convention at Philadelphia, Pa., in 1866; died in Parkersburg, W. Va., April 15, 1872.

Van Wyck, Charles Henry, a Representative from New York and a Senator from Nebraska; born in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 10, 1824; was graduated from Rutgers college, New Brunswick, N. J.; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1847; moved to Sullivan county; district attorney from 1850 to 1856; elected as a Republican from New York to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1863); entered the Union army as colonel of the Tenth Legion, or Fifty-sixth New York volunteers, and commanded it during the civil war; breveted brigadier-general for services during the war; reelected from New York to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1871); moved to Nebraska in 1871, and engaged in agricultural pursuits; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1876; member of the state senate 1876–1880; elected as a Republican to the United State Senate and served from March 4, 1881, to March 3, 1887; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; defeated as the Populist candidate for governor of Nebraska in 1892; died in Washington, D. C., October 24, 1895.

Van Wyck, William W., a Representative from New York; born near Fishkill, Dutchess county, N. Y., August 9, 1777; attended public schools and Fishkill academy; engaged in farming; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1825); moved to Studley, Fairfax county, Va., and engaged in planting; returned to Dutchess county, N. Y., and died in Fishkill, N. Y., August 27, 1840.

Vance, John, a Representative from Ohio; a native of Pennsylvania; moved to Urbana, Ohio; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823).

Vance, John Luther, a Representative from Ohio; born in Gallipolis, Ohio, July 19, 1839; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Gallipolis, Ohio; enlisted in the Union army in 1861 and served as captain, and in December, 1864, was mustered out of the service as commandant of his regiment; established the Gallipolis Bulletin in 1867; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Baltimore in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); defeated for reelection; a resident of Columbus, Ohio.

Vance, Joseph, a Representative from Ohio; born in Washington county, Pa., March 21, 1786; moved with his father to Kentucky in 1788, and from there to Urbana, Ohio; captain of a rifle company in 1809; member of the state house of representatives 1812–1814, 1815–1816, and 1819–1820; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1820; engaged in the mercantile business in Urbana and Perrysburg, Ohio; laid out the city of Findlay; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1835); governor of Ohio 1836–1838; defeated for reelection; reelected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); delegate to the Whig national convention in 1848; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1850; died near Urbana, Ohio, August 24, 1852.

Vance, Robert Brank, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Buncombe county, N. C.; moved to Nashville, Nash county, N. C.; attended the common schools; held several local positions; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825).

Vance, Robert Brank, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Buncombe county, N. C., April 24, 1828; attended the common schools; clerk of the court of pleas and quarter sessions 1848–1856; elected captain of a company in the Confederate army during the Civil war; twice elected colonel of the twenty-ninth North Carolina regiment, and appointed brigadier general in 1863; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third, and to the five succeeding congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1885); appointed United States commissioner of patents in 1885; died in Asheville, N. C., November 28, 1899.

Vance, Robert Johnstone, a Representative from Connecticut; born in New York City March 15, 1854; attended the common schools; moved to New Britain, Conn., and attended the high school; city clerk of New Britain from 1878 to 1887, when he resigned; member of the Connecticut legislature in 1886; served as labor commissioner 1893–1895; mayor of New Britain, Conn., 1896–1897; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1902; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889); engaged in newspaper work and became editor of the New Britain Herald; died in Montreat, N. C., June 15, 1902.

Vance, Zebulon Baird, a Representative and a Senator from North Carolina; born in Buncombe county, N. C., May 13, 1830; attended Washington college, Tennessee, and the University of North Carolina; studied law, was admitted to the bar in January, 1852, and commenced practice in Asheville, N. C.; elected county attorney for Buncombe county in 1852; member of the state house of commons in 1854; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas L. Clingman; reelected to the Thirty-sixth Congress and served from December 7, 1858, to March 3, 1861; entered the Confederate army as captain in May, 1861, and made colonel in August, 1861; governor of North Carolina 1862–1866; member of the Democratic national convention of 1868; elected to the United States Senate in November, 1870, but was refused admission by the provisions of the fourteenth amendment and resigned in January, 1872; unsuccessful Democratic candidate to the United States Senate in 1872; again governor of North Carolina in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1879; reelected in 1884 and 1890, and served from March 4, 1879, until his death in Asheville, N. C., April 14, 1894.

Vanderpoel, Aaron, a Representative from New York; born in Kinderhook, Columbia county, N. Y., February 5, 1790; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1820, and began practice in Kinderhook, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives 1826–1830; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1837); defeated for reelection to the Twenty-fifth Congress; reelected to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841); retired from political life and settled in New York City; judge of the superior court in 1842–1850; died in New York City, July 17, 1871.

Vanderveer, Abraham, a Representative from New York; born in Kings county, N. Y., in 1781; attended the common schools; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); died in Brooklyn, N. Y., July 21, 1839.

Vandever, William, a Representative from Iowa and California; born in Baltimore, Md., March 31, 1817; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; moved to Illinois in 1839 and to Iowa in 1851; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1852; elected as a Republican from Iowa to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses and served from March 4, 1859, to September 24, 1861, when he was mustered into the Union army as colonel of the ninth regiment Iowa infantry; promoted to brigadier general of volunteers in 1862, and brevetted a major general in 1865; resumed his law practice in Iowa; appointed by President Grant United States Indian inspector in 1873 and served four years; moved to San Buenaventura, Cal., in 1884; elected as a Republican from California to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891); died in Ventura, Cal., July 23, 1893.

Vandiver, Willard Duncan, a Representative from Missouri; born in Hardy county, W. Va., March 30, 1854; attended the common schools and Central college, Fayette, Mo.; elected professor of natural science in Bellevue institute and later became its president; accepted the chair of science in the state normal school in Cape Girardeau, Mo.; in 1889, and in 1893 became its president; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1905).

Vanmeter, John J., a Representative from Ohio; a native of Ohio; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845).

Vansant, Joshua, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., in 1804; completed preparatory studies; postmaster of Baltimore, Md., 1839–1841; member of the state house of representatives in 1845; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); member of the state constitutional convention; mayor of Baltimore in 1871–1875; appointed city comptroller of Baltimore in 1876.

Varnum, James Mitchell, a Delegate from Rhode Island; born in Dracut, Mass., December 17, 1748; was graduated from Brown university, Warren, R. I., in 1769; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1771, and began practice in East Greenwich, R. I.; served in the Revolutionary army, and was colonel of the "Kentish Guards" in 1774, and of Varnum's Rhode Island regiment in 1775; commissioned colonel of the ninth Continental infantry in 1776; brigadier general of state troops December 12, 1776; brigadier general in the Continental army February 21, 1777; was honorably discharged March 5, 1779; appointed major general of state militia in May, 1779; resumed the practice of law in East Greenwich, Conn.; sat in the Continental Congress 1780–1782 and 1786–1787; appointed a judge of the United States court in the Northwest territory and moved to Marietta, Ohio, in 1788, and died there January 10, 1789.

Varnum, John, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Essex county, Mass., in 1783; was graduated from Harvard college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Haverhill, Mass.; elected to the Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1831); moved to Niles, Mich., where he died, July 23, 1836.

Varnum, Joseph Bradley, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Dracut, Mass., February 29, 1750; completed preparatory studies; served in Revolutionary army; commissioned colonel of the seventh regiment of Massachusetts militia April 4, 1787; brigadier general November 22, 1802, and major general June 12, 1805; served in both branches of the state legislature; justice of the court of common pleas, and chief justice of the court of general sessions; delegate in the state convention that ratified the Federal constitution in 1788; elected to the Fourth, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1795–March 3, 1811); was Speaker of the House during the Tenth and Eleventh Congresses; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1811, to March 3, 1817; elected President of the Senate pro tempore December 6, 1813; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1820; again a state senator 1817–1821; died in Dracut, Mass., September 11, 1821.

Vaughan, William W., a Representative from Tennessee; born near Legardo, Wilson county, Tenn., in 1837; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); candidate for reelection to the Forty-third Congress, but died while making the canvass in Crockett Mills, Crockett county, Tenn., August 19, 1878; interment in Haywood county.

Vaux, Richard, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 19, 1816; educated by private tutors at Friend's school; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1837; secretary of legation under Andrew Stevenson; private secretary to the United States minister in London, England; returned to Philadelphia in 1839; delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1840; recorder of deeds of Philadelphia, 1842–1849; elected mayor of Philadelphia in 1856; member of the board of directors of Girard college, 1859–1866, and served as president of the board, 1863–1865; comptroller of public schools; president of the board of inspectors of the state penitentiary for the eastern district of Pennsylvania; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Samuel J. Randall, and served from May 20, 1890, to March 3, 1891; died in Philadelphia, Pa., March 22, 1895.

Veeder, William Davis, a Representative from New York; born in Guilderland, Albany county, N. Y., May 19, 1835; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1858; served in the state assembly 1865–1866; delegate to the Democratic state convention in 1875 and 1877; member of the state constitutional convention 1867–1868; surrogate of Kings County, N. Y., 1867-1877; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); member of the state constitutional convention 1887-1888; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., December 2, 1910.

Vehslage, John H. G., a Representative from New York; born in New York City, December 20, 1842; attended the public schools; entered the coal and wood business in 1865; joined the third cavalry, New York national guard, in 1863, and was commissioned captain, February 15, 1864; appointed captain, and continued in service until 1880; member of the state assembly; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899).

Venable, Abraham B., a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Prince Edward county, Va., in 1760; was graduated from Princeton college in 1780; engaged as a planter in his native country; elected to the Second, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1791-March 3, 1799); elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Stevens T. Mason, and served from December 7, 1803, to June 7, 1804, when he resigned; perished at the burning of the theater in Richmond, Va., December 26, 1811.

Venable, Abraham Watkins, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Prince Edward county, Va., October 17, 1799; was graduated from Hampden-Sidney college in 1816; studied medicine, and was graduated from Princeton college in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1821, and began practice in North Carolina; presidential elector on the Jackson ticket in 1832 and on the Van Buren ticket in 1836; elected to the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1853); presidential elector in 1860 on the Breckinridge and Lane ticket; delegate from North Carolina to the Provisional Confederate Congress in 1861; died in Oxford, N. C., February 24, 1876.

Venable, Edward Carrington, a Representative from Virginia; born in Prince Edward county, Va., January 31, 1853; attended McCabe's university high school, in Petersburg, and the University of Virginia; taught school for three years; moved to Petersburg, Va., in 1876; presented credentials as a member-elect to the Fifty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1889, to September 23, 1890, when he was succeeded by John M. Langston, who contested his election.

Verplanck, Daniel Crommelin, a Representative from New York; born in New York City, N. Y., March 19, 1762; was graduated from Columbia college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1809); judge of the court of common pleas 1828-1830; died near Fishkill, N. Y., March 29, 1834.

Verplanck, Gulian Crommelin, a Representative from New York; born in New York City, August 6, 1786; pursued classical studies and in 1801 was graduated from Columbia college; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1807; member of the state assembly, 1820-1823; professor of the evidences of Christianity at the General Theological seminary, New York City 1821-1824; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1833); defeated as a Whig candidate for mayor of New York City in 1834; member of the state senate 1838-1841; governor of the city hospital 1823-1865; president of the board of commissioners of emigration 1846-1870; regent of the state university 1826-1870, and vice chancellor 1858-1870; member of the New York historical society; died in New York City, March 18, 1870.

Verree, John P., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1819; completed preparatory studies; iron manufacturer; member of the Philadelphia city council for six years; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863).

Vest, George Graham, a Senator from Missouri; born in Frankfort, Ky., December 6, 1830; was graduated from Center college, Kentucky, in 1848, and the law department of Transylvania university, in Lexington, Ky., in 1853; was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Georgetown, Mo.; moved to Boonville, Mo., in 1856; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1860; member of the Missouri house of representatives 1860-1861; member of the house of representatives of the Confederate congress for two years and a member of the Confederate senate for one year; resumed the practice of law in Sedalia, Mo., in 1865; moved to Kansas City in 1877; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1885, 1891, and 1897, and served from March 4, 1879, to March 3, 1903; died in Kansas City, Mo., July 9, 1904.

Vibbard, Chauncey, a Representative from New York; born in Galway, Saratoga county, N. Y., November 11, 1811; attended the common schools and was graduated from Motts academy for boys in Albany, N. Y.; clerk in a wholesale grocery store in Albany, N. Y.; moved to New York City, and in 1834 went to Montgomery, Ala.; moved to Schenectady, N. Y.; was appointed chief clerk of the Utica and Schenectady railroad company, in 1836; became a railroad freight and ticket agent, subsequently was the first general superintendent of the New York Central railroad; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); director and superintendent of military railroads in 1862; died in Macon, Ga., June 6, 1891.

Vickers, George, a Senator from Maryland; born in Chestertown, Kent county, Md., November 19, 1801; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1832, and began practice in Chestertown, Mo.; delegate to the Whig national convention in Baltimore in 1852; major general of the state militia in 1861; presidential elector in 1864 on the McClellan and Pendleton ticket; vice president of the Union convention in Philadelphia in 1866; member of the state senate 1866-1867; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1867, and served from March 9, 1868, to March 3, 1873; resumed the practice of law in Chestertown, Md., and died there, October 8, 1879.

Vidal, Michael, a Delegate from Louisiana; born in France; completed preparatory studies and emigrated to the republic of Texas; delegate to the Louisiana state constitutional convention in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1869).

Viele, Egbert Ludoricus, a Representative from New York; born in Waterford, Saratoga county, N. Y., June 17, 1825; attended the Albany academy, Albany, N. Y.; was graduated from the United States military academy, West Point, July 1, 1847; commissioned brevet second lieutenant in the second United States infantry; served in the Mexican war, 1847–1848; promoted to second lieutenant first United States infantry, September 8, 1847; became a civil and military engineer; appointed state engineer of New Jersey in 1855; appointed engineer in chief of Central Park, New York, in 1856; appointed engineer of Prospect Park, Brooklyn, in 1860; appointed captain of the engineer corps of the seventh New York regiment in 1860; appointed brigadier general of United States volunteers in 1861; military governor of Norfolk, Va., in 1862; appointed president of the department of public parks in New York City in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1887); died in New York City, April 22, 1902.

Vilas, William Freeman, a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Chelsea, Orange county, Vt., July 9, 1840; moved with his parents to Madison, Wis., June 4, 1851; was graduated from the state university in 1858, and from the law department of the University of Albany, N. Y., in 1860; was admitted to the bar and began practice in Madison, Wis., July 9, 1860; enlisted in the Union army for the Civil war; captain of company A, twenty-third regiment Wisconsin infantry volunteers, and afterwards major and lieutenant colonel of the regiment; professor of law at the state university; regent of the university 1880–1885; one of three revisers appointed by the supreme court of Wisconsin in 1875 to prepare the existing revised body of the statute law adopted in 1878; member of state assembly in 1885; delegate to the Democratic national conventions in 1876, 1880, 1884, and permanent chairman of the latter; Postmaster General of the United States under President Cleveland from March 7, 1885, to January 16, 1888; Secretary of the Interior of the United States to March 6, 1889; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate January 28, 1891, and served from March 4, 1891, to March 3, 1897; resumed the practice of law; member of the commission for the building of the state capitol in 1907; died in Madison, Wis., August 28, 1908.

Vincent, William Davis, a Representative from Kansas; born near Dresden, Tenn., October 11, 1852; moved with his parents to Riley county, Kans., in 1862; attended the public schools and the state agricultural college in Manhattan, Kans.; engaged in mercantile business in Clay Center, Kans.; elected member of the city council in 1880; one of the nominees of the Greenback party for presidential elector in 1884; member of the state board of railroad commissioners in 1893 and 1894; elected as a Populist to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1899); engaged in the hardware business in Clay Center, Kans.

Vining, John, a Delegate, a Representative, and a Senator from Delaware; born in Dover, Del., December 23, 1758; studied law and was admitted to the bar, February 21, 1772; sat in the Continental Congress 1784–1786; member of the state house of representatives 1787–1788; elected to the First and Second Congresses March 4, 1789–March 3, 1793); elected to the state senate in 1793; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1793, to January 9, 1798, when he resigned; died in Dover, Del., in February, 1802.

Vinton, Samuel Finley, a Representative from Ohio; born in South Hadley, Mass., September 25, 1792; was graduated from Williams college, Massachusetts, in 1814; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1816, and began practice in Gallipolis, Ohio; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Eighteenth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1837); presidential elector on the Harrison and Tyler ticket in 1841; reelected to the Twenty-eighth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1851); appointed by President Lincoln in 1862 to appraise the slaves emancipated in the District of Columbia; died in Washington, D. C., May 11, 1862.

Volstead, Andrew Joseph, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Goodhue county, Minn., in 1860; attended the public schools, St. Olaf's college, and graduated from Decorah institute; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1883, and commenced practice in Lac qui Parle in 1884; president of the board of education; city attorney of Granite Falls; mayor of Granite Falls 1900–1902; county attorney of Yellow Medicine county, 1884–1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Voorhees, Charles Stewart, a Delegate from the territory of Washington; born in Covington, Ind., June 4, 1853; was graduated from Georgetown college, District of Columbia, June 26, 1873; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Terre Haute, Ind., in 1875; moved to Washington territory in 1882 and located in Colfax; prosecuting attorney for Whitman county in 1882; elected as a Democrat to Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889).

Voorhees, Daniel Wolsey, a Representative and a Senator from Indiana; born in Butler county, Ohio, June 12, 1827; was graduated from the Indiana Asbury university in 1849; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1851; United States district attorney for Indiana 1858–1861; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1865); presented credentials as a member-elect to the Thirty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1865, to February 23, 1866, when he was succeeded by Henry D. Washburn, who contested his election; reelected to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1873); defeated as a Democratic candidate for the Forty-fifth Congress; appointed, and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Oliver P. Morton; reelected in 1885 and 1891, and served from November 6, 1877, until March 3, 1897; died in Washington, D. C., April 9, 1897.

Voorhis, Charles H., a Representative from New Jersey; born in Spring Valley, Bergen county, N. J., March 13, 1833; was graduated from Rutgers college, New Jersey, in 1853; was admitted to the bar in 1856; appointed in 1868 presiding judge for Bergen county, N. J.; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); died in 1896.

Vose, Roger, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Milton, Mass., February 24, 1763; moved with parents to New Hampshire in 1766; was graduated from Harvard university in 1790; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Walpole, N. H., in 1793; served in both branches of the state legislature; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1817); died in Walpole, N. H., October 28, 1841.

Vreeland, Edward Butterfield, a Representative from New York; born in Cuba, Allegany county, N. Y., December 7, 1857; pursued an academic course; superintendent of the schools of Salamanca, Cal., 1877–1882; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1881; president of the Salamanca national bank; engaged in the banking, oil, and insurance business; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Warren B. Hooker; reelected to the Fifty-seventh, and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from December 4, 1899, to March 3, 1911; vice chairman of the national monetary commission. Re-elected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Vroom, Peter Dumont, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Hillsboro township, Somerset county, N. J., December 12, 1791; attended Somerville academy and was graduated from Columbia college, New York, in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1813, and began practice; member of the state house of representatives 1826–1827 and 1829; became a sergeant-at-law in 1828; elected governor of New Jersey as a Jackson Democrat in 1829, 1830, and 1831; defeated for reelection in 1832, but again elected 1833, 1834, 1835, and 1836; appointed a commissioner to adjust the claims of the Choctaw Indians in 1837; elected to the Twenty-sixth Congress, and served from March 19, 1840, until March 3, 1841; moved to Trenton, N. J.; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1844; presidential elector on the Pierce and King ticket in 1852; United States minister to Prussia 1853–1857; delegate to the peace convention in 1861; presidential elector on the Seymour ticket in 1868; died in Trenton, N. J., November 18, 1873.

Wachter, Frank Charles, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., September 16, 1861; attended the private schools; learned the trade of clothing cutter, and afterwards engaged in the business; member of the jail board of Baltimore 1896–1898; candidate for police commissioner of Baltimore before the legislature of 1898, and was defeated; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1907); died in Baltimore, Md., July 1, 1910.

Waddell, Alfred Moore, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Hillsboro, N. C., September 16, 1834; attended Bingham's school and Caldwell institute in Hillsboro, and was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1853; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1855, and began practice in Wilmington, N. C.; clerk of a court of equity 1858–1861; delegate to the national convention in Baltimore which nominated Bell and Everett in 1860; engaged in newspaper work; edited the Wilmington Daily Herald 1860–1861; lieutenant colonel of cavalry in the Confederate army; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1879); mayor of Wilmington in 1900; died in Wilmington, N. C., March 17, 1912.

Waddill, Edmund, jr., a Representative from Virginia; born in Charles City county, Va., May 22, 1855; deputy clerk of the courts of Charles City, New Kent, Hanover, and Henrico counties, and of the circuit court of the city of Richmond; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and entered upon practice in Richmond in 1878; judge of the county court of Henrico in 1880; resigned this office in 1883 to accept the office of United States attorney for the eastern district of Virginia, which position he filled till 1885; a representative in the state legislature 1885–1889; Republican nominee for Congress in 1886, and defeated; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); appointed United States judge for the eastern district of Virginia March 22, 1898.

Waddill, James Richard, a Representative from Missouri; born in Springfield, Mo., November 22, 1842; attended private schools and Springfield (Mo.) college; enlisted as a private in the Union army in 1861; rose to a first lieutenant, and resigned in 1863; resumed the study of law, and was admitted to the bar in 1864; elected prosecuting attorney of Greene county for two years in November, 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); engaged in the mining business in Joplin, Mo.

Wade, Benjamin Franklin, a Senator from Ohio; born near Springfield, Mass., October 27, 1800; attended the common schools; moved with parents to Andover, Ohio, in 1821; taught school; studied medicine in Albany, N. Y., 1823–1825; returned to Ohio; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1828, and began practice in Jefferson, Ashtabula county, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Ashtabula county 1835–1837; state senator 1837–1838; president of the third judicial court of Ohio in 1847–1851; elected to the United States Senate, and twice reelected, and served from March 4, 1851, to March 3, 1869; elected president pro tempore of the Senate December 4, 1865, and served until March 23, 1869; a delegate in the loyalist convention in Philadelphia in 1866, and a candidate for vice president in the Republican national convention of 1868; resumed the practice of law in Jefferson, Ohio, in 1869; appointed a Government director of the Pacific railroad; member of the Santo Domingo commission of 1871; chairman of the Ohio delegation in the Republican national convention of 1876; died in Jefferson, Ohio, March 2, 1878.

Wade, Edward, a Representative from Ohio; born in West Springfield, Mass., November 22, 1803; received a limited schooling; moved to Ashtabula county, Ohio, in 1821, where he studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Jefferson, in 1827; justice of the peace of Ashtabula county; moved to Unionville in 1832, and to Cleveland in 1837; elected as a Free Soil candidate to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); reelected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1861); died in Cleveland, Ohio, August 7, 1862.

Wade, Martin Joseph, a Representative from Iowa; born in Burlington, Vt., October 20, 1861; removed to Iowa at early age; attended the common schools, St. Joseph's college, Dubuque, and was graduated from the Iowa state university in 1886; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Iowa City, Iowa, 1886–1893; judge of the eighth judicial district of Iowa, 1893–1903; lecturer in college of law, Iowa state university, 1891–1903; lecturer in college of medicine, 1895–1903; president Iowa state bar association 1897–1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1905); resumed the practice of law in Iowa City, Iowa.

Wade, William Harrison, a Representative from Missouri; born in Clark county, Ohio, November 3, 1835; attended the common schools and Grove academy; engaged in farming; enlisted in the Union army April 17, 1861, and was mustered out April 26, 1866; moved to Missouri in May, 1866, and engaged in farming; member of the state house of representatives 1881–1884; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1891); died in Springfield, Mo., January 15, 1911.

Wadleigh, Bainbridge, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Bradford, N. H., January 4, 1831; completed preparatory studies; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Newport, N. H., in February, 1850; served eight years in the state legislature; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1873, to March 3, 1879; resumed the practice of law in Boston, Mass., and died there January 24, 1891.

Wadsworth, James, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Durham, Conn., July 6, 1730; received a thorough English training and was graduated from Yale college in 1748; held several local offices and was a member of the committee of safety; served in the Revolutionary army as colonel and brigadier general of Connecticut militia and as second major general in 1777; justice and later presiding justice of the court of common pleas of Connecticut; Delegate in the Continental Congress, 1783–1784, and 1785–1786; member of the executive council, 1785–1790; died in Durham, Conn., September 22, 1817.

Wadsworth, James Wolcott, a Representative from New York; born in Philadelphia, Pa., October 12, 1846; attended Hopkins grammar school, New Haven, Conn.; served in the civil war and attained the grade of major; returned to Geneseo, N. Y.; supervisor, 1875–1877; member of the state assembly, 1878–1879; state comptroller, 1880–1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Eldridge G. Lapham; reelected to the Forty-eighth Congress, and served from December 5, 1881, to March 3, 1885; again elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1907); defeated for reelection to the Sixtieth Congress; elected president of the board of managers for the National Home for disabled volunteer soldiers; resident of Geneseo, N. Y.

Wadsworth, Jeremiah, a Delegate and a Representative from Connecticut; born in Hartford, Conn., July 12, 1743; attended the common schools; prominently identified with pre-Revolutionary movements, and served as deputy and commissary-general 1775–1778; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1787–1788; member of the Connecticut convention that ratified the Federal Constitution in 1788; elected as a Federalist to the First, Second, and Third Congresses (March 4, 1789–March 3, 1795); member of the state legislature in 1795, and of the executive council 1795–1801; greatly interested in agriculture and its development; died in Hartford, Conn., April 30, 1804.

Wadsworth, Peleg, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Duxbury, Mass., May 6, 1748; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from Harvard college in 1769; became a merchant in Kingston, Mass.; served in the Revolutionary army as aide to Gen. Artemas Ward in 1776; engineer under General Thomas in 1776–1777; brigadier general of militia in 1777; adjutant general of Massachusetts in 1778; moved to Portland, Mass. (now Maine), in 1784, and became a land agent; served in the state senate in 1792; elected to the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1809); moved in 1807 to Oxford county, Me.; died in Hiram, Me., November 12, 1829.

Wadsworth, William Henry, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Maysville, Mason county, Ky., July 4, 1821; attended town and county private schools; was graduated from Augusta college, Bracken county, Ky., in 1841; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and engaged in practice in Maysville, Ky.; member of the state senate 1853–1856; president of the electoral college of Kentucky in 1860; United States commissioner to Mexico under the treaty of Washington for the adjustment of claims; elected to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1865); elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1887); died in Maysville, Mason county, Ky., April 2, 1893.

Wagener, David D., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Easton, Pa., October 11, 1792; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; established the Easton bank, and for several years was its president; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1841); died in Easton, Pa., October 1, 1860.

Waggaman, George Augustus, a Senator from Louisiana; born in Somerset county, Md., in 1782; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New Orleans; interested in sugar growing; secretary of state of Louisiana 1830-1832; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward Livingston, and served from November 15, 1831, to March 3, 1835; resumed the practice of law in New Orleans; participated as a principal in a duel and received injuries from which he died in New Orleans March 22, 1843.

Wagner, Peter J., a Representative from New York; native of New York; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841).

Wagoner, George R. C., a Representative from Missouri; successfully contested the election of James J. Butler in the Fifty-seventh Congress and served from February 26, 1903, until March 3, 1903.

Wait, John Turner, a Representative from Connecticut; born in New London, Conn., August 27, 1811; received a mercantile training and attended Trinity college, Hartford, for two years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1836, and began practice in Norwich; state attorney for the county of New London 1842-1844 and 1846-1854; elector on the Lincoln and Johnson ticket in 1864; member of the state senate 1865-1866, and served the last year as president pro tempore; member of the state house of representatives in 1867, 1871, and 1873, and served as speaker the first year and subsequently declined the position; elected to the Forty-fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Henry H. Starkweather; reelected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses and served from April 12, 1876, to March 3, 1887; resumed the practice of law; died in Norwich, Conn., April 21, 1899.

Wakefield, James Beach, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Winsted, Conn., March 21, 1825; was graduated from Trinity college, Hartford, in 1846; studied law in Painesville, Ohio, and commenced practice in Delphi, Ind., in 1852; moved to Minnesota in 1854; elected to the state house of representatives in 1858 and 1863; again elected in 1865, and speaker in the session of 1866; member of the senate 1867-1868 and 1869-1870; resigned in 1869 and appointed receiver of the United States land office in Winnebago City, Minn.; resigned in 1875 and elected lieutenant-governor for a term of two years; reelected in 1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887).

Wakeman, Abram, a Representative from New York; born in Greenfield Hills, Fairfield county, Conn., May 31, 1824; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Herkimer academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1847 began practice in New York City; served two terms in the state assembly; delegate to the national Republican convention in 1856; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857; at the outbreak of the civil war raised the eighty-first Pennsylvania volunteers and was elected its colonel, but soon after resigned; postmaster of New York City; died in New York City June 29, 1889.

Wakeman, Seth, a Representative from New York; born in Franklin, Vt., January 15, 1811; attended the common schools; moved to Batavia, N. Y., where he studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; prosecuting attorney for Genesee county 1851-1857; served in the state assembly 1856-1857; member of the constitutional convention 1867-1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); died in Batavia, N. Y., January 4, 1880.

Walbridge, David Safford, a Representative from Michigan; born in Bennington, Vt., July 30, 1802; received a limited schooling; became a merchant and also engaged in farming; moved to Kalamazoo, Mich., in 1842; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); died in Kalamazoo, Mich., June 15, 1868.

Walbridge, Henry S., a Representative from New York; born in 1809; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); died in 1869.

Walbridge, Hiram, a Representative from New York; born in Ithaca, N. Y., February 2, 1821; moved to Toledo, Ohio, in 1836; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1842 began practice in Toledo; moved to New York in 1847 and became a merchant; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); defeated as the Union candidate for the Thirty-eighth Congress; died in New York City December 6, 1870.

Walden, Hiram, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., October 16, 1779; attended the public schools; moved to Schoharie county, N. Y.; major-general of militia; member of the state assembly in 1836; supervisor of the county of Schoharie in 1842; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); died in Gallupville, N. Y., Schoharie county, June 1, 1880.

Walden, Madison Miner, a Representative from Iowa; born in Adams county, Ohio, October 6, 1836; pursued an academic course; graduated from the Wesleyan university in Delaware, Ohio, in 1859; moved to Iowa; served in the Union army (1861-1865) as captain; member of the state house of representatives 1866-1867, and of the state senate 1868-1869; lieutenant-governor in 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); died in Washington, D. C., July 24, 1891.

Waldo, George Ernest, a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., January 11, 1851; attended the public schools of Scotland, Conn., and Brooklyn, N. Y.; Doctor Fitch's academy, South Windham, Conn.; Natchaug high school, Willimantic, Conn., and was two years in Cornell university, class of 1872; studied law in New York City; was admitted to the bar in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in 1876; practiced in New York City from 1876 to 1883, and in Ulysses, Nebr., from 1883 to 1889; returned to New York City in 1889; village attorney of Ulysses, Nebr., for several years, and for four years member of the board of trustees and school director of Ulysses high school; member of New York assembly 1896; commissioner of records of Kings county, N. Y., 1899-1904; delegate to the Republican national convention of 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911).

Waldo, Loren Pinckney, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Canterbury, Conn., February 2, 1802; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in 1825 in Tolland, Conn.; state attorney for Tolland county 1837-1849; served six years in the state legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); Commissioner of Pensions under President Pierce 1853-1856, when he resigned to become judge of the superior court of Connecticut; died in Hartford, Conn., September 8, 1881.

Waldron, Henry, a Representative from Michigan; born in Albany, N. Y., October 11, 1819; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Rutgers college, New Jersey, in 1836; moved to Michigan in 1837; member of the state legislature in 1843; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1861); re-elected to the Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1877); died in Hillsdale, Mich., September 13, 1880.

Wales, George Edward, a Representative from Vermont; born in Westminster, Windham county, Vt., May 13, 1792; received a limited schooling; studied law in Westminster and Woodstock, was admitted to the bar in 1812, and entered practice in Hartford, Vt.; member of the state house of representatives 1822, 1823, and 1824, and speaker of the house during each session; elected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1829); town clerk of Hartford, Vt., in 1840-1860; judge of probate for the Hartford district 1847-1850; died in Hartford, Vt., January 8, 1860.

Wales, John, a Senator from Delaware; born in New Haven, Conn., July 31, 1783; pursued preparatory studies and was graduated from Yale college in 1801; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced first in Connecticut, and then in Baltimore, Md., 1813-1815; moved to Wilmington, Del., in 1815, and became president of a bank; secretary of state of Delaware 1845-1849; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John M. Clayton, and served from February 3, 1849, to March 3, 1851; was the founder of Delaware college, Newark, Del.; died in Wilmington, Del., December 3, 1863.

Walker, Amasa, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in East Woodstock, Conn., May 4, 1799; moved with parents to North Brookfield, Mass., where he completed preparatory studies; moved to Boston and engaged in mercantile pursuits 1825-1840; delegate in the national Democratic convention of 1836; served in both branches of the legislature 1848-1850; served two terms as secretary of the state of Massachusetts; member of the state constitutional convention of 1853; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Goldsmith F. Bailey, and served from December 1, 1862, to March 3, 1863; presidential elector on the Lincoln and Hamlin ticket in 1860; died in North Brookfield, Mass., October 29, 1875.

Walker, Benjamin, a Representative from New York; born in England in 1753; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803); died in Utica, N. Y., January 13, 1818.

Walker, Charles Christopher Brainerd, a Representative from New York; born in Drews-ville, N. H., June 27, 1824; completed preparatory studies; moved to Corning, N. Y., in 1848, and was postmaster 1856-1860; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Charleston in 1860, and in Baltimore in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); died in Corning, N. Y., January 26, 1888.

Walker, David, a Representative from Kentucky; a native of Todd county, Ky.; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses and served from March 4, 1817, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 1, 1820.

Walker, Felix, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Hampshire county, Va., July 19, 1753; moved to North Carolina, and, in company with Daniel Boone, explored Kentucky 1774-1775; returned to North Carolina and located in Rutherford county; clerk of the county 1789; member of the state house of representatives 1792-1793, 1800-1802, and 1806; elected to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1823); defeated for reelection; moved to Mississippi; died in Clinton, Miss., in 1828.

Walker, Francis, a Representative from Virginia; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795).

Walker, Freeman, a Senator from Georgia; born in Charles City county, Va., October 25, 1780; attended the public schools; moved to Augusta, Ga., in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1802, and practiced; member of the state legislature 1807; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Forsyth, and served from November 6, 1819, to August 8, 1821, when he resigned; died in Spring Hill, Richmond county, Ga., September 23, 1827.

Walker, George, a Senator from Kentucky; born in Culpeper county, Va., in 1768; attended the public schools; moved to Kentucky; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; a commissioner of the Kentucky River Company in 1801; state senator 1810-1814; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of George M. Bibb, and served from August 30, 1814, to December 16, 1814; died in Nicholasville, Ky., in 1819.

Walker, Gilbert Carlton, a Representative from Virginia; born in Cuba, Alleghany county, N. Y., August 1, 1833; received a thorough English training, and was graduated from Hamilton college, New York, in 1854; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1855; practiced in Oswego, N. Y., 1855-1859, and in Chicago, Ill., 1859-1864; moved to Norfolk, Va., in 1864 and engaged in banking; governor of Virginia 1869-1874; elected as a Conservative to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); located in Binghamton, N. Y., in 1879, and practiced law for two years; removed to New York City in 1881; died in New York City May 11, 1885.

Walker, Isaac Pigeon, a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Lynchburg, Va., November 2, 1813; received a limited training in the public schools; when a young man went to Illinois; a presidential elector on the Van Buren ticket in 1840; removed to Wisconsin Territory in 1841, where he was admitted to the bar and entered upon the practice of law; member of the territorial legislature 1847-1848; on the admission of Wisconsin into the Union was elected United States Senator as a Democrat; was reelected and served from June 8, 1848, to March 3, 1855; resumed the practice of law in Milwaukee, Wis., and died there March 29, 1872.

Walker, James Alexander, a Representative from Virginia; born in Augusta county, Va., August 27, 1832; was graduated from the Virginia military institute in 1852; studied law in the University of Virginia during the sessions of 1854 and 1855; was admitted to the bar and began practice in Pulaski county, Va., in 1856; attorney for the Commonwealth in 1860; entered the Confederate army in April, 1861, as captain of the Pulaski guards, afterwards company C, fourth Virginia infantry, Stonewall brigade; lieutenant-colonel and assigned to the thirteenth Virginia infantry in July, 1861; colonel of the thirteenth Virginia infantry in March, 1862, and brigadier-general and assigned to command of the "Stonewall brigade" in May, 1863; commanded Early's old division at the surrender of Appomattox; severely wounded at Spottsylvania Courthouse May 12, 1864; member of the house of delegates of Virginia 1871-1872; elected lieutenant-governor of Virginia in 1877; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899; died in Wytheville, Va., October 21, 1901.

Walker, James Daniel, a Senator from Arkansas; born in Logan county, Ky., December 13, 1830; moved to Arkansas in 1847; attended the private schools in Kentucky and Ozark institute, Arkansas; studied law and was admitted to practice in Fayetteville, Ark., in 1850; colonel of a Confederate regiment in the Civil war; resumed the practice of law in Fayetteville, Ark.; solicitor-general of the state of Arkansas; presidential elector in 1876 and voted for Tilden and Hendricks; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1879, to March 3, 1885; died in Fayetteville, Ark., October 18, 1906.

Walker, James Peter, a Representative from Missouri; born in Lauderdale county, Tenn., March 14, 1851; moved to Missouri in 1867 and elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses, and served from March 4, 1887, until his death, July 20, 1890.

Walker, John, a Senator from Virginia; born in Castle Hill, Cobham, Albemarle county, Va., February 13, 1744; received a liberal schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of William Grayson, and served from March 31, 1790, to November 9, 1790; died in Orange county, Va., December 2, 1809.

Walker, John Williams, a Senator from Alabama; born in Amelia county, Va., August 12, 1783; was graduated from Princeton college in 1806; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Huntsville, Ala.; was several times elected to the legislature; elected to the United States Senate and served from December 14, 1819, to December, 1822, when he resigned; died in Huntsville, Ala., April 23, 1823.

Walker, Joseph Henry, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., December 21, 1829; moved with parents to Hopkinton in 1831, and to Worcester, Mass., in 1843; attended the public schools; engaged in manufacturing; established the business of manufacturing leather in Chicago, Ill., in 1868; several times a member of the city council of Worcester, and of the Massachusetts legislature in 1879, 1880, and 1887; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1899); defeated for the Fifty-sixth Congress; died in Worcester, Mass., April 3, 1906.

Walker, Percy, a Representative from Alabama; born in Madison county, Ala., in December, 1812; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from the medical department of the university of Pennsylvania in 1835; began practice in Mobile, Ala.; served in the campaign against the Creek Indians; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Mobile; four years state attorney for the sixth judicial district; member of the state house of representatives 1839, 1847, and 1853; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); declined a renomination; died in Mobile, Ala., December 31, 1880.

Walker, Robert John, a Senator from Mississippi; born in Northumberland, Pa., July 23, 1801; was graduated from the university of Pennsylvania in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Pittsburgh, Pa., 1822-1826; moved to Mississippi in 1826 and located in Madisonville; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected and served from March 4, 1835, to March 5, 1845, when he resigned; Secretary of the Treasury March 6, 1845, to March 6, 1849; declined the mission to China tendered by President Pierce in 1853; appointed governor of Kansas April 10, 1857, but resigned in 1858; financial agent to Europe in 1863-1864; died in Washington, D. C., November 11, 1869.

Walker, Robert Jarvis Cochran, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chester county, Pa., October 20, 1838; attended East Hampton and Old Cambridge, Mass.; was graduated from Dane hall, Harvard university, in 1858; admitted to the Philadelphia bar October 20, 1859; elected a director of the first school district of Pennsylvania; twice elected to the councils of Philadelphia; for a considerable time owner and editor of the Saturday Evening Post; moved to Williamsport, Pa., in 1878, and engaged in land, lumber, and coal interests; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); died in Philadelphia, Pa., December 19, 1903.

Walker, William A., a Representative from New York; born in New Hampshire in 1804; attended the common schools; moved to New York City; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); died in New York City December 18, 1861.

Wall, Garret Dorset, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Middletown, N. J., March 10, 1783; completed preparatory studies; studied law, and in 1807 was admitted to the bar; began practice in Burlington, N. J.; served in the War of 1812, and commanded a volunteer regiment from Trenton; clerk of the supreme court 1812–1817; quartermaster-general of the state 1815–1837; served in the state assembly 1827; United States district attorney for New Jersey in 1829; elected, but declined to serve as governor of New Jersey; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1835, to March 3, 1841; judge of the court of errors and appeals of New Jersey from 1848 until his death in Burlington, N. J., November 22, 1850.

Wall, James Walter, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Trenton, N. J., May 26, 1820; was graduated from Princeton college in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1841 began practice in Trenton; moved to Burlington in 1847, and in 1854 was mayor of the city; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of John R. Thomson, and served from January 14, 1863, to March 3, 1863; died in Elizabeth, N. J., June 9, 1872.

Wall, William, a Representative from New York; born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 20, 1801; received a limited schooling; learned the trade of ropemaker, and moved to Kings county, Long Island, in 1822; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); died in Brooklyn, N. Y., April 20, 1872.

Wallace, Alexander Stewart, a Representative from South Carolina; born in York county, S. C., December 30, 1810; received a limited schooling; engaged in planting; served several terms in the state legislature; elected to the Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1877) died in York county, S. C., June 27, 1893.

Wallace, Daniel, a Representative from South Carolina; native of Laurens county, S. C.; moved with parents to Union county in 1833; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Union and Jonesville, S. C. also engaged in farming; served several terms in the state legislature; elected to the Thirtieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of James A. Black; reelected to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses and served from June 12, 1848, to March 3, 1853; died in Jonesville, S. C., May 13, 1859.

Wallace, David, a Representative from Indiana; born in Mifflin county, Pa., April 4, 1789; moved with parents to Brookville, Ind., in 1817; was graduated from West Point military academy in 1820; served in the Regular Army as second lieutenant of the second artillery and resigned in 1822; returned to Brookville, Ind., studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1824; member of the state legislature 1828–1830; removed to Covington, Ind., in 1830; lieutenant governor of Indiana 1831–1837; governor 1837–1840; located in Indianapolis and practiced law; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); defeated for reelection; delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1850; judge of the court of common pleas of Marion county 1856–1859; died in Indianapolis, Ind., September 4, 1859.

Wallace, James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Hanover township, Lancaster (now Dauphin) county, Pa., in 1750; pursued preparatory studies in Philadelphia; participated in the Revolution as a member of Captain William Brown's regiment; commanded a company of rangers in defense of the frontier in 1779; became brigadier general of the state militia; elected to the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1821); died in West Hanover township, Dauphin county, Pa., December 17, 1823.

Wallace, John W., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Beaver Falls, Pa., December 20, 1818; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from the Jefferson medical college in Philadelphia in 1846; practiced in Darlington, and in 1850 moved to New Castle, Pa.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); defeated for reelection; served in the Union army; presidential elector in 1872 on the Grant and Wilson ticket; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); died in New Castle, Pa., June 12, 1889.

Wallace, Jonathan Hasson, a Representative from Ohio; born in St. Clair township, Columbiana county, Ohio, October 31, 1824; attended Washington college, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in New Lisbon, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Columbiana county in 1851 and 1853; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress and was seated May 27, 1884, after contesting the claims of William McKinley, who presented credentials as the member-elect and who served until the date given; served from May 27, 1884, to March 3, 1885; died in Lisbon, Ohio, October 29, 1892.

Wallace, Nathaniel Dick, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Columbia, Tenn., October 27, 1845; attended English schools and was graduated from Trinity college, Dublin, Ireland, in 1865; returned home two years afterwards; entered into the commission business in New Orleans, La., in 1878; twice elected president of the New Orleans produce exchange; active in manufacturing interests; elected to the Forty-ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Michael Hahn, and served from December 9, 1886, to March 3, 1887; died near Asheville, N. C., July 16, 1894.

Wallace, Robert Minor, a Representative from Arkansas; born in New London, Union county, Ark., August 6, 1857; entered Arizona college, Louisiana, 1872, and was graduated in 1876; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Little Rock, Ark., in 1877; practiced in Magnolia, Ark.; member of the legislature in 1881; post-office inspector 1887-1889; prosecuting attorney thirteenth circuit 1890-1892; assistant United States attorney 1895, in Texarkana; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in Hot Springs, Ark.

Wallace, Rodney, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in New Ipswich, N. H., December 21, 1823; attended the common schools of New Hampshire; engaged in the manufacture of paper; selectman of Fitchburg in 1864, 1865, and 1867; representative in the general court of Massachusetts in 1873; councilor of state in 1880, 1881, and 1882; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); died in Fitchburg, Mass., February 27, 1903.

Wallace, William Andrew, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Huntingdon, Pa., November 28, 1827; moved with parents to Clearfield, Pa., when a child; attended the Clearfield academy, and was afterwards one of the masters; read law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Clearfield; member of the state senate 1862-1875, and speaker in 1871; member of the national Democratic convention of 1864, and senatorial delegate and chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation in the national Democratic convention of 1872; member of the commission to suggest amendments to the constitution of Pennsylvania in 1874; chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation in the Democratic national convention in St. Louis, Mo., in 1876, and a delegate in the Chicago convention of 1884; reelected state senator in 1882 and served until 1887; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1881; died in New York City May 22, 1896.

Wallace, William Copeland, a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., May 21, 1856; was graduated from Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn., in 1876, and from Columbia college law school, New York City, in 1878; assistant United States attorney for the southern district of New York 1880-1883; judge advocate general on the staff of Governor Morton; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); delegate in several Republican national conventions; died in his country home at Warwick, N. Y., September 4, 1901.

Wallace, William Henson, a Delegate from Washington and Idaho territories; born in Miami county, Ohio, July 17, 1811; attended the schools of Indiana; moved to Iowa in 1837; served one year as speaker of the Iowa state house of representatives; moved to Washington territory in 1853 and served several years in the state legislature; governor of Washington territory in 1861; elected a Delegate from Washington territory to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); appointed governor of Idaho territory in 1863; elected a Delegate from Idaho territory to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); died in Steilacoom, Pierce county, Wash., February 27, 1879.

Walley, Samuel Hurd, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., August 31, 1805; was graduated from Harvard college in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the Suffolk bar in 1831, and practiced in Boston and Roxbury; engaged in banking; a member of the state house of representatives 1836, 1840-1846, and speaker in sessions of 1844, 1845, and 1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); defeated for reelection; defeated as the Whig candidate for governor in 1855; died in Nantasket Beach, Mass., August 27, 1877.

Walling, Ansel Tracy, a Representative from Ohio; born in Otsego county, N. Y., January 10, 1824; moved to Erie county, Pa., where he attended an academy; studied medicine and practiced a short time; learned the art of printing; moved to Ohio in 1843 and engaged in newspaper work; clerk of the legislature 1851-1852; studied law, and in 1852 was admitted to the bar; moved to Keokuk, Iowa, and was editor of the Daily Times 1855-1858; delegate to the Democratic national convention of 1856; returned to Ohio in 1861 and located in Circleville, where he resumed the practice of law; state senator in 1865; member of the house of representatives in 1867 and served as speaker pro tempore; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); died in Circleville, Ohio, June 22, 1896.

Walls, Josiah Thomas, a Representative from Florida; born in Winchester, Va., December 30, 1842; received a limited schooling; engaged in farming; member of the constitutional convention of 1868; state senator 1869-1872; presented credentials as a member-elect to the Forty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1871, until January 29, 1873, when he was succeeded by Silas L. Niblack, who contested his election; reelected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); died in Tallahassee, Fla., May 5, 1905.

Waln, Robert, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., February 22, 1765; received a limited schooling; engaged as a merchant; elected to the Fifth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John Swanwick; reelected as a Federalist to the Sixth Congress and served from December 3, 1798, to March 3, 1801; died in Philadelphia, Pa., January 24, 1836.

Walsh, James J., a Representative from New York; born in New York City, May 22, 1858; attended public schools, and St. James parochial school, and was graduated from Manhattan college in 1877; studied law, attended the Columbia college law school, and was admitted to the bar in 1880, and practiced in New York City; inspector of common schools for six years; presented credentials as a Democratic Member-elect to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, to June 2, 1896, when he was succeeded by John M. Mitchell, who contested his election; resumed the practice of law in New York City.

Walsh, Michael, a Representative from New York; born in Ireland March 7, 1810; was graduated from Trinity college, Dublin; emigrated to America and located in Baltimore; learned the trade of lithographic printer and moved to New York; member of the state house of representatives in 1839; established The Knickerbocker publication, which was stopped after two years by his conviction for the publication of a libel; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); died in New York City March 17, 1859.

Walsh, Patrick, a Senator from Georgia; born in Ballingarry, county Limerick, Ireland, January 1, 1840; his parents and family settled in Charleston, S. C., in 1852; a journeyman printer in 1857; attended night schools and Charleston high school and Georgetown college, D. C., 1859–1861; returned to Charleston and entered the state military service; moved to Augusta, Ga., in 1862, and for thirty-two years was connected with the press of that city, most of the time as manager and editor of the Augusta Chronicle; treasurer and general manager of the Southern Associated Press; member of the city council of Augusta in 1870; member of the state legislature 1872, 1874, and 1876; delegate at large in the Democratic national convention in Chicago in 1884; four years a member of the Democratic national executive committee; member World's Columbian exposition; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Alfred H. Colquitt; subsequently elected, and served from April 2, 1894, to March 3, 1895; mayor of Augusta 1897–1899; died in Augusta, Ga., March 19, 1899.

Walsh, Thomas Yates, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., in 1809; completed preparatory studies and attended St. Mary's college, Baltimore; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1832; member of city council 1840–1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); defeated for reelection; died in Baltimore, Md., January 20, 1865.

Walsh, William, a Representative from Maryland; born in Ireland May 11, 1828; emigrated to America in 1842 and located in Virginia; was graduated from Mount St. Mary's college of Maryland; studied law, and in 1850 was admitted to the bar in Virginia; began practicing in Cumberland, Md., in 1852; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1860 and 1872; member of the state constitutional convention of 1867; elected to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); died in Cumberland, Md., May 17, 1892.

Walthall, Edward Cary, a Senator from Mississippi; born in Richmond, Va., April 4, 1831; pursued an academic course in Holly Springs, Miss.; studied law in Holly Springs, Miss.; was admitted to the bar in 1852 and commenced practice in Coffeeville, Miss.; elected district attorney for the tenth judicial district of Mississippi in 1856, and reelected in 1859; resigned in the spring of 1861 and entered the Confederate service as a lieutenant in the fifteenth Mississippi regiment; soon after elected lieutenant-colonel of the regiment; in the spring of 1862 elected colonel of the Twenty-ninth Mississippi regiment; promoted to brigadier-general in December, 1862, and major-general in June, 1864; resumed the practice of law in Coffeeville until January, 1871, when he moved to Grenada, Miss., and continued practice there until March, 1885; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Lucius Q. C. Lamar; subsequently elected to fill the vacancy, and reelected and served from March 9, 1885, until January 24, 1894, when he resigned; reelected for the term beginning March 4, 1895, and served from that date until his death in Washington, D. C., April 21, 1898.

Walton, Charles Wesley, a Representative from Maine; born in Mexico, Me., December 9, 1819; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1843 began practice in Mexico; attorney for Oxford county 1847–1851; moved to Auburn, Me., in 1855; attorney for Androscoggin county 1857–1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress and served from March 4, 1861, to May 26, 1862, when he resigned; associate justice of the state supreme court for thirty-five years; died in Portland, Me., January 24, 1900.

Walton, Eliakim Persons, a Representative from Vermont; born in Montpelier, Vt., February 17, 1812; attended the public schools; apprenticed to a printer; studied law and was admitted to the bar; served in the state senate; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1863); delegate to the Republican national convention in Philadelphia in 1864; died in Montpelier, Vt., December 19, 1890.

Walton, George, a Delegate and a Senator from Georgia; born in Prince Edward county, Va., in 1749; attended the public schools; moved to Savannah, Ga., in 1769; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1774, and began practice in Augusta, Ga.; secretary of the Provincial Congress in 1774, and a member of the "committee of intelligence"; member of the council of safety; served several terms in the state legislature; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1776–1781; signer of the Declaration of Independence; served in the Revolutionary war and was captured in Savannah; governor of Georgia 1779–1781; chief justice of Georgia 1783–1786; elected a delegate to the convention to frame the Federal Constitution in 1787, but declined; again governor in 1789, and again chief justice in 1793; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James Jackson, and served from November 16, 1795, to February 20, 1796; a commissioner to treat with the Indians at Easton, Pa., and to negotiate a treaty with the Cherokees in Tennessee; judge of the middle circuit of Georgia; died in Augusta, Ga., February 2, 1804.

Walton, Matthew, a Representative from Kentucky; received a limited schooling; elected to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1807); died January 18, 1819.

Walworth, Reuben Hyde, a Representative from New York; born in Bozrah, Conn., October 26, 1788; moved to a farm near Hoosick, N. Y., in 1796; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and in 1811 began practice in Plattsburg; master in chancery and circuit judge; served in the War of 1812; aid-de-camp to General Benjamin Mooers, and division judge advocate with rank of colonel; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823); judge of the fourth judicial district of New York 1823–1828; removed to Saratoga Springs, N. Y., in October, 1828; chancellor of the state of New York 1828–1848, when the office of chancellor was abolished; appointed to the United States Supreme Court by President Tyler in 1844, but was not confirmed by the Senate; died in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., November 27, 1867.

Wanger, Irving Price, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in North Coventry, Chester county, Pa., March 5, 1852; attended the public schools of North Coventry and Pottstown, and the Friends high school in West Chester, Pa.; began the study of law in Norristown in 1872, and was admitted to the bar December 18, 1875, and engaged in practice in Norristown, Pa.; elected burgess of Norristown in 1878; delegate to the Republican national convention in 1880; elected district attorney of Montgomery county in 1880 and again in 1886; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third, and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1910); resumed the practice of law in Norristown, Pa.

Ward, Aaron, a Representative from New York; born in Sing Sing, N. Y., July 5, 1790; completed preparatory studies in Mount Pleasant academy; served in the War of 1812 as lieutenant and captain in the twenty-ninth infantry; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Sing Sing; district attorney for Westchester county; served in the state militia as colonel, brigadier-general, and major-general; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1829); reelected to the Twenty-second, Twenty-third, and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1837); again elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1846; defeated on the Democratic ticket for secretary of state in 1855; died in Georgetown, D. C., March 2, 1867.

Ward, Andrew H., a Representative from Kentucky; a native of Harrison county, Ky.; received a limited schooling; elected to the Thirty-ninth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William Smith, and served from December 3, 1866, to March 3, 1867; died in Cynthiana, Ky., April 17, 1904.

Ward Artemas, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Shrewsbury, Mass., November 27, 1727; was graduated from Harvard college in 1748; a representative in the general assembly and in the executive council; lieutenant-colonel in the provincial army against Canada; commissioned by the Continental Congress, and took command of the troops before Boston, but was soon superceded by Washington; brigadier-general and first on the list of major-generals in the Revolutionary army; chief justice of the court of common pleas of Worcester county in 1776; president of the Massachusetts executive council in 1777; member of the general assembly 1779–1785, and speaker the last year; elected a Delegate to the Continental Congress 1779–

1781, but on account of ill health did not take his seat, elected as a Federalist to the Second and Third Congresses (March 4, 1791–March 3, 1795), died in Shrewsbury, Mass., October 27, 1800.

Ward, Artemas, jr., a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Shrewsbury, Mass., January 9, 1762; was graduated from Harvard college in 1783; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Shrewsbury until 1809, when he moved to Boston; elected as a Peace candidate to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1817); chief justice of the court of common pleas 1820–1839; served in the state legislature; died in Boston, Mass., October 7, 1847.

Ward, Elijah, a Representative from New York; born in Sing Sing, N. Y., September 16, 1816; pursued classical studies; engaged in commercial pursuits in New York City; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1843 began practice in New York City; judge advocate general of the state 1853–1855; member of the national Democratic convention in Cincinnati in 1856; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); defeated for reelection; elected to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1865); defeated for reelection; elected to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); defeated for reelection; died in Roslyn, N. Y., February 7, 1882.

Ward, Hamilton, a Representative from New York; born in Salisbury, N. Y., July 3, 1829; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Belmont; appointed in 1862 by the governor to raise and equip troops for the Civil war; elected to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1871); attorney-general of New York in 1879; member of the state constitutional commission 1889–1891; appointed justice of the state supreme court and afterwards elected, and served from 1891, until his death, in Albany, N. Y., December 28, 1898.

Ward, James Hugh, a Representative from Illinois; born in Chicago, Ill., November 30, 1853; attended the public schools of Chicago, and was graduated from the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, in 1873; attended the Union college of law in Chicago, and was graduated in 1876; admitted to the bar in July, 1876, and began practice; elected supervisor of the town of West Chicago in 1879; elector on the Cleveland and Hendricks ticket in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1887); declined a renomination; resumed the practice of law in Chicago, Ill.

Ward, Jasper D., a Representative from Illinois; a native of Chicago, Ill.; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); defeated for reelection.

Ward, Jonathan, a Representative from New York; native of Westchester county, N. Y.; received a limited schooling; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817).

Ward, Marcus Lawrence, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Newark, N. J., November 9, 1812; received a limited schooling; engaged in manufacturing; delegate to the national Republican convention in 1860 in Chicago and in 1864 in Baltimore; presidential elector on the Republican ticket in 1864; defeated for governor of New Jersey in 1862; elected governor 1865-1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); died in Newark, N. J., April 25, 1884.

Ward, Matthew, a Senator from Texas; born in Elbert county, Ga., about 1800; attended the public schools in Madison county, Ala.; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to the Republic of Texas; served in the Texas congress, and after the annexation was a state senator; appointed as a State Rights Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John P. Henderson, and served from September 27, 1858, to December 5, 1859; died near Jefferson, Marion county, Tex., October 13, 1861.

Ward, Samuel, a Delegate from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., May 27, 1725; was graduated from Cambridge college, England, in 1743; located in Westerly, R. I., in 1745; farmer; member of the state general assembly, 1756-1759; member of the Council of War in Hartford, Conn., relative to the conduct of the French and Indian war; chief justice of Rhode Island in 1761; elected governor in 1762, 1765, and 1767; one of the founders of Rhode Island college, and later Brown university; delegate in the Continental Congress 1774-1776; died in Philadelphia, Pa., March 26, 1776; remains were removed from Philadelphia, Pa., to Westerly, R. I., in 1860.

Ward, Thomas, a Representative from New Jersey; born in New Jersey in 1765; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Newark, N. J.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); died in Newark, N. J., March 4, 1842.

Ward, Thomas Benton, a Representative from Indiana; born in Marysville, Union county, Ohio, April 27, 1835; moved with his parents to Lafayette, Ind., in May, 1836; attended Wabash college, Indiana, and was graduated from Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, in June, 1855; studied law in Lafayette, Ind., and was admitted to the bar in 1857; mayor of Lafayette 1861-1865; served one term as clerk of the city of Lafayette and three terms as city attorney; judge of the superior court of Tippecanoe county, Ind., 1875-1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); died in Lafayette, Ind., January 1, 1892.

Ward, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., January 1, 1837; attended Girard college, Philadelphia; learned the art of printing in the office of the Delaware county Republican, in Chester; studied law, was admitted to the bar in August, 1859, and engaged in practice in Chester, Pa.; member of the city council of Chester and city solicitor; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1883); died in Chester, Pa., February 27, 1895.

Ward, William Lukens, a Representative from New York; born in Greenwich, Conn., September 2, 1856; attended the Friends' seminary, New York City, and afterwards the School of Mines, Columbia college, class of 1878; engaged in manufacturing in Port Chester, N. Y.; presidential elector in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899).

Ward, William T., a Representative from Kentucky; a native of Kentucky; attended the common schools; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853).

Wardwell, Daniel, a Representative from New York; born in Bristol, R. I., May 28, 1791; was graduated from Brown university in 1811; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Rome, N. Y.; moved to Mannsville, N. Y., in 1814; judge of the court of common pleas for Jefferson county, N. Y.; served four terms in the state assembly; elected to the Twenty-second, Twenty-third, and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1837); returned to Rome, N. Y., and resumed law practice there; died in Rome, N. Y., March 27, 1878.

Ware, Nicholas, a Senator from Georgia; born in Caroline county, Va., in 1769; moved with parents to Edgefield, S. C., and a few years later to Augusta, Ga.; received a thorough English training; studied medicine for a time, then studied law in Augusta, and in the Litchfield, Conn., law school, and was admitted to the bar and entered practice in Augusta; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Freeman Walker; elected and served from November 10, 1821, until his death, in New York City, September 7, 1824.

Warfield, Henry Ridgely, a Representative from Maryland; born in Anne Arundel county, Md., September 14, 1774; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; located in Frederick, Md.; elected as a Federalist to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1825); died in Frederick, Md., March 18, 1839.

Warner, Adoniram Judson, a Representative from Ohio; born in Wales, N. Y., January 13, 1834; attended school in Beloit, Wis., and the New York central college, New York; was principal of the Lewiston academy, and superintendent of public schools of Mifflin county, and principal of Mercer union schools, Pennsylvania, 1856-1861; served in the Civil war; captain of the tenth Pennsylvania reserves July 21, 1861; lieutenant-colonel May 14, 1862; colonel April 25, 1863; colonel of the veteran reserve corps November 15, 1863; brevet brigadier-general March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service during the war"; mustered out November 17, 1865; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Indianapolis, Ind., in 1865, but never took up practice; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); reelected to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); died in Marietta, Ohio, August 13, 1910.

Warner, Hiram, a Representative from Georgia; born in Williamsburg, Hampshire county, Mass., October 29, 1802; received a good common school training and acquired some knowledge of the classics; in 1819 moved to Georgia and taught school for three years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1825 began practice in Knoxville, in Crawford county, Ga.; served in the general assembly 1828-1831; declined reelection; elected judge of the state superior court and served from 1833 to 1840; judge of the state supreme court 1845-1853, when he resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); declined a reelection; died in Atlanta, Ga., June 30, 1881; interment in Greenville, Ga.

Warner, John De Witt, a Representative from New York; born in Schuylcr county, N. Y., October 30, 1851; completed preparatory studies in Starkey seminary, Eddytown, N. Y., and was graduated from Cornell university in 1872; edited the Ithaca Daily Leader for a few months; professor in the Ithaca and Albany academies for four years; studied law, was graduated from the Albany law school in 1876, was admitted to the bar; moved to New York City, and practiced law, 1877-1905; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); a resident of New York City.

Warner, Levi, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Wethersfield, Conn., October 10, 1830; completed preparatory studies and studied law in the Yale and Dane law schools; was admitted to the bar and began practice in 1859 in Fairfield, Conn.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William H. Barnum; reelected to the Forty-fifth Congress and served from December 4, 1876, to March 3, 1879; died in Norwalk, Conn., April 12, 1911.

Warner, Richard, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Chapel Hill, Tenn., September 19, 1833; received an ordinary English training, and in 1857-1858 attended the law school in Lebanon, Tenn., from which he was graduated; commenced the practice of law in Lewisburg, Tenn., in 1858; served in the Confederate army 1861-1865; returned to Lewisburg, Tenn., and resumed the practice of law; delegate in the convention that framed the new constitution of Tennessee in 1870; member of the state house of representatives in 1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); resumed the practice of law in Lewisburg, Tenn.

Warner, Samuel Larkin, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Wethersfield, Conn., June 14, 1828; attended Wilbraham academy, Wilbraham, Mass., the Yale and Harvard law schools, and was graduated from the Harvard law school in 1854; admitted to the bar in Boston, Mass., in 1854; returned to Connecticut and was appointed executive secretary to Governor Pond; moved to Portland, Conn., in 1855, and represented that town in state legislature in 1858; moved to Middletown in 1860 and was mayor 1862-1866; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); a delegate and one of the secretaries in the convention that nominated Lincoln in 1864; delegate at large in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1888; died in Middletown, Conn., February 6, 1893.

Warner, Vespasian, a Representative from Illinois; born in Mount Pleasant (now Farmer City), Dewitt county, Ill., April 32, 1842; moved with his parents to Clinton, Ill., in 1843; attended common and select schools in Clinton, and Lombard university in Galesburg, Ill.; studied law in Clinton; served in the Civil war; sergeant of company E, twentieth Illinois volunteer infantry, June 23, 1861; second lieutenant February 4, 1862; captain and commissary sergeant of volunteers February 10, 1865; brevet major March 13, 1865, "for meritorious service"; mustered out July 13, 1866; immediately on leaving the service entered the law department of Harvard university, from which he was graduated in 1868; returned to Clinton, Ill., and commenced the practice of law; elected a Republican presidential elector in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1905); appointed Commissioner of Pensions and served from March 4, 1905, to November 25, 1909; resumed business in Clinton, Ill., as a banker and realty owner and agent.

Warner, Willard, a Senator from Alabama; born in Granville, Ohio, September 4, 1826; pursued classical studies; was graduated from Marietta college, Ohio, in 1845; served in the Union army; major of the seventy-sixth Ohio infantry December 3, 1861; lieutenant-colonel December 15, 1863; colonel of the one hundred and eightieth Ohio infantry October 27, 1864; brevet brigadier-general of volunteers March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service in the Georgia, Tennessee, and North Carolina campaigns"; major-general March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious conduct during the war"; mustered out July 12, 1865; served in the state senate; moved to Alabama in 1867; member of the state legislature in 1868; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from June 25, 1868, to March 3, 1871; collector of customs, port of Mobile, Ala., 1871-1875; removed to Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1890; member of the state legislature of Tennessee 1897-1898; died in Chattanooga, Tenn., November 23, 1906.

Warner, William, a Representative and a Senator from Missouri; born in Lafayette county, Wis., June 11, 1840; attended the common schools; enlisted in 1862 in the thirty-third Wisconsin infantry and was mustered out at the close of the war with the rank of major in the forty-fourth Wisconsin; elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1888; located in Kansas City in 1865, and engaged in the practice of law; city attorney in 1867, circuit attorney in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); Republican candidate for governor in 1892; appointed United States district attorney for the western district of Missouri in 1870, 1882, 1898, and in 1902; chairman of Republican state committee 1884-1885; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1872, 1884, 1888.

1892, and 1896; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 18, 1905, to March 3, 1911; appointed civilian member of the board of ordnance and fortifications; member board of managers of national home for disabled volunteer soldiers; a resident of Kansas City, Mo.

Warnock, William Robert, a Representative from Ohio; born in Urbana, Ohio, August 29, 1838; attended public schools in Urbana, and was graduated from the high school in 1855; taught school in 1856 and in 1858 in Urbana; was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university in July, 1861; commenced the study of law in 1861; entered the Union army July 21, 1862, as captain of company G, ninety-fifth regiment Ohio volunteer infantry; major July 28, 1863, "for gallantry at Vicksburg," and brevetted lieutenant-colonel March 15, 1865, "for gallantry at the battle of Nashville"; chief of staff for the eastern district of Mississippi from April to August, 1865; mustered out August 14, 1865; resumed the study of law; admitted to practice in May, 1866; prosecuting attorney from January, 1868, to January, 1872; state senator 1876-1877; judge of the court of common pleas from November, 1879, to November, 1889; president of the National Bank of Urbana; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1905); resumed the practice of law in Urbana, Ohio.

Warren, Cornelius, a Representative from New York; born in Phillipstown, Putnam county, N. Y., March 15, 1790; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; judge of the court of common pleas in 1841; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); died in Cold Spring, N. Y., July 28, 1849.

Warren, Edward A., a Representative from Arkansas; born in Greene county, Ala., May 2, 1818; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Mississippi; served as a member of the state house of representatives 1845-1846; moved to Arkansas in 1847 and located in Camden, where he practiced his profession; member of the Arkansas house of representatives 1848-1849, the last year as speaker; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); reelected to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); died in Nevada county, Ark., July 2, 1875.

Warren, Francis Emroy, a Senator from Wyoming; born in Hinsdale, Mass., June 20, 1841; attended common schools and pursued an academic course in Hinsdale academy; enlisted in 1862 in the forty-ninth Massachusetts regiment of infantry, and served as private and non-commissioned officer until it was mustered out of service; received congressional medal of honor for gallantry on battlefield at siege of Port Hudson; afterwards captain in the Massachusetts militia; engaged in farming and stock raising in Massachusetts until early in 1868, when he moved to Wyoming (then a part of the Territory of Dakota); became interested in real estate, mercantile, live stock, and lighting business in Cheyenne; president of the senate of the Wyoming legislature in 1873-1874, and member of the senate in 1884-1885; twice member of the council, and also mayor of the city of Cheyenne, and served three terms as treasurer of Wyoming; member of the Wyoming delegation in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1888, and chairman of the Wyoming delegation in the national Republican convention in Philadelphia in 1900; chairman of the Republican territorial central committee, appointed governor of Wyoming by President Arthur in February, 1885, and removed by President Cleveland in November, 1886; again appointed governor by President Harrison in March, 1889, and served until the Territory was admitted as a state, when he was elected the first governor of the state; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate November 18, 1890; reelected in 1895, 1901, and in 1907, for the term expiring March 3, 1913.

Warren, Joseph Mabbett, a Representative from New York; born in Troy, N. Y., January 28, 1813; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from the Washington (now Trinity) college in Hartford, Conn.; elected mayor of Troy in 1852; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); died in Troy N. Y., September 9, 1896.

Warren, Lott, a Representative from Georgia; born in Burke county, Ga., October 30, 1797; attended the common schools; served as a second lieutenant of volunteers in the expedition against the Seminoles in 1818; studied law, and was admitted to practice in 1821; moved to Marion, and later to Albany, Ga.; served in the state house of representatives in 1824 and 1831, and in the state senate in 1830; solicitor general and judge of the southern circuit of Georgia 1831-1834; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); judge of the superior court of Georgia 1843-1852; died in Albany, Ga., June 17, 1861.

Warren, William Wirt, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Brighton, Mass., February 27, 1834; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Harvard college in 1854; studied law, and in 1857 was admitted to practice; assessor of internal revenue in the seventh Massachusetts revenue district; delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1868; member of the state senate in 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); defeated for reelection; died in Brighton, Mass., May 2, 1880.

Warwick, John George, a Representative from Ohio; born in County Tyrone, Ireland, December 23, 1830; came to America in 1850 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; interested in milling, mining, and farming; elected lieutenant-governor of Ohio in 1883; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1891, until his death in Washington, D. C., August 14, 1892; interment in Massillon, Ohio.

Washburn, Cadwallader Colden, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Livermore, Me., April 22, 1818; completed preparatory studies; moved to Wisconsin, and located in Mineral Point, where he studied law and was admitted to the bar; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1861); delegate from Wisconsin to the peace convention in 1861; served in the Union army; colonel of the second Wisconsin cavalry February 6, 1862; brigadier-general of volunteers July 16, 1862; major-general November 29, 1862; resigned May 25, 1865; elected to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1871); governor of Wisconsin 1872–1874; died in Eureka Springs, Ark., May 14, 1882.

Washburn, Charles Grenfill, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Worcester, Mass., January 28, 1857; was graduated from the Worcester polytechnic institute in 1875 and from Harvard university in 1880; studied law and was admitted to the Suffolk bar in 1887; connected with various manufacturing enterprises in Worcester; member of the state house of representatives in 1897–1898, of the senate in 1899–1900; member of a committee to revise the corporation laws of Massachusetts in 1902; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1904; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Rockwood Hoar; reelected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses and served from January 3, 1907, to March 3, 1911; resumed the practice of law in Worcester, Mass.

Washburn, Henry Dana, a Representative from Indiana; born in Windsor county, Vt., March 28, 1832; received a limited schooling, and became a tanner; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Vermilion county, Ind.; county auditor 1854–1861; served in the Union army; lieutenant-colonel of the eighteenth Indiana infantry August 16, 1861; colonel July 15, 1862; brevet brigadier-general of volunteers December 15, 1864; major-general July 26, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service during the war"; mustered out July 26, 1865; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress, and took his seat after a successful contest with Daniel W. Voorhees, who had been given the certificate of election; reelected to the Fortieth Congress and served from February 23, 1866, to March 3, 1869; died in Clinton, Ind., January 26, 1871.

Washburn, Israel, a Representative from Maine; born in Livermore, Me., June 6, 1813; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1834, and began practice in Orono, Me.; member of the state house of representatives 1842; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second, and to the four succeeding Congresses and served from March 4, 1851, until January 1, 1861, when he resigned; governor of Maine 1861–1862; declined a reelection; collector of customs in Portland, Me., 1863–1877; died in Philadelphia, Pa., May 12, 1883.

Washburn, William Barrett, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Winchendon, Mass., January 31, 1820; attended Westminster and Hancock academies and was graduated from Yale college in 1844; a clerk in Orange 1844–1847; manufacturer in Erving, Mass., 1847–1857; moved to Greenfield in 1858, and engaged in banking; served in both branches of the legislature; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1863, until December 5, 1871, when he resigned; governor of Massachusetts 1872 to May 1, 1874, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Charles Sumner, and served from April 17, 1874, until March 3, 1875; president of the Greenfield National bank; trustee of Smith college at Northampton; director of the Connecticut river railroad; alumni trustee of Yale college 1872–1881; member of the board of overseers of Amherst college; died in Springfield, Mass., October 5, 1887.

Washburn, William Drew, a Representative and a Senator from Minnesota; born in Livermore, Androscoggin county, Me., January 14, 1831; attended common schools and was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1854; read law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Minneapolis, Minn., in 1857; engaged in the practice of law and other pursuits until 1861, when appointed United States surveyor-general of Minnesota by President Lincoln, and served four years; resided in St. Paul while holding the office; returned to Minneapolis and engaged in different manufacturing industries; director and principal owner and for many years managing agent of the Minneapolis water power company; projector and president of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railway company; member of the state legislature 1861–1865, 1871, 1874, 1880, and 1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1885); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1889, to March 3, 1895; died in Minneapolis, Minn., July 29, 1912.

Washburne, Elihu Benjamin, a Representative from Illinois; born in Livermore, Oxford county, Me., September 23, 1816; attended the common schools; printers' apprentice; assistant editor of the Kennebec Journal, Augusta; studied law, and in 1839 was admitted to the bar; moved to Galena, Ill., in 1840, where he practiced his profession; delegate to the Whig convention in Baltimore in 1844, and in 1852 to the convention which nominated General Scott for the Presidency; elected to the Thirty-third, and to the eight succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1853, until March 6, 1869, when he resigned; appointed Secretary of State by President Grant, but resigned a few days afterwards to accept the mission to France; on the declaration of the Franco-Prussian war he protected with the American flag the diplomatic headquarters of the various German states in Paris; remained in Paris during the siege and was the only foreign minister that continued at his post during the days of the commune; protected not only Germans, but all the foreigners left by their ministers; served as minister until 1877, when he returned to Illinois; died in Chicago, Ill., October 22, 1887.

Washington, George, a Delegate from Virginia; born at Popes creek, near Bridges creek, Westmoreland county, Va., February 22, 1732; early in childhood removed with parents to an estate in Stafford county, Va., on the east side of the Rappahannock river, opposite Fredericksburg; attended an "old-field" school, with Hobby, the sexton of the parish, as his first instructor; after the death of his father in 1743, returned to Popes creek, to reside with his elder half-brother, Augustine Washington, and attended a private school kept by a Mr. Williams; went to the Mount Vernon estate in his seventeenth year, to reside with his brother Lawrence, and engaged in the surveying of lands; appointed adjutant-general of a military district in Virginia with the rank of major in 1751; in November, 1753, was sent by Lieutenant-Governor Dinwiddie, of Virginia, to visit the French army in the Ohio valley on important business; war followed, and in 1754 was promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel and engaged in the war; aid-de-camp to General Braddock in 1755; appointed by the legislature commander-in-chief of Colonial forces, and from 1755-1758 engaged in recruiting and organizing troops for colonial defense; commanded a successful expedition to Fort Du Quesne in 1758; pursued agriculture and civic employments at Mount Vernon, and was a magistrate and member of the Colonial house of burgesses 1758-1774; delegate in the Williamsburg convention of August, 1773; delegate in the first and second Continental Congresses 1774-1775; unanimously chosen commander-in-chief of all the forces raised or to be raised, June 15, 1775; commanded the armies throughout the war for independence and received the special thanks and recognition of Congress upon eight separate occasions and by as many acts; resigned his commission December 23, 1783, and returned to private life at Mount Vernon; delegate in and president of the national convention that framed the Federal constitution in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1787; unanimously elected first President of the United States, and inaugurated April 3, 1789, in New York City; unanimously reelected; retired March 3, 1797, after declining a reelection; issued his farewell address to the people of the United States in September, 1796; again appointed lieutenant-general and commander of the United States army July 3, 1798, and served until his death at Mount Vernon, Va., after a short illness, December 14, 1799; interment at Mount Vernon on the 18th December, 1799.

Washington, George C., a Representative from Maryland; born in Westmoreland county, Va., August 20, 1789; was graduated from Harvard college; studied law and was admitted to the bar; engaged in farming; elected to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1833); reelected to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); died in Georgetown, D. C., July 17, 1854.

Washington, Joseph Edwin, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Wessyngton, the family homestead, Robertson county, Tenn., November 10, 1851; early instruction at home, and was graduated from Georgetown college, District of Columbia, June 26, 1873; studied law with the first law class organized in Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn., in 1874; gave up his law studies and engaged in farming; elected a member of the state house of representatives in November, 1876; elector on the Hancock and English ticket in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1897); resumed agricultural pursuits upon the family homestead in Robertson county, Tenn.

Washington, William Henry, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Wayne county, N. C., February 7, 1813; studied law, and in 1835 was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Newbern; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); declined a reelection; served in the state house of representatives 1843 and 1846, and in the state senate 1848, 1850, and 1852; died in Newbern, N. C., August 12, 1860.

Waskey, Frank Hinman, a Delegate from Alaska territory; born in Lake City, Wabasha county, Minn., April 20, 1875; attended the public schools of Minneapolis; went to Alaska in February, 1898, located in Nome, and engaged in mining; elected Delegate to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907).

Waters, Russell Judson, a Representative from California; born in Halifax, Vt., June 6, 1843; moved with parents to Franklin county, Mass.; attended district schools; learned the machinist's trade in Sherburne Falls, Mass.; taught school at Charlemont Center, Mass.; was graduated from Franklin institute, where he was later engaged as professor of Latin and mathematics; moved to Chicago, Ill.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1863, and practiced in Chicago until 1886; went to California and located in Redlands; moved to Los Angeles in 1894; president of the Pasadena Consolidated Gas company; treasurer of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, vice-president of the Citizens' bank, and connected with many other public institutions; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); died in Los Angeles, Cal., September 25, 1911.

Watkins, Albert Galiton, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Jefferson county, Tenn., May 5, 1818; was graduated from Holston college, Tennessee; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Panther Springs, Tenn.; member of the state house of representatives in 1845; presidential elector in 1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); defeated for reelection to the Thirty-third Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); died in Mooresburg, Hawkins county, Tenn., November 9, 1895.

Watkins, John Thomas, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Minden, La., January 15, 1854; attended the public schools and spent three years in Cumberland university, Lebanon, Tenn.; studied law and was admitted to the bar July, 1878, and practiced in Minden; elected district judge in 1892 and reelected in 1896 and 1900, his last term expiring December 8, 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Watmough, John Goddard, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wilmington, Del., December 6, 1793; pursued classical studies and graduated from Princeton college; also pursued post graduate studies in the University of Pennsylvania; served in the War of 1812; elected to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1835); high sheriff of Philadelphia 1835–1836; surveyor of the port of Philadelphia 1841–1845; died in Philadelphia, Pa., November 28, 1861.

Watson, Clarence Wayland, a Senator from West Virginia; born in Fairmont, W. Va., May 8, 1864; attended the public schools of Marion county; engaged in the coal-mining industry; delegate in the Democratic national convention in Denver, Colo., in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Stephen B. Elkins, and took his seat February 2, 1911, for the term expiring March 3, 1913.

Watson, Cooper Kinderdine, a Representative from Ohio; born in Jefferson county, Ky., June 18, 1810; pursued preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; prosecuting attorney of Marion county, Ohio; located in Tiffin, Ohio, and practiced law for twenty years or more; was elected as a Free-Soiler to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); moved to Sandusky, Ohio; member of the state constitutional convention of 1871; in 1876 appointed judge of the court of common pleas; was elected to the position and served until his death in Sandusky, Ohio, May 20, 1880.

Watson, David Kemper, a Representative from Ohio; born near London, Madison county, Ohio, June 18, 1849; was graduated from Dickinson college, Carlisle, Pa., in 1871, and two years later from the law department of the University of Boston; assistant United States district attorney for the southern district of Ohio during the administration of President Arthur; elected attorney-general in 1887, and re-elected in 1889; special counsel for the United States in the suits brought by the Government against the Pacific railroads in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); later served for several years on a commission to revise and codify the laws of the United States; resumed law practice in Columbus, Ohio.

Watson, James, a Senator from New York; born in New York City April 6, 1750; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Yale college in 1776; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state assembly 1791, 1794, 1795, and 1796, and was speaker in 1794; member of the state senate in 1798; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Sloss Hobart, and served from August 17, 1798, to March 19, 1800, when he resigned to accept the position of United States navy agent at New York; died in New York City May 15, 1806.

Watson, James Eli, a Representative from Indiana; born in Winchester, Randolph county, Ind., November 2, 1864; was graduated from the Winchester high school in 1881; entered De Pauw university the same year, and remained until 1885, when he returned home and took up the study of law; was admitted to the bar in 1886, and engaged in practice in Winchester; candidate on the Republican ticket for presidential elector in 1892; moved to Rushville, Ind., in 1893, and continued the practice of law; unsuccessful candidate for secretary of state in 1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); reelected to the Fifty-sixth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1909); defeated for governor of Indiana in 1908; resumed the practice of law in Rushville, Ind.

Watson, Lewis Findlay, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Crawford county, Pa., April 14, 1819; pursued an academic course; engaged in mercantile pursuits; for fifteen years an extensive operator in lumber and in the production of petroleum; elected president of the Warren savings bank at its organization in 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); reelected to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); again elected to the Fifty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1889, until his death in Washington, D. C., August 25, 1890.

Watson, Thomas Edward, a Representative from Georgia; born in Columbia county, Ga., September 5, 1856; attended the common schools and Mercer university, Macon, Ga.; taught school two years; read law and was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Thomson, Ga., November, 1876; member of the state legislature 1882–1883; Democratic elector for the state at large in 1888; became interested in farming; elected as an Alliance Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); candidate for Vice-President on the Populist ticket in 1896, and defeated; a resident of Thomson, Ga.; an editor and author.

Watterson, Harvey Magee, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Bedford county, Tenn., November 23, 1811; pursued classical studies; established and edited a paper in Shelbyville, Tenn., in 1831; elected to the general assembly in 1835; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843); declined a reelection; sent by President Tyler on a diplomatic mission to Buenos Aires, where he remained for a year; on his return elected to the general assembly and became its president; editor and proprietor of the Nashville Union 1847–1851 and editor of the Washington Union in 1851; delegate in the national Democratic convention in Baltimore in 1860, and also one of the electors; commissioned by President Johnson one of those to investigate conditions in the states "lately in rebellion"; practiced law in Washington, D. C.; died in Louisville, Ky., October 1, 1891.

Watterson, Henry, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Washington, D. C., February 16, 1840; completed preparatory studies under private tutors; became a newspaper correspondent and editorial writer; his first newspaper employment was on the Washington States, a Democratic paper, 1858–1861; moved to Tennessee in 1861 and edited the Republican Banner, in Nashville; was a casual volunteer staff officer in the Confederate service; edited the Chattanooga Rebel 1862–1863; moved to Louisville, Ky., in 1867; purchased the Louisville Journal, which he consolidated with the Courier, and became editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal; temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention of 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Edward Y. Parsons, and served from August 12, 1876, to March 3, 1877; delegate in the Democratic national conventions of 1880, 1884, 1888, and 1892.

Watts, John, a Representative from New York; born in New York City August 27, 1749; received a limited schooling; member of the state assembly 1791-1793, and its speaker; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); judge of Westchester county, 1802-1808; died in New York City, September 3, 1836.

Watts, John S., a Delegate from New Mexico; born in Boone county, Ky., January 19, 1816; moved to Indiana, where he completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from the University of Indiana; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served in the state house of representatives; appointed associate justice of the United States court in New Mexico 1851-1856, when he resigned; elected to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); took an active part in equipping troops for the Union army; appointed chief justice of the supreme court of New Mexico in 1868 by President Johnson.

Waugh, Dan, a Representative from Indiana; born in Wells county, Ind., March 7, 1842; attended the common schools; served for three years as a private in company A, Thirty-fourth Indiana volunteer infantry; after the war attended a private school for two years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and settled in Tipton, Ind., in 1867; practiced his profession until 1884, when elected to the office of judge of the thirty-sixth judicial circuit for six years; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Tipton, Ind.

Wayne, Anthony, a Representative from Georgia; born in East Town, Chester county, Pa., January 1, 1745; attended the Philadelphia academy; became a land surveyor and was employed for a time in Nova Scotia; returned to Chester county, Pa.; member of the colonial house of representatives in 1774-1775; served in the Revolutionary army as colonel of the fourth regiment of Pennsylvania troops; commissioned brigadier-general February 21, 1777; received a gold medal and thanks of Congress; after the war moved to Georgia and located upon a tract of land donated him by that state as a recompense for his military service; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1787; presented credentials as a member-elect to the Second Congress and served from March 4, 1791, to March 21, 1792, when his seat was declared vacant; declined to be a candidate for reelection; again entered the service of the United States army as major-general and general in chief of the army; concluded a treaty August 3, 1795, with the hostile Indians northwest of the Ohio River; died in Presque Isle, Pa., December 15, 1796; interment in Rachnor churchyard, Chester county, Pa.

Wayne, Isaac, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Warren county, Pa., in 1772; attended the common schools; studied law and was admitted to the Chester county bar in 1795; member of the state house of representatives in 1799-1801 and 1806 and of the state senate in 1810; was captain of a troop of Pennsylvania horse raised and equipped by himself in the war of 1812, and was subsequently colonel of the second regiment Pennsylvania volunteer infantry; defeated as the Federalist candidate for governor in 1814; elected as a Federalist to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); died in Chester county, Pa., October 25, 1852.

Wayne, James Moore, a Representative from Georgia; born in Savannah, Ga., in 1790; was graduated from Princeton college in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Savannah in 1810; served two terms in the state general assembly 1815-1817; mayor of Savannah in 1817-1819; judge of the superior court 1824-1829; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses and served from March 4, 1829, to January 13, 1835, when he resigned; appointed associate justice of the United States Supreme Court and served from 1835 until his death in Washington, D. C., July 5, 1867.

Weadock, Thomas Addis Emmett, a Representative from Michigan; born in Ballygarret, county Wexford, Ireland, January 1, 1850; came with parents to America in infancy and settled in St. Marys, Ohio; attended the common schools; taught school in the counties of Auglaize, Shelby, and Miami for five years; was graduated from the law department of Michigan university in March, 1873; was admitted to the bar and located in Bay City, Mich.; assisted in making an abstract of title to the real estate in Bay county; in 1874 began practice of law in Bay City; appointed prosecuting attorney of Bay county in 1877 and served till December 31, 1878; mayor of Bay City from April, 1883, to April, 1885; member of the board of education; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Bay City, and later moved to Detroit, Mich., and continued in practice.

Weakley, Robert, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Halifax county, Va., July 2, 1764; attended Princeton, N. J., schools; member of Tennessee legislature and presiding officer of the state senate; member of the state constitutional convention of 1834; elected to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); died near Nashville, Tenn., February 4, 1845.

Weaver, Archibald Jirard, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Dundaff, Susquehanna county, Pa., April 15, 1843; attended Wyoming seminary, Pa., and was one of the faculty 1864-1867; studied law in Harvard university 1867-1869; was admitted to practice in Boston, Mass., in January, 1869; moved to Falls City, Nebr., in the spring of 1869; member of the constitutional convention of 1871; elected district attorney for the first district of Nebraska in 1872; member of the constitutional convention of 1875; elected judge of the first judicial district of Nebraska in 1875; reelected in 1879 and resigned in 1883; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); died in Falls City, Nebr., April 18, 1887.

Weaver, James Baird, a Representative from Iowa; born in Dayton, Ohio, June 12, 1833; attended the common schools; studied law and was graduated from the Cincinnati law school in April, 1854; enlisted as a private in the second Iowa infantry in April, 1861; first lieutenant of company G of that regiment, May 27, 1861; major, July 25, 1862; colonel, November 10, 1862; breveted brigadier general of volunteers March 13, 1864, "for gallant and meritorious service"; mustered out May 27, 1864; elected district attorney for the second judicial district of Iowa in January, 1867, and held the office six years, when it was abolished by law; elected as a Greenbacker to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); nominated in 1880 at Chicago by the National party as their candidate for President of the United States, and received about 350,000 votes; elected by Nationals and Democrats to the Forty-ninth Congress; reelected as the Democratic and Greenback-Labor candidate to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889); People's party candidate for President in 1892, receiving 22 electoral votes; mayor of Colfax, Iowa; died in Des Moines, Iowa, February 6, 1912.

Weaver, Walter Lowrie, a Representative from Ohio; born in Montgomery county, Ohio, April 1, 1851; attended the public schools, Monroe academy, and Wittenberg college, and was graduated from the latter in 1870; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and began practice in Springfield, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Clark county in 1874, 1880, 1882, and 1885; was a judge of the Choctaw-Chickasaw citizens' court in McAlester, Okla., for nearly three years; returned to Ohio; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law; died in Springfield, Ohio, May 26, 1909.

Webb, Edwin Yates, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Shelby, N. C., May 23, 1872; attended the Shelby military institute and was graduated from Wake Forest college in June, 1893; entered the University of North Carolina law school in July, 1893; received license to practice law in February, 1894; practiced until 1896, when he entered the University of Virginia law school and completed a post-graduate course; elected to the state senate in 1900; in 1896 was appointed a trustee of Wake Forest college; appointed trustee of the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Raleigh by the legislature of 1899 and served two years; chairman of his senatorial district in 1896 and chairman of the Democratic county executive committee from 1898 to 1902; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Webber, Amos Richard, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hinkley, Medina county, Ohio, January 21, 1852; attended the public schools of Hinkley and was graduated from Baldwin university, Berea, Ohio; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1876; located in practice in Elyria; prosecuting attorney three terms, and in 1900 was chosen judge of the court of common pleas; elected as a _____ to the Fifty-eighth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of William W. Skiles; reelected to the Fifty-ninth Congress, and served from December 5, 1904, to March 3, 1907; resumed the practice of law in Elyria, Ohio.

Webber, George Washington, a Representative from Michigan; born in Newbury, Vt., November 25, 1825; attended the common schools; located in Ionia, Mich., and engaged in farming, lumbering, manufacturing, mercantile pursuits, and banking; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); died in Ionia, Mich., January 15, 1900.

Weber, John Baptiste, a Representative from New York; born in Buffalo, N. Y., September 21, 1842; attended public and private schools and the central school of Buffalo; enlisted in the Civil war as a private in the forty-fourth regiment of New York volunteers August 7, 1861, and rapidly promoted, attaining the rank of colonel of the eighty-ninth United States colored infantry; assistant postmaster of Buffalo 1871–1873; sheriff of Erie county 1874–1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889); commissioner of immigration at the port of New York 1890–1893; appointed immigration commissioner in 1891; a resident of Lackawanna, Erie county, N. Y., and retired.

Webster, Daniel, a Representative from New Hampshire and a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Salisbury, N. H., January 18, 1782; attended district school, Exeter and Phillips Andover academies, and was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1801; studied law in the office of Christopher Gore in Boston, Mass., was admitted to the bar in March, 1805, and began practice in Boscawen, near Salisbury, N. H.; moved to Portsmouth in 1807, where he practiced; elected from New Hampshire to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1817); moved to Boston, Mass., in 1816; presidential elector in 1820; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1820; elected from Massachusetts to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1827); elected to the United States Senate and reelected and served from March 4, 1827, to February 22, 1841, when he resigned; appointed Secretary of State by President Harrison and again by President Tyler, and served from March 5, 1841, to May 9, 1843; again elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1845, to July 22, 1850, when he resigned; appointed Secretary of State by President Fillmore and served from July 22, 1850, until his death in Marshfield, Mass., October 24, 1852.

Webster, Edwin Hanson, a Representative from Maryland; born in Harford county, Md., March 31, 1829; received a classical training; member of the state senate 1855–1859; presidential elector on the Fillmore ticket in 1856; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1859, to February, 1865, when he resigned; appointed collector of customs at the port of Baltimore in 1865, and was again appointed by President Arthur in 1881; died in Bel Air, Md., April 24, 1893.

Webster, Taylor, a Representative from Ohio; born in Pennsylvania in 1801; moved with parents to Ohio in 1806, where he received a limited schooling; clerk of the Ohio house of representatives in 1829; member of the house in 1830, and elected its speaker; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1839); died in New Orleans, La., April 27, 1876.

Weeks, Edgar, a Representative from Michigan; born in Mount Clemens, Mich., August 3, 1839; attended public schools; learned the trade of a printer; studied law and was admitted to the bar in January, 1861; served in the Civil war in company B of the fifth Michigan volunteer infantry and was first sergeant of the company; first lieutenant and adjutant of the twenty-second Michigan infantry in 1862; captain in 1863; appointed assistant inspector-general of the third brigade, second division, reserve corps, Army of the Cumberland, in 1863; was mustered out in December, 1863; became one of the proprietors and editor of a Republican newspaper in Mount Clemens, Mich.; resumed the practice of law in 1866; twice elected prosecuting attorney, and afterwards appointed judge of probate of Macomb county; candidate for Congress in 1884, but defeated; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1903); died in Mount Clemens, Mich., December 17, 1904.

Weeks, John Wingate, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Greenland, N. H., March 31, 1781; received a limited schooling; learned the carpenter trade; recruited a company for the eleventh United States infantry and served as its captain in the war of 1812; promoted to the rank of major; returned to Coos county, N. H., where he held several local offices; elected to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1833); died in Lancaster, N. H., April 3, 1853.

Weeks, John Wingate, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Lancaster, N. H., April 11, 1860; was graduated from the United States naval academy in 1881; vice president of the First National bank of Boston and vice president of the Newton trust company, Newton; served in the United States navy as a midshipman 1881–1883; served in the Massachusetts naval brigade 1890–1900; served in the Spanish-American war as a lieutenant in the volunteer navy; three years an alderman and two years mayor of Newton; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Weeks, Joseph, a Representative from New Hampshire; native of Massachusetts; moved to Richmond, N. H.; held several local offices in Cheshire county; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835–March 3, 1839).

Weems, Capel Lane, a Representative from Ohio; born in Whigville, Noble county, Ohio, July 7, 1860; attended common schools and an academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Caldwell, Ohio, in the spring of 1883; elected prosecuting attorney of Noble county in 1884; member of the lower house of the general assembly of Ohio; removed to St. Clairsville, Belmont county, in 1890; elected prosecuting attorney in 1893 and 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph J. Gill; reelected to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from November 9, 1903, to March 3, 1909; resumed the practice of law in Steubenville, Ohio; died in Steubenville, Ohio, January 5, 1913.

Weems, John C., a Representative from Maryland; born in Waterloo, Calvert county, Md.; elected to the Nineteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph Kent; reelected to the Twentieth Congress and served from February 7, 1826, to March 3, 1829.

Weightman, Richard Hanson, a Delegate from New Mexico; born in Washington, D. C., December 28, 1816; attended the West Point military academy 1835–1837; served as captain in the Missouri light infantry in the Mexican war; moved to New Mexico; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); killed while commanding a brigade at Wilsons Creek, Mo., August 10, 1861.

Weisse, Charles Herman, a Representative from Wisconsin; born near Sheboygan Falls, Wis., October 24, 1866; attended public schools; chairman of the board of village trustees four times; held other local offices; defeated as the Democratic candidate for the Fifty-seventh Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911); returned to Sheboygan Falls, Wis., and engaged in manufacture of leather.

Welborn, John, a Representative from Missouri; born in Freedom township, Lafayette county, Mo., November 20, 1857; attended the Warrensburg, Mo., public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Lexington, Mo.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1907); died in Lexington, Mo., October 27, 1907.

Welch, Adonijah Strong, a Senator from Florida; born in East Hampton, Conn., April 12, 1821; moved to Michigan in 1839 and was graduated from the university of Michigan in 1846; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1847; principal of the Jonesville, Mich., high school in 1847–1849; principal of the Michigan state normal school in Ypsilanti, Mich., 1851–1865; moved to Pensacola, Fla., in 1865; removed to Jacksonville; chairman of the state Republican committee in 1868; elected to the United States Senate as a Republican and served from June 17, 1868, to March 3, 1869; moved to Iowa and was chosen president of the Iowa state agricultural college, at Ames, Iowa, and served 1869–1883; commissioner to inspect foreign colleges of agriculture in 1882; died in Pasadena, Cal., March 14, 1889.

Welch, Frank, a Delegate from the Territory of Nebraska; born in Massachusetts, February 10, 1835; was graduated from the Boston high school; adopted profession of engineering; moved to the Territory of Nebraska in 1857; member of territorial and state legislatures; register of land office in West Point, Nebr., 1871-1876; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Forty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1877, until his death in Neligh, Nebr., September 4, 1878.

Welch, John, a Representative from Ohio; born in Harrison county, Ohio, October 28, 1805; received a liberal schooling and was graduated from Franklin college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1833 began practice in Athens, Ohio; member of the state senate 1846-1847; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); justice of the supreme court of Ohio for twelve years; chief justice for four years; died in Athens, Ohio, August 5, 1891.

Welch, William Wickham, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Norfolk, Conn., December 10, 1818; studied medicine and was graduated from the medical department of Yale college in 1833; began practice in Norfolk; served in both branches of the state legislature; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); died in Norfolk, Conn., July 30, 1892.

Welker, Martin, a Representative from Ohio; born in Knox county, Ohio, April 25, 1819; attended the common schools; studied law and was admitted to the bar; judge of the sixth judicial district 1852-1857; moved to Wooster, Ohio, in 1857; lieutenant-governor in 1857 and declined a renomination; colonel in the Union army; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1871).

Wellborn, Marshall Johnson, a Representative from Georgia; born in Putnam county, Ga., May 29, 1808; received a liberal schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Columbus, Ga.; held several local offices; member of state legislature in 1829; elected judge of the superior court of Georgia in 1842; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); ordained a Baptist minister in 1864, and continued in the ministry until his death in Columbus, Ga., October 16, 1874.

Wellborn, Olin, a Representative from Texas; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1887).

Weller, John B., a Representative from Ohio and a Senator from California; born in Hamilton, Butler county, Ohio, February 22, 1811; received a public school training; elected as a Democrat from Ohio to the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1845); served in the Mexican war as a lieutenant-colonel and colonel 1846-1847; moved to California; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 17, 1852, to March 3, 1857; governor of California 1858-1860; minister to Mexico November 7, 1860, to May 14, 1861; delegate to the Democratic national convention in Chicago in 1864; died in New Orleans, La., August 17, 1875.

Weller, Luman Hannibal, a Representative from Iowa; born in Bridgewater, Conn., August 24, 1833; received a common school and academic training; also a course at the state normal school, New Britain, Conn., and literary institute, Suffield, Conn.; went west in 1859 and located in Chickasaw county, Iowa, where he engaged in farming and studied law; defeated as an independent candidate for the state legislature in 1867; elected as a National to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); engaged in farming near Nashua, Iowa.

Wellington, George Louis, a Representative and a Senator from Maryland; born in Cumberland, Allegany county, Md., January 28, 1852; attended a German school and received private instruction; appointed to a clerkship in the second National bank of Cumberland in 1870; became teller; appointed treasurer of Allegany county in 1882 and served until 1888; again appointed in 1890; delegate to the national Republican conventions of 1884 and 1888; nominated by the Republican party for comptroller of Maryland in 1889 and defeated after an active canvass; assistant treasurer of the United States at Baltimore 1890-1893; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); elected to the United States Senate as a Republican and served from March 4, 1897, to March 3, 1903; a resident of Cumberland county, Md., interested in and an officer of several corporations.

Wells, Alfred, a Representative from New York; born in Dagsboro, Del., May 27, 1814; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Ithaca, N. Y.; held several local offices; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); died in Ithaca, N. Y., in 1867.

Wells, Daniel, Jr., a Representative from Wisconsin; born in West Waterville, Me., July 16, 1808; attended the public schools; moved to Milwaukee, Wis., in 1836; engaged in banking and lumbering; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); died in Milwaukee, Wis., March 18, 1902.

Wells, Erastus, a Representative from Missouri; born in Jefferson county, N. Y., December 2, 1823; received a public school training; went to St. Louis, Mo., in 1842; established the first omnibus line in that city, and subsequently inaugurated the first street railroad company; fifteen years a member of the city council; president of the Missouri railroad company and of the West End Narrow Gauge railroad company and a director in other corporations; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1877); defeated for the Forty-fifth Congress; reelected to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); died in St. Louis county, Mo., October 2, 1893.

Wells, Guilford Wiley, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Conesus Center, Livingston county, N. Y., February 14, 1840; pursued classical studies; served in the Union army; enlisted as a private in the twenty-seventh New York infantry, May 21, 1861; second lieutenant, one hundred and thirtieth New York infantry, in 1862; first lieutenant and captain, nineteenth New York cavalry; wounded in battle of Trevillian Station, Va., June 12, 1864; mustered out February 10, 1865, as a lieutenant colonel; resumed the study of law and was graduated from the law department of Columbian college, Washington, D. C., in 1867; located in Holly Springs, Miss.; United States attorney for the northern district of Mississippi, 1870-1875; elected as an Administration Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); consul general at Shanghai, China, 1877-1878; located in Los Angeles, Cal., in 1879 and practiced law; died in Santa Monica, Cal., March 21, 1909.

Wells, John, a Representative from New York; born in Johnstown, N. Y., July 1, 1817; attended Johnstown academy and was graduated from Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New York City; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); was a judge for several years, located in Johnstown, where he died May 30, 1877.

Wells, John Sullivan, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Durham, N. H., October 18, 1803; attended the academy in Pembroke, N. H.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828; practiced in Guildhall, Vt., 1828-1835; in Bangor, Me., in 1835; in Lancaster, N. H., 1836-1846; and thereafter in Exeter, N. H.; served several years in the state house of representatives, part of the time as speaker; attorney general of New Hampshire 1847; member and president of the state senate 1851-1852; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Moses Norris and served from January 16, 1855, to March 3, 1855; died in Exeter, N. H., August 1, 1860.

Wells, Owen Augustine, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Catskill, Greene county, N. Y., February 4, 1844; moved to Fond du Lac, Wis., with his parents when a boy; attended public and private schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Fond du Lac; also engaged in farming and stock raising; collector of internal revenue for the third Wisconsin district under Grover Cleveland for two years, until the district was consolidated with the Milwaukee district; delegate in the national Democratic convention in St. Louis in 1888 and in Indianapolis in 1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Fond du Lac, Wis.

Wells, William Hill a Senator from Delaware; born in Burlington, N. J., January 7, 1769; received a liberal schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Georgetown, Del., and practiced; engaged in business in Dagsboro and Millsboro, Del.; later located in Dover, Del.; member of the general assembly of Delaware 1795-1797; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Joshua Clayton and served from January 17, 1799, to November 6, 1804, when he resigned; again elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of James A. Bayard and served from May 28, 1813, to March 3, 1817; died in Millsboro, Del., March 11, 1829.

Wemple, Edward, a Representative from New York; born in Fultonville, N. Y., October 23, 1843; was graduated from Union college in 1866; studied law for a time, but engaged in the foundry business; supervisor of Fultonville 1874-1876; member of the state assembly 1877-1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); served one term in the state senate; Democratic presidential elector in 1884; elected comptroller of the state of New York in 1887 and served two terms.

Wendover, Peter H., a Representative from New York; native of New York; received a liberal schooling; held several local offices; member of the state assembly; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1821); died in New York City September 20, 1834.

Wentworth, John, Jr., a Delegate from New Hampshire; born in Salmon Falls, N. H., July 17, 1745; was graduated from Harvard university in 1768; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Dover, N. H.; member of the state house of representatives 1776-1780; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1778-1779; one of the signers of the articles of confederation; member of the state council 1780-1784; member of the state senate 1784-1787; died in Dover, N. H., January 10, 1787.

Wentworth, John, a Representative from Illinois; born in Sandwich, N. H., March 5, 1815; moved with parents to Dover, N. H., in 1819, where he attended public schools and an academy; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1836; moved to Chicago, Ill., and engaged in newspaper work; studied law, attended the Harvard law school, was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1841, and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1851); reelected to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); mayor of Chicago as a Republican 1857-1863; delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1861; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); died in Chicago, Ill., October 16, 1888.

Wentworth, Tappan, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Dover, N. H., February 24, 1802; received a liberal schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1824 began practice in Great Falls, N. H.; moved to Lowell, Mass., in 1833 and a member of the common council 1836-1841; elected to the state house of representatives 1851, 1859, 1860, 1863, and 1864; to the state senate 1848, 1849, 1865, and 1866; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); defeated for reelection; died in Lowell, Mass., June 12, 1875.

West, George, a Representative from New York; born in Devonshire county, England, February 17, 1823; attended common schools; came to the United States in February, 1849, and located in Ballston Spa, N. Y.; engaged in manufacturing; served five terms in the state assembly 1872-1876; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1880; president of the first National bank; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); reelected to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889); died in Ballston Spa, Saratoga county, N. Y., September 20, 1901.

West, Joseph Rodman, a Senator from Louisiana; born in New Orleans, La., September 19, 1822; attended the University of Pennsylvania; captain of volunteers in the Mexican war; moved to California in 1849 and engaged in newspaper work in San Francisco; entered the Union army as lieutenant-colonel first California infantry August 5, 1861; colonel June 1, 1862; brigadier general of volunteers October 25, 1862; brevet major general January 4, 1866, "for faithful and meritorious service;" mustered out the same day; moved to Texas and then to New Orleans; held several local offices; deputy United States marshal; auditor for customs; elected to the United States Senate as a Republican and served from March 4, 1871, to March 3, 1877; Commissioner of the District of Columbia 1882–1885; died in Washington, D. C., October 31, 1898.

Westbrook, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Pennsylvania; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843).

Westbrook, Theodoric R., a Representative from New York; native of New York; received a liberal schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Kingston, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855).

Westcott, James Diament, a Senator from Florida; born in Alexandria, Va., May 10, 1802; moved to New Jersey, where he received a liberal schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1824 began practice; secretary of Florida Territory 1830–1834; United States attorney for the middle district of Florida 1834–1836; served in the territorial house of representatives in 1832; delegate to the state conventions of 1838–1839; elected to the United States Senate as a Democrat and served from July 1, 1845 to March 3, 1849; moved to New York City in 1850 and practiced law; removed to Canada in 1862; died in Montreal, Canada, January 12, 1880.

Westerlo, Rensselaer, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., in 1776; was graduated from Columbia college in 1795; studied law and was admitted to the bar; elected as a Federalist to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); died in Albany, N. Y., April 18, 1851.

Wethered, John, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore county, Maryland, May 8, 1809; completed preparatory studies; held local offices; elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1867 from Baltimore county; engaged in the manufacture of woolen goods; died in Baltimore, Md., February 15, 1888.

Wetmore, George Peabody, a Senator from Rhode Island; born during a visit of his parents abroad in London, England, August 2, 1846; was graduated from Yale college in 1867; studied law in Columbia college law school and was graduated in 1869; was admitted to the bar of Rhode Island and of New York in 1869; trustee of the Peabody museum of natural history in Yale university; trustee of the Peabody education fund, president of the Newport hospital, and a director of other associations; first presidential elector of Rhode Island in 1880 and in 1884; member of the commission to build a new state house; governor of Rhode Island in 1885–1887; defeated for a third term in 1887; defeated as a Republican candidate for the United States Senate in 1889; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate June 13, 1894, for the term beginning March 4, 1895; reelected in 1900 and in 1907 for the term expiring March 4, 1913.

Wever, John Madison, a Representative from New York; born in Ganges, Allegan county, Mich., February 24, 1847; attended the common schools and Albion college, Mich.; entered Union army at age of 16 and served in the army of Cumberland and the army of the Ohio; at close of war located in Plattsburg, N. Y., and entered into banking business; elected county treasurer of Clinton county in 1884 and reelected in 1887; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1895); cashier and then president of the Merchants' National bank, of Plattsburg, N. Y.

Weymouth, George Warren, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in West Amesbury, now Merrimac, Mass., August 25, 1850; attended the public schools and was graduated from the high school of Merrimac; engaged in business; director of the Fitchburg National bank and trustee of the Fitchburg savings bank; director in several corporations; one year in the city council of Fitchburg; in the state legislature of 1896 and delegate to the national Republican convention in St. Louis in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1901); killed in an automobile accident in Bingham, Me., September 7, 1910; interment in Fairhaven, Mass.

Whaley, Kellian Van Rensselaer, a Representative from Virginia and from West Virginia; born in Onondaga county, N. Y., May 6, 1821; moved to Ohio and attended the public schools; moved to Virginia in 1842, located in Point Pleasant, and engaged in lumbering; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); served in the Union army; elected a Representative from the new state of West Virginia to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses and served from December 7, 1863, to March 3, 1867; delegate in the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864; collector of customs at Brazos de Santiago, Tex., in 1868; died in Point Pleasant, W. Va., May 20, 1876.

Whallon, Reuben, a Representative from New York; born in New Jersey in 1777; moved to New York; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); died in Split Rock, N. Y., April 15, 1843.

Wharton, Charles S., a Representative from Illinois; born in Aledo, Ill., April 22, 1875; moved to Chicago with his parents in 1878; attended the Chicago public schools and was graduated from the law department of the university of Michigan; admitted to the bar June 10, 1896; in 1899 was town attorney for the town of Lake; in May, 1903, was appointed assistant city attorney of Chicago; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1907); resumed the practice of law in Chicago, Ill.

Wharton, Jesse, a Representative and a Senator from Tennessee; born in Albemarle county, Va., July 29, 1776; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Albemarle county; located in Tennessee; elected to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807–March 3, 1809); appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of George W. Campbell and served from March 17, 1814, to October 10, 1815; died in Nashville, Tenn., July 22, 1833.

Wharton, Samuel, a Delegate from Delaware; born in Philadelphia, Pa., May 3, 1732; received a liberal schooling; engaged in the mercantile business; Indians destroyed goods of the firm in which he was associated, and for indemnification made over a large tract of land bordering on the Ohio river and comprising about one-fourth of the present state of West Virginia; while in England, to secure a confirmation of the grant, some of his correspondence with Benjamin Franklin was discovered and, with Franklin, was forced to flee to France; returned to Philadelphia in 1780; member of city councils, of the committee of safety of the Revolution, of the colonial and state legislatures; Delegate from Delaware in the Continental Congress 1782–1783; justice of the peace for the district of Southwark; died at his country seat near Philadelphia, Pa., in March, 1800.

Wheaton, Horace, a Representative from New York; born in New Milcord, Conn., February 24, 1803; received a limited schooling; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); died in Syracuse, N. Y., June 21, 1882.

Wheaton, Laban, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Mansfield, Mass., March 13, 1754; was graduated from Harvard college in 1774; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Norton, Mass.; judge of the county court; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1809–March 3, 1817); chief justice of the court of common pleas in 1810 and chief justice of the court of sessions in 1819; died in Norton, Mass., March 23, 1846.

Wheeler, Charles Kennedy, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Christian county, Ky., April 18, 1863; attended common schools; was graduated from Southwestern university, Clarksville, Tenn., in 1879, and from the Lebanon law school, Lebanon, Tenn., in 1880; located in Paducah, Ky., August, 1880, and engaged in the practice of law; Democratic elector in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1903); resumed the practice of law in Paducah, Ky.

Wheeler, Ezra, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Chenango county, N. Y., December 23, 1820; received a liberal preparatory schooling and was graduated from Union college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Berlin, Wis.; member of the state house of representatives in 1852; county judge 1854–1862; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); died in Pueblo, Colo., September 19, 1871.

Wheeler, Frank Willis, a Representative from Michigan; born in Chaumont, Jefferson county, N. Y., March 2, 1853; received a common-school education; moved with his parents to East Saginaw, Mich., in 1864; engaged in boatbuilding and became master; located in West Bay City, Mich., in 1876; became master of the Saginaw river tug association; engaged in shipbuilding at the Bay cities for many years; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); a resident of Detroit, Mich.

Wheeler, Grattan Henry, a Representative from New York; born near Providence, R. I., August 25, 1783; completed preparatory studies; moved to Steuben county, N. Y., with parents about 1800; state representative 1822, 1824, and 1826, and state senator 1828–1831; elected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1833); died in Wheeler, Steuben county, N. Y., March 11, 1852.

Wheeler, Hamilton Kinkaid, a Representative from Illinois; born in Bennington, Vt., August 5, 1848; went with parents to Illinois in 1852; attended public and private schools of Illinois; studied law, was admitted to the bar of Kankakee county, Ill., in 1871, and practiced in Kankakee; elected to the state senate in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law in Kankakee, Ill.; delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1896 and 1900.

Wheeler, Harrison H., a Representative from Michigan; born in Lapeer county, Mich., March 22, 1839; attended the common schools and taught school until 1861; enlisted as a private in company C, tenth regiment Michigan volunteer infantry; second lieutenant June, 1862; first lieutenant, company E, same regiment, in April, 1863; captain company F, same regiment, in April, 1865; wounded at Buzzards Roost Gap, Kenesaw mountain, and at Jonesboro, Ga., during the Atlanta campaign; located in Bay City, Mich., at the close of the war; elected clerk of Bay county in 1866; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1868; state senator in 1870 and 1872; moved to Ludington, Mason county, Mich., in 1873 and appointed circuit judge in 1874 and elected to the office; resigned in June, 1878, and resumed practice of law in Ludington; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); died in Ludington, Mich., July 29, 1896.

Wheeler, John, a Representative from New York; born in Derby, Conn., in 1823; attended the common schools; moved to New York city in 1853 and became a merchant; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1857).

Wheeler, Joseph, a Representative from Alabama; born in Augusta, Ga., September 10, 1836; was graduated from the West Point military academy July 1, 1859; brevet second lieutenant of first dragoons; transferred to mounted rifles

June 26, 1860; second lieutenant, September 1, 1860; served in New Mexico; attended the cavalry school in Carlisle, Pa., one year; resigned April 22, 1861; lieutenant of artillery in the Confederate army; successively promoted to the command of a regiment, brigade, division, and army corps, and in 1862 assigned to the command of the army corps of cavalry of the Western army, continuing in the position until the war closed; by joint resolution of the confederate congress received the thanks of that body for successful military operations, and for the defense of the city of Aiken received the thanks of the state of South Carolina; May 11, 1864, became senior cavalry general of the Confederate armies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and engaged in practice and in planting in Wheeler, Ala.; served in the Spanish-American war; major general of volunteers, May 4, 1898, and assigned to command of cavalry division, United States Army; brigadier general of volunteers, April 12, 1899; brigadier general, United States army, June 16, 1900; retired September 10, 1900; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1881, to June 3, 1882, when he was succeeded by William M. Lowe, who contested his election; subsequently elected in the same Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of William M. Lowe, and served from January 15, 1883, to March 3, 1883; reelected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth, and to the seven succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1885, to April 20, 1900, when he resigned; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., January 25, 1906.

Wheeler, Nelson Platt, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Portville, N. Y., November 4, 1841; attended the public schools and academies in Olean and Deposit, N. Y.; engaged in the lumber business and in farming; elected county commissioner and held various township offices; moved to Endeavor, Pa., and served one term, 1878-1879, in the state legislature; declined a renomination; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911); engaged in business in Endeavor, Pa.

Wheeler, William Almon, a Representative from New York; born in Malone, N. Y., June 19, 1819; completed preparatory studies in Franklin academy, Malone, N. Y., and attended the university of Vermont, in Burlington, Vt.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and practiced in Malone, N. Y.; for several years district attorney for Franklin county, N. Y.; member of the state assembly 1850-1851; member of the state senate 1858-1859; delegate in the state constitutional convention 1867-1868; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); reelected to the Forty-first, and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1877); elected Vice President of the United States on the Hayes ticket in 1876; died in Malone, N. Y., June 4, 1887.

Whipple, Thomas, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Lebanon, N. H., in 1787; completed preparatory studies, studied medicine, and began practice in Wentworth, N. H.; elected to the Seventeenth, and the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1829); died in Wentworth, N. H., January 23, 1835.

Whipple, William, a Delegate from New Hampshire; born in Kittery, Mass. (afterwards Maine), January 14, 1730; sailor, and engaged in the slave trade a number of years; left the sea, liberated slaves belonging to him, and engaged in mercantile pursuits in Portsmouth, N. H.; elected a Delegate to the Continental Congress 1775-1776 and 1778; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; declined a reelection; member of the state assembly 1780-1784; commissioned a brigadier general in 1777, and participated in several battles of the Revolution; appointed judge of the state supreme court in 1782; died in Portsmouth, N. H., November 28, 1785.

Whitcomb, James, a Senator from Indiana; born near Windsor, Vt., December 1, 1795; was graduated from Transylvania university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Bloomington, Ind., in 1824; prosecuting attorney for Monroe county in 1826; state senator 1830-1836; appointed by President Jackson commissioner of the general land office 1836-1841; resumed the practice of law in Terre Haute, Ind.; governor 1843-1849; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1849, until his death in New York City, October 4, 1852.

White, Addison, a Representative from Kentucky; a native of Kentucky; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853).

White, Albert Smith, a Representative and a Senator from Indiana; born in Blooming Grove, Orange county, N. Y., October 24, 1803; was graduated from Union college in 1822; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825; moved to Lafayette, Ind., in 1829; clerk of the state house of representatives for five years; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); president of several railroads; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1839, to March 3, 1845; declined a reelection; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); judge of the United States court for the district of Indiana in 1864, and served until his death in Stockwell, Ind., September 24, 1864.

White, Alexander, a Representative from Alabama; born in Franklin, Tenn., October 16, 1816; moved to Alabama with parents in 1821; pursued an academic course and attended the University of Tennessee; served in the Seminole war in 1836; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1838, and practiced in Talladega; elected as a Union Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); moved to Selma, Ala., in 1856; member of the state constitutional convention of 1865; member of the general assembly in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); defeated for reelection; appointed an associate justice of the United States court for the territory of Utah in 1875; served a few months; returned to Alabama, then moved to Dallas, Tex., and practiced law.

White, Alexander, a Delegate from North Carolina and a Representative from Virginia; born in Rappahannock county, Va., in 1738; Delegate from North Carolina in the Continental Congress 1786-1788; elected a Representative from Virginia to the First and Second Congresses (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1793); died in Woodville, Va., September 19, 1804.

White, Alexander Colwell, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Kittanning, Armstrong county, Pa., December 12, 1833; attended public schools and taught school; attended the Jacksonville institute and the Dayton union academy; moved to Jefferson county, Pa., in 1860, where he studied law and was admitted to practice in December, 1862; served in the Union army as a private in company I, eighth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers; elected district attorney in 1867 and 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law; died in Brookville, Pa., June 11, 1906.

White, Allison, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pennsylvania, December 21, 1816; attended the public schools, studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Lock Haven, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); defeated for reelection; died in Philadelphia, Pa., April 5, 1886.

White, Bartow, a Representative from New York; born in Somers, Westchester county, N. Y., November 7, 1776; completed preparatory studies, studied medicine, and practiced; elected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1827); died in Fishkill, Dutchess county, N. Y., December 12, 1862.

White, Benjamin, a Representative from Maine; born in Goshen (now Vienna), Me., May 13, 1790; attended the common schools and Farmington academy; a noncommissioned officer in the War of 1812; served two terms in the state house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); died in Montville, Me., June 7, 1860.

White, Campbell P., a Representative from New York; a native of New York; received a limited education; merchant; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1835); appointed quartermaster-general of New York January 24, 1831; died in New York City, February 12, 1859.

White, Chilton Allen, a Representative from Ohio; born in Georgetown, Ohio, February 12, 1826; received a limited schooling; served in the Mexican war; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1848 began practice in Georgetown, Ohio; two years prosecuting attorney for Brown county; member of the state senate 1859-1860; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865); defeated for reelection; died in Georgetown, Ohio, October 7, 1900.

White, David, a Representative from Kentucky; born in 1785; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in New Castle, Ky.; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); died in Franklin county, Ky., October 19, 1834.

White, Edward Douglas, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Nashville, Tenn., in March, 1795; moved with his father to Attakapas Parish, La., in 1799; attended the public schools and was graduated from the university of Tennessee; studied law, admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Donaldsonville, La.; appointed judge of the city court of New Orleans and moved there in 1825; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses and served from March 4, 1829, to November 15, 1834, when he resigned; governor of Louisiana 1834-1838; moved to Thibodeauxville; reelected to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); died in New Orleans, La., April 18, 1847.

White, Edward Douglass, a Senator from Louisiana; born in the Parish of Lafourche, La., November 3, 1845; attended Mount St. Marys, near Emmitsburg, Md., the Jesuit college in New Orleans, and was graduated from Georgetown college, District of Columbia; served in the Confederate army; licensed to practice law by the supreme court of Louisiana in December, 1868; state senator 1874-1878; associate justice of the supreme court of Louisiana 1878-1891; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1891, to March 12, 1894, when he resigned; appointed associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States February 19, 1894, and took his seat March 12, 1894; appointed Chief Justice of the United States December 12, 1910, and took the oath of office December 19, 1910.

White, Francis, a Representative from Virginia; a native of Virginia; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815).

White, Frederick Edward, a Representative from Iowa; born in Prussia, Germany, January 19, 1844; came to America with his mother in 1857 and settled on a farm in Keokuk county, Iowa; enlisted in the eighth Iowa infantry in 1861 and was rejected on account of age; reenlisted in February, 1862, in the thirteenth Iowa infantry, and was mustered out in August, 1865; returned home and engaged in farming and stock-raising; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); a retired farmer residing in South English, Iowa.

White, George Elon, a Representative from Illinois; born in Milbury, Mass., March 7, 1848; was graduated from college; enlisted as a private in the fifty-seventh Massachusetts veteran volunteers, in which he served under General Grant, in the Army of the Potomac, from the battle of the Wilderness until the surrender of General Lee; after the close of the war entered a commercial college in Worcester, Mass.; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1867 and engaged in the lumber business; director in state and national banks; served as alderman of Chicago and as state senator; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899).

White, George Henry, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Rosindale, Bladen county, N. C., December 18, 1852; attended public schools and the Whitten normal school in Lumberton, N. C.; was graduated from the eclectic department of Howard university, Washington, D. C., in 1877; read law and was licensed to practice in all the courts of North Carolina in 1879; principal of a state normal school; elected to the state house of representatives in 1880 and to the state senate in 1884; solicitor and prosecuting attorney for the second judicial district of North Carolina 1886-1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); engaged in the practice of law in Philadelphia, Pa.

White, Harry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Indiana county, Pa., January 12, 1834; received a collegiate training and was graduated in 1854; studied law, was admitted to the bar in June, 1855, and commenced practice in Indiana, Pa.; entered the Union army as major of the Sixty-seventh Pennsylvania infantry December 13, 1861; brevet brigadier general of volunteers, March 2, 1865; mustered out February 22, 1865; elected a state senator during his military service and attended its sessions in the winter of 1862-1863; reelected to the state senate in 1865 for three years; in 1868 and 1871 and served as speaker at the close of the last term; delegate at large to the constitutional convention of 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881).

White, Hugh, a Representative from New York; born in New York city in 1799; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; founded Whitestone, Oneida county, N. Y.; elected to the Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1851); died near Troy, N. Y., October 6, 1870.

White, Hugh Lawson, a Senator from Tennessee; born in Iredell county, N. C., October 30, 1773; moved to Knox county, Tenn., in 1785; participated in the expedition against the Cherokees under General Sevier; pursued classical studies in Philadelphia, Pa., and studied law in Lancaster, Pa.; in 1796 began practice in Knoxville, Tenn.; private secretary to Governor Blount; judge of the state supreme court, 1801-1807; state senator, 1807-1809, 1817-1819; appointed United States district attorney in 1808; elected judge of the supreme court in 1809-1815; chosen president of the state bank in 1815; state senator, 1820-1825; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Andrew Jackson; reelected and served from October 28, 1825, to January 13, 1840, when he resigned; chosen President pro tempore of the Senate December 3, 1832; received the electoral votes of Tennessee and Georgia in 1836 for President of the United States; died in Knoxville, Tenn., April 10, 1840.

White, James, a Delegate from the Territory South of the Ohio River; born in Philadelphia, Pa., June 16, 1749; attended a Jesuit college in St. Omer, France; returned and studied medicine in the University of Pennsylvania; joined the Continental army at the outbreak of the Revolution and received pay from North Carolina in a land warrant on a tract on the Holston River; located it in 1787 as a part of the proposed state of "Franklin"; erected a fort, built a grist mill, made a treaty with the Cherokees, and platted the embryo city of Knoxville; member of the territorial assembly; elected a Delegate from the Territory South of the Ohio River to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); took his seat November 18, 1794; state senator of Tennessee and speaker of the body in 1796; resigned in December, 1797, to make a place for William Blount, who, for alleged treason, had been expelled from the United States Senate; commissioned brigadier general of Tennessee; went to Louisiana in 1799, and was elevated to the bench as a judge of western Louisiana; died in Attakapas, La., in October, 1809.

White, James Bain, a Representative from Indiana; born in Stirlingshire, Scotland, in June, 1835; attended common schools; emigrated to the United States in 1854 and located in Fort Wayne, Ind.; a calico printer and tailor until the breaking out of the civil war; enlisted as a private in company I, thirtieth Indiana volunteers; elected captain of the company and served until December, 1862, when he resigned; wounded in the battle of Shiloh April 7, 1862; elected a member of the common council of Fort Wayne in 1874; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); died in Fort Wayne, Ind., October 9, 1897.

White, James Bamford, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Clark county, Ky., June 6, 1842; attended the common schools and Mount Zion academy, Macon county, Ill.; entered the Confederate army in the fall of 1863 and served in the commands of Generals Breckenridge and Morgan until the close of the war; taught school and studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1867 and engaged in practice in Irvine, Ky.; held the office of county attorney; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); resumed the practice of law in Irvine, Ky.

White, John, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Kentucky in 1805; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Richmond, Ky.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1845); Speaker of the House during the Twenty-seventh Congress; appointed judge of the nineteenth judicial district of Kentucky and served until his death, by his own hand, in Richmond, Ky., September 22, 1845.

White, John D., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Clay county, Ky., January 16, 1849; attended a private school until 1865 and Eminence college and the Kentucky university until 1870; was graduated from the law department of Michigan university in 1872; also attended the medical department of the same institution; declined a nomination for clerk of the court of appeals of Kentucky in 1874; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); declined a re-nomination; chairman of the Kentucky Republican state convention in Louisville 1879; member of the state legislature 1879-1880; resigned in 1880; indorsed and reelected without opposition during the sitting of the legislature; chairman of the Kentucky delegation in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1880; defeated as the Republican candidate for Congress in 1880 and for the United States Senate in 1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885).

White, Joseph L., a Representative from Indiana; native of Cherry Valley, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Madison, Ind.; elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); moved to New York and practiced law; became a manufacturer; died January 12, 1861.

White, Joseph M., a Delegate from Florida Territory; born in Franklin county, Ky., May 10, 1781; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Pensacola, Fla.; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1837); defeated for the Twenty-fifth Congress; died in St. Louis, Mo., October 19, 1839.

White, Joseph Worthington, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cambridge, Ohio, October 2, 1822; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1844 began practice in Cambridge; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); defeated for reelection; died in Cambridge, Ohio, August 4, 1892.

White, Leonard, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Haverhill, Mass., May 3, 1767; was graduated from Harvard college in 1787; served in the state house of representatives for several years; held numerous local offices; elected to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1813); cashier of the Merrimack bank twenty-five years; died in Haverhill, Mass., October 10, 1849.

White, Michael Doherty, a Representative from Indiana; born in Clark county, Ohio, September 8, 1827; moved to Indiana in 1829 and located in Tippecanoe county; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Crawfordsville, Ind.; served as county prosecuting attorney; four years a state senator; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); resumed the practice of law in Crawfordsville, Ind.

White, Milo, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Fletcher, Franklin county, Vt., August 17, 1830; attended the common schools; moved to Chatfield, Minn., and became a merchant; elected member of the state senate 1872–1876 and 1881–1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); defeated for Congress in 1898.

White, Phillips, a Delegate from New Hampshire; born in Haverhill, Mass., October 28, 1729; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1782–1783; died in South Hampton, N. H., August 11, 1811.

White, Phineas, a Representative from Vermont; born in Hampshire county, Mass., in 1770; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Pomfret, Vt.; register of probate for Windsor county 1800–1809; county attorney in 1813; served in both branches of the legislature for eight years; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823); died in Putney, Vt., in 1847.

White, Samuel, a Senator from Delaware; born in Wilmington, Del., in 1770; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; appointed and subsequently elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate, and served from February 28, 1801, until his death in Wilmington, Del., November 4, 1809.

White, Stephen Mallory, a Senator from California; born in San Francisco, Cal., January 19, 1853; moved with parents to Santa Cruz county, Cal.; attended private and common schools, and St. Ignatius college in San Francisco, and was graduated from Santa Clara college, Santa Clara county, Cal., in 1871; studied law, was admitted to the bar April 14, 1874, and located in practice in Los Angeles, Cal.; district attorney of Los Angeles county in 1882; state senator 1886–1890; president pro tempore both sessions, and in 1888 became, by virtue of his office, lieutenant governor; member board of regents of the university of California; delegate in the Democratic national conventions of 1888 and 1892; unsuccessful candidate for the United States Senate in 1890; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1893, to March 3, 1899; died in Los Angeles, Cal., February 21, 1901.

White, Stephen Van Culen, a Representative from New York; born in Chatham county, N. C., August 1, 1831; moved with his parents to Jersey county, Ill., in 1831; attended the free school founded by Dr. Silas Hamilton in Otterville, Ill., and was graduated from Knox college, Illinois, in 1854; entered a mercantile house in St. Louis, Mo.; studied law and was admitted to practice November 4, 1856; moved to Des Moines, Iowa, in 1856, and practiced law until January 1, 1865; acting United States district attorney for Iowa in 1864; moved to New York city in 1865 and engaged in banking; member of the stock exchange; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889); a resident of the borough of Brooklyn, New York City.

White, William J., a Representative from Ohio; born in Canada, October 7, 1850; came to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1857; attended the district schools; entered business as a wholesale dealer, manufacturer, and vessel owner; later interested in banking, farming, stock raising, and various business enterprises; elected mayor of West Cleveland as a Republican in 1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1895).

Whiteaker, John, a Representative from Oregon; born in Dearborn county, Ind., May 4, 1820; was self-educated and early engaged in farming and stock raising; went to the Pacific coast in 1849 and settled in Oregon in 1852; elected judge of probate for Lane county in 1855; member of the territorial legislature in 1857, and in 1858 elected governor of the new state of Oregon, which office he held until 1862; elected to the state house of representatives in 1866 and 1868, served as speaker, and again re-elected in 1870; member of the state board of equalization in 1872, and chairman; member of the commission to examine, report upon, and receive the locks and canal at the falls of the Willamette river; elected a state senator in 1876 for four years and served as president of the sessions of 1876 and 1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); collector of the port of Portland, Oreg.; died in Eugene, Oreg., October 2, 1902.

Whitehead, Thomas, a Representative from Virginia; born in Clifton, Va., December 27, 1825; received a limited schooling; became a merchant; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Amherst, Va.; engaged in farming; elected prosecuting attorney for Amherst county in 1866 and 1869, resigning in November, 1873; elected state senator in 1865, but did not qualify; served in the Confederate army 1861–1865; elected as a Conservative, indorsed by Republicans, to the Forty-third Congress March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); died in Lynchburg, Va., in 1902.

Whitehill, James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Strasburg, Lancaster county, Pa., February 1, 1762; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Strasburg; elected associate judge of the Lancaster county court and served 1811–1813, and again 1820–1822; served in the War of 1812; became major general of Pennsylvania militia; elected to the Thirteenth Congress and served from March 4, 1813, to September 1, 1814, when he resigned; died in Strasburg, Pa., February 26, 1822; interment in Presbyterian churchyard, Leacock, Pa.

Whitehill, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Salisbury township, Lancaster county, Pa., December 11, 1729; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Lancaster county; justice of the peace; member of the council of censors October 20, 1783; delegate in the supreme executive council; member of state convention for adoption of the Federal constitution; elected to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1807); died in Lancaster county, Pa., September 16, 1815.

Whitehill, Robert, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pequea, Lancaster county, Pa., July 29, 1738; attended common schools; purchased a large tract of land in Cumberland county, located upon it, and erected the first stone house in the county; member of Philadelphia convention of July, 1776, that approved the Declaration of Independence, and of the state convention of 1790; served in both branches of the state legislature and was speaker of the senate during the impeachment trials of the supreme court judges of Pennsylvania; elected to the Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1813); died in Lauther Manor, Cumberland county, Pa., April 8, 1813.

Whitehouse, John O., a Representative from New York; born in Rochester, N. H., July 19, 1817; received a limited schooling; moved to Brooklyn, N. Y., and became a merchant and manufacturer; elected as a Liberal to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877).

Whitelaw, Robert Henry, a Representative from Missouri; born in Essex county, Va., January 30, 1854; attended the public schools of Staunton, Va., and the law department of the University of Michigan; was admitted to the bar; located in practice in Cape Girardeau, Mo., in 1859; prosecuting attorney of Cape Girardeau county two terms; member of the state general assembly two terms; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of James Peter Walker and served from December 1, 1890, to March 3, 1891; resumed the practice of law in Cape Girardeau, Mo., and city attorney for several years.

Whiteley, Richard Henry, a Representative from Georgia; born in Ireland December 22, 1830; brought with parents to Georgia in 1836; received private instruction in elementary branches; engaged in manufacturing; studied law and in 1860 was admitted to the bar; opposed secession, but after the adoption of the ordinance entered the Confederate army and served until 1865; attained the rank of major; member of the state constitutional convention of 1867; claimed an election to the Forty-first Congress, but the House refused him his seat; credentials as a Senator-elect to the United States Senate were presented July 15, 1870, in the Forty-first Congress, but, as election took place prior to the readmission of Georgia into the Union, was not admitted to his seat; elected to the Forty-first Congress; qualified under the act of July 11, 1868, and took his seat February 9, 1871; reelected to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses and served from February 9, 1871, to March 3, 1875; defeated for the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses; died in Boulder, Colo., September 26, 1890.

Whiteley, William Gustavus, a Representative from Delaware; born in Newark, Del., August 7, 1819; was graduated from Princeton college in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and began practice in New Castle; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1861); mayor of Wilmington, Del., in 1873; appointed associate judge of the superior court of Delaware March 31, 1884, and served until his death in Wilmington, Del., April 23, 1886; interment in Bridgeton, N. J.

Whiteside, Jenkins, a Senator from Tennessee; born in Lancaster, Pa., in 1782; pursued preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Tennessee and practiced in Nashville many years; was elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Smith, and served from April 11, 1809, to October 8, 1811, when he resigned; died in Nashville, Tenn., September 25, 1822.

Whiteside, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; elected to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1819).

Whitefield, John W., a Delegate from the Territory of Kansas; born in Tennessee; moved to Tecumseh, Kans.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses and served from March 4, 1853, until August 1, 1856, when he was succeeded by Andrew H. Reeder, who contested his election to the Thirty-fourth Congress.

Whiting, Justin Rice, a Representative from Michigan; born in Bath, Steuben county, N. Y., February 18, 1847; moved with parents to St.

Clair, Mich., in 1849; attended public schools and Michigan university 1863-1865; became a merchant and manufacturer; mayor of St. Clair in 1879; state senator in 1882; elected by the combined votes of Democrats and Greenbackers to the Fiftieth Congress; reelected to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1895); Democratic candidate for governor in 1898 and defeated; Democratic candidate for Congress in 1900 and defeated; chairman of the Democratic state central committee; died in St. Clair, Mich., January 31, 1903.

Whiting, Richard Henry, a Representative from Illinois; born in West Hartford, Conn., January 7, 1826; attended the common schools; served in the Union army 1862-1866; assessor of internal revenue for the fifth district of Illinois 1870-1873; collector of internal revenue for the same district 1873-1875; elected to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); died in New York city May 24, 1888; interment in Peoria, Ill.

Whiting, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Concord, Mass., March 3, 1813; was graduated from Harvard college in 1833; taught school in Plymouth and Concord, Mass.; was graduated from the Harvard law school in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Boston; solicitor of the War Department 1862-1865; presidential elector in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress, but died before the assembling of the Congress, in Boston, Mass., June 29, 1873.

Whiting, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Dudley, Mass., May 24, 1841; attended grammar and high school; engaged in the manufacture of paper in Holyoke, Mass.; elected to the state senate in 1873; treasurer of Holyoke 1876-1877; delegate to the national Republican convention of 1876; mayor of Holyoke 1878-1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1889); commissioner to the Paris exposition in 1900; died in Holyoke, Mass., January 9, 1911.

Whitman, Ezekiel, a Representative from Massachusetts and Maine; born in East Bridgewater, Mass., March 9, 1776; was graduated from Brown university in 1795; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in New Gloucester, Me., 1799-1807, and in Portland, Me., 1807-1852; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); member of the executive council in 1815-1816; delegate to the convention that framed the state constitution of Maine; elected to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1817, to June 1, 1822, when he resigned; defeated for the Twenty-sixth Congress; judge of the court of common pleas of Maine, 1822-1841; chief justice state supreme court, 1841-1848; died in East Bridgewater, Mass., August 1, 1866.

Whitman, Lemuel, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Connecticut June 8, 1780; was graduated from Yale college in 1800; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); died in Farmington, Conn., November 11, 1841.

Whitmore, George W., a Representative from Texas; born in McMinn county, Tenn., August 26, 1824; attended the public schools; moved to Texas in 1848; studied law and was admitted to the bar; state representative, 1852, 1853, and 1858; district attorney for the ninth judicial district in 1866; appointed register in bankruptcy in 1867; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871).

Whitney, Thomas Richard, a Representative from New York; born in New York city, May 2, 1807; pursued classical studies and engaged in newspaper work; state senator, 1854-1855; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); died in New York city, April 12, 1858.

Whittemore, Benjamin Franklin, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Malden, Mass., in 1824; completed preparatory studies; studied theology and became a minister in the Methodist Episcopal church; chaplain in the Union army; after the war located in South Carolina; delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1867; founded the New Era in Darlington; state senator; elected to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses, and served from March 4, 1867, to February 24, 1870, when he resigned, pending the investigation of his conduct in connection with certain appointments to the United States military and naval academies; presented credentials of a second election to the same Congress on June 18, 1870, but the House declined to allow him to be sworn.

Whittemore, Elias, a Representative from New York; born in Pembroke, N. H., March 2, 1772; completed preparatory studies; moved to New York and elected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1827); died in Windsor, N. Y., December 26, 1853.

Whitthorne, Washington Curran, a Representative and a Senator from Tennessee; born in Marshall county, Tenn., April 19, 1825; attended an academy in Williamson county, and Campbell academy, Lebanon, Tenn., and the University of Nashville for a time; was graduated from East Tennessee university, Knoxville, Tenn., in 1843; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1845; served as auditor's clerk and in the Government service until 1848, when he began practice in Columbia, Tenn.; member of the state senate 1855-1858; member of the lower house of the general assembly, and presiding officer in 1859; Breckinridge elector in 1860; assistant adjutant-general in the provisional army of Tennessee in 1861; adjutant-general of the state 1861-1865; his disabilities were removed by act of Congress approved July, 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second, and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1883); appointed, and subsequently elected, to the United States Senate, as a Democrat, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Howell E. Jackson, and served from April 16, 1886, to March 3, 1887; elected to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); died in Columbia, Tenn., September 21, 1891.

Whittlesey, Elisha, a Representative from Ohio; born in Washington, Conn., October 19, 1783; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1806 began practice in Canfield, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Mahoning county for sixteen years; served as an aid-de-camp in the war of 1812-1815; state representative 1820-1821; elected to the Eighteenth, and to the seven succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1823, to July 9, 1838, when he resigned; auditor for the Post Office Department, 1841-1849; appointed by President Taylor first comptroller of the Treasury and served 1849-1857; removed by President Buchanan, but was reappointed by President Lincoln in 1861, and served until his death, in Washington, D. C., January 7, 1863.

Whittlesey, Frederick, a Representative from New York; born in Washington, Conn., June 12, 1799; was graduated from Yale in 1818; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Utica, N. Y., in 1821, and began practice in Rochester, N. Y., in 1822; elected to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1835); vice-chancellor of the eighth judicial district of New York 1839-1847; appointed a justice of the state supreme court June 30, 1847; died in Rochester, N. Y., September 19, 1851.

Whittlesey, Thomas Tucker, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Danbury, Conn., December 8, 1798; was graduated from Yale college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Danbury, Conn.; elected as a Van Buren Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Zalmon Wildman; reelected to the Twenty-fifth Congress, and served from April 29, 1836, to March 3, 1839; defeated for the Twenty-sixth Congress; died in Pleasant Branch, Wis., 1858.

Whittlesey, William A., a Representative from Ohio; native of Connecticut; was graduated from Yale college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Marietta, Ohio; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851).

Whyte, William Pinkney, a Senator from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., August 9, 1824; was instructed by a private tutor and attended Baltimore college; engaged in the banking business in Baltimore 1842-1844; studied law in Baltimore, and attended the law school of Harvard university 1844-1845; was admitted to the bar in 1846 and practiced in Baltimore; judge advocate of a court-martial at the Naval academy in 1848; representative in the legislature 1847-1848; comptroller of the treasury of Maryland 1853-1855, declined a reelection; delegate in the Democratic national convention of 1868; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Reverdy Johnson, and served from July 13, 1868, to March 3, 1869; in 1871 elected governor for four years, but resigned in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1881; mayor of Baltimore 1881-1882; attorney-general of Maryland 1887-1891; declined appointment as a delegate to the congress of South American republics; chairman of a commission to frame a new charter for the city of Baltimore 1897-1898; counsel for Maryland before the arbitration board in the boundary dispute between Virginia and Maryland in 1874; city solicitor 1900-1903; appointed and subsequently elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Arthur Pue Gorman, and served from June 8, 1906, until his death in Baltimore, Md., March 17, 1908.

Wick, William Watson, a Representative from Indiana; born in Canonsburg, Pa., February 23, 1796; completed preparatory studies; taught school; studied medicine and then law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Fayette county, Ind., in 1820; secretary of the state of Indiana in 1825; state attorney for the fifth judicial circuit 1829-1831; president-judge 1823-1835; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); reelected to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); postmaster of Indianapolis 1853-1857; died in Franklin county, Ind., May 16, 1868.

Wickersham, James, a Delegate from the District of Alaska; born August 24, 1857; was appointed United States district judge, third division, of Alaska, June 6, 1900, and served two terms; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Wickes, Eliphalet a Representative from New York; born in Suffolk county, N. Y.; elected to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1807).

Wickham, Charles Preston, a Representative from Ohio; born in Norwalk, Huron county, Ohio, September 15, 1836; attended the public schools and the Norwalk academy; studied law, and was graduated from the Cincinnati law school; admitted to the bar in 1858 and practiced in Norwalk, Ohio; enlisted as a private in company D, fifty-fifth regiment Ohio volunteers in September, 1861, and mustered out of the service on the 11th of July, 1865; attained the rank of first lieutenant, captain, major, and lieutenant-colonel; while major was commissioned lieutenant-colonel by brevet "for gallant and meritorious services in the Carolinas;" resumed the practice of law in Norwalk in July, 1865; elected prosecuting attorney in 1866 and 1868; elected judge of the court of common pleas of the fourth judicial district in 1880 and 1885; resigned in 1886; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); resumed the practice of law in Norwalk, Ohio.

Wickliffe, Charles A., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Bardstown, Ky., June 8, 1788; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and began practice in Bardstown; state representative 1812-1813 and 1822-1823; elected as a Clay Democrat to the Eighteenth, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1833); elected to the state house of representatives in 1834, and speaker; lieutenant-governor of Kentucky in 1836; became governor upon the death of Governor Clark in 1839; Postmaster-General under President Tyler October 13, 1841, to March 6, 1845; sent on a secret mission by President Polk to the Republic of Texas in 1845; elected as a Union Whig to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); delegate to the national Democratic convention in Chicago in 1864; died in Howard county, Md., October 31, 1869.

Wickliffe, Robert C., a Representative from Louisiana; born in Bardstown, Ky., May 1, 1874, while his parents were on a visit to relatives in that state; attended the public schools of St. Francisville, La., and was graduated from Center College, Danville, Ky., in 1895, and from the law department of Tulane university, New Orleans, La., in 1897, and began practice in St. Francisville; member of the constitutional convention of 1898; enlisted as a private in company E, first Louisiana volunteer infantry, and served during the Spanish-American war; was mustered out of service in October, 1898; returned to West Feliciana, and resumed the practice of law; district attorney of the twenty-fourth judicial district of Louisiana 1900-1902; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress, and killed while crossing a railroad bridge in Washington, D. C., June 11, 1912.

Widgery, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1753; attended the common schools; became a sailor; served in the Revolutionary war; moved to Portland, Mass. (now Maine); state representative 1787, 1791, 1793, 1794, 1795, and 1797; resigned in 1797; member of state constitutional convention of 1788; member of the executive council in 1806 and 1807; judge of the court of common pleas 1813-1822; elected as a War Democrat to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); defeated for reelection; moved to Boston, Mass., and died there August 7, 1822.

Wigfall, Louis Trezevant, a Senator from Texas; born in Edgefield District, S. C., April 21, 1816; pursued classical studies; attended the college of South Carolina until 1835, when he participated as a lieutenant of volunteers in the Seminole war in Florida; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Marshall, Tex.; member of the state legislature 1849-1850; delegate in the state convention of 1857; state senator 1857-1858, and 1859-1860; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of James P. Henderson and served from December 5, 1859, to July 11, 1861, when he was expelled from the Senate; served in the Confederate army; represented Texas in the Confederate congress; after the war moved to London, England, and a short time afterwards (in 1873) returned to Baltimore, Md.; died in Galveston, Tex., February 18, 1874.

Wigginton, Peter Dinwiddie, a Representative from California; born in Springfield, Ill., September 6, 1839; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Snelling, Cal.; district attorney, Merced, Cal., in 1863; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); attempted to revive the old American party in 1866, and was defeated as its candidate for governor; located in San Francisco in 1880, and practiced law until his death in Oakland, Cal., July 7, 1890.

Wike, Scott, a Representative from Illinois; born in Meadville, Pa., April 6, 1834; moved with his parents to Quincy, Ill., in 1838, and to Pike county in 1844; was graduated from Lombard university, Galesburg, in 1857; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1858; was graduated from Harvard law school, Cambridge, Mass., in 1859, and commenced practice the same year in Pittsfield, Ill.; twice elected to the state legislature 1863-1867; elected to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); reelected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893); an assistant secretary of the Treasury under President Cleveland (second administration); died near Barry, Ill., January 15, 1901.

Wilber, David, a Representative from New York; born near Quaker Street, Schenectady county, N. Y., October 5, 1820; attended the common schools; engaged in the lumber trade and in farming; one of the directors of the Second National bank of Cooperstown, N. Y.; president of the Wilber national bank in Oneonta; elected to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); reelected to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); again elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses and served from March 4, 1887, until his death in Oneonta, N. Y., April 1, 1890; delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1880.

Wilber, David F., a Representative from New York; born in Milford, Otsego county, N. Y., December 7, 1859; was graduated from Cazenovia (N. Y.) seminary in 1879; engaged in the hop business in 1880, and interested in farming and stock breeding; twice represented Oneonta in the board of supervisors; member of the state tuberculosis commission in 1894; director of the Wilber national bank of Oneonta; president of the Holstein-Friesian association of America and of the American Cheviot sheep association of the United States and Canada; trustee of the Cazenovia seminary; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); appointed United States consul to the Barbados, then to Singapore, Kobe, Halifax, and then to Vancouver.

Wilbour, Isaac, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Little Compton, R. I., May 10, 1763; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; elected to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1809); defeated for the Eleventh and Thirteenth Congresses; acting governor of Rhode Island in 1806; received in 1807 a commission from Governor Fenner, appointing him as his successor to the United States Senate for the remainder of the term expiring March 3, 1811, which he declined; associate justice of the supreme court of Rhode Island in 1818; chief justice 1819-1827; died in Little Compton, R. I., September 29, 1837.

Wilcox, Jeduthan, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Middletown, Conn., November 18, 1768; moved to New Hampshire; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); died in Orford, N. H., July 18, 1838.

Wilcox, John A., a Representative from Mississippi; born in North Carolina April 18, 1819; moved to Tennessee, where he attended the common schools; moved to Mississippi and located in Aberdeen; secretary of the state senate; served in the Mexican war as lieutenant, adjutant, and lieutenant-colonel; elected as a Union Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); defeated for reelection; moved to Texas in 1853; represented Texas in the Confederate congress; died in Richmond, Va., February 7, 1864.

Wilcox, Leonard, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Hanover, N. H., January 24, 1799; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1817; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1820, and began practice in Orford, N. H.; state representative for seven terms; judge of the superior court 1838–1840; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Franklin Pierce; subsequently elected, and served from March 1, 1842, to March 3, 1843; judge of the court of common pleas of New Hampshire 1847–1848; again appointed judge of the superior court June 26, 1848, and served until his death, in Orford, N. H., June 18, 1850.

Wilcox, Robert William, a Delegate from Hawaii; born in Honuauia, island of Maui, February 15, 1855; his father was a native of Newport, R. I., his mother a pure native of Honuauia, island of Maui; attended the common school called "Haleakala boarding school," Makawao, island of Maui, and later pursued an academic course in the Royal military academy, Turin, Italy, 1881–1885, and became a sublieutenant of artillery; entered the Royal application school for engineer and artillery officers in Turin in 1885, and recalled by the Hawaiian government in 1887; elected to the legislature as representative from Wailukua, island of Maui, in 1880; from Honolulu in 1890, and from Koolauloa, island of Oahu, in 1892; elected the first Delegate from Hawaii to the second session of the Fifty-sixth Congress and to the Fifty-seventh Congress, and served from December 15, 1900, to March 3, 1903; died in Honolulu, Hawaii, October 23, 1903.

Wilcox, Washington F., a Representative from Connecticut; born in Killingly, Conn.; prepared for college at Hopkins grammar school, New Haven, and was graduated from the Yale law school in 1862; admitted to the bar the same year in Middlesex county, and began practice in Deep River, Conn.; member of the state house of representatives 1862–1863; state senator 1875–1876; appointed state's attorney in 1875, and served eight years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1893); resumed the practice of law in Chester, Conn.; state railroad commissioner 1897–1901.

Wilde, Richard Henry, a Representative from Georgia; born in Dublin, Ireland, September 24, 1789, came with his parents to America in 1797 and located in Baltimore, Md.; received a limited schooling; moved to Augusta, Ga., in 1803; studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1809; attorney general of Georgia; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817); reelected to the Eighteenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas W. Cobb, and served from February 7, 1825, to March 3, 1825; defeated for the Nineteenth Congress; elected to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1835); defeated for the Twenty-fourth Congress; moved to New Orleans in 1843 to act as professor of law in the university of Louisiana; died in New Orleans, La., September 10, 1847.

Wilder, A. Carter, a Representative from Kansas; born in Mendon, Mass., March 18, 1828; completed preparatory studies; moved to Leavenworth, Kans., in 1857 and became a merchant; delegate in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); delegate to the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864; died in San Francisco, Cal., December 23, 1875.

Wildman, Zalmon, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Danbury, Conn., January 16, 1775; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices; member of the state legislature 1818–1819; postmaster of Danbury, Conn., from April 9, 1808, to May 26, 1835; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1835, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 10, 1835.

Wildrick, Isaac, a Representative from New Jersey; native of New Jersey; received a limited schooling; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1853).

Wiley, Ariosto Appling, a Representative from Alabama; born in Clayton, Barbour county, Ala., November 6, 1848; went with parents to Pike county; was graduated from Emory and Henry college, Virginia, in June, 1871, and from the law department in October, 1872; located in the city of Montgomery, Ala., and engaged in the practice of law; elected to the state house of representatives in 1882, and served in both houses of the general assembly, alternating between them, until 1898; on June 9, 1898, President McKinley appointed him lieutenant-colonel of the fifth regiment United States volunteer infantry; served eleven months in Cuba; legal adviser and chief of staff of Gen. Henry W. Lawton in Santiago, and assisted Gen. Leonard Wood in the establishment of civil government in the eastern province; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1901, until his death, in Washington, D. C., June 17, 1908.

Wiley, James S., a Representative from Maine; born in the town of Mercer, Me., January 22, 1808; moved to Bethel, Me., in 1826; attended Gould's academy, and was graduated from Colby college in 1836; moved to Dover, Me., and was an instructor in Foxcroft academy; studied law, was admitted to the Piscataquis county bar, and practiced in Dover; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1849); died in Fryeburg, Me., in 1891.

Wiley, John McClure, a Representative from New York; born in Ireland, August 11, 1846; emigrated to America with his parents in 1850, and settled in Erie county, N. Y.; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits and real estate business in Colden, N. Y.; member of the legislature 1871-1872; delegate to several national Democratic conventions; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); appointed by President Cleveland consul to France; resides in Jacksonville, Fla., during the winters and in Colden, N. Y., during the summer months.

Wiley, Oliver Cicero, a Representative from Alabama; born in Troy, Ala., January 30, 1851; attended common schools; member of the town council for five years; was two years chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Pike county; four years a member of the Democratic state executive committee; alternate delegate in the Democratic national conventions in St. Louis in 1888, and in Chicago in 1892; president of the Alabama Midland railway during its construction 1887-1892; president of the board of directors of the state normal college, Troy, Ala.; director of the farmers and merchants' national bank, Troy, Ala.; vice-president and general manager of the Standard chemical and oil company, Troy, Ala.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of his brother, Ariosto Appling Wiley, and served from December 7, 1908, to March 3, 1909.

Wiley, William Halsted, a Representative from New Jersey; born in New York City, July 10, 1842; was graduated from the college of the city of New York in 1861; entered the Union army as a member of the New York volunteers, and was mustered out in 1864 by the consolidation of his regiment; was graduated from the Rensselaer polytechnic institute, Troy, N. Y., in 1866; received the degree of civil engineer; followed the profession for several years, and then took a special course in mining in the Columbia college school of mines; superintendent of a mine for several years; member of the township committee of East Orange, N. J., three years, and president one year; president of one of the juries in the international exposition in Brussels in 1897; member of the superior jury; received the decoration of the Order of Leopold from the King; was appointed by the governor of New Jersey a member of the commission for the Louisiana purchase exposition; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); re-elected to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911); a publisher in New York City, with residence in East Orange, N. J.

Wilkin, James Whitney, a Representative from New York; born in Orange county, N. Y., in 1762; served in the Revolutionary war; was graduated from Princeton college in 1785; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Goshen, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives in 1800; became a major-general of artillery in the New York state service; a state senator 1801-1804; member of the state assembly 1808-1809, and speaker 1809; again senator 1811-1814; elected to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1819); county clerk of Orange county 1819-1821; county treasurer several years; died in Goshen, N. Y., February 23, 1845.

Wilkin, Samuel Jones, a Representative from New York; born in Goshen, Orange county, N. Y., December 17, 1793; was graduated from Princeton college in 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar October 4, 1815, and began practice in Goshen; state representative 1824-1825; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); defeated as the Whig candidate for lieutenant-governor in 1844; state senator in 1847; canal appraiser; died in Goshen, N. Y., March 11, 1866.

Wilkins, Beriah, a Representative from Ohio; born in Union county, Ohio, July 10, 1846; attended the common schools of Marysville, Ohio; engaged in banking in Uhrichsville, Ohio; elected in 1879 to represent the eighteenth senatorial district in the Ohio senate; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1889); located in Washington, D. C.; became owner and publisher of the Washington Post; died in Washington, D. C., June 7, 1905.

Wilkins, William, a Senator and a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Carlisle, Pa., December 20, 1779; attended Dickinson college; studied law, was admitted to the bar December 28, 1801, and established himself in practice in Pittsburgh, Pa.; assisted in organizing the Pittsburgh Manufacturing Company in 1810, and was first president of the bank of Pittsburgh; president of the common council 1816-1819; member of the state legislature 1820; resigned December 18, 1820; president judge of the fifth judicial district of Pennsylvania 1821-1824; judge of the United States district court for western Pennsylvania 1824-1831; defeated as a candidate for the Twentieth Congress in 1826; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1831, to June 30, 1834, when he resigned; appointed United States minister to Russia from June, 1834, to December, 1835; received the electoral vote of Pennsylvania for vice-president in 1833; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress, and served from March 4, 1843, to February 14, 1844, when he resigned; appointed Secretary of War by President Tyler, February 15, 1844; entered upon duties February 20, 1844, and served until March 6, 1845; state senator 1855-1857; major-general, Pennsylvania home guard, 1862; died in Homewood, Allegheny county, Pa., June 23, 1865.

Wilkinson, Morton Smith, a Representative and Senator from Minnesota; born in Skaneateles, Onondaga county, N. Y., January 22, 1819; attended an academy and completed preparatory studies; moved to Illinois in 1837 and was employed in railroad work two years; returned to Skaneateles and studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1842 in Syracuse, N. Y., and began practice in Eaton Rapids, Mich., in 1843; moved to Stillwater, Minn., in 1847, and elected to the first legislature of Minnesota Territory in 1849; appointed one of the board of commissioners to prepare a code of laws for the territory, which was adopted; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1859, to March 3, 1865; defeated for reelection; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); state senator 1874-1878; died in Wells, Minn., February 4, 1894.

Wilkinson, Theodore Stark, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Plaquemines parish, La., December 18, 1847; attended the common schools and Washington college, Lexington, Va., for two years; engaged in sugar planting in 1870; member of the school board of Plaquemines parish; member and president of the board of levee commissioners for the third levee district; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891).

Willard, Charles Wesley, a Representative from Vermont; born in Lyndon, Vt., June 18, 1827; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1851; studied law, and in 1853 began practice in Montpelier; secretary of state of Vermont 1855–1856; declined a reelection; state senator 1860–1861; editor and publisher of the Montpelier Freeman; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1875); died in Montpelier, Vt., June 7, 1880.

Williard, George, a Representative from Michigan; born in Bolton, Vt., March 20, 1824; pursued classical studies; professor for two years in Kalamazoo college; engaged in newspaper work in Battle Creek, Mich.; member of the Michigan state board of education 1857–1863; regent of Michigan university for ten years; elected to the state legislature in 1866; member of the constitutional convention of 1867; delegate in the national Republican convention of 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1877); resumed newspaper work in Battle Creek, Mich.; editor and owner of the Battle Creek Journal until his death in Battle Creek, Mich., March 26, 1901.

Willett, William, jr., a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., November 27, 1869; attended the public schools of Brooklyn and was graduated from the university of the City of New York, degree of LL. B. in 1896; engaged in the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in New York City.

Wiley, Calvin, a Senator from Connecticut; born in East Haddam, Conn., September 11, 1776; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1798, and began practice in Stafford; state representative for nine years and a state senator two years; postmaster of Stafford Springs, Conn., 1806–1808; and of Tolland, Conn., 1812–1816; probate judge for the Stafford district seven years; elector on the John Quincy Adams ticket in 1824; elected to the United States Senate, and served from May 4, 1825, to March 3, 1831; died in Stafford, Conn., August 23, 1858.

Wiley, Waitman Thomas, a Senator from Virginia and from West Virginia; born in Monongalia county, W. Va., October 18, 1811; was graduated from Madison college, Pennsylvania, in 1831; studied law and admitted to the bar in 1833; held several local offices; delegate in the Virginia constitutional convention of 1850–1851; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the voluntary retirement of James M. Mason, and served from July 9, 1861, to March 3, 1863; delegate in the state constitutional convention of the state of West Virginia; elected to the United States Senate from West Virginia in 1863, and reelected; served from August 4, 1863, to March 3, 1871; died in Morgantown, W. Va., May 2, 1900.

Williams, Abram Pease, a Senator from California; born in New Portland, Somerset county, Me., February 3, 1832; attended the common schools and completed an academic course; taught school; moved to Fairfield, Somerset county, Me., and engaged in mercantile pursuits; moved to California in 1858 and engaged in mining in Tuolumne county; resumed mercantile business in 1859; moved to San Francisco in 1861 and became an importer, stock raiser, and farmer; one of the founders of the San Francisco board of trade and its first president; member of the San Francisco chamber of commerce; chairman of the finance committee and treasurer of the Republican state committee in 1880, and chairman of the committee in 1884; elected to the United States senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of John F. Miller, and served from August 4, 1886, to March 3, 1887; died in San Francisco, Cal., October 17, 1911; interment in Fairfield, Me.

Williams, Alpheus Starkey, a Representative from Michigan; born in Saybrook, Conn., September 20, 1810; was graduated from Yale in 1831; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Detroit, Mich.; judge of probate 1840–1844; editor of the Detroit Daily Advertiser 1843–1847; appointed postmaster of Detroit in 1849; served in the war with Mexico; lieutenant-colonel of the first Michigan infantry December 8, 1847; mustered out July 29, 1848; served in the civil war; brigadier-general of Michigan volunteers April 24, 1861; of United States volunteers May 17, 1861; brevet major-general of volunteers January 12, 1865, "for marked ability and energy;" mustered out January 15, 1866; minister resident at San Salvador 1866–1869; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1875 until his death in Washington, D. C., December 20, 1878.

Williams, Andrew, a Representative from New York; born in Ormstown, Canada, August 27, 1828; received a limited schooling; came to the United States in October, 1848, and became a manufacturer in Plattsburg, N. Y., in 1855; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); died in Plattsburg, N. Y., October 6, 1907.

Williams, Archibald Hunter Arrington, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Franklin county, N. C., October 22, 1842; attended the common schools and Emory and Henry college, Virginia; enlisted as a private in the Confederate army in 1861; served four years in the Army of Northern Virginia, and at the surrender at Appomattox was captain of his company; severely wounded at Gettysburg; after the war engaged in farming and in retail trade in Oxford, N. C.; twice represented Granville county in the legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); died in Chase City, Va., September 5, 1895.

Williams, Benjamin, a Representative from North Carolina; born in North Carolina in 1754; pursued classical studies; served in the Revolutionary army as captain and promoted to colonel for gallantry at Guilford, March 15, 1781; for a number of years a member of the state house of representatives; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793–March 3, 1795); governor of North Carolina 1799–1802 and 1807–1808; member of the state senate 1808–1809; died in Moore county, N. C., July 20, 1814.

Williams, Charles Grandison, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Royalton, N. Y., October 18, 1829; pursued an academic course and studied law in Rochester, N. Y.; moved to Wisconsin in 1856, and entered upon the practice of law in Janesville; presidential elector in 1868; elected to the state senate the same year and reelected in 1870; twice chosen president pro tempore of the body; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third, and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1883); resumed the practice of law after leaving Congress; died in Watertown, S. Dak., March 30, 1892; interment in Janesville, Wis.

Williams, Christopher Harris, a Representative from Tennessee; born in North Carolina December 18, 1798; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1843); reelected to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1853); died in Lexington, Tenn., November 27, 1857.

Williams, David Rogerson, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Robb's Neck, S. C., March 10, 1776; was graduated from Brown university in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1805–March 3, 1809); reelected to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1813); brigadier general in the United States army July 9, 1813, to April 6, 1814; governor of South Carolina 1814–1816; died in Lynch's Creek, S. C., November 15, 1830.

Williams, Elihu Stephens, a Representative from Ohio; born in Bethel township, Clark county, Ohio, January 24, 1835; attended the common schools and Antioch college two years; read law in Dayton; enlisted as a private in the seventy-first Ohio volunteer infantry in October, 1861; commissioned first lieutenant February 14, 1862; promoted to captain February 10, 1863; detailed to the command of the military post at Carthage, Tenn., September, 1863, and remained there till the close of the war; attorney general of the sixth judicial district of Tennessee from April, 1865, to 1867; elected to the Tennessee house of representatives in 1867, and served one term; removed to Troy, Ohio, in January, 1875; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891); died in Troy, Ohio, December 1, 1903.

Williams, George Fred., a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Dedham, Norfolk county, Mass., July 10, 1852; was graduated from the Dedham high school in 1868 and from Dartmouth in 1872; studied at the universities of Heidelberg and Berlin; admitted to the bar in October, 1875; edited Williams's Citations of Massachusetts Cases in 1878, and volumes 10 to 17 of the Annual Digest of the United States 1880–1887; elected to the state legislature in 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); resumed the practice of law in Dedham, Mass.

Williams, George Henry, a Senator from Oregon; born in New Lebanon, N. Y., March 23, 1823; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Iowa, where he began practice; judge of the first judicial district of Iowa 1847–1852; presidential elector in 1852; chief justice of the territory of Oregon in 1853 and again in 1857; resigned in the latter year; member of the constitutional convention of Oregon in 1858; elected as a Union Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1865, to March 3, 1871; Attorney General of the United States from January 10, 1872, to May 15, 1875; nominated by President Grant Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, but the name was withdrawn; mayor of Portland, Oreg., 1902–1905; died in Portland, Oreg., April 4, 1910.

Williams, Henry, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Taunton, Mass., November 30, 1805; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Taunton; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841); defeated for reelection; reelected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); state senator two years, and served in the state house of representatives three years; died in Taunton, Mass., May 8, 1887.

Williams, Hezekiah, a Representative from Maine; born in Woodstock, Vt., July 28, 1798; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1820; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Castine; register of probate for Hancock county 1824–1838; state senator 1839–1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1849); died in Castine, Me., October 24, 1856.

Williams, Isaac, a Representative from New York; born in Otsego county, N. Y., April 5, 1777; received a limited schooling; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1815); reelected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); again elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823–March 3, 1825); died in Cooperstown, N. Y., November 9, 1860.

Williams, James, a Representative from Delaware; born in Philadelphia, Pa., August 4, 1825; completed preparatory studies; moved to Delaware in 1844 and became a farmer; state legislator in 1856 and 1862; state senator in 1866 and 1871; member of the national Democratic convention in Baltimore in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); died in Smyrna, Del., April 12, 1899.

Williams, James Douglas, a Representative from Indiana; born in Pickaway county, Ohio, January 16, 1808; moved to Indiana and located in Knox county in 1818; engaged in farming; state representative in 1843, 1847, 1851, 1856, and 1868; state senator 1858, 1862, and 1870; delegate to the national Democratic convention in Baltimore in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1875, to December 1, 1876, when he resigned; governor of Indiana 1879-1880; died in Indianapolis, Ind., November 20, 1880.

Williams, James R., a Representative from Illinois; born in White county, Ill., December 27, 1850; was graduated from the Indiana state university, Bloomington, in 1875, and from the Union college of law, Chicago, in 1876; engaged in practice in Carmi, Ill.; master in chancery 1880-1882; county judge of White county 1882-1886; nominee for elector on the Cleveland and Thurman ticket; elected to the Fifty-first Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Richard W. Townshend; reelected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from December 2, 1889, to March 3, 1895; reelected to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1905).

Williams, James W., a Representative from Maryland; born in Maryland in 1787; completed preparatory studies; speaker of the state house of representatives in 1830, and served several years as a member; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1841, until his death in Churchville, Md., December 2, 1842.

Williams, Jared, a Representative from Virginia; born in Montgomery county, Md., March 4, 1766; pursued classical studies; became a farmer; member of the state house of representatives in 1811 and 1817; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1825); presidential elector on the Jackson and Calhoun ticket in 1829; died near Newton, Va., January 2, 1831.

Williams, Jared Warner, a Representative and a Senator from New Hampshire; born in West Woodstock, Conn., December 22, 1796; was graduated from Brown university in 1818; studied law in the Litchfield law school, was admitted to the bar, and in 1822 began practice in Lancaster, N. H.; member of the state house of representatives in 1830, 1831, 1835, and 1836, and of the state senate 1832, 1833, and 1834; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); governor of New Hampshire 1847-1849; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Charles G. Atherton, and served from November 29, 1853, to July 30, 1855; died in Lancaster, N. H., September 29, 1864.

Williams, Jeremiah Norman, a Representative from Alabama; born in Barbour county, Ala., May 18, 1829; was graduated from the University of South Carolina; studied law in Tuskegee, Ala., was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served in the Confederate army; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); member of the state constitutional convention of 1901; engaged in the practice of law in Clayton, Ala.

Williams, John, a Representative from New York; born in Utica, N. Y., January 7, 1807; spent his youth and completed preparatory studies in Sacketts Harbor, N. Y.; moved to Rochester, N. Y., and continued in mercantile pursuits and the manufacture of flour, 1823-1854; alderman in 1844; mayor in 1853; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); reengaged in milling 1858-1870; major-general of militia; excise commissioner and manager of house of refuge in 1870; city treasurer 1871-1875; died in Rochester, N. Y., March 27, 1875.

Williams, John, a Delegate from North Carolina; born in Hanover county, Va., March 14, 1731; removed with parents to North Carolina in 1745, settled in Granville county and donated and laid out the town of Williamsboro; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; deputy attorney-general in 1768; delegate in the provincial congress of 1775; member of the North Carolina house of commons 1777-1778, and its speaker; delegate in the Continental Congress 1778-1779; judge of the supreme court of North Carolina from 1779, until his death in Montpelier, near Williamsboro, N. C., October 10, 1799.

Williams, John, a Senator from Tennessee; born in Surry county, N. C., January 29, 1778; completed preparatory studies; captain in the sixth United States infantry April, 1799-June, 1800; studied law in Salisbury, N. C., was admitted to the bar of Knox county, Tenn., in 1803, and began practice in Knoxville, Tenn.; captain of regular troops in the war of 1812, and was colonel of a regiment of East Tennessee mounted volunteers in the expedition against the Seminoles in Florida, 1812-1813; colonel of the thirty-ninth United States infantry, June 18, 1813, and subsequently served under General Jackson in the expedition against the Creek Indians in Alabama; participated in the decisive battle of Horse-Shoe Bend, March 27, 1813; elected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of George W. Campbell; was subsequently appointed to fill vacancy in the regular term caused during a recess of the legislature; was then elected, and served from October 10, 1815, to March 3, 1823; defeated for reelection by Andrew Jackson; chargé d'affaires to the Central American Federation December 29, 1825-December 1, 1826; member of the state senate of Tennessee; declined appointment as justice of the state supreme court; died near Knoxville, Tenn., August 10, 1837.

Williams, John, a Representative from New York; native of Washington county, N. Y.; colonel in the Revolutionary army; member of the state senate in 1777, but expelled for misconduct; again a member of the state senate 1782-1793; elected to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1799).

Williams, John McKeown Snow, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Richmond, Va., August 14, 1818; educated in Boston; merchant; member of the state house of representatives 1856 and the state senate 1858; presidential elector in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); defeated for reelection; died in Cambridge, Mass., March 19, 1886.

Williams, John Stuart, a Senator from Kentucky; born in Montgomery county, Ky., in 1820; was graduated from Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, in 1839; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Paris, Ky.; served in the Mexican war, first as captain of an independent company attached to the sixth infantry, United States army, and afterwards as colonel of the fourth regiment of Kentucky volunteers; delegate in Whig national conventions and a Whig presidential elector; elected to the Kentucky legislature in 1851-1852, and again in 1873-1874; entered the Confederate army as colonel in 1861; made brigadier-general in April, 1862, and surrendered with the army of Gen. Joseph E. Johnston in Georgia; engaged in farming, with residence in Paris, Ky.; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1879, to March 3, 1885; died in Paris, Ky., July 17, 1898.

Williams, John Sharp, a Representative and a Senator from Mississippi; born in Memphis, Tenn., July 30, 1854; after the death of his parents moved to the family homestead of his mother in Yazoo county, Miss.; attended private schools, the Kentucky military institute, near Frankfort, Ky., the university of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., the university of Virginia, and the university of Heidelberg, in Baden, Germany; subsequently studied law at the university of Virginia and in Memphis, Tenn.; was licensed to practice in Shelby county, Tenn., in 1877; moved in December, 1878, to Yazoo City, Miss., where he engaged in the practice of law and the pursuits of a cotton planter; delegate in the Chicago Democratic convention of 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third, and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1909); elected to the United States Senate for the term expiring March 4, 1917.

Williams, Jonathan, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Boston, Mass., May 26, 1750; completed preparatory studies and entered a bank in Boston; went to France and was Benjamin Franklin's secretary 1770-1775; studied military science; returned to the United States in 1785 and located in Philadelphia; judge of the court of common pleas; entered the United States army; major of the second regiment of artillerists and engineer February 16, 1801; inspector of fortifications December 14, 1801-June 1, 1802; commanded the post at West Point, N. Y., and was first superintendent of the United States military academy in 1802; retained as major of engineers April 1, 1802; lieutenant-colonel and chief of engineers July 3, 1802; resigned June 20, 1803, on a question of rank; resumed the rank of lieutenant-general and chief engineer at President Jefferson's request April 19, 1805; colonel February 23, 1808; planned and built the inner forts for the defense of New York harbor; resigned July 31, 1812; returned to Philadelphia, Pa.; elected to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1815, until his death, before the assembling of the Congress, in Philadelphia, Pa., May 16, 1815.

Williams, Joseph Lanier, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Knoxville, Tenn., October 23, 1807; completed preparatory studies; attended East Tennessee university and West Point; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Knoxville, Tenn.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1843); died in Knoxville, Tenn., December 14, 1865.

Williams, Lemuel, a Representative from Massachusetts; native of Massachusetts; born June 18, 1747; was graduated from Harvard college in 1765; elected to the Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth Congresses (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1805); died in New Bedford, Mass., November 8, 1828.

Williams, Lewis, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Surry county, N. C., February 1, 1786; was graduated from the university of North Carolina in 1808; member of the house of commons 1813-1814; elected to the Fourteenth, and to the thirteen succeeding Congresses and served from March 4, 1815 until his death; received the title of "Father of the House"; died in Washington, D. C., February 23, 1842; interment in Panther Creek cemetery, Surry county, N. C.

Williams, Marmaduke, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Caswell county, N. C., April 6, 1772; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the state senate 1802; elected to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1809); moved to Huntsville, Madison county, Ala., in 1810, and to Tuscaloosa, Ala., in 1818; member of the constitutional convention in 1819; candidate for governor in 1819, and defeated; member of the state legislature for eleven terms from 1821-1839; judge of the Tuscaloosa county court 1832-1842; died in Tuscaloosa, Ala., October 29, 1850.

Williams, Morgan B., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Rhandir-Mwyn, parish of Leanfair-ar-y-Bryn, Carmarthenshire, Wales, September 17, 1831; attended the public schools; went to Australia in 1856; returned to Wales in August, 1861, and in March, 1862, came to the United States and located in Scranton, Pa.; moved to Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in September, 1865; appointed superintendent for the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre coal company, which position he held for fourteen years; member of the school board and of the city council for twelve years; alternate delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1884; elected to the state senate in 1884; member of the World's fair commission; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899).

Williams, Nathan, a Representative from New York; a native of Oneida county, N. Y.; completed preparatory studies; held several local offices in Oneida county; elected to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1807); member of the state house of representatives in 1818.

Williams, Reuel, a Senator from Maine; born in Hallowell, Me., June 2, 1783; completed preparatory studies in Hallowell academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1802, and began practice in Augusta, Me.; member of the state house of representatives 1822-1826, and of the senate 1827-1828, and again of the house 1829-

1832; commissioner of public buildings 1831; presidential elector on the Van Buren-Johnson ticket in 1836; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Ether Shepley, and served from February 22, 1837, until February 15, 1843, when he resigned; manager of a railroad for twelve years; died in Augusta, Me., July 25, 1862.

Williams, Richard, a Representative from Oregon; born in Findlay, Ohio, November 15, 1836; moved to Oregon in 1851; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1858, and began practice in Portland; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879).

Williams, Robert, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Prince Edward county, Va., in 1768; moved with parents to Surry county, N. C.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in what is now Rockingham county; member of the state senate 1792–1795; elected to the Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Congresses (March 4, 1797–March 3, 1803); member of a commission to ascertain the rights of persons claiming lands in Mississippi Territory west of the Pearl river; governor of Mississippi Territory March, 1805–March 7, 1809; subsequently resided in Mississippi and North Carolina, and practiced law and engaged in planting; located in Ouachita, La., where he died January 25, 1836; interment upon his plantation near Monroe, La.

Williams, Sherrod, a Representative from Kentucky; native of Kentucky; completed preparatory studies; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1841).

Williams, Thomas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Greensburg, Pa., August 28, 1806; was graduated from Dickinson college in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the Pittsburgh bar in 1828; practiced in Greensburg 1828–1831; located in practice in Pittsburgh in 1832; served several years in both branches of the state legislature; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1869); died in Allegheny City, Pa., June 6, 1872.

Williams, Thomas, a Representative from Alabama; born in Greenville county, Va., August 11, 1825; moved to Wetumpka, Ala., in 1835; received a limited schooling, and engaged in planting; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the legislature in 1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1885); died in Wetumpka, Ala., April 13, 1903.

Williams, Thomas H., a Senator from Mississippi; born in Virginia about 1795; moved to Mississippi and located in Pontotoc; served in the state legislature; appointed and afterwards elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James F. Trotter, and served from November 12, 1838, to March 3, 1839.

Williams, Thomas Hill, a Senator from Mississippi; born in North Carolina about 1780; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted the bar, and practiced; register of the land office for the Territory of Mississippi in 1805; collector of customs at New Orleans; delegate to the state constitutional convention; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; was reelected, and served from October 9, 1817, to March 3, 1829; moved to Tennessee, where he died, in Robertson county, about 1840.

Williams, Thomas Scott, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Wethersfield, Conn., June 26, 1777; was graduated from Yale college in 1794; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1799, and began practice in Mansfield, Conn.; moved to Hartford in 1803; served several terms in the state general assembly; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817–March 3, 1819); appointed in 1829 an associate judge of the supreme court of errors and of the superior court, and in May, 1834, appointed chief justice, holding the position until 1784; mayor of Hartford 1831–1835; died in Hartford, Conn., December 15, 1861.

Williams, Thomas Wheeler, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Stonington, Conn., September 28, 1789; completed preparatory studies; moved to New London, Conn., and engaged in business; elected to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1843); presidential elector on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket in 1848; died in New London, Conn., December 31, 1874.

Williams, William, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Lebanon, Conn., April 28, 1731; was graduated from Harvard university in 1751; studied theology; went upon a military expedition to Lake George in 1755; was town clerk of Lebanon for forty-five years; a representative in the state assembly for more than fifty years, and speaker several sessions; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1776–1778 and 1783–1784; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; member of the council of safety during the Revolution; became an assistant councilor in 1780, and served as assistant and as councilor for twenty-four years; judge of the county court of Windham, and judge of probate for the Windham district for forty years; member of the Connecticut convention in 1787 that ratified the Constitution of the United States; died in Lebanon, Conn., August 2, 1811.

Williams, William, a Representative from Indiana; born in Carlisle, Pa., May 11, 1821; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Warsaw, Ind.; treasurer of Kosciusko county in 1850; director of the Michigan City state prison in 1850; served in the Union army; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1875).

Williams, William, a Representative from New York; born in Bolton, Conn., September 6, 1815; received a limited schooling; engaged in banking; railroad manager and president in Buffalo, N. Y.; state representative 1866–1867; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1873); defeated for reelection; died in Buffalo, N. Y., September 10, 1876.

Williams, William Brewster, a Representative from Michigan; born in Pittsford, N. Y., July 28, 1826; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Allegan, Mich., in 1855; elected judge of probate in 1856 and 1860; state senator 1866 and 1868; member of the constitutional convention of 1867; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of Wilder D. Foster; re-elected to the Forty-fourth Congress and served from December 1, 1873, to March 3, 1877; railroad commissioner of Michigan 1877-1883; died in Allegan, Mich., March 4, 1905.

Williams, William Elza, a Representative from Illinois; born in Detroit, Ill., May 4, 1857; attended district schools and Illinois college, Jacksonville, Ill.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1886, and practiced in Detroit and Pittsfield, Ill.; state attorney for the county of Pike in 1886-1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law in Pittsfield, Ill.

Williamson, Hugh, a Delegate and a Representative from North Carolina; born in West Nottingham, Pa., December 5, 1735; was graduated from the university of Pennsylvania in 1757; studied theology and was licensed to preach in 1758, but on account of ill health resigned in 1760; studied medicine in the university of Edinburgh, Scotland; returned to Philadelphia and practiced until 1773; located in Edenton, N. C.; surgeon general of North Carolina troops 1779-1782; member of the house of commons of North Carolina in 1782; Delegate in the Continental Congress in 1782-1785 and 1787-1788; delegate in the convention which framed the Federal Constitution in 1787; elected as a Federalist to the First and Second Congresses (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1793); moved to New York City and died there May 22, 1819.

Williamson, John Newton, a Representative from Oregon; born in Lane county, Oreg., November 8, 1855; attended the Willamette university; moved to the eastern part of the state, where he engaged in the stock business; sheriff of Crook county 1886-1888; twice elected to the lower house of the state legislature; member of the state senate in 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); a resident of Prineville, Oreg., and engaged in stock raising.

Williamson, William Durkee, a Representative from Maine; born in Canterbury, Conn., July 31, 1779; moved with his father to Amherst, Mass., in boyhood; entered Williams college, but was graduated from Brown university in 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Bangor, Me., in 1807; state attorney for Hancock county 1808-1815; postmaster of Bangor 1810-1821; state senator 1816-1820; member of the first senate of Maine under its constitution in 1820; acted as governor; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); judge of probate 1824-1840; bank commissioner 1838-1841; died in Bangor, Me., May 27, 1846.

Willie, Asa Hoxie, a Representative from Texas; born in Washington, Ga., October 11, 1829; pursued an academic course; moved to Washington county, Tex., in 1846; studied law, and in 1848 was admitted to the bar; elected district attorney of the third judicial district of Texas, 1852-1854; served in the Confederate army; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); elected chief justice of the supreme court of Texas in November, 1882; died in Galveston, Tex., March 16, 1899.

Willing, Thomas, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia December 19, 1731; completed preparatory studies in Bath, England; studied law in London, at the Temple; returned home and engaged in mercantile pursuits until 1793; member of the common council in 1755; alderman in 1759; associate justice of the city court October 2, 1759; justice of the court of common pleas February 28, 1761; mayor of Philadelphia in 1763; associate justice of the supreme court of Pennsylvania 1767-1774; member of the committee of correspondence in 1774, and of the committee of safety in 1775; member of the Colonial house of representatives; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1775-1776; president of the Bank of North America; died in Philadelphia, Pa., January 19, 1821.

Willis, Albert Shelby, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Shelby county, Ky., January 22, 1843; attended the common schools and was graduated from the Louisville male high school in 1860; taught school for four years; studied law and was graduated from the Louisville law school in 1866, and practiced in Louisville; Democratic elector in 1872; attorney for Jefferson county in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1887); appointed Minister to Hawaii by President Cleveland, and died in Honolulu, Hawaii, January 6, 1897.

Willis, Benjamin A., a Representative from New York; born in Roslyn, N. Y., March 24, 1840; was graduated from Union college in 1861; studied law and in 1861 was admitted to the bar; entered the Union army; captain and subsequently colonel of the twelfth regiment of New York state volunteers; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); died in New York City October 15, 1886.

Willis, Francis, a Representative from Georgia; born in Frederick county, Va., January 5, 1725; completed preparatory studies; elected to the Second Congress (March 4, 1791-March 3, 1793); moved to Maury county, Tenn., where he died January 25, 1829.

Willis, Jonathan Spencer, a Representative from Delaware; born in Oxford, Talbot county, Md., April 5, 1830; attended the district schools and studied under private tutors; taught school seven years, and then entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church; served charges in Maryland, Delaware, Philadelphia, New York City, and Stamford, Conn.; retired from the ministry in 1884 and settled on a farm near Milford, Del., and engaged in fruit growing; defeated as the Republican candidate for the Fifty-third Congress: elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); died in Milford, Del., November 24, 1903.

Willits, Edwin, a Representative from Michigan; born in Otto, Cattaraugus county, N. Y., April 24, 1830; moved to Michigan in September, 1836; was graduated from Michigan university in June, 1855; located in Monroe, Mich., in April, 1856; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in December, 1857, and practiced in Monroe; prosecuting attorney of Monroe county 1860–1862; member of the state board of education 1860–1872; member of the commission to revise the constitution of the state in 1873; appointed postmaster of Monroe January 1, 1863, by Abraham Lincoln, and removed by Andrew Johnson October 15, 1866; editor of the Monroe Commercial 1856–1861; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1883); president Michigan agricultural college 1885–1889; first assistant Secretary of Agriculture under Secretaries Rust and Morton; practiced law in Washington, D. C., 1889–1896; died in Washington, D. C., October 22, 1896.

Willoughby, Westel, a Representative from New York, was elected to the Fourteenth Congress and was seated after a contest with William Smith, Democrat, December 3, 1815, and served until March 3, 1817.

Wilmot, David, a Representative and a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Bethany, Pa., January 20, 1814; completed preparatory studies in the academy of Aurora, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in 1834, and began practicing in Towanda, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1851); was the author of the "Wilmot proviso," relative to slavery in newly annexed territory; supported the Free-Soil ticket in 1848 and became a Republican in 1854; presiding judge of the thirteenth judicial district 1853–1861; delegate to the national Republican conventions of 1856 and 1860; defeated for governor of Pennsylvania on the Republican ticket in 1857; delegate in the national Republican convention in Chicago in 1860; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Simon Cameron, and served from March 14, 1861, to March 3, 1863; appointed judge of the United States Court of Claims in 1863; died in Towanda, Pa., March 16, 1868.

Wilshire, William Wallace, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Shawneetown, Ill., September 8, 1830; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1859 began practice; entered the Union army in 1862 as major of the one hundred and twenty-sixth Illinois infantry and served from July 16, 1862, to July 16, 1864; after the war located in Little Rock, Ark.; resumed the practice of law; appointed in 1867 solicitor general of the state; chief justice of the supreme court 1868–1871; presented credentials as a Republican member-elect of the Forty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1873, to June 16, 1874, when he was succeeded by Thomas M. Gunter, who contested his election; reelected as a Conservative to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); died in Washington, D. C., August 19, 1888.

Wilson, Alexander, a Representative from Virginia; native of Virginia; completed preparatory studies; member of the state legislature; elected to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1803–March 3, 1809).

Wilson, Benjamin, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Harrison county, Va. (now West Virginia), April 30, 1825; attended the Northwestern Virginia academy at Clarksburg and the law school in Staunton, Va.; was admitted to the bar in 1848 and practiced; commonwealth attorney for Harrison county 1852–1860; member of the state constitutional convention in 1861; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1868; member of the state constitutional convention of West Virginia in 1871; delegate to the national Democratic convention in Baltimore in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1883); assistant attorney general 1885–1893; died in Clarksburg, W. Va., April 26, 1901.

Wilson, Edgar, a Representative from Idaho; born in Armstrong county, Pa., February 25, 1861; attended Michigan university, Ann Arbor, Mich., for three years and was graduated from the law department in 1884; went to Idaho the same year and located in Boise City and practiced; elected city attorney of Boise City in 1887 and district attorney in 1888; member of the constitutional convention that framed the state constitution in 1890; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); reelected as a silver Republican, with the indorsement of the Democratic party, to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law in Boise City, Idaho.

Wilson, Edgar Campbell, a Representative from Virginia; born in Morgantown, Va., October 18, 1800; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar June 24, 1822, and practiced in Morgantown; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); died in Morgantown, Va., April 24, 1860.

Wilson, Ephraim King, a Representative from Maryland; born in Somerset county, Md., September 15, 1771; received instruction in private schools, and was graduated from Princeton in 1790; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced for several years in Maryland; a presidential elector in 1804; was elected to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1831); died in Snow Hill, Md., January 2, 1834.

Wilson, Ephraim King, a Representative and Senator from Maryland; born in Snow Hill, Md., December 22, 1821; attended Union academy, Snow Hill, and Washington academy, Princess Anne, Md., and was graduated from Jefferson college, Pennsylvania, in 1841; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced twenty years in Worcester and Somerset counties; member of the state house of delegates in 1847; elector for Pierce and King in 1852; elected to the Forty-third Congress

(March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); judge of the first judicial circuit of Maryland 1878–1884; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and reelected for the term March 4, 1891–March 3, 1897, and served from March 4, 1885, until his death in Washington, D. C., February 24, 1891.

Wilson, Eugene McClanahan, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Morgan county, Va., December 25, 1833; was graduated from Jefferson college in 1852; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Minneapolis, Minn., in 1855; United States attorney for the district of Minnesota 1857–1861; served in the Union army as captain; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); died in Nassau, New Providence, April 10, 1890.

Wilson, Frank Eugene, a Representative from New York; born in Roxbury, Delaware county, N. Y., December 22, 1857; attended the public schools and Poughkeepsie military school; was graduated from the Jefferson medical college, Philadelphia, Pa., in 1882; practiced in Pleasant Valley, Dutchess county, N. Y., until April, 1888; removed to Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1888, and continued the practice of medicine; senior physician, a director and member of the board of governors of the Bushwick hospital, and visiting physician to the Swedish hospital, both of Brooklyn, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1905). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Wilson, Francis Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Westmoreland, Oneida county, N. Y., February 11, 1844; lived first ten years in Utica, N. Y., and then moved with parents to the Westmoreland farm; attended district school, Dwight's preparatory school, Clinton, N. Y., and was graduated from Yale college in 1867; taught in a preparatory school four years; was graduated from the Columbia college law school and began practice in New York city; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses and served from March 4, 1895, to September 30, 1897, when he resigned to accept the postmastership of Brooklyn, N. Y.; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., September 25, 1910.

Wilson, George W., a Representative from Ohio; born in Brighton, Clark county, Ohio, February 22, 1840; attended common school and Antioch college, Yellow Springs, Ohio; enlisted in the ninety-fourth regiment Ohio volunteer infantry August 8, 1862; commissioned second and afterwards first lieutenant; first lieutenant in the first regiment of United States veteran volunteer engineers July 2, 1864, and afterwards captain; mustered out October 1, 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar August 7, 1866, and practiced in London, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Madison county, 1866–1870; member of house of representatives of the general assembly 1871 and member of the senate in 1877; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1897); resumed the practice of law in London, Ohio.

Wilson, Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Dauphin county, Pa., in 1778; completed preparatory studies; studied law in Harrisburg, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Allentown, Pa.; prothonotary and clerk of Lehigh county courts 1815–1821; elected to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses and served from March 4, 1823, until his death in Allentown, Pa., August 13, 1826.

Wilson, Henry, a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Farmington, N. H., February 16, 1812; his parents' name was Colbath, and his name was Jeremiah Jones Colbath until he was seventeen years of age, when he had it changed by the legislature to Henry Wilson; pursued an academic course; located in Natick, Mass., in 1833, and learned the shoemaker's trade; traveled in the South in 1836; returned and attended the Strafford, N. H., academy, and academies in Wolfsboro and Concord, N. H., until 1837; taught school in Natick, Mass., and later engaged in the manufacture of shoes; member of the state house of representatives 1841–1842; of the state senate 1844, 1845, 1846, 1850, 1851, and 1852, and president of the senate two years; delegate to the national Whig convention in Philadelphia in 1848 and withdrew; delegate to the Free Soil national convention in Pittsburg in 1851 and its president; defeated in 1852 as the Free Soil candidate for Congress; delegate to the constitutional convention of 1853; defeated as the Free Soil candidate for governor; elected to the United States Senate by a coalition of Free Soilers, Americans, and Democrats, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward Everett; three times reelected and served from January 31, 1855, to March 3, 1873, when he resigned; in 1861 he raised, and commanded for a time, the twenty-second regiment Massachusetts volunteers; elected Vice-President of the United States in 1872; died in the Capitol in Washington, D. C., November 22, 1875.

Wilson, Isaac, a Representative from New York; born in Middlebury, Vt., June 25, 1780; served in the war of 1812 as captain of cavalry; located in Genesee county, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives 1816–1817 and the state senate 1818–1821; presented credentials as a Member-elect of the Eighteenth Congress and served from March 4, 1823, to January 7, 1824, when he was succeeded by Parmenio Adams, who contested his election; judge of Genesee county court for several years; moved to Batavia, Ill., where he died October 25, 1848.

Wilson, James, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born near St. Andrews, Scotland, September 14, 1742; attended the universities of Glasgow, Edinburgh, and St. Andrews, Scotland; emigrated to the United States in 1763; resided in New York City until 1766, when he located in Philadelphia; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1767; practiced in Reading and Carlisle, Pa., and in Annapolis, Md., and located in practice in Philadelphia in 1775; active in pre-Revolutionary movements; Delegate to the Continental Congress 1775–1778, 1782–1783, and 1785–1787; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; delegate from Pennsylvania in the convention which framed the Federal Constitution, also a delegate to the state convention which adopted it; associate justice of the United States Supreme Court 1789-1798; professor of law in the university of Pennsylvania in 1790; died in Edenton, N. C., August 21, 1798.

Wilson, James, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Petersboro, N. H., August 16, 1766; was graduated from Harvard college in 1789; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Keene, N. H.; was a member of the state legislature several terms; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); died in Keene, N. H., January 4, 1839.

Wilson, James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Fairfield, Pa., April 28, 1779; attended public schools; learned the trade of a cabinet maker; justice of the peace 1811-1822; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1829); again a justice of the peace 1830-1859; died in Gettysburg, Pa., July 19, 1868.

Wilson, James, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Petersboro, N. H., March 18, 1797; was graduated from Middlebury college in 1820; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Keene, N. H.; served several terms in the state house of representatives, and speaker in 1828; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses and served from March 4, 1847, to September 9, 1850, when he resigned; moved to California; died in Keene, N. H., May 29, 1881.

Wilson, James, a Representative from Indiana; born in Crawfordsville, Ind., April 9, 1822; was graduated from Wabash college in 1842; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1845 began practice in Crawfordsville, Ind.; served in the Mexican war; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); minister to Venezuela 1866 until his death, in Caracas, Venezuela, August 8, 1867; interment in Crawfordsville, Ind.

Wilson, James, a Representative from Iowa; born in Ayrshire, Scotland, August 16, 1835; came with parents to the United States in 1852, and located in Norwich, Conn.; went to Iowa in 1855, located in Traer, Tama county, where he attended the public schools, Iowa college, and later engaged in farming; elected to the state legislature in 1861 and served in the twelfth, thirteenth, and fourteenth general assemblies; was speaker of the house in the last-named assembly; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); presented credentials as the Member-elect of the Forty-eighth Congress and served until the closing day, March 3, 1885, when the House declared Benjamin T. Frederick, contestant, entitled to the seat; in the interim between the Forty-fourth and Forty-eighth Congresses served as a member of the Iowa railway commission; regent of the state university 1870-1874; director of the agricultural experiment station and professor of agriculture in the Iowa agricultural college at Ames 1891-1897; appointed Secretary of Agriculture March 5, 1897, and reappointed in 1901, 1905, and 1909.

Wilson, James Falconer, a Representative and a Senator From Iowa; born in Newark, Ohio, October 19, 1828; pursued an academic course; apprenticed to the harness-maker's trade 1841-1850; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and practiced in Newark, Ohio, 1851-1853; moved to Fairfield, Iowa, in 1853, and continued in practice; member of the constitutional convention of Iowa in 1856; member of the state legislature in 1857, 1859, and 1861, serving the last year as president of the senate; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Samuel R. Curtis; reelected to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses, and served from December 2, 1861, to March 3, 1869; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and reelected, and served from March 4, 1883, to March 3, 1895; died in Fairfield, Iowa, April 22, 1895.

Wilson, James Jefferson, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Essex county, N. J., in 1775; attended common schools; was clerk in the New Jersey general assembly; member of the assembly 1809-1811, and 1822; adjutant general of the state 1810-1812, and 1814; served as captain of a New Jersey company of infantry in the War of 1812-1814; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1815, to January 8, 1821, when he resigned; postmaster of Trenton, N. J., 1821-1825; editor of the True American of Trenton for several years; seriously injured by a fall from a window of his house in December, 1822; died in Trenton, N. J., July 28, 1824.

Wilson, Jeremiah Morrow, a Representative from Indiana; born near Lebanon, Warren county, Ohio, November 25, 1828; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Indiana; judge of the court of common pleas 1860-1865; judge of the circuit court in October, 1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); practiced law in Washington, D. C., where he died September 24, 1901.

Wilson, John, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Petersboro, N. H., January 10, 1777; was graduated from Harvard college in 1799; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Belfast, Me.; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); reelected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); died in Belfast, Me., August 9, 1848.

Wilson, John, a Representative from South Carolina; native of South Carolina; completed preparatory studies; located in Golden Grove; elected to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1827); defeated for reelection.

Wilson, John Frank, a Delegate from Arizona territory; born in Giles county, Tenn., May 7, 1846; attended school in Rhuhama, Ala.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved from Alabama to Arkansas in 1866; member of the legislature 1877-1878; prosecuting attorney for the fourth judicial district 1884, 1885, and 1886; moved in 1887 to the territory of Arizona; elected to the constitutional convention called by the legislature for the year 1891; appointed attorney-general for the territory by Governor Franklin in 1896, and served in 1896 and 1897; elected as a Democrat a Delegate to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901); died in Prescott, Ariz., April 7, 1911.

Wilson, John Henry, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Crab Orchard, Lincoln county, Ky., January 30, 1846; was graduated from Tusculum college, Tennessee, June, 1870; studied law, was admitted to the bar in September, 1871, and practiced in Barboursville, Ky.; elected to the state senate in August, 1883, for a term of four years; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1893); resumed the practice of law in Barboursville, Ky.

Wilson, John Lockwood, a Representative and a Senator from Washington; born in Crawfordsville, Ind., August 7, 1850; attended the common schools and was graduated from Wabash college in 1874; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Crawfordsville, Ind.; elected a representative to the state legislature in 1880; appointed by President Arthur receiver of public moneys at Spokane Falls, and served four years and four months; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress upon the admission of the state into the Union; re-elected to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses and served from December 2, 1889, to February 18, 1895, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate, and served from February 1, 1895, to March 3, 1899; engaged in the publication of a daily newspaper in Seattle, Wash.; died in Washington, D. C., November 6, 1912; interment in Crawfordsville, Ind.

Wilson, John Thomas, a Representative from Ohio; born in Bell, Highland county, Ohio, April 16, 1811; received a limited schooling and became a merchant; later engaged in farming; captain in the Union army; state senator 1863–1866; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1873); died in Tranquillity, Ohio, Oct. 6, 1891.

Wilson, Nathan, a Representative from New York; native of Washington county, N. Y., and resided many years in Salem; elected to the Tenth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of David Thomas, and served from November 7, 1808, to March 3, 1809.

Wilson, Robert, a Senator from Missouri; was appointed as a Unionist to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the expulsion of Waldo P. Johnson (January 10, 1862), and served from January 17, 1862, to November 13, 1863.

Wilson, Robert Patterson Clark, a Representative from Missouri; born in Boonville, Cooper county, Mo., August 8, 1834; moved with parents to Platte county; attended William Jewell college, Liberty, Mo., and was graduated from Center college, Danville, Ky., in 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and began practice in Seguin, Tex., in 1855; returned to Missouri in 1858 and moved to Leavenworth, Kans., in 1860; one of the Democratic members of the house of representatives from Leavenworth county in the first general assembly of Kansas; returned to Missouri in 1861; member of the general assembly and speaker of the house, 1871–1872; elector for Greeley and Brown in 1872, but on the death of Greeley cast his vote for Hendricks, of Indiana; state senator, 1876–1880; delegate in the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in 1888; president of the school board of Platte City, Mo.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of James N. Burnes; reelected to the Fifty-second Congress and served from December 2, 1889, to March 3, 1893; resumed the practice of law in Platte City, Mo.

Wilson, Stanyarne, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Yorkville, S. C., January 10, 1859; attended Kings Mountain military school and Washington and Lee university, Virginia; studied law and was admitted to the bar by act of the legislature in 1880, then being a minor; located in Spartanburg, S. C., in 1881; practiced law and became interested in cotton manufactures, gold mining, iron works, and agriculture; member of the state legislature in 1884 and 1890 and the state senate in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law in Spartanburg, S. C.

Wilson, Stephen Fowler, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Columbia, Pa., September 4, 1821; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar; held several local offices; state senator 1863–1865; served one session after he had been elected a Representative to Congress; delegate to the Republican national convention in Baltimore in 1864; elected to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1869); appointed additional judge of the fourth judicial district of Pennsylvania in 1871, to fill vacancy; elected additional judge and served ten years; appointed associate justice of the supreme court of New Mexico by President Arthur in 1884; appointed president judge of the fourth judicial district of Pennsylvania in 1887 and served two years; resumed the practice of law in Wellsboro, Pa., and died there March 31, 1897.

Wilson, Thomas, a Representative from Virginia; born in Rockbridge county, Va., September 11, 1765; studied law in Staunton, Va.; was admitted to the bar in Morgantown, Va., September 21, 1789; member of the state house of representatives; elected as a Federalist to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811–March 3, 1813); died in Morgantown, Va., January 24, 1826.

Wilson, Thomas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Sunbury, Northumberland county, Pa., in 1772; attended common schools; located in business in Erie, Pa., in 1805; built vessels for commerce on the great lakes; held several offices, among them county treasurer, justice of the peace, and member of the state legislature; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1817); died in Erie, Pa., October 4, 1824.

Wilson, Thomas, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Dunganon, county Tyrone, Ireland, May 16, 1827; attended the common schools; came with parents to the United States in 1839, and located in Pennsylvania; graduated from Allegheny college, Pennsylvania, in 1852; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in February, 1855; moved to Winona, Minn., in April, 1855; district judge 1857-1864; appointed associate justice of the supreme court of Minnesota; elected chief justice in 1864, and held the office until July, 1869, when he resigned; followed the practice of law; elected a member of the state house of representatives in 1880; state senator 1882-1885; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); defeated as the Democratic candidate for governor in 1890; delegate in Democratic national convention of 1892; died in St. Paul, Minn., April 13, 1910.

Wilson, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; was elected to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1819).

Wilson, William, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hillsboro county, N. H.; attended the public schools; moved to Ohio; elected to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1827); died in Newark, Ohio, May 29, 1827.

Wilson, William Bauchop, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Blantyre, Scotland, April 2, 1862; came to this country with his parents in 1870 and settled in Arnot, Tioga county, Pa.; began working in the coal mines in March, 1871; international secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America from 1900 until 1907; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Wilson, William Lyne, a Representative from Virginia; born in Jefferson county, Va. (now West Virginia), May 3, 1843; attended Charlestown academy, and was graduated from Columbian college, District of Columbia, in 1860, and subsequently studied in the University of Virginia; served in the Confederate army as a private in the twelfth Virginia cavalry; for several years professor in Columbian college, during which time he was graduated from its law school, and entered practice in Charlestown, W. Va.; delegate in 1880 to the national Democratic convention in Cincinnati, and an elector on the Hancock ticket; chosen president of the West Virginia university, and entered upon the office September 4, 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1895); Postmaster-General April 4, 1895, to March 5, 1897; president of the Washington and Lee university, Lexington, Va.; died in Lexington, Va., October 17, 1900.

Wilson, William Warfield, a Representative from Illinois; born in Ohio, Bureau county, Ill., March 2, 1869; had a literary, commercial, and legal training; was admitted to the bar in 1893, and practiced in Chicago, Ill.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Winans, Edwin Baruch, a Representative from Michigan; born in Avon, N. Y., May 16, 1826; moved with parents to Michigan in 1834; attended Albion college, Michigan; engaged in farming in Livingston county; member of the state legislature 1861-1865; member of the constitutional convention of May 15, 1867; probate judge of Livingston county 1877-1881; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); retired to his farm in Livingston county, Mich.; governor of Michigan 1891-1893; died in Hamburg, Livingston county, Mich., July 4, 1894.

Winans, James January, a Representative from Ohio; born in Maysville, Ky., June 7, 1818; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Xenia, Ohio; held several local offices; state senator in 1857, and representative in 1863; appointed judge of the court of common pleas in 1864 and elected for a full term of five years in 1866; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); died in Xenia, Ohio, April 28, 1879.

Winans, John, a Delegate from Wisconsin; born in Vernon, Sussex county, N. J., September 27, 1831; studied law and was admitted to the bar; located in practice in Janesville, Wis.; alderman of the city of Janesville in 1861; city attorney five terms, between 1865 and 1875; member of the state legislature 1874 and 1882; delegate in the Democratic national convention held in Chicago in 1864; member of Governor Taylor's staff 1874-1875 with the rank of colonel; elected as an Independent Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); was connected with a land office in South Dakota for a time; died in Janesville, Wis., January 17, 1907.

Winchester, Boyd, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Louisiana September 23, 1836; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Louisville, Ky.; elected a state senator in August, 1867; elected to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); resumed the practice of law in Louisville, Ky.

Windom, William, a Representative and a Senator from Minnesota; born in Waterford, Ohio, May 10, 1827; pursued an academic course in Mount Vernon, Ohio; studied law in Mount Vernon; was admitted to the bar in 1850, and practiced in Ohio and Minnesota until 1859; elected prosecuting attorney for Knox county in 1852; moved to Winona, Minn., in 1855; elected to the Thirty-sixth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1869); appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Daniel S. Norton, and served from July 16, 1870, to January 18, 1871, when Ozora P. Stearns was elected to fill the vacancy; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1871, was reelected and served from March 12, 1871, to March 4, 1881, when he resigned; appointed Secretary of the Treasury by President Garfield March 5, 1881, entered upon duties March 8, 1881, and served until October 26, 1881, when he resigned; reelected to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by his own resignation, and served from October 26, 1881, to March 3, 1883; located in New York City in 1883; reappointed Secretary of the Treasury by President Benjamin Harrison March 5, 1889, entered upon duties two days later and served until his death in New York City, January 29, 1891.

Winfield, Charles Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Crawford, N. Y., April 22, 1822; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Goshen, N. Y.; district attorney for Orange county 1850-1856; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); died in Walden, Orange county, N. Y., June 10, 1888.

Wing, Austin E., a Delegate from Michigan; born in Hampshire county, Mass., in 1791; attended the common schools; moved to Michigan; elected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1829); moved to Monroe, Mich.; elected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); after Michigan was admitted as a state, served as United States marshal for that district; died in Cleveland, Ohio, August 25, 1849.

Wingate, Joseph F., a Representative from Maine; born in Maine district of Massachusetts; received a limited schooling; became a merchant in Bath, Me.; member of the state house of representatives 1818-1819; collector of customs at the port of Bath 1820-1824; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1831).

Wingate, Paine, a Delegate, a Senator, and a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Amesbury, Mass., May 14, 1739; was graduated from Harvard college in 1759; studied theology and was ordained a minister of the Congregational church in Hampton Falls, N. H., December 14, 1763; moved to Stratham, N. H., in 1776, and became a farmer; elected to the state house of representatives; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1787-1788; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1789, to March 3, 1793; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); judge of the superior court of New Hampshire 1798-1809; died in Stratham, N. H., March 7, 1838.

Winn, Thomas Elisha, a Representative from Georgia; born near Athens, Clarke county, Ga., May 21, 1839; pursued an academic course and was graduated from Emory and Henry college, Virginia, in 1860; read law and was admitted to practice in the courts of Georgia; elected solicitor of the county court of Milton county; entered the Confederate army as first lieutenant in 1861; soon promoted to captain, afterwards major, and finally lieutenant colonel, twenty-fourth Georgia regiment, and served with Lee's army until the surrender; began farming in 1868; county school commissioner of Gwinnett county 1876-1890, when he resigned; elected as an Alliance man and Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); reengaged in agricultural pursuits in Greene county, Ga.

Winslow, Warren, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Fayetteville, N. C., January 1, 1810; was graduated from Chapel Hill university in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Fayetteville; served in the state senate and as speaker, and was acting governor for a time in December, 1854; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1861); died in Fayetteville, N. C., August 16, 1862.

Winston, Joseph, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Louisa county, Va., June 17, 1746; moved to Stokes county, N. C., in 1766; participated in expeditions against hostile frontier Indians; member of the Hillsboro convention of 1775; served in the Revolutionary army in an expedition against the Scotch Tories in February, 1776; made chief ranger of Surry county and major of militia, and served as such against the Cherokees; member of the legislature and of the commission that concluded a treaty with the Cherokees in 1777; led the right wing against the Tories in 1780 and the legislature of North Carolina presented him a sword for his gallantry in the battle of Kings Mountain; participated in the battle of Guilford, in March, 1781; state senator in 1790, 1791, 1802, 1807, and 1812; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); reelected to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1807); died near Germantown, N. C., April 21, 1815; interment in Guilford Battle Ground, N. C.

Winter, Elisha J., a Representative from New York; was elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815).

Winthrop, Robert Charles, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., May 12, 1809; was graduated from Harvard college in 1828; studied law with Daniel Webster, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and practiced in Boston; member of the state house of representatives and its speaker, 1836-1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Abbott Lawrence; reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress, and served from December 7, 1840, to May 25, 1842, when he resigned; subsequently reelected to fill vacancy caused by his own resignation, and reelected to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses, and served from December 5, 1842, to July 30, 1850, when he again resigned; appointed to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Webster, and served from July 27, 1850, to February 1, 1851; was defeated as a Senatorial candidate in 1851, and as a Whig candidate for governor the same year; was Speaker of the House during the Thirtieth and a portion of the Thirty-first Congresses; died in Boston, Mass., November 16, 1894.

Wise, George Douglas, a Representative from Virginia; born in Accomac county, Va., June 4, 1831; was graduated from Indiana university; studied law in William and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va., was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Richmond; captain in the Confederate army; commonwealth attorney of the city of Richmond from 1870 until he resigned, in 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1895); died in Richmond, Va., February 4, 1898.

Wise, Henry Alexander, a Representative from Virginia; born in Drummondtown, Accomac county, Va., December 3, 1806; was graduated from Washington college, Pennsylvania, in 1825; studied law in Winchester, Va., was admitted to the bar in 1828, and began practice in Nashville, Tenn.; returned to Virginia in 1830; held several local offices; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses; reelected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses and reelected as a Tyler Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress and served from March 4, 1833, until his resignation February 18, 1844; declined the portfolio of the Navy, tendered by President Tyler in 1841; appointed minister to France in 1843, but was not confirmed; minister to Brazil 1844-1847; presidential elector on the Cass and Butler ticket in 1848; delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1850; presidential elector on the Pierce and King ticket in 1852; governor of Virginia 1856-1860; served in the Confederate army; resumed the practice of law in Richmond, Va.; served on the commission to fix the boundary line between Virginia and Maryland; and died in Richmond, Va., September 12, 1876.

Wise, John Sergeant, a Representative from Virginia; born in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, December 27, 1846; attended the Virginia military institute and the University of Virginia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and practiced in Richmond, Va.; lieutenant in the Confederate provisional army; United States attorney for eastern district of Virginia from May, 1882, until March, 1883, when he resigned; elected as a Readjuster to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); defeated as the Republican candidate for governor of Virginia in 1885; located in New York City and engaged in the practice of law, Wise, Morgan Rex, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in West Bethlehem, Washington county, Pa., June 7, 1830; brought up as a practical farmer; engaged in mining gold in the Territory of California in 1850; while there volunteered, under Major Stammis, to defend the miners against the depredations of the Indians; returned to Pennsylvania; was graduated from Waynesburg college in 1856; member of the state house of representatives in 1874-1878; elected as an anti-Bank Democrat to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); died in Pittsburgh, Pa., April 13, 1903.

Wise, Richard Alsop, a Representative from Virginia; born in Philadelphia, Pa., September 2, 1843; attended private schools in Richmond, Va., Dr. Gessner Harrison's university school, and William and Mary college for two years; served in the Confederate army as a private in Stuart's cavalry and as assistant inspector-general of Wise's brigade, Army of Northern Virginia; was graduated in medicine from the Medical college of Virginia in 1867, and practiced; professor in the College of William and Mary in 1869-1880; superintendent of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum of Virginia 1882-1884; member of the state legislature 1885-1887; clerk of the circuit and county courts of the city of Williamsburg and county of James City 1887-1893; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress and was seated after a contest with William A. Young April 26, 1898, and served until March 3, 1899; reelected to the Fifty-sixth Congress and was seated after a second contest with William A. Young April 26, 1900, and served until March 3, 1901; died in Williamsburg, Va., December 21, 1900.

Wisner, Henry, a Delegate from New York; born in Goshen, Orange county, N. Y., 1720; completed academic studies; studied law and was admitted to the Orange county bar; assistant justice of the court of common pleas; member of the state general assembly 1759-1769; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1774-1776; voted for the Declaration of Independence, but was absent in New York at the time it was signed attending the Provincial congress, to which he had just been elected; erected three powder mills in the vicinity of Goshen, N. Y., and supplied powder to the Continental army in the Revolution; one of the committee that framed the first constitution of New York in 1777; state senator 1777-1782; member of the state convention that ratified the Federal Constitution in 1788; died in Goshen, N. Y., March 4, 1790; interment in cemetery in Phillipsburg, N. Y.

Witcher, John Seashoal, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Cabell county, Va. (now West Virginia), July 15, 1839; received a limited schooling; held several local offices; served in the Union army; first lieutenant, third West Virginia cavalry, December 13, 1862; captain, September 8, 1863; major, May 23, 1864; lieutenant colonel, May 6, 1865; brevet colonel of volunteers, March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious service during the Shenandoah campaign of 1864 and the final campaign around Richmond and Petersburg, Va., in the spring of 1865, and especially at the battle of Fords Station, Va.;" brigadier general of volunteers, March 3, 1865, "for like services"; honorably mustered out June 30, 1865; major and paymaster, June 30, 1880; retired, September 8, 1899; member of the state legislature in 1865; secretary of the state of West Virginia, 1866-1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); defeated for reelection; died in Salt Lake City, Utah, July 8, 1906.

Witherell, James, a Representative from Vermont; born in Mansfield, Mass., June 16, 1759; completed preparatory studies; served in the Revolutionary army as a member of the eleventh Massachusetts regiment, 1775-1783; studied medicine and licensed to practice in 1788; moved to Vermont, where he studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; state representative, 1798-1803; Rutland county judge, 1803-1805; executive councilor, 1803-1807; elected as a Democrat to the Tenth Congress and served from March 4, 1807, to May 1, 1808, when he resigned; appointed United States judge for the Territory of Michigan; secretary of Michigan Territory, 1828-1832; died in Detroit, Mich., January 9, 1838.

Withers, Robert Enoch, a Senator from Virginia; born in Campbell county, Va., September 18, 1821; was graduated from the medical department of the university of Virginia in 1841; practiced in Campbell county until 1858, when he moved to Danville, Va.; entered the Confederate army as major of infantry in April, 1861, and promoted colonel of the eighteenth Virginia regiment, which he commanded until retired in consequence of numerous disabling wounds, and appointed to command the post at Danville, Va., which position he held until the close of the war; moved to Lynchburg, Va., in January, 1866, and established a daily paper devoted to the interests of the Conservative party; nominated for governor by the Liberal Republicans, but defeated; elector on the Greeley ticket in 1873; elected lieutenant governor in 1873; elected as a Conservative to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1881; appointed consul at Hong Kong, China, in 1885; resigned in 1889 and returned to Wytheville, Va.; died in "Ingleside," Wytheville, Va., September 21, 1907.

Witherspoon, John, a Delegate from New Jersey; born in Gifford, Haddingtonshire, Scotland, February 5, 1722; was graduated from Edinburgh university in 1742; studied theology and was ordained minister of the parish of Beith in 1745; installed pastor at Paisley, January 16, 1757; moderator of the synod of Glasgow and Ayr in 1758; declined the presidency of Princeton college in 1766, but accepted the second invitation and came to the United States, and was inaugurated Princeton's head August 17, 1768; became a leader of Presbyterians in America; member of the convention that framed New Jersey's first constitution; member of the Provincial congress of New Jersey in June, 1776; Delegate in the Continental Congress, 1776-1783; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; member of the secret committee of the Congress on the conduct of the war and member of the board of war in 1778; member New Jersey council, 1780; of the assembly, 1783, 1789-1790; of the New Jersey convention to ratify the Federal Constitution, 1787; engaged in the cultivation of a farm near Princeton, N. J.; became blind in 1792; died near Princeton, N. J., November 15, 1794.

Witherspoon, Robert, a Representative from South Carolina; was elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811).

Witte, William Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Morris county, N. J., May 7, 1818; moved to Bucks county, Pa., and attended the common schools; moved to Philadelphia in 1840 and became a merchant; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); engaged in newspaper work and died in Philadelphia, Pa., November 24, 1876.

Wolcott, Edward Oliver, a Senator from Colorado; born in Long Meadow, Mass., March 26, 1848; served for a few months as private in the one hundred and fiftieth regiment of Ohio volunteers in 1864; entered Yale college in 1866, but did not graduate; was graduated from Harvard law school in 1871; moved to Colorado and practiced law in Denver; elected district attorney and a member of the state senate in 1872; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate; was reelected, and served from March 4, 1889, to March 3, 1901; resumed the practice of law in Denver, Colo.; died in Monte Carlo, Principality of Monaco, March 1, 1905.

Wolcott, Oliver, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Windsor, Conn., November 26, 1726; was graduated from Yale college in 1747; commissioned a captain by the governor of New York in 1747; raised a company of volunteers and served on the northwestern frontier until the peace of Aix-la-Chapelle; returned to Litchfield, Conn., and studied medicine with his brother, Dr. Alexander Wolcott, but did not practice; sheriff of the newly organized county of Litchfield, Conn., in 1751; member of the state council 1774-1786, and at the same time judge of the county court of common pleas; judge of probate for the Litchfield district many years; major general of militia; a commissioner of Indian affairs, northern department, in 1775; a Delegate in the Continental Congress 1775-1778 and 1780-1784; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; commander of the fourteen Connecticut regiments sent for the defense of New York in 1776, and divided his time between army service and service in Congress; lieutenant-governor of Connecticut 1786-1796; governor 1796, until his death in Litchfield, Conn., December 1, 1797.

Wolf, George, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Allen township, Northampton county, Pa., August 12, 1777; completed preparatory studies in a classical school; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced at Easton, Pa.; postmaster of Easton, and clerk of the orphans' court of Northampton county until 1809; member of the state house of representatives in 1814; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas J. Rogers; reelected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses; and served from December 9, 1824, to March 3, 1829; governor of Pennsylvania 1829-1835; first comptroller of the Treasury of the United States June 18, 1836-February 23, 1838; collector of customs port of Philadelphia in 1838, and served until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., March 11, 1840.

Wolf, Harry Benjamin, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., June 16, 1880; attended the public schools of Baltimore, and was graduated from the Maryland university school of law June 3, 1901, and entered practice in Baltimore; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); resumed the practice of law in Baltimore, Md.

Wolf, William P., a Representative from Iowa; born in Stark county, Ohio, December 1, 1833; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Tipton, Iowa, in 1859; superintendent of public schools; state legislator 1863-1864; served in the Union army as captain; appointed assistant assessor of internal revenue in 1865; member of the state senate in 1867; elected to the Forty-first Congress to fill vacancy caused by death of William Smyth, and served from December 6, 1870, to March 3, 1871; resumed the practice of law in Tipton, Iowa.

Wolfe, Simeon Kalfus, a Representative from Indiana; born in Floyd county, Ind., February 14, 1824; attended Floyd county schools and was graduated from the law department of the university of Indiana, at Bloomington, in 1850, and practiced in New Albany, Ind.; presidential elector in 1856; state senator 1860-1864; delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1860; engaged in newspaper work; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); circuit judge of the Floyd and Clark circuit 1880; died in New Albany, Ind., November 18, 1888.

Wolford, Frank Lane, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Adair county, Ky., September 2, 1817; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Columbia, Ky.; member of the house of representatives in the general assembly 1847, 1848, 1865, and 1866; presidential elector in 1864 and 1868; colonel of the first Kentucky cavalry 1861-1864; adjutant-general of the state of Kentucky 1867-1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); died in Columbia, Ky., August 2, 1895.

Wolverton, Simon Peter, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Rush township, Northumberland county, Pa., January 28, 1837; attended the common schools, Danville academy, and was graduated from Lewisburg university in 1860; took charge of Sunbury academy and also read law; was admitted to the bar in 1862 and practiced in Sunbury; raised a company of emergency men, of which he was made captain in 1862, and served in the eighteenth regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers; chosen captain of company F, thirty-sixth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers in June, 1863; elected to the state senate in 1878, 1880, and 1884; Democratic nominee for the United States Senate in the joint convention of 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); resumed the practice of law; died in Sunbury, Pa., October 25, 1910.

Wood, Abiel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Wiscasset, in the Maine district of Massachusetts, in 1772; education limited; merchant; state representative 1807-1811; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); again a state representative in 1816; delegate to the constitutional convention of Maine in 1819; state councillor of Maine 1820-1821; died in Belfast, Me., November 2, 1834.

Wood, Alan, Jr., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, July 6, 1834; completed preparatory studies; and became a manufacturer, and later a banker; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); died in Philadelphia, Pa., October 31, 1902.

Wood, Amos E., a Representative from Ohio; born in Ellisburg, N. Y., January 2, 1810; attended common schools; moved to Ohio, and in 1833 located on a farm in Sandusky county; state representative for two years; state senator one year; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Rudolphus Dickinson, and served from December 3, 1849, until his death in Fort Wayne, Ind., November 19, 1850.

Wood, Benjamin, a Representative from New York; born in Shelbyville, Ky., October 13, 1820; attended the public schools; moved to the city of New York; published and edited the Daily News; mayor of New York City; member of the state senate 1866-1867; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865); reelected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); died in New York City February 21, 1900.

Wood, Benson, a Representative from Illinois; born in Susquehanna county, Pa., in 1839; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; went to Illinois in 1859, and for two years was principal of a village school in Lee county; rank of captain of infantry in the Civil war; graduate of the law department of the University of Chicago, and engaged in the practice of law in Effingham, Ill.; delegate in the Republican National conventions of 1876 and 1888; mayor of Effingham and representative in the general assembly; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); resumed the practice of law in Effingham, Ill.

Wood, Bradford Ripley, a Representative from New York; born in Westport, Conn., September 30, 1800; was graduated from Union college in 1824; studied law, was admitted to the bar, in 1827, and began practice in Albany, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); United States minister to Denmark 1861-1865; died in Albany, N. Y., September 26, 1889.

Wood, Ernest E., a Representative from Missouri; a resident of St. Louis, Mo.; presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Fifty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1905, to June 23, 1906, when he was succeeded by Harry M. Coudrey, who contested his election.

Wood, Fernando, a Representative from New York; born in Philadelphia, Pa., June 14, 1812; moved with his father to New York in 1820; engaged in business as a shipping merchant and retired in 1850; three times elected mayor of New York, 1855-1856, 1857-1858, and 1861-1862; elected as a Tammany Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843), reelected to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); reelected to the Fortieth, and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1881); reelected to the Forty-seventh Congress, but died before the assembling of the Congress, in Hot Springs, Ark., February 14, 1881.

Woods, Frank P., a Representative from Iowa; born in Walworth county, Wis.; attended public schools and the Northern Indiana normal school in Valparaiso; moved to Iowa in 1887; chairman of the Republican state central committee 1906-1907; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Wood, Ira Wells, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; was graduated from Princeton university; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Trenton, N. J.; member of the board of education and the common council of the city of Trenton; president of the board of trade of Trenton; member of state assembly 1899-1900; commissioner for New Jersey to the Louisiana purchase exposition; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William M. Lanning; reelected to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses and served from December 5, 1904, to March 3, 1911. Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Wood, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., September 6, 1816; received a limited schooling; became a merchant and an iron manufacturer; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1861); died in Conshohocken, Montgomery county, Pa., May 31, 1898.

Wood, John J., a Representative from New York; born in Rockland county, N. Y.; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1829).

Wood, John M., a Representative from Maine; born in Minisink, N. Y., November 17, 1813; located in Portland, Me., in 1846; completed preparatory studies; contractor; state representative; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1859); died in Boston, Mass., December 24, 1864.

Wood, Joseph, a Delegate from Georgia; born in Pennsylvania about 1712; served in the Revolutionary war as colonel of the second Pennsylvania regiment and was on duty in Canada in 1776; removed to Georgia in 1776, located in St. John's parish (afterwards Liberty county), and engaged in planting; member of the Georgia council of safety; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1777–1779; died in Sunbury, Ga., in 1789.

Wood, Silas, a Representative from New York; born in Suffolk county, N. Y., in 1769; pursued classical studies; was graduated from Princeton college in 1789; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Huntington, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1829); died in Huntington, N. Y., March 2, 1847.

Wood, Thomas Jefferson, a Representative from Indiana; born in Athens county, Ohio, September 30, 1844; attended common schools; taught school two years; studied law in Terre Haute, Ind., and was graduated from the law department of Michigan university in 1867; located in Crown Point, Ind., November, 1867, and practiced law; elected corporation treasurer in 1870, and reelected; elected prosecuting attorney; reelected in 1874; member of the state senate 1878–1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); died in Crown Point, Ind., October 13, 1908.

Wood, Walter Abbott, a Representative from New York; born in Mason, N. H., October 23, 1815; attended the common schools; moved to New York and became an inventor and manufacturer of reapers, mowers, and binders; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); returned to Hoosick Falls, N. Y., where he died January 15, 1892.

Woodard, Fred Alexander, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Wilson county, N. C., February 12, 1854; read law at the law school of Chief Justice Bell Pearson and was licensed to practice in 1873; located in Wilson, N. C., and practiced; vice president of the first national bank of Wilson; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1897); resumed the practice of law in Wilson, N. C.

Woodbridge, Frederick Enoch, a Representative from Vermont; born in Vergennes, Vt., August 29, 1819; was graduated from the university of Vermont in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Vergennes; state representative 1849, 1857, and 1858; held several local offices; state auditor 1850–1852; prosecuting attorney 1854–1858; engaged in rail-roading; state senator 1860–1861 and president pro tempore in 1861; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1869); died in Vergennes, Vt., April 25, 1888.

Woodbridge, William, a Delegate and a Senator from Michigan; born in Norwich, Conn., August 20, 1780; moved with his father to Marietta, Ohio, in 1791, but in a few years returned to Connecticut and studied law in Litchfield; was admitted to the Ohio bar in 1806; state representative in 1807; prosecuting attorney for New London county 1808–1814; state senator 1808–1814; moved to Detroit, Mich., having been appointed secretary of Michigan Territory; elected a Delegate to the Sixteenth Congress and served from March 4, 1819, to August 9, 1820, when he resigned; judge of the superior court of Michigan Territory 1828–1832; delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1835; state senator in 1837; governor of Michigan 1840–1841; elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1841, to March 3, 1847; died in Detroit, Mich., October 20, 1861.

Woodburn, William, a Representative from Nevada; born in the County Wicklow, Ireland, in 1838; emigrated to this country in 1849; attended St. Charles college, Maryland; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1866; district attorney of Storey county, Nev., in 1871 and 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); reelected to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889); resumed the practice of law in Virginia City, Nev.

Woodbury, Levi, a Representative and a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Frances-town, N. H., December 22, 1789; was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1809; studied law in the Litchfield, Conn., law school, in Boston, Mass., and in Exeter, N. H.; was admitted to the bar in 1812 and practiced in Frances-town, N. H., 1813–1816; appointed judge of the superior court of New Hampshire in 1816; moved to Portsmouth, N. H., in 1819; governor of New Hampshire 1823–1824; state representative 1825 and speaker; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate for term beginning March 4, 1825, and served from March 16, 1825, to March 3, 1831; state senator 1831, but declined; secretary of the Navy in President Jackson's cabinet, May 23, 1831, to June 30, 1834; transferred to the Treasury Department and served from July 1, 1834, to March 3, 1841; appointed chief justice of the superior court of New Hampshire, but declined; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1841, to November 20, 1845, when he resigned; declined the British mission; appointed associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Joseph Story, November 20, 1845, and served until his death in Portsmouth, N. H., September 4, 1851.

Woodcock, David, a Representative from New York; native of Berkshire county, Mass.; attended the public schools; moved to Seneca county and later to Tompkins county, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives 1814-1815; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); again a member of the state house of representatives in 1826; reelected to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829).

Woodford, Stewart Lyndon, a Representative from New York; born in New York City September 3, 1835; was graduated from Columbia college in 1854; studied law, was admitted to the New York bar in 1857, and began practice in New York City; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1860; assistant attorney for the United States in New York City in 1861-1862; served in the Union army; lieutenant-colonel of the one hundred and twenty-seventh New York volunteers September 8, 1862; colonel of the one hundred and third United States colored infantry March 3, 1865; brevet brigadier general of volunteers May 12, 1865, for zealous, efficient, and generally meritorious conduct in the discharge of duties; resigned August 23, 1865; first Union military commander of Charleston, S. C., and of Savannah, Ga.; lieutenant-governor of New York 1867-1869; defeated for governor in 1870; delegate in the Republican national convention in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1872; president of the electoral college in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress and served from March 4, 1873, to July 1, 1874, when he resigned; United States attorney for the southern district of New York 1877-1883; United States minister to Spain 1897-1898; resumed the practice of law in New York City.

Woodman, Charles Walhart, a Representative from Illinois; born in Aalborg, Denmark, March 11, 1844; attended public schools; followed the sea 1860-1863; located in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1863, and enlisted in the gulf squadron of the United States navy; went to Chicago in 1865; read law and was graduated from the law department of Chicago university in 1871, and admitted to the Illinois bar the same year; appointed prosecuting attorney of the lower courts in 1877; appointed justice of the peace by the judges of Cook county in 1881; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); died in Elgin, Ill., March 18, 1898.

Woodruff, George Catlin, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Litchfield, Conn., December 1, 1805; was graduated from Yale college in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Litchfield; post-master of Litchfield for fourteen years; state representative; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); defeated for the Thirty-eighth Congress; died in Litchfield, Conn., November 21, 1885.

Woodruff, John, a Representative from Connecticut; born in West Hartford, Conn., February 12, 1826; received a limited schooling; elected as an American to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857), and reelected to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); collector of internal revenue for the second district of Connecticut from 1862, until his death in New Haven, Conn., May 20, 1868.

Woodruff, Thomas M., a Representative from New York; elected to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847).

Woods, Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Pennsylvania; received a limited schooling; took an active part in pre-Revolutionary affairs; elected to the Sixth and Seventh Congresses (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1803).

Woods, John, a Representative from Ohio; born in Jonestown, Dauphin county, Pa., October 18, 1794; moved with his parents to Ohio, where he attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Hamilton, Ohio, August 19, 1819; elected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1829); engaged in newspaper work; elected state auditor January 30, 1845, and served six years; died in Hamilton, Ohio, July 30, 1855.

Woods, Samuel Davis, a Representative from California; born in Mount Pleasant, Maury county, Tenn., September 19, 1845; moved to California in February, 1850; attended the public schools; studied law and was admitted to the California bar in April, 1875, and engaged in practice in Stockton and in the city and county of San Francisco; elected to the Fifty-sixth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Marion De Vries; reelected to the Fifty-seventh Congress and served from December 3, 1900, to March 3, 1903; resumed law practice in San Francisco, Cal.

Woods, William, a Representative from New York; born in Washington county, N. Y., in 1790; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Bath, N. Y.; state representative 1823-1825; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); died in Bath, N. Y., August 7, 1837.

Woodson, Samuel H., a Representative from Kentucky; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); defeated for reelection.

Woodson, Samuel Hughes, a Representative from Missouri; born in Jessamine county, Ky., October 24, 1815; was graduated from Centre college; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Independence, Mo.; state representative 1853-1854; delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1855; elected as an American to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); died in Independence, Mo., in July, 1881.

Woodward, George Washington, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Bethany, Pa., March 26, 1809; completed preparatory studies; studied law, and began practice in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1827; president judge of the fourth judicial district 1841-1851; judge of the superior court of Pennsylvania 1852-1867; defeated as a Democrat for governor in 1863; elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Charles Denison; reelected to the Forty-first Congress and served from November 21, 1867, to March 3, 1871; delegate in the Democratic national convention in New York in 1868; delegate in the state constitutional convention of 1873; died in Rome, Italy, May 10, 1875.

Woodward, Gilbert Motier, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Washington, D. C., December 25, 1835; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and engaged in practice in La Crosse, Wis., in February, 1860; served in the Union army during the civil war a little over three years, and in that time was private, first sergeant, second lieutenant, first lieutenant, and adjutant of the second Wisconsin volunteer infantry; district attorney of La Crosse county 1866-1873; mayor of the city of La Crosse 1874-1875; city attorney 1876-1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); defeated for the Forty-ninth Congress; Democratic candidate for governor of Wisconsin in 1886 and defeated; delegate to the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in 1888; a resident of La Crosse, Wis., and engaged in the practice of law.

Woodward, Joseph Addison, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Fairfield district, S. C., April 11, 1806; received an academic training and was graduated from the South Carolina college, Columbia; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; several times elected to the state legislature; elected to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1853); declined further service; moved to Alabama and continued the practice of law; died in Talladega, Ala., August 3, 1885.

Woodward, William, a Representative from South Carolina; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817).

Woodworth, James Hutchinson, a Representative from Illinois; born in Greenwich, N. Y., December 4, 1804; received a limited schooling; moved to Fabius, N. Y., and taught school; became a merchant; moved to Erie, Pa., in 1827, and to Chicago, Ill., in 1833; member of the state senate in 1839 and of the state house of representatives 1842; two years mayor of Chicago; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); died in Highland Park, Ill., March 26, 1869.

Woodworth, Laurin Dewey, a Representative from Ohio; born in Windham, Portage county, Ohio, September 10, 1837; pursued classical studies; studied law, and in 1859 was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Youngstown, Ohio; major in the Union army; state senator 1867 and 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); died in Youngstown, Ohio, March 13, 1897.

Woodworth, William W., a Representative from New York; a native of Connecticut; moved to Hyde Park, N. Y.; received a limited schooling; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847).

Woodyard, Harry Chapman, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Spencer, W. Va., November 12, 1867; attended the common schools; engaged in the wholesale grocery and lumber business; elected to the state senate in 1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911); resumed business in Spencer, W. Va.

Woomer, Ephraim Milton, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Jonestown, Lebanon county, Pa., January 14, 1844; attended the common schools; enlisted in company A, ninety-third regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, in September, 1861; promoted to sergeant; wounded twice at Salem Heights and lost a leg in the battle of the Wilderness, May 5, 1864; discharged from hospital September 9, 1865; taught school until 1869; clerk of the orphan's court of Lebanon county three years; cashier of the People's bank, of Lebanon; member of the councils of the borough of Lebanon 1883-1885; president of select councils of the city of Lebanon 1885-1889; delegate in the Republican national convention of 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1897); died in Lebanon, Pa., November 29, 1897.

Wooten, Dudley Goodall, a Representative from Texas; born in Greene county, Mo., June 19, 1856; moved to Texas in infancy during the Civil war; attended a private school in Paris and was graduated from Princeton university; was a fellow in Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, and was graduated from the law department of the university of Virginia; admitted to the bar and practiced in Austin, Tex., where he was prosecuting attorney; moved to Dallas, Tex., in 1888; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1892; member of the legislature of Texas in 1898; delegate in the Chicago trust conference of 1899; delegate to the National Civic Federation in Buffalo in 1901; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Robert E. Burke, and served from December 2, 1901, to March 3, 1903; moved to Seattle, Wash., and continued in the practice of law.

Worcester, Samuel Thomas, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hollis, N. H., August 30, 1804; was graduated from Cambridge university in 1830; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Norwalk, Ohio; member of the state senate 1848-1849; judge of the court of common pleas 1859-1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); died in Nashua, N. H., December 6, 1882.

Word, Thomas J., a Representative from Mississippi; native of Surry county, N. C.; member of the state house of representatives in 1832; moved to Mississippi and located in Pontotoc; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839).

Worman, Ludwig, a Representative from Pennsylvania; native of Bucks county, Pa.; received a limited schooling; engaged in the tanning industry; elected to the Seventeenth Congress and served from March 4, 1821, until his death in Bucks county, Pa., September 21, 1822.

Wortendyke, Jacob Rynier, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Chestnut Ridge, N. J., November 27, 1818; was graduated from Rutgers college in 1839; taught for ten years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Jersey City, N. J.; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); died in Jersey City, N. J., November 7, 1868.

Worthington, Henry Gaither, a Delegate and a Representative from Nevada; born in Cumberland, Md., February 9, 1828; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Tuolumne county, Cal.; located in San Francisco, Cal.; member of the state house of representatives in 1861; moved to Nevada in 1862 and located in Austin; elected a Delegate to the Thirty-eighth Congress, serving from March 4, 1863, to December 21, 1864, when he took his seat as a Representative from the new state of Nevada and served until March 3, 1865; minister to Uruguay and the Argentine Republic, 1868–1869, by appointment of President Johnson; bearer at President Lincoln's funeral; died in Washington, D. C., July 29, 1909.

Worthington, John T. H., a Representative from Maryland; native of Maryland; received a limited schooling; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1833); defeated for the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses; elected to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1841); died in Baltimore county, Md., April 27, 1849.

Worthington, Nicholas Ellsworth, a Representative from Illinois; born in Brooke county, W. Va., March 30, 1836; was graduated from Allegheny college, Pennsylvania; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; located in Peoria, Ill.; county superintendent of schools of Peoria county 1865–1872; member of the state board of education 1869–1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1887); circuit judge of the tenth judicial district of Illinois since 1891.

Worthington, Thomas, a Senator from Ohio; born in Jefferson county, Va., July 16, 1773; completed preparatory studies; moved to Ross county, Ohio, in 1798; member of the territorial legislature 1799–1801; delegate in the state convention of 1803; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from April 1, 1803, to March 3, 1807; again elected, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Return J. Meigs, jr., and served from December 15, 1810, to December 1, 1814, when he resigned; governor of Ohio 1814–1818; canal commissioner from 1818 until his death in New York city June 20, 1827.

Worthington, Thomas Contee, a Representative from Maryland; born near Annapolis, Prince George county, Md., November 25, 1782; received a limited schooling; served as a captain and was successively promoted to a brigadier general of the Maryland militia in the War of 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Frederick, Md.; member of the executive council under the first constitution; elected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1827); died in Frederick, Md., April 12, 1847.

Wren, Thomas, a Representative from California; native of McArthurstown, Ohio; received a limited schooling; studied law and was admitted to the bar; held several local offices; resident of Eldorado county, Cal., 1855–1857; city attorney of Austin, Nev., 1874–1876; member of the state legislature in 1875; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879).

Wright, Ashley Bascom, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Hinsdale, Berkshire county, Mass., May 25, 1841; attended the public schools and Lincoln academy, in Hinsdale; moved to North Adams, Mass., in 1861; appointed chief deputy collector of internal revenue for the tenth district of Massachusetts; resigned in 1865 and engaged in business; elected selectman; commissioner for county of Berkshire, 1884–1887, and chairman one year; member of the state executive council, 1890 and 1891; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses and served from March 4, 1893 until his death in North Adams, Mass., August 14, 1897.

Wright, Augustus Romaldus, a Representative from Georgia; born in Wrightsboro, Ga., June 16, 1813; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Rome, Ga.; elected circuit judge in 1842 and reelected but resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); died at Glenwood, near Rome, Ga., March 31, 1891.

Wright, Charles Frederick, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Forest Lake township, Susquehanna county, Pa., May 3, 1856; attended public schools and was graduated from Montrose academy in 1874; teller of the first national bank of Montrose, Pa., 1875–1881; assistant cashier and cashier of the first national bank of Susquehanna Depot, 1882–1899; delegate in the St. Louis Republican convention of 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1905); delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1904 and 1908; appointed state treasurer, to fill a vacancy.

Wright, Daniel B., a Representative from Mississippi; native of Tennessee; moved to Salem, Miss.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1857).

Wright, Edwin R. V., a Representative from New Jersey; born in Hoboken, N. J., January 2, 1812; completed preparatory studies; engaged in newspaper work in 1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Hoboken in 1835; state senator in 1843; district attorney for Hudson county 1851–1855; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865–March 3, 1867); died in Jersey City, N. J., January 19, 1876.

Wright, George Grover, a Senator from Iowa; born in Bloomington, Ind., March 24, 1820; was graduated from the Indiana university in Bloomington in 1842; studied law in Rockville, Ind., moved to Kesauqua, Iowa, in 1840; was admitted to the bar and practiced; prosecuting attorney of Van Buren county 1847-1848; state senator 1849, and served two terms; chosen chief justice of the state supreme court in 1854, and elected to the same bench in 1860 and 1865; removed to Des Moines, Iowa, in 1865; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1871, to March 3, 1877; died in Des Moines, Iowa, January 9, 1896.

Wright, George Washington, a Representative from California; born in Concord, Mass.; attended the public schools; became a merchant in Boston; engaged in newspaper work; moved to California in 1849; elected one of the first Representatives from the new state of California to the Thirty-first Congress and served from September 11, 1850, to March 3, 1851.

Wright, Hendrick Bradley, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Plymouth, Luzerne county, Pa., April 24, 1808; attended the Wilkes-Barre grammar school and was graduated from Dickinson college in 1829; studied law, was admitted to the bar November 8, 1831, and commenced practice in Wilkes-Barre; appointed district attorney for Luzerne county in 1834; member of the state house of representatives 1841-1843, and served the last year as speaker; delegate in the national Democratic convention in Baltimore in 1844 which nominated Polk and Dallas, and served as temporary and permanent chairman; delegate to the subsequent national Democratic conventions which nominated Cass, Pierce, Buchanan, Douglas, Seymour, and Tilden; elected to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855) reelected to the Thirty-seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of George W. Scranton, and served from July 4, 1861, to March 3, 1863; reelected as a Democrat and National to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); died in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., September 2, 1881.

Wright, John Crafts, a Representative from Ohio; born in Wethersfield, Conn., August 17, 1783; completed preparatory studies; learned the trade of a printer, located in Troy, N. Y., and edited the Troy Gazette for several years; studied law in Litchfield, Conn., was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Steubenville, Ohio, in 1809; United States district attorney in 1817; judge of the state supreme court; elected as an Adams Democrat to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1829); defeated for reelection; elected to the Ohio supreme bench in 1831; moved to Cincinnati in 1835 and engaged in newspaper work, and for thirteen years proprietor of the Cincinnati Gazette; delegate to the peace congress in Washington, D. C., in February, 1861, and died while serving, in Washington, D. C., February 13, 1861.

Wright, John Vines, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Purdy, McNairy county, Tenn., June 28, 1828; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Purdy, Tenn.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1861); served in the Confederate army as colonel of the thirteenth Tennessee infantry in 1861; member of the first and second confederate congresses; judge of the circuit court of Tennessee, and chancellor and judge of the state supreme court; practiced law in Nashville, Tenn., 1865-1886; chairman of the Northwest Indian commission in 1886, and member of commission to treat with the Great Sioux nation in Dakota; defeated as an Anti-repudiarian Democrat for governor of Tennessee in 1880; appointed to the law division of the general land office in 1887, and served until his death in Washington, D. C., June 19, 1910.

Wright, Joseph Albert, a Representative and a Senator from Indiana; born in Washington, Pa., April 17, 1810; moved to Indiana, where he was graduated from the University of Indiana; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and, in 1829, began practice in Rockville, Ind.; state representative in 1833 and state senator in 1840; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); defeated for reelection; governor of Indiana 1849-1857; United States minister to Prussia 1857-1861; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the expulsion of Jesse D. Bright, and served from February 24, 1862, to January 14, 1863; again appointed United States minister to Prussia, and served from June 30, 1865, until his death, in Berlin, Prussia, May 11, 1867.

Wright, Myron Benjamin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Forest Lake, Susquehanna county, Pa., June 12, 1847; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; taught school and employed as clerk in the first National Bank of Susquehanna 1865-1866; elected assistant cashier of bank in 1867, and cashier in 1869; interested in several financial, business, and manufacturing enterprises; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses and served from March 4, 1889 until his death in Trenton, Canada, November 13, 1894.

Wright, Robert, a Senator and a Representative from Maryland; born in Marlborough, Queen Annes county, Md., November 20, 1752; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Chestertown, Md.; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from November 19, 1801, to 1806, when he resigned; governor 1806-1809; elected to the Eleventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Brown; reelected to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, and Fourteenth Congresses, and served from December 3, 1810, to March 3, 1817; reelected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); district judge of Kent county; died in "Blakesford," Queen Annes county, Md., September 7, 1826.

Wright, Samuel G., a Representative from New Jersey; born in 1787; elected to the Twenty-ninth Congress, but died before the assembling of Congress, July 30, 1845.

Wright, Silas, jr., a Representative and a Senator from New York; born in Amherst, Mass., May 24, 1795; moved with father to Weybridge, Vt., in 1796; was graduated from Middlebury academy in 1815; moved to Sandy Hill, Washington county, N. Y., in 1816; studied law, was admitted to the bar in January, 1819, and began practice in Canton, N. Y.; surrogate of Rockland county from February 4, 1821, to January 1, 1824; state senator 1824-1827; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth Congress and served from March 4, 1827 until February 16, 1829, when he resigned; successfully contested the election of George Fisher in the Twenty-first Congress, but refused to take his seat, preferring to act as comptroller of the state of New York, 1829-1833; member of Democratic National convention of 1832; elected to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of William L. Marcy; reelected and served from January 4, 1833, to December 1, 1844, when he resigned to become governor of New York; governor 1844-1846; defeated for reelection; died in Canton, N. Y., August 27, 1847.

Wright, Turbett, a Delegate from Maryland; sat in the Continental Congress 1781-1782.

Wright, William, a Representative and a Senator from New Jersey; born in Clarkstown, Rockland county, N. Y., November 13, 1789; attended the public schools; was a volunteer for the defense of Stonington, Conn., in the War of 1812; learned the saddler's trade and engaged in business in Bridgeport, Conn., in 1815; moved to Newark, N. J., in 1821; mayor of Newark 1840-1843; elected as a Henry Clay Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1842-March 3, 1847); elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1853, to March 3, 1859; again elected to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1863, until his death in Newark, N. J., November 1, 1866.

Wurts, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Flanders, Morris county, N. J., August 13, 1792; was graduated from Princeton college in 1813; moved to Philadelphia, Pa.; studied law and was admitted to the bar; member of the state house of representatives in 1817 and state senator in 1820; elected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1827); United States district attorney; died in Rome, Italy, April 23, 1861.

Wynkoop, Henry, a Delegate and a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Northampton county, Pa., March 2, 1737; completed English and classical studies; member of the Northampton committee of observation in 1774; deputy in the provincial conferences of July 15, 1774, and June 18, 1775; major of one of the associated battalions; member of the general committee of safety July, 1776, to July, 1777; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1779-1783; justice of the court of common pleas and the orphans' court November 18, 1780-June 27, 1789; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); appointed associate judge of Bucks county, and served until his death in Bucks county, Pa., March 25, 1816.

Wynn, Richard, a Representative from South Carolina; born in eastern Virginia about 1750; received a limited schooling; moved to Georgia; entered the Revolutionary army as lieutenant and attained the rank of major-general; elected to the Third and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1797); reelected to the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1813); died in Tennessee in 1813.

Wynn, William Joseph, a Representative from California; born in San Francisco, Cal., June 12, 1860; attended public schools of San Francisco; practical machinist; member of board of supervisors; elected as a Union-Labor and Democratic nominee to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905).

Wynns, Thomas, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Hertford county, N. C., in 1764; in 1780 was captured at sea in a vessel called the Fair American and, with several other colonists, was carried to London; returned to North Carolina, and located as a planter in Hertford county; member of state convention for the ratification of the Federal constitution in 1788; state senator 1790-1802, and 1807-1817; elected to the Seventh Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Charles Johnson; reelected to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses, and served from December 7, 1802, to March 3, 1807; resumed planting in Hertford county; member of the executive council, and a brigadier general of militia; died in Hertford county, N. C., June 3, 1825.

Wythe, George, a Delegate from Virginia; born in Elizabeth City county, Va., in 1726; privately instructed and attended William and Mary college; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1757; member of the house of burgesses 1758-1775; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1775-1777; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; Speaker of the House of Delegates in 1777; judge of the chancery court of Virginia the same year, and was later chosen sole chancellor, and served for over twenty years; professor of law in William and Mary college 1779-1789; member of the Federal constitutional convention in 1786; moved to Richmond, Va., in 1789, was twice a presidential elector, and emancipated his slaves; died from the effects of poison in Richmond, Va., June 8, 1806.

Yancey, Bartlett, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Caswell county, N. C., February 19, 1785; attended school in Caswell and afterwards taught in the same school and pursued classical studies under a private tutor; was graduated from the University of North Carolina; studied law in Chapel Hill, N. C., with Judge A. D. Murphy and was admitted to the bar; elected to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); declined a renomination; member of the state senate and its presiding officer 1817-1827; declined the appointment of minister to Peru, tendered by President John Quincy Adams in 1826, and also declined an appointment to the supreme bench of North Carolina; died in Caswell county, N. C., August 30, 1828.

Yancey, Joel, a Representative from Kentucky; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1831).

Yancey, William Lowndes, a Representative from Alabama; born in Ogeechee Shoals, Ga., August 10, 1814; completed preparatory studies and attended Williams college, Mass.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Greenville, S. C.; moved in 1837 to Wetumpka, Ala., where he engaged in newspaper work; state representative 1841 and state senator 1842; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Dixon H. Lewis; reelected to the Twenty-ninth Congress, and served from December 2, 1844, to September 1, 1846, when he resigned; moved to Montgomery, Ala., and resumed the practice of law; delegate in the national Democratic convention in Baltimore in 1848, in Cincinnati in 1856, and Charleston in 1860; presidential elector on the Buchanan ticket in 1856; presidential elector in 1860; delegate in the state convention of Alabama in 1861; served in the Confederate congress; died on his plantation near Montgomery, Ala., July 28, 1863.

Yaple, George L., a Representative from Michigan; born in Leonidas, St. Joseph county, Mich., February 20, 1851; moved with his parents to Mendon, in the same county, in 1857; was graduated from the Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872; engaged in farming and the practice of law; defeated as the Greenback candidate for Congress in 1880; elected on a Union ticket to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); resumed the practice of law in Mendon, Mich.; elected circuit judge.

Yardley, Robert Morris, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Yardley, Bucks county, Pa., October 9, 1850; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Doylestown in 1872, and practiced; elected district attorney in 1879; delegate to the Republican national convention of 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891); died in Doylestown, Pa., December 8, 1902.

Yates, Abraham, a Delegate from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., August 23, 1724; completed preparatory studies; delegate in the Provincial Congress 1775–1777, and served as president 1775–1776; member of the committee of safety, protection, and correspondence 1775; state senator 1777, and 1779–1780; receiver of Albany 1778–1779; first postmaster of Albany in 1783; mayor of Albany 1790–1796; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1787–1788; died in Albany, N. Y., June 30, 1796.

Yates, John Barentse, a Representative from New York; born in Schenectady, N. Y., February 1, 1784; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from Union college in 1802; studied law; served in the War of 1812 under Gen. Wade Hampton on the northern frontier, and was later aide-de-camp to Governor Tompkins; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817); aided materially in the construction of the Welland canal; judge of Madison county for many years; representative in the state assembly in 1836; died in Chittenango, N. Y., July 11, 1836.

Yates, Peter W., a Delegate from New York; born in Albany, N. Y.; sat in the Continental Congress 1785–1787.

Yates, Richard, a Representative and a Senator from Illinois; born in Warsaw, Ky., January 18, 1818; went with his father to Springfield, Ill., in 1831; was graduated from Illinois college, Jacksonville, Ill., in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Springfield, Ill.; member of the state legislature 1842, 1843, 1844, 1845, 1848, and 1849; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1855); defeated for reelection; governor of Illinois 1861–1865; elected as a Union Republican to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1865, to March 3, 1871; died in St. Louis, Mo., November 27, 1873.

Yeaman, George Helm, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Hardin county, Ky., November 1, 1829; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Owensboro, Ky., in 1852; judge of Davis county in 1854; member of the state house of representatives in 1861; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-seventh Congress to fill vacancy caused by the death of James S. Jackson; reelected to the Thirty-eighth Congress and served from December 1, 1862, to March 3, 1865; defeated for the Thirty-ninth Congress; minister to Denmark 1865–1870; died in New York City February 24, 1908.

Yeates, Jesse J., a Representative from North Carolina; born in Hertford county, N. C., May 29, 1829; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; elected a member of the house of commons of North Carolina in 1860 as a Whig; served in the Confederate army; solicitor of the first judicial circuit of North Carolina 1861–1866; member of the state constitutional convention of 1871; elected to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); successfully contested the election of Joseph J. Martin to the Forty-sixth Congress, and was seated January 29, 1881, and served until March 3, 1881.

Yell, Archibald, a Representative from Arkansas; born in North Carolina in August, 1797; went to Tennessee in youth and settled in Bedford county; took part in the Creek campaign; participated in the War of 1812, and served under General Jackson at the battle of New Orleans; was admitted to the bar of Tennessee and began practice in Fayetteville, Lincoln county, and continued until 1832; declined the governorship of the Territory of Florida; appointed judge of the Territory of Arkansas by President Jackson in 1832; located in Fayetteville, Ark., and served as judge until 1835; elected as a Van Buren Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (December 5, 1836–March 3, 1839); governor of Arkansas 1840–1844; resigned in 1844; reelected to the Twenty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1845, until July 1, 1846, when he resigned to take part in the Mexican war; commanded a regiment of Arkansas troops; killed in the battle of Buena Vista February 23, 1847.

Yoakum, Charles H., a Representative from Texas; born in Lincoln county, Tex., in 1850; attended Larissa college, Cherokee county; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in 1874 in Lincoln county, Tex.; elected county attorney for Rains county in 1876; moved to Hunt county in 1883 and practiced law in Greenville; elected district attorney for the eighth judicial district in 1886 and 1888; elected to the state senate in 1892 for four years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1897); returned to Texas and resumed the practice of law; moved to Los Angeles, Cal., in 1900.

Yocum, Seth Hartman, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Columbia county, Pa., August 2, 1834; was graduated from Dickinson college, Carlisle, Pa., in 1860; entered the Union army as a private, and promoted to first lieutenant; studied law and was admitted to the Schuylkill county bar in 1866, and practiced in Center county; elected as a National and Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1881); moved to Johnson City, Tenn., and engaged in the manufacture of leather; died in Santa Monica, Cal., March 29, 1896.

Yoder, Samuel S., a Representative from Ohio; born in Berlin, Holmes county, Ohio, August 16, 1841; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; enlisted in the Union army, in the one hundred and twenty-eighth Ohio infantry, rose to the rank of lieutenant, and served till the end of the war; studied medicine and practiced; elected mayor of Bluffton, Ohio; moved to Lima, Ohio; member of state Democratic executive committee; elected judge of the probate court of Allen county, and served from February, 1882, till October, 1886, when he resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891); sergeant-at-arms of the of the national house of representatives during the Fifty-second Congress; located in Washington, D. C.

York, Tyre, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Rockford, Surry county, N. C., May 4, 1836; attended the common schools; studied medicine; student of the Charleston medical college of South Carolina; commenced practice in Traphill, N. C.; moved to Wilkes county in 1859; Union man, and served during the latter part of the war as surgeon of home guards, and at the close of the war in 1865 elected to the state legislature; served for eighteen years either in the house of representatives or state senate; elected as a Liberal Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); resumed the practice of medicine in Traphill, N. C.

Yorke, Thomas Jones, a Representative from New Jersey; native of New Jersey; attended the public schools; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1839); presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Twenty-sixth Congress, but was refused admission; elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843).

Yost, Jacob, a Representative from Virginia; born in Staunton, Va., April 1, 1853; received a primary schooling; learned the trade of a printer; followed civil engineering; candidate for Republican elector in 1880; Republican nominee for Congress in 1884; elected mayor of the city of Staunton in May, 1886; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1889); reelected to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1899).

Yost, Jacob Senewell, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pottsgrove township, Montgomery county, Pa., July 29, 1801; publisher and editor of the Lafayette Aurora; member of the state assembly 1836–1838; elected to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); appointed United States marshal for the eastern district of Pennsylvania 1857–1861; died in Pottstown, Pa., March 7, 1872.

Youmans, Henry Melville, a Representative from Michigan; born in Otego, Otsego county, N. Y., May 15, 1832; attended the common schools; in the employ of the York and Erie railroad company, Susquehanna division, for ten years; moved to East Saginaw, Mich., in 1862; engaged in the manufacture of lumber and salt; mayor of East Saginaw 1886–1887; held all the positions of honor under the municipal government of East Saginaw; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); served in the state senate 1897–1898.

Young, Augustus, a Representative from Vermont; born in Arlington, Vt., March 20, 1785; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Stowe, Vt.; removed to Craftsbury, Vt., in 1812; member of the state house of representatives for twelve sessions and of the state senate for three terms; state attorney for Orleans county and judge of probate; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); declined a reelection; resumed practice; moved to St. Albans in 1847; judge of the county court for several years; died in St. Albans, Vt., June 17, 1857.

Young, Bryan R., a Representative from Kentucky; a native of Kentucky; elected to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1847).

Young, Casey, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Madison county, Tenn.; a lawyer by profession; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1881); reelected to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883–March 3, 1885); died in 1898.

Young, Ebenezer, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Killingly, Conn., December 25, 1783; was graduated from Yale college in 1806; member of the state senate 1823–1825; member of the state house of representatives 1826–1828; chosen speaker; elected to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1829–March 3, 1835); died in West Killingly, Conn., August 18, 1851.

Young, H. Olin, a Representative from Michigan; born in New Albion, Cattaraugus county, N. Y., August 4, 1850; received an academic training; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Ishpeming, Mich.; member of the state legislature in 1879; prosecuting attorney of Marquette county, 1886–1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1911). Reelected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Young, James Rankin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 10, 1847; attended the public schools; enlisted in the Union army in June, 1863, in the thirty-second Pennsylvania infantry, and served during the Gettysburg campaign; served as chief of the Washington bureau of the New York Tribune from June, 1866, to December, 1870; chief executive clerk of the United States Senate from December, 1873, to March, 1879; chief clerk of the Department of Justice from September, 1882, to December, 1883; again chief executive clerk of the United States Senate from December, 1883, to April, 1892; one of the founders of the Philadelphia Evening Star in 1866; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1903).

Young, John, a Representative from New York; born in Chelsea, Vt., June 12, 1802; moved to New York state in 1806 and located in Conesus, Livingston county, where he attended the public schools, studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and began practice in Geneseo, N. Y.; member of the state house of representatives in 1833, 1844, and 1845; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth Congress to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Philo C. Fuller and served from December 6, 1836, to March 3, 1837; declined a reelection; reelected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); governor of New York 1847–1849; delegate in the Whig national convention of 1848; assistant treasurer of the United States at New York; died in New York City April 23, 1852.

Young, John D., a Representative from Kentucky; born in Bath county, Ky., September 22, 1823; received a limited schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Bath county; also engaged in farming; elected judge of Bath quarterly court in 1858; presented credentials as Member-elect, but was not permitted to qualify, and Samuel McKee, contestant, was seated June 22, 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871).

Young, John S., a Representative from Louisiana; born in Wake county, N. C., November 4, 1834; moved with his father to Fayette county, Tenn., in 1836, and to Columbia county, Ark., in 1848; was graduated from Centenary college Louisiana, in July, 1855; located in Homer, Claiborne parish, La., in September, 1855; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Homer; enlisted in the Confederate army as a private May 3, 1861, and was successively promoted until he attained the rank of lieutenant colonel; returned to Homer at the close of the war, and resumed the practice of law; district judge; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress, to fill vacancy caused by the death of John E. Leonard, and served from December 2, 1878, to March 3, 1879; resumed the practice of law in Homer, La.

Young, Lafayette, a Senator from Iowa; born near Albia, Iowa, May 10, 1848; became a printer and engaged in the newspaper business; founded and published the Atlantic, Iowa, Telegraph, which he published nineteen years; established the Des Moines Capital, March 30, 1890; a state senator for twelve years; was with General Shafter's expedition in Cuba as a war correspondent in 1898; delegate in the Republican national conventions of 1906 and 1908; elector at large 1908; appointed to the United States Senate to fill vacancy caused by the death of Jonathan P. Dolliver, and served from November 12, 1910, to April 11, 1911; unsuccessful candidate to the United States Senate, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Jonathan P. Dolliver; resumed editorial work in Des Moines, Iowa.

Young, Pierce Mason Butler, a Representative from Georgia; born in Spartanburg, S. C., November 15, 1839; studied law; student in the West Point military academy, and resigned two months before graduating to enter the Confederate army as second lieutenant; surrendered in 1865 as a major-general; returned to Georgia and elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1869); reelected to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); died in New York City, July 6, 1896.

Young, Richard, a Representative from New York; born in Ireland, August 6, 1846; came with his parents to Philadelphia, Pa., in 1851; attended the public schools and was graduated from a commercial college; went to New York City to engage in the leather trade; school commissioner 7 years; park commissioner for the boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens under Mayor Low; interested in numerous corporations and business enterprises; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909–March 3, 1911).

Young, Richard Montgomery, a Senator from Illinois; born in Fayette county, Ky., February 20, 1798; moved to Illinois and was one of the first settlers in Quincy; studied law, was admitted to the bar September 28, 1817; member of the state legislature 1820–1822; judge of the third judicial circuit of Illinois 1829–1836; a Presidential elector on the Jackson and Calhoun ticket in 1829; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1837, to March 3, 1843; associate justice supreme court of Illinois 1843–1847; commissioner of general land office 1847–1850; clerk of the House of Representatives in the Thirty-first Congress; died in Washington, D. C., November 28, 1861.

Young, Thomas Lowry, a Representative from Ohio; born in Killyleagh, county Down, Ireland, December 14, 1832; came to the United States in 1847; studied law, was graduated from the Cincinnati law school; was an instructor in the state reform school; served in the Mexican and Civil wars; private, corporal, sergeant, and first sergeant company A, third artillery, March 25, 1848–January 28, 1858; captain of Benton cadets, Missouri volunteers, September 6, 1861; resigned December 10, 1861; recommissioned major of the one hundred and eighteenth Ohio infantry September 17, 1862; lieutenant-colonel April 17, 1863; colonel April 11, 1864; brevet brigadier-general of volunteers March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious services in the battle of Resaca, Ga.;" resigned September 14, 1864; admitted to the bar in 1865; appointed assistant city auditor of Cincinnati; member of the state house of representatives for two years; elected recorder of Hamilton county in 1867; appointed supervisor of internal revenue in 1868; delegate in the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1868; state senator in 1871; lieutenant-governor in 1875; governor of Ohio in 1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879–March 3, 1883); died in Cincinnati, Ohio, July 20, 1888.

Young, Timothy Roberts, a Representative from Illinois; born in Dover, N. H., November 19, 1811; completed preparatory studies in Phillips academy, Exeter, N. H., and was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1835; studied law in Dover, N. H., and was admitted to the bar; moved to Marshall, Ill., in the spring of 1838 and practiced law for ten years; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1851); engaged in agricultural pursuits near Casey, Ill.; was also engaged in trade in Mattoon, Ill., for a time; died at Oilfield, near Casey, Ill., May 12, 1898.

Young, William A., a Representative from Virginia; born in Virginia, May 17, 1860; attended the schools of Norfolk, and began the study of law; entered mercantile pursuits; clerk of the circuit and corporation courts of the city of Norfolk; delegate in the national Democratic convention in Chicago in 1892; presented credentials as Member-elect to the Fifty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1897, to April 26, 1898, when he was succeeded by Richard A. Wise, who contested his election; again presented credentials as a Member-elect to the Fifty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1899, to March 12, 1900, when he was again succeeded by Richard A. Wise, who contested his election.

Young, William S., a Representative from Kentucky; a native of Nelson county, Ky.; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825–March 3, 1827).

Yulee, David Levy. (See David Levy.)

Zenor, William Taylor, a Representative from Indiana; born near Corydon, Harrison county, Ind., April 30, 1846; attended the common schools and the seminary of James G. May; commenced the study of law in New Albany; was admitted to the bar, and engaged in practice in 1870 in Corydon; moved to Leavenworth, Crawford county, Ind., in 1871; appointed prosecuting attorney and twice elected to the office; judge of the third circuit in 1884, and reelected; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1897–March 3, 1907).

Ziegler, Edward Danner, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Bedford, Bedford county, Pa., March 3, 1844; attended the Pennsylvania college, Gettysburg, and was graduated in 1865; after teaching in the York county academy, was admitted to the York county bar November 4, 1868; elected commissioner's clerk in 1871; district attorney of York county, and served three years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law in York, Pa.

Zollicoffer, Felix Kirk, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Maury county, Tenn., May 19, 1812; received a limited schooling; became a printer; engaged in newspaper work in Paris and Knoxville, Tenn., and Huntsville, Ala.; elected state printer in Tennessee in 1835; comptroller of the state treasury 1845–1849; state senator in 1849–1852; elected as a State Rights Whig to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1859); delegate to the peace convention of 1861; served in the Confederate army; died from wounds received near Mill Springs, Ky., January 19, 1862.

Zubly, John Joachim, a Delegate from Georgia; born in St. Gall, Switzerland, August 27, 1724; emigrated to Georgia; ordained a pastor of the first Presbyterian church in Savannah in 1760; prominent revolutionist; member of the provincial congress of Georgia; Delegate in the Continental Congress 1775–1777, and opposed the Declaration of Independence; denounced as a traitor by Judge Samuel Chase, and resigned; returned to Georgia and was accused of having furnished information to Sir James Wright, the royal governor, and narrowly escaped severe punishment; was banished from the state and one-half of his property was confiscated; returned and resumed pastoral charge in Savannah; died in Savannah, Ga., July 23, 1781.

71.2009.084.07341

