MORE ATTRACTIVE CITY URGED BY EXCHANGE CLUB

Additional Beauty Spots In Glendale Objective of Civic Organization

Matters of civic interest were the principal topics of discussion yesterday noon in the Broadway Inn, 637 East Broadway, by the members of the Glendale Exchange club.

"We are not going to lose the name 'Progressive' because we are now members of the Exchange club," asserted Dr. Henry R. Harrower.

"Of course, you know that Glendale is growing very rapidly," stated Captain W. B. Kelly of 106 West Colorado street, who presided, "but we have got to keep the city beautiful at the same time. If there is one thing the city council is falling down on it is the matter of civic beautification. We can grow to a city of 100,000 and, if the city isn't kept beautiful, we will have nothing to brag about. Let us make this a beautiful city. We can do it."

Unattractive Spots

Dr. Harrower called attention to several eyesores along East Broadway and stated that there are a number of unattractive spots in the community which should be changed.

Upon motion of George H. Whitaker of 400 East Broadway a committee was appointed to make a list of these and call them to the attention of the various civic organizations and the city council.

Attention was directed to the condition of the Glendale boulevard within the city limits of Los Angeles by James Clark May of 617 South Pacific avenue. He said that it was impossible to mow faster than four or five miles an hour over the stretch of road south of Edendale. He moved that a letter be written to the Los Angeles City Council in regard to the condition of this street. It was facetiously suggested that members of this organization should be invited out to lunch and taken home over this route.

Guards On Duty

TOPEKA, Kansas, July 20.—National Guard troops from Wichita and Kingman, numbering 250 were sent to Hoisington today to do guard duty at the Missouri Pacific shops, where trouble has occurred.

Troops Dispatched

RALEIGH, N. C., July 20.—A company of infantry of the North Carolina National Guard was dispatched today to Rocky Mount, where striking railway employes are said to have been interfering with fruit movements. Three squads of automatic riflemen were sent to Aberdeen, a small station, where shipments are said to have been interrupted.

Close Rail Station

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 20.—Following the arrest today of seven men, some of whom are said to be striking railway employes, the union passenger station here was closed and a squad of thirty city policemen placed at entrances. No one is permitted to pass in or out until a ticket has been shown or a pass showing that he is an employe of the railroad or station company. Closing of the station, officers said, was a direct result of attacks on mail trains.

Six Persons Killed

BRIDGEBURG, Ont., July 20.—Six persons were killed and two seriously injured when a train struck their automobile at a crossing in Stevensville, about eight miles from here early this afternoon. The dead all are residents of Colorado, visiting relatives in Stevensville. The dead: Daniel Fretz, 50; his wife, two sons and a daughter; and Robert Baker, 10-year-old son of Joseph Baker, whom the Fretz family were visiting. The injured: Mrs. Baker and her daughter. Both are so badly hurt they may die.

VERDUGO DISTRICT BOY SCOUTS GO INTO CAMP

Nearly 100 Lads Leave for Their Ten-Day Outing on Catalina Island

Shouting farewells and yelling in general good spirits, nearly 100 Boy Scouts with their leaders left this morning on a two-car special Pacific Electric train for the ten-day Scout camp at Howland's Landing, Catalina Island. And as the big red cars pulled out of the local station, many little boys who had gathered to see them off felt a heartache that they, too, were not going.

The Scouts, who come from all over the Verdugo Hills District, started to gather at the Pacific Electric station in Glendale soon after 7 a. m. By 7:30 the whole bunch was there, most of them with parents who were to see them off.

With the leaders, they were formed in military ranks by Scout Executive H. F. Benner, and Ed Elliot, local photographer, snapped them. Then Mr. Benner gave the final instructions, and as the special train pulled in, they marched in single file to the cars.

They Tell th' World

Soon after leaving Glendale the boys of each of the three troops into which they had been divided selected yell leaders, and all the way to Wilmington they told the world about the Scouts, the camp, Catalina, and things in general.

Arriving at Wilmington they embarked on the "Avalon," the "million dollar steamship," to cross the channel to Avalon. From that port they took a chartered yacht and after a 23-mile trip up the coast of Catalina Island, they arrived at Howland's Landing, the camp site.

The site had already been prepared, and a big meal was awaiting the boys upon their arrival. After eating, the boys were to be divided into three respective troops: Daniel Boone Troop, Kit Carson Troop and General Curtis Troop. These troops were divided into patrols of eight boys each, and were assigned a large army tent with an adult leader in charge.

Plan Many Features

A large number of features for the entertainment and education of the boys have been planned. (Continued on Page 10)

WIDOW, TWO GIRLS CHOSEN QUEEN OF BUILDING PERMITS ARE VICTIMS OF DARING BANDITS MAY REGULARLY ON BIRTHDAY FOR JULY NOW AT $194,640

Two Men Enter Home on W. Lexington, Cover Trio With Revolvers

Ten dollars in cash, a three-carat ring, a pistol and other valuables were in the loot taken from the home of Mrs. Gilbert D. Allevett, 331 West Lexington drive, by two of the most daring bandits ever reported to the Glendale police department.

While two of her older daughters were downtown, the two men entered her home shortly after 10 o'clock and walked upstairs to Mrs. Allevett's room where herself and two younger daughters were sleeping. They covered the trio with revolvers and forced them to tell where the diamond ring was hidden.

Woman Is Warned

The bandits then ransacked the rooms and found the pistol and cash and other articles of jewelry. Completing their felonious task, they warned Mrs. Allevett not to report the robbery to the police. Their wishes were complied with, in that the widow did not call the police, but her daughters did on their return home. Chief of Police John D. Fraser is personally directing a searching investigation, for it is believed that the robbers were acquainted with the Allevett home in singling it out among many in the exclusive northwest section of the city.

Move to Indiana

"Grandma" was born May 1, 1839, in Troy, Ohio, and when she was 2 years old her family moved in big wagons to Indiana, where the father took up land, which he later laid out into the townsite of Thornouton.

The father, Cornelius Westfall, was the son of Jacob Westfall, an officer in the Revolutionary war and in command of a stockade fort where the town of Beverly, West Virginia now stands, and it was in this fort that Cornelius was born.

Silverware Stolen From Eagle Rock Residence

Sterling silverware and other articles valued at more than $200 were stolen last night from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Tulett of 239 North Ellis avenue, Eagle Rock, while they were attending a show in Glendale.

That the burglary is the work of professionals who were acquainted with the plans of the Tulett is the belief of investigators. Evidently nothing had been left unturned to locate a jewel safe or hidden money.

Entrance was gained by forcing a screen on one of the rear bedrooms. The house is situated in a newly-developed tract that is sparsely settled, and the thieves had every opportunity to work unmolested.

The Tulett's have been living in Eagle Rock only a few weeks, having moved from Glendale, and they were not certain just what police district they were in as the house is situated very close to the dividing line of the two cities. This caused considerable delay before the Eagle Rock officers were notified.

All of Mrs. Tulett's silver was a prized wedding present. It was marked with the monogram and the sheriff's office has been notified so that every effort may be made to apprehend the thieves.

Lights on Boulevard Approved by Council

Installation of ornamental lights on San Fernando boulevard last night was officially approved by the city council.

"The improvement is required by the public interest and convenience," asserts the resolution which was adopted. "The council of the city of Glendale, state of California hereby orders that ornamental concrete posts be erected at intervals of approximately 75 feet on each side of San Fernando road between Los Feliz road and the westerly line of Pacific avenue with sufficient additional posts to provide two posts at each intersecting street and one post at each terminus of the street."

As the result of the council's action last night, L. H. Wilson, real estate dealer at 1034 South San Fernando road, announced this morning that he had taken out a permit for the erection of a $6,000 store building at 1012-14-16 San Fernando road. Ground was broken on the new structure immediately.

This building is but a unit of the business center which will be located on that thoroughfare in the neighborhood of Park avenue within the near future, according to Mr. Wilson.

Curley Stecker Hurt In Fight With Lion

Friends of Curly Stecker, Universal City animal trainer who is a member of the Glendale Elks lodge, will be sorry to learn the lion "Ethel" chewed him up considerably yesterday while he fought for his life.

The key to the cage was lost and a 75 lbs. three toothed buggie whip to fight off the lioness. After ten minutes' battle he hit the lady killer on the nose and she was subdued.

Locks Fail to Stop Theft of Automobile

The presence of a theft lock and the fact that its doors were locked did not prevent the theft of Attorney H. C. Levey's Dodge sedan last night from South Brand boulevard between Harvard and Colorado streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Levey were obliged to return to their home at 811 South Glendale avenue in wonderment as to why an automobile thief should have selected their particular car for theft. A trip which they had planned to San Diego was postponed until the car is returned.

Caroline Cunningham Breaks Right Arm

Caroline Cunningham, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham, who lives at Florence place, is suffering with a broken right arm, lacerated chin and bruises, received Monday noon when she fell out of an automobile near Long Beach, where she was going to visit relatives.

Mrs. Cunningham was driving the car and Caroline was seated in the front seat and the baby was seated between her and her mother. The accident happened when they were turning a corner and Caroline leaned against the door and the lock snapped open. She fell out onto the ground and was injured in this way.

Fortunately Mrs. Cunningham was not driving fast and was able to stop the car in a distance of its own length. Had she been traveling at a faster rate of speed the little girl might have been more seriously injured or perhaps killed.

Immediately after the accident Caroline was taken to the hospital, where it was found that her right arm was broken and that two stitches were necessary to close the laceration on her chin. Her hip was also badly bruised in the fall.

The doctor reports that the little girl is recovering as rapidly as can be expected in view of her injuries and the severe nervous shock.

RAIL STRIKE TO BE OVER IN TWO WEEKS, IS REPORT

CHICAGO, July 20.—Though both the striking shovemen and the carriers ostensibly started to "dig in" for a prolonged fight to a finish today following the statement by Chairman Ben W. Hooper, of the United States railway labor board, that he could do nothing more to bring about a settlement, the belief was prevalent at strike headquarters that the strike would be over within two weeks. Detailed reports were not presented by union officials who took an optimistic view of the situation, but they pointed out that with the confessed inability of the labor board to bring about a settlement, the next move was up to President Harding. It is the contention that the president would move very soon. A continuance of the strike, they further pointed out, meant the increasing curtailment of trains with consequent inability to ship millions of dollars' worth of perishable foodstuffs and the added impossibility of shipping out coal essential for the life of the country, should such coal be mined in response to the president's urgent call to the operators.

MRS. CLARA PHILLIPS' TRIAL DATE SEPTEMBER 18

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—Mrs. Clara A. Phillips, charged with the "hammer murder" of Alberta Meadows will come to trial September 18 for the atrocious crime. That was the trial date set today by Superior Judge Houser, after Mrs. Phillips had entered a plea of not guilty to the grand jury indictment formally charging her with the murder of Mrs. Meadows. The only outstanding feature of today's proceedings was that Mrs. Phillips' cool, calm and self-contained attitude which she has maintained since her detention was changed to hate when she looked at District Attorney Woolwine. Her look of hate was not alone directed at Woolwine for in the seething mob, which crowded into the small court room to get a glimpse of the accused woman, Mrs. Phillips singled out and looked daggers at the sales girl of a five and ten cent store who is said to have sold her the hammer, with which she is alleged to have slain pretty Mrs. Meadows. The girl had been hidden in the court room so that she might see the defendant and identify her, if possible.

CONSOLIDATION OF THREE CITIES IS NOW ADVANCED

Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank United, Plan Up for Discussion

"I believe that now is the time to bring about the consolidation of Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank as one unit with common purposes and common efforts," said Charles B. Guthrie yesterday noon at the meeting of the Glendale Realty Board.

"Eagle Rock is now in a receptive mood," he continued, "and though Burbank may not be just at the present time, they will be soon, when they see outside interests working against these three cities."

Mr. Guthrie spoke of the common problems of the three cities, and the need for concerted action toward their solution. Recalling the recent acts of the realty board in securing abatement of public evils, and its consequently greater influence, he stated that in his belief the board should further the movement toward consolidation of the three cities.

Propose Meeting

A motion was carried for the formation of a committee to invite the realty boards of Eagle Rock and Burbank to meet with the Glendale board at a joint luncheon, when common problems of all three should be discussed and a more complete understanding arrived at. A. M. Yale was made chairman of the committee, to be chosen by himself, to extend the invitations and to confer with the other two boards as to the best time for the joint meeting.

Mr. Yale is to report at the meeting next week as to the tentative date selected, and the local board will take action upon it at that time.

The commission fixed by the realty board on rentals was mentioned, and changes in it, or in the policy of its enforcement were discussed, but no definite action was taken.

Discusses Several Matters

The Riverside drive proposition was also brought up, along with proposed sites for the railroad station in West Glendale. The motives of Los Angeles city in selecting Park avenue in Glendale as the street to be connected with the new drive, which is to be built on the west side of the river, were mentioned, and the effort (Continued on Page 2)

New Hotel Plans to Be Offered Tonight

Plans for the new hotel will be presented to local bondholders and those interested in the project tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room and the final details of the financial plan will be presented for endorsement.

The estimated cost of the six-story class A hotel building and its complete furnishings is $491,000. H. J. Tremaine, who will lease and manage the establishment, is putting up $78,000. The Ambrosini Hotel company is putting up the site which is valued at $66,000 and has paid off liens upon it to the sum of $20,000. Local bondholders are putting up $75,000. The balance is to be raised by the first mortgage.

About $11,000 remains yet to be raised in the local financial campaign. A percentage of this has been promised but not definitely pledged. The local committee is anxious to raise this sum as soon as possible in order that the contracts may go into escrow Monday at 1 o'clock.

"If the good people of Glendale will co-operate with us, we can easily put this over by Monday," declared C. W. Ingledue, chairman of the hotel committee. "But it just seems in the last few days that we have run against a stone wall."

Actual construction work is to start a week from Monday or July 31, according to a statement by Mr. Tremaine. This will be in charge of the Universal Construction & Building Corporation of Los Angeles.

Forty per cent of the amount of the local pledges are now due. This sum is needed for the commencement of building operations. Herman Nelson, manager of the Glendale Avenue Branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank, has been appointed to receive these first payments.

Meanwhile, an underwriting company is being formed by the hotel committee to underwrite the unpaid balance of the bond subscriptions.

The plans, so far, have met the approval of a majority of those who have examined them. They specify ten two-room apartments with kitchenette and eight single rooms on each room floor or a total of fifty apartments and forty hotel rooms altogether. The main dining-room and ball-room on the first floor each have a capacity of about 225 persons. The enclosed roof garden, which will occupy one-half of the top floor, will have a capacity of about a thousand people and will be 50 by 83 feet in size. Its floor space will be over twice that of the Chamber of Commerce assembly room where tonight's meeting is to be held.

CONSOLIDATION OF THREE CITIES IS NOW ADVANCED

Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank United, Plan Up for Discussion

fect upon Glendale and Burbank of the new drive was debated.
Another point which was brought up was the growing importance in civic affairs of the Glendale Realty Board.
"The board has arrived at a point where it should be recognized along with the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce as an active factor in securing for Glendale the things which she needs," said Mr. Guthrie. "I'm tired of hearing people speak of 'business men and real estate people.' If it weren't for the real estate people, these merchants wouldn't have the business they do, because the city wouldn't have its present population."
Dr. Jessie A. Russell told of the meeting Tuesday night of the Federation of Improvement Associations of Glendale and stated that that organization felt that the decisions of the realty board carried considerable weight in the community.
E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce told the board that the chamber looks upon the realty board as a valuable factor in solving the problems of Glendale. He stated that the board is relied upon as being a representative gathering of the cream of the real estate profession or business in Glendale, and that its actions on various matters are watched with interest by the Chamber of Commerce.

East Side Asks Carrier Service For Two Streets

Mail service for Townsend and Virginia avenues in eastern Eagle Rock is being sought by the residents of those streets who feel that the increasing population merits city carriers instead of rural.
Petitions are being signed at the H. E. Barnum real estate office, corner of Townsend avenue and Colorado boulevard to present to the Los Angeles postoffice in order to get a survey and recommendation.
moon trip through the Yosemite, the board of his outing.
"I have lived in Alaska for twenty years," he stated, "and have traveled over it north, south, east and west, and I have been in all the national parks, but I have never seen anything so wonderful as the scenery of the Yosemite."
He told of many amusing incidents which occurred while he and Mrs. Kroehle were driving in the park.
They passed one fellow seated beside his Ford which was parked at the side of the road on a steep grade.
"No," he answered, cheerfully enough when asked if he was in trouble. "I just tore the whole rear end out of Lizzie and have sent down to the grocery for some new parts."
At another place on a heavy grade they stopped where a man and his wife had evidently been camping for several days and asked if they were having any trouble. The man was so grouchy, Mr. Kroehle, that he wouldn't speak at all. The woman told the sad tale.
"Oh," she lamented, "I stripped the gears and sat down in poison oak and have been sick for five days and my trip is ruined."
Wanted To See Mamma
At still another place, Mr. Kroehle related, a couple who had been married only three days were stalled in a Ford, and were quite evidently not on speaking terms with each other. As Mr. and Mrs. Kroehle passed the heard the bride demand in no uncertain tones that her young hubby take her back to mother.
After Mr. Kroehle's talk, A. M. Yale told in mournful voice of his trip to the beach. Shortly after his arrival there, he said, the doctor put a diphtheria quarantine card on his house and he was confined to the house and back yard until three days before his return to Glendale. To amuse himself, he said, he made a kite and flew it from his back yard, but didn't get to go in bathing during his quarantine.
Appropos of Mr. Yale's statements, President Cameron D. Thom sagely remarked that it isn't the bathing that is interesting, but what one sees going in bathing. For which reason, he stated, he intends to get a pair of very dark glasses.
To which Mrs. M. L. Tight replied, "I think quarantine would be safer for you."

COUPLE EN ROUTE TO CHINA VISIT EAGLE ROCK

Mrs. Dudley and Daughter Will Join Professor at Home in Peking

By GEORGE VAN SANDS
Mrs. Charles Tinkham, and her sister, Caroline Tinkham, of 159 Harvard drive, Eagle Rock, have as their guests their sister, Mrs. E. C. Dudley and daughter, Miss Katherine Dudley, of the North Shore district of Chicago.
Mrs. Dudley and daughter left Chicago last week on a trip that will reach half way around the globe, their destination being Peking, China, where they will join Dr. E. C. Dudley who is one of the leading professors in the Union Medical College of Peking. This college is affiliated and under the control of the famous Rockefeller Foundation.
Dr. Dudley, who held a professorship in Northwestern university in Chicago for 30 years, went to India more than 18 months ago, and from there he was called to the Yale Medical college at Changsha, China. Some months later word reached the ears of John D. Rockefeller of the wonderful reputation of Dr. Dudley was making for himself in China at the Yale institution, and the doctor was prevailed upon to connect himself with what is considered the biggest institution of medical learning in the Orient.
Where Is Western Union
Mrs. Dudley came over the Santa Fe from Chicago, and reports that at Albuquerque she wished to send a telegram to her sister Mrs. Tinkham in Eagle Rock, and was much surprised to learn from the telegraph agent that Eagle Rock has no telegraph connection. She is delighted with Eagle Rock, and the beauty of its hills especially appeals to her.
When told that the News was the first daily paper in Eagle Rock, and that it was not yet three weeks old, she was amazed that a city of this size had not had a daily paper long ago.
She reports that the weather this summer in Chicago has been far above the average, and that the only difference in the weather in Chicago and Eagle Rock as far as she has noticed is that the nights have been more pleasant here.
Honored at Luncheon
Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Tinkham and her sister gave a luncheon for Mrs. Dudley and her daughter with the following guests: Mrs. Alice Winters, Mrs. William Genn, Mrs. Laura Eddy, Mrs. James Cormack and Miss Ida Heylinger.
Mrs. Dudley and daughter are leaving tonight at five o'clock on the next lap of their journey to San Francisco, where Saturday morning they will board the

JOHNNIE SCOTT IS NURSEMAID TO ABANDONED KID

13-Year-Old Eagle Rock Boy Learns How Baby's Bottle Is Filled

Johnnie Scott, 13 year old son of Mrs. Minnie C. Scott of 108 East Stanley avenue, Eagle Rock, has turned nursemaid. He is rapidly learning the art of filling a nursing bottle.
Yesterday morning a little brown kid strolled into the yard at the Scott residence and acted as though he belonged there, gambolling around to each door and bleating to be let in. Johnnie and his mother took the animal in and bandaged a sprained knee, and cast about for a means of feeding the hungry mouth.
He would eat nothing, and they were at a loss what to do with him until a neighbor gave Johnnie a large goat of the same variety, which he thought would nurse the youngster. But the older animal balked, refusing to go near the kid.
Finally they hit upon the scheme of feeding the bleating little kid on milk from a nipple nursing bottle. The animal took to the bottle as though he had been using one all his life. Perhaps he had.
Anyway, the older goat is said to be eating all the tin cans paper bags, shoes and other loose articles around the house, while the youngster isn't happy until he is let into the house where he flops down in everyone's way.
If the owner of the kid will call the Smith residence, Johnnie's mother will be very glad to pass the buck, so's to speak.

ANOTHER PREVIEW OFFERED TONIGHT AT GLENDALE

Larry Semon's 'Saw Mill' Thriller Bill's Addition; Lloyd Last Night

Surely the Glendale theatre is giving its patronage this week the full value of their money—and then some. Last night in addition to the regular program Harold Lloyd previewed "Dr. Jack," which, of course, is better than anything he has done before.
As a practical doc, rescuing dolls, making the halt hop, etc., Harold hits the funnybone of the most sedate and keeps the children up late to see his antics.
Today, in addition to "Turn to the Right," the great stage play now in film, and Larry Semon's "Saw Mill" thriller, there will be a feature preview at the end of the first show. It is "The Snow Shoe Trail," featuring Jane Novak and Roy Stewart.
Story of Country Youth
"Turn to the Right" is the story of a country youth who unjustly serves a prison sentence. While there he becomes acquainted with two crooks. When freed he determines to go back home and arrives to find that the village skinflint is about to foreclose the mortgage. With the aid of his two crook pals a way is found to beat out the miser, while the influence of the trusting, religious mother serves to turn the two crooks to the right and head them on a new road of love and happiness.
Alice Terry, the heroine in "The Four Horsemen," again demonstrates her dramatic power as the winsome sweetheart of the boy for whom she had waited so long. Jack Mulhall played the boy with sympathy and understanding. Rex Ingram directed the feature, which is enough said. Some program!

RED HOT HAIRPIN GIVES LITTLE BOY SHOCK OF LIFE

L. B. Wilson, Jr., Investigates Electric Plug in Floor of Daddy's Home

Trying to find out what was inside of an electric floor plug, almost had a disastrous ending for little L. B. Wilson, Jr., 15-month-old son of L. B. Wilson, the feisty man, who resides at 122 North Douglas avenue, Eagle Rock.
For the last few days, this plug, located close to the floor in the parlor of the Wilson home, seems to have had an especial attraction for Junior. His toys lost all interest, and there was just something about that plug that simply had to be looked into.
The little metal flap that covered it was the one thing that defied his curiosity. Try as he would he could not get it open, and for this reason his parents felt reasonably safe in leaving him alone in the room.
Solves Mystery
Last night the mystery was solved and today Junior knows all about what is inside. If it had not been for his daddy being close by, it might have turned out seriously. Seems that somehow or other he had found a hairpin, and with this wonderful article of a thousand uses, Junior proceeded to use it for a key to open the plug.
Sure enough, the hairpin was the very thing. When he screamed "Burn, Daddy, burn," his father rushed over and removed his little son from the receiving end of a hairpin that had become red hot through contact with the live wires inside.
His father, who admits to the fact that a million dollars would not buy Junior, was in the News office today. He says the plug holds no further attraction for the little fellow and that if he is even sitting down anywhere near it, he immediately has business elsewhere.

Mrs. W. D. Roth Has Twin Sisters As Guest

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Roth of 208 South Acacia Avenue, Eagle Rock, have been entertaining Mrs. Roth's twin sister, Mrs. C. S. Marshall of Phoenix, Ariz.

Marshall left Monday on a trip that will include San Francisco and Portland and will be away about three months and will visit the Roth's again on the return trip south. While Mrs. Marshall is the twin sister of Mrs. Roth, there is not the slightest resemblance, according to Mr. Roth, who says he has no trouble whatever in distinguishing them, one being a blonde and the other a brunette.

Boy's Disappearance Is Not Yet Solved

YOSEMITE, Cal., July 20.—The strange circumstances surrounding the disappearance of 12-year-old Fred Brown, son of Warner Brown of Berkeley, remained unsolved today. Thirty-six hours of intensive investigation by park rangers failed to bring to light a single clue to the missing boy.

The rangers ascertained that the boy left his parents' camp in a fit of anger of proposed delay in continuing their vacation trip. It is believed possible he attempted to continue the trip on foot and will be picked up by valley town officials. The youth was dressed in a light blue shirt, brown overalls, rubber-soled brown canvas shoes and wore glasses.

OPERATING AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

To China, to Africa, to Australia-- to All Parts of the World, These Checks Go

—BRINGING HAPPINESS and the realization that a carefully studied investment in OIL, with men who promise nothing that they cannot fulfill, is worth days of laborious toil. Think what the success of our Huntington Beach operations means to not only our Long Beach deed holders, but to those in distant lands who had faith and vision!
—If they could predict that money placed in Huntington Beach could net them a handsome return, certainly those living within a short distance of this unparalleled opportunity could have investigated this proposition without half the effort, and with a much greater knowledge of where their money was invested and with whom.
—Here again is proven the profitability of linking up with a reputable group of men who not only desire to make money for themselves in OIL, but to keep faith with those who go in with them.
Who knows what these dividend checks may mean to the fortunate recipients? Success, an ambition realized, education, a home, possibly wealth and luxury!
—And all the success attained is not LUCK! Indeed no—but is the result of a carefully planned, a carefully investigated step in getting in on the profitable side of OIL DEVELOPMENT—owning a definite piece of land and receiving the royalties due from that land. Not hit nor miss—but WISDOM and FORE-SIGHT!

CITY LABORATORY WILL SOON BE IN OPERATION

Miss Adriane Jongeneel of 345 North Cedar Street Chosen Technician

Glendale is to have its own municipal bacteriological laboratory.

Miss Adriane Jongeneel of 345 North Cedar street has been employed by the city administration as laboratory technician and has ordered the necessary equipment.

The laboratory will be in operation in a few days; if it is necessary to send east for it, at least three weeks will elapse.

Miss Jongeneel is a graduate of the University of California. Before leaving her home in Berkeley for Southern California she had over a year's work in the municipal laboratory at Oakland.

Show First Washing Machines Invented

Two of the first washing machines ever invented are now on display at 310 East Broadway in the window of the F. A. Clarke company.

One of them is a simple contrivance of a large sheet metal funnel attached to a broomstick handle. This was made in 1877 and is said to have been the first washing machine.

The next development shows this contrivance attached to a movable framework over the wash tub and operated by a handle which extended over the side of the tub. By moving this handle up and down the same result was obtained.

Model K Easy Vacuum Washer is the latest model put out by this company. This is a machine with a copper receptacle for clothes which has its own gas heater and all metal wringer.

Although this $3,000,000 plant has a capacity of 1000 washing machines a day, this has been found insufficient and a $3,000,000 addition is in progress which will double the company's output.

The difficulty of obtaining sufficient machines to meet the demand was commented upon by Clyde W. Hamman, manager of the local store for the F. A. Clarke company. He asserted with a laugh that the railroad strike had nothing to do with the situation.

Open Campaign to Reduce Wood Waste

WASHINGTON—A vigorous campaign to reduce wood waste in the United States has been launched by the department of agriculture.

"Only 30 per cent of the wood in a forest now gets into the form of seasoned, unplanned lumber," the department said, in announcing it would wage war upon the tremendous waste of lumber. "Of this an additional 10 to 25 per cent is lost in the process of manufacture. In extreme cases as little as 3 per cent of the wood in the forest may reach the finished product."

One of the oddest cargoes on record was probably that carried lately by a British steamer bound for Morocco. It consisted of 2,000,000 gallons of purified drinking water for the use of the Spanish troops fighting the rebels in Morocco.

RADIO EXPLAINED

BY E. H. LEWIS INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK, Y.M.C.A. RADIO SCHOOL

TUNED RADIO FREQUENCY AMPLIFICATION

As may be seen by referring to the accompanying circuit diagram, there is a shunt circuit, containing principally capacity and inductance, connected into the plate circuit of the tube. If the reactance were infinite no plate current variations would take place, and the current value would be determined only by the plate battery voltage and the resistance of the plate circuit as a whole. As it is, however, the reactance is high enough to cause voltage variations across the shunt tuned circuit which are several times greater than those applied to the shunt circuit can be tuned to resonance with the received oscillations by varying the capacity of the condenser, providing that the coil is neither too large nor too small. The amplified voltage variations appearing at the terminals of the shunt circuit are then applied to the grid circuit of a detector tube, as shown, or they may be applied to a second radio frequency amplifier. Several stages of amplification might be secured by connecting a number of amplifiers in cascade. The advantages of sharp tuning in the parallel resonant or shunt tuned circuit are the reduction of interference from stations transmitting on slightly different wave lengths and the decrease in the number of stages required for securing a given amount of voltage amplification. The disadvantage, however, is that skilled adjustment is necessary, and changing from one wave length to another cannot usually be accomplished quickly. Experience will overcome the disadvantages to a large extent, but if broader tuning of the coupling is required the coil may have higher resistance. One great advantage of this circuit over another, which will be described later, is the fact that large plate batteries are not necessary. Another is that the short circuiting effect of the internal tube capacity is very greatly diminished when operation is had on the short waves.

County Bar Upholds Talking by Women

NORRISTOWN, Pa.—Free speech for women has been saved by the gallant young lawyers of the Montgomery County Bar association. At a meeting of the association some of the older members offered a resolution condemning the talking of the girl clerks in the office of the recorder of deeds.

"It's impossible for lawyers to do any work, with the babble of dizzy dames all around," declared the venerable objectors.

"Give him the air," chirped the younger members of the bar, and the resolution was voted down, 9 to 8.

"Two to Duluth," piped the woman at the ticket window. "The middle-oo! Tootle-oo!" piped back the amiable but somewhat mistaken clerk, with a flirtatious wave of his hand.

Body of Child Is Carried About France

LIMOGES, France—For three years Ragot Josephine, arrested here, is accused of having carried about with her wherever she went a wooden box containing the body of a murdered child. During the time she kept the child in the box, hermetically sealed, her crime was never detected. A few weeks after she buried it in the garden, however, suspicion was aroused, and the box disinterred.

Attempt to Destroy Bridge Over Railroad

MONONGAHELA, Pa., July 20.—Three Pennsylvania railroad detectives and a constable patrolling the Ellsworth branch of that road, following an attempt to blow up the railroad bridge at Redd's Mills, were shot from ambush early today and at least one of the wounded officers probably will die. The men were on a gasoline speeder between Cokesburg and this place when several men hidden in bushes near the Bentleyville-Ellsworth village line opened fire.

State police and other railroad detectives are searching for the assailants.

Hard Battle Raging Between Irish Forces

DUBLIN, July 20.—Battles were raging today at Limerick and Waterford between free state troops and republican irregulars. Irregulars raised the draw bridge leading to Waterford, hampering the movement of the free states. Regulars then took up a position on the crest of Mount Misery and opened up a terrific fire with light artillery, machine guns and rifles. Free state forces are reported to have captured the King John castle at Limerick, in a stormy assault.

The Roman catacombs are 180 miles in extent, and it is estimated that something like 15,000,000 dead are interred there.

JAMES O. CURWOOD STORY SHOWN ON SCREEN HERE

It's Just Simply Wonderful! Opinion of Audiences at T. D. & L. Theatre

Opinion of the audiences attending "I Am the Law," which has been shown at the T. D. & L. theatre the past two days, are, in a few words, best described as follows: "It's just simply wonderful."

Manager Ralph Allan of the theatre has had hundreds tell him this after viewing the picture, he reports. The cast, consisting of Kenneth Harlan, Alice Lake, the Benny Brothers (Noah and Wallace), Gaston Glass, and others, is remarkable, and give very realistic and human impersonations to the many important characters in this virile tale of the snow country by James Oliver Curwood.

Today and tonight will be the last times this picture will be shown at the T. D. & L. it is announced.

SIMPLE COUPLER A TIME SAVER

For the man who likes to build his own and is not as handy with a blow torch as the average plumber sliding contacts on the primary coil of this coupler will eliminate the tedious method of connecting up the various tapped portions of his coil and soldering same.

The primary coil has a lever contact arm, affording an every wire adjustment of this element, which eliminates the disadvantages of the old style primary or tuning coil with soldered taps and its poor selectivity on many waves. The rotor is accurately fixed with a precision air gap, allowing further finer tuning qualities. The entire unit is hand-somely finished in a rubber composition to withstand the warping effects of moisture and is recommended for selective work on regenerative sets. It will work equally well, of course, on crystal sets and may serve to bring in stronger signals.

LOCALS HARD HIT BY PERCENTAGES OF BOWLERS

Individual Averages for First Half of Tourney Are Just Announced

With the first half of the fourteen weeks' schedule of the Southern California Elks' Bowling Association over the seven teams entered in the first division are swinging into the final stretch with the local squad lodged in last place. But the percentage columns do not give the Glendale players justice. Due to the fact that several of the regular bowlers have been forced, through illness or business, to allow substitutes to replace them on various critical occasions of the league play. This naturally tends to put the rest of the team members "on edge" with the result that the team's total score is affected.

However, Chairman Gihuly's pin smashers have not offered any alibi, which merely goes to show that they are out to give a better account of themselves during the remainder of the pennant chase.

In the individual standings which have been released by the association headquarters F. H. Hoesman is the first Glendale bowler whose name appears on the list. Of forty-four bowlers he is tied for eighth place with an average of 179 pins per game. Claud Caswell follows Hoesman, his mark of 165 putting him in thirteenth place.

The remaining local bowlers, with their relative standings and average per game, are Joe Fontana, thirty-fifth, 160; "Bronnie" Brown, thirty-seventh, 156; Jimmy and Apfel and "Sureshot" Card, tied for thirty-ninth, 151; "Billy" Violi, forty-second, 147; John Fanset, forty-fourth, 140.

Individual averages in the association at the end of the first half of the schedule are as follows:

Walker Holds Lead in American League

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—Clarence Walker, Philadelphia American outfielder, slammed home two home runs in the game with St. Louis yesterday afternoon and ran his total for the season up to twenty-three. Walker is now the leading home-run hitter of the American league. The first homer came in the sixth inning and the second in the eighth. Shocker was the victim of both four-base clouts.

Historic Chair to McKinley Memorial

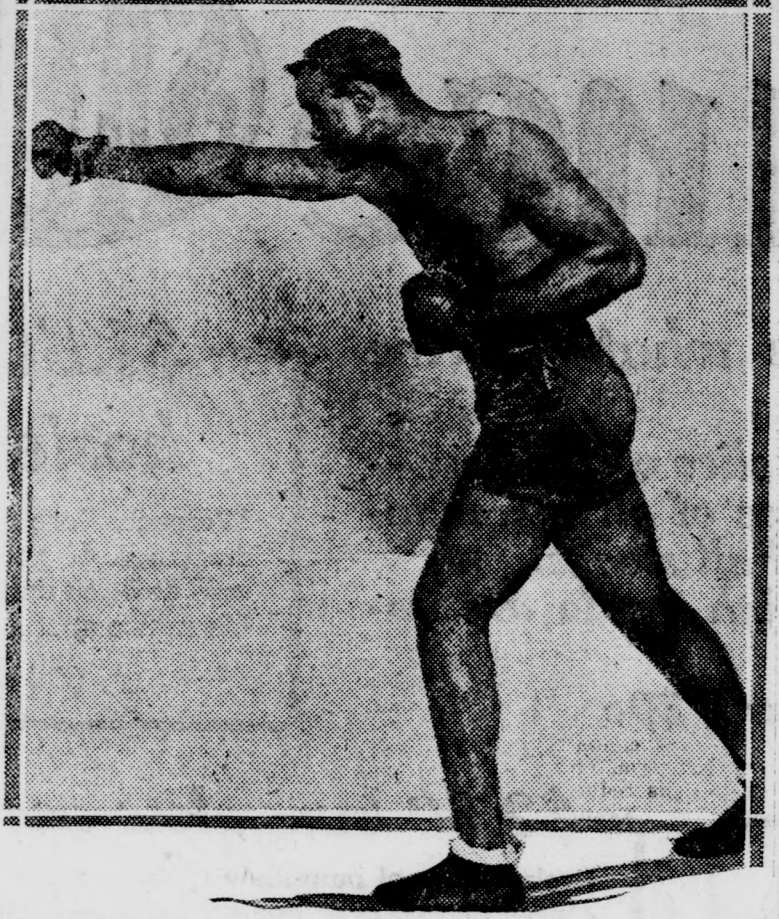

NILES, Ohio—An office chair used by President McKinley while he was an occupant of the White House has been placed in the relic room at the McKinley Memorial here. The chair is a present from George B. Cortelyou, who served as private secretary to the martyred president.

A letter from Mr. Cortelyou, which accompanied the chair, will be framed and preserved in the memorial, it was announced.

Sport High Spots

By taking Bill Essick's fast-going Vernon Tigers into camp yesterday to the tune of 7 to 0 the rejuvenated Seraphs ran their winning streak to ten consecutive victories, the last two having been taken from Vernon. The Angels are now within less than eight games of the Bengal Babes, "and god" strong," says Radiant Red Killefer. The auburn-haired leader is confident that his rejuvenated charges will take at least five contests in the present series.

Tennis Stars Arrive Home From Europe

NEW YORK, July 20.—Four American tennis stars who had been attending the international matches at Wimbledon, England, Mrs. Mollie Bjurstedt Mallory, Miss Eleanor Sears, Miss Edith Sigourney and Dean Mathey, arrived home today on the White Star steamer Homeric. Mrs. Mallory was plainly nursing a grouse over her defeat by Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French tennis champion.

POP GLEASON GETS OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW CLASS

Old Man of Baseball Has Title of Miracle Worker; Battles for Flag

NEW YORK, July 20.—Old seamy-faced Pop Gleason, the White Sox kid, never was considered a slouch of a manager. He always was good while opportunity was waiting the chance to show him up as a "miracle man."

It took the biggest earthquake of baseball—the 1919 scandal—to give the kid a chance to show that he qualified with George Stallings, Pat Moran and Uncle Wilbert Robinson as a producer of something out of nothing.

The White Sox were consigned to the cellar by experts at the start of the season and they remained there until about six weeks ago when the pale horse realized that their "old man" was not kidding them when he told them they were good.

Battling for Flag
They're battling for the pennant now, five games out of first place and right on the heels of the faltering New York Yankees. They are up there because the kid patted them along, encouraged his young pitchers and allowed Ray Senak, Eddie Collins, Harry Hooper and Red Faber to educate the youngsters in smart baseball.

The pennant aspirations of the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league were given a terrific jolt during the fifteenth week of play which closed last Sunday, the Los Angeles profiting to the extent of eight games, thus taking every contest to nil for the northerners. Six of the eight teams of the league changed places as a result of the play, the only two teams to maintain their old positions being the two tail-enders, Portland and Sacramento. The present standings of the teams as compared with the close of the fifteenth week in 1921 is as follows:

Hale, Portland; Lewis and Strand of Salt Lake; Smith of Vernon and Kelly of San Francisco during the last few weeks have been holding an interesting competition for the leading position among the batting averages of the Pacific Coast League. One day last week only four points separated Smith of Vernon as leader that day from Hale of Portland who topped the fourth place. The series completed last week found these men a little wider apart, but still the same five in the lead with Kelly of San Francisco heading the list with .390 per cent, while Hale of Portland occupies the fifth place .378, a matter of only twelve points difference.

O'Connell, the San Francisco lad who goes to New York next season, has shown a decided slump in his batting during the last five weeks. Up to five weeks ago he led the batting lists each week and his average was always well over the four hundred mark, but since then he has dropped down the ladder and today shows only .377, being placed just behind Hale of Portland.

Strand of Salt Lake had a great hitting week last series and his total of nineteen base hits for the series against Vernon now puts him in the lead of base hitters. His total of 149 hits displaces O'Connell as the leading swatter of base hits. Incidentally, O'Connell has dropped to third place in this department of the averages as during the past week Smith of Vernon added to his list and now shows 144 base hits while O'Connell's total is 141, this being the first time since the season opened that anyone has surpassed O'Connell at hitting.

Leaders in other departments of the batting averages up to and including last Sunday's games are: Most runs, Siglin, S. L. .85
Most 3-base hits, Siglin, S. L. .33
Most home runs, Schick, S. L. .16
Most sacrifices, McCann, Port. .33
Most stolen bases, Cooper, Oaks .33

A SONG OF APRONS

How much more attractive many common things are made today than they used to be.

I am thinking today especially of aprons. Do you remember the days when aprons used to be practically all of one pattern (and of one practical pattern), a long oblong of material shirred to a band that went around the waist and tied behind in something appropriately known as apron strings?

The Aprons of Yesterday Blue or brown checked gingham or percale was the almost universal material for the everyday apron and for the best apron some plain white material. If you wanted a very grand apron you hemstitched it. And do you remember a little later the tentative appearance of that affair known as the tea apron, a much smaller white apron trimmed with lace and perhaps even a bow of ribbon, but worn more for show than for actual use?

But no, I will not embarrass you by asking. It is too much a leading question like asking what year you graduated from high school, or whether you remember such songs as "Goodbye Dolly Gray" and "Sweet Marie."

Silly, however, were the aprons of yesterday, a utilitarian, unimaginative, colorless, conventional collection.

And now for the aprons of today, turn to the shop windows of your own wardrobe.

The Aprons of Today What gaiety of color, what crispness of material, what infatuation and alluring variety, what trim and coquettish charm of cut you will find!

I wonder that the poets do not write verses to their lady's aprons. Or perhaps they do.

The change has been gradual of course, first a break from the old convention of checked gingham or figured percale into a new freedom of pattern and perhaps the enhancement of pipings. And then a break into a new variety of cut. At first these new cuts were none too beautiful but gradually they began to show a sense of fitness and line, and today there are so many fascinating patterns for aprons that it is hard to choose between them.

And then there came a still more radical idea to the makers of aprons—that after all there was no law which forbade the use of other materials than gingham and straightaway there blossomed out in the kitchen that most delightful beautifier and brightener of daily toil, that indoor replica of the flower garden—the cretonne apron.

I love my aprons. The drawer in which they lie is a treasure chest to me. My friends know that I have a special fancy for aprons and birthdays and other gift days are forever bringing me some new sample of the charm an apron can achieve. But I never have too many.

She Looks Her Best I am sometimes sorry that I was born too late for certain things—among them the chance to collect old furniture and an old house when such things were plentiful. But as a compensation I am glad that I waited to come until the days when, thanks to the evolution of the apron, one may look as well in one's kitchen apron as in one's living room. In fact, I think the young housewife some times looks better when she ties on her gay apron and busies herself against the background of a shining, well kept kitchen than she ever does at any other time.

BOULEVARD OPENING

D. W. Pontius, general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway company, has agreed to the opening of Trolleyway through Santa Monica and Venice with the Pacific Electric maintaining a curbed right of way 35 feet wide in the middle of a paved street 105 to 115 feet wide. In return, the railway company expects payment for all land taken by the cities at actual market values, payment for all severance damages and payment for cost of moving tracks. Further, the company will insist that no more grade crossings be opened and that no assessment above 10 per cent be made on its right of way for street paving, although it is willing to pay its full share on other property which will be benefited. Cost of opening the street through the two cities is estimated at about $1,000,000.

WANT PIER BUILT

San Diego Chamber of Commerce is urging the harbor commission to proceed with the construction of a mole type municipal pier for which $250,000 bonds were voted in 1920. After these bonds were authorized it was found the amount was not sufficient to build a pier as planned. Use of the bonds for other harbor improvements was considered, but nothing came of it, and they were never issued. Urgency of greater port facilities has spurred the Chamber of Commerce to revive the project as originally planned.

CROWN ROAST

The crown roast of lamb is a dainty and tasty dish if stuffed with peas, carrots and rice.

TO CONSTRUCT PIER

San Diego harbor commission is going ahead with the construction of a mole type municipal pier under the $250,000 bond issue voted three years ago unless the people protest. The amount available is far from sufficient to build the pier as originally planned, but it is proposed to go as far as funds will permit. Plans are now being prepared and will be explained to the people through the newspapers. If there is no disapproval from the public, the harbor commission will take it for granted the plans are endorsed by the people, and that funds necessary to carry out the original plans will be promptly voted. Thirty days will be given the people to voice their approval or disapproval.

TO DEEPEN CHANNEL

Surveys show a maximum depth of eight feet in a winding, narrow channel in the entrance to Long Beach harbor north of the Union Pacific drawbridge and a minimum depth of four feet in the channel south of drawbridge. Plans and estimates of cost are being made by the city engineering department for a channel twenty feet deep at low tide and 200 feet wide with flat, sloping sides. When this improvement will be made depends on the attitude of the city council.

TO RENOVATE TOWELS

The torn edges of Turkish towels can be cut off and the fresh edges bound with strips of colored gingham, thus adding to the life of the towel and still keeping it attractive.

YELLOWED WHITE GOODS

When linens or white goods have turned yellow, put a few drops of turpentine into the rinsing water and lay them on the grass in the strong sunshine.

TO PROTECT ENGINE

The engine, clutch and transmission in a motor truck of English design are suspended in a flexible subframe to prevent their injury in the event of distortion of the main frame.

FRUIT STAINS

Cover the fruit stains on your table linens with a paste of salt and lemon juice and place them in the sun to bleach. Wet the paste with more lemon juice from time to time. Wash out in clear water.

SHE FULLY COMPLIED

"I'm afraid I shall require some proof of your identity, madam," said the bank cashier, when the none-too-fair lady presented a check for payment. And he looked the kind of man who thoroughly enjoys a little unpleasantness.

"Oh, I will give you as many proofs as you like," she answered. "I'm the 'old girl' with the face' on the other side of the fence, who will have her 'infernal plan' up against your dining-room wall. Last night when you got in, your wife said to you: 'If you don't turn up at a respectable hour tomorrow night, I'll give you such a piece of my mind as you've never heard yet, you unfeeling, selfish, interrupted the cashier.

NO PLACE FOR WIFE

Green: So you are taking your wife to the lakes of Killarney? That's a wonderful place, there are echoes there that repeat the sound of the human voice forty times. Breen: I guess we won't go to Killarney.

CHECKING UP

Roy Simpson, negro laborer, was putting in his first day with a construction gang whose foreman was known for getting the maximum amount of labor out of his men. Simpson was helping in the task of moving the right of way and all day long he carried heavy timbers and ties until at the close of the day he was completely tired out. Came quitting time. Before he went he approached the boss and said: "Mister, you sure you got me down on the pay roll?" The foreman looked over the list of names he held. "Yes," he said, finally, "here you are—Simpson—Roy Simpson. That's right, isn't it?" "Yaas, sah, boss," said the negro, "das right. I thought mebbe you had me down as Sampson."

Diet and Health By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

THE SHRINKING STOMACH

Now you are off on the big adventure. If you are over-weight, your stomach has long been used to too large an amount of food for your needs, so it is over-sized and distended. When you have really eaten enough for your requirements, it is still flabby and loose, with cavernous spaces yawning for more.

It is an affectionate sort of an organ, the stomach. It likes to embrace its food closely and cuddle it on all sides, and when the proper amount comes it sends up a message, "enough." If you are wise, you heed its word and desist.

But you have not been wise many, many times, and many times said stomach has had to stretch itself to accommodate your unwisdom. At times it has been so overcrowded that it hasn't had enough room and it pressed up on the chest region to see if you had a heart—and your heart whanged back pretty quickly a protest against being crowded like that and somebody begins harp lessons prematurely.

So, you see, the stomach has gradually become distended, and the more you eat, the more you want. The stomach grows by what you feed on, and your appetite grows for what it feeds on. Remember those words, I shall refer to them again. Now what to do? This. Let overworked, industrious stomach know that you have seen the error of your ways and give it a chance to get back to normal. In other words, shrink it.

The best way I know of aside from a fast, is to go on a liquid diet for at least three days. The stomach has a chance in that time to get set in its ways. In fact, one could go on a liquid diet for a much longer period than that with benefit, but it is not necessary.

Now what happens? For three days stomach has been hunting something to cuddle; it has contracted and contracted to find something to wrap itself around and there has been precious little. Now you offer it a small sized meal and stomach seizes it so gratefully and sends up word so soon that it has enough, that you are thrilled. You realize that your stomach is shrunk and you are going to be able to control your appetite because of that fact.

(Oh! thin friends we have to advise to do just the reverse of this, I am coming to them a little later.)

The shrinking of the stomach has rather fine results besides that of helping you to control your appetite. Among the most important are the following: the liquid diet gives the system a chance to get rid of a lot of the poisons which have accumulated from an excess of food for your needs, and you will immediately feel much better; and joy, oh joy, you will lose from five to ten pounds of weight! Ah! it is a grand and glorious feeling!

The loss is not all fat of course.

and the scale may run up a trifle even when you are on your reducing regime afterwards, but at least two-thirds of the weight will stay off, and you will gradually lose more.

I do not want you to lose more than two pounds a week, after the first week. More about this later. Tomorrow, continue as I directed you to do yesterday. Keep on your liquid diet—some liquids not totaling more than 500 to 600 calories a day.

If you cannot get fresh milk or buttermilk, you can get the powdered milk and make it up as you need it. A little fresh orange juice will supply the vitamins lost.

Take a glass every three hours. One ounce of whole milk is 20 C., and skim and buttermilk free from cream is half that amount, or 10 C. Or if you do not like milk in any form, drink orange juice; one ounce is approximately 15 C.

If you cannot get oranges you may—if you chew so thoroughly that it is reduced to a liquid before you swallow—you may eat two moderate sized apples instead. One moderate sized apple is 50 C.

CARRY ON. Tomorrow—Two-thirds Shrunk.

END OF THE PERMANENT WAVE

It takes a long time for the attendants permanently waving the hair to roll it properly on the curlers, wind it with flannel, tie on the cardboard spoons and make it ready for the actual baking. The baking itself occupies perhaps 15 minutes and then, as I explained last week, the electric spoons are removed and two attendants begin to cut and crack the now brown and hardened cardboard spoons. This doesn't take very long. The hair, tightly rolled around the curlers, is soon ready for its second shampoo. You will be quite surprised when you see it looking the same as ever, for after all you've been through you are quite prepared for hair of a different color or no hair at all.

The strings tying the curlers to the head are undone and the hair is free in a lot of queer, snaky corkscrew ringlets. Then it is shampooed again, and you are certain if your hair is normally straight that all the curl will be washed out of it.

It isn't, however, if the process has been properly performed. At the end of the shampoo it is a mass of crisp, tightly rolled ringlets. Then comes the final stage of the process.

The hair is not dried by the ordinary process of blowing hot air over it. Instead it is combed back from the face and an attendant with a large comb begins to shape it into Marcel waves. While he is combing it into the proper sort of waves a girl stands by with the nozzle of the hot air drying machine in her hand, but over the nozzle of the hose a large wad of absorbent cotton has been tied, held in place with several layers of gauze. This keeps the hot air from blowing over the head and spoiling the wave but supplies a steady heat.

Golden Locks:—It would be well if you could have a course of professional treatments for your scalp as it must be badly in need of toning. The Violet-ray treatment should be just the powerful stimulation that your scalp is needing at this time. If you cannot have this, start at once to massage the scalp each day until you feel the blood circulating through it. A treatment of hot crude oil at night before the usual shampoo will help to counteract this dryness. The pilocarpine hair tonic will also help your hair to recover, or if not that, any good tonic should be massaged into the scalp several times each week.

Cherie:—I have never heard of lemon juice in water as a spring tonic. In the matter of taking acids, each individual is different, as there are some people who cannot assimilate them, while others need them. If you are refreshed and your stomach has no acidity from this early morning sip, continue with it but note what action it is having. Reduction through dieting is the healthful way and if you want to retain the lessened weight, it is only a matter of knowing what foods to eat and what not to.

Tomorrow—Complexion Soaps. All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

TWO TO CONSIDER

One day Smith was complaining that he was not feeling as fit as usual, and a friend suggested that he should go in for more exercise.

"There's horse-riding, for instance," said the friend. "It is one of the best forms of exercise you can get."

"I know," was the doubtful rejoinder. "But I am afraid I couldn't afford it."

"Couldn't afford it!" exclaimed the other, wondering. "You already have a horse, and just think of the appetite it would give you."

"Yes," responded Smith, with a sigh. "I just think of the appetite it would give the horse!"

NO PLACE FOR WIFE

Green: So you are taking your wife to the lakes of Killarney? That's a wonderful place, there are echoes there that repeat the sound of the human voice forty times. Breen: I guess we won't go to Killarney.

CHECKING UP

Roy Simpson, negro laborer, was putting in his first day with a construction gang whose foreman was known for getting the maximum amount of labor out of his men. Simpson was helping in the task of moving the right of way and all day long he carried heavy timbers and ties until at the close of the day he was completely tired out. Came quitting time. Before he went he approached the boss and said: "Mister, you sure you got me down on the pay roll?"

The foreman looked over the list of names he held. "Yes," he said, finally, "here you are—Simpson—Roy Simpson. That's right, isn't it?" "Yaas, sah, boss," said the negro, "das right. I thought mebbe you had me down as Sampson."

Discounting the "Discount" in Advance

You don't have to be a shrewd bargainer to get the bottom price on the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord. Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can.

You can see from the figures below that its advertised price is lower than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

We believe the average man would rather buy tires on this frank and open basis, and assure himself a product of recognized worth.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord is made of high-grade long-staple cotton, and it embodies the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction.

In design, materials and manufacture it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation. It has a different tread from the famous All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for from 20% to 25% less.

You can get the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord now, as well as the famous All-Weather Tread Cord, from any of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers listed here.

Table with 3 columns: Tire size, Price, and Comparison. Includes sizes like 30 x 3 1/2 Clincher, 32 x 4 Straight Side, etc.

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

Technicality of Law Puzzles Rheims Folks

RHEIMS—Work of reconstruction is being held up by an annoying technicality, according to the Matin's correspondent here. After two years of legal formality the municipality has started its program of straightening and rebuilding streets torn up by German shells.

Former Residents of 3 States to Picnic

But it has just been brought to mind that the two chief streets of Rheims are national highways and do not come under municipal jurisdiction. Now property owners who have already started to have work done under the municipal law are inquiring if it will be necessary to tear down what has already been constructed, and may refuse to continue until they know whose program they are authorized to carry out.

SPECIAL PROGRAM BEING ARRANGED FOR LEGION

Musical Battle, Variety Bill and Lots of Other Things Tomorrow Night

Hot dog! A real jazz contest is promised members of the American Legion who will be present tomorrow, Friday night, at 8 o'clock, for a special program is being prepared.

Two orchestras are going to battle for honors. Eddie Moniot has organized a group of local Legionnaires to tear the tunes from banjos and saxophones, while Harry Emme, the jazz impresario appearing here Wednesday and Saturday nights at dances in the I. O. O. F. hall, will bring his California Orioles for the evening.

Charles Koeler, pianist of the Oriole quintet, is a composer of note, one of his big hits being "Leave Me With a Smile." Harry Emme and Ed Thomas sound off on the saxophones, the latter being a comedian. Paul Bucks batters a wicked banjo, while Owen Fallon, formerly a pugilist, takes some hard cracks at the traps.

It is a real treat ahead, buddies, to hear the two orchestras outdoing themselves and the Orioles are out to make friends for their dancing parties, the first of which was held last night. However, that is not all.

Arrangements are being made for several variety numbers, both professional and home talent. And still that is not enough to call the evening complete.

Hot dogs and coffee will be dispensed at the end of the show line by Les Marston of the Lunch Box, while there will be reports of committees. In part of a speeches and other events well worth every member's attendance.

Arrangements are being made for 150. Will you be there? We'll say you will, says the entertainment committee which will divulge more details tomorrow.

CHOSEN QUEEN OF MAY REGULARLY ON BIRTHDAY

'Grandma' Mellisa Otterman, Age 92, Tells Some of Pioneer Experiences

before we had candle molds we made the candles.

The way we made the candles was to put the string for the wick on a stick and then dip it in melted tallow and keep dipping until the candle was as large as we wanted it. Of course we didn't have matches and when we once had a fire lighted we took care of it. My father used to make brooms out of hickory sticks and when he cut them and tied them together he saved the shavings and dried them to light the candles with."

"Grandma" tells of how she was married by candle light and to add a bit to the romance she says, "And my love letters weren't sent in envelopes as they are now. The outside of the writing paper was left blank and the sheet folded over and sealed shut with sealing wax. Letters in those days were carried by horse and later by stagecoach. The writing letters was an infrequent pleasure, so I treasure the love letters I have saved all these years and I know my great grandchildren will enjoy reading them."

When she was grown "Grandma" taught school in Indiana and as comparison with the modern teacher's salary, she says that the teacher received one dollar for three months from each scholar and that the average school had twenty-five or thirty scholars.

Blue Law Sunday
Sunday was really a "blue law" day in those days, according to "Grandma," who says, "We went to Sunday school and church and spent the rest of the day in quietness with perhaps a walk to the graveyard. As for the rest of the week, once in a while there were parties and then we had the singing schools, which gave the boys and girls a chance to "see each other."

"Grandma" heartily approves of things modern and says she quite likes the modern girl even if her skirts are a trifle short.

ROTARIANS AT LAUNDRY

When the usual noon blast of the Glendale Laundry company's whistle was sounded today, twenty-five members of the Glendale Rotary club sat down to a dinner especially prepared by employees of the laundry for the occasion. W. E. (Ed) Hewitt, proprietor of the firm, who directed the arranging of the dinner, took great pleasure in showing his fellow Rotarians the various methods used in doing their weekly washings.

ATTENDS DENTAL MEET

Dr. A. A. MacIntyre of 306 N. Central avenue, has been in attendance this week at the sessions of the national dental convention at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles. The final session will be Friday afternoon.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Expensive Government
Buy at Home and Save
How About the Pool?
Look Out for Fires

By Gil A. Cowan
THE political situation in Southern California is more than interesting. It is split in forty different ways with few people as yet knowing just where they stand.

Of course, the merry politicians, representing the various interests, are out in front with their ballyhoo, but people have learned not to be confused by a smoke screen. The public wants facts and facts in a political argument are like the quantity X in mathematics.

Generally speaking Southern California would like a new deal in state government. The whole state is fairly well satisfied with Senator Johnson, but they cannot agree to Governor "Bill" Stephens' band of buccaners remaining longer in political position. It is too expensive.

To read the clearance sale ads in The Glendale Evening News this month one must realize what a merchandising center this city has grown to be. With the coming of a metropolitan department store and other establishments, including the smartest of specialty shops, an entirely new aspect has been placed on the business done here.

In days gone by it used to be a social event for Hollywood people to come to Glendale and shop at the Irish Linen store, for instance. But today there are a dozen different firms that are drawing patronage from outside of Glendale.

However, the bulk of the trade comes from home people and more and more they are learning what good values may be obtained in Glendale. One woman reports that she bought a nationally advertised line of shoes here for $8 while a big Los Angeles store had been charging her $11 for the same make and similar quality.

Certainly, Los Angeles stores must hang their head over on some one, so if you are keen you will look around home before buying elsewhere.

The Glendale Boy Scouts are enjoying themselves at Catalina Island for the next two weeks. Peter L. Ferry is the biggest boy among them, too.

The gem of the Pacific, as the island is known, is an ideal vacation spot. But what about the boys at home? When is that swimming pool going to be done? By golly, if I were Alexander H. Lapham, the papa of the pool, I would step on somebody's neck and make 'em get that job finished before it is too cold to take a bath out of doors.

Be careful of the trash fires, folks. One little bunch of rubbish on Orange street burned yesterday. It cost the city about $60 to haul out their fire equipment, not to mention the disfigurement it caused the peaceful firemen who were taking their afternoon siesta.

So please be careful.

COACHELLA VALLEY LAND OWNERS AND OTHERS
To any one owning land in Coachella Valley or to any one interested in information regarding this valley and its wonderful possibilities, I shall be glad to give information to the best of my ability. Government forecast indicates that Coachella Valley land is destined to be the most valuable agricultural land in the southwest. Dates, early grapes (the harvest is now closing), grapefruit and early vegetables make this an outstanding agricultural possibility. Good land is yet available at low prices.

Purebred Cow Is Best Butter Producer CHICAGO—The milk and butter fat at present produced by the 23,000,000 dairy cows of the United States could be produced by 12,000,000 if only purebred sires were at the heads of each herd, according to a survey made public here by the National Institute of Progressive Farming.

The world's champion milk and butter fat cows are in this country, but less than three-quarters of a million of the 23,000,000 producing dairy cows are purebred. This accounts for the fact that our average production is only one-half that of Denmark and Holland.

An illustration of the profit in the use of pure bred sires comes from Iowa State college, according to the survey. In this instance the first cross breeding of native cows with pure bred Holstein-Friesians showed an increase of 83 per cent in milk and 58 per cent in butter fat.

The survey expressed the opinion that American farmers are progressing slowly but surely toward this standard, just as they are progressing in other ways, that is in the rotation and diversification of crops, greater use of fertilizer and the employment of tractors and other farm power machinery which saves time to be devoted to the greater care required by higher grades of livestock.

West Broadway to the river was being well received both by the residents of Glendale and street car officials, who were pleased at the possible prospect of bringing passengers from Eagle Rock to Griffith park.

The question of inviting the telegraph office to remain open longer hours was brought up by Attorney W. Clair Anspach of 111 East Broadway but tabled after some discussion.

E. N. Radke of 109 South Brand boulevard, chairman of the park committee, reported work in progress on the swimming "hole" in Patterson park.

Ralph Pierce of the Russell-Pierce Furniture company, 1529 South San Fernando road, was a guest of the occasion. He asserted his interest in civic affairs and reminded those present that southern Glendale is as much a portion of the community as any other section of the city.

TARIFF VICTORIES SHOW JOHNSON'S GREAT VALUE

One of Many Reasons Why
He Should Be Returned to U. S. Senate

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—Senator Hiram Johnson's tariff victories are made the basis for a strong plea for the senator's reelection, in a statement issued today by Motley H. Flint, vice president of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank and one of the leading authorities in the state on the marketing of California products.

"There could be no more timely evidence of Senator Hiram Johnson's value to the state of California, in his present capacity, and the absolute necessity of returning him to the United States senate for another term, than the important concessions he has made for California growers while the republican tariff bill has been under consideration at Washington," said Mr. Flint.

"Fighting, in many cases, against the strongest kind of opposition, Senator Johnson has secured for California almonds, walnuts, raisins, figs, olives, lemons, beans, oranges and rice, the protection needed to enable growers here to compete profitably with producers elsewhere. In many cases the rates he has won are the highest ever obtained for them. He has had wonderful success. He has gone before committees with convincing arguments and later on the floor of the senate, has insisted with telling effects, upon his duties for all important products of this state.

Outside Comment
"That Johnson's successes have won attention not only at home but throughout the country, is evidenced by comment in many newspapers outside of California, including the following, which appeared in the Philadelphia Public Ledger of July 5."

"The tariff discussion discloses one other interesting sidelight on the way things go in the senate. There are some excessively high schedules in the bill. Republican leaders acknowledge

Senator Johnson Speaks in Glendale Wednesday, Aug 2

Senator Hiram W. Johnson will address a mass meeting in Glendale Wednesday night, August 2, at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced last night at a meeting of the executive committee of the local "Johnson-for-Senator" club which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hyde Braly of North Brand boulevard.

This will precede a speech by the famed California solon at Pasadena at 8:30 o'clock the same evening and closely follow the monster mass meeting and reception to be accorded the senator in Los Angeles Friday evening, July 28, at 8 o'clock.

For Senator Johnson, who has been away from the state for some time actively representing California's interests at the capital, it will be a triumphal tour which will rally his supporters to his standard and assure reelection.

Headquarters are maintained by the club here at 114 East Broadway, where Miss Eva Daniels, secretary, is in charge.

Yet the average student of such matters probably would guess a long time before he hits upon the state having the greater amount of protection in the bill. It is none of the New England group nor Pennsylvania. It is not New Jersey, though the Shore state probably is a close second. It is California, and the senator who gains most thereby is Hiram W. Johnson. The rates on lemons, raisins, olives and figs are said to make California the best protected state in the union.

"As a matter of fact, the value of the protection Senator Johnson has won for California is almost incalculable, running well up into the millions and amounting to an achievement among the most important, from the standpoint of dollars and cents ever accomplished for the state.

Big Accomplishments
"These victories, however, are merely incidents in the senator's career of big accomplishments at Washington. We must all admire him for his fearless stand on all public issues and though we may sometimes disagree with him, we are forced to admit his honesty and independence.

"Hiram Johnson is one of the greatest outstanding national figures at the capitol. He is known for his vigorous fighting qualities and aggressive leadership, to every American citizen. By his experience gained during the six years he has been senator from California, by his importance in national councils, and by the prestige he carries in the senate, he is in a position to do infinitely more good there than any other man who could possibly be sent to replace him.

"To have Senator Johnson fail in reelection and be withdrawn from his activities in Washington, would, in my opinion, be a catastrophe for this state."

VERDUGO DISTRICT BOY SCOUTS GO INTO CAMP

Nearly 100 Lads Leave for Their Ten-Day Outing on Catalina Island

These include hikes to the "Ning Po," famous pirate ship, hikes to the west end of the island, snipe hunts, treasure hunts, star observation contests with special prizes which have been offered by Dr. Walter B. Sciffe, war dances, jinx days, and many other activities.

One of the evenings in camp will be devoted to an impressive initiation and ritual which will include every member of the camp, and on Sunday, July 23d, religious services will be conducted by a priest and by Roy E. Dickerson, Director of Religious Activities for the Y. M. C. A. The services, it is understood, are to be purely non-sectarian in nature, so that they will not conflict with any of the customs or beliefs of any of the churches of which the boys are members.

Council in Charge
Camp discipline is to be administered by the Camp Council which is composed of all adult leaders in camp. An efficiency contest which is to be started throughout the camp, however, is expected to solve the problem of keeping the active youths within the camp rules by awarding honors to the winners.

The boys will be given points for proficiency in various things such as the taking of second or first-class test, merit badge test identifying trees, plants, flowers, birds and other outdoor objects, perfect inspection, excellent conduct, the making of useful articles for the camp, and other activities. Merit badge Scouts who receive the highest number of points daily will qualify as Officers of the Day while any Scout who makes a total of 150 points will receive the Camp Ribbon Bar Pin.

Huge Losses Result Of Big Coal Strike

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The twin coal and rail strikes today have caused a loss of $533,000,000 to workers, employers and American industry generally, and the figures grow hourly, according to best estimates made today by government statisticians.

Railway workers and coal miners on strike lose in the aggregate $7,500,000 a day in wages. The total loss to date in both the coal and rail strikes in point of wages is $192,000,000. The loss to coal operators, figuring on average of $1 per ton for bituminous coal that would have been mined during weekly loss in coal production, both bituminous and anthracite, is averaged at 75,000,000 tons.

The number of men on strike in the twin tie-ups is between 1,250,000 and 1,500,000. Of these 690,000 are miners and 550,000 rail workers.

Italy In Grip of Political Turmoil

ROME, July 20.—Italy was without a cabinet today while strike trouble disorders are arising between the Fascisti and Socialists.

According to well-informed political circles, former Premier Orlando probably will succeed Signor Facta as premier.

Signor Bonomi is generally regarded as the next foreign minister.

Signor Mussolini, leader of the Fascisti, said it was doubtful if a government would be formed which would have the support of that organization.

The general strike which was called in the Piedmont district in protest against attacks by the Fascisti has spread to Milan.

Three men can stand on each leaf of the Victoria Regia lily, the great flower three yards in diameter, to be seen in Kew gardens.
