

ABOUT POLYGAMY

MRS. DAVID BLACK CONTRADICTS STATEMENTS IN LETTER FROM MR. KIRK

An article published in the Glendale Evening News of Sept. 21, under the heading of "Polygamy Forgotten," written by a Glendale man, W. B. Kirk, was read by Rev. S. E. Wishard, D. D., of Los Angeles.

Dr. Wishard, who spent sixteen years superintending the Presbyterian missionary work among the Mormons in Utah, traveling among them more than 346,000 miles, and filling over 3000 appointments, knows whereof he speaks.

Mr. Kirk says "polygamy is practically unknown and almost forgotten."

In 1910 the Salt Lake Tribune took up the investigation of these rumors of new polygamous marriages. Each separate case was taken up and the findings were reported in the paper, with the details, names of contracting parties, time and place of marriage. This statement appeared in the paper: "These columns are open to parties accused to vindicate themselves if the charges are not true." This investigation continued till 220 new cases of polygamy had been found since the manifesto. Not a word of denial came from one of the 220 names. This list contained the names of many men prominent in the Mormon church.

The president of the Mormon church, Joseph F. Smith, their prophet, seer and revelator, has five wives and forty-five children. A picture of these wives and children is in the possession of Dr. Wishard.

When Joseph F. Smith gave his sworn testimony before the United States senate committee in Washington, when asked if he had five wives, replied, "I have."

Mr. Kirk says: "Their religious belief, too, if you eliminate the book of Mormon, is very little removed from that of some of the most advanced evangelical churches." But the "book of Mormon" is their Bible, and you cannot eliminate that without eliminating Mormonism itself.

Joseph Smith says by inspiration: "God himself was once as we are now, and is an exalted man."

Brigham Young taught by authority from God (so he claimed) that "He (Adam) is our father and our God, and the only God with whom we have to do." They teach that God is living in polygamy and that Christ was married to Mary and Martha and other women who followed him to the cross. They class the Holy Ghost with magnetism, electricity, etc., as "one of the elements of material or physical existence."

On the last page of the book containing their Sabbath school lessons the pupils are urged to read and carefully study the 132nd section of the book of doctrine and covenants, entitled, "The eternity of the marriage covenant, including the plurality of wives."

At the afore mentioned investigation made by the United States senate committee, Joseph Smith was asked, "Do you mean to say you at your pleasure obey or disobey the commands of God Almighty?" (Mr. Smith) "Yes, sir; I obey or disobey at my will."

Question—"And that is the kind of God you believe?"
Mr. Smith—"That is exactly the kind of a God I believe in."

As the traveler stands by the temple he should remember that many who have lost faith in Mormonism have testified that they were required to take an oath of vengeance in this temple against our government, and that this church is an oath-bound secret society, which has authority over its members above that of the government. Also that "the priesthood is the only legitimate power that has a right to rule on the earth."

MR. AND MRS. BRALY HONORED

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Hyde Braly, who recently returned from an extensive wedding trip through the Eastern states and the West, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll entertained with a dinner at their home in North Glendale Thursday evening. Mr. Braly was for many years president of the Southern California Savings Bank of Los Angeles, which, a few years ago, merged with the Security Trust and Savings Bank. It was while Mr. Braly was president of the former institution that Mr. Toll became associated with him in the bank as cashier, and their relationship, from being a purely business one, has grown into a very friendly one, standing the test of fourteen years, and growing stronger with the passage of the years.

To meet Mr. and Mrs. Braly the following guests were invited: Mr. and Mrs. J. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell.

PARTY HUGE SUCCESS

GLEN EYRIE CHAPTER, O. E. S., HOLDS OPEN HOUSE AT THE TEMPLE

Over one hundred Glendale people stepped out Thursday evening to enjoy the hospitality of Glen Eyrie chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at a prettily planned dancing and card party given in the Masonic temple, 532 South Brand boulevard.

Gold and white were the prevailing colors and aside from a few showered clusters of goldenrod, no other decorations were used.

The ceremonial hall upstairs served as a refuge for the card fiends, and there were fourteen tables filled at that, while below many feet stepped lively to the popular tunes produced by Merrill's three-piece orchestra of Los Angeles.

Delicious iced fruit punch and yellow frosted cakes were served throughout the evening and from the jovial spirit that prevailed, everyone present enjoyed a most delightful evening.

Acting hosts and hostesses for the affair were Mr. A. W. Tower, Mr. C. W. McFadden, Mrs. A. M. Beamon and Mrs. W. E. Evans.

The prizes awarded were won as follows: Mrs. William Noyes and Mr. Goode, first; Mrs. A. Clements and Mr. Albert Cornwell, second; Mrs. Earl R. Naudain and Mr. Harry Betz, consolation.

UNFAIR PROPOSITION

The city and county consolidation amendment, which will be voted on at the November election, provides that a city of more than 50,000 may annex a smaller town by a bare majority vote, instead of a two-thirds' vote as at present. It also provides that the smaller town must assume its proportionate share of the larger city's bonded debt. Every voter who has the interests of his home city at heart will vote NO on this amendment.

GLENDALE THEATER ARRANGES FOR COMEDY BILL

Saturday is "comedy day" at the Glendale theater. The management has arranged for three single reel comedies, which are of the good, clean-cut, laughable sort, and to be enjoyed by all. The drama is a two-reel feature, "Her Rugged Knight," and is a light, entertaining romance from start to finish.

Tonight "Lucille Love" is the headliner. In this series Lucille escapes from China as a stowaway and returns to San Francisco. Although Lucille is a headliner, J. Warren Kerrigan in "The Lion" is one of the exceptionally good drama photoplays. The comedy is portrayed in "Universal Boy," in which our boy in travelog meets "Teddy" at Oyster Bay, and after spending the day with him, meets Beechey, the aviator, and Barney Oldfield, who teaches him to drive his racer. On reaching New York the boy becomes acquainted with Hammerstein, the theatrical magnate, and gets on the stage, where he impersonates Harry Lauder, King Baggot in Absinthe, and while giving the Salome dance of Gertrude Hoffman, his aunt comes upon the scene and abruptly terminates it. "Ike Kept from Being an Actor" furnishes some more laughs in one of the famous Ike comedies.

COUNTY TO BUILD HUNDRED MILES OF ROADS

Los Angeles county leads the state in its mileage of good roads. With 357 miles of boulevards already completed, it is good news that an increase of another hundred miles of macadam highways will be added within the year 1915.

It will not be necessary to have another bond issue to provide these additional roads, for they will be constructed by the district improvement act, whereby a community desiring a modern highway can make application to the board of supervisors for the improvement, and by providing the funds for draining and grading, can get the county to supply rock and oil for the surfacing.

This arrangement has so appealed to the good roads sentiment in Los Angeles county that numerous districts throughout the county have fairly swamped the board of supervisors with applications for oil and rock. It means this county will put over $1,000,000 into new road construction during the next twelve months.

NO TIME FOR PARTIZANSHIP

In his recent letter to his party's manager of the coming congressional campaign, President Wilson based his declination to serve as a campaigner on a sense of higher obligation than that of party. The times are such, he said in effect, that the best service he could render the party would be in aiding it to administer national affairs wisely at an hour of extraordinary import in world history. Fidelity to duties crowding upon him at Washington would be the surest mode of appeal to voters for continuance of a legislature in the hands of his friends.

Public opinion indorsed this decision as one determined by a fine feeling for the proprieties of the presidential office, and at the same time a move politic from a partisan standpoint and based on a true reading of the way to win popular approval. A like verdict doubtless will be passed on the president's refusal to approve the plan of New Jersey Democrats to indorse thus early his assumed candidacy for a second term. He virtually informed his friends and followers that it was contrary to his instincts even to seem to take advantage of the eminence he has come to have through his official place or to let it be turned to his personal advantage in any way through their ardent loyalty.

Of course intimation of this attitude by the president had its desired effect. Formal indorsement was omitted, but the convention adjourned with its admiration for the leader not diminished by the gentle rebuff. The practical results of this higher toned politics than sometimes has prevailed are likely to be considerable. For one thing, such ordination of lesser to greater interests, exhibited by the head of the nation, will be educational in its effect on subordinate officials. The rigor of partizan rivalry, already much laxer than it used to be, must become even more irenic as national and international duties call for decisions that it is desirable to have backed by all parties and factions.—Christian Science Monitor.

VISITORS FROM CORONA

The Rev. and Mrs. Humphrey and little daughter Bethel, who are spending a few days in Glendale from Corona, where the Rev. Humphrey is pastor in charge of the First M. E. church, were dinner guests Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, 325 South Louise street. The Rev. Humphrey was former pastor of the First M. E. church of Glendale and until about a year ago resided here with his family.

CHOIR REHEARSAL

The regular rehearsal of the choir of the Presbyterian church will be held this evening at 6:45 o'clock. Mr. Peckham has returned to take up the work of directing the choir again and a large attendance is desired.

THE ELECTRIC CROSS

EUGENE FRANK MEMORIAL TO BE DEDICATED NEXT SUNDAY

The Superior Electric Company has finished the installing of the electric cross on the Presbyterian church tower. It is a memorial cross placed there by Mrs. Frank in memory of her husband, Eugene Charles Frank, who as an artist was so well known locally, and in this and other countries. Mr. Frank's death occurred Jan. 9, 1914. More than a year ago Mr. Frank heard a sermon in the Presbyterian church, of which he was a member, concerning the electric cross idea, which appealed to him as a very fitting suggestion, and it was his desire to see the cross installed. This he was not permitted to see accomplished. Now his wife is showing a most generous spirit in bringing to pass the thing which has been so long desired.

Next Sunday at the church a service of dedication will be held. A special service of song has been arranged by the choir leader, Professor Peckham. The pastor will preach on the subject, "The Cross Blazoned on the Skies," at the conclusion of which Mrs. Frank will turn the switch which will illuminate the cross.

The cross itself is of artistic design, and was manufactured by Glendale workmen. It occupies the most prominent place in the valley, and for miles around casts its rays of light, which will be admired by the thousands of people who pass back and forth over our fine boulevards.

DEATH OF E. N. MACNEILL

The many friends in Glendale of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nagle MacNeill, who made their home here for a short time, will be pained to hear of Mr. MacNeill's death, which occurred Thursday at the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle.

Mr. MacNeill was a well-known New York newspaper man and New York correspondent for the London Sportsman for ten years. Broken down from too close application to work, Mr. MacNeill came to California little more than a year ago in search of health and strength. He opened a shoe store on Broadway, which he conducted for six months, when his health began to fail rapidly. For the past six months he had been at the sanitarium at the Soldiers' Home.

Mr. MacNeill's death is particularly sad as he was in the prime of life and when in health was an unusually able and brilliant writer.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed at this writing.

CONCLUDING SERVICE

The meeting tonight at the Presbyterian church will conclude the series which have been in progress during the week. The services have been well attended. The meeting this evening at 7:30 is the regular preparatory service to the communion on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Every member of the church is urged to be present tonight. The pastor will speak.

At the close of the Sunday school session on Sunday morning the session of the church will meet those who expect to unite with the church on confession of faith. Those coming by letter should notify the pastor at an early date.

END IN SIGHT

The recent primaries at which Pinchot was nominated disclosed the fact that the Progressive strength had dwindled down to a bare nucleus of a party. Pinchot's words indicate that he realizes that the end has come.—San Diego Union.

SIEGE OF ANTWERP

REFUGEES FILLING HOLLAND, THOUSANDS KILLED AND SUFFERING INTENSE

The bombardment of Antwerp has been one of the most terrible incidents of the war. Many parts of the city are burning, having been ignited with incendiary bombs thrown by the enemy. The Belgian government is installed at Ostend and many refugees from Antwerp are fleeing to Holland and England.

At the present interest centers about Antwerp, for the outcome of this engagement will have a significant bearing upon the larger battle, whose line extends from the Swiss frontier to the North Sea. Five German army corps are engaged in the siege of Antwerp. The outer forts have fallen, but the Belgians hope to hold the inner forts until assistance may come by the defeat of the Germans in France.

Official news from Berlin says the Germans are gaining ground on Paris slowly and along the Russian front there has been a cessation of fighting owing to the movement of the German troops. Paris reports the situation stationary.

It is unofficially reported that Bulgaria has joined Germany as an ally. A London dispatch says that fighting on a large scale will soon be resumed between the Russians and Austro-Germans.

A BUSY EVENING

This evening is well provided for in the way of attractions. The Chamber of Commerce meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the intermediate school building on Third street between Jackson and Kenwood streets. The eight-hour law debate between Rev. Williams of Los Angeles and J. C. Beldin of Glendale, at the high school auditorium, is place number two for people to get substantial entertainment. At the city hall there will be a committee meeting to consider items relative to the industrial district which is about to be formed. In addition to these meetings there will undoubtedly be many social gatherings that will call people together.

THRILLING ESCAPE FROM THE WAR ZONE

Sunday night at the Baptist church Dr. J. F. Watson, corresponding secretary of the Southern California Baptist convention, will deliver his thrilling lecture-sermon on his escape from the European war zone. Thousands have heard this lecture and Glendale is fortunate to secure Dr. Watson at so early a date after his return to America. Among other churches, First Baptist of Los Angeles, Temple Baptist, First Baptist of Long Beach, had packed houses to hear this story of a lifetime. Lecture bureaus have made flattering offers to Rev. Watson to go on a lecture tour, but the important position which he holds in the Baptist denomination makes such a procedure impossible. It might be added that those who hope to secure seats will need to be on time promptly at 7:30 p. m. Courteous ushers will be on hand to seat the audience and those who come first will be first served. The First Baptist church of Glendale is located on the corner of Third and Louise streets. Good congregational singing and baritone solo by Mr. Cunningham. Piano and violin. Rev. John H. Troy, pastor.

WORK FOR AMERICAN SHIPS

The California Merchant Marine Association, which seeks to improve coastwise shipping, ought to have the united support of the press of this state. Wherever an American ship can be put in service these days, we are doing our country a service and the world as well. The whole nation should get solidly behind congress for permanent establishment of American shipping upon a basis equivalent to that before the war. We are in position to become the leading maritime nation of the world, and if we pass up the opportunity, we shall lose our standing for greatness in the eyes of all the civilized peoples of the earth.

LEAVE FOR INDIANA HOME

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Fulmer, who for the past ten days have been guests in the home of Mrs. Fulmer's sister, Mrs. Thomas A. Wright, 305 South Louise street, will leave tonight for their home in South Bend, Ind., going by way of San Francisco and Seattle, where they will stop over enroute. Many delightful trips and sightseeing expeditions were taken and enjoyed by these visitors during their brief sojourn in Glendale.

VICIOUS AMENDMENT

WHAT STATE NEWSPAPERS SAY CONCERNING PROPOSED EIGHT-HOUR LAW

"Theoretically and as a gift from Eutopia, an universal eight-hour law would be a splendid thing. So would the international reign of Socialism. But in this work-a-day world neither is practical at the present stage. If an eight-hour law and Socialism were in the saddle in this state today, it would not be long before the workers themselves would ask for the repeal of the one and the exile of the other. Thinking tollers do not favor the universal eight-hour law now. They know conditions are not ripe for it. They know it would do incalculable injury to business; that it would bankrupt many industries. And they feel that in the ultimate analysis the greatest sufferers would be the laboring classes themselves. The chances are that this initiative law will be defeated at the polls in November. It should be! It was not born of union labor, but of Socialism. If there are any unionists for it, it will be found their unionism has become welded to and swallowed by Socialism. On the other hand, probably the greater majority of the masses of union labor in California are opposed thereto, on the ground that while at the present time grossly unjust to the employer, it would be inimical also to the best interests of the employee."—San Francisco Bee.

"If by general consent, except under certain conditions that require periods of longer labor, there were an eight-hour day everywhere, the world would be as prosperous and as happy, but take one state, saddle it suddenly with measures that cripple business, and make its industries unable to compete with those of other states that are free from a similar business handicap, and then add to it a law like the proposed one, and you have conditions that repel outside capital while discouraging manufacturers already located within the state."—Herald, Benicia.

"The advocates of the universal eight-hour law have sent out a challenge to its opponents to prove that such legislation would result in injury to the state. Opponents need not exert themselves to reply. If the people of California make the blunder of forcing such a law upon the state, the result will soon furnish the answer, and it will be a sort the consumer will not like."—Chronicle, San Francisco.

"The strict application of the proposed eight-hour law would ruin many ranchers and business concerns. While it might possibly help some of the day laborers, its killing effects on business would harm even the first beneficiaries in the long run."—Ramonia Sentinel.

"The universal eight-hour law, which goes on the ballot in the November election, and which is fathered and backed by the Socialists, is a vicious measure and should receive the opposition of every man and woman who believes in a square deal."—Messenger, Monrovia.

"The sweeping eight-hour law proposed by the Socialist organization in this and other states should be decisively defeated. It is sweeping in terms and ruinous in effect."—Ledger-Gazette, Lancaster.

"Should this law be enacted, it would prove dangerously destructive. The law is vicious and strikes a blow at the prosperity of California. Vote against it."—Hotel Gazette, San Francisco.

"Let no law be enacted that will hinder any man from obtaining the reward of his industry. Fellow workmen, don't be fooled."—Submarine, Thermal.

"The proposed eight-hour labor law, to be submitted to the voters this fall, seems to be worthy of emphatic defeat."—News, Pasadena.

THE PARSON'S DIFFICULT JOB

If the church attempts to keep up with the demand, it is mocked. If it sticks to the old lines, it is ridiculed. If it takes a hand in the industrial problems, it is meddling. If it does not, it is negligent. If it lifts up its voice in civic affairs, it is mixing politics and religion.

PERSONALS

Mrs. B. W. Huff of Oakland, Cal., came to Glendale Thursday to visit her sister, Mrs. E. D. Johnson.

The many friends of Mrs. C. S. Archer will be sorry to learn she is quite ill in her home, 621 West Seventh street.

Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, formerly of West Fifth street is now domiciled with her father in the Hawthorne apartments.

The X. V. I. Club will be entertained tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. J. W. McFadden in her home on Jackson street.

Miss Barbara Mitchell of Kenneth road, North Glendale, has filed an application for scholarship at Occidental college.

Mr. W. H. Carpenter of Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, is a patient at present in the Thornycroft hospital on East Ninth street.

Mrs. Helen Woodruff Boyd of 1463 Ivy street was a luncheon and dinner guest Thursday in the Hollywood home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mathison.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Pulliam, at present of 310 Cedar street, expect to move into the attractive little bungalow at 210 Cedar street Monday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wheeler of Burbank were in Glendale Thursday as guests of Mrs. Wheeler's mother, Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan of the Hawthorne apartments.

Mrs. Edwin Turner recently entertained with an informal luncheon in her home on Colorado boulevard. Roses embellished the table, at which covers were laid for six.

The meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. church has been postponed until Thursday, Oct. 22, the place of meeting to be announced at a later date.

The Baraca class of the First M. E. church, together with their friends, will enjoy a hayride tonight, leaving Glendale about 7 o'clock and riding out the San Fernando road to Roscoe and from there to Little Landers, Sunland, through Montrose and then home.

Mrs. Alexander Cross and daughter, Miss Margaret Cross, of 417 East Third street, were hostesses at a delightful little luncheon in their home recently, entertaining as guests Mrs. Henry Ward, Mrs. John Addison, Mrs. Ray Sherman and Mrs. Geo. Ward of Glendale.

A beautiful cabaret was opened in Glendale at noon today, but only for a few short hours, as Burton King, popular director of the Usona Film Company, needed the space at his big East Ninth street studio for other scenes of his latest two-reel feature picture, "From Out of the Shadow." Besides the regular members of the company, twenty extra people have been engaged for the production.

Mr. Ray Still of Los Angeles is among the recent arrivals at Thornycroft farm, 104 East Ninth street, having come to that popular resort to take the rest cure.

Mrs. John Addison, who is visiting in Glendale from Windsor Mills, Quebec, Canada, is a guest at present in the home of her sister, Mrs. George Ward, 222 West Third street.

The bill offered in the house at Washington for "eventual Philippine independence" was quite unnecessary. There is no present demand for legislation of this kind. Eventual Philippine independence is a thing long since conceded.

S. J. Reid of 234 Cedar street returned Wednesday evening from a visit of several weeks in Kansas and Missouri. Mr. Reid had a very enjoyable visit, but experienced some extremely hot weather during his visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson of 129 North Kenwood street, together with Mrs. Ruth Head of 124 North Louise street, and her fiancée, Mr. L. H. Harrod of Los Angeles, were entertained in Los Angeles last evening by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Harrod.

Mrs. E. Masters, Mrs. R. Masters, Mrs. William Masters, of Glendale, and Mrs. W. Bauer of Kansas City, Mo., were luncheon guests Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Fred J. Wheeler, 1330 North Maryland avenue. Pink roses and fern were used by the hostess in adorning her table and home.

Mr. Herbert G. Henning, formerly of West Seventh street, has accepted a position at Venice, where he will remain indefinitely. Mr. Henning, who is a well-known musician, wishes to thank his many friends and acquaintances who so generously patronized him when in search of music for their many social affairs.

Mr. C. H. Tupper, Mr. Wallace Tupper and Mr. Frank H. Vesper, all of Glendale, and all of whom went north a short time ago in search of bear, have returned from a splendid camping trip in the Kern mountains, but alas, with no bear. Small game was plentiful, but the rain washed away many cheerful thoughts and scouts over the hills.

Mrs. R. Bensabott and daughter, Miss Ruby Bensabott, of Thornycroft farm, 104 East Ninth street, entertained Dr. and Mrs. Sylvester Gwaltney of Los Angeles as dinner guests at the farm Thursday evening. Mr. Julius Bensabott, who for the past two weeks has been visiting his mother and sister, expects to return to his home in Chicago the first of the week.

ASKS CLEMENCY

Mrs. Katherine Tingley of the Theosophist Society has addressed the following letter to the newspapers of California:

"Is it not possible that every mother and father and friend to humanity in California will be glad to write a letter immediately to Governor Johnson, begging him to exercise his clemency in commuting the death sentence of young Ralph Fariss to one of life imprisonment? If Mrs. Horace Montague, left a widow with her two little babes, by Fariss' action, was magnanimous enough to plead that the life of her husband's slayer should be spared, surely we should be compassionate enough to do likewise.

I know that young Fariss is a changed man, for I have been in correspondence with him ever since he was incarcerated; and I am confident that if his life is spared, he will become a better man, and if he carries out his plan of self-improvement in the future, as he is doing now in the state penitentiary at San Quentin, he can make the world better for his living, and atone in large measure for his awful mistake. What gain can come to man, state or country by having this young, misguided and untrained youth strung up by the neck until he is dead?

I understand that unless the governor intervenes and gives Fariss another chance, he will be hanged in November. Trusting that tender mercy will inspire immediate action in this matter on the part of those to whom I have appealed, I leave young Fariss in the hands of the Higher Law, which is more merciful than man's law.

The following is what I have written to the governor, and I am still in hopes that if sufficient pressure of public opinion is brought to bear upon him, he will be glad to exercise his power of clemency with this young man, who, on account of his youth, lack of training, and desire to do better, is certainly more deserving than many who are reprieved:

Dear Governor Johnson:
I know you are a man of heart, and that you want to do the right thing; and I know that your position is a most difficult one, in considering the applications that are presented to you for pardon.

But I wish to bring once more to your attention the case of young Ralph Fariss, the slayer of Horace Montague, for I understand that his appeal for a new trial has been denied and that he is to be resented. He committed an awful crime. He sees it. He has learned his lesson. I am in correspondence with him, and I can see by every word he utters that his mind has opened up to the terrible wrong which he has done, and I can vouch for him. I am sure, from what I know of human nature, that he will improve the opportunity if allowed to live and become a self-respecting man.

To have him executed cannot square the account. He is an immortal soul, and he should have his chance in a more humane way. Unfortunately, the laws of our state still support capital punishment, but you, with your splendid humanism, by the stroke of your pen, can save the boy. The influence of this act will tell for splendid results in California, and I am sure will bring a response from all the noble-hearted people in this state.

Trusting in your magnanimity, I leave this misguided, ignorant minded boy's case in your hands, feeling that you will give him another chance.

HIS BIG MISTAKE

The apoplectic little man pounded the counter with his apoplectic little fist.

"I never dealt here before and I'll never deal here again!" he shouted. "The management here is rotten. You have nothing, nothing! I'll try one more. Have you any tomatoes?"

"No, sir, sorry, sir," replied the clerk.

"What? Not even in cans?"
"Not even in bottles."

The apoplectic little man crushed his hat down further on his head and bit his mustache until the blood came. He consulted the list in his hand.

"I'll give you another chance! Have you any potatoes? Think carefully now!"
"Not a potato in the place," said the clerk apologetically.
"Ye gods! Well! I'll give you one more chance. I'd like to see the end of this. Have you any sugar?"

"Not a grain, sir. Sorry, sir."

The apoplectic little man sank down on a stool and let his list flutter to the floor.

"And you call this a grocery store?" he said, tauntingly.

"No, sir," corrected the clerk mildly. "This is a cigar store."

The apoplectic little man rolled off the stool in a fit.—Detroit Free Press.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Chamber of Commerce will meet in regular session Friday night at 8 o'clock at the intermediate school. It is desired that we have a full house at this time. The meeting will be open to everyone, as an address will be given by Mr. Robert Jordan and Mr. Stewart Simons, vice-president of the San Gabriel Valley Inter-City Commission, in opposition to city and county consolidation. As this is a question we have heard very little about, and as it is of great importance to suburban towns, you should not fail to hear these two gentlemen, who have made deep study of this question. We invited them to speak at this meeting and they have kindly consented to do so. As this question is to be voted on in November, we should make the most of this opportunity. Come, every body.

H. A. WILSON, Clerk.

RELIEF THROUGH DIVERSIFIED CROPS

The present secretary of agriculture is not and never has been a politician. Consequently he administers his department in a straightforward, technical way, seeing facts as they are and dealing with them as a man should who is appointed to serve the state and producers and consumers of foodstuffs and the raw materials of industry. He has sympathy for cotton growers in the South, but he also sees clearly the limit of governmental aid to be given at this juncture if the state is to escape establishing precedents that will annoy it later. He has definite opinions about the desirability and the necessity of combined action by planters, merchants and bankers in deliberately limiting the acreage of next year's cotton crop, and he describes how he thinks it can be done effectively.

What seems to count most with him, however, as an expert adviser, is the far more strategic policy which the South may follow if it will; namely, substitution of food crops for cotton. A cotton crop reduced to a diminished world demand a corn, wheat and other foodstuffs output built up to meet a maximum world demand in 1915, would, it is thought, make the region economically independent. Georgia, for instance, would not spend $50,000,000 for western corn, as it did last year.

Department of agriculture officials and economists have been proclaiming this need of diversified crops to southern land owners and tenants for some years past, and some have heeded the admonition. Conditions giving point to the argument are so exceptionally acute at the present time that Secretary Houston's words may prove more effective than they have been hitherto. His concrete recommendation relative to the working of his theory is this: Southern bankers and merchants who advance moneys to farmers can, by the full power they have as lenders, make all loans for the coming season conditional on a reduced acreage of cotton and increased planting of food crops. Will they see the need and do as they are urged to do? Compliance would seem to spell unprecedented prosperity, and relief for congress from pressure urging paternal legislation of a doubtful character.

NON-PARTISAN RALLY

The Johnson-Eshleman non-partisan club of Glendale will hold a rally at the high school auditorium Saturday evening, Oct. 9, at 8 o'clock. This club is comprised of members of all political parties. Good speakers will be present.

W. E. EVANS, Pres.
A. D. PEARCE, Secy.

Word has been received from the Burbank sanitarium that Mrs. Geo. W. Peters, Jr., of 1724 West Broadway, who is at present a patient there, is greatly improved, but still in a precarious condition.

It is now among the possibilities, of course, that not only Niagara Falls, but Mammoth Cave and the Natural Bridge will again receive some attention.
