

CHORAL CLUB CONCERT

INTERESTED AUDIENCE HEARS ARTISTIC INTERPRETATION OF "THE MAY QUEEN"

When the Choral Club's concert opened Monday night in the High School auditorium it was greeted by a large, fashionable and critical audience. Most of the music lovers of Glendale were present to hear the society's interpretation of Sterndale-Bennet's fine composition, "The May Queen." The concert was opened by a delightfully smooth chorus, "Even Song," by Cadman. The chorus sang evenly and with much expression, showing evidence of faithful work.

This was followed by two solos by John Buchanan, the Scotch tenor, who sang with a beautifully clear, high voice, "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" and "My Ain Folk." He was loudly applauded and sang an encore.

Miss Susine Wessels, the young South African violin genius, who has delighted many audiences in Glendale by her wonderful, sympathetic playing, gave a "Romance" by Viueux-temps, with great delicacy and sweetness, responding as an encore with a "Sarabande." She was accompanied with much taste by Mrs. John R. Barrows.

Miss Clara A. Seymour then sang (a) "Essex Mesto" from Flotow's "Martha" and (b) Bartlett's "Elaine." Miss Seymour has beautiful mezzo-soprano voice and received well-deserved applause for her fine interpretations. She was accompanied on the piano with much artistic skill by Miss Ina Whitaker.

Then came the piece of the evening, the somewhat elaborate cantata, "The May Queen," by Sir W. Sterndale-Bennet. Mr. Poulin, director of the club, conducted throughout and the accompaniments were played by Miss Gertrude Champlain. If any criticism could be made of this presentation it would be that it was rather long. Still it was full of passages of rare beauty and choruses to which it was a delight to listen. It is needless to say that the chorus work was charmingly delicate and full of the spirit of Spring.

Mrs. C. H. Cunningham as the May Queen interpreted the soprano solos in a thoroughly admirable manner. Mrs. Frank Arnold as the queen sang in a beautiful contralto voice. Mr. O. F. Tollman sang the tenor parts of the lover. Mr. Frank Seager's fine bass voice was heard to great advantage in a number of solos.

"The May Queen" opens with a fine chorus, "O Month of May!" This was sung with much spirit and freshness of rendition. The Recitative and Airs throughout were given with much freedom and ease and gave voice to the composer's ideas of Springtime. In particular the solo and chorus, "With a Laugh As We Go Round," was wonderfully attractive and the joyousness of its notes lingers in the memory.

If one were to select an outstanding feature of the music it would be the fine bass chorus, "Tis Jolly to Hunt."

The Pagan music was played with much taste and effect by Miss Gertrude Champlain. The chorus, "Haste, Then Hautboys," was marked by admirable effect. The solo and chorus, "What Mean These Angry Sounds?" was given with wonderful expression by Mrs. Arnold and the chorus. Mrs. Arnold's beautiful contralto voice showed up in excellent form. The finale, "And the Clouds Have Passed Away," was an excellent finish to a most careful and finished performance. The club and its director are to be congratulated on this concert.

FILES CROSS COMPLAINT

C. W. Ingledue has filed a cross complaint against L. Andrews charging him with having on March 18, at the Fox-Woodsum lumber yard, committed a violent assault on him with his fists and with having attempted to strike him with an iron bar or instrument. It is stated in the complaint that the said assault was likely to and did produce great bodily injury to the complainant.

J. W. WRIGHT INJURED

While driving east on Broadway Monday afternoon M. B. Hood, jitney driver, ran into J. W. Wright, who was riding a bicycle. Wright was thrown from his wheel and the wheels of the jitney passed over both his ankles. The accident was witnessed by W. T. Nelson, 388 Cedar, and O. M. Clinton of the Broadway Garage. With their assistance Wright was attended to. It was discovered that while he was badly shaken and bruised and skinned about the ankles that he had received no farther injuries.

TO MAKE OWN ICE

GLENDALE MARKET INSTALLS REFRIGERATING MACHINE IN NEW STORE

C. W. Ingledue, proprietor of the Glendale Meat Market, is making every effort to have his new store, 548 W. Broadway, just a couple of doors from his present location, in first-class shape before the opening on Tuesday, March 28. The store which the meat market will occupy has been entirely renovated and put into first-class shape for a meat market.

A very fine refrigerator case has been installed at the back of the store. This is flanked by a very elaborate wall case which is far in advance of anything of the kind in the city. The dimensions of the cooling boxes is 7x8 feet and 8x11 feet respectively, inside measurement.

Mr. Ingledue has installed a 2½ ton Vibber ice machine. The ammonia compressor cools the cases. The machine is capable of manufacturing 200 pounds of ice daily. This ice will be used for the refrigeration of the large wholesale stock of poultry that will be kept and for the refrigeration of fish.

Mr. Ingledue is expecting that the new store will be fitted up in excellent shape by Tuesday. The new counters and other conveniences for the easy and sanitary handling of meats, poultry and fish will be greatly appreciated by the public. In every way the new store is more commodious and more convenient than the one where the Glendale Meat Market has made for itself a reputation for handling of first-class supplies.

MUNSON ATTENDS CONVENTION OF REXALL DEALERS

C. H. Munson, proprietor of Munson's Drug Store, attended the semi-annual convention of the Southern California Rexall Dealers at Los Angeles Tuesday.

Among the interesting addresses of the convention was one on the "War's Effect on the Tooth Brush Industry," by the foreign buyer of the United Drug Co.'s Rexall stores. This buyer, who contracts for 20,000,000 toothbrushes a year, said that the heaviest fighting now being done in the vicinity of Verdun, France, is right in the heart of the French tooth brush industry. France furnishes the greatest share of the world's high-grade tooth brushes, while families being engaged in the growing and manufacture of brushes in Alsace-Lorraine. An expert brush maker receives from 12 to 30c a day for his labor, the labor being so cheap, that the tooth brush trade has gone to Japan, where labor is also cheap. The Japanese are now receiving 20 per cent more for tooth brushes exported from that country than they did a year ago and have contracts ahead which will take three years to fill.

LECTURE ON "PATTERNS"

Mrs. Byram, head of the Probation department of the Juvenile court of Los Angeles, gave a most interesting, entertaining and instructive address to girls and mothers, Tuesday afternoon, in the auditorium of the High School. The auditorium was filled with a most attentive audience. Speaking to the girls Mrs. Byram won their attention by her profound sympathy with their problems and her thorough understanding of their needs and difficulties. There could be no mistaking the immediate influence which this experienced and sympathetic lady gained over the girls. She showed them the ideals on which they should base their lives and urged them to devote themselves to those ideals. She held them in breathless attention as she told of instances of girls who had come under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile court and how they had been handled and set on the right road.

In speaking to the mothers Mrs. Byram was equally successful. She told them to keep their girls busy and not allow them to gad about; to dress modestly so as to avoid undesirable attention; to keep them off the street. The Girls' Glee club sang two numbers with much acceptance.

HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST

Great interest is being taken in the oratorical contest, which is to take place Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the High School. On that day the seniors will take part in a contest to decide which of the class shall take part in the great oratorical competition between seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen, which will be staged later.

UNITED STATES MEXICAN EXPEDITION HAS SERIOUS TROUBLES WITH BAD WATER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, March 22.—An epidemic of pneumonia and dysentery has assailed the American troops in Mexican territory. The outbreak has affected a large number of men. Many have been sent back to the United States. Seven of the first to be sent home arrived in this city this morning. They stated that many of the soldiers who are still on the effective list are suffering from dysentery. The army surgeons have redoubled their sanitary precautions. They state that the drinking of impure water is the chief cause of the outbreak. The soldiers have been forbidden to drink indiscriminately of the water of the country. It must be boiled before it is fit to use. It is feared that the force may be seriously hampered in its movements by this outbreak.

CONNECTION WITH PERSHING CUT OFF

EFFORTS TO COMMUNICATE WITH UNITED STATES EXPEDITION IN MEXICO FAIL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, March 22.—All efforts to communicate with Gen. Pershing's expedition, which is now in search of Villa, in the difficult country in the vicinity of Casas Grandes, failed today. The wires have been cut and the wireless has failed. No message of any kind has been received from the expeditionary force for more than thirty-six hours. It is believed that Villa sympathizers are responsible for the cutting of the wires. Some army officers here think it possible, however, that the communication may have been cut by the supply wagons. No word has been received concerning the expedition from any quarter since last night.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

AMSTERDAM, March 22.—Advices from Bucharest, Roumania, state that Russian pressure in the Erzeroum vilayet has forced the Turks to abandon Erzincan, an important fortress town of 23,000 inhabitants. Erzincan was well-fortified and capable of effective defense; but the Turks became alarmed at the rapid advance of the Russians after the fall of Erzeroum fortress and blew up the arsenals and dismantled the forts, before evacuating the city.

HELD UP BY BANDITS

AUTO ROBBERS TAKE $51 FROM BURD COOKIE COMPANY'S AGENT NEAR LONG BEACH

Daring auto bandits, operating on the road from Long Beach, caught in their toils last night W. T. Willis, 118 Howard street, Glendale, who is an agent of the Burd Cookie company of this city. Willis has been two years in the employment of the Burd Cookie company and has been making his regular route to Long Beach without mishap until last night.

The routine of business brought Willis to Los Angeles, where he was detained longer in the morning than he expected. This made him later than usual in his rounds at Long Beach and it was not until about 7 p. m. that he finished his deliveries and collections and started for home.

When about three miles out from Long Beach, in the vicinity of Nigger Slough, he suddenly perceived an auto standing by the roadside. Its lights were extinguished. Two men sprang from the side of the auto holding up their arms to signal Willis to stop. Thinking that they had met with some accident or had run out of gasoline Willis stopped his car. Immediately the bandits jumped, one on each side of his car and thrusting revolvers into his face bade him deliver up the money he had with him. They searched his pockets and found $51, which they took. Other money, his gold watch, and his bank book they did not find. The road is well frequented and the bandits appeared afraid lest someone should come up while they were engaged in their work.

Taking the money, with which they appeared satisfied, they told Willis to "beat it." This he did, thankful to have escaped without injury and completely dazed by his experience. The robbers wore heavy black mustaches which Mr. Willis says he believes to have been false. They had evidently attempted to disguise themselves. The case was reported to the Los Angeles police at once but nothing was done about it by them as it falls under the jurisdiction of the county. Three hours later at the eastern approach to the Tropico bridge on the San Feliz road, two men believed to be the same bandits who robbed Mr. Willis attempted to hold up Marco H. Hellman, the banker. They would have succeeded in their attempt had not the banker's chauffeur suddenly swerved his car and taking the risk of overturning in the ditch managed to get past the hold-up men and get away at full speed.

This attempt having been reported to the Los Angeles police a detachment of men started out to search for the bandits but found no trace of them.

PACKER MAKES PROGRESS

Stephen C. Packer of Riverdale Drive, Glendale, candidate for supervisor, has succeeded in doing what was thought almost impossible. He has the endorsement of every faction in Glendale, which he could never have had if he was not the worthy, capable man whom all know him to be. A thorough business man, he will prove of immense advantage in the board of county supervisors and will give the people what they need with the least expenditure for thorough work.

Mr. Packer thoroughly realizes that his friends, who know him best, are exerting themselves in his behalf, and he sees evidences every day of work done in his behalf. When Mr. Packer is elected he will not neglect the duties of the office. Clubs are being formed over the entire district and words of encouragement are arriving daily.

sume the office hampered by hundreds of promises, but will be at perfect liberty to exercise his best judgment and experience in behalf of the people of the county.

Defeat is not even considered by Mr. Packer's friends who know him best and realize the sterling qualities he possesses for the proper conduct of the office.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

Harold York, who was arrested Tuesday evening at the corner of Brand and Broadway, on suspicion, by officers Lawrence and Arrington, was arraigned Wednesday morning before Judge Whomes. He had a number of Mexican bills in his possession, a check book and some other papers of no significance. Judge Whomes discharged him as there was no evidence that he had been guilty of any crime or misdemeanor.

SCHOOL AND CAMPUS

JUNIORS TO PRESENT "THE BURGLAR"—LECTURE ON "ENGLISH PEOPLE—ON THE TRACK"

The Junior cast which has been working on "The Burglar" will present it in a few weeks before the Student Body. A contest was held last Thursday, when a Junior and a Senior cast presented part of the play before the Dramatic Club. The judges decided that the Junior cast gave the better performance. The cast consists of Helen Harden, Jeanette McLennan, Margaret Boucher, Evangeline Hunchberger and Katherine Renshaw.

Don't forget "Clean Thursday" at school tomorrow.

Interesting Lecture

The English history and many of the English classes enjoyed a most interesting lecture last Friday morning. Mrs. Edstrom, a most interesting character, and fascinating speaker, gave a talk on "The English People and Their History." She later spoke of "Literary England." Mrs. Edstrom is an American born woman who has spent many years abroad, mostly in France and England. Her talk was intensely interesting and greatly enjoyed by all the students who attended.

Oxy Glee Club

Last Friday the members of the Student Body were entertained at a pay assembly by the Glee Club of Occidental college. The selection most enjoyed was a splendid reproduction of Italian grand opera entitled "Italian Salad." Roger Brown, with his clear tenor, even excelled Caruso. "The Occidental" in speaking of the entertainment, says: "To some of the spellbound audience, however, the selection was accompanied with a pang of regret as they recalled the memory of the two or three dollars which they spent to attend the inferior production of the Boston Grand Opera company at the Mason."

Mr. Tedball, president of the club, gave several splendid readings. He made a great hit by reciting a selection entitled, "Now You Get Up."

Baseball

The fellows that will probably play at Alhambra next Saturday are: Francy, Sharp, catchers; Lukins, Verdugo, pitchers; Padelford, Shoals, Heacock, 1st base; Fische, 2nd base; Phillips, s.s.; Westwood, McGillis, 3rd base; West, I.f.; Crangall, c.f.; Lukins, Shoals, r.f.

General Notes

Miss Zeyla Cook, '16, after spending over a year in San Francisco, has again entered Glendale High. Zeyla is one of our best racquet wielders and is welcomed most heartily.

The baseball team will wear their new suits for the first time at Alhambra next Saturday in the first game of the season. We hope that they will play as well as ever in their new scenery.

A bunch of the school's best mountain hikers with Mr. Oliver as pathfinder, took a trip to Mount Wilson last Friday night.

The Juniors have three speakers who will enter the tryout for the Annual Oratorical contest.

Track Meet

Glendale made the best showing in the track meet at Alhambra last Saturday that they have made in several years. The point winners were: J. T. Beach, who took first place in both the 100 yd. dash and 220. He made the 100 in 10 2-5 seconds and the 220 in 23 2-5. Renshaw took 3rd place in the low hurdles. Lukins took 1st place in the shot put (40 ft. 1 in.). Stokes got first in the high jump (5 ft. 4 in.). Griswold took fourth place in the mile. All the fellows have won their letters.

BUY IN GLENDALE COMMUNITY EDITION

Last Saturday's "Buy in Glendale Community" edition of The Evening News was such a marked success in the eyes of the patrons of the paper, and so many good things were crowded out of that issue, that it has been decided to publish another "Buy at Home" edition on Saturday of this week.

The Glendale community is an excellent trading point, and to give the business houses of this community the bulk of the patronage of people residing in Glendale territory will add materially to the prosperity and wealth of the community. The columns of The Evening News are open for good logical reasons why trading at home builds up a community.

For reasons why Glendale community people should spend the bulk of their money, that is spent, with Glendale community merchants, see next Saturday's issue of The Evening News.

BUILDING UP A HOME TOWN

All over the United States communities about the size of Glendale, that have reached a critical stage in their existence, are debating the question of patronizing home industry. It appears that everywhere outside firms by agents who sell direct to the customer and others who sell by mail subject the local merchant to a fierce competition that makes it extremely difficult for him to make a living. The outside man does nothing for the community. He comes in, uses its light, its streets and other conveniences and even if subjected to a small tax, departs from the community with his profits in his pocket to spend them elsewhere.

All this is naturally very detrimental to the welfare of any community. The question of a community's prosperity is inevitably decided by the prosperity of its merchants and business men. If they are poor and struggling the community is poor and struggling. Free trade is no more advantageous for a community than for a nation and the community that learns how to protect itself and to foster local business is the community that will be found enduring and prospering.

Non-progressive communities can easily be known by the appearance of their streets, which are neglected and badly lighted; by their newspapers which carry all manner of the cheapest outside advertising that is designed to get money out of the community; and by the large number of their inhabitants who deal with the mail order stores or the big neighboring city.

If a community is to be progressive it must be self supporting and free from outside influence. It must be sufficient to itself. Its money must be made within its boundaries and kept in circulation there. In this way every avenue of life in such a community is kept in constant stimulation. People have money to spend. One merchant patronizes another and trade and business flourish in mutual support.

A progressive city is known by its good stores and by the number of local people who patronize them. Thus local labor flourishes; local taxes are paid; local rents are remunerative and the city shows the influence of this gratifying prosperity in its every phase.

DEFRAUDING THE CUSTOMS

In all ages women have been notorious as smugglers. It is not only the case that a great many of the great jewel smuggling frauds have been perpetrated by women; but even the average woman finds it difficult to realize that she is doing anything out of the way in smuggling in small articles of personal wear. Every train that crosses the international boundary between the United States and Canada conveys more or less contraband on the persons of those who are traveling. This smuggling is particularly in furs. Women leave the United States with no fur adornment and return wearing fine sealskin coats, boas and muffs. In some instances these articles are worth thousands of dollars.

It is difficult to stop that kind of smuggling. In the case of smuggling in articles from across the Atlantic it is easier to detect the offender. The party who smuggles personal apparel is usually a woman of some standing and she is usually caught. The revenue officers have detectives in Paris, Berlin and Vienna and in every big city in Europe and these men and women note the purchases made and cable the information to this side. Then the officers on this side stop the would-be smuggler and charge her with defrauding Uncle Sam.

The latest offender of this class is Mrs. Charlotte A. Warren, a fashionable lady of New York, who is well known in Washington, D. C., and in the most exclusive Newport circles. She swore that she had only $1500 worth of gowns, etc., in her trunks, when she should have certified to $10,000 worth. She has been indicted by the grand jury and it is believed that she will be sent to jail. It will be quite a sensation if the judge should send this member of Mrs. Ogdens Mills' "One Hundred and Fifty Exclusives" to the prison cell.

Mrs. Warren swore that three of the gowns had been bought in Paris on a previous occasion and had paid duty. She may be sent to prison for two years for that statement. Some of the gowns which figure in the indictment are creations of the famous Callot. One is a black and metal thread evening costume trimmed with lace; another is a flame colored gown, beaded; another a flame-colored evening costume. That is as near as the common revenue officer can get to describing these heavenly creations.

There is no doubt that Mrs. Warren will be a sadder but a wiser woman after her experience with the customs officers and the courts. Her money which she tried to save may not save her from punishment and there is really no reason why a woman who has so much money should not be punished just like any "common person" for her breach of the laws.

Spring, with its suggestions of resurrection, brings to Europe more tales of death. Thousands are dying ineffectually in the swamps of the Pripet marshes in Poland, more thousands are perishing in the holocaust at Verdun and still others are going down to their death in the ocean. Man seems to be just at present a very inharmonious element in the scheme of God's creation and the eye of the Almighty alone can pierce beyond these thick clouds and darkness and behold the visions of peace. Meantime the United States is doubly blessed in peace and prosperity. The only cloud on our horizon is the Mexican affair. At present it is no bigger than a man's hand, but who can tell to what dimensions it may grow?

It was inevitable that the telegraphic line laid by the American expeditionary force in its advance through Mexico should have been cut. The hostile Mexicans, among whom may be counted every peon in the country, could be trusted to see to that. That no communication by wireless has been obtained need cause no alarm. The American troopers are efficient enough to care for themselves and the enemy also. The incident, however, may open the eyes of many to the vicissitudes of war.

RESOLUTION PASSED BY PACIFIC ELECTRIC RAILWAY AGENTS ASSOCIATION

At the last several meetings of the Pacific Electric Railway Agents' association the question of motor truck and automobile bus competition has been discussed with a view of meeting such competition. Therefore, for the purpose of outlining a definite policy to be followed by the members of this association the following resolution is offered:

WHEREAS, The unfair motor truck and jitney bus competition with the Pacific Electric Railway Company has become acute and the revenues of the Company are being greatly decreased; and

WHEREAS, These busses and motor trucks are operated over the streets and highways that are built out of public funds, thereby furnishing free roads for such buses and motor trucks; and

WHEREAS, Such motor trucks do not give a regular, reliable or dependable service compared in any way to the service given by the Pacific Electric Railway, which has been the greatest one factor in the developing of Southern California, outside of natural advantages; and

WHEREAS, Such motor trucks and buses have not up to the present time developed any new country, and will not develop any country as has been done by the Electric Railways; and

WHEREAS, Such regulation that has been put into effect is of such a weak nature that it amounts to practically no regulation at all.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of this Association notify the Superintendent of his Division, with a copy of such letter to the Traffic Manager, of any and all accidents to passengers or damage to freight, when such accident or damage is chargeable to motor truck or jitney bus transportation.

RESOLVED, That members of this Association learning of any passenger or freight traffic that possibly may be secured in competition with jitney buses or motor trucks, when he cannot give his personal time to the securing of such traffic, immediately notify the Traffic Manager, with copy of such notification to his Superintendent, so that proper effort may be made to secure the same.

RESOLVED, That members of this Association notify their Superintendent promptly when changes in schedules of trains in and out of their station will serve to secure passenger and freight traffic against jitney bus and motor truck competition, so that the same may be given consideration.

RESOLVED, That members of this Association report to City and County officers any and all violations of City or County ordinances, giving license number of the machine.

RESOLVED, That every effort be made by members of this Association to secure all traffic, in competition with jitney buses and motor trucks, whether one passenger or parties, small package freight or carload shipment, for the Pacific Electric Railway, bearing in mind the fact that small amounts secured by so many members as there are in this Association, in the aggregate amounts to considerable revenue in the course of a year.

RESOLVED, That the members of this Association make every effort to get intimately acquainted with County officers, City officers, and newspaper men, as well as the public in general, and at every opportunity explain the unfairness of the present motor truck and automobile competition.

RESOLVED, That the members of this Association urge the editors of newspapers from time to time to publish articles in their columns, with a view of having the public well and fairly informed on this important matter which threatens the present high-class service and future of Electric Railways.

RESOLVED, That the members of this Association urge City and County officials to pass ordinances that will require motor trucks and buses to give a regular service, charge uniform prices for transportation, and pay to the City, County or State an amount equal to that paid by the Pacific Electric Railway, which is 5 1/4 cents on each dollar of revenue received for the transportation of passengers and freight.

RESOLVED, That every Agent and member of this Association make it his duty to attend the meetings of the Association so that we may all be fully informed on matters that are of vital interest to the Company that we serve; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this Resolution be placed on the minutes of this meeting and that a copy of the same be sent to all members of the Association as well as to all officers of the Pacific Electric Railway.

"A train leaves New York," supposed the teacher, "traveling forty miles an hour. It is following thirty minutes later by a train traveling eighty miles an hour. At what point will the second train run into the first?"

The class seemed at a loss; that is, all except Willie Green, who was standing in the aisle vigorously waving his hand.

"Well, Willie?" said the teacher. "At the hind end of the rear car, ma'am," answered Willie.—Onward.

NEW BARREL SKIRTS

By Margaret Mason

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"Down to the cooperage, sir, she said.

"To get designs for my new spring suit;

Just like a barrel it will be cute."

NEW YORK, March 17.—What with the new barrel skirts and the short box coats, coopers and carpenters seem more qualified to turn out the new spring toilettes than tailors and dressmakers. An electrician might need to be called in on some of the jobs to do the wiring on those hip hoop effects. Even the plumber might not be amiss when it comes to the piping that promises to be so popular a trimming on ruffle edges and as a finish around necks and sleeves.

The barrel skirt is sure to be an all around winner. Any brutal husband who refuses to let his wife wear one is in for a barrel of trouble. As may be judged from its name, the contour of the new skirt bears a marked resemblance to that common wooden receptacle used for encasing flour and apples. How fitting that this model should be chosen to encase the flower of womanhood and the apple of Mr. Everyman's eye. Of course we often hear also of the pork barrel, but why go further into the matter?

It requires just seven yards of taffeta to fashion one of these new skirts. They are set onto a rather high waist line and immediately begin to barrel out over the hips. Further similitude to the genuine article

INTEREST INCREASES IN EVANGELIST'S WORK AT M. E. CHURCH

Evangelist Ireland, at the First Methodist church, is getting a larger hearing each evening. The interest is growing with the increase in attendance. Last night the evangelist was in good spirits and threw himself into the work with all his Irish spirit. Humor, pathos, logic—all were brought into use as he spoke of people shorn of power. He took for his lesson last evening a character study of the Hebrew hero, Samson.

In dealing with his theme Ireland showed how men who were once stalwart Christian men lose their power. "Samson lost his power because he played the fool. What a sight, to see a man who once slew his foes with the jaw bone of a Missouri mule, shorn of his strength, the sport of his enemies, because of his own folly. Samson gloried in his might; but forgot that it came from God and allowed himself to get on the toboggan. The men who were once influential for God, but are now cold and indifferent, are a bunch of backsliders. The Methodist preach backsliding and all the denominations practice it. Many people, on their journey from the East, throw their church letters on a peak of the Rocky Mountains and say: Good by God, I'm going to California."

In graphic language Mr. Ireland told of the things men neglect and thus lose their power. In a kindly yet intensely earnest fashion he drilled into the consciences of his hearers. Religion, with the evangelist, is not a matter of the emotions but of the conscience and the will. There is a robustness about his appeal which makes a demand for moral stamina. His is a call to a virile Christianity.

The chorus last night was larger than at any preceding evening and led the singing with a spirit that was contagious. Much is being made of the music. Mrs. Cammack and Mr. Ralph Lusby rendered a duet, "Something Whispers in My Soul." Rarely indeed does one hear gospel song better interpreted.

This evening Dr. Marple of Los Angeles will be present and sing. He is a well known tenor singer and will have a message in song.

MRS. KENDALL'S DEATH

Mrs. Mary Kendall, a member of N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps, passed away at the family residence, Fifth and Angelina streets, in Burbank Monday. Funeral services were held at the home of the deceased this morning and the remains were then sent to North Dakota, where the interment will occur.

LOST GIRL FOUND

Miss Ruth Van Alstein, 1447 Riverdale drive, who was reported in the Los Angeles papers as lost, is at home. The report originated from the fact that the young lady had gone to visit some girl friends and had neglected to notify her people immediately.

COMPLAINT AGAINST JAPS

Ozano Saito and S. Made, two Japanese who live on Vine street, were charged with disturbing the peace by Corwin Wilson, 1628 Vine street. It was alleged that the two samurai made loud and unusual noises and were guilty of tumultuous and offensive conduct and that they used vulgar, profane and indecent language. Saito and Made were bound over in the sum of $10 each to appear before Judge Whomes Wednesday afternoon.

FOREST TREES

There is something nobly simple and pure in a taste for the cultivation of forest trees. It argues, I think, a sweet and generous nature to have this strong relish for the beauties of vegetation, and this friendship for the hardy and glorious sons of the forest. He who plants an oak looks forward to future ages, and plants for posterity. Nothing can be less selfish than this.

Keeping up a fit proportion of forests to arable land is the prime condition of human health. If the trees go, man must decay. Whosoever works for the forests works for the happiness and permanence of our civilization. A tree may be an obstruction, but it is never useless. Now is the time to work if we are to be blessed and not cursed by the people of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. The Nation that neglects its forests is surely destined to ruin.

Old trees in their living state are the only things that money can not command. Rivers leave their beds, run into cities and traverse mountains for it; obelisks and arches, palaces, amphitheatres and pyramids rise up like exhalations at its bidding. Even the free spirit of man, the only thing great on earth, crouches and covers in its presence. It passes away and vanishes before venerable trees.

THE BRAVE AND TRUE

Oh! Brave and true! You who can march away With measured tread, beneath your colors gay; Feeling the warmth of kiss so lately pressed, The throb of loving heart against your breast; Knowing not what may be your dole of pain Before those clinging arms draw close again, Hark! The drum rolls, the trumpet blares its call, Forward! forget! forget, oh heart! thy all!

Oh! Brave and true! You who can crouch so still In ambush there below the beetling hill: The soft breeze stirs your hair and fills your eyes, As slow you raise them to the darkening skies, What horrors grip you, that your latest breath May swift be choked in the fierce clutch of death! Wild love of life hot surges through your vein, When home—love—all, are blotted out in pain.

Oh! Brave and true, who lie beneath the sky, Your anguish over, drawn your last deep sigh; No more shall cannon smoke hot sear your eyes, While rolling thunder drowns your dying cries. No more shall feverish torture fill the brain, And wasted hand clutch the hot brow in vain; So still you lie, bathed in the moon's cool light, On the field's breast, blood-drench'd and dim with night!

Oh! Brave and true, you who can love and give, And far away must only blindly live, Through wide black days of agony and fear, In chill dark nights too deep for sob or tear; Hours, days, nights, weeks, dumb-stricken in your woe, As mutely through your homely tasks you go, Each sound swift chills your blood—Oh! Woman, you, You—Wives and Mothers, are the brave and true! —H. C. Baker, in The People's Home Journal for March.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS CAMPAIGN

The following editorial in the Fresno Republican makes a convincing and forceful appeal for arousing interest in the anti-tuberculosis campaign:

"We cannot balance one ill against another, and say that one should be helped and righted and another neglected. The quality of human mercy cannot be strained in this way. Each need must make its appeal, and each receive succor according to the effect made upon the human heart. "But if there is any one appeal that should come very close home to us at this time, it is the call for help for the fight on tuberculosis. For the ravages of consumption strike both against our neighbors and ourselves. The battle must be waged for their sakes and for our own, for unselfish and for selfish reasons. Every impulse that can move humanity calls for subscriptions to the Red Cross fund at this time, except possibly that there is little spectacular about the fight on tuberculosis. Its pleading victims number many more millions than there are in Belgium, but they do not call with one voice. They have no great race cry as have the sufferers of Poland. They have not the sturdy bodies, nor even the hardy souls of the Serbians. They are just poor human sufferers of every race and land, many of them close here among us, spreading their contagion as they themselves have been the victims of a contagion that had social surroundings or bad food or bad air or bad shelter had inflicted upon them.

"There has been a mistaken theory that civilization has been the evil in that it has preserved the weak while savagery preserved the strong, and that for this reason civilization has deteriorated the race physically. Certainly this cannot apply to the effects of tuberculosis, for this contagion carries with it its own seeds of degeneracy. While this disease attacks the weak, it is true, it also attacks the strong and makes them weak. It pulls down often those whom society can least afford to miss. "We have no more important problem before us than a kindly yet stern and effective method of dealing with this disease and of all its victims."

A UNIQUE NEWSPAPER

Buenos Aires, South America, capital city of the Republic of Argentina, maintains an important daily newspaper, "La Prensa," which is different from any other publication in the world in that it not only circulates the daily news, but provides free legal advice to the public, and a medical and dental service without charge. It conducts a school of music, bureaus of information relative to schools, etc., and maintains rooms for public meetings, plays, concerts and lectures. It also furnishes a library and reading rooms for the use of the public, as well as luxurious apartments for the entertainment of distinguished guests. On the roof of its fine building is an observatory which keeps track of the weather and locates fires by aid of its powerful searchlight. "La Prensa" supports for the benefit of its employees a restaurant, gymnasium and hospital. Its editor-in-chief is Doctor Adolfo E. Davila, Senora Angela de Costa of Buenos Aires is the president of the South American Association for Universal Peace and this flourishing capital city is keenly interested in all the great international questions of the day.—From the People's Home Journal for March.

A CAMP-FIRE GARDEN

Last summer my chum and I, who belong to the "Camp-fire Girls," made a garden, and called it Arikari, which is the name of our camp. Our organization teaches us to live out-of-doors as much as possible and love everything that grows, and we earned several honors from our garden work.

Mother gave us a corner of her garden, a square of about twenty feet, and made a wager with us that we would not raise enough to pay for our seed. Camp-fire girls never lose a wager, and we girls worked hard to win ours. We arranged the garden in beds and rows, planting radishes, lettuce, peas, string beans, onion sets and seeds, beets, spinach, carrots and parsley. We also set out four tomato plants. Around the entire plot we planted a border of flowers—nasturtiums, pinks, phlox, zinnias, candy-tuft and sweet alyssum.

We worked in our garden, weeding and hoeing, in the evenings and on Saturdays till school was out. After every rain we cultivated it, and it was so much fun to work together. For our seeds we expended seventy-five cents and ten cents for a market basket, and when our vegetables were ready we arranged them in bunches, and sold them to our friends. Mother was our first customer. Altogether, we sold five dollars' worth of vegetables and had the enjoyment out of our flowers besides.—From The People's Home Journal.

CRYING BABIES AND THE CAUSE

The mother is usually responsible for baby's colic, and the causes are many, such as lack of exercise in the fresh air, constipation, extreme nervousness, worry, fright, shock or outbreaks of violent temper. Any of these will affect the mother's milk so as to cause colic in the baby. Cold hands and feet also cause colic. If the child's extremities are cold it interferes with good digestion and colic results.

Few women in these days can successfully nurse their babies past the eighth or tenth month. Later than this children rarely thrive on breast milk. To make weaning easy I would advise, within the first week or two, to give one bottle feeding in the twenty-four hours. During the second month a second bottle feeding, and about the fifth or sixth, a third. By adopting this method the baby's stomach, almost from birth, is trained to digest two kinds of milk—the cow's milk as easily as breast milk. This makes weaning an easy task and does not affect the baby unpleasantly as does the sudden change from breast milk to cow's milk or other variety of infant food. Take the gradual method with a baby.—Marianna Wheeler in The People's Home Journal for March.

INSISTANCE OF NATURE

We may shut our eyes but we can not help knowing That skies are clear and grass is growing, The breeze comes whispering in our ear, That dandelions are blossoming near, That maize has sprouted, that streams are flowing, That the river is bluer than the sky, That the robin is plastering his house hard by.

It took old nature some fifty years To give a tree its majesty and power, And now some fool with an axe appears And cuts it down in a short half hour.

He that planteth a tree is the servant of God, He provideth a kindness for many generations, And faces that he hath not seen shall bless him.

There are three green eggs in a small brown pocket And the breeze will swing and the gale will rock it, Till three little birds on the thin edge teeter, And our God be glad and our world be sweeter.

Faint murmurs from the pine tops reach my ear, As if a harp string—touched in some far sphere— Vibrating in the lucid atmosphere, Let the soft south wind waft its music here.

SUCH AN INTELLIGENT DOG

An old lady rented a furnished villa for the summer, and with the villa a large dog also went.

In the sitting room of the villa was a comfortable armchair. The old lady liked this chair better than any other in the house. She always made for it the first thing. But, alas, she nearly always found the chair occupied by the large dog.

Being afraid of the dog, she never dared bid it get out of the chair, but instead she would go to the window and call "cats."

Then the dog would rush to the window and bark and the old lady would slip into the vacant chair quietly.

One day the dog entered the room and found the old lady in possession of the chair. He strolled over to the window and, looking out, appeared much excited and set up a tremendous barking.

The old lady arose and hastened to the window to see what was the matter, and the dog quietly climbed into the chair.

Jakamel—Yes, and you usually get smooth on the top before you get there.

"Have you read 'Freckles,?'" "No, thank goodness, mine are light brown."
