

MANY CO-OPERATE

WHOLESOME RIVALRY AMONG GLENDALEANS IN MAILING ADVERTISING MATTER

By the Secretary of Glendale Chamber of Commerce

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce keeps a record book in which people here (even visitors who like Glendale) write addresses of friends in other places who might be interested in California, and induced to at least visit Glendale while home-hunting on the Pacific Coast.

That fact was made public just a month ago to-day, at the opening of the Christian Endeavor Convention. The first day three addresses were given by Mrs. John Paul; then C. Berger gave three. The next was given by Dr. C. Irving Mills, Rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church. C. R. Norton, 508 Lomita avenue, gave five; John Seng, 916 West Second street, gave 7; Walter E. Palmer, promoter of the Glendale Rifle and Revolver Club, contributed 2, with several scattering. But for three days many hundreds of the Aloha Leaflets and the Greeting from the Glendale Chamber of Commerce were taken from our office by the Christian Endeavor visitors, or circulated among the audiences in the large tabernacle. Endeavorers are still taking that literature, or sending for it from other cities.

People from Eagle Rock, Sherman, Tropic, Hollywood and the Pasadena get it to send away to eastern friends; willing to advertise Glendale on her merits.

A special hit was made by Mr. James A. Carns of the Glendale Horse-shoe Club, of which the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is a member; not to pitch quito so much as to know the good fellows who get so much enjoyment out of that healthful sport.

Mr. Carns came into the Chamber of Commerce for a visit, and gave the names of ten personal friends of his, who have made fortunes in rice planting, down in Arkansas, where the Secretary is also acquainted among the zinc miners.

Mr. Carns said those ten, and others he will tell of later, are just about ready to come to some very desirable place like Glendale, to purchase homes and settle down to enjoy life, as life can be enjoyed only in Glendale, The Beautiful.

Mr. H. V. Adams, 141 Elrose Ave., Glendale, gave six names. Numerous others have written in that book the address of self and friends. Then the grocer, C. K. Slonneger, and his wife, 450 West Broadway, just sent in the following letter:

"To The Chamber of Commerce, Glendale.
Gentlemen:
Dear Sirs: As per request of Mr. Church, I herewith submit fifty names and addresses of persons who are known to me as friends and relatives. You may use them as you see proper, and oblige.
Yours very truly,
C. K. SLONNEGER."

Mr. Slonneger used to live at Liberty, Indiana, but traveled all round that part of the country in both Indiana and Ohio, as well as in Illinois, in the insurance business. The addresses he gives covers a wide range through half a dozen states.

Just after the terrible cyclone which passed through New Albany, Indiana, across the Ohio river from Louisville, Ky., several dozen photographs of cyclone scenes were sent to Mr. Charles Ravenscroft, janitor of Masonic Temple in Glendale, by his Masonic friend, Mr. Lawrence, who visited our city a short time before that cyclone. Mr. Ravenscroft kindly loaned those pictures to the Chamber of Commerce, where they are displayed on a large card for the benefit of any one interested. A great many people come in to see them. Saturday a lady of the Garden Society was there placing fresh flowers in the Chamber of Commerce window, which is kept so beautifully decorated by that public spirited society that hundreds of citizens and visitors stop to see it. With this lady was her little niece who glanced at those carded pictures of destruction and, with bated breath, exclaimed: "Oh, look, Aunt, the Germans have been there."

But Mr. Ravenscroft followed up his kindness in a very practical way. He sent in the addresses of another half hundred personal friends who live in that cyclone belt and who, as he says, ought to come to Glendale. They are being asked to do so, and Glendale has a good friend on the ground in the person of Mr. Lawrence, with whom the Chamber of Commerce will correspond.

The plan is to place the name of

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

MAKE RULES FOR CONTEST—SENIORS REHEARSE FAITHFULLY FOR CLASS PLAY

A short meeting of the four contestants for the oratorical contest was called yesterday afternoon in Room 9, Mr. Howe presiding. The purpose of the gathering was to settle all disputes which have arisen concerning the coming contest, and to form several new rules in regard to the affair. Drawings were made by the contestants for their places on the program. Frank Balthis, the sophomore candidate, drew first place; Harold Venske, of the class of '17, second; Harland Durand, of the class of '18, third; and Olive Taylor, the freshman entry, last.

Rehearsals have been scheduled for every evening this week for the two casts of the senior class play, "Amaryllis of Clothes Line Alley." As the play is to be staged in a few weeks, Miss Terry is now working the young stars overtime. All the parts have been memorized, and she is now spending her time on the action of the play. All are responding excellently, and a huge success is assured in this year's production.

The baseball team is leaving an unusually strenuous task this week, three games being scheduled for four days. Wednesday they will play St. Vincent's College team on our home grounds, Thursday with Harvard Military Academy, also on our home grounds, and Saturday at South Pasadena. The two latter are league games and are of great importance to our boys. Glendale is now in second place, and two victories this week will put us on top. The game which was scheduled for last Saturday has been postponed indefinitely.

CHILDREN SALUTE THE FLAG

An article published in Monday's News on supposedly good authority stated that the flag salute was given in the Glendale schools only on special occasions. Some of the principals of the city schools are taking exception to this statement. Miss Annie L. McIntyre, principal of the Central avenue school, states that the salute to the flag is given at that school every Monday morning and has been for the past four years, ever since the school was first opened. In addition the children salute the flag on patriotic days and when all the children assemble in the auditorium. Sometimes the salute is given out of doors to teach the boys to remove their hats when saluting the flag. Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, principal of the Broadway school, says this ceremony is observed in her school also once every week. We were misinformed and no doubt the children in all the Glendale schools are taught to manifest their patriotism in this way at regular intervals.

DEATH OF W. R. WALKER

William R. Walker, long a respected resident of Glendale, passed away at his home, 439 East Second street, early Tuesday morning, April 17, 1917.

Mr. Walker was born May 22, 1843, at West Boylston, Mass. He came to California fourteen years ago, locating at Long Beach, where he lived for four years. During his residence of ten years in Glendale he was prominently identified with business and real estate interests here and was known for his progressive spirit and his business judgment and integrity.

He leaves to mourn his death, his widow and four children, Franklin E. of Long Beach, Mrs. Alice E. Tyler of Oakdale, Mass., Frederick B. and Howard W. Walker of Glendale. He is also survived by a brother in Los Angeles, a sister in Hemet, Cal., and a sister in Athol, Mass.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist church, the Seavern-Letton-Frey Co. in charge. Interment will be in Forest Lawn cemetery.

SIXTY-FOURTH ANNIVERSARY

A remarkable example of longevity and married happiness is that of Mr. and Mrs. John Roper, parents of Mrs. J. F. McIntyre of 315 Cedar street, who are to-day celebrating the sixty-fourth anniversary of their wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Roper were married in Horicon, Wisconsin, more than a half century ago, and have had eight children, four of whom reside on the West coast. Mrs. Daisy Matthes, a daughter, lives in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Roper have made their home during the past seven years' time in Glendale with their daughter, Mrs. J. F. McIntyre.

Mr. Roper is a member of the local Odd Fellows Lodge.

ENEMY SUBMARINE IN AMERICAN WATERS

BOSTON NAVY YARD HEARS REPORT OF ENGAGEMENT BETWEEN AMERICAN DESTROYER AND U-BOAT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
BOSTON, April 17.—Official report of an engagement between the American destroyer Smith and an enemy submarine were sent by wireless from Fire Island to the navy yard here by way of the cruiser Chester. The report states that the Smith sighted the submarine this morning. The submarine fired a torpedo, missing the Smith, and then submerged and escaped. The fact that there is an enemy submarine in American waters is making a great stir in shipping and naval circles. There is much speculation as to a submarine being located on this side of the Atlantic.

SEEK SUPPORT FOR CONSCRIPTION BILL

REPUBLICAN LEADERS OPPOSE DRAFTING SOLIERS UNTIL VOLUNTARY METHOD FAILS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, April 17.—Efforts to obtain non-partisan support for the conscription bill were evident this morning when President Wilson conferred with Republican leaders following opposition to the bill. It is understood that Chairmen Dent of the House Military committee holds that the bill will not pass unless it provides that enlistment first be made voluntary. Some favor Wilson calling for a half million volunteers in 90 days with the machinery fixed to authorize conscription immediately if the response is not considered sufficient.

FIRE AUTO CASE

GLENDALE WINS SUIT GROWING OUT OF PURCHASE OF FIRE APPARATUS IN 1913

The suit against the City of Glendale by the Trustee in Bankruptcy of the Knox Automobile Company of Springfield, Mass., for $6250.00, the price of the fire apparatus purchased in 1913, was, on yesterday, decided in favor of the City of Glendale. The trial of the case was on in the Superior Court during the greater part of last week, quite a number of the city officials being present during the time of the trial. In view of the fact that this action has been dealt with as somewhat of a political issue and especially was it such in the last election held in the City of Glendale for the purpose of voting on the question of issuing bonds for the purchase of further fire apparatus, the Evening News has been greatly interested in the outcome of the case and upon being notified of the result of the trial, requested the City Attorney, W. E. Evans, to give a statement of the facts and circumstances concerning the whole transaction, which are in substance herein set forth.

The contract for the purchase of the apparatus was signed in May, 1913. Soon thereafter the Knox Automobile Company went into bankruptcy and the apparatus was built by the Trustee in Bankruptcy and delivered to the City of Glendale during the month of September, 1913. The machine was sold by and the contract was executed by the Vance-Canavan Motor Company, general distributors for the Knox Automobile Company in Southern California. On September 19th, 1913, a letter was addressed to the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale by the Trustee in Bankruptcy, requesting that the warrant in payment of the machine, which was to be delivered soon thereafter, be made payable to the Trustee in Bankruptcy instead of to the Vance-Canavan Motor Company. This letter was received in due course. On September 23rd, four days later, however, the Trustee in Bankruptcy billed the car and shipped same to the Vance-Canavan Motor Company, which motor company received the machine from the railroad company and paid the freight, amounting to something less than $400.00. The machine was by the Vance-Canavan Motor Company brought to Glendale, demonstrated by the Vance-Canavan Motor Company, and when proven to be according to the contract, was accepted by the Board of Trustees at a special meeting held in the afternoon of the day on which it was delivered, only three members of the Board of Trustees being present. When the machine was delivered and accepted, as above stated, the Vance-Canavan Motor Company demanded that a warrant be issued to it for the purchase price of the machine, whereupon the three members of the Board of Trustees at first refused to deliver the warrant, calling the Vance-Canavan Motor Company's attention to the letter dated September 19th, from the Trustee in Bankruptcy, requesting that the warrant be made payable to him. Quite a discussion ensued between the three members of the Board of Trustees and the Vance-Canavan representatives and after finding that the machine had been billed to the Vance-Canavan Company on terms strictly cash four days after the letter of September 19th and having been placed in their possession and they having paid the freight and also having an interest in the proceeds in the way of their commissions, the Board of Trustees concluded that they were the ones who were entitled to receive the warrant for the money and finally decided to, and did, deliver to the Vance-Canavan Motor Company the warrant. The Trustee in Bankruptcy, some time thereafter and during the month of February, 1914, wrote the city, stating that no payments had ever been made for the machine by the Vance-Canavan Motor Company and insisted that a warrant be drawn in his favor in payment of the price of the machine. This letter was referred to the City Attorney to take such action as he thought proper and necessary to protect the city from any liability which it might have incurred by reason of the delivery of the warrant to the Vance-Canavan Company. The City Attorney promptly notified the Trustee in Bankruptcy in Springfield, Massachusetts, that the warrant had been delivered to the Vance-Canavan Motor Company and calling his attention to the facts and circumstances under which it had been delivered and that the city would refuse to issue another warrant for the same purpose unless compelled to do so by a court of last resort. Immediately upon receipt of this letter,

LUTHERAN RECEPTION

NEW MEMBERS ARE HONORED AT GATHERING AT PARSONAGE MONDAY EVENING

The annual affair among the people of the Lutheran church of Glendale took place Monday evening at the parsonage, corner of Fifth and Maryland. The custom established is to give a reception on Easter Monday night or near to it to all the new members received into fellowship in the congregation since the previous Easter. About 45 members and friends gathered at this time to do honor to the occasion and rejoice together. All were happy and spent a most pleasant evening. This young congregation is blessed with a goodly number of young people of musical talent who added to the happiness of the evening. All enjoyed the vocal and instrumental duets, solos and readings, especially Mabelle Frazier of Columbus and Hawthorne streets, a tiny tot of four years, delighted all with her remarkable whistling and solo work. Those giving the program were the Misses Emma and Helen Esterly, Eleanore Mellin, Elizabeth Mottern, George Anderson, Simmons Ely and Mrs. Paulson, who was the reader of the evening. The pastor, Rev. Mottern, gave a short talk on the object of the annual meeting and read the names of all the persons who have been received into fellowship since the organization of the congregation July 7th, 1912. He said it was the proudest hour of his life when he observed in the number present the fruits of his two years' diligent and earnest work to gather together the scattered forces of the children of Luther. Without doubt the Lord's special blessing was upon their labor in the rapid increase along every religious interest. In about two years' work the congregation increased from 18 to close to 50 and the Sunday School from 12 to nearly 70 enrolled. A missionary society was organized and a C. E. was reorganized. Valuable property was secured on which a cosy parsonage is enlarged and beautified, a gem of a little church is now being finished, perfect in all its equipment, and along every line the entire work of the congregation is on the upward trend with enthusiasm, most beautiful and friendly harmony, with a mind and will to work to the glory of God and the salvation of souls. A few minutes among them impresses you with the truth of their motto of being "A Friendly Church." Those in whose honor the reception was given were Mr. and Mrs. John Esterly and daughters Emma and Helen, Mrs. Louise Purnell, Selma Eger, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Plasterer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Paulson, Dorothy Gobleman, Mrs. Mellin and Eleanore, Ward Kuhns, Florence Rath and Harry B. Walker. After refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed by all, the crowd dispersed, declaring the evening a success.

CHAFFEE'S POLICY

H. G. Chaffee, who is known as one of the greatest grocers in the West, particularly in California, wherein he owns eighteen grocery stores, has formulated a plan which will assist the government in this war crisis by lending first aid to his employees. Mr. Chaffee is indirectly encouraging the enlistment of his men by promising them the difference between their government pay and their salaries so long as they are in active service. Upon being mustered out these employees of Mr. Chaffee will receive back their old positions. The force has also experienced a ten per cent. raise, with the exception of the store managers.

Regarding the benefit to the public, a limitation has been placed only upon the amounts of canned goods and sack sugar purchased. Thus the small buyers are protected, a thing which the genial proprietor of many stores is working for, as well as keeping the foodstuffs at normal price.

Mr. Chaffee says that he does not anticipate a serious war condition, however, he feels that though married men are not necessarily bound to enlist, the young single men should feel free to do so.

DEATH OF NONIE FEASTER

Miss Nonie Jewell Feaster, aged 16 years, passed away at the home of her parents in Eagle Rock, 227 Windermere avenue, on April 15. She was born at Excelsior Springs, Mo., but had lived in Eagle Rock for the past five years. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors in Glendale, followed by cremation in Los Angeles.

MOBILIZING THE VEGETABLES

Cabbage plants should be purchased about the middle of April. They should be set two feet apart if of the small variety. Tobacco dust should be sprinkled over them as soon as set to keep off the cabbage louse. The plants should be set deep. In July or August the plants can be set for the winter supply.

The amateur probably will find the bush lima bean the best. The ground should be well warmed for these. They should be sown in rows two feet and a half apart and four inches apart in the row.

Spring onions are desirable and a start can be made with these as soon as the ground is ready. Plant a third once a week for three weeks, about one-half inch deep. The rows should be a foot apart. Thin to four inches apart in the rows when the plants are four inches high. Pull the onions in the fall when the tops begin to fall over and leave them on the ground until thoroughly dry, then store them in a cool place.

April lettuce may be sown early in the open ground. Do not cover them more than a quarter of an inch. The solid head varieties may be sown early in May. When three inches high thin out to four inches apart in the row. For the table cut out every other plant.

Most exacting of all plants is the tomato. The plants should be transplanted to the garden about May 20 to June 1.

Set the plants in rows eighteen inches apart. Plant them twenty inches apart in the rows. As it grows all side branches should be removed and the main stem tied to a stake.

MIDDLEMAN IS ENEMY

By Walt. Le Noir Church

The war is a fact—but thus far a fact on foreign shores. Theoretically at war, we still at home are at peace. But "Peace hath her victories, no less renowned than War." Since Preparedness is being prepared to the point of perfection by force and arms, the next paramount preparation is the food supply.

We shall soon have more army than food. And Napoleon said: "An army travels on its belly." It also fights on the same. But of the most deadly, unpopular enemy one may truly say:

"For, he might have been a Rooshian, A German, Turk or Prooshian, Or, perhaps, an Austrian; But, in spite of all temptation, To belong to another nation, He remains A-mer-i-can."

Who is he? Show him to us that we may deal with him as he deserves. He is the Middle Man in our midst—in our own country.

The local merchant can tell you who that enemy is. The local merchant, placed "between the devil and the deep sea," between the threat of financial failure and the condemnation, if not the ruin, of his customers because of the exorbitant prices he is forced by the middle man to charge for the necessities of life.

Let us protect our own merchants, who have stood by Glendale as well as they could, or dared, through all adverse conditions. One way to defeat the middle man whose shark-like voracity makes him the public enemy, is to have our vacant city lots planted in potatoes, beans, peas, radishes, turnips, beets, cabbages and, perhaps, corn and many other things. To be effectual, this should be done by the city as soon as existing or procurable legislation will permit, as an emergency necessity. Or it should be done by a voluntary association of public-spirited citizens, not for profit but for Citi-otism. The products raised, after giving employment to many idle men, boys, women and girls all through the season, would be distributed in the regular lines of trade by our merchants at a fair profit, much more satisfactorily than by any form of "municipal market."

In this way our people could be served, our merchants protected and our home enemies, the voracious middle men, defeated, at least to that extent. Then, after the people once find they can protect themselves in an emergency, they will protect themselves all the time by compelling the middle man to be reasonable, recognizing the fact that the middle man is also a necessity of trade, and therefore entitled to due consideration. Why not a Middle Man Commission, since the Railroad Commission has proved protective to the public. To bring about such a public benefaction the Chamber of Commerce should co-operate with all other forces that could work together for that end. In this way the splendid educational work of the Garden Society could be turned to the best public advantage. The Chamber of Commerce is offered for a public meeting to further consider this paramount subject.

INVITE TROPICO LADIES

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Home Guards of Glendale invite the ladies of Tropic to join their organization and attend any meetings which may be called by the chair. Committees who have this work in hand, the object of which is to establish a fund for the maintenance of soldiers' families, will call on you in the meantime.

The meeting of the Parent-Teacher association under the direction of the Civic Center of Central avenue school, Saturday evening, assumed a patriotic flavor, talks, music and final salute of the flag all emphasizing a feeling of loyalty to our country.

Mrs. F. S. Kurtz, President of the Association, called the meeting to order and introduced the Reverend Mr. T. F. McCrea, who gave an illuminating talk on the purpose and methods of the Red Cross, and said in substance: "Fifty cents of each dollar donated to the cause goes to the national fund at Washington, and fifty cents remains at home." C. A. Marcey, physical training instructor of the public schools, gave a pleasurable and profitable lecture on "Yellowstone National Park," with stereopticon views. Mrs. William Herman West talked on the plans of the newly organized Auxiliary to the Home Guards, and Dr. Jessie Russell outlined effective methods for conserving foodstuffs. Singing of the national anthem and a salute to the flag concluded an interesting meeting.

FEDERATION MEETING

The Glendale Parent-Teacher federation met at the Third street school, Monday, April 16. The reports of chairmen of committees was omitted that the meeting might adjourn to attend the patriotic meeting at the high school. It was reported that the library is to be opened after May 1 on Sunday from 2 to 5 o'clock and to be kept open evenings until 9 o'clock. Prof. Head's lecture on James Whitcomb Riley was also announced for April 24. The Glendale federation members expressed themselves as honored in having Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, their president, chosen as one of the program committee for the state convention. The federation voted unanimously to send Mrs. Hutchinson as delegate to the state convention to be held in Sacramento the last week in May.

THE HOMELIKE CHURCH

Sunday was a great day at the Christian church, with 207 at the Sunday school and a large attendance at the morning worship. Bro. Cole's sermon on "The Boldness of Peter and John" was right to the point and he drew many lessons from it for our guidance.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus gave their wonderful delineation of "The Sign of the Cross" to a crowded house. It was a vivid portrayal of the awful scenes in Rome during Nero's barbarous reign, when the Christians were so inhumanly persecuted.

To-night Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus will read "Ben Hur" and we are sure the church building will be packed. Everybody welcome.

There is no man against whom we can fight who is not our human brother, who is not worthy of our love even though in freedom's name we try to strike him down before his weapon reaches us. There is no room in this world for hate. Treachery, deceit, murder, cruelty—yes—against these our wrath may burn, but to hate our neighbor, whether he live at our side or across the sea, is to be guilty of something worse than war.—Our Dumb Animals.

This nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.—Lincoln.

NEW LIGHT ON RED CROSS WORK

At the Red Cross meeting Saturday evening in the home of the president, Mr. John Hyde Braly, the lack of accurate information on numerous points of procedure was very evident; so much so, in fact, that decisions were suspended pending further investigation, the results of which are to be reported at our next meeting, Monday evening, April 23, at the home of the president. But on Sunday Mrs. R. E. Chase went to Los Angeles and succeeded in interviewing Miss Scott, Secretary of Los Angeles Chapter of the American Red Cross Society, a difficult thing to achieve during such busy times.

The result of that important interview is given in the following communication from Mrs. Chase, from which it will be seen that numerous doubtful questions are practically settled, so that the heads of the different committees with their own general chairman, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, may know better how to proceed. Mrs. Chase is certainly entitled to much credit for her success in procuring this needed information from Miss Scott direct. The new instructions from Miss Scott, transmitted through Mrs. Chase, are as follows, told in Mrs. Chase's own words:

I have been so fortunate as to have an interview with Miss Scott, who is the head of the Instruction Department of the Red Cross in California.

In answer to my first question: "May social clubs become members as a unit, thus keeping their own identity, and sew at their regular meeting places for the Red Cross?" she said: "Any organization or club may make hospital garments at any address for the Red Cross, provided said garments are cut out by the regular cutters or by the patterns which are endorsed by the Red Cross Society. These clubs may take a club membership, which is one dollar. The chairman of hospital garments will find it wise to receive and give receipts for the outgoing and incoming of the materials and finished garments. No surgical supplies may be made at any other address than that of headquarters and under no other supervision than that of the authorized instructor, who is the local chairman of surgical supplies. She must receive her instructions from the Los Angeles headquarters. The report of ground glass being found in the bandages is true. This occurred in Philadelphia. All persons working on this committee must be personally known and their sympathies known by the chairman of surgical supplies. She is held responsible by the central committee at Washington, D. C. No one but adults may serve on this committee."

In answer to my second question: "Who may give instruction to nurses?" she said: "Any reputable physician may give instructions to either men or women for first aid, provided he is recorded at Washington as a Red Cross first aid instructor." His instructions will be given him upon the receipt of his acceptance by the Red Cross at Washington, D. C.

Doctor Chase's credentials have been sent to Washington, D. C. I also asked if all those residents of Glendale who had joined the Red Cross before the formation of the Auxiliary Chapter in Glendale could transfer their membership to the local Chapter. She said it was thought wise to do this and would so instruct the chairman of membership in Los Angeles to transfer those names to the Glendale list. No other steps were necessary and that beginning Monday, April 16, all residents of Glendale who had joined the Red Cross would be members of the local chapter.

She urged each chairman to get in touch with her before beginning their work, as new instructions had been received. Miss Scott has been given greater power to decide matters as relating to local conditions. The central committee urges that all chapters begin the sewing as soon as full instructions have been received from her by the chairman of the hospital garments, surgical supplies and comfort bags.

"BEN HUR" TO-NIGHT

"Ben Hur," Gen. Lew Wallace's great story of the Christ, will be interpreted at the Christian church, Colorado and Louise streets, tonight, by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morton Rasmus, who gave the great interpretation of Barrett's "Sign of the Cross" Sunday night. There will be no charge for admission. The program is scheduled for eight o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus are superior in the art of impersonation and have been heard with profit and inspiration everywhere.

Ex-Governor Johnson says of them: "I have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morton Rasmus. They are entertainers of very rare skill and ability and I enjoyed them very much."

Dableigh—There is one thing I don't understand.

Miss Keen—Oh, more than that, surely.

If a man is really reliable he doesn't have to devote much of his time to exploiting that virtue. You are watched pretty closely, whether you know it or not.

MANY CO-OPERATE

(Continued from Page One) The Glendale person who gives the addresses on each Aloha Leaflet, so the receiver will be at once interested. He is asked to write the Chamber of Commerce for further information.

It was thought well to interest the railroads also, in this work of inducing people from other places to visit Glendale. The following two letters speak for themselves.

Southern Pacific Company Los Angeles, Cal., April 11, 1917.

Mr. Walter Le Noir Church, Sec. Glendale Chamber of Commerce, Glendale, Calif.

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 7th inst. in the matter of certain rice planters planning to come to California.

In order that the matter may be properly handled, would suggest that you communicate with Mr. L. C. Bouchard, Com'l. Agt., S. P. Co., 210 Gazette Bldg., Little Rock, who no doubt will be glad to assist you in the matter.

Yours very truly, F. S. MCGINNIS.

Salt Lake Route Los Angeles, Cal., April 12th, 1917.

Mr. Walt. Le Noir Church, Sec'y Glendale Chamber of Commerce, Glendale, Cal.

Dear Sir: To yours under date of April 7th, with many thanks for your attention and for your wishes in regard to the way people should travel in coming to Southern California.

Note what you say regarding the Cyclone districts and the splendid work you are doing. Keep it up and let me assure you that we shall appreciate your endeavors in every particular.

Thanking you for your attention, I remain with best wishes, Yours truly, DOUGLAS WHITE.

The Chamber of Commerce earnestly requests all citizens interested in inducing more people to come to Glendale, to bring or send in addresses to which Chamber of Commerce literature may be forwarded. The Aloha Leaflet is to be supplemented by something on a larger scale.

THE EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS

Another enthusiastic audience greeted Evangelist Catherwood last night at the Baptist church, when he took the liberty of postponing the theme announced until Wednesday night, but used an equally interesting one in speaking on "Seeking to Win Another Man's Wife." He based his remarks on the story of Jacob sending his servant to secure Rebekah for his son Isaac, and made many powerful applications of the spiritual truths contained in the story. He specially emphasized the duties of Christians who are typified by the servant of Jacob and closed with an earnest appeal to the unsaved to "treat well" our Lord and Master.

Mr. Catherwood speaks to-night on the question: "Are the People of the West as Friendly as They Were Back Home?" He recognizes the fact that the citizens of our state have largely come from eastern homes and in the preliminary meeting an opportunity will be given for the different attendants to represent their respective states. This feature promises to prove of special interest as it will give a chance for the people themselves to give their personal testimony for Christ.

To-morrow night Mr. Catherwood will discuss the subject postponed from last night, entitled: "St. Patrick—did he drive the snakes out of Ireland?" The general public is invited to be present.

GARDEN SOCIETY TO MEET

The Garden Society will meet as usual on Thursday evening, April 19, in the Third street school, to combine business and pleasure. Through the president an offer has been made of an acre of ground in North Glendale, fenced and piped to water, to be put to whatever use is thought advisable. Suggestions along this line will be welcomed. The advisability of combining a vegetable show with the forthcoming rose show will be discussed, as a means of increasing the public interest in the raising of crops. Dainty Dorothy McGinnis has kindly consented to repeat the charming dances she gave at the Garden Society reception last month. The famous Sierra Club punch will be served by Mrs. Francis Henry and Mrs. Frank Thomas. The president will say a few words on Practical Patriotism, detailing the plans laid for juvenile vegetable gardens. Mrs. Isabel Jordan, just returned from the Hawaiian Islands, will tell of her experiences. This interesting meeting is open to the public. Friends and strangers always cordially welcomed. It begins at 8 o'clock. A splendid place for old and young to meet and to become acquainted.

HOME GUARDS MEET

The Home Guards of Glendale, numbering about 250 members, met in the City Hall Monday evening. The meeting was called to order by G. B. Woodberry and on motion Sergeant Harry Schenck was elected captain. Capt. Schenck then took his place in the chair and the members proceeded to elect lieutenants, but on account of not being familiar with the military qualifications of men who might be nominated for these positions, the appointment of the lieutenants was left in the hands of Captain Schenck on condition that appointees shall not hold office longer than June 1, 1917.

The meeting was largely attended and was full of enthusiasm from beginning to close. The Elks having tendered the use of their rooms for drill purposes, the announcement was made that the next meeting would be held in the Elks hall Thursday evening of this week.

EXHORTATION, AND PRAYER FOR COUNTRY AND CHURCH

(Contributed)

Mary Baker Eddy. Exhortation. Beloved Brethren, the love of our loving Lord was never more manifest than in its stern condemnation of all error, wherever found. I counsel thee, rebuke and exhort one another. Love all Christian churches for the gospel's sake; and be exceedingly glad that the churches are united in purpose, if not in method, to close the war between flesh and Spirit, and to fight the good fight till God's will be witnessed and done on earth as in heaven.

Sooner or later all shall know Him, recognize the great truth that Spirit is infinite, and find life in Him in whom we do "live, and move and have our being"—life in Life, all in All. Then shall all nations, peoples, and tongues, in the words of St. Paul, have "one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all" (Ephesians iv. 6).

Once more I write, Set your affections on things above; love one another; commune at the table of our Lord in one spirit; worship in spirit and in truth; and if daily adoring, imploring, and living the divine Life. Truth, Love, thou shalt partake of the bread that cometh down from heaven, drink of the cup of salvation, and be baptized in Spirit.

Pray for the prosperity of our country, and for her victory under arms; that justice, mercy, and peace continue to characterize her government, and that they shall rule all nations. Pray that the divine presence may still guide and bless our chief magistrate, those associated with his executive trust, and out national judiciary; give to our congress wisdom, and uphold our nation with the right arm of His righteousness.

In your peaceful homes remember our brave soldiers, whether in camp or in battle. * Oh, may their love of country, and their faithful service thereof, be unto them life-preservers! May the divine Love succor and protect them, as at Manila, where brave men, led by the dauntless Dewey, and shielded by the power that saved them, sailed victoriously through the jaws of death and blotted out the Spanish squadron.

Great occasion have we to rejoice that our nation, which fed her starving foe,—already murdering her peaceful seamen and destroying millions of her money,—will be as formidable in war as she has been compassionate in peace.

May our Father-Mother God, who in times past hath spread for us a table in the wilderness and "in the midst of our enemies," establish us in the most holy faith, plant our feet firmly on Truth, the rock of Christ, the "substance of things hoped for"—and fill us with the life and understanding of God, and good will toward men.

*This refers to the war between the United States and Spain for the liberty of Cuba.—"From editorial column of the Christian Science Sentinel."

ORGANIZE AUXILIARY

Thirty-five prominent women of Glendale met yesterday to organize an Auxiliary to the Home Guard and to discuss ways and means to secure a fund to alleviate any sufferings of deprivation caused the wives and families of soldiers, and to work for the conservation of home products. The plan is to cultivate every available bit of ground, in short, to encourage increased thrift.

Though as yet not definitely decided at this writing, it is expected that moneys will be secured for the fund by various social activities, etc.

This organization is in no manner a rival of the Red Cross, which works for the soldier in the field while the home society's endeavors are directed toward the soldiers' families. All persons interested are urged to join this Auxiliary.

Only twenty-four hours have passed since the birth of this worthy organization, so few plans of the future are formulated. However, an important feature was the election of officers, as follows: permanent chairman, Mrs. William Herman West, 1427 Hawthorne street; Mrs. E. D. Yard, vice-chairman; Mrs. F. L. Church, secretary; Mrs. Stephen Packer, treasurer. The entertainment committee is to be supervised by Mrs. William Herman West. Chairman, and have a membership composed of Mesdames Gus Pulliam, John Robert White, Jr., and C. B. Wilde. The Inance committee has for chairman Mrs. S. C. Packer; fraternal societies, Mrs. A. S. Chase, chairman; magazines, Mrs. David L. Gregg, chairman; dependency fund for widows and children of soldiers, Mrs. C. M. Nichols, chairman; telephone, Miss Eva Daniels. Production and conservation of foodstuffs, gardening and preserving; executive committee, Dr. Jessie Russell, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and D. G. Crofton.

Paper making from quaking asp can become a profitable industry in Utah, according to statement in biennial report of state conservation commission. The life of the quaking asp is about 20 years of sound growth. It produces prolifically and according to report would propagate as rapidly as the cutting necessary to support a large paper plant, so that the supply would be practically inexhaustible.

which was in early March, 1914, the Trustee in Bankruptcy came out to Los Angeles, as testified to by the City Attorney on the trial of the case, for the purpose of collecting the money or bringing suit against the city. While the trustee was in Los Angeles, he made various calls on the City Attorney and at the same time was making an effort to effect a settlement of various matters, including the Glendale collection, with the Vance-Canavan Motor Company, and finally, as appeared in the evidence of the case, on March 21st, made a sort of settlement with the Vance-Canavan Motor Company of various matters which were then pending between them and in which settlement the trustee procured an order on the Board of Trustees for the City of Tropic for $2202.00, to be applied as a credit on the money which the Vance-Canavan Company had collected from the City of Glendale (in the meantime the same company had sold a fire fighting apparatus to the City of Tropic, on which the Vance-Canavan Motor Company was to receive $2202.00 commission). Immediately after this partial settlement between the two companies and the collection of the $2202.00 from the City of Tropic to be applied on the Glendale money, the Trustee departed for his home in Springfield, Mass., and no more was heard of his claim against the City of Glendale for more than two years, when he filed this suit against the city for the full amount of the purchase price of the machine, not even giving credit for the $2202.00 which he had collected from the City of Tropic, or about $380.00 freight on the machine which had been paid by the Vance-Canavan Company, or $1500.00 commission which the Vance-Canavan Company was entitled to on the Glendale apparatus.

The main points in the defense of the suit against the city were:

1st. That by billing and shipping the car to the Vance-Canavan Company after the letter of September 19th, 1913, requesting the warrant be paid to him instead of the agents, the Trustee in Bankruptcy cancelled his first instructions to the Board of Trustees, leaving the Board of Trustees with authority to pay the agents as in the first instance.

2nd. That having notified the city in March, 1914, that he, the Trustee in Bankruptcy, was about to file an action against the city for the money and thereupon abandoning his contemplated action for such a long time before taking it up again, that he had prejudiced the rights of the city to indemnify its loss, if any, against the Vance-Canavan Motor Company, it having gone out of business long ago, and the individual members of the firm having become insolvent.

The suit seems to have been decided on the latter defense, Mr. Evans, the City Attorney, states that he was away on his vacation when the letter of September 19th, 1913, was received and that he was not present at the special meeting of the Board of Trustees when the warrant was delivered. As a matter of fact, he knew nothing of the letter of September 19th until the matter came up about the first of March, 1914, when a letter was received demanding payment.

DEATH OF MRS. BEDDOE

Anna May Beddoe, wife of the Rev. B. E. Beddoe, passed away at her home, 417 S. Jackson street, at 3 a. m. Tuesday, April 17, after a lingering illness of heart trouble. She is mourned by her husband and two children. Funeral services in charge of the Scovern-Letton-Frey Undertaking Co. will be held at the Seventh Day Adventist church Thursday at 10:30 a. m.

MAY CARNIVAL

What will unquestionably be one of the merriest May carnivals of the entire springtime season will be that featured at the Tropico Municipal Playground, proving the charms of children, the spirit of society and the enterprise of business men. The gala event will begin at half past one o'clock the afternoon of May 12, when hundreds of well-trained school children will offer the "Pageant of the Months," each grade representing a month, wearing costumes appropriate to the season of each. More than one hundred boy scouts of Glendale, Tropico and Eagle Rock will exhibit the same flag drill they gave at Exposition Park. Even the babies will have an opportunity to display their talents and beauty, for an old-fashioned baby show will feature hundreds of happy, gurgling infants. A baby carriage will be given as first prize. Supper will be served by the several clubs of the city. The evening will be passed in dancing, with the tennis court serving as impromptu ball room. Prizes will be awarded for the most fetching costume worn by a participant. Miss Kellar's School of Dancing will be represented by a bevy of terpsichorean artists.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon, 115 North San Fernando Blvd., is chairman general and Miss Mitchell in charge of the music and play.

"The seed is sown in the home and in the school," says the Western Catholic, "but the crop, good or bad, is reaped by the nation. Parents, think of this."

Notice To Our Patrons

On account of the tremendous advance in the cost price of all meat products and feeling it our duty to keep the retail price as low as possible, we will after the 15th of May discontinue the use of S. & H. Green Trading Stamps as premiums. We feel bound under the present conditions to operate our business as economically and as near the actual cost as it is in our power to do.

CASA VERDUGO HOME GUARDS

An important meeting, which all patriotic men and women of the community of Casa Verdugo are urged to attend, will be held by the North Glendale Home Guard and Women's Auxiliary at the Central avenue school Wednesday evening, April 18, at half past seven. Exceedingly vital matters will be discussed relative to the present needs of the country. Captain W. B. Kelly has received a formal communication from the school trustees which permits the use of the Central avenue school and grounds for the purposes of the guard. The only stipulation on assuming possession is that the janitor be notified. Mr. A. B. Clements has donated the use of the grounds on the southeast corner of Stocker street, where headquarters will be established soon, a definite date to be announced later.

Other public-spirited individuals, Mrs. Y. Folls, G. K. Bowers and Charles A. Sharp, have presented the company with a large flag and flagpole, as well as a 12x15 foot tent.

MUST DISMANTLE WIRELESS

Amateur wireless operators here as well as elsewhere have received the following communication:

You are advised that pursuant to the President's War Proclamation, charging the Secretary of the Navy with the closing of all radio stations not operated by the Government in time of war, your radio station is hereby ordered closed and dismantled immediately.

The antenna or aerial for your station, whether for transmitting or receiving, or both, must be taken down and all apparatus disassembled.

Failure to observe an immediate compliance with this military order may result in severe war penalties being imposed upon you and all others responsible for the operation of your station, and confiscation of your apparatus.

You are requested to bring this order to the attention of all amateur operators not in receipt of same.

Federal, State and Municipal officers will assist in the enforcement of this order and will report violations of same to this office.

As soon as you have complied with these instructions, you will send immediately to this office a letter stating what action you have taken.

INDUSTRIES AND THE EUROPEAN WAR

Agriculture and all the productive industries of the west will be expanded and made more important by the war with Germany, for the simple reason that the government will become an enormous buyer of products.

The patriotic action of railroad managers and copper and metal producers shows the nation that it has nothing to fear from "big business," and that as a matter of fact the largest interests of the country are loyal to the core.

The shipbuilding will become, next to the army and navy and the transportation system, the right hand of the government, and the call for a thousand new sea-going crafts from the largest warships to the smallest power launch will be met.

The war industries will have a great influence upon the labor market and the demand for the services of skilled and common labor will be as great at home as the demand for men to enter the army and navy and their services will be as patriotic.

Fortunately for the country there is a better understanding and stronger bonds of co-operation between capital and labor than ever before. The willingness to arbitrate differences and the spirit of concession are marked features of the times.

In general efficiency, and the absence of disturbing and trouble-making elements, our country is probably the strongest in the world—presenting a homogenous mass of one hundred millions and over of citizens who are the peers of any in the world.

It will be found that while this nation has had the least militarism, and in actual preparedness has been the least forward of any nation under the sun, the way every feature made necessary by war conditions will be taken up and completed on short notice will surprise the strongest of the old-world military monarchies.—The Manufacturer.

HUMANE SOCIETY'S WORK

"Be Kind to Animals Week" will be observed by Humane societies everywhere April 16 to 22, ending with Humane Sunday, when the churches will feature the occasion with special services. Schools will call attention to the kind things that may be done for animals and the several thousand Humane societies will ask the co-operation of individuals in seeing that horses are supplied with drinking water, heavy grades on streets sanded during slippery weather, check reins unfastened when horses are standing, and in all ways to live up to the motto of the society, "We speak for those who cannot speak for themselves."

FORCE OF HABIT

"I suppose you form an attachment for an automobile," said the imaginative woman, "as you do for a horse."

"Yes," replied Mr. Chuggins. "But an auto isn't intelligent like a horse. If it were, it would be leaving the road and trying to turn in at every station house or repair shop."—Washington Star.

WORSE STILL TO COME

Hendersin—What makes you so blue? Sanderson—My wife's bread's a failure. Henderson—Is that all? Sanderson—All? No; something worse is coming. Henderson—What? Sanderson—A week's ordeal of bread pudding.—Puck.

THE DULL MAN

The dull man has no imagination. He does not possess the faculty of putting himself in the other man's place. Therefore he is certain to blunder, to be unjust and to be cruel. He cannot be charitable.—Arnold Bennett in Woman's Home Companion.

NOT AN INSULT

"Did you call that contemporary a lowbrow and a bonehead?" "Yes, I did," answered Senator Sorghum. "He resents the insult." "That was no insult. That was a diagnosis."—Washington Star.

WOULD BE A HELP

"Every cloud has a silver lining." "It would be nice if they also had arsenic deposits," said the farmer. "Then the rain would spray our crops as well as moisten them."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THOSE DEAR GIRLS

Edith—Jack told me I was so interesting and so beautiful. Marie—And yet you will trust yourself for life with a man who begins deceiving you so early.

Of all human things nothing is more honorable or more excellent than to deserve well of one's country.—Cicero.

THE SALUTE TO THE FLAG

One of our readers has called our attention to the fact that so few people know and can give the salute to the flag, which is known by heart and repeated easily by the majority of our school children. In a group of women, many of whom were gray haired, not one knew the salute to the flag. This salute is given in the schools on all patriotic and flag days and in the Intermediate school on every Wednesday as the pupils assemble in the auditorium. There is no uniform custom in our schools of saluting the flag every morning or on stated occasions, although Mrs. Hutchinson, president of the Parent-Teacher Federation, has suggested that this be done. The salute to the flag is as follows:

"I pledge allegiance to my Flag and to the Republic for which it stands. One Nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

THE POPULAR ATTITUDE

"You and your friend were arguing about peace, remember. Yet, you nearly came to blows." "Don't jump to conclusions, sir. We were not arguing about a temporary truce, but permanent peace, and everybody, neutrals and belligerents alike, seem to think that's worth fighting for."

GARDENING

The way to keep up the interest in gardening is not to do the same thing year after year. That is monotonous. Try the new fruits, vegetables and flowers. Hold to the old, tried and true for mainstays, if desired, until the new prove that they are what is wanted to entirely displace older varieties.—New York Sun.

A BIT OF SENTIMENT

"Why all these toots as you pass that village?" inquired the fireman. "Toots is my wife's pet name," explained the engineer.—Pittsburgh Post.

How shall I be able to rule over others that have not full power and command over myself?—Rabelais.

AT STATE CAPITAL

BILLS OF MANY VARIETIES MEET VARIOUS FATES IN LEGISLATURE

SACRAMENTO, April 17.—Although there is some opposition in the legislature, indications to-day are that Insurance Commissioner Al McCabe will get an increase in salary from $4000 to $6000 a year.

There also is slight opposition to allowing Governor Stephens a $3500 automobile, but the bill will pass and everybody is willing to wager that when it is passed the governor will sign it.

There wasn't a bit of objection to appropriating $500 for an oil painting of Ex-Governor Hiram Johnson to be hung in the capitol.

The senate has put the crusher on a bill aimed to prohibit appointive officers from taking part in political campaigns; also on the McDonald bill which would have prohibited any one under the age of 18 from driving a motor vehicle.

Ashley's fruit standardization bill provides, among other things, for the 8 to 1 test for oranges except when the oranges mature on trees. It has passed the assembly and is expected to become a law.

Slater's bill prohibiting the use of bad eggs in articles of food got a good start toward enactment when the senate passed it.

The senate has approved Rigdon's bill which will allow members of boards of supervisors their expenses when travelling outside the county on official business.

Ballard's bills making possible an extension of the Junior College idea are approved by the senate and will, in all probability, be passed by the assembly also.

The women scored their third victory of the session when the senate unanimously passed the Kehoe bill providing for the exemption of the wife's share of community property from the inheritance tax.

Rigdon's bill approving the charter of San Luis Obispo has been passed by the senate.

Another egg bill by Slater, requiring that eggs in transit more than 31 days shall be labeled to this effect upon containers, is through the senate and on its way to enactment.

The assembly has swatted Ben Williams' bill which proposed to allow mileage to teachers attending institutes.

Railroad companies are called upon to equip locomotives with bell-ringing devices in the Farmer bill which the assembly has passed.

Breed's bill appropriating $100,000 for the teaching of medicine at the University of California has passed the senate.

The $250,000 appropriation bill for a university farm school at Riverside still has a chance, despite the pruning being done at the request of the governor.

A GROWING BUSINESS

"No matter how hard or close the times are," said the cheerful passenger, "my business is always growing."

"Sounds good!" said the doubtful man.

"Fact, I assure you!" the cheerful passenger declared. "I'm a gardener."

SOMEONE IS ALWAYS, ETC.

The Optimist—Fine day, isn't it? The Pessimist—Oh, I don't know. It's probably raining somewhere.

DANGEROUS

"Do you believe that anything can be caught by kissing?" "Sure! I kissed a girl and she caught me."

HIS PLAY

"So you've an idea for a play like Dunsany's 'Glittering Gate?'" "Yes; instead of a burglar forcing the lock of Heaven's gate, my play shows a woman trying to pick it with a hairpin."

TAKING NO CHANCES

Old Gotrox—How dare you ask for my daughter when you are working for such a small salary? Nervy Sutor—Well, I didn't want to throw up the job until I was sure of your consent.

BEYOND COMFORT

Father—You're very backward. There's Norman Smithers, the same age as you, and he's two forms higher. Aren't you ashamed? Hopeful—No. He can't help it—it's hereditary.—Punch.

Then pealed the bells more loud and deep, "God is not dead nor doth He sleep; The wrong shall fail, The right prevail, With peace on earth, good will to men." LONGFELLOW.

"The kindest deed you can today; Smile your sweetest smile, and trust, and pray; You may be a Messenger of Light Leading some sad heart from out the night; God has worked great miracles of grace Through the gentle deed—the kindly face."

MOBILIZATION OF MEN AND RESOURCES ON EVERY CAMPUS

College men, from oldest alumnus to the youngest freshman, are ready for any call their country may make upon them; colleges themselves, East, West, North and South, have already anticipated that call and are preparing themselves the better to meet it. If the Government needs sites for training camps, every campus is at its disposal. If it wants scientific laboratories in which to conduct experiments, a dozen or more technical schools will supply them. If it seeks farming experts to teach the people to live more cheaply and to conserve the nation's resources, it has only to say the word to the many agricultural colleges. If it requires women for Red Cross work, the women's colleges will step forward. If it demands officers to instruct the raw recruits, forty State colleges, which have for years had military training as a dominant feature of their curricula will furnish them. And, finally, if it needs officers, fighters, aviators, surgeons, ambulance drivers, engineers, signal corps experts to go to the front, or sailors to guard the coast, a hundred thousand offer the very best that is in them. The campuses of the country are vibrating with patriotism of the highest order.

There are exceptions, of course; there are always exceptions. But the leading institutions of learning, to say nothing of scores of preparatory schools, are either prepared or preparing as fast as they know how. As far as college men go, loyalty knows no party and no sectionalism. The universities of the Middle West are just as alert as the great private colleges and universities of the East. There is, perhaps, one difference. The State universities, nearly all of which are required by law to have a measure of military training, are not quite so upset; preparedness is more nearly a normal condition with them. But they will "do their bit" without question or hesitation. When the emergency arises they will rise with it. There need be no fear that the best traditions of higher learning will not be upheld.

The kind of preparedness with which Boston is most familiar is perhaps that exemplified by the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, as organized at Harvard and other Eastern colleges. This, however, is a very small part of the whole movement. Each institution has analyzed itself to determine just how it can be of the utmost service to the nation, and then mobilized its resources accordingly. Thus the great scientific laboratories of the Institute of Technology, Princeton, Johns Hopkins, Pennsylvania, Columbia and numerous other universities are open to the government experts to make such experiments as they wish. Thus the Massachusetts Agricultural College is organizing the farmers of the State in order that the coming food crop be the largest in the history of the commonwealth. Thus Harvard, Tufts and Boston Universities are giving special courses of lectures in military medicine. Thus Williams men are enthusiastically forming units to patrol the coast in submarine chasers. Thus Yale is ready to give over its campus as a drill ground, its dormitories as barracks and its commons as a mess hall. Thus the great Tufts wireless tower is offered as a central station for New England, and the members of the wireless club at the college placed under the command of the Government. Thus New Hampshire College is organizing an intercollegiate league to train nurses' aids. Thus Smith, Wellesley and Mount Holyoke girls are engaged in Red Cross work. Thus Western Reserve has already formed an ambulance unit of more than 100 men. Thus colleges and universities, large and small, are taking census of their alumni in order that no unnecessary false moves shall be made or effort misdirected.

Indicative of the patriotic service being rendered by the colleges of the land, is the work of the Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau, of which Dr. William McClellan of Pennsylvania is director. The bureau was organized with the approval of high Government officials, and Dr. McClellan says educational institutions in many sections of the country are cooperating to place at the disposal of the nation the resources of their graduates everywhere. He has sent the following telegram to President Wilson and members of the Council of National Defense:

"The Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau advises you that fifty of the largest and most prominent universities, colleges and technical schools through the country are ready to provide the nation with men of specialized training for every need which may arise in your plans for national defence."—Boston Transcript.

SOME MEN ARE LUCKY

Wife (at breakfast)—Oh, John, I'll bet I know who you gave your seat to coming home in the car last night.

Hub (who had been out having a quiet little game)—Nonsense, my dear! How could you ever guess? How do you know I gave up my seat to anyone?

Wife—Yes, you did. You dear, kind old boy, you let a poor old Irishman have it, for I distinctly heard you say it your sleep, "Oh, that's all right, I'll stand pat."

Facts and Comment

The highest price ever paid for peach and apricot crops in California was recorded when the entire Banning apricot crop was sold for $50 a ton, and sale of the entire peach crop was contracted for at $40 a ton.

Arrangements for the raising of a $20,000 fund to care for the dependent families of members of Company I of the Seventh regiment, of Pasadena, were discussed at a meeting of bankers and board of trade members represented by the finance committee at Pasadena.

Announcement was made at Fresno that the California Associated Raisin company and the California Peach Growers, Inc., will soon join sales forces with 175 dried fruit brokers calling on the wholesale and manufacturing trade throughout the United States and Canada. The salesmen will invade the principal markets as representatives of both corporations of growers.

A general investigation into the peculiar actions of several hundred Mexicans in various cities from Colton and Highland down to Ontario was started when it was reported to the sheriff's office in Riverside that the Mexicans were quitting their jobs without explanation in nearly all of the towns. Other Mexicans in Redlands, Etiwanda and Ontario were also reported quitting the jobs without cause.

In a fight between a crowd of Mexicans and officers early Sunday morning one Mexican was probably fatally shot and nine more arrested says the Alhambra Advocate. Much promiscuous shooting is reported in several sections of Azusa. It is declared by the officers plan to search their homes and confiscate all knives and firearms. Azusa has organized a Home Guard and twenty-five of the number have been sworn in as deputy constables.

California Raisin day, which will be celebrated at Fresno April 30, it was decided, will be converted into a big patriotic festival, and all money received above the expenses for the 1917 celebration will be turned over to the Red Cross society. This action was decided upon at a meeting of the directors of the festival association. In connection with the Raisin day festival, Fresno merchants will raise $25,000 this year for the Raisin day celebration, and it is thought that a large sum will be left in the treasury to give to the Red Cross societies.

NOT BAD FOR A PRINCESS

Royalties are very much like other folks. They can even be moderately bright at times. The Czar said when proposing, "The Emperor, my father, has commanded me to offer you my hand and heart." "And my grandmother, the Queen," replied the Princess Alex, "has commanded me to accept your hand; your heart I will take myself."

NEARLY LONG ENOUGH

Friend (to Professor, whose lecture, "How to Stop the War," has just concluded)—Congratulate you, old man—went splendidly. At one time during the afternoon I was rather anxious for you.

Professor—Thanks. But I don't know why you should have been so concerned on my behalf.

Friend—Well, the rumor did go around the room that the war would be over before your lecture.—Punch.

SERIOUS OMISSION

At a camp-meeting where hats were used as collection baskets, the preacher said: "Let us sing while the hats are coming in."

The pianist, after some fumbling with the pages, turned to him and said: "I can't find it."

"Beg pardon," said the preacher, not understanding. "Why," replied the pianist, "I can't find that song, 'While the Hats Are Coming In,' in my book.—The Christian Herald.

DISCOVERED

She (referring to host)—You know, there's something rather nice about Mr. Tomkins-Smith. He—Yes—I think it must be his wife.—Punch.

ACQUIRED

Wife—I can't understand why I didn't see those faults in you before we were married. Hub—That's easily explained; I didn't possess them then.

"A great many people are starting gardens this year. Do you suppose they will grow anything?" "Oh, yes—tired."

China has not yet declared war, but doubtless will as soon as it gets the laundry home this week.—Exchange.

Sierra Madre had an old fashioned flag raising Saturday, when a new municipal flag pole was dedicated. The flag pole was paid for by popular subscription raised through the efforts of the Sierra Madre Board of Trade, and is nearly 100 feet high.

QUESTIONS. Can you put the spider's web back in its place that once has been swept away? Can you put the apple again on the bough, which fell at our feet today? Can you put the lily-cup back on the stem and cause it to live and grow again? Can you mend the butterfly's broken wing, that you crushed with a hasty blow, Can you put bloom again on the grape, or the grape again on the vine? Can you put the dewdrops back on the flowers, and make them sparkle and shine? Can you put the petals back on the rose? If you could, would it smell as sweet? Can you put the flour again in the husk, and show me the ripened wheat? Can you put the kernel back in the nut, or the broken egg in its shell? IF MRS. FISKE HAD $5,000,000. "If you had five millions?" I asked curiously. "Five millions?" Mrs. Fiske paused with her cup in the air and meditated. It soon became apparent that it would take her only a few moments to spend it. "Well," she said, "I should give a million to certain humanitarian cults. I should turn over a million to Eva Booth to spend among the poor she understands so well. Of course I could easily spend the other three million in one afternoon in helping on the effort to make women see that one of the most dreadful, shocking, disheartening sights in the world is just the sight of a woman wearing furs. The three million, I'm afraid, would be a mere drop in the bucket." "But the theatre," I protested weakly. "Not a penny."—Alexander Woolcott in the April Century. Hobo—Just a dime, please, mister. Me pal's stranded two miles up in de air in his aeryplane, an ain't got enough gasoline t' come down.
