STATUTES AND RULES.

CHAPTER I.

Of the Meetings, Functions, and Privileges of the Trustees.

1. GENERAL Meetings of the Trustees shall be held at the Museum on the second Saturday in February, May, July, and December of every year.

CHAP. I.
General Meetings.

2. Special General Meetings shall be summoned by the Principal Librarian, upon receiving notice in writing to that effect signed by two Trustees.

3. There shall be a Standing Committee, consisting of the Three Principal Trustees, and of Fifteen other Trustees to be annually appointed at the General Meeting held on the second Saturday in May.

Standing Committee.

4. Vacancies in the Standing Committee shall be from time to time filled up at a General Meeting.

5. The Standing Committee shall transact the ordinary business of the Museum; and report their Proceedings to the Trustees at the next General Meeting.

6. No business shall be transacted by the Standing Committee unless Three Members at least be present.

7. They shall have power to affix the Seal of the Corporation to Documents requiring it.

8. They shall inquire, as often as they think fit, into the conduct of the Officers, Assistants, Attendants, and Servants of the Museum, and give directions accordingly.

9. They may grant to the Officers leave of absence ; provided that such absence, unless for special cause, do not extend beyond the space of eight weeks in the year, and that two at least of the Keepers of departments, having houses within the precincts of the Museum, be always in residence : provided also, that in the Departments of Natural History, the Superintendent and the Keepers, and in the other Departments, the Keeper and the Assistant Keeper be not absent at the same time.

10. The Standing Committee shall also have power to order payment of all pecuniary demands upon the Trustees.

11. All moneys belonging to the Trustees shall be kept at the Bank of England.

12. The Standing Committee shall have power to appoint Standing and Special Sub-Committees. Every Sub-Committee, unless for special cause, shall consist of not more than Nine Trustees, Three at least to be Members of the Standing Committee. Two Members of a Sub-Committee shall be a Quorum, of whom one at least shall be a Member of the Standing Committee. CHAP. I.

Standing Committee.

13. At every General Meeting, as well as at every Meeting of the Standing Committee, or of a Sub-Committee, the Trustee first called to the Chair, unless for special cause, shall occupy it so long as he is present at the Meeting. Chairman of Meetings.

14. There shall be a general Visitation of the Museum by the Trustees on the second Saturday in May of every year, and on such other day or days as the Trustees at a General Meeting or the Standing Committee may appoint. Visitations.

15. Any Trustee shall have free access to every part of the Museum during Museum hours, and may take with him such persons as he shall please to introduce, to every part, with the exception of the space within the bar in the Medal Room. Privileges.

CHAPTER II.

Rules relative to the Principal Librarian.

1. The Principal Librarian, and all other persons having houses within the precincts of the Museum, shall reside therein, unless leave of absence be granted by the Standing Committee. CHAP. II.
Residence.

2. The Principal Librarian, being chiefly en- Principal Librarian.

CHAP. II. trusted with the care and custody of the Museum, Principal is—Librarian.

(1.) To be responsible for the safety of the Museum, and of the Property and Collections therein, and to give orders in case of fire or other accidents.

(2.) To exercise a general superintendence over all the Departments, and to take care that the Officers, Assistants, Attendants, and Servants be regular in their attendance and perform their proper duties ; and to report every omission in this respect to the Standing Committee.

(3.) To make such remarks on the Reports of the Officers as he may think proper for the information of the Trustees.

(4.) To grant admission into the Museum to persons of eminence, either for learning or rank, especially foreigners, desiring to inspect the Collections, but not able conveniently to avail themselves of the usual mode of admission.

(5.) To take care that the Museum be kept open during the appointed hours ; and that due order and propriety of behaviour be observed by all persons, whether visitors or others.

(6.) To grant admission into the Reading Room, the Print Room, the Sculpture Galleries, and the Departments of Natural History, and to provide that such facilities be afforded to the Readers and Students as are consistent with the security and preservation of the Collections.

CHAP. II.
Principal Librarian.

(7.) To communicate to the Officers and others the orders of the Trustees; and to see that they be duly carried into effect.

(8.) To be the editor of the Synopsis; to see that it be prepared and printed in a proper manner, and in accordance with such directions as may, from time to time, be given to him by the Standing Committee; and to take care that a sufficient supply of copies be always ready to meet the public demand.

(9.) To be in attendance when the Museum shall be visited by the Sovereign or by any of the Royal Family, or by Royal Personages of other Countries.

(10.) In case of the death or sickness of the Principal Librarian, the senior Officer in residence shall exercise his functions.

3. It is also the duty of the Principal Librarian, in the capacity of Secretary—

(1.) To attend all meetings of the Trustees; to take down the minutes of their proceedings; to prepare lists of accounts due from the Trustees and payable from the Parliamentary Grant, to be submitted for approval at each meeting of the Standing Committee, and to take care that orders for payment are duly made upon the Paymaster-General; to conduct the correspondence of the Trustees; to issue all summonses; to notify to the Principal Trustees the vacancies which may occur in the establishment; and also to take the chief charge of all records and other documents connected with the business of the Trust.

(2.) He is charged with all payments made on account of the Museum from the Funds' Account at the Bank of England; he is therefore empowered to sign Cheques for payments from the Funds' Account; and of these payments he is to keep an exact statement, which shall be laid before the Standing Committee at the close of each financial year.

(3.) He shall give securities for the due discharge of his office, to the amount of 10,000*l.*; that is to say, his own bond for 5,000*l.*, and two other securities in a joint and several bond to the amount of 5,000*l.*

(4.) He is to examine and check all bills sent in by tradespeople, and certify that the articles have been ordered by the proper authority, that the charges are duly made, and that the computations are accurate.

CHAP. II.
Principal Librarian.

(5.) He is to keep a weekly account of all work done for the Trust, paid otherwise than by fixed monthly or annual Salaries, and certify that such work has been duly authorized, and that the charges are accurate.

(6.) He is to keep a regular account of all books published by the Trustees, and the number of copies delivered and disposed of, and periodically to ascertain that the stock in hand corresponds with the account.

(7.) He is to examine and check the printers' and booksellers' accounts, and receive the moneys due from booksellers and other persons, as well as for the sale of the Synopsis and Guide Books.

(8.) He is to keep an account of the Stationery received and expended; and make all applications to the Stationery Office.

CHAPTER III.

Rules relative to the Subordinate Officers, Assistants, Attendants, and Servants.

CHAP. III.
Subordinate Officers.

1. The Subordinate Officers are to assist the Principal Librarian in the care and custody of the Museum; they are strictly enjoined to give immediate notice to him, if any article in the Museum be lost or damaged; to be careful that everything within their Departments be, at all times, preserved in good and exact order; that full and accurate Catalogues or Lists be made and kept, comprising every article under their care; and that the rooms of their Departments be neat and clean.

2. They shall give the whole of their time, subject to any regulations which may, from time to time, be made by the Standing Committee, to the service of the Museum, and to the discharge of the proper duties of their several Departments; and they shall not be absent from the Museum, without giving previous notice in writing to the Principal Librarian, and to the senior Officer of their Departments. The Principal Librarian shall report such absence to the Standing Committee at their next meeting.

3. For the purpose of seeing that the Assistants, Attendants, and Servants be at their post, and that due order be observed, some one at least of the resident Keepers of Departments shall remain in the Museum until five o'clock during March, April, September, and October; and until six o'clock during May, June, July, and August of every year.

4. The Superintendent of the Departments of Natural History is—

CHAP. III.
Subordinate Officers.

Superintendent of Natural History.

(1.) To exercise a general Superintendence over the Departments of Natural History; to transmit to the Principal Librarian the Reports of the Keepers of each Department, accompanied by such remarks as he may think proper for the information of the Standing Committee; to suggest such improvements as, in his judgment, may increase the scientific value and general utility of the Collections; and, within the first fortnight after Christmas of every year, to lay before the Standing Committee an annual Report on the condition of the Collections under his superintendence.

(2.) To be the editor of such catalogues and other scientific publications as shall be entrusted to him by the Standing Committee; and to see that they are prepared and printed in a proper manner, and in accordance with such directions

CHAP. III.
Superintendent of Natural History.

as may, from time to time, be given to him by the Standing Committee.

(3.) To take care that the Officers, Assistants, Attendants, and Servants of each Department be regular in their attendance and perform their proper duties; and to report every omission in this respect to the Principal Librarian.

Keepers and Assistant Keepers.

5. The Keepers, or, in their absence, the Assistant Keepers shall make monthly Reports to the Standing Committee on the progress of the business in their Departments, and, within the first fortnight after Christmas of every year, lay before the Standing Committee annual Reports, as well on the business done in each Department as on the nature and extent of the Additions made to the Collections under their care.

6. The Keepers of Departments shall see that every article bequeathed or presented to the Trustees of the Museum, be distinguished by marking on it or attaching to it the name of the Person bequeathing or presenting the same, with the date of its reception in the Museum.

7. The Keepers of Departments shall take care that the Assistant Keepers, Assistants, Attendants and Servants be regular in their attendance and perform their proper duties, and shall report every omission in this respect to the Principal Librarian. They shall not grant to any Assistant, Attendant, or Servant leave of absence from the Museum for a whole day, without first obtaining in that behalf the consent of the Principal Librarian.

CHAP. III.
Keepers and Assistant Keepers.

The Assistant Keepers shall, if required by the Standing Committee, have their usual abode within one mile of the Museum.

8. The Keepers of the Printed Books, of the Maps, of the Manuscripts, and of the Prints and Drawings, shall see that every article received in their Departments be duly stamped with the Museum Stamp.

9. The Keepers of the Printed Books and of the Maps shall respectively superintend and enforce the delivery of the Books and Maps under the Copyright Act.

10. The Superintendent and the Clerk of the Reading Room shall attend in the Reading Room, and on no account leave it, unless some other person or persons specially appointed by the Principal Librarian attend in his or their place.

The Superintendent and the Clerk of the Reading Room.

11. The Superintendent shall keep a Register of the names of those who are duly admitted into the Reading Room; and shall not allow other persons to enter it. He shall assist the Readers in their studies and researches. He shall keep order in the Room, and see that Readers be provided with the printed books or manuscripts which they require; and he shall take care that they do no damage to them.

12. The Assistants, being under the immediate direction of the Senior Officer of the Department in which they are employed, shall not absent themselves from the Museum without leave from him first obtained. Every Assistant, as well as the Clerk of the Reading Room, shall keep a Diary, wherein he shall daily enter the business on which he is engaged, specially recording his absence from the Museum during any part of the day. All such Diaries shall be inspected and signed on the Thursday preceding the second Saturday of every month, by the Senior Officer of the Department, and forthwith transmitted by him, with such observations as he shall think fit, to the Principal Librarian.

CHAP. III.
Assistants.

Chief Messenger.

13. The Chief Messenger shall superintend the Attendants and Servants; he shall keep a daily Register of their attendance, and report to the proper Officer every instance of negligence or misbehaviour. He shall keep an account as well of Letters and Parcels received and delivered, as of the charges on the same, and of such other expenses as are usually included in a petty cash account. He shall see that no persons be improperly admitted into the interior of the Museum, and that Visitors be conducted by some fit person to the Department for which they inquire. He shall be careful that the fires be extinguished at the proper time; and for this purpose he shall, immediately after the closing of the Museum, visit all the rooms in which fires have been lighted. He shall also take care that, in the evening, the windows and doors be properly secured, and the Museum left in a state of safety. He shall receive the House-keys from persons who have the use of them, when they leave the Museum. He shall see that the keys are so left, and shall report to the Principal Librarian any irregularity in this respect.

CHAP. III.
Chief Messenger.

14. Every Officer shall be in readiness to give attendance, if required, at the Meetings of the Trustees; and he shall remain within the precincts of the Museum during the time of every General Visitation.

Attendance of Officers at Meetings of the Trustees.

15. No person appointed to any office or employment in the Museum shall hold any other office or engage in other business, without the permission of the Standing Committee.

Other offices not to be held without permission.

16. In framing these regulations, the Trustees are aware that it is impossible for them to define the duty of each Officer, with a sufficient degree of precision for all possible emergencies; in addition, therefore, to the above rules, it is to be considered as a general Instruction to the several Officers, that they conduct themselves as becomes men of honour, integrity, and liberality, in the conscientious discharge of the duties of their respective stations, and as men who have the credit and utility of the Museum truly at heart.

General Instruction.

CHAPTER IV.

Concerning Admission to the British Museum.

CHAP. IV.
Holidays.

1. The Holidays to be observed at the Museum are Christmas Day, Ash Wednesday, Good Friday, and every special Fast or Thanksgiving day appointed by authority.

Days and Hours of Admission.

2. The Museum shall be kept open for public inspection on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday in every week; except on the Holidays above mentioned, and except from the 1st to the 7th of January, from the 1st to the 7th of May, and from the 1st to the 7th of September inclusive. During Christmas, Easter, and Whitsun weeks, the Museum shall be kept open every day, except Saturday and Sunday. With the aforesaid exceptions, and such other exceptions as may be made from time to time by the Trustees, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday shall be reserved for the arrangement of the Collections, and for the visits of such persons as may be admitted, under rule 10 hereinafter mentioned, to examine any part of the Collections more minutely than can be done on the public days.

The hours for viewing the Collections are from ten till four, during January, February, November, and December; from ten till five, during CHAP. IV.

Days and Hours of Admission. March, April, September, and October; and from ten till six from the 8th of May to the 31st of August, both inclusive.

3. Any person desiring to view the Collections Admission. on the open days may be required to inscribe his name and place of abode, in a book to be kept in the Entrance Hall for that purpose.

4. Visitors are to be decent and orderly in Behaviour. their appearance and behaviour; and the Officers are to exclude all others, or cause them to withdraw. No children in arms are to be admitted.

5. The Reading Room of the Museum shall Reading Room. be kept open on every day of the week (except Sunday, the Holidays above-mentioned, and the first weeks in January, May, and September respectively), from nine till four, during January, February, November, and December; from nine till five, during March, April, September, and October; and from nine till six, from the 8th of May till the 31st of August, both inclusive.

6. Any person desiring to be admitted into the Reading Room is to apply in writing to the Principal Librarian, specifying his profession or business, his place of abode, and, if required, the purpose for which he seeks admission: his application must be accompanied by a written recommendation, satisfactory to the Principal Librarian; and, thereupon, the Principal Librarian may grant to him admission for a term not exceeding six months, or refer the application to the Trustees at their next Meeting. Any reader, once admitted, may apply at the close of his term for an extension of it, without a fresh recommendation.

7. Readers may take extracts from any printed book or manuscript; but they are not to lay the paper on which they write upon any printed book or manuscript.

8. No person is to write or make any mark whatsoever on any printed book or manuscript. The permission to use the Reading Room will be immediately withdrawn from any one infringing this rule.

9. The Keeper, Assistant Keeper, and Assistants of the Department of Manuscripts, and the Superintendent and Clerk of the Reading Room, shall attentively observe persons inspecting or transcribing charters, legal instruments, and other manuscripts.

Special Rules for using the Collections.

10. Persons engaged in works of learning, or in the prosecution of useful designs, desiring to examine any part of the Collections with more attention than can be done in the ordinary way of viewing the Museum or using the Reading Room, or having occasion to make drawings of anything contained in the Collections, are to apply in writing to the Principal Librarian, who may grant permission, or refer the application to the Standing Committee at their next Meeting.

11. No part of the Collections shall be carried out of the precincts of the Museum, documents or other things required to be produced in evidence only excepted ; for which purpose application shall be made to the Standing Committee at their next Meeting, or, in urgent cases, to the Principal Librarian. If the application be granted, one of the Keepers or Assistant Keepers, or one of the Assistants, shall carry out such document or other thing, and keep it constantly in his custody, allowing it to be inspected only in his presence, unless by command of superior authority.

CHAP. IV.
Special Rules for using the Collections.

12. Members of the Royal Academy, Artists, and Students, may be admitted into the Museum for the purpose of copying sculptures, or other objects of art, on every day in the week (except Saturday and Sunday, the Holidays above mentioned, and the first weeks in January, May, and September, respectively), from nine till four, during January, February, November, and December ; from nine till five, during March, April, September, and October ; and from nine till six, from the 8th of May till the 31st of August, both inclusive.

13. Any person desiring to be admitted into the Museum for the purpose of copying sculptures or other objects of art, or for the purpose of study in the Print Room or in the Departments of Natural History, is to apply in writing to the Principal Librarian, specifying his profession or business, and his place of abode, and, if not a Regulations for the Department of Coins and Medals.

CHAP. V.
General
Rules.

1. The Keeper and Assistant Keeper of the Department shall never both be absent from London at the same time as the Principal Librarian, and they shall be responsible for the due observance of this regulation.

2. Two persons, Officers or Senior Assistants of the Department, shall always be on duty in the Medal Room at the same time.

3. The fire-guards for the use of the Department shall be fitted with spring locks, to be closed at two o'clock in the afternoon for the remainder of the day, and the key to be kept by the Officer in charge. No taper or other light of any kind shall be allowed in the Department, except the lantern used for lighting fires, and the spirit lamp required occasionally for making casts of coins in the Medal Room. No person shall be allowed to make such casts except by the authority of the Trustees. The spirit lamp shall not be kept in the Department, nor allowed to be there at any other time than when it is in actual use for the purpose aforesaid.

CHAP. V.
General
Rules.

4. All the cabinets shall be kept locked, and the keys shall remain in the custody of the Keeper or Assistant Keeper, who may at their discretion give them to such Assistants as have occasion to consult the collections. Each cabinet shall have a number attached to it, and a day-book shall be kept, in which shall be registered the number of every cabinet opened each day, and by whom. Special locks shall be put at the discretion of the Keeper of the Department upon any of the cabinets. All Cabinets opened shall be again locked as soon as the Coin, Medal, or tray required for examination shall have been taken out. The key shall be returned at once to the Keeper or Assistant Keeper, and no cabinet shall be left open at the close of the official day.

5. All dummies, of whatever kind, and all coloured cards used for headings in the trays, shall be kept in the Keeper's study, under lock and key, in the custody of the Officer in charge.

6. No person, other than a Trustee, or the Principal Librarian, or the Officers and Assistants of the Department of Coins and Medals, or the Officers of the Departments of Antiquities, shall be admitted within the bar of the Medal Room.

7. The seat of the Assistant Keeper shall be in the Medal Room, and he shall occupy a study only when engaged on duties which cannot be properly performed in the Medal Room.

8. The duties of the Assistants in the Department of Coins and Medals shall be confined to that Department only.

9. Whenever the Keeper or Assistant Keeper shall exercise the power of relaxing any Rule, the fact and the reason of such relaxation shall be entered by him in a book kept for the purpose, which book shall be laid before the Trustees at each ordinary meeting of the Standing Committee.

10. A certain portion of the collection of Coins and Medals shall be exhibited in the Gold Ornament Room, and the Coins and Medals so exhibited shall, from time to time, be changed at the discretion of the Keeper of the Department, so that the whole of the collection may, in due course, be exhibited to the public. A register shall be kept, in which shall be recorded the number of Coins or Medals exhibited from time to time under their classes and metals, and this register shall be so framed as at once to afford the means of verifying the contents of the whole collection.

CHAP. V.
General
Rules.

11. No person shall be allowed to bring Coins or Medals to the Medal Room, for the purpose of comparison, without first obtaining the express permission of the Keeper, or, in his absence, of the Assistant Keeper; and this permission shall be granted only on special occasions.

Trustees.

12. All Coins or Medals brought into the Department for the purpose of sale, presentation, or examination, shall be delivered at once into the possession or custody of the Keeper of the Department, and kept in his study until they shall become the property of the Trustees, or be returned to their owners; and no person belonging to the Department other than the Keeper, or, in his absence, the Assistant Keeper, shall have any Coins or Medals in his possession or custody within the Museum, except for the purpose of registration or cataloguing.

13. All Coins or Medals, when and so often as acquired, shall be placed in their proper classes.

Concerning Registration and Catalogues of Coins and Medals.

14. All Coins and Medals so acquired shall be registered according to their classes, and, so far as possible, simultaneously and without loss of time.

15. A separate Register Book shall be kept for each class of Coins and Medals, as for Roman,

Greek, &c. In registering Coins and Medals, or parcels of Coins and Medals, acquired from the collection of any one person, references shall be made from each Register to other Registers, if there be any, containing descriptions of other portions, if there be any, of the same collection.

16. All entries in the Registers shall be made as full as possible, in order that the Registers themselves may be used for Catalogues.

17. In making entries of Coins and Medals, the rules laid down for the Catalogue of Greek Coins shall be, so far as possible, observed for all other classes.

18. No Coins or Medals shall be delivered to any Assistant for the purpose of preparing for registration, or for registering or cataloguing, or for any other purpose, until such Assistant shall be at liberty and able at once to enter upon the proper execution of his work.

19. When an Assistant is engaged on registering or cataloguing, no more Coins or Medals shall be on his table at one time than may be necessary for the proper execution of his work.

20. Coins or Medals delivered to an Assistant for any purpose whatsoever, shall be returned to the Keeper, or, in his absence, to the Assistant Keeper, at the end of each day; and no Coins or Medals shall be allowed to remain in the Medal Room when the room is closed, except such as are registered and incorporated with their respective classes.

21. In the process of incorporating Coins or Medals; or of re-arranging Coins or Medals, when it shall become necessary to withdraw or supply dummies, or to supply heading cards, the Keeper or Assistant Keeper of the Department shall withdraw or supply such dummies or heading cards. The Assistant who has been engaged on the previous processes of the incorporation or re-arrangement shall in every case be present.

CHAP. V.
Concerning Registration and Catalogues of Coins and Medals.

22. A hand Catalogue shall be made, to show important Coins and Medals; such hand Catalogue to be always in the custody of the Keeper of the Department; and when alterations in it are necessary, they shall be first submitted for approval to the Keeper or to the Assistant Keeper.

23. Sulphur Casts shall be made of important Coins and Medals.

24. No Coin or Medal shall be rejected as a duplicate, or incorporated with the collection of duplicates, until it shall have first been submitted to the Keeper, or, in his absence, to the Assistant Keeper, and duly compared by him or them with the Coins or Medals in the General Collection.

Concerning Duplicate Coins and Medals.

25. A List shall from time to time be made of all duplicate Coins or Medals set apart as such from the General Collection.

26. A Sulphur Cast shall from time to time be made of every Coin or Medal parted with as a duplicate.

CHAP. V.
Concerning Duplicate Coins and Medals.

27. A card shall be placed under each duplicate Coin or Medal removed from the General Collection, showing from what collection or parcel (if any) the Coin or Medal which has been incorporated with the General Collection in its place has been acquired.

Concerning
Inspection of Coins and Medals by Visitors.

28. No stranger, unless personally known to the Keeper, Assistant Keeper, or one of the Assistants in the department, shall be allowed to see the Coins or Medals without a written introduction, satisfactory to the Keeper or Assistant Keeper; and all such introductions shall be filed in a Register by themselves.

29. A day-book shall be kept, recording the examination of Coins or Medals, not under glass, by visitors, with the name and address of each such visitor, and the name of the person or persons in attendance on such occasions, the latter to make the entry, which shall be signed by the visitor and the person or persons in attendance.

30. It is strictly forbidden to show Coins or Medals to visitors, unless the Keeper or Assistant Keeper, and at least one Senior Assistant, be present in the Medal Room during the visit, and unless some one person attached to the Department be looking on and watching. No person, unless attached to the Department, shall be allowed to show Coins or Medals to visitors.

31. All Coins and Medals shall be exhibited to visitors under glass, excepting such as the Keeper or Assistant Keeper shall allow to be handled for numismatic or scientific purposes. No person shall be allowed to have in his hand a Coin or Medal belonging to the Department, and have at the same time in his hand a Coin or Medal of his own.

CHAP. V.
Concerning Inspection of Coins and Medals by Visitors.

32. Only one tray of Coins or Medals at a time shall be exhibited to visitors, unless for any special purpose, when the Keeper, or, in his absence, the Assistant Keeper may use his discretion as to the extent to which the rule should be relaxed.

Each tray of Coins or Medals shall be removed from the bar before another be placed upon it.

33. No person, other than a Trustee or the Principal Librarian, or unless attached to the Department, shall have access to any of the Cabinets.

Concerning the Care and Protection
of the Collections.

34. The Cabinets and Presses in the Keeper's room shall be kept always locked. The keys of these Cabinets and Presses shall be in the custody of the Keeper, or, in his absence, of the Assistant Keeper.

35. No Coins or Medals, after having been registered or catalogued, shall be kept in the study of the Keeper, or of the Assistant Keeper. But all Coins and Medals shall be kept in the Medal Room, with the exception of such as may, with the sanction of the Trustees, be from time to time exhibited in the Gold Ornament Room, or elsewhere in the Museum.

CHAP. V.
Concerning the Care and Protection
of the Collections.

36. The door opening from the corridor into the Medal Room shall be always kept closed.

37. The door communicating from the Gold Ornament Room to the study of the Assistant Keeper shall be kept always locked, and also the door from the same Room into the Keeper's study—whenever he is absent from his duties—unless when this Room may be occupied by the Assistant Keeper in the absence of the Keeper.

38. No stranger shall be allowed to draw or copy in the study of the Keeper or of the Assistant Keeper; and no stranger shall be allowed to sit in the Medal Room for the purpose of drawing or copying, unless employed by the Trustees or the Keeper to make drawings or copies of Coins or Medals; but, if so employed, such stranger shall sit outside the bar, and only one person shall be so employed at the same time.

39. All strangers who may be admitted to the study of the Keeper, or of the Assistant Keeper, shall be introduced through the Gold Ornament Room, and not through the Medal Room.

Concerning
Admission
of Strangers to the Coin
and Medal Room and Keepers' Studies.

40. No stranger shall be left alone in the study of the Keeper or Assistant Keeper; and no stranger shall be admitted into the Medal Room, or be allowed to remain there, unless two at least of the Assistants, or their superior Officers, attached to the Department, be present.

41. No person not attached to the Department of Coins and Medals, other than Keepers or Assistant Keepers of Departments, or Assistants in the other Departments of Antiquities, shall be permitted to draw or study in the Medal Room, or in the study of the Keeper or of the Assistant Keeper, without the express sanction of the Principal Librarian, to be obtained on a written application supported by the recommendation of the Keeper of the Department, or, in his absence, of the Assistant Keeper, such application to be laid before the Trustees at their next meeting.

CHAP. V.
Concerning Admission
of Strangers to the Coin
and Medal Room and Keepers' Studies.

CHAPTER VI.

Concerning the Security of the Museum.

1. That the Museum may at no time be left without a proper Officer responsible for its safety and duly authorised to give orders in case of fire or other accidents, some one of the resident subordinate Officers shall always remain within the precincts of the Museum, who, in the absence of the Principal Librarian, shall be responsible for the safety of the Museum, and of the Property and Collections therein, and shall have authority to give orders in case of fire or other accidents. The Principal Librarian shall see that this Rule be strictly observed.

CHAP. VI.
Precautions against Fire and other Accidents.

2. Every subordinate Officer shall pay particular attention to the security of his Department; and

CHAP. VI.
Precautions against Fire and other Accidents.

for that purpose see that, after Museum hours, the windows and doors be properly fastened, and that the fires be extinguished or left so as not to be dangerous.

3. Whenever it is necessary to bring lights into the Museum, they shall be carried in lanterns to be specially provided for that purpose.

4. The Principal Librarian shall take care that the fire-engines, and the pipes belonging to them, be continually kept in good order; and that the reservoirs be always in a state fit for service.

5. PRINTED REGULATIONS FOR THE GENERAL SECURITY OF THE MUSEUM shall from time to time be placed in the hands of the resident Officers, the Messengers, the Clerk of the Works, and such other persons as the Principal Librarian shall think fit.
