

Order to Demobilize Troops in India Is Causing Uneasiness

British Withdrawal From Mesopotamia and Outcry Against Army Expenditures Given As Reason For Government Decision; Strike Wave Growing.

Delhi, India, Jan. 18.—Uneasiness prevails in the Indian army at the Government's decision to demobilize 30,000 Indian troops and 3,500 British officers by the end of March. It is also believed that six British battalions are about to be repatriated, partly owing to the British withdrawal from Mesopotamia and also the bad financial outlook and the consequent Indian outcry at the heavy army expenditures. A big budget deficit is considered inevitable owing to the fall of exchange and severe trade depression.

Calcutta, Jan. 18.—(India Information Bureau)—A general strike wave has been sweeping over the industrial sections of India affecting every industry. The labor situation in Bombay city is reported to be growing more serious.

P. J. RIDDEL IS ELECTED TO BOARD

George Jay and Mrs. Spofford Are Also Trustees

Magistrate George Jay, Mrs. Cecilia Spofford and Major P. Riddell were declared elected to the City School Board by Returning Officer William Scowcroft last night after all ballots cast in the recent School Board election here had been counted six separate times. The election of Mr. Jay and Mrs. Spofford was apparent early in the count, but Major Riddell appeared to have suffered defeat. A. C. Pike, Labor candidate, seemed assured of election, but he did not have sufficient second and third choice ballots to win. On the count of "first choices" Mr. Jay headed the poll with 1,556, Mrs. Spofford 1,424, and Mr. Riddell 1,324. Cross's votes were distributed left Litchfield in the third count, 481; Pike, 673; Riddell, 598; Smith, 480; and Mrs. Spofford, 648.

WEST AFRICA NOW SEEKS HOME RULE

Mission in London to Confer With Colonial Office

London, Jan. 18.—West Africa is the latest country to seek home rule. A mission, representative of British West Africa, has arrived here to urge upon the Colonial Office a number of reforms in the internal administration of the four West African colonies and protectorates, Sierra Leone, the Gold Coast, Nigeria and the Gambia, says The London Times.

Canadian Butter for English Consumption Fetches High Price

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—(Canadian Press)—The agent of the British Ministry of Food in Canada has been authorized to purchase first quality Canadian butter at a price equivalent to 300 shillings per hundredweight. This is the highest price paid anywhere by the Ministry of Food for butter supplies.

SIXTY-EIGHT PEOPLE BURNED TO DEATH ON RUSSIAN RAILROAD

Copenhagen, Jan. 18.—Sixty-eight passengers, including a railway train running from Luga on the Gulf of Finland, to Novgorod, southeast of Petrograd, were burned to death when a quantity of benzene being carried as freight exploded and wrecked the train, says a Helsingfors dispatch to The Berlingske Tidende. The train caught fire from the flaming fuel.

MINING ENGINEERS TO HOLD CONVENTION IN KOOTENAY CITIES

Nelson, Jan. 18.—British Columbia section of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, covering the Northwestern States, is planning to hold its convention in the Kootenay next summer, with session at Nelson and Trail, according to negotiations now in progress. L. J. Armstrong, of Spokane, is in charge of arrangements. The Institute will make its dates coincide with those of the regular international convention of the Institute in Nelson. S. G. Blaylock, of Trail, and Fred A. Starkey, of Nelson, are to look after arrangements on this side.

INTERIOR OF COUNTRY IN GRIP OF COLD WAVE

Toronto, Jan. 18.—(Canadian Press)—White River, Ont., which generally holds the record as the coldest point on the official weather map of Canada, has not reported its mercury standing this morning, but a minimum of forty below at Incoquo Falls, Ont., and 28 below at Cochrane, Ont., are unofficially reported to the Canadian Press from the north country. All Canada except the Pacific and the Atlantic coasts is apparently gripped in zero weather, the lowest officially reported at 8 a.m. to-day being at Ottawa, 18 below. At Winnipeg it is comparatively balmy to-day at 20 below, and the fact that it was 32 below at that point yesterday indicates that the cold wave is moving eastward.

Two Killed, Others Hurt, in Explosion at Film Factory

Bayonne, N.J., Jan. 18.—Two persons were killed and more than ten were injured in an explosion and fire in the plant of the Bellows Film Company here to-day.

Ebert Makes Plea for Unity of Fatherland

Berlin, Jan. 18.—On the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the proclamation of the old German Empire at Versailles, President Ebert issued a manifesto saying, in part: "This was a long delayed fulfillment of our forefathers' wishes, and despite the war losses, we have been spared one great misfortune—a new separation of German lands. We hold fast together. In this let us rejoice. "Even if to-day we sorrowfully look toward compatriots who unwillingly have been separated from their kindred, and toward sorely tried Austria, which longingly stretches her arms to us and to her, we must be determined to keep them never separate us, maintain our domestic unity. Even the unity of the German Fatherland is for us all an article of faith, and we are one on the point of unity."

DANISH INDUSTRIES IN CRITICAL STATE

Copenhagen, Jan. 18.—Danish industries are facing a critical situation, a majority of large concerns working half time and others being closed down. Unemployment is rapidly increasing and in the meantime the market is being glutted with foreign-made goods. A section of the press is urging the Government for its indifference, demanding either protective measures of suspension of imports.

STOCK BROKERAGE FIRM SUSPENDED

Boston, Jan. 18.—The stock brokerage house of Ernest S. Smith & Company, members of the New York and Boston Stock Exchange, to-day announced that they were unable to meet their obligations. The announcement was read from the rostrum of the Exchange which declared them suspended for one year.

SENGALESE TROOPS FIRE ON COSSACKS AT CONSTANTINOPLE

Constantinople, Jan. 18.—French black troops turned their machine guns on mutinous Cossacks of General Wrangel's former army encamped 25 miles northwest of Constantinople Saturday night, after the Cossacks had disarmed their officers. The Cossacks returned the fire, killing ten Senegalese and wounding 22 others and two French officers.

PREMATURE FRUIT BLOOM IS FEARED

Mild Winter Cause Anxiety in Eastern Washington

Seattle, Jan. 18.—Fruit growers of Eastern Washington are feeling considerable anxiety over the mild winter and the fact that fruit buds are beginning to appear. To them this summer of premature bloom, maturity and stunting in which the hot summer weather will catch the soft fruit crop at its most critical point, may kill and burn out much of the yield. Reports to local jobbers were rather alarming along that line.

WINSTON CHURCHILL'S APPOINTMENT SURE

Daily Chronicle Confirms Report of New Office

London, Jan. 18.—(Canadian Associated Press)—The Daily Chronicle, the chief organ of the coalition Government, confirms the report that Winston Churchill will become Secretary of State for the Colonies. The Daily News, which is bitterly hostile to Premier Lloyd George, says the appointment is essentially mischievous, as Mr. Churchill would not go to the Colonial Office with less authority than his predecessors, and this prospect appears at a time when the Dominions protesting against having to transact business through the Colonial Office.

Unemployed Invade City Hall and Ask for Work

Fear of disorder spread over the City Hall this morning when about sixty unemployed men marched into the City Council chamber and demanded that Mayor Porter appear and hear their pleas for work. After the Mayor had conferred with representatives of the meeting privately and explained that all jobless men could secure work under the city's wood cutting scheme, the gathering dispersed quietly, though little satisfied by the Mayor's explanation.

Marquis Okuma On Japan's Position in Naval Controversy

Former Premier of Japan Is Suspicious Concerning Attitude of United States Relative to Proposals For Reduction in Naval Armaments.

Tokio, Jan. 18.—Proposals from the United States that Japan, Great Britain and the United States "take a naval holiday" is eloquent proof that despite the fabulous riches of the United States, she wishes to curtail national expenditures and therefore the proposals are intended more to help the United States than to contribute to the peace of the world, said Marquis Okuma, former Japanese Premier, in an interview here to-day.

D'ANNUNZIO ABOUT TO LEAVE FIUME

Trieste, Jan. 18.—Gabriele D'Annunzio, former insurgent leader at Fiume, will leave that city this week, having obtained passport visas for Switzerland, Greece, Spain and France. Five hundred of his legionaries still remain in Fiume.

FOUR KILLED IN GALWAY AMBUSH

Seven "Black and Tans" Also Wounded in Fight

London, Jan. 18.—Four civilians were killed and seven Black and Tan auxiliary policemen were wounded in a fight in County Galway, Ireland, according to reports received here to-day. The fight ensued when a Black and Tan patrol was ambushed near the City of Galway.

FOR THREE YEARS HER LIFE WAS MISERABLE

Don't Know What End Would Have Been If She Hadn't Taken Tanlac, Says Mrs. Shepard; Feels Fine, Now

"I just can't tell you all Tanlac has done for me," said Mrs. F. Shepard, of Bishop's Landing, B.C.

"I have been sick so long and suffered so much I feel I would be doing a positive wrong not to tell others about this wonderful medicine. For three years my life was absolutely miserable from stomach trouble. Nothing I ate agreed with me, everything seemed to sour and ferment, gas which caused my heart to palpitate, so I was afraid I had heart trouble. I got little rest day or night, and often had to sit propped up in bed all night to keep from smothering. I had awful headaches and attacks of nausea at times.

"I don't know what the end would have been if I had not gotten Tanlac when I did, as I was almost ready to give up. It's just wonderful the way I improved. I was soon like another person, eating anything and not having a particle of trouble afterwards. My nerves have quieted down and at night I sleep like a child all night long.

"In the mornings I wake up bright and happy now, and just full of life and energy, which is certainly a big change, as I used to get up all tired and worn out. Tanlac's the grandest of medicines."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas Streets, and Lang's Drug Store, Esquimalt Road.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR TRUCE SUSPENDED

Attitude of British Government Remains Unchanged

London, Jan. 18.—Since the suspension of the negotiations begun by Father O'Flanagan there has been a complete cessation of unofficial conversations for an Irish truce, and it is not likely they will be renewed for at least two months. During this interval the authorities in Ireland will be permitted to tighten up repressive measures and prove their belief that Ireland can thus be restored to order and the extremists confounded.

The Government view is that nobody entitled to speak for the Sinn Fein has come forward to discuss matters with the Government, whose attitude remains unchanged. The Government declines to discuss peace until the claim for independence and the republicanism has been surrendered. Further the Government refuses to negotiate except on the Home Rule Bill as a basis. On this ground, however, it is believed generally, it probably would be willing to grant fiscal autonomy to Southern Ireland, if peace could be attained thereby.

SASKATCHEWAN SENDS FIRST CHALLENGE FOR CRACK AT ALLAN CUP

UNEMPLOYMENT QUESTION.

South Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Negotiations between Commissioner Gillespie and the committee of unemployed are now at a deadlock, with the result that the Commissioner and James Davison, delegate of the unemployed will meet Premier Oliver Tuesday morning to discuss the whole situation. The Commissioner takes the stand that South Vancouver can not afford to spend more money to employ the out of work while an equally firm stand is taken by the unemployed that work must be provided or many families will be reduced to a state of absolute destitution.

HANDY FORMULA FOR COLDS OR GRIPPE

Miss Ella Johnson Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"My trouble began as small pimples and in a few months they got worse and my forehead was just a mass of large pimples. They were hard and red and caused me to scratch, and I was disgusted for the time. They made me embarrassed when out in company. I tried sassafras tea but it was of no help. I saw Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and sent for a free sample. After using them I bought more, and when I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment for about a month I was completely healed." NAVAL POLICIES WILL BE DISCUSSED

Object of Sir Auckland Geddes's Visit to England

London, Jan. 18.—The question of the naval policies of the United States and Great Britain will be one of the principal subjects discussed at the forthcoming conferences here between Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, and the Prime Minister, Lloyd George, and Earl Curzon, the Foreign Secretary. It is stated in authoritative quarters.

Reticence Displayed.
London, Jan. 18.—Government officials are displaying unusual reticence concerning both the visit of Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador to Washington, and Lord Chalmers' mission to the United States, which has been proposed. The coincidence of the Ambassador's return with this postponement points to the likelihood that the question of the Anglo-American debt will be the chief subject of his conference with the Government. The visit of the Ambassador to Washington, reports here, was undertaken on a hasty summons from the Prime Minister, excites great curiosity and speculation. There is no question of possible controversy between the two countries which is left unmentioned by the United States correspondent of the British newspapers to explain the visit.

It is alleged by one correspondent that Canada is showing independence, claiming greater freedom from the jurisdiction of the Privy Council, and a separate negotiation with Washington.

The same correspondent reiterates that United States statesmanship is seeking approach to the Dominion on the Pacific question. In this connection it is suggested in London that the Prime Minister may be anxious to consult Sir Auckland Geddes at the moment the Colonial Office is busy handling the resignation of Lord Milner's resignation. What appears to be quite certain is that naval disarmament will be discussed. There have been conflicting reports in recent days, some to the effect that the committee on defence will decide against the building of more capital ships, others that no decision has yet been reached. It may be supposed that the unexpected success of the anti-waste candidate in the Dover by-election, Sir Thomas Polson, who, on January 13, defeated Major John Jacob, may have some effect on the question of embarking on costly naval expenditure, but it is generally conceded that the Government is waiting to consult the Dominions at the imperial conference in June.

The postponement of the Chalmers mission is not altogether unwelcome. There had been protests against any settlement of the debt question, which were fortified by rumors reaching London that conversion into long-term obligations was to have been on a basis of 5% per cent. interest. This was great disappointment, as it had been taken for granted the interest would not exceed 5 per cent. The tendency of exchange is downward, and it is hoped that delay may make for a settlement on easier terms.

LABOR SITUATION IS MORE SETTLED

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—The time loss due to industrial disputes was less during December, 1920, than during the previous month of November, or during December, 1919. According to figures published in The Labor Gazette, there were in existence during the past month 10 strikes, involving 1,554 people, and resulting in a time loss of 14,554 days. In November, 1920, there were double the number of strikes, involving 1,359 people and resulting in a time loss of 23,542 days, and in December, 1919, 22 strikes, involving 3,200 work people and 51,853 days. At the end of December, 1920, there were on record four strikes, involving about 379 work people. At the beginning of December, unemployment among the unions was 10 per cent. of the total membership, as compared with 5.99 per cent. at the beginning of November, and 3.56 per cent. at the beginning of 1919. According to returns received from about 5,000 firms, there was continued steady decrease in the general average of unemployment throughout the month.

Safeguard Against Dyspeptic Tendencies

To enjoy perfect health you must possess strong digestion. This is only possible under certain conditions.

FIRST: Your bowel must be regular, you must avoid constipation, which is the beginning of sick kidneys, weak stomach, and of course dyspepsia.

SECOND: Give your diet careful study, and commence at once a treatment with Dr. Hamilton's Pills; do this, and you'll soon be well. Never was a remedy more successful than Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and simply because they correct the conditions which lead up to dyspepsia.

No better evidence can be given than the cast of Mr. Michael Miller, of 153 Kert Street, Ottawa, who says:

"Last winter I was very sick. I had measles and was left in a run-down, miserable condition. My stomach seemed all wrong. Food fermented, caused me great distress, and I couldn't keep strong. I had dyspepsia of the worst kind, and my bowels were constantly constipated. When I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills I was helped. I continued the treatment and was restored to a condition of health and strength that I never knew before. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are wonderful medicine, and I recommend them to everyone, sick or well."

Nothing invigorates and freshens like a treatment of Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they put new life and vim into those who feel run down and ailing. Simply one or two pills before retiring; perfectly safe and unsurpassed in the benefits they surely do accomplish. Sold in yellow boxes 25c, each, or five for $1.00 at all dealers.

INTIMIDATION IN IRELAND CHARGED

Labor Committee Issues Supplementary Report

London, Jan. 18.—A supplementary report of the Irish investigating commission of the Labor Party which visited Ireland to investigate conditions, was issued last evening by the Labor Party. It states that the publication of the testimony of one witness before the commission resulted in a visit to his home by armed men, who, not finding him, proceeded to damage the furniture.

The report challenges the accuracy of the Government's account of the "battle of Tralee," drawing the conclusion that the "battle of Tralee is a figment of the imagination," and alleges that "there is conflict between the evidence gathered by the commission and the fanciful, highly colored story of the battle presented in the House of Commons by the Chief Secretary."

The document cites what it intimates was a case of the falsing of a photograph portraying a battle scene to support accounts given in the House. The report says the photograph has been suppressed, but it recounts how it pictured a wounded cadet and two dead Sinn Feiners lying in a road and the cadets taking Sinn Fein prisoners in the background.

The report declares that the photograph appeared in army newspapers, and was variously described as "a picture from the Kerry front," and "an illustration of the 'battle of Tralee.'"

"What we wish emphasized," says the report, "is that this photograph purports to have been taken in Southwest Ireland. Attention is called to a photograph included in the report showing a junction of two roads just outside of Dublin. The report adds:

"It is this scene, with the addition of the people referred to above, which has appeared as a picture of the battle of Tralee. There is no such scene in the vicinity of the 'battleground.' We can understand that its publication would give an air of verisimilitude to the story of an encounter as described by Sir Hamar Greenwood."

With reference to the attempted victimization of a witness, the report says:

"About 2 o'clock in the morning following the publication of the evidence we are informed that a number of armed men burst into the house where the witness lived. He was not there; but the men damaged the furniture and other effects, and on leaving, one said: 'Tell him we will get him, and when we do we will guarantee that he will give more evidence. We will make a clean job the next time.'"

"This scandalous incident," the report adds, "illustrates the peril of giving evidence on the doings of the armed forces of the Crown. We regret that an attempt should have been made to victimize a witness, whose only offense was that he told the commission of his experience with agents of the British Government."

STATE OF PANIC EXISTS IN VIENNA

Workers Threaten Violence; Exodus From City Begins

Vienna, Jan. 18.—The threat of the workmen to take things into their own hands on January 20, has created a decidedly panicky situation in Vienna. It is reported that there have been large withdrawals of money from the banks and a decided exodus of those classes of the population directly threatened has begun.

The recent demonstrations growing out of the postal strike, the character of the testimony before the fair price conference last week and the steady fall in the value of the crown, all have served to bring the population to a high state of nervousness. The crown has fallen 100 points in the last five days.

Associations of former army officers, numbering about 30,000, have been organized as police auxiliaries.

The price conference has resulted in the wholesalers and agrarians uniting and declaring that it is useless to hope for a reduction in the cost of necessities until present conditions improve. Replying to this statement, Herr Eldersch, secretary of the National Assembly, declared that prices must come down, no matter what the result.

"The people are in a state of stupefaction over the cost of living," said Herr Eldersch: "If the day of judgment must come, let it come now. Economic conditions will force us to join Germany."

Among incidents tending to increase the tension was the seizure to-day by the workmen's council of 136 cannon and other military materials.

The demand for the right of collective bargaining, there has been a further manifestation of the increasing agitation for fusion

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat and Take Salts for Backache or Bladder Trouble.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from back-ache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Bull-Dog Drummond

By Cyril McNeile
"Sapper"

"A veritable Solomon," said Algy, gazing at him admiringly through his eyeglass. "I told you this morning I detested your friends."

"Has it still further struck you," went on Hugh, a trifle grimly, "that we aren't standing for it? At any rate, I'm not. It's my palaver this, you fellows, and if you like . . . Well, there's no call on you to remain in the game. I mean—"

"Yes, we're waiting to hear what the devil you do mean," said Toby uncompromisingly.

"Well—er—stammered Hugh, "there's a big element of risk, don't you know, and there's no earthly reason why you fellows should get roped in and all that. I mean—er—I'm sort of pledged to see the thing through, don't you know, and—"

He relapsed into silence, and stared at the tablecloth, uncomfortably aware of three pairs of eyes fixed on him.

"Well—er—mimicked Algy, "there's a big element of risk—er—don't you know and I mean—er—we're sort of pledged to bung you through the window, old bean, if you talk such consolidated drivel!"

"Well, I had to put it to you fellows. Not that I ever thought for a moment you wouldn't see the thing through—but last evening is enough to show you that we're up against a tough crowd. A damned tough crowd," he added thoughtfully. "That being so," he went on briskly, after a moment or two, "I propose that we should tackle the blighters to-night."

"To-night!" echoed Darrell. "Where?"

"At the Elms, of course. That's where the wretched Potts is for a certainty."

"And how do you propose that we should set about it?" demanded Sinclair.

Drummond drained his port and grinned gently.

"By stealth, dear old bean—by stealth. You—and I thought we might rake in Ted Jerringham, and perhaps Jerry Seymour, to join the happy throng—will make a demonstration in force, with the idea of drawing off the enemy, thereby leaving the coast clear for me to explore the house for the unfortunate Potts."

"Sounds very nice in theory," said Darrell dubiously, "but . . ."

"And what do you mean by a demonstration?" said Longworth.

"You don't propose we should sing carols outside the drawing room window, do you?"

"My dear people," Hugh murmured protestingly, "surely you know me well enough by now to realize that I can't possibly have another idea for at least ten minutes. That is just the general scheme; doubtless the mere vulgar details will occur to us in time. Besides, it's some one else's turn now." He looked round the table hopefully.

"We might dress up or something," remarked Toby Sinclair, after a lengthy silence.

"What is the name of Heaven in the use of that?" said Darrell witheringly. "It's not private theatricals, nor a beauty competition."

"Cease wrangling, you two," said Hugh suddenly, a few moments later. "I've got a perfect cerebral hurricane raging. An accident. . . . A car. . . . What is the connecting-link. . . . Why, drink. Write it down, Algy, or we might forget. Now, can you beat that?"

"We might have some chance," said Darrell kindly, "if we had the slightest idea what you were talking about."

"I should have thought it was perfectly obvious," returned Hugh coldly. "You know, Peter, your worry is that you're too quick on the uptake. Your brain is too sharp."

"How do you spell connecting," demanded Algy, looking up from his labors. "And, anyway, the damned pencil won't write."

"Pay attention, all of you," said Hugh, "to-night sometime about ten of the clock, Algy's motor will proceed along the Godalming-Gildford Road. It will contain you, three—"

He also Ted and Jerry Seymour, if we also get'em. On approaching the gate of the Elms, you will render the night hideous with your vocal efforts. Stray passers-by will think that you are all tight. There will come the dramatic moment, when, with a heavy crash, you ram the gate."

"How awfully jolly," spluttered Algy, "beg to be used for the event."

"Can't be done, old son," laughed Hugh. "Mine's faster than yours, and I'll be wanting it myself. Now to proceed. "I'm forced at this wanton damage to property, you will leave the car and proceed in mass formation up the drive."

"Still giving tongue?" queried Darrell.

"Still giving tongue. Either Ted or Jerry or both of 'em will approach the house and inform the owner in a heartbroken accents that they have damaged his gatepost. You three will remain in the garden—you might be recognized. Then it will be up to you. You'll have several men all round you. Keep 'em occupied—somehow. They won't hurt you; they'll only be concerned with seeing that you don't go where you're not wanted. You see, as far as the world is concerned, it's just an ordinary country residence. The last thing they want to do is to draw any suspicion on themselves—and, on the face of it, you are merely five convivial wanderers who have looked on the wine when it was red. I think," he added thoughtfully, "that ten minutes will be enough for me. . . ."

"What will you be doing?" said Toby.

"I shall be looking for Potts. Don't worry about me, may find him; I may not. But when you have given me ten minutes—you clear off. I'll look after myself. Now is that clear?"

"Perfect," said Darrell, after a short silence. "But I don't know that I like it, Hugh. It seems to me, old son, that you're running an unnecessary lot of risk."

"Got any alternative?" demanded Drummond.

"If we're all going down," said Darrell, "why not stick together and rush the house in a gang?"

"No go, old bean," said Hugh decisively. "Too many of 'em to hope to pull it off. No, low cunning is the only thing that's got an earthly of succeeding."

"There is one other possible suggestion," remarked Toby slowly. "What about the police? From what you say, Hugh, there's enough in that house to jig the whole bunch."

"Toby!" gasped Hugh. "I thought better of you. You seriously suggest that we should call in the police? And then return to a life of toping and ease? Besides," he continued, removing his eye from the abashed author of this hideous suggestion, "there's a very good reason for keeping the police out of it. You'd land the girl's father in the cart, along with the rest of them. And it makes it so devilish awkward if one's father-in-law is in prison!"

"When are we going to see this fairy?" demanded Algy.

"You, personally, never. You're far too immoral. I might let the others look at her from a distance in a year or two. With a grin he rose, and then strolled towards the door.

"Now go and rope in Ted and Jerry, and for the love of Heaven don't ram the wrong gate."

"What are you going to do yourself?" demanded Peter suspiciously.

"I'm going to look at her from close to. Go away, all of you, and don't listen outside the telephone box."

VETERANS WILL HAVE DELEGATE AT SOUTH AFRICAN CONFERENCE

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—President R. B. Maxwell of the Dominion Command G. W. V. A. will go to the Empire Conference of the War Veterans in South Africa at his own expense, according to announcement yesterday.

Mr. Maxwell, who is at present in Ottawa, will sail from Canada on the Minnedosa on January 22.

HEADACHES

Make Life Miserable

Headaches are one of the most aggravating troubles one can have, and it is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

Headaches seem to be habitual with many people; some are seldom, if ever, free from them, suffering continually from the dull throbbings, the intense pains, sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then again over the whole head.

There is only one way to get relief from these persistent headaches, and that is by going direct to the seat of the trouble, for unless the cause is removed, the headaches will still continue to exist.

The fact that Burdock Blood Bitters keep the stomach, liver and bowels toned up is proof enough to show that it will eliminate the cause of the headaches.

Mrs. Harold Lanain, Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"My system was run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head, which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies, I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health, so I took another and am glad to say that it has given me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to my friends, who were in a similar condition, and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

B. B. B. is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

VISITOR HERE DEALS WITH LIQUOR QUESTION

Position in Canada and Scotland Reviewed by Andrew Stewart

Having studied the prohibition question very closely as it affects Canada and Scotland, and speaking from the standpoint of one who has traveled extensively in both countries, Andrew Stewart, who paid a visit to Victoria last Fall, writes to The Times on the subject.

Upon his return to Scotland a review of the situation was published in the Scotsman by Mr. Stewart in which he stated that he had an opportunity of learning the feeling of Canadians on a question which had been prominently before the Scottish people for some time.

Mr. Stewart said: "Apart from Quebec a province which is mainly French-speaking and Roman Catholic, there can be no doubt that the prevailing feeling across Canada is in favor of the prohibition. If it can be properly enforced, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta have all voted 'dry' in the recent plebiscite. British Columbia, although apparently an exception, is not so. The situation there is rather a peculiar one. At present prohibition exists, but many who were, and are still, in favor of prohibition felt that the law was not being enforced. An impression was common that much illicit drinking was going on—'bootleggers' as they are called, were selling bad liquor—and that generally the situation was unsatisfactory. On 20th October last a plebiscite was taken, when the following questions were submitted to the electors of the province:—(1) 'Which do you prefer—(1) the present Prohibition Act, or (2) an Act to provide for Government control and sale in sealed packages of spirituous and malt liquors?'

Out of an electorate numbering 260,892, the number that voted was 146,068. For Government control, 88,688; for prohibition, 54,741, with 467 spoiled papers.

Visiting the beautiful capital of the province shortly after the plebiscite, one found the interest still keen, and everywhere opinions were freely expressed. After discussing the question with many representative men—business men, clergymen, professional men, pressmen, farmers, etc.—it was quite clear that a large number of those who had previously voted for prohibition had, while still prohibitionists, voted for Government control. They did so in the hope that the more moderate measure, adequately enforced, might prevent some of the evils alleged to exist under prohibition. So far no one can say exactly what Government control is to be."

In a letter just received, Mr. Stewart goes into the situation in Scotland to some length and gives the following summary of the situation: "All the larger burroughs that voted for a change are in the West of Scotland. Glasgow has gone distinctly dry. Twelve districts out of a total of thirty-seven in Glasgow voted for a clean sweep of the public houses and licensed grocers."

"The total vote up to date is 1,038,741. For 'No Change,' 628,824, or over 60 per cent. For 'No License,' 394,258, or nearly 38 per cent. For 'Limitations,' 18,629, or about one per cent. In Glasgow nearly 80 per cent. of the electors voted. In Edinburgh about 67 per cent."

The movement for a change has been led by the churches, some of the ministers having done brave and devoted service in spite of strong opposition from the ranks of their own members.

Every Wage Earner Should Answer Question Himself or Herself

WHAT DOES THE FUTURE HOLD FOR YOU IF HEALTH GIVES WAY?

In dollars and cents, what is the worth of the brawn of your arm; what is the value of the staying power that permits continuous labor—what are they worth to you?

Suppose you did something so foolish as to reduce your strength, vitality or judgment one-half, and it were impossible to get them back—how much would you pay to regain the lost portion?

When you let yourself run down, you reduce your chances for success in life—if sleeplessness comes you score lower still—should appetite or digestion fail, you are stared in the face by physical bankruptcy.

Don't let it go so far, take Ferronine, it has relieved thousands and it will relieve you. It builds up bodily strength, makes muscles like steel, replaces Spring tiredness by energy and new life. Ferronine rebuilds sick folks because it contains the strengthening elements that every run-down system requires.

Especially before the hot weather comes, everyone who builds up purifying strength fills the bill exactly—nothing known that juvenates and uplifts so fast.

At once the appetite improves. You rest well and arise next morning feeling fit and fine.

Headache disappears, weakness gives way to the vigor that only Ferronine can supply. Try it, results are guaranteed, 50c. per box or six for $2.50 at all dealers or by mail to any address if price is remitted to the Cattaraugus Co., Kingston, Ontario.

GOMPERS ELECTED.

Mexico City, Jan. 18.—Samuel Gompers yesterday was re-elected president of the Pan-American Federation of Labor. His election followed three hours of debate in which there was a split, the Mexicans, Salvadoreans and Guatemalans voting against the unanimous acceptance of the resolution nominating Mr. Gompers.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? ERNESTINE. Ernestine has an origin of lofty dignity. She is one of the 'eagle' names. Like many of the feminine names connected with mythology, the eagle occupied a position of great respect and even adoration among the ancients, and his name with various suffixes and prefixes furnished many of the cognomens then in vogue. In Scotland there was a word for eagle was 'ernie', and the name was found in all countries where there were mountains, the homeland of the king of birds. The eagle's name was carried into the family of Braose by King John's victim, Maud de Valery, who called one of her daughters Ernestine. The name Ernestine directly appeared in Lombardy in the year 125, through Margravia of Austria. Ernest spread all over Germany after the Reformation, and it was very many which finally

Sister of Victoria Girl Holds Important Post

Miss Nina F. Winn, sister of Victoria Girl, holds an important position with a Seattle firm. As a vice secretary of the Bemis Bros. Bag Co., Miss Winn is in charge of the employment and personnel work for the factory, which employs hundreds of men, women and girls. She takes an interest in the personal problems of the workers, and follows them up after they are hired to see that they are given proper training and that they are doing work for which they are most fitted. If she finds a "square peg in a round hole," Miss Winn transfers the worker to more suitable work, thus ensuring the maximum amount of efficiency from the staff. She is also in charge of the recreational work.

Many Hear Address of "La Marechale"

Many Hear Mrs. Booth-Clibborn at First Presbyterian

At a prayer meeting held at seven o'clock last night at the First Presbyterian Church a large congregation heard Mrs. Booth-Clibborn—La Marechale—on "The Heart of God." Mrs. Booth-Clibborn is conducting prayer meetings every night this week at the First Presbyterian Church. At three o'clock to-morrow afternoon there is to be a special meeting, to which women only are to be admitted, the subject being "Seven Principles of Bringing Up Children," while at five o'clock there is to be a meeting for girls and young women, when Miss Rich will talk on kindred subjects and explain the Covenant League. Considerable interest is being displayed in these meetings at the First Presbyterian Church, and large congregations have been general throughout.

Governor-General Addressed Women of Montreal Club

Quebec, Jan. 18.—The Women's Canadian Club was addressed yesterday afternoon by His Excellency, the Duke of Devonshire, who spoke of the accomplishments of the League of Nations. Referring incidentally, to his tenure of office in Canada, he saw how the women of the Dominion had been associated with the Canadians during the great war. If there was one thing that struck him more particularly in this connection than any other, it was the spirit manifested by the Canadians in the dark days of 1918, when the Germans broke through the Allied lines in France. A vote of thanks was moved in French to His Excellency by Madame Jules Teaster, who affirmed that the French-Canadians were loyal adherents to the Crown, and ended by saying that it was a privilege to have in Canada, one of the old aristocracy of England, which had never neglected its national duties, had himself lived up to the motto of "noblesse oblige."

100 Famous Women Guests at Thanksgiving Dinner

London, Jan. 15.—A new and chivalrous "notion" distinguished the American Society's annual celebration of "Thanksgiving Day" in London, when one hundred of England's most famous women were the guests of the evening at the society's dinner at the Hotel Cecil. Every phase of modern life—politics, social service, literature, art, and science—had as its representative some British woman whose labors in her particular sphere are eminent in the history of to-day. Feminine brains and beauty were there in bevies. Mrs. Lloyd George proposed the toast of the American Ambassador. She said that when Mr. Davis went back to America he would have many opportunities of strengthening the bond which bound the United States to this country. "I am sure he will never fail to put in a word for Britain." The American Ambassador replied: "If I were a Briton I should give thanks for the far-flung British Empire, and I should give thanks for the men and women that it breeds. And, looking round at this table to-night, I would give thanks to those women who aid such service in its hour of trial and peril." Gordon Selfridge, the chairman, proposed "The Women of Britain." Lady Rhonda, Lady Ampthill, Dame Katharine Furse, Professor Winifred Callis and Miss B. Clough (Principal of Newham College) responded. "God Save the King" was sung by Mme. Ada Crossley while the company stood for the loyal toast, and Roland Hayes sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" during the honoring of that toast.

MISS MARION COOK

Dorothy Cook, the bride's sister. Two younger sisters, Misses Audrey and Sarah Cook, Lady Rachel Caverdish, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire; Lady Margaret Scott, daughter of the Duke of Buccleugh; the Hon. Marguerite Shaughnessy, daughter of Lord and Lady Shaughnessy; Miss Sheila McEachran, formerly Miss Allan, of Montreal, and Miss Adelaide Beardmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Beardmore, of Montreal, will be the bridesmaids. Four little cousins of the bride, the sons of Mrs. Gerald W. Farrell, will act as pages, they being Masters Gerald, Mark, Desmond and Charles Farrell. Captain Oswald Balfour, military secretary to His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, and nephew of the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, will be best man, and the ushers, Stuart MacIver, Alex. Paterson and Cadet Herbert Gook, a brother of the bride. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cook. She was born on August 16, 1886, at the old family homestead, "Edgehill," near Morrisburg, Ont. Her paternal ancestor, John Cook, of English and Scotch ancestry, was a United Empire Loyalist. The bridegroom, Victor Gilbert Lariston Garnet Murray, Kynmond Elliott, Earl of Minto, Baronet of Nova Scotia, Baron of Minto and Viscount Melgund, is the fifth peer to bear that title, well known in the Scottish borders and in British military and diplomatic annals. He is a son of the fourth Earl of Minto, who was Governor-General of Canada from 1898 to 1904, and Mary,

I.O.D.E. WANT BRITISH FILMS IN CANADA

Toronto, Jan. 18.—Further discussion on the advisability of fostering the admission of British motion pictures to Canada, it is expected, will be one of the features of the January meeting of the provincial chapter of the Ontario Independent Order of Daughters of the Empire, which meets in Toronto, January 20. Mother wanted to get rid of Tommy's white rat, but didn't wish to hurt his feelings. So she tried one tack after another without success. One morning she heard that the little boy next door was ill. It gave her an idea. So she told Tommy all about it, and that the poor little sufferer had not got a kind father to give him nice presents. "Now, Tommy," she concluded, "wouldn't you like to give your white rat to the poor little fellow who hasn't any daddy?" Tommy thought deeply for a moment. Then the light of a brain-wave shone in his uplifted eyes, as he remembered a chastisement he had recently received from the stern and strong paternal hand. "Oh, mummy," he said, hopefully, "couldn't you give him farver instead?" An entire family, father, mother and little daughter, were killed when their auto was hit by a train at Greenville, O.

THE PUZZLE

Janet, aged four, had only been in to London two or three times since the London Morning Post, and the journey was always the same—you took the electric train and you changed trains, and you went up an enchanting magic staircase that climbed, and let you found yourself suddenly among the shops where all the best dollies came from. But when a friend of Janet's mother promised to take them up to town in her car one day, Janet was troubled rather than elated. "Mummy," she said at last, "how will Mrs. Brown's motor go up the fairies' staircase?"

"THE LAW DIVINE" IS CHARMING COMEDY HAS BEEN FOR SIX YEARS DANSEUR

H. V. Esmond and Eva Moore Remarkable Training of Pavlova's Premier Assistant

For some years past theatregoers in Canada have been conducting a movement tending to educate the public in a taste for British plays and British players, and the measure of their success is shown in the formation of the Trans-Canada Company, which brings to this country plays of the highest type and leading actors from the Old Country.

Further proof of the excellence of this development was shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening, when a critical but appreciative audience revelled in a play whose subtle humor titillated the appetite while the touches of pathos added the delicate half-tones to a perfect picture of light and shade.

"The Law Divine" is a delightful comedy in four acts dealing with a situation which doubtless arose in thousands of English households during the war. Engrossed in the myriad war-efforts to which women turned during the war, and actively participating in the work of endless committees, Edie La Bas achieves considerable success as a public woman.

As Jack La Bas, H. V. Esmond interpreted the part of the lovable, temperamental author with the ease and sincerity born of the understanding of the creative artist, for Mr. Esmond is the author of the comedy. Eva Moore as the wife, played with all her old-time charm and restraint, portraying the capable, busy war-worker and the charming home-loving leisureed woman with the grave and ease of the true artist.

Excellent support by the minor characters—none of whom could be spared from the cast—added to the effectiveness of "In Walked Jimmy," the young soldier-son, given to endless polishing of the buttons of his uniform, and "Ted Campion, the snotty," who considers himself "a good old sport"; Claudia Meriton as the efficient spinster, who retains her early Victorian viewpoint; Faith Liddle as the fascinating widow; and Florence Wood as the worldly-wise Mrs. Gaythorne, all added their quota to the success of the comedy.

"The Law Divine" will be repeated this evening, and to-morrow and Thursday. "In Walked Jimmy," the farcical comedy by Mr. Esmond, will be the attraction.

DOCTORS OPEN WAR AGAINST LICENSING OF CHIROPRACTORS

Tell Premier of Danger of Giving Chiropractors Freedom... Doctors headed by Dr. George Hall and Dr. R. L. Fraser, of Victoria, and Dr. Proctor, of Vancouver, representing the Medical Council, opened their fight against chiropractors being licensed in B. C. by appearing before Premier Oliver and members of the Government at noon to-day, and telling them of the risks to the public which will run if protection is not continued against improperly qualified persons attempting to practice medicine.

Could Not Pass Tests... "The chiropractors and Christian Scientists are making common cause in this," said Dr. Walker, of New Westminster. He explained that osteopaths had been admitted to carry on their work in British Columbia if they could pass their examinations. Many of them did pass their examinations, but there were a number so poorly educated that they could not pass. These are the ones who got together and called themselves chiropractors," he declared.

Case Continues... S. S. Taylor, K.C., representing the Attorney-General of British Columbia, to-day continued his argument before the Court of Appeal in the appeal of Canadian Pacific Wine Company vs. Tuley. Mr. Taylor claimed that the evidence adduced in the Police Court, where the plaintiff company, appellant, was fined $1,000 and liquors and other goods valued at nearly $250,000 confiscated, showed that all sales were made through some Calgary office. He stated that the accounts showed clearly that no liquor had been sold for export.

INVESTIGATE POLICE TO UNSETTLE POLICE COMMISSION POLL

Following the announcement of Joseph North, defeated candidate for Police Commissioner, that he was planning an attempt to upset last week's poll, the Police Commission, the city officials to-day investigated the possibility of Mr. North's effort proving successful. As the city is not actually interested in the case, these investigations were not official, and City Solicitor H. S. Pringle has declined to give an opinion on the matter.

City to Be Neutral... The City Solicitor, in the matter over with Mayor Porter and the Mayor announced afterwards that the civic authorities would not interpose in the question at all. If North made application to the courts to have the election upset, the city would remain a neutral party in the dispute and would not be represented by counsel at the subsequent proceedings. It would be for Peter Linklater and Alexander Peden, the elected candidates in the Police Commission poll, to fight the case if they so desired, His Worship intimated. "We have nothing at all to do with the case," he said.

Has Other Claims... Not only could Mr. North base his case on the failure of the civic authorities to hold a by-election following the death of Mr. Day but, it is claimed, he would have other grounds for protest. He points out that when in the course of the ballot the Police Commissioner Coady's election only he, Mr. Peden and Mr. Linklater remaining in the running, his ballots were distributed to the other candidates, but their ballots, containing a third name, were not distributed. A similar claim it is understood, has been advanced by a defeated candidate in Vancouver.

FRENCH BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY... Part II. Bauche, who is a real Frenchman in spite of the sound of his name has written that there is an official translation of the Divina Commedia in the second Dante and Boccaccio wrote in Italy the Divina Commedia and the Decamerone. In France it is not known as the Divina Commedia, but as the Decamerone.

Question of Costs... In County Court Chambers this morning Judge Lampman reserved his decision in the question of apportionment of costs in the case of Page vs. Mitchell Motor Agency, in which plaintiff recovered judgment for part of a wages claim. H. C. Hall appeared for plaintiff and E. H. M. Foot for defendant company.

Asks for Damages... A writ has been issued in the County Court by Edward Riley Glunt against Frank B. Loader and Terence A. Sweeney for $1,000 damages for alleged wrongful removal of goods from the premises on Yates Street known as the Blue Mouse. The statement of defence has not yet been filed. White and Martin are solicitors for the plaintiff.

PREPARING TO SHIP... Preparations are being made to ship ore out from the Spider mine in the Stewart camp owned by the Macdonald interests. W. J. Crawford has arrived from the South with his wife and family, and it is understood he will use his horses to get the ore out. They will be shod with new shoes and should be able to handle a large quantity of ore during the time the sleighing is good. This work will commence about February 1, and should continue for three months.

Frederic Lollie... Frederic Lollie the acknowledged authority on the history of the Secord family has written a biography of Talleyrand. "Son Excellence le Mal" they called him one century ago. In spite of the pageantry of the Bourbon, there is in the soul of the Duc de Benevent the smell of the vestry and a little of the shadow of Judas. In 1815 the Duc joined the master of the second half of the 19th century, Proudhon wrote a book about the Corsican, and put in front of it "Delebo cum dem-oria hominum." But, in spite of the duke and the writer, Frederic Masson says it is sufficient to pronounce his name to see the world interested at once.

Another Maintenance? The other book of Lollie tells the story of the Countess of Castiglione, a beauty who mixed up in politics and dreamed of a second edition of the Montaigne of the Maintenance's rule. Though she was the most beautiful woman of her times, and of Paris, she died alone and forgotten. Probably when she thought of the verses of a poet born not far from her birthplace: "Beauty's the shadow of a flower—'er which the white moth, Poetry, flutters—one thing alone beams out of the past upon, the coming centuries—the idea."

While Jeffre, Petaim and Foch were writing the History of the new France with the battalions of the pollus, and Reinach Joseph, Polybe, was commenting on them in the Figaro, Poulbot opened the Pantheon of "fusain" to the heroic children and men of France. Poulbot is a French division as a Bulletin of La Grande Arme.

Passing from the history of the men to the history of the animals we meet Bour with a genial and entertaining book of the "Vie psychique des insectes." The entomologists are, as a rule, the best novelists. They are not only good at their own game—they have one fault only, jealousy. Their little animals sometimes do things with so much greater common sense than the human race, they act with such evident unselfishness, that the entomologists blinded by jealousy have denied the animals the credit of it. The motive power of the little creatures, instead of saying "souche," as a master fencer a la Athos.

The poets could never ask for a better company than that of the entomologists. Are these not running after butterflies, picking up the honey with the bees, and stinging as the wasps? Poetry The series of the poets opens with Madame Catulle Mendes, the daughter of Theophile Gautier. The literary filiation is evident in the jeweled words giving visions of Asiatic splendors. There is a pretty exception to that Assurapanian extravagance, a little ode to young girls: "petites filles, croquis exquis, that is like an echo of the Lafontaine's elegance.

Near Madame Mendes, Madame la Comtesse de Noailles has translated in harmonious verses all the nostalgia of Asiatic landscapes. There is in her poetry the blue movement of the crowded harbours when "the smell of tar shines on the waves as a black wings cloud of Assurapanian exultation." "Quand l'hombre est violette, et que la mer est rose." There is all the love of Madame de Noailles for the wings, whether she be dreaming of taking to her heart all the human happiness "d'un geste immense et rond," or be she wishing that "la joie de l'homme chanteur comme un essaim d'abeilles sur ta bouche."

Baudelaire also is here. Baudelaire to whom Victor Hugo wrote, "You have created a new 'frisson,' to whom Sainte Beuve the master critic said, "My boy, how you must have suffered." Baudelaire, a kind of a literary son of Gautier and a little the father of the Symbolists. He had an intensive sense of beauty, and as another modern critic has written, "He had the noble gift of subduing to the service of poetry the visions awakened by perfumes, music, and light." He has had a great influence on the modern poetry of France, and to be deaf to his melody is a mark of unmusical brain as if one yearns while the violin tells the rising of the sun with Khorsakow's soul.

The old patriarch is here also: Victor Hugo. Using the words of the grand pere, and the "Chatiments." Some critics of the domesticated race that have wings like the penguin, but cannot fly, "font la moue" when the old man brings in his harp. He smiles as a Jupiter that has no more thunders. "Jeanne sleeps," he says, "I read some jalous poems. The modest of them asks that everyone caught reading my verses ought to be sent to the madhouse." The old grandfather, who writes the sin-logues of his grandchildren in front of the cages at the Jardin des Plantes; and the old "artifex" was great there as the Conservatoire by an intensive realistic power the retreat from the white freezing Russia. "Il neigeait."

The last but not the least of the French poets received by the Carnegie Library is Jose Maria de Heredia, born of a Cuban father and a French mother. Never an author, he beat at the door of the French Academy, and conquered immortality with a smaller baggage. But "qualis arifex" he will repeat, and with greater right than Nero. "Les Trophees" is his book and it is a book of masterpieces. The verses of De Heredia are like the sonorous music of "cello played by Casals. They are tapestries woven to an organ played by a Beethoven. The sonnet has grown there to perhaps untouched heights. The music, picture of the fragment of the heathen god covered by the green leaves is Vergil written by a fifteenth-century humanist. The visions of a thony victorious, and of Anthony slave of the Egyptian Circe, are I think among the best verses that have been written by men.

FIGHTING SPIRIT IS AROUSED IN CAMP OF LOCAL HOCKEY CLUB

Aristocrats Leave For Seattle to Meet Mets To-morrow Night; Want Game

The local fighting spirit is aroused and we're going to make Seattle skate harder than they ever skated in their lives before if they want to grab the game," said Lester Patrick, manager of the Aristocrats this afternoon before leaving for Seattle. Lester does not say the Victoria boys will win, but he is confident that the Mets have an awful hard row ahead of them.

Evolution of a Scheme

Lester has been doing a lot of hard thinking since last Friday's game, and he is trying to evolve a mechanism that will knock the other teams galley-west. The Aristocrats have the ability to stage a real comeback and sweep up the ladder. Lester is trying to put his cogs together so that they will function more effectively. He will not make known his lineup until shortly before the time draws near for the team to take the ice to-morrow night.

CRUSADERS SUFFER DEFEAT AT V.I.A.A.

The basketball game played last evening at the V. I. A. A. gymnasium at Victoria, V. I., boys resulted in a win for the V. I. A. A. with a score of 38 to 21.

Both teams showed great improvement since their last game, their shooting and combination being much better. The game was closely contested until the latter part of the second half, when the V. I. boys took the lead. Quite a large following of both teams turned out to root for their favorites.

The ladies' game was postponed until next week.

On Thursday evening the V. I. Men's A and B teams and Ladies' A and B teams will play.

Vancouver Wins With Another Fast Finish

Millionaires Went On Goal-Getting Rampage In Last Period and Defeated Seattle; Now In Front In Coast Pennant Fight; Smoky Harris Is Well Away In Race For Scoring Honors.

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Turning in three goals in the last twenty minutes after the Mets had climbed to within one goal of a tie in the second session, Vancouver puckchamps came through with a brilliant victory over the coast champions last night, skating rings around them and finishing on the long end of a 7-3 count.

The win, their sixth in nine starts and their fifth straight on the home ice, sends the Millionaires to the front in the coast pennant fight. Incidentally their seven goals give them a commanding lead in the goal-getting division, while four of the players tilted their averages and are showing the way in the fight for scoring honors. Fred Harris is the leader. He copped four points last night.

A Wonderful Finish.

After two periods of very ordinary hockey, the Millionaires, one goal up at the close of both first and second chapters, uncorked a burst of speed in the last session which completely bewildered the visitors. They swept down the ice with one, two and three men rushes, bombarded Holmes from all angles and had the champions beaten at all stages. With Harris going at top speed, Mackay pulling spectacular stunts, Skinner playing in better form than he has ever shown since he came West, and the defense playing a hands up game, there was crowded all the thrills of the match into the last 20 minutes, and their speed and all-round play had the Seattle folks coming round in circles. It was a wonderful finish.

The Way to Get Goals.

The score was 4-3 with the Millionaires in front when Mickey Mackay started the cyclonic rushes just half way through the last stanza. The Mets were threatening all through the proceedings and Lehman's sensational playing in the nets was all that saved the Millionaires until Mackay broke away along with Cook and Harris with Jack Adams in their wake. Cook evaded a couple of sticks and slipped the puck back to Mackay, and the latter banged it through. From then until the finish the Mets were hopelessly outclassed. Forty seconds later Jack Adams hooked an accidental pass from Harris, who carried the disc down the left wing, and he rammed it behind Holmes. Five minutes later Cook turned in another goal. This ended the scoring, but the Vancouverites fought harder for more counters, but the Mets turned them aside.

Players in Right Places.

Vancouver's play around the Seattle goal was the outstanding feature. The players were always on the spot, and their aggressive tactics gave the champions no end of trouble in clearing. Combination rushes carried the puck right into the Seattle goal, and there were always two or three players there to carry the fight right into Holmes' lap. There have been some great performances in the past, but last night's showing by the Millionaires eclipsed everything. If they maintain their fighting form there'll be no stopping them in the season's pennant scrap.

Old "Eagle Eye" in Way.

The first two periods were devoid of anything unusual, and it was not until the tail-end of the game that the pace livened up. But from the start it was an interesting display. The Mets, always dangerous, were very much in the game up until the last period. A couple of times the Vancouver defence weakened, and it was then Lehman saved the situation. His playing borders on the sensational, and not a few times did he stop a flying puck with the sharpshooter within a few feet of the net.

The Mets threw a scare into local fans when they collected three mark-

Victoria One of Four Senators and Elks Towns in P. I. Ball League

League Leaders Had Trying Time In First Period With Garrison But Recovered and Scored Five Times In Second; War Vets Failed to Stop Rejuvenated Elks In Hot Old Battle.

Four teams will comprise the Pacific International Baseball League this season, according to the latest decision of the officials. Victoria is assured of one of the berths and the other cities to be admitted will be Vancouver, Tacoma, and Yakima, Spokane and Seattle, who were in the league last year, have been dropped. The effort to have the Portland and Seattle Coast League clubs place teams in the P. I. circuit has not met with any success and as a result only four clubs will compete for the bunting this year.

It is hoped to have eighteen weeks of baseball. The season will probably open the first week in May and continue until Labor Day. A play-off will be held at the end of the season. The officials of the league decided to operate the league with four strong teams rather than carry on with six teams, two of which might be very weak. Also with Seattle and Portland the clubs will be able to grab players cut adrift from the Coast League or sent down for experience.

Blankenship May Come.

Cliff Blankenship, who managed the Spokane Indians last season, may be given a chance to pilot the Caps to a pennant this year. Several of the Spokane players will be available for contracts if Victoria wishes them. Interesting announcements about the Victoria team are expected within the next few days.

Senators, 5; Garrison, 1. Elks, 5; War Vets, 3.

Many unexpected things happened at the amateur hockey games played at the Arena last night. The War Vets, after their splendid victory over the Senators a week ago, were called to win over the Elks, but they functioned like a rusty Ford and went down without even their colors flying. In the other game of the double-header the fans expected to see the Senators rush through a big win in jig-time, but they were overwhelmed with surprise after surprise. In the first period the Garrison fought like a Canadian Corps and had the Senators beaten. Then in the second period the Tommies turned tail and retreated faster than the Huns rushed away from Amiens, with the result that the Senators piled in five goals. In the last period the Garrison got reinforcements and stayed their line, but while they kept the Senators from breaking through, they failed to get anywhere themselves.

Murray Injured.

Murray, the fast Elks centre ice man, took a heavy check from Riley and had to be carried off. George, with a large plaster which was covering the gash he received in the face in last week's game, replaced Murray. End to end play wound out this period.

The Elks switched their line-up in the second period, George going to centre, Murray, J. left and Spence to right. Dudley and Copas got to Watson, but he cleared well. Cook, the Elks' big defence man, showed up well with a number of dangerous rushes. Riley made a fast rush and Roy Copas followed with another, which resulted in a goal. Harry Copas cleared from Cook, and Riley stopped the big fellow when he came in again. Copas deflected another shot from Cook, and then Stewart hoisted one from the blue line which fooled H. Copas and put the teams even. Play became very fast and Allen shoved the Vets ahead once more when he staged a solo rush and beat Watson with a fast shot. Watson managed to save the next shot from Allen. Before the period closed Stewart made a brilliant tour towards the Vets' net and passed to Irwin, who put the rubber-washer in the cage.

Elks Crawl Ahead.

With the score tied the teams took the ice ready for anything in the third period. The Vets tried to get in and Copas sent the puck against Watson's pads. Riley followed with a rush and Allen went in after him, but the Elks' defence was too good. Cook skated fast and Copas saved his shot, but could not recover himself in time to block the rebound from George's stick.

Senators Skate Wild.

For a few seconds in the second period the Garrison were very dangerous. Moore going the length and shooting, only to have Fitzsimmons miss the rebound. The play went on to end rush and Diddel went in alone again, but Gravin deflected the shot. Codville beat the Senators' defence, and Stewart had to clear quickly. The Garrison forced the play and tried to mix-up in front of the Senators' goal. Goodeve hoisted the puck into the cage. This tally encouraged the Tommies, and they continued to attack. Stewart, Diddel and Mitchell shot strongly and Burnett replied with a lone rush. Wickson and Burnett did some splendid work in breaking up the Garrison rushes.

Upsets the Cage.

Diddel became so anxious to score in the rush Gravin, and in his drive upset the cage. After Wickson had shot, the Garrison came back and Goodeve and Fitzsimmons gave Stewart several hot ones. Take care back to Gravin and shot four times in a row, but Vic had adjusted his optics by this time. Stewart managed to save from a dangerous rush by Goodeve and Codville. Neither team was able to score in the dying period.

Elks Repeat.

It seems as though the Elks have the number of the War Vets. Last year the McKerle clan found the Vets to be their pie, and this year they are picking on the "Tommies" once more. In the previous clash with the Vets, this seasons the Elks came through with a win and last night they scored their second victory. Diddel, the centre, was the Vets' tried gamely but they went to pieces in the last session and the Elks scored a pair of goals and won out.

The Vets had a little the best of the first period. They resorted to considerable combination play. Murray was the Elks' lead first shot at goal and the Vets replied with two fast combination rushes, in which MacDonald, Dudley and Copas figured. Stewart managed to save the puck from the ice and gave a pass to Glazen near the goal-mouth. Glazen made a splendid shot and scored. The Elks

Knights of Padded Ring Are Regular Mints at Making Money Nowadays

New York, Jan. 18.—It is generally claimed that the value of a man to a community is measured by the extent of his mentality. It is the man of brains, it is said, that holds leadership. All of which comes down to earning power, the incomes that present-day fighters receive for their efforts within the roped arena come pretty close to putting the professional pugilist in first place as a gatherer of the dollar.

In the old days a purse of $10,000 was so rare a prize for pugilists to battle for that followers of the sport gasped when such a purse was hung up for a bout. Nowadays even contenders for a championship would turn up their noses at such a sum for a ten-round, no decision bout. If the incomes of pugilists are taken as a criterion, and the accumulation of wealth is considered, the boxer is a rich man. He has a few brains in his workaday world of ours. To-day boxing is the best-paid labor in the world.

Discourages Education.

Bank presidents work for less in a year than some of the first-class boxers in a single night. The earning capacity of a good man with the gloves is enough to discourage a young man equipped with a college education to go out to battle with the world for a living.

How long, for instance, would it take Columbia college's "infant prodigy" to earn with his abnormal brain $100,000 that Lew Tendler, a newsboy of Philadelphia, has just turned down to swap punches with Benny Leonard?

Near Champions Rich.

Even such near champions among the little fellows as Jack Sharkey may be counted comparatively rich; $75,000 would be a modest estimate of what his little fists and pugnaucous spirit has brought him. Sharkey's little light on the pugilistic map until he luckily secured a match with Jimmy Wilde, the English flyweight sensation, in the east, is after that, he is in America. Picked as what the sporting world terms "a sucker," Jack gave the clever Welshman an outright victory the little Italian boy from the east side was started fortunate. Wilde himself in America for a few months, showed the possibilities worth $100,000, and by taking back to Wales the equivalent of $75,000 in United States currency.

At High Water Mark.

Of course the boxing game is at its high-water mark now. Never in its history has it proved so profitable for boxers and promoters. The average champion, or near champion, of the old days regarded a $5,000 battle as the present "knight of the mitts" looks on a half million, with little exaggeration. For instance, $5,000 meant a lot of money to Stanley Ketchel, yet to-day we see Johnny Wilson, the champion of the class over which Ketchel towered, refusing $25,000 to come down from Boston to box Mike O'Dowd or some of the others who are clamoring for a chance at him.

Look at These Fortunes.

For instance, Benny Leonard, lightweight champion and only a youngster, may by conservative estimate be rated as having earned $200,000 with his fists.

Jack Britton, a welterweight, has probably amassed $250,000 during his career, and has most of it left.

Johnny Dundee, who to-day might be scaling fish but for his ability with his fists, was discovered as a kid in a street fight in front of his father's fish store. He has since made many a fortune, but he is not a boxer, not because he liked it or had any extraordinary ability but for the reason that he saw more money in boxing preliminary bouts than he could earn selling newspapers. Successful from the start, he has in about four

AMERICANS PAY MILLION DOLLARS FOR PART OF FRENCH RACING STABLE

New York, Jan. 18.—A large part of the noted French racing stable of the late William K. Vanderbilt will be bought by Americans this year. A. K. Macomber, the California horseman, announced here yesterday. Mr. Macomber acquired the stable last September at a price reported at about $1,000,000.

ers in the second period, catching the local defence napping, but when the Millionaires settled down again they played havoc with Holmes and Company. Happy had the liveliest time of his long career. He made many good saves, but the rushes of the Vancouverites made him appear slow in clearing, and half a dozen times he found it necessary to toss the puck to the boards. The checking was hard all through the game.

COUGHLAN YARD IN SOME DIFFERENCE WITH GOVERNMENT

Delivery of Ships Thought to Be Contentious Over Which Disagreement Occurred

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—According to dispatches received from Ottawa, a dispute has arisen between the Department of Marine and the firm of John Coughlan & Sons, Ltd., regarding the two 8,230 deadweight ton steamers now under construction at the False Creek yards.

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine, has given notice that the contracts may or will be cancelled on the grounds of non-delivery within specified time and because the engines of the ships were not purchased in Eastern Canada.

The dispute was as to whether the engines for the vessels should be purchased in Eastern Canada or not. It is stated here that the Canadian engines would cost $70,000 more than the British engines. The company took the position that it was not a term of the contract that the engines should be purchased in Eastern Canada, and that it was an unfair penalizing of the shipbuilding industry in British Columbia. The engines for the first four ships built by the Coughlan firm for the Government were purchased in England, and the company expected to purchase the engines for the last two boats there. It is also felt that if Canadian engines must be used the Government should pay the extra cost as an addition to the contract price of the vessels.

The Department has also raised the question of lateness of delivery. The vessels were contracted for in April, 1920, for delivery in December, a period of eight months. It is understood the company protested at the time on the shortness of the construction period allowed. Owing to non-arrival of steel it was impossible to start construction before the end of December, 1920, but work is now actively proceeding and much progress has been made. The Coughlan Company expects to make delivery about the end of March or in early April.

It is said that a great majority of Government contracts for ships of the size now building at Coughlan's gave a construction period of twelve to eighteen months, and in many cases delivery was not made for two years.

An official of J. Coughlan & Sons, Ltd., stated this morning: "The matter is now under discussion with the authorities at Ottawa, and it is hoped a settlement will be effected without closing down the yards."

TUNA, FOR SPORT AND COMMERCE, IS ATTRACTING NOTICE

Game Fish of Pacific Waters Declared to Be in No Danger of Extinction

The Tuna fish, well known among sportsmen, and becoming daily of greater importance to commercial enterprises in the nature of canning and allied industries, is forming the subject of some strong debates between Atlantic and Pacific interests both in Canadian and American circles. An interesting article in the current month's issue of The Pacific Fisherman gives the case for the tuna more optimistically than usually stated in recent months, it states:

Replying to the complaint of an Eastern sporting magazine, which alleges that the fish canners, by the use of airplanes to locate schools of tuna, are destroying this fish, the California Fish and Game Commission discusses in some detail the present status of the tuna, giving a number of interesting facts in regard to the fishery. The reply says, in part:

"The tuna has been recognized as a commercial fish for many years in Europe. The only reason it has not been recognized as a commercial fish on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the United States is because we have not appreciated its value as a food fish. So far the tuna, which we call here the bluefin or leaping tuna (Thunnus thynnus), has been taken in commercial quantities only a couple of years, and we are quite sure that the species is being depleted and that it is being exterminated or of being seriously depleted."

Albacore
The albacore, which the U. S. Bureau of Food and Drugs permits our canners to label as longfin tuna, and which is the whitemeat tuna found in the markets, has been taken commercially in large quantities for the last seven or eight years. The albacore is taken with hook and line only, but the quantity taken in one season has been as high as 30,000,000 lbs, or six times the weight of bluefin tuna taken in any one year."

Mentioning the investigation made during the last three years to determine the status of the tuna fishery, the letter continues: "The evidence is quite conclusive that the albacore is not in danger of being depleted and that it is being taken in quantities as yet. The tuna... is a close related fish belonging to the same genus and it is not at all likely that it will be taken in large enough quantities to seriously deplete the supply for at least several years to come."

As is well known, the State of California is keeping remarkably accurate and detailed data on the catch of each commercial species of fish, and should be easily able to detect depletion of any species before it reaches the danger mark.

According to Dr. Kamakichi Kishinouye, who is engaged in fishery research work in Southern California, bluefin and yellowfin tuna are caught in Japan close inshore. The longfin tuna, or albacore, cannot be caught in this way, as they live only in quite deep water; it is taken to some extent in gillnets, but the principal method is by the use of long lines, similar to those used in Southern California waters by the fish and game commission in experimental work a year or so ago. They have found this the most successful and economical method, using squid as bait. The Japanese method commonly used in California, in which short lines and poles are used, is employed only to a limited extent in Japan, and is believed to be successful only where albacore are very plentiful.

The long line experimental fishing by the California Commission showed that albacore may be taken by this method at times when they are not feeding at the surface, and cannot be taken by surface fishing. It may be mentioned further that results of Dr. W. F. Thompson's investigations on the age of the albacore have shown this fish to be a fast-growing species, with all that implies regarding the effect of the commercial fisheries upon it.

SOPHIA INQUIRY OPENS AT SEATTLE

Long Session to Hear C.P.R. Claimants Predicted

Seattle, Jan. 18.—Hearing on the petition of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for limitation of liability in connection with the wreck of the steamship Princess Sophia on Vanderbilt Reef, in Alaskan waters on October 25, 1918, began this morning before Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer. The hearing will continue for at least a week, probably longer, attorneys estimated this morning.

The petition deals with claims resulting from the death of 200 persons of the total number lost when the steamship foundered, aggregating approximately $2,000,000. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company seeks to have its liability limited under admiralty law to the amount paid in passenger fares and for freight carried on the trip in question, and the amount which may be realized from salvage of the wreck.

Preliminary hearings on petition for limitation of liability in the case have been held before special U. S. Commissioners in Alaska and Canada during the last year. Records in the case cover thousands of pages of typewritten paper. A large number of depositions of witnesses in different parts of the United States, Alaska and Canada will be introduced.

Allegations are made that the vessel was unseaworthy, that the crew was insufficient and that there was negligence in operation of the vessel. All the allegations are denied by the petitioner.

Petition for limitation of liability is based on the contention of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company that the wreck did not result from negligence on the part of the company. This is being contested by attorneys representing the claims of relatives of the passengers lost.

Captain James William Troup, manager of the steamship, was placed on the stand as the first witness late this morning and was still on the stand when the court adjourned at noon. Much of the morning session was taken up with preliminary arguments on the manner in which testimony is to be presented.

OIL SITUATION GROWING LESS CONSTRAINED NOW

C.G.M.M. Authorities Hopeful of Securing Sufficient to Run Ships

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—That the oil situation in so far as the C. G. M. M. Limited, steamers on the Pacific is concerned is looking better, and that strong hopes are now entertained that an adequate supply will be obtained in the near future to keep the Pacific fleet operating with fuel oil, is the statement of J. C. Keeley, general agent for the Pacific Coast for the C. G. M. M. Limited. Mr. Keeley returned on Saturday from a week spent at San Francisco. In addition to negotiations in oil he was engaged in matters pertaining to freight for the Australian, Indian and Oriental ships of the Canadian Government fleet.

Mr. Keeley stated this morning that the steamer Canadian Inventor, 1,800 miles off the West Coast, and bound for Calcutta, had been instructed on Sunday to go to Moji to take coal and proceed thence to Singapore and Calcutta.

The steamer Canadian Exporter is due in port on Tuesday with some Australian cargo. Speaking of the Oriental service, Mr. Keeley announced the sailing in March of the steamer Canadian Skirmisher, now building at the Wallace shipyards in North Vancouver.

MARINE NOTES

The Canadian Exporter has been slightly delayed beyond first notification and will not make William Head until the early afternoon. She will be floated into the drydock this evening, when Messrs. Yarrow, Ltd. will commence work on repairing the damage by fire sustained on her last run westward.

The Robert Dollar vessel, Stanley Dollar, picked up a pilot here at 6:30 a.m. this morning, and passed up. She will touch at Sidney, V.I., and later resume her voyage to Vancouver for discharge.

The O. S. K. Africa Maru made port here about 4 p.m. to-day and sailed again shortly after 5 p.m. for the Orient.

Since the arrival of the salvaged Prince Rupert and the oil tanker Atlas at Esquimalt, Messrs. Yarrow, Ltd. have engaged an additional number of men which is daily growing, and has now passed the 500 mark.

The Blue Funnel liner Talthybius is expected in the middle of the week to load outbound for Shanghai.

Some changes have been made to the sailing of the steamer Gramplan from West St. John on March 19.

DEFIANCE LEAKING, WITH ENGINE TROUBLE

London, Jan. 18.—Assistance has been sent from Bremen to the American steamer Defiance reported in distress 12 miles east of the Norderney Lightship, off the mouth of the River Ems. The steamer's turbine is said to be damaged and she is leaking.

FREIGHTERS NOT AFFECTED BY STRIKE

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Two Australian freighters, both well known here, have cleared from ports in the Antipodes for Vancouver, according to J. C. Irons, local agent for the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand. The freighter Wairuna left Auckland on January 14 and should be in port the first week in February. The freighter Waimarino is reported to have left Sydney to-day, and is due the middle of February.

These vessels, being freighters, are not affected by the stewards' strike, which has tied up a great many of the passenger liners at Australian ports. Mr. Irons has received no further word regarding the strike situation at Sydney or the movements of the liner Makura.

PEPS

will promptly STOP Your CHILD'S COUGH

When a child starts coughing mother's duty is to give the little sufferer a Peps tablet, and thus prevent any weakening of the lungs. As the tablet dissolves in the child's mouth, the soothing medicinal fumes given off pass through the tender breathing passages straight to the lungs and bring immediate comfort and relief.

Peps contain no opium or other harmful drugs, a child can be given to a child (either whole or crushed to a powder) with the assurance of absolute benefit.

One little Pep at night will clear the breathing passages and let the little one's sleep be unbroken by coughing fits. A Pep before starting for school in bad weather is also an invaluable safeguard for the children's throats and chests. All dealers, 50c. box.

IMPERIAL Premier MORE MILES PER GALLON WINTER GASOLINE

IMPERIAL Polarine FRICTION REDUCING MOTOR OIL

A Strong Winter Combination

IMPERIAL Premier Gasoline and the right grade of Imperial Polarine make an ideal combination for winter motoring. Both give complete satisfaction under cold weather conditions.

Imperial Polarine maintains effective lubrication even in cold weather. It does not break down under intense engine heat. It keeps compression tight, reduces friction and prevents premature wear.

Imperial Polarine enables you to get more miles per gallon out of your gasoline. It saves repair bills while it reduces the cost of lubrication.

Consult the Imperial Chart of Recommendations for the grade of Imperial Polarine that is exactly suited to your car.

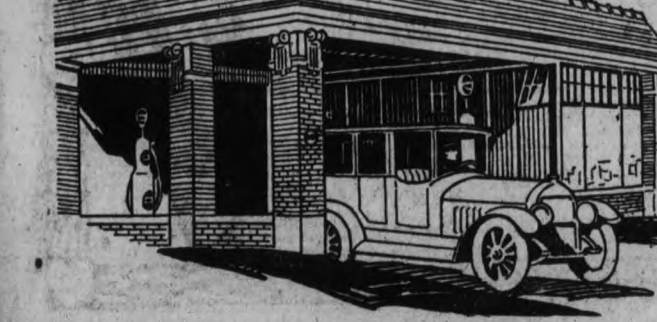

Imperial Premier Gasoline has a complete, unbroken chain of low, medium and high boiling points. It starts easily, "picks up" smoothly, and delivers more power and "More miles per gallon."

It is a straight distilled, all-refinery gasoline. It burns clean to the last drop, and all goes into power. You cannot buy better motor fuel than Imperial Premier Gasoline at any price.

Our booklet "Automotive Lubrication," containing the Imperial Chart of Recommendations, is full of valuable information for the motorist. Ask for your copy.

SOPHIA CASE STILL DRAGGING ON

Alaskan Witnesses to Attend Inquiry

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Subpoenaed to give evidence in the case against the Canadian Pacific Railway in connection with suits for damages arising out of the wreck of the steamer Princess Sophia, which was lost in Lynn Canal on October 25, 1918, with all on board, a large number of shipping and other officials reached the city en route to Seattle, where the trial takes place this week. They arrived on the steamer Princess Mary from Skagway.

Among the witnesses is H. A. Johnston, general passenger agent for the C. P. R. at Skagway, and G. G. Miller, American customs official at Skagway. The latter was an eye witness to the embarking of practically every passenger who stepped aboard the ill-fated ship. Mr. Johnston is accompanied by his wife.

Included in freight shipments of the Mary was 300,000 pounds of frozen fish from Ketchikan, which the ship is now discharging at the wharf of the New England Fish Co.

LITTLE MOVEMENT IN OCEAN TRAFFIC

Waterfront Quiet For Week, With Not Much Shipping in Sight

A period of unwonted inactivity is being experienced this week in shipping circles, with few ocean vessels making port before the end of the month. The O.S.K. Africa Maru arrived from Seattle to-day and clears later for her run westward. The Blue Funnel liner Talthybius is expected to shift here on Thursday, and is now loading at Sound Port for her voyage to the Orient later. The Tyndareus reaches the Coast early in the next week, but no definite advice has been received yet, beyond her clearing from the Orient.

The first week in February appears to be lining up for heavy movements of ocean craft calling here, and some new changes to various lines are expected to be announced about that time. The slackness of this period of the year may be responsible for a good deal of the inactivity felt here, and with the advent of Spring ocean shipping may move more frequently and departure from this port.

TALTHYBIUS COMING.

With shipments of Oriental cargo, the steamship Tyndareus of the Blue Funnel Line sailed from Yokohama for this port January 16, and is expected to arrive here Sunday, according to Seattle representatives of the line. The steamship Talthybius, also of the Blue Funnel Line's trans-Pacific fleet, will sail from this port for Japan, China and the Philippines Thursday morning.

The steamship Eurydamas of the line's Puget Sound-United Kingdom service is expected to sail from Tacoma to-night for London, Liverpool and Glasgow.

GRACE DOLLAR CLEARED FOR ORIENT

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Flying her flag at half-mast in honor of the late Mrs. Fred Dixon, nee Miss Grace Dollar, whose name the vessel bears, the big freighter, Grace Dollar, passed out of the inlet during the afternoon for the Far East. The vessel was expected to get away on Sunday, but failed to complete her lumber cargo.

She took on fuel oil at the Union Oil Company's tanks in Coal Harbor during the morning, and later shifted to the explosives wharf on the North Shore and picked up thirteen tons of dynamite on the way out.

HIS WISDOM. The parents of little Cuthbert were struggling to induce the youngster to repeat the letter "A." Cuthbert steadfastly refused to pronounce the first letter of the alphabet, and after many vain efforts, the father retired from the task, discouraged. Mother, however, continued, and took the little one on her lap, pleading with him very earnestly. "Cuthbert, why won't you pronounce 'A'?" she asked. "Because, mother," answered Cuthbert, "just after I say 'A' I will want me to say 'B'."

CONGREGATIONAL
MEETING TO-MORROW

St. Paul's Presbyterian Congregation to Hear Reports

The annual congregational meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, will be held in the church building to-morrow night, commencing at 7.30.

Reports of the past year's work will be submitted by the session, board of management, the choir, the Y. P. S. C. E. the Sunday school, the piano and cradle roll departments, the Young Women's Bible Class, the Young Men's Bible Class, the Ladies' Aid Society, the Missionary Society, the Mission Band, the Church Attendance Committee, the Open Air Mission, the Forward Movement and other organizations. The election and appointment of various officers will follow the consideration of these reports.

Upon the completion of business, the ladies of the congregation, with an established reputation for hospitality, will serve refreshments and assume control of the social part of the evening. Members, adherents and all others interested in the life and work of the church participate in the annual "get-together" meeting.

ECONOMIC VALUE OF PUBLIC HEALTH

To an interested and representative group of men in the Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce, Dr. H. E. Young, of the Provincial Department of Public Health, outlined some of the work which has been done to improve the general health of the people of the Province.

Public opinion is becoming increasingly enlightened as to the value, from a monetary standpoint, of the good health of the people, he said. "The war shattered our complacency about Canadians being neglected, and it is now one in every three of those offering for service had to be rejected. It had the redeeming feature, however, that the statistics it furnished had educated public opinion to the value of caring for the health of its people more than many years' propaganda work on the part of the medical fraternity."

In the Boer war, said Dr. Young, inoculation against typhoid was not compulsory, and 8,000 deaths resulted from this cause alone. Had the same ratio existed among the British army in the late war there would have been 80,000, but as an enlightened public opinion made inoculation compulsory there was only the surprisingly low number of 240 deaths.

Public opinion has now made possible medical inspection in public schools. This is a very decided advantage, as many of the causes which hinder the normal development of the child can be remedied by a brief inspection. It has been calculated that 30 per cent. of those rejected for service in the late war would never have been rejected if such medical inspection had been available to them in their youth.

The speaker paid a compliment to the municipality of Saanich, which had gone a step further, and by a Health Centre, its course of construction, in charge of trained nurses, seeks to insure the health of the child before the school age is reached by giving advice to the mothers regarding the best way of bringing up their children.

Touching upon the venereal question he maintained that it was a sound economic policy to spend money in combatting the results of vice rather than have the subject become a dependent upon friends in later life or a public charge as an inmate of an insane asylum.

After a few minutes a delegation of three, headed by J. L. Martin, for many years prominent in labor circles here and several times candidate for public office, appeared at the Mayor's office. The conference between the men and His Worship lasted for about an hour.

Want Work Not Charity.
Discussing the conference later, the Mayor stated that the men had asked for work, and had asserted that many of their number were in most distressing circumstances. When the Mayor pointed out that the city was prepared to employ almost any number of men, cutting wood on the beaches, they objected strongly to this proposal. It was impossible for many of them, they said, to make a living wage cutting wood at $4 a cord. The Mayor replied that if they would make an effort the city probably would be prepared to consider the possibility of making up the difference between their wood cutting profits and a fair living wage. Apparently, however, the wood cutting scheme did not appeal to the men at all, and they pointed out that the Provincial Government had voted a sum to be spent on unemployment relief. Though this money is to be used in the form of charity only, the men protested emphatically that they did not want charity, but work.

Sympathy For Married Men.
The Mayor said that he had the utmost sympathy for married men who had wives and children to support, but felt that single men could better fend for themselves. If they wanted work they could cut wood. No definite conclusion was reached and the delegation returned to the meeting apparently still dissatisfied. The meeting heard the delegation's report, and soon dispersed dissatisfied, but without disorder. It is expected that a number of the men will apply for work under the wood cutting scheme, under which already over sixty men are employed.

"We feel that the wood cutting scheme offers fair employment to men who want to work," the Mayor remarked after the meeting. "We stand ready at all times, however, to relieve actual distress, and have done so in the past. As far as sewer work is concerned the recent rains make it well nigh impossible at present."

A meeting of the Community Council, representing practically all local public organizations, will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock to consider the employment situation.

It takes a tall imagination to regard the price slump as "an orderly slide" when it is such too fast for the seller and not half fast enough for the buyer.

How Aldermen Were Elected Under "P. R." System

MINISTER OF MILITIA DEFENDS GOVERNMENT

Guthrie Says Meighen Following Constitutional Procedure

Milton, Ont., Jan. 18.—Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Militia, addressed a meeting of supporters of the National Liberal and Conservative Association here last night, and was given a hearty welcome. He defended the Meighen Government on the question of not holding a general election, and cited the Mowat Government in Ontario and the Gladstone Government in England as examples in support of the contention that the Meighen Government was following constitutional procedure in not calling an election at the present time. He argued that the Government had not been elected for the period of war only.

Mr. Guthrie defended moderate protection, which he said was the real issue before the Canadian people.

A resolution was passed expressing confidence in the leadership of Premier Meighen, and expressing the belief that a protective tariff was essential to the future progress of the Dominion.

MALONE SENTENCE HAS BEEN CONFIRMED

London, Jan. 18.—The sentence of six months' imprisonment imposed last November upon Lieut.-Col. L'Estrange Malone, Liberal member of the House of Commons, following his conviction on charges of seditious utterances, was confirmed yesterday by the Court of Appeals, the court dismissing Lieut.-Col. Malone's appeal from the lower court.

Lieut.-Col. Malone was arrested in Dublin, November 10, where he had gone by invitation to debate on Bolshevism, the charge against him being violation of a section of the Defence of the Realm Act prohibiting the use of language likely to cause sedition among the civilian population.

The charge was based upon a speech delivered by Malone in Albert all in London a short time previously, in which he was quoted as declaring that bloodshed would be justified, if it were necessary to bring about the "British revolution," and as adding: "What are a few Churchillis or a few Curzons on lamp posts compared with the misery of thousands of human beings?"

The prosecution at the trial declared his speech was nothing less than "incitement to murder."

taken up by the executive and they would see what could be done to help the plight of the unemployed there.

Tom Richardson told how notice was given last Friday by the municipality of South Vancouver that work for the unemployed was to cease because payments could not be met.

Distress Serious.
"Already there is much very serious distress here," said Mr. Richardson. "I hope a way can be found of providing employment. Failing the providing of work we ask that provision be made for wives and dependents."

"I know from personal observation and contact that they are in deep need," said Capt. the Rev. Mr. Wright, representing the Ministerial Association.

Could Not Take Responsibility.
"No one realizes the distress there," said J. Davidson, of the Army and Navy Veterans, who explained that he is one of more than 100 unemployed in his organization.

Lieut. Mitten spoke for the G. W. V. A.
"As you know, I have to take care of the finances of South Vancouver and I cannot take the responsibility for any further unproductive investments," said Commissioner Gillespie. "If the Government is going to aid the municipalities at the next session of the Legislature, South Vancouver would participate, and I think we could then take care of a loan."

DISGUISED ROBBER PROVED NEGRO BOY WHO NEEDED MONEY

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—The identity of a bandit who, arrayed in white flour sack and a pair of white cotton gloves, has robbed three street cars and more than a dozen automobile parties in the past two months here, was revealed to-day when the police arrested a fifteen-year-old negro boy, who gave the name of Raymond Thompson. He was apprehended after a garage watchman, also a negro, reported that the oddly masked figure had robbed the garage till. The boy confessed to the street car, automobile and garage robberies, the police said.

"I needed the money," was his explanation.

VANCOUVER TEACHERS TO VOTE ON POOLING OF CONVENTION EXPENSES

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Members of the Vancouver Teachers' Association will vote during the next few days on questions submitted to the association by the British Columbia Teachers' Federation. One set of questions pertains to the pooling of expenses for the annual Easter convention, which is this year to be held in Vancouver. Other questions pertain to the method of paying teachers' salaries.

An invitation will be extended to Hon. J. D. McLean, Minister of Education, to a dinner of the Association in his honor, and in honor of S. J.

MILBURN'S heart and nerve pills

Lessening the Life Toll

THE value of the lighthouse is especially appreciated by seafaring folks. Many fascinating stories of averted disasters originate from these structures the world over. Their first purpose, however, is preventing the loss of human life. In this they are closely connected with the purpose of Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills, around which there are also interesting facts of averted disasters.

People to-day are using Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills as their "Lighthouse" on which to steer a course for good health. There are very few to-day taking an active part in any walk of life who do not require, at some time or another, an additional food for the Heart & Nerve system, for without these properly carrying out their duties every other organ in the body must suffer. The effects of weakened Heart & Nerve centres vary. With some, the heart thumps harshly and irregularly. They feel irritable and are easily excited. Others are afflicted with sleeplessness at night, and drowsy sensations during the day. If you feel unfit in any way you owe it to yourself and friends to try a box of

Tender Gums - A Warning

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhoea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhoea—many under forty, also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhoea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhoea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean. If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U.S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

PROPOSES PLAN OF CERTIFICATION

Department of Agriculture to Make Effort to Secure Good Potatoes

It is expected that certified seed potatoes will be available next Fall, under a scheme being worked out by C. Tice, B.S.A., Soil and Crop Instructor. A system of inspection and certification will be commenced in the approaching season to this end. The object is to secure better seed potatoes and to obtain better financial returns to the careful growers. Bulletins on the subject will be transmitted to the growers for information.

At present the following varieties only will be eligible for inspection; however, if some other variety is being grown which in the opinion of the certifying agency is worthy of consideration, then inspection may be made of it:

Varieties—Green Mountain, Irish Cobbler (Extra Early Eureka), Gold Coin, Jersey Royal, Jones' White, Empire State, Early St. George, Early Rose, Early Epicure, Early White Prize (Surprise), Nettle Gem, Burbank, Up-to-date, Sir Walter Raleigh, Eureka, and Carmen No. 1.

Both a field and tuber inspection will be made, and for grading the crops the following rules will apply:

(1) Potatoes not less than 2 oz. or more than 12 oz. in weight. (2) Potatoes shall be of good appearance and reasonably true to type, shape, color, and general appearance, and shall not be mixed with potatoes of other types or types.

A tolerance of 5 per cent, by weight is allowed for the combined defects listed under (1) and (2).

(3) The potatoes shall not contain an unreasonably large proportion of small tubers, such as in the judgment of the Inspector might result from the larger tubers having been removed.

(4) The potatoes shall be practically free from rot or otherwise seriously injured or blemished tubers, such as:

(a) Rot due to late blight, black leg, and other soft-rot organisms, dry-rot, and other diseases. (b) Frost-injury. (c) Second growth. (d) Growth-cracks, bruises, cuts, and badly skinned potatoes or injuries from other causes which are likely to cause rot before Spring.

(e) Potatoes must be free from dirt or other foreign matter or damages caused by diseases, insects, or mechanical means. A tolerance of 3 per cent, by weight is allowed for the above combined defects.

The number of halfpennies issued this year is 27,360,000, or £27,000 worth.

USE OF MODERN CAMERA IN ART FITTINGLY SHOWN

First Annual Exhibition of Amateur Photographic Society Opened

HON. J. D. MACLEAN PRAISES SOCIETY

Formally opened last night by the Hon. J. D. Maclean, in the exhibition room of the Provincial Library, the first Annual Exhibition of the Amateur Photographic Society of the Provincial Arts and Industrial Institute of B. C. attracted considerable commendation from a large number of guests at the opening ceremony.

Photography's Value. "Photography is an art-aesthetic and utilitarian at one and the same time," declared Dr. Maclean in his opening address. The Science of Astronomy has developed into the giant reaches of its work-to-day by means of photography. The Science of Medicine and kindred studies have been benefited beyond question with the aid of photography.

"There is great scope for the work of the camera, and in fostering the work of amateur and professional photographers you should receive the hearty support of the public. Allow me on the part of this audience to express to you our appreciation of the splendid exhibition you have arranged here, where meeting together in friendly competition, your work should be the stimulus that is required to foster the particular tyros in this particular line of endeavor."

W. W. Baer, Chairman of the Amateur Photographic Society, in introducing the Minister, told of the opening address. The Society, of its progress, growth and future aims. It has now thirty members, composed mainly of amateur photographers drawn together by a common love of the artistic in that fascinating study, he said. The Society had organized with a view to fostering some of the more obsolete and forgotten of arts, and in this photography played a leading part.

Genesis of Work. The first meeting of the Society had been held in September last, when about twenty members gathered together and decided to work for the exhibition in this year, he stated. Normally the annual exhibition would be held in the Fall months of the year, as that period of the year gave greater time for the preparation of the studies to be exhibited and was more suitable from many viewpoints. Many students of the various branches of art held divergent ideas and it was in the converging of these ideas and ideals that would lie the most important phase of their work. They would meet, take excursions into the field and there pursue their photographic studies together, stated Mr. Baer.

The society had met with a splendid welcome, and in the first annual exhibition it was amply demonstrated that their work was of great interest to many others, as proof of the fact that the days of the "snapshots" and slipshod method of taking photographs was passing and giving rise to the use of the camera in real art, Mr. Baer stated. The camera could be made the medium of the first ideas of art, and would prove equally fascinating with the finest work of the mixed pigment and brush.

In closing his address, Mr. Baer returned in glowing terms to the exhibition of the Provincial Department of Lands, which showed a wonderful compilation of topographical studies from photographic record of a given section of land. Surveyor-General J. E. Umbach was present at the meeting and explained to many the working of the topographical surveys in relation to photography.

During the evening a delightful programme of instrumental music was rendered by Mrs. W. W. Baer, Miss Smart, Mrs. Ford and the Misses Redford. M. W. Thompson, chairman of the exhibition committee, and his fellow committee workers were tendered a very warm appreciation by Mr. Baer and the members present for their untiring services in the preparation of the first annual exhibition. The committee, headed by Mr. Thompson, included Miss Barton, Miss Hall, F. P. Boucher, C. W. Hollier and Charles St. Barbe, honorary secretary.

The Judges. Three judges made the awards, of which there were several, the judging being effected by Miss Kitto, C. Pemberton, and E. Todd, who donated first prize to number 25 in the catalogue, "The Messenger," by C. H. Fletcher, Vancouver, a charming cloud study, with an aeroplane homing in the distance, the whole giving a beautiful expression to the artistic possibilities of the camera. No. 37, a "Statue of Raphael," by Mrs. R. M. Weller, of this city, was awarded second place, and was unique and artistic in an entirely different vein from the first award. In addition, awards were given to H. Morrison for 96, A. C. Fawns for 47, J. H. Grant for 57, and C. Hollier for 61.

A beautiful series of telephotos by Dundas Todd, of Mount Baker, taken in January of this year from the Gonzales Observatory, called forth commendation for the untiring efforts of

HE DARKENED HIS GRAY HAIR

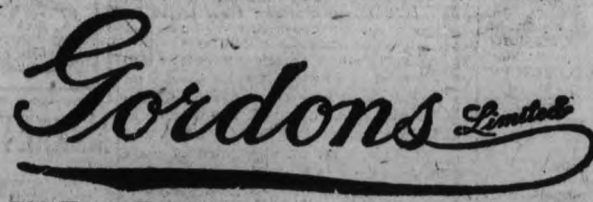

Tells How He Did It

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well-known resident of California, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and 3/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply the mixture once a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

DO NOT TAKE CHANCE WITH ARC LAMPS

Advice is Given By City Electrician in Annual Report

City Electrician Hutchison, in his annual report, says he considers it his duty to call attention to an extremely dangerous practice which has been followed by some unknown persons during the past year. I refer to the practice of handling and jerking arc lamp suspension chains in an endeavor to start up lamps that have failed. The effort usually results in demolishing the lamp and its attachments, and extinguishing the lights in the entire district. This is a highly dangerous proceeding, and it is a matter of surprise to me that the persons concerned have escaped fatal injury. Electrical power as supplied to the consumer is comparatively safe, but in connection with its distribution and generation, voltages are used which are not intended to be handled by other than skilled electrical workers, and I would strongly advise all persons to avoid interference with electrical equipment and, especially, fallen wires. The safer plan is to make a report to the police department.

The System. He says: "The street lighting system consists of 905 arc lights and 1,009 five-light cluster standards. The former serve the greater portion of the city and are furnished with power supply by means of a system of overhead lines aggregating 250 miles in length. The city is divided into nineteen separate lighting districts, each supplied with independent power circuits. The cluster light system serves the central portion of the city and power is distributed to same by means of a system of underground cables. "The use of these two distinct classes of lighting equipment, namely, series arc lighting served by overhead lines, and cluster lighting served by underground cables affords a good opportunity to determine their relative merit. The last mentioned is capable of giving the most reliable results.

"Arc lighting, which for many years was regarded as standard practice in street lighting, had an element of uncertainty in operation due to the complication of mechanism necessary, also to the variation in composition of carbons and electrodes. The nitrogen lamp affords a simple, economical and reliable illuminant and is rapidly replacing arc lamps for street lighting purposes.

Are Lighting. During the past year this part of the system was operated 4,750 hours, of which was due to a spirit of destructiveness which seems to have possessed boys in certain parts of the city. These globes, which now cost from three to five dollars each, are being used as targets for catapult and air rifle practice. I estimated that damage to the extent of $1,500 was done last year, and would recommend that action be taken to end this loss."

Hesitant About Extension. "It is customary at this season to make recommendations regarding improvement and extension of the system. There is always room for improvement but the experience of the past year indicates that this is not an opportune time to carry out any extensive work. There seems to be a complete disorganization in the production of electrical supplies. During 1920 delivery of essential supplies was very slow and erratic and prices made rapid and large fluctuations without apparent reason.
