LEGAL DEPARTMENT—OPINIONS

- Savings Bank Passbook—Not a negotiable instrument and assignee of book takes no greater rights than depositor against bank, 9.
- Collateral Security—Securities pledged for specified debt cannot be held for other demands in absence of agreement, 10.
- Internal Revenue—Question of power of Collector of Internal Revenue to examine bank officer, 10.
- Corporation Tax Law—Question whether return to Collector of Internal Revenue mailed March first is in time to avoid fifty per cent. penalty, though not received by Collector until after that date, 10.
- Bill of Lading—Respective rights of bank discounting shipper's draft with accompanying bill of lading, and of creditor of shipper subsequently attaching goods, in a stated case, 11.
- Negotiability of Kansas Form of Note—Note providing for interest from date until paid, with further provision "if paid when due no interest will be charged" is negotiable in Kansas—In other States some courts hold negotiable and some non-negotiable, 81.
- Rubber Stamp Indorsement for Deposit—Considered from standpoint of legality and practicability, 81.
- Alteration of Check—Where holder, without drawer's consent, alters check by changing bank on which drawn, he is guilty of forgery—Rights of drawer and liabilities of bank where check paid by substituted drawee and drawer's subsequent good check dishonored because of shortage created by payment of altered check, 82.
- Presentment of Sight Draft—Opinion that section of Negotiable Instruments Law allowing drawee 24 hours after presentment in which to decide whether or not he will accept, does not apply to sight drafts which, under that law, are payable on demand, and that collecting bank is not obliged to hold 24 hours for convenience of drawee. Possible doubt created by law can be cured by amendment, 82.
- Due Diligence in Presentment—Opinion that under State statute which defines due diligence in making collections, a bank in South Dakota which receives from the payee a check drawn on a bank eighteen miles east and which, instead of forwarding direct to a bank in the drawee's town, mails the check to its Chicago correspondent, exercises due diligence in adopting such method of presentment, although notice of dishonor does not reach the payee until five days after he has delivered the check, and that the payee is responsible as indorser—Bank's telephone message that check is good, upon faith of which payee gives value for check to drawer, does not bind bank, 144.
- Canadian Bank Notes—A bank in the United States which pays out over its counters Canadian bank notes which it has received on deposit is subject to the Federal Tax of 10 per cent. on all notes so paid out—But a bank in the United States may receive Canadian bank notes on deposit and send them to Canada for redemption without being required to pay tax thereon, 145.

Married Woman as Accommodation Endorser—Married woman in Pennsylvania has no power to bind herself as accommodation endorser—Enabling Act of 1893 expressly excepts contracts of this character, 145.

Charge of Note to Endorser's Account—Bank has right to charge dishonored note to endorser's account provided latter's liability duly fixed, 146.

Checks for More Than Balance.—Where two checks of different amounts are simultaneously presented, the smaller being within and the larger in excess of the customer's balance, it is the duty of the bank to pay the smaller check rather than to dishonor both checks, 146.

Set-off Against Bankrupt's Deposit.—Right of bank to apply a bankrupt's deposit upon his demand note, 146.

Payment of Forged Check.—The Massachusetts decisions involving the rule that the drawee is bound to know the drawer's signature and cannot recover the money paid upon a forged check, and the exceptions to that rule, reviewed, 146.

Execution of Check.—Duty of drawer to exercise ordinary care—Cases illustrating what is and what is not negligence on drawer's part—Never yet held that banker's drafts must be safeguarded by protectograph nor that the drawing of a check by a customer in lead pencil is negligent, 148.

Protest of Check.—Check payable to order, presented by holder other than payee, but lacking payee's indorsement, is not protestable, as refusal of payment is not a dishonor, 149.

Checks for More Than Balance.—Duty of bank where two or more checks are simultaneously presented, each separately for less, but any two aggregating more than customer's balance, 202.

Time of Protest—Protest must be made on day of dishonor unless delay excused, 202.

Time of Protest—Check may be protested as soon as dishonored, 202.

Bank Notaries in Missouri—Question of competency to take acknowledgments and make protests where notary is stockholder of bank interested and where he is an officer, but not a stockholder, 202.

Guaranty of Indorsement—Bank stamping check "Indorsement Guaranteed," is liable to drawee who pays check on faith of such guaranty, where payee's indorsement unauthorized, 203.

Malicious Reports of Unsoundness of Bank—Pennsylvania statute punishes persons who circulate false statements derogatory to banking institutions, 276.

Payment of Check After Death of Drawer—In the absence of statute, death of drawer revokes bank's authority to pay and payment, after knowledge of death, is unauthorized, 276.

Instrument Payable at Bank—Under the rule of the Negotiable Instruments Law an instrument made payable at a bank is equivalent to an order to the bank to pay and imposes an obligation on the bank to pay at maturity when in funds, 276.

The Warrantor Liability on Bills of Lading—The few States which still hold this doctrine—concerning disclaimers of liability by banks which purchase bill of lading drafts, 277.

Certification by Telephone—Not valid under the Negotiable Instruments Law which requires acceptance to be in writing; hence a bank whose teller answers over the phone that John Doe's check for $170 is good, is not bound to pay the check to the holder where, before actual presentment and payment, the drawer countermands the check, 277.

Deposit in Trust—Under decision of New York Court of Appeals such deposit is revocable during lifetime of depositor unless gift completed by some unequivocal act, 334.

Order Bill of Lading—Consignor, having transferred order bill as security, has no right to have shipment diverted en route without consent of holder of security, 335.

The Use of "Not Good" Checks—The provisions of the South Dakota statute relating to the subject, 335.

Countermand of Check—In South Dakota, contrary to the rule in most of the States, a check is an assignment to the payee which binds the bank as soon as presented and, as a consequence, the drawer cannot countermand payment though he may withdraw his balance before presentment of the check, 336.

Instrument Payable at Bank—In Oklahoma, under the rule of the Negotiable Instruments Law, a depositor who issues his note payable at the bank wherein he keeps an account, thereby orders the bank to pay the same at maturity. It becomes the duty of the bank, if in funds, to pay the note and the bank incurs no liability to the depositor for so doing even though he afterwards objects to the payment and claims he had good reason for having payment of the note refused, 336.

Instrument Payable at Bank—In Illinois, the Negotiable Instruments Law omits the provision on this subject which is contained in the uniform law of other States and under the judicial decisions of Illinois it would seem that a bank has no authority to pay its customer's note made payable at the bank, unless expressly ordered to do so by its customer, the note itself not constituting such order, 337.

Certification by Telephone—In all Negotiable Instruments Law States and in other States where the statutes require acceptances to be in writing, a promise over the telephone to pay a check, not being in writing, does not bind the drawee; but in Indiana where the common law rule prevails that verbal acceptances are valid, such telephone promise would probably bind the drawee in favor of one who in reliance thereon cashed the check. Where, however, the drawee simply answers that the check is "good" or "all right" without coupling with such answer any specific promise to pay, such answer is insufficient to bind the bank as an acceptor, 337.

Acceptance by Telegraph—A bank which, in answer to an inquiry, wires "signature being genuine, will pay John Smith check for $200" would be liable as an acceptor, under the Negotiable Instruments Law to one who, on faith thereof, purchased such check for value. Cases pointed out, however, where telegrams that a specified check is "good" have been held insufficient as acceptances because they lack an absolute and unequivocal promise to pay, 338.

Place of Presentment of Draft "In Care of"—Opinion that where draft is addressed to "Jno. Jones, Jonesville, S. C., care Dime Bank, Barnwell, S. C.," presentment at Dime Bank is at the proper place and sufficient, 339.

Accommodation Indorsement by Married Woman—Under law of New Jersey a married woman cannot bind herself as accommodation indorser and the fact that the paper so indorsed is made by a corporation of which she is a stockholder, does not make the in-

- Indorsement binding upon her under the New Jersey statute, 401.
- Bank Stock Lien—National bank has no lien on its stock for indebtedness of stockholder, 401.
- Certification Over Telephone—Not legal and binding because not in writing as required by Negotiable Instruments Law, 402.
- Undated Check—Check without date is valid and negotiable under Negotiable Instruments Law and such check can be paid by the bank on presentation, 402.
- Canadian Bank Notes—Bank which pays out, in the United States, Canadian bank notes which have been received by it, must pay tax of ten per cent. on all notes so paid out, 402.
- Collection of Interest Upon Interest—Where a note running for a number of years provides for payment of interest annually, the decisions conflict whether interest upon any past due installment of interest can be collected, 403.
- Corporation Note—Best form of signature by official to escape personal liability, 406.
- Depositories for Bankruptcy Estates—National Bankruptcy Law does not restrict deposits to National banks and the Courts of Bankruptcy may designate, by order, State banks as depositories, 406.
- Rubber Stamp Indorsement—Indorsement of corporation by mere rubber stamp of its name, valid and effectual to transfer title—but bank purchasing paper should require, in addition, handwritten signature of authorized official, 467.
- Extension Clause in Note—Conflicting decisions as to effect upon negotiability of provisions agreeing to extension of time of payment without prejudice to holder—Point undecided in South Dakota, 467.
- Investment of Trust Funds in North Carolina—Fiduciaries may invest in United States Securities or in consolidated bonds of the State, 468.
- Certificate of Deposit—Post-Dated Check—Certificate payable "in current funds" not negotiable in Indiana—Legality of post-dated check, 468.
- Taxation of National Banks—States or municipalities have no power to impose special or occupation taxes upon national banks, 468.
- Guaranty of Indorsement—Customary bank indorsement "Pay to order of any bank, etc. Prior indorsements guaranteed" is sufficient guaranty of genuineness and validity of prior indorsement, 468.
- Same Room for Bank and Savings Bank—Prohibitory legislation in New York and Massachusetts, 469.
- Certificates of Protest in Illinois—Certificate of protest of foreign notary competent evidence of dishonor of foreign bill of exchange, but not of foreign promissory note, by virtue of common law rule—Certificate of protest of notary within State competent evidence of demand, dishonor and notice in case of inland bills, notes and checks, by virtue of sections 12 and 13 (unrepealed) of Act of 1872, notwithstanding repeal of sections 10 and 11 of that act by Negotiable Instruments Law—Necessity of additional legislation considered, 516.
- Identification of Payee—Person who verbally identifies payee of check to purchasing bank not liable to make check good in event of non-payment, provided no false representation is made by identifier—To hold person identifying payee liable in event of dishonor such person should be required to indorse check, 518.
- Pencil Memorandum on Check—Where a check is dated February 6 and, in left hand corner is a pencil memorandum "to be used February 8," bank cannot safely pay before later date, 518.

- Accommodation Indorser—Liable to holder for value under the Negotiable Instruments Law, 519.
- Corporation Tax Law—Clause providing that corporation may deduct taxes paid from gross income does not authorize deduction by bank where tax is levied against shareholders and bank pays tax for shareholder, 519.
- "Previous Indorsements Guaranteed"—The words "previous indorsements guaranteed" are an express guaranty of validity of prior indorsements and bank which pays check bearing prior forged indorsement may recover of guarantor, 520.
- Indorsers on Corporation Note—Liability of accommodation indorsers conditional on demand and notice—Fact that corporation is insolvent and that indorsers are directors does not dispense with these steps, 520.
- Discharge in Bankruptcy—Creditor who has no notice or knowledge of bankruptcy proceedings prior to discharge and whose claim not listed in schedule, may recover from bankrupt, 521.
- The "No Protest" Stamp—Where item is stamped "no protest" and letter enclosing item instructs that same be protested, safer course for collecting bank is to protest, 521.
- Payment of Savings Deposit on Forged Order—Under decisions, bank is protected where the person receiving payment presents the passbook and reasonable care is exercised in making the payment, 521.
- Payment of Deposit by Mistake—Bank's right of recovery from depositor receiving payment, 522.
- Collection Items Received by Insolvent Banker—Cases where knowledge by banker of his insolvency at time of receiving the items is held to constitute such fraud as to entitle depositor of items to reclaim same or their proceeds, 522.
- Set-Off of Note Against Deposit—Where a bank owns an indorsed note and, at maturity, has sufficient funds of the maker on deposit to pay it, the decisions conflict as to whether failure to charge the note to the maker's account will release the indorser—If, however, note by its terms is payable at bank, opinion given that, under Negotiable Instruments Law, being an order to the bank to pay, indorser would be released by failure to charge up—But bank under no obligation, in interest of indorser, to apply maker's deposit to note owned by it where funds insufficient at maturity, nor (according to majority of courts; a few contra) to apply sufficient subsequent deposits, 523.
- Time Instrument Payable at Bank—Probable that authority of bank to pay would be held, under Negotiable Instruments Law, to be limited to day of maturity only, although point not yet decided, 524.
- Taxation of National Bank Shares in Oklahoma—Question whether there is a discrimination against National banks by assessing shares at full value of one hundred per cent. in certain parts of the State while in other parts of the State shares of State and National banks are assessed at only sixty-five per cent. of actual value, 582.
- Draft Payable "Through" or "In Care of"—Presentment to bank in whose care, or through which, it is made payable, is sufficient and authorizes protest in the event of non-payment without necessity of further presentment to the drawee, 583.
- Certificate of Deposit—Provision in certificate for "interest at rate of 4 per cent. per annum if left 12 months" does not prevent earlier presentment where payable "on return properly indorsed," 584.
- Treasurer's Check to Personal Order—Under existing condition of the law, there is some doubt whether the drawee bank is safe in paying a treasurer's check to

- his personal order without inquiry, unless resolution of corporation authorizing bank to pay checks expressly includes checks of this character, 584.
- Check Without Funds—Checks cashed for resident of another State, returned protested and bank's recourse—Possible criminal liability of person cashing checks, 585.
- Foreign Bill of Exchange—Check drawn and payable in same State does not become a foreign bill because indorsed in another State and protest is not required but optional, 585.
- Authority of Cashier—A bank cashier has no authority by virtue of his office, to promise an indorser on a note to the bank, that he will not be liable upon his indorsement, 586.
- Note with Option to Pay Principal—Where note gives maker option to pay principal at maturity of any interest coupon upon giving thirty days' notice, opinion that mere giving notice of intention does not mature note, where intention not carried out by payment of principal, 586.
- Deposit in Two Names—May be paid to the survivor under New Jersey statute—How certificate or passbook should read, 587.
- Telephone Promise to Pay Check—Not binding on drawee because not in writing, 587.
- "O. K." as Check Certification—Letters "O. K." placed on check over signature of Vice-President of drawee bank constitute a certification provided officer has power or authority to certify—Where check certified without funds bank liable to payee for value, 587.
- Check "For Full Payment of Account"—Where payee erases those words, drawee should not pay, 588.
- Payment of Protest Fees—Bank without express instructions not authorized to pay protest fees on protested check of customer, 588.
- Forgery of Signatures of Check-Drawer and Payee—Question of right of recovery of money paid by drawee in a stated case, 588.
- Payment of Check on Forged Signature—Conflicting law upon the right of drawee bank to recover money paid—Recent decision of Oklahoma Supreme Court upon the subject, 589.
- Checks for Less Than One Dollar—Checks in sums less than one dollar, issued in regular course of business payments, not prohibited by law—Section 178 of United States Criminal Code of 1909 (substance of such section having been first enacted in 1862) has been misconstrued, 590.
- Collection of Checks by Express Company—Interstate Commerce Commission has not ruled that express companies have no right to make collections—Right of drawer to insert words in check restricting collection through specified channels, 674.
- New York Transfer Tax—Deposit of non-resident decedent in New York Savings Bank subject to Transfer Tax, 675.
- Verbal Certification—In Indiana, differing from most States, oral acceptances are valid—But where bank merely answers over telephone that a certain check is good it is doubtful whether such answer is a sufficiently definite promise to pay to be binding as an acceptance, 675.
- Lost Stock Certificate—Loss of undorsed certificate of bank stock—Issue of new certificate on bond of indemnity, 676.
- Forged Check—Bank cashing check upon which drawer's signature forged not liable under the law of Missouri to refund money to drawee which has paid check, 676.

- Raised Check—Bank cashing raised check cannot hold drawer for raised amount, 677.
- Nature of Deposit Ticket—Deposit ticket or passbook entry is in the nature of evidence which may be explained—not a binding obligation or promise of the bank, 677.
- Theft of Registered Mail—Nature of railroad's employment in carrying registered mail is as public agent and not as common carrier for the individual—Railroad not liable to individual owner in case of theft, even by an employee, unless the corporation itself, as distinguished from subordinates, chargeable with negligence, 678.
- Promissory Note—Stipulation in note consenting "that time of payment may be extended without notice thereof" makes negotiability uncertain—The point not covered by The Negotiable Instruments Law and State decisions conflict, 679.
- Bearer Check—Does not require indorsement and payment to bearer is perfectly proper and chargeable, 680.
- "Pay to Order of Bearer"—Does a check drawn "Pay to order of bearer" as distinguished from "Pay to bearer" call for the indorsement of the bearer as a pre-requisite to payment? Opinion that indorsement not legally required, 732.
- Certificate of Deposit—Question of right of holder to demand immediate payment or only at end of twelve months, 733.
- Cashier's Check to Wrong Person—Where a stranger representing himself as B presents to drawee bank a check payable to order of B and bank delivers to stranger its cashier's check payable to order of B, which stranger indorses in name of B to another bank and that bank receives payment, opinion expressed that as between drawee bank and bank receiving payment, former would be the loser in event indorsement is not that of B, 733.
- Forged Check—Drawee's right to recover money paid on forged check under law of Florida, 734.
- Check Signed in Blank—Where a check is signed in blank as to amount and negotiated to a bona fide holder for a sum larger than authorized by the drawer, latter is liable for increased amount to bona fide holder under common law rule, but not so liable under rule of Negotiable Instruments Law unless amount filled in before negotiation, 734.
- Forged Telegrams—Liability of telegraph company to bank which pays money on faith of forged telegrams, 735.
- Set-Off of Note—Right of bank to charge up note owned by it against customer's account where note made by customer payable at another bank and protested for non-payment at maturity, 736.
- Check with Altered Date—Bank would be protected in paying check with altered date if after alteration check has been negotiated to a holder in due course, 736.
- Time of Day of Protest—Where note is made payable at maker's place of business which is kept open until six o'clock, note can be protested for non-payment before closing hour of the day of maturity, where presented earlier in the day and dishonored by non-payment. It is not necessary to wait until six o'clock to make a legal protest, 736.
