An Art Treasure

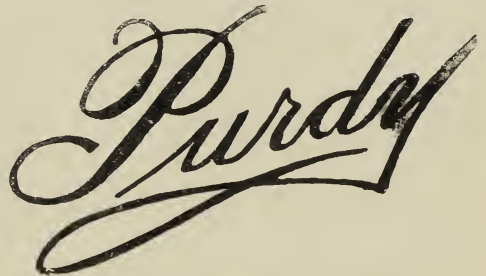

FOR those who desire something outside the confines of regular photography, a keepsake or an heirloom, we are making some delightful miniatures which possess unusual charm for the critical.

THEY are a revelation in portraiture and indicate the scope of the new Purdy studios which provide everything from the modest-priced photographs to these veritable gems.

Motokloth

Apholstery fabric Deluxe

The test of leadership is value. That product occupies the highest plane of leadership which combines within itself the greatest number of virtues.

The fame of the many makes of standard cars in the automobile world is paralleled by the enviable reputation and the highest standard of style and quality in automobile upholstery which the name MOTO-KLOTH suggests.

Motokloth vs. Leather

Leather is called a "natural" material; it is an animal hide (a mass of animal fibres) artificially tanned and prepared for use — nothing else.

MOTOKLOTH is even a more "natural" product, as its fibres are the longest, strongest and finest selected animal fibre (pure unadulterated wool from the Australian sheep's back) dyed in the yarn and woven into various combinations of colors, thereby offering innumerable opportunities for obtaining artistic decorative schemes.

Whether an opinion be delivered in a court of law or the forum of business, its authority must be weighed by the standing of the man who utters it.

The opinions of the captains of finance and industry carry unquestioned weight because they are men of courage and ability. Of noteworthy significance, therefore, is this commendation of MOTOKLOTH given by the President of The International Silver Company:

"MOTOKLOTH has been more than satisfactory. Everybody who has ridden in my car—and that means not a few people—have expressed their admiration for it, and their gratification at the comfort there is in sitting on this MOTO-KLOTH. It is cooler than leather for summer use and the cold days we find it much warmer."

Popularity

In the field of human endeavor public opinion has coined the following phrase: "Imitation is the sincerest flattery," which is truly illustrated in the many imitations of MOTOKLOTH, which demonstrate in themselves, even by a superficial examination, that those who are responsible for them are simply copyists and mislead the public. It is important that care be taken to insist on MOTOKLOTH and to see that the genuine is used.

Thrift Does Not Mean Hoarding But Right Buying

The world is on the bargain counter.

There is one of the biggest special sales on in the history of the country. Women know what a sale is.

They watch and wait for sales. Only this sale is so enormous, so widespread, that people hardly realize this opportunity is at hand.

If you BUY NOW you get the low prices and put your money into circulation. That means both aid to the men and women so sorely in need of work, and a stimulus to the whole structure of employment and trade.

Perhaps you can hire someone tomorrow to do some necessary work. Unless you already know capable and deserving helpers call Oxford 7000.
