Guarantee Payments. "The amendment also proposes to make it possible for the city to guarantee payment of street improvement bonds, or, if it is not desired to go to that extent, to provide a fund from which money may be advanced to pay delinquent installments thereon so that bonds may be paid promptly without waiting for delinquent property owners. Such provision as this will operate to strengthen the credit of these bonds and will therefore enable them to be sold to investors at a better price which will, of course, operate to the advantage of the owners in obtaining for them lower costs for their work. The discount charge which usually prevails in street improvement bonds not so protected is, of course, borne by the property owners in the form of an increased cost of the work.

COMMENT LAST TRIBUTE TO RALPH M. POTTER

Prominent Citizen, Pioneer Passes Away; Father of W. P. Potter, Glendale

Always supporting any measure looking toward civic or moral in the county may be yet not in any sense of the word a "glad-hander," he was a sincere builder and one of the breed of men to whom the people owe the new vision of beauty and achievement rising up on the American prairie.

> Such was the esteem in which he was held by his townspeople, that when finally, sixteen years ago, he concluded to spend the remaining years of his life in southern California, his departure was celebrated with a great banquet at the Masonic temple, where he was a member of the lodge and of the Eastern Star. Following this mass testimonial of esteem, Mr. Potter presented with a diamond stick-pin by the merchants of Rockford-a souvenir he neva ceased to cherish, through all the remaining years.
