Twelve Lost Lives When Quebec Home Of Orphans Burned

Eight Jewish Boys and Janitor, His Wife and Two Children Perished at Shawbridge; Stories Are Told of Courage of Boys.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—Twelve persons perished in a fire which destroyed the Jewish Boys' Orphanage at Shawbridge last night. Eight of the victims were inmates, the others being the janitor, his wife and their two children.

The fire at one time threatened the whole village of Shawbridge, but the wind changed in time and blew the flames in the opposite direction.

Stories of remarkable discipline and courage displayed by the boys in the orphanage and by the lads at the Boys' Farm and Training School nearby are told. When the fire was discovered the youngsters in the orphanage were marshalled in the upstairs rooms by attendants and in the face of the rapidly-spreading flames were taken to the windows and through them to the balcony. It was impossible to get the inmates down the stairs because the flames soon cut off that section. The bigger boys made ropes of sheets and coolly lowered the younger ones to the ground with them.

Those who told of scenes at the fire stated there were no fire escapes on the building. The Boys' Farm brought to the scene their chemical fire apparatus and ran several lines of hose up to the blazing pile. Their action prevented the fire spreading to the village, it is thought.

Relief Call. The work of ascertaining exactly how many victims were in the ruins was much hampered by the heat of the smouldering building. It was found that eight orphans were missing when the roll call was made. Thomas Legault, the caretaker, and his wife and two children were known to have been in the building. It was thought the fire originated in the basement.

The orphans were taken to the hospital of the Boys' Farm, where they were provided with cots. The Jewish Boys' Home was a summer annex of a Montreal institution. It accommodated boys between the ages of 7 and 15. The building was of brick construction and three stories high.

The Boys' Farm and Training School at Shawbridge is an institution for juvenile delinquents.

Exports Are Increasing and Imports Decreasing

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—Canada continues to cut down her expenditures abroad according to the summary of Canadian trade for the month of July, at the same time is increasing her exports.

Imports brought into Canada for home consumption during July, 1922, were valued at $67,700,019, a decrease of nearly $2,000,000 from the July, 1921, total. The total was $12,577,847, as against $11,846,033 in July, 1921. For the four months of 1922, domestic imports were valued at $236,242,576, as against $233,823,462.

The grand total of Canadian trade for the month of July just closed showed a substantial increase. For July, 1922, the total was $132,577,847, as against $118,846,033 in July, 1921. For the four months of 1922 the grand total was $484,281,920, as against $478,604,739 in the same period of 1921.

GLIDING PLANE TESTED IN FRANCE
Remained in Air Two Minutes and Forty-three Seconds

Clermont, Ferrand, Aug. 16.—Pilot Barbot, in the De Wittine flexible wing gliding monoplane, produced a number of new local records in the gliding contest here. He remained in the air 2 minutes and 43 seconds. His feat was accomplished by getting into an air current blowing toward a hill. The machine climbed steadily for 50 feet above the starting point and landed 260 feet below the take-off. The average descent per second was under twenty inches.

Barbot's performance has been exceeded only by Orville Wright, and the Germans.

New York, Aug. 16.—The giant air-cruiser Sampson Corcor, piloted by Lieut. Walter Hinton, hopped off from the Hudson River this afternoon for Rockaway on the official start of the flight of 8,500 miles to the Amazon. At Rockaway the plane will take on fuel, and then start later to-day for Manteco, on Roanoke Island, N. C.

France Now Awaits The Commission's Reparations Ruling

Rambouillet, France, Aug. 16.—The French Cabinet, after voting unanimously in approval of the stand taken by Premier Poincare at the London conference of Allied Premiers, decided late this afternoon to await the action of the Reparations Commission before announcing what action would be taken in case Germany should fail to fulfill her reparations undertakings.

Rambouillet, France, Aug. 16.—The French Cabinet to-day unanimously approved of the German reparations policy of Premier Poincare and congratulated him on the stand he took at the London conference of Allied Premiers.

The entire Cabinet, headed by Premier Poincare, arrived here this morning. When the Ministers alighted at the railroad station, the assembled crowd gave cheers for great Britain as well as for France, although there were some cries of "Down with Lloyd George."

The entire morning session of the Cabinet, presided over by President Millerand, was devoted to Premier Poincare's exposition of what took place at London and discussion on that subject.

The Cabinet decided not to call an extraordinary session of Parliament, since the Government is constitutionally empowered to make decisions during parliamentary recesses.

An official statement said the Cabinet was unanimous in approving Premier Poincare's attitude and jointly charged with exceeding eighteen miles an hour.

Under an order-in-council dated September 7, 1921, stated C. H. Henson, city prosecutor, to-day, street cars are permitted a rate of ten miles an hour in "thickly populated areas," twelve miles in "thinly populated areas" and eighteen miles in "open country."

POINCARE GIVEN OVATION BY CROWD
Paris, Aug. 16.—Premier Poincare was given a tremendous popular ovation upon his arrival home at 6:35 o'clock last evening from London, where he attended the unfruitful meeting of Allied Premiers on the German reparations question.

Five Poincares, who attend this meeting of Allied Premiers on the German reparations question, were the cheers that greeted the Premier from July 5,000 people standing with bared heads in or about the Gard du Nord when he alighted from the special train that had brought him from Calais.

M. Poincare appeared careworn and fatigued. He seemed greatly pleased and moved at the reception, which apparently was unexpected.

France is with you; you did not leave her. She is with you; you did not leave her. He entered his automobile, while women lifted their children on their shoulders.

BOND MEN HERE TO ARRANGE BIG CITY BOND ISSUE
Advise Re-funding This Fall; Mayor Suggests Loan in Spring

Holds Out for Serial Bond Issue Which Bond Experts Oppose

Representatives of big Eastern Canadian bond houses arrived in Victoria and went into conference with city officials to-day on matters connected with the flotation of a large city refunding loan next year. The financiers will discuss this loan with the civic Finance Committee at a special meeting late to-day.

In preliminary conferences on the city's refunding loans, the Eastern financiers have proposed that the money to be refunded bonds this fall instead of waiting until next Spring. Mayor Marchant, it was learned to-day, has advised against this course.

He believes that the loan should be delayed until next Spring. The Eastern financiers argue, however, that if the loan is delayed until the last minute—until the city has to get the money—then the city will have to take what it can get for its bonds. The Mayor holds, however, that it will be possible to borrow money from the city's bank to carry on until the loan has been floated.

The Mayor also is urging that the loan be in the form of serial bonds—a proposal, which the bond men are opposing. Issuance of serial bonds to cover sinking funds is recommended in Dr. Adam Shortt's report on the city's finances. The Mayor points out, while here, that the Finance Committee is examining the city's financial position from every angle so that they may know how much to bid on the city's new bonds, if they decide to buy them.

Pending the reorganization of the Canadian National bank, the Government has appointed Major Graham Bell, Deputy Minister of the Interior, to fill the vacancy on the board caused by Mr. Kelley's resignation. The question as to the selection of the executive head will be dealt with at a meeting of the board to be held in Montreal to-morrow.

MARTIAL LAW IN ITALY ENDS; VOTE FOR NEW CABINET

Rome, Aug. 16.—The Senate to-day unanimously voted confidence in the new Government of Signor de Facta. The Cabinet has decided to withdraw its order of martial law and to restore to the civil authorities full responsibility for the maintenance of order.

SUSPENSION OF RAILWAY WAGE CUTS IS ASKED

Request by Canadian Brotherhood of Employees

Arbitration Board Holds Session in Ottawa

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—(Canadian Press)—The railway companies having consented to suspend the wage reduction in the shop trades pending a report of the board of conciliation, now sitting, in regard to that matter, the same question has been raised in connection with other wage disputes on Canadian railways.

These concerns chiefly at present the disputes between the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and the Canadian National and the Grand Trunk.

In the case of the Canadian National, a board of conciliation has already been established, and will open its sittings here this afternoon, when this issue is expected to be raised. The officials of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees look to the Canadian National to pursue in this case the policy adopted for the shopmen, but the attitude of the railway has not yet been announced.

The board between the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and the Grand Trunk has not yet been set up, but the appointment of a chairman is likely to be made in a day or so.

HARDING WILL ADDRESS CONGRESS
Washington, Aug. 16.—President Harding, in a message to-morrow to Congress, will present to the federal legislature and to the country the position of the Government with respect to the existing industrial troubles, particularly the railroad strike.

Meanwhile the railroad union leaders in Washington continued in session, preparing for the conference which the brotherhood chiefs have obtained with the Association of Railway Executives in New York to-morrow.

LADY NORTHCLIFFE RECEIVES MESSAGES
King and Queen Express Their Sympathy

President Harding Pays Tribute to Late Publicist

London, Aug. 16.—World-wide regret at the death of Viscount Northcliffe continues to be evinced by the flood of telegrams and cable messages received by the family and published in the Northcliffe papers.

The messages sent to Lady Northcliffe by the King and Queen and other members of the royal family and the one from President Harding are significant of the esteem in which the great publisher was held, says The Times.

The President of France, the Viceroy of India and the Dominion and Commonwealth Prime Ministers are at one with distinguished men of the United States in attesting to Northcliffe's work and the esteem of his achievements. The scores of messages published this morning occupy more than a page of The Times.

ARRIVAL MEETING OF LEGAL WORLD IN VANCOUVER

Annual Meeting of Canadian Bar Association

Delegates Welcomed by the Lieutenant-Governor

Vancouver, Aug. 16.—What is regarded as the most distinguished gathering of legal men that has ever visited Vancouver is in annual session here to-day.

The Canadian Bar Association is holding its seventh annual meeting and leaders of the profession throughout Canada are present.

In addition, the British bar is represented by Lord Shaw of Dumfries, the United States bar by John W. Davis of New York, former Ambassador to Great Britain, and Corliss Severance, president of the United States Bar Association; France by M. Henk, Ambassador, of Paris, and Japan by Dr. R. Masujima.

Two hundred and fifty members of the American Bar Association, which recently held sittings at San Francisco, are also in attendance.

Welcomed. This morning's session was principally devoted to the extending of official welcomes. The notable guests were introduced by the president, Sir James Aikins, and then His Honor, W. C. Nichol, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, voiced the pleasure it gave the citizens of this province to have such distinguished men about the Pacific coast for their deliberations.

Alderman Fred Crane, in the absence of Mayor Tisdall, extended a civic welcome, and the thanks of the visitors were expressed by Mr. Justice Surveyor, of Montreal.

Steady Effect. "It seems to me," said the Lieutenant-Governor in welcoming the delegates, "that many of the conclusions reached by these gatherings should have a steady effect on what I may term Pacific Coast legislation. We sometimes show a disposition to run riot in legislative matters."

"Of course there is that tendency all over the world just now to rush to extremes, not only in matters of law but in everything. We are running wild, and rushing, in dress, in speech, in manners—in fact, in pretty much everything that concerns us; and instead of going ahead with civilization we are going a bit backwards."

Able to Assist. "There is too much paternalism. Of course, that can not continue indefinitely. We need a stabilizer—a moral and mental gyroscope, so to speak, and to you gentlemen we are learning to look more and more to provide us with one. No so many years ago everybody blamed the law. We are now turning that wrong. It is not so nowadays."

President's Address. In his address Sir James Aikins said in part: "The familiar songs of a people express and mould their thought, feelings, and traditions. Faiths and legends, out of which spring national spirit and national laws."

"Why are the United Kingdom, the United States, Canada and those Dominions under the Southern Cross, (Concluded on page 2.)

GOVERNMENT LOSES GRANDROCK FIGHT

Wallinger, Conservative, Gets Majority of 224

Cranbrook, B. C., Aug. 16.—N. A. Wallinger, Conservative, with a majority of 225 won the by-election here yesterday over John Taylor, Liberal. There were 1,787 votes cast out of a total registration of 2,800.

Four polls, none of them with many votes, are yet to be heard from. At 10:00 to-day the vote stood: Wallinger 1,098 Taylor 781

Majority 225

The election came as a result of the resignation of the Hon. J. H. King from the B. C. Government to become Minister of Public Works for Canada. He held the seat from 1921 to 1922 and from 1916 to 1921.

The Government threw all its forces into the campaign, including all the Cabinet ministers who are in the Province except the Hon. William Sloan, whose doctor refused to allow him to participate; Mary Ellen Smith, M. P., and Capt. Ian MacKenzie, M. P., of Vancouver.

W. J. Bower, K. C., Conservative leader, went into the fight at the start and stayed until the finish. He was assisted by W. Jones, M. P.; P. Col. Lester, M. P.; and W. K. Esling, M. P.

Mr. Wallinger, Government Agent here for 18 years, was dismissed from office on short notice this year. The whole campaign was fought out on his dismissal.

Mr. Bower and Mr. Wallinger were accorded a demonstration by the crowds here last night. Mr. Wallinger's friends here declared to-day that the campaign could not have taken a more favorable turn for them than when the personal record of the candidate was brought into the fight, together with the reasons surrounding his dismissal from his position as Government Agent.

CANADIANS ASKING DETROIT DIVORCES MUST KEEP LAW

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 16.—Convinced that hundreds of Canadians are obtaining divorces in Detroit every year by falsely representing themselves as residents of the city, Judge Richter has ordered Edward Pokorny, clerk of the court, to investigate the residence of every Canadian who sues for divorce.

"I will not grant a decree in any Canadian case until Mr. Pokorny assures me that one of the parties has really lived here for two years as required by the statute," said Judge Richter. "So many suits are being filed by Canadians that it has made me very suspicious."

An earlier dispatch than that above, sent from Ottawa, said: In an effort to prevent the flooding of the coal mines in Nova Scotia, Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, has requested the assistance of Mr. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America. Mr. Murdock has urged President Lewis to wire the officers of the union in Nova Scotia suggesting that they do not permit the mines to be flooded and "irreparable damage" caused, and that an opportunity be given for further negotiations between the mine and the British Empire Steel Corporation.

News From China Describes Terrible Results of Typhoon

Hongkong, Aug. 16.—A letter received here from the Catholic bishop of Swatow states that at Gousoa, a community of 23,000 inhabitants, only half survived the recent typhoon, at Chiachiu 23,000 were drowned, and at Haiiki three Catholic families in the village are the only survivors of 300 inhabitants.

A missionary writing from the interior says it is impossible to count the dead. In Tinghai, Nioping, Chaoyang and Kityeung, out of 100 churches, chapels and missionary residences, twelve were totally destroyed and the others badly damaged.

FARMERS TO DECIDE FUTURE OF THEIR PARTY

No Ontario One-man Decision, Says J. J. Morrison

Complaint Made Against Premier Drury's Course

Toronto, Aug. 16.—"The farmers' political movement was brought into existence not by individuals or by the United Farmers of Ontario central organization," said J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario to-day, in reply to a story appearing in papers and the effect that Premier Drury had decided to drop the distinctive farmer character of the movement.

"It was a spontaneous protest against the shortcomings of the old party system that came from the rural people, and because it came from the farmers themselves, the farmers and the farmers only, have a right to direct its future."

"If the United Farmers of Ontario club throughout the province are content to see the movement they have so successfully fought for disappear and throw in their lot with a new party of so-called farmers, we are of the old parties, it is their affair. The decision rests with them." (Concluded on page 2.)

SEEK DIGEST OF SHORT REPORT

Prize for Condensed Summary Offered Ballots Favor Short Recommendations

So that Victoria rate payers may be able to read a condensed summary of Dr. Adam Shortt's report on City finances John Dean, head of the committee of businessmen who brought Dr. Shortt here, has offered a prize of $50 for the best digest of the Shortt report. This digest must not be less than 2,000 and not more than 3,000 words. Competitors must send their papers to "Digest," The Times, with their names on or before August 23. The award will be made August 25 by three judges appointed by the donor of the prize.

Ballots in the city's straw vote on the Shortt report are now beginning to dribble by two's and three's into the City Hall. So far the dozen odd ballots received are overwhelmingly in favor of the report as a whole.

"The extraordinary speed with which some people have voted on the report immediately after receiving it indicates clearly that they have not read the document carefully, if at all." Mayor Marchant said to-day. "That is the trouble with the present straw vote. People will mark ballots without bothering to wade through the report. The easiest thing, of course, is to endorse the report as a whole."

Five hundred copies of the report, addressed to ratepayers, have been returned to the City Hall by the Post Office authorities because it has been impossible to discover the whereabouts of the people to whom they were addressed.

Nova Scotia Coal Strikers Urged To Keep Pumps Busy

International President of Union, Requested By Federal Minister of Labor, Asks That Pits Be Kept Clear of Water.

Sydney, N.S., Aug. 16.—A telegram to Robert Baxter, president of District 26 of the United Mine Workers, from John L. Lewis, international president of the Mine Workers, says: "I note that the executive board of District No. 26 has authorized the stoppage of work since the 1921 rates have not been restored. It is the policy of the United Mine Workers to permit engineers, pumpmen and others necessary for the protection of property to remain. I strongly urge that full protection be accorded and the necessary men be authorized by the executives to remain at their posts."

An earlier dispatch than that above, sent from Ottawa, said: In an effort to prevent the flooding of the coal mines in Nova Scotia, Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, has requested the assistance of Mr. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America. Mr. Murdock has urged President Lewis to wire the officers of the union in Nova Scotia suggesting that they do not permit the mines to be flooded and "irreparable damage" caused, and that an opportunity be given for further negotiations between the mine and the British Empire Steel Corporation.

It is reported here that already very serious damage has been done to the mines by flooding.

TROOPS' ARRIVAL IS AWAITED AT NEW ABERDEEN

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 16.—(Canadian Press)—Officials of the Dominion Coal Company are practically besieged in No. 2 powerhouse at New Aberdeen, and will probably not be able to obtain relief until the arrival of troops from Halifax some time this afternoon. United Mine Workers' pickets are not preventing the officials from leaving the building, but they are preventing fresh workers from getting inside.

The result is that after twenty-four hours of continuous duty, the officials and volunteer workers, unable to keep up the steam to pump the mines and the water is gradually gaining in No. 2 Mine.

This information was given out at noon by H. J. M. McCann, assistant general manager of the company. Mr. McCann stated that there was any trouble at No. 2 mine last night.

Officials Put Out. At New Waterford the fans have been stopped for lack of power. Officials of the company who undertook to run the powerhouse here last night were elected to the strike pickets, though without any casualties. As a result the town was in darkness throughout the night.

Fifteen hundred pickets are patrolling in the New Waterford area and an equal number are out at New Aberdeen.

One thousand men were laid off at the Sydney Steel plant this morning and by the end of the week there will be 600 employed out of a normal total of 4,000 if the miners' strike continues.

MAN INJURED IN CLASH TO-DAY

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 16.—A man named Misselin was slightly injured in a clash which occurred at 9 o'clock this morning between United Mine Workers' pickets and volunteer workers who were endeavoring to make their way into the powerhouse at Aberdeen, Glace Bay. New Aberdeen is the home of the Phalen local union, which started the strike, and the company powerhouse there has been operated by officials and volunteers from other branches of the company's service since the engineers and pumpmen walked out thirty-six hours ago.

This morning when eight more volunteers attempted to enter the building to relieve some of those on duty there, strikers rushed the party and stones were thrown. Misselin was struck on the head and painfully but not seriously injured.

The relief party was driven away and officials already on duty for twenty-four hours are carrying on in the powerhouse.

ILLINOIS MINERS READY TO WORK

Coal Men Will Resume When Agreement Signed

Benton, Ill., Aug. 16.—Sixty thousand bituminous coal miners of Southern Illinois to-day were making up their minds to return to work to enter the pits which have been idle since the nation-wide strike became effective April 1, after a few hours' notice. An expectation of the ending of the strike in Illinois by the signing of an agreement between Illinois operators and miners at a conference scheduled to be held in Chicago Friday. Although most of the striking miners are jubilant at the prospect of returning to work, the prevalent opinion is that they would prefer a national agreement with the operators instead of individual and separate agreements.

New Constitution Marks Doom of Autocracy In India, Sastri Declares

But Many Difficulties Hedge Road to Real Freedom and Unity, He Tells Canadian Club; Neither Religion, Race Nor Color Determine Franchise In His Country, He Says Significantly.

India's problem of diverse races, of varied religions, of aggressive minorities, all of which beset her road upward to real democracy—was outlined to the Canadian Club to-day by Rt. Hon. Srinivasa Sastri in his first public address in Canada and one of the most masterly speeches ever heard here.

While Mr. Sastri contented himself in his address with a description of conditions as they exist, in one pointed paragraph he referred to the object of his mission to Canada to secure the franchise for his countrymen here. In India, he remarked pointedly, the franchise is denied to no man for his religion, his race, or his color.

Autocracy Doomed. "In opening our legislatures Lord Chesterford made the statement that in the government of India autocracy is dead, but he would have been really within the limits of strict accuracy if he had said that autocracy in the government of India was doomed."

Reasonable People. "When our constitution was first framed in the winter of 1919," Mr. Sastri recalled, "it was only after a great deal of preliminary deliberation and discussion. In the course of these discussions, the people of India, modest and reasonable and moderate as they always have been in their demands, would have been contented with a form of government like that of the United States in this respect."

Diarchy Control. Mr. Sastri went on to describe the system of government set up in India under the Montagu-Chelmsford scheme. This system in the provincial governments, he pointed out, was known as "diarchy." In this system the British were advised on certain matters by one group of councillors who were responsible to the British Parliament, and on other matters by another group of councillors who were responsible to the local parliament.

Problems of Franchise. "These institutions, when fully developed will be on the lines of the British constitution," Mr. Sastri went on, "but will be varied, as you would expect, to meet conditions in India. We have to deal with parts of the country where the British have had no influence, and where the British have had influence but where the British have not had influence."

Effect on Individuals. "Now lamentable as the present system of electorates is, it is a general principle it is more lamentable still in the case of the individual. Take for example a Britisher who is living in India and who is a citizen of India and not as a European resident—that highest type of Imperialist Englishman which is rare in India, but which is the type of man whom I have met. Under our present system those men cannot follow out their principles. Then cannot vote on the common register as Indian citizens. The man must vote as a European. In other words our system forces a man to be a Hindu, a Mohammedan, a Sikh or a follower of some other religion."

Rights of Minorities. "Nevertheless I venture to make this comment—in India we have learned the necessity of protecting the rights of minorities. We will not allow minorities to suffer if we can help it. We stretch our institutions and violate the principles of democracy, we go far to conciliate these minorities. It is not part of our purpose to engender misgiving which may prevent these minorities joining heartily in the constitution."

President's Remarks. Thanking Mr. Sastri for his address, Dr. Leslie Clay, the President, declared that the noted Indian leader's visit to Canada would benefit this country and give it a better understanding of conditions in India. Visits like that which Mr. Sastri is paying to Canada, he said, helped to do away with the narrow provincialism of thought which was one of the weaknesses of the British Empire.

BOWSER TO HOLD UNDISPUTED SWAY OVER DOWN PARTY; MANSON "PUTS CRIMP" IN U.S. RUM SUPPLY

If there was ever any doubt that Mr. Bowser would not come out of the Conservative convention at Vancouver next week confirmed as leader of the party in B. C., it has been dispelled by Cranbrook, politicians paid to-day.

The result of the election is considered a personal triumph for Mr. Bowser. His fortunes have been recovering since last Winter when there were rumblings in the Conservative ranks against his leadership.

Mary Ellen Smith, M.P.P., was attacked and bitten in the leg by a dog while she was out for a walk in the Cranbrook campaign. A doctor treated her, and it is expected there will be no serious results.

Acting on legal advice, some warehouses have been turning over and collecting all and stocks amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars are tied up.

"The sales will now have to be made in the United States and it would not go very easy with any citizen of another country who violated the laws of the U. S. while enjoying its hospitality."

Many former runners and smugglers have turned to making their money in the United States. Many moonshiners have sprung up against their own greediness has turned against them as the bulk of the people who have been bitten with the moonshine are now dubious of buying and taking liquor and the labor has fallen off.

J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., who as Attorney-General of B.C. last year drew up the Liquor Control Act, is to defend D. C. Riddan, of the Winters Club, who was arrested last week in one of the raids staged a week ago by special liquor investigators taken to the Interior by Attorney-General Manson.

G. C. McGeer, K.C., Government counsel in its fight for lower freight rates, is confined to his home in Vancouver with a severe attack of quinsy.

Premier Oliver, Attorney-General Manson, Ian Mackenzie, M.P.P., and J. A. Buekham will hold a public meeting at Golden to-night. To-morrow they will leave for the Interior by the Malakwa Road from Revelstoke to Vernon.

Twenty-five men were sent to the prairie harvest fields this afternoon from Victoria and twenty-five others will be sent to-night, it was announced this afternoon by H. Crisford, superintendent of the Government Employment Bureau.

With this contingent, however, all the unemployed in Victoria and district who desire to work will be forwarded.

Most of the men were sent from here are out-of-town men, as there is no outside power appearing here, Mr. Crisford, "I fear that the flow of men to the prairies and the demand for labor from farmers is not causing up the unemployed situation here."

Farmers are still sending out calls for men and are promising more food and better food, an easier time and more entertainment than ever before to induce city men to help them in the harvest work. Because of this demand Victoria men who will work will be sent East the day they register at the Labor Bureau, it is said.

GOVERNORS ORDERS DEMPSEY-BRENNAN FIGHT CANCELLED

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 15.—Governor McCray to-day sent a letter to the sheriff of Laporte county, instructing him that under no circumstances should he permit the Dempsey-Brennan fight to be held in Michigan City on Labor Day.

INDIANS STATED FISHING CLAIMS

So many Indians become drunk and startle peaceful settlers in the Campbell River district with their war-whoops, that Magistrate Sullivan arrived at the Parliament Buildings to-day to ask the Government to build a jail at Campbell River capable of holding all the Indians who get drunk at one time.

Magistrate Sullivan said while it may be possible to handle a few Indians who get drunk at one time, there is no room to lock them all up.

Officials of the Attorney-General's Department will investigate the matter to make certain that every security is afforded there for offenders.

so alike in song, in sentiments, and in laws? Because though they possess diversities of gifts, they are born of the same spirit, the British spirit. They are the same in their body that is in an enveloping civilization in which there should be no schism.

"Now the sources of a nation's songs and spirit are the causes of a civilized nation's laws, but there is this difference—the songs and spirit lead in the formation and confirmation of customs, usages and habits; then law follows, sometimes too far behind, and makes out of them rules of conduct. For instance, the Common Law, praised by no parliament, was the crystallization of all sides of usages which had stood the test of time into law by judicial decision and interpretation. But usages and methods change to suit the requirements of the times on occasion swiftly. Indeed instant regulations are sometimes essential for new discoveries and inventions. The Common Law, Code Law and Constitutional Law are constantly altering and advancing to harness, control and utilize the new born thoughts and expressed wishes of peoples. The Common Law of Blackstone's time has been so modified by judicial interpretation and legislation that it is scarcely recognizable in the rules of conduct of to-day, which we are pleased to call largely now from the Parliaments and the Civil Law. For the same reason Code Law is changing. The Constitution of the United States has been altered by the Supreme Court to cover the growing body, and the Congress has been busy in sewing on amending stripes. Even young Canada would feel it bound by the restrictions of the British North America Act if it and the Imperial authorities did not quietly ignore them, and all are happy because they know the objectionable clauses can at any time be repealed when Canada requires it, and we are warned against any further written definition of status in the Empire which unduly restricts or embarrasses free development. Until Canada has finished growing it cannot be defined. It doth not yet appear what we Canadians shall be."

Differences. "The basic local laws of eight provinces differ more widely from those of Quebec than they do from the United States, except perhaps Louisiana. "No doubt as time passes convenience will require greater uniformity in those provincial laws which relate to citizenship, business carried on between the provinces. That, undoubtedly, should be left to the free volition of the provinces. No one province should be expected to make the concessions to attain greater unity. The civil code system of Quebec relating to purely local and domestic matters differs fundamentally from the system in other provinces. Why should it not be such be the will of the Quebecers? It should be the aim of the Canadian people to keep the exercise of provincial rights and privileges free from all kinds of external interferences or encroachment. Citizens will best develop their powers, and make their richest contribution to Canada, in their habit and milieu and atmosphere to which they are accustomed and most naturally adapted. They will usually do what is to their interest, and the more readily if there is no outside power appearing thereunto to compel them. If there is, their sweet reasonableness vanishes. Must Conform. "I am not suggesting that those from foreign lands should be permitted to continue their alien habits, language and ideals. As they come to benefit themselves by our better advantages resources, and the protection of our laws, they must in all respects conform to things Canadian, and they should not be admitted more quickly than they can be quietly and effectually assimilated and Canadianized. There is such a thing as bartering a nation's birthright for a mess of pottage." Reports. At the conclusion of the president's address reports from various committees were submitted and adopted. The financial statement, presented by G. F. Henderson, K. C., honorary treasurer, showed that the total assets of the association were $2,257,000, with no liabilities. This amount includes the Atkins Endowment Fund. 2,257 Members. An increase of 342 members over last year was reported by the membership committee. There are now 2,257 members, as compared with 1,915 a year ago. The recommendation of a committee for the association to undertake the publication of a legal journal to be known as "The Canadian Bar Review" was adopted. A committee is to be appointed to take over and merge the two present publications, "The Canadian Law Journal" and "The Law Times."

proportion on her cash indemnity instalments. Every effort is being made by the members of the Commission to avoid a direct vote on this question by arranging some compromise which will bridge over the situation until November or December, when the Commission believes another meeting of the Allied Premiers will have to consider the reparations settlement on a broad basis, including the reduction of German indemnities and the general subject of inter-Allied debts.

Toronto Doctor Speaks of Standardization of Hospitals

Toronto, Aug. 16.—"If it is necessary to standardize the hospitals in Canada, then it should be done by someone in Canada." This was the reply made yesterday by Dr. Walter McKeown, of St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, to a criticism of Ontario hospitals made by Dr. McEachern, director of the American College of Surgeons. "We leave too much to the Americans and to such institutions as the Carnegie and Rockefeller Foundations," declared Dr. McKeown.

SEATTLE COUNCIL ASKED TO MAKE AN APPOINTMENT

Seattle, Aug. 16.—Major Oscar A. Piper, Superintendent of Streets, and Bert A. Northrop, Civil Service Commissioner, have been removed by Mayor Edwin C. Brown, who asserted these officials were inefficient and extravagant. Both had refused to resign, stating their conduct had been good. After the Council had refused to confirm his appointment of Carl Gassman, his campaign manager, as Major Piper's successor, Dr. Brown summoned Councilmen to his office. After talking to them he stated they were trying to discredit his administration. Election of Northrop's successor develops upon the Council, which deferred action one week.

MURDER TRIAL AT LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Aug. 16.—The trial of Herbert Wilson, former evangelist of Oregon and Canada and alleged mail robber, for the murder of Herbert R. Cox, said to have been his companion in numerous crimes, opened in the Superior Court here to-day before Judge J. Perry Wood. Cox was shot and killed here a few months ago while he and Wilson and Eddie O'Brien, an alleged mail robber now held at Toledo, Ohio, were attempting to escape from the county jail. Cox's last words were: "Herb did it." The state contends Wilson blamed Cox for their failure to escape, thinking he had disclosed the plan to the officers. Several charges against Wilson have been held up pending the result of the murder trial.

WRITES EULOGY OF NORTHCLEFFE

Beaverbrook Deals Frankly With Late Publisher's Character

Predicted Beaverbrook Would Lose Money in Journalism

London, Aug. 16.—Lord Beaverbrook, in his paper, The Daily Express, yesterday published a eulogy of the late Lord Northcliffe. He referred, nevertheless, with considerable candor to some aspects of the great publisher's character. Lord Northcliffe succumbed partially, says Lord Beaverbrook, to his belief in his journalistic sanctity. He would inflict agonies on public men who were over-sensitive to attack; yet himself felt bitterly when some public man responded with a personal rejoinder.

The writer says Bonar Law suffered far less than most of his fellow politicians from the violence of Lord Northcliffe's onslaughts, chiefly because Bonar Law did not care whether he was criticized or not and Lord Northcliffe knew this.

Lord Beaverbrook continues: "I first met him at a dinner arranged by a friend soon after I was returned to Parliament. I sensed at once that he was sizing me up, especially because it had been reported that I was about to buy The Standard. "Shortly afterwards he invited me to Thonet, where he asked me what my private fortune was. When I told him, he said: 'If you go into Fleet Street you will lose it. I am not sure that the prophecy may not yet come true.'"

The vegetable producing districts report abundant supplies and market prices are already responding. The wine harvest promises to be the most abundant since the war.

NEW YELLOWSTONE PARK GEYSER

Mud and Rocks Thrown 300 Feet Into Air

Yellowstone Park, Wyo., Aug. 16.—A new geyser has appeared in Yellowstone Park. Without recent manifestations, a quiet mud pool near the head of Obsidian Creek erupted yesterday and sent a column of steaming mud and rocks 300 feet into the air. The eruption inundated the automobile road between Mammoth Hot Springs and the Norris Geyser basin and covered the ground for several acres. The eruption lasted several minutes and was repeated at irregular intervals last night and to-day, each time sending up a 300-foot column of mud and water, which is higher than any of the other geysers in the park.

Automobiles parked nearby while their owners waited for the new geyser to perform again were struck with stones ejected from the pool. Guards were posted to-day along the road by Superintendent H. M. Albright to prevent visitors approaching too close to the mud-filled crater of the new geyser.

In 1919 the same pool threw water five to 20 feet high, but it has never been regularly active.

The new geyser will be named the Centennial geyser along the centennial anniversary this year of the establishment of the park.

LIQUOR SMUGGLERS BLAMED FOR DEATH

Automobile Salesman Was Murdered in California

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 16.—Authorities here say they have evidence that Edwin A. Shouse, automobile salesman, whose body was found in a thicket at Albany, north of here, Saturday night, was murdered at the instigation of a liquor smuggling ring because he "tipped off" the arrival at Monterey, Cal., of a big liquor cargo from Canada recently. Through advance information on the arrival, the prohibition authorities were enabled to seize the shipment, which was valued at in excess of $100,000.

The police are also investigating a telephone call from a mysterious woman to the dead man's wife about twenty-four hours after the body was found. The woman asked for Shouse, and expressed surprise when told that he had been a possible murder victim.

HOTEL INQUIRY IN ONTARIO

Commission Hearing Statements; Arguments for Beer and Light Wines

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 16.—Sixty per cent of the hotels operating here before prohibition have gone to the wall, and the rest are not paying. It was asserted here yesterday by hotel men before the commission probing hotel conditions in Ontario. Local option and five per cent were the only solution, they said. Commissioner Clark said he would not brand the man as selfish or unfair who asked for beer and light wines, but the fact remained that it was against the will of the majority that such should be obtainable. The commission might recommend some modification in the existing law, but it was hopeless to expect that the entire legislation would be set aside, he said.

CHINESE TROOPS DEFEAT BRITISH SURPRISE PEOPLE

Wars There Just Routine Now, Recur Every Two Years

London, Aug. 16.—The Pekin correspondent of The Times, describing recent fighting in China, says that it is just passed through one of those little wars which, since the establishment of the Republic, have disturbed the serenity at regular intervals occurring every two years. Unfortunately there is no reason why this routine should not continue indefinitely. Peace is not likely to be established in a Republic which is a Republic only in name until one successful soldier emerges as a dictator.

In 1920 the pro-Japanese Anfu party was defeated by Gen. Wu Pei-fu, but Marshal Chang Tso-lin, whose attitude throughout the conflict had been doubtful, intervened when the fighting was over and seized all the spoils of victory. By his contemptuous attitude to Gen. Wu Pei-fu at that time, and the subtle slight that he inflicted on him, it was clear that the Marshal despised him as a rival. To the general public it was equally obvious that Marshal Chang Tso-lin aimed at establishing a dictatorship for himself, which, since it would entail the elimination of Gen. Pei-fu, was certain to lead to fighting.

This fighting has now come and, partially, gone, and has shown that there is a new force to be reckoned with in Chinese politics; the existence of morale among Chinese soldiers. Previous campaigns in which Chinese troops have been engaged have always shown them to be inefficient and unreliable in the field, but on this occasion the winning side is credited with having won by its superior morale under disadvantageous conditions.

Operations in the field began with Chang Tso-lin's deployment of his forces on the Pei-ho river, and the River Hun, he intended them to occupy in the forthcoming campaign. The positions were occupied about April 23, and were firmly convinced. The reason seems to have been that Marshal Chang Tso-lin had no clear-cut plan of campaign, and waited to be attacked, while Gen. Wu Pei-fu, whose troops, except for his west flanks, where they were served by the Pekin-Hankow Railway, had to march to their positions, was not ready until some days later. Indeed, the campaign was over before the best of his forces were ever in action.

Chang's Men Well-Equipped

Chang Tso-lin's men sat down in their positions and proceeded to enjoy the Spring weather. They had been the victims of their own propaganda, and were firmly convinced that they would have little fighting to do. Wu Pei-fu was to be attacked in the rear, and their role would be to arrest and disarm his flying loops. Their leader had abandoned the advantage of the initiative, and for five previous days his army remained in its pits, smoking cigarettes and enjoying the sensation, rare to Chinese soldiers, of being simultaneously well fed and fully paid. On April 27, after two days of furious cannonading, there was a lull, during which foreign correspondents visited Chang's army and returned intoxicated with enthusiasm. One gentleman discovered that Chinese troops were equal to foreign troops; another was amazed at the discipline and good behavior of the troops. All the foreigners who visited Chang Tso-lin's troops were generally impressed by the thoroughness of their equipment. They had leather boots, waterproof coats, a proper pack with its entrenching tool, new uniforms, and bayonets, and even dust goggles to guard against the storms so frequent at this season of the year. The artillery was all modern and well supplied with shells (some dated 1913, however), while their small arms ammunition appeared to be unlimited. Chang Tso-lin's troops had had the benefit of Japanese training, but their methods in the field were decidedly primitive. Although they had dug themselves in along the whole front, they were not in any trenches. Their idea of a trench was a shallow excavation about three feet broad and between two and three feet deep, into which they crawled whenever possible carefully lined with straw. There were no traverses, and the trench ran in a straight line, so that if it were entered at one point the defenders were immediately outflanked. There were no communicating trenches between the different lines, and no wire had been used at all, nor had any strong posts been constructed. Machine guns were evidently not handled as a unit, but accompanied the infantry without any thought as to their special uses.

While Chang Tso-lin wasted time, General Wu Pei-fu was employed in bringing up his troops from their distant positions and in rallying his political allies. General Wu Pei-fu himself arrived at the front on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 2. Although he had but two mixed brigades of poor troops, numbering some eighteen thousand, he ordered them to attack the enemy, who numbered forty thousand fighting men. Throughout Wednesday afternoon and evening the fighting was hard, but undecided. General Wu's troops finding the heavy artillery fire particularly trying.

Christian General Wins

On Wednesday afternoon he threw into action a reinforcement of some 4,000 men belonging to the army of Feng Yuhsiang, the celebrated "Christian general." These men successfully effected a turning movement around the western flank in the early hours of the morning, and the commander-in-chief of the Mukden forces immediately abandoned his whole position. He had grouped directly in his rear some seventeen large trains, and his troops fled to these. About ten trains proceeded north along the Pekin Suiyuan railway, and the remaining seven went to Tientsin, where those of Chang Tso-lin's men who were not already on trains seized all the rolling stock so carefully accumulated by their general and sped away to the north. The two brigades of General Wu Pei-fu that played the most important part in the decisive battle, present a striking contrast to Chang Tso-lin's men. Their equipment has evidently not been renewed for the last three years, during which time they have fought in three campaigns. They have no leather boots, and the ordinary cotton Chinese shoe, with its thin sole of cloth, speedily wears out in two or three days' marching in good weather. A day's rain ruins it. These troops were limping along

Italian Poet Body Injured by Fall; Physicians Anxious

Garbone, Riviera, Italy, Aug. 16.—Physicians attending Gabriele d'Annunzio, who is suffering from the effects of a fall Sunday, are beginning to show considerable anxiety over the fact that his condition is remaining stationary. Professor Rafael Basitanelli, the noted surgeon, has visited d'Annunzio and agreed with the diagnosis of the local doctor, Duse and the consulting physicians. The physicians are at the bedside almost constantly.

HUMAN INTEREST WON.

There is nothing particularly surprising in the result of the Cranbrook by-election. Nobody with a just appreciation of the nature of the campaign can fairly claim that it reflects the attitude of the Province as a whole.

While these conclusions will be obvious to most people we do not overlook the fact that the size of the majority attained by the Conservative candidate is an indication of popular sentiment in his particular case.

It can be said at this juncture that the campaign which has just been brought to a close is additional proof of the fact that human interest and factionalism in politics are just as fashionable as ever.

"MADE IN B. C."

It is not fair to cite isolated cases as any sort of proof that a movement has succeeded or failed. For that reason it does not follow that an instance referred to by The Kamloops Telegram indicates a two-sided application of the "Made in B. C." policy.

The Telegram correctly points out that the largest manufacturing industries in British Columbia are those in which Nature holds the guiding reins—agriculture, mining, lumbering and fishing.

Without going into specific details in this particular case it should be pointed out that the "Made in B. C." movement will fail if it shall work only in one way. The people of the Interior are jealous of their ability to play the game in all matters—and particularly those in which the prosperity of the Province is concerned.

On the other hand The Telegram may take some consolation from the fact that North Vancouver—next door neighbor to the headquarters of the "Made in B. C." movement—asked the people to vote upon the question of whether the new ferry that is to ply across Burrard Inlet should be built at home or in Scotland.

THE CANADIAN SCOTTISH.

It was a singularly fitting and interesting idea which prompted the 16th Canadian Scottish to present to the Captain of the Canadian Government steamer "Canadian Scottish," a cup that is to perpetuate the name of which both battalion and vessel are proud.

A GUESSING EFFORT.

Our morning contemporary places two distinct interpretations upon the result of the Cranbrook election. It observes that the victory of Mr. Wallinger "indicates a recrudescence of strength in the Conservative Party in this Province."

THE SHORTT REPORT.

It is to be noted with satisfaction that the City Council has appointed a committee to digest the report of Dr. Adam Shortt in order that its contents may be served up for intelligent discussion as early as possible.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Vital statistics for the City of Victoria last month are encouraging on the whole. Fewer deaths and more births is the report of the Medical Health Officer.

Mrs. M. E. Smith, M. L. A., was bitten by a dog during the election contest in the Cranbrook riding. This was certainly carrying the Wallinger dismissal incident to extraordinary lengths.

We congratulate Colonel Peck, V. C., and Colonel Urquhart, D. S. O., and the officers and men of the 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish on the interest they are showing in the welfare of Canada's mercantile marine.

Those warships that are destined to form part of the British navy's junk pile are coming to an ignominious end as targets. Twenty thousand dollars constituted the average bid from the ship-breaker and the Admiralty considered it better value to experiment with them to the tune of a battery of official movie machines.

THE SINGLE TAX—SOME OF ITS AIMS

To the Editor—We hear much these days in a few circles in condemnation of Single Tax. It is unjust condemnation; unjust, we take it, because of a want of a complete understanding of the subject.

The ethical basis of Single Tax is the common right of all citizens to profit by the values of land which are a creation of the community. It demands right of access to the land upon equal terms, preference to be secured only upon payment of a premium that will extinguish the equal rights of all other men.

Thomas G. Sherman in his "Natural Taxation" says: "It would put an end to that artificial concentration of wealth in the hands of a few. While leaving natural inequalities in human skill, intelligence, industry and productive power to produce their natural effects in moderate inequalities, it would gradually remove those unnatural and monstrous inequalities which now exist with no benefit to anyone and with vast injury to society as a whole."

Single Taxers believe that all men are created equal and are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights. Land is the basic necessity of human life. On the wisdom and justice of the terms of land ownership, the stability of society depends.

which the means of livelihood can be taken from him in his principles is right and just. MacSHEUMAS

SINGLE TAX.

To the Editor—Grant the premises of Henry George, and of course his deductions are logical. But his premises are assumed, and this is the assumption: Land no more admits of private ownership than does air or sunlight.

Monopoly in land, or landlordism, I regard with the same abhorrence as I do the modern form of monopoly known as militarism. Both are contrary to the fundamental justice which requires that wealth after making a generous allowance for the needs of his own family should be dependent upon him, should be freely bestowed for the benefit and betterment of mankind.

VICTORIA GIRL IS WEDDED TO-DAY TO MONTREAL DOCTOR

Miss Lucy Little Bride at Beautiful Ceremony at Christ Church

Society gathered in force at Christ Church Cathedral this afternoon at 3 o'clock for one of the most brilliant wedding ceremonies of the season when the Rev. Charles de V. Schofield, D.D., Bishop of Columbia, united in marriage Lucy Anna, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Deans Little of "Highlands," Rockland Avenue, to Dr. Norman Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williamson of Montreal.

Beautiful floral decorations, arranged by Mrs. Hermann Robertson and girl friends of the bride, had transformed the interior of the church into a tower-like setting for the ceremony. Five arches surmounting the main aisle were massed with flowers and decorated with flowers in a color scheme of pink and mauve, and from each was pendant a basket of budhills, dahlias, stock and spyanth flowers. The chancel was hung a marriage bell of mauve and pink sweet peas and clematis, huge sword ferns and blossoms covering the front and rear of the chancel. The guest pews were marked by an artistic arrangement of sword ferns and Shasta daisies tied with white satin ribbons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was radiant in a beautiful Maymoyne gown of cloth of silver. Of simple lines, the gown was devoid of trimming depending solely upon the loveliness of the fabric and the simplicity of style for its charm, the low shawl falling below the hem at the back. With it the bride wore a lovely old Limerick veil and a coronet of orange blossom and carried a beautiful bouquet of white heather, roses and lilies of the valley.

Her retinue included five attendants, all gowned alike in mauve taffeta and carrying charming bouquets of delphinium and cosmos. Mrs. F. A. Bennett, the matron-of-honor in mauve taffeta and hat of orchid tulle, while the Misses Beatrice Jones, Mabel Eberts, Margaret Williamson, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Davida Ker were the charming bevy of bridesmaids, their quaint gowns being made with light bodices and hoop skirts and finished with hats of cloth of silver. Miss Barbara Twigg, the little niece of the bride, was a dainty flower girl in delphinium blue crepe, wearing a wreath of flowers in lieu of a hat and carrying a basket of flowers. Mrs. Little, the mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of French lace and radiance and model black hat. Mrs. Williamson, the mother of the bridegroom wearing a lovely toilette of gray georgette with becoming black hat.

Mr. Carew Martin supported the bridegroom, and the ushers were Messrs. McIntosh, Kenneth Raymur, Dick Jones and R. H. B. Ker.

After the ceremony a reception was held at "Highlands," attended by many Victoria and Vancouver guests. Later Dr. and Mrs. Williamson left for an automobile tour of Vancouver Island, the bride traveling in a smart suit of larkspur blue tweed, bouc with grey and a becoming hat of grey. Later they will take up their residence in Montreal, where the bridegroom is in practice. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts from a host of friends here and in the East.

PARIS FALL STYLES SHOW INFLUENCE OF THE ORIENTAL

Draped Toques and Turbans Predominate

(By May Birkhead.)

Paris, Aug. 16.—Paris is having the calm after the storm. There are not even charity fetes to interest the visitors. Artists, aristocrats, millionaires, bourgeois, Parisian and cosmopolitan social climbers, to say nothing of political aspirants from every corner of the earth, who were to be seen everywhere in June, have scattered to all parts of Europe, leaving the American tourists alone to hold the fort.

In reviewing the styles at the races there were few indications on the whole of what is likely to be worn in the Autumn, with the exception perhaps of the short jackets worn with one piece dresses, and the Persian and Venetian influences. The entire season was more illustrative of the success of the Summer fashions and the feature which most interested the American women was the length of the skirts. They seemed to fear that they might be called upon to wear their skirts sweeping the ground by the time Autumn arrives.

It is undoubtedly true that the Autumn evening dresses will be long, but the new tailors, which are already being shown as the first Autumn models, make it impossible to believe that long skirts will be worn in the day for walking. The tailored costumes worn at the races showed ankle length skirts, and this will probably be the regulation length for Winter. On the other hand, coats were noticed at the Grand Prix nearly touching the ground, and there were but few well dressed women who wore skirts above the ankle.

Another smart hat for Autumn is a women, who had just arrived in Paris and had gone to the races before finding time to lengthen their skirts. The vogue during the Summer for the short jackets made of a fabric different from the dress is sure to continue into the Autumn. There are various new quilted fabrics, which make attractive jackets of this type. The Miller Soeurs are the first to show their Autumn models, and these little jackets, made of heavy silk and brocade, with full collars and often banded by fur around the hips, are the most pronounced feature of the collection. They have almost entirely replaced the short capes which started the Summer season.

Bright Evening Gowns

Evening dresses will again be bright in color. Beaded velvets, according to these first models, will be as fashionable as ever. As to general lines they are much more draped than they have been. Skirts for evening wear are really long and the waist line approaches the normal.

Millinery for the first days of Autumn will be bright in colors, and

POPULAR GIRL MARRIED

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Metropolitan Methodist Church yesterday afternoon when Maud, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Creech, Pembroke Street, became the bride of Robert Donald, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Grand Forks.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Wedding March, looking radiantly lovely in a gown of white crepe meteor trimmed with Spanish lace and pearls, and a handsome embroidered veil caught to her hair with a spray of orange blossom. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and Jessamine.

The Misses Rubie Smith, Hilda Locke and Laura Robertson were bridesmaids, and the bridegroom was supported by Chris Ferriman as best man.

Rubie Smith and Laura Robertson were dressed alike in charming gowns of shell pink georgette trimmed with white and picture hats to match, while Hilda Locke looked very pretty in a dress of orchid cation crepe trimmed with silver and picture hats to match. They all carried shower bouquets of pink and mauve sweet peas and fern. During the singing of the register Kenneth Angus sang beautifully. "For You Alone." The happy couple left for Grand Forks, the home of the bridegroom's parents, via Seattle and Spokane, the bride traveling in a tailored suit of black and white crepe and hat of georgette.

The popularity of the young couple was shown by the numerous gifts they received.

Owing to the sad bereavement by the death of the bride's grandfather, Mr. Mellado, the reception will be held on the return of Mr. and Mrs. D. Smith, who will make their home in this city.

Betty Whitaker, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Whitaker, of Blenheim Road, was the delighted hostess of a few young friends, gathered together on Monday afternoon, to help her celebrate second birthday. Among those present were Mrs. Thomas Bennett, Edward Morley, Phyllis Mercer, Muriel Mercer, Amy Pierce, Betty Pierce, Margaret Tuson. Little Betty was showered with remembrances.

The wedding was quietly solemnized at Christ Church, Vancouver, on Tuesday, August 14, at 3:30 p. m. by the Venerable Archbishop N. I. Perry, of Jacquelin Maude, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Devoreux, formerly of DeVizes, Wiltshire, now of Bow Valley, Alta., and Andre Louis, fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Fraser, of Stoneleigh, Wallasey, Cheshire. The honeymoon will be spent cruising about the Gulf Islands. The bride and bridegroom will reside in Victoria.

Mrs. John Smith, of Keighley, Yorkshire, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. Jeffreys, in Victoria, and recently visited her nieces, Mrs. George Kendrick and Mrs. Jack Armstrong, of New Westminster, and formerly of Keighley. Mrs. Smith will return to England on August 20 on the Loch Katrine from Vancouver to Liverpool, via the Panama Canal. She expects to break her journey at Long Beach, California, where she will visit her nephew, Mr. John Spencer.

Members of the Pythian Sisters and their friends spent an enjoyable evening yesterday at the home of Sister Anderson, 408 Dallas Road, on the occasion of a farewell party in honor of Sister R. E. Glover, who is resigning the office of secretary, a post she has held for eight years, and will shortly leave the city. The guest of honor was presented with a Bran Will Free Your Entire Family from Constipation!

EIGHT MILLION PEOPLE were admitted to the hospitals of America last year. Nine-tenths of the sickness can be traced to constipation! If every man, woman and child would eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, each day, nine-tenths of all sickness would be eliminated!

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is not a "remedy." It is nature's health food. Bran acts as a sweeper, at the same time cleansing and purifying without irritation or discomfort! Results are astounding!

Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it corrects constipation as a food—not as a "remedy"! Your physician will tell you that the desirable way to relieve constipation is through food. We guarantee Kellogg's Bran will relieve constipation permanently if at least two tablespoons are eaten regularly. Chronic cases should use as much more as necessary.

When Kellogg's Bran is eaten regularly it will also clear up a pimply complexion and sweeten the breath.

And, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is deliciously good! Kellogg's has an appetizing nut-like flavor, is crisp and adds zest to any food with which it is eaten. Or, it's just fine to eat as a cereal. Or sprinkle it over your favorite cereal!

Kellogg's Bran is used in muffins, raisin bread, macaroons, pancakes and in a hundred other palate-tickling ways—and all the time building health!

Start the children eating Kellogg's Bran. It will actually increase their growth. Get it at your grocer's. It's wrapped "WAX-TITE."

the huge flaring brims which have been so popular during the Summer will be replaced by draped toques and turbans, distinctly Oriental in their design. The type of hats which are being made by all the modistes is the draped turban, with a single feather on one side, a model which Suzanne Talbot featured at the races. It has been seen and is attractive in ruby velvet embroidered in a Persian design and draped high in front, showing the Oriental influence which Talbot has been featuring in her new Summer hats, as well as those for Autumn.

One of the smartest hats worn at the races in June was a Talbot model in this same Persian embroidery on white taffeta, and it was also done in Tuscan braid on heavy white linen. Another smart hat for Autumn is a Lewis model, which likewise shows the Oriental influence both in shape and trimming. This type of hat has been extensively sold to the American buyers, who are here in great numbers, and proves further that the Persian and Venetian embroideries are to have tremendous vogue.

ROYAL VICTORIA

George Melford needed the Sahara desert for scenes in his latest Paramount production of "The Sheik," which will be the feature at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day, but the Sahara being several thousand miles away, the producer decided to fix a desert nearer home.

The location director got busy and found a site some sixty miles from Hollywood, which looked very much like the Sahara except that it had no oasis.

Something like a hundred palm trees were constructed—so perfectly that they could hardly be distinguished from the real article. These were set up in natural fashion on the desert site and when completed the society and forget to acquaint them with the dangers that lie within. For instance, the daughter comes from school; her education is completed. She has a thorough knowledge of English; she speaks French and Italian; there is hardly an operatic air that she wouldn't recognize. Her manner is one of distinct refinement, she is finished! Preparations are made for her debut—another potent essentially. Hundreds of dollars are lavished upon her "coming-out" party. She is finally presented, this finished product, and the rest of it is left to fate! Nothing is told her of the vital acts of life, and away she sails over rough seas, tossing high on the dangerous waves of life. Of course, this is merely one example."

CAPITOL

Hardly anyone longer questions the influence of mind over matter. Just how far this influence goes and whether it amounts to supremacy, was a question for argument during the making of "Too Much Wife," the Realett feature starring Wanda Hawley, now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

It came about in this wise. During the making of scenes on the small launch which is shown, it was necessary to go out where the waves were rather high. Mr. Heffron, the director, feared that seasickness might interfere with their work, so, in the most kindly fashion he suggested to his company and staff that they exercise their wills and refuse to think of seasickness or the motion of the little craft.

Concentration on their work, and an actual refusal to be sick, would, he assured them, avert any danger of their succumbing to the dreaded mal-de-mer.

They began photographing. Miss Hawley and T. Roy Barnes took their places, not feeling their best, but determined to demonstrate their will-power. Suddenly they heard wailing steps approaching the rail, followed by sounds all too familiar to coastwise excursionists. Mr. Heffron was leaning over the side, demonstrating—not his will, but his capacity for being abjectly sick. He had been holding the thought so hard that he couldn't hold anything else."

Mr. Heffron, who is Miss Hawley's father, has in her support, besides Mr. Barnes, Leigh Wyant, Arthur Hoyt, Lillian Langdon, Bertie Johns, Willard Louis and John Fox.

The story was written by Loren Moon, and the scenario by Percy Heath. The production was directed by Thomas N. Heaton and supervised by Elmer Harris. William E. Collins was the cinematographer.

Admirers of May McAvoy, the Paramount star, will be interested to hear that when next they see her it will not only with bobbed hair but with blonde bobbed hair!

"The Top of New York," her latest starring vehicle, adapted from Sofya Levien's story, "Baby Doll," which appeared in Metropolitan Magazine, presents the war in the role of a young tenement girl who clerks in the toy section of a huge New York department store.

Attract customers during the Christmas rush the proprietors have the tiny sales woman appropriately costumed to appear as an animated doll. Her hair is styled to attract and gain sales for the doll section.

The late William D. Taylor, who directed the picture, felt that a blonde type was needed for the character, and he decided that Miss McAvoy's personality was exactly suitable for the part. And Miss McAvoy's hair is dark brown. Que faire, as they say in France. The hair was dyed blonde.

A beautiful blonde, well bobbed and easily solved the difficulty, and the radiant little blonde star will greet her friends when "The Top of New York" is shown here all week at the Dominion Theatre. A fine cast supports Miss McAvoy and a thrilling picture is promised.

THE PLAYHOUSE

For four nights and matinee the Playhouse show No. 1 will be repeated, commencing to-night. "The Toreador" in which the favorite artist, Eva Hart, M. B. Erd and Mrs. Glen Rochford, together with Messrs. L. Bullock-Webster, Reg. Hines and Ernie Petch are appearing, has secured such a complete success that it will be given this additional run. A high class musical entertainment with plenty of variety is the policy of the Playhouse company, and the hundreds of pleased patrons of the past week is evidence that this policy is the right one and that it has so far been fulfilled. The box office is now open, and a large number of reservations have already been made.

IF WINTER COMES

Nona broke in. "I suppose we're going to start some time?"

"Will you come and sit here?" Fuggo inquired, but without making any movement.

"No, I'll sit behind."

She got in. "Good-by, Marko." Her voice sounded tired. She gave Sabre her hand. "Jolly, the books," she said. "And our talk."

"Now throw yourself in front, any boy who wants to be killed." Lord Tybar called to the "ladies." "No crosses to-day?" He let in the clutch. "Good-by, Sabre. Good-by, good-by." He waved his hand airily. The big car slid importantly up the street.

Sabre watched them pass out of sight. As the car turned out of The Precincts into High Street—a narrow corner—Lord Tybar, alone of the three, one hand on the steering wheel, half turned in his seat and twirled the silver-grey bowler in gay farewell. Or mockery?

Through the day Sabre's thoughts, as a man sorting through many documents and coming upon and retaining one, fixed down towards a picture of himself alone with Nona, alone with her watching her beautiful face—and saying to her: "Look here, there were three things you said, three expressions you used. Explain them, Nona."

Fined down towards this picture, sifting the documents.

He thought, "Tybar—Tybar—They're just alike in their way of saying things. Nona and Tybar, that bantering way they talk when they're together—when they're together. Tybar does, whoever he's with. Not Nona. Not with me. But with Tybar. She plays up to him when everything's going well. And she plays up to her. Everybody says how amusing they are. They're perfectly suited. They look so dashed handsome, the pair of them. And always at me bantering talk. Nona chose deliberately between Tybar and me. I know she did. She loved me, till he came along. It's old. Ten years old. I can look at it. She chose deliberately. I can see her choosing: Tybar or Marko?—oh, dash it, Tybar. And she chose right. She's just his mate. He's just her mate. They're a pair. That bantering, airy way of theirs together. That's just characteristic of the oneness of their characters. I couldn't put up that bantering sort of stuff. I never could. I'm a jolly sight too serious. And Nona knew it. She used to laugh at me about it. She still does. You puzzle, don't you, Marko?" she said this very morning.

He thought, "No, that wasn't laughing at me. Not that. No, it wasn't. Not that—nor any of it. What did she mean when she said 'There?' like that when she gave me her hand when she first came in? And toof off her glove first. What did she mean when she said she had to come? Well, I had to come," she said—What did she mean when she said she was flotsam—Flotsam! Why? Made me angry in my voice when I asked her. I said, 'How can you be flotsam?' And how the devil can she?—Nona, with Tybar, flotsam? But she said it. I said, 'How can you be flotsam? The life you've taken?' I didn't mean to say 'taken' like that. I meant to have said the life you've got, you live.' But I meant taken, chosen. She did take it, deliberately. She chose between us. I might almost have heard her choose 'Marko or Tybar? Oh, dash it—Tybar.' I never reproached her, not by a look. I saw her point of view. My infernal falling, even then. Not by a look I ever reproached her. I thought I'd forgotten it, absolutely. But I haven't. It came out in that mo-

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

MR. DOG GETS REVENGE.

No one could really blame Mr. Dog for the way he felt, because Billy Goat did a very rude thing. In the first place, it was very upsetting to the dignity of Mr. Dog, and in other ways.

Billy Goat had just come to the farm to live and Mr. Dog, not knowing anything about goat manners, though he would be friendly with the newcomer.

So one day he walked into the barn where Billy Goat happened to be just at that moment and went up to him with a sheepish bark of welcome.

But Billy Goat never took any chances and the bark did not mean anything to him but a bark, and he didn't like it. So, just as Mr. Dog came up to him, Billy lowered his head and Mr. Dog, thinking Billy was playful, began to dance and bark louder.

Billy Goat danced, too, and he Billy Goat's lowered head until he got Mr. Dog just where he wanted him and then he butted him heels over head and out of the barn doorway tumbled Mr. Dog, rolling over on his back in the midst of cackling hens and quacking ducks.

And this was the reason that Mr. Dog watched his chance to get even with Billy Goat. And no one could blame him, I am sure you will agree.

It was the Fourth of July and Mr. Dog, having lived at the farm for several years, knew just what was to happen when he saw the farmer's boy place a bunch of firecrackers in an old tomato can behind the barn.

Mr. Dog had noticed that Billy Goat seemed to like tin cans and he decided that this was the time for him to get revenge for the rude manner in which Billy Goat had received his friendly greetings when he first came to the farm.

"I know where there is a fine tin can," said Mr. Dog to Billy Goat. "But you will have to hurry because I saw the farmer's boy picking up all the cans behind the barn this morning."

Billy Goat trotted right around the barn after Mr. Dog. "There it is," said Mr. Dog, showing Billy the can,

But he was careful to keep away from it, for Mr. Dog knew that it was about time for the slow match which was inside the can with the crackers to set them off and he wished to be at a safe distance when the firing took place.

Billy Goat made a dash for the can. His nose was right on it when off went the firecrackers bang! bang! bang!

Billy Goat jumped. Then he shook his head. He capered about on his four legs like a prancing horse, while the hens and ducks who had run to a place of safety when the firing began pecked out at him in wonder and surprise.

"He's crazy," chuckled old White Hen.

"He's doing a fancy dance," quacked old Mrs. Duck.

Mr. Dog, who had rolled over and over, laughing at the funny sight, got up and shook himself. "He is scared nearly out of his goat senses," he said. "That is what is the matter with Billy Goat."

"That was a pretty peppery tin can," wasn't it, Billy?" called Mr. Dog, as he trotted off to his house. But Billy Goat was coming on the rug

RATEPAYERS GET TAX BILLS STARTING TO-DAY
 Many Home Owners Are Due for Surprise Because of Improvement Tax
 City Hopes for Better Collections This Fall; Levy Comparatively Low
 First tax bills for the current year's general taxes were sent out to ratepayers from the City Treasury Department to-day. The bills will be issued from now on at the rate of 500 a day, and it will require two weeks to get all the bills out. City Treasurer E. C. Smith said this morning.
 Ratepayers who have not been paying much attention to City affairs this year will get a serious jolt when they look at their tax bills this year. Treasury officials warned to-day, that if owners of houses or other improved property will have to pay substantially increased rates on account of the new improvement tax. It was explained, these increases will not be fully realized until owners have seen what they owe in black and white.
Tax Collections.
 In framing their annual budget the civic authorities estimated that seventy-five per cent. of the general taxes would be collected this year. As a matter of fact, however, they hope that a much larger proportion than this actually will be secured. They feel that they have squeezed all the "water" out of the assessment roll now. That is, they think that most people who do not intend to hold their property already have allowed it to lapse into the hands of the corporation. Besides, the increase in taxation this year, falls principally upon the owner of improved property, and he is not likely to allow his land to go without a big struggle, it is pointed out.
 Whether there will be another shortage in current city financing at the end of this year will depend to a great extent upon the tax collections this Fall. If these are not so satisfactory as is expected a shortage is bound to occur as it has done for years past. It was explained by finance officials.
 In spite of the imposition of the improvement tax this year, taxation in Victoria is light compared with that of other western Canadian cities, members of the City Council declare. They have gathered figures to show that Victoria's taxes are relatively light.

MAN TOSSED FROM BEAM TO BEAM IN FALL TO GROUND
Bridge Carpenter Has Narrow Escape; Three Ribs Fractured in 25-foot Fall
 Alfred Dove, a carpenter, residing at 3323 Vine Street, sustained three broken ribs when he fell from a 25-foot staging at the Johnson Street bridge yesterday afternoon. The injured man was taken home by Cameron & Calwell's ambulance, and this morning expected to be committed to hospital for further medical attention. Dr. Macpherson is in charge of the case.
 Dove was working with companions on some new staging that was being erected by the Vancouver Island Electric Power Co. at the present bascule bridge when he missed his footing and fell. The staging at this point is built in eight foot sections, to which fact the carpenter probably owes his life, falling eight feet to the first cross beam. Dove glanced off and continued his fall, to be arrested momentarily by a second cross beam. Shaking and already bruised, Dove swung free from the second beam and fell the remainder of the way to the ground. Three ribs and a multitude of bruises completed his injuries sustained in the broken descent. This forms the third accident during the present contract.

LOCAL RADIO CLUB COMMENTS ON PLAN FOR STATION
 Reasons for Modern High Power Radio Broadcasting Station
 Wholehearted endorsement is being accorded by the Vancouver Island Radio Club to the projected installation of a modern high power radio broadcasting station on this coast, and the members of the club feel that the citizens of Victoria should be acquainted with the details of the plan and what it would mean to this city to have the station here, according to a statement to The Times made by A. L. Poudrier, the secretary of the club.
 The proposed installation is of the vacuum tube system, giving a power of two kilowatts, with a range of from a thousand miles in the Summer to two thousand miles in the Winter. The initial cost of a station of this type is approximately $10,000, while the upkeep amounts to about $5,000 yearly, most of which is expended in the replacing of tubes and payment of an operator. Similar stations have already been installed at Winnipeg and Regina and one is now in course of erection at Calgary, all of them being operated on the respective Provincial Governments. They represent the highest degree of engineering skill and there are very few stations on the continent which are their equal. Their high power and great transmitting range enables them to cover an enormous territory, while direct connection with the telephone exchange puts the service at the disposal of statesmen, government officials, clergymen and educationists alike, all of whom can speak from their own homes to the constantly increasing numbers of radio listeners.
 Value of System
 "There are perhaps few in this Province who know the point of perfection which has been reached in the development of radiotelephony nor who realize the extent of the service which it is capable of rendering, but while other parts of the Dominion are awaking to its possibilities, this Province should not lag behind," says Mr. Poudrier. "The very nature of this country, with its isolated farms and out-of-the-way settlements, peculiarly adapt it to radio broadcasting, for radio eliminates the bars of distance and enables the master minds to speak directly to an audience scattered for hundreds of miles, with the added advantage that the audience in the receptive mood that comes with an easy chair by the fireside in one's own home. In no other way is it possible to get such ideal contact with the people of the Province throughout the country, or for the more effective placing of any desired information.
 "Our neighbors are very much alive to the possibilities of radio, and for the past year have been systematically organizing a broadcasting service which is without parallel in any country in the world. To-day they have no less than seventy-six broadcasting stations in different parts of the country, operated not alone for their own enjoyment and education, but so that the people of other countries may learn about the United States and about American ideals. Canadian and American ideals are naturally very similar, but nevertheless this form of propaganda makes its way into Canadian homes from the Atlantic to the Pacific, our boys with their homemade radio receivers reaping the full benefit of it, and unless we follow a progressive course ourselves, we must be content to watch the increasing admiration of the younger element for things American and the consequent lessening of their regard for their own country."
 Value to Governments.
 Mr. Poudrier continued: "Through no other medium can the Government be brought closer to the people, for under present conditions the link between the mass of the population and its elected representatives is the newspaper, while with radio the people listen to the living voices of the men who govern their affairs, feeling all the emotions which cold print is powerless to arouse. The British Government at the present time is installing one of the most complete broadcasting stations in the world, primarily so that the people may be able to hear the speeches in the House of Commons. A few microphones placed in our own Legislative Chambers and connected through a telephone line to the broadcasting station would enable the people in all parts of the Province to follow the proceedings from day to day, and to form their own opinions.

 "The furnishing of market reports, crop and dairy information, and the hundred and one subjects about which pamphlets are usually issued, forms an instructive part of the programme of most of the big broadcasting stations in the States, and might well be applied to our own Province.
Means of Attracting Settlers and Tourists
 "As a means of attracting settlers and tourists the radiophone has no equal, for in the United States there are well over a million radiophone receivers in actual operation, and there is no industry on this continent which is so flourishing as that which supplies the demand for these instruments. Thousands of dollars are spent annually to bring settlers and tourists to British Columbia, especially to Vancouver Island, but money spent in the ordinary channels of advertising cannot return one-tenth the value of money expended on radio broadcasting. As an example of the distances covered by a broadcasting station it may be noted that the Regina station is being regularly heard at points as widely separated as New York, Victoria, San Francisco and Los Angeles," Mr. Poudrier said.
 The stores who have the best buying opportunities are telling about it in this newspaper. Read.

Dundee Develops Knock-Out Punch

Italian Fighter Dropped Danny Frush Last Night and Won Another of Those World's Titles Handed Out in New York; Johnny Has Only Landed Knockouts On Rare Occasions In His 12 Years In Ring.

New York, Aug. 16.—Johnny Dundee did two things last night in his bout with Danny Frush, of Cleveland, that he seldom does. He landed a knockout and he annexed a title, the former much more realistic than the crown bestowed upon him by the New York State Boxing Commission, "featherweight champion of the world in New York State." Before the evening ended some conservers of energy started a movement to shorten the designation to "featherweight champion of New York State."

That's what it amounts to anyway, since Johnny Kilbane, banking behind a shield of greenbacks in Cleveland, wears the genuine crown that outside of New York State he is acknowledged to be the original.

Never Held a Title. Despite his twelve years in the ring, meeting all covers, the best and worst in three divisions, featherweights, junior lightweights and being outpointed very few times and knocked out scarcely at all, Dundee has been unfortunate. He has not received a sure enough gold-titled nor has he been many a dream-lander until Tex Rickard created the junior lightweight division Dundee never held a title.

He put Frush to bed in a cool, methodical manner. Both began carefully, but after the first round Danny was indignant. He relied on a stiff left arm to keep Johnny at his distance and also to win. Dundee pawed around for a few rounds, hitting a stinger now and then and doing more damage than was then apparent.

New York, Aug. 16.—Johnny Dundee, of New York, knocked out Danny Frush in the ninth round of a fifteen-round bout last night at Ebbett's Field. Frush had taken a count of nine in the eighth round. The New York title went after a cautious first round. He jabbed away with a straight left to the head, taking in hard body blows and punching away before Frush could counter. In the early rounds the Cleveland landed severe lefts that jolted Dundee and several times Dundee hit back.

The way to a knockout was paved in the seventh when Dundee changed his style and kicked Frush into rushing into the ring. Dundee, with his advances with a straight left to the jaw, and an occasion right hook to the ribs and kidneys greatly weakened Frush.

In the eighth Dundee sent Frush to the canvas with a right to the stomach. The Clevelander calmly waited the count of ten, but with difficulty getting to his feet. The gong saved him.

K.O. Came in Ninth. Dundee came springing out like a tiger in the ninth, meeting Frush in the latter's corner. Frush attempted to clinch, but Dundee drew away and placed both hands on Frush's chest, adding a hard right to the head and then sunk a terrific left to the stomach. Frush sank to the floor, falling on his elbow. His eyes remained open but he was unable to rise.

Referee Patsy Haley and Dundee lifted the defeated boxer to his corner. By his victory Dundee became the possessor of his second vague title. It gave him the recognition of the New York State Boxing Commission as the featherweight champion of the world, though Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, remains the crowned bear-ard outside this state. Dundee also holds the "junior lightweight championship" a creation of Promoter Tex Rickard.

AMATEUR LEAGUE TO WIND UP TO-NIGHT

Elks Will Meet C.P.R. in Final Game of Season; Both Teams at Best

After two postponements the amateur baseball league will make a further attempt to wind up this season when the Elks and C. P. R. clubs meet at the Stadium this evening. The game is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock.

SISLER WIDENS GAP IN RACE WITH COBB

Chicago, Aug. 16.—George Sisler, the St. Louis batting star, widened the gap between himself and Ty Cobb, pilot of the Detroit Tigers yesterday by the Detroit honors of the American League. Sisler is now six points in front of his rival, his average being .414 compared to a mark of .409 for the Georgia peach. Their records follow:

Player	G.	AB.	H.	PER.
Sisler	162	419	173	.414
Cobb	89	236	158	.408

Sir Tom Beaten For First Time In Special Race At Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Aug. 16.—The California R. boat of the California Yacht Club, skippered by Mat Walsh, won a special 18-mile race off Los Angeles harbor yesterday with Sir Tom, of Seattle, Ted Geary, skipper, and the Lady Gay, of San Francisco, with Captain Madden at the helm. The California's time was 2:27.17, Lady Gay's, 3:31.42 and Sir Tom's 3:37.51.

The three boats will race again to-day and Thursday. This was said to be the first time the Sir Tom has ever been beaten without a handicap.

The California, by winning the race, also carried off the $1,000 trophy of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Phil Taylor Sets Course Record at Uplands of 67

Setting up new course records is getting to be a habit with Phil Taylor. Last week he shattered his own low mark at Oak Bay with a sixty-five and last night he went up to the Uplands links for the first time and shot a fairly easy sixty-seven. He required thirty-four for the first nine and thirty-three to come home. And it should be noted that on the short fifteenth he missed a fairly easy putt for a two. An unlucky "kick" at the entrance to the seventeenth green similarly converting what looked like an easy three into a difficult four.

But the whole round was steady golf, the low score being particularly noteworthy in that Taylor required the experience of at least four holes to "feel" the greens and adapt himself to the somewhat heavy approaches on the outward journey. It now remains for Phil to crack Willy Blaes' record for Colwood—a job that Willy swears he will do himself before long.

CANADIAN CRICKET TEAM WELL BEATEN

Royal Artillery Dismisses Tourists for 95; Made 202 for Seven Wickets

London, Aug. 16.—(Canadian Press Cable)—In the cricket match between the touring Canadian team and the Royal Artillery at Woolwich yesterday, the former team accomplished a fine performance by dismissing the Canadians for 95. The caddies stated they reached only three Canadians who reached double figures were: H. H. Humphreys, 39; C. Mustard, 14, and D. Saunders, 11.

Ror the Royal Artillery the army field international rugby player, H. Day, international footballer, J. M. G. York, and the centre-fielder both tried to field the ball, but collided, and the ball fell to the ground. By the time they had extricated themselves the Sons had romped away with three runs.

In the eighth inning a rather hot dispute arose between the official scorer and the umpire. The former claimed that the score was four all, but the fans argued that it was 5-4 in the Sons score. The game was halted and the scorer finally located the missing run, after which the game proceeded.

If the remaining games provide as much sport as the one last evening the Independent League will be assured of a great deal of support. The teams played excellent ball, and fought like tigers over the entire route.

Harry Savage, manager of the Standards, wishes to announce that his team is willing to play a return game with the Sons, seeing the score was so close, and in the interests of the benefit of the Merville sufferers of the Billy Muir fund.

Eight Clubs Enter For Cricket Title

Vancouver Will Send Over Two Teams For Cricket Tournament Next Week, While Cowichan Will Make Third Outsider; Victoria Will Furnish Five Teams; Splendid Matches Are Looked For; Wanderers Seek to Hold Honors

Eight teams will perform in the cricket tournament which will be held next week in this city. Three outside clubs will be here, while the remaining five will wear the flannels of local clubs. For the first time since the Pacific Coast cricket tournament started Vancouver will have two teams in the competition. The Oils has been appearing here for many years. The name of the second team is not known, but will probably be called "Vancouver."

Cowichan will be the third visitor. This club has been playing a lot of cricket this summer. Every week-end it entertains the team which holds the bye in the Victoria and District League and it has handed out some good spankings to the locals.

EASTERN MARKSMEN WINNING ALL MONEY

Victoria Shots Still Unheard of at Ottawa Rifle Shoot; Cadets Do Well

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—The Walker Match and the military matches, the Gzowski match, the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meeting yesterday, through the cadet match, by reason of the large attendance of young shots, caused a good deal of interest. During the latter part of the afternoon there was a tricky (initial wind from the left and this served to throw some of the younger shots off. The majority of the cadets, however, stood up well and in fact their shooting in the cadets' match when the winner, Cadet Corporal E. Thomas, of Hamilton, put up 77 points out of a possible 70, was well up to the general shooting of the seniors.

ESQUIMALT MERCHANTS

The free municipal picnic held under the auspices of the Esquimalt merchants promises to be a bigger success than that held last year according to indications. It is estimated that about 1,000 people went to the lagoon at noon to-day to attend the picnic.
A splendid programme of sports was prepared by the committee in charge, and it seemed that the whole of Esquimalt's population turned out for the affair. About fifty cats were used in transporting the picnickers to the scene of the outing.

BROUGHT CAUSE OF CROP FAILURES

Turnover Expected to Be Half Normal in Saanich Peninsula

Rain Comes Too Late to Save Field Crops

A further investigation of the conditions of field crops this year proved more depressing than at first. The rain, it was stated by W. D. Michell, of Keating, who is owner of a large farm, is doing a lot of good in some quarters, but in others it is doing an equal amount of damage.

The root vegetables can do with a lot of rain, he stated, and would greatly improve the yield, but rain will be detrimental to the grain crop, which is now ready for cutting. Early harvesters who have cut their wheat and grain have come under the burden of losing a great deal of their crop through the rain, while others who have not cut down their grain are only waiting for better weather conditions before they commence.

The rain is of little use now stated Mr. Michell. It should have come a month ago, and everything that would have benefited. Not only root vegetables and grain but also the fruit crops would have had a remarkable year had the rain come at that date.

Some of the root vegetables which are more sturdy than others have withstood the long drought and will give about a 75 per cent. normal crop, while others are far below that normal. But what was the first estimate was slightly overdone and it is reported that only between 50 and 75 per cent. will be the yield this year. Very little planting and growing of mangels have been done this year owing to the high price of labor and the small turnover this product gives. It appears only a few of the farmers in the Keating district grew mangels and only for their own use. To illustrate the failure of the hay crop this year Mr. Michell gave one instance where 150 tons of hay was gathered from one section last year, and this year the same ground has only yielded 75 tons. This is only 50 per cent. of the normal crop, and possibly only enough for home use. The grain has suffered more.

What there is of the mangel crop will probably be a 75 per cent. normal one as this root matures later in the season, and if the rain might help it along. The poor crop of grains that have been the result of half a year's hard work is extremely disappointing. The rain has damaged a considerable amount of cut grain, while the standing grain is waiting over for a suitable week to harvest it in.

The dry weather has not only affected the crop but also the dairy section of the farm. For weeks past the cattle have been unable to get pasture and milk has been below cost. But with the recent rain it is thought that suitable pasture may be obtained.

It was estimated in rough figures yesterday that the turnover of the district will be cut in half. Where the large farmers have been making an average return of about $10,000 they will only be able, it is thought, to get about $5,000 from their crops and general farming.

G.W.V.A. HOLDS A BUSY SESSION
Prepares for Two Big American Excursions to City

At the meeting of the Great War Veterans Association, in the club headquarters, Ross Street, last evening at which there was a large attendance, Secretary A. H. C. Jones gave a report regarding the two big excursions to be made to Victoria, one from Seattle on September 9, when the Canadian Veterans residing in Seattle, accompanied by many of their relatives, and war comrades, will visit the city, and the other to be held from Port Angeles. The plan is to have the C. P. R. steamer leave Seattle on the morning of September 9 at 2 o'clock in the morning, standard time, arriving here at 2 o'clock, Victoria time. There will probably be a football game in the afternoon, and a dance will be arranged for the evening. The G. W. V. A. ladies will see that the lady visitors are given a warm reception.

Sunday morning there will be an impressive ceremony at Ross Bay cemetery, when a parade will be held from the G. W. V. A. headquarters to the Imperial Mausoleum, where the remains of Canon Ronald Hilton, rector of All Saint's Church, Seattle, will act as chaplain.

The association accepted the invitation of the Imperial Daughters of the Empire, to attend an unveiling ceremony at Ross Bay August 22 at 11 o'clock in the morning, when His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada will unveil the memorial tablet and cross of sacrifice.

Graves in Flanders.
The following resolution from the Nanaimo branch was endorsed:
"That we, the Nanaimo branch of the G. W. V. A. of Canada, do hereby petition the Government to make and set in motion the necessary legislation to enable those who so desire the right to see their dependents' graves in Flanders, as undoubtedly they gave their lives for their country. Provision should be made for the next-of-kin to see those graves, and that this can be made possible by at least a reduced fare, and in some cases a free pass, for it is only human that a grateful country should create an opportunity for them to be able to do so. This resolution to be presented at the discretion of the Dominion Executive."
For Mr. Fund.
The association will hold a tag day on September 9, which is the date of the excursion from Seattle, and a soccer game will be played for the purpose of raising funds to help William Muir, the young diver who was seriously injured in making the 100-foot dive at the Gorge recently. Comrades Stone, King, Boyd, Neary and Grimmond were named as an entertainment committee to arrange the soccer game and other features of entertainment.

MERVILLE GROCERY STORE, WHERE FIRE SWERVED

An optimistic view of the situation is brought to Victoria from Merville by Captain K. G. Halley, who is in charge of the Soldier Settlement there, and was himself a sufferer by the fire. The Captain, who is at the Strathcona Hotel, stated to The Times last evening that rebuilding had started, and that the settlement does not expect to lose more than three or four of those veterans who were located there before the fires early in July swept down on Merville.

Seeding is in hand, there being some delay owing to the large quantity of seed required for such an area, and it will be completed in charge of S. H. Hopkins, district representative of the Department of Agriculture. While the seed will be of different varieties owing to the varied character of the 2,000 acres to be planted the bulk will be chiefly white Dutch clover. The settlement officials would very much like to see a similar course taken in the burned over lands of the Comox Logging Co. and the International Timber Company, adjoining the settlement, but it is thought to be too much to hope for. Capt. Halley says that the fire has cleared away undergrowth which was almost impenetrable, particularly willow and other scrub, and now the settlers have a chance to get in and improve their properties. There is plenty of courage and determination among the sufferers who have now returned from Courtenay Relief camp, and they are pluckily determining to re-establish themselves under the new conditions.

The pictures shown above were brought down by J. R. Terry, Chief Poultry Inspector, on his recent visit to the settlement.

Good Roads' Association in petitioning the Right Honorable Mackenzie King and his Government for the release to Alberta and British Columbia of the 210 miles of railway grade Junction to be used as a motor highway by the northern route between Edmonton and Vancouver. The Edmonton association is anxious, it states, to get the highway completed this Fall, but if this is to be done the grade must be released at once.

The association was sincerely thanked by the relatives of the late William Gunter for their sympathy, and the making of the arrangements for the funeral.

The election of officers will be held at the club headquarters at a special general meeting next Tuesday. The G. W. V. A. membership still continues to increase steadily, it was reported.

TICKETS SELLING RAPIDLY FOR BIG LIBERAL OUTING
Tickets for the monster Liberal picnic to Deep Bay on Saturday are selling rapidly, and indications are that the affair will be a great success in every way. The first special B. C. Electric train will leave the Discovery Street depot at 10:20 o'clock Saturday morning. Three others will leave the same depot at 1:30, 2:30 and 7:30 o'clock. The last train leaving the Bay, which will connect with city lines, will be that which leaves at 10:15 o'clock. Five trains will bring the picnickers back to the city.

The tickets are on sale at Ivel's Drug Store, Douglas Street; Levy's Cigar Store, Yates Street; Conroy's, Campbell Building, and they may also be obtained from any of the officers of the association. A splendid programme of sports has been arranged. The public is invited to attend.

Character of Meeting.
The association is made up of passenger representatives of railway and steamship lines on the North American continent, and has as honorary members many passenger traffic managers, and general passenger agents.

At the convention held at Salt Lake City in September, 1921, an invitation was extended by the Canadian Pacific Railway for the association to hold their 1922 convention along the lines of the Canadian Pacific. This invitation was enthusiastically and unanimously accepted, and from the interest being shown by the members there is no doubt of a record breaking attendance this year.

The Canadian Pacific and its ally the Soo Line, are providing special trains from Montreal on September 9, and from Chicago on the same date, via St. Paul and Winnipeg. Both trains will meet at Winnipeg on September 11, at which time it is expected that a general welcome to Canada will be extended by some prominent Canadian.

From Winnipeg the two trains will proceed west giving the members an opportunity of seeing the prairie section and a stop of at least half a day at Calgary, the first business session of the convention being held at the Hotel Falster at that point on September 12.

The night of September 13 will be spent at Banff, and the 14 and 15 at Lake Louise.
Daylight trip through the mountains will be the feature of September 16, the train being parked overnight at Revelstoke and the following day, 17, proceeding to Vancouver.
