General Information

The Appalachian Training School was established by the North Carolina Legislature during the session of 1903.

A bill authorizing the school was introduced in the lower house by Hon. W. C. Newland, of Caldwell county. Little opposition developed against the measure until it reached the Senate Committee on Education and was reported unfavorably by a majority vote. Senator R. B. White, of Franklin county, made a minority report. By the help of Senators Hoey, of Cleveland county, and Justice, of McDowell county, Senator White secured its passage in the Senate.

The act provided that the two trustees from each of the following counties: Alleghany, Ashe, Wilkes, Watauga, Caldwell, Mitchell, Yancey, and the County Superintendents of said counties, should meet at Blowing Rock within the month of May and select a location and begin the school. The meeting was called and presided over by State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner. Boone was selected as the location and the free use of Watauga Academy secured until a building could be erected.

Location

Boone is in Watauga county, in the northwestern part of North Carolina. There are mountains in every direction—Blue Ridge on east, Grandfather on South, Stone Mountain on west and Elk Knob on the north. The town is 3,333 feet above tide water. This elevation insures an excellent summer climate. Many enjoy the climate in winter better than the warmer and rainy weather of lower sections. There are few cases of serious sickness. About 300 quiet, industrious people live here. They welcome students into their homes and appreciate their presence into their social circles. Merchandise is sold at reasonable prices. Mails reach here from all the adjoining counties. A good telephone system connects us with all the important business towns and many country places. Good country roads lead to the railway stations. We are 33 miles from Lenoir, 40 miles from Wilkesboro, 23 miles from Elk Park, and 25 miles from Mt. City, Tenn.

Grounds

The campus contains seven acres of land, covered for the most part with young white pines. Little has been done to beautify the grounds. The property joins the town boundary and lies between Boone and Blowing Rock turnpikes and Hardin street on the northern side of the land.

Buildings

Watauga Academy is a two story frame building, containing three recitation rooms, two halls, museum and apparatus room on first floor, and auditorium, library and printing office on second floor. The brick building nearing completion is 96x64ft., two stories. The first story contains four recitation rooms, office and library. The second floor contains large auditoriums, music room, and art gallery. A girls' dormitory, capable of accommodating 100 girls, two to a room, is under construction. This is under the supervision of the faculty, some members of which will live in the building, and will furnish board at a nominal price.

The brick structure was the first building upon which the State spent money. A donation of $1,500 was made when a like amount was given by citizens. About fifteen thousand dollars have been spent on the property, the people paying $8,500 and the State $5,500. One thousand dollars was appropriated by the Legislature of 1905 for finishing this building.

Watauga Academy was purchased for $3000.00 in the spring of 1905. This amount is counted as a donation and when another $1000.00 is raised the State adds $4000 to the building fund. As before stated $1000 is to be spent on the brick building and $3000 on the girl's dormitory. The Legislature of 1907 appropriated $5000.00 annually for two years to complete the girls' dormitory, besides a boys' dormitory, and to buy a farm.

Equipment.

The recitation rooms are furnished with comfortable desks, globes and charts. A small collection of rocks, minerals and Indian relics help to illustrate the studies in the sciences. A compound microscope and a small amount of minerals of different kinds aid in studying physiology and physics.

Library.

Several friends have donated books to the library. The Church Periodical Club has given a number of boxes of books and magazines. There are about three thousand volumes accessible to students. Some of the leading magazines and papers are received. The library is opened one hour each school day. Students can borrow books under certain rules.

Reading Room.

A reading room has been opened in which students can find the local papers, a few State and National papers and a number of magazines.

Games.

The students have an excellent ball ground on which are played different games. These grounds are away from the school and not used during study hours.

Course of Study.

The work has been planned for a four years' course.

First Year—Fall Term Ad. Arith. p 266-341, Eng. Grammar part 1, U.S. History to Rev., Geo. to S.A., N.C. His., Civil Gov., Rip Van Winkle.

Spring term—Ad. Arith. complete, Eng. Gram. Part 2, U. S. Hist. completed, Man. Geo. completed, N. C. Hist., completed, Agriculture, Twice Told Tales.

Summer Term—Same work as given first grade teachers.

Second Year—Fall Term: El. Alg. p 98, Les. in Eng. p 66-158, Biographies, Physical Geog., Easy Latin, Last of the Mohicans.

Spring Term—El. Alg. p 161, Les. in Eng. p 158-279, Eng. Hist., Real Things, Easy Latin, Sketch Book.

Summer Term: ———

Third Year—Fall Term: Com. Alg. p 68-151, Les. in Eng. p 279-316, Am. Hist., Ad. Phys, Jun. Latin, Ivanhoe.

Spring Term—Com. Alg. p 151-242, Les. in Eng. p 316-334, Mod. Hist., Jun. Latin, Shakespeare.

Summer Term—Algebra (completed), Modern Europe, School Management, Jun. Latin, Tennyson.

Fourth Year—Fall Term: Geom. (Books 1, 2, 3), Burke and Milton, Physics, Cicero.

Spring Term—Geom. (Books 4, 5) Shakespeare and McCaulay, Physics, Vergil.

Summer Term—Plane Trigonometry, Economics, History of Education, Vergil.

Note—One year in French or German may be substituted for the third year in Latin.

During the fourth year students are required to read out of class "College Requirements in English."

Music.

A competent teacher gives instructions on piano, organ and guitar. The class has numbered about twenty-five during the whole year. Two rooms are fitted up for teaching and practice.

Book Keeping

A short course in book keeping will be offered during the Fall and Spring terms. Students completing this course will be capable of transacting business in any ordinary establishment.

Certificates.

A certificate of graduation will be given to each one who completes satisfactorily the four years' course. Certificates in music and book keeping will also be given.

Text Books.

An effort is being made to use the latest and best text books. All books for the first year are the books adopted by the State. The higher books are kept by the school and sold at listed prices.

Tuition.

First year, $20 for three months' term.
Second year $25	“	“
Third year $25	“	“
Fourth year $25	“	“
Music $20.	“	“

Book keeping $5 for the course.

Reductions are made where the student fails to attend the three terms. A fee of fifty cents is charged each student for the fall term and the spring term and a fee of one dollar for the summer term.

A Regulation.

Young women and young men are not expected to board at the same places or to associate together on any occasion. There may be a few times when this regulation is suspended. At these times the suspension is announced at chapel.

Government.

Students who enter the school are supposed to be able to govern themselves and act with propriety. Recognizing this fact there are but few rules and these are easily obeyed. When necessary the faculty will reprimand or punish students. Seldom has it been necessary to use harsh means.

Examinations.

At the close of each term of school examinations are given in all the branches taught during that term. The grading is done by estimating the class work, the deportment and the examination. A 1 or 2 passes the student on that subject, a 3 means that the work is not satisfactory and must be studied again.

Records.

A personal record of each student is kept in the office for future reference. This will include the subjects passes and the deportment.

Religious Influences.

There is held on Sunday afternoons in the chapel a meeting of teachers, students and friends for the study of some religious subject. The work for the past year has been along the line of the teachings of the different religions of the world. These meetings have been very instructive. A well conducted prayermeeting is held each week in the girls' dormitory. The influence of these meetings is very beneficial. The pastors of the Methodist and Baptist churches have conducted the morning exercises and usually made short talks. Pastor Brendell, of the Methodist church, has given many lectures along the line of Christian Evidences, while Pastor Davis, of the Baptist church, has spoken on the influences for good in the Christian religion. Many visiting teachers and laymen have spoken encouraging words to the school.

Class Organization.

The senior class perfected an organization early in the season. Caps for the young women were selected and worn during the year. Other customary regulations were adopted.

Uniform in Dress.

For young men there is no regulation; for young women there is no suggestion as to dress except during commencement.

The Faculty Meetings

The faculty meets weekly or oftener to consider matters pertaining to the welfare of the school.

Literary Societies

There are three well organized literary societies, the Watauga and the Appalachian for young men, and the Euterpean, for young women. Each society has a session on Thursday after school each week. Much good has come from these societies. They are under the watchful care of the faculty. Each society gives a public entertainment during each term.

Visiting.

No student is expected to leave the neighborhood without permission. Young women must show written permission from their parents before they will be allowed to spend the night from their regular boarding places.

Board

The new home for women has been opened since Jan. 1, 1906. Board is furnished at $6 per school month. Each one must bring a pillow, a sheet, a blanket and a quilt. Everything else is furnished except laundry and oil. Girls can do their own laundry work; oil is furnished in the building at the customary price. Those not desiring to do their own work can have it done at very reasonable prices. Under no circumstances can board be given on time. Each one must pay in advance. In private families board can be had at $7.50 and $8.00 per month. Young men are boarded at the two boarding houses under the control of the school at $7.50 a month. Board in private families can be had at $7.50 to $8.00 per month. Many rent rooms and board themselves. The accommodations are ample in each way.

Public School Teachers.

Public school teachers and those preparing to teach are given free tuition in the first and second years' courses. Each one must sign the following pledge and present a certificate from their county superintendent or their last teacher as to their fitness for teaching.

Pledge.

I,, am .. years old. My object in obtaining free tuition in the Appalachian Training School, Boone, N. C., is to qualify myself for teaching; and I hereby promise to teach after I leave it, at least two years in the public schools of North Carolina, if I have opportunity. I further promise to attend regularly and faithfully upon the exercises required and to conform cheerfully to the rules that may be prescribed. Should I for any reason fail to teach, as agreed, I promise to refund to the school the amount of tuition which I have received.

Applicant must be 16 years of age, of irreproachable moral character and willing to sign the above pledge.

Satisfactory arrangements can generally be made to furnish work to each public school teacher during the third and fourth years to pay tuition bills. Tuition will be charged each teacher and upon presentation of a certificate from the county superintendent that the above agreement has been complied with, the bill is cancelled. This must be done within three years after leaving school.

Financial Agent.

Mr. B. B. Dougherty has acted as financial agent since the organization of the institution. During this time he has collected and turned into the treasury about $6,000.00. Every cent that has been paid him has gone without commission into the treasury. The names of all who gave anything are enrolled and will be placed in the library. The largest amounts given to the institution were by Mr. Moses H. Cone, $500; Hon. R. Z. Linney, $500; First National Bank of Hickory, $100; Mr. W. C. Coffey, $100. More than 1000 people have given smaller amounts.

Announcement.

The fifth annual session of the Appalachian Training School will begin September 4, 1907. A full faculty will be chosen and a fuller notice given hereafter. Your sons and daughters are well cared for here. You who are working for yourselves and desire to attend a school will find this place suitable to your needs.

A scholarship to the University of N. C., and one to Trinity College is offered each year to some worthy student.

At the close of the spring term the exercises consisted in a debate, some recitations and declamations and a pay concert. Hon. W. C. Newland, Lenoir, N. C., made the literary address.

The program for the close of the summer term is appended. Gov. Glenn sent the following telegram explaining his inability to be present:

Raleigh, N. C., July 24, 1907.

"Prof. B. B. Dougherty:— Important State matters keep me here and forbid my coming to Watauga. Very sorry but can't be avoided. Explain. R. B. GLENN."

The following received certificates at the close of the summer term, 1907:

David Lewis Bingham, Belva Annie Calloway, Margaret Rebecca Combs, Bertha Esther Day, Minnie Ida Day, Jacob Dillinger, Bina Fay Garvey, Lillie Valdeen Greer, Hattie Steel Greer, Daisy Emma Gragg, George Preston Hagaman, Ollie Serepta Jones, Lillie Amanda Reese, Margaret Anna Sherrill, Annie Lou Stanbury, Bertha Alice Stanbury, Pearl Cecile Woodruff, Ruby Ruth Woodruff,

General Information.

The Appalachian Training School was established by the North Carolina Legislature during the session of 1903.

A bill authorizing the school was introduced in the lower house by Hon. W. C. Newland, of Caldwell county. Little opposition developed against the measure until it reached the Senate Committee on Education and was reported unfavorably by a majority vote. Senator R. B. White, of Franklin county, made a minority report. By the help of Senators Hoey, of Cleveland county, and Justice, of McDowell county, Senator White secured its passage in the Senate.

The act provided that the trustees from Alleghany, Ashe, Wilkes, Watauga, Caldwell, Mitchell, Yancey and the County Superintendents of said counties, should meet at Blowing Rock within the month of May and select a location and begin the school. The meeting was called and presided over by State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner. Boone was selected as the location and the free use of Watauga Academy secured until a building could be erected.

Location.

Boone is in Watauga county, in the northwestern part of North Carolina. There are mountains in every direction—Blue Ridge on east, Grandfather on south, Stone Mountain on west and Elk Knob on the north. The town is 3,333 feet above tide water. This elevation insures an excellent summer climate. Many enjoy the climate in winter better than the warmer and rainy weather of lower sections. There are few cases of serious sickness. About 400 quiet, industrious people live here. They welcome students into their homes and appreciate their presence in their social circles. Merchandise is sold at reasonable prices. Mails reach here from all the adjoining counties. A good telephone system connects us with all the important business towns and many country places. Good country roads lead to the railway stations. We are 33 miles from Lenoir, 40 miles from Wilkesboro, 23 miles from Elk Park, and 25 miles from Mountain City, Tenn.

Grounds.

The campus contains seven acres of land, covered for the most part with young white pines. Little has been done to beautify the grounds. The property joins the town boundary and lies between Boone and Blowing Rock turnpike and Hardin street.

Lands.

The school campus contains seven acres. The school owns six acres on the south side of the Boone and Blowing Rock turnpike adjoining the campus. The Newland Hall is built on a six-acre lot; the McNeil Cottage lot contains three acres. The Coffey farm adjoining the Newland Hall lot contains nearly two hundred acres of pasture, forest, and orchard lands. The Edminsten farm on New River, two miles east, has sixty acres of meadow land and one hundred and forty acres of timber land. These farms aid much towards keeping down expenses of board.

Buildings.

Watauga Academy was built in 1899 by the people of Watauga county and generous friends elsewhere. On the first floor are three recitation rooms. On the second floor, a printing office, library room, two recitation rooms, and a teachers' room. The building is of wood.

The Main Building is a two-story brick structure 96 feet long and 64 feet wide. There are three recitation rooms, an office, and a museum on the first floor. On the second floor, two music rooms and an auditorium.

The Lovill Home is a frame structure used for a woman's boarding house. There are accommodations for eighty-five women. There are two society halls, two sitting rooms, and two study rooms in the building.

Newland Hall accommodates forty young men. There are sitting rooms and a study room in the building.

The McNeil Cottage has rooms for about ten girls who board themselves.

Science Hall, containing a laboratory, lecture room, and four recitation rooms on first floor, and an Alumni Hall and four recitation rooms on second floor, will be ready for occupancy during the next term of school. This is a modern brick structure and will have closets and bath rooms and will be heated by jacket stoves. In addition to these buildings the school has control over two boarding houses and four cottages.

Equipment.

The recitation rooms are furnished with comfortable desks and seats. There are maps, globes and charts where needed. A small collection of rocks, minerals, Indian relics, shells, marine animals, etc., is being made. A compound microscope with four dozen sections of the human body help in the study of physiology. The physical apparatus consists of thermometers, barometers, a hygrometer, an air pump, electric motors, magnets, electro-magnets, and various other things.

Library.

Several friends have donated books to the library. The Church Periodical Club has given a number of boxes of books and magazines and a small number have been purchased. There are about three thousand volumes accessible to students. Thirty of the leading magazines and papers are received. The library is opened one hour each school day. Students can borrow books under certain rules.

Games.

For young men there is an excellent ball ground. No games are allowed during the regular school hours. The baseball team cannot leave the neighborhood to play match games without permission from the faculty.

The young women will in the near future have grounds for croquet, tennis and other games.

Students are urged to be in the open air as much as possible. There are many interesting walks near the school. Young women do not leave the school grounds for walks without a teacher.

A Regulation.

Young women and young men are not expected to board at the same places or to associate together on any occasion. There may be a few times when this regulation is suspended. At these times the suspension is announced at the chapel.

Government.

Students who enter the school are supposed to be able to govern themselves and act with propriety. Recognizing this fact there are but few rules and these are easily obeyed. When necessary the faculty will reprimand or punish students. Seldom has it been necessary to use harsh means.

Dress.

Young men may dress as they choose. Young women are requested to wear inexpensive dresses during the study periods and plain white dresses at commencement. The different classes are urged to organize and to adopt some simple head wear. Neatness in dress is encouraged.

Visiting.

No student is expected to leave the neighborhood without permission. Young women must show written permission from their parents before they will be allowed to spend the night from their regular boarding places.

Requests for permission to be absent must be granted by some member of the faculty before a student can leave the neighborhood.

Religious Influences.

The morning exercises are opened by reading the Scriptures and prayer. The young women have a prayer meeting on Wednesday evenings. The young men meet Sunday afternoons and hold religious exercises.

The pastors of the town churches often open the school and give talks on religious subjects. Students are requested to attend Sunday School and preaching in the different churches.

Literary Societies.

The young men have two well organized and conducted literary societies, the Watauga and the Appalachian. These societies aid very much in training their members in debate, declamation, and composition work. They have weekly sessions in the recitation rooms.

There are also two societies for young women, the Euterpean and the Calliopean. The sessions of these societies are held in their halls in the Lovill Home. The culture these four societies give their members is highly appreciated by friends of the school.

The following rules apply to each society:

1. None but members can attend.
2. No one can join until they have been in school two weeks.
3. The membership each of the young men's society must be less than three-fifths of the young men enrolled.
4. Rule 3 applies to the young women's society.
5. Members must get signed excuses from a member of the faculty for all absences.

Public School Teachers.

Special attention is given to public school teachers and those preparing to teach. Courses will be given to suit their needs. No tuition will be charged in the courses for teachers. At the close of the summer term an examination is held on each study in the public school course and certificates given to those who pass the examinations. These certificates are issued by the County Superintendent of Watauga county and are recognized by the Superintendents of many counties.

In order to receive free tuition the following pledge must be signed.

PLEDGE.

I....., am .. years old. My object in obtaining free tuition in the Appalachian Training School, Boone, N. C., is to qualify myself for teaching; and I hereby promise to teach after leaving it, at least two years in the public schools of North Carolina, if I have opportunity. I further promise to attend regularly and faithfully upon the exercises required and to conform cheerfully to the rules that may be prescribed. Should I for any reason fail to teach, as agreed, I promise to refund to the school the amount of tuition which I have received.

Date.....19...

Applicant must be 16 years of age and of irreproachable character.

When the teacher teaches the two years a report, signed by the county superintendent in the county or counties where the schools were taught, should be sent to the Superintendent.

School Year.

The year is divided into three terms: the fall term begins in August and continues four and one-half months; the spring term opens after the Christmas holidays and continues four and one-half months, and the summer term is taught for eight weeks during June and July.

The School Day.

The school opens at 8:45 for five days during the week. The day is divided into ten periods of thirty minutes each. During the fall and summer term a noon recess of one hour is given. No session is held on Monday.

Recitations.

1. Students who miss recitations will be held responsible for them. The teacher in charge of the class will require the student to prepare and recite the missed recitations. If this is not done within one week something will be taken from the grade of the student.

2. No student will be passed on a subject who has missed more than one-fourth of the recitations during any month, unless he is able to pass an examination on the work gone over during the month.

Examinations.

At the close of each term examinations are held on each study pursued during the term. The grading includes the class work, the department and the examination. Figures are used in making the report as to the standing of a student in a certain branch as follows: A figure 1, 2, 3 or 4 indicates that the student passes the work gone over; a figure 5 indicates that a new examination must be taken; and a figure 6 indicates that the work has not been satisfactory and must be gone over again.

A record of the standing of each pupil is kept in the office.

Tuition.

Public school teachers are charged no tuition for the teachers' course. In the advanced grades arrangements will be made to give work in teaching to pay tuition. Those who are not teachers will pay a small tuition fee according to the work taken.

Fees.

Every student on registering pays a fee of one dollar. No other fees are charged by the school.

Scholarships.

Through the kindness of the authorities a scholarship granting free tuition is given by the University of North Carolina, and by Trinity College. These scholarships are given to the most worthy students.

Board.

All young women are expected to board in the Lovill Home. If for any good reason another boarding place is desired, permission must be obtained from the faculty. Young men may choose their boarding places.

It is earnestly requested that the boarding house keepers will co-operate with the faculty in helping to control their boarders and in helping to carry out the few simple regulations that are so necessary for a co-educational institution.

The price of board at the Lovill Home will remain $6 when paid in advance. The other boarding houses charge $8 per month. The charges in private families will be from $7.50 to $8 per month.

Young women at the Lovill Home must furnish their own bedding. This will include for each, a pillow, sheet, blanket and quilt. Also towels and napkins. There will be required from each student a small amount of dining room work.

There are many simple regulations at the Home, which are rigidly enforced. These regulations are easily obeyed.

Seven dollars per month will be charged for board in Newland Hall. Each young man must furnish a pillow, a sheet, a blanket and a quilt. Students keep their rooms and do some extra sweeping. More will be charged if not paid in advance.

Young men desiring to board themselves can usually rent a room and do their own work.

A small number of young women can find rooms to board themselves in the cottage near the Lovill Home.

Supplementary Literature will, for the most part, be taken from the "Riverside Literature Series."

These books can be purchased from the school.

Books for the preparatory department can be purchased from the store of M. B. Blackburn.

Often second-hand books can be purchased from the students.

In the special departments the teachers arrange for purchase of books.

Course of Study.

ADVANCED DEPARTMENT.

Mathematics.

First Year—Fall Term.

Beginning with Powers and Roots in Colaw & Ellwood's Advanced Arithmetic the class will be taught the most important subjects through the book during the fall term. Special attention will be given to analysis. Little work will be done on the board. Students are expected to read carefully the problems and then to state clearly the part or parts required, and then find by mental processes the solution.

Spring Term.

Pains will be taken to make clear the transition from Arithmetic to Algebra. The students will be expected to master the fundamental principles of Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication, Division and Factoring. Lippincott's Elementary Algebra will be used.

Second Year—Fall Term.

Fractions and Equations will be taught carefully and thoroughly. The class will study to page 135 in Lippincott's Elementary Algebra.

Spring Term.

Work will continue in the same book to Quadratic Equations.

Third Year—Fall Term.

The greater part of the term will be given to Quadratic Equations as found in Slaught and Lennes' Advanced Algebra.

Spring Term.

The same Algebra will be finished and reviewed during the spring term.

Fourth Year—Fall Term.

Plane Geometry (Wentworth's) will be studied. Special attention will be given to the exercises. Attention will constantly be called to the practical application of the theorems.

Spring Term.

During the spring term solid Geometry will be taught by the same methods.

Summer Term.

A short course in Plane Trigonometry (Wentworth's) will be given.

Latin.

First Year—Fall Term.

Work will begin with Bennett's Foundations of Latin. Special drill will be given in pronunciations according to the Roman method. Paradigms must be mastered. The class will move slowly at the beginning.

Spring Term.

Foundations of Latin will be continued and finished.

Second Year—Fall Term.

The fables, stories, and biographical sketches found in Rolfe & Dennison's Junior Latin.

Spring Term.

The first and the second books of Cæsar's Gallic War will be read.

Two exercises in turning English into Latin will be given each week.

Third Year—Fall Term.

Two orations of Cicero against Catiline with composition based on Latin read.

Spring Term.

Third and fourth orations against Catiline with composition based on Latin read.

Fourth Year—Fall Term.

Three books of Virgil's Æneid with a study of Latin verse. One original exercise each week.

Spring Term.

Fourth, fifth and sixth books of Virgil's Æneid with a study of mythology. One original exercise each week.

History.

First Year.

Southworth's Builders of America. Book I, Book II.

Second Year.

Montgomery's English History. Both terms.

Third Year.

Myer's General History. Both terms.

Fourth Year—Fall Term.

Painter's History of Education.

Spring Term.

Ely & Wicker's Elementary Economics.

Summer Term.

A special study of North Carolina History.

Science.

Holden's Real Things in Nature—both terms. Many of the simple experiments will be performed by the class.

Second Year—Fall Term.

Culler's Advanced Physiology. Emphasis will be laid on the action of the organs of the human system. The cell and tissues will be studied with the aid of a compound microscope.

Spring Term.

Gannett, Garrison & Houston's Commercial Geography.

Third Year—Fall Term.

Colton's Zoology will be used more as a reference book than to be studied. Each member of the class is expected to make a small collection of insects. The animals easiest collected will be studied during the different months. Special attention will be paid to types.

Spring Term.

Young's Lessons in Astronomy will be used. Observations of the stars are made on suitable nights. Many of the most important constellations are observed.

Fourth Year.

The school is able to give the greater part of the experiments in Avery's Elementary Physics. Each member of the class is required to make from material furnished an electric motor. Fall and Spring.

Summer Term.

Bergin's Botany will be used. The structure and growth of plants are studied briefly and some time given to identifying common plants.

Spelling.

First Year.

Hunt's Progressive Course in Spelling. Part II.

Second Year.

Benson & Glenn's Speller and Definer.

Third Year.

What Words Say—Kenneday.

Fourth Year.

Bowen's English Word.

The above makes an extensive study of etymology, diacritical marks, uses and history of words.

English.

First Year.

Text, Webster-Cooley—Book II. Frequent themes supplemented by oral compositions. The aim of the composition work in this course is to encourage in the student free and spontaneous expression of thought. Besides the shorter poems in the texts, the following pieces of literature referred to are studied. "The Building of the Ship" and "The Courtship of Miles Standish," Longfellow; "Snowbound," Whittier; "The First Snowfall" and "The Vision of Sir Launfal," Lowell; "The Snow Storm," Emerson; "The Song of the Chattahoochee," Lanier; "Rip Van Winkle," Irving; "A Christmas Carol," Dickens.

Second Year.

Text, High School English, Keeler & Adams. Special attention is given to the paragraph. Frequent themes. Literature studied: Fall Term—"Silas Marner," Eliot; "Henry Esmond," Thackeray. Spring Term—"The Deserted Village," Goldsmith; "The Ancient Mariner," Coleridge; "The Idylls of the King," Tennyson.

Third Year.

Text, Lewis's Second Manual of Composition. The kinds of Writing, Narration, Description, Argument, and Exposition. Frequent themes. Both terms.

Literature Studied: Fall—"The Sir Roger De Coverley Papers;" "Heroes and Hero Worship," Carlyle; "Life of Johnson," Macaulay. Spring—"Washington's Farewell Address," "Webster's First Bunker Hill Oration."

Fourth Year.

Text, One year Course in English and American Literature, Heydrick.

Literature Studied: Fall—"As You Like It," "Julius Cæsar," and "Macbeth," Shakespeare. Spring—"L'Allegro," "Il Penseroso," "Comus," and "Lycidas," Milton; Poe's Poems (Selections). Summer—Short Stories from Hawthorne, Poe, Bret Harte, and Kipling. One theme a week.

Special Courses.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.

Miss Michael, Director.

The courses of study here prescribed are for earnest students who want to attain real excellence. A careful study of the requirements and capabilities of each pupil is made. A thorough training in the fundamental principles of technique is given. Recitals are given in which all pupils participate. These furnish incentives to study and give experience in public performances. The aim of the department is threefold: To make practical musicians; to make thorough and efficient music teachers and to help the student to a better appreciation of the beautiful in music.

COURSE FOR PIANOFORTE.

Preparatory.

Etudes by Kohler and Burgnuller. Pieces by Gurlitt, Lichner, Clementi and others. Technical exercises throughout the course.

First Year.

Etudes by Czerny and Bertini. First Studies in Bach. Easy Pieces and Sonatinas by Clementi, Kuhlan, Dussek, etc.

Second Year.

Etudes by Heller, Bach's Preludes, Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words, Sonatas of Haydn and Mozart. Pieces by modern composers.

Third Year.

Cramer's Etudes, Bach's Inventions, Sonatas by Mozart and Beethoven, Selections from Chopin, Schubert, Schumann and others. Elements of Harmony.

Fourth Year.

Kullak's Octaves, Clementi's Gradus ad Parnassum; Selections from Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Bach, Weber, Rubinstein and others. Theory and History of Music.

Art.

Miss Shepherd.

Students are given instruction in Oil, Pastel, Crayon, and Water Colors. As all the students were first year students no grades have been made for this work.

Bookkeeping.

A short course in Bookkeeping will be offered to those who have made proper preparation. Instruction in shorthand and typewriting will also be offered.

Modern Languages.

Classes may be organized in the French and German Languages if the demand is sufficient. These subjects may under special conditions be substituted for the third and fourth years of Latin.

Vocal Music, Drawing, and Penmanship.

Two lessons in Drawing and two lessons in Vocal Music are given each week. Frequent instruction in Penmanship is also given. These subjects are taught in each year. In the preparatory and the first year instruction will be given in Elementary Bookkeeping. Some instruction in Vocal Culture will be given during the year.

Tuition in Extra Branches.

Instrumental Music will be given at twenty-five cents per lesson. Use for piano for one hour daily will be fifty cents per month.

Art is twenty-five cents per lesson. For those who paint in the Art Room a charge of fifty cents per month will be made.

Announcements will be made for the Business Course.

Preparatory.

One year's work is given below the first year of the Advanced Course. Students must be prepared to begin work as follows:

Arithmetic—Colaw & Ellwood's Advanced Arithmetic—Percentage.

English—Buehler's English Grammar.

History of U. S.—Chambers's Higher History.

Geography—Maury's Complete Geography, at Europe.

Other subjects will be added.

Teachers' Department.

Special attention is given to the Teachers' Courses during the summer term. The following courses have been offered for two summers and have proven very useful:

Group 1—For Those Who Have Never Taught.

1. A drill in the Intermediate Arithmetic. 2. English Grammar, as used in the common affairs of life. 3. The Geography and History of North Carolina. 4. United States History. 5. Agriculture and Physiology. 6. Spelling, Reading and Writing. Lectures on the organization and teaching of public schools.

Group 2—For Those Who Desire a First Grade Certificate.

1. Advanced Arithmetic, omitting difficult sections. 2. A fuller treatment on English Grammar than in Group 1. 3. Map Drawing and Geography. 4. Topical Review of United States History. 5. Civil Government and Physiology. 6. Spelling and Drawing.

A more extended series of lectures on the Philosophy of Teaching.

Group 3—For Those Who Have First Grade Certificates.

1. All the difficult parts of the Advanced Arithmetic. 2. The careful Study of Literary Masterpieces. 3. Commercial or Physical Geography. 4. Special Periods in U. S. History and North Carolina History. 5. Physiology with the Microscope. 6. Spelling and the Derivation of Words.

The Recitation will be studied in this group.

Group 4—For Professional Teachers.

Work will be offered in the various subjects suited to the needs of each teacher. This group will occasionally meet for discussing Methods.

Closing Exercises.

No exercises were given at the close of the fall term.

The exercises at the close of the spring term were in part as follows:

General Information

The Appalachian Training School was established by the North Carolina Legislature during the session of 1903.

A bill authorizing the school was introduced in the lower house by Hon. W. C. Newland, of Caldwell County. Little opposition developed against the measure until it reached the Senate Committee on Education and was reported unfavorably by a majority vote. Senator R. B. White, of Franklin County, made a minority report. By the help of Senators Hoey, of Cleveland County, and Justice, of McDowell County, Senator White secured its passage in the Senate.

The act provided that the trustees from Alleghany, Ashe, Wilkes, Watauga, Caldwell, Mitchell, Yancey and the County Superintendents of said counties, should meet at Blowing Rock within the month of May and select a location and begin the school. The meeting was called and presided over by State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner. Boone was selected as the location and the free use of Watauga Academy secured until a building could be erected.

Location

Boone is in Watauga County, in the northwestern part of North Carolina. There are mountains in every direction—Blue Ridge on east, Grandfather on south, Stone Mountain on west and Elk Knob on the north. The town is 3,333 feet above tide water. This elevation insures an excellent summer climate. Many enjoy the climate in winter better than the warmer and rainy weather of lower sections. There are few cases of serious sickness. About 400 quiet, industrious people live here. They welcome students into their homes and appreciate their presence in their social circles. Merchandise is sold at reasonable prices. Mails reach here from all the adjoining counties. A good telephone system connects us with all the important business towns and many country places. Good country roads lead to the railway stations. We are 33 miles from Lenoir, 40 miles from Wilkesboro, 23 miles from Elk Park, and 25 miles from Mountain City, Tenn.

Grounds

The campus contains seven acres of land, covered for the most part with young white pines. Little has been done to beautify the grounds. The property joins the town boundary and lies between Boone and Blowing Rock turnpike and Hardin street.

Lands

The school campus contains seven acres. The school owns six acres on the south side of the Boone and Blowing Rock turnpike adjoining the campus. The Newland Hall is built on a six-acre lot; the McNeil Cottage lot contains three acres. The Coffey farm adjoining the Newland Hall lot contains nearly two hundred acres of pasture, forest, and orchard lands. The Edminsten farm on New River, two miles east, has sixty acres of meadow land and one hundred and forty acres of timber land. These farms aid much towards keeping down expenses of board.

Buildings

Watauga Academy was built in 1899 by the people of Watauga County and generous friends elsewhere. On the first floor are three recitation rooms. On the second floor, a printing office, library room, two recitation rooms, and a teachers' room. The building is of wood.

The Main Building is a two-story brick structure 96 feet long and 64 feet wide. There are three recitation rooms, an office, and a museum on the first floor. On the second floor, two music rooms and an auditorium.

The Lovill Home is a frame structure used for a woman's boarding house. There are accommodations for eighty-five women. There are two society halls, two sitting rooms, and two study rooms in the building.

Newland Hall accommodates forty young men. There are sitting rooms and a study room in the building.

The McNeil Cottage has rooms for about ten girls who board themselves.

Science Hall, containing a laboratory, lecture room, and four recitation rooms on first floor, and an Alumni Hall and four recitation rooms on second floor, will be ready for occupancy during the next term of school. This is a modern brick structure and will have closets and bath rooms and will be heated by jacket stoves. In addition to these buildings the school has control over two boarding houses and four cottages.

Equipment

The recitation rooms are furnished with comfortable desks and seats. There are maps, globes, and charts where needed. A small collection of rocks, minerals, Indian relics, shells, marine animals, etc., is being made. A compound microscope with four dozen sections of the human body help in the study of physiology. The physical apparatus consists of thermometers, barometers, a hygrometer, an air pump, electric motors, magnets, electro-magnets, telescope, and various other things.

Library

Several friends have donated books to the library. The Church Periodical Club has given a number of boxes of books and magazines and a small number have been purchased. There are about three thousand volumes accessible to students. Thirty of the leading magazines and papers are received. The library is opened one hour each school day. Students can borrow books under certain rules.

Games

For young men there is an excellent ball ground. No games are allowed during the regular school hours. The baseball team cannot leave the neighborhood to play match games without permission from the faculty.

The young women will in the near future have grounds for croquet, tennis, and other games.

Students are urged to be in the open air as much as possible. There are many interesting walks near the school. Young women do not leave the school grounds for walks without a teacher.

A Regulation

Young women and young men are not expected to board at the same places or to associate together on any occasion. There may be a few times when this regulation is suspended. At these times the suspension is announced at the chapel.

Government

Students who enter the school are supposed to be able to govern themselves and act with propriety. Recognizing this fact there are but few rules and these are easily obeyed. When necessarily the faculty will reprimand or punish students. Seldom has it been necessary to use harsh means.

Dress

Young men may dress as they choose. Young women are requested to wear inexpensive dresses during the study periods and plain white dresses at commencement. The different classes are urged to organize and adopt some simple head wear. Neatness in dress is encouraged.

Visiting

No student is expected to leave the neighborhood without permission. Young women must show written permission from their parents before they will be allowed to spend the night from their regular boarding places.

Requests for permission to be absent must be granted by some member of the faculty before a student can leave the neighborhood.

Religious Influences

The morning exercises are opened by reading the Scriptures and prayer. The young women have a prayer meeting on Wednesday evenings. The young men meet Sunday afternoons and hold religious exercises.

The pastors of the town churches often open the school and give talks on religious subjects. Students are requested to attend Sunday School and preaching in the different churches.

Literary Societies

The young men have two well-organized and conducted literary societies, the Watauga and the Appalachian. These societies aid very much in training their members in debate, declamation, and composition work. They have weekly sessions in the recitation rooms.

There are also two societies for young women, the Euterpean and the Calliopean. The sessions of these societies are held in their halls in the Lovill Home. The culture these four societies give their members is highly appreciated by friends of the school.

The following rules apply to each society:

1. None but members can attend.
2. No one can join until they have been in school two weeks.
3. The membership each of the young men's society must be less than three-fifths of the young men enrolled.
4. Rule 3 applies to the young women's society.
5. Members must get signed excuses from a member of the faculty for all absences.
6. Every student is requested to join one of the societies.

Public School Teachers

Special attention is given to public school teachers and those preparing to teach. Courses will be given to suit their needs. No tuition will be charged in the courses for teachers. At the close of the summer term an examination is held on each study in the public school course and certificates given to those who pass the examination. These certificates are issued by the County Superintendent of Watauga County and are recognized by the Superintendents of many counties.

In order to receive free tuition the following pledge must be signed.

PLEDGE.

I....., am .. years old. My object in obtaining free tuition in the Appalachian Training School, Boone, N. C., is to qualify myself for teaching; and I hereby promise to teach after leaving it, at least two years in the public schools of North Carolina, if I have opportunity. I further promise to attend regularly and faithfully upon the exercises required and to conform cheerfully to the rules that may be prescribed. Should I for any reason fail to teach, as agreed, I promise to refund to the school the amount of tuition which I have received.

Date.....19..

Applicant must be 16 years of age and of irreproachable character.

When the teacher teaches the two years a report, signed by the county superintendent in the county or counties where the schools were taught, should be sent to the Superintendent.

School Year

The year is divided into three terms: the fall term begins in August and continues four and one-half months; the spring term opens after the Christmas holidays and continues four and one-half months, and the summer term is taught for eight weeks during June and July.

The School Day

The school opens at 8:45 for five days during the week. The day is divided into ten periods of thirty minutes each. During the fall and summer term a noon recess of one hour is given. No session is held on Monday.

Recitations

1. Students who miss recitations will be held responsible for them. The teacher in charge of the class will require the student to prepare and recite the missed recitations. If this is not done within one week something will be taken from the grade of the student.

2. No student will be passed on a subject who has missed more than one-fourth of the recitations during any month, unless he is able to pass an examination on the work gone over during the month.

Examinations

At the close of each term examinations are held on each study pursued during the term. The grading includes the class work, the deportment, and the examination. Figures are used in making the report as to the standing of a student in a certain branch as follows: A figure 1, 2, 3, or 4 indicates that the student passes the work gone over; a figure 5 indicates that a new examination must be taken; and a figure 6 indicates that the work has not been satisfactory and must be gone over again.

A record of the standing of each pupil is kept in the office.

Tuition

Public school teachers are charged no tuition for the teachers' course. In the advanced grades arrangements will be made to give work in teaching to pay tuition. Those who are not teachers will pay a small tuition fee according to the work taken.

Fees

Every student on registering pays a fee of one dollar. No other fees are charged by the school.

Scholarships

Through the kindness of the authorities a scholarship granting free tuition is given by the University of North Carolina, and by Trinity College. These scholarships are given to the most worthy students.

Board

All young women are expected to board in the Lovill Home. If for any good reason another boarding place is desired, permission must be obtained from the faculty. Young men may choose their boarding places.

It is earnestly requested that the boarding house keepers will co-operate with the faculty in helping to control their boarders and in helping to carry out the few simple regulations that are so necessary for a co-educational institution.

The price of board at the Lovill Home will remain $6 when paid in advance. The other boarding houses charge $8 per month. The charges in private families will be from $7.50 to $10 per month.

Young women at the Lovill Home must furnish their own bedding. This will include for each, a pillow, sheet, blanket, and quilt. Also towels and napkins. There will be required from each student a small amount of dining room work.

There are many simple regulations at the Home, which are rigidly enforced. These regulations are easily obeyed.

Seven dollars per month will be charged for board in Newland Hall. Each young man must furnish a pillow, a sheet, a blanket, and a quilt. Students keep their rooms and do some extra sweeping. More will be charged if not paid in advance.

Young men desiring to board themselves can usually rent a room and do their own work.

A small number of young women can find rooms to board themselves in the cottage near the Lovill Home.

Supplementary Literature will, for the most part, be taken from the "Riverside Literature Series."

These books can be purchased from the school.

Books for the preparatory department can be purchased from the store of M. B. Blackburn.

Often second-hand books can be purchased from the students.

In the special departments the teachers arrange for purchase of books.

The recently adopted text-books will be used during the next year.

ADVANCED DEPARTMENT

First Year—Fall Term.

Beginning with Powers and Roots in Colaw & Ellwood's Advanced Arithmetic the class will be taught the most important subjects through the book during the fall term. Special attention will be given to analysis. Little work will be done on the board. Students are expected to read carefully the problems and then to state clearly the part or parts required, and then find by mental process the solution.

Spring Term.

Pains will be taken to make clear the transition from Arithmetic to Algebra. The students will be expected to master the fundamental principles of Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication, Division, and Factoring. Lippincott's Elementary Algebra will be used.

Second Year—Fall Term.

Fractions and Equations will be taught carefully and thoroughly. The class will study to page 135 in Lippincott's Elementary Algebra.

Spring Term.

Work will continue in the same book to Quadratic Equations.

Third Year—Fall Term.

The greater part of the term will be given to Quadratic Equations as found in Slaught and Lennes' Advanced Algebra.

Spring Term.

The same Algebra will be finished and reviewed during the spring term.

Fourth Year—Fall Term.

Plane Geometry (Wetworth's) will be studied. Special attention will be given to the exercises. Attention will constantly be called to the practical application of the theorems.

Spring Term.

During the spring term solid Geometry will be taught by the same methods.

Summer Term.

A short course in Plane Trigonometry (Wentworth's) will be given.

Latin

First Year—Fall Term.

Work will begin with Bennett's Foundations of Latin. Special drill will be given in pronunciations according to the Roman method. Paradigms must be mastered, vocabularies memorized, and construction carefully observed. The class will move slowly at the beginning.

Spring Term.

Foundations of Latin will be continued and finished.

Second Year—Fall Term.

The fables, stories, and biographical sketches found in Rolfe & Dennison's Junior Latin.

Spring Term.

The first and the second books of Cæsar's Gallic War will be read.

Exercises in turning English into Latin will be given each week.

Third Year—Fall Term.

Two orations of Cicero against Catiline with composition based on Latin read.

Spring Term.

Third and fourth orations against Catiline with composition based on Latin read.

Fourth Year—Fall Term.

Three books of Virgil's Æneid with a study of Latin verse. One original exercise each week.

Spring Term.

Fourth, fifth, and sixth books of Virgil's Æneid with a study of mythology. One original exercise each week.

History

First Year.

Southworth's Builders of America. Book I, Book II.

Second Year.

Montgomery's English History. Both terms.

Third Year.

Myer's General History. Both terms.

Fourth Year—Fall Term.

Painter's History of Education.

Spring Term.

Ely & Wicker's Elementary Economics.

Summer Term.

A special study of North Carolina History.

Science

Holden's Real Things in Nature—both terms. Many of the simple experiments will be performed by the class.

Second Year—Fall Term.

Culler's Advanced Physiology. Emphasis will be laid on the action of the organs of the human system. The cell and tissues will be studied with the aid of a compound microscope.

Spring Term.

Gannett, Garrison & Houston's Commercial Geography.

Third Year—Fall Term.

Colton's Zoology will be used more as a reference book than to be studied. Each member of the class is expected to make a small collection of insects. The animals easiest collected will be studied during the different months. Special attention will be paid to types.

Spring Term.

Young's Lessons in Astronomy will be used. Observations of the stars are made on suitable nights. Many of the most important constellations are observed.

Fourth Year.

The school is able to give the greater part of the experiments in *Avery's Elementary Physics. Each member of the class is required to make from material furnished an electric motor. Fall and Spring.

Summer Term.

Bergen's Botany will be used. The structure and growth of plants are studied briefly and some time given to identifying common plants.

Spelling

First Year.

Hunt's Progressive Course in Spelling. Part II.

Second Year.

Benson & Glenn's Speller and Definer.

Third Year.

*What Words Say—Kenneday.

*Changed next year.

Fourth Year.

Bowen's English Word.

The above makes an extensive study of etymology, diacritical marks, uses and history of words.

English

First Year.

Text, Webster-Cooley—Book II. Frequent themes supplemented by oral compositions. The aim of the composition work in this course is to encourage in the student free and spontaneous expression of thought. Besides the shorter poems in the texts, the following pieces of literature referred to are studied. "The Building of the Ship" and "The Courtship of Miles Standish," Longfellow; "Snowbound," Whittier; "The First Snowfall", and "The Vision of Sir Launfal," Lowell; "The Snow Storm," Emerson; "The Song of the Chattahoochee," Lanier; "Rip Van Winkle," Irving; "A Christmas Carol," Dickens.

Second Year.

Text, High School English, *Keller & Adams. Special attention is given to the paragraph. Frequent themes. Literature studied: Fall Term—"Silas Marner," Eliot; "Henry Esmond," Thackeray. Spring Term—"The Deserted Village," Goldsmith; "The Ancient Mariner," Coleridge; "The Idylls of the King," Tennyson.

Third Year.

Text, Lewis's Second Manual of Composition. The kinds of Writing, Narration, Description, Argument, and Exposition. Frequent themes. Both terms.

Literature Studied: Fall—"The Sir Roger De Coverley Papers;" "Heroes and Hero Worship," Carlyle; "Life of Johnson," Macaulay. Spring—"Washington's Farewell Address," "Webster's First Bunker Hill Oration."

*Changed next year.

Fourth Year.

Text, One Year Course in English and American Literature, Heydrick.

Literature Studied: Fall—"As You Like It," "Julius Cæsar," and "Macbeth," Shakespeare. Spring—"L'Allegro," "Il Penseroso," "Comus," and "Lycidas," Milton; Poe's Poems (Selections). Summer—Short Stories from Hawthorne, Poe, Bret Harte, and Kipling. One theme a week.

Special Courses

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

The courses of study here prescribed are for earnest students who want to attain real excellence. A careful study of the requirements and capabilities of each pupil is made. A thorough training in the fundamental principles of technique is given. Recitals are given in which all pupils participate. These furnish incentives to study and give experience in public performances. The aim of the department is threefold: To make practical musicians; to make thorough and efficient music teachers and to help the student to a better appreciation of the beautiful in music.

COURSE FOR PIANOFORTE

Preparatory

Etudes by Kohler and Burgmuller. Pieces by Gurlitt, Lichner, Clementi and others. Technical exercises throughout the course.

First Year.

Etudes by Czerny and Bertini. First Studies in Bach. Easy Pieces and Sonatinas by Clementi, Kuhlan, Dussek, etc.

Second Year.

Etudes by Heller, Bach's Preludes, Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words, Sonatas of Haydn and Mozart. Pieces by modern composers.

Third Year.

Cramer's Etudes, Bach's Inventions, Sonatas by Mozart and Beethoven, Selections from Chopin, Schubert, Schumann and others. Elements of Harmony.

Fourth Year.

Kullak's Octaves, Clementi's Gradus a l Parnassum; Selections from Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Bach, Weber, Rubinstein and others. Theory and History of Music.

Art

Students are given instruction in Oil, Pastel, Crayon, and Water Colors. As all the students were first year students no grades have been made for this work.

Bookkeeping

A short course in Bookkeeping will be offered to those who have made proper preparation. Instruction in shorthand and typewriting will also be offered.

Modern Languages

Classes may be organized in the French and German Languages if the demand is sufficient. These subjects may under special conditions be substituted for the third and fourth years of Latin.

Vocal Music, Drawing, and Penmanship

Two lessons in Drawing and two lessons in Vocal Music are given each week. Frequent instruction in Penmanship is also given. These subjects are taught in each year. In the preparatory and the first year instruction will be given in Elementary Bookkeeping. Some instruction in Vocal Culture will be given during the year.

Tuition in Extra Branches

Instrumental Music will be given at twenty-five cents per lesson. Use of piano for one hour daily will be fifty cents per month.

Art is twenty-five cents per lesson. For those who paint in the Art Room a charge of fifty cents per month will be made.

Announcements will be made for the Business Course.

Preparatory

Many students are not prepared to begin the first year and pursue with profit the work of that year. A course of about two years has been made to meet the need of such students. The first year is the work of the seventh year in an ordinary public school. The second year is given to supplement the studies of the common schools. So varied has this course been that no schedule can be given. The work is suited to those who desire to better prepare for teaching.

Teachers' Department

Courses of Study

Group 1.

For those applying for second grade certificates, this course will emphasize Intermediate Arithmetic, Grammar, and Spelling. A general review of the public school branches will be given.

Group 2.

For those applying for first grade certificates, all the difficult parts of Colaw & Elwood's Arithmetic will be studied. Special attention will be given to Technical Grammar, Composition, Map Drawing, and Historical Investigation.

Group 3.

For those who have been teaching under first grade certificates, Algebra, Geometry, Rhetoric, Latin, and History may be taken. Hamilton's Recitation will be required. Hewett's Psychology will be offered. Lectures on Methods of Teaching, School Management, and other interesting subjects will be given.

Group 4.

This course is the work required for our Senior Class. Virgil, beginning at the third book, will be studied. Plane Trigonometry. (Begin at first.) Short stories from Hawthorne, Poe, Bret Harte, and Kipling will be studied. Botany and History and Geography of North Carolina.

Group 5.

Classes will be organized to suit the needs of students as far as may be.

Applications should be made to the Superintendent.

Closing Exercises

No exercises were given at the close of the Fall Term.

The exercises at the close of the Spring Term were in part as follows:

Alma Moretz, Euterpean Society.

October 12—Outing to Three Fork Church on New River. The students divided into thirteen camps. Each camp prepared its own dinner, partly cooked at camp. Games after dinner.

November 24—Thanksgiving Holiday. Get acquainted meeting. All the older people of the community invited. Visited Newland Hall, Library, Lovill Home. Short talks in Auditorium. Lunch at Lovill Home.

December 23—Fall term closes.

December 28—Spring term began.

January 7—Reception to new students. Programme by the teachers.

February 22—Washington's Birthday and Bill Nye Day observed. Short programme. Collection of ten dollars for Bill Nye Memorial Building at Stonewall Jackson Training School.

March 29—C. B. Spicer, of Jefferson, makes a talk to students.

April 28—Closing of Spring Term. Concert at night. The proceeds, amounting to $49.30, is reserved for purchasing chairs for Society Halls for men.

June 1—Summer Term began.

June 8—Prof. Hoy Taylor, of Biscoe, addresses the School.

June 29—Dr. Ferrell addresses the School on the hookworm. Editor Sims, of the Raleigh Times, makes an interesting talk.

June 29—The Press Association spent the day at the School. Editor Gold, of the Wilson Times, makes these statements about the occasion:

“Captain Lovill, a foremost and public-spirited citizen of Watauga, whose untiring efforts are largely responsible for the establishment of the Training School, was master of ceremonies. He gave the editors a warm welcome, following which a chorus of girls and boys sang “The Song of the Appalachian School.”

“Mr. Bob Rivers, editor of the Watauga Democrat, extended a glad hand of welcome. Hon. F. A. Linney, son of the late R. Z. Linney, and a power in his country, delivered the address of the occasion. * * * Mr. Carey Dowd, of the Charlotte News, gracefully responded to the address of welcome, while Dr. Few, of Trinity; Dr. Poteat, of Wake Forest; President Farriss, Mr. DePriest, of Shelby, and Mr. Shipman, of Hendersonville, had something to say to the assemblage that felt a just pride in the fine showing made by the school. Dr. Poteat and Dr. Few also delivered addresses that caught the audience and secured their undivided attention and elicited frequent applause. Then followed more exercises and the splendid dinner which was heartily partaken of by all present. Practically everything upon the groaning tables was raised upon the near-by farms. It is evident that this country will develop beyond the fondest expectations of its people whenever a railroad is built into this section that is now isolated, as far as the iron horse is concerned, but not as far as hospitality, education, and interest in and regard for their fellow-man are concerned.”

July 14—Mr. D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, visited the rooms and gave a talk in each.

July 18—Mr. H. H. Hughes, a student in Columbia College, New York City, addressed the School on the Silent Man.

July 20—Prof. A. Masters, a former teacher, made a talk at chapel.

July 21—Rev. B. F. Hargett, of Statesville, talked on Building on a Good Foundation.

- June 20-June 30—Miss Minnie W. Leatherman, Secretary of the State Library Commission, classified the library and gave daily talks on Books.
- July 24—J. A. Bivins, State Supervisor of Teacher-Training, addresses the School.
- July 24—Senior Reception.
- July 26—Graduating Exercises.
- July 27—Alumni Banquet.

Announcements for 1911-1912

The Calendar of the session will be found on front page.

The faculty will remain almost the same. One or two teachers will be added.

The course of study will be slightly changed. A year of college work will be added.

Board will remain the same.

Improvements have been made on the grounds.

Science Hall is being equipped with desks and apparatus.

Waterworks are being put into the buildings.

Students coming on the railroad should notify the Superintendent several days before they expect to arrive at the station, so arrangements can be made for transportation.

General Information

The Appalachian Training School was established by the North Carolina Legislature during the session of 1903.

A bill authorizing the school was introduced in the lower house by Hon. W. C. Newland, of Caldwell County. Little opposition developed against the measure until it reached the Senate Committee on Education and was reported unfavorably by a majority vote. Senator R. B. White, of Franklin County, made a minority report. By the help of Senators Hoey, of Cleveland County, and Justice, of McDowell County, Senator White secured its passage in the Senate.

The act provided that the trustees from Alleghany, Ashe, Wilkes, Watauga, Caldwell, Mitchell, Yancey, and the County Superintendents of said counties, should meet at Blowing Rock within the month of May and select a location and begin the school. The meeting was called and presided over by State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner. Boone was selected as the location and the free use of Watauga Academy secured until a building could be erected.

Location

Boone is in Watauga County, in the northwestern part of North Carolina. There are mountains in every direction—Blue Ridge on east, Grandfather on south, Stone Mountain on west and Elk Knob on the north. The town is 3,333 feet above tide water. This elevation insures an excellent summer climate. Many enjoy the climate in winter better than the warmer and rainy weather of lower sections. There are few cases of serious sickness. About 400 quiet, industrious people live here. They welcome students into their homes and appreciate their presence in their social circles. Merchandise is sold at reasonable prices. Mails reach here from all the adjoining counties. A good telephone system connects us with all the important business towns and many country places. Good country roads lead to the railway stations. We are 33 miles from Lenoir, 40 miles from Wilkesboro, 23 miles from Elk Park, and 25 miles from Mountain City, Tenn.

Grounds

The campus of seven acres of small white pines has been laid off in walks and drives by a landscape architect. A great amount of the driveways have been macadamized, the terraces sodded, the lawns sown in grass, and flowers and shrubs planted in all parts of the grounds.

The school owns six acres on the south side of the Boone and Blowing Rock turnpike, adjoining the campus. Newland Hall is built on a six-acre lot; the McNeil Cottage lot contains three acres. The Coffey farm adjoining the Newland Hall lot contains nearly two hundred acres of pasture, forest, and orchard lands. The Edmūnsten farm on New River, two miles east, has sixty acres of meadow land and one hundred and forty acres of timber land.

Buildings

Watauga Academy was built in 1899 by the people of Watauga County and generous friends elsewhere. On the first floor is the model primary room, domestic science kitchen, dining-room, sick room, and the book room. On the second floor are the library, printing office, sewing room, art room, library archive, and library. The building is of wood.

Administration Building is a two-story brick structure, 96 feet long by 64 feet wide. On the first floor are the office, business room, small chapel, and three recitation rooms. On the second floor are the auditorium and music rooms.

The Lovill Home is a frame structure used for a woman's boarding house. There are accommodations for 85 women. There are two society halls, two sitting rooms, and two study rooms in the building.

Newland Hall accommodates 40 young men. There are sitting rooms and a study room in the building.

The McNeil Cottage has rooms for about 10 girls who board themselves.

Science Hall is a brick structure with a basement and two floors. On the first floor are two recitation rooms and a lecture room, laboratories for the sciences, and the museum. The second floor has the Alumni Hall, men's society halls, and two recitation rooms.

The school controls two boarding houses and four small cottages. A brick dormitory for girls is under construction.

Equipment

The recitation rooms are furnished with comfortable desks and seats. There are maps, globes, and charts where needed. A small collection of rocks, minerals, Indian relics, shells, marine animals, etc., is being made. A compound microscope with seven dozen sections of the human body help in the study of physiology. The physical apparatus consists of thermometers, barometers, a hygrometer, an air pump, electric motors, magnets, electro-magnets, and various other things.

For botany there are microscopes, scalpels, scissors, preserving apparatus, etc. Zoölogy is greatly helped by many simple nets, collecting bottles, preserving cases and the like. A full supply of apparatus and chemicals for elementary chemistry have recently been purchased. A three-inch telescope, charts of the heavens, astronomical lantern, and other helps aid the students in astronomy.

Except the cottages, all the buildings and laboratories have running water and toilets.

Library

Miss Stephenson acts as librarian. The library is opened every afternoon for two hours. There have been about two hundred books purchased during the year. About 5,000 books are now accessible to students. Two daily papers are taken. All the local papers in the surrounding counties come to the library. Twenty or more magazines come monthly.

Games

For young men there is an excellent ball ground. No games are allowed during the regular school hours. The baseball team can not leave the neighborhood to play match games without permission from the faculty.

The young women have grounds for croquet, tennis, and other games.

Students are urged to be in the open air as much as possible. There are many interesting walks near the school. Young women do not leave the school grounds for walks without a teacher.

A Regulation

Young women and young men are not expected to board at the same places or to associate together on any occasion. There may be a few times when this regulation is suspended. At these times the suspension is announced at the chapel.

Government

Students who enter the school are supposed to be able to govern themselves and act with propriety. Recognizing this fact there are but few rules and these are easily obeyed. When necessary the faculty will reprimand or punish students. Seldom has it been necessary to use harsh means.

Visiting

No student is expected to leave the neighborhood without permission. Young women must show written permission from their parents before they will be allowed to spend the night from their regular boarding places.

Requests for permission to be absent must be granted by the faculty before a student can leave the neighborhood.

Religious Influences

The chapel exercises are opened by reading the Scriptures and prayer. The young women have a prayer meeting on Wednesday evenings. The young men meet Sunday afternoons and hold religious exercises.

The pastors of the town churches often open the school and give talks on religious subjects. Students are requested to attend Sunday School and preaching in the different churches.

Literary Societies

The young men have two well organized and conducted literary societies, the Watauga and the Appalachian. These societies aid very much in training their members in debate, declamation, and composition work. They have weekly sessions in their halls.

There are also two societies for young women, the Euterpean and the Calliopean. The sessions of these societies are held in their halls in the Lovill Home. The culture these four societies give their members is highly appreciated by friends of the school.

The following rules apply to each society:

1. None but members can attend.
2. No one can join until they have been in school two weeks.
3. The membership of each of the young men's societies must be less than three-fifths of the young men enrolled.
4. Rule 3 applies to the young women's societies.
5. Members must get excuses from a member of the faculty for all absences.
6. Every student is requested to join one of the societies.

In addition to the foregoing rules the following have been added:

1. All the societies shall meet on Saturday evening, one hour after the supper bell rings. This meeting shall be for literary exercises only.

2. Regular or call meetings for business may be held on any afternoon after school.

3. That in as much as the school has furnished halls, it is thought wise that in the future each society furnish its own wood and lights, and care for its hall.

4. Members of the faculty will from time to time visit the literary meetings of the societies for the purpose of rendering them aid in their work.

5. No teacher shall take part in any debate or literary program.

6. Each society shall have a representative whose name shall be reported to the superintendent on whom the faculty may call at any time for information concerning the society and its work.

7. The sessions of the societies must not interfere with the retiring hour at either Lovill Home or Newland Hall.

Public School Teachers

Special attention is given to public school teachers and those preparing to teach. Courses will be given to suit their needs. No tuition will be charged in the courses for teachers. At the close of the summer term an examination is held on each study in the public school course and certificates given to those who pass the examination. These certificates are issued by the County Superintendent of Watauga County and are recognized by the Superintendents of many counties.

In order to receive free tuition the following pledge must be signed:

PLEDGE.

I,, am ... years old. My object in obtaining free tuition in the Appalachian Training School, Boone, N. C., is to qualify myself for teaching; and I hereby promise to teach after leaving it, at least two years in the public schools of North Carolina, if I have opportunity. I further promise to attend regularly and faithfully upon the exercises required and to conform cheerfully to the rules that may be prescribed. Should I for any reason fail to teach, as agreed, I promise to refund to the school the amount of tuition which I have received.

Date,, 19....

Applicants must be 16 years of age and of irreproachable character.

When the teacher teaches the two years a report, signed by the county superintendent in the county or counties where the school was taught, should be sent to the Superintendent.

School Year

The school year is divided into four terms. The fall term, the winter term, and the spring term makes the year's work for the Advanced Department. The first term's work of the first year may be taken in either term. The Normal work is kept up all the time.

The School Day

Except for the summer term, the day is divided into ten periods. The recitation work begins at 8:45. Chapel exercises are held from 11:30 to 12:00. There is no school work on Monday.

Recitations

1. Students who miss recitations will be held responsible for them. The teacher in charge of the class will require the student to prepare and recite the missed recitations. If this is not done within one week something will be taken from the grade of the student.

2. No student will be passed on a subject who has missed more than one-fourth of the recitations during any month, unless he is able to pass an examination on the work gone over during the month.

Examinations

At the close of each term examinations are held on each study pursued during the term. The grading includes the class work, the department, and the examination. Figures are used in making the report as to the standing of a student in a certain branch as follows: A figure 1, 2, 3, or 4 indicates that the student passes the work gone over; a figure 5 indicates that a new examination must be taken; and a figure 6 indicates that the work has not been satisfactory and must be gone over again.

A record of the standing of each pupil is kept in the office.

Tuition

Public school teachers are charged no tuition for the teachers' course. In the advanced grades arrangements will be made to give work in teaching to pay tuition. Those who are not teachers will pay a small tuition fee according to the work taken.

Fees

Every student on registering pays a fee of one dollar. Other small fees are charged to pay for materials used in the Domestic Science Department and the elementary sciences.

Scholarships

Through the kindness of the authorities a scholarship granting free tuition is given by the University of North Carolina, and also one by Trinity College. These scholarships are given to the most worthy students.

Board

All young women are expected to board in Lovill Home. If for any good reason another boarding place is desired, permission must be obtained from the faculty. Young men may choose their boarding places.

It is earnestly requested that the boarding house keepers will co-operate with the faculty in helping to control their boarders and in helping to carry out the few simple regulations that are so necessary for a co-educational institution.

The price of board at Lovill Home will remain $6.50 when paid in advance. The other boarding houses charge $10.00 per month. The charges in private families will be from $7.50 to $10.00 per month.

Women who board at Lovill Home must furnish the following articles to be used in their rooms: One pair sheets, one blanket, one quilt, one counterpane, one pillow with two cases, a spoon and a glass. Each girl must furnish her own towels and table napkins.

Each boarder must do a limited amount of dining-room work in addition to keeping her own room. Every article broken or lost from room must be replaced or paid for. One dollar is charged extra for corner rooms.

All board is due one month in advance. Under no circumstances can the Home give board on time. Everything is furnished at cost and no surplus is accumulated. The Home must pay for everything furnished from the farm. Patrons should read carefully these words.

Men pay $7.50 at Newland Hall, and are required to bring the same articles as women, and to keep their rooms and to sweep the halls. The Hall is on the same footing in regard to furnishing board on time.

Text-Books

The Book Room will keep on hand all the text-books required in the advanced department. These books are sold at wholesale prices for cash. Pencils, pens, tablets, and other articles are also sold. The book depository at the store of M. B. Blackburn will furnish all the public school books.

Athletic Association

An organization is maintained among the men for athletics. Officers are elected each term. The membership fee is twenty-five cents per year. The association manages the baseball games, the track team, and other sports.

Audubon Society

The Audubon Society is for those who desire to study the nature and habits of birds. A small fee is charged for the purchase of literature. Excursions are made on suitable days. A programme is given twice a month.

Teachers' Club

The faculty meet every Saturday night for the study and discussion of literary and other subjects.

The Alumni Association

The Alumni Association was organized in 1908. In the past it has been mainly a social organization. It hopes in the future to be of greater service both to the school and to the community. Any graduate of the Training School is eligible for membership. At each commencement a banquet is held. In the future the payment of the annual fee of fifty cents will entitle a member to attend the banquet.

General Information

The Appalachian Training School was established by the North Carolina Legislature during the session of 1903.

A bill authorizing the school was introduced in the lower house by Hon. W. C. Newland, of Caldwell County. Little opposition developed against the measure until it reached the Senate Committee on Education and was reported unfavorably by a majority vote. Senator R. B. White, of Franklin County, made a minority report. By the help of Senators Hoey, of Cleveland County, and Justice, of McDowell County, Senator White secured its passage in the Senate.

The act provided that the trustees from Alleghany, Ashe, Wilkes, Watauga, Caldwell, Mitchell, Yancey, and the County Superintendents of said counties, should meet at Blowing Rock within the month of May and select a location and begin the school. The meeting was called and presided over by State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner. Boone was selected as the location and the free use of Watauga Academy secured until a building could be erected.

Location

Boone is in Watauga County, in the northwestern part of North Carolina. There are mountains in every direction—Blue Ridge on east, Grandfather on south, Stone Mountain on west and Elk Knob on the north. The town is 3,333 feet above tide water. This elevation insures an excellent summer climate. Many enjoy the climate in winter better than the warmer and rainy weather of lower sections. There are few cases of serious sickness. About 400 quiet, industrious people live here. They welcome students into their homes and appreciate their presence in their social circles. Merchandise is sold at reasonable prices. Mails reach here from all the adjoining counties. A good telephone system connects us with all the important business towns and many country places. Good country roads lead to the railway stations. We are 33 miles from Lenoir, 40 miles from Wilkesboro, 23 miles from Elk Park, 25 miles from Mountain City, Tenn., 10 miles from Elkland, and 35 miles from Grandin.

How to Reach Boone

There is no railroad to Boone. The great majority of students come by private conveyances from the adjoining counties. Many, however, come from a greater distance and must come by railroad. The Carolina and Northwestern enters the State from South Carolina and comes northward. Connections are made at Gastonia with the Seaboard and at Hickory with the Southern. The terminus is Lenoir. Students are generally brought over in automobiles to Boone for $2.50. Trunks extra. The Watauga and Yadkin Valley road comes from Wilkesboro to Grandin. The charges from Grandin are a little greater than from Lenoir. The East Tennessee and Western North Carolina is a narrow gauge from Johnson City to Elk Park. Students can get conveyance from Elk Park to Boone for about $3.50. The Virginia and Carolina comes from Abington, Va., to Elkland, N. C. This is the nearest railroad station. We hope to arrange for students to be brought to Boone for about one dollar. If you come by rail notify the Superintendent a week before you start. He can often help you to get here and save time and money.

Grounds

The campus of seven acres of small white pines has been laid off in walks and drives by a landscape architect. A great amount of the driveways have been macadamized, the terraces sodded, the lawns sown in grass, and flowers and shrubs planted in all parts of the grounds.

The school owns six acres on the south side of the Boone and Blowing Rock turnpike, adjoining the campus. Newland Hall is built on a six-acre lot; the McNeil Cottage lot contains three acres. The Coffey farm adjoining the Newland Hall lot contains nearly two hundred acres of pasture, forest, and orchard lands. The Edminsten farm on New River, two miles east, has sixty acres of meadow land and one hundred and forty acres of timber land.

Buildings

Watauga Academy was built in 1899 by the people of Watauga County and generous friends elsewhere. On the first floor is the model primary room, domestic science kitchen, dining-room, sick room, and the book room. On the second floor are the library, printing office, sewing room, art room, library archive, and library. The building is of wood.

Administration Building is a two-story brick structure, 96 feet long by 64 feet wide. On the first floor are the office, business room, small chapel, and three recitation rooms. On the second floor are the auditorium and music rooms.

The Lovill Home is a frame structure used for a woman's boarding house. There are accommodations for 85 women. There are two society halls, two sitting rooms, and two study rooms in the building.

Newland Hall accommodates 40 young men. There are sitting rooms and a study room in the building.

The McNeil Cottage has rooms for about 10 girls who board themselves.

Science Hall is a brick structure with a basement and two floors. On the first floor are two recitation rooms and a lecture room, laboratories for the sciences, and the museum. The second floor has the Alumni Hall, men's society halls, and two recitation rooms.

A large brick dormitory for women is being completed. This building has seventy-two living rooms, parlors, society halls, library, rest rooms and study halls. The dining room will accommodate four hundred. All modern conveniences, water, steam heat, and electric lights are being installed.

Equipment

The recitation rooms are furnished with comfortable desks and seats. There are maps, globes, and charts where needed.

A small collection of rocks, minerals, Indian relics, shells, marine animals, etc., is being made. A compound microscope with seven dozen sections of the human body help in the study of physiology. The physical apparatus consists of thermometers, barometers, a hygrometer, an air pump, electric motors, magnets, electro-magnets, and various other things.

For botany there are microscopes, scalpels, scissors, preserving apparatus, etc. Zoölogy is greatly helped by many simple nets, collecting bottles, preserving cases and the like. A full supply of apparatus and chemicals for elementary chemistry have recently been purchased. A three-inch telescope, charts of the heavens, astronomical lantern, and other helps aid the students in astronomy.

Except the cottages, all the buildings and laboratories have running water and toilets.

Library

Miss Stephenson acts as librarian. The library is opened every afternoon for two hours. There have been about two hundred books purchased during the year. About 5,000 books are now accessible to students. Four daily papers are taken. All the local papers in the surrounding counties come to the library. Twenty or more magazines come monthly.

Literary Societies

The young men have two well organized and conducted literary societies, the Watauga and the Appalachian. These societies aid very much in training their members in debate, declamation, and composition work. They have weekly sessions in their halls.

There are also two societies for young women, the Euterpean and the Calliopean. The sessions of these societies are held in their halls in the Lovill Home. The culture these four societies give their members is highly appreciated by friends of the school.

The following rules apply to each society:

1. None but members can attend.
2. No one can join until they have been in school two weeks.
3. The membership of each of the young men's societies must be less than three-fifths of the young men enrolled.
4. Rule 3 applies to the young women's societies.
5. Members must get excuses from a member of the faculty for all absences.
6. Every student is requested to join one of the societies.

In addition to the foregoing rules the following have been added:

1. All the societies shall meet on Saturday evening, one hour after the supper bell rings. This meeting shall be for literary exercises only.

2. Regular or call meetings for business may be held on any afternoon after school.

3. That in as much as the school has furnished halls, it is thought wise that in the future each society furnish its own wood and lights, and care for its hall.

4. Members of the faculty will from time to time visit the literary meetings of the societies for the purpose of rendering them aid in their work.

5. No teacher shall take part in any debate or literary program.

6. Each society shall have a representative whose name shall be reported to the superintendent on whom the faculty may call at any time for information concerning the society and its work.

7. The sessions of the societies must not interfere with the retiring hour at either Lovill Home or Newland Hall.

School Year

The school year is divided into four terms. The fall term, the winter term, and the spring term makes the year's work for the Advanced Department. The first term's work of the first year may be taken in either term. The Normal work is kept up all the time.

The School Day

Except for the summer term, the day is divided into ten periods. The recitation work begins at 8:45. Chapel exercises are held from 11:45 to 12:00. There is no school work on Monday.

Recitations

1. Students who miss recitations will be held responsible for them. The teacher in charge of the class will require the student to prepare and recite the missed recitations. If this is not done within one week something will be taken from the grade of the student.

2. No student will be passed on a subject who has missed more than one-fourth of the recitations during any month, unless he is able to pass an examination on the work gone over during the month.

Examinations

At the close of each term examinations are held on each study pursued during the term. The grading includes the class work, the department, and the examination. Figures are used in making the report as to the standing of a student in a certain branch as follows: A figure 1, 2, 3, or 4 indicates that the student passes the work gone over; a figure 5 indicates that a new examination must be taken; and a figure 6 indicates that the work has not been satisfactory and must be gone over again.

A record of the standing of each pupil is kept in the office.

Games

For young men there is an excellent ball ground. No games are allowed during the regular school hours. The baseball team can not leave the neighborhood to play match games without permission from the faculty.

The young women have grounds for croquet, tennis, and other games.

Students are urged to be in the open air as much as possible. There are many interesting walks near the school. Young women do not leave the school grounds for walks without a teacher.

A Regulation

Young women and young men are not expected to board at the same places or to associate together on any occasion. There may be a few times when this regulation is suspended. At these times the suspension is announced at the chapel.

Government

Students who enter the school are supposed to be able to govern themselves and act with propriety. Recognizing this fact there are but few rules and these are easily obeyed. When necessary the faculty will reprimand or punish students. Seldom has it been necessary to use harsh means.

Visiting

No student is expected to leave the neighborhood without permission. Young women must show written permission from their parents before they will be allowed to spend the night from their regular boarding places.

Requests for permission to be absent must be granted by the faculty before a student can leave the neighborhood.

Religious Influences

The chapel exercises are opened by reading the Scriptures and prayer. The young women have a prayer meeting on Wednesday evenings. The young men meet Sunday afternoons and hold religious exercises.

The pastors of the town churches often open the school and give talks on religious subjects. Students are requested to attend Sunday School and preaching in the different churches.

Athletic Association

An organization is maintained among the men for athletics. Officers are elected each term. The membership fee is twenty-five cents per year. The association manages the baseball games, the track team, and other sports.

The association has a representative to the faculty.

Audubon Society

The Audubon Society is for those who desire to study the nature and habits of birds. A small fee is charged for the purchase of literature. Excursions are made on suitable days. A programme is given twice a month.

Teachers' Club

The faculty meet every Saturday night for the study and discussion of literary and other subjects.

The Alumni Association

The Alumni Association was organized in 1908. In the past it has been mainly a social organization. It hopes in the future to be of greater service both to the school and to the community. Any graduate of the Training School is eligible for membership. At each commencement a banquet is held. In the future the payment of the annual fee of fifty cents will entitle a member to attend the banquet.

At the last meeting of the association plans were proposed for increasing the Loan Fund to be used to help worthy students.

County Clubs

Where there are as many as five students from the same county an organization is recommended to be known as the county club of the name of the county. The object of these clubs is to acquaint the members with their county. Seven of these clubs were organized during the year.

Board

All young women are expected to board in Lovill Home. If for any good reason another boarding place is desired, permission must be obtained from the faculty. Young men may choose their boarding places.

It is earnestly requested that the boarding house keepers will cooperate with the faculty in helping to control their boarders and in helping to carry out the few simple regulations that are so necessary for a co-educational institution.

The price of board at Lovill Home will remain $6.50 when paid in advance. The other boarding houses charge $10.00 per month. The charges in private families will be from $7.50 to $10.00 per month.

Young women furnished their lights and did their laundry in the school laundry.

Women who board at Lovill Home must furnish the following articles to be used in their rooms: One pair sheets, one blanket, one quilt, one counterpane, one pillow with two cases, a spoon and a glass. Each girl must furnish her own towels and table napkins.

Each boarder must do a limited amount of dining-room work in addition to keeping her own room. Every article broken or lost from room must be replaced or paid for.

All board is due one month in advance. Under no circumstances can the Home give board on time. Everything is furnished at cost and no surplus is accumulated. The Home must pay for everything furnished from the farm. Patrons should read carefully these words.

Men pay $7.50 at Newland Hall, and are required to bring the same articles as women, and to keep their rooms and to sweep the halls. The Hall is on the same footing in regard to furnishing board on time. Young men furnished their lights. Their laundry cost from 50 cents to one dollar per month.

Fees

Each student must register at the beginning of each term and pay a fee of one dollar. There are other fees in the elementary sciences, and the Domestic Science Department. These fees are spent in paying the janitors and purchasing fuel.

Tuition

No tuition is charged those who take the pledge to teach in the regular teachers' course.

Students who take the pledge to teach are given free tuition in the teachers' course.

In the higher branches an opportunity is given students to do a certain amount of work to pay tuition charges.

Students who do not sign the pledge to teach are charged nine dollars per year tuition.

Scholarships

The school has been given a scholarship in each of the following colleges: University of North Carolina, Trinity College, and Wake Forest College. These scholarships give free tuition.

Public School Teachers

Special attention is given to public school teachers and those preparing to teach. Courses will be given to suit their needs. No tuition will be charged in the courses for teachers. At the close of the summer term an examination is held on each study in the public school course and certificates given to those who pass the examination. These certificates are issued by the County Superintendent of Watauga County and are recognized by the Superintendents of many counties.

In order to receive free tuition the following pledge must be signed:

PLEDGE.

I,, am ... years old. My object in obtaining free tuition in the Appalachian Training School, Boone, N. C., is to qualify myself for teaching; and I hereby promise to teach after leaving it, at least two years in the public schools of North Carolina, if I have opportunity. I further promise to attend regularly and faithfully upon the exercises required and to conform cheerfully to the rules that may be prescribed. Should I for any reason fail to teach, as agreed, I promise to refund to the school the amount of tuition which I have received.

Date,....., 19....

Applicant must be 16 years of age and of irreproachable character.

When the teacher teaches the two years a report, signed by the county superintendent in the county or counties where the school was taught, should be sent to the Superintendent.

Text-Books

The Book Room will keep on hand all the text-books required in the advanced department. These books are sold at wholesale prices for cash. Pencils, pens, tablets, and other articles are also sold. The book depository at the store of M. B. Blackburn will furnish all the public school books.

Business

There was no regular business class organized. Business methods are taught in the preparatory department.

Spelling

First Year.

Hunt's Progressive Course in Spelling. Part II.

Second Year.

Benson and Glenn's Speller and Definer.

Third Year.

Sandwick and Bacon's The High School Word Book.

Fourth Year.

Bowen's English Word.

The above makes an extensive study of etymology, diacritical marks, uses and history of words.

Preparatory Department

A two years preparatory department is kept up for those who are not able to take up the work of the First Year.

The first year will spend some time in reviewing the public school studies and doing some supplementary work.

The second year covers the work of the usual eighth grade. These courses are planned to meet the needs of the students and cannot be made very definite.

Summer School

Events of the Year

The school year began August 20th with all the regular teachers present. Misses Browne and Campbell came in a few weeks later.

September 4th. Conference of the people of Watauga. Addresses were made by Messrs. W. W. Stringfellow, B. B. Dougherty, M. H. Norris and C. D. Taylor. Mrs. Lindsay Patterson and Mrs. W. W. Stringfellow read papers. Capt. E. F. Lovill, Rev. L. C. Wilson and others made brief talks. Miss Bridge and Mrs. W. Ed. Shipley conducted a meeting for women in the afternoon.

September 19th. Anniversary of the Literary Societies. George R. Sherrill, Watauga; Grant L. Donnelly, Appalachian; Madge Millner, Calliopean and Hatt Choat, Euterpean.

September 23d. The school in a body attended the Farmers' Institute at the courthouse.

September. A supper was given the Confederate soldiers by the Junior Class in Cooking.

September. Col. Fred Olds, of Raleigh, gave a number of talks to the school after school hours.

October. The school in a body led by representatives from the literary societies wandered over fields around town till noon. A picnic dinner was eaten near Mr. Will Gragg's.

October. Rev. Edgar Tufts of Lees-McRae Institute, Banner Elk, preached to the school.

November. Rev. Mr. Bagby, of Montezuma, preached to the school.

November 27th. Contest from High Schools from adjoining counties for declaimers' prize. The prize, a five dollar gold piece, was won by Miss Annie Lou Downs of Oak Hill School, Caldwell County.

At the above meeting an oil painting of Daniel Boone by Lloyd Branson, of Knoxville, was presented to the school. This fine painting was secured through the efforts of Prof. Joseph Robinson, of Carson-Newman College.

December 5th. County Clubs organized.

December 31st. The students gathered at 10 o'clock in the auditorium and watched the old year go out. At midnight a student read "Ring Out the Old, Ring in the New." All the bells in town were rung.

January 2d. McNeil Cottage burned. The lady teachers were living there. No property was saved.

February 13th. Lincoln Day Exercises given by the Third Year class.

February 14th. Valentine party given in the auditorium.

February. Rev. M. L. Carpenter preached to the school.

March 20th. Peace Programme given by the Second Year class.

April 4th. Easter Programme given by the Music classes.

April 19th. Play given by Senior class. Farmer Haskins.

April 30th. Spring term closes. No mention can be made of the summer term.

Extension Work

The school desires to reach as many people as possible and offers its services along the following lines:

1. The Librarian will furnish any information she can for debates, compositions, historical research, etc. Postage must be paid on literature sent out.

2. A bulletin will be issued and sent to all interested schools to give them an idea of the work being done in the lower grades. Any questions about the use of text-books, courses of study and such things is encouraged.

3. A file of the names of students who desire positions is kept and an effort is made to secure suitable teachers for public schools and State high schools.

4. Members of the faculty will be glad to visit any school in reach and make talks on subjects along their lines of work.

5. The school can often furnish speakers for educational gatherings and commencements.

Graduates

From 1901 to 1904 the school was known as Watauga Academy.

1901

General Information

The Appalachian Training School was established by the North Carolina Legislature during the session of 1903.

A bill authorizing the School was introduced in the lower House by Hon. W. C. Newland of Caldwell County. Little opposition developed against the measure until it reached the Senate Committee on Education, which reported it unfavorably by a majority vote. Senator R. B. White of Franklin County made a minority report. By the help of Senators Hoey of Cleveland County, and Justice of McDowell County, Senator White secured its passage in the Senate.

The act provided that the trustees from Alleghany, Ashe, Wilkes, Watauga, Caldwell, Mitchell, Yancey, and the county superintendents of said counties, should meet at Blowing Rock within the month of May and select a location and begin the School. The meeting was called and presided over by State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner. Boone was selected as the location and the free use of Watauga Academy secured until a building could be erected.

Location

Boone is in Watauga County, in the northwestern part of North Carolina. There are mountains in every direction—Blue Ridge on east, Grandfather on south, Stone Mountain on west, and Elk Knob on the north. The town is 3,333 feet above tidewater. This elevation insures an excellent summer climate. Many enjoy the climate in winter better than the warmer and rainy weather of lower sections. There are few cases of serious sickness. About 400 quiet, industrious people live here. They welcome students into their homes and appreciate their presence in their social circles. Merchandise is sold at reasonable prices. Mails reach here from all the adjoining counties. A good telephone system connects us with all the important business towns and many country places. Good country roads lead to the railway stations. We are 33 miles from Lenoir, 40 miles from Wilkesboro, 23 miles from Elk Park, 25 miles from Mountain City, Tenn., 10 miles from Elkland, and 35 miles from Grandin.

How to Reach Boone

There is no railroad to Boone. The great majority of students come by private conveyances from the adjoining counties. Many, however, come from a greater distance, and must come by railroad. The Carolina and Northwestern enters the State from South Carolina and comes northward. Connections are made at Gastonia with the Seaboard and at Hickory with the Southern. The terminus is Lenoir. Students are generally brought over in automobiles to Boone for $2.50; trunks extra. The Watauga and Yadkin Valley road comes from Wilkesboro to Grandin. The charges from Grandin are a little greater than from Lenoir. The Linville River Railroad has been extended from Montezuma to Shull's Mills. Passengers can be brought here for about $1. The Virginia and Carolina Railroad comes to Elkland, within 10 miles of Boone. The mail brings students here for $1.

It is well to write the Superintendent a few days before you start. He can often save you money.

Grounds

The campus of 7 acres of small white pines has been laid off in walks and drives by a landscape architect. A great amount of the driveways have been macadamized, the terraces sodded, the lawns sown in grass, and flowers and shrubs planted in all parts of the grounds.

The school owns 6 acres on the south side of the Boone and Blowing Rock turnpike, adjoining the campus. Newland Hall is built on a 6-acre lot; the McNeil Cottage lot contains 3 acres. The Coffey farm adjoining the Newland Hall lot contains nearly 200 acres of pasture, forest, and orchard lands. The Edminsten farm on New River, 2 miles east, has 60 acres of meadow land and 140 acres of timber land.

Buildings

Watauga Academy was built in 1899 by the people of Watauga County and generous friends elsewhere. Art is taught on first floor. On the second floor are the library, printing office, sewing room, archive, and library. The building is of wood.

Administration Building is a two-story brick structure, 96 feet long by 64 feet wide. On the first floor are the office, business room, small chapel, and three recitation rooms. On the second floor are the auditorium and music rooms.

The Lovill Home is a frame structure used for a woman's boarding-house. There are accommodations for 85 women. There are two society halls, two sitting rooms, and two study rooms in the building.

Newland Hall accommodates 40 young men. There are sitting rooms and a study room in the building.

Science Hall is a brick structure with a basement and two floors. On the first floor are three recitation rooms and a lecture room, laboratories for the sciences, and the museum. The second floor has the Alumni Hall, men's society halls, and two recitation rooms.

There is a large brick dormitory for women. This building has seventy-two living rooms, parlors, society halls, library, rest rooms, and study halls. The dining-room will accommodate 400. All modern conveniences, water, steam heat, and electric lights, are in use.

Equipment

The recitation rooms are furnished with comfortable desks and seats. There are maps, globes, and charts where needed. A small collection of rocks, minerals, Indian relics, shells, marine animals, etc., is being made. A compound microscope with seven dozen sections of the human body help in the study of physiology. The physical apparatus consists of thermometers, barometers, a hygrometer, an air pump, electric motors, magnets, electro-magnets, and various other things.

For botany there are microscopes, scalpels, scissors, preserving apparatus, etc. Zoölogy is greatly helped by many simple nets, collecting bottles, preserving cases, and the like. A full supply of apparatus and chemicals for elementary chemistry have recently been purchased. A 3-inch telescope, charts of the heavens, astronomical lantern, and other helps aid the students in astronomy.

Except the cottages, all the buildings and laboratories have running water and toilets.

Library

There have been about 200 books purchased during the year. About 5,000 books are now accessible to students. Five daily papers are taken. All the local papers in the surrounding counties come to the library. Twenty or more magazines come monthly.

Literary Societies

The young men have two well organized and conducted literary societies, the Watauga and the Appalachian. These societies aid very much in training their members in debate, declamation, and composition. They have weekly sessions in their halls.

There are also two societies for young women, the Euterpean and the Calliopean. The sessions of these societies are held in their halls in New Dormitory. The culture these four societies give their members is highly appreciated by friends of the School.

The following rules apply to each society:

1. None but members can attend.
2. No one can join until he or she has been in school two weeks.
3. The membership of each of the young men's societies must be less than three-fifths of the young men enrolled.
4. Rule 3 applies to the young women's societies.
5. Members must get excuses from a member of the faculty for all absences.

6. Every student is requested to join one of the societies.

In addition to the foregoing rules, the following have been added:

1. All the societies shall meet on Saturday evening, one hour after the supper bell rings. This meeting shall be for literary exercises only.

2. Regular or call meetings for business may be held on any afternoon after school.

3. That inasmuch as the School has furnished halls, it is thought wise that in the future each society furnish its own wood and lights, and care for its hall.

4. Members of the faculty will from time to time visit the literary meetings of the societies for the purpose of rendering them aid in their work.

5. No teacher shall take part in any debate or literary program.

6. Each society shall have a representative, whose name shall be reported to the superintendent, on whom the faculty may call at any time for information concerning the society and its work.

7. The sessions of the societies must not interfere with the retiring hour at either Lovill Home or Newland Hall.

School Year

The school year is divided into four terms. The fall term, the winter term, and the spring term make the year's work for the Advanced Department. The first term's work of the eighth year may be taken in either term and also during the summer term. The Normal work is kept up during each term.

The School Day

Except for the summer term, the day is divided into ten periods. The recitation work begins at 8:40. Chapel exercises are held from 11:40 to 12. There is no school work on Monday.

Recitations

1. Students who miss recitations will be held responsible for them. The teacher in charge of the class will require the student to prepare and recite the missed recitations. If this is not done within one week, something will be taken from the grade of the student.

2. No student will be passed on a subject who has missed more than one-fourth of the recitations during any month, unless he is able to pass an examination on the work gone over during the month.

Examinations

At the close of each term examinations are held on each study pursued during the term. The grading includes the class work, the department, and the examination. Figures are used in making the report as to the standing of a student in a certain branch as follows: a figure 1, 2, 3, or 4 indicates that the student passes the work gone over; a figure 5 indicates that a new examination must be taken; and a figure 6 indicates that the work has not been satisfactory and must be gone over again.

A record is kept in the office of the standing of each pupil.

Games

For young men there is an excellent ball ground. No games are allowed during the regular school hours. The baseball team cannot leave the neighborhood to play match games without permission from the faculty.

The young women have grounds for croquet, tennis, basketball, and other games.

Students are urged to be in the open air as much as possible. There are many interesting walks near the School. Young women do not leave the School grounds for walks without a teacher.

A Regulation

Young women and young men are not expected to board at the same places or to associate together on any occasion. There may be a few times when this regulation is suspended. At these times the suspension is announced at the chapel.

Government

Students who enter the School are supposed to be able to govern themselves and act with propriety. Recognizing this fact, there are but few rules, and these are easily obeyed. When necessary, the faculty will reprimand or punish students. Seldom has it been necessary to use harsh means.

Visiting

No student is expected to leave the neighborhood without permission. Young women must show written permission from their parents before they will be allowed to spend the night from their regular boarding places.

Requests for permission to be absent must be granted by the faculty before a student can leave the neighborhood.

Religious Influences

The chapel exercises are opened by reading the Scriptures and prayer. The young women have a prayer-meeting on Wednesday evenings. The young men meet Sunday afternoons and hold religious exercises.

The pastors of the town churches often attend chapel and give talks on religious subjects. Students are requested to attend Sunday-school and preaching in the different churches.

Athletic Association

An organization is maintained among the men for athletics. Officers are elected each term. The membership fee is 25 cents per year. The association manages the baseball games, the track team, and other sports.

The association has a representative to the faculty.

Teachers' Club

The faculty meet every Saturday night for the study and discussion of literary and other subjects.

The Alumni Association

The Alumni Association was organized in 1908. In the past it has been mainly a social organization. It hopes in the future to be of greater service both to the School and to the community. Any graduate of the Training School is eligible for membership. At each commencement a banquet is held. In the future the payment of the annual fee of 50 cents will entitle a member to attend the banquet.

Board

All young women are expected to board in New Dormitory. If for any good reason another boarding place is desired, permission must be obtained from the faculty. Young men may choose their boarding places.

It is earnestly requested that the boarding-house keepers will coöperate with the faculty in helping to control their boarders and in helping to carry out the few simple regulations that are so necessary for a coeducational institution.

The price of board at Lovill Home will remain $6.50 when paid in advance. The other boarding-houses charge $10 per month. The charges in private families will be from $7.50 to $10 per month.

Young women furnish their lights and do their laundry in the school laundry.

Women who board in New Dormitory must furnish the following articles to be used in their rooms: One pair sheets, one blanket, one quilt, one counterpane, one pillow with two cases, a spoon, and a glass. Each girl must furnish her own towels and table napkins.

Each boarder must do a limited amount of dining-room work in addition to keeping her own room. Every article broken or lost from room must be replaced or paid for.

All board is due one month in advance. Under no circumstances can the Home give board on time. Everything is furnished at cost and no surplus is accumulated. The Home must pay for everything furnished from the farm. Patrons should read carefully these words.

Men pay $7.50 at Newland Hall, and are required to bring the same articles as women, and to keep their rooms and to sweep the halls. The Hall is on the same footing in regard to furnishing board on time. Young men furnish their lights. Their laundry costs from 50 cents to $1 per month.

Fees

Each student must register at the beginning of each term and pay a fee of $1. There are other fees in the elementary sciences, and the Household Economics departments. These fees are spent in paying the janitors and purchasing fuel and materials.

Tuition

No tuition is charged those who take the pledge to teach in the regular teachers' course.

Students who take the pledge to teach are given free tuition in the teachers' course.

In the higher branches an opportunity is given students to do a certain amount of work to pay tuition charges.

Students who do not sign the pledge to teach are charged $9 per year tuition.

Scholarships

The School has been given a scholarship in each of the following colleges: University of North Carolina, Trinity College, and Wake Forest College. These scholarships give free tuition.

Public School Teachers

Special attention is given to public school teachers and those preparing to teach. Courses will be given to suit their needs.

No tuition will be charged in the courses for teachers. At the close of the summer term an examination is held on each study in the public school course and certificates given to those who pass the examination. These certificates are issued by the county superintendent of Watauga County and are recognized by the superintendents of many counties.

In order to receive free tuition the following pledge must be signed:

PLEDGE

I,, am years old. My object in obtaining free tuition in the Appalachian Training School, Boone, N. C., is to qualify myself for teaching; and I hereby promise to teach, after leaving it, at least two years in the public schools of North Carolina, if I have opportunity. I further promise to attend regularly and faithfully upon the exercises required and to conform cheerfully to the rules that may be prescribed. Should I for any reason fail to teach, as agreed, I promise to refund to the School the amount of tuition which I have received.

Dated,, 19....

Applicant must be 16 years of age and of irreproachable character.

When the teacher teaches the two years a report, signed by the county superintendent in the county or counties where the school was taught, should be sent to the superintendent of this School.

Text-Books

The Book Room will keep on hand all the text-books required in the advanced department. These books are sold at wholesale prices for cash. Pencils, pens, tablets, and other articles are also sold. The book depository at the store of M. B. Blackburn will furnish all the public school books.

The Eighth Grade prepares for the first year in the Advanced Department.

The Introductory is required of those who need more drill in the public school subjects.

The Teachers' Grade is a special preparation for those who desire to teach.

Courses of Study

ADVANCED DEPARTMENT

Mathematics

First Year.

W. W. STEDMAN

The student should have studied carefully a High School Arithmetic and given a term's study to Algebra before entering this class. An effort will be made to complete an Elementary Algebra during the year.

Second Year.

An Advanced Algebra will be taken up at the beginning of the year and studied the whole time. The more difficult chapters will receive a fair amount of time.

Third Year.

The whole of Plane Geometry will be gone over, with special attention to exercises.

Fourth Year.

The fall and winter terms will be devoted to Solid Geometry.

The spring term will be devoted to a study of Wentworth's Plane Trigonometry.

Latin

First Year.

J. M. DOWNUM

A student entering this class is expected to have studied a beginner's Latin for one year. The year will be given to a study of Bennett's Foundation of Latin, Roman History, and Latin Composition.

Second Year.

Rolfe and Denison's Junior Latin will receive the greater part of the attention of the class for the entire year, with Latin Composition and a study of Construction.

Third Year.

The year's work will be given to the writings of Cicero, Latin Composition, and a critical study of the Grammar.

Fourth Year.

Virgil's Æneid will be read. Attention will be given to meter and the style of Virgil, with Latin Composition. Mythology will be studied.

Classes will be organized, if necessary, in Livy and Horace.

History

I. G. GREER

"Because of its general value for good citizenship, History claims a respectable place in the high school." Every student should know something about our own world and the people in it, since it is here that we must live and do our life work.

First Year.

This year is given to the study of Ancient History. Special stress is placed upon the events and evolution of this period, that enables the student to articulate it with the life of today. The Greek civilization and the Roman imperial world, on which so much of our modern life is based, are emphasized. Students are required to make outlines of the text and to take notes on parallel readings. Themes on important topics are required. Text: West's Ancient World.

Second Year.

Modern History, from Charlemagne to the present time, is covered during this year. This course is a companion to the work done in the first year. The student is led to understand how the present European powers were organized and developed into great nations. Special prominence is given to the period since the French Revolution. English history is emphasized, showing how it has affected American history. Themes and note-books are required of the pupils. Text: West's Modern World.

Third Year.

American History and Government. The topic method is largely used. Subjects that have affected the development of our national life are taken up and followed through the entire history of our country. Large place is given to the economic, social, and industrial development of the United States. The growth and influence of the West is given special study.

Fourth Year.

History of Education. This course aims at familiarizing the student with the educational development of the different periods of history, and with the educators representing these periods. Text: A Brief Course in the History of Education (Monroe).

NOTE.—The course as given above will be carried out during 1916-17.

Science

D. D. DOUGHERTY

First Year.

The year is devoted to a careful study of the human body and sanitation. Overton's Advanced Physiology is used. Laboratory work is required during the year.

Second Year.

Half the year is given to Zoölogy. Laboratory work is required. Colton's Zoölogy.

Half the year will be given to Chemistry. Laboratory work required. Williams' Chemistry.

Third Year.

Half the year is given to Astronomy. Observations are made and constellations learned when the nights are suitable. Young's Lessons in Astronomy.

The second half of the year is devoted to Botany. Bergen and Caldwell's Introduction to Botany.

Fourth Year.

The whole year is given to the study of Physics. Regular laboratory work is required.

Millikan and Gale's Elementary Physics.

English

ROY M. BROWN

First Year.

I. Composition and Rhetoric. Text: Lockwood and Emerson's Composition and Rhetoric. This course begins with a review of the more important principles of grammar and of the rules for punctuation. The student is drilled in the general principles of theme-writing. The course closes with a detailed study of letter-writing.

II. Reading. Selections from the Old Testament; The Sketch Book, Irving; The Courtship of Miles Standish, Longfellow; The Deserted Village, Goldsmith; and Elegy, Gray.

Second Year.

I. Composition and Rhetoric. Text: Lockwood and Emerson's Composition and Rhetoric. The emphasis this year is on Narration and Description.

II. Reading.—Silas Marner, George Eliot; Treasure Island, Stevenson; The Oregon Trail, Parkman; The Rime of the Ancient Mariner, Coleridge; The Idylls of the King (selections), Tennyson.

Third Year.

I. Composition and Rhetoric. Text: Lockwood and Emerson's Composition and Rhetoric. The first term of this year is devoted to Exposition; the second, to the paragraph and the sentence; and the third, to the drama and poetic forms.

II. Reading.—The Life of Johnson, Macaulay; Conciliation with America, Burke; As You Like It, Merchant of Venice, and Macbeth, Shakespeare; Milton's Minor Poems.

Fourth Year.

American Literature.—Texts: Long's American Literature, Calhoun and MacAlarney's Readings from American Literature. Frequent themes based upon the literature read.

Home Economics

S. ELIZABETH BRIDGE

First Year.

I. Elementary Cookery.—This course comprises a study of the food principles and the processes of cookery best adapted to each.

II. Elementary Serving.—This course gives the principles of good service and provides practice in setting tables.

Second Year.

III. Advanced Cookery.—Advanced cookery provides practice in and application of principles studied in Course I, and includes practice in fancy cookery.

IV. Serving.—This is a continuation of Course III, and provides practice in menu-making.

V. Home Nursing and Invalid Cookery.—This course is designed to give simple instruction in the care of the sick and in the preparation of their meals.

VI. Household Administration.—This course sums up the entire course of Domestic Science, including cleaning, care of furniture, household accounts, and marketing.

Time—Two lessons per week, one and one-half hours each.

Fee—One dollar ($1) per term, to pay for materials used.

Text-book—Food and Dietetics, Norton (cost, $1).

Third Year.

VII. Elementary Sewing and Drafting.—Cutting, fitting, drafting patterns to measure for simple garments, and a brief study of textiles will be given in this course.

Fourth Year.

VIII. Advanced Sewing.—This is a continuation of Course VII, and will take up the study of skirts and coats.

IX. Textiles and Design.—Textile manufacture, color combinations and costume design will be studied in this course.

X. Millinery.—This course embraces a study of construction of frames, bandeaux, bow making, renovating, cleaning, and the principles of trimming. Spring term.

Time—Two lessons per week, one hour each.

Text-book—Textiles and Clothing, Watson ($1).

Miss Bridge's salary is paid by a special appropriation.

The kitchen is supplied with individual gasoline stoves. The sewing room has three Singer sewing machines. This department is very well equipped.

Instrumental Music

ESTHER STANBURY

The courses of study here prescribed are for earnest students who want to attain real excellence. A careful study of the requirements and capabilities of each pupil is made. A thorough training in the fundamental principles of technique is given. Recitals are given in which etudes by Kohler and Burgmuller, pieces by Gurlitt, Lichtner, Clementi, and others, are used. Technical exercises throughout the course.

First Year.

Two dollars per month is charged for instrumental music and 50 cents per month for use of instrument. The department uses five pianos.

Vocal Music

CORRIE DODSON

The training of the voice has not only a musical value, but also a hygienic value. In teaching the pupil to sing the purest tone with the greatest ease, he is also taught to breathe correctly, this being one of the greatest aids in strengthening and developing the vocal organs.

Studies suited to the peculiar needs of each voice are used in order that the pupils may acquire the technical qualities, accent, attack, legato, and enunciation.

In addition to this, great attention is paid to the phrasing and interpretation of songs.

First Year.

Breath control, voice placing, tone production. Behuke and Pearce Vocal Studies. Also Concone's Vocal Works. Songs suited to the needs of each pupil.

Second Year.

Marchesi's Italian studies for the development of Messa-divoce, portamento, staccato, trill, scales, major and minor.

Songs by the old masters as well as the modern composers.

Third Year.

Technics for development of flexibility. Marchesi's studies continued. Songs selected for each pupil.

Fourth Year.

Oral Technics.—Songs by Schubert, Schumann, and Haydn. Selections from oratorios and operas.

A four years course will be offered in this work. Two years can be taken in the classrooms. Two years work must be by private lessons.

A charge of $2 per month is made. The singing in the classes is not charged for.

Art

ANNIE MATNEY

First Year.

Sketching in pencil, charcoal, crayon, and pen and ink.
Painting in pastel and water color.

Second Year.

Pastel, water color, and oil painting. Landscape and still-life sketching from nature.

Third Year.

Outdoor sketching. Study of the anatomy of the human figure. History of Art.

Fourth Year.

A charge of $2 per month is made and a small fee for use of room is collected.

Pedagogy

B. B. DOUGHERTY

First Year.

A course in Primary Methods.

Second Year.

The above makes an extensive study of etymology, diacritical marks, uses and history of words.

Preparatory Department

Mr. Greene, Miss Reid, Miss Stephenson, and assistants taught classes in this department. The Drawing was taught by Miss Matney and the Vocal Music by Miss Dodson.

LibraryBETTIE STEPHENSON

Each student is required to spend a period each day in the library. The student is at liberty to study his lessons, to read or do research work. A record is kept of the attendance and deportment during this period. Suggestions about what to read are constantly being made by the teachers and the librarian.

Summer Terms

In addition to the regular summer term, there was a second summer term of six weeks. The first term began May 30 and closed July 7. The second term began July 11 and closed August 18. The first term enrolled 240 students. The second term began during the freshet, while the roads and bridges were in bad condition. There were enrolled 65 students. Some make-up work was given in the higher grades. The "C" term of the Eighth Grade was completed by a class. There was an examination at the close of each term for teachers' certificates. Especial attention is called to the fine work done by Miss Land in the Primary Department. Miss Butler gave courses in hand work, Miss Van Dusen in vocal music, Miss James in writing, and Miss Kincaid in sewing, cooking and drawing. The afternoons were given over to lectures till 3 p. m. Tramps were taken after this hour to near-by places of interest. Howard's Knob, Three Forks, Power Plant, School farm, and other places were visited. Vesper services were conducted from twilight to dark on the campus or in the auditorium.

The students were divided into groups:

Group I. For inexperienced teachers.

Group II. For teachers with little experience.

Group III. For teachers who want to specialize in a few subjects.

Board for men and women was $2 per week. Registration fee, $2.

Extension Work

The School desires to reach as many people as possible, and offers its services along the following lines:

The librarian will furnish any information she can for debates, compositions, historical research, etc. Postage must be paid on literature sent out.

2. A bulletin will be issued and sent to all interested schools to give them an idea of the work being done in the lower grades. Questions about the use of text-books, courses of study, and such things are encouraged.

3. A file of the names of students who desire positions is kept, and an effort is made to secure suitable teachers for public schools and State high schools.

4. Members of the faculty will be glad to visit any school in reach and make talks on subjects along their lines of work.

5. The School can often furnish speakers for educational gatherings and commencements.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Appalachian Training School was established by the North Carolina Legislature during the session of 1903.

A bill authorizing the School was introduced in the Lower House by Hon. W. C. Newland, of Caldwell County. Little opposition developed against the measure until it reached the Senate Committee on Education, which reported it unfavorably by a majority vote. Senator R. B. White, of Franklin County, made a minority report. By the help of Senators Hoey, of Cleveland County, and Justice, of McDowell County, Senator White secured its passage in the Senate.

The act provided that the trustees from Alleghany, Ashe, Wilkes, Watauga, Caldwell, Mitchell, Yancey, and the county superintendents of said counties, should meet at Blowing Rock within the month of May and select a location and begin the School. The meeting was called and presided over by State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner. Boone was selected as the location and the free use of Watauga Academy secured until a building could be erected.

Location

Boone is in Watauga County, in the northwestern part of North Carolina. There are mountains in every direction—Blue Ridge on east, Grandfather on south, Stone Mountain on west, and Elk Knob on the north. The town is 3,333 feet above tidewater. This elevation insures an excellent summer climate. Many enjoy the climate in winter better than the warmer and rainy weather of lower sections. There are few cases of serious sickness. About 500 quiet, industrious people live here. They welcome students into their homes and appreciate their presence in their social circles. Merchandise is sold at reasonable prices. Mails reach here from all the adjoining counties. A good telephone system connects us with all the important business towns and many country places. Good country roads lead to the railway stations. We are 33 miles from Lenoir, 40 miles from Wilkesboro, 7 miles from Shull's Mills, 25 miles from Mountain City, Tenn., 10 miles from Elkland, and 35 miles from Grandin.

How to Reach Boone

[There is no railroad to Boone. The great majority of students come by private conveyances from the adjoining counties. Many, however, come from a greater distance, and must come by railroad. The Carolina and Northwestern enters the State from South Carolina and comes northward.] Connections are made at Gastonia with the Seaboard and at Hickory with the Southern. [The terminus is Lenoir. Students are generally brought over in automobiles to Boone for $2.50; trunks extra.] The Watauga and Yadkin Valley road comes from Wilkesboro to Grandin. The charges from Grandin are a little greater than from Lenoir. The Linville River Railroad has been extended from Montezuma to Shull's Mills. Passengers can be brought here for about $1. The Virginia and Carolina Railroad comes to Elkland, within 10 miles of Boone. The mail brings students here for $1.

[It is well to write the Superintendent a few days before you start. He can often save you money.]

Grounds

The campus of 7 acres of small white pines has been laid off in walks and drives by a landscape architect. A great amount of the driveways have been macadamized, the terraces sodded, the lawns sown in grass, and flowers and shrubs planted in all parts of the grounds.

The school owns 6 acres on the south side of the Boone and Blowing Rock turnpike, adjoining the campus. Newland Hall is built on a 6-acre lot; the McNeil Cottage lot contains 3 acres. The Coffey farm adjoining the Newland Hall lot contains nearly 200 acres of pasture, forest, and orchard lands. The Edminsten farm on New River, 2 miles east, has 60 acres of meadow land and 140 acres of timber and pasture land.

Equipment

The recitation rooms are furnished with comfortable desks and seats. There are maps, globes, and charts where needed. A small collection of rocks, minerals, Indian relics, shells, marine animals, etc., is being made. A compound microscope with seven dozen sections of the human body help in the study of physiology. The physical apparatus consists of thermometers, barometers, a hygrometer, an air pump, electric motors, magnets, electric-magnets, and various other things.

For botany there are microscopes, scalpels, scissors, preserving apparatus, etc. Zoölogy is greatly helped by many simple nets, collecting bottles, preserving cases, and the like. A full supply of apparatus and chemicals for elementary chemistry has recently been purchased. A 3-inch telescope, charts of the heavens, astronomical lantern, and other helps aid the students in astronomy.

Except the cottages, all the buildings and laboratories have running water and toilets.

Library

[There have been about 200 books purchased during the year. About 7,000 books are now accessible to students. Five daily papers are taken. All the local papers in the surrounding counties come to the library. Twenty or more magazines come monthly.]

Literary Societies

The young men have two well organized and conducted literary societies, the Watauga and the Appalachian. These societies aid very much in training their members in debate, declamation, and composition. They have weekly sessions in their halls.

There are also two societies for young women, the Euterpean and the Calliopean. The sessions of these societies are held in their halls in New Dormitory. The culture these four societies give their members is highly appreciated by friends of the School.

The following rules apply to each society :

1. None but members can attend.
2. No one can join until he or she has been in school two weeks.
3. The membership of each of the young men's societies must be less than three-fifths of the young men enrolled.
4. Rule 3 applies to the young women's societies.
5. Members must get excuses from a member of the faculty for all absences.
6. Every student is requested to join one of the societies.

In addition to the foregoing rules, the following have been added :

1. All the societies shall meet on Saturday evening, one hour after the supper bell rings. This meeting shall be for literary exercises only.
2. Regular or call meetings for business may be held on any afternoon after school.
3. That inasmuch as the School has furnished halls, it is thought wise that in the future each society furnish its own wood and lights, and care for its hall.
4. Members of the faculty will from time to time visit the literary meetings of the societies for the purpose of rendering them aid in their work.

5. No teacher shall take part in any debate or literary program.

6. Each society shall have a representative, whose name shall be reported to the superintendent, on whom the faculty may call at any time for information concerning the society and its work.

7. The sessions of the societies must not interfere with the retiring hour at either Lovill Home or Newland Hall.

School Year

The school year is divided into four terms. The fall term, the winter term, and the spring term make the year's work for the Advanced Department. The first term's work of the eighth year may be taken in either term and also during the summer term. The Normal work is kept up during each term.

The School Day

Except for the summer term, the day is divided into ten periods. The recitation work begins at 8:40. Chapel exercises are held from 11:40 to 12. There is no school work on Monday.

Buildings

Watauga Academy was built in 1899 by the people of Watauga County and generous friends elsewhere. Art is taught on first floor. On the second floor are the library, printing office, sewing room, archive, and library. The building is of wood.

Administration Building is a two-story brick structure, 96 feet long by 64 feet wide. On the first floor are the office, business room, small chapel, and three recitation rooms. On the second floor are the auditorium and music rooms.

The Lovill Home is a frame structure used for a woman's boarding-house. There are accommodations for 85 women. There are two society halls, two sitting rooms, and two study rooms in the building.

Newland Hall accommodates 40 young men. There are sitting rooms and a study room in the building.

Science Hall is a brick structure with a basement and two floors. On the first floor are three recitation rooms and a lecture room, laboratories for the sciences, and the museum. The second floor has the Alumni Hall, men's society halls, and two recitation rooms.

There is a large brick dormitory for women. This building has seventy-two living rooms, parlors, society halls, library, rest rooms, and study halls. The dining-room will accommodate 400. All modern conveniences, water, steam heat, and electric lights, are in use.

The Arts and Crafts Building is of wood. The lower story is 40 by 60 feet and is used for a gymnasium for men. The second story contains four rooms which will be used for manual training for men.

A similar building is proposed for women.

A brick dormitory for men will be built next year.

Lake View Cottage will room 16 men.

Meadow View Cottage will room 20 men.

The New River Light and Power Co.'s plant is owned by the School. This plant is on New River, two miles distant. All the school buildings and the town are furnished lights.

Recitations

1. [Students who miss recitations will be held responsible for them. The teacher in charge of the class will require the student to prepare and recite the missed recitations. If this is not done within one week, something will be taken from the grade of the student.]

2. No student will be passed on a subject who has missed more than one-fourth of the recitations during any month, unless he is able to pass an examination on the work gone over during the month.

Examinations

At the close of each term examinations are held on each study pursued during the term. The grading includes the class work, the department, and the examination. Figures are used in making the report as to the standing of a student in a certain branch as follows: a figure 1, 2, 3, or 4 indicates that the student passes the work gone over; a figure 5 indicates that a new examination must be taken; and a figure 6 indicates that the work has not been satisfactory and must be gone over again.

A record is kept in the office of the standing of each pupil.

Games

[For young men there is an excellent ball ground.] No games are allowed during the regular school hours. The baseball team cannot leave the neighborhood to play match games without permission from the faculty.

[The young women have grounds for croquet, tennis, basketball, and other games.]

[Students are urged to be in the open air as much as possible. There are many interesting walks near the School. Young women do not leave the School grounds for walks without a teacher.]

A Regulation

Young women and young men are not expected to board at the same places or to associate together on any occasion.

There may be a few times when this regulation is suspended. At these times the suspension is announced at the chapel.

Government

Students who enter the School are supposed to be able to govern themselves and act with propriety. Recognizing this fact, there are but few rules, and these are easily obeyed. When necessary, the faculty will reprimand or punish students. Seldom has it been necessary to use harsh means.

Visiting

No student is expected to leave the neighborhood without permission. Young women must show written permission from their parents before they will be allowed to spend the night from their regular boarding places.

Requests for permission to be absent must be granted by the faculty before a student can leave the neighborhood.

Religious Influences

The chapel exercises are opened by reading the Scriptures and prayer. The young women have evening prayers after supper on school days and a session of the Christian Association on Sunday afternoons. The young men meet Sunday afternoons and hold religious exercises.

The pastors of the town churches often attend chapel and give talks on religious subjects. Students are requested to attend Sunday-school and preaching in the different churches.

The Alumni Association

The Alumni Association was organized in 1908. In the past it has been mainly a social organization. It hopes in the future to be of greater service both to the School and to the community. Any graduate of the Training School is eligible for membership. At each commencement a banquet is held.

In the future the payment of the annual fee of 50 cents will entitle a member to attend the banquet.

Board

All young women are expected to board in New Dormitory. If for any good reason another boarding place is desired permission must be obtained from the faculty. Young men may choose their boarding places.

It is earnestly requested that the boarding-house keepers will coöperate with the faculty in helping to control their boarders and in helping to carry out the few simple regulations that are so necessary for a coeducational institution.

The price of board at Lovill Home will be $8.00 when paid in advance.

Young women furnish their lights and do their laundry in the school laundry.

Women who board in New Dormitory must furnish the following articles to be used in their rooms: One pair sheets, one blanket, one quilt, one counterpane, one pillow with two cases, a spoon, and a glass. Each girl must furnish her own towels and table napkins.

Each boarder must do a limited amount of dining-room work in addition to keeping her own room. Every article broken or lost from room must be replaced or paid for.

All board is due one month in advance. Under no circumstances can the Home give board on time. Everything is furnished at cost and no surplus is accumulated. The Home must pay for everything furnished from the farm. Patrons should read carefully these words.

Men pay $8.00 at Newland Hall, and are required to bring the same articles as women, keep their rooms, sweep the halls, and do dining room work. The Hall is on the same footing in regard to furnishing board on time. Their laundry costs from 50 cents to $1 per month.

Lights cost 15 cents per month for each student.

Fees

Each student must register at the beginning of each term and pay a fee of $2. There are other fees in the elementary sciences, and the Household Economics departments. These fees are spent in paying the janitors and purchasing fuel and materials.

Tuition

No tuition is charged those who take the pledge to teach in the regular teachers' course.

In the higher branches an opportunity is given students to do a certain amount of work to pay tuition charges.

Students who do not sign the pledge to teach are charged $9 per year tuition.

Scholarships

The School has been given a scholarship in each of the following colleges: University of North Carolina, Trinity College, and Wake Forest College. These scholarships give free tuition.

Public School Teachers

Special attention is given to public school teachers and those preparing to teach. Courses will be given to suit their needs. No tuition will be charged in the courses for teachers. At the close of the summer term an examination is held on each study in the public school course and certificates given to those who pass the examination. These certificates are issued by the county superintendent of Watauga County and are recognized by the superintendents of many counties.

In order to receive free tuition the following pledge must be signed:

PLEDGE

I,, am years old. My object in obtaining free tuition in the Appalachian Training School, Boone, N. C., is to qualify myself for teaching; and I hereby promise to teach, after leaving it, at least two years in the public schools of North Carolina, if I have opportunity. I further promise to attend regularly and faithfully upon the exercises required and to conform cheerfully to the rules that may be prescribed. Should I for any reason fail to teach, as agreed, I promise to refund to the School the amount of tuition which I have received.

Dated,....., 19.....

Applicant must 16 years of age and of irreproachable character.

When the teacher teaches the two years a report, signed by the county superintendent in the county or counties where the school was taught, should be sent to the superintendent of this School.

Text-Books

The Book Room will keep on hand all the text-books required in the advanced department. These books are sold at wholesale prices for cash. Pencils, pen, tablets, and other articles are also sold. The book depository at the store of M. B. Blackburn will furnish all the public school books.

1. Each teacher must be in his room 10 minutes before time for the bell and see that his room is in order.

2. The students are allowed 3 minutes to change rooms. Three bells will ring:

(1) For boys to change rooms.

(2) One and one-half minutes later for girls to change rooms.

(3) One and one-half minutes later for all to be in rooms.

Teachers in the department of Home Economics, Instrumental Music, Vocal Music, and Art have recitations in the vacant periods in the above schedule.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT

A. J. GREENE

MISS FLORENCE REID

MRS. I. G. GREER

W. G. HARTZOG

In this Department there are three grades, Introductory, Eighth, and Teachers:

1. The Introductory is for those who want more drill in the Public School subjects. It provides especially for the mature student who has not had good opportunity for drill in the fundamentals. In the main the public school texts will be used.

2. The Eighth Grade prepares for the Advanced Department. The following is the course:

English: Text—The New Webster-Cooley.

Latin: Text—Smith's Latin Lessons.

Science: Text—Holden's Real Things in Nature.

Mathematics: Milne's Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra.

History: Hall's Our Ancestors in Europe.

Drawing: Graphic Series.

Writing: The Palmer Method.

Home Economics: Elementary Work.

3. The Teachers' Grade is arranged to meet the needs of the teachers who enter at New Year. The course is a general review of the public school work with some methods how to teach it. During the spring term an observation school was started under the direction of Mr. Hartzog and Mrs. Greer.

Model School

A room in the Administration Building has been fitted up for the model class room. Mrs. Greer assisted by Mr. Hartzog taught a small class for observation purposes. This work will be enlarged in the future so as to take in more grades.

In addition to the theoretical course in methods given those students applying for teachers' certificates, a third grade class was taught for their observation.

We consider this a stepping stone toward the introduction of actual practice teaching. Such a department is necessary in order that theories of method may be tested in real school room work,—work which will not only give the students an opportunity of demonstrating their own ability to plan lessons and to teach, but will also give them self-confidence and skill in class management and in carrying out the various details of classroom work.

Announcements for 1917-1918

Some changes will be made in the course of study so as to give women more of Home Economics and less of Mathematics.

As soon as equipment can be purchased the Manual Training Department will be opened in the Arts and Crafts Building.

A teacher of sewing will be added to the faculty. The laundry will be improved so as to do washing for the students.

Instrumental music will be given a longer period for lessons and the price raised to $2.50 per month.

Palmer Writing will be taught in the Preparatory Department.

Special attention will be given the summer terms.

A Supervisor of Labor will be employed to have charge of student labor.

Board will be $10 at each dormitory after the first month. The first month will cost $8.00. The advance in the cost of food stuff requires this advance in board.

The Appalachia Press will be opened for doing all kinds of printing. A competent printer will have charge of the work. Students will assist and by that learn to become printers.

The catalogue will be issued in May next year instead of August as has been the rule heretofore.

COURSES OF STUDY

ADVANCED DEPARTMENT

Mathematics

W. W. STEDMAN

First Year.

The student should have studied carefully a High School Arithmetic and given a term's study to Algebra before entering this class. An effort will be made to complete an Elementary Algebra during the year.

Second Year.

An Advanced Algebra will be taken up at the beginning of the year and studied the whole time. The more difficult chapters will receive a fair amount of time.

Third Year.

The whole of Plane Geometry will be gone over, with special attention to exercises.

Fourth Year.

The fall and winter terms will be devoted to Solid Geometry.

The spring term will be devoted to a study of Wentworth's Plane Trigonometry.

Latin

J. M. DOWNUM

First Year.

A student entering this class is expected to have studied a beginner's Latin for one year. The year will be given to a study of Bennett's Foundation of Latin, Roman History, and Latin Composition.

Second Year.

Rolfe and Denison's Junior Latin will receive the greater part of the attention of the class for the entire year, with Latin Composition and a study of Construction.

Third Year.

The year's work will be given to the writings of Cicero, Latin Composition, and a critical study of the Grammar.

Fourth Year.

Virgil's Aeneid will be read. Attention will be given to meter and the style of Virgil, with Latin Composition. Mythology will be studied.

Classes will be organized, if necessary, in Livy and Horace.

History

I. G. GREER

“Because of its general value for good citizenship, History claims a respectable place in high school.” Every student should know something about our own world and the people in it, since it is here that we must live and do our life work.

First Year.

This year is given to the study of Ancient History. Special stress is placed upon the events and evolution of this period, that enables the student to articulate it with the life of today. The Greek civilization and the Roman imperial world, on which so much of our modern life is based, are emphasized. Students are required to make outlines of the text and to take notes on parallel readings. Themes on important topics are required. Text: West's Ancient World.

Second Year.

Modern History, from Charlemagne to the present time, is covered during this year. This course is a companion to the work done in the first year. The student is led to understand how the present European powers were organized and developed into great nations. Special prominence is given to the period since the French Revolution. English history is emphasized, showing how it has affected American history. Themes and note-books are required of the pupils. Text: West's Modern World.

Third Year.

American History and Government. The topic method is largely used. Subjects that have affected the development of our national life are taken up and followed through the entire history of our country. Large place is given to the economic, social, and industrial development of the United States. The growth and influence of the West is given special study.

Fourth Year.

History of Education. This course aims at familiarizing the student with the educational development of the different periods of history, and with the educators representing these periods. Text: A Brief Course in the History of Education (Monroe).

NOTE.—The course as given above will be carried out during 1917-18.

Science

D. D. DOUGHERTY

First Year.

The year is devoted to a careful study of the human body and sanitation. Overton's Advanced Physiology is used. Laboratory work is required during the year.

Second Year.

Half the year is given to Zoölogy. Laboratory work is required. Colton's Zoölogy.

Half the year will be given to Agriculture. Laboratory work required. Mayme & Hatch's Agriculture.

Third Year.

Half the year is given to Astronomy. Observations are made and constellations learned when the nights are suitable. Young's Lessons in Astronomy.

The second half of the year is devoted to Botany. Bergen and Caldwell's Introduction to Botany.

Fourth Year.

The whole year is given to the study of Physics. Regular laboratory work is required.

Millikan and Gale's Elementary Physics.

English

ROY M. BROWN

First Year.

I. Composition and Rhetoric.—Text: Lockwood and Emerson's Composition and Rhetoric. This course begins with a review of the more important principles of grammar and of the rules for punctuation. The student is drilled in the general principles of composition. The course closes with a detailed study of letter writing.

II. Literature.—Selections from the Old Testament; The Sketch Book, Irving; The Deserted Village, Goldsmith; An Elegy, Gray; Stickeen, John Muir.

Second Year.

I. Composition and Rhetoric.—Text: Lockwood and Emerson's Composition and Rhetoric. The emphasis this year is on Narration and Description.

I. Elementary Cookery. This course comprises a study of the food principles and the processes of cookery best adapted to each.

II. Elementary Serving.—This course gives the principles of good service and provides practice in setting tables.

Second Year.

III. Advanced Cookery.—Advanced cookery provides practice in and application of principles studied in Course I, and includes practice in fancy cookery.

IV. Serving.—This is a continuation of Course III, and provides practice in menu-making.

V. Home Nursing and Invalid Cookery.—This course is designed to give simple instruction in the care of the sick and in the preparation of their meals.

VI. Household Administration.—This course sums up the entire course of Domestic Science, including cleaning, care of furniture, household accounts, and marketing.

Time—Two lessons per week, one and one-half hours each.

Fee—One dollar ($1) per term, to pay for materials used.

Text-book—Food and Dietetics, Norton (cost, $1).

Third Year.

VII. Elementary Sewing and Drafting.—Cutting, fitting, drafting patterns to measure for simple garments, and a brief study of textiles will be given in this course.

Fourth Year.

VIII. Advanced Sewing.—This is a continuation of Course VII, and will take up the study of skirts and coats.

IX. Textiles and Design.—Textile manufacture, color combinations and costume design will be studied in this course.

X. Millinery.—This course embraces a study of construction of frames, bandeaux, bow making, renovating, cleaning, and the principles of trimming. Spring term.

Time—Two lessons per week, one hour each.

No fee. Pupils furnish their own materials.

Text-book—Textiles and Clothing, Watson ($1).

The kitchen is supplied with individual gasoline stoves. The sewing room has three Singer sewing machines. This department is very well equipped.

Instrumental Music
ESTHER STANBURY

The courses of study here prescribed are for earnest student who want to attain real excellence. A careful study of the requirements and capabilities of each pupil is made. A thorough training in the fundamental principles of technique is given. Recitals are given in which etudes by Kohler and Burgmuller, pieces by Gurlitt, Lichtner, Clementi, and others, are used. Technical exercises throughout the course.

First Year.

Etudes by Czerny and Bertini. First Studies in Bach. Easy pieces and Sonatinas by Clementi, Kuhlau, Dussek, etc.

Second Year.

Etudes by Heller, Bach's Preludes, Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words, Sonatas of Haydn and Mozart. Pieces by modern composers.

Third Year.

Cramer's Etudes, Bach's Inventions, Sonatas by Mozart and Beethoven; selections from Chopin, Schubert, Schumann, and others. Elements of Harmony.

Third Year.

Sandwick and Bacon's The High School Word Book.

Fourth Year.

Bowen's English Word.

The above makes an extensive study of etymology, diacritical marks, uses and history of words.

Library

BETTIE STEPHENSON

Each student is required to spend a period each day in the library. The student is at liberty to study his lessons, to read or do research work. A record is kept of the attendance and deportment during this period. Suggestions about what to read are constantly being made by the teachers and the librarian.

Manual Labor

For about two months an experiment in using the men a period a day in labor to reduce the price of board was tried during the fall. The hearty response from the students was very gratifying. The organization for working was not perfected. The system might be adopted by the trustees as a part of the educational scheme of the institution with an advantage to students and school.

Study Hall

For several months Miss Butler kept a study hall in the small chapel for students who were not on duty and had no convenient place for studying. All were well pleased with the trial. The teachers hope to make it an established part of the school work.

Summer Terms

The first summer term began May 30 and closed July 6. The second began July 10 and closed August 17. During the terms a part of the regular faculty taught and were assisted by teachers from other schools.

The eighth grade was taught through the whole term and completed the C term. A few classes were organized for higher work. The greater stress was laid upon the preparation of public school teachers. Every subject required for public school teachers was offered.

The regular State examination was given from which a number of students received State certificates. County Superintendent Smith Hagaman coöperated with the school and granted certificates of the second grade to those whom passed the examinations at the close of each term.

An effort is being made to standardize courses for these terms. The following was carried out during the last term:

Eighth Grade,

Those desiring to do work about the public school course can take one of the regular courses in the 8th grade, which will continue through the two summer terms. The term's work will begin only at the opening of the first term on Wednesday, May 30th. The terms are designated as A, B, and C.

During the summer terms excursions were made to Blowing Rock, the Grandfather, Power Plant, Winkler's Creek and other places of interest.

The evenings were given over to games and story-telling on the lawns.

A programme was given every week at the New Dormitory. After the programme a social hour was given.

The chapel services were conducted by members of the faculty after which a short programme of music or a talk was given.

Through the kindness of the State Board of Health in loaning material Dr. Randolph gave his lectures on Tuberculosis and Typhoid with the lantern and slides.

Col. Fred A. Olds spent a week in the school. He gave talks in the recitation rooms on various subjects and several lectures at chapel.

All the boarding students took meals at the New Dormitory, where Mrs. Beatty acted as matron during the first term and Miss Lemley during the second term.

EXTENSION WORK

The School desires to reach as many people as possible, and offers its services along the following lines :

1. The librarian will furnish any information she can for debates, compositions, historical research, etc. Postage must be paid on literature sent out.

2. A bulletin will be issued and sent to all interested schools to give them an idea of the work being done in the lower grades. Questions about the use of text-books, courses of study, and such things are encouraged.

3. A file of the names of students who desire positions is kept, and an effort is made to secure suitable teachers for public schools and State high schools.

4. Members of the faculty will be glad to visit any school in reach and make talks on subjects along their lines of work.

5. The School can often furnish speakers for educational gatherings and commencements.

6. The Book Room offers its services in obtaining books and equipment at cost.

7. Illustrated lantern lectures will be given when desired in public school houses.

MANUAL TRAINING DEPARTMENT.

Since Manual Training is founded upon the development of self-activity, the work should begin with exercises most easy from the child's point of view and go to those more difficult. Every model will have vital connection with life, home life, school life, or of the sporting life.

A series of models will be given below, but the desires of the individual pupil to work out new models will be most carefully considered and encouraged.

All students of this course will be required to take a course in Elementary Mechanical Drawing. A drawing of all projects to be made will be required before the construction is attempted. A thorough knowledge and the reading of the drawing will be emphasized.

FOREWORD

The school year has been counted as closing with the summer term. This has caused the catalogue to appear in August. It has been decided to eliminate from the 1917-1918 catalogue all matter that appeared in the 1916-1917 edition. There are a number of copies of the latter that will be sent on request. The 1918-1919 edition is expected to appear in May, 1919. A special issue will be made for the 1919 term of the summer school.

COURSES OF STUDY

The courses outlined in the 1916-1917 catalogue were carried out. Courses in manual training, printing, and business were begun in the spring term. Brief outlines of these courses are given.

MANUAL TRAINING

WILEY G. HARTZOG

A course for two years is planned. The work is in wood. One period each day is given. Students are taught the uses and the care of tools. Projects are planned for both years. The first class was organized at the opening of the spring term.

There is room for eight to do shop work at once. Three classes were organized.

PRINTING

WAGNER A. REESE

A one-year course of one period daily is provided.

There were two classes organized at the opening of the spring term. The classes printed four DEW DROPS, several programs, posters, envelopes and letter-heads.

The room is equipped as a job office with presses, type, and fixtures.

BUSINESS

MISS EFFIE E. BUTLER

The work in shorthand and typewriting is planned to cover a year. A drill in English composition is given. Only one term was devoted to the work during the year.

Bookkeeping will be added next year.

Small fees were charged in these departments to pay for materials used.

Ten dollars was charged for board after the first month at each dormitory.

SOME ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR THE SESSION OF 1918-1919

Every student who boards in the dormitory must work a period each day. This is necessary in order to keep board at $10.00. Women do the greater part of their work in the dormitory. Men are to work on school grounds.

A simple uniform in dress, shoes, and hats will be required of women. The dresses are to be made in the sewing-room. Shoes and hats will be purchased at wholesale prices.

The railroad from Shulls Mills will be finished to Boone by the first of October. This will put the school in touch with the outside world by rail.
