LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—The greatest alliance ever known to the sport world, that of Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns, will come to an end on May 20 of this year, when Dempsey, perhaps the greatest boxing champion ever known, leads Estelle Taylor, film star, to the altar and takes her for his bride.

Such was the exclusive statement today from Dempsey as he made known his plans for the future.

"I will never fight again," the champion declared. "That is one of the arrangements Miss Taylor and I have agreed upon. My ring career is ended. And with it ends my contract with Jack Kearns, who has been my manager for more than eight years."

"Mr. Kearns and I will continue our ownership in the hotels we have here for the present.

"But so far as Kearns and I are concerned, we are through. We never were friends. Our association was purely a business one."

BOXER CONFESSES CONSPIRACY GUILT

Fred Fulton Is Fined $500 For Part In 'Fixed' Ring Battle

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—Fred Fulton, former aspirant to the world's heavyweight boxing crown today entered a plea of guilty to a charge of conspiracy to violate the California boxing law when his case was called in superior court for trial.

The trials of Jack Reddy, Fulton's manager, Tony Fuente, self-styled "Mexican champion," and Fuente's manager, Fred Winsor today was started. All four of the men were in court.

Fulton was immediately fined $500 or 250 days in jail. He selected to pay the fine but asked the court for time until Monday in which to raise the money. His request was granted.

All four of the defendants were present in court and a large crowd, mostly followers of the squared ring, was on hand.

Oregon Urges Decision On School Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The state of Oregon, through its attorney-general, Isaac Van Winkle, today petitioned the United States supreme court for an early decision on the validity of the Oregon law requiring children in that state to attend the public schools and prohibit those within specified ages from attending private schools.

The law would go into effect next September if declared valid and time is required, the brief said, to make provision for its enforcement and provide for increased number of pupils at the public schools.

READY RESPONSE TO RADIO FUND APPEAL

Liberal Offers of Cooperation Coming In and Marked Increase In Total of Subscriptions; Hurry! End Nears!

Glendaleans are responding nobly to the appeal for funds to secure radio receiving sets for each of the four fire stations in Glendale, and the subscriptions received by The Glendale Evening News continue to grow. One set has been installed, more than enough money received for the second set, and two more to raise funds for.

Co-operation in the raising of the fund is seen throughout Glendale, but it remained for William Bode, manager of the Glendale Phonograph Co. 109 North Brand boulevard, to express his spirit of co-operation in a forceful manner.

Mr. Bode announced today that he will give the purchasing committee, to be composed of presidents of the various service organizations in Glendale, a reduction of $25 on any radio set in the store. This generous offer means a great saving in the buying of one set, and will enable the committee to secure a better set for less money.

This offer is made by Mr. Bode without restrictions, and the reduction will apply on material, radio kit or equipment if the firemen prefer to assemble a set. Should the committee see fit to secure one complete set from the Glendale Phonograph Co., Mr. Bode announces he will slash $25 from the price.

Fire Aids Firemen
Edward F. Needham, president of the Thermosoid Construction system, whose factory is located at Colorado street and San Fernando road, believes in aiding the firemen in more ways than one. In a letter to A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, Mr. Needham writes:

"May we express our appreciation in the very commendable movement inaugurated by your paper, to place a radio set in each fire station in Glendale.

"We take pleasure in enclosing herewith our check for $15 to assist in reaching this goal.

"We thoroughly appreciate the public service rendered by the fire department and feel that any pleasures provided for them only increase their efficiency.

"We might add that our participation in this endeavor—the building of fireproof homes—lessen their burdens, by reducing the number of fire hazards to a minimum, thus obtaining maximum results from their services in fire prevention.

"More power to the movement—for their pleasure."

Pullman Cafes Help
A. O. Flowers and John E. Howell, owners of Pullman cafe No. 1, at 111 West Broadway, and Pullman cafe No. 2, at 128 North Brand boulevard, also believe in making the long dreary hours of waiting for duty's call, spent by the firemen, a lot brighter by contributing $15 to the radio fund today. This donation shares honors with the Thermosoid Construction System as the largest contribution to the fund received so far.

Fred Tribolet, proprietor of the Broadway Central Meat Market at 123 West Broadway, writes:

"It is with pleasure that I am enclosing my check for $5 towards the radio fund for the fire boys. No one knows better than I what real pleasure it will be to the boys to have sets, that they may enjoy the music on the air as well as something to occupy their time while waiting for the bell to ring."

Accompanying a donation of $1 was the following self-explanatory note:

"Miss E. M. Grant is very glad to give to the fund, as our fire department ought to have every encouragement from grateful citizens. Surely, very shortly you will have all the funds you need for a good radio."

Charles Milliken, a carrier boy for The Glendale Evening News, wanted to "do his bit" for the fire laddies and today donated 50 cents to the fund.

A subscriber of The Glendale Evening News, who has asked that his name be withheld, has installed a radio set at the Central fire station, 311 East Broadway, as his part of the campaign to make the life of the firemen more pleasant. Sufficient funds are on hand to buy another set and to go toward the purchase of the third set. Funds are being raised to complete the purchase of the third set and the fourth set.

Glendaleans who wish to aid this worthy cause may leave their donations at the office of The Glendale Evening News, 129 South Brand boulevard, or use the coupon which appears daily in this paper.

STREET DANCE TO FEATURE NEW LIGHTS

Glendale Avenue Illumination To Be Turned On With Program Feb. 14

Current will be turned into the new ornamental street lighting standards along Glendale avenue on Saturday, February 14, according to present plans of the Glendale Advancement association. Fireworks, a street dance, confetti battle, parade and general carnival will be the order of the night, the celebration starting at 7:30 o'clock. At the next regular meeting of the Glendale Advancement association, next Tuesday at noon, the date of the celebration will be announced, when President C. W. Ingledue will appoint a committee to work out detailed arrangements.

The lights were completed last Saturday, with the exception of a few standards in the immediate vicinity of the Hotel Glendale, at the corner of East Broadway and Glendale avenue.

Diederich Ready
Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production, announced today that he stands ready to "shoot the juice" into the Glendale avenue lights whenever the Advancement association says the word.

This job, one of the largest installations of street lighting standards in the city, comprises 211 standards, of the Union Metal type, similar to those now in operation on East Broadway and being installed on Central avenue, according to Mr. Diederich. Each standard contains two 400-candlepower lights, the total illumination amounting to 168,800 candlepower.

NEW POSTAL BILL PASSES U. S. SENATE

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The new omnibus postal bill providing a $68,000,000 wage increase for postoffice employees and a temporary advance of postal rates, was passed by the Senate late this afternoon.

Administration leaders were fearful that in its present form the bill would again meet a veto by President Coolidge.

BABY GIRL IS NEAR DEATH IN FALL

Two-Year-Old Glendale Miss Badly Hurt In 40-Foot Drop Into Cesspool

Straying too near the edge of an open cesspool being dug near her home at 636 East Palmer avenue, Marie Flanders, 2 years old, fell into the pit yesterday afternoon, dropping forty feet to the bottom. As the child landed in her fall her abdomen was torn from side to side on the edge of a galvanized form in the bottom of the pit. Workmen quickly brought the child to the surface, while her mother, Mrs. George F. Flanders and her aunt, Mrs. Chance Bachellor, looked on. She was rushed to the Windsor hospital, where an operation involving major surgery was performed by Dr. Edward Swift in an effort to save her life. Hospital attendants held out scant hope of the child's recovery today. Her condition was virtually unchanged over last night, it was stated.

According to Chance Bachellor, uncle of little Marie, who reported to the police, the child and a playmate were playing at a tea party on the lawn at 636 East Palmer avenue. Thinking she saw her dog, which had strayed away some time during the morning, Marie rushed to the edge of the open cesspool. As she peered in, she lost her balance and fell. Workmen who are digging the long row of cesspools in the parking along Palmer avenue were eating their lunches at the time of the tragedy. Mr. Bachellor said, and the open holes were, for the time, left unguarded.

Upon hearing the first shriek of terror from the little girl laborers rushed to the scene and one of their number was lowered by means of the windlass into the pit. The men raised the worker with the child back to the surface.

David Chasse made the only score of the entire game. Glendale avenue seniors have been victorious in all the inter-school athletics and Wilson juniors have carried off the honors in their class. So, for the third time, it rested with the midgets to decide the winning of the school trophy.

Spring Stocks Arrive At Army, Navy Store

"Never since we have been in Glendale has our slogan, 'This is the store that makes your dollar have more cents,' been more of a reality than at the present time," said S. D. Goldsmith, proprietor of the Coast to Coast Army store at 145 South Brand boulevard, yesterday. Spring stocks have already begun to arrive and new shipments are expected daily. "Prices are cheap here for the quality of merchandise we sell," he said. It was pointed out that as a result of the unusually large buying power of the concern that the firm was enabled to sell on the lowest margins of profit while transacting a large volume of business. Army and navy goods, work and dress shoes, as well as a complete line of wearing apparel and dress accessories are carried in stock by this firm.

Hawaii expects a business boom.

GRAND OPENING ANNOUNCEMENT

HARRIS and WHITE Glendale's Leading Tailors!!

GENTLEMEN—No need of going into details relative to the reputation for integrity and reliability of Harris and White, Glendale's leading tailors, as we have already moved from our old location, which was at 107 W. Broadway, to our present new location. We deem it a pleasure in announcing the commencement of our grand opening sale in order to more fully celebrate the occasion, and we wish to impress upon the minds of the intelligent public of this community that we have taken the utmost pains and used the greatest precaution in the selection of this magnificent stock of high grade foreign and American fabrics, which are of the finest quality and textures and guaranteed to be the finest wool obtainable, in order to meet the critical requirements and imperative demands of the intelligent men of Glendale, whose demands are always quality-giving; price no consideration. We are going to the utmost extremes during this grand opening sale in order to get ourselves started on a solid working basis in our new location. This grade of material will instantly appeal to the class of men whose demands must be complied with in order to retain their confidence and future consideration, and who thoroughly realize the value of high-grade fabrics and appreciate the standard of tailoring that all men who have always worn good clothes are fully familiar with; the standard of tailoring that instantly denotes pride, self-respect, refinement, culture and good breeding; the standard of tailoring that tends to give one that dignified appearance which materially adds to one's prestige in all social and commercial affairs; the standard of tailoring that means everything that the word tailoring implies; as our object and ambition is to make this institution the leading tailoring institution in the city of Glendale. But as an incentive during our grand opening sale we are going to place this magnificent stock of high-grade foreign and American fabrics at the disposal of the public at a tremendous sacrifice and at a price that will be a startling revelation in the annals of high-class tailoring in this community.

We are here to stay, and by that statement we mean that nothing but the highest grade of material only will always be carried by us, and the toleration of an inferior grade of tailoring, which is detestable, will under no circumstances be ever tolerated in this institution for an instant. That will be the predominating factor and fixed policy of this institution, which we are doubly certain will eventually spell success.

A Guaranteed $65.00 Suit-To-Order

!!! During Sale Only $42.50 FOR . . . !!!

Come and Take Your Choice—Nothing Held in Reserve During Sale

GENTLEMEN—As an incentive in order to get ourselves started for the commencement of operations in our new location, this magnificent stock of foreign and American fabrics will be placed on sale for one week only at a price that will be within the reach of everyone with only a modest income. Every suit in this establishment will be sacrificed, regardless of the original cost or selling price of the suit you may happen to take a fancy to and select. Several hundred different styles to select from, which include the latest weaves, shades and designs for the coming season, shipped to us direct from Chicago and New York. As this is an American institution, based on American ideals and principles, and conducted by Americans throughout, the word of American gentlemen is behind this forthcoming statement. Every gentleman availing himself of our grand opening sale offer will receive one of the most handsomely designed and strictly HAND CUSTOM TAILORED SUITS, made to your individual measure, out of these high grade fabrics, during sale only, for $42.50 that will be the exact equivalent in STYLE, QUALITY AND WORKMANSHIP to an actual $65.00 suit made by the most reputable tailoring firms in the country. Your garments will be lined with genuine French Venetian silk, pure wool serge, or alpaca lining and trimmed with imported Belgian hair cloth, and pure Irish linen canvas, which is the best that money can purchase. The installation of the highest standard of tailoring that the skilled ingenuity of expert tailoring mechanics is capable of producing will be installed in every garment, as though the original selling price of $65.00 had been paid. Under no circumstances will we deviate in the slightest degree from the standard of tailoring that we are certain will win the confidence of the intelligent men of this community. Every suit ordered during this grand opening sale will be made up as a strictly sample suit for advertising purposes and at the absolute cost of production, as we are forfeiting our margin entirely during this sale.

Several Hundred Different Patterns To Select From

Special Statement by Mr. Harris:—

Being fully aware of the sensitive nature, which is the natural heritage of all American gentlemen whose finer sensibilities and gentlemanly instincts will not allow the embarrassing of others or themselves over trivial matters, even though the failure to lodge a protest which would be entirely justified on their part, would mean a loss to them through no fault of their own, I sincerely wish to impress upon the minds of the intelligent men of this community that I am more than desirous of being fair in every way possible, and under no circumstances do I wish to cause a loss to anyone through any fault of mine. I wish to assure those deeming us worthy of their consideration that if you are dissatisfied in any way with the suit you have ordered, upon its completion, I respectfully request that you step over to our bookkeeper, who has explicit instructions to ask no questions, state your name and the amount due you when presenting your receipt, and same will be immediately refunded you without a question being asked. But if still retaining your confidence, we will deem it a pleasure, if given the opportunity, of remeasuring you for an entire new suit, if agreeable to you. We are both fully willing and amply capable of sustaining any loss that may accrue through any fault of ours, as a loss of that kind is, in our opinion, a mere trifle and absolutely nothing when compared to your friendship and valuable consideration. Integrity and reliability have always been our traits and principles, which we have always strictly adhered to during the years of our commercial career, and those traits and principles will always predominate in this institution, which is based on American ideals and principles and conducted by Americans throughout.

Sale Starts Tomorrow—Saturday, January 31st

Daily Greeting to News Readers

NEVER FEAR—

The hatred of the man who cannot make you hate him. Any word of praise but the one that tempts you to do your second best. That man who needs profanity to strengthen his arguments. The knocking of a man who is jealous. Any heretic who exhibits the spirit of Jesus of Nazareth. That you will lose an argument until you get angry.

PLEASURE IN BOOKS

The tendency of this age is to seek out new ways of entertaining and amusing ourselves, and the harder we strive to find new pleasures the more certain we are to defeat our own purpose, for too much amusement breeds ennui. If we preserved a proper balance in the time allotted to work and play, self improvement and rest, we should enter into our sports with more zest and take more pleasure in our hours of recreation.

When all is said and done, there is no pleasure like that to be found in a good book. But the motor car, the moving picture and the radio are all but banishing this form of entertainment from modern life. To be sure, the cross-word puzzle is making a great many of us acquainted with the dictionary, but that is not going far enough.

When we read, it is all too often the lightest of modern fiction, for there are so many distractions it seems impossible to give our undivided attention to any subject for any length of time. Even the novel, because of its length, has lost some of its old time popularity. It is so much easier and more satisfactory when we have a little time for reading to pick up a magazine and read a short story or article.

There is both pleasure and profit in a good book. Those who care only for fiction or for no reading at all can easily acquire a taste for substantial mental food: History, biography, travel and the best of the classics of all lands and all times are at our disposal in the public libraries. Printers' ink has become so common that we do not prize it as they did in the days when books and papers were rare and expensive. Joseph Addison says of reading, "Reading is to the mind what exercise is to the body. As by the one health is preserved, strengthened and invigorated; by the other virtue (which is the health of the mind) is kept alive, cherished and confirmed."

Reading good books demands thought and encourages thought. And thought leads to introspection that is profitable to the individual.

UP-STATE AIR ROUTE

The establishment of an air passenger service between Los Angeles and San Francisco early in February is another long step forward in aeronautics in this country. While our airmen have made outstanding records in a number of instances, we are said to be behind other countries in the development and use of the airplane. Air service across the English channel between France and England has been maintained for a number of years.

The contemplated service between the two principal cities of California will be significant in a number of ways. Bringing the two towns closer together will have a tendency to eliminate some of the animosity and jealousy that have existed between the north and the south. It will facilitate business in both cities by shortening the time between them to five hours.

Four machines of the eight-passenger tri-plane type will be operated daily. One will leave Los Angeles at 8 a. m. and another at noon and planes will leave San Francisco at the same hours, making stops at Bakersfield, Fresno and Modesto. Promoters of the scheme say the fare will be between $30 and $40.

COURTESY TO PATRONS

When employees of business concerns and public utility corporations treat patrons as though they were inferiors seeking favors of superiors they do not impress the public with their importance as they seem to suppose, so much as they prove by their manner that they have not learned the first requirement of business and that they have been reared in an atmosphere where courtesy was absent.

Many people are in every way so far above those who treat them with discourtesy that they do not give incidents of this kind a thought. Other people are extremely sensitive and hesitate to ask for information or service from those who are paid to serve them.

In any business it is the buying public that is to be considered and it behooves public service employees to treat patrons with common courtesy, at least. Several of the big corporations have seen the importance of this and are requiring their employees to be courteous under all circumstances and are adopting such slogans as "The patron is always right."

'MA' FERGUSON NOT 'BONE DRY'

When Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, governor of Texas, made the announcement in her first message to the legislature that "the public officials of Texas should enforce the prohibition law only in proportion to popular demand for such enforcement and that the 'bone dry' efforts of her predecessor would not be maintained" she voiced a most astonishing conception of the duties of her office and of her ideas of law and law enforcement.

When there is no popular demand for the enforcement of any law it should be repealed, but as long as the public sentiment against such a law is not strong enough to wipe it off the statute books it remains a law, and laws are to be enforced by officials.

Whatever may be our opinion of the Volstead act, and there are many who are honest in their conviction that it is not a wise or a just law, everyone must admit that Governor Ferguson's attitude toward law-enforcement is both peculiar and dangerous. Perhaps "Jim" is coaching her, after all.

EXPENSIVE WEDDING

A wedding costing $100,000 was recently solemnized in Chicago with a cardinal officiating, the huge cathedral refitted in cardinal red, a rosary from the pope, thousands of hothouse lilies, diamonds and gowns from Paris, Tito Schipa singing, the Chicago symphony orchestra playing the wedding march. All this to unite in marriage Miss Loretta Hines, daughter of a millionaire lumberman, to Howell Howard of Dayton, Ohio.

Well and good. If a man has so much money he doesn't know what to do with it all he might as well spend it giving his daughter a good send-off as to keep it where it will do no one any good. On the other hand, all this fuss and feathers will not make the ceremony that unites the two young people any more sacred or binding, nor will it increase the felicity of their married life.

THE LATEST CREATION FROM PARIS!

Gompers

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Samuel Gompers was the president of the American Federation of Labor.

He recently died, and his death was the occasion of a great display of public affection.

He was born in England in 1850. He was a cigar maker by trade, and one of the founders of the American Federation of Labor in 1886. For the thirty-eighth time he had just been elected to his presidency at the convention held at El Paso, Texas.

The rise of this English Jewish boy to a position of great prominence in the world is significant apart from whether one believes in his ideas or not. No one but a man who is really great could make such a rise and achieve the commanding position he occupied in the last forty-three years of his life.

He was opposed to strikes, and avoided them whenever he could do so wisely.

He was a conservative in his unbending adherence to trade unionism pure and simple. He was usually understood as being opposed to all sorts of radicalism.

It was largely through his efforts that the American Federation of Labor has replaced the Knights of Labor, which now is only a memory.

He succeeded in getting many laws passed by Congress and state legislatures for the betterment of labor conditions.

He held to the very last his authority over his organization.

He had no idea as to what would be the permanent settlement of the labor question. He accepted things as he found them, that there was an eternal conflict between capital and labor, and he was on the side of the laboring man.

Once, when Morrison, his lieutenant was asked: "What are you going to do with all this growing power of organized labor? To what ultimate end are you working?" he replied: "God only knows; I don't."

Gompers never made any attempt to lead men any further than they could see. He never lost himself in economic speculation. He was essentially a craftsman, for he took things as he found them and worked for immediate results.

All his career he opposed Communism and Bolshevism. He also opposed the institution of labor banks and the ownership of productive enterprises by labor. He was opposed to prohibition, and worked actually against the adoption of the Volstead law.

Opinion as to the value of his character and work will be divided. But there is no difference of opinion as to the essential greatness of the man.

On the whole, he was a sane, conservative and constructive labor leader, and his place will be a very hard one to fill.

It is significant that the man who thus united behind himself the majority of the labor forces was not a native American. He was an Englishman and a Jew.

Horoscope

Copyright, 1924, George Matthew Adams

Good and evil influences are discoverable in this day's horoscope. According to astrology the Sun, Jupiter and Mercury are in benefic aspect, while Venus and Uranus are adverse.

Love appears to be subject to sinister directions of the stars today, making for deceptions, jealousies and bad judgment.

There is a threatening sign for those who begin their romance by meeting under this rule of the stars, for they may be madly sentimental and foolishly impulsive.

Weddings that take place while this configuration prevails may be unfortunate since they may easily lead to divorce.

Although the Sun shines on editors and writers who are supposed to flourish under this planetary government, dramatic critics may be crabbed and fault-finding.

It is read as a peculiarly unlucky day for persons of the theater who should avoid first appearances under this sway.

One of the signs is read as presaging for the drama patronage that will place the production of plays on a business basis that removes uncertainties and assures a high degree of ability on the part of players.

Again discontent and unrest may affect the mind. Women may be especially susceptible to influences that cause them to desire independence and even extreme liberty.

More and more the realm of the mind is to be explored and the domination of thought will be stressed as never before, it is prophesied.

Among the young much trouble will accrue in this new year which has many menacing signs for persons under twenty, who have not accepted life with a right sense of responsibility.

The seers announce that the mania for speed will affect the destinies of many who will be vic-

Business advances may be made successfully today, but any initiative in love affairs will be unlucky, in all probability.

Children born on this day probably will be strongly individual and able to maintain their independence. These subjects of Aquarius often have the touch of real genius.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

There is a class of people, whenever they see any good to be done, or evil to be remedied, would willingly instigate the government to undertake the business; while there is another class that prefers to bear almost any amount of social evil, rather than add one to the departments of human interests amenable to governmental control. And men range themselves on one or the other side in any particular case, according to this general direction of their sentiments; or according to the degree of interest which they feel in the particular thing which it is proposed that the government should do; or according to the belief they entertain that the government would, or would not, do it in the manner they prefer. But they very rarely do so on account of any opinion to which they consistently adhere, as to what things are fit to be done by the government, whether it be liquor prohibition, or child labor regulation, or control of navigable rivers.

In consequence of this absence of rule or principle, it is apparent that one side is at present as often wrong as the other, and the interference of government is, with about equal frequency, improperly invoked and improperly condemned.

John Stuart Mill expounded the principle that the sole end for which mankind is warranted, individually or collectively, in interfering with the liberty of action of any of his number, is self-protection.

"The only purpose for which power can be rightfully exercised over any member of a civilized community, against his will, is to prevent harm to others," he held. "His own good, either physical or moral, is not a sufficient warrant."

"He cannot be rightfully compelled to do or forbear because it will be better for him to do so, because it will make him happier, because, in the opinions of others, to do so would be wise, or even right. These are good reasons for remonstrating with him, or reasoning with him, or persuading him, or entreating him, but not for compelling him, or otherwise. To do that, the conduct from which it is desired to deter him must be calculated to produce evil to someone else."

"The only part of conduct of any one, for which he is amenable to society, is that which concerns others. In the part which merely concerns himself, his independence is, of right, absolute. Over himself, over his body and mind, the individual is sovereign."

It is hardly necessary to say that this doctrine is meant to apply only to mature human beings. Those who are still in a state to require being taken care of by others, must be protected against their own actions as well as against external injury.

Gossip Lands Husband Behind Bars of Jail

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Carrie Bates of Newark confided to a woman neighbor that her husband was wanted by the police of Virginia. The police learned of it and had Bates put in jail. For three days Mrs. Bates pleaded for his release, but police learned from Newport News that Bates has been wanted in connection with a bootleg case.

WILD LININGS

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Clouds can have a silver lining, but the new ensemble coats are distinguished by linings far more brilliant in color. The majority are covered inside with the beautiful, new printed silks in the wildest of designs and shades.

Joins Board

EARL S. PATTERSON, attorney, who has been chosen a director of the Gibraltar Finance corporation.

Another popular Glendalian has been chosen to serve as a member of the board of directors of the Gibraltar Finance corporation, 218 South Brand boulevard. In the selection of Attorney Earl S. Patterson to fill this responsible position, those who are guiding the destinies of this concern have shown good judgment and unusual foresight. They have secured for their concern an attorney who is most capable along the lines of real estate and corporation law. In his capacity as a member of the board of directors of this concern, and also counsel for the corporation, Mr. Patterson not only strengthens the board in a business way, but also brings a wealth of legal knowledge that will doubtless be of untold value in the operation of the corporation.

Mr. Patterson has lived in Glendale since 1913. For the past five years he has been an officer of the local Elks lodge, and at the present time he is exalted ruler of this organization. He is a member of the following organizations: Elks lodge, Hollywood Country club, American Legion, Arnama club, Society Sons of the American Revolution and Trojan club.

Mr. Patterson was born in 1892, in Collingswood, N. J. He attended Mercersburg, Pa., academy, one of the three largest preparatory schools in the United States. He also attended Temple university, in Pennsylvania. In 1915 he was graduated from the law school of the University of Southern California. In 1915 Mr. Patterson opened a law office in Los Angeles. At the declaration of the war against Germany he joined the army and was an officer in the artillery and aviation divisions. On his return from the army he joined with Mr. Mootie in the present law office of Mootie & Patterson, 515-19 H. W. Hellman building, Los Angeles. This firm specializes in corporation and real estate law, representing some of the largest real estate firms of Los Angeles. He is thoroughly conversant with real estate and corporation laws of California.

Mr. Patterson's experience, both in business and legal circles, will certainly serve him well in his work as a director of the Gibraltar Finance corporation.

Shoplifter Asks to Be Returned to Jail
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Mary Knowles, 26, dressed in an expensive fur coat and a costly hat, arrived in Special Sessions on a charge of shoplifting, started the justices by asking to be returned to Bedford reformatory to serve an unexpired sentence. The woman had been arraigned five times since 1917 for shoplifting. While at the reformatory she caused so much trouble that she was sent to Matteawan. When parole was granted she broke her parole within an hour of her release, and was returned.

The detectives said they found a large quantity of expensive wearing apparel in her room.

Queer Things Offered In 'Dead Letter' Sale

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—A radio set with carburetor attached; or (who knows?) a fresh glass eye; a set of second-hand teeth, a nice mahogany leg, a can of pork and beans; or a musket, made in 1837, that won't shoot—these are a few of the priceless bargains available at the postoffice sale in Chicago this week.

The musket has four notches on it, for which, however, there will be no extra charge.

London Council Not In Favor of Vessels

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Sir Samuel Instone's vision of passenger motor-boat service on the River Thames to relieve the congestion of London streets, will not come true, at least for the present. The London County Council rejected the scheme, although it admitted it was in favor of the principle. Instead, the City Council plans to build many miles of subway lines.

A woman who died in London recently is believed to have spent $5,000,000 on clothes.

HILLHAVEN TRACT PROVES POPULAR

Twining & Myers Take Many Prospects Over Tujunga Cabin Site Land

Twining & Myers, Glendale realtors, have taken hundreds of prospective cabin site buyers to inspect Hillhaven, at Tujunga, during the past ten days. Visitors from many cities around Los Angeles have declared the subdivision to be without a peer in the real estate field. W. L. Twining, senior member of the firm, said today.

"Sites in the beautiful green Verdugo hills are being taken by many of these people who will build week-end cabin homes at present and will realize big profits in the future when the hill land is the valuable residential property it is bound to become." Hillhaven is situated just off the state highway and within five minutes' walk of the center of the Tujunga business district. Yet it has all the quiet and rural aspect of a mountain fastness many miles from civilization. The tract, sites in which are available at rock bottom prices, is just nine miles from the business district of Glendale and only 45 minutes' drive from Broadway, Los Angeles.

MUSIC CLUB WILL HONOR FOUNDING

Charter Night Celebration Next Tuesday With Special Program

Charter night will be celebrated next Tuesday night by members of Glendale Music club, meeting at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse for a program by Miss Gertrude Cleophas, pianist, and Maurice Lavove, baritone, accompanied by Mrs. Guy Bush. The program will be followed by a reception.

The club was organized February 1921 with fifteen members, and Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, the founder, still serves as president. Recalling the historical background of the club it is noted that on the same night the organization chartered, it was federated with the state and national bodies. As the time has passed great development has come about, until today departments of the club provide expression and cultural opportunities for both old and young. One of the great accomplishments of the club has been the establishment of an oratorio section, under the direction of John Smallman.

For the charter night celebration many out of town guests have been invited, including national and state officers. It is hoped that Mrs. Lillian Burlingham, president of the state federation, will be present. Artists in the program charter night are: Miss Cleophas, who is a resident of Glendale, a member of the artists' section of the club; Mr. Lavove, a Russian baritone, a graduate of the same conservatory where Chalopin studied; Mrs. Bush, well-known as a pianist. The program:

R. E. JOHNSTON, the fifth to receive more than fifty nominations in The Glendale Evening News' nominations for City Council campaign, now being conducted. Who's next?

When The Glendale Evening News announced that it would receive nominations for city councilmen, it was stated that all who received fifty or more nominations would have their pictures published, also a brief biography. It happens that R. E. Johnston is the fifth proposed candidate to receive fifty or more nominations, so his picture appears above and following is a brief story about him.

He is at present to be elected to the City Council, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, a graduate of the same conservatory where Chalopin studied; Mrs. Bush, well-known as a pianist. The program:

FASHION CENTER SHOWING COLORS

Sport Wear in Many Shades To Be Popular Local Milliner Predicts

Fashion dictates a season of high colors in sport clothes and sports wear will be worn more this year than ever before, according to M. J. McKinnon of the Fashion Center, Inc., in an interview regarding spring styles. R. L. Dines, member of the firm, and buyer, is now in New York, where he is selecting the latest in fashions for millinery's wardrobe. "Spring wraps, now in demand in New York," he said "show coats made of Kasha cloth trimmed with a wide band of summer fur at the bottom of the collar and cuffs. Sport coats are found in all the leading shades, some of the newest colors being rust, copper, cocoa, nice green, new brown and almond. Ensemble suits now are in demand as much as they were the first weeks of the winter season, and are being fashioned of spring materials.

"The word ensemble is French, meaning 'altogether,' and is pronounced as though it were spelled 'Onsemble,' with the accent on the 'som.' Another dictate of Dame Fashion is the one-piece flannel dress, which may be used for almost any occasion. These dresses are made in one piece, from materials in shades of blue, brown, russet, old rose, grey, and are popular for sports wear."

Shipment of new wearing apparel are being received daily at the Fashion Center. The Import Shop of the Fashion Center, located at 102 East Harvard street, is a new feature of the store. The shop is furnished with Chinese blue lacquered furniture, with cushions in Oriental designs, Chinese rugs and French mannequin dolls. In the Import Shop are hand-made hats and copies of imported dresses. The window display is especially attractive, and compliments have been received on the artistic manner in which it has been arranged. No expense is spared in making the shop Glendale's smartest women's shop. Import garments and copies of imports are on display in the window and "beautiful" is the one word that describes the large stock of afternoon gowns and evening frocks at the Fashion Center. The new spring hats are made of satins, silk taffeta, with silk and straw combinations. The Fashion Center, which is the Glendale branch of the well-known Meadowbrook hats, has a

Maniac Believed to Be Living on Island

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Residents of Cumberland Head believe an escaped lunatic or an eccentric hermit has made his home on an island in Lake Champlain, close to the shore. Each night piercing screeches, like those of a man in pain, ring out through the darkness from the direction of a small island which is regarded as barren.

The noises have continued for several nights, and local adventurers are waiting for the lake to freeze over so that they may investigate. No light or sign of habitation can be discerned from shore, but the startling yells, followed by continuous laughter, are disturbing.

Girl Reared in Italy Returns to Italy

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The call of America, her birthplace, has brought Miss Teresina Di Primo back to this country alone from Italy, leaving her parents in that country. They had taken her to Italy when she was a baby, but she returned to America as soon as she was old enough.

No immigration official could challenge her right to admission. Miss Di Primo had her birth certificate. There was no danger that she would become a public charge, for she is over the children's age limit of 16. So she went on her way to join her cousin, Mrs. Luisa Di Micco, in Syracuse.

Move Liberty Bell to Put in Solid Floor

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—Liberty Bell in Independence Hall has been moved temporarily. A solid base is to be erected beneath its customary position and the flooring of the hall is to be torn up and relaid with colonial brick.

The old flooring has been in place for twenty years, and officials felt there was a danger of the bell's crashing through.

Ponca Indians Will Review Lengthy Fight

PONCA CITY, Ok., Jan. 30.—The Ponca tribe of Indians will resume its forty-seven-year fight for indemnity from the government and the Sioux Indian tribe in Congress this winter.

They will ask permission to file suit for $11,000,000 against the Sioux tribe and the government. News Want Ads Bring Results.

Civil War Vet, Hero At Shiloh, In Accident

HASTINGS, Mich., Jan. 30.—Joseph Wardell, 83, who, as a member of a Michigan infantry regiment, is said to have fired the first Union shot in the battle of Shiloh, suffered a fractured arm in a fall on the street here. Mr. Wardell and his wife recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

English Prince Plans Visit With Americans

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Prince Henry may be the next member of the royal family to Great Britain to visit the United States. He is said to be anxious to make the trip across the Atlantic next summer, after the Prince of Wales has returned from the Argentine. The prince will probably have been given the title of Duke of Edinburgh before he makes the trip.

Hot Water Springs Is Struck at Sanatorium

LONDON, Jan. 30.—After boring for water for eighteen months in the ground of Holloway sanatorium, Virginia Water, near Great Windsor Park, the boring party has struck a spring—of hot water—which at one time appeared as though it would flood the village of Stroud. Huge quantities of water rushed to the main road between Virginia Water and Staines, and clouds of vapor from the flooded roadway gave the appearance of fog. When tested the heat of the spring proved to be ninety-seven degrees Fahrenheit.

Polish Rabbis' Exodus To America Alarming

WARSAW, Jan. 30.—Exodus of rabbis from Poland to America has been stopped by the refusal of United States consulates in Poland to grant more visas in addition to several hundred obtained by the rabbis during the last two years.

Thus, 2000 rabbis who applied for visas in 1924 have little chance of ever being admitted to the United States. According to the new immigration law, the rabbis, like other clergymen, are to be admitted without any restrictions, beyond the usual quotas for emigrants from each country, but their extraordinarily great number induced the United States consulates to restrictive measures, although all the rabbis had all necessary documents and certificates.

The exodus of rabbis has been caused by an economical stress in eastern Polish provinces. The local Jewish congregations are unable to assure them even a modest living.

Bulgaria to Abolish 20,000 Office Holders

SOFIA, Jan. 30.—For purposes of economy and in order to balance the budget, 20,000 officials are to be dismissed from the Bulgarian government offices and institutions. Women will be dismissed first, although unmarried women will be given preference.

The government's decision is meeting with criticism from the press, which claims that enormous amounts of money are being wasted on refugees who should be looked after by the International Red Cross. If officials must be dismissed, the press contends that foreigners in state service should be let out first. Hundreds of foreigners, chiefly Russians, hold government positions.

ENVELOPE BAG

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The flat envelope bag of tapestries continues fashionable, but some new features have been added to the accessories with which it is equipped. One new bag has pockets for a pair of dice, and its owner calls it her game bag.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

"Dear Doctor:—Are eggs as nourishing made into custards as when eaten coddled or poached? Sonny, aged 14 months, very much prefers the custard and I suspect it is on account of the sweetness. He is an S. S. (super-admirable) Soakums, has 13 teeth, four of them molars, and is and has been fed according to Peters' all his life.—Mrs. K."

Yes, eggs are just as nourishing one way as another. However they should not be tried for children. It is a good idea to have them get used to an egg occasionally, poached or coddled.

You mustn't let sonny become "choosy." You will have trouble later.

For those who missed the instructions, here is the list Sonny is going on:

Table of Feeding from 12th to 15th Month

6 a.m.—Milk, 8 ounces, from cup
13th month. No sugar.
Dry crisp bread and butter, about 1-3 ordinary slice; increase gradually.
Juice one orange at 9 a.m.

10 a.m.—Milk, 8 ounces, from cup
Cooked cereal, 3 to 4 level tablespoonfuls, with milk (part of above) on it. No sugar.
Dry crisp bread and butter, 1-3 to 1-2 slice.
Egg yolk, 2 to 3 times a week, or often; cooked slightly or raw—on toast or in milk, or in custard form.

2 p.m.—Milk, 4 to 8 ounces, from cup (no sugar), after solid foods eaten.
Meat or vegetable broths, 3 to 4 ounces, with rice or stale bread in it, 2 to 3 times a week.
Dry crisp bread and butter.
Scraped beef, or cottage cheese, 1 tablespoonful, 2 or 3 times a week when meat broths are not given.
Cleaned bone to bite and suck, 2 or 3 times a week.
Purged vegetables, 3 to 4 tablespoonfuls. (Potato and one other. Spinach, 3 to 4 times a week, if possible).
Fruit pulp, cooked or raw, 2 to 4 level tablespoonfuls.

6 p.m.—Milk, 8 ounces, from cup (no sugar) after solid foods eaten.

Dry crisp bread and butter, 1-3 to 1-2 slice.
Cereal 1-4 to 1-2 cupful with some of above milk in it.
Fruit pulp, 1 to 2 tablespoonfuls.
Water, 1-2 to 1 glass between meals.

Half Socks
Mrs. P.—No, half socks on children will not bring rheumatism in later years. The more children's skins can be exposed to the sun and air, the better for them. It is better to begin to wear the socks in the summertime. If you begin to use them when the weather is colder, just have them worn for short times and gradually increase the time. The sun and air are remedies, both preventive and curative, for rickets, tuberculosis and many diseases.

Bed Wetting
Mrs. R.—We have an article on Bed Wetting which you may have by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

How about your children's nutrition? Undernourished and over-nourished children are very prone to be bed wetters. In general you have to see that the urine is kept mild by proper diet; no liquids after 4 o'clock, no tea, coffee, stimulants, salty or highly seasoned foods and no concentrated sweets should be allowed.

Tomorrow—Answers To Correspondents

My Dear Followers:—When sending me material which you care to please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e., if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Mrs. Draves will be remembered by a host of Glendale people, as she was teacher of physical education in the Harvard street high school for two years and at the Broadway high school last year. She is a graduate of the Manual Arts High school, Los Angeles, and of the University of California, Berkeley, and is a member of the Phi Omega sorority. For going away she wore a green ensemble suit with a sprig of holly to match. The groom is manager of the Los Angeles office for the Dunham Heating company and is formerly from Racine, Wisconsin.

Needlework Club

Mrs. Robert Curwell of 722 East Maple street was hostess Wednesday afternoon to members of the Maple Street Sewing club. Mrs. E. E. Heald of 805 East Maple street will be hostess to the club next Wednesday.

Plans for Guild

In discussing ways and means for augmenting the treasury, members of St. Mark's Guild, meeting yesterday at the church, decided to appoint a different committee each month during the year to arrange benefits for the organization. Tentative plans were made for a dinner for the choir some time in February. The Guild will hold a food sale from 10 to 2 o'clock tomorrow at the Porter furniture store on West Broadway at Orange street.

Club Will Meet

Glendon club members will meet Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Francis at 1014 Tyler street. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock, followed by an evening of cards.

DR. OTEY SAYS

Every Fat man is a Dying Man.
Accumulation of fat in undue quantities in the human body is a pathologic condition due to imperfect chemical action of assimilation and elimination.
To attempt to correct such faulty condition by drugs, starvation, or other unnatural means, whether chemical, mechanical, calisthenics, dietetics or what not, is ridiculous and would be ludicrous if it were not so pathetic.
If you have faulty metabolism in the form of obesity, have your osteopath search out and correct the cause.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

IF YOU'RE VERY YOUNG
and greasy hair result. Eat some sweet things, sugar is carbohydrate and builds the growing body more than other food elements. But too much sugar means pimples.

Take good care of your hair. By the time you're fairly grown up, no doubt bobbed hair will be out-of-date, if yours is long and thick and shining, you'll score on that point. Go in for outdoor exercise, it improves the figure, makes you nerveless and healthy. The healthy young woman attracts other women and men, the unhealthy one is left in the corner.

As for corsets, they're not being worn much at the moment, and if you stand right you need not wear them at all. They're not especially pretty in spite of their attractive advertising pictures.

Miss P. H.: Frequent washings will not help rid you of the tendency to an oily scalp. The real trouble, usually faulty elimination, lies in your system, and the skin is overworked to keep the whole system clear. You can relieve the hair of the excess oil by using warm soft towels just as if you were drying the hair after a shampoo. Do not shampoo oftener than every other week and make the last rinse very cool ending it by a shower of very cold water on the scalp to help close the pores.

Reader: Some women find that warm milk is soothing to the complexion after there has been long exposure to wind and dust.

Tomorrow—Clean Smelling Hair
All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Every family loves "pancakes." Some housewives make them one way, some another. I am going to give various recipes for this delicious dish:

Wholewheat Pancakes: Beat one egg light and add to it two cups of sweet, cold milk. Mix together three cups of wholewheat flour, a pinch of salt and three teaspoons of baking powder. Combine the dry and the liquid mixtures, beat well, then drop by tablespoonfuls into a hot, greased griddle or into a hot, greased pan turning when "dimples" appear on top and when pancake is brown underneath.

Old-Fashioned Flannel Cakes: Mix and sift together one pint of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of sugar and a pinch of salt. Also mix together the beaten yolk of one egg and three-fourths of a pint of sweet, cold milk. Combine the dry and wet mixtures, then beat well and add one-half tablespoon of melted butter. Last fold in one stiffly-beaten white of an egg. Drop onto a hot greased pan or griddle as above directed. (Note: If you have an aluminum, steel or soapstone griddle it will require no grease at all. It should be hot enough to hiss when the batter touches it.)

Cornmeal Griddlecakes: Mix together and sift three-quarters of a cup of yellow cornmeal, one and one-fourth cups of ordinary white bread flour, four teaspoons of baking powder, two tablespoons of sugar and one and one-half teaspoons of salt. Now also mix together one and one-half cups of sweet, cold milk and one beaten egg. Combine the liquid mixture with the dry mixture, then stir in two tablespoons of melted butter. Beat well before cooking as above described on a griddle or in a pan.

Hominy Griddlecakes: Sift two cups of ordinary white bread flour and rub into it, with the fingertips, two tablespoons of butter or lard. Stir into this two cups of thick, sour milk. Let this mixture stand several hours (over night is even better) then add to it one cup of either hot or cold cooked hominy. Also add, with the hominy, one heaping teaspoon of soda. Beat well before trying

CHAPTER XXXIV

"Ritz Grill Room—my favorite corner table," he insisted. "We ought to have neaps to talk about—except that I am too hungry to talk at all. I've been up since five o'clock on your business—in the Marconi room at the Admiralty, most of the time."

"Any news?"

"Not much that's fresh, anyway. We're getting things into shape for the moment we receive word from Washington. There's a Cabinet Council today, you know. Lucky some of our friends can't get hold of the agenda. We should have the whole world by its ears tomorrow."

They descended the stairs and remained for a moment in the lounge of the Grill Room, while Sullivan ordered luncheon from an attentive maître d'hôtel. The barkeeper was content with a nod.

"You like your cocktails dry, of course," Sullivan went on. "I brought you here instead of the club because all the fellows would want to meet you and talk, and we're not loquacious just at present, except to one another."

"Very thoughtful of you," Grant approved. "I had an idea that you might be coming across with us."

"Can't be done. We shall work the show from here. All the same, I must confess I had rather be in Washington. Have you sent that cable?"

"I've sent one a yard long. The trouble is the Government are well convinced already. It's veterans we want to get at. What I'm afraid of all the time is that the trouble will commence before the President has been empowered to sign."

The Admiral rose to his feet in reply to a summons from the maître d'hôtel and led his guest towards the table which had been prepared for them.

"Don't worry too much about that, young fellow," he enjoined cheerfully. "I'm a sailor, not a politician, but I can see my hand before my face in the daylight. If half the members of the Pact

DOUBIN PLAYERS
"Love Laughs," now well into its second week at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, continues to draw enthusiastic audiences. What more could be desired in an evening's entertainment? The answer is, nothing. This snappy George D. Parker comedy fills the entire bill. Those who have not yet had the pleasure of seeing it are offered the opportunity to-night and tomorrow night. The curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock.

Mary Worth, voted one of the daintiest and most talented actresses in the west, plays the leading role. The supporting cast includes: Mary Isabelle Alpaugh, Joseph McManus, William H. Stephens, Richard Ehlers, Eugenia Florence, Arthur Lovejoy and Harry J. Glazier.

The story revolves about a nerve specialist who is besought by a love-struck bachelor, who asks to be made sick so that he may be nursed by his innamorata. Propinquity, says the bachelor, will bring about the desired engagement. The doctor finally responds to the request and the ten days' supposed illness is on.

ed and prejudiced Britisher, and I swear by our own forces, but the French submarines have gone one or two ahead of us. I had sooner face the devil himself than the flotilla which is collecting in Cherbourg harbor."

Grant's eyes flashed for a moment.

"You mean that France—"

"Fool! My dear fellow, I don't mean anything," Sullivan interrupted. "I'm a sailor, not a politician. But I'll tell you this: France is very often misjudged. Thirty years ago the world thought her self-centered, selfish, neurotic. So would any of us have been after what she went through. You wait, Jove! There's our hostess of last night. Rippling, isn't she? She'll be the partie of the season. They say young Suffolk's making the running. Makes one wish one were young again. Why not an international alliance, Slattery? Why don't you go in with your millions? Old Yeovil thinks you did."

Grant endured his companion's careless banter without moving a muscle. Susan, the center of a say little party, looked round as she entered the inner room and nodded to the two men. There was a smile of a happy, light-hearted girl, who has nothing but good will for the whole world. And yet somehow or other it was a smile which Grant hated. He felt that it put the seal upon his ostracism.

Grant was conscious of a queer presentiment as he stopped to speak with Cornelius Blunn on the first day out from Southampton. Blunn was occupying his splendid suite and was lying in the upper portion of the deck. He had come on board the day before, to all appearance his usual self. Now, within twenty-four hours, he was again writhing in misery, as he glanced up at Grant, which touched the latter.

"Sit down and talk to me for a minute, my young enemy," he invited. "The doctor tries to tell me that part of the whole thing is nervousness. Tell me how you succeeded in London."

Uncle Wiggily

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BUTTONHOOK

gilly hopped on with the buttonhook. "When you are coming home, after your adventure today, will you please bring me a buttonhook, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning. Mr. Longears was just starting to hop away from his hollow stump bungalow.

"Of course, I'll bring you a buttonhook," he promised. "But what do you want of one I wear lace shoes."

"I want it to button my spats with," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. For Nurse Jane, being stylish, wore low shoes, and to keep her ankles warm she put on spats, which are cloth cuffs with buttons and buttonholes, fastening over the lower part of her feet.

"Oh, yes, of course, a buttonhook for spats! You shall have it," gaily cried the bunny. Then, having twinkled his pink nose once or twice, away he hopped, over the fields and through the woods.

He stopped in the first drug store he reached and bought the buttonhook. And if ever there is something you want and can't find it anywhere else, try the drug store. In some you can get medicine.

With the buttonhook in his pocket, Uncle Wiggily started to hop along, looking for an adventure. At first it seemed that he would never meet with one. But, all of a sudden, he heard a voice crying:

"Help! Help! Oh! Zimmie has fallen in and I can't get him out!"

"That's an adventure, if ever I heard one calling to its mate!" said the bunny. "And it doesn't sound like any of the bad things, either." He hopped on a little farther until he saw a Squiggle Bug, standing on the shore of a little puddle, where some rain water had gathered in the hole made by a cow's hoof.

"What's the matter?" asked the bunny. "What's the matter, Zoomie?" for he knew the name of the little Squiggle standing on shore.

"Oh, my brother Zimmie tried to go skating on the cow's foot puddle pond, and he broke through the ice!" cried Zoomie. "Poor Zimmie!"

"I'll soon get him out!" shouted the bunny. Running up, Uncle Wiggily reached down with the buttonhook he had bought for Nurse Jane. The bunny caught the hook in the seat of Zimmie's trousers and hauled him out of the water.

"Oh, thank you for saving me!" whispered the cold, wet little Squiggle Bug.

"You are very welcome," said the bunny. "Now I'll put you in my fur coat pocket until you get warm. And I'll put you in also, Zoomie." So with the two Squigglers in his pocket, Uncle Wig-

FORT WORTH, Jan. 30.—With the larger southwestern warehouses carrying no unsold wool, interest in the Texas sheep district is centering now in the 1925 clip. It is estimated by federal and state officials that about 60 per cent of the clip already has been sold. Contracts for the new clip have been placed and are being executed on a basis of between 50 and 55 cents per pound in the grease for short or six months' wool. Twelve months fleeces range around 60 cents a pound.

CITY SEEN AS COMMUTERS PARADISE

Phone Expert Gives Reasons Why Glendale Will Be Residential Center

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

There is nothing quite so impressive as a prediction by a man who is paid for his prognostications; an executive who has the statistical data of a great organization to back him up; and a man who appreciates the far-sightedness of others.

Fred Deal, manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. here, with a district comprising the whole northern half of Los Angeles county outside of Pasadena, speaks with authority. To look with him in the crystal globe and gaze into the future may read like a "pipe dream" and the genial Deal admits that his pipe is his hobby, but—

Five years ago when he was asked to give an estimate of Glendale's population up to 1927, the federal census had just announced this to be a city of 13,350. Deal said it was going to be 50,000 in 1927.

"And only A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, told me my estimate was too low. He was right, but my prediction was within bounds," Deal said.

Now for some predictions by the telephone manager:

1—The completion of the Glendale-Hollywood-San Fernando valley subway by the Pacific Electric railway is going to multiply Glendale's apartment house population many fold, the Brand boulevard business district here to be flanked by three or four blocks of apartment houses.

2—The San Fernando valley will be brought closer to Los Angeles by the Burbank line, which Deal believes will eventually extend either to Lankershim and Van Nuys, or San Fernando, or both. This will bring thousands of commuters through Glendale and make this their trade and amusement center as the years roll by.

3—The increases in telephone business show the San Fernando valley points such as Glendale, Burbank, Lankershim and Van Nuys to be growing two and three times faster the past year than any other section of the southland. Maintaining this proportionate increase there is every reason to believe that Glendale will be the most populous of all residential cities by 1950, as was depicted in the first prize float at the Pasadena Tournament of Roses which was designed by L. W. Chobe.

As Mr. Deal says, "the whole country is talking about Glendale, the fastest growing city in America."

LOS ANGELES

For Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—Supreme court justices are not the last word in the law when they run afoul of city ordinances, several of them conceded when they unconsciously attempted to "jay-walk" at Sixth and Olive streets. The shrill notes from the whistle of a traffic officer halted them, and his stern order sent them retreating to the curb from which they had illegally stepped. The justices were William P. Lawlor, Thomas J. Lennon, Emmet Seawell, Nathaniel P. Conroy and John F. Tyler.

A can of angle worms, several hundred Bibles and more than 100 purses were among the articles listed as lost on Pacific Electric cars during 1924, it was revealed in the company's annual report today.

The United States battle fleet began reassembling today at Los Angeles harbor for a two-weeks' secret battle practice starting February 2. Units of the dreadnaught division basing here are scattered widely with only five battleships now in port.

A full month has passed without a murder in Los Angeles and is the first time in the history of the Los Angeles police department, it was asserted today at the police detective bureau. The last murder was committed December 28.

Barney Swartz and his three so-called "high pressure" salesmen were found guilty in Superior Judge Hardy's court of "high grading" securities. They will be sentenced on February 2. With Swartz were Larry Goldmer, Eddie C. West and Norman Frankfort.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

The Chamber of Commerce is providing motorists with windshield stickers of attractive design telling the good old story: "Glendale—the Fastest Growing City in America."

It is a slogan that wears well in view of the fact that this city maintains its pace. Always a Forward March!

Impressive indeed was the parade yesterday of a score of L. J. Christopher Ice Cream Co. trucks giving publicity to the fact that that concern has established a large industrial plant here.

And it is good to hear the civic boosters talking of $2,400,000 school bonds—the biggest amount the electors of this city have ever been called upon to vote.

As Glendale grows it is necessary for the people here to think in larger figures.

Schools and the system under which they operate are a delicate subject for discussion. Practically every one has a different viewpoint. And views vary as a result.

Quite a few people are interested in the proposals made to the Legislature that non-residents' children be charged tuition by California schools. Others would reorganize the entire school system and have a state director of education.

The complaint is quite general that school facilities are inadequate, that classes are too large, that the curriculum is too extended, that the tendency has been for schools to get away from fundamental learning, and then we find others who believe—

The schools are adequate, that classes are none too large for efficiency and economy, that the curriculum should be extended to cover more vocational work, that our present generation needs a greater variety of knowledge than ever before and so on.

One wealthy man is advocating more small colleges, but it is doubtful if students will agree to the restricted life. And small institutions are more expensive and beyond the reach of common people.

Los Angeles would make the southern branch, University of California, a city college; the farmer interests would have it removed from the city.

It is certain that everyone cannot be pleased.

LUMBER BOOMING

SEATTLE, Jan. 30.—Lumber mills in the Pacific Northwest showed an excess of orders over production last week as compared with an excess of production of 18 per cent above orders for the previous week. Australia is buying for delivery as far ahead as August. Large city yards in the east have made their spring purchases.

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce has requested that the Pacific Electric again give this city fifteen-minute service to Los Angeles during the day. While traffic conditions on West Sixth street in the metropolis are such that the railway company would rather not run trains more often than necessary, the loss of time on the part of hundreds of passengers is of greater value, the writer believes, than the loss of time on the part of train crews and rolling stock.

The discovery may aid materially in increasing accuracy of long-range weather forecasts, he believes.

New Discovery Assists Deodorizing Fish Oil

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 30.—Discovery that fish oils can be deodorized by passing hydrogen nitrogen or carbon dioxide gas through them has been announced by Dr. H. K. This eliminates an objection to paints made with fish oils, of which there is a large potential production in the Pacific northwest. Such paints are said to have unusual durability.

ICE CREAM CO. OPENS NEW FACTORY

Five Thousand Visitors See $100,000 Plant Start On Wilson Avenue

Five thousand Glendale people visited the new $100,000 distributing plant of the Christopher Ice Cream Co. in this city yesterday. From one o'clock in the afternoon when the doors were first thrown open to the public, until nine o'clock at night, large crowds packed the new up-to-date ice cream factory, which, when it gets under full operation early next week, will add $10,000 monthly to the pay roll list of Glendale. During the early afternoon, L. J. Christopher, veteran president and founder of the Christopher Ice Cream Co., with C. G. Hitchcock, local manager, were hosts to the hundreds who visited the plant, located at Wilson avenue and Concord street. Banks of beautiful floral pieces met the gaze of the visitors as they entered the factory. Throughout the afternoon and night, Christopher ice cream, fruit punch and Christopher candies were served.

Representatives of the ice cream company escorted visitors individually over the factory, demonstrating the processes employed in refrigeration and other operations. A feature of the opening day was the parade of Christopher ice cream trucks through the downtown section of the city. More than 40 trucks, manned by employees of the Christopher Co. and led by Manager Hitchcock, started from the new Glendale plant at 2:30 o'clock, drove east on Wilson avenue to Central avenue, north to Doran street, east to Brand boulevard, south to Broadway, east to Glendale avenue, and then countered on Broadway to Brand boulevard, thence south to Los Feliz road and west on Los Feliz road into Los Angeles.

Glendale Enterprise In commenting on the establishment of the new distributing plant in Glendale, Manager Hitchcock said the plant had been opened to afford better and more adequate service to patrons in the San Fernando valley and points east as far as Pasadena. The Glendale Christopher plant is and will be a strictly Glendale enterprise, he said. "All employees of the plant live in Glendale, everything obtainable has been and will be bought in Glendale, and hearty co-operation and response will be Christopher's answer to every appeal made in the name of Glendale. "Already the city has shown an admirable spirit of co-operation with the new industry," the manager said, "by taking prompt action in paving the entrance alley to the plant. Until the alley was paved, entrance for the fleet of trucks which will operate out of Glendale would have been difficult."

An invitation to those who visited the new Glendale plant yesterday and to all Glendaleans, to visit the main Christopher factory at Twenty-first and Los Angeles streets, Los Angeles, was issued by Manager Hitchcock. Visitors at the main factory where all Christopher's ice cream and candies are manufactured, are always welcome, he said. The new Glendale unit is the fifth plant to be established by Mr. Christopher. The others are located at Los Angeles, Santa Ana, San Bernardino and Long Beach.

Oyster In Fight For His Life

Personal Sacrifice Is Under Way Raw! Raw! Raw! Is Battle Cry

By ROBERT T. SMALL Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1925 ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 30.—With his back to the wall, the Chesapeake bay oyster has started a strenuous fight for life. Oysters ordinarily are not supposed to have backs, but no oysters ever have had such a fight on their hands. The militant spirit of the Chesapeake bivalve is rampant.

The oyster is fighting his way back by the only process he knows. Hundreds of him are offering themselves as personal sacrifices, asking that they be consumed without prejudice and without price, so that all the world may see that he and his fellows are not the deep-dyed villains they have been painted throughout the length and breadth of the land. The greatest gain made by the oyster of the waters of Maryland and Virginia, has been in convincing Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner of Chicago, that the Chesapeake beds appear free from the pollution which might result in the incubation of typhoid germs. Dr. Bundesen has come to Maryland, has seen the oyster in his native haunts, has watched him being dragged from his cold and comfortable breeding beds and then has partaken of him in his native condition—raw. Not only has Dr. Bundesen eaten freely of the bivalves, but he has declared them to be a very necessary article of diet, particularly in those parts of the west where the water is lacking in iodine and where goiter trouble has to be dealt with from time to time. The oyster is a godsend in such localities, supplying the missing element.

Completing today his survey of the oyster industry in the Chesapeake bay with an inspection of the oyster packing plants in and around Baltimore, Dr. Bundesen stated that he was fully cognizant of the damage wrought to the oyster industry by the embargo on the west. He explained, however, that the actual embargo was issued by the state commissioner of health in Illinois and not by the Chicago authorities. It was Dr. Bundesen, however, who issued the first warning over the radio. Suspicion in the typhoid epidemic in Chicago was directed to oysters by a process of elimination, rather than by a bacteriological study. A typhoid outbreak in New York about the same time as the one in Chicago convinced the Illinois authorities that oysters were the culprits.

Yet for the sins of a few, possibly, all oysters have suffered. It is difficult to realize to the ends to which the embargo has gone. Railroad dining cars have scratched oysters from their printed bills. Hotels have offered both oysters and clams only in a stewed condition. It is hard on the oyster population in these Volsteadian days to decree that they are only good oysters when they are stewed. Dr. Bundesen has suggested to Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, what he believes to be a feasible plan of oyster supervision, based on inspections similar to those made in milk and meats. He regards such a plan as offering protection against another such oyster scare as the one which has crippled the industry so disastrously these past few weeks. The scheme is being studied by the Maryland authorities and will then be submitted to the state authorities in the west for final approval. Thus while the oyster is down at the moment, he is not out. Maryland people are enjoying the oysters this season as never before and resent the imputations cast against their product.

HOME PROTECTIVE SOCIETY FORMED

Southeast Glendale Body Is Organized at Meeting In Broadway School

The Southeast Glendale Home Protective association was organized last night at a mass meeting held in the auditorium of the Broadway school. The purpose of the association is to prevent the establishment of an industrial district in the southeastern part of the city, it is announced. The officers of the association are W. D. Baker, president; Burton Joseph, vice-president; E. E. Covert, secretary, and W. D. Root, treasurer.

Officers of the association say that their immediate program is to prevent the land now occupied by the Calla Lily creamery being set aside as an industrial district. They contend that the territory east of Adams and south of Colorado, except Vantage road, should be reserved strictly as a residential section, and that the creamery people should move their plant to the industrial district along San Fernando road. If the creamery cannot be induced to move at this time, the Southeast Glendale Home Protective association at least feels that there should be no expansion of their present plant.

The organization was brought about by the petition filed recently by the Calla Lily Creamery Co., asking the City Council to set aside the territory on the west side of Porter street from Maple to Windsor road as an industrial district. The Calla Lily creamery is planning on more buildings and more machinery, it is stated. The residents of the neighborhood filed with the City Council a protest bearing 250 signatures. Quite a number of them also appeared before the City Planning commission recently, stating that because the creamery operates at night and has a great number of trucks going in and out all the time, it disturbs the rest of the neighborhood and depreciates property values, they claim.

The Calla Lily petition is scheduled to come before the planning commission again next Monday night and before the City Council next Thursday. Quite a number of protesters are planning to be at the city hall on both occasions.

Man Arrested on Dry Charge Smashes Demijohn of Alleged Rum

Bolting out of police headquarters last night, after his arrest on charges of reckless driving, possession and transportation of intoxicating liquor, George E. Gardina of Los Angeles smashed a gallon demijohn of wine on the City Hall steps, in a last-minute effort to destroy the evidence. Rushing after him, Sergeant C. P. Blake and Officers J. V. Mercer and O. W. Hutton scooped up with milk bottles what is believed will be sufficient evidence to get a conviction. Sergeant F. J. Lipstreu, who was on the desk at the time, had turned his back to attend to other duties when Gardina made his sensational break. A shot might easily have killed him, but, although Sergeant Lipstreu was armed with a regulation police .45, he did not fire. Gardina was arrested at 7:30 o'clock last night, on Glendale avenue near Maple street. With him at the time was E. J. Hampton, also of Los Angeles. # Dempsey Tells of Ring Retirement those of a boxer and his manager. But I'll say this for Kearns. He is a manager par excellence—the greatest in the world. But, with my marriage just a short time off, we are shaping things up for the great finale.

Will Settle Down

"I have said, and repeat again, that I am through with the boxing game. It's no business for a married man.

Miss Taylor and I are going to settle down like regular married people. I'll probably go into some kind of business and continue with the interests I now have. But as a boxer I am through."

May 20, the date set for the wedding, it was revealed, is Miss Taylor's birthday.

"Unless I can persuade her to marry me sooner Miss Taylor and I will be married May 20," the champion continued. "Estelle is a wonderful girl. I have never known a woman like her. She is nine child and will be 26 on her next birthday. She has seen the seamy side of life and judges it by its true value. She is no milk-and-water woman, but a real genuine girl, who wants a home and children.

Unlike Other Girls

"Estelle is unlike other girls because one does not tire of her after a short acquaintance. I have known her for nine years now; long before I was champion, and the longer you know her the better you like her. It takes a woman of character to hold a man like that."

Just where Dempsey and Miss Taylor will pass their honeymoon Dempsey would not tell.

Dempsey said he and Miss Taylor first met in New York through a telephone conversation.

"I wondered what she looked like," he said enthusiastically. "You know, I have a preference for dark-haired women. Sure enough when I did see her, she was a beautiful brunette."

Betrothed for Year

Dempsey and the actress have been betrothed for more than a year, but for business reasons they have kept it secret, Dempsey revealed.

"I proposed during a dreamy night while we were dancing at a hotel here one evening," Dempsey laughed boishly. "I had wanted to ask her for a long time before that but when the lights dimmed I felt myself grow cold all over and thought to myself 'It's now or never,' so I just asked her right then and there."

"What did she do?"

"She gave me a most heavenly smile and whispered: 'Why, of course, Jack, didn't you know?'"

"And she had cared for me all the time and I had never thought that she cared enough to marry me."

JAPAN BLANKETED BY FALL OF SNOW

Entire Island is Visited by Record Storm; Water Famine Averted

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
For International News Service.

TOKIO, Jan. 30.—All of Japan was covered today by a record snowfall, one of the heaviest in many years.

All communication was temporarily blocked by the storm. Telegraph and telephone lines were put out of commission and train service into Tokyo was blocked. Service by tram cars and busses in the city was at a standstill, due to the deep snow.

Water Famine Ends

The storm was reported general throughout Japan. Despite the inconvenience caused to residents, the country welcomed the snow as it will mean an end to threats of a water famine.

Officials of power companies, who planned to plunge Tokyo into darkness because of the threatened water and power shortage, announced the storm would make such a step unnecessary. In the mountains the storm was reported particularly heavy, meaning a storage of moisture and assuring power facilities.

Small Traders Looking For Wheat Market Break

wheat there, after opening off, had worked around the close of yesterday. At Winnipeg wheat opened slightly higher and was strong.

Public Takes Market

The public has taken the market from the professional board of trade men, whose opinions, while considered worth something in the past, are wrong on the market. They talked of threatened big breaks and wag their heads, but the market goes up and leaves them behind without any wheat, fidgeting uncomfortably like a fish that has swam too near the shore and was left stranded by an ebbing tide.

As a matter of fact, the belief in the minds of the rank and file that the break would set in at the outset today probably represented hope more than conviction. They wanted to buy back cheaper wheat than they sold yesterday.

All Markets Strong

Corn was strong after a slight setback at the opening. Grain looked as though it was getting under way for a big advance. Oats were strong, slightly above yesterday's close, but this grain has been heavily oversold, especially the May futures.

Toward noon all the markets were strong. Most of the futures were higher than yesterday and confidence in the trade was growing steadily. At that time a fair bulge in all the grains before the close did not look impossible.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 30.—Covering the snow-and-ice-packed trail in better time than was ever made in Alaska, exceeding even the famous derby records, mushing dogs arrived at Ruby today in their mad dash northward with anti-toxin for 150 diphtheria sufferers in Nome.

John Folger and J. Nicolai were the drivers in the last relay, carrying the life-giving serum in the race in the face of death from Hot Springs to Ruby.

Three minutes after they arrived at Ruby, reports here stated, another musher grabbed the frozen sled-handles and hurried onward to meet Leonard Seppala, champion dog driver, at Kaltag. The temperature is close to fifty degrees below zero. Both dogs and men suffered from the cold.

With Seppala is the famous racing team, which will make the last dash of 300 miles across frozen Norton sound and bay to Elim.

The Nome derby runners made 400 miles in seventy-two hours and thirty-five minutes, while the racers in this flight against the Nome scourge have hung up a record of 500 miles covered in seventy-two hours.

With near 700 miles clipped from the 1000-mile trek, it was believed the time between Nenana and Nome of nine days would be cut to six days by the fleet dogs, establishing a most unbelievable record. Time figures on the last 200 miles are not known.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Nome, Alaska, the city stricken by an epidemic of diphtheria, today appealed for aid in a radiogram received by International News Service. The mayor's message said:

Mayor Maynard's radiogram here contradicted a statement made by public service health officials in Seattle, who declared late yesterday that conditions in Nome were "markedly improved."

Mayor Maynard's message did not state how many persons had died in Nome. "The latest number of dead was given as five, but it is believed scores are dying."

Richardson D. White Speaks Before Kiwanis Club On Bond Election

Members of the Kiwanis club were given a comprehensive idea of present conditions and needs of Glendale schools in an address delivered at the meeting today noon by Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, on the coming school bond election.

The meeting was held at the Tuesday Afternoon club. President Frank Fox presided. The program was in charge of the public affairs committee, headed by D. H. Smith, chairman.

Mr. White said the increase in enrollment in the past five years has amounted to 170 per cent. Two districts in the city have but one problem, he said, and predicted that some time in the future there would be only one district in Glendale. He told of the survey and subsequent report made by the two boards.

Provide for Future

Should the bonds be voted February 17, there will be no need to buy more school sites within the next five years out side of those planned in the present election, he said. He told of present enrollment at the various schools and quoted figures which have been published in the Glendale Evening News.

The club will act on an endorsement at the meeting next week, when the members of the public affairs committee will report on the project.

Sid Singer, manager of the Southern California Gas Co., gave a brief craft talk, explaining the source and transportation of gas to Glendale from natural gas fields. He told of the various uses of gas in Glendale, the manner of measuring the amount used, and the fixing of rates. Growth of the city, as shown by increased number of meters and laying of new mains, was outlined by the speaker.

Rex Kelley was named chairman of the committee to arrange for bringing boys from the Strickland home to the "Father and Son" banquet as guests of the club. A. L. Ferguson spoke on the open forum dinner to be given February 9 by the school board.

President Fox announced the Glendale nights at the Mission Play on February 4 and 9. Harry Hall was named chairman of a committee to arrange for reservations at the play.

Ole Andresen led the community singing with Mrs. George Lyons at the piano. Several selections were rendered by the Glee club under the direction of William Bode. The members of the Glee club are: Allen Fairchild, George Lyons, Elwood Ingledue, Ole Andresen, Sid Brown, E. P. Hayward, John D. Frazer and Park Arnold. The attendance prize, donated by Ed Radke, was won by Ray Goode.

LEGION TOSSERS LOSE TO CHURCH

Former Service Men Put Up Game Battle But Feel Lack of Practice

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

Fighting an uphill battle but never weakening from the start to the final whistle, the Legion casaba tossers lost their initial game in the City league last night to the Methodist Episcopal church, 29 to 22. It was the third game of the season for the churchmen, and better teamwork triumphed.

The game was played at the Harvard High school gymnasium and brought to a close the second week of the league schedule. The standing at the end of the second week shows Hull Trucks and Radios tied for first place, the M. E. Church in second spot, Calla Lily crew in third position, and Standard Oils, Legion and Christian church tied for cellar position.

The Legion started out strong last night, Liggett, right forward, getting two baskets early in the period. Despite the efforts of the churchmen, they were held scoreless until a foul was called on Powell, Legion center. Weise, center for the churchmen, made the free throw. Walker, left guard for the Legion, was detected holding and Weise made another free throw. Whitney, left forward for the churchmen, caught the rebound on the second free throw and scored a basket, tying the score just before the quarter ended.

Churchmen Gain

Whitney's free throw on Powell's foul opened the scoring for the second quarter. Hallam shot a basket, thus giving the churchmen a three-point lead. Buck, left forward for the Legion, missed the free throw on Dick's foul. Whitney increased the churchmen's lead with another basket. Buck missed the free throw on Weise's foul, but Liggett scored a basket a few minutes later. Wolfe failed to find the hoop after Buck's foul and paved the way for a basket by Bunker, who went into center for the Legion. Weise scored a basket on a center through play, and Wolfe added two more points just as the half ended, the score standing 13 to 8, churchmen.

Liggett opened the scoring for the Legion in the third quarter, and added another basket after Wolfe had missed a free throw on Walker's foul. Weise sank three baskets in quick succession on the church through plays. Liggett made a basket, making the score 19 to 14, churchmen. Wolfe caged a basket as the quarter ended.

Shortly after the final quarter ended, Wolfe located the hoop for two points, and was followed by Whitney and Hallam. Liggett missed on Weise's foul and the ball was worked down the floor. Weise getting a basket. With the score standing 29 to 14 against them, the Legion men started a desperate drive to stave off defeat. Buck made a basket from midfloor. Bunker sank one from the sidelines, and a minute later added two more points to the Legion's count with a spectacular shot that was true. Liggett broke through for another basket. Wolfe missed on Bunker's foul. Liggett missed on Weise's foul as the game ended, 29 to 22, churchmen.

Liggett High Man

Liggett was high point man, getting seven baskets and accounting for 14 of the Legion's 22 points. Weise was second with 10 points, while Whitney accounted for nine points. The Legion hoopers, with a little more practice and improvement of team work, will be contenders in the league race.

Written For The Evening News

The High family may not have gained the fame in baseball that the O'Neills, the Delehantys, the Meusels, etc. have but right now they are "sitting pretty" in the diamond firmament.

The members of the High fire-side are Andrew, Hugh and Charles. Only one of them cavorted in big league company last season but the other two made the welkin (just back of third base) ring with their trusty bats in minor league company.

Andy played with the Dodgers last season and while ranking well in fielding around second base socked the apple for the neat average of .328. As was fitting, he set the pace for the brothers.

Brother Charley, with Portland in the Pacific Coast league, outfielded in brilliant style and the report card the manager sent home showed a batting average of .322. Brother Hughie played the outfield for Columbus in the American association and slammed the ball around for a .306 average. Three averages of over .300 in one family is fair enough for a season's work.

Incidentally Hugh led the association in outfielding, with an average of .900. He made but three errors in accepting 296 chances.

All three brothers are marking time until the opening of the 1925 season and hope to be hitting on High again when the various campaigns get under way.

BOWLING SCORES

The Brown Drug bowlers dropped their match to the Palace Barbers last night in a Mercantile league game at Recreation center. Peterson of the winners was high-score man with 243 in the opening game. He was the only man on the two teams to pass the double-century mark.

The Red Feathers took three games from the Coast to Coast Army Store in the second Mercantile league match. Moore of the winners was the heavy hitter, getting 208 in the opening game.

DYNAMITERS WIN TWO CAGE GAMES

Lightweights, Fleaweights Victorious on Court of Monrovia Gym

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

Cutting loose with a terrific burst of speed in the last period of play, Coach "Nucoa" Butterfield's Glendale lightweights took their second consecutive game in a hairline finish over the Monrovia squad, 26-24, yesterday afternoon in the Monrovia gym.

At the end of the third quarter the Foothillers were "sitting pretty" with an eight-point lead over the Glendale boys, but Butterfield's proteges steamed up and came back in the fourth quarter with an attack that had their opponents outfaced. Johnny Lovell and Elmer Muff proved to be the undoing of the Monrovia quintet, shooting last-minute baskets from all points of the court.

To their whirlwind finish, Muff and Lovell stood at the top of the point list, each with eight digits to his credit. Wilbur Harrison and Archie Neel also played well for the Dynamiters. Harrison was responsible for five points, while Neel contributed three.

Fleaweights Win

In the curtain raiser the Glendale fleaweight five trounced home and other Red and Black victory, submerging the Monrovia tads under an 18 to 8 score. "Feevee" Reed was Glendale's outstanding star with Alley Lovell running him close for second honors. The Glendale boys just naturally had it all over the green Wildcats who failed to show much of anything in the hardwood line.

DAN O'LEARY TO WALK ON SUNDAY

Champion of World to Give Exhibition Here When Caseys Play Ball

Glendalians will have an opportunity to see one of the greatest sights in the world in the line of walking, next Sunday afternoon when Dan O'Leary, champion walker of the world, will walk around the bases at the ball park on San Fernando road, twelve times in ten minutes. Dan O'Leary is 84 years old, but he has a standing challenge of $5000 to walk any man, any time, any place, 500 miles heel and toe, and if the contestant is over 70 years, O'Leary will give him a handicap of ten miles for every 100 miles.

It will not be O'Leary's first appearance in Glendale. Several months ago he appeared at the ball park and made the twelve circuits of the diamond in exactly 9:42-3-5, thus cutting the required time of 50 seconds for each circuit. James Whitcomb Riley referred to Dan O'Leary as the Apollo of the pedestrian circle.

Princeton authorities, who have steadfastly opposed any distance over two miles, were not interested in this year again declined to train their oarsmen for this distance.

Whether the Poughkeepsie stewards have ordered wisely or not remains to be seen. The late Charles E. Courtney, of Cornell, who probably knew more about rowing and its practical effects upon oarsmen than any coach who ever lived, was a strong proponent of the three-mile race.

Dr. Spaeth, the Princeton coach, also a member of the faculty in the English department, rowed the four-mile distance as an undergraduate at the University of Pennsylvania. His brief against the long-distance race for college oarsmen has nothing to do with the actual rowing of a four-mile race. His contention is that the time required to train an eight for the distance involves the great objection, while equally great is the enormous development of the heart muscles.

"If," says Dr. Spaeth, "our oarsmen were to enter vigorous occupations after graduation, if they were to hustle cargo, run mule teams and the like, then they would have ideal heart development for the work. But practically all of them enter sedentary occupations, do not keep up their exercise. And the results cannot be good."

A man close to Harvard athletics said to the writer that in spite of profound medical opinions as to the harmfulness of long-distance rowing, he knows former Harvard oarsmen in their early forties who have found it necessary to drop tennis and take things easy generally.

Out on the Pacific coast they row the three-mile distance and find it very satisfactory. There is no doubt that any Washington crew the writer has seen could as easily have been prepared for the extra mile. But they may well ask out there what is the sense of the additional strain involved. And Wisconsin may ask that question, too.

Perhaps coaches, rowing stewards and the like who so blithely order the four-mile distance might proceed more cautiously were they obliged themselves to row it, or have their sons do so. And, in any event, the four-mile race is but a slavish imitation of the Oxford-Cambridge regatta on the

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Every facility that baseball possesses is at the disposal of District Attorney Banton's office in its investigation of the Jimmy O'Connell-Cozy Dolan bribery case, President John A. Heydler of the National league, declared today.

"We will go as far as the district attorney wishes in any effort he may make to throw more light upon this case, if more light can be thrown," Mr. Heydler said. "Our witnesses are his witnesses, and I am ready to give him any assistance in my power to help get any so-called 'higher up' if one is involved."

"The very critics who were heaping baseball for not making public the details of the investigation now seem to be deriding the evidence that was obtained. Yet that investigation was sufficient to obtain from O'Connell an admission of his guilt."

"Suppose," continued Mr. Heydler, "that after the most thorough investigation is made by the district attorney, no additional facts are developed. What will the attitude then be toward baseball?" Will he be given credit for what we did, or will we again be derided because we did not obtain more information?"

"And suppose the case comes to trial in the courts and there is no conviction? Will it be concluded then that baseball has handled the situation as rigorously and as competently as any fan could have wished?"

"The discipline of baseball certainly is meant to be thorough but the controlling power of the game is like any other power—it must have evidence before it can act. Baseball would be a rank abuser of liberty if it acted without giving accused or suspected players an opportunity to defend themselves."

"On the other hand, there are times when baseball can enforce its own rules and set a player down immediately without awaiting the state to step in and convict. Any game or sport must have regulations which make that possible in order to keep the sport clean. Discipline goes farther than alleged criminal offenses."

It is well known that ball players in both leagues have been set down without any public record being made of the fact. They have not been declared ineligible but, in cases where their conduct was regarded as not the best thing for the game, they have been dropped by tacit consent of the various clubs.

While the power of punishment in the cases of O'Connell and Dolan was vested in the commissioner of baseball because of the present executive autocracy which he holds, the suspension of O'Connell and Dolan meets with the full accord of President Heydler who, next to Commissioner Landis, probably knows more about the case than any other baseball official.

For that reason Mr. Heydler is the most effectual aid that District Attorney Banton and his aides could have, because Mr. Heydler, being in New York, is available at all times.

SPORT CHATTER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—If, as the young man, himself, has been at some pains to imply, Jimmy O'Connell will not appear in New York for the official investigation of the baseball scandal, the local district attorney's probe will die a painful death of inanition. There can be little done without O'Connell, the only man mentioned in the expose from whom a confession was obtained. Local officials made no attempt to conceal this state of affairs today, as they prepared to make the best of Jimmy's sudden refusal to do business with them.

Barring extradition proceedings, the district attorney's office has no alternative beyond proceeding with the hearing of minor witnesses from whom there is no hope of getting to the bottom of the affair.

Without actually saying as much, local officials have intimated they will not attempt to extradite O'Connell. He would have to be indicted by the grand jury in the first place, and, in the second, they have no assurance that an attempt at extradition would be successful.

SPORT COSTUMES

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Sport costumes for spring and for the south are jumping to jumpers. These, of fine knitted wool materials, are usually of the turtle neck type which are buttoned on the shoulder. They are worn with matching skirts of similar material distinguished by heavy pleats to give freedom of movement.

DRISCOLL IS DEAD

CARDIFF, Wales, Jan. 30.—"Jem" Driscoll, formerly a well-known figure in the prize ring, died here today.

AUTO TIRE BOOM

AKRON, Jan. 30.—Tire production is now resuming around 100,000 tires daily. Goodrich Co. hired 500 men last week and the Miller Co. is building a $125,000 addition.

EIGHTEEN SPEED STARS TO START

Washington's Birthday Race At Culver City Opens 1925 Board Season

CULVER CITY, Jan. 30.—With the entries of three Duesenbergs, there are now eighteen of the world's greatest speed kings enlisted for the battle on the world's fastest speedway at Culver City Washington's birthday. The coming 250 mile Culver City classic is the opening event of the 1925 championship series of the American Automobile association and the race promises to be the fastest and most spectacular motor contest ever staged in America.

In addition to Bennett Hill, winner of the last race on the Culver City boards, Earl Cooper, Tommy Milton, Fred Comer, Harry Hartz, Peter De Palo, Eddie Hearne, and other internationally famous veterans of the racing sport, the name of Pietro Bordino, Italian speed ace appears on the list of the entries for the February 22 meet. Dr. William E. Shattuck, the Kentucky physician, who made his speedway debut in the December race at Culver City is also to be in the list at the wheel of his fast Miller racing car.

One of the promising newcomers in the racing game entered for the coming events at Culver City is Frank Lockhart. Pete Kreis is another. Lockhart is a former Ingleside high school boy, twenty-one years of age, who has already made a great name for himself as a dirt track star. In the opening classic of 1925 Lockhart will be at the wheel of a Miller car equipped with Miller superchargers.

While the ticket sale for the first championship race of 1925 does not open until next week, already hundreds of reservations have come in through the mail representing followers of racing from all parts of the country. The north, middle west, and east are already represented in requests for reservations that have been received at the speedway office, and every mail brings in additional requests for reservations and this is an indication of the great interest being displayed in the second contest on the world's fastest speedway.

DAIRY SHIPMENTS

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.—The St. Louis & San Francisco railroad handled $8,000,000 worth of milk and cream and fifteen million pounds of butter from the Ozark region in the last year shipping to nineteen states and one foreign country.

FOREIGN CONSULS

Plain Visit Here Glendale to Be Included In Inspection In Interest Of Building Trade

Foreign consuls in Los Angeles will visit the industrial belt of the San Fernando valley in the interest of bolstering foreign trade out of Los Angeles harbor. The consuls will be in Glendale and Burbank next Wednesday. They will be escorted to this city early Wednesday morning by A. B. Boswell, chairman of the trade committee, and Clarence Matson, manager of the trade extension department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The consuls will first visit the Theme Hosiery Co. plant, where they will be received by Harry C. Pfleger, plant manager. From there the distinguished foreign representatives will go to the Tropic Potteries, Charles P. Murphy of the potteries and Mr. Pfleger will join the party, which will next visit the Glendale Engineering Co. and the J. T. Edwards studios. Mr. Edwards and Carl P. Alebrand, vice-president of the engineering concern, will accompany the consuls and their other hosts to Burbank, where the Moreland Truck factory, Andrew Jergens Co. and Empire China plants will be inspected.

Co-operation Given In their effort to familiarize the representatives of other countries with the products manufactured for export in Southern California, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the Glendale and Burbank chambers in bringing the visitors here. Following is a list of consuls who will be included in the tour:

Augustus O. Koppes, vice-consul of Luxemburg; Robert E. Tracy, consul of El Salvador; Manuel Ayub, consul of Peru; Urbano Quesada, consul of Honduras; Adrien Loeb, consul of Switzerland; Enrico Piana, consul of Italy; Baldomero Almada, commercial attache, Mexico; R. A. Ramirez, consul of Guatemala; C. E. Boby, consul of Costa Rica; Charles W. Sauer, vice-consul of Belgium; J. S. Saenz, consul of Cuba and Panama; T. Umimoto, vice-consul of Japan; K. Yoshida, secretary, consulate of Japan; V. M. Egas, consul of Ecuador; Louis Sentous, consular agent for France; E. J. Louis, secretary, consular corps.

Theda's temperament got so very much the better of her that she refused to report to work before 11 o'clock in the morning. She would insist upon this and upon that being done, ignoring her director's wishes. Her director was J. Gordon Edwards, who knew directing from the bottom up.

Out of a clear sky, one New York day, Edwards was handed a working script of "Kathleen Mavourneen," in which Theda was to take the title role. Anyone who ever has seen Theda will see the joke right away. No explanations are necessary.

"Kathleen Mavourneen" was finished, and Fox pulled another fast one on Theda. He put the picture into one of New York's legitimate theatres for a "run."

As Fox expected, no policemen were necessary to keep the line to the right at the box office. Top prices were charged. The operator and "Annie Oakleys" were virtually the only customers. Fox kept the picture on Broadway at a big loss for weeks.

That finished Theda Bara, her temperament and everything else pertaining to her popularity as a screen star. Theda dropped out of sight for a year or more, to bob up in a sudden in a play Al Woods produced. The play was a big flop. Theda hasn't been heard from since. That was at least five years ago.

Mme. Nazimova is another. And Madame is a great actress—probably as fine an actress as ever faced a camera. But—temperament virtually drove her from the studio. No one could work with her and handle the megaphone. She must have her own way. The old Metro company stood for her temperament a long time—finally threw up its hands in despair. Today Madame is virtually forgotten on the screen.

Pola Negri tried that little flare of temperament upon her arrival here from Germany, but soon caged it up when she found Americans weren't as "soft" as she figured. The box office receipts take a lot of temperament out of a lot of 'em.

We have watched Mae Murray work under direction of George Fitzmaurice and her husband, Bob Leonard. Mae then was "cabaretting" in the Long Island studio of Famous Players in New York. We've been wondering since (and that's four years ago) how she gets away with it.

Von Stroheim's disposition wouldn't exactly be classed as minus temperament, but—here's the difference: Von Stroheim is an artist—Mae Murray isn't.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY Of The Evening News Staff That scourge of back-stage theatrical life whose depths not even the psychoanalysts have been able to "probe," should be easy of explanation by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer fillums outfit up in Culver City. This unexplainable "something" is called temperament for want of a better term. Latest victims of the epidemic are Mae Murray and Eric Von Stroheim. Von Stroheim is megaphoning scintillating Mae through the jazzy sequences of the screen version of "The Merry Widow." As every one knows, the Merry Widow waltz is the big punch in this operetta, made famous by Donald Brian as the Prince in the stage production. It was over just how the camera should register this scene that Mae and Von Stroheim had their tiff. Mae called Von Stroheim a "doity Hun"; Von Stroheim took his dolls and went home.

The "Merry Widow" was left "up in the air" the same as this same producing company's "Ben Hur" was over in Rome a few months back. Both "ups in the air" were caused by temperament interfering with "art in the fillums." Eric and Mae "made up" the next day.

All of which recalls some temperamental breaks in the "fillums" which have caused considerable trouble to both producer and star.

It's not so many years back that Theda Bara, the original screen vamp, was vamping out "Cleopatras" for William Fox. Theda "got a reputation" and with it all a bad case of temperament.

And to prove how crazy-like-a-fox William Fox is when it comes to dealing with these temperamental stars whom he has "made," William put it thusly:

Theda's temperament got so very much the better of her that she refused to report to work before 11 o'clock in the morning. She would insist upon this and upon that being done, ignoring her director's wishes. Her director was J. Gordon Edwards, who knew directing from the bottom up.

Mexico Economizing In Music and Farming

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 30.—The Mexican Staff band, which had made a name for itself in the United States, as well as Mexico, has been disbanded as a part of the campaign of economy instituted by President Calles.

The National Agrarian commission has cut its budget $3,000,000, under a personal order from the president.

'Stampede' Ordered Detained at Border

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Jan. 30.—"Stampede," traveling by automobiles, dog teams and afoot to the Cassiar placer district strike, Bromley, Columbia, have been stopped by the international boundary line northeast of Wrangell, Alaska, by the Royal Canadian mounted police and refused permission to travel to the scene of operation by way of Stikine, Telegraph Creek and the Dease Lake trail until March, according to the word received here.

The order to head off the winter rush was issued to prevent hardship and privation without proper provisions at Cassiar.

BREAD PRICE JUMPS BRISTOL, Tenn., Jan. 30.—Because of the increase in the cost of flour and other ingredients, bread here now costs 10 cents per loaf, instead of the customary 9 cents.

Only artists are licensed to show temperament. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer could have scoured Hollywood and New York and couldn't have found a director who could begin to "shoot" the "Merry Widow" with the knowledge of Von Stroheim. Why? Because Von Stroheim is an Austrian. The "Merry Widow" is a Viennese operetta. Von Stroheim knows the locale of the settings "like a book."

The "Merry Widow" is European from "cover to cover." So is Von Stroheim. Coupled with "first-hand" knowledge of every detail of the "Merry Widow" Von Stroheim knows every detail of American picture production. He got those details working with the screen's greatest director, David Wark Griffith.

'HELLO DEARIE' SCORES HIT AT SCHOOL

Musical Comedy Presented By De Molay to Be Given Again Tonight

Comedy and music in goodly measure entertained the large crowd at the premier performance of "Hello Dearie" last night at Broadway High school under the auspices of Glendale DeMolay. From the first curtain to the last a procession of clever characters passed in review, appearing in brilliant settings, mirth provoking situations, artistic dances and catchy songs.

Many were the compliments heard on every hand for Gwynne Denni, writer of the lyrics, and Lucien Denni, composer of the music, and director of the talented cast. Many of those attending the performance are to attend the second performance at the same place tonight.

Hollywood, the much talked of motion picture city, provides the colorful setting for the action of "Hello Dearie." There in the drawing room of Mr. Plenteous Coyne, millionaire backer for the silent drama, cleverly impersonated by J. B. Clarke, the audience sees well-known Glendale young people, disguised as featured characters of the world of make-believe. Every character has been carefully drawn by Mr. Denni and some clever work is done in costuming and interpretation by members of the cast.

Will Repeat Tonight
These characters were splendidly sustained throughout the two acts, not only in the action of the comedy but in the various songs and choruses. That the performance was one of interest and prominence was seen in the enthusiasm of the audience, the hearty applause and the flowers showered on members of the cast.

In view of the fact that the comedy is sponsored by DeMolay it is most fitting that the program contain a sketch of the ideals and principles of the order, written by Wesley J. Goodfellow, past master councillor.

The scene shifted from the Hollywood millionaire's drawing room to No Man's Island, a tropical island providing opportunity for many clever numbers. Vocal selections by Miss Winifred Parker were exceptionally good, while character songs by Valera Trimmer won much applause. Several charming dance numbers were presented by Miss Sarah Chandler, Miss Lois Naudain, the Hunt sisters, Vivian Nay and Lorna Richmond.

The musical comedy will be repeated tonight in the auditorium of the Broadway High school.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Jan. 30.—The Western Bird Banding association has been organized at Occidental college, for the advancement of ornithology. Its membership is representative of the entire southwest. Following are the temporary officers: President, J. Eugene Law, Altadena; vice-president, Wright Pierce, Claremont; secretary, Mrs. Harlan H. Edwards, Altadena; business manager, Harold Michener, Pasadena.

By means of bird banding, or the attaching of a tiny aluminum band to the bird's leg, and the recapture from time to time, study is made of the daily habits and travels of wild birds, of the routes taken by the birds in migration and of their length of life, Mr. Law explained. This work is carried on in co-operation with the U. S. Biological survey, Washington, D. C., where complete records are kept of every numbered band that has been attached to a bird, together with a complete history of each bird, from the time it is first banded.

Self education is one of the most important topics of the day, and the Eagle Rock branch of the Los Angeles Public Library has a number of volumes that will help interested people in bettering themselves. Mrs. Blanche A. Gardiner, librarian, among the volumes available are the following: "What Books Can Do For You," Bennett; "Writing Good English," Esemann; "Studies in Grammar," Hermans; "Seventy Lessons in Spelling," Osborne; "Theasurus of English Words," Rozet; "Mechanics of Writing," Woolley.

A fifteen-lesson course in public speaking under Professor Charles F. Lindsley of Occidental college will begin early in February on Monday afternoons, at the Eagle Rock school from 3:15 to 5 o'clock. The course is open to all and is intended to be of practical value in improving diction and ability to talk in public.

The P.-T. A. board meeting will be held February 9 at the home of Mrs. Humphrey Marshall, 5024 Maywood avenue.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Jan. 30.—The furnishings committee of the Women's club has placed itself squarely back of a program to help raise the needed Chamber of Commerce promotion fund.

In this work, the committee will visit the business men and women of the city in the interest of securing all possible financial assistance for the promotion fund, thus giving the chamber organization the backing felt necessary for its efficient functioning.

The Masons of Burbank territory will hold a stag party and smoker tonight, at their headquarters, it is announced by W. E. Lawrence. A speaker has been obtained and other entertainment features are promised. A dinner will be served. All visiting Masons are welcome. Mr. Lawrence states. Arrangements are being made to accommodate 200.

Enjoying the week at Big Bear lake, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Waite of Orange court and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Carter of King court, at Turkey crossing, formed a party that motored to the resort. Skating and snowballing were among the winter sports enjoyed by the Burbank group.

Mrs. Mary Hanke and son, Albert Hanke, of St. James, Minnesota, have arrived here and will spend the remainder of the winter with Mrs. Hanke's sister, Mrs. H. Schwerdtfeger, of 710 Angeleno avenue.

Miss Theodosia Hamilton, daughter of Dean Hamilton, newly elected pastor of the Baptist church, spent Sunday with her father here. Miss Hamilton is a teacher in the schools of Hermosa Beach.

INDUSTRIAL PLANT ASSURED AT WATER

Construction To Be Started Immediately On Large Two-Story Building For L. A. Electrical Company

A new light industrial plant which will bring fifty employes and their families to live in the Atwater district was assured today, when final papers of agreement were signed for the erection of a two-story structure on Glendale boulevard and a ten-year lease on the building was closed by John E. Mortensen, president of the Los Angeles Electrical Construction Co.

Paul E. Lipscomb and H. Raymond McNair, realty brokers, handled the transaction, and made announcement of the new industry today. The Arthur M. Gilman Co. will build the two-story factory structure and display room, to be located on the south side of Glendale boulevard, between Madera and Garden avenues. The building will be 100 feet in depth, with a display room forty-three by twenty-seven feet in front. The structure will cost approximately $18,000. Miss Effie M. Pritchett of Los Angeles will be the owner of the building.

As soon as the building is completed it will be occupied by the new plant of the Los Angeles electrical Construction Co. The company, builders of high-class electrical fixtures, is an old-established firm, now located at Beverly boulevard and Western avenue. The old location will be retained as a display and sales room only as soon as the Atwater plant is in operation. The lease on the building, signed by Mr. Mortensen, extends over a period of ten years and involves an approximate consideration of $40,000.

A feature of the new industrial plant will be the display rooms, facing on Glendale boulevard. To the rear on the first floor will be fixture-assembling rooms and dipping and spraying departments. The latest high-grade spraying machinery will be installed on the second floor. Fifty men will be employed at the plant at the outset, Mr. Mortensen announced.

Pupils Get Diplomas

Residents of the Atwater district crowded the Harvard High school auditorium last night to witness the graduation exercises of the Atwater Grammar school, when twenty-four eighth-grade pupils were issued certificates.

Those graduating were Alice Care, Mildred Jones, Kenneth Hoffman, Fred Reel, Maurice Ransom, Russell Laine, Irving Breen, Alice Maitre, Kenneth Warner, Walter Heydenreich, Muriel McKenzie, John Morrow, Willie Mitchell, Vivian Walshe, Jack Williams, Nora Andrews, Harold McKenzie, Alma Abel, Phyllis Russell, Genevieve Spencer, Helen Tourpin, Thalia Lyda Wilson and Edgar Stephenson.

A musical program, consisting of numbers by the school orchestra, under the leadership of Miss Grace Haskell, and selections by the boys' and girls' glee clubs, was given in addition to a one-act playlet, "Sir David Weir's Crown." All those taking part in the play were members of the graduating class. The class history was given by Phyllis Russell, Genevieve Spencer read the class will and Helen Tourpin read the class prophecy. Readings were given by Thalia Lyda Wilson. Following the program diplomas were distributed.

New classes at the Atwater school will commence Monday morning, according to Miss Rosalind Gates, principal. A large enrollment of new pupils in the kindergarten and lower first grade is expected. Enrollment of new pupils should be made some time Monday morning, Miss Gates announced.

There has been one new teacher assigned to the Atwater school for the new term. Miss Vivian Simpson will have charge of the high first grade, according to an announcement from the board of education offices today. This brings the teaching staff at the school to twenty-four members.

Petitions Are Signed

Petitions for lower street car fares between downtown Los Angeles and the Atwater district have been signed by 100 per cent of the property owners in many sections, it was announced by A. Larson, executive officer of the Atwater Community Improvement association. The petition against the alleged unjust fares will be sent to the railroad commission to supplement a written protest which is already in the hands of the commissioners.

Petitions seeking the installation of ornamental light standards on Casitas, Laclade and Perilla avenues all the distance from Glendale boulevard south, are now in circulation. Some petitions already have been signed by a sufficient number of the owners of property along the streets.

Other petitions are being circulated asking the installation of lights on streets north of Glendale boulevard also. The matter of street light standards will be brought before the meeting of the Atwater Community Improvement association Monday night, Secretary Paul E. Lipscomb said. A decision on a uniform standard for all streets will be sought.

TEXTILE LET DOWN

MANCHESTER, Jan. 30.—The Amoskeag mills will go on a short time basis, owing to general conditions. This decision came as a complete surprise to other textile centers since conditions pointed to improvement. Worsted and cotton divisions will work five days a week instead of six. Nine thousand are affected.

His subject will be "The Service of Art."

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Jan. 30.—Members of the La Crescenta Valley Women's club are indebted to the Shakespearean club of Pasadena for the program presented to the local club, which was opened with a short introduction by Mrs. N. B. George, chairman of the program committee. The first group of songs sung by the Fidelia quartet were "Lassie o' Mine," "The Snowstorm," and "Mighty Lak a Rose." Mrs. E. N. McAdam was accompanist for the dancer, the whistler and the quartet.

Miss Evelyn Crist, instructor of the Norma Gould School of Dancing, gave her portrayal of little French grand dame in a period dance of the past century. "Roses in June" was sung by Mrs. Cecil Bryans, and "Love Like the Dawn" was sung by Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Sayre. Introduced as the "California Mocking Bird," Mrs. Naomi Sweeney Brown proved her right to the title in her rendition of the "Birds of the Woods" and "At Dawning" by Cadman.

"Kiver Up Yo Head" and "Mister Mocking Bird," trios, were artistic, the latter having a whistling accompaniment by Mrs. Brown off stage. "Friend of Mine," was sung by Mrs. Bennett. Miss Crist danced to the music of Gounod's "Garden Song" from "Faust." As her last whistling number, Mrs. Brown gave "Wake Up, Wake Up" and as her encore, "Follow the Swallow." "Good Bye, Sweet Day" was an alto solo rendered by Mrs. Emma Preston. For concluding numbers the quartet sang "Sweet Miss Mary" and "Sweetest Flower."

A rising vote of thanks was tendered the visiting artists after which a short business meeting was held. New members voted in by acclamation were: Mesdames Gertrude Card, E. M. W. Wilbur and Alma MacCarton of La Crescenta, James Brown and L. Dennis of Montrose. The president, Mrs. Charles Turck, was invited to attend the Crescenta Mutual Water Co.'s meeting to vote the stock carried by the club.

On February 19 the next tea of the monthly series will be held at the home of Mrs. Mark S. Collins. Club members are urged to attend and bring guests. Reservations may be made now for tables.

The decorating committee had made the auditorium a bower of flowers, Mrs. Fred Kimball, Howard Reynolds and Louise Erwin having used white and purple iris, Shasta daisies and roses of different colors. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Louise Erwin and Rinette Stulman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Sechler of West Montrose avenue have been entertaining at their home guests Mr. and Mrs. John Duttling of Elkhart, Indiana. Mr. Duttling is engaged in the wholesale hardware business in that city but is contemplating locating here. Other guests at the Sechler home during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Glendon of Whittier and Mr. and Mrs. Van Wylie of San Gabriel.
