BECHTEL CAUSES BULLOCK'S ARREST

COURT ADJOURNS, TO BE ASKED TO SIGN WARRANT

Proceeding of Machinery Depot Defendants Ridiculed
by Navy Counsel

Frederick Bullock, chief witness in the police court yesterday for the prosecution in the charges against C. J. V. Spratt and William Houston, was arrested yesterday afternoon after having given evidence, by Inspector Geo. Perdue, who acted upon a warrant sworn out in court by Andrew Bechtel, a director of the Victoria Machinery Depot, charging Bullock with having attempted to extort money by threats on April 18 last from the accused, C. J. V. Spratt. The information was signed by Magistrate Jay, who was taken from the bench by the ingenuity of W. J. Taylor, K. C., who is representing Spratt.

Bullock was being cross-examined by Mr. Taylor, who suddenly remarked that some of his papers had got astray and requested an adjournment for ten minutes. He left his papers as they were and went into the police court clerk's room. A message was sent to the magistrate on the bench that Andrew Bechtel wanted to speak to him in the magistrate's office. Mr. Jay left the bench and was confronted with the warrant form when he reached his room. A few minutes later Mr. Taylor came from the magistrate's room and walked across the court to Inspector Perdue, handing him the warrant for execution.

The court then resumed, and Bullock was cross-examined again by W. J. Taylor and Stuart Henderson. He then left the witness box and took a seat in court. Inspector Perdue crossed over to him and asked him to step outside, and when he did so the officer placed Bullock under arrest.

Bullock immediately hurried into court and held a whispered conversation with J. A. Alkman and Hon. C. E. Pooley, K. C., who are appearing for the navy prosecution. They inspected the warrant on which Bullock had been arrested and laughed heartily, reassuring Bullock. Shortly before court adjourned Mr. Alkman referred to the matter and applied for bail, which was granted in two bonds of $500 each. These were immediately forthcoming.

Mr. Taylor said the prosecution would revive the old charges, and Mr. Pooley headily remarked that the defence would find itself in a very different position before it was through with the cases now before the court.

Mr. Alkman replied that it was a self-evident fact that Spratt had accused Bullock of the theft of a roll of canvas and that the case had been withdrawn in the police court. Bullock had a perfect right, then, to demand compensation and take an action for damages, and that was what the alleged offence appeared to consist of.

Mr. Taylor said the prosecution would revive the old charges, and Mr. Pooley headily remarked that the defence would find itself in a very different position before it was through with the cases now before the court.

ANOTHER ENGLISH MEMBER UNSEATED

Agents of Under-Secretary of Home Office Guilty of Corrupt Practices

London, June 20.—Charles G. Masterman, under secretary in the home office, today was deprived of his seat in the House of Commons for the north division of Westham by the law courts, which found that his election was aided by corrupt practices on the part of his agents. The judges said that no fault rested upon Mr. Masterman personally.

POWER SCHEME DEFEATED.

Edmonton, July 20.—A by-law to provide $100,000 for initial fork on a municipal power plant at Grand Rapids on the Athabasca, 200 miles north of Edmonton, was defeated by an overwhelming majority. The citizens believe the scheme when completed will cost $5,000,000 or $4,000,000, and is too big for the city at the present time.

ROSEBERY ON EMPIRE'S FUTURE

SPEAKS OF WORK OF IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

Believes Outcome Will Be Parliament Representing All Parts of King's Dominions

London, June 20.—There was a memorable gathering yesterday in Westminster-hall which, as the chairman, Lord Rosebery pointed out, according to tradition had been built by William Rufus, certainly was the scene of the trial of Warren Hastings, and where Stratford and his master conferred their judges. Politics were laid aside when in that historic chamber Lords, Commoners and members of every home party entertained at luncheon visiting members of parliament of the Overseas dominions. Members of the Imperial conference were guests, including Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who sat on the left of the chairman with Speaker Lowther and Senator Sir Mackenzie Bowell on the other side. Premier Botha and Lord Strathcona were neighbors at Premier Asquith's table, while at another of the main tables were Sir Frederick Borden, Premiers Morris, Roblin and Sifton; Sir L. Gouin, Hon. Brodeur and Senators Power, Doughty, Watts and Casgrain.

Lord Rosebery described the gathering as a meeting of the home backwoodsmen with the backwoodsmen of the dominions and delivered a characteristically witty speech. He did not believe any parliament had yet reached its final shape. The principle of our Empire allowed each part to settle its own affairs, but there was an interest higher and common to all, the interest of the Empire. What were we doing to make ourselves worthy of our inheritance? In the Imperial conference might we not see the germ of a greater conciliatory representing common Imperial aspirations and reflecting the unity of the Empire permanently, thus forming the most august parliament the world has ever seen. He believed some day they would wake up to find themselves a federated empire.

Senator Bowell said such a gathering augured well for the future unity of the empire.

SENATOR ROOT WILL EXPLAIN AMENDMENT

Speech Expected to Mark Beginning of Regular Debate on Reciprocity

Washington, D. C., June 20.—Deaf to the entreaties of Chairman Penrose of the finance committee, no one was prepared to speak on Canadian reciprocity when the senate convened today. De-termined that some champion of the measure must come forward with an argument in its support before they began the assault, those Republicans opposed to the agreement are standing firm.

The friends of the bill hope that Senator Root's explanation of his amendment to-morrow will mark the beginning of regular debate. It was evident early to-day that the consideration of the agreement would consist of rapid fire debate.

J. L. REID DEAD.
Prince Albert, Sask., June 20.—The death occurred here of J. Lestock Reid, D.L.S., aged 69 years. Deceased came to Winnipeg in 1876 and had surveyed large areas in the west, including many Indian reserves. He leaves four sons, Dr. H. A. Reid of Prince Albert, Herbert Reid, manager of the Imperial Bank, Wilkie Reid of the Alberta government, and Eric Reid of Prince Albert. Two daughters are Mrs. McKay, wife of Jas. McKay, K.C., Prince Albert; and Mrs. J. H. Wilson of Calgary. Deceased by stricken with paralysis in Montreal recently and was later brought here. He was exceedingly well known in Winnipeg and other western centers.

LEAPS FROM BRIDGE.
Toronto, June 20.—William J. Black, aged 31 years, recently from Ireland and employed by the Eaton Company, jumped from the top of a bridge over Rose-dale ravine and landed in a shapeless mass 100 feet below in the sight of hundreds of people. No cause for the suicide is known.

ALBERTA LAND SALES.

NEW BLOCK GOING UP ON FORT STREET

Junction of Fort and Douglas to Be Built on Either Side Shortly

The widening of Fort street has directly contributed to the improvement not only of the thoroughfare itself but of the buildings fronting upon it, as it has induced the A. N. Brown trustees to pull down their present two-story block on the corner of Douglas and Fort, adjoining the Balmoral Hotel block, and to erect a more modern four-story block in its place. Under the provisions of the widening scheme several feet had to come off the front of the building, but instead of going in for patching the trustees decided to have a new building altogether.

It is estimated that the new block will cost in the neighborhood of $55,000. It will occupy the whole of the site included in the property instead of a part as formerly. Brick will be the principal material of which the new building will consist and it is expected that, when completed, the stores and offices into which the premises will be divided will challenge comparison with anything of their kind in the city.

On the south side of the street almost opposite, on the site at present occupied by Terry's drug store, another auspicious edifice will be erected in the near future. D. E. Campbell, who owns the property, intends to build there, and although nothing definite has yet been settled in regard to the matter it is regarded as more a matter of time than anything else. With these two, almost twin blocks, going up that particular corner will enhance in value and appearance a hundred-fold.

The Hickman Tye Hardware Company, situated on Yates street, has found that its present premises are too limited for its uses and has decided to build out into a new home. In blossom out to do so effectively the company has decided to spend $100,000 on a new two-story block. The building permit for this has already been issued, and it is expected that the work of construction will be commenced almost at once.

In connection with Yates street developments it should also be stated that L. W. Black has leased the entire upper three floors of the Stelly block for a term of five years to an outside interest. It is stated that the new lessee will at once begin to reconstruct the interior with a view to catering for the transient hotel trade.

BOY BURNED TO DEATH.
Seattle, Wash., June 20.—Arthur Weston, a 14-year-old boy, was caught beneath a burning tree and burned to death yesterday at 53rd street and Flinnay avenue. Young Weston had been with other boys a short time before the accident, but none of them saw the tree fall and his absence was unnoticed until a passerby found the boy's charred body.

DROPS DEAD.
Winnipeg, June 20.—Mrs. Mary Watson, 54, dropped dead of apoplexy in the Grand Union hotel.

PASSENGER VESSELS ARE WITHDRAWN

Ships Chartered to Attend the Naval Review Unable to Secure Crews

London, June 20.—The seamen's strike is playing havoc with the plans of those who had arranged to witness the great naval review by King George at Spit-head on Saturday. In addition to the four ocean-going vessels of the Union Castle line, the sailing of which for the naval review was cancelled last night, the Royal Mail steamship line announced to-day that it was obliged to withdraw four big ships which had been chartered to attend the sea pageant. These eight ships sold out their entire accommodation for Saturday, and thus thousands at the last moment are deprived of the anticipated spectacle.

From Liverpool comes the news that the stewards of the Sverre White Star liner have joined the strike, but on the other hand it was announced that at a meeting of the Cunard officials and a deputation of seamen, firemen and stewards, a settlement of all points in dispute had been reached.

A serious disturbance is reported as having occurred at Glasgow.

Liverpool, June 20.—The Cunard, White Star and Allan lines to-day conceded the advances demanded by the striking seamen and arranged a compromise on other points with the strikers.

NARROW ESCAPE OF TWENTY-ONE MEN

Rescued From Unconscious Condition From Burning Mine
in Alberta

Lethbridge, June 20.—Fire broke out yesterday in the Galt Coal Company's No. 3 mine and spread rapidly, entombing Supt. Livingstone and twenty men, who finally were rescued in an unconscious state by their companions.

Thus far efforts to reach the seat of the fire have failed, although a mile of hose has been laid.

IMMIGRATION LAWS WITHIN EMPIRE

Question of East Indians Discussed at the Imperial Conference

London, June 20.—The Imperial conference yesterday discussed the position of British Indians in the Empire. On the suggestion of the home government and in conformity with the resolution of New Zealand the overseas dominions will be given wider powers regarding shipping and will work for greater uniformity in their immigration regulations dealing with the exclusion of aliens.

Earl Crewe said he desired to refer generally to Indian immigration. In the office of colonial secretary and secretary for India, he had come to the conclusion that there was not a more difficult and in some respects more critical question within the self-governing dominions. There could be no complete solution of the difficulty. The government fully recognized that as the empire was constituted it was impossible to maintain the idea that there could be absolutely free inter-change between all subjects of the crown. Nobody could dispute the right of the dominions to decide themselves whom they would admit as citizens.

The home government also recognized that in this country it was easy to underestimate the difficulties confronting the dominions with this problem, because we were not troubled to any serious extent by similar problems. He suggested that it was possible for the dominion governments, working within the limits which they laid down for admission of immigrants, to make the entrance of the Indians more easy and pleasant. When it became known within those limits that Indian subjects would receive a genuine welcome and would not be looked upon with suspicion, a great deal might be done to bring about better relations between India and the dominions, and until pleasant relations existed between the dominions and India we are far from being a united empire.

Premier Ward assured the conference that New Zealand had nothing but the most loyal and friendly feelings toward India. The resolution was not directed against the natives of India, but the colored people of any race, Las-cars included.

PETITION FOR CLEMENCY.
Fort William, June 20.—The National Council of Women to-day took up the question of a reprieve for Angelina Neapolitana, condemned to death for the murder of her husband. A resolution was passed that the minister of justice be petitioned for clemency. A strong plea was made by some for absolute pardon. Mrs. McNaughton, Montreal, however, objected to the council placing itself on record as interfering with constitutional authority.

MUST STAND TRIAL.
Chicago, June 20.—Judge George A. Carpenter, in the United States district court, yesterday denied a motion of Armour and nine other Chicago packers for a re-hearing of their motion to quash indictments charging violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. This means the packers must stand trial.

CONFERENCE MAY BE HELD IN OTTAWA

DELIBERATIONS LIKELY TO CLOSE TO-DAY

Premier Fisher Favors Next Meeting—One of Overseas Capitals

London, June 20.—The Imperial conference is expected to conclude to-day. It is possible that Premier Fisher of Australia will propose that the next conference be held at Ottawa or some other capital of the overseas dominions.

Lord Haldane, minister of war, speaking to the overseas troops, said the Imperial conference had marked a step forward of at least ten years in the solution of the great imperial problems of defence.

The Sheffield Independent says: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier heaped coals of fire on his critics by his lofty and generous strain on Saturday. This annexation panic is self-evidently silly and stupid in light of the growth of self-confidence of Canadians."

The Times says: "Canada is unquestionably handicapped by the twelve favored nation treaties negotiated many years ago to suit our convenience rather than hers. The inconveniences has not been very apparent in the past, but the trade agreement with Washington made it palpable. The maintenance of unity will of course be safeguarded by the principle under which no dominion could give an advantage to a foreign power it does not extend to this empire as a whole. He has done good imperial service in laying that down with so much clearness and emphasis. Foreign powers, however, will be guided in their dealings with the British empire more by the action which the different dominions take than by the principles they proclaim, and if those governments proceed in the interests of closer union to elaborate entirely separate systems of commercial treaties, it will not be long before their foreign friends will be able to make the maintenance of Laurier's principle quite as incon-venient as the favored nation treaties are to-day."

NINE FAMILIES MADE HOMELESS

Flames Destroy Houses In Hockelaga—Loss Amounts to $25,000

Montreal, June 20.—Nine families were rendered homeless in Hockelaga yesterday as the result of a blaze which broke out at noon in the hay shed of J. W. Gingras, 2025 East Ontario street, and spread rapidly to adjoining houses fronting on East Ontario street as well as on the sheds in the rear of a block of houses on St. Germain street. It was feared for a time that the fire would reach the school of the nativity in St. Germain street. The sheds of the block adjoining the institution were ablaze, but the firemen succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the school building. The loss probably will reach $25,000.

ELECTRICAL STORM.
Montreal, June 20.—Electrical storms unusually severe, accompanied by hurricane gusts of wind and rain, did considerable damage in Montreal to-day. Lightning was responsible for several fires. The residence of John Mair was burned to the ground.

ROYALTIES ARE WARMLY GREETED

FLOCKING TO LONDON
FOR THE CORONATION

Queen Receives Addresses and Gifts From Various Parts of Empire

London, June 20.—A railroad train never carried such precious freight as the royalties Continental special arriving at Victoria last night, containing the royal representatives accredited to the coronation by every state, including the crown princes and crown princesses.

They were received by the Duke of Connaught and other English royalties and their own diplomatic representatives. The scene on the platform as they were received and introduced to each other was highly animated and interesting. They all spoke either French or English, including Prince Chakrabongha of Siam. The royal personages were rather constrained with each other and stood upon their dignity. The most remarkable figures among them were Prince Danilo, Montenegro, a magnificent, swarthy complexioned mountaineer, and Duke D'Aosta, strikingly handsome and distinguished, with his queenly looking Bourbon wife. The greetings between the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the crown prince and princess of Germany were particularly affectionate. They came alone earlier in the day. The crown prince took the crowd immensely, who cheered him as he drove away from Buckingham palace.

Prince Alexander of Serbia had been treated with noticeable aloofness by his fellow royalties and at one time he stood some minutes on the platform alone and neglected. He is a reserved looking fellow, none of the untamed savage in his eyes, or abrupt or uncouth manners of his disgraced elder brother. He finally left with the Serbian minister, who, evidently is as much an outcast from the diplomatic circle as Alexander is from the royal circle.

Rain fell steadily yesterday afternoon and the flags along the streets last night hung limp, their gaudy colors blurred, while paint ran down the columns of the triumphal arches. Some of the finest decoration effects arranged for the coronation celebration stand a fair chance of being ruined. The spectacular aspect of London is considerably damaged, but the town has a festive appearance regardless of the unkindness of the weather.

Buckingham palace again was the centre of popular interest, and last night, as Sunday night, traffic was congested throughout a wide area. Central London will see little rest day or night until the crowning is over.

The King and Queen had a busy day. In addition to receiving a large number of visiting royalties at the palace, they attended a rehearsal ceremony at the abbey and last evening dined the foreign representatives at Buckingham palace. The Queen received deputations from various parts of the empire, who presented gifts and addresses. While the dinner was a quiet affair compared with the grand state dinner to-day, which will be the largest and most pretentious function of the sort ever held in England, it ordinarily would be regarded as a great event.

After the royal dinner at the palace, many of the guests drove to Stafford House, which overlooks the Mall, where the Duchess of Sutherland gave a ball. This was the most magnificent social affair London has seen in years. Besides the members of the British royal family, with the exception of the King and Queen, most of the royal visitors from abroad, with their suites, the diplomatic corps, including the members of the regular and special American embassy, the colonial representatives, many leading statesmen and nearly everyone prominent in society were present.

BRINGING COAL FROM PENNSYLVANIA

Shortage of Fuel In Alberta Results in Importation From South of Line

Calgary, June 20.—So serious has become the shortage of coal, caused by the Crows' Nest strike, that Alberta industries are forced to import fuel from Pennsylvania. In order to avoid a tie-up of its entire plant one coal company is bringing in 4,500 tons of Pennsylvania coal. The freight on this coal alone will cost the company $35,000.

FARMER SHOTS HIMSELF.
Stettin, Alta., June 20.—George Harris, 34, a farmer living with his brother two miles south of Stettin, and very popular in the neighborhood, committed suicide on Sunday morning by shooting Dr. Demovay, coroner, considered an inquest unnecessary. No reason can be assigned for the act other than that deceased had complained of pains in his head.

BULLOCK DENIES ALLEGED TALKS

DEFENCE PUTS IN TYPED REPORTS OF INTERVIEWS

Witness for Prosecution in Navy Case Underwent Severe Cross-Examination

Developments in the navy yard cases, of having alleged stolen goods in their possession, against C. J. V. Spratt and William Houston, of the Victoria Machinery depot, proceeded thick and fast yesterday afternoon, when the arrest of the chief witness Bullock, on a warrant issued by the defence, was followed by the information that the secretary of the Victoria Machinery depot had left the city the previous night, presumably, the prosecution holds, to escape service of a witness summons to produce the books of the company.

Flat contradictions by the witness Bullock to all the allegations contained in typed statements alleged by W. J. Taylor, K. C., for the defence, to be stenographic reports of conversations had with Bullock by friends of the accused men, the introduction of a Dr. Howard, of Seattle, who made acquaintance of Bullock and handed to the defence an alleged transcription of conversations with him which Bullock denies, the introduction of a mass of typed statements by W. H. Price and men named Hafer, Watson, Norris, Bristol, Harkness and Watson was followed by a searching cross-examination of Commander Vivian.

The witness Bullock point blank denied a number of conversations alleged to have taken place between himself and the men named above. He was questioned in regard to a visit to the office of W. H. Price, secretary of the Conservative Association, and said he met Price only once when he was asked to go to his office. There Price had interceded for the accused and offered to take hold of the matter and straighten it out for Bullock. Price had said he did not want anything like proceedings to happen to the men now accused. Bullock declared he had not asked Price to get day to provide a certain sum of money for himself and his family so he could leave the country. He did not say he had taken the records of the company's books, but it was Price who made all the suggestions, asking witness to leave the country and it was Price who had introduced Day's name into the conversation.

He had an interview with Andrew Bechtel about the time he was prosecuted and told Bechtel that he thought it was intimidation by Spratt and Houston. He might have said that before they were through he would get a list of charges to Bechtel and did not tell him he thought he had given them time enough to come through and that he was about to inform the customs officers. He believed he did say that it would cost the company $1,000 and that it would not be a fine but imprisonment. He did not offer to get out if paid to go to Mexico. He told Bechtel that his solicitor was handling the matter.

Referring to a phone message to a man named Dr. Howard witness said he had telephoned no one, although he had been accused of sending a number of telephone messages. Mr. Taylor remarked that he was doing a similar thing in accusing the witness of perjury and Bullock replied: "That is for you to prove." Mr. Taylor retorted: "I'm going to." Bullock said that Howard had told him he was a director of a machinery company and asked him about the case, saying he had a bill to collect from Spratt. He offered to handle Bullock's affair and fix it up with Spratt, but Bullock fancied he was sent to him by the accused in the present case and refused to talk to him. He did not offer to settle for $150. He was suspicious of Howard's interest in his affairs. He went to Howard's room in the Victoria hotel out of curiosity and there Howard offered to try and squeeze Spratt, but Bullock turned the offer down. Asked if there was a wardrobe in the room, Bullock said there was not.

"If Howard comes forward and says you made overtures," said Mr. Taylor, "I suppose he would be committing perjury?" "Yes," replied witness, "but he won't come forward, Mr. Taylor." Bullock, in answer to further questions, said he had not offered to take $300 and attorney fees, although he admitted if the money had been handed him he would have taken it in settlement of his damage case. He did not tell Howard he could get $5,000 for defamation of character and did not say he was going to h-l after Spratt and Day. He was two minutes in the room only and was not served with drink there, because he did not drink. On May 6 he came to the conclusion that he had better have nothing to do with Howard and did not see him again nor tell Howard he would get revenge on Spratt and put him behind the bars.

The letter which is in the handwriting of Bullock but unsigned was again mentioned, Bullock declaring that it was dictated by Spratt in Spratt's office containing an offer to settle for $150, but he refused to sign it. Spratt said he wanted it signed so he could hand it to Day and make Day pay the money, said witness.

Referring to an interview with Oliver Richards, who is accused in another case, witness denied he had asked for money but said Richards had offered to pay him a sum, and had excused himself to see Day, and that Richards had arranged to have Day take witness to Port Angeles in a launch.

"I told him I wouldn't go in a launch with Day and take chances," said Bullock, amid laughter. Referring to a statement that he had no drink with Howard and another that he had a drink with Richards at the Manitoba bar, Bullock said he had Richards had suggested that Bullock should walk out to some place, take a train and then skip to Mexico, but all the suggestions had been made by Richards with a view to having him leave the city. The sum mentioned was $250 for his wife and $500 for himself. He denied a telephone conversation with Richards.

Men named Norris, Case, Harkness and Bristol were mentioned with whom Bullock had conversations. Bullock denied all statements by these as alleged in typed matter which Mr. Taylor read from, and he said that Bristol had told him that he (Bristol) had been paid money for making an affidavit.

Two gallons of whiskey was introduced into evidence, witness having bought it from Pither and Leiser. He said he had a receipt for it and offered to produce it. He admitted he might have told Watson he would get out if the matter was fixed up. In going over his evidence of the morning, Bullock remained firm on his conversations with Spratt, saying he told the latter he did not like the navy goods coming into the yard and that in September Spratt had said if he had his way the shipment from Day would not have come in. Spratt also said, they had been getting the goods for years.

Witness said he had a contract in the navy to repair a man of war but on cross-examination admitted he was in charge of the work only and it was passed by the engineer-commander. He was questioned as to his knowledge as a machinist and said he learned his trade at his father's works in Lake Street, Chicago, and had worked at the Union Iron Works in San Francisco. He was a practical man and thought his father's works turned out as many as fifteen boilers a year. He had told Commander Vivian he was informing to get even with Spratt and Houston. Referring to the same question in reference to the Bechtels, Hafer and Price witness said he may have done so but it was not necessary; they knew it. He wanted to get even on Houston more than on Spratt.

There was laughter in the back of the court when Bullock said the thickness of steel required to make a boiler 6 1/2 feet in diameter and 15 feet long, to stand 125 pounds pressure, would be 5-16 in. A driver named Jasper had told him that certain goods were from the Shearwater.

He was questioned as to the origin of the particular goods mentioned in the information and said 160 pounds of rubber came in the case, but the candles did not come from the Shearwater, and referring to the time of paint said he did not know positively they were stolen but that the prices paid ought to show something. Day had gone to the depot and told Bullock he was going to bring some things in a launch and to be ready for them. They were there the next morning. He did not recognize the paint as coming from Day but there was paint there like that produced when he went there to work and more when he left. Witness said he was an American citizen.

He was then told to stand down and was immediately arrested on the warrant sworn out by Andrew Bechtel. Commander Vivian was called for cross-examination and said he did not know positively they were stolen but that the prices paid ought to show something. Day had gone to the depot and told Bullock he was going to bring some things in a launch and to be ready for them. They were there the next morning. He did not recognize the paint as coming from Day but there was paint there like that produced when he went there to work and more when he left. Witness said he was an American citizen.

Mr. Taylor—Don't you know a certain amount of stealing goes on all through the British navy? Witness—It does here, I've heard. Mr. Taylor—Doesn't it go on elsewhere? Witness—There is a certain amount of theft going on all over the world, and I don't know that the navy is exempt from it.

Mr. Taylor read a cablegram from London saying the price of rubber such as supplied to the navy was six shillings and six pence per pound.

Commander Vivian said the price of rubber may have dropped since he had the last information, but his quotation from the navy list was higher.

J. A. Alkman asked that the defence tell who is secretary of the company. "They are talking on a high tone plane of innocence," he said, "and why do they object to give us this information? We want them to produce the books of the company and are trying to ascertain who the secretary is. In the company registration the shareholders are given but not the list of officers."

Before plunging into the vortex of a law suit they might have given the assistance, said Mr. Taylor, but now the prosecution would have to proceed according to law.

Mr. Alkman remarked that he understood the secretary was named Griffiths, and he was told Griffiths had left town last night.

Bullock was then given bail and the court adjourned till this morning.

THREE MEN FIRED ON AT WEDDING

Shooting Follows Refusal of Young Woman to Dance With One of Guests

San Francisco, Cal., June 20. — The police are searching the Latin quarters for Joseph Chinni, a Sicilian, who fired into an Italian wedding party Sunday night and dangerously wounded three men. No motive has been given for the shooting except that Chinni asked a young woman named Maria Copelli to dance with him and on her refusal said, "Someone would get hurt." The shooting followed. Ralph Brinroll and Thomas Copelli, brother of Maria, are lying at the hospital with little hope of recovery. The disappearance of Jean Basso, who was also dangerously injured, offers another mysterious feature of the case. Basso, who had been in the company of Chinni during the evening, was rushed to a cab immediately after the shooting and has not yet been found by the police.

OUR LETTER BOX FOWL HOUSES

To the Editor:—Will you grant me a little space in your columns, as what I have to say may be of some service to poultry men? In regard to Mr. C. Devonshire's article in your issue of the 25th, I recommend to the poultry men to build nests and roosting places with cedar boards. The cedar's odor drives the bugs away. Besides that, I recommend to set the incubators on lard fat blocks, which stop the vibrations coming from a wooden floor. I cover walls and ceiling with felt paper, which intercepts the commotion and vibration coming from powder explosions, so numerous around Victoria. G. BERTON.

ROSE SHOW

To the Editor:—Now that June is two-thirds over and the bright sunshine of the last two weeks has brought in an abundant crop of roses, one's thoughts naturally turn to the rose show. So far no announcement has been made as to whether or not there will be one this year, and even if there is one all the best blooms will be things of the past before the show.

What has happened to the Horticultural Society? Wake up, Mr. Bland, and bring to life again your moribund society and don't let it be said that you are willing to sacrifice the interest of rose growers to that of the sweet pea growers.

ROBARIAN.

The durability of wood in favorable circumstances is almost incredible. Pieces of wood, wooden caskets, and wooden articles have been taken from Egyptian catacombs constructed 2,000 or 3,000 years before the Christian era.

CANADIANS ARE HONORED BY KING BARONETCY CONFERRED UPON DR. W. OSLER

Hon. L. M. Jones, William
 Whyte and Judge Routhier
 Are Knighted

London, June 20.—The coming coronation of King George is signalized by a free handed distribution of honors. In the list announced last night the colonial premiers figure prominently. Sir Joseph G. Ward, prime minister of New Zealand, is promoted to a baronetcy. Andrew Fisher, premier of Australia, and Sir Edward Morris, premier of Newfoundland, are made privy councillors.

The bestowal of a baronetcy upon Dr. William Osler, regius professor of medicine at Oxford, and formerly professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore and McGill University at Montreal, is the most interesting item in the honor list to Canadians.

Knighthood is also conferred on Hon. L. M. Jones, Toronto; Judge Routhier, Quebec, and William Whyte, C. P. R. vice-president.

The Earl of Crewe, who was the Liberal leader in the House of Lords until his withdrawal on account of illness, is made a marquis. Lord Rosebery, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, and Lord Brassey are made earls of the United Kingdom. Lord Rosebery hereafter will be known as the Earl of Midlothian. His former earldom was of Scotland only, and he sat in the House of Lords as Baron Rosebery.

The Right Honorable Alexander William Murray, master of Ellon, the chief Liberal whip in the House of Commons; Baron Knollys, the King's secretary; Baron Allendale, and the Right Honorable Arlens Akers-Douglas, Unionist member of the House of Commons for Kent, are made viscounts.

Both of the King's secretaries are recognized, Lord Knollys and Lieutenant Colonel Sir Arthur J. Bigge, the latter being one of nine new barons created. The others are Lord Mountgarret, Sir Charles E. McLaren, Sir Alexander Acland-Hood, the chief of the Admiralty; Sir William E. Lewis, the noted mining expert; Sir James L. Mackay, who has given much time to Indian affairs; Archibald Corbett, member of parliament for Glasgow since 1895; Thomas Gair Ashton, M. P. for Bedfordshire, and Godfrey R. Benson.

Altogether twenty new baronets and forty knights are created. The stage has been recognized by the knighting of George Alexander, the actor-manager; Sir R. Feasey, the attorney-general; T. McKinnon Wood, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office; Dr. J. L. McNamara, secretary to the admiral; Sir T. Vezey Strong, Lord Mayor of London, and Frederick Huth Jackson, a prominent banker, are among the new privy councillors. The baronets and knights include men conspicuous in commerce and science.

Several hundred decorations have been bestowed. The Grand Duke Adolph of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, the Duke of Argyll and the Duke of Pife are given the Order of the Garter. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of Canada, has been made knight of the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George, while Robert Alexander Falconer, president of Toronto University, and Charles C. James, deputy minister of agriculture, Toronto, are made companions of St. Michael and St. George. General Sir William G. Nicholson, chief of the general staff, and General Lord Paul Sanford Methuen, who commanded the first division of the first army corps in the South African war, were last night gazetted field marshals.

ALASKA COAL CLAIMS

Seattle, Wash., June 20.—The taking of depositions preliminary to the hearing of charges brought by the United States government against the twelve claimants of the Hunt coal group, in the Katalla country of Alaska, was begun yesterday before a notary public in the federal building. The claimants have been cited to show cause why their claims should not be recommended or cancelled because they were taken not for the benefit of the individual locations, but for the Alaska Petroleum & Coal Co., of which the twelve claimants are stockholders. Henry R. Harriman, secretary and attorney of the company, was on the witness stand all day, and was interrogated by Judge J. M. Witsman, chief tax clerk of the general land office, and Special Agent W. H. Heinrichs. Harriman denied that the filings were made for the benefit of the company. The claims are valued at several million dollars.

KNOCKED INTO RIVER

Mount Vernon, Wash., June 20.—J. E. Robinson, foreman for Grant, Smith & Co. on the repair of the Great Northern railroad bridge which crosses the Skagit river at Riverside, two miles north of the town, was knocked from the top girder of the structure on Sunday morning and drowned.

Robinson was finishing his last bit of work on the big contract which had been in progress over a year. He would have been through in a few minutes. Robinson's friends had hard work to keep his wife from plunging into the river to rescue her husband. She is distracted with grief. Every effort to find the body has proved futile so far. The stream is very high and launches have been searching continuously since the accident, and the river has been thoroughly dragged without result.

"BOY BANDIT" REMANDED

Fairfield, Cal., June 19.—Frank Melville, known as the "boy bandit," was arraigned yesterday before Justices of the Peace in the charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. He was fined by the court at $20,000. Owing to the fact that more serious charges await him at Sacramento, he will be remanded there before the end of the week.

THE PRICES IN THIS AD.

Ladies will readily see that all prices in this publicity are extremely modest; they represent the envied reputation of "Campbell's" ability to give values that are utterly beyond duplication in their fairness and quality. It must not be forgotten, however, that the lady whose means are, perhaps, more extensive than the average, can find here the most elaborate Summer Costumery that we have ever had the pleasure to exhibit. We do not make a practice of advertising our exclusive elaborate Gowns and Dresses for two reasons: First, we are known to always carry such costumery, and secondly, Victoria ladies look upon it as a part of their shopping duties to come to us first, with the result that our more expensive garments are continually moving.

Prettiest of Muslin and Marquise Dresses

The most exquisite affairs—cool, dainty and becoming, perfectly fashioned in the new high-waisted effect, or models with the usual centre waist-line if you prefer it.

WHEN GREEK MEETS GREEK.

There are two horrible phantoms pursuing the Conservative press of Canada at the present time and from ocean to ocean the wailing cry of anguish is heard bearing testimony to the deathlessness of political superstition.

When the spell of obsession is at its height the mind soars to flights of fancy, suspecting the most impeccable men and distorting the view of political masters into gorgons and monsters.

Dismissing from the mind for the time the consideration of the first hundred or more of these people who came to British Columbia, whose unfortunate and misguided adventure resulted more disastrously to themselves than any one else, it must be admitted that the present East Indian immigrants are very far from being the least desirable of those who come to our shores.

What is there in the situation that should cause alarm? Are not Canadians, when measured man to man, as good people as the Americans?

With the resources at her disposal Canada can become as mighty as the mightiest. Is it lack of organization that handicaps her?

Canada is less under the domination of the Mother Country to-day than ever in her history and it is the grateful confession of all her statesmen as well as those discerning men of the Mother Country who can estimate objects at their real value, that she was never so much attached nor so loyal to the person and throne of the Sovereign and the institutions of the British Empire as she is at the present moment.

If Canada is ever dissociated from the British Empire, it will be because of the triumph of the policy of apron-string government; the "ask-mamma" policy, the persistent effort to keep the grown, strong, sturdy youth within the short legging of childhood and under the restraint of the maternal eye.

It is not in human nature that such a policy should make for success, hardihood, or self-reliance. That these latter mean less attachment for the old home with its sacred teachings and wholesale instruction is as foreign as the other impossibility. The Montreal Herald strikes a true note in this connection when it says: The only tradition we can think of that will be damaged by the increase of our trade with the United States is one which was never really British, which was borrowed by Britain from Spain and other early colonizing nations, which was the prime cause of the loss of the American colonies below our border, and which has been abandoned so long that nobody ever thinks of it now; the tradition that it is the duty of a colony to do all its trading with the mother country.

THE HINDU PROBLEM.

There is being carried on at the present time in the coast cities what may not improperly be termed a missionary and educative campaign on behalf of the Hindu immigrants who have settled in the province and become citizens among us.

Notwithstanding the somewhat lavish dispensation of titles, courtly honors, knightships and peerages, we cannot yet write it Sir Richard McBride. Hope deferred makes the heart sick. We know what's the matter. The King and Dick have a neat little surprise and compliment for the people of British Columbia by which Dick will demonstrate that he laughs best who laughs last.

Remarks the Edmonton Bulletin: "From Vancouver comes the periodical wall about the saw-mill men of Washington shipping rough lumber at cost or slightly above cost into the prairie market and taking away the business of the B. C. mill men."

We thought the opposition press had about exhausted its magazines of abuse of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his place in the Imperial conference. No so the Mail and Empire. It says: "If some member of the Imperial conference had introduced a resolution pledging the dominions never to go to war with the Mother Country about any differences, Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have voted nay."

In making formal protest, by resolution, against the Ne Temere decree, the Toronto Methodist conference committed itself to a position which, perhaps, it did not intend to assume.

The new church building on the corner of Queen's avenue and Blanchard street, erected by the English Lutherans of this city, is being completed this week, and arrangements are under way for the formal opening and dedication next Sunday.

which no Anglo-Saxon subject of His Majesty would submit in their own part of the Empire.

The Times voices their sentiments in sympathy with them and sharing the belief that with a better understanding of their claims upon our sense of justice and fairness it would be safely possible to deliver them from conditions which cannot conduce to their good and which may become a moral menace to ourselves.

The number of daily telephone calls in the Hamilton "Central" is 53,000, a considerable increase over any former year. Manager thinks it attributable to great increase in business activity. Out here we should deduce exactly the opposite conclusion. The more time you talk the less you have left to do business.

The Toronto News, admitting that the Conservative opposition is weak in Nova Scotia, says: "At the same time it cannot be in the interest of Nova Scotia that the rule of the Liberal party should continue. To give power unreservedly to a single party is a practical evasion of responsible government and a perversion of free institutions."

Victorians who feel so disposed will this evening have an opportunity of hearing Rev. Dr. M. A. Matthews of Seattle who recently boasted in Vancouver that his desire was to see the Stars and Stripes float over the whole of the continent of North America.

GRACE LUTHERAN CHURCH DEDICATION. Service Will Take Place Next Sunday--Description of the Building. The new church building on the corner of Queen's avenue and Blanchard street, erected by the English Lutherans of this city, is being completed this week, and arrangements are under way for the formal opening and dedication next Sunday.

GRACE TO THE NEW COMMUNITY in which it is located. The style of the building is of the Gothic design throughout and finished on the inside after the old English mission order. It is a commodious building with ample arrangements for the Sunday school and the other auxiliaries of the church work. The chancel and vestry occupy the east end of the church according to old arrangement of liturgical churches, and the double entrance with a large vestibule fronts on Blanchard street to the west. The seating capacity is estimated from three hundred to three hundred and fifty (dimensions 40x86 feet). The Sunday services will be held in the forenoon, afternoon and evening. Visiting pastors from many cities of the Northwest will participate, as well as local ministers. Rev. M. E. Boulton, president of the Pacific Synod, will have charge of the dedicatory service in the morning, assisted by Rev. Dr. Leas, of Portland, Ore. In the afternoon there will be several speakers. In the evening the Rev. F. E. Bussard, M. A., of Salt Lake City, will deliver a sermon, followed by other speakers. Many

Henry Moore, who was murdered by Indians in Northern British Columbia, and a grandson of the late Capt. W. Moore and B. Mansell, the latter one of the pioneers of the city. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Alice Pillin; one sister, Mrs. L. H. Francis, and a brother, Henry Moore, all of Santa Barbara. The remains of Andrew William Brown were forwarded to Sidney for interment this morning by the B. C. Funeral Furnishing Co. The body of Beatrice Merrifield, the 22 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Merrifield, formerly of this city, and now of Seattle, who was drowned in Lake Union on Sunday, will be interred in the Ross Bay cemetery to-morrow. ## OVERSEAS CLUB.

A most enjoyable and successful meeting of the Overseas Club was held last evening at Friends' hall, Courtney street. William Blakemore occupied the chair. The members of the Victoria Cymrodorion Society were the guests of the evening and delighted the gathering with their rendering of Welsh airs.

It was decided to enter a float in the coronation day parade but a sum of money will be set aside for buying toys for the children of St. Joseph's and the Jubilee hospitals, to be distributed on coronation morning. The Cymrodorion Society contributed the sum of $10 for the same purpose.

The total membership of the Overseas Club is now more than 24. An anonymous friend gave the club large portraits of the King and Queen. Mrs. Jenkins gave a short address to the club, and business was closed until the next meeting, which will take place on the first Monday in September. The musical programme rendered was as follows: Hymn, "Aberystwith," members of the V. C. Society; song, "Men of Erioch," J. Williams; song, "The Last Muster," Mr. Thomas; song, "Cymru fy Wald," Mrs. J. Williams; song, "Ye Backlog Deur," D. Griffiths; song, "Thora," Mr. Thomas; song, "There's a Land," Mrs. D. B. "We have sold half a million barrels of oil to the Standard Oil Co. at 50 cents per barrel," said Mr. Gray to a Times reporter this morning. "and this oil is being delivered daily. While I was there we delivered four big tanks to the Standard. They said it is the best oil on the field, there not being a grain of sediment or a drop of water in it."
"Of course I am gratified at the way things have turned out, and I can assure those who have bought securities in this company that their confidence is going to be amply rewarded."
"I would not sell a share of stock I own in this company to-day under $1 a share. It is worth this as an investment alone."

OAK BAY TO ESTABLISH INCINERATOR PLANT

Municipal Hall Postponed—Beacon Fire and Decorations for Coronation Day

Provided no unlooked-for hindrance or objection arises, the Oak Bay municipality will show its loyalty on coronation night by lighting a great beacon fire on the top of Gonzales hill. Some fear was expressed last evening at the meeting of the council that such a scheme was too dangerous because no water could be brought near the summit of the hill. Upon this Councilor Pemberton, who granted the council permission to light the fire on Gonzales hill, which is his property, offered to supply three chemical fire-extinguishers. His offer was accepted with thanks. The fuel used will be oil and tar.

The general works committee reported that at its meeting on June 12 an offer was received from Bandmaster Rogers, of the Fifth Regiment band, to play a series of eight concerts at the Oak Bay hotel at the rate of $50 per concert. The committee wrote to Mr. Rogers informing him that as no appropriation had been made for this in the estimates they could take no steps in the matter.

The health committee in its report informed the council that a petition had been received asking for an adequate system for the disposal of garbage. It was resolved to take steps to construct an incinerator plant. The report was adopted as read.
The joint committee of the Oak Bay and Victoria councils, which met to arrange for the cost of a trunk sewer, reported that it had been agreed that the city should pay two-thirds and the municipality one-third.

Among the communications was an invitation to the council from Dean Doull to attend the service in Christ Church Cathedral on Thursday. This was accepted with thanks and the clerk instructed to notify the Dean to that effect.
Herbert Cuthbert, on behalf of the management committee of the coronation celebration, wrote to thank the council for its resolve to light a beacon fire to help in the work of celebrating. The council is also going to decorate the schoolhouse.

Two petitions asking for improvements on Foul Bay road and Newport avenue were received, property signed, and the work will be proceeded with in the usual way. Another asked for sidewalks on Foul Bay road, and that three-fifths of the cost of laying same be borne by residents of the east side of the street and two-fifths by those on the west. The reeve thought that this could not be done, so the matter was referred to the solicitor and engineer to thresh out.

BEAVERS WIN GAME IN OPENING STAGES

McCreezy Wild and Hit Hard—Cates' Home Run—Belford Pitches Great Ball

By hitting out a home run and chasing two men in ahead of aim in the third inning Cates increased Vancouver's lead to six and put yesterday's game away on ice.

It seems a shame that after three long weeks of waiting the fans should be treated to such a tame exhibition as that of yesterday.

Before Belford could stem the tide, however, Vancouver had secured a big lead and the Islanders were struggling in the mire of another defeat.

By hitting Holm almost at will the Giants secured a long lead on the Indians at Seattle yesterday and won the game, 11 to 4.

At the University School field sports yesterday, K. Creery threw a cricket ball 86 yards, one foot.

The game played Saturday at Burnside road was remarkable principally for the bowling feats.

While Northwestern Leaguers are not sitting the ball in any such outrageous fashion as they were for the first few weeks of the season, there are still many comfortably above the 300 mark.

Seattle, Wash. June 20—After three hours of communion and a great deal of just plain rag-chewing, the directors of the Northwestern League, the magnates representing Seattle, Spokane, Vancouver, Portland, Victoria and Tacoma, announced that the three forfeited games would stand.

Fire Chief Killed by Live Wire—Several Members of Brigade Injured

Bakersfield, Cal., June 20.—Fred Bailek, a business man of Maricopa and chief of the fire department, was instantly killed by a live wire while fighting a fire which destroyed half of the business section of Maricopa at an early hour to-day. Many of the fire fighters were injured by falling timbers. The fire was entirely under control at 6 o'clock this morning, according to the meagre reports obtainable. The fire broke out at 4 o'clock. All telephone and telegraph wires are down. The loss is widely estimated, but it will reach more than $100,000. More than a dozen business concerns, a hotel, two banks and the telephone office were destroyed.

LOSES HIS LIFE WHILE FISHING

Fireboss at South Wellington Mine Falls Into Nanaimo River

Nanaimo, June 20.—A drowning accident occurred in Nanaimo river in which Edward Lim, a resident of South Wellington, was the victim. Lim, who was a fire boss employed in the South Wellington mine, and a companion left Sunday morning for a few hours fishing in the river, above the point where the Esquimalt and Nanaimo railway crosses the stream. While walking along the banks of the stream about a quarter of a mile from the bridge, Lim slipped on the rocks and fell into the water beyond the reach of his companion and was soon swept from view by the swift running water. Provincial Constable Hannay, who was notified of the drowning, accompanied by several men, visited the scene of the accident and searched both banks of the river for some distance below the point where Lim fell in, but found no trace of the body. A net was strung across the river to prevent the body floating down stream, and another search will be made in an attempt to locate the body of the drowned man. Deceased was a recent arrival in this district, coming from England. He held first-class miner's papers and secured employment in the mines at South Wellington. Lim was about 34 years of age and is said to have a brother residing in Vancouver.

Superintendent of British Pacific Coal Company Returns From Property---Coming to Victoria To-day

It is expected that a large number of Shareholders in The British Pacific Coal Company will call to-day at the office of T. R. Morrow, 604 Broughton street, which is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., in order that they may receive first hand from the Superintendent the fullest and most complete report of the work done on the property and the plans for immediate development.

The Trustee, T. R. Morrow, wired yesterday that the Engineer, Alexander Faulds, M.E., Inst. M.E., will go north in a few days with a second party of miners to commence permanent development work on the property of the British Pacific Coal Company.

This means that coal may be shipped to Victoria, Prince Rupert, Vancouver, Seattle and other Pacific Coast ports inside of six months' time.

If it were not that the Trustee had already announced that the next issue of shares to be offered to the public on Tuesday, June 27th, at 50 cents a share, the reports brought from the property would justify the price being fixed at 75 cents or $1.00 a share.

The Trustee, T. R. Morrow, however, will place on the market on Tuesday morning, June 27th, a limited block to be sold at the price announced—50 cents a share. At the same time, however, he wishes it made known that he reserves the right to announce the advance from 50 cents to $1.00 per share just as soon as the 50 cent issue has been absorbed, which will not be longer than a period of 10 days after the 27th June.

Only 12,000 shares available for the readers of this paper at 35 cents a share.

The 35 cent issue will surely be oversubscribed. The Trustee, T. R. Morrow, at the inception of the campaign for the sale of 35 cent shares allotted a certain amount of stock to the territory controlled by his Victoria office, 604 Broughton street. Of this amount but 12,000 shares remain to be sold at 35 cents.

It is only a matter of two or three days until the shares available at 35 cents are taken up.

Those who buy to-day have the absolute guarantee by T. R. Morrow that the price will be 50 cents, on Tuesday, June 27th.

Therefore, those who buy in to-day at 35 cents, paying 10 cents per share in cash, and the balance in three months, will make a profit of 15 cents per share on June 27th, which 15 cents per share represents 150 per cent profit through the advance in price.

IT IS EASY MONEY FOR YOU

Remember that The British Pacific Coal Company controls practically all of the workable anthracite coal in Western Canada.

The property of the Company is situated on Skidegate Inlet, Graham Island, 80 miles from Prince Rupert by water, and comprises 8,320 acres, an area of coal land of which one seam, if worked to its limit, will last over 144 years.

The coal in the seam in the property reported on by the various Engineers represents, on the most conservative basis of calculation, 36,000,000 tons.

The Engineer, in his report, sets forth the fact that for every dollar invested by the shareholder, this one seam will repay a profit of $22.50. There are five other seams in the property equally as rich as the one reported on.

This is truly one of the greatest coal properties in the North American continent.

Six of the greatest engineers and coal experts in the United States and Great Britain have reported upon the property and irrefragably and unconditionally set forth the fact that the coal is anthracite of the very finest quality and the volume unquestionable.

Just as Vancouver became a great city and the market place for thousands of tons of fuel on the completion of the Canadian Pacific railway to Burrard Inlet, so will Prince Rupert city be when the Grand Trunk Pacific is completed to the Pacific coast, eighteen months hence.

The enormous demand for fuel at Prince Rupert city must be supplied by the nearest coal mine which is The British Pacific Coal Company.

The fact that the coal is anthracite and carrying 83 per cent fixed carbon as against bituminous with some 45 to 55 per cent, will naturally give the coal from the British Pacific Coal Company the preference, since one ton of anthracite coal burns twice as long as a ton of bituminous, such as is mined elsewhere in Graham Island and Vancouver Island.

Anthracite coal requires but one-half the stoking and there is less ash.

It costs no more to mine anthracite coal and to ship it than bituminous.

The readers of this paper, can readily find out the fortunes that have followed the development of coal measures in Vancouver Island. Many men resident throughout the province have made millions from coal mining. You know that those who purchased shares at the inception of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company at the ridiculously low price of 10 cents a share, sold the same a few years hence at $380 per share, when the Great Northern absorbed the holdings.

Men who know, say that the property of the British Pacific Coal Company is as great in coal wealth as any of the highly productive coal properties in Canada and the United States and that the history of successful coal mining will repeat itself in the development of the coal mines of the British Pacific Coal Company.

No application received for less than 100 shares at 35 cents the share. The cash payment is 10 cents per share with application, remainder in three equal monthly instalments.

Your application must reach T. R. Morrow, the Trustee, not later than 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, June 27th.

Out-of-town readers, if you are desirous of taking shares in the British Pacific Coal Company at 35c per share, wire your reservations collect to the office of the trustee. On receipt of same, if shares are available, the number required will be set aside in your name, and sufficient time allowed you to send remittance by first mail.

Mr. Morrow is not obligating himself to accept any application for the 35 cent shares.

Direct your application and make your cheque payable to the order of T. R. Morrow, Trustee, whose office is situated at 604 Broughton Street, Victoria, and is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The British Empire League gave a ball last night at the Hotel Cecil in honor of the overseas forces. Seven hundred colonial and English officers were present.

A full dress rehearsal of the coronation ceremony, the reception of envoys from foreign lands to be held at Buckingham Palace, the state banquet to royal guests and representatives of heads of state and the Shakespearean ball at Albert Hall, make up to-day's crowded programme of events directly connected with the crowning of King George and Queen Mary. The coronation rehearsal will depict the ceremony practically as it will be performed on Thursday.

The Shakespearean ball will be an elaborate affair as it is expected that Queen Mary and nearly all of the members of royalty will be present. The state banquet at Buckingham Palace to-night will be the most elaborate of the kind ever given in London. The famous Windsor gold plate will be used.

Aside from these events, there are a large number of lesser features constantly occurring, incident to the continuous arrival of distinguished foreign dignitaries and the innumerable semi-official dinners, garden parties, receptions, exhibitions and private events, which have sprung up in connection with the coronation festivities.

Royal carriages conveying the nation's representatives on an interminable round of visits, the passing and re-passing of contingents of troops and a ceaseless stream of sightseers with a big sprinkling of brightening apparel effected by those of both the near and the far east, furnished London with a day long succession of thrills.

Among the troops were many in strange foreign uniforms of continental regiments of which King George is an honorary colonel.

Enormous crowds gathered early in the vicinity of Westminster Abbey, where the peers and peeresses arrived for the coronation rehearsal, many wearing their regalia and carrying their coronets uncovers, while there were great throngs at Buckingham Palace to watch the coming and going of uniformed envoys attending their majesties' reception. There was nothing else to be seen in the vicinity of the palace, which is bare of decorations, but thousands stood throughout the day peering through railings.

The fleet of foreign warships here for the coronation was made complete this morning by the arrival of the German cruiser Von Der Tann. Sixteen nations are represented at Spithead. The foreign officers came ashore in large numbers and attended a reception given by Admiral Sir Arthur W. Moore, commander-in-chief of the British naval station at Portsmouth, at Admiralty house. A garden party given at Admiralty house this afternoon attracted a brilliant international throng.

James Keir Hardie, M. P. for Morarty Tydvil, Socialist and Independent Labor member struck the only discordant note thus far heard in the coronation season. "The workers ought to have sufficient self-respect to spit at the coronation procession and all its hollow mockeries," he said, sneaking at the Miners' demonstration at Barnsley. "What will be seen in the coronation ceremony is not humanity, religion, or industry, but the forces that oppress

A good oven is the housekeeper's delight. A poor one is the despair of her life. That's why we want to tell you about this Chancellor.

A special divided flue makes the oven a perfect baker. There is not a range in the country can beat it.

Baking day instead of being a trial and a disappointment is a pleasure, a satisfaction.

Come in the store when you're down town and let us explain to you just how this flue distributes the heat evenly over the whole oven. Bakes in front just as well as back—under crust as well as upper.

SALE OF ASSESSMENT ROLL

In view of the council's recent action in relieving Mr. Scowcroft of the task of printing and publishing copies of the assessment roll, notice has been given by the city clerk, requesting that all persons desirous of obtaining a copy or copies of the assessment roll of the city of Victoria for use in connection with their business, or otherwise, should communicate with him.

The object of the notice is to ascertain the number of copies which are likely to be required, so as to form a guide in placing orders with the printer. It is intended to supply the assessment roll to purchasers at a price not exceeding the actual cost of production. In the past many of the real estate men of the city have benefited considerably through possession of a copy of the assessment roll and it is expected that the demand this year for copies will be greater than ever before.

SAILS FOR MEXICO WITH LARGE CARGO

Lonsdale Due to Leave on Thursday—Has Much Lumber and Considerable Coal

According to latest advices received by the local agent of the Canadian-Mexican line, the steamship Lonsdale, Capt. Bates, will sail from this port Thursday for Salina Cruz and way ports. It was expected that she would sail from the Outer Wharf yesterday, but she has met with delays in loading her cargo of lumber and coal at New Westminster and Union. Providing no other drawbacks are encountered she will get away on Thursday.

Since her arrival from the south the Lonsdale has been at the Fraser river mills taking on nearly a million feet of lumber for the south. At the latter part of last week the liner proceeded to Union to load a quantity of coal for Mazatlan. She will leave this port laden with one of the largest cargoes she has taken to Mexico for several months.

According to the schedule of the line the steamship—Henley, Capt. Turner, under charter to the line, is due to arrive here on June 28. She is bringing north a light cargo of general freight, consisting of the regular items of odds and ends shipped over the Tehuantepec railway.

Bound for this port the steamship

Regulations for Safety of Row-boats and Small Craft to Be Enforced

The following notice is issued by Captain Robertson, local agent of the Marine and Fisheries Department: There having been a large number of complaints made to the agency of marine boats navigating Victoria Arm, proceeding at a high rate of speed, such as to endanger the safety of rowing boats, canoes and other small craft, the owner or person in charge of each motor or power boat, not obeying the regulation regarding speed and navigation, will be punished with the utmost rigor of the law.

Any person noting an infraction of the regulations will please report the same with full particulars to the agency of marine, Victoria.

For general information the following regulations for the government of public harbors in Canada are given:

Section 43. Speed.—Any vessel when passing booms in tow, small vessels or open boats in the harbor shall reduce its speed consistent with safety.

Section 44. Navigation.—Any vessel when in harbor shall navigate with caution, having due regard to life and

FASTEST PASSAGE BY ARCTIC STREAM

ONLY FIFTY-SEVEN DAYS OUT FROM CALETA COLOSA

Smartest Trip on Record—Bay of Biscay From Iquique—Both Take Lumber

Making the fastest trip from Caleta Colosa, Chile, that has ever been recorded in the history of this port, the British ship, Arctic Stream, Capt. Dixon, arrived in the Royal Roads Sunday evening about 9 o'clock, as already reported in these columns. She made the long passage in fifty-seven days, which cuts down the former record by several days. The Arctic Stream is one of the fastest sailers afloat and has more than one record to her credit. When laden with grain from Portland, Ore., the smart little ship made the run to England in 103 days. She is only a small vessel, being 1500 tons, but is so finely built and carries such a large amount of sail for her size that she is enabled to make quick voyages.

Favorable weather was encountered during the whole of the passage and some days the vessel reeled off several hundred knots, which would be a credit to some steamers. During the next two days the Arctic Stream will discharge her ballast in the Roads before coming into the upper harbor to load lumber at the Canadian-Puget Sound Company's wharf. She will be brought in by the tug Lorne, which is at present overtaxed with business stimulated by

2. A black steel can buoy, moored in 12 fathoms water off the outer edge of the shoal ground off Eagle Point. Lat. N. 53 deg. 54 min. 15 sec.; long. W. 130 deg. 30 sec.
3. A wooden platform buoy, surmounted by a pyramidal cage and ball, the whole painted black, moored in 10 fathoms water off the inner edge of the shoal ground off Eagle Point. Lat. N. 53 deg. 54 min. 40 sec.; long. W. 130 deg. 20 sec.
4. A wooden platform buoy, surmounted by a pyramidal cage and ball, the whole painted red, moored in 10 fathoms water off the shoal ground at the head of Portland canal. Lat. N. 53 deg. 55 min. 20 sec.; long. W. 129 deg. 59 min. 20 sec.

The following information respecting the geographical positions of Three King Islands, lying northwest of New Zealand, is furnished through the department of trade and commerce: Admiral Sir Richard Poore, R. N., commander-in-chief on the Australian station, reports that the position as ascertained by sights of the south point of the Great Island of the Three Kings, northwest of New Zealand, is lat. 34 deg. 11 min. 48 sec. S., long. 172 deg. 7 min. 24 sec. E., and the relative bearing from Cape Reinga of south point Great Island N. 60 deg. W., true 21 miles. The position of south point as at present charted is lat. 34 deg. 9 min. S., long. 172 deg. 8 min. 8 sec. E., and the bearing from Cape Reinga N. 58 1/2 deg. W. 31.3 miles.

Extending northward from Round Island, off Low peninsula, Clayoquot Sound, is a sand spit over 6 cables long. Between this spit and the two wooded islets to the northeastward, locally known as Deadman Islets, is Deadman Passage, not over half cable wide, with depth of from 5 to 7 fathoms on it, and 3 fathoms at the south entrance, which is extensively used by local trading steamers. Deadman Passage will be marked, without further notice, by 4 spar buoys, placed as follows: A buoy, colored black, in 2 1/2 fathoms, off the north extremity of Round Island spit, marking the west side of the north entrance to the passage. A buoy, colored red, in 2 1/2 fathoms, on the northwest extremity of the shoal 'off' Deadman Islets, marking the east side of the north entrance to the passage. A buoy, colored black, in 1 1/2 fathoms, on the west side of the south entrance to the passage. A buoy, colored black, in 2 fathoms, at the south extremity of the shoal on the east side of the south entrance to the passage. This shoal appears to have extended since Captain Richards' survey was made.

A village named Tofino has sprung up on the north end of Low peninsula, and a wharf has been built at this place. It extends out 200 feet from the point next to the rounded point at the northwest extreme known as Grice Point. It has a T 70 feet long at its end with a depth in front of 22 feet at low water. A lifeboat house has been established 500 feet east of the wharf. Two uncharted rocks were located by Capt. Walbran, who surveyed the channel several weeks ago in this vicinity. One 3/4 cable southwest from the rock shown 4 1/2 cables south of Grice Point. The other 1-3 cable off the west extreme of Round Island. These rocks have less than 6 feet of water on them.

Halifax Schooner Gets Sixteen Hundred Skins in Nine Months

Halifax, June 19.—The Halifax sealing schooner Agnes G. Donahoe arrived Saturday from Montevideo. Her crew, during a voyage lasting about nine months, captured 1,600 seals, and the expedition is considered to have been highly profitable. After leaving Halifax the middle of last August, the Agnes G. Donahoe sailed for Montevideo, arriving there after forty-eight days. She then sailed for the Sandwich Islands, where she caught 15 seals, which she returned to Montevideo and later she returned to the sealing grounds, where the balance of the catch was secured. It is two hundred more than that of any other vessel in the fleet.

HOUSTON'S CASE IN HIGHER COURT

C. J. V. SPRATT GIVES EVIDENCE FOR DEFENCE

Prosecution Closes and Magistrate Holds There is Sufficient to Commit Accused

At the preliminary hearing of the charges of receiving stolen navy stores preferred against C. J. V. Spratt, director, and Wm. Houston, former of the Victoria Machinery depot, continued in the police court this morning, the prosecution concluded the calling of evidence.

W. J. Taylor, K. C., for Spratt, and Stuart Henderson, for Houston, made addresses asking for a dismissal on the ground that no evidence that the goods were stolen was produced.

J. A. Aikman addressed the court for the prosecution and the magistrate reviewed portion of the evidence and held that there was the evidence of Bullock, which was corroborated by two or three other witnesses, and decided that at that stage he thought there was sufficient evidence on which to send the two accused for trial to a higher court.

Mr. Taylor then intimated he would call evidence on behalf of Spratt, while Mr. Henderson said he would not call evidence for Houston. The latter will go for trial to the higher court, and the evidence on behalf of the other accused is expected, from Mr. Taylor's statement, to be completed this afternoon, when a decision from the magistrate may follow at once or be reserved.

C. J. V. Spratt on his defence, told of interviews with Bullock and maintained that as president of the company he was an investor, and during September, when Bullock said he had informed witness of what was going on, witness was out of the city most of the month. His duties at the works consisted of signing cheques and attending to obtaining contracts and the expenditure of large sums of money only.

When the prosecution continued this morning Commander Vivian put in a copy of a letter received from Storekeeper Phillips of the navy yard, saying he had heard from the collector of customs that a seizure of rubber had been made including rubber. He had told the collector of customs that the only rubber sold at navy yard sales was old stuff, while that seized was new.

Commander Vivian, referring to the repairs of the Algerine, said that an invitation to tender was given.

W. J. Taylor, K. C., registered an objection and was told by Mr. Aikman that he was just giving Mr. Taylor information on a matter that he was so interested in yesterday.

Mr. Taylor again objected when Commander Vivian was about to state the amount of the Victoria Machinery depot tender for the Algerine repairs. The tender, said the commander, was for $2,886. He thought it excessive and had the engineer-commander of the Rainbow make an estimate, which was for $1,500.

Frank Adams, ship chandler in Victoria for 26 years, said he knew John Day but had not known him as a ship chandler. This evidence was put in despite objections from W. J. Taylor, K. C., and Stuart Henderson, counsel for the defence, the magistrate holding it might be material to the case. Having examined the goods on exhibit in the court the witness said that years ago ship chandlers used to handle similar rubber but of recent years, for 4 or 5, they have not handled it to any extent except a small piece once in a while. The trade handles red and white lead and zinc but in different kegs from those in court. The candles produced in court were different to those handled by the trade. The rubber in court would be worth $1.25 to $1.75 per pound. That is the price he would have to pay at the factories. He would sell it as a ship chandler for $1.50 to $2.00 per pound.

Mr. Taylor objected to this evidence going in.

Stuart Henderson remarked that the evidence showed Spratt had paid $1.60 per pound and Mr. Pooley corrected him, saying the evidence showed the price paid by the accused had been 60 cents.

To Mr. Henderson witness said he would not consider the rubber in pieces to be worth half as much as sheet rubber intact from the factory.

Mr. Taylor for the accused asked for a dismissal on the ground that there was no evidence of theft, nor any evidence that the class of rubber used in the navy yard was used there exclusively; in fact, said counsel, Mr. Adams had given evidence that similar rubber could be purchased in the open market. He held that no credence could be placed on the evidence of the principal witness for the prosecution. Mr. Taylor held that nothing criminal had been shown against his client Spratt, and there was not a tithe of evidence to show the goods were ever in the possession of the navy yard. It would be monstrous to even commit for trial on such evidence. There was, on the other hand, evidence of a very large sale of naval stores when the Imperial navy withdrew from Esquimaux.

Referring to Bullock, Mr. Taylor said it would be shown he was not only a blackmailer, but a perjurer and a thief. Mr. Spratt was not in charge of the mechanical part of the works, but was a director whose business it was to get business. Mr. Taylor quoted a number of legal authorities and reviewed parts of the evidence, holding that Bullock had written the letter and had been surprised when it was taken from him by Spratt. Bullock, said Mr. Taylor, had filled the customs officers full, stuffed Commander Vivian full, in his attempts to get money and there could be no conclusion but that Bullock had manufactured evidence to get revenge when he failed to extort money. Mr. Taylor offered to get authority to show the magistrate why he should not send Mr. Spratt for trial. He asked for a dismissal.

Stuart Henderson, counsel for William Houston, said even if the charges were true his client's gain must have been infinitesimal. He said there was no evidence of theft or who stole the goods, therefore there could be no case of receiving stolen goods. So far as accused was concerned the case was in the same position as when the information was sworn. The crown had no case at all. The articles are ordinary articles of commerce. They could be easily recognized. Even if the goods were not sold at naval sales they did not know the things had not been sold for 2 or 3 years and they were entitled, when a man offered for sale these things, to buy them. There was nothing to warrant the thought that the goods had not been honestly come by. He referred to the goods obtained by Bullock's evidence as being stolen. He said that if Bullock was telling the truth and had stayed with the corrupt company, he certainly became an accomplice and his evidence had to be treated accordingly. The evidence did not trace where the goods came from. The crown had failed to show that the goods had been stolen. The prosecution could have obtained the company's books had it wanted to. The defendants were managing a large business and it was in their interest that the case should stop as soon as possible. It was a large industry in the city.

"To my mind the evidence is very slight and if your worship thinks there is no prima facie case made out the charge should be dismissed," Mr. Taylor concluded.

J. A. Aikman commented on the fact of the long addresses made by the counsel and referred to the corroboration of Bullock's evidence by Henshaw, Clark, and Hetheridge. He held that the actions of the accused were not those of innocent men; they had been fined $1,000 by the customs. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Henderson interrupted to say that the $1,000 was not a fine but a bond.

Mr. Aikman made a reference to the inability of the prosecution to obtain the books of the company, held that the case had been proved and that Bullock's evidence had been given truthfully despite a bluff of the prosecution, and the trapping and hounding to death by Bullock of the defendants. He held that a strong case had been made out.

The magistrate said accused were not on trial. He had to determine if there was evidence to put them on trial. While Bullock's evidence had been reflected on by the prosecution he (Magistrate Jay) was not in a position to judge Bullock's evidence other than in the light it was given. Bullock had warned the accused that navy goods were coming into the yards. That evidence was supported by Hetheridge and other witnesses, and while there was animus on the part of Bullock it had little to do with the case at present. He was of the opinion that at the present time there was evidence to send the accused for trial.

The magistrate read the statutory warning to both accused, and Mr. Taylor said he would enter on a defence of Spratt, while Mr. Henderson said he had no evidence to offer in regard to Houston at this time. The magistrate decided not to adjudgeate summarily upon the Spratt case.

Mr. Taylor opened the defence by calling C. J. V. Spratt, who said he had not a charge against Bullock and then withdrew it. The charge was stealing canvas. Bullock had gone to Spratt's office and asked him to stop the case, because of the ill-health of his wife. He told Bullock he would consider the matter and on April 8 Bullock started in talking of Day's stuff.

"I did not have a great deal to say to him then. I saw him again after the case was withdrawn. He asked for money. I refused and said he would have to see Day. I saw him after I went to Seattle. He told me he had asked Day for money and could do nothing with him. I told him I would not talk on the street and he came to the office. I told him it was getting on my nerves and to put something in writing. I did not dictate to him. He hesitated to begin the letter because the money was not there. I said 'Let me see what you have written.' I took it into Mr. Savage and refused to give it back. At 4 p. m. Day was there and he was in the office with Bullock alone. Earlier I had called Savage in and I taxed Bullock, who said he had been afraid of losing his job if he had told me all he knew about the goods in the yard. Once after that Bullock telephoned me that it would cost me $1,000. I told him to come to the office. He did not come. I have had no conversation with him since."

Accused denied that Bullock had told him of goods coming into the depot from the navy yard. Nearly all September he was away, from September 3 to about the middle of the month. Until January 15 this year he was pretty well away from Victoria. The depot was an investment of himself and his wife. He had been going there about 11 a. m. and coming up to lunch. He signed cheques but took no active interest in the running of affairs at the yard.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

Portland, Ore., June 20.—Lloyd Light, who claimed authorship of the "Blue Envelope" story which appeared recently in a leading magazine, and other stories, died yesterday in a prison ambulance as he was being taken from the county jail to the hospital. The cause of his death may not be ascertained for some time. A chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach probably will be necessary.

Light has been in considerable trouble since his arrival in Portland a month ago. He was arrested on charges of uttering forged cheques, and was in jail awaiting trial. Yesterday he was found in a semi-conscious condition in his cell and an ambulance was summoned to take him to the hospital. His antecedents have not been satisfactorily traced.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

San Francisco, Cal., June 20.—The thirteenth convention of the International Sunday School Association commenced here to-day. Preliminary to the meeting of the convention and as a pleasant greeting to the delegates, there was a vocal and instrumental concert last evening at the Coliseum. A chorus of 1,000 trained voices was a notable feature of the occasion.

NE TEMERE DECREE.

Winnipeg, June 20.—The Manitoba Methodist conference passed a strong resolution condemning the Ne Temere decree. A committee was appointed to further the establishment of temperance hotels throughout the province.

In Korea, a serviceable umbrella costs about twelve cents. The covering is of oiled paper.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

I'm going to promulgate one of my queer schemes to-day. People who don't like queer schemes are respect fully warned to keep off the premises. Trespassers prosecuted to the full extent of boredom.

The queer scheme is this—the establishment of an introduction bureau in every town and city of any size in the country.

When I was an active newspaper woman I was sent, one hot night, to the weather bureau to get a list of the hottest cities all over the country and sundry other details—you know the kind of hot weather story all papers occasionally print. The full reports from the different cities had not yet come in and while I was waiting for them I conversed with the assistant clerk of the weather, a very pleasant, well-mannered young man.

In the course of the conversation he confided to me that he had come to the city only a few weeks ago and had found it a very homesick place.

Said he, "I'd like to meet someone I could take to the theatre occasionally and things like that. But how's a fellow going to meet them if he doesn't know anybody in the city? Of course, I could pick up a girl on the street any time, or I suppose I could make friends with a telephone girl over the wire, but that isn't the kind of girl I want. I want to meet some nice girls."

Just then the fact that it had been 102 in the shade in Tacoma, which was the last of the bulletins I had been waiting for, arrived, and I had to hurry back to my paper, so I wasn't able to hear any more of the young man's tale of woe.

But with me, along with the bulletins, I took a new born idea—the introduction bureau.

There must be other young men in the big cities all over the country situated as this one was.

There undoubtedly are myriads of young girls in the same position.

Now why can't each city have an introduction bureau, whose purpose should be to bring these young people together and introduce them in a perfectly respectable way?

The bureau could be made up of representatives from all the churches, all the young people's societies, and all the social settlements and similar institutions in the city.

A young person desiring its services would be supposed to bring references from some responsible person in the home town.

These would be presented to the secretary of the introduction bureau. The bureau would then see that the young man or woman was introduced to other young men and women. Furthermore, through the societies represented in it and through parties and entertainments which it could give itself, the bureau would do all possible to see that the strangers had plenty of healthy social life.

This is merely a suggestive outline of the introduction bureau's make-up, duties and scope. If such a bureau were ever really established it would undoubtedly work itself out in its own way.

Now is it really such an absurd and impossible scheme?

Truly, I can't see it so.

PASSING SHOW

Empress-Grand Theatre.

A succession of peals of roaring laughter followed the progress of "Hogan in Society" as shown by George Rolland at the Empress-Grand last night, and the million slang phrases he elaborated rightfully earned for him the title of king of American slang.

Dieck Flower, Mae Mann, and Leslie Paul are necessary to the cast to form the society in which Hogan, who is really a bartender who helps his host home, finds himself. The advent of the stanger into the highly polished family is quite an event, and makes quite a chip thereon before the event is through. Hogan, when once there, makes the best of it, doing all that society should do differently. His stogie often comes too fast to follow. Miss Mann has one song in the act and all four performers will remain prominent Empress-Grand performers this week.

A dashing comedienne in a harem skirt took the breath away temporarily and the harem, as worn by Josephine

Davis, won some friends among both sexes last night. Miss Davis had other frocks, but the harem was the one and only. She sang several songs all very well and nice, but the harem is the one and only. Miss Davis makes a brilliant stage presence all through the act, but the harem is the one and only.

There are two sweet-playing sons of Italy at the Empress-Grand whose real music last night on the violin and guitar charmed a full house. The Olivetti brothers are right from Naples and infuse a lasting sweetness into their melodies. An encore demanded last night had to be repeated.

The work of Josie O'Meers on the straight wire in the air is too good to open the show with. She is from the Parisian theatre Folies Bergeres, with the finished act that won for her the title "Queen of the silver thread," and she will not lack admirers here.

Sandberg and Lee are the responsible parties in an effort at patter and song, a long line of chatter about cheese, and conclude with advice on cooking and Welsh rarebits. Louis Kum now leads the orchestra and offers a high class musical programme, while the moving pictures under the direction of Signor Chitty are all new in Victoria.

At every business marriage, the couple, in the presence of a number of witnesses, are obliged to eat out of the same bowl; this is the only binding portion of the wedding ceremony.

William F. Carson, a writer on Mexico, is at present a visitor to Victoria. Mr. Carson has spent several years in Mexico, and knows it thoroughly. In his last book, "Mexico, the Woodcock of the South," which the Woodcock Press has just published, he has drawn a fascinating and exceedingly accurate non-fiction picture of that great country and its people. Many photographs which Mr. Carson took add value to the book.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Huv have just returned from a combined business and pleasure trip to the Kootenay district, and report excellent conditions for fruit, especially on the Arrow lakes, and facilities for hunting and fishing unsurpassed. They travelled east as far as Cranbrook and attended some of the sessions of the grand lodge and Rebekah assembly, which were most interesting. The hospitality of the Cranbrook citizens was greatly appreciated by the visiting Odd Fellows. The representatives from the Victoria lodge are expected home this afternoon.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

BURNS COAL OR WOOD

The Sunshine is a good, "all round" furnace. Burns, with equal facility, either coal or wood. Coke, too, if you prefer it.

And so perfect is the combustion of the Sunshine that it extracts every unit of heat from the fuel.

What's left in the ash-pan is not worth sifting.

Sunshine consumes less fuel, too. Because its perfect system of dampers prevent the escape of the hot air up the chimney—compels it to come out through the registers.

You pay for heating the inside—not the outside—of your house when you buy the Sunshine.

CONVICT ESCAPES

Man Serving Two Years For Forgery Eludes Guards At New Westminster Penitentiary.

New Westminster, June 20.—By some means, as yet unascertained, a convict named McCoy, succeeded in eluding the guards at the penitentiary yesterday and escaped. McCoy was undergoing a sentence of two years' imprisonment for forgery. He was sentenced last November by Judge Howay in the county court. He is a young man described as 5 feet 10 inches in height, of foxy build and weighing about 150 pounds, with light brown hair and blue eyes.

Searching parties were out all night, but without discovering the fugitive. Unless he is traced and captured shortly Warden Brown will call in his men as the absence of so many of his garrison dislocates the prison routine and discipline.

There are 286 convicts in the prison at present. The methods employed by McCoy to obtain freedom have not yet been investigated by the warden, but it is chanced that seven new convicts were received by the prison authorities yesterday at noon and the wardens were exceptionally busy preparing the cells for their reception. Otherwise McCoy would have been missed in a few minutes. McCoy was employed as a wing orderly in the prison building, cleaning up, etc., and he must have managed in some way, it is conjectured, to conceal duties carrying buckets of waste to and from the prison to the inner yard. Then when the guards came off the stands at noon he slipped quietly away. But the escape is mainly attributed to haste attendant to the reception of the seven new convicts.

Chester was probably the first place in England where horse racing was established, as in 1650 the mayor of that city offered a prize for such a contest.

Motorists Bunt a Ball With Their Cars in Game at Los Angeles

Conservative Opens Tour of West—Attacks the Re- ciprocity Pact

Tan-To is a new automobile game which has been perfected by Willis Lord Moore of Los Angeles, and which promises to take the motorists by storm.

Winnipeg, June 20.—R. L. Borden, leader of the opposition in the Dominion parliament, opened his tour of western Canada here last night. He said:

Tan-To is played between two teams each having the same number of automobile drivers and players. All plays are made from a racing auto. There is a chance to make this one of the most thrilling of sports and a game in which every automobile man will be eager to take part.

"We firmly oppose the reciprocity agreement because we believe that if carried to its logical conclusion it will lead to commercial union, and commercial union will inevitably end in political absorption. President Taft has repeatedly referred to this agreement as a 'commercial union.' In its present form it is not absolute union, but as the president has shrewdly observed, it means nothing less. No one questions the loyalty of the Canadian people; no one questions their devotion to Canada and the Empire, but that man is blind or foolish who cannot realize the meaning of the proposals. What said Edward Blake in 1891? 'I believe that commercial union can only come as an incident or at least a well

On a course 1,500 feet long as at Ascot park, where the game is to be demonstrated, an opportunity is given to watch the cars in action. From the grand stand the start and the finish can be seen and the men bunting and putting the big ball about the field should make a spectacular scene as the motor cars are being stopped and started on the strenuous fight for the goals.

John Drew in "Smith," in which John Drew will appear at the Victoria theatre on Friday, June 23, is the fifth of W. Somerset Maugham's plays to be presented in this country. Those already seen here are "Lady Frederick," "Jack Straw" in which Mr. Drew appeared; "Mrs. Dot" being presented with Billie Burke, and "Foolscap" which was presented by Marie Tempest both in America and in England. When the game was first proposed prominent automobile men were asked their opinions regarding the sport. They pronounced it practical.

tor, with Miss Barrymore and Mr. Drew respectively.

Now that automobiles have become practical enough to be used on the most strenuous of tests, Tan-To seems to be a game that will fill a much-needed want, and which will supply the necessary vim for those who have nothing to do but drive at terrific speed over the streets.

When the play is started the cars and the driver are subject to penalty unless the rules are carefully followed. The machines are hooked up in a tussle the second after the ball is tossed into play, and are kept everlastingly at it until the finish of the contest, when the team that is victorious has a chance to foot the horns of the machine and drive in triumph over the field where the battle so recently claimed the attention of thousands.

The annual Pythian Decoration Day services were held by the joint lodges of the Knights of Pythias on Sunday and the occasion brought out the largest attendance of members seen in many years.

Headed by the City band the Knights paraded to Ross Bay cemetery, where Rev. A. E. Roberts gave an address on Pythianism, after which a short and simple Pythian service was read by Chancellor-Commander J. M. Hammond and Vice-Chancellor A. J. Mansell of Court Far West No. 1; and Chancellor-Commander J. Mansell and Vice-Chancellor E. P. Nathan, of Victoria lodge, No. 17.

On the conclusion of the services the members visited the graves of their departed brethren and laid upon them many beautiful flowers. They then formed up again in the cemetery square, where the final rites were conducted, during which the band rendered two sacred selections.

Does Art Pay?

Albert Chevalier's tour of Western Canada is limited to four weeks. At the end of that period he will be able to deposit in the bank as salary earned twelve thousand dollars; that is, unless he invests in Canadian real estate, and as Chevalier, in addition to being a great artist, is said to be a shrewd business man, this contingency is not unlikely. In 1909 Chevalier made a twenty-eight weeks' tour of the United States for which he received $2,000 per week. This tour gained additional interest from the fact that Harry Lauder was also touring the same territory and the two artists were frequently pitted against each other. In Chicago they played for two weeks at rival theatres and honors were said to be even, each star packing the house to its capacity.

At the close of his tour in "Buddy Duford" this spring, Chevalier was offered an eight weeks' vaudeville tour at $2,500 weekly, which he accepted. Manager Frederic Shipman came along and offered the same amount for a four weeks' trip through Western Canada, but Chevalier had his mind on England and home and wanted to postpone the tour till fall. Then the offer was raised to $3,000 weekly, and although England in May was a potent argument towards refusal yet the age-old business instinct prevailed and Chevalier is coming.

His organization will be the highest priced company, with the exception of Melba, that has ever toured Canada. In addition to Chevalier, there will be three other artists, Edna Rånche Showalter, the leading prima donna with Henry W. Savage next season; Myron W. Whitney, the basso, who has toured with Mme. Nordica for the past two years; and John Holliday, an English pianist. The date for Chevalier's appearance here is Thursday and Saturday, June 22 and 23—a special and very appropriate coronation attraction.

John Drew in "Smith," in which John Drew will appear at the Victoria theatre on Friday, June 23, is the fifth of W. Somerset Maugham's plays to be presented in this country. "The Revivification of Aunt Mary" Once more there comes to the Victoria theatre on Tuesday, June 27, in the role of Aunt Mary, Miss Robson. May Robson, the comedienne, whose success at Terry's theatre, London, was immediate, won unstinted praise from press and public. Her character impersonation is the development of a keen sense of humor allied with the art of acting, sinking her own personality in the stage creation of Aunt Mary. Her unctuous delivery and easy, reserved repose, are never intrusive. Moreover, she rejuvenates gradually as the story of the play develops, and becomes brighter and more youthful.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

Love clings to imperfections, as an ivy fastens upon the scars and bumps of a wall. We do not love people because they are good or beautiful or strong. It is when they fall in these perfections that love rises, as at a challenge, and passionately asserts itself. A mother loves a wayward child with a bellflower intensity; the women who have been famous in history for their triumphs over the hearts of men have been rather plain, they were not faultless pictures, at least, so tradition has it concerning Cleopatra, Ninon de L'Enclos and Aspasia; and the wife of a good-for-nothing scamp or a brutal tyrant often displays a titerish affection which a decent man can hardly hope to enjoy from his spouse.

The fact seems to be that love, in its intensest manifestations, is much mixed with the passion of self-sacrifice. A man never loves his country so much as when he can suffer and die for it. The wildest, maddest type of emotion toward a woman is frequently found when that woman is frequently found when that woman is wholly unworthy of affection. Carmen and Sappho drive men crazy.

Perhaps, therefore, in love, as in all good things, excess is dangerous. Possibly also the highest and most desirable type of woman is such as retains a touch of virgin snow beneath her summer moods, such as remains forever not wholly conquered, such as can melt enough to move man, but have reserves enough to baffle him; in other words, the best woman to love is the kind that keeps you guessing.

LAURIER REPLIES ON TOAST TO CANADA

Would Cherish British Institutions as "The Apple of One's Eye"

Lord Strathcona presided at the Canada Club dinner given on May 31, in London.

In proposing the toast of "The Dominion of Canada," coupled with the name of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the president referred to the services rendered by the Canadian Club, which was now one of the oldest clubs in London, and which had done its part well towards advancing the general interests of the whole of the Empire. They had in Earl Grey a worthy representative of our sovereign, and one who had done splendid work in behalf of Canada; and while many distinguished men had filled the position of governor-general, none had done more important service for the Dominion than Lord Grey (applause). There was no portion of the Empire that was more devoted to the throne than Canada, and the Duke of Connaught would be assured of a warm welcome there (applause).

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in responding, paid a tribute to Lord Strathcona, whom they were proud to regard as the "Grand Old Man" of Canada (cheers). Canadians could never repay sufficiently the debt they owed to him for the services he had rendered to the Dominion. As to the Canada Club, it was gratifying to remind them that it was not an institution of yesterday, or even of the last century, but dated back to the eighteenth century, when Canada, although it loomed large on the map, was a negligible factor in the eyes of the world. It was a mistake to say that Canada was discovered in 1534, because it was only really discovered about ten or twelve years ago. Up till that time, it had been overshadowed by its Republican neighbor, but suddenly the mist lifted, and the world beheld in the western sky the splendid constellation of Canada (cheers). Canada was not perhaps a land of perpetual sunshine—in fact it was a hard land, and a land for hardy men. They did not want any men in Canada except those willing to work with brain and brawn, and such men were sure of ample success. It was not too much to say that at the present time there was no part of the earth's surface where labor was surer of reward than the Dominion of Canada.

They could not, however, promise they would all be Strathconas or Mount Stephens or Mackenzies, but they could offer, in the first place, to the mariners coming to Canada, the British institutions which had been made in these islands. Perfection was not of this world, as they knew, yet they thought that British institutions were the most perfect that had ever been devised by man for the government of men, and those institutions Canadians cherished as "the apple of their eye," and from those they would not part for any consideration whatsoever (cheers). The various resources of the country, in addition to 150 acres of land, were offered to the settler, and, with reasonable exertion, he was assured of a competency for himself, his wife, and family. In short, he desired to say that they claimed that Canada was a land of sunshine and snow, a land of freedom and loyalty, the pride of the twentieth century, and the most magnificent gem in the British crown (cheers). When Lord Grey ceased shortly to be governor-general, and was succeeded by the Duke of Connaught, they would say in the words of the old monarch of France—"The King is dead! Long live the King!" (applause).

BAPTISTS IN CONVENTION.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20.—Nearly every nation in which a Baptist can be found is represented in the Baptist World Alliance which opened its convention here yesterday. The meeting is expected to be one of the greatest ever held by the Baptists. The alliance was organized in London five years ago and was created for the purpose of promoting the spirit of fellowship, service and co-operation among the churches of the denomination all over the world. Prior to the meeting of the alliance the general convention of Baptists of North America, representing the entire United States and Canada, held a single session. The alliance was called to order by Rev. John Clifford, of London.

RUSSIAN MINISTERS RESIGN.

Changes Are Being Made Among Representatives Abroad.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—In addition to the resignation of J. J. Kovalevich, who resigned his post as Russian minister to China, because of his failure to grasp the purport of the foreign office's policy in the Far East, it is now expected that M. Malvesky Malavitch, ambassador at Tokio, and Baklanov, minister at Teheran, will leave their posts. It is probable that the former and Baron Rosen, Russian ambassador at Washington, will be given seats in the council of cabinet. It is likely that M. Von Klemm, the present head of the middle eastern department of the foreign office, will be sent to Teheran, and Michael De Giers, now at Bucharest, to Tokio.

CUSTOMS FRAUDS.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Frauds amounting to several million dollars in duties on importations of cutlery during the last few years have been discovered by secret agents of the customs service who have been working in this country and in the Solingen district of Germany, whence most of the imports come to the United States.

When the occupants of a cell in the prison of Taganrog paid no attention to the order of a sentry to stop singing, the sentry fired through the window, killing a prisoner on the spot.

"MY BACK IS KILLING ME"

'FRUIT-A-TIVES' WILL CURE

Backache means congestion of the kidneys. Pull ache in the back—sharp, shooting pains—headache and nervousness—mean that the kidneys are overworked. The bowels are constipated and the skin is inactive, so that the kidneys are compelled to do the work of both bowels and skin in throwing off the waste of the body. The kidneys thus become irritated and, inflamed and backache results. The only possible way to relieve the congestion and cure the pain is to force the bowels and skin to do their share of the work.

"Fruit-a-tives," the great fruit medicine, is the best and most scientific kidney remedy in the world.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Pain in the Back and Kidney Trouble. 50c. box, 4 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. Dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ASSEMBLY MAKES RECOMMENDATION

Social and Industrial Questions Referred to Churches for Instruction

The importance of the church taking a very live interest in social and industrial matters was emphasized at the meetings of the Presbyterian General Assembly at Ottawa. After a comprehensive review of conditions all over Canada, the board of evangelism, temperance, social and moral reform made the following recommendations:

"That the General Assembly hereby urge the ministers of the church to inform themselves carefully regarding the conditions of human life in their own neighborhoods, particularly as these are affected by the conditions of industry; to acquaint their congregations with these facts; to instruct their congregations in the teachings of the gospel regarding social service; to co-operate in every effort for the attainment of the ends for which the church has declared itself.

"That the General Assembly hereby request all who have charge of schools and colleges to make ample provision or instructions regarding the Christian ideal of society; and further, that they direct the governing bodies and faculties of theological colleges to provide that the students in their care be taught the social principles of the gospel, and trained in methods of applying these principles to the needs of the localities in which they shall be called to minister.

"That the Central Assembly hereby urge all the members of churches to give serious study of social problems, and to avail themselves of their opportunities for social service; to bring the sense of justice and righteousness which is fundamental in Christianity to bear upon matters of every day life, in business, in society, or wherever their influence may extend, and to create a Christian public sentiment, demanding the removal of wrong wherever found."

The report covered a wide scope, including efforts along the line of evangelism, Sabbath observance, temperance, gambling, the social evil, suppression of the white slave trade, rescue of its victims, immoral books, obscene pictures and literature, recreation and amusement, the study and improvement of industrial conditions, etc.

On the question of gambling the statement is made that it is indulged in by many church members. Another statement is that the compulsory legislation on gambling has been found to have many imperfections in its operation.

Social conditions in the province of Quebec and particularly in the city of Hull, came in for strong condemnation. In the redemptive work of the department the recommendation is made that there should be a prison farm in every province. The marriage law and the No. Tenure decree are also touched on.

The new laws regulating obscene books and pictures and the sale of opium and habit-forming drugs is dealt with at length and the new regulations set forth in a summarized form. The problem of the city and industrial conditions is covered in an exhaustive manner. As regards picture shows in the city amusements, the

LLOYD GEORGE AND BOTHAS ON LIBERTY

Speeches at Eighty Club Dinner by Chancellor and Premiers

The London Chronicle publishes in full the report of the speeches at the Eighty Club dinner held on May 28.

Mr. Lloyd George, in proposing the toast of the guests, said: We are gathered to welcome the Prime Ministers of the great self-governing Dominions of the British Empire, not merely for the great distinction of their careers, but also for the positions which they hold, and for the great peoples they represent. (Cheers.) This is not a party demonstration. (Hear, hear.) None the less, it is a demonstration by a party, of welcome. We are sometimes apprehensive that certain words used in the heat of Parliamentary conflict in this country and cabled across the seas by agencies which are none to friends to a Liberal Ministry, should mislead our brethren across the seas as to the real warmth of affection with which Liberalism regards the free communities which are their brethren. (Cheers.)

We represent at the present moment more than half the people of these islands. It would be a real misfortune if any misunderstandings of that kind should arise. We regard the self-governing Dominions with special pride, and the conferring of self-government upon these great communities as the greatest of all the achievements of Liberalism. (Hear, hear.) Our great statesmen in the past have faced obloquy, and have dared even political ruin to confer freedom on these communities. And we see with pride how they have grown in strength, in influence, in power, and above all, in the arts of self-government. They have added to the store of experience upon which humanity can draw in the settlement of its great problems.

As a party, we feel that we can share in the vindication of democratic policy which they present to the civilized world. We also observe with a glow of satisfaction how, as they assume the attitude of independent communities, their attachment to the Mother-Country grows generation by generation, decade by decade, conference by conference, and year by year. It flourishes, it has borne fruit, it will bear fruit in after years, for it has struck its roots deep down in the rich soil of liberty.

We study and watch with care, with admiration, and with a spirit of emulation their bold social experiments. It is an inspiration to us to see, the darling, the spirit of enthusiasm, the patient courage which have transformed many a wilderness into a fruitful province. Their inspiring efforts are exciting the human mind from the undergrowth of the jungle in which it is tangled. In this land the growth is denser, the fibre is tougher. It is rank, and it is with difficulty, with labour, with toil that we can cleave our way through it. But we are doing it slowly and laboriously, for humanity to march to the light. (Cheers.)

This is an old country—but it is not done with yet. (Loud cheers.) The trade returns, the census, and even the living issues we are fighting on the floor of the Mother of Parliaments—all these prove that this country has not yet come to the end of its great career. There are still chapters to be written which will thrill with nobler deeds than have yet been recorded. The country which has founded the greatest Empire, has also rid itself of the social evils which undermine its strength and dim its lustre. The old country is not done. (Cheers.) But if we are not at the greatness of Britain, these new dominions are only at the beginning of their greatness. The Prime Ministers whom we have honored to-day, and whom we welcome with such pleasure, now represent their millions. The day is not distant when they, or their successors, will come to the old country to represent their scores of millions. They have a great and unlimited future before them.

They may outgrow Britain, they will outgrow Britain in strength, population, power, position, but they will never outgrow their affection for the old country. There are shrines in Britain they can never forget. It is the land of Shakespeare and Milton and Burns. It is the land where generations of men and women dared death to fight for freedom of the soul. And however they may grow, these things will draw them to the old country with the increasing affection, and we shall one day be indeed one people, one in purpose, one in ideals, and one in devotion to the service of God and man. (Loud cheers.)

Sir Joseph Ward and Mr. Andrew Fisher replied.

General Louis Botha, who was given a most enthusiastic greeting, said: I do not want to express one word of deep regret that my friend Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is not alive to-day to see the fruit of his great policy. (Cheers.) His policy was not only a policy of far-seeing statesmanship; it was a policy of healing wounds—it was a policy of unity. (Cheers.) I say that the policy that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman carried out in South Africa stands far above that of any other statesman of this country.

And if I may say anything more, especially on behalf of the Dutch-speaking race of South Africa, it will be that they are the descendants of a people who loved liberty. And because they have liberty, the British people can entirely rely upon their loyalty. In the past, the two white races of South Africa have continually fought against each other. But we agreed that discord and we have now never come again. (Cheers.) And I receive as much support and as much co-operation from a large section of the English-speaking race as I do from a large section of the Dutch. If my friend Sir Leander Jameson had been here he would have borne out what I say. From him personally, and from those whom he leads, I have received the most valuable assistance in banishing racialism. (Cheers.)

Now, in South Africa, although at present we have only a small population, take up the attitude that we need not stand back from the work of building up the Empire. We only ask for time, and that we should be left alone, and then we shall show you what wonders we can do in that part of the Empire. I feel confident that as long as the British people follow a policy of confidence in their various Dominions, and allow them to govern themselves, so long will the Empire continue to grow in strength. The fruits of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's policy will remain for ever, and will continuously bring South Africa closer to the Mother Country, and my last word is to offer the hand of

PROVINCIAL W. C. T. U. GRAIN GROWERS CONVENTION OPENS FAVOR RECIPROCITY

This Morning's Session Taken Up With Reading Reports on Work Done

The twenty-eighth annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of British Columbia opened this morning at the Congregational church, with a consecrated service conducted by Mrs. Lashley Hall. At 10:30 the convention was called to order and the business of the session commenced. After the roll call the president, Mrs. Spofford, announced that Miss Evans, recording secretary, was unable to attend. Mrs. Graves will act in that capacity.

The report of the provincial executive, which met last evening, was adopted, and the reports of superintendents of the various departments were called for. Mrs. Lashley Hall, superintendent of the evangelistic department, gave an interesting account of the work done on the spiritual side of the Union's work. Mrs. Cunningham read the report sent in by Mrs. Warwick on the work done among sailors, lumbermen and miners. Mrs. Cunningham suggested that bundles of the daily papers would be much appreciated by the men, who are cut off from the outside world completely. Two reports of work among sailors and railroad employees were passed over owing to the absence of the superintendents responsible for them.

Important results are being attained by the conduct of fairs and exhibitions, which Mrs. Elliott is superintending. In New Westminster, the fair authorities have abolished gambling and horse racing. In Victoria gambling games are no longer permitted on the fair grounds. In Vancouver and Kamloops no intoxicants were sold at the last exhibitions. In Chilliwack and Kelowna the same conditions hold.

Mrs. Finch, Vancouver, suggested that while it was encouraging to hear this excellent report in regard to the sale of intoxicants, a question the department might take up was that of reforming the sideshows that are in attendance at nearly all fairs. Some of these, she said, were very low in character and did a lot of harm.

The following committees, appointed last night by the executive were approved: Plan of work, Mrs. Livingstone and Mrs. T. F. Watson. Resolutions, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. S. E. Beekle and Mrs. G. H. Smith. Credentials, Mrs. Gordon Grant, Mrs. Laing and Mrs. Dr. Gillespie. Courtesy, Mrs. Bromley-Jubb and Mrs. Williscroft. The credentials committee reported 150 delegates present.

The Congregational church, where Union is convening is beautifully decorated with flags and flowers. This evening the Rev. Dr. Matthews, of Seattle, will address a mass meeting at the Victoria theatre, taking as his subject, "Good Citizenship," commencing at 8:45. A concert by the Fifth band and Rainbow sailors begins at 8.

MR. DENISON'S RESEARCHES

Goes to Ottawa and Later to England on Scientific Mission.

F. Napier Denison, of the Victoria meteorological office, and Mrs. Denison, leave to-morrow for the East. Mr. Denison has been granted leave of absence in order that he may have an opportunity to lay the results of his investigations into the connection between earth tremors and colliery explosions. He will first lay his data before his chief, R. F. Stupart, Toronto, director of the Meteorological Service of Canada, and then go on to Ottawa and Montreal.

On reaching England he will spend a week at Cambridge with Sir George Darwin, who has taken a keen interest in his work in seismology during the past two years. Later he will read a paper on his special research work before the International Convention of Seismologists at Manchester. In London he will present his data on colliery explosions and earthquakes before a committee of mining men, and he will read a paper before the Royal Meteorological Society, of which he is a fellow.

PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

A. Newton, who acted as attorney for Crippen, found guilty by Law Society.

London, June 20.—Arthur Newton, the attorney for Dr. Hawley K. Crippen, who was hanged for the murder of his American wife, the actress, Belle Elmore, has been found guilty of professional misconduct in connection with the notorious case, by a committee of the Law Society, and to-day the division court was asked to "deal with him." This constitutes a request that Newton's name be stricken from the roll of solicitors of the Law Society. The court adjourned without announcing a decision.

It is charged that Newton aided the Daily Chronicle and Horatio W. Bottomly, members of parliament for the south division of Hackney and editor of a weekly paper, to publish false statements regarding the case.

Resolution to Be Presented to R. L. Borden—Increase in Preference Asked

Brandon, Man., June 20.—Probably the most important resolution to be presented here by the Manitoba Grain Growers to R. L. Borden this afternoon will be that dealing with reciprocity and the British preference. Its spokesman will be J. W. Scallion, of Virden, Man., hon. president of the Grain Growers, and it will strongly advocate reciprocity, the argument following the line that the United States is rapidly losing its status as an exporting country of agricultural products; that shortly it must import foodstuffs; that the British market is not sufficient to absorb the Canadian export surplus, and that the new market south is necessary to the prosperity of agricultural western Canada.

Coupled with this is the request of a pledge from Mr. Borden that the British preference be increased to 50 per cent on his being returned to power, to be increased from year to year until absolute free trade prevails between Canada and the Mother Country.

The delegation is expected to meet Mr. Borden about 5 o'clock this afternoon and great interest is being taken in the nature of his reply.

Imperfect Kidney Action Causes Rheumatism

Rheumatism with its kindred ailments—Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc., usually results from lodgments of uric acid in the joints and muscles.

Now the chief function of the kidneys is to properly filter this poison from the blood.

Only when they fail to do this is Rheumatism probable.

Kidney weakness starts in various ways. A sudden chill, after perspiring freely, sometimes settles in the kidneys or an unusual strain may cause it.

Poisons which should be filtered out of the system are pumped back into the blood, causing Uric Acid, the real cause of Rheumatism, Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc.

In the early stages Nyal's Stone Root Compound will stop it.

Will start your kidneys working properly so that the Uric Acid is reabsorbed and eliminated.

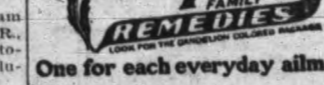

Always goes your Rheumatism with it. Perhaps these early warning twinges have passed unheeded, and your Rheumatism has become deep seated.

Muscles all started up in knots as it were.

Then you'll need Nyal's Rheumatic Cure.

Ask your own druggist about these remedies.

His opinion is worth while. Sold and guaranteed by D. E. Campbell, John Cochrane, Dean & Hiscocks, F. W. Fawcett, Messrs. Hall & Co., W. Jackson & Co., F. J. Williams, Victoria.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS

Association Formed By the Local Insurance Agents.

At an enthusiastic meeting convened last night by Mr. A. B. Fraser to meet Mr. William McBride, the president of the Dominion Life Underwriters' Association at the Sir William Wallace hall, it was decided to form a branch in Victoria, and the following gentlemen were elected officers: President, James Forman, of the Canada Life; vice-president, R. L. Drury, of the Mutual Life of Canada; secretary-treasurer, G. L. Wright, of the Royal Insurance Company, with a committee consisting of: A. E. Coutar, of the Metropolitan Life; Arthur Lee, of the North American Life, and J. S. Sargent, of the Great West Life. Arthur Wheeler, Jr., of the Great West Life, was elected to represent the association at the convention to be held in Winnipeg in July.

This is the first official gathering of life underwriters ever held in Victoria, but from the enthusiastic manner in which those present listened to the very interesting and able address of Mr. McBride it is to be expected that the Victoria Life Underwriters' Association will become a strong branch of the Dominion Association, which already during its five years life has done so much for policy holders and the life insurance world in general.

The following gentlemen were present and subscribed their names on the roll: Arthur Wheeler, Jr., Great West Life Assurance Co.; Arthur E. Coutar, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.; A. J. Fraser and Arthur Lee, North American Life; Fred M. McGregor, Mutual Life; John F. Belben, North American Life; W. J. Sargent, Great West Life; Jas. Forman, Canada Life; A. R. Sherwood, Imperial Life Assurance Co.; Jas. Willott, E. C. Life; R. L. Drury, Mutual Life of Canada; G. L. Wright, Royal Insurance Co.; J. R. Shearer, Standard Life Assurance Co.

FRASER MAY SOON BEGIN TO FALL

Flats In Number of Places Now Under Water, but No Serious Damage Done

New Westminster, June 20.—The warm weather of the past two weeks has resulted in a decided rise of the water in the Fraser river, and it now registers at a higher mark than ever before this year. The Dominion government gauge at Mission City showed the water to be 19 feet above low water mark yesterday and 16 feet 3 inches above at New Westminster. This is the highest the water has been this year, and from indications it is believed that it has reached its maximum for the present.

Reports from along the river indicate that the flats in some places are flooded. This is particularly true at Sumas Prairie, where there are no proper dykes. At the Fraser river mills the water is high, but it will take two feet more here before the mill will have to close down, and that means a rise of six or seven feet at Mission. On the flats opposite New Westminster a part of the land is flooded, but no damage has been done. With the water as at present, 19 feet above the low water mark at Mission, it is still 6 feet 3 inches below the height attained in 1894. On Monday the gauge in this city showed the water to be 16 feet 9 inches above low water mark, while in 1894 it was 19.47 feet. At Mission 25 feet 4 inches is the record established for high water. In that famous year, in 1882 it went up to 24 feet; in 1876 to 33 feet 9 inches; in 1903 to 22 feet 6 inches, and in 1908 to 20 feet.

This shows that the present condition of the river, while not yet serious, is still considered pretty high water. The rise has practically all been in the past week. On June 12 the water rose 4 inches; on June 13, 1 foot 5 inches; on June 14, 1 foot 1 inch; on June 15, 9 inches; on June 16, 8 inches; on June 17, 7 inches; on June 18, 6 inches, and on June 19, 1 inch.

It is believed that the snow is now pretty well melted in the mountains, and that danger from any serious flow has passed. The weather of the last few days has been cooler, especially at night, and this should result in the river beginning to lower.

PREMIERS ENTERTAINED

London, June 20.—The overseas premiers lunched at the National Liberal Club to-day. Lord Haldane said such a spirit of confidence had been shown in the Imperial conference as never before. They ought to develop that habit until it becomes a constitutional usage.

—Mrs. W. West Wilson, 43 Quebec street, will not receive Wednesday, Nov. 21, nor again until October.

—Mr. William Saunders Hynes and Miss Jessie M. L. Todd, Vancouver, were united in matrimony yesterday at the Metropolitan Methodist parsonage by Rev. T. E. Holling.

—Robert Murray was this afternoon committed for trial on a charge of bigamy. Rev. Dr. Matthews, Seattle, swore to marrying one Robert Murray and Catherine Cluett in November, 1907, but he could not identify Murray.

—The Appeal Court to-day decided in favor of D. Roy in the case brought against him by the B. C. Electric railway for alleged obstruction of traffic. Mr. Roy was moving one of the houses on Superior street off of Parliament square and caused some delay to the tramway.

—The annual competition for the trophy, emblematic of the highest moral honors amongst the schools of the city, which was won by the North Ward school last year, is being held to-day. J. G. Brown and Gideon Hicks, the examiners and judges, visited several of the schools this morning awarding points according to the quality and technique shown by the voices.

CITY COUNCIL IS NOW ON EASY STREET

Congestion of Opening Business Now Practically Over—Forthcoming By-laws

The rush of civic business, occasioned by the setback given the city council by the action of B. J. Perry which resulted in the dissolution and re-election of council, is now about over and the mayor and aldermen have settled down to the routine business of the year. For the first time in any week since the investiture of the municipal body this year only one meeting will be held this week.

When the council adjourned on Friday night at a late hour, after transacting some important business, it was generally understood that the statutory meeting of Monday would take place. Mayor Morley suggested in the course of one of the discussions that it might not be necessary to hold two meetings this week but no definite announcement was made in regard to calling one off. Of course any meeting of the council requires to be "posted" on the bulletin-board for twenty-four hours before the scheduled time of the meeting, and as there was no such notice on the board yesterday the vacation was welcomed by the aldermen who, up to the present, have certainly had a rather strenuous time of it.

The next meeting of council will be held on Friday night, when it is expected that some definite action will be taken in regard to the harbor project. In this connection it is probable that another conference with the promoters will be held, or that a committee will be appointed to meet with them, with a possible view to modifying the requests of the company and safeguarding the interests of the citizens.

Having now secured the necessary monetary security, through the public-spirited action of Mr. Justice Martin, for the reviving of the parks and library by-laws, which were defeated at the by-election, the polling date will be fixed shortly. The parks appropriation calls for the sum of $210,000 and the library by-law provides for $10,000 this year and the fixing of the maximum appropriation for any year at $25,000.

A certain handicap under which these resuscitated by-laws are laboring is that they will have to be dealt with after the by-law calling for $100,000 for the sea wall to protect the cemetery and foreshore at Ross ay, and also the by-law calling for $50,000 for the purpose of completing the electric lighting system of the city. The date has already been fixed for the fate of the latter two. The voting will take place on the 29th inst. in the market building as usual.

In regard to the passing of the sea wall by-law there is a feeling of pessimism, which, however, may prove unwarranted. An attempt was made in council to have this year's appropriation reduced to exactly the cost of the work that could be undertaken this year. Failing that, however, the entire appropriation will be voted upon. Another by-law which will be submitted to the people on the same date is that authorizing the sale of city property, consisting of a pipe yard at Spring Ridge. It is intended, should this by-law pass, to devote the proceeds of the sale toward the expropriation of the Potter property on Chambers street, over which there has been so much debate.

LAUNCH BURNED TO WATER'S EDGE

Seven Men Have Narrow Escape When Flames Destroy Boat at Tacoma

Tacoma, Wash., June 20.—Seven persons had a narrow escape from death by fire or water Sunday afternoon when the launch Northside burst suddenly into flame and burned to the water's edge.

Tom Annand, owner of the boat, and the engineer, Charles Thompson, stuck to the burning craft until five passengers, all men, had jumped overboard with life preservers on and were picked up by passing rowboats. Both Annand and Thompson swam half a mile to shore.

Hundreds of persons at the Point Defiance pavilion witnessed the burning of the craft, which was valued at $2,100 and is a total loss.

MODERN MIRACLES.

A modern parallel to Moses' miracle of old was furnished in the stopping of the flow of the Chicago river while the twin tube for the La Salle street tunnel of the Chicago Street Railway system was being sunk into place. This precaution was necessary as the enormous tube, which is 275 feet long and forty-one feet in width, would otherwise have dammed up the river, probably resulting in a displacement of the tunnel and serious damage to the bridges and shipping of Chicago's busy waterway.

Each of the tubes forms three-quarters of a cylinder of circular section, twenty-four feet in diameter. Within the tubes there is a reinforced concrete lining varying from twenty to forty inches thick, while the middle trench for the tunnel was made by dredging. The flow of the Chicago river was stopped temporarily by closing the locks at Lockport while the tube was being towed to its site and sunk into position.

I have grown to believe that the one thing worth aiming at is simplicity of heart and life; that the world is a very beautiful place; that congenial labor is the secret of happiness.—A. F. Benson.

REV. NORMAN PLASS PAYS HIS FINE

Fined $2,500 After Having Pledged Guilty to Using Mails in Scheme to Defraud

Boston, Mass., June 20.—A roll of $5,000 in bills was thrown down in front of the counsel for Rev. Norman Plass, former president, and Charles H. Brooks, general manager, of the Redeemable Investment Company, in the United States district court yesterday, when fines of $2,500 were imposed upon the two officers, who pleaded guilty last week to using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

After the money had been turned over to the clerk the two defendants walked out of the court.

John I. Trappagen, assistant treasurer, will be sentenced next week. Mr. Plass was at one time president of Washburn college, Topeka, Kas., and was engaged in selling investment stocks in Providence before he came to this city.

CARRIE NATION'S WILL.

The will of Mrs. Carrie Nation, the famous saloon smasher, of Kansas, was filed for probate at Washington, D. C. It named Mr. Henry D. Gordon, an attorney of this city, as executor, and provided for the distribution of her estate among her relatives and the Carrie A. Nation National Home for Drunkards at Kansas City, Kan.

Mrs. Nation in the will declared herself as a resident of Washington, which is due to the fact that Don A. Sanford, a real estate man, several years ago gave her for a term of five years a house in D street, Northwest, as a residence. Harley F. Kendall, of Worcester, Mass., and Elias A. Barakat, of Washington, are the witnesses to the will.

Mrs. Nation declared first and principally "I commit my soul to the hands of Almighty God and my body to the earth, to be decently buried at the discretion of my executor."

She named Belton, Mo., as her burial place. She bequeathed $69 a month to Charles A. McNabb, her only child, on condition that she be not confined in an insane asylum. The will was dated in 1907.
