HALF BILLION CUT IN INCOME LEVIES

NEXT CONGRESS WILL PUT PRUNING KNIFE TO TAX BILL

$373,000,000 SURPLUS
IS FORECAST FOR 1926

Receipts of 1925 Will Almost Cover Next Year's Fiscal Budget—Announcement Comes on Heels of Conference With Coolidge.

Washington.—Approximately $350,000,000 will be slashed from the nation's tax bill by the Sixty-ninth congress, Representative Martin B. Madden, of Illinois, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, predicted following a conference with President Coolidge.

The prediction is based upon Treasury estimates of $68,000,000 surplus in the treasury this year and $373,000,000 surplus for 1926.

This year's taxes, Madden said, will meet the preliminary estimates on the next fiscal year within $10,000,000, which he characterized as "pretty close."

Madden sponsored a bill which would provide for automatic tax rebates whenever treasury surpluses justify. The refund would come about through proclamation by the president of available surpluses in the treasury. This bill will be pressed before the Sixty-ninth congress.

Chairman Green of the House Ways and Means committee promises a cut of $300,000,000 in the nation's income taxes for the fiscal year ending, June 30, 1926.

Senator King of Utah has been engaged in drawing a bill during the recess providing for a half billion dollar reduction in taxes payable in 1926. He held a conference just before the end of the past session with President Coolidge and Director of the Budget Lord.

King, as a member of the senate Finance committee, advocated a maximum surtax of 25 per cent when the Mellon tax plan was debated in the senate last year. He now believes the maximum rate for normal taxes and surtaxes combined should not exceed that figure.

$1,500,000 VETERAN HOSPITAL DEDICATED AT LIVERMORE

Livermore.—Dedication of the $1,500,000 United States war veteran hospital was attended here by several thousand ex-service men and visitors. Governor Friend W. Richardson, Senator Samuel Shortridge, Congressman Albert E. Carter, Captain N. S. Dancy, State Commander Nathan S. Coombs of the American Legion, participated in the ceremonies. Colonel T. S. Rawls, medical officer in charge of the new hospital, introduced the speakers. Adjutant James E. Fisk, of the American Legion; Fred E. Wells, state commander, Disabled Veterans; R. M. Coalson, state commander Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Mrs. M. F. Murray, representing the War Mothers, delivered addresses.

Music throughout the day was furnished by the Livermore band and the Thirtieth Infantry band. Madame Regan Talbot, of Berkeley, sang a number of selections on the program.

MARCH RAINFALL AVERAGE BELOW NORMAL FOR STATE

Sacramento.—March rainfall averaged below normal in California although some stations, both north and south of the Tehachapi reported a super normal precipitation. In the north much more rain has fallen than up to this date last year, the bureau reports, but in the south the deficiency is greater. The seasonal totals are below normal. Snowfall in the Sierra is reported lighter than in the past. The situation in general is much better than last year, however. The depth of snow at the summit is 54 per cent of normal and at Tamarack 70 per cent. On the eastern slope at Bishop creek the depth is only six inches, as compared with a normal blanket of sixteen inches.

Snow in the mountains will keep streams running until the end of June, the bureau estimates. Districts having adequate storage facilities will not suffer from a water shortage.

Soldier-Authur Is Dead

San Diego.—Colonel Giles Bishop, one of the best-known officers in the United States marine corps and author of several books of adventure, died suddenly from a heart attack at the Naval hospital here. Colonel Bishop, according to surgeons at the Naval hospital, underwent an abdominal operation about ten days before and appeared to be well on the road to recovery. However, he was seized with a fainting spell, followed by a heart attack, and died within a few minutes.

'OPEN SHOP' PLAN GETS COURT'S O.K.

SAN FRANCISCO BUILDERS' PRACTICES ARE HELD LEGAL

EXCHANGE VICTORIOUS
IN MATERIALS RULING

U. S. Supreme Court Decides American Plan Within Rights of Law—Association Permitted to Withhold Permits to Union Devotees.

Washington.—The Sherman anti-trust law was not violated by the Builders exchange, the Industrial association and others of San Francisco in the fight for the open shop, the supreme court decided in reversing the lower courts.

Under this decision the case was remanded to the California court "with instruction to dismiss."

The court held that the builders opposing the union were not guilty of restraining interstate commerce in building materials.

The permit system enforced by the builders during the controversy, under which building materials were withheld from those who did not maintain open shop, was found by the court not to have been illegal. The extent to which the federal government may intervene in an industrial strike within a state was at issue in the case.

The powers of the federal government in railroad, coal mine and other strikes affecting directly interstate commerce have been well established, but the contentions in the San Francisco "open shop" contest was that it had no interstate aspect and hence was a matter for the state government alone.

San Francisco had long been known as a "union" city prior to February, 1921, when the "open shop" case had its genesis. The building industry there had particularly been dominated by labor unions, and the trouble began when members of labor unions not only refused to work alongside non-union labor, but also refused to work with union men not members of local organizations. Arbitrators in April of that year reported failure to bring the employers and employees into agreement, and the union workmen went on strike to prevent "open shops."

The employers joined issue determined through their control over building material to gain mastery.

In May, 1923, the federal government entered the field. It contended that conditions had developed into a restraint of interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act. It brought suit against the Industrial association and other commercial and industrial organizations which had been co-operating in fighting the unions.

The federal district court at San Francisco, while disclaiming any intention to interfere in the industrial conflict, found that there had been a restraint of interstate commerce and enjoined those engaged in fighting for an "open shop" from placing any restrictions upon those who could purchase building materials coming into the state in interstate or foreign commerce, from interfering with the free movement of building materials, plumbers and other supplies produced outside California, and from attempting to prevent the shipment of such supplies into the state.

Insisting that the lower court had been in error in finding that there had been any restraint of interstate commerce, the Industrial association and others associated in the appeal asserted that the strike had terminated before the government acted, and that the grounds of complaint urged by the government had ceased to exist.

CALIFORNIA IS GIVEN PRIORITY IN INHERITANCE TAX CASE

San Francisco.—California's inheritance tax can be imposed upon an estate before the federal inheritance or estate tax has been deducted, according to a decision of the United States supreme court. The decision affects the taxable status of all estates that came under the inheritance tax laws of California between the years of 1917 and 1921, an amount of money that is impossible to estimate at the present time.

According to the state inheritance tax office here, the legislature in 1917 passed an amendment to the tax law to the effect that the federal inheritance tax could not be classed as a deduction from an estate, but that the state's tax was based on the size of an estate before any federal tax could be taken out.

A plan whereby 10,000 creditors of E. G. Lewis, bankrupt promoter, will be paid claims amounting to $10,000,000 with land owned by Lewis at Atascadero, has been worked out. It is claimed by an attorney representing the creditors.

Former State Senator Henry M. Hurd, died at Los Angeles, aged 53. A native of Rochelle, Ill., Hurd came to Los Angeles twenty-seven years ago. He was elected to the California state senate from the Thirty-seventh district in 1909 and served until 1913.

SEN. SHORTRIDGE TELLS HOW CAL. BENEFITS

Senator Shortridge has called attention to much legislation enacted during the last session of Congress directly affecting and beneficial to California. "No state in the Union fared better," he remarked. The list of benefits derived by our state from the Federal government is a long and interesting one.

Our Harbors.
"Here is what we find as to our harbors, beginning at San Diego and running up to Crescent City in Del Norte County:

New Naval Pier, San Diego, to cost $1,010,000.

Further dredging in San Diego harbor.

Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor project, $6,500,000.

Survey of channel from Redwood City to deep water in San Francisco Bay.

Survey of San Francisco harbor, looking to removal of rocks and shoals.

Oakland harbor project, involving dredging and extension of port limits.

Further survey of Crescent City harbor, for extension of breakwater.

Our Rivers.
Survey to determine method of preventing mud flow from Mount Shasta glacier into the Sacramento river.

Half a million dollars for flood control along the Sacramento river.

Our Agricultural Interests.
There were many appropriations that will directly benefit our farmers for example:

Survey of proposed Deer Creek Irrigation project, near Chico.

Provision for new reservoir for Orland Irrigation project.

Appropriation for survey to determine feasibility of Salt Water dam at confluence of Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, to protect the lands of the Delta.

Millions of dollars for co-operative demonstration work and agricultural extension work by Agricultural department, much of which will be spent in California.

$50,000 for investigation of citrus canker.

More than $100,000 for irrigation development in arid regions, much of which will be spent in California.

$30,000 for improvement nut culture, much of which will be spent in California.

Nearly $1,500,000 for Federal aid in marketing crops which will be of great aid to California farmers.

More than $800,000 for investigations of insect pests that attack agricultural products, much of which will be spent in California.

Over $500,000 for predatory animal control. This item is of very great importance to California.

Our Forests.
Our forest and timber lands came in for generous treatment, for example:

Federal forest experiment station to be established in California.

Enactment of the bill I introduced amending McNary re-forestation act which will be of special benefit to Southern California in prevention of fires.

Nearly $600,000 for investigation of diseases of forest trees and insects that attack trees which will be of incalculable benefit to California forests.

Over $600,000 for forest fire co-operation and in that connection an airplane patrol of forests to guard against fires.

Public Parks.
Ample appropriations were provided for the improvement and maintenance of our National Parks, including those in our state.

Of great benefit to California was the enactment of the Frederick's Bill granting Los Angeles county perpetual right to 5,000 acres of Angeles National forest lands for free public camping purposes.

The Bill providing for special 50-cent Diamond Jubilee silver coins to commemorate California's Diamond Jubilee celebration will serve to add interest to that great historic event.

The Country Womens Club will meet in regular session Monday. Every member is especially urged to be present, as in addition to a good program, there will be hand work on decorating for the festival with which everyone can help.

Sheriff Lyle deserves special commendation for the speed shown in capturing two auto bandits at Campbell Sunday morning. Ben Austin telephoned the office that parties were dismantling an auto in the creek bed just above town and in twenty minutes four deputies had arrived and seized the culprits. They were removing the parts from a car stolen from Daly City but a short time before.

Soldier Legislation.
For the benefit of the World War and other veterans, we obtained an appropriation of $1,500,000 to complete an addition to the Sawtelle hospital.

Highways.
For highway building in which, of course, California is vitally interested, Congress voted $76,000,000.

I have given you an outline of what was accomplished for our state.

There were many other items of local, personal interest.

The delegation in House and Senate worked in harmony and, as it is well known, we had the cordial co-operation of President Coolidge.

SCHOOL MONEY IS WELL EXPENDED

No little talk has been heard as to the taxes paid to the support of our local schools in both the high and grammar departments and Mr. S. N. Hedegard, clerk of the grammar school board has gathered a list of figures that will prove interesting to all.

In July 1916 the Campbell grammar district issued $20,000 in bonds of which there is still an indebtedness of $11,000 outstanding. In 1921, $155,000 in bonds was sold and there is a balance of $115,000 unpaid, making the total bonded indebtedness of the district on which the original Campbell district must pay $126,000, while the other parts of the union district owes only on the $115,000.

The high school district owes $15,500 outstanding bonds by reason of the purchase of the annex and grounds south of the school.

The 1924 assessment for the above high school indebtedness was 51 cents per $100, that for the grammar school $1.03 and 9 cents for kindergarten.

Considering our equipment, the number of pupils served and the assessed valuation of the districts, Campbell is successful in the results obtained for the money expended.

P T A PICNIC IN MAY

Those present at the April meeting of the Campbell Union High School P. T. A. listened to an interesting and worthwhile address by Mr. Alison whose subject was "Thrift—Save for a Purpose." There followed an exhibition of evidence of thrift prepared by the members. The judges awarded first prize to Mrs. Cramer, second to Mrs. Raab, first honorable mention to Miss Johnson and second to Mrs. Collis. A picnic was planned for the May meeting. The members will come to the High School at 3 o'clock and will go from there to a park in Los Gatos. The ladies are requested to bring sandwiches enough for their own group and one dish of their own choice for the table. Bring cups and spoons. The club will furnish coffee, sugar and cream. The annual election of officers will take place at this meeting therefore a large attendance is requested.

C. E. ON TO S. J.

The young people of the senior and intermediate Christian Endeavor societies are making plans to attend a large district rally on April 22, at the San Jose Christian church.

A. J. Shartle, treasurer and field secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor will be the speaker. He is touring California and bringing worthwhile messages to the young people at his different meetings.

It is hoped that many of the older people who are interested in the young people and their work will use this opportunity to hear Mr. Shartle, as well as a large number of the young people themselves.

SAFE IN SINGAPORE

Relatives of Leland Wade have received word of his safe arrival at Singapore, where he went to accept a position in a bank. He has met with a very friendly reception by the American colony and is fast making acquaintances and friends.

Leland specialized in the Chinese language while pursuing his education and with his regular banking duties will act as interpreter for the Chinese patrons of the institution. Mr. Wade is a grandson of Mrs. M. E. Wade and lived in Campbell some years ago.

THE SONG OF THE BOOSTER

I am a Booster.

I do not assume to be the only one on the job, nor to lift all of the burden myself. I, as a Booster, am indispensably a cooperator.

I do not necessarily lead. Here again my name, "Booster" triumphs, for it suggests pushing and boosting from behind where it makes little difference to me whether I am paraded to the public's gaze so long as the thing is done; and where the strongest hand-hold is obtained. The front man guides, but the man behind makes the wagon go.

I have wonderful works to my credit. I have sailed the uncharted seas, crossed the bleak deserts, chopped new paths in the wilderness; and out beyond I have built empires of which beforehand few men dared to dream.

I have built railroads, highways, bridges and skyscrapers. I have been the mighty force behind movements that brought industries, population and pay-rolls; and then I have not stopped, but have fostered and built homes, parks, playgrounds, community centers, churches and schools, where the wealth obtained might be transferred into happiness, culture, service, work, play, worship, love.

I have never said fail when the work to be done was recognized as necessary and good for my community. I have sought to destroy gloom, banish despair, put to rout the it-can't-be-done spirit or lack of spirit, squelch the knocker, flay the back-biter, suppress the falsifier, and kill the pessimist. I am optimism. I believe it is better to try what is right than to waste and wither in idleness and indifference. I believe IT CAN BE DONE when it is right and should be done.

I know no place of inactivity. I am alive and working in store, office, factory, farm, school, church and home; and I am most abundant in those general movements for the welfare of all the people in my community. I stand behind my public officers when they are right, and exercise my right of citizenship, free speech, and the ballot when they are wrong; but above all I am charitable with human frailty, remembering that he whom I criticize is my brother.

I know that my community needs every ounce of cooperative spirit that it can muster, and that if I shirk my duty I have become but a drone upon my community's progress and development.

I have more or less classical names, such as Perseverance, Optimism, Good Citizen; and then I have other and less dignified terms, such as "Let's Go," "Put 'Er Over," and "Atta Boy"; but there's none of them that quite express all that I am like plain "Booster."

And when the day comes that I shall exist only in memory of the works that I have left behind, I shall rest in peace if they will but promise now to carve on the stone that stands for me these words: "He Was a Booster."

FILL THESE PRESCRIPTIONS

Hollywood turns out more than movie stars on the one hand and lost ambitions on the other, for its Chamber of Commerce recently set forth in a pamphlet these five prescriptions "for the ailing store" that has stopped growing. We regret that the authorship is not given, but here they are:

First. Don't try to force business. Use persuasive methods.

Second. Pay close attention to your credits. Realize the importance of paying your own bills promptly. But before you can do this you must impress upon your customers the same necessity.

Third. Watch the use of words. They mean business. Recently the head of a big chain store organization spent $1600 to wire every store manager six words—"Don't fail to say 'thank you.'" And he says it paid him.

Fourth. Employ kindness.

Fifth. Take an interest in the personal problems of your customers. Sympathize with them and go out of your way to help them.

And how little effort it takes, after all, to fill those prescriptions.

PREDICTING EARTHQUAKES

With amazing accuracy, Professor Bendandi, the Italian seismologist, predicted the earthquake that shook Central America a few days ago. His forecasts also of the tremors in the northeast United States and the disastrous earthquake in Japan two years ago were fulfilled. This is getting things down pretty fine. It should be remembered that Bendandi is a scientist. His predictions are not based upon any assumption of supernatural gift, nor upon guesswork except as comes with scientific research. If his further predictions come true, may we not welcome an earthquake-predicting bureau for the whole world? Such a service would be invaluable. It might cause a good deal of hysteria during the waiting period, but it would be the means of saving human life.

No man knows exactly what's coming tomorrow until today becomes yesterday.

At San Francisco two actions been brought to test an alleged inconsistency in the government's ruling that while property of California wives is community property for estate tax purposes and exempt from taxation, it is not exempt from income taxes. The government contends that California wives are not entitled to file a refund of taxes paid since 1917. The suits ask for a return of approximately $10,000, said to have been erroneously collected.

FESTIVAL PROMISES ENJOYMENT FOR ALL

In perfecting plans for the May Festival the aim has been to make the occasion a real social good time with features to please all tastes.

The festival will begin Friday evening in the High School Annex with a delightful humorous lecture by J. U. Higinbotham.

The corridors and patio will be beautiful with festoons of flowers novel booths, and swaying Japanese lanterns. Candy will be on sale that evening but the food and plant booths will open Saturday forenoon and remain open throughout the afternoon.

Saturday afternoon a general admission of 25 cents will be charged all those who do not wish to play cards or mah jongg. A very cordial invitation is extended the ladies to bring their fancy work and spend the afternoon. A splendid program will be provided and refreshments served. These are included in the admission charge.

The Community Hall has been selected for Saturday evenings entertainment as providing greater comfort than the open corridors of the school.

Those who wish to make table reservations for the afternoon will consult Mrs. L. T. Lenox, Mrs. W. H. Stray or Mrs. R. Allison and for the evening, Mrs. E. E. Pomeroy, of Saratoga, Mrs. Leigh Saunders or Mrs. E. I. Price.

The community is very proud of our library and grounds and altho provision was made in the community chest for the care of the library room, there are many other expenses of grounds and so forth to be met which devolve up on the Country's Woman Club.

The people have therefore rallied to the cause and their generous aid is again earnestly solicited for this festival. For any share in the entertainment features those participating will receive full value for the contributions to the food, plant and candy booths will be greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Farrell of Escanaba, Michigan, were visitors last week at the home of their old time friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Alexander.

O. Strom has the contract for a seven room house at Sunol on which he expects to begin work this week. A. R. Miller will assist him with the job.

The April birthday social will be held in the Congregational church parlors on Thursday evening of next week, April 23. The guests of the evening will be all of those whose birthdays occur in April. These have proven most enjoyable affairs and all are welcome.

GRANGE HOLDS ENJOYABLE PROGRAM

There was a large attendance at Grange Tuesday evening, eight members of the new Morgan Hill Grange and several from San Jose grange being present.

One of our oldest members and a past master, Joseph Bohnett, gave us several musical numbers on his new Harmonophone, a combination of his own invention.

A reading by Mrs. D. H. Cramer, "Watch Yourself Go By" also was interesting. Two piano solos by Miss Myrtle Arnott were much enjoyed as well as vocal solos by Geo. Fitzgerald, accompanied by Miss Arnott on the piano.

A. H. Harms gave a very humorous illustration of an Italian party on the blackboard. Dominic had 28 bottles of wine. He was going to invite seven people to his party and wanted to know how to divide the bottles of wine evenly among them. He met Joe and told him his trouble. Joe said he was pretty good on divide: "7 into 28—O, yes, 7 in 8 go 1 and 1 over—that leaves 21, and 7 in 21, 3 times so that was 13 bottles wine for each. Dominic thought that was very good, 13 bottles wine for each. A little farther along he met Steve and told him about his troubles and that Joe said there would be 13 bottles for each. Steve said he wasn't very good on divide but was pretty good on multiply. He said 7 times 13—yes 7 times 3 is 21 and 7 times 1 is 7 which added to 21 makes 28. Yes, that's right 13 bottles for each. O, that's fine. So Dominic went on down the street and met Garibaldi and repeated his case to him. Garibaldi said, "I not much on divide or multiply but I pretty good on add." So he puts 13 down 7 times and adds up, "Seven three's make twenty-one and seven one's added makes 28. Yes! Yes! that's all right, thirteen bottles each." That all looked very reasonable but Mr. Harms did not tell us how they really came out at the party. But we were left to guess they were all so full of wine they couldn't tell how many bottles they did have.

There was some discussion of crop prospects. Rot of the apricot was reported bad in some places. Birds were reported to be eating fruit buds badly in other places. Various other subjects were discussed, and a petition against the further dumping of garbage at the old brick yard was circulated and quite generally signed. The railroad crossing on Campbell avenue was said to be still in bad condition. Mr. Purmort thought this a good year to raise chickens as the supply was short over the country. He also said there were still some places along the highways where the road side trees needed trimming.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Abbott spent the vacation week with relatives at Fresno and Lemoore.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Fuller, whose marriage was noted last week, have rented Mrs. M. J. Palmers house on North Central Avenue, recently vacated by J. H. Isham.

We are pleased to report that Richard Morton, whose serious illness was noted last week is very much improved and will be out again in due season unless unforeseen trouble arises.

Mrs. L. L. Miracle was brought home from the hospital Sunday, her knee having been put in a cast. She is getting along as well as possible and can only wait for nature to do its work.

Mrs. W. C. Grizzle, who has spent several months in Fortuna, Mo., returned to Campbell Friday, coming home thru Arizona and southern California. She said she was never so glad to get home before.

Umm! But it's good! Mrs. H. A. Pratt received this week from her folks in Vermont some of the choice maple sugar for which that state is famous and the Press crew is a bit sweeter for the treat. Haven't you noticed it?

The ladies of the Congregational Guild will hold a food sale on Saturday morning of next week, April 25, at Gilson's Market. Remember this opportunity to get some good home baking for your Sunday dinner.

P T A PARTY TONIGHT

The members of the Grammar School Parent-Teacher Association will be the hostesses Friday evening, April 17, at a card party to be given at the Grammar School.

The committee in charge are working hard to make it a success, as the money derived will be used to pay numerous debts which the club has assumed.

There have been many useful and pretty favors donated by members.

It is desired that everybody come early as there will be a short entertainment before starting to play. Refreshments will be served later in the evening and a good enjoyable time is looked forward to by all.

All friends are cordially invited to attend and help the mothers and teachers swell the treasury for the school's benefit.

EASTER CANTATA MUCH PRAISED

The cantata, "The Easter Witnesses" which was given Sunday at the Congregational church was well rendered and very effective. The character parts were represented by nine of the young men of the church: Tiberius Caesar, Windsor Cutting; Achippus, Cecil Cutting; Apphia, Stephen Merrill; Didamus, Albert Turner; Ancaus, John Duncan; Demas, Richard Duncan; Simon, Bernard Robson; Archelus, Billy Robinson; Cleopas, Lucius Buck; Monessima, Warren Turner.

The musical numbers sung by the chorus choir under the direction of Dr. Merrill were very successfully given and the entire production was deserving of the many complimentary remarks which it elicited.

Be it ever in such a jumble, there's no place like home.

QUESTIONS
By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

DADDY always says that I'm Such a magpie when I climb On his knee at supper time.

That is what I always do Just as soon as supper's through— Maybe sometimes sooner, too.

Ev'ry night there's always so Many things I want to know: How they do things in a show,

How to fix Belinda's arm, Why he doesn't buy a farm, Can the witches really charm?

Where the stars are all the day Why do horses run away? Is "Gosh darn it" bad to say?

When we going to get a car? Is Chicago very far?— My, so many things there are!

"Goodness gracious, mercy me!" Says my mamma, "Can't you see, Papa's tired as he can be?"

Daddy says, "Oh, she's all right; I'm not very tired tonight; But she surely is a fright."

Then he rubs his fuzzy chin On his cheek and makes me grin, Then to tickle I begin.

Oh, I have just loads of fun With my dad when supper's done— Mamma, too, and ev'ryone.

But, tucked in from toe to head And my "Now—I—lay—me" said, I remember, up in bed,

That he never answered those Things I asked him that he knows; He forgot to, I suppose.

"What's in a Name?"
By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day, lucky jewel

CHRISTINE

CHRISTINE, meaning Christian, comes from the Greek verb chrio, meaning to touch or anoint. In early times it was translated to signify the Old Hebrew prophetic Messiah (the Anointed) and became the title for the Savior, the very touchstone of faith.

The first person known to have been baptized under the title is St. Christina, a Roman virgin of patrician birth, martyred in 205.

Her fame traveled through Greece and Hungary and was brought from the latter country to England and Scotland by the Atheling family in the person of Christina, abbess of Romsey. The Scotch promptly abbreviated the name to Kirstin. Germany preserved the original Christina, but has several diminutives, among them Stine and Tine.

Through John Bunyan's Christiana as the feminine of the allegorical hero of "Pilgrim's Progress," this form became popular in England. Christine is Kirste or Kirstine throughout Scandinavia. Chrissie, Xina, Christiana and Christina are English favorites. France favors Christine only, and Italy calls her Cristina. In Germany she is Christiane or Kristel.

Christine's talismanic jewel is jade, whose potency for good fortune and health seems limitless. It is a sacred stone to the Chinese, who believe that all good things come to her who wears it and evil can have no power over her. Given to a newly married couple, it is said to assure the birth of an heir within a year. Christine's lucky day is Monday and 6 is her lucky number.

News of Interest to All

William Roderick Dallas of Coalings, a well known oil operator in central and southern fields, is believed to be the rightful claimant to the estate of Thomas Dallas York and the title of chief of the Dallas clan in Scotland. The Coalings oil operator is the eldest son of the late William Nases Dallas of Navin, Scotland, who was the eldest son of William Dallas, next in line to the title and holdings of the late Dallas clan chief.

W. A. Abbott, who was mayor of Sawtelle when that city was annexed to Los Angeles, died at his home in Culver City.

The United States government has returned to the city of Alameda deeds to 5,000 acres of submerged tideland, which was offered free for construction of the Pacific coast naval base. Alameda will immediately plan for development of the land for industrial purposes.

Vinton Pierce, member of a prominent Washington, D. C. family, met his death accidentally and not through suicide at Garnet, according to a coroner's jury verdict. Pierce, who was on route from Tucson, Ariz., to Los Angeles, was found dead on the railroad tracks at Garnet.

Funeral Was All Right, but Resurrection, No!

Dr. Ladislav Wroblewski, the Polish minister to Washington, said in a talk about diplomacy at a dinner party:

"The German embassy's action in refusing to put its flag at half-mast when Woodrow Wilson died reminds me of a good story.

"On the death of the duke of Wellington the French ambassador to London decided, German-embassy fashion, not to attend the funeral.

"How can I attend the funeral," he said, 'of the victor of Waterloo, of the man who wrecked my country?'

"But the American ambassador gave him wise counsel. 'Hold on there, friend! They're burying the duke, are they not?'

"Yes, of course." "Well, then, accept the government's invitation and attend his burial. Always accept an invitation to the duke's burial, but, if you're ever invited to his resurrection, decline with thanks."

THE OFT-SEEN GHOST

"He stopped gambling because he was being haunted? By what kind of ghost?"

"The ghost of a chance."

To Match the Bride

There is, it seems, a trying time in store for the prospective bridegroom, for the decree has gone forth that he must now appear at his wedding dressed in the same color as his bride.

A ceremony where this new fashion was observed has already been reported; but as the woman on that occasion was married in brown, her partner for life was able to get himself up to match without becoming prominent.

Other men will not get off so easily, for the marriage garment may be white or any color of the rainbow. We may yet witness the alarming spectacle of an azure bride leading to the altar an unwilling victim clothed for the sacrifice in a pale-blue suit with tie, shoes and spats to correspond.—Windsor Magazine.

Train Made Good Time

In order to make important connections at Winnipeg, a special train was recently operated over the Canadian Pacific from Broadview, Saskatchewan, to Winnipeg, Manitoba, a distance of 264 miles, in four hours sixteen minutes, or an average speed of 61.9 miles an hour. The run from Broadview to Brandon, a distance of 130.9 miles, was made in two hours twenty minutes, or 56.1 miles an hour, and the run from Brandon to Winnipeg, a distance of 133.1 miles, was made in one hour fifty-five minutes, or an average speed of 69.4 miles an hour.

Resourceful Board

Not wishing to mar the natural scenery of Woodland park, in Seattle, Wash., by ordinary chimneys for the camp stoves, the park board solved the problem by the erection of concrete imitations of trees. Sections of the bark were used to make plaster molds, into which the concrete was poured. The result was tree-like chimneys twenty feet high, tall enough to mingle with the foliage. The color of the concrete was varied so as to match the dark brown of fir and cedar.

Botanical Curiosity

A tree which gives the impression of being permanently in bloom has been found on the University of Washington campus. Prof. George B. Rigg of the botany department declares that the formation taken for blossoms are bracts or modified leaves which have collected in a little bunch. An attempt will be made next spring to ascertain if the bract now formed ever becomes an actual flower.

X-Rays Frozen Pipes

Just where is the trouble in frozen pipes can be located by the use of an X-ray machine that can be carried by a plumber and operated by merely plugging into an ordinary electric light switch.

Hard Luck Indeed

A friendly act proved a seriously painful one for Charles A. Schempp of Williamsport, Pa. Schempp, who is an inspector on a sewer job, pulled a piece of pipe out of the way of an approaching automobile and stood nearby as the car moved by. The automobile struck the end of the pipe and caused it to fly around and strike Schempp, knocking him to the ground and breaking his legs.

Canada's Domestic Animals

The number of horses in Canada increased in 1924 by more than 100,000, there being 3,546,233 horses classed as farm live stock. The cattle population of Canada (exclusive of British Columbia) is 9,198,714. Horses showed an increase in every province but New Brunswick and Ontario. Cows increased in every province except Ontario.

Aristocratic Laundress

A Manchester (N. H.) laundress who drives her car to the various homes where her services are in demand, has refused, since cold weather set in, to work for any but those having heated garages as she does not wish to have the radiator of her car freeze while she is at the wash-tubs.

A big skeleton found in the brush on Big Valley mountain between Pittville and Bieber was identified as that of Russell Braddy, 19, lost ten years ago from a stage. Braddy was crazed at the time of his disappearance. A search of weeks by the whole countryside was unavailing.
