DEDICATION

More than just a dog, this "Dodo".

He has become a personality,

As much a part of Cimarron

As planes or books or reveille.

We dedicate our book to him.

CAPT. R. A. STOVER
Commanding Officer

To the Class of 44-D:

Congratulations to the Class of 44-D. Yours,--has been a good class, the lowest rate of elimination of any class to graduate from Cimarron along with surprisingly few accidents.

You are graduating from your Primary phase of training not as "Hot Pilots", but good competent pilots. The training that lies ahead is going to be hard, perhaps even more trying than that at Primary. However, if you continue to demonstrate the spirit, determination and attitude so evident here, there will be no doubt as to your eventual success.

Best of Luck and Happy Hunting.

INTRODUCTION

Where I came from no one knew, and what's more, no one cared. I met them at the bus and in my canine way welcomed them, let them know I'd help them make the grade. They called me "Dodo"—what a moniker to carry all my life—but I didn't mind; no name could stop me.

I'd trot to drill or meet them after class. I checked them at P. T. and met them on the flight line, and even watched for solo candy as eagerly as any upper classmen. It wasn't all fun—we had our troubles, too. For them it was ground school, tactical officers and flying that PT—for me it was other dogs, a couple of cats and that *$$% muzzle! So, you see, we could share and understand each other's experiences.

I saw hundreds of cadets come to Cimarron and watched as many leave. Each class was fine, but that 44-D gang was better than the average. They came in the fall of '43 and what a time we had. I'm still a little heavy, because they fed me so well—and petting?—Well, no dog ever had more. Say! Look through my album with me. I'll tell you about them.
