If you are interested in the Irish experience of World War I, have noticed some gaps in the information on Wikipedia, are interested in making your first edits, or are just curious, then please come along to Ireland's first editathon on World War I.

This editathon aims to improve, expand and create articles relating to Ireland and the Irish during World War I. This could include notable servicemen and women, locations or buildings associated with the war effort, or collections of objects and their importance.

The day will also feature a number of talks on subjects such as artwork relating to WWI and the relationship between the World Wars from an Irish prespective.
