LED BRITISH ARMY IN FIRST PART OF GREAT WAR; LATE FIELD MARSHAL EARL OF YPRES

EARL OF YPRES, WORLD WAR HERO, DIED TO-DAY AT HOME IN ENGLAND

Deal, Eng., May 22—Field Marshal, the Earl of Ypres, formerly Sir John French, British World War Hero, died here to-day. He was in his seventy-third year.

Rising to the highest places and honors in British military circles, the Earl of Ypres often was characterized as "the luckiest man in the army," and French luck became almost proverbial among British soldiers. Later events, however, caused a different opinion as to whether the luck had been on the soldier's side or on that of the British army and the British Empire.

WORK WITH CAVALRY

What was termed the Earl's biggest piece of sheer luck occurred in 1896, when the British military authorities decided to revise the cavalry drill book as a prelude to reorganization of the mounted arm.

A restless child, suffering from bruises sustained some time ago, saved a family of five from death in a blazing house at 280 King George Terrace, Oak Bay, at 3 o'clock this morning.

ROAR OF FLAMES

At this instant, in another room, her husband, G. Thomson, was awakened by the smoke and roar of the flames and rushed one child to safety through the flame-swept passages to the door.

SHIP CREWS AT SPITZBERGEN EXPECTED AMUNDSEN PLANES TO RETURN TO BASE TO-DAY

Scientists of World Speculate on Incidents of Daring Explorers' Flight to North Pole, Started Yesterday; Aviators Estimated They Would Require About Nine Hours to Reach Top of the Earth.

New York, May 22.—The North American Newspaper Alliance said at noon to-day it had received no word of the progress of the Amundsen effort since the aeroplanes hopped off at King's Bay, Spitzbergen, for the North Pole yesterday afternoon.

TWO AIRMEN KILLED

Oslo, Norway, May 22.—Given favorable conditions, the two seaplanes of the Amundsen-Ellsworth expedition, which started from King's Bay, Spitzbergen, at 5:45 o'clock yesterday morning in an attempt to fly to the North Pole, should be back at Spitzbergen in about twenty-four hours from the time of the take off.

SHIPS GO NORTH

Oslo, Norway, May 22.—The Shipping Gazette, in its account to-day of Amundsen's departure, said the expedition ship Hobbs was ordered to proceed north immediately after the flight started. The companion ship Fram was to follow some hours later.

MUCH SPECULATION

New York, May 22.—Scientists and laymen the world over to-day were speculating on the possibility that the second party of white men in history might have reached the North Pole. If so, it would be the first time the daring feat had been accomplished by aeroplane.

HAZARDOUS ATTEMPT

Despite months of preparation the expedition is of the most hazardous kind, and a forced landing might put the men afoot hundreds of miles from an accessible post of rescue.

OTHER FLIGHTS

The Amundsen-Ellsworth Pole dash started the flight of King's Bay, Spitzbergen, on May 20.

ALGARSSON DELAYED

London, May 22.—No little regret is expressed here that Grettir Alagarsson of British Columbia, Amundsen's principal competitor, who plans a North Pole flight in a non-rigid airship, is still aboard his vessel, the Yoland, in Liverpool Harbor, awaiting completion of his "blimp" and the conclusion of other preparations before he can follow the Norwegian into the Arctic.

Freight Prepayment Plan Abandoned

Montreal, May 22.—United States railways will ship coal and coke to Canadian ports without freight prepayment, from June 1, according to notice received by the Montreal Coal Association from the United States Eastern Traffic Carriers. FRANK MORTON IS FUN CREATOR AT PLAYHOUSE

Playhouse patrons are unusually enthusiastic over the current offering of the Frank Morton Company. "The Lady Bugs," deals with the adventures of "Smoke" Bronson in an asylum for wealthy neurotics. Frank Morton appears in the role of "Smoke," and with little apparent effort, keeps his audience laughing from the rise till the fall of the curtain. "The Lady Bugs" will be presented for the last time to-night and to-morrow, with "Nobody," a notable screen feature, completing the pro-

"To'able David," has a splendid part in "The Fighting Sap." Fred Thomson's fast-moving Western picture at the Columbia Theatre to-day. Ralph set out in life to be a banker, as was his father before him, but while at college, played in one of the college shows. From then on he decided he would sooner be an actor.

GRIFFITH KEPT HOPPING MAKING "THE NIGHT CLUB"

It often befores a motion picture actor to know his own strength and to be good at figuring. During the filming of one scene, Raymond Griffith was called upon to estimate exactly his own speed and how fast a run-away automobile would back downhill. Griffith was to walk up behind a machine of which Vera Reynolds had lost control and to flee in its path as it came hurtling backward down a long flight of steps.

If he had misjudged either his own speed or the momentum of the car, he probably would have been run over. Directors Paul Irlbe and Frank Urson let him make the estimations himself. As it was, he had everything figured out nicely and distanced the car by several feet. In another scene, when Miss Reynolds' car was about to run him down, he had to leap up and catch a street lamp which was suspended from an archway several feet above his head. The speeding machine was just a few feet behind him. Besides the above mentioned little incidents and fleeing for his life from a jealous Spaniard, played by Wallace Beery, who had just carelessly tossed a wicked looking knife at his head and a few other little stunts that would make the average vaudeville acrobatic act look tame, Griffith didn't have a thing to do in "The Night Club" now at the Dominion Theatre—not a thing. The picture is based on the William de Mille stage play, "After Five." Miss Reynolds, Beery and Louise Fazenda are featured with Griffith in the leading roles.

REALISTIC WRECK OF SHIP STAGED FOR NEW PICTURE

A shipwreck was staged so realistically in the San Francisco harbor, where the Ince company recently spent a fortnight filming special scenes for Thomas H. Ince's "Anna Christie," that the lifesaving station mistook the activity for a signal of distress and quickly sent two big life-boats to the rescue. During a dense fog, in which a steamer is wrecked in the collision with a derelict barge, "Matt Burke," played by William Russell, and several other stokers on the big ship, escape drowning by pushing off in a rowboat. They are later picked up by a coal barge belonging to "old Chris," the father of "Anna," around whom the powerful story dramatically unfolds. "Anna Christie" comes to the Playhouse next week.

DICK BARTHELMESS AND WIFE PLAYS IN FILM "NEW TOYS"

Richard Barthelmess and his wife, Mary Hay, are singularly fitted to play the young married couple of "New Toys," the young star's latest First National picture now at the Capitol Theatre. That is, they are suited in the fact that they are really and truly a young married couple. The young husband and wife of "New Toys" go through a lot of comic domestic tribulations over the fact that the wife longs for a "stage career" and chafes a bit at the restrictions of matrimony. Here, of course, the Barthelmesses had to use a bit of imagination, for they are exceedingly happy in their own marriage, with a charming home and a lovely baby to hold their interests. Barthelmess and Mary Hay were married when the two were playing in David Wark Griffith's famous production, "Way Down East." He was playing the New England boy here and she was the flapper from the city. Just before this production Dick and Miss Hay, then one of the big favorites of the Ziegfeld Follies, chanced to meet. They fell in love—and the marriage took place just as "Way Down East" was being finished.

GOBI EXPEDITION MEETS DIFFICULTIES

Letter Received in New York From Leader Now in Central Asia

New York, May 22.—The perils of civil war, famine and floods in China have been encountered by Roy Chapman Andrews, leading the third Asiatic Expedition of the American Museum of Natural History into the Gobi Desert in Central Asia, he wrote to friends in the city in a letter made public to-day. Going from Peking to Kalgan, the expedition's starting point, the explorers were forced to keep to the desert to avoid confiscation of their camels by soldiers. In Kalgan there was a disastrous flood and just before the party pushed on, soldiers looted the town. As punishment 450 looters were executed, Mr. Andrews said.

YOUTH SAVED TWO AND LOST OWN LIFE

Newport Beach, Calif., May 22.—Otto Bernard, twenty, of Balboa, lost his life late yesterday in saving the lives of two youths whose canoe had capsized in the harbor entrance at Balboa, near here. Seeing Edward Record and William Swain thrown into the channel when their light craft overturned, Bernard went to their rescue in a rowboat. As they neared the shore the rowboat also was overturned, and in the struggle for safety that followed Record and Swain reached shore while Bernard drowned.

BEER RULING GIVEN BY COMMISSIONER

Vancouver, May 22.—Unless they so desire, beer parlor license holders are not compelled to serve customers, according to word local proprietors have received from Liquor Board Controller Hugh Davidson. This removes the objection of license holders who were at first of the opinion that the law compelled them to serve women. Some proprietors have already taken advantage of the ruling by putting up signs stating they are not prepared to serve women. Others have furnished special quarters, ostensibly for women customers.

MUCH CRITICISM OF WEMBLEY FAIR

British Papers Score Officials For Unpreparedness; Many of Them Inefficient

London, May 22 (Canadian Press Cable)—Hard things are being said about the management of the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley in connection with the unpreparedness noticeable even at this late date, contrasted with the great international exhibition at Paris. The decorative art at Wembley is dimly disappointing. The British section of the big show was thrown open yesterday and the chilly reception thereof by the correspondents of a number of English dailies was eloquent. The London Daily Chronicle states the overstaffed officials are falling over each other and most of them are round pegs in square holes.

STEPHEN LEACOCK TO SPEAK IN SEATTLE

Seattle, May 22.—An event of importance in literary circles of this city is the coming of Stephen Leacock, Canadian author and humorist, who will speak Thursday, June 4, in the Plymouth Congregational Church under the auspices of the Seattle Grade Teachers' Club and the High School Teachers' League. Mr. Leacock's talk will be the last of the lecture series given here this season under the direction of these clubs.

M. PAINLEVE ASKS RADICALS' SUPPORT

Paris, May 22.—Come what may, the French Government will keep its financial obligations both abroad and at home, Premier Painleve declared to an audience at the formal opening of the International Water, Power and Touring Exposition at Grenoble yesterday. His speech is interpreted in political circles as setting forth the policies of the French Government prior to the reconvening of the Chamber of Deputies on Monday. Touching on the Moroccan situation, the Premier frankly asked the followers of ex-Premier Herriot to remain staunchly behind the present Cabinet. He appeared as uncertain of the Herriot Radical groups, and especially of the Socialists, that four times during his address he called upon them for their collaboration.

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 8

The Consumption of Tea

Tea as a beverage is used in nearly every country in the world. It is estimated over 200 billion cups are consumed annually. Australia leads in tea drinking with an annual per capita consumption of about nine pounds, which means that every Australian consumes from six to eight cups of tea every day. The consumption per capita in England is 8 1/2 lbs., and in Canada nearly 5 lbs. In the United States, it is less than 1 lb., but this is largely because Americans have not been able to get fine teas until comparatively recently. "SALADA" is considered one of the choicest blends on the market, and is the largest selling tea in either United States or Canada.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Crooked Stick

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate
(By Howard R. Garis)

One day Uncle Wiggily saw two of his rabbit children, named Nipper and Skipper, looking about in the grass on either side of the path, not far from the hollow stump bungalow.

"Hello, boys!" called Uncle Wiggily to them. "Have you lost anything? Did your ball come over here in the grass and can't you find it?"

"Oh, we aren't looking for a lost ball," answered Nipper.

"We're looking for a crooked stick," added Skipper.

"A crooked stick?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "What in the world do you want of a crooked stick? Is this some new kind of a game you are playing?"

Nipper and Skipper jumped leap frog over each other's backs and, then, coming closer to Uncle Wiggily, Nipper said:

"The crooked stick is something like a game, yes, Daddy Wiggily. If we find the crooked stick we were going to give it to the crooked man."

Uncle Wiggily held up one paw and twinkled his pink nose.

"Just a moment, boys!" he laughed. "I don't understand this at all! First you say you are looking for a crooked stick and then you speak of a crooked man—"

"Don't you remember the verse in the Mother Goose book?" asked Skipper. "It says: There was a crooked man who walked a crooked mile and found a crooked sixpence against a crooked stile. He bought a crooked cat which caught a crooked mouse and they all lived together in a little crooked house." Don't you remember?"

"Oh, to be sure I do!" chuckled the bunny gentleman. "Now I remember the crooked man. But he didn't have a crooked stick."

"That's just it," said Nipper. "We thought if we could find a crooked stick to give the crooked man it would help him to walk the crooked mile, and then he would let us take his crooked cat to play with."

"Oh, so that's why you want the crooked stick; is it?" went on Mr. Longears. "Well, crooked sticks ought to be easy to find. Come to the woods with me and—"

But, all of a sudden Skipper cried: "Here's a nice, shiny, black crooked stick now. Come and help me pick it up, Nipper, and we'll take it to the crooked man."

But Uncle Wiggily jumped ahead of his little rabbit boys crying: "Let me look at that crooked stick before you pick it up! There is danger in some crooked sticks."

"Danger—in a stick? How can that be?" asked Skipper.

"Because sometimes black snakes stretch out on the ground and look just exactly like long, thin, crooked sticks," said Uncle Wiggily. "Ah, I thought so!" exclaimed Mr. Longears as soon as he saw what the little rabbits pointed out to him. "That's a snake—see!"

Very gently for he did not want to do any harm, Uncle Wiggily poked with a straight stick what had seemed to be a crooked stick. Instantly on one end a mouth opened, and a forked tongue darted rapidly in and out. Then came a hissing sound and the "crooked stick," as Skipper had called it, began to glide off through the grass.

"Oh, it's a snake!" cried the bunny boys.

"Yes," answered the snake, "but I would not have harmed you, and I am glad you did not harm me, Uncle Wiggily. It is true," went on the snake, "that if I got very hungry I might have to eat a little rabbit. But I am not hungry to-day. And, Nipper and Skipper, listen well to what Uncle Wiggily tells you: Never pick up a crooked stick in the woods until you make sure it isn't a snake, stretched out to take a sun bath."

Then the black snake glided away and Nipper and Skipper said they would be very careful after this. For, though black snakes are not poisonous, they can squeeze little rabbits very hard and hurt them.

Then Skipper and Nipper went on looking for a real crooked stick, and they found one, but it was a long while before they found the crooked man to give it to.

And if the wash-rag will let the cake of soap come to its party, and slide down the cellar door, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the cow's bell.

MUSICAL NOTES

By GEORGE J. DYKE

It is exceedingly pleasing to note the fact that the music festival idea is taking root here. The interest shown in its favor has never been exceeded in the history of Victoria, than is being manifested at the present moment. The writer has repeatedly advocated its establishment in Victoria—and has given the suggestion of a festival alternating each season between the mainland centre at Vancouver and here at the capital city. Others there are who in distant fields have sponsored its scope and its activities. Such people as Jackson Hanby, Miss Louise de W. Moore, Dr. Hodgson and F. C. O. Wickett, are willing to give their experiences in the initial stages. Jackson Hanby, particularly imparting enthusiasm and a personal touch for some time past in its behalf. The forthcoming British Columbia Musical Festival will open its third season at Vancouver early in June, and it is most gratifying to point to the large number of entries from this city, and the two entries alone of the First Presbyterian Church choir, Jackson Hanby conductor, already shield and prize winners, and the long-established and famous Arion Club, Howard Russell to conduct, in an admirable idea, and there can be no doubt of our citizens' interest and support of Victoria, citizens generally to the festival movement by their presence and purse on the occasion.

Over 4,000 German pianos were imported into Austria in 1923.

Jenny Lind was not only one of the greatest singers that ever lived, but she played the piano divinely, and her improvisations were said to be wonderful. By the way, this great singer never kept late hours. When not singing at a concert, she made it a point of retiring for the night at 10 o'clock. She has been known to leave a game of cards exactly on the stroke of ten, and saying good night to all retired to her room. Like Sims Reeves, Jenny Lind was particularly careful of her diet.

The band of the Nigerian Regiment, South Africa, cannot read a note of music. They learn all their marches, bugle calls, etc., by ear. The members of this band are natives, and are perfectly marvelous in music perception and execution.

One of the most important and interesting announcements affecting western musical circles is the acceptance by Theodore Spiering, for many years concert master of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, of the invitation of the Portland Symphony Orchestra to lead its organization next season, commencing early in November. Mr. Spiering has left for Europe to bring back many new symphonic works and will make his future home in Oregon's musical and biggest city.

Gustave Holst, one of the best known English modern composers, has won added distinction in his newest opera, recently produced in Manchester. This new work, with the title "At the Boar's Head," has Falstaff as its central character; text and action is taken largely from Shakespeare, and the music is adopted from many treasures of English folk-songs.

Next June, from the 4th to the 8th, will witness at Leipzig the annual Handel festival. The opera "Tamerlane" will be included.

Baden-Baden next August and September will stage a Mozart festival.

John Coates, the distinguished veteran English tenor, has arrived this side of the Atlantic, and is arranging his first tour of the new world. There is a possibility of his appearance here. We have had Rosing and Edward Johnson, now let us hear this marvelously gifted Englishman.

Sims Reeves in his book "My Jubilee" says "Our British chorus singers may fairly compare with those of any country in the world, and possibly surpass all in mellowness of tone."

Next June the tercentenary will be celebrated of the death of Orlando Gibbons, one of the giants of English music, and a figure of very remarkable importance in the history of artistic development at the critical point which is associated with the junction of the sixteenth and seventeenth century. He was born at Cambridge in 1583, and when a boy was a chorister of King's College. In 1604 he was appointed organist of the Chapel Royal. He died at Canterbury in 1625, where his presence had been commanded in connection with the music for the reception of Henrietta Maria by Charles I. He was buried in Canterbury Cathedral. Gibbons wrote, among other works, many of the finest "Madrigals" and "Mottets" ever written. He also wrote many anthems, services, and hymn-tunes, which are frequently sung in our present day.

Alfred Hollins, the well-known and celebrated blind English organist and composer, will tour Canada and America next season. He plays in Victoria in November of the present year.

Eugene Goossens, famous English conductor, will direct the entire season of the now famous Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra well patronized and numerous concerts.

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, May 22 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—There were many happenings of a constructive nature in the overnight and the day news which in some departments of the line failed to receive the expected recognition due to a heavy pour of profit taking orders, though this selling had but a minor influence on values.

Bullish activities in the rail department of the list featured the afternoon trading and there were firmer indications that these issues have been neglected and are likely to be very prominent in the future bullish development.

The contention that various lines that have been backward for some time are showing signs of a near approach to activity and other developments at hand being of such encouraging nature that we believe that bullish activities should be encouraged, particularly favor the rail and oil issues.

New York, May 22 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's "Wall Street Wire")—The Wall Street stock market edition this afternoon says: Bull shares swung into the upward procession in today's trading, giving the forward movement an increasingly healthy aspect.

Standard investments, shares like New York Central, Canadian Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, Delaware Lackawanna and Reading, moved upward almost in unison. With the high grade rails finally lending their authority to the upswing, operations for the rise in the general list gained greater confidence.

As a whole, the market enjoyed the freest freedom from irregularity it has known in several months. This condition was particularly conducive to pool activities, which were vigorously prosecuted in various issues, especially among the industrial specialties.

Some profit-taking naturally developed in the late afternoon but this was offset by sustained upward tendencies in various groups. This week's statement of the Federal Reserve Bank of N.Y. threw in striking relief the phenomenal ease prevailing in credit conditions, which has been the most important factor in the recent developments of extraordinary strength and activity on the Exchange.

Calif. Pete preferred was heavily bought over Coast wires, forging into a new high ground for the year at 12 1/2, up more than four points from yesterday's low.

Industrial Alcohol was up on belief that split up in is sight on a basis which will mean a liberal dividend for the present year. The stock jumped into the leadership of the rail list, reaching new high ground on the movement at 41.

International Paper forged into new high ground for the year at 62 compared with yesterday's low of 61 5/8, responding to the announcement that International planned the segregation of its water power holdings.

TRUSTEES MOVE TO SECURE MORE CO-OPERATION

Saanich School Board Insists on More Harmony

Requires Improvement in Health Administration of Schools

Convinced that friction existing between schools medical officer Dr. R. L. Miller, and the school nurse in Saanich, can be eliminated by closer co-operation, the Saanich School Board last night unanimously adopted the following resolution, presented by Trustee H. P. Thorpe:

"Whereas there exists a lack of co-operation between the school medical officer, the school nurse, and the superintendent of the Health Centre in their department of work in the schools;

"And whereas such a condition is not in the best interest either of those concerned or the work in which they are engaged under the board;

"Therefore be it resolved that this board urges those concerned to work in closer co-operation and harmony in carrying out their particular duties, each having due regard to the other's rights and position under the board;

"This proposal towards harmony will show that we have observed conditions, and are able, if necessary, to go further than extending advice," said Trustee Thorpe. Trustee Mrs. Campbell considered that too great inequality existed in Saanich between salaries paid teacher beginners and the school nurse, newly serving after training at the university. She compared conditions in Saanich with Cowichan, declaring the Health Centre in Saanich cost the municipality $4,250 yearly while the two nurses at Cowichan produce a revenue.

Trustee Mrs. Beckett pointed out that success in terminating friction in the service would put a stop to growth of public criticism, which Chairman Hobbs declared to be rapidly spreading.

Trustee Thorpe then secured support for resolutions instructing Schools Nurse Griffith to report promptly to Medical Health Officer Dr. Miller any suspected cases of communicable disease, a service Dr. Miller had stated he was not receiving, and also to meet the board at the regular monthly sessions and report upon school health conditions.

TRUSTEES GRANT SUBSTANTIAL AID TO SCHOOL SPORTS

Saanich Board Gives $150 Towards Athletic Meet at Beaver Lake

The Saanich School Board last night voted $150 to the Saanich Public Schools Athletic Association as a contribution towards the success of the schools sports at Beaver Lake on June 3, coupling with the grant appreciation of the work being done by the executive of the association. George McWilliam presented the claims of the Athletic Association, pointing out that the expenses will this year aggregate over $700, of which about $300 is now in hand.

MUSIC THIS YEAR
 Provision of a band will this year be an additional expense at the sports, but fill a need very noticeable last year, Mr. McWilliam said. With the closing down of the Interurban railway, transportation would be a charge to be met by the Athletic Association.

CONCERT PROFITS USED
 The series of successful concerts have provided the Athletic Association with revenue this winter, but it has practically all been used in supply of balls and playing equipment," he said.

"While you trustees have been looking well after the mental training of our boys and girls, we have been doing our best to teach true sportsmanship and develop the bodies of our children," he said. "As a result of our joint labors, I am sure you will agree Saanich is going to give the world well trained men and women in the years to come."

Splendid Work For Seamen Reviewed; Col. Wilby Again President

The annual meeting of the Victoria Seamen's Institute was held last evening in the board room of Belmont House with the president, Col. A. W. B. Wilby, in the chair.

The president spoke regretfully of the loss sustained by the Seamen's Institute through the death of "T. Wright Hill who had discharged his duties as port-missionary with such singular devotion to the welfare of sailors and had assisted the committee and society in very possible way. Col. Wilby asked that the assembled members should stand in silent tribute to the memory of Mr. Hill.

Speaking of the constant need for funds to carry on the work of the institute, the president felt the Ladies' Guilds of the Connaught Seamen's Institute and the Sailors' Club of Esquimalt had worked wholeheartedly and in a very thorough manner, and that the sincere thanks of the committee was due them for the overcoming of many difficulties. With the increased shipping and subsequent growth of this port, there should be a fresh interest awakened in the citizens of Victoria, realizing as they must the need for decent, respectable places for the comfort and entertainment of sailors ashore. Both homes are essential and both are deserving of better support, he said.

FINANCIAL REPORT
 The report of the secretary-treasurer, Arthur Coles, served to strengthen the president's appeal for a wider interest in the welfare of sailors, showing as it did a comparatively small membership. Receipts for the year totaled $1,124.97. Donations from British and Foreign Sailors' Society, London, $172.42, with additional amounts of $54 to Esquimalt and $140 to Connaught Seamen's Institute.

LADIES' ASSISTANCE
 Mrs. Sayer presented the thirteenth annual report of the Connaught Guild giving a detailed account of various activities, hospital visiting, relief work, Christmas work, the sending out to lonely lighthouses, boxes of Christmas cheer, reading matter, gifts, woolens etc.

"The Steadfast Heart"
 By Clarence Budington Kelland

The making of a man in the crucible of life's bitterest experiences and the final reward of high courage and dogged loyalty to principle form the theme of this stirring novel. From the first unforgettable scenes of a childhood surrounded by terror and violence, Angus Burke takes possession of the imagination and heart of the reader. To be forced from childhood into situations desperate enough to test the courage of a man with a life of high influences behind him, to face small-town prejudice and persecution, to live down a crime committed unknowingly, and to fall in love with a beautiful, spirited girl who is too fond of her ancestors, is the fate of this waif from the dark outskirts of society.

How Angus wins his first victory over himself, how he refuses to be beaten by a town arrayed against him, how he comes through a dramatic crisis, and, finally, finds a recompense for his sufferings, make a story full of stark reality and thrilling romance.
 Opening chapters of this story will appear to-morrow in The Times.
