Dedication

Perhaps within a year . . . maybe two or three . . . the day shall arrive when thoughts can at last turn homeward with complete assurance of happiness.

All the boys will celebrate . . . Mothers will shed a few tears, pray thankfulness . . . Dads will swell with relief and pride . . . and the girls—well, you know.

It is to that day . . . and to those succeeding . . . that 44-5 fervently dedicates their book . . . and future actions.

Oath

In the presence of Almighty God, I do solemnly swear and affirm that I will accept the precious trust placed upon me by my Commander in Chief, the President of the United States of America, by whose direction I have been chosen for bombardier training.

I pledge myself to live and act according to the Code of Honor of the Bombardiers of the Army Air Forces.

Colonel J. W. White
Commanding Officer

26 February 1944

To The Class of 44-5:

You need not be congratulated because you completed your training program as Bombardier Cadets. This was expected when you qualified for such specialized training. However, you are to be commended for the highly successful manner in which your class completed such a long and strenuous training.

Having completed this training each of you may consider yourselves as the most dangerous fighters in the world. Your primary mission is to be an integral part of the strategic offensive that will hasten the day when our armies will be victorious and the World will again be at peace.

The Class of 44-5 leaves this post well equipped for the task at hand. Your training has not ended, however. Training never ceases for a good officer. This you will realize more fully as you assume the tasks for which you have been trained.

Our business today is war, but the training you have received as a cadet will be of benefit to you as a man throughout your life. In peace or war the terms Officer and Gentleman are synonymous. A successful officer has those qualities which in peace time gain for him the respect and best wishes of his friends and neighbors.

Accept my commendations on a job well done—and a greater job warranted.

LT. COLONEL J. D. JONES
Director of Training

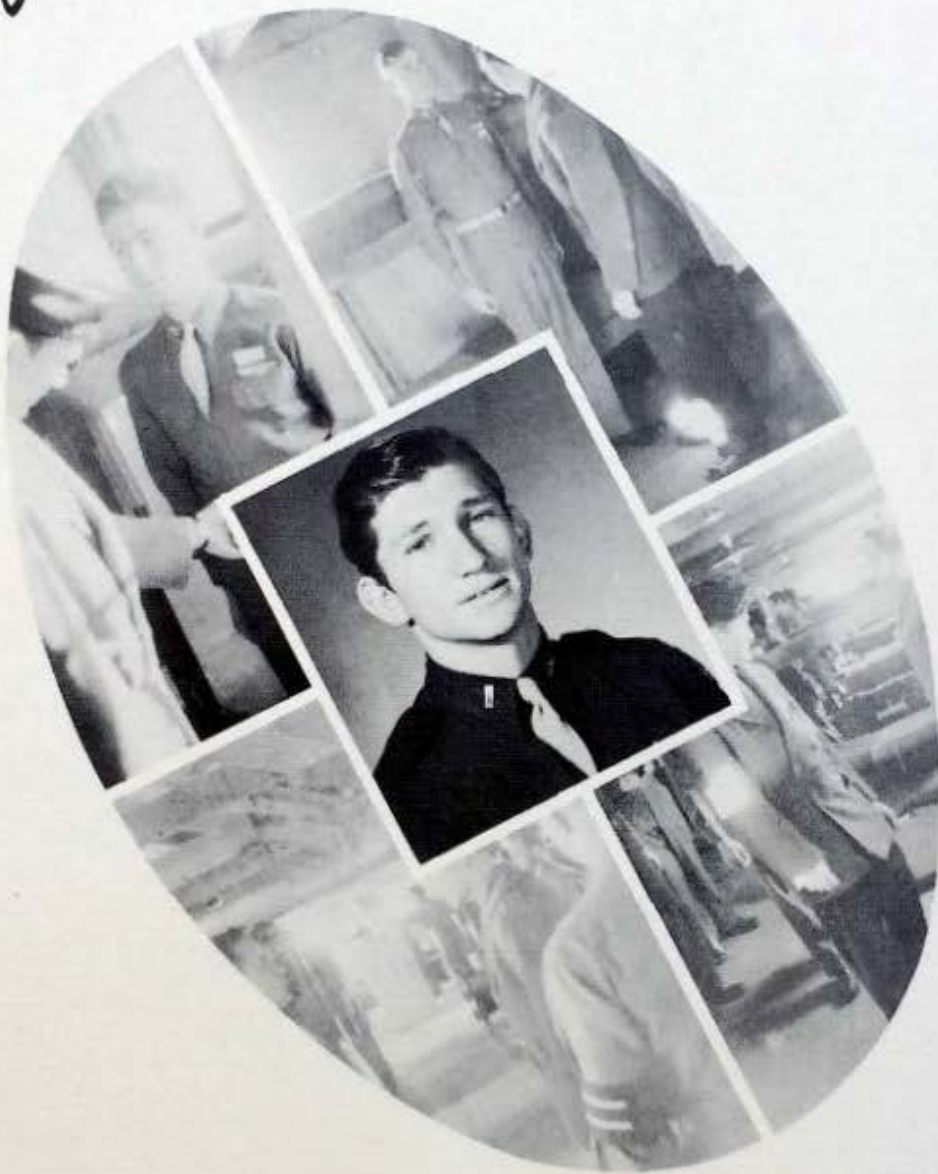

MAJ. FRANKLIN CRAIG, JR.
Director of Flying

CAPT. R. G. McALLEN
Director of Ground School

Lt. Daniel

TO THE MEMBERS OF CLASS 44-5:

Gentlemen, you have done an excellent job and acquired a high proficiency in your training. May you always strive for greater heights, and surely the Air Forces will be as proud of you as I.

When you fly over Tokyo, Berlin, or whatever target is selected, remember you are not alone. The spirit of all your instructors flies with you, and we feel that our confidence in you is well placed. Lead the way and set the example for the men who follow. You can do the job.

O. H. DANIEL,

In Memoriam

To 44-5, Edmund Goldin has not gone. His friendliness, resilient wit and strength of character, have left an indelible imprint upon our memories. Such everlasting qualities as these are impossible to forget in a true friend and buddy.

In the years ahead we will remember his sincerity and smiling courage. From somewhere beyond mortal reach, Eddie will fly with us to glory high above the bomb shattered Reich and the smoking ruin of Hirohito's empire.
