No Food can Compare with UNCLE TOBY'S

SCIENTISTS say that Uncle Toby's Rolled Oats will develop perfect womanhood. American ladies are aware of the great value of oats food as a SKIN BEAUTIFIER, and food experts say that the beautiful complexions and fine figures of American ladies are owing to their liberal use of rolled oats for food, and also as washes for the face, neck and hands. So well-known is this fact

"Too Painful to Bear."

Another Proof from Newtown.

The Case of
Mr. W. S. HART.

(By a Local Reporter.)

"When I was living at Cairns, in Queensland," said Mr. William Samuel Hart (this statement, by-the-way, was made at his residence, No. 41 Toogoolstreet, Newtown, at a meeting held to some internal arrangements, and I don't mind telling you that the pain I had was too much for any mortal man to bear.)

"Was it ever severe enough to incapacitate you from work?" questioned our reporter.

"I should rather say it was. Why, it used to fairly cripple me sometimes. I remember once the pains across the lower part of my back, and the throbbing in my head, were so severe that I dropped off a horse I was riding at the time, and you may believe it or not, as you like, but if my life had depended on it, I could not get up again. And you can further gauge my sufferings by the fact that on more than one occasion I had to take to my bed, and stay there for five or six weeks at a stretch. Oh, they were weeks of misery if you use—could I read owing to my sight being affected by a peculiar disease, and I was unable by the almost continual presence of headaches that fairly racked my brain. Unless I got up from a chair very slowly, I could not receive such a shock of giddiness that for the moment I'd almost totter and fall, so I had to be careful; but it was not often I stirred myself again, and I was sorry because my energy was so sadly lacking."

"How did you get on at meal times? Could you eat fairly well?"

"As a rule I had no appetite at all, but when I did eat I felt worse than never. Pains came over in the stomach, and made me feel wretched. The same part was also filled with gases that arose from the food that I could not digest, and for a time I could do nothing but belch. Why, even if I only took a drink of water I'd start belching as if I had only been swallowing so much wind, and what a sickly taste I had in the mouth, too! All going to prove that I was bilious and generally out of order. My chest would give me the impression that a piece of rock was inside it, so oppressive was the sensation, and, as if everything had combined to make my life as miserable as possible, the very taste enjoy when my health was good now steadfastly refused to put in an appearance. There I was, night after night, as wretched yet as tired as possible, and as each morning came round again I felt almost fatigued to death.

Now, nothing I tried could do anything but Clements Tonic, and I used it condition but Clements Tonic, and I have told scores the same thing. I gave you my word that before I was divided to try Clements Tonic I was at my wife's ends what to do to regain my health, and I firmly believe that no other remedy but Clements Tonic could bring it back to me. I say this from my own experience. But what a marvellous medicine it proved in my case can be gathered from the fact that I was able to get up in my time, most at once Clements Tonic made me eat heartily, and it had such a soothing effect on my nerves and my system generally that I never failed to sleep soon after going to bed. For the permanent relief from the pains about my back, chest, shoulders, stomach, much I should always be ready to Clements Tonic, which was equally sure in removing my headaches and other distressing ailments. As long as I live I shall advise the use of that remedy for nervousness and weakness, and in every manner possible Clements Tonic made a new man of me."

"Shall we spread this news, Mr.
Hart?"

"You are at liberty to publish it in any book or paper in confidence, because my story will help others to throw off their complaints in the way I did."

STATUTORY DECLARATION.

I, WILLIAM SAMUEL HART, of 41 Toogoolstreet, Newtown, in the State of New South Wales, Commonwealth of Australia, do solemnly and sincerely declare that I have carefully read the aforesaid document, containing three copies and consecutively numbered one to three, and that it contains and ness and cure by Clements Tonic, and that it contains my full permission to publish in any way my statements, and to give voluntarily, without receiving any payment, and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believe the same to be true, and in full compliance
