Def. Doc. # 3056

(IPS Doc. 3150 -- 10) (Ehx. 3756 -- A) Supplement

> "Harada Saionji Memoirs" Chapter 10 (14 Sept. '31)

On the whole, the two had come to a general accord.

The Finance Minister desires the postponement of the year of commencement of the Army reorganization project. The year of completion of the project will be the same as originally planned, but by postponing the year of commencement, he plans somehow to cope with the financial difficulties involved.

It appears that the Army is much perplexed with the fact that promises made by a given Cabinet may be made as a scrap of paper each time by a succeeding Cabinet when changes of Cabinet take place.
