MANY CELEBRATE THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

FAMILY GATHERINGS, REUNIONS, DINNERS, PARTIES AND CHRISTMAS TREE CELEBRATIONS ARE FEATURES OF HOLIDAY WEEK IN GLENDALE

FAMILY REUNION

A delightful family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery, 117 South Kenwood street, Monday, when twenty-three sat down to the bounteously laden Christmas table and did justice to three big turkeys. Poinsettias and smilax were used in the pretty decorations and joy and merriment reigned supreme. The afternoon was spent in games and in the evening a musical program and dancing were enjoyed. Everyone present contributed to the entertainment, either dancing, singing or telling a story. One of the most interesting parts of the program was the three tenor solos contributed by Mr. Harris in the Welsh language. Mr. Harris is ninety-one years of age and his voice is remarkably clear and firm for one of his years. His home is in Chicago and he is spending some time here visiting his daughter, Mrs. Ferguson. Those present were Dr. A. L. Bryant and family, J. G. Ferguson and family, Benjamin Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston, Mrs. Harriett Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Smith of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery and family.

TRIPLE CELEBRATION

Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Field and Miss Bessie Field of 239 South Kenwood street spent a delightful Christmas day in Los Angeles with old family friends, the Earl R. Osborns of 901 West Eighteenth street. A Christmas dinner and a tree were enjoyed, Walter Osborn, the only child in the gathering, acting as Santa Claus and delivering the presents from the tree. The occasion was also the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Murdoch's wedding anniversary and Mr. Murdoch's birthday anniversary, and later in the evening a big birthday cake was served, the place cards having tiny wedding bells. The party included Dr. and Mrs. Sanborn and their two sons and families and other relatives of the host and hostess. Music and games contributed to the happy celebration.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

Mrs. Mary J. Oliver of 1314 Central avenue entertained on Christmas day her brother, Atty. Gilbert Wyvell and family of Sierra Madre, and her brother James Wyvell and daughter, Miss Pearl, of Los Angeles. The same evening Miss Marie Oliver entertained a number of high school friends with a Christmas party. Decorations of holly, ferns and ivy were suggestive of the season and the young people made merry with games and music. Among those who helped to entertain the guests were Miss Leone Brice and Miss Melba Weiler, Miss Anderson, Miss Oliver and Mrs. Wyvell and Miss Wyvell. Late in the evening refreshments were served.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES

The C. W. Kimberly home at 345 South San Fernando road, Tropic, was gay with Christmas festivities on Monday, the house being very beautifully decorated for the occasion with smilax, holly, poinsettias, and roses, a color scheme of pink and green being carried out in the dining room and red and green in the living room. Places were marked for nine at the dinner table, the guests being as follows: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Woolsey of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Booth of Tropic, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Sanders of Tropic, Miss E. M. Johnson and Mr. Amsbury of Los Angeles. The centerpiece on the dinner table was a beautiful little Christmas tree bearing a gift for each guest. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kimberly kept open house for their Los Angeles friends and quite a number were present to enjoy their hospitality. The hours were spent in cards, dancing and other enjoyable pastimes.

HAPPY FAMILY GATHERING

Hotel Gray was the scene of a festive occasion on Christmas day when the family of O. S. Richardson assembled together in a reunion as the guests of his granddaughters, Cora Louise, Virginia, Jane and Betsy Butterfield. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. B. Richardson with their son Alexander and their daughter Jane, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson with their son Frank Jr., Miss Grace Richardson, and Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Johnson of Richmond, Va., Mr. Johnson being the special guest of honor, who with Mrs. Johnson will be the house guest of the Misses Butterfield for some weeks. All of the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Richardson were present excepting one daughter and one granddaughter who are in the east. Mrs. J. E. Daniels of Chicago, who has come to spend a second winter in Southern California, was present as a guest of the family and also Miss Ida Waite, principal of the Colorado Boulevard school. After dinner the family went in automobiles to the various homes for brief visits and to exchange Christmas wishes, and so passed a Christmas day long to be remembered.

FAMILY CHRISTMAS REUNION

Mr. B. L. Cushman of 1023 Chestnut street, manager of the Home Telephone Company of Glendale, and his wife, gave a big Christmas dinner to a number of relatives and friends. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Seeley of Hollywood, sister and brother-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deigh, sister and brother-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hughast, brother and sister-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hughast of San Fernando, father and mother; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thrasher and daughter, Lelia, from Enid, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Horne of Hollywood. They have a family reunion every year with one of the families acting as hostess. Mrs. Seeley of Hollywood is to entertain next Christmas. Every one enjoyed the day and the only thing they objected to was the long wait from now till next Christmas.

Miss Catherine Lord was hostess to a pleasant dancing party given by a club of girls of the younger set at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Lord, 127 North Brand boulevard, on Saturday evening. A gayly decorated Christmas tree and a delicious supper were also a part of the evening's pleasures, and Miss Lord proved herself a delightful hostess. The decorations were all suggestive of the holiday season. Those present were Misses Aileen Freeman, Helen Case, Lila Shea, Helen McMullin, Ardis Heisler, Eloise Seamon, Jean Anderson, Nettie Wervie, Margaret Gregg, Rebecca Gregg, Cecelia Lyons and Catherine Lord; Messrs. Tom Phillips, Milton Brown, Lawrence Davis, Walter Beach, J. T. Beach, Percy McIntyre, Fred Dodge, Harry Glazier, I. S. Brown, Jamie Shea, Owen Dibbern, Montgomery Coole and Ed Seay.

MR. AND MRS. FURST ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Furst, whose wedding occurred on Friday, were the honored guests at the elaborate dinner and Christmas celebration given by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Phillips of 2524 Tenth avenue, Los Angeles, on Sunday evening. The house was beautifully decorated in the Christmas colors, and although it was storming outside only good cheer, gaiety and merriment ruled within. Before being seated at the dining table all drank a toast to the bride and groom in California grape juice. A handsomely decorated and generously laden Christmas tree was enjoyed by the children after the dinner. Those present besides the host and hostess and guests of honor were Dr. and Mrs. Furst of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and daughter Winifred, Mrs. M. Ewell Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans and daughter Catherine, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pigg, Dudley and Willie Pigg, all of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ernest Phillips, and Misses Anna Ewell and Geraldine Phillips of Los Angeles.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Justema at 304 South Central avenue was the scene of a merry Christmas party on Monday, when they entertained at dinner Mrs. Rhea Blair, Miss Sena Justema, and Ralph Van Dusen of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Corey Dudley of Glendale and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Savage and daughter, Miss Dorothy Savage, of Minneapolis, who are spending the winter in Los Angeles.

Christmas was celebrated with a family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis M. Kimball, 1303 Maple avenue, Monday, covers being laid for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hinchliff and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kimball of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Barry of Los Angeles.

AT HOPE PLACE

A TRUE STORY OF CHRISTMAS WEEK IN THE LONG AGO

Over the hills and through the woods
To grandfather's house we go,
Glad voices singing, sleigh bells
ringing,
As we glide over the snow.

And, as we leave the road to climb
the hill we see the big house is lighted; from every window a gleam of light welcome shines forth.

The dear old grand parents with silver white hair stand on the steps of the broad piazza with open arms to enfold their loved ones and the tiny terrier dog, with the big St.
Bernard, are wagging their tails with joy, jumping upon each child as he reaches the top step. Oh, what a merry, happy crowd of children enter the broad door, knowing that all of the Christmas week is to be one of joy and gladness, not only for them but many other persons.

As we enter the library door we find warmth and dancing flames in the big, open fireplace to gladden our hearts. All the rooms are hung with Christmas greenery and red bells.
Over the broad chimney hangs the baby size wax Christ child with arms extended and the fingers spread for the blessing over us. This beautiful wax Christ child our grand parents purchased in Germany.

All of the next day we were busy hiding from sight the gifts we had brought for our dear relatives and friends, and with Ben and Nelson, the two devoted colored men, we drove in the big wagon carrying gifts and Christmas dinner to many poor in the neighborhood. We were taught to feel and know that life is sweetened and broadened in proportion to our thoughtfulness for those less fortunate than ourselves.

It is a real joy, as everybody should know, to remember with some memento those we love, but there is not even in this half the joy that comes from helping the helpless and poor in spirit.

Our dear, generous grand parents loved children and always had many about them.

After supper all the family were gathered in the library room for a Christmas eve home service and we sang in softened voices the beautiful

"Holy night, silent night
All is calm, all is bright,
Round yon virgin mother and child,
Holy infant, so tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace,
Sleep in heavenly peace."

and

"The dear old Christmas story
You have not understood
Unless you find life glory
And know that God means good;
You need not seek earth over
To find this beauteous guest,
For lo, the kingly lover
Lives in each living breast."

We always loved to sing these hymns and a dear aunt played them for us with so much expression and beauty.

Then came the fun of hanging stockings big and small around the fireplace or on the chairs and doors.
"Good night" was said and all the younger children were put in their beds, while older people made ready their surprises for the next morning.

Before daylight we were all awakened with the noise of jingling sleigh bells. Some ran to the bed room doors to see the dash of Santa Claus through the broad hall as he ran by in his fur robes peering into rooms to see if any empty stockings were near fireplaces or beds. A cry was heard, "Tis grandpa," as he quickly disappeared.

It was a difficult task to keep the children in their rooms until the rising bell should ring for all to dress and meet in the library before the rousing fire, but none were examined of all the gifts to be seen until we had our Christmas morning song,

"Children, can you truly tell,
Do you know the story well?
Every girl and every boy,
Why the angels sang for joy
On a Christmas morning
The angels sang for joy?"

and

"Christ our Lord was born today,
So let all the children say
With the heart, and with the voice,
All His little one's rejoice,
For He came on earth to be
A child, for the sake of you and me."

For this morning service our grand parents wished all of the servants to unite and so we had the smiling faces of black Ben and Nelson, the coachman, and Butler John, the German gardener, Nora, the Irish cook,
old Mary, fat and jolly, the Irish

F. A. C. WINS

Despite the fact that a piercing wind was blowing over the valley from the snow-capped peaks a large number of spectators gathered to witness the F. A. C.-Men's Club football game on the intermediate school grounds Christmas morning.

Glendale fans have witnessed more scientific games but seldom more exciting ones than the one played on Monday. The Men's Club had a decided advantage in weight over their opponents and they are all veterans at the game. However, they lacked the organization displayed by the F.
A. C. team, which cut through their lines time after time, working their little plans with astonishing ease.

Perhaps if the Men's Club had had more practice the story would have been different. The only thing to do is to tell the tale as it was, 20-0 was the final score. The players on both teams gained an appetite for Christmas dinner.

SOLDIER BOY RETURNED

Harry Spink, formerly a student at Glendale high school, and who has been serving Uncle Sam on the Mexican border, arrived home Sunday on a holiday leave of absence.
Harry has some interesting stories to tell of his experience on the border. He expects to be home for good in a few days.

laundress and dairy maid, Katie, the pretty house maid, and Bridget, the nurse. Presents for each one, even old fashioned ginger bread horses
and men were found in stockings.
Such a lot of pretty gifts to look over, even new dog collars for Folly and Tom, who were in the room to enjoy the fun. With our new skates and sleds and dolls we made merry, sliding down the hill or skating over the pond until called to get ready for the church service we had been brought up to love.

Soon we heard the church bells ringing and when the large roomy sleigh came to the door how we crowded in and under the fur robes, singing merrily as we rode over the hill and through the valley, these words,

"Fling wide the gates, old Father
Time,
Ring the bells—ring the bells,
And then ring out the merry chime,
Turn back the bolts—unbar the door,
For Chris' nas time is here once more.

Ring the bells, the merry Christmas
bells."

We stopped as we came near the pretty stone church, for the chimes were ringing the stirring tune of the old Latin hymn,

"Ad-es-te Fi-de-les,
Be-ni-te a-do-re-mus."

As we entered the door the choir sang the glorious, ringing song, and soon every voice joined in—

"O come, all ye faithful,
Joyful and triumphant;
O come ye, o come ye to Bethlehem,
Come and behold Him, monarch of angels,
Come, let us adore Him,
Christ the Lord."

The beautiful service ended and a Merry Christmas to all was heard from many voices as they left the church yard. Then home we started for the feast of good things to be found on the well spread table. In the good old days the table fairly groaned with toothsome food and so arranged one could see before them
what they were expected to enjoy.
A big turkey at one end of the board and a little roast pig with apple in his mouth at the other, with all the etceteras one could imagine.

For dessert was brought in the plum pudding with its sprig of holly and blazing with light. In front of a sunny window in the dining room was placed a small table with four little chairs and a pretty set of dishes

MUST MAKE GOOD FINANCIAL SHOWING

The officials of railroad companies and other large corporations who have the public to satisfy and also must make a favorable financial report to the stockholders have a twofold obligation to perform. The public calls for better service and for improvements in the road or other property of the company in question and if the desires of the public are satisfied there is additional expense.

It is therefore necessary for the officials of a railroad company to so conduct the affairs of the company that the general public will be fairly well satisfied and the stockholders will be able to realize profitable dividends. To accomplish this there is a tendency on the part of the officials to be slow in making improvements or adding to the service in any way that will incur much extra expense.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SAVING MONEY

As the old year closes and the New Year is about to be ushered in, it may be in place to remind young men and women that one of the New Year's resolutions should be to practice economy and if in a position to do so a stated amount of money should be laid away every week and that practice should be kept up while these individuals enjoy an earning capacity.

Savings banks and life insurance companies are offering valuable advice to young men and young women concerning the saving of money. Money paid in to reliable insurance companies and money deposited in reputable savings banks is wisely invested.

NO SUCCESS WITHOUT HARD WORK

Thomas Edison has defined genius as 2 per cent. inspiration and 98 per cent. perspiration. A study of the habits of the great wizard, who is himself the greatest genius of the age, would lead one to believe in the accuracy of the definition. In his working rooms in his New Jersey laboratory, Mr. Edison punches a time card each day when he comes and goes, just the same as any employe.

No great tasks are accomplished without hard work. The tendency of this age seems to be to get away from work. A few years ago a day's routine on the farm included rising at 4 o'clock in the morning and continuing at work at the nightly chores long after dark.

There are few of us who have the two per cent. of brains or inspiration possessed by Mr. Edison, and a lifetime of application in his laboratory for some of us would be time wasted. Mr. Edison is rendering a service to the world and humanity that sets him apart from common mortals, and while we might do well to take a lesson from him in applying ourselves to the particular work to which we feel ourselves adapted and learn that there is no success without hard work, yet there is a happy medium between the man who works and gives no thought to recreation and the one who seeks pleasure alone, that we all should seek after.

CARPI-MONNOT WEDDING

Miss Mary Monnot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Monnot of 416 Fernando court, was united in marriage Monday to Mr. James Carpi, son of Mrs. A. Carpi of 311 South Glendale avenue, Tropic. The wedding took place in Los Angeles, the bride being attended by her sister, Miss Emma Monnot, and the groom by his brother, Peter Carpi.

of La Crescenta. The newly wedded couple departed this morning for a wedding trip to San Diego and on their return they will make their home at 301 Glendale avenue.

QUIET WORK

One lesson, Nature, let me learn of thee,
One lesson which in every wind is blown,
One lesson of two duties kept at one Though the loud world proclaim their enmity—
Of toil unweary'd from tranquility!
Of labor, that in lasting fruit out-grows
Far noisier schemes, accomplish'd in repose,
Too great for haste, too high for rivalry!

—Matthew Arnold.

Facts and Comment

Recent decisions by the third district appellate court indicate that unless an automobilist "stops, looks and listens" at railroad crossings he has very little chance of collecting damages if his auto is smashed up or if he sustains personal injury in the accident.

A series of "Home Products" exhibitions will be held at various interior cities of California beginning early in 1917, conducted under the auspices of the Home Industry League of California.

Reservations are being made rapidly and others should promptly write Secretary C. H. Parsons at the California Savings Bank, Los Angeles, and secure places. All the Hawkeyes are wanted and the tourists and visitors will find it a fine chance to meet the old friends. The Iowans are a right jolly bunch and always have a good time in these reunions to celebrate the admission of Iowa to the union.

DEATH OF JUDGE CHARLES C. MCCOMAS

One of the best known residents of Los Angeles county was called by the Grim Reaper when Charles C. McComas passed away at 5 o'clock Saturday morning at his place of residence on West Broadway. The cause of his death was heart failure, he having been afflicted with an affection of the heart for the past four years. Major McComas will be remembered for many years as the chief prosecutor for the county of Los Angeles in the McNamara trial, the strain of which broke down his health. Shortly after this trial he came to the Glendale Sanitarium seeking to regain his health, and lived in this city for the past four years, being seventy-two years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. McComas was born on a farm in Jasper county, Illinois, in 1844 and through perseverance and hard work was admitted to the bar at Decatur, Ill., and soon became one of the best known lawyers in Central Illinois, for four years being state's attorney of Macon county. He fought for three years in the Civil war, where he earned the rank of major. After the war he was married to Alice Moore at Decatur, Ill., to which union four children were born, three of which, Mrs. Chas. P. Gray, Mrs. Norman Robinson, Miss Carroll and his wife, survive him.

In 1877 Major McComas moved from Illinois to Parsons, Kans., and while there was elected probate judge of Pawnee county. In 1880 he moved to Albuquerque, N. M., where he lived until 1886, when he came to Los Angeles. Being appointed deputy district attorney of Los Angeles county in 1889, he served under the different attorneys, with the exception of two years, until 1912.

At the time of Judge McComas' death his wife and two of his daughters were in New York city, Mrs. Robinson of Los Angeles being the only one who will be present at the funeral, which will be held at the Jewel City Undertaking Parlors Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will be in charge of the Bartlett Post G. A. R. of which Maj. McComas was an active member.

for the four youngest in the family. Three little M.'s, so called by the grandparents, Mattie, Mary and Madge, and Willie, just six years of age. With much merriment the day closed, but when the shadows began to fall there came many sleigh loads of friends and Sunday school scholars to this big house for the Christmas tree given for many to enjoy.

When the crowd assembled in hall, library and sitting room the opening chords of their tune were struck on the piano and all sang.

"The dear old Christmas story You have not understood, Unless you find life glory And know that God means good. There is but one great Spirit, And that is Love supreme, We all are dwelling near it, We only sin who dream. And love makes life worth living, In love—Christ lives again."

Then all were formed in line and marched through the hall singing "Gather Around the Christmas Tree" when the wide doors of the long drawing room were thrown open before their eyes stood an immense fir tree, candle lighted and full of gifts.

As the children sang they marched around the tree and to their amazement and delight, sat Santa Claus in the bay window at end of the room, fat and his face wreathed in smiles. On each side of him were large baskets of oranges, apples and cakes, which he gave to each child as they passed.

From outside colored fire was burned, throwing a bright, ruddy light upon the central figure and the warmth of the room brought out the fresh breath of the pine woods from the wreathing hung all around.

In a short time an Irishman came in with his fiddle to liven up with fine old tunes. He fell into an Irish jig, when to the joy of all down came Santa from his seat and joined in throwing off his fur robe and such dancing the children had never seen, when with fiddle in hand the Jolly Irishman joined, and the little ones were charmed to find that Santa was a human being and not a myth.

After all had enjoyed a dance the gay crowd scattered to their homes, all feeling happy and gay. So many little parties were given during the week and we had one of them, when the French dancing master who had taught two or three generations was invited to dear Hope Place to guide us in our dancing. He brought with him old Torso, the Italian, and dancing school violinist.

He was delighted to meet some of the old scholars and to enjoy the piano accompaniment of our dear auntie, who when a girl had played with him for many little dances among her own school fellows.

What a fine time we had dancing the Lancers, mazurka and polka redowa, with waltzes. Some of the young people were beautiful fancy dancers and as we had the "Highland Fling," "Cracovienne," "Sailor's Horn Pipe," and two, a boy and girl, gave us "A Gypsy Dance" with castanet and tambourine. Then, to finish up the glad evening, old and young danced in the long, broad hall, an old fashioned "Virginia Reel."

Such fun it was to see our dear old grand parents and the parents of children enjoying the dance. One more day of merrymaking was ended.

But the crowning was to come later, for which many of the friends and guests were making great preparations.

This was for New Year eve, when many of the village people were expected to join in this festivity. A platform was made in the bay window of the long drawing room with small rooms on each side, screen covered, for those serving in the entertainment to be given. The room, lighted only over the stage, and when the doors were thrown open to the guests there was the beautiful picture of "Winter Linger in the Lap of Spring," a mound of snow against a green bank, with crocus and spring beauties peeping through the grass. This picture passed from our sight and the tableaux was a fair, pretty girl, dressed in filmy robe of green, holding in her arms a spray of apple blossoms and around her feet were hyacinths, daffodils and violets, all to represent Spring.

Then Summer, rosy in tint, in flowing robes of pink, her arms full of roses, wreaths of roses hung around the stage, with many summer flowers strewn over the floor.

The next, a tall girl with different type of beauty, in a robe of pale brown, with bright red and gold autumn leaves wreathing her hair and branches of beautiful fall flowers and leaves in her arms. Over Autumn was thrown a red-golden light, giving a beautiful effect.

The next tableaux, a man dressed in furs tramping through the snow, icicles hanging from his cap and glistening in the steely white light. So passed Winter once more before our wondering eyes. As a bell was tolling the hour of midnight upon the stage appeared old Father Time with bent form and gray straggling locks of hair, over his flowing robe of white. In one hand he carried an hour glass and over his shoulder a large scythe. He slowly passed from sight as the bell struck twelve. So the old year departed.

A pause—no sound was heard, and then, merrily rang the bell in loud tone and bounding on the scene our baby, three year old Madge, a beautiful, winsome child, only a loin cloth of silver around her loins, and, as she poised on one foot, her sweet face wreathed in smiles, she cried out, "A Happy New Year to All," and then the glad cry went out from all assembled. In a few moments a curtain was drawn aside and "The Angel of Peace" stood upon a marble pedestal with her golden hair flowing over her shoulders, silver wings up-raised, and arms outstretched over us, and two white doves at her feet.

She was so fair and beautiful to look at the tableaux was perfect. A short reading, appropriate to each scene, was well rendered by a concealed reader.

Every guest said it was a fitting close for the old year and advent of the new. The dining room doors were thrown open, refreshments were served, and as supper was finished "Auld Lang Syne" was sung.

The night was a glorious one, bright with the silver moon, and as the gay, happy parties were tucked into their sleighs for the home ride, horns were blowing, glad voices singing and the air ringing with Happy New Year, thus closing a happy and eventful week in the beautiful home we loved, oh, so well!

WHY GOLD PIECES ARE DOCTORED

Why don't jewelers melt up $10 and $20 gold pieces in order to use the metal in the manufacture of gold jewelry? indeed, gold pieces were used some forty years ago by enterprising jewelers and with success, too—until the practice was stopped in a very novel and effective way. In those days jewelers bought enough $10 and $20 gold pieces for the work in hand. The gold was melted, the necessary alloys were added, and all manner of fine Etruscan work was turned out.

It was not long, however, before the government began to wonder what was becoming of its gold pieces. The officials knew the people were not hoarding gold, so a quiet investigation took place. It was then discovered that the makers of gold jewelry were to blame. Having found the cause, it was not difficult for officials to find a cure. They did by "peppering" the coins with iridium. Resembling black mercury in the crude state, iridium requires a heat of 3542 degrees Fahrenheit to melt it. Gold, on the other hand, can be melted at 1913 degrees Fahrenheit. It is easy to see, then, how the unsuspecting jeweler, melting up his gold pieces at the temperature required, got a large number of unmelted specs of iridium in his metal when it cooled.

You can imagine his dismay when his analysis and deductions revealed that he had been trapped.—Popular Science Monthly.

TAKE THAT!

"Well, I'd be ashamed if I had as bald a head as you! Look at my head of hair!"

"I just want to ask you one question."

"Yes."

"Did you ever see grass growing on a busy street?"—Ex.

TRY THIS ON YOUR JUDGE

"What was all the argument between you and Judge Flivver yesterday?"
"Oh, we were discussing the merits of our respective cars."
"That's a foolish thing to do. You can never convince a man that your car is better than his."

"I know that, but I got him so mad that he committed himself to the statement that my car can't make over ten miles an hour. The next time I'm brought up before him for speeding I'll remind him of that."
