F. W. KELLOGG ACCUSED OF BUSINESS TRICKERY

Controlling Owner of The Press Named in Suit to Secure Injunction

SENSATIONAL charges of trickery are made against F. W. Kellogg, business manager and part owner of the Los Angeles Evening Express, by S. S. Conklin, former manager of the Anaheim Herald, now secretary and treasurer of the Long Beach Telegram, in a suit filed yesterday in the superior court of Orange county, the action including some of Kellogg's associates in business.

Because of the fact that Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, printed here and inserted with the Los Angeles Evening Express, the suit is of local interest, especially in view of the nature of the charges made by Conklin.

Attempting, it is claimed, to swell the circulation of The Los Angeles Express, Kellogg has acquired control of a number of papers in Southern California, his plan being, apparently, to get direction through more or less complicated stock arrangements and then order the local publications inserted in his Los Angeles paper.

L. A. Advertising
Claiming increased circulation, Kellogg's organization in Los Angeles then seeks additional business from Los Angeles merchants, despite the fact that the advertising of the Los Angeles merchants is put in direct competition with that of the local merchants through the combination of the two papers.

Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, inserted with The Los Angeles Evening Express for circulation in Glendale.

As a stockholder in Kellogg's paper at Anaheim, Conklin, in his complaint, asks for an injunction against Kellogg and some of his associates from carrying out certain plans regarding the Anaheim publication.

Judge R. Y. Williams of Orange county has issued an order instructing Kellogg and others named to appear in court April 27 and show cause why the injunction should not be issued.

Controls Local Papers
A portion of the complaint declares that:

"Plaintiff is informed and believes, and upon such information and belief alleges that for the purpose of increasing the circulation of Los Angeles Evening Express, printed and published by defendant, Express Publishing Company, in which last named corporation defendant, F. W. Kellogg, is a large stockholder, as aforesaid, and with intent to increase the advertising matter printed and published in said Los Angeles Evening Express, and thereby augment the profits of said Express Publishing Company and increase the value of his holdings of stock in said corporation, said defendant, F. W. Kellogg, has devised and executed the scheme of acquiring a majority of the issued and outstanding capital stock of smaller corporations printing and publishing newspapers locally in smaller cities in the neighborhood of the city of Los Angeles, in addition to the corporations hereinbefore mentioned printing and publishing newspapers at the cities of Anaheim and Santa Ana."

Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, inserted with The Los Angeles Evening Express for circulation in Glendale.

The suit charges that Kellogg, having acquired the Anaheim Herald, a prospering newspaper, and the Santa Ana News, a money loser, decided to amalgamate the two and threaten to buy the equipment of the latter paper at double its inventory value with an increased issue of stock of the Anaheim paper.

Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, inserted with the Los Angeles Evening Express for circulation in Glendale.

Merchants Condemn Kellogg's Methods

CHARGING, among other things, that F. W. Kellogg, business manager and part owner of the Los Angeles Evening Express, is using trickery in a circulation boosting scheme, S. S. Conklin, former manager of the Anaheim Herald, now secretary and treasurer of the Long Beach Telegram, has filed suit in Orange county against Kellogg and some of his associates. In view of the fact that Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, printed here and inserted with the Los Angeles Evening Express, the suit is of local interest, especially the following portions of the complaint on file:

(1) That for the purpose of increasing the circulation of said Los Angeles Evening Express in the City of Anaheim and in the territory adjacent to said city, heretofore served by defendant, Anaheim Company, said defendant, F. W. Kellogg, does now and will hereafter, unless enjoined, cause said Anaheim Company to offer for sale and sell to its subscribers at the regular subscription price of the newspaper heretofore printed and published by said Anaheim Company, both said Anaheim newspaper and the Los Angeles Evening Express.

That said defendant, F. W. Kellogg, has heretofore, by virtue of his control over said Santa Ana Company, caused said last named corporation to adopt and carry on the same practice; that said practice is extremely detrimental and injurious to the business of the smaller corporation in that merchants and business men in the smaller community are disinclined to place their advertising matter with a newspaper which is sold and distributed together with the Los Angeles Evening Express, since said last named newspaper publishes the advertisements of large mercantile and retail establishments located in the City of Los Angeles, which, by mail orders and other devices, compete with said local merchants and business men.

That in the case of said Santa Ana Company said practice has occasioned and provoked resolutions of condemnation and censure from organizations of merchants and business men at said City of Santa Ana, to-wit, the Santa Ana Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, the Auto Trades Association and the Santa Ana Realty Board.

That it has contributed in a large part to the loss heretofore sustained by said Santa Ana Company; said practice has, in the case of defendant, Anaheim Company, so plaintiff

Attribute Excavator's Death To Ire Of Egypt's Deities

CAIRO, Egypt, April 5.—The body of Lord Carnarvon, discoverer of the tomb of Tut-Ank-Amen, in the Valley of the Kings, who died from infection caused by the bite of an insect, will be taken to England for burial, it was announced today.

Circumstances of the most sensational nature surround the death of the Egyptologist. After the physicians announced that he had been poisoned by the bite of a bug, superstitious Egyptians circulated the report that his illness resulted from an ancient curse imposed by the Pharaohs upon anyone who disturbed their graves. This was changed to apply to anyone who disturbed a Pharaoh's tomb "during fullness of the moon."

Lord Carnarvon was bitten upon the cheek by an insect just after the tomb of Tut-Ank-Amen had been re-sealed with the mummy still resting within the inner chamber. Shortly afterwards it was announced that the infection had spread to the lungs and that pneumonia had developed. His condition fluctuated, improving or declining day by day.

Lord Portchester, who will acquire the title of Lord Carnarvon, is married to an American girl, Catherine Wendell of New York.

March Leads All Previous Months In The Amount Of Display And Classified Advertising Published

WITH a total of 24,939 inches of display and 9,995 inches of classified advertising in The Glendale Evening News for the month of March—all previous records are broken. The business-getting power of The Evening News in display and classified advertising is the talk of the town—nothing like it.

In the history of newspaperdom in Glendale The Evening News has always led in volume of monthly business, and March, indeed, is no exception to the rule.

WORLD PACT FOR PEACE HARDING'S PLATFORM

President to Campaign for New World League, Is London Report

LONDON, April 5.—The Daily Sketch today printed a dispatch from its New York correspondent stating that he had been informed by high officials of the American government that President Warren G. Harding would be a candidate for re-election, and that his next campaign would be based upon the proposal for a new treaty to replace the treaty of Versailles.

The cablegram to the Sketch follows: "It is clearly established that President Harding will fight his forthcoming campaign for re-election chiefly upon Lord Robert Cecil's new peace plans. This much was admitted to me by high officials of the American government, and thus it takes the status of being semi-official. Lord Robert Cecil's visit in the interests of a new treaty of peace to take the place of the Versailles treaty and the suggestion that the United States enter into the proposed new treaty thus become emphasized."

Ask World Congress
"A White House official states that President Harding, after the departure of Lord Robert Cecil, will announce his stand for re-election based upon a plan for the creation of a new association of nations with the United States taking full part. "President Harding will ask for an international congress, to be summoned in Washington, to draw up a treaty plan with the co-operation of the United States senate. In this way, bickerings over the treaty will be averted when it is put before that body for ratification. "President Harding will tell the people of the United States that Lord Cecil's plan assures permanent peace, provides against war and gives the nations a chance to recuperate and re-establish themselves."

Hunt Trunk as Clew In Suicide Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Police today sought a trunk that formerly belonged to Esther Grant, mystery suicide, and supposed former wife of a wealthy Chicago broker, as a key to the solution of her identity.

The trunk, police learned, recently was turned over by Mrs. Grant to satisfy a debt to a woman whose name they have not learned. They believe the trunk may contain personal effects which would afford a clue to her past life.

Beyond the trunk clue several torn photographs, a letter from A. H. Buley of Los Angeles in which he comments on an investment Mrs. Grant had made in an oil company and an orchid "love note," the police have been unable to gain any hint of Mrs. Grant's real name or antecedents. The orchid note expatiated on the philosophy of love and ended: "Love never disappears."

Northcliffe-Hudson Wedding Stirs Britain

LONDON, April 5.—There was much gossip in society circles today over the marriage of Viscountess Northcliffe, widow of the noted English publisher, to Sir Robert Hudson, within nine months after the death of her husband. They are on their way to Italy today to spend a long honeymoon following the nuptial ceremony. The wedding was celebrated in the chapel of Harlebury castle, the Episcopal residence of the bishop of Worcester. A special license had been granted by the archbishop of Canterbury, head of the church of England.

Ukraine Peasants Are Executed by Soviets

VIENNA, April 5.—Three hundred and forty peasants were executed by Bolshevik firing squads at Sehtomir following an uprising in Ukraine, according to dispatches received today from Lemberg. The Ukrainian soviet, assisted by the Moscow government, has put down the peasant uprising.

14 DEAD, 50 INJURED BY TERRIFIC CYCLONE

Heavy Property Damage to Crops; Scores of Homes Wrecked, Report

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 5.—Twenty-one are dead and a hundred injured from the Pineville tornado, according to a statement to International News Service this afternoon by V. M. Ake, city treasurer of Alexandria.

The storm, moving in an easterly direction, touched the west portion of Alexandria, across the Red river from Pineville, but wreaked its worst damage in Pineville, where it demolished stores and many dwellings, Ake said.

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—Ten white persons and four negroes are reported dead and fifty or more injured as a result of a cyclone which struck Pineville, La., late yesterday.

Considerable damage to property and crops was reported and additional damage reports are coming in. The cyclone was first seen near Alexandria coming from the northwest, sweeping over the northern part of that town, damaging several houses, then crossed the Red river, taking an eastward course toward Pineville, where the greatest damage resulted.

Houses were flattened, trees uprooted and everything in its path damaged or demolished, including a new college building at Pineville.

Trains Tied Up
Heavy rains and hail storms visited that portion of Louisiana early in the afternoon, also portions of the American territory around New Orleans was visited, lightning and heavy rains falling and increasing as the night drew on.

Five railroads in southern Mississippi were tied up. The heaviest sufferer was the Illinois Central where train service was annulled between New Orleans and Jackson on account of washouts. Heavy crops and vegetables already late on account of freezing weather, are said to have suffered further damage.

No loss of life has been reported in sections east of the Alexandria section.

Houses Destroyed
ATLANTA, Texas, April 5.—Persons living in the Laws Chapel and Alamo communities, reaching Atlanta this morning, report that fully 250 houses were destroyed by a tornado which struck that district late yesterday afternoon.

The twister scattered wreckage over a distance of twenty miles. As far as has been ascertained, no one was severely injured, although many persons suffered minor hurts. Telephone communication with the stricken community is interrupted.

Seek to Prove Jacobs Rented Beach Cottage

SAN DIEGO, April 5.—Did Dr. Louis L. Jacobs, dashing young army physician, rent a Blue Sea cottage at La Jolla on the night Fritz Mann is alleged to have been murdered there?

The prosecution in the case has introduced a mass of evidence seeking to show that the young army officer had made frantic efforts to have the beautiful young dancer relieved of her delicate condition of expectant motherhood.

Today, District Attorney Kempney said he expected to prove by the testimony of handwriting experts that the signature "Alvin C. Johnstone and wife" written on the cottage register by the companion of Fritz Mann on the fatal Sunday evening is identical with the writing of Dr. Jacobs in letters he had acknowledged writing the dancer, Milton Carlson and I. M. Inskop, both of Los Angeles, authorities on hand writing, will take the stand today.

Tornado Spreads Ruin In North Carolina

WENDELL, N. C., April 5.—Several persons were injured, some probably fatally, a hundred or more buildings blown down, and property damage estimated at $100,000 by a tornado which cut a path three quarters of a mile wide and ten miles long through Western Lake county late Wednesday, according to reports received here today.

U. S. FLAG IS SUBJECT OF PROGRAM

Glendale Chapter, D. A. R., In Pledge for Patriotic Recognition

A silent pledge to urge a more thoughtful and patriotic recognition and understanding of the Stars and Stripes was made yesterday by Glendale Daughters of the American Revolution meeting as guests of Mrs. Margaret M. Gale of 122 North Cedar street.

The program of the afternoon, arranged by Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, was on the American flag, and afforded splendid opportunity for the introduction of the history of the flag and historical sketches of events at the time of the Revolution.

In the absence of Mrs. John Hyde Braly, regent, Mrs. C. W. Houston, vice regent, presided and directed the customary ritual and flag salute that begins each chapter meeting.

A reading of the "Mayflower Compact," written November 21, 1620, by the little band of Pilgrims gathered in the cabin of the Mayflower, was read by Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward and proved of great interest to the company.

History of Chapter
A local feature of the program was a brief history of the General Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R., of Glendale, given by Mrs. S. H. Butterfield, chapter historian. Mrs. Butterfield sketched the activities of the chapter since its organization in 1918 by Mrs. John Hyde Braly.

Continuing the Revolutionary history, Mrs. Genevieve Goss gave selections from history leading up to the formulating of the Constitution, and Mrs. T. W. Preston read George Washington's first inaugural address, in which he measured his patriotism by his refusal to take any compensation for serving his country as president.

The history of the Stars and Stripes was briefly given by Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, who had such a wealth of information at her command that the history is to be continued at the next meeting of the chapter. Some of the outstanding facts stated by Mrs. Leppelman were: There are thirteen red and white stripes in the flag, standing for the thirteen original states; these are called the field.

The stars on the field of blue are called the union. Arrangement of the stars was fixed by an act of Congress in 1792.

GLENDALE'S INVITATION EXTENDED SESSION

Big Gathering to Take Place Here in Spring of 1924, Delegates Believe

GLENDALE will undoubtedly be the host city and the Tuesday Afternoon Club the host club at the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs in the spring of 1924, following the invitation extended at yesterday's session of the convention at San Luis Obispo by Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

Mrs. Campbell's invitation came at the close of her report and it was received with hearty applause from the club women and reports are that it was accepted. However, Mrs. Campbell stated this morning that she had received no official acceptance and so was not in a position to state definitely that her invitation was accepted.

In Mrs. Campbell's opinion Glendale is the most logical place for next year's convention as the national federation convention is to be in Los Angeles and the holding of the district convention in Glendale would be a compliment to Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president-elect of the Los Angeles District Federation.

Delegates Home
The Glendale delegation to the convention at San Luis Obispo arrived home late last night with reports of a wonderful gathering, at which Glendale held a prominent place. Included in the delegation were Mrs. Charles H. Toll, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Matson B. Jones, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, Mrs. W. E. Evans and Mrs. C. J. Gann.

Recognition for Glendale and the Tuesday Afternoon Club was won by the women by the election of Mrs. Toll and participation in other activities.

Mrs. Jones took an active part in the business procedure of the convention, while Mrs. Evans took part in the dramatic pageant given at the session yesterday.

Honor Mrs. Toll
Newly elected officers of the federation were presented at last night's session and on behalf of the Tuesday Afternoon Club Mrs. Campbell presented Mrs. Toll with a large bouquet. Reports from the convention state that Mrs. Campbell's tribute brought tears to the eyes of her listeners and that she was showered with compliments at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Campbell entertained the Glendale women at dinner last night previous to their attendance at the closing session.

Mrs. Montgomery had as her luncheon guest yesterday noon Mrs. McGinnis of the Galpin Club of Los Angeles.

"It was a wonderful gathering," said Mrs. Campbell this morning, "and we had a wonderful time and Glendale representatives were most cordially received and took prominent parts in the convention affairs."

Klan Official Faces Larceny Charge

ATLANTA, Ga., April 5.—T. J. McKinnon, head of secret service department of the Ku Klux Klan, was arrested and released on his own recognizance today to answer a charge of larceny after trust of $107,000 of Klan funds. E. J. Jones, cashier of the Klan during the few hours that William J. Simmons, emperor, regained control of the imperial palace Tuesday, charged that McKinnon and J. N. Furney, cashier under H. W. Evans, imperial wizard, took more than $100,000 when they surrendered the palace to the Simmons forces.

Mine Workers Charged With Labor Monopoly

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Charging the United Mine Workers of America with "destructive monopoly of labor," the bituminous operators' special committee today filed a brief with the United States coal commission (the labor organization for maintaining a "campaign of allegedly deliberate violence." The operators charged the union's policy toward employers was the "chief deterrent to a satisfactory supply and price of coal."

Cornerstone Will Be Laid April 11 For High School

The cornerstone will be laid at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for the new plant of Glendale Union high school.

Addresses are scheduled by Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools; A. C. Olney, state commissioner of secondary schools, and Dr. E. E. Moore, director of the Southern Branch of the University of California. Mayor Spencer Robinson has promised to sing and Mrs. Charles A. Parker will direct the combined glee clubs. H. E. White will lead the high school band.

Police of Two Cities Hunt Alleged Bigamist

CHICAGO, April 5.—A legal wife and three women who thought they were his legal wives, and Chicago and Los Angeles police today were seeking Robert G. Francois, of Los Angeles. They want him to explain his numerous marriages and the Chicago police would like for him to testify before the grand jury in connection with the $1,000 profit of the Adams-Beaty-Francois appraising corporation, in appraising the Chicago surface and elevated lines.

According to the Los Angeles police chief, Francois married Mrs. A. J. Uniak there last July after a two weeks' courtship and deserted her after ten days, taking with him $6,000 worth of her jewelry. The chief mentioned two other women who thought they were Francois' wives.

Dice, county motorcycle officer, who was severely injured in an accident at Santa Monica about a month ago, is reported to be getting along nicely at the county hospital although he will be confined there for about six weeks longer. Mr. Dice previously was a local motorcycle officer, and is popular with members of the Glendale Police Department.

Berkeley Police Hunt Student's Assailant
BERKELEY, April 5.—Police were baffled today in seeking a solution of a mysterious assault early today on Raymond Muller, University of California student, who was struck down with a blackjack as he left the fashionable Claremont hotel after attending a social function. He was rendered unconscious but none of his valuables were touched.

FRACTURES LEG
Mrs. H. M. White of 519 Raleigh street, who fractured her right leg yesterday morning in an accident at her home, early last night was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

OPERATED UPON
Miss Mildred Finn of 218 East Garfield street was operated upon last night at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

CLUB WILL BEGIN
FINAL MEETINGS
Last Sessions of Year to Be Inaugurated on Next Tuesday

At the regular meeting next Tuesday afternoon the Tuesday Afternoon club will begin the final series of meetings on the year's program. The year has sped by all too quickly for the club women, the time having been filled with completion of the club's new home, getting into the new building and regular routine club business.

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Freeman McEl. Kelley, the club women and guests have enjoyed some excellent programs during the past months and the remaining three months of the club year hold some real treats in store. Mrs. Kelley's committee members are Mrs. Harry Lockwood, bulletins; Mesdames R. E. Chase, Waverly, and R. E. Moyle, Charles Parker and Charles H. Toll.

Frederick Warde, veteran actor, is to be the club guest and speaker at the meeting Tuesday afternoon, April 10. He will give his well known lecture, "Fifty Years of Make Believe." Miss Hazel Linkogel, talented Glendale violinist, will also appear on the program at this meeting. The chairman and one member of the election board will be appointed and three elected by the club.

Lecture on Rugs
John Robert White of 347 North Orange street, connoisseur of Oriental rugs, is to address the club women Tuesday afternoon, May 8, on "Oriental Rugs and Their Stories." On the same program will be Oriental dances by pupils from the Pearl Keller school.

Auto Collisions in Streets Are Reported
Several collisions occurred yesterday in Glendale.
The fatality of two automobiles trying to occupy the same space at the same time was demonstrated once more yesterday about 1 o'clock on San Fernando north near Thompson street. Joseph Radcliff of Burbank, who had been southbound was turning to return to Burbank. E. C. Weir of Burbank was driving toward Glendale. Mrs. Inez Weir was passenger. The damage to Mr. Radcliff's car is appraised by him to be about $10. Three tires were burst on Mr. Weir's machine.
Mrs. J. T. Crampton of 325 Burchett street was backing out from the curb in front of the Glendale Groceries at 116 North Brand boulevard about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. An automobile driven by W. B. Chappell of Alhambra northbound struck and tore off the left rear fender of her machine and kept on going.

Attempts to Repeal
Syndicalism Law Fail
SACRAMENTO, April 5.—Efforts to bring about repeal of California's criminal syndicalism law at this session of the legislature were believed dead today as a result of action of the assembly judiciary committee last night following a hearing in voting to table the Hornblower repeal bill. The vote was 17 to 2. It is possible, however, that amendments will be recommended to the bill. The amending bill will come up for consideration Friday night.

Postpone Barbecue At Rossmoyne Opening
The barbecue that was to have been held tomorrow at Rossmoyne, the new sub-division which the Haddock-Nibley Company is placing on the market, and to which a selected list of guests had been invited has been postponed indefinitely on account of the inclement weather, according to an announcement from the company's offices this morning.

KIWANIS CLUB
The Glendale Kiwanis club will hold its weekly meeting at noon tomorrow in the Tuesday Afternoon club house. W. R. Brown of Pasadena, governor of Kiwanis International for California and Nevada, will be the speaker of the occasion.

Social Events
Informal Affair
The members and friends of Glendale's Business and Professional Women's club were pleasantly entertained last Tuesday evening by Mrs. Mary G. Smith, at her home, 311 South Central avenue.
A very pleasing program arranged by Mrs. Smith was presented which consisted of greetings to the visitors by Dr. Laura Brewa, and several vocal numbers by Miss Alta Arnold accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Roberta Young. Mrs. Alice Singleton of Los Angeles rendered several piano numbers, and Mrs. Margaret Keading gave an interesting talk regarding the life in the Goldfield, Neb., mining camps. Mrs. Nanno Woods, director of the Community Players gave two poems which she had written, "Smile When Your Husband Comes Home" and "When You Get Home Tonight." Three members of the Community Players, Mrs. I. L. Bullock, Miss Dorothy Woods and Mrs. West, presented a novelty dance and song, "Taboo," and Miss Dorothy Woods also gave a pianologue which was also greatly enjoyed.

Following the program Five Hundred was played. Mrs. Elmer Rudell and Mrs. C. H. Kirkman announced the prizes. First prize was awarded to Miss A. Bingham, second prize to Miss Myrtle Knapp and consolation to Dr. Elizabeth Early. Men's first prize was awarded to Mr. Hasold, second prize to Mr. Addison and consolation to Dr. A. N. Early.
Later in the evening refreshments were served by the hostess. The eight refreshment tables were beautifully decorated in pink and tiny pink bon-bon baskets and favors added to the beauty of the decorations. Punch was served throughout the evening.
The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday evening, April 10, at the club rooms. This will be the regular monthly business meeting. Supper will be served at 6:15.

Sisterhood Meets
Miss Eva Daniels of 324 West Colorado street was hostess Monday afternoon at a regular meeting of the reorganized Jewish Sisterhood. Reorganization of the Sisterhood was recently accomplished under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Kinney.
The purpose of the organization besides being social, assists the religious school that Mrs. Kinney and her assistants conduct in the I. O. O. F. hall on West Broadway.
Miss Daniels was the fourth hostess of the club and after the business meeting a program of entertainment and refreshments were served.
The next meeting of the Sisterhood will be the first Tuesday in May at the home of Mrs. I. Grossman at 405 West California avenue.

At Desert Home
The home of R. G. Muhleman at Cabazon, Riverside county, just on the edge of the desert, was the scene of a most enjoyable house party Easter week, the guests being from Glendale and vicinity.
Those enjoying the visit were Mrs. C. H. Muhleman and son and daughter, Eugene and Ann, Louis, of 222 East Garfield; Ruth and Franklin Muhleman of Paicoima, and Barbara Muhleman of Glendale.

Slumber Party
Miss Sara Saye Snell of 116 East Eulalia street entertained with a slumber party Saturday night at her home, her guests being Miss Frances and Miss Ruth Goldsborough, Mrs. S. H. Wilcox and her sister, Miss Margaret Court. Miss Snell and her guests expected to attend the Easter sunrise services on Mt. Forest Lawn if it had not interfered with their plan.

Reception Guest
Mrs. Pearl Keller Brattain, director of the Pearl Keller School of Dancing and Dramatic Art, was a guest Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Ella Buchanan, noted sculptress, of 1539 North Edgemont avenue, Hollywood.
Mrs. Buchanan received in honor of Paul Swan, noted dancer and artist of New York and Paris, and Mrs. Brattain had the pleasure of meeting him.

Program Tonight
A program for the Colorado street Parent-Teacher association meeting tonight has been arranged by a committee of the fathers, including Bert Woodard, Dr. F. N. Arnold and L. C. Leeds.
All parents are invited to attend and it is announced that small children will be cared for during the program.

Bridge Luncheon
Mrs. Thon H. Carter of Indianapolis, Ind., who has been a winter guest of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Baldwin of 452 West Milford street, was hostess today at a bridge luncheon at the Harriet Mae Tea room at the corner of Maryland avenue and Harvard street.

Meets at Church
The regular weekly supper and Bible study hour of the Christian Circle club will take place this evening at 5:15 o'clock at the Central Christian church social quarters, Miss E. Maud Soper being in charge. All girls of high school age are cordially invited to attend.

Lodge Will Meet
The next monthly business and social gathering of the Glendale lodge of Good Templars will be held tomorrow night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wyckoff of 600 South Adams street.

Meet at School
The Doran Street Parent-Teacher association met yesterday afternoon at the schoolhouse, where a business session was held, followed by a program of musical numbers.
At the business session, the following delegates were appointed to the Federated District P. T. A. annual conference to be held in Los Angeles, April 26 and 27, Mrs. Harry V. Ellis, president; and Mrs. Philip Olson, Mrs. H. F. Speck, Mrs. George Piercey and Mrs. Clark Johnson.
Mrs. W. P. Hankey was chosen to represent the Doran Street P. T. A. on the nominating committee of the Glendale Federation.
The entertainment program was given over to the Glendale Community Players, Director Mrs. Nanno Woods in charge. Mrs. Woods gave several of her own original readings. Miss Dorothy Woods rendered a pianologue, "In the Usual Way." Miss Dorothy Woods, Mrs. Bullock and Mrs. West gave a musical number. And little Misses Lucy McCormick, Laura Louise Randall and Dorothy Clark each played very prettily on the piano.
At the end of the meeting several of the children surprised their teachers with gifts of homemade candy.

Hostess Wednesday
Mrs. Samuel Koontz of 470 West Vine street, entertained with a luncheon and shower Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Frank Overton. Poppies and forget-me-nots were used and a large hand-painted wooden stork formed the centerpiece of the luncheon table. Flying storks were suspended from the chandelier above the table and miniature storks were used as favors and place cards.
Following the luncheon, Miss Emily Koontz, dressed as a nurse, presented the guest of honor with a baby carriage filled with lovely gifts. The rest of the afternoon was enjoyed by playing guessing games and contests.
Those present were the guest of honor, Mrs. Frank Overton, Mrs. M. C. Fuller, Mrs. L. O. Carlisle, Mrs. Mark Carlisle, Mrs. J. C. Waite, Mrs. J. D. Root, Mrs. Elmer Pratt, Mrs. Elmer Pratt, Jr., Miss Emily Koontz and the hostess, Mrs. Sempel Koontz.

Friends Guests
Mrs. William H. Hooper of 417 Fischer street, entertained yesterday a number of friends at luncheon.
All the decorations and table appointments were artistically carried out in yellow and blue. Jonquils and corn flowers were used in profusion and were also used as a centerpiece for the luncheon table. Dainty favors and place cards in yellow and white marked the places for the guests.
Following the luncheon the guests enjoyed a game of five-hand solitaire. Mrs. W. C. Martin of Hollywood was awarded prize for high score.
The guests present were Mrs. Whitman G. Smith of Los Angeles, Mrs. Robert J. Ellis, Mrs. C. A. Redmond and Mrs. Joseph Cave of Glendale, and the hostess, Mrs. William H. Hooper.

Tells How Business Men Oppose Kellogg's Plan

PUBLISHER'S METHOD IS DENOUNCED BY MERCHANTS

Minority Stockholder In Anaheim Paper, In Court Action, Reveals Some Alleged Moves Regarding 'Circulation'

tion of the rules of the Associated Press.

That the Anaheim Herald now pays $40 a month rent for its business quarters and that the lease on this, a particularly advantageous one because secured before rentals began to soar, will not expire till early in 1927. But Kellogg, so the charges state, has announced his purpose of renting other quarters much farther from the business center on a site alleged to be owned by Mrs. Kellogg, defendant's wife, and paying $200 monthly for them.

Most amazing of all, possibly, is the description of the Evening Express's alleged methods of padding circulation. In Anaheim and Santa Ana, as in other towns where he has obtained control of local newspapers, Kellogg uses the publications as a means to circulate the Express, the complaint states.

Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, inserted with the Los Angeles Evening Express for circulation in Glendale.

It is charged that Kellogg delivers the town paper, whichever it may be, and the Express for the price of the local sheet. This means giving the Express away, it is charged. In Santa Ana the News and the Express go to News subscribers at the regular News rates. In Anaheim it is the Anaheim Herald and Express.

Conklin merely sets out this unique bit of business enterprise as preliminary to a startling charge, namely, that Kellogg sends his Anaheim and Santa Ana representatives many more copies of the Express than are needed to meet the demands of subscribers.

And for these, it is related, the Express charges at the rate of $1 per hundred. These extra copies, while credited to circulation, do not find their way into the hands of readers, it is said, but are sold in the natural course to paper factories.

Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, inserted with the Los Angeles Evening Express for circulation in Glendale.

Finally—and this charge is declared of more serious import from a legal standpoint—by virtue of his control of the Anaheim company, has compelled this company to buy from the Express newspaper

Padded Circulation And Trickery

In Business, Among Charges Brought Against F. W. Kellogg By Associate

S. CONKLIN, well known in Southern California newspaper circles, former manager of The Anaheim Herald, now secretary and treasurer of The Long Beach Telegram, in a suit filed in the superior court of Orange county, makes serious and sensational charges against F. W. Kellogg, business manager and part owner of The Los Angeles Express, and other papers. In view of the fact that Mr. Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, a paper printed in Glendale and inserted with The Los Angeles Express for circulation here, and in view of the further fact that the same scheme is carried out by the Kellogg interests in a number of other southern California communities, the suit has unusual interest. Mr. Conklin's charges, in brief, follow:

1. That Kellogg padded the circulation of the Express by selling copies of this paper to his string of country publications at $1 per 100, in many instances sending more copies of the Express than were required for joint distribution with the local papers. These extra papers never reached readers, it is asserted, but were sold in bulk to junk men for eventual delivery to paper factories.
2. That he forced many thousands of copies of the Express upon non-subscribers by means of a clubbing arrangement. This, as Conklin describes, was to furnish every subscriber to each of his country papers with a free copy of the Express, delivered daily.
3. That he attempted to bolster up his country town circulation by giving the Express away. This excess non-paid circulation of the Express is sold to Los Angeles advertisers upon the basis of bona fide circulation.
4. It is a matter of record, and is set forth by Conklin, that his methods were denounced in resolutions passed by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, Santa Ana Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, Santa Ana Realty Board and Auto Trades Association.
5. That he planned to issue stock and with this purchase the plant and machinery of the Anaheim News at a valuation of $60,000, despite the fact, as asserted, that this plant with machinery is worth not more than $30,000.

6. That his system not only was limiting the scope, and therefore usefulness, of the country papers, but that their individuality was being destroyed, all for the purpose of bolstering up the Express by means of the artificial circulation described.
7. That he had planned, by subterfuge, to secure membership for his Anaheim paper in the Associated Press.
8. That he proposed to give up the advanced quarters occupied by the Anaheim paper, leased at $40 a month, and move to a location alleged to be owned by his wife and for which he proposed to have the Anaheim company pay $200 a month.
9. That, as dominant factor in the Evening Express, he ordered that the Anaheim paper, which he also controlled, should buy news print paper from the Express at a fancy profit to the latter. The Express, it is stated, bought news print for $3.75 per 100 pounds, and sold it to the Anaheim publication at prices ranging from $4.25 to $4.82 1/2. For exacting these profits Conklin demands an accounting and the return of the overcharges.

such reckless policy, but without avail.

Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, inserted with the Los Angeles Evening Express for circulation in Glendale.

Apparently it has not been all smooth sailing for the Evening Express publisher and his brood of newspapers. At least it was not in Orange county, as witness this bit of alleged history.

KELOGG, CIRCULATING THESE PAPERS ALONG WITH THE HOME TOWN MEDIUMS THE ADVERTISEMENTS OF LOCAL MERCHANTS, AND IN THE EXPRESS THE DISPLAYS OF LOS ANGELES HOUSES. THIS SYSTEM NATURALLY BROUGHT THE LOS ANGELES DEALERS INTO COMPETITION WITH THESE IN THE TOWNS INCLUDED IN THE KELOGG CHAIN.

THIS PRACTICE, STATES CONKLIN, BECAME SO DETRIMENTAL TO LOCAL ADVERTISERS THAT A NUMBER OF THE STRONGEST REPRESENTATIVE ORGANIZATIONS IN ORANGE COUNTY DREW UP RESOLUTIONS IN CONDEMNATION AND CENSURE OF THE PECULIAR METHODS.

AMONG THOSE TO ADOPT SUCH RESOLUTIONS WERE THE SANTA ANA MERCHANTS AND MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION, REALTY BOARD, AND AUTO TRADES ASSOCIATION.

CONKLIN, SAYS CONKLIN, RESULTED IN A LOSS TO THE ANAHEIM HERALD BECAUSE MANY MERCHANTS REFUSED TO ADVERTISE IN THAT PAPER. THEY ARGUED THAT THE EFFECT OF THE EXPRESS ADS OF LOS ANGELES FIRMS WAS TO DIVERT TRADE FROM THEM TO LOS ANGELES.

Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, inserted with the Los Angeles Evening Express for circulation in Glendale.

Kellogg, so Conklin relates, remarked at this meeting that the plant and machinery of the Santa Ana News were worth $50,000 or $60,000. But it seems, according to complainant, that the true value of the plant and machinery is not more than $30,000.

What was to be done with the Santa Ana News? Conklin goes on to explain. The News, under the name of the Orange County Daily News, and the Anaheim Herald, under the name of the Orange County Daily Herald, would amalgamate, center their plant and headquarters in Anaheim and make the Orange County Daily Herald the afternoon edition of the Orange County News, and the Orange County News the morning edition of the afternoon Herald.

From his standpoint, as the owner of $5000 worth of stock in the Anaheim Herald, such a policy would be ruinous, says Conklin in his complaint, because the Santa Ana paper had been losing some $5000 a month for a considerable period. It was a case, he states, of unloading a heavily losing business onto a good one, inevitably resulting in a loss to the prospering property.

Kellogg is the controlling owner of The Glendale Daily Press, inserted with the Los Angeles Evening Express for circulation in Glendale.

Conklin also complains that Kellogg proposed to change the name from the Anaheim Herald to the "Orange County Daily Herald," thus destroying the value of the good will built up under the former title.

That part of the petition touching the intention to change headquarters is interesting. The Herald, for years, has been operated at 108 Emile street, Anaheim. Although the location, it is stated, is well adapted to present purposes, and the Anaheim paper has a long lease at $40 per month, Kellogg announced that the future home of the amalgamated papers would be on a piece of property which, so Conklin charges, belongs to Mrs. Kellogg; rent $200 a month.

Conklin says he opposed any

Open Wilson's Trial For Attempted Murder

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—Herbert Wilson, reputed millionaire master crook, and former minister of Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland and today on a charge of attempted murder. The trial is the result of his escape from the Los Angeles county jail last fall with Guido Spingola, alias "the mouse," payroll bandit and Aaron Ward, woman strangler.

William J. Burns, head of the United States department of justice, is en route to Los Angeles to question Wilson on his confession that he made a bomb which later was used in an attempt to blow up Wall street, New York.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE OIL FRAUD CHARGES

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 5.—With all warrants but two served in the federal government's first blow against the oil promotion and stock selling industry here, the forces of special and regular prosecutors, postoffice inspectors and investigators today returned to the grand jury probe. Thus far twenty-four men have been arrested, given over $300,000 in bonds and been released to await the grand jury's action. Each of the 24 pleaded not guilty to the formal charge, which is using the mails to defraud by sending out false literature about oil wells, prospects, dividends, etc.

WELLER WINS ON MATERNITY BILL

House Passes Ratification Of Sheppard-Towner Act by 70 to 1

By GIL A. COWAN
Special to The Evening News
SACRAMENTO, April 5.—A victory of 70 to 1 was scored by Assemblyman Frank Weller of Glendale, in the passage of his bill ratifying the terms of the federal Sheppard-Towner act for maternity education, which carries with it a $30,000 appropriation.

Dr. Ernest Dozier of Redding was the only objecting assemblyman. Rev. David C. Williams made a dramatic address for the measure. Club women are prepared to push the measure in the Senate.

Assemblyman Harry Lyons of Los Angeles also scored a eugenic victory, in getting the assembly judiciary committee to pass up favorably the bill amending the marriage license act, which requires applicants to answer the question, "Are you in good health?"

Rabbi Rudolph Coffee of Oakland argued it would give cause for eugenic education.

The proposal of Assemblyman Hugh Pomeroy of Long Beach for ten-day marriage banns, was killed, as was Assemblyman Hornblower's syndicalism repeal bill, but there is still a chance the present law will be amended to specify that those charged with membership in the I. W. U. must be knowing of the organization's purposes.

DRASTIC DRY MOVE

WASHINGTON, April 5.—A system of state prohibition enforcement codes so far reaching and drastic as to effectually close all loop holes to liquor law violators is to be the goal of federal authorities at the conference of governors, which President Harding will convene in Washington within a few weeks.

The oldest national park is the Hot Springs Reservation, in Arkansas.

GIRARD TO HEAD K. C. DELEGATION

Representatives of Glendale Council Will Attend State Conclave

Appointment of delegates to the state convention at Sacramento May 6, 7 and 8, was the big event last night at the meeting of Glendale Knights of Columbus at their council rooms at 330 East Lomita avenue. Grand Knight Harry Girard will head the delegation. He will be accompanied by H. V. Henry and Peter L. Ferry, past grand knights. Fred Huesman, financial secretary of the council, was appointed alternate.

A special train is to go north May 5 carrying southern California delegates, and the Glendale delegation will travel on this special.

Jesse Smith, representing the local American Legion post, was present at the meeting last night and asked the support of the council on Proposition Number 7, to be voted on at the coming election. At the close of Mr. Smith's speech the K. C. council unanimously endorsed the proposition, stating that the American Legion, in view of past services, and because it and other kindred patriotic organizations are the means of preserving and protecting the ideals for which this country stands, is deserving of recognition from the city.

Tells Carnival Plans
Eugene Malleaux, who is to serve as director general of the "Dawson City Carnival" to be held April 30 by the local K. C. was present and enthusiastically outlined plans for the affair.

A report was given on the Easter dance, which was one of the most successful affairs yet held in the clubhouse. Another dance is to be held the night of April 21. A party for the kiddies is to be held Saturday afternoon, April 14. All members of the council are to attend the communion mass at 8 o'clock Sunday morning at the Holy Family Catholic church. Later they will have breakfast at the Glen Inn.

Letters incorrectly addressed in the United States cost the government over $2,000,000 in extra expense each year.

The Legion's Barrage Against Graft And Fakirs

THE AMERICAN LEGION is constantly fighting graft wherever it raises its ugly head. Through its series of articles in the American Legion Weekly, the official organ, written by Mr. Marquis, and entitled, "Who Got the Money?" the Legion has given the terrible graft, robbery and profiteering in war construction and supplies involving hundreds of millions of the people's money, such publicity that the government has been forced to take action and bring suits for recovery and indict many prominent criminals. This in spite of tremendous pressure, both political and financial, which has been brought to bear on both the government and the Legion. The Legion will stay on the job and see that results are obtained. Not only in high places and among nationally known culprits, but all down the line to the post's home town and the fakirs the Legion carries on.

The petty graft of so-called ex-service men or others who prey on the public by appealing to patriotic sentiment either for personal gain or promoting unworthy enterprises, always stirs up the real service man's wrath. Beggars, solicitors for so-called ex-service men's magazines, selling something to obtain a college education, raffles to relieve some distress, or subscriptions for welfare and relief work, and dozens of other ingenious schemes are all under the Legion ban.

In Glendale the Legion's officers and a special committee at all times are alert to block such schemes. It would be well for no society, housewife, merchant or other citizen to patronize any person or proposition, however remotely identified with ex-service men or affairs, unless the solicitor carries a letter of indorsement on Glendale Post No. 127 stationery and signed by the Post Commander, Chalmer Day.

Such a letter seldom will be given, and then only after searching investigation.

With this system in force, Glendale will be free from annoyances of this variety.

Christians Starve as Turks Halt Exports

ATHENS, April 5.—Thirty thousand Christian refugees in the Near East are threatened with death by starvation because of drastic orders just issued by the Greek government, was advised today.

The Turks issued an order that no supplies should be allowed to leave American warehouses without payment of customs duties which would cost the American Near East relief administration thousands of dollars daily.

The order was made retroactive to the first of March.

RETAIN ARTISTS FOR SHRINE HOP

Entertainers on Program at Club to Appear at Dinner Dance

So delighted were Shrine Club members with the entertainment program enjoyed at their meeting last night, that the same artists are to entertain at the club dinner dance Saturday night in the banquet hall of the Tuesday Afternoon club. This announcement was made this morning by D. Ripley Jackson, club president, who said: "The program last night was wonderful, one of the best I have ever heard in Glendale. In fact, the club members were so keen about the program that we attended to little business."

The dinner dance of the club Saturday night will be the first affair of the kind in the new Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse and will be arranged by Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of the ways and means and her Non-Section club group.

Those who presented the program last night and will appear again Saturday night, are: Madama Teodora Wisniewska, coloratura soprano; Miss Iva Hanners, lyric soprano; Ella Faggioli, dramatic tenor; and Harry Nielsen, pianist.

They appeared through the courtesy of H. L. Leavitt, who is directing the coming industrial exposition.

No announcement was made last night of the new Shrine Club rooms, the latter being held over for further consideration.

MEEING OPPOSES AIRPORT PROJECT

Foothill Association Is Not In Favor of Bond Issue, Says President

The Glendale Evening News has been asked to publish the following self-explanatory communication:

Editor The Evening News: Referring to your report of the meeting of the Foothill Improvement association appearing in your paper yesterday, I wish to correct an omission therein.

The meeting, with a good attendance present, went on record as unanimously opposed to the bond issue for the Airport; and it was the opinion of those present that the city should not branch out into an enterprise of this kind because it is both unwise and impractical, especially if used for the other purposes indicated by the council on account of the very limited area.

Yours truly,
ALEX MITCHELL,
President Foothill Improvement Ass'n.

Club Members to Give Three One-Act Plays

Rehearsals have been started, under the direction of Mrs. R. E. Chase, on the three one-act plays the drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club are to present Friday and Saturday nights, April 27 and 28 in the auditorium of the clubhouse.

The plays to be presented are a fantastical sketch, "The Dream Maker"; a satirical comedy, "The New Crusade"; and a dramatic, psychological sketch, "Finders Keepers."

Chairmen arranging for the productions are Mrs. Max Green and Mrs. Malvern Barker, props; Mrs. R. E. Chase, advertising; Mrs. A. M. Hunt, tickets.

Tickets for the plays are to be on sale at Fott's Book Store, at 113 South Brand boulevard; and at Jensen's Drug Store, 133 North Brand boulevard.

Over 1,000,000 tons of salt are extracted annually from the Siwash, or "Putrid Sea," near the Black Sea.

MONTROSE PLANS TO BUILD MONTROSE STORE

Los Angeles Merchant Buys Lots in Center of Growing Town

According to H. E. Barnum, member of the firm of Barnum & Walters, John G. Bullock, president of a Los Angeles department store, has purchased several lots on the east side of Montrose street, near the intersection of Honolulu avenue, Montrose. He stated that negotiations had been commenced for the purchase of several additional lots adjoining the first purchase on the south. This will make a total frontage of about 150 feet right in the heart of Montrose, on which it is planned to erect a large store building.

No details are available as to how soon Mr. Bullock intends to improve this property. All Lit Up. Sparr Heights is all lit up! That is, it is all lit up at night. Thirty-nine powerful street lights were installed recently at most of the street intersections in the first unit of this tract by the Southern California Edison Company upon instructions from Barnum & Walters.

A number of these lights are located on Montrose boulevard which is a continuation of Verdugo road. They are the first step in the plan to make this thoroughfare the Brand boulevard of Montrose.

Will Stage Comedy in Aid of Mothers' Club

To raise money for the general fund of the Acacia Avenue Mothers' Club is sponsoring a production of the comedy, "Clarence," in the Glendale Union high school auditorium tonight. The cast is composed of Los Angeles pupils of Mrs. Gardner Wallace, who will direct the production. There will be music by the orchestra of the Glendale Avenue Intermediate school and dances by the Haynes sisters.

BURBANK BUILDING BOOMS AROUND BURBANK

Three-Story Brick to Be Erected on Boulevard By A. & R. Spence

Several important building developments are forthcoming in Burbank, it is understood, among them perhaps one of the largest being the proposed erection of a big three-story brick structure on San Fernando boulevard between Ocean Grove and Palm avenues by Messrs. A. and R. Spence, father and son, who are actively behind the Union Supply company and several other Burbank institutions.

Another building development of importance is that where Mrs. Urania Fairburn is building several small units near the McKeon Cannery, in anticipation of the coming of those who will be employed at this plant and elsewhere in the district. Four units are planned for the present, with the probability of four more in the near future. The site is the Graham place, the short street leading from the boulevard to the cannery.

The addition to the Victory building will be ready for occupancy by the end of this week, states M. Spazier. Fred C. Solan will occupy the northern front floor room for his barber shop. Next south will be a stationery store, conducted by the Misses Lena Nelson and Gladys Cox. The most southerly room will be the offices of the Pacific Ready-Cut Lumber Company.

Valley Headquarters. These offices will be the San Fernando valley headquarters for this company, whose factory is in Los Angeles. Such recognition of Burbank by a big company is felt to be not only flattering but indicative of the way industries are beginning to recognize the city.

In conjunction with the active program of building being carried out by Burbank citizens, a campaign for better streets has culminated in the inviting of sealed bids for the improvement of a half dozen or more streets, among them Providencia avenue, between the northerly line of Tenth street and the southerly line of Sunset canyon drive; Verdugo avenue, between the northerly line of Tenth street and the southerly line of Sunset canyon drive; Tuljunga avenue, likewise; Angeleno avenue, likewise; and Cedar avenue from the northerly line of fourth street to the southerly line of Eighth street.

Serial bonds bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum and extending over a period of nine years, will be issued to represent the cost of this work. Mysterious Pots. Fire Chief Davis continues to add to his choice lot of pots, pans, copperware and other diverse and peculiar devices more mysterious to some than to others. The collection is strongly suspected of representing the modus operandi of producing a certain beverage known to the elect as "Jackass," "Barbed Wire" or "Scared Water" according to race, color and previous condition of sobriety.

It is believed that the profits of the gentry engaged in this scandalous occupation have been very seriously interfered with, this last week or so, by the police department, the goods being valued at $1400. Chief Davis states that he is merely accessory after the act (perhaps "fact" would be better), the fire department stovehouse having been drafted into service in the belief that should a spontaneous combustion take place, it would be more efficient to have the department on hand than to have to send for it.

Box Supper Tonight. A box supper will be given at C. of C. hall, Sunland, tonight by the Monte Vista Improvement League. A good program has been arranged, also dancing. The public is invited. H. Chapp is erecting a new six-room house on his acre property in the heart of Tuljunga business center.

George E. Duttie is building a four-room home on Manzanita drive. It will be completed by July 1, and will cost about $4,000.

Bells of Notre Dame To Be Motor Operated

PARIS, April 5.—New things for old—even old Notre Dame feels she must be modern and up-to-date. An electric motor is now being installed in the great towers which will ring the four great bells of the historic cathedral peal and take the place of the human bellringers. Officially, the bell ringer of Notre Dame de Paris is a woman who inherited the position from a long line of ringers, but the work is too heavy for a woman and she is obliged to employ men. Since the beginning of the war in 1914 the bells have not been heard very often except for important funerals and on big fete days. If the motor works well there will likely be more tones heard around the old He de la Cite.

BUDDHIST FAKERS. Some Indian Buddhist fakers will hold their faces to the sky until the muscles of the neck contract so as to retain the head in that position.

TUJUNGA BRINGS KENTUCKY TO VERDUGO HILLS

Film Company Plans to Shoot Scenes of Old South at Sunland

The William Fox Film Company is constructing an elaborate location set at Sunland, opposite the Monte Vista park. They are building a colonial mansion and several log cabins, with all the accompanying southern atmospheric accessories.

The scenes of the story are laid in Kentucky and the location selected for filming this picture is covered with giant overhanging crests. The picture is to be a story of the time of Abraham Lincoln, and will feature Tom Mix. Beside the principals, the company will use about 150 people a day in this production. After the shooting of the scenes for this picture they plan to take scenes for a comedy drama in the same locality. It is not at all unusual for the film companies to use local people in these pictures, as there are many living in the valley who have considerable talent.

May Open Branch Store. William Sauer, wholesale egg dealer of Los Angeles, who buys his eggs from local poultrymen, was in Tuljunga the first of the week, making a preliminary inspection of this territory with a view to opening a branch store to handle B. A. Hicks's line of coffee, tea and spices. Mr. Sauer has been taking the local poultrymen's egg output for more than a year, and has just recently become connected with the Hicks company of Los Angeles. He has established a retail route through Tuljunga and Sunland and will handle Hicks's products on the same basis that the company does in Los Angeles.

R. Evans, also of Los Angeles, and also a Tuljunga enthusiast, is associated with his venture, and will probably handle the Tuljunga business. Sauer and Evans are only two of the many newcomers who are establishing homes and places of business in Tuljunga.

Chase of Location. The Sunshine grocery and delicatessen, owned by E. B. Lossnitzer, has been moved from the old location on Sunset Boulevard to larger quarters on Michigan avenue. A growing business compelled the removal to the new location. Mr. Lossnitzer has been in business in Tuljunga but a few months, and has established a business that has gained in patronage, fully justifying his faith in the move. He moved to Tuljunga from Los Angeles, where he was for several years proprietor of the I. O. O. F. Transfer.

Mr. Rice, proprietor of Rice's confectionery at Sunland, has recognized the drawing power of the popular radio, and has taken the initiative in this section by installing a big set in his dining room there. It is one of the four vacuum tube class and has a powerful carrying radius, catching Portland, Ore., and many eastern cities with no difficulty. The set is equipped with a two-tone loud speaker and can be plainly heard for two or three blocks.

Death of Major Ord. The death of Major Edward O. C. Ord, which occurred at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, at 232 East Ridgeway avenue, took place in the presence of his priest, Rev. Francis P. Driscoll of the Eagle Rock Catholic church, and marked the peaceful end of a night of pain.

The deceased was a soldier and the son of a soldier, his father being Brigadier General Edward O. C. Ord, Sr., who established Fort Sam Houston in Texas. A more detailed account of Major Ord's death may be found on page 2 of yesterday's Glendale Evening News.

Eagle Rock Personals

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. The L. C. Hensells are building on the rear of Mrs. Hensell's property, and their address will be 132 Lawrence avenue. The visitors had no sooner arrived than Mrs. L. C. Hensell and Oliver came down with the measles, but both are better now and hope to be out by the end of the week.

The Merriam family, of West Palm avenue and Valley drive, are enjoying a sojourn at Santa Cruz. Mr. and Mrs. Perry and baby have come to Eagle Rock and are living at 938 Valley drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clay are making their home on Los Flores drive, west of Highlands avenue. Mrs. Hal Baly, of 151 Eddy avenue, who had been ill for some little time, just had to get well, because Hal Jr. has his turn now, being laid up with swollen glands, and it wouldn't do to have two sick in the family at once.

Miss Gracie Fay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Fay, of 224 North Howland avenue, has returned home after a very pleasant visit with her grandparents in Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCall.

EAGLE ROCK PLAYERS PRESENT VARIED PROGRAM

Eagle Rock Community Folk Please With Entertainment; Other News

The Central Avenue school of Eagle Rock was the scene last night of a very interesting and diversified dramatic entertainment, presented by the Eagle Rock Community Players, under the direction of Mrs. Elgy Lowry Fischer.

The curtain rose at 8:15 o'clock, the plays presented being "Her Only Son" or "As Ye Sow," "Other People's Husbands" and "The Trimplet."

Marjorie Sinclair, the author of "As Ye Sow," played the part of "Anna," by special permission of the Smith-King school, of Pasadena, in whose company she is acting this season. Music was furnished by the Community Players' orchestra with stage settings under the direction of J. Lowry Fischer.

The performance was very well attended and much appreciated. The same program will be given again tonight, at the Central Avenue school, at 8:15 o'clock.

Club Notes. The women of the Episcopal church on East Stanley avenue held a reception Tuesday afternoon at the parish house, adjoining the church, in honor of Mrs. Gibson, who has been spending the winter at 147 Townsend avenue.

The reception was given by the Ladies Guild of the church, whose president is Mrs. J. B. Squires, and was in the nature of a farewell occasion for Mrs. Gibson, who is leaving for Santa Barbara, after which she will return to her home in New Hampshire.

Seventeen women attended, all of whom have become very fond of Mrs. Gibson and regret that she must leave Eagle Rock. They hope that when she comes again, it will be to stay in their midst.

A box luncheon was served to the members of the Business and Professional Women's club, at their meeting Monday with Mrs. A. C. Fiske, of 203 North Castle avenue.

The women of the Episcopal church will hold a cooked food sale Saturday of this week, at the office of the Glendale and Eagle Rock News, 113 East Colorado street.

Mrs. A. C. Fiske, of 203 North Castle avenue, entertained the women of the Congregational church at her home this afternoon.

The Central Avenue Parent Teacher Association will hold a meeting the afternoon of Friday April 6, at the school, that is reported will be of more than usual interest to all. The meeting will be held in the kindergarten room, at 2:30 o'clock, and among other numbers a splendid musicale will be presented by Mrs. Constance Branch, in cooperation with members of the Junior Music club.

It is stated that a speaker from Los Angeles board of education will discuss the effect annexation will have on Eagle Rock's school system. This topic alone should be of sufficient interest, it is felt, to bring every mother to the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Death of Major Ord. The death of Major Edward O. C. Ord, which occurred at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, at 232 East Ridgeway avenue, took place in the presence of his priest, Rev. Francis P. Driscoll of the Eagle Rock Catholic church, and marked the peaceful end of a night of pain.

Australians to Try Flight Across Pacific

BRISBANE, Australia, April 5.—An attempt to fly the Pacific will be made this spring by two Australian airmen, Lieutenant V. Rendle and Sergeant H. G. Smith, D. C. M.

These airmen plan to fly from Brisbane to San Francisco and will hop off during May. Their probable route will lie by way of the Samoa, Fanning and Hawaiian islands. The longest single flight will be over 2,000 miles.

Lieutenant Rendle was one of the entrants for the England to Australia flight, and was unfortunately compelled to abandon this flight in Crete, where the breaking of an oil pipe caused one of the engines to become useless.

Sergeant Smith gained the D. C. M. for the destruction of two Albatross scouts during the war.

Housekeeper, 72, Weds 54-Year-Old Suitor. LIMA, Ohio, April 5.—The time-honored maxim that "love that laughs at heels and locks also laughs at differences in age," was never more truly verified than when Philander William Parker, 54, carpenter, Washington, D. C., was married to Mrs. Mary Irene German, 72, housekeeper, here this month. The first time the couple met was on March 11 last, when Parker arrived here from Washington. The wedding was the culmination of a romance originating through a correspondence club, with headquarters in Topeka, Kansas. "You see, I was lonely," explained Mrs. Parker. "I have been a widow twelve years. I reared a family of ten children, but they all married and left me. I wrote to a correspondence club in Topeka. They referred me to Philander. We corresponded for three months. 'Oh, yes, and he's a soldier!' Mrs. Parker continued. 'If he weren't I wouldn't have married him. My first man, Moses R. German, was a Civil War veteran. I married Philander so I could have the company of my son, Paul 12 years old.' Parker said he served in the Spanish-American War. He declared that, as soon as school is out in Washington, his young son will be brought here to live. Parker said that for six years he had been a widower. He stated that he has an income. Mrs. Parker is wealthy.

Glendale Has Another Million Dollar Building Month. The taking out of the building permit for our proposed new six story bank building at the northeast corner of Broadway and Brand Boulevard, brought Glendale's monthly building figures to over the million dollar mark again. March, as well as January and February, has gone down in local building history as a million dollar month. Already the grand total of six million dollars for the year 1922 has been half equalled, with nine months remaining in which to break that record. It is a source of satisfaction to this bank that, in addition to bringing to Glendale a business structure of the size and beauty of our proposed new banking "home," it brings, daily, banking resources and facilities fully commensurate with the demands which a growing community such as Glendale makes upon a bank. Their Mutual Love
TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

Dudley Young slid onto a circular seat in the restaurant and ordered his morning waffle.

"Look sleepy this morning," was the greeting of Josie, the waitress. "Musta seen a show last night."

Came a world-weary smile to the young man's face.

"Yep, Took in a show and then a dinner. Fellow has to go so far to get anywhere in New York, takes him most the night going and coming." Josie rubbed the nearby porcelain.

"It's the only town, though," she said. "Deliver me from any other."

This was their meeting ground, their mutual interest. This young clerk in the Ralston Manufacturing Company's office and the waitress in Petersen's Dinner Bell Lunch Room exchanged views on men and things each morning and neither knew how much the half hour meant in the life of the other.

"Conversation is just like vic-tuals," Josie mused when he left. "You have to hand a man what he wants. It's all right for him, with his swell clothes and his midnight suppers, to be stuck on the city. But me—after standing up all day, I'm glad to turn in. Wonder why a fellow like that eats at the Dinner Bell? Josie looked at her reflection for the answer. "Well, so long as he does I oughta be glad."

How many are there in a large city who take the pleasures of the town vicariously? Dudley Young, with a salary just large enough to keep him in the good clothes the job demanded, took his breakfast at the Dinner Bell because it was cheap. A routine life was his, unbroken by romance except for the morning talks with Josie and the orzies of spending and pleasures which entered into his conversation. In that half hour of the hundreds and became a man about town, a person of importance. Then he realized he loved Josie and had built between him and the girl a difficult barrier.

"I am not making enough money to get married on," he said to himself. "Besides, she would expect me to make good my stories and take her to shows and dinners." So he continued his role of condescending customer, and the girl sought his interest by telling of her love for the city life.

"Your young friend," it was Belle, the other waitress, who made the observation, "talks about theatres and parties and never even asks you to go to the movies. What is the matter with him?"

Gee, Belle, can't you see? He's a real swell. 'Tisn' likely he'd want to go with me. I'm thinking I'm going to quit this place."

To Dudley came the same idea. He could not go on seeing Josie each morning with all this pretense between them.

"If I own up I'm poor now," he said, "she'd give me the laugh. That girl thinks too much of the artificial pleasures. All the time talking about shows and dances and how she loves New York."

The Ralston company was in need of a man to head one of its many retail stores, and the boss summoned Dudley.

"Mr. Young," he said, "I have noticed you have a good appearance and have been steady. Are you married?"

"Too bad. If you were married now I would send you to Ward-town to head our store there. Must be a man of family who will take his place in the town life."

"Give me until tomorrow," the clerk answered, "and maybe I can fix it up."

"Listen, Josie," the waitress estom said next day, "there is nothing to this gay city life. Do you suppose, now, you could be happy in a small town as the wife of the proprietor of one of the stores?" And he told her the whole story, waiting fearfully for her reply. At last there was no more of the pretense.

"And you want me to marry you," Josie answered slowly, "so you can get a better job?"

"No, no, girl! I want you to marry me so we can get away from being little wheels in this big machine. I want to get away from room rent, street cars, and from a job that just gets by. I want a chance to know folks, to have a home."

Josie interrupted. Was it the job he wanted or her?

"Suppose," she said, "I told you I would marry you if you stayed here in the city?"

Dudley seized her hand. "All right, then, we'll fight it out here." And he smiled bravely.

"Just a minute," the girl called as he turned to go. She was removing her apron. "If you'll take me to that little town where we'll know our neighbors, I'll marry you today!"

ANSWERS TO COR RESPONDENTS

My Dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, you must enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address, or the material cannot be sent you. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. And

You must not write more than 200 words, or your letter cannot be read. Please remember I cannot make diagnoses nor prescribe for you individually, or write you personal advice. I can only send you such information as I offer you through the column from time to time.

Address your letters to me in care of this paper, and allow at least two weeks for the article you have asked for to reach you. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible if they are of general interest.

M.—Your symptoms might indicate that you had chronic appendicitis. It seems to me, although, of course, it would be impossible for me to make a diagnosis for you. I have known of so many people who have been benefited by having a chronically inflamed appendix removed that I have no hesitancy in advising you to have yours removed if a skillful surgeon has given you that diagnosis and advises the removal.

If you sent with your letter the necessary s. a. s. e. the articles on constipation and the atonic abdominal wall have been sent.

Are you sure your itching is not due to scabies? You say you had it since you left the army. Scabies is due to a little insect called the itch mite. Sulphur ointment is the specific for it. Rub your body night and morning with this ointment, rubbing it in for five or ten minutes. Have your underclothes and shoes boiled so that if there should be any of these insects on the clothes they will be killed. Three days of this treatment usually kills them off.

"Dear Doctor:

"While in the government hospital an X-ray of my body showed that I had a stone in my kidney, and that considerably larger than normal. I never have had a kidney removed so I must have been born that way. A doctor told me not to get married on account of this defect because it might be an inherited defect. I am 29 years of age, a farmer, healthy as the best, served in the army for nearly two years, four months at the front. This getting married proposition—J. S."

I want to say right now that I cannot disclose the name of this young man although I know a lot of you will want to marry him. In our opinion this lack of one kidney has not made him one whit less of a regular man in all respects. There is no doubt that you were born with one kidney, J, and the other is larger than normal simply because it is doing the work that two ordinarily do. You need not worry about it at all any more than you worry about having only one heart or one spleen or one liver. Go ahead and get married. You have my blessing.

Mrs. D.—There is no doubt that neuritis and neuritic pains and lumbago may be due in many cases to imperfect diets. How about your teeth? Chronic infections from the teeth as well as other chronic infections, such as chronically inflamed tonsils, will also cause these pains. You should have a large element of the green vegetables and fruits in your diet, especially taken raw. Scrub 'em good. Very little meat should be eaten. Get your protein in milk, cottage cheese, etc.

A. P.—Those boils you have that never come to a head are due to the same kind of pus germs which cause those that do come to a head. I think that if you will massage them thoroughly quite often when they are beginning to form you may be able to dissipate them. Apply camphor phenique (equal parts of camphor gum and carbolic acid) twice daily.

Every day after they disappear apply after bathing a saturated solution of boric acid on all of the parts where the boils seem to come. That may kill off the germs which cause your trouble.

Have your urine examined to see that you haven't diabetes. Diabetes is one of the diseases that thins the skin resistance so that boils are more apt to form. Balance your diet and include some milk and a goodly amount of the green leaf vegetables, such as your free fat (oils, butter, etc.), down to the minimum.

BEAUTY CHATS

EDNA KENT FORBES

EYES AND EYELASHES

Make-up all over the face has become so common lately that any chat on beautifying the eyes should really begin with a warning against colored paints and pencils. The stage trick of making the eyes young by rouging the eyelids, or large and brilliant by painting the lids blue, has been made use of in the drawing room, while many women deliberately draw a dark line around the upper and lower lid under the impression that it makes the eyes seem larger. It does behind the footlights but nowhere else.

Really beautiful eyes are bright and expressive. If you are tired, wring a soft cloth from very hot water and hold it over them. Follow this by pressing one against them wrung from very cold water. Alternate the hot and cold applications for several minutes.

Relieve inflamed eyes by bathing them with a solution of boric acid and rosewater, to be diluted slightly with warm water before using. Always keep in your medicine cupboard a saturated solution of boric acid which is good for women as well as eyes. To make this fill a pint pitcher with boiling water and add boric acid powder until the water will take up no more and the powder forms a deposit at the bottom. Pour off this mixture into a bottle, cork and label it.

Two spoonful or more to half a pint of warm water is the right strength when you use it.

Good care of the eyes and frequent bathing with an eye-cup is also good for the lashes, but if the lashes are not long or thick enough, rub over them gently at night with the finger dipped in olive oil if you want length, and castor oil if you want length and darker color. Don't worry if the lashes fall now and then, one or two a day will do no harm. Cutting them back occasionally makes them stronger and thicker, and should come first in any process of beautifying.

A Disgusted Friend: This excessive perspiration of your hands may easily be the result of nervousness, especially since it is worse while you are playing the violin. You may gain some relief by an astringent powder, but the better way would be to consult a doctor.

Unhappy: The only reason why you do not attract friends, is because you are spending the whole time depreciating yourself and then pitying yourself because you are so neglected. Everybody feels this when he or she is near you, so it is no wonder people prefer other company to yours. Stop thinking of yourself and get interested in anything that will be helpful to others. It may be a charity, a sport, or any absorbing thing which will lift you from this negative state of mind to that in which there can be vital interest. It will take no time then to attract friends, for you already will find they have been seeking you.

Pacific-Southwest Review

By HERMAN NELSON
Vice President and Manager Glendale Avenue Branch
Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank

"Circumstances!" said Napoleon. "I make circumstances!"

The dreamer dreams, "If I had a million dollars." The doer sets out to get a thousand, and systematic saving. Opportunity knocks not once, but many times, but, unless one is prepared to entertain her, she goes elsewhere. That preparedness is bought through the teller's window of the savings department of a bank.

Economy should be as much a part of a child's early training as reading, writing and arithmetic. It yields a powerful influence in the molding of character, for hand in hand with virtue grow many other companion virtues—self-respect, stability, consideration, influence, standing, security and many others. To use the words of William Gladstone, "Economy is near to the keystone of character and success. A boy that is taught to save his money will rarely be a bad man or a failure; the man who saves will rise in his trade or profession steadily; this is inevitable." And on the same subject Theodore Roosevelt said, "Extravagance robs character; train the youth away from it. On the other hand, the habit of saving money, while it stiffens the will, also brightens the energies. If you would be sure that you are beginning right, begin to save."

The Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings is putting forth a great effort, and expending a large sum to encourage and promote the lesson of thrift in our younger generation, and parents should take an active interest both in the School Savings Thrift System, and the Beneficial Term Account plan, which bears 4% interest, compounded semi-annually.

A line from Shakespeare tells us that "to climb steep hills requires a slow pace at first." In a different way, Rockefeller said the same thing when he replied to the young man who asked him how to make a million dollars, "first save a thousand." There is the main reason why more do not achieve outstanding success. They stand in the valley and wish they were on the high peaks but are loath to make the long, hard climb to reach them.

Success is a much-mooted subject. Its definitions are as varied as human nature itself. It is generally agreed, however, that while all of success is not money, money is essential to it. The miser is despised for loving money, but the beggar, it is merely a means to an end—an indispensable factor in getting on. It is the way to owning a home, to making a start in business. It is a protection in adversity, a friend in need. It is contentment insurance and brings financial independence without which progress is difficult. Whatever money can buy, may be bought on the installment plan through regular and systematic saving. Opportunity knocks not once, but many times, but, unless one is prepared to entertain her, she goes elsewhere. That preparedness is bought through the teller's window of the savings department of a bank.

Economy should be as much a part of a child's early training as reading, writing and arithmetic. Coffee Caramel Cup Custards

There is no more delicious dessert than caramel cup custards. This is "just how" to make them:

Baked Caramel Cup Custards—Mix two cups of sweet milk in a medium size saucepan. While it is scalding, put into your flying an one-third cup of brown sugar and melt this. When the sugar resembles thin peanut butter, pour it into the hot milk, taking care that the milk does not bubble over the top of the pot (it is liable to, because of the extreme heat of the melted sugar). Now, look the milk a little longer, until the lumps of sugar are melted (for the melted sugar is apt to lump when it touches the milk).

When the sugar-lumps are about all melted, turn the milk mixture onto two slightly beaten eggs, which are in a bowl, add one-fourth teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of granulated sugar and one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Now strain the mixture into four individual cups or ramekins. (I use four glass ramekins for this recipe, each ramekin measuring 2 inches across the bottom and flaring at the top to a width of 4 inches; and I fill them to within one-fourth inch from the top). If you use smaller ramekins you can, of course, have more cup custards from this recipe.

How to Bake the Custards—Pour hot water one-half inch deep into two round layer-cake pans. Put two of the ramekins in each pan, in the bowl, and this may be done while the cooked custard is still hot. Now slip your two pans into a slow oven, if you use a Fahrenheit thermometer, do not have the temperature over 300.). Bake for forty minutes, with the oven heat low. At the end of that time, insert a clean, dry silver knife in the middle of one of the custards; if it comes out clean, the custards are done.

A Few Custard Warnings—There are several reasons why custards may fail. One is that you let your oven heat get so high that the water in the layer-cake pans boils—which makes the custards waxy. Another reason for

New Cave Found Near Mount of Holy Cross

EAGLE, Colo., April 5.—A new and interesting cave that is expected to draw thousands of tourists during the coming summer, has been discovered near the famous Mount of the Holy Cross, in the Holy Cross National Forest, near here.

The cave has been named the Fiord Cave, and extends several thousand feet from the entrance. It has never been fully explored, but a natural fountain has been found in the interior that leaps fifteen feet into the air, bubbling from an unexplored source.

In this "living cave" water perpetually freezes, drips, cascades, and rushes in phantom streams that create weird sounds.

A small bottle of compressed air now eliminates the hand pump when a tire blows out.

failure is that you beat your eggs too light, with the result that a porous custard is formed. A lumpy custard is formed by pouring the eggs into the milk, instead of pouring the milk over the eggs. It pays to follow directions exactly, for these little points are important in making smooth, well-cooked cup custards.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

WHY DO WOMEN DO IT?

"But there was a time when you wouldn't have been quite so delighted to get away from me for two weeks."

Who said that, man or woman? You guessed right. It is Mrs. Barnes who says it. Roger Barnes has been planning to go on a fishing trip down Maine with some of the men from the office this year. Mrs. Barnes liked the idea in the first place and said she thought it would do him a world of good to have a complete change like that.

And she still approves of it. Oh, yes. But she doesn't like to see him quite so happy. And so she says little things like this:

Little Pin Pricks

"But there was a time when you wouldn't have been quite so delighted to get away from me for two weeks."

"Mr. Wallace is going to take his wife on a trip back to her mother's for their vacation this year."

"I suppose you will get so fond of living like an old bachelor that you will hate to come back to the humdrum life at home."

"I think you will have to be back at it? I don't suppose you have gone a couple of weeks over the top of the world. Well, that's the first time I ever knew you to do that. You know I wanted you to stay over that year we were at the beach and you couldn't. It was different that year? Yes, I suppose so."

At first Mr. Barnes replies good humoredly to these little pin pricks, tries to smooth things over, reassures her and in general gives the kind of responses she is unconsciously fishing for.

But after a long course of this his good humor wears thin, and by and by it wears through altogether and there is an acidity in his responses.

The Explosion

That gets under Mrs. B's skin, her thrusts become sharper and more frequent, and then suddenly Mrs. Barnes gets enough. He says he has decided to give the whole trip up, it isn't worth the price.

Of course Mrs. Barnes is delighted at that? Well, hardly! She is frantic. She wanted the right to dig him and be reassured that that, but she didn't want that. That was the last thing she wanted. It puts her badly in the wrong, it takes her grievance away from her, and gives him one. And it means a wound that would be very hard to heal.

Male Teachers Become Fewer, Says Wood

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—Male teachers in California's elementary schools are becoming fewer each year, and will probably be entirely eliminated within a few years, according to Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction.

Out of a total of 17,707 teachers employed in the elementary schools at the present time, only 1314 are men and the majority of these are principals, Wood said.

Eighty-seven per cent of the elementary school teachers are graduates of universities or teachers' colleges the state educator said.

In Utopia, where everything is perfect, they hang the man who invents a new method of quantity killing.

TAX BUGABOO IS FEAR OF CITIZEN

Judge Lowe Shows Amount On Airport Bonds Is Insignificant

"The bugaboo of the average citizen when considering a bond issue for any purpose is the fear that he will be burdened by the payment of taxes for many years after the bonds have been issued," declared Judge F. H. Lowe in discussing the proposed issue of $49,000 for the purchase of the Glendale airport that is to be voted on at the election to be held April 10. "This attitude is a natural one, especially where the money for the payment of such bonds must be taken directly out of the taxes levied on the property of a city, but where it happens, as in the case of the purchase of the land included in the airport, that the revenue to retire the bonds and to pay the interest thereon is paid by the receipts from the land itself, the taxation bugaboo can be laughed at.

"In connection with the coming election I have compiled figures showing the amount that will be needed each year to pay off the bonds, which will be retired at the rate of two each for the next thirty-two years. The bonds will be issued in denominations of $1000 and $500 and one of each denomination will be taken up every year for the next thirty-two years. The first payment on the bonds will be $1500, and the interest will bring the total for the first year's payment up to $4440. In each succeeding year, as the bonds are retired, the amount of principal to be paid will be less, and by the time the last bond falls due the total payment will only amount to $1740 altogether for principal and interest.

1922 Valuations

"It must be borne in mind," continued Judge Lowe, "that these figures are based on the assessed valuation of Glendale property for the year 1922, which amounted to $21,981,560, but it is safe to predict that the 1923 valuation will exceed that of last year by at least six million, counting the new buildings that have been erected in Glendale during the past year and the additional territory that will have been added to the tax rolls by the addition of a large number of important sub-divisions, so that the proportion of the assessments on the property in Glendale will greatly be increased, and that they would have had the assessment remained at the 1922 figures."

Judge Lowe pointed out that the tax for the bonds for the airport, as figured on last year's valuation, would amount to .14 cents per $1000 of assessed valuation, or $1.38 on each $10,000 worth of property, and he added succinctly that there is not a man in Glendale who would not spend the amount of his taxation on $10,000 worth of assessed property for cigars or a moving picture show any time the spirit moved him, without bestowing a thought on the matter of expense. As a further inducement to the people of Glendale to vote for the bonds for the airport, it is pointed out by City Manager W. H. Reeves that the receipts from the leases of the factory and hangar space at the field will amount to $14,440 a year, figuring the space available for rent at $800 front feet to be rented at an average rental of $3 a foot, which would be sufficient to meet the payments on the bonds issued against the property and still leave a handsome profit to the city after all the obligations in connection with the purchase have been met.

Approved By Citizens

The project has been endorsed by most of the civic and commercial organizations in Glendale, among those that have taken this course being the Glendale Realty Board, the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion Post, the Glendale Improvement Association, the San Fernando Boulevard Association, the Glendale Credit Association, the Glendale Elks lodge, and the Exchange Club. It is understood that probably every civic and development organization in Glendale will do likewise.

The bond issue has been placed on the ballot under Number 8, and it is the desire of the city officials and everyone interested in the successful passage of the bond issue that every voter in Glendale mark his or her ballot to show their approval of the issue of the $49,000 worth of bonds to purchase the tract of land that is destined, it is claimed, to confer on Glendale and its citizens a reputation for vision and foresightedness unequalled by any other city in Southern California and that will result in giving the city advertising whose worth can only be measured in millions.

MAGAZINE ISSUE FUND IS RAISED

Realtors and City Pledge Amount Required by U. P. Publication

Definite assurance of the necessary funds to pay for the publication of a special Glendale issue of the Arrowhead, the official publication of the Union Pacific railway, was given yesterday when the members of the Glendale Realty Board, at their regular weekly luncheon in the C. & S. Cafeteria, pledged themselves to raise $250 of the $1000 that will be required, and Mayor Spencer Robinson pledged the same amount from the City of Glendale. The Glendale Chamber of Commerce directors had already agreed to underwrite $250 and G. H. Grimm, of the publicity department of the Arrowhead, who was present at the luncheon, stated that his organization has been assured of a like amount from other sources that are interested in the publication.

The special Glendale number of the Arrowhead is to be issued about May 25, ten days after the low summer rates to the coast go into effect on the Union Pacific system, and it will be distributed on all through west-bound trains, as well as through the entire Union Pacific system in this country, through hotel and tourist agencies, and clear up into Canada, forming an advertising vehicle for Glendale that will stand unrivaled, according to W. L. Twining, the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce advertising committee, who introduced Mr. Grimm.

Urge Bill's Passage

The Glendale Realty Board agreed to levy an assessment of $5 on each member, to raise the sum needed to pay the board's guarantee of $250, and this, with the other amounts pledged, will meet the cost of $1000 that Glendale will have to pay for the June issue of the Arrowhead.

Charles B. Guthrie reported on the meeting of the directors of the California Real Estate association that was held recently at San Jose and which he attended, and urged that the members of the board use every effort to assist in putting into effect the legislative program that has been adopted by the association and that is now before the state legislature, by writing direct to the senators and representatives and urging the passage of the bill fathered by the association. Mr. Guthrie also brought up the question of the payment of dues to the state association by members of the local organization, and suggested a number of plans for injecting more fun and amusement into some of the meetings of the board. An entertainment committee is to be named to plan for a High Jinks day at an early date.

Barbecue Luncheon

The board endorsed the project for the purchase of a site for the American Legion home, as it will appear on the ballot on April 10, when the voters will decide whether the city is to sell a plot of land to the post's trustees for $100.

An invitation was extended from Lon J. Haddock, president of the Haddock-Nibley Company, to the members of the board to attend the opening of Rossmore, Friday, April 6, when a barbecue luncheon will be served the invited guests on the new sub-division, the firm is placing on the market. The number of guests is limited to those who have been specially invited.

Chief Counsel Keogh of the Title Guarantee & Trust Company of Los Angeles, will be the speaker at next week's luncheon of the Glendale Realty Board, when he will discuss the difference between trust deeds and mortgages, as well as other matters dealing with the legal end of the real estate business.

Evangelist to Talk Plainly on Marriage

From the first service, the crowds at the Jerry Jeter tabernacle on East Broadway have been growing, it is reported.

"The harder you hit me, Jerry, the better I like it!"

"The sort of young man a woman should marry, and the sort of young woman a young man should marry," is the topic announced for Sunday night, and Mr. Jeter says he is going to use some of the plainest language that ever fell from the lips of a preacher.

Mrs. Jeter spoke yesterday on "Influence," showing from the Bible that we all have an influence, either for good or evil.

Tonight Jerry Jeter will paint what he promises is one of his best pictures.

Wireless Device Will Give Distress Signs

LONDON, April 5.—A wireless device for automatically picking up and broadcasting distress signals from ships at sea has been invented by the British Post Office.

All the tests of the invention have so far proved satisfactory, and if further tests prove reliable, Britain will submit the device to the next International Wireless Convention for world-wide adoption.

It is understood that the instrument works on a system of relays, and the net result is that if a ship within 100 miles of the device transmits a fifteen seconds dash an alarm bell rings and draws the attention of the operator.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FIRE ALARM
The Bob Cat sat in his dismal den looking hungrily out and drumming with his claws on the bottom of an empty pie tin.

"What are you doing?" asked the Fuzzy Fox, who happened to pass by. "Are you making believe that is a dinner gong?"

"There isn't any pie!" growled the Bob Cat. "That's why I am so angry at Uncle Wiggily. There was a lovely chocolate pie on here, but he rolled the tin down hill. I chased after it. The pie came off and bounced inside Grandpa Goosey's house and I, not knowing any better, kept chasing after the empty tin! Oh, I'm so hungry. But I think I know how I can nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears."

"How?" asked the Fox, hoping he might have a share of the nibbles.

"I'll fool the old rabbit gentleman with this empty pie tin," went on the Bob Cat. "I'll sneeze up to his bungalow as soon as it gets dark. I pound on the tin and make a great noise. Uncle Wiggily will think it's a fire alarm. He'll rush out of his bungalow. I'll be waiting at the door for him and as soon as he comes out I'll grab him and nibble his ears."

"Good!" whispered the Fox. "I'll be there, and if there are more ear nibbles than you want I'll take what are left."

"There will be none left!" growled the Bob Cat, who was very hungry. Then he got ready to fool Uncle Wiggily with the tin plate fire alarm.

The wind was blowing hard in Woodland when Uncle Wiggily lived in his hollow stump bungalow. In the middle of the night he had been hopping around all day, but not an adventure had been found. And when he hopped to his bungalow that early evening the wind was blowing harder than ever.

"My goodness!" exclaimed Nurse Fuzzy Wuzzy when Uncle Wiggily hopped in the door. "How the wind howls!"

"Yes," agreed Uncle Wiggily. "It does. It blows almost hard enough to take the chimney off the roof." And then, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily stumbled over a pail of water near the door. "What's that for, Nurse Jane?" he asked.

"In case of fire," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Always on a windy night I get afraid of fire, so I have a pail of water near by that I could splash on the flames if there comes an alarm."

"Well, perhaps, it's a good idea," said Uncle Wiggily. He sat down to supper, eating his broiled carrots with maple sugar sauce on them, and he was wondering why he had had no adventure that day when, all of a sudden, the Bob Cat sneaked along in front and began beating a fire alarm on the empty pie tin.

"Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang-bang-bang!" the Bob Cat beat on the pie tin with a stick.

"This will bring Uncle Wiggily out," whispered the Bob Cat to the Fox. "He'll think it's the fire engines and he'll be so excited

RADIO DEVELOPMENT

BY LIEUT. JOHN R. IRWIN U. S. AIR SERVICE (RESERVE)

Hitherto in these articles we have discussed the two element or two electrode tube, as that was necessary for an intelligent understanding of the tube used today for radio reception and transmission. After Fleming's valve came the discovery by Dr. Lee DeForrest of the three element tube, which he called an "audion." DeForrest inserted in the Fleming valve a third element, which he termed a "grid," between the filament and the plate. This was possibly the most important discovery yet made in the science of radio, and during the years of the world war was to revolutionize the art. With the coming of the audion methods for amplifying or increasing the intensity of radio signals were devised.

This third element or electrode was inserted inside the tube in the form of a metallic gauze, generally in the form of a thin grid. This grid consists of an electrode of fine wire between the heated filament and the plate of the vacuum tube. This makes it possible to increase or decrease the current between the plate and filament through wide limits. In order to understand how this result is obtained it will be necessary to first consider what happens in a two electrode tube having a good vacuum when either the voltage of the "B" battery or the temperature of the filament is varied.

This explanation will be somewhat lengthy for inclusion in this

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Is it possible for eight husky boys just out of high school and freshmen in college to beat the senior class crew—virtually the varsity crew?

Before answering this apparently foolish question just consider these points. The senior crew, let us say, is composed of thoroughly experienced men who have had four years' actual experience of rowing. Many of them have rowed third or second varsity, and then some of them have even had an experience city crew. On the other hand consider these facts: The freshman crew has just entered college last fall. In January they were put on rowing machines in the gymnasium and not one of them had ever had any experience even on those machines, let alone knowing anything about rowing a racing boat of any description. Sliding seats were so new to them they could not hold their slides. Then early in February they were launched in their first experiment on the water in an eight-oared shell. They have had about six weeks' work on the water in the boats and that is the entire experience of their entire lives in shell rowing. Can they beat the experienced seniors?

On the face of it the question looks foolish. The answer would naturally be that the seniors were a cinch. The real answer to this question, however, is that the freshman crew of the University of California in the annual inter-class race a few days ago not only beat the seniors, but made them look like novices. It is the first time in the history of rowing on the Pacific coast that such a thing has happened and it is doubtful if it has happened very

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The preliminary training season of the various clubs in the Pacific Coast league seems to have imbued the critics with the idea that very team in the circuit is going to have a stronger playing organization than it did last year. This seems to be the unanimous verdict of the scribes who have been with the teams at their spring quarters. Without in the least hinting that their own team is not in the running for the 1923 pennant, one can read between the lines that the San Francisco aggregation will again be the big hurdle that will have to be surmounted in order to win the championship. The owners of the Seals have spared no effort or expense to bring this condition of affairs about and the opinion that, on paper, it starts out as the most formidable machine, seems to be a reasonable one based on the personnel and past performance.

The engagement of "Briek" Muller, the University of California star end, and captain of the track and field team, came as a surprise to the big majority of his friends and acquaintances who had no idea that the little good Cupid had been getting in his deadly work. To all intent and purpose Muller had been so engrossed with various forms of athletics that no one gave thought to any suggestion that he might have any time to do any courting in between times. It is not likely that the wedding bells will be giving voice to the event until after Muller has completed his college course and received his diploma. At that, it will not be long before the sheepskins are awarded.

"Hurry Up" Yost has been on the Pacific coast in the interests of Michigan University and has been getting a fine reception on all sides. Just what his purpose is is not altogether clear, but it probably is in the nature of stirring up the alumni to a greater interest in their Alma Mater. It is considerable of a cry from California to Michigan, even as the crowd files, and the old boys are likely to get out of touch with the old place yonder. Yost is reminding them that football and other athletics still are being played there and that missionary work to teach the young idea as to Michigan is a work that has no let up.

Firpo's Punch vs. The Scientific Jab

By Wood Cowan

It is very apparent that one Luis Firpo is going to figure prominently in the selection of an adversary for the heavyweight champion. Since Luis K. O. D. O'Bill Brennan there has been not a little discussion and controversy over whether Firpo can or cannot fight. Some say he is a cave-man and knows nothing about the many art of self-defense. In fact, many think he should be barred from the ring until he learns the rudiments of boxing.

Take a look back and let's judge the past performances of champions before they became champions and see how they stack up with Firpo's style of thumping.

Take Jim Jeffries for many an old-timer is wont to compare Firpo with Jim—when he came east on his first trip, to fight Bob Armstrong. Jeffries weighed about 220, same as Firpo. He didn't know the first thing about boxing—he just rushed and slogged. Armstrong hit him with everything known to pugilism in the line of wallops, but Jeff kept wading in. His steel jaw was immune to the best Armstrong had. His punches didn't make the least impression on the burly Jeff. Firpo is about as good in ring craft, strength, gameness and ability as Jeffries was at that time.

Yet Jeffries, who could take it and in turn possessed a wallop of his own became champion and defeated such a scientific boxer as Corbett.

Bob Fitzsimmons was all but out in his championship fight with Corbett at Carson City. Jim made a punching bag out of Bob, but one punch put Corbett away. Fitz possessed the wallop and he'd wait round after round for an opening to send it home. Bob never was a clever boxer but his wallop made him champion.

John L. Sullivan was another slugger. Not only did the mighty John possess a punch but he displayed the most ferocious frown in all ring history. Fact is, Sullivan, Jeffries, Sharkey, Maher,

BENNY TO FIGHT IN NEAR FUTURE

Cafe Business Slumps, So Champion Will Seek Change In Ring

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, April 5.—Developments of the last twenty-four hours indicate an early return to affairs of the fist by Benny Leonard, prominent actor and cafe proprietor. Business is very, very bad just now, as far as Benny's multifarious interests are concerned, and is becoming steadily worse. Flaunting a carefree attitude before the footlights had ceased to be a lucrative occupation and now the "infernal" revenue agents are threatening to padlock the Kingside, Leonard's palace of joy, for a period of five years.

The Ringside is one of five Broadway places against which an injunction will be applied for today on the ground that they are "public nuisances." This, if nothing else, is very bad for business, as any young merchant will tell you.

Therefore, Benny is beginning to look about him for a casual job or two. He has several in mind, including those in the possession of Lew Tender, Charley White, Rocky Kansas and Sailor Friedman. The sailor's, it is understood, is to be the first job accommodated in spite of the fact that White's is first in line.

Must Get Reputation

Charley has a duly accredited challenge posted with the boxing commission, but was inconsiderate enough to have himself slapped silly by Kansas in the none too distant past. In consequence, Benny would like to cut Charles dead henceforth, but this cannot be. He will, however, exercise the prerogative of demanding a workout match for his reappearance in the ring and Friedman is the probable choice.

The three big holiday dates of the summer season, Memorial day, July fourth and Labor day, are being held open by all promoters with the idea of scheduling either Leonard or Jack Dempsey in championship bouts on those occasions. It is probable that Leonard will get either of both of the first two dates, since the heavyweight debris will hardly have been cleared away from Dempsey's path by that time.

Colorado Courts Kill Professional Boxing

Pick Legion Players At Today's Practice

The local American Legion baseball team, which will play next Sunday in a game with either El Segundo or Huntington Park, will be picked this afternoon after a practice game at Wilson avenue and San Fernando road. This is called for 4:30 p. m.

A. G. Wheelon, chairman of the athletic committee, expressed an opinion this morning that most of the moisture would have evaporated by that time. He called attention to the urgency of making a good showing in the American Legion league in order that the local team may have a chance to win the prize, which is a trip to San Francisco with all expenses paid. V. D. Carr of 606 Sierra avenue is manager of the team. The captain probably will be picked this afternoon.

WHAT WE SAY IS
We have recently listed three of the FINEST homes to be had in Glendale, for the money. THAT'S WHAT WE SAY.

WHAT YOU SAY IS
"You've got to show me." That's what you say. Well, we are here for that purpose. We are not going into details on each house because you're going to see 'em anyhow, and in the meantime you're located in the very best sections of the city, on good streets and are real homes for real people. They simply can't last, so "do it now." Do what? Make us prove it. Here they are: Northwest Section—$3000 down Eastern Sec.—$9500—$2500 down Central Sec.—$8950—$2500 down

City Manager Asks Support For Nos. 7 and 8 on Tuesday's Ballot

The Glendale Exchange club held its regular weekly meeting yesterday noon in the Harriet Mae Tea room, 201 East Harvard street, and considered a dry but durable subject—concrete.

The city administration was represented at the luncheon by City Manager W. H. Reeves, City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy, and Building Superintendent H. C. Vandewater.

The attitude of the local Exchange club on civic matters was praised by Mr. Reeves. He remarked that it is easy to knock and difficult to build.

The support of propositions Nos. 7 and 8 on the municipal ballot next Tuesday was besought by Mr. Reeves. He called attention to the fact that the two acres on the northeast corner of Mountain and Louise streets, desired by the Legion, did not cost the city anything and should be given to the ex-service men for patriotic reasons.

Water Site Needed
The airport site was purchased primarily as water bearing land, according to Mr. Reeves.

Complaints in regard to street conditions, according to Mr. Dupuy, are being given prompt attention. He stated that the street department would appreciate any support and co-operation.

No temporary buildings are being erected in Glendale, according to Mr. Vandewater, who stated that the construction now permitted is all of the permanent and desirable type.

Capt. W. B. Kelly of 106 West Colorado street called attention to "The Fun Review of 1923," to be presented in the Thursday afternoon clubhouse on April 19 under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion.

Chronic grouch can be cured by attendance at ball games. Just dare get grouchy in the bleachers and see what happens.

Motor bus lines for Glendale seem assured. In northern California they are quite common. As noted in The Glendale Evening News last Saturday, they are not as profitable as the public believes.

At the same time, motor transportation has grown from a jitney grabbing business into a respectable, organized utility, which should be recognized as such. It is a boon to the traveling public.

The railroads and interurban lines have been unduly alarmed by the carriers, but, in the opinion of the writer, they develop a business entirely of their own. They serve those who otherwise could not be served efficiently and they increase travel in general.

Growth of Glendale demands additional ingress and egress to Los Angeles. It needs a closer linking together of the various sections of the city by bus lines. That has been recognized, but it is well that C. D. Gulick and his associates had plenty of time to work out their project, for had this city hastily entered into any scheme which should have failed, it would have been a blow to the municipality, the promoters and the industry at large that conditions did not warrant.

Now it appears Glendale may take a step in the right direction, confidently expecting something worth while to result.

From Essen in the Ruhr valley of Germany comes the disconcerting reports of clashes between the industrial workers and the French troops. It was to be expected, although one must give the Germans credit for exercising a deal of patience and admire the French for doing no less in view of the strained relations.

Again, it is noted the League of Nations is going to prohibit the sale into slavery of Abyssinians. That we wonder when the League takes no action in the Ruhr situation. The people there are virtually the slaves of the French.

Without being vindictive, the sum total of our opinion of the League of Nations would be given in five words, such as these: It is one huge joke. And it appears also that America is the "joker" running wild since Wilson went to the scrap heap.

One of the most pertinent remarks of current comment is that attributed to Frank Vanderlip. He advises sending President Harding and Secretary Hughes on a tour of the world because they are novices at international diplomacy.

It is a thought concurrent to that of a wise man who said, "A prophet is never recognized in his own home town."

An international diplomat of renown has difficulty in being

ATTRACTIVE auto camps are the greatest asset any city can boast in the entertainment of tourists.

Keep them clean, make them modern, and do not stint service in them for travelers formulate opinions from many little things rather than any one large object of interest.

And it is surprising the large number of well-to-do people who take advantage of such accommodations as auto camps offer here. Many of them are financially able to buy the biggest building in town, but usually they do not boast about it.

At Redding the other morning I visited their auto camps which is at the northern end of California's highway system. Tourists coming through from Oregon see Redding first. The real estate men make the most of it, too. One of the told me he turned a $25,000 deal at the auto camp there last summer, not to mention several minor transactions. He figured he obtained $2,000 benefit from the civic institution which is located near the municipal swimming hole on the Sacramento river.

It is interesting and gratifying to read the statement that Glendale schools lead all others in the state in increased elementary enrollment.

Yet this report justifies the large expenditures being made for the future generation and the more inclined we are to favor everything the schools may ask, provided the requests are within the bounds of reason.

Also, this great numerical growth of children in the community points to the necessity for more parks. It points to the necessity for more industry. Glendale is now at the threshold of development which will amaze the world.

Think of $3,132,505 worth of building permits being issued during the first three months of 1923. Almost up to the total of the whole year 1920, which is sure hitting it on high.

The Pacific Coast baseball season is started. The sporting pages have reminded you of the fact. But it is well for Commentator to advise you to take an afternoon off and see a good game of professional ball.

In the first place, you will adopt a sunburn. And you will perspire. And you will get rid of the spring fever. And you will get interested in the great American pastime for the rest of the season.

Chronic grouch can be cured by attendance at ball games. Just dare get grouchy in the bleachers and see what happens.

The baseball bug is the most harmless of the human species.

Motor bus lines for Glendale seem assured. In northern California they are quite common. As noted in The Glendale Evening News last Saturday, they are not as profitable as the public believes.

At the same time, motor transportation has grown from a jitney grabbing business into a respectable, organized utility, which should be recognized as such. It is a boon to the traveling public.

The railroads and interurban lines have been unduly alarmed by the carriers, but, in the opinion of the writer, they develop a business entirely of their own. They serve those who otherwise could not be served efficiently and they increase travel in general.

Growth of Glendale demands additional ingress and egress to Los Angeles. It needs a closer linking together of the various sections of the city by bus lines. That has been recognized, but it is well that C. D. Gulick and his associates had plenty of time to work out their project, for had this city hastily entered into any scheme which should have failed, it would have been a blow to the municipality, the promoters and the industry at large that conditions did not warrant.

Now it appears Glendale may take a step in the right direction, confidently expecting something worth while to result.

From Essen in the Ruhr valley of Germany comes the disconcerting reports of clashes between the industrial workers and the French troops. It was to be expected, although one must give the Germans credit for exercising a deal of patience and admire the French for doing no less in view of the strained relations.

Again, it is noted the League of Nations is going to prohibit the sale into slavery of Abyssinians. That we wonder when the League takes no action in the Ruhr situation. The people there are virtually the slaves of the French.

Without being vindictive, the sum total of our opinion of the League of Nations would be given in five words, such as these: It is one huge joke. And it appears also that America is the "joker" running wild since Wilson went to the scrap heap.

One of the most pertinent remarks of current comment is that attributed to Frank Vanderlip. He advises sending President Harding and Secretary Hughes on a tour of the world because they are novices at international diplomacy.

It is a thought concurrent to that of a wise man who said, "A prophet is never recognized in his own home town."

An international diplomat of renown has difficulty in being

WEEKS WILL OPEN FIRE ON CRITICS

Pacifist Bodies Rouse Ire of War Secretary by Raps at Army

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, April 5.—Secretary of War Weeks is about to deliver a broadside attack upon certain "pacifist" organizations which have bitterly criticized high ranking officers of the army for opposing the national campaign for world disarmament, it was learned.

His rejoinder will not only constitute a defense of the military policy of the United States, but it will establish the right of army officers to act as individuals in defending themselves and the government against persons or organizations assailing that policy.

The decision of Secretary Weeks to announce this policy of the war department was reached as a result of a controversy over recent public statements of Brigadier-General Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service.

On the basis of documentary evidence in the possession of the war department, General Fries charged the national council for prevention of war, the woman's international league for peace and freedom and other anti-war organizations with "unpatriotic motives" and intimated they favored "communism." This last allegation has been denied by the individuals concerned, but General Fries has persisted in his attacks until protests were made direct to Secretary Weeks.

In his reply, Weeks is expected to point out the reasons why war department officials hold the opinion that some of these "pacifist" organizations have communistic leanings.

U. S. Seaman Killed In Blast on Destroyer

APPROVAL ASKED FOR SEWER PLAN

Valley Organizations Meet L. A. City Council in Conference

Action was taken yesterday by the associated Chambers of Commerce of San Fernando valley, asking that the City Council of Los Angeles approve the plan of the city of Glendale to construct a sewage disposal system which would connect with the main Los Angeles outfall sewer, to be constructed under the $12,000,000 bond issue voted last fall.

It is claimed that territory within the city of Los Angeles and beyond the city of Glendale could connect with the proposed Glendale sewage outlet, and that Eagle Rock would also benefit.

The matter was referred by the council to its finance committee, and a recommendation on the proposal will be made shortly.

Pasadena's Daylight Bandit Dies of Hurts

Harry Edmunson of 226 East Elk street, identified by police as the "daylight bandit of Pasadena," died at the Pasadena hospital shortly before noon yesterday from gunshot wounds received in a spectacular gun battle with the police after he had run amuck on the streets of a residential section of the Crown city.

He died protesting that he had not committed any other crimes in Pasadena other than his attempt to rob the home of Richard S. Allen yesterday. Crazed from a blow on the head by a heavy blackjack thrown at him by Allen, Edmunson ran from the house shooting wildly until shot down by officers.

It is said that his wife was en route west and was to arrive in Pasadena yesterday afternoon from Lincoln, Neb.

D. A. R. Trace History Of National Banner

executive order issued October 26, 1912. California's star is the seventh in the fourth row, beginning at the left when the flag is hung horizontally. A state's star is added on the Fourth of July after the state has been admitted.

Red stands for valor; white for purity, blue for loyalty, and the flag itself for liberty and law.

During the meeting Mrs. Houston presented a letter urging the chapter to support a movement for patriotic films for young people, and Mrs. Leppelman read a letter from Pierson W. Banning, head of the Sons of the Revolution, urging a wide movement to keep alive the spirit of the early Americans.

Mrs. L. B. Border read the "Star Spangled Banner."

The meeting yesterday was of special pleasure to the chapter being with Mrs. Gale, daughter of the late Mrs. Martha Morris, a charter member of the chapter. An added pleasure was the profusion of white and lavender lilac blossoms decorating the Gale home, the flowers from the garden of Mrs. Charles E. Stanley of 108 North Everett street, Mrs. Gale's sister, who was unable to be present because of illness, that has confined her to her bed for many weeks.

Mrs. Gale was assisted in receiving and serving during the informal social hour following the program by Mrs. Daisy C. King of Los Angeles, Mrs. Gale and Mrs. King are members of the same D. A. R. chapter in Colorado.

DARING ESCAPE

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—Dramatically entering an all-night lunch room in the downtown district early today, a lone bandit held up Charles Nelson, the night manager, and six customers, picked up the cash register and fled in an automobile amid a fusillade fired by a passing policeman. Detectives Parsons and Vail, of the police flying squadron, took up the chase, firing at the fleeing robber, but he escaped.

WHIPPING SEQUEL TO DIVORCE SUIT

Husband Flogged by Band Of Kidnapers, Warned To Leave City

MACON, Ga., April 5.—Mrs. Fredericka Pace, of New York, and Lynnwood Bright of Macon were on their way to take out a peace bond in the hope of restraining Bright's jealous wife when kidnapped by a band of eight men last night, the couple stated today.

Both were blindfolded and taken to the negro section of Macon, where Bright was beaten nearly senseless, while Mrs. Pace looked on.

Their announced intention to take out the peace bond, after Mrs. Olivia Bright, from whom Bright was granted a first degree divorce Tuesday, had threatened Mrs. Pace, preceded the beating only a few hours.

Bright today said he recognized two or more of his captors while they were flogging him and that they stated they resented the testimony given by a negro during the divorce trial, that Mrs. Bright was untidy in her personal habits.

"I'm delighted to hear it," she declared Mrs. Bright when she heard her husband had been flogged while Mrs. Pace looked on. "I wish some others I know had been there to enjoy it."

Bright was warned last night that he had twenty-four hours to leave town and his pleas that he could not wind up his business in that time brought no extension from his floggers, but his attorney, Douglas P. Phagan, today stated that Bright had not made up his mind whether to leave or not.

Weather Halts Start Of Bemco Drilling

The spudding-in party that was to have marked the start of drilling operations at the Bemco Oil Syndicate Well No. 1 at Signal Hill today has been postponed on account of the rain, according to an announcement today by Brooks E. Miller, the promoter of the project. It is hoped that the drilling will start tomorrow, but if the rain continues it will be delayed until favorable weather comes.

The well is in proven territory, Mr. Miller declares, and the board of trustees, which includes Oliver O. Clark, Glendale attorney, and is elected annually by the unit holders, is composed of some of the best known capitalists in Southern California.

AVIATION FIELD NEED EXPLAINED

Army Flying Officer Tells Importance of Airport to Defense System

The importance of the local aviation field was emphasized in an interview recently by Lieut. Col. W. E. Gilmore of the United States Air Service.

"It is extremely important," he remarked, "that every community have an airfield that can be used by both commercial and service planes. The only way aviation can be successfully developed in our country is by providing suitable landing fields for planes flying on all kinds of missions. The importance of the development of aviation in this country from a national defense standpoint becomes more and more apparent to everyone. Naturally the officers of the Air Service have long realized this great importance but the public is now awaking to the fact that this new weapon is a powerful one both in defensive and offensive action."

"In line with America's idea of a small regular army it is most important in our national defense program to develop commercial aviation. It is of great advantage to have trained fliers who could be called upon in cases of emergency. Commercial aviation will also speed up the development of new types of planes and motors—all of which will have a military value.

"Any community that provides an airfield can feel that it is doing a splendid and necessary part in the development of aeronautics in this country. In these—the real pioneer days of aviation—if the City of Glendale should provide an airfield, the service and commercial fliers would greatly appreciate it and would use it whenever the opportunity afforded itself. The establishment of such an airfield would also tend to advertise the community and I think repay in good measure the expense necessary for its construction."

We Are Printing 7,000 Copies Daily

SINCE last December, when a special offer was made for new subscribers for The Evening News, and also for renewals, The Evening News' subscription list has been growing with marvelous rapidity, and especially has this growth been very marked in the past four weeks. Hundreds of names are being added to the list every day.

So encouraging has been the work of solicitors in Glendale and adjacent territory that it has been decided to extend the special subscription-getting drive to May 1, 1923.

This is the way you may help us: Pay 50 cents for a three months' subscription for yourself, and 50 cents for a three months' subscription for a friend who is not now a subscriber, and each of you will receive The Evening News for three months.

This means if you are not now a subscriber you may become one for a period of three months by paying 50 cents for your own subscription, and prevailing upon a friend who is a non-subscriber to pay a like amount for the same period.

A person who is now a subscriber may have his subscription date extended three months upon payment of 50 cents when such payment is accompanied by 50 cents for a three months' subscription from a non-subscriber.

- 1—The offer as given above will remain in effect until May 1, 1923.
- 2—Write the names of subscribers and the address legibly.
- 3—Names for mailing list will not be accepted at this special offer.
- 4—Cash must accompany the order in every instance.

Address all communications to Subscription Department, Evening News, 139 South Brand Boulevard, Glendale, Calif. Phone Glendale 132.
