French Premier Suggests in Telegram to Greek, King That Would Be Way Out of Difficulties; Refusal of German and Austrian Ministers to Leave Greece Discussed by Greek Cabinet

London, Nov. 21.—The Reuter correspondent at Athens, telegraphing under date of yesterday, said:

"The main discussion at the session of the crown council this morning had to do with the refusal of the Austrian and German min-isters to accept Vice Admiral du Fournet's notice to leave Greece and the attitude to be taken by King Constantine in the event of their de manding his protection.

"It is learned that M. Briand, Premier of France, in a telegram to the king, suggested that in order to emerge from his present diffi-culties he seek a reconciliation with M. Venizelos, head of the provis-ional government, and declare war on Bulgaria."

The advance, which was made by cone forgotten how often the German press asserted that the French city, would fall in a brief time and that its fall would mean the collapse of France and the end of the war? It was only when the Russian offensive, the Italian dash to Gorizin and the Angle-French offensive on the Somme front got under way that there was a pause in the discussion at Berlin.

Now the Germans seem on the point of making a considerable incidental gain. Now they think there are clear signs that they may be able to occupy much of the Roumanian capital, and for Berlin this serves as the basis for the same peace discussion. # VISIT THE TELEPHONE

You are cordially invited to inspect the British Columbia Telephone Company's exchange on Tuesday, Nov. 21st, Wednesday, Nov. 22nd, or Thursday, Nov. 23rd.

Everyone uses the telephone, but not everyone knows the inner workings whereby the service is brought to an excellent state of perfection.

Callers will have an opportunity of talking over the direct line to Vancouver, which makes telephoning to the Mainland as easy as to any part of the city.

Take advantage of this opportunity to inspect a service in which you are continually interested.

mate the importance of the capture of Monastir. Most observers consider that Better Position

It is recognized by military men here that all the allied forces must greatly unnumber the defenders before a decisive victory can be won, but at the same time their present position gives the allies an infinitely better place for winter quarters should further progress this year be found too difficult or too costly.

Before the Bulgarians evacuated countries been imposed in the first instance the Teutonic alliance would have been hard put to it to hold their own.

Every fifteen-inch gun fires the equivalent of one hundred pairs of overalls, or some 500 pounds, of cotton.

The Queen Elizabeth has eight guns of that calibre and in one broadside, therefore, she fires away 800 pairs of the straighten out anyway? Are matters Monastir they set fire to many of the buildings. The fire of the allies' guns blew up great stores of ammunition and dealt destruction on every hand. At the same time great quantities of booty still remained untouched in the city when the French and Serbians entered it. Most of the population, which had fied when the battle for the city was at its height, have returned since the retreat of the Bulgarians.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Nothing in the line of a spectacular production that has ever been brought to Canada can be compared to "The Birth of a Nation." This stupendous achievement of D. W. Griffith's will return for a limited engagement to commence at Princess theatre next Monday, Nov. 27.
"Much has been said and much has said and been written about the excellency of "The Birth of a Nation." but now that it is coming back the review written by the Toronto World critic when it was first shown in Toronto last September, seems worth reprinting, in which he says in part.

'The Birth of a. Nation' is one few productions that are not only by up to promise, but are really far cond expectations. It is quite impossible to convey in cold print the impossion made upon a crowded audience the alternation of screens of the little of the control of the con interest.

'The battle scenes are quite tragically real and the raid on Piedmont is a marvel of rushing fury. The episode of Lincoln signing the call for the first volunteers, the surrender of Lee at Richmond, the extraordinary fidelity of the scenes in the old Ford theatre when Lincoln was shot, the siege of Lynch's house when he is trying to force Stoneman's daughter into marriage, the storming of the settler's hut, riage, the storming of the settler's hut, within and without, while the Clansmen gallop to the rescue; there are only a few of the things that stand out in one's memory among dozens of unforgettable things.

"A great deal is due to the admirably arranged music, and it is to be said.

MYSTERY HOLDS SWAY

"Resista" and "The Shielding Shadow Share Honors at the Pantages Theatre This Week.

ne marvelous resisting power of sista" is the startling feature of a ndidly balanced bill offering at the Pantages.

Various theories are mentally advanced as to how this little lady can consistently defy all efforts to lift her against her will, but they are promptly exploded by demonstrations both on and off the stage. Normally Resista scales but 98 pounds, and at that weight can easily be raised from the ground by those who are willing to try. At will, however, this fragile looking creature increases her weight to anything up to 400 pounds, making it impossible for the 'strongest man to lift her. Brawny youths prevailed upon to mount the stage and test their strength, hoist Resista up with.ease at her normal weight, but in the twinkling of an eye she has the faculty of making a muscular giant look foolish. As the performer changes her weight she seems to become glued to the floor, and all the tugging in the world falls to budge the rigid figure.

Adequate proof is given that no magnets or other devices are utilized for the purpose of holding the subject to the ground, and the audience is left as mystified as ever. Resista is marvelously and delightfully mysterious. How is it done? That is what is agitating the minds of all who witness this remarkable performance.

Another attractive feature of the bill streams and montgomery put on a pleasing turn entitled "The Good parts and the attractive feature of the bill streams are accorded the efforts of the size and the streams are accorded to the floor in this blevele act."

ANNOUNCEMENT

WE have been definitely notified to discontinue the practice of giving coupons on the above car with every one dollar purchase made at our store. No one regrets the receipt of this information more than the firm of O'Connell's, Ltd. In our business dealings we have always endeavored to keep faith with the public, and in this instance, although under no legal obligation to do so, we have devised a means which we hope will satisfy our patrons. We are now presenting a competition which is not dependent upon chance entirely, but which will call into play the judgment and skill of our patrons,

In our window to day we have placed a glass jar containing a number of Lima beans. Representatives of the Times and Colonist newspapers were present when this jar was sealed, and it will not be opened until Christmas Day. All who spend a dollar at this store between now and Christmas Eve will be given a coupon on which to register an estimate of the number of beans the jar contains, and in addi-

In connection with the Keats case an item appeared in a newspaper to the effect that Keats must play with the 228th Battalion because he is under military rules. Keats is under military rules. Keats is under military rules. Keats is under military rule all right, but the club cannot force the N. H. A. to break their regulations, and are hardly likely to desire anything of this nature. The 40th Battery played in the O. H. A. last winter, and if they had tried to break the rules of the big amateur body just because they were a military organization everyone knows what the result would have been.

Keats is one grand hockey player and no one blames the battalion for trying to secure his services, but the professional hockey game will be a lot better from a local standpoint if he turns out with the Torontos. The 228th with Prodgers, the two Mc-Namaras, Duncan, Arbour and Oatman, and a few other stalwarts, are plenty good enough to hold their own in the N. H. A., while the Torontos without Keats would have a hard time to make the grade. Congratulations are in order to the two McNamara boys, of the 228th Battallon. They have successfully passed the examination, and are now fuli-fledged captains. Two better qualified officers would be hard to find. They have played hockey in Toronto nearly every season since the N. H. nearly every season since the N. H. A. invaded that city, and have always acted in a clean-cut, sportsmanlike manner both on and off the ice, and showed their calibre. They are good players, good sportsmen, and this is qualification enough to be leaders of cut out this formula, and hand it to them and you will have been the means.

The most expensive feast ever given by a lord mayor was not a lord mayor's day dinner, but a banquet in celebration of the victory of the allied nations over Napoleon. It took place on June 18, 1814, when Lord Mayor Domville entertained the czar, the king of Prussia, the prince regent, Wellington, Blucher, and a great company of officers and statesmen, all the guests being served on silver plate, valued at over £20,000, with delicacles which cost £25,000.—Laudon Chronicle.

In cross-examination, he said, some police had been assigned to the hall in the past few months. He had not heard from the chief of police that Mr. Eeli had warned the chief of enticipated disturbance. On October 8 a sergeant and five constables were on duty by request. No special directions had been issued as to entrance into the hall, into which he had not previously entered. He saw very few men come from the back of the hall. He heard a call to have the doors shut, at which point Constables Barnes and himself were driven out into the hallway. Immediately they hastened to return, and thus he arrived in time to leave London on this trip until November 11. The general post office in London is not in the habit of holding mail for days to send it by some later steamer when there is an earlier take instructions from anyone, the police were merely there to maintain order. Silent While Allegations of Obsequies of E. Baynes Reed Chicken-Killing is Made Against It

This was a black cocker spaniel, apparently a most friendly and harmless animal, and not at all the sort that would have a charge of murder, amounting to a massacre, laid at its door.

The owner of the dog, according to the pleadings, is Mr. Rolleson, while the farm on which he makes his home, belongs to Mrs. Rolleson. Two farms off there was established a poultry farm this summer by Arthur J. Moon, and it is the allegation that the degrance of which Mr. and Mrs. Relleson are jointly sued by the owner, that brought it to the court this morning in the train of the partles and their witnesses. It was itself a silent witness—either way, by its silence.

Mr. Moon confessed to a scruple to taking the law into his own hands when he knew the owner of the animal.

For his benefit and that of other poultrymen it may be said that the law gives the Tich to every nerson to kill.

For his benefit and that of other poul-trymen it may be said that the law gives the right to every person to kill any dog caught in the act of pursuing or worrying any domestic animal or fowl on land other than that of the dog's owner. For the protection of sheep this has been broadened lately to' give the right to any farmer or his men to kill dogs found trespassing be-tween dusk and dawn.

WINNIPEG ATHLETE KILLED IN ACTION

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—James H. Turnbull has received a private telegram from Ottawa stating that his son, Lieut. W. J. Turnbull, was killed in action November 14. Lieut. Turnbull was vecently awarded the Military Cross for bravery. "Ollie," as Lieut. Turnbull was widely known in athletic circles, was well liked and gratily admired. While he played rugby and baseball well, hockey was his best game. He played senior hockey here for years, starting at the age of 17 with "Varsity, then played with the Winnipegs, and last winter with the all-star Soldier Seven. Lieut. Turnbull leaves a widow who is at present residing at Weddington, England.

chool Children's Effort in Behalf of Belgian Relief Brings in $167.

In addition to the amounts already published, the sum of $167 has been secured by the united efforts of the pupils of Esquimait High school and of Esquimait public school for the fund for the relief or Beigian school children.

On Saturday evening, Nov. II, the students of the High school arganged a series of basketbail matches in the symnasium, to which spectators were admitted at the nominat charge of 100. The admission fees and the sale of candy made by the pupils themselves brought in the sum of $2.55.

On the same day some fifty girls of the upper divisions of the public school gave up their holiday for the purpose of "tagging" Esquimait. So well they "tagged" and so generous was the response of the Esquimait residents, that the gratifying sum of $16.59 rewarded the efforts of the young collectors.

As an additional effort, the children division VII. arranged a tea for the parents and friends on Tuesday after noon. The high quality of the cakes another dainties and the pleasing way which the juvenile hostesses set out the tables came as a pleasant surprise to the

Exist for Postponing Action in Matter

"I have taken advice from indepen dent sources that we cannot sell this land as now proposed. We must take some effort to secure a better price, because whatever we might personally wish to do, we are trustees for the people, and must do our best for the citizens," said Mayor Stewart in the city council last evening.

The object of the resolution, which stood in Alderman Todd's name, was to enable the city to sell a piece of land facing on Selkirk water to the Misses Brook, of Nassau, Bahama Isl-ands, for $2.055.50 plus the probate duty. The subject had already been twice discussed by the aldermen, on count of the principle of selling land

Alderman Todd, who supported the Alderman Todd, who supported the sale, thought the mayor's reasons might be sufficient warrant for delay. Alderman Bell particularly depre-cated the suggestions of Charles Hay-ward's letter in the morning paper of November 19 as unfair to the alder-men, and misconstruction. Mr. Hay-ward had but an unfair inference on the words of the debate on Friday.

nunication. Alderman Porter, in sug-esting that course, said the matter unst be determined sometime. The by-laws, granting the leases were read for a final time.

Review of Position.

Alderman Todd, in the course of his Alderman Todd, in the course of his speech in moving the motion, agreed that there was a great deal in the observations of the two previous speakers, had they not received that emphatic statement in favor of a separate bridge from Mr. Marpole. He had been definite, and urged the council to decide on the subject.

The aldermen reiterated his state-ment that under no circumstances would be now accept the entrance of 1815 agreement, although he had once 2815 agreement, although he had once accepted the terms. His eyes had been opened by probing into the early history of the bridge and the negotiations, and now instead of the city having to conciliate the company, it would be the company who would have to make applications to the city. He saw now the weakness of the company's position in a way it had never before appealed to him. If it was

A copy of the Balance Sheet, Profit and Loss Account and Auditor's Report of Balance Sheet, Profit and Balance Sheet, Pro pole when he wrote: "In order to meet the wishes of the city in November. 1914. I forwarded the agreement in the form in which it had been drafted to Lord Shaughnessy for his approval and authority to execute it, when the city was prepared to commence construction. The authority was siven, and I advised the city that the company was prepared to execute the agreement as soon as the city had finally concluded the necessary arrangements between the city and the government." As far as the alderman knew, the negotiations had not reached that stage in 1914. Whatever procedure was adopted today as to construction of the bridge, control must eventually be vested in the city, as had happened with the Point Ellice bridge. "Let us take Mr. Marpole at his word." Alderman Todd continued, "we have taken three years in endeavoring to bring the parties into line, and it is time for a settlement." TO SAVE SHOES

Alderman Bell favored the climina-tion of the E. & N. railway, but since the city had turned the matter over to the government, the best way would be to prepare a motion stating that the city council had received this intima-tion from Mr. Marpole and were in unless the contribution was increased.

Alderman Todd said he would accept the suggestion.

Alderman Bell: "In that way we renain consistent with what we have always are "".

main consistent with what we have already done."

Alderman Dilworth opposed the passage of the motion, contending that the city would not be compelled to pay a single dollar towards the bridge if the government's scheme did not commend itself to them.

Alderman Walker thought differently. The government, while it was protected by a fixed contribution, could pass an act compelling the city to find the balance of the money, and for that reason, and because he believed the city could find a better location in the harbor further north and near the actual freight termini, he favored the elimination of the E. & N. railway, which appeared to be anxious to be relieved.

Alderman Cameron agreed argsty with the mayor's position. While they might not approve of the expropriation proceedings at the Johnson street terminal, perhaps the government had not had the same experience as the city in the matter. Still the city had committed negotiations to the government. For his part he approved of the principle of limitate the E. & N. railway matter. Still the city had committee negotiations to the government. For his part he approved of the principle to eliminate the E. & N. railway eventually from negotiations in view of Mr. Marpole's letter.

The correspondence was laid on the table for a week, to have the amendment redrafted.

APPOINT COMMITTEE ON FIRE INSURANCE

Another Effort is to Be Made to Secure Reduction of Rates

Alderman Fullerton's motion to ap-point a committee to confer with the Vancouver Island Fire Underwriters' Association with regard to a reduc-tion in the fire insurance rates was before the city council last evening and adopted.

The mover said he was satisfied tha the case could be made out without difficulty; since the last reduction there had been considerable improve-ments in the fire service.

Alderman Todd seconded the m Alderman Todd seconded the motion as one with which he was very sympathetic, having worked hard for the principle. Recently he had renewed a policy, when physical conditions were far better, at the same rate as prevailed some years ago, in spite of all fire service betterments.

Alderman Porter understood the dif-ficulty lay with the head offices of the fire companies, who dictated the policy of the branches.
