

RED CROSS DANCE TO-NIGHT

Open Air Fete to Raise Funds

CHAIRMAN BECKER WORKS HARD FOR EVENT'S SUCCESS

The Red Cross of South San Francisco, backed by the Commercial Club, all the churches, the City Council, all nationalities and factories, have united to continue holding our city before the public as the most progressive manufacturing city in the state, and in this movement we must show our appreciation of the greatest charitable organization in the world, and in so doing the entire population of this town should turn out, and we know they will, to participate in the street carnival Saturday night, June 16th, which will be one Red Cross night.

The block in front of the postoffice will be swept, washed and waxed for dancing. Cappelli's band will furnish the music. Pretty girls will mingle through the crowd distributing confetti, serpentine and other regular carnival necessities, so that all the people may forget the business cares and imaginary worries of the day and join hands, with the thought uppermost in their minds of the wonderful work that is being done and will be done by the Red Cross for those boys of ours who will soon be in the trenches, willing to give all for democracy and freedom.

There will be a long booth for "Eats," and you will be served free. Mild drinks galore handed out by beautiful Red Cross women. Handsome young men will hand out carnival trinkets. What more in this world can we ask for? Fifty or one hundred United States soldiers will be present, dressed in our national uniform, quite distinguishable from any other on earth, which created one of the greatest sensations known to both England and France when Major-General Pershing and staff landed on the European shores as a fighting unit from the United States of America. Who can say but that some day we may read of a California regiment in siege before old Jerusalem?

The light and power company will freely turn night into day by illuminating the carnival block. The South City Lumber Company will furnish material for booths and stands. The merchants are donating supplies. The saloons will close at 7 p. m. It seems that everybody is busy in making this Red Cross night a success. South San Francisco led the county in draft registration, let's lead in Red Cross work. Eschelbach & Taylor have donated their theatre, and the main feature of the night will be at the Royal Theatre, where moving pictures will be shown. There will be four or five reels. The flag raising celebration a few days ago, showing 75 per cent of South San Francisco's population and the business district, including the actual ceremony at the Pacific Coast Steel Company's plant, is well worth seeing, also three reels will be shown of the actual manufacture of steel at the local plant, beginning with the raw material at the open hearth, putting it in the furnace, tapping the heat, pouring in molds, on to the 22-inch mill, then on through the 10-inch furnace and skillfully handled through the intricate passes of the 10-inch mill on and on to the shipping department, loaded on board the cars and finally lowered into the holds of the vessels for China and Japan.

Five hundred architects, engineers and builders were present when these reels were made. They all are seen in these pictures, also 60 per cent of the employees of the plant.

These pictures have just been returned from the Orient, where they have been shown to vast audiences, who expressed admiration at the demonstration of the actual workings of this difficult and scientific industry and freely admit that they are among the leading pictures shown on the canvas to-day.

The proceeds of this performance will be used to defray the expenses of the street carnival. It is hoped there will be a large balance, that will be for the Red Cross.

The Woman's Club, all the manufactories, foundries, business men, unions and clubs are behind this Red Cross movement. The presence of every man, woman and child of this city is necessary somewhere near the corner of Linden and

THREE GIRLS GRADUATE FROM HIGH SCHOOL

HELEN CARMODY

EMMA JOHNSON

FLORENCE BRAWN

The first graduation exercises in the history of the local high school were held Thursday evening in Metropolitan Hall.

The speakers were Miss Florence Brawn, who gave the valedictory address, Mr. Bassett and Mr. Britton.

Mr. Bassett's theme was "The Spirit of the Pioneer." His remarks were received with great enthusiasm.

Mr. Britton gave the history and the aims of the local high.

E. N. Brown presented the diplomas to the graduates, namely the Misses Florence Brawn, Helen Carmody and Emma Johnson.

Many parents and friends visited the grammar school to see the exhibit. It consisted of the articles made in manual training, sewing, painting and drawing.

South San Francisco Buys $72,000 Worth Of U. S. Liberty Bonds

It is estimated that South San Francisco will subscribe in the neighborhood of $72,000 for Liberty Bonds, which is a remarkable showing for a city of this size.

Complete returns will not be available for several days.

This financial achievement places South San Francisco on the roll of honor with the Federal Reserve Board of the western district, which is keeping a close tab on the sums subscribed by the various communities.

To be on the roll of honor a city must subscribe for 10 per cent of the resources of its banks, according to the latest report of the financial institutions involved.

South San Francisco had to subscribe for about $68,000. That this community will probably exceed this amount is largely due to the efficient labors of the Bank of South San Francisco, Chamber of Commerce, Pacific Coast Steel Company and the Western Meat Company. Works Superintendent Becker deserves special praise for inducing practically all of his employees to buy Liberty Bonds. That task involved a heap of true patriotism.

Three contributions alone will total about $50,000. The employees of the local plant of the Pacific Coast Steel Company will take about $20,000 or so of this amount. The Western Meat Company will take a similar slice, while San Mateo county will buy about $6000.

Most of the subscriptions are being made in $50 and $100 lots, and this means that the Bank of South San Francisco is literally deluged with Liberty Bond subscriptions.

Notwithstanding that Uncle Sam has asked for $2,000,000,000, which is a wonderfully large amount of money—almost unheard of in the world of finance—the total merely represents $20 for every person in the United States and the interest means just 70 cents a person annually during the life of the bonds. As this is the wealthiest nation in the world, the 70 cents a year interest will not work a hardship upon us.

WOMAN'S CLUB.

Saturday, June 9th, in Metropolitan Hall, the Woman's Club held a parcel post sale and whist party. The proceeds of the evening were devoted to the clubhouse fund. During the playing of whist, various articles donated by friends of the club were raffled. The cards were followed by the sale of the parcel post packages. Many of these packages contained hand-made articles and were most eagerly purchased. Light refreshments were served. The evening was most successful, both socially and financially.

Slip-on Blouses Are the Real Thing

THIS is the era of smart blouses, from the medieval shirt that slips on over the head to the most ornate varieties. The one pictured is of flesh toned georgette crape inserted with creamy fillet in rose pattern and belted with a stringy piece of the crape. All seams are hemstitched.

Wraps matching in color and fabric with the dress are still quite an innovation, and some especially so because of the odd shape and effective scarf collar. A prettier fashion is hardly conceivable, especially for the young girl or the youthful woman, who so many times looks overwhelmed in the elaborate wraps of a material far too gorgeous for her delicate, fresh beauty.

Expect to see many mannish tailored suits, severely plain in cut and finish and principally in gray and navy. Serges, twill and jersey are the most generally used fabrics.

Woolen dresses with apron draperies or tunics of fancy silk are an innovation of a Paris designer.

ANNA MAY.

The high cost of living is worrying even the hog raisers, for the high cost of barley is making the question of feed for hogs a serious one. Here is a solution offered by the committee on resources and food supplies of the state council of defense:

Feed dwarf milo, Egyptian and stock beets to swine.

Dwarf milo or Egyptian corn is almost equal to "good old yellow corn" in all-around feeding value. Such a crop can be raised in summer, following barley or wheat, if irrigation is possible. Excellent crops can be raised without irrigation on fall-plowed land which has been left rough until spring and has then had the moisture conserved by proper harrowing or cultivated until planting time. Even in very hot, dry sections, land handled in this way will produce a food crop of milo.

Feeding the mangels or stock beets to hogs along with grain will materially lessen the amount of grain required. Brood sows are carried through the winter in good shape on mangels and such forage as they can get, and bear strong litters.

Mangels produce a high tonnage and will grow in somewhat alkaline soils. If they are planted in such soils in the fall, they will make a crop with cultivation only and no irrigation, provided the winter rainfall is sufficient.

Story—

A COTTAGE

"Go back to the fish-prince!"

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

DADDY took the children on the sofa, and they cuddled down for the bedtime story: "When a fisherman caught an enchanted prince on his hook his wife was cross because he did not make the prince give them a cottage before he was put back in the sea.

"So when the fisherman went back and told the fish this the fish-prince said: 'Go home now. Your wife has a cottage already.'

"So the fisherman went home and found his wife standing in the door of a nice trim little cottage.

"Come in; come in! she shouted to him. 'Isn't this much better than to live in a dirty pigsty?'

"The fisherman went in to find a parlor, a bedroom and a kitchen, and behind the cottage was a little garden. It was planted with the flowers and fruits he liked best, and the courtyard behind it was filled with ducks and chickens.

"Ah," said the fisherman, "how happily we shall live now!"

"At least we will try to be happy," corrected his wife.

"Everything went right in the new cottage for a week or two. Then Dame Ilsabill said: 'Husband, there is not nearly enough room in this cottage for us. We need more space. The cottage and the courtyard are both too small. I should like to have a big stone castle to live in. Go back to the fish-prince and tell him I want a castle to live in.'

"Wife," answered the fisherman, "I do not like to ask the prince for another favor. Perhaps he will be angry. We ought to be happy enough with this pretty cottage given to us."

"Nonsense!" cried Ilsabill. "He will probably be glad to do it. Go along and try."

"So the fisherman turned to the sea, but his heart was heavy. When he came to the sea it looked gloomy and blue. But it was quite calm. He stepped close to the edge of the water and said:

"O man of the sea, hearken to me!

My wife Ilsabill will have her own will
And hath sent me to beg a boon of thee!"

"Well, what does she want now?" asked the fish-prince.

"She wants to live in a stone castle!" cried the fisherman.

"Is that all?" asked Jack. And daddy smiled.

Frank Sheridan in "Perils of Divorce" at Royal Theatre

FRANK SHERIDAN & EDNA WALLACE HOPPER
"THE PERILS OF DIVORCE"
WORLD FILM CORPORATION

John Graham of rather settled and quiet disposition, is married to a girl about twenty, Constance, who loves life, youth and gaiety. John is very jealous of his sweet young wife. One of Graham's best friends is Alice Lorraine, an adventuress in the truest sense of the word; a woman who, while traveling in the most exclusive circles, is still up to her neck in debt and trusts to her winnings at cards to be able to pay the bare expenses of her life. She is invited to the Graham's country house for a fortnight, and, before going, she schemes to win this man from the wife he loves, because she, Alice, needs the money. John and Constance have a baby daughter, whom they idolize. The child is dearer to her mother than all her husband's wealth.

Alice arrives at the Grahams, and is shown every courtesy due a well-loved guest. It is plainly seen that Alice's heart is torn with envy of this girl who has everything. Alice is also very nice to John. One day John comes in with great news, which he imparts to the two women: "Whom do you think has opened the estate adjoining ours?" he asks, and then proceeds to tell them that it is Mason Tegard. Alice, quick to remember that which would hurt Constance, says sweetly and cattishly, "An old sweetheart of yours, wasn't he, Constance?" and Constance assents.

Like a flash Alice has seen the jealous fire burn in John's eyes, and she feels now that she has the keynote to the whole situation—jealousy. That is what she must play upon—the jealousy of a middle-aged man with a young wife. By carefully working her points, by intrigue, Alice succeeds in bringing Mason Tegard and Constance together several times, each time also bringing John to see his young wife in company with the younger man. At one of these instances, when circumstances seemed to point rather accusingly toward Constance, John refuses to reconcile himself, with the result that Constance leaves him and her child, going to the city.

Alice, on the pretense of remaining to care for the child, really remains to win John, which she ultimately succeeds in doing. Their married life is not very happy. Divorced, Constance follows the straight and narrow road, never accepting the friendship or love of any other man. Alice soon tires of her aged husband, and, having all the money she desires, plans to elope with a younger man. In the meantime, Constance's daughter, now a grown girl, enters a cafe with a young man, where the mother is dancing for a livelihood. She rescues her unsophisticated daughter from the hilarious young man, and makes herself known to her.

After Alice has deserted John Mason, Tegard then goes to John and tells him that Constance had never accepted his advances, that she had ever been truthful and faithful to him. Remorse-stricken, he seeks her in the city, but too late. The hardships that she has encountered are too much. She dies in Geraldine's arms, leaving John to moan her death.

after having been a victim of the divorce evil.

"The Perils of Divorce," in which Edna Wallace Hopper and Frank Sheridan, will play the star roles, is an interesting and gripping story from beginning to end and should be seen by every person when it is shown at the Royal Theatre on Tuesday evening, June 19th.

That that portion of Division Street, as shown upon that certain map entitled "South San Francisco, San Mateo Co. Cal. That it is unnecessary to take any land therefor.

That the following described district of land was in said Resolution of Intention declared to be the district affected and benefited by said work and to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses thereof and that said district is situated in said City of South San Francisco, County of San Mateo, State of California, and the exterior boundaries thereof are particularly bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point formed by the intersection of the southerly line of Grand Avenue with the easterly boundary line of San Bruno Road, as shown upon said map, and running thence easterly along the southerly line of said Grand Avenue to the westerly boundary line of the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company; thence southwesterly along the westerly boundary line of the right of way of said Southern Pacific Railroad Company to the northerly boundary line of Commercial Avenue; thence westerly along the northerly boundary line of Commercial Avenue to the easterly boundary line of San Bruno Road; thence northerly along the easterly boundary line of said San Bruno Road to the point of beginning; saving, excepting and excluding from said district all public streets, avenues and roads therein included and contained.

Fill In Picture Puzzle No. 17

WELL, children, you drew a stork in your last picture. This bird is rapidly dying out, not because of persecution by man, but because swamps, where storks get their food, are being done away with all over the world. Snakes and reptiles which thrive in swamps make food for the stork. Get busy again with your soft pencil. Start at No. 1 and you'll have a bird that makes a great feast. It is the name of a country that is at war now.

Liberty Loan

As Good As Cash and Paying Interest

IN asking you to subscribe to the "Liberty Loan," your Government does not ask you to spend your money. Instead, it holds out to you an opportunity to save and invest.

It merely asks for the use of some of your savings. It offers to pay well for the privilege and to give you in return the safest investment in the world—a United States Government Bond.

What Is A Liberty Bond?

A Liberty Bond is a promise from the United States Government to repay you in gold on June 15, 1947, the full amount you now pay for the bond with interest at 3½ per cent per year until 1947.

This means if you pay $100 for a bond now you receive a promise from the United States Government to repay you $100 on June 15, 1947, and until then the Government will pay you $3.50 a year interest.

The Government reserves the right to call your loan on June 15, 1932; that is, to repay you your $100 between this date and 1947.

The holder of the bond has the unusual privilege of exchanging his 3½ per cent bond for any new bond issued by the Government during the present war which may bear a higher rate of interest.

Tax Exempt

Our Government has made these bonds exempt from all taxes (excepting estate and inheritance tax) and thus they yield an income of 3½ per cent absolutely net to you, regardless of the amount of your income from other sources.

Liberty Loan Spells Immediate Prosperity

What will be the effect on business of the successful subscription of the two billion dollar Liberty Loan? Do not worry—Farmer, Manufacturer, Merchant, Employee.

The immediate effect in every war has been that business was stimulated to the last degree.

Every railroad, every mill and factory, every mine, every farm will be pushed to its utmost to meet the increased activity caused by the Government coming into the market as a buyer on the greatest scale ever known.

It is said that the Allies alone will spend ten billion dollars a year in this country. Does this not spell prosperity?

War for the next three years as regards business will mean a kind of concentrated "Prosperity"—the lavish spending of vast sums of money on our industries.

The cost will come in loss of our young men, in waste of money in unproductive lines and for the future in increased taxation. But the cause of Civilization is worth the cost.

A large oversubscription to the Liberty Loan will shorten the war and lessen its cost. And no one need hesitate to subscribe because he fears any possible business depression in the near future.

As Good As Cash

In some ways the "Liberty Bonds" are even better than cash. They are in much the same class as United States Bank Notes—are almost as liquid as a checking account at your bank—and they pay you three and one-half per cent interest. Any banker will take your bonds as security for a loan.

No investment you hold can be safer, and no other bonds enjoy such a broad and ready market in case you wish to sell. You can get your money almost as easily as you can withdraw it from a savings bank and the right to convert it into higher rate bonds gives you absolute protection of income.

Are You A Patriot?

Subscribe for your Liberty Bond now. It is as patriotic an act as you can do. The Secretary of the Treasury says: "The greatest immediate service the American people can render in this War for universal liberty throughout the world is to furnish the means for its vigorous prosecution. This bond issue is the first step. I earnestly bespeak the co-operation of every citizen throughout the length and breadth of the land in this great service of patriotism."

You can buy these bonds on the installment plan.

S. P. Should Take Notice.

Now that the postoffice department has decided to give South San Francisco increased service by making it a part of the San Francisco postal district and giving it free delivery of mail, the South San Francisco Enterprise suggests that the Southern Pacific Company "beat the government to it" by immediately extending San Francisco's free switching limits to include South San Francisco. A good suggestion, and the Southern Pacific should take notice.—San Mateo News.

Buy Liberty Bonds.

Although complete figures were not available at press time, it is understood that South San Francisco will subscribe in the neighborhood of $72,000 for Liberty Bonds.

A most gratifying feature of the bond buying here is the fact that the movement is a most popular one as desired by the government.

South San Francisco's bond buyers' list is exceedingly heavy. Rich and poor alike are doing their "bit" in the nation's hour of need.

Do Your Share.

The Red Cross War Council wants one hundred million dollars for military and civilian relief at home and abroad during the present war.

President Wilson, in a formal proclamation, has set aside the week from June 18th to 25th as Red Cross Week, and has made a strong appeal to the nation to rally to this call and, with practical patriotism, furnish the means by which this single, experienced organization, recognized by law as the public instrumentality for this purpose, may carry on its tremendous task.

The machinery for this campaign is now being carefully organized. The western committee is headed by John B. Miller of Los Angeles, and assisting him are Lawrence C. Phipps Sr. of Denver, William H. Crocker of San Francisco, Henry L. Corbett of Portland, Charles E. Peabody of Seattle, George G. Tallaferra of San Antonio, Texas, and Ford Harvey of Kansas City, Mo. The western executive secretary is Lyman L. Pierce, and the associate secretary is Richard R. Perkins.

Conferences have been held already in the principal centers—San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Denver and Wichita, Kan. At each of these meetings the strongest men in the community have gladly come forward, offering both their time and money. Joseph Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, has wired to hundreds of the leading citizens in the big cities and has received from them instant and enthusiastic promises of assistance.

A definite program for the canvass is now being worked out. Teams are being organized in all the cities, and the "drive" will be just as thorough as experienced direction can make it. That the huge sum will be raised without difficulty seems assured. Of the hundred million, the west is asked to raise fifteen millions, and those in charge of the campaign are confident that the end of Red Cross Week will see the entire sum subscribed.

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey has charge of the work in this city.

Real Reason for Delay

There has been much criticism of the delay in Congress in bringing the war legislation to a conclusion. Especially has this criticism been directed against the committee on conference which dealt with the conscription bill, and its members have been accused of hampering the President in his plans for the war. This is unjust. The committee has had no means of knowing what the President's plans for the war may be. He did not tell the committee, he did not tell Congress, he did not tell the country. He kept his own counsel and expected every one else to do as he bade them. He cannot justly complain if Congressmen have not moved as he would have them. In fact, if he finds Congress slow-motioned he should know the reason. It is because there is no recognized channel through which the opinions of the President and the deliberations of Congress can be co-ordinated and made effective. Such a channel would be offered by the joint committee on the conduct of the war which the Weeks-Madden resolution calls for. The President has shown reluctance to have such a committee named and he has thus far been able to restrain Congress from creating such a committee. He now finds that it is easier to influence Congress not to do something—such is the force of inertia, political as well as physical—than it is to influence Congress to do something. If he would only help procure the joint committee he would find, somewhat paradoxically, that he would be able to have many things done easily that now advance with great difficulty.

Thrifty Housewife: "Billy, Billy, come quick—I've found a spud! Now can pay off the mortgage!"

Up with the cuss who wants to down the government. The stouter the limb the longer he'll swing.

The government has just contracted for seventeen million dollars' worth of shoes. Gosh! We need a pair.

Having kicked their masters out, the Russian people are up against an even harder job in kicking themselves in.

Twenty-five butter and egg speculators have been indicted in Chicago. Give 'em twenty-five years apiece.

For once we are perfectly willing to see congress remain on the job—until they provide for jailing or hanging the food hogs.

WHAT BOOZE DOES

1. It is the direct cause of 90% of Crimes.
2. " " " " " 90% " Divorcees.
3. " " " " " 50% " Insanity cases.
4. " " " " " 95% " Homeless children.
5. " " " " " 90% " Accidents.
6. Death rate is increased 60% by BOOZE.
7. THE POORHOUSES ARE FULL OF BOOZERS.

If you want to live long and be happy
SIDETRACK BOOZE.

BOOZE is a habit easily broken by the use of a little backbone (NOT WISHBONE).

We all wish for the BEST things and the best is none too good for any of us.

Nearly all of our wishes will materialize if we use a little backbone in place of wishbone.

WISHBONE is a by-product of BOOZE.

BACKBONE is the product of temperance and perseverance.

DEVELOP BACKBONE—cut out BOOZE, before it does to you what it has done to those that have gone before you.

To the married man that thinks he cannot get along without his drinks, the following is suggested as a solution to the bondage of the habit:

1. Start a saloon in your own house.
2. Be the only customer and you will have no license to pay. Give your wife $2.00 to buy a gallon of whisky, and remember that there are sixty-nine drinks to one gallon.
3. Buy your drinks from no one but your wife. By the time the first gallon is gone she will have $8.00 to put in the bank and $2.00 to start business again.
4. Should you live ten years and continue to buy BOOZE from her and then die with snakes in your boots, she will have money enough to bury you decently, educate your children, buy a house and lot, marry a decent man and quit thinking about you.

Looking for a wife, young man? The former czar has three charming daughters who are quite available with no takers.

Buy a Liberty Bond—then buy another.

Soon many of our young men will be hunting the trenches in France, while others will be ogling the pretty girls on the bathing beaches. Yes, there's a difference.

The Lord loves a cheerful giver and a hard hitter. Buy a Liberty Bond, or enlist—or both.

Keep right on digging. Every lick means another bite.

Senator Lewis advocates hanging for the food hog. Get a rope!

Keep smiling. That scowl will not keep you out of the trenches.

Allen citizens of allied nations in this country should not be allowed to remain in safety here while our own men are sent abroad to fight. Put 'em in the army or send 'em home.

Farmers will see that there is plenty of food produced in this country, but they can not keep it out of the hands of the damnable speculating hogs. Governmental action now will save trouble later.

COUNTY NEWS IN BRIEF

Chronicle of Peninsula Events for Week

NEW PRINCIPAL.

Miss Marion Brown, niece of Supervisor Brown, has been appointed principal of the Lomita Park school. Miss Brown was formerly the primary teacher.

BANKER WOUNDS SELF.

Charles McCracken, an employee of the First National Bank in Redwood City and a special Sunday traffic officer employed by the county, is at the Red Cross Hospital in San Mateo suffering from a gunshot wound in the leg. McCracken and Charles Steele, traffic officer in the fifth township, were cleaning a revolver at Steele's home in Pescadero, when the gun was discharged.

MRS. PIKE ACQUITTED.

After deliberating for one hour a jury composed of ten men and two women acquitted Mrs. A. W. Pike, society matron, before Superior Judge George Buck at Redwood City, on the charge of shooting F. O. Stallman for plucking red berries on her country estate.

A previous jury had disagreed, voting 10 to 2 for conviction. Mrs. Pike had been indicted on a felony charge in connection with the shooting, after Justice of the Peace George Seely of Redwood City had dismissed a complaint against her.

CONGRESSMAN HAYES.

In a personal letter to George W. Best of Burlingame, Congressman Everis Anson Hayes says that he is fast recovering his health, and that he has never thought of resigning his seat in the lower house. He says that he hopes to return to his work at Washington in the not too distant future.

MANY SEEK OFFICE.

Sixty-seven men and women from all parts of the state have applied for the position of principal of the Redwood City grammar school, which was made vacant by the death of Robert W. Mantz. The position is being filled temporarily by Mrs. Mantz, who was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of her husband.

AMBULANCE CORPS.

Benjamin Norris Fryer, intertype operator on the San Mateo County News, has enlisted as a member of the Masonic ambulance corps that is being organized in San Francisco for service at the west war front.

TENDERS RESIGNATION.

Principal Lee R. Switzer of the Halfmoon Bay union high school has tendered his resignation to the board of trustees of the school, and his successor will be appointed before the beginning of the new school year.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

It has been decided to hold the San Mateo county teachers' institute in Redwood City, the second week in October.

EATON KILLED.

E. A. Eaton, manager of the C. H. Wideman Land and Lumber Company at Pescadero, was instantly killed late Wednesday night or early Thursday morning when his automobile plunged over an embankment on the San Gregorio-Pescadero road about one-half mile north of Pescadero. His body was found at 6 o'clock Thursday morning, pinned beneath the capsized machine.

"STAR" SUSPENDS.

After making a hard, uphill fight for exactly one year, Ed T. McGettigan and James D. Hedge, editors and proprietors of the Redwood City Daily Star, have decided to suspend publication. They made a public announcement Thursday, stating that the last issue of the paper will appear on Saturday of this week.

McGettigan and Hedge leased the plant of the Redwood City Democrat from James V. Swift and started their daily paper on June 15th of last year.

You can secure a lustreless, oil painted finish on your walls and ceilings by using Acme Quality No-Lustre Finish—forms an artistic dull finish surface that combines the durability of an enamel or an oil paint with the restful tones and velvety beauty of fresco.

ACME QUALITY NO-LUSTRE FINISH

Can be applied over plaster, metal, canvas, wood, wall board or any surface upon which paint can be used.

It is an ideal wall coating—more durable than Kalsomine, more artistic than paint or enamel and more sanitary than wall coverings stuck on with germ breeding pastes.

BOXING CONTEST.

The South City Athletic Club will hold a boxing show in Metropolitan Hall, Monday evening, June 25th.

Eddie White of Colma and Sam Langford box the main event. Both boys have met before, the bout being called a draw after four rounds of fast milling. Both boys will try for a knockout.

In the special event Jim Horner is matched with Joe Rose.

Jim Horner is going great guns right now, while Rose is as fast as any boy in San Francisco.

William Perkins of San Mateo meets Red Stewart of San Jose.

This bout should be a "K. O.," as it is a grudge fight.

Al Costa, local boy, meets Eddie Clabby.

Dave Rodgers, also a local boy, meets Bobby Evans.

The Fighting Bootblack meets Kid Burns in the opener.

Promoter J. Monize has arranged a strong card for this month's show and it should be well attended.

DEPUTY CONSTABLE VIOLATES TRAFFIC RULES

Louis Lombardi, deputy constable at South San Francisco, serving under Constable S. Landini, was arrested Tuesday night by Officer James S. Madden of Burlingame for driving an auto truck on the state highway without lights.

LODGE SMOKER TO-NIGHT.

A smoker will be held in Metropolitan Hall to-night by Panama-Pacific Exposition Lodge, No. 5 (steel workers).

South San Francisco Aerie, No. 1473, F. O. E., at its meeting Tuesday bought Liberty Bonds to the amount of $1000, and also donated $25 to the local organization of the Red Cross.

HIGH COST OF LIVING.

"High Cost of Living, and What the People Can Do About It," is the title of an address which was to have been given by Ernest O. Ames of the Pacific Co-operative League of San Francisco in the city hall Tuesday night, June 19th. J. W. Wells was also to have spoken.

At a special meeting of the town board he was denied the use of the hall. Probably he will speak in front of it.

THE TOWN SLOUCH

By ELLIS M. CLARKE.

It's No Trouble For th' Neighbors to Keep Tab on What Cy Cawkins is Doin' 'Cause He Don't Do It.

Some people with laughter
May bend themselves double,
But few are in earnest
When laughin' at trouble.
