

TRUSTEES' MEETING

CLUB RECOMMENDS $500 FOR CHARITY—ASK CITY TO DECORATE FOR CONVENTION

The regular meeting of the board of trustees of the City of Glendale was held in the city hall Monday evening, Feb 1, 1917. Present: J. S. Thompson, president of the board; and Trustees Chas. Grist, R. M. Jackson, F. L. Muhleman, G. B. Woodberry. Also present were T. W. Watson, city manager; J. C. Sherer, city clerk; W. E. Evans, city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager public service department; Edw. M. Lynch, city engineer; A. H. Lankford, fire marshal; Geo. H. Herald, city marshal.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

A communication was received and read from the Tuesday Afternoon club recommending that the trustees apportion in their annual budget the sum of $500 for the purpose of relieving the necessities of Glendale's poor.

Monthly reports were presented from the building inspector and city recorder which were read and ordered to be filed.

The tax collector presented a report showing collections of the week ending January 31st, $114.67, total collected to date, $38,074.79. The same was ordered to be filed.

Mr. Stafford, chairman of a Young People's Christian Endeavor committee, appeared before the board and reported as a result of his investigations in regard to decorations which the society desired to have the trustees provide on the occasion of the coming C. E. convention, he finds that the firm of Hoegee and company makes such a favorable proposition that it is doubtful if anyone else will underbid them. At the request of the board, however, he agreed to make further inquiries so as to make a more definite request in regard to the amount of money necessary to be appropriated for the purpose.

The city manager reported that the work of connecting the gas mains from Adams street to Stanley avenue is about completed. He reported the expenditure of the sum of $822.24 for protection work along the Verdugo wash, leaving of the amount apportioned the sum of $117.76, a portion of which it would be necessary to spend along the wash in the neighborhood of the Montrose railroad bridge. He made a report in regard to the work of repairing streets, covering condition generally.

Mr. Dupree, one of the parties whose property is included within the assessment district for the opening and widening of Seventh street, appeared before the board requesting that if possible the time for the payment of the assessment be extended. The city attorney read extracts from the law governing the case, showing that it is legally impossible to make such an extension.

The manager of the public service department reported progress in the laying of water pipe.

The city attorney reported in reference to the opening and widening of Sycamore canon road that Messrs. J. A. Pirtle, Frederick Baker and J. F. Lilly had been appointed referees by the court.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman, "An ordinance of the board of trustees of the city of Glendale establishing the grade on portions of Stocker street, Ruth street, Dryden street, Gilbert street, Arden avenue, Remington street, San Rafael avenue, San Fernando road, Penn street and Stanley avenue in said city" was taken up for the first reading. On motion, this ordinance was declared read for the first time and was taken up for second reading. On motion, this ordinance was declared read for the second time and was laid over till the next regular meeting for the third and final reading.

Mr. J. P. Fanset appeared before the board in reference to his application for a permit to operate a dry cleaning establishment requiring the use of gasoline, on West Broadway. After an informal discussion the matter was, on motion of Trustee Grist, laid over for one week.

The application of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Grant for permit to conduct a hospital and sanitarium on East Third street, having the approval of the city manager, was, on motion of Trustee Woodberry, granted.

The city engineer reported practically all the assessments have been paid in for the opening and widening of Seventh street, and that he had had a conference with the referees in regard to Sycamore Canyon road.

On motion of Trustee Grist, "An ordinance of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale amending

CLUB ACHIEVEMENTS

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB LADIES REPORT SPLENDID HALF YEAR'S WORK

At the close of the first half of the club year the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club is rejoicing in a splendid record of achievements. Not only has an unprecedented number of new members been received (fifty-six in all, making a membership to date of 297), but a series of unusually strong programs has been enjoyed. The much loved little president, with her usual modesty, says that the fine programs have been the cause of the growth of the club. Interested onlookers, however, cannot fail to see in addition the impetus which the administration of our quiet, just and efficient president has produced.

In the way of programs the club has heard such artists as Dr. Daniel F. Fox, Mrs. Constance Balfour and Mrs. Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith. To the program of Mrs. Goldsmith the rather unusual privilege was given the club membership of the use of their regular guest cards.

A bazaar, generally conceded to have been the most artistically beautiful ever held in Southern California, cleared $342 for the new club home, this in spite of the inclement weather and of the fact that the bazaar was planned in a short time and was open for only one afternoon and evening.

There are seven fine active sections in the club this year: The literary, Mrs. Wm. Ramsay, curator; music, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, curator; art and travel, Mrs. C. M. Turk, curator; Shakespeare, Mrs. Menzo Williams, curator; parliamentary usage, Mrs. Helen I. Campbell, curator; legislative, Dr. Jessie Russell, chairman; civics and political science, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, curator. Two of these sections have paid instructors, Mrs. Ethel Lynde directing the study of the music section and Mrs. Mazie Fullman Garret that of the Shakespeare section. The section of the club numerically the largest is the literary section with an enrollment of forty. The art and travel section, however, is a close second. The civics section has already accomplished good results in tree planting and every section is doing good work.

The club is proud this year of the honor of having from its membership the president, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, as chairman of the election board, Mrs. P. S. McNutt as district parliamentarian, and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, who is being widely endorsed for the office of president of the district federation.

The announcement may come after the cabinet session this afternoon which will follow a conference between Wilson and Senator Stone. Although there is a feeling that a break is inevitable if Germany carries out her announced intentions, there is still hope that Wilson may do the unexpected.

HOME WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Emily Augusta Elias and Mr. John Newton Smalley was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Elias, at 1456 Myrtle street, Thursday morning, February 1, 1917, at 10 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Henry of Tropic officiating. The home was very artistically and beautifully decorated with pink carnations, ferns and dainty lily-of-the-valley wedding bells. The curtains were drawn and the rooms were lighted with pink candles placed in clusters everywhere. The bride couple took their place before a bank of pink carnations, the bride being attended by her sister, Miss Laura Lillian Elias, and the groom was attended by Shives Mitchell of Glendale. The bride was very beautiful in a handsome gray tailored traveling suit and pink crepe waist with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, hyacinths and five-fingered ferns. Preceding the ceremony a vocal solo appropriate to the occasion was sung by Miss Ruth Mitchell, accompanied by her sister. A delicious wedding breakfast followed the ceremony. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the bride. The bridal couple departed in an automobile for a week's honeymoon trip to San Diego amid a shower of congratulations and good wishes. Both bride and groom have lived in the community since childhood and have a host of friends. The bride is a graduate of the Glendale high school and for the past two or three years has been a teacher in the Tropic grammar school. The groom has a splendid fruit ranch in Sycamore canyon. The relatives and few intimate friends who witnessed the ceremony were:

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Elias, Mrs. Emma Smalley, Mrs. Emily Cox, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler of Tropic; Mr. Jacob Cox of Pasadena; Mr. Clem Cox of Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bettanier of Arizona; Mr. J. M. Cox of Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Robertson of Los Angeles; Mrs.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES

FOUNDERS AND PATRONS OF GLENDALE HIGH HAVE REASON FOR PRIDE

By Walt. Le Noir Church
As the school is our most potent factor in right beginnings of personal development, which the writer has been discussing in a series of studies, published in the Glendale Evening News, it was thought that a profitable supplementary study might be made in daily notes of what is happening in our schools.

We shall begin at the top, which is the Glendale Union High School, not merely the Glendale High.

It is named the "Union High" because three incorporated cities, Glendale, Tropic and Eagle Rock, unite with one unincorporated city, Crescenta, in supporting and patronizing that High School. And, be it said by one who has presided over two school boards and has been directly interested in educational work for many years, the founders and patrons of this Union High School have reason to be vastly proud of their achievement.

The present school board of Glendale Union High School district are A. L. Bryant, 421 Jackson street, Glendale, president; Irving H. Oliver, 647 E. Acacia avenue, Tropic; Dan Campbell, First National bank, Tropic; Claud O. Pulliam, 148 Kenwood street, Glendale; Wm. F. Rice, 257 Windemere avenue, Eagle Rock.

One thing notable about this board of trustees or commissioners is that its personnel changes so seldom. They keep steadfastly on the job, with results most gratifying to those who take the trouble to personally investigate what is really being accomplished for this and coming generations in the way of education that educates.

The system adopted and gradually being improved all the time is doing a great deal to eliminate the graduate who "knows so much that it is not true."

Superintendent George U. Moyse, principal, and Harry L. Howe, vice principal, are efficient executors of that system and their good work will live after them. If a generalization could be made that would express the situation fitly in a few words, it may be this: The crowning feature of all that vast system of detail work is found in these two things:

1. The broad scope of the work, wide enough to arouse the personal interest in some of its parts of any kind, type or variety of student. It is literally all things to all students.

2. The amount of personal care given to individual students to fit the case and needs of each; and so help the specialist or even the "freak student" find himself or herself and thus get down to the best work for that particular individual along the line of least resistance.

Right there is the key to efficient education, which means "leading out," not mere stuffing in.

From day to day these educational notes will appear in the Glendale Evening News and one thing we shall try to discover will be some answer to the old-time question: "Is there any royal road to learning?"

EDUCATIONAL NEWS

Mr. Church, whose writings are familiar to the readers of the Evening News, has been secured to prepare the Glendale Education Notes. Mr. Church will make personal visits to the schools, and will report conditions as he finds them.

Ida Mae Holbrook of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peckham of Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Weston of Tropic; Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton Barnes of Tropic; Mrs. Emma S. Barnes of Tropic; Mr. and Mrs. Perlie B. Chandler of Glendale; Mrs. Fleta Kenna of Tropic; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Chandler, Mr. A. L. Chandler of Tropic; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Chandler and family of Gorman; Mrs. Ella Richardson of Glendale; the Misses Leta McCoy, Myrtle Pulliam, Eulalia Richardson, Lorraine Mitchell, Kathleen Duncan, May and Elsie Church, Frances and Gladys Peckham, Lucile Barnes, Master Lewis Barnes, Mrs. Emma Legge of Bishop, Mrs. Pearl Livingston of Tujunga, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Church of Glendale, Mrs. Elsa Hunt of Pasadena and Miss Josephine Johnson of Los Angeles.

A happy event which followed the wedding at the Elias home was the christening of Laurence Neil, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Weston of Tropic, and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Elias. The wedding guests also remained for the christening.

DISTRICT PLAN FOR PUBLIC HEALTH WORK, LOS ANGELES COUNTY

For successful public health work, the County is too large a unit to be administered entirely from the City of Los Angeles. It is recognized by the State Board of Health that a district division for administrative purposes, both in the state as a whole and the county, where the county is large, is absolutely necessary.

The County Health Office of Los Angeles, about a year ago, consisted of a health officer and one fumigator. The Board of Supervisors has supported the progressive policy of increased facilities for public health, so that we now have a sanitary inspector, two public health nurses, a full time deputy health officer, and 50 unpaid deputies. It is practically impossible to make further progress until each local community recognizes the need for a district subdivision, appoints committees to study the question, and sends strong representations to the Board of Supervisors, requesting said district representation. The Board of Supervisors has the power to appropriate money so that each district can have a full time health officer and nurse.

There are at least six different functions which must be carried out. These six functions are:

Supervision of vital statistics, general administration, communicable diseases, pure food and drugs, school hygiene and education, and public health nursing.

At the present time we are carrying out these functions at too great a distance, and without serious local co-operation. We plan at least two committees in each community. First, a committee representing the Parent-Teacher Association, which would take up the problems relating largely to the school and the school child. Second, a committee representing the business men and the women's clubs, which can formulate definite plans for the formation of a district, and to such purpose would interview the Board of Supervisors that a necessary appropriation for a full time health officer for said district be made.

In the La Canada, Ina Crescenta, Sunland and contiguous territory, there would be formed a health district which would probably include the cities of Burbank, Glendale, Eagle Rock and Tropic. One full time health officer, a sanitary inspector and two nurses should be provided for the support of this district.

1 Health Officer,	$2,000.00
1 Sanitary Inspector,	1,200.00
2 Nurses,	1,800.00
Expenses,	1,000.00

$6,000.00

The items will vary according to the population of the district. In this budget, the expenses should be borne equally on a per capita basis by the territory under incorporation and in the rural districts. Such a plan would have to be ratified by the City Council of the three cities mentioned, and the Board of Supervisors would have to appropriate the money and ratify the plan for the unincorporated sections.

Printed matter is now being prepared, showing in detail just what such a change means, and we hope that the work of the visiting nurses and the outdoor relief division of the charity department can be co-ordinated so that the health district and the district for charities will coincide.

ANNUAL BANQUET TO EMPLOYEES

R. L. Hinckley, proprietor of the Glendale Hardware company, gave his annual banquet to the employees of the selling and office department of the company at the Hotel Gray on Thursday evening, the party of seventeen enjoying one of the splendid turkey dinners for which the Hotel Gray is famous. At the conclusion of the banquet the employees were taken to Los Angeles by auto, where a theater party was enjoyed at the Orpheum. This pleasant courtesy to his employees has been made an annual custom by this enterprising merchant and besides the thorough enjoyment of those who are his guests on these occasions tends towards more pleasant business relations and a more thorough co-operation and understanding between employer and employee. Those present besides the host, Mr. R. L. Hinckley, were as follows: J. B. Ward, F. W. Sanford, Corinne Orff, Thomas V. Philp, C. J. Kellenberger, C. G. Wilkinson, Robert S. Payne, F. E. Pearson, William W. Warren, Harry Tibbetts, A. B. McIrvine, C. A. Nicol, R. E. Dodsworth, N. Chase, P. W. Cole and A. T. Latter.

Confession may be good for the soul, but it's often rough on the reputation.—Charleston News and Courier.

MOTHERS' READING CIRCLE

The Mothers' Study Reading Circle met as usual at the Pacific Avenue school Thursday. The attendance was good and the subject a very interesting one, that of giving the young boy his first lessons (the lessons which make the lasting impressions) in preparation for a life of school service. Mr. McKeever states plainly that the trainer of the boy must have in his own mind one of two standards on which to base these lessons. First, is society an organization to be preyed upon by greed and selfishness, to be used as a means to attain political or social distinction; or, second, is society offering to us a means of developing in the young boy an appreciation of law and order and an unselfish desire to help the unfortunate and a profound respect for the man or woman who does the real work? The boy early in life learns to protect his own interests and to resent interference. And as soon as this spirit manifests itself he should be taught the necessity of law and likewise taught to obey because it is right and not because he must; also to protect the interests of others and that, while society owes all a livelihood, he also owes society the very best and noblest in him in return. There will be no meeting of the circle next Thursday as the Parent-Teacher association meets on that day. But the following week the circle expects to finish the study of "The Training of the Boy" and being the reading of "Training the Girl" by the same author, Wm. A. McKeever. Everyone interested in this subject will be welcome.

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt, Le Noir Church

STUDY XV.—THE PROCESS OF EDUCATION

How does the great oak from the little acorn grow?

By receiving, using and giving. Of course that implies something alive within the acorn to begin with. Otherwise, there would be nothing which could do the receiving, using and giving. (Nothing with powers to be educated.)

That something is the life germ, which seems to be endowed with the instinct for the best; the power of intelligent choice of foods and drinks, and direction of motion and other conditions of growth which will give most probability of avoiding, escaping or overpowering its foes, as well as its parasitic friends, and so attain to perfection as an oak tree and finally produce perfect acorns, just like the one from which it came, unless special conditions of growth and environment have caused some minor difference (which may, as some will affirm, or cannot, as other allege, be reproduced in the next generation of acorns).

Why do the shoots and leaves of the young plant reach out toward the light? Because they need the light for further growth; the same reason which compels or induces the roots to grow toward underground water. It is difficult to choose terms or make definitions which should include all essentials, and exclude all non-essentials.

If you think, for instance, that plants have no volition, exercise no intelligent choice, try to make a vine grow around a pole in a different way from its fellows. The stubbornness of a mule is an inadequate figure of speech compared to that of such a vine.

For some reason the way it chose is the line of least resistance in nature, and it thrives best along that line, not considering some accidental obstructions.

Within certain limits the same laws of growth apply to the powers of an infant which rightly developed enable it to become an adult, physically, spiritually, mentally and morally.

The primary necessities for growth are nutrition and exercise.

But it does appear that if the mind is fixed on the organ, muscle or part undergoing the exercise with a view to growth, the process is materially hastened and fostered. For instance: I was in Boston when Sandow was giving exhibitions of such extraordinary physical strength. Some of his stunts were almost incredible. Sandow was asked, "What is the secret of the wonderful development of your muscles?"

"Very simple when you know how," he answered.

Then he gave it away. It seems that when quite young he aspired to great physical strength, but did not know just how to acquire it till told by an old mystic who appeared to understand nature's laws to a remarkable extent. That old pundit told him the secret of special muscular development. Say, the biceps. Fasten a strong adjustable metallic band around the arm, so that when held out straight, the pressure on the muscle is just comfortably tight. Then when the muscle is flexed the contraction make its larger, and as it slides under the band, the pressure is so great that the mind is particularly called to it, and fixed on that muscle and its exercise. Under such conditions, said Sandow, the growth of that muscle is very rapid and the strength it develops is almost incredible.

Now he said that other muscles which could be treated in a similar manner would also rapidly develop. It follows that the growth of any organ expressing any quality or characteristic will also be more rapidly developed if similar conditions are present, the essential being that the mind is fixed on the operation with intent to stimulate its action. Nutrition and use, or expression, or exercise, will work seeming miracles. Nature's plan is always simple in detail. Her complexities are but combinations of her simplicities, at best or worst.

If you would develop courage, do courageous acts with courageous intent, not with sheer recklessness, a trait sometimes admirable for results objective, but hurtful as a character developer. Many a misnamed "hero" has put over something great, when he had no idea what he was doing, or why he did it. The world judges from results, selfishly considered. By the same token, do kind acts, and you will develop kindly feelings. A person who voluntarily makes a sacrifice for your benefit, will be drawn to you more strongly than if you had made the sacrifice for the other's benefit. Ingratitude is one of the commonest, most prolific weeds in the garden of the heart. For figurative purposes, one might locate the garden of Eden in the human heart.

To an observer familiar with only the methods of education in use a half century ago, a day spent in our public schools would excite great wonder. Nowadays education really means to lead out—not merely to fill in, and largely with waste, or worse. The more parents and guardians visit our public schools, the higher their appreciation for present methods, and the more they would be willing to vote for their extension and continued betterment.

It is as different from the old "readin', writin' and rithmurtik" days or even from old college methods, as the intensive farming of today excels the ante-bellum abuse of perfectly good earth.

If the managers of mothers' meetings would appoint more committees on school visitation and get more detailed reports, many more desirable good things might result; and our educators be given additional advantages which they would use for the public betterment.

Tomorrow the writer will venture to ask a question of teachers and pupils whose two basic viewpoints approach closer as educational methods develop.

PATRIOTIC DAY AT THE COLORADO BLVD. SCHOOL

The P. T. A. of the Colorado Boulevard school held its regular meeting Thursday, Feb. 1, in the school building. Mrs. A. M. Beamon presided and after the routine business Mrs. Kurtz, district chairman of patriotism, was presented and spoke for a few moments on the value of the public schools as a character builder. The school orchestra played a medley of patriotic songs and responded to an encore with Yankee Doodle.

There was an unusually large and enthusiastic audience to greet Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, who delivered a very forceful address on "A New Patriotism for a New Age." He spoke of the wonderfully progressive age in which we lived, but said that we must utilize the inventions of science for a great world social service rather than as a means of destruction, that the patriotism of this age meant that a man must help to better conditions about him, not merely fight to preserve his country; that great land possessions and great wealth were not the country's greatest possessions, but its men and women. After the program refreshments served in patriotic colors further carried out the idea of the day.

D. A. R. MEETING

General Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R., met at the home of Mrs. T. H. Addison, 316 Belmont street, Thursday. The members were delighted to have with them the regent of the Glendale chapter, Mrs. J. H. Braly, who was able to meet with them for the first time in several months, having been confined to her home with a knee trouble. A number of vocal selections were very sweetly rendered by Miss Marion Addison and a few humorous readings by Miss Leone Brice were enjoyed. An instrumental duet by Mrs. Starkey and Mrs. Ray Sherman was also an enjoyable feature of the program for the afternoon and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Braly was elected delegate to the national conference, which will meet in Washington, D. C., some time in April, and Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker was elected delegate for the region. The first alternate elected is Mrs. F. C. Rochester and other alternates are Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, Mrs. Lydia B. Border, Mrs. T. H. Addison, Mrs. T. W. Preston, Mrs. Martha W. Morris, Mrs. Lizzie M. Peirce, Mrs. Fannie Nichols, Mrs. R. D. Goss and Mrs. C. W. Houston.

W. C. Hall and wife of Brazil, Indiana, visited some of their Hoosier friends in Glendale Thursday. Mr. Hall is one of the pioneer millers of Indiana, having been engaged in the milling business in Brazil for the past forty years. Mr. Hall has failed in health the past two years and is taking a much needed rest at Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barnett of Chicago have purchased the beautiful home of A. V. Canfield at 1421 Riverdale drive and have received their household furniture from Chicago, which has been cosily settled in the new home. They are very much pleased with Glendale and our people.

The friends of Dr. Dungan, who has been near death's door several times in Honolulu as a result of an accident on shipboard on his way there, will be glad to learn that he is very much improved and is now able to sit up about twenty minutes at a time, and his condition is again normal. A letter just received by Dr. I. H. Durfee states that it is expected that he will be able to sail for home on February 7. He is under the constant care of a trained nurse who will accompany Dr. and Mrs. Dungan to care for the doctor on shipboard and after his arrival in Glendale.

Miss Alice Frank and Miss Ethel Murphy went to Fillmore Saturday night to give the opening dance of the series they are to conduct in that city. They were accompanied by the "Watch Your Step" orchestra, the party going over in machines. Miss Frank states that the Glendale orchestra made a hit in Fillmore and that Glendale is receiving a great deal of good advertising in that section. They found the roads going over and returning in perfect condition. E. S. Snowden, superintendent of the refinery, gave a party in honor of the two Glendale young ladies at the close of the dance. Miss Frank and Miss Murphy went over to Fillmore again Tuesday night for the regular dance of the Fillmore Social club of which they have charge.

Mrs. H. P. Goodwin was hostess at a charming valentine luncheon at her home, 142 West Tenth street, Tropic, Thursday. A bowl of lovely red carnations and ferns graced the center of the luncheon table and the dainty favors were red crepe paper nut baskets on the handles of which hung the place cards in the shape of little red hearts. At each end of the table were two silver candlesticks with red shades and before the guests were seated the shades were drawn and the candles lighted. The electric lights above the table were also shaded in red crepe paper, casting a soft rosy glow over the room. The afternoon was delightfully spent in social conversation, auction bridge and needlework. The guests were Mrs. E. F. Tholen, Mrs. John G. Hunchberger, Mrs. Albert D. Pearce, Mrs. A. L. Weaver, Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mrs. Laurence Ellis, Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mrs. Chas. H. Temple and Mrs. Walter Stamps.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The ladies of the Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church spent a most delightful afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. Dudley Snudden Thursday, Feb. 1st, the president, Mrs. Spickerman, presiding. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Harding. Roll call was answered with appropriate verses. After the business session, the large crowd, including several visitors enjoyed the following program: "Missions in the Two Americas" by Mrs. Burket. Instrumental solo, Miss Marsh. "Religious needs of Latin America" by Mrs. Marsh. Vocal solo by Mrs. Peart. "Bible in Latin America" by Mrs. Mary Wagnon. Light refreshments of tea and wafers were then served. All departed, carrying with them the thought of a well spent afternoon.

Light refreshments were served during the evening and the young men of the class expressed their deep appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Nunn for so kindly opening their home for the affair. Those present were Messrs. Morris Caruthers, Wm. Bode, J. F. McBryde, R. C. Proctor, H. E. C. E. SOCIAL

The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor society on Saturday night, February 3, at 8 o'clock, at the church, will present "A Cunning Conspiracy." It lays bare a deep-laid plot to destroy Christian Endeavor. It is in the form of a mock trial and is full of bright hits, instructive information and amusing situations. It gives amusement, information and inspiration. Everybody welcome. Everybody come. Silver offering. Refreshments.

WEST GLENDALE METHODISTS HAVE A HAPPY TIME

They were there in large numbers. The young and the old came to enjoy an evening together at the quarterly old-fashioned handshake gathering. Everyone wore a smile throughout the entire evening for there was not a single slow minute.

The following program was given: Opening prayer, Rev. Norcross. Violin and piano, Avis and Lucile Thompson.

Reading, Genevieve Mulligan. Piano solo, Nell Hilbert. Duet, Rev. and Mrs. Norcross. Reading, Mildred McKee. Solo, Miss Bott. Reading, Ruth Spafford. Solo, Mr. Joy.

Refreshments were served in the lecture room of the church after the program was rendered.

As the guests of the Gleaners departed all used words that signified the pleasure they had felt during the meeting. Do it again.

BUY NEW AUTO TRUCK

The Glendale Feed and Fuel Co. has added another truck to their delivery equipment. The business of this firm has grown within the last two years from a one team delivery concern and now it takes two teams and two trucks to handle their business. Several firms in Glendale have replaced the old-time horse delivery with auto trucks and present indications are that old "Dobbin" will soon be relegated to the ranch.

TAKING BIG PICTURE IN GLENDALE

Glendale was in all reality a moving picture center Thursday as there were four companies busy here making pictures. One of these, the Yorke-Metro, had over 600 people at work in Verdugo park on a colossal picture from Robert W. Chambers' novel of early frontier life, "Hidden Children."

Many residents of Glendale were at the park watching the exciting scenes of the taking of this picture which included Indian fights, the capture of an early day fort and stockade. For the time being Verdugo park presents a strange appearance, with two Indian villages, a fort and other earmarks of frontier days in America.

REWARD OFFERED

EVIDENCE WANTED FROM BIBLE THAT FIRST DAY OF WEEK IS SABBATH

That rewards totaling $11,000.00 have been offered for evidence from the Bible that the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, is a holy day to be observed as a sabbath, was the surprising statement of Evangelist Celia Andross in his address Wednesday at Evangel hall, 115 S. San Fernando road.

In his remarks Wednesday evening Mr. Andross said in part:

"Though such a large sum of money has been offered for a text of scripture proving Sunday to be the Lord's Holy Sabbath day, no one has ever come forward with the evidence. The facts of the case are," said Mr. Andross, "there is not the slightest suggestion in the Bible that God wished His people to rest on Sunday instead of Saturday. There are but eight references to the rest day of the week in the New Testament. Five of these (Matt. 28:1, Luke 24:1, Mark 16:2, 9, John 20:1) refer to the resurrection of our Lord, placing it 'very early in the morning the first day of the week,' and make it very plain that the Sabbath was the day preceding the first day, that is, the seventh day or Saturday. The other passages are John 20:19, Acts 20:7, and I Cor. 16:2. Of all these texts the Encyclopedia Britannica says, 'Still it must be owned that these passages are not sufficient to prove the apostolic institution of the Lord's Day, or even the actual observance of it.'—Article 'Sabbath.' Dr. Binney says in the Methodist Episcopal Theological Compendium, page 180, 'It is true, there is no positive command for infant baptism, nor is there any for keeping holy the first day of the week.' In the Watchman (Baptist) we read, 'The scriptures nowhere call the first day of the week the Sabbath. . . . There is no scriptural authority for so doing, nor, of course, any scriptural obligation.' The same truth is again stated in the Christian at Work (Presbyterian) in an editorial April 19, 1883, 'So some have tried to build the observance of Sunday upon apostolic command, whereas the apostles gave no command on the matter at all.'

There are eighty-four recorded religious services held by the apostles on the seventh day of the week and but one on Sunday. So if a religious service held by the apostles on a day shows it to be holy, the seventh day Sabbath is eighty-four times as holy as Sunday.

Christ was a strict observer of the Sabbath according to the commandment, but He ignored the man-made traditions with which the Jews had made the Sabbath a yoke of bondage. There were hundreds of these restrictions. For example, a woman is forbidden to look in the glass on Sabbath because she might discover a white hair and attempt to pull it out, which would be a grievous sin. And again, a radish may be dipped into salt but not in it too long, since this would be to make pickle. Christ rebuked this sort of thing and said, 'Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.' 'Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition which ye have delivered.' Mark 7:9, 13.

In conclusion Mr. Andross asked, "What would Christ say to-day if He should come among us as of old and see men trampling under their feet the day God sanctified, and then worshipping Him on a day on which He told them to work? He would say as he said to the Jews, 'But in vain they worship me teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.'"

LA CRESCENTA

At the "Fairmount"

Quite a rushing business is reported at the Fairmount Hotel for the past half month. Names of the guests appearing on the register were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Hill, Miss Ruth M. Dennen, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Adam, Fritz Adam, Max Watson, D. W. A. Morrison; Caroline E. McMillan, Mrs. Wm. B. Simonds, Miss Simonds, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Runyon, Mr. Dave Wilson, Wm. Johnson, Mrs. M. L. Woodward, Miss Agnes Woodward, F. E. Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Frenn, J. T. Peterkin, A. L. Carroll, Mrs. Walter Graves, Miss Randolph, Miss Adaline Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. P. Kelley, Miss Mary Kelley, Miss Emma Kelley, Miss Theresa Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. McAvoy, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fletcher, Mrs. Helen Gailford, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baldrige of La Crescenta.

As a proof of the increasing popularity of this resort, it may be said that the majority of guests who stay at the hotel once, always return again. A number of parties have taken cottages for the entire winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce and Florence Bruce were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hevern of Alhambra last Wednesday, the occasion being a birthday party in honor of Mrs. Hevern.

The L. C. D. C. dance given at the auditorium last Saturday evening was a huge success, the largest crowd of the season being in attendance. It was announced from the floor that the next dance will be a "Masked Ball" on the 24th of February (last Saturday in February). As positively no money can be taken in at the door, it is urged by the officers of the club that all membership tickets be paid for before the night of the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhone of South Pasadena have rented the Thomas Smith place on Rosemont avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Rhone have been staying at the La Crescenta Hotel.

GLENDALE NEW THOUGHT CENTER

Sunday evening at the New Thought Center Mrs. Adeline Becker gave the lecture. Subject, "Intellect the Servant." She said in part: Always in all religious organizations certain fundamental principles have been recognized. New Thought teaches the practical use of all the fundamental principles of life. Man is a three-fold being, body, mind and soul. The triune is recognized in the material world as well as in the spiritual. St. Patrick recognized the symbol of the trinity in the shamrock, three leaves on one stem, neither one complete without the other. So it is in mind, three faculties in one, emotion, intellect and will, all God-given powers. Emotion and intellect are the servants of the will, the master. Each is a great force in the human soul and when rightly and equally used make the poised and well balanced man or woman.
