Horse and Horse! Tom and Jerry! It Is One On You!

Another "horse" on comic writer who spilled the milk in a runaway story reported in The Evening News yesterday, so—

Eddie, please page "Tom and Jerry," for there is to be a little more "kick" in this story, as—

James N. McClain was driving this aforementioned team across the Verdugo wash at Central avenue yesterday afternoon, Tom, or Jerry, as it may be.

Was it Jerry that shied at a paper blown by a gust of wind across the bridge, and—

Then the fun began with both back to the barn at 1135 East California avenue, but—

At Doran street and Central avenue, Leo Goode, the singing cement contractor, had his motorcar nicely parked near a job, except—

He had no idea of losing a fender from the machine, nor did McClain expect that his wagon would be minus a wheel, yet—

When the wreckage was cleared away, everybody agreed, that—

Things are never so bad, but what they might have been worse.

Municipal Swimming Pool Contract Is Let

Yo ho, yo ho, for a cool bathing pool!

The contract for the municipal plunge in the Patterson avenue park has been let.

Fifty days from the date work is started, the tank should be filled with water—and hilarious humanity. All of which causes Councilman A. H. Lapham, who fathered the project, to remark:

"Now is the time for all good children to get the holes darned in their bathing suits."

A couple of barrels, a few inflated inner tubes and a lot of kids are the only necessary accessories to make a swimming pool a howling success, it is said.

Russell De Mars Hurt While Playing Baseball

The first vacation week casualty is reported. In a game of "one old cent" in a vacant lot near his parental home, little Russell DeMars, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. DeMars, of 806 East Lomita avenue, was "bumped on the bean" by a baseball bat.

It was necessary for Dr. O. A. Dietrich to take several stitches in the brave little youngster's scalp above the right eye. He was very communicative as to how the accident occurred, for the pain caused him to muster all the courage he had until the doctor finished the sewing.

FIREMEN'S BANQUET IS CERTAINLY NO FALSE ALARM

Entire Department Called Out to 'Extinguish' Great Meal; City Officials Assist

Forty-seven varieties of laughter were uncoiled last night in the dining room of Fire Station No. 1 at the firemen's banquet.

"He-haws" reached a climax in the comedy boxing bout between Mayor Spencer Robinson and Dr. J. E. Eckles which kept firemen and city officials in a roar of mirth. The result was a draw. Mayor Robinson was said to have been more graceful in the ring, but Dr. Eckles scored for having the best fighting face.

A large number of "hits" also were scored by Harry James of 1558 East Wilson avenue, professional entertainer, who related his famous baseball game and his monologue on married life.

George Blix, until recently a regular member of the fire department, and now a volunteer, scored heavily in several solos. Besides leading the singing of a number of old time songs, Mayor Robinson sprung a large number of witticisms and was much applauded following several solos. Herbert G. Henning, of 203 East Elk street, known to the boys as "Herb," presided at the piano.

Many Courses, of Course!

The dinner? Oh, yes, six courses—no, maybe it was ten. Anyhow, it started with oyster cocktails, and ended with ice cream and cake. In between were soup, salad and a most generous helping of turkey—both light and dark meat. It was prepared under the direction of Mrs. Jack Thomas and served by the catering staff of the White Inn.

Cigars were passed around and the rest of the evening was spent in a "rip-snorting" good time, according to the consensus of opinion.

Excitement for the occasion was provided by a short and furious boxing match between "Johnny Myers" and his brother, George Myers, both members of the fire department.

H. C. Wilcox of 630 North Maryland avenue, who presented the city with the site of the Grand View fire station, was an invited guest.

These Had Good Time

With the exception of Billy Gould, who is now in the Glendale Research Hospital convalescing from a recent operation, all members of the Glendale fire department were present. They are: Captain Ed Fairchild, Captain John Myers, Jesse Wilkes and Al Psenner of Station No. 2, (from Station No. 1, Captain Ralph E. Dodsforth, Captain J. R. Rockwell, Frank Kiefer, Al Moniot, Dean Williams, George Myers, Clarence Glaze and George Blix, who are volunteers, were present, also.

TRINIDAD, Colo., April 12.—Five striking coal miners were in jail here today following a demonstration at the Ludlow Monument, east of here yesterday, when 500 miners marched from Delagua to the Monument to hold a union meeting at the spot where many of their former companions were killed in the disorders of 1919. GOVERNOR SMALL'S MACHINE IS HIT BY ELECTION

CHICAGO, April 12.—An apparent weakening of the control of Governor Len Small and his supporters of the republican machine throughout the state and of the control of Mayor Thompson over republican machinery in Chicago was the outstanding result of yesterday's state-wide primary election. Although complete returns are not available from all precincts, it is evident that Governor Small has lost control of the republican state committee and the majority by which he dominated the state legislature either has been wiped out or reduced to a margin too close for comfort. In Chicago the Crow-Brundage faction of the republicans, led by State Attorney Robert E. Crow of Cook county, and E. J. Brundage, attorney general for Illinois, nominated sufficient candidates in opposition to those supported by Mayor Thompson to warrant designation of the primary as a Crow-Brundage victory. The republican faction, led by former Governor Charles E. Dineen, was likewise a factor, nominating candidates for several important offices. Defeat for re-nomination of Ira C. Copley of Aurora, and Clifford C. Ireland, of Peoria, two of the best known congressmen from Illinois, was a surprise of the primary. Frank R. Reid is apparently the winner over Copley, while William E. Hull defeated Ireland for the republican nomination. The "wet and dry" issue was a factor in the campaign. Hull was an out and out wet. Congressman Richard Yates and Henry R. Rathbone are the republican nominees for congressmen at large. Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, daughter of the late Congressman William B. Mason, apparently has been nominated to fill the unexpired term of her father.

APARTMENT HOUSE OF 47 ROOMS TO COST $40,000

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ramsey Plan to Erect Building on North Kenwood

The estimated cost of this improvement is $40,000 and the owners state it will be the finest building of its kind in Glendale to date. While plans for other apartments are under way and several smaller ones are being erected, the Ramseys are going right ahead with their building.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey are now residents of 1154 North Kenwood street, and have come here from Burbank where they made a similar investment in apartment property after leaving Texas for California a year ago. Lyle Jackson of Burbank is their architect and he intends moving his business to this city.

The structure now is under way and will have a stucco exterior which will materially add to the beauty of the block in which it is located. When Mr. Ramsey has let a contract for the job, he is personally supervising the construction and was interviewed this morning while pouring concrete in the foundation.

Mr. Elliott reported that he would have the portable hangars removed this week and begin building operations next week.

Hoagland & Lakin of Los Angeles were given the contract to install a ventilating system in the new Glendale Avenue Intermediate school. The cost will be $1280. The board also decided to have maple floors laid in this new building on account of their durability. This will add $3,250 to the cost of pine floors.

Townsend Clark of 818 East Acacia avenue was appointed assistant repairman for the grammar school system.

An objection was raised by the school board to the zoning of a business district across the street from the Doran school.

Supt. Richardson D. White reported that word had reached him that the Grand View District was being taxed as part of the Burbank School district. He was requested to obtain further particulars.

Decision was made by the board to have the Intermediate tennis courts resurfaced with decomposed granite.

Van Grove of 214 West Salem street. Although only 29 years of age, Mr. Van Grove has had a most interesting musical career. When he was 11 years old one of his musical compositions was submitted at the St. Louis exposition.

In an interview with Mrs. S. Van Grove, she stated that when her son was a small child he already displayed unusual musical talent. At that time an older sister was receiving instructions on the piano and after her teachers would leave, the boy would show the sister how to play the various pieces being studied by her.

Mr. Van Grove made his debut as a conductor of one of the world's greatest operatic companies in the production of "The Birthday of the Infanta." In the "Musical Courier" of January 19, 1922, he is described as a deep student, hard worker, learned musician and a sincere artist.

Last year Mr. Van Grove coached the famous Muratore. This season he is acting as coach for Mary Garden and other stars, in addition to his work as one of the conductors of the company.

Mr. Van Grove is a resident of Chicago. His 7-year-old son is also displaying the same musical talent as his father, having already composed several pieces.

RADIO CONCERT TO BE GIVEN AT 'Y' GATHERING

Local Boys To Have Big Time At Banquet Next Tuesday; College Head Speaker

Plans are rapidly being completed for the annual "father and son" banquet to be held under the auspices of the Glendale Y. M. C. A. at the First Methodist church Tuesday night, April 18, at 6:30 o'clock. Kenneth Lee, John Wardell, William Pigg and Russell Blumfield of the Y. M. C. A. group under the leadership of W. G. Boyd are busy constructing their wireless equipment to give a radio-concert as part of the program for that night.

Dr. R. E. Von Kleinsmid, president of the University of Southern California, will be the main speaker of the evening. He gave an address recently before the members of the Chamber of Commerce.

According to Rex C. Kelly, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, it is aimed that every boy without a father of his own shall have one for that night, and the same to apply with the fathers without sons, as shown by the invitations which have been sent out, and which read in part as follows:

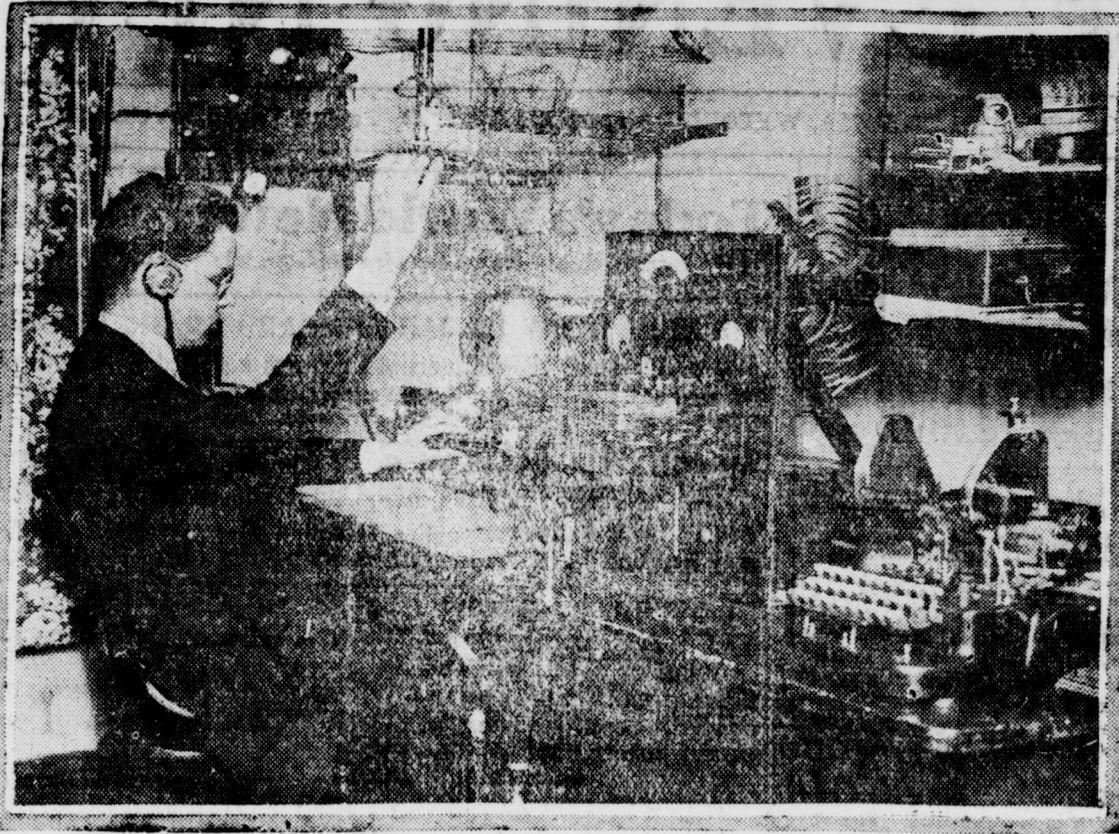

Proud Fatherly Feeling
"The annual Y. M. C. A. father and son banquet is the big stag affair of the year in Glendale. Men who have no boys throw out their chests with that proud 'fatherly feeling' for once in their lives as their 'borrowed' boys sit beside them. Dads with anywhere from two to eleven sons divide up their squad of coming presidents with the man whose boys are all girls.

"One of the rules is that each man is supposed to bring a boy as his guest. The Y. M. C. A. office at 102-A East Broadway, phone Glendale J1153-W and Glendale 429-W, has taken upon itself the responsibility to secure a boy for every man who is boyless. Phone your order early. Supply of assorted sizes, red headed ones, etc., will soon run out."

All pilots on transcontinental mail airplanes in the United States are to be furnished with side arms.

Exposer of German Radio One of First to Get License

Both the radio set and the boy pictured here played an important part during the war with Germany by listening in at the German radio plant at Sayville, L. I. For many hours, day after day, Wendell Kilmer listened in on the messages that were sent out from there. The United States government soon closed the plant at Sayville. Wendell Kilmer was granted a license and given a permit by the navy department to keep his plant in operation during the war. He was one of the first radio operators to be given a license. The photo shows Wendell Kilmer tuning with loop aerial.

Dealers Trying To Catch Up On Orders

By GEORGE VAN SANDS
Radio Editor, The Evening News
To those who are interested in the purchase of a complete wireless receiving set little hope for prompt delivery from the factories can be expected before another ninety days. Of course a few sets will filter through here and there to some of the more fortunate as is always the case, but generally speaking sales conditions among the dealers is not even anticipated to reach anywhere near normal much before this time.

To radio fans who are prepared to build their own, a greater degree of promptness in delivery of parts can be expected. The present shortage of the very fine wire used in winding will undoubtedly be relieved within the next ten days. No immediate relief, however, is looked for in the delivery of either the vacuum detector tubes or the head receivers. The latter part of this week we will be able to announce through this column the actual formation of a radio club for Glendale. Let me again urge, that all those in anywise interested, lose no time in forwarding their names to the radio editor so that they may be kept fully informed on the matter.

RADIO EXPLAINED

By E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK, Y. M. C. A. RADIO SCHOOL

THE ELECTRICAL CONDENSER

When gas is pumped through a pipe into a tank a certain pressure is exerted by the pump to force the gas into the tank. The gas is compressible, and the gas within the tank exerts a back pressure upon the gas flowing into the tank. The back pressure is at every instant opposing the flow of more gas into the tank. Finally, when the pressure of gas within the tank equals the pressure exerted by the pump, no more gas flows into the tank. The gas which is then inside of the tank is "condensed" and stored. If a valve in the pipe is closed the pump may be stopped, and the gas will not leak out of the tank until wanted, providing the tank is gas tight.

A somewhat similar "tank" for electricity can be made by coating a sheet of glass with tinfoil on each side. If the "condenser," which is then formed, is connected to a battery, an electrical pressure is exerted, which causes electricity to flow into the condenser until the back pressure of the electricity equals the pressure exerted by the battery. The current then ceases to flow, and the condenser is "charged." The glass is called "dielectric," and it must be a very poor conductor of electricity or the "charge" will leak off very quickly. No dielectric is an absolute non-conductor of electricity, however, so no matter how good it is, the electric charge will leak out in time.

NEW APPARATUS AND DEVICES

TUNED RADIO FREQUENCY TRANSFORMER

Most radio experimenters know that when signals are too weak to operate a vacuum tube detector it is necessary to provide some means of stepping them up in strength before they are rectified. One way to do this is to use radio frequency amplification and a suitable transformer. A radio frequency transformer has a rather low efficiency outside of the band of wave lengths for which it is designed, unless means are provided for tuning it.

A radio frequency transformer has been designed, however, which is tapped at a number of places and allows the number of turns in use to be varied by means of a very novel switch. It is a simple matter to quickly tune the transformer to the band of wave lengths within which the operator desires to receive.

By a clever system of mounting two or more of these transformers may be arranged so that the turning of one knob tunes all of them at the same time. It is thus possible to have several stages of radio frequency amplification, each of them being efficient and necessitating no loss of time in changing from one wave band to another.

The shaft which carries the switches is made long enough to extend through a panel so that the transformer or transformers, as the case may be, are mounted inside the cabinet, with only the knob showing outside.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: Can I use ordinary wood for the panel of my tuner?
B. B. Glendale.

Answer: In a pinch hard wood coated with shellac could be used, but wood is much more porous than a suitable insulating material such as bakelite or formica, and the pores will absorb more or less moisture, which is conductive to some extent, and causes leakage and loss of energy.

Question: How can I get induction from a telephone line when D. C. is used for talking current?
F. M. Glendale.

Answer: The current used for ringing subscribers is generally A. C. which, if your aerial wires are near or parallel to telephone line, will cause induction.

Question: What is the meaning of "DX" in the radio code?
A. D. Glendale.

Answer: "DX" is an abbreviation for distance; "PX" is an abbreviation for press. There are a great many operators, both amateur and commercial, who use abbreviations which are time savers, when correctly used and understood.

Question: Can enameled wire be used for winding a tuning coil and is it any better than silk or cotton covered wire?
K. E. Glendale.

Answer: Yes, enameled wire can be used. The only advantage is that you can get more turns to the inch and the enamel is more easily scraped off when a sliding contact is to be used.

When the battery is connected to the condenser "plates" (the tinfoil coatings in this case), that plate which is connected to the positive terminal of the battery receives a positive charge of electricity. The plate connected to the negative battery terminal receives a negative charge. When the battery is removed there is then an electromotive force present between the two metal coatings, and a current of electricity would immediately flow if the two plates were connected together by a copper wire. If this were allowed to happen the electricity stored in the condenser would escape, and the condenser would become discharged. The positive and negative charges on the two metal coatings would neutralize each other, so that there would presently be no E. M. F. to cause any further flow of current.

The amount of electric charge which may be placed in a condenser depends upon the pressure applied to force the current to flow and the ability of the condenser to store the electricity.

The same first class service will be given as before, according to Mr. Cogel, who called attention today to the fact that articles of wearing apparel picked up one afternoon to be cleaned and pressed are delivered the next day. This is twenty-four-hour service, he says.

COOKING CLASS TO BE FORMED HERE AT TRICE STORE

Cooking Science Demonstration Conducted Free During Week of April 24-29

Women of Glendale, here is a message for you—every one of you who would like to learn more about good old-fashioned cooking now heralded as "domestic science."

A free class is being organized at the Trice Furniture company store, 118 West Broadway, for the week of April 24 to 29, inclusive, and every afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Mary Marshmont, for fourteen years a demonstrator for the Sperry Flouring Mills products, will instruct the women of Glendale in the art of cookery.

Strange as it may seem, there are no strings tied to this wonderful offer—no food products for sale, no fads introduced and nothing more than an enrollment card to sign. This may be done at once at the Trice Furniture store as only 200 can be accommodated in the class.

The class is made possible through the enterprise of Colonel George L. Nye, brother of the late Bill Nye whose fame need not be told, and as president of the concern which manufactures the Sanico gas range, he wishes to advertise Glendale—the fastest growing city in America—as the first of a successful series of domestic science schools.

Colonel Nye and his personal representative, who is here to put this class over in the biggest possible way, have traveled all over southern California searching for an ideal community which they will use as a model American city of homes. It is up to the women of Glendale to co-operate.

Too much cannot be said of Mrs. Marshmont, who is one of the most successful teachers and demonstrators in America today. While she is employed by the Sperry people, it has been her custom to use all sorts of foods and prepare the meals from breakfast to dinner.

Prizes to be offered Besides obtaining some real practical information, every housewife may enter the competition for $25, $15 and $10 prizes offered by Colonel Nye for essays on the subject, "Why you should own a Sanico Gas Range."

After observing biscuits and bacon, roasts and pies, potatoes and puddings prepared by Mrs. Marshmont in her happy, instructive style, there seems to be no reason why an intelligent Glendale housewife cannot set forth reasons sufficient to satisfy the promoter that the class has been well worth while.

There is no better time than now to enroll, says Mr. Trice, who is lending every effort to the success of Colonel Nye's enterprise.

CANNOT FIND PURCHASER

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Pleading that they were unable to find purchasers, counsel for Swift & Company and Armour & Company have asked the district supreme court to grant a year's additional time for them to dispose of their interests in stock yard market companies, terminals, etc., as ordered in the packers' dissolution decree.

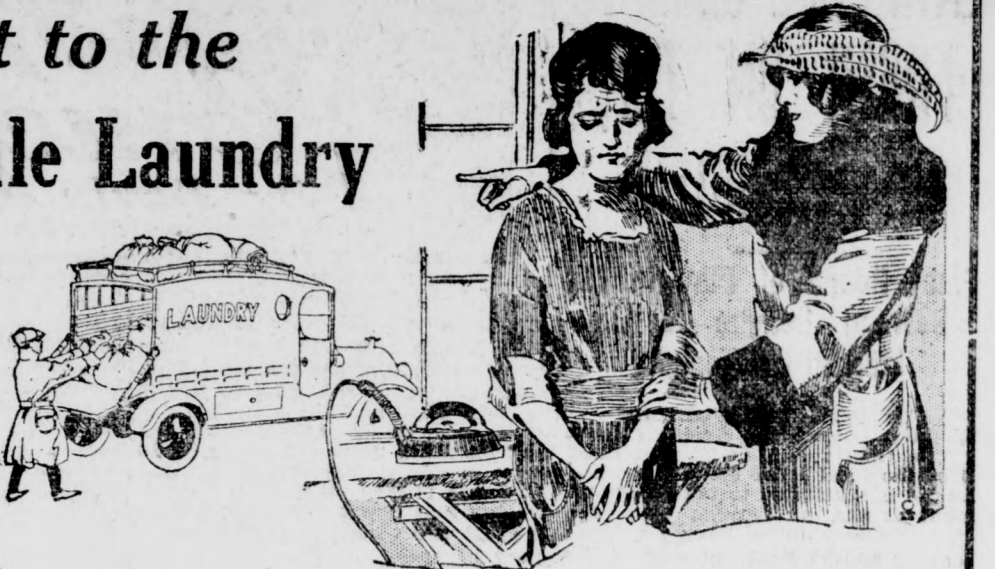

The condition of the financial and security market has been such, the packers averred, that they cannot dispose of their holdings now without entailing great losses.

CREDIT BOARD IN PROTEST AGAINST TAX ORDINANCE

Association Calls on Council to Submit Statement of Revenues, Expenditures

The following self-explanatory resolution was passed by the Glendale Credit association at its regular meeting held on April 10, a copy of which will be presented to the City Council at its meeting Thursday night:

"Whereas, The City Council of the city of Glendale proposes to pass an ordinance whereby the merchants and professional and business men of this city are required to pay a certain specified license or special tax for doing business in Glendale, the City Council giving as a reason for said tax the fact that the city of Glendale is and will suffer a deficit in its operating revenues, and

"Whereas, The Glendale Credit association believes that such a special tax is inadvisable and unjust and is also in the nature of a penalty for doing business in this city, and

"Whereas, The Glendale Credit association desires to co-operate with the City Council in ascertaining a method to meet any deficit which does or may exist either by an increase in revenue or a decrease in the operating expenses of the city.

"Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Glendale Credit association, and its members, do hereby protest against the tax now being proposed by the City Council as being an unjust discrimination against the business and professional men of this city.

"Said association further respectfully requests the City Council to render to this association or to the public at large, a detailed statement or report of the revenues, receipts and expenditures of the City of Glendale from the date of the last budget to the present date, and further requests that any action upon the proposed ordinance or special tax above mentioned be deferred until this association shall have an opportunity to confer with the City Council relative to a method whereby any deficiency may be eliminated."

LAWRENCE CLUB TO FINISH ON TOP, IS PREDICTED

Final Round of Play in Elk Bowling League to Be Marked Off Tonight

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor, The Evening News.
The final round of play in Class B of the local Elks' scratch bowling league is scheduled to take place tonight at the club alleys, with each of the three matches having a direct bearing on the final outcome of the ten weeks' race.

Although the "dope" favors the Lawrence, who are now holding down first place by the narrow margin of one-half game, to finish the season on top, there is a strong possibility that they will be tied or even bested in the final clash.

Three other teams, the Wattles, Wests and Vogels, still have a chance for the big prize.

The Wattles, who are but a half game behind the league leaders, seem to have the edge over their rivals due to the fact that they will be pitted against the Bullards, who are hopelessly lodged in last place.

May Drop Three Straight
The latter team has not been going any too good during the past few weeks, and it is generally expected that they will lose three straight games to the Wattles.

In that case the Lawrence would have to duplicate the feat in order to remain on top.

Should the Wests triumph over the Lawrence in all of their contests and the Bullards stage a comeback with a decisive victory over the Wattles, "in an outers," meaning the Wests, will be the champions. The Vogels, who suffered a severe setback last week by dropping three straight to the Wests, have the slightest chance of any of the contenders.

By winning all of their games with the salmacias they would be able to tie for first place in case the Lawrence failed to win a contest and both the Wests and Wattles lose their matches.

Set 'em up in the other alley.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK.—Just for the sake of passing an idle hour in Tampa, Fla., where idle hours abound in great numbers, some one started an argument as to the relative merits of Babe Ruth and the lamented Joe Jackson as pinch hitters. To the average mind there seemed to be no occasion for the discussion in that Ruth has broken all records for run scoring and driving in runs during the last two seasons. Yet the argument persisted.

Some few reckoned Ruth the most dangerous of the pair, with men on the runways, but singularly enough, the majority held out for Jackson. Joe, they declared, carried the verdict without a dissenting vote.

There was exactly one baseball player in sight at the time, and to him rushed the heated orators, because they knew him as one of the best left-handers in the American league and a man who spoke with authority. Many times had he faced the men in question, and all too often the occasion was one of those diverting moments known as a pinch.

The man appealed to was George Mogridge, one-time portside of the Yankees, now the valued property of the Washington Senators via a trade that since has caused New York no little anguish.

"Jackson would be my choice," was Mogridge's unhesitating verdict. "I know the Babe is one hitter that you cannot figure to fool. You might hit him with a slow ball or a curve, and the next time he will hit either or both so far that you couldn't find the ball with a special delivery letter.

"But"—here he paused for emphasis—"for sure, undiluted, downright danger there is no hitter I ever saw that was in a class with Jackson. That statement includes Cobb, Speaker, Sisler and all the other stars. They might out-hit Jackson in the season averages, but when Joe really sets his mind to getting a hit he is the toughest bird to pitch to of the lot.

"He has no batting weakness, the keenest eye in the game for good and bad balls and a temperament that is absolutely perfect. Ruth, if he is anxious enough, will go after bad balls. Jackson? Huh! Not a chance."

Perhaps Mogridge's opinion is induced by the fact that he had a good year in 1921 against Ruth; perhaps the fact that he didn't have to pitch to the Babe during the latter's first big season in 1920 may have something to do with his reasoning. And then again, it may be neither. It is quite possible that the young man speaks words of infinite wisdom.

In any event, there are baseball men in plenty who will volunteer, without hesitation, the profound conviction that a greater natural hitter never clutched a bat than the same Shoeless Joe, now an out-cast from the game that gave him a renown far beyond his capacity for appreciation.

It is not at all outside of the realm of possibility that in later years a Vassar-Wellesley annual crew race may become a classic. Inter-university competition on track and field between the co-eds of the University of California and the University of Washington does not appear like a mere mirage.

Just how soon it will be before such competition will become a regular feature of life in a woman's institution of learning it would be impossible to conjecture. It is likely that there will be some opposition in some quarters, as there always is when something new and unusual is presented, but if intercollegiate competition is good for the growing youth from a physical standpoint, it seems almost inconceivable that the same reason must exist for the women.

At the present time there is one game that is played exclusively by the fair sex. This is field hockey. Reports from all sections of the country, particularly from the west, are to the effect that it is finding much favor, and the devotees to its ranks are growing fast. Already, an effort at some sort of organization is being undertaken in various sections of the country, and it would not be strange if this were not one of the first of the games in which regular outside competition were sought.

The news recently sent out by one of the Chicago newspapers that a woman sports writer had been added to the sports department in order to specialize on women's sports activities is evidence of the growing importance of the fair sex in the field of athletic endeavor.

While women are becoming more and more active participants in all branches of sport, there has been, as stated above, but very little organization and, as a result, there has been practically no competition outside of the walls of each institution. Nothing like competition between the teams of one girl's college with another, such as obtains among the regular men's universities at present obtains, but the trend seems to be that, sooner or later, we may look to see such competition.

Against U. S. C. the 200-pounder won the 100-yard dash in 14 seconds flat; took third in the 220 yards, won the discus with 147 ft. 2 1/2 ins.; won the shot put with 49 ft. 7 1/4 ins.; scoring in all sixteen points for his team.

His work with the sixteen-pound shot shows the consistency of the man, as in three different meets he has now done better than 49 feet in competition, his best being 50 ft. 3 inches. There is not another shot putter in the country who has shown the same remarkable performances this year, or for some years past.

Duke Kahanamoku, the world's greatest swimmer, will once more be seen as an amateur before he goes into the movies. He leaves Honolulu in May to tour the country and participate in various championship meets throughout the United States. After that he starts his screen work.

MAJOR COMMITS SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Major Frank W. Duryea, member of a wealthy New York family of the same name and a veteran of overseas service, died at Letterman General hospital here from a gunshot wound said to have been self-inflicted.

Major Duryea was attached to Fort Mason in charge of the audit of property in the hands of other officers. His wife and a son, a New York broker, survive. Brother officers could assign no reason for his having shot himself. Major Duryea's father was a brigadier-general in the civil war.

Glenn Hartranft, the Stanford all-round athlete, again showed his versatility against the University of Southern California, and once again showed himself to be the greatest shot putter in the country today.

NEAR EAST RELIEF WORKER DECLARES RUMORS UNTRUE

Rev. Mottorn Says 'Poison' Is Being Circulated Concerning Organization Methods

Dame Rumor is not dead, according to Rev. R. W. Mottorn, of 211 North Adams street, district director for the Near East Relief.

"Dame Rumor has poured her hurtful poison around trying to persuade good minded people from supporting this most worthy and needy cause by saying that it costs 90 cents to send the balance of $1 to the suffering in Bible Lands," asserted Rev. Mottorn. "This is a false statement. The Near East Relief last year throughout the entire country had an overhead expenditure of three per cent on cash. Even that low cost was taken care of by large, generous donors.

"The Near East Relief can truthfully declare that practically every cent goes just where contributors want it to go—to feed the hungry and clothe the naked.

"Lie No. 2.—Dame Rumor has declared that all the best clothing is sorted out and sold in this country. Babel, Then Shipped! All the clothing gathered in is shipped by auto truck to 510 Molins street, Los Angeles, to the Southern California Paper Stock company, where it is baled under careful supervision, stamped, numbered, weighed and then shipped to the wharf whence it is loaded in vessels to New York and then transhipped to its destination.

"Let the suffices to all fair-minded friends. The Near East Relief has never once betrayed the confidence of the public.

"Glendale citizens having bundles of used clothing and shoes to donate to the Near East Relief may do so until and including May 20. They are asked to leave them at the nearest schoolhouse."

Rev. Mottorn also stated that a telephone call to his home, Glendale 1512-W, in regard to clothing would be gratefully received.

Oh, What an Omelet!
The San Fernando Feed & Seed Co., B. T. Smith, proprietor thereof, report that they shipped the first full truck load of eggs ever shipped out of San Fernando. The truck load consisted of 30,000 eggs, which were delivered to the wholesale houses in Los Angeles. Two years ago this same company shipped one case.

Seek Auto Camp Site
The prospects for an auto camp for Burbank are brightening, because action was taken in that direction at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce. P. O. Camburn, E. E. Ramp and R. W. Colburn were appointed as a committee of three to investigate the advisability of the establishment of such a camp.

Organizing Baptist Church
Preliminary steps were taken last week at a meeting held at Atherton Villa, toward the organization of a Baptist church. Rev. Ernest E. Ford, pastor of the Baptist church of Glendale, was present to lend assistance and also Rev. R. P. Pope, who is evangelistic pastor.

Glendale to Be in League
A San Fernando Valley baseball league is again being considered for the summer season. The league, as proposed, will include Van Nuys, Lankershim, Owensmouth, San Fernando, Burbank and Glendale.

VOTERS AGAINST FAIR SEX

HEALDSBURG, April 12.—Petition government does not appeal to the voters of Healdsburg. A count of the votes in the election shows that the reform ticket on which Mrs. Grace Cooke and Mrs. Mary Skoe were candidates for trustees was defeated two to one, the old board of all men trustees being re-elected.

Why the $10.90 USCO is better than just a $10.90 tire

On November 10, 1921, the 30 x 3 1/2 "Usco" was marked to sell for $10.90.

This odd and closely figured price was the lowest quotation ever made on any tire of known standards.

A genuine pioneering step by the makers of U. S. Tires.

Now comes a lot of different $10.90 tires being rushed into the market. "Special" tires. "New" treads.

Unfamiliar to look at—with perhaps an atmosphere of having been made to meet the price.

But the "Usco" still occupies a place by itself. A good old standby on millions of cars for years. Better than it ever was.

Still putting the emphasis on honest quality, even if it does sell for only ten dollars and ninety cents.

The $10.90 tire with the record of a proven product.

The tire that people still buy for the dignity of its quality regardless of the low amount they pay.

Following will be found a number of brief paragraphs bringing out a few of the distinctive features or characteristics of the city's institutions. There is a query or two in each paragraph. To the person who first answers them nearest correctly in detail will be given the prizes noted above. The next nearest correct answer is to be given next choice, and so on.

In giving addresses, the street number should be given when available and it is available if it is in the directory. Answers must be neat and legible. There is no guessing about these; there is a clue in each one by which the identity may be confirmed.

Any of the parties sketched here are privileged to answer any question you may ask, except to tell you that they are "it."

Answers may be sent by mail or brought to this office any time before next Monday, at 6 p. m. Next Wednesday the sequel to this feature will be published.

Keep the issue of this paper so that next week you will see where you made your mistakes.

The competition is open to everyone except the employes of this paper and their relatives.

(1) In giving "Who's Who" or "How Well Do You Know Glendale?" no attempt will be made to give extravagant praise, but simply to note a few of the important institutions and people in all circumstances endeavored to do their full part in various lines of activity in which they have participated, hence—what is the identity of this drug store in Glendale that has two names? One of these names comes to it by reason of a certain line of remedies and sundries for which it has the exclusive sale in this city. They are put on the market by a large manufacturing concern representing 10,000 stores in the United States, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and the islands; an organization so widespread that the government made use of them to recruit the merchant marine. This drug store has a financial interest in the parent house—"King of All." Another thing about this drug store is that in every large city of consequence you will find the principal drug store of that locality designated by the same name. A large majority of preparations are kept on sale which are made by the same big manufacturing plant that has a nationwide reputation for products in the drug line of the very best. The store stands for service and quality in every department, from front to back and side to side and from floor to ceiling. What drug store is this, where located and who's the proprietor?

(2) One of the most valuable agencies in the automobile trade is that of the Hudson and Essex, because they have a reputation that aids materially in their sale. Glendale Hudson Motor Company are the fortunate possessors of the Hudson and Essex agency for Glendale. Their sales room faces the main street that they are located on. It is one of the best show rooms in Glendale. No expense was spared in making it a dream of comfort, convenience and luxury. It is a fitting home for what many good judges regard as the best cars for the money ever made. In connection with this agency is found "Conscientious Garage Service." They mean by that certain satisfaction, prompt service at reasonable prices are always had at their garage. They have the tools and they have the men. They have the equipment necessary for the best results from both men and tools. To deliver any job properly finished and on time is not merely their ideal, it is their habit. The members of this firm are men of worth because they are honest in thought, deed and in work, and who will fight for a friend or walk a mile if he be in need of service. Such men and firms are entered in these special write-ups. Give the location of this agency and tell who the proprietors are, giving initials.

(3) Who are the best known Architectural Designers in Glendale? What architectural designer has lived in Glendale the longest? For a number of years this architectural designer has looked after the architectural needs, the contracting and building work of this city and always with the most satisfactory results. Now, there are two members in this firm, and they have given this branch of activity a most thorough study, understanding every branch of the business and have never failed in giving an owner all that could be asked for in this line.

They are doing general architectural work, school buildings, business blocks, homes and sales and service garages, and are in a position to render a most efficient service. They know the demands, the needs of their community and the building game, and are ready to service those who are contemplating building. Their phone number is 5902-Glendale, reading from left to right, the first ten days they moved their office upstairs above their former location into a most beautiful suite of rooms, making a metropolitan office which includes a reception room, private office, contractor's estimating room, drafting room and, best of all, a building material room showing samples like the most up-to-date offices in Los Angeles. The office is the latest and best equipped for an office of this kind and is a credit to them as well as the city. Name Glendale's best known architectural designers, giving their location and name the two popular members of this firm.

(4) There are two kinds of wrinkles, one kind is dangerous. Beware of the wrinkle in your clothes. In this world a person is judged by many things, often by their appearance. Wrinkled clothing almost invariably indicates lack of ambition and other undesirable mental qualities. The Illinois Cleaners and Dyers give careful cleaning service which will help you avoid wrinkles which ruin careers. They have a new wrinkle—a new idea—a clever suggestion for cleaning, pressing and dyeing and you have never tried their service. Go to, as your business and social career will be brighter and the future filled with hope. For many years this cleaning and dyeing firm has conformed to its early motto—"A Square Deal for Everybody"—and the results have been most gratifying. Back east they began 25 years ago. The business increase each year has been marked and the popularity of the establishment noticeable to most people of their former home. It was the same in Glendale when the local folks begin to know them. When you meet your acquaintance with the owner here, you will find he is a thorough business person, believes in progress and is always ready to assist and give aid to the welfare of Glendale. After writing this firm's name, give location and phone.

(5) Where are you going, my pretty maid? "To Glendale's most popular beauty parlor, sir," she said. Then a toss of her pretty brown hair and a blush of her cheeks lit up her face. She tripped down to her favorite beauty parlor for one of the most delightful shampoos, a relaxing facial massage and dainty manicure and, lastly, one of those bewitching hair waves that only these expert operators can give. Emerging an hour later from this parlor this pretty maid was even prettier than when she shyly ran down Broadway. The beauty shop holds an important position in this community, for to them the people look to supply beauty for the wedding hair-dress and all social functions. To be successful in this particular work one must be an artist of excellent taste and understand and know the latest way of dressing hair so that it will give the most beautiful effect and harmony. This is the shop that puts that Marcel wave in your hair, makes your straight hair curly; it will not come out for many days. They also make the prettiest curls and switches obtainable. The owner of this popular parlor loves her work for beauty as well as commercial product; thus she gives her personal attention to all customers. Here also will be found in millinery all the new shades, styles, etc. The latest novelties in hair ornaments, Spanish Combs, Bandeaux and Pins, also a full line of Mariposa Creams and preparations are to be had. I'll give you the address of this popular beauty parlor and millinery which is 123 West Broadway. Name this beauty parlor, and the proprietress?

(6) Delighted you will be by the way you are served at this place to eat better service up all your favorite tractive eatables to tempt the jaded appetite. You don't want to forget when you are hungry that this is the place to come for they are not satisfied with giving you ordinary food and service. They aim to give you better service up all your money than you can get elsewhere. A good idea—suppose you come and see how they accomplish these results every day. They specialize in home cooking and the chef here prepares the most dainty dishes to be found in this city. The cooking is as pure as the driven snow on the mountain tops. If you are a little "fussy" and "hard to suit," this is the place to find first. The hot chocolate or afternoon tea with dainty sandwiches are bound to please. If you wish to be exclusive while at lunch, cute little booths adorn the interior. Or if you are in a hurry to appease your appetite the fountain service is another feature. Fresh homemade candies and an exclusive line of Harry Hoelcher chocolates are sold here. Their phone number is easy and they are located at 111 South Brand Blvd. Who are the proprietors?

(7) Monday's wash day and a terrible drudge to nearly every housewife. The old style of rubbing the clothes over the hot, steaming soap-suds, has passed out. Instead, the modern housewife can, if she has the proper equipment, start her clothes to wash, go about her regular duties of the day; if she wishes to go shopping or take in her favorite movie, she is always at leisure, and can go about free and easy. Years of careful study and planning has brought into this age a washing machine of simplicity, of ease of operation and quick washing action. The designer of the Easy Vacuum Washer studied the principles of successful washing for many years before he asked the public to accept his invention. In this he got back to the first principles of washing. The washer is so designed that the clothes do not tangle, and cannot tear. If per chance the mother has carefully put her baby to sleep, the machine is so silent in action that the pleasant hum of the motor is only a soft lullaby to the baby's ears. No instance has quality been sacrificed for price. The company who handles the Easy Vacuum Washer in Glendale are also Southern California distributors. Name this firm that has such wonderful washing machine? And that's not all, they have a little machine you'll have to hand it to; it's another great invention that saves the wife or mother many a backache. If you want the best in electrical appliances, better drop into this store the first chance you have, and find out how to save your rags. We are sure you will find the managers as pleasing as did the writer. They didn't tell us this but they were promoted to managers of this branch after many years of hard and faithful service to their company. You will find them always ready to suggest for the betterment of the housewife's comfort, be it electric iron, sewing machine motor, toaster, or whatever it may be. It goes about saying they have put joy and happiness into many a home with electrical appliances. The first three initials of the firm with an E added spell "Face." Name this company, location, 310 E. Broadway. Phone Glendale 470.

(8) Oliver Goldsmith, describing "Sweet Auburn, loveliest village of the plain," stressed the fact that most of the people owned their homes, and for this reason were happy and contented. The favorite hymn of most Christians does not read: "My rented house or apartment is in Heaven," but, "My Home is in Heaven." Another: "Heaven is my Home," not "Heaven is where I go." If you and your wife or husband want a home of their own, every stick and stone and blade of grass, which they can improve and decorate as they wish; where their children can romp and find outlet for their youthful energy. Home owner has not only the positive joy of possessing a home, but the satisfaction of knowing that he is exempt when the rent collector passes on the first of the month. There is a realtor in Glendale, his phone number is Glendale 553, whose motto is "People who own their earthly homes are better fitted for heavenly ones." He has a large list of homes awaiting your inspection. He also has ranches listed, makes a specialty of loans on all property and handles every branch of insurance, compensation, automobile, plate glass, burglary and bonds, being agent for ten independent fire insurance companies. His experience in banking makes advice very valuable to intending home purchasers or builders. He has last fifteen years he has devoted his energies to the upbuilding of Glendale, during which time the population has increased from 500 to 28,000. Pure grit, hustle and honesty have made him the foremost realtor of Glendale; he is a member of the Realty Board, and State Real Estate Association. Name this realtor, also give his office location.

(9) There is one photographer in Glendale who has gained an international reputation for himself by the manner in which he handles his work and by the quality of it. Each year a pictorial book is published showing the "best of quality." For the past many years every year the book was published found one or more of this artist's "portraits of quality." "He is a member of the Camera Pictorialist of California which is a very high honor, there being only a few members in California. To say that he is an expert would not be doing him justice, for we truly believe he should be put in the class of an artist. A visit to Ralph W. Browne Studio and you will see some photographic work that would make your eyes "bulge." It is quality work such as American people like, and that answers the question why he has been so successful. He has been here almost two years; he is the kind of a person that does everything he can to make the city a better place to live in and a more enjoyable one. Just another word—don't forget the thought because this studio does high class work that the prices are high. In comparison to the work it is extremely low. Pass up Los Angeles just once and be convinced.

(10) Don't take chances, but when you want to buy linoleum or have it laid, see the man at 417 East Broadway. He's the "Linoleum King of Glendale." Good laying of linoleum must be done by experienced men, hence you will make no mistake in giving this firm your business. This man is going like hot cakes, and runs all the time, and the reason we find for this is the service given. A large stock is always carried. He makes a specialty of only two things on this earth and it's window shades and linoleum. When it comes to window shades he is laying all his competitors in the shade—believe me. Make room in your brains for just one thought—he guarantees all work. From start to finish this particular person pleases. The real leaders of industry and the real men in life and the real success in the world are not always the men who have amassed a great fortune. It is the one who has accomplished the object for which he sets out, who has done something worthy. Money is often a matter of chance or good luck and is not the work of a successful life. That is why we call your attention a few moments to this person. He is a splendid example of a successful business man. Name "Glendale's Linoleum King."

(11) Bottled health and pleasure—that is the chief occupation of the makers of Sierra Club Beverages. For several years they have been turning out carbonated beverages and supplying them to the people. When taken inwardly they go right to the spot—if you know where that is. It is easy to find the spot if the weather is a little warm. If you get the Sierra Club Beverage habit now. A case of their fine beverages is a mighty handy thing to have around the house. Their soda menu includes everything the law will allow—the best temperance drinks made in the state, made from the purest ingredients that can be secured on earth. If you prefer a snappy drink, insist upon Sierra Club products. If you have never tried them do so, as the first taste will convince you, the old familiar flavor and twang are unchanged. We find the officers reliable and dependable persons to do business with, and their customers cover Glendale and vicinity like the morning dew. Never does one of the customers ask for a favor in bounds of reason, but they give a helping hand. After writing the name of this firm that we citizens of Glendale are proud of, give their location and officers. What's their slogan?

(12) Choose your brand of gasoline and stand by it. Choose the grade you like best and stick to it. There are two good rules for any motorist to follow. To buy at the Broadway Service Station is a good habit. In Glendale when buying from them, you are guaranteed a straight run gasoline, high in power and quality. Your motor will start quicker at the gas station and you'll get back with less difficulty when using their gas. At this station they do auto repair work by a competent mechanic and all work is absolutely guaranteed and you are assured of a square deal. When your car needs repairing or you are in need of tires, vulcanizing or tires retreaded or repaired, or accessories, this is a place where you are offered moderate prices and reasonable service. Each person in their department knows his business and three better men in their line can not be found with any one concern. They are all jolly good fellows and if they can do you a good turn they will. Give the location of the Broadway Service Station, tell us who looks after the station, the auto repairs and the vulcanizing.

(13) Are you a tenderfoot? Folks with tender feet just naturally hate to get new shoes. It takes a week or so to "break in" a new pair and that means a week or more of capital "torture." If you bring your shoes to the shop, at 208 1/2 East Broadway, this speedy, reliable shoe garage, you can get them re-soled and made practically as good as new. And you save sore toes and cancel corns and banish bunions. The old shoes are "so easy" and "comfy." Aint it the truth? The proprietor of this shop has made hundreds of friends on account of his work and pleasant ways. Everyone connected with this shop put their heart and soul into all the work they do. In this up-to-date, electrically equipped shop, he puts on rubber heels, does first class repairing, and for the hardy school children he has something that appeals to all parents—a composition shoe that will outwear two ordinary shoes. He says: "I fit 'em right—that's the only way." And for service he sells the famous Weyenberg shoe. Name this reliable shoe.

(14) Here's a firm in Glendale that wrecks everything except the home. It is located at 111 East Broadway. It is an Auto Salvage Company that buys, sells and exchanges all makes of cars, accessories and parts. This auto salvage company is the home of good used cars and new and used tires and tubes of all makes and for many, many cars these people have them and sell them at reasonable prices. Every car sold is given a 48-hour guarantee as to the condition of the car and all work is handled by a crew of expert mechanics who are employed here. Investigate the offers made by this company when you contemplate buying a used car of value or parts of accessories. The two proprietors of this wrecking company have made hundreds of friends by their square and honest dealings, and are now classed among California's leading men in this industry. If you have a used car you wish to dispose of see this firm as they pay the highest price for old automobiles. Name this auto salvage company. Who are the proprietors?

(15) There are firms in every city which have a faculty of becoming known because of the merchandise they handle. The Page Furniture Company is one of the most prominent business establishments in Glendale. On the door is the slogan "Come In—No Obligation to Buy" and your inspection is invited whether you purchase or not. The lines are well selected, including such as A B C ranges, Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets, automatic refrigerators, overstuffed furniture, floor lamps—in fact, everything for the home, for they are "Makers of Happy Homes." The proprietor is the kind of a person we like to have in our midst and today stands at the head of Glendale's progressive, influential and highest citizens. Where is this exclusive new furniture store located and what is the phone?

(16) How does your automobile top look? It's the most conspicuous thing on your car. Has it the fine velvety gloss that it had when new? Or has the finish become grimy and blotched or blistered and rusty or work. From start to finish this particular person pleases. The real leaders of industry and the real men in life and the real success in the world are not always the men who have amassed a great fortune. It is ishing auto tops, and can put a top on your car that will look like new. I have seen some of their work and could not help but notice the quality of the job. The leather finish is absolutely spotless and as smooth and even as polished glass. They are specializing on California tops, body coverings, seat covers and upholstery. The initial of the two proprietors are H. B. and H. D. Now is the time to have a new top put on and the work will be satisfactory as they give all work their special attention. Can you name these two boys? Their address and phone? There are several Battery Stations in Glendale but please tell me the names of the two proprietors who share the agency for the U. S. L. Battery. The standard battery for all makes of cars. The interest of the customer is always first, so much so that they have been appointed factory representatives for Auto-Lite, Atwater, Kent, Connecticut, Briggs and Stratton, auto electric equipment. A better or more complete charging and repair station could not be found. I'd suggest if you have a battery to be overhauled, you take it to these skilled workmen.

(17) There is one transfer company in Glendale for long and short distance hauling that stands out from the fact that they are so well equipped with trucks and give such quick service. The firm is always found in the front ranks when there is any work to do for the city's good. This transfer company we have in mind in this number has an owner whose initials are H. E. H. However the initials are placed wrong. He is the oldest transfer man in Glendale, having been in business here for the past twelve years. When he first went into the transfer business all he had was a horse with a set of harness, and today he has built up a business with motor cars and everything you could possibly think of in the way of moving outfit. If you are blue and want to get "cheered up" drop in at his headquarters and say "Hello" to him and he will fix you up with a broad smile and pat you on the back. What is the name of this transfer company? Where located? Who's the proprietor? Have they a storage?

(18) No rocks are being thrown at this firm, but instead we're throwing bouquets. Whose fault is it? Theirs, because they have a reputation of having the best materials in the building line such as lime, cement, rock, sand, plaster, wood and metal laths, besides building specialties. You can learn the firm's name by calling upon Glendale 494-J. Here you will find the manager all ways up and ready for anything under the sun if it helps Glendale. To tell the readers of The News that we've a "Who's Who and Why" feature and let our readers know we would be suicide, indeed. We could take up a whole column telling you about this company, its manager and their wares, but we would much rather you send in their name, location and tell who is the good-natured manager.

(19) In speaking of a man's ability to execute it sounds mighty good to a possible customer to have a fellow say: "He is positively the best in his line in Glendale—absolutely the best." Such is the reputation that C. R. Lund has as a blacksmith and horseshoer. It has been heard by the writer of this article that he was among the best in Southern California. In talking to the "Who's Who and Why" designer and builder has had years of experience and close to a hundred Glendale's best homes have been built under his supervision. He employs the latest ideas, every plan is drawn to suit you and his buying done the cost to a minimum. It is a singular fact that upon inspection of one of his houses there is not enough waste left to make kindling for a fire. His services are at your disposal and he gladly makes convenient evening appointments. No one could ask for a finer or more modern establishment than that which the senior member built after long years of experience and knowledge of the requirements. The place was established in 1906 and a result is the oldest firm of Glendale. The senior member having reached a period when he wished to take a little rest from his arduous labors looked around for some man with whom he could identify himself and feel secure in his choice. Mr. Kiefer was selected after a studied investigation, and Glendale has ratified the choice. Mr. Kiefer has won immediate recognition as a most desirable acquisition. The firm was strengthened. (30) What do you know about Osteopathy? It emphasizes the structural integrity of body mechanism as the most important single factor for the organism's well-being, even more so than the chemical or use of intake. It is that science or system of healing which emphasizes, first, the diagnosis of disease by physical methods, with a view of discovering not the symptoms, but the cause of disease in connection with misplaced tissues, obstruction of fluids, and interference with forces of the organism; second, the treatment of disease by scientific adjustment together with the inherent forces of the organism, which are good habits, correct thinking and clean living, to overcome disease and establish health; third, the application of mechanical and operative surgery in setting fractures or dislocated bones, repairing lacerations, and removing abnormal tissue growths dangerous to organic life. by expert workmen, who use the greatest care in assembling the various units, making each pair reflect the workmanship and lengthening their term of service. He offers $5 cash and a new pair of shoes if leather-board, paper or fibre-board (substitutes for leather) are found in the soles, heels or counters. Special attention is given to the design, so that these shoes for children allow the feet to develop in the natural way, while at the same time they are correct in style and finish. (34) The French, even centuries ago, were famous all over Europe for their ability as "cookie" makers. They are said to have first invented cookies and coconut macaroons, now popular throughout the entire world. Sautter's Specialty Bakery cookies and coconut macaroons are famous throughout the entire community and can be had at every first class place in Glendale. Their customers tell us that is the best recommendation a "cookie" can have. Quality and cleanliness are the twin mottoes of this shop. The maker of these products, he never knows what it is to be tired, but keeps going all the time turning out "cookies" every hour. He is making a lot of friends daily because he is never idling and is not disagreeable with his patrons. He gives his customers the very best service and he could not be more polite or courteous if he were going to be shot. That in his opinion explains why he is so popular. Since you know the name of this bakery, give its location, owner's name, and tell the name of the brand of their products. The owner has lived in Glendale ten years and has been making "sweet cookies" seven years. He was at one time in the bakery on Brand boulevard. Can you imagine this firm making over two million cookies a year? Well, it's a fact.

(37) Glendale owes much to these two real estate men, for they have made it possible for the man with moderate means to buy a home, and move into a modern home of his own, where he can forget the monthly rounds of the landlord. This firm has long occupied a class by themselves as to the terms and prices of their lots. It was only yesterday I overheard a conversation between two influential men and they were remarking about how rapidly the Fairview subdivision was sold. "Of course," remarked one, "the reason for that is very simple. They are offering high class, desirable property at nearly acreage prices, and with terms so unusually reasonable that anybody can take advantage of it." The judgment of 400 people who have purchased in Fairview is convincing proof that it is the place you want for a home. The view of the valley and mountains is unequalled anywhere. At the helm of every forward looking movement for the betterment of Glendale and for the future growth and development of this section are to be found these two business men. They have at all times listed small and large ranches. The firm writes every kind of insurance and are agents for the most reliable companies. Name these two active realtors. Whose address is 293 W. Broadway? What telephone number?

(38) Glendale is to be congratulated for having among them a man who knows the ins and outs of the automobile business. He started years ago in a small bicycle and motorcycle shop until today he ranks high among men in the automotive industry in California. C. L. Smith who has just recently closed one of the big car contracts for the Chevrolet in Los Angeles county has established temporary quarters at 400 E. Broadway and started out selling the popular little car to the tune of three a day. A little motto hangs over his door which is very readable when you drive in and reads "SERVICE AS YOU LIKE IT" and that's just what you get for they have a most complete shop and a corps of expert mechanics. To tell you the truth it is a source of personal satisfaction to the writer to know about this company which sells them for a new $30,000 car under way on Colorado street at Orange. This is thoroughly in line with the rapid growth of this concern as there is no business in Glendale that is expanding more rapidly. What is the price of the light delivery? And give me the phone number.

(39) Suppose today was Sunday or a holiday and company surprised you and you did not have enough provisions. Well, here's the secret. Don't worry, but always remember this firm is open every day in the year, open early and closed late, and what you may need to tide you over can be had here. Or, better still, wish bring your company here and have the meal. They make a specialty of Sunday dinners, why not get the habit of dropping in occasionally? Their home-cooked Sunday chicken dinners are famous for miles around, you are no farther away from this Cafe than the phone. Call him for reservations. Many of Glendale's exclusive clubs are holding luncheons and dinners at his place, which is located at 121 West Broadway. A good place to eat. The proprietor's name begins with the 16th letter of the alphabet. The owner of this city is known to every resident of this city. He is known to be one of the biggest-hearted persons in your city. What is the name of the firm? Who is the proprietor? What phone?

(40) Now comes a firm in the dry cleaning line; they clean everything but fish. They use the most modern ODORLESS cleaning process and guarantee satisfaction. They are out for a spotless town. If they had a stepladder long enough, they could clean the spots off the sun and never mar its luster a particle. The owner of this establishment came up by sheer force, and has made good. Just the kind of fellows we write about; it goes to show others you can win. Another good mark for this cleaner—in case of the first of himself, he thinks of others. He is so sure that they have secured the services of an expert tailor whose duty it is to see that your clothes are properly repaired after cleaning. Call for the little green delivery car with the phone number, Glendale 207, if you want your garments cleaned, pressed and repaired in a manner that will please you. (41) This paragraph is about "The man behind the camera, but not behind the times." Now, as one looks down the streets and sees the many large and reputable establishments, they can't help feeling proud of babies. So in so progressive a community. For each one in its line is highly representative of standing in the business world. In this instance we wish to speak of a studio owned and operated by a person who does "Photographic work of the better class." It is the best place in the city to take the kiddies to have their pictures taken. This studio has become the recognized headquarters for good baby pictures or good pictures of babies. The children here always get good and this Photographer is fond of them. Just wheel the little darlings right to this studio, and he will take care of them in a most beautiful pose. He is none the less successful with adults. The artist who can handle the babies can generally make the grown-ups keep smiling.

Glenn R. Dolberg, maker of fine portraits, is the artist. Tell me his address and phone number.

(42) The Glenn B. Porter Furniture Store is an enterprising furniture store that is always ready to turn your empty house into a happy home. This store has been a vigorous leader here for many years. They furnish the home from parlor to nursery. They do the economical or expensively—at your option. In these strenuous times the average family is looking everywhere for a chance to clip something off the high cost of existence. There can be no better way than by following the finger of economy that points toward this furniture store. Here will be found a complete line of overstuffed furniture, bed room suites and rugs, and the largest stock of linoleum in town; and they are agents for the Acorn gas stove, the stove with the automatic attachment which shuts off the gas at a time set by clock, allowing the busy housewife to take an afternoon out and her dinner be nicely cooked while she is away. The accommodating proprietor uses the motto: "It's here or I'll get it," and he means it. He owns his own store and gives a square deal in low prices at all times, without resorting to so-called "sales." Where is this dealer located and what is the phone?

(43) One of the quiet, persistent and successful real estate dealers in Glendale is R. N. Stryker, who is well located on North Brand boulevard. In calling on Mr. Stryker the reporter asked him "how he was getting along since he opened the doors of his office." Mr. Stryker said: "Fine, besides there is no part of Southern California that affords a greater number of opportunities than Glendale and this valley and I do not believe I am overdrawing or exaggerating in the least when I make this statement." Mr. Stryker has traveled very extensively, and is certainly in a position to make the above statement. Mr. Stryker is in the real estate business principally, but is a contractor, builder and designer of all kinds of homes, business blocks and buildings of all descriptions. He is doing a "ripping" good business. If you are contemplating a new home of any kind to live in, to buy or sell, let him give you figures on the work. He also writes fire and automobile insurance. If you have never had the pleasure of Mr. Stryker, we tell you in advance to take his acquaintance and you will find him to be whole hearted and a co-worker on anything that helps Glendale. Now that we have told you his name you tell us his initials and street number.

(44) The doctor prescribes the Becker Drug Store for his formula; both he and his patient must depend upon their skill and knowledge if proper results are to be obtained. "QUALITY PLUS ACCURACY" is their watchword and "ACCURATE PRESCRIPTION SERVICE" is their slogan. You can accept on their word of honor the assurance that these two important elements are included in every prescription they fill. In addition, nothing but the purest drugs are used. If you value these things, and wish the added service of promptness in high class service, bring your prescription to them. The proprietors here believe whether a customer comes in the second time or not it is good business to treat them in such a way that if they do they will be welcomed. As a result of this policy almost every one returns here for their needs and as a result an excellent business is being built.

The store has handsome fixtures, as bright as the noon day sun. Their soda fountain is a credit to Glendale. The owners have lived in Glendale for the past two years and from the popularity of the store you would imagine they had been here 22 years. Where is this store located? What phone? Who are the proprietors?

(45) A very successful confectionery is the subject of this little romance. The owner knows the business well, having been in the game for a number of years. The place is clean and sanitary. It is not the largest or the biggest one in the town, but their "home-made candies" can't be beat. They are absolutely pure. Their candies come direct from kettle to you. Nobody goes away from this place of business with a frown. Good quality and service are what built this business in the past year, and while under the present owner, who, by the way, is one of the jolliest folks, it will ever continue to be one of the finest places in town to do business with. In the same room is found a coffee and tea department and oh, folks, if you have never tried their roasted fresh coffee you don't know what a treat you are missing. Name this confectionery store, giving its location and owner's name.

(46) When you ladies get ready for that new suit of clothes, here is a tailoring firm who is waiting for you what they can do for you. They show you a variety of patterns that are stunners and the quality of the materials and class of workmanship will make you a steady customer. If you want a suit that will give service they can give you the true combination. If all the women in Glendale knew this place, yours would not get a chance to sleep. This is one tailor in California who is neither a trailer nor a follower, but an originator. Give their phone number and tell who's the proprietor. Lest you forget, they also do cleaning, pressing and remodeling of all reasonable prices.

(47) Here's a story about a remarkably busy man and before we get too far along with our story we are going to tell you who he is. Allow the writer to introduce this popular man, Lyman P. Clark, manager of the Glendale Motor Car Co. He's the kind of a fellow we like to write about, always smiling and has an outstretched hand for every one. He has made a big success in life and is recognized among the big men in the auto industry in this section. He is introducing the New Series of the good Maxwell, which is offered to the public as the first car designed and produced entirely by the new Maxwell organization. It fulfills, we believe, a long-cherished hope of American motorists and motor car manufacturers. We have all felt sure that sooner or later our national genius for fine manufacture would find a way to produce a car which would reveal, at a glance, so much goodness and beauty that the price would seem almost unbelievable. Call in and see the New Maxwell and get their new, easy payment plan. In the very near future this firm will be located in their fine new home on Colorado street. Now

I've told you a plenty. You tell me the price of the coupe, also the touring car sold by this dealer. What's the address?

(48) The eyes of the world are on Glendale. A bigger per cent will buy real estate this year than last. Do you realize that real estate is cheaper now than it will ever be again? Are you "going to wait" and later curse your stupidity for letting your opportunity of getting a homestead at a reasonable figure slip by? Judge the future rise in values by the past. If you are one of the "wise guys" you'll make your investment now at Clement's Orange Tract, for it is the lowest priced high class property that is obtainable in or near Glendale. It possesses all the improvements and conveniences obtainable in the city; is superbly located in the heart of the beautiful San Fernando Valley; has a beautiful school, facilities for perfect transportation service, while its choice environment makes it the ideal location in which to establish such a home as you have dreamed about. Five live wires are handling this property and each one is an expert in real estate and insurance man. They write for the Providence Washington Insurance Co. These men can be found at 215 1/2 South Brand Blvd. Who are these prominent realtors?

(49) "Let electricity help with the housework," is antiquated advice for most of us, but many housewives today are still without an electric washing machine and perhaps a Vacuum Cleaner. Hasten the day when the women of every household will know the joy that comes from letting electricity wash and iron the wash clothes, sew, clean house, wash dishes and attend to the numerous burdensome duties and perhaps this is why "Washer Wilson" is so interested in "home electrical needs" to such an extent that the name is synonymous. Two of their highly recommended articles are the sweepeevac, the only cleaner that will pass over the light-weight rugs without wrinkling them, and a B. C. Washer, which, because of its perfect construction, will not cause the clothes to tear or tangle. Stop in at the display rooms and meet this enterprising manager—he is a human dynamo whose brains are charged with dynamic force, whose heart is on fire with enthusiasm and whose head is on high. What's the address of this dealer? Give me his phone number, also price of the A. B. C. Oscillator Washer?

(50) In every progressive community the "contractor" and "builder" is a particular necessity. A firm in this character and one that has done contracting and building for the people of Glendale and vicinity, is one whose phone number has three figures and whose total 10. The manager says that the best thing in town is his work and "Pacific Electric Cut Homes," and we have no reason to contradict that assertion, but, on the contrary, rather coincide with him after visiting the office and seeing the plans and pictures of the homes turned out. The manager as well as the president of this firm are wide-awake, energetic business men, and that combined with their high class work done has much to do with their success. What's the name of this building company? Where located? Who's the manager and who's the president?

(51) The key to your comfort is found in this paragraph. It is about a market that wholesales and retails. Hotels and restaurants is their specialty. Its name is the "Little Premium Market," little in name only, but every purchase is a premium. "Dave" is the most constructive person in Glendale, because he is always trying to help the person who needs help. We are all too selfish, and we like this gentleman does. We are expressing our gratitude when we say he's one of the biggest men at heart in Glendale. Now, listen quietly: You don't need to be hit on the head before you'll see a good thing, neither do you need to be assaulted and battered into knowing a good grocery and meat market in your city. This market has a total 11. It looks to the writer as though the owner was just made for this business and for you, and he believes it is better to be gay and accommodating than sad and sullen. If you are not satisfied with your present market then take our advice and you will be absolutely pleased. What's the name of this market? Where is this market located? What's the correct phone number? What is Dave's last name?

(52) We now present a person who once had to walk the main streets of Glendale in the mud and sand, at night carrying a lantern in Glendale, looking for his two cows. He lived in the vicinity of the present "Coke" club. Think of the transformation of that time to today. It has not been over 15 years ago when Edward H. Kerker first came to this city. The writer's conversation with Mr. Kerker was interesting. "The average person has not the faintest conception of the rapid increase from year to year—yes, from month to month, in the number of persons coming to Southern California from a distance, to locate and establish homes," said Mr. Kerker. "And it is inevitable that a very large percentage of them should seek desirable suburban locations," continued Mr. Kerker. "Glendale naturally attracts a class of persons who love the beautiful in nature and who can appreciate the wonderful opportunities presented to them from both a business and social point of view. Our close proximity to a twentieth century city gives the community all the advantages of both city and country, with the unpleasant features of the former eliminated." Mr. Kerker is in the real estate, loan and insurance business and has been established 10 years. He makes a specialty of exclusive listings. He is among Glendale's best known progressive citizens and has been since his arrival one of her biggest boosters. Where is his office located? What phone?

(53) We want to tell you about one of the most enterprising automobile agencies in Glendale. They are handling the new Oldsmobile. The car is beautiful in design, thoroughly modern and mechanically right. They come in roadsters, touring cars, coupes and sedans—and the engines are Fours, Twin Fours and Big Eights. In fact, a model for every need. The cars rank high in performance and quality, and they are sold at prices which are right. The distributors are J. C. Pollock & Co., and they are always happy to demonstrate the superiority of this wonderful line of cars. There is a garage in connection with their policy of a square deal to all. If every one in Glendale believed in the future of us as the members of this firm do, we would have them. This is why we call the distributors optimistic, sunshine folks. Give the price of the Coupe Twin Four, Single Four, Roadster and Big Eight touring car.

(54) The Builders' Hardware & Supply Company is the only firm in Glendale that the writer knows of who "fully guarantee their paints." They represent the Brininstool Products and every drop has their personal backing. Many of my readers do not know what this firm sells, for they specialize in paints, wall board, roofing, builders' hardware and tools. This is the season of the year when nature is on a new gas, and dresses up after sober winter, and comes forth smiling. Most of us follow nature. If you desire to give your home a new "face" we suggest you consult this company. The success in life of this firm's owners might be summed up in one sentence—"Push, hustle and everlasting stick-to-it-iveness." Their start and early experiences in life would discourage less determined business men. However, with a bulldog tenacity they stuck to their guns with the result that they have a business that extends from one end of the city to another and are recognized by people as a reliable, high-grade name, give phone, location and owners' names. To make sure you get every question asked, we will state that the only exclusive builders' hardware firm in Glendale.

We might state here that he is one of the most popular real estate persons in this section from the writer's queries. He has been in business for some time, but from his popularity you would think he had been in California over a hundred years. We'll tell his "career" and wonder story of pure grit which has no exaggeration—because he fought and conquered a handicap and has made good in this world entirely by his own efforts. (57) And now where will be found this select high-grade millinery establishment which caters to people all over the city. It is the shop which sells "Gage's Hats," who make a hat for every type of face. A good milliner is the product of birth rather than cultivation. The proper blending of colors and pose of trimming comes from that innate quality of mind which this milliner has. The owner of this shop is an artist in her profession in every sense of the word. If she does anything extra to a hat for a customer she is one person who does more than she is paid for. She believes it pays big. At this very moment you will find that many of the latest fashions at popular prices. The display room here is very beautiful and selecting a hat becomes a pleasure. in selecting desirable popular priced merchandise. She is adapted to the work both by nature and experience. Formerly being located at 610 East Broadway, the Psenner-Doll Auto Electric company has made a most marked success. The reasons for such a result are not hard to find, for these are men who understand the electrical game. They do A. C. motor winding, repair all armatures and service, all makes of batteries besides being distributors for a large city in Pennsylvania and being up-to-date, they are now manufacturing radio apparatus, operate two delivery cars. The company has enjoyed a most successful business ever since it started. And to better their service, they have a corps of skilled ignition and battery men, who know what to do and when to do it without experimenting at the public's expense. They have several hundred rent batteries always ready and their service along this line is also a marked distinction. If it's any accessories in the electrical line, make this place your headquarters. It is not the object of this write-up to give the merits of this firm for these are too well known to be necessary. Our work is to tell the story of Glendale and this is a part of the notable industries of the city. The proprietors of this business are numbered among the live wires in Glendale. They are progressive, public spirited, and labor for a bigger and better city. What is the address of this service station that handles the Wilard Storage Battery, the battery that 90 per cent of the automobile and truck manufacturers have adopted? What's their popular slogan? Also phone and address.

(84) One of the real classy dry cleaning, pressing and alteration firms of this city has a

Phillips is associated with her husband in the business and is an able assistant. In fact, Mr. Phillips has made the remark that his wife was husband makes a remark of this nature the writer can not say too many good things for him, because there are not many who will admit the truth. Name this company, location and owners.

(90) Stanley Realty Company, because of its once being a pioneer and because of its high standing in the community, has been one of the foremost assets in the line of development. C. Stanley, the veteran senior partner of the company, has been long a resident and in touch intimately with Glendale and its possibilities, and he has therefore been in line for some of the most important deals that have been made. He was here when there were less than 500 people and 1 store and there was not 500 feet of sidewalk, no gas, no electricity, and was the first person to petition for street improvements. Not very long ago J. W. Usilton of the General Realty Co. has taken in with him in the business Mr. Stanley and R. Lee Hill. They are both active boosters and are deservedly popular men. In all that contributes to the upbuilding of the community as a whole you may depend upon it that the General Realty Company will be identified in some substantial way. They are prepared with ample listings of desirable investments to interest all buyers. They write fire and automobile insurance and take care of rentals and loans. Give the location of their office and phone number.

(91) We present a cozy institution in this city to which everyone resorts when they wish to see the beautiful scenery of the world, with the habits and customs of people whom they are not likely to see in the flesh, where interesting methods of living are demonstrated before their eyes, where marvels of scientific achievements are seen and where comedy and drama—the product of the most gifted imaginations of the world are beautifully and artistically portrayed; with an accompaniment of the most enchanting strains of music. For the small amount of money every good man should give his family the benefit of this entertaining and educational influence.

(92) The warm summer days and nights are not half so depressing when you can buy yourself a delicious ice cold drink of lemonade, grape juice or other refreshments. The small cost of them is nothing compared with the pleasure and comfort you get. One of the best places to go in Glendale is at Hubbard's confectionery. Here will be found all the cool, refreshing drinks you may want that are non-intoxicating. Candies of all kinds can be had at this popular place and when better "eats" are put up—he'll do it. Health is wealth and good cheer is cash on hand. The real millionaire is the man who can smile and mean it. The most useful, the most successful men in this country have the happy faculty of smiling and then saying something useful. That's what the owner of this place is noted for, which hundreds of others can vouch for and its cheerful owner. Give exact location. The lunches that they are now putting up in the neighborhood. Suppose you drop in and try them.

(93)—No, J. E. and R. N. Ware are not even contemplating a trip, but their business is of a nature that requires moving to be successful and they are successful. Their trucks are here, there and everywhere about the city and throughout the valley every day in the week, conveying freight, household goods, baggage and other articles to and from homes of residents. This method of doing business has proved a boon to the people of Glendale, in many ways, especially to the newcomer and those who desire absolute safety in the hauling of their goods. Special attention is given every order, large or small. They are fully equipped to take care of your fine furniture, your piano, and heavy hauling of machinery is one of their "long suits." They employ only first class men—men who know how to handle their goods and know the business from every angle. Get in touch with these reliable transfer persons, and have your hauling done in a businesslike, snappy manner. Lots of pep and ginger is their motto. They haul anything anywhere, any place, any time. What is the name of this transfer? Where located? What phone?

(94) "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," and Chester's Window Cleaning Service is doing good work in cleaning up Glendale. Their specialty is window cleaning, and general house cleaning, and janitor service. They are thorough, conscientious workers, and here's a tip for husbands. Call on them in that dreaded ordeal SPRING HOUSE CLEANING and your troubles will vanish under their cheerful efficiency. They have been in Glendale for the past two years and from all appearances will be here many years longer as their work has indeed been satisfactory. That is why they are always kept busy. Their waxing and polishing floor service shines out like the noon day sun. They have built up a reputation with the women folks of Glendale that insures them a splendid patronage so long as they remain in business. They know the game from Z to A and A to Z, which insures their patrons entire satisfaction at all times. When you want anything that they do you need not hesitate to give them your work in the full assurance that it will be done right. Who are the proprietors of this firm? Where located?

(95) We nominate for the Hall of Fame in Glendale Mr. I. Goldberg and I. Gold, tailor and designer, because they have one of the largest and best tailoring and cleaning establishments in the city. This shop is located at 219 South Brand boulevard. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon this place for the substantial business which has been built up. The proprietors are always looking after their patrons and believe in satisfying and they are forever found with a smile, looking pleasant, and more polite men have to be among the leading pleasant moving just here, having at all times just enough go in him to place him among the best fellows who walk the streets of your city. What is the name of this splendid firm? Who is the proprietor?

(96) Here's a firm that can furnish you every household necessity excepting the girl. And the writer makes no rash statement in the above, and a visit to Murphy's Furniture Store at 1261 South Brand boulevard will prove my statement. For in the furniture section can be found some of the newest styles in furniture. Be it a library table, parlor or bedroom suite, it's all to be found here. A nice selection of rugs, carpets and linoleums, in fact, all kinds of furniture. Their exchange department offers unusual values in slightly used furniture. The kitchen hardware is under the supervision of an experienced man. They sell the Sparks, Charter Oak, Whittley and Garland ranges at a wide range of prices. All are made of the most carefully selected materials by careful workmen, according to the latest styles and embracing all modern conveniences. A poor range is a source of constant annoyance, a good one a source of daily pleasure. They sell the good kind here. There are plenty of places to buy kitchen hardware, and furniture, but none where the line is more complete or satisfactory. As a special for the man behind the hoe, a complete assortment of garden tools is on hand. The owners of this store rank with the best citizens of your city and better still, they sold merchandise behind the counter. What's the phone number? And tell me the price of the Sparks gas range No. 1016 in the window.

(97) This service station we are going to tell you about is the largest and most complete in Glendale. It is situated at the corner of Broadway and 10th street. It has excellent attendants to give the motorist the most efficient service. Mr. Hooper of Wm. H. Hooper & Company, says: "Automobile owners cannot be too careful as to the quality of gasoline and lubricating oil they put in their cars. It is not wise to stop your car at a first class filling station and then another. This gives you mixed grades of gas and oil and plays havoc with your engine." This firm's high grade light, medium and heavy cylinder oil is the best you can secure. And their best gasoline is Ventura. They carry the largest stock of standard make tires, and are exclusive agents for Kelly-Springfields and Miller tires. A vulcanizing department in charge of skilled operators is another feature. We'd suggest you try one of their retreats, as they are going strong. Plans are being made for the installation of a modern wash rack equipment and a stock room is being built to accommodate a full line of general auto parts. The manager of this station is one person who helps keep Glendale on the map, and the writer sure likes him, like everyone else does who knows him. In business as in society, everywhere he is a favorite and is always a cheerful person. What is the address of this popular station where the Vista Storage Battery is sold exclusively?

(98) The legitimate in the theatrical world has been hard pressed by the movie theatres. The great actors have been compelled to seek employment as movie stars so that today we get the best productions at very small cost—in fact, at a price which enables every member of the family to attend often. For wholesome recreation and educational training the movie is hard to excel. It has come to stay as one of the most prominent features of our daily life. The movie here in whose manager's name is found the letters "NELLA" is up to the day on all fronts. The business is the oldest residents of Glendale, and is behind every civic movement which is for the betterment of Glendale and its people. She is a cheerful, optimistic person, eligible for full admission to our "who's who." Name this popular lady whom you all know, and the name of the service station.

(99) For years when Glendale's population was less than 3000, this well known person which is the subject of this sketch, has boosted for Glendale and the San Fernando Valley. His confidence has been justified; his predictions have all come true; and he avers and believes that the progress and growth of the past twelve years are naught compared with that of the coming decade. He has played a man's part in helping secure this progress and growth and by his devotion to the business of his clients and his assured rectitude has gained an enviable reputation. He deals in Glendale lots and homes and San Fernando Valley lands; not only guiding investors, but safeguarding their interests; for he does a trust business for absent landlords, collecting their rents and advising them of opportunities to make further profitable investments. He realizes profits on those already made. He represents all lines of insurance—life, fire, etc.; places loans for investors in good real estate mortgages and secures loans for home or farm owners desiring them. The well-known, bustling proprietor of this firm proved his hustling ability in the drives during the war for the Victory Bonds, Red Cross and other war activities. This reality and insurance company is located on Central at Broadway. What realtor has sold 63 lots in the Glendale Valley View tract alone, since September, 1920?

(100) It's spring time and the trees and shrubs and flowers and hedges are doing their best to look pretty. How does your automobile "stock up?" Does "it" look shabby and out of place amid spring's beautiful surroundings? This is an ideal time of the year to have your car painting done. The weather is just right and you will have the job done before summer sets in. Suppose you take this over with this auto painter at the above address. Folks, you should have seen many of the automobiles at this shop before the firm got hold of them. They dolled them up and made them the fascinating dreams of their owners. The editor of "Who's Who" has been in every auto paint shop and today states with pleasure that this is a real firm to come to when in need of automobile painting. We found the proprietor to be among the leading pleasant moving just here, having at all times just enough go in him to place him among the best fellows who walk the streets of your city. What is the name of this splendid firm? Who is the proprietor?

(101) There is not much pleasure in driving a car that is "missing" one or more cylinders. There is no pleasure in driving a car when you cannot feel absolutely certain that it is ready to stand the trip you want to make. You've had that feeling that if you get out of town something will happen to it, haven't you? Perhaps there is nothing seriously the matter. The valves may need grinding; maybe a cylinder is leaking; maybe the carburetor needs adjusting, or there could be a hundred little things that may need attention. Let the S. & G. Auto Service at 612 1/2 East Broadway, put your car in condition so that you can get the maximum service and 100 per cent pleasure from it. Ask any car owner if they know their business, and it's a 100 to 1 shot that you'll say "after you've tried them all, take your car there and you will be convinced of their superior workmanship." You never knew better persons on the face of this green earth who are better liked than the owners of this auto service firm. Give the owners' names and phone.

(102) One of the most popular as well as the leading places in Glendale to get that sweet tooth cured is this new confectionery. This is headquarters for the famous Victorian Chocolates and candies, fresh at all times. Take her a box of candy from this sweet shop and you will be sure to please her. The soda grill and ice cream parlor is one of the bright spots in Glendale. Here you can be served with the daintiest and most appetizing drinks or, if you care to take home some home-made ice cream, this is the place to get it. This modern confectionery is operated under the most stringent sanitary conditions, which is one of the reasons why people like to patronize this place. If you haven't yet acquired the habit of going to this up-to-date shop you should pay them a visit. The owner specializes in making this store a welcome place for everyone and invites you to come and enjoy some of the good things offered here. The equipment for this new confectionery cost approximately $20,000. The ice cream, as well as the candy, will be made right on the place. Tell me the name of Glendale's newest confectionery. And what is the address?

(103) We are going to tell you about a gasoline filling station. It is located on the corner of Brand boulevard and Colorado, and is operated by a lady, who features service to her patrons. The entrance to the station is very convenient to the motorist as a clear view to both street intersections may be had. Being very conscientious she doesn't offer for sale any article that she cannot highly recommend to the car user, choosing for her gasoline the Union and the De Luxe, and a full line of Eastern and Western oils of standard brands. Several attendants give each car owner prompt service as they drive in. Their main idea is to offer service to the man or lady behind the wheel. Their advice to the automotive public is, drain your crank cases every 500 miles. And to help remind you of this dirty job they keep a man on hand for that purpose. This service is offered at a special rate to all commercial cars and other service feature. A full line of accessories besides your favorite tires and tubes, including the nationally known Horse-shoe line, for which they are exclusive distributor in Glendale. The woman who is at the heart of this business is one of the oldest residents of Glendale, and is behind every civic movement which is for the betterment of Glendale and its people. She is a cheerful, optimistic person, eligible for full admission to our "who's who." Name this popular lady whom you all know, and the name of the service station.

(104) Now we want you to know about two energetic young business women. They are the only women in Glendale who are conducting a real live real estate insurance business of their own, and they are right down to the minute in their methods, even to the wearing of the fifty new knickers. They are handling the beautiful property known as the "Wonder Heights." "The Wonder Tract" as well as homes and business lots. They will gladly call in machines and show you desirable properties. These young ladies are real business getters and they say business is good and will continue to be good. They have the interests of Glendale at heart, and are ambitious boosters in any forward movement. Their firm name is Elsa-Jane Realty Co., and they have a building of the new Flemish type, orange and blue. Tell me their address and phone number.

(105) We can't go to press without telling you something about our friend, Mr. F. E. Moore. He's just the type of a fellow we like to mention in our columns. He started in business on a small capital a few months ago and today he has a cabinet shop as well equipped with all the latest machinery as any writer has found in many a day. He is a skilled artisan and employs five men, each thoroughly capable in his line. He manufactures sashes, doors, built-in features and cabinets or cedar chests. Also does any kind of painting and general cabinet work. If you don't know Mr. Moore I'd advise you call and get acquainted, for you will find him to be of pleasing personality, and a man of sound business judgment. What's his address?

efficient methods of handling materials and factory operation, together with a keen discrimination in the matter of design and finish, results in fine furniture appropriate for average homes. They have adopted a new plan of merchandising furniture by selling from their factory direct to the user, this being in line with their policy to save for the user the middleman's profit, which, in most cases, runs very high. It also enables them to give better goods. Furniture of quality, attractive and refined for bedroom, dining room and living room, can be selected, or they will design and manufacture to your individual requirements. We might say here in regard to the proprietors of this firm that we have not heard of a single complaint since they have been in the business. Bear this in mind that, after we have made hundreds of inquiries, we find them of such standing that they are deserving of special mention in our feature. They have had considerable experience in this line, and you don't know them, become acquainted, and you will say, too, that you never met nicer fellows in your life. If they can favor you in any way, they will. If necessary, they'll spend money and time if you are in distress, and, if Glendale needs help, they can always be placed on the honor roll. Give the full names of these two proprietors and give the address.

(107) Do your washing this way and have freedom from all wash-day work. Gather into the laundry bag the wearing apparel, table napery, bed linen, dainty frocks and blouses, hubby's shirts and collars, baby's rompers, towels, wash cloths—everything that goes to make up the family bundle and summon the Glendale laundry delivery car by phoning Glendale 1630, and when your wash- ing is returned to you it will bear evidence of the greatest skill in washing clothes. Then you will understand why their customers come back week after week. You can easily enough guess this laundry and you have often wondered why they are the only one in Glendale. The reason is that they do their work so well that no other laundry can compete with the class of work they are doing. Give us a try if some of this laundry, also who is the president?

(108) This is one of the busiest, largest and oldest dairies in this city that does certain definite things to every patron, and to you. Among them are: A little more than full value for your money, whatever amount you buy of them; instant, cheerful satisfaction in any claim. This firm has phone figures of 431 arranged wrong. They try and give the best service possible both at the office and on their deliveries. Every three months each cow is tested by a state expert, assuring you of purity. They aim to be as clean as the white driven snow upon the mountain peaks. The manager of this firm is good natured and a splendid spirit of person, having energy, public spiritedness and enterprise, which are potent factors in the business activity of any city. This creamery is the only one in the city which has certified milk produced under supervision of Los Angeles Medical Milk Commission. It is the most sanitary and only completely equipped creamery plant in the valley which gives unexcelled service and quality. Name this creamery, location and manager.

(109) "Some Pumpkins." That's the good old home expression and it means a heap. Probably originated in the back woods and was to emphasize something out of the ordinary. It's the same as this firm's lumber—above the ordinary. The manager here is a man of push and having been brought up in this business and following it for many years of his life, he has the knowledge of the business which enables him to make such a success of it. He is counted among the hustlers, and it takes just this kind of a person to make a real progressive city anywhere on earth. The dealer in lumber holds a high position in the building of any community for it is of them that the builders buy lumber for the man who goes to build a house. The contractor and the builder would be of small importance if the dealer in lumber and building material was not on the job. They handle "Everything to Build Your Home." No matter whether it is a new home, a new garage, addition or repairs, this concern is here to help you and their prices are right. This is the only "independent" lumber firm in Glendale. They own their own mills and the lumber comes "Direct from their Washington Mills to you." They can supply everything in sash, doors, mouldings, stair rails, porch columns and the interior finish on short notice and at the lowest price consistent with quality. To tell you the truth they furnish everything that goes into a home—except the housekeeper. Name this firm. Give phone. Who is the manager?

(110) At 231 North Brand boulevard is a person who we call "a self starter." We say this because just last week he started out for himself in the office and stationery business. He is a young man, formerly from Pasadena. He is satisfied with life without being cranked, he's now on a high road to a bigger business and more pay. He has resolved to make Glendale his business place, to give full value for money he receives, to be unselfish, square, honorable and courteous to everyone. This person wants your business and wants to meet you personally. We assure you in advance that you will not find him one of those grumbling, fault-finding persons, but, instead, a pleasant, friendly and honest person who wants your good will. Since we have given you the address of this stationer, will you kindly give us his name?

(111) "We should not need more convincing evidence that intelligent newspaper advertising pays," said Mr. Orlin, the wide-awake public accountant, "than to note the wonderful growth southern California has had in the past two years. Speaking of advertising," says Mr. Orlin, "California has been made by intelligent newspaper publicity, and when a country has as many good things to offer the world as we have here in Glendale, it's doing everybody a favor to tell them about it." It is a pleasure to get an interview from such a live, successful person as this. Just because he is so optimistic, he doesn't get "heady" over his present success. Success is something to be proud about, but not to crow about. In his line of work he gives income advice, installs audit systems, does investigations and book-keeping. The reason he has been successful is because good accounting doesn't stay at the bottom; he has risen to the top in response to the natural law of progress. He has risen from obscurity, under trying conditions, and in face of seemingly insurmountable obstacles. Give his name in full, location and phone.

(112) Just to prove to us that you know the store that opened week before last in the 200 block on South Brand boulevard that sells shoes, hating and working clothes, army shirts, underwear, sweaters and blankets, we want you to write their name and give the proper street number. This enterprising store has already won favor into the hearts of many people, because they laid good foundations at the very start, by giving the public value for their money. If you want to build up a strong business, one worth while, you must lay the right kind of foundation, just like this firm has done. The manager of this firm is building a foundation solidly for this store day by day, by giving values. He is a live wire because he is continually adding something new to the stock. He always has a few ideas up his sleeve to spring. He's a person who is "growing" in knowledge daily. When a person stops growing, you quit going—and start slipping back! We'll say one thing, he's no backslider and Glendale is glad to have such a progressive person.

(113) Thousands of people prefer the Cafeteria today, due to the fact that they can see what they're getting before they get it, and often a fellow with no particular appetite to speak of starts on the rounds of inspection with his tray, and as he eats, the well cooked things, the appetizing odors, all tend toward exciting an appetite that did not exist before. Give us a try if some time you will find it the truth. The cooking of C. & S. Cafeteria is all done under the direction of a lady, who is an excellent cook. Each morsel cooked has her every attention thus its quality. That the rare food served here is appreciated is plainly evidenced by the liberal patronage enjoyed. The manager here is a person who makes many a life happy by her food and her warm reception and purse, if necessary, and if you don't ever smile she will make you. The owner is glad that he came to Glendale and he expects to make it his future home. He is now making final arrangements and details in building a new complete up-to-date cafeteria. To make sure you get every answer and know this one we will state their slogan is "You'll be glad you came." Name this cafeteria's location, telling manager's and owner's names.

(114) You have all heard or read the story of the "Wise Men From the East." Now, the writer intends that you will and shall know these "Wise Men from the East" personally. We say this because just this week four men arrived in Glendale from New York. They will in a very short time open a department store at 233-235 N. Brand boulevard. The writer has met two of them, Mr. Kanner and Mr. Rosenfeld, and they impressed us with having prosperous looks and happy dispositions. On our approach we were utterly astonished at the quick decisions, snappy remarks which showed to us they were full of eastern pep. Glendale is a progressive, wide to such progressive, active folks and wish we had more Kanners and Rosenfelds. Just as fast as possible they will open the doors to the public with a wonderful stock of merchandise. This was written for just one reason and that reason is for you to go to the above number and ask the names of the other two members of the firm, so that you can meet them personally. After you have done this or made inquiries, write all four names so you will remember them. It goes without saying every member of the firm has been for years in business back east and all have been met with success. (Copyright 1922 by Claude S. Moss)

Keeping Up Styles In China Proves to Be Rather Difficult

By EDNA LEE BOOKER
Written for International News Service
SHANGHAI—The long skirt has arrived in Shanghai.
While the members of the French community have accepted the Paris fashion edict and are now wearing their skirts ankle-length, in contrast to the extremely short skirts of a few weeks ago, the American women are up in the air on the question.
At a ball held recently at the Astor House the skirts worn by the women were "fifty-fifty." There were any number of beautifully gowned women wearing gowns, chiefly importations from Paris, which swept around their ankles. And, incidentally, there were just as many stammering, distressed women—especially the young matrons and flappers—who defied the latest word from gay Paris and wore their skirts very, very short.
Word has reached here from America that American women have rejected French dictation on the length of their skirts, and the younger set in Shanghai is following their lead.
In Shanghai following the fashions is a problem. There are a few very expensive French shops where women can order frocks. Occasionally a woman arrives from New York with several hundred dollars' worth of gowns, suits, coats and hats, which she displays and sells in rooms in the two leading hotels, and some women are sent to leading shops in San Francisco every season for costumes, but the great standby of the American woman in Shanghai is the Chinese tailor and the fashion magazine.

Lao Hai-shing, number one tailor, arrives at the house with his equipment tied in a big handkerchief, a smile and a spirit of willingness. You can't help but appreciate his willingness, even when he drives you to distraction by ruining your material and "squeezing" you on the price of the trimming.
"Glood-day, missie. You wanchee me?" he asks upon arriving.
"Missie," hoping for the best, shows this silk-coated man of the Orient a picture of the latest creation from New York or Paris and asks him if he can make the dress.
"Can do, missie, can do," he answers and proceeds to take her measure, which he writes in Chinese characters in his little book.
A woman is thrown absolutely upon her own sense of dressmaking. She may ask, "Which look more better, Lao Hai-shing, belt more high, belt more low?"
"I think so—yes, missie," is the answer. If she knows what she wants and knows how to tell the tailor or he can make anything for a very low price, but if she cannot the result will be impossible. If she has a dress, borrowed from a kind-hearted friend who has just arrived from the States, for him to copy, the wielder of the wicked scissors will copy it perfectly.

RUSTIC PAVILION AT WOODLANDS

George Harris of Tujunga is at present engaged in building a wonderful rustic pavilion at Verdugo Woodlands for the F. P. Newport Company. The pavilion is 40x40, octagon shape with the roof supported by eucalyptus trusses, forming a dome shaped interior. Twenty tons of eucalyptus poles and logs and 5000 palm leaves will be used in the construction of the pavilion. Before long Mr. Harris will build a Greek amphitheater on the Talamantes ranch recently purchased by Dr. Frederick Keeler for the Higher Thought College. He will also lay out and improve in the same subdivision at Tujunga a park for M. V. Hartranft.

Sunland Cannery Successful
The Sunland cannery, under the management of A. Adams, Jr., has by far the largest output of any industry in the Monte Vista valley. It turns out Sunland brands of ripe olives, peaches, apricots and tomatoes that have a wide reputation, and by its range of products it is able to keep busy about nine months of the year. Plans are being made to double the capacity of the plant.

New Tujunga Scoutmaster
Former Scoutmaster B. J. Maxwell is now troop technical instructor and Don Wieman, well known as a leader of boys, is scoutmaster of the Tujunga troop, by appointment of the troop committee, Leo Lang, M. E. Hill and Richard Smith and on recommendation of scout commissioners G. M. Insley of the Verdugo Hills district council. Mr. Wieman will be assisted by Robert Walker and Clorcy Pinto.

At the meeting last week Mr. Lang introduced H. P. Benner, new scout executive of the Verdugo Hills district council, who made a brief talk to the boys.

ACTIVE CONCERN IS SPECIALIZING IN SHEET METALS

Glendale Plumbing Company's Business Growing Steadily; Work Is Well Done

The Glendale Plumbing Company is one of the most active of local industries, specializing in all kinds of sheet metal work, including skylights, marquise and cornices. P. J. Sheehy is manager of the plant which is located at 134-136 South Orange street to the rear of The Glendale Evening News office.

An investment of $10,000 is represented and an average of twenty employes are kept busy. About $100,000 business has been done by this concern in the last twelve months on plumbing and sheet metal contract jobs.

With local capital and a wide experience in the work, Mr. Sheehy founded the business two years ago and today it stands as one of the most modernly equipped plants in the San Fernando valley, employing at all times the highest class of skilled workmen.

Complete plumbing, ventilating, water heating and sewage disposal work is done and a good example of this will be found in the Glendale Research Hospital. It is said that this is one of the most scientific and sanitary systems and second to none in the state. It was designed and installed by the manager.

The marquise and cornice work on both the Chamber of Commerce and Huntley & Evans blocks are products of the Glendale Plumbing Company, which show the ability of their mechanics. These pieces were constructed of sheet iron and manufactured entirely in the local shop. This speaks for itself as to the ability of Mr. Sheehy and his men to handle anything in their line, no matter how large.

The Glendale Plumbing Company seeks that sort of work where a superior knowledge of steamfitting, plumbing and sheet metal installation is required and the volume of business done by this firm demonstrates that it is a concern which is relied upon by the biggest builders. A personal investigation of their work is courted before people patronize outside industry.

State's Expenditures Alarming, Is Claim

SACRAMENTO, April 12.—State expenditures exceeded receipts during the past month by nearly three million dollars, according to the statement of State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson. The receipts were $5,081,025.83, while the expenditures reached the great sum of $7,874,062.15. Among the larger items of expenditures were:

General fund, salaries, etc., $1,783,000; motor vehicle, $475,000; compensating insurance, $425,000; high school, $1,660,000; second highway, $74,000; third highway, $68,000; land settlement, $319,000; San Francisco Harbor, $154,000; school fund, $1,544,000; university, $219,000.

Commenting upon the statement Richardson said: "Growing state expenditures is something that should alarm every good citizen and taxpayer. There is need for retrenchment in most of the state departments. The sophistry of constructive expenditures will not fool anyone. Constructive items, so-called, may, and in many cases do, cloak extravagance. The highway, the school, the harbor and other departments should be run efficiently and economically. Because they are constructive is no warrant for them to be extravagant."

"The state government needs a cutting out of unnecessary positions and a cleaning out of a few hundred political henchmen who serve the machine rather than the state. The 476 state pleasure automobiles may be constructive, but they are run at the state's expense and many of them are being used for political purposes by state politicians seeking only their own interests and the perpetuation of the political machine. Strict economy is needed to relieve the people from the great burden of taxation. This burden falls upon all classes."

In a recent proclamation Governor McRae, of Arkansas, declared his belief that the general use of tobacco by men and women, from youth up, generation after generation, is contributing to unmistakable and certain degeneracy.

Nation's Sweet Tooth Growing Much Sweeter

WASHINGTON—America has a sweet tooth, and it's been getting sweeter right along for the past ten years.

If you got your share of the sugar consumed in the United States last year you did away with 97.8 pounds. And that was thirty-five pounds more than you were entitled to in 1909. The Department of Commerce has been figuring out how much sugar the people of this country used in 1921, and the total has been placed at 19,548,451,000, which is quite a lot of sugar and which represents an increase of 8.4 per cent over the consumption in 1920 and is 25.9 per cent larger than the average consumption for the ten-year period ending in 1920.

The per capita consumption last year 97.8 pounds—was the largest in the history of the country, and the total was nearly one-third of all the sugar produced in the world in that year.

Although this country used ten and a half billion pounds of sugar in 1921 only two and a half billion pounds were produced in continental United States during the year. The non-contiguous territories of the United States supplied 2,132,928,730 pounds which included 977,738,902 pounds from Hawaii, 818,043,880 pounds from Porto Rico and 337,143,948 pounds from the Philippine Islands.

Sugar imports in 1921 totaled 6,673,041,867 pounds, supplying more than half of the consumption. Exports of sugar decreased 45 per cent during the year.

Reliable estimates made for the Commerce Department show that Great Britain will use 3,000,000,000 pounds of sugar this year as against 2,840,000,000 pounds last year and an annual consumption before the World War of 3,800,000,000 pounds. American commercial agents in the United Kingdom figure that the consumption will be larger this year if sugar gets the benefit of a lighter duty under the anticipated reduction

Women in Lords? 'Tis Good Joke, Says Duke

LONDON.—"When women enter the house of Lords I shall laugh," says the Duke of Rutland, father of Lady Diana Manners. "If any of them sit near me I shall be able to guess their feelings, and we will all give way to merriment together."

"And so, when the report of the committee recommending Lady Rhonda's claim comes before us, I shall probably play the coward—or the discreet—and not vote either way."

"If I were a woman and wanted to annoy the peers I would take my seat in the Lords just to see what happened. It may provide the privileged with some amusement, and it will certainly give them entry to a very comfortable club."

"They will not be kept very long from their homes by our debates, because our sittings rarely occupy more than a few minutes. And that in itself may prove an attraction."

"I don't know Lady Rhonda, although I believe she is an excellent business woman and active and clever. I don't believe that in the case of the House of Commons the admittance of women has added anything in the way of dignity, charm or usefulness."

TEXAS RIGS FIRE-SWEPT

ORANGE, Tex., April 12.—Five drilling rigs and derricks were destroyed by fire here. The damage will reach $200,000. The wind swept the flames through the fields, tearing away derricks and everything in its path.

In British taxation in the next budget estimates.

British refineries will melt about 1,100,000 tons this year, leaving 400,000 tons of refined sugar to be imported, the bulk of which must be drawn from American sources.

In the case of France it is reported that the sugar production this year will be scarcely half the consumption, which is rising, but is not back to the pre-war level.

This Adding Machine Real Glendale Booster

Whoa! Not quite so fast—if you please! A stuttering adding machine at the city hall yesterday caused The Glendale Evening News to say that the building permits for 1922 had passed the $2,000,000 mark. A check of the figures today—on another adding machine—shows that the total so far this month is $244,300. So, you see, it will be a few days—or a few weeks—before the two million mark is passed.

The adding machine at the city hall which developed the sudden boosting spirit is sorry that the error occurred—at points out that it might have been a billion dollars off, instead of about $400,000.

Anyway, the building permits will pass the two million mark—it's only a question of time.

Bank Clerks Train to Fight Against Bandits

NEW YORK—A basement pistol range has been established here by the Title Guaranty and Trust Company so that employes of the institution may become so sufficiently skilled in the use of firearms as to be able to protect themselves against bandits.

"Some of our employes carry large sums of money," officials of the institution declared. "We want them to be able to shoot straight, particularly in a crowd, as a precaution against banditry."

W. H. LaFountaine In Protest Over Dodgers

W. H. LaFountaine owns a bungalow court of eleven units at 127 to 147 West Acacia avenue. Yesterday he brought the accumulation of handbills, theatre programs, circulars and other freely distributed printed matter to the office of The Glendale Evening News as mute evidence against poor advertising.

This property owner is of the opinion that people wishing to reach their homes should use the columns of the "home town" newspaper and people should subscribe to see the legitimate announcements of the business man. Mr. LaFountaine declares that dodger advertising turns him against the firm using this method and he has warned one firm to desist throwing the "stuff" on his property.

SEEKS TO END STRIKE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 12.—Attorney-General Daugherty's next move in his investigation into the possibility of bringing an end to the national coal strike through action of the Washington administration was being watched for with extreme interest today.

Having admitted that investigation into pending anti-trust act indictments against more than 200 miners' officials and coal operators comprised a large part of his business in Indianapolis, it was believed that his visit, if successful, would result in the dismissal of these indictments.

TROOPS LEAVING IRELAND

LONDON, April 12.—The evacuation of British troops from Ireland is continuing, despite the increased disorders and the threat of civil war between the Irish Free State troops and the mutinous faction of the Irish republican army. Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill, speaking in the house of commons this afternoon, denied that the withdrawal of English military forces from Ireland had been suspended for any reason.

Upbuild Alaska to Unlock Wealth Urged

By WARREN W. WHEATON
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON—Untold millions in natural resources lie in United States territory under the glare of Alaskan skies.

Up in northern Alaska, where the summers are but thirty-five or forty days old, where in the dead of the long Arctic winter the mercury registers 60 or 70 degrees below zero, and where the ground is frozen forty feet deep, oil and coal abound.

Undeveloped barren wastes in a surprisingly fertile and productive country promise before long to echo with the cries of "mushers" urging their dog teams on to "stake out claims" that hold in the offing the goal of unlimited wealth.

That's the country the United States is preparing to develop, according to Secretary of the Interior Fall, who now has under consideration development plans that call for extension of transportation facilities to bring out the wealth of resources the Harding administration has every reason to believe exists.

Dr. Alfred Brooks, eminent geologist, who knows Alaska, will go to the far northern American possession to conduct further inquiries and probe beneath the earth crust for the oil seepage and the coal veins that prospectors claim exist.

Already, according to information obtained today from the Interior Department, California interests are planning immediate invasion of the new fields.

The wealth hidden under the Arctic region is not a dream. It is a reality of startling dimensions, according to Governor Scott C. Bone, whose domain is Alaska.

"It's there; we know it," declared the governor, who is in Washington seeking congressional favor on joint freight rates and the extension of the government railroad into the interior of the country.

"Alaska has it. The undeveloped part of Alaska is rich, just as is the developed part. People generally have a misconception of Alaska. I

Berlin Plans Airline to Capital of Russia

LONDON.—Another step forward in the German exploitation of Russia has been taken by an agreement which the Russian government has signed with the Berlin Aero Union company wherein the company, with a capital of two million dollars, is formed for the promotion of aerial passenger traffic service between the two countries.

The use of aeroplanes will reduce the journey from Berlin to Moscow to forty-five hours, instead of sixty-nine as heretofore.

TERROR CAMPAIGN STARTS

CHICAGO, April 12.—A campaign of terror against contractors supporting the Landis wage award was believed today to have been instigated with the bombing of the homes of two plumbing contractors. The men attacked are two of the five plumbing contractors who are members of the citizens' committee organized to enforce the Landis award.

The three others members, it is said, have received anonymous threats. Henry O'Callaghan and H. P. Reger are the men whose homes were bombed. O'Callaghan was painfully injured. Homes of both Reger and O'Callaghan were badly damaged. No one was injured at the Reger home.

BUSY TIMES ARE AHEAD

NEW YORK, April 12.—"Business should be back to normal in the United States within a year," said N. R. Guggenheim, so-called "copper king," upon his arrival from South America on the liner, Vanduyck. He said that the rise in prices of stocks pointed to busy times. He has been in South America inspecting copper properties controlled by his firm.

WELFARE BOARD IN REPORT ON WORK OF TWO MONTHS

Department Is Busy One, So State Shows; Number of Families Are Assisted

The report of the Glendale City Welfare Bureau and Council, made last night at the meeting of the executive board at the City Hall, showed that the past two months have been busy ones in that department.

Those present at last night's meeting included Mrs. E. D. Yard, president; Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, treasurer, and Mrs. C. S. Arber, director. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved and a general discussion of the work followed.

The report of the work done during the past two months is as follows: Home Visits..... 40 Interviews at office..... 27 Employment secured for..... 20 New cases registered..... 11 Families assisted..... 25 City orders for groceries, 4 value..... $29.86

During the past two months, 305 articles of clothing have been given out, as well as a mattress, six comforters, blankets, sheets, a washing machine, pillow cases and towels and $68.89 in cash.

The Glendale Welfare Bureau and Council was organized in order to avoid duplication of the work and so that all of the philanthropic work of the city could be taken care of from one place. Those knowing of persons needing assistance have been scheduled to begin at Charles Town, Jefferson County, April 24.

"Obviously the State will never attempt to try all of these cases," Houston said. "Hundreds of the 500 or more indictments will be nolle prosequi. In my opinion, not more than six United Mine Workers officials will be tried as a result of the so-called insurrection."

Theoretically, if the State intends to try all the cases, it will be the biggest legal action in American history. But the task of trying so many men is impossible, according to Isaac Scott, acting secretary of District 17, United Mine Workers. Scott declares it is the intention of the defense to subpoena 10,000 witnesses who are widely scattered, and it would be impossible to assemble them all on the same day.

Quite a number of men under indictment face charges of treason against the State. Convictions may be followed by long prison sentences, life imprisonment, or even the death penalty, if the court sees fit to impose it.

During the fighting at the height of the invasion a number of men lost their lives. Attorney Houston, for the United Mine Workers, declares that in cases where United Mine Workers' members or officials are accused of treason, conspiracy and complicity in the deaths, the defense will show the union had nothing to do with the alleged rebellion.

"There were many involved who had nothing to do with the union," Houston said.

The State charges the men who are believed to be responsible for deaths during the fighting with murder.

Attorney Houston announces that in all cases a plea of not guilty will be entered.

Frank P. Walsh, international labor leader, is expected to be an attorney for the defense. Several of the leading attorneys of the state have been engaged to act as counsel for the defense.

Among the most important defendants are: C. Frank Keeney, president of District 17, United Mine Workers, and other district officials as follows: William Petty, vice president; Fred Mooney, secretary, as well as William Blizzard, president of Sub-District No. 4.

MINERS' TRIALS MAY LAST 110 YEARS AND COST SEVEN MILLIONS

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va.—If every one of the 500 or more men indicted as a result of the miners' so-called "rebellion" last August were brought to trial it would cost the state of West Virginia $7,000,000, and the trial would last 110 years, according to H. W. Houston, chief counsel for the United Mine Workers. Trial of this many men is scheduled to begin at Charles Town, Jefferson County, April 24.

"Obviously the State will never attempt to try all of these cases," Houston said. "Hundreds of the 500 or more indictments will be nolle prosequi. In my opinion, not more than six United Mine Workers officials will be tried as a result of the so-called insurrection."

AMUNDSEN TO MAKE DARING VOYAGE TO TOP OF WORLD; PLANS TO DRIFT FOR FIVE YEARS

SEATTLE.—The most daring voyage ever conceived by man, comparable with the first voyage of Columbus or the imagined voyages of the characters of Jules Verne, the novelist, will start from this port early in June.

Ronald Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, will set sail, in his 390-foot ship, the Maud, to go over the top of the world.

The North Pole will be the only stopping place on the voyage. Two airplanes will be used to reach the Pole if, while going over the top of the world, the Maud should drift in a current within flying distance. Otherwise it is possible that no effort will be made to reach the Pole.

The voyage of exploration will be made under the flag of the Kingdom of Norway. Lands first seen on the journey will be claimed for Haakon VII, King of Norway, who is helping to finance the expedition.

Amundsen recently went to New York to make final arrangements for the expedition. Meanwhile H. H. Hammer, his personal representative in the United States, is here fitting out the Maud for a seven-year journey. He said:

"Determine How Much Truth." "Amundsen is going to try to determine how much truth there is in the theory that there is an ocean current which goes over the top of the world. Ships wrecked in the North Pacific Ocean have been found on the other side of the world, in the Atlantic Ocean. This has led to the belief that the whole ice-pack floats in this current and that a ship stuck in the ice will be carried over the top of the world and out of the ice on the other side."

Amundsen believes that he can go over the top of the world by getting into the ice jam and drifting with the current.

His little ship, the Maud, built especially for him in Norway, is nearing readiness for the trip. Great quantities of hard bread are aboard and, strangely enough, some of the bread he took with him to the South Pole. This bread must be moistened and softened before it can be eaten. Thousands of cans of meat, hundreds of cans of fruit jams, jelly, candies, flour—enough to last seven years—are aboard the Maud.

Scientific instruments, which will help him determine new air currents and new lands, are being installed. Two airplanes from England are being made ready.

May Take Five Years. Amundsen says the trip will take from three to five years. Although the object of his voyage may carry him far from the North Pole he is really anxious to reach the Pole.

"It will be a great thing to have reached both the North Pole and the South Pole," he told Hammer, his closest associate.

Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, is no stranger to the Far North. He spent a year in the vicinity of the magnetic North Pole. He, according to Hammer, was the first man to negotiate the Northwest Passage, a discovery which has fired the mind of man since America was discovered.

But which never did Amundsen succeed. Early in June the Maud will sail from Seattle, with ten men aboard. Captain Oscar Wisting, personal friend of the explorer, will take command. Captain Wisting has been

Look Brighter

Constance Talmadge in Feature at T. D. & L.

Constance Talmadge in the First National attraction, "Polly of the Follies," continues as the feature film at the T. D. & L. Theatre. This sparkling gem of light humor was written by John Emerson and Anita Loos, the famous combination that has given the silent stage so much of its best comedy and which is responsible for a recent independent comedy production, "Red Hot Romance."

The star has an appealing role, mingled with light comedy in the part of Polly Meacham, the girl from Bowling Green, Conn., who wants to go on the stage whenever Flo Ziegfeld is ready to wake up to his opportunity.

Kenneth Harlan is leading man opposite the star, following up his successes in Constance Talmadge's previous pictures. George Fawcett returns to the screen in this picture after a successful appearance on the speaking stage.

A comedy, scenic and news reel complete the bill.

Old-Fashioned Pic
Social Friday Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Los Angeles county organization of the International Order of Good Templars will be held on Friday night of this week at the Odd Fellows' hall on East Broadway, this city.

This announcement is made by Mrs. K. C. Sipple, lodge deputy of the local chapter.

The meeting will be staged in the nature of an "open gathering," anyone looking for an evening's entertainment and enjoyment being invited to attend. The affair has been named "Ye Olde Fashioned Pic Social," and all those who are unfamiliar with the term "should be present for a course of instruction."

Members of lodges of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach and other southern California cities are expected to be present.

People Are Invited To Name New Store

Leo Kanner and Al Rosenfeld, former business men of New York city, are now in Glendale checking up invoices on incoming stock and superintending the finishing of the interior and placing of the fixtures for their department store in the new building being completed by Freeman & Kelly at 233-35 North Brand boulevard.

Other members of the firm, S. A. and A. Gershen, who are now in New York city, will be in Glendale prior to the store opening.

This new Glendale store will open with approximately a $50,000 stock of dry goods, ready-to-wear, millinery and men's, women's and children's furnishings, about May 1, it is announced.

In order that Glendale people can rightly feel that it will be a store dedicated to the service of local inhabitants, the management has decided to have the public name the store, and offers a handsome prize of imported linen table cloth with a dozen napkins to match to the woman submitting the name for the store that will be the most suitable.

A mail box has been put at the entrance of site of the store, 233-35 North Brand boulevard, where all letters containing proposed names may be left or mailed.

Give Street Address,
Plea Of Postmaster

Advertisers in The Glendale Evening News, who expect replies by mail, can confer a favor upon the post office department by including their street address as well as "Glendale" in their copy, according to Postmaster R. D. Jackson.

"Many persons and concerns, when giving their addresses in advertisements in newspapers and other publications, fail to show their street address and as a consequence this important information does not appear on mail sent to them in response," asserts Mr. Jackson. "Such omission causes much inconvenience and additional labor to the postal service and frequently delays the delivery of mail."

Each acre of walnut trees in bearing will produce every year food approximating 2500 pounds of beef.

SOCIETY CIRCUS IS BEING PLANNED BY CLUB WOMEN

There'll Be Parade, Big Tent, Menagerie and Everything to Make Big Show

Mrs. David Brant; story telling, Mrs. F. W. Chambers.
There will be a dinner served each evening of the circus, with different committees in charge. The mistresses of ceremonies will be Mrs. L. N. Hagood, Mrs. Daniel Campbell and Mrs. Charles A. Parker. Lumber and erection of booths, Mrs. A. W. Tower; publicity and printing, Miss Eva Daniels.

On Nominating Committee
After reading that part of the constitution regarding the election of officers, Mrs. Hutchinson announced that Mrs. Mabel Rudy and Mrs. O. E. Von Oven had been elected to serve on the nominating committee and three other members were appointed at yesterday's meeting to serve also, Mrs. Plasterer, Mrs. Walter Jones and Mrs. H. C. Wilcox.

Mrs. Hutchinson announced that from now until the clubhouse is erected there will be four committees who will have charge of the receiving of gifts for the new edifice. Mrs. S. C. Packer will have charge of the cash gifts, Mrs. Mabel F. Ocker of the memorials, Mrs. Mabel Rudy of life memberships and Mrs. A. M. Williams of the birthday donations. Each Tuesday it is planned to have an honor march of those whose birthday anniversaries have occurred during the week.

Mrs. Hutchinson announced the state convention of the California Federation of Women's clubs to be held in Los Angeles May 3 to 6 inclusive at Bovard auditorium, University of Southern California. The entertainers of the afternoon were then introduced, Miss Zillah Ernest Withrow, and Mr. and Mrs. Rand.

The program included readings by Miss Withrow in costume, interpreting the characters of a small school girl, the sweet girl graduate, the young bride, the old lady, etc. Between readings Mr. Rand gave several delightful tenor solos, including a group of Irish ballads in costume. Mr. Rand is a member of the "Four Embers" quartet which sang at the district convention at Santa Monica. Miss Withrow concluded her presentations with two dance numbers, the dance of the "Deva Dasses" and an Egyptian dance, "The Lotus." The program was a most pleasing one. Miss Withrow has a charming personality which captivated the audience.

On account of Mrs. W. L. Andrews having moved to Burbank, her resignation as general curator was accepted and Mrs. B. O. Holbrook was appointed to fill the unexpired term. Section announcements made as follows: Music section, at home of Mrs. Charles Meadows, 721 North Brand boulevard, Friday, April 14; parliamentary law, at home of Mrs. Eva Waller, 243 West Broadway, April 12; drama section, April 24; Shakespeare section, April 17, at home of Mrs. T. C. Taylor, 423 North Maryland avenue, with Mrs. Kingstley as hostess.

Retired Ministers In Business Meeting Here

Rev. W. B. Collins of 208 East Park avenue yesterday was elected president and Rev. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue was re-elected secretary of the Retired Methodist Ministers' association of southern California.

The auditorium of the First Methodist church was occupied by members of this organization during its quarterly sessions.

One hundred and twenty places were occupied at the noon luncheon which was served by members of the Ladies' Aid under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Starkey and Mrs. C. D. Lusby.

An "old fashioned love feast" with all the trimmings occupied most of the afternoon. At this time many of the retired ministers related at length their experiences in the pulpit.

Rev. Wiley J. Phelps of Los Angeles, editor of the "California Voice," addressed the meeting on the necessity of supporting the Wright bill.

A number of poems were recited by Rev. J. K. Bean of Los Angeles. Other officers elected were Rev. Samuel Goodell of Long Beach, vice president; and Mrs. Orville C. Nay of Los Angeles, treasurer. Rev. J. E. Albrook of Pasadena is retiring president.

Announcement was made that an attempt would be made to secure a prominent speaker for the next meeting which will be held in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, the middle of July.

Among Glendale folks present were Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Collins, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Hoskyn of 218 North Jackson street; Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton.

Community 'Sing' Is Increasing In Interest

The "Community Sing" was well attended last night at the First Methodist church and much interest and enthusiasm were shown. Two solos were sung by Mrs. R. E. DeKamp of 538 North Jackson street.

"These 'sings' are growing in favor and popularity," stated Mrs. W. Q. Widdows of 1318 East Harvard street, representing the community service. "In two weeks the big 'state sing' will be held. Those who have state songs they would like to have used please leave the music at the office of the First Methodist church for Mrs. H. V. Brown."

COMMENT
THAT'S ALL

Al Lasker, Advertising Man
Somebody's Party Spoiled
Parking Law Is Important
Hot Dog! For the Beavers

By Gil A. Cowan

AL LASKER, chairman of the shipping board, is an advertising man!
You bet he is. The liner Leviathan, second largest ship afloat, will bear the name Warren G. Harding, after reconditioning at the Norfolk navy yards, according to advices received on the International News Service leased wire.

In other words, he is going to let the world know who the big boss of the United States is today. However, it is to be wondered whether or not the democrats will have a submarine christened McAdoo and try to torpedo Warren G. in 1924.

Isn't it funny how somebody's party is getting spoiled every now and then. Take the General conference, for instance. The rows which have developed so far may be summed up as follows:

The Russians and the French are fussing over land disarmaments. The Russians and the Roumanians over Roumania's presence upon the Russian committee.

The Russians and the Japanese over Japan's participation in the conference.

Otherwise harmony prevails and everything is peaceful except on the Russian front.

And over in Ireland they are starting the civil war business all over again.

Armed women have begun to take an active part in the fighting, according to advices received in Belfast from County Donegal.

One might facetiously comment that it would be a sad state of affairs, if the women had no arms with which to fight.

They might kick up an awful row, don't you know.

The attention of The Glendale Evening News has been called to the large number of dodgers being distributed around town this spring.

It is a fact that handbills may be used to good advantage in some instances, but the daily newspaper provides a much more satisfactory medium of publicity, at less expense. Hence, advertisers should use the columns of their "home town" paper, not dodgers which go into bonfires and seldom are read.

The parking ordinance is to come before the city council Thursday night. It is a subject which business men should give due consideration and be prepared to advise the local lawmakers as to their desire in the matter.

Present parking is unsatisfactory and dangerous. Possibly by reversing the angle and having cars back into position so they may be driven out easily would eliminate some danger.

As to the limitation of time a car may be parked, it is suggested that cars parked at 10 o'clock in the morning should be moved before 1 in the afternoon and that cars parked at 1 should be gone by 4 in the afternoon. Between 4 p. m. and 6 no car should be parked in the congested districts of the business section more than one hour if the greatest number of shoppers are to be accommodated.

And yet that may not be the ultimate solution, for only by sifting the ideas of everyone can something reasonably satisfactory be obtained.

"Hot dogs for the Beavers."

Such is the startling announcement from the Oregon state society notifying Glendale webfooters of the big annual picnic reunion to be held Saturday in Sycamore Grove park. Everybody from Portland to The Dalles are bid welcome to meet their old friends, partake of the hot dogs and coffee and sign the county registers.

ANOTHER ARK IS PLANNED

LOS ANGELES, April 12. — The "Ark," a nondescript vessel built with somewhat disastrous results to transport "colored folks" of southern California to Liberia, is to be replaced by the "Angel," a larger and more complete boat for ocean purposes. Rev. J. E. Lewis, colored pastor of Terminal Island, Los Angeles harbor, announced.

Rev. Lewis, who labored for months in building his modern ark, only to have the vessel become a derelict and drift to sea in a storm declared plans for his big and modern colored colony at Monrovia, Liberia had been revived with payment of a deposit of $1000 on the "Angel."

SHE WILL WED—PERHAPS

NEW YORK, April 12.—Unless her health "fails," Mary Landon Baker of Chicago is yet going to become the bride of Allister McCormick, the wealthy young heir whom she has more than once "left at the church," she firmly declared on leaving here for Europe on board the Cunard liner, Aquitania. Moreover, Miss Baker said that the wedding will probably take place next June and at Surrey, England. There is only one condition to her tardy decision and that is based on the probable condition of her health.

SLAYER GETS NEW TRIAL

ATLANTA, Ga., April 12. — The conviction of Clyde Manning, confessed negro executioner, on the John S. Williams' plantation in Newton and Jasper counties, Georgia, was reversed by the Georgia supreme court and a new trial ordered. Manning was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment following the conviction of John S. Williams, who was charged with having ordered the slaying of many negro farm hands. Williams, having been denied a new trial, now is serving a life sentence.

Priscilla Dean Stars In Glendale's Picture

The thread of romance that carries the interest through the plot of "Wild Honey," the Universal Jewel attraction at the Glendale Theatre for three days, is based on the independence of spirit of Lady Vivienne, the English lady of rank who is the heroine of Cynthia Stockley's novel, from which the picture was filmed. Priscilla Dean portrays the character.

How many women would brave the dangers of a trip through the barren spaces of the Transvaal, alone and unacquainted with the nature of the country and its people? Lady "Viv" does it for the sake of looking up the land which represents the only wealth she possesses, and which everyone says isn't worth the paper on which the deed is printed.

The leading man in "Wild Honey" is Robert Ellis. Noah and Wallace Beery enact the chief roles of "villainish" hue. Other players include Landers Stevens of Glendale.

Al St. John in "Straight from the Farm," and Aesop's Fables Modernized complete the bill.

Rush Heating System For School's Opening

The Southern California Gas Company's local branch is now rushing work upon the installation of gas steam radiators at the Intermediate school in order to have them ready for operation when school convenes Monday morning.

Considerable trouble having been experienced with the system of heating at the intermediate school this term, the installation of two gas steam heaters for each class room and four for the auditorium was decided upon at a recent meeting of grammar school board of trustees as an emergency measure. The contract price is $2657.10.

The work of installing the pipes was sublet to Carlyle Brothers of 110 West Broadway. As soon as it is completed, the heaters will be connected under the supervision of W. K. Hardwick of the Southern California Gas Company.

According to W. R. Phelon, manager of the local branch of the Southern California Gas Company, the school board was influenced in favor of this type of heating apparatus because the radiators do not require vents, the heat is economical from the standpoint of fuel consumed, gas steam heat is very desirable and radiators do not need guards to prevent school children from being burned while playing near by.

The Southern California Gas Company has received contracts to install the same heating system in the Central building, which is now being remodeled, and the Pandroy building.

Better Service Ideas
Suggested at Dinner

Several ideas were brought out which will be put into practice to give the customers of this firm better service at all times. The new prospectus of the planning department, which is just off the press, was discussed.

Those present were John Bentley, George Bentley, Ray Bentley, Roger Bentley, C. A. Comfort, W. R. Letton, George Petticoard, Al Sullivan, Walter Potter, Park Arnold, Jack Cline, Harry Maxwell and Don Gillan.

Oklahoma City has voted for a bond issue of $2,709,000 for city improvements.
