CONSERVATIVE PAPER SAYS THAT CLOSURE MAY PROVOKE CIVIL WAR

Measure Welcomed Only by Despots and "Machine" Politicians Giving Dangerous Power for Squandering Public Money by Rushing Huge Sums Through Without Adequate Criticism

Ottawa, April 10.—Discussing the closure motion, the Ottawa Citizen, the leading Conservative paper in Ontario, says:

"The closure would be welcomed only by despots and machine politicians, giving a dangerous power to those who would squander public money by rushing through the House votes for huge sums without adequate criticism. During the votes on estimates in Britain, many millions of pounds are lumped together and passed en bloc by means of the closure, affording the opposition no opportunity of criticizing particular items. And the system has rebounded upon the heads of those responsible for its introduction.

"The closure was devised at Westminster by the Tories to overcome Irish obstruction. It is now being used by the Liberals to force Home Rule for Ireland through parliament. Imagine the chagrin of good protectionists in Canada to some day find a Western group forcing free trade through parliament by means of the closure. It will not do for Canada. There are too many racial and religious problems requiring wide open debate. To employ the closure for a measure inspired in Toronto might cause a civil war.

The Citizen also attacks the Montreal Star (Con.) for "its daily diatribes on the British-German scheme, thereby faithfully fanning the spark of militarism into a ruddier promise of impending blaze."

SITUATION AT OTTAWA IS DESCRIBED IN LONDON AS AN IMPERIAL TRAGEDY

London, April 10.—The Star (Liberal) to-night heads an editorial concerning the debate at Ottawa yesterday. "An Imperial Tragedy," and declares that the Canadian Naval Bill has become a "tragedy" in the eyes of the British Empire. "The irony of this Imperial Tragedy is that the need for the three dreadnoughts is steadily diminishing as Anglo-German relations improve."

POPE NOW BETTER BUT HEART WEAK

Rejoices at Sunlight but Finds Difficulty in Taking Nourishment To-day

DR. AMICCI HOPES FOR CONVALESCENCE

Rome, April 10.—At noon to-day the condition of the Pope was much better, but the weakness of his heart and his intermittent pulse were still causing anxiety. The doctors permitted him to eat an egg with roth, but the patient was able to take it only with difficulty. The Pope rejoiced to see the morning bring a change in the weather. A splendid sun streamed through the ample window of his bedroom. Although this seems to encourage his spirits, he continued to feel nauseated and averse to taking nourishment, notwithstanding the efforts made by his cook, Stefano Inchiostro, an old servant, who came from Venice with him.

Professor Marchisavi said after his morning visit that he considered the unchanged condition as auspicious, but for the better. The only specific apprehension is heart weakness.

In all the Church of Rome, special prayers were offered this morning for the recovery of the Pope.

Dr. Andre Amicci, who spent the night at the Pope's bedside, said this morning that his patient rested sufficiently well. His temperature is now a little above 97. He declared to-day that he hopes by next week the Pope will be convalescent.

An entirely contrary opinion, however, is expressed by some of those immediately surrounding the Pope, who depict the situation as grave. They assert that an examination made by a specialist showed the presence of from 10 to 12 degrees of albumen.

Professor Marchisavi this afternoon gave confirmation of the continuance of the improvement in the Pope's condition. He said that his only fear was that complications might arise, more especially through lack of nourishment owing to the absence of appetite.

Efforts will be made to administer artificial nourishment. Eight hundred Polish pilgrims arrived to-day and went to the Vatican. As they were not allowed to see the Pope they marched around the piazza in procession, chanting prayers and singing hymns.

OPERATE ON DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT TO-DAY

London, April 10.—Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught was operated upon this morning. The official announcement says the operation, which was severe, was well borne. Her Royal Highness is as well as can be expected. This bulletin is signed by six eminent medical men.

THE CHAMPION OF FREE SPEECH

OPPOSITION LEADER REPLIES TO GAG METHODS

SIR WILFRID LAURIER FORSEES A DAY OF RECKONING

Ottawa, April 10.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier obtained an opportunity to speak in the House of Commons last night despite the disorderly scenes and the methods of the closure. He had no time to speak after a motion introduced by Dr. Pugsley that the House adjourn at 9 o'clock had been voted down. This gave the Liberal chief the opportunity he sought.

Sir Wilfrid roused his followers to a high pitch of enthusiasm when he declared he would rather stand defeated in opposition than be in office by power of gag rule. The Liberals rose and cheered so persistently that the speaker had to ask them to preserve order in the House.

Sir Wilfrid charged Mr. Borden with unfairness in his treatment of himself and the opposition. He had applied the gag when he should have gone to the people, as the Liberals had done when reciprocity was obstructed. The opposition could be gagged because they were in a minority, but the day of reckoning would come as soon as there was a dissolution.

Sir Wilfrid was given a prolonged cheer by his followers. He said that the spectacle that had been witnessed that afternoon was a very apt commentary on the speech of his honorable friend, the prime minister, who had stated and reiterated that the new rules were not to prevent free speech, but to prevent abuse. The prime minister had been profuse in declaring that the minority could always rely on fair play, but the words were scarcely out of his mouth before the opposition knew how much fair play they were to get.

By the unwritten law of parliament, not to speak of common courtesy, the opposition leader always presents the views of his party after the leader of the government has spoken. He had risen under that impression. He was greatly surprised to see the minister of marine rise also. In the exercise of fair play, he said, the speaker called on him to take the floor. Then the majority took away his right to speak.

"Every man on that side of the House rose to gag me," said Sir Wilfrid. "When I saw the minister of marine rise, I concluded that he had an announcement to make. All he had risen to do was to 'move the resolution.' That is closure in anticipation. Obstruction is a fault," said Sir Wilfrid. "I call on the man on the other side who is without blame to throw the first stone."

Some of the Conservative papers, he said, had described obstruction as the murder of parliamentary government. The murderers, then, were on the government side of the house. In 1908 there was obstruction in connection with a bill introduced by the Liberal government dealing with the voters' lists in Manitoba and New Ontario. He was bound to say that the appeal which had been made by the opposition at that time had impressed him and a compromise had been offered and accepted.

"I found no fault; I never whined," declared Sir Wilfrid. "As the head of the government I thought it fair to come down and offer a compromise. Sir, is that not better than closure?" (Cheers.)

The last occasion on which there was obstruction was in 1911, when the reciprocity bill was opposed. It was brought down on January 26, and on July 29 not even a preliminary vote had been taken. The measure was met with dilatory motions of every kind; speech after speech was delivered in the "dog days." He had not complained or whined on that occasion either. He could have introduced closure as was now proposed, but had adopted another course. He had appealed to the people.

"We were defeated," Sir Wilfrid added, "but as Heaven is my witness, I would rather stand here to-day defeated than be in office by the power of the gag."

The Liberals, at this declaration, rose in a body and cheered wildly for some minutes.

Sir Wilfrid said that but for the generous action of the minister of marine he had proposed to move an amendment to refer the resolution to a committee to report upon it in accordance with the binding rules. This was in accordance with traditions, but the prime minister knew when he rose to speak that he was going to gag the House and not allow free discussion of his proposal.

Sir Wilfrid said he had intended to move to strike out of the resolution the clause which prevents discussion on two days of the week, when the House is being moved into committee of supply. This had no bearing whatever on the naval bill, to facilitate the passage of which these rules were devised. It was just a plan to deprive the minority of the right to state their grievances before going into committee of supply. It was designed to prevent the asking of searching questions affecting the government of the day. It was applying the gag to parliament with a vengeance. In conclusion Sir Wilfrid said: "Let me repeat to my right honorable friend: as you sow, so shall you reap; as you are fair, so shall you meet with fairness; as you are unjust, so shall you meet with injustice. My right honorable friend two years ago took a certain attitude on the reciprocity bill. He has no right to complain if the same methods that he made use of are applied to him in the present case. My right honorable friend has not forgotten the words of Shakespeare: 'This even-handed justice commends the ingredients of our poisoned chalice to our own lips.'"

"The poison has come already to his own lips at the present day. The poison that he offered to us to-day will come again to his own lips at some future day. We are in the minority; we can be gagged; we can be prevented from expressing our opinions. They can trample upon our body. But, sir, the day of reckoning will come, and it will come as soon as we have a dissolution of the present parliament." (Prolonged cheers.)

GAG POLITICS MARK RUSHING OF NAVY BILL THROUGH HOUSE

Government Party Overrides Speaker Sproule's Decision That Sir Wilfrid Laurier Has the Floor; Confusion and Disorder Stamp Proceedings in the Commons Yesterday

Ottawa, April 10.—Among the many extraordinary scenes in the House of Commons during the debate on the Borden navy bill, there has been none more extraordinary than that of yesterday when, after the introduction of the closure motion by the prime minister, members of the House and those who crowded the galleries to the limit of capacity, witnessed a successful attempt to gag free speech. They saw the government side of the House override the Speaker and rush in a motion by Hon. J. D. Hazen by which all amendments to the closure resolution would be shut off.

The scene was one of tumult and disorder, more heated and more intense than any of the heated periods that occurred during the continuous sittings on the naval bill. There were cries of "Shame," "Sit Down" and "Shame on New Brunswick," when Mr. Hazen had the floor and not one word of his motion was heard in the House. The motion was eventually a road by the Speaker on a call for a division after it had been declared carried. On the division the vote was 105 to 87, with Mr. Lavelle, Nationalist, voting against the government.

On the demand from the Liberals for a division there was much hurrying about by the Conservatives to round up the members, and before the motion was put Sir Wilfrid Laurier made a point of order that the motion should mention that he was on his feet as soon as Mr. Hazen, Sir Wilfrid desired that it should be made clear that he was not later than Mr. Hazen. He desired the country to know this.

Mr. Hazen's motion was to prevent the Liberals party moving any amendments. He rose at the same time as Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Speaker decided that Sir Wilfrid had the floor. The government side of the House, however, declined to have the leader of the opposition speak, as to do so would be to allow amendments to be put to the closure motion. By force they overruled the Speaker and compelled the motion on which Mr. Hazen was given the floor.

Mr. Borden concluded his speech by moving the resolution standing in his name, this being seconded by Hon. Robert Rogers. When the prime minister resumed his seat and the motion had been read by the Speaker, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. J. D. Hazen both rose to speak. There was such cheering from both sides that neither was able to proceed, and indeed it was nearly a minute before Sir Wilfrid Laurier noticed that there was any one else on the floor. When he did notice it he appeared much surprised.

"I think the honorable member for East Quebec (Sir Wilfrid) has the floor," said Speaker Sproule. (Liberal cheers.)

When the Conservative member for East Hastings had moved the minister of marine and fisheries (Mr. Hazen) to the floor, Sir Wilfrid made a point of order, Speaker Sproule answered: "The two members rose together. I ruled that the member for Quebec East had the floor."

SUFFRAGETTES WOULD START SHOP BOYCOTT

New York Women Insist on Holding Parades on Fifth Avenue

TEN THOUSAND TO SET THE FASHION

New York, April 10.—If the women suffragists lose the right to parade on Fifth avenue they will retaliate with a boycott on Fifth avenue shops, according to threats made to-day by many of the prominent woman-suffrage workers. At the instigation of the Fifth-avenue association an ordinance is pending in the board of aldermen seeking to stop many of the numerous parades which are held on the avenue every year, and among the organizations to be excluded are the women suffragists.

"We will make Madison avenue the peacock avenue of New York in place of Fifth avenue," declared Miss Jessie Ashley, former secretary of the National Woman's Suffrage Association. "With 10,000 of us we can soon set the fashion."

It also was declared that the boycott of Fifth avenue shops would be passed on so far as possible to all visiting and suburban suffragists if the anti-parade ordinance was passed.

The annual parade of suffragists is scheduled for May 2 to be held as usual on Fifth avenue.

PREMIER MATHESON ESTIMATES SURPLUS

Prince Edward Island Public Debt Will Be Reduced by $17,000

Charlottetown, P. E. I., April 10.—Premier Matheson, introducing his budget speech, estimates the total receipts for next year for Prince Edward Island at $501,777, and total expenditures at $500,361, leaving an estimated surplus of $1,416. The public debt will be reduced by $17,000; teachers' salaries increased by $30,000, giving each a 25 per cent. raise. A new tax will be imposed on the black fox breeding industry. It is to be a tax of one per cent. on the value of the year's increase, and is expected to yield $25,000. The income tax will bring in approximately $20,000.

UNITED STATES TO STRENGTHEN NAVY

Assistant Secretary Reflects Official Views at Navy League Convention

NOT WAR OR PEACE FACING CONDITION

Washington, D. C., April 10.—An efficient navy, large and powerful enough to maintain the nation's prestige, is the policy of the new administration, as outlined to-day to the Navy League of the United States in its eighth annual convention by Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy. His statement created enthusiasm. It was regarded as directly reflecting the views of Secretary Daniels and the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt called on the members of the league to aid in popularizing the naval estimate and declared that as effective work could be done outside the navy as within it. He dwelt on the need for support of the secretary of the navy and the administration's naval policy.

"This is not a question of war or peace," he said. "I take it there are as many advocates of arbitration and international peace in the navy as in any other profession. But we are confronted with a condition—the fact that our nation has decided in the past to have a fleet and that war still is a possibility."

Mr. Roosevelt told of the thousands of men engaged in manning ships and in attending to the mechanical work of the department ashore. He said the service was being developed with the intention of making it a factor for the national good.

SAYS BRITAIN WILL APPROACH GERMANY ON NAVAL PROGRAMME

Berlin, April 10.—The British government intends, after the conclusion of the Balkan war, to approach Germany with a definite proposal to stop the naval shipbuilding programme of the two countries during the fiscal year 1914-15, according to the Taegliche Rundschau.

Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the British Admiralty, may pay a personal visit to Berlin with this object in view.

CORNER FORT AND DOUGLAS

TO OBTAIN TENDERS FOR KETTLE VALLEY

Three Thousand Employed in Construction Over Entire Route at Present

Vancouver, April 10.—It is officially announced that the Kettle Valley line will call for tenders within the next thirty days for the construction of that section of the railway between the summit of the Hope mountains westward down the valley of the Coquella river to Hope. Grading will then be started as soon as contractors can move their outfits to the scene of operations. Two by Bros. are now engaged in building a thirteen-mile section from a junction point on the Merritt branch to the summit of the divide. They expect to finish the work about August 1 next.

Three thousand men are now engaged in construction along the entire line. On the Midway-Penticton division the rails have been extended westward up the west fork of Kettle river as far as Carmi and the grading beyond to the hydraulic summit will be finished before the end of the month. There is a great deal of activity along the route from the summit to Penticton, a distance of 58 miles. A 1600-foot tunnel will have to be driven at a point 20 miles east of Penticton and 25 miles further east a long trestle will be built across Canyon creek. The road will be completed all the way from Midway to Penticton by the end of this year.

West of Penticton in the Okanagan and Similkameen districts forty miles of the grade have been finished and ten miles of track laid. A single open steel bridge now under construction across Trout Creek will be 240 feet long and 250 feet high. There are no labor troubles along the entire route.

VICKERS, SONS AND MAXIM PLANT IS DESIGNED FOR THREE DREADNOUGHTS

"Little Canadian" Type Politicians Have Overlooked the Ship-building Plant at Maisonneuve on Thirty Acres of Reclaimed Land

Montreal, April 10.—Politicians of the "Little Canadian" type who claim that ships cannot be built in this country have overlooked the plant of Vickers' Sons & Maxim at Maisonneuve. Last fall these people installed one of the world's largest floating dry docks at Maisonneuve, and today are rapidly completing their ship-building plant on some thirty acres of land reclaimed from the river. The ship-building plant will be ready for active construction work by the early fall.

J. Burlinson, head of the plant, is very optimistic regarding the future of Canadian steel shipbuilding, and expressed the opinion that it was not only quite practicable in every respect, but necessary. When asked if they would be prepared to lay the keel and start building a super-dreadnought this fall, he said:

"That's a pretty large order," he said, reflectively. "I wouldn't like to make a statement either way. We will have the facilities for building big ships, but I would not like to say that we will be prepared to make our first ship a Dreadnought."

The Canadian Vickers' shops at their Maisonneuve dock are now fully equipped for repair work of all kinds and steel ship construction. The facilities of this plant include large punch and shearing machines, angle cutters, seam-bending machines, plate-edge machines, powerful drills, plate countersinking machines, and other big mechanical equipment necessary for the most advanced class of work. In the future steel ships from the largest ocean liners to the tramp steamers will be able to have any repairs performed here. In addition to the facilities named above, large plate furnaces have been installed capable of making steel plates of the largest size. This plant will be an excellent adjunct to the great floating dry dock, which is at present lying at the Maisonneuve docks.

Mr. Burlinson said that naturally Canadian labor would be used to as great an extent as possible. Skilled mechanics would at first have to be obtained from Britain, but the plant would soon become self-sustaining in this respect.

Ultimately the plant will be so developed that it can build and launch three Dreadnoughts simultaneously.

MAKE A WILL

There are many reasons why everyone who owns property should make a will. Where no will is left, the law does its best to divide property equitably; but it makes the same provisions for all intestate estates, and there are no two persons whose circumstances are the same. Here in British Columbia, the married man who leaves no will generally leaves his widow dependent.

OTTAWA NOT AWARE OF RESERVE PURCHASE

Conflict Between Attorney-General Bowser and Dominion Minister of Interior

MONEY PAID WITH RISK, SAYS STEVENS

Ottawa, April 10.—Information came to Ottawa last evening that Mr. Bowser, representing the province of British Columbia, had paid off the Indians of Kistlikano reserve. The minister of the interior had heard nothing official but stated that the action was not approved of by the government here.

Mr. Stevens, when seen in regard to the matter, expressed himself at a loss to understand the action of Mr. Bowser and stated: "I have been working on this matter for about a year and had everything ready whereby the reserve was to have been transferred to the public works department for harbor purposes at a figure to be fixed which would have been fair to the Indians. I advised Mr. Bowser fully of my efforts and intentions and regret beyond expression that he has taken such a drastic course. The Indians are wards of the Dominion government and no one is allowed to purchase their lands without consent of the Dominion government. The action taken in this case cannot fail to raise regrettable complications and will also seriously affect the elaborate harbor plans of which the dredging of False Creek was a commencement."

"What course will you take now?" was asked.

"I purpose continuing my efforts to get this reserve for the people of Vancouver, who should have it, and will consult further with the government here as to the course to be pursued."

"Can anyone without the consent of the Dominion government pay Indians for their property?"

"Absolutely no, and any money so paid over is at the risk of the party so paying," said Mr. Stevens.

GRAND TRUNK WILL GIVE THROUGH TRAIN

Service in Summer to Be From Coast to Coast Says Official

Toronto, Ont., April 10.—A through passenger service from Quebec and Montreal over the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific to British Columbia early this summer, is the intention of the executive of the Grand Trunk Ry. as outlined to-day by W. S. Cookson, of Montreal, assistant passenger manager of the system here.

Mr. Cookson states "that it has been decided to inaugurate the new service at the beginning of the summer and that passengers could proceed over the Grand Trunk from Montreal and Quebec to Sarnia by way of Toronto. At Sarnia they would take the Northern Navigation Company steamers to Fort William, and from there travel over the Grand Trunk Pacific to Winnipeg and the west."

ANOTHER DENUNCIATION OF "PASTOR" RUSSELL

Hamilton, Ont., April 10.—The denunciation of "Pastor" Russell made by Rev. Mr. Ross on Sunday evening in the course of his sermon on "Russell and Russellism" has aroused such feeling among Russell's followers in this city that there is a probability of another civil action being started against Rev. Mr. Ross. The pastor declared that a repetition of the attack on him would be followed by another action.

TROOPS SHOOT INTO CROWD AT BUFFALO

Woman and Boy Are Wounded as Result of Strike Riots

STREETS CLEARED WITH BAYONETS

Buffalo, N. Y., April 10.—Troops with fixed bayonets held no terror for the striking carmen of the International Railway Company and their sympathisers yesterday, and the riotous scenes of former days of the strike were numerous and of a more serious nature. All efforts to resume traffic were blocked, and all the cars were withdrawn at nightfall after an intermittent operation of less than four hours.

Efforts on the part of Mayor Fuhrmann to bring about a settlement by arbitration met with little encouragement.

The fact that the calling of more troops was under consideration to-night was taken as an indication that a peaceable settlement was still a remote possibility. With over 300 miles of street car tracks to patrol, the 2,000 men under command of Brigadier-General Welch proved an ineffective policing force.

If more troops are to be brought here, the order must be issued by Governor Sulzer.

It is understood that a report will be forwarded to the governor to-night, accompanied by recommendations from General O'Ryan, commanding officer of the State National Guard, who now is here.

The most serious riot of the day occurred on Niagara street, near the international boundary, near where the Niagara street car lines pass under an overhead bridge. A gang of rioters carrying heavy timbers rushed upon the bridge as a car was approaching and tried to drop a railroad tie upon it. It missed the car. The rioters were prepared to drop more obstructions when troops ordered them to halt. They jeered. Another warning was given, while the soldiers leveled their rifles. The shouting and jeering continued, and another piece of timber was thrown over the side of the bridge.

"Fire," came the command. A dozen rifles replied. A boy and a woman fell. The crowd, which had assumed large proportions broke and began to chase the street car that passed under the bridge. The soldiers followed with fixed bayonets and drove the throng to the curb. More than one felt the butt of a rifle in the melee, and one man received a bayonet thrust in the hand.

The wounded were: Mrs. Ida Lorich, 25 years of age, shot in the back, fatally injured. Harold Mens, 13 years of age, bullet wound in the right arm, not serious. Thos. Amesen, 22 years of age, bayonet thrust in right arm.

Mayor Fuhrmann held a conference late last night with President W. D. Mahon and other representatives of the striking men of the International Railway Company, at which they laid before them the terms which the company will submit to arbitration.

CLOSURE MEASURE INTRODUCED IN HOUSE BY PRIME MINISTER

Hon. R. L. Borden Makes Extended Speech in Presenting Matter for Purpose of Stopping Debate on the Government Naval Bill

Ottawa, April 10.—Introducing the closure motion in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, Hon. R. L. Borden said:

"The resolution which I am about to move, touches upon a very important stage, because unless we have rules permitting the reasonable transaction of business and preserving an orderly condition of debate, parliament must have its proceedings brought in to disrepute and contempt. No one will acknowledge more than I do that liberty of speech and freedom of debate must be absolute, but they must be preserved under such conditions as shall not degenerate into license and obstruction. There has been within the past seventeen years since I have been in the House a great deal of discussion regarding amendments to the rules. From time to time there have been changes proposed, but they are still in a form which all will admit does permit a much smaller number of gentlemen than are usually comprised in the minority of the House to obstruct public business."

Mr. Borden said that he had secured from the officials of the House a statement as to the time which might be occupied upon an ordinary bill preceded by a resolution. In the case of such a bill there were no less than nineteen different stages, including the committee stage, at which it was possible to debate the bill, and at most of them to move amendments. Leaving out the committee stage and taking the eighteen other stages, together with amendments which it was possible to move, and you might have fifty, sixty or seventy motions upon which every member would be able to talk. It was obvious that conditions of that kind could not result in the proper transaction of business if a certain number of the gentlemen opposite were opposed to that business going on. If the committee stage were added, wherein it is possible for every member to speak as often as he wishes, it was obvious that until there was what might be termed closure by consent, an understanding that the debate should end at a certain time, it would be impossible to carry on the business of the country.

The prime minister then turned to the introduction of closure in the British parliament. It had first been dealt with in 1562. He quoted from the speeches of Mr. Gladstone in support of his decision to revise the rules of the British House, including a declaration by that great parliamentarian that lengthy or continuous sessions are a useless weapon against obstruction, which he described as "the grossest of all the vices of a legislative body."

Closure had been in force in the British House for thirty years, and is still maintained. Recently there had been some talk of a revision of the rules of the British House, and Premier Asquith, speaking of the matter on March 14 last, had pointed out that with the exception of the American senate and the Canadian parliament, no important deliberative body is without some machinery to restrict debate. Mr. Asquith had also stated that he was perfectly sure that it would be impossible to carry on the affairs of the nation without closure.

He said that there would be no objection on their side of the House to the raising of a question of privilege on any legitimate subject. It would be the utmost folly for any government to put into force rules of that kind, and he would assure the members of the opposition that any member raising a question of privilege by motion would be regarded as strictly in order and it would be debatable. What had been sought was to provide that any substantive motion should be debatable as in the past, but that formal motions intended to delay should not be debatable. There was much, he said, in favor of the British rule, complete, but in view of the different conditions existing here it was thought twenty-four hours' notice of the termination of the debate would be time enough.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley: Notice when the guillotine will fall.

Premier Borden: It is a guillotine which is found in more aggravating forms in every legislative body in the world. For my part, if this rule is passed matters might go on as in the past. I would always ask the leader of the opposition when we might expect a vote on any question and I would hope to get an agreement without these rules. I am not disposed to use any power which I may possess unfairly. Any doubt as to the time when a debate should end should be resolved in favor of the minority, and the object of these rules is not to oppress the minority, but purely for the reason that parliament shall not become a byword and reproach and may be able to transact public business.

Mr. J. D. Turriff: Are these not the rules which compelled the withdrawal of the Manitoba election act, and which compelled the government in 1911 to fiscal to the country on reciprocity?

Premier Borden: As to the Manitoba election act, the hon. member might seek information from his leader. It is true that these rules were in force in 1911, and the statements of the Liberal press and Liberal leaders should convince him that a change is necessary.

Mr. Borden said that the power to move for the closing of a debate could only be exercised by a minister of the crown. He said that he believed that there were advantages in the rule that speeches thereafter should be limited to twenty minutes. The only question he had in mind was as to whether this time might not be too long, for in the United States it was limited to five minutes, and Ambassador Bryce had stated in his book on the American Commonwealth that the rule brought "lively, pointed and effective speeches."

At this point members of the opposition raised the objection that the third amendment to the rules providing for the voting of estimates should provide that estimates must be taken up first on some day other than Thursday or Friday unless with the "unanimous consent" of the House. As it appeared on the order paper, it merely read "consent."

Mr. Borden agreed to this change, declaring that it made clearer what was no doubt the original intention of the wording. But the opposition refused to allow the amendment to be made without discussion.

Mr. Borden proceeded to say that the rules must be exercised prudently and fairly. It would not be in the interests of any government to exercise them unfairly, and he would be glad to refer them to a special committee or to a House committee, but for the delay which would be occasioned.

SYNCOATED STRAINS BARRED AT HARVARD

Many Broken Dishes as Result of Ragtime Music During Meal Hours

OFFER MONEY BAIT TO KING NICHOLAS

Four to Five Million the Price of Releasing All Claim on Scutari

Cambridge, Mass., April 10.—Because it has been determined that the playing of ragtime music at Memorial hall, the principal Harvard University dining hall, has resulted in an unusually heavy breakage of crockery, the syncoated strains have been barred. The 1200 students will have music with their meals but not of the ragtime variety.

When that music sounds, I really can't keep still," has been the answer of several negro waiters to requests for explanations of broken dishes. They have attempted to juggle their trays to ragtime with smashing results. The students have added to the damage from this cause by rattling their knives and forks on the dishes in keeping time with the orchestra, and chipped crockery has been the result.

SYDNEY RAILWAY STRIKE IS ENDED

Sydney, N. S. W., April 10.—The strike of railway employees has concluded satisfactorily, and the men returned to work with the result that all service schedules have recommenced.

The settlement was brought about by the determined and commendable attitude taken by the state Labor government whose promises satisfied the men. The government have assured the employees that a royal commission will be appointed to investigate the phases of the alleged unsatisfactory conditions. One of the most startling turns that the strike took early to-day and before the conclusion was the allegations made in several circles that agitators were paid by the Liberal Association to foment trouble among the men in order to discredit the Labor party during the ensuing federal elections.

FIGHT FOR FREE SPEECH.

The gag was applied in parliament last night in the most brutal manner. We call the attention of our readers to the report of the proceedings at Ottawa in which Mr. Borden introduced his closure resolutions.

The incident was a most degrading exhibition of tyranny, which deserves the reprobation of every fair-minded man. It was a forerunner of the manner in which a spineless premier, dominated by a gang of political ward healers from Manitoba will permit the closure to be applied once it is adopted.

Liberals all over the world will profoundly resent the brutal treatment meted out to Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday. His long and distinguished services to the Empire, honored by three sovereigns, his high ideals, his perennial courtesy and fairness to his political opponents should have spared him the coarse insult to which he was subjected by the Rogers crowd.

JUDGES IN POLITICS. Judges are debarred by law from voting in Dominion and provincial elections. They are not debarred by law from talking politics at club banquets or on street corners.

have been very few violations of that unwritten law. It is a great pity that the most flagrant departure from a wise and salutary practice should have been made by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia.

RESERVE TERMINALS.

It is unnecessary to say that the Times is in favor of every project that will advance the prosperity of the city and this includes the Laurel Point bridge. It was the Times which first reproduced pictures of bridges in use elsewhere which might be erected here, obtaining photographs of those built at Portland, Chicago and other places.

But there is another matter which the Times believes should be kept in mind, and that is the nature and extent of the terminals. The province is guaranteeing the bonds of the Canadian Northern railway for ten million dollars, half the amount the company proposes to expend on terminals in the province.

TRADE WITH GERMANY.

Statistics contained in the report of the trade commissioners of Berlin show a great increase in the Canadian exports to Germany during the year 1912. Particularly is this noticeable in the case of wheat and oats in which cereals Canada made the largest proportional increase during the past year.

The trade commissioner also reports that he has an enquiry from a reliable firm wishing to obtain quotations from Canadian exporters of wood pulp.

The Liberals are fighting for free speech. They must resist the gag by every constitutional means in their power. Yesterday's spectacle shows how it will be applied.

fed in pouring largesse into its greedy maw.

It is Sir Wilfrid Laurier versus Bob Rogers. Which will the people prefer? At least half the inhabitants of Canada resent the brutal insult to their illustrious chief last night.

Another banquet for the fourth estate. Woodrow Wilson had to get a journalist to take the place of another journalist at the court of St. James, the most important appointment in the diplomatic service.

A recent London Illustrated shows a picture of Sir Thomas Lipton watching the proceedings at an aviation meeting with interest and a certain pensiveness. Was he, we wonder, contemplating the possibility of a Shamrock of the air?

The Monetary Times figures that if all the debentures awaiting sale by Canadian municipalities were placed end to end they would make a girdle reaching round the London underwriters necks one hundred times from the collar stud to the point of strangulation. An impressive calculation.

What a farce it is to attempt to justify the gag for the Canadian parliament by pointing to the closure in the British House of Commons! In London parliament has to sit all the year round even with the closure. At Ottawa the average session is five months, without the closure. The closure is not required in Canada at this stage.

The war in the Balkans is producing heroes worthy to rank with the illustrious dead. The story of the two hundred Montenegrins who went to certain destruction in order to open the way into the Tabaroch fort is like a way into the Tabaroch fort is like a way into the Tabaroch fort is like a way into the Tabaroch fort.

Attention has been drawn several times of late to the possible effect of the militant suffragette campaign upon the violent faction of the extremists in India. The latest news is that these extremists have decided to adopt Suffragette tactics, but in an aggravated and intensified form.

FRIDAY IS TO BE A BARGAIN DAY IN THE SPENCER STORE THIS WEEK

Our One Week Bedding Sale is Proving a Great Success

FAR better than we anticipated considering the time of the year, but then who could resist such values, and we anticipate doing even better still during the next three remaining days of the sale.

- SLIGHTLY SOILED HEMSTITCHED SHEETS. Regular $3.00 values for $2.50—Just a few pairs only at this price. They are a good line, made from strong round thread cotton yarns, finished with a neat 2 1/2 inch hem-stitch. These have only got a little soiled through being on show, not sufficient for them to be laundered before use.

These Three Specials Will Make a Busy Hour in the Bedding Department Friday

HERE are just three lines from our regular stock that we intend selling Friday at a very special price. They are values that will make this one week's bedding sale long remembered by the people of Victoria.

- WOOL FILLED COMFORTERS in various neat designs, filled with good sanitary filling. Size 60x72. Only one article to each customer. Regular value, $1.50. Selling Friday, each $1.00.

Smart Tailored Coats Friday $9.75

PLAIN BUT GOOD is the best description we can give these coats. Every one is smartly cut in the plain tailored style in full or three-quarter length, made up in lightweight tweeds. Just the thing for present wear. Some have fancy trimmed collars, turn back cuffs and large patch pockets. Not a coat in this lot worth less than $12.75. Special Friday $9.75.

Important Skirt Sale $7.50 and $8.50 Values Friday $3.90

It's only because they represent all small sizes, otherwise we should not think of selling them at this price. There are tweeds, panamas, serges and checks, made up in plain tailored style, buttoned down side. Some are pleated, while others have fancy strap trimmings. In fact, almost every style is represented. In sizes 22, 23, 24 and 25 waist bands, and in all lengths up to 41 inches. If you want a really good skirt and your size is here, then don't miss this chance. Friday, all one price $3.90.

Ladies Can Buy a Pair of $1 Gloves for 50c Friday

This represents a special purchase of 20 dozen soft white French glove kid gloves with heavy white or black stitching in the two-clasp style, all sizes. The regular value of this glove is $1.00. This special purchase enables us to sell them on Friday at, per pair $0.50.

Satin Underskirts Special Friday $1.75

These skirts are made up from odd lengths of good quality satin and are worth considerably more than we could buy the satin for alone, to say nothing of the making. You have your choice from black or navy, and they are specially made to go with the narrow skirts that are now worn; in all lengths. Special Friday $1.75.

A Sale of Children's Dresses Friday at 90c and $1.75

We have never offered such values at these prices before in children's dresses. Just have a look at them in the View Street windows, or if you would like to see them at closer range, make a visit to the department on the first floor. Mothers who require good serviceable dresses for their little girls should not fail to see them, for this is an opportunity that does not come every day. There are various styles to choose from, mostly pleated from the yoke or plaited skirt. Some are loose, others finished with a belt, and there is also the Mother Hubbard style, made up in strong-wearing serges, in colors navy, brown and red, and just a few white. Sizes 1 to 4 years. Friday $0.90.

Delayed Shipment Lowers the Price of Men's Union Flannel Shirts to One-Half

These shirts should have reached us for our winter trade, but somehow they got delayed in transit and, as we don't want to store them away until next winter, we have decided to put them on special sale Friday at just one-half their regular value.

Sale of Battenburg Squares Values $1.75 to $2.25 Friday $1.00

Just have a look at these fine squares in the View Street windows. They include some rare pieces of fine Battenburg lace with neat embroidered centres, 27 inches square. Special sale Friday, each $1.00.

TEMPTING VALUES TO HELP YOU WITH YOUR SPRING CLEANING

Here is a list of useful carpets, curtains, furniture and bedsteads that are taken from our regular stocks. We can guarantee that every line is full of good service and satisfaction for the customer. These goods are marked for special sale Friday, but don't take the prices as a standard by which the quality of the goods can be measured, you'll do yourself an injustice if you do. See the goods in the windows and let them supply the evidence that cannot fail to convince you that they are the best values that can be offered at the money.

- AXMINSTER SQUARES—24 only, good quality, woven all in one piece, artistic medallion patterns, in shades of green and also in wood colorings. Size 9x12. Special for Friday's selling, each $21.50.
- BRUSSELS SQUARES—15 only, 9x3, a good range of combination colorings, including greens, fawns, blues and reds. A square that is suitable for small rooms. A very good quality. Special for Friday's selling, each $15.00.
- TAPESTRY SQUARES—50 only, special quality, 3x4 yards, made with one seam down the centre only, interwoven borders, a large range of colors in greens, reds, fawns and mixed colorings. A splendid square for any style of room for small money. Special for Friday, each $9.75.
- An extra heavy quality Tapestry Square, size 9x10.6. A large range of this special quality just to hand. These squares are very suitable for bedrooms or dining rooms. They have interwoven borders and a good range of combination colorings. Special for Friday, each $9.75.
- SCOTCH LINOLEUMS—600 yards heavy quality, two yards wide. These goods are well painted and well seasoned. They come in floral, block and tile effects. A very serviceable linoleum that will give good hard wear. Special for Friday, per square yard $4.50.

$3.00 Matting Suit Cases Friday $2.50

There are just three dozen of these well made real Japanese Matting Suit Cases. They are leather bound and have extra leather corners; fitted with a good lock and key, also fastening with two-leather buckles at side. Nicely lined inside and are extra deep in the body. Regular value $3.00. Special sale for Friday at, each $2.50. See View street windows.

FRENCH HAND-MADE WAISTS

THE crowning feature in the Waist Department was reached when we unloaded this shipment of fine French hand-made waists. Such pretty styles and workmanship cannot be described on paper, and if we could you would not get an adequate idea of their beauty. This class and style of work must be seen to be fully appreciated. They are beautifully made up of fine quality muslins and crepes in a variety of pretty styles, with hand-embroidered fronts, and some have yokes of Irish crochet. There are high and V-shaped and Dutch necks, and long or three-quarter sleeve. Some are daintily trimmed with pin tucks and Cluny lace, others with Valenciennes lace and crochet buttons, some with lace insertion and others are finished at the sleeve with lace frills. Those who like a neat or a dressy blouse will find one here to suit them, while the prices range from $5.75 to $25.00. SEE SPECIAL DISPLAY IN VIEW ST. WINDOWS.

TAKE SOUNDINGS AT HOLE-IN-THE-WALL

Lillooet is to Carry Out Work This Season is Surveying Northern Channel

PASSAGE USED BY SMALL STEAMERS AND TOWBOATS

Expect Hydrographic Vessel to Leave Esquimalt Next Wednesday

Important work in regard to the sounding of a number of waterways on this coast is to be carried out this year by the Dominion Hydrographic office. Next Wednesday morning the steamer Lillooet will leave Esquimalt on her annual cruise, and it is expected that she will spend some time in the Hole-in-the-Wall, which is close to Seymour Narrows. L. R. Davies is now engaged in taking soundings on the Alberni Canal between the two towns of Port Alberni and Alberni. Hecate Straits and Dixon's Entrance will also come in for some attention on the part of Capt. Musgrave, who will take out the Lillooet.

The Hole-in-the-Wall route is used by towboats and small steamers so as not to block traffic in Seymour Narrows. At slack water it is easy to navigate. The Lillooet will take soundings and attempt to gather additional data regarding the waters so as to make the waterway less dangerous to the masters of small vessels. More tonnage is now passing through Seymour Narrows than ever before in the history of British Columbia shipping and it is considered desirable and imperative that as much of the tonnage as possible be diverted to the other channel. Attempts will be made to have most of the smaller vessels use the Hole-in-the-Wall route in order to keep the Narrows clear for the big passenger steamers which operate between here and the north.

Work on Queen Charlottes. The Lillooet will sound many of the harbors on the Queen Charlottes Islands, which will play an important part in the development of those small isles, though at present isolated from the rest of the province and little known by the majority of the people of Canada. When this work is completed the Lillooet will resume the gigantic task of surveying and sounding Dixon's Entrance and Hecate Straits. These waters which have never been parted by the knife-like bows of ocean passenger liners or chartered by the mighty propellers of the Leviathans will in a few years be traversed by great numbers of ships.

Progress is being made by Mr. Davies in sounding the Alberni Canal. He will be at the task for some months yet, and when he returns to Esquimalt he will have some interesting information for navigators and shipping men in regard to the conditions on the canal.

WHITE STAR TO CARRY MAILS.
The Canadian government has designated the White Star-Dominion Line as subsidized company for the carrying of Canadian mails. During the months of May, June and July steamers of the White Star-Dominion Line will leave Montreal and Liverpool on Tuesday's instead of Saturdays.

WORK STARTS ON DERBY.

A big gang of mechanics started to work on the tramp steamer Lord Derby, which was floated into drydock last night. Many of the broken plates were removed to-day.

RELEASE PASSENGERS FROM WILLIAM HEAD

First and Second Class Travelers Proceeding Monday; Having Fine Time

It is expected that the first and second class passengers who crossed the Pacific from the Orient on the C. P. R. liner Montague, will be released from quarantine on Monday next. The unfortunate travellers who have been forced to spend two weeks at William Head owing to the discovery of a case of smallpox aboard the steamship, will be taken to Vancouver on a special steamer and permitted to proceed to their destinations. The 600 Chinese and Japanese steerage passengers will not be able to leave the station until the middle of next week.

Fine weather has made the stay of the passengers at William Head a most pleasant one. Reports from the quarantine station are to the effect that cricket, golf and tennis tournaments are in progress and that all the saloon passengers are thoroughly enjoying their enforced visit. The detained travellers are being well fed by the C. P. R. and Dr. Watt and his staff of assistants are taking particular care of the people.

Feeding of the 600. The feeding of the 600 passengers is a very heavy expense to the C. P. R., which foots every cent of the big bills. Each morning boatloads of vegetables, meats, fish, fruit and other edibles leave Esquimalt for William Head. Most of the saloon passengers are fond of candy and already 500 pounds of "sweets" have been taken down to the station. Reports have been brought here that most of the saloon passengers are sorry that their stay at William Head, which is one of the prettiest spots around here, is drawing to a close. No further cases of smallpox have been developed and the patient, Mr. Buchanan, of Hongkong, is progressing favorably.

EMPERESS OF RUSSIA MAKES 21 1-4 KNOTS

New White Liner Has Most Successful Trial Trips; Averages 20.59 Knots

TESTS PLEASE BUILDERS AND C. P. R. OFFICIALS

Times Received Exclusive News on Speed of Palatial Leviathans

Steaming over a mile course at an average speed of 21 1/4 knots an hour and covering 600 miles in slightly under 30 hours, which figures out to be 20.59 knots an hour, were two of the most surprising features of the trial trips of the new palatial steamship Empress of Russia, Capt. Beetham, which is soon to enter the C. P. R. trans-Pacific service. The Times has just received exclusive information from Glasgow in regard to the speed tests, which were carried out so successfully recently.

The result of the trial trips surpassed even the most sanguine expectations of the builders and the C. P. R. officials who were aboard the Russia when she was put through the strenuous test. Despite the high rate of speed she attained the mighty turbines which made over 1,000 revolutions a minute failed to cause the slightest vibration. One would think that the 15,000 horsepower transmitted down by the great steel castings, bolts and plates in the great engine-room would jar everything, but the 600-foot Leviathan ploughs the waters at over 21 knots an hour without even the water in a glass being disturbed.

This Speed is Not Limit. Although the choicest coal was used and every pound of steam that her boilers could stand was forced into the three massive turbines, which turn the propellers, this test does not mean that the limit of her speed was reached. When the bearings have worn down and the stiffness, which always characterizes new engines, has disappeared, the Russia will be capable of surpassing the speed she made on her trial trips. Added to this the Russia will, in all probability, burn oil upon her arrival here, and another knot will almost certainly be credited to her speed.

Great interest has been taken in the new C. P. R. Empresses by people all along the Pacific coast. Most of the particulars in regard to their dimensions and design have been given out, but news of the trial trips has been awaited eagerly. The Times is now announcing the performance of the Russia. The fact that she maintained an average speed of 20.59 knots an hour for 30 hours is the most interesting feat the gigantic liner accomplished. Judging from this it is considered likely that the Russia will easily be able to steam across the Pacific from Victoria to Yokohama at 19 1/2 knots an hour.

Will Asia Beat Russia? Now that the speed of the Empress of Russia has been learned there is some speculation as to whether the Empress of Asia, which is now nearing completion in the Clyde and will clear from Liverpool for this port via the Cape of Good Hope on June 14, will perform in a more remarkable manner on her trial trips than did her sister-ship. The Asia will have a hard proposition to meet, but there is just that possibility that her engines, although exact duplicates of the Russia's, may turn over a little faster and give her a better average. However,

AROUND THE SHIP CHANDLER'S STOVE

CHASED AROUND DECK BY DRUNKEN MATE WITH AN AXE.

"Well, sir, I was once in the old Wm. H. Fisher. I signed on her at Liverpool for a voyage to South America. If I'd only known the kind of a packet she was I'd never signed on. The mate, a big down easterner, was about the hardest case I've ever seen. Even before we got the fenders in, a couple of green Dutchmen lay bleeding in the lee scuppers. When several seadogs commenced to spin yarn on tough mates at the ship chandler's this morning, an old gray-haired veteran of the sea started off with this one: "Nothing went wrong except a belaying pin clouting a fellow behind the ear whenever he was trying to loaf a little," continued the old seaman. "After we cleared the Channel we got into a racket. The mate got crazy drunk and kept so on some bad whiskey he had stowed away in his cabin. About one bell (4:30) on the third morning he sailed around the deck with an axe. I ought to have said before that he hated Russian Finns, and he was always jumping on them for something or another. "Well at this particular time there was a Russian Finn on the lookout. The mate spotted him and chased him round the deck. Some of us fellows tried to prevent him from injuring the Finn, but we might have got a clout over the head ourselves, if we had broken into the fray. Several times the mate hurled the axe at the lookout man and narrowly missed him. By this time the poor old Finn was almost fagged out and, not wishing to prove a victim to the mate's axe, he jumped over the side to get clear, but clung to the end of the main brace, which was towing astern. The mate saw him toiling along, and he just raised the axe and cut the rope and the man was lost. "The man at the wheel brought the ship back on purpose, and this woke the carpenter, as the mate's blocks jumped out to see what was the matter and saw the mate sitting down, tired out, on a spar end. The mate dozed two or three times, and Chips hit him on the head knocking him silly. "Some one called the old man and some more trouble started right away. He was a good sort and would not stand for his officers abusing the crew to any extent. Well, the skipper wanted to find out the trouble and we told him. He went to the mate's room but the mate was so drunk that he started to curse at the old man. This settled things and the skipper shaped a course for Queenstown to have the mate tried. The old man had the mate placed in irons, and when his stupor was off he appealed to the skipper to let him off. Our captain believed in justice and would listen to no pleas. "When we reached the Irish port the mate was handed over to the police and we had to go to court as witnesses. The mate got a lawyer. Well, sir, do you know, that the mate got off. When the judge heard the yarn that the lawyer spun he said it was a case of provocation and let him off."

FOUR ORIENTALS ON NEXT JAPANESE SHIP

Tacoma Maru is Bringing in Smallest List for Some Time; No Word Received of Titan

Only four steerage passengers are coming to Victoria on the next Japanese liner, which will be the Tacoma Maru, Capt. Hamada, of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha fleet. All inbound steamships of late have been bringing in large numbers of Japanese and Chinese and shipping men are at a loss to explain why the Tacoma has such a few. It is thought probable that some celebration was on in the Orient when the liner left, and the Celestians decided to wait for the next vessel, which was in port yesterday, brought 214 passengers here, one of the largest lists of the year.

Advices were received this morning by R. P. Rithet & Co., stating that the Tacoma Maru left Yokohama on time and will arrive here next Thursday. She has 500 tons of cargo for this port. The list of steerage passengers is one of the lightest on record. No Word of Titan. No wireless messages have been received here yet from the Blue Funnel liner Titan, which is due in from Liverpool via the Far East to-morrow. It was expected that the west coast stations would have been working with her to-day, but all attempts to locate her failed. Capt. Evans, the well-known Holt skipper, is bringing the Titan in, and as he is known to have his commands in port on time, it is likely that she will be off William Head to-morrow morning waiting to receive her pratique.

Word is expected very shortly of the arrival of the Harrison liner Historian at San Pedro on her way here from the United Kingdom. Word has just been received stating that the Crown of Galicia left Liverpool on March 18 and that the Comedian is due to sail on April 13. The Candidate succeeds the Comedian and the Crown of Castile, which was here about 18 months ago, will follow her.

Early to-morrow morning the Pacific Coast steamship Umatilla, Capt. Rilly, will arrive in port from San Francisco. She has a big list of passengers and 350 tons of freight for Victoria.

ALASKA CAPTAIN DIES.
Ketchikan, Alaska, April 10.—The steamship City of Seattle arrived here Tuesday with the body of Andrew Johnson, a well-known Alaska captain of boats running in Southeastern Alaskan waters. Johnson was on board from his home in Portland, Ore., to Killisnoo, where he was to take command of the steamer Dolphin, but was stricken with heart failure while the vessel was on route from Hunter Bay to Excursion Inlet.
The body was taken ashore here for preparation and shipment on the next steamer to Portland, where his wife and family reside.

PRINCE RUPERT TAKES OUT MANY PASSENGERS FOR NORTH
Bound for Prince Rupert and Granby Bay, the G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. McKenzie, left port this morning at 10 o'clock. She took out a large list of passengers, the following embarking at this port: B. Anderson, A. C. Daw, Mrs. R. Sletting, J. Zarvill, L. J. Murphy, A. J. Smith and E. DeLocher. The steamer took a great deal of cargo on at this port. From Seattle she brought 1,500 boxes of apples. The steamer Prince Albert, Capt. O'Brien, will not leave port to-night for the Queen Charlotte Islands, owing to her repairs not being completed. She will take the next sailing from this port.
ESTEVAN GOES TO VANCOUVER.
The C. P. R. tug Qualicum left Esquimalt this morning with the steamer Estevan, of the Marine and Fishery Department in tow for Vancouver. The repairs to her are to be carried out in the Terminal City, as the tender handed in by a firm there was lowest.

THE EARLY DAYS OF RALPH WALDO EMERSON

Picture of the Simple, Peaceful Home in Boston Where Great Philosopher Spent Early Life

Early days of Emerson in Boston are touched upon in St. Nicholas in an intimate and homelike manner. We read:

One afternoon at sundown, about 100 years ago, a slightly built boy in "blue nankeen"—not half so blue as his own eyes—might have been seen driving his mother's cow from pasture, along the streets of Boston. He was eating a big juicy pear. When the cow came to the old wooden parsonage, at the corner of Summer and Chauncy streets, near the place where Hovey's store now stands, she turned in naturally, jangling her bell, and Ralph Waldo Emerson turned in after her.

It was a peaceful home, though everything was simple and many things were poor. From the windows you could see the harbor and the ships that came and went; and there were wide, empty fields, neighboring barns and sheds, and always the open sky, and the changing tide, and the salt smell of the sea—it was very near here that, 100 years before, Benjamin Franklin and his friends had built their fishing wharf of "borrowed" stones; and the five Emerson brothers had the same chance as Franklin to catch "tomcod and flounders."

Let us guess that this night, however, when the cow had been milked and stabled, the boy, Ralph Waldo, did not think of the sweet, familiar view, or even of the morrow's fishing, but of the new book which he had drawn from the circulating library for the large payment of six cents. It was a novel, and he was part way through. But to-night his Aunt Mary found him reading, and talked to him so seriously of his extravagance and of his mother's need, that we are told, "he left the story unfinished, and did not take out the second volume."

Yet it must not be thought that the Emerson boys did not love their Aunt Mary, or that she did not love them. She was the "family sibil," determined that the boys should be defrauded of nothing real, and determined that, poor as they were, they should have not only school but college, for, she said, they were "born to be educated." She gave them the sturdy maxim, "Always do what you are afraid to do." And no one knows how much that maxim may have braced the hearts of Ralph and Edward, when, sharing as they did the same greatcoat, other boys would call out jeeringly: "Whose turn is it to wear the 'coat to-day'?" "My grandfather," Emerson says, "prayed every night that none of his descendants might ever be rich, and surely his prayer was answered in the case of that one family—Christian Science Monitor.

GAT THROWS CITY INTO DEEP DARKNESS.

A curious explanation has been given to the Cardiff electric light committee of why all the electric lights in the city suddenly went out.

The works cat, it appears, was tempted to stray from his usual haunts and climbed the switchboard and strolled among the cables, one of which was fused. "Thomas" was killed, and the lights went out in sympathy at the works, as well as at the big peace demonstration and at other places.

On a previous occasion a similar accident occurred as the result of a mouse getting in the gear.

BANQUET TO HONOR

MAJOR J. C. HARRIS

No. 3 Company of the Fifth Regiment Pays Double Compliment to Officer

Major J. C. Harris, commanding officer of No. 3 company of the Fifth Regiment, was the guest of honor at a banquet given last evening at the Edmore hotel, the function being the company's recognition of his signal success at the Canadian Artillery Association's competitions held last year in Great Britain. The banquet was a double compliment in that it was intended as a mark of congratulation upon Major Harris' recent promotion from the rank of captain. Colonel A. W. Currie presided.

The toast to Major Harris, proposed by Sergeant-Major R. Lorimer, was drunk with enthusiasm, the officer, in responding, telling something of his associations with the regiment, and outlining the principal events connected with the Canadian Artillery Association's trip to England last summer.

Major J. E. Mills, R.C.A., who with Captain R. P. Clark and Lieutenants Gordon Smith and T. B. Monk, supported the chair, referred to the excellent standing of the regiment among the artillery corps of the Dominion, other short addresses being given by Colonel Currie and Lieutenants Gordon Smith and Monk.

GROUP HAS ADVANCED BY THE OCCUPATION

Philippines Have Developed Under American Control Says Resident on Trip

The language question in the schools of the Philippines is of great importance in the territory now, according to H. Morgan, an official of the Manila railway, who departed here yesterday from the Tamba Maru and crossed to Vancouver en route to England after five and a half years' residence in the Philippines.

Mr. Morgan says that the islands are in a very prosperous condition, and that the accession of the Democratic party to power in the United States has set the movement for self-government afloat. However the impression of the white population in the group is that the Filipinos are not yet ready for self-government, and that it will require several years of tutelage before their development has reached that stage.

The trade of the islands was growing very much and the opening up of commercial possibilities in the Orient had resulted in a rapid development of the commercial houses. The opportunity in China for western appliances and inventions had afforded a great chance for enterprising travellers and automobile salesmen, for instance, were doing a large trade in the treaty ports, as well as further inland.

Mr. Morgan reports that the Tamba's trip was unusually cold, and a surprise after the warmth of Manila all the year round.

TERRIBLE RESULT OF BLOOD POISON

After Three Operations Zam-Buk Was Tried and Proved Successful

Mr. Robert Patterson, of North Peabham, Welland Co., Ont., writes: "My daughter, Annie, had blood-poison in her finger. The doctor operated twice on the finger, but did not obtain the desired result, and a third operation was considered necessary."

"Three doctors were present at this operation, but after it had been performed the wound did not heal. Try as we would we could not get anything to close the wound."

"We at last tried Zam-Buk, and it was really wonderful to watch how this balm healed the wound. Each day there was a marked improvement. First the wound in the palm of the hand closed, and then the finger which had been bad so long began to heal. The diseased flesh seemed to rise out of the wound and then drop off, and new healthy flesh formed from below, pushing off the diseased tissue. In a short time the wound was completely healed. Had we applied Zam-Buk at first we might have saved the finger."

"We had another proof of Zam-Buk's power in the case of my son. When two years old he had his hand badly mangled. On finger had to be amputated and it left a running sore for some months. This wound, also, was finally healed by Zam-Buk."

LETTER CARRIERS' CONCERT

Postmen Are Preparing for Annual Concert to Surpass All Previous Records.

The letter carriers of the city are busily engaged making preparations for their annual concert, which will take place this year on April 23 in the Victoria theatre. The proceeds are to be devoted to the sick benefit fund of the Victoria Letter Carriers' Mutual Benefit Association.

The committee in charge of arrangements has included in the programme "Nevada, or the Lost Mine," a comedy in three acts which will be presented by the Western Star Dramatic Society. Local talent is to be seen in various specialties between the acts.

All the letter carriers are selling tickets and in view of the fact that former concerts have attracted such large audiences, the men expect that this year's event will pass all previous records.

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINED.

Hosts to More Than Four Hundred Young People of the City.

Last night the Y. M. C. A. entertained between four and five hundred young people from the various churches throughout the city. George Bell, president of the association, and F. W. Witham, general secretary, welcomed the guests. The evening was spent at games, music and other diversions. Those who contributed to the programme were Miss Ede, Sid Hendra, W. Johnson, L. A. Young, Peachey, A. Hodges and Miss G. Steinmetz. H. E. Young headed the committee of entertainment.

SAID IT WAS IGNORANCE.

Political Equality League Discussed Item Regarding English Militant Movement.

At the weekly meeting of the Political Equality League, an agitated discussion took place over the paragraph which appeared in one of the daily papers with reference to the militant movement in England, the organizing secretary, Miss Dorothy Davis, saying that this showed ignorance of the facts. Miss Edith Bromley-Jubb gave an excellent short address, which provoked some interesting argument. Mr. Rand also spoke briefly. During the evening it was announced that a Cafe Chantant would be given on May 2 in place of the suggested ball, at which solo dancing, gypsy fortune-tellers and other interesting forms of entertainment would be given. The event will take place at the Alexandra Club.

In order to rescue a dog which appeared to be drowning in a pond with steep sides, a curate of Osmore Vale plunged into the water and pushed the dog before him to the bank.

LORD WOLSELEY'S HUMOR.

In the popular mind (says the Manchester Guardian) Lord Wolseley had no sense of humor, but there is no doubt that he had a sense of logic which often produced humorous results. In 1882, when the procession of the Holy Carpel was to pass through Cairo, the troops were ordered to parade, as usual on these occasions, two columns of battalions, however, resenting the order, saying that they did not approve of men being turned out to do honor to a heathen ceremony. Wolseley agreed that they should not do a march of worship at a faster pace than violence to their convictions, and so a walk while service is in progress in these battalions did not turn out. Soon after came the distribution of Osmanli and Medjidieh decorations. Wolseley did not send them to these two columns, but wrote pointing out that he would not, of course, send them, as he quite understood that they would rot care to have their feelings outraged by the possession of heathen decorations.

In Melbourne no Sunday papers are permitted, no hotels are allowed to open their bars from midnight on Saturday until Monday morning, and anyone driving past a place of worship at a faster pace than a walk while service is in progress is liable to be arrested.

KANTLENER TWIRLS WONDERFUL BALL, BUT LOSES TO THE GIANTS

Big League Exhibition at the Ball-Yard Results in 4 to 1 Victory for the Giants

Coon luck and the "breaks" served to defeat Dutch Kandlehner, after the latter had tolled through nine brilliant innings of baseball at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon. The Giants carried off the honors of the day, on the score board at least, the final reckoning being four to one. Had Morse's hefty blow for the circuit at counted for Victoria's lone tally. The game was replete with grand ball and fifteen hundred fans were given about the finest exhibition of training season baseball ever shown in the Capital. It was a toss up all the way, and the manner in which Kandlehner served up his bewildering stock of benders, combined with blinding speed, had the populace with him at all times. The Giants breezed no less than sixteen times, and it seemed impossible that he could lose such a battle. The Bees, however, were not hitting behind him, when a hit would have meant a run, and failure to support the twirler cost the victory.

Morse Hits Four Sacker. Ideal baseball weather favored the teams and the battle was a tough one from the bell. Hap Morse leaned on the first ball pitcher for a homer, the cork centre-clearing the centre field fence with ten feet to spare. It was a terrific wallop, and Morse came in for a round of applause as he trotted round the bags. This gave Kandlehner a one-run lead to work on. Time after time the negroes were set down on strikes, Kandlehner getting out of a nasty hole in the second when he walked a brace with two down, only to whiff the heavy-hitting Gatewood for the third out. Things went along swimmingly until the sixth, and the Giants appeared to have met their master, when the luck turned.

One Bad Inning. Taylor started the clotting with a stinging wallop to the centre field fence for two sacks. After Pierce had fanned Mike Lynch made a head one to second or the dusky infielder might have been caught going into the pivot sack. Munroe gave Johnny Rawlings a chance that he booted, and there were two on with only one down. Petway's single to right scored Taylor. Kandlehner lightened up and breezed Gatewood, and it looked as if the troupe was over, when Hutchison, who had fanned twice feebly and who is rated the weakest batter on the Giants' lineup, jolted one down the first base line for a couple of bases, cleaning the sacks and giving the colored brethren a two-run advantage. Another run was chalked up in the eighth when Petway was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and crossed the plate, when Gatewood drove a liner to left for two bases, the dusky twirler was nipped at third trying to stretch the hit. This wound up the scoring, though Delmass got in the road of a ball in the ninth, but there was no hit forthcoming to shove him round.

Lynch is Satisfied. Considering that the Bees were without the services of Charlie Brooks, who as announced in the Times yesterday would not play against the colored team, the showing of the locals was immense. The team missed Brooks' hitting, and with Morse in left field, would have had a better chance, but Lynch is not complaining. He sent his men up against better twirling than they will face all year in the Northwestern League, and only lack such a him out of the victory. The Bees will be there when the season opens at Seattle next Tuesday, for with the team intact it will take all Dugdale possesses to hold the Victoria crew. Kandlehner looks good for a wonderful season, and he should be the sensation of the league. He had everything yesterday, his fast ball having a hop on it that made the colored batters wing inches under the pill.

A Grand Ball Team. Headed by Petway, the greatest backstop ever witnessed in action here, the Giants surely boast of some ball club. Their fielding was perfect, while they showed inside knowledge of the game that would have done credit to some major league clubs. Every man lack of "cut" as fast as a deer, and takes a full healthy swing at the ball. The hitting yesterday was especially heavy, eight doubles and a home run being registered. The negroes possess a remarkable twirler in Gatewood, who, by the way, is touted one of the finest slab artists in the world to-day. He had his slobber delivery working to perfection, and his control was grand, he passing but one batsman, while he hit another. The Giants lined up with six right-handed batters, though several of the boasted heavy hitters could not solve Kandlehner's service, Pierce fanning four times.

A fast double play in which Morse, Burrell and Rawlings figured enlivened the holding, while Pierce's one-handed stab of a low throw and Taylor's catch of Lynch's spiral back of third, featured the individual efforts. Dick Kaufman umpired nicely.

JOHNSON LOOKS FOR FASTER BALL

Major Leagues Get Under Way in the East This Afternoon

Chicago, April 10.—Faster baseball than has ever been seen is promised for the season of 1913 by President B. B. Johnson, of the American League. "An attempt will be made this year to see that the games are played in less time than in former years," Johnson said yesterday. "The managers have been instructed to see that little time is wasted and the managers will cooperate."

Washington, D. C., April 10.—Clouds that threaten to spill rain at almost any time hung over the Washington diamond early to-day. If the weather permits the opening game between Washington and New York, President Wilson will be ready to use his official pass for the first time and toss the first ball from his box.

Champions Ready. Boston, Mass., April 10.—The Boston Red Sox, baseball champions of the world, were in top condition to-day to begin the defence of their title in the opening game of the American League season with the Philadelphia Athletics as their opponents. Bedient was expected to face Bender on the mound and Cady and Thomas were expected to do the catching.

RECRUIT LOSES OPENING GAME

Rucker Deserved to Beat Phillies at Brooklyn Yesterday Afternoon

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 10.—Philadelphia beat Brooklyn in the opening game of the National League season, which marked the formal occupation of Ebbett's new field yesterday. The cold, raw wind kept the attendance down, but did not affect the players, who put up a brilliant fight. Both Seaton and Rucker pitched brilliant ball, the former just shading the local southpaw in a 1-0 shut-out. Benny Meyer, the recruit from Toronto, lost the game for Rucker in the first innings when he dropped Magee's long fly with one man out and one man on bases.

It was by special dispensation of the National League that the opening in Brooklyn was advanced a day this year in deference to the fact that a magnificent new stadium has been erected there. To-day in the National League circuit there will be opening with Boston at New York, at Cincinnati with Pittsburg, at Chicago with St. Louis, and a second game of the Philadelphia series in Philadelphia.

KANTLEHNER GETS RECORD FOR CIRCUIT

Speaking of records in the Northwestern circuit, Mike Lynch says that Dutch Kandlehner's feat yesterday about establishes a new mark for the league. A number of twirlers have fanned fifteen batsmen, while in 1901, pitching for Seattle against Narveson, Jack Hickey had nineteen strikeouts. In 1909 Gus Thompson, leaving for the Seattle club, beat Aberdeen, fifteen of the latter fanning. That season Mike Lynch who had charge of Seattle, won nine out of fourteen straight games with Aberdeen, five of his victories being shutouts.

CRUM FOR SEATTLE. Eastern Outfielder to Join Dugdale's Squad This Week

Seattle, April 10.—President Dugdale last evening purchased the release of Walter Crum, the star outfielder of the New England League, from Jesse Burkett, owner of the Worcester club. Crum has been wired him at Steubenville, Ohio. Negotiations were commenced several weeks ago, when it was uncertain that Strait would report. The recent injury to Wilson's ankle, while sliding to third, made President Dugdale determined to guard against possible weakness in the outfield, and he shovled the deal through. Crum is a very high-class fielder and base-runner. He bats about .350.

BLACK MATHEWSON COACHED BEES

Mike Lynch Had Gatewood Show His Half-Balk to Local Twirlers

Realizing that Gatewood, "The Black Mathewson," who worked for the Giants yesterday against the Bees, is really one of the greatest twirlers in the world, Mike Lynch did not allow the opportunity to pass without engaging the phenomenal colored slab star to coach the Bee twirlers for a couple of hours this morning. Lynch interviewed Gatewood last night at the Canada hotel, where the Giants are stopping, and satisfactory arrangements were made to have Gatewood attend the Bee's practice this morning and handle the twirlers. Gatewood almost caught Danny Shea cold off first base yesterday, using Ed. Walsh's famous half-back motion. Lynch figures that Wilson, Kaufman and the rest of his squad could be doubly effective with men on bases, were they able to master this movement and Gatewood was given charge of the squad this morning to impart this half-back motion.

A Pitching Phenom. This fellow Gatewood is considered another Johnson, Mathewson and Wood all rolled in one. He had everything yesterday and his perfect control and terrific speed made him a formidable opponent. His spit ball was breaking in front style throughout. The Giants have a swell ball park at 30th street, Chicago, where they play right through the summer, touring the South in the winter months. Jack Johnson figured with this team a couple of years ago at first base, but he could not last long in such company. The team are regarded as major leaguers all over the United States, and the Coast League clubs refused to compete against the Giants. They have a big edge over the Northwestern Leaguers because of the fact that they are now travelling at top speed.

BIG FOUR CLUBS RESERVE PLAYERS WANTED ON COAST

Ottawa, Ont., April 10.—Con Jones and Lionel York did not make any overtures to Bobby Pringle, Jack Shea or other Capital men because they are on the reserve lists of the D. L. A., but it would not be surprising to see them return and pick up a few after the Big Four gives them full scope. "I wouldn't sell Lalonde for $5,000," said Jones, discussing the outlook. "I cannot take Billy Fitzgerald because of the fact that he is on Fleming's reserve list. In fact we are going to have a difficult time recruiting a team for Victoria because of the agreement which prevents York from electing with any of the men wanted by the D. L. A."

VANCOUVER TEN-PIN STARS LEAD.

Vancouver, B. C., April 10.—Vancouver bowlers are leading in all events in the Northwest Association tournament now in progress here. The St. Regis Hotel team of Vancouver, topped all other teams in the five-man event with a score of 5,725 for six games. Brunwick-Balke, also of Vancouver, is second with 5,242. Twenty-four five-man teams have already rolled and twenty-six have still to shoot.

VETERAN SOCCER SECRETARY TO VISIT CANADA

Mr. F. J. Wall, the veteran secretary of the Football Association and the greatest individual power in the soccer game throughout the world, will probably visit Canada this summer. Mr. Wall recently was bereft of his wife, and his youngest son is coming out shortly to make his home in Canada. Mr. Wall writes that he may himself make a visit here in the very near future. His visit, though a personal one, should be taken advantage of to straighten out the difficulties and divisions just now occupying the attention of those interested in the advancement of the game.

TOUR THE WORLD.

San Francisco, April 10.—Forty athletic San Francisco boys, members of the Columbia Park Boys' Club, left to-day on a journey around the world. Five other lads will be selected from among the members of boys' clubs in eastern cities, and under the leadership of Major Sydney S. Peixoto, founder of the local organization, the party will invade Europe, Asia and Australia. They will be gone one year.

SWEDES COMING.

Chicago, April 10.—Swedish athletes who won championships at the Olympic games in Stockholm last summer are to be invited to participate in the American Olympic games to be held here from June 28 to July 6. If the athletes decide to come they will be given a free trip by Charles S. Peterson, president of the Swedish Club of Chicago, and Everett C. Brown, director-general of the games.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

With Dutch Kandlehner heaving at a record-breaking clip and a rookie in the person of Hap Morse leading the clouters, the Larrupers surely did look good against the American Giants at the ball yard yesterday. When a twirler whiffs sixteen of the opposing club, especially of the calibre of the Giants, and then loses his game, something is wrong. Errors make baseball, but had Kandlehner's support been perfect yesterday, "dem colored pussions" would never have seen the home plate. The Dutchman never gave a grander exhibition in his life and to fall after such an afternoon's work was the hardest kind of work. Mike Lynch, however, has every reason to feel proud of his club, for with Brooks added to that batting array, Gatewood would not have held the locals to a single run.

Lynch Will Have a Job Selecting His Backstops. Four high class catchers are now on the roster of the local club, and it will take Lynch all his time picking the men he will retain this season. Should that new outfielder fail to materialize, Hap Morse will be sent into left field, completing a hard-hitting trio in Lynch, Weed and Morse. The infield is intact with Brooks, Delmas, Rawlings and Burrell on the job, while Bert Lambe has a chance of catching on as utility. The twirlers can be pretty nearly selected in Wilson, Kaufman, Kandlehner, Smith, Schultz and Narveson, though Bobby Steele and Brown are working hard in an effort to hook up. The latter pair need seasoning, however, though Steele looks pretty nearly ripe. It is the catching department which will give Lynch a few wrinkles. Meek's batting is well known, while Grindle's all round worth is not to be overlooked. Hauser has shown himself to be the most promising catcher that the locals have had in many a day and Danny Shea, the brainiest backstop in the league, completes the quartette. Unless Grindle's arm goes back on him completely, he is sure of a place. Lynch announces that he will carry but two catchers, Meek, Shea and Hauser, therefore, will compete for a job, and it looks like a toss-up.

WAS GREATER THAN UNCLE WOODROW

Elizabeth Wilson, eight years old, daughter of Captain Alfred Wilson and grandniece of President Wilson, received a big box of candy from Chief Justice White, a sequel to an incident in the presidential reviewing stand, says the New York Herald.

Elizabeth was seated beside the Chief Justice while the parade was passing. She had been introduced to him and was reciting her proud opinion of the new president.

"I think Uncle Woodrow is the greatest man in the world," she told the chief justice.

"Oh no," said the chief justice, with a smile, "that can't be."

Little Elizabeth turned her golden-haired head upward inquiringly.

"And why is that?" she demanded.

"Because I made him president," laughed the chief justice.

Elizabeth's opinion of the chief justice immediately rose to the zenith of admiration.

During the hearing of a case in Marybone, London, police court complainant, a young woman, said that while the defendant, a young man, was on holiday she received 101 postcards from him by air post.

WASN'T THE TURKEY TROT

Eli Perkins never danced the "Turkey Trot" but he is responsible for this story about the "Flying Gallop."

I met a young law student at a party. He was dancing with Miss Johnson. I said to him, "I have an engagement to dance the 'Flying Gallop' with Miss Johnson—No. 10."

"You have an engagement? You mean you have retained her for a dance?"

"She has contracted to dance with me," I said.

"But contracts where no earnest money is paid are null and void. You must vacate the premises."

"But will you please give me half a dance? I ask the courtesy."

"Why yes, Mr. Perkins," he said, "take her," but recollecting his legal knowledge, he caught hold of my coat sleeve and added this casual remark: "I give and bequeath to you, Eli Perkins, to have and to hold in trust, one-half of my right, title and claim, and my advantage, in a dance known as the 'Flying Gallop,' with Amelia Johnson, with all her hair, paniers, Grecian band, rings, fans, peltis, hairpins, smelling bottles, and straps, with all the right and advantage therein, with full power to have, hold, encircle, whirl, toss, wriggle, push, jam, squeeze or otherwise use—except to snatch, break or otherwise damage—and with right to temporarily convey the said Amelia Johnson, her hair, rings, paniers, straps and other objects heretofore or hereinafter mentioned, after such whirl, squeeze, wriggle, jam, etc., to her natural parents, now living, and without regard to any deed or deeds or instruments of whatever kind or nature whatsoever to the contrary in any vice notwithstanding."

In a Melbourne court the other day a married couple confessed to having dwelt in 27 different houses during six years.

MOTORING IN FRANCE WITH LLOYD GEORGE

HUMAN TRAITS OF CHANCELLOR'S NATURE

T. P. O'Connor Gives Vivid Glimpse of a Very Great Man

T. P. O'Connor, the noted Irish journalist and politician, recently took a "scamper through France" in company with Sir Charles Henry, Mr. Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and, for a part of the way, Sir Rufus Isaacs. In his own inimitable "way," "Tay Pay" tells of the trip in a recent issue of his weekly publication.

Sir Charles Henry is referred to as an ideal host, while Sir Rufus Isaacs and the "best" natured man in the world. Then he comes to Lloyd George and the rest is left with T. P.:

"We started the next (after leaving Paris) on the motor. It was very cold, and we kept the car open; we all wanted to get as much fresh air as we could, after the many months of the enervating atmosphere of the House of Commons. For myself, I do not regard a motor trip as the best beginning of a vacation to tired men; rest is what fatigue requires, and should get, but it is the manner in which Mr. Lloyd George delights always to begin his holiday. I soon discovered the reason. We had not been more than an hour on the road when the chancellor was in a profound sleep; and I may say, without much exaggeration, that he sleeps half all the hours he spends in a motor car.

"This 'sleepless' guardian of the public purse, as we mockingly called him, has a power of commanding sleep which I must count among his highest and most valuable gifts. He can sleep anywhere, everywhere, under all conditions; but he almost prefers a motor for a sleep to the softest down of the best hotel. It was cold, but it was pleasant, rolling along the fine roads of France, and every breath of air brought vigor and rest to fatigued nerves; and in this way we reached Toulouse in the evening and an excellent hotel."

The next day saw the beginning of trouble. Snow fell heavily and the "scampers" were forced to give up the motor and take the train from Montpellier. Owing to a mistake, which the writer attributes to negligence on the part of the porter, the party were left over night in a typical small town with its one hotel. To resume the story:

"The chancellor was the only one of us who viewed this difficult situation with perfect equanimity; indeed, he hailed it with joy. 'I love incidents on a journey,' he calmly and gleefully remarked; while his less philosophic companions, as they trudged over the dark and rugged streets, felt in their bones anticipations. And the realities were worse than the worst anticipations. The hearts of Sir Charles Henry and myself fell when we caught sight of the hotel in which we had to spend the night; and when we entered and

Victoria's touring basketball squad defeated Comox last night 44 to 19, the locals having the better of the play all through. The team play Cumberland to-night. Chematus to-morrow night, and wind up their tour on Saturday night at Duncan, when they play the Duncan quintette for the championship of the island. It is possible that the squad will be reinforced by Joe Dakers, Art Bains and McGregor for the Duncan contest.

VICTORIA ENTITLED TO CHAMPIONSHIP

Winnipeg, April 10.—That Victoria won the world's professional hockey championship on merit is the opinion of Billy Field, who officiated in the three games between the coast champions and the Quebec team. He speaks in high terms of the class of hockey that featured the championship series, it being clean and exciting.

I have found in my long experience of public men, which mark out the true, instinctive, and absorbed politician, is his eagerness to buy newspapers; and Mr. Lloyd George shows that he is one of that race by rushing up to a newsstand the first moment he arrives at any station. And so he did at this junction; and then, Sir Charles Henry and I were sipping our coffee—being men of leisurely minds and serene emotions—the still standing figure of the chancellor, absorbed in his newspapers, startled us by, "Hallo, here is something that will interest you," and read out from a brief telegram in the small French paper the news of the bombshell in his house at Walton Heath.

"He was unmoved; for he doesn't know the meaning of fear, so far as he himself is concerned. I have never met a more courageous man, but there is one vulnerable spot in his coat of armor, and that is his children.

"He had been gay all the morning, but he confessed that, nevertheless, his mind had been haunted by a certain apprehension. I almost hesitate to reveal the shameful story which he then told us, but I must. A doctor and a Tory had written to him to warn him that there was a plot brewing to kidnap his little Megan. At once he rushed to the telegraph office, sent a wire to his wife, who was at Criccieth with his daughter; told her to look carefully after "the little packet"—that is the name by which this lovable and delightful child is known to her parents—and then turning to us, with that baleful glitter that comes into his eyes when he is angry, and which is the startling revelation of the depths of volcanic passion and adamantine resolution which lie at the basis of this fierce character, said something so fierce against this villainous war threatened against children that I dare not repeat it. It was the wrath of the tiger which is in every true man and woman's heart when their offspring are menaced. And the softer and tenderer the parental heart, the fiercer is this other side of it. It was hard for a moment to realize that this passionate face was the same as I had seen at the station in Paris, when Mr. Lloyd George beamed like a schoolboy as he caught sight of his other daughter, Olwen, now finishing her education in a Paris school, and growing into a graceful woman; they tucked their arms together and went off to the waiting motor for all the world like brother and sister rather than father and daughter. This is the brave girl who stood up when a missile was thrown at her father, and stood between him and danger with the fearlessness which she inherits from him.

"We got to Montpellier at last; found ourselves in a splendidly comfortable hotel; ate our third breakfast and first good one; found there was a train within an hour which would land us at Nice at about 6 in the evening. And after "the little packet"—that is the name by which this lovable and delightful child is known to her parents—and then turning to us, with that

During the day Mr. Hibbard was in consultation with W. M. Allan and Claude A. Solly.

Birds, in proportion to their weight, probably eat more than any other living thing. It is a mystery to naturalists how the ring-dove flies after its accustomed meal. One dove was found with 600 peas in its crop; another, in captivity, was known to eat 180 bech-nuts at a time; and a third devoured 60 acorns. The robin often eats 2 1/2 times its weight in twenty-four hours, while a barnyard hen with chicks has been observed to resume eating 475 times in the course of a day. The diet of a certain species of hawk composes about 2,000 mice in the course of a month, besides other food. In the mouth of a young heron, were found three trout, each weighing three-quarters of a pound. Another was found with seven small trout in its mouth, a mouse, and a thrush, evidently on its way to its nest. The growing bird seems to have an appetite equal to that

WIFE'S HEALTH RESTORED

Husband Declared Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Would Restore Her Health, And It Did.

Ashland, Ky.—"Four years ago I seemed to have everything the matter with me. I had female and kidney trouble and was so bad off I could hardly rest day or night. I doctored with all the best doctors in town and took many kinds of medicine but nothing did any good until I tried your wonderful remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband said it would restore my health and it has."

There are probably hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read What Another Woman says:

Camden, N. J.—"I had female trouble and a serious displacement and was tired and discouraged and unable to do any work. My doctors told me I never could be cured without an operation, but thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am cured of that affliction and have recommended it to more than one of my friends with the best results."

HOME MADE RECIPES FOR BEAUTY SEEKERS

TRY THIS, IF TOO FAT— The following well-known fat-dissolving tonic is little to prepare and is unailing in result. Dissolve 4 ounces parnols in 1 1/2 pints hot water. The dose is a tablespoonful before each meal. This is harmless, acts rapidly and does not leave any unpleasant after-effects. Furthermore, when the weight is reduced to where you want it, the flesh is not flabby nor is the skin wrinkled. Seldom does the weight increase once it is reduced by this method.

FOR DANDRUFF OR OILINESS— In a half-pint alcohol stir one ounce quinquina, then add 1/2 pint water. This makes a reliable and inexpensive tonic for hair and scalp, and its use overcomes dandruff and oiliness as well as makes brittle, "stringy" hair soft, fluffy and lustrous. Continued using produces a luxuriant growth and keeps both scalp and hair in a healthy condition.

EYE-TONIC— If eyes feel tired and are dull and inflamed, you need an eye-tonic. Dissolve one ounce of crystals in a pint of water. One or two drops of this in each eye every day is all that is needed to strengthen your eyes and make them bright and sparkling. This tonic will not smart or burn and is a great aid to those who wear glasses. It makes the eyes appear brilliant, and full of expression. Women on the stage get their much-admired eyes beautiful by using this tonic. All find it very strengthening to weak, inflamed, dull and tired eyes and for granulated eyelids.

TO REMOVE WRINKLES— A sure wrinkle-cure which can be made at home at very little expense. It is unlike creams containing oils or animal fat as it neither grows hair or makes the flesh loose and flabby. Just dissolve an ounce of almond, which you can get from any druggist, in one-half pint cold water, and add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Stir and let stand for one day. To remove wrinkles, apply a thick coat of this cream daily and leave on overnight. This protects the skin and allows all the blood action to be used in constructing new texture. Then wash it out of the pores and massage thoroughly with more of the cream. It makes the skin soft and velvety, while it is unequalled in reducing large pores.

A MAGIC HAIR-REMOVER— Make sufficient paste with powdered delatone and water to cover the hairy surface, apply, and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs will go. This treatment is harmless and will not discolor the skin. Any druggist can supply delatone, but be sure you get it in an original package to insure purity and strength.

THE EVENING CHIT-CHAT
By RUTH CAMERON

"A man's will is his heaven," says an old proverb. It seems to me the proverb-maker should have added, "or his hell."

The other day we were talking about a woman who has a very powerful will. She dominates everyone with whom she comes into contact by the force of her tremendous will. She has ruled her parents and brothers and sisters for years. She is the dominant force in several societies to which she belongs. Her profession is that of nursing, and before she has been in a patient's home twenty-four hours, she is managing it, unless perchance she happens to meet a will as strong as her own. And that is very seldom.

Now this woman is extremely clever and competent, and usually far more capable of managing things than those whom she dominates. Moreover, she is self-sacrificing and kind-hearted, and wants nothing so much as to help everyone. And yet, as you easily imagine, she antagonizes people everywhere she goes.

At the mention of this woman, someone expressed a feeling of pity for her family, especially for a younger sister whom she has managed into a very pulp of incompetence. And then the Man-Who-Thinks spoke up and said, "I pity the woman herself far more than anyone else."

"Why?" asked the Author-Man. "Because she makes so many enemies?"

"No," said the Man-Who-Thinks, "not exactly that, but because she can't help making so many enemies; because she is the worst victim of her own will. She dominates other people by it, but think how it dominates her. Remember, she didn't create that will; it was born in her, and I believe it drives her just as relentlessly as she drives other people."

That's a rather new point of view, isn't it?

But a very convincing one, I think. When one of these dominating people comes into our orbit and tries to drive us by his or her will, we are apt to feel resentment. And yet after all, are they not more to be pitied than blamed?

We do not blame the man who inherits a taste for drink; we pity him. But what is the power of a taste for drink compared to that of a taste for dominating? The love of drink is in the blood, we say. The imperious will that dominates its possessor as well as everyone else is even more deeply rooted than that. It is part of a man's very nature.

I know a man who has antagonized his wife and children, and made his home a bleak and loveless place by his domineering will. Do you think he really wanted to do that? Do you think he prefers loneliness and hate to love? Not so. He is simply the worst victim of his own will.

Of course, if they struggled hard enough, these people could conquer their tyrannical wills, but then, so might the drunkard conquer his habit. And yet we pity rather than blame him. Why should we be less lenient to the victim of the will habit?

Empress Theatre.

For a laugh that will brighten up the most sombre and raise the spirits of the despondent, the "Mayor and the Manicure," a sketch by George Ade, at the Empress theatre is recommended. James F. Fulton and Mattie Choate are the two principals of the four people appearing. Alfred Kelcey provides more amusement with his Irish monologue. The black and white girls offer unusual acrobatic stunts, the Taubert Sisters and Paul are heralded as giving the best in xylophone music, and the three Creighton girls are handy dancers and generally good all-round entertainers. The pictures rank with the rest of the bill.

"Prince of Pilsen."

Henry W. Savage's perennially popular musical comedy "The Prince of Pilsen" will play an engagement at the Victoria Theatre on April 15. Its many successful engagements throughout the country have given it a prestige enjoyed by no other performance of its kind. With its wealth of melody and harmony, set to a story in which romance and humor play equal parts; and clothed in a pleasing, garniture of scenic and costume adornment "The Prince of Pilsen's" popularity will not show any diminution for many seasons. It is expected. The company announced includes "Joss" Dandy, famous in the part of Hans Wagner.

PLAN PROGRAMME FOR SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Superintendent of Schools Suggests Provision Be Made for Coming Year

The most important subject which engaged the attention of the city school board last evening was a report from the superintendent, E. B. Paul, on school accommodation as it is now, and as it will be when the present buildings are erected. Mr. Paul pointed out in the statistical table which he presented that in 205 rooms there are 4,169 pupils attending, whereas on a basis of 25 scholars to the teacher, there should only be accommodation for 3,855 pupils. Paralleled with this table is one showing what relief is projected at the various schools, and to meet the emergency Mr. Paul suggests that the buildings projected at North Quadra street and Hollywood should be frame. This suggestion is prompted by the desire to secure rapid construction, though brick would be better if equally speedy relief could be obtained by using that material. The Oswego street site and a new site on land in Spring Ridge were suggested also, after which the board would be in a position to enlarge existing schools as necessities arose. Mr. Paul estimated that by January of next year 1,925 pupils additional to the present school population would need to be accommodated. At Bank street he suggested relief by means of two rooms in an adjoining house. New quarters are urgently required at Fisguard street. He summarized the argument by stating that in January next there will be an excess of accommodation to the extent of room for 471 over estimated number of pupils on the present basis of pupils per teacher, which in his view is inadequate.

Trustee Riddell, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, in undertaking on behalf of the committee an investigation into the details of the report, thought the board should prepare for the expected increases of 1914. To relieve the immediate necessities of the situation at Bank street school it will be proposed that the children from the Children's Aid Home be withdrawn, and an ungraded board-ent be erected for their accommodation at the home. Dr. Hall strongly supported this proposal on the ground that the children were often kept from school on account of illness in their number. A teacher will be assigned to them.

ARRESTED AFTER 2 MONTHS. Jay Kam Wanted in Mission on Murder Charge Taken at Cumberland.

Jay Kam, wanted in Mission on a charge of the murder of Jay Sun on the night of February 20, has been arrested in Cumberland by Provincial Constable Stephenson. A reward of $500 attaches to his capture.

Jay Kam was a wealthy and very well Canadianized contractor at Mission and Jay Sun, who was killed by a bullet wound, was one of his employees. It is alleged that a quarrel about wages occurred between the two Chinamen on February 20.

CHILDREN WILL BE INTERESTED IN BIBLE

Course of Reading Will Be Suggested to Them by Representative of Scripture Union

Major Guise attended the meeting of the school board last evening to ask permission to attend the school children after hours on the organization of classes in connection with the Scripture Union, which he declared would be without sectarianism, and undenominational—in fact it was a society to encourage persons to read the Bible. It was used in the army and navy and all over the British Empire. In South Africa, where religious teaching was restricted in the schools, he had had full permission to organize classes. The practice was for the boys and girls to appoint their secretaries themselves, after discussion with the parents.

Dr. Donald, introducing the major, stated that there could be no objection raised, and moved that permission should be granted subject to power to cancel if found unsatisfactory. He had gone into the subject with Mrs. Jenkins. Dr. Donald seconded the vote, provided that the work was undenominational in character. The motion was adopted. The building and grounds committee will make arrangements for storing rifles and ammunition for the cadet corps at the Pemberton gymnasium. Better lighting facilities are also sought by the corps. A campaign for fresh air in the schools is to be inaugurated on the suggestion of the school health officer, Dr. Wasson. Another subject for the attention of the building and grounds committee will be a recommendation for improving the fire apparatus at the various schools, on the suggestion of Fire Chief Davis.

IDEAS OF A PLAIN MAN

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

All the old monarchic formulas of religion are coming back to us in times of democracy.

One of these is, "The Lord maketh the wrath of man to praise him." Deity, our forefathers perceived, somewhat how got his way with the world through the balancing and quotient of the clashing selfishness of men.

Stated in modern language we would say that the people at last come into their own through the sheer falling-out of their enemies.

When we contemplate the national legislature we see each member of it anxious to prey upon the body politic; when we look at labor and capital we see two dogs quarrelling over a bone; business men are busy dividing the spoils of prosperity; and yet, in some way, out of contention of forces, all more or less enemies to the whole people, little by little the whole people are getting more and more. The common man is the residuary legatee of all privileges. The meek inherit the earth.

ELECTRIC COOKER. Series of Air Chambers Provide Even and Lasting Heat.

Since fireless cookers invaded the home a few years ago a number of such devices have been patented. One of the latest is the electric cooker, designed by two Colorado men. A cabinet has a double drum casing inside of it, with space between the two drums. There is a heating unit in the upper part of the oven, a second heat unit below the oven and a heat-retaining element under the latter. These units are connected with an electric current, and when the current is turned on the heat from the two spreads out through the air chambers and meets. The oven is thus kept at exactly the same heat all around until such time as its contents are done, when the current is automatically shut off by a time clock.

Some Anecdotes of the Late J. Pierpont Morgan Master of Finance

It was said of Jay Cooke, Mr. Morgan's predecessor in the banking world, that he knew everybody in Wall street, but there were scarcely 50 men in the financial district who had a speaking acquaintance with J. Pierpont Morgan.

Mr. Morgan's characteristics were painted to the world in a variety of colors, according to the view adopted by the writer of narrative of this country. The confidence of his fellow underwriters in Mr. Morgan was unbounded. They left everything to his discretion. It became his custom to write the names of his friends for the amounts which he thought they should have without consulting them.

Believed in Himself. Mr. Morgan unmistakably believed in himself. His opinions on financial affairs were eagerly sought. He often asked for information, even to the minutest details of a project, but rarely, if ever, sought advice.

In his old fashioned banking house Mr. Morgan worked harder than any of his clerks, and put into the eight hours a day that he spent there an immense amount of effort. Are you never going to relax the pressure?

At another time a church organist who had worked six years to bring himself to Mr. Morgan's notice, and had done many things to win his favor, called to bring to a culmination the scheme on which he had been working for so many years.

The organist stammered and stammered: "I'm—I'm struggling to." He grasped, but at this point he was interrupted. So an "I" retorted the financier. "Keep a-struggling. Good day." Back went the banker to his private office, and that day the church lost its organist.

In his boyhood days young Morgan was quiet and little given to speech, but he had a cool and matter of fact way about him. At school the first thing he obtained was a nickname that clung to him through all his youth. When the roll of the class was called he stood up in turn to give his name: "John Pierpont Morgan." He was asked to repeat the unusual middle name, which struck his classmates as funny.

For nearly half a century Mr. Morgan had a private telegraph line in his office and his private operator. Transcontinental telegraphy was not established until the close of 1861, and the private line made Mr. Morgan's office a place of call for many distinguished men during the civil war period who were not concerned in banking, but were anxious for news from the front.

frequently a caller there, dictating telegrams to his family and friends. Left to His Judgment. In the formation of his great syndicates, which have had such influence in fostering the industrial and railroad development of this country, the confidence of his fellow underwriters in Mr. Morgan was unbounded. They left everything to his discretion. It became his custom to write the names of his friends for the amounts which he thought they should have without consulting them.

Hating snobishness and pride of wealth and becoming especially incensed when he read such a term as "Napoleon of Finance" applied to him, Mr. Morgan was nevertheless very sensitive to certain small things, although absolutely indifferent to attack. It gave him the greatest annoyance to see the misspelling of his middle name.

After the Panic of 1893. It was really not until after the panic of 1893, when the suspension of specie payments was threatened, that Mr. Morgan's name became known as a financial power throughout the country.

"Suppose," questioned Mr. Cleveland, "that the government purchases this gold and it is immediately withdrawn from the treasury and sent abroad. Can you guarantee that this will not happen?" Without hesitating the banker replied: "Yes, Mr. President, I will guarantee it."

When questioned at the time by his friends about the matter, however, he took a grim pleasure in calling attention to a favorite fox terrier he was accustomed to have accompany him on his walks. The little animal wore a collar bearing the inscription: "Emergency. Presented by August Belmont to J. P. Morgan as a souvenir of February, 1893."

Action in Steel Purchase. At no period of his career was Mr. Morgan's banking supremacy so acutely acknowledged so fairly as during the panic of 1907, when the integrity of most of the large industrial and banking corporations appeared to rest upon his slightest word. Night after night there were conferences of the leading financiers in Mr. Morgan's library.

Mr. Morgan immediately turned to Mr. Gary with the words: "I do not know whether the United States Steel Corporation can afford to buy this stock. You know best concerning that. If you see your way clear, but I have no doubt that such action will clear the situation."

Mr. Gary said that he could not take a step until he learned the views of the president and the department of justice. He maintained that they had no right to prohibit the transaction, but that if the administration should seek to enjoin the deal temporarily in that time of panic the effect would be to make the financial crisis worse instead of relieving it.

Mr. Morgan received the degree of LL. D. from Yale university in June, 1904, and as he went on board a steamer the next day for a trip abroad one of his friends seeing him off, addressed him with the words, "Good morning, Doctor." The doctor of railroads and the nation's finance looked puzzled for a moment, and then laughed. "That's true, I am a doctor," he observed. "Call me Dr. Morgan; now, it sounds funny, doesn't it?"

These large black cigars of Mr. Morgan's figure in innumerable anecdotes, one of which he used to tell on his yacht one day when he found that he had nothing with which to light his cigar. "I ventured to ask one of the men on the pier for a match," related the banker. "In return for the courtesy I handed him one of my cigars, of which I think a good deal."

Many persons have seen Mr. Morgan when he was not in the best of humors, and his associates who used to attend the weekly meetings of the finance committee of the Steel corporation in the Empire building, used to enjoy the manner in which the banker was accustomed to summon the elevator. Mr. Morgan invariably scorned to press the bell. On leaving a meeting he would go to the elevator and hail the elevator man just as he was going down with his car. Clutching the bars of the door of the elevator shaft with one hand, he would beat frantically on them with his stick in the other, exclaiming: "Hey, come back here! Come back!"

"MEMORY RUNNETH NOT." To the Editor:—A few friends and myself would be much obliged if you could give in the columns of your valuable paper the classic piece of poetry beginning, "When you were a tadpole and I was a fish. The name of the piece was 'Memory Runneth Not.' A. W. R.

BASED UPON MERIT. To the Editor:—The big Victoria Times has been too long playing "dignity" to the "impudence" of the little Week, especially in that column of factious stuff by the Hornet, and "A Street Corner," where so much space is devoted to attacking certain restaurants in the city. Silence or a soft answer may in time turn away wrath, but political spite—never. When young, inexperienced pointers beat nose wild, will not come to me and flush the pack. It is often necessary in extreme cases to grab them by the neck and administer a flogging they don't soon forget. The little dog Tray is now yapping at the Times for saying that appointments are not based upon merit. The force of the police force will suffer. This is strong and undoubtedly right, as "merit" is goodness or excellence which entitles to honor or reward. All appointments in every well disciplined force in the Empire are based upon merit. One must go outside the Empire to find rottenness in police forces and merit lacking. Victoria, April 10

A DIFFERENT VIEWPOINT. To the Editor:—In to-day's Colonist there appears an article headed "Shameful," which starts out by stating that every normally constituted woman must experience a feeling of shame when reading or thinking on the situation that has been brought about by the behaviour of the women suffragettes in Great Britain. If the writer of the article is a specimen of the normal kind, looked women in Victoria then we are very glad we are not to be counted one of them. She very much mistakes or fails to understand the spirit of the woman's campaign, and, after some reflection, we have come to the conclusion that she must be one of the many "bondswomen" and one who glories in her bondage. They are to be distinguished from the "freewomen" by having little or no individuality, also by a spiritual distinction. That spirit, which animated our martyrs and all pioneers is absent in them. They live easily under a ready-made code, yielding reverence to the male being who, with her, is as the moults of the Maker of all things, content to be of an inferior order to the law-makers, the standard-makers and moral framers. They, the admiring, irresponsible beings who are content to remain in such a subordinate position, actuated in their opposition to the woman's movement by that same feeling of dread that actuated the opponents of our martyrs—dread of doing unusual things—they do not really oppose to the granting of votes to women, but the whole history of the movement, the assaulting and insulting of ministers, the rudeness shown to judges, all these things are not popular, and so they are afraid because it "disgraces womanhood." The idea of women demanding anything out of her "sphere" (the home) is to those women whose minds are fettered by ignorance and superstition, unchristian and unwomanly. We imagine the writer of this article is like the Colonel, sitting on the fence. And in the future such persons shall have to acknowledge that they are indebted to those very women who now cry "shame" on for their intellectual and moral freedom. HELEN CHRISTOPHER. April 28, 1913.

BABBLING WEAKLINGS. To the Editor: On Tuesday I grieved because I could not attend the Canadian Club annual at the Empress hotel, but on reading yesterday morning's Colonist I was greatly relieved to think I missed having to sit for the most part of that time listening to the Chief Justice deliver himself in favour of the Borden naval policy as changed from the Canadian navy proposition of a year or so ago to the present one of subscription to the home government. After listening to the leading lights of the Conservative party, Dominion and Provincial, while they pleaded for a local navy fleet, we think it a most humiliating spectacle to see them now flip over and ask us to just send the money to the Old Country and let them spend it there. How the other colonies must look with shame at the present government of Canada, poor babbling weaklings, who imagine us ready to follow them regardless of dignity or duty. It is said of P. T. Barnum, the great showman, that he remarked how well the American people pay for being fooled if it was only for a week, and when we are asked to vote for and against reciprocity, and for and against a local navy, we can't forget Barnum's criticism of glib humanitarians. W. J. HANNA. Victoria, April 9.

MOLESTATION OF WOMEN. To the Editor: With reference to an item in your paper of the 3rd concerning the molestation of women and girls in the city lately, and to your suggestion that the girls should not be out late without an escort, may I point out that very many working women and girls are obliged to be out late alone, and also that these unpleasant incidents may and do occur quite early in the evening, and that it is not only foreigners who are responsible for them. Within the last few weeks I had an extremely disagreeable experience in a business block at about 7.45, an hour when a good many stenographers may be in their offices in connection with extra work. It is useless to report these cases, for there is only the woman's word against that of the man or men in question, and the law almost invariably gives the latter the benefit of the doubt, and the police themselves are inclined to discredit the complaint when it is made to them. If it were once recognized that the word of a woman is at least as reliable as that of a man, and also that the woman's complaint is probably well-founded because in nine cases out of ten she would rather (having got safely away) drop the matter than have to face the publicity of giving evidence in court, and if a really severe punishment were made to be meted out to the cowards involved, this sort of thing would soon cease. Meanwhile Victoria seems to be acquiring the unenviable reputation of Vancouver in this respect, and the whole subject appears to those of us who hear most often of such occurrences to be serious enough to deserve the immediate attention of the citizens themselves. Girls and women earning their living are up against quite enough in life already without an element of danger of this kind, which in a civilized community ought to be, practically nonexistent. The Week's comment on the question is simply an invitation to the disposed to approach any woman whose work or circumstances obligate her, greatly against her inclination, to be out alone in the evening. And then we are referred to "the chivalry of men."

A WORKING WOMAN. April 8, 1913. HARBOR COMMISSION FOR VICTORIA. To the Editor:—In bringing up this point, I will refer readers to our elder sister city, New Westminster. This thrifty community fortunately works together for the common cause, the welfare of the city. It has just secured control of the harbor and Fraser river from the forks of Pitt river to the sea, and the same has been vested in a harbor commission in trust for the city of New Westminster.

The city of New Westminster has secured from the Dominion a strip of land comprising in the foreshore rights of nearly three-quarters of a mile along the river bank of the Fraser, in front of the asylum. In addition to this, the city previously owned over a mile of waterfront, with a depth of forty feet of water. A slough on the east end of Lulu Island is to be converted into ocean docks, four miles long, with piers on either side. Extensive works are now under way by the federal government on the Fraser river; $200,000 has been voted for this year, $800,000 for next year, and certain proportions from year to year. In addition to this, the city of New Westminster is to expend a million dollars, half a million of which has been already voted, and a portion of same has been let for contracts.

It is the duty of the citizens of Victoria to "wake up and brush the cobwebs from their eyes," put on vigor and down personal and party prejudices, for the psychological moment is at hand. The development of the west is seeking a new national front door for Canada, and anyone who takes the trouble to reason things out, cannot help seeing that Victoria, through its strategic geographical position, commands the position. The land on Ogden point and Holland point, along the Dallas road, being in the same category as Beacon Hill park, I would suggest that the British Columbia parliament be constitutionally petitioned at its next session to have the "trust clause" eliminated from the cemetery ordinance, 1870, in so far as it affects the strip of land from Beacon Hill park to the outer wharf, which would thus vest all that strip of land from Beacon Hill park to the outer wharf in the corporation of the city of Victoria. Then by acquiring from the federal government the foreshore rights between Ogden point and Holland point, the city would have control of something over a mile of valuable waterfront, extending from the outer wharf to Beacon Hill park. The magnitude of the shipping facilities of Victoria's outer harbor are such that extensive railway yardage will be required, and on this strip of land the city would have ample common user tracks, from which considerable revenue will be obtained. Within the breakwater the city could build a railway ferry slip, which would be open to all railroads terminating on salt water, from the straits of Fuca to the Gulf of Georgia.

The B. N. A. Act vests all navigable waters in the federal government. This being the case, the actual breakwater and the piers, which will extend far out into the sea, need not necessarily interfere with the rights of the land at Ogden point, as there is a disputed strip of foreshore rights between these navigable waters and the land in question. Those who are familiar with this point are aware that the foreshore rights of British Columbia are a bone of contention between the federal and provincial governments to-day. The federal government can therefore build its breakwater, etc., to-day, in its own right, outside of the foreshore that Ogden point. The only question that could arise would be the access to said works from the shore side. No one for a moment will object to the federal government "squinting" on the lands at Ogden point in order to carry out certain works of harbor improvements, which it is its duty to perform by authority of the B. N. A. Act. If Victoria secures a harbor commission such as New Westminster has I venture to say that if the people of Victoria go the right way about it we shall not only have the outer docks vested in same, but also the common user tracks and industrial areas on the Songhees reserve. With the power conferred upon such a commission as below stated, the question of Laurel-Songhees Point bridge is a very easy matter, as the commission can borrow the money anywhere on debentures guaranteed by the Dominion. The more one studies the commission question, the greater the scope of possibilities. Montreal harbor is vested in a commission, and also the River Thames. The New Westminster harbor bill lately passed its third reading in the federal house. The commission will consist of three commissioners, one appointed by the city and two appointed by the Dominion. The commission has the control of the main channel of the Fraser river, power to build docks, wharves, railways and track-ge, power to expropriate land, power to borrow money on debentures guaranteed by the Dominion, and generally to administer the waters under its jurisdiction to the best advantage. The delegates to Ottawa are aware of the existence of the New Westminster harbor bill, as the writer personally talked to Capt. Logan on the subject before he left, and handed him a copy of the signed official plan of New Westminster harbor. Yours respectfully, G. T. DEVEREUX. Victoria, April 10.

THE LATEST THRILL. Thrills of a novel kind are promised for tourists to Sicily if an American hotel proprietor can carry out his plans. He has bought the site on the summit of an inactive but not extinct volcano, and will build an hotel there. A special feature of the hotel will be an underground chamber on the bed of the crater, with an asbestos floor, where those who are sated with excitement can sleep in the expectation that they may be called at any minute by an eruption. Ireland has 3,000,000 acres of peat deposits.

Sale Began March 27. Sales to Date Amount to $475,000.00

Enquiries are coming in by the score from every part of Canada, United States and the British Empire, in addition to strong interest in European countries.

Many purchasers in the East and South are buying direct by mail. They recognize the wonderful investment opportunities offered by

Port Edward, B.C. Prince Rupert's Industrial Annex

Occupies a "key" position in regard to the development of the Great North Pacific as a result of the opening of the Panama Canal and the operation of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad. It is well known that Prince Rupert's future is assured. It will be one of the world's great ports. Port Edward supplies the industrial facilities that Prince Rupert lacks. Prince Rupert and Port Edward will go hand in hand through the enormous development of the years immediately at hand.

PORT EDWARD lies on the Mainland of British Columbia, adjacent to Prince Rupert and on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific. It possesses one of the finest harbors on the Pacific Coast. The townsite enjoys a splendid natural advantage of grade and location, and has been laid out by experts to meet every requirement of modern industry and commerce.

PORT EDWARD is backed by a very strong company, capitalized at $1,000,000, all subscribed. Development work is under way. Power is being installed now. Large industrial enterprises are already assured for Port Edward. The vast, virgin wealth of the great Northern Interior lies back of this port city. IT MUST succeed.

PORT EDWARD offers you the same opportunity now that Prince Rupert offered in 1909. Hundreds made fortunes on small investments in Prince Rupert. You can do as well in Port Edward. Write for the details right now, to-day. This is YOUR opportunity.

MANUFACTURERS Folder "B" contains much brief, pointed, reliable information about industrial opportunities in the North Pacific. It will interest you. It is free, and a request for it carries no obligation. PRICES NOW $100 to $2,000 Per Lot of From 30 x 100 to 30 x 110 Quarter Cash, Balance Over Three Years.

Starting prices cannot last long. At the present rate of sale it will be necessary to advance figures in the very near future. Why not buy to-day at the original prices and benefit by the marked advance sure to follow? Industrial expansion is already under way. Building operations on the property are proceeding as fast as possible, and applications for industrial sites are coming in daily. Port Edward is to be a great Industrial Centre. That's an assured fact. A city with a payroll is the proper place for investment. ACT TO-DAY!

NEWS OF PROVINCIAL TOWNS

NEW WESTMINSTER

The number of people qualified to vote in the electoral district of New Westminster city at any election, provincial or Dominion, during the next six months is 2,500, an increase of practically 500 on the number qualified under the old lists now discarded. These figures are the estimate of S. A. Fletcher, provincial government agent, made when the time limit set for the registration of all voters on the new list came to a conclusion and are a fair indication of the growth of the city during the past year or two.

At a meeting of the creditors of the Fraser Valley Tile & Cement Co., which firm had the contract of building the jetty at Steveston, it was decided to continue the work on the jetty which is nearly completed and thus be able to collect the money outstanding or kept back by the government pending its completion. Work that will cost about $4,000 yet remains to be done.

CRANBROOK

What has been heralded for some time locally, has just been consummated by the fact of its being officially announced that the papers and documents necessary for such a large property, recently the signature of the parties interested in the property at Wassa, consisting of the hotel and large area of lands adjoining, together with all the stores and electrical apparatus fitted up to supply the growing holiday resort of Wassa, has been taken over by an English syndicate, to be known in the future as The Unionist Investment Co., Ltd.

NANAIMO

To get thoroughly in touch with conditions on Vancouver island, officials of the B. C. Telephone Company spent the whole of last week touring the island, when they visited all points where the company operates. Development has been considerable in the territory between Victoria and Nanaimo, at Alberni on the west coast and north in the vicinity of Courtenay. As a result of the extended trip, improvements are planned at nearly all points visited.

PHOENIX

Work has been recommenced on the driving of the long tunnel at the Payne mine, near Sandon, where operations had to be closed down on account of the large amount of water in the tunnel. Twenty men are now at work, the water having subsided.

PRINCE RUPERT

Far from being the least important of the local resources that have been opened up recently are the salt beds situated near mile 45 on the G. T. P., which have been under investigation for some seven or eight months by F. H. Mobley of the wholesale firm of Stewart & Mobley, Ltd., of this city, assisted by D. C. Whiteford, who has been in charge of the development work. Although for some time past Mr. Mobley has had the greatest confidence in the value of the property, he has refrained from giving information to the public until he was thoroughly assured by extensive tests. He has received a wire from Mr. Whiteford, briefly stating that a solid bed of salt had been struck. Of course, this was by no means the first assurance that there were valuable salt beds in the vicinity, every hole that was drilled having developed into a gusher of very strong brine. This is the first time, however, that solid salt has been struck.

At the property Messrs. Mobley and Whiteford have an up-to-date drilling outfit and have erected a small testing plant, consisting of three evaporating pans. So far five holes have been drilled at considerable distances apart, some more than a mile from others and all have struck salt at depths varying from 20 to 250 feet. Altogether the two gentlemen own about 1,000 acres. The property is situated within 200 feet of the railway and 400 feet of the Skeena river. Its splendid location gives it an immense advantage in the matter of transportation. The property is well supplied with timber and water and can be worked most economically.

Up to the present about eight tons of salt have been secured from the deposits. The tests show that it is absolutely pure.

COQUITLAM

Friday, April 18th, will be a memorable date in the history of Port Coquitlam. That day is to be one of public rejoicing over the creation of the new city. The children are to have a holiday and a civic half holiday will be proclaimed. Commemorative medals will be struck and the children will each receive a medal in silver; the first civic officials as well as the incorporation committee may also receive souvenir medals in gold.

The children will parade to the Agricultural Hall in the morning and receive their medals. They will also take part in an inauguration ceremony when a "Girls' Tree" and a "Boys' Tree" will be planted in the grounds. The afternoon will be taken up with a programme of sports, including a league football game, if this can be arranged.

EASY WAY TO REMOVE SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

For the benefit of our lady readers who suffer from the humiliating disfigurement of hair on face, lips or chin, we publish herewith a formula which has the advantage of being simple and inexpensive, as well as marvelously effective. It is not claimed by our informant that one application will permanently destroy the hair roots, but it is claimed, and the claims are borne out by actual tests, that one application completely removes the hair, and its regular use, one or two days apart, will quickly and permanently destroy the hair root itself. If you have hair which you wish permanently removed, ask your druggist to mix 4 1/2 grams Pulverized Sulphine Concentrate with 2 1/2 grams Zinc Oxide, and 1 gram of Powdered Orris Root, and put in a wide mouth bottle. For use, mix a little of the powder into a paste on a plate by adding a few drops of water. Apply with a narrow knife blade and remove at the end of two minutes with the back of the knife. When the dissolved hair will come with it. Repeat at intervals of two days. Each time the growth will be less, until it entirely disappears.

One who has nothing to lose is generally willing to take chances.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

After the failure of three previous attempts to pass an act of incorporation, the town of Halifax, Nova Scotia, was incorporated on April 10, 1841. Thus was terminated "a most pernicious and long continued system of misrule," which had been vigorously attacked, five years earlier, in Howe's newspaper, the Nova Scotian. A contributor had asserted that within thirty years the magistrates of Halifax county had cheated the people of thirty thousand pounds. Despite the manifold and glaring abuses in their management of a town where the poor had to bear the chief burden of taxation, and the wretched inmates of the poor house, and the jail were actually robbed of their food, the magistrates dared to take up the challenge, and, being unable to discover the writer of the accusing letter, had the editor who had published it tried for libel. Finding the lawyers unwilling to undertake his case, Howe defended himself, and used to the utmost the opportunity of exposing the corrupt practices of the magistrates. In effect, it was they who proved to be on trial, but, though Howe won acquittal for himself and became the hero of the people, he could not at once overturn the bad system from which Halifax suffered.

WORRY

By GEORGE MATHIEV ADAMS

If you realized just what Worry is you would stop using it in your business. For Worry is the name given by the Devil to his choicest brand of smelly salts and the more you get into the habit of using them the more you come to know what Hell is really like. Here's an antidote for Worry—
 Smile, Smile, Smile—Smile!
 For where Smiles are, Worry is not. Worry is just plain poison. It is the most treacherous of poisons for it not only eats into the finest powers of your mind and life but it spreads and radiates like a contagious disease. Worry can do no harm in the atmosphere of cheer, great faith, hope—Work.
 "Work, Work, Work—Work."
 How useless Worry is—how foolish! Realize but this and you will very soon banish it and forever abhor it. Can you think of a single instance

DESIRES TO BELONG TO SECRET SERVICE

Amateur Sleuth Nearly Worked Up Case; Fined $25 for Obstructing Lady in Street

HAD WIDE EXPERIENCE IN BOY SCOUT BRIGADE

Says "Terminal Attitude Exaltitude" is Plain Substitution for Word "Liar"

You are a terminal attitude exaltitude. The magistrate, the witness, the city prosecutor, the chief of police, the other policemen, the press and the gallery with one accord sat up straight and assumed one common strained expression.

"What is that?" queried the magistrate of the prisoner. "I said he was a terminal attitude exaltitude," declared the young man accused of interfering with a young lady in the street.

"Perhaps he means that he has an excited opinion of himself," speculated an officer. "What do you mean?" asked the magistrate.

That is plain words for saying that he is a liar," explained Ralph Jack Cook, who was a freeman at No. 7 station. Even Sergeant Wright, to whom Cook applied the elongated epithet did not seem deeply insulted, probably because of the exaggerated politeness which led Cook so effectively to conceal the rude nature of his accusation.

Sentence Imposed. Ralph Jack is a young man who has an ambition to be a secret service man. The zealous way in which he worked up a case last night would have been highly commendable if the young lady he suspected had been what he suspected her of being.

"Young ladies must not be molested in the street," said his worship. Cook followed a young lady from the city hall to her home in the north end of the city about 5 o'clock last evening. The girl told him to go away, but instead he knocked at the door and demanded to see the young woman.

"Come in," invited the man of the house. While he talked to Cook another member of the family went out to look for the police and by and by Sergeant Wright came along. They had a conversation and Wright arrested Cook. It was a certain expression which Sergeant Wright said Cook used during the conversation that caused Cook to be arrested.

"I demand to see that young woman," he declared to the man of the house. "I have authority from the mayor. Do you see the badge on my chest? I have a shining steel badge with a number on it was pinned to his breast.

NO INTENT TO STEAL

Magistrate Said Charge Against J. E. Allen Was Not Meritorious. In dismissing the charge of theft against John Edward Allen liquidator of the Bankers' Trust Corporation, Magistrate Shaw, of Vancouver, said: "I find that the case is not meritorious. The prosecution has failed to show any intent to steal on Mr. Allen's part. I have great doubts if the company could recover the $199 in a civil action and I am certain that a criminal charge does not hold."

PUT HOT WATER ON RATS

Chinaman Fined $20 and Costs for Cruelty to Animals. Sam, the Chinese cook at the Bank Exchange saloon, was fined $20 and costs by Magistrate Jay this morning for cruelty to animals. The charge was brought by Inspector Russell of the S. P. C. A. Four witnesses testified that Sam had poured boiling water or water nearly boiling, on nine rats in a wire cage on the sidewalk in Langley street. Three of the rats had died from the pain and the rest were squealing and making a horrible noise. Sam said he had no other way of killing them.

APPARATUS IN SCHOOLS

Simple Fire-Fighting Materials Are Recommended to School Board for Installation.

While fire drills have been made from time to time in the public schools, and smoke tests carried out under supervision of the fire chief, there has been a lack of apparatus, either stand pipes or fire extinguishers placed in the corridors such as are required in business hotels and apartment houses. Fire Chief Davis has drawn the attention of the school board to this subject, pointing out that he is willing to give any assistance to teach the elder pupils the use of simple apparatus, which they might use in case of an emergency.

The subject will have the attention of the buildings and grounds committee of the board.

OBITUARY RECORD

The late James Martin, the sailor who died at Esquimalt on Monday last, was buried this afternoon at Ross Bay cemetery. Rev. Gilbert Cook conducting the funeral services, which were held at the Hanna-Thomson funeral parlors at 2.30.

The death occurred early this morning at the Jubilee hospital of Shew Young, a Chinese, who passed away at the age of 58. The deceased, who lived at 1517 Cormorant street, was a laborer by occupation, and was a native of Canton, where his wife survives him. He came to this country about a year ago, having lived in Vancouver most of that time, and coming here about a week ago. The funeral will be to-morrow afternoon at 1.30, from the B. C. Funeral parlors.

The death occurred this morning at St. Joseph's hospital of Wilson B. Denton, who was 35 years of age. The deceased, who lived at 2514 Government street, was a transfer by occupation, and emigrated from England. He had lived thirty years in this country and for the past two years had lived in Victoria. He is survived by his widow, his father, two brothers, Alfred, living in this city, and William, living in Winnipeg, and three sisters, Mrs. Thomas Stephens, at present visiting in Victoria; Mrs. Baker, of Winnipeg; and Mrs. Thompson, living in Amarant, Manitoba. A niece, Miss Marie Gray, of this city, also survives him. The funeral will take place at 2.30 on Saturday from the B. C. funeral chapel.

WANT MORE POLICE

Ranchers of Nicola Valley Say They Are Suffering From Cattle Thieves.

Alex. Lucas, M.P.P., has received a request from ranchers in the Nicola Valley for the addition of another man to the provincial police force there. They state in their communication that during the past year there have been numerous thefts of cattle from their ranches and from the Indian owners. These thefts aggregate over fifty and were not discovered until the spring round-up.

At present there are two provincial constables in the valley, one being stationed at Merritt and the other at Nicola, where the government agent has his office. The ranchers want a special man detailed to investigate the cattle stealing, and believe that if such a man is appointed the rustler, or rustlers, will be located. They are of the opinion that an organized gang is at work.

Mr. Lucas has forwarded the request to Attorney-General Bowser.

Mrs. (Rev.) J. A. Wood will receive to-morrow afternoon at the new parsonage, 551 McPherson Ave., and on the second Friday of each month.

Mrs. H. K. Puckle will receive on Friday, April 11, but not again this season.

Mrs. Walter E. Adams will not receive to-morrow at 1790 North Hampshire road.

SWEEPSTAKE CASES

ARE ALL REMANDED

None of Accused Were Ready to Plead or Elect; H. L. Salmon is Ill

The charges against Percy Richardson, E. A. Morris and H. L. Salmon of conducting lotteries or sweepstakes on the Grand National stepphase were read in police court this morning and all three cases were remanded without election or plea. G. A. Morphy, who appeared for Richardson, said that he was not ready to plead or elect, but would have looked into the case by Tuesday, which day was set for the hearing. Thornton Fell appeared for Mr. Salmon and stated that his client was ill and asked for a remand for a week. By that time he hoped his client would be well and at any rate Mr. Fell would be ready to plead.

G. I. Dunn, local manager for E. A. Morris, appeared in his behalf as Mr. Morris was in Vancouver. This case was remanded until Monday when Mr. Morris will be here.

THREATENED TO DIE

Old-Time Vagrant Failed to Win Over Inspector Perdue.

Thomas Kennedy's pathetic appeal failed to touch the iron heart of padlocked police Inspector Perdue of the detective department. Kennedy called at Mr. Perdue's house yesterday and asked for a loaf of bread, a jug of wine, but the inspector kindly but firmly refused. "All right then, I'll go out some of those days and lie down and die, and then you'll be sorry," wept Kennedy. In police court this morning, charged with vagrancy, Kennedy denied that he had done any begging, but his fingerprints showed that he had been arrested in nearly every city along

WAS NEARLY LOST IN A CANOE ACCIDENT

Late Christopher Morley Had Adventurous Career in Early Days

A tragedy of an upset canoe in the Comox district is recalled in the death of Christopher Morley, whose funeral takes place to-morrow. Mr. Shotbolt, an executor, and friend of the deceased for half a century, said this morning that Mr. Morley was of an adventurous turn of mind in the days when he came here first. After returning from the Cariboo he broke from the beaten track and instead of returning by the lakes and the Fraser, he headed across the Bute Inlet route, and crossed the straits near Seymour Narrows. He had many adventures by field and flood, and later started into the Comox district with two friends, Sidney Reynolds and Todd. During the trip they were crossing a stretch of water near Union Bay when the canoe was swamped, and although all could swim more or less, Morley alone reached land in an exhausted condition.

Mr. Morley went gold mining in the Leach River district during the excitement of 1864 and 1865, and was very successful. Mr. Shotbolt says he personally went to Leach river, where there were numbers of miners at work, and saw the activity at that time.

Mr. Shotbolt founded the business at the corner of Cook street and Yates street, which was subsequently purchased by J. K. Greenwood and the deceased. Mr. Morley subsequently acquired the interest, and moved to Washington alley, where it is now carried on.

MASS MEETING FOR EARLY CLOSING DAY

Representative Interests of City Are Invited to Gather on Monday Week

On April 21 there is to be a mass meeting in the Victoria theatre, under the auspices of the Retail Employees' Association, to hear the argument for a weekly half holiday. The association has invited the representative interests of the community to be represented on the platform.

Dean Doull, Rev. Dr. Scott and Rev. William Stevenson have accepted invitations to speak, and among others whom it is expected will be present is Parker Williams, M. P. P.

There is to be a meeting of the executive on Monday, at which arrangements for the mass meeting, to be held on the following Monday, are to be made.

PARADE ARRANGED FOR CARNIVAL WEEK

Daughters of Empire Have Charge of the Leading Feature.

The parade committee of the Victoria Citizens' Committee held a largely attended meeting at the Real Estate Exchange rooms last night and mapped out a lengthy programme for a parade during the Carnival week.

The Daughters of the Empire are to take charge of the historical section of the parade, which will be divided into six sections, that section, naming the various stages of the history of Vancouver Island and Victoria. The first will portray the simple red man, then the arrival of the Spaniards under Quadra, the arrival of Vancouver, and so down to the present day.

Following the historical section will come the patriotic section in which the various fraternal and other societies will have special floats. The Daughters and Knights of Pythias delegation last night announced that they will carry off the prize to be given for the best float, but it is probable that the other organizations will make a strong bid to dispossess them.

There will be a section devoted to the portrayal of the various technical features of city life, which section will be managed by the Trades and Labor Council.

The manufacturers will also have floats, as well as the retailers. The fire department will also parade with the equipment which has placed it among the foremost on the continent.

Prizes in the form of trophies and shields are to be awarded to those exhibiting the most artistic floats in the parade. It has been decided not to award cash prizes as the trophies are of a more permanent character.

On April 24, at eight o'clock there will be another meeting for the purpose of completing arrangements and to ascertain the exact number of those who will have floats in the parade and a request has been issued that every organization should have a delegate to represent it at the meeting, as the final details are to be settled then.

Cigarette smoking in public places became "bad form" among the local Chinese at Shanghai recently, and the embersome native pipe came into vogue once more.

MORE VEHICLE CASES

Express Drivers Complain of By-law but Three Are Fined.

Harold Smith and Cecil Sharpe were charged in police court this morning by Inspector Palmer with violations of the vehicles by-law in that they allowed their express wagons to stand in Cormorant street less than 20 feet apart. They were allowed to go with warnings as these were the first cases brought under this section of the by-law.

Martin E. Stratton, Bernard Byron and Edward C. Richardson were fined $5 each for standing with their vehicles for hire against the curb in the south side of Cormorant street instead of on the stand. The men complained that the stand was full and that to go down into Fisgard street would be to go where nobody would come to give them any business.

STRIKE SITUATION SHOWING NO CHANGE

Talk of Compromise at Nelson but Neither Side Will Give Way

Nelson, B. C., April 10.—Although there was talk of compromise between employers and strikers yesterday, prospects of a settlement this morning are not bright unless the men consent to return to work on the schedule prepared by employers last week, in which some laborers are offered an increase of twenty-five cents

LONG BRIDGES FOR CANADIAN NORTHERN

Track-Laying From Port Mann to Kamloops Complete in December

Vancouver, April 10.—Track laying and bridge construction along the main line of the C. N. R. between Port Mann and Kamloops, a distance of 243 miles, will be completed by the end of next December, according to the calculation of a leading official of the engineering department. A junction between gangs working eastward and westward, respectively, is likely to be effected in the vicinity of Ashcroft on the main Thompson river. In this eventuality the last spike will be driven in the region north of the headwaters of the North Thompson, near Alberta Summit.

Track layers moving eastward have now reached Cultus creek, ten and one-half miles east of Yale. They will be delayed a week pending the erection of a 160-foot steel bridge across that stream, before having a straightaway fifteen miles beyond to Anderson creek. No less than nineteen steel bridges will be built. Nine of them, of a smaller type, will vary in length from 70 to 310 feet.

The rails are expected to reach the first crossing of the Fraser river at Cisco in August next. Six weeks, it is estimated, will be occupied in placing in position the steel girders of a 725-foot arch and girder bridge. A few miles beyond the line will cross back to the south bank of the Fraser, near Lytton, on a 891-foot steel truss bridge. Seven steel bridges will also span the main Thompson river, and one similar bridge will cross the North Thompson at Kamloops.

GREAT NORTHERN ON KETTLE VALLEY LINE

Running Rights Over Fifty-Seven Miles Over the Hope Mountains

Vancouver, April 10.—An agreement was entered into last night between J. J. Warren, president of the Kettle Valley Railway and L. C. Gilman of Seattle, assistant to the president of the Great Northern Railway, whereby the former company will build, own and operate a single-track line 57 miles long over the Hope mountains from Hope to a common junction point at Otter Summit, 18 miles east of the main Hope summit. In the section referred to the Great Northern will be accorded running rights, paying an annual rental in perpetuity based on a certain percentage of the cost of construction, estimated at a total of $75,000 a mile. A contract for the mountain section will be awarded within the next thirty days. The Kettle Valley line will bridge the Fraser in the vicinity of Hope, effecting a junction with the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The Great Northern from Hope, will run into Vancouver over its own line now nearing completion in the lower Fraser river valley.

The settlement above referred to was effected last night after a two days' conference, which concluded negotiations extending over a period of three years.

BUOYANCY DURING THE EARLY TRADING

After St. Paul and Pennsylvania Announcements List Turned Heavy

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
New York, April 10.—The market during the early trading reflected the buoyancy of American issues in London and some moderate buying for account, particularly of copper and Erie issues was reported, but after it was announced that St. Paul would issue $50,000,000 in bonds, and later Pennsylvania was about to issue $45,000,000 in stock, the list turned heavy and declined rather easily. Now that two of the largest railroads have taken the initiative in matter of providing funds for future requirements attention is again directed to the existing state of affairs. Money is in active demand for commercial purposes and the apparent ease of demand accommodations in New York seemingly reflects a superficial condition. The inquiry for funds for stock market purposes has of late been so light as to suggest that the ease of money rates is due more to a lack of demand than to a plentiful supply of offerings.

ACTIVE INTEREST IN DAY'S TRADING

Improvement Noted on Victoria Exchange in Demand for Stocks

Victoria, April 10.—Active interest characterized trading on the local stock exchange to-day, and an improvement in demand was noted throughout the list. Sales of McGillivray Coal were effected. Coronation was stronger, but sellers retreated so soon as the strength was noticed. Blackbird Syndicate was bid up quickly and closed at $140@150 which is the highest level yet reached. Others of the list were correspondingly strong.

TREND IN WHEAT IS BEARISH FROM START

Losses Mostly on May; Closing Rally With Late Crop Months Supported

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, April 10.—Following yesterday's bull turn, trend in wheat to-day became easily defined as bearish from the start. Losses were most in May, being one cent, with a slight rally at the close, while the later crop months showed fair support on each decline. No losses were fractional. No one questions the very higher promise of the winter crop at this time. Everybody, however, is ready to calculate on a material lowering of this condition in the near future. Bullish influences to-day were the cold, wet weather over the northwest delaying preparations for the spring crop.

ART OF BOOKBINDING
TRACED THROUGH AGES

Miss Lang Reads Clever Paper Before Island Arts and Crafts Club

A very well-attended meeting of the Island Arts and Crafts Club listened last evening to one of the most interesting papers that has ever been presented to the society, when Miss Lang, who has charge of the department devoted to bookbinding in the newly-organized Island Arts and Crafts school, gave a cleverly prepared dissertation on this subject. Dr. Hasell was in the chair, and announced that next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, the instructors would have a demonstration for the Boy Scouts.

Miss Lang outlined the history of bookbinding, tracing its evolution from the earliest times when men recorded their thoughts on bones and pieces of stone. After that came the Egyptians with their papyrus rolls; then the Greeks and Romans with little plates hinged together, on which their writings were preserved. Later came the use of vellum and parchment, which, when written upon, was put away in boxes of wood or earthenware. It was not until the sixth century that, under the Byzantine Empire, bookbinding was really evolved. Curiously enough one of the earliest bookbinders was an Irishman, who lived about 553. Italy was the first country to discontinue the use of wooden boards for book covers, and instituted the stiff paper covers over which leather was stretched.

Truly did some beautiful work until about the middle of the fifteenth century, when she rapidly deteriorated in the art of bookbinding. In France a guild was formed to protect bookbinders, and in the middle of the sixteenth century the craft had reached its greatest development in that country. In the early part of the century succeeding the first successful inland work was done on book covers. England always had a distinctive art in bookbinding. From the very earliest she had used the more durable and better-tanned brown leathers for bookbinding rather than the white dog-skin affected in so many instances by other countries. Holland, Germany and France sent over numbers of their bookbinders to England about the end of the eighteenth century, however, and with them came the methods of the bookbinders of these respective countries. Sanderson, an English bookbinder was one of the first men to break away from tradition and design the cover of a book to suit the contents. It was in England, too, about 1822, that cloth bindings were first thought of.

Miss Lang in conclusion gave some practical suggestions on the subject of bookbinding, pointing out what were the most durable leathers, and recommending as the best possible bookbinding Nigerian goat skins; calf-skin, like pigskin; might be tough, but the grain was too short to make a really lasting leather. The speaker, referring to some of the more notable modern bookbinders, mentioned Sangorski, a Pole, who had become a naturalized Englishman, who did one of the most magnificent pieces of work of all time. This craftsman, however, was drowned a week after his greatest and most famous creation went down on the Titanic.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks, moved by Mr. Daniel and seconded by Miss Killo, refreshments being served before the adjournment.

CORONATION CHAPTER
ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Arrangements Connected With Reception at Government House in June Discussed.

A special meeting of the Coronation Day Chapter of the Children of the Empire was held in the King's Daughters rest room, Courtney street, yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year and dealing with other important business. Mrs. Day, the regent, presided, and the principal matters brought up for discussion during the afternoon included that of the reception of the children of the chapter which is to be given by Mrs. Paterson at Government House on Saturday afternoon, June 21, for the purpose of presenting the membership

TRIMMED WITH BRIGHT PLAID.

Navy blue serge was made up in this style, which is an adaptation of the peasant's blouse. The dress slips on over the head, the facing at the top being tightened and tied after putting on. This facing is made of a bias fold of the plaid silk with ends wound and stitched with black silk threads. The straps at the sides are buttoned to the front and back panels with gilt buttons, and similar buttons with plaid loops are used as a trimming on the skirt and sleeves.

cards. All teachers present expressed their appreciation of Mrs. Paterson's kind act, and desired to assist in every way possible.

The meeting also discussed what should be done by the chapter in the forthcoming "Old English Fair." The action taken some weeks ago by the regent in asking for the exclusive right to sell ice cream, was endorsed, and it was decided that for this purpose an attractive booth should be put up.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Regent, Mrs. R. S. Day, by acclamation; treasurer, Miss Alexa Russell; secretary, Miss Williams; vice-regents, Girls' Central, Miss Bate; Boys' Central, Miss Tuck; George Jay, Miss Macleod; Spring Ridge, Miss Russell; Sir James Douglas, Miss Blankenbach; Bank street, Miss Paterson; South Park, Miss Long; Kingston street, Miss E. G. Lawson; Rock Bay, Miss Hardie; Victoria West, Miss Polson; North Ward, Mrs. Mackenzie; Hillside avenue, Miss Lucas; Fernwood, Miss Leggett. Councilors to Municipal Chapter, Miss Russell and Miss Lucas. Entertainment committee, Mrs. Day.
