Any owner or operator who is a first-party claimant who proposes to take corrective action or has undertaken corrective action in response to a release, the time of such release being unknown, may apply to the administrator for partial or full reimbursement under section 23-37-18. An owner or operator who is a first-party claimant may be reimbursed only for costs incurred after July 1, 1989, even if the releases were discovered before July 1, 1989, up to the maximum of twenty-five thousand dollars per location.

SECTION 21. AMENDMENT. Section 23-37-21 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

23-37-21. (Effective through July 31, 2009 2011) Liability of responsible person. The right to apply for reimbursement and the receipt of reimbursement does not limit the liability of an owner or operator for damages or costs incurred as the result of a release.

SECTION 22. AMENDMENT. Section 23-37-22 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

23-37-22. (Effective through July 31, 2009 2011) Reimbursement not subject to attachment. The amount of reimbursement to be paid for corrective action that was done by a third party is not subject to legal process or attachment if actually paid to a third party who performed the corrective action.

SECTION 24. AMENDMENT. Section 23-37-24 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

23-37-24. (Effective through July 31, 2009 2011) Costs exceeding reimbursement. 23-37-25. (Effective through July 31, 2009 2011) Coordination of benefits. If an owner or operator has an insurance policy that provides the same coverage as the fund, the administrator of the fund shall pay the share of the covered loss or damage for which the fund is responsible. The share that must be paid from the fund is equal to the proportion that the applicable limit of coverage under the fund bears to the limits of insurance of all insurance coverage on the same basis.

3. The administrator and the board shall review the conduct of any litigation or negotiation. The administrator may not assume any legal costs incurred by the defendant or plaintiff, but may participate in discovery, trial proceedings, or settlement negotiations of either disputed liability or damages that bear on the determination of a plaintiff's damages.
4. The administrator and the board shall review any settlement negotiations to determine the dollar amount of bodily injury or property damage actually, necessarily, and reasonably incurred by third parties which, if paid by the defendant, would be considered eligible costs.

SECTION 27. AMENDMENT. Section 23-37-27 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

9. In investigating a release site or reviewing the implementation of any corrective action plan approved by the department, the department shall determine whether the release currently threatens public health or the environment. 8. In case of other coverage on the same peril, the liability of each insurer may not be for any greater amount or proportion of the loss than the

6. If the assuming insurer is not licensed or accredited to transact insurance or reinsurance in this state, the credit permitted by subsections 3 and 4 may not be allowed unless the assuming insurer agrees in the reinsurance agreements:

26.1-33.2-08. General rules.

1. a. A viatical settlement provider entering into a viatical settlement contract must first obtain:
 - (1) If the viator is the insured, a written statement from a licensed attending physician that the viator is of sound mind and under no constraint or undue influence to enter into a viatical settlement contract;
 - (2) A witnessed document in which the viator consents to the viatical settlement contract, represents that the viator has a full and complete understanding of the viatical settlement contract, that the viator has a full and complete understanding of the benefits of the life insurance policy, acknowledges that the viator has entered into the viatical settlement contract freely and voluntarily, and, if applicable for the purposes of determining payments for persons who are terminally or chronically ill, acknowledges that the insured is terminally ill or is chronically ill and that the terminal or chronic illness or condition was diagnosed after the life insurance policy was issued; and company that issued the life insurance policy covering the life of the insured.

- b. Within twenty days after a viator executes documents necessary to transfer any rights under an insurance policy or within twenty days of entering any agreement, option, promise, or any other form of understanding, expressed or implied, to viaticate the policy, the viatical settlement provider must give written notice to the insurer that issued that insurance policy that the policy has or will become a viaticated policy. The notice must be accompanied by the documents required by subdivision c in their entirety.

The viatical provider must deliver a copy of the medical release required under paragraph 3 of subdivision a and a copy of the viator's application for the viatical settlement contract to the insurer that issued the life insurance policy that is the subject of the viatical transaction along with the notice required under subdivision b.

If the insured dies during the rescission period, the viatical settlement contract shall be deemed to have been rescinded, subject to repayment to the viatical settlement provider of all viatical settlement proceeds, and any premiums, loans, and loan interest that have been paid by the viatical settlement provider.
4. The viatical settlement provider must instruct the viator to send the executed documents required to effect the change in ownership, assignment, or change in beneficiary directly to the independent escrow agent. Within three business days after the date the escrow agent receives the document or from the date the viatical settlement provider receives the documents, if the viator erroneously provides the documents directly to the provider, the escrow agent shall pay or transfer the proceeds of the viatical settlement into an escrow or trust account maintained in a state or federally chartered financial institution whose deposits are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation. Upon payment of the settlement proceeds into the escrow account, the escrow agent shall deliver the original change in ownership, assignment, or change in beneficiary forms to the viatical settlement provider. Upon the licensed provider's receipt of the acknowledgement of the transfer of ownership, assignment, or designation of beneficiary from the insurance company, the licensed provider shall instruct the escrow agent to pay the settlement proceeds to the viator. Payment must be made within three business days of the date the provider received the acknowledge forms from the insurance company.
5. Failure to tender consideration to the viator for the viatical settlement contract within the time disclosed pursuant to subdivision f of subsection 1 of section 26.1-33.2-07 renders the viatical settlement contract voidable by the viator for lack of consideration until the time consideration is tendered to and accepted by the viator.

6. Every viatical settlement licensee shall establish and at all times maintain a system of control over the content, form, and method of dissemination of all advertisements of its contracts, products, and services. All advertisements are the responsibility of the viatical settlement licensee, as well as the individual who created or presented the advertisement. Advertisements must be truthful and not misleading in fact or by implication.

26.1-33.2-09. Prohibited practices. It is a violation of this chapter for any person to enter into a viatical settlement contract within a two-year period commencing with the date of issuance of the insurance policy or certificate unless the viator certifies to the viatical settlement provider that one or more of the following conditions have been met within the two-year period:

1. The policy was issued upon the viator's exercise of conversion rights arising out of a group or individual policy, if the total of the time covered under the conversion policy plus the time covered under the prior policy is at least twenty-four months. The time covered under a group policy must be calculated without regard to any change in insurance carriers, if the coverage has been continuous and under the same group sponsorship.
2. The owner of the policy is a charitable organization exempt from taxation under 26 U.S.C. 501(c)(3).
3. The owner of the policy is not a natural person, such as a corporation, limited liability company, or partnership.

 - (8) The owner of the policy experiences a significant decrease in income that is unexpected by the owner and that impairs the owner's reasonable ability to pay the policy premium.
- b. The independent evidence must be submitted to the insurer when the viatical settlement provider submits a request to the insurer to effect transfer of policy or certificate to the viatical settlement provider. The insurer shall respond to the request in a timely manner. Nothing in this section prohibits an insurer from exercising its right to contest the validity of any policy on the grounds of fraud.
5. If the viatical settlement provider submits to the insurer a copy of the owner's or insured's certification described in subsection 4 when the viatical settlement provider submits a request to the insurer to effect the transfer of the policy or certificate to the viatical settlement provider, the copy must be deemed to conclusively establish that the viatical settlement contract is valid and enforceable and the insurer shall timely respond to the request.

The term includes the adoption of new rules and the amendment, repeal, or suspension of an existing rule. The term does not include:

 - a. A rule concerning only the internal management of an agency which does not directly or substantially affect the substantive or procedural rights or duties of any segment of the public.
 - b. A rule that sets forth criteria or guidelines to be used by the staff of an agency in the performance of audits, investigations, inspections, and settling commercial disputes or negotiating commercial arrangements, or in the defense, prosecution, or settlement of cases, if the disclosure of the statement would:

28-32-02. Rulemaking power of agency - Organizational rule.

1. The authority of an administrative agency to adopt administrative rules is authority delegated by the legislative assembly. As part of that delegation, the legislative assembly reserves to itself the authority to determine when and if rules of administrative agencies are effective. Every administrative agency may adopt, amend, or repeal reasonable rules in conformity with this chapter and any statute administered or enforced by the agency.
2. In addition to other rulemaking requirements imposed by law, each agency shall include in its rules a description of that portion of its organization and functions subject to this chapter, stating the general course and method of its operations and how the public may obtain information or make submissions or requests.

28-32-03. Emergency rules. If the agency finds that emergency rulemaking is necessary because of imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare, because a delay in rulemaking is likely to cause a loss of revenues appropriated to support a duty imposed by law upon the agency, or because reasonably necessary to avoid a delay in implementing an appropriations measure, the agency may declare the proposed rule to be an interim final rule effective on a date no earlier than the date of filing with the legislative council of the notice required by section 28-32-10. A final rule adopted after consideration of all written and oral submissions respecting the interim final rule, which is substantially similar to the interim final rule, is effective as of the declared effective date of the interim final rule. The agency's finding, and a brief statement of the agency's reasons for the finding, must be filed with the office of the legislative council, with the final adopted emergency rule. The agency shall take appropriate measures to make interim final rules known to every person who may be affected by them. An interim final rule is ineffective one hundred eighty days after its declared effective date unless first adopted as a final rule.

28-32-04. Repeal or waiver of rules from federal guidelines.

1. An agency shall repeal or amend any existing rule that was adopted from federal guidelines and which is not relevant to state regulatory programs.
2. An agency may not adopt rules from federal guidelines which are not relevant to state regulatory programs when developing or modifying programs.
3. An agency shall seek a waiver from the appropriate United States agency when the United States agency is evaluating current programs or delegating or modifying programs, to relieve the agency from complying with or adopting rules that are not relevant to state regulatory programs.

28-32-05. Adoption by reference of certain rules.

1. When adopting rules, an agency shall adopt by reference any applicable existing permit or procedural rules that may be adapted for use in a new or existing program.
2. An agency shall seek authorization from the appropriate United States agency to adopt by reference applicable existing permit or procedural rules that may be adapted for use in a new or existing program when the United States agency is delegating or modifying a program.

28-32-06. Force and effect of rules. Upon becoming effective, rules have the force and effect of law until amended or repealed by the agency, declared invalid by a final court decision, suspended or found to be void by the administrative rules committee, or determined repealed by the office of the legislative council because the authority for adoption of the rules is repealed or transferred to another agency.

28-32-07. Deadline for rules to implement statutory change. Any rule change, including a creation, amendment, or repeal, made to implement a statutory change must be adopted and filed with the office of the legislative council within nine months of the effective date of the statutory change. If an agency needs additional time for the rule change, a request for additional time must be made to the legislative council. The legislative council may extend the time within which the agency must adopt the rule change if the request by the agency is supported by evidence that the agency needs more time through no deliberate fault of its own.

28-32-08. Regulatory analysis.

1. An agency shall issue a regulatory analysis of a proposed rule if:
 - a. Within twenty days after the last published notice date of a proposed rule hearing, a written request for the analysis is filed by the governor or a member of the legislative assembly; or
 - b. The proposed rule is expected to have an impact on the regulated community in excess of fifty thousand dollars. The analysis under this subdivision must be available on or before the first date of public notice as provided for in section 28-32-10.
2. The regulatory analysis must contain:

- a. A description of the classes of persons who probably will be affected by the proposed rule, including classes that will bear the costs of the proposed rule and classes that will benefit from the proposed rule;
 - b. A description of the probable impact, including economic impact, of the proposed rule;
 - c. The probable costs to the agency of the implementation and enforcement of the proposed rule and any anticipated effect on state revenues; and
 - d. A description of any alternative methods for achieving the purpose of the proposed rule that were seriously considered by the agency and the reasons why the methods were rejected in favor of the proposed rule.
3. Each regulatory analysis must include quantification of the data to the extent practicable.
 4. The agency shall mail or deliver a copy of the regulatory analysis to any person who requests a copy of the regulatory analysis. The agency may charge for the actual cost of providing copies of the regulatory analysis.
 5. If required under subsection 1, the preparation and issuance of a regulatory analysis is a mandatory duty of the agency proposing a rule. Errors in a regulatory analysis, including erroneous determinations concerning the impact of the proposed rule on the regulated community, are not a ground upon which the invalidity of a rule may be asserted or declared.

28-32-09. Takings assessment.

1. An agency shall prepare a written assessment of the constitutional takings implications of a proposed rule that may limit the use of private real property. The agency's assessment must:
 - a. Assess the likelihood that the proposed rule may result in a taking or regulatory taking.
 - b. Clearly and specifically identify the purpose of the proposed rule.
 - c. Explain why the proposed rule is necessary to substantially advance that purpose and why no alternative action is available that would achieve the agency's goals while reducing the impact on private property owners.
 - d. Estimate the potential cost to the government if a court determines that the proposed rule constitutes a taking or regulatory taking.
 - e. Identify the source of payment within the agency's budget for any compensation that may be ordered.
 - f. Certify that the benefits of the proposed rule exceed the estimated compensation costs.

2. Any private landowner who is or may be affected by a rule that limits the use of the landowner's private real property may request in writing that the agency reconsider the application or need for the rule. Within thirty days of receiving the request, the agency shall consider the request and shall in writing inform the landowner whether the agency intends to keep the rule in place, modify application of the rule, or repeal the rule.
3. In an agency's analysis of the takings implications of a proposed rule, "taking" means the taking of private real property, as defined in section 47-01-03, by government action which requires compensation to the owner of that property by the fifth or fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States or section 16 of article I of the Constitution of North Dakota. "Regulatory taking" means a taking of real property through the exercise of the police and regulatory powers of the state which reduces the value of the real property by more than fifty percent. However, the exercise of a police or regulatory power does not effect a taking if it substantially advances legitimate state interests, does not deny an owner economically viable use of the owner's land, or is in accordance with applicable state or federal law.

28-32-10. Notice of rulemaking - Hearing date.

1. An agency shall prepare a full notice and an abbreviated notice of rulemaking.

 - a. The agency's full notice of the proposed adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule must include a short, specific explanation of the proposed rule and the purpose of the proposed rule, a determination of whether the proposed rulemaking is expected to have an impact on the regulated community in excess of fifty thousand dollars, identify at least one location where interested persons may review the text of the proposed rule, provide the address to which written data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed rule may be sent, provide a telephone number at which a copy of the rules and regulatory analysis may be requested, and, in the case of a substantive rule, provide the time and place set for each oral hearing. The agency's full notice must be filed with the office of the legislative council, and the agency shall request publication of an abbreviated newspaper publication notice at least once in each official county newspaper published in this state. The notice filed with the office of the legislative council must be accompanied by a copy of the proposed rules.
 - b. The abbreviated newspaper publication of notice must be in a display-type format with a minimum width of one column of approximately two inches [5.08 centimeters] and a depth of from three inches [7.62 centimeters] to four inches [10.16 centimeters] with a headline describing the general topic of the proposed rules. The notice must also include the address and telephone number to use to obtain a copy of the proposed rules or to submit written comments and the location, date, and time of the public hearing on the rules.
2. The agency shall mail a copy of the agency's full notice to each person who has made a timely request to the agency for a mailed copy of the notice. The agency may mail or otherwise provide a copy of the agency's full notice to any person who is likely to be an interested person. The agency shall mail or deliver a copy of the rules to any person requesting a copy. The agency may charge for the actual cost of providing copies of the proposed rule.

3. In addition to the other notice requirements of this subsection, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide notice of any proposed rulemaking by the superintendent of public instruction to each association with statewide membership whose primary focus is elementary and secondary education issues which has requested to receive notice from the superintendent under this subsection and to the superintendent of each public school district in this state, or the president of the school board for school districts that have no superintendent, at least thirty days before the date of the hearing described in the notice. Notice provided by the superintendent of public instruction under this section must be by first-class mail. However, upon request of a group or person entitled to notice under this section, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide the group or person notice by electronic mail.
4. The legislative council shall establish standard procedures for all agencies to follow in complying with the provisions of this section and a procedure to allow any person to request and receive mailed copies of all filings made by agencies pursuant to this section. The legislative council may charge an annual fee as established by the administrative rules committee for providing copies of the filings.
5. At least thirty days must elapse between the later of the date of the publication of the notice or the date the legislative council mails copies of an agency's notice and the date of the hearing. The thirty-day period begins on the first business day of the month in which the notices must be mailed or on the date of the publication, whichever is later. Subject to subsection 4, notices filed on or before the last calendar day of the preceding month must be mailed by the legislative council on the first business day of the following month to any person making a request.

28-32-11. Conduct of hearings - Consideration and written record of comments. The agency shall adopt a procedure whereby all interested persons are afforded reasonable opportunity to submit data, views, or arguments, orally or in writing, concerning the proposed rule, including data respecting the impact of the proposed rule. In case of substantive rules, the agency shall conduct an oral hearing. The agency shall consider fully all written and oral submissions respecting a proposed rule prior to the adoption, amendment, or repeal of any rule not of an emergency nature. The agency shall make a written record of its consideration of all written and oral submissions contained in the rulemaking record respecting a proposed rule.

28-32-12. Comment period. The agency shall allow, after the conclusion of any rulemaking hearing, a comment period of at least thirty days during which data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed rulemaking will be received by the agency and made a part of the rulemaking record to be considered by the agency.

28-32-13. Substantial compliance with rulemaking procedure. A rule is invalid unless adopted in substantial compliance with this chapter. However, inadvertent failure to supply any person with a notice required by section 28-32-10 does not invalidate a rule. Notwithstanding subsection 2 of section 28-32-42, an action to contest the validity of a rule on the grounds of noncompliance with this chapter may not be commenced more than two years after the effective date of the rule.

28-32-14. Attorney general review of rules. Every rule proposed by any administrative agency must be submitted to the attorney general for an opinion as to its legality before final adoption, and the attorney general promptly shall furnish each such opinion. The attorney general may not approve any rule as to legality when the rule exceeds the statutory authority of the agency or is written in a manner that is not concise or easily understandable or when the procedural requirements for adoption of the rule in this chapter are not substantially met. The attorney general shall advise an agency of any revision or rewording of a rule necessary to correct objections as to legality.

28-32-15. Filing of rules for publication - Effective date of rules.

1. A copy of each rule adopted by an administrative agency, and the attorney general's opinion thereon, must be filed by the adopting agency with the office of the legislative council for publication in the North Dakota Administrative Code.
2. Nonemergency rules approved by the attorney general as to legality, adopted by an administrative agency, and filed with the office of the legislative council become effective the first day of the month after the month of publication as provided for in section 28-32-19, except that if a later date is required by statute, specified in the rule, or provided under section 28-32-18, the later date is the effective date. A rule found to be void by the administrative rules committee is void from the time provided under section 28-32-18. If publication is delayed due to technological problems or lack of funds, nonemergency rules, unless otherwise provided, become effective on the first day of the month after the month publication would have occurred but for the delay.

28-32-16. Petition for reconsideration of rule - Hearing by agency. Any person substantially interested in the effect of a rule adopted by an administrative agency may petition such agency for a reconsideration of any such rule or for an amendment or repeal thereof. Such petition must state clearly and concisely the petitioners' alleged grounds for such reconsideration or for the proposed repeal or amendment of such rule. The agency may grant the petitioner a public hearing upon such terms and conditions as the agency may prescribe.

28-32-17. Administrative rules committee objection. If the legislative council's administrative rules committee objects to all or any portion of a rule because the committee deems it to be unreasonable, arbitrary, capricious, or beyond the authority delegated to the adopting agency, the committee may file that objection in certified form in the office of the legislative council. The filed objection must contain a concise statement of the committee's reasons for its action.

1. The office of the legislative council shall attach to each objection a certification of the time and date of its filing and, as soon as possible, shall transmit a copy of the objection and the certification to the agency adopting the rule in question. The office of the legislative council shall also maintain a permanent register of all committee objections.
2. The office of the legislative council shall publish an objection filed pursuant to this section in the next issue of the code supplement. In case of a filed committee objection to a rule subject to the exceptions of the definition of rule in section 28-32-01, the agency shall indicate the existence of that objection adjacent to the rule in any compilation containing that rule.

3. Within fourteen days after the filing of a committee objection to a rule, the adopting agency shall respond in writing to the committee. After receipt of the response, the committee may withdraw or modify its objection.
4. After the filing of a committee objection, the burden of persuasion is upon the agency in any action for judicial review or for enforcement of the rule to establish that the whole or portion thereof objected to is within the procedural and substantive authority delegated to the agency. If the agency fails to meet its burden of persuasion, the court shall declare the whole or portion of the rule objected to invalid and judgment must be rendered against the agency for court costs. These court costs must include a reasonable attorney's fee and must be payable from the appropriation of the agency which adopted the rule in question.

28-32-18. Administrative rules committee may void rule - Grounds - Amendment by agreement of agency and committee.

1. The legislative council's administrative rules committee may find that all or any portion of a rule is void if that rule is initially considered by the committee within ninety days after the date of the administrative code supplement in which the rule change appears, or, for rule changes appearing in the administrative code supplement from November first immediately preceding a regular session of the legislative assembly through the following May first, if that rule is initially considered by the committee at the first meeting of the administrative rules committee following the regular session of the legislative assembly. The administrative rules committee may find a rule or portion of a rule void if the committee makes the specific finding that, with regard to that rule or portion of a rule, there is:
 - a. An absence of statutory authority.
 - b. An emergency relating to public health, safety, or welfare.
 - c. A failure to comply with express legislative intent or to substantially meet the procedural requirements of this chapter for adoption of the rule.
 - d. A conflict with state law.
 - e. Arbitrariness and capriciousness.
 - f. A failure to make a written record of its consideration of written and oral submissions respecting the rule under section 28-32-11.
2. The administrative rules committee may find a rule void at the meeting at which the rule is initially considered by the committee or may hold consideration of that rule for one subsequent meeting. Within three business days after the administrative rules committee finds that a rule is void, the office of the legislative council shall provide written notice of that finding and the committee's specific finding under subdivisions a through f of subsection 1 to the adopting agency and to the chairman of the legislative council. Within fourteen days after receipt of the notice, the adopting agency may file a petition with the chairman of the legislative council for review by the legislative council of the decision of the administrative rules committee. If the adopting agency does not file a petition for review, the rule becomes void on the fifteenth day after the notice from the office of the legislative council to the adopting agency. If within sixty days after receipt of the petition from the adopting agency the legislative council has not disapproved by motion the finding of the administrative rules committee, the rule is void.

3. An agency may amend or repeal a rule or create a related rule if, after consideration of rules by the administrative rules committee, the agency and committee agree that the rule amendment, repeal, or creation is necessary to address any of the considerations under subsection 1. A rule amended, repealed, or created under this subsection is not subject to the other requirements of this chapter relating to adoption of administrative rules and may be resubmitted by the agency to the legislative council for publication as amended, repealed, or created and reconsidered by the administrative rules committee at a subsequent meeting at which public comment on the agreed rule change must be allowed.

28-32-19. Publication of administrative code and code supplement.

1. The office of the legislative council shall compile, index, and publish all rules filed pursuant to this chapter in a publication which must be known as the North Dakota Administrative Code, in this chapter referred to as the code. The code must also contain all objections filed with the office of the legislative council by the administrative rules committee pursuant to section 28-32-17. The code must be printed or otherwise duplicated in looseleaf form. The office of the legislative council shall revise all or part of the code as often as the legislative council deems necessary.
2. The office of the legislative council may prescribe a format, style, and arrangement for rules which are to be published in the code, and may refuse to accept the filing of any rule that is not in substantial compliance therewith. In arranging rules for publication, the office of the legislative council may make such corrections in spelling, grammatical construction, format, and punctuation of the rules as deemed proper. The office of the legislative council shall keep and maintain a permanent code of all rules filed, including superseded and repealed rules, which must be open to public inspection during office hours.
3. The office of the legislative council shall compile and publish the North Dakota Administrative Code supplement, in this chapter referred to as the code supplement, the month after the month that rules are submitted to the office of the legislative council for publication unless technological problems or lack of funds prevent the publication at that time. Any delayed supplements must be published as soon as the technological problems are resolved or the necessary funds are available.
 - a. The code supplement must contain all rules filed with the office of the legislative council since the compilation and publication of the preceding issue of the code supplement. The office of the

- j. Secretary of state, one copy.
 - k. Legislative council, four copies.
 - l. Each member of the legislative assembly, one copy, upon request.
2. The office of the legislative council, each county auditor in the state, and the librarians for the supreme court library, the state library, the university of North Dakota law library, and the five depository libraries as designated according to subsection 1 and section 54-24-09 shall maintain a complete, current set of the code, including revisions and the code supplement.
3. The secretary of state shall make copies of and subscriptions to the code and code supplement available to any person upon payment of the appropriate subscription fee.
4. The office of the legislative council shall determine the appropriate fee for subscribing to the code and code supplement.
5. All fees collected by the secretary of state must be deposited in the general fund of the state treasury.
6. The administrative code, revisions to the administrative code, and the code supplement must be considered sixth-class printing under sections 46-02-04 and 46-02-09.

28-32-21. Adjudicative proceedings - Procedures. Administrative agencies shall comply with the following procedures in all adjudicative proceedings:

1. a. For adjudicative proceedings involving a hearing on a complaint against a specific-named respondent, a complainant shall prepare and file a clear and concise complaint with the agency having subject matter jurisdiction of the proceeding. The complaint shall contain a concise statement of the claims or charges upon which the complainant relies including reference to the statute or rule alleged to be violated, and the relief sought.
 - b. After a complaint is filed, the appropriate administrative agency shall serve a copy of the complaint upon the respondent in the manner allowed for the service of process under the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure at least forty-five days before the hearing on the complaint.
 - c. The administrative agency shall designate the time and place for the hearing and shall serve a copy of the notice of hearing upon the respondent in the manner allowed for service under the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure, at least twenty days before the hearing on the complaint. Service of the notice of hearing may be waived in writing by the respondent, or the parties may agree on a definite time and place for hearing with the consent of the agency having jurisdiction.
 - d. A complaint may be served less than forty-five days before the time specified for a hearing on the complaint and a notice of hearing on a complaint may be served less than twenty days before the time

- specified for hearing if otherwise authorized by statute. However, an administrative hearing regarding the renewal, suspension, or revocation of a license may not be held fewer than ten days after the licensee has been served, personally or by certified mail, with a copy of a notice for hearing with an affidavit, complaint, specification of issues, or other document alleging violations upon which the license hearing is based.
- e. A complaint may inform the respondent that an answer to the complaint must be served upon the complainant and the agency with which the complaint is filed within twenty days after service of the complaint, or the agency may deem the complaint to be admitted. If the respondent fails to answer as required within twenty days after service of the complaint, the agency may enter an order in default as the facts and law may warrant. Answers must be served in the manner allowed for service under the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure.
 - f. Service is complete upon compliance with the provisions of the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure. Proof of service may be made as provided in the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure.
 - g. A respondent may be given less than twenty days to answer the complaint, pursuant to another statute, but no respondent may be required to answer a complaint in less than five days and an answer must be served on the complainant and the agency with which the complaint is filed at least two days before the hearing on the complaint.
 - h. Amended and supplemental pleadings may be served and filed with the agency in the manner allowed for amended and supplemental pleadings under the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure.
2. At any hearing in an adjudicative proceeding, the parties shall be afforded opportunity to present evidence and to examine and cross-examine witnesses as is permitted under sections 28-32-24 and 28-32-35.
 - a. If the adjudicative proceeding does not involve a hearing on a complaint against a specific-named respondent, the provisions of subsection 1 do not apply. Unless otherwise provided by law, the provisions of subdivisions b through d apply.
 - b. The administrative agency shall designate the time and place for the hearing and shall serve a copy of the notice of hearing upon all the parties in the manner allowed for service under the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure at least twenty days before the hearing. Service of the notice of hearing may be waived in writing by the parties, or the parties may agree on a definite time and place for the hearing with the consent of the agency having jurisdiction.
 - c. A hearing under this subsection may not be held unless the parties have been properly served with a copy of the notice of hearing as well as a written specification of issues for hearing or other document indicating the issues to be considered and determined at the hearing. In lieu of, or in addition to, a specification of issues or other document, an explanation about the nature of the hearing and the issues to be considered and determined at the hearing may be contained in the notice.

- d. Service is complete upon compliance with the provisions of the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure. Proof of service may be made as provided in the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure.

28-32-22. Informal disposition. Unless otherwise prohibited by specific statute or rule, informal disposition may be made of any adjudicative proceeding, or any part or issue thereof, by stipulation, settlement, waiver of hearing, consent order, default, alternative dispute resolution, or other informal disposition, subject to agency approval. Any administrative agency may adopt rules of practice or procedure for informal disposition if such rules do not substantially prejudice the rights of any party. Such rules may establish procedures for converting an administrative matter from one type of proceeding to another type of proceeding.

28-32-23. Adjudicative proceedings - Exceptions - Rules of procedure. Notwithstanding the requirements for standardization of procedures in adjudicative proceedings under this chapter, an administrative agency may adopt specific agency rules of procedure not inconsistent with this chapter. An administrative agency may also adopt specific agency rules of procedure when necessary to comply with requirements found elsewhere in this code or when necessary to comply with the requirements of federal statutes, rules, or standards.

28-32-24. Evidence to be considered by agency - Official notice.

1. The admissibility of evidence in any adjudicative proceeding before an administrative agency shall be determined in accordance with the North Dakota Rules of Evidence. An administrative agency, or any person conducting proceedings for it, may waive application of the North Dakota Rules of Evidence if a waiver is necessary to ascertain the substantial rights of a party to the proceeding, but only relevant evidence shall be admitted. The waiver must be specifically stated, orally or in writing, either prior to or at a hearing or other proceeding.
2. All objections offered to evidence shall be noted in the record of the proceeding. No information or evidence except that which has been offered, admitted, and made a part of the official record of the proceeding shall be considered by the administrative agency, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.
3. Upon proper objection, evidence that is irrelevant, immaterial, unduly repetitious, or excludable on constitutional or statutory grounds, or on the basis of evidentiary privilege recognized in the courts of this state, may be excluded. In the absence of proper objection, the agency, or any person conducting a proceeding for it, may exclude objectionable evidence.
4. The North Dakota Rules of Evidence in regard to privileges apply at all stages of an administrative proceeding under this chapter.
5. All testimony must be made under oath or affirmation. Relevant statements presented by nonparties may be received as evidence if all parties are given an opportunity to cross-examine the nonparty witness or to otherwise challenge or rebut the statements. Nonparties may not examine or cross-examine witnesses except pursuant to a grant of intervention.

6. Evidence may be received in written form if doing so will expedite the proceeding without substantial prejudice to the interests of any party.
7. Official notice may be taken of any facts that could be judicially noticed in the courts of this state. Additionally, official notice may be taken of any facts as authorized in agency rules.

28-32-25. Adjudicative proceedings - Consideration of information not presented at a hearing. In any adjudicative proceeding, an administrative agency may avail itself of competent and relevant information or evidence in its possession or furnished by members of its staff, or secured from any person in the course of an independent investigation conducted by the agency, in addition to the evidence presented at the hearing. It may do so after first transmitting a copy of the information or evidence or an abstract thereof to each party of record in the proceeding. The agency must afford each party, upon written request, an opportunity to examine the information or evidence and to present its own information or evidence and to cross-examine the person furnishing the information or evidence. Any further testimony that is necessary shall be taken at a hearing to be called and held, giving at least ten days' notice. Notice must be served upon the parties in the manner allowed for service under the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure. This section also applies to information officially noticed after the hearing when the issuance of any initial or final order is based in whole or in part on the facts or material noticed.

28-32-26. Costs of investigation. An agency may assess the costs of an investigation to a person found to be in violation of a statute or rule as a result of an adjudicative proceeding or informal disposition. The total costs assessed and any civil penalty that may be imposed as a result of violation may not exceed the statutorily authorized civil penalty for the violation. For the purposes of this section, costs mean reasonable out-of-pocket agency costs, not including any attorney's fees, actually incurred in conducting the investigation for which they may be assessed. Any such costs paid must be paid into the general fund and are appropriated as a refund to the agency for the purposes of defraying the costs of undertaking the investigation.

28-32-27. Hearing officer - Disqualification - Substitution.

1. Any person or persons presiding for the agency in an administrative proceeding must be referred to individually or collectively as hearing officer. Any person from the office of administrative hearings presiding for the agency as a hearing officer in an administrative proceeding must be referred to as an administrative law judge.
2. Any hearing officer is subject to disqualification for good cause shown.
3. Any party may petition for the disqualification of any person presiding as a hearing officer upon discovering facts establishing grounds for disqualification.
4. A person whose disqualification is requested shall determine whether to grant the petition, stating facts and reasons for the determination.

5. If a substitute is required for a person who is disqualified or becomes unavailable for any other reason, the substitute may be appointed by:
 - a. The attorney general, if the disqualified or unavailable person is an assistant attorney general;
 - b. The agency head, if the disqualified or unavailable person is one or more members of the agency head or one or more other persons designated by the agency head;
 - c. A supervising hearings officer, if the disqualified or unavailable person is a hearing officer designated from an office, pool, panel, or division of hearings officers; or
 - d. The governor, in all other cases.
6. Any action taken by a duly appointed substitute for a disqualified or unavailable person is as effective as if taken by the disqualified or unavailable person.
7. Any hearing officer in an administrative proceeding, from the time of appointment or designation, may exercise any authority granted by law or rule. A hearing officer may be designated to preside over the entire administrative proceeding and may issue orders accordingly. A procedural hearing officer may only issue orders in regard to the course and conduct of the hearing under statute or rule and to otherwise effect an orderly hearing. If a procedural hearing officer is designated, the agency head must be present at the hearing and the agency head shall issue findings of fact and conclusions of law, as well as any order resulting from the hearing.

28-32-28. Intervention. An administrative agency may grant intervention in an adjudicative proceeding to promote the interests of justice if intervention will not impair the orderly and prompt conduct of the proceeding and if the petitioning intervenor demonstrates that the petitioner's legal rights, duties, privileges, immunities, or other legal interests may be substantially affected by the proceeding or that the petitioner qualifies as an intervenor under any provision of statute or rule. The agency may impose conditions and limitations upon intervention. The agency shall give reasonable notice of the intervention to all parties. An administrative agency may adopt rules relating to intervention in an adjudicative proceeding.

28-32-29. Prehearing conference. Before a hearing, an administrative agency may conduct a prehearing conference after giving reasonable notice to all parties and other interested persons. A prehearing conference may be conducted in total or in part by making use of telephone, fax services, television, or other electronic means, as long as such use does not substantially prejudice or infringe on the rights and interests of any party. An administrative agency may adopt rules regarding the availability of, notice of, and procedures for prehearing conferences.

28-32-30. Default.

1. If a party fails to attend or participate in a prehearing conference, hearing, or other stage of an adjudicative proceeding, the agency may enter and serve upon all parties written notice of default and a default order, including a statement of the grounds for default.

2. Within seven days after service of the default notice, order, and grounds, the party against whom default was ordered may file a written motion requesting that the default order be vacated and stating the grounds relied upon. During the time within which a party may file a written motion under this section, or at the time of issuing notice and the default order, the agency may adjourn the proceedings or conduct them without the participation of the party against whom a default order was issued, having due regard for the interests of justice and the orderly and prompt conduct of the proceedings. If an agency conducts further proceedings necessary to complete the administrative action without the participation of a party in default, it shall determine all the issues involved, including those affecting the defaulting party.

28-32-31. Duties of hearing officers. All hearing officers shall:

1. Assure that proper notice has been given as required by law.
2. Conduct only hearings and related proceedings for which proper notice has been given.
3. Assure that all hearings and related proceedings are conducted in a fair and impartial manner.
4. Make recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law and issue a recommended order, when appropriate.
5. Conduct the hearing only and perform such other functions of the proceeding as requested, when an agency requests a hearing officer to preside only as a procedural hearing officer. If the hearing officer is presiding only as a procedural hearing officer, the agency head must be present at the hearing and the agency head shall make findings of fact and conclusions of law and issue a final order. The agency shall give proper notice as required by law. The procedural hearing officer may issue orders in regard to the conduct of the hearing pursuant to statute or rule and to otherwise effect an orderly and prompt disposition of the proceedings.
6. Make findings of fact and conclusions of law and issue a final order, if required by statute or requested by an agency.
7. Function only as a procedural hearing officer, when an agency requests a hearing officer to preside for a rulemaking hearing. The agency head need not be present. The agency shall give proper notice as required by law.
8. Perform any and all other functions required by law, assigned by the director of administrative hearings, or delegated to the hearing officer by the agency.

28-32-32. Emergency adjudicative proceedings. An administrative agency may use an emergency adjudicative proceeding, in its discretion, in an emergency situation involving imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare.

1. In an emergency, the administrative agency may take action pursuant to a specific statute as is necessary to prevent or avoid imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare.

2. In an emergency, in the absence of a specific statute, an administrative agency may serve a complaint fewer than forty-five days before the hearing and give notice of a hearing on the complaint by giving less than twenty days' notice as is necessary to prevent or avoid imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare. But, every party to the emergency adjudicative proceeding must be given a reasonable time within which to serve an answer and to prepare for the hearing, which may be extended by the agency upon good cause being shown.
3. In an emergency, in the absence of a specific statute, in an adjudicative proceeding that does not involve a complaint against a specific-named respondent, an administrative agency may give notice of a hearing by giving less than twenty days' notice as is necessary to prevent or avoid imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare. But, every party to the emergency adjudicative proceeding shall be given a reasonable time to prepare for the hearing, which may be extended by the agency upon good cause being shown.
4. As a result of the emergency adjudicative proceeding, in the absence of a specific statute requiring other administrative action, the administrative agency shall issue an order. The order must include a brief statement of the reasons justifying the determination of imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare and requiring an emergency adjudicative proceeding to prevent or avoid the imminent peril.
5. After issuing an order pursuant to this section, the administrative agency shall proceed as soon as possible to complete any other proceedings related to the emergency adjudicative proceeding that do not involve imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare.

28-32-33. Adjudicative proceedings - Subpoenas - Discovery - Protective orders.

1. In an adjudicative proceeding, discovery may be obtained in accordance with the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure.
2. In an adjudicative proceeding, a party must first show good cause, by written petition, and get the written approval of the hearing officer, before obtaining discovery from an administrative agency. Before obtaining discovery from an administrative agency by means of a request for the production of documents that are public records, the requesting party must have first made a diligent and good-faith effort to review the documents under existing general law procedures for the inspection of public records and access must have been denied.
3. In any adjudicative proceeding, upon the request or motion of any party to the proceeding or upon the hearing officer's own motion on behalf of the agency, a hearing officer may issue subpoenas, discovery orders, and protective orders in accordance with the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure. A motion to quash or modify, or any other motion relating to subpoenas, discovery, or protective orders must be made to the hearing officer. The hearing officer's rulings on these motions may be appealed under section 28-32-42 after issuance of the final order by the agency. The cost of issuing and serving a subpoena in any adjudicative proceeding must be paid by the person or agency requesting it.

4. Any witness who is subpoenaed under the provisions of this section and who appears at a hearing or other part of an adjudicative proceeding, or whose deposition is taken, shall receive the same fees and mileage as a witness in a civil case in the district court. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party or agency at whose instance the witness appears. Any hearing officer may order the payment of witness fees or mileage by the appropriate party or agency.
5. Subpoenas, discovery orders, protective orders, and other orders issued under this section may be enforced by applying to any judge of the district court for an order requiring the attendance of a witness, the production of all documents and objects described in the subpoena, or otherwise enforcing an order. Failure of a witness or other person to comply with the order of the district court is contempt of court which is punishable by the district court, upon application. The judge may award attorney's fees to the prevailing party in an application under this subsection.

28-32-34. Administration of oaths - Parties to be advised of perjury provisions. Any hearing officer in an administrative proceeding has the power to examine witnesses and records and to administer oaths to witnesses. At the time the person presiding administers the oath to a witness, the person shall advise the witness of the provisions of subsection 1 of section 12.1-11-01 and of the maximum penalty for perjury.

28-32-35. Procedure at hearing. The person presiding at a hearing shall regulate the course of the hearing in conformity with this chapter and any rules adopted under this chapter by an administrative agency, any other applicable laws, and any prehearing order. To the extent necessary for full disclosure of all relevant facts and issues, the person presiding at the hearing shall afford to all parties and other persons allowed to participate the opportunity to respond, present evidence and argument, conduct cross-examination, and submit rebuttal evidence, except as restricted or conditioned by a grant of intervention or by a prehearing order. A hearing may be conducted in total or in part by making use of telephone, television, fax services, or other electronic means if each participant in the hearing has an opportunity to participate in, to hear, and, if practicable, to see the entire proceeding while it is taking place, and if such use does not substantially prejudice or infringe on the rights and interests of any party.

28-32-36. Agency to make record. An administrative agency shall make a record of all testimony, written statements, documents, exhibits, and other evidence presented at any adjudicative proceeding or other administrative proceeding heard by it. Oral testimony may be taken by a court reporter, by a stenographer, or by use of an electronic recording device. All evidence presented at any proceeding before the administrative agency shall be filed with the agency. A copy of the record of any proceeding before an administrative agency, or a part thereof, must be furnished to any party to the proceeding and to any other person allowed to participate in the proceeding, upon written request submitted to the agency and upon payment of a uniform charge to be set by the agency. Any fee paid to an administrative agency for the record, or a part thereof, shall be paid into the general fund and is appropriated as a refund to the agency for the purposes of defraying the costs of preparing the record. An agency may contract with any person or another agency to prepare a record, or a part thereof, of any proceeding before the agency.

28-32-37. Ex parte communications.

1. Except as provided in subsections 2 and 4 or unless required for the disposition of ex parte matters specifically authorized by another statute, an agency head or hearing officer in an adjudicative proceeding may not communicate, directly or indirectly, regarding any issue in the proceeding, while the proceeding is pending, with any party, with any person who has a direct or indirect interest in the outcome of the proceeding, with any other person allowed to participate in the proceeding, or with any person who presided at a previous stage of the proceeding, without notice and opportunity for all parties to participate in the communication.
2. When more than one person is the hearing officer in an adjudicative proceeding, those persons may communicate with each other regarding a matter pending before the panel. An agency head or hearing officer may communicate with or receive aid from staff assistants if the assistants do not furnish, augment, diminish, or modify the evidence in the record.
3. Except as provided in subsection 4 or unless required for the disposition of ex parte matters specifically authorized by statute, no party to an adjudicative proceeding, no person who has a direct or indirect interest in the outcome of the proceeding, no person allowed to participate in the proceeding, and no person who presided at a previous stage in the proceeding may communicate directly or indirectly in connection with any issue in that proceeding, while the proceeding is pending, with any agency head or hearing officer in the proceeding without notice and opportunity for all parties to participate in the communication.
4. In an adjudicative proceeding conducted by a hearing officer other than the agency head, counsel for the administrative agency and the agency head, without notice and opportunity for all parties to participate, may communicate and consult regarding the status of the adjudicative proceeding, discovery, settlement, litigation decisions, and other matters commonly communicated between attorney and client, to permit the agency head to make informed decisions. This subsection does not apply after recommended findings of fact, conclusions of law, and orders have been issued, except counsel for the administrative agency and the agency head may communicate regarding settlement and negotiation after recommended findings of fact, conclusions of law, and orders have been issued.
5. If, before being assigned, designated, or appointed to preside in an adjudicative proceeding, a person receives an ex parte communication of a type that could not properly be received while presiding, the person, promptly after being assigned, designated, or appointed, shall disclose the communication in the manner prescribed in subsection 6.
6. An agency head or hearing officer in an adjudicative proceeding who receives an ex parte communication in violation of this section shall place on the record of the pending matter all written communications received, all written responses to the communications, or a memorandum stating the substance of all oral communications received, all responses made, and the identity of each person from whom the person received an ex parte oral communication, and shall advise all parties, interested persons, and other persons allowed to participate that these matters have been placed on the record. Any person desiring to rebut the ex parte communication must be allowed to do so, upon requesting the opportunity for rebuttal. A request for rebuttal must be made within ten days after notice of the communication.

7. If necessary to eliminate the effect of an ex parte communication received in violation of this section, an agency head or hearing officer in an adjudicative proceeding who receives the communication may be disqualified, upon good cause being shown in writing to the hearing officer or to the agency. The portions of the record pertaining to the communication may be sealed by protective order issued by the agency.
8. The agency shall, and any party may, report any willful violation of this section to the appropriate authorities for any disciplinary proceedings provided by law. In addition, an administrative agency may, by rule, provide for appropriate sanctions, including default, for any violations of this section.
9. Nothing in this section prohibits a member of the general public, not acting on behalf or at the request of any party, from communicating with an agency in cases of general interest. The agency shall disclose such written communications in adjudicative proceedings.

28-32-38. Separation of functions.

1. No person who has served as investigator, prosecutor, or advocate in the investigatory or prehearing stage of an adjudicative proceeding may serve as hearing officer.
2. No person who is subject to the direct authority of one who has served as an investigator, prosecutor, or advocate in the investigatory or prehearing stage of an adjudicative proceeding may serve as hearing officer.
3. Any other person may serve as hearing officer in an adjudicative proceeding, unless a party demonstrates grounds for disqualification.
4. Any person may serve as hearing officer at successive stages of the same adjudicative proceeding, unless a party demonstrates grounds for disqualification.

28-32-39. Adjudicative proceedings - Findings of fact, conclusions of law, and order of agency - Notice.

1. In an adjudicative proceeding an administrative agency shall make and state concisely and explicitly its findings of fact and its separate conclusions of law and the order of the agency based upon its findings and conclusions.
2. If the agency head, or another person authorized by the agency head or by law to issue a final order, is presiding, the order issued is the final order. The agency shall serve a copy of the final order and the findings of fact and conclusions of law on which it is based upon all the parties to the proceeding within thirty days after the evidence has been received, briefs filed, and arguments closed, or as soon thereafter as possible, in the manner allowed for service under the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure.

3. If the agency head, or another person authorized by the agency head or by law to issue a final order, is not presiding, then the person presiding shall issue recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law and a recommended order within thirty days after the evidence has been received, briefs filed, and arguments closed, or as soon thereafter as possible. The recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law and the recommended order become final unless specifically amended or rejected by the agency head. The agency head may adopt the recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law and the recommended order as final. The agency may allow petitions for review of a recommended order and may allow oral argument pending issuance of a final order. An administrative agency may adopt rules regarding the review of recommended orders and other procedures for issuance of a final order by the agency. If a recommended order is issued, the agency must serve a copy of any final order issued and the findings of fact and conclusions of law on which it is based upon all the parties to the proceeding within sixty days after the evidence has been received, briefs filed, and arguments closed, or as soon thereafter as possible, in the manner allowed for service under the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure.

28-32-40. Petition for reconsideration.

1. Any party before an administrative agency who is aggrieved by the final order of the agency, within fifteen days after notice has been given as required by section 28-32-39, may file a petition for reconsideration with the agency. Filing of the petition is not a prerequisite for seeking judicial review.
2. Any party appearing before the workers compensation bureau may have thirty days within which to file a petition for reconsideration.
3. The party must submit with the petition for reconsideration a statement of the specific grounds upon which relief is requested or a statement of any further showing to be made in the proceeding. The petition must also state whether a rehearing is requested. The petition and any statement shall be considered a part of the record in the proceeding.
4. The administrative agency may deny the petition for reconsideration or may grant the petition on such terms as it may prescribe. If a rehearing is granted, the agency may allow a new hearing or limit the hearing as appropriate. The agency may dissolve or amend the final order and set the matter for further hearing. The petition is deemed to have been denied if the agency does not dispose of it within thirty days after the filing of the petition. Any rehearing must be presided over by the same person or persons presiding previously at hearing, if available. Any amended findings, conclusions, and orders must be issued by the same person or persons who issued the previous recommended or final orders, if available. Within thirty days after the close of proceedings upon reconsideration, or as soon thereafter as possible, the agency shall issue and give notice of its order upon reconsideration as required in subsection 3 of section 28-32-39.

5. This section does not limit the right of any agency to reopen any proceeding or rehear any matter under any continuing jurisdiction which is granted to the agency by statute.

28-32-41. Effectiveness of orders. Unless a later date is stated in the order, a final order of an administrative agency is effective immediately, but a party may not be required to comply with a final order unless it has been served upon the party and notice is deemed given pursuant to section 28-32-39 or the party has actual knowledge of the final order. A nonparty may not be required to comply with a final order unless the agency has made the final order available for public inspection and copying or the nonparty has actual knowledge of the final order. This section does not preclude an agency from taking emergency action to protect the public health, safety, or welfare, as authorized by statute.

28-32-42. Appeal from determination of agency - Time to appeal - How appeal taken.

1. Any party to any proceeding heard by an administrative agency, except when the order of the administrative agency is declared final by any other statute, may appeal from the order within thirty days after notice of the order has been given as required by section 28-32-39. If a reconsideration has been requested as provided in section 28-32-40, the party may appeal within thirty days after notice of the final determination upon reconsideration has been given as required by sections 28-32-39 and 28-32-40. If an agency does not dispose of a petition for reconsideration within thirty days after the filing of the petition, the agency is deemed to have made a final determination upon which an appeal may be taken.
2. Any interested person who has participated in the rulemaking process of an administrative agency may appeal the agency's rulemaking action if the appeal is taken within ninety days after the date of publication in the North Dakota Administrative Code of the rule resulting from the agency rulemaking action.
 - a. The appeal of an order may be taken to the district court designated by law, and if none is designated, then to the district court of the county in which the hearing or a part thereof was held. If the administrative proceeding was disposed of informally, or for some other reason no hearing was held, an appeal may be taken to the district court of Burleigh County. Only final orders are appealable. A procedural order made by an administrative agency while a proceeding is pending before it is not a final order.
 - b. The appeal of an agency's rulemaking action may be taken to the district court of Burleigh County.
4. An appeal shall be taken by serving a notice of appeal and specifications of error specifying the grounds on which the appeal is taken, upon the administrative agency concerned, upon the attorney general or an assistant attorney general, and upon all the parties to the proceeding before the administrative agency, and by filing the notice of appeal and specifications of error together with proof of service of the notice of appeal, and the undertaking required by this section, with the clerk of the district court to which the appeal is taken. In an appeal of an agency's rulemaking action, only the administrative agency concerned, the attorney general, or an assistant attorney general, as well as the legislative council, need to be notified.

5. The notice of appeal must specify the parties taking the appeal as appellants. The agency and all other parties of record who are not designated as appellants must be named as appellees. A notice of appeal of agency rulemaking actions need not name all persons participating in the rulemaking proceeding as appellees. The agency and all parties of record have the right to participate in the appeal. In the appeal of agency rulemaking action, any person who has participated in the rulemaking process has the right to participate in the appeal.
6. A bond or other undertaking for costs on appeal must be filed by the appellant as is required by appellants for costs on appeal in civil cases under the rules of appellate procedure. The bond or other undertaking must be filed with the clerk of the district court with the notice of appeal, must be made to the state of North Dakota, and may be enforced by the agency concerned for and on behalf of the state as obligee. A bond or other undertaking is not required when filing fees have been waived by a district court pursuant to section 27-01-07 or when the costs of preparation and filing of the record of administrative agency proceedings have been waived by a district court pursuant to subsection 3 of section 28-32-44.

28-32-43. Docketing of appeals. Appeals taken in accordance with this chapter must be docketed as other cases pending in the district court are docketed and must be heard and determined by the court without a jury at such time as the court shall determine.

28-32-44. Agency to maintain and certify record on appeal.

1. An administrative agency shall maintain an official record of each adjudicative proceeding or other administrative proceeding heard by it.
2. Within thirty days, or a longer time as the court by order may direct, after an appeal has been taken to the district court as provided in this chapter, and after payment by the appellant of the estimated cost of preparation and filing of the entire record of the proceedings before the agency, the administrative agency concerned shall prepare and file in the office of the clerk of the district court in which the appeal is pending the original or a certified copy of the entire record of proceedings before the agency, or an abstract of the record as may be agreed upon and stipulated by the parties. Upon receiving a copy of the notice of appeal and specifications of error pursuant to subsection 4 of section 28-32-42, the administrative agency shall notify the party appealing of the estimated costs of preparation and filing of the record. Thereafter, the party appealing shall pay the administrative agency the estimated costs required by this subsection. If the actual costs of preparation and filing of the entire record of the proceedings is greater than the estimated costs, the party appealing shall pay to the agency the difference. If the actual costs are less than the estimated costs, the agency shall pay to the party appealing the difference. Any payment for the costs of preparation and filing of the record must be paid into the insurance recovery fund and is appropriated as a refund to the agency for the purposes of defraying the costs of preparing and filing the record. An agency may contract with any person or another agency to prepare and file the record of any proceeding before the agency.

3. The cost of preparation and filing of the record may be waived by the district court upon application by an appellant, showing that the appellant is a low-income person unable to afford these costs. When a waiver is granted, the costs of preparation and filing of the record must be paid by the administrative agency.
4. The agency record of the proceedings, as applicable, may consist of only the following:

 - a. The complaint, answer, and other initial pleadings or documents.
 - b. Notices of all proceedings.
 - c. Any prehearing notices, transcripts, documents, or orders.
 - d. Any motions, pleadings, briefs, petitions, requests, and intermediate rulings.
 - e. A statement of matters officially noticed.
 - f. Offers of proof and objections and rulings thereon.
 - g. Proposed findings, requested orders, and exceptions.
 - h. The transcript of the hearing prepared for the person presiding at the hearing, including all testimony taken, and any written statements, exhibits, reports, memoranda, documents, or other information or evidence considered before final disposition of proceedings.
 - i. Any recommended or proposed order, recommended or proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law, final order, final findings of fact and conclusions of law, or findings of fact and conclusions of law or orders on reconsideration.
 - j. Any information considered pursuant to section 28-32-25.
 - k. Matters placed on the record after an ex parte communication.
5. Except to the extent that this chapter or another statute provides otherwise, the agency record constitutes the exclusive basis for administrative agency action and judicial review of an administrative agency action.
6. The record on review of agency rulemaking action, as applicable, may consist of only the following:

 - a. All agency notices concerning proposed rulemaking.
 - b. A copy of the proposed rule upon which written and oral submissions were made.
 - c. A copy of the rule as submitted for publication.

- d. Any opinion letters by the attorney general as to a rule's legality or the legality of the agency's rulemaking action.
 - e. A copy of any interim rule and the agency's findings and statement of the reasons for an interim rule.
 - f. The regulatory analysis of a proposed rule.
 - g. The transcript of any oral hearing on a proposed rule.
 - h. All written submissions made to the agency on a proposed rule.
 - i. Any staff memoranda or data prepared for agency consideration in regard to the proposed rule.
 - j. Any other document that the agency believes is relevant to the appeal.
 - k. Any other document that is not privileged and which is a public record that the appellant requests the agency to include in the record, if relevant to the appeal.
7. If the notice of appeal specifies that no exception or objection is made to the agency's findings of fact, and that the appeal is concerned only with the agency's conclusions of law based on the facts found by it, the agency may submit an abstract of the record along with such portions of the record as the agency deems necessary, to be supplemented by those portions of the record requested to be submitted by the appellant.
8. The court may permit amendments or additions to the record filed by the administrative agency in order to complete the record.

28-32-45. Consideration of additional or excluded evidence. If an application for leave to offer additional testimony, written statements, documents, exhibits, or other evidence is made to the court in which an appeal from a determination of an administrative agency is pending, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the court that the additional evidence is relevant and material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to offer the evidence in the hearing or proceeding, or that the evidence is relevant and material to the issues involved and was rejected or excluded by the agency, the court may order that the additional evidence be taken, heard, and considered by the agency on terms and conditions as the court may deem proper. After considering the additional evidence, the administrative agency may amend or reject its findings of fact, conclusions of law, and order and shall file with the court a transcript of the additional evidence with its new or amended findings of fact, conclusions of law, and order, if any, which constitute a part of the record with the court.

28-32-46. Scope of and procedure on appeal from determination of administrative agency. A judge of the district court must review an appeal from the determination of an administrative agency based only on the record filed with the court. After a hearing, the filing of briefs, or other disposition of the matter as the judge may reasonably require, the court must affirm the order of the agency unless it finds that any of the following are present:

1. The order is not in accordance with the law.

2. The order is in violation of the constitutional rights of the appellant.
3. The provisions of this chapter have not been complied with in the proceedings before the agency.
4. The rules or procedure of the agency have not afforded the appellant a fair hearing.
5. The findings of fact made by the agency are not supported by a preponderance of the evidence.
6. The conclusions of law and order of the agency are not supported by its findings of fact.

If the order of the agency is not affirmed by the court, it must be modified or reversed, and the case shall be remanded to the agency for disposition in accordance with the order of the court.

28-32-47. Scope of and procedure on appeal from agency rulemaking.

A judge of the district court shall review an appeal from an administrative agency's rulemaking action based only on the record filed with the court. If an appellant requests documents to be included in the record but the agency does not include them, the court, upon application by the appellant, may compel their inclusion. After a hearing, the filing of briefs, or other disposition of the matter as the judge may reasonably require, the court shall affirm the agency's rulemaking action unless it finds that any of the following are present:

1. The provisions of this chapter have not been substantially complied with in the agency's rulemaking actions.
2. A rule published as a result of the rulemaking action appealed is unconstitutional on the face of the language adopted.
3. A rule published as a result of the rulemaking action appealed is beyond the scope of the agency's authority to adopt.
4. A rule published as a result of the rulemaking action appealed is on the face of the language adopted an arbitrary or capricious application of authority granted by statute.

If the rulemaking action of the agency is not affirmed by the court, it must be remanded to the agency for disposition in accordance with the order of the court, or the rule or a portion of the rule resulting from the rulemaking action of the agency must be declared invalid for reasons stated by the court.

28-32-48. Appeal - Stay of proceedings. An appeal from an order or the rulemaking action of an administrative agency does not stay the enforcement of the order or the effect of a published rule unless the court to which the appeal is taken, upon application and after a hearing or the submission of briefs, orders a stay. The court may impose terms and conditions for a stay of the enforcement of the order or for a stay in the effect of a published rule. This section does not prohibit the operation of an automatic stay upon the enforcement of an administrative order as may be required by another statute.

28-32-49. Review in supreme court. The judgment of the district court in an appeal from an order or rulemaking action of an administrative agency may be reviewed in the supreme court on appeal in the same manner as provided in section 28-32-46 or 28-32-47, except that the appeal to the supreme court must be taken within sixty days after the service of the notice of entry of judgment in the district court. Any party of record, including the agency, may take an appeal from the final judgment of the district court to the supreme court. If an appeal from the judgment of the district court is taken by an agency, the agency may not be required to pay a docket fee or file a bond for costs or equivalent security.

28-32-50. Actions against administrative agencies - Attorneys' fees and costs.

1. In any civil judicial proceeding involving as adverse parties an administrative agency and a party not an administrative agency or an agent of an administrative agency, the court must award the party not an administrative agency reasonable attorneys' fees and costs if the court finds in favor of that party and, in the case of a final agency order, determines that the administrative agency acted without substantial justification.
2. This section applies to an administrative or civil judicial proceeding brought by a party not an administrative agency against an administrative agency for judicial review of a final agency order, or for judicial review pursuant to this chapter of the legality of agency rulemaking action or a rule adopted by an agency as a result of the rulemaking action being appealed.
3. Any attorneys' fees and costs awarded pursuant to this section must be paid from funds available to the administrative agency the final order, rulemaking action, or rule of which was reviewed by the court. The court may withhold all or part of the attorneys' fees from any award if the court finds the administrative agency's action, in the case of a final agency order, was substantially justified or that special circumstances exist which make the award of all or a portion of the attorneys' fees unjust.
4. This section does not alter the rights of a party to collect any fees under other applicable law.

28-32-51. Witnesses - Immunity. If any person objects to testifying or producing evidence, documentary or otherwise, at any proceeding before an administrative agency, claiming a privilege against self-incrimination, but is directed to testify or produce evidence pursuant to the written approval of the attorney general, that person must comply with the direction; but no testimony or evidence compelled from that person, after a valid claim of privilege against self-incrimination has been made, may be used against that person in any criminal proceeding subjecting that person to a penalty or forfeiture. No person testifying at any proceeding before an administrative agency may be exempted from prosecution and punishment for perjury or giving a false statement, or for contempt committed in answering, or failing to answer, or in producing, or in failing to produce, evidence, pursuant to direction given under this section.

28-32-52. Elected official authority. This chapter does not prohibit an elected official from presiding at that agency's cases, nor from deciding cases within that agency's jurisdiction.

SECTION 13. Section 28-32-18, as created by section 12 of this Act, is amended and reenacted as follows:

28-32-18. Administrative rules committee may ~~void~~ suspend rule - Grounds - Amendment by agreement of agency and committee.

1. The legislative council's administrative rules committee may find, for any reason under this subsection, that all or any portion of a rule ~~is void~~ should be reviewed by the legislative assembly, and the committee may suspend the rule or portion of a rule under this subsection if that rule is initially considered by the committee within ninety days after the date of the administrative code supplement in which the rule change appears, or, for rule changes appearing in the administrative code supplement from November first immediately preceding a regular session of the legislative assembly through the following May first, if that rule is initially considered by the committee at the first meeting of the administrative rules committee following the regular session of the legislative assembly. A rule or portion of a rule suspended under this subsection becomes permanently ineffective unless it is ratified by both houses of the legislative assembly during the next session of the legislative assembly, in which case it is effective as of the date of ratification by the second house of the legislative assembly. An agency seeking ratification of its rule shall introduce a bill for that purpose. The administrative rules committee may ~~find~~ suspend a rule or portion of a rule ~~void~~ if the committee makes the specific finding that, with regard to that rule or portion of a rule, there is:

Within three business days after the administrative rules committee ~~finds that~~ suspends a rule is void, the office of the legislative council shall provide written notice of that ~~finding~~ suspension and the committee's specific finding under subdivisions a through f of subsection 1 to the adopting agency and to the chairman of the legislative council. Within fourteen days after receipt of the notice, the adopting agency may file a petition with the chairman of the legislative council for review by the legislative council of the decision of the administrative rules committee. ~~If the adopting agency does not file a petition for review, the rule becomes void on the fifteenth day after the notice from the office of the legislative council to the adopting agency. If within sixty days after~~ After receipt of the petition ~~from the adopting agency the legislative council has not disapproved by motion the finding of the administrative rules committee, the rule is void~~ and before the next session of the legislative assembly, the legislative council by approval of a motion may lift the suspension and reinstate the rule's effectiveness.

3. An agency may amend or repeal a rule or create a related rule if, after consideration of rules by the administrative rules committee, the agency and committee agree that the rule amendment, repeal, or creation is necessary to address any of the considerations under subsection 1. A rule amended, repealed, or created under this subsection is not subject to the other requirements of this chapter relating to adoption of administrative rules and may be resubmitted by the agency to the legislative council for publication as amended, repealed, or created and reconsidered by the administrative rules committee at a subsequent meeting at which public comment on the agreed rule change must be allowed.

2. At the time of filing of the notice of appeal, if an application for the suspension of the order is filed, the commission may enter an order suspending the order complained of and fixing the amount of a supersedeas bond. Within ten days after the entry of an order by the commission which suspends the order complained of and fixes the amount of the bond, the appellant shall file with the commission a supersedeas bond in the required amount and with proper surety. Upon approval of the bond, the order of the commission suspending the order complained of is effective until its final disposition upon appeal. An appeal may be taken pursuant to the provisions of section ~~28-32-15~~ 28-32-42. An appeal from a determination or decision of the hearing board does not stay the enforcement of the determination or decision unless the court to which the appeal is taken, upon application and after a hearing, orders a stay. The court may impose such terms and conditions for a stay of the enforcement of the determination or decision appealed as it deems proper.

INDIGENT DEFENSE SERVICES AND COSTS

AN ACT to amend and reenact subdivision a of subsection 3 of section 12.1-32-08 and section 29-07-01.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to application fees for indigent defense services, reimbursement of indigent defense costs and expenses, and creation of an indigent defense administration fund; and to provide for a continuing appropriation.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

¹⁵⁸ SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Subdivision a of subsection 3 of section 12.1-32-08 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

3. a. Under section 12.1-32-07, the court may order that the defendant reimburse indigent defense costs and expenses as a condition of probation. The court shall notify the defendant, the defendant's probation officer, and the prosecuting attorney of the amount of costs and expenses to be reimbursed and of the defendant's right to a hearing on the reimbursement amount. It is a rebuttable presumption that reasonable reimbursement of costs and expenses consists of seventy-five dollars per hour for appointed counsel services plus reasonable expenses. The reimbursement amount must include an application fee imposed under section 29-07-01.1 if the fee has not been paid before disposition of the case and the court has not waived payment of the fee. If the defendant requests a hearing within thirty days of receiving notice under this subdivision, the court shall schedule a hearing at which the basis for the amount to be reimbursed must be demonstrated. In determining the amount and method of reimbursement, the court shall consider the financial resources of the defendant and the nature of the burden that reimbursement of costs and expenses will impose.

¹⁵⁸ Section 12.1-32-08 was also amended by section 11 of Senate Bill No. 2016, chapter 41.

29-07-01.1. Payment of expenses for defense of indigents - Reimbursement of indigent defense costs and expenses - Indigent defense administration fund - Continuing appropriation.

1. Lawyers appointed to represent ~~needy~~ indigent persons must be compensated at a reasonable rate to be determined by the court. Expenses necessary for the adequate defense of a ~~needy~~ an indigent person, when approved by the judge, must be paid by the state if the action is prosecuted in district court and by the city in which the alleged offense took place if the action is prosecuted in municipal court. The city shall also pay the expenses in any appeal taken to district court from a judgment of conviction in municipal court pursuant to section 40-18-19. A defendant requesting representation by appointed counsel, or for whom appointed counsel without a request is considered appropriate by the court, shall submit an application for appointed defense services. For an application for appointed defense services in the district court, a nonrefundable application fee of twenty-five dollars must be paid at the time the application is submitted. The district court may extend the time for payment of the fee or may waive or reduce the fee if the court determines the defendant is financially unable to pay all or part of the fee. If the application fee is not paid before disposition of the case, the fee amount must be added to the amount to be reimbursed under this section. Application fees collected under this subsection must be forwarded for deposit in the indigent defense administration fund established under subsection 4.
2. A defendant with appointed counsel, subject to this subsection, shall reimburse the state or city such sums as the state or city expends on the defendant's behalf.
 - a. At the time counsel is appointed for a defendant, the appointing court shall advise the defendant of the defendant's potential obligation to reimburse the appropriate governmental entity the amounts expended on behalf of the defendant.
 - b. Within ninety days after its judgment of conviction or after conclusion of an appeal of its initial judgment of conviction, the court that appointed counsel for the defendant shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney of the amount of indigent defense costs and expenses the defendant is obligated to reimburse if able to do so and of the defendant's right to a hearing on the reimbursement amount. It is a rebuttable presumption that reasonable reimbursement of costs and expenses consists of seventy-five dollars per hour for appointed counsel services plus reasonable expenses. If the defendant requests a hearing within thirty days of receiving notice under this subdivision, the court shall schedule a hearing at which the basis for the amount to be reimbursed must be demonstrated. In determining the amount of reimbursement and method of payment, the court shall consider the financial resources of the defendant and the nature of the burden that reimbursement of costs and expenses will impose.
 - c. A defendant who is required to reimburse indigent defense costs and expenses and who is not willfully in default in that reimbursement may at any time petition the court to waive reimbursement of all or any portion of the costs and expenses. If the court is satisfied that reimbursement of the amount due will impose undue hardship on the defendant or the defendant's immediate family, the court may waive reimbursement of all or any portion of the amount due or modify the method of payment.

3. The state's attorney of the county or prosecuting attorney of the city in which the alleged offense took place, if reimbursement has not been received, shall seek civil recovery of any amounts expended on the defendant's behalf any time the state's attorney or city attorney determines the person for whom counsel was appointed may have funds to repay the state or city within six years of the date such amount was paid on that person's behalf. A person against whom civil recovery is sought under this subsection is entitled to all exemptions accorded to other judgment debtors. The state's attorney may contract with a private sector collection agency for assistance in seeking recovery of such funds. Before referring the matter to a collection agency, the state's attorney shall notify the person who is the subject of the collection action.

4. The indigent defense administration fund is a special fund in the state treasury. The state treasurer shall deposit in the fund all application fees collected under subsection 1. All moneys in the indigent defense administration fund are appropriated on a continuing basis to the judicial branch to be used in the administration of the indigent defense system and the collection of indigent defense costs and expenses required to be reimbursed under this section.

10. "State" means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, or any territory or insular possession subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. The term includes an Indian tribe or band, or Alaskan native village, which is recognized by federal law or formally acknowledged by a state.
11. "Trust" means an express trust, charitable or noncharitable, with additions, whenever and however created; or a trust created pursuant to a statute, judgment, or decree under which the trust is to be administered in the manner of an express trust.

30.1-10.1-02. General provisions.

1. A person may disclaim, in whole or in part, any interest in or power over property, including a power of appointment. A person may disclaim notwithstanding a spendthrift provision or similar restriction on transfer or any restriction or limitation on the right to disclaim imposed by the creator of the interest or power.
2. Except to the extent the fiduciary's power to disclaim is expressly limited by another statute of this state or by the instrument creating the fiduciary relationship, a fiduciary may disclaim, in whole or in part, any interest in or power over property, including a power of appointment, whether acting in a personal or representative capacity. A fiduciary may disclaim notwithstanding a spendthrift provision or similar restriction on transfer imposed by the creator of the interest or power, or a restriction or limitation on the right to disclaim imposed by an instrument other than the instrument that created the fiduciary relationship.
3. A partial disclaimer may be expressed as a fraction, percentage, monetary amount, term of years, limitation of a power, or as any other interest or estate in the property.
4. A disclaimer must be in a writing or other record, declare the disclaimer, describe the interest or power disclaimed, be signed by the person making the disclaimer, and be delivered or filed in the manner provided in section 30.1-10.1-09.
5. A disclaimer becomes irrevocable upon the later to occur of its delivery or filing as provided in section 30.1-10.1-09, or when it becomes effective as provided in sections 30.1-10.1-03 through 30.1-10.1-08.
6. A disclaimer made under this chapter is not a transfer, assignment, or release.

30.1-10.1-03. Disclaimer of interest in property.

1. Except for disclaimers governed by sections 30.1-10.1-04 and 30.1-10.1-05, subsections 2 through 6 apply to a disclaimer of an interest in property.
2. The disclaimer takes effect as of the time the instrument creating the interest becomes irrevocable, or, if the interest arose under the law of intestate succession, as of the intestate's death.
3. The disclaimed interest passes according to a provision in the instrument creating the interest providing for the disposition of the interest, should it be disclaimed, or of disclaimed interests in general.
4. If the disclaimant is an individual and subsection 3 does not apply, the disclaimed interest passes as if the disclaimant had died immediately before the distribution date. However, the disclaimed interest passes only to the descendants of the disclaimant who survive the distribution date if by law or according to a provision in the instrument the descendants of the disclaimant would share in the disclaimed interest by any method of representation had the disclaimant predeceased the distribution date.
5. If the disclaimant is a person other than an individual and subsection 3 does not apply, the disclaimed interest passes as if the disclaimant did not exist.
6. Upon the disclaimer of a preceding interest, a future interest held by a person other than the disclaimant takes effect as if the disclaimant had died or ceased to exist immediately before the distribution date, but a future interest held by the disclaimant does not accelerate in possession or enjoyment.

30.1-10.1-04. Disclaimer of rights of survivorship in jointly held property.

1. Upon the death of a holder of jointly held property, a surviving holder may disclaim in whole or in part the greater of a fractional share of the property determined by dividing the number one by the number of joint holders alive immediately before the death of the holder to whose death the disclaimer relates; or all of the property except that part of the value of the entire interest attributable to the contribution furnished by the disclaimant.
2. The disclaimer takes effect as of the death of the holder to whose death the disclaimer relates.
3. An interest disclaimed by a surviving holder of jointly held property passes as if the person whose interest is being disclaimed predeceased the holder to whose death the disclaimer relates.

30.1-10.1-05. Disclaimer of interest by trustee. If a trustee disclaims an interest in property, the interest does not become part of the trust.

30.1-10.1-06. Disclaimer of powers of appointment and other powers not held in fiduciary capacity.

1. If a holder disclaims a power of appointment or other power not held in a fiduciary capacity and the holder has not exercised the power, the disclaimer takes effect as of the time the instrument creating the power becomes irrevocable.
2. If a holder disclaims a power of appointment or other power not held in a fiduciary capacity and the holder has exercised the power and the disclaimer is of a power other than a presently exercisable general power of appointment, the disclaimer takes effect immediately after the date of the last exercise of the power; or is a subsequent disclaimer of a presently exercisable general power of appointment, the disclaimer is without effect.
3. If a holder disclaims a power of appointment or other power not held in a fiduciary capacity, the instrument creating the power is construed as if the power ceased to exist when the disclaimer became effective.

30.1-10.1-07. Disclaimer by appointee, object, or taker in default of exercise of power of appointment.

1. The disclaimer by the appointee takes effect as of the time the instrument by which the holder exercises the power becomes irrevocable.
2. A disclaimer by the object or taker in default takes effect as of the time the instrument creating the power becomes irrevocable.
3. Disposition of an interest in property disclaimed by an appointee is governed by subsection 3, 4, or 5 of section 30.1-10.1-03. A disclaimer of a power created in an appointee is governed by section 30.1-10.1-06.
4. Disposition of an interest in property disclaimed by an object or a taker in default of exercise of a power of appointment is governed by subsection 3 or 4 of section 30.1-10.1-03.

30.1-10.1-08. Disclaimer of powers held in fiduciary capacity.

1. If a fiduciary disclaims a power held in a fiduciary capacity which has not been exercised, the disclaimer takes effect as of the time the instrument creating the power becomes irrevocable.
2. If a fiduciary disclaims a power held in a fiduciary capacity which has been exercised, the disclaimer takes effect immediately after the last exercise of the power.
3. A disclaimer under this section is effective as to other fiduciaries if expressly so provided in the disclaimer and the fiduciary or fiduciaries disclaiming have the authority to bind the estate, trust, or other person for whom the fiduciary is acting.

30.1-10.1-09. Delivery.

1. In subsections 2 through 11, delivery of a disclaimer may be accomplished by personal delivery, mailing by first-class mail, or any other method likely to result in its receipt.
2. In the case of an interest created under the law of intestate succession or an interest created by will, other than an interest in a testamentary trust, delivery is made by delivering the disclaimer to the personal representative of the decedent's estate, or if no personal representative is then serving, by filing it with the court having jurisdiction to appoint the personal representative.
3. In the case of an interest in a testamentary trust, delivery is made by delivering the disclaimer to the trustee then serving, or if no trustee is then serving, to the personal representative of the decedent's estate, or if no personal representative is then serving, by filing the disclaimer with a court having jurisdiction to appoint the trustee.
4. In the case of an interest in an inter vivos trust, delivery is made by delivering the disclaimer to the trustee then serving, or if no trustee is then serving, by filing it with a court having jurisdiction to appoint the trustee, or if the disclaimer is made before the time the instrument creating the trust becomes irrevocable, by delivering it to the settlor of a revocable trust or the transferor of the interest.
5. In the case of an interest created by a beneficiary designation made before the time the designation becomes irrevocable, delivery is made by delivering the disclaimer to the person making the beneficiary designation.
6. In the case of an interest created by a beneficiary designation made after the time the designation becomes irrevocable, delivery is made by delivering the disclaimer to the person obligated to distribute the interest.
7. In the case of a disclaimer by a surviving holder of jointly held property, delivery is made by delivering it to the person to whom the disclaimed interest passes.
8. In the case of a disclaimer by an object or taker in default of exercise of a power of appointment, delivery is made by delivering it to the holder of the power or to the fiduciary acting under the instrument that created the power, or if no fiduciary is then serving, by filing it with the court having authority to appoint the fiduciary. Delivery of the disclaimer may be made at any time after the power was created.
9. In the case of a disclaimer by an appointee of a nonfiduciary power of appointment, delivery is made by delivering it to the personal representative of the holder's estate or to the fiduciary under the instrument that created the power, or if no fiduciary is then serving, by filing it with the court having authority to appoint the fiduciary.
10. In the case of a disclaimer by a fiduciary of a power over a trust or estate, delivery is made by delivering the disclaimer as provided in subsection 2, 3, or 4, these subsections to be applied as if the power disclaimed were an interest in property.

11. In the case of a disclaimer of a power by an agent, delivery is made by delivering the disclaimer to the principal or the principal's representative.

30.1-10.1-10. When disclaimer barred or limited.

1. A disclaimer of an interest in or power over property is barred by a written waiver of the right to disclaim.
2. A disclaimer of an interest in property is barred if the disclaimant accepts the interest sought to be disclaimed; the disclaimant voluntarily assigns, conveys, encumbers, pledges, or transfers the interest sought to be disclaimed or makes a contract to do so; or, a judicial sale of the interest sought to be disclaimed occurs before the disclaimer is delivered or filed.
3. A disclaimer, whether partial or complete, of the future exercise of a power held in a fiduciary capacity is not barred by its past exercise.
4. A disclaimer, whether partial or complete, of the future exercise of a power not held in a fiduciary capacity is not barred by its past exercise unless the power is exercisable in favor of the disclaimant.
5. A disclaimer is barred or limited if so provided by law other than this chapter.
6. A disclaimer of a power over property which is barred by this section is ineffective. A disclaimer of an interest in property which is barred by this section takes effect as a transfer of the interest disclaimed to the persons who would have taken the interest under this chapter had the disclaimer not been barred.
7. A disclaimer is not barred by this section if it meets the requirements of a qualified disclaimer under section 2518 of the Internal Revenue Code [26 U.S.C. 2518], nor does the failure of a disclaimer to qualify under that section operate as a bar under this section.

30.1-10.1-11. Recording of disclaimer. If an instrument transferring an interest in or power over property subject to a disclaimer is required or permitted by law to be filed, recorded, or registered, the disclaimer may be so filed, recorded, or registered. Failure to file, record, or register the disclaimer does not affect its validity as between the disclaimant and persons to whom the property interest or power passes by reason of the disclaimer.

30.1-10.1-12. Applicability.

1. This chapter does not limit the right of a person to waive, release, disclaim, or renounce property or an interest in or power over property under any law other than this chapter.
2. This chapter applies to all interests in and powers over property, whenever created.

3. Except as otherwise provided in section 30.1-10.1-10, an interest in or power over property existing on August 1, 2001, as to which the time for delivering or filing a disclaimer under law superseded by this chapter has not expired may be disclaimed after August 1, 2001.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Subsection 1 of section 47-24.1-18 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

1. A person nominated under section 47-24.1-03 or designated under section 47-24.1-09 as custodian may decline to serve by delivering a valid disclaimer under ~~section 30.1-10-04~~ chapter 30.1-10.1 to the person who made the nomination or to the transferor or the transferor's legal representative. If the event giving rise to a transfer has not occurred and no substitute custodian able, willing, and eligible to serve was nominated under section 47-24.1-03, the person who made the nomination may nominate a substitute custodian under section 47-24.1-03; otherwise the transferor or the transferor's legal representative shall designate a substitute custodian at the time of the transfer, in either case from among the persons eligible to serve as custodian for that kind of property under subsection 1 of section 47-24.1-09. The custodian so designated has the rights of a successor custodian.

MORTGAGE RELEASE CERTIFICATE

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 35-03 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to a certificate of release for a mortgage.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 35-03 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Certificate of release - Contents - Execution - Recordation.

1. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:
 - a. "Mortgage" means a mortgage or mortgage lien governed by the Short-term Mortgage Redemption Act as provided in chapter 32-19.1 covering an interest in real property in this state given to secure a loan in the original principal amount of five hundred thousand dollars or less.
 - b. "Mortgagee" means the grantee of a mortgage or if a mortgage has been assigned of record, the last person to whom the mortgage has been assigned of record.
 - c. "Mortgage servicer" means the last person to whom a mortgagor or the mortgagor's successor in interest has been instructed by a mortgagee to send payments on a loan secured by a mortgage. A person transmitting a payoff statement is the mortgage servicer for the mortgage described in the payment statement.
 - d. "Mortgagor" means the grantor of a mortgage.
 - e. "Payoff statement" means a statement of the amount of the unpaid balance of a loan secured by a mortgage, including principal, interest, and any other charges properly due under or secured by the mortgage and interest on a per day basis for the unpaid balance.
 - f. "Record" means to record with the register of deeds.
 - g. "Title insurance company" means a corporation or other business entity authorized and licensed to transact the business of insuring titles to interests in real property in this state in accordance with chapter 26.1-20.
2. An officer or duly appointed agent of a title insurance company may execute, on behalf of a mortgagor or a person who acquired from the mortgagor title to all or a part of the property described in a mortgage, a certificate of release that complies with the requirements of this section and record the certificate of release in the real property records of each county in which the mortgage is recorded if a satisfaction or release of the mortgage has not been executed and recorded after the date payment in full of the loan secured by the mortgage was sent in accordance with a payoff statement furnished by the mortgagee or the mortgage servicer.

3. A certificate of release executed under this section must contain substantially all of the following:
 - a. The name of the mortgagor, the name of the original mortgagee, and, if applicable, the mortgage servicer, the date of the mortgage, the date of recording, and volume and page or document number in the real property records where the mortgage is recorded, together with similar information for the last recorded assignment of the mortgage;
 - b. A statement that the mortgage was in the original principal amount of five hundred thousand dollars or less;
 - c. A statement that the person executing the certificate of release is an officer or a duly appointed agent of a title insurance company authorized and licensed to transact the business of insuring titles to interests in real property in this state;
 - d. A statement that the certificate of release is made on behalf of the mortgagor or a person who acquired title from the mortgagor to all or a part of the property described in the mortgage;
 - e. A statement that the mortgagee or mortgage servicer provided a payoff statement which was used to make payment in full of the unpaid balance of the loan secured by the mortgage; and
 - f. A statement that payment in full of the unpaid balance of the loan secured by the mortgage was made in accordance with the written or verbal payoff statement.
4. A certificate of release authorized by this section must be executed and acknowledged as required by law in the case of a deed and may be executed by a duly appointed agent of a title insurance company. The delegation to an agent by a title insurance company does not relieve the title insurance company of any liability for damages caused by its agent for the wrongful or erroneous execution of a certificate of release. The appointment of agent must be executed and acknowledged as required by law in the case of a deed and must state the title insurance company as the grantor, the identity of the person authorized to act as agent to execute and record certificates of release provided for in this section on behalf of the title insurance company, that the agent has the full authority to execute and record certificates of release provided for in this section on behalf of the title insurance company, the term of appointment of the agent, and that the agent has consented to and accepts the terms of the appointment. A single appointment of agent may be recorded in each county in each register of deeds office. A separate appointment of agent may not be necessary for each certificate of release. The appointment of agent may be rerecorded when necessary to establish authority of the agent. The authority continues until a revocation of appointment is recorded with the register of deeds where the appointment of agent was recorded.

5. For purposes of releasing the mortgage, a certificate of release containing the information and statements provided for in this section and executed as provided in this section is prima facie evidence of the facts contained in the certificate, is entitled to be recorded with the register of deeds, and operates as a release of the mortgage described in the certificate. The register of deeds shall rely upon the certificate to release the mortgage. Recording of a wrongful or erroneous certificate of release by a title insurance company or its agent does not relieve the mortgagor, or the mortgagor's successors or assigns, from any personal liability on the loan or other obligations secured by the mortgage. In addition to any other remedy provided by law, a title insurance company wrongfully or erroneously recording a certificate of release under this section is liable to the mortgagee for actual damage sustained due to the recording of the certificate of release.
6. If a mortgage is recorded in more than one county and a certificate of release is recorded in one of them, a certified copy of the certificate of release may be recorded in another county with the same effect as the original. In all cases, the certificate of release shall be entered and indexed as satisfactions of mortgage are entered and indexed.

- e. Indian wars. Since the Indian wars were fought intermittently over a period of years, the determination as to whether a person shall be considered as having rendered military service during these wars will be carefully considered by the administrative committee on veterans' affairs. January 1, 1817, through December 31, 1898, is considered Indian war period.

- f. "Spanish-American War" (1) means the period beginning on April 21, 1898, and ending on July 4, 1902, (2) includes the Philippine insurrection and the Boxer rebellion, and (3) in the case of a veteran who served with the United States military forces engaged in hostilities in the Moro province, means the period beginning on April 21, 1898, and ending on July 15, 1903.

An established place of business means a permanent enclosed building of at least two hundred fifty square feet [23.22 square meters] either owned, rented, or leased at which a permanent business of bartering, trading, and selling of motor vehicles will be conducted and does not mean a residence, tents, temporary stands, or other temporary quarters. A used motor vehicle dealer license entitles the holder to deal in used motor vehicles only.

New motor vehicle dealers who have been issued surrounding communities as a part of their dealer area of responsibility may be issued additional new motor vehicle dealer licenses if the manufacturer provides the department written approval of additional sites for display and sale of motor vehicles. Applicants for additional new car dealer licenses must meet all of the requirements of this chapter.

Whenever a motor vehicle dealer purchases or holds for sale a new motor vehicle for which the dealer does not have a bona fide contract or franchise in effect with a manufacturer or distributor, the new motor vehicle becomes, at the time of purchase or possession, subject to the registration provisions of chapter 39-04, the title registration provisions of chapter 39-05, and the motor vehicle excise tax provisions of chapter 57-40.3. Any motor vehicle dealer who fails to maintain the insurance coverage required by this section shall return the dealer license and dealer number plates to the department on or before the effective date of the cancellation, suspension, or revocation. Failure to return the dealer license or dealer number plates results in automatic revocation by operation of law. The department may order the superintendent to take possession of any dealer license or dealer number plates not returned to the department as required in this section. A person buys goods in the ordinary course if the sale to the person comports with the usual or customary practices in the kind of business in which the seller is engaged or with the seller's own usual or customary practices. A person that sells oil, gas, or other minerals at the wellhead or minehead is a person in the business of selling goods of that kind. "Buying" A buyer in the ordinary course of business may be buy for cash or, by exchange of other property, or on secured or unsecured credit, and includes receiving may acquire goods or documents of title under a preexisting contract for sale but does not include a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt. A person that acquires goods in a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt is not a buyer in the ordinary course of business.

32. "Purchase" includes taking by sale, discount, negotiation, mortgage, pledge, lien, security interest, issue or reissue, gift, or any other voluntary transaction creating an interest in property.
37. a. "Security interest" means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. ~~The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (section 41-02-46) is limited in effect to a reservation of a "security interest".~~ The term also includes any interest of a consignor and a buyer of accounts or, chattel paper which, a payment intangible, or a promissory note in a transaction that is subject to chapter 41-09. The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of those goods to a contract for sale under section 41-02-46 is not a "security interest", but a buyer may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with chapter 41-09. ~~Unless a consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a "security interest", but a consignment is in any event subject to the provisions on consignment sales (section 41-02-43).~~ Except as otherwise provided in section 41-02-53, the right of a seller or lessor of goods under chapter 41-02 or 41-02.1 to retain or acquire possession of the goods is not a "security interest", but a seller or lessor may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with chapter 41-09. No delegation of performance relieves the party delegating of any duty to perform or any liability for breach.
2. ~~Unless~~ Except as otherwise provided in section 41-09-68, unless otherwise agreed, all rights of either seller or buyer can be assigned except when the assignment would materially change the duty of the other party, or increase materially the burden or risk imposed on the other party by that party's contract, or impair materially that party's chance of obtaining return performance. A right to damages for breach of the whole contract or a right arising out of the assignor's due performance of the assignor's entire obligation can be assigned despite agreement otherwise.
3. The creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the seller's interest under a contract is not a transfer that materially changes the duty of or increases materially the burden or risk imposed on the buyer or impairs materially the buyer's chance of obtaining return performance within the purview of subsection 2 unless, and then only to the extent that, enforcement actually results in a delegation of material performance of the seller. Even in that event, the creation, attachment, perfection, and enforcement of the security interest remain effective, but (a) the seller is liable to the buyer for damages caused by the delegation to the extent that the damages could not reasonably be prevented by the buyer, and (b) a court having jurisdiction may grant other appropriate relief, including cancellation of the contract for sale or an injunction against enforcement of the security interest or consummation of the enforcement.
4. Unless the circumstances indicate the contrary, a prohibition of assignment of "the contract" is to be construed as barring only the delegation to the assignee of the assignor's performance.
4. ~~5.~~ An assignment of "the contract" or of "all my rights under the contract" or an assignment in similar general terms is an assignment of rights and unless the language or the circumstances (as in an assignment for security) indicate the contrary, it is a delegation of performance of the duties of the assignor and its acceptance by the assignee constitutes a promise by the assignee to perform those duties. This promise is enforceable by either the assignor or the other party to the original contract.
- ~~5.~~ 6. The other party may treat any assignment which delegates performance as creating reasonable grounds for insecurity and may without prejudice to that party's rights against the assignor demand assurances from the assignee (section 41-02-72).

The provisions of this subsection are applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum". However, this subsection is not applicable if the person making delivery:~~
 - a. ~~Complied with an applicable law providing for a consignor's interest or the like to be evidenced by a sign;~~
 - b. ~~Establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by the person's creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others; or~~

4. Any "or return" term of a contract for sale is to be treated as a separate contract for sale within the statute of frauds section of this chapter (section 41-02-08) and as contradicting the sale aspect of the contract within the provisions of this chapter on parol or extrinsic evidence (section 41-02-09).

 - b. A perfected security interest or agricultural lien has priority over a conflicting unperfected security interest or agricultural lien.
 - c. The first security interest or agricultural lien to attach or become effective has priority if conflicting security interests and agricultural liens are unperfected.
2. For the purposes of subdivision a of subsection 1:
 - a. The time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in collateral is also the time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in proceeds; and
 - b. The time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in collateral supported by a supporting obligation is also the time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in the supporting obligation.

 - b. Proceeds of the collateral if:
 - (1) The security interest in proceeds is perfected;
 - (2) The proceeds are cash proceeds or of the same type as the collateral; and
 - (3) In the case of proceeds that are proceeds of proceeds, all intervening proceeds are cash proceeds, proceeds of the same type as the collateral, or an account relating to the collateral.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, for purposes of determining the priority of a perfected security interest under subdivision a of subsection 1 of section 41-09-42, perfection of the security interest dates from the time an advance is made to the extent that the security interest secures an advance that:

6. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, a lessee of goods, other than a lessee in ordinary course of business, takes the leasehold interest free of a security interest to the extent that it secures advances made after the earlier of:
 - a. The time the secured party acquires knowledge of the lease; or
 - b. Forty-five days after the lease contract becomes enforceable.
7. Subsection 6 does not apply if the advance is made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lease and before the expiration of the forty-five-day period.

41-09-44. (9-324) Priority of purchase-money security interests.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, a perfected purchase-money security interest in goods other than inventory or livestock has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same goods, and, except as otherwise provided in section 41-09-47, a perfected security interest in its identifiable proceeds also has priority, if the purchase-money security interest is perfected when the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within twenty days thereafter.
2. Subject to subsection 3 and except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, a perfected purchase-money security interest in inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same inventory, has priority over a conflicting security interest in chattel paper or an instrument constituting proceeds of the inventory and in proceeds of the chattel paper, if so provided in section 41-09-50, and, except as otherwise provided in section 41-09-47, also has priority in identifiable cash proceeds of the inventory to the extent the identifiable cash proceeds are received on or before the delivery of the inventory to a buyer, if:

41-09-45. (9-325) Priority of security interests in transferred collateral.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a security interest created by a debtor is subordinate to a security interest in the same collateral created by another person if:
 - a. The debtor acquired the collateral subject to the security interest created by the other person;
 - b. The security interest created by the other person was perfected when the debtor acquired the collateral; and
 - c. There is no period thereafter when the security interest is unperfected.
2. Subsection 1 subordinates a security interest only if the security interest:
 - a. Otherwise would have priority solely under subsection 1 of section 41-09-42 or section 41-09-44; or

1. Subject to subsection 2, a security interest created by a new debtor which is perfected by a filed financing statement that is effective solely under section 41-09-79 in collateral in which a new debtor has or acquires rights is subordinate to a security interest in the same collateral which is perfected other than by a filed financing statement that is effective solely under section 41-09-79.
2. The other provisions of this part determine the priority among conflicting security interests in the same collateral perfected by filed financing statements that are effective solely under section 41-09-79. However, if the security agreements to which a new debtor became bound as debtor were not entered into by the same original debtor, the conflicting security interests rank according to priority in time of the new debtor's having become bound.

conflicting security interests in the same deposit account or uncertificated certificate of deposit:

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, a security interest held by the bank with which the deposit account or uncertificated certificate of deposit is maintained has priority over a conflicting security interest held by another secured party.

5. A security interest in a certificated security in registered form which is perfected by taking delivery under subsection 1 of section 41-09-33 and not by control under section 41-09-34 has priority over a conflicting security interest perfected by a method other than control.

7. In all other cases, priority among conflicting security interests in investment property is governed by sections 41-09-42 and 41-09-43.

41-09-49. (9-329) Priority of security interests in letter-of-credit right.

The following rules govern priority among conflicting security interests in the same letter-of-credit right:

2. Security interests perfected by control under section 41-09-34 rank according to priority in time of obtaining control.

41-09-50. (9-330) Priority of purchaser of chattel paper or instrument.

1. A purchaser of chattel paper has priority over a security interest in the chattel paper which is claimed merely as proceeds of inventory subject to a security interest if:
 - a. In good faith and in the ordinary course of the purchaser's business, the purchaser gives new value and takes possession of the chattel paper or obtains control of the chattel paper under section 41-09-05; and
 - b. The chattel paper does not indicate that it has been assigned to an identified assignee other than the purchaser.
2. A purchaser of chattel paper has priority over a security interest in the chattel paper which is claimed other than merely as proceeds of inventory subject to a security interest if the purchaser gives new value and takes possession of the chattel paper or obtains control of the chattel paper under section 41-09-05 in good faith, in the ordinary course of the purchaser's business, and without knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.

3. Except as otherwise provided in section 41-09-47, a purchaser having priority in chattel paper under subsection 1 or 2 also has priority in proceeds of the chattel paper to the extent that:
 - a. Section 41-09-42 provides for priority in the proceeds; or
 - b. The proceeds consist of the specific goods covered by the chattel paper or cash proceeds of the specific goods, even if the purchaser's security interest in the proceeds is unperfected.
4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 1 of section 41-09-51, a purchaser of an instrument has priority over a security interest in the instrument perfected by a method other than possession if the purchaser gives value and takes possession of the instrument in good faith and without knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.
5. For purposes of subsections 1 and 2, the holder of a purchase-money security interest in inventory gives new value for chattel paper constituting proceeds of the inventory.
6. For purposes of subsections 2 and 4, if chattel paper or an instrument indicates that it has been assigned to an identified secured party other than the purchaser, a purchaser of the chattel paper or instrument has knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.

41-09-51. (9-331) Priority of rights of purchasers of instruments, documents, and securities under other articles - Priority of interests in financial assets and security entitlements under chapter 41-08.

1. This chapter does not limit the rights of a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument, a holder to which a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated, or a protected purchaser of a security. These holders or purchasers take priority over an earlier security interest, even if perfected, to the extent provided in chapters 41-03, 41-07, and 41-08.
2. This chapter does not limit the rights of or impose liability on a person to the extent that the person is protected against the assertion of a claim under chapter 41-08.
3. Filing under this chapter does not constitute notice of a claim or defense to the holders, purchasers, or persons described in subsections 1 and 2.

41-09-52. (9-332) Transfer of money - Transfer of funds from deposit account.

1. A transferee of money takes the money free of a security interest unless the transferee acts in collusion with the debtor in violating the rights of the secured party.

2. A transferee of funds from a deposit account takes the funds free of a security interest in the deposit account unless the transferee acts in collusion with the debtor in violating the rights of the secured party.

41-09-53. (9-333) Priority of certain liens arising by operation of law.

1. In this section, "possessory lien" means an interest, other than a security interest or an agricultural lien:
 - a. Which secures payment or performance of an obligation for services or materials furnished with respect to goods by a person in the ordinary course of the person's business;
 - b. Which is created by statute or rule of law in favor of the person; and
 - c. Whose effectiveness depends on the person's possession of the goods.
2. A possessory lien on goods has priority over a security interest in the goods unless the lien is created by a statute that expressly provides otherwise.

41-09-54. (9-334) Priority of security interests in fixtures and crops.

1. A security interest under this chapter may be created in goods that are fixtures or may continue in goods that become fixtures. A security interest does not exist under this chapter in ordinary building materials incorporated into an improvement on land.
2. This chapter does not prevent creation of an encumbrance upon fixtures under real-property law.
3. In cases not governed by subsections 4 through 8, a security interest in fixtures is subordinate to a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the related real property other than the debtor.
4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 8, a perfected security interest in fixtures has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if the debtor has an interest of record in or is in possession of the real property and:
 - a. The security interest is a purchase-money security interest;
 - b. The interest of the encumbrancer or owner arises before the goods become fixtures; and
 - c. The security interest is perfected by a fixture filing before the goods become fixtures or within twenty days thereafter.
5. A perfected security interest in fixtures has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if:
 - a. The debtor has an interest of record in the real property or is in possession of the real property and the security interest:

9. A perfected security interest in crops growing on real property has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if the debtor has an interest of record in or is in possession of the real property.
10. Subsection 9 prevails over any inconsistent provisions of section 47-16-03.

41-09-55. (9-335) Accessions.

1. A security interest may be created in an accession and continues in collateral that becomes an accession.
2. If a security interest is perfected when the collateral becomes an accession, the security interest remains perfected in the collateral.
3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, the other provisions of this part determine the priority of a security interest in an accession.
4. A security interest in an accession is subordinate to a security interest in the whole which is perfected by compliance with the requirements of a certificate-of-title statute under subsection 2 of section 41-09-51.
5. After default, subject to sections 41-09-98 through 41-09-123, a secured party may remove an accession from other goods if the security interest in the accession has priority over the claims of every person having an interest in the whole.
6. A secured party that removes an accession from other goods under subsection 5 shall promptly reimburse any holder of a security interest or other lien on, or owner of, the whole or of the other goods, other than the debtor, for the cost of repair of any physical injury to the whole or the other goods. The secured party need not reimburse the holder or owner for any diminution in value of the whole or the other goods caused by the absence of the accession removed or by any necessity for replacing it. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate assurance for the performance of the obligation to reimburse.

41-09-56. (9-336) Commingled goods.

1. In this section, "commingled goods" means goods that are physically united with other goods in such a manner that their identity is lost in a product or mass.
2. A security interest does not exist in commingled goods as such. However, a security interest may attach to a product or mass that results when goods become commingled goods.
3. If collateral becomes commingled goods, a security interest attaches to the product or mass.
4. If a security interest in collateral is perfected before the collateral becomes commingled goods, the security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection 3 is perfected.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, the other provisions of this part determine the priority of a security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection 3.
6. If more than one security interest attaches to the product or mass under subsection 3, the following rules determine priority:
 - a. A security interest that is perfected under subsection 4 has priority over a security interest that is unperfected at the time the collateral becomes commingled goods.
 - b. If more than one security interest is perfected under subsection 4, the security interests rank equally in proportion to the value of the collateral at the time it became commingled goods.

41-09-57. (9-337) Priority of security interests in goods covered by certificate of title. If, while a security interest in goods is perfected by any method under the law of another jurisdiction, this state issues a certificate of title that does not show that the goods are subject to the security interest or contain a statement that they may be subject to security interests not shown on the certificate:

1. A buyer of the goods, other than a person in the business of selling goods of that kind, takes free of the security interest if the buyer gives value and receives delivery of the goods after issuance of the certificate and without knowledge of the security interest; and
2. The security interest is subordinate to a conflicting security interest in the goods that attaches, and is perfected under subsection 2 of section 41-09-31, after issuance of the certificate and without the conflicting secured party's knowledge of the security interest.

41-09-58. (9-338) Priority of security interest perfected by filed financing statement providing certain incorrect information. If a security interest is perfected by a filed financing statement providing information described in subdivision e of subsection 2 of section 41-09-87 which is incorrect at the time the financing statement is filed:

1. The security interest is subordinate to a conflicting perfected security interest in the collateral to the extent that the holder of the conflicting security interest gives value in reasonable reliance upon the incorrect information; and
2. A purchaser, other than a secured party, of the collateral takes free of the security interest to the extent that, in reasonable reliance upon the incorrect information, the purchaser gives value and, in the case of chattel paper, documents, goods, instruments, or a security certificate, receives delivery of the collateral.

41-09-59. (9-339) Priority subject to subordination. This chapter does not preclude subordination by agreement by a person entitled to priority.

41-09-60. (9-340) Effectiveness of right of recoupment or set-off against deposit account or certificate of deposit.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, a bank with which a deposit account or certificate of deposit is maintained may exercise any right of recoupment or set-off against a secured party that holds a security interest in the deposit account or certificate of deposit.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, the application of this chapter to a security interest in a deposit account or certificate of deposit does not affect a right of recoupment or set-off of the secured party as to a deposit account or certificate of deposit maintained with the secured party.
3. The exercise by a bank of a set-off against a deposit account or certificate of deposit is ineffective against a secured party that holds a security interest in the deposit account or certificate of deposit which is perfected by control under subdivision c of subsection 1 of section 41-09-04, if the set-off is based on a claim against the debtor.

41-09-61. (9-341) Bank's rights and duties with respect to deposit account or certificate of deposit. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 of section 41-09-60, and unless the bank otherwise agrees in an authenticated record, a bank's rights and duties with respect to a deposit account or certificate of deposit maintained with the bank are not terminated, suspended, or modified by:

1. The creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the deposit account or certificate of deposit;
2. The bank's knowledge of the security interest; or
3. The bank's receipt of instructions from the secured party.

41-09-62. (9-342) Bank's right to refuse to enter into or disclose existence of control agreement. This chapter does not require a bank to enter into an agreement of the kind described in subdivision b of subsection 1 of section 41-09-04, even if its customer so requests or directs. A bank that has entered into such an agreement is not required to confirm the existence of the agreement to another person unless requested to do so by its customer.

41-09-63. (9-401) Alienability of debtor's rights.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 and sections 41-09-68 through 41-09-71, whether a debtor's rights in collateral may be voluntarily or involuntarily transferred is governed by law other than this chapter.
2. An agreement between the debtor and secured party which prohibits a transfer of the debtor's rights in collateral or makes the transfer a default does not prevent the transfer from taking effect.

41-09-64. (9-402) Secured party not obligated on contract of debtor or in tort. The existence of a security interest, agricultural lien, or authority given to a debtor to dispose of or use collateral, without more, does not subject a secured party to liability in contract or tort for the debtor's acts or omissions.

41-09-65. (9-403) Agreement not to assert defenses against assignee.

1. In this section, "value" has the meaning provided in subsection 1 of section 41-03-29.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this section, an agreement between an account debtor and an assignor not to assert against an assignee any claim or defense that the account debtor may have against the assignor is enforceable by an assignee that takes an assignment:

 - a. For value;
 - b. In good faith;
 - c. Without notice of a claim of a property or possessory right to the property assigned; and
 - d. Without notice of a defense or claim in recoupment of the type that may be asserted against a person entitled to enforce a negotiable instrument under subsection 1 of section 41-03-31.
3. Subsection 2 does not apply to defenses of a type that may be asserted against a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument under subsection 2 of section 41-03-31.
4. In a consumer transaction, if a record evidences the account debtor's obligation, law other than this chapter requires that the record include a statement to the effect that the rights of an assignee are subject to claims or defenses that the account debtor could assert against the original obligee, and the record does not include such a statement:

 - a. The record has the same effect as if the record included such a statement; and
 - b. The account debtor may assert against an assignee those claims and defenses that would have been available if the record included such a statement.
5. This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.
6. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, this section does not displace law other than this chapter which gives effect to an agreement by an account debtor not to assert a claim or defense against an assignee.

41-09-66. (9-404) Rights acquired by assignee - Claims and defenses against assignee.

1. Unless an account debtor has made an enforceable agreement not to assert defenses or claims, and subject to subsections 2 through 5, the rights of an assignee are subject to:

 - a. All terms of the agreement between the account debtor and assignor and any defense or claim in recoupment arising from the transaction that gave rise to the contract; and
 - b. Any other defense or claim of the account debtor against the assignor which accrues before the account debtor receives a notification of the assignment authenticated by the assignor or the assignee.

2. Subject to subsection 3 and except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, the claim of an account debtor against an assignor may be asserted against an assignee under subsection 1 only to reduce the amount the account debtor owes.
3. This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.
4. In a consumer transaction, if a record evidences the account debtor's obligation, law other than this chapter requires that the record include a statement to the effect that the account debtor's recovery against an assignee with respect to claims and defenses against the assignor may not exceed amounts paid by the account debtor under the record, and the record does not include such a statement, the extent to which a claim of an account debtor against the assignor may be asserted against an assignee is determined as if the record included such a statement.
5. This section does not apply to an assignment of a health care insurance receivable.

41-09-67. (9-405) Modification of assigned contract.

1. A modification of or substitution for an assigned contract is effective against an assignee if made in good faith. The assignee acquires corresponding rights under the modified or substituted contract. The assignment may provide that the modification or substitution is a breach of contract by the assignor. This subsection is subject to subsections 2 through 4.
2. Subsection 1 applies to the extent that:
 - a. The right to payment or a part thereof under an assigned contract has not been fully earned by performance; or
 - b. The right to payment or a part thereof has been fully earned by performance and the account debtor has not received notification of the assignment under subsection 1 of section 41-09-68.
3. This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.
4. This section does not apply to an assignment of a health care insurance receivable.

41-09-68. (9-406) Discharge of account debtor - Notification of assignment - Identification and proof of assignment - Restrictions on assignment of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, and promissory notes ineffective.

1. Subject to subsections 2 through 9, an account debtor on an account, chattel paper, or a payment intangible may discharge its obligation by paying the assignor until, but not after, the account debtor receives a notification, authenticated by the assignor or the assignee, that the amount due or to become due has been assigned and that payment is to be made to the assignee. After receipt of the notification, the account debtor may discharge its obligation by paying the assignee and may not discharge the obligation by paying the assignor.
2. Subject to subsection 8, notification is ineffective under subsection 1:

 - a. If it does not reasonably identify the rights assigned;
 - b. To the extent that an agreement between an account debtor and a seller of a payment intangible limits the account debtor's duty to pay a person other than the seller and the limitation is effective under law other than this chapter; or
 - c. At the option of an account debtor, if the notification notifies the account debtor to make less than the full amount of any installment or other periodic payment to the assignee, even if:

 - (1) Only a portion of the account, chattel paper, or payment intangible has been assigned to that assignee;
 - (2) A portion has been assigned to another assignee; or
 - (3) The account debtor knows that the assignment to that assignee is limited.
3. Subject to subsection 8, if requested by the account debtor, an assignee shall seasonably furnish reasonable proof that the assignment has been made. Unless the assignee complies, the account debtor may discharge its obligation by paying the assignor, even if the account debtor has received a notification under subsection 1.
4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5 and sections 41-02.1-33 and 41-09-69, and subject to subsection 8, a term in an agreement between an account debtor and an assignor or in a promissory note is ineffective to the extent that it:

 - a. Prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the account debtor or person obligated on the promissory note to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in, the account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note; or
 - b. Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note.
5. Subsection 4 does not apply to the sale of a payment intangible or promissory note.

6. Except as otherwise provided in sections 41-02.1-33 and 41-09-69 and subject to subsections 8 and 9, a rule of law, statute, or regulation that prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a government, governmental body or official, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of, or creation of a security interest in, an account or chattel paper is ineffective to the extent that the rule of law, statute, or regulation:
 - a. Prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the government, governmental body or official, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the account or chattel paper; or
 - b. Provides that the assignment, transfer, creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the account or chattel paper.
7. Subject to subsection 8, an account debtor may not waive or vary its option under subdivision c of subsection 2.
8. This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.
9. This section does not apply to an assignment of a health care insurance receivable.

41-09-69. (9-407) Restrictions on creation or enforcement of security interest in leasehold interest or in lessor's residual interest.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a term in a lease agreement is ineffective to the extent that the term:
 - a. Prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a party to the lease to the assignment, transfer, creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in an interest of a party under the lease contract or in the lessor's residual interest in the goods; or
 - b. Provides that the assignment, transfer, creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the lease.
2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6 of section 41-02.1-33, a term described in subdivision b of subsection 1 is effective to the extent that there is:
 - a. A transfer by the lessee of the lessee's right of possession or use of the goods in violation of the term; or
 - b. A delegation of a material performance of either party to the lease contract in violation of the term.

3. The creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the lessor's interest under the lease contract or the lessor's residual interest in the goods is not a transfer that materially impairs the lessee's prospect of obtaining return performance or materially changes the duty of or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on the lessee within the purview of subsection 4 of section 41-02.1-33 unless, and then only to the extent that, enforcement actually results in a delegation of material performance of the lessor.

41-09-70. (9-408) Restrictions on assignment of promissory notes, health care insurance receivables, and certain general intangibles ineffective.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a term in a promissory note or in an agreement between an account debtor and a debtor which relates to a health care insurance receivable or a general intangible, including a contract, permit, license, or franchise, and which term prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor to, the assignment or transfer of, or creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in, the promissory note, health care insurance receivable, or general intangible, is ineffective to the extent that the term:
 - a. Would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest; or
 - b. Provides that the assignment, transfer, creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the promissory note, health care insurance receivable, or general intangible.
2. Subsection 1 applies to a security interest in a payment intangible or promissory note only if the security interest arises out of a sale of the payment intangible or promissory note.
3. A rule of law, statute, or regulation that prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a government, governmental body or official, person obligated on a promissory note, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of, or creation of a security interest in, a promissory note, health care insurance receivable, or general intangible, including a contract, permit, license, or franchise between an account debtor and a debtor, is ineffective to the extent that the rule of law, statute, or regulation:

- a. Is not enforceable against the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor;
- b. Does not impose a duty or obligation on the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor;

- d. Does not entitle the secured party to use or assign the debtor's rights under the promissory note, health care insurance receivable, or general intangible, including any related information or materials furnished to the debtor in the transaction giving rise to the promissory note, health care insurance receivable, or general intangible;
- e. Does not entitle the secured party to use, assign, possess, or have access to any trade secrets or confidential information of the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor; and

 - a. Would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the letter-of-credit right; or
 - b. Provides that the assignment, creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the letter-of-credit right.
2. To the extent that a term in a letter of credit is ineffective under subsection 1 but would be effective under law other than this chapter or a custom or practice applicable to the letter of credit, to the transfer of a right to draw or otherwise demand performance under the letter of credit, or to the assignment of a right to proceeds of the letter of credit, the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the letter-of-credit right:

- a. Is not enforceable against the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary;
- b. Imposes no duties or obligations on the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary; and
- c. Does not require the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary to recognize the security interest, pay or render performance to the secured party, or accept payment or other performance from the secured party.

41-09-72. (9-501) Filing office.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, if the local law of this state governs perfection of a security interest or agricultural lien, the office in which to file a financing statement to perfect the security interest or agricultural lien is:
 - a. The office designated for the filing or recording of a record of a mortgage on the related real property, if:

2. The office in which to file a financing statement to perfect a security interest in collateral, including fixtures, of a transmitting utility is the office of the secretary of state. The financing statement also constitutes a fixture filing as to the collateral indicated in the financing statement which is or is to become fixtures.

41-09-73. (9-502) Contents of financing statement - Record of mortgage as financing statement - Time of filing financing statement - Amending financing statement.

1. Subject to subsection 2, a financing statement is sufficient only if the statement:

 - c. Indicates the collateral covered by the financing statement;
 - d. If it is a financing statement that is to be filed to gain protection under the central notice system, includes a reasonable description of the property, including the county in which the property is located, and any other additional information required by the Food Security Act of 1985 [Pub. L. 99-198; Stat. 1535; 7 U.S.C. 1631], as

- a. Indicate that it covers this type of collateral;
 - b. Indicate that it is to be filed for record in the real-property records;

 - d. If the debtor does not have an interest of record in the real property, provide the name of a record owner.
3. A record of a mortgage is effective, from the date of recording, as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing or as a financing statement covering as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut only if:
- a. The record indicates the goods or accounts that it covers;
 - b. The goods are or are to become fixtures related to the real property described in the record or the collateral is related to the real property described in the record and is as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut;
 - c. The record satisfies the requirements for a financing statement in this section other than an indication that it is to be filed in the real-property records; and
 - d. The record is duly recorded.
4. A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest otherwise attaches.
5. A financing statement filed to gain protection under the central notice system must be amended within three months of a material change to reflect that change. The amended financing statement must be signed by both the debtor and secured party and filed in the same manner as the original financing statement. An electronically filed amendment does not need to be signed.

6. Effective January 1, 2002, any social security number or federal tax identification number submitted under subdivision e of subsection 1 is not a public record and may not be disclosed as part of any search under section 41-09-94 or 41-09-96 or as part of a copy of the record.

41-09-74. (9-503) Name of debtor and secured party.

1. A financing statement sufficiently provides the name of the debtor:
- a. If the debtor is a registered organization, only if the financing statement provides the name of the debtor indicated on the public record of the debtor's jurisdiction of organization which shows the debtor to have been organized;
 - b. If the debtor is a decedent's estate, only if the financing statement provides the name of the decedent and indicates that the debtor is an estate;
 - c. If the debtor is a trust or a trustee acting with respect to property held in trust, only if the financing statement:
 - (1) Provides the name specified for the trust in its organic documents or, if no name is specified, provides the name of the settlor and additional information sufficient to distinguish the debtor from other trusts having one or more of the same settlors; and
 - (2) Indicates, in the debtor's name or otherwise, that the debtor is a trust or is a trustee acting with respect to property held in trust; and
 - d. In other cases:
 - (1) If the debtor has a name, only if it provides the individual or organizational name of the debtor; and
 - (2) If the debtor does not have a name, only if it provides the names of the partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor.
2. A financing statement that provides the name of the debtor in accordance with subsection 1 is not rendered ineffective by the absence of:
- a. A trade name or other name of the debtor; or
 - b. Unless required under paragraph 2 of subdivision d of subsection 1, names of partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor.
3. A financing statement that provides only the debtor's trade name does not sufficiently provide the name of the debtor.
4. Failure to indicate the representative capacity of a secured party or representative of a secured party does not affect the sufficiency of a financing statement.

5. A financing statement may provide the name of more than one debtor and the name of more than one secured party.

41-09-75. (9-504) Indication of collateral. A financing statement sufficiently indicates the collateral that it covers if the financing statement provides:

1. A description of the collateral pursuant to section 41-09-08; or
2. An indication that the financing statement covers all assets or all personal property.

41-09-76. (9-505) Filing and compliance with other statutes and treaties for consignments, leases, other bailments, and other transactions.

1. A consignor, lessor, or other bailor of goods, a licensor, or a buyer of a payment intangible or promissory note may file a financing statement, or may comply with a statute or treaty described in subsection 1 of section 41-09-31, using the terms "consignor", "consignee", "lessor", "lessee", "bailor", "bailee", "licensor", "licensee", "owner", "registered owner", "buyer", "seller", or words of similar import, instead of the terms "secured party" and "debtor".
2. This part applies to the filing of a financing statement under subsection 1 and, as appropriate, to compliance that is equivalent to filing a financing statement under subsection 2 of section 41-09-31, but the filing or compliance is not of itself a factor in determining whether the collateral secures an obligation. If it is determined for another reason that the collateral secures an obligation, a security interest held by the consignor, lessor, bailor, licensor, owner, or buyer which attaches to the collateral is perfected by the filing or compliance.

41-09-77. (9-506) Effect of errors or omissions.

1. A financing statement substantially satisfying the requirements of this part is effective, even if the financing statement has minor errors or omissions, unless the errors or omissions make the financing statement seriously misleading.
2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, a financing statement that fails sufficiently to provide the name of the debtor in accordance with subsection 1 of section 41-09-74 is seriously misleading.
3. If a search of the records of the filing office under the debtor's correct name, using the filing office's standard search logic, if any, would disclose a financing statement that fails sufficiently to provide the name of the debtor in accordance with subsection 1 of section 41-09-74, the name provided does not make the financing statement seriously misleading.
4. For purposes of subsection 2 of section 41-09-79, the "debtor's correct name" in subsection 3 means the correct name of the new debtor.

41-09-78. (9-507) Effect of certain events on effectiveness of financing statement.

1. A filed financing statement remains effective with respect to collateral that is sold, exchanged, leased, licensed, or otherwise disposed of and in which a security interest or agricultural lien continues, even if the secured party knows of or consents to the disposition.
2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 and section 41-09-79, a financing statement is not rendered ineffective if, after the financing statement is filed, the information provided in the financing statement becomes seriously misleading under section 41-09-77.
3. If a debtor so changes its name that a filed financing statement becomes seriously misleading under section 41-09-77:
 - a. The financing statement is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor before, or within four months after, the change; and
 - b. The financing statement is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor more than four months after the change, unless an amendment to the financing statement which renders the financing statement not seriously misleading is filed within four months after the change.

41-09-79. (9-508) Effectiveness of financing statement if new debtor becomes bound by security agreement.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a filed financing statement naming an original debtor is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral in which a new debtor has or acquires rights to the extent that the financing statement would have been effective had the original debtor acquired rights in the collateral.
2. If the difference between the name of the original debtor and that of the new debtor causes a filed financing statement that is effective under subsection 1 to be seriously misleading under section 41-09-77:
 - a. The financing statement is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the new debtor before, and within four months after, the new debtor becomes bound under subsection 4 of section 41-09-13; and
 - b. The financing statement is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the new debtor more than four months after the new debtor becomes bound under subsection 4 of section 41-09-13 unless an initial financing statement providing the name of the new debtor is filed before the expiration of that time.
3. This section does not apply to collateral as to which a filed financing statement remains effective against the new debtor under subsection 1 of section 41-09-78.

41-09-80. (9-509) Persons entitled to file a record.

1. A person may file an initial financing statement, amendment that adds collateral covered by a financing statement, or amendment that adds a debtor to a financing statement only if:

- a. The debtor authorizes the filing in an authenticated record or pursuant to subsection 2 or 3; or
 - b. The person holds an agricultural lien that has become effective at the time of filing and the financing statement covers only collateral in which the person holds an agricultural lien.
2. By authenticating or becoming bound as debtor by a security agreement, a debtor or new debtor authorizes the filing of an initial financing statement, and an amendment, covering:
 - a. The collateral described in the security agreement; and
 - b. Property that becomes collateral under subdivision b of subsection 1 of section 41-09-35, regardless of whether the security agreement expressly covers proceeds.
3. By acquiring collateral in which a security interest or agricultural lien continues under subdivision a of subsection 1 of section 41-09-35, a debtor authorizes the filing of an initial financing statement, and an amendment, covering the collateral and property that becomes collateral under subdivision b of subsection 1 of section 41-09-35.
4. A person may file an amendment other than an amendment that adds collateral covered by a financing statement or an amendment that adds a debtor to a financing statement only if:
 - a. The secured party of record authorizes the filing; or
 - b. The amendment is a termination statement for a financing statement as to which the secured party of record has failed to file or send a termination statement as required under section 41-09-84, the debtor authorizes the filing, and the termination statement indicates that the debtor authorized it to be filed. The filing office shall notify the secured party of a filing under this subsection.
5. If there is more than one secured party of record for a financing statement, each secured party of record may authorize the filing of an amendment under subsection 4.

41-09-81. (9-510) Effectiveness of filed record.

1. A filed record is effective only to the extent that it was filed by a person that may file it under section 41-09-80.
2. A record authorized by one secured party of record does not affect the financing statement with respect to another secured party of record.
3. A continuation statement that is not filed within the six-month period prescribed by subsection 4 of section 41-09-86 is ineffective.

41-09-82. (9-511) Secured party of record.

1. A secured party of record with respect to a financing statement is a person whose name is provided as the name of the secured party or a representative of the secured party in an initial financing statement that has been filed. If an initial financing statement is filed under subsection 1 of section 41-09-85, the assignee named in the initial financing statement is the secured party of record with respect to the financing statement.

2. If an amendment of a financing statement which provides the name of a person as a secured party or a representative of a secured party is filed, the person named in the amendment is a secured party of record. If an amendment is filed under subsection 2 of section 41-09-85, the assignee named in the amendment is a secured party of record.
3. A person remains a secured party of record until the filing of an amendment of the financing statement which deletes the person.

41-09-83. (9-512) Amendment of financing statement.

1. Subject to section 41-09-80, a person may add or delete collateral covered by, continue or terminate the effectiveness of, or, subject to subsection 5, otherwise amend the information provided in, a financing statement by filing an amendment that:
 - a. Identifies, by its file number, the initial financing statement to which the amendment relates; and
 - b. If the amendment relates to an initial financing statement filed or recorded in a filing office described in subdivision a of subsection 1 of section 41-09-72, provides the information specified in subsection 2 of section 41-09-73.
2. Except as otherwise provided in section 41-09-86, the filing of an amendment does not extend the period of effectiveness of the financing statement.
3. A financing statement that is amended by an amendment that adds collateral is effective as to the added collateral only from the date of the filing of the amendment.
4. A financing statement that is amended by an amendment that adds a debtor is effective as to the added debtor only from the date of the filing of the amendment.
5. An amendment is ineffective to the extent it:
 - a. Purports to delete all debtors and fails to provide the name of a debtor to be covered by the financing statement; or
 - b. Purports to delete all secured parties of record and fails to provide the name of a new secured party of record.

41-09-84. Termination statement - Remedies - Fees.

1. If a financing statement covering consumer goods is filed after December 31, 1973, then within one month or within ten days following written demand by the debtor after there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value, the secured party shall file with each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that the secured party no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement, which must be identified by file number. In other cases when there is no outstanding secured obligation and no written commitment between the secured party and the debtor to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value, the secured party, unless requested by the debtor in writing to continue the filing, must send to each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that the secured party no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement nor under the central notice system, which shall be identified by file number. A termination statement submitted by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment complying with section 41-09-85, including payment of the required fee, if any. If the affected secured party fails to file a termination statement as required by this subsection within sixty days of when the secured obligation is fully satisfied, and the debtor has not requested in writing that the filing be continued, then under section 41-09-120 the secured party is liable to the debtor for one hundred dollars and for any loss caused to the debtor by such failure. The debtor's written request for a filing to be continued may be made at any time and be effective under this section. If the affected secured party fails to file a termination statement within ten days after proper written demand by the debtor, then under section 41-09-120 the secured party is liable to the debtor for one hundred dollars and for any loss caused to the debtor by such failure.

2. On presentation to the filing officer of a termination statement, the filing officer shall note the termination statement in the index. If the filing officer receives the termination statement in duplicate, the filing officer shall return one copy of the termination statement to the secured party stamped to show the time of receipt of the termination statement. If the filing officer has a microfilm or other photographic record or an optical disk of the financing statement, and of any related continuation statement, statement of assignment, and statement of release, the filing officer may remove the originals from the files at any time after receipt of the termination statement, or if the filing officer has no such record, the filing officer may remove the originals from the files at any time after one year after receipt of the termination statement.
3. The fee for filing and indexing a termination statement, including sending or delivering the financing statement, is five dollars. For any financing statement filed after April 8, 1991, the fee must be paid at the time the fee for filing the financing statement is paid.

41-09-85. (9-514) Assignment of powers of secured party of record.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, an initial financing statement may reflect an assignment of all of the secured party's power to authorize an amendment to the financing statement by providing the name and mailing address of the assignee as the name and address of the secured party.
2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, a secured party of record may assign of record all or part of its power to authorize an amendment to a financing statement by filing in the filing office an amendment of the financing statement which:

- a. Identifies, by its file number, the initial financing statement to which it relates;
 - b. Provides the name of the assignor; and
 - c. Provides the name and mailing address of the assignee.
3. An assignment of record of a security interest in a fixture covered by a record of a mortgage which is effective as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing under subsection 3 of section 41-09-73 may be made only by an assignment of record of the mortgage in the manner provided by law of this state other than this title.

41-09-86. (9-515) Duration and effectiveness of financing statement - Effect of lapsed financing statement.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 5, 6, and 7, a filed financing statement is effective for a period of five years after the date of filing.
2. (Reserved)
3. The effectiveness of a filed financing statement lapses on the expiration of the period of its effectiveness unless before the lapse a continuation statement is filed pursuant to subsection 4. Upon lapse, a financing statement ceases to be effective and any security interest or agricultural lien that was perfected by the financing statement becomes unperfected, unless the security interest is perfected otherwise. If the security interest or agricultural lien becomes unperfected upon lapse, it is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the collateral for value.
4. A continuation statement may be filed only within six months before the expiration of the five-year period specified in subsection 1.
5. Except as otherwise provided in section 41-09-81, upon timely filing of a continuation statement, the effectiveness of the initial financing statement continues for a period of five years commencing on the day on which the financing statement would have become ineffective in the absence of the filing. Upon the expiration of the five-year period, the financing statement lapses in the same manner as provided in subsection 3, unless, before the lapse, another continuation statement is filed pursuant to subsection 4. Succeeding continuation statements may be filed in the same manner to continue the effectiveness of the initial financing statement.
6. If a debtor is a transmitting utility and a filed financing statement so indicates, the financing statement is effective until a termination statement is filed.
7. A record of a mortgage that is effective as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing under subsection 3 of section 41-09-73 remains effective as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing until the mortgage is released or satisfied of record or its effectiveness otherwise terminates as to the real property.

41-09-87. (9-516) What constitutes filing - Effectiveness of filing.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, communication of a record to a filing office and tender of the filing fee or acceptance of the record by the filing office constitutes filing.
2. Filing does not occur with respect to a record that a filing office refuses to accept because:
 - a. The record is not communicated by a method or medium of communication authorized by the filing office;
 - b. An amount equal to or greater than the applicable filing fee is not tendered;
 - c. The filing office is unable to index the record because:
 - (1) In the case of an initial financing statement, the record does not provide a name for the debtor;
 - (2) In the case of an amendment or correction statement, the record:
 - (a) Does not identify the initial financing statement as required by section 41-09-83 or 41-09-89, as applicable; or
 - (b) Identifies an initial financing statement whose effectiveness has lapsed under section 41-09-86;
 - (3) In the case of an initial financing statement that provides the name of a debtor identified as an individual or an amendment that provides a name of a debtor identified as an individual which was not previously provided in the financing statement to which the record relates, the record does not identify the debtor's last name; or
 - (4) In the case of a record filed or recorded in the filing office described in subdivision a of subsection 1 of section 41-09-72, the record does not provide a sufficient description of the real property to which it relates;
 - d. In the case of an initial financing statement or an amendment that adds a secured party of record, the record does not provide a name and mailing address for the secured party of record;
 - e. In the case of an initial financing statement or an amendment that provides a name of a debtor which was not previously provided in the financing statement to which the amendment relates, the record does not:
 - (1) Provide a mailing address for the debtor;

- (2) Indicate whether the debtor is an individual or an organization; or
- (3) If the financing statement indicates that the debtor is an organization, provide:
 - (a) A type of organization for the debtor;
 - (b) A jurisdiction of organization for the debtor; or
 - (c) An organizational identification number for the debtor or indicate that the debtor has none;
- f. In the case of an assignment reflected in an initial financing statement under subsection 1 of section 41-09-85 or an amendment filed under subsection 2 of section 41-09-85, the record does not provide a name and mailing address for the assignee;
- g. In the case of a continuation statement, the record is not filed within the six-month period prescribed by subsection 4 of section 41-09-86; or
- h. The record does not contain the social security number or the federal tax identification number of the debtor.
- 3. For purposes of subsection 2:
 - a. A record does not provide information if the filing office is unable to read or decipher the information; and
 - b. A record that does not indicate that it is an amendment or identify an initial financing statement to which it relates, as required by section 41-09-83, 41-09-85, or 41-09-89, is an initial financing statement.
- 4. A record that is communicated to the filing office with tender of the filing fee, but which the filing office refuses to accept for a reason other than one set forth in subsection 2, is effective as a filed record except as against a purchaser of the collateral which gives value in reasonable reliance upon the absence of the record from the files.

41-09-88. (9-517) Effect of indexing errors. The failure of the filing office to index a record correctly does not affect the effectiveness of the filed record.

41-09-89. (9-518) Claim concerning inaccurate or wrongfully filed record.

- 1. A person may file in the filing office a correction statement with respect to a record indexed there under the person's name if the person believes that the record is inaccurate or was wrongfully filed.
- 2. A correction statement must:
 - a. Identify the record to which it relates by the file number assigned to the initial financing statement to which the record relates;

- b. To the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing of records of mortgages under the name of the mortgagee, under the name of the secured party as if the secured party were the mortgagee thereunder, or, if indexing is by description, as if the financing statement were a record of a mortgage of the real property described.
5. If a financing statement is filed as a fixture filing or covers as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut, the filing office shall index an assignment filed under subsection 1 of section 41-09-85 or an amendment filed under subsection 2 of section 41-09-85:
 - a. Under the name of the assignor as grantor; and
 - b. To the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing a record of the assignment of a mortgage under the name of the assignee, under the name of the assignee.
6. The filing office shall maintain a capability:
 - a. To retrieve a record by the name of the debtor and by the file number assigned to the initial financing statement to which the record relates; and
 - b. To associate and retrieve with one another an initial financing statement and each filed record relating to the initial financing statement.
7. The filing office may not remove a debtor's name from the index until one year after the effectiveness of a financing statement naming the debtor lapses under section 41-09-86 with respect to all secured parties of record.
8. The filing office shall perform the acts required by subsections 1 through 5 at the time and in the manner prescribed by filing-office rule, but not later than two business days after the filing office receives the record in question.

41-09-91. (9-520) Acceptance and refusal to accept record.

1. A filing office shall refuse to accept a record for filing for a reason set forth in subsection 2 of section 41-09-87 and may refuse to accept a record for filing only for a reason set forth in subsection 2 of section 41-09-87.
2. If a filing office refuses to accept a record for filing, it shall communicate to the person that presented the record the fact of and reason for the refusal and the date and time the record would have been filed had the filing office accepted it. The communication must be made at the time and in the manner prescribed by filing-office rule but in no event more than two business days after the filing office receives the record.

7. If a secured party fails to comply with a request regarding a list of collateral or a statement of account under section 41-09-20, the secured party may claim a security interest only as shown in the list or statement included in the request as against a person that is reasonably misled by the failure.

41-09-121. (9-626) Action in which deficiency or surplus is in issue. In an action arising from a transaction in which the amount of a deficiency or surplus is in issue, the following rules apply:

1. A secured party need not prove compliance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance unless the debtor or a secondary obligor places the secured party's compliance in issue.
2. If the secured party's compliance is placed in issue, the secured party has the burden of establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with this part.
3. Except as otherwise provided in section 41-09-123, if a secured party fails to prove that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance, the liability of a debtor or a secondary obligor for a deficiency is limited to an amount by which the sum of the secured obligation, expenses, and attorney's fees exceeds the greater of:
 - a. The proceeds of the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance; or
 - b. The amount of proceeds that would have been realized had the noncomplying secured party proceeded in accordance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance.
4. For purposes of subdivision b of subsection 3, the amount of proceeds that would have been realized is equal to the sum of the secured obligation, expenses, and attorney's fees unless the secured party proves that the amount is less than that sum.

5. If a deficiency or surplus is calculated under subsection 6 of section 41-09-111, the debtor or obligor has the burden of establishing that the amount of proceeds of the disposition is significantly below the range of prices that a complying disposition to a person other than the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor would have brought.

41-09-122. (9-627) Determination of whether conduct was commercially reasonable.

1. The fact that a greater amount could have been obtained by a collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the secured party is not of itself sufficient to preclude the secured party from establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was made in a commercially reasonable manner.
2. A disposition of collateral is made in a commercially reasonable manner if the disposition is made:
 - a. In the usual manner on any recognized market;
 - b. At the price current in any recognized market at the time of the disposition; or
 - c. Otherwise in conformity with reasonable commercial practices among dealers in the type of property that was the subject of the disposition.
3. A collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is commercially reasonable if it has been approved:
 - a. In a judicial proceeding;
 - b. By a bona fide creditors' committee;
 - c. By a representative of creditors; or
 - d. By an assignee for the benefit of creditors.
4. Approval under subsection 3 need not be obtained, and lack of approval does not mean that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is not commercially reasonable.

41-09-123. (9-628) Nonliability and limitation on liability of secured party - Liability of secondary obligor.

1. Unless a secured party knows that a person is a debtor or obligor, knows the identity of the person, and knows how to communicate with the person:

- a. The secured party is not liable to the person, or to a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against the person, for failure to comply with this chapter; and
 - b. The secured party's failure to comply with this chapter does not affect the liability of the person for a deficiency.
2. A secured party is not liable because of its status as secured party:
 - a. To a person that is a debtor or obligor, unless the secured party knows:
 - (1) That the person is a debtor or obligor;
 - (2) The identity of the person; and
 - (3) How to communicate with the person; or
 - b. To a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against a person, unless the secured party knows:
 - (1) That the person is a debtor; and
 - (2) The identity of the person.
3. A secured party is not liable to any person, and a person's liability for a deficiency is not affected, because of any act or omission arising out of the secured party's reasonable belief that a transaction is not a consumer-goods transaction or a consumer transaction or that goods are not consumer goods, if the secured party's belief is based on its reasonable reliance on:
 - a. A debtor's representation concerning the purpose for which collateral was to be used, acquired, or held; or
 - b. An obligor's representation concerning the purpose for which a secured obligation was incurred.
4. A secured party is not liable under subdivision b of subsection 3 of section 41-09-120 more than once with respect to any one secured obligation.

41-09-124. (9-702) Savings clause.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this part, this Act applies to a transaction or lien within its scope, even if the transaction or lien was entered into or created before July 1, 2001.
2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 and sections 41-09-125 through 41-09-131:
 - a. Transactions and liens that were not governed by the former chapter 41-09 were validly entered into or created before July 1, 2001, and would be subject to this Act if they had been entered into or created on or after July 1, 2001, and the rights, duties, and interests flowing from those transactions and liens remain valid after July 1, 2001; and

- b. The transactions and liens may be terminated, completed, consummated, and enforced as required or permitted by this Act or by the law that otherwise would apply if this Act had not taken effect.
3. This Act does not affect an action, case, or proceeding commenced before July 1, 2001.

41-09-125. (9-703) Security interest perfected before effective date.

1. A security interest that is enforceable immediately before July 1, 2001, and would have priority over the rights of a person that becomes a lien creditor at that time is a perfected security interest under this Act if, on July 1, 2001, the applicable requirements for enforceability and perfection under this Act are satisfied without further action.
2. Except as otherwise provided in section 41-09-127, if, immediately before July 1, 2001, a security interest is enforceable and would have priority over the rights of a person that becomes a lien creditor at that time, but the applicable requirements for enforceability or perfection under this Act are not satisfied on July 1, 2001, the security interest:
 - a. Is a perfected security interest for one year after this Act takes effect;
 - b. Remains enforceable thereafter only if the security interest becomes enforceable under section 41-09-13 before the year expires; and
 - c. Remains perfected thereafter only if the applicable requirements for perfection under this Act are satisfied before the year expires.

41-09-126. (9-704) Security interest unperfected before effective date. A security interest that is enforceable immediately before July 1, 2001, but which would be subordinate to the rights of a person that becomes a lien creditor at that time:

1. Remains an enforceable security interest until July 1, 2002;
2. Remains enforceable thereafter if the security interest becomes enforceable under section 41-09-13 on July 1, 2001, or within one year thereafter; and
3. Becomes perfected:
 - a. Without further action, on July 1, 2001, if the applicable requirements for perfection under this Act are satisfied before or at that time; or
 - b. When the applicable requirements for perfection are satisfied if the requirements are satisfied after that time.

41-09-127. (9-705) Effectiveness of action taken before effective date.

1. If action, other than the filing of a financing statement, is taken before July 1, 2001, and the action would have resulted in priority of a security interest over the rights of a person that becomes a lien creditor had the security interest become enforceable before July 1, 2001, the action is effective to perfect a security interest that attaches under this Act by July 1, 2002. An attached security interest becomes unperfected on July 1, 2002, unless the security interest becomes a perfected security interest under this Act before the expiration of that period.
2. The filing of a financing statement before July 1, 2001, is effective to perfect a security interest to the extent the filing would satisfy the applicable requirements for perfection under this Act.
3. This Act does not render ineffective an effective financing statement that, before July 1, 2001, is filed and satisfies the applicable requirements for perfection under the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in the former section 41-09-03. However, except as otherwise provided in subsections 4 and 5 and section 41-09-128, the financing statement ceases to be effective at the earlier of:
 - a. The time the financing statement would have ceased to be effective under the law of the jurisdiction in which it is filed; or
 - b. June 30, 2006.
4. The filing of a continuation statement after this Act takes effect does not continue the effectiveness of the financing statement filed before July 1, 2001. However, upon the timely filing of a continuation statement after July 1, 2001, and in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in part 3, the effectiveness of a financing statement filed in the same office in that jurisdiction before July 1, 2001, continues for the period provided by the law of that jurisdiction.
5. Subdivision b of subsection 3 applies to a financing statement that, before July 1, 2001, is filed against a transmitting utility and satisfies the applicable requirements for perfection under the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in the former section 41-09-03 only to the extent that part 3 provides that the law of a jurisdiction other than the jurisdiction in which the financing statement is filed governs perfection of a security interest in collateral covered by the financing statement.
6. A financing statement that includes a financing statement filed before July 1, 2001, takes effect and a continuation statement filed after July 1, 2001, is effective only to the extent that it satisfies the requirements of part 5 for an initial financing statement.

41-09-128. (9-706) When initial financing statement suffices to continue effectiveness of financing statement.

1. The filing of an initial financing statement in the office specified in section 41-09-72 continues the effectiveness of a financing statement filed before July 1, 2001, if:
 - a. The filing of an initial financing statement in that office would be effective to perfect a security interest under this Act;

2. a. Notwithstanding the provisions of ~~sections 41-09-23, 41-09-40, 41-09-41,~~ section 41-09-30 and ~~41-09-42~~ sections 41-09-72 through 41-09-97, all filings required under the Uniform Commercial Code in order to perfect a security interest against the personal property or fixtures of a debtor transmitting utility shall be made and maintained only in the office of the secretary of state of North Dakota.

SECTION 32. AMENDMENT. Section 54-09-08 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

54-09-08. Secretary of state's general services operating fund. The secretary of state's general services operating fund is a special fund in the state treasury. Moneys in the fund are to be used pursuant to legislative appropriations for the provision of services under ~~subsections 8 and 11~~ subsection 6 of section ~~41-09-42 and 41-09-94,~~ subsection 10 of section 54-09-04, and sections 34 and 35 of this Act. At the close of each fiscal year, the secretary of state shall transfer any unobligated balance remaining in the fund exceeding seventy-five thousand dollars to the general fund.

SECTION 33. Computerized central indexing system - Rules.

1. The secretary of state shall maintain a computerized central indexing system that contains the information filed with the office of the secretary of state or with any of the offices of the registers of deeds in this state pursuant to sections 35-13-02, 35-17-04, 35-20-16, 35-30-02, 35-31-02, 35-34-04, 35-34-06, 41-09-72, 57-38-49, 57-39.2-13, 57-40.2-16, 57-40.3-07.1, 57-43.1-17.4, 57-43.2-16.3, and 57-51-11. The system must connect each register of deeds' office to the secretary of state's office through the information technology department. The system must allow access to financing statement information by equipment that conforms to requirements determined by the information technology department. The system must have safeguards to allow access to information that is in the system relating to security interests or liens and to prevent unauthorized alteration or deletion of that information and to allow access to other information in the system as prescribed by the secretary of state.
2. Within two working days of receipt of a financing statement, continuation statement, amendment, or termination statement filed pursuant to chapter 41-09 or a statement filed pursuant to section 35-13-02, 35-17-04, 35-20-16, 35-30-02, or 35-31-02, the register of deeds or secretary of state shall file the information contained in the statement in the computerized central indexing system. A computer printout of information from the system is prima facie evidence of the existence or nonexistence of the filing of a financing statement or lien. The secretary of state shall prescribe one form that can be used to perfect a security interest in farm products or gain protection under the central notice system, or both.
3. The secretary of state may adopt rules necessary to implement sections 33, 34, and 35 of this Act.

SECTION 34. Secretary of state to compile lists for crops and livestock - Distribution of lists.

1. From the computerized central indexing system, the secretary of state or a designee shall produce each month one list for crops and one list for livestock that each contain the information as filed on the forms pursuant to section 41-09-72. The secretary of state shall also include on the lists the information filed for crops and livestock pursuant to sections 35-17-04, 35-30-02, and 35-31-02. The lists must be in alphabetical order according to the last name of, or in numerical order according to the social security number of, the person engaged in farming operations. The lists may be prepared in categories according to county, regions as designated by the secretary of state, or on a statewide basis. If requested, the lists must be in printed form. Each list must conspicuously note the effective date of the list.
2. The secretary of state shall distribute monthly by mail the lists prepared pursuant to subsection 1, at least five business days in advance of the effective date of each of the lists. If requested, the secretary of state shall mail the lists to any person making a request at a fee as provided in section 35 of this Act.
3. Upon a verbal request of any person, the secretary of state, a designee of the secretary of state, or a register of deeds shall verbally provide information contained on a list generated through the computerized central indexing system if the collateral is crops or livestock. The requesting party may request a certificate from the secretary of state or the register of deeds and the secretary of state or the register of deeds shall confirm the information given. Direct computer access is equivalent to oral confirmation, and a computer printout constitutes the written confirmation of the secretary of state, if use of this method of confirmation does not cause the central indexing system to lose federal certification. A computer printout from the computerized central indexing system constitutes the certificate of the secretary of state or the register of deeds as to whether there is on file, on the date and hour stated on the computer printout, a financing statement.

SECTION 35. Fees.

1. The secretary of state shall establish fees for placing data in the computerized central indexing system; for obtaining computer access to the computerized central indexing system, to the computerized Uniform Commercial Code central filing data base, or to the computerized statutory liens data base; for receiving printouts; for direct access to all or parts of the central indexing system; for lists sold or licensed under subsection 6 of section 41-09-94; for any other list provided by the secretary of state; for any programming charges specifically incurred to provide information requested by persons which is related to the central indexing system; and for other services provided through the computerized system.
2. The fee for furnishing information on a verbal request pursuant to subsection 3 of section 34 of this Act is seven dollars, and the fee for furnishing a certificate under subsection 3 of section 34 of this Act is seven dollars.
3. The secretary of state shall establish the fee for furnishing lists under subsection 1 of section 34 of this Act based on actual costs to produce the lists for distribution.

4. Fees collected by the secretary of state under subsections 1 and 3 and under subsection 6 of section 41-09-94 must be deposited in the secretary of state's general services operating fund. Fees collected by the secretary of state under subsection 2 must be deposited in the general fund in the state treasury.
5. The secretary of state may adopt rules regarding what portion of the filing fees and search fees collected by the register of deeds under section 41-09-96 must be submitted to the secretary of state for deposit into the secretary of state's general operating fund to meet the cost of the provision of services required under sections 33 and 34 of this Act.

SECTION 36. REPEAL. Chapter 41-09 of the North Dakota Century Code is repealed.

SECTION 37. APPROPRIATION. There is appropriated out of any moneys in the secretary of state's general services operating fund in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $21,000, or so much of the sum as may be necessary, to the secretary of state for the purpose of defraying the expenses of providing direct access to the central indexing system, for the biennium beginning July 1, 2001, and ending June 30, 2003.

CONTRACTOR LICENSE RENEWAL

43-07-10. Renewal of license - Time requirements - Invalidity of license for failure to renew. Any license issued under this chapter may be renewed for each successive fiscal year by obtaining from the registrar a certificate of renewal. To obtain a certificate of renewal, the licensee shall file with the registrar an application, which includes a listing of each project, contract, or subcontract completed by the licensee during the preceding calendar year in this state over the amount of ~~ten~~ twenty-five thousand dollars, the nature of the work of each project, contract, or subcontract, and, if a performance bond was required, the name and address of the corporation, limited liability company, or other person who issued the bond. The registrar shall within a reasonable time forward a copy of the list to the state tax commissioner. The applicant shall include with the application a copy of a certificate of insurance indicating liability coverage as proof that the applicant has secured liability insurance unless the registrar has a current valid certificate of insurance on file, and a certification that the applicant has submitted all payroll taxes including North Dakota income tax, workers' compensation premiums, and unemployment insurance premiums due at the time of renewal, which documents need not be notarized. The application for a certificate of renewal must be made to the registrar on or before the first day of March of each year. At the time of filing the application for a certificate of renewal, the applicant shall pay to the registrar a renewal fee equal to twenty percent of the license fee established in section 43-07-07. If any contractor applies for a renewal under a class different from the license previously issued, the new class license may be issued upon the payment of the fee required for the issuance of the license of the class applied for. If any contractor fails to file an application for a certificate of renewal by the March first deadline, the contractor's license is not in good standing and the contractor must be deemed to be unlicensed within the meaning of sections 43-07-02 and 43-07-18. Within sixty days after March first, the contractor must be notified by mail that the contractor's license is not in good standing. The contractor then has until June first to renew by paying a penalty fee of seventy-five percent of the renewal fee, filing an application for a certificate of renewal, and paying the renewal fee. A contractor who applies for a certificate of renewal before or within ninety days of the filing deadline is not subject to the investigation authorized in section 43-07-09. After the June first deadline any licenses not renewed are revoked. Any application for a certificate of renewal must be fully completed within sixty days of the date the application is received by the registrar or it will be returned to the contractor who will then be subject to the provisions of section 43-07-09.

SENATE BILL NO. 2115

(Industry, Business and Labor Committee)
(At the request of the Attorney General)

REGULATED OCCUPATION OR PROFESSION PRACTICE

AN ACT to create and enact a new chapter to title 43 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the practice of a regulated occupation or profession.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new chapter to title 43 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context indicates otherwise:

1. "Board" means a board, commission, or other agency of state government created or identified in this title to regulate a particular occupation or profession, except for the:
 - a. State board of accountancy;
 - b. State electrical board;
 - c. North Dakota real estate appraiser qualifications and ethics board;
 - d. State real estate commission;
 - e. Secretary of state with respect to contractor licensing;
 - f. State board of medical examiners; and
 - g. State board of dental examiners.

"Board" also includes any agency of state government which is created or identified outside this title to regulate a particular occupation or profession if the agency elects, by administrative rule, to invoke the authority in this chapter.

2. "Foreign practitioner" means an individual who currently holds and maintains a license in good standing to engage in an occupation or profession in a state or jurisdiction other than this state and who is not the subject of a pending disciplinary action in any state or jurisdiction.
3. "Good standing" means a foreign practitioner holds a current license that is not issued on a temporary or restricted basis, is not encumbered or on probation, and is not suspended or revoked.
4. "License" means a license, certificate, permit, or similar authorization to practice an occupation or profession which is issued by a government agency in another state or jurisdiction that imposes requirements for obtaining and maintaining a license which are at least as stringent as the requirements imposed in this state to obtain and maintain a license to practice the same profession or occupation.

5. "Occupation or profession" means activity for which a license is required from a board or similar activity for which a license is required in another state or jurisdiction.

Location of practice of an occupation or profession. The provision of services to an individual in this state which fall within the standard of practice of a profession or occupation regulated by a board, regardless of the means by which the services are provided or the physical location of the person providing those services, constitutes the practice of that occupation or profession in this state and is subject to regulation by the appropriate board in this state.

Indirect practice without a license.

1. A foreign practitioner may provide services in this state which fall within the scope of practice designated by the foreign practitioner's license and by this title without obtaining a license from the appropriate board if the services are provided through consultation with the person licensed by the board and if the foreign practitioner has no direct communication in this state with the individual receiving the services except in the presence of the individual who is licensed by the board. Both the foreign practitioner and the individual licensed by the board are responsible for the services provided under this subsection.
2. A foreign practitioner may provide services in this state which fall within the scope of practice designated by the foreign practitioner's license and by this title without obtaining a license from the appropriate board if the services are provided through a remote means and are a continuation of an existing relationship between the foreign practitioner and the individual receiving the services which was formed in the state or jurisdiction in which the foreign practitioner is currently licensed.

Emergency practice without a license. Upon prior written notice to the appropriate board, a foreign practitioner may provide services in this state which fall within the scope of practice designated by the foreign practitioner's license and by this title without obtaining a license from the board, if the services are provided for a period of time not to exceed sixty consecutive days in a calendar year and are provided in response to a disaster declared by the appropriate authority in this state. The notice provided by a foreign practitioner under this section must include verified documentation from the appropriate licensing authority which identifies the requirements for licensure in that jurisdiction and which confirms that the practitioner is licensed and in good standing in that jurisdiction and any other information requested by the board. A notice provided under this section, if accompanied by sufficient documentation, is deemed to be accepted unless denied by the board. If a notice under this section is denied, the foreign practitioner immediately shall cease providing services under this section and may not resume providing services until after a successful appeal of the board's decision under chapter 28-32 or after an application for privileges under this section is reviewed and approved by the board.

Limited practice without a license. Upon prior written application to the appropriate board, a foreign practitioner may provide services in this state which fall within the scope of practice designated by the foreign practitioner's license and by this title without obtaining a license from the board if the services are provided for no more than thirty full or partial days per year. The one-year period commences on the date the written application is approved by the board. An application from a foreign practitioner under this section must include verified documentation from the appropriate licensing authority which identifies the requirements for licensure in that jurisdiction and which confirms that the practitioner is licensed and in good standing in that jurisdiction and any other information requested by the board. The board may require payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars or other fee established by the board by administrative rule, not to exceed the higher of twenty-five dollars or one-tenth of the fee for an annual license from the board, as a condition of approving an application under this section.

Licensure without examination. A board may issue a license, without examination, to any foreign practitioner who has practiced the occupation or profession for which the practitioner is licensed at least two years prior to submitting the application to the board, or for any shorter period of time provided in this title or established by the board by administrative rule, and who meets the other requirements for a license. A board is not prohibited from issuing a license under this section to a foreign practitioner if the state or jurisdiction in which the individual is licensed does not extend similar privileges to individuals licensed in this state. This section does not prohibit a board from requiring a foreign practitioner to take an examination regarding the laws of this state and the rules established by the board.

License compacts. A board may establish, by administrative rule, conditions and procedures for foreign practitioners to practice in this state pursuant to written compacts or agreements between the board and one or more other states or jurisdictions or pursuant to any other method of license recognition that ensures the health, safety, and welfare of the public. Any compact or agreement by a board does not become binding on this state until implemented by administrative rules under this section.

Discipline. A foreign practitioner's authority to practice an occupation or profession under this chapter is subject to denial, probation, suspension, revocation, or other form of discipline for the same grounds as individuals licensed by the appropriate board in this state. In addition to other grounds for disciplinary action authorized by law, a person who holds a license issued by a board may be subject to disciplinary action in this state for:

1. Failing to adequately review services provided by a foreign practitioner under this chapter;
2. Unauthorized practice of the person's occupation or profession in another state or jurisdiction, including the delivery of services by a licenseholder in this state to a recipient of services in another state or jurisdiction;
3. Acts occurring in another state or jurisdiction which could subject the person to disciplinary action if those acts occurred in this state; or
4. Acts occurring in another state or jurisdiction which could subject the person to disciplinary action if the person held a license in that state or jurisdiction.

A disciplinary action under this section against a foreign practitioner is subject to chapter 28-32.

Jurisdiction - Service of process. A foreign practitioner who provides services in this state without a license as permitted in this chapter shall be deemed to have consented to the jurisdiction of this state and the appropriate board, to be bound by the laws of this state and the rules established by the appropriate board, and to have appointed the secretary of state as the foreign practitioner's agent upon whom process may be served in any action or proceeding against the practitioner arising out of the practitioner's activities in this state.

Service on the secretary of state of any process, notice, or demand is deemed personal service upon the foreign practitioner and must be made by filing with the secretary of state an original and two copies of the process, notice, or demand, with the filing fee of twenty-five dollars. A member of the legislative assembly or a state or county officer may not be charged for filing any process, notice, or demand for service. The secretary of state shall immediately forward a copy of the process, notice, or demand by registered mail, addressed to the foreign practitioner at the address provided by the filer.

Application with other laws. This chapter applies notwithstanding any other limitation in state law on the practice of an occupation or profession. This chapter supplements and does not repeal the authority provided to each board. Nothing in this chapter prohibits a board from imposing conditions on foreign practitioners by administrative rule or compact which are more restrictive than those imposed in this chapter, if those restrictions are enacted to ensure the health, safety, and welfare of the public. Rules under this section may be adopted as emergency rules under chapter 28-32. Nothing in this chapter alters the scope of practice of a particular occupation or profession as defined by law.

SENATE BILL NO. 2129 (Human Services Committee) (At the request of the Attorney General)

ABANDONED INFANTS

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 50-25.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to abandoned infants.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 50-25.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Abandoned infant - Hospital procedure - Reporting immunity.

1. As used in this section:
 - a. "Abandoned infant" means an abandoned infant as defined in section 27-20-02 and which has been left at a hospital in an unharmed condition.
 - b. "Hospital" means a facility licensed under chapter 23-16.
2. A parent of an infant may abandon the infant at any hospital. An agent of the parent may leave an abandoned infant at a hospital with the parent's consent. Neither the parent nor the agent is subject to prosecution under sections 14-07-15 and 14-09-22 for leaving the abandoned infant at a hospital.
3. A hospital shall accept an infant abandoned or left under this section. The hospital may request information regarding the parents and shall provide the parent or the agent with a medical history form and an envelope with the hospital's return address. Neither the parent nor the agent is required to provide any information.
4. The hospital shall provide the parent or the agent with a numbered identification bracelet to link the parent or the agent to the abandoned infant. Possession of an identification bracelet does not entitle the bracelet holder to take custody of the abandoned infant on demand. If an individual possesses a bracelet linking the individual to an abandoned infant left at a hospital under this section and parental rights have not been terminated, possession of the bracelet creates a presumption that the individual has standing to participate in a protection services action brought under this chapter or chapter 27-20. Possession of the bracelet does not create a presumption of maternity, paternity, or custody.
5. The hospital may provide the parent or the agent with any relevant information, including:
 - a. Information about the safe place for abandoned infant programs;

- b. Information about adoption and counseling services; and
 - c. Information about whom to contact if reunification is sought.
6. Within twenty-four hours of receiving an abandoned infant under this section, the hospital shall report to the department, as required by section 50-25.1-03, that an abandoned infant has been left at the hospital. The report may not be made before the parent or the agent leaves the hospital.
 7. The hospital and its employees and agents are immune from any criminal or civil liability for accepting an abandoned infant under this section.
 8. Upon receiving a report of an abandoned infant left at a hospital under this section, the department shall proceed as required under this chapter if it appears that the abandoned infant was not harmed, except the department may not attempt to identify or contact the parent or the agent. RECREATION VEHICLE FRANCHISES

AN ACT to amend and reenact sections 51-20-01 and 51-20-02 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to recreation vehicle franchises.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 51-20-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

51-20-01. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:

1. "Contractual arrangement" means a written franchise or other written agreement, by whatever name such agreement may be called, between a distributor and a dealer whereby the dealer agrees to sell at retail and service the distributor's recreation vehicles in a given location or locations, whether or not exclusively with respect to a given geographic area, and the distributor authorizes the dealer to sell, or sell and service, and agrees to supply an inventory of recreation vehicles, and, if the dealer is to perform service, an inventory of parts for those vehicles.
2. "Dealer" means a person, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, or other business entity which sells at retail and services new recreation vehicles.
3. "Distributor" means any manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor of recreation vehicles who has a contractual arrangement with a dealer in such vehicles.
4. "Recreation vehicle" includes snowmobiles as defined in section 39-24-01, plus trailers for transporting same when those trailers are furnished by the same distributor who furnishes the snowmobiles; all-terrain vehicles as defined in section 39-29-01; motorcycles as defined in subsection 39 of section 39-01-01; travel trailers, which term means vehicles without motive power designed for recreational use as living or sleeping quarters for people and which do not exceed ~~thirty-five~~ forty feet [~~40.67~~ 12.19 meters] in length; and motorboats, whether propelled by an inboard or outboard marine engine, plus any outboard marine engines and boat trailers.
5. "Repair parts" includes accessories.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 51-20-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

51-20-02. Recreation vehicle dealers may recover value of vehicles or parts from distributor in certain cases.

1. Whenever:

- a. A distributor cancels or discontinues a contractual arrangement; or
- b. A dealer cancels or discontinues a contractual arrangement because the distributor entered into a contractual arrangement with another dealer to sell in the same geographical area for which the first dealer had an exclusive dealership;

the dealer may recover from the distributor the net cost to the dealer of all new and unused recreation vehicles, and parts for such vehicles, held by the dealer at the time of cancellation or discontinuance of the contractual arrangement. The dealer may enforce the right given under this section by civil action commenced in the district court in the county where the dealer has the dealer's principal place of business in North Dakota. If a dealer has entered a written contract with a distributor wherein the dealer agrees to maintain a stock of recreation vehicles, repair parts, or both recreation vehicles and repair parts, and either the dealer or the distributor desires to cancel or discontinue the contract, the distributor shall pay to the dealer, unless the dealer desires to keep the recreation vehicles or repair parts, the following amounts:

- a. A sum equal to one hundred percent of the net cost of all current year, unused, and complete recreation vehicles;
 - b. Eighty-five percent of the current net prices on repair parts, including the superseded parts listed in current price lists or catalogs, if the superseded parts have previously been purchased from the distributor and were in the dealer's inventory on the date of cancellation or discontinuance of the contract or were thereafter received by the dealer from the distributor;
 - c. A sum equal to five percent of the current net price of all parts returned as reimbursement for handling, packing, and loading of those parts; and
 - d. Any freight charges on the equipment or repair parts paid by the dealer.
2. When a distributor has made payment in accordance with this section, title to the recreation vehicles and repair parts must pass to the distributor and the distributor is entitled to possession of the recreation vehicles and repair parts. The provisions of this section are supplemental to any contractual rights which the dealer may have with respect to reimbursement for ~~equipment~~ recreation vehicles and parts inventory held by the dealer at cancellation or discontinuance of a contractual arrangement. The dealer may elect to pursue the dealer's rights under the contractual arrangement and under this section, ~~but the dealer's total recovery may not exceed the net cost of the equipment and parts remaining in the dealer's hands at the time of cancellation or discontinuance, plus legal costs awarded by the court.~~ An election by a dealer to pursue a contractual remedy does not bar the dealer's right to the remedy provided by this section with respect to those pieces of recreation vehicles and repair parts not affected by the contract remedy.

3. This section applies to every contract now in effect which has no stated expiration date and to all other contracts entered after July 31, 2001. Contracts in force and effect on July 31, 2001, which by their terms will terminate on a date subsequent to July 31, 2001, are governed by the law existing before August 1, 2001.

FARM EQUIPMENT NONCONFORMITY REMEDIES

AN ACT to provide for remedies for nonconformities in farm equipment; and to repeal section 51-07-07 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to voiding or rescinding contracts for the purchase of farm machinery.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. Definitions. As used in this Act:

1. "Collateral charges" means those additional charges to a consumer not directly attributable to a manufacturer's suggested retail price label for farm machinery.
2. "Comparable farm machinery" means an identical or reasonably equivalent piece of farm machinery.
3. "Consumer" means the purchaser, other than for the purposes of resale of new farm machinery primarily used for agricultural purposes; any person to whom the new farm machinery is transferred for the same purposes during the duration of an express warranty applicable to that new farm machinery; and any other person entitled by the terms of the warranty to enforce the obligations of the warranty.
4. "Express warranty" means any written affirmation of fact or promise made by a manufacturer to a consumer in connection with the sale of new farm machinery which relates to the nature of the material or workmanship or will meet a specified level of performance over a specified period of time. The term does not include an implied warranty.
5. "Farm machinery" means any self-propelled equipment or machinery used for agricultural purposes being transferred for the first time from a manufacturer, distributor, or new farm machinery dealer which has not been registered or titled and which is offered for sale, barter, or exchange by a dealer who is franchised to sell, barter, or exchange that particular make of new farm machinery. The term includes farm machinery propelled by power other than muscular power but does not include off-road vehicles other than self-propelled equipment and machinery used for agricultural purposes.
6. "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the manufacturing or assembling of new farm machinery as a regular business.
7. "Nonconformity" means any condition of the farm machinery which makes it impossible to use for the purpose for which it was intended.
8. "Reasonable allowance for consumer use" means:

- a. That amount attributable to use by the consumer before the consumer's first report of the nonconformity to the manufacturer or its authorized dealers;
- b. That amount attributable to use by the consumer during any period subsequent to the first report of nonconformity when the farm machinery is not out of service by reason of repair of the reported nonconformity; and
- c. That amount attributable to use by the consumer of the farm machinery provided by the manufacturer or its authorized dealer while the machine is out of service by reason of repair of the reported nonconformity, but not less than the fair rental value of the farm machinery.

SECTION 2. Law applicable to breach of new farm machinery warranties - Report of nonconformity required - Repairs - Duty of manufacturer or agent.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a sale of new farm machinery is governed by this Act. For the purposes of this Act, if new farm machinery does not conform to all applicable express warranties and the consumer reports the nonconformity to the manufacturer or its agent during the term of the express warranties or during the period of one year following the date of original delivery of the new farm machinery to the consumer, whichever period expires earlier, the manufacturer or its agent shall make any necessary repairs to conform the new machinery to the express warranties, notwithstanding the fact that the repairs are made after the expiration of the term or the one-year period.

SECTION 3. Replacement of farm machinery or refund of purchase price - Allowance deducted for consumer's use - Refund. If the manufacturer or its agent cannot conform the new farm machinery to any applicable express warranty by repairing or correcting any default or condition that substantially impairs the use or market value of the new farm machinery to the consumer after a reasonable number of attempts, the manufacturer shall give the consumer the option of having the manufacturer either replace the new farm machinery with a comparable new farm machinery acceptable to the consumer, or take title of the machine from the consumer and refund to the consumer the full purchase price, including all reasonably incurred collateral charges, less a reasonable allowance for the consumer's use of the machine. The subtraction of a reasonable allowance for use shall apply when either a replacement or refund of the new farm machinery occurs. Refunds must be made to the consumer and lienholder of record, if any, as their interests may appear.

SECTION 4. Affirmative defenses.

1. It is an affirmative defense to any claim under this Act that:
 - a. An alleged nonconformity does not substantially impair the use, market value, or safety of the farm machinery;
 - b. A nonconformity is the result of abuse, neglect, or unauthorized modifications or alterations of farm machinery by a consumer;
 - c. A claim by a consumer was not filed in good faith; or
 - d. Any other affirmative defense allowed by law.

2. It is presumed that a reasonable number of attempts have been undertaken to conform new farm machinery to the applicable express warranties if within the terms, conditions, or limitations of the express warranty, or during the period of one year following the date of original delivery of the new farm machinery to a consumer, whichever expires earlier, either:
 - a. The same nonconformity has been subject to repair five or more times by the manufacturer or its agents and the nonconformity continues to exist; or
 - b. The new farm machinery is out of service by reason of repair of the nonconformity by the manufacturer or its agents for a cumulative total of thirty or more working days, exclusive of downtime for routine maintenance as prescribed by the manufacturer, since delivery of the new farm machinery to the consumer. The thirty-day period may be extended by a period of time during which repair services are not available to the consumer because of conditions beyond the control of the manufacturer or its agents.

SECTION 5. Information on remedies to be furnished consumer - Notice of complaint to manufacturer required - Manufacturer's duties.

1. The manufacturer shall provide information for consumer complaint remedies with each new farm machinery. Before taking action under this Act, a consumer shall give written notification to the manufacturer of the need for the repair of the nonconformity to allow the manufacturer an opportunity to cure the alleged defect. The manufacturer immediately shall notify the consumer of a reasonably accessible repair facility of a franchised new farm machinery dealer to conform the new farm machinery to the express warranty. After delivery of the new farm machinery to an authorized repair facility by the consumer, the manufacturer shall conform the new farm machinery to the express warranty within thirty calendar days in appropriate seasonal use times and within sixty days in other times. The agriculture commissioner shall designate appropriate seasonal use times for all machinery covered by this Act. Upon notification from the consumer that the new farm machinery has not been conformed to the express warranty, the manufacturer shall inform the consumer if an informal dispute settlement procedure has been established by the manufacturer. If prior notice by the manufacturer of an informal dispute settlement procedure has been given, no further notice is required. If any repair that may be required under any warranty takes more than fourteen working days to complete, the manufacturer shall supply at no cost a like piece of farm machinery for use by the consumer if requested by the consumer during the time of repair. The manufacturer shall reimburse any costs incurred by a dealer under this Act.
2. An action brought under this Act must be commenced within six months following expiration of the terms, conditions, or limitations of the express warranty or within eighteen months following the date of original delivery of the new farm machinery to a consumer, whichever is earlier. However, if a consumer resorts to an informal dispute settlement procedure, any action must be commenced within ninety days following the final action of any panel established pursuant to the procedure. If an action is brought under this Act, the prevailing party may recover any court costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

SECTION 6. Application - Not to affect prior contracts - Dealers reimbursed for labor. This Act applies to any new farm machinery sold after July 31, 2001, and does not invalidate, impair, or otherwise infringe upon the specific requirements of any contract between a dealer and a manufacturer entered before August 1, 2001. However, if warranty repair work is performed for a consumer by a farm equipment dealer under a manufacturer's express warranty, the manufacturer shall reimburse the dealer at an hourly labor rate that is the same or greater than the hourly labor rate the dealer currently charges consumers for nonwarranty repair work. The dealer may accept the manufacturer's or supplier's warranty labor reimbursement terms and conditions in lieu of the above.

 - a. Indian tribes or tribal units subdivisions, subsidiaries, or business enterprises wholly owned by the Indian tribe, subject to the North Dakota unemployment compensation law, shall pay contributions under the same terms and conditions as all other subject employers, unless it elects to pay into the state unemployment fund amounts equal to the amount of benefits attributable to service in the employ of the Indian tribe.

3. a. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, an employer's rate may not be less than the negative employer minimum rate for a calendar year unless the employer's account has been chargeable with benefits throughout the thirty-six-consecutive-calendar-month period ending on September thirtieth of the preceding calendar year. If an employer in construction services has not been subject to the law as required, that employer qualifies for a reduced rate if the account has been chargeable with benefits throughout the twenty-four-consecutive-calendar-month period ending September thirtieth of the preceding calendar year. If an employer in nonconstruction services has not been subject to the law as required, the employer in nonconstruction services qualifies for a reduced rate if the account has been chargeable with benefits throughout the twelve-consecutive-calendar-month period ending September thirtieth of the preceding calendar year. Provided that if the predecessor files a written protest against such transfer within fifteen days of being notified of the successor's application, the transfer will not be made ~~without opportunity for a hearing.~~

When an employing unit in any manner acquires all or part of the organization, business, trade, or assets of another employer, the bureau shall transfer all or the appropriate part of the experience record, reserve balance, whether positive or negative, and benefit experience of such predecessor to the successor if it finds that (a) the predecessor was owned or controlled by or owned or controlled the successor directly or indirectly, by legally enforceable means or otherwise or (b) both the predecessor and successor were owned or controlled either directly or indirectly, by legally enforceable means or otherwise, by the same interests.

When a part of an employer's experience record reserve account and benefit experience is to be transferred under this section, the portion of the experience record and reserve account transferred must be in the same ratio to the total experience record and reserve account as the average annual payroll of the transferred organization, trade, business, or assets is to the total average annual payroll of the predecessor.

An employing unit's experience record may not be transferred in an amount that results in the successor and predecessor portions totaling more than one hundred percent of the predecessor's history.

3. The amounts collected from each employing unit under this section must be credited to individual interest bearing incremental bond trust accounts established by the bureau at the Bank of North Dakota. Eighteen The amount of bond or irrevocable letter of credit must be the difference between the estimated benefits paid and estimated contributions. UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION BENEFIT DISQUALIFICATION

AN ACT to amend and reenact subsection 1 of section 52-06-02 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to disqualification for purposes of determining unemployment compensation benefits; to provide an effective date; and to declare an emergency.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Subsection 1 of section 52-06-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

1. For the week in which the individual has left the individual's most recent employment voluntarily without good cause attributable to the employer, and thereafter until such time as the individual:
 - a. Can demonstrate that the individual has earned remuneration for personal services in employment equivalent to at least eight times the individual's weekly benefit amount as determined under section 52-06-04; and
 - b. Has not left the individual's most recent employment under disqualifying circumstances.

A temporary employee of a temporary help firm is deemed to have left employment voluntarily if the employee does not contact the temporary help firm for reassignment before filing for benefits. Failure to contact the temporary help firm is not deemed a voluntary leaving of employment unless the claimant was advised of the obligation to contact the temporary help firm upon completion of an assignment and advised that unemployment benefits may be denied for failure to contact the temporary help firm. As used in this subsection, "temporary employee" means an employee assigned to work for a client of a temporary help firm; and "temporary help firm" means a firm that hires that firm's own employees and assigns these employees to a client to support or supplement the client's work force in a work situation such as employee absence, temporary skill shortage, seasonal workload, a special assignment, and a special project.

This subsection does not apply if the bureau determines that the individual in an active claim filing status accepted work which the individual could have refused with good cause under section 52-06-36 and terminated such employment with the same good cause and within the first ten weeks after starting work.

This subsection does not apply if the individual left employment or remains away from employment following illness or injury upon a physician's written notice or order; no benefits may be paid under this exception unless the employee has notified the employer of the physician's requirement and has offered service for suitable work to the employer upon the individual's capability of returning to employment. This exception does not apply unless the individual's capability of returning to employment and offer of service for suitable work to the employer occurs within sixty days of the last day of work. However, the cost of any benefits paid under this exception may not be charged against the account of the employer from whom the individual became separated as a result of the illness or injury. The bureau may request and designate a licensed physician to provide a second opinion regarding the claimant's qualification; however, no individual may be charged fees of any kind for the cost of such second opinion.

This subsection does not apply if the individual left the most recent employment because of an injury or illness caused or aggravated by the employment; no benefits may be paid under this exception unless the individual leaves employment upon a physician's written notice or order, the individual has notified the employer of the physician's requirement, and there is no reasonable alternative but to leave employment.

For the purpose of this subsection, an individual who left the most recent employment in anticipation of discharge or layoff must be deemed to have left employment voluntarily and without good cause attributable to the employer.

For the purpose of this subsection, "most recent employment" means employment with any employer for whom the claimant last worked and voluntarily quit without good cause attributable to the employer or with any employer, in insured work, for whom the claimant last worked and earned wages equal to or exceeding eight times the individual's weekly benefit amount.

This subsection does not apply if the individual leaves work which is two hundred road miles [321.87 kilometers] or more, as measured on a one-way basis, from the individual's home to accept work which is less than two hundred road miles [321.87 kilometers] from the individual's home provided the work is a bona fide job offer with a reasonable expectation of continued employment.

This subsection does not apply if the individual voluntarily leaves most recent employment to accept a bona fide job offer with a base period employer who laid off the individual and with whom the individual has a demonstrated job attachment. For the purposes of this exception, "demonstrated job attachment" requires earnings in each of six months during the five calendar quarters before the calendar quarter in which the individual files the claim for benefits.

SECTION 2. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Act is retroactively effective to January 1, 2001.

SECTION 3. EMERGENCY. This Act is declared to be an emergency measure.

52-06.1-02. Employer qualification for shared work program.

1. An employer that wishes to participate in the shared work unemployment compensation program shall submit a signed shared work plan to the bureau for approval. As a condition for approval, a participating employer shall agree to furnish the bureau with reports relating to the operation of the shared work plan as requested by the bureau.  - b. Applies and identifies to one specific affected unit;

 5. To qualify, a contributing employer must be eligible for a rate computation under subdivision a of subsection 3 of section 52-04-05, and may not be a negative account employer as defined under subdivision b of subsection 3 of section 52-04-05.
 6. A shared work plan is effective on the date specified in the plan or on the first Sunday following the date on which the plan is approved by the bureau, whichever is later. The shared work plan expires at the end of the twelfth full calendar month after the plan's effective date or on the date specified in the plan if that date is earlier; provided, the plan is not previously revoked by the bureau. If a shared work plan is revoked by the bureau, the plan terminates on the date specified in the bureau's written order of revocation.
 7. The bureau shall approve or disapprove the proposal within thirty days of receipt of the proposal by the bureau. The bureau shall notify the employer of the reasons for denial of a shared work plan within ten days of the determination.
 8. Disapproval of a plan may be reconsidered at the discretion of the executive director of job service North Dakota. Approval of a shared work plan may be revoked if the approval was based, in whole or in part, upon information that was false or misleading.
 9. An employer may modify a shared work plan created under this section to meet changed conditions if the modification conforms to the basic provisions of the shared work plan as approved by the bureau. The employer shall report the changes made to the shared work plan in writing to the bureau before implementing the changes. If the original shared work plan is substantially modified, the bureau shall reevaluate the shared work plan and may approve the modified shared work plan if the modified plan meets the requirements for approval under subsection 2. If substantial modifications cause the shared work plan to fail to meet the requirements for approval, the bureau shall deny approval to the modifications as provided by subsection 7.

10. The bureau may terminate a shared work plan for good cause if the bureau determines that the shared work plan is not being executed according to the terms and intent of the shared work unemployment compensation program.

2. An individual is eligible to receive shared work benefits with respect to any week if, in addition to meeting the requirements of regular unemployment compensation as modified by subsection 7, the bureau finds that:
 - a. The individual is employed as a member of an affected unit subject to a shared work plan that was approved before the week in question and is in effect for that week;
 - b. The individual is able to work and is available for additional hours of work or full-time work with the participating employer;
 - c. The individual's normal weekly hours of work have been reduced, in accordance with the shared work plan, not less than five percent but not more than seventy percent, with a corresponding proportionate reduction in wages; and
 - d. The individual's normal weekly hours of work and wages have been reduced as described in subdivision c for a waiting period of one week that occurs within the period the shared work plan is in effect, which period includes the week for which the individual is claiming shared work benefits.
3. An individual may not receive shared work benefits and regular unemployment compensation benefits in an amount exceeding the maximum total amount of benefits payable to that individual in a benefit year as provided by sections 52-06-04 and 52-06-05.
4. The bureau may not pay an individual shared work benefits for more than twenty-six weeks, whether or not consecutive, in any benefit year.
5. If an employer approves time off and the worker has performed some work during the week, the individual is eligible for shared work benefits based on the combined work and paid leave hours for that week. If the employer does not grant time off, the question of availability must be investigated.

6. If an employee was sick and consequently did not work all the hours offered by the shared work employer in a given week, the employee will not be denied shared work benefits for that week.
7. The bureau may not deny shared work benefits for any week to an otherwise eligible individual by reason of the application of any provision of the unemployment compensation law which relates to availability for work, active search for work, or refusal to apply for or accept work with an employer other than the individual's shared work employer.

If the shared benefit amount is not a multiple of one dollar, the bureau shall reduce the amount to the next highest multiple of one dollar. All shared work benefits under this section are payable from the fund.
11. In any week an individual performs services for a work-sharing employer and an employer other than the work-sharing employer, the weekly work-sharing benefit is reduced by the amount of remuneration received from the non-work-sharing employer in accordance with the weekly benefit amount wage reduction provision in section 52-06-06.
12. The provisions of section 52-06-06.1 which require the bureau to deduct and withhold certain amounts payable to an individual who is liable for child support obligations apply to this subsection.
13. An applicant is not eligible for shared work benefits for any week that employment is performed for the shared work employer in excess of the reduced hours set forth in the approved shared work plan.
14. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter relating to charges, the employer must be charged and billed for all shared work benefits paid in accordance with sections 52-04-18, 52-04-19, and 52-04-19.1 as if the employer had elected to make payment in lieu of contributions.

Any organization qualified under section 53-06.2-06 to conduct racing may make written application to the commission for the conduct of simulcast parimutuel wagering on races held at licensed racetracks inside the state or racetracks outside the state, or both. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the commission may authorize any licensee to participate in interstate or international combined wagering pools with one or more other racing jurisdictions. Any time that a licensee participates in an interstate or international combined pool, the licensee, as prescribed by the commission, may adopt the take-out of the host jurisdiction or facility. The commission may permit a licensee to use one or more of its races or simulcast programs for an interstate or international combined wagering pool at locations outside its jurisdiction and may allow parimutuel pools in other states to be combined with parimutuel pools in its jurisdiction for the purpose of establishing an interstate or international combined wagering pool. The participation by a licensee in a combined interstate or international wagering pool does not cause that licensee to be considered to be doing business in any jurisdiction other than the jurisdiction in which the licensee is physically located. Parimutuel taxes or commissions may not be imposed on any amounts wagered in an interstate or international combined wagering pool other than amounts wagered within this jurisdiction. The certificate system also permits parimutuel wagering to be conducted through account wagering. As used in this section, "account wagering" means a form of parimutuel wagering in which an individual deposits money in an account and uses the account balance to pay for parimutuel wagers. An account wager made on an account established in this state may only be made through the licensed simulcast service provider authorized by the commission to operate the simulcast parimutuel wagering system under the certificate system. An account wager may be made in person, by direct telephone communication, or through other electronic communication in accordance with rules adopted by the commission. Breakage for interstate or international combined wagering pools must be calculated in accordance with the statutes or rules of the host jurisdiction and must be distributed among the participating jurisdictions in a manner agreed to among the jurisdictions.

The state auditor shall review the audit report to determine if the report is in the required form and has the required content, and if the audit meets generally accepted government auditing standards. The state auditor also may periodically review the public accountant's workpapers to determine if the audit meets generally accepted government auditing standards. If the report is in the required form and has the required content, and the report and workpapers comply with generally accepted government auditing standards, the state auditor shall accept the audit report. The state auditor may charge the political subdivision a fee of up to fifty dollars an hour, but not to exceed five hundred dollars per review, for the related costs of reviewing the audit report and workpapers.

A political subdivision may not pay a public accountant for an audit until the state auditor has accepted the audit. However, a political subdivision may make progress payments to the public accountant. A political subdivision shall retain twenty percent of any progress payment until the audit report is accepted by the state auditor.

The state auditor may require the correction of any irregularities, objectionable accounting procedures, or illegal actions on the part of the governing board, officers, or employees of the political subdivision disclosed by the audit report or workpapers, and failure to make the corrections shall result in audits being resumed by the state auditor until the irregularities, objectionable accounting procedures, or illegal actions are corrected.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 54-18 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Contractor to be paid during progress of work - Retainage - Failure to pay - Rate of interest - Investment of retainage. If the contractor to whom a contract for construction or the provision of equipment to the association is let properly performs the work therein designated, the mill manager, at least once in each calendar month during the continuance of the contract work, shall meet, receive, and consider estimates furnished by the agent, engineer, or architect acting for the association or if not so furnished, then by the contractor, and shall allow such estimates in an amount of the estimated value of the labor and material furnished upon the contract, and of the material then upon the ground for use in the contract, subject to retentions of ten percent of each estimate presented until the time the project is fifty percent completed, with no further retainage on estimates during the continuance of the contract. Notwithstanding the requirements of any other law, the industrial commission may authorize the mill manager to prepay for equipment prior to delivery to the construction site if the industrial commission determines:

1. Prepayment is in the best interest of the association;
2. The association's interest will be adequately protected; and
3. The equipment is of a type that is not fungible and could not be sold except at a discount to another because it is constructed to specifications required by the association.

Upon completion of ninety-five percent of the contract according to the estimates, the association may pay to the contractor ninety-five percent of the amount retained from previous estimates. Any amount retained after ninety-five percent completion of the contract must be paid to the contractor in such amounts and at such times as are approved by the association, upon estimates by its agent, engineer, or architect or the contractor, with final payment of all moneys due to the contractor to be made immediately following completion and acceptance of the project. Immediately after considering and allowing any such estimate, the association shall certify and promptly draw a warrant upon the proper fund and transmit it to the contractor entitled to it. If the association fails or neglects to receive and allow the estimate or certify any estimate or final payment upon completion and acceptance for a period of more than thirty days from the date of the estimate or completion date, then the estimate or final payment, with any retainage properly payable, shall draw interest from its date at the rate per annum of two percentage points below the Bank of North Dakota prime interest rate as set thirty days from the date of the estimate or completion date until the issuance of a proper warrant therefor. Such interest must be computed and added to the face of the estimate, final payment, or retainage by the officer required to issue the warrant, must be included in the warrant when drawn, and must be charged to the fund from which payment for the improvement is to be made. On the amounts of estimates retained, as provided herein, the association may invest or deposit the retained amounts in the Bank of North Dakota earning interest or dividends for the benefit of the contractor. Any amount so invested or deposited must remain in the name of the association until final payment of all moneys due to the contractor is to be made. Further, no contractor shall use such account in any manner whatsoever until released and received by the contractor upon completion of the contract.

Subject to sections 54-52.1-03.2 and 54-52.1-03.3, each retiree or surviving spouse shall pay directly to the board the premiums in effect for the coverage then being provided.

For a member of the public employees retirement system receiving an early retirement benefit or the surviving spouse of that member, or a former participating member of the defined contribution retirement plan who is receiving a periodic distribution and would not meet the normal retirement provisions of the public employees retirement system, the allowable monthly credit must be reduced by three percent if the member terminates employment within one year prior to attaining the age of sixty-five and an additional reduction factor of six percent shall apply for each year the member terminates employment prior to attaining the age of sixty-four.  4. The board may, as an alternative to the calculation of the allowable monthly credit under subsection 2, provide actuarially reduced benefit options for the member and the member's surviving spouse including a one hundred percent joint and survivor option, a fifty percent joint and survivor option, or a five-year or ten-year certain option.

SECTION 5. AMENDMENT. Section 54-52.1-06 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

The information and records may be disclosed, under rules adopted by the board, only to:

1. A person to whom the eligible employee has given written consent to have the information disclosed.
2. A person legally representing the eligible employee, upon proper proof of representation, and unless the eligible employee specifically withholds consent.

DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PLAN PARTICIPATION AND DISABILITY BENEFITS

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 54-52.6 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the acceptance of rollover contributions under the defined contribution retirement plan; and to amend and reenact sections 54-52.6-02, 54-52.6-03, 54-52.6-13, and 54-52.6-14 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to participation, calculation of interest on transferred amounts, distribution options, and disability benefits under the defined contribution retirement plan.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

²⁴² SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 54-52.6-02 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

54-52.6-02. Election.

1. The board shall provide an opportunity for each eligible employee who is a member of the public employees retirement system on December 31, 1999, to elect in writing to terminate membership in the public employees retirement system and elect to become a participating member under this chapter. Except as provided in section 54-52.6-03, an election made by an eligible employee under this section is irrevocable. The board shall accept written elections under this section from eligible employees during the period beginning on the effective date of this Act and ending 12:01 a.m. January 1, 2000. An eligible employee who does not make a written election or who does not file the election during the period specified in this section continues to be a member of the public employees retirement system. An eligible employee who makes and files a written election under this section ceases to be a member of the public employees retirement system effective twelve midnight December 31, 1999; becomes a participating member in the defined contribution retirement plan under this chapter effective 12:01 a.m. January 1, 2000; and waives all of that person's rights to a pension, annuity, retirement allowance, insurance benefit, or any other benefit under the public employees retirement system effective December 31, 1999. This section does not affect a person's right to health benefits or retiree health benefits under chapter 54-52.1. An eligible employee who is first employed and entered upon the payroll of that person's employer after December 31, 1999, may make an election to participate in the defined contribution retirement plan established under this chapter at any time during the first six months after the date of employment to participate in the defined contribution retirement plan established under this chapter. If the board, in its sole discretion, determines that the employee was not adequately notified of the employee's option to participate in the defined contribution retirement plan, the board may provide the employee a reasonable time within which to make that election, which may extend beyond the original six-month decision window.

2. If an individual who is a deferred member of the public employees retirement system on December 31, 1999, is reemployed and by virtue of that employment is again eligible for membership in the public employees retirement system under chapter 54-52, the individual may elect in writing to remain a member of the public employees retirement system or if eligible to participate in the defined contribution retirement plan established under this chapter to terminate membership in the public employees retirement system and become a participating member in the defined contribution retirement plan established under this chapter. An election made by a deferred member under this section is irrevocable. The board shall accept written elections under this section from a deferred member during the period beginning on the date of the individual's reemployment and ending upon the expiration of ~~sixty days~~ six months after the date of that reemployment. If the board, in its sole discretion, determines that the employee was not adequately notified of the employee's option to participate in the defined contribution retirement plan, the board may provide the employee a reasonable time within which to make that election, which may extend beyond the original six-month decision window. A deferred member who makes and files a written election to remain a member of the public employees retirement system retains all rights and is subject to all conditions as a member of that retirement system. A deferred member who does not make a written election or who does not file the election during the period specified in this section continues to be a member of the public employees retirement system. A deferred member who makes and files a written election to terminate membership in the public employees retirement system ceases to be a member of the public employees retirement system effective on the last day of the payroll period that includes the date of the election; becomes a participating member in the defined contribution retirement plan under this chapter effective the first day of the payroll immediately following the date of the election; and waives all of that person's rights to a pension, an annuity, a retirement allowance, insurance benefit, or any other benefit under the public employees retirement system effective the last day of the payroll that includes the date of the election. This section does not affect any right to health benefits or retiree health benefits to which the deferred member may otherwise be entitled.
3. An eligible employee who elects to participate in the retirement plan established under this chapter must remain a participant even if that employee returns to the classified service or becomes employed by a political subdivision that participates in the public employees retirement system. The contribution amount must be as provided in this chapter, regardless of the position in which the employee is employed. Notwithstanding the irrevocability provisions of this chapter, if a member who elects to participate in the retirement plan established under this chapter becomes a supreme or district court judge, becomes a member of the highway patrol, becomes employed in a position subject to teachers' fund for retirement membership, or becomes an employee of the board of higher education or state institution under the jurisdiction of the board who is eligible to participate in an alternative retirement program established under subsection 13 of section 15-10-17, the member's status as a member of the defined contribution retirement plan is suspended, and the member becomes a new member of the retirement plan for which that member's new position is eligible. The member's account balance remains in the defined contribution retirement plan, but no new contributions may be made to that account. The member's service credit and salary history that were forfeited as a result of the member's transfer to the defined contribution retirement plan remain forfeited, and service credit accumulation in the new retirement plan begins from the first day of employment in the new position. If the member later returns to employment that is eligible for the defined contribution plan, the member's suspension must be terminated, the member again becomes a member of the defined contribution retirement plan, and the member's account resumes accepting contributions. At the member's option, and pursuant to rules adopted by the board, the member may transfer any available balance as determined by the provisions of the alternate retirement plan into the member's account under this chapter.

4. After consultation with its actuary, the board shall determine the method by which a participating member or deferred member may make a written election under this section. If the participating member or deferred member is married at the time of the election, the election is not effective unless the election is signed by the individual's spouse. However, the board may waive this requirement if the spouse's signature cannot be obtained because of extenuating circumstances.
5. If the board receives notification from the internal revenue service that this section or any portion of this section will cause the public employees retirement system or the retirement plan established under this chapter to be disqualified for tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code, then the portion that will cause the disqualification does not apply.

²⁴³ SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 54-52.6-03 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

54-52.6-03. Transfer of accumulated fund balances. For an individual who elects to terminate membership in the public employees retirement system under chapter 54-52, the board shall transfer a lump sum amount from the retirement fund to the participating member's account in the defined contribution retirement plan under this chapter. However, if the individual terminates employment prior to receiving the lump sum transfer under this section, the election made under section 54-52.6-02 is ineffective and the individual remains a member of the public employees retirement system under chapter 54-52 and retains all the rights and benefits provided under that chapter. The board shall calculate the amount to be transferred for employees electing to transfer prior to January 1, 2000, using the two following formulas, and shall transfer the greater of the two amounts obtained:

1. The actuarial present value of the individual's accumulated benefit obligation under the public employees retirement system based on the assumption that the individual will retire under the earliest applicable normal retirement age, plus interest from January 1, 2000, to the date of transfer, at the rate of one-half of one percent less than the actuarial interest assumption at the time of the election; or
2. The actual employer ~~and employee contributions~~ contribution made pursuant to ~~sections 54-52-05 and 54-52-06,~~ less vested employer contributions made pursuant to section 54-52-11.1, plus compound interest at the rate of one-half of one percent less than the actuarial interest assumption at the time of the election plus the employee account balance.

The board shall calculate the amount to be transferred for persons employed after December 31, 1999, using only the formula contained in subsection 2.

SECTION 3. A new section to chapter 54-52.6 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Acceptance of rollovers. The plan may allow a participating member to transfer or rollover funds from other qualified plans into the member's account under rules adopted by the board.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT. Section 54-52.6-13 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

54-52.6-13. Distributions.

5. A project comprising the acquisition of a state historic site or of a historic easement with reference thereto, and the restoration, reconstruction, and improvement of the site and buildings and structures thereon to preserve physical characteristics of historic importance, is declared to be a proper and necessary purpose for the expenditure of public funds. The proceeds of tax increments or bonds or both may be expended by a city for such a project within an urban renewal area when determined by the governing body to be desirable for the redevelopment, rehabilitation, and conservation of the area in accordance with ~~the provisions of~~ chapter 40-58.
6. If any state agency or department or a ~~city, county, school district, or other~~ political subdivision objects to any decision of the state historical board to disallow alteration or demolition of a site listed on the state ~~historical~~ historic sites registry, the objecting party may submit the objection to arbitration ~~as provided in this subsection~~. Arbitration may also be demanded by either the board or the objecting party if the board or the objecting party determines that the other has failed to cooperate in identifying or implementing reasonable alternatives to demolition or alteration. The party desiring arbitration shall make a written demand therefor of the other and in ~~such~~ the demand shall name three arbitrators. The demand must also set forth the objections ~~which~~ that the party desires to submit to arbitration, with reference to the particular state historic site. The state historical board may select its arbitrators from among the board itself, from an executive committee of the board, or from any combination thereof. When a panel of arbitrators has been appointed, a submission in writing must be acknowledged by the parties ~~thereto~~ in the same manner as a conveyance of real property and may fix the time on or before which the award must be made. The submission must provide for the entry of judgment upon the award by the district court of the county within which the state historical site or some part thereof is located. The submission must also provide that each party shall bear its own arbitration costs and expenses, however, the costs and expenses relating to the seventh arbitrator must be borne equally by both parties to the dispute. The seven arbitrators shall proceed to resolve the controversies brought before them, and the decision of the arbitrators, or a majority of them, must be given in writing to the parties concerned and is binding upon both parties. WIND TURBINE TAXABLE VALUATION

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 57-02 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to reduction in taxable valuation of wind turbine electric generators that are centrally assessed property; to amend and reenact section 57-02-27 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to determination of taxable valuation of property; and to provide an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 57-02-27 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-02-27. Property to be valued at a percentage of assessed value - Classification of property - Limitation on valuation of annexed agricultural lands. All property subject to taxation based on the value thereof must be valued as follows:

1. All residential property to be valued at nine percent of assessed value. If any property is used for both residential and nonresidential purposes, the valuation must be prorated accordingly.
2. All agricultural property to be valued at ten percent of assessed value as determined pursuant to section 57-02-27.2.
3. All commercial, ~~air carrier transportation, and railroad~~ property to be valued at ten percent of assessed value.
4. All centrally assessed property, ~~except air carrier transportation and railroad property,~~ to be valued at ~~fourteen percent of assessed value for the 1981 property tax year, thirteen percent of assessed value for the 1982 property tax year, twelve percent of assessed value for the 1983 property tax year, eleven percent of assessed value for the 1984 property tax year, and ten percent of assessed value for all property tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1985~~ except as provided in section 2 of this Act.

The resulting amounts must be known as the taxable valuation. In determining the assessed value of real and personal property, except agricultural property, the assessor may not adopt a lower or different standard of value because the same is to serve as a basis of taxation, nor may the assessor adopt as a criterion of value the price at which said property would sell at auction, or at forced sale, or in the aggregate with all the property in the town or district, but the assessor shall value each article or description by itself, and at such sum or price as the assessor believes the same to be fairly worth in money. In assessing any tract, or lot of real property, there must be determined the value of the land, exclusive of improvements, and the value of all taxable improvements and structures thereon, and the aggregate value of the property, including all taxable structures and other improvements, excluding the value of crops growing upon cultivated lands. In valuing any real property upon which there is a coal or other mine, or stone or other quarry, the same must be valued at such a price as such property, including the mine or quarry, would sell for at a fair voluntary sale for cash. Agricultural lands within the corporate limits of a city which are not platted constitute agricultural property and must be so classified and valued for ad valorem property tax purposes until such lands are put to another use. Agricultural lands, whether within the corporate limits of a city or not, which were platted and assessed as agricultural property prior to March 30, 1981, must be assessed as agricultural property for ad valorem property tax purposes until put to another use. Such valuation must be uniform with the valuation of adjoining unannexed agricultural land.

SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 57-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Taxable valuation of centrally assessed wind turbine electric generators.

A centrally assessed wind turbine electric generation unit with a nameplate generation capacity of one hundred kilowatts or more, on which construction is completed before January 1, 2011, must be valued at three percent of assessed value to determine taxable valuation of the property.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Subsection 6 of section 57-02-27.2 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

6. For purposes of this section, "inundated agricultural land" means property classified as agricultural property containing a minimum of ten contiguous acres if the value of the inundated land exceeds ten percent of the average agricultural value of noncropland for the county, which is inundated to an extent making it unsuitable for growing crops or grazing farm animals for a full two consecutive growing seasons or more, and which produced revenue from any source in the most recent prior year which is less than the county average revenue per acre for noncropland calculated by the agricultural economics department of the North Dakota state university. Application for classification as inundated agricultural land must be made in writing to the township assessor or county director of tax equalization by March thirty-first of each year, except that for the year 2001, the written application must be made within ninety days from March 16, 2001. Before all or part of a parcel of property may be classified as inundated agricultural land, the board of county commissioners must approve that classification for that property for the taxable year. The agricultural value of inundated agricultural lands for purposes of this section must be determined by the agricultural economics department of North Dakota state university to be ten percent of the average agricultural value of noncropland for the county as determined under this section. Valuation of individual parcels of inundated agricultural land may recognize the probability that the property will be suitable for agricultural production as cropland or for grazing farm animals in the future.

TAX DEEDS AND TAX LIENS

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 57-28 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to liens against other property for costs incurred by a county in tax foreclosures; to amend and reenact section 57-28-09 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to issuance of tax deeds to political subdivisions on property forfeited in tax foreclosures; and to provide an effective date.

After the date of foreclosure for property with an unsatisfied tax lien, the county auditor shall issue a tax deed to the county; or, in cases in which the state engineer has made an assessment against the property under section 61-03-21.3, the county auditor shall issue a tax deed to the state or, if the property was sold by another political subdivision of this state within the ten years preceding the foreclosure, the county auditor shall issue a tax deed to that political subdivision. The tax deed passes the property in fee to the county or, the state, or political subdivision, free from all encumbrances except installments of special assessments certified to the county auditor or which may become due after the service of the notice of foreclosure of tax lien and except for a homestead credit for special assessments lien provided for in section 57-02-08.3. While the county or, the state, or political subdivision holds title under a tax deed, it is not liable for the payment of any installments of special assessments which become due unless the board of county commissioners or, the state, or political subdivision has leased or contracted to sell the property. A deed issued under this section is prima facie evidence of the truth and regularity of all facts and proceedings before the execution of the deed.

SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 57-28 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

County lien for costs of improvement to distressed property forfeited in tax foreclosure.

If property sold by the county under this chapter is sold for less than the total amount of the taxes due and the costs to improve salability of the property which were incurred by the county in cleanup, repairs, demolition, or other action necessary because of damage, neglect, or waste by the prior owner, those costs incurred by the county to improve salability which were not recovered by the county from the sale constitute a lien on any real property owned, or later acquired, in the county by that prior owner.

2. The county auditor shall extend and enter upon the tax list of real estate then in the hands of the county treasurer, opposite the description of real estate designated by the board of county commissioners which belongs to the prior owner, the year for which an obligation to the county exists under this section and the amount of that obligation. The entry must be made without regard to any prior payment of real estate taxes on those properties and the treasurer may not thereafter issue any receipt in full for real estate taxes on those properties without making collection at the same time of the obligation under this section. A taxpayer holding a specific superior lien on those properties ahead of a lien under this section is entitled to tax receipts without regard to nonpayment of obligations under this section.

SECTION 3. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Act is effective for property for which a tax deed is issued after December 31, 2000.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1479

(Approved by the Delayed Bills Committee)

MOBILE TELECOMMUNICATIONS TAXATION

AN ACT to create and enact chapter 57-34.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the taxation of mobile telecommunications; and to provide an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. Chapter 57-34.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-34.1-01. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Charges for mobile telecommunications services" means any charge for or associated with the provision of commercial mobile radio service, as defined in section 20.3 of title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations as in effect on June 1, 1999, or any charge for or associated with a service provided as an adjunct to a commercial mobile radio service which is billed to the customer by or for the customer's home service provider regardless of whether individual transmissions originate or terminate within the licensed service area of the home service provider.
2. "Customer" means the person that contracts with the home service provider for mobile telecommunications services or for the purpose of determining the place of primary use, if the end user of mobile telecommunications services is not the contracting party, the end user of the mobile telecommunications service. The term does not include a reseller of mobile telecommunications service or a serving carrier under an arrangement to serve the customer outside the home service provider's licensed service area.
3. "Enhanced zip code" means a United States postal zip code of nine or more digits.
4. "Home service provider" means the facilities-based carrier or reseller with which the customer contracts for the provision of mobile telecommunications services.
5. "Licensed service area" means the geographic area in which the home service provider is authorized by law or contract to provide commercial mobile radio service to the customer.
6. "Mobile telecommunications service" means commercial mobile radio service, as defined in section 20.3 of title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations as in effect on June 1, 1999.

7. "Place of primary use" means the street address representative of where the customer's use of the mobile telecommunications service primarily occurs, which must be the residential street address or the primary business street address of the customer and within the licensed service area of the home service provider.
8. "Prepaid telephone calling service" means the right to purchase exclusively telecommunications services that must be paid for in advance which enables the origination of calls using an access number, authorization code, or both, whether manually or electronically dialed, if the remaining amount of units of service that have been prepaid is known by the provider of the prepaid service on a continuous basis.
9. "Reseller" means a provider who purchases telecommunications services from another telecommunications service provider and then resells, uses as a component part of, or integrates the purchased services into a mobile telecommunications service and does not include a serving carrier with which a home service provider arranges for the services to its customers outside the home service provider's licensed service area.
10. "Serving carrier" means a facilities-based carrier providing mobile telecommunications service to a customer outside a home service provider's or reseller's licensed service area.
11. "Taxing jurisdiction" means this state or any political subdivision within this state, including those operating under a home rule charter, with the authority to impose a tax, charge, or fee.

57-34.1-02. Application.

1. This chapter applies to any tax, charge, or fee levied by a taxing jurisdiction as a fixed charge for each customer or measured by gross amounts charged to customers for mobile telecommunications services, regardless of whether the tax, charge, or fee is imposed on the vendor or customer of the service and regardless of the terminology used to describe the tax, charge, or fee.
2. This chapter does not apply to:
 - a. Any tax, charge, or fee levied upon or measured by the net income, capital stock, net worth, or property value of the provider of mobile telecommunications service.
 - b. Any tax, charge, or fee that is applied to an equitably apportioned amount that is not determined on a transactional basis.
 - c. Any tax, charge, or fee that represents compensation for a mobile telecommunications service provider's use of public rights of way or other public property, provided that the tax, charge, or fee is not levied by the taxing jurisdiction as a fixed charge for each customer or measured by gross amounts charged to customers for mobile telecommunication services.
 - d. Any generally applicable business and occupation tax that is imposed by this state, is applied to gross receipts or gross proceeds, is the legal liability of the home service provider, and that statutorily allows the home service provider to elect to use the sourcing method required in this chapter.

- e. Any fee related to obligations under section 254 of the Communications Act of 1934.
 - f. Any tax, charge, or fee imposed by the federal communications commission.
3. The provisions of this chapter:
- a. Do not apply to the determination of the taxing situs of prepaid telephone calling services.
 - b. Do not affect the taxability of either the initial sale of mobile telecommunications services or subsequent resale of the services, whether as sales of the services alone or as a part of a bundled product, if the Internet Tax Freedom Act [Pub. L. 105-277; 112 Stat. 2681 et seq.] precludes a taxing jurisdiction from subjecting the charges of the sale of the services to a tax, charge, or fee.
 - c. Do not apply to the determination of the taxing situs of air-ground radio-telephone service as defined in section 22.99 of title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations as in effect on June 1, 1999.

57-34.1-03. Sourcing rules for mobile telecommunications services.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law or any ordinance or resolution of a political subdivision, including a political subdivision operating under a home rule charter, mobile telecommunications services provided in a taxing jurisdiction to a customer, the charges for which are billed by or for the customer's home service provider, are deemed to be provided by the customer's home service provider. All charges for mobile telecommunications services that are deemed to be provided by the customer's home service provider under this chapter are authorized to be subjected to tax, charge, or fee by the taxing jurisdictions whose territorial limits encompass the customer's place of primary use, regardless of where the mobile telecommunications services originate, terminate, or pass through, and no other taxing jurisdiction may impose taxes, charges, or fees on charges for the mobile telecommunications services.

57-34.1-04. Electronic data base.

1. A home service provider is to be held harmless from any tax, charge, or fee liability in this state that otherwise would be due solely as a result of an assignment of a street address to an incorrect taxing jurisdiction if, subject to subsection 4, the home service provider employs an enhanced zip code to assign each street address to a specific taxing jurisdiction for each level of taxing jurisdiction and exercises due diligence at each level of taxing jurisdiction to ensure that each street address is assigned to the correct taxing jurisdiction. If an enhanced zip code overlaps boundaries of taxing jurisdictions of the same level, the home service provider must designate one specific jurisdiction within the enhanced zip code for use in taxing the activity for the enhanced zip code for each level of taxing jurisdiction. Any enhanced zip code assignment changed in accordance with subsection 4 is in compliance with this subsection. For purposes of this subsection, there is a rebuttable presumption that a home service provider has exercised due diligence if the home service provider demonstrates that it has:

- a. Expended reasonable resources to implement and maintain an appropriately detailed electronic data base of street address assignments to taxing jurisdictions;
 - b. Implemented and maintained reasonable internal controls to promptly correct misassignments of street addresses to taxing jurisdictions; and
 - c. Used all reasonably obtainable and usable data pertaining to municipal annexations, incorporations, reorganizations, and any other changes in jurisdictional boundaries that materially affect the accuracy of the data base.
2. A home service provider is responsible for obtaining and maintaining the customer's place of primary use. Subject to subsection 4 and if the home service provider's reliance on information provided by its customer is in good faith, a taxing jurisdiction shall allow a home service provider to rely on the applicable residential or business street address supplied by the home service provider's customer and not hold a home service provider liable for any additional taxes, charges, or fees based on a different determination of the place of primary use for taxes, charges, or fees that are customarily passed on to the customer as a separate itemized charge.
 3. Except as provided in subsection 4, a taxing jurisdiction shall allow a home service provider to treat the address used by the home service provider for tax purposes for any customer under a service contract or agreement in effect on or before July 28, 2002, as that customer's place of primary use for the remaining term of the service contract or agreement, excluding any extension or renewal of the service contract or agreement, for purposes of determining the taxing jurisdictions to which taxes, charges, or fees on charges for mobile telecommunications services are remitted.
 4. A taxing jurisdiction or the state on behalf of any taxing jurisdiction may:
 - a. Determine that the address used for purposes of determining the taxing jurisdictions to which taxes, charges, or fees for mobile telecommunications services are remitted does not meet the definition of place of primary use and give binding notice to the home service provider to change the place of primary use on a prospective basis from the date of notice of determination if the taxing jurisdiction making the determination is not the state, the taxing jurisdiction obtains the consent of all affected taxing jurisdictions within this state before giving the notice of determination, and before the taxing jurisdiction gives the notice of determination, the customer is given an opportunity to demonstrate in accordance with applicable state or local tax, charge, or fee administrative procedures that the address is the customer's place of primary use.
 - b. Determine that the assignment of a taxing jurisdiction by a home service provider under subsection 1 does not reflect the correct taxing jurisdiction and give binding notice to the home service provider to change the assignment on a prospective basis from the date of notice of determination if the taxing jurisdiction making the determination is not the state, the taxing jurisdiction obtains the consent of all affected taxing jurisdictions within the state before giving the notice of determination and the home service provider is given an opportunity to demonstrate in accordance with applicable state or local tax, charge, or fee administrative procedures that the assignment reflects the correct taxing jurisdiction.

5. Nothing in this chapter modifies, impairs, supersedes, or authorizes the modification, impairment, or supersession of, any law allowing a taxing jurisdiction to collect a tax, charge, or fee from a customer that has failed to provide its place of primary use.
6. If a taxing jurisdiction does not otherwise subject charges for mobile telecommunications services to taxation and if these charges are aggregated with and not separately stated from charges that are subject to taxation, then the charges for nontaxable mobile telecommunications services may be subject to taxation unless the home service provider can reasonably identify charges not subject to the tax, charge, or fee from its books and records that are kept in the regular course of business.
7. If a taxing jurisdiction does not subject charges for mobile telecommunications services to taxation, a customer may not rely upon the nontaxability of charges for mobile telecommunications services unless the customer's home service provider separately states the charges for nontaxable mobile telecommunications services from taxable charges or the home service provider elects, after receiving a written request from the customer in the form required by the provider, to provide verifiable data based upon the home service provider's books and records that are kept in the regular course of business that reasonably identifies the nontaxable charges.

57-34.1-05. Customer's procedures and remedies for correcting taxes and fees.

1. If a customer believes that an amount of tax, assignment of place of primary use, or taxing jurisdiction included on a billing is erroneous, the customer shall notify the home service provider in writing. The customer shall include in this written notification the street address for the customer's place of primary use, the account name and number for which the customer seeks a correction of the tax assignment, a description of the error asserted by the customer, and any other information the home service provider reasonably requires to process the request. Within sixty days of receiving a notice, the home service provider shall review its records and the electronic data base or enhanced zip code to determine the customer's taxing jurisdiction. If as a result of this review the home service provider finds that the amount of tax, assignment of place of primary use, or taxing jurisdiction is in error, the home service provider shall correct the error and refund or credit the amount of tax erroneously collected from the customer for a period of up to two years. If this review shows that the amount of tax, assignment of place of primary use, or taxing jurisdiction is correct, the home service provider shall provide a written explanation to the customer.

2. If the customer is dissatisfied with the response of the home service provider under this section, the customer may seek correction or refund from the taxing jurisdiction affected.
3. The procedure in this section is the sole and exclusive remedy available to customers seeking correction of assignment of place of primary use, taxing jurisdiction, a refund, or other compensation for taxes or fees erroneously collected by the home service provider.

57-34.1-06. Nonseverability. If a court of competent jurisdiction enters a final judgment on the merits that is based on federal law, is no longer subject to appeal, and substantially limits or impairs the essential elements of the Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act [Pub. L. 106-252; 114 Stat. 626], then the provisions of this chapter are invalid and have no legal effect as of the date of entry of the judgment.

SECTION 2. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Act becomes effective for customer bills issued on or after August 1, 2002.

1. Each distributor who shall dispose of cigarettes, cigarette papers, ~~snuff~~, cigars, pipe tobacco, or other tobacco products shall keep and preserve for one year all invoices of cigarettes, cigarette papers, ~~snuff~~, cigars, pipe tobacco, or other tobacco products purchased by the distributor and shall permit the state tax commissioner, and assistants, authorized agents, or representatives of the state tax commissioner, to inspect and examine all taxable merchandise, invoices, receipts, books, papers, and memoranda as may be deemed necessary by the state tax commissioner, and assistants, authorized agents, or representatives of the state tax commissioner in determining the amount of the tax as may be yet due. The penalty must be paid to the tax commissioner and disposed of in the same manner as are other receipts under this chapter.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 57-36-25 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-36-25. Cigars, snuff, and other tobacco products and pipe tobacco - Excise tax on wholesale purchase price - Other tobacco products - Excise tax on weight - Penalty - Reports - Collection - Allocation of revenue.

1. There is hereby levied and assessed upon all cigars, ~~snuff, and other tobacco products~~ and pipe tobacco sold in this state an excise tax at the rate of twenty-eight percent of the wholesale purchase price at which such cigars, ~~snuff, and other tobacco products~~ and pipe tobacco are purchased by distributors. For the purposes of this section, the term "wholesale purchase price" shall mean the established price for which a manufacturer sells cigars, ~~snuff, or other tobacco products~~ or pipe tobacco to a distributor exclusive of any discount or other reduction.
2. There is levied and assessed upon all other tobacco products sold in this state an excise tax at the following rates:
 - a. Upon each can or package of snuff, sixty cents per ounce and a proportionate tax at the like rate on all fractional parts of an ounce.
 - b. On chewing tobacco, sixteen cents per ounce and a proportionate tax at the like rate on all fractional parts of an ounce.

For purposes of this subsection, the tax on other tobacco products is computed based on the net weight as listed by the manufacturer.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT. Section 57-36-26 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-36-26. Cigars, snuff, pipe tobacco, and other tobacco products - Excise tax payable by dealers - Reports - Penalties - Collection - Allocation of revenue.

1. There is hereby levied and assessed upon all cigars, ~~snuff, and other tobacco products,~~ and pipe tobacco purchased in another state and brought into this state by a dealer for the purpose of sale at retail, an excise tax at the rate of twenty-eight percent of the wholesale purchase price, and upon all other tobacco products purchased in another state and brought into this state by a dealer for the purpose of sale at retail, an excise tax at the rates indicated in section 57-36-25, at the time the products were brought into this state. For the purposes of this section, the term "wholesale purchase price" means the established price for which a manufacturer sells cigars, ~~snuff, or other tobacco products or pipe tobacco~~ to a distributor exclusive of any discount or other reduction. However, the dealer may elect to report and remit the tax on the cost price of the products to the dealer rather than on the wholesale purchase price. The proceeds of the tax, together with the forms of return and in accordance with any rules and regulations the tax commissioner may prescribe, must be remitted to the tax commissioner by the dealer on a monthly basis on or before the fifteenth day of the month following the monthly period for which it is paid. The tax commissioner shall have the authority to place any dealer on an annual remittance basis when in the judgment of the tax commissioner the operations of the dealer merit that remittance period. In addition, the tax commissioner shall have the authority to permit the consolidation of the filing of a dealer's return when the dealer has more than one location and thereby would be required to file more than one return.
2. If cigars ~~or snuff,~~ pipe tobacco, or other tobacco products have been subjected already to a tax by any other state in respect to their sale in an amount less than the tax imposed by this section, the provisions of this section apply, but at a rate measured by the difference only between the rate fixed in this section and the rate by which the previous tax upon the sale was computed. If the tax imposed in the other state is twenty percent of the wholesale purchase price or more, then no tax is due on the article. The provisions of this subsection apply only if the other state allows a tax credit with respect to the excise tax on cigars, ~~snuff, and,~~ pipe tobacco, or other tobacco products imposed by this state which is substantially similar in effect to the credit allowed by this subsection.
3. Any person failing to file any prescribed forms of return or to pay any tax within the time required by this section is subject to a penalty of five dollars or a sum equal to five percent of the tax due, whichever is greater, plus one percent of the tax for each month of delay or fraction thereof excepting the month within which the return was required to be filed or the tax became due. The tax commissioner, if satisfied that the delay was excusable, may waive all or any part of the penalty. The penalty must be paid to the tax commissioner and disposed of in the same manner as are other receipts under this chapter.

5. Whenever a ~~trade or~~ business activity is carried on partly within and partly without this state by a nonresident of this state, as a sole proprietorship, or through a partnership, subchapter S corporation, or other passthrough entity, the entire income therefrom must be allocated to this state and to other states, according to the provisions of chapter 57-38.1, providing for allocation and apportionment of income of corporations doing business within and without this state.
 - a. Income and gains received by a resident of this state from tangible property not employed in the business and from tangible property employed in the business of the taxpayer, if ~~such the~~ business consists principally of the holding of ~~such the~~ property and the collection of income and gains therefrom, must be assigned to this state without regard to the situs of ~~such the~~ property.
 - b. - (1) Characterizes payments to the partners as being for services or for the use of capital or allocates to the partner, as income or gain from sources outside this state, a greater proportion of the partner's distributive share of partnership income or gain than the ratio of partnership income or gain from sources outside this state to partnership income or gain from all sources, except as authorized in subdivision d; or
 - (2) Allocates to the partner a greater proportion of a partnership item of loss or deduction connected with sources in this state than the proportionate share of the partner, for federal income tax purposes, of partnership loss or deduction generally, except as authorized in subdivision d.
- c. Any modification to federal taxable income described in this chapter that relates to an item of partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction, or item thereof, must be made in accordance with the partner's distributive share, for federal income tax purposes, of the item to which the modification relates, but limited to the partner's portion of the item derived from or connected with sources in this state.

g. If married individuals who file a joint federal income tax return are required to file separate state income tax returns under any provision of this chapter, the tax under this subsection for each spouse must be determined by applying the rates under subdivision b to the spouses' joint North Dakota taxable income and prorating the result between the spouses based on their separate North Dakota taxable incomes.

- h. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 2001, the tax commissioner shall prescribe new rate schedules that apply in lieu of the schedules set forth in subdivisions a through e. The new schedules must be determined by increasing the minimum and maximum dollar amounts for each income bracket for which a tax is imposed by the cost-of-living adjustment for the taxable year as determined by the secretary of the United States treasury for purposes of section 1(f) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended. For this purpose, the rate applicable to each income bracket may not be changed, and the manner of applying the cost-of-living adjustment must be the same as that used for adjusting the income brackets for federal income tax purposes.
3. The adjusted federal income tax liability for a resident individual, estate, and trust must be determined by multiplying the federal income tax liability by a fraction, the numerator of which is the adjusted gross income taxable to this state and the denominator of which is the total adjusted gross income as reported on the federal income tax return. To the extent they are included in the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income, the following amounts must be excluded from the numerator For purposes of this section, "North Dakota taxable income" means the federal taxable income of an individual, estate, or trust as computed under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, adjusted as follows:

- c. ~~An~~ Reduced by the amount equal to the earnings that are passed through to a taxpayer in connection with an allocation and apportionment to North Dakota under chapter 57-35.3.
- d. Reduced by thirty percent of the excess of the taxpayer's net long-term capital gain for the taxable year over the net short-term capital loss for that year, as computed for purposes of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.
- e. Increased by the amount of a lump sum distribution for which income averaging was elected under section 402 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 [26 U.S.C. 402], as amended. This adjustment does not apply if the taxpayer received the lump sum distribution while a nonresident of this state and the distribution is exempt from taxation by this state under federal law.

- f. Increased by an amount equal to the losses that are passed through to a taxpayer in connection with an allocation and apportionment to North Dakota under chapter 57-35.3.
4. The adjusted federal income tax liability of a nonresident individual, estate, and trust must be determined by multiplying the federal income tax liability by a fraction, the numerator of which is the adjusted gross income derived from sources within this state and the denominator of which is the total adjusted gross income as reported on the federal income tax return. To the extent they are included in the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income, the following amounts must be excluded from the numerator:
 - a. Interest income from obligations of the United States and income exempt from state income tax under federal statute or United States or North Dakota constitutional provisions.
 - b. The portion of a distribution from a qualified investment fund described in section 57-38-04 which is attributable to investments by the qualified investment fund in obligations of the United States, obligations of North Dakota or its political subdivisions, and any other obligation the interest from which is exempt from state income tax under federal statute or United States or North Dakota constitutional provisions.

 5. For purposes of this section, "federal income tax liability" means the individual's, estate's, or trust's federal income tax computed for the taxable year under Internal Revenue Code sections 4 and 3, relating to the computation of the regular federal income tax before credits, including calculation and tax rate modifications prescribed under other provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, adjusted as follows:
 - a. Add the alternative minimum tax computed under Internal Revenue Code section 55;

SECTION 8. A new subdivision to subsection 7 of section 57-60-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Prior to January 1, 2010, any revenue received by the operator of a coal gasification plant to the extent the quotient of the gross receipts realized by the operator divided by the synthetic natural gas produced and sold during a month, in units of one thousand cubic feet [28316.85 units] of synthetic gas, exceeds the ceiling price. For calendar years 2001 and 2002, ceiling price means $4.25 for each thousand cubic feet [28316.85 liters] of synthetic natural gas produced and sold; and the ceiling price for 2003 is $4.35; for 2004, $4.45; for 2005, $4.55; for 2006, $4.65; for 2007, $4.75; for 2008, $4.86; and for 2009, $4.97;

SECTION 9. AMENDMENT. Section 57-60-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-60-02. Imposition of taxes. There is hereby imposed upon the operator of each coal conversion facility a tax paid monthly for the privilege of producing products of such coal conversion facility. The rate of the tax must be computed as follows:

1. For all coal conversion facilities, except as otherwise provided in this section, the tax is measured by the gross receipts derived from such facility for the preceding month and is in the amount of ~~two and one-half~~ four and one-tenth percent of such gross receipts. For purposes of this subsection, "gross receipts" of a coal gasification plant do not include any amount that is received by the operator of the plant for production of synthetic natural gas in excess of one hundred ten million cubic feet per day. Gross receipts derived from the sale of a capital asset are not subject to the tax imposed by this subsection.
2. For electrical generating plants, the tax is at a rate of ~~twenty-five~~ sixty-five one-hundredths of one mill times sixty percent of the installed capacity of each unit times the number of hours in the taxable period. All electrical generating plants that begin construction after June 30, 1991, are exempt from ~~sixty-five~~ eighty-five percent of the tax imposed by this subsection for five years from the date of the first taxable production from the plant. The board of county commissioners may, by resolution, grant to the operator of an electrical generating plant located within the county which begins construction after June 30, 1991, partial or complete exemption from the remaining ~~thirty-five~~ fifteen percent of the tax imposed by this subsection for a period not exceeding five years from the date of the first taxable production from the plant. Notwithstanding section 57-60-14, any tax collected from a plant subject to the exemption provided by this subsection must be allocated entirely to the county for allocation as provided in section 57-60-15. If a unit is incapable of generating electricity for eighteen consecutive months, the tax on that unit for taxable periods beginning after the eighteenth month must be reduced by the ratio that the cost of repair of the unit bears to the original cost of the unit. This reduced rate remains in effect until the unit is capable of generating electricity.

3. For electrical generating plants, in addition to the tax imposed by subsection 2, there is a tax at the rate of twenty-five one-hundredths of one mill on each kilowatt hour of electricity produced for the purpose of sale. For all electrical generating plants that begin construction after June 30, 1991, the production from the plants is exempt from the tax imposed by this subsection for five years from the date of the first taxable production from the plant.
4. For coal gasification plants, the tax is the greater of either the amount provided in subsection 1 or ~~seven~~ thirteen and one-half cents on each one thousand cubic feet [28316.85 liters] of synthetic natural gas produced for the purpose of sale but not including any amount of synthetic natural gas in excess of one hundred ten million cubic feet per day.
 - a. For all coal conversion facilities, other than electrical generating plants, the production from the facilities is exempt from ~~sixty-five~~ eighty-five percent of the tax imposed by this section for a period of five years from the date of first taxable production from the facility or for a period of five years from April 20, 1987, whichever is later. The operator of each facility applying for exemption under this subsection shall certify to the tax commissioner the date of first taxable production of the facility.
 - b. The board of county commissioners may, by resolution, grant to the operator of a coal conversion facility, other than an electrical generating plant, located within the county a partial or complete exemption from the remaining ~~thirty-five~~ fifteen percent of tax imposed by this section for a period not exceeding five years from the date of the first taxable production from the facility. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 57-60-14, any tax collected which is based upon the production of a facility subject to the exemption provided by this subsection must be allocated entirely to the county for allocation as provided in section 57-60-15.
6. For coal beneficiation plants, the tax is twenty cents on each ton of two thousand pounds [907.18 kilograms] of beneficiated coal produced for the purpose of sale, or one and one-quarter percent of the gross receipts derived from such facility for the preceding month, whichever amount is greater. Any amount of beneficiated coal produced in excess of eighty percent of the design capacity of the coal beneficiation plant is exempt from such tax.

SECTION 10. AMENDMENT. Section 57-60-14 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-60-14. Allocation of revenue - Continuing appropriation.

1. The state treasurer shall no less than quarterly allocate all moneys received from all coal conversion facilities in each county pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and moneys received for those taxes for which a credit is allowed pursuant to section 57-60-06, notwithstanding the provisions of section 57-33.1-08, ~~thirty-five~~ fifteen percent to the county and ~~sixty-five~~ eighty-five percent to the state general fund, except moneys received from the tax imposed by subsection 3 of section 57-60-02 and through December 31, 2009, the first $41,666.67 each month from the tax imposed by subsections 1 and 4 of section 57-60-02, which must be deposited in the state general fund.

2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the allocation under this section to each county may not be less in each calendar year than the amount certified to the state treasurer for each county under this section in the immediately preceding calendar year, except that through December 31, 2009, the portion of the revenue allocation to each county which is attributable to a coal gasification coal conversion facility must exclude consideration of calendar year 2001, and be based on calendar year 2000 or the appropriate year after 2001, whichever is greater. For a county that has received less in a calendar year than the amount certified to the state treasurer for that county in the immediately preceding calendar year, not later than January tenth of the following year, the county auditor shall calculate the amount that is due under this subsection and submit a statement of the amount to the state treasurer. The state treasurer shall verify the stated amount and make the required payment under this subsection to the county, from collections received under section 57-60-02, not later than March first of the following year. The funds needed to make the distribution to counties under this subsection are appropriated on a continuing basis for making these payments. Money received by a county under this subsection must be distributed pursuant to section 57-60-15.
3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for a county in which is located a coal conversion facility that was not a coal conversion facility under this chapter before the effective date of section 7 of this Act, that county must receive for calendar year 2002 at least as much under this section as was received by that county and taxing districts in that county in property taxes for that facility for taxable year 2001. For years after 2002, subsection 2 applies to allocations to that county under this section, except that for a county described in this subsection, amounts received for any calendar year must be allocated by the county in the same manner property taxes for the facility were allocated for taxable year 2001.

57-61-01. Severance tax upon coal - Imposition - In lieu of sales and use taxes - Payment to the tax commissioner. There is hereby imposed upon all coal severed for sale or for industrial purposes by coal mines within the state a tax of ~~seventy five~~ thirty-seven and one-half cents per ton of two thousand pounds [907.18 kilograms]. Such severance tax is in lieu of any sales or use taxes imposed by law. Each coal mine owner or operator shall remit such tax for each month, within twenty-five days after the end of each month, to the state tax commissioner upon such reports and forms as the tax commissioner deems necessary.

SECTION 12. AMENDMENT. Section 57-61-01.7 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-61-01.7. Severance tax reduction for coal mined for out-of-state shipment. For coal subject to taxes under this chapter which is shipped out of state after June 30, ~~1995, and before July 1, 2000~~ 2001:

1. ~~The coal is exempt from fifty percent of the taxes imposed under section 57-61-01.~~
2. The coal is subject to ~~fifteen~~ thirty percent of the taxes imposed under section 57-61-01 and the entire revenue under this subsection must be deposited in the coal development trust fund for use as provided in subsection 1 of section 57-62-02 and allocation to the lignite research fund as provided in subsection 2 of section 57-61-01.5.
3. ~~2.~~ 2. In addition to the taxes under subsection ~~2~~ 1, the coal may be subject to up to ~~thirty-five~~ seventy percent of the severance taxes imposed under section 57-61-01 at the option of the county in which the coal is mined. The board of county commissioners, by resolution, may grant to the operator of a mine from which the coal is shipped out of state a partial or complete exemption from this portion of the severance tax. Any tax revenue from full or partial taxation under this subsection must be allocated to the county under subsection 2 of section 57-62-02.
4. ~~3.~~ 3. Taxes imposed under section 57-61-01.5 apply to coal subject to this section and must be allocated as provided in section 57-61-01.5.

²⁷⁰ SECTION 13. AMENDMENT. Section 57-62-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-62-02. Allocation of moneys in coal development fund. Moneys deposited in the coal development fund shall be apportioned monthly by the state treasurer as follows:

1. ~~Fifteen~~ Thirty percent must be deposited in a permanent trust fund in the state treasury, to be known as the coal development trust fund, pursuant to section 21 of article X of the Constitution of North Dakota. Those funds held in trust and administered by the board of university and school lands on March 5, 1981, pursuant to section 12, chapter 563, 1975 Session Laws; section 12, chapter 560, 1977 Session Laws; or section 13, chapter 626, 1979 Session Laws must also be deposited in the trust fund created pursuant to this subsection. The fund must be held in trust and administered by the board of university and school lands for loans to coal impacted counties, cities, and school districts as provided in section 57-62-03 and for loans to school districts pursuant to chapter 15-60. The board of university and school lands may invest such funds as are not loaned out as provided in this chapter and may consult with the state investment board as provided by law. The income, including interest payments on loans, from the trust must be used first to replace uncollectible loans made from the fund and the balance must be deposited in the state's general fund. Loan principal payments must be redeposited in the trust fund. The trust fund must be perpetual and held in trust as a replacement for depleted natural resources subject to the provisions of this chapter and chapter 15-60.

²⁷⁰ Section 57-62-02 was also amended by section 36 of House Bill No. 1046, chapter 161.

2. ~~Thirty-five~~ Seventy percent must be allocated to the coal-producing counties and must be distributed among such counties in such proportion as the number of tons [metric tons] of coal severed at each mining operation bears to the total number of tons [metric tons] of coal severed in the state during such monthly period. Allocations under subdivisions a and b must be apportioned by the state treasurer as follows:
 - a. If the tippie of the currently active coal mining operation in a county is not within fifteen miles [24.14 kilometers] of another county in which no coal is mined, the revenue apportioned according to this subdivision must be allocated as follows:
 - (1) Thirty percent must be paid by the state treasurer to the incorporated cities of the county based upon the population of each incorporated city according to the last official regular or special federal census or the census taken in accordance with the provisions of chapter 40-02 in case of a city incorporated subsequent to such census.
 - (2) Forty percent must be paid to the county treasurer who shall deposit it in the county general fund to be used for general governmental purposes.
 - (3) Thirty percent must be apportioned by the state treasurer to school districts within the county on the average daily membership basis, as certified to the state treasurer by the county superintendent of schools.
 - b. If the tippie of a currently active coal mining operation in a county is within fifteen miles [24.14 kilometers] of another county in which no coal is mined, the revenue from the production not exceeding the production limitation in a calendar year which is apportioned from that coal mining operation according to this subsection must be allocated, subject to the definitions of terms and the requirements in paragraph 4, as provided in this subdivision. For purposes of this subdivision, the production limitation is three million eight hundred thousand tons [3447302.02 metric tons] through calendar year 1995, three million six hundred thousand tons [3265865.07 metric tons] in calendar years 1996 and 1997, and three million four hundred thousand tons [3084428.12 metric tons] in calendar years after 1997. Revenue from production exceeding the production limitation in a calendar year from that coal mining operation must be allocated only within the coal-producing county under subdivision a. Allocations under this subdivision must be made as follows:
 - (1) Thirty percent must be paid by the state treasurer to the incorporated cities of the coal-producing county and to any city of a non-coal-producing county when any portion of the city lies within fifteen miles [24.14 kilometers] of the tippie of the currently active coal mining operation in the coal-producing county, based upon the population of each incorporated city according to the last official regular or special federal census or the census taken in accordance with the provisions of chapter 40-02 in case of a city incorporated subsequent to such census.

- (2) Forty percent must be divided by the state treasurer between the general fund of the coal-producing county and the general fund of any non-coal-producing county when any portion of the latter county lies within fifteen miles [24.14 kilometers] of the tipple of the currently active coal mining operation in the coal-producing county. The non-coal-producing county portion must be based upon the ratio which the assessed valuation of all quarter sections of land in that county, any portion of which lies within fifteen miles [24.14 kilometers] of the tipple of the currently active coal mining operation, bears to the combined assessed valuations of all land in the coal-producing county and the quarter sections of land in the non-coal-producing county within fifteen miles [24.14 kilometers] of the tipple of the currently active coal mining operation. The county director of tax equalization of the coal-producing county shall certify to the state treasurer the number of quarter sections of land in the non-coal-producing counties which lie at least in part within fifteen miles [24.14 kilometers] of the tipple of the currently active coal mining operation and their assessed valuations.
- (3) Thirty percent must be apportioned by the state treasurer to school districts within the coal-producing county and to school districts in adjoining non-coal-producing counties when a portion of those school districts' land includes any of the quarter sections of land certified by the director of tax equalization to the state treasurer to be eligible to share county funds as provided for in paragraph 2. The county superintendent of the non-coal-producing counties shall certify to the state treasurer the number of students actually residing on these quarter sections lying outside the coal-producing county and each school district in non-coal-producing counties shall receive a portion of the money under this paragraph based upon the ratio of the number of children residing on quarter sections of that school district within the fifteen-mile [24.14-kilometer] radius of the tipple of a currently active coal mining operation to the total number of schoolchildren from the coal-producing county combined with all the schoolchildren certified to be living on quarter sections within fifteen miles [24.14 kilometers] of the tipple of the currently active coal mining operation in the coal-producing county.
- (4) For the purposes of this subsection:
 - (a) The terms "currently active coal mining operation in a county", "currently active coal mining operation in the coal-producing county", and "currently active coal mining operation" mean a coal mining operation that produced more than one hundred fifty thousand tons [136077.71 metric tons] of coal in a coal-producing county during the prior quarterly period.

- (b) The term "coal-producing county" means a county in which more than one hundred fifty thousand tons [136077.71 metric tons] of coal were mined in the prior quarterly period.
 - (c) The term "another county in which no coal is mined" means a county in which not more than seventy-five thousand tons [68038.86 metric tons] of coal were mined in the prior quarterly period.
 - (d) The terms "non-coal-producing county" and "non-coal-producing counties" mean any county in which not more than seventy-five thousand tons [68038.86 metric tons] of coal were mined in the prior quarterly period.
 - (e) In computing each amount to be paid as provided in paragraph 1, 2, or 3 for coal severance tax revenue from coal mined during a monthly period, the state treasurer shall deduct from the allocation the amount of coal severance tax revenue, if any, that the governmental body in the non-coal-producing county received from the coal mined in the non-coal-producing county during the same monthly period.
3. ~~Fifty percent shall be deposited in the state's general fund, except that after June 30, 1997, the revenue allocated to the state general fund under this subsection which is attributable to severance taxes on new coal production from clean coal demonstration projects must be deposited in the lignite research fund for partial funding of the state share of the clean coal demonstration project generating the new coal production.~~

2. A person who provides a certified automated system is responsible for the proper functioning of that system and is liable to the state for underpayments of tax attributable to errors in the functioning of the certified automated system. A seller who uses a certified automated system remains responsible and is liable to the state for reporting and remitting tax.

 - a. Designate a 911 coordinator.
 - b. Enter written agreements with participating organizations and agencies.
 - c. Designate lines of authority.
 - d. Provide for a written plan for rural addressing, if applicable, which has been coordinated with the local postal authorities. After January 1, 1993, a rural plan must conform to the modified burkle addressing plan. A plan in use before this date does not have to conform with the modified burkle addressing plan. If implemented, all rural addressing signs must comply with the manual on uniform traffic control devices standards.

 - h. Define a mechanism to differentiate between emergency 911 telephone calls from other calls.
 - i. Provide for written operating procedures.

- j. Require the public safety answering point that initially receives an emergency call to be responsible for handling that call. If a transfer of an emergency call is made to a secondary public safety answering point, the initial public safety answering point may not disconnect from the three-way call unless mutually agreed upon by the two public safety answering point dispatchers. Upon this agreement, the secondary public safety answering point becomes responsible for the call.
 - k. Beginning June 1, 2002, ensure that the closest available emergency medical service is dispatched to the scene of medical emergencies regardless of city, county, or district boundaries. The state department of health shall provide emergency 911 telephone systems with necessary geographical information to assist in the implementation of this subdivision.

 - a. Require appropriate liability protection.
 - b. Create a user advisory board.
 - c. Conduct an annual statistical evaluation of services.
 - d. Publish an annual financial report in the official county newspaper.
 3. An emergency 911 telephone system must access and dispatch the following services:
 - a. Law enforcement.

 - d. Any other related service in subsection 3 or 4.
 5. The governing committee of an emergency 911 telephone system shall provide that that system:
 - a. Provides twenty-four-hour, seven-day-a-week coverage.
 - b. Dispatches and communicates with service identified in subsection 3.
 - c. Records all incoming 911 calls and related radio and telephone communications.

- d. Provides alternate measures in the event of an emergency 911 telephone system failure, including an alternate public safety answering point seven-digit number.
 - e. Ensures an adequate grade of service that is statistically based by population to assure access to an emergency 911 telephone system.
 - f. Does not accept one-way call-in alarms or devices.
 - g. Provides access to an emergency 911 telephone system through specialized telecommunications equipment as defined under section 54-44.8-01.
6. An emergency 911 telephone system may:
 - a. Locate the emergency caller utilizing electronic equipment.
 - b. Provide a mechanism for investigating false or prank calls.
 7. An emergency 911 telephone system must include at least one public safety answering point.
 8. A cellular 911 call must be routed to the appropriate 911 public safety answering point.
 9. An emergency 911 telephone call must be answered by a dispatcher who has completed training through an association of public safety communications officials course or equivalent course. An emergency 911 dispatch center is required to offer emergency medical dispatch instructions on all emergency medical calls. Prearrival instructions must be offered by a dispatcher who has completed an emergency medical dispatch course approved by the division of emergency health services. Prearrival medical instructions may be given through a mutual aid agreement.

When computing the monthly average price, the most recent previous daily closing price must be considered the daily closing price for the days on which the market is closed.
3. "Horizontal reentry well" means a well that was not initially drilled and completed as a horizontal well, including any well initially plugged and abandoned as a dry hole, which is reentered and recompleted as a horizontal well after March 31, 1995.
4. "Horizontal well" means a well with a horizontal displacement of the wellbore drilled at an angle of at least eighty degrees within the productive formation of at least three hundred feet [91.44 meters].

²⁸³ Section 57-51.1-01 was also amended by section 5 of House Bill No. 1064, chapter 549.

5. "Oil" means petroleum, crude oil, mineral oil, casinghead gasoline, and all liquid hydrocarbons that are recovered from gas on the lease incidental to the production of the gas.
6. "Property" means the right which arises from a lease or fee interest, as a whole or any designated portion thereof, to produce oil. A producer shall treat as a separate property each separate and distinct producing reservoir subject to the same right to produce crude oil; provided, that such reservoir is recognized by the industrial commission as a producing formation that is separate and distinct from, and not in communication with, any other producing formation.
7. "Qualifying secondary recovery project" means a project employing water flooding. To be eligible for the tax reduction provided under section 57-51.1-02, a secondary recovery project must be certified as qualifying by the industrial commission and the project operator must have achieved for six consecutive months an average production level of at least twenty-five percent above the level that would have been recovered under normal recovery operations. To be eligible for the tax exemption provided under section 57-51.1-03 and subsequent thereto the rate reduction provided under section 57-51.1-02, a secondary recovery project must be certified as qualifying by the industrial commission and the project operator must have obtained incremental production as defined in subsection 5 of section 57-51.1-03.
8. "Qualifying tertiary recovery project" means a project for enhancing recovery of oil which meets the requirements of section 4993(c), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1986, and includes the following methods for recovery:
 - a. Miscible fluid displacement.
 - b. Steam drive injection.
 - c. Microemulsion.
 - d. In situ combustion.
 - e. Polymer augmented water flooding.
 - f. Cyclic steam injection.
 - g. Alkaline flooding.
 - h. Carbonated water flooding.
 - i. Immiscible carbon dioxide displacement.
 - j. New tertiary recovery methods certified by the industrial commission.

It does not include water flooding, unless the water flooding is used as an element of one of the qualifying tertiary recovery techniques described in this subsection, or immiscible natural gas injection. To be eligible for the tax reduction provided under section 57-51.1-02, a tertiary recovery project must be certified as qualifying by the industrial commission, the project operator must continue to operate the unit as a qualifying tertiary recovery project, and the project operator must have achieved for at least one month a production level of at least fifteen percent above the level that would have been recovered under normal recovery operations. To be eligible for the tax exemption provided under section 57-51.1-03 and subsequent thereto the rate reduction provided under section 57-51.1-02, a tertiary recovery project must be certified as qualifying by the industrial commission, the project operator must continue to operate the unit as a qualifying tertiary recovery project, and the project operator must have obtained incremental production as defined in subsection 5 of section 57-51.1-03.

9. "Royalty owner" means an owner of what is commonly known as the royalty interest and shall not include the owner of any overriding royalty or other payment carved out of the working interest.
10. "Stripper well property" means a "property" whose average daily production of oil, excluding condensate recovered in nonassociated production, per well did not exceed ten barrels per day for wells of a depth of six thousand feet [1828.80 meters] or less, fifteen barrels per day for wells of a depth of more than six thousand feet [1828.80 meters] but not more than ten thousand feet [3048 meters], and thirty barrels per day for wells of a depth of more than ten thousand feet [3048 meters] during any preceding consecutive twelve-month period beginning after December 31, 1972. Wells which did not actually yield or produce oil during the qualifying twelve-month period, including disposal wells, dry wells, spent wells, and shut-in wells, are not production wells for the purpose of determining whether the stripper well property exemption applies.
11. "Trigger price" means thirty-five dollars and fifty cents, as indexed for inflation. By December thirty-first of each year, the tax commissioner shall compute an indexed trigger price by applying to the current trigger price the rate of change of the producer price index for industrial commodities as calculated and published by the United States department of labor, bureau of labor statistics, for the twelve months ending June thirtieth of that year and the indexed trigger price so determined is the trigger price for the following calendar year.
12. "Two-year inactive well" means any well that has not produced oil in more than one month in the two years before the date of application to the industrial commission for certification as a two-year inactive well.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 57-51.1-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-51.1-02. Imposition of oil extraction tax. There is hereby imposed an excise tax, to be known as the "oil extraction tax", upon the activity in this state of extracting oil from the earth, and every owner, including any royalty owner, of any part of the oil extracted is deemed for the purposes of this chapter to be engaged in the activity of extracting that oil.

The rate of tax is six and one-half percent of the gross value at the well of the oil extracted, except that the rate of tax is four percent of the gross value at the well of the oil extracted in the following situations:

1. For oil produced from wells drilled and completed after April 27, 1987, commonly referred to as new wells, and not otherwise exempt under section 57-51.1-03;
2. For oil produced from a secondary or tertiary recovery project that was certified as qualifying by the industrial commission before July 1, 1991;
3. For oil that does not qualify as incremental oil but is produced from a secondary or tertiary recovery project that is certified as qualifying by the industrial commission after June 30, 1991;
4. For incremental oil produced from a secondary or tertiary recovery project that is certified as qualifying by the industrial commission after June 30, 1991, and which production is not otherwise exempt under section 57-51.1-03; or
5. For oil produced from a well that receives an exemption pursuant to subsection 4 of section 57-51.1-03 after June 30, 1993, and which production is not otherwise exempt under section 57-51.1-03.

However, if the average price of a barrel of crude oil exceeds the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period in any year is thirty-three dollars or more, then the rate of tax for the following months on oil extracted from all taxable wells is six and one-half percent of the gross value at the well of the oil extracted-

~~However, if after the aforementioned trigger provision becomes effective, until the average price of a barrel of crude oil is less than thirty-three dollars the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period in any year, in which case the rate of tax reverts to four percent of the gross value at the well of the oil extracted for any wells drilled and completed after April 27, 1987, and not otherwise exempt under section 57-51.1-03, and for a qualifying secondary recovery project or for a qualifying tertiary recovery project subject to a reduced rate under subsections 1 through 5.~~

²⁸⁴ SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 57-51.1-03 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-51.1-03. Exemptions from oil extraction tax. The following activities are specifically exempted from the oil extraction tax:

1. The activity of extracting from the earth any oil that is exempt from the gross production tax imposed by chapter 57-51.
2. The activity of extracting from the earth any oil from a stripper well property.
3. For a well drilled and completed after April 27, 1987, the initial production of oil from the well is exempt from any taxes imposed under this chapter for a period of fifteen months, except that oil produced from any well drilled and completed as a horizontal well after March 31, 1995, is exempt from any taxes imposed under this chapter for a period of twenty-four months. Oil recovered during testing prior to well completion is exempt from the oil extraction tax. The exemption under this subsection becomes ineffective if the average price of a barrel of crude oil exceeds the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period in any year is thirty-three dollars or more. However, the exemption is reinstated if, after the ~~mentioned~~ trigger provision becomes effective, the average price of a barrel of crude oil is less than ~~thirty-three dollars~~ the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period in any year.

4. The production of oil from a qualifying well that was worked over is exempt from any taxes imposed under this chapter for a period of twelve months, beginning with the first day of the third calendar month after the completion of the work-over project. The exemption provided by this subsection is only effective if the well operator files a notice of intention to begin a work-over project with the industrial commission prior to commencement of the project and establishes to the satisfaction of the industrial commission upon completion of the project that the cost of the project exceeded sixty-five thousand dollars or production is increased at least fifty percent during the first two months after completion of the project. A qualifying well under this subsection is a well with an average daily production of no more than fifty barrels of oil during the latest six calendar months of continuous production prior to the filing of the notice required by this subsection. A work-over project under this subsection means the continuous employment of a work-over rig, including recompletions and reentries. The exemption provided by this subsection becomes ineffective if the average price of a barrel of crude oil exceeds the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period in any year is thirty-three dollars or more. However, the exemption is reinstated if, after the ~~mentioned~~ trigger provision becomes effective, the average price of a barrel of crude oil is less than ~~thirty-three dollars~~ the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period in any year.
 - a. The incremental production from a secondary recovery project which has been certified as a qualified project by the industrial commission after July 1, 1991, is exempt from any taxes imposed under this chapter for a period of five years from the date the incremental production begins.
 - b. The incremental production from a tertiary recovery project which has been certified as a qualified project by the industrial commission subsequent to June 30, 1991, is exempt from any taxes imposed under this chapter for a period of ten years from the date the incremental production begins.
 - c. For purposes of this subsection, incremental production is defined in the following manner:
 - (1) For purposes of determining the exemption provided for in subdivision a and with respect to a unit where there has not been a secondary recovery project, incremental production means the difference between the total amount of oil produced from the unit during the secondary recovery project and the amount of primary production from the unit. For purposes of this paragraph, primary production means the amount of oil which would have been produced from the unit if the secondary recovery project had not been commenced. The industrial commission shall determine the amount of primary production in a manner which conforms to the practice and procedure used by the commission at the time the project is certified.

- (2) For purposes of determining the exemption provided for in subdivision a and with respect to a unit where a secondary recovery project was in existence prior to July 1, 1991, and where the industrial commission cannot establish an accurate production decline curve, incremental production means the difference between the total amount of oil produced from the unit during a new secondary recovery project and the amount of production which would be equivalent to the average monthly production from the unit during the most recent twelve months of normal production reduced by a production decline rate of ten percent for each year. The industrial commission shall determine the average monthly production from the unit during the most recent twelve months of normal production and must upon request or upon its own motion hold a hearing to make this determination. For purposes of this paragraph, when determining the most recent twelve months of normal production the industrial commission is not required to use twelve consecutive months. In addition, the production decline rate of ten percent must be applied from the last month in the twelve-month period of time.
- (3) For purposes of determining the exemption provided for in subdivision a and with respect to a unit where a secondary recovery project was in existence before July 1, 1991, and where the industrial commission can establish an accurate production decline curve, incremental production means the difference between the total amount of oil produced from the unit during the new secondary recovery project and the total amount of oil that would have been produced from the unit if the new secondary recovery project had not been commenced. For purposes of this paragraph, the total amount of oil that would have been produced from the unit if the new secondary recovery project had not been commenced includes both primary production and production that occurred as a result of the secondary recovery project that was in existence before July 1, 1991. The industrial commission shall determine the amount of oil that would have been produced from the unit if the new secondary recovery project had not been commenced in a manner that conforms to the practice and procedure used by the commission at the time the new secondary recovery project is certified.
- (4) For purposes of determining the exemption provided for in subdivision b and with respect to a unit where there has not been a secondary recovery project, incremental production means the difference between the total amount of oil produced from the unit during the tertiary recovery project and the amount of primary production from the unit. For purposes of this paragraph, primary production means the amount of oil which would have been produced from the unit if the tertiary recovery project had not been commenced. The industrial commission shall determine the amount of primary production in a manner which conforms to the practice and procedure used by the commission at the time the project is certified.

- (5) For purposes of determining the exemption provided for in subdivision b and with respect to a unit where there is or has been a secondary recovery project, incremental production means the difference between the total amount of oil produced during the tertiary recovery project and the amount of production which would be equivalent to the average monthly production from the unit during the most recent twelve months of normal production reduced by a production decline rate of ten percent for each year. The industrial commission shall determine the average monthly production from the unit during the most recent twelve months of normal production and must upon request or upon its own motion hold a hearing to make this determination. For purposes of this paragraph, when determining the most recent twelve months of normal production the industrial commission is not required to use twelve consecutive months. In addition, the production decline rate of ten percent must be applied from the last month in the twelve-month period of time.
 - (6) For purposes of determining the exemption provided for in subdivision b and with respect to a unit where there is or has been a secondary recovery project and where the industrial commission can establish an accurate production decline curve, incremental production means the difference between the total amount of oil produced from the unit during the tertiary recovery project and the total amount of oil that would have been produced from the unit if the tertiary recovery project had not been commenced. For purposes of this paragraph, the total amount of oil that would have been produced from the unit if the tertiary recovery project had not been commenced includes both primary production and production that occurred as a result of any secondary recovery project. The industrial commission shall determine the amount of oil that would have been produced from the unit if the tertiary recovery project had not been commenced in a manner that conforms to the practice and procedure used by the commission at the time the tertiary recovery project is certified.
- d. The industrial commission shall adopt rules relating to this exemption that must include procedures for determining incremental production as defined in subdivision c.
6. The production of oil from a two-year inactive well, as determined by the industrial commission and certified to the state tax commissioner, for a period of ten years after the date of receipt of the certification. The exemption under this subsection becomes ineffective if the average price of a barrel of crude oil exceeds the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period ~~in any year is thirty-three dollars or more~~. However, the exemption is reinstated if, after the ~~aforementioned~~ trigger provision becomes effective, the average price of a barrel of crude oil is less than ~~thirty-three dollars~~ the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period ~~in any year~~.

7. The production of oil from a horizontal reentry well, as determined by the industrial commission and certified to the state tax commissioner, for a period of nine months after the date the well is completed as a horizontal well. The exemption under this subsection becomes ineffective if the average price of a barrel of crude oil exceeds the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period ~~in any year is thirty-three dollars or more~~. However, the exemption is reinstated if, after the ~~aforementioned~~ trigger provision becomes effective, the average price of a barrel of crude oil is less than ~~thirty-three dollars~~ the trigger price for each month in any consecutive five-month period ~~in any year~~.
8. The initial production of oil from a well is exempt from any taxes imposed under this chapter for a period of sixty months if:
 - a. The well is located within the boundaries of an Indian reservation;
 - b. The well is drilled and completed on lands held in trust by the United States for an Indian tribe or individual Indian; or
 - c. The well is drilled and completed on lands held by an Indian tribe if the interest is in existence on August 1, 1997.

SECTION 4. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Act is effective for oil production occurring after June 30, 2001.

TOWNSHIP SPECIAL ASSESSMENT DISTRICTS

AN ACT to create and enact a new subsection to section 57-15-20.2, a new section to chapter 57-15, a new section to chapter 58-01, a new subsection to section 58-03-07, and a new chapter to title 58 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the definition of the term freeholder of a township, the relevy of property taxes omitted by mistake, and to the creation of special assessment districts by townships; to provide for retroactive application; and to provide an expiration date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

²⁸⁵ SECTION 1. A new subsection to section 57-15-20.2 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

A township levying a tax for special assessment districts in accordance with section 5 of this Act.

SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 57-15 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Mistake in levy - Levy increase the following year - Levy reverts.

1. Notwithstanding sections 57-15-01.1 and 57-15-14, if a mistake occurred in the 2000 tax year which would result in ten percent or more of the amount a taxing district intended to be levied, as of the October tenth deadline under section 57-15-31.1, not being levied and the mistake is brought to the attention of the county auditor or county treasurer of any county with land in the taxing district by February 1, 2001, the taxing district may include half of the amount which was mistakenly not levied in the taxing district's budget and general fund levy for the 2001 tax year, and the other half that was mistakenly not levied in the taxing district's budget and general fund for the 2002 tax year.
2. If the resulting general fund levy for the 2001 or 2002 tax year is above one hundred eighty-five mills, the taxing district need not comply with chapter 57-16.

²⁸⁵ Section 57-15-20.2 was also amended by section 16 of House Bill No. 1202, chapter 246, section 2 of House Bill No. 1405, chapter 511, and section 2 of Senate Bill No. 2334, chapter 513.

3. After the 2002 tax year, the taxing district's general fund levy must revert to the general fund levy for the 1999 tax year plus any increase authorized by law.
4. The 2001 and 2002 taxable years may not be used as a "base year" under section 57-15-01.1, and may not be considered a "prior school year" under section 57-15-14.

SECTION 3. A new section to chapter 58-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Freeholder defined. As used in this title, unless the context or subject matter requires otherwise, "freeholder" means the legal title owner of the surface estate in real property.

²⁸⁶ SECTION 4. A new subsection to section 58-03-07 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

To establish special assessment districts in accordance with section 5 of this Act.

SECTION 5. A new chapter to title 58 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Power of townships to defray expenses of improvements by special assessment. A township, upon complying with the provisions of this chapter, may defray the expenses of improvements through special assessment districts.

Improvement districts to be created. For the purpose of making an improvement project and defraying the cost by special assessment, a board of township supervisors may create an improvement district upon petition of sixty percent of the freeholders in a proposed improvement district area. The improvement district must be designated by a name appropriate to the type of improvement and by a number distinguishing it from other improvement districts.

Size and form of improvement districts. Each improvement district must be of such size and form as to include all properties, which in the judgment of the board of township supervisors will be benefited by the construction of the improvement project that is proposed to be made in or for the district.

Approval of plans, specifications, and cost estimates - Special meeting. After an improvement district has been created, the board of township supervisors shall direct a competent engineer to prepare a report as to the general nature, purpose, and feasibility of the proposed improvement and an estimate of the probable cost of the work. The board of township supervisors shall provide thirty days' written notice by first-class mail to each freeholder within the improvement district at the address shown on the records of the county treasurer and shall publish a notice in a legal newspaper published in the township or, if there is no such newspaper, then in the county's official newspaper at least ten days prior to a special meeting for public disclosure of the findings of the engineer.

²⁸⁶ Section 58-03-07 was also amended by section 20 of House Bill No. 1202, chapter 246.

Election for proceeding. At the special township meeting for public disclosure of the findings of the engineer, the freeholders of the township in attendance are entitled to vote on the question of whether to proceed with the improvement project. Upon approval by sixty percent or more of the votes cast at the meeting or votes filed with the township clerk within fifteen days after the meeting, the improvement project may proceed. A freeholder affected by the project is entitled to one vote for each dollar of the proposed special assessment against the freeholder's property within the proposed improvement district. If there is more than one owner of a parcel of property, the votes available for the parcel must be prorated among the owners in accordance with each owner's percentage interest in the property. If fewer than sixty percent of the votes cast or filed on the question approve the project, the election result is a bar against proceeding further with the improvement project described in the plans and specifications. An election result barring proceeding further with the improvement project does not preclude the payment of any costs incurred in developing the plans, specifications, cost estimates, or other costs which must be paid from the general fund of the township. If the costs incurred pose a financial burden on the general levy of a township of forty percent or more, the board of township supervisors may levy and collect assessments from the improvement district in yearly assessments not exceeding five years. If under forty percent, the township may use methods approved by law.

Election approval of project - Assessment levy. If the election under this chapter results in approval of a project, the board of township supervisors may cause the improvement to be made and may levy and collect assessments from the improvement district.

Appeal notice - Special meeting - Assessment determination - Limitations. Any aggrieved freeholder may appeal the special assessment against the freeholder's real property by providing the township clerk a written notice of appeal, stating the grounds upon which the appeal is based, within twenty days after the special township meeting. The clerk shall notify the township board of supervisors of the appeal and schedule a special meeting to hear the appeals by publishing a notice of the special meeting at least ten days before the meeting in a legal newspaper published in the township or, if no such newspaper exists, in the county's official newspaper. Any aggrieved freeholder who submitted an appeal may be heard and may present reasons to change the freeholder's assessment at the special meeting. The board of township supervisors may hear the appeals and reasons and may increase or diminish any of the assessments as it may deem just, providing that the total amount of the assessments may not be changed and an assessment as adjusted may not exceed the benefits to the parcel of land on which it is assessed.

SECTION 6. RETROACTIVE APPLICATION OF ACT. Section 2 of this Act applies retroactively to cases arising after December 31, 1999.

SECTION 7. EXPIRATION DATE. Section 2 of this Act is effective through the 2005 tax year and after that date is ineffective.

- (7) Injuries attributable to a preexisting injury, disease, or other condition, including when the employment acts as a trigger to produce symptoms in the preexisting injury, disease, or other condition unless the employment substantially accelerates its progression or substantially worsens its severity.

- (8) A nonemployment injury that, although acting upon a prior compensable injury, is an independent intervening cause of injury.
- (9) A latent or asymptomatic degenerative condition, caused in substantial part by employment duties, which is triggered or made active by a subsequent injury.

65-05-08. Disability benefits - Not paid unless period of disability is of five days' duration or more - Application required - Suspended during confinement - Duty to report wages. No benefits may be paid for disability, the duration of which is less than five consecutive calendar days. An employer may not require an employee to use sick leave or annual leave, or other employer-paid time off work, before applying for benefits under this section, in lieu of receiving benefits under this section, or in conjunction with benefits provided under this section, but may allow an employee to use sick leave or annual leave to make up the difference between the employee's wage-loss benefits and the employee's regular pay. If the period of disability is five consecutive calendar days' duration or longer, benefits must be paid for the period of disability provided that:

1. When disability benefits are discontinued, the bureau may not begin payment again unless the injured employee files a reapplication for disability benefits on a form supplied by the bureau. In case of reapplication, the award may commence no more than thirty days before the date of reapplication. Disability benefits must be reinstated upon proof by the injured employee that:

- a. The employee has sustained a significant change in the compensable medical condition;
 - b. The employee has sustained an actual wage loss caused by the significant change in the compensable medical condition; and
 - c. The employee has not retired or voluntarily withdrawn from the job market as defined in section 65-05-09.3.
2. All payments of disability and rehabilitation benefits must be suspended during the period of confinement in excess of seventy-two consecutive hours of any employee who is eligible for, or receiving, benefits under this title who is confined in a penitentiary, jail, youth correctional facility, or any other penal institution. After discharge from the institution, the bureau shall pay subsequent disability or rehabilitation benefits as the employee otherwise would be entitled under this title.
 3. Any employee who is eligible for, or receiving disability or rehabilitation benefits under this title shall report any wages earned, from part-time or full-time work from any source. If an employee fails to report wages earned, the employee shall refund to the bureau any disability or vocational rehabilitation benefits overpaid by the bureau for that time period. To facilitate recovery of those benefits, the bureau may offset future benefits payable, under section 65-05-29. If the employee willfully fails to report wages earned, the employee is subject to the penalties in section 65-05-33. An employee shall report whether the employee has performed work or received wages. The bureau periodically shall provide a form to all injured employees receiving disability or rehabilitation benefits which the injured employee must complete to retain eligibility for further disability or rehabilitation benefits, regardless of the date of injury or claim filing. The form will advise the injured employee of the possible penalties for failure to report any work or activities as required by this section. An injured employee who is receiving disability or vocational rehabilitation benefits must report any work activities to the bureau whether or not the injured employee receives any wages. An injured employee who is receiving disability or vocational rehabilitation benefits also must report any other activity if the injured employee receives any money, including prize winnings, from undertaking that activity, regardless of expenses or whether there is a net profit.  4. An employee shall request disability benefits on a claim form furnished by the bureau. Disability benefits may not commence more than one year prior to the date of filing of the initial claim for disability benefits.
 5. The provisions of this section apply to any disability claim asserted against the fund on or after July 1, 1991, irrespective of injury date.

6. It is the burden of the employee to show that the inability to obtain employment or to earn as much as the employee earned at the time of injury is due to physical limitation related to the injury, and that any wage loss claimed is the result of the compensable injury.
7. If the employee voluntarily limits income or refuses to accept employment suitable to the employee's capacity, offered to or procured for the employee, the employee is not entitled to any disability or vocational rehabilitation benefits during the limitation of income or refusal to accept employment unless the bureau determines the limitation or refusal is justified.
8. The bureau may not pay disability benefits unless the loss of earning capacity exceeds ten percent. The injured employee may earn up to ten percent of the employee's preinjury average gross weekly earnings with no reduction in total disability benefits. The employee must report any earnings to the bureau for a determination of whether the employee is within the limit set in this subsection.
9. Upon securing suitable employment, the injured employee shall notify the bureau of the name and address of the employer, the date the employment began, and the amount of wages being received. If the injured employee is receiving disability benefits, the injured employee shall notify the bureau whenever there is a change in work status or wages received.
10. The bureau shall pay to an employee receiving disability benefits a dependency allowance for each child of the employee at the rate of ten dollars per week per child. Effective July 1, 1989, this rate must be paid to each eligible employee regardless of the date of injury.
11. Dependency allowance for the children may be made directly to either parent or guardian at the discretion of the bureau.

Availability of this information to employers is subject to the sole discretion of the bureau.
2. Employers or their duly authorized representatives who are required to have access to an injured worker's claim file for the performance of their duties may review and have access to any files of their own injured workers. The bureau may provide assistance as determined appropriate to employers who employ a preferred worker. In addition, employers who apply for and are approved as a preferred worker employer may not be assessed premiums on a preferred worker's salary for three years from the date of hiring. The bureau may not charge claims costs incurred as a result of an injury sustained by a preferred worker against the preferred worker's employer's account during the first three years after the worker is hired. The bureau shall charge those claims costs to the general fund. The bureau may adopt rules to regulate and manage the preferred worker program authorized by this section. An employer may not appeal a bureau decision not to provide assistance to that employer under this section. Money in the workers' compensation fund is appropriated on a continuing basis to provide the assistance authorized under this section.

If the employer is a corporation or a limited liability company, the president, secretary, treasurer, or person with primary responsibility is liable for the failure to secure workers' compensation coverage under this subsection. In addition to the penalties prescribed by this subsection, the bureau may initiate injunction proceedings as provided for in this title to enjoin an employer from unlawfully employing uninsured workers. The cost of an investigation under this subsection which results in a criminal conviction may be charged to the employer's account and collected by civil action.
3. An employer who is uninsured is liable for any premiums plus penalties and interest due on those premiums, plus a penalty of twenty-five percent of all premiums due during the most recent year of noncompliance. An additional five percent penalty is due for each year of noncompliance before the most recent year, not to exceed six years or fifty percent, beginning on the date the bureau became aware of the employer's uninsured status. The bureau may assess additional penalties, from the date the bureau became aware of the employer's uninsured status continuing until the effective date of coverage, equal to twenty-five percent of the premium due for that period. The penalties for employers are in addition to any other penalties provided by law. The bureau may reduce these penalties. However, the amount due from an employer may not be less than the actual cost and reserves of any claim attributable to the employer during the time the employer was uninsured. An employer may not appeal a bureau decision not to reduce a penalty under this subsection.

4. An employer who fails or refuses to furnish to the bureau the annual payroll report and estimate or who fails or refuses to furnish other information required by the bureau under this chapter is subject to a penalty established by the bureau of two thousand dollars. Upon the request of the bureau, the employer shall furnish the bureau any of that employer's payroll records, annual payroll reports, and other information required by the bureau under this chapter and an estimate of payroll for the advance premium year. If the employer fails or refuses to provide the records within thirty days of a written request from the bureau, the employer is subject to a penalty not to exceed one hundred dollars for each day until the bureau receives the records, in addition to the two thousand dollar penalty set forth above. The bureau may reduce penalties for employers under this subsection. However, an employer may not appeal a bureau decision not to reduce a penalty. The bureau shall notify an employer by regular mail of the amount of premium and penalty due the bureau from the employer. If the employer fails to pay that amount within thirty days, the bureau may collect the premium, penalties, and interest due by civil action. In that action, the court may not review or consider the action of the bureau regarding the acceptance or payment of a claim filed when the employer was uninsured. No exemptions except absolute exemptions under section 28-22-02 are allowed against any levy under executions pursuant to a judgment recovered in the action.
5. When an employer defaults in the payment of any premium, any installment of the premium, any penalty or interest, or in the filing of any bond required under this chapter, the employer at the time of default is subject to a penalty not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars plus two percent of the amount of premiums, penalties, and interest in default, and beginning one month after default, a penalty of two percent of the amount of premiums, penalties, and interest in default for each month or fraction of a month the premium, penalty, or interest remains unpaid.

65-08-01. Extraterritorial coverage - When and how furnished.

1. An employee who suffers an injury while working outside this state, on account of which the employee or the employee's dependents would have been entitled to workers' compensation benefits provided by this title had such injury occurred within this state, is entitled to benefits, or that employee's dependents in the event of the employee's death are entitled to benefits if at the time of injury:

- a. The employment is principally localized in this state, as determined by the following:
 - (1) The employer has a place of business in this state;
 - (2) The employee regularly works at or from that place of business;
 - (3) The employment contract is entered in this state; and
 - (4) In the case of an employee leasing company, the company retains control over the employee and does not lease the employee to an out-of-state employer;
 - b. The employee is working under a contract of hire, made in this state in employment not principally localized in any state, if:
 - (1) The employer has a place of business in this state;
 - (2) The employment contract is entered in this state; and
 - (3) In the case of over-the-road trucking, the employer retains control over the driver, dispatches employees from this state, and does not lease the driver to out-of-state employers; but trip leasing does not end coverage;
 - c. The employee is working under a contract of hire made in this state in employment principally localized in another state and that state's workers' compensation law is not applicable to the employer, as provided by a reciprocal agreement;
 - d. The employee is working under a contract of hire made in this state for employment outside the United States and the workers' compensation law of that other jurisdiction is not applicable to the employer; or
 - e. The employee is a resident of another state, and is hired by a North Dakota employer or that employer's authorized agent for temporary employment, the situs of which is located in another state, and the temporary employment is necessary to the principal employment of the North Dakota employer, provided that the other state recognizes the coverage under this title as the sole remedy of the employee against the employer for the injury or death.
2. The payment or award of benefits under the workers' compensation law of another state, territory, province, or foreign nation to an employee or the employee's dependents otherwise entitled on account of the injury or death to workers' compensation benefits of this state bars a claim for benefits under this title.
 3. An employment relationship that is principally localized outside of this state is exempt from this title while the employee is temporarily within this state unless the workers' compensation law of the state in which the employment is principally localized provides that the workers' compensation remedy in this state is the exclusive remedy for the employee or the dependents of an employee who died as the result of an injury in this state.

4. An employer whose employment results in significant contacts with this state shall acquire workers' compensation coverage in this state unless a reciprocal agreement between the states is entered which provides that the other state will likewise recognize that an employment relationship entered into in this state is exempted from the application of the workers' compensation law of the other state. An employment has significant contacts with this state when (a) the employee earns or would have been expected to earn twenty-five percent or more of the employee's gross annual wage or income from that employer from services rendered in this state; or (b) if no employee earns twenty-five percent of the employee's gross annual income from that employment within this state, the employer's gross annual payroll in a calendar year in this state is at least one hundred thousand dollars. Under this subsection, an employee injured in this state may elect to file a claim in this state notwithstanding that the employee had another remedy in the state in which the employment was principally localized. A claim filed under this subsection is subject to section 65-05-05. The time limits within which the bureau shall issue a decision on a claim, as specified in sections 65-01-16 and 65-02-08, do not begin to run for claims filed under this section until the first date the bureau may begin to process the claim as set forth in section 65-05-05.
5. An employer who opens an employer account with the bureau under this section is obligated to report all wages paid in this state, regardless of whether the significant contacts factors set forth in subsection 4 have been met.

1. Any employer subject to this title who is in violation of subsection 1 or 2 of section ~~65-04-14~~ 12 of this Act or declared uninsured pursuant to section 65-04-22 is not protected by the immunity from civil liability granted to employers under this title for injuries to that employer's employees for damages suffered by reason of injuries sustained in the course of employment and to the dependents and legal representatives of an employee whose death results from injuries sustained in the course of employment. The employer is liable for the premiums, reimbursements, penalties, and interest provided for in this title.
2. The bureau shall establish a procedure by which a person may apply to the bureau for a determination of whether that person is an employer required to obtain workers' compensation coverage under this title. A determination under this section that a person is not required to be insured is effective for no more than one year from the date the person is notified of the determination. The bureau retains continuing jurisdiction over determinations made under this section and may reconsider or revoke its decision at any time.

SECTION 15. AMENDMENT. Section 65-09-02 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-09-02. Application for compensation - Common-law defenses not available - Fund subrogated to recovery - Hearing - Time for filing. An employee whose employer is in violation of section ~~65-04-14~~ 12 of this Act, who has been injured in the course of employment, or the employee's dependents or legal representatives in case death has ensued, may file an application with the bureau for an award of compensation under this title and in addition may maintain a civil action against the employer for damages resulting from the injury or death. In the action, the employer may not assert the common-law defenses of:

1. The fellow servant rule.
2. Assumption of risk.
3. Contributory negligence.

The bureau is subrogated to the recovery made in the action against the uninsured employer. The subrogation interest is determined according to section 65-01-09, with the uninsured employer being the person other than the fund with a legal liability to pay damages with respect to the employee's injury or death. An injured employee, or the dependents of an employee who died as a result of a work-related accident, shall file the original claim for compensation within one year after the injury or within two years after the death. The bureau shall notify the claimant and the employer that the matter is being processed under this chapter, and subsequently shall hear and determine the application for compensation as it would for other claims before the bureau. A determination by the bureau that a person is not an employer required to obtain workers' compensation coverage under this title is a defense to any claim that the person failed to obtain coverage for the time period during which the determination is effective.

65-10-01. Appeal from decision of bureau. If the final action of the bureau denies the right of the claimant to participate at all in the fund on the ground that the injury was self-inflicted, or on the ground that the accident did not arise in the course of employment, or upon any other ground going to the basis of the claim, or if the bureau allows the claimant to participate in the fund to a lesser degree than that claimed by the claimant, if such allowance is less than the maximum allowance provided by this title, the claimant may appeal to the district court of the county wherein the injury was inflicted or of the county in which the claimant resides. An employer may also appeal a decision of the bureau in any injury case or a bureau decision issued under chapter 65-04, in the manner prescribed in this section. An appeal involving injuries allegedly covered by insurance provided under contracts with extraterritorial coverage shall be triable in the district court of Burleigh County. Any appeal under this section shall be taken in the manner provided in chapter 28-32. Any appeal to the district court shall be heard on the record, transmitted from the bureau, and, in the discretion of the court, additional evidence may be presented pertaining to the questions of law involved in the appeal.

²⁹¹ SECTION 17. REPEAL. Sections 65-01-05, 65-04-05, 65-04-12, 65-04-14, 65-04-23, 65-09-03, and 65-09-04 of the North Dakota Century Code are repealed.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 65-04-19.3 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-04-19.3. Premium calculation programs - Authority. Upon approval of its board of directors, the bureau may create and implement by emergency rulemaking actuarially sound employer premium calculation programs, including dividends, group insurance, premium deductibles, and reimbursement for medical expense assessments. (At the request of the Workers Compensation Bureau)

PERMANENT IMPAIRMENT AWARDS

AN ACT to amend and reenact section 65-05-12.2 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to workers' compensation permanent impairment awards; and to provide an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05-12.2 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05-12.2. Permanent impairment - Compensation - Time paid. When a compensable injury causes permanent impairment, the bureau shall determine a permanent impairment award on the following terms:

1. If the compensable injury causes permanent impairment and the permanent impairment award payable by the bureau is at least two thousand dollars, the injured employee may defer payment of the permanent impairment award for a period of time not to exceed the date the employee reaches age sixty-five. A permanent impairment award payable by the bureau under this subsection must be paid to the employee in a lump sum that consists of the amount of the award plus any interest that has accrued at the actuarial discount rate in use by the bureau. The actuarial discount rate applied to the award is the average actuarial discount rate in effect for the period of deferment of the employee's award. The bureau shall adopt rules implementing any necessary procedures for award payments made under this subsection.
2. The bureau shall calculate the amount of the award by multiplying thirty-three and one-third percent of the average weekly wage in this state on the date of the impairment evaluation, rounded to the next highest dollar, by the number of weeks specified in subsection 10.
3. The bureau shall notify the employee by certified mail, to the last-known address of the employee, when that employee becomes potentially eligible for a permanent impairment award. After the bureau has notified the employee, the employee shall file, within one hundred eighty days from the date the employee was notified, a written request for an evaluation for permanent impairment. Failure to file the written request within the one hundred eighty-day period precludes an award under this section.
4. An injured employee is entitled to compensation for permanent impairment under this section only for those findings of impairment that are permanent and which were caused by the compensable injury. The bureau may not issue an impairment award for impairment findings due to unrelated, noncompensable, or preexisting conditions, even if these conditions were made symptomatic by the compensable work injury, and regardless of whether section 65-05-15 applies to the claim.

5. An injured employee is eligible for an evaluation of permanent impairment only when all conditions caused by the compensable injury have reached maximum medical improvement. The injured employee's doctor shall report to the bureau the date an employee has reached maximum medical improvement and any evidence of impairment of function the injured employee has after that date. If the report states that the employee is potentially eligible for a permanent impairment award, the bureau shall provide notice to the employee as provided by subsection 3. If the injured employee files a timely written request under subsection 3, the bureau shall schedule an impairment evaluation by a doctor qualified to evaluate the impairment.
6. A doctor evaluating permanent impairment shall include a clinical report in sufficient detail to support the percentage ratings assigned. The bureau shall adopt administrative rules governing the evaluation of permanent impairment. These rules must incorporate principles and practices of the fifth edition of the American medical association's "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" modified to be consistent with North Dakota law, to resolve issues of practice and interpretation, and to address areas not sufficiently covered by the guides. ~~Until Subject to rules adopted under this subsection become effective, impairments must be evaluated under the fourth fifth edition, third printing, of the guides.~~
7. The bureau shall deduct, on a whole body impairment basis, from an award for impairment under this section, any previous impairment award for that same member or body part under the workers' compensation laws of any jurisdiction.
8. An injured employee is not entitled to a permanent impairment award due solely to pain.
9. If an employee dies, the right to any compensation payable pursuant to an impairment evaluation previously requested by the employee under subsection 3, which remains unpaid on the date of the employee's death, survives and passes to the employee's dependent spouse, minor children, parents, or estate, in that order. If the employee dies, only those findings of impairment which are objectively verifiable such as values for surgical procedures and amputations may be considered in a rating for impairment. Impairment findings not supported by objectively verifiable evidence may not be included in a rating for impairment. The deceased employee's dependents or representatives shall request an impairment award under this subsection within one year from the date of death of the employee.
10. If the injury causes permanent impairment, the award must be determined based on the percentage of whole body impairment in accordance with the following schedule:

11. An amputation of a finger or toe at the level of the distal interphalangeal joint or proximal to that joint, or the thumb or the great toe at the interphalangeal joint or proximal to that joint, which is determined to result in a whole body impairment of less than sixteen percent and which is not identified in the following schedule, is payable as a sixteen percent impairment. If an evaluation for the loss of an eye or for an amputation results in an award that is less than the number of weeks identified in the following schedule, the bureau shall pay an award equal to the number of weeks set out in the following schedule:

For amputation of a thumb	65 weeks
For amputation of the second or distal phalanx of the thumb	28 weeks
For amputation of the first finger	40 weeks
For amputation of the middle or second phalanx of the first finger	28 weeks
For amputation of the third or distal phalanx of the first finger	22 weeks
For amputation of the second finger	30 weeks
For amputation of the middle or second phalanx of the second finger	22 weeks
For amputation of the third or distal phalanx of the second finger	14 weeks
For amputation of the third finger	20 weeks
For amputation of the middle or second phalanx of the third finger	16 weeks
For amputation of the fourth finger	16 weeks
For amputation of the middle or second phalanx of the fourth finger	12 weeks

The award for the amputation of more than one finger of one hand may not exceed an award for the amputation of a hand. The award for the amputation of more than one toe of one foot may not exceed an award for the amputation of a foot. If any of the amputations or losses set out in this subsection combine with other impairments for the same work-related injury or condition, the bureau shall issue an impairment award based on the greater of the number of weeks allowed for the combined rating established under the fifth edition of the American medical association's "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" or the number of weeks set forth in this subsection.

12. If there is a medical dispute regarding the percentage of an injured employee's permanent impairment, all relevant medical evidence must be submitted to an independent doctor who has not treated the employee and who has not been consulted by the bureau in relation to the injury upon which the impairment is based. The bureau shall establish lists of doctors who are qualified by ~~their~~ the doctor's training, experience, and area of practice to rate permanent impairments caused by various types of injuries. The bureau shall define, by rule, the process by which the bureau and the injured employee choose an independent doctor or doctors to review a disputed permanent impairment evaluation or rating. The decision of the independent doctor or doctors chosen under this process is presumptive evidence of the degree of permanent impairment of the employee which can only be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence. This subsection does not impose liability on the bureau for an impairment award for a rating of impairment for a body part or condition the bureau has not determined to be compensable as a result of the injury. The employee bears the expense of witness fees of the independent doctor or doctors if the employee disputes the findings of the independent doctor or doctors.
13. An attorney's fees are not payable unless there is a bona fide dispute as to the percentage of the employee's permanent impairment or unless there is a dispute as to the employee's eligibility for an award for permanent partial impairment. An attorney's fees payable in connection with a permanent impairment dispute may not exceed twenty percent of the additional amount awarded upon final resolution of the dispute, subject to the maximum fees established pursuant to section 65-02-08.
14. An attorney may not seek or obtain from an employee through a contingent fee arrangement, or on a percentage basis, costs or fees payable in connection with the award or denial of compensation for permanent impairment. A permanent impairment award is exempt from the claims of creditors, including an employee's attorney, except as provided by section 65-05-29.

SECTION 2. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Act is effective for impairment evaluations performed after July 31, 2001.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION SUPPLEMENTARY BENEFITS

AN ACT to amend and reenact section 65-05.2-02 of the North Dakota Century Code and section 6 of chapter 556 of the 1999 Session Laws, relating to payment of supplementary benefits for certain workers' compensation benefit recipients; and to provide an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

65-05.2-02. Supplementary benefits - Amount.

1. A claimant whose weekly benefit rate is less than sixty percent of the state's average weekly wage, who is eligible for supplementary benefits and who is receiving permanent total disability benefits, or death benefits regardless of the date of death, is entitled to receive a weekly supplementary benefit that, when added to the weekly permanent total disability benefit or death benefit, results in a combined benefit of at least sixty percent of the state's average weekly wage on July first of each year. equals the ratio of that claimant's weekly benefit to the state's average weekly wage on the date of the claimant's first disability, times the state's average weekly wage in effect at the date eligibility for supplementary benefits is achieved. The bureau shall determine on an annual basis, for a claimant who receives a supplementary benefit under this subsection, supplementary benefit increases equal to a percentage of that claimant's combined weekly benefit. That percentage is equal to the annual percentage change in the state's average weekly wage. For purposes of this section, combined weekly benefit means the weekly benefit for which the claimant is eligible before any applicable social security offset plus the amount of weekly supplementary benefits for which the claimant is eligible.
2. A claimant whose weekly benefit rate is greater than or equal to sixty percent of the state's average weekly wage, who is eligible for supplementary benefits and who is receiving permanent total disability benefits, or death benefits regardless of the date of death, is entitled to receive a weekly supplementary benefit equal to a percentage of that claimant's weekly benefit. That percentage is equal to the annual percentage change in the state's average weekly wage. The bureau shall determine on an annual basis, for that claimant, supplementary benefit increases equal to a percentage of that claimant's combined weekly benefit. That percentage is equal to the annual percentage change in the state's average weekly wage.

3. An annual recalculation of supplementary benefits may not result in a rate less than the previous rate. If a claim has been accepted on an aggravation basis under section 65-05-15 and the claimant is eligible for supplementary benefits, the claimant's supplementary benefit must be proportionally calculated.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 6 of chapter 556 of the 1999 Session Laws is amended and reenacted as follows:

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE. Sections 2 and 3 ~~and the reduction in the waiting period in section 4~~ of this Act are effective for all claims for injuries occurring after July 31, 1999. ADMINISTRATIVE RULES COMMITTEE RULE CALL UP

Re: House Bill 1228

Dear Speaker Bernstein:

I am returning HB 1228 and hereby veto the same. The bill would allow the Administrative Rules Committee to void any rule for reasons described in section 28-32-03.3. The Administrative Rules Committee is now limited to voiding any rules prospectively, meaning that it can "call up" only those rules being considered for adoption. Its authority does not extend to existing rules. HB 1228 would expand that authority and allow the Committee to "reach back" and call up any administrative rule regardless of how long it had been in place. My primary concern is the uncertainty that it creates in the business community and amount the taxpayers, who must know the rules under which they make investments and other decisions.

Administrative rules serve a valuable function within government by providing the framework under which many activities are conducted. They represent the Legislature's delegation of its authority to an administrative agency. An administrative rule can only be adopted after careful examination by the agency, approval by the Attorney General as to the rule's lawfulness and a review by the Legislative Council and the Administrative Rules Committee. Only then does a rule become valid.

The State has improved administrative rule making over the past several sessions. We provided the Administrative Rules Committee with limited oversight in 1995, giving the Committee the ability to reject proposed rules. We have required an economic analysis of the regulated community and a takings analysis by the agency. (NDCC 28-32-02.2 and 28-32-02.5) We require the agency to provide the Legislative Council with a copy of the proposed rule (Ch. 286, 1999 S.L.) and require agencies to amend and repeal rules adopted under federal guidelines that are not relevant to North Dakota's regulatory program. (Ch. 289, 1999 S.L.) This session we will require agencies to adopt procedures to allow citizens to request notice when a proposed rule will be reviewed by the Administrative Rules Committee (HB 1027); will require emergency rules to be approved by the Governor in advance (HB 1028); and will require the agency to provide a copy of each written comment and a summary of any oral comment to the Legislative Council as part of the publication of the rule. In short, we are improving the responsiveness of administrative rules. But, I believe we run the risk of going too far with HB 1228.

If there is a need to adjust existing administrative rules, there are a number of ways to do so. For example:

- The agency may review the rule itself.
- A taxpayer has the right to petition the agency for review of the existing rule, which is expressly provided by statute.
- If the taxpayer is dissatisfied with the agency response he can seek assistance from the executive branch or a legislator.
- The courts provide a remedy as well.
- And ultimately, the Legislature as a whole can review and modify any rule it chooses through the passage of a bill.

Finally, I am concerned about the direction we may be taking by expanding the Committee's authority in contravention of the authority of the entire Legislature. HB 1228 contemplates giving the Committee the authority to make law by striking down administrative rules, a direction that runs contrary to constitutional limits. This constitutional problem of delegating authority to a committee has been noted in the bill's own language that contemplates effective dates based upon a finding of unconstitutionality and by Justice Dale Sandstrom in the case of Ecklund v. Ecklund 538, N.W.2d. 182 (N.D. 1995).

I believe we are on the right track regarding administrative rules. I do not want to inject uncertainty into the private sector that needs confidence in the rules upon which it makes decisions. HB 1228 encroaches upon that certainty and the State's ability to provide a friendly arena in which to do business. For these reasons I must return HB 1228 and respectfully veto the same.

Sincerely,

John Hoeven
Governor

RE: Senate Bill 2012

Dear President Dalrymple:

Attached please find Senate Bill 2012, section 7 of which I hereby veto. Section 7 of the bill increases the speed limit upon the interstate highways of North Dakota to 75 miles per hour. This is a policy I cannot endorse because we do not have adequate enforcement mechanisms in place to accommodate this increase in speed limits.

Specifically, Senate Bill 2088 makes adjustments to the fees and points assessed for speeding, but does not adequately address higher speed limits upon the interstates. In short, we would be left with a higher speed limit, without adequately addressing penalties for exceeding those new limits.

For these reasons, I respectfully veto section 7 of the bill and return it to the Senate.

Dear Speaker Bernstein:

Pursuant to Article V, Section 9 of the North Dakota Constitution, I have vetoed Section 21 of House Bill 1012 and respectfully return it to the House.

Section 21 would require the Office of the Budget to submit a Department of Human Services appropriation bill for the 2003-05 biennium with the same funding line items and employee levels as authorized by the legislature for the 2001-03 biennium.

I object to this item in HB 1012 because it intrudes upon functions of the executive branch and violates the separation of governmental powers established by the North Dakota Constitution. Furthermore, it is inconsistent with existing statutory law and, finally, would be impractical in its application.

The North Dakota Supreme Court instructs us that the creation, within our constitution, of legislative, executive and judicial branches of government serves to apportion governmental powers. There is an implied exclusion of each branch from the functions of the others. City of Carrington v. Foster County, 166 N.W.2d. 377 (ND 1969).

The function of the executive branches to manage the affairs of the state and that includes the careful budgeting of resources appropriated by the Legislature. This budgeting process necessarily involves making recommendations to the Legislature that contain the executive branch's assessment of the amount and preferred allocation of resources needed to fulfill legislative policies. Section 54.44.1-06, NDCC, codifies these principles.

Section 21 of HB 1012 requires the executive branch to submit an appropriation bill that does not allow for the proper assessment of the needs of the Department of Human Services for the ensuing biennium. In doing this, it interferes with an important executive function.

Furthermore, I believe it is inconsistent with the longstanding procedure for submission of appropriation bills set forth by the Legislature in 54-44.1-06, NDCC. That procedure authorizes the executive branch to use its experience and expertise in submitting a meaningful budget recommendation to the Legislature for its consideration. This process has served North Dakota well for at least the last 18 legislative sessions, and there is no persuasive reason cited in the legislative history of HB 1012 to depart from it.

Finally, Section 21 promises to be impractical in its application. It does not accommodate the changes that occur in an agency as priorities shift and programs change over the course of a biennium.

For these reasons, I have vetoed section 21 of House Bill 1012.

The Honorable LeRoy Bernstein
Speaker of the House

Dear Speaker Bernstein:

I have signed House Bill 1015, but respectfully veto section 20 of the bill, pursuant to Article V, Section 9 of the North Dakota Constitution.

Section 20 provides that the Legislature intends that appropriations measures for all agencies with less than 30 FTEs not include funding for deputy positions, and directs the Governor to submit legislation to eliminate the authority to appoint deputies in those agencies.

I cannot support the direction and effect of this legislation for several reasons.

First, it removes the flexibility of administrators to hire staff who serve in unclassified positions in an agency. Eliminating the funding will not necessarily reduce costs, but is likely to have the unintended effect of requiring an administrator to use classified staff, who were hired by previous management and may not share his or her management philosophy.

Second, deputies serve important functions in state government, are relied upon by administrators and elected officials, and often serve in their absence. Eliminating the deputy may impede the orderly and efficient operation of state government.

Third, the section impinges upon the Governor's ability to fashion a budget as directed by North Dakota law. The executive budget recommendation is based upon a careful examination of an agency's needs and funding requests. Section 20 dismisses that process and applies a universal rule without considering the needs and responsibilities of each agency, and approach that will not produce the desired effect.

Finally, I have strong concerns about the Legislature requiring the Governor to introduce legislation, a requirement I believe contravenes the separation of powers doctrine. The bill directs the executive branch to dutifully introduce legislation to meet a legislative objective, with which the Governor may not agree. The Legislature is free to introduce legislation to advance its own objectives without directing the executive branch to do so.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Section 20 of House Bill 1015.

INTERNET TAX FREEDOM ACT EXTENSION OPPOSITION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to reject any attempt to extend the Internet Tax Freedom Act moratorium on imposition of state and local taxes on internet access and on electronic commerce transactions.

WHEREAS, in 1998 the 105th Congress passed and the President signed into law the Internet Tax Freedom Act, establishing a three-year moratorium on the imposition of any state and local tax on internet access, and on electronic commerce transactions, with the exception of existing laws in twelve states that were "grandfathered" into compliance by the Act; and

WHEREAS, the current moratorium expires October 21, 2001; and

WHEREAS, no state attempted or even announced any desire to tax internet access, or apply multiple or discriminatory taxes to the internet during the moratorium; and

WHEREAS, two of the original grandfathered states have by legislative action removed taxes on internet access; and

WHEREAS, several bills and amendments have been introduced in the 106th Congress to either make the moratorium on state and local taxes permanent or extend it for another two to ninety-nine years; and

WHEREAS, extending or making permanent the moratorium will pose grave financial risks for state and local governments as well as telecommunications industry providers; and

WHEREAS, with the increasing convergence of technologies and mergers of industry giants, the present definition of internet access may become inadequate to define exactly which communications technologies will fall into the category of internet access as soon as next year; and

WHEREAS, with the mergers of internet service providers and cable television and telephone companies, internet access may soon mean a consumer's monthly access to the internet includes telephone service and cable television, all of which the provider could bundle for one fee under the banner of internet access; and

WHEREAS, in such situations, state and local governments could see major reductions in revenues as existing state and local taxes on telecommunications services and cable television could fall under the moratorium and therefore be preempted by federal law; and

WHEREAS, the states' inability to collect these taxes will create an unfair competitive advantage for internet service providers at the expense of traditional telecommunications service providers and cable operators;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly joins the National Conference of State Legislatures in urging Congress to reject any attempt to extend the Internet Tax Freedom Act moratorium on imposition of state and local taxes on internet access and on electronic commerce transactions and to oppose any federal action to preempt the sovereign and constitutional right of the states to determine their own tax policies in all areas, including telecommunications and electronic commerce; and

A concurrent resolution urging the United States Army Corps of Engineers to promote private access to, private ownership of, and private development on lands it owns and manages around Lake Sakakawea, including the return of lakeshore lands that are contiguous to current tribal-owned land to the Three Affiliated Tribes and development and implementation of a water level policy that establishes and assures that Lake Sakakawea will have a stable water level.

WHEREAS, the Pick-Sloan Project, as authorized by the Flood Control Act of 1944, as amended, provides major flood control benefits, recreational benefits, water supply benefits, hydropower benefits, and navigational benefits for the downstream states of Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, and Kansas through construction of large reservoirs in states lying upstream from these states; and

WHEREAS, the Pick-Sloan Project reservoirs have been in place for many years, thus providing the states downstream from the Missouri River Basin all the benefits promised in the Pick-Sloan Project; and

WHEREAS, construction of facilities under the Pick-Sloan Project has, to date, resulted in over $16.7 billion of flood protection to downstream interests and has allowed these downstream interests to develop the original floodplain of the Missouri River for industrial, municipal, and agricultural uses; and

WHEREAS, under the Pick-Sloan Project, North Dakota sacrificed over 550,000 acres of land which has meant the permanent loss of 2,641 jobs, $45 million of annual personal income, and $131 million of annual gross business volume; and

WHEREAS, most of the land surrounding Lake Sakakawea, which was created by Garrison Dam, is owned by the federal government and managed by the United States Army Corps of Engineers; and

WHEREAS, promoting private access and private development of this land would enhance this resource for the citizens of North Dakota;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly urges the United States Army Corps of Engineers to promote private access to, private ownership of, and private development on lands it owns and manages around Lake Sakakawea, including the return of lakeshore lands that are contiguous to current tribal-owned land to the Three Affiliated Tribes and development and implementation of a water level policy that establishes and assures that Lake Sakakawea will have a stable water level;

DAKOTA WATER RESOURCES ACT FUNDING URGED

A concurrent resolution expressing appreciation for passage of the Dakota Water Resources Act and urging Congress to fully fund the federal share of the water projects in that Act.

WHEREAS, North Dakota and its Indian tribes lost more than 500,000 acres of valuable river bottom lands as a result of construction of the Missouri River reservoirs under the federal Flood Control Act of 1944, causing an annual loss of millions of dollars in economic activity as well as other serious impacts to individuals, political subdivisions, and the state's Indian Nations; and

WHEREAS, operation of the Pick-Sloan Missouri River dams has caused extensive damage and erosion to the remaining riverbanks and sediment buildup in areas of the upper reaches of the Oahe and Garrison reservoirs; and

WHEREAS, North Dakota was assured by Congress in the federal Flood Control Act of 1944 that the loss of this valuable land and economic return would be offset by completion of the Garrison Diversion Unit; and

WHEREAS, project beneficiaries have not realized the promise of the Garrison Diversion Unit; and

WHEREAS, construction of the Garrison Diversion Unit has been delayed numerous times with construction costs increasing and the remaining benefits deferred with each delay; and

WHEREAS, primary sources of water for many communities across North Dakota, including on its Indian reservations, are unsafe and of poor quality and a safe, reliable supply of water is necessary to preserve and improve the quality of life in rural North Dakota, and projects such as the Southwest Water Pipeline Project, the Northwest Area Water Supply Project, and other systems now being developed are needed to meet water supply needs; and

WHEREAS, failure to provide long-term water supply and management across North Dakota will jeopardize future economic opportunities dependent on water, including industry, agricultural processing, manufacturing, municipal growth, recreation, and fish and wildlife, and that failure will adversely affect the entire state; and

WHEREAS, the Red River Basin needs a dependable supply of water for the cities of Fargo and Grand Forks, smaller communities, rural water systems, industry, agricultural processing, manufacturing, and other purposes, and to protect and enhance the economic stability and quality of life for the growing population of the Red River Basin; and

WHEREAS, the Dakota Water Resources Act proposes an objective analysis of the best ways to meet those needs and authorizes federal funding to implement the solution; and

WHEREAS, the Dakota Water Resources Act provides immediate funding authority for the Native American and rural areas of the state through the existing municipal, rural, and industrial grant program; and

WHEREAS, under the Dakota Water Resources Act, the state of North Dakota will be required to provide cost share or repayment and operation and maintenance expenses for delivery of water to the Red River Valley;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly expresses appreciation for passage of the Dakota Water Resources Act and urges the Congress of the United States to fully fund the federal share of the water projects in that Act; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State forward copies of this resolution to the Governor, the Secretary of the Interior, the chairman of the Three Affiliated Tribes, the chairman of the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe, and each member of the North Dakota Congressional Delegation.

ELK RETENTION STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the use of incentive programs in North Dakota as a way of keeping elk in the state and providing increased opportunities for landowners, hunters, and the general public.

WHEREAS, on at least two separate occasions within the last ten years, "surplus" elk have been exported from the state of North Dakota; and

WHEREAS, under current elk management regulations, the vast majority of the people of North Dakota have only a once-in-a-lifetime chance of getting a permit to hunt elk within the state; and

WHEREAS, the strong demand for elk permits was clearly evident in the year 2000 when there were 11,951 applications received by the Game and Fish Department and only 204 permits made available; and

WHEREAS, exportation of elk from the state denies our residents the future opportunity to hunt, observe, and otherwise benefit from these majestic animals; and

WHEREAS, the elk population of the South Unit of Theodore Roosevelt National Park periodically exceeds acceptable carrying capacity based upon National Park Service guidelines, thus forcing a determination of where to translocate "surplus" animals; and

WHEREAS, there are tens of thousands of acres of public land in North Dakota with suitable habitat to which "surplus" elk could be translocated; and

WHEREAS, there exists a memorandum of understanding between the National Park Service, the Game and Fish Department, and other agencies that gives the Game and Fish Department the first option to accept management of said "surplus" elk; and

WHEREAS, there are a number of states that have designed and implemented custom-tailored programs with incentives to facilitate acceptable solutions to wildlife management issues such as the "surplus" elk issue in North Dakota; and

WHEREAS, the people of North Dakota strongly value their hunting heritage, as evidenced by an overwhelming 80 percent approval of the recent amendment to the Constitution of North Dakota related to that heritage;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study the use of incentive programs implemented in other states that would allow the retention of "surplus" elk and also benefit other wildlife species, incentive programs to enhance landowner tolerance of wildlife and to provide economic benefit opportunities to landowners while increasing access to private land for public hunting, effectiveness of incentive programs to foster a spirit of cooperation between landowners, sportsmen, and regulatory agencies in collaborative wildlife management efforts, and disease concerns associated with the translocation of free ranging wildlife; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Legislative Council report its findings and recommendations, together with any legislation required to implement the recommendations, to the Fifty-eighth Legislative Assembly.

AGRICULTURAL EASEMENTS STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the use of easements to protect agricultural and other lands in North Dakota.

WHEREAS, North Dakota is among the nation's most rural and agricultural states with a proud heritage of being part of the "Breadbasket of the nation and the entire world"; and

WHEREAS, more than 88 percent of the state's lands are in private ownership and the state's agrarian history places a high value on the rights of private property owners to make their own decisions concerning their property; and

WHEREAS, farmland and rangeland provide the basis for our state's agriculture and a wide array of cereal grains, vegetables, domestic animals, wildlife, other commodities, recreational experiences, and opportunities; and

WHEREAS, these farmlands and rangelands are limited and there are increasing pressures on the state's privately owned land for commercial use, recreational use, urban expansion, including subdivision and business development, conservation, recreational home development, and other purposes; and

WHEREAS, these growing nonagricultural uses in some areas of the state are increasing land values beyond what a new generation of farmers and ranchers can afford; and

WHEREAS, agricultural uses and recreational values of land around the state's major cities and in unique areas such as the Badlands, the Missouri River corridor, and the Sheyenne River Valley are potentially threatened by development pressures; and

WHEREAS, interpretation of certain types of easements have resulted in the loss of management authority for landowners; and

WHEREAS, there is a concern that perpetual easements will handicap future generations in their management decisions; and

WHEREAS, in 1982, the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws developed a uniform act that authorizes the use of easements to deal with the issues of protecting agricultural, recreational, cultural, scenic, and other values of land, and nearly all of the fifty states, except North Dakota, have enacted some form of this proposed legislation; and

WHEREAS, easements have offered a number of states a new system for dealing with managing serious flood and water management issues such as those that exist in the Red River Valley of eastern North Dakota;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study the use of easements to protect agricultural and other lands, the effectiveness of easements in assisting landowners in their decisionmaking related to the future of their property, and the experience of other state, regional, and national efforts to protect agricultural and other lands including cropland, rangeland, forested lands, wetlands, riparian land, and cultural and scenic areas; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Legislative Council report its findings and recommendations, together with any legislation required to implement the recommendations, to the Fifty-eighth Legislative Assembly.

CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES EDUCATION FUNDING INCREASE URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to raise the level of federal funding for the education of children with disabilities.

WHEREAS, Congress has enacted legislation to ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education, to protect the rights of children with disabilities and their parents or guardians, to assist states and localities in providing for the education of all children with disabilities, and to assess and ensure the effectiveness of efforts to educate children with disabilities; and

WHEREAS, although Congress has declared that state and local education agencies have a responsibility to provide education for all children with disabilities, state and local financial resources are inadequate to meet the special education needs of children with disabilities; and

WHEREAS, on November 19, 1975, Congress enacted the Education For All Handicapped Children Act, which, after being amended in 1991, is known as the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act; and

WHEREAS, Congress included a graduated formula for determining state entitlement and provided that for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1982, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the federal funding level was to be set at 40 percent of the average per student expenditure in public elementary and secondary schools in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the most recent level of federal funding received by this state for the education of children with disabilities is one-third of the 40 percent target level set by Congress; and

WHEREAS, the Legislative Assembly of North Dakota supports the goal of providing full educational opportunity to all children with disabilities and recognizes that in meeting this goal, many school districts in the state incur financial hardships; and

WHEREAS, budget surpluses in recent years could be used to raise the level of federal funding for special education;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to raise the level of federal funding for the education of children with disabilities; and

WHEREAS, wind power is a renewable and nonpolluting source of energy; and

WHEREAS, several studies have concluded that North Dakota has the greatest potential for wind energy development in the United States; and

WHEREAS, wind energy projects could provide North Dakota agricultural producers with an additional source of income from wind generation without interfering with their agricultural operations; and

WHEREAS, wind energy projects may increase general economic activity in the state including construction of wind energy projects, landowner income, creation of long-term jobs from constructing and servicing wind generation facilities and the manufacturing of wind turbine components; and

WHEREAS, the use of public lands should be studied to determine whether these lands may be used for wind energy projects; and

WHEREAS, transmission constraints may exist that would hinder the export of electricity generated from wind turbines located in North Dakota;

WHEREAS, a variety of international trade policies have inequitable impacts on citizens of North Dakota, including the North American Free Trade Agreement, the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, and Environmental Protection Agency rules; and

WHEREAS, the breadth of the areas impacted by international trade policies is immense and includes access to prescription drugs, availability and use of agricultural chemicals, access to medical and dental services, agricultural commodity markets, and availability of construction materials; and

WHEREAS, correction of these inequities of international trade policies need not harm the citizens of our neighboring countries; and

WHEREAS, although the problems related to inequitable international trade policies are felt by citizens across the nation, these problems are more acutely felt by citizens of border states such as North Dakota;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

EQUALIZATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to increase Medicare reimbursement for health care providers, to use an appropriate amount of the federal budget surplus to equalize Medicare rates within North Dakota and within the nation, and to delay implementation of the proposed Medicare ambulance reimbursement fee schedule.

WHEREAS, North Dakota's Medicare recipients are entitled to the same health care services as other senior citizens in the United States; and

WHEREAS, Medicare has historically reimbursed rural health care providers at a considerably lower rate than urban health care providers; and

WHEREAS, there is great disparity of reimbursement among North Dakota providers; and

WHEREAS, home health care is an integral service in North Dakota which allows individuals to be expediently discharged from acute care facilities, thereby allowing individuals to be cared for at home and to avoid nursing homes; and

WHEREAS, Congress is proposing implementation of a Medicare ambulance reimbursement fee schedule that will negatively affect ambulance services across the state; and

WHEREAS, there is a need for access to emergency care and primary care in rural North Dakota which is jeopardized by inadequate Medicare reimbursement;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

AMENDMENT URGED

A concurrent resolution making application to Congress to submit to the states an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to prohibit the United States Supreme Court and any federal court from ordering a state or political subdivision to levy or increase taxes.

WHEREAS, the Constitution of the United States reserves to the states a broad range of powers and the power of the federal government is strictly limited with regard to powers reserved to the states; and

WHEREAS, under the Constitution of the United States, the states are given full authority over state and local government tax policy; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of the judiciary to interpret the law, not to create law; and

WHEREAS, our present federal government has strayed from the intent of our founding fathers and the Constitution of the United States through inappropriate federal mandates; and

WHEREAS, federal district courts, with the acquiescence of the United States Supreme Court, continue to order states to levy or increase taxes to comply with federal mandates; and

WHEREAS, these court actions violate the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, the time has come for the people of this great nation and their duly elected representatives in state government to reaffirm, in no uncertain terms, that the authority to tax under the Constitution of the United States is retained by the people who, by their consent alone, do delegate such power to tax explicitly to those duly elected representatives in the legislative branch of government whom they choose, such representatives being directly responsible and accountable to those who have elected them;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

1. That the United States Congress prepare and submit to the several states an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to add a new article providing as follows:

"Neither the Supreme Court nor any inferior court of the United States shall have the power to instruct or order a state or political

2. That this application constitutes a continuing application in accordance with Article V of the Constitution of the United States.
3. 4. INDUSTRIAL HEMP PRODUCTION AUTHORIZATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to acknowledge the difference between marijuana and industrial hemp; to acknowledge that allowing and encouraging farmers to produce industrial hemp will improve the balance of trade by promoting domestic sources of industrial hemp; and to assist United States producers by clearly authorizing the commercial production of industrial hemp and by being the leading advocate for the industrial hemp industry.

WHEREAS, industrial hemp refers to varieties of the cannabis plant which have a low content of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) and which are cultivated for fiber and oil; and

WHEREAS, industrial hemp should not be confused with varieties of cannabis which have a high content of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) and which are commonly referred to as marijuana; and

WHEREAS, the commercial production and cultivation of industrial hemp is now permitted in Canada, under licenses and authorizations issued by Health Canada; and

WHEREAS, Health Canada controls, through rules, all activities relating to the importation, exportation, possession, production, sale, provision, transport, sending, delivering, and offering for sale of industrial hemp; and

WHEREAS, industrial hemp is grown legally throughout Europe and Asia; and

WHEREAS, many farmers facing uncertain times in the agricultural marketplace view the reintroduction of industrial hemp as another potential alternative crop that will have long-term economic benefits to the farmers who produce the hemp and the persons who utilize hemp in the production of textiles, paper products, concrete reinforcement, automobile parts, plastics, cosmetics, organic foods, and natural body products; and

WHEREAS, Congress never originally intended to prohibit the production of industrial hemp when restricting the production, possession, and use of marijuana;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

WHEREAS, employees who are injured and dependents of employees who are killed in the course of working for North Dakota employers receive workers' compensation benefits; and

WHEREAS, more than 700 employees or dependents who receive workers' compensation benefits also qualify for Social Security disability insurance benefits if the employees are totally disabled and supplemental security insurance benefits based on financial need; and

WHEREAS, federal law [42 U.S.C. 424a] provides for a reduction in Social Security disability insurance benefits to those persons who are totally disabled and who receive workers' compensation benefits; and

WHEREAS, federal law [42 U.S.C. 1382a] provides for a reduction in supplemental security insurance benefits to those persons who receive workers' compensation benefits notwithstanding the financial need of those people and their families; and

WHEREAS, an employee injured on the job may receive a permanent partial impairment benefit from the North Dakota Workers Compensation Bureau based on the injured worker's loss of use of a body part due to the work injury; and

WHEREAS, unlike other states, a permanent partial impairment award in North Dakota is not based on wages lost or on the worker's ability to do his or her job; and

WHEREAS, the Social Security Administration also offsets North Dakota workers' compensation permanent partial impairment awards against social security disability payments even though the permanent partial impairment awards are not disability benefits; and

WHEREAS, the offset of permanent partial impairment awards results in a substantial loss of benefits to the injured worker;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

WHEREAS, the top four firms in steer and heifer slaughter control over 80 percent of the market;

WHEREAS, this market share evidences more than double the concentration of economic power these entities had just 15 years ago;

WHEREAS, when four packing firms have such a large share of the market, their individual procurement decisions and practices affect the prices paid to producers;

PUBLIC CHARITY PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTION STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the property tax exemption for institutions of public charity providing a combination of health and housing services.

WHEREAS, institutions of public charity provide invaluable services to residents of this state; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution of North Dakota provides that property used exclusively for charitable purposes is exempt from taxation; and

WHEREAS, although numerous statutes provide property tax exemptions for property of institutions of public charity, the amount of property owned by charities and the nature and activities of charities have changed substantially since many of these statutes were enacted; and

WHEREAS, there is uncertainty regarding the appropriate interpretation of the statutory term "institutions of public charity" and whether charities should be subject to full or partial assessment of property taxes for the value of certain services provided for their benefit; and

WHEREAS, uniformity may be lacking in application of the property tax exemption for institutions of public charity providing a combination of health and housing services;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

BLOCK GRANT HEARINGS

A concurrent resolution authorizing the Budget Section of the Legislative Council to hold the required legislative hearings on state plans for the receipt and expenditure of new or revised block grants passed by Congress.

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States enacted the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981, creating the community services block grant program; and

WHEREAS, the Legislative Assembly is required to conduct public hearings; and

WHEREAS, the Appropriations Committees have met the public hearing requirement for community services block grant moneys expected for the next biennium by the Office of Management and Budget; and

WHEREAS, the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly cannot hold public hearings on revisions to current block grants or additional block grants that may be approved by Congress after the recess or adjournment of the Legislative Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the Legislative Assembly will not meet in regular session during 2002 and thus its public hearing responsibility for grants not approved by the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly must be delegated to a legislative entity;

CAPITAL GAINS AND ESTATE TAX ELIMINATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to reduce or eliminate the impediment of capital gains and estate taxes on passage of property to succeeding generations.

WHEREAS, accumulation of value in property is the result of individuals' decisions to devote their lifetimes of hard work and sacrifice in the hope that stewardship of the property can be passed to the next generation; and

WHEREAS, the family farm tradition is threatened by many potentially catastrophic events, among the cruelest of which is that passage of the family farm legacy from one generation to another may be prohibited by imposition of capital gains or estate taxes; and

WHEREAS, the reality of family farming is that capital gains and estate taxes often require liquidation of family farm property and put families out of the farming business; and

WHEREAS, the loss of family farms in the United States has reached levels that should be distressing to Congress as these losses may be irreplaceable; and

WHEREAS, Congress has recognized the erosion of the family farming tradition caused by capital gains and estate taxes and attempted to provide relief in 1999 legislation that was vetoed for other reasons;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to reduce or eliminate the impediment of capital gains and estate taxes on passage of property to succeeding generations; and

FARM RETIREMENT INVESTMENT WITHDRAWAL ALLOWANCE URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to provide a greater opportunity for farmers to participate in retirement investments by allowing withdrawals without penalty when necessary to support family farming operations.

WHEREAS, Congress has recognized the public interest in encouraging private retirement savings and has provided income tax incentives for several types of retirement investments; and

WHEREAS, individual retirement accounts and similar retirement investments are not feasible for farmers due to early withdrawal penalties, which farmers recognize as a risk because of the likelihood that savings may have to be drawn upon to support the family farming operations in lean years; and

WHEREAS, to a much greater extent than is true for other occupations and professions, income of farmers is subject to influences beyond the control of the participants, and this lack of control over financial outcomes merits special consideration in the establishment of policies regarding retirement saving; and

WHEREAS, permitting farmers to withdraw funds from individual retirement accounts without penalty for legitimate needs of family farming operations would help to stabilize the economies of rural communities;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to provide a greater opportunity for farmers to participate in retirement investments by allowing withdrawals without penalty when necessary to support family farming operations; and

CAPITAL GAIN ON INFLATED FARM PROPERTY ELIMINATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to reduce or eliminate capital gains taxes on inflationary valuation increases of farm and ranch property.

WHEREAS, although the objective of the capital gains tax is to tax income from investments, for many Americans the tax can be one hundred percent or more of any real increase in value of property because capital gains are not discounted for inflation; and

WHEREAS, Congress has already recognized the unfairness of taxing inflationary increases as income by providing for indexing of income tax rate brackets, standard deductions, personal exemptions, and the earned income credit; and

WHEREAS, the unfairness of taxing inflationary valuation increases can be devastating to owners of property held for a long period of time, such as family farm and ranch property, for which a valuation increase may be almost entirely attributable to inflation, with little or no real gain in value relative to the rest of the American economy; and

WHEREAS, imposition of capital gains taxes on inflationary valuation increases for farm and ranch property serves as an impediment to retirement for farmers and ranchers, further inflates the value of farm and ranch property, and makes acquisition of property much more difficult for the next generation of farmers and ranchers;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to reduce or eliminate capital gains taxes on inflationary valuation increases of farm and ranch property; and

FARRM ACCOUNT LEGISLATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to enact legislation to allow farm and ranch risk management (FARRM) accounts and to consider limiting the size of the accounts rather than the time funds may be held in the accounts.

WHEREAS, FARRM accounts would allow farmers and ranchers to set aside income in tax-deferred accounts to be drawn upon as taxable income when needed in years of lower income; and

WHEREAS, FARRM accounts would provide a financial management tool for farmers and ranchers to encourage saving, reduce financial risks, stabilize farm income levels in years of bad weather or low commodity prices, and equalize income tax receipts of government from agricultural producers; and

WHEREAS, Congress is considering FARRM accounts legislation with a five-year limit of time funds could be held and it may be more appropriate to limit the amount in these accounts, rather than the time funds may be held, so these accounts could be used for retirement planning and other longer-range benefits;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to enact legislation to allow farm and ranch risk management (FARRM) accounts and to consider limiting the size of the accounts rather than the time funds may be held in the accounts; and

WHEREAS, the oil and gas industry in North Dakota has explored on and drilled in the national grasslands for the past 50 years and restored over 500 wells, and 480 miles of roads representing more than 5,500 acres have been returned to vegetation after the oil and gas resources were depleted, enabling the state to benefit from a valuable natural resource; and

WHEREAS, the prices for many commodities grown by farmers in this state have for several years been at historically low levels; and

WHEREAS, the prices received by farmers for their commodities are often lower than the actual cost of production; and

WHEREAS, emergency government assistance payments to farmers in this state have over the last three years exceeded $1 billion; and

WHEREAS, in 1996, government subsidies accounted for 13 percent of total farm income; and

WHEREAS, in 1999, government subsidies accounted for 42 percent of total farm income; and

WHEREAS, statistics released by the Food and Agricultural Policy Research Institute at the University of Missouri indicate that if the current agricultural policy is not changed, net farm income will by the year 2009 fall to $37 billion, which is $17 billion less than the 1996 level; and

WHEREAS, the European Union assists its farmers through high-support prices and generous direct payments, which result in prosperous rural areas and a vibrant agricultural economy; and

WHEREAS, Medicaid drug expenditures for the 1997-99 biennium totaled $47.1 million, of which $12.3 million were from the general fund; for the 1999-2001 biennium, the department of human services budgeted $50.4 million, of which $15 million are state funds; and the latest estimates indicate that the department of human services will expend $63.5 million, of which $18.9 million are state funds while the department of human services is anticipating expenditures in the next biennium to exceed $80 million; and

WHEREAS, escalating prescription drug prices is an especially important issue to seniors because studies indicate the cost of the top 50 drugs used by elderly citizens in this country has been increasing at a rate that has outpaced inflation nearly two to one; and

WHEREAS, escalating prescription drug prices is an especially important issue to rural residents because rural residents typically have lower incomes, limited access to pharmacies, and pay more for prescription drugs than their urban counterparts; and

WHEREAS, former Justice of the United States Supreme Court Warren E. Burger, former Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court Arthur J. AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION CONTRACTS STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the benefits and risks associated with the use of contracts in agricultural production, including growing and sales provisions, labor arrangements, chemical usage, and provisions necessitated by emerging technologies.

WHEREAS, modern agriculture is being shaped by many of the same technologies that are transforming other industries; and

WHEREAS, global competition and new technologies are forging new relationships within and between different layers of agribusiness and transforming what was once a very simple process into a very complex legal undertaking;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study the benefits and risks associated with the use of contracts in agricultural production, including growing and sales provisions, labor arrangements, chemical usage, and provisions necessitated by emerging technologies; and

NONCRIMINAL TRAFFIC VIOLATION ADMINISTRATION STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the feasibility and desirability of a centralized process for administrating noncriminal traffic violations.

WHEREAS, noncriminal traffic citations are processed in the 53 counties of this state before traffic violation information is transmitted to the Department of Transportation; and

WHEREAS, current methods of processing noncriminal traffic citations result in redundancies in data entry, delay in transmitting traffic violation information, and substantial investments of time and personnel by county and city employees; and

WHEREAS, central processing of noncriminal traffic citations through the Department of Transportation would provide a single processing point, a central location for submission of citation payments by traffic offenders, and a central point of reporting for state and local law enforcement;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study the feasibility and desirability of a centralized process for administrating noncriminal traffic violations; and

CARBON SEQUESTRATION PROGRAMS STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the feasibility and desirability of promoting carbon sequestration programs in this state.

WHEREAS, carbon dioxide emissions from manmade activities account for approximately four percent of total carbon dioxide emissions worldwide; and

WHEREAS, while the scientific community continues to debate the causation and extent of global warming from increased carbon dioxide emissions, it is prudent to take actions that reduce carbon dioxide emissions under voluntary, no-regrets policies; and

WHEREAS, many plants absorb carbon dioxide and deposit, sequester, or sink carbon into the soil, thus removing it from the atmosphere; and

WHEREAS, carbon dioxide producing industries may be willing to pay farmers and ranchers to plant crops and use land-management practices that will sequester carbon on their land; and

WHEREAS, recently 400 farmers in Iowa were paid $8 million for storing carbon; and

WHEREAS, it has been estimated that South Dakota farmers could receive $20 to $30 an acre for cultivated land and three to five dollars an acre for rangeland for capturing or sequestering carbon on their land; and

WHEREAS, carbon sequestration may provide a much-needed source of additional income for this state's farmers and ranchers;

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has enacted the Missouri River Protection and Improvement Act of 2000 to reduce siltation of the Missouri River in the state of North Dakota, to meet the objectives of the Pick-Sloan Project by developing and implementing a long-term strategy concerning critical Missouri River issues, and to develop and finance new programs to implement a long-term strategy for the Missouri River; and

WHEREAS, the Order of the Purple Heart is a combat decoration awarded to members of the armed forces of the United States without regard to rank and issued without recommendation but upon specific criteria including being wounded or killed in hostile circumstances; and

DURUM CROP REVENUE COVERAGE CONTINUATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to direct the Secretary of Agriculture and the federal Risk Management Agency to establish a pricing policy so crop revenue coverage for durum can be continued.

WHEREAS, crop revenue coverage historically has provided coverage for both low prices and low yields; and

WHEREAS, crop revenue coverage had initially included an adjustment to reflect the higher price that durum usually commands over spring wheat; and

WHEREAS, North Dakota farmers typically produce more than two-thirds of the nation's durum; and

WHEREAS, in 1999 North Dakota farmers successfully sued the federal government when crop insurance terms were altered after the farmers had purchased policies; and

WHEREAS, the lawsuit settlement amounted to over $40 million, or approximately $5,000 for each of 8,000 farmers; and

WHEREAS, a key component of providing crop revenue coverage is the establishment of a base price, or the lowest price that a farmer would be guaranteed for a crop; and

WHEREAS, disagreement exists regarding the time period used to set the base price; and

WHEREAS, the federal Risk Management Agency on March 5, 2001, notified insurance companies that it would not offer crop revenue coverage for durum this year; and

WHEREAS, the federal Risk Management Agency stated that it had to withdraw the policies because durum trades on the futures market were too few to allow the agency to set a base price for durum; and

WHEREAS, the notification by the federal Risk Management Agency effectively left farmers under two weeks to change their insurance plans before the March 15, 2001, deadline; and

WHEREAS, a federal judge on March 15, 2001, refused to direct the federal Risk Management Agency to extend the insurance deadline for at least ten days; and

WHEREAS, North Dakota's durum crops have suffered in recent years from disease brought on by wet weather; and

WHEREAS, the lack of an adequate crop revenue coverage policy would be a severe blow to the North Dakota durum industry;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly urges the Congress to direct the Secretary of Agriculture and the federal Risk Management Agency to establish a pricing policy so crop revenue coverage for durum can be continued; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State forward copies of this resolution to the Secretary of Agriculture, the administrator of the federal Risk Management Agency, the chairmen of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees, and to each member of the North Dakota Congressional Delegation.

LIVESTOCK DISEASE PREVENTION AND ERADICATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to take any and all measures necessary to guard against the spread of all livestock diseases, including foot and mouth disease and bovine spongiform encephalopathy, and to encourage aggressive efforts on the part of other countries with a view to eradicating these diseases with all possible celerity.

WHEREAS, foot and mouth disease is a contagious febrile disease affecting cloven-hooved animals; and

WHEREAS, the disease is characterized by a sudden rise in temperature, followed by an eruption of blisters in the mouth, on areas of tender skin such as the udder, and on the feet; and

WHEREAS, with this disease, eating becomes difficult and painful, significant weight loss is experienced, significant decrease in milk production is experienced, and lameness generally occurs, as does death among younger animals; and

WHEREAS, the United States has experienced nine distinct epizootics, the most serious of which occurred in 1914 which invaded 22 states and the District of Columbia, and the latest of which occurred in California in 1929; and

WHEREAS, while considerable progress has been made toward developing an effective vaccine against foot and mouth disease, the cost of vaccinating all susceptible animals remains prohibitive; and

WHEREAS, the vaccination of all susceptible animals will not eradicate foot and mouth disease; and

WHEREAS, the slaughter of all exposed animals is the only presently effective countermeasure to foot and mouth disease; and

WHEREAS, 395 outbreaks of foot and mouth disease have been confirmed in European countries as of March 20, 2001; and

WHEREAS, an outbreak of foot and mouth disease in the United States would cause billions of dollars worth of losses to farmers and ranchers; and

WHEREAS, since 1996, evidence has been increasing for a causal relationship between ongoing outbreaks in European countries of a disease in cattle called bovine spongiform encephalopathy, commonly known as BSE or mad cow disease, and a disease in humans called new variant Cruetzfeldt-Jakob disease; and

WHEREAS, bovine spongiform encephalopathy and new variant Cruetzfeldt-Jakob are invariably fatal brain diseases with incubation periods that are measured in years; and

WHEREAS, as of November 2000, more than 177,500 cases of bovine spongiform encephalopathy have been confirmed in the United Kingdom; and

WHEREAS, this outbreak is believed to have been caused by feeding sheep meat and bone meal to cattle and the outbreak is believed to have been amplified by the feeding of rendered bovine meat and bone meal to calves; and

WHEREAS, the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the United States Department of Agriculture has not detected bovine spongiform encephalopathy in the United States, despite active surveillance efforts since May 1990; and

WHEREAS, federal, state, and local governmental entities must work with each other and their international counterparts to ensure the continuation of a disease-free food supply, the health of our citizens, and the economic health of our livestock sector; and

WHEREAS, federal, state, and local governmental entities must be prepared to address and counter not only the inadvertent spread of foot and mouth disease but also the intentional dissemination of this and similar diseases by individuals or groups that zealously oppose the continuation of the livestock industry;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to take any and all measures necessary to guard against the spread of all livestock diseases, including foot and mouth disease and bovine spongiform encephalopathy, and to encourage aggressive efforts on the part of other countries with a view to eradicating these diseases with all possible celerity; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State forward copies of this resolution to the United States Attorney General, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Administrator of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, the director of the Central Intelligence Agency, the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the chairmen of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees, and to each member of the North Dakota Congressional Delegation.
