COMMENTARIES UPON THE LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By HERBERT BROOM, LL.D.,

OF THE INNER TEMPLE, BARRISTER-AT-LAW; READER IN COMMON LAW TO THE INNS OF COURT;
AND

EDWARD A. HADLEY, M.A.,

OF LINCOLN'S INN, BARRISTER-AT-LAW; LATE FELLOW OF TRINITY COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

 This Work is mainly founded upon Blackstone, the chief aim having been to produce such a version of his celebrated Commentaries as their author, if now living, would have produced.

THE STUDENT'S BLACKSTONE, Price 7s. 6d.

COMMENTARIES ON THE LAWS OF ENGLAND.

IN FOUR BOOKS.

By SIR WILLIAM BLACKSTONE, KNT.,

One of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas.

ABRIDGED AND ADAPTED TO THE PRESENT STATE OF THE LAW,

By ROBERT MALCOLM KERR, LL.D., BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

'Mr. Malcolm Kerr, whose edition of Blackstone's "Commentaries" has almost attained to the rank of a legal classic, has remoulded for Mr. Murray the "Student's Blackstone." The new work is a true abridgment and contains, in a small compass, the real substance of the larger work. Need we add that Mr. Kerr's "Blackstone" is an exposition of English law, in which the latest legal information is conveyed in accurate and yet intelligible phrase?'—The Athlete.

'The present day has a great deal for which to thank Mr. Murray. Modern and ancient history, the Latin and Greek languages have, by his seal, been brought within the reach of many, to whom they were before inaccessible. And now we have unshaded us the difficulties of the law.

'This edition of "The Student's Blackstone" is more complete than any that has yet been published. The editor has not only abridged from the original, but added; and it is not too much to say that we have here before us a really valuable book of reference upon which dependence may safely be placed, since the various recent changes in legislation have all been carefully noticed.'—The Reader.

COMMENTARIES ON THE LAWS OF ENGLAND

IN FOUR BOOKS.

By SIR WILLIAM BLACKSTONE, KNT,

One of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas.

ABRIDGED AND ADAPTED TO THE PRESENT STATE OF THE LAW.

By ROBERT MALCOLM KERR, LL.D., BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

Mr. Malcolm Kerr, whose edition of Blackstone's "Commentaries" has almost attained to the rank of a legal classic, has recommended for Mr. Murray the "Student's Blackstone." The new work is a true abridgment, and contains, in a small compass, the real substance of the larger work. Need we add that Mr. Kerr's "Blackstone" is an exposition of English law, in which the latest legal information is conveyed in accurate and yet intelligible phrase? — The Athenaeum.
The present day has a great deal for which to thank Mr. Murray. Modern and ancient history, the Latin and Greek languages have, by his seal, been brought within the reach of many, to whom they were before inaccessible. And now when all the difficulties of the law.

This edition of "The Student's Blackstone" is more complete than any that has been published. The editor has not only abridged from the original, but almost it is not too much to say, that we have here before us a really valuable book of its own which dependence may safely be placed, since the various recent changes in legislation have all been carefully noticed. — The Reader.

LECTURES AND LAW CLASSES. 1869-70.

LECTURES.—(6.0 TO 7.0 P.M.)

THREE COURSES of LECTURES on CONVEYANCING and the LAW of REAL PROPERTY, EQUITY and COMMON and MERCANTILE LAW, will be delivered in the HALL of the SOCIETY in the Months of December, January, February, March, April, May, and June next.

LAW CLASSES.—(4.30 TO 6.0 P.M.)

In connection with the Lectures, Classes will be conducted under the guidance and superintendence of the Lecturers, and will run concurrently with the Lectures. The number of Subscribers to each Class will be limited, and the instruction given will be confined to examination of the Students upon the subjects of a preceding Lecture, or on portions of a given book bearing on the same subject. A sufficient number of Classes will follow each Lecture, and be of such duration as shall provide for the efficient instruction and examination of the Students. The teaching of the Lecturers will thus be amplified, and impressed on the memory by the Classes; and the system of examination will test, from time to time, the progress made by the Students.

Lectures on Conveyancing and the Law of Real Property, by Howard Warburton Elphinstone, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The Course will consist of Nine Lectures:—

- LECT. I. Introductory. The theory of the Law of Real Property treated historically.
- II. III. Purchase Deeds.
- IV. V. Mortgages.
- VI. VII. VIII. Family and Marriage Settlements.
- IX. Commercial Conveyancing.

The Lectures (with the exception of the first) will be rendered as practical as possible. Books recommended for Beginners:—Williams' Law of Real Property; Davidson's Concise Precedents; Blackstone's Commentaries, Vol. II.; for Advanced Students; Tudor's Leading Cases on Real Property and Conveyancing; Davidson's Precedents and Forms in Conveyancing.

Lectures on Equity, by Fitzroy Kelly, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

This Course will consist of Nine Lectures upon the following subjects:—

- LECT. I. Review of the Equitable Jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery.
- II. III. Specific performance of Contracts. Relief afforded in cases of Accident, Mistake, and Fraud.
- IV. V. Foreclosure and Redemption of Mortgages. Charges and Liens.
- VI. VII. Husband and Wife. Infants.
- VIII. IX. Trusts and Trustees: (and if time permit) Administration.

In the Private Classes the subjects of the Lectures will be examined more in detail, and the practice of the Courts will be explained.

Books recommended to Beginners:—Haynes' Outlines of Equity; Smith's Manual of Equity; and Hunter's Suits in Equity.

Lectures on Common and Municipal Law, by Henry G. Benger, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

It is proposed to treat the subjects in the following order:—

- LECT. I. The Sources of Law. The Persons who are subject to the Law. Absolute Rights of Persons, such as the Rights of Personal Security and Liberty.
- II. Absolute Duties and their Breach, including the Law relating to Nuisance, Fraud and Malice, and the Law of Libel.
- III. IV. The Law of Contracts and the Rights derived from them.
- V. VI. Relative Rights of Persons, not arising from Contracts, such as the Rights arising out of the relations of Husband and Wife, and Landlord and Servant.
- VII. Rights over Things, such as Rights of Ownership, Easements and Liens.
- VIII. The Transfer of Rights and Duties, including the Law of Restraint of the Devolution of Property.
- IX. The means provided by the Law for the Protection of Rights, and Enforcement of Duties.

The Subscription payable for the Lectures—

	For all the Three Courses.	Total Cash.
By Clerks of Members	£ 2 4	£ 4 4
By Clerks of Gentlemen not Members	2 0	1 7
By all other Persons not being Members	3 0	2 1 4
	4 4 0	2 2 0

The Subscription payable for the Law Classes—

	For all the branches of Instruction.	Total Cash.
By every Subscriber	£ 5 0	£ 1 4
	5 0 0	2 1 4

MEMBERS of the Society may attend the Lectures without subscribing.

* * * To prevent interruption at the Lectures, Subscribers cannot be admitted to the Hall after the Lectures has commenced.

N.B.—Gentlemen may subscribe for, and attend the Lectures and Classes, either separately or collectively; but as the instruction given in the Classes will have special reference to preceding Lectures, it is recommended that those who desire to attend the Classes should also attend the Lectures.

ADDRESS ON THE ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH LAW,

By JOHN MARSHALL HAYMAN, Esq., BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

Before the above Courses of Lectures are commenced an Address will be delivered by JOHN MARSHALL HAYMAN, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, in the Hall of the Society, on 'The Origin and History of the English Law.'

Mr. HAYMAN proposes to trace, so far as the limit of time will allow, the Origin and History of some of the leading principles of the English Law. He will invite attention chiefly to that element of our system which is derived from the Law of the Roman Empire.

It may be convenient to take at least one Illustration from each of the main divisions of our Law which are the subjects of the Courses of Lectures about to be commenced.

- The proposed Illustrations are:—(1) The Derivation of our System of Equity from the Jus Prætorium of Rome.
 (2) The Law of Contract, and particularly of Bailment.
 (3) Title by Prescription.

Time will not allow of more than very brief reference to the other great element of our system, which is of native or feudal origin.

COMMENTARIES UPON THE LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By HERBERT BROOM, LL.D.,

OF THE INNER TEMPLE, BARRISTER-AT-LAW; READER IN COMMON LAW TO THE JUDGES OF COURT;
AND

EDWARD A. HADLEY, M.A.,

OF LINCOLN'S INN, BARRISTER-AT-LAW; LATE FELLOW OF TRINITY COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

. This Work is mainly founded upon Blackstone, the chief aim having been to produce such a version of his celebrated Commentaries their author, if now living, would have produced.

THE STUDENT'S BLACKSTONE, Price 7s. 6d.

COMMENTARIES ON THE LAWS OF ENGLAND

IN FOUR BOOKS.

By SIR WILLIAM BLACKSTONE, KNT.,

One of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas.

ABRIDGED AND ADAPTED TO THE PRESENT STATE OF THE LAW,

By ROBERT MALCOLM KERR, LL.D., BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

'Mr. Malcolm Kerr, whose edition of Blackstone's "Commentaries" has almost attained to the rank of a legal classic, has remodelled for Mr. Murray the "Student's Blackstone." The new work is a true abridgment, and contains, in a small compass, the real substance of the larger work. Need we add that Mr. Kerr's "Blackstone" is an exposition of English law, in which the latest legal information is conveyed in accurate and yet intelligible phrase?'—The Athenæum.

'The present day has a great deal for which to thank Mr. Murray. Modern and ancient history, the Latin and Greek languages have, by his zeal, been brought within the reach of many, to whom they were before inaccessible. And now we have within us the difficulties of the law.

'This edition of "The Student's Blackstone" is more complete than any that has been published. The editor has not only abridged from the original, but added: it is not too much to say that we have here before us a really valuable book of reference upon which dependence may safely be placed, since the various recent changes in legislation have all been carefully noticed.'—The Reader.

LECTURES AND LAW CLASSES. 1869-70.

LECTURES.—(6.0 TO 7.0 P.M.)

THREE COURSES of LECTURES on CONVEYANCING and the LAW of REAL PROPERTY, EQUITY and COMMON and MERCANTILE LAW, will be delivered in the HALL of the SOCIETY in the Months of December, January, February, March, April, May, and June next.

LAW CLASSES.—(4.30 TO 6.0 P.M.)

In connection with the Lectures, Classes will be conducted under the guidance and superintendence of the Lecturers, and will progress concurrently with the Lectures. The number of Subscribers to each Class will be limited, and the instruction given will be confined to the examination of the Students upon the subjects of a preceding Lecture, or on portions of a given book bearing on the same subject. A sufficient number of Classes will follow each Lecture, and be of such duration as shall provide for the efficient instruction and examination of the Students. The teaching of the Lecturers will thus be amplified, and impressed on the memory by the Classes; and the system of constant examination will test, from time to time, the progress made by the Students.

Lectures on Conveyancing and the Law of Real Property, by Howard Warburton Elphinstone, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The Course will consist of Nine Lectures:—

- LECT. I. Introductory. The theory of the Law of Real Property treated historically.
- II. III. Purchase Deeds.
- IV. V. Mortgages.
- VI. VII. VIII. Family and Marriage Settlements.
- IX. Commercial Conveyancing.

The Lectures (with the exception of the first) will be rendered as practical as possible. Books recommended for Beginners:—Williams' Law of Real Property; Davidson's Concise Precedents; Blackstone's Commentaries, Vol. II.; for Advanced Students; Tudor's Leading Cases on Real Property and Conveyancing; Davidson's Precedents and Forms in Conveyancing.

Lectures on Equity, by Fitzroy Kelly, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

This Course will consist of Nine Lectures upon the following subjects:—

- LECT. I. Review of the Equitable Jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery.
- II. III. Specific performance of Contracts. Relief afforded in cases of Accident, Mistake, and Fraud.
- IV. V. Foreclosure and Redemption of Mortgages. Charges and Liens.
- VI. VII. Husband and Wife. Infants.
- VIII. IX. Trusts and Trustees: (and if time permit) Administration.

In the Private Classes the subjects of the Lectures will be examined more in detail, and the practice of the Courts will be explained.

Books recommended to Beginners:—Haynes' Outlines of Equity; Smith's Manual of Equity; and Hunter's Suit in Equity.

Lectures on Common and Mercantile Law, by Henry M. Kemp, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

It is proposed to treat the subjects in the following order:—

- LECT. I. The Sources of Law. The Persons who are subject to the Law. Absolute Rights of Persons, such as the Rights of Personal Security and Liberty.
- II. Absolute Duties and their Breach, including the Law relating to Negligence, Fraud and Malice, and the Law of Libel.
- III. IV. The Law of Contracts and the Rights derived from them.
- V. VI. Relative Rights of Persons, not arising from Contract, such as the Rights arising out of the relations of Husband and Wife, and Master and Servant.
- VII. Rights over Things, such as Rights of Ownership, Easements and Liens.
- VIII. The Transfer of Rights and Duties, including the Law of Bankruptcy and the Devolution of Property.
- IX. The means provided by the Law for the Protection of Rights, and Enforcement of Duties.

The Subscription payable for the Lectures—

	For all the Three Courses.	For one Course.
By Clerks of Members	£ 2 0	£ 1 0
By Clerks of Gentlemen not Members	3 0	1 10
By all other Persons not being Members	4 0	2 0

The Subscription payable for the Law Classes—

	For all the branches of Instruction.	For one branch.
By every Subscriber	£ 5 0	£ 1 4

MEMBERS of the Society may attend the Lectures without subscribing.

* * To prevent interruption at the Lectures, Subscribers cannot be admitted to the Hall after the Lecture has commenced.

N.B.—Gentlemen may subscribe for, and attend the Lectures and Classes, either separately or collectively; but as the instruction given in the Classes will have special reference to preceding Lectures, it is recommended that those who desire to attend the Classes should also attend the Lectures.

ADDRESS ON THE ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH LAW,

By JOHN MARSHALL HAYMAN, Esq., BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

Before the above Courses of Lectures are commenced an Address will be delivered by JOHN MARSHALL HAYMAN, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, in the Hall of the Society, on 'The Origin and History of the English Law.'

Mr. HAYMAN proposes to trace, so far as the limit of time will allow, the Origin and History of some of the leading principles of the English Law. He will invite attention chiefly to that element of our system which is derived from the Law of the Roman Empire.

It may be convenient to take at least one Illustration from each of the main divisions of our Law which are the subjects of the Courses of Lectures about to be commenced.

- The proposed Illustrations are:—
- (1) The Derivation of our System of Equity from the Jus Prætorium of Rome.
 - (2) The Law of Contract, and particularly of Bailment.
 - (3) Title by Prescription.

Time will not allow of more than very brief reference to the other great element of our system, which is of native or feudal origin.

E. W. WILLIAMSON,
Secretary.

COUNTY COURTS.

ALTERATIONS IN DISTRICTS OF THE COURTS.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by The County Courts Act, 1846, it is, among other things, enacted that it should be lawful for Her Majesty, with the advice of her Privy Council, to order that the said Act be put in force in such county or counties as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit, and to divide the whole or part of any such county (including all counties of cities, and counties of towns, cities, boroughs, towns, ports and places, liberties and franchises, therein contained or thereunto adjoining) into districts; and to order that the County Court should be holden for the recovery of debts and demands under the said Act, in each of such districts; and, from time to time, to alter such districts as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit; and, from time to time, with the advice aforesaid, to declare by what name and in what towns and places the County Court should be holden in each district:

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by an Order in Council of the 9th day of March, 1847, to order that the said Act be put in force in the counties and places therein specified, and the same was put in force accordingly:

And whereas by certain other Acts the said recited Act has been amended and extended:

And whereas it hath been represented that it would be to the advantage of the public if certain alterations were made in some of the districts of the Courts, as specified or set forth in the aforesaid Order:

Her Majesty, having taken the premises into consideration, is thereupon pleased, by and with the advice of her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the 31st day of December, 1869:

So much of the district of the Middlesex County Court, holden at Edmonton, as is included within a line drawn from the point where the eastern boundary of the county of Middlesex joins the boundary of the county of Hertford, thence westward along the northern boundary of the said county of Middlesex, until it crosses the New River, thence southward along the middle of the said river to Carterhatch Lane, thence eastward along the middle of Carterhatch Lane until it reaches the turnpike road leading from Edmonton to Waltham Cross, thence southward along the said road to Green Street, thence along the middle of the road in Green Street to the Great Eastern Railway and across such railway to Millmarsh or Wildmarsh Lane, thence eastward along such lane to the River Lee Navigation, thence across the River Lee Navigation to Green Lane, thence eastward along the middle of such lane to the eastern boundary of the county of Middlesex, and thence northward along the said boundary to the point first described, shall be within and form part of the County Court of Essex, holden at Waltham.

HIGH COURT OF CHANCERY.

NOTICE.—CHRISTMAS VACATION.

DURING THE VACATION all applications to the Court of Chancery which are of an urgent nature are to be made to or at the Chambers of the VICE-CHANCELLOR SIR WILLIAM MILBOURNE JAMES.

All applications ex parte are to be sent to the VICE-CHANCELLOR JAMES, by book-post or parcel, prepaid, accompanied with the Brief of Counsel, endorsed with the terms of the order applied for, and an envelope capable of receiving the papers to be returned, with sufficient stamps affixed thereon, and addressed as follows:—"To the Registrar in Vacation, Chancery Registrar's Office, Chancery Lane, London, W.C."

On applications for Injunctions or Writs of Ne exeat Regno, there must be sent, in addition to the above, a copy of the Bill, a Certificate of Bill filed, and office copies of the Affidavits in support of application.

The papers sent to the VICE-CHANCELLOR, with any order His Hon may make thereon, will be returned direct to the Registrar.

The VICE-CHANCELLOR's address can be obtained on application His Honour's Chambers, 11 New Square, Lincoln's Inn.

The Chambers of the VICE-CHANCELLOR JAMES will be open on the 28th, 29th, 30th, and 31st of December, 1869, and the 4th, 5th, and 6th January, 1870, from 11 till 1 o'clock.

COMMENTARIES UPON THE LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By HERBERT BROOM, LL.D.,

OF THE INNER TEMPLE, BARRISTER-AT-LAW; READER IN COMMON LAW TO THE INNS OF COURT;
AND

EDWARD A. HADLEY, M.A.,

OF LINCOLN'S INN, BARRISTER-AT-LAW; LATE FELLOW OF TRINITY COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

 This Work is mainly founded upon Blackstone, the chief aim having been to produce such a version of his celebrated Commentaries as their author, if now living, would have produced.

LONDON: W. MAXWELL AND SON; H. SWEET; AND STEVENS AND SONS.

THE STUDENT'S BLACKSTONE, Price 7s. 6d.

COMMENTARIES ON THE LAWS OF ENGLAND.

IN FOUR BOOKS.

By SIR WILLIAM BLACKSTONE, KNT.,

One of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas.

ABRIDGED AND ADAPTED TO THE PRESENT STATE OF THE LAW,

By ROBERT MALCOLM KERR, LL.D., BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

'Mr. Malcolm Kerr, whose edition of Blackstone's "Commentaries" has almost attained to the rank of a legal classic, has remoulded for Mr. Murray the "Student's Blackstone." The new work is a true abridgment, and contains, in a small compass, the real substance of the larger work. Need we add that Mr. Kerr's "Blackstone" is an exposition of English law, in which the latest legal information is conveyed in accurate and yet intelligible phrase?'—The Athenaeum.
'The present day has a great deal for which to thank Mr. Murray. Modern and ancient history, the Latin and Greek languages have, by his zeal, been brought within the reach of many, to whom they were before inaccessible. And now we have exhibited us the difficulties of the law.

'This edition of "The Student's Blackstone" is more complete than any that has yet been published. The editor has not only abridged from the original, but altered; and it is not too much to say that we have here before us a really valuable book of reference upon which dependence may safely be placed, since the various recent changes in legislation have all been carefully noticed.'—The Reader.

Incorporated Law Society, A. R.

LECTURES AND LAW CLASSES. 1869-70.

LECTURES.—(6.0 TO 7.0 P.M.)

THREE COURSES of LECTURES on CONVEYANCING and the LAW of REAL PROPERTY, EQUITY and COMMON and MERCANTILE LAW, will be delivered in the HALL of the SOCIETY in the Months of December, January, February, March, April, May, and June next.

LAW CLASSES.—(4.30 TO 6.0 P.M.)

In connection with the Lectures, Classes will be conducted under the guidance and superintendence of the Lecturers, and will proceed concurrently with the Lectures. The number of Subscribers to each Class will be limited, and the instruction given will be confined to an examination of the Students upon the subjects of a preceding Lecture, or on portions of a given book bearing on the same subject. A sufficient number of Classes will follow each Lecture, and be of such duration as shall provide for the efficient instruction and examination of the Students. The teaching of the Lecturers will thus be amplified, and impressed on the memory by the Classes; and the system of constant examination will test, from time to time, the progress made by the Students.

Lectures on Conveyancing and the Law of Real Property, by Howard Warburton Elphinstone, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The Course will consist of Nine Lectures:—

- Lect. I. Introductory. The theory of the Law of Real Property treated historically.
- II, III. Purchase Deeds.
- IV, V. Mortgages.
- VI, VII, VIII. Family and Marriage Settlements.
- IX. Commercial Conveyancing.

The Lectures (with the exception of the first) will be rendered as practical as possible.

Books recommended for Beginners:—Williams' Law of Real Property; Davidson's Concise Precedents; Blackstone's Commentaries, Vol. II.; for Advanced Students; Tudor's Leading Cases on Real Property and Conveyancing; Davidson's Precedents and Forms in Conveyancing.

Lectures on Equity, by Fitzroy Kelly, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

This Course will consist of Nine Lectures upon the following subjects:—

- Lect. I. Review of the Equitable Jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery.
- II, III. Specific performance of Contracts. Relief afforded in cases of Accident, Mistake, and Fraud.
- IV, V. Foreclosure and Redemption of Mortgages. Charges and Liens.
- VI, VII. Husband and Wife. Infants.
- VIII, IX. Trusts and Trustees: (and if time permit) Administration.

In the Private Classes the subjects of the Lectures will be examined more in detail, and the practice of the Courts will be explained.

Books recommended to Beginners:—Haynes' Outlines of Equity; Smith's Manual of Equity; and Hunter's Suit in Equity.

Lectures on Common and Mercantile Law, by Henry M. Bompas, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

It is proposed to treat the subjects in the following order:—

- Lect. I. The Sources of Law. The Persons who are subject to the Law. Absolute Rights of Persons, such as the Rights of Personal Security and Liberty.
- II. Absolute Duties and their Breach, including the Law relating to Negligence, Fraud and Malice, and the Law of Libel.
- III, IV. The Law of Contracts and the Rights derived from them.
- V, VI. Relative Rights of Persons, not arising from Contracts, such as the Law of Rights arising out of the relations of Husband and Wife, and Master and Servant.
- VII. Rights over Things, such as Rights of Ownership, Easements and Liens.
- VIII. The Transfer of Rights and Duties, including the Law of Bankruptcy, and the Devolution of Property.
- IX. The means provided by the Law for the Protection of Rights, and Enforcement of Duties.

The Subscription payable for the Lectures—		For all the Three Courses.	For each Course.
By Clerks of Members		2 5 0	2 1 0
By Clerks of Gentlemen not Members		2 2 0	1 1 0
By all other Persons not being Members		3 3 0	1 11 0
		4 4 0	2 2 0
The Subscription payable for the Law Classes—		For all the branches of Instruction.	For each branch.
By every Subscriber		5 5 0	2 13 0

MEMBERS of the Society may attend the Lectures without subscribing.

* * * To prevent interruption at the Lectures, Subscribers cannot be admitted to the Hall after the Lecture has commenced.

N.B.—Gentlemen may subscribe for, and attend the Lectures and Classes, either separately or collectively; but as the instruction given in the Classes will have special reference to preceding Lectures, it is recommended that those who desire to attend the Classes should also attend the Lectures.

ADDRESS ON THE ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH LAW,

By JOHN MARSHALL HAYMAN, ESQ., BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

Before the above Courses of Lectures are commenced an Address will be delivered by JOHN MARSHALL HAYMAN, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, in the Hall of the Society, on 'The Origin and History of the English Law.'

Mr. HAYMAN proposes to trace, so far as the limit of time will allow, the Origin and History of some of the leading principles of the English Law. He will invite attention chiefly to that element of our system which is derived from the Law of the Roman Empire.

It may be convenient to take at least one Illustration from each of the main divisions of our Law which are the subjects of the Courses of Lectures about to be commenced.

- The proposed Illustrations are:—(1) The Derivation of our System of Equity from the Jus Prætorium of Rome.
(2) The Law of Contract, and particularly of Bailment.
(3) Title by Prescription.

Time will not allow of more than very brief reference to the other great element of our system, which is of native or feudal origin.

THE CONTAGIOUS DISEASES (ANIMALS) ACT, 1869.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

Dec. 16, 1869.—The Lords and others of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in them vested under The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1869, and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, do order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:

1. This Order shall take effect from and immediately after the 31st day of December, 1869.

2. This Order extends to Great Britain only.

3. In this Order words have the same meaning as in The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1869.

4. A Local Authority may, from time to time, with the view of preventing the spreading of foot-and-mouth disease, make regulations for applying to that disease all the provisions contained in The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1869, relating to pleuro-pneumonia, or such part or parts thereof as they may think fit: Provided nevertheless, that, for the purposes of this Order, the rules for foot-and-mouth disease contained in the Schedule to this Order shall be in substitution of the pleuro-pneumonia rules contained in the Seventh Schedule to The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1869, and a Local Authority may, from time to time, apply the whole of such rules, or any part or parts of such rules as they may think fit, for the purpose aforesaid: And provided further, that such Local Authority may, from time to time, revoke or alter any such regulations, and that, for the purposes of this Order, section fifty-five of the said Act shall be read and have effect as if the word "ten" were inserted in place of the word "thirty."

5. The forms given in the Eighth Schedule to The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1869, with such variations as circumstances require, may be used by an inspector for the purposes of this Order.

6. Nothing in this Order shall affect the operation of the provisions contained in Article 21 of The Metropolitan Contagious Diseases (Animals) Order of August, 1869, relating to foot-and-mouth disease.

SCHEDULE.

Rules for Foot-and-Mouth Disease.

1. These rules are to have effect with respect to any field, stable, cow-shed, or other premises infected by foot-and-mouth disease.

2. Animals affected with foot-and-mouth disease, or herded with animals so affected, are not to be moved from such field, stable, cow-shed, or other premises, or from any land or building contiguous thereto in the same occupation, except either for immediate slaughter, according to regulations to be from time to time made by the Local Authority for insuring such slaughter, or if not for immediate slaughter, under a licence signed by an officer of the Local Authority appointed to issue licences in that behalf.

3. Sheds and places used by animals affected with foot-and-mouth disease are forthwith, after being so used, to be cleansed and disinfected to the satisfaction of the Local Authority.

By SIR WILLIAM BLACKSTONE, KNT.,

One of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas.

ABRIDGED AND ADAPTED TO THE PRESENT STATE OF THE LAW,

By ROBERT MALCOLM KERR, LL.D., BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

'Mr. Malcolm Kerr, whose edition of Blackstone's "Commentaries" has almost attained to the rank of a legal classic, has remodelled for Mr. Murray the "Student's Blackstone." The new work is a true abridgment, and contains, in a small compass, the real substance of the larger work. Need we add that Mr. Kerr's "Blackstone" is an exposition of English law, in which the latest legal information is conveyed in accurate and yet intelligible phrase?'—The Athenaeum

'The present day has a great deal for which to thank Mr. Murray. Modern and ancient history, the Latin and Greek languages have, by his seal, been brought within the reach of many, to whom they were before inaccessible. And now we have united to us the difficulties of the law.

'This edition of "The Student's Blackstone" is more complete than any that has yet been published. The editor has not only abridged from the original, but altered; and it is not too much to say that we have here before us a really valuable book of reference upon which dependence may safely be placed, since the various recent changes in legislation have all been carefully noticed.'—The Reader.

LECTURES AND LAW CLASSES. 1869-70.

LECTURES.—(6.0 TO 7.0 P.M.)

THREE COURSES of LECTURES on CONVEYANCING and the LAW of REAL PROPERTY, EQUITY and COMMON and MERCANTILE LAW, will be delivered in the HALL of the SOCIETY in the Months of December, January, February, March, April, May, and June next.

LAW CLASSES.—(4.30 TO 6.0 P.M.)

In connection with the Lectures, Classes will be conducted under the guidance and superintendence of the Lecturers, and will proceed concurrently with the Lectures. The number of Subscribers to each Class will be limited, and the instruction given will be confined to an examination of the Students upon the subjects of a preceding Lecture, or on portions of a given book bearing on the same subject. A sufficient number of Classes will follow each Lecture, and be of such duration as shall provide for the efficient instruction and examination of the Students. The teaching of the Lecturers will thus be amplified, and impressed on the memory by the Classes; and the system of constant examination will test, from time to time, the progress made by the Students.

Lectures on Conveyancing and the Law of Real Property, by Howard Warburton Elphinstone, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The Course will consist of Nine Lectures:—

- LECT. I. Introductory. The theory of the Law of Real Property treated historically.
- II. III. Purchase Deeds.
- IV. V. Mortgages.
- VI. VII. VIII. Family and Marriage Settlements.
- IX. Commercial Conveyancing.

The Lectures (with the exception of the first) will be rendered as practical as possible. Books recommended for Beginners:—Williams' Law of Real Property; Davidson's Concise Precedents; Blackstone's Commentaries, Vol. II.; for Advanced Students; Tudor's Leading Cases on Real Property and Conveyancing; Davidson's Precedents and Forms in Conveyancing.

Lectures on Equity, by Fitzroy Kelly, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

This Course will consist of Nine Lectures upon the following subjects:—

- LECT. I. Review of the Equitable Jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery.
- II. III. Specific performance of Contracts. Relief afforded in cases of Accident, Mistake, and Fraud.
- IV. V. Foreclosure and Redemption of Mortgages. Charges and Liens.
- VI. VII. Husband and Wife. Infants.
- VIII. IX. Trusts and Trustees: (and if time permit) Administration.

In the Private Classes the subjects of the Lectures will be examined more in detail, and the practice of the Courts will be explained.

Books recommended to Beginners:—Haynes' Outlines of Equity; Smith's Manual of Equity; and Hunter's Suit in Equity.

Lectures on Common and Mercantile Law, by Henry M. Dempsey, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

It is proposed to treat the subjects in the following order:—

- LECT. I. The Sources of Law. The Persons who are subject to the Law. Absolute Rights of Persons, such as the Rights of Personal Security and Liberty.
- II. Absolute Duties and their Breach, including the Law relating to Negligence, Fraud and Malice, and the Law of Libel.
- III. IV. The Law of Contracts and the Rights derived from them.
- V. VI. Relative Rights of Persons, not arising from Contract, such as the Legal Rights arising out of the relations of Husband and Wife, and Master and Servant.
- VII. Rights over Things, such as Rights of Ownership, Easements and Liens.
- VIII. The Transfer of Rights and Duties, including the Law of Bankruptcy, and the Devolution of Property.
- IX. The means provided by the Law for the Protection of Rights, and Enforcement of Duties.

The Subscription payable for the Lectures—

	For all the Three Courses.	For each Course.
By Clerks of Members	2 2 0	1 1 0
By Clerks of Gentlemen not Members	3 3 0	1 11 0
By all other Persons not being Members	4 4 0	2 2 0

The Subscription payable for the Law Classes—

	For all the branches of Instruction.	For each branch.
By every Subscriber	5 5 0	2 12 6

MEMBERS of the Society may attend the Lectures without subscribing.

* * * To prevent interruption at the Lectures, Subscribers cannot be admitted to the Hall after the Lecture has commenced.

N.B.—Gentlemen may subscribe for, and attend the Lectures and Classes, either separately or collectively; but as the instruction given in the Classes will have special reference to preceding Lectures, it is recommended that those who desire to attend the Classes should also attend the Lectures.

ADDRESS ON THE ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH LAW,

By JOHN MARSHALL HAYMAN, Esq., BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

Before the above Courses of Lectures are commenced an Address will be delivered by JOHN MARSHALL HAYMAN, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, in the Hall of the Society, on 'The Origin and History of the English Law.'

Mr. HAYMAN proposes to trace, so far as the limit of time will allow, the Origin and History of some of the leading principles of the English Law. He will invite attention chiefly to that element of our system which is derived from the Law of the Roman Empire.

It may be convenient to take at least one Illustration from each of the main divisions of our Law which are the subjects of the Courses of Lectures about to be commenced.

- The proposed Illustrations are:—(1) The Derivation of our System of Equity from the Jus Prætorium of Rome.
(2) The Law of Contract, and particularly of Bailment.
(3) Title by Prescription.

Time will not allow of more than very brief reference to the other great element of our system, which is of native or feudal origin.

MAINE ON ANCIENT LAW.

Now ready. 3rd Edition. 8vo., 12s.

ANCIENT LAW:

ITS CONNECTION WITH THE EARLY HISTORY OF SOCIETY, AND ITS RELATION TO MODERN IDEAS

By HENRY SUMNER MAINE,

Member of the Supreme Council of India, formerly Reader on Jurisprudence and the Civil Law at the Middle Temple, and Regius Professor of the Civil Law in the University of Cambridge.

'Professor Maine is probably the first Englishman who, with any authority, has applied the "historical method" to legal subjects so successfully employed abroad; and his prominent example will have a tendency to establish a connection between the study of the philosophy of law and those branches of philosophical history whose foundation lies in philology and her sister sciences.'—London Review.

'A contribution to scientific legal literature of singular value. It would be superfluous to say that it indicates an intimate acquaintance with the knowledge of ancient law which has come down to us. It possesses the far higher method of arranging, reconciling, and reconstructing, with remarkable power of discrimination and generalization, the ideas of which but fragments and traces have reached us. It discovers to us the simplest and earliest ideas of mankind, on questions of justice and law; follows them in their expansion, and exhibits the mode in which they became ultimately obscured and lost.'—Daily News.

'A text-book for all English students of jurisprudence. It presents elementary ideas in a distinct shape; it shows how endless are the ramifications of the history of jurisprudence which can be followed by learned ingenuity; it handles law in a large and spirited; it clears up points as to which an obscurity prevails in the minds of many students and readers, and it is written with singular clearness.'—Saturday Review.
