"Untold Agony from Catarrh." Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Hisca, N. Y., writes: "Some tem years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic masal catarrh. My family, physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months; I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting," THOMAS J. RUSHING, PSq., 2902 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from cataerh for three years. At times I could from cataerh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight mouths could not breathe through the nestrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."/ enough to revel in day onds, white folks thought he had been extremely lucky in buying a 25-cent Rhine stone, but the colored ladies declared that Joseph was sprucing up mighty fine, and wore the most gorgeous jewelry It so happened that one day Joseph had becasion to converse for a few moments with the Sunday School superintendent. Pretty soon he observed that the superintendent's eye was fixed in a steady stare upon the scarf, but that his mind seemed to be abstracted. At last he said: "Joe, that's a very bright piece of glass you wear. Where did you get it?"

"I found it."
"Found it! Where?"
"I found it on the floor of the church

when I was sweeping out a year ago."
"In the church, a year ago?" Let me Joe pulled off the scarf, and the business man looked intently at the stone for a moment. "Why, that's my diamond. That's worth $500. Have you been wearing it all this time?"

"Your diamond! True as I'm living I found that on the carpet, and I picked it up and put it on the window sill, by the door, 'specting if anybody lost it he'd come and find it. It was there about six months, and nobody didn't come and take it, so I thought it warn't of no account, and I just put it on myself."

"Well, Joe, if some people in this town had thought you were wearing a genuine 500-dollar diamond they might have robbed you, perhaps killed you to get it."

"'Spects they might. There's some advantage in being a poor man. Golly! to think I have been wearing a 500 dollar diamond all this time!"

Joe's story was proved on investigation to be correct.

"DOCTORING OLD TIME."

Striking Picture-A Revival of Old Time Simplicities.

In one of Harper's issues is given a very fine illustration of Roberts' celebrate painting, known as "Doctoring Old Time." It represents a typical old-timer, with his bellows, blowing the dust from an ancient clock, with its cords and weights carefully secured. One of these clocks in this generation is appreciated only as a rare relic.

The suggestive name, "Doctoring Old Time," brings to our mind another ver-sion of the title, used for another purpose

-"Old Time Doctoring."

We learn, through a reliable source, that one of the enterpirsing proprietary medicine firms of the country, has been for years investigating the formulas and for years investigating the formulas and medical preparations used in the beginning of this century, and even before, with a view of ascertaining why people in our great-grandfathers' time enjoyed a health and physical vigor so seldom found in the present generation. They now think they have secured the secret or secrets. They find that the prevailing opinion that then existed, that "Nature has a remedy for every existing disorder." was true, and acting under disorder." was true, and acting under this belief, our grandparents used the common herbs and plants. Continual trespass upon the forest defiain, has made these herbs less abundant and has driven them further from civilization, until they have been discarded, as renied dial agents because of the difficulty of obtaining them.

H. H. Warner, proprietor of Warner's safe cure and founder of the Warner observatory. Rochester, N. Y., has been pressing investigations in this direction, into the annals of old family histories, until he has secured some very valuable formulas, from which his firm is now preparing medicines, to be sold by all druggists

They will, we learn, be known under the general title of "Warner's Log Cabin remedies." Among these medicines will be a "sarsaparilla," for the blood and liver, "Log Cabin hops and buchu rem-edy," for the stomach, etc., "Log Cabin edy," for the stomach, etc., "Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," "Log Cabin hair tonic," "Log Cabin extract," for internal and external use, and an old valuable discovery for catarrh, called "Log Cabin rose cream." Among the list is also a "Log Cabin plaster," and a "Log Cabin liver pill."

From the number of remedies, it will be seen that they do not propose to cure all diseases with one preparation. It is believed by many that with these remedies a new era is to dawn upon suffering humanity and that the close of the nine-humanity and that the close of the nineteenth century will see these roots and herbs, as compounded under the title of Warner's Log Cabin remedies, as popular as they were at its beginning. Although they come in the form of proprietary medicines, yet they will be none the less welcome, for suffering humanity has become tired of modern doctoring and the public has great confidence in any remedies put up by the firm of which H. H. Warner is the head. The people have become suspicious of the effects of doctoring with poisonous drugs. Few realize the injurious effects following the prescriptions of many modern physicians. These effects of poisonous drugs, already prominent, will become more pronounced in coming generations. Therefore we can cordially wish the old-fashioned new remedies the best of success. as they were at its beginning. Although

HER LETTER.

"So here I am writing at home dear, And you so far away, And when you read the letter, I wonder what you will say. The given leaves whisper around me,
The aigntingales stag above,
Just as they did that day, dear.
When you told me all your love!"

"I can see her." he fondly whispered As he say by the far camp fire.
And read and read her letter
With heart that could never tire.
"I can see her true eyes shining
As she leans on her little hand.
And gazes and dreams about me

The little wigmaker laughed aloud and then said:

"I made those tails. I make tails for a good many stylish horses. You know that a horse without a handsome thillisn't handsome atail. He may have a beautiful more and hold his head high and stamp and prince and bite his bit, showing all the traits of a full-blooded animal, but if he hasn't got a long, flowing tail all the other characteristics go for nothing.

"There are a great many stylish steppers deiven in the park every day that have false tails that sweep the ground. The horses get used to the false tails just as a man becomes accustomed to wearing

AN EXILED QUEEN.

The Obscure Life of Marie, of Naples Marie, the exiled queen of Naples, lives the year round in Paris, in lined apartments on a third floor, for which she pays $1,200 a year rent. The house is retired and untashionable, and the rooms are furnished with almost meagre sim-

"If," she once remarked, "I remain at the bottom of the ladder, I shall at least have no fear of falling further. If I cherish no hopes I shall suffer no disappointments, if I set my heart on nothing I shail not be bereaved.

"I went to Naples a queen, and in a year I left it an exile. My rooms in the palace there were scarcely put in order for me when I was driven out by the revolution. Then we went to Rome. My husband owned a palace there, and we made it our home. What then? In a few years Victor Emmanuel drove us out of it. We fied to England and then to France.

"We were about to make a permanent home and devote ourselves to each other and to our only child, when that child died. Has not misfortune pressed us cruelly?

"Doubtless, if we were to purchase a house and seek to make a permanent home it would be taken from us. If we were to make friends we would lose them. No, we are exiles and wanderers, and such we must remain."

HINT FOR THE GAY AND FESTIVE:

Eating Cheese for the Cure of Red Noses "I will give $500 to the man who will restore my nose to its natural color," said well-dressed man in a down-town saloon on Saturday. Then, as if to give zest to his remark, he gulped down a big drink of whiskey, and, putting the glass down on the bar, he took a long and wistful look into the dim prospective of his life when his nasal organ was of the tinge

The Medicine Man-Music, Duncing and Saction as Healers—The Mind as Its Condition Affects the Boilly I alth. Let us inquire as to the cond ion of medicine among savage and barbarous nations of recent times.

Here we find that the priests are usually the physicians or medicine men, but there are other persons, often women, who treat diseases with simple and natural remedies. The essential remedies are incantations, steam baths, proprietary offerings, etc., and removal of the evil spirit by snetion.

Among the American Indians the word medic no refers in general to that which is extraordinary or supernatural, and the" medicine man is que who possesses a knowledge and control of such masters. Every Indian has his own peculiar cine charm or talisman, and sometimes there is also a tribe medicine, usually some animal or reptile, indicated by a priest, rain-maker and minister pleningtentiary of the supernatural powers, both good and evil. Major Alvord says, in relation to the Gregon Indians: "In some of these tribes any child may be trained for the position of medicine man, but among the Nez Perces the position is inherited from father to son. All the tribes have great faith in their medicine men and believe that they have the power of killing by charms and enchantments, and when, as sometimes happens, a man b comes possessed with the idea that the medicine man is host le to him and is "making medicine" against him, he will pine away, refuse to cat and die of hypochondria and melancholy. In consequence of this implicit faith, when a death occurs it is often attributed to the doctor, and the relatives of the deceased avenge his fate by killing the supposed

Among savage nations we meet with peculiar discussi in which equally peculiar medication is of service. Examples are seen in the trances of the Cossack women the poculiar fever found in Abyssinia, which reduces patients to skeletons, and can only be cured by music and dancing. The very general use of suction as a reme'y among savage tribes is curions and not easy to explain. It may possibly be connected with the animal inner" of the Senate Restaurant In the Senate restaurant at Washington one end of the counter is called the "cheap and hungry corner." Here baked beans are sold for ten cents a plate, fish bulls for ten cents each, and deviled crais at the same figure. Doughnuts, cakes, pies, and so on are correspondingly cheap. Nearly every day of late, in this "cheap and hungry corner," can be seen a large, handsome Congressman with rosy cheeks and gray moustache. He is from one of the Western States.

His regular luncheon is pie, varied occasionally by beans, and he always drinks from a tall slender pitcher. The curiosity of some "regulars" was aroused the other day, and one of them asked a colored waiter what the gentleman had in the pitcher. "If you won't give me away, boss, I'll

PRICES UNDER A PROTECTIVE TARIFF

The attorneys for Free-Trade, who seek to create projudice against the policy of Protection by charging that it enhances the ost to consumers, can best be met by a comparison of prices of a few articles in

In 1860 salt, then on the free list, sold to consumers at an average price of $3 per barrel The Tariff on salt in barrels is now 12 cents per 100 pounds, or say 331/4 cents per lagrel, and the average price is not more than half that of 1860. Charlotte Corday, the sad-faced, tender-hearted peasant girl of Normandy made great history by one desperate act! Sickened by the saturnalia of the French revolution, and moved to desperation as Robespierre and Marat were leading the flower of France to the guillotine, she determined that she would put an end to Marat's bloody reign. Marat had demanded two hundred thousand victims for the guillotine!

He proposed to kill off the enemies the Revolution to make it perpetual! Horrible thought! No wonder it fired the blood of this atriotic peasant maid!

Gaining access to his closely guarded uarters by a subterfuge, she found him his bath, even then inexorable and iving written directions for further slaughter! He asked her the names of the inimical deputies who had taken refuge in Caen. She told him, and he wrote hem down. "That is well! Before a week is over they shall all be brought to the guillotine." At these words, Charlotte drew from her bosom the knife, and plunged it with supernatural force up to the hilt in the heart of Marat. "Come to me, my dear friend, come to cried Marat, and expired under In the Corcoran gallery at Washington

w authority and by mistaken ideas! he practice of medicine alone how ma nundreds of millions have been allower to die and as many more killed by a ustifiable bigotry and by bungling! But the age is bettering. Men an methods are improving. A few year ago it was worth one's professional life t advise or permit the use of a proprietar medicine. To-day there are not to physicians in any town in this country who do not regularly prescribe som form of proprietary remedy H. H. Warner, famed all over-th world as the discoverer of Warner's safe cure, began hunting up the old remedie of the Log Cabin days; after long and ng some of the most valuable, among family records, and called them Warner's Log Cabin remedies—the simple pre-parations of roots, leaves, balsams and herbs which were the successful standvs of our grandmothers. These simple, old-fashioned sarsaparilla, hops and buchu, cough and consumption and other remedies have struck a popular chord and are in extraordinary demand all over the land. They are not the untried and imaginary remedies of some dabster chemist intent on making mone; but the long-sought principles of the healing art which for generations kept our ancestors in perfect health, put forth for the good of humanity by one who is known all over the world as a philanwhose name is a guarantee of the highest standard of excellence. The preparations are of decided and known influence over disease, and as in the hands of our grandmothers they raised up the sick, cured the lame, and bound up the wounds of death, so in their new form but olden power as Loz Cabin remedies, they are sure to prove the "healing of the nations."

Corday did the world an incalculable service in ridding France of the bigoted and murderous Marat, just as this man is doing humanity a service by re-introducing to the world the simpler and better methods of our anoestors.

The latest shirt issued under the "Acorn" Bran "THE WONDER," and it is also the best shirt made for the Trade.

The following are some of its principal points of excellence, a printed which is attached to each shirt: 1st-It has the finest and heaviest muslin ever put in a shirt, (Utica Not

2-It has a 3-ply linen bosom.

3-It is of extra length. 4-It is reinforced, both back and front, extending and meeting under the

5-R has the Tomlinson patent endless facing.

6-It is custom make and finish. 7-It cannot break or tear anywhere.

Like the Deacon's 'one-hoss shay," it has no weak spot, and will never 'give' anywhere, but, at the end of scores of years, it will disselve into some not a thread broken or a seam started.

Fathers will bequeath these shirts, purchased in early manhood, a prilegacy to their children.

We expect a large demand for them to place in the corner stones of structures as evidence of the greatest triumph of modern civilization. We are taking steps to put this crowning achievement of art into the "Acera agencies in London, Paris, Berlin, St. Petersburg and Constantinople, when it can not fail of instant and permanent success.
