Organization.

There was a general meeting of the Houghton family, at Winchendon, Mass., on the 21st day of April, 1868. This meeting was called for the purpose of collecting information relative to unclaimed Houghton property in England, reported to belong to the Houghton family in America, and to devise means, through a joint action of the family, to have a thorough and final investigation made of their claim to the large unclaimed Houghton property in England.

The Houghton family was well represented at this meeting. After a long consultation, they concluded that no longer delay should be allowed in this matter.

They concluded no proper investigation of their claim had ever been made in England. They wanted the question finally settled, as to whether there is, or is not, a Houghton property in England belonging to the Houghtons in America, as reported, and if there is, its situation—whether recoverable or not.

The members of the family, at this meeting, unanimously adopted the following Constitution :

The Houghton Association.

P R E A M B L E.

WHEREAS, Certain Houghtons died in England, leaving real and personal property, at the time of their death, to the amount of millions of dollars; and whereas, the next of kin, and heirs to this property, are said to be in America; now, in order to prosecute the investigation, and procure the pedigree of the family, and ascertain whether or not there is any such property, we, the undersigned, do hereby agree to form ourselves into an Association, under the following

C O N S T I T U T I O N :

ARTICLE I. This Society shall be called the Houghton Association.

ARTICLE II. Columbus Smith, of Salisbury, Vt., and A. B. Herrick, of Burlington, Vt., are hereby appointed agents for the purpose of investigating the case in England, and are required, from time to time, to make printed reports of their doings to the members of this Association.

ARTICLE III. Harrison O. Smith, of Monkton, Vt., is hereby empowered to raise two thousand dollars, to cover the necessary expenses attending the matter of investigating the case in England, and all other necessary incidental expenses connected therewith, by issuing such an amount of Scrip as shall be necessary, which said Scrip shall be a lien upon the property when recovered.

ARTICLE IV. Every Scrip shall be sold for five dollars, entitling the purchaser to two hundred dollars out of the first money recovered from said estate, by any member of the Association, and no more Scrip shall be sold by said agent than shall be necessary to raise the aforesaid sum of two thousand dollars, together with the expenses of the sale thereof, which shall, in no event, exceed ten per cent. of the receipts of the sale of each Scrip.

ARTICLE V. The said Smith and Herrick are to be allowed fifteen hundred dollars for making a thorough investigation of the case in England, with reference to whether or not there is property there; if any, its situation, and also the pedigree of the party leaving the same; and, in addition thereto, we agree to pay to them ten per cent. of all we, or any of us, or our heirs, may recover from said estate.

ARTICLE VI. No member of this Association shall be liable to pay more than five dollars, as expenses or compensation, or otherwise, to any person or persons whatever.

ARTICLE VII. Any member of the Houghton family may become a member of this Association by paying five dollars to H. O. Smith, of Monkton, Vt., and signing this Constitution, entitling each member to a printed report of all information and reports made in the case, and also to the sum of two hundred dollars out of the money recovered.

REPORT.

TO THE HOUGHTON ASSOCIATION:

By the especial request of many members of the Houghton family, I attended your first family meeting at Winchendon.

I there informed you of the difficulties of substantiating a claim to an old estate in England. But few of these "large, unclaimed estates," reported to exist in England, existed in fact, and that but very few old estates in England had ever been recovered by American claimants. I considered the chances against you, though there was a possibility of your finding a large, unclaimed Houghton property preserved in the Court of Chancery, or in the hands of trustees, recoverable, but not in the possession of private individuals, for then your claim would be barred by the English statute of limitations.

I also mentioned to you there, the difficulties in the way of Americans recovering real estate in England. I then thought, and now think, no real estate in England, by a suit in any court, can be recovered by Americans whose grandfather was born in America, for they are aliens; [this does not apply to leasehold property;] but if an American should be found to be the real heir at law of a real estate there, the crown would be entitled to, and take, the property as an escheat. Then by petitioning the Lords of the Treasury for a sum of money equal to the value of the estate, (less the costs attendant upon the sale thereof,) I think a grant in money would be made to the claimant, though I do not know of a precedent. I believe the English government intends to do justice in all cases.

The information you gave me, at your first meeting, relative to unclaimed Houghton property in England, was, for the most part, traditionary, and, of course, not to be implicitly relied upon.

From the information there produced, I could not advise any member of the family to spend much money in the investigation, for I thought the chances of final recovery would not warrant it. But if the whole family wanted the case examined in England, by uniting they could have it done with but little expense to each member of the family. After an examination, should it be proved that the Houghton family were entitled to no property in England, then the information collected relative to the family would, in a measure, compensate for all outlay.

In accordance with the wishes of your Association, I will now give you all the information I have been able to collect, from various sources, relative to the matter under consideration. This report must, necessarily, be imperfect, for we have not yet had time nor opportunity to collect many facts in the case, nor but few full pedigrees of the different branches of the family.

Nearly every member of this family is aware that, for very many years, it has been currently reported, in different branches of the family, that there was a large Houghton property in England belonging to the Houghtons in America. This matter has been agitated, certainly, for more than sixty years. In 1847 a Mr. Rice was appointed agent for the Houghton family to examine this case in England. He went to England, and there made an examination and a report on the same. He had had no experience in making searches in England, and was unsuccessful in finding the desired property. The family were convinced his search was not so thorough as it ought to have been.

It is not necessary for me to rehearse here all the different reports that have been in circulation concerning this property, for such reports must be familiar to all of you.

The property claimed, by some, is said to be Houghton Tower and a very large tract of land around it; by others, it is said to be a large property in the Court of Chancery. I should have more confidence in the validity of a claim to property in the Court

Chancery, than I should to a claim of the family to any real estate. It seems to me that the statute of limitations [must be an effectual bar to all claims for the Houghton Tower property, though I do not know how long this property has been in the possession of the present occupants, but, I think, over forty years, the time allowed to bar all other claims.

Since I was appointed agent of your Association, I have heard that the Henshaws, of Massachusetts, claimed a Houghton property in England, and that, about the year 1719, their claim was near being substantiated in the Court of Chancery in England, but that claim was abandoned on the death of Joshua Henshaw, in England, in 1719. I have been informed that, some twenty-five years ago, this Henshaw claim was again revived, and some attorneys in New York tried to prove the Henshaw pedigree, but were unsuccessful.

It occurred to me that this was probably the property the Houghtons in America heard they were entitled to.

I can give no better statement of this case than can be found in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, April, 1868, page 112, viz :

Joshua Henshaw,* the grandfather of the first named Joshua, was born in Lancashire, England, about the year 1643, and with his brother Daniel, born about 1646, was fraudulently abducted and sent to New England, about 1652. They came to Dorchester, Mass., where they resided during their minority.† Joshua there married, in 1670, Elizabeth Sumner.‡ Three children were born to them. In 1688 he made his will, and in the early part of the next year went to England for the purpose of recovering the large property left by his parents in the care of Peter Ambrose, their steward, who bore the imputation, not without probable grounds of suspicion, of having sent the boys, Joshua and Daniel, out of England for the purpose of getting possession of their property ; for before they were sent away, they had lived in his care and on the estate for several years, and after their departure he retained possession, and died in the occupation of the estate. Wavertree Hall, extolled by Walter Scott, was a part of it.

* It does not appear when the name was changed from Hensha to Henshaw.

† The family tradition is, that the Rev. Richard Mather, who came from Lancashire, England, had the care of them, and of the money sent with them, for their support and education, and for setting them up in business.

‡ Elizabeth Sumner, eldest daughter of William and Elizabeth (Clement) Sumner; bap. June, 1652, d. in Dorchester in 1728. Ante, Vol. 8, 128 d.

When Joshua arrived in England, he found Joshua Ambrose in possession of and claiming the estates, as heir to his father Peter. Mr. Henshaw filed a bill in Chancery against Ambrose, but not being then prepared to prove his paternity, returned to Dorchester, and procured the necessary evidence. To this bill the defendant put in his answer, and at a subsequent term of the court, in 1690, the plaintiff not appearing, the bill was dismissed, with seven nobles costs. In 1692, after Mr. Henshaw's return to England, his case against Ambrose was restored to the docket, and kept there for nearly thirty years. In 1719, when it became certain that a decision was about to be rendered in favor of the plaintiff, Mr. Henshaw was invited by Ambrose to dinner, upon pretence of a desire to effect an amicable compromise, and soon after the dinner was seized with an illness, from which he died in a few hours. The suit was then dropped from the docket for want of a prosecutor.

You will see by the foregoing pedigree of Mr. Henshaw, that the American Henshaws are descended from Evan Houghton, through a female line.

Catherine Houghton married Wm. Henshaw. She is said to be the only daughter of Evan Houghton. The evidence of this is only contained in the pedigree of Mr. Henshaw, so far as we now know.

Mr. Henshaw, at the time the pedigree was made, was living in Massachusetts, as well as the descendants of John and Ralph Houghton.

It is possible that John and Ralph may have been descended from the same Evan Houghton, and their descendants may have claimed the same property.

We do not know when the American Houghtons first claimed. They may have known of their claim as early as the Henshaws. I find some branches of the Houghton family now claim to have descended from Evan Houghton.

This suit, instituted by Joshua Henshaw, may throw much light on the subject. This should be thoroughly examined; and through this we may find the birth of John and Ralph, and, if married in England, their marriages and the birth of some of their children.

And it is possible we may find the personal property of Evan Houghton still in chancery. I have heard of properties being recovered from this court after remaining in court nearly two hundred years, though such things are of very rare occurrence.

Last autumn I wrote my partner, Mr. Herrick, of London, that our information concerning this claim was then very limited, and I thought best not to spend much time or money in the case until I could gather all the facts in the case which could be collected in America, relative to the property and pedigree of the family. In the meantime, it would be well for him to collect all the advertisements he could find relative to Houghton, and to search the manuscripts made by the heralds, in their visitations, for Houghton pedigrees. And, a few months since, I wrote him to search for the pedigree of Evan Houghton.

I have received from him the following communication :

LONDON, ENGLAND, Jan. 14, 1869.

COLUMBUS SMITH, ESQ.:

Dear Sir:—I have secured a few advertisements, which I shall forward at once. The chancery case appears to be a good one; and I am endeavoring to ascertain the pedigree of Thomas Houghton. Perhaps this advertisement refers to the property originally claimed by the Houghtons of America. I have not yet been able to ascertain the amount in the case. But I hope soon to have reliable data, which will enable us to settle the matter. The fact of the property remaining so long unclaimed, is sufficient to encourage us. The other advertisements shall be attended to, also. So that nothing shall remain undone which will enable us to ascertain the cause of the tradition which has encouraged the claimants thus far. You have, probably, received some pedigrees, which I forwarded to your address some time since.

I have examined, particularly, the Evans Houghton claim, but am not yet able to report. The case involves much labor, and the records are almost inaccessible.

I hope, however, to be able to report upon this particular case soon.

With reference to the Houghton-tower claim, I think that the rightful claimants are now in possession of the property.

In the Bank of England, I have learned that there are still unclaimed dividends, standing in the name Houghton.

I am now at work, and shall exert every means to do justice to the case.

Yours, truly,

A. B. HERRICK.

Re Houghton.

“Pursuant to a decree of the High Court of Chancery, made in a cause, ‘Houghton vs. Chaffees.’ Such of the next of kin of Thomas Houghton, late of Liverpool, in Co. Lancaster, surgeon, deceased, as were living at the time of his death, which happened about April, 1844, and also the legal personal representatives of such of them as have since died, are forthwith to come in and make out their claims as such next of kin, &c., before Richard Richards, one of the masters of the said Court, in Chancery Lane.”—[London Gazette, 1852.

“Thomas Houghton, formerly of Tilney Cum Islington, Norfolk, farmer, or his representatives, will hear something of advantage by applying to De’Bernurdy, 69 Northumberland St. Strand.”—[Times, March 20, 1861.

“All persons claiming to be heirs at law and next of kin of Elizabeth Houghton, spinster, (who died January, 1823,) living at the time of her death, or to be such heir or heirs at law, or the personal representatives of any of the next of kin. The above named Elizabeth Houghton was the daughter of Richard Houghton, of the parish of St. Botolph, without Aldgate, in city of London, carpenter, who died in 1764, and of Margaret, his wife, and granddaughter of James Houghton, of Kinkham, near Preston, in Co. Lancaster, within, and at time of her death resided in Hill St. Bukely Sq. Also wanted, next of kin of Nancy Edwards, who was sister of said Elizabeth Houghton, and for several years previous to her death (in Sept. 1837,) resided at Enfield, in county Middlesex.”—[Mann’s Almanack, 1845.

“Thomas W. Houghton, son of Rev. Robert Houghton, of Dedham, in county of Essex, born in 1797. He was heard from in America, in 1830. He, or his representatives, will hear of advantage.”—[Times, May 3, 1851.

Mr. Herrick sent me pedigrees of Richard Houghton, of Thornley, in the county of Hereford, Thomas Houghton, of Houghton Tower, John Houghton, of Borough of Stamford, in the county of Lincoln, and of Roger Houghton, all of which he copied from the heralds’ manuscripts. As none of these seem to hit the family of American Houghtons, I concluded they would not be interesting to the members of this Association. I, therefore, omit them in this report.

Francis W. Houghton, of New York city, who has been long engaged in tracing the pedigree of the Houghton family, and in collecting interesting facts relating to the same, having succeeded in collecting a very large amount of information not generally known to the family, kindly forwarded to me the following communication, which I consider highly interesting, and his suggestions worthy of attention :

I have compiled the following genealogy from numerous genealogies sent me by various branches of the Houghton family. I have made it as correct as I can from the information I possess.

I. RALPH HOUGHTON came to America from England. He married Jane —, and report says he had two children born in England, viz. Ralph and James. Besides those children he had, by his wife Jane, issue,

II. Eight children, named in the preceding genealogy of Francis W. Houghton.

Ralph, the son of Ralph above named, is said to have married and had issue, viz :

- III. 1. JOSHUA, born in Lancaster, and
 2. ELEAZER, " " 1650; died in Lunenburg, Feb. 20, 1750.

Eleazer Houghton married Elizabeth Divol, and came to Lunenburg in 1726, and settled on the farm now in possession of Stephen Houghton, their great grandson. He was constable there in 1738. His wife Elizabeth was born in Lancaster, 1693, and died January 27, 1785. One gravestone marks their place of interment, upon which is the following inscription :

"They were born in Lancaster, and moved to Lunenburg in 1726.
 They lived together a married life 69 years and upward.

He lived a peaceful and pious life.
 And never had a lawsuit in his life.
 By this you see we are but dust;
 Prepare for death and follow us."

They had the following issue, viz :

- IV. 1. MARIAM.
 2. LOIS, who married Nathaniel Hastings.
 3. DARIUS.

4. ROBERT, who died August 7, 1740.
5. ELIZABETH, born in Lunenburg, December 5, 1728; married Robert Fletcher, of Lancaster.
6. RUTH, born January 30, 1732; married Moses ~~Stevens~~ Stearns.
7. ESTHER, born January 17, 1735; baptized May 11, 1735; died unmarried.

MARRIAGES.

(B.) Joseph Houghton, Jr., of Bolton, to Lois Ross, of Bolton, by Abel Willard, J. P., November 29, 1770, at Lancaster.

(A.) Joseph Houghton, of Bolton, to Susanna Brooks, of Bolton, by Mr. Thomas Goss, June 23, 1767.

DEATHS.

Joseph Houghton, died November 27, 1788, aged 68 yrs. 9. mos. 13 days.

S. W. Houghton, of Putney, Vermont, writes me that he has in his possession the original deed, given to John Houghton, of the township of Lancaster, Mass., dated June 6, 1701, signed by George Tehanto, Indian Sagamore, and six chiefs. Also the original letters of administration granted to Jacob Houghton on the estate of his father, John Houghton, who died February 3, 1736. This is signed by Joseph Chandler, judge of probate, and dated May 12, 1737. He further says, in his letter, that Robert Houghton, of Southwark, England, brewer, gave to Massachusetts Colony ten barrels of powder, and received the thanks of Gov. Vane and Lieut. Gov. Winthrop, June 28, 1636.

The foregoing, I believe, is nearly all the information I shall be able to collect in America, relative to the Houghton family and property, which can be of any advantage to Mr. Herrick in making his investigation in England.

I shall now forward to him all the information I have collected relative to the family and property, and request him to spare no pains, but make a thorough examination of the case in England, hoping his exertions may be crowned with success.

COLUMBUS SMITH.

WEST SALISBURY, Vt., May 14, 1869.

THE COLONIAL HOUGHTONS.

The Houghtons of Massachusetts are mostly descended from RALPH and JOHN HOUGHTON, who came to America, from England, some time between the years 1635 and 1647.

The name is largely represented among the original settlers of New England. The orthography differs considerably in old official records, the name of the same person being indifferently written Houghton, Haughton, Hauton, Horton, &c.

The first mention of the name we find in America, is in 1629, when HENRY HAUGHTON, having arrived by Higginson's fleet, landed at Salem, Mass. He was made a ruling elder in the church, and died the same year.

CHRI: HOUGHTON, aged 19, came to Virginia, January 6, 1635, in the "Thomas and John Richard," Lombard, master.

WILLIAM HOUGHTON, butcher, aged 22, came from England in the "Increase," Captain Robert Lea, April 15, 1635. He shortly after removed to Connecticut.

On the 20th June, 1635, "JOH: HOUGHTON, 4 yers. old," landed at Charlestown from the "Abigail de London," Captain Hackwell. His certificate was signed by the minister of Eaton Bray, near Dunstable, County Bedford, England. This may, perhaps, afford a clue to his parentage and birth-place.

The name also appears among those of the original settlers of Wales, Mass.

RICHARD HAUGHTON, of Boston, with his sons, JOSEPH and ROBERT, born respectively about 1639 and 1642, removed in 1651 to New London. A. RICHARD HAUGHTON died at Wethersfield, Conn., in 1682.

In 1649, WILLIAM HAUGHTON is named as a resident of Providence.

RALPH HOUGHTON.

We have no record of the landing of RALPH HOUGHTON. The Houghtons, of Milton, Mass., who are his lineal descendants, and who still occupy the homestead,* erected by him or by his son at that place, have the tradition that he arrived between 1635 and 1647; that he was a son of SIR RICHARD HOUGHTON, of Hoghton Tower, Lancashire, England, who was created a baronet by King James I, upon the institution of the order, in 1611; that, although Ralph had been knighted by the king, for services rendered to his person, he fought under Cromwell against King Charles I; and that, in consequence thereof, and of his religious opinions, he was forced to flee to America, leaving valuable estates, which are justly the property of his heirs.

This tradition is clearly traceable for four generations at least; and it is therefore reasonable to suppose that it also passed through the two previous generations, intervening between them and Ralph.

Although the Houghtons, of Hoghton Tower, do not credit the tradition that Ralph was the son of Sir Richard, and although no documentary proofs of its correctness can now be produced, yet circumstantial evidences are not wanting.

Sir Richard died in the year 1630, leaving several sons, among whom were SIR GILBERT, the eldest, who succeeded to the family estates and honors, and transmitted them, in turn, to his descendants, who now hold them with an undoubted title; and, if our tradition is to be credited, RALPH, the progenitor of the Houghtons in America.

* See engravings.

Sir Gilbert, the head of the family, during the civil war was a zealous and powerful adherent to the cause of the king. He garrisoned Houghton Tower, and held it as a royal stronghold. This castle, situated on the summit of a commanding hill,* overlooking Preston, was almost impregnable against such artillery and arms as were used in those days, unaided by treachery. Moreover, Sir Gilbert was a favorite with the king, and had been a companion, in youthful sports, with the young princes, as appears by the records of the time. The king, with his court, had visited Houghton Tower, and had been royally entertained there, with the most splendid festivities.

Ralph, on the contrary, is represented as having been as devoted a Roundhead as his brother was a Cavalier. Our old records, citing the tradition of his parentage, state that "he greatly excited the ire of the king against him." Now we know that, in 1643, Ralph was not over twenty years of age. He was, moreover, a younger son of a numerous family; and, however active he may have been in the revolutionary cause, he certainly made no mark in the general history of his time. How a person of no greater consequence than he, could have "greatly excited the ire" of a powerful monarch, it is not easy to conceive, except on the basis of some act of special audacity against either the king or some one near to him.

A possible cause for such a sentiment is afforded by the local history of the time. On the 13th of February, 1643, the parliamentary forces attacked Preston, and captured it, after a desperate conflict. They then turned their attention to Houghton Tower, and took it also, but not until after the great central gateway had been treacherously blown up, killing over two hundred men. Sir Gilbert escaped by so hasty a flight, as to leave his lady and family prisoners in the hands of the enemy, and his brother RATCLIFFE, a captain of horse, among the killed.

* This hill has been the seat of the family since the Conquest, A. D. 1066. One of its earliest possessors was styled "DOMINUS DE HOCTON," from the name of the estate; whence, by gradual corruption, we have our family name. Its literal signification is HIGH, corresponding to the French HAUT TON.

Now if it be possible that Ralph, in his puritanic hardihood, carried his zeal, in the revolutionary cause, so far as to lead, or even to assist, in the assault on his ancestral home, the bitterest feeling must have existed between his royalist brethren and himself; and it is therefore not surprising that his name appears no more upon the family rolls. This was before the great conflict between the king and his parliament was decided; and it was while the civil war was still raging, that Ralph sought a refuge in America. That he came with great secrecy, is evident from the fact that no records extant show when or how he left England, or arrived here: nor can any papers be found in evidence of his identity.

Strong reasons why no records exist, concerning his parentage and his estates in England, are readily suggested. Whatever documents he brought with him were, no doubt, burned in 1675, when Lancaster, Mass., was taken by the Indians under King Phillip. Ralph was then the recording officer of the settlement, and the town records were destroyed with the place. Moreover, it is not reasonable to suppose that one who had fled from before a powerful enemy in England, would, in an English colony, publish the fact of his identity to all comers, or endeavor to replace any official documents he may have lost. On the contrary, he would naturally communicate the facts to his children only, whence the knowledge would descend by tradition alone; precisely as ours has done.

Still, again, America was then at an incredible distance, practically, from England; and when one had settled on the far-off shores of the New World, he was almost regarded as out of the world altogether. Being, then, separated from his former home, literally by a great gulf; and being, moreover, one of those stern old puritans who affected a disregard for the fleeting treasures of this lower world, it is not surprising that when he turned his back upon the Old World, he washed his hands of all things therein—especially such of its possessions as he could not carry with him.

Of course, it is not pretended that these traditions are proven to be true; and yet, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, we are constrained to believe in the traditions which have been so religiously preserved, and transmitted to us, through many generations.

As a further evidence, in making researches among the family records, old genealogical collections, local histories, &c., much light has been thrown upon the subject, and considerable data discovered, which was not known to exist. Everything found, so far, goes to prove the truth of the family traditions, strengthening us in the belief of their entire truthfulness.

JOHN HOGHTON.

Another tradition obtains among the posterity of John Houghton, who was contemporaneous with Ralph, which, though it would seem, at first, to be incompatible with the traditions we have cited, is yet not irreconcilable with them. It is to the effect that Ralph and John were cousins, and were descended from JOHN and JONATHAN HOGHTON, of Lancashire, England. A statement to that effect was inserted in the town records of Lancaster, Mass., some years ago, at the request of one of the Houghtons. What evidence exists for the statement I know not.

Of Jonathan Houghton, I can learn nothing; but the ancestor JOHN referred to, was probably the JOHN HOGHTON of Pendleton, in Lancashire, whose pedigree is set forth on the accompanying chart. It is possible that by "Jonathan" is meant John's grandfather John. To avoid confusion, we will designate the latter, John I, the former, (his grandson,) John II, and the John who emigrated to America, John III.

- I. JOHN I married Elizabeth ———, and had issue—
- II. 1. HENRY, the heir, mentioned in 1569.
2. ALEXANDER, married Maud, daughter of James Aspinwall.
3. ROGER, married Elizabeth, daughter of Wm. Lester, of Midhope.
- II. HENRY HOGHTON, named above, had issue—
- III. 1. Robert Houghton, of Extwistle, 1567.
2. George.
3. JOHN II, the heir, married Agnes Asmull, 1584.

III. JOHN II, by Agnes, his wife, had—

IV. 1. Mary, married, first, to George Singleton.

And secondly, to Livesay Conor, of Stayning.

2. KATHARINE, married to Thomas Hoghton, a younger brother of SIR RICHARD HOGHTON, of Hoghton Tower, who was created a baronet, by James I, May 22, 1611.

IV. THOMAS and KATHARINE HOGHTON, had issue—

V. 1. Christian, (or Christiana,) married to Thomas Woolfall, of Woolfall.

2. Anne, married to Simon Blakely, of Blakely.

3. Jane, married to John Ben.

4. Katharine, married to John Whiteside.

JOHN III arrived in Massachusetts Bay, June 20, 1635, at the age of four years. If it can be proved that he was the son of Thomas and Katharine, as we suppose—and if Ralph was the son of Sir Richard, as our traditions declare—then Ralph and John III were blood-cousins, their parents, Sir Richard and Thomas, being brothers.

Upon the death of John II, his daughters Mary and Katharine, and his grand daughters Christiana, Anne, Jane and Katharine, became his co-heirs. If Thomas and Katharine, however, had had a son in the way, the estates would have been inherited by him, to the exclusion of the daughters.* This fact, in connection with John's shipment to America in infancy, affords grounds for a strong suspicion that he was foully wronged by an abduction, from interested motives, instigated, perhaps, by the four husbands who married the four daughters.

* A similar question, involving the vast estates of Thomas' grandfather, Sir Richard, had been settled on this principle but a short time previous. Sir Richard, by his first wife, had two sons, Thomas and Alexander, and a daughter, all married. Thomas, the eldest, inherited Sir Richard's estates, and at his death left a daughter, who claimed the property. After a lengthy contest in the courts, the estates were adjudged to Sir Richard's son Thomas, by his second wife, Alexander having died without children. This last named Thomas was the father of Sir Richard, first baronet; also of Thomas, who married Katharine Hoghton,

At this time Ralph, cousin of the infant John, was about eleven years of age, just old enough to know and remember passing events, without having a just appreciation of their significance and intent. This satisfactorily accounts for the transmission of the tradition to us. No doubt the relations of the x cousins to the family and officials in England, precluded the possibility of their taking any steps to obtain their rights during their lifetime.

The co-heiresses of John Houghton, II, sold Pendleton to Saville Radcliffe, Esq. Joshua Radcliffe, of Thodmorden, grandson of Saville, died in 1676, leaving one child and heiress, Elizabeth. She was married to Roger Mainwaring, who "wasted his estates." In 1836 Pendleton Hall was occupied by a yeoman.

FRANCIS W. HOUGHTON.

NEW YORK, April 8, 1869.

GENEALOGY.

- I. 1. RALPH HOUGHTON was born in 1623, as is supposed, in Lancashire, England. According to tradition, he was the son of Sir Richard Houghton, of Houghton Tower, Lancashire, who was created a baronet by King James I, upon the institution of the order, May 22, 1611.

Ralph fled to America, on account of his religious and political opinions. He had fought, under Cromwell, against King Charles I, although he had been previously knighted by the king for services to his person. He landed at Charlestown, Mass., some time between the years 1635 and 1647.

In 1647, Ralph and nine others founded the town of Lancaster, Mass. He was chosen the first town clerk; one of the six prudential managers; representative, 1673 and 1689; and held various other offices. Lancaster having been burned by the Indians in 1675, he removed to Woburn and Dorchester. In 1682 he settled at Milton, Mass.; and, on the 18th of June of that year, was admitted to full communion in the church, in company with his wife. He returned to Lancaster three years after, and remained there until 1689 or 1690, when he returned to Milton, and settled at "Scotch Woods, nigh unto Brush Hill," building the homestead which has ever since been occupied by his descendants. (See engravings.) He died there, April 15, 1705, aged 82.

- I. 2. He married Jane —, who was born 1626, and died at Milton, January 10, 1700-1.
They had children—
- II. 3. (a.) MARY, born at Lancaster, Mass., December 4, 1653;
4. married January 20, 1675, to Wm. Bentlett.
5. (b.) JOHN, born, Lancaster, April 28, 1655; died October 10, 1679.
6. (c.) JOSEPH, born, Lancaster, July 6, 1657; died at Milton, March 22, 1737; married, first, Jane Vose, daughter of Edward Vose, senior. She died at Milton, October 2, 1707. Married, second, December 8, 1708, Margaret Reding, who died 1737.
8. 9. (d.) EXPERIENCE, born, Lancaster, October 1, 1659; married, (as second wife,) May 22, 1684, to Ezra Clap of Dorchester.
10. 11. (e.) SARAH, born, Lancaster, February 17, 1662. Supposed to have married — Sawyer.
12. 13. (f.) ABIGAIL, born, Lancaster, July 15, 1664; married to John Hudson.
14. 15. (g.) HANNAH, born, Lancaster, October 16, 1667; died in Dorchester, unmarried, October 8, 1679.
16. (h.) RALPH,* born about 1663-5; died about 1692; married Mary —, who was born 1664.
17. II. 3-4. Mary and William Bentlett had children—
- III. 18. (a) WILLIAM, }
19. (b) HENRY, } baptized at Milton, April 2, 1691.
20. (c) HANNAH, }
- II. 6-7. JOSEPH and Jane Houghton, named above, settled at Milton, Mass., 1698. They had children—

* This Ralph is rather apocryphal. I find no record of his birth, and yet his name appears in the town records of Dorchester, Mass., in connection with those of other known members of the family. The genealogical collections of his time state that he was "probably a son of the first Ralph."

He was a mariner, and lost his life during the great earthquake at Port Royal, Jamaica, June 7, 1692. The Dorchester records state that he had a daughter MARTHA, born February 3, 1693—which is not impossible—and another, MARY, born June 30, 1695. [See Generation III, Nos. 37 to 40, on page 51.] There is evidently some error in the name or date. Perhaps the last named MARY, (III, 39,) was the daughter of her mother, Mary, (II, 17,) by a subsequent marriage.

- III. 21. (a.) EBENEZER, born, Lancaster, Aug. 25, 1695; died at Milton, January 24, 1783, aged 88 years; married, September 27, 1722, Sarah Evans.
22. Sarah Evans.
23. (b.) NATHANIEL, born 1696; died May 13, 1772; married, June 3, 1721, Deborah Belcher, who was born 1694, and died February 27, 1772.
24. Deborah Belcher.
