

WRITES FOR MOVIES

FAMOUS SCENARIO AUTHOR WITH UNIVERSAL FILM COMPANY LOCATES HERE

Everybody has heard of the wonderful movie serial, the "Tray of Hearts," and the author of that dramatic paper is also known by thousands. She is Miss Bess Meredith, who for some time made Los Angeles her home, but finding the attractions of Glendale so much greater moved out here a month ago and is now settled in a home at Cedar and Broadway.

Miss Meredith is a very busy lady. She is expected to turn out about ten reels weekly for the Universal people and that keeps her working busily all the time. "Still," says Miss Meredith, "it is not half as hard work as I used to do when I was a newspaper woman. I have done newspaper work in many places, notably in Buffalo, New York, where I was on the Buffalo Times. The hard work and training I received in the newspaper world has proved since of vast benefit to me. I find that the adaptability of mind I acquired in the service of the Buffalo Times and elsewhere is of as much use to me as an athletic training would be to the man who is afterwards thrown out to face the exigencies of the Alaskan wilderness or the difficulties of the Arizona desert.

Besides my experience in the newspaper world I have had five years in the moving picture world as a film actress. I usually took comedienne parts and made quite a success in those roles. I found, however, that I had talent that ran rather to the creation of the plays themselves than to the creation of characters out of plays written by others. This brought me at last to my present vocation of scenario writer.

"There are few people who frequent the modern movie theaters who have not seen my 'Tray of Hearts.' It was one of the most successful plays ever put on the film. 'Fleur de Lis' had quite as good a vogue for many a day and is still featured in many houses which did not participate in the first run.

"It is possible that many people of Glendale have seen my drama, 'The Sixth Commandment.' There is another drama I also got out, 'The Blood of the Children,' which is popular. It shows the iniquities of the system of child labor as practiced in the eastern states. Wherever shown this film has created quite a sensation.

"I said that the scenario work was not so hard as the old newspaper game. That is true and the reward is greater; but all the same I am always very busy. I find it is quite a job getting out ten reels a week. I have compensations, however. I am fond of riding and have my horse and get into the open air a great deal. This is very pleasant and can be indulged in in this charming climate at Glendale to great advantage. I like Glendale and I think it is ever so much nicer a place in which to live than Los Angeles. I hope to spend many happy days here."

C. L. COX WITH EVENING NEWS

C. L. Cox will begin Monday, Feb. 21, to represent the Evening News in the capacity of solicitor, collector and news gatherer. Mr. Cox was employed by the Evening News prior to July, 1915, for more than a year, and since that time, although being employed elsewhere, he has continued to reside in Glendale.

The carrier boys are not authorized to make collections. All money due on subscription and otherwise should be remitted to the office or paid to the regular collector. Unless definite arrangements have been made with the management every person to whose home the paper is delivered will be expected to pay for the paper.

Prompt payment to the collector by every subscriber lessens the expense of doing business, and thus enables the publisher to put out a better paper.

Thanking the patrons of the Evening News for the loyal support given the publication in the past and promising to continue giving Glendale a clean, newsy, daily, I remain

Sincerely yours,
A. T. COWAN,
Editor and Publisher.

Attending a matinee performance of "Ramona" during the week, Miss Nellie Taylor, a winter visitor from Algona, Iowa, had as guests Mrs. F. H. Vesper, Mrs. J. E. Blackford of Glendale, and Mesdames J. Forkinham, Carm Davenport and Dr. Holliday of Los Angeles.

NOVEL VALLEY SPRING

J. E. PECK OF IMPERIAL VALLEY PIPES HOT WATER TO HOUSE

J. E. Peck, son of C. E. Peck, 1010 W. Broadway, who went down to Imperial valley some time ago to work an 80-acre ranch he has near Brawley, has just struck a fine artesian well on his ranch, from which he has hot water piped to his house. This well is a great discovery, for in that quarter the water usually obtained by drilling is salt as the surface of the valley at that point is 80 feet below the level of the sea. The water flows out of the well which has been bored to a depth of 600 feet, at a temperature of 90 degrees Fahrenheit, all the year round. It is perfectly pure and of remarkably fine quality. When cooled it is the finest drinking water in the valley. The well has been put down with a 2-inch pipe and flows two gallons per minute. Another well on an adjoining property put down to the same depth with a 4-inch pipe flows 8 gallons a minute. One advantage of the well is that it needs no pumping.

CARL ANDERSON BREAKS LEG

Carl Anderson of 708 W. Broadway, who is a student at Occidental college, and who has been in the habit of riding to the college every morning on his wheel, was unfortunate enough to break his leg yesterday while on his way to his studies. The accident happened on Colorado boulevard, a little east of Adams street. In some way young Anderson's foot slipped off the pedal, which flew round and hit him above the ankle, breaking the bone. He has had trouble with this leg before and part of the bone had been removed. He was found by the roadside shortly after the accident by an autoist and taken home, where he was attended by Dr. Chase and then taken to the Clara Barton hospital in Los Angeles.

SMALL FORTUNE FOR TRAMP

A strawberry shaped birthmark on his skull revealed when he had his head shaved because of a scalp disease, will mean a snug fortune to James Harlan. He had been troubled with a scalp disease for several months, so he decided yesterday to have the hair on his head clipped close to the skin. The bald plate revealed a small strawberry birthmark on the scalp, which was noticed by Harlan's employer and benefactor, R. T. Macey, a ranchman living near Alhambra, Cal., and through it the ranch hand was identified as Macey's nephew.

As a result of the discovery of relationship between the two men, Macey made a will today in which he bequeathed all of his property to the nephew.

One rainy night last March Macey answered a knock at his door and found a tramp there who begged for a meal and a place in the barn to sleep. The vagabond was fed and given a bed for the night, but next morning he was so ill that Macey did not have the heart to turn him out, and doctored the wanderer for a week.

When the tramp was able to be around again Macey offered him work on the ranch, which was accepted. The tramp proved to be an industrious workman and the two men were more like friends than employer and employee, "batching" together at the ranch-house.

Harlan talked little and said nothing of his past life except to say that he had not been a tramp from choice, but from ill luck.

When Macey noticed the birthmark, made noticeable by the barber, he questioned Harlan and became convinced that the former tramp was the son of an only sister, whom he had left in Chicago twenty-five years ago.

Macey was living with his sister and brother-in-law when Harlan was born and the queer birthmark on the baby's skull was much talked of by the family. Macey came west shortly after the boy's birth, and, because of a quarrel with the sister, did not write her.

Harlan's mother and father were killed in a railway accident when the boy was two years old and he was adopted by a family named Harlan whose name he took and carries yet.

Among the hostesses entertaining during the past week was Mrs. Wm. Robbins of 911 Lomita avenue. The attractive home was beautifully decorated, scarlet geraniums and ferns having been chosen. The guests included members of the faculty of music of the University of Southern California. Mrs. Robbins has charge of the vocal section of that school.

VARIETY IN SHOW

GLENDALE HIGH SCHOOL GENIUS EXCELS ITSELF ON VAUDEVILLE STAGE

From the opening "College Overture," with its medley of students' songs, to the closing march in which national airs were mingled in delightful medley the "Variety Show" of the High School was a brilliant success. Under the direction of Mrs. Dora L. Gibson the orchestra had been trained to a high pitch of perfection and showed a precision in attack and a smoothness in interpretation that was pleasing and creditable.

The object of the show was to provide funds for the activities of the student body. The entertainment was entrusted to groups of students, each group attending to its own part. In this way the trouble of preparation of the whole did not fall on any one person. The expenses were light and the entertainment paid in every way.

One of the most pleasing features of the night's entertainment was Cecil Crandall's playing. Young Crandall has the real touch of genius and as he develops displays more and more a refinement of tone and delicacy of expression that will make of him a marvelous interpreter and composer. His playing of Kreissler's "Viennese Melody" was charmingly reminiscent of the lagoons and canals of that city of starlit visions. Grace and delicacy characterized his interpretation of an old "Minuet" from Veracini.

The Octette: J. Shea, J. T. Beach, H. G. Glazier, E. Seay, R. Kolts, W. E. Bode, I. S. Brown and S. Merriken. Under the direction of Mr. Joy, the commercial teacher, these eight musical geniuses gave a very amusing musical medley. In one of their popular songs, "When Billy Comes to Town," some of the peculiarities of Billy Sunday, the evangelist, were emphasized in most amusing manner. One of the best actors in this sketch was a goat of high intelligence, the property of Walter Rudolph Kohl of 802 Columbus avenue. The goat was a perfectly good and extremely useful animal before being introduced to the stage. Now he is stage struck and refuses to perform any of his useful duties, desiring to go back with the boys and live the delightful life of a histrionic vagabond.

In a skit, "Gwan Niggah," G. Oliver, K. Beldin, I. Westwood, P. Cramer, B. Martin, E. Kent and L. Reid all did well in the representation of a nigger boarding house, which was screamingly funny, while Kenneth Beldin was the life and soul of the piece. This act was under the direction of Miss Fenton, who had trained her burlesquers to a nicety.

Miss Winnifred Jones in a number of popular songs excelled even the high expectations that had been formed of her and the applause she elicited was genuine and prolonged.

In "A Typical G. U. H. S. Band Practice" the boys of the high school band under the direction of William Bode, who will some day make a first-class band director if he should elect to follow that line, gave a highly amusing exemplification of discords, ending with a fine piece of music.

The original sketch, "Squirrel Food," by Owen Dibbern and Dick Burk was the cause of much amusement to the audience. The two boys are natural comedians and deserving of all the applause and appreciation they received.

Miss Terry deserves great credit for the farce she got up, "An Economical Boomerang." The idea of the sketch was that a husband, Mr. Alexander Dabbleton, admirably acted by M. Garrett, insisted that his wife, charmingly portrayed by Mona Butler, should make her own dresses in order to save money. Using her husband as a lay figure Mrs. Dabbleton puts the skirt of the dress she is making on him and at that moment visitors arrive, Mr. Bird Plover and Mrs. Bird Plover, a newly married couple, acted by W. Renshaw and Marjorie Imler. The husband is left standing on the floor with the skirt on. The callers think he is insane and all manner of complications ensue. H. McGillis played the doctor admirably and Elizabeth Lyon was an excellent Irish maid.

Miss Dorothy Lee played the accompaniments for Cecil Crandall with great taste and skill. Mr. Ferguson deserves great credit for his management of the whole affair and for that genial cleverness by which he manages to get the best out of everybody. Harry Glazier exhibited himself in quite a new role as the "make up" artist. This task was no sinecure and the artistic effects he produced were visible in the nat-

HOLDING THE YOUNG

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT TROPICO DISCUSSES PLANS AND METHODS

Both sessions of the Sunday school convention, held at Tropico, in the First M. E. church, Friday, Feb. 18, were largely attended and much benefit was experienced by those in attendance. The devotional exercises were led by the Rev. Don S. Ford. The Rev. Paul Stephens of Orange county gave an excellent talk on "Evangelism." He said that the material the Sunday school handled was mouldable. The work of moulding it must be done today; tomorrow would be too late. Moulding a boy or girl in Christ was the work of the school as much as bringing the boys and girls to Christ. It is easier to save than to reclaim. A boy converted at ten is of more value than ten men converted at 50. Three-fourths of the church membership comes from the Sunday school. The speaker added that there were three important things in Evangelism: An evangelistic pastor, saved teachers and decision day.

Mrs. Henry A. Dowling gave a most profitable talk on "Secondary Work." She said that the secondary work embraced the "teen" age. One-third of the population of the United States consists of boys and girls from 13 to 20 years of age. In this department class and department organization is one of the best means of holding boys and girls of that age in the Sunday school. What is needed is not an aimless organization, but organization that tends to a definite end—the building up of Christians who will work for the Cause in a willing spirit. The speaker advocated separate opening exercises for older and younger classes. He also advised that different classes be entrusted from time to time with the opening exercises. This has been found helpful.

Boys' and girls' conferences were recommended as a means of advancing the work and interesting the scholars. Boys and girls should be trained to meet in conference and consult as to ways and means of work. Many of the "teen" age are lost to the church because they are giving nothing but "chore" work to do.

There will shortly be conferences between boys and girls of the Sunday schools in connection with the state officers.

At 5:30 the divisional conferences presided over by Dr. H. A. Dowling in the adult section and Mrs. Lucy J. Bassford in the elementary section elicited much interesting and valuable information.

Ninety-seven plates were laid at supper by the ladies of the Tropico M. E. church, while more than a score had to wait for the second table. The Rev. B. Dudley Snudden of Glendale Methodist Episcopal church acted as toastmaster. Each Sunday school superintendent present told of the best thing in his Sunday school.

At both sessions the church was packed full. Mrs. John D. Cole and Mrs. J. B. Clarke added much to the success of the meeting by their appropriate music. Prof. W. H. Head of Alhambra High school gave a dramatic interpretation of the Book of Job. His idea was that the Old Testament characters should be presented in an up-to-date style.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

George Purcell, president; C. H. Sainot, Burbank, first vice president; A. A. House, Eagle Rock, second vice president; L. D. Hyer, Tropico, third vice president; J. W. Stauffacher, secretary; A. J. McAdams, treasurer.

MRS. ELLIS' LUNCHEON

Ten covers were laid for a smart luncheon given by Mrs. Lawrence Ellis at her home, 541 South Kenwood avenue, Wednesday, the affair being stamped as one of the prettiest of this week's entertainments. The resplendent board was centered in a floral arrangement of narcissus and greens. The same beautiful blossom decorated the hand adorned place cards which bore the names of Mrs. John A. Hunchberger, Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mrs. Ben F. Logan of Kentucky and her hostess, Mrs. W. E. Evans; Mrs. Henry P. Goodwin, Mrs. Chas. Evans, Mrs. Albert D. Pearce, Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mrs. Chas. H. Temple and Mrs. Ellis.

ural appearance of all the characters in the piece.

In every way the high school showed that it possesses as much talent of the histrionic class as it has ever produced and much may be expected of these clever players.

DEVELOPMENT OF FOREIGN POLICY

Norman Angell, who is an opponent of war, against which he has written strongly, is telling the senators and representatives in Washington, D. C., that if they are not exceedingly careful that they will shortly be confronted with the questioning of Europe as to the meaning of the proposed increased armaments that are scheduled in the program of preparedness. This intended increase, according to Mr. Angell, is a grave danger because behind it is no definite foreign policy.

If the United States had a foreign policy the nations would understand that its preparedness program would be a move to back up that policy. The position of the United States would also be quite definite in the eyes of the world and there would be no possible mistake regarding its intentions. Just at present, says Mr. Angell, the nations are all asking what is the meaning of this sudden desire for armaments in the United States. To say that it is intended to guard against invasion is no explanation, says this authority. He points to the jealous speed with which Germany, for instance, questioned Russia, on her mobilization at the opening of the war in Europe, giving her twelve hours in which to answer, and infers that any sudden increase in armaments in this country would bring similar doubts and similar questionings and that the country might find itself at war before it was ready.

Mr. Angell also believes that the United States is in a fair way to get into war over Mexico. He points out that in Mexico there are a great many absolutely inadmissible concessions granted to foreign companies, which the United States, were it in the position of pacifying Mexico and settling that unfortunate country, would never sanction. There have been several revolutions in Mexico and several revolutionary chiefs. Each of these has granted concessions to foreign exploiters and any attempt to take them away would result in trouble.

Take for instance the concessions given to the Pearson company in the oil fields. That English company had the audacity to ask for, and President Diaz, in his dotage, had the fatuity to grant, along with some of the finest oil lands in the country the riparian and navigation rights on both sides of the river, so that no one can navigate the river or land for the purpose of doing any kind of business. Besides this, if this company should find oil no other company dare operate within three miles of a flowing well belonging to the Pearsons.

These and other concessions to Standard Oil, Mexican Petroleum, the Dos Banderas and many other foreign and American companies are certain to be the cause of trouble. Any cancellation of foreign concessions might bring on war. This and other significant utterances of Mr. Angell are sufficient to show how serious is the condition that the country faces in connection with foreign affairs. The Monroe doctrine, a policy, if it is one, that has never been defined, and which is replete with warlike possibilities, is likely to be made the subject of international dispute after the war in Europe is finished. Just at present no European nation professes to be able to understand it and the United States has never defined it and few know how much it means or to what extent the United States would go to enforce it as a policy.

To the open mind all this tends to show that the sooner the United States completes its policy of preparedness the better. The temptation to certain European nations to go to war with the United States is very great. At the close of that war the victors would be in possession of enormous armaments and powerful, trained armies and navies. The lack of money would be the very thing that would lead them into such a war, for with the possibility of holding such a city as New York to ransom, they could easily see where the money was to be obtained. A strong man, as Christ said, keeps his house only so long as a stronger than he does not come against him. In these days of rapid international changes this nation cannot afford to be unprepared.

A RECENT HAPPENING

Mrs. F. H. Vesper of 907 Lomita avenue entertained members of the "G. T." club and their husbands with a delightful evening at cards in her home very recently. Numerous and attractive floral arrangements of red carnations and ferns beautified the rooms given over for the evening's pleasant diversion.

Mrs. Herman Nelson and Mr. J. Roman captured the prizes. A delicious course supper was served at the small tables, covers being arranged for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Waite, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Naudain, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kling, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Romans, the Vespers and Mrs. Bishop, a special guest for the evening.

THE HIGHEST DAM IN THE WORLD

"The dam is built in a narrow, precipitous canon, through which the turbulent Boise river races. Its name is gained from a gigantic rock in that canon—the Arrowrock, which had won its name from the custom of the roving Indians who shot arrows into the face of it to tell their comrade which way they had traveled. By the angle of the arrow the late comers knew whether those in advance had gone up stream or down or up one of the many tributaries," says a writer in St. Nicholas.

"The construction of the dam commenced in 1911, although much preliminary and preparatory work had been done before that, the most important being that of diverting the river from the site of the dam while the building was in progress. This was done by cutting through the canon walls for 500 feet and turning the river through that. This tunnel was large enough to carry the river at its highest flood and was lined with cement. When the dam was finished, the tunnel was plugged with solid cement.

"In order to reach solid rock on which to anchor the dam foundation, it was necessary to go down 91 feet below the normal bed of the river. No less than 225,000 cubic yards of soil and gravel were removed to lay bare this bedrock.

"The dam, as finished, is 348 feet high, 240 feet thick at the base, tapering to 16 feet at the top, where there is a fine driveway, lighted at night with artistic electric lamps. The length of the dam is 1060 feet, curving gracefully up-stream with a radius of 662 feet. In its construction 530,000 cubic yards of cement were used, sufficient to make a column 10 feet square and 27 miles high."

"OUTLOOK" BANQUET

At 6:45 o'clock this evening the "Outlook" association of Los Angeles will be dined at Christopher's at 741 Broadway. The honored guest is Col. Harris Weinstock, state commissioner of markets, and he will give an address on "A State Market and Rural Credits." One of the most important economic debates ever held in Los Angeles will follow Col. Weinstock's address.

One of the circles of the Missionary society of the First Baptist church of Glendale held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank I. Marsh, 124 N. Central avenue, Thursday afternoon.

Young men of Glendale, are you attending Sunday school? If not, the Baraca class of the First Methodist Episcopal church invites you to meet with it every Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Mrs. William Sipple of Lemoore and her little daughter are visiting Mrs. Sipple's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ambrosini, 446 S. Jackson street. Mr. Sipple will pay a visit here later on.

The A. W. Towers of 733 South Adams street had as dinner guests last evening Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkins of St. Paul, Minnesota. The evening hours were spent with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ellis of 541 Kenwood street, talking over college days and old acquaintances. The Wilkins, Towers and Ellises are all graduates from Depauw university at Greencastle, Indiana.

Mrs. Eller, 339 S. Adams, gave a pleasant Valentine party Tuesday afternoon. The dining room was appropriately decorated. The occasion also celebrated the birthdays of two of the guests—Miss Olive Taylor and Miss Margaret West, who received birthday remembrances. The others present were: Inez Harrison, Elizabeth Edmonds, Dorothy Bonnell, Martha Eller, Alice Hetrick, Agnes Tucker, Aileen McMasters.

IN RED AND WHITE

In an attractive setting of red and white blossoms, Cupid's hearts and fern greenery, the Misses Tessa and Helen Bott were hostesses in the parental home at 1632 West Broadway Thursday evening. The affair was a joint Sunday school class party, including the boys of Rev. H. J. Hartsell's class and girl members of Mrs. Flora Pixley's class of the West Glendale Methodist Episcopal church.

Music and games were enjoyed, followed by the buffet supper which was served at a late hour.

A brother, Mr. Asa Bott, assisted in receiving the thirty-five guests.

All members of the section are urged to be present and take part in the contest and others interested invited to attend. Last year Mrs. P. S. McNutt, who represented the club, won the contest and had the honor of receiving the banner.

LECTURE ON WORLD VOCATIONS

Miss Putnam of Manual Arts High School will deliver a lecture at the Intermediate school on "World Vocations." The Intermediate school congratulates itself upon having secured her services, in this respect. Miss Putnam is vice principal of Manual Arts High School. Her lecture will be the first of the series of lectures upon "Specific Vocations." It will be a general lecture upon world vocations.

This introductory lecture is to be given at the Intermediate assembly Monday, Feb. 21, at 10:30 a. m. The general public and parents as well as the students will be welcome. Miss Putnam is fully prepared to handle her subject in a masterly fashion, having traveled and studied vocational education and guidance in the most progressive cities of America. She was sent by Los Angeles city school board for the purpose of securing data to be used in planning vocational work for the city schools.

Following this lecture at brief intervals evening talks will be given upon vocations most suited to the locality and people of this vicinity. These talks, although given by experts in each particular, will be free to all people interested. Parents and teachers as well as the children will find them of great interest and profit. Subjects, speakers and dates will be announced later.

TROPICO

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimberly, corner of Cerritos and San Fernando boulevard, was the scene of a brilliant assemblage of friends from Los Angeles, Glendale and Tropic, who enjoyed a delightful evening at U. S. 500 Friday evening. The home was decorated in many beautiful American flags. Old Glory was festooned over the archways the various rooms given over to the evening's entertainment and caught up in the draperies. Tall roses and low cut bowls, each filled with ferns and red roses and red carnations, added a charm to the happy occasion.

No less than twenty-eight of the prominent military and naval forts of the United States were represented as each table was a miniature fort.

Tiny American flags, above which was fastened the name of the fort, also the number of the table, fluttered from the respective forts covered with the national colors. The pretty score cards, the handiwork of Sir Francis Booth, emphasized the fact that a real battle, of cards, for the pretty prizes would be the order of the evening. When the final "charge" was made and the last fort "captulated" and there was an accounting of the various naval and military heroes it was discovered that Mrs. George E. Hallack of Los Angeles had won first prize, and Mrs. W. H. Royal, also of Los Angeles, second, while Mrs. Edward Carvel of Glendale captured the consolation. The brave "defenders" among the gentlemen and who captured the prizes were J. H. Bingham of Los Angeles, first, M. K. Fleming of Glendale, second, and B. Badger of Los Angeles, the consolation. In the drawing contest Mrs. Anna Orington of Los Angeles secured a handsome bronze medallion of Longfellow.

Dainty refreshments served at the gaily decorated tables or forts concluded the charming evening's entertainment. Mrs. Kimberly was assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Barker, Mrs. Charles H. Phillips, Miss Cora Hickman, Mrs. O. Earl Clements, Mrs. Dwight Griswold and Mrs. Henry F. Goodwin.

Mrs. Carrie Stone Freeman, chairman of the department of music of the Los Angeles district, presented the program at the regular meeting of the Tropic Thursday club. Mrs. Freeman is not only a noted vocalist, but a composer of beautiful melodies. As a happy finale to the delightfully charming vocal numbers rendered by Mrs. Freeman, at the urgent request of the club, she gave one of her own compositions, "Twilight." Miss Martin of Los Angeles accompanied Mrs. Freeman and proved herself an accomplished pianist. Miss Martin also gave several piano solos. The program was of interest and was classical entertainment and all were loathe to bid Mrs. Freeman and Miss Martin goodbye at the conclusion, for not only the program but the charming personality of these two artists appealed to the appreciative audience.

Mrs. Edwin Virden gave a paper in detail of the splendid work done by the Juvenile Protective league of Los Angeles. Miss Hickman gave a brief report of the Reciprocity program given by the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club, emphasizing the hospitality of this sister club.

Hostesses for this delightful meeting of Thursday were Mrs. O. Earl Clements, Mrs. E. K. Barnes, Mrs. D. H. Smith and Mrs. Claud O. Pulliam.

The artistic arrangement and the beautiful floral decorations at the Henry-Webb wedding, which was solemnized Tuesday evening at the Henry home in East Park avenue were under the supervision of Miss Evelyn Kennedy and Mrs. Mabel Carpenter of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Van Hazelen entertained as their guests at their home on West Park avenue Thursday Mrs. L. Ton of Chicago, Ill., Miss Maggie Vernand, Three Oaks, Michigan; Mrs. J. Vernand and Mrs. D. H. Gerritson of Los Angeles.

Mrs. E. W. Campbell of Gardena was the guest at luncheon of Mrs. David H. Imler Thursday and also Mrs. Imler's guests at the Tropic Thursday club.

A. St. Clair. His subject will be "Outcasts of Life." All cordially invited. Come.

WHITTIER CRESCENTS TONIGHT

What will undoubtedly prove one of the really good basketball games of the season will be played tonight at the Glendale Athletic club's gymnasium at 8:15. Whittier Crescents are a very strong aggregation, standing second at present in the league series. They run the Whittier college a very close second and at any moment might wipe out the difference between them. Glendale has a good chance to beat them as the local team is in many ways stronger and in some ways quicker. This game was postponed from yesterday as the Whittier team could not get here. Come out and help your local team to win. This will be a most interesting game. The Glendale lineup will be: Bidwell and Littell, forwards; Taylor, center; Farmer and Stone, guards.

SIGNOR PIETRO BUZZI

Tuesday afternoon, February 22d, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Masonic Temple, at the meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, music curator of the club's music section, has arranged for a wonderfully interesting program. The date had been set aside as "Music Day" and was to have been celebrated with a musical pageant. Owing to the many demands upon Mrs. Kinney's time and strength in assisting to make the recent charity benefit undertaking a success, the needed time could not be given in working up such a pageant to the standard of the past programs under her supervision, and 'tis well for the lovers of music. This ambitious worker has again secured a celebrity in the person of Signor Pietro Buzzi.

Signor Buzzi is an Italian by birth and well known throughout the entire musical world. His beautiful lyric tenor voice still possesses its original fine qualities so loved by those who heard it in grand opera for over 25 years. Signor Buzzi appeared with Madame Patti and other famous singers of that day. For the past ten years Signor Buzzi has called Los Angeles home and there he has his studio.

On Tuesday afternoon Signor Buzzi will present Miss Adele Levy, Miss Elsa Cohn and Mr. E. J. Dill in a "Musical" of grand opera selections and English ballads, with Miss Ardis Blanche Olds, accompanist.

- The program:
1. "Mia Chiamano Mimi".....Puccini

NAME WAS OMITTED

Among the girls who played on the victorious Central avenue school volleyball team was Cornelia Wilson. Cornelia was no small factor in the victory of the Casa Verdugo team, but unfortunately her name was omitted in the list of the team published in the Glendale Evening News Friday.

NORTH GLENDALE

Among the many social events of the past week was the luncheon and card party with which Mrs. M. H. Becker entertained some twenty of her many friends Friday afternoon at her attractive home, 1124 Melrose avenue. The rooms were beautifully decorated with gorgeous acacia bloom and progressive whist was played. An elaborate collation was served by the charming hostess who was assisted in entertaining by her sisters and niece, Mrs. E. Gleis, Mrs. F. Schwickert and Mrs. M. Hoxmeier, and the guests included Glendale and Los Angeles friends.

Miss Mervia Scott of Lomita avenue was the over night guest of Miss Mabel Eckles of 1124 Viola avenue Friday night.

Mrs. Lucius F. Drake of 1112 Melrose avenue was the guest of her brother and family, Mr. C. L. Closson of Gardena during the midweek.

Mrs. G. Kudolph and daughter, Miss Alice, have returned to their home in Oceanside after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Haig of 1008 San Rafael street and other North Glendale friends.

Mrs. J. O. Marsh of 1414 Valley View road is spending the week in Los Angeles with her sister.

Mr. Will Kirkpatrick of Ramona Acres was in North Glendale last Thursday and called upon Mrs. Kirkpatrick's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Alston of 1544 Valley View road, while here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Becker of 1124 Melrose avenue motored to Venice last Wednesday where they enjoyed the day with friends, returning to Los Angeles in the evening, where they had dinner before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Foster, who have been enjoying a delightful visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fordyce Hunter of 1020 San Rafael street for the past several weeks, have returned to their home in Arizona.

Mrs. George H. Marsh of 1109 San Rafael street is quite ill with a severe cold.

BOTTLE HOLDERS

The catsup, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and other bottles clad in their various colored labels have always been objectionable. Now with the new and attractive nickle and copper insets they are quite excusable, in fact, they are even decorative. With cold meats or for the salad course, the sauce and condiment bottles are often in evidence and until the advent of the insets have been one of the particular problems of the housewife. The little mustard pot in the brown ware to match the casseroles, in a nickle inset is especially attractive.

JIMMIE'S ALPHABET
"For what do you mean by writing me that my Jimmie can't pass into the next grade?" stormed an irate female, bursting into the principal's room. "An' after him doin' such grand work all the year."
"Why, Mrs. Flaherty," replied the teacher, "you must know better than that. I've sent you his report cards every month and you know that his marks have been nearly all 'D's.'"
"Indade they have, and yit you say he can't pass. I don't understand it, mum."
"I am afraid you don't understand our system of marking. 'D' means deficient, you know."
"Sure I don't know phat that may be, mum, but Jimmie told me all

TEN DOLLARS AN OUNCE FOR POSTAGE
The first settlement on the present site of San Francisco dates from 1776. It consisted of a Spanish military post (presidio) and the Franciscan mission of San Francisco de Asis. In 1836 the settlement of Yerba Buena was established in a little cove southeast of Telegraph Hill. The name San Francisco was, however, applied to all three settlements. The United States flag was raised over the town in 1846, and the population rapidly increased, reaching perhaps 900 in May, 1848. The news of the gold discoveries was followed by crowds of fortune seekers, so that by the end of 1848 the city had an estimated population of 20,000. From that time on San Francisco has grown rapidly. The first regular overland mail communication with the East was established by pony express in 1860, the charge for postage being $5 for half an ounce. In 1869 the completion of the Central Pacific Railway to Oakland marked the beginning of transcontinental railway communication.—(U. S. Geological Survey).

flour, sugar and milk in a stew-pan.
When cold, add yolks and whipped whites of the eggs last. Bake half an hour in mod-rate oven.

WANTED TOO MUCH Guest (calling to clerk at two in the morning)—There are two mice fighting in my room. What kind of a cheap place is this?
"What price did you pay for your room?" asked the sleepy clerk.
"Fifty cents," replied the irate guest.
"Well, what do you expect for fifty cents, a bull fight?" asked the clerk.

freedom from trembling and

The Missionary tea presided over by Mrs. Elizabeth Brown and Mrs.
Patterson in the home of the former on Thursday afternoon was well attended. Deaconess Wilde gave a most interesting talk on the work of deaconesses in general, and of her own work among the children and in "The Home for Children," in particular.

The first reception given by the Rector and the Rector's Guild last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs.
LeRoy W. Bosserman was successful beyond expectation and we hope in the future for many more such affairs. It also shows that this guild is needed and supplies a want.

LAW AND ORDER
We are so afraid of spoiling the child's "individuality" that we have forgotten the value of a quick, ready response to orders which ought to be part of the education of every citizen.
As a rule, reasonable parents feel that it is well to gratify a child in individual tastes and even whims when it does not entail harm to himself or to other; at the same time it is not a tragic fate when small boys and girls are required to conform to some kind of discipline. If they do not get it when they are small they are likely to meet it in some very hurtful way later in life.

Children should gradually be taught that they, as well as grown-ups, have to work shoulder to shoulder in this world, to do things they don't like, to live as others live, to forego their own wishes for the sake of the social whole and to defer to knowledge and experience—an! this last seems to be the hardest of all for them.
