THE LAW OF NUISANCES. With Statutory Appendix.

By E. W. GARRETT, M.A., of the Inner Temple, and Midland Circuit, Barrister-at-Law.

"Every matter that, in the eyes of the law, is regarded as a nuisance is considered. . . . While the work appeals more particularly to members of the legal profession, 'The Law of Nuisances,' there can be no question, will be found very useful by the general public, especially by officials of County Councils, Vestries, and Corporations."—City Press.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1893.

FINANCE.

The subscriptions received for the 1893 series of the Law Reports amounted to the sum of 23,199*l.* 7*s.* 4*d.* as compared with 23,817*l.* 9*s.* 4*d.* received in the year 1892. The amount realised by the sale of the Law Reports and Publications published prior to 1893 amounted to the sum of 1,876*l.* 10*l.* 2*d.*, as compared with 1,226*l.* 15*s.* 2*d.* received in the previous year for Reports published prior to that date, and the Council's share of profits received for advertisements amounted to the sum of 26*l.* 18*s.* 10*d.* The sum received from Investments and Money on Deposit was 1,143*l.* 18*s.* 11*d.*, making the total cash receipts 26,246*l.* 15*s.* 3*d.*

The expenditure for printing and delivery of the Law Reports, Statutes, Weekly Notes, Current Indices, and the Indian Appeals, together with the other Publications of the Council, amounted to the sum of 11,407*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.*, and the office expenses to 203*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.*

A comparison of the cost of printing the several series in the years 1892 and 1893, shows an increase in the latter year of 171*l.* 19*s.* 5*d.* in the Chancery series, and of 41*l.* 19*s.* 11*d.* in the Appellate series, while that of the Queen's Bench Division shows a decrease in the same year of 473*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.* The Statutes cost 46*l.* 13*s.* 8*d.* less, and the Weekly Notes 42*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* less, in the year 1893 than in 1892; but the Supplement to the Weekly Notes cost 76*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.* more. This increased expenditure was caused by the insertion of Rules of Court and other important matter. There was a decrease of 11*l.* 5*s.* 8*d.* in the cost of the Indian Appeals. In the years 1892 and 1893 the number of Sets printed was the same. As there was a very considerable demand for the Digest 1865-90, and the stock was nearly exhausted, the Council directed the Printers to print 750 additional Copies. These cost 976*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.*

The amount paid for salaries including a bonus to the Staff was 12,886*l.* 14*s.* 7*d.*

The above sums, with eighteen shillings for income tax and 203*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.* for office expenses, make the total expenditure for the year 24,447*l.* 13*s.* 9*d.*

The Stock in hand, valued at the cost price of printing only, amounts to 3,186*l.* 10*s.* 1*d.*; but it is not probable that this sum will ever be realised.

THE LAW REPORTS, INDEXES, AND DIGESTS.

It will be remembered by some of the older members of the profession that amongst the prominent evils urged at meetings of the Bar, held as far back as the years 1863-1864, were the great trouble and expense caused by the multiplicity of the then existing Reports. A Committee, consisting of some of the most eminent and active members of the profession, was appointed to devise a remedy, and a scheme was framed and adopted by the Bar on November 28th, 1864, the object of which was the establishment of a set of Reports at a reasonable cost to be prepared and published solely in the interests of the profession and without regard to private advantage or commercial profit. The Scheme provided for the appointment of a Council to which the control and management of the undertaking should be entrusted, such Council to be constituted by the Inns of Court and Incorporated Law Society, and to comprise the Law Officers of the Crown as ex-officio Members, so as to make it thoroughly representative of all branches of the profession. Under the supervision of this Council the Law Reports were started in 1866 at the subscription price of 5*l.* 5*s.*, and the profession for that sum received a complete body of the Case Law and Statute Law of the year. The success attending the undertaking was such that the Council were enabled not only to lower the subscription to 4*l.* 4*s.*, but from time to time to give to the Subscribers, in addition to the Weekly Notes, several new and valuable publications, viz.: The Index to the Statutes, Quarterly Digest of Cases, and Consolidated Digests. All these, as also an Index to the Gazette, were issued either without extra charge or considerably below cost price.

The Council observe that, although the number of existing series of Reports is already too large, a new set has been started during the present year by Commercial enterprise, under the somewhat self-assertive title of "The Reports." The Council cannot but regard this venture as a retrograde step, and opposed to the scheme agreed upon by the Bar, to which reference has already been made. The desire of the Council is to make their Reports as complete as possible, and with that view they will at all times welcome any suggestions for their improvement.

THE STATUTES.

The Council have had under their consideration several complaints of the inconvenience that has arisen from the great delay in the publication of the Statutes. The copies of the Statutes delivered to the subscribers to the Law Reports are printed by Messrs. Eyre and Spottiswoode, for the Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office, and are supplied to the Council from that office on advantageous terms. The Council are glad that they have, through their Chairman, succeeded in making a new arrangement with the Controller, which it is hoped will ensure a more rapid delivery of the Statutes in future.

CONSTITUTION OF THE COUNCIL.

The Council, under power contained in their Articles, have applied to and obtained the consent of their governing bodies, the Inns of Court and the Incorporated Law Society, to vary their constitution, and are now proceeding to complete the necessary arrangements.

The Council do not seek to change the number of their members, as provided by the Articles and original Bar Scheme, but if possible to make their body still more representative of the profession than at present. With this object they propose, in addition to the ex-officio members consisting of the Attorney and Solicitor-General, to constitute the President for the time being of the Incorporated Law Society an ex-officio member, and to substitute for the members formerly appointed by the Society of Serjeants' Inn, which has virtually ceased to exist, two additional members of the Bar, to be selected and appointed in such manner as the Council may from time to time determine. In determining the manner in which this selection and appointment shall be made, the Council will consult the accredited representatives of the Bar for the time being. They hope that these changes and appointments will further increase the stability and strength of the Law Reports and meet with the general approval of the profession.

CHANGES IN THE COUNCIL.

There have been several changes on the Council during the past year. Mr Serjeant Pulling, who was one of its oldest and most valued members, and took an active part in the preparation of the scheme under which the Council was originally constituted, retired on account of ill-health.

Joseph Brown, Esq., Q.C., C.B., who for many years acted as the Chairman of the Council, retired from that post a short time ago, and subsequently resigned his seat on the Council as one of the representatives of the Honourable Society of the Middle Temple. He rendered eminent services to the profession by his exertions to promote the success of the Law Reports, and his unwearied attention to his official duties. The Honourable Society of the Middle Temple appointed A. T. Lawrence, Esq., to succeed him. Two other vacancies on the Council were created by the retirement of His Honour Judge Meadows White, Q.C., who had acted as Vice-Chairman of the Council, and of His Honour Judge Lumley Smith, Q.C., each of whom found that his judicial engagements would prevent him from taking an active part on the Council. The Council have in addition to regret the retirement of J. A. Russell, Esq., Q.C., and Wm. Cracroft Fooks, Esq., Q.C., both of Gray's Inn. These four vacancies were supplied as follows:—The Honourable Society of the Inner Temple appointed F. A. Bosanquet, Esq., Q.C., and A. M. Channell, Esq., Q.C., to succeed Judge F. Meadows White, Q.C., and Judge Lumley Smith, Q.C., and the Honourable Society of Gray's Inn appointed James Francis Oswald, Esq., Q.C., and James Mulligan, Esq., to succeed J. A. Russell, Esq., Q.C., and Wm. Cracroft Fooks, Esq., Q.C.

The Right Honourable the Lord Justice Davey, on his appointment as one of Her Majesty's Judges of the Court of Appeal, consented, on the request of the Honourable Society of Lincoln's Inn, to continue to act as one of the representatives of that Society on the Council and to fill the office of Chairman, in succession to Mr. Joseph Brown, Q.C., C.B. Montague Crackanthorpe, Esq., Q.C., was selected as Vice-Chairman in succession to Judge Meadows White.

Sir Charles Russell, late Attorney-General, having become a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary, and Sir John Rigby having become Attorney-General, the new Solicitor-General, Robert T. Reid, Esq., has become an ex-officio member of the Council.

The Accounts have been prepared by Messrs. Wagstaff Blundell, Biggs & Co., the Chartered Accountants, and have been duly audited and found correct. The annual financial statement is appended hereto.

The Council desire, in conclusion, to make, as in former years, their acknowledgments to Her Majesty's Judges and the Profession generally for the aid and assistance afforded to the staff of Editors and Reporters in the performance of their several duties.

By Order,

(Signed) HORACE DAVEY,

Chairman.

TENEMENT HOUSES & FLATS (The Law Relating to), for Residential or Business purposes, including the Taxation and Rating thereof. With an Appendix of Precedents of Lease Forms, and a Digest of Cases relating to the Inhabited House Duty. By WALTER CLODE, Barrister-at-Law, of the Inner Temple, Associate of the Surveyors' Institution, Author of "The Law and Practice of Petition of Right."

"The growing habit of building monstrous houses, principally accessible only by means of lifts, has already had results conspicuous enough to justify the writing of a text-book on the legal rights and responsibilities of persons who have to do with them. . . . The whole volume appears to have been written with the same learning and judgment which characterize his former book about 'petitions of right.'"—Saturday Review.

"The great increase in recent years in the number of residential flats. . . . renders this book likely to be extremely useful."—Law Times.

"This is an interesting subject upon which Mr. Clode has written an interesting book. . . . The impulse which has been given recently to the building of flats in London and elsewhere increases the value of Mr. Clode's book, which will be found accurate and practical."—Law Journal.

"The increase in the number of residential buildings known popularly as 'flats,' makes the present time opportune for the publication of a legal work on this subject."—Builder.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES ON THE PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

* * The main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We are glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful revision. . . . It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, contained in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so contrived, by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be interesting, instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a list of leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly stated. The account of the Settled Land Acts, at pp. 145-156, may be commended as a very good piece of exposition. The index has been improved, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and convenient size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

"The success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance, only a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

ROBSON'S BANKRUPTCY.

Just Published. Seventh Edition. Royal 8vo., cloth, 38s.

THE LAW OF BANKRUPTCY

Containing a full exposition of the Principles and Practice of the Law, including the Law under the Bankruptcy Acts, 1883 and 1890; the Bankruptcy (Discharge and Closure) Act, 1887; the Debtors Act, 1869; the Bills of Sale Acts, 1878 and 1882; Section 10 of the Judicature Act, 1875; also the Law relating to Private Arrangements with Creditors, and the Deeds of Arrangement Act, 1887. With an Appendix comprising the Statutes, Rules, Orders and Forms, including Forms of Statutory Compositions and Schemes, &c.

BY

GEORGE YOUNG ROBSON, Esq.,

Barrister-at-Law.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"In spite of rivals, Robson's Law and Practice in Bankruptcy—an excellent treatise, we always thought—maintains its position in legal literature. It has now entered its seventh edition. The sixth edition was published before the Act of 1887, and consequently that Act and the Act of 1890 have had to be dealt with. The chapter on Bills of Sale is now put at the end of the volume. Beyond this there are no changes. The judicial decisions of recent years are duly noted, and Robson on Bankruptcy remains an efficient and up-to-date text-book."—Law Times.

"This standard work on bankruptcy has reached another edition, the author wisely considering that in consequence of the many important cases recently decided and the issue of the new rules, a new edition was desirable. We compliment the learned author on the wisdom of keeping his work well up to date. Of this edition we may fairly say, as of others, no practitioner with bankruptcy work should be without it; and as long as the author pursues the wise course of issuing fresh editions well up to date, we shall be able to accord future editions the same praise."—Law Notes.

RULES OF THE SUPREME COURT.

The following draft rules are published pursuant to the Rules Publication Act, 1893, by order of the authority to make Rules under the Supreme Court of Judicature Acts. Copies may be obtained from the Queen's Printer.

Draft Rules.

Rules of the Supreme Court, July, 1894.

Order XXX., Rule 7.

Evidence.

1. On the hearing of the summons, the Court or a Judge may order that evidence of any particular fact, to be specified in the order, shall be given by statement on oath of information and belief, or by production of documents or entries in books, or by copies of documents or entries or otherwise as the Court or Judge may direct.

Order XXXV., Rule 5A.

District Registrars.

2. At the end of Order XXXV., Rule 5, add:—

(g.) Interpleader Orders.

Order XXXVII., Rule 4A.

Distribution of Property; Evidence.

3. In any case relating to the distribution of any property whether in Court or out of Court, the Judge may, in order to avoid expense and delay, admit as evidence statements on oath of information and belief, and such other evidence as having regard to the circumstances of the case may be reasonable. As regards proceedings in Chambers, the Judge may exercise his discretion under this Rule, without any formal application, by giving directions to the Chief Clerk in any particular case as to the nature of the evidence to be admitted.

Order XLVI., Rule 1.

Meaning of "Company" and "Stock."

4. In the following Rules of this Order the expression "company" includes the Governor and Company of the Bank of England and any other public company, whether incorporated or not, and the expression "stock" includes shares, securities, and dividends thereon.

Order XLVI., Rule 2.

Application for and Effect of Charging Order. [1 & 2 Vict., c. 110, s. 14; 3 & 4 Vict., c. 82, s. 1.]

5. If a judgment debtor is interested in any stock standing in the books of any company or in any stock or funds in Court standing in the name of the Paymaster-General, the Court or a Judge, upon the ex parte application of the judgment creditor, may order the judgment debtor to show cause why the stock or funds, or any part thereof, should not be charged with the payment of the judgment debt and interest, and upon the making of the order the judgment creditor shall be entitled to all the remedies which he would have been entitled to if the charge had been made in his favour by the debtor; provided that no proceeding shall be taken to have the benefit of the charge until after the expiration of six months from the date of the order.

Order XLVI., Rule 3.

On Making of the Order no Transfer to be Made except by Directions of the Court or Judge. [1 & 2 Vict., c. 110, ss. 14, 15.]

6. Upon the making of an order under the last preceding Rule, no transfer of any stock affected thereby shall be made until the order is made absolute or discharged; and if after notice thereof to the company whose stock is affected thereby, and before the order is made absolute or discharged, the company permits any transfer of the stock to be made, the company shall be liable to the judgment creditor for the value of the stock so charged and transferred, or such part thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the judgment, and no disposition of the judgment debtor in the meantime shall be valid or effectual as against the judgment creditor; provided that where the stock is standing in the name of the Paymaster-General the order shall not prevent the company from permitting a transfer of the stock or payment of the income thereof in such manner as the Court or Judge may direct.

Order XLVI., Rule 3A.

Order to be made Absolute unless Cause Shown. [1 & 2 Vict., c. 110, s. 15.]

7. The Order, upon proof of notice thereof to the judgment debtor or his solicitor, shall, unless the judgment debtor within the time mentioned in the order shows cause to the contrary, be made absolute, but the Court or a Judge may vary or discharge the order upon the application of the judgment debtor or any person interested.

Order XLVI., Rule 8.

Effect of Service of Affidavit and Filed Notice.

8. A company upon whom the office copy of the affidavit and the duplicate of the filed notice have been served, shall not permit the stock specified in the notice to be transferred, or any dividends thereon to be paid until after a day specified in a notice in writing served by the company upon the person by whom the notice under Rule 4 of this Order was filed, or upon his solicitor, stating that a request has been received by the company from the person in whose name the stock is standing, or from some person acting on his behalf or representing him, that the stock may be transferred or the dividends thereon paid, and that unless an action is brought and an injunction obtained and served on or before the specified day, the notice will not be regarded.

Order XLVI., Rule 11A.

Order to Bank of England to Transfer Stock or Pay Dividends. [39 & 40 Geo. 3, c. 36, ss. 1 and 2.]

9. The Court or a Judge may make any order as to the transfer of any stock standing in the books of the Bank of England in the name of or belonging to any party to an action, or the payment of the dividends thereon, as to the Court or a Judge may seem just, and a certificate signed by the chief accountant of the Bank of England shall be evidence that the stock required to be transferred is standing in the books of the Bank in the name of the person required to transfer the same, and any order made under this Rule may be enforced against the Bank in the same way as if the Bank had been a party to the action or matter. Provided that an order shall not be made under this Rule, in any case where the Bank claims any interest in or lien on the stock, or, where further discovery is sought from the Bank than as by this Rule provided.

Order XLVI., Rule 11B.

10. The certificate referred to in the last preceding Rule shall be furnished by the Bank on a request in writing, signed by the proper officer of the Court, and the solicitor to the applicant, and shall state the amount of the stock required to be transferred, in whose name the stock is standing, and if it be particularly required, but not otherwise, when the stock, or any part thereof was transferred, and by whom.

Order XLVI., Rule 11C.

Fees on Proceedings under last Preceding Rule. [39 & 40 Geo. 3, c. 36, ss. 1 and 2.]

11. The fees of or incidental to any proceeding under the last preceding Rule shall be the same as heretofore or such other fees as may be prescribed.

Order XLVI., Rule 11D.

Order Restraining Transfer of Stock. [39 & 40 Geo. 3, c. 36, s. 1; 5 Vict., c. 5, s. 4.]

12. The Court or a Judge upon the application of any party interested may restrain any company from permitting the transfer of any stock standing in the name of any person in the books of the company, or from paying any dividends thereon, and any order made under this Rule shall specify the stock, and the amount thereof, to be affected thereby, and the name of the person in which the same is standing.

Order may be Discharged or Varied. [5 Vict., c. 5, s. 4.]

13. Any order made under the last preceding Rule may be discharged or varied upon the application of any party interested.

Order XLVI., Rule 14A.

Amendment of Rule 14.

14. In Order XLVI., Rule 14, the words "as a writ of distringas duly issued under the Act 5 Vict., c. 5, s. 5, would have had against the Bank of England" are hereby repealed, and the words "as if the office copy of the affidavit and the duplicate of the filed notice had been served upon the company as by Rule 4 of this Order provided" are substituted therefor.

Order XLVI., Rule 14B.

Vacating Registration of lis pendens. [80 & 81 Vict., c. 47, s. 2.]

15. Where any action or proceeding has been registered as a lis pendens against any person, if the action or proceeding is at an end, or if the Court or a Judge is satisfied that the lis pendens has been improperly registered, the Court or a Judge may order the vacating of the registration thereof without the consent of the party by whom it was registered.

Order XLVI., Rule 14C.

Fees on Vacating Registration of lis pendens. [80 & 81 Vict., c. 47, s. 2.]

16. Where any order is made under the last preceding Rule the proper officer shall, upon the filing of an office copy of the order, enter a discharge of the lis pendens on the register, and may issue certificates of the entry of discharge, and the fees payable for the entry of the discharge and for the certificates thereof shall be the same as heretofore, or such other fees as may be prescribed.

Order XLVIII., B.

Actions on Penal Bonds.Further Breaches. [8 & 9 Will. 3, c. 11, s. 8; 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 42, ss. 16, 18.]

17. (1.) In any action on a penal bond for the breach of any covenant contained therein in respect of which there may be further breaches, the writ may be indorsed with a claim for the amount of the penal sum mentioned in the bond, and judgment may be entered for the plaintiff for that amount as security against further breaches, but execution on the judgment shall be limited to the amount of the damages which the plaintiff is found to have sustained by reason of the breach of covenant, and costs.

Ascertainment of Damages on Further Breaches.

(2.) The Court or a Judge upon the ex parte application of a plaintiff who has obtained a judgment for the amount of the penal sum mentioned in a bond under the last preceding Rule, upon affidavit by himself or his solicitor that judgment has been obtained as therein provided, and that since the judgment was obtained further breaches have been committed, may order the defendant to appear before the Court or a Judge, or an officer of the Court, as the Court or Judge appoints, to show cause why any damages sustained by the plaintiff by reason of the said further breaches should not be assessed under a writ of inquiry or in any other way in which the Court or Judge may direct, and by the same or any subsequent order may order that execution limited to the amount of the said damages and costs shall issue on the said judgment; provided that the plaintiff shall not in any case recover by way of damages more than the amount of the penalty mentioned in the bond.

No Statement of Claim when Defendant does not Appear.

(3.) If the defendant fails to appear to the writ no statement or claim shall be delivered, and the plaintiff may at once deliver particulars of the alleged breaches to the defendant or his solicitor and proceed as mentioned in the last preceding Rule.

Proviso.

(4.) Provided that where the writ in an action is indorsed with a claim for the full amount of any penal sum mentioned in a bond, payment into court shall be admissible to particular breaches only, and not to the whole action.

Order LIV., Rule 4B.

Form and Issue of Originating Summons.

18. An originating summons shall be in the Form No. 1A, B, C, or D, Appendix K, or in the Forms G or H, Appendix K, to these

19. The parties served with an originating summons shall, except as hereinafter provided, before they are heard, enter appearance in the Central Office, or in Admiralty matters at the Admiralty Registry, and give notice thereof. A party so served may appear at any time before the hearing of the summons. If he appears at any time after the time limited by the summons for appearance he shall not, unless the Court or a Judge shall otherwise order, be entitled to any further time for any purpose, than if he had appeared according to the summons.

Order LIV., Rule 4D.

Attendance under Originating Summons.

20. The day and hour for attendance under an originating summons to which an appearance is required to be entered shall, after appearance, be fixed by notice, sealed with the seal of the Central Office in the case of a summons issued in the Queen's Bench Division, or of the Chambers of the Judge to whom such summons is assigned in the case of a summons issued in the Chancery Division, or of the Admiralty Registry in the case of Admiralty matters. Such notice shall be in Form No. 1F, Appendix K. The notice shall be served on the defendant or respondent by delivering a copy thereof at the address for service named in the memorandum of appearance of such defendant or respondent not less than four clear days before the return day. The day and hour for the hearing of an ex parte summons shall in the Chancery Division be fixed at the Chambers of the Judge to whom the matter is assigned on production of the originating summons.

Order LIV., Rule 4E.

Service of Summonses not being Originating Summonses.

21. Every summons, not being an originating summons to which an appearance is required to be entered, shall be served two clear days before the return thereof, unless in any case it shall be otherwise ordered. Provided that in case of summonses for time only, the summons may be served on the day previous to the return thereof.

Order LIV., 4F.

When Appearances not Required.

22. A respondent to an originating summons:—

Order LIV., Rule 24.

Eight-Day Motion.

24. In the Queen's Bench Division, except in matters of practice and procedure, every appeal to the Court from any decision at Chambers shall be by motion, and shall be made within eight days after the decision appealed against, or if no Court to which such appeal can be made shall sit within such eight days, then on the first day on which any such Court may be sitting after the expiration of such eight days.

Order LVII., Rule 11.

When Decision in Interpleader Proceedings to be Final.

25. Every decision of the Court or a Judge in any case where the Court or a Judge, with the consent of both claimants or on the request of any claimant, and having regard to the value of the subject matter in dispute, disposes of the merits of their claims and decides the same in a summary manner under Rule 8 of this Order, and in any case where the question is a question of law, and the facts are not in dispute, and the Court or a Judge decides the question without directing the trial of an issue under Rule 13 of this Order, shall be final and conclusive, and no appeal shall lie, either with or without leave, from any such decision. Provided that where a case is decided in a summary manner by a Master in pursuance of Rule 8 of this Order an appeal shall lie from the decision of the Master to a judge at Chambers.

Appeal by Leave from Judgment in Interpleader.

26. Subject to the last preceding Rule of this Order, the judgment in any action or on any issue ordered to be tried or stated in an interpleader proceeding shall be final and conclusive against the claimants, and all persons claiming under them, unless by special leave of the Court or a Judge, or of the Court of Appeal.

Order LXII., Rule 2.

Chancery Records.

27. (1.) Every order which, according to the practice at the time of the operation of this Rule, would require to be entered in the office of the Chancery Registrars, shall for the future be filed under the direction of the Senior Registrar. An entry of the filing thereof shall be made in books to be kept for that purpose, and all orders made throughout any year shall be numbered consecutively in the order in which they are filed. Every order so filed shall be deemed to be duly entered, and the date of such filing shall be deemed the date of entry. In the case of procedure orders drawn up in Chambers, no entry thereof shall be necessary before an attachment can be issued for disobedience thereof.

(2.) A duplicate of every order shall, one clear day after the same shall have been received at the Chancery Registrar's office, or in urgent cases sooner, if so directed by the officer by whom the same has been drawn up, be supplied out of the said office without fee to the solicitor or person having the carriage of the order; and wherever any Rule or order, or the practice of the Court, requires the production or service of the original order, it shall be sufficient to produce or serve the duplicate.

In the case of printed orders, a printed copy shall be marked as a duplicate and duly examined before sealing the same. In the case of written orders, a duplicate shall be written without abbreviations, and carefully examined by Writers specially selected for that purpose, under the direction of the Scrivenery Board, and the examination thereof certified in such manner as the Board shall direct; and no duplicate shall be sealed unless such examination shall have been so certified. Every duplicate shall be sealed before being issued, and there shall be noted thereon the number of the order, the date of entry, and the amount of the stamp on the original order.

(3.) A further duplicate may at any time, with the sanction of the Senior Registrar and on payment of the prescribed fee, be issued on the Senior Registrar being satisfied of the loss of the duplicate, and that the person applying is properly entitled to it.

(4.) Calendars or indexes of the orders entered in pursuance of this Rule shall be made under the direction of the Senior Registrar, so that the same may be conveniently referred to when required, and the original orders made in each year when filed shall from time to time be bound up in volumes. Such volumes and calendars, or indexes, shall from time to time be transmitted to the Filing and Record Department of the Central Office, to be there preserved, and shall at all times during office hours be accessible to the public on payment of the usual fee.

(5.) An order shall not be amended except upon production of the duplicate last issued, which shall, after the original order has been amended, be also amended in accordance therewith under the direction of the Senior Registrar, and the amendment in the duplicate shall be sealed under the like direction.

(6.) For the purposes of this rule "order" shall include judgment; and the Senior Registrar and the Scrivenery Board respectively shall give such directions as may be necessary for carrying this Rule into effect.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES ON THE PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Cambridge; Exhibitor in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

The main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

... glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful... It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so... by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be... instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a... leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly... The account of the Settled Land Acts, at pp. 145-156, may... be regarded as a very good piece of exposition. The index has... been revised, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and... small size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

... success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance... a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already

... have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

EMDEN'S PRACTICE AND FORMS IN WINDING-UP COMPANIES.

Concise and Practical Treatise upon the Law and Practice relating to the Winding-up of Companies from the commencement of the Winding-up Proceedings to Dissolution, with a Chapter on Reconstruction.

BY

HIS HONOUR JUDGE EMDEN,

Author of "THE LAW RELATING TO BUILDING, BUILDING LEASES, AND BUILDING CONTRACTS," "A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF PRACTICE STATUTES, ORDERS, AND RULES," "SHAREHOLDER'S LEGAL GUIDE," ETC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

... whole work is thoroughly well done. . . . We have rarely seen a work in which so much pains have been taken not only to set out the whole of the law and practice to which it relates, but to do so in the most lucid and concise manner. The book will be of great value to all who are concerned in the Winding-up of Companies, and especially to those who are comparatively new to the work. If the law ever goes wrong with Mr. Emden's book in his hand it will be his fault."—Law Times.

... think the arrangement of this book is very good. Each step in the winding-up proceedings is traced. . . . The statutes are printed in the appendix. . . . There is a very good time table, and a convenient tabulated summary of the leading cases upon the

... liability of contributories. . . . With regard to the treatment of the very numerous cases with which company law abounds, it is always intelligent, and the style is easy and perspicuous."—Law Journal.

"Mr. Emden is already well known as a legal author, and his book on the winding-up of companies will, we think, increase his reputation. This treatise is judiciously confined to the important branch of company law which relates to 'winding-up'; and the author is thereby enabled, within the compass of a moderate volume, to supply the practitioner with a very complete work. In arrangement, little is left to be desired; and, by variations of type and marginal references, the eye is assisted in its search for any particular subject. The appendix of forms cannot fail to be practically useful."—Solicitors' Journal.

THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH CONSTITUTION.

By DR. RUDOLPH GNEIST,
Professor of Law in the University of Berlin.

Translated by PHILIP A. ASHWORTH,
Of the Inner Temple, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The TIMES says:—

"No foreigner has done more than Professor Gneist to examine and make clear the history and nature of the English Constitution. . . . With a degree of perseverance to which all difficulties must succumb, he has for years investigated this subject. It has been the business of a long literary life. . . . The Constitutional struggles in Prussia brought into prominence many questions which had been settled, on the whole, successfully in England. . . . So minute has his examination been, so long has he been a student of English Constitutional history, so many changes has he, a careful observer, seen in his lifetime, that he speaks as an expert, and his writings have no small practical value for us. . . . He discusses such vital questions as—Whither are we drifting? How far do recent changes in the franchise accord with the old spirit of the Constitution? What is in store for us with democracy supreme? On such questions as these the opinion of a foreigner, who is a scholar, but no book-worm, and has sedulously studied our institutions, is certainly much more weighty than that of most Englishmen. . . . He recognizes the necessity of the first Reform Bill. . . . He recognizes the value of the reforms which came in its train—better trade, better finance, wiser administration, popular education, sanitary reforms. There was progress everywhere. . . . 'Only one thing had gone back—the internal cohesion of the members of the State and society, which are the vital essence of this Constitution.' . . . He fears that the custom of committing power to the leader of the majority for the time may cease; and 'then a time may recur in which the King in Council may have to undertake the actual leadership.' . . .

"It is worthy of note that a profound scholar, who has studied as closely as any living person the history of our Constitution, sees danger ahead, and that he has no belief in the efficacy of mechanical means of reform, and expects little from clever expedients for making the Parliamentary machine go somewhat more smoothly and swiftly. . . . Though the outlook seems to him gloomy, he does not despair. 'The thousand years of English history which lie behind us justify our confidence that this nation will rise triumphant out of the struggles before it, and, like the German nation, will find in its own past the best materials for the regeneration of this political system.' . . . To Englishmen his is, in many ways, the most instructive of histories, if only because it is well to see how our affairs look in the eyes of a foreigner who knows and admires England.

"Naturally these volumes recall Professor Dicey's work. . . . The contrast between them is great. Professor Dicey writes as a lawyer, and does not treat the subject historically. . . . Professor Gneist is at once a historian descending to minute details, a lawyer, and a political philosopher. He, too, emphasizes the truths on which Professor Dicey dwells; indeed, the latter does but reproduce Gneist's teaching on this head. But the investigation of the latter is wider and deeper. . . . Equally decided is his belief that our Constitution in its best and worst days has always been an aristocratic Government, 'certainly the best aristocratic Government in the history of mankind,' and he has no confident expectation as to the happy outcome of any deviation from this. . . . At this time these volumes are especially instructive. They cast light on almost all the great questions of current politics."

SATURDAY REVIEW.

"This book is a monument of German patience and industry. . . . Dr. Gneist's book, we may say in conclusion, ought to be on the shelves of every student of our constitutional history."

ACADEMY.

"Something like a national reproach is removed by this tardy recognition of the great services which Dr. Gneist has rendered to the history of English institutions. . . . It has a special interest in being the work of a foreigner, who looks at the subject from the outside, and who throws upon it the fresh light of his comparative knowledge."

SCOTSMAN.

"There are two questions to which, especially during the past fifty years, many learned and able writers, British and foreign, have laboured to furnish an answer. What is the English Constitution? . . . One of the most profound and exhaustive attempts ever made in this direction is undoubtedly furnished in the work before us. Professor Gneist approached his herculean task with very exceptional qualifications for its performance. . . . The heavy task of translating the book has been executed by Mr. Ashworth with taste and judgment."

LITERARY WORLD.

"Dr. Gneist's distinguished position as Professor of Law in the University of Berlin, and his world-wide fame as a writer on jurisprudence and history, give this, his latest work, an authority and a value that can hardly be over-estimated. . . . The whole of these later chapters on the Parliamentary Government of the eighteenth century are full of interest. . . . Dr. Gneist is a warm champion of a Second Chamber, which he considers absolutely essential to progress and development. . . . We must reluctantly take leave of Dr. Gneist's admirable work."

JOHN BULL.

"It is no small thing for one who, is not an Englishman to have written such a searching and exhaustive history of the English Constitution as is embodied in this work. . . . It is impossible to read such a book as this without learning a vast deal which is new. . . . The cordial thanks of all Englishmen who are interested in the constitutional history of their Fatherland are due to this painstaking and laborious writer."

BOOKSELLER.

"As a history of the Constitution, Professor Gneist's book will prove a dangerous rival to Hallam if it does not supersede it, and the work is sure to receive the weight and respect due to one of the first of living jurists and historians."

PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR.

"When all is so good, a selection is difficult, but of special excellence are the accounts of the development of the House of Commons (Third Period, Vols. i. and ii.), and of the struggle against the pretensions of the Stuart Kings in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries."

LAW JOURNAL.

"The book is of great interest and value to students of constitutional history."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"In spite of rivals, Robson's Law and Practice in Bankruptcy—an excellent treatise, we always thought—maintains its position in legal literature. It has now entered its seventh edition. The sixth edition was published before the Act of 1887, and consequently that Act and the Act of 1890 have had to be dealt with. The chapter on Bills of Sale is now put at the end of the volume. Beyond this there are no changes. The judicial decisions of recent years are duly noted, and Robson on Bankruptcy remains an efficient and up-to-date text-book."—Law Times.

"This standard work on bankruptcy has reached another edition, the author wisely considering that in consequence of the many important cases recently decided and the issue of the new rules, a new edition was desirable. We compliment the learned author on the wisdom of keeping his work well up to date. Of this edition we may fairly say, as of others, no practitioner with bankruptcy work should be without it; and as long as the author pursues the wise course of issuing fresh editions well up to date, we shall be able to accord future editions the same praise."—Law Notes.

MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1894.

DRAFT RULES OF THE SUPREME COURT FOR THE PURPOSE OF THE MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1894.

The following draft Rules are published pursuant to the Rules Publication Act, 1893, by order of the Authority to make Rules under the Supreme Court of Judicature Acts. Copies may be obtained from the Queen's Printer.

Note.

[The Joint Committee of the two Houses on Statute Law Revision, to which the Merchant Shipping Consolidation Bill was referred, authorized the omission of certain detailed provisions as to practice from the Bill on the ground that they dealt with matters which should be provided for by Rules of Court, and should not be included in the statute itself.

The determination of the Division of the High Court by which the jurisdiction with respect to various matters under the Bill is to be exercised has also been left to Rules of Court.

The first of the following Rules represents the present law with regard to the exercise of the jurisdiction, while the other two reproduce the existing provisions with regard to the matters which the Committee decided should be dealt with by Rules, with such alterations only as are necessary to make them consistent with modern practice.

There has been no application under the provisions reproduced in the Rules dealing with the repayment of money on volunteering into the Navy for the last twenty years, the last application being in June, 1874, but the power to apply still exists, and the procedure is therefore reproduced.]

General Jurisdiction under Merchant Shipping Act, 1894.

1. The jurisdiction of the High Court under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894 (in these Rules referred to as "the Act"), with the exception of that under sections twenty-eight, thirty, and five hundred and four of the Act, shall be assigned to the Probate, Divorce, and Admiralty Division.

Application under Section 30 of Merchant Shipping Act, 1894.

2. Any application under section thirty of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, may be made by summons or otherwise, and either ex parte or upon service of notice on any person as the Court may direct.

Application as to Excess of Wages paid on Seamen Volunteering into the Navy.

3.—(1) Any application to the High Court under section one hundred and ninety-seven of the Act shall be made to the Admiralty

Registrar, and shall be in such form, and shall be accompanied by such documents and by such statements, whether on oath or otherwise, as the President of the Probate, Divorce, and Admiralty Division directs.

(2) The Registrar shall, on receiving the application, give written notice thereof and of the sum claimed to the Admiralty, and shall proceed to examine the application, and shall, if necessary, apply to the Registrar-General of Shipping and Seamen to produce any papers in his possession relating thereto, and may call for further evidence.

(3) If the Registrar considers that the whole of the claim is just, he shall give a certificate accordingly, but if he considers that the claim or any part thereof is not just, he shall give notice of his opinion, in writing, under his hand to the person making the application, or his Solicitor or Agent.

(4) If within sixteen days from the giving of the last-mentioned notice the person to whom the notice is given does not cause to be left at the Admiralty Registry a written notice demanding that the application be referred to the Judge, the Registrar shall finally decide thereon, and certify accordingly.

(5) If the notice is left as aforesaid, the application shall stand referred to the Judge in chambers, and his decision thereon shall be final, and the Registrar shall certify the same accordingly.

(6) The Judge and Registrar shall in any proceeding under these Rules have full power to administer oaths, and to exercise all the ordinary powers of the Court, as in any other proceeding within its jurisdiction; and the Judge or Registrar (as the case may be) may, if he thinks fit, allow for the costs of any such proceeding any sum not exceeding five pounds for each seaman in respect of whom application is made; and that sum shall be added to the sum authorized to be repaid under the Act, and shall be certified by the Registrar accordingly.

4. These Rules may be cited as the Rules of the Supreme Court (Merchant Shipping), 1894.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES ON THE PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

* * * The main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We are glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful revision. . . . It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, contained in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so contrived, by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be interesting, instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a list of leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly stated. The account of the Settled Land Acts, at pp. 145-156, may be commended as a very good piece of exposition. The index has been improved, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and convenient size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

"The success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance, only a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

EMDEN'S PRACTICE AND FORMS IN WINDING-UP COMPANIES.

A Concise and Practical Treatise upon the Law and Practice relating to the Winding-up of Companies from the commencement of the Winding-up Proceedings to Dissolution, with a Chapter on Reconstruction.

BY

HIS HONOUR JUDGE EMDEN,

AUTHOR OF "THE LAW RELATING TO BUILDING, BUILDING LEASES, AND BUILDING CONTRACTS," "A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF PRACTICE STATUTES, ORDERS, AND RULES," "SHAREHOLDER'S LEGAL GUIDE," ETC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The whole work is thoroughly well done. . . . We have rarely met with a work in which so much pains have been taken not only to set forth the whole of the law and practice to which it relates, but to do so in the most lucid and concise manner. The book will be of great assistance to all who are concerned in the Winding-up of Companies, particularly to those who are comparatively new to the work. If the practitioner goes wrong with Mr. Emden's book in his hand it will be his own fault."—Law Times.

"We think the arrangement of this book is very good. Each step in winding-up proceedings is traced. . . . The statutes are printed at length in the appendix. . . . There is a very good time table, and also a convenient tabulated summary of the leading cases upon the liability of contributories. . . . With regard to the treatment of the very numerous cases with which company law abounds, it is always intelligent, and the style is easy and perspicuous."—Law Journal.

"Mr. Emden is already well known as a legal author, and his book on the winding-up of companies will, we think, increase his reputation. This treatise is judiciously confined to the important branch of company law which relates to 'winding-up'; and the author is thereby enabled, within the compass of a moderate volume, to supply the practitioner with a very complete work. In arrangement, little is left to be desired; and, by variations of type and marginal references, the eye is assisted in its search for any particular subject. The appendix of forms cannot fail to be practically useful."—Solicitors' Journal.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES ON THE PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerk and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

* * The main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We are glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful revision. . . . It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, contained in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so contrived, by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be interesting, instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a list of leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly stated. The account of the Settled Land Acts, at pp. 145-156, may be commended as a very good piece of exposition. The index has been improved, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and convenient size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

"The success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance, only a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

EMDEN'S PRACTICE AND FORMS IN WINDING-UP COMPANIES.

A Concise and Practical Treatise upon the Law and Practice relating to the Winding-up of Companies from the commencement of the Winding-up Proceedings to Dissolution, with a Chapter on Reconstruction.

BY

HIS HONOUR JUDGE EMDEN,

AUTHOR OF "THE LAW RELATING TO BUILDING, BUILDING LEASES, AND BUILDING CONTRACTS," "A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF PRACTICE STATUTES, ORDERS, AND RULES," "SHAREHOLDER'S LEGAL GUIDE," ETC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The whole work is thoroughly well done. . . . We have rarely met with a work in which so much pains have been taken not only to set forth the whole of the law and practice to which it relates, but to do so in the most lucid and concise manner. The book will be of great assistance to all who are concerned in the Winding-up of Companies, particularly to those who are comparatively new to the work. If the practitioner goes wrong with Mr. Emden's book in his hand it will be his own fault."—Law Times.

"We think the arrangement of this book is very good. Each step in winding-up proceedings is traced. . . . The statutes are printed at length in the appendix. . . . There is a very good time table, and also a convenient tabulated summary of the leading cases upon the liability of contributories. . . . With regard to the treatment of the very numerous cases with which company law abounds, it is always intelligent, and the style is easy and perspicuous."—Law Journal.

"Mr. Emden is already well known as a legal author, and his book on the winding-up of companies will, we think, increase his reputation. This treatise is judiciously confined to the important branch of company law which relates to 'winding-up'; and the author is thereby enabled, within the compass of a moderate volume, to supply the practitioner with a very complete work. In arrangement, little is left to be desired; and, by variations of type and marginal references, the eye is assisted in its search for any particular subject. The appendix of forms cannot fail to be practically useful."—Solicitors' Journal.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES

ON THE

PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clarke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

* * * The main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We are glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful revision. . . . It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, contained in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so contrived, by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be interesting, instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a list of leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly stated. The account of the Settled Land Acts, at pp. 145-156, may be commended as a very good piece of exposition. The index has been improved, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and convenient size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

"The success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance, only a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

EMDEN'S PRACTICE AND FORMS IN WINDING-UP COMPANIES.

A Concise and Practical Treatise upon the Law and Practice relating to the Winding-up of Companies from the commencement of the Winding-up Proceedings to Dissolution, with a Chapter on Reconstruction.

BY

HIS HONOUR JUDGE EMDEN,

AUTHOR OF "THE LAW RELATING TO BUILDING, BUILDING LEASES, AND BUILDING CONTRACTS," "A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF PRACTICE STATUTES, ORDERS, AND RULES," "SHAREHOLDER'S LEGAL GUIDE," ETC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The whole work is thoroughly well done. . . . We have rarely met with a work in which so much pains have been taken not only to set forth the whole of the law and practice to which it relates, but to do so in the most lucid and concise manner. The book will be of great assistance to all who are concerned in the Winding-up of Companies, particularly to those who are comparatively new to the work. If the practitioner goes wrong with Mr. Emden's book in his hand it will be his own fault."—Law Times.

"We think the arrangement of this book is very good. Each step in winding-up proceedings is traced. . . . The statutes are printed at length in the appendix. . . . There is a very good time table, and also a convenient tabulated summary of the leading cases upon the liability of contributories. . . . With regard to the treatment of the very numerous cases with which company law abounds, it is always intelligent, and the style is easy and perspicuous."—Law Journal.

"Mr. Emden is already well known as a legal author, and his book on the winding-up of companies will, we think, increase his reputation. This treatise is judiciously confined to the important branch of company law which relates to 'winding-up'; and the author is thereby enabled, within the compass of a moderate volume, to supply the practitioner with a very complete work. In arrangement, little is left to be desired; and, by variations of type and marginal references, the eye is assisted in its search for any particular subject. The appendix of forms cannot fail to be practically useful."—Solicitors' Journal.

ROBSON'S BANKRUPTCY.

Just Published. Seventh Edition. Royal 8vo., cloth, 38s.

THE LAW OF BANKRUPTCY

Containing a full exposition of the Principles and Practice of the Law, including the Law under the Bankruptcy Acts, 1883 and 1890; the Bankruptcy (Discharge and Closure) Act, 1887; the Debtors Act, 1869; the Bills of Sale Acts, 1878 and 1882; Section 10 of the Judicature Act, 1875; also the Law relating to Private Arrangements with Creditors, and the Deeds of Arrangement Act, 1887. With an Appendix comprising the Statutes, Rules, Orders and Forms, including Forms of Statutory Compositions and Schemes, &c.

BY

GEORGE YOUNG ROBSON, Esq.,

Barrister-at-Law.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"In spite of rivals, Robson's Law and Practice in Bankruptcy—an excellent treatise, we always thought—maintains its position in legal literature. It has now entered its seventh edition. The sixth edition was published before the Act of 1887, and consequently that Act and the Act of 1890 have had to be dealt with. The chapter on Bills of Sale is now put at the end of the volume. Beyond this there are no changes. The judicial decisions of recent years are duly noted, and Robson on Bankruptcy remains an efficient and up-to-date text-book."—Law Times.

"This standard work on bankruptcy has reached another edition, the author wisely considering that in consequence of the many important cases recently decided and the issue of the new rules, a new edition was desirable. We compliment the learned author on the wisdom of keeping his work well up to date. Of this edition we may fairly say, as of others, no practitioner with bankruptcy work should be without it; and as long as the author pursues the wise course of issuing fresh editions well up to date, we shall be able to accord future editions the same praise."—Law Notes.

LEADING CASES IN MODERN EQUITY.

BY THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law, LL.B.; London University, B.A.; late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Author of Brett's Commentaries on the Present Laws of England; Joint Author of Clarke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"Specially recommended as a text-book for 'The Final.'"—Solicitors' Journal.

"Deserves high praise for the care and judgment evinced in its execution. Mr. Brett's index appears to be copious and complete."—Law Times.

"We have laid Mr. Brett's book down with none but favourable and pleasurable feelings at the excellent manner in which he has accomplished his task. It is of the very first importance both to the student and the practitioner to have the principles of Equity collected in a handy form, and this want Mr. Brett has supplied. The notes to the cases are admirable in manner and lucid in language; and no little pains seem to have been bestowed in the arrangement of the cases themselves."—Law Magazine.

"Must prove of immense value to the profession. Mr. Brett has done all in his power to help students and practitioners by as far as possible grouping together the cases dealing with the same classes of subjects. Among the more important matters decided will be found cases relating to trusts and trustees, mortgages, partnerships, the relations between solicitors and clients, married women's property, and the religious education of children. A good index adds considerably to the usefulness of the work."—Daily Chronicle.

"The manner in which most of the cases are stated is admirable, being clear, concise, and well expressed. As it is, we have no hesitation in saying that there is no better book, or one so good, from which the student can learn the most important decisions of courts of equity during recent years."—The Jurist.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES

ON THE

PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

* * The main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We are glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful revision. . . . It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, contained in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so contrived, by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be interesting, instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a list of leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly stated. The account of the Settled Land Acts, at pp. 145-156, may be commended as a very good piece of exposition. The index has been improved, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and convenient size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

"The success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance, only a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

EMDEN'S PRACTICE AND FORMS IN WINDING-UP COMPANIES.

A Concise and Practical Treatise upon the Law and Practice relating to the Winding-up of Companies from the commencement of the Winding-up Proceedings to Dissolution, with a Chapter on Reconstruction.

BY

HIS HONOUR JUDGE EMDEN,

AUTHOR OF "THE LAW RELATING TO BUILDING, BUILDING LEASES, AND BUILDING CONTRACTS," "A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF PRACTICE STATUTES, ORDERS, AND RULES," "SHAREHOLDER'S LEGAL GUIDE," ETC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The whole work is thoroughly well done. . . . We have rarely met with a work in which so much pains have been taken not only to set forth the whole of the law and practice to which it relates, but to do so in the most lucid and concise manner. The book will be of great assistance to all who are concerned in the Winding-up of Companies, particularly to those who are comparatively new to the work. If the practitioner goes wrong with Mr. Emden's book in his hand it will be his own fault."—Law Times.

"We think the arrangement of this book is very good. Each step in winding-up proceedings is traced. . . . The statutes are printed at length in the appendix. . . . There is a very good time table, and also a convenient tabulated summary of the leading cases upon the liability of contributories. . . . With regard to the treatment of the very numerous cases with which company law abounds, it is always intelligent, and the style is easy and perspicuous."—Law Journal.

"Mr. Emden is already well known as a legal author, and his book on the winding-up of companies will, we think, increase his reputation. This treatise is judiciously confined to the important branch of company law which relates to 'winding-up'; and the author is thereby enabled, within the compass of a moderate volume, to supply the practitioner with a very complete work. In arrangement, little is left to be desired; and, by variations of type and marginal references, the eye is assisted in its search for any particular subject. The appendix of forms cannot fail to be practically useful."—Solicitors' Journal.

THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH CONSTITUTION.

By DR. RUDOLPH GNEIST,
Professor of Law in the University of Berlin.

Translated by PHILIP A. ASHWORTH,
Of the Inner Temple, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The TIMES says:—

"No foreigner has done more than Professor Gneist to examine and make clear the history and nature of the English Constitution. . . . With a degree of perseverance to which all difficulties must succumb, he has for years investigated this subject. It has been the business of a long literary life. . . . The Constitutional struggles in Prussia brought into prominence many questions which had been settled, on the whole, successfully in England. . . . So minute has his examination been, so long has he been a student of English Constitutional history, so many changes has he, a careful observer, seen in his lifetime, that he speaks as an expert, and his writings have no small practical value for us. . . . He discusses such vital questions as—Whither are we drifting? How far do recent changes in the franchise accord with the old spirit of the Constitution? What is in store for us with democracy supreme? On such questions as these the opinion of a foreigner, who is a scholar, but no book-worm, and has sedulously studied our institution<sup>a</sup>, is certainly much more weighty than that of most Englishmen. . . . He recognizes the necessity of the first Reform Bill. . . . He recognizes the value of the reforms which came in its train—better trade, better finance, wiser administration, popular education, sanitary reforms. There was progress everywhere. . . . 'Only one thing had gone back—the internal cohesion of the members of the State and society, which are the vital essence of this Constitution.' . . . He fears that the custom of committing power to the leader of the majority for the time may cease; and 'then a time may recur in which the King in Council may have to undertake the actual leadership.' . . .

"It is worthy of note that a profound scholar, who has studied as closely as any living person the history of our Constitution, sees danger ahead, and that he has no belief in the efficacy of mechanical means of reform, and expects little from clever expedients for making the Parliamentary machine go somewhat more smoothly and swiftly. . . . Though the outlook seems to him gloomy, he does not despair. 'The thousand years of English history which lie behind us justify our confidence that this nation will rise triumphant out of the struggles before it, and like the German nation, will find in its own past the best materials for the regeneration of this political system.' . . . To Englishmen his is, in many ways, the most instructive of histories, if only because it is well to see how our affairs look in the eyes of a foreigner who knows and admires England.

"Naturally these volumes recall Professor Dicey's work. . . . The contrast between them is great. Professor Dicey writes as a lawyer and does not treat the subject historically. . . . Professor Gneist is at once a historian descending to minute details, a lawyer, and a political philosopher. He, too, emphasizes the truths on which Professor Dicey dwells; indeed, the latter does but reproduce Gneist's teaching on this head. But the investigation of the latter is wider and deeper. . . . Equally decided is his belief that our Constitution in its best and worst days has always been an aristocratic Government, 'certainly the best aristocratic Government in the history of mankind,' and he has no confident expectation as to the happy outcome of any deviation from this. . . . At this time these volumes are especially instructive. They cast light on almost all the great questions of current politics."

SATURDAY REVIEW.

"This book is a monument of German patience and industry. . . . Dr. Gneist's book, we may say in conclusion, ought to be on the shelves of every student of our constitutional history."

ACADEMY.

"Something like a national reproach is removed by this tardy recognition of the great services which Dr. Gneist has rendered to the history of English institutions. . . . It has a special interest in being the work of a foreigner, who looks at the subject from the outside, and who throws upon it the fresh light of his comparative knowledge."

SCOTSMAN.

"There are two questions to which, especially during the past fifty years, many learned and able writers, British and foreign, have laboured to furnish an answer. What is the English Constitution? . . . One of the most profound and exhaustive attempts ever made in this direction is undoubtedly furnished in the work before us. Professor Gneist approached his herculean task with very exceptional qualifications for its performance. . . . The heavy task of translating the book has been executed by Mr. Ashworth with taste and judgment."

LITERARY WORLD.

"Dr. Gneist's distinguished position as Professor of Law in the University of Berlin, and his world-wide fame as a writer on jurisprudence and history, give this, his latest work, an authority and a value that can hardly be over-estimated. . . . The whole of these later chapters on the Parliamentary Government of the eighteenth century are full of interest. . . . Dr. Gneist is a warm champion of a Second Chamber, which he considers absolutely essential to progress and development. . . . We must reluctantly take leave of Dr. Gneist's admirable work."

JOHN BULL.

"It is no small thing for one who is not an Englishman to have written such a searching and exhaustive history of the English Constitution as is embodied in this work. . . . It is impossible to read such a book as this without learning a vast deal which is new. . . . The cordial thanks of all Englishmen who are interested in the constitutional history of their Fatherland are due to this painstaking and laborious writer."

BOOKSELLER.

"As a history of the Constitution, Professor Gneist's book will prove a dangerous rival to Hallam if it does not supersede it, and the work is sure to receive the weight and respect due to one of the first of living jurists and historians."

PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR.

"When all is so good, a selection is difficult, but of special excellence are the accounts of the development of the House of Commons (Third Period, Vols. i. and ii.), and of the struggle against the pretensions of the Stuart Kings in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries."

LAW JOURNAL.

"The book is of great interest and value to students of constitutional history."

 Barrister-at-Law.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"In spite of rivals, Robson's Law and Practice in Bankruptcy—an excellent treatise, we always thought—maintains its position in legal literature. It has now entered its seventh edition. The sixth edition was published before the Act of 1887, and consequently that Act and the Act of 1890 have had to be dealt with. The chapter on Bills of Sale is now put at the end of the volume. Beyond this there are no changes. The judicial decisions of recent years are duly noted, and Robson on Bankruptcy remains an efficient and up-to-date text-book."—Law Times.

"This standard work on bankruptcy has reached another edition, the author wisely considering that in consequence of the many important cases recently decided and the issue of the new rules, a new edition was desirable. We compliment the learned author on the wisdom of keeping his work well up to date. Of this edition we may fairly say, as of others, no practitioner with bankruptcy work should be without it; and as long as the author pursues the wise course of issuing fresh editions well up to date, we shall be able to accord future editions the same praise."—Law Notes.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES

ON THE

PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

* * * The main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We are glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful revision. . . . It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, contained in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so contrived, by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be interesting, instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a list of leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly stated. The account of the Settled Land Acts, at pp. 145-156, may be commended as a very good piece of exposition. The index has been improved, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and convenient size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

"The success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance, only a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

BY

HIS HONOUR JUDGE EMDEN,

AUTHOR OF "THE LAW RELATING TO BUILDING, BUILDING LEASES, AND BUILDING CONTRACTS," "A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF PRACTICE STATUTES, ORDERS, AND RULES," "SHAREHOLDER'S LEGAL GUIDE," ETC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The whole work is thoroughly well done. . . . We have rarely met with a work in which so much pains have been taken not only to set forth the whole of the law and practice to which it relates, but to do so in the most lucid and concise manner. The book will be of great assistance to all who are concerned in the Winding-up of Companies, particularly to those who are comparatively new to the work. If the practitioner goes wrong with Mr. Emden's book in his hand it will be his own fault."—Law Times.

"We think the arrangement of this book is very good. Each step in winding-up proceedings is traced. . . . The statutes are printed at length in the appendix. . . . There is a very good time table, and also a convenient tabulated summary of the leading cases upon the liability of contributories. . . . With regard to the treatment of the very numerous cases with which company law abounds, it is always intelligent, and the style is easy and perspicuous."—Law Journal.

"Mr. Emden is already well known as a legal author, and his book on the winding-up of companies will, we think, increase his reputation. This treatise is judiciously confined to the important branch of company law which relates to 'winding-up'; and the author is thereby enabled, within the compass of a moderate volume, to supply the practitioner with a very complete work. In arrangement, little is left to be desired; and, by variations of type and marginal references, the eye is assisted in its search for any particular subject. The appendix of forms cannot fail to be practically useful."—Solicitors' Journal

THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH CONSTITUTION.

By DR. RUDOLPH GNEIST,
Professor of Law in the University of Berlin.

Translated by PHILIP A. ASHWORTH,
Of the Inner Temple, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The TIMES says:—

"No foreigner has done more than Professor Gneist to examine and make clear the history and nature of the English Constitution. . . . With a degree of perseverance to which all difficulties must succumb, he has for years investigated this subject. It has been the business of a long literary life. . . . The Constitutional struggles in Prussia brought into prominence many questions which had been settled, on the whole, successfully in England. . . . So minute has his examination been, so long has he been a student of English Constitutional history, so many changes has he, a careful observer, seen in his lifetime, that he speaks as an expert, and his writings have no small practical value for us. . . . He discusses such vital questions as—Whither are we drifting? How far do recent changes in the franchise accord with the old spirit of the Constitution? What is in store for us with democracy supreme? On such questions as these the opinion of a foreigner, who is a scholar, but no book-worm, and has sedulously studied our institutions, is certainly much more weighty than that of most Englishmen. . . . He recognizes the necessity of the first Reform Bill. . . . He recognizes the value of the reforms which came in its train—better trade, better finance, wiser administration, popular education, sanitary reforms. There was progress everywhere. . . . 'Only one thing had gone back—the internal cohesion of the members of the State and society, which are the vital essence of this Constitution.' . . . He fears that the custom of committing power to the leader of the majority for the time may cease; and 'then a time may recur in which the King in Council may have to undertake the actual leadership.' . . .

"It is worthy of note that a profound scholar, who has studied as closely as any living person the history of our Constitution, sees danger ahead, and that he has no belief in the efficacy of mechanical means of reform, and expects little from clever expedients for making the Parliamentary machine go somewhat more smoothly and swiftly. . . . Though the outlook seems to him gloomy, he does not despair. 'The thousand years of English history which lie behind us justify our confidence that this nation will rise triumphant out of the struggles before it, and like the German nation, will find in its own past the best materials for the regeneration of this political system.' . . . To Englishmen his is, in many ways, the most instructive of histories, if only because it is well to see how our affairs look in the eyes of a foreigner who knows and admires England.

"Naturally these volumes recall Professor Dicey's work. . . . The contrast between them is great. Professor Dicey writes as a lawyer and does not treat the subject historically. . . . Professor Gneist is at once a historian descending to minute details, a lawyer, and a political philosopher. He, too, emphasizes the truths on which Professor Dicey dwells; indeed, the latter does but reproduce Gneist's teaching on this head. But the investigation of the latter is wider and deeper. . . . Equally decided is his belief that our Constitution in its best and worst days has always been an aristocratic Government, 'certainly the best aristocratic Government in the history of mankind,' and he has no confident expectation as to the happy outcome of any deviation from this. . . . At this time these volumes are especially instructive. They cast light on almost all the great questions of current politics."

SATURDAY REVIEW.

"This book is a monument of German patience and industry. . . . Dr. Gneist's book, we may say in conclusion, ought to be on the shelves of every student of our constitutional history."

ACADEMY.

"Something like a national reproach is removed by this tardy recognition of the great services which Dr. Gneist has rendered to the history of English institutions. . . . It has a special interest in being the work of a foreigner, who looks at the subject from the outside, and who throws upon it the fresh light of his comparative knowledge."

SCOTSMAN.

"There are two questions to which, especially during the past fifty years, many learned and able writers, British and foreign, have laboured to furnish an answer. What is the English Constitution? . . . One of the most profound and exhaustive attempts ever made in this direction is undoubtedly furnished in the work before us. Professor Gneist approached his herculean task with very exceptional qualifications for its performance. . . . The heavy task of translating the book has been executed by Mr. Ashworth with taste and judgment."

LITERARY WORLD.

"Dr. Gneist's distinguished position as Professor of Law in the University of Berlin, and his world-wide fame as a writer on jurisprudence and history, give this, his latest work, an authority and a value that can hardly be over-estimated. . . . The whole of these later chapters on the Parliamentary Government of the eighteenth century are full of interest. . . . Dr. Gneist is a warm champion of a Second Chamber, which he considers absolutely essential to progress and development. . . . We must reluctantly take leave of Dr. Gneist's admirable work."

JOHN BULL.

"It is no small thing for one who is not an Englishman to have written such a searching and exhaustive history of the English Constitution as is embodied in this work. . . . It is impossible to read such a book as this without learning a vast deal which is new. . . . The cordial thanks of all Englishmen who are interested in the constitutional history of their Fatherland are due to this painstaking and laborious writer."

BOOKSELLER.

"As a history of the Constitution, Professor Gneist's book will prove a dangerous rival to Hallam if it does not supersede it, and the work is sure to receive the weight and respect due to one of the first of living jurists and historians."

PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR.

"When all is so good, a selection is difficult, but of special excellence are the accounts of the development of the House of Commons (Third Period, Vols. i. and ii.), and of the struggle against the pretensions of the Stuart Kings in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries."

LAW JOURNAL.

"The book is of great interest and value to students of constitutional history."

ROBSON'S BANKRUPTCY.

Just Published. Seventh Edition. Royal 8vo., cloth, 38s.

THE LAW OF BANKRUPTCY

(A TREATISE ON).

Containing a full exposition of the Principles and Practice of the Law, including the Law under the Bankruptcy Act, 1883 and 1890; the Bankruptcy (Discharge and Closure) Act, 1887; the Debtors Act, 1869; the Bills of Sale Act, 1878 and 1882; Section 10 of the Judicature Act, 1875; also the Law relating to Private Arrangements with Creditors, and the Deeds of Arrangement Act, 1887. With an Appendix comprising the Statutes, Rules, Orders and Forms, including Forms of Statutory Compositions and Schemes, &c.

BY

GEORGE YOUNG ROBSON, Esq.,
Barrister-at-Law.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

In spite of rivals, Robson's Law and Practice in Bankruptcy—an excellent treatise, we always thought—maintains its position in legal literature. It has now entered its seventh edition. The sixth edition was published before the Act of 1887, and consequently that Act and the Act of 1890 have had to be dealt with. The chapter on Bills of Sale is now at the end of the volume. Beyond this there are no changes. The judicial decisions of recent years are duly noted, and Robson on Bankruptcy remains an efficient and up-to-date text-book."—Law Times.

This standard work on bankruptcy has reached another edition, the author wisely considering that in consequence of the many important cases recently decided and the issue of the new rules, a new edition was desirable. We commend the learned author on the wisdom of keeping his work well up to date. Of this edition we may fairly say, that no practitioner with bankruptcy work should be without it; and as long as the author pursues the wise policy of issuing fresh editions well up to date, we shall be able to accord future editions the same praise."—Law Notes.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES ON THE PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitor in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

* * * The main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We are glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful revision. . . . It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, contained in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so contrived, by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be interesting, instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a list of leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly stated. The account of the Settled Land Act, at pp. 145-156, may be commended as a very good piece of exposition. The index has been improved, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and convenient size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

"The success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance, only a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

EMDEN'S PRACTICE AND FORMS IN WINDING-UP COMPANIES.

A Concise and Practical Treatise upon the Law and Practice relating to the Winding-up of Companies from the commencement of the Winding-up Proceedings to Dissolution, with a Chapter on Reconstruction.

BY

HIS HONOUR JUDGE EMDEN,

AUTHOR OF "THE LAW RELATING TO BUILDING, BUILDING LEASES, AND BUILDING CONTRACTS," "A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF PRACTICE STATUTES, ORDERS, AND RULES," "SHAREHOLDER'S LEGAL GUIDE," ETC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The whole work is thoroughly well done. . . . We have rarely met with a work in which so much pains have been taken not only to set forth the whole of the law and practice to which it relates, but to do so in the most lucid and concise manner. The book will be of great assistance to all who are concerned in the Winding-up of Companies, particularly to those who are comparatively new to the work. If the practitioner goes wrong with Mr. Emden's book in his hand it will be his own fault."—Law Times.

"We think the arrangement of this book is very good. Each step in winding-up proceedings is traced. . . . The statutes are printed at length in the appendix. . . . There is a very good time table, and also a convenient tabulated summary of the leading cases upon the liability of contributories. . . . With regard to the treatment of very numerous cases with which company law abounds, it is always intelligent, and the style is easy and perspicuous."—Law Journal.

"Mr. Emden is already well known as a legal author, and his labours on the winding-up of companies will, we think, increase his reputation. This treatise is judiciously confined to the important branch of company law which relates to 'winding-up'; and the author thereby enabled, within the compass of a moderate volume, to supply the practitioner with a very complete work. In arrangement, it is left to be desired; and, by variations of type and marginal references, the eye is assisted in its search for any particular subject. The appendix of forms cannot fail to be practically useful."—Solicitors' Journal.

DARBY and BOSANQUET

ON THE

STATUTES OF LIMITATIONS

IN ## ENGLAND AND IRELAND.

SECOND EDITION.

BY

F. A. BOSANQUET, Q.C., and J. R. V. MARCHANT, Barrister-at-Law.

"Twenty-six years have elapsed since the appearance of Darby and Bosanquet's Treatise on the Statutes of Limitations. During this period that work has held the field, no other very satisfactory dissertation on the subject of it having been produced. The result of this delay in the preparation of a second edition has been to compel the practitioner to consult special handbooks in all cases in which the law since 1867 has been altered by statute or by decision. And in the interval since that date at least two important Acts of Parliament—the Real Property Limitation Act of 1874, and the Trustee Act, 1888—and a mass of judicial opinion, have combined to alter, modify, or settle many points relating to the limitation of actions. In the meantime Mr. Darby has died, and Mr. Marchant has become the colleague of Mr. Bosanquet. The legal profession is to be congratulated upon the possession of a work, which, after a careful examination of its statements and comments upon difficult questions, appears to us to supply a long-felt want—the want of a reliable guide to a very intricate and far-reaching branch of English jurisprudence. The plan of the new edition follows substantially that of its predecessor, but we are not surprised that, having regard to the causes already mentioned, it has become necessary, as the authors state, to re-write the entire book."—Law Quarterly Review.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES

ON THE

PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

* * * The main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We are glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful revision. . . . It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, contained in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so contrived, by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be interesting, instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a list of leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly stated. The account of the Settled Land Acts, at pp. 145-156, may be commended as a very good piece of exposition. The index has been improved, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and convenient size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

"The success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance, only a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

EMDEN'S PRACTICE AND FORMS IN WINDING-UP COMPANIES.

A Concise and Practical Treatise upon the Law and Practice relating to the Winding-up of Companies from the commencement of the Winding-up Proceedings to Dissolution, with a Chapter on Reconstruction.

BY

HIS HONOUR JUDGE EMDEN,

AUTHOR OF "THE LAW RELATING TO BUILDING, BUILDING LEASES, AND BUILDING CONTRACTS," "A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF PRACTICE STATUTES, ORDERS, AND RULES," "SHAREHOLDER'S LEGAL GUIDE," ETC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The whole work is thoroughly well done. . . . We have rarely met with a work in which so much pains have been taken not only to set forth the whole of the law and practice to which it relates, but to do so in the most lucid and concise manner. The book will be of great assistance to all who are concerned in the Winding-up of Companies, particularly to those who are comparatively new to the work. If the practitioner goes wrong with Mr. Emden's book in his hand it will be his own fault."—Law Times.

"We think the arrangement of this book is very good. Each step in winding-up proceedings is traced. . . . The statutes are printed at length in the appendix. . . . There is a very good time table, and also a convenient tabulated summary of the leading cases upon the liability of contributories. . . . With regard to the treatment of the very numerous cases with which company law abounds, it is always intelligent, and the style is easy and perspicuous."—Law Journal.

"Mr. Emden is already well known as a legal author, and his book on the winding-up of companies will, we think, increase his reputation. This treatise is judiciously confined to the important branch of company law which relates to 'winding-up'; and the author is thereby enabled, within the compass of a moderate volume, to supply the practitioner with a very complete work. In arrangement, little is left to be desired; and, by variations of type and marginal references, the eye is assisted in its search for any particular subject. The appendix of forms cannot fail to be practically useful."—Solicitors' Journal.

ROBSON'S BANKRUPTCY.

Just Published. Seventh Edition. Royal 8vo., cloth, 38s.

THE LAW OF BANKRUPTCY (A TREATISE ON).

Containing a full exposition of the Principles and Practice of the Law, including the Law under the Bankruptcy Acts, 1883 and 1890; the Bankruptcy (Discharge and Closure) Act, 1887; the Debtors Act, 1869; the Bills of Sale Acts, 1878 and 1882; Section 10 of the Judicature Act, 1875; also the Law relating to Private Arrangements with Creditors, and the Deeds of Arrangement Act, 1887. With an Appendix comprising the Statutes, Rules, Orders and Forms, including Forms of Statutory Compositions and Schemes, &c.

BY

GEORGE YOUNG ROBSON, Esq.,
Barrister-at-Law.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"In spite of rivals, Robson's Law and Practice in Bankruptcy—an excellent treatise, we always thought—maintains its position in legal literature. It has now entered its seventh edition. The sixth edition was published before the Act of 1887, and consequently that Act and the Act of 1890 have had to be dealt with. The chapter on Bills of Sale is now put at the end of the volume. Beyond this there are no changes. The judicial decisions of recent years are duly noted, and Robson on Bankruptcy remains an efficient and up-to-date text-book."—Law Times.

"This standard work on bankruptcy has reached another edition, the author wisely considering that in consequence of the many important cases recently decided and the issue of the new rules, a new edition was desirable. We compliment the learned author on the wisdom of keeping his work well up to date. Of this edition we may fairly say, as of others, no practitioner with bankruptcy work should be without it; and as long as the author pursues the wise course of issuing fresh editions well up to date, we shall be able to accord future editions the same praise."—Law Notes.

MEMORANDUM.—No complete List of Actions to be tried in this Division during Michaelmas Sittings can be given in advance, as the number and order in which they will be tried are necessarily dependent upon the presence in this Country of Seafaring Witnesses whose movements are unavoidably uncertain. The List will therefore be subject to alterations and additions.
