Lloyd George at First Session of World Conference

Expects to Attend Afternoon Sitting Nov. 11; To Leave Britain Nov. 5; Borden in Washington Soon.

BALFOUR THERE NOV. 11

London, Oct. 21.—Premier Lloyd George has decided definitely, it was stated to-day, to leave for Washington November 5 on the liner Aquitania. He will arrive in time, it is expected, for the afternoon session of the disarmament conference on the opening day, November 11. It is expected A. J. Balfour, a member of the delegation, will accompany the Prime Minister. Mrs. Lloyd-George probably will sail with her husband.

The Premier's plan is naturally subject to change if unforeseen circumstances should arise. Mr. Lloyd-George expects to be absent five weeks, including the time required for the journey to and from America. The Aquitania is due to arrive in New York the morning of November 11. The secretary of the delegation and most of the other members of the entourage will leave England next Wednesday.

Sir Robert Borden, who will represent Canada at the international conference in Washington, is expected to leave Ottawa for the United States capital November 4, according to the latest word from Ottawa. Premier Bonomi of Italy is expected to be a delegate. An unofficial Rome dispatch said there seemed to be cabinet approval of his attendance if the British and French Premiers were delegates. The Indian delegation is to leave Southampton, England, on the liner Olympic October 22.

Holland's delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Van Karnebeek, is expected to sail next Tuesday.

The Press. Honolulu, Oct. 21.—Opposition developed yesterday at the session of the Press Congress of the World to a resolution flippantly pledging the Congress to work for press representation at all sessions of the Washington conference on limitation of armaments and in its stead a compromise resolution was adopted, urging that so far as is compatible with the transaction of its business, representatives of the press should be admitted to the sessions of the Washington conference. Opposition to the original resolution was led by Colonel Edward Frederick Lawson, assistant managing proprietor of the London Daily Telegraph, who said the presence of newspapermen at certain of the deliberations would be sure to occasion embarrassment.

RAILWAYS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Operating Ratio Last July Was Lower Traffic Slightly Increased; Payroll Decreased

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press).—A statement issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows that the Canadian railways during July this year had a lower operating ratio for July was 93.67 per cent., as against 101.71 per cent. in July, 1920, and 94.53 per cent. in June, 1921. The increase over June was due to increased passenger traffic and to a slight increase in freight traffic. The improvement over July, 1920, was due to decreases in operating expenses. Compared with July, 1920, the payroll showed a decrease of $5,344,971, or 21 per cent., due to a decrease in the number of employees and to the general wage reduction which went into effect July 16. It was estimated that the cut in wages would reduce the monthly payroll by about 10 per cent.

SIX U.S. CONGRESS MEMBERS READY FOR HEARST'S TRIP

New York, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press).—A special dispatch from Washington to The New York American says the invitation tendered to both Houses of Congress to go to Canada by special train or trains as guests of the Hearst newspapers has been met with an extremely cordial response from Senators and Representatives. The trip would be for the purpose of convincing the United States legislators of the value of the sales tax as shown by its operation in Canada.

WHEAT IN AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Oct. 21.—Australia's wheat crop will total approximately 157,000,000 bushels, according to preliminary estimates made public here.

NO STRIKE BEFORE DECISION GIVEN

U. S. Railroad Labor Board Gives Warning

Trains Must Continue to Run, It Says Board Has Backing of U. S. Government

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The United States Railroad Labor Board, backed by all the authority which the Government can place at its disposal, called the railroads of the country and the five big unions to appear here next week and solemnly warned the unions not to strike until the Board has heard their grievances and rendered a decision.

The Board's action practically means there will be no strike October 29 unless the unions should choose to openly defy the Government, for it is hardly probable that a decision will be rendered by the Board before that date. The Board passed a resolution, citing the four big brotherhoods, the Switchmen's Union and all those railroads named in the wage reduction order of July 1 to appear before the Board next Wednesday morning, October 26, so the Board may determine whether or not they have been or are violating the wage reduction order.

DECLARES TARIFF MAKES MERGERS

Crerar Continues Attack on Protective System Reinforces Remarks With Numerous Figures

Seaford, Ont., Oct. 20.—(Canadian Press) (Special Correspondent).—Carrying his campaign into the Huron ridings to-day, Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressive Party, launched into an attack here to-night on the tariff mergers of Canada and the effect of a protective tariff on their formation. "I say here," Mr. Crerar declared, "that the protective tariff has been one of the most fruitful agencies in assisting, promoting and developing mergers which have oppressed the people and increased the cost of living."

He took first: Ames-Holden, McCready & Company, manufacturers of boots and shoes. Two capitalists had entered the combine, the Ames-Holden Company, with assets of $2,500,000, and James McCready Company, with assets of $1,000,000, or a total capital, including bonds, of $3,500,000. In return the shareholders of those capitalists got common stock to the value of $3,500,000, preferred $2,000,000 and bonds for $1,500,000, or a total of $7,000,000. The common stock then issued, said Mr. Crerar, was as pure and unadulterated water as ever run down a mountainside.

GIVES FIGURES OF GLASS CONCERNS

Mr. Crerar turned then to the glass merger. "The companies, he said, had gone into the merger. The companies, with their capitalization, were: Diamond Glass Company, $1,000,000; American Glass Company, $100,000; Canadian Glass Company, $100,000; or a total of $1,200,000. Against this there had been issued by the merger, the Diamond Glass Company, Ltd., common stock for $1,250,000, preferred $2,000,000, and bonds, $1,000,000, or a total of $4,250,000. The products of the merger enjoyed a protection of 35 per cent., and its common stock was quoted in 1913 at as high as $69.25.

BANDITS GAVE VICTIM A CIGAR

Toronto, Oct. 21.—"Go ahead and shoot me and the old horse. We will die together," was how an aged prospector named Sydney met a command of three highwaymen to throw up his hands and "cut out the funny stuff. The bandits, after a moment's hesitation, handed him a cigar and complimented the old man on his pluck. Subsequently the three men, giving the names as Harry Hubble, George Arthur and Sammie Jones, were arrested after an exciting chase and later remanded on numerous charges of holdups, warehouse breaking and assault on two young girls.

"Main Street," Most Talked Of Novel, To Be New Serial of Victoria Times

"Main Street," the outstanding novel of 1921, will be published as a serial by The Victoria Times. The first instalment will appear on Saturday. This story by a young Yale graduate does not follow any rules common to "best sellers," does not truckle to a popular taste, but leads the list of book sales this year. More than 300,000 copies of "Main Street" have been sold already and the demand is increasing. It is the outstanding fiction success since the end of the war. This is why The Times has bought it for publication in Victoria. At the Victoria Public Library the demand for "Main Street" is so great and the waiting list so long that the Library will not be able to satisfy it until well into next year. Read "Main Street" every night in The Times. Watch for the first instalment.

VETERANS DISCUSS PENSION SYSTEM

Delegates to G.W.V.A. Convention Debate Changes

Principle of Deductions Because of Income Margeson Insists on Basis of Dependency

Port Arthur, Ont., Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press).—"If you get away from the basis of dependency on the Pensions Act you are killing the goose that lays the golden egg," declared Colonel J. W. Margeson, chairman of the Pension Board, at the opening of this morning's session of the Great War Veterans' Association convention. The delegates were discussing a clause recommending that no deduction be made from the pension of a widowed mother on account of income derived by her from any other source. The clause was deleted from the resolution after discussion. If the country departed from the basis of dependency, the act would keep on widening until the principle of dependency failed and there would be a repetition of what had taken place as a result of the civil war in the United States, said Col. Margeson. The veterans were asking for pensions for widows who were not dependent at all.

TAKE FIRST YEAR STUDIES AT HOME

Students Benefit Under Ruling of University of B. C.

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—Students who are engaged in mercantile or other pursuits and who wish to secure their senior matriculation standing without attending the university may do so by writing off their examinations in sections, according to the decision of the University Senate. This privilege was granted to students who wished to secure their junior matriculation some time ago, and the Senate endorsed the recommendation of the Faculty of Arts and Science that this provision be extended. This means that students who cannot attend college because of financial difficulty can write their first year work without attendance at the University.

The Senate has also endorsed the recommendation of the Faculty of Applied Science, which asked that the department of nursing be placed at the same level as in arts, namely, 40 per cent in each subject, and 50 per cent on the total. This provision was made retroactive from March of this year, so that the ruling applies to the examination results of last session.

MORE CANADIAN PUBLICITY URGED

To Attract British Settlers to This Country

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press)—If Canada desires to continue to get any substantial volume of the best class of settlers from the British Isles, the Canadian people must appreciate the necessity of a generous campaign of publicity and propaganda, according to Commissioner David Lamb, London, England, head of the immigration work of the Salvation Army in the near future. "In the pre-war days eighty per cent of the inquiries received by the Salvation Army," said the commissioner, "were with respect to Canada, and we received thousands in the course of a month from all parts of the British Isles. Since the war only about sixty per cent of the inquiries we have received were about Canada, and the other forty per cent were concerning Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and other parts of the empire."

ECZEMA

MEIGHEN ADDRESSED SARNIA AUDIENCES

Referred to Economic Conditions in Canada

Sarnia, Ont., Oct. 21.—Premier Meighen addressed a large meeting and an overflow meeting here last night. "I say to Mr. Crerar," he declared, "that when you stand on the public platform and say that I am the puppet of any man, rich or poor, you say what you know is false."

He defied Mr. Crerar to put his hand on any such slanderous statements. "I have had almost enough of this," he concluded. "You may have read a speech or two recently in which our appalling financial condition was discussed," said Mr. Meighen. "Throughout the universe we are, but the financial, commercial and industrial conditions of Canada are the best of any country which went through the war. Today the unemployed of Canada number just half in proportion to population those in the United States. Canada has better labor conditions than any other country participating in the war, not excluding the United States."

Discussing the tariff issue, Mr. Meighen said: "How long would you be in Sarnia if we levied the tariff walls? Where would Canada be with her population of 9,000,000 lying beside the industrial colossus of the world, if we had free trade? Is there any mind with the most rudimentary logic which can argue that Canada could maintain and develop her industrial life under such competition as that?" He went on to declare that the fate of Canada under free trade would be mere commercial vassalage to the United States. "If our tariff down would mean the absorption of our industries one after another and the agrandisement of the United States."

Progressives' Attitude. "Mr. Crerar proposes to do away with protection by easy stages," said Mr. Meighen. "He declares protection is morally wrong, but he wants to hang on to it for a while. The progressives had revised this year, he declared, and therefore it was safe to assume that it was still correct. The revision had consisted in adding one word, instead of promising to do with patronage, as in the original platform, Mr. Crerar now declared for abolition of 'the evils of patronage.' Mr. Crerar's policy would be fatal to industries such as those operating in Sarnia," said Mr. Meighen.

The tariff platform subscribed to by Mr. Mackenzie King was almost a verbatim reproduction of the Crerar platform, Mr. Meighen said. Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor, expressed the opinion that the maintaining of a protective tariff was of prime importance to Canadian labor. Joseph E. Armstrong, Liberal-Conservative candidate in East Lambton, also spoke.

VETERANS RE-ELECT THEIR PRESIDENT

R. B. Maxwell Head of G. W. V. A. for Another Year

Port Arthur, Oct. 20.—Robert B. Maxwell, of Winnipeg, will continue another year as the president of the Great War Veterans' Association, it was decided this afternoon at the annual convention, and will be the first president to receive remuneration for his services. The name of C. G. MacNeil, Dominion secretary-treasurer, was also placed in nomination, but Mr. MacNeil withdrew in favor of the present incumbent. T. E. Edmondson, had no opposition in the nomination for first vice-president.

Executive. The Dominion executive was appointed as follows: Jan Mackenzie, M. P. P., British Columbia; W. J. Botterill, Alberta; J. Norman, Saskatchewan; R. B. Bowler, Manitoba; R. C. E. Jenkinson, Ontario; R. Costigan, Quebec; S. Boyd Anderson, New Brunswick; G. W. Whitman, Nova Scotia, and Prof. C. M. McMillan, Prince Edward Island.

Pensions. A principle of obtaining legislative action was decided upon early this afternoon and the convention discussed lengthy resolutions making pension recommendations. The import of the legislative resolution is that political leaders and candidates would be requested to go on record by writing, on soldiers' civil re-establishment requirements and the candidates would be asked if they are prepared to speak in Parliament and elsewhere in accordance with their attitude so stated. Chief among the pension recommendations was a petition that the pension awarded a widow without children or dependents be increased to $15 a month without regard to income from other sources. This would also be the basis for widows with children, and $15 for the first child, $12 for the second, and $10 for the third. The present scale of $60 was not adequate to the cost of living, especially in cities, it was said.

Questions. Colonel J. W. Margeson, chairman of the Pension Board, was present and gave his official and personal views on contentious points. Political leaders will be asked if their respective parties would give a written assurance of their support on the retention of the present pension bonus and rating the disability pension at 15 per cent disability, a reasonable measure of housing for ex-service men; immediate legislation looking towards the solution of the unemployment problem; an immigration and naturalization policy conducive to employment of Canadians; endorsement of the principle of future exclusion of Chinese and Japanese; and prevention of sale or lease of land to them; and the authorization of proper re-establishment of 100 per cent of the returned citizens after adequate investigations.

Constantinople, Oct. 21.—The international relief committee of Constantinople yesterday sent an appeal to the civilized world on behalf of thousands of destitute and homeless Russian refugees, who have been absolutely helpless since the recent withdrawal from this city of the American Red Cross unit.

LEADER CRERAR SPOKE IN WINGHAM

Addressed Electors of North Huron, Ontario

Wingham, Oct. 20.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressives, addressed the electors of North Huron at a meeting here this afternoon.

J. W. King, Progressive candidate in North Huron, said the farmers wished to be on the best of terms with the people of the towns. "I plead honestly and earnestly for harmony," he said, "between farmers and townsmen."

He said, "between farmers and townsmen." "I have had almost enough of this," he concluded. "You may have read a speech or two recently in which our appalling financial condition was discussed," said Mr. Meighen. "Throughout the universe we are, but the financial, commercial and industrial conditions of Canada are the best of any country which went through the war. Today the unemployed of Canada number just half in proportion to population those in the United States. Canada has better labor conditions than any other country participating in the war, not excluding the United States."

Discussing the tariff issue, Mr. Meighen said: "How long would you be in Sarnia if we levied the tariff walls? Where would Canada be with her population of 9,000,000 lying beside the industrial colossus of the world, if we had free trade? Is there any mind with the most rudimentary logic which can argue that Canada could maintain and develop her industrial life under such competition as that?" He went on to declare that the fate of Canada under free trade would be mere commercial vassalage to the United States. "If our tariff down would mean the absorption of our industries one after another and the agrandisement of the United States."

Progressives' Attitude. "Mr. Crerar proposes to do away with protection by easy stages," said Mr. Meighen. "He declares protection is morally wrong, but he wants to hang on to it for a while. The progressives had revised this year, he declared, and therefore it was safe to assume that it was still correct. The revision had consisted in adding one word, instead of promising to do with patronage, as in the original platform, Mr. Crerar now declared for abolition of 'the evils of patronage.' Mr. Crerar's policy would be fatal to industries such as those operating in Sarnia," said Mr. Meighen.

The tariff platform subscribed to by Mr. Mackenzie King was almost a verbatim reproduction of the Crerar platform, Mr. Meighen said. Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor, expressed the opinion that the maintaining of a protective tariff was of prime importance to Canadian labor. Joseph E. Armstrong, Liberal-Conservative candidate in East Lambton, also spoke.

VETERANS RE-ELECT THEIR PRESIDENT

R. B. Maxwell Head of G. W. V. A. for Another Year

Port Arthur, Oct. 20.—Robert B. Maxwell, of Winnipeg, will continue another year as the president of the Great War Veterans' Association, it was decided this afternoon at the annual convention, and will be the first president to receive remuneration for his services. The name of C. G. MacNeil, Dominion secretary-treasurer, was also placed in nomination, but Mr. MacNeil withdrew in favor of the present incumbent. T. E. Edmondson, had no opposition in the nomination for first vice-president.

Executive. The Dominion executive was appointed as follows: Jan Mackenzie, M. P. P., British Columbia; W. J. Botterill, Alberta; J. Norman, Saskatchewan; R. B. Bowler, Manitoba; R. C. E. Jenkinson, Ontario; R. Costigan, Quebec; S. Boyd Anderson, New Brunswick; G. W. Whitman, Nova Scotia, and Prof. C. M. McMillan, Prince Edward Island.

Pensions. A principle of obtaining legislative action was decided upon early this afternoon and the convention discussed lengthy resolutions making pension recommendations. The import of the legislative resolution is that political leaders and candidates would be requested to go on record by writing, on soldiers' civil re-establishment requirements and the candidates would be asked if they are prepared to speak in Parliament and elsewhere in accordance with their attitude so stated. Chief among the pension recommendations was a petition that the pension awarded a widow without children or dependents be increased to $15 a month without regard to income from other sources. This would also be the basis for widows with children, and $15 for the first child, $12 for the second, and $10 for the third. The present scale of $60 was not adequate to the cost of living, especially in cities, it was said.

Questions. Colonel J. W. Margeson, chairman of the Pension Board, was present and gave his official and personal views on contentious points. Political leaders will be asked if their respective parties would give a written assurance of their support on the retention of the present pension bonus and rating the disability pension at 15 per cent disability, a reasonable measure of housing for ex-service men; immediate legislation looking towards the solution of the unemployment problem; an immigration and naturalization policy conducive to employment of Canadians; endorsement of the principle of future exclusion of Chinese and Japanese; and prevention of sale or lease of land to them; and the authorization of proper re-establishment of 100 per cent of the returned citizens after adequate investigations.

NO LIFTING OF EMBARGO AT ONCE

Bar Against Cattle Mentioned in British Commons

London, Oct. 20.—In the House of Commons to-day John L. Sturrock, M. P. for Montrose, asked if the Government would give an early opportunity to discuss the Royal Commission's recommendation to lift the Canadian cattle embargo.

Donald MacMaster asked what steps the Government contemplated with regard to the recent recommendation, and William Shaw asked whether the Government would immediately take steps to remove the embargo.

Sir A. Griffith-Boscawen, Minister of Agriculture, replied that the evidence taken before the commission had not yet been published, although it was expected to be ready shortly. Until there had been an opportunity to consider the evidence, it would be premature to discuss the report. Moreover, the legislation necessary to give effect to the recommendation could not be introduced this session. Imports Needed.

London, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Sir A. Griffith-Boscawen, Minister of Agriculture, replying in the House of Commons yesterday to William Thorne, a Labor member, who had asked the Minister whether he was aware that if fat cattle and sheep were allowed to enter Great Britain and were slaughtered at the port of landing, and if Canadian stores were given full access to the British grass lands, that the price of meat would be reduced considerably in less than six months, said the meat requirements in Great Britain could not be met without importation. A considerable part of such imports, he said, was in the form of dead meat, which could be freely landed without restriction. The Minister said that, except from countries where disease was prevalent in cattle there was nothing to prevent importation of live cattle and sheep to be slaughtered at British ports.

From Canada and U. S.

During the first nine months of this year, Sir Arthur said, 5,468 cattle and 10,141 sheep were imported from Canada and the United States.

The report of the Royal Commission did not lend support to the suggestion that the removal of the cattle embargo would result in a considerable reduction in the price of meat. Replying to another question regarding the cost of transportation of live cattle, the Minister said he inferred that the cost of consignment in the case of a cargo of Canadian cattle which had recently arrived in Great Britain was £15 to £17 a head. He said he was making further inquiries in the matter.

SEIZE BEAVER SKINS IN TERMINAL CITY

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—Between 300 and 400 beaver skins valued at $5,000, were seized at the Canadian National Railway station here yesterday by Chief Game Inspector Hird and Game Warden J. W. McIntosh. Although seizures had been made from time to time by the provincial authorities since the inauguration of a close season for beavers two years ago, none approached in value the lot caught yesterday.

MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

To the Editor:—May I be permitted to remind Premier Oliver of his address before the delegates at the Municipal Convention held at Port Alberni. As a firm believer in co-operation of the community in all things pertaining to their welfare, and as I am an admirer of the honest intention of the Premier to frame laws for the benefit of the community, I feel inclined to take him at his word and ask him to co-operate with the City in disposing of the property re-verted for taxes, also to help reduce our burden of taxation.

RADICALS NOMINATE W. E. PEIRCE HERE

Will Run in Opposition to Old Party Candidates

Expecting defeat at the polls, but hoping that an election campaign might help to educate the workers along the best lines, twenty men and women "opposed to the present social order" last night nominated W. E. Peirce to contest the Federal constituency of Victoria with William Ivel and Hon. S. F. Tolmie in the December Dominion election.

"There is very little chance of my getting in," Mr. Peirce warned the meeting which nominated him. "But I am willing to stand up and get knocked down. I have stood under similar conditions before and, though defeat has hurt me in a business way, it has not worried me as it would many other men."

He emphasized that, through an election campaign the forces which are seeking the overthrow of the present social system would be able to carry on valuable educational work. He expected, too, that it would be possible to make an excellent showing in the election fight—a showing which would register the protest of the working classes against the evils of the present political system.

"The time to fight is all the time whether we are winning or not," said Mr. Peirce.

Mr. Peirce's nomination was unanimous, the name of no other person being put forward. The nomination followed about two hours' consideration and argument. Some of those present were opposed to nominating any candidate. They held that it would be impossible for a radical to make a good fight against the candidates of the two old-line parties and urged the meeting to give its entire support to W. A. Pritchard, Socialist candidate in the Nanaimo riding.

It was finally decided to run a candidate, chiefly as an educational measure, and to show the old parties that a considerable section of the public mistrusted them and to test out public sentiment.

Committees were struck by the meeting to arrange details of the campaign. Active campaigning will commence soon.

TO OPEN G.W.V.A. BAND CONCERTS

NEXT SUNDAY Delegates Debate Church Union

Commencement Will Be Made at Capitol Theatre

The G. W. V. A. Band, under the directorship of Bandmaster James M. Miller, and George J. Dyke as business manager, plans to open the series of concerts at the Capitol Theatre on Sunday evening next.

The band has been rehearsing steadily during the past month for the opening concert, and will present some fine numbers never yet heard in Victoria. The Pizzicato Polka by Johann and Joseph Strauss, arranged especially for the band, will be played, also the "Hungarian Fantasia" and "A Summer's Day in Norway."

The piece de resistance will be Lott's overture to "Maximilian Robespierre," which recalls the stirring episodes of the French Revolution. As leader of the revolution, opposed to "capital punishment" and trusted spokesman of the people, Robespierre's own head eventually fell under the guillotine. Like Tschalkowsky's "1812," the theme is the "Marsellaise," the hymn of the revolution, and since adopted as the anthem in movements of freedom.

"These concerts are not to be regarded as a money-making proposition," say officials of the organization, "the object being to clear expenses, and give the bandmen an incentive to have one good rehearsal a week to keep them in practice during the winter. To maintain as high as possible the standard of music, it is written in the by-laws of the Musicians' Association that each bandman must be paid for his services, the rate set being about half of that of regular concert rates.

The experience of the past has not been encouraging. A movement is on foot to have an efficient municipal band in Victoria for the summer season. Meanwhile all support given to the G. W. V. A. band in their concerts at the Capitol Theatre will help to show the business men of the city the need of a municipal band, and provide the bandmen a splendid opportunity to become proficient on their respective instruments.

WARD SEVEN, SAANICH.

To the Editor:—In your issue of Saturday last you publish an article re the above, which requires some special information or inspiration, to account for. Anything more regardless of truth I have not come across for some time. As my name is brought into the article and as the councillor for Ward Seven for current year please allow me to correct same.

1. The amount required for rocking the sides of the George Road has not yet been forthcoming from the Provincial Government as far as I am aware. The amount for drainage has, and is as promptly assumed by the Ward, the work being now partly done.

2. Nothing is being "reparitized" as the road superintendent informs me that the Ward appropriation is still in a position to meet the call if the Government comes forward at once with its portion of the necessary cash.

3. The work is not "abandoned" but certainly cannot wait indefinitely, as it is now past the middle of October and other ward improvements are awaiting some final decision as to the George Road improvements.

BABY MOSS.

"Owes her robust health to Virol."

Cranfield, 53, St. Albans Road, Moseley, Birmingham, Aug. 20, 1920.

Enclosed you will find photograph of my daughter at 17 months old. I think you will agree that she is a splendid testimony to the value of Virol as a body builder. From early days Virol has been added to her milk food, and I am quite sure that she owes her robust health to this addition.

I have many times recommended Virol and in every case there has been improvement in general health, rapid growth and easy assimilation of food.

Believe me to be, Yours faithfully, (Signed) Geo. Moss.

Virol is used in large quantities in more than 2,000 Hospitals and Infant Clinics. It is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, whilst for children it supplies these vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilizing of milk; it is also a bone and tissue-building food of immense value. Virol babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

long series of thefts with the aid of a monkey. The creature was taught to bring to its master any shining objects such as money or jewellery. The thief would take his pet with him, concealed in a cage resembling a portmanteau, and spend a night at a smart hotel. Seizing his chance late in the evening, he would put his pet through the fanlight of a locked bedroom, and make a good haul before morning. It was a monkey, too, that was used by a clever woman thief to commit a series of thefts from jewellers' shops in Paris. The creature was so tiny that she carried it in a big muff. Then, while its mistress was standing at such a distance from the counter as disarmed suspicion, the monkey would thrust out a long, spider-like arm and snatch and conceal a ring or brooch. Dr. R. Felton, as well as Miss Reid, sang solos, and Mrs. Felton, who accompanied the singers, was the object of compliments by the audience. The entertainment was arranged for by the Sooke Young People's Association for the benefit of the Presbyterian Manse fund.

TRAFALGAR DAY.

Celebrations of Trafalgar Day no longer emphasize the purely martial aspect of the victory won by the British navy on October 21, 1805. Civilization owes too much to the supreme fortitude, valor and skill which France showed in the recent unexampled conflict for any of its champions to commemorate a reverse sustained by her many years ago in a spirit which might humiliate her or wound her susceptibilities.

IT WAS EXPECTED.

When the Dominion Government announced its intention of withdrawing its advertisements from the publications and newspapers of the British Isles some time ago we took the position that it was an improper and unwise course to follow at the very moment when the general movement of peoples had commenced as a result of the economic and industrial uncertainty in Europe.

No better proof of the manner in which the lack of publicity is reacting to the disadvantage of this country could be found than in the statement of Commissioner Lamb who heads the immigration work of the Salvation Army in London. He informs us quite frankly that unless a generous campaign of publicity and propaganda is inaugurated and continued this country will not get the substantial volume of the best class of settlers from the British Isles.

about conditions here. If it does that it will find its agricultural population increasing. Facts from the Immigration Department will not aggravate industrial unemployment.

MEETING BREAKERS.

Although meagre details in the dispatch do not indicate the nature of the deadlock which appears to have obtruded itself into the Irish conference to-day it is fairly safe to assume that either the Sinn Fein delegates have repeated their demand for independence or that Ulster has definitely refused to contemplate the idea of an United Ireland in any form.

STILL RUNNING!

Recent developments in the sugar market will remind the Canadian people how the refineries of Eastern Canada threw up their hands in despair and talked a great deal about the closing down of their plants and consequent unemployment at the merest suggestion of sugar at less than twenty-one cents per pound.

DEFINITE NOW.

While some unforeseen circumstance may yet develop to prevent Mr. Lloyd George from going to Washington in time for the opening session of the armaments conference the peoples of the British Empire will welcome the announcement from London this morning which goes as near as settling his definite sailing date.

REGISTER TO-DAY.

Too much emphasis cannot be laid upon the duty which every eligible voter in Victoria should perform before the end of this month. The civic electoral roll has been open for the reception of the names of qualified electors for three weeks and up to the present time nothing like the response that is warranted has been made.

this occasion if only for the reason that one-half of the new Council are to be elected for two years instead of one. It is equally imperative that every ounce of popular sentiment should be expressed in the selection of officers for duty on the School Board and Police Commission.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Mr. Leon J. Ladner told a Kerrisdale audience during the course of an appeal for its support at the polls that the Meighen Government has "been guilty of no wrongs."

We quite agree with the Grand Jury's presentment. Victoria certainly wants a new Court House. There are several in the Province of modern architecture and palatial design that are certainly not working overtime.

Sir Philip Gibbs says that when Marshal Foch gives his views on disarmament at the Washington Conference he will not do so with diplomatic craft or subtlety, but with simple candor and without reservations.

According to the report of Mr. Fred Lister's speech in the morning paper the member for Kaslo has come to the conclusion that the Government's soldier settlement policy is "absolutely rotten."

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, one of Mr. Meighen's Ministers, is another of the champions of special privilege who pretends to fear that the Progressive movement is inspired from the United States—although the vast majority of that movement's supporters are native Canadians or from the British Isles.

TEACHERS APPLY FOR POSTS HERE

Re-organization of the High School Staff Difficult

Applications for position on the staff of the Victoria High School, which is to be re-organized at the end of the Fall term, already have reached the school authorities in reply to advertisements inserted in the press of Canada.

The school authorities are beginning to wonder whether they will be able to secure the services of really efficient teachers to replace those members of the High School staff deemed inefficient.

There is a scarcity of teachers in Canada at present, the School Board has found, Prairie school authorities. It is stated, are having great difficulty in keeping their schools open on account of the dearth of teachers.

Numerous applications for High School positions, it is thought, will be received, but the Board wishes to appoint only teachers of outstanding ability and of wide experience. This, it is feared, may be no easy task.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Daily Times, October 21, 1921

The three new six-inch guns at Macaulay Point fort were tested yesterday, when five rounds were fired by a squad under Sergt. Carlton, R.M.A. The tests showed the guns to be thoroughly satisfactory.

The Jubilee Hospital ball will take place to-night. Officers of the Fifth Regiment will attend in dress uniform.

Clerks from Messrs. Bodwell & Irving's office have been busy this week gathering sealing statistics at the Customs House for the Behring Sea inquiry, which will open here about November 15.

The rebellion in the Philippine Islands is very serious, according to word received in America to-day. It is agreed that the Spanish Government will have its hands full handling the situation.

POLITICS

Meighen and the "Foreigners." Change Government or People? Premier Annoys Big Business Protection and the Dinner Pail.

—Mr. Meighen told a New Brunswick audience the other day that the people of the West who are supporting Mr. Cregar's Progressive Party, have not "the vision of Canada the way the rest of us have."

The soil from which "the Wood-Cregar movement" grew, he said, "is not so wholly Canadian as the soil from which you and I have sprung." A reflection upon the people of the West which will astonish them, The Toronto Globe calls Mr. Meighen's assertion. Many of the people of the West, The Globe points out, came from Ontario and other Eastern Provinces. Many have come to the West from the British Isles where free institutions have been in existence for some time. Many have come from the United States and are not wholly ignorant of the workings of democracy. These people together far outnumber those "foreign" immigrants who, Mr. Meighen says, "have not the vision of Canada or the heart of Canada that the rest of us have."

The trouble with Mr. Meighen is not his fear about the condition of the West. It is fear about the West's vote, says The Globe. Mr. Meighen thinks western people will vote against him owing to the obliquity of their vision. The rest of Canada, then, also needs spectacles because the prospects of the Government in the East are not particularly bright.

Yes, there is evidently something seriously wrong with the people of this country. The Globe has a solution to offer. The people of Canada, and not the Government, must be changed.

Mr. Meighen probably has not added to his popularity in the West by his talk about the West's lack of Canadianism. And, if we are to believe a supporter of Big Business like The Financial Post, the Premier, by bidding for the farmers' support by his new wheat pool scheme, has antagonized his financial friends in the East. Announcement of the wheat pool plan, says The Post, has caused a feeling almost of consternation among business men. It has created "an intense feeling of resentment in business circles."

Business men, The Post goes on, had hoped that Canada was done with governmental interference with the free cause of trade. That the Premier should revert, thus late in the day, to a system of control of any commodity, either to guarantee profits, to restrict free play of supply and demand or to hold up prices, this, The Post assures us, is a keen disappointment. A wheat pool is abnormal, and what Canada needs is a quick return to normal conditions. Mr. Meighen's wheat pool is class

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Clyde left yesterday afternoon for Palo Alto, California, where they will spend the winter months with their son, Mr. Paul Clyde.

With the musicians' ball but a pleasant memory, the dancing set in now looking forward with keen anticipation for November when the orchestra of the J. B. A. A. will be the hosts at the Alexandra Ballroom.

A delightful musical tea drew many visitors to the Y. W. A. yesterday afternoon, and netted the sum of $75 for the building fund of the institution. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. L. The bride looked charming in a gown of light grey crepe de chine with hat en suite, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. She was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Joseph Lott. The bridesmaids' mother and Mrs. Sarah Hall, becomingly gowned, the former in dark silk and the latter in grey satin, were matrons of honor. Snyder, of this city, became the bride of Mr. Lewis Maurice Spier, who has an appointment in Mexico. Rev. Mr. Davidson officiated. The bride looked charming in a smart suit of navy-tricotine with a chic hat of navy panne velvet, trimmed with a plume. She wore suede gloves and shoes and stockings to match. The groom wore a tuxedo. The bride was given away by Major J. A. Spier, left for Mexico, their future home. Major and Mrs. A. E. Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. St. Johns, late of Vancouver, were the only ones at the ceremony. Mrs. Spier was very well known in the city, and was very popular with everyone. FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT SUNFLOWER'S RIVAL.

Sunflower was always so intent upon watching for Mr. Sun that she did not notice anything else until he arrived, and when one morning a tall tree growing beside the wall near her said, "Miss Dawn looked very beautiful this morning, didn't she?" Miss Sunflower looked surprised. "Who is Miss Dawn?" she asked. "I thought you saw everything," replied Tall Tree. "Miss Dawn is the beautiful creature that arrives before Mr. Sun and always waits for him. You see, Sunflower, you are not the only one who watches for him. This morning she was fair and blushing a beautiful rose-color when Mr. Sun peeped over the hill. I was watching them from my up-top perch and he gave her a warm and bright smile. I can tell you. "You, Miss Sunflower, will have to grow taller if you wish to catch the two, for I think she is a rival of yours. She is dainty and beautiful and her beauty holds one spellbound as she runs along. "Poor Sunflower could only listen with a sad heart, for well she knew she was not beautiful; but she had always supposed that she was the

WOMEN SHOULD REGISTER NOW ON MUNICIPAL LISTS

No Tax for Those Over 60 Years; Last Day Oct. 31

Happenings in the sphere of municipal government during the past year have brought home forcibly the need for the average citizen—the man and woman in the street—to take an active interest in affairs pertaining to the management of the city. Knotty problems have come up whose solution has a far-reaching effect upon the daily life of every individual, and no citizen worthy of the name can afford to ignore their importance.

Privilege of Citizenship. Much is heard in these days of citizenship and all that it implies. It is the subject for more than half of the addresses given on public platforms and is a theme worn from constant iteration. But too much stress cannot be laid upon the stern necessity for every man and woman possessing the necessary qualifications to carry out the primary duty of citizenship by recording their vote at the municipal polls. Failure in this essential duty is responsible for no small measure of the difficulties which beset the path of civic government, while at the same time there is a tendency on the part of those who fall in this duty to criticize the loudest when measures are passed which do not meet with their approval.

The first essential to the exercise of the franchise is registration on the municipal voters' list. Owners of property over the value of $50, whether men or women, are automatically registered. Non-property owners, whether men or women, may qualify by the payment of $2 road tax, and registration at the City Hall before October 31. It is not generally known that any man or woman of over sixty years of age, resident in the city for six months or over, is entitled to vote without payment of any tax, whether a property owner or not.

MATTHEW ARNOLD'S INFLUENCE ON TO-DAY

Prof. Sedgewick in Interesting Address to University Women

Matthew Arnold made five great contributions to English life in the nineteenth century by his literary criticisms, and his gifts to education, politics, religion and poetry. In the address given by G. O. Sedgewick, Ph. D., of the University of British Columbia in the course of an address before the Women's University Club at the Empress Hotel last evening, he declared that Matthew Arnold was one of the greatest men of the nineteenth century. The lecturer touched upon his relation to Carlyle and John Ruskin while at the same time his influence upon the world to-day was more alive and more pervasive than either. In his prose he had touched the middle course between the aristocratic arrogance of Carlyle, who firmly believed that the English aristocracy would always be the ruling class, and the radicalism of Ruskin, who went to the other extreme, making a fetish of individual liberty. Arnold's strength lay in his moral enthusiasm and loyal passion which were intelligently controlled. The result of his combinations—a heritage from his father, a former headmaster of Rugby school. He realized that it is not a poet's business to teach nor preach but his sane criticisms gave a tremendous fillip to the education of the lower middle class, while his contribution to politics were equally invaluable, as witness his recommendation of forty years ago to England to "Get the German organization, leaving out their docility: take it but keep your British liberty with it."

In Professor Sedgewick's estimation no warmer wiser or sounder voice had been lifted in the cause of a definite religion of Christianity than in his "Literature and Dogma." It had been proved that the things in our creed he had said were impermanent were indeed impermanent. He showed that criticism and culture were a synonym—a studying—there are not two names for the same thing. In his book of this name he urges the British to broaden their horizons and widen their knowledge and understanding of other nations while at the same time retaining those attributes considered essentially British.

His poetry had the same qualities as his prose, exquisite clarity, intelligence, purity, diction and emotional soundness and wholesomeness—a general tonic quality. In conclusion the lecturer gave several excerpts from Arnold's poems, which were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. J. W. de R. Parris, the president, was in the chair and introduced the speaker and at the close a vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. E. M. Smith and seconded by Miss Kathryn Bradshaw.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair. A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

CHAPTER TO HOLD ATTRACTIVE BRIDGE TEA TO-MORROW

What promises to be one of the most attractive bridge-teas of the season will be held at the Conservative Club rooms, Campbell Building, to-morrow afternoon under the auspices of the Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter, I. O. D. E. Play will commence promptly at 3 o'clock and guests are reminded to bring their own cards and score cards. Although many tables have been reserved there are still a few available and application should be made without delay to Miss MacDonald, the general convener, at telephone No. 2378L or at No. 1922L. Miss Dorothy Scott and Miss Ruth Cochrane are in charge of the tea arrangements, and it is hoped that gentlemen as well as lady guests will join the players at the tea-hour.

FOUR WIVES, TWENTY-FOUR CHILDREN! Everybody has heard of the Famous Crags, one of the most popular acrobatic "turns" in the world, but few people know that John William Cragg—who is now seventy-six, but as fit as most men at forty—has been married four times and is the father of twenty-four children, of whom thirteen are living. His eldest is fifty-eight, his youngest three! He is, in addition, great-grandfather to eighteen children. If anybody can beat this record, I should like to hear from him.—Tit-Bits.

ILLEGAL ARREST IS AGAINST LAW

Appeal to Quash Police Conviction on Grounds of Arrest Without Warrant

In the course of an appeal in the County Court yesterday before His Honor Judge Lampan, the former prohibition Act was cited, a charge under that Act having been laid in May last against Charles Bright, who yesterday appealed to the County Court to quash the police court conviction. In the police court the accused had been fined $500, with the confiscation of sixty-one bottles of whiskey seized.

R. C. Lowe appeared for the appellant and cited a number of Canadian cases to cover his argument that this was one offence under the old prohibition Act where arrest could not be made without a warrant. The accused had been arrested by Detectives Macdonald and Phipps and brought to court without a warrant, it was stated. Mr. Lowe claiming that Bright therefore was improperly before the police magistrate who had no jurisdiction to try the case.

C. L. Harrison, for the Crown, cited the case of Judge Cayley, of Vancouver, who in a parallel case, held that a person once before the court was within its jurisdiction, irrespective of the manner of his arrest.

In reserving judgment His Honor Judge Lampan remarked that there was no doubt that the courts ought not to countenance such a dangerous practice as illegal police arrests. British courts everywhere frowned on anything in the nature of "strong arm" methods on the part of police officers. Illegal arrest was in the same category as the sweating process practiced on prisoners by the police in some countries, and such practices had no place in the administration of the law in Canada. The appeal was adjourned, with judgment reserved on the objection raised by the appellant.

POLICE COMMISSION HAS SHORT SESSION

Will Meet to Discuss Sunday Band Concerts

One of the shortest meetings of the Victoria Police Board was held last night in the Police Court with Mayor Porter and Commissioner North present. Dr. Ernest Hall did not attend. On the question of band concerts being broached the Board decided to hold a special meeting this evening to settle the question, as it was observed in the press that band concerts were to begin on Sunday.

Both the Mayor and Commissioner North are in favor of Sunday band concerts, but pointed out that the question was one of law, with the law did not provide for that class of entertainment. It was decided that the boxing situation would be left at the point reached in the last meeting, namely that the boxing promoters secure permission from the Chief of Police as usual, and the question of a boxing commission be dropped for the present.

Miss Wark's Salary.
A letter from the City Council was read informing the board that the Council could not see its way clear to grant the $15 a month increase to Miss Wark, together with the $75 asked for furniture. A letter from the Council stated that the tenders on police uniforms were only just to hand and that action could not yet be taken.

Chief Fry reported that the Grand Jury inspected the city jail and that they had expressed every satisfaction with the condition of affairs prevailing in the institution. The Chief also reported that the force was mainly weathering the burst of colds, and that but few men were off at the present time.

Invite Tenders For Waterworks Material Soon

As the first step in commencing the extension of the Saanich waterworks, bids for material have been invited to be in by November 17. By that date the 30 days after registration will have elapsed and the Council will be ready to proceed.

MOTION OF CENSURE IN BRITISH HOUSE

Some Unionists Object to Irish Negotiations

London, Oct. 21.—Unionist members of Parliament have given notice that they will move what is equivalent to a vote of censure of the Lloyd George Government on the day appointed for a discussion of Irish affairs in the House of Commons. It was expected that Irish affairs would be considered early next week, but the date has not yet been fixed officially. There were reports a few days ago that Ireland might be discussed on Tuesday, but there seems to be a disposition to postpone the debate for a few days.

Those involved in this move are the extreme Unionists, who have always opposed a conference with the representatives of the Sinn Fein. They do not exceed more than thirty or forty and it would appear the motion they will introduce has little chance of passing. It is regarded as symptomatic, however, of the anti-conference attitude said to have been developed in Unionist quarters while Parliament was in recess.

A Statement.
The London Times, which has strongly supported the Irish conference, to-day urged the Government not to disregard this hostility, but to disarm it by making a full statement of the grounds which justified the conference. It intimated there was some indication that practical results would soon follow from the conversations being carried on by representatives of the Sinn Fein and the British Government, and added that these results would help to remove opposition.

Chamberlain Speaks.
A further indication of Unionist impatience was given on Thursday, when about 150 Unionists were addressed by Austen Chamberlain, the speaker appealed to his hearers loyally to confide in the Government, and said he was aware there was some dissatisfaction in the party. He urged patience and promised a more complete statement when Irish matters were debated in the Commons.

At the close of his address Mr. Chamberlain was heckled, all the questions asked by the crowd referring to the Irish situation. He admitted that he himself was author of the proposal to invite the Sinn Feiners to a conference.

Some Concern.
The Daily Mail said to-day there was increasing hostility on the part of Unionist members of Parliament and electors toward Unionist members of the Cabinet, and that it was causing much concern among the party leaders. The newspaper declared there was some fear that the trend of opinion might split the annual meeting of the party, which will be held in Liverpool next month.

"Premier Lloyd George," The Mail added, "is showing distinct signs of a return to Liberalism and an increasing disregard of Unionist sentiment."

The Irish conference at its meeting to-day expected to deal with the problem of Ulster, the most knotty question confronting the conference.

LOWER RAILWAY FREIGHT RATES TO BENEFIT COAST

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—Involving a saving of at least $2,000,000 annually to shippers and consignees of British Columbia, and marking another satisfactory step in British Columbia's fight for equalization of railway freight rates, judgment has just been handed down by the Board of Railway Commissioners at Ottawa placing British Columbia on the same rate basis as that prevailing between Fort William and Winnipeg.

Announcement of the Board's ruling was received here by Secretary Hugh Dalton of the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

This ruling will mean a reduction in freight costs on every car passing between Pacific Coast points and points as far east as Calgary of between $50 and $60.

MILL-GIRL AS MAGISTRATE

The choice of Miss Mary Anne ("Polly") Dewa, a cloth-weaver of Dewsbury, to be a Justice of the Peace has been received with great satisfaction, especially by working women, with whom the mill-girl magistrate is very popular.

Miss Dewa, who is thirty-nine, has been a cloth-weaver for twenty years. "I was amazed," she told me, when I received the Lord Chancellor's letter. I consulted my employers Messrs. M. Oldroyd and Sons, and they said they would be pleased to release me from my work at the mill whenever it was necessary for me to be in court. As a matter of fact, I have never been inside a police-court, I regard my appointment as a special opportunity to show my sympathy with and interest in women and girls who have unfortunately fallen, or have been trapped, and who, in some cases are more sinned against than sinning."—Tit-Bits.

Bronchial pneumonia, as a child, left him with chronic bronchial trouble and it just kept getting worse year even though he doctored and tried every remedy recommended to him. Some nights he would cough so hard I used to be afraid he might die before morning. Last fall his mother advised him to try the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and from the first few doses he improved. ## ARRANGE FOR CITY LAND AUCTION NOW

Todd to Make Recommendations on Elk Lake

Arrangements for an auction of land which came into the possession of the Corporation as a result of recent tax sales will be made by the civic Reverted Land Committee when it meets this afternoon, it was announced at the City Hall to-day.

An enormous amount of detail work will have to be done before the land auction sale can be held. The large areas of reverted land which the city owns must be classified and priced. It is understood that the city intends to set an upset price on all land offered for sale, although the main object of the sale is to put the land into the hands of people who will pay taxes upon it.

Victoria delegates on the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee decided to-day not to meet to consider the Elk Lake dispute with Saanich over the Elk Lake question. Instead, Alderman A. E. Todd will draw up recommendations on the subject and submit them to the delegates and then to the City Council for approval. It is planned to refer to the last ditch against Saanich's threat to take the Elk Lake land unless the city declares it a park for all time.

FINE PROGRAMME AT DRILL HALL

Community Entertainment Arranged for To-morrow Night

The Community Entertainment which will be held at the New Drill Hall, Bay Street, at 8 o'clock to-morrow night will be one of the big features of the Fall season. The affair is under the auspices of the Fifth Regiment and is a weekly celebration which is given solely for the purpose of raising funds for the entertainment of the people of Victoria. A small charge of ten cents is made for admission and all that the Regiment expects is that the public will support the movement by their attendance.

The first item in to-morrow night's entertainment will be a basketball game between the Crusaders and the J. B. A. teams. A keen contest is assured. This game will be followed by dancing, which will be held at the westerly end of the drill hall and in the balcony. The Fifth Regiment band will be in attendance and will furnish the music. Corporal Prescott, manager of the regimental sports, has been requested to arrange some indoor baseball and polo games and everything will be done to meet the popular taste in the sport line.

The I. O. D. E. Esquimalt Chapter, will be on hand to-morrow to serve refreshments.

One of the best dancing floors on the coast will be laid at the Drill Hall. Two-thirds of the entire area will be used for this purpose and the work will be completed as soon as possible.

Mr. Green III.—Charles A. A. Green, is lying in the Jubilee Hospital, in a critical condition.

Plan Teenage Conference

The Girls' Work Committee of the Religious Education Council met last evening at the Y. W. C. A. to make further plans for the annual "teenage girls" conference to be held in St. John's Church Hall, November 4, 5, 6. Miss May Gemmill, girls' work secretary of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, will be the special leader. These conferences always prove a great inspiration and help, and the committee is hoping as many as possible of the "teenage girls" will plan to attend. Arrangements are being made for all leaders to meet with Miss Gemmill for special help.

Prohibitionists Will.—At a meeting of the leaders of the Prohibition Association, held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last night with H. A. Beckwith, president in the chair, a committee of three was appointed to draw up a list of delegates to attend the general convention in Vancouver next week. The committee will have to appoint about twelve delegates, to represent every organization which has its centre in the Prohibition Party here, it was stated, and was given power to act on this selection immediately. The assembly discussed in general some matters that will be laid before the convention on the prohibition question, at the Vancouver sitting next week.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. (Adv.)

Police Recover Cars.—Though three or four motor cars were stolen in Victoria and the surrounding municipalities in the last few days, all have now been recovered. The Saanich, Oak Bay, Esquimalt City and provincial police officers each played some part in the recovery of the stolen cars. Two cars were located on the Island Highway, while another was found on Admirals' Road early this morning.

Disclaims Identity.—Carl Doane, 2529 Quadra Street, states to The Times that he is not the individual of that name fined in the Saanich police court on Wednesday last for discharging firearms within the limits of the municipality on Saanich.

Part II. Mining and Timber.

Mining is easily the most romantic of the productive activities in the province. This may be because of the tremendous impetus it gained there at the time of the gold rush, when the mainland was known as New Caledonia and was the sacred preserve of the fur-traders. Be that as it may, British Columbia is probably, per capita, the richest mineral division in the Dominion, which is saying a great deal for Canada, as among the favored nations where economical minerals are concerned. The provincial figures show that from 1852 to 1918 the total value of the mineral production of British Columbia was $637,353,581, distributed as follows: placer gold, $75,438,102; lode gold, $97,121,786; silver, $46,839,631; lead, $42,294,231; copper, $145,741,069; zinc, $13,278,058; coal and coke, $187,147,652; building stone, bricks and so on, $28,842,272; miscellaneous minerals, $651,759. Mining is speculative and so, romantic and interesting.

One can always see the forests, and seeing, accept the fact of their existence as a commonplace. Not so in British Columbia. There the timber-lands, even according to the most conservative estimates by experts, contain close to 250 billion feet of merchantable wood. This is about one quarter of the total timber resources of Canada. In pioneering days in Ontario, the land was the important thing, and the timber that it produced almost a nuisance. The obstructing trees were cleared off that the land might be suitably cropped. An occasional wood-pile is all that remains of a once timber great forest. That in the older-settled portion of the province. In the central and northern sections of Ontario, a great deal of timber remained, and because the market was good, this had, up to a few years ago, sufficed to maintain Ontario, from a production and value standpoint, as the chief lumbering province in the Dominion. The figures issued by the federal authorities on lumbering for 1918—the most recent—show that the values of production in lumber, shingles and bark, in the coast province, now exceed those in Ontario. The pulp and paper industry still enables the old province by the great lakes to maintain the pulp and paper industry at the coast is growing and it can be but matter of a few years until the figures of revenues from timber in British Columbia will be far and away above those from any other Canadian Province. The population of the province is not great, and the local demand small in accordance.

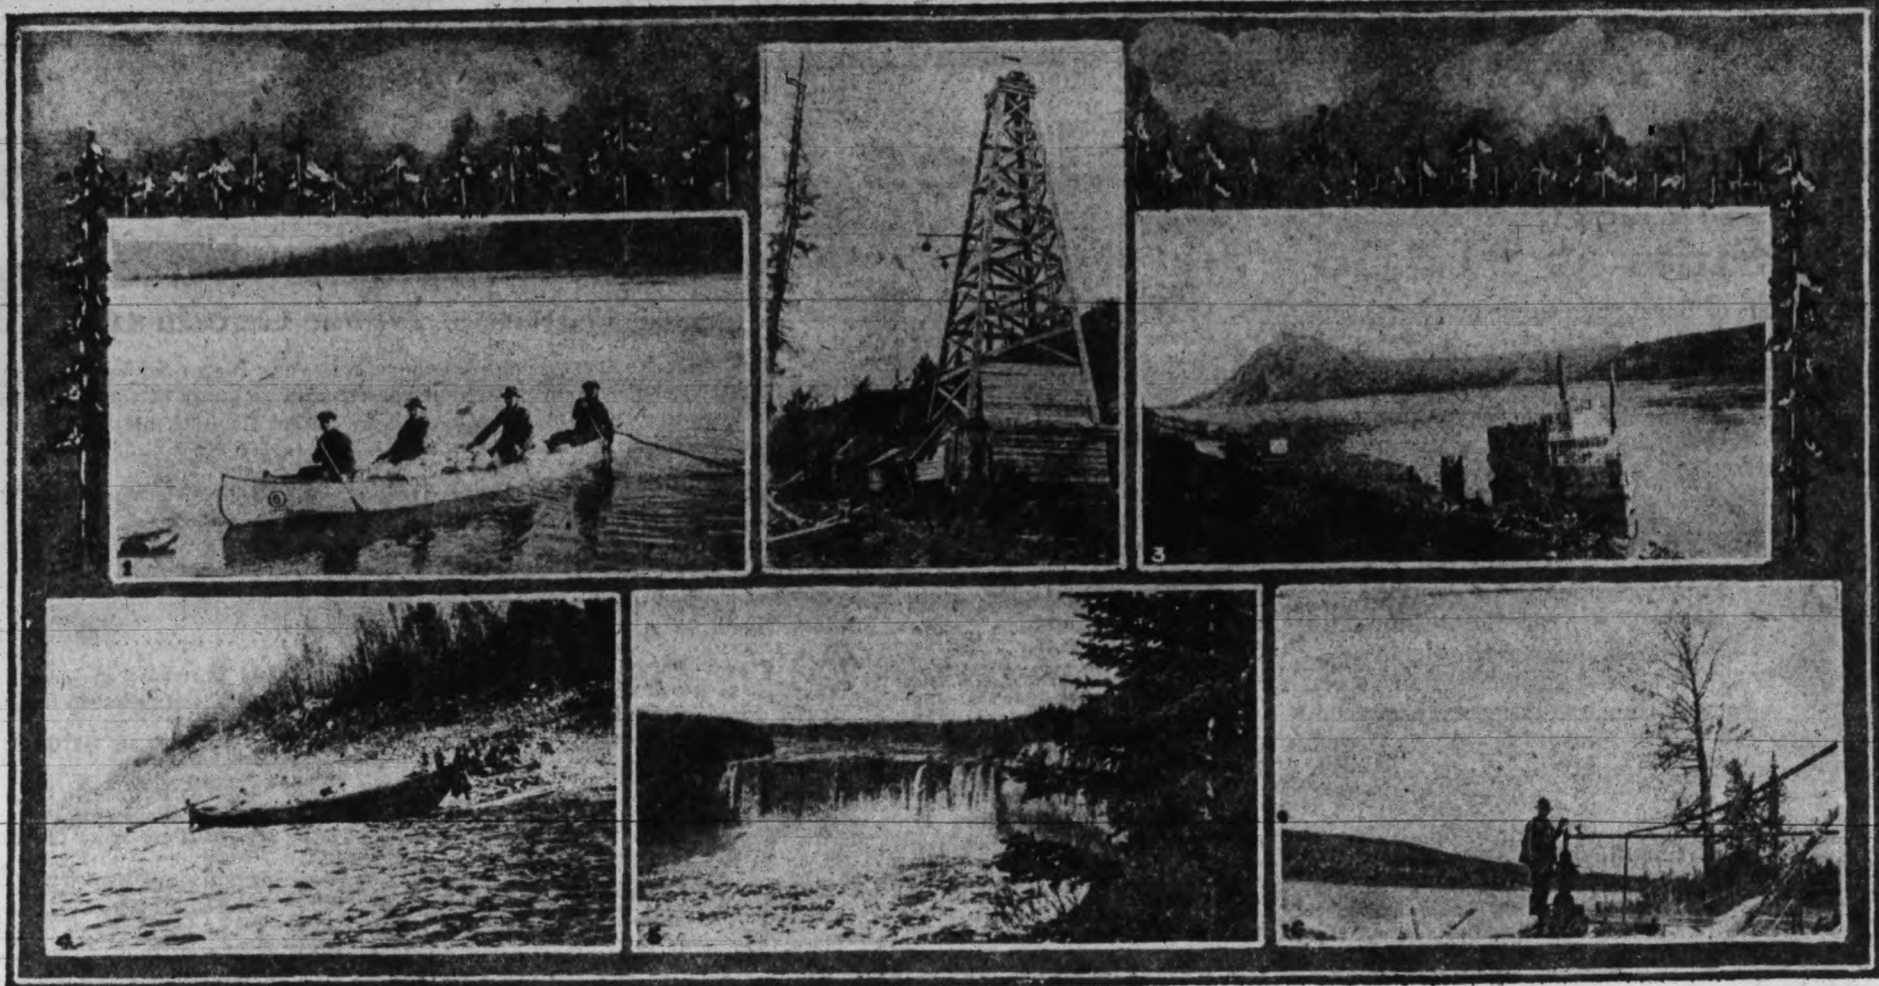

This condition is, indeed, accentuated by the abundance of wood suitable for building and the ease with which houses of log construction are built by the settlers. British Columbia has had to look to the prairies, and to foreign countries to absorb the surplus production from her forests. Graffing progress has been made in the markets. The construction of the two lines of Canadian National Railways through the Yellowhead Pass to the Pacific coast has afforded ready access to the expanding portion of the Canadian prairie West. And now ships of the fleet of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine are a big factor in the marketing of the products from such great trees as beech, maple, and the oak. But nowhere else in this country can we find the Douglas firs, the Sitka spruce, the western hemlock, the Douglas fir, the hemlock, black spruce, balsam, yellow cedar and white pine of the British Columbia forests.

It is probable that at present the annual cut in the province does not total much greater than the annual new growth. This will not, of course, be so always. In fact it may not be long continued, with favorable market conditions. But nature co-operates most admirably. The waters immediately off the coast are fed from the Arctic and are very cold. Off beyond, the warm Japanese current sweeps. The combination produces abundant moisture which is caught up by the prevailing West winds and carried inland. The high mountains of the Coast Range catch a lot of this as rainfall. The Selkirk act as that passes above the Coast Range, and the Rockies stop most of the rest of British Columbia. It is, therefore, abundantly blessed with rainfall, especially at the coast and at the North, and the aid to vegetation is enormous. There are possibilities from reforestation in British Columbia, accordingly, sufficiently obvious to warrant the hope that the forests of British Columbia shall never fall. What the value of all this timber of the future will be is beyond computation. It would be difficult to even measure by dollars the worth of the timber standing to-day.

Agriculture.

This mention of the moisture condition West of the Rockies leads naturally to a consideration of the situation as regards agriculture. This industry has been transitional there. Time was when the limitation of communications in the interior to roads, trails and watercourses made the ranch having live stock as its product the only feasible form of activity along that line. Accordingly the inland country with its natural bunch

SEEKING OIL LEASES IN MACKENZIE DISTRICT

The above pictures are from a set by H. A. George, broker, of Peace River town, who made a tour through the area by a new route this summer. In company with J. H. Johnston, D. L. S., right through to Fort Norman, and came back by the recognized route via the River to Fort Providence, thence across Great Slave Lake, down the Slave River to Fort Smith, and thence by that river and the Peace River to Peace River Crossing, where is now the head of steel. Mr. George was in the city this week, and supplied The Times with pictures.

In order the views are:—
1. On the Peace River, Mr. George is second in the canoe shown in the picture.
2. A well opened at Peace River, typical of the rigs erected in the various oil centres.
3. On the Mackenzie River, the steamer making a landing.
4. A native skin boat used on the northern rivers.
5. The Alexandra Falls on the Hay River, round which the George party portaged.
6. Tipping the oil for immediate use.

grass became set off with great ranches, the owners of which led an easy kind of life, driving the products to the nearest shipping point. When settlers did go in on the land, the inclination appears to have been to take things as easy as possible until the creation of additional communications increased the value of the holding by making the market sure. When that time arrived, the certainty of fruit as a crop made the cutting up of the big ranches into small farms an inevitable result. This was a good thing for the owners of the globe where the grocer distributes wares. Off the coast of British Columbia a submarine plateau extends for a considerable distance. The water covering is not very deep and would appear to be of the cool character one would expect from origin in the Arctic. This area of the sea is a natural breeding ground for fishes of many varieties of the whale to the herring. But the great fisheries of the coast are essentially the salmon, the halibut and the herring. Their importance would be of about the order given. The salmon, born in British Columbia fresh water, find their way to the sea, returning

There are some portions of British Columbia where the climate is so mild that grapes and peaches may be grown on the sunny sides of houses as in the Old Land over the sea. The apples of the coast are sought after in many markets. The production in small fruits is prolific. So, from any angle, the future of British Columbia from a fruit-growing point of view is extraordinarily bright. It is believed at the coast that in time the value of the fruit produced annually will equal, if it will not exceed, the value of the annual output from any other resource. The truck farms are mostly in the hands of Chinese, are close to the large centres, and produce wonderful crops. The alien from the Celestial republic is a wonder where intensive cultivation is concerned. He is a hard worker, prompt with deliveries and can live more cheaply than his white-skinned competitor. The Chinese and Japanese constitute a problem at the coast that seems difficult of solution, a problem that will probably be discussed in some detail, where the statesmen of the western hemisphere and those from the eastern, gather at Washington this Fall to discuss armistice matters. There is no doubt it can and will be solved in Canada, with justice to all parties concerned.

Cereals are not extensively grown in British Columbia but potatoes are a staple crop and we are becoming reconciled to the idea that splendid tubers are produced in abundance in the coast province. Those who have persisted in the opinion that the product of New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and of New Ontario could not be excelled in Canada, may yet have to modify that assertion if the reports from the coast are true. These facts, as set down, seem to cover fairly well the extent of the agricultural industry the revenue possibilities in that connection. It should be borne in mind that while British Columbia is a big province, only about one-twentieth of its area is suitable for agriculture at all. The valleys where most of the mixed farming is carried on are widely separated. The communications by rail and water comprise as yet not much more than a skeleton of what they will be when the development indicated here has been accomplished. Fruit and specialty-farming will probably by the chief lines followed and, from these, the rewards would appear to be limited only by the fertile acres. There are many woe places to be thin one of those little farms tucked away in a valley sheltered from the bleak North winds, where there is precious little frost, where the days are warm and the nights cool, and the fertility of the soil all that could possibly be desired. Fisheries. There remains now only consideration of the fisheries among the natural resources of the coast province. These are admittedly great and widely known—witness the canned salmon, on sale in nearly every corner of the globe where the grocer distributes wares. Off the coast of British Columbia a submarine plateau extends for a considerable distance. The water covering is not very deep and would appear to be of the cool character one would expect from origin in the Arctic. This area of the sea is a natural breeding ground for fishes of many varieties of the whale to the herring. But the great fisheries of the coast are essentially the salmon, the halibut and the herring. Their importance would be of about the order given. The salmon, born in British Columbia fresh water, find their way to the sea, returning when four years of age to deposit, spawn and die. The fisheries seek them on the way in to spawn and succeed in catching them in great numbers. Then they are cooked, and canned and marketed. Their quality is such that the pack in no other country can successfully compete at the price. The salmon is a source of considerable revenue to the National lines. The ships of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine will carry great shipments of it abroad as the years go by. Prince Rupert, the northern terminus of the C. N. R. in British Columbia, is the strategic centre of the halibut fisheries, as well as being an important point in connection in the handling of the salmon pack. Time was, when the Americans, fishing for halibut in northern British Columbia waters had to return to an American port down South with the catch. Now, with our transcontinental line at the coast so close to the actual fishing grounds, the productiveness of a voyage is wonderfully increased. The waters are prolific. It is said, (no invidious comparison intended) that a fisherman may catch in half-an-hour's line fishing in these northern, western waters, the equivalent of what would result from eight hours of trawling in the North Atlantic waters. It is natural that Prince Rupert should be in the way of handling a lot of halibut as time goes by. Already the handling of fish, freshly-caught, in carloads is a feature of Canadian National operation from that point. The management is seeing to it that the supply of cars is all that might be expected, and that policy will mean a big impetus to the fisheries, and a large revenue-producing traffic to our lines in northern British Columbia. Manufacturing. Now what of British Columbia as a manufacturing province? The federal-computers credited the province in 1917 with 1,772 establishments, employing 40,998 persons, and having a value of products of $171,425,816 and classified the province as fourth among the provinces of the Dominion, Only Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia exceeded the coast province, in that census taking. These industries will be, in the nature of things, developments of the three main-divisions of the Natural resources of the province and that they are already so extensive is a tribute to the industry of British Columbians who have decided they will not be merely hewers of wood and drawers of water where those great resources are concerned. Of course there will be wants in centres as large as are Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster and other British Columbia points in the light industry line that will be met by manufacturers at the coast. And the chances are that with coal in abundance, and iron ore in prospect in quantity, a steel industry of magnitude may develop down by the Pacific. But apart from any such contingency, the greater utilization of the natural resources will make of the coast province one of the great industrial provinces of the Dominion. That consideration of the cities, the scenery, the railways and the ports of British Columbia has been left to the close of this article is not due to any lack of appreciation but to the fact that they are already well known. The cities of Victoria, Nanaimo on the island, and New Westminster on the mainland were founded quite a long time ago, as touched upon before, but Vancouver, Nelson, Revelstoke, Prince Rupert and many other points familiarly known to Canadians are not much older than the average middle-aged Canadian of today. They have grown up with the present generation and their aspirations and achievements are likewise known throughout the Dominion. Scenery, not the ordinary pastoral sort, but the grand, inspiring views inseparable with mountains, rushing waters, and the sea, is a commonplace in British Columbia. Its ports—Vancouver, Victoria, and Prince Rupert—are directly in the line of development, and it seems certain that Vancouver at least will be one of the world's great shipping centres within the next quarter of a century. A greater utilization of the Panama Canal, and a more general development of the idea that grain can go through that tropical waterway between the oceans in bulk, without heating, will assuredly "make" Vancouver. Railways. Of the railways more might be said than we have space for here. But the public one way or another during the last few years that any detailed mention might well be superfluous now, is not so simple a matter as it might appear to plan and construct railways in British Columbia. The Canadian Pacific was sent through the Kicking Horse Pass to the Pacific, primarily because a railway was a condition of confederation with the people at the coast. Its grades are heavy but the mileage is less than it would have been had an "easier" route been followed. When the late "Jim" Hill sensed the possibilities of the Canadian coast province he sent his lines into that province from the coast. By the time the Canadian National Railway was ready to construct through to the coast from Edmonton all the facts of construction were available to its engineers. The easy, but longer route, was adopted, to the satisfaction of the provincial government equally with the direct route of the railway. It meant that

"Nothing but Zam-Buk could have done it," says Mrs. A. Bryman, 190, John Street, North, Hamilton, in describing how her right foot, crushed by a wagon wheel, was healed. "The flesh was terribly bruised, blackened and inflamed, and I fainted away with pain. When it was quite impossible for me to move about, my husband's mother got me to try Zam-Buk. It was surprising! Within TWO DAYS all swelling and discoloration had disappeared and pain was banished. In FOUR DAYS, through this timely use of Zam-Buk, I could get about as usual; the injured foot was thoroughly healed." Zam-Buk is the powerful antiseptic healer which quickly frees the skin of corruption and disease and grows new healthy tissue. No common ointment or salve can compare with Zam-Buk. other great valleys would be opened up, and that development would be rapid in the contiguous territory. So with the G. T. P. the "prairie" base was Edmonton, the pass, the Yellowhead, while the upper Fraser and Skeena River valleys were opened as another great rail route, and also the Bulkley Valley, which is one of the finest mixed-farming regions in northern British Columbia, with the possible exception of the portion of the Peace River Valley lying within the province. The construction of that line was of significance in connection with the development of the lumbering and fishing industries of the northern portion of the province, and the nucleus of a great port is already in existence at Prince Rupert. There was, in addition, a close relation between the construction of these continental lines, and the expansion of lines on the Island of Vancouver. When the agreement was entered into between the province and the builders of the Canadian Northern line, it was stipulated that construction should also be carried out on the Island to give that portion of the province the rail communications it had so long demanded. Competition among the lines, and the Canadian National Railway announced its readiness to build on the Island, the original line also became active, with the result that the lines now under construction will furnish excellent communications there, from southern to northern extremity. Coal, lumber and fruits are the chief commodities to be handled. Apart from these main lines, and the extensions planned from them, there is also one that was designed to open up the Fraser watershed where not served by other lines. This road is now the property of the province. Among other things it supplies the picturesque old Cariboo Road as a transportation route, just as the line of the Canadian National Railways to the North supplanted the mule-wheel steamers of Skeena. Ambitious plans were made in connection with the building of the Pacific Great Eastern, and it is quite possible that as the development of the province proceeds those plans will be worked through to completion. Altogether British Columbia is an interesting subject. In other issues it will be possible to treat in detail some of the conditions only generalized upon in this.

During the last forty years over eight thousand wrecks have occurred on the coasts of Great Britain. Bank of England notes are numbered backwards—that is, from 1 to 10,000. Hence the number 00,991. Shaving-water collected steaming hot from a tap by the roadside is a novelty in sixties-Thames, the spa route of the Pyrenees motor-trip, which is now becoming very popular with visitors to Paris. The water smells strongly of sulphur, but is excellent for the skin.—Tit-Bits.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" at the Princess Theatre is a play so well known that it really needs no special boost from any one. The comedy is splendid and the plot is deep and enthralling and at every point the author has handled the subject with an artist's care for the little details which when properly brought out lend to the general theme the last dainty touch which marks the finished play for success. The entire cast is at its best and with the singing and dancing specialties there isn't any doubt but what "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will more than justify the big things expected of this week. Little folks must get busy on the bean contest. Take a good look at the jar in Hibben's window.

In building a set that is later to be wrecked, it is important, says the Goldwyn art director, Cedric Gibbons, "to do the job without damaging the rest of the studio. Some ex-

Southern France is beautifully pictured in "The Mystery Road," a Paramount British-made picture featuring David Powell, which comes to the Dominion Theatre to-night. Scenes were photographed at various points along the French Riviera, and despite the remoteness of many of them, the filming operations were watched by large and curious crowds.

On reaching Nice and with his camera men and players, Director Paul Powell instantly got busy and when the deserted the beautiful road to Venice, ten miles from the "shot." The company spent an interesting week amid ideal weather and landscape and on their return to London, the interior sets were prepared and filmed.

The story of "The Mystery Road," an original one written by E. Phillips Oppenheim, deals with a young Englishman whose follies bring him along the mysterious road of life to the inevitable hour when one must come to the realization that folly doesn't pay. There is a beautiful love theme, and the romance and drama of the production are highly impressive. Nadja Ostrowska, Mary Glyne, Parodie Woodman, Ruby Miller, Percy Standing and Lewis Gilbert play the leading supporting roles.

CAPITOL

Richard Barthelmess, who plays the leading role of Youth in "Experience," is popular with Paramount audiences. He is a New York man and was educated at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. His mother was a prominent actress and his mimetic talents were inherited from her. His first screen appearance was with M. Nazimova in "War Brides." Later he was seen with Florence

Read in "The Eternal Sin." His first leading role was with Marguerite Clark in "The Valentine Girl." Then D. W. Griffith sent for him to play Lillian Gish, and he played leading roles in five Griffith pictures, making a phenomenal hit as the Chinaman in "Broken Blossoms." Other pictures made under Griffith's direction were "The Girl Who Stayed at Home," "Scarlet Days," "The Idol Dancer" and "Way Down East." "Experience" will play at the Capitol again to-day.

VARIETY

Mae Marsh, the petite and whimsical screen star, who is seen in the leading role of "Nobody's Kid," a Robertson-Cole production which will be shown at the Variety Theatre again to-day, is an interesting and unusual character. This new venture is her second effort on the screen since her retirement several years ago when she deserted the silver sheet to take up the role of a mother and remain by her own fireside. After the desertion of the popular star, photo-play lovers clamored for her, but it was not until Mary Marsh Arms, the new family addition, had reached the leading stage that her "Mom" consented to act again before the camera. It is well known in the movie world that before she had given moving pictures a thought Miss Marsh was hard at work as a sculptor and painter. Nor was her work without recognition, because a number of critics gave her honorable mention on the exhibition of her works. However, Miss Marsh found it difficult to keep her mind from taking wild jaunts into the operatic world, and she had to overcome this impediment, and it was not until she found herself face to face with the "movies" that she became mentally contented.

COLUMBIA

The most magnificent mother story ever told! The words of the above sentence automatically grouped themselves in the mind of the reviewer after seeing Marjorie Rambeau in the screen version of "The Fortune Teller" at the Columbia Theatre yesterday.

NEW CHAPLIN COMEDY

PACKED WITH LAUGHS

Charles Chaplin has invested "The Idle Class," his latest First National comedy, which comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre with more laughs than a hundred volumes of Life, Punch and Judge. Every situation is a new one and all are indescribably laughable. As a gothic of its kind to operate its own theatre, and is something of which Victorians should be proud, and which they should support with their patronage.

NEW FEATURE FOR DOMINION

Patrons of the Dominion Theatre who saw George Melford's fine production "Behold My Wife," several months ago, will have another surprise, when they see his special "The Great Impersonation," which has its premiere at the Dominion on Monday. This is one of the biggest picture productions of the year, and well-worth attention. The scenes are laid in England, Germany, and South Africa. It is one of Phillips Oppenheim's finest stories, and from every standpoint of direction, in-vestiture, and acting, it has few superiors. The picture represents a fortune in the settings. These are all particularly effective and include a boudoir setting which is a replica of Mary Antonette's boudoir, and many other lavish sets. The cast is of high calibre, and includes Ann Forrest, Trudy Shuman, Foster La Rue, Alan Hale, James Kirkwood, and many other famous names. The character is a German and the other the English Lord. The adaptation was made by Monte Katterjohn, who was responsible for "The Great Moment," and also "The Flame of the Yukon" for Dorothy Dalton.

The late Mrs. Page, wife of the former U. S. Ambassador to Italy, by will endowed $50,000 for the establishment and maintenance of a "public school of music" in Chicago.

HISTORICAL PLAY TO BEGIN TO-MORROW

Picturesque Drama at Little Theatre, Oak Bay

How exciting and adventurous was life in France, the sixteenth century, and with what eagerness are books dealing with this period always enjoyed. Historical romances written by Baroness Orczy and Stanley Weyman are immediately called to mind, and perhaps pleasing memories of the dramatization of "The Three Musketeers" and "The Scarlet Pimpernel" are recalled by such as have seen their performance.

It is of this type and period that the next play of the Victoria Dramatic and Operatic Society deals. The title is "In the Queen's Service," and the play has been adapted by R. N. Hincks from a popular novel and is under his personal direction. The most modest and fearless hero, Garnache, finds the Queen's orders to obey, having himself thwarted by a forceful and unscrupulous woman, the Marquis, and throughout the thrilling acts his task is a battle of wits with this woman, and battles of a sterner type against those who would do her bidding. The combined ingenuity of Garnache and his faithful servant, Rebecq, is taxed to the utmost in opposition to the plots of the Marquis, but finally, after many rebuffs and dangers have been overcome, he is triumphant in the delicate matter entrusted to him. It is the hour of triumph, that he realizes that the only danger which he had failed to guard against, because he despised it and considered it so remote, has taken advantage of his carelessness. The arrow of Cupid has pierced his heart, and he has become the victim of love—an emotion at which he had persistently scoffed.

This brief outline gives an idea of the interesting play which will be staged for the first time in Victoria on Saturday night next, and will hold the boards each night of the following week. This enterprising Amateur Dramatic Society is to be congratulated to kind to operate its own theatre, and is something of which Victorians should be proud, and which they should support with their patronage.

APPEARING IN VANCOUVER.

"Aphrodite," the world's greatest spectacle and the sensation of Paris, New York and Chicago, has been booked at the Avenue Theatre, Vancouver, for one week, commencing Monday, October 24, with matinee Wednesday and Saturday. Pagan love in old Alexandria in the period when civilization was in its infancy forms the background of a story of passion such as the world has seldom known. "Aphrodite" tells of the price that Demetrios, a famous Greek sculptor, pays in theft, murder and sacrifice to enjoy the favors of Chrysis, one of the most famous courtesans of all times. There are ten enormous scenes, and over 300 players are required in its presentation.

APPEARING AT VARIETY.

Miss Nellie Dooley, a member of a talented Victoria family, is cleverly executing some original dances at the Variety Theatre, and is heard in song numbers. Like her sister Lillian, she received a musical and artistic training at the large seaport of Liverpool where she was born. Both Nellie and Lillian are well-known in revue, concert and entertainment, not only in the city of their adoption, but throughout Vancouver Island and some mainland points, where they have on more than one occasion been "on four" with concert parties. During the war the two sisters were in much demand in entertaining functions, giving their talents freely and willingly when called upon. Miss Dooley is receiving warm and hearty applause at this well managed and popular motion house.

Got No Sleep

But now the neuritis has gone, the pains have ceased, the nervous system is restored and the writer of this letter pays a grateful tribute to the medicine which made him well.

Mr. John Woodward, P.T.O., Lucan, Ont., writes:

"It gives me much pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's medicine, especially the Nerve Food. I was a sufferer from neuritis for several years, and tried all kinds of remedies, yet never seemed to get any better. At last my nerves and whole system seemed to give way through not being able to get any rest or sleep at night for pain, which mostly used to take me in all parts of the limbs and feet. My nerves would twitch all my whole body would seem to jerk right up as I lay in bed. Almost at the point of despair, I decided I would get Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I did, and after taking twenty boxes I believe myself almost normal again. I also buy a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on hand, and for the past year I seem to enjoy my usual health."

TELS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas, Bloating, Etc.
Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and it is perfectly safe. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the meals will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This neutral work, should not be confused with the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peppin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the bisulphate form is not a laxative. Try this plan and see if it doesn't give you the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

Australian Three-mast Vessel Speedway to Load Lumber at Vancouver for Suva

Three weeks out from San Francisco, the three-mast schooner Speedway, Capt. The Speedway is a small schooner of 540 tons register, and is operated under the Australian flag.

In making the voyage up the coast from San Francisco under sail the schooner bumped into the southeasterly and southwesterly gales recently experienced in this latitude. The little craft rode out the gales in fine style, and made port intact despite the buffeting of the waves.

An interesting commentary on British Columbia and its resources in forests, mines and fisheries, from the pen of David Warwick, appears in the September number of the Canadian National Railway Magazine. ### PAINT BRUSHES AND PALACES Henrich Angeli, the Court painter of Europe, celebrated his eighty-first birthday, but he continues his work with unbroken vigor in Vienna.

In an interview, Angeli said: "In 1875 I was for the first time called to Windsor by Queen Victoria, and afterwards she summoned me a number of times. I had to paint her and the members of her family each time, sometimes singly, sometimes in family groups. The first year she made it a condition that I should not paint anyone else in England."

"When, on my first visit, one of the Great officials showed me to my rooms, I lighted a cigar, and he drew my attention to the fact that in Windsor Castle smoking was allowed only in the billiard-room. 'Very well,' I answered, 'then I will go to an hotel to smoke, for I cannot live without my cigar.'"

The Unpleasant Truth. "Her Majesty heard of this, and soon afterwards the Court official came again and told me that the Queen did not wish me to leave the Castle to be able to smoke. The consequence was that henceforth many of the gentlemen of the Court visited me in order to smoke in my room, and it was often dense with tobacco fumes."

"It was a great pleasure to chat with Her Majesty, for she was unusually intelligent; she had a very practical mind and a correct judgment of men and matters. At a sitting I once said to her: 'I should not want to be a king, your Majesty.' 'Why not?' asked her Majesty in surprise. I answered, 'Because monarchs do not know whether they have true friends or not; they rarely hear the truth, because no one ventures to say anything unpleasant to them, nor can anyone who is not called appear before a monarch.'"

"Her Majesty replied, smilingly: 'As a general thing you are right, but there are persons who make use of an apparently favorable moment to tell me a disgraceful truth; from this they deduce the right to lie to me for the rest of their lives.'"

Painting Potatoes. "Among the potatoes I had to paint was Don Pedro of Brazil. That was in 1877. But the arrival of the Emperor was delayed, and I informed Queen Victoria that I could not paint him, as I was obliged to leave for Vienna the next evening. The Queen insisted on my painting the portrait and pointed out that the whole of the following day was at my disposal. 'To my objection that I had still to pack and make other necessary preparations for the trip, and could not travel comfortably as Royalty,' the Queen asked: 'If you can travel as comfortably as I, will you paint the Emperor?' 'Certainly, your Majesty,' I replied."

"After the sitting I drove from my easel to the railway station, and there in the saloon car of the Queen stood in readiness my luggage was carefully stowed away, and I steamed away to Dover. —Tit-Bits.

SAANICH POLICE

BALL PROMISES TO BE GREAT SUCCESS

Second Annual Function to Be Held by Saanich Department Wednesday

The second annual police ball of the Saanich Police department promises to be an even greater success than the initial function staged by that force last year. The ball is to take place at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, on Wednesday next, and will be held under the patronage of Reeve Watson, the councillors and the police commissioners. Chief Brogan and his staff have been working hard to complete all arrangements, and plans are now in readiness to take care of the large gathering that is anticipated.

The number of tickets to be sold are strictly limited, and indeed but few remain, these may be obtained from Harold M. Diggon, Cecil Heaton at David Spencer's Ltd., and the members of the Saanich police force. Dancing will open at nine o'clock and continue until two in the morning. A special interurban car will leave Saanichton at 1:00 a.m. on Thursday morning to take back the guests from the city, travelling by the B. C. E. R. Heaton's four-piece orchestra has been engaged for the occasion, and a lively programme of dancing music is ensured for the event. The catering is in the hands of George Florence, of the City Hygienic Bakery, and a comfortable buffet supper is to be served. From the large number that have already signified their intention of being present the second annual ball of the Saanich police department bids to be a successful initial event by its gaiety and success.

HOUSE OF 10,000 SAFES

Building That Baffles Burglars.

Which is London's most remarkable building? Personally (writes the T.-B. man) I should plump for the Safe Deposit, in Chancery Lane, which, although it is little known to the public, has features that are possessed by no other building in the kingdom.

The Safe Deposit provides absolute security for the valuables and other belongings of its thousands of subscribers. The entrance reminds one of a prison, with locked steel gates, a porter in a uniform answered at a moment's notice, and a uniformed janitor to inquire your business.

Everyone who desires to pass the gates must give a satisfactory reason for doing so. This rule is so strictly enforced that in the twenty-five years of the Safe Deposit's existence no one has succeeded in getting in for an unlawful purpose.

Where Caution Is Required.

Once inside, the visitor finds himself in the identification vestibule, where, if he is a subscriber, he produces his key for the safe rented by him. In my case this formality was dispensed with, my escort being the courteous manager-director, Sir Vincent Evans, who gave me some interesting facts about the building.

In the first place, he explained that the idea came from an American who, thirty years ago, many of the big trust corporations maintained safe deposits for the convenience of their clients. A London Welshman, seeing possibilities in the scheme as a separate business proposition, formed a company, and in the middle nineties the Chancery Lane Safe Deposit came into being. Since then it has grown to be the biggest and most complete safe deposit in the Empire.

The building covers nearly an acre and a half of land. The Safe Deposit being below the ground level, with huge block of offices and chambers above, all belonging to the company.

The safes, 10,000 in number, are arranged in corridors, which if placed end to end would extend two miles. The smaller safes are contained in strong-rooms, 500 in number, each strong-room weigh 500 tons each, and their doors two tons each.

No safe may be unlocked without the presence of both the depositor and an official of the company, each safe being fitted with two locks, neither of which alone gives access to the safe. The doors of the strong-rooms are fitted with time-locks and cannot be opened until the hour for which they are set arrives.

The strong-rooms themselves are detached from the walls of the building, so that an armed patrol can walk round, over, and under them, mirrors on every side reflecting the movements of anyone in the vicinity. Armor plating is used in protecting the strong-rooms and he would be a bold burglar who would even attempt to force an entrance.

A Place of Wondrous Wealth.

The charges for renting the safes vary from one guinea to £100 a year, according to size. Some of the big safes are capable of holding the contents of a house.

Much of the wealth of Hatton Garden, the diamond merchants' Mecca, is hoarded there. Probably £20,000,000 would not be an excessive estimate of the value of the precious stones alone.

In addition, there is property and personal effects of every description, ranging from wills, insurance policies, and stocks and shares certificates, to jewellery and plate worth fabulous sums, with priceless heirlooms, valuable relics, and bullion thrown in.

Some of Shakespeare's MSS. were contained in one safe for many years; while another out-of-the-way deposit consisted of thirteen sacks full of postal orders, concerned in a lawsuit.

King George's stamp collection was stored there at one time, while during the war the regimental plate of most of our famous regiments found its way to the building. —Tit-Bits.

ANOTHER FALSEHOOD

"The prisoner came before the bar with the bored air of the hardened offender. The judge looked down at him and passed for words. His face wore a look of disgust."

"Jacks, this is the nineteenth time you have appeared here to answer to a charge of petty larceny. You're absolutely hopeless, and I can't see what I'm going to do with you. Have you anything to say for yourself?"

"Yes, sir, judge," the prisoner hastened to reply. "You see, it was this way. —"

"It's no use!" the judge interrupted. "It doesn't make any difference how you want to tell it, I wouldn't believe your statement if you swore to it on a stack of Bibles."

"There was a moment's awed silence. The prisoner smiled craftily. "Judge," he stated, "I plead guilty!"

and what it has done for

THESE are the testing days, the days that put the acid test on every business. Sound businesses will survive and the unsound will pass off the map entirely, or start afresh with the bitter lessons of experience as a guide and a warning. When there was business for everyone in the happy post-war period, sound businesses swept along with big turnovers and satisfactory profits, and there was enough left to keep unsound businesses trailing happily along behind. Everybody was happy.

And then!—The fresh breeze of prosperity died down and the calm of stagnant business fell like a pall.

It was a dead calm for unsound businesses, and they drifted hopelessly and helplessly about.

The sound businesses were equipped, as it were, with an auxiliary motor, the motor of quality, and a reputation built up by years of faithful service to the buying public.

That motor has kept them moving steadily along, and some business skippers wonder where they get their momentum from.

It's no secret. Twenty-one years ago we decided to build this business on quality. In those twenty-one years there have been four periods when the little bird of expediency whispered, "drop quality and depend on wind alone."

We were tempted, but we did not fall. The stronger the temptation, the stronger our determination to hold fast to quality and keep that equipment up to full strength and efficiency.

How fortunate for us that we did not waver! When thousands are crying "cheap, cheap," and "price, price," we find that our reputation for quality is carrying us right along, and that in this year of grace 1921 our volume of business in cold dollars and cents will be as great as in any year previous to the abnormal post-war period.

That's what quality has done for 20th Century Brand Fine Tailored Clothes for Men.

And we're so grateful that we have decided to put more quality into our garments. We're doing so right now. Not less quality to meet the cry for cheap goods, but more quality to meet the demand for value and service.

Quality has been the one big factor in the success of our business. Watch and see what more quality will do for us.

BIRDS' WILY DODGES.

Globe-Trotters Who Trick Their Trackers.

An American expedition is away in the Far North searching for the eggs of the Blue Goose. This is one of those birds which spends its Summer in latitudes so near the Pole that its nest is safe from any ordinary egg-collector.

There are several other birds which have the same strange but wise habit. One is the knot, a shore bird which in Winter visits our British coasts in large numbers. It seems to wander all over the world, yet always returning to the far Arctic to breed.

Then there is the grey plover, another species often seen in England during the Autumn. Its breeding-place was totally unknown until that famous bird man, Henry Seebohm, found its nest on the Great Pechora River, in Northern Russia.

Even then there remained one bird of which the eggs and young had never yet been seen. It was the curlew-sandpiper. In Winter it is seen not only in the British Isles but in Patagonia, Tasmania, and Cape Colony.

It was only about ten years ago that its nesting-place was at last discovered, far up amid the Arctic ice. It might seem madness for any bird to venture so far North to rear

A story has it that coffee was first found in Arabia by Hadji Omar, 650 years ago. Banished and starving, Omar found the berries sustaining and delicious, and hurried back to Mecca to enlighten the world. He was persecuted and proclaimed a saint.

THIS story is discounted by cautious historians, but because it may contain some truth, let us offer thanks to Hadji Omar. We certainly owe a debt of gratitude somewhere for the discovery of coffee.

CANCER IN BRITAIN

Deaths Nearly Double in Edinburgh in Twenty-three Years.

According to the British Minister of Health, cancer kills more than 42,000 every year in England and Wales. The death rate is steadily on the increase. This statement is confirmed by Dr. Maxwell Williamson, son of Edinburgh, in his calling attention to the increase of deaths from the disease. Dr. Williamson says that during the last twenty-three years the number of deaths in Edinburgh per year has increased from 267 to nearly double this figure—471. All the deaths due to tuberculosis, including lungs, bones, bowels, etc., only amounted to 417. What is taking place in Edinburgh is taking place also in the whole country. Cancer appears to be unaffected by environment, and is actually found in the bowels, which, according to Dr. Williamson, may suggest some influence exercised by present-day habits of feeding.

The holiday season for most people is the busy time for an expert who renounces the models on which drapers, costumiers, furriers, and so on display their wares. This being the month when the models are least likely to be seen, it is at any rate the specialist, who repairs the ravages which the year's wear and the sales have wrought on the season's beauties. He replaces a low which, according to models a damaged chin and restores the complexion.

Then his assistant re-dresses the hair in the latest style. For this complete renovation the model doctor charges a guinea per figure.—THE B.H.

TAXES NOT FAIR, COL. LISTER SAYS

Distribution Inequitable, He Declares; Wants Cheaper Liquor and Powder

Demand for equitable taxation, better treatment of the returned soldier settlers at Camp Lister and more roads in the outlying districts, were features in the speech of Colonel Fred Lister, Conservative member for Kaslo, in the Legislature Thursday afternoon.

The up-country member contended that tax impositions were not fairly distributed at present and he called upon the Government for adjustment. He did not envy the Government its task, but since they were in office there was a duty involved and the burden should be placed where it could be borne.

Colonel Lister expressed pleasure over the mention in the King's speech of a selected route for the trans-provincial highway. He was glad some member of the Government knew where the road was to go, as he had heard little else in the way of road construction mentioned for several years. He urged the Minister of Public Works to announce his plans. He also asked for better roads in Kaslo, pointing out that settlers there had cleared land, planted fruit trees and were now gathering their harvests, but still no roads were provided for them to get their produce to market.

MAN'S UNION NOT SAFE NOW POOLEY FEARS

Against "Roasting Chestnuts With Heat From Snowball"

Increased Taxes Killing Industry and Immigration, He Says

"What have we got to offer the poor devil of an immigrant when he comes here?" R. Harry Pooley of Esquimalt asked in the Legislature yesterday.

"Nothing but unbearable taxation. If a man takes some land in Saanich and grows one onion, a Government official comes along and takes that one onion. If he grows a chicken a Government inspector rolls up in his Cadillac and plucks the chicken. It is a time this Government practiced some of the economy they preached on the hustings. They have done anything of that nature. They have split up departments and filled them up with inspectors and job hunters."

Attacks Patullo Trip. "My friend the Minister of Lands has been joy-riding to Norway to learn how to extract heat from a Norwegian snowball to roast chestnuts. That is a waste of public funds. No doubt the gentleman in question has had a fine time and he comes back looking rosy and healthy. But that is not the kind of treatment the taxpayer wants."

"If the members of this Government would practice a little of the economy that they preach, it would not be necessary to go to the lengths of abolishing the income tax exemption."

Too Many Taxes. Mr. Pooley said that in his own constituency was a little canning industry and this business now had to pay no less than fifteen licenses. "I ask my honorable friend whether he suggests that these taxes were a hardship on such a company?" M. B. Jackson asked.

"I am just showing the members of this House the way industry is almost taxed out of existence," Pooley replied. "They looked up the figures and on the American side of the line I find that such an industry would pay $150 a year and no more. This country in my district pays $2,500 taxes in all a year."

This Proposal an Outrage. Mr. Pooley declared that the overhead cost of conducting the Government of B. C. had gone up from $1,600,000 in 1916 to $3,800,000 to-day. He ridiculed the proposed legislation for creating the new office of fire marshal and appointing another official as "an outrage as the work has been very well carried on until now by the registrar of joint stock companies."

Dr. Baker Up Again. Mr. Pooley asserted that according to the public accounts Dr. Baker of the Game Board spent $1,800 last year travelling. He suggested that partly to buy a new Lexington car for Dr. Baker.

This Government is running riot," Mr. Pooley went on. "Now to pay for these joyrides they want to tax us more."

Stuart Henderson on Job. "I ask my friend, the Minister of Mines, how is Stuart Henderson? Is he fat and is he feeling well? I wonder whether some of the money from increased taxation is not going to Stuart Henderson to develop for him his Snowstorm mining claims. I saw him the other day and he was looking fine and had a new suit."

Mr. Pooley ridiculed the idea of the Government drilling for oil in Saanich. "There is a big man's game and said that the Government could not afford to gamble $150,000 on drilling each well."

Fears Government Rollback. "There is to be no session of this Legislature next year, because of this Fall session," Mr. Pooley went on. "I can picture to myself the roll-backing session of the Government will have in the next fifteen months. Think of all the joyrides, the new motor cars and nobody to watch them and no public accounts committee to check them up. I suppose they will be having joyrides next to China, Timbuctoo or Saanich."

He urged that money might well be used to bring tourists to B. C. pointing to how Los Angeles had been built up through the tourist business.

Kept in Dark But Got Money. Mr. Pooley charged that members of the Legislature voted under a misapprehension at the end of last session when they put through the increased salaries indemnity. He said that he stood on everything that he had done in connection with it, but he was surprised four days after members returned to the Legislature to learn that the wages of Government men on the roads had been cut down the very day before that on which the members' salaries were raised.

"On March 31 wages of road men were cut 75 cents a day and $1 a day for teamsters of the Langford order went through the House increasing the indemnities," Mr. Pooley went on.

"Piker" Unparliamentary. "I think it was due to each and every member of this House that he should have known exactly what he was doing when he voted on that question."

Premier Oliver—I would like to ask my friend whether he and members of the House knew what they were doing when they signed that round robin?" Dr. K. C. MacDonald—"Don't be a piker."

Mr. Pooley immediately asked that this remark be withdrawn, which Dr. MacDonald did before the Speaker had a chance to ask him to do so.

Wilfully False, Premier Says. Mr. Pooley quoted from a letter written by the Premier to Sydney G. Brown, secretary of the Langford C. W. V. A. in which it was written: "I can only say that the statement that information in respect to a reduction of wages was kept from Mr. Pooley and other members is false and wilfully so. John Oliver."

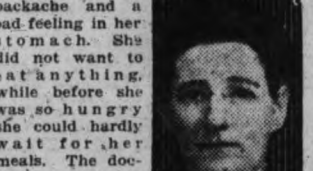

"Well, I say that we all voted under a misapprehension and we should be put in that position," Mr. Pooley went on.

"Anyhow, we should cut down a lot of these unnecessary joyrides," he concluded, "and encourage people to come here, but don't tax them to death when they do come."

MRS. SELCHERT'S DAUGHTER

Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Horicon, Wis.—"My young daughter had been troubled for several months with backache and a bad feeling in her stomach. She did not want to eat anything while before she was so hungry she could hardly wait for her meals. The doctor's gave her medicine but it did not help her."

One day I was reading a little book of yours and it reminded me that when I was a young girl I took several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She went to the drug store and got a bottle, and after taking the second one she could eat and has not had backache since. In all she took six bottles. She goes to school and on Saturdays helps with the housework. She is a normal, healthy girl now and we recommend your medicine. But that is not the kind of treatment the taxpayer wants."

Another all over the country have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to be a most reliable remedy for such conditions.—Adv't

FINISH P. G. E. KERGIN URGES

Atlin Member Also Wants Roads to "Finest Place in World"

Complete the P. G. E. to Prince George was the policy H. F. Kergin of Atlin announced himself in favor of in the Legislature yesterday.

Then he launched on a glowing description of the resources, beauties and possibilities of his constituency.

"But how do you get into it?" he asked. "The easiest way would be by aeroplane. It is up to the Province to make representation to the Federal Government to build a road from Hazelton to Whistlers. It is time now that there should be a survey made, at least."

Mr. Kergin asked the Government to look into the possibilities of the Naas River country, where the Naas and Crows rivers meet, but where there were yet only thirteen settlers.

Wants Wage Insurance. He urged on the Government a policy of wage insurance, so that the worker would be protected as far as his pay went if his employing company should fail. He said that companies in his district had failed and the workers had been left with no wages and no chance of getting any. He suggested that in cases of failures there should be an arrangement for the Government taking an assignment on the payroll and collecting later through the Attorney-General's department.

Finest in World. Atlin is the finest place in the world when it comes to scenery yet it is not mentioned in the publications of the tourist associations down here."

Mr. Kergin went on. "The finest fox farms in Canada are up here. Do you know that Anxox is the only copper smelter in Canada that is working to-day and that it is one of the three on the North American continent that is in operation. I would ask that the Province as a whole get better acquainted with this country we have up there."

ISSUES MONTHLY REPORT OF S.P.C.A.

The following cases are among those investigated by the Inspector of the S. P. C. A. during the past month:

Horses 4, 1 destroyed; dogs 4; cat 1; sheep 1; cow 1; miscellaneous 1; cases in court 1; with conviction 1. Much ground has again been covered by the Inspector in the performance of his duties, two trials having been made to Albert Head, one to Sidney and several to Saanich and Oak Bay.

The society held a social evening on September 27th, which was a distinct success. It is proposed to hold such meetings more frequently. Several new subscribers were enrolled, and members secured for the Jack London Club to protect performing animals.

Attention is again drawn to the matter of chaining dogs. The society receives many complaints in this connection, and it must be evident to all thoughtful persons that no animal can be happy or healthy if continually chained. The R. S. P. C. A. in England has made several test cases of constant chaining, gaining convictions in all cases.

It has also been remarked that many boys and other persons are using catapults. All sling-shots, catapults and air guns are illegal and persons found using them are liable to a fine not exceeding $50.

The society has received with much regret the resignation of Capt. Hartnord from the presidency of the S. P. C. A., owing to pressure of work. The annual meeting of the society will be held about the middle of November, of which due notice will be given.

BOWSER THINKS YOUR CHARGES

Two Courses Open to Him; Premier Anxious for Light

Whether Mr. Bowser's notice of motion calling for a select committee of the House to investigate charges set forth in his resolution filed in the Legislature Wednesday afternoon should be permitted on the order paper, was taken up late yesterday by Speaker Manson. The point had been left in statu quo for the time being.

The Speaker read a statement to the House setting out a summary of the charges contained in Mr. Bowser's resolution. He maintained that Ministers were charged with grave offenses and therefore the House could not admit the resolution and appoint the committee asked for, since by so doing there would be a direct admission that some of the charges were true.

However, the Speaker suggested other ways for Mr. Bowser to achieve his end. A simple motion without preamble for a select committee to enquire into certain matters would suffice, or Mr. Bowser might state "Vegetable Compound" and believe certain things to be true and move for a committee to investigate.

Mr. Bowser suggested that the matter rest temporarily on the order paper. Premier Oliver said the Government was at all times anxious to let in the light upon its administration of public affairs. He wanted it understood, though, that when a member took it upon himself to make charges of the nature referred to, namely, that the liquor law administration was corrupt, that the member must stand prepared to make the charges good and assume responsibility for his actions.

The Premier assured the House that nothing would be done to hamper members in securing information on the matter in question.
