DOUKHOBORS WILL NOT HELP SEARCH FOR INCENDIARIES

Government Not Aided in Attempt to Punish Fanatics Who Burned Schools

Doikhobors of the interior of British Columbia, while accusing the Government of failure to punish fanatics who recently burned three of their public schools, have given the Government absolutely no assistance in its efforts to apprehend the incendiaries. Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education, declared this afternoon.

Dr. MacLean's statement followed the receipt of news from Nelson that Peter Verigin, president of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, had written to Premier Oliver protesting against the Government's inaction in connection with the destruction of Doukhobor schools. In his letter to the Premier, Verigin, called the "King of the Doukhobors," says that the Doukhobors are threatening to burn dwelling houses if they are used for school purposes in place of the schools burned last week. He says he cannot invite the children and school teachers to use dwelling houses with the prospect of fire hanging over them.

CHAMBER DECLINES TO ASK FOR ENTRY OF RACE HORSES

Will Secure More Information of Foot and Mouth Disease

Difference of opinion regarding the admission of horses passing through California into Victoria was voiced at a meeting of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day. Brigadier-General R. P. Clark asked the chamber to press for the admission of horses into Canada if it could be ascertained that it would be no menace to the cattle of British Columbia. He cited the $200,000 Coventry interests seriously hit by the Ottawa order barring horses announced Saturday, and said it might mean production on page 2.

IN NUMBER OF JAPANESE CITIES PROTESTS VOICED AGAINST U.S. EXCLUSION

Mass meetings of protest against exclusion have been held in Nagoya, Osaka, Kobe, Okayama and other cities in Western Honshu, Shikoku and Kyushu. Word has been received that the Japanese community of Tsingtao, China, adopted a protest resolution. The national convention of the Subshasta, or organization of the Eta, composed of some 1,500,000 Japanese of the Social Outcast Class, passed an anti-exclusion resolution, copies of which were sent to the Swarthists of India, the Pan-Asiatic Association of Shanghai and the Organization of Korea. The Subshasta urged these bodies to unite against American exclusionism and racial discrimination.

Owen concluded the dedication address yesterday at the unveiling of the Cenotaph in memory of the Vancouver soldiers who gave their lives in the Great War. The occasion was one of the most memorable in the history of Vancouver. It is remembered, in the remarkable unanimity with which the whole city participated, that five years have not dimmed the memory of the sacrifices made in the world struggle between right and wrong. The solemnity of the occasion was heightened by the presence of thousands of men, women and children, all four streets surrounding the square being blocked to traffic by the dense multitude. The windows and roof lines of the surrounding buildings were filled with eager faces.

Later, however, the rioting was renewed, with additional casualties. Sixteen arrests were made.

Premier Hurries Return to Meet Cabinet Members

Oliver Will Arrive Here Friday And Reveal Results of the Ottawa Mission

Gallier Report to be Made Public Next Week; Will Decide Election Date

What success Premier Oliver achieved through his recent mission to Ottawa will be made known early next week after the Premier himself has returned here and consulted with members of his Cabinet.

The Premier wired to his colleagues to-day that he would reach the city on Friday of this week. He is on his way west now on the Canadian National Railway.

Whether the Government will go to the country early in the Summer or postpone the election until the Fall also will be decided. It is understood, but probably no announcement of date of the poll will be made until later.

Following the Premier's return, Mr. Justice Gallier's report on the affairs of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway will be made public. It is anticipated that the full report will be made public a week from to-day after the Premier has conferred at length with his ministers over the week-end.

RESCUE PARTIES UNABLE TO FORCE WAY INTO PIT TO SAVE LIVES OF MINERS

More Than 100 Men Trapped by Explosion in Workings at Benwood, West Virginia; Fire Broke Out and Deadly Fumes Filled the Passage Ways; Little Hope Any of Underground Workers Will Be Found Alive

Wheeling, W.Va., April 28.—More than 100 miners were entombed by an explosion in the Benwood Mill Mine of the Wheeling Steel Corporation at Benwood, near here, a few minutes after they went to work this morning. All entries of the mine were blocked by rock and dirt. Four hours after the blast came volunteer rescuers, hurriedly assembled, had been unable to gain entrance to the underground passageways.

Little hope was felt for the trapped miners, for the mine was on fire and choked with deadly fumes. At the time it was reported 125 men had gone to work and that none had escaped. The State Bureau of Mines at Charleston, however, announced that its report showed only 107 men entombed.

More than 200 workers from nearby mines rushed to Benwood when word of the disaster spread. Their first attempt was to clear the entries so the rescuers could get in. The rock and debris, blocking the way were attacked with picks and dynamite. Among those trapped underground was George Holliday, the fire boss, who went in this morning to see that all was safe.

The blast, according to reports from Benwood, took place about three miles back in the mine. Benwood firemen, summoned to the scene, soon reported the mine was on fire. Clouds of smoke drifted from the main entry of the mine. Two cars of the United States Bureau of Mines stationed at Pittsburgh were rushed to Benwood.

BARROW FIRMLY AGAINST HORSES FROM TIA JUANA

Racing Interests Told Animals From Mexico Must Not Come to Province

Ottawa Ruling Causes Confusion; Experts to Confer To-day

Racing interests which are endeavoring to bring Tia Juana race horses to British Columbia for race meets this Summer were told plainly by Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, to-day that he would not recede an inch in his opposition to such a move.

"The Department of Agriculture takes the stand that it would be most unwise, in view of the foot and mouth disease situation in California, to allow the Tia Juana horses to enter the Province, and we have not altered that view," Mr. Barrow told newspaper correspondents after he had been interviewed by Hon. T. G. Coventry, representing interests which are establishing a new race track at Colwood.

Mr. Barrow explained that there was some confusion about the precise effect of the new Federal livestock regulations against the admission of American race horses to this Province. Mr. Barrow has been (Continued on page 2.)

EXPORTS OF CANADA ARE INCREASING AT A FASTER RATE THAN IMPORT TOTAL

Ottawa, April 28.—A decrease in imports and an increase in exports as compared with March, 1923, is shown in a summary of Canadian trade for March, 1924, issued by the Department of Customs and excise.

The figures are: Merchandise entered for home consumption, March, 1924, $86,922,203; March, 1923, $91,881,427.

For the twelve months ended March 31, 1924, Canada imported goods to the value of $882,355,491, an increase of $91,000,000 compared with the previous twelve months, while she exported $1,945,114,658, an increase of about $110,000,000. ### Fire Marshal J. A. Thomas Traced the History of the Hours of Labor Act

He alluded to the situation in connection with the hours of firemen which had arisen in Vancouver and New Westminster, and to the resignation of Chief Watson at the latter city owing to this very issue which was now before the people of the coast cities. The threat had been made that if the tariff companies raised the premium rates recourse would be had to non-board companies. As experience showed, when tariff companies raised or lowered their rates non-board companies invariably followed suit, Mr. Campbell said.

The protest motion from Victoria West Brotherhood was then presented as adopted at an executive meeting on Saturday evening, and endorsed by the meeting.

"Whereas the Fire Wardens have recommended the closing of the Victoria West Fire Hall; and whereas the recommendation has been endorsed by the majority of the members of the City Council as a means to economy in fire administration; Resolved that we, the Executive Committee of the Victoria West Brotherhood, representing the majority of the residents of (Continued on page 2.)

PROPOSE ABOLITION OF MCKENNA DUTIES TEST FOR CABINET OF BRITAIN

London, April 28 (Canadian Press Cable)—Premier MacDonald has cancelled some of his engagements to speak in Wales in order to preside at a meeting of the Cabinet to-morrow at which the budget will be dealt with. Differences apparently have developed among the Ministers on the proposed abolition of the McKenna duties and in some quarters it is said a crisis may arise over the question.

Some political commentators go so far as to say the position is a critical one for the administration and that its life depends upon how it handles the financial problems on this occasion.

The crucial point in the view of all the political writers is the question of the retention or abandonment of the McKenna duties on motor cars, bicycles, musical instruments, clocks and films.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Philip Snowden, is known to favor abolition of the duties and relies upon a majority of the Laborites and Liberals to support him, but there is a section of the Liberals, and even some of the Laborites, who wish the duties retained in the interests of the workers in certain industries, notably the manufacture of motor-cars. The workers fear loss of occupation if the protection afforded by the duties is withdrawn.

The entire Conservative Party favors retention of the duties, which will automatically expire on May 1 unless renewed.

COMPROMISE PLAN

Chancellor Snowden is believed to be inflexible on this question, but the Government as a whole is understood to be undecided, and the matter is to be discussed at a Cabinet meeting Tuesday morning before the House meets. Under the circumstances the most favored idea is that of a compromise either by reducing the duties or by promising their abolition next year.

The Liberal newspapers report Labor's left wing as seriously distrustful of their leaders and talk of a division within the ranks of the Government which might cause a catastrophe.

MAJORITY PREDICTED

The Conservative Morning Post, on the other hand, predicts that whatever decision the Government takes, it will get a majority for the budget, as if the McKenna duties are retained it will be saved by the Conservatives, and if they are abolished the bulk of the Liberals and their supporters will keep it over.

Extreme secrecy is maintained regarding Chancellor Snowden's proposal, but rumors virtually agree that apart from the McKenna duties they are unlikely to contain anything affecting the Government's stability.

IRISH BOUNDARY

Aside from the budget, the Irish boundary question is expected to give the Government some trouble, and it was director of the intelligence department of the Foreign Office until he was appointed Foreign Minister, in which capacity he served from last August until last December.

NAME COMMITTEE ON TOWN PLANNING

Gains, engineer and executive secretary of the Seattle Zoning Commission on 'City Zoning and Planning' which this meeting has heard with pleasure and profit, has demonstrated the advisability of giving careful and sympathetic consideration to the question of the adoption of zoning regulations in the city of Victoria and surrounding municipalities.

"Therefore it is resolved that the meeting requests the directors of the Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the Real Estate Board of Victoria, to appoint a committee to collect data and prepare a report and bring in a recommendation on the subject of zoning to be presented at a future meeting to be called for its consideration.

JAPAN AND U.S. EXCLUSION

U.S. EFFORT

Washington, April 28.—The move for a compromise between the executive and legislative branches of the Government on the question of Japanese exclusion provided for in the Immigration bill passed on by the House and Senate was carried forward at a conference today between President Coolidge and Chairman Johnson of the House Immigration Committee. The conference, held at the request of the President, preceded the meeting of the Senate and House conferees on the Immigration bill and was a follow-up of the President's talk Saturday with Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, who had charge of the bill in the Senate.

NEGOTIATIONS SUGGESTED

The impression prevailed after the meeting today that Mr. Coolidge, consulting with Secretary Hughes, had advanced a proposal which he believed would satisfy the advocates of exclusion and avoid an effort to Japan. Information regarding the proposal was withheld, but the suggestion was heard in some official quarters that it involved postponement of the effective date of Japanese exclusion, with assurances from the executive branch that negotiations would be entered into with Japan with a fair prospect of success.

LODGE EMPHATIC PROTEST AGAINST CLOSING OF FIRE HALLS WITHOUT INQUIRY

"In making such a proposal we feel that the Fire Warden has not given this matter the consideration it demands. Even should the Fire Warden be convinced that such a retrograde suggestion will discourage the establishment of industries, as well as adding the risk to those already in operation. The enormous investment already made by various industries, the heavy taxes levied on their properties, coupled with the fact that seventy-five per cent of the wage earners are employed in this locality entitles our district to a fair and careful consideration of our proposals.

"The fact that at present the Victoria West Fire Hall equipment can be repaired in a short space of one and a half minutes at the C. N. R. roundhouse, the E. & N. Railway Roundhouse and the Royal Victoria Hospital, and the Brewer, Ormond's Biscuit Factory, Fairall Soda Works, Consolidated Whaling Co., Victoria Machine Tool Works, the Gas Plant, Gas Tanks, Sidney Roofing Co., various lumber mills, coal and oil companies, and churches, and the residential section of Burleigh and the northern boundary, is a strong argument that this fire hall should be retained. This would be an impossible thing for the central fire hall to do, to accomplish on account of the chance of delay at the Johnson street crossing, the delay in the route by way of Bay Street and the Point Ellice Bridge. A fire in the northern portion of the city might become a menace before city equipment could reach it, owing to the hills and the usual bad repair of the latter route.

"We are credibly informed by those in authority to know that the Victoria West Fire Hall is closed, the rates for fire insurance will be materially increased.

"I would ask, in view of the foregoing statements, that you will give this matter your earnest consideration.

S. Clegg, president of the Victoria fire insurance agents, said he believed the closing of the fire hall would be a serious matter, and that the next from places where it now takes several days.

The postmaster said that the mail business was decreasing in Victoria and so far this month the stacking machine had stamped but 448,000 letters, which is 28,000 short of the average. In December last, 745,000 letters went through the machine.

OTHER MATTERS

Gyro Charles Graham won the attendance prize today at Saturday afternoon sessions of the Royal Commission on the Home Bank, which is being printed day by day for the use of the members of Parliament. This evidence may be considered in committee under the reference made by the House, but it is designed to be used for finding a remedy for weaknesses in the Bank Act and not for the purposes of coming to a conclusion upon the question of Government responsibility for the bank failure, which has been submitted to the Royal Commission.

Gyro Lynton Mara announced a meeting of the civic affairs committee for Thursday at noon and Gyro Frank Burton has called a meeting of the entertainment committee for to-morrow afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, to complete arrangements for the hoedown to be held in the Saanichton Agricultural Hall on May 9.

FIRE MARSHAL SPEAKS

J. A. Thomas, Provincial Fire Marshal, said the fact developed from his report of 1923 that British Columbia has lost $2,000,000 in losses nearly $1,000,000 last year, to nearly $4,000,000. He had about 100 men scattered through the Province making inspections of buildings, and yet the property loss continued. It was rather remarkable that the three cities which objected most strongly to the hours ban were the cities of those who had the largest fire loss. The aldermen had conceived the idea that by closing up district halls they could best meet the situation, forgetting the fact that in a country of wooden houses delay was fatal. Of 1,500 fires reported last year, 1,300 were in district halls.

Actual proof had demonstrated to him that a building of wood, worth $50,000 would be completely burned in twenty minutes, whereas before he expressed his emphatic objection to consolidation of fire departments in central halls, as appeared to be the policy in the case of Vancouver. There was a loss of $250,000 in buildings from the fire proximity alone, owing to the carelessness of one person leading to the ignition of neighboring buildings.

Dr. Raynor, as had earlier speakers, criticized conditions in the management of the city fire department, saying there was a lack of co-operation between the wardens and the council, on one hand, and with the fire chief on the other.

He moved a resolution on the lines of Mr. Clegg's suggestion, that no halls should be closed until the whole question had been investigated by a competent expert.

The motion of Dr. Raynor was adopted unanimously, and a committee was appointed to present it to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce for endorsement.

The motion of the Victoria West Brotherhood, not being action, as it has already been transmitted to the city council.

Among those attending were H. E. Bealey, General Superintendent of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway; O. B. Ormond, of Ormond's Limited; Harry Maynard, president of Silver Spring Brewery; Victor Leugh, James Leigh, and Sons; Watson Clark, director Fairall's Limited; W. Moore, Moore's Whiting Lumber Company; Charles Dalziel, Box Company; S. Colgate, Sidney Roofing Company; W. S. Cameron, Canadian National Railway; J. M. Lawson, Esquimalt Whaling Company and representatives of the Victoria West Brotherhood.

The Chamber of Commerce today held the matter over for a week after J. O. Cameron had declared that a prospective ten per cent increase in fire insurance throughout the city might follow the closing of the hall.

DEVELOPMENT OF MAIL SERVICE A WONDERFUL THING

Postmaster Bishop Tells the Gyros of Phenomenal Increase in Service

That the citizens of Victoria can do a great deal to promote the efficiency of the post office was the declaration made before the Gyro Club at its luncheon today by Postmaster Harry F. Bishop. In his addresses along coast the local office $2,000 a year, he said, and the need of all business firms in Victoria purchasing their stamps here instead of Vancouver or some eastern point was needed to give the office a better showing.

Mr. Bishop gave a very interesting review of the development of the mail service on this coast from the days when the Hudson's Bay Company acted as mail-carrier in 1835 until today. He told of the days when there were only two deliveries a week between here and San Francisco, and when mail from Port Simpson had to be brought to Victoria in canoes, requiring a month for the natives to make the trip.

This constituted a great contrast to conditions today when there are four deliveries in the business section.

Referring to aerial mail connections, Mr. Bishop stated that "we can look forward to the day in the immediate future when the aerial services will do away with all our old ideas and we will mail a letter one day and receive it the next from places where it now takes several days."

The postmaster said that the mail business was decreasing in Victoria and so far this month the stacking machine had stamped but 448,000 letters, which is 28,000 short of the average. In December last, 745,000 letters went through the machine.

REDS BANNERS TORN TO PIECES

Vancouver, April 28.—Reds who chose the assembly of about 25,000 people at the unveiling of the Cenotaph here Sunday afternoon as an opportunity to spread a little propaganda met with a stormy reception from the crowd. Three banners paraded to Victory Square with revolutionary slogans and cartoons painted thereon were seized by the outraged mourners for the soldiers who laid down their lives in the war and were torn to pieces.

The extremists arrived during prayers and were not noticed for a few moments. Then somebody observed that the slogans were of a ribald nature, jeering at the solemn occasion, and the trouble started. One banner said "Don't be fools," and men and women rushed the propagandists, tore the banners from their hands and ripped them to pieces.

The Reds showed a disposition to fight back at first, but quickly desisted and squirmed their way out of the press.

People a little way from the scene of the conflict could not understand why the watchers from the windows of the nearby buildings burst into cheers in the midst of Rev. G. O. Pallas's prayer, but soon learned their cheers were occasioned by the lowering of the red banner.

Home Bank Royal Commission Proceedings Printed Daily For Members

Ottawa, April 28 (Canadian Press)—Consideration of the Home Bank failure and the banking problem by the House of Commons is not now likely to be taken up until next week. Some time before Easter recess the House referred the whole question to the Banking and Commerce committee, but no meeting of this body has been held and none is expected to be called for the present week, which is to be given up chiefly, as far as committees go, to the church union question.

In the meantime the evidence taken before the Royal Commission on the Home Bank is being printed day by day for the use of the members of Parliament. This evidence may be considered in committee under the reference made by the House, but it is designed to be used for finding a remedy for weaknesses in the Bank Act and not for the purposes of coming to a conclusion upon the question of Government responsibility for the bank failure, which has been submitted to the Royal Commission.

Peter Smith Opened His Vault Section For Police in Stratford, Ontario

Toronto, April 28.—The constables who were on guard at the safety deposit box of Peter Smith, former Provincial Treasurer, charged with conspiracy to defraud the province of Ontario in connection with the sale of succession duty free bonds, returned from Stratford to Toronto yesterday. Smith unlocked the box on Saturday, but the bonds, said to be valued at $87,000, were not in it.

This search for the bonds, which many had needed as evidence in the coming trial, is not by any means ended, the police state.

FORESTS AND OUR PAYROLLS

Sovital to our welfare are the forests of Canada, that the Canadian Government has set this aside as Forest Protection Week.

That there is need of this, no one who has lived in this country for any length of time requires to be told.

Forests, in the language of the motorist, are one of the carburetors of national business. We are accustomed to think of "forests" in terms of one industry, papermaking or lumbering.

Canada's commercial future is largely wrapped up in the future of the forests. If the forests fail, Canada's "natural resources" will be little better than a locomotive with a smashed connecting rod.

FOOD AND HEALTH

MAJOR J. B. PAGET of London, has been making a study of the health of the nation. In seeking a cause for the physical deterioration of part of the race, emphasized in the C2 condition revealed by the draft in the recent war, he went back to the reports of the Quartermaster-General of Wellington's time.

In the Peninsular War, Wellington, though hard pressed for men, took none under five feet five, and every man had to have perfect eyesight and perfect teeth.

The Quartermaster's report of one hundred years ago states that the splendid soldiers of that time received one pound of wheat a day. They ate this as it was, or, if they had time, they pounded it up and made a coarse bread.

The men in those times were brought up on a hard wholesome bread, garden produce and apparently very little meat, as the consumption of meat in the country then was three pounds per head per annum.

Spartan fare of the olden days may have lacked the appetizing allurements of to-day's super-refined preparations but there are increasing evidences that it possessed advantages in the way of physical health.

DAILY BREAD

MR. LLOYD GEORGE in his speech in Wales at the end of the week declared that the prayer of "Thy kingdom come" has been silenced in favor of the materialistic cry of "Give us this day our daily bread."

What this "daily bread" has cost Britain since the end of the war in dolos and relief for her unemployed army, which has fluctuated between one million and over two million persons, is revealed in figures which have been issued by the Exchequer.

CHANGES HIS POLICY

GENERAL HERTZOG, leader of the Nationalist-Labor combination which is trying to drive the Smuts Government from office in South Africa, announces that South African independence in republican form is not among the planks of his party's platform.

Hertzog had to throw that plank overboard because he knew that he could not be elected if he kept it. Probably his Labor associates, who are mainly of British birth or descent, insisted upon his repudiation of the policy he often has advocated as one of the conditions of their support.

General Smuts, however, declares that although Hertzog has announced his abandonment of his republican policy, he still cherishes the project of cutting loose from the Empire and therefore should not be entrusted with power.

We may as well get the bad news off first, that there are only two more days in which to make Dominion income tax returns.

There is nothing that would make Victoria feel more like celebrating the Twenty-fourth or any other day, than the assurance that Old Man Gloom was dead, without hope of returning.

London shows how density of traffic makes low transportation costs possible through cutting down the fraction of profit required of each fare. Financial statements reveal that during the last year, the General Omnibus Company had to carry 700 passengers to one dollar net profit.

United States Senate has got in wrong with the churches for the chauvinistic way in which it handled the Japanese immigration question. The Federal Council of Churches has issued a statement declaring that "Congress is meeting the situation the wrong way and that the same result may be obtained in a friendly way that would not hurt the self-respect of Japan or interfere with the friendship that has existed between the two nations."

Japanese are showing that they do not need immigration to increase their numbers in California. There are to-day 37,395 Japanese in the southern part of that state, with 21,462 around Los Angeles.

Feminists must be prepared to assume the blame for the alarming state of affairs in the Orient indicated by the following from The Japan Chronicle: "Miss C. Chin-yin, a Peking girl of eighteen with high-school education, has inserted an advertisement in the Chinese press declaring her refusal to recognize her betrothal agreement made by her parents with the father of a young man named Hsiung Pao-chi."

THE MODERN KINGS OF GREECE

Greece's modern experiment in monarchy has been one of the most unfortunate on record—for the monarchs. The list is a warning to any one "who would be king": Otto (1832-62) ... Deposed; George I. (1862-1913) ... Assassinated; Constantine (1913-17, and 1920-22) ... Deposed; Alexander (1917-20) ... Died from bite of monkey; George II. (1922-24) ... Deposed.

THE HUMAN ELEMENT

ONE of the few Tory members in Ottawa asked the Minister of Railway at question time the other day to state the cost of installation and operation of the Canadian National Radio Station at Ottawa. Mr. Graham's reply gave the cost at approximately $100,000, and some members exclaimed, "Ha! ha!" They evidently disapproved.

It is the human element that is needed in the management of such a gigantic concern as the C.N.R. and in Sir Henry Thornton, we have a man who understands that.

THE DIFFERENCE

We fight for a thing, but we die only for an idea.—A. Wyatt Tilby. I walked a mile with Pleasure. She chatted all the way. But left me none the wiser. For all she had to say.

Dr. Frank Crane on "The Power to Ignore"

IT IS going to be difficult to write this article and not be misunderstood. But then, when you come to think of it, only the thing most liable to misuse is of any use, nothing does much good except what may do much harm, and the only creature capable of going to heaven is the one capable of going to hell. So there you are.

The captious and tangential mind will say at once, looking up from this page, "Good Lord, here's a man advocating ignorance! He must belong to the Dark Ages. Does he not understand that this is the day of enlightenment, that knowledge is power, and that the sovereign cure-all for ills bodily, ills social, ills economic, political and religious, is information?"

What every reader of this wants, what every busy man wants, is to work out a practical every day way to be efficient and to be happy. We want joy, for without joy life is not worth while.

And the point here to be made is that one of the great secrets of enjoying twenty-four hours a day consists in cultivating the Art of Ignoring Things.

What you don't know don't hurt you," it is said; but the truth can be stated, not negatively, but positively: "Your happiness depends upon your power to ignore."

Why, first of all, your Efficiency is measured by your power to Exclude, not by your power to include. Your capacity to do to some one thing well by the adroitness with which you avoid doing, trying to do or thinking about, all other things.

No man can be a student who can not concentrate on his book and close the door of his mind to all distractions. The cook is a good accountant unless she can be wholly shut up in cooking; if she is interested in what is going on in the parlor, and anxious to see the procession going by with a band in the street, and to know what her neighbors in the flat across the way are up to, she is very liable to burn the roast.

A person's power to do a thing well is just in proportion to his power to bar out all other things. This is the day of specialists.

French-Canadians Shielded From Puritans

IT was on April 28, 1766, that the first Governor of Canada under British dominion, General Murray, said goodbye to the Rock of Quebec toward England. He was returning somewhat under a cloud. His recall had been engineered by a small group of recent immigrants from British countries, who had followed in the wake of conquest, determined to push the commerce of their empire, but mainly to make themselves fortunes in the easiest, quickest way, and among whom a considerable number were the failures of London, Boston and New York.

It is a tragic story, that of General Murray's regime. The British Government had, after lengthy debate and much hesitation, decided to keep Canada, and when faced with the problem of Government, had decided that the easiest and the most righteous thing to do was to disturb the French-Canadian as little as possible. Murray, who had commanded a brigade under Wolfe at the taking of Quebec, was appointed Governor as knowing the people and having had experience in ruling them until the end of his term, 1763-1765.

The Montreal British immigrant merchants were most factious. Mere handful as they were, they demanded an elected assembly composed of Protestants, British merchants and a few to exclude the French-Canadians even from the juries. The Imperial Government was not yet ready, however, to abandon its new subjects to the tender mercies of these people nor the new colony as a whole to the domination of the French-Canadian.

GOVERNOR MURRAY was thus placed in an impossible position. He was expected to placate and protect the French-Canadians and at the same time foster their British colonization. Most of this came from the New England colonies, and objectionable people many of them seem to have been. Moreover, the British officials with whom Murray was to do all this were appointed in England and, to a large extent, were preposterous persons, down-and-outs, scragraces, place-hunters of peculiarly odious type. Murray's situation was well-nigh intolerable, and the British Government had not yet learned to attach sufficient importance to Canada to pay much attention to what its Governor might say, particularly if that Governor had slight political influence at home.

The Government could not, however, change Murray's policy of discounting the noisy, domineering, Puritan element in Canada, and protecting the French-Canadians from them as far as possible. Sir Guy Carleton carried over his administration with the same idea, but more successfully. He had stronger political backing in England. Murray's regime had been the experimental one, and Carleton reaped the results of his suffering. Moreover, the Government progressively attempted to improve the French-Canadians and their feelings as the British Colonies to the south grew more and more rebellious.

Thus the first experimental years of government in Canada broke a fine, high-spirited soldier through his sense of justice and fair-play. If he had not been expected by a cabinet at home, not yet disillusioned, to reconcile the irreconcilables—the domination of the Puritan British traders with the freedom and contentment of the Roman Catholic French, he might have risen, able, energetic, clear-sighted as he was, to a very distinguished place in British history.

DESTROY CROWS

To the Editor:—Would you give me a small space in your paper in regard to the protection to our sky-larks and other small birds. I would like to suggest that our City Council and our neighboring municipalities get rid of the black pest, the crow, which the Washington State Department of Agriculture placed on all automobiles coming from California. California motorists who carry no camp equipment, fruit, vegetables, pets, or other contraband goods liable to carry the hoof and mouth disease, are permitted to enter the State of Washington without fumigation or a certificate of fumigation, although they must submit to search at the Interstate Bridge. Parties may be required to walk through a vat of formaldehyde about one-fourth of an inch deep, and drive their car through a similar vat. All tourists going to California are advised to wear old shoes as this process is required by the counties in California.

ACTIONS TALK

To the Editor:—Now that we are preparing to make special profession of our loyalty to, or interest in, the Old Country, the moment seems opportune for a reminder as to what we are actually doing to help Britain in the present emergency. I would like to see more than a million of her people unemployed. According to returns recently published at Ottawa, Canada sold to Britain in the year ending February, 1924, goods of the value of $71,296,000; but bought of the value of $121,800,000. During the same period we sold to the United States goods of the value of $85,000,000; but bought thence goods valued at $121,800,000. Comment is needless. "By your deeds shall ye be known."

VICTORIA DAY

To the Editor:—In the report of the opening of the Empire Exhibition this week in England by His Majesty the King, the various regimental bands were massed and played selections as well as accompanying a great number of musical events. Under the direction of Sir Edward Elgar, which saw selections from standard choral works. In this far distant outpost of the Empire, named after the great Queen, we are attempting to celebrate the anniversary of what is known throughout the Empire as Victoria Day. It is a musical event of like nature, and relatively speaking we hope will bear a just comparison. If, as the Gyro Club announces, King and Queen are to be in Victoria, and soon will be interred with fitting dirge and dishonor, there is some reason to believe that the music of the musical fraternity for that day will be successful. But after King Pessimism is dead, buried and gone, there remains yet another inveterate foe to the welfare of all praiseworthy attempts in the Victoria civic life, attacking most assiduously as he does with his bland smiles and promise of his moral support (?) all the various branches from the City Council down, he has a widespread influence and a huge following. I refer to that old diabolical monarch, indifferent, unfeeling and degenerate King Apathy, who attacks, too successfully all stations of life. If King Pessimism has killed thousands, this obdurate and callous old monarch has slain its tens of thousands. It is time he was put out of business, out of society and out of existence. In a few weeks our city will be honored with a visit of the Royal Navy Squadron, the bulwark of the Empire. It is at such times that a monstrous chorus of several accented voices accompanied by band and orchestra, will prove an acquisition, to cheer the choir and to show personal interest and enthusiasm and unite to do their best. I appeal to you to give Dr. Hodgson their wholehearted help and support and have a personal claim in making this an unprecedented success.

INSPECTION STATIONS

On the coast line, there are inspection stations at the various points where machines are stopped and inspected for dogs or other animals. Ventura and Los Angeles counties, however, have more rigid disinfecting regulations. Cars leaving these counties must be sprayed underneath the running board and also on the floor of the car and passengers must walk through a disinfectant solution. For this reason Southern California has requested that motorists coming into their territory on pleasure trips, postpone same until after the quarantine has been lifted.

RIDE THROUGH VATS OF FORMALDEHYDE

California Counties Fight the Foot and Mouth Disease Spread

Washington State Eases up on Restrictions on Auto Tourists

Most of the stringent regulations enforced on automobile tourists as a result of the foot and mouth disease in California are those insisted upon by counties in California, according to information received by Stephen Golder, secretary of the Automobile Club of British Columbia. The embargo which the Washington State Department of Agriculture placed on all automobiles coming from California has been modified considerably. California motorists who carry no camp equipment, fruit, vegetables, pets, or other contraband goods liable to carry the hoof and mouth disease, are permitted to enter the State of Washington without fumigation or a certificate of fumigation, although they must submit to search at the Interstate Bridge. Parties may be required to walk through a vat of formaldehyde about one-fourth of an inch deep, and drive their car through a similar vat. All tourists going to California are advised to wear old shoes as this process is required by the counties in California.

DISINFECTING DIPS

At the present time there is absolutely no obstruction on Pacific Avenue from the Oregon line south into Sacramento or San Francisco, except that no dogs or other animals are allowed to be transported across the state line. Neither is there any quarantine or disinfecting of any kind on the Redwood Highway from Grants Ferry to Crescent City and thence down the California coast.

Green Room Notes

It is not often that Victoria has an opportunity to share in the classics like it did last week in Sir John Martin-Harvey's plays. Some performances were not as well patronized as they should have been, and the very novelty of staging the Oedipus Rex failed to make it acceptable in certain quarters.

Those who saw the "Cigarette Maker's Romance" could scarcely credit that it is twenty-two years since the command performance was given at Sandringham for King Edward VII. in that play.

So recently has Robert Mantell appeared in Cardinal Richelieu here that his impersonation of the famous statesman who lorded it over the court of Louis XII. in the film based on Stanley Weisman's "Under the Red Robe" will be particularly appreciated.

"The Private Secretary," to be produced by Reginald Hincks at the Playhouse this week, has so many friends that the famous comedy should again receive encouraging houses.

War plays have not been as popular as some others since Armistice, such a play being "Havoc," which had quite a run in London, England. Now another play of a somewhat similar type has been produced, "See the Conquering Hero Comes," in which the psychology of war on a young man is analyzed.

It is indeed welcome news that the Players Club of the University of B.C. in the course of their production of "The World and His Wife," are planning to come here soon. The club is now in its ninth season. The story goes to Spain, with its passionate loves and hatreds, and shows the effect of slander in the home. The high standard which Mr. F. G. C. Wood has put into these variety plays is retained in this fine production.

It is interesting to note that steps are in hand in the town of Syracuse, in southern Sicily, for another production of the Greek plays which are now closely associated with that city of ancient Attic civilization. Like many other places which were colonized by the Greeks, Syracuse had its theatre, and unlike many other towns around the Mediterranean, a building of the fifth century B.C., the period when the Attic drama reached its climax, still remains in that sunny Sicilian city.

Jean Cow's record of performances in "Antony and Cleopatra" surpasses any that American dramatic history has noted, by appearing sixty-six times as Cleopatra. Since the first performance of this play in America in 1846, in all only seven different productions have been presented. "Antony and Cleopatra" has now become one of Miss Cow's permanent plays along with "Romeo and Juliet."

HELD INTENSIVE COURSE IN PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

Mrs. C. A. Lucas of Saanich Centre Led Interesting Conferences on Rural Problems

That the nursing services of rural and urban districts should be correlated in order to promote closer understanding of problems peculiar to each other was one of the many interesting suggestions promulgated in the course of a series of interesting conferences held in Vancouver last week. These conferences formed part of the intensive refresher course in public health nursing held at the University of British Columbia on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and attended by nurses from all parts of the Province.

MRS. LUCAS ACTIVE Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, Dr. R. A. Mullen, bacteriologist of the university had charge of the course, and Mrs. C. A. Lucas, superintendent of the Saanich War Memorial Health Centre, conducted the round-table conferences which constituted the morning sessions. These conferences included discussions on the living conditions of public health nurses in the rural districts, transportation problems, the mentally deficient child in the rural districts, the public health nurse and her service to the community, and financial upkeep.

EXCELLENT PAPERS Excellent and instructive papers were given by Dr. Young on the public health programme of the Province, and Dr. Mullen on public health nursing as a factor in the control of communicable diseases. Among the very interesting discussions was that on generalized and specialized public health service, led by Miss Marie Thompson, R.N., director of the health services of the Vancouver General Hospital, problems in public health nursing and the relation of the medical man to the nurse, the subject introduced by Dr. S. J. Buller, president of the Vancouver Medical Society; Mrs. A. M. Stabler, director of the Red Cross Nursing Service, led the discussion on the role of voluntary organizations in public health, while Miss Isabel Jeffares of the Cowichan Health Centre contributed much useful information in her paper on the value of publicity in the work.

PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATION Dr. G. M. Weir of the university presented a forceful address on the psychology of leadership, and Miss Helen Stewart of the Victoria Public Library interested her hearers in her talk on "Dreams For Sale." A practical demonstration of obstetric care in the home, given by Mrs. Eva Calhoun, district superintendent of the V.O.N. in Vancouver, was followed with much interest, as was also Miss Mary Campbell's paper on the school nurse and her problems.

TO GIVE RECITAL A recital will be given by Miss Boush at the Victoria Club Hall, 560 Campbell Building, on Tuesday evening, April 23, at 8 o'clock. A very fine programme of musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, with dramatic recitations, will be rendered. Miss Boush will be assisted in the recital by Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Hawthornthwaite, Miss Helen, Miss Blackmore, Miss Conroy, Miss and Mr. E. Nevin.

The recital will be open to the public and all interested are invited to be present. There will be no charge for admission.

Mr. Jack Harrison, who for the week-end has been a visitor in Victoria, is spending a few days in the East on route for Paris and London where she will visit her two daughters, Mrs. H. G. Garrett and little Miss Elizabeth Garrett accompanied her as far as Vancouver.

Others invited were Mrs. Bryden, Mrs. Roger McNeil, Mrs. Harold Twigg, Mrs. Hew Peterson, Mrs. Eric Colbourne, Miss Collis and Mrs. Louis Davies.

The many friends of Her Excellency Lady Byng of Vimy are welcoming her back to England with many social functions. At the moment Lady Byng is at Stafford in St. James Square, and after a visit to the King and Queen at Windsor, she will leave town on May 15 to spend some time with Sir Richard and Lady Moreton at Crookham House, Hants.

Miss Edna MacNaughton has returned to her home, 516 Linden Avenue, after an absence of nine months by boat, to attend the L.O. MacNaughton was also with her mother, Mrs. J. R. Stewart during the Easter holidays.

IN WOMAN'S DIGNITY

PREPARING FOR RED CORDER'S VISIT

Miss Mara, honorary provincial secretary of the Girl Guides' Association, is, with Mrs. Kinloch, the deputy provincial commissioner, busy with plans for the forthcoming visit of Miss Joyce Wolton, Red Corder Guide who has arrived in Canada from England. Miss Wolton is expected in Victoria in June, when she will probably conduct a training class for Leaders, as the officers of the Girl Guides are called. The movement in Victoria, in common with other places in Canada, is suffering from a lack of leaders. Recruits to the ranks of Guides are a plenty, waiting simply for competent officers to lead them.

Woman Watcher Has Lonely Job

London, April 28.—One of the loneliest jobs in England is being undertaken by Miss E. L. Turner, a leading naturalist, who has gone to Scot Head, a remote island off the Norfolk coast, and there she will remain for six months, carrying out her duties as watcher of the gannets and North West Naturalists' Society. She will be the only human being on the island, her only company being the birds. Her object is to obtain data as to the autumn migration of birds, which has never been quite clearly observed on this part of the coast. She also hopes to obtain photographs of many of the rare birds which breed on the island.

FOR THE CHILDREN Uncle Wiggily and Jenny Wren

Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate (By Howard R. Garis)

"Uncle Wiggily, will you please hop to that for you," answered the rabbit gentleman to his meek lady housekeeper.

"Get the kind of salt that comes in a wooden box with a little round hole in the top where it pours out," said Nurse Jane.

"Here, I'll give you an empty salt box to show you what I mean," she handed the rabbit gentleman a small wooden box. In the top was a round hole, about as large as a silver quarter of a dollar. Out of this hole all the salt had been poured until the box was empty.

"That's why Nurse Jane needed a new box of salt."

"Thinking his pink nose and wondering what sort of adventure he might have before night, Uncle Wiggily hopped to the story. "If you please," he said to the grocery cat.

"Here you are, Uncle Wiggily!" mewed the grocery cat, and with the full box of salt in one pocket Mr. bunny by the ears!

"Now I am going to take you off to my den," growled the Wolf. "So please don't! Help! Help!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Will some one please help me?" he begged.

"Yes, we'll help you!" sang two voices, and along flew Jenny Wren and Mr. Wren.

"Pooh! I'm not afraid of you!" howled the Wolf as he dragged poor Uncle Wiggily by his ears.

Jenny Wren and Mr. Wren flew down and fluttered in the dust. They filled their feathers with grains of dust and little fine stones. Then they flew at the Wolf, shook their feathers in his face and scattered dust in his eyes and up his nose.

"Ker-choo! Ker-choo! Ker-choo!" sneezed the Wolf. "Oh, my eyes! I can't see! Oh, my nose! How it tickles! Ker-choo! Ker-choo!" And he had to let go of Uncle Wiggily, he sneezed so hard.

"Run, Uncle Wiggily! Run home!" sang Mr. Wren. And the rabbit ran safely home before the Wolf had stopped sneezing and could get the dust out of his eyes. So, after all, Jenny Wren and her husband did the rabbit a favor.

And the radio doesn't sing in its sleep and wake up the phonograph's little sister. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's bread and jam.

Lodge Primrose Met—Lodge Primrose No. 32 of the D. and M.O.E. held its regular social meeting on Friday evening in the Harmony Hall, the worthy President, Sister Harrison, in the chair. Applications for membership were received, and it is expected that there will be several initiations at the next meeting on May 9. After the meeting a successful dance was held. Edman's orchestra providing the music. It being Primrose Day, each one who attended was presented with a spray of primroses. The proceeds of the dance are to go to the funds being raised by the lodge for the Y.W.C.A. building.

"Oh ho! I remember you, Jenny Wren," joyfully answered the bunny. "You say to me last summer, Gladly will I give you this empty box, but it has such a little hole in it for a front door, I don't see what use it would be for your nest."

"The smaller door I have the better I like it," answered Jenny Wren. "I am a very tiny bird, Uncle Wiggily, you know, and I and my little birds, when I shall have hatched them out of my eggs, can easily get in through a very small hole no larger than a quarter of a dollar."

"Why, that's just the size of this hole," said the bunny, looking at it. "Then it will just suit me." "Thank you, Uncle Wiggily, you did me a great favor and, some day, I hope I can do one for you."

"Oh, don't think about that!" laughed the bunny gentleman as he hopped along to his bungalow with the box of salt for Nurse Jane.

Jenny Wren flew in and out of her new nest house and she sang a little song. And when her husband bird flew along, having been shopping for bugs, he sang a much prettier song. For the daddy birds, you know, are much better singers than the mother birds.

"What a fine nest!" said Mr. Wren. "Yes, isn't it?" chirped Jenny Wren. "Uncle Wiggily gave it to us and we must be on the watch to do him a favor."

"Soberly" sang Mr. Wren. "A few days after that Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods looking for an adventure. And, before you know it, the Wolf jumped out from behind a bush and caught the

GUARD AGAINST FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE SPREAD

Human Beings and Horses Not Menaced

May Cost California Millions of Dollars

Fears that Victoria's tourist travel will be seriously injured by the outbreak of foot and mouth disease which promises to cost the state of California, and the U.S. Federal Government millions of dollars, will be allayed to a certain extent by the report of experts that the dreaded sickness of cloven hoofed animals has no terror for human beings or for horses. So far in the history of the province there has been no trace of the disease and stringent government regulations put in force by the Dominion Government to apply to any country where an outbreak is reported have recently been issued as far as California is concerned. The neighboring U.S. states are also enforcing similar regulations to those of British Columbia, which prohibit the entry of animals or straw from the southern states. The chairman of the Vancouver Publicity Bureau, Ald. Fred Crane, also recently ordered the advertising of the matter in newspapers in California, but the regulations enforced on the boundary lines both in Canada and the United States it is believed are of such a nature that will hamper the tourist trade and will eliminate all danger of the disease being spread.

IMMEDIATE KILLING

According to Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, Dr. Walter H. McKenzie, chief veterinary inspector of the Dominion department of agriculture, Professor Davison and other experts, the dreaded sickness of cloven-footed animals has no terror for human beings or for horses. "Only cattle, sheep, pigs and goats are affected," said Hon. Mr. Barrow, "and so far the only certain and positive method of eradicating the disease is the immediate killing and quick-lime burial of every animal in an infected herd, together with the liberal use of disinfectants and the strictest quarantine."

The experts agree that so far they have been baffled by the disease which they claim would cost the United States alone $150,000,000 annually should it ever become as firmly established on this continent as it is in Europe.

THOUSANDS SLAUGHTERED

The present outbreak in California is said to have reached that state through garbage from a transport from Japan which was fed to hogs in and around San Francisco. It first made its appearance in February, when a number of hogs, in less than four weeks after 15,000 hogs, sheep, cows and other animals had been slaughtered.

Six weeks after the first outbreak a second centre of infection was discovered inland on the Sierra Nevada cattle ranges. So well as the disease became established that from 3,000 to 4,000 head were affected, and so great was the danger that the U.S. Government dispatched hundreds of cowboys and hunters to the affected region with orders to wipe out every living thing on an area of a thousand square miles of cattle range.

Rifles and poison are being used in addition to every head of cattle, sheep, hogs and goats the orders are to destroy every running, burrowing or flying wild creature in the area, so that no potential carrier of the disease might survive.

CATTLE MOVED TO FOREST RESERVES

Closely Inspected as They Are Taken From Their Home Ranches in California

Reports of Spread of Foot and Mouth Disease Are Declared Exaggerated

Sacramento, Cal., April 28.—Ten additional federal inspectors will be assigned to the task of inspecting the huge number of livestock which are moving or are ready to move from their home ranches to the ranges in the national forest in Northern California. It was announced to-day following a meeting of livestock men and forest service representatives with Dr. U. G. Houston, director of the campaign against the foot and mouth disease in the state.

"The extent of the spread of the foot and mouth disease is no doubt grossly exaggerated through lack of full information on the part of many, who without giving due consideration to the consequences spread unauthorised or unofficial information," says a statement issued to-day.

UNDER QUARANTINE

"A check-up to-day shows that of California's fifty-eight counties only ten are under full quarantine and six under provisional quarantine. In these quarantined counties a comparatively small portion of the state's total acreage has been occupied by infected herds.

"In some of these counties less than 1,000ths of the area is affected, the largest acreage being in Merced and Los Angeles counties, where the latest outbreaks have occurred, these not involving a very great number of cattle as compared with the whole.

"In Alameda County, near where the disease first broke out, there has not been reported any new case for over thirty-three days and it will only be a short time before restocking will be started."

THE OCTOPUS BIRD

There were fifteen in the compartment when a woman forced her way in, carrying a canary in a cage. A grumpy male objected the intrusion, but was silenced by a fellow passenger, who asked why the lady should not bring in a song-bird to cheer them all up.

"I would rather," he added triumphantly, "be an octopus than a pessimist any day."

If I can't get the brand that I want I pity the man who's at fault. I'll either not smoke, or just as a joke I'll stage a wild western assault. What do I care if he sells the well Cuban cheroot. ## YOUR HEALTH

BE SURE YOU'RE "FIT" TO DO THE WORK YOU LIKE

By Royal S. Copeland, M.D.

Unfortunately there are many occupations that have had effects on the health of workers. This group of diseases we call "occupational diseases."

Occupational diseases may be classified. Some are due to the environment of the worker. Others are due to the materials used in preparation of certain articles.

Men who work in tunnels or other underground structures or in digging deep excavations are affected by the atmosphere they breathe while at work. The compressed-air-pumps, the nitrous oxide gas, the sudden changes in temperature, all have their ill effects.

The symptoms of the affected worker usually complain of aches in the back and legs, dizziness, loss of consciousness and a constant choking feeling. In most cases these symptoms pass off after a few hours in normal surroundings.

It has been wisely stated that only those who are thin and who do not use alcoholic stimulants should work in underground places. Fat people are not able to expel the nitrogen from their lungs as readily as thin ones.

Divers can work but a short time at a great depth. They suffer from lack of pure air. The garments they wear are kept in place by means of tight bands. These affect the circulation, with resulting pains in the limbs.

In recent years it has been found that people making balloons and airplane ascensions are affected by the intensity of the rarefied air through which they pass. This affects the pulse and respiration and often is accompanied by nosebleed, nausea, and chills. It is indeed wonderful the advance science has made and the few ill effects resulting from aviation.

Glassblowers, furnace stokers, bakers and cannery men are often affected by the intense heat in which they work.

Extreme cold to which storage packers are subjected has its bad effects also.

Brass workers, especially those who do the grinding and polishing, complain of tiredness, headache, vomiting and pains in the extremities. These symptoms usually disappear after a few hours' rest, and do not continue any kind of work that seems to affect your health.

Many a man has shortened the span of life because he persisted in doing work he was physically unfit to do.

From the GARDENS of OMAR

The camel bell tinkles in the Eastern marts where Moir's go for tropical fruits

Dates—the famous Hallowee dates—plucked in a garden that Old Omar might have known, by the fingers of a veiled Persian maiden.

Figs—the fruitage of the desert's blooming jewel spots—tender-skinned, rich with flavour and substance—from the trees of Smyrna.

The world's most desired Asiatic fruits are these, highest in taste and fullest of quality.

There are many other varieties of dates and figs, but none like the Turkish and Persian. Centuries of intensive cultivation and climatic conditions tell the story of supreme quality.

And whenever figs and dates are used in Moir's Chocolates you are getting the acme of flavor and quality from the gardens of Asia.

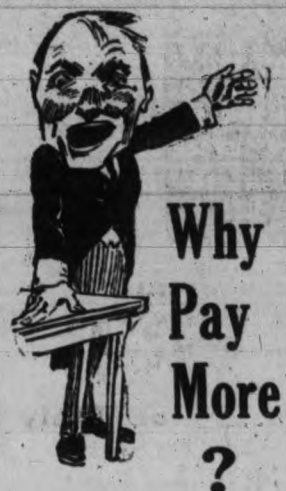

Sold in your Neighborhood.

REDUCTION MADE IN OCEAN RATES

First announcement of reduced ocean rates was made to-day by the Cunard Line which on June 23 will inaugurate a series of special Summer sailings to Europe which will provide the round trip at $170 per person, a big reduction from the present prevailing price.

The entire third cabin accommodation will be reserved for the exclusive use of tourists, college students and graduates, teachers, writers, artists and such other people of refinement as are anxious to avail themselves of the opportunity of economical travel or study abroad.

There will be three of these outgoing sailings, the second on the Mauritania July 2 and the third on the Lancastra on July 3. There will be similar arrangements for passage homeward, the Berengaria on August 23 and the Saxonia on September 6 being two of the sailing dates already fixed.

The idea of these cheap excursions is to fill the great demand for an economical way of going abroad this Summer. It is planned to keep them solely for the use of residents of America. There will be numerous two-berth staterooms, and no more than three passengers will be carried in any room. Particular pains will be taken to make sure that there will be no ungenial travelers in any room, either going abroad or returning.

MOST DIFFICULT SALVAGE FEAT IN HISTORY OF PACIFIC SALVAGE COMPANY

When the Norwegian freighter Tatjana, ashore at Village Island, is floated into deep water once again, the most difficult piece of salvage work that the Pacific Salvage Company has ever attempted will have been completed. Wrecked on the rugged shores of Village Island during a dense fog and in stormy weather, the Tatjana was at first given up as a total loss. But the salvage company undertook to attempt the salvage work and judiciously hoisted into a natural basin where her hull was pierced by the jagged crags. Patching work has been progressing favorably, fifty men being employed in addition to the four divers. Number four hold remains to be patched and this is a most difficult task. A rent twelve frames long, or approximately twenty-five feet, has to be patched, and the rock that has pierced the ship and protrudes into the hold has to be blasted away. First attempts to float her are expected to be made this week as soon as a full tide can be secured. The entire after parts are submerged at high tide.

VICTORIA MAY GET NEW STEAMSHIP LINE SOON

Mexican Freeports Commission Will Operate Two Vessels in Freight and Passenger Service Between Vancouver and Mexican Ports, Making Victoria Port of Call; Announcement Made This Morning by Dodwell & Company, British Columbia Agents

A new steamship line may operate out of Victoria, it was announced to-day by Henry Davidson, of Dodwell & Company of Vancouver, who was in the city to-day to meet the Blue Funnel liner Philoctetes. The operation of the line out of Victoria, however, depends on the inducement that is offered. Dodwell & Company have been appointed British Columbia agents for the Mexican Freeports Commission Line, which will operate the Ss. Washington and Bolivar on a monthly service out of Vancouver to west coast Mexican ports in the cargo and passenger business. Vancouver will be the final destination, while Victoria will be the port of call if inducement should offer. There will be a sailing from British Columbia ports the first of every month. Both vessels have splendid accommodations for passengers and have considerable cargo space. The Bolivar is a vessel of 2,600 gross tons, having a length of 251 feet, a beam of 33.6 feet and depth 21.1 feet. She was built in 1919 by the Detroit Steamboat Company of Wyandotte, Michigan. The Washington is a vessel of 2,400 gross tons, 220 foot length, 49 foot beam and 20 foot depth. She was built in 1906 by A. and J. Inglis, Limited, Glasgow. Regarding the number of passengers the vessels can accommodate, it has not yet been ascertained, as the plans of the ships have not yet been received.

MANY WITNESSES TESTIFY TO HIGH ATLANTIC RATES

Winnipeg, April 28.—Charges that the present Atlantic shipping rate is so high as to make it impossible for the Canadian stock raiser to enter the British market were made by one witness after another at the opening of the Imperial Shipping Committee here Saturday. Witnesses also brought forth facts and figures indicating that the rate on imports from Great Britain to Winnipeg by way of Montreal was within a very little of equaling the rate by way of Vancouver, in spite of a mileage disparity of more than 6,000 miles in favor of the Atlantic route. The commission, of which Sir Halford Mackinder is chairman, sat in private, the press being excluded. H. R. G. Larkin, Australian representative to the commission, it was learned, closely cross-examined most of the witnesses. Colonel H. A. Mullins, a witness, was emphatic in his presentation of the grievances of the Western Canada stock raisers against the Atlantic steamship companies. "If the steamship companies are not getting an exorbitant profit," he suggested, among other things, "why don't they show their books and prove it?" said Colonel Mullins.

Under the Red Robe is Film Version of the Famous
Story by Stanley Weyman

Gorgeous Picture to Be Presented at Capitol This Week; R. B. Mantell Appears as Cardinal Richelieu

"Unhappy is the country whose history is interesting," it has been said. But how happy and fortunate is the audience that can safely gaze on the most enthralling and romantic events of history in the quiet and comfort of a modern motion-picture theatre!

Two hours spent in viewing "Under the Red Robe," the brilliant film drama that is being unfolded at the Capitol Theatre, gives a more enduring, more vivid, more interesting and more beautiful conception of the period of Louis XIII of France and his wily Minister of State, Cardinal Richelieu, than the best of books could do.

The master of literature can, at best, merely suggest what a dinner at the court or a levee at the Cardinal's palace was like. In the Cosmopolitan pastiche, which features Robert B. Mantell, John Charles Thomas and Alma Rubens, the spectator enjoys instead of vague imaginations, the very sight of these states and magnificent affairs.

Again, one can read in Stanley Weyman's novel of that gallant dervish, Gil de Beraut—he of the sword that seems to bear a charm, so infallible are its thrust and parry. On the screen the onlooker sees for himself what a wizard Gil was with the blade, how he served Richelieu as an agent to crush the revolt against the King in the south of France, how he found himself between love and duty when the glowing eyes of Renee de Cocheforet, sister of the leader of the rebels, warmed his heart.

One lives with him during his thrilling leap from a precipice into the hiding-place of de Cocheforet to secure his rescue from the King's men, in his lone-handed fight in a stream with the Duke of Orleans, and his fellow-traitors and his flight over the roofs of quaint old Paris to escape musketiers and cavalymen sent in pursuit.

Alan Crossland, who directed for the Cosmopolitan Corporation, had a huge canvas on which to work when he set out to make this picture and he filled every single inch of it with rich detail of action, bright color, chivalry, intrigue, glorious spectacle, and above all, with the love of a valorous man for a lovely woman. Dexterously blended are historic fact, glowing pageant, landscapes that almost breathe a fragrant perfume, and delicate romance.
The cast in every way measures up to the opulence of the story. Mr. Mantell's Richelieu is most impressive. The prelate, in his hands, becomes an iron man, but one in whom the spirit of the church is ever uppermost. John Charles Thomas, a newcomer to pictures, is ideally fitted for the role of impetuous adventurer, Gil de Beraut. Mr. Thomas wears the elaborate costumes of the period exceedingly well, and, better still, has the air and manner. Miss Rubens, more exquisitely beautiful in this than in any other picture, vitalizes every scene in which she appears as the heroine, Renee de Cocheforet.

And the featured trio are not alone in their skill, for the cast teems with individual performances that bespeak dramatic genius. Who can forget the devoted Clon of Gustav von Seyffertitz, servant to de Cocheforet? Branded on the forehead with the fleur-de-lys and his tongue torn from his mouth by cruel captors, he watches the safety of his master with the acute wariness of a mastiff. The smiling, scheming Duke of Orleans (William H. Powell), plotters against the throne of his brother; the majestic Marie de Medici (Rose Coglan); the charming Madame de Chevreuse (Genevieve Hamper), and the courageous Cocheforet (Otto Kruger), are other characterizations among many that persist in one's memory. The settings by Joseph Urban are more than settings; they are France of the seventeenth century.

Fox Star Shows Struggle of Heroic Men Against Nature

A no-man's-land of which little is heard is suddenly given to the world in "North of the Yukon." Tom Mix's latest William Fox production, showing at the Columbia theatre, Lenoid, Andrewey, De Passo, and numerous other famous writers have described the late war's no-man's-land. But even this writing is insignificant compared to the miles of movies that have centred around it.
The stay-at-homes became quite satiated with the war's no-man's-land, so Mr. Mix decided to refresh the no-man's diet by introducing one with a new location and a different atmosphere. And he didn't have to go outside of North America to do this. He went up to Alaska, where he filmed "North of the Yukon."

Norma Talmadge
Stars at the Royal
In "Song of Love"

Scores Hit in First National Picture; Desert Scenes Portrayed
In "The Song of Love," which opens to-day at the Royal Theatre, Norma Talmadge scores the greatest hit of her career, lustrous as it is. In this First National picture the star reveals new and unexpected facets of the marvelous talent that is hers, beguiling and bewitching the spectator with the power of her pantomime.
As an Arabian dancer, Miss Talmadge has a particularly alluring role and one that is quite a departure from her recent portrayals of silk-clad dames of other periods. She gives to the part a tempestuous characterization and appeal that stamp her as the most versatile of film heroines.

"The Song of Love" was adapted from the novel, "Dust of Desire," which has won considerable renown for its author, Margaret Peterson. The picture was directed jointly by Chester Franklin and Frances Marion, and the star's supporting cast includes such notables as Joseph Schildkraut, Arthur Edmund Carewe, Laurance West, Maude Wayne, Earl Schenck, Hector V. Sarno, Albert Prisco, Mario Carillo and James Cooley.

The settings are exceptionally beautiful. One is enthralled by the majestic splendor of the boundless desert and the exotic architecture of the cities and towns in which the action takes place. Pictorially, as well as in every other phase, the production is one of the most artistic and flawless that we have ever seen.

Says Variety is Secret of Success In Good Films

Harold Lloyd is Starred at Dominion in Fine Comedy

Variety is the spice of life, and according to Harold Lloyd, it is also the secret of success in making continuously good comedies, as the spectacled comedian has done with "Dr. Jack," "Safety Last," "Why Worry" and his latest zany wreckers "Girl Shy," which plays at the Dominion Theatre all this week. Lloyd admits that it is hard to make each successive picture entirely different from its predecessors, but that it is absolutely necessary to do so. When motion picture stars fall into a rut, it is because they persistently follow the same line of story and same type of characterization.

In "Girl Shy," Lloyd has undertaken an entirely new form of hero to portray. He is seen as a bashful, retiring apprentice who works in the small shop of a country tailor. Although terrified by the presence of the female sex, he believes he knows them thoroughly and intends that the book he is writing about his imaginary love affairs will enlighten the rest of the masculine world. It is a role that is truly full of heart interest and romance, and the type of its fun is along the lines of one of his biggest successes, "Grandma's Boy," in so far as he mingles laughter with sympathy.

This mixture of pathos and fun is one more reason why Lloyd's popularity is so universal with everyone. Naturally, getting the laughs is the first requisite of all his pictures, but he believes that they will come more readily when the audience has sympathy for the hero portrayed. This interest established, it is easy to stir movie fans to mirth through humorous situations which may surround the principal character.

In "Girl Shy," Jobyna Ralston plays the lead opposite Lloyd, as she did so successfully in his last film, "Why Worry?" Her work in that picture, together with her natural beauty and charm, her soft brown curls and dark gray eyes, have won her a host of admirers all over the country. Although only eighteen years old, this dainty miss is said to do some truly great work in her role as the Rich Girl who loves Lloyd, seen as the Poor Boy. Other important roles are taken by Carlton Griffin and Richard Daniels, while the story was written by Gray and Tim Whelan, with Taylor and Ered Newmeyer, as usual, co-directing the picture.

"Girl Shy" will no doubt be acclaimed as Lloyd's biggest fun effort that he has so far completed, as it is said to be replete with mirth, heart appeal, thrills and romance. And Lloyd is one comedian who has never yet disappointed his world-wide array of followers and admirers.

Friend—"How are you coming on?"

Author—"Good. I've got the material on hand for a first class novel."

"You're a lucky man."

"That's not all. I've got the material for a splendid comedy besides."

"You are fortunate."

"Yes, but what I really need is the material for a new suit."

Popular Farce To be Revived by Hincks & Co.

"Private Secretary" Will Be Produced at Playhouse; Attractive Film Feature

To-night the Playhouse will open its week's bill with an old-time favorite that has not been seen in Victoria for many a day. The greatest farce of all times is "The Private Secretary," which has stood the test of years, and with "Charlie's Aunt" stands out as the greatest success of the English-speaking stage. Mr. Hincks promises a roar from start to finish.

"Pawn Ticket 210" is the screen presentation of David Belasco's great play of the same name, and as such should have a plot that will please, and being in such capable hands as those of Shirley Mason, the popular young Fox star, there should be little doubt as to the entertaining qualities of this picture. There will also be the usual comedy.

King Solomon, Jr., With Big Cast, Heads Entertaining Variety Bill

This week's vaudeville engagement at Pantages Theatre will open tomorrow with one evening performance, commencing at 8 o'clock, and an unusually entertaining bill is promised. On Wednesday and Thursday there will be the usual matinee and two evening shows.

"King Solomon Jr.," a farce comedy presented by a company of nine players, headed by Charles Deland and Florence Madeira, is the headline act this week. The story depicts in humorous style the plight of the much-married monarch, whose wives form a union, thereby causing their lord and master worry and creating much mirth for the audience.

Jack Strouse, favorite black-face comedian, will offer his latest success, entitled "Over the Phone." It is a humorous monologue, in which he portrays a colored actor whom a theatre manager has decided to give a tryout.

"Rip Van Winkle's Dream" is the title of a fantastic novelty presented by Frank W. Stafford, assisted by Marie Stone. The number presents Mr. Stafford in which is said to be a remarkable characterization of Rip Van Winkle.

Jimmy Casson and Fred Klem, two of vaudeville's favorite entertainers, will appear in "Song, Mirth and Melody." Casson sings and Klem is a dancing pianist. The Rios promise an attractive gymnastic performance, including many unusual tricks interspersed with singing, dancing and posing.

A Century comedy will be the main feature.

Capitol Popular Musical Night Set For Tuesday

A review of old-time popular melodies will be one of the novelties offered by Hunt's orchestra at the Capitol musical night this week. They will play many of the old popular dance numbers, including "The Snake," "Bygone," "Sapphire Sea." They will also introduce an entirely new number, "The Hoodoo Man," which will be played for the first time in Victoria, and will undoubtedly become the big favorite of the season.

ASSESSED FOR TAX

Ottawa, April 28.—The marriage fees paid to ministers are not exempt from Federal income tax, according to a statement given out here by R. W. Bradner, Commissioner of Taxation. This statement arises out of a report that Rev. S. W. Dean, secretary of the department of finance of the Methodist Church, had advised ministers of that denomination that in future wedding fees need not be returned as part of incomes.

THE CAMEL COPS!—It may take "Sixh Akhan of the arounded" a little longer to "get his man," but he's on the job anyhow. This good-natured Somali cop, who steers traffic on the desert, was caught by the cameraman as he was asking a visiting sailor if policemen in other parts of the world have camels. The sailor's answer, very likely, had something to do with "nine days without a drink."

NEMO'S LAST RAMPAGE!—Nemo's spree is over. Bullets from police rifles ended his "tear" as he was destroying his cage at Brookside Zoo, Cleveland. Nemo, for years a most gentle and trustworthy elephant, had become a potential murderer. The change came "ad spring set in. Lions, tigers, bears and monkeys added their roars to the din when Nemo began his one-elephant riot. For four hours attempts were made to distract his attention, but Nemo charged on. He was just pushing away the last bars when the police let go. Six shots were fired before he dropped.

BOY OR GIRL?—It's pretty hard to tell, with the latest "boy-ish bob." Look carefully at the photo above. It's a boy, you say? Wrong again. It's Miss Frances Robertson, wearing the new boy bob, and the lower picture shows her in her feminine raiment.

$1,000 CAT.—This poor pussy, habitat Atlanta, Ga., is worth only $1,000 and hence gets milk but five times a day. Miss Isabelle Lowe has won any number of prizes as owner of this high-priced tabby.

MORE MAH JONG.—Mah Jong tiles are the latest in earrings. And the side comb has given way to the bone counter. This young lady, Esther Worth, is responsible for the fad.

HOW VICE-RING FIGHTS.—Home of Rev. L. E. H. Smith, Buffalo vice crusader, after it had been bombed by enemies. Police suspect members of a bootleg and vice ring on whose trail the pastor was camping.

PITY NEIGHBORS!—Here's something new to break the tranquility of our quiet hours. It's a cross between a saxophone and a clarinet. Dr. Ella Beckman, a physician of Gavle, Sweden, its inventor, calls it "Espresso." The instrument has a range of 4 1/2 octaves.

OUT FOR EVERY DROP.—These pictures show how keen competition is in the oil fields. The top shows a forest of derricks in the Long Beach (Calif.) District, one of the greatest oil fields in the country. The bottom one gives a good idea of how the derricks have been crammed together by town-lot drillers. There's one to every town lot in parts of the Long Beach Field.

BLAMED FOR THE ROW.—Mutsaers Hanihara, Japanese ambassador to the United States, whose formal protest against the abrogation of the "gentlemen's agreement" was largely responsible for the almost unanimous decision of congress to pursue its announced purpose and formally exclude Japanese immigrants from the republic.

BLOCKS TRAFFIC.—Whenever David Katz stands along side his taxicab the street is all but blocked. Katz is the champion heavyweight taxi driver, tipping the scales at 457 pounds. He was fined in a Brooklyn court the other day for obstructing traffic. Katz says his taxi charges are much lighter than he is.

WHEN CAMBRIDGE WON SCULL CLASSIC.—First pictures to reach America showing finish of spectacular race at Oxford and Cambridge in which the latter was winner.

A FLIVVER OF SIXTY-FOUR YEARS AGO.—Henry Ford has a new flivver—of the vintage of 1860. He's just bought this old Rogers locomotive in Savannah, Ga. But he isn't going to use it on his railroad. It's to be put in his museum of railway antiques in New York. During the Civil War the old engine saw service in Florida. J. J. McDonough, Savannah railroad and machinery man, later bought it and used it for some years. Ford paid $2,600 for it.

SENATORIAL GUNS.—Senator Samuel M. Shortridge thinks senators should be permitted to carry revolvers so they could return "dry agents' promiscuous firing on the streets of Washington." His automobile recently got in the way of some stray bullets, but the senator escaped unscathed.

QUAKE SHRINE.—Ashes of the dead were used to mold this shrine on the site where the great Japanese army clothing depot stood in Tokio before the earthquake. Forty thousand perished on this ground. Relatives of the deceased worship before this statue constantly.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, April 28, 1924

PROFESSIONAL SELLING FORCES MARKET LOWER

(By R. P. Clark) - There was no particular news to account for the weakness in the stock market to-day. Considerable attention, however, was paid to the Federal Reserve report for March showing a slackening off in general trade lines. Most of the selling of the day was again responsive of professional efforts for the decline and a resumption of the bearish activity which has recently been in evidence. Pressure shortly after the market opened seemed to be centered on the United States Steel and much of this was probably inspired by the belief in some quarters that the dividend declaration scheduled for to-morrow may not come up to expectations.

However, there is the favorable showing the Republic Iron and Steel, and Bethlehem Steel, it is quite likely that U.S. Steel Corporation will show a very big first quarter and this in itself may impel the declaration of a dividend equivalent to at least what was declared at last meeting.

STOCKS LOSE BUYING POWER OVER WEEK-END

New York, April 28 (By B.A. Bond) - The stock market lost most of its buying power over the week-end and when traders saw the little stock was necessary to push prices down, selling pressure was resumed and continued throughout the session. Not a great amount of business was brought out and there was an absence of news to account for the change in sentiment. The weakness discouraged many traders who went long of stocks last week on the theory that the market should remain strong until the declaration of the U.S. Steel dividend at least. The U.S. Steel Corporation, it is assumed, will declare the same dividend, they last quarter, which was fifty cents extra and 1 1/2 per cent regular. The stock market is a highly professional affair just now and the accounts for the quick changes in sentiment. A trading position seems to be the most profitable. Weak issues are offered freely, while stocks like Cast Iron Pipe and Savage Arms as well as some of the rails are picked up every day. The market closed as steady when Steel Common finished a point above the low and Cast Iron Pipe closed at the top, having rallied five points from the morning's low and registered a new high for the year.

GRAIN MARKETS SLIGHTLY LOWER

Chicago, April 28 (By R. P. Clark) - The trend of the market was weak to-day with indifferent buying support. There was no important news developments and there was no new feature of a political sort, however, there was not much disposition to sell wheat and the price of the other hand buying on resting orders took considerable of the surplus out of the pit. Visible stocks decreased 2,948,000 bus. and local stocks decreased 508,000 bus. with a decrease of 650,000 at Kansas City reflecting a quite extensive milling demand. It is a question as to how much wheat would be delivered out. It is to be presumed there will be some but it may also go into storage hands.

VICTORIA STOCKS

Mills must draw freely on terminals stocks for the remainder of the crop year. Some export business was reported in durum and a little in Gulf wheat for August. The extensive ship-ment but such business was small and generally speaking our prices are still much out of line. At the moment we can see no prospects for more than a trading market. Corn - Sold off with wheat but late in the day showed a firmer tone, with a pretty extensive recovery considering the dull scope of trading. The weak feature of the corn situation is the distressing lack of eastern buying. Should the demand in that quarter improve it would round out an otherwise quite strong situation. Local stocks decreased 1,007,000 bus. with the visible decrease of 1,860,000 bus. With the recent rains delaying farm work it is quite reasonable to expect small receipts until after planting is over. Should deliveries be small as now indicated and the principal long maintain their position, the market could rally easily. Oats - The trade was light with prices following corn. Cash basis was steady with sales of 70,000 bus. primary receipt little larger than a year ago. Visible decreased 925,000 bushels with local stocks decreasing 108,000 for the week. A two sided market is indicated.

VICTORY BONDS

Chicago, April 28 (By B.A. Bond) - Grain prices were little changed to-day. Wheat and corn were for sale at slightly lowering quotations, the net changes being a small fraction below Saturday's finale. There is an absence of liquidation on May deliveries and this is somewhat surprising to the average trader who is inclined to keep away from the market until the end of the month when it is expected that May contracts will be pretty well evened up. The absence of weakness in the near delivery speaks well for the technical position of the market. Stocks of wheat are very large and Canada and the United States will carry over to the new crop an enormous total. This is the important factor making for our very quiet markets just now. No one cares to venture on a buying campaign with such large stocks available.

Notice to Breeders of Livestock

Mr. Erick Bowman, the discoverer of The Bowman Remedy, claims that in treating 70,000 cattle in the United States the results have been successful in 98% of the cases treated.

Are your dairy cows and heifers causing you trouble? Are you obtaining results in calves and milk that satisfy you? Do your cows (according to your knowledge of their capacity) produce as much milk as they should—or are you marking time and feeding a number of boarders that should be sent to the butcher?

These are matters that can be put right. Delays are fatal. Why not consult

The Erick Bowman Remedy Co., Office and Factory, 518 Yates St. Particulars Will Be Furnished Upon Application to the Manager

TRAIL SHIPMENTS

Shipments for the year to date to the Trail smelter, total 148,825 tons of ore, and for the third week in April, 10,427 tons.

The Sandon and Washington mines were the custom shippers to Trail smelter during the week. The Silversmith mine, of the Sandon district, keeps up its record of steady shipments, having missed sending one to Trail only one week since the beginning of the year.

The shipments of the week were: Knobhill, 109; Lone Pine Surprise Last Chance, 357; Quillip, 222; Ruth, 42; Silversmith (lead) 115, (zinc) 191; Cobham mines, 9,458. Total, 10,427.

Quered as to whether the New Westminster Ministerial Association was back of the movement, Mr. Carpenter replied in the negative.

It is simply a case of a few of us getting together, all imbued with the idea that a series of meetings would be beneficial to the city," he stated.

U.S. SCHOOL BOOKS CONTAINS EXCELLENT ACCOUNT OF VICTORIA

Victoria is well described under the head of Western Canada in the geographical and industrial studies of North America used in the schools of the United States. The latest edition just published refers to Victoria as follows:

"Across Puget Sound, on Vancouver Island, is Victoria, the capital of British Columbia. It is a beautiful city with a fine harbor, a background of hills and mountains and forests and lakes, and a climate which, cool in summer and warm in winter, attracts people at all seasons of the year. Man has added lovely gardens, fine boulevards and parks, attractive residences, modern hotels, and Government buildings that are examples of some of the finest architecture in America."

SECOND MISSION OF DR. PRICE IS BEGUN HERE

Evangelist Greeted Cordially at Arena at the Opening Services

Will Make a Statement on Financial Situation

Much has been said and written with regard to the mission conducted last April by Rev. Dr. Charles E. Price, evangelist, who had wonderful gatherings here. Now he is back again at the arena after very strenuous missions in Vancouver, Alberta and Manitoba.

In commencing a two weeks' mission here Dr. Price conducts this effort entirely as a personal one, in contrast to that of a year ago, and practically follows the precedent he recently established in Vancouver of an individual's undertaking. This plan does not commit the Ministerial Association to any policy, but at his opening meeting yesterday afternoon at the arena were to be noticed many ministers on the platform and in the seats.

From the announcement that the altar cards are to be handled by the clergy, it is clear that he is making for the closer co-operation from them in his mission, and also for the trained vocal knowledge of the choir for whom he made an appeal. The ministerial choir contributed not a little to the success of the numerous evangelical gatherings.

RECENT VANCOUVER MISSION In order not to conflict with the evening services in the churches, the evening meeting was not commenced until 8.45. In the morning Dr. Price preached at the Metropolitan Church.

Dr. Price referred briefly to the opposition he had encountered since he left Victoria, in Alberta particularly, and mentioned that when he went back to Vancouver recently he found only a small knot of critics behind him, but that the mission grew wonderfully until he had tremendous meetings. Although he had anticipated closing his mission last Sunday, it was necessary to continue until Wednesday. He indicated that he was looking for the same enthusiasm and outburst of revival from these gatherings as marked his appearance in Victoria a year ago.

FINANCIAL RESULTS A statement of the financial situation of the mission, Dr. Price said, at one of the gatherings where a larger audience is present. He explained that he intended to refer to the offering of the cost of a gospel tent which had been made when he was last in Victoria. He had had losses, he stated, after he left Vancouver, and as a result the net loss of the evangelical mission, conducted by him in 1923 was about $5,000.

An orchestra is to be organized in connection with the meetings, and those willing to play an instrument are invited to communicate with his secretary.

The daily services will be at 2.30 and 7.30 o'clock, and special arrangements will be made by the B.C. Electric Railway Company to provide special cars for the crowds. The initial meetings yesterday were managed from the standpoint of transportation.

Dr. Price quoted a leading Vancouver newspaper as stating that the spiritual effect of the mission which has just concluded there was much more beneficial than that of last May, owing to the fact that the gatherings were sacred, whereas the crowds who went there were attracted by curiosity, and the evangelist expressed the opinion that his mission in Victoria would also be abundantly blessed.

At the evening meeting, where a large crowd welcomed the evangelist, Dr. Price stated that during his address on Monday evening he would tell of the police court proceedings in Calgary.

He stated that the healing meetings will be held on Tuesdays and Fridays, the first to be held tomorrow.

TELL OF PROCEEDINGS An effort is being made by the Westminster ministers to get Dr. Price to conduct a mission there in the near future.

"Dr. Price has expressed his willingness to come to New Westminster to hold a series of revival meetings and several of the ministers in the city have agreed to assist him," stated Rev. E. J. Carpenter to a press representative. "It all depends on the action of the City Council."

Quered as to whether the New Westminster Ministerial Association was back of the movement, Mr. Carpenter replied in the negative.

It is simply a case of a few of us getting together, all imbued with the idea that a series of meetings would be beneficial to the city," he stated.

B.C. FIRE LOSSES SOAR BY MILLION

Fire Marshal Urges Fire Prevention Aids in Industrial Plants

In a report tabled with the Superintendent of Insurance Fire Marshal J. A. Thomas placed the loss in British Columbia fires in 1923 at $4,229,917, as compared to $2,252,268 in 1922, and $2,388,985 in 1921. The report is of especial interest in regard to the causes which led to the flames.

MATCHES AND MICE Children playing with matches started twenty-seven blazes with a consequent loss of property and damage. Mice, investigating the same material, account for four additional fires. The melting of fat in an over-heated oven led to another fire. Burning paint off a ceiling with a blow torch started a blaze which destroyed the home of the sportsman. Taking a hot iron to bed on a chilly night resulted in burning the bed and a serious blaze.

FIRE BUG ACTIVE Children playing with firecrackers were responsible for four fires, while backfires in caribou areas led to thirteen additional blazes. The thawing of ice in the streets led to a fire in an isolated case coal dust near a furnace took upon itself to burn in the stilly watches of the night. Sixteen fires were classed as "incendiary" in origin.

THIRTEEN LOSE LIFE The lives of thirteen people were taken in British Columbia fires during the year just past, five adults and eight children. Six children were burned to death at a fire in a native house in the Indian settlement near Soledad. The same fire took toll of thirty-one houses in the settlement.

COMMON CAUSES Stacking wood, clothes, coal oil and other materials too close to a stove led to a plethora of fires. Smoker's carelessness accounted for many more.

During the year cities were victimized to the extent of $1,617,505; municipalities by $1,120,947, and unorganized districts shared a loss of $1,454,311. Sawmills and shingle mills contributed $1,022,435 to the total fire loss for the year.

URGES BETTER METHODS In closing his report Fire Marshal Thomas emphasized the need for better fire protection equipment in industrial plants. The added cost of installation of such equipment, he says, would be met by the order by the reduction in fire insurance rates.

VETERANS' TRIBUTE TO LATE CHAPLAIN Memorial Service Sunday For Late Rev. Colonel G. H. Andrews

With St. Mary's congregation and all the ex-servicemen organizations of the city well represented, St. Mary's Church was filled yesterday at the memorial service for the late Rev. Colonel G. H. Andrews. Members of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Victoria branch, the Canadian Legion, the Great War Veterans Association and the Imperial Veterans Association met at the church where an impressive service was conducted by the Bishop of Columbia, the Right Rev. C. de V. Schofield. The Rev. W. Carroll of St. Luke's, Cedar Hill, the Rev. F. J. Chapman of Esquimalt and Archdeacon J. H. S. Sweet assisted in the service. The address was given by the Rev. W. Carroll, in which he paid a large eulogy to the late pastor and the love of the late padre for the many friends he made in his days in the army.

The choir was in attendance and led the congregation in the singing of the late chaplain's favorite hymns, "Abide With Me," "Lead Kindly Light" and "Onward Christian Soldiers." There was hardly a dry eye in the congregation as the Last Post was sounded by the band.

The P.P.S.L., with all standing at attention. The service closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

SERVICES FOR NURSES Before a large number of nurses in uniform at the Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday afternoon the Rev. Dr. Campbell conducted an impressive memorial service in commemoration of the late Rev. G. H. Andrews of St. Mary's Church. Dr. Campbell spoke of his success as a pastor, a clear expounder of the gospel, a man of strong magnetism, whose influence extended much beyond his own parish, and whose popularity with young and old was especially marked in the young people, was very marked.

His character could be summed up as a "Christian gentleman," which meant a great deal. In concluding the doctor said, "Him we call dead is only existence under changed conditions—absent from the body. It is the portal to the life elysian. The service was ended by the singing of Newman's beautiful hymn, "Lead Kindly Light."

VICTORIA PICTURES WILL BE ON VIEW AT EMPIRE EXHIBITION

Pictures of Victoria in conjunction with those of the five cities sharing in the Northwest advertising campaign will be on view at the British Empire Exhibition in conjunction with an exhibit of American advertising. The full page advertising display of Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle, Tacoma and Bellingham will be reproduced and eight of the panels will be placed on view. The advertisement is estimated to pass through the gates at Wembley Park.

In addition to these pictures, which include many Victoria scenes, architects of the city, as previously announced, are showing pictures of several beautiful Victoria homes.

"A fellow never knows what's going to happen," "What's that matter now?" "I'm scared to death I'm going to leave home some morning only to come back and find that the wife has had her hair bobbed during my absence."

GAME FISH OF VANCOUVER ISLAND

All Streams Contain Trout of Some Variety A Run of Cohoes in May and June

Practically speaking, all the streams and lakes of Vancouver Island contain trout of some kind or other, chiefly rainbow, or cut-throat. Large fish are caught in the lakes by trolling, but there is no trout water in British Columbia where the fish will not take a fly. Large fish are caught on the fly as a general rule in the streams and lakes. In the heat of midsummer when the rivers are low and fly-fishing is hardly practicable, except in the early morning and evening, excellent sport is given by sea-trout in the estuaries. These sea-run fish average heavy, two-pounders being common by several lakes. By means rare, and four and even six-pounders occasionally caught. As a general rule, they take a fly well even in the salt water.

SALMON Of the several varieties of Pacific salmon there are two with which the sportsman is principally concerned, the cohoes and the Spring salmon. Of these the Spring salmon are the finest table fish and attain the greatest weight, although average weight depends a good deal on locality, as in the case in other salmon countries. The Spring salmon are common by several lakes, notably King, Tyee and Chinook. The best known and handiest reached places on Vancouver Island for the biggest tyee salmon are Campbell River and Comox on the east coast, and Alberni and Nootka Sound on the west coast. Spring salmon are caught in these waters practically all the year round.

There is a run of cohoes in May and June, but these early fish, although very tame, do not average very large. The big run of cohoes does not arrive until the first of September, and they give a superior trout for their size to that yielded by the springs, as they play more on the surface.

The Fall cohoes are about nine pounds in weight on the average. The British Columbia salmon will not take a fly in a fallacy which was long since corrected. Both Spring salmon and cohoes are caught every season by anglers who know how and where to use a salmon fly, and give a splendid sport in suitable waters.

The expert with a spinning bait will be able to kill many large fish in the river, but the best sport is in the form of trolling in the sea with a spoon, by which the variety is able to kill many fine salmon.

STEELHEADS Steelheads are properly classed as trout, although the open season for steelhead fishing in non-tidal waters is exactly the reverse of that for other species of trout, the steelhead fishing season being from Winter months. Open season, November to March.

They attain to a large weight and give a fine sport on a good-sized salmon fly expertly fished.

BASS Fresh-water black bass are not native to Vancouver Island, but have been introduced with success into several lakes. In the Victoria area, Langford Lake and Florence Lake, both of which have yielded excellent black bass fishing of recent years.

DOLLY VARDEN Scientifically speaking, the Dolly Varden is not a true trout, but is typically a char (as is the eastern brook trout) in structure and habits. They are a very handsome fish, attain a large weight and give very fine sport on spinning tackle or a salmon fly, being found chiefly at the outlets of the larger inland lakes.

FISHING TACKLE The English patterns of flies are suitable for use in Vancouver Island waters and a good stock is kept by local dealers. Suggested patterns are: March Brown, Coachman, Cock, Red, Teal and Yellow, Grouse and Claret, Brown and Black Hackles, Jock Scott, Silver Doctor, Cowichan (Cooman) and others. A miniature salmon fly dressed on a trout-size hook is often an excellent killer in coast waters for sea trout.

The angler who wishes to try his hand at fly-fishing for salmon will find the regular Atlantic salmon pattern a medium-sized Jock Scott is as good as any.

For the big trout of the lakes the favorite lure is a duck spoon. Although spoons are the most general fly used lure for salmon-trolling, a minnow is often successful when the spoon fails.

For salmon fishing in the rivers a ten-foot double-handed rod is usually all that will be required. For trout fishing a ten-foot eleven-foot fly rod will meet all requirements. For Dolly Varden trout a Devon minnow is as good as anything, but they can be caught also on a salmon fly fished deep.

The following lakes, rivers, streams and tidal waters are perhaps among the best on Vancouver Island and also in the whole Province of British Columbia. They are all easily accessible by rail, good motor roads or stage from Victoria, and Victoria is reached within two or three hours from any of the following mainland ports: Anacortes, Bellingham, Port Angeles, Seattle, Vancouver. Large commodious steamers and automobiles ferries connect these ports to across-to-Victoria. Vancouver Island, with or without their cars, with no trouble and at a minimum expense, can be reached by the Victoria and Discovery (Victoria), near Discovery Island and up to southeast end of James Island, Nanaimo, from Greenwood to Island, Nanaimo, from Cowichan Bay, Sooke Bay, Cowichan Bay, Gulf Islands, Qualicum Beach, Comox, Campbell River, Alberni Canal.

For trout of the Cowichan River, Cowichan Lake and tributary streams, Shewanigan Lake, Koksilah River, Cameron Lake, Stewart Lake, Great Cameron Lake and tributary rivers, Ash River, Stamp River, Soanay River, Comoxey River, Dyke River, Campbell River, Campbell Lake, Cowichan River, Campbell River, Campbell River, Campbell River.

For steelheads and sea trout—
