HUNTINGTON BEACH, ORANGE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1918

Number 21

REGULAR MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COM.

PRODUCE EXCHANGE WILL BE ORGANIZED.

MEETING LARGELY ATTENDED

"Buy At Home Week" Will Be Next Attraction; Chance to Get a Big Cannery Is Discussed.

There was a well-attended meeting of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, in the library building, Friday evening of last week, and considerable business of importance was discussed, the most important of which was the possibility of securing for this district the establishment of a big cannery, that would handle the tomatoes from about 1,000 acres of land.

A representative of the concern was in Huntington Beach last week and looked over the territory, and stated that no bonus of any kind was desired, the only condition being the assurance that the required acreage would be planted.

After considerable discussion, it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the committee on manufacturing and commerce, composed of R. L. Obarr, Raymond Grey and Trustee D. W. Huston.

Judge Copeland reported that the advertising committee had mailed out some literature for the poultry and pet stock show, and that there would be one more letter sent out before the opening of the event.

G. S. Bergey reported that coops had been secured, and Judge Warner said considerable interest was being manifested.

Judge Copeland said that a visitor had recently called attention to the Huntington Beach slogan, "Where Factories Find Favor," and asked where the factories were, as he did not hear any whistles.

May Lose One Valuable Factory. There was consternation in camp when Wm. C. O'Connor announced that there was a chance of losing one of the factories already established here, saying that the Beach Broom Co. was now unable to get any fire insurance and was contemplating moving to a city where such protection could be procured.

Mr. O'Connor said the excuse offered by the fire underwriters was that the building was located outside the city limits, and therefore was entirely without protection from the city of Huntington Beach. He thought the matter should be taken up by the Chamber of Commerce with the underwriters and see if some relief could not be obtained.

H. A. Bowman of the Beach Broom Co. stated that the company was not on the prohibitive list, but that the policies were all cancelled shortly after being written, on account of there being no fire protection, and he did not feel like taking the chance himself with $7,000 or $8,000 worth of stock and machinery unprotected.

G. F. Bentley thought it would be well to have some of the underwriters come down and look over the situation, as it might be some small detail that prevented the risk being written.

Judge W. D. Seely, who writes insurance, stated that he had taken the matter up with the board of underwriters several times, but had been unable to make much progress, and thought the Chamber of Commerce should act on the matter.

Mr. Obarr moved that a committee be appointed to take the matter up with the city trustees, and ask them to pass a resolution that the city of Huntington Beach would answer any call for aid from the Beach Broom Co. for fire protection, and the motion was adopted, after being seconded by Mr. O'Connor.

President E. E. French appointed Judge Seely, Judge Warner and Mr. Bentley as the committee.

Will Not Take Part in Orange Show. Secretary J. K. McDonald read a letter from Manager F. M. Renfro of the Eighth Annual Orange Show, to be held in San Bernardino February 20th to 28th, asking Huntington Beach to enter an exhibit.

Judge Warner said he did not think the Chamber should branch out and undertake to make any display at the show, as it would detract from the community events that were being held.

Mr. O'Connor said he agreed with Judge Warner and did not think we could afford at this time to take up anything as big as would be required to make any creditable showing, and moved that the matter be laid over for this year, which prevailed, after being seconded by Judge Warner.

A letter was also read from the superintendent of the railway mail service, asking if the present service was satisfactory, and also soliciting suggestions as to where betterments could be made.

Judge Warner said he did not remember a time in the past three or four years when there was not room for improvement in the service, and he thought now there should be a mail train leaving the city earlier than 11 o'clock in the morning.

M. A. Turner, who served several years in the railway mail service, was called upon and said that about the only way the service could be improved would be to have a clerk on the train, as there formerly was on this line. The matter was referred to the committee on railroads and transportation.

French and Obarr Re-elected. When the question of electing two delegates to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county was brought up for discussion, M. A. Turner nominated Judge Warner. It was then decided, at the suggestion of Judge Copeland, that the delegates be elected by ballot, which resulted in the re-election of Mr. French and Mr. Obarr.

"Buy-At-Home Week." Judge Copeland thought the next community event should be "Buy-At-Home Week," or something of that nature for February, although the poultry show would run over into that month. The suggestion was concurred in, and the next attraction will be "Buy-At-Home Week," probably the last week in the month.

President French thought it might be well to miss one and then make the next one "Flag Day."

President French stated that, unless the Chamber instructed otherwise, the delegates to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county would vote against the location of the Pacific Moron Colony in this county at the meeting in Brea Wednesday night.

Mr. O'Connor, R. C. Turner and Judge Seely were named as the committee to handle the "Buy-At-Home Week."

Mr. Obarr moved that a patriotic committee be named for the purpose of handling such matters as the Liberty Loan campaigns, etc., and after the motion was seconded by Alfred Onson and carried, President French named Judge Copeland, Mr. Obarr and T. B. Talbert as the committee.

Directed to Organize Exchange. Mr. O'Connor reported for the committee having charge of the matter of investigating the advisability of the organization of a produce exchange, saying that but two members had completed their work. He suggested that the plan of the California Raisin Growers' Association be followed in the event that it was decided to go ahead with the organization. He suggested also that the capital stock be about $50,000, with a par value of $25 per share. The committee was directed to proceed with the organization.

Mr. O'Connor reported for the committee having charge of the work of securing a better road to the Newport mesa, saying that many of the residents preferred the road passing the Samuel Gisler home, as it was considerably shorter.

Mr. O'Connor moved that the matter of locating one of the aviation fields in Huntington Beach be taken up with the authorities, and the motion prevailed, after being seconded by B. T. Mollica. The secretary was directed to telephone the proper officials.

Two New Members Elected. The applications of Trustee Huston and J. W. Mitchell for membership were read, and they were elected members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Franklyn E. Skinner stated that there were no lights at the Twelfth street station, and asked that the matter be taken up by the Chamber of Commerce, and the secretary was directed to notify Agent W. R. Osborne.

The following were present: Judge Louis A. Copeland, president First National Bank; R. L. Obarr, proprietor Obarr's Drug Store; G. F. Bentley, of McKenney & Bentley, grocers; T. R. Canady, jeweler, next to the post office; Constable G. S. Bergey, of T. B. Talbert & Co., agents for Ford, Dodge and Lexington cars, and real estate; Judge W. D. Seely, real estate, insurance and loans; M. A. Turner and R. C. Turner, of the M. A. Turner Co., department store; H. A. Bowman, of the Beach Broom Co.;

THE POULTRY SHOW IS A BIG SUCCESS

BEING HELD IN JOHNSON BUILDING.

PRIZES WERE AWARDED TODAY

More Exhibits Than Anticipated; Event Will Close Saturday; Will Be Combined with Festival Next Year.

The Community Poultry & Pet Stock Show that is being held in the Johnson building on Main street is another surprise for almost everybody, the exhibits being more numerous than had been anticipated by most of those who have the event in charge. The show opened for entries Thursday morning, and the chickens, ducks, turkeys, peacocks, guineas, canaries, rabbits, etc., kept the attendants busy.

The show will close Saturday night. There was a fair attendance Thursday afternoon and today, but more persons will no doubt visit the room tomorrow than did so on the two previous days.

The show window on the right is decorated with pepper boughs and a magnificent peacock and two peahens, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Heffner, occupy the space, and on the left is to be seen a large number of little chicks, hatched in an electric incubator.

The poultry was judged by Dr. G. Irwin Royce, editor of the Pacific Poultry and Pet Stock Monthly, and Harold Walthew of Los Angeles, and the rabbits by Lewis H. Sallisbury of Pasadena.

N. J. Fuiks of Rivera had general supervision of the work of placing the pens in order and caring for the poultry and stock while on exhibition.

Everyone who has not already visited the show should do so, as it will be found of considerable interest. There is no admission charge.

Miss Julia French is acting as clerk for the entry committee. A list of prize winners will be published next week.

COMMERCIAL AGENT HERE WEDNESDAY.

S. C. Frost, the man who was recently appointed commercial agent for the Salt Lake Route, in Santa Ana, was in Huntington Beach Wednesday looking after business over the "Short-Cut" line. The Salt Lake Company has enjoyed a good passenger business from Huntington Beach in the past by those who desire to make quick time, it being the shortest line to the east.

BOWLING MATCH ON FOR THIS EVENING.

ANAHEIM TEAM WILL BE THE COMPETITORS.

There is a bowling match scheduled for this (Friday) evening on the Pavilion alleys, with the Anaheim boys as the opposing team. The Mother Colony boys are some big chiefs in the bowling game, and a good contest is anticipated. The home team will likely be Benning, McCoy, O'Connor, Wirth and Dean.

CYCLONE IN PASADENA.

A. J. Young, the potato king, was in Pasadena Sunday and states that the newspaper reports about the wind storm in the Crown City last week told but a small portion of the real facts about it.

Mr. and Mrs. Young drove to Pasadena to visit with their two daughters, and Mr. Young states that big trees were uprooted or broken off and carried onto adjoining property; houses were unroofed and twisted off their foundations; a large stone, weighing several tons, was blown from the Christian church, and the air was filled with shingles and other debris as far as the eye could see.

J. K. McDonald, secretary Pacific Oilcloth Co.; Judge C. W. Warner, justice of the peace, and collections; Wm. C. O'Connor, with Huntington Beach Co.; E. E. French, building contractor; Alfred Onson of the Huntington Beach Sheet Metal Works; Franklyn E. Skinner, vice-principal of the Grammar school; W. J. Williams, retired; B. T. Mollica, shoes and repairing; Jas J. Conrad, editor Huntington Beach News.

HAS MADE A SMALL FORTUNE IN FEW YEARS.

A good example of what can be done at farming in this section of the Santa Ana river valley is that Lewis T. Wells, one of those ranchers who has a reason for doing everything, has recently purchased another tract of the famous valley land.

A few days ago, Mr. Wells purchased the Ater farm, containing 44 acres, west of the fine ranch home of Mrs. M. A. Nimocks. The land adjoins the boulevard, but the house stands back a short distance from the highway, about one-half mile east of Talbert.

Mr. Wells' home place is about 2 miles north of Huntington Beach and contains 40 acres of the best land in the valley, and he has resided there for the past 11 years, during which time he has accumulated a small fortune.

Mr. Wells came to this section of Orange county 13 years ago, and how he has succeeded as a soldier of the soil is an interesting story.

Eleven years ago, Mr. Wells was a tenant on a tract of the big ranch owned by W. T. Newland, having a fine prospect for a crop of beets on an 18-acre field. J. T. Stockton, who resides near the Ocean View school house, met Mr. Wells one day and told him about 40 acres of land that was for sale at $85 per acre, and told Mr. Wells to buy it. Mr. Wells replied, "Gosh, I'd like to, but I got no money."

Mr. Wells states that he knew the tract was fine land, and while he had no money, he thought he would go and talk with the man who had it for sale, anyway. Mr. Wells was told that he could buy the land for $85 per acre, but the owner wanted to know how he expected to buy it with no money. Mr. Wells answered that he did not know then, but thought he might find some way to get the cash. The owner told him he could have three days in which to do so, and Mr. Wells hurried to Santa Ana, but his friends smiled when he told them he had nothing to pay on the land, and said they would be glad to help him if he had enough to make a substantial payment to start with. He told them of his good prospects for a beet crop, but they said something more than prospects were required, and they did not care to advance the entire purchase price of the land.

Someone told the owner that Mr. Wells had no chance to raise the money, and he then advanced the price to $95 per acre and said the first man who came with the money would get the land. Mr. Wells was about to throw up the sponge, when a friend told him of an elderly gentleman in Santa Ana, who had money to loan. After Mr. Wells told the old man about his great ambition to own a farm, although he had no money, the man with the money asked Mr. Wells if he did not think that was asking a great deal for him to expect someone to furnish all the money. Mr. Wells admitted that it was, but insisted that he was able to pay for the ranch if given a chance. The old man agreed to go out the next day and look at the land. Mr. Wells told his new friend that if he was never able to pay for the land, it was a good buy for him anyway, as it would always be worth more than the purchase price.

The old gentleman finally agreed to buy the land for $90 per acre cash and sell it to Mr. Wells on contract for $100 per acre. In 5 years the land was paid for, and in addition, Mr. Wells has purchased property in Huntington Beach, and, as has been stated, has now more than doubled his holdings in farm land. The market value of the original 40 acres, where Mr. Wells resides, is about $700 per acre, or $28,000 for the tract. However, it could not be bought for that price, as should anyone drive out and stack up $40,000 on Mr. Wells' front porch, he would not agree to vacate the premises, as the land pays him good returns on that valuation.

He has harvested beets on this land that averaged 37½ tons per acre and tested 18 per cent sugar, and has threshed as high as 37½ sacks of lima beans per acre. Last year his beets averaged only 16 tons per acre. The second year he farmed the land 9 acres of celery netted him $1,363.

A bank has appraised the new ranch Mr. Wells purchased at $550 per acre, making a total valuation of $24,200, or $50,200 for the two farms which he now controls.

A remarkable feature about the achievement of Mr. Wells is that he was more than 54 years of age when "PRIDE AND THE MAN" SATURDAY EVENING.

"The Devil's Assistant" For Sunday Night.

"TODAY" THE ATTRACTION NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

William Russell, athletic star of the motion picture firmament, has at last realized his ambition to screen a regular boxing contest in which he goes the scientific limit with a man of his own boxing class as the piece de resistance of a real red-blooded play—"Pride and the Man."

Mr. Russell carries the role of "Handsome Jack" Bronson, champion heavyweight, and idol of the ring, beloved by a beautiful and wealthy woman of society, who risks social ostracism because of her infatuation for the man who saved her from drowning.

"Thelma Everett," played by Miss Francella Billington, makes no secret of her affection for the fighter, but he, realizing that to pursue the acquaintance will bring obloquy upon the young woman, avoids her. "Thelma" refuses to accept this attitude.

"Warren Leonard," a former suitor of "Thelma," plots to ruin "Bronson," who renounces the ring and marries "Thelma," entering industrial life as a contractor and losing much money. Unknown to him, "Thelma" has lent him $50,000, through a bank, to bolster up his business.

Discovering that he is indebted to his wife in a large sum of money, "Jack" determines to enter the ring again in order that he may reimburse her.

The great fight is lost by "Jack" in a desperate finish to "Tom Hogan," played by Al Kaufman, one of the best known professional fighters.

With $60,000, as the loser's share of the profits, "Jack" returns "Thelma's" $50,000. Reconciliation follows.

This, with a comedy and Ford weekly, will give you a complete evening at the Princess theatre.

Sunday night, the feature will be: "The Devil's Assistant," with beautiful Marguerite Fisher in the leading role. This production, which had a long and successful run in New York, is an old story newly told. It is a gripping, human story of struggle and sacrifice. Miss Fisher has painted the female character with strong, sure touches on the white canvas of the screen.

Good comedy and weekly round out the program.

"Today," coming to the Princess theatre on Wednesday, February 6th, as a benefit for the Huntington Beach band, deals with the story of a pampered wife, wonderfully attractive physically, yet weak morally.

Florence Reed, heading the cast of "Today," has the role of a woman whose failing is the character that impels her to dominate men and so satisfy her vanity. The role is of the vampire sort, whose weakness is her desire for fine clothes, which eventually causes her ruin.

The story deals with the love of a husband, whose success has pampered his wife with every luxury he can afford, and she is the first to turn against him when his business fails.

A most wonderful light is thrown upon parent love in "Today," and, in reviewing the production, one is called upon time and time again to question themselves as to whose love is the most sincere in the time of adversity—the wife's or the mother's and father's. Love, passion, fear, hatred, self-sacrifice, loyalty, honesty, ambition, are all blended in an endeavor to portray a woman's frailty and man's power.

"Today" is made from the stage success of the same name, written by George Broadhurst and Abraham Schomer, which ran a solid year on Broadway.

FRANK KASPER IS NOW SUPERINTENDENT.

Frank Kasper, who left Huntington Beach a few months ago to assist in the construction of a new sugar factory at Mason City, Iowa, has been appointed superintendent of the factory of the Wyoming Sugar Co. at Worland, Wyoming.

he purchased his home ranch, and shows what a man can do after he has passed what is commonly termed the prime of life on this plane of existence. He is now almost 66 years old, having been born in New York state in 1852, and is probably one of the liveliest men in the county for his age; and may yet live to add other farms to his holdings in the far famed Santa Ana river valley.

TEN YEARS AGO

The Following Items Appeared in the Huntington Beach News of Jan. 31, 1908.

The first public band concert at the pavilion was a decided success. Many were the compliments paid the band for its excellent work. There will be two concerts a week, beginning next Wednesday night. A director has been employed, and the efficiency will be increased accordingly.

A disc plow, designed by employees of the Huntington Beach Co., and successfully used in discing 1500 acres of barley land that the company is now planting, is attracting much attention from implement dealers, and will likely be manufactured next year. Representatives of the Baker & Hamilton concern came out from Los Angeles the other day with Henry Levinson and Alex. Mills of the Huntington Beach Co.'s city offices to inspect the new implement. It has thirty 22-inch discs and takes a swath 16 feet wide. With 8 head of stock, one man can cover 30 acres a day.

Tilton's Trolley Trip excursions now visit Huntington Beach daily. The first of the season was made Tuesday and consisted of two cars well filled. Thursday, there were four.

The big rain storm that broke the long dry spell ended Tuesday. The rainfall for the storm was 3.3 inches, bringing the total for the season up to 5.36 inches. Ranchers are jubilant. The grain crop is assured, and the sowing of barley will be resumed at once.

S. W. Price is anxious to get back to the land of sunshine and flowers. He is at Willsville, Utah, and writes that it is cold and clear, with 12 inches of snow. In a letter to C. H. Howard, Mr. Price states he will be glad to get back to Huntington Beach, where it is warmer.

Huntington Beach has a new home-talent orchestra that promises well. Some additions to the membership will be made, which now consists of Dr. F. M. Dye, violinist; James Cook, snare drum; George Reynolds, cornet; Mrs. Geo. O. Franklin, piano.

A few ladies met at the home of Mrs. S. L. Blodget, Monday, and organized what is to be known as the Woman's Club of Huntington Beach. They decided to give the first Monday afternoon of each month to civic improvements, the second Monday to literary work; the third to household economics, and the fourth to sacred meetings. They will meet at the Woman's Club hall, Sholly & Franklin's office, on Ocean avenue. Minnie B. Nutt, secretary.

Ted Sundbye went to Los Angeles Monday to take out his final citizenship papers, so as to be able to vote for the school bonds, Saturday.

Ernest R. Lewis, who arrived here recently from Manchester, England, has decided to remain, and has gone into partnership with Capt. H. F. Shorting in the vegetable and fruit business.

Westminster.

The S. P. has put in a telephone at the depot.

Saturday night, the I. O. O. F. lodge, No. 72, installed the following officers; D. W. C. Dimock, Noble Grand; Frank Watrous, Vice-Grand; W. H. Bentley, Cor. Sec.; Fred Dimock, Fin. Sec.; F. T. Skelley, Treas. A splendid banquet followed the ceremonies.

BOTH LEGS BROKEN BY FALL.

A workman employed by the Lacy Manufacturing Co. of Los Angeles, who was working on the inside of one of the big tanks at the Union Oil station, fell to the bottom of the tank Monday morning and both legs were broken, the left one so seriously that Dr. Wilson states he doubts if amputation can be avoided. The unfortunate man was Leo Delpoint of 1431½ N. Main street, Los Angeles. No ambulance could be secured in Santa Ana, and one was telephoned for at Long Beach, and the injured man was taken from here to Seal Beach in a machine, where the ambulance met them.

WILL SOON HAVE TO BUY CORNMEAL WITH FLOUR.

W. M. Adair, Huntington Beach representative of the food administration, states that the time is approaching when grocers will not be allowed to sell white flour unless a certain percentage of cornmeal or other substitute is purchased at the same time. So get ready for the change. The percentage of substitute will be increased gradually.

Farewell Reception.

A farewell reception was given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Towry, Friday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Worthy, on Fifth street. The home was nicely decorated for the occasion, and about fifty-five persons were present. Harold H. Campbell and Boyden Hall made the evening pleasant with lively games. Refreshments were served. M. E. Helme, chairman of the church board, gave a short address, stating that Rev. Towry had given better satisfaction than any other minister who had preceded him. Good talks were also given by Mr. Hall, president of the Christian Endeavor Society; P. W. Elliott, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Mr. Campbell, teacher of the young men's class, who all spoke very highly of Rev. Towry. Rev. and Mrs. Towry both responded and stated that they had enjoyed being here, and regretted leaving Huntington Beach. The party was dismissed by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Towry, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Helme, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gallienne, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gerry and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Elliott and son, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Worthy, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hall and son, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Worthy, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pearce and son, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stevenson and daughters, Mrs. J. Lock, Mrs. F. Campbell, Mrs. Pearl Porter, Viva Worthy, Lena Hall, Nona Worthy, Lola Criley, Conrad Worthy, Barney Helme, Donald Hawes, Charles Bickmore, Jack Bickmore and Criss Bundschuh. Rev. and Mrs. Towry left Monday morning for Oklahoma.

From Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McKenney have as their guest, B. F. Bray of Home Lake, Saskatchewan, Canada, who will be their house guest for the remainder of the winter. Mr. Bray is the eldest brother of Mrs. McKenney, and has been a resident of the Canadian province for 24 years, being one of the pioneers in the Home Lake region, where he is a prosperous breeder of fine cattle. Mr. Bray is also a public servant, holding the office that corresponds to that of chairman of the board of supervisors of a county. He visited Florida before coming to California. Mr. McKenney owns a half section of land in Saskatchewan, which he acquired before coming to Huntington Beach.

Woman's Club.

The next meeting of the Woman's Club will be held Tuesday afternoon, February 12th, in the clubhouse. The program follows: "Better Babies," Mrs. Ruth Brown; "The Advantage of Kindergarten Training," Miss Thelma Price; "Home Dress Making," Mrs. Nina Maude Peters. Miss Price will have her class with her, and some interesting exercises will be given. A formal ballot will be taken at this meeting for the nomination of candidates for offices to be filled at the election February 26th.

Making Machine Guns.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kelley, who left Huntington Beach about 18 months ago, for Massachusetts, are residing at Norwich, Conn., where Mr. Kelley is efficiency engineer for the Marlin-Rockwell Company, manufacturers of machine guns, and in this feels that he is doing his bit toward blowing up the German autocracy. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley expect to return to California after the war, saying they have a warm place in their hearts for Southern California, and especially for Huntington Beach.

Will Move to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCormick and Mrs. Curtis McCormick expect to leave Monday on the boat from San Pedro for Seattle, Washington. Mr. McCormick will enter the government service at the navy yard at Bremerton, Washington. Mr. and Mrs. McCormick and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Porter visited with Mr. and Mrs. George W. McCormick of Anaheim, Wednesday.

From Illinois.

Mrs. Alta Smith of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Bird of Warren county, Illinois, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Young, Saturday. The visitors are cousins of Mrs. Young.

From Orange.

F. E. Hallman of Orange called on F. H. McElfresh Tuesday. Mr. Hallman said the activity in this city shown by the community events being held was certain to reflect much prosperity, and assured the future growth of Huntington Beach. Mr. Hallman is president of the Orange Chamber of Commerce, and conducts a dry goods business, which, some of his competitors say, is the finest store in Orange county.

Visited Santa Paula.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kutzner motored to Santa Paula Saturday night and visited with Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Akins, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Kutzner, returning Monday afternoon. They left Los Angeles at 8 o'clock, and it was almost midnight when they reached their destination.

Butterfly Social.

There will be a butterfly social at the First Christian church next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited. There was a business meeting of the Loyal Bereans class of the church at the home of Mrs. Eva Spillers Tuesday night. Refreshments were served.

Five Weeks in Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reed returned from Pasadena Saturday evening of last week, after visiting for five weeks with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rawls. They will leave again Saturday for another visit of several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Rawls.

Returned from Arizona.

W. A. Johnson returned Saturday from a two-weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Johnson of Yuma, Arizona, his son and daughter-in-law. Mr. Johnson states that, while he enjoyed the visit, he was glad to return to Huntington Beach.

From San Diego.

Otto Modglen, who recently entered the naval service at San Diego, spent Sunday in Huntington Beach visiting with his mother, Mrs. Hugh Criley. Otto expects to be transferred to Boston, Mass., shortly after the first of February.

From Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bullen of Swink, Colorado, have taken the Ross house on Fourteenth street. Their furniture arrived Saturday. Mr. Bullen is employed by the Holly Sugar Corporation.

From Alberta.

J. Todd of Alix, Alberta, Canada, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dalby and Mrs. J. Livernash, former neighbors in Canada. Mr. Todd is much pleased with Southern California.

From Brea.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Erwin and family from near Brea were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Scott of the Pavilion Cafe, Monday. Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Erwin are sisters.

From Oklahoma.

C. O. Martin of Leedey, Oklahoma, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Wells this week.

From Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Hare of Glendale spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sharp.

Don't you remember Christmas morning, when you received those photographs and pictures of a like nature? They were nice and fresh looking then, but how are they now, or how will they look in about six months? Will they be as they were when you received them, or will they be all finger-marked, dusty, dog-eared and hopelessly ruined?

An inexpensive frame will preserve them nicely for you, and they will be as attractive years from now as they are today.

Rigdon's Studio, at 137 Main street, is showing an exceptional line of mouldings, including many of a moderate price, from which your selection may be made with all due regard for suitability in price and appearance.

There has also been received a new line of sheet pictures, in the better grade of work, sepia, hand-tinted, etc., and a clever line of comics that has just been published. These are the same pictures that you admire in the large art shops in the city, and are marked here at a considerable reduction from city prices.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY.

Christian Science Society services held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, at the corner of Eighth St. and Olive avenue. The subject for Sunday, Feb. 3rd, will be: "Love." Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday evening meetings at 8 o'clock. Reading room in church open Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 2 till 4, where the Bible and authorized Christian Science literature may be read or purchased if desired.

HOW THEY ARE REGISTERING IN ANAHEIM.

The following interesting news item is from the Anaheim Plain Dealer, published by R. W. Ernest, the man who is heading the big drive to make Anaheim dry:

"The booze and boodle gang has already showed its hand in the present registration drive. It has again demonstrated its determination to resort to old-time tricks in a last dying attempt to camouflage the voters into once more condoning their un-patriotic, outlaw business in this year of conservation."

"In short, the booze and boodle gang and their swankers, realizing that a fair election will go overwhelmingly against them in Anaheim, are determining to make one more effort to prevent a fair election."

"They began by stacking the delegation of deputies appointed by the county clerk to take the registration of Anaheim. Many of the first registration deputies had their headquarters in the outlawed brass-railled emporiums, and every effort was made to secure the registration of those who remain in the faltering ranks of the wet brigade. But the conservationists woke up and started out to get a fair registration of Anaheim, to register everybody, so that any election will be a true expression of what Anaheim really wants."

"One of their deputies, J. W. Kohlenberger, was doing such a good job of it that the booze and boodle gang became alarmed."

"They sent a hurry-up distress signal to County Clerk Edwards, pulled the usual sympathetic gag, and told him everything else that would create an alarm, so Edwards writes Kohlenberger, 'there seems to be considerable stir in Anaheim about your appointment as deputy, so you had better come in and see me.'"

"There was a stir all right—amongst the booze and boodle gang. Didn't they have plenty of registration blanks to take care of everybody, and at such convenient places? All a lady needed to do was to skid into a barrel house or lap-it-up joint, hoist a foot on the brass rail, and, with an elbow draped over the mahogany, reckon she'd like to register."

"It was all so convenient, too. She could do it any day, there being no boozeless days in Anaheim—yet."

"Of course, there were some who registered at these joints, but they were not ladies.

"The booze and boodle gang had every reason to kick at Kohlenberger. Why, he actually went after registrants; called right at their homes; never missed any lady, and even registered some folks who were women. In fact, working assiduously over the territory north and east of Center and Los Angeles streets, starting January 10, Kohlenberger Monday had an even 300 names of registrants, having filled six books."

"In all that territory, Kohlenberger found only five who had been registered. Kohlenberger took everybody, of whatever conviction, stripe or circumstance."

"This is what aroused the anti-conservationists. Kohlenberger, accompanied by several citizens who are not swankers for the booze and boodle gang, went to Santa Ana Monday afternoon to explain the why of the stir."

ACQUIRES INTEREST IN SANTA ANA REGISTER.

The following announcement appeared at the head of the editorial columns of the Santa Ana Register Saturday evening, and it is a pleasure to note the complimentary remarks of Editor J. P. Baumgartner about the two able and loyal lieutenants who have assisted him for more than a decade in making the Register one of the splendid newspaper properties of Southern California.

The Register is pleased to announce that Mr. H. T. Duckett has been elected a director and treasurer of the Register Publishing Company, in which he has acquired a substantial proprietary interest.

Mr. Duckett has successively and successfully filled the positions of circulating manager, advertising manager and business manager of the Register, and, by his over ten years of faithful and efficient service, has richly earned his promotion.

Mr. T. E. Stephenson, who has been associate editor of the Register, and a director and secretary-treasurer of the Register Publishing Company for the past ten years, has increased his stock holdings, and continues in the positions he has held—except that he is relieved of the treasurer'ship.

Both Mr. Duckett and Mr. Stephenson have contributed largely to the success of the Register, and both the community and the paper are to be heartily congratulated that men of their character and ability are now permanently established in their respective positions.

J. P. Baumgartner will continue to be president and general manager of the company and editor of the paper.

COMPULSORY HEALTH INSURANCE DISAPPROVED.

Commission of Massachusetts Legislature Says There is Increasing Hostility from Those Most Concerned.

Compulsory health insurance for Massachusetts is strongly disapproved by a majority of the members in the report of the special recess commission on social insurance, filed with the Massachusetts Legislature Tuesday, January 15th. Legislation is recommended for extending group insurance in industrial plants through the Massachusetts Savings Bank Life Insurance plan, and "voluntary sickness insurance" is indorsed.

Compulsory health insurance would cost the state $43,000,000, at the lowest figure, the commission says. Its investigations have, furthermore, revealed "an increasing hostility to this type of insurance on the part of representatives of large aggregations of individuals, who, in the final analysis, would be most vitally affected by such insurance." The commission finds many people who believe compulsory insurance "infringes on the rights of the individual."

Answering those who claim health insurance would provide a remedy against poverty, the commission says it does not believe poverty would be lessened to any degree. Neither does it believe such a law would improve conditions of health.—Christian Science Monitor.

Letter from Camp Lewis.

Mrs. Henry Donahue of Talbert received the following letter from her brother, Ed Hanley, who left here in November for Camp Lewis, and who is now head cook in his regiment: Camp Lewis, Jan. 22, 1918.

Dear Brother and Sister:

Received your letter the other day and was glad to hear that you were all well. I am sure feeling fine now, weigh 145 pounds stripped. Believe me, that is gaining some, as my weight was 128 pounds when I left home. Tell the other boys that are expecting to come up here sooner or later that we are waiting for them and will be glad to see them before we leave camp. I think I will get to stay with my Company until after the next draft. Of course, I can't tell. It may be that I will be moved down to Camp Fremont soon, which is down below San Francisco. I hope so just the same, as then I will get to come home once in a while.

I had a heart and lung examination the other day and passed perfect. Went under the X-ray and my lungs are very good. I also had an examination of my teeth, but they are not good. Will have to have them treated every day. Don't know just how bad they are, but if they are in too bad a condition I might get discharged. I would very much regret it to get discharged, as I like the army life better all the time. I also want to get to go to France.

Don't be afraid that I don't get plenty to eat, as the eats are very good up here. We have butter, pie and cake all the time, and lots of other good things. We have a big dinner every Sunday. Last Sunday we had our lieutenant and his wife and other friends for dinner. I had to get a big meal for them. I will give you the menu: Cream of tomato soup, fried chicken, mashed potatoes, candied sweet potatoes, celery, fruit salad, oranges, apples, cider, lemonade, lemon pie, rhubarb pie, banana cake and cocoa. I guess that was a good enough dinner for anyone, was it not? They all enjoyed it very much.

We are going to have a big doings in our barracks next week, just in my Company. Am going to give a big supper at twelve o'clock, and we are going to have turkey and have a real good time.

I am having a good time up here. Get to go to town every other day and stay all night. I get off at twelve o'clock and go to work the next day at twelve, so haven't a hard job after all.

We are going to start a school in our Company, which will be a cook and baker school. If I pass the examination, I will get an army diploma for cooking, so I can cook any place I go.

Will bring this letter to a close. Tell everyone down there hello for me. From your brother,

D. E. HANLEY.

Co. 22, Bat. 6, 166 Depot Brigade, Camp Lewis, Wash.

Go to Church Sunday.

Be sure to come to church next Sunday. The program of the Talbert Methodist church will be as follows: Sunday school at 2:30 p. m. Preaching service at 7:30 p. m. You are always welcome to attend all of our services. J. ALVAH ANDREWS, Pastor.

SOME GOOD TALKS AT HIGH SCHOOL

SANTA ANA MEN AT THE ASSEMBLY PERIOD.

DR. S. G. HUFF PRESIDED

Business Men Tell About War Savings and Thrift Stamps; Fine Dinner Served at Noon.

Thursday was a red letter day at the assembly period of the Huntington Beach Union High School. There were four well-known business men of Santa Ana present, who talked to the students, and several of the business men of Huntington Beach accepted an invitation from Principal V. B. Brown to attend the session.

Cecil McCoy, president of the Student Body, stated that the topic of discussion would be War Savings and Thrift Stamps; why they were issued, and why they should be purchased.

Mr. McCoy introduced Dr. S. G. Huff, president of the High School Board, who said he felt that they were particularly fortunate in having such able men to talk to them on such an important subject.

The first speaker introduced was James C. Metzgar, secretary of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County, and also secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, who is usually the curtain-raiser for most occasions when speakers go from Santa Ana in bunches. Mr. Metzgar said that, after looking over the audience, he felt that it was not necessary for him to say to the girl students what he had said in Santa Ana, that they could Hooverize on face powder, as the government needed the paint for battleships.

The next speaker was John A. McFadden, an insurance man of Santa Ana, who resides in Tustin. Mr. McFadden is chairman of the committee having charge of the Thrift Stamp campaign in Orange county.

The third man to address the big audience was Frank L. Andrews, manager of the Powers' Manufacturing Co. of Santa Ana, who is prominent in educational matters in the capital city, being secretary of the Board of Education.

Mrs. Harriet Edmiston, who has charge of the Home Economics and Domestic Art departments of the High school, is a daughter of Mr. Andrews, and Dr. Huff said the school was therefore especially interested in him.

In introducing R. L. Bisby, a real estate dealer of Santa Ana, Dr. Huff said it was usually the custom to hold the best until the last. The talk delivered by Mr. Bisby verified the statement of Dr. Huff, as he is a speaker that is a great credit to Orange county or any other county in the state. He drives his argument home with a pulsating earnestness that never fails to deeply interest his auditors. Mr. Bisby said he was interested in watching the students when "America" was being sung. Some of them, he said, arose quickly, others deliberately, and some very slow and indifferently, as though they were not much interested.

The speakers were given a rising vote of thanks. They all urged the co-operation of school children for the purchase of war stamps, as they must be purchased to care for the men in the field.

Miss Gladys Bollon and Jack Given rendered a piano duet in an entertaining manner.

Miss Frances Douthit, director of music, and Miss Irene Engle had charge of the singing.

The sixth, seventh, eighth and ungraded classes of the Grammar school were present, as well as the teachers in charge, including Principal Harold H. Campbell.

Mr. Brown announced that he had been notified that some Smileage books had been mailed to him, but had not yet arrived. These books, he said, would be sold at $1 and $5, and would be good for 10 and 50 admissions to the theatre to the soldier holding them. Mr. McCoy stated that he had heard that Leon B. W. Olds, a former member of the faculty, now at Camp Lewis, American Lake, Washington, was ill in the hospital, and suggested that all pupils who knew Mr. Olds write him a letter, to be delivered to the secretary of the Student Body next Thursday. Miss Elise Armitage said she was sure the letters would be enjoyed by Mr. Olds, and moved that the suggestion be adopted, and the motion prevailed unanimously.

The men were invited to the dining room, and Mrs. Edmiston and some of the young lady students served a splendid luncheon. The preparing and serving of the food reflected much credit upon this department of a well-governed High school. Mrs. Edmiston was quite freely complimented by those who enjoyed the meal. The young women who did the serving are also entitled to credit for their expeditious and careful work. There is no greater accomplishment than for a woman to be capable of preparing good, wholesome food, and it is a regrettable fact that the culinary art is frowned upon by many women.

At the banquet table, Mr. Brown said he had invited some of the business men of the city to have them test the home economics of the school and to say to them that he would invite them at some future time to talk to the Student Body, as he believed that much good could be accomplished by such talks. He said there were some boys who wanted to quit school and go to work, and did not pay much attention to what the teachers said to them, as some students felt that teachers were like preachers, paid to talk, and what they said was from a book and did not amount to very much.

Short talks were delivered by Dr. F. E. Wilson, F. H. McElfresh, member of the High School Board, Mr. Bisby and Mr. McFadden. The following were seated at the table: C. A. Johnson, general manager Holly Sugar Corporation; Judge Louis A. Copeland, R. L. Obarr, Trustee Joseph Vavra, Mr. McElfresh, Dr. Wilson, Dr. G. A. Shank, E. E. French, W. T. Newland, Sr., member of the High School Board, Trustee R. H. Chapin, Dr. Huff, Harold H. Campbell, Franklyn E. Skinner, Boyden Hall, Mr. Brown, Mr. Metzgar, Mr. Andrews, Mr. McFadden, Mr. Bisby, F. L. Stearns, Claude Swift, C. W. Spotted, Jas. J. Conrad.

THIRD DEGREE GIVEN WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR WERE INSTALLED.

Hardeman Taylor Dunning, manager of the San Pedro Lumber Co., was raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason at a special meeting of Huntington Beach Lodge, No. 380, F. & A. M., Wednesday night.

After the completion of the floor work, the following officers were installed: Richard Drew, Worshipful Master; C. E. Kutzner, Senior Warden; E. E. French, Junior Warden; S. L. Blodget, Secretary; C. E. Lavering, Treasurer; Dr. G. A. Shank, Chaplain; Joseph Vavra, Senior Deacon; Eugene Davis, Junior Deacon; Geo. Abbott, Senior Steward; John A. Flaws, Junior Steward; W. E. Gerhart, Marshal.

The installing officer was W. E. Gerhart, one of the past-masters of the lodge, and J. O. Pyle, another past-master, was master of ceremonies. John Kellie McDonald, at the piano, and Franklyn E. Skinner, with his violin, furnished music for the occasion.

A banquet closed the evening's activities, being served by Mrs. C. E. Kutzner, Mrs. J. O. Pyle and Mrs. W. S. Thomson.

Richard Drew was toastmaster, and the principal talks at the banquet table were made by Mr. McDonald and Mr. Skinner. Mr. Drew stated he called on these men because they were bachelors, and he was sure the women would rather listen to single men talk.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR WILL BE AVIATOR.

Prof. Hugh C. Willett, associate professor of mathematics at U. S. C., has enlisted in the aviation division of the U. S. Army, and entered his application for a commission. He expects to leave shortly for service.

Prof. Willett has been staff captain and adjutant of the U. S. C. student battalion and has also been representing the U. S. government in the work of supplying skilled students for government service on demand. As secretary of the U. S. C. faculty and alumni historian, he is well known throughout Southern California.

Prof. Willett is the son of Rev. C. Carey Willett, pastor of the Baptist church here.

ACTIVITY IN THE RED CROSS AUXILIARY.

546 ARTICLES MADE AND SENT TO LIBERTY BOYS.

The Huntington Beach auxiliary of the Red Cross was organized June 27th, 1917, and since that time 546 different articles have been made and forwarded through the Santa Ana chapter to the various cantonments for the use and comfort of the Liberty Boys, as follows: 24 handkerchiefs, 64 sub-handkerchiefs, 24 tray cloths, 24 bed socks, 16 hospital gowns, 25 shoulder wraps, 18 wash cloths, 5 ice bags, 8 bags, 21 sweaters, 21 scarfs, 19 pairs socks, 12 pairs wristlets, 38 eye bandages, 19 wash rags, 180 cut rags, 206 cut papers.

There have been $350 spent for material, mostly yarn, muslin and flannellets. There has been some talk of organizing a Red Cross chapter in Huntington Beach, but it has been found that this cannot be done.

The auxiliary is now located in the basement of the library building, and is open Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 1:30 to 5 o'clock, and everyone interested in this noble work is invited to visit the room.

SOME RULES FOR SUCCESS IN SUGAR-BEET CULTURE.

By Percy L. Edwards.
[From L. A. Times.]

Southern California possesses conditions of soil and climate ideal for successful beet growing. The largest tonnage per acre, the highest sugar percentage and the highest prices paid the growers for the beets by the factories are the conditions which place California among the best sections in the world for sugar beet production. This statement is backed by facts and figures to be obtained at any of the factories.

Very many unsuccessful growers of beets make their most vital mistake in the selection of land unsuited for this crop in the condition it is found. It may look good and may have produced a good crop of grain or corn. But beets, especially the sugar beet, is a very much different plant to handle.

Sugar beets need moist conditions while in the growing state. This moisture serves the purpose better if found in good supply two to four feet below the surface. The sugar beet grows long and grows down, seeking moisture. Lands that have this moisture stratum are valuable for beet growing. The soils may be sandy loam or clay mixture. But care must be taken that drainage is provided for, so that this land is not flooded by excess of water in the rainy season. Too much water, or water too near the surface, will cause the beets to make several roots, instead of one root penetrating deep into the soil. Sometimes lands located along a stream or irrigation canal may be watered by seepage from the stream. If this moist condition is well below the surface, the land may prove ideal for beets, especially where it has a fair amount of humus in the soil.

Ideal Conditions.

The ideal soils for sugar beets are found along the small mountain streams, where they empty into the Pacific, and in what is called the coastal region. The deltas of the San Gabriel and Santa Ana rivers in Orange county now support five beet sugar factories, with a combined slicing capacity of over 5000 tons daily. This section produces about 500,000 tons of beets annually.

There are thousands of acres of old grain lands in Southern California available for sugar beets and promising rich returns under proper cultivation. Ventura county is one of the oldest and richest sections of the state devoted to sugar beet and lima bean crops. Lands here lie adjacent to the ocean and no irrigation is necessary. Good beet lands may be found all along the coast, north to San Francisco Bay. So far, however, the Union Sugar Company's plant at Betteravia, is the only coast plant between Oxnard and the Bay of San Francisco, excepting the plant at Alameda.

In the San Fernando, San Joaquin and Salinas River Valleys, inland in this part of the state, very successful crops are raised. New sections are being opened at Bakersfield and Tracy in San Joaquin county. Irrigation is necessary to insure good results in these latter sections. But in all the coastal section early planting, so as to get the benefit of the natural moisture, secures the crop.

Plowing for Beets.

The first important operation in preparing the ground for the beet seed is thorough plowing. Ordinary plowing, such as is often done for grain and the Kafir and Egyptian corns, will not do at all. The plow does not go deep enough into the soil to make the proper bed for beet plants. Sugar beets grow down into the ground. This is their nature, and this disposition to burrow deep into the soil gives to the roots the rare sugar quality. Seed should not be put into ground that has not been plowed over six inches deep.

As a rule, all sugar beet land should be summer fallowed and allowed to undergo physical changes to properly fit it for the seed bed. If the nature of the soil will permit, it should be plowed twelve to fourteen inches deep. This, in the deep, sandy loams, will bring to the surface virgin soil, which, under the action of chemicals in the atmosphere, sometimes produces amazing results.

This matter of deep plowing is getting to be more practiced among farmers since the tractor came into such general use, especially on this western coast. Here in the West, where extensive operations have been the rule and where the belief grew that grain crops, which at one time were the chief crops, did not need deep plowing, four to six-inch plowing has sufficed.

A very positive proof of the value of deep plowing is found in the fact that in every case where experiment has been made with a grain crop in rotation with sugar beets, the result has been a very material increase in the grain production. Some results obtained have shown increases from 25 to 30 per cent above the preceding crop of grain, and in some cases the crop yield has been nearly doubled. Older and more experienced beet growers know all this, and it is an item of importance in keeping them producing the crop year after year.

Care should be taken to avoid land showing too much Bermuda grass. If this obnoxious grass is found generally about a field, it is not advisable to make use of it until special treatment has been used to rid the field of the pest. Johnson grass should be removed from the field and burned. Plowing either of these grasses under may not rid the soil of them. Burning before plowing is best in both cases. Care should be taken to thoroughly uproot both. Heavy manuring of the ground which is to be used in the same season in which the crop of sugar beets is to be raised should be avoided.

Preparing Seed Bed.

Where the plowing has left the land lumpy and uneven, a thorough discing will work down the lumps and help to even the surface. The aim should be to get a field so thoroughly pulverized and even on the surface that the seed may be evenly sowed and covered by the drill.

In order to best accomplish this, the field should be thoroughly harrowed and all lumps pulverized. It is sometimes advisable to use a heavy roller to crush lumps and compact the surface. Where the roller is used in soil inclined naturally to pack, a light harrow should be run over the field before seeding.

The drills used are much like the old grain drills, save that they are made especially for planting beet seed. The seed is dropped in rows from twenty to twenty-four inches apart, and a continuous line of seed should be dropped by the drill and covered to the depth of about a half inch. In some soils and under some weather conditions, say when it is very dry, it is advisable to plant an inch deep. Only an experienced beet grower should be allowed to plant beet seed. The drill has to be watched all the time to be sure it is dropping the seed properly. Then the drill must be so run as to properly space the rows, or much confusion may result.

It is important to plant plenty of seed, although most of the plants are later pulled up. From fifteen to twenty pounds of seed to the acre are generally used. The beet sugar companies furnish this seed under their contracts, and it is thoroughly tested before turned over to the grower, to protect him. The seed costs the grower about 20 cents per pound. Most of the seed used is imported. In antebellum days it came from Germany and France, but lately it has come from Russia and Holland. Some domestic seed is also used.

The importance of thorough seeding is that a continuous row of plants may be had at the proper distance apart in the row, when the thinning is done. The reason for a good, full, bunched growth of plants is very easily understood when it is considered that success depends very largely upon the extent to which the field is covered with plants.

Each square yard of soil is capable of bearing nine beets of, say a pound each. There are three beets in each of three rows, about nine inches apart. There are 4840 square yards in an acre. Therefore, if the stand is a perfect one, there will be 43,560 beets, each of a pound weight, making nearly twenty-two tons to the acre. If the beets average one and one-half pounds each, over thirty tons is the result. Weighing two pounds each, the tonnage would be over forty-three per acre. Now, to be sure, a perfect stand of beets is seldom, if ever, obtained. The best the writer has ever seen was twenty-eight tons.

But, let us carry these figures a little further. Notice what results if, through want of care, the grower has not got his seed properly distributed and only five beets, on an average, are growing on each square yard of his field. That makes 24,200 one-pound beets, or twelve tons per acre. These figures illustrate the importance of getting what is called "a good stand." On this condition depends the grower's chance for a successful, that is to say, a profitable crop. And, if his seeding has been carefully done, barring untoward weather conditions, a good stand of plants is most likely to show up for the thinning process.

Early planting, December to February, is safest.

"THE FIGHTING TRAIL"
COMING TO THIS CITY

FIRST SERIAL STORY FOR SOME TIME.

FIRST EPISODE FEBRUARY 10

1000 Persons Said To Have Been Employed In Making Picture; Story To Be Published in News.

"The Fighting Trail," the greatest Vitagraph serial, which will begin its run at the Princess theatre on February 10th, is said to be the most remarkable thing of the kind ever produced. It is a story of mystery, intrigue, love and adventure—with accent on the latter—set in the vast reaches of the American mountains. Of the 32,000 feet of film, which make up the fifteen episodes of the play, only a few feet, it is declared, show interiors. All the rest of it is outdoor photography, and, for this reason, it has been labelled "the first all-outdoor serial ever made."

Most of the scenes were taken in the Yosemite Valley, and other sections of the Sierra Nevadas, and the picture is said to contain some of the finest mountain photography ever registered by the camera. William Duncan, remembered for his splendid work in "Through the Wall," and other big Vitagraph features, directed the picture and played the leading role. The heroine is Carol Holloway. Others in the cast are George Holt, Joe Ryan, one of the greatest riders in the world, and Walter Rodgers.

An unique feature of the big serial is that Miss Holloway is the only woman character in the picture, and, with the exception of a few scenes, the only one who appears in it.

The picture was eight months in the making, and more than 1,000 persons were used in one scene—the burning of a town. For this, a modern town of more than 200 buildings, was built just to have the torch applied to it.

Each episode of the story will appear in the News the Friday preceding the showing of same at the Princess. Make yourself familiar with the story, it will be interesting.

SERGEANT TURNER WRITES FROM CAMP JOHNSTON.

Camp Joseph E. Johnston, Fla., January 17th, 1918.

Dear Friends:

The government keeps me so busy these days that I just can't seem to find time to write. However, I am well and am in hopes this will find you the same.

Because of the rain tonight, I am able to write you a little, as the conditions outside relieve me of some other duties.

My commanding officer gave me a pass over last Sunday so that I might take a trip. I visited Saint Augustine, Florida, in the company of three other soldier friends. It is on the strength of my believing you will be glad to hear of my trip to the oldest city in North or South America that I am writing you this letter.

Leaving our camp at six in the morning, we started on foot for the city electric line, which ends four miles out of our camp. We had expected our train to leave at 7:45, but the schedule had changed, so we got to ride on the Limited, which left town at 9 o'clock. It was the through train to Palm Beach, and so we had to pay extra, but secured splendid chair car seats.

We had only been riding about 40 minutes when we struck a switch with a spread rail and went tearing into the back end of a side-tracked freight. This tore up the track and put the train in such bad condition that it never arrived at Saint Augustine until 4:15 in the afternoon, and so, had we waited to go on into Saint Augustine on that train, we would not have seen a thing.

Saint Augustine lies southeast of Jacksonville, 39 miles, and our wreck happened 17 miles from our point of interest. An auto company of Saint Augustine got word of our wreck and at once sent cars out which carried the passengers on into town.

On the way we had a blow-out, but in spite of cold and trouble, we entered the city limits of the old Spanish town at 1:15 p. m.

The first sight of interest was a spring, where Ponce de Leon thought he had found the fountain of youth. From there we drove through a lane of live oaks, which were several hundred years old. I never saw a drive as beautiful. The road ended at a gate, where we got out of the machine and, paying as we entered, walked in and filled our pockets with Florida tangerines and oranges. Some in our party never had seen oranges growing before.

Driving away from the orange orchard and toward the town, we passed an old Spanish cemetery which is over three hundred years old. The bodies are sealed in stone, because of the water conditions in that country.

Saint Augustine has many relics of early days, among which the entrance and a little of the old stone wall of the city are still standing. These relics brought to my mind the time the Spanish fought behind those walls against the British and also Indians. I also wondered what could have caused the great desire for gold within the Spanish pioneers' hearts, for we know that this is what they sought. I wondered what Ponce de Leon thought about the alligators of those rivers as he sought for his spring which should renew his youth. The spring is full of sulphur water, so he knew he had found something by the smell.

Passing on, we drove through the old Spanish street. This is very, very narrow and is composed of many of the old Spanish stores, which are now over three hundred years old. They have had little repair, and were it not that most of them are made of wood with a covering of cochina, or of stone, they would not be standing today. Those covered with cochina are much the same as our pebble-dash homes of cement. Cochina is found in large beds near the town and is no more than sea shells broken into thousands of pieces by the sea.

Leaving the Spanish main street, we turned to our left and were soon in front of the oldest house in North America. It was built as a chapel for the monks, and is now used to hold old Spanish and American relics. They have but one piece of furniture which belongs with the original outfit of the building, but a local board has collected some of the oldest relics of America and placed them in here. I would like to go into detail on this alone, but I haven't the time. The beds and fireplace were of extra interest to me.

Perhaps, after all is said, the Spanish fort, built by the side of the Saint Johns river, is the most interesting scene of all. The outer wall is eight feet through and covers a space of about one-half square mile. On the side towards the river we find it is only about six feet above the bed of the river, while everywhere else it is about ten feet high. The deposit of silt during the years has caused this. Just inside the first wall are the foundations for the cannon. The fort proper lies behind several other walls and is surrounded by a moat, which one must cross by drawbridge to enter the fort. From the upper wall of the fort is built a watch-tower. The inside of the fort contains rooms much as one would expect to see in constructions of European design. The fort is kept up by Uncle Sam for its historic nature only, and should you ever be in Florida, I would advise you to see Fort Marion, if nothing else.

But everything at Saint Augustine is not three hundred years old or more. Not a bit. There are some of the most beautiful hotels in the world there. One which covers four square blocks, such as the blocks are, and is only run four-months out of twelve. It is far the superior of anything I ever saw, even Hotel Glenwood at Riverside, California. I am told the rooms cost from $15 to $75 a night. Wouldn't it be nice to feel you were rich enough to afford staying in such a place?

Five miles on down the river lies the ocean, and it is reached by electric trolley from Saint Augustine. There, with the ocean lapping the snow-white shore before me, and the sun setting behind, I stood January 13th, 1918, realizing that in the few short months of my service for Uncle Sam I had crossed from ocean to ocean and had a multitude of experiences, and wondering what of good or ill lies in store for us beyond that distant eastern horizon.

Your friend,
FOREST B. TURNER.

WHO BUILT THE STATUE OF LIBERTY?

About the last thing that American troops see when they leave New York is the Statue of Liberty. Its beacon light speeds the departing heroes and will welcome their victorious return. But how many of them know the significance of the goddess who waits eternally at the portal of our land? Perhaps not one in ten thousand knows that the statue stands as a never-ending sign of the bond which exists between the people of the United States and the French republic. The masterpiece of Bartholdi was not placed on Bedloe's island by the citizens of this country, by the American government, or by the City of New York. It was placed there by the people of France. It required twelve years in the making, and every penny of its cost was paid by public subscription among the citizens of France, and it is symbolical of the bond that always has bound us in sympathy to the people of that country. It is a singular coincidence that the guardian of our shores, given in friendly token by the nation which gave us help in an hour of need, should light the departing way of our sons, who are going to make return in kind and will stand shoulder to shoulder with the sons of those who helped make possible the land of the free and the home of the brave—Steamboat Pilot.

Why not have those pictures framed? See samples, Rigdon's Studio.

7:30 p. m.
B. Y. P. U. at 6:30 p. m.
In the morning, Dr. Willett will preach on "The Way Out of Silent Land." The Lord's Supper will be observed at the close of the morning service.
A lecture, entitled, "Beacon Lights from Distant Hills," will be delivered in the Baptist church next Sunday evening by Dr. Willett. This lecture has been highly commended.
A special rally of the young people at 6:30, to be followed by the lecture at 7:30. All are invited.
Dr. Willett plans to give one of his popular lectures on the first Sunday evening of every month, for a few months. He was a familiar figure on the lecture platform before coming to California. The following is from a Michigan paper:

"The lecture in the Baptist church last Friday evening was fairly well attended, yet not so many as were expected. About eight o'clock, the pastor, Rev. A. L. Bell, introduced the speaker, Dr. C. C. Willett of Elkhorn, Wis., to the audience, who introduced his lecture, "Beacon Lights," beginning at the nineteenth century and tracing down the ages till the time of Christ, which was listened to for over one hour with rapt attention. Dr. Willett has a splendid delivery, and proves himself a workman that needeth not to be ashamed. Should Dr.
Willett ever have the privilege of coming this way again, we will guarantee him a full house.—Evert (Mich.)

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE.

WHEREAS, Lulu M. Sands by a Deed of Trust, dated July 13, 1917, recorded in Book 304, Page 337, of Deeds, in the office of the County
Recorder of the County of Orange, California, did grant and convey the premises therein and hereinafter described to the TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, as Trustee, to secure, among other things, the payment of one promissory note, dated July 13, 1917, made by the said Lulu
M. Sands, for the sum of $1500.00, payable one year after its date to the order of Bankers' Bond and Mortgage Company, a corporation, with interest from its date until paid, at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable quarterly, or compounded; and

WHEREAS, default has been made in the payment of said promissory note and a breach has been made in the obligations for which said Deed of Trust is a security, in this, that the interest payment due upon said note on October 13, 1917, was not then paid; that said principal sum and interest thereon from July 13, 1917, is owing and unpaid; and

WHEREAS, said Deed of Trust provides that if default be made in the payment of any of the sums of principal and interest when due, the owner and holder of said note may declare the whole of the principal and interest thereof immediately due and payable and require the said Trustee to sell the property thereby granted; and

WHEREAS, the said Bankers' Bond and Mortgage Company has declared that default has been made as aforesaid and has declared the whole of said principal sum and interest now due and payable, and has demanded that said Trustee shall sell the premises granted by said Deed of Trust to accomplish the objects of the trust therein expressed; and

WHEREAS, said Bankers' Bond and Mortgage Company, beneficiary under said Deed of Trust, did record, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Orange, (being the County wherein the real property covered by said Deed of Trust, and hereinafter described, is situated), a notice of said breach, and of its election to sell or cause to be sold said property to satisfy said obligation, which said notice was recorded on November 14, 1917, in Book 12, Page 15, Miscellaneous
Records of said County;

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that the undersigned, by virtue of the authority in it vested, as Trustee, will sell at public auction to
