

WILSON IN GLENDALE

SAN FERNANDO CANDIDATE GIVES ADDRESS AT MASONIC HALL.

John T. Wilson of San Fernando, who is a candidate for Supervisor in the Fifth Supervisorial district, held a meeting in his interests in Masonic Hall, Glendale, Thursday evening. The attractive features of the meeting were an address of considerable length by Editor Eichholz of the San Fernando Democrat, several vocal solos by a talented young man and a brief talk by Candidate Wilson.

Mr. Eichholz gave a review of the business career of all of the candidates, especially did he emphasize the various business occupations in which our townsman, Stephen C. Packer, has been engaged. He followed him from the time he was a young man in the employ of the Northwestern Railway Company in Michigan, then conducting a coal yard, next serving as treasurer of the county in which he resided, then being elected sheriff of the same county, finally engaging in the lumber business in Michigan and then on account of greater advantages moving to Washington where he engaged in the logging and lumber business, where by his business tact he amassed sufficient wealth to retire from active business and, like many other men of good judgment, came to California and settled in Glendale where he has been financially interested in the construction of a number of dwelling houses and a business block. Mr. Packer's friends, who were present at this meeting, were greatly pleased to hear Mr. Eichholz give this magnificent description of the business career of Mr. Packer. All his remarks tended to assure those present that Stephen C. Packer has been a conservative business man throughout his lifetime. Mr. Eichholz was hardly so kind to Mr. Dodge for he declared he had heard him speak upon two occasions and that he evaded the discussion of the duties pertaining to the office of Supervisor and confined his remarks to trees, giving their Latin names, characteristics, etc. Mr. Dodge was present and smiled very pleasantly to hear what his friend Eichholz had to say about him. Editor Eichholz bore down quite severely on W. A. Roberts, candidate for Supervisor, who he claims has not made good as a member of the Los Angeles City Council, having promised on entering upon his duties as Councilman to cause the reduction of city taxes which pledge he kept by breaking it. He said there was another candidate in Glendale whom he had not met until the evening of the meeting, therefore he knew nothing about him.

Mr. Eichholz is Candidate Wilson's main supporter and believes that Wilson is the man for the place. He says he has been identified with large landed interests and is now in the employ of a syndicate of Los Angeles city and county capitalists; he had always worked for the interests of the owners of the large ranch which he manages. (There is no reason for the average voter to believe but that he would continue to work for their interests if elected Supervisor. This is the greatest objection to his being competent to serve as Supervisor.)

Before leaving the platform Mr. Eichholz introduced Mr. Wilson to the audience. Candidate Wilson is a fine appearing gentleman who has a fairly good command of the English language. He is very emphatic in telling just what he will do if elected Supervisor. From his remarks one would judge that he has sufficient confidence in his own ability that when the new board convenes for organization he will appoint himself chairman of the board, chairman of all committees and will take the responsibility of making all appointments, raising and cutting down salaries, personally oversee all the institutions of the county, keep tab on the elevator boys, keep the lawn mowers sharpened and their operators busy. Mr. Wilson is a well meaning gentleman. He has been able to govern the horses, cattle, hogs and poultry on his ranch, they have answered his call promptly, stepped up to the feeding racks and troughs to get their daily rations. So much accustomed has he become to handling dumb brutes that he forgets that the men and women of Los Angeles county are not included in the class of animals with which he has been dealing. The man who will make a successful Supervisor is the one who has learned to do business with men and not one who has spent his lifetime caring for livestock on a ranch. To do business advantageously with men requires a person who is educated in that science, a man who is honest, a man who understands human nature, not brute nature, a man who is agreeable, and yet firm in advocating what is right.

WANT MEN FOR CROPS

A. H. LANKFORD SAYS PEACHES IN TULARE ARE SPOILED FOR WANT OF PICKERS.

"I was never more astonished in my life," said A. H. Lankford, Glendale's first chief, who has just returned from the Yosemite, "that when, in passing through Tulare county I saw immense quantities of peaches being fed to the pigs. The peach crop in that favored county was not only abundant this year, it was superabundant. At the same time it was not possible for the ranchers to find men to pick and pack the crop. The consequence has been that the immense harvest of peaches has been pulled down in any way and fed to the pigs. I am not aware that peaches make good food for pigs; but that seems to be the only use that can be made of them there."

"All along the road to the Yosemite the country appeared flourishing. The ranchers seem to be putting more and more work on their farms and all the crops appeared healthy and abundant. I and my family went into the Yosemite Valley by way of Raymond, Winona and Madera. In the park itself hundreds of people were camped. The weather was exceedingly fine. There was not a drop of rain all the way. We camped at Camp No. 8, pitching our own tent and buying our own provisions."

"This camp is exactly opposite Camp Curry, in one of the most picturesque parts of the valley. There have been so many descriptions given of the valley and of the wonderful sights to be viewed there that I refrain from saying anything on that point. The valley is all that has been said and written about it. I was struck, however, with the number of bears that were in the habit of coming down to the garbage pits at night. One time I saw five bears there. These creatures are said to be quite tame and I do not doubt that some of them are so much accustomed to the sight of human beings now and are so conscious that they will not be injured that they are comparatively harmless. Nevertheless I think it wise to be careful in dealing with them. I was of that opinion when I saw them in the park and I see since I came home that two men were badly clawed the other day close to Camp Curry."

"Camp Curry, which was opposite Camp Eight, which is merely a spot marked off by the United States, indicating where visitors may pitch their tents, was full of people. It seems to be always busy. People were going and coming all the time. One of the great sights of the week we were there was a wonderful Indian dance. The management of the camp had brought down from the neighborhood of San Francisco a large band of Indians. In full war paint the picturesque aborigines performed some of their curious symbolical dances. They were all interesting and significant of the time when 'wild in wood the noble savage ran.' There must have been 500 spectators at the dance that night."

"The great flume that runs down from the forests to Madera county is quite a sight. The lumber carefully corded together makes the trip in safety and with dispatch and the water that carries it along the flume is used for irrigation purposes all over Madera. There wonderful crops are raised—corn, nine feet and more in height; grapes like those of Ecol, kaffir corn with immense heads, figs, watermelons. In short, the earth brings forth abundantly every manner of green thing, herb, and fruit tree bearing fruit."

RELIEF CORPS RITUAL

Quite a large number of members of different woman's relief corps gathered at Long Beach Wednesday, August 16, to witness the exemplification of relief corps work, given by Long Beach Corps, No. 93. The N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps, No. 67, of Tropic was well represented by Mrs. Sophia Burlingham, Mrs. Jessie Hudson, Mrs. Ada Atkinson, Mrs. Minnie Hough, Mrs. Jennie Phillips, Mrs. Harry Tiffany, Mrs. Susie Peck, Mrs. Winona Crawford, Mrs. Louise Purnell, Mrs. Mayme Pollock, Mrs. Karsell and Mrs. Clara Iman. Other corps present were the Inglewood, Stanton Kenesaw of Los Angeles and Bartlett-Logan of Los Angeles. The department officer, Mrs. Ella Carlin and her staff were also present. The work as exemplified by the Long Beach corps was viewed with interest by the members of the Tropic corps, who were of the opinion that their own exemplification of the ritual is fully equal to that shown on Wednesday.

The members of the different corps enjoyed a very pleasant time. The inspecting officer was Inspector Adelaide Imler of N. P. Banks Relief Corps.

HEADS OF RAILWAY BROTHERHOODS WISH PRESIDENT TO ELIMINATE EXCESSIVE OVERTIME

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18.—President Wilson was asked by the heads of the railway brotherhoods today to modify the proposals to be submitted to the 640 members of the general committee for the railway workers, as a basis for settlement of the dispute. They suggested that the President should fix some new method whereby there would be no excessive overtime, in connection with the 8-hour schedule.

DEUTSCHLAND DUE IN GERMANY TODAY

TEUTON MERCHANT SUBMARINE HAS NOW BEEN OUT FIFTEEN DAYS, FORMER CROSSING TIME

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The German merchant submarine Deutschland, which sailed from Baltimore Aug. 3, has now been out fifteen days, the time occupied by her in crossing from Germany. She is due in some German port today if she has been able to keep to her schedule. A report was received here this morning that the Warren liner Sachem sighted a big submarine off the Grand Banks, Saturday. That would indicate either that the Deutschland has been detained or that the much-talked-of Bremen is off the American coast.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18.—President Wilson vetoed the Army Appropriation bill today. He objected to the provisions of the bill dealing with the status of officers on the retired list. There has been constant strife in many congresses on this point. The bill will ultimately be passed with modifications.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 18.—Hungary is threatened by an early invasion on the part of the Russians, who have at last managed to battle their way through Jablonitza pass and are almost at the region where they can cross over the summit of the range and march down to the Hungarian plains. Considerable dismay reigns in Hungary, where the people have been deceived into thinking the Teutons triumphant.

It is stated that one of the measures proposed is the requirement of a certificate of health for interstate travel. From Chicago comes the news that infantile paralysis is increasing to an alarming extent. Eighty cases were reported in August. The Health authorities declare that it is not epidemic as yet.

OFT CONTESTED VILLAGE ON THE VERDUN FRONT PASSES ONCE MORE OUT OF GERMAN HANDS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Aug. 18.—Powerful attacks delivered by the French troops drove the Germans out of Fleury village, which has now changed hands several times and is nothing but a heap of ruins. It is an important position on the Verdun front. The Germans attach much importance to it and will doubtless attempt to regain it. The French also recaptured Thiaumont.

TRUSTEES MEETING

COUNTY AUDITOR GIVES GLENDALE ASSESSED VALUE OF $5,062,315

The Glendale board of trustees assembled promptly at 7:30 p. m. Thursday evening, August 17. All members were present at roll call. The minutes of the last regular meeting and also of the adjourned meeting of August 11 were read and approved.

On motion of Trustee Crist it was ordered that bids for furnishing cast iron pipe for the public service department be opened, read and publicly declared. The following bids were then opened, read and on motion of Trustee Crist referred to the manager of the public service department for his recommendation:

American Cast Iron and Pipe Co.—Fours, $41.50 per tons. Sixes, eights and twenties, $38.50 per ton.

Specials, $65 per ton, all F. O. B. car, Glendale. Bid accompanied by draft of $1000.

United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry Co.—Fours, 10 tons, $40.60 per ton. Sixes and eights, $37.50 per ton. Twenties, 9228 feet, 807.45 tons, $37.60

Class "B" Specials, 65. The manager of the public service department made a report favoring and recommending the acceptance of the bid of the United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Co., and upon motion of Trustee Woodberry the bid of that company was accepted and the president of the board and the clerk were instructed to sign the contract covering the same.

A communication was read from the League of California Municipalities notifying the trustees that the annual meeting of the league will be held at Visalia October 10-15, 1916, and urging that the city send at least two delegates to the meeting. On motion of Trustee Woodberry the communication was declared read and ordered to be filed.

A communication was read from the Auditor of Los Angeles county, giving a statement of assessed values in the city of Glendale, as made by the county, showing a total valuation for taxation amounting to $5,062,315. On motion of Trustee Muhleman the communication was ordered to be filed.

Mr. Steele, City Attorney of the city of Azusa, addressed the board in regard to the case of that city before the Railroad Commission, in which it is desired to have the commission fix a lower rate for electricity than that which the city is now paying to the power company. Mr. Steele stated that the case is one in which the city of Glendale has an indirect interest as it is probable that the rate fixed in that case by the commission will be the established rate for some time to come. The case is set for September 1 and Mr. Steele expressed the hope that the municipality he represented would receive support in sustaining the contention for a lower rate before the commission, from Glendale and other cities similarly situated as to the purchase of power. On motion of Trustee Grist the matter was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

A committee was present from the Chamber of Commerce and on its behalf the board was addressed by Mr. C. L. Chandler, who made a plea for the continuation of the financial support of that body by the board, for the year that is now beginning. Another member of the committee, Mr. Dudley, assistant secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, spoke in favor of liberal assistance to the chamber on behalf of the city, stating the good results which had been secured in other cities through the efforts of similar associations. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the matter was referred to the Finance Committee to be taken up by that committee with a committee from the Chamber of Commerce and report back to the board.

The manager of the public service department presented the contract with the United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Co., which was signed by the president of the board and the City Clerk on behalf of the city, and on motion of Trustee Grist the contract was approved and ratified.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman the City Manager was instructed to take up with the manager of the Montrose Railway Company the matter of the condition of Canada boulevard and of Third street, owing to the delay of that company in making the change in its tracks after the streets have been torn up for the work.

The City Attorney stated that he desired to be absent from the city for four or five weeks after the next meeting of the board and requested

LIBRARY STUDY HOUR

MRS. DANFORD SPEAKS TO CHILDREN ON VALUE OF NATURE STUDY

There was a large attendance at the library study hour for children Wednesday when Mrs. Danford, the librarian, gave a most interesting talk on the value of nature study to the assemblage of seventy-five children who took advantage of the hour to learn something new. The librarian informed her youthful auditors that one of the greatest assets a child could have throughout life was a knowledge of what is going on about them in the world of nature. She told them of the beautiful life that John Muir had lived in California and how he had made so many parts of the State familiar to people who had never heard of them and who might otherwise have remained in ignorance of the beauty that lies at their doors.

Such, for instance, was his introduction to the public of the Grand Canyon of the Tuolumne, where, in his own words, the river slanting sharply, becomes "one wild, exulting, onrushing mass of snowy purple bloom spreading over glacial waves of granite without any definite channel, gliding in magnificent silver plumes, dashing, foaming, through huge boulder dams, leaping high in the air in wheel-like whirls, displaying glorious enthusiasm, tossing from side to side, doubling, glinting, singing in exuberance of mountain energy."

The librarian told of the work of John Burroughs; of his love for nature, of his kindness to the animals of the wild and his passionate love for all things which God had made. She told them of how much better it is to take pictures of wild animals, with a camera, than to shoot them. She spoke of the great work done by Mrs. Olive Thorne Miller in nature study and of Mrs. Wheelock, who is such an authority on the birds of California.

Round Glendale the librarian said there lies a region rich in botanical and natural history study. The fields are full of wild flowers of the most interesting kind; the countryside is resonant with the songs of different varieties of birds, many of them native to California and the Sierras in the background afford a region where the study of nature in her grandest phases may be easily pursued.

The children were deeply interested in the subject of the day and many of them immediately began a search of catalogues for reading matter on the various topics touched on by the speaker.

BIRTHDAY LAWN FETE

Miss Tessa Bott of 1632 W. Broadway attained the age of 20 years Wednesday, August 16. To celebrate the occasion her sister, Miss Helen Bott, gave a lawn fete, which was attended by thirty-four of their young friends of both sexes. The spacious lawn at the Bott residence was tastefully decorated with rows of Japanese lanterns and a large electric lamp in the center of the lawn made the pleasing scene as bright as noontime. Games were played and music enlivened the evening. At the close the many beautiful presents received by Miss Tessa were shown to the guests and ice cream and cake brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

The following guests were present: The Misses Marcella Orth, Helen Powell, Lulu Powell, Mary Kendall, Ruth Spafford, Eva Gould, Helen Gould, Marjorie Singleton, Ellen Burg, Harriet Purcell, Lucille Woods, Rilla V. Aird, Tessa Bott, Mrs. Esther Leeds, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Burg and Mrs. Bott.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Saturday; warmer; westerly winds.

that Mr. Mattison B. Jones be allowed to represent him during his absence, in attendance at meetings of the board and in other capacities as City Attorney. On motion of Trustee Grist the request was granted.

The Finance Committee reported back the following demands approved and warrants were ordered to be issued, all on public service fund:

PROGRESS OF THE WAR.

Looking on the battlefields of Europe with a dispassionate understanding it is easy to see that there is a vast difference between the situation at this moment and that which prevailed a year ago. A year ago was the period of construction for the allies. They had to make up in munitions manufacture all that the Germans had done in forty years of preparation. That was a gigantic task and that they have accomplished it is only now beginning to be manifest.

The French were in as poor a state of preparation at the beginning of the war as were their allies, the British and the Russians. Had it not been for the British fleet the Teuton plans stood an excellent chance of success. Now the advantage is on the side of the allies. The French are fighting with an abandon and an ecstasy that surpasses even their wonderful feats under the profound military genius, Napoleon.

As to the British their new army of 5,000,000 men is being warmed up to its work in such fashion as shows that the ancient fighting spirit is a strong as ever. The situation on the plains of Picardy is critical. The French and the British are pressing on day after day and taking villages which during the past two years have been fortified by the Germans with their usual skill until each house is a fort bristling with machine guns and each outhouse and shed a veritable arsenal. As far as mathematical certainty goes the Teuton has calculated well but mathematical truth and psychological truth are two different things. The forts "impossible to be taken" have been taken and so the contest goes on and will go on until something breaks somewhere.

The Italians are pressing on toward Trieste, whither, it is asserted, the Germans have promised to send troops in order to replace the Austrians with the experienced fighters of the Kaiser. This will be quite a significant matter, should it be done. Up to this point Italy has not declared war against Germany, nor Germany against Italy. There have been no hostile acts between these two nations. It will be remembered that Italy was one of the "dreibund" the triple alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy, and went into the war against Austria alone. Events however may prove stronger than kingly desire and Italy may be forced to declare war against Germany.

It is said that King Victor-Immanuel was let in on the ground floor in the financing of the Krupp iron works and has cleared millions by the deal. Much of this money, if not all, would be sacrificed were the two countries to go to war. Exigencies of the war, however, may bring about a rupture between the two former friends.

Russia is gradually closing the net on Lemberg, although the Germans in considerable force are striving to hold them back. The armies of Brussiloff, Sakharoff and Letchizky are not to be denied. Their fresh troops amply supplied with ammunition are pressing the Teuton forces on all sides and it is not unlikely that before two weeks are over the capital of Galicia will be in Russian hands. That would be a severe blow to the Teutons. It would mean the loss of the Galician harvest in part and the loss of the great Galician oil and gasoline supply. Meantime winter is close at hand and the fighting may be closed down practically until another spring.

VALUE IN CALIFORNIA COTTON.

It is safe to say that there will be more cotton grown in California next year than there ever has been. Two years ago the entire product of the State of California amounted to 28,550 bales. This year the production mounted to 104,000 bales. That is a remarkable advance. California has climates that are admirably suited to the growing of cotton and the crop will probably be doubled next year.

Now that it has been discovered that California is capable of producing cotton not only as good as that of the South but even better, the demand for that product will increase. There is no rain to discolor the crop and it is coming into great favor and brings a higher price than other cotton. It was fortunate for those who grew cotton in California this year that the price had been maintained so well. It will be remembered that at the beginning of the war there was almost a panic among growers who feared that cotton being contraband of war there would be no possibility of sale. However the British government came to the rescue of the growers and went into the market for cotton and offered to buy 5,000,000 bales.

That saved the situation for the growers. The planter was assured of not less than 8 1-2 cents. Cotton was then declared contraband of war and British agents came into the United States with unlimited authority to buy. That averted a panic. It was not generally known that the British government was thus strengthening the market and the consequence was that cotton maintained its price in the open market. Speculators were amazed. They had calculated on buying in the crop at a price ruinous to the planters.

Immediately after the British government gave these orders cotton began to rise. It went up one cent the first week. Within a month it was up 3 1-2 cents. So the planters received $60,000,000 more for the crop in 1915 than they had received in normal times. This has been a great boon to the South and the ranchers of Imperial Valley are sorry now that they did not put more acreage in cotton.

This action of the British government is still producing its effect on the market. The 1916 crop will be able to sell itself, it is believed. There will be no need for British aid this year, it is hoped. The market is firm at present and has every indication of continuing so. Of course, there may be attempts to run the British blockade with cotton to Germany, the British agents are in this country to purchase at reasonable rates. This takes away the element of risk from the cotton business and satisfies the growers.

There are, of course, a few unscrupulous speculators who would like to take the chance of running the blockade and getting a cargo

There were two misstatements in the recent article regarding the Pacific avenue improvement which this correspondent regrets as it is the aim to record events accurately. One is in regard to the portion of the walk between Ivy and Broadway, the statement that it was 4 feet instead of 5 feet wide being made on the authority of a workman. The other was in regard to the first portion of the walk south of Vine not being on the property line, it having this appearance because of the fact that the flowered borders are set back a foot or more from the front. The queer appearance of the three sections of walk in not lining up, the center part being in the middle of the parkway, was mentioned merely as a regrettable necessity and with no intention of blaming anyone for this unfortunate appearance. We wish to reiterate our statement as to the uniform courtesy and obligingness of the contractors, they leaving each section of the street open for travel as long as possible and timing their work so as to minimize as far as possible the discomfort caused by the flying clouds of dust. All requests of property owners for information were listened to with the utmost courtesy. It is certainly unfortunate that, owing to faulty previous work, that several concrete corners had to be broken up and relaid at somebody's expense, whose, is not yet determined.

of cotton to Germany where it would fetch war prices. The chances of getting in, however, are very small. The British have captured nearly every ship that has attempted to carry cotton to Germany; just as the North used to capture the cotton ships of the South during the Civil War.

Every bale of cotton seized by the British has been paid for and no shipper has lost money except possibly on cotton for which he would have received an exorbitant profit if he had gotten it to Germany instead of its having been seized by the British. Every bale thus seized has been sold to spinners and not a single bale remains in storage. California has a fine new field before her in the cotton business.

JOHNSON MEETING

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Glendale High School auditorium there will be a big political meeting in the interest of Gov. Johnson for the United States Senate and Assembly. Harry A. Wishard for re-election to the Assembly. Gov. A. J. Wallace, Attorney Joseph Scott, Lieut.-Gov. Stephens and Assemblyman Harry A. Wishard will be the speakers.

PAINTER OF "NOCTURNES"

Mr. Arnold W. Stoton, an English artist, who has been residing at La Jolla for some months, making pictures of the wonderful coast scenery there, was a visitor in Glendale Friday, when he was the guest of Mrs. Whitaker, 208 West Ninth street. Mr. Stoton, who has traveled all around the world with his pastel art, is now on a walking tour to British Columbia. He will take three months to the trip and will make pastel pictures of the various places of interest on the road. He is a specialist in "nocturnes," pictures painted at night. He has a wonderful collection of these night scenes, which was exhibited in Los Angeles last summer. After leaving Glendale on Saturday morning Mr. Stoton walked to San Fernando where he painted a beautiful picture of the old mission by moonlight and sent it to his hostess, Mrs. Whitaker.

Mrs. Bunkerhill—"Have you read Scott's novels?"

Miss Slacker—"All but his 'Emulsion.' I have seen it advertised, but I have never been able to get a copy."

TO WORK FOR BOOTH

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at the home of Mrs. G. Phillips and Miss Eva Daniels, 1424 Colorado boulevard, Thursday, August 17, at 3 p.m. The large residence was filled with an audience of ladies who listened with much interest to expositions of the political situation and the merits and qualifications of Willis H. Booth for the position of United States Senator. The purpose of the meeting was to form a club to further Mr. Booth's candidature.

Mrs. George Woodberry acted as chairman. The first speaker was Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, a prominent club woman of Los Angeles. She spoke of the clean record Mr. Booth could show and of the integrity of his life. This integrity, she said, had never been questioned even by the most strenuous of his opponents. As a man of affairs Mr. Booth had been appointed to represent the United States in a trip through the Orient for the purpose of ascertaining business conditions there and making recommendations as to American business policy in the Far East. She spoke highly of his humanitarian spirit, which had been manifested in good works of all kinds. She referred to kind and liberal treatment of his employees at the Hotpoint factory at Ontario; to his connection with the Security Savings Bank. Mr. Booth, she said, was a supporter of all measures for the emancipation of women and had always been consistent in his advocacy of such measures.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell spoke of the excellent service rendered by Willis H. Booth to the city of Los Angeles by his work on the committee that went to Washington, D. C., in behalf of the Los Angeles Harbor bill and also of the work he accomplished in securing the passage of legislation for benefiting the desert lands of the State. She said that few men in public life could show the clean record that Mr. Booth possessed. He had always stood for what was right. He believed in the strict regulation of child labor and was a strong advocate of a Federal measure for universal suffrage.

Dr. Russell said that Mr. Booth had never been a candidate for State office until now. He had been president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Pacific Coast Chamber of Commerce. He was a man of broad vision and ever loyal to Southern California. The hold-over Senator from California, James D. Phelan, is a Northern California man and represents the interests around San Francisco. The southern part of the State, she said, needs a representative on the Senate of the United States and no better man could be put forward than Willis H. Booth. Dr. Russell insisted on the importance of all voters voting at the primaries. The great battle would be fought there and if a man did not get on the final ticket he was defeated.

The club then outlined precinct work for the polling of the vote, August 29. Miss Daniels and Mrs. Phillips, assisted by Mrs. Salo Desky, served delicious punch and the meeting broke up enthusiastic over the prospects of the candidate. The following officials of the Willis H. Booth Club were elected:

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president; Dr. Jessie A. Russell, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, Mrs. George Woodberry and Mrs. Mabel Tight, vice-presidents; Miss Eva Daniels, recording secretary and Miss Anna Woodberry, corresponding secretary.

BY AUTO TO IOWA

E. R. Naudain of the Glendale Electric Company received a letter this week from his father, W. E. Naudain of Algona, Iowa, stating that he and the rest of his family, who had accompanied him, by auto to their old home, had made the trip in safety and had enjoyed every moment of the journey. Mr. and Mrs. Naudain, with their two sons, left Glendale recently, in their Mitchell automobile, to make the journey to Iowa. They carried a full camping outfit and thus were able to enjoy the various points of scenic interest on the way.

They spent two days in the Grand Canyon, two days among the big trees and two days at Omaha, Neb. In spite of these stops they were able to make the trip in fifteen days, without undue haste. At times the weather was very hot; but on the whole they found this the most pleasant manner of traveling. The Naudains intend to dispose of their property in the East and to return to Glendale in the spring, when V. V. Naudain will take up his work with the Glendale Electric Company.

FOR RETIRING PASTOR

The Rev. E. E. Francis is just completing a pastorate of nearly three years of the Central Christian Church of Glendale and the members of his church and other friends are planning a farewell social in his honor for this evening at the church. A program has been arranged and there will be a social hour in which all will have the opportunity to express their appreciation of the retiring pastor and their regret that he is seeking other fields. Rev. Francis has labored well in this vineyard and he leaves the church in a state of material and spiritual prosperity. Those in charge are expecting a large number of the members of the church and their friends to be present this evening.

The boys entered into the spirit of the camp and soon after lunch were busily engaged in signal, first aid and general scout practice.

During the afternoon camp was visited by one of the park commissioners of Pasadena, who left orders to give us anything we wanted. And never have we experienced such a royal welcome as Pasadena has given us. Mr. West, superintendent of park, and his wife have certainly been nice to us and put themselves out to get things for us. He even had a new furnace built at camp, provided a mess-table, fuel, lights, water, hose, etc.

Last night at camp fire Chairman Hamilton of Pasadena, commissioners, wives and about twenty-five friends visited camp and were greatly interested in the work.

If You Live In a Community

If you have children to educate, if you are interested in local social or religious affairs—if you own or expect to own a home or property in your home town it is to your interest to patronize your local stores and home institutions at all times, provided investigation proves that you can do so to as good advantage as elsewhere. A community is built up from within as well as from without. If Glendale would succeed and grow the citizens will have to boost and co-operate for the good of the town.

THE BENEFICENT BAT

We know now that typhoid, malaria, yellow fever, and all sorts of dreadful maladies are borne about by the mosquitoes and the flies. Without such virus-carriers these deadly pests would die out. And of all the creatures in the woods there is none that does more noble work for man than the skimming, fur-clad bat. Perhaps he kills a thousand insects in a night. All of these are possible plague-bearers. Some of them are surely infected, and carry in their tiny, baleful bodies the power to desolate a human home. Yes, every time a bat scoops up a flying bug it deals a telling blow at mankind's foes. There is no creature, winged or walking, in the woods, that should be better prized, protected, blessed than this, the harmless, beautiful, beneficial bat. —Scribner's Magazine.

GOLD ALONG SNAKE RIVER

For many years gold has been known to exist in the valley of Snake River, particularly in the part of it that passes through southern Idaho. As early as 1862 prospectors are reported to have extracted gold from gravels in Jackson Hole. It occurs at many places both on the present river bars and on terraces along the river representing ancient levels of the water, but it does not occur in quantity so great as to support large operations with marked financial success, though some miners have made a small amount of money. Probably the most extensive workings were in southern Idaho, in the vicinity of Rupert, Minidoka, and American Falls.

Most of the gold is in very small flakes having an average fineness of .945. About $149,000 has been produced since 1902, the earliest date for which records are available. A little platinum occurs with the gold but not in commercial quantities. Many dredges and "process" machines have been tried on Snake River, most of them depending on amalgamation for the recovery of the gold, but the sluice and rocker, the sluice supplemented by burlap tables, have proved the most successful.

COAL IN CALIFORNIA

The records of the State Mining Bureau of California show a production of coal in California as early as 1861. At that time it was one of the 16 coal-producing States and, relatively, of some importance as a coal producer. During the later part of that decade and throughout the following decade the coal production of California exceeded 100,000 tons annually and reached a maximum of 236,950 tons in 1880. Since 1881 the production has been irregular, having been influenced chiefly, up to the beginning of the present century, by the imports of Australian and British Columbian coals, the receipts of Australian coals depending principally upon the wheat production and shipments from the Pacific Coast. Since 1900, however, according to the United States Geological Survey, with the great increase in the production and use of petroleum which began in that year, coal production in California has fallen off.

HOME-MADE MAGAZINE RACKS FOR WICKER CHAIRS

It was an ingenious woman who recently equipped the arms of her wicker chairs with magazine racks of home manufacture. Several of her big porch chairs had the side pockets and these proved to be so convenient that she wished that she had not gotten any chairs without them. Then it occurred to her to add magazine pockets herself. She went to the commercial stationery department of a large store and bought several wicker desk baskets intended to hold papers in business offices. She carefully cut out the wicker of the long sides of this basket and sandpapered the cut edges smooth. The open top of the basket was then placed against the outside of the right hand arm of the chair, bound in place with several wrappings of basket reed left from some reed basketry she had been working at. The long side which she had cut away formed the opening of a strong pocket which easily held a couple of magazines and a newspaper or so. The expense was slight and the improvement great.

A LONG WAY TO SCHOOL

Would you walk a twenty-two days' journey to get to school? This is what two Chinese boys did, and their way led through roads infested by robbers, so that the boys were afraid to bring either money or extra clothing. The distances in China are measured in terms of time, and twenty-two days' walking must represent a long, long way. But the new pupils felt well repaid for their exertions, and they will soon take the long walk back to their native village where they will be regarded by their untraveled companions with wonder and admiration.—Selected.

HOLLAND'S TULIP FIELDS

In describing the tulip fields of Holland, a correspondent of the London Times recently wrote: "From Bloemendahl (which in Dutch means the valley of flowers), near Haarlem, to Leyden, about twenty miles as the crow flies, the road runs through fields of tulips and hyacinths in flower, to the colors of which the sunshine and the clear atmosphere of Holland impart a peculiar brilliance. It is often said, and not without truth, that the sight of acres of flowers in parallel lines, raised for commercial purposes, is lacking in the peculiar poetical quality which is the greatest charm of the well-ordered garden. One must take the flower fields of Holland, however, as they are, and no one with an eye for color can look upon them without enthusiasm. Nor can anyone who loves flowers fail to respond to their appeal when seen in the mass, as they are here, for they have a collective and imposing beauty, due to the perfection of the individual blooms. And even the least imaginative cannot but feel the peculiar sense of satisfaction at having been privileged to look, as it were, for once into the great storehouse of bulbs of the world."

THE SCRAP BAG COUCH CUSHION

"Tommy, bring mother that yellow pillow from the porch swing, will you?" called a mother who sat mending by an open window and chatting with a neighbor who had stepped in.

Tommy came trotting in with the fat pillow clasped in his round arms, accepted his mother's grateful kiss, but wiped it promptly off on the back of his hand and trotted back to play again. The neighbor looked interestedly on as the mother unfastened several snappers that held one end of the pillow cover together, drew from within a large supply of scraps of every color, size and material, and began searching for a piece to match Tommy's rompers, which had given way at the knee.

"What in the world?" she wondered.

The mother laughed. "Why, you see," she explained, "some one gave me this pretty linen cover as a 'bread-and-butter' gift lately but neglected to give me any cushion for it, and I didn't have an extra one in the house. I didn't want to go to the unexpected expense of buying one just then, so I simply bundled the contents of my old faded scrap bag into it, put snappers on, and it makes a nice soft pillow. It gets the old bag of scraps out of the corner of the closet, where it took up room that I needed for other things—so you see the scheme worked both ways. Soft cloth pieces make just as good a pillow stuffing as do feathers or hair. Now I can use my pretty yellow cover in my golden brown swing instead of putting it away in a drawer to await a pillow its size."

A BIRD'S CLEVERNESS

The game of cheating the sportsman by pretending to be dead is played by many animals. Akin to it is the pretence of the partridge that her leg or wing has been broken, by which device she entices the intruder to pursue her, and thus secures time for her young brood to take cover under leaves and ferns.

A naturalist had been searching for the eggs of the little dunlin, in Siberia, and came upon a nest. The bird quietly slipped off and began to walk around the man, now and then pecking on the ground as if feeding, seldom going more than six feet from him, and often approaching within eighteen inches. The tameness of the bird was almost ludicrous. She seemed so extremely tame that the man almost thought for a moment that he could catch her, and, getting on all fours, he crept quietly toward. As soon as he began to move from the nest the bird's manner entirely changed. She shuffled along the ground as if lame. She dropped her wings, as if unable to fly, and occasionally rested on her breast with drooping wings as if dying. Finally, when she eluded him and darted into the undergrowth, he found he had lost the location of the nest.—Selected.

SCHOOLS FOR DEPARTMENT STORES

Department-store salesmanship is a study which is taught at the summer school of New York University for the purpose of providing teachers capable of instructing students. The Dean of the University has received applications from large stores throughout the country for such teachers. The proprietors say that they believe their profits will be increased by having saleswomen who have been taught to know the goods they are handling, not superficially, but thoroughly.

To provide such teachers, of course, requires a broad education, not only as to materials and various lines of goods, but also in the art of handling people. An organization known as the Department Store Salesmanship Association of New York City is co-operating with the summer school in making the course a success.

A SAND-SONG

Gulls are flying, one, two, three, Silently and heavily, Heavily as winged lead, Through the sultry air over my languid head.

Whence they come, or whither they flee, They, nor I, can tell; I see On the bright brown sand I tread Only the black shadows of their wings outspread. Ha! a feather fluttering! Falls down at my feet for me! It shall serve my turn, instead Of an eagle's quill, till all my songs be read.

—Ferdinand Freiligrath.

RETURN OF TAM O'SHANTER.

The windows are full, and presently our streets will probably be, of saucy Tam O'Shanter's, in every material and color appropriate for fall. They are especially intended for young girls, on whom they are always pretty and becoming. For the most part they are of velvet, held up slightly at one side by a bit of stiffness and drooping in fullness over the other ear. Some of silk are seen, also, one of deep green being especially noticed. For school wear for the girl, and sport wear for the young women, they bid fair to be popular and attractive.

PRIMARIES
 AUGUST 29, 1916

We meet with many surprises as we journey through life. An Irishman traveling in this country was walking in a park in New York, and seeing a parrot, said to his friend, "What a pretty bird! I would like to catch it." His friend: "No, don't; let it alone." The Irishman, not heeding the request, began climbing the tree; and when he reached the limb the parrot was on the bird said, "Well, what is it?" Excuse me, sir!" exclaimed Pat. "I thought you were a bird."—Exchange.
