

A LOCAL FACTORY

IT IS PRODUCING CHEMICALS WHICH WERE FORMERLY IMPORTED FROM GERMANY

An interesting business development which was brought about by war conditions is furnished by the operations of the Western Aniline Products Company, which for several months has been carrying on a manufacturing business in the structure known as the "old piano factory" on the line of the Southern Pacific Railroad in the rear of property at about 521 San Fernando boulevard in the Tropic District. The building, which is a substantial concrete structure, belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Salyer of this city and was leased to the company mentioned several months ago with an option to purchase. The story of the business as told by Mr. Salyer runs something like this:

The manager of the company, Hugo Frederick, was in the employ of D. W. Griffith, the big photo-playwright, who came near falling down on the production of his great film "Intolerance" on account of shortage of chemicals used in photographic processes which had been imported from Germany. Mr. Frederick rose to the emergency and said: "I can get out that stuff for you."

"Go to it," said Mr. Griffith, rising to the bait, "but you must have it out on time." Mr. Frederick at once got busy organizing his company, secured the building referred to, installed the machinery and got out the goods, which if not exactly the same combination which had been used, was a satisfactory substitute. Since the first of the year he has been giving his attention wholly to this manufacturing instead of the work he was doing at the Griffith Studio. It is said that Mr. Griffith has an interest in the plant and that a partner in the business is a Mr. Woods who is connected with another chemical company.

Besides turning out chemicals for use in the preparation of films, the concern is making disinfectant chemicals for the government for hospital use. The business has enlarged entirely beyond the expectations of its founders and is still in process of evolution.

HIGH SCHOOL P.-T. A.

Rain reduced somewhat the audience at the meeting of the High School P.-T. A. which was held Monday evening. This was unfortunate because the address by Mr. McMath of the University of Southern California was most interesting. His theme was the effect of war on education. He expressed the conviction that it will greatly modify our curriculums. "We have been giving a great deal of cultural education when the students have been longing for the practical and needing the practical," he declared, "and these times will teach us that we must put the emphasis on the practical side of education and let the theory go along with it." If we will follow this policy he is convinced we will be able to keep restless pupils in school longer and gradually work them up to an appreciation of the cultural side.

There will be but one more meeting of the High School P.-T. A. this year and that will be held on the first Monday in May. It will be an important meeting and parents and teachers are asked to keep the date in mind.

GETTING TOGETHER

The regular meeting of the Ceritos avenue Parent-Teacher Association will be Friday April 5th at the school, near Brand and San Fernando boulevard. Parliamentary Law Usage, 2:30; Girls' Glee Club, 3:15; Speaker, 3:30.

Mrs. Harry Greenwalt will have for the lesson, the nomination and election of officers, as next month the election takes place.

Miss Marguerite Wetherby, the music instructor of the Glendale Grammar Schools, will lead thirty girls' voices in a group of songs.

The singing will be in the hall so all the children may enjoy it.

Mrs. Jessica C. Hazard, formerly of the Los Angeles Normal, but now in the service of the United States Government, will speak on the ways we can benefit ourselves in home and garden, both physically and financially. Everybody welcome. Our Prayer:

Lord, give the mothers of the world More love to do their part. The love that reaches not alone The children made by birth their own, But every childish heart. Wake in their souls true motherhood That aims at universal good.

NAVY OFFICIAL WRITES IN ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RECEIPT OF BINOCULARS

The following letter of appreciation addressed to M. B. Hartmann of this city, in acknowledgment of his response to the call for binoculars, telescopes and spy-glasses, is highly prized by him and will be of great interest to our readers.

Navy Department
Assistant Secretary's Office
Washington
March 28, 1918.

Mr. M. B. Hartmann,
Glendale, Cal.

Dear Sir:
Your prompt and patriotic response to the navy's call for binoculars, telescopes and spy glasses is most appreciated. The glasses will be very useful in the prosecution of Naval Operations until victory is won.

At the termination of the war, if possible, every effort will be made to return them to you, when it is hoped that you will feel compensated for any evidence of wear, by the knowledge that you supplied "Eyes for the Navy" during a very trying period.

On behalf of the navy I wish to thank you most heartily.

Very respectfully,
F. D. ROOSEVELT,

Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Vice-Chairman Lawshe and Mrs. Ballou of the Glendale Commercial School have put in three very busy weeks in preparation of the card indexes of Glendale citizenship in connection with the coming liberty loan campaign. These cards are now in such shape that they show the subscriptions of each individual to the Red Cross and to the liberty loans in so far as they are known to the committee. Mr. Lawshe has also been assisted in this work by students in Miss Vesey's Commercial School and by pupils of the High School. There are 4000 of these cards made out in duplicate (8000 in all), which will be used by the canvassers who are being assigned to the different districts and who will cover every part of the city including Tropic and Casa Verdugo. In this connection Mr. Lawshe announces that every member of the soliciting committee is expected to be present at the meeting to be held at Red Cross headquarters on Brand boulevard Saturday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of receiving the card indexes and final verbal instructions for carrying on the work.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

During the Easter vacation a new inclined floor was laid over the old floor in the room at the rear of the main assembly hall in the high school. It was built at the same pitch, of course, as the floor of the main auditorium and is a great advantage both for seeing and hearing. Any time it is necessary to use the room for classes, the new floor can be removed.

The preliminary or class tryouts for the Oratorical Contest will be held next week and the final contest will be held April 26th. Whoever wins then will become the representative of the school in the meet between the Suburban and the City Section. If Glendale Union High's orator wins, then he or she will appear in the Southern California Section. Frank Balthis, who represented the school in the final contest last year, will preside over this year's contest.

The Senior Class has begun work on its class play, which will be given about the middle of April. It is entitled "Green Stockings."

The baseball season opened yesterday at Union High School with a special game in which the home team played against the team of Company 9, Coast Artillery, which came up from Camp MacArthur and met the boys on the local campus at 4 o'clock. It was a hotly contested game and lasted until close about six o'clock. When it ended the score stood 13 to 9 in favor of the soldier boys.

The first regular league game will take place Friday afternoon, when Union High boys will play the team of Franklin High.

ROBERTS SELL HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Archer of Stoups Falls, S. D., who have been spending the winter with relatives in Southern California, have purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts at 707 West Seventh street and will make their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are moving to 575 Colorado boulevard, where they will reside while they are building a new home on Seventh street.

AMERICA'S DATE LANDS

PROF. HARRY HOWE GIVES INTERESTING INFORMATION ON COACHELLA VALLEY

Prof. Harry Howe, who returned from the Coachella Valley Saturday night, where he has about one hundred acres, says the country is looking splendid. He is enthusiastic about the valley, which he declares produces better dates than any other part of the world. He went down to superintend the installation of an irrigation system for his five-acre date plantation. There is an abundance of water to be had there, he says, his own well being about 280 feet deep. As the rainfall is only about two inches, irrigation is necessary. The very fact that the Coachella is the driest spot in the United States, dryer even than the Imperial Valley, makes the ideal condition for date production. The water will be applied in furrows, the same as on orange plantations.

The desert or Teppary bean is another profitable crop which thrives in the valley. It finds an immediate sale and brings 8 cents per pound wholesale at the field, the average yield being about one ton per acre. This bean can be grown almost anywhere in California, but is especially adapted to this particular valley because of desert conditions. As soon as the High School closes Prof. Howe will go down and put in his crop of beans, the best planting time for the fall crop (the most profitable crop) being in June and July.

The valley is also a great place, he says, for early table grapes which come into market the last of June and the first of July. It is marvelous, too, for figs, but the date industry, in his opinion, is going to be the most lucrative proposition because of the limited area in which dates can be grown and because the demand is outstripping production. Land down there is still to be had at moderate prices, $75 to $100 an acre, and a single crop of beans will sometimes pay for the land. As before stated, the climate is very hot and dry and therefore not ideal as a place to live, but its drawbacks in that direction are what make it par excellent for dates. It is likewise a great onion country.

WOMEN ORGANIZE

A meeting of the Executive Board of the Glendale Women's Liberty Loan Drive will be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of its chairman, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Orange and First streets. The Executive Board has been made up of the following women:

Chairman, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones. Vice-Chairmen
In Charge of District Workers, Mrs. C. E. Harlan.

Schools and P.-T. A., Mrs. Adelaide Imler.

Federated Clubs, Mrs. W. W. Ramsay.

Churches Auxillary and Ladies Aids, Mrs. T. W. Preston.

P. E. O. and Eastern Star, Mrs. A. W. Tower.

W. C. T. U., Mrs. Ruby Smart.

Red Cross and D. A. R., Mrs. Mabel Ocker.

British Ambulance and Relief Corps, Mrs. Helen I. Campbell.

Secretary, Miss Eva Daniels.

The captains and committees are being appointed and a complete regime of forceful workers will soon be ready to handle the situation with thoroughness. The women of Glendale, already heard of on the outside because of their staunch support in all matters, will in all probability in this great drive outdo themselves.

QUEEN ESTHER CIRCLE

The Queen Esther Circle of the First M. E. Church held their monthly business meeting Tuesday, April 2nd, at the home of Miss Margaret Lusby. The president, Miss Jessie Shepard, was in charge of the meeting.

Definite plans were made for the Queen Esther pantomime to be given at the First M. E. Church Friday evening, April 12th. With the proceeds they will meet their pledge to the missionary work of educating the children in the homes for Spanish, Chinese and Japanese supported by the W. H. M. Societies of Southern California.

At 6 o'clock a delicious cafeteria dinner was served by Mrs. C. D. Lusby assisted by Margaret. The evening was spent singing together and playing games. Those present were Misses Leone Shattuck, Jessie Shepard, Helen Reynolds, Marie Oliver, Gladys Harding, Eltha Harding, Helen Ingledue, Hazel Wilson, Zelma Lindley, Freda Lindley, Madeline Love, Ilene Rettig, Mrs. Jack Wagner, the superintendent, and the hostess.

PALACE GRAND OPENING

SPECIAL MARY PICKFORD PLAY CELEBRATES COMPLETION OF NEW LOGE

In the splendid special program which has been arranged to celebrate the opening today of the new loge section of the Palace Grand Theatre in this city, and of various other improvements which have been made in the auditorium, including an enlarged orchestra pit, the management very wisely selected that idol of all lovers of the movie drama, Mary Pickford, as the star of the picture play which should feature this great occasion. It would be hard to find a critic so captious as to discover flaws in the work of this actress, who seems to have easily accomplished the unusual feat of winning the hearts of all her theatrical associates as well as those of the theatre-going public.

Her vehicle in this instance will be "Amarilly of Clothesline Alley," a sweet, homey drama which makes a universal appeal and which entertains young and old. It is especially adapted to the charming personality of Mary Pickford, and as a play was a great success on the stage of the spoken drama before it was translated into pictures. It is one of the new films not easily obtained, and the Jensen Company is to be congratulated on its enterprise in securing it for Glendale.

Another attraction on this special program will be Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle in his newest, and many think his greatest, two-reel comedy, "The Bell Boy."

This bill will inaugurate the regular matinees which are to be given daily hereafter at 2:30 o'clock. There will also be two evening shows at 7 and 8:45 o'clock. It is altogether probable that with such drawing cards as those mentioned, the theatre will be crowded at all performances. Independent of the program, the desire to see and test the new seating section will attract many patrons.

THEIR NEEDS SUPPLIED

Mrs. Frank W. Chambers of 860 Glendale avenue has received a letter from her brother, R. Blaine Sliker, who is in New York in the conveyance service, that contains information which she thinks may be of interest to many Glendale people who have relatives in the army. She had asked in one of her daily letters to him if she could send him anything in the way of luxuries. In reply he wrote:

"Don't worry about sending things. The government gives us everything we need. If you were to send candy it would be smashed by the time it reached me. If I want anything I will let you know."

Mrs. Chambers appreciates how anxious are parents and friends to provide all possible comforts for their fighting men and she is giving publicity to this letter to relieve in some measure the hearts of mothers and sisters who never cease thinking of their loved ones in the army.

PHILANTHROPIC SECTION

The Philanthropic Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. R. P. Isitt, 872 Damasco court. Mrs. Isitt was assisted by Mrs. L. W. Sinclair. The ladies spent the afternoon in piecing and tying comforters for the charitable institutions in which they are interested. The section was deeply touched when a package was received from Mrs. Martha Morris containing a comforter for the Kings' Daughters' Day nursery which she had pieced and tied herself. Mrs. Morris was one of the early presidents of the Tuesday Afternoon club, a member of the Philanthropic section and dearly loved by all who have been associated with her in club work.

Each of the members present pledged $1 toward the fund the woman's clubs are raising for furrough centers for the soldiers at the front.

Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

PUPILS' RECITAL

A very pleasing pupils' recital was held last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thede, 221 Isabel street, given by violin pupils of Miss Susine Wessels, assisted by a few piano pupils of Miss Champlain. The following took part: Violin—Lucille Johnson, Ellen Swarner, Lavinia Thede, Mary Barbara Taylor, Dorothea Wheeler, Eva James, Adele Jones, Isabel Keppie, Donald Wheeler, Perle Olds; Piano—Roma Staub, Lillian Cassell, Margaret Fenton, Virginia Thom and John Ritchie. Home-made confections were passed and a social time enjoyed.

BRITISH AMBULANCE TEA FIRST AID CLASS

The popularity of the British Ambulance Teas is steadily increasing and last Monday there was standing room only at the Scotch Tea in the Jewel City Cafe.

Delicious Scotch shortbread and cakes were served and a very good program was given. By special request Miss Ina Whitaker gave two piano numbers, "Pierette" by Chamade, and "Consolation" by Liszt.

Wednesday evening twelve students who have been taking a course in "First Aid" work under Doctor William C. Mabry of this city at the headquarters of the Tropic Red Cross Auxiliary, met for an examination which was conducted by the doctor, the questions having been forwarded to him from Red Cross Headquarters in Washington.

The ladies of St. Mark's Auxiliary will meet at the church Friday afternoon at 2:30. Every lady interested in this branch of the church is urged to be present.

WHY WE ARE AT WAR WITH GERMANY

By EPHRAIM DOUGLASS ADAMS Executive Head, History Department Leland Stanford Junior University

"The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government, which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry out the plan without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long-established practices and long-cherished principles of international action and honor; . . . This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. . . . It is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling."—President Wilson, August 27, 1917.

GERMAN RUTHLESSNESS AN INCULCATED BARBARISM
A government asserting its right to conquer the world, denying any duty except that of increasing its own power, and a people drilled in this theory, produce a nation whose acts horrify humanity. Yet those acts are but the logical result of a ruthlessness in war deliberately planned. It was at first said by Americans: "Yes, there are occasional German atrocities, no doubt, but so are there in every war." We now know that cruelty and barbarism are a definite part of the German method of making war.

First the teachers and professors: "Where German soldiers had to seize the incendiary torch, or even to proceed to the slaughter of citizens, it was only in pursuance of the rights of war." "One single highly cultured German warrior represents a higher intellectual and moral life-value than hundreds of the raw children of nature whom England and France, Russia and Italy, oppose to them." "Even if there were no question of vengeance, . . . the crime of opposing the development of Germany is so great that the most trenchant measures are scarcely a sufficient punishment for it." "The more pitiless is the vae victis, the greater is the security of the ensuing peace. In the days of old, conquered peoples were completely annihilated. Today that is physically impracticable, but one can imagine conditions which should approach very closely to total destruction."

Next the army officers: "By steeping himself in military history an officer will be able to guard himself against excessive humanitarian notions; it will teach him that certain severities are indispensable to war, nay, more, that the only true humanity very often lies in a ruthless application of them." "The warrior has need of passion. It must not . . . be regarded as a necessary evil, nor condemned as a regrettable consequence of physical contact; nor must we seek to restrain it and curb it as a savage and brutal force."

Last the clergy: one incident and one quotation from an address on the Sermon on the Mount is enough for Americans. "Whoever cannot prevail upon himself to approve from the bottom of his heart the sinking of the Lusitania, and give himself up to honest delight at this victorious exploit of German defensive power—him we judge to be no true German." German teaching has borne fruit and the world is aghast. Yet we have become so accustomed to "German atrocities" that some of our horror at them has waned. It is wiser to remember. Volumes are needed to list, merely, the proved cases of barbarity—for Germany by refusing investigation through a neutral jury proposed by Cardinal Mercier, has confessed guilt. No, rather, she acknowledges the acts charged against her and glorifies them.

But let us not forget that German soldiers, in 1914, with no restraint, raped the women of Belgium and France in the first advance; that they placed screens of children before them; that they executed as a warning against a feared Belgian rising, fifty innocent Catholic priests and thousands of innocent citizens; that they gave themselves up "in a hundred different places, to plundering, incendiarism, imprisonment, massacres and sacrileges" (Cardinal Mercier); that in France they have deliberately made a desert of territory in retreat, with an object, not of this war, but of destroying productivity for at least a generation to come; that Germany has openly applauded Turkey upon the massacre of nearly one-half the population of Armenia; that Germany by the cruel starvation and deportation of conquered populations is attempting to "Germanize" the lands of Poland and Russia; that she torpedoes hospital ships with "defenseless beings, wounded or mutilated in war, and women who are devoting themselves to the work of relief and charity" (protest of the International Red Cross Committee at Geneva); that no other government, in the world's history, ever ordered or approved a "Lusitania."

This is the fourth of a series or ten articles by Professor Adams.

D. White. She has called attention to the fact that the Acacia street school under Miss Cornwell donated 142 books and sixteen records. She states that the time limit of the drive has been extended and books for the camps are still acceptable. She would be glad to have volunteers to assist her in putting library card pockets into these books so they may be sent to the camps with the least possible delay.

Everyman's Pledge: America shall win this war! Therefore I will work, I will save, I will sacrifice, I will endure, I will fight—cheerfully, and to my utmost—as if the whole struggle depended on me alone.

In making the house to house canvass for monthly money pledges for the Red Cross, the committee asks that those giving will expedite the work by being ready to state the amount to be pledged. This money coming in regularly gives our Red Cross Branch an assurance of a certain sure sum to be expended for material and the workers will do their level best to use every penny of it every month. It would also be appreciated if you could you make it convenient to send in your pledge without waiting to be called upon. After making the pledge, if you can send it to the schoolhouse on the first Tuesday of each month, do so. If you will do these things, the labor of taking the pledges and making the monthly collections will be very materially lessened. The money should all be in by the eighth of each month. Give all you can; do not regulate your giving by what someone else gives. In spite of the difficulties of weather covering the valley and the limited time, the committee is meeting with gratifying success. At some future time the Junior Red Cross will make the collection of the funds one of its duties.

Young Mr. Stevens enlisted with the Royal Engineers Corps of England. The Stevens came here from Canada by way of Los Angeles and are liking La Canada very much, notwithstanding the rainy Monday on which they took possession.

Miss Fannie Jewett is at home again after a stay of five weeks at Camp Fremont with her friends, Captain and Mrs. Jordan.

The Improvement meeting held March 30 had for its principal object the dedication of the Service Flag. After business was disposed of, an enjoyable program was given. The piano and violin number, "Hands Across the Sea," by Elsa Anderson and Mr. Metcalf, was rendered in a spirited manner. "Keep the Home Fires Burning," by the Junior Red Cross, preceded by a processional, was very pretty. A reading was given by Mrs. Max Green. The music was in charge of Mrs. Waterman. The soloist was Mrs. Holden. Rev. E. H. Brooks and Dr. Scott made short addresses. Before closing it was announced that refreshments would be omitted from all Association meetings for the duration of the war. This decision was followed by a few words fitly spoken by Mrs. D. Scott, which commemorated the Service Flag in a beautiful way, linking with it the finished work of Sergeant H. O. McMullin. The audience was then dismissed with the singing of "Rally 'Round the Flag." An opportunity to have a part in paying for the Service Flag was given, resulting in the collection of double the amount necessary. The surplus was divided equally between the Red Cross and the Junior Red Cross.

To Mr. Metcalf, Mrs. Chas. Pate and Max Green are entrusted the programs for the Improvement meetings of 1918.

Manton White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry White, left Saturday morning for Camp Lewis. Another star on the Service Flag which we hope to soon see flying across the highway near the church.

Mrs. Stickney recently received an interesting letter from her son Russell, who is with the navy, post-marked Bordeaux. Russell had been visiting an old fort which contained all the dungeons, torture chambers, oubliettes, rooms in which water rose till it reached the ceiling, engulfing the prisoner, underground passages with drops open to the rushing sea and all the other half-forgotten horrors we have read of. Russell is homesick and not all Europe were it his to give, would he exchange for his California. He says that days succeed days and they get no news, but occasionally they move on to another port. Their shore leave is only short in duration, and La Canada looks good to Russell.

WHO GETS THE BAKE-OFF?

We are reliably informed that Saturday's quotations on fresh mackerel, that is, the price paid the fishermen, was only two cents per pound. In but a few days the price paid had dropped from twelve cents to two. Is the cost of mackerel to the consumer in Los Angeles any less because of the lower price paid the fishermen? asks the Catalina Islander.

There are approximately 3000 square miles of Pacific ocean from which the modern power equipped fishing launches can bring fish to the Los Angeles market. Out of this 3000 square miles, about fifty square miles about Catalina Island are protected by state law. Then there are many more square miles of Mexican waters that simply teem with fish.

So, why pick on Catalina? Scientists now tell us that fish spawn all along the coast of Southern California.

When mackerel were twelve cents a pound it was an incentive for the fishermen to go out and get them. They did so. Immediately the price dropped to four cents. More boats and more fish arrived Saturday morning, and the price dropped to two cents.

Was there a shortage of fish—sufficient to demand the opening of the Catalina spawning preserve? Mr. Fisheater and Mr. Sportsman, wake up! Dislodge the fishbones which are sticking in your throats and get after the profiteers!

Why are jobbers allowed to charge from five to eight cents per pound for boxing and icing fish? And it is these profiteers who want to open the Catalina Island preserve! Will they succeed?

If Los Angeles would provide adequate cold storage facilities, and pay the fishermen a fair price for all the fish they could catch, there would be plenty of fish—unless the profiteers cornered it.

Mackerel taken from the Pacific and salted in Japan, sell for $30 a barrel in Boston—about 170 fish to the barrel. Irish mackerel, shipped to Boston, sell for $38, and New England mackerel, caught on its own coasts, sell as high as $48 per barrel, wholesale.

The food administration authorities have directed all canners to hold their packs of fish, corn, peas, string beans, etc., until notified what stocks are required.

In one year the price of foods in the United States is estimated to have advanced 25 per cent. Corn meal is 77 per cent higher, bacon 64, lard 53, pork chops 44, ham 42, milk 35, chickens 29, butter 25, eggs 23, sugar 18, flour 17.

A reason not generally known for the spirited advance in the price of corn meal is a new method of grinding up and drying edible fish, and then mixing it with corn meal. This, it is said, makes possible the saving of much fish food, and also prevents the destruction of the meal by weevils. Here, then is a new form of war food—rich in food values and easily transported.

Save the food and exterminate the profiteer!

CARE OF SITTING HENS

The kind of care and attention given a sitting hen during the process of hatching eggs plays an important part on the number and condition of the chicks when hatched, says the Department of Agriculture in its weekly news letter. See that the hens are made comfortable on the nest; allow them to come off only once a day to receive feed and water. If there are any that do not desire to come off themselves, they should be taken off. Hens usually return to their nests before there is any danger of the eggs chilling, but if they do not go back in half an hour in ordinary weather, they should be put on the nest. Where a large number of sitters are kept in one room it is advisable to let them off in groups of from 4 to 6 at a time.

The eggs and nests should be examined and cleaned, removing all broken eggs and washing those that are soiled; in the latter case the soiled nesting material should be removed and clean straw added. Nests containing broken eggs that the hen is allowed to sit on soon become infested with mites and lice, which cause the hens to become uneasy and leave the nest, often causing the loss of valuable settings of eggs. In mite-infested nests, the hen, if fastened in, will often be found standing over rather than sitting on the eggs.

Many eggs that are laid in the late winter and early spring are infertile. For this reason it is advisable to set several hens at the same time. After the eggs have been under the hens from 5 to 7 days, the time depending somewhat on the color and thickness of the shells—white-shelled eggs being easier to test than those having brown shells—they should be tested, the infertile eggs and dead germs removed, and the fertile eggs put back under the hen. In this way it is often possible to put all the eggs that several hens originally started to sit on under fewer hens and reset the others. For example, 30 eggs are set under 3 hens at the same time, 10 under each. At the end of 7 days we find on testing the eggs from all the hens that 10 are infertile, which leaves us 20 eggs to reset, which we do by putting them under 2 hens, and have the remaining hen sit over again after she has sat only 7 days. In this way considerable time can be saved in one's hatching operations.

In order to secure greatest success and make the hens comfortable when they are sitting, great care should be taken to keep the nests free from mites. To do this effectively is not an easy task. If oil from crude petroleum, which is good for controlling mites, is sprayed freely about the house at that time it may soil the eggs and prevent successful hatching. Infested quarters, therefore, should be treated thoroughly before hens are set, so as to start them in nests which are absolutely clean. Beneath the straw of the nest a layer of lime and sulphur will tend to prevent mite breeding, and the entire nest may be dusted occasionally with pyrethrum. Broken eggs and the straw soiled by them should be removed promptly, as they tend to attract mites.

Medicated nest eggs, said to control poultry lice, are on the market. These consist largely of naphthalene. While this material will destroy lice when applied generally to the fowl, it is injurious to the hen's eggs as well as to the bird. If used in quantity, or if the medicated eggs are allowed to remain for some time beneath a hen, she may die as a result. Sodium fluorid powder, dusted on the fowl, or dissolved in water and used as a dip, is the best remedy for lice.

COMPROMISE ON SUGAR BEETS

Taking an average half way between the two extremes the commission appointed by the government to determine a price for sugar beets in Southern California has agreed on $8.25 per ton for 15 per cent beets.

The growers wanted $9 and the sugar people offered to pay $7.50 so it would appear that the committee arrived at the price by the simple means of "splitting the difference."

The controversy that arose when the growers and the factories disagreed on the price became so serious that the growers threatened to refuse to grow any more beets, and the appointment of the investigating commission was Washington's official effort to straighten out the differences so production could continue.

The price set by the commission is not mandatory. Neither the factories nor the growers will be compelled to abide by it. It merely represents what the government considers fair remuneration for the farmers.

The price of the factories to the commission, should fluctuate $1 a ton above or below the price of $8.25 for every cent increase or decrease in the present price of sugar—7½ cents a pound. The report places the cost of producing an acre of sugar beets at $84.

FANCY HOG FEEDS

The latest addition to the list of good pork-producing foods is cull dates. It has long been suspected that the porkers would welcome this variant of their menu, but the trial has never been made until recently. According to an exchange:

"Two months ago Charles Sprinkle put up an 8-pound pig and began to feed it on cull dates. During the first 30 days it gained 69 pounds, and during the second 30 days it gained 63 pounds. It was killed yesterday, weighing 215 pounds, and sold to the Indian butcher at 20 cents per pound. The meat is excellent and is eagerly bought. Those who were fortunate enough to secure a slice considered themselves lucky."

For a number of years farmers in and around Fresno have made good use of raisin culls and the seeds thrown out by the raisin seedling factories as food for hogs and have found them very valuable. This year the demand has been exceptionally good on account of the shortage of other foods. The seeds are very nutritious and the sugar in the raisin culls very fattening. But for this by-product, many hog raisers would have been compelled to retire from business.

TOBACCO GROWING IN CALIFORNIA

Growing of cigar tobacco in California will become one of the new industries if plans of the Niagara Tobacco Plantation Company of Philadelphia are carried out in this section. A. R.
