OBSERVATIONS OF THE STROLLER On Theatrical Life and Environment STORIES AND ANECDOTES

James McIntyre, of the well known team of McIntyre & Heath, now appearing as joint stars in The Ham Tree at the New York Theatre. Heir to New York City, learned the large other day that he has fortune, fallen heir to a large fortune. Mr. McIntyre explains that several years ago when he was in Australia with the Georgia Minstrels, since elaborated into The Ham Tree, he was able to render a very substantial service to an extremely wealthy native of the island continent who, upon the rich old nabob drew up a new will naming McIntyre beneficiary to a large amount. The other evening Mr. McIntyre was in his dressing room when a card was brought in bearing an address in Sydney, Australia, and a New York address written over it in ink. The actor ordered the man shown in and the visitor approached him with profuse expressions of congratulation. McIntyre inquired with surprise what it all meant. He has been married for a number of years and the felicities could not have been extended to him as a benefit. The visitor explained that the congratulations were due to Mr. McIntyre's having inherited a large amount from a certain rich individual in Australia.

As the actor was in a hurry to go on, he pinned the man's card to his dressing table, requesting him to call again and at the same time promising to visit the Australian the next day at his hotel. McIntyre says that when he returned both the card and the visitor were gone and he has not been able to locate him since. The story of the old man's death has been verified. He passed away in a home for the old and infirm at Sydney. The only trouble is they cannot find the money.

Several agents who had never met before were assembled together by chance in the offices of Bowland & Clifford in the Grand Wind-jammer Opera House Building, Chicago, the Ignominiously Rebutted, other day. One of the number, who took particular delight in hearing himself converse, was telling a number of unusual adventures he had experienced on a ranch in the far west during his summer vacation. To hear him, one would have thought that the traditions of the wild and woolly are as nothing, compared with the actual happenings of to-day. When this person's yarns had begun to pall unbearably on the company, Harry Earl, Bowland & Clifford's genial manager, took the burden of the conversation in his usual suave way. "Several years ago," said Mr. Earl, "I was acting as manager of a company on a southern tour. We struck one of the big towns where we had often played and where the theatre was one of those old-fashioned affairs that had never been remodeled. The only way to get from the box office to the stage was by way of the outer stage door, to reach which it was necessary to go round through a dark and narrow alley. I had never felt any fear, though on several occasions I had carried the money around with me on Friday night to pay off the company. On this occasion, as I started through the alley, I noticed a couple of dark figures crouched against the opposite wall. I clutched the bag of money tightly with my left hand and reached for my hip pocket with my right, only to find that I had left my gun in the office. The men stepped out and challenged me, but, determined to make a dash for it, I ran plumb against the stage door. It was locked, and the noise within prevented those on the other side of the door from hearing the noise of my pursuers' foot-steps and my cries for help. I turned, but there was no avenue of escape. The footpads had me covered with their guns."

Mr. Earl hesitated here, and the agent, who had told several miraculous stories himself, leaned forward eagerly, while he said: "How did you escape?" "I did not escape," said Mr. Earl calmly. "They killed me right there."

A north German Lloyd liner brought over the other day from Europe a large party of girls under the chaperonage of Herr Obermeyer. The girls were all English, even if they did come on a German steamer, and they are of all ages and sizes, though for the most part their hair conforms to the color now in vogue. The girls made such a demand on the ship's ice cream freezer that it went out of commission several days ago and since then they have been deprived of their delicious ices. On disembarking at the Hoboken pier, one of the girls happened to spy an ice cream soda stand. Exclamations of delight followed, and the whole bevy of human birds settled picturesquely on the stools along the counter. The white-coated clerks were kept busy for some minutes serving out the cooling drinks, but suddenly the whole party was interrupted by a scream from one of the girls, who felt that she had swallowed something rough and alive. No need to describe the scene further. But when the girl declared that she was going to sue the proprietor of the soda stand because she had swallowed a bug, the clerk remarked dryly: "What does she want for a nickel, a humming bird?"

When the plump and comely little Nella Webb, who is now playing the part in His Honor the Mayor originated by Mabel Barrison, commenced her kiss-me, kiss-me, kiss-me song the other evening at Wallack's Theatre, New York, Frank Daniels, who occupied a box, sprang upon the stage and fulfilled the request. Of course the actress was not greatly abashed at this, for kisses are frequently exchanged in public between members of the profession, but when the song was continued and a big Southerner with long moustaches and a goatee attempted to follow Daniels' example, Miss Webb ran screaming into the wings.

When the house policeman took hold of the gentleman from the South, that individual explained that he did not desire to break up the show, but he simply could not stand to see a request like that go ungranted.

"If I had a thousand hearts, I'd give them all to you," sang pretty Marie Carlton at the Crotona Casino in Chico-eago. Thos. J. Anderson, Childhood Attachment Constant, a traveling salesman sitting far back in the house, recognized something familiar in the voice. He made his way behind the scenes, where an affectionate meeting took place between him and the singer. Anderson and Miss Carlton were children together in the blue grass regions of Kentucky. He was a poor boy, while her father was a rich horse breeder. The early attachment was formed when Anderson was permitted, through the indulgence of Miss Carlton's father, to share the services of the private tutor he engaged for his little daughter's instruction. The youthful love affair was broken off when Col. Carlton sold out his interests in the blue grass state and removed to New York. It appears that reverses overtook the Carlton's there, and that after the death of her parents Miss Carlton, now grown to a beautiful young lady, went upon the stage. Had it not been for this, Anderson would probably have never met her again and the happy wedding that followed the reunion would never have taken place. Mrs. Anderson has retired to the joys of domestic life.

Johnny Molan, a fifteen year old boy who was drowned in Sputen Duyvil Creek recently after saving the life of his companion, was a great favorite among his boy Christian Burial friends, who, rather than see his body go to the potters' field, began to collect their pennies for the funeral. The fund was progressing very slowly, when Hattie Williams, now starring in the Little Cherub at the Criterion Theatre, learned the identity of the drowned boy.

Last spring Miss Williams was in the habit of driving to King's Bridge daily, taking boxes of candy for the children of the school. Johnny Molan was one of the boys in the school that she visited. After the first few visits of Miss Williams, he appeared with a nosegay of roses, which he handed to her. From day to day the boy appeared with his bouquet of flowers, and soon he and the actress became the best of friends. When Miss Williams learned that the boy's body was about to be interred in a pauper's grave, she drove over to the police station of the King's Bridge district and left $50 to defray the expenses of the funeral. It is said, furthermore, that she has expressed her intention of looking after the welfare of the Molan family.

A very amusing incident occurred during the progress of a picture show at Altoona, Pennsylvania, the other evening. The film represented a mob in pursuit of a malefactor. It was a very exciting chase, and a young farmer in the audience got so worked up that when the villain became impaled on a picket fence he rushed toward the stage in an effort to assist him. It took several ushers to make the sporty young clod-pole understand that the show was only pictures.

JOE JEFFERSON, SPORTSMAN, BEQUEATHS KENTUCKY REEL

How The People Graft Off The Circus

Woman Sues Manager For Use of Baby's Nude Picture—Managers Sue For Absolution From Contract Because Their Theatre Was Built in The Wrong Town—New Railroad Rates Anticipated.

By SCRIPTUS.

In the codicil to Joseph Jefferson's will, recently filed, he bequeaths, "To my friend, the Hon. Grover Cleveland, my best Kentucky reel." It means a good deal more than appears on the face of it. Jefferson was a sportsman, and he is combined with the gentle love of fishing and hunting a great adoration of nature. He loved the woods and the hills as he loved his art. In fact, landscape painting was his recreation, his avocation.

There was a great deal in that friendship between Jefferson and Cleveland. The former was mild in manner, gentle of disposition and above all artistic, yet he was of firm character. Cleveland is sturdy, forceful and a sportsman, too. That was the secret of the attachment, for they were the closest of friends in life.

There is pathos in the bequeathal.

A STRANGE SUIT.

Mrs. Clara E. Eaton, of Worcester, Mass., has sued S. Z. Poll, the theatre magnate, for the alleged using of the nude picture of her little child for an advertisement of the play, "Who Owns the Baby?" at his theatre. Mrs. Eaton claims $10,000 salve for her injured feelings.

The plaintiff alleges that the picture was used without her consent and that it was made for her own private use. She says further that "because of the unauthorized publication of the picture, she was taken ill and is still ill and that the publication of the picture and the words, 'Who Owns the Baby?' were such as to bring the plaintiff into contempt and ridicule."

It would have been much more comfortable for Mrs. Eaton if she had taken it all as a joke; but modesty is sometimes a good business asset.

PREYING ON THE CIRCUS.

The incident at Bloomington, Ill., recently in which the city clerk endeavored to exact $50 from the Hagenbeck Show for a license when the performance was given outside the city limits, is an example of the injustice to which tent shows are subjected at all times. A movement has been put on foot recently urging the managers to unite in contesting these illegal extortions, instead of submitting to them as is the usual custom.

Before the circus bonding companies were organized it was possible for every fair to impose on the circus management. All that was necessary was the merest semblance of a cause and a shyster lawyer. The managers had simply to put up the money demanded or suffer an attachment with the consequent heavy losses. The bonding companies have changed all that. Every show has one of its representatives with it who is qualified to put up the amount demanded on the spot. Still the outrage has not been entirely eliminated. The shyster lawyers still have a chance and there will always be plenty of fairs.

Let a woman scratch the leather of her dainty shoe against a stake or pole and if the management of the show refuses to accept her claim for damages placed through a petty-fogger, the show is attached. Professional grafters have even been known to place themselves or their property in the way of the parade wagons of every show that came to town for the sake of the hold up. It is simply because they know they can do it. The lawyers have told them so. If the managers will get together and fight a few cases, showing the lawyers that they are determined to defend their rights, this preying on circuses will come to an end.

BUILT THEATRE IN WRONG TOWN.

A peculiar suit has been instituted at Los Angeles, Cal., wherein the plaintiffs aver that the contractors erected a theatre in Santa Monica when the contract called for the house to be built at Ocean Park. They have, therefore, put in a plea for cancellation of the contract. It appears from the complaint that H. C. Wyatt and John A. Mason had made an arrangement to build a theatre at Ocean Park. The contractors put the building up, but on a lot adjoining the right one and as the dividing line between the corporation limits was coincident to the line between the two lots, the house is now in Santa Monica instead of Ocean Park.

The theatrical managers want to be absolved from responsibility.

TWO CENTS A MILE RATE.

Theatrical people will welcome the prognostication of several managers of the Inter-state Commerce Commission that the next session of Congress will effect a railroad rate bill reducing passenger transportation to two cents a mile. This will apply, however, only to the district east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac and Ohio rivers, where the traffic is heaviest, and where it has been the boast of the railroads that their rates are now only a fraction over the two cent average.

GEORGE COHAN TO RETIRE.

It has been stated with some degree of authenticity that George M. Cohan will retire from the stage to devote himself exclusively to playwriting. It is stated that Mr. Cohan is desirous of devoting his talents to an artistic high-class production that may some day rank as a classic. It is not expected by those who know, however, that the young celebrity will get the time to devote to such a position within the next year or two. It is positively known that he has contracted with Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger to produce a farcical, musical piece for production on the roof of the New Amsterdam Theatre next summer. Cohan has already selected the title of the Political Honeymoon.

George must be observing the itinerary of the Longworths through Europe.

IN THROUGH SKYLIGHT.

That incident at Louisville last Sunday week when the patrons of a burlesque theatre climbed over roofs and entered the house through skylights after the police had barricaded the doors, ought to be sufficient demonstration that the people are avid for Sunday amusement and that it should be given them. The case illustrates

The stage love scenes in which they participated last season when they were members of The Tenderfoot Co., were the beginning of a real romance which was brought to a head in Des Moines, Ia., July 24, when Andrew F. Boehler, a Des Moines actor, and Miss Fanny Joynes, one of the Kangaroo Girls, appearing with Ruth White in her musical sketch, at Ingerson Park, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Schmidt. Only a few of the intimate friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. It had been planned to have the wedding at a later date at Miss Joynes' home in Syracuse, N. Y., but the young couple could not wait that long. Miss Joynes is appearing in vaudeville this summer, but she and her husband will appear in The Tenderfoot again this season.

As managers of theatres, both east and west, have expressed a strong desire to play the Isle of Spice again, it has been necessary for Mr. Whitney to organize two companies in order to cover the territory, and he is endeavoring to make them of equal strength. Chas. A. Pusey, who scored a tremendous hit as the King last season, will again appear in the same part with the western company; while Miss Leslie Leigh, who created the part of Teressa in the original production, will head the eastern company and continue to sing the ever popular Peggy Brady.

Nixon & Zimmerman have sent out a press sheet to the various dramatic editors which gives a paragraph to E. E. Meredith, who will pilot the Simple Simon Simple show the coming season. It reads: E. E. Meredith, who last year pioneered the career of a breezy little whiff of humor entitled The Missouri Breeze, is the latest recruit to the Nixon & Zimmerman fold, and he will in all probability continue to publish that paper in the interests of the Nixon & Zimmerman attractions and the theatrical business at large.

Hilda Thomas and Lou Hall will open their season in The Show Girl, Sept. 18.

AERIAL GARDENS

The Aerial Gardens are on the roof of the New Amsterdam Theatre. It is there that the remodeled The Governor's Son, with George Cohan and Ethel Levey has been enjoying such a remarkable summer run.

the desire of the masses for theatrical entertainment on Sunday more pointedly than anything we can recall.

Think of Louisville, Ky., putting the lid on Sunday amusements.

CONEY ISLAND FIVE-CENT FARE

The riots on the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company's trains to Coney Island, reported in the last issue of The Billboard, continued throughout the week. It is a peculiar situation when the people themselves enforce the rulings of the courts. It is usually the other way, about, but may be observed that when the people constitute themselves the executives, something has got to break. The inconvenience of sitting on crowded trains side-tracked for hours could not dissuade them. When the B. R. T. Co. sought retaliation by neglecting to send its trains down to Coney one evening to get the people, they accepted the situation philosophically and waited their turn to ride on the boats. Great numbers even walked back to Brooklyn.

It is going to be a hard fight, and those who are interested in the amusements at Coney Island will do what they can to help the people effect a permanent reduction of the fare.

MUSICAL COMEDY

That Manager B. C. Whitney is pretty well satisfied with the company engaged to present IT'S Puff, Puff the coming season, is amply demonstrated by the fact that he has decided to open the Detroit Opera House with this attraction. The company will then tour all the principal cities of the east, where The Musical Cocktail is extremely popular. The cast will include Denman Maley, as Peter Poufle; Chas. P. Morrison, as August Melon; Henrietta Lee, as the dashing Widow Montague; the original American Pony Ballet, and all the other favorites who have made this production famous. Albert Hoogs last season business manager of His Honor, the Mayor, has been engaged as the business manager in advance, and Ambrose C. Abbott, the man of The Isle of Bong Bong, will be the manager of the company.

NIBLO'S GARDEN

Its History Written in Three Chapters

Successive Failures Mixed With Brief Seasons of Prosperity Have Left Name Famous in Amusements

By CADY WHALEY.

THE term Niblo's Garden now seems a matter of ancient local history, but upon investigation it is most interesting history as there were in reality three successive theatres or places of amusement of that name. It was originally in 1823 Columbia Garden, a resort at Broadway and Prince streets, where entertainments were given during the summer evenings. It was then above the city proper and was practically farming country. In 1828 it was changed to Sans Souci Garden; it was leased by William Niblo the same year from the famous Van Rensselaer family. When the Bowery Theatre burned a few months later, Mr. Niblo grasped the opportunity and erected what was then a large and fashionable theatre, with a seating capacity of twelve hundred, much after the plan of some of our older theatres still in existence. The main features being a parquette, as the orchestra seats were then called, a dress circle and tiers of boxes. The building was enlarged, improved and almost entirely rebuilt before it was completely destroyed by fire in 1846. On July 30, 1849 the second Niblo's Garden threw open its doors to the public, the entertainment being afforded by the same attraction that was at the house at the time it was destroyed by fire, notably the Havel family who were pantomimists. In the subsequent years the theatre became distinguished for its fine productions of every description, among which are The Black Crook which ran for over four hundred nights. But fate seemed to pursue the house and this second Niblo's Garden was wrecked by a conflagration in 1872.

In the meantime the site had become the property of A. T. Stewart, who erected the third Niblo's Garden, which was opened with Leo and Lotus, a spectacular production Nov. 30, 1872. The theatre had some measure of success in the following year but the location was gradually becoming the downtown business district. Everything in the way of amusements was moving above Fourteenth street. The house whose boards had been trod by such actors of distinction as Edwin Booth, Edwin Forrest and Rose Ettinge was doomed by the progressive spirit of the age, and the wonderful growth that has come to Manhattan. So in the natural course of events a high building now occupies the site which is fondly treasured in memory by those devoted to stage history and traditions.

THE SILLY SEASON.

The silly season will soon be over; we shall all be back in our accustomed places in the city with our lives rejuvenated, our hearts returned to their proper places and our eyes cleared by the ozone and mountain air. James Ilanakar, too, will be obliged to cease writing tally gush about Atlantic City, Saratoga and the different circuits for summer resorts that he is playing. Had I never read his well-written books, his splendid book reviews, his excellent short stories as well as his former writings as a dramatic and musical critic, I should never have dreamed of him in such serious roles, but the summer abandon is responsible for many surprises. As for the women, they revel in their summer gaiety as well as in the variety of dainty frocks it permits them to indulge themselves in. The late summer fashions indicate somewhat the trend of the winter styles, and it is safe to say the corsetless skirt has had its day and that the princess and empire designs will prevail in the winter models with changes in sleeves, trimmings and an increased width of skirts and other modifications. At the numerous hops the sensible and correct short dancing costume is worn by some who enjoy dancing, but the becoming trained skirt and the graceful sweep style is seen most frequently. One pretty dress noticed recently was a pink batiste, la Princess, with a wide ruffle trimmed with tucks and lace insertion. The slightly delicate waist had the usual touch of hand embroidery and many rows of insertion and lace edging, nothing new but it was worn by the possessor of a good figure. It was perfectly cut and well fitted. Another was a blue and white checked dimity made with round full skirt, a wide girdle of the material, German Valenciennes lace insertion inset in a Greek border design on skirt, waist and sleeves, many tiny black velvet bows gave the desired smart appearance—still another pretty summer frock.

merly, while there is to be an utter lack of skirt trimming. The lines of the plaited skirt will be changed somewhat, though remaining close fitted over the hips. It will have added fullness, extra length and a fall towards the back rather than the front. The three-quarter sleeve will continue. In under garments we have had different combinations, but the latest Parisian suggestion is the corset and skirt combined, a clever but luxurious idea.

TABLE D'HOTE

Two of my professional friends, a young married couple detained in the city during the summer, conceived the idea of leaving town early each evening, visiting a different summer resort on Long Island for a little outing and trying the various table d'hote dinners. They had visited many places, had a jolly time and enjoyed their dinners with sea air on the side. Finally, waiting for a train at one of the resorts, they espied a great mass of dressed chicken lying at the station waiting delivery, attracted by the sickly blue, disgusting appearance of the fowl, the husband inquired what those chickens were for. To their surprise the answer was, "Why those are table d'hote chickens." So their little feasts after that manner were completely spoiled.

BALTIMORE, MD.

There will be something special doing in this city every day beginning Sept. 8 and ending Aug. 6. The week of the 9th will be a jubilee in celebration of the city's recovery from the great fire. There will be parades every day, and the railroads will participate. This celebration will be under the auspices of the Merchants & Manufacturers' Association. The Home Product Exhibition will be under the management of the Travelers & Merchants' Association. The big steel casino at Electric Park will be filled with booths for exhibits and on the lawns will be various attractions, including Pawnee Bill's Wild West, Bostock's and Ferrell's Animal Shows, Beachy's Airship, Fighting the Flames, Destruction of San Francisco, Kiraly's Venice and Victor D. Levitt's and P. J. Mundy's attractions.

After much difficulty, the United Railways and Electric Co. opened Bay Shore Park, Aug. 11. It is a most beautiful place.

The tranquility of the Sabbath Day was much disturbed Aug. 12, and investigation revealed the presence of the genial "Doc" Waddell. He was en route from New York to Hagerstown to join the John Robinson Show, with which he is press agent.

Frank C. Bostock is again negotiating for a site to establish a zoo here. It will be remembered that his zoo in this city was destroyed by fire in January, 1901.

Chas. E. Blaney has handsomely refitted his theatre. Chas. E. Wright Jr., formerly of the Academy of Music, Washington, D. C., is musical director succeeding Thos. Cutty.

When the Maryland Theatre opened Sept. 3, Manager Kerman will introduce an innovation. A luxuriously Turkish room has been fitted up in the rear and in this smoking will be allowed.

Roberta Keene, of this city, has returned to Vanderville, making her appearance at Electric Park in a military musical act, entitled Visions of Home, written by a Baltimore author, Miss Louise Malloy. The act received great praise. Both the author and the performer are very popular here.

SYLVAN SCHENTHAL.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

The National will be the first of our theatres to open for the season, which event occurs Aug. 23 with Mr. Blarney of Ireland. Cook's opens Sept. 3 with vaudeville. The Baker opens the same day with the Moore Stock Co.

The Lyceum opens Sept. 3 with the premiere of Geo. Cohan's new play, Popularity, in which Thos. W. Ross, Florence Rockwell and other well known players will appear.

Mert Clark, advertising manager of Cook's, mourns the loss of his father who died recently at his home in Penn Yan, N. Y.

F. L. Whitbeck, formerly advertising manager at Baker's, left for New York Aug. 11 to take up his duties ahead of one of the syndicate shows.

The new skating rink will not materialize. Property owners in the neighborhood objected and the promoters have left for more congenial territory.

James E. Furlong, who is arranging the carnival to be held at Glen Haven Aug. 27 Sept. 5 has secured a number of novel attractions for that event. The carnival is causing much out of town interest.

Letters received concerning the new park that is to be erected here next season can not be answered until after the next meeting of the parties interested, which will take place Sept. 10.

CHAS. W. NELSON.

LOS ANGELES, CAL.

One of the Helasco company's great efforts is the immense production of the famous emotional drama, Zaza, this week, beginning Aug. 6, with Amelia Gardner in the title role and Hobart Bosworth as Bernard DuFresne, assisted by the entire strength of the Helasco company specially augmented for this occasion by sixty-four able actors and actresses. The immensity of the production is far in advance of anything yet attempted at this playhouse, and the result both artistically and financially is all that could be desired.

The announcement that the New Morisco-Cottrell play, The Half Breed was to be continued a fourth week was hailed by delight by the great number who were unable to secure seats heretofore. The success of the play has been very gratifying to the authors and the Burbank stock company are but receiving well merited patronage.

The Orpheum this week is very good and the popular vaudeville house continues to draw the crowds. The bill includes Claude Gillingwater & Co. in their comediettes; The Military Octette; McWatters and Tyson and Paul Spadoni, the juggler, besides the usual number of good holdovers.

The Bal Lustriles, at the Hotchkiss, with Kohl and Hill in many exquisitely funny situations, is another of the money-getters. Ben T. Dillon lays aside his Irish brogue and becomes a Dutchman, while the rest of the company and the beauty chorus make up a strong show.

Miss Ethel Tucker and an excellent company of stock players opened the New People's Theatre, at 523 South Main street as a permanent stock house last Sunday, Aug. 5, in the great western drama Across the Desert. The company comes here with some splendid press notices, and will no doubt soon prove to be a winner, as it is the intention of the management to present high-class plays at very reasonable prices. LOUISVILLE, KY.

Hagenbeck's turned them away Aug. 13. Wallace Hamilton will again hold down the box-office at the Avenue with the assistance of popular Frank Nunn.

Col. Shaw has a pet dog, Tricks, which by the way, is an actor. They are always seen together.

The Four Corners of the Earth, with Carrie LeMoine in the leading role, went well at the Avenue.

The White City Amusement Co. has been incorporated by W. H. Labb, Lum Simons, Rich D. Bakrow and John C. Sharp. They have purchased Riverview Park and will improve it.

Lou Dale has joined the Field forces. Manager Simons of Dreamland states that he will shortly open another house on Fourth avenue, which goes to show that moving pictures are popular here.

Fanny Rice is a drawing card at the Ferry.

The Hopkinton House opens about Sept. 10. The Buckingham is being renovated. It opens Aug. 20.

Critchfield's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. under canvas turned them away at New Albany and other places.

The Steward Show will play stock at Glenwood Park, New Albany, until Sept. 1 when it takes the road.

Bobt. Banmeister has opened a training school for wild animals in this city. Bob Gray is animal trainer.

AMUSEMENTS AMONG THE PEOPLE OF SOUTH EUROPE

Theatres and Theatricals in The Balkans

The National Theatre of Servia is Supported By An Inbred Love of Art Among The Slavs—Peculiarities of Performances Growing Out of Strange Customs.

By FELIX J. KOCH.

THE theatres of far southern Europe are interesting, if only for the fact that we know so little about them.

To the average person of good intent, southeastern Europe implies Turkey and the mention of the Turkish theatre in turn implies, of course, the dancing girls, the cymbals and the zither, the long, weirdly-calling Turk standing outside in bloomer and fez, and possibly some of the dances that come very near to the limit permitted by law.

Nothing, however, can be farther from the facts of the case. Aside from Constantinople, which is really one great tourist city, and altogether too cosmopolitan to be typically Turkish, one does not find theatres of the sort mentioned in Turkey at all. As matter of fact, aside from the capital at the Golden Horn, there are only Salonica, Adrianople, Varna and Uskub that are of any great conse-

Congress at the time of King Peter's coronation, is exceptionally interesting.

Everything was taken—even to standing-room in the gallery. Four tiers of stalls, box-like compartments, go to compose the seating places of the playhouse. All were occupied and one notes that the audience is, in the majority, men.

King Peter of Servia is in the Royal box, attired in his dark blue uniform of heavy epaulettes, and wearing a single medal. He is an elderly man, grizzled of beard and the hair of his head thinning visibly. In appearance he resembles somewhat our own Phil. Sheridan, though there is decidedly more iron-grey to his mustache.

With him is the crown prince, a rather timid, yellow-complexioned young fellow, and his brother, George. These also are in uniform.

The eyes of the audience rest constantly on this Royal box, located in the second tier from the bottom, on the left of the stage.

Next it is a box for the two adjutants of the king, likewise in dark blue and a third in light blue uniforms.

Under them the loges are taken by the "young brat," delegation to the Congress, each and all of the men wearing the rimless red feszes of their native band.

In the pit is the greater part of the audience, the ladies wearing dainty pink and blues and whites. Many of them keep on their hats.

From time to time there is great applause. If, however, the desired encore is not obtained, even the best-bred bairn slightly. Occasionally, too, there will be a shout for encore.

In the center of the theatre hangs a great glass chandelier, by the light of which the programs may be read. These are furnished only to those in the lower tiers, and are broad, flat papers, printed on one side only.

The curtain represents the playhouse. It in itself, is unattractive. You prefer to watch the audience. Everywhere one notes the thin hair and the innumerable pompadours among the men, that indicate the Slav.

The orchestra plays between numbers on the program. Then a gentleman escorts a lady upon the stage, and she renders a piano solo. Her gown is of white, open-work about the neck. The piano is of the "grand" style and bears candelabra at either side.

When the music tires, you note the several Greek popes in the audience in their robes of black, and fall to pitying the king and the young princes in their red up-holstered chairs, for their constant and imminent danger of assassination.

Then cake sellers come in, and you purchase. Or, between numbers, you go out into the lobby where more cakes and candles are sold.

You return in season for a violin solo. After that, an operette in which young women of the harem sing and pass jokes.

Theatre is over by ten thirty. The crowds surge to an immense cafe, where the military bands play on a platform. When the Bulgarian or Serb or Pan-Slav hymns are given, every one stands and applauds. Never, however, do they sing in. The refreshments are wine and candy. They sit over them until well past midnight.

For the poorer, there are lower-class cafes, with dirty white cloths over which humanity clusters thickly. The air is filled with smoke, through which a string band is dimly visible. Two girls sing and then collect from the audience, a large proportion of which is made up of soldiers. Waiters scurry about, everywhere. The scene is a good deal more mandarin than at the other establishment.

Cetigne, the capital of Montenegro, has a theatre that is built quite compactly. There are three tiers of the square loges at either side, with the curtain representing a band of the people listening to a bard, at the front. In the rear center is the box occupied by the Prince, and behind that his golden audience-room. The box itself has respective chairs for each of the members of the princely family. Regular seats in the theatre range from one crown, or less than twenty cents, to thirty-two cents each.

The lower floor of the theatre is occupied by airy reading-rooms, open to the public as a library.

In the interior of Bosnia, wandering minstrels and entertainers at legerdemain go from town to town and to the several forts, playing as did the minstrels of old England, for what they may be able to collect.

COLLIER GETS IOWA CITY HOUSE

Will S. Collier, manager of Greene's Opera House, Cedar Rapids, Ia., has also secured the management of the Colored Opera House in Iowa City, and will retain Local Manager C. C. Rowley, who has successfully conducted the house for several seasons. Mr. Collier is in New York booking attractions for both houses.

The Grand Opera House at Dubuque, Ia., has been renovated and redecorated, provided with eight new dressing rooms and an asbestos curtain. Owner Wm. L. Bradley will give his personal attention to the management of the Grand this season. Bookings will be announced only a week in advance. Elmer Walter's For Hearth and Home opened the Grand Aug. 11.

It seems remarkable that in a land of civil strife and lingual promiscuity there should be still the love of art that makes possible a national theatre.

SPOKANE, WASH.

Charles Muchlman, who was treasurer of the Spokane Theatre last year, has been promoted to assistant manager. Jos. Petrlich, who was manager last season, will look after John Cort's interests in Salt Lake City and Ogden. The Spokane opened Aug. 18 with the Stewart Opera Co.

The Jessie Shirley Stock Co. closes its engagement this week at the Auditorium Theatre. The house is sold out for the week and the orchestra is under the stage. The company resumes its engagement Sept. 2. Meanwhile Jack Amory will go to Yonkers, N. Y.; Geo. D. McQuarrie, stage manager, will visit his home in San Francisco; C. F. Raiston will go to the Coast, and Manager Harry Smith and wife, Jessie Shirley, will spend a few weeks at St. Joe, Ida.

The Johnny Pringle Co. rested here before July 29, and resumed its tour at Coeur D'Alene, Ida., Aug. 6.

Fred Thompson, advertising agent of the Spokane Theatre, has left with a crew for Idaho and Montana to fill the Inter-state Fair, to be held in Spokane, Sept. 24-Oct. 6.

The Washington Theatre remains open all summer.

Stanito Park and the Nazatorium continue to draw large crowds. E. AXELSON.

Howard Fogg, who operated the Palace Theatre in Ft. Worth Tex., last winter, opened the Home Theatre, Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 4, with popular priced vaudeville. Mr. Fogg has leased the Home for two years and has expended considerable money in improving it. He would like to hear from Prof. Mitchell, the magician; Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Miss L. Martin, Mrs. Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. Milton, Gus Carter and Chas. Martin.

quence in the way of cities in European Turkey. In all of them the nearest approach to the sort of entertainment hinted at is the dancing or whirling dervishes of Adrianople, on whom a separate paper will be given. Their dance, what is more, is a religious affair. Intended to expiate the sins of the Sultan. At Salonica, for the foreign population, merchant-adventurers, consuls and the like, there is a small theatre, but this is practically French in character—French being the polite language of the empire.

The Turkish theatre as we know it, is found only in the homes or harems. Turks may marry up to three wives, no more, but polygamy is on the rapid decline. This is due to the genuine love of the Turk for his wife, and the fact that the more wives he has the less likely is he to be able to support them as they would like to be. Hence, these wives meet among themselves, in the harems or women's apartments. No man except husband, child, or brother, and semi-occasionally, very intimate family friends, may ever enter the harem. There the women remove the veils which they otherwise wear at all times before the opposite sex.

There, then, at such gatherings, dancing girls are hired to entertain, or occasionally, the Turkish damsel herself will take a turn at the dancing, waving her castanets and playing on the tambour.

The old-fashioned idea of the harem, with its odalisques and slave girls is passed. Only the Sultan maintains such establishment, and to it no stranger obtains admission. Slavery, in fact, has been abolished in Turkey, and while there are still many slaves who prefer to remain in bondage under kind masters, shifting for themselves, any of them can obtain their freedom on professing the request to the nearest foreign consul. So the slave dancing-girl is an anomaly that may be Persian, but certainly no longer is Turkish.

The National Theatre of Servia is an interesting institution. Theatres in the Balkans, both at Bucarest (Roumania); at Belgrade, Servia, and Cetigne, Montenegro, are built pretty generally after one style—i. e., a heavy gabled structure of stone, facing on a plaza, or broad open square.

WILLIAMS GOES IN AGAINST KEITH IN HIS STRONGHOLD

Vaudeville Affairs In Boston Take New Turn

Four New Principals Enter The Cast of The Man From Now—Amusement Notes of The Week in The Hub and a Few Personal Items of Interest to Members of the Profession and Others.

IT was with pleasure that the amusement loving public of Boston heard, this week, the first formal announcement that Percy Williams' local house, the Orpheum, lately the Empire, will open early in September with vaudeville of the highest class, for which Mr. Williams is noted. Never before has a manager of Mr. Williams' strength and resource tried to buck Keith on his home grounds, and, as a result we have never had high-grade vaudeville for any length of time at any house but the Keith house. Competition should now be brisk and Bostonians are looking forward to many surprises during the coming season. The Orpheum has been completely remodeled and it is announced that daily matinees will be given with all orchestra seats at twenty-five cents. May success smile upon Mr. Williams and his new venture is the best wish of all.

Four new principals have entered the cast of The Man From Now, which is in its thirteenth week at the Tremont. They are Sally Fisher who has the part of Dora; Gilbert Gregory, Beasley; George Backus, Prof. Forecasta, and Phillip Branson, Pennypacker. Business still continues good.

This is the eighth week of the engagement of John Craig's stock company at the Globe and the last week that Lillian Lawrence will be with the organization. The Gay Lord Que is the offering. Fair houses.

Fra Diavolo is the opera being sung with the full strength of the company at the Castle Square this week, and it is as popular as ever. But one more week of opera remains at this house before the regular dramatic season opens and the summer season has indeed been most successful. The company is strong and the operas have been well mounted. Next week, a mixed bill including Pinafore, Cavalleria Rusticana, El Trovatore and Bohemian Girl.

Every member of the Lothrop stock is familiar with this week's play, Hazel Kirke, and a good performance is being given to good audiences. Charlotte Hunt, in the title role, is as sweet and pretty as ever, while Charles Miller, as young Lord Travers is excellent. Next week, Her Marriage Vow.

Howard Hall in The Millionaire Detective, is the attraction at the Grand Opera House, and he is winning out at every performance. Charles E. Blaney has provided Mr. Hall with strong support, and an excellent performance of a good melodrama is the result. Capacity houses.

Taken as a whole, the bill at Keith's this week is away ahead of the average, and there is hardly an act in the show that does not get rounds of appreciation from the large audiences that have been on hand all the week. At the top are Grant and Hong who have a delightfully funny sketch, A Little of Everything, and closely following are the Gleasons and Houlihan, in a potpourri of singing, dancing and music. Others on the program are E. R. Phillips & Co. in Her Busy Day; Saona, impersonator; Lester and Quinn, wooden shoe dancers; Welch, Mealy and Melrose, comedy acrobats; Zarrow Trio, bicyclists; John Hazard, monologist; Rhodes and Carter, comedy acrobats; Al. Burton, singing comedian; Wallace Truman, comic juggler; Lyric Trio, vocalists; and the kinetograph. The Fadettes Woman's Orchestra still lingers with us and plays away for dear life at each performance.

A good show is being given by the stock company at the Palace and the burlesques are bright, the girls are pretty and the comedians are really funny. In the ollo are the Kimball Brothers, vocalists and dancers; James Murray, monologue; Reed and Center, Illustrated songs; and the Rice Brothers in a comedy bar act. Good business.

There is much doing at Austin & Stone's Museum and the Barkles From the South are going big. Two good shows are given in the theatre, and the place is crowded at every performance.

JAMES E. HARDY, the daring high wire walker, is the top-line attraction in the free circus at Wonderland this week. Mile. Loubet, who was injured last Tuesday a week, is again at work and keeps the loop in an automobile every afternoon and evening. Crowds still rush to this park daily and each week, now that the season is on the wane, seems to make the business better at this resort. One of the most thrilling spectacles that can be seen there is the "broncho busting" act of Miss Annie Schaffer, to be witnessed daily at Kennedy's Wild West and Indian show. Thirty unbroken bronchos reached the park from the west, last week, and since that time Miss Schaffer has been giving public exhibitions of "broncho busting." It is the real thing and she does it well; it goes big.

This week, for the first time in his career, Will Hill, the high wire walker at Paragon Park is leaping the gap on a bicycle every day.

Hill has been a wire walker and high diver all his life, but this is a new one for him and he is performing the feat with the coolness and steadiness of an old timer. The Bowstock show still continues to be the big winner, and the other shows are doing well.

MISS ESSIE FAY

The intrepid lady who presents a trained leopard act with the Big Otto Animal Show, one of George H. Hines' enterprises, at White City, Chicago.

The bill at Lexington Park includes the Quigley Brothers, Irish sketch; Golden Gale Quintet, colored singers; Fred Morton, trick harmonica player; Altman, legerdemain, and the komograph.

Norembege offers good vaudeville which includes the Trocadero Quartet; Videoq and Flynn, Irish sketch; the McAvys, conversationalists; the Wilsons, minstrels, and the Barnards, acrobats.

The friends of Lillian Lawrence are preparing to give her a big demonstration on Saturday night when she closes her engagement with John Craig's Stock Co. Miss Lawrence is leaving because she signed to begin her work with a stock company in Portland, Ore., on Labor Day.

Gilbert Gregory, a new member of the The Man From Now Co., was leading comedian with the Tivoli Opera Co., in San Francisco during the earthquake and he says he slept through the entire seismic disturbances.

It was originally intended to close Wonderland Park, Revere Beach, on Sept. 9, but it has been decided to keep it open until the 15th.

Charles Waldron is constantly making improvements for the comfort of patrons of the Palace, and new seats and furnishings are now being installed.

Matt Ott will have several companies on the road this season, among them The Gibson Girl which will open in New London under the management of Frank Nash, and The Mummys Girl under the management of Tom Miner.

A general invitation has been extended by Liebler & Co., and Manager Lawrence McCarty of the Boston to the select men of the various towns on the Cape to attend the opening performances of Cape Cod Folks.

The front of Austin & Stone's has been redecorated and a new electric sign has been erected that flashes up and down Tremont row to the queen's taste.

Chester Johnston is making one great big hit at the Medford Boulevard Theatre with his daring bicycle act.

Rehearsals of Not Yet, But Soon, Hap Ward's new piece, are being held now at the Majestic and the company has made good headway. Lucy Daly has a queer part that is bound to win out; it is Mary Wise, the Chicken Girl. Ward will open at the Globe on Labor Day.

Frank C. Brown is busy working on the designs for the five Shakespearean plays that are to be given by the stock company at the Castle Square during the winter. These productions will be given on a more elaborate scale than ever before by a stock company.

Wilmer Walter, of the Bowdoin Square, is out of the cast this week, taking his vacation

MISS VIOLET EARLE

The well known elocutionist and vocalist just posing.

In the woods of Maine.

Miss Mary Young will return to the cast at the Globe next week and this news has certainly been hailed with delight by her many admirers.

Princess Trixie, the marvelous horse, which, by the way, has proved to be one of the most popular and profitable attractions at Wonderland, has been engaged as a star feature for the Pittsburg exposition, which opens on Sept. 17.

Johnnie Quigley is manager of the Channing Park Theatre at Westboro, Mass.

H. L. Hertz, the Boston composer, has been appointed musical editor of the White-Smith Music Publishing Co.

W. M. Wilkinson has assumed management of the Man From Now Co.

Alice Yorke, a Boston girl, has been made prima donna soubrette of the Captain Careless Co.

The Majestic will open on Saturday, Sept. 1, and this season will be under the management of A. L. Wilbur, with E. D. Smith as resident manager. The booking will be done through the Shuberts and the list of attractions promised is made of the very cream of theatricals.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Broome, who were married in Lovers' Lane at Paragon Park, held a reception there last Sunday night and over 4,000 people shook hands with the bride and groom. The management netted a nice sum and a neat little nest egg was given the happy couple.

H. Price Webber will open his thirty-second annual tour early in September, with the Boston Comedy Co.

The bill at Channing Park, Westboro, includes Johnnie Quigley, Joe Roth, John Brown, Gray and Gay, Helen Wood, Fred Kaeland, Arthur Fisher, and Musical Director Otto Dolan. This pretty little park is doing excellent business.

An entirely new set of costumes, fresh scenic accessories and a special orchestra under the direction of Frank Darling, are incidental features announced for the Prince of Pilsen which opens at the Tremont, Aug. 27.

FRANK C. VOORHIES, Boston, Mass.

Manager J. F. Given, of the Grand Opera House, Decatur, Ill., returned from New York last week. At Cripple Creek opens the house and among the attractions that come later are The Virginian, The Seminary Girl, The County Chairman, McIntyre and Heath, Walker Whitesides, Buster's Holiday, Francis Wilson, Arthur Dunn, Louis James, The Marriage of Katty, At Yo Sow, The Duchess of Devonshire, We Are King, Forty-five Minutes From Broadway, The Pit, Rogers Brothers, The Glimbread Man, The Squaw-Man, Sons' Band, The Heir to the Marrah, It Happened in Nordanland and The Prince of India.

Blekkel and Wroble, in Tom, Dick and Harry, do not play a single one-night stand during the season. It is an easy matter to get good time for these popular stars.

Henry B. Irving, who will be seen in America under the management of Nixon & Zimmerman, has opened his English tour and produced Paula and Francesca and Maurice, both of which will be in his repertoire here. A cablegram thus tersely tells the success of the former play: "Remarkable enthusiasm. Irving great, company splendid; curtain and speech at finish."

THE PLANS

Of One Night Stand Companies

For The Coming Season—A Lot of New Ones Will Go Into The Provinces.

MELVILLE B. RAYMOND will go into the show business in earnest this season. He is putting out nine attractions, and the way they are framed up each and every one of them looks like a winner. His most pretentious attraction is Little Jack Horner, in which Master Gabriel will be starred, and after a few weeks of one-nights, the plan is for him to go into New York for a run.

The other attractions that Mr. Raymond is sending out are: Little Nelly in Miss Boopie Knute Erickson, who will be promoted to the star in The Seminary Girl (and he well deserves it, for he has been by far the best thing in the show); Buster's Holiday (two companies); Williams & Walker in Abyssinia; In Gay Sartoria; Cole & Johnson in The Sho Fly Regiment, and German Brothers' Minstrels, which opened the Grand Opera House in Philadelphia Aug. 18.

Cole and Johnson open their season at the Majestic Theatre in Washington, Aug. 20, and Aug. 28-29 open the new theatre in Elkins, W. Va. Milton Gundek is managing the company; William Voight is treasurer, Philip Tolson for several years with Harry Beresford, is three weeks in advance, doing special press work and Charles Beresford has the undignified title of advance agent. Besides Bob Cole and Rosamond Johnson or man in spite of his Christian name, the company includes Tom Brown, Bob Keeler, Sam Lucas, and many well-known colored performers. The company goes through Texas in the double quick, making one jump from Parkersburg, W. Va., to Hannibal, Mo.

Holden Brothers' The Denver Express, which is managed by R. J. Ravencroft, opened at Alliance, O., Aug. 6, and made a few towns around Pittsburg and gets into West Virginia in time to open the majority of the houses. The roster is: Ralph J. Ravencroft, Harry F. Bannister, Al. Bernard, Thomas L. Wolfe, Clark Zella, Brown, Leon R. Holden and Miss Crystal Vizard. The Denver Express has been getting money right along in spite of its age, and made $48,000 last season, which is a larger profit than many mere pretentious productions could show.

Fremian Fiske is in advance of The Denver Express for the first few weeks of the season and closes in a few days to take the management of Bert C. Whitney's My Wife's Family. Fiske is one of the great number of good agents and the boys are delighted to hear he has secured the well deserved promotion to a responsible place in the Whitney Shows. C. M. Currier will be ahead of The Express during the season, having joined late owing to his having engaged to paint an entire new scenic equipment for that show.

Harry L. Clark assumed his duties as advance agent of the Murray and Mackey Stock Co. at Athens, O., where the show opened Aug. 13.

Miss Lydia Powell is starring in A Mad Love, under the management of Ed. H. Salter, and the attraction is getting dollar prices. At Cumberland, Md., there were 224 seats at $1.00.

The title of Hap Ward's new play is Not Yet, But Soon.

The following attractions are booked to appear at Fairmont, W. Va., during the coming season: The Denver Express, Cole and Johnson in The Sho Fly Regiment, The Pit, Peck's Bad Boy, Buster's Holiday, The Warning Bell, A Crown of Thorns, The Isle of Spice, Fantana, Williams and Walker, Deserter at the Altar, Brown of Harvard, The Seminary Girl, John Henshaw in Captain Carless, Mildred Holland, Ninety and Nine, Paul Gilmore in At Yale, Vogel's Minstrels, Under the North Star, Mrs. LeMoine, Guy Standing, York State Folks, Clarke in The Ragged Messenger, As You Sow, The Press Agent, Porter J. White in The Proud Prince, Simple Simon, Rosalie, Buster Brown, Louis Mann and Clara Lipman in Julie Bon Bon, Al. G. Field's Minstrels, What Happened to Jones, The Lion and the Mouse, The Squaw-Man, Rebecca Warren in A Mad Love, The Show Girl, Ikey and Abby.

The moving picture show at Wheeling, W. Va., belonging to Edward G. Irwin and Robert H. Adams, of Martin's Ferry, O., has been sold to Thomas M. Blatchley; consideration, $200.

Clifford Watson, of the Pernich-Behlert Stock Company, at Knoxville, Tenn., is learning to use a typewriter. He is progressing very slowly.

The season at Harry Beeson's West End Theatre at Uniontown, Pa., will open Aug. 31 with Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch. Among some of the attractions that will play him early in the season are Little Johnny Jones, Will Banks and Walker, The Prince of Pilsen, The Rollieking Girl, The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast, Prince Chap and The Virginian.

Miss Juanita Baker has entered suit against David Thompson, proprietor of the opera house at Williamsburg, Pa., for $20,000 damages.

Miss Baker was a member of the Ritter Concert Co. and the house caught fire during the performance. She claims she received injuries due to the defendant's neglect to provide fire exits and fire escapes.

Watson Blekel and Wroble, in Tom, Dick and Harry, do not play a single one-night stand during the season. It is an easy matter to get good time for these popular stars.

Henry B. Irving, who will be seen in America under the management of Nixon & Zimmerman, has opened his English tour and produced Paula and Francesca and Maurice, both of which will be in his repertoire here. A cablegram thus tersely tells the success of the former play: "Remarkable enthusiasm. Irving great, company splendid; curtain and speech at finish."

W. H. TRUEHEART

Mr. Trueheart is of the vaudeville team of Trueheart, Dillon and Burke, and he has been spending the summer as stage manager of the theatre at Flood's Park, Burts Bay, near Baltimore, Md. Mr. Trueheart has had considerable experience and he has obtained much recognition for his work as a producer and manager. This winter he will manage the Gayety Girls, one of Weber & Rush's attractions.

paying houses during July and early August found it a hard proposition. The people in that section have a very short summer and the avowings for these few weeks were so pleasant that the agents could not persuade them to go to the theatres, no matter how well the attraction was known. Business from now on will be good. Since the middle of the month it has shown a decided improvement. W. A. Brady's Way Down East made its second tour of this way down east country to big houses, and other attractions are doing equally as well.

Allan McHall, who spent the most of the summer at his home at Parkersburg, W. Va., is now ahead of The Royal Chef, which opened its season at Aurora, Ill. The company goes through to the coast and then makes California and the southwest, arriving in New Orleans during the holidays.

V. A. Varsity is putting on a home talent at Morgantown, W. Va.

Will Bryant, Karl Lanham, Miss Florence Bryant, Will Skelley, Will Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bryant and Miss Maude Cratchett are the players in the Bryant Stock Company, which is a boat show that goes from McKeever, Pa., this fall.

R. E. MEREDITH.

BROOKLYN, N. Y.

As seems universal, the season opens early in Brooklyn. Unfavorable weather has injured business somewhat at Coney.

The Majestic Theatre opens Saturday evening with The Yankee Consul in the cast of which will appear Harry Short, Isobel Carroll, William V. Strauss, Elaine Von Thiele, Charles Jacklin, Margaret Flavin, Nannie Brennan, L. R. Jefferson and Wallace Jenkins.

The Imperial, recently acquired by the Empire Burlesque Circuit, opens Aug. 18 with Watson's Burlesques.

The Star, of which Archie H. Ellis is manager, opens Aug. 18 with two different companies, one of which will be a new attraction called the Behman Show and which will afterward appear over the Eastern Burlesque Wheel of houses.

Percy G. Williams will soon open his Orpheum Theatre with first-class acts and his Gotham and Novelty Theatres, all in Brooklyn, during September.

Hyde's Blue Ribbon Girls, at the Gayety, is the best attraction that Mr. Hyde has ever put upon the road.

Manager Lew Parker announces that DeWolf Hopper in Happyland will open the Shubert Sept. 5.

After being thoroughly renovated and greatly improved, the Grand Opera House opens Aug. 27 with The Convict's Daughter.

His Honor the Mayor will be the initial offering at the New Mountaint Sept. 3.

The Deluge has met with so great a success at Coney Island that Manager H. A. Bradwell is considering an offer to reproduce it at one of the large parks at Atlantic City.

H. A. Bradwell is building twenty-five boats for the Mardi Gras and Prince Plenty Carnival, to be held at Coney Sept. 17-23.

Morris Belfield, of White City, Chicago, was a recent visitor to Coney, and it is stated that while here he made arrangements for a production of the Deluge, to be made at the Chicago park next season.

Leonard Wolf, of Sans Souci Park, Chicago, Ill., was among the recent visitors to Coney.

Geo. H. Hinman, of Whi's City Park, Chicago, visited Dreamland this week.

Members of the Actors' Home, of New Brighton, Staten Island, were the guests of Ex-Senator Reynolds at Dreamland, one day this week.

Bergen Beach is rolling up the most successful season it has ever seen.

Herr Hendrickson and his untamable tiger, Tammany, continue to supply thrills at Bowtuck's, Coney Island. There are many other good numbers on the bill.

P. J. Mundy's Animal Show has made so great a hit at Coney Island that it will no doubt be a regular attraction for several sessions to come.

Park managers from the leading cities are offering special inducements for reproductions of Rolla's Creation and Pharaoh's Daughters, both of which have been a decided hit at Dreamland.

Frank C. Bostock has added another rare collection of animals to his wild animal show at Dreamland.

Mrs. Tom Thumb gave a reception to the midgets at Coney last week. Festivities were held in the Dark shooting enclosure.

GEO. H. HAKES.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Cincinnati is at least going to be a ten spot in theatricals this year, and if it isn't considered in the trump series by both the high-class circuits then we make our guess. Therefore, lack of opposition didn't create any particular desire on the part of the syndicate to send us the biggest, newest and best, and theatregoers seemed contented with the average run of plays. But there is going to be something doing this year. We don't know how much fun is going to fly, but it is a cinch that there is going to be a warm time and that before spring theatregoers will be sitting up and rubbing their eyes.

This week John J. Ryan, owner of the Olympic, secured a temporary injunction against Cliff Berzec of the Europa Trained Animal Show appearing at Chester restraining him from appearing at the park because of an alleged contract the theatre manager had with the animal man to appear at the Olympic next month which contract prohibited the appearance of the act at any other theatre or park until after it had fulfilled its engagement at the Olympic. Upon the hearing the judge refused to continue the injunction and the suit was dismissed the plaintiff failing to prove its contract.

Pauline Hill, in herself, was a most happy hit at Chester this week with the Chester Park Opera Co. in her support. Grace Cameron will lead the company next week in The Telephone Girl, which attraction will close the opera season at Chester. Altogether it has been a notable engagement and Messrs. Brown, Rogers, Manager Martin and others are in line for congratulations.

Better than ever, Andy Gardner and Ma Nodell and the Bohemian Burlesquers opened People's Aug. 11 and continued all this week playing to crowded houses. There are two good burlesques. A Day in Arizona and Fun in a Sanitarium, and a well balanced show. Agnes Behler and Dave Marion lead the company next week in Dreamland.

THIS Davis Theatre entered its second week with Rice, Gandy, Bobby North and Rosmary Gloss in the principal roles of Fiddle Dee Dee, and with an increased seating capacity of over three hundred. Turnaway houses continue to rule nightly, and the Davis Brothers and Harry Jones are highly elated. A four weeks' run is predicted for the James Co.

Messrs. Howell and Dodge's Central Theatre had a good week's run with The Black Flag, and this week the production of The New South is in progress with Mr. Will Walling in the principal role. Managers Howell and Dodge have generously tendered the use of their tent on Sunday evenings to Dr. Wm. WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington will have a new theatre in the near future. Messrs. Weber & Hatch have awarded the Gen. A. Fuller Co. the contract for the construction of a new fireproof theatre to be erected on the east side of Ninth street near F. The building will cost $150,000 and will be constructed entirely of steel and cement. It will be known as the Gayety.

Luna Park will celebrate Alexandria County Day on Sept. 3. Miss. Gail, manager of the park has announced his intentions of donating $100 in prizes to be contested for in various events. The different counties have appointed committees, as has Luna Park.

The Nassau Ladies' Band, now playing a return engagement at Luna Park has scored the biggest hit of any band which has played the park this season. They have the distinction of being the only band outside of the regular Government bands, to play in the White House grounds, which they did on their previous visit, giving a free concert in the President's private park.

Speaker & Alom's new production, $10,000 Reward, which is booked at the Academy week of Aug. 29, has the sweetest line of paper of any melodramatic production on the road, using exclusively pictorial paper.

Owing to the closing of the Drury Grand Opera Co., the Majestic is dark this week.

The Chase opened Monday, Aug. 18, to a crowded house.

The Montgomery County Agricultural Society have been granted a license to allow pool selling on the horse races at the annual fair which will be held Aug. 21, 23 and 24.

THE SEVEN AGES OF THE ACTOR LADY

The Chorus Girl
Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How they wonder what you are—
Sylph or fairy, nymph or toy,
Crimson lips and eyes so coy.

The Ingénue
Twinkle, twinkle, dainty star,
Now they wonder who you are,
Shining out in parts so cute,
They beguile to call you "Beant."

The Soubrette
Twinkle, twinkle, buxom star,
Champagne suppers; cabs, no car,
Meets him at the hack stage door,
Marries rich and sings no more.

In Vandeville
Twinkle, twinkle, pretty star,
Belle of twenty, plays guitar;
All rigged out in lace with care;
Eyes of jet and face so fair.

The Circus Girl
Twinkle, twinkle, graceful star,
Rose of pink and frills there are;
Happy, joyful, bold and gay;
Seeks not spotlight nor Broadway.

The Comedienne
Twinkle, twinkle, happy star,
Jolly soul is what you are;
Tickle 'em good with verse and song,
You won't be it so very long.

The Star, the Star
Blinking, blinking, lonely star,
Paint and powder that you are;
People scratch their heads and wonder
What good angel keeps you yonder.

TAMPA, FLA.

Talk about your winter quarters, how about Tampa? We have the finest winter climate in the country, no overcoats, open street cars the year around. Have a population of 45,000. The cigar industry predominates, there being 15,000 cigar makers employed here and all get good money. Bad or immoral shows stay away. No room for you.

The Metropolitan Theatre continues to grow in popularity, and the Lawrence and Gonzales Stock Co. is playing to crowded houses. Ed. Jordan, an old time favorite, and Frank Baldwin and Mae Wallace, have recently joined. Chas. C. Parsons will again be manager of the Tampa Bay Casino, making his seventh consecutive season in that capacity. He attended the Elks' Convention in Denver.

Johnny Smith, the popular stage manager of Tampa Bay Casino, has been in New York for the past six weeks.

The Casino is undergoing repairs. The Budweiser, formerly the Buckingham, continues to play to good houses with vaudeville and comedy. Bob Donelson is proprietor and manager, and Bill Kennedy is stage director.

Ed. Jordan, formerly manager of the Criterion and Metropolitan theatres in this city. He sold out and opened a hotel and cafe, but the charms of show life clung to him so that he sold his new industry and went to Atlanta where he played a successful ten weeks' engagement at the Star. He is a good all-round comedian and we are glad to see him back at the Metropolitan.

The scene in front of Grauman's National Theatre each night reminds one of the Orpheum when it was located on O'Farrell street, when lengthy lines of ticket purchasers were lined up at the box office. The excellent bill at this house comprises Miles Bros., acrobatic ring act; Rosley and Roselle, comedy sketch; Brothers Lutz, armless wonders; Irene Franklin, prima cornetist; Edith Donby and Co. and the latest moving pictures.

At the Greater Novelty the following bill was presented and capacity business reigned the entire week: Dracula, boneless wonder; Tennyson Trio, musical act; Mendel and Co., in a humorous sketch; New York Comedy Four, Rosley and Roselle, comedy sketch; Brothers Lutz, armless wonders; Irene Franklin, prima cornetist; Edith Donby and Co. and the latest moving pictures.

The Wigwam and Mission Theatres are always crowded owing to the splendid bills which are put on weekly. The new theatre for the Mission district, which will compete for public favor with the above theatres, will be called the Lyric, and will be devoted to vaudeville with prices at ten and twenty cents. It will be under canvas and managed by the Novelty Circuit. Its seating capacity is 1,200.

The Kendrick Skating Rink Co. has filed articles of incorporation. It has a capital stock of $20,000, of which $4,000 has been subscribed. The directors include Louis Wiener, Joe A. Kendrick, Richard J. Kendrick and Max Holmar.

W. H. Leahy, formerly manager of the Tivoli Theatre, and now president of the Police Commissioners, was robbed of $4,000 on an Elks street trolley car recently. He exercised his authority to the extent of arresting the man he accused of the theft.

OAKLAND NOTES

The presentation of The Little Minister by the stock company at Ye Liberty Theatre caused this house to be crowded during the entire engagement. Trilby, the following bill, is also doing good business.

 Sept. 3.—The Majestic, with Richard Golden in The Tourist.
 Sept. 10.—Herald Square, with Lew Fields in 'Round the Town.
 Sept. 24.—The Broadway, with The Prince of India.
 Oct. 1.—The Princess, with Margaret Anglin in The Great Divide.
 Oct. 8.—The Liberty, with Eleanor Robson in Nurse Marjorie.

THE VAUDEVILLE OUTLOOK

Judging from present indications New Yorkers will be supplied during the coming season with the best vaudeville bills ever seen in the city. The opposition between Percy Williams and Oscar Hammerstein on one hand and the Keith & Proctor interests on the other, promises to bring before New Yorkers the cream of vaudeville gathered from Europe and America. The Williams and Hammerstein bills, always famous for foreign acts, will include some of the very best acts which the European market affords, and the Keith & Proctor agents abroad have also been active in booking acts from European halls. Mr. Williams will continue his policy of presenting a few exclusive acts in his New York, Boston and Brooklyn theatres and his promise to bring back Vesta Victoria and Vesta Tilly for brief engagements at his houses has already created a vast amount of advance interest. Foreign acts have not heretofore been conspicuous in the make-up of the bills at the Union Square, but now that Keith & Proctor houses are allied, there will be a much greater proportion of top-notch entertainers brought from Europe to entertain what have heretofore been exclusively Keith audiences.

The line up of vaudeville houses for New York and the Bronx from present indications will include, Percy Williams' Alhambra and Colonial; Keith & Proctor's Union Square, Fifth Avenue, Twenty-third Street and Fifty-eighth Street; Hammerstein's Victoria, Tony Pastor's and Hurtig & Seaman's Music Hall. Concerning the last mentioned house, rumor has been switching it back and forth from vaudeville to a house for Columbian burlesque shows all summer, but the chances seem in favor of the house continuing as a vaudeville resort. The Family, up in Harlem, will continue to present good vaudeville at cheap prices. Percy Williams contemplates the erection of a vaudeville house for the Bronx which may or may not be a complete fact before the coming season is ended. In any event there will be enough vaudeville houses to entertain that large proportion of New York theatregoers who fancy vaudeville as their favorite entertainment.

THE MANHATTAN AGAIN OPENS

Several interesting incidents centered in the opening of the Manhattan Theatre on Monday night, Aug. 6, for the Wagenhals & Kemper production of Kreutzer Sonata with Blanche Walsh as the star. The play was cast as follows:

Raphael Friedlander.....George Sumner
 Eva.....Eleanor Carey
 Hattie.....Blanche Walsh
 Celia.....Helen Wren
 Samuel.....William Wadeworth
 Ephraim Fiddler.....William Travers
 Bella.....Jessie Ralph
 Gregoire.....Alexander Von Mitzel
 Natache.....Lana Linden
 Albert, Hattie's son.....Master Richard Story
 Neva.....Beulah Thompson
 Shakesley.....David Wright

Wagenhals & Kemper thus won the first round in the fight which had earlier commenced in the newspapers between that firm of managers and Harrison Grey Fiske. The play which had been presented by Miss Walsh in Chicago two years ago was then made familiar to The Billboard readers and requires at this time no extended comment. It is interesting to note in connection with the present event that the play has been produced in a theatre which had been under control of Harrison Grey Fiske up to the end of last season and which now becomes the arena for a theatrical fight in which the ex-manager of the house is one of the principals.

It was announced when the Manhattan closed for the season, that the house would be torn down to make room for the Pennsylvania Railroad passenger station. During the summer, however, it was discovered that work upon the new structure would not be so far advanced as to include the Manhattan Theatre site for some months to come, and Wm. A. Brady secured the lease of the house until Jan. 1.

IN REHEARSAL TIME

Just at this period every hall available for the use of company rehearsals is occupied morning, afternoon and night by organizations preparing for the road. The theatre stages of houses which are dark are also in use to the fullest extent. If it were possible to gather the information, a most interesting list of theatrical attractions and players to be engaged therein could be compiled in this city just at this time. A great majority of the engagements which are to be made for the forthcoming session have now been consummated, and manager and player are turning their attention to the serious work of preparing for the road. The big producing managers and scores of independent companies are included in this list, and the burlesque organizations are to tour the Empire and Columbian circuits all help to swell the total.

The burlesque situation in New York, by the way, is still rather indefinitely defined. It seems certain that the Murray Hill Theatre will be devoted to attractions playing the Eastern wheel shows. This house seems to be the only definite location the Columbian people have thus far secured. The Empire circuit controls all of the old line burlesque houses. This means that their companies will play one week engagements at Miner's Eighth Avenue, Miner's Bowery, The London, The Dewey, The Circle, and The Gotham—six weeks in New York City. In Brooklyn the Columbian people have a better representation and they have ness of singing for the benefit of society with the pleasure of a summer vacation, and has been engaged by the Shuberts to play the part of Marquise Kloto in Fantasia.

Gus Hill has begun the rehearsals for his big production of Around the Clock which is to open its season in Asbury Park on Sept. 10. Mr. Hill states the production represents a $50,000 investment and that there will be sixty people in the company.

The Annie Russell Company which is to dedicate the Astor Theatre, Aug. 31, with A Mid-summer Night's Dream will be 107 strong. Miss Russell will play Puck for the first time. Among the members of the company are Osmond Yorke, Lionel Adams, James Young, Lansing Howan, Thomas Coddin Cooke, Ethel Hunt and Helen Ware.

Selma Herman is to bring some gowns of royalty before popular-priced audiences this season in Queen of the Convicts. P. H. Sullivan, press agent, is our authority for the statement. Through European agents Miss Herman has purchased a number of dresses used by the young Queen Wilhelmina of Holland. These agents have also sent here a number of implements, such as guns, swords and weapons of like sort which were used in the revolution which overthrew the dynasty of King Alexander and Queen Draga.

Manager A. W. Cross has arranged the tour of Lawrence Evert in We Are King, to open Sept. 1 in Butler, Pa. For the supporting company Harry Schley, a nephew of Admiral Schley and Flora Mae Hansen are recent engagements. Manager Cross will also again direct the tour of Walker Whiteside, for whose support he recently signed Richard Sherman and Mand Shaw. Mr. Whiteside's tour opens about the middle of September.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Jim Winterburn returned to Chicago last week after a ten days vacation in New York and Atlantic City.

E. W. Beall, the Billboard representative at Alton, Ill., was among recent callers at the New York Office.

Max Rosenberg is here from Cincinnati, arranging his fences for the coming season.

Milton Rose and Robert Wood have bought the rights to present in vaudeville The Twentieth Century Burglar act, used for some time and with much success by Hall and Staley.

Attractions at the American Theatre open this season with a Monday matinee. Other matinees are given on Wednesday and Saturdays. John M. Ward is continued with great credit to himself, as house manager for this, his second, season.

THE BESSES O' TH' BARN

Lovers of good music in America are promised a genuine treat in the forthcoming concert tour of what is said to be the oldest orchestra that ever came to our shores, and which arrived recently from England to begin upon a tour which will not only include the United States, but will extend to Australia where on December 7 next they will open the International Exposition. The intervening time will be devoted to concerts in the big cities and some of the smaller towns in this country.

The organization, which is entirely of brass, is composed of thirty members under the leadership of Mrs. J. H. Illes and is known as the Royal Besses o' th' Barn Band. For over one hundred years the band has been handed down from father to son in the land of roast beef and brown October ale, and is now making its first visit to the United States. They go in for classic music as well as lighter airs and are as familiar with Wagner, Mozart and Beethoven as they are with God Save the King. When at home all the time they get for practice is in the evenings after they have finished their day's labor.

Every member of the band is an officer of some sort, and he plays music because he loves music. Some of the men are mill workers, others soap makers, blacksmiths, shoemakers or wheelwrights. The band is composed exclusively of Lancashire men, and it is supposed to be the finest collection of semi-amateur players in Great Britain.

At the royal command the band recently played before the King and Queen. King Edward declared that it was the finest music that he had ever heard. President Loubet requested the band to go to France, and it played in Paris. President Loubet congratulated the members of the band on its fine work and told its leader, J. H. Illes, that its playing was superior to even the band of the famous French Garde Republic.

GOSSIP

Brighton Beach Park got into the limelight again on Saturday night, Aug. 11, when a exhibition of Lloyd's Jubilee Fireworks was given in the enclosure which was suddenly vacated by Pawnee Bill's Wild West a few weeks ago. Every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday for the next ensuing few weeks these displays will be given.

On Dangerous Ground opened its engagement at the Thalia Theatre on Saturday night, Aug. 11, to permit across the Pacific to make a long railroad jump to its next stand.

The vaudeville at Henderson's Music Hall, Coney Island, will employ, for week of Aug. 13: Max Witt's Colleens, the Lefell Trio, Ante Carver, the Flye Romanos, Val Ireno Brothers, the Galliani Trio, Redford and Winchester, Hallen and Hayes, Marzella's Cockatoos, Olivatti Troubadours, Anna Chandler Gourley, Keenan and Gourley, the Trans-Atlantic Four, Marion and Pearl and the Sharples.

Rice's Girl from Paris, after three crowded weeks, closed at Manhattan Beach, Aug. 11 and was succeeded Aug. 13 by Joe Weber's Stock Co., which then began its road season which will last until after the New Year and terminate in the annual spring engagement at Weber's Music Hall.

Seeing New York which has been running on the New York Roof, Wistaria Grove, since June 5, will end its run Aug. 18 owing to the fact that several principals employed in the production are compelled to begin rehearsals for their regular road season.

Louis James has called his company together for rehearsal of The Merry Wives of Windsor, at his country home Monmouth Beach, N. J., where recreation and business will be combined for two weeks. The season opens on Labor Day, Sept. 3, when Mr. James will dedicate Frick's new Lyceum, Red Bank, N. J., and there commence his transcontinental tour that extends until March at which time he returns here to inaugurate his New York with a privilege of continuing as a tenant until such time as workmen are ready to begin demolishing the structure.

Her appearance at the Manhattan marked Miss Walsh's debut as a Broadway star, and it seems to have been a lucky chance for her that Harrison Grey Fiske had decided to present Madame Kallich in Kreutzer Sonata. Madame Kallich appeared in this play at a local Yiddish theatre some five years ago and the knowledge of her excellent work at that time determined Manager Fiske to present her in an English version of the piece. When Mr. Fiske made this announcement, Wagenhals & Kemper maintained that in as much as Miss Walsh had appeared in an English version of the piece two years ago, the rights to presenting the piece in English were theirs. They immediately announced that they had intended to present Miss Walsh in the play at the New Astor Theatre. Some statements were made that they had originally intended to dedicate the theatre with Miss Walsh in Kreutzer Sonata.

Mr. Fiske stated that he would present Madame Kallich at the Lyric Theatre on Sept. 10, and this announcement impelled Wagenhals & Kemper to rush Miss Walsh into the Manhattan four weeks ahead of the time that Madame Kallich is due at the Lyric. Legal complications have already arisen, and it is likely that the lawyer's fee incident to straightening out the tangle will amount to considerable. At all events the fight is apt to attract unusual attention to the play, and it is likely that both managers will profit accordingly.

better houses than the Empire management will have. The legal complications which earlier threatened to envelop the Dewey, Circle and Gotham in a wreath of lawyers' fees seem to be in a fair way to be straightened out, although until the various burlesque companies get into actual operation the definite outcome will not be positively known. It seems certain, however, that the Sullivan & Kraus houses are lost to the Eastern wheel organization, and The Colonial Am. Co. gains redress, it will come only after long drawn out court proceedings.

$1,000 FOR A SKETCH

Not since the days when George M. Cohan devoted his pen to the work of sketch writing have we learned of as much as $1,000 being paid for a vaudeville sketch. But we now have the word of Philip Mindel, who grants out a fine line of special press work for vaudeville artists that Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hughes have paid that much money as a prize for the best sketch obtainable. This fat plum went to Fred J. Beaman and its title is Suppressing the Press. Mr. Beaman is a newspaper man from Milwaukee and so known that the press collectively can not be suppressed. Recently at Keith & Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre, New Yorkers set their seal of approval upon the new sketch in which Mr. and Mrs. Hughes seem to have gotten the worth of their money.

COMIC opera and musical extravaganzas will not monopolize the Chicago theatrical bill of fare during the coming season. Maude Adams will be seen at the Illinois in Peter Pan, and Ellen Terry, Charles Wyndham and Kyrie Bellew are included in the list of dramatic stars announced by Manager Will J. Davis.

We are to have a dash of London comedy and opportunity to consider several of the recent New York successes that have been having long summer runs in the East. New productions will come thick and fast, while the old favorites, such as The Wizard of Oz, The Yankee Consul and The County Chairman, will be reproduced.

Familiar faces in new make-up will be seen—among them Lillian Russell, who will appear for the first time in a strictly dramatic role; Nella Bergen, Anna Held, Marie Cahill, the Rogers Brothers, Joe Weber, Richard Mansfield, Robert Mantell, Otis Skinner, Ezra Kendall and Wilton Lackaye.

GREAT RECORD FOR ILLINOIS

The Illinois Theatre will pass into the season of 1906-7 with a record not attained by any other Chicago theatre, if indeed any theatres in America. For the last three years its doors have been open continuously, save for a fortnight two seasons ago.

Last year George M. Cohan, with Little Johnny Jones filled almost the entire summer season at the Illinois, Richard Carle playing The Mayor of Teklo the few weeks that Mr. Cohan demanded for preparation for his coming season. This summer The Lion and the Mouse has played every night and two matinees each week so far, and the play is booked to continue up to and including Saturday night, Sept. 1.

The regular season of this playhouse will begin Sept. 2, with a new musical production, entitled The Free Lance, the book by Harry B. Smith and music by John Phillip Sousa. The company will be headed by Joseph Cawthorne, Nella Bergen and the clever comedienne Jeanette Lowrie. Others in the cast are Fanny Midgley, Dorothy Southwick, Albert Hart, George Schiller and George Tallman.

Following this engagement, which is for a fortnight, Lillian Russell will occupy the stage of the Illinois for an equal length of time, as it will be Miss Russell's first appearance in strictly dramatic work.

Succeeding attractions at the Illinois include a tempting array of musical and dramatic entertainments. Chief among these will be the Fritz Scheff Opera Co., the Savage Grand Opera Co. and the Nixon Opera Co.

For the lighter forms of musical entertainment, a new musical comedy brought by Charles Frohman from Europe, Anna Held and Marie Cahill are promised, while musical farce will be supplied by the Rogers Brothers and Sam Bernard, the latter going back to his success of two seasons ago, when he played the rich Mr. Hogenheimer, the leading comedy part in The Girl From Kays. This season Mr. Bernard will have a musical farce with The Rich Mr. Hogenheimer for its title.

AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Joe Weber, who made Cincinnati famous, appeared at the formal opening of the Grand Opera House, Aug. 20, in Twiddle Twaddle, with its girls of all nations and its popular comedian coming direct from the Manhattan Beach Theatre, New York. Two Chicago girls are included in the company, Flora Zabelle and Bonnie Magin, both of whom have made good in the east.

The Wizard of Oz, unhappily without Montgomery and Stone as the Scarecrow and the Tin Woodman, but with many new features, will appear at the Grand early in the season, running two weeks from Sept. 16. Wilton Lackaye, in a new play by Milton Royal, author of The Squaw-Man, is another of the Grand's early attractions. Mr. Lackaye also will attempt a classic role in a production of Les Misérables.

Mrs. Fliske has a new play this year, which she will first try on Milwaukee, and then bring here. The New York Idea is the title of it.

Richard Mansfield in Shakespearean repertoire, has been booked for a five weeks' engagement at the Grand. During his stay Mr. Mansfield will bring out two new productions, the titles of which have not yet been announced.

Mr. Hopkinson, pronounced by all who have heard it as even more clever than Charlie's Aunt, which sent a smile rippling around the world, is another of the Grand's promised attractions.

James K. Hackett, in The Walls of Jericho, will be seen during the winter at the Grand. Other coming attractions at this playhouse include The Little Stranger, an English comedy to be played for the first time in America in New York next month, by an English company; The Girl Behind the Counter, another production of John Bull's Land; Ezra Kendall, and Robert Mantell in a two weeks' Shakespearean repertoire.

MANAGER WARREN'S PLANS

Plans for the new season at McVicker's show the return of many former season's favorites and successes, together with some new faces and plays.

Mizpah will be tried on the dog in the South Bend, Ind., kennels on Sept. 1. The next night it will begin its engagement at McVicker's.

The season at McVicker's opened Saturday night, 18, with James O'Neill in a revival of Monte Cristo. Other familiar plays for the early part of the season are 'Way Down East, which will have the usual Thanksgiving week engagement, and in Old Kentucky, without which Christmas and New Year's would seem lacking in savor. play, Eileen Asthore, and Blanche Walsh in a possible revival of The Kreutzer Sonata and in her repertoire are events of the time before the New Year.

Dockstader's Minstrels, with the usual number of novelties and Kellar, the marvelous, with new illusion, are also promised. Thomas Jefferson in Rip Van Winkle, the play so closely identified with the Jefferson name, and George M. Cohan's Little Johnny Jones, with Bobby Barry as Johnny, are new features in Manager Geo. C. Warren's program.

Last season's success, Rev. John Snyder's melodrama, As Ye Sow; Checkers, and Mrs. Wigga of the Cabbage Patch are to return. The spring time at McVicker's is in some doubt, and no announcements have been made as to that period.

EBERTS HAS GOOD BOOKINGS

There will be plenty of musical comedy at the Great Northern during the season. In the way of comic operas Manager Eberts announces The Yankee Consul, Peggy From Paris, and Wonderland.

Bedford's Hope, which has been enjoying a long run, will hold on until the opening of the regular season. Then Rose Melville in her role of Sis Hopkins will hold the center of the stage. That will be followed by the Irish actor, Fliske O'Hara, in a musical comedy, entitled Mr. Blarney of Ireland. Then in succession will come Ernest Hogan in Rufus Tustus, David Higgins in His Last Dollar, William and Walker in Abyssinia, Billy B. Van in The Grand Toy and Jack Ward in his new play, Not Yet, But Soon. George Sidney will appear in the new edition of Busy Izzy, and may be expected sometime in midwinter. Nai Wills has a new comedy which he will bring to the Great Northern. Following him will come The Rags, and Eva Tanguay, the Sambo girl, in a new musical comedy.

Among the stars to appear at this theatre are the Four Morts in an acrobatic and musical skit, and little Miss Cecil Spooer, of Brooklyn, in a brand new play, The Girl Raffies.

Hanson Brothers' Fantasma again will delight lovers of magic, while Arizona and Texas, melodramas so popular last season will have separate weeks during the winter.

The County Chairman, Buster Brown, Behind the Mask and Ethel Barrymore's beautiful play Sunday also have been booked at the Great Northern.

BUSH TEMPLE PLANS

Miss Elizabeth Schobert of the Playhouse Stock Co. at the Bush Temple Theatre, has returned from New York with her artists engaged and the majority of the plays selected for the coming season. Miss Schobert prefaced her announcement by stating that there would be neither leading man nor leading woman at her theatre this season. Every actor has been engaged to play whatever parts may be assigned by the stage manager, a clause in the contract which will avoid the possibility of a recurrence of the troubles which threatened to close the season at the Bush Temple earlier than intended last spring. At the same time, following this plan should bring out the best that is in each member of the company.

The season will open on Sunday, Sept. 2, and the opening bill is yet to be announced. Miss Schobert has a goodly list to choose from, for the following plays will be among those presented during the fall and winter: If I Were King, The Proud Prince, The Crisis, Cousin Kate, The Girl With the Green Eyes, The American Lord, The Dictator, The Unforseen, Iris, The Girl and the Judge, Brother Officers, Hearts Courageous, Glimmering Gloria and The Masqueraders.

Among the newcomers in the company is George Farren, who will play the heavier leading parts and character roles. Henrietta Browne, late of the Yorkville Theatre in New York, will be seen in emotional and other leading parts. Robert Lowe, formerly with Blanche Walsh; Olive Skinner, who has played ingenues in 'Way Down East and Sky Farm; and Harry L. Franklin from the Proctor theatres, are other acquisitions. Of last year's company Morris McHugh and Kate Blanche will again assume, respectively, the character comedian and the character woman roles. Others returning for another season will be Elizabeth Goodall, Jean Adair, Thurston Hall, Adolph Lestina, Eugene McGillan and James W. Castle, who will be stage director.

LA SALLE OPENS SEASON

The La Salle Theatre opened Saturday, 18, with The Time, the Place and the Girl, by Adams, Hough and Joe Howard. The piece is being staged under the direction of Ned Wayburn, the eastern producer.

The story of the new offering is interesting. It has to do with the escapades of Johnny Ticks, a gambler. The scene is laid in the mountains of Virginia at a "rest cure." A quarantine is established and many complications arise. Guests of the sanitarium are forced to do their own housework, owing to the help being unable to return.

Some of the numbers introduced in the new play are I Don't Like Your Family, by Miss Florence Holbrook, Thursday's My Jonah Day and Blow the Smoke Away, by Cecil Lean. Uncle Sam's Best Girl and Wanling Honey-moon, by Olive Vail. It's Lonesome To-night, by Florence Holbrook. First and Only, by Thomas Cameron, and Symptoms, by Miss Georgia Drew Mendon.

THE STOLEN STORY

One of the distinct local novelties of the early theatrical season will be the first western production of The Stolen Story, a play based upon Jesse Lynch Williams' story dealing with American newspaper life. This piece, which was brought out in Boston in the late spring, where it scored a success, will be presented by Henry W. Savage at the Studebaker beginning Aug. 27. A big production and a strong cast are promised by Mr. Savage.

PLAYS AT POWERS'

Told in the hills at Powers' Theatre terminates its engagement Sept. 8. Mr. Arden and the company provided by Will J. Block have now presented As Told in the Hills for eight weeks, and the engagement will be almost a record-breaker for a dramatic attraction in Chicago in summer.

William Faversham is to return to Powers' Theatre next month with The Squaw-Man, the run of which suddenly was curtailed last autumn in order that an open booking at Wallack's Theatre, New York, might be utilized. That sudden switching of dates resulted in a seven months' run at Wallack's, and it is only now that the play has been released from New York and comes back to Chicago to finish out the interrupted period.

CHICAGO'S PRODUCTION MONOPOLY

Chicago has a monopoly of the midsummer production of theatrical enterntalments and this year its record has caused considerable wonder and some slight degree of admiration among the producers of other cities. While not all the plays have been whirlwind successes, few of them have fallen flat, and at least three of them that faced the hot weather only to be withdrawn after a short time certainly would have made quite a different showing during the winter season. Beginning with The Student King, there have been produced in rapid succession in this city during the summer the following plays: The Coward, The Alcayde, Told in the Hills, Children of Men, Madcap Vicki, A Strenuous Life, Rose Valley, My Best Friend and The Senator's Vindication. The Three Graces, produced in the spring, may be included in this list.

GREATEST AMERICAN ORCHESTRA

The Theodore Thomas Orchestra, conducted by Frederick Stock, has begun its series of concerts at Ravinia Park under most flattering conditions. In all America there is no other orchestra which has a firmer hold upon the people of its home city than the Theodore Thomas organization has upon Chicagoans. To say that it is the greatest of American orchestras is only to repeat what has been said a thousand times by the leading critics of this country and of Europe, and there is scarcely a Chicagoan of intelligence who does not know of the great influence this organization has had upon the development of musical taste in this country.

In all America, too, there is no other summer amusement enterprise which so closely clings to high ideals as the Ravinia Park enterprise. Art is its password, and anything less than art finds no room in the beautiful garden. The programs played by Theodore Thomas' orchestra are not a whit less choice than those offered in Orchestra Hall during the winter.

To the friends of the orchestras, and they are legion, the present series of concerts offers an opportunity for again bearing their favorite musicals. The size of the crowds that gather at Ravinia proves that this army of friends does not intend to let the opportunity pass by unheeded.

BUSY CHICAGO PLAYWRIGHTS

And now another literary light is to break into the dramatic field. Josiah Flynt (Frank Willard, Chicago), the author of Tramping with Tramps and other studies of the underworld, has been working on a play based on his own experiences in the world of tramps and criminals.

According to the plot, as he revealed it to a friend, the play will be more of a thrilling melodrama than a psychological document, and what is even more interesting, is the fact that Mr. Willard has written a part that he is anxious to play.

William A. Brady is said to have recently received from a Chicago playwright a new eleven-act play, entitled Futurity and Facts. Inasmuch as Brady figures out it would take nineteen hours to enact this imitation of a Chinese melodrama, he has quickly abandoned all thought of producing it.

Messrs. Adams, Hough and Howard lay claim to being Chicago's busiest playwrights. Last week they had three shows playing in Chicago and another on the road. Two of the shows are absolutely new and the latest is The Time, the Place and the Girl, at the LaSalle.

Here are the productions from the pens of Messrs. Adams, Hough and Howard: Land of Nod, The Umpire, The Road to Mandalay, The Time, the Place and the Girl. Handing four shows at once is no cloak and the work of an author includes long interviews with actors, property men, costumers, musical and chorus directors, musical publishers, electricians, and consultations with actors and actresses.

Then comes the work of cutting and fitting the parts to suit the actor. While Adams and Hough have been busy with all this, Joseph E. Howard, the composer, has not been idle. Mr. Howard has his troubles with the arranger and music publishers, and many times is called on to write a new song on short notice.

Thebe, the first vandeville offering of the Ben M. Jerome Amusement Co., presenting William Rock and the eight Lotus Girls, was the feature attraction last week at the Spring Brook Park Casino, South Bend, Ind. The act goes to Cleveland this week, there to commence a tour over the Kelch Circuit. The miniature opera promises to set fashion in vandeville.

Mystery still surrounds the title of the new opera by Ben M. Jerome, soon to be produced in Chicago, and Mr. Jerome is planning a surprise in the matter of the star who will head the company in the production.

FAMOUS HORSEWOMAN SCORES

Helene Gerard, who styles herself "Empress of the World's Equestriennes," went a long way towards making that title good at the Olympic last week. Since her importation from Paris, by the late James A. Bailey, for the first American tour of the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, following its return from Europe, in 1903, Miss Gerard has appeared with signal success in the leading parks and vandeville theatres of this country. Her Arabian horses are beauties, and they are put through a series of evolutions at once intricate and entertaining. Olympic patrons gave the dashing French woman an exceedingly hearty welcome last week. Others on the hill were Margaret Wycherly & Co., in a clever Protean sketch, in Self-Defense, which met with instant favor; Selma Braatz, one of the smartest and most sensational jugglers; The Three Leightons, in a One-Night Stand in Minstrelsy, which made a hit; Rae and Brosche, in a pleasing offering, A Woman of Few Words; The Four Bowery Newsboys, Aurie Bagwell, The Comedy Coltours, Millard Brothers, Jugglers and Stark, Morris Jones, Cole and Clemens in an Irish sketch, My Uncle's Visit; Robertson's Dogs and the Pringle Trio.

At the Majestic were George Evans, Marle Walwright and Sheridan in a slugabed sketch, Our Baby; Smith and Campbell, Stein Erreto Family; The Three Olivars, Forrester and Courthouse in a comedy, A Fisherman's Luck; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kely in A Tale of a Turkey; Eckhoff and Gordon, Jack Miller, Clara and Radcliffe in Kely's Reception; Juggling Neola, Berline and Boy, Maud Delmar, and the Pringle Trio.

Business at the vaudeville theatres last week was eminently satisfactory.

AT CHICAGO PARKS

Schlizony's Hungarian Knaben band was the musical attraction at White City last week and met with a cordial reception. The organization is well trained and one of the best in the world. Miller's Elephants were featured in the Hippodrome. Manser Meagher's offering in the Bijou vaudeville theatre included: Suasall and Razall, comedy sketch artists and musicians; Virginia Proctor, violinist; LaVerne and Marsden, in a sister act; Peter J. Smith in new illustrated songs; the Van Der Koors in a new sketch, entitled The Magician and the Yip; the Mysterious Gaanda Manus, and the knodome.

The Riverview Park management gives out the statement that it has entertained more than 2,000,000 visitors this summer, and that the gate receipts up to Aug. 1 were 50 per cent. greater than they were for the entire season last year. Pain's pyrotechnical spectacle, The Last Days of Pompeii, is one of the big magnets that are drawing the crowds these nights. While Pompeii is a big feature, there are "others." Herold and his band began a two weeks' engagement Sunday, 12. Capt. Soroch's Deep Sea Divers, Hollins Animal Arena, the Igorites and all the shows are doing capacity business. Although it is some distance from the closing days at Riverview, plans are already being made for a blaze of glory for the last week of the season. It will be known as Mardi Gras week, and there will be elaborate special features for every afternoon and evening. The carnival idea will be carried out on a big scale, and the grounds will be decorated and illuminated for the week. The date will depend upon the weather.

At Sans Souci Park the scenic railway is running after a stoppage of a few hours for the placing of additional safety rails. Vladimar Orloff, the Russian refugee, is mystifying the public with his demonstrations of how easy it is to free himself from handcuffs, manacles and chains. Henry Phelps makes balloon ascensions every afternoon and evening. The vaudeville theatre last week offered Weatini, lightning change artist; Robert DeMont Trio, acrobatiques; the Pierces, a musical duo, and Harry Harvey, Hebrew impersonator. In Midget Land the little people offer several new vandeville numbers, together with a new play staged by themselves. Vessella's Banda Roma continues to delight Sans Souci's patrons.

Ski jumping at the Chutes has proved a most sensational and novel sport. Captain Carl Howelsen, the world's champion, who won his honors while an officer in the Swedish army, has started spectators by his exhibitions. His leap into the air far above the heads of the crowds and plunge into the lake 100 feet or more from the point of the rise causes thrills in plenty. In order to give increased impetus to his downward flight, a superstructure seventy-five feet above the highest point of the Chutes, a structure has been constructed. An extra spur has been added to the bottom of the Chutes to permit the ski rider to jump from a point twenty feet above the grade. The best leap made by Captain Howelsen has been 110 feet.

NEW ENGLISH OPERA CO.

The Standard English Opera Company is a new organization which will tour the medium-sized cities of the central west, beginning Oct. 1. In a way, it is a return to the old days of the Chicago Church Choir Opera Company. Two nights will be played in each city, presenting the popular operas The Bohemian Girl and Martha. The principals and chorus will be young people well schooled, though fresh, young voices, and, as the aim of the organization will be to give the smaller cities musical productions on a plane above that they have been accustomed to, the project merits success.

A CHAT WITH BEN JEROME

Of the several new theatrical organizations which have come into being in Chicago within the past few weeks none has brighter prospects of success than the Ben M. Jerome Amusement Co., whose offices are located on the ninth floor of the Schiller Building.

The company is unique in that in it, probably for the first time on record, a composer has come forward as his own producer. The story of Mr. Jerome's past successes, however, makes it safe to say that the lack of precedent is certainly not detriment. There have been few greater money makers produced in the past decade than The Royal Chef and The Isle of Spice.

The main object then of the Ben M. Jerome Amusement Co. is not the indiscriminate production of works by other authors but the production of those works of which Mr. Jerome is the composer.

The first offering of the new organization is the novel vandeville act Thebe, which scored heavily on its initial production at the Majestic and Olympic theatres in Chicago, and which has just commenced a tour of the Keith-Princtor Circuit.

In conversation a few days ago Mr. Jerome told of the hopes and plans of the company.

"These are the facts," he said, "and these are the things we are going to do in the near

WORK ON NEW THEATRES NOW BEING PUSHED RAPIDLY

Affairs In Philadelphia On The Qui Vive

Things Are Being Put Into Shape For The Opening of The Autumn Theatrical Season—Several Changes and Substitutions in Management Noted—Experiment of Daily Matinees Auzurs Success—Review and Comment.

ALTHOUGH the weather is uncomfortably hot our people have the "show" fever bad and are flocking to the open theatres in droves. After the remarkable opening at Bianey's on a scorching hot day everybody said there would be a slump in business but there wasn't as much as people looked for. Business kept up to more than a profitable point and the week was a big one. The National opened on Aug. 11 to a full house and business has been very good so far. The experiment of daily matinees as yet has not been a howling success, but sufficient people have attended to show that after the weather gets cool there will be big houses present every day. A bunch of theatres are scheduled to open Aug. 18, and by the first week in September there will be few theatres closed in this city.

Work has started in earnest on our new theatres. At the Wm. Penn Theatre all the excavations have been made and the work of putting in foundations is going on rapidly. At the Edwin Forrest Theatre digging has started and a big force of laborers is making the dirt as if they meant business. At the Adelphi Theatre the work of tearing down the buildings that formerly were on the site is almost finished and work will go on steadily from this on. The German Theatre is finished and will be dedicated early in September. Not much work has been done on the new Jewish Theatre, but the projectors claim that they have all the capital necessary and that they will soon make a contract with a firm of contractors who will guarantee to finish the theatre in record-breaking time.

W. V. Jennings, who has been the manager of the Utopians for four years will be the new manager of the Bijou Theatre, succeeding Col. Sam. Dawson, who goes to the New Monumental in Baltimore. Mr. Jennings takes hold of a theatre that is in perfect shape and as he has had much experience he should make the house a bigger success than ever.

Word comes from Atlantic City that George Buford, manager of the Atlantic City Billposting Co., has gone and done it. He was married on Aug. 8, and his friends are now dredging him with packages of rice, old shoes, etc. It's just like George to take up a new contract in his busiest season, but as he always makes good he will no doubt get away with this one in the right manner.

Harry Davis now has five moving picture theatres running and all are doing well. He still has his eyes on several expensive corner locations, and as soon as he can gobble them up will start more of these shows.

On the eve of another theatrical season and because I believe that a theatrical paper should assist all as much as possible, I herewith give the names of the dramatic editors of the different newspapers in Philadelphia for the coming season. They are all good fellows, and it would be a wise thing for all advance agents to paste this in their date books so they can be able to approach these newspaper men in case they have to and not have to go fishing for their names. The following are men you can spring your "pipe-dreams" on and if they let them get by it will be because they think you are a good fellow and not because they believe your concocted yarns: Harry Knappe, Inquirer; J. O. G. Duffy, Press; P. J. Doyle, North American; H. B. Crevens, Ledger; H. Delches, Record; Hildebrandt Fitzgerald, Item; C. Howard Campbell, Telegraph; William Perrine, Bulletin; John Stratford, Sunday Transcript; James L. Hall, Sunday Dispatch; Max Henrich, German Gazette and Dr. Barkow, German Daily Democrat.

A. DeUnger, who has been manager of the Camden Billposting Co. for a number of years has been compelled to give it up on account of his increasing law business. Mr. DeUnger took a great interest in the plant, and as it was a fact with him was always devising some new methods of improving it. The increase in his regular business, however, compelled him to give it up. The new manager is Jewel Smith.

Dad Miller, the oldest living billposter, has entirely recovered from his attack of rheumatic gout and is now out of the hospital. Dad says he missed the smell of paste so much that he got lonely. If nothing out of the way occurs Dad looks as if he might live to celebrate his centennial anniversary.

Charles H. Yale has been the busiest man in forty states the past month. In addition to

FRANK MURRAY

Frank Murray has been identified with amusement organizations since 1886. This season he has one of the best attractions at Sans Souci Park, Chicago. Midget Land, under his direction, is making an excellent financial showing, and is a feature that pleases the patrons—big and little—of Chicago's pioneer amusement park.

rehearsing and getting ready five of his own shows he has had to direct the shipment of scenery and props for sixteen other shows that he equipped at his theatrical studio.

Walter L. Main and W. J. Ferguson have been in town for several days. The Cummings Wild West is loaded this way and will play many towns in the immediate vicinity.

Sousa and his Band are now at Willow Grove Park and will finish out the season which closes on Labor Day. Business has been very good since this band started in. The other parks are also doing fairly well with the same line of attractions as they have been presenting all summer. If the weather keeps warm they will remain open during September in the hopes of getting clear and warm Saturdays and Sundays to give them a little profit for the season.

Business on one-night stands through Pennsylvania should be good this winter. Most industries are in good shape and there are less talks about strikes than is customary at this season of the year.

S. Lubin, the maker of moving pictures has a number of new films in course of preparation at his mammoth studio in this city that will create a surprise when they are put on the market.

Agents from New York have been scouring this city in search of chorus girls, but their quest was in vain. All the available girls here were signed long ago.

BOB WATT.
Philadelphia, Pa.

ST. LOUIS, MO.

Col. Lew Sharp opened the renovated and improved Columbia Monday night with Carter's Dogs, Hayward, Conrey and Hayward, Al. H. Weston & Co., Howard and Bland, Apel and Summer, Joe Flynn, Master Slaton and the Globe of Death.

Cooled by immense electric fans, the Imperial Theatre opened Sunday much prettier than ever. D. E. Russell is manager. The Cowby Girl was the opening bill.

At Forest Park Highlands this week is the Mardo Trio, Clayton, Jenkins and Jasper, Mills and Morris, the Five Musical Brides, Baader-Lavelle Trio and Wild and his airship, Maude Fealy in Mistress Nell is making an excellent impression at the Suburban Garden, Ethel Fuller is appearing in Blue Jeans, and The Mocking Bird is the production at Delmar Garden.

Gregory's Moscow has been doing nicely all week. It is an excellent production.

Jerry Hunt, of the C. & A. Railroad, and well known among the travelling professionals, died last week after a short illness.

E. Sherman Danby, of the Hagenbeck Show and Steve Wood of the Whitney Shows, were in St. Louis long enough to meet their friends. Both report business satisfactory.

JOHN M. WEIHE

John M. Weihe, the well known general agent, is this season advance manager for the Capt. W. D. Ament Independent Shows. Mr. Weihe was born in Chicago twenty-eight years ago and he began his career as treasurer of the old Funke Opera House, Lincoln, Neb., when Col. Robert McReynolds was manager of that theatre. Following this he was engaged with the Hutchins Imperial Stock Co. for two years, after which he spent a season each with Depth of a Woman's Heart and A Russian Spy. Last year he ventured into the carnival business as press agent and advance representative with the New Parker Amusement Co. Rather a varied experience, but one well calculated to make a competent agent.

H. L. Missie has joined the Van Amburg Show as press representative.

J. L. Wallrapp has landed some concessions with the Lamps Park Carnival.

Dan. S. Fisheil is due to arrive here Aug. 26 to take up his duties as manager of the Garrick Theatre. There never was a St. Louis boy more popular.

The Standard opens next week with the Emperors Burlesques. Manager Leo Belchenbach is having his house redecorated.

Manager H. E. Rice of the Globe Theatre has returned from Chicago.

Nathan France has made a decided hit at the Alps with his orchestra and business has been great. Genevieve Clark Wilson is the soloist this week.

WILL J. FARLEY.

MINSTREL

Bryant's Famous Minstrels were a grand success on their return engagement at Coney Island, Cincinnati. Manager Englebrecht has a winner in his burnt cork aggregation. The singing contingent equals that of any company on tour and there is a bunch of heralded performers. Something new in the first part setting is being provided for the company before it opens for its road tour Sept. 5, at Springfield, Ohio, after which it goes to the coast. All is bustle around headquarters in Cincinnati as the troupe will play a few more park dates before beginning its regular season.

MUSICAL

A. F. Rehm, our correspondent at Savannah, Ga., has composed a song, entitled "I'm Going to Live On Chicken Till I Die," and it is now in the hands of the Popular Music Pub. Co., of Chicago, Ill.

C. E. Anderson's Jolly Star Opera Co., featuring Marie Cotter, opens Sept. 7, at Marshall, Ill.

PRESS AGENTS

And What They Accomplish.

Means Employed and The Necessity for Originality That Demands Resourcefulness and Ability.

By LAWRENCE T. BERLINER.

PROMOTERS of publicity have become a necessity in any form of theatrical enterprise or amusement. Some years ago the articles prepared for publication by the men engaged for that purpose would not do justice to the poorest one in that occupation. Any article could be served up and passed by the city editors, who were not the censors the wielders of the blue pencil are to-day.

The press agents of to-day, as a rule, are college bred, perfect gentlemen with a suave manner and a genial personality that at once makes them friendly with whom they come in contact. Once on good terms, it is not a difficult task to accomplish their purpose, which is, of course, to have their story given to the readers of the paper.

And the stories of to-day, as a rule are good ones. Readable and spicy, accompanied by photographs, it takes a hard hearted man to turn down one of them. He knows the ideas originate in the mind of the man who bands in the article yet so well is it written that he dare not refuse it for fear of another publishing it and gaining the glory of a "scoop."

In former years, the press agents were thought of only in conjunction with the tented enterprises. A noted example of these is the far famed "Toddy" Hamilton, whose achievements for the Barnum & Bailey Show won him glory which still clings to him.

Then the theatrical managers believed it would be good business policy to have some one conjuring remarks about the star and leading man and arousing the interest of the public. Anna Held and her milk bath was one of the best box office fillers. The story even went so far as to have the actress haled into court on suit of the man who supplied the milk which was to beautify and clear the lady's skin.

When Mrs. Pat Campbell was announced as a coming attraction much was printed about her nervous temperament. This gave the press agent an idea. When the noted actress really arrived in New York so much had been printed that the man knew it would take something extraordinary to gain extended notices in all the papers.

He knew that the actress was nervous; everyone was aware of that. So he gained permission from the Board of Alderman to pad the streets surrounding the hotel she occupied with tannery, in order to deaden the sounds of all traffic and permit her to obtain the rest she needed for her first night.

This story came through the regular channels to the papers, as the press agent knew it would, and while the city editors tore their hair in rage the stories were published with photographs and the result was that the English actress was talked about for days to come. Much adverse criticism was aroused over the favoritism shown and the agitation was continued for days and people fought to secure tickets days ahead.

The press agent who can arrange a story that will come to the editors through their reporters has made a success of the business. Those are the articles that must be used for all the other papers will have them and it would not do for one to be left, and, knowing this, the diamond robberies, lost and stolen dogs, and other similar stories flourished for a time until the editors warned the reporters that no more would be accepted. Then the public ceased to hear of this and that actress losing her collection of diamonds, some from the crowned heads of Europe, and no more dogs were lost or kidnapped.

The recent tour of the noted French actress, Sarah Bernhardt, was the means of allowing a good press agent to thrive and gain the actress many notices. The tour being under the management of gentlemen not entirely friendly to the so-called Syndicate, of course the actress would not be permitted to appear in houses controlled by it. This was the nucleus for the story. A large tent was arranged for, seats were ordered and the lady, who was barred by the syndicate, was mentioned in every newspaper in the land and, even in her own dear Paree, the story was published under headlines which made it attractive. This energetic agent arranged days ahead to have wood burned on the lot where the tent was to be erected through Texas, claiming the noted actress could not have her health endangered by the germs which might lurk in the soil. It worked and it worked well.

Press agents are not confined to amusement enterprises. Every concern of any prominence has one now a-days. The Standard Oil Company recently engaged a well known man at a fabulous salary to meet the attacks of the papers. Where formerly a reporter who endeavored to gain information at the offices of the great trust was met with distrust, now he is welcomed by the press agent, who makes him comfortable, hands out cigars and tells him how good the company is and how it is being wronged by everyone.

A certain railroad with headquarters in New York has a man at a good salary whose business is to keep the public posted on what it has done what it is doing and what it will do. The company recently arranged to adopt electricity as motive power on one of its divisions up New York State and immediately every paper was supplied with news of the event.

The press representative is here to stay. The editors know he is necessary and have decided to use his efforts if they are worthy. The man who thinks up something new is the man the managers are looking for, as no commonplace stuff has a chance of getting into type. New words have to be coined to meet the demands of the hour, but the men in the business are equal to the task, and without them our papers would sometimes be dull reading, we must admit. The articles usually are instructive and amply repay one for reading them through.

JIMMY LUCAS

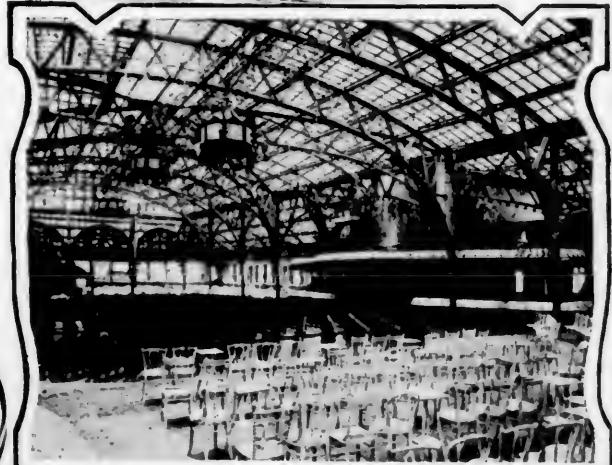

Jimmy Lucas entered the show business when he was twelve years of age as card and call boy at one of Kohl & Castle's theatres. That was nine years ago and during the interim Jimmy has been going some. He is now presenting in vaudeville a singing and dancing character impersonation and has been pronounced a tremendous hit in the western houses. He is booked solid for the season, including return dates in the Keith and Orpheum theatres.

THE DIFFERENT GIRLS ON BROADWAY.

By JOHN MOORE.

THE well known society, The Terriers, of music hall, vaudeville artists and good fellows generally, had an election of officers last Saturday, when George Preston was elected to the chair and you're truly had the honor of being elected to the vice chair for the second time in succession.

The last river outing of the Society having proved such a success, it was unanimously decided to hold another on the 26th of this month, when a large and influential gathering may be expected.

I am sorry to have to chronicle the death of Manager Frank Weeks of the South London Music Hall. He was an old and respected member of the Terriers and will be sincerely mourned by the Music Hall profession generally.

Jesse Sparrow, the much-respected president of the association, is about to open the Metropole Theatre Camberwell as a first-class music hall, as he is immensely popular with the press, public and professionals alike, he ought to make a success of it.

Fred Willis, the ventriloquist and vice-president of the above society is thinking of taking a trip to America this coming fall. I guess he'll soon be grabbed by some smart American manager.

In spite of the sultry weather, the theatres and music halls seem to be doing fairly good business.

The coolest performer at present in London, I should say, is Louis de Bougemont who rides a turtle round the Hippodrome tank twice daily.

Ferdinand Genseretti, of the Genseretti troupe of acrobats, brought an action against Harry Richards, an American Music Hall proprietor, for breach of contract and got a verdict for $500 pounds and costs.

What? What next? That London evening rag which tried for cheap notoriety by criticizing Mr. Beerholm Tree and The Newcomers before the production, is having another desperate fling for the cents. For a long time it has been giving away pickles, tea, salsages, cigarette cases, etc., with the proviso that you paid a shilling for an ad. They went one better than tea and pickles a few days ago. They published a coupon which admitted the holder half price to certain theatres and music halls. As I write, this rag-owned practically by a noble Lord is giving away half a pound of Lipton's tea. If it goes on like this, we shall soon be able to get the necessities of life and an occasional theatre ticket thrown in simply by purchasing an evening paper.

JOHN L. TOOLE DEAD

Mr. J. L. Toole, the great comedian, died on the night of July 30, at Brighton, aged 74 years. The last of the successful plays produced by Mr. Toole at his own theatre, was Mr. J. M. Barrie's, "Walker London," in 1892. It was soon after this that his old enemy, gout, caused his retirement from the stage and he had lived at Brighton practically an invalid ever since. But he was surrounded by hosts of friends, who lavished every care on the aged comedian. There was a striking contrast between the grave, almost motionless, old man that might be seen on a sunny morning on the sea front and the agile comedian who had kept a whole theatre in merriment every night for nearly thirty years. He always cherished a belief that he would one day return in the panoply of his former strength, and cheerfully asserted that he was not of a retiring disposition.

ANNOTATIONS

Fred Niblo, the great American story teller, has made such a hit at the Palace that he has been re-engaged for a further period of a month.

The music halls are strengthening their programs in view of the August holidays.

See See, at the Prince of Wales' Theatre, has fairly caught the fickle fancy of the great British public and money is being turned away right.

Fred Niblo did an "extra turn" on Monday. It was at the law courts where he gave evidence as to "custom" in engaging troupes. Fred told the court that he was only a fifth of the show. Get along!

Glasgow has been holding a great out-door carnival somewhat on the American plan. There are dozens of side shows, and all of the fun of the fair goes merrily. More outdoor carnivals are wanted in Great Britain.

The London County Council has decided to let the "island site" in the Kingsway, stand to a syndicate at a yearly ground rental of $5,000 pounds. Theatres, cafes, etc., are to be erected on the site, and, when completed, will be conducted on French lines.

After going it for one hundred nights at Wyndham's Theatre, The Girl Behind the Counter doesn't seem tired a little bit. Neither are the patrons. Miss Isabel Jay's delightful style and charming singing is as sprightly as ever. She looks good for another hundred.

The famous Besses o' the Barn Band will tour through the States and Canada. They left England last week, with Mr. Dan L. Bowen in charge. Altogether they will travel some 30,000 miles before returning to this country.

Mr. John Tiller the well-known stage dancing master, says that he can not find dancers. America needs them badly and he could send out to the States two hundred competent girls if he knew where he could find them.

Harry Nichols is going into vaudeville bnaless, appearing in a sketch.

Among newcomers at the Palace are Mr. Jas. Mooney and Miss Ida Holbein in a novel American musical act.

The proposal, made some time ago, to take over the Coliseum and re-open it as an opera house has been recently revived.

There is some talk of Albert Chevalier and Madame Yvette Guilbert joining forces for a combined American tour.

Carl Hertz, I understand, was to sail July 27 from New York to London. His trip to America was to see his old father once more. Hertz is a great favorite in Great Britain.

A LESSON FROM NEW YORK

Again a dramatic critic has offended a thin-skinned manager who is peevish because a fullsome and candied critic was not sent to his revival of a play which had been reviewed at length by said critic months before.

H. A. Baughan of the London Daily News is the culprit and Arthur Bourchier the actor-manager is the aggrieved one. No tickets were sent to Mr. Baughan for the first performance of "Down Our Alley." So he presented himself at the box-office of the theatre and suggested that the omission was the result of an oversight. The reply given by

I find, I solemnly profess,
That scarcely two in twenty meant
Their criticisms to express
The managerial sentiment,
Nor is their first consideration
His approbation.

How oft in their rebellious way,
When just as here I quote, he says,
"Do notice this revival, pray."
Will they send us no notices?
As if the order managerial
Were immaterial!

Against them, then, should theatres
Be shut—I've often stated it—
Till of his notice each avers
The manager dictated it,
And shows to this effect a voucher.

ZEB'S STORY OF THE MURDER

Concerning the shooting of Walter G. High tower, professionally known as Zarrow, of the Zeb and Zarrow Troupe, at Highland Park, Houston, Texas, Monday night, July 30, by Special Officer Lowendowski, Jolly Zeb, his partner, known in private life as Fred G. Ferguson, testified before the examining justice as follows:

"On Monday night, July 30, at about 7:45 o'clock, my wife, the deceased, and three children were sitting at a table on the lower gallery of the hotel at Highland Park. The deceased was sitting partially on the table and the officer at the park came up and pushed him off the table without saying anything. The deceased then stood up by the table, leaning

EDWARD S. WHITING

To Edward S. Whiting is given the credit of introducing the skating rink into the south. He now conducts a string of these popular amusement places, with headquarters at Birmingham, Ala., and they are all meeting with first-class patronage. Mr. Whiting is also an out-of-door enthusiast and his friends say that he will be elected president of the Southern Polo League.

business manager of the theatre was, at first, evasive, but ultimately it was admitted that Mr. Bourchier, having been dissatisfied with the treatment that "Brother Officers" had received, had instructed his representatives not to send an invitation for the present production. In his own account of the incident Mr. Baughan points out that the sin which had so sorely wounded Mr. Bourchier was one of omission. "Brother Officers" having been very fully dealt with on its first hearing, was not criticized upon its revival, for the very good reason that a rush of other and, in the opinion of those best qualified to judge, more urgent news rendered the publication of a second notice impossible.

"I need not point out the want of logic on Mr. Bourchier's part," says the exiled critic. "He refused admittance to Mr. Walkley because that brilliant critic had written too much; he has refused admittance to The Daily News because nothing was written at all. Nor does it end there. For since January this year I have been invited to criticize The Fascinating Mr. Vanderveldt and The Third Time of Asking, so that Mr. Bourchier must have nursed his resentment in bitter silence for a long while."

The incident has inspired the poet of the Daily News to sing thusly:

The cup of bitterness I drink,
My very heart for pity sighs
To know dramatic critics think
They sometimes ought to criticise,
Nor give the manager dominion
O'er their opinion.

HAVE RECONSTRUCTED THE ATRE

The reconstructed New Brunswick Theatre, at New Brunswick, N. J., represents an additional investment of $35,000, and it is now to all appearances one of the best grand floor theatres in the state. The spacious lobby and foyer are models of decorative art and the interior is all that comfort and good taste could require. The five hundred orchestra chairs are handsome and roomy and the balcony and gallery, increasing the seating capacity to 1,200, are large and well arranged. The stage is 60 feet wide, 35 feet deep and 35 feet to the gridiron, making ample space for the largest productions.

The house was run for a great many years by R. Shortbridge, but it was purchased last season by Geo. Litterest, Geo. II. Lehmann and Louis Wiswell, who conducted it so successfully that they decided to reconstruct the house, hence the present enterprise.

FRENCH LIKE AMERICANS

Geo. M. Jackson, of the Jackson Family, writes: I take great pleasure in writing you of our great success in Paris. We opened at the Olympic July 15, making the greatest hit ever scored by a bicyclic act and taking four curtain calls. The Olympic closed July 21, and we opened at the Pratania the following day. After the first performance we were engaged for four weeks to head a strong bill.

We go from Paris to Amsterdam for one month, Aug. 18 Sept. 15, to play the Circus Carre, then to Hanover.

Paris is a great city, and as we have but one show a day we have plenty of time to look around. There are a great number of Americans over here. The French people think a great deal of Americans because they spend lots of money. It is worth full ten years of hard work to get to spend a year in the French capital.

We are enjoying the best of health and are proud of our success so far from home.

MANAGER POTTS RESIGNS

Col. Ike S. Potts has resigned from the management of the John W. Vogel Minstrels, a position which he has held with credit to himself and honor to Mr. Vogel and the profession for the past fifteen years. Mr. Potts will take the management of the High Street Theatre, Columbus, O., succeeding Charles Harper.

Col. Potts wants to spend a season off the road. Traveling has become irksome to him he may decide to remain stationary. During the he may decide to remain stationary. During the last twenty-five or six years Col. Potts has been identified with only four enterprises—Sells Brothers Circus, Dan Sully, The Al. G. Field and The John W. Vogel Minstrels, a record of which few can boast. His many friends on the road will miss him greatly.

DOONE SUCCEEDS MURPHY

Kenneen & Westfall will again direct the tour of Allen Doone, whom Joseph Murphy has selected to succeed him in his old success, Kerry Gow. The tour opens at Sidney, C. B., Aug. 27.

This firm has also been successful again in securing the charming player, Miss Florence Gale, and they have this time signed a contract for several years with her to star in first-class productions. "Love's Victory," by Margaret Mayo, will be Miss Gale's starring vehicle this season and she will appear in only first-class theatres.

MORSE RECEIVES DIAMOND

One day last week, Frank E. Morse, who has been spending the summer with his brother at Danvers, Mass., celebrated his birthday and about thirty of his neighbors came in and presented him with a beautiful two carat diamond ring. Afterwards a big fish fry was greatly enjoyed by the party.

Mr. Morse is now in New York rehearsing his A Trip to Egypt Co., which shortly takes the road for a forty weeks' tour, which will embrace part of Mexico and much of the west.

STILL IN EVANSVILLE

The older professionals will remember John Albecker, the old theatrical manager and former proprietor of the Apollo Gardens and Cook's Park, Evansville, Ind., and they will be pleased to know that he is now manager of the Elks' Club, at Evansville, one of the finest club houses in the country. To Mr. Albecker is given the credit of "discovering" Paul Dresser and Chas. Gardner, whom he found with a patent medicine show.

GOING TO THE FRONT

Ted Sparks, the enterprising amusement promoter of Kansas City, Mo., is fast forging his way to the front ranks of America's most successful amusement contractors, and if his present ardor continue, he will be a leader in his particular line ere another year has rolled around.

Mr. Sparks is thoroughly versed in his line, having been connected in various capacities in the amusement field for the past sixteen years.

ENGAGED WITH PRINCESS OF IRIS CO.

Eddie Leslie and Miss Carrie have signed with Mildred and Etouclare for the Princess of Iris company to open the season Monday, Oct. 1, at Ridgewood, N. J., for a tour of twelve weeks. Mr. Leslie will be known hereafter as Edward A. Leslie. As a mimic he is in the front ranks of American artists.

SHOW GIRL WANTS DAMAGES

Miss Junia Baker, of the Ritter Concert Co., is reported to have entered a damage suit for $30,000 against David Thompson, proprietor of the Williamsonburg, Pa., Opera House, because of alleged injuries received when that house caught fire in February. Miss Baker alleges that Manager Thompson was responsible for her injuries because he did not provide proper exits and fire escapes.

Dramatic

The Hickman-Bessy Co. has been in town for several days, rehearsing new plays for the coming season and opened there for a three nights' engagement Aug. 6. The plays for which they have secured the rights and which they are now presenting are: The Wayside Inn, The Derby Winner and When the Bell Tolls. The business manager of the Hickman-Bessy Co. for the coming season is to be P. C. Parker, who was formerly connected with the same aggregation, but who has been at the head of his own company for the last two years.

James T. McAlpin's Hans Hanson Co. opened its eighth annual season at Coal City, Ill., Aug. 11. The roster is: Miss Dolly Foster, owner; Jas. T. McAlpin, manager; Bert Bragg, advance; Martin Bowers, stage manager; C. F. Myers, props; Rold Thompson, master of transportation; C. M. Johnson, electrician; Gus Randolph, leader of band and orchestra; A. R. Basford; Will Morris, H. V. Parr, R. H. Knight, Frank Vilim, Fred C. Clark, F. W. Lawrence, Wolf, Ada Martin, Adeline Carlson and Baby Gladys.

The roster of the Russell Comedy Co. playing under canvas is as follows: E. G. Russell, manager and proprietor; E. G. Russell, treasurer; Wm. F. Foss, stage manager; E. G. Russell, leader of band; Prof. Felt, leader of orchestra; Mrs. George Hartman, piano player; Jack Hart, bass euphonium; Grover Grogan, bass property man; Geo. L. Deavlyn, George Russell, Richard Kattman and Pearl Basell, who introduces her trained dogs as a special feature.

D. A. Heilman, last season with Bentfrow's Jolly Pantomimes, is in advance of the Jewell Kelley Stock Co., which attraction, he reports, opened at Paris, Ky., July 30, to turnaway business. All new scenery and paper is carried. The cast includes Jewell Kelley, Foster Hall, Lou Griffith, John Lawrence, Chas. Kendall, Nelson A. Lawrence, Chas. Hill, L. A. Smith, Caroline Kahr, Elsie Wilson, Horne Barber, June Barber and Josephine Meyers.

Detroit rivals Chicago as a producing centre. In addition to the ten B. C. Whitlow Shows to be produced there during the summer are four companies present My Wife's Family, a new melodrama entitled A Thorn In Her Heart, Harry Linton's Johnny Wise, A Stranger In Town and The Queen of the Arena. Mittenal's How Hearts Are Broken, also rehearsed there, and opened the Whitney Theatre, Sunday afternoon, July 29.

The success of Dorothy O' The Hall as presented by Julia Nelson and Fred Terry in London, has caused Ernest Shipman to fashion the action of Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall, for which he controls the touring rights in this country, along the same lines. Two excellent tours are being mapped out, and plans of considerable magnitude have been entered into for both productions.

After being closed since May, the Worcester Theatre, Worcester, Mass., three open its doors July 23, and offered the Hunter-Bradford players in a two weeks' engagement. This company is well known to Worcester theatregoers, having played short engagements there for the past five years. Attendance has been very good. Henry Kolker was the only new member in the cast, but he became an immediate favorite.

Reports from the Jack Hoeffer Show, which is now playing in Minnesota, indicate that his organization is proving more popular than ever. As usual, strong vaudeville acts are the feature of the show, the talent this season embracing Jos. and Lucile La Valliere, Louise Hess, Clever Conkey, Castle and Collins, Millar, Harry Rees, Arthur Howard and May Desousa.

The New Century Stock Co., featuring Lewis Sutherland and Miss Julia Bennett, is meeting with unprecedented success on the Alabone Circuit in Missouri and Kansas. The regular season opens Sept. 10 at Cairo, Ill.

The management of the May Edwards Own Co. will this coming season feature The Girl in Pink, also an act entitled The Pajama Girls. This show will take the road early and will play the best houses in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. Chas. W. Parker has been engaged as advance agent and J. H. Mungat as manager. The show will carry twelve people.

Davis & Eugene's A Poor Relation Co. rehearsed in Benton Harbor, Mich., and opened Aug. 12, at Chicago Heights. Lee D. Ellsworth as Noah Vale, is supported by E. C. Fitzgerald, Leo G. Bell, James London, P. J. Kane, H. C. White, Lydia Kane, Blanche Pix, Frances Shafer, Claudia Hazen, Master Jack and Little Viola.

The Aubrey Stock Co., which will open its season at the Grand Opera House, Norristown, Pa., have hit upon a novel method to draw business the opening week. They have a fine piano upon exhibition in Norristown, and it will be presented to the person holding the lucky number at the last performance of the engagement.

Tom Fitch, of the Tom Fitch Co., has written a number of plays recently, among them being The Angel of the Poor, The Ranchman's Daughter, For Memory's Sake, Roxie's Christmas Present, My American Girl and Buddy Bailey's Reform, all of which Miss Julia Hormone, his leading lady, has had copyrighted.

The Lewis Stone Co. opened the Lyceum Theatre, Minneapolis, Minn., taking the place of the Ralph Stuart Stock Co., which proved so popular an organization during the summer months in that city. Ernest Fischer will be identified with Mr. Stone in the management of the new company.

The Hal Clarence All Star Stock Co., playing at Bergen Beach, Brooklyn, N. Y., is putting on some splendid plays and is doing a phenomenal business. This week the bill is The Village Parson, with The Penitent and The Parish Priest to follow. Wm. J. McIntyre is manager of the company.

Sanford & VanCleave's A Life's Mistake Co. opens Aug. 28 at Oakland, Neb., and is booked solid until July 4 in the one-night stands. Walter Sanford is featured and a strong supporting company of sixteen is carried, also band and orchestra of twelve pieces, special paper, etc.

J. C. (Jimmy) White, now at Logansport, Ind., where his daughters, Olive and Ruth, are attending school, writes that early next spring he will put out a repertoire company featuring his daughters and touring Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia.

Wm. Kralice, manager of Slater's Comedians, accompanied by his wife, paid a visit to the Davis Goodwin Stock Co. at Clifton Forge, Va., recently. The Slater Comedians closed at Radford, Va., for a two weeks' vacation, and will open Aug. 29, at Logan, Ohio.

Wm. Stanford and C. Newton Taylor have been engaged as manager and business manager, respectively, of the eastern and southern A Pair of Country Kids Co., and Chas. W. Hurst and J. M. Reilly as manager and business manager, respectively, of the western company.

Darrell H. Layall, of Cincinnati, will be stage director for one of Chas. Colson's new piece. The Country Editor, which will be produced about Aug. 27. Mr. Layall will also originate the part of Admiral Fairfax. Judith Racham will play Ingenu and do special roles.

The Homeseekers will again be on the road this season with Miss Laura Sawyer in the leading role. Miss Sawyer's advancement has been rapid since her successful engagement with Ada Rehan in The Taming of the Shrew. The Homeseekers will tour the middle states.

A. G. Delamater, business manager of Fred C. Whittier's attractions, is now engrossing himself as official booster of the Whittier Enterprises. He has taken up headquarters in Detroit, Mich., and is getting out a near daily press sheet called The Wheeze.

The Florence Kelly Ideals Co., playing an engagement at the Dutch Pavilion Theatre, Kenosha, Wis., was reorganized July 22. V. J. Kelly and Chas. Blatchly, formerly representative for The Billboard at Kenosha, are the managers of this company.

Jessie Mae Hall will appear this season in A Southern Vendette under the direction of Oliver Morse and the management of Al. Thresher. This clever little artiste will introduce a number of new juvenile songs that have been written for her.

Robert Blaylock has completed the organization of his repertoire company, and rehearsals are now being conducted in Des Moines, Ia., which is Blaylock's home. The company will play three night stands and will open at Gowle, Ia.

Tom Waters, the popular comedian pianist, who appeared last season in Neighborhood Neighbors, will be seen this coming season in a new musical comedy, entitled The Mayor of Lanzland, under the management of Nixon & Zimmerman.

Miss Nina Griffin will be leading lady with the Dalmatian Comedy Co. this season. Among the exceptionally good vaudeville numbers carried by this organization are Miss Jessie Bell, Billy Boston and Potts and Potts.

Walter C. Jordan, of Sanger & Jordan, is now flatting with Henry B. Stanford and Laura Burt, who have returned to England, to appear in that country, under the management of his firm, probably in Dorothy O' The Hall.

The Burton Stock Co. and the Stevens Comedy Co., both under canvas, played on adjoining lots in Benton, Ill., week of Aug. 6. Both had strong bands to appeal to the popular and well-did capacity business.

Dan Darleigh's SI Stebbins Co. closed its summer season of seventeen weeks Aug. 6, at Stamford, N. Y., and will reopen Aug. 27 for its regular season under the personal direction of Mr. Darleigh.

Leonard A. Emmert and Miss Nina Griffin have established a new record during the past year, having rehearsed and played in thirty-eight different bills. Their engagements have been continuous.

Miss Anna Day, who is to star in Ernest Shipman's Southern company of When Knighthood Was in Flower, is concluding a most pleasant visit of four weeks' duration at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

Arthur Clarewell, favorably known theatrically, has been assigned to the leading role with the Poll Stock Co., which is now playing a summer engagement Parson's Theatre, Waterbury, Conn.

Hal Reid, author of W. F. Mann's new attraction, The Cow Pinner, left his home in New Jersey last week in company with his wife for Chicago, where he will conduct rehearsals of the piece.

Geo. D. Sweet, who has been spending the summer at Storm Lake, Ia., will take over A Messenger Boy Co. It will tour the larger towns through Minnesota, South Dakota and Kansas.

Ben. A. Tillson is playing juveniles and light comedy and singing illustrated songs with the Stoddard Stock Co. which is playing a summer engagement at Waverly Park, Lansing, Mich.

A Struggle for Gold Co. opened at Plymouth, Wis., Aug. 3, under the management of Arthur J. Woods, and the business management of Mock Sad Alli. They carry a band and orchestra.

Rehearsals for Mizpah have begun at the Murray Hill Theatre, New York City. The formal opening of this production will occur at McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, Sept. 2.

Frank Lenke, manager of the Washington Park Stock Co., El Paso, Tex., has become the southwestern representative for Darcy & Welford, the New York playbrokers.

Rehearsals for The Chorus Lady have begun. This piece will be given its premiere Sept. 1 at the Savoy Theatre, New York, with Rose Stahl in the leading role.

It is reported that theatrical conditions in the northwest were never better, the crops are fine and money is plentiful. The good shows are getting the money.

A quality of known pre-eminence, the permanence of which is a guarantee of lasting satisfaction.

E. J. Carpenter's Eastern At Cripple Creek Co. opened at Wilmington, Del., Aug. 9 and his western A Little Outcast Co. opens in Clinton, Ia., Aug. 29.

John and Alice McDowell opened with Stephens & Linton's My Wife's Family, at the Casino Theatre, Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 5, in parts and specialties.

Guy Wise formerly of Not Like Other Girls Co., is doing advance work for the Liberty Electric Theatre, of which Fred A. Daner is manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Peterson, now resting at their home in New Sharon, Ia., open with Hearts Astray Aug. 18, for a season of sixty weeks.

After a brief skirmish in vauleville with Jessie Couthon, Wm. J. Madden's My Wife's Family Sept. 2 to play the light comedy lead.

Ted Sparks, the amusement promoter of Kansas City, Mo., reports that prospects were never brighter for a good theatrical season.

Elmer S. Luby, for the past six years advertising agent for the Jefferson Theatre, Portland, Me., is in advance of When Women Love.

Miss Dorothy Tennant is spending a few weeks with her brother in Indianapolis previous to rehearsing for The Stolen Story.

Al Holbrook is arranging the musical numbers for Marrying Mary, in which Marie Cahill opens Daly's Aug. 27.

Harry Ellsworth and John McDowell have the leading roles in Stevens & Linton's No. 1 My Wife's Family Co.

Ernest Lamson will continue in his old part of Dave Lacy in The Heir to the Hoofar for another season.

The White City Quartette will be a special feature with W. F. Mann's The Cow Pinner this season.

J. M. Reilly is doing some splendid work in advance of the Burton Stock Co., now touring Illinois.

The Woggadoodle Pickaninny Band will be a special feature with The Moonshiner's Daughter Co.

Henry B. Stanford and Laura Burt will star jointly in a new play in London this season.

W. H. Bedwarck will go in advance of Murray & Mack's Finnegan's Ball Co., this season.

Maude Raymond returned to the east of The Social Whirl, Aug. 6.

Editor The Billboard,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dear Sir—After carefully weighing the situation, I have come to the conclusion that The Billboard will go one better than any other publication for new theatrical enterprises. This has been shown not only in my behalf with your valuable article, Players' Publicity Service, but I have had it demonstrated on more than one occasion. It is true of The Billboard that a square deal is obtained without the farce comedy elements prevailing.

Sincerely yours,

D. REEDLER.

BROADWAY TOPICS.

son. Anna Millward has been added to the company for the part of Robin and Geo. A. Edes has been re-engaged as acting manager.

W. Jim Winterburn, of Chicago, accompanied by his wife, has been in the city for a few days' respite from the strenuous life of their Chicago environments. Mr. and Mrs. Winterburn made a trip to Atlantic City for over Sunday and will come back to New York before returning home to the Windy City. This is Mr. Winterburn's annual visit to Broadway, and his legion of friends have kept him busy with welcoming greetings.

John C. Carlyle has been engaged as carpenter for A Ragged Hero Co., and his little daughter, Hazel, will play a part with the same show.

Engagements through Darcy & Wolford: Edgar Holden and Edna Roberts, for Kathryn Purcell Co.; Bell Henderson, Ruth Gadsby, Phillip Low and Marie Pert, for The White Caps Co.; Jessie Pringle, for the Baldwin-Melville Stock in New Orleans; Margaret Shayne and Walter Seymour for A Southern Vendette Co.; Olson Lynn for Sam Houston, and Carmine Cartwell and Reginald Barlow for Corse Payton's Brooklyn Stock Co.

The Kinetograph Co., following its policy to keep pace with live events, has devised a new sporting film, of comic bent, which will appeal to every lover of the national game. How the Office Boy Saw the Ball Game is its title, and it was first exhibited at Wistaria Grove, on the New York Theatre Roof, Thursday evening, Aug. 9. The boxes were all reserved for members of the Pittsburgh and New York National League ball clubs, and these hardened workers in the vineyard of the national sport went wildly enthusiastic over the film. Alexander T. Moore, the enterprising sales manager for the Kinetograph Co., was on hand to see that the event passed off smoothly and with complete success.

The early season already brings forth combat and Wagnhals & Kemper have locked horns with Harrison Grey Fiske over the presentation of Kreutzer Sonata. This play, it will be remembered, was presented in Chicago for a few weeks, about two years ago, by Blanche Walsh, and its success seemed of sufficient voltage to have warranted its being kept in her repertoire. But this was not done and why not no one seems to know. A few weeks ago Harrison Grey Fiske announced that he would present Bertha Kalich at the Lyric Theatre on Sept. 10 in a dramatization of Kreutzer Sonata. Then it was that Wagnhals & Kemper stated that Mr. Fiske had no rights to the play, that it was the sole property of that firm, and it had been their intention to dedicate their new Astor Theatre with the play and Miss Walsh as the star. This intention, however, must have been a mental reservation, for the public announcements of the dedicatory attraction have been Annie Russell in A Midsummer Night's Dream, rehearsals for which are now progressing. However, the Harrison Grey Fiske announcement on behalf of Bertha Kalich stirred Wagnhals & Kemper to speedy action, and to add fuel to the fire they suddenly determined to present Miss Walsh in Kreutzer Sonata at the Manhattan Theatre on Monday night, Aug. 13. They will thus antedate the Harrison Grey Fiske presentation by four good weeks. Both parties to the contention claim that they have valid rights to the play. Wagnhals & Kemper maintain that as Miss Walsh, having played the piece in English two years ago, they have prior rights, in behalf of Bertha Kalich. It is maintained that she acted it in Yiddish in this city for several seasons, and before Miss Walsh spoke the lines in English. Opening the Manhattan Theatre on Monday night will be the first step in what promises to be a tooth and nail contest.

future. We are at work now on two new vaudeville acts, on the lines of Thebe, which we have tentatively named The Athletic Girls and The Little Elks. These will be produced just as soon as they are finished. In each we shall present some well known and popular actor or actress as star. They are already practically engaged. We are also busy with preparations for the production not later than the end of October of my new musical comedy. At present it bears no title. I can simply tell you that the scenes are laid in Panama, that the story is consecutive and strong, that the scenery will be specially elaborate and that the theme is one which, so far as I am aware, has never been used before in a piece of this type. We are in negotiation with some very well known people for the principal roles in this production. When that piece is produced and well under way we shall turn our attention to another, and so on. In the time that has elapsed since the production of The Yankee Regent, I have been far from idle. I have been working hard and waiting for just this opportunity. Now that it has come I am all prepared to take the fullest advantage of it. We shall not work in any way in a haphazard manner in putting our productions before the public. We shall move along conservatively but steadily, and we believe that in that way we can obtain sure success. We shall not, however, allow conservatism to overshadow good judgment or ambition, and we believe that when we announce the names of the people under contract to us we shall spring a decided surprise."

NOTES

Papinta is resting in Chicago this week. She opens at the Majestic Aug. 26.

Margaret Wycherly, after her engagement over the Orpheum Circuit will return to the Haymarket and Majestic late in November.

Adele Oswald, the 17-year-old high school girl who understood Blanche Bing in ill Honor, the Mayor, has scored again as Jack of Hearts in Land of Nod. Miss Oswald possesses a clear soprano voice. She played Trilby Frigana's role in The Three Graces and has been successful the past few weeks in vaudeville. At the close of the present run of "Nod" Martin Beck will book this youthful vocalist on his Orpheum Circuit.

Jane Courtney and Charles Forrester, who played A Fisherman's Luck at the Majestic last week will try out a new sketch from a pen of a Chicago humorist.

In the August number of the Cosmopolitan Magazine, Alan Dale, dramatic critic for the New York Journal has an article entitled "Can a Dramatic Criticism Be Quite Honest?" The subject is treated in Dale's usual breezy style—too breezy, perhaps, to be convincing, though the figures employed are clever—a mental puppet show conjured up for a few minute's entertainment rather than for the driving home of the premises of an argument. It may be questioned first, if the Journal's critic is himself quite serious in this contribution to the Cosmopolitan. We seldom find him so in his reviews, and the flippancy of his style which seems as little suited to a discourse of the nature of that in question as to his regular vocation of critic, lends an air of insincerity not easily reconcilable with the importance usually imputed to the subject.

Taking it for granted that he is in real earnest he has in a sort of modern apologue denounced the dramatic critic as a sham—an ornament of his paper; one moved by personal prejudices and allowing his sympathies to become instruments of convenience when they should be relentless as acid in a test. His favor becomes the tiny globe of mercury in the balance measure, gliding ever to the side of personal consideration, or to mix the metaphor still further, a commodity subject to barter and waiting to be knocked down to the most shameless flattery.

Alan Dale does not treat the critic kindly in this investigation of his. So far as his testimony can avail, he has justified the New York Courts in making the critic's admittance to the theatre optional with the management.

The failure on the part of London playgoers to accept The Lion and The Mouse on the recommendation of its phenomenal success in America. America brings us with startling incontinence English Taste to a contemplation of the different attitude towards the drama that exists in the two countries. The whole thing may be traced to a constitutional disparity in the national temperaments.

Eugene W. Presbrey has explained this admirably in an interview recently published in the New York World. He says:

'We, in America,' he replied, 'like things written inside the theatre. We like surprises, sensations, a climax at the end of every act. The English like things written outside the theatre. They don't like surprises, sensations and a climax at the end of every act. They want what they are familiar with in their every-day life. They want to reach their conclusions by a more indirect process of reasoning.'

"The Englishmen want Mesmer. They want to stop in the middle of every act and drink tea. They don't understand our American character and American characteristics. The same thing is very largely true of us. We don't understand the English preferences."

"The bigger an American success, in my opinion, the more the necessity for re-writing it for an English audience. This, I think, is almost an axiom."

Mr. Presbrey knows whereof he speaks. He is familiar with conditions on both sides of the Atlantic.

We can go a little further and observe this same demand for finesse on the part of the British reading public. Its answer is found particularly in the work of Meredith and, perhaps, even more eminently in Rudyard Kipling.

After all it occasioned some surprise when Mrs. Carter-Payne tacitly announced that the split between her and David Belasco was irremediable by signing a five years' contract with Chas. B. Dillingham last week.

EDITORIAL BULLETIN

LIST OF DRAMATIC EDITORS.

In addition to the list of One Night Stand and Repertoire Theatres which we are now compiling, and the list of Vaudeville Theatres which was printed in our last preceding issue and which will be printed once each month, with corrections and additions, during the coming theatrical season, we now have in contemplation for publication in The Billboard at an early date a list of the DRAMATIC EDITORS of the leading daily newspapers in the United States. The data will be collected with a view to the convenience of general and traveling press agents, and being contributed first hand and published within a few weeks after the first item of information is sent in, the list will be absolutely correct in detail and comprehensive in extent. It will be more reliable than the local city directory, because it will be modern, and it will constitute the only source of correct information of this nature open to the general press agent. The list needs no further apology. Those who want it will appreciate it.

LIST OF SKATING RINKS.

For the benefit of those who cater to the skating rink business, The Billboard will print shortly a complete list of the resorts of this nature throughout the country, together with the names of their managers and the capacities, both in skates and audience, as all the better class of rinks book regular attractions in addition to the skating privilege. This will be the first list of this nature ever presented to the readers of an amusement paper.

OUR FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Billboard's excellent corps of American correspondents and the superior English and Australian representation afforded by our connection with Mr. John Moore and Dr. W. H. H. Lane, will be added the services of Mr. Gordon W. Winter, in Paris, France, and Mr. J. M. Dobinson, in Johannesburg, South Africa. The Billboard's readers became familiar with Mr. Winter's writings during the latter part of the last theatrical season, and have observed his exceptional faculty for reviewing the attractions of the French capital with the eye of an able American critic. The sole sample of Mr. Dobinson's efforts with the pen that has been given to the readers of The Billboard was the story of the opening of Edgar M. Hyman's Empire Theatre in Johannesburg in our issue of July 14, but this was sufficient to show his efficiency as a writer on theatrical affairs in the Transvaal.

We can not at this time announce the names of our prospective correspondents in Manila, Havana and Auckland (New Zealand), but negotiations are now under way for representation in these big cities of the Antipodes, and announcement will be made in due time.

In addition to our regular correspondence, we will publish from time to time letters describing amusement conditions in the principal non-English-speaking cities of Europe.

OUR NEXT ISSUE.

The next issue of The Billboard will contain, besides many interesting features of news, a detailed review of the season's opening of the New York Hippodrome, under the new regime of Messrs. Shubert and Anderson. The title page will bear a handsome likeness of Mr. Max Anderson, who has become identified with this most popular amusement resort, and on one of the inside pages a complete sketch of his remarkably successful and picturesque career will be presented.

As more attractions take the road, our route list will continue to increase. The Billboard always prints more routes than any other paper. The quantity of local correspondence will also increase as the season advances.

LEWIS MORRISON DEAD

The sudden and unexpected death of Lewis Morrison was deeply felt by the profession. Mr. Morrison had been ill but a few days and his physicians decided that an operation was necessary. He went cheerfully to the operating table in St. John's Hospital, New York City, and seemed to rally after the operation was completed, but the shock proved too severe and he shortly afterwards passed away, surrounded by his family. Mr. Morrison spent the summer at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Rosabel Morrison, at Neperhan Heights and was to have left for San Francisco Friday, the day before his death.

Lewis Morrison was born of English parentage in Kingston, Jamaica, W. I., in 1845, consequently he was sixty-one years of age at the time of his death. He came to this country at an early age and enlisted on the Union side in the Civil War. He rose to the rank of Lieutenant, and on his honorable discharge at the close of the war received the rank of Captain for distinguished service. He won the personal friendship and praise of General Grant during the siege of Vicksburg, when he swam the Mississippi, under the fire of the batteries, with dispatches for the Federal army.

After his discharge from the army Mr. Morrison entered the profession as an actor in the old Varieties Theatre, New Orleans, making his first appearance with Lawrence Barrett in 1865. He was afterwards associated with Edwin Booth, Edwina Forrest, Tomaso Salvini, Adelaide Neilson, Charlotte Cushman, Janacek, Rose Coghlan and Agnes Booth.

During his career Mr. Morrison played Laertes to Booth's Hamlet, Edgar to Forrest's King Lear, Iago to Salvini's Othello, Romeo to Adele Neilson's Juliet, Macbeth to Charlotte Cushman's Lady Macbeth, and a host of other leading roles. He was also associated for nine years as leading man with the old Walnut Street Stock Co. in Philadelphia, playing with which he came to New York and created the title part of Victor Durand, a performance which is still remembered by old New Yorkers and which stamped him immediately as among the best actors of the country.

Because of a contract with Al Hayman in San Francisco, Mr. Morrison left New York

the best of health. Her parents in Boston were summoned.

Though English, Mrs. Craigie was born in Boston, Nov. 3, 1867. Her father was John Morgan Richards, who was a son of the Rev. Dr. James Richards. Her mother was a great granddaughter of Peter Spearwater, who fought under Napoleon and represented Shelburne in the colonial parliament at Halifax for twenty-five years. When three months of age, the future writer was taken to England. She was privately educated for a literary career, and her first novel, Some Emotions and a Moral, appeared in 1881. Mrs. Craigie early acquired a superior literary style and her efforts became immensely popular. A novel followed each succeeding year.

Though as a novelist Mrs. Craigie won her literary spurs, she gained considerable fame as a dramatist. The Ambassador came out in 1888, and a one-act drama, A Repentance, was produced in 1889. The Wisdom of the Wise met with popular favor, but her last play, The Flute of Pan, produced in 1904, met with decidedly more favor as a novel than as a comedy.

Mrs. Craigie was married at the age of 16 to Reynold Walpole Craigie, from whom she separated in 1881.

CHAPIN-TWAIN COLLABORATE

David Bechler, of the Players' Publicity Service, and the Kohl & Castle Enterprises, Chicago, informs The Billboard that Frederick Chapin secured the dramatic release of The Land and The Stars, has completed arrangements with representatives of Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain), the celebrated American humorist, whereby they will write a musical version of Mr. Twain's The Prince and the Pauper. Mr. Chapin has already completed many musical numbers during the summer while spending the warm months in a cozy cottage in Oak Park. He will leave in a few days for New York, where he will work in conjunction with Mr. Clemens so as to be able to allow a famous New York producer to arrange for an opening during the winter. Mr. Chapin secured the dramatic release of The Prince and the Pauper from Daniel Frohman. Several who have had the pleasure of hearing the musical numbers say that the latest compositions from the pen of Chicago's popular artist are exceedingly melodious and sure to win him success in the east. Mr. Chapin will doubtless remain in the East until next summer as he has several plays in preparation.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE STOCK

A new high-class dramatic company will be installed at the Chicago Opera House as a permanent feature opening for the winter season on Sept. 9. Nothing but first class plays will be presented, popular prices prevailing. David H. Hunt will assume active management of the stock organization, and he has been to New York where he arranged with the most successful producers whereby he will be able to present to Chicagoans all of the best dramatic plays of the American stage. Each play will be staged with the original elaborateness and costume and scenic detail which marked the metropolitan presentations. The plans now formed call for an entire change of program each week, seven night performances and four bargain matinees on Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, the 25 and 50 cent prices prevailing on these occasions. Mr. Hunt will leave for the east in a few days when he will announce his entire plans and company. His first offering will be Mrs. Leffingwell's Roots. The theatre will be redecorated and furnished ready for the opening.

NEW THEATRE FOR WASHINGTON

It is announced that Weber & Rush are to build a new $150,000 theatre on State street, near F northwest, Washington, D. C. The site was purchased last week at a cost of $40,000.

WHERE ARE YOU?

E. D. Barnum, your granddaughter is very ill at Toledo, Ohio, and your daughter, Mrs. Lotta Hanford, has been trying ineffectually to reach you through The Billboard's letter list. Mrs. Hanford's address, 1349 W. Bancroft st., Toledo, Ohio.

Mrs. Minnie Halleys Mansfield. Notice of her death appears in the Circus Department of this issue.

Frank F. Lunde, known in private life as Frank F. Lundberg, died in Louisville, Ky., last week. Mr. Lunde was formerly of the Vandevere team known as Monarchs of Comedy, and he was quite well known in the profession.

Nelo J. Campbell, advance agent for the Clark Circus, died suddenly in Evansville, Ind., Sunday morning, Aug. 19, apparently from sun stroke. Mr. Campbell is said to live in Alexandria, Iowa.

Horace Snider, booking agent for the Crystal Theatre, Denver, Colo., died last week at St. Luke's Hospital, Denver, after a short illness, and was buried at his former home in Beatrice, Neb. Mr. Snider was thirty-five years of age and had been prominently connected politically and financially before associating himself with Geo. L. Adams of the Crystal three years ago. During this short time he made many friends in the profession.

MERCHANTS' AND BUSINESS MEN'S Exposition and Gala Week Carnival,

WANTED

FIRST-CLASS CARNIVAL COMPANY, OR WILL CONTRACT WITH INDEPENDENT SHOWS, FERRIS WHEEL AND MERRY-GO-ROUND. ALSO SIX OF THE BEST AND BIGGEST OPEN AIR ACTS OBTAINABLE. MUST GIVE THREE PERFORMANCES DAILY. Bids will be received for all kinds of Legitimate Concessions and Privileges. WANTED, FIRST-CLASS DECORATORS, WHO CARRY THEIR OWN DECORATIONS.

NOTICE!

This is the first Exposition and Carnival that Kansas City has ever had. Kansas City, Kansas, has a population of about 100,000. Every reputable merchant and business man is financially and otherwise interested. Our Exposition and Gala Week Carnival will be held on the streets, right in the heart of our city. The same will be enclosed, using Minnesota avenue, Ann avenue, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh streets. We are now spending $30,000 for Enclosures, Arches, Advertising, Decorations, Free Attractions, Bands of Music, and offering Prizes for the Best Floats and Decorated Vehicles for our Six Parades. LISTEN! Our Exposition and Gala Week Carnival takes place during the same week that the Priests' of Pallas Carnival takes place in Kansas City, Mo. The Priests' of Pallas Carnival is advertised for a radius of 300 miles. Railroads grant a one cent a mile rate, and over 200,000 visitors will visit the Priests' of Pallas Carnival, and all they see is one parade at night during the week. Kansas City, Kans., adjoins Kansas City, Mo., and as our attractions will go on continually morning, noon and night we will, therefore, no doubt, get all of Kansas City, Mo.'s visitors, in addition to our own visitors, because we have something going on all the time. We have also already sold over 4,000 front feet of merchants' and manufacturers' exhibit space. So, if you want to make money, come to the biggest celebration ever held in this country. Address all communications to WILLARD MERRIAN, Pres., of Merrian, Ellis & Benson Real Estate Co.

MAKING GOOD EVERYWHERE

YOU realize the success of the LAUGHING GALLERY at the Summer Parks but have given up the idea on account of the enormous cost of the glass mirrors, as well as the great weight and risk of breakage

OUR METAL MIRRORS HAVE SOLVED the PROBLEM

Inexpensive, light in weight, easily handled. Made of a highly polished composition metal that cannot rust and is wonderfully durable. Has the same appearance, produce same effect and will answer the purpose as well as the most costly glass. Increase of sales has enabled us to sell better mirrors for less money than ever before. Write now. Don't delay.

J. M. NAUGHTON, Amusement Construction Company,
120 S. High Street, Columbus, Ohio.

BEFORE AND AFTER TAKING THE MILLS MACHINES

There were once two gentlemen of leisure, Named Bob and "Ebe" onizer; Eb onizer plotted with Bob, For a place of some kind to rob.

The found a big arcade, Which they decided to raid; Two MILLS MACHINES were there that they liked. And away with them they hiked.

To another town they went like two aces, Placed the machines on a percentage basis; The money at once rolled in. They never before owned so much "tin".

It was decided, no more, to plot, But with the profits to buy a lot Of MILLS MONEY-MAKING MACHINES, Which they sold were the direct means.

Now, there are still two gentlemen of leisure, Named Bob and "Ebe" onizer, Who lived like two kings at an hotel, Spending their money and doing well.

'Tis said that they have made money to burn. And have money to throw at the marines; And they made it all within the last year By using MILLS COIN-OPERATED MACHINES

OVER 100 SHOWS CARRY THESE PIANOS

(We have many letters like this one)

I take a great deal of pleasure in stating that the Columbus Baby Upright is indeed a beauty. It has been in use for two seasons and only tuned once, and that after having fallen off a wagon to the ground. I recommend it to any one wishing a first-class instrument. It is the finest, best tuned, and most durable of instruments.

JAMES H. THORN,
Mgr. Thorn's Dramatic Co.

Carry Your Own Piano

And Feel Sure of Your Act

Traveling Shows and Orchestras, Vaudeville and Concert Hall Artists

Know from experience how frequently the pianos furnished by halls and theaters are unreliable and unsatisfactory. You rarely, if ever, get the same kind of piano two stands in succession. While at one place the instrument you get may be all right, the next two or three may be all wrong—out of pitch, out of tune, ratty, etc., etc. The only way to avoid this, and to always feel free from worry on this score, is to carry your own

COLUMBUS BABY UPRIGHT

This wonderful little instrument, although only 3 ft. 9 in. high and 3 ft. 6 in. wide, has a remarkable piano volume and a clear, sweet tone. It is tuned to concert pitch, making it especially suited for accompaniment to the human voice. The weight is only 250 pounds, and two men can handle one easily, especially when carried in our quick-packing traveling case, illustrated at the right. The piano is a drawing card in itself and the low price places it within easy reach.

SPECIAL OFFER.—The regular price is $100, but we are making a special offer, including a stool and the quick-packing traveling case mentioned above. Write at once to the factory for Booklet No. 40.

"COMEBACK" IMPROVED OVENS.

MONEY GETTERS! The Ovens with MONEY GETTERS!

The "Comebacks" are absolutely the best cone ovens made. We are sending them everywhere. They make the 10c. cones as well as the 5c. size. Moulds are 8 inches in diameter. The "Comeback" is STANDARD, a finished product. 1. Oven moulds are hand-lathe turned and machine polished. 2. Ovens are thick enough to retain the heat for crystallization. 3. Ovens are accurately made, register exactly, have perfect baking qualities. Notice—The removable steel brace which serves as a rest absolutely prevents oven falling over. The "Comeback" Ovens are getting the money everywhere. Those making the fairs write for our Agents' Side Line Proposition.

SINGLE OVEN, $8.50.

TWO, $14.50.

THREE, $19.50.

On account of high quality we send these ovens on receipt of $2.00, balance C. O. D.

"Comeback" Ovn Carrier

FREE WITH EVERY ORDER—The Genuine World's Fair Secret Formula for making the cone batter, also recipes for Cone Sundaes, Charlotte Russe and other novelties; our booklet concerning "Fairs," the securing and handling concessions; also advertising matter, illustrated dodgers, hangars, and large beautiful waterproof con banners in colors, worth to you several dollars. Remember there is only one TARRELL manufacturing Cone Ovens. You probably met him at the World's Fair, where the new cone confection had its origin. Remember if you get a bad, cracked, or warped oven it is his. An oven seems a simple thing. However, think again. If the moulds are not planed accurately, if they do not register you can't get an even thickness of batter on the iron. Uniform cooking will be impossible. The TARRELL "COMEBACK" OVENS are the ACME OF PERFECTION. With three "Comebacks" a man can easily turn out from 200 to 300 cones per hour, or $100 per day. At fairs, resorts, etc., 3000 cones can be sold a day—1 cent a clear profit on each 5 cent cone, or $100 clear profit from 3000 cones. Think of it!

NORTH BEACH FIRST BABY SHOW

L. M. Rich, known among park managers as the Baby Show promoter, assisted by Russell R. Schaller, secretary and treasurer of the Bowery Baby Building and Improvement Co., W. S. Wright, general manager of Gala Park, and Al. Nelson, the publicity promoter, recently conducted a Baby Show and decorated baby carriage parade at North Beach, Long Island, N. Y. The attraction had been billed and well advertised in New York City and surrounding newspapers for several weeks in advance with the result that long ere "Old King Sol" made his appearance in the east, the entire beach was covered with babies of quality and quantity. Single and in teams, accompanied by fond mothers, interested relatives and admirers.

Prizes aggregating $500 had been subscribed by business representatives to be awarded the young contestants in their respective classes. A handsome illustrated four page program containing full data of the attraction with complimentary and business representations of those interested in making the little folks happy was promoted by Al. Nelson who turned the proceeds over to the committee of arrangements to be used in presenting consolation prizes to those not fortunate in receiving special prizes. Several hundred handsome dolls were presented to the babies as a memento of their first outing to North Beach.

Prominent among the winners appeared Charlie and Henry Lassett, a recent addition to the family of Lassett, who is known in vandeville as the man who shouts coon songs and winner of the Richard K. Fox gold medal. On receiving the above entry, the publicity promoter dubbed them the "skidoo twins," predicting that they would beat it to a grand stand finish and capture a prize as their father did before them. Charlie and Henry arrived at the age of twenty-three days during the celebration.

The prizes were awarded in Gala Park and as the last one was handed out the Savoy Band struck up, There Will Be a Hot Time in the Old Town To-night. Afterwards a children's jubilee and merry-making was indulged in by every one present. Midget Stark, the boy wonder on a slack wire suspended from fifty-foot towers crossed and recrossed the chute lake, a distance of three hundred feet, giving a marvelous exhibition of nerve for one so young.

Lackwood, the human arrow, shooting the chutes on a bicycle made a hit. The rider who has but one leg shoots down the water-covered chute, mounting an incline at the bottom at an angle of 45 degrees which forces rider and wheel to make a flying leap of 50 feet, landing in the water of the lake below. Taking it all in all, everyone interested in the demonstration advanced the opinion that it was the greatest event in the history of the beach. Fully 15,000 persons participated.

CAUGHT BY MANAGER McSWIGAN

Amusement Manager A. S. McSwigan, of Kennywood Park, Pittsburgh, Pa., thinks he has stopped one swindler who masquerades under aliases and secures money under false pretenses. Last week he caused to be arrested a man who had secured money from several managers by representing himself to be some well known performer. The arrest was made in Trenton, N. J., and the culprit was brought back to Pittsburgh to await trial. It is said that the man admitted getting money from Mr. McSwigan. In discussing the affair with The Billboard correspondent, Manager McSwigan said: We propose making an example of this man. He has done more to "queer" performers with employers than any dozen other men in the show business. Such a man should be driven out of the ranks. After we get through with him we will be taken to Ohio to answer for beating hotels. The man claimed to be of the Fon Bennett's, also Prof. Ed. Russell, a band-master.

WILL ALSO BUILD PARK IN TOLEDO

Last week the Wonderland Park Co. was incorporated under the laws of Ohio for the purpose of building a new park at Toledo. The officers are Z. Z. Brandon, president; W. J. Beeler, vice-president; L. J. Brandon, secretary and treasurer, and E. L. Reed, superintendent. The company is backed by the same people who are building Wonderland Park, at Atlanta, Ga., and is affiliated with the National Amusement Co. which builds figure eight roller coasters. Both parks will be completed before next spring, and it is reported that a million dollars will be expended in their construction.

It is said that the company is seeking sites in other cities for the construction of summer amusement parks.

BLAKE AND WILLARD CELEBRATE

Messrs. Blake and Willard, of the Hippodrome, Luna Park, Pittsburgh, Pa., celebrated the fifth anniversary of their business partnership Saturday night, Aug. 12. About a thousand people were present when S. H. Lyon of local jewelry company stepped upon the stage, and in a few well-chosen words presented C. D. Willard with a diamond studded charm for his co-partner, R. J. Blake, after which Mr. Blake was called upon the stage and presented with a fine five carat diamond stud from Mr. Willard. Both are expensive ornaments.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CONCERNING CHIQUITA

Brighton Beach, N. Y., Aug. 14, '06.
Editor The Billboard.

Dear Sir:—I respectfully request that you publish this letter in the next issue of The Billboard as it is meant to please the distress of Messrs. Evans & Fairley, of Coney Island, who seem to take exception to the recent short sketch printed in your most valuable paper.

In your issue of Aug. 14 you publish a letter from said parties in which they state that the Philippine Midgets are seven inches smaller than Chiquita, and that they will forfeit $100 to anyone who will produce a person smaller. Messrs. Evans & Fairley seem to understand from the sketch furnished you, and published by you, that we claim Chiquita to be the smallest "human being" on earth, but we wish to assure them that under the conditions they prescribe we could hardly expect to take the money, and we also wish to add that Chiquita is not in a class with the midgets in whose behalf the gentlemen write.

Chiquita is not "a freak of nature"—not by any means. She is a perfect little lady just

HINES ENGAGES MAR TINA

George H. Hines is to have another attraction at White City, Chicago, having engaged Mar Tina the fire dancer and her company, to give exhibitions in a building on the west side of the plaza, along the boardwalk. Manager Hines is one of Chicago's most aggressive amusement purveyors, his long experience with the larger circuses having qualified him for his present important sphere in the summer park business. His other two shows at White City, the Manikins and the trained animal exhibition are making money, and altogether the season of 1906 will be a prosperous one for the Hines' Enterprises.

WILL HAVE WINTER PARK, TOO

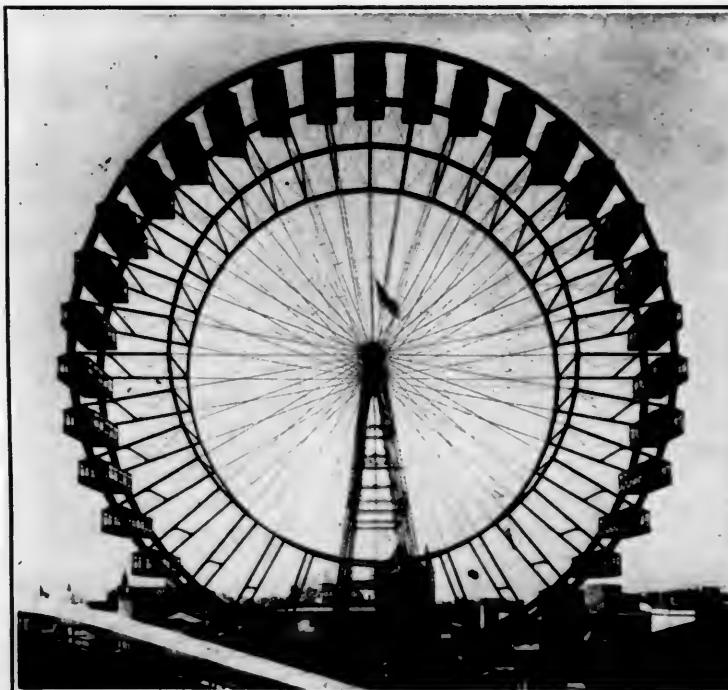

General Manager Lee Massengale, of Electric Park, Iola, Kan., has announced his intention of erecting within that park a large winter amusement palace to cost in the neighborhood of $7,000. There will be an auditorium where repertoire and vaudeville will forth, a Japanese Tea Garden, roller skating rink and dance hall.

PARK NOTES

Sol. Bromberg has succeeded Dave A. Wels as manager for the balance of the season, of Electric Park, Galveston, Tex. Mr. Wels being obliged to give his entire time to the Grand Opera House, of which he is manager. Both are popular gentlemen and successful managers.

The leading business men of Coney Island, N. Y., will hold their regular annual mardi gras Sept. 17-23. Excursions will be run on all railroads, for it is planned to

THE ORIGINAL FERRIS-WHEEL

The Ferris-wheel of the Chicago and St. Louis Expositions has passed into the history of amusements. No device was ever so widely advertised. Its colossal size constituted its own ballyhoo on the exposition grounds, and it combined the advantage of an observation tower with the thrill of motion. But it passed, like all other things, into desuetude. Nothing less than a gigantic charge of dynamite served to put it out of commission and render it capable of handling for the material it contained. Like Jumbo and Chief, there was glory in its passing.

Twenty-eight inches tall, as straight as an arrow, and in every way perfectly formed. She has no big head, crooked limbs, or distorted body, and since this is true we feel quite safe in claiming for her that she is the smallest perfectly formed little woman on earth.

Thanking you in advance for your courtesy in publishing this letter, I remain,

Very truly yours,
ANTHONY C. WOECKENER.

HE LIKED IT, TOO.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9, 1906.
Editor The Billboard.

Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dear Editor—I wish to sound a little note of praise for an article that appeared in your publication under date of Aug. 4, entitled The Intelligent Promotion of Profitable Publicity.

There have been many such articles before the public during past seasons, but I feel that the treatment of the subject both by your author and by Mr. F. R. E. Woodward himself is admirable and consistent.

Every suggestion can not but be of great benefit to the press representative who is struggling for results, and I am sure every writer for amusement enterprises will find much to encourage and help by a careful study of the suggestions and statements.

Success to The Billboard.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT E. LONG,
Press Rep. Washington Luna Park.

make this the greatest event of its kind ever held on the popular Island.

The H. A. Bradwell Co. of Coney Island, N. Y., has contracts to place for big productions in the Chicago parks next season. This company is preparing a new sensational ride.

Ticket taker Jacob Sonnenburg of the Alamo, Cedar Rapids, Ia., is developing into a fisherman, and he tells some of the most marvelous fish stories on record.

It is reported that during the visit of Morris Belfeld, of White City, Chicago, to Coney Island, N. Y., last week he contracted for a big production of The Deuce.

Our correspondent at Beardstown, Ill., last week, visited White City Park, Chicago, and was the guest of Tom Pryor.

PARK ATTRACTIONS

Manager M. A. Coffey of Oakford Park, Jeannette, Pa., is putting on some attractive vaudeville bills. Beginning Sunday, Aug. 20, the bill is Baby Owen & Co., Herbert Bert Lemon, Howard and Linder, Kenyon and DeGarno and the kinograph. Business is good and the S. R. O. sign is often displayed.

Chas. W. Schepp, manager of Schepp's Dog & Pony Circus, writes: Someone reported that my attraction made good at White City, Milwaukee. I have never played that park, but, to the contrary, played two weeks at Pabst Park.

Rain and outside attractions seem not to interfere with business at Dreamland Park, Decatur, Ill. Last week the vaudeville bill was composed of Will Hart, Flanney and Doane, Maybell Gage, and moving pictures and illustrated songs.

Henrywood Park, Maysville, Ky., had a big feature last week in Baby Irma Wilson & Co. in their dainty little playlet, entitled Morning, Noon and Night. Al Lewis, the Dutch monologist, was another very attractive number.

Dare Devil Doherty, the intrepid cyclist, writes that his recent ad in The Billboards enabled him to almost completely break his act for the balance of the park season.

The Alvin Brothers, contortion ring gymnasts, report success on the park circuits. Every time Pete Alvin falls off the rings he says he makes a tremendous hit.

Henry Breton's automobile trap the gap act was a decided hit at Al Fresco Park, Peoria, Ill. Gertrude Breton followed with her bicycle leap the gap.

Mlle. Psycho is doing nicely in the parks. She advertises special days, such as babies' day, children's day, men's day, etc., and the novelty is a hit.

Capt. Sydney Hiltman has about recovered from the severe burns he received while assisting the fire department at Ronoma Park, Grand Rapids, Aug. 5.

The Ellwood Co. is in its ninth week over the Melville Circuit of parks and is being billed as a headlining feature. Ellsworth's illusion work is great.

The Line's at Electric Park, Iola, Kan., has increased since they began to play vaudeville. S. Vandeshus is amusement manager.

Winters and Wilson are on the Wells Southern Park Circuit making good in their black face act, entitled in Society.

STREET FAIRS
CARNIVALS

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS

Chas. Arnold, performer with the Jones & Adams Show, fell from his trapeze Aug. 11, and sustained a fractured collar bone besides internal injuries.

While giving a balloon ascension at White City, Duluth, Minn., Aug. 9 Prof. R. Thompson met with an accident that may keep him in the St. Mary's Hospital for several weeks. When his balloon had gone up about a hundred feet a seam gave way and man, balloon and parachute came to the ground in a hurry. The Professor sustained minor bruises and unless the shock to his nervous system results disastrously he will be out in a few days. It was Prof. Thompson's third accident in five weeks.

Fred Owens, the Boston aeronaut, was probably slightly injured at Providence, R. I., Aug. 12. When about two hundred feet in the air the balloon stopped and retreated toward earth. The aeronaut fired the bomb which threw him from the basket, but the parachute failed to work and he fell like a stone. One lung was ruptured and the physicians say there is little hope for Owens.

Wilson Ellinquist, of Brooklyn, and Joseph Moss, of Williamsburg, attempted a double ascent at Bergen Beach New York City, Aug. 12, but the big bag caught fire when about two hundred feet in the air and came slowly to earth. The aeronauts held to the basket and were rescued from the debris unconscious. They were severely burned.

W. D. AMENT'S SHOWS

During July 23 and week Capt. W. D. Ament's Independent Shows played on the main streets of Galesburg, Ill., under the auspices of the Galesburg Military Band. Business was splendid during the entire engagement. Griggsville, Ill., was the next engagement, and although the town itself is quite small the fair held there annually is one of the best in the state. Several complaints were heard at other show quarters owing to only fair business, but the Ament Shows profited handsomely during the four days. This was the first fair the Ament Shows have played this season and Capt. Ament was immensely pleased with the outcome. Week of Aug. 6-11, the shows filled an engagement at Urbana, Ill., under the auspices of the Firemen. The Beloit County Fair at Beloit, Wis., was the Ament Shows' stand week of Aug. 11. Phenomenal business was done by this show at Beloit last season, but this season the record was broken. Capt. Ament is gaining quite a reputation as an advertiser and everywhere his shows have been this season his billing has caused much favorable comment. On several occasions the big circuses interfered, but despite this fact business has been good.

THE GREAT MUNDY SHOWS

Four days of inclement weather and only two of sunshine was the greeting the Great Mundy Shows received at Sheboygan, Wis., Aug. 6 and week. The shows were billed to late arrival caused by the constant rain the open this town on the 5th, but owing to the opening was postponed until the next day.

The birthday of George Schneider was celebrated Aug. 5, and the occasion will live long in the history of the Mundy Shows, as Schneider's guests were royally entertained.

As the shows were located very close to good old Lake Michigan, quite a number of the Mundy people took advantage of the surf and bathed in the cooling waters.

Among the welcome visitors during the Sheboygan engagement were Mrs. Vic Hingo, Frank C. Burton, Phillips White, Will Woods, Una Pelham and the members of the National Stock Co., which was playing at the White City Theatre in that city.

The old soldiers and settlers of central Kansas will hold their twenty-second annual celebration at Augusta, week of Sept. 10. The city park and streets will be used for the concessions and amusement devices. A special lighting plant will be erected by the city for the occasion. W. G. Nichols is superintendent of privileges.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Little Rock, Ark., July 24, 1906.
Editor The Billboard.

Dear Sir.—Through your kind paper I am about to make an appeal to all brothers and sisters of the street fair and carnival field. After seven years in the ups and downs of life being willing to help those in distress at any time, I at last find myself forced to appear for aid on my way north from Hot Springs, Ark., July 13, I was forced to stop over in Little Rock owing to sickness. The next morning I was taken from my room and thrown in jail charged with making a disturbance in the place. In court I was fined $80 and costs amounting to over $16, and a sentence of ninety-six days. Besides this I got twenty days on the convict farm. Dear readers you can hardly realize what this means. I am sending this appeal not knowing whether it will ever reach that dear paper of ours, The Billboard, of which I have been a constant reader for four years, and if ever a man needed assistance, I do. I am sick and forced to work twelve hours a day or go under the lash. I could write columns of the horrors of my position, and my prayer to-night will be that this appeal will reach you all.

Yours as ever,
GEORGE DILLIVER.

THE PARKER SOCIAL CLUB

In accordance with the traditions of the Great Parker Amusement Co., in always being right up-to-date, the members of that organization got together the other day and perfected the Parker Jolly Good Fellowship Club. The club had been previously organized at Itasca, Minn., with twenty-three charter members, but the promoters wanted to push it along and so a big banquet was prepared at St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 10 and before the thing was over there were over a hundred names upon the books all paid up, full-fledged, and died in the wood members. The Macatee Lodge was engaged for the occasion. Press Agent Scott was toastmaster, and General Manager Con. T. Kennedy gave a few appropriate remarks on the subject of Carnivals and Carnival People. Dancing and feasting continued until a late hour. A vote of thanks was tendered to "Happy" Holmes and "St. Williamson" for their untiring efforts in making of the affair the big success that it was. The Parker Orchestra dispensed music for the occasion.

The officers of the club are as follows: Eddie Louise Blake, president; St. Williamson, vice-president; Florence Lane, treasurer; Gora Male Benson, secretary, and "Plain" Dave Morris, beverage dispenser.

STREET FAIR NOTES

The Great Western Amusement Co., under the management of J. Wendell Phillips, has just closed one of the most successful weeks of the season at Angola, Ind., where the crowds were tremendous. Seven pay attractions are being carried by this company and all are doing excellent business. Capt. O. Willis' Moonshiner's Electric Palace always gets top money. The Seymour Children's act, consisting of trapeze rings and contortion in mid-air, is making a big hit everywhere. Prof. Thrville Johnson and wife are in front of the strong boy show, and are getting big results as is J. H. Delroy with the Bijou Show. Prof. Sheet's educated horse, Goldie, and dog and pony circus, never fails to pack the tent. Another big feature of the company is Bedaboo, the high diver. Four more weeks in Indiana and Ohio, and the Great Western Amusement Co. starts his southern tour. All people connected with this organization are in good health and high spirits.

The Thornton Greater Amusement Enterprise & Carnival Co. has just finished an eight weeks' tour of Connecticut and Massachusetts with great success. This company will play New York State for the next four weeks and then start south. With this organization are the following attractions: Thornton's Animal Show, McKinley Show, Weiss and Saug-

EXPOSITIONS

STREETMEN HAVE ORGANIZED

The Canvassers and Streetmen of America, of Salem, has been incorporated by W. S. Ruhl, T. F. Smith, Alfred H. Stratton, H. A. Gager and George A. T. Ilse. The corporation is for mutual interest and protection.

After months of continued hasty and considerable expense, borne entirely by himself, W. S. Ruhl, a popular and well-known man in literary and mail-order circles, has succeeded name, as the Buckeye Assembly, Badger Assembly, etc. The articles of incorporation state the object of the association to be a general improvement and elevation of these kindred calling in all their departments, the promotion of friendly relations and intercourse among the followers, and what will be of vital interest to every one of the boys, this unity of interests will be directed most effectively toward inducing favorable national legislation in the matter of exorbitant, piratical fees now being exacted from agents and streetmen by thieving town ordinances.

Owing to this object and also to the fact that the members would find it difficult to get lodges in small towns on account of the transient nature of the profession, it has been decided to first establish an Assembly in the capital city of each state, and later, if possible, have branches in other cities. On the fifteenth of each month, meetings will be held in the capital cities, the first regular organizing meeting being scheduled for November 15, as the season will be getting slack. All parties eligible to membership can secure a C. of A. badge from Mr. Ruhl on application, and he asks streetmen and canvassers from the different capitals to send offers of a place to hold a meeting on the above date.

It is to be hoped that all eligibles will get their names on the rolls at once, for "in union there is strength," and the Lord knows something is necessary to combat the difficulties under which the open-air salesman has to sell his trade. Valuable aid has been rendered the temporary officers of the new incorporation by many influential supporters of the work, especially by Victor M. Grab, Harry L. Weisbaum and Ernest L. Fantus, of Chicago; Levin Brod, of Terre Haute; Horowitz Bros. and Carl Ingelheim, of New York.

All canvassers and streetmen should at once address W. S. Ruhl, secretary, 120 East 7th street, Salem, Ohio.

BALTIMORE'S BIG EXPOSITION

Plans are being perfected for a month of revelry in Baltimore, to mark the jubilee over its rehabilitation since the big Baltimore fire. It will take from Sept. 8 until Oct. 6 to give full vent to Baltimore's joy. The title of Baltimore's Home Product Exposition has been given to the event, and preparations are going forward for a monster carnival of excitement. Tevitt, Meyers & Keller, of New York City, are negotiating the special amusement attractions, and they have already closed for a number of superior attractions. Bostock's Gondolas and Mundy's Trained Animal Exhibition, the beautiful Illusion, Pharaoh's Daughter, the latest creation of Rollair; Beach's Airships and other big attractions have been signed up. Negotiations are going forward for Palm's Fireworks Show, and there is a possibility that Kiraly's Carnival of Venetia may be moved from Happyland on Staten Island to Baltimore for the exposition month. Carnival followers and showmen who follow out-door amusements are sure to flock to Baltimore in great numbers, as this will be one of the biggest expositions held in the United States this autumn. On to Baltimore!

DECLARES BIG DIVIDEND

The Lewis & Clark Centennial Exposition has declared a dividend of 23½ per cent. of the par value of the stock. It also declared it self dissolved.

FAIR NOTES

A big barbecue will be a feature of the Dunn County, Wis., Fair which will be held at Menomonie Sept. 11-14. The officers of the fair association are S. W. Jackson, president; N. J. MacArthur, secretary, and F. A. Vasey, treasurer.

The Aerial Cromwells closed a seven weeks' engagement with Mr. McMahon of Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 26, with the Old Boys' Reunion at Berlin, Conn., and have returned to Ohio to play a few fairs.

The sixty-seventh annual Genesee County Fair will be held at Batavia, N. Y., Sept. 19-22. O. B. Yates is president and Albert E. Brown is secretary.

W. S. RUHL

In getting a great interest aroused among the boys and has every reason to believe that the order he has worked up will number away up in the thousands in an almost incredible short time.

Many difficulties were encountered, one being probably, that the work was started during the streetmen's busiest season; another, that some of the eligibles no doubt feared some sort of a scheme, while the fact that someone had recently been obtaining contributions from those willing to give to "old" such a move has undoubtedly had influence in retarding the movement. Under the incorporated order The Canvassers and Streetmen of America there will be no assessments or solicitations for money until the officers have been elected, dues and fees adopted and the other regular work necessary to the complete organization effected.

Each State's membership will constitute an Assembly, to be indicated by the State's nick-

Lone Star May's Wild West and Arizona Harry's Broncho Busting Exhibition opened its fair dates Aug. 6 at LaPlata, Mo., to good business. They carry ten head of horses, two wagons and six cow punchers.

Some students tried to make trouble for the Pawnee Bill Wild West at New Brunswick, N.J., but they were quickly put out to make room for more desirable patrons. At this place the tent was packed.

The Forepaugh-Sells base ball team played a six inning game with the local team at Anaconda, Mont., July 28, beating them with a score of four to one. The show played to large business at Anaconda.

C. E. Anderson joined the Aitken & Anderson Show at Holland, Mich., bringing with him from New York an elephant and four caged of animals to be featured in the parade.

The W. F. Wheeler New Model Shows are headed south after a fifteen weeks' tour of the New England States. The show will remain out until Dec. 1 and probably later.

H. J. Root, representing The Billboard at Omaha, Neb., was the guest of the Campbell Brothers en tour through Iowa, and he made many friends among the show people.

Park R. Prentiss, who closed as bandleader with the Sells-Floto Show on July 21, is managing one of Frazer's Uncle Josh Perkins companies and is doing good business.

J. G. Reese, special agent for the Hagenbeck Show was a caller at the office of The Billboard in Cincinnati Aug. 10. Mr. Reese reports excellent business with the show.

Miss Rose Reynolds, bag puncher and all round lady athlete, has joined the Rollins Wild Animal Show at Riverview Park, Chicago, for the balance of the season.

The Mollie A. Bailey Show is in its twenty-second week and has done a splendid business through west Texas and Oklahoma. Crops are big and money is plentiful.

The members of the Mollie Bailey Show mourn the loss of Mrs. Minnie Mansfield, who passed away Aug. 10 at her home, 402 S. Envoy street, Dallas, Texas.

Perth Amboy, N.J., is yearning for a good circus or wild west show, and anyone interested can gain information by addressing our correspondent, L. J. Underhill.

Mr. Harris, who owns the jumping horses with the Forepaugh-Sells Show was kicked by one of his horses recently and sustained a broken leg.

The Great Barlow Show has covered five states this season and business has been splendid. The boys with this show are enjoying splendid health.

Nellie Florrine, lion tamer, joined the Yankee Robinson Show, Aug. 8, at Traer, Ia., after a season over the vandeville and park circuits.

Edward Westburg, of the Bijou Theatre, Racine, Wis., wishes to hear from F. O. Rossman, formerly of the Great Wallace Show.

Tony Hannum has returned to the advance of the Great Wallace Show after a week's recreation at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Wm. Althers reports that both his shows are doing nicely. No. 1 is in Illinois and No. 2 is near St. Louis.

Hugh Bancroft, female impersonator, is again with the Jones Enormous Shows, being featured in the concert.

Harry Allen is now associate adjuster with J. C. Banks of the Great Cole Brothers Show.

The Sensational O'Neill's are making good with Wm. Althers' No. 1 Show.

Conger and Odin are pronounced a success with the Hargreaves Show.

Max Dillae, Hebrew comedian, is with the Campbell Brothers' Shows.

BILL JONES' LETTER

BAD STORM HITS THE SHOW IN ONTARIO.

Cook House Blows Down and Gang Sings "It's a Grand Old Rag" — Schmalz Writes to Bill.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 5, 1906.

Dear Mike:

Your last received and very glad to hear from you, and furthermore, I enjoyed the dope very much, as it was thrown to me in good style and fashion. It's been a mighty busy and strenuous week with me, but before I go any further I must tell you that I am going to cut out this correspondence in a couple of weeks. I think, as Dan Fishell, our press agent, is going to resign and go to his home town in St. Louis and manage Shubert's beautiful Garrick Theatre, and I am going with him to keep cases on the stage door when the girl shows play his house. I am going to send you some good dope before I go, and my last letter will be full of good stuff, hot facts and up-to-date. It would take twenty reporters to keep me busy now, as I have all kinds of time; I simply hang around and watch the daily turn-aways. It's great. But I'll tell you all about that later; what I do want to write you of first is the way we were received Sunday in Ottawa, the burg that makes laws, drinks more Scotch than Halifax and Johnny the Barber, and brings storms up the river there that would make Father Champlain dead sore again if he were only here.

We got a peach Sunday, or rather that part of the trick that was in got it. The first section didn't get in until about half-past three, and ye Gods, but it was hot. I had never suffered with the heat so much before in my life and I only weigh pounds. Of course, the first thing to the grounds was the cook and horse tents, and incidentally Charlie Henry and Doc Elliott. It didn't take long for Pop McLean and Snyder to put up the three tents and all was serene. Suddenly it began to grow a bit dark caused by a gray formation in the southwest, and like a flash the sky became dense with horrible looking clouds of a dark green and brown color. Everybody started to get busy gassing out and double ataking, but in less time than it takes to tell it, the storm broke forth in all its fury and I have never seen one to equal it since May 27, 1896, when the cyclone struck St. Louis. Well, Mike, she hit the cook house and maybe she didn't hit it right. Wow! It rained, poured, blew and carried on something awful, and in its midst Charlie Henry tried to gain control of the commissary with conversation and dance. He rushed all around, grabbed all the ropes in sight, then his hat flew off toward Indianapolis, and he picked up something thinking it was an umbrella, but it was a walking cane and Charlie held it up over his head bare to protect himself from the rain. Pretty soon his tie flew off, then his collar, then his shirt began to grow uneasy, and all this time the tornado was raging like Francia Ferari talking to a rube committee. Charlie called for his men but they had all "blown" away, and, soaked to the skin he was rescued by Doc Elliott who couldn't hold his base and moved where the winds beckoned. Elliott was found tied up in some new tandem reins, and the horses were behaving as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Doc Elliott was immediately appointed "Storm King" instead of Fred. Leggett and in a few moments the usual calm followed.

Pop McLean lost two porous plasters, Pete Conklin lost a time table, Tim Keeler lost his receipt on tobacco that the Canadian Custom people made him pay duty on, and the cook house butcher lost his way and three dollars.

The other sections were delayed on account of the storm, and they tell me Reggie Whitehead, our young English Auditor, was running up and down the cars yelling God save the Queen, never knowing, it seems, that Her Ladyship was in a place where storms are unknown and angels furnish the necessary revenue for a profitable reign.

In the morning we all went out to the grounds and while the cook house was still up it certainly was a sight. Not wishing to be outdone Business Manager Arlington called out the side show band and while he wasn't looking the Anvil Chorus pointed to the cook tent and sang in harmony most ardently "It's a grand old rag." Charlie Henry is still with us, but I think his hat is doing a song and dance in a Hoboken Gas cellar. But he don't mind a little thing like that.

Brantford, Ont., Aug. 12, 1906.

If there is anything one really likes, it is indeed good comedy, and we have certainly had it around the big show the last week. We didn't have to look for it, either, it just grew and like Topsy, didn't have either father or mother. You will remember that I have at different times written you in reference to the Sheep people with our trick. The course, they have always appealed to me, otherwise I would not have noticed them, and I've been sort of doing the hen act, laying around and watching, and at last I can spring it. To get back to the head of the story I must say that away in the winter the management heard of a trained sheep act in the wilds of Holland and our agents in the land of wooden shoes and painted crockery were ordered to get it at any cost. After a great deal of hard work the act was found in a secluded town doing a stunt of sheep training for the edition of the Burgomaster of the village, and with the royal stamp of approval upon it. was forwarded to America and arrived all O. K. The act consisted of eight sheep and their trainers, a man and a woman. I watched them during rehearsal in New York and so did every body, and much to the surprise of all the act made good and principally where the old boy was huttled out of the ring into the track. During the course of the tour Mrs. Sheep began to get ideas of America and Americans ways, and as we had Germans with us it didn't take long for her to get acquainted. One of our German boss caucausians was exceedingly kind to the lady, and oftentimes in the quiet of the afternoon he could be seen teaching the greatness of Mr. Wilson. That's all. Soon she cast aside the wooden shoes and in their place wore boots; and then the Dutch style of skirt gave way to the latest fashions from the firm of Awfully Sloppy & Co. All this time Mr. Sheep had inaugurated a barber shop in the men's dressing room, receiving anything from a picoise to five cents for a shave. All went well until Holyoke (a town that will always go down in history with this show, and others with it) when Mr. Sheep got lost and was found with two brewery drivers explaining to them the beauties and effects of drinking beer through a straw, and late that night he came into the hotel to be received in a manner most Holland and otherwise by the beautiful Mrs. Sheep. Right here was where they both got wise, but that was nothing, for "others" got wise here also, but that's an old story. Linde walt!

On Saturday we played Hamilton, Ontario, a pretty place, famed for its wise guys and its famous Ash Barrel Club—and that was the Waterloo of the family of sheep.

It seems Mrs. Sheep went down town to purchase a new Princess gown (she would certainly have looked fine in it) and on her way she met some old friends whom she had never known before. But they seemed to know her, and that was sufficient, and ultimately "a plenty" for they invited her down to the Ash Barrel Club and a little banquet of beer, cheese, crackers and more beer was served in schooners and barrels and in the sail-away all anchors were lost and names forgotten. That settled it; the lady in question was escorted to the carriage of honor, which this time happened to be an ash cart, and she was accordingly brought, hauled, carried or "dung" down to the runs, and McLaughlin's men rescued her from the luxury of travel and delivered her, piece and parcel, to Eddie Schaeffer our man with the big fat trouble book. And of course, as things came to pass the sentence was cast and Mr. and Mrs. Sheep fine "a fired," and they accordingly closed in Brantford.

We all felt sorry for Mr. Sheep, but I can't say that the regret goes any further, for while personal comment on matters of this kind are always out of place, I think that I voice the sentiments of a great many when I simply say: "The sheep is dead; long live the Sheep."

Then, the next funny thing to occur was when Clown Jenkins bought a basket of tomatoes, and, not wanting to be stingy he gave them to his friends in the dressing room—for ten cents each, this being the same system Carnegie uses in giving away a library. But I suppose Jenkins knows his business all O. K., and this reminds me of Spader Johnson who also knows a thing or two; i.e., especially when it comes to being a jingle of a bad track. It seems that some time ago Spader fell or was thrown violently against a soft boiled egg, and the injury to his leg has been such that the ache has been acute and prolonged. It is a funny thing, however, how bright and educated that leg of Spader is, for it seems to hurt most when the track is bad and when there is a possibility of his riding the standing roman races. The American Bandage Co. of Schmalzville, have run out of material sending handbags to Spader, and the latest amount put around the injured member reached from Ithaca to Detroit; therefore, all are now singing, "Spader, Spader, Spader, put a bandage on me," and now appears to be a sympathetic foot-feeling between a bad track and Spader's bad knee. Amen.

Billy DeMott is back and while not being able to ride he is however much better and will soon be in good condition. He put the 25th club out of business by buying two ants for seven-fifty, then selling one for seven dollars, making his own cost fifty cents. When Bill puts that ant on the gang are all going to line up and watch the buttons melt off in harmony with the spots disappearing, and his name in the future shall be Mr. Cohen DeMott. Italyhol.

We had good business the past week with few exceptions, but as I always say, if we don't turn 'em away daily we think business is bad. In Ottawa following the storm Sunday we did a great Monday's business and the two performances were practically innumerable.

Our next stand was Kingston and society from the Thousand Islands did much to give us a nice matinee and fair night.

In Belleville the afternoon was very good with a light night house, and in Peterboro I refused to be interviewed.

In Toronto we packed 'em in. Our day equalled the first one in Montreal, and the newspapers here were so complimentary that I was accused of writing the criticism myself. Of course, this appealed to me as a joke, but they certainly were great and the talk of this part of the country. The night house was so enthusiastic that I thought that King Edward was doing a visiting act with me. The acts of everyone but our foreign

READ THIS AGAIN! Cut It Out and Paste it in Your Hat. THE SELF-VENDING CONE...THE SAYSO.

Just stamp this one fact upon the tablets of your most gracious memory—in other words, burn it into your "cupola" that if you make the fairs you will have to vend. When you face from ten to twenty thousand people, each one straining every nerve to see the bang tails canter, you will have to go to them—they won't take the time to look up your booth. You can't vend the sickly thin cones made on some of the so-called ovens, neither do you want to look like a two spot sitting around an ice cream freezer—not in a thousand. What you want is a Sayso Oven or the Cupolas on which you can make the thick, four-ply cones that will stand up ordinarily for from one-half to three-quarters of an hour and still be crisp and dainty. Besides I tell you of a little stunt that will still further increase the vending qualities of the Sayso Cones and will make them inviting and seductive. My check scheme for handling vendors at big gatherings is worth money to you but it costs nothing with an outfit. See the three burner, three iron gasoline oven at the left? You can bake and make from 255 to 300 cones or pyramids per hour on this outfit and it will cost you only $29.00; the two iron oven, proportionate capacity, $21.00; one iron, $12.00.

G. O. 3.

CUPOLAS SEPARATE.

They operate perfectly over any gas, gasoline, or oil stove or charcoal pan. Each iron will produce from 5 to 100 cones per hour. Prices—Three $19.50; two, $14.50; one, $8.50. An ice cream dipper, a ladle for the batter, a cone shaper, a pyramid form, 16 assorted window signs, a large two-color banner and a copy of my $3.00 book which lays bare the whole process of making and marketing cones, pyramids and kindred products—are a few of the things I include with every order.

TERMS: half cash, balance C. O. D.

A. T. DIETZ, 127 Michigan St., Toledo, O.

My Ovens and Cupolas are carried in stock by the following firms: W. E. Beckmann & Co., St. Louis, Mo.; G. A. Knapp, 24 Main St., Allegheny, Pa.; Northwestern Bakers' Supply Co., Minneapolis, Minn.; Chesterman Company, Sioux City, Iowa. SEND YOU ORDER TO THE NEAREST POINT AND SAVE TRANSPORTATION CHARGES

LIST OF FAIRS

NOTICE

By identifying the various fairs with the circuit to which they belong, and by indicating positively that certain fairs are not allied with any circuit, we have added a feature of great value to privilege people, performers, agents and fair followers generally. Reference to the list of FAIR CIRCUITS, will prove of service in associating dates.

Neither list is by any means complete, so far as the minor details are concerned, and we solicit contributions of the information omitted, from all who may be interested in seeing the list more comprehensive.

This list is revised and corrected weekly. Readers will confer a favor by calling our attention to any errors or omissions.

mers. JOHNSON 5353 Dresser Ave., Chicago

Finish the season with a winner. Something brand new. This ball game is just out, makes the crowd happy, and gets the money. Pays for itself the first week. "Can you make the hen lay eggs?" The cleverest ball game ever offered. Each hole leads to a chute that holds a hen. You drop her into a hole, it runs through chute, and drops from below as though she were laying an egg. The crowd roars, and you rake in the nickels. Three balls for a nickel and a hard boiled egg for the ones which make the hen lay the winner at fair. Canvass, ready to set up, with full directions and six dozen eggs, $5 cash with order.
Send in early as our capacity is limited and first come, first served. Walter D. Allen, 87 State St., Boston, Mass.
