

FIRE IS AGAIN RAGING ON THE WATERFRONT Flames Break out in Coal Bunkers Near Ferry Building and There is Danger That Unless Checked They Will Spread to That Structure--Five Hundred Bodies Recovered.

San Francisco, April 22.—The fire which seemed to have died out yesterday broke out with renewed vigor in the coal bunkers north of the ferry building shortly after midnight. The fire reached these bunkers on Saturday, but was apparently checked after a hard fight, although the blaze stubbornly resisted all efforts of the firemen to extinguish it. Unless the flames can be subdued there is grave danger that they will eat their way across to the docks north of the ferry building, and reach this great structure. Early this morning the fire was burning fiercely. The Wellington Colliery Company's bunkers, which have so far escaped, are situated south of the ferry building, and unless the flames spread in that direction will be safe. FIVE HUNDRED BODIES HAVE BEEN RECOVERED. San Francisco, April 22.—(Special.)—Everywhere throughout the burned, as well as the remaining section of the city, is the greatest activity. Streets are being cleared of debris, laborers were repairing broken water pipes, sewers and gas mains; electricians were everywhere seeking to untangle the almost hopeless confusion of wires; in fact San Francisco is in the first stages of its regeneration. There are no hungry people here to-day, the gaunt specter of starvation has been banished by the magnificent response of the people of California in particular, and by the entire nation in general to the appeal which went out for assistance. San Francisco is not now without passenger transportation. Cars are running down Fillmore street, and appear to have plenty of power. The service is free to all. The total number of bodies recovered and buried up to Sunday night is 500. No complete record can be had at this time, as many bodies have been buried without permits from the coroner and the board of health. The searchers of the coroner and the board of health's departments found not more than twenty bodies, which were buried immediately. Few of these bodies could be identified, and the graves were marked by numbers. AREA OF BURNT DISTRICT SEVEN SQUARE MILES. San Francisco, April 22.—The area of the burnt district is seven square miles. Property owners had an opportunity yesterday to inspect some of the buildings and in a measure see what damage had been done. The new model steel buildings were found to be almost intact. In every instance it seemed that the earthquake had not damaged them. The steel frames were in perfect plumb and apparently as strong as ever. Cornices and chimney chimneys fell, but that was all. In the San Francisco were examined last night and found to be in good condition. The Postal Telegraph Company is rapidly installing a dynamo and instruments in this city. The state headquarters of the company will be at Oakland for a few nights at least, possibly longer. The Commercial Cable Company reports that its underground city lines in San Francisco suffered no damage from the earthquake shock. FEW IF ANY EASTERN PEOPLE AMONG DEAD. San Francisco, Cal., April 22.—Eastern people need have little solicitude for their friends who were here as tourists at the time of the earthquake. It may safely be asserted that few if any such persons have been killed or injured. The chances were with few exceptions were confined to the occupants of cheap lodging houses. RECOVERING BODIES FROM RUINS OF ASYLUM. Oakland, Cal., April 22.—That the bodies of 86 patients and 11 attendants have been recovered from the ruins of the Agnew Asylum for the Insane, near San Jose, is the telegraph information conveyed to Governor Pardee last night by Dr. Hatch, superintendent of state hospitals. AUSTRALIANS WILL ASSIST SUFFERERS. Melbourne, April 22.—Funds have been started at the various Australian capitals in aid of the sufferers by the San Francisco earthquake. Premier Seddon, on behalf of New Zealand, has offered $25,000. Mayor Schmitt, of San Francisco, called yesterday to the mayor of 894-nations for the relief of the distressed inhabitants. COULD NOT BE SAVED AND WAS SHOT. Los Angeles, Cal., April 22.—The most terrible thing I saw during the San Francisco fire, said E. Call Brown, the mining engineer, was the futile struggle of a policeman and others to rescue a man who was pinned down in burning wreckage. The helpless man watched the flames approach in silence all the time, and when he began burning his feet, then he begged to be killed. The officer took his man and address and then shot him through the head. SIXTY PEOPLE WERE KILLED AT SANTA ROSA. Sacramento, Cal., April 22.—Santa Rosa, in proportion to its size, has suffered worse than San Francisco. The list of dead numbers about sixty, but many persons are missing, and a still greater number are severely injured. Forty sailors from Mare Island, fully equipped with apparatus, were working through the park as the beach. Everyone said today they were receiving enough to eat and drink, but in order to receive the supplies they were obliged to stand in line at some places for two hours. This, of course, worked great hardship on many of the women, who were in a state of exhaustion. South of Market street the loss on the waterfront proper is comparatively small. Several sheds will have to be entirely reconstructed, but beyond this the property loss is insignificant. There is nothing to interfere with the unloading of the ships and steamers south of the ferry building. PREPARING FOR WORK OF CONSTRUCTION. New York, April 22.—Mayor McClellan today received the following telegram from Mayor Schmitt of San Francisco: "How many architects and architectural draughtsmen can you furnish us? How quickly can they leave for San Francisco?" Mayor McClellan suggests that all architects and architectural draughtsmen who are in a position to do anything for San Francisco send their names at once to the secretary of the city relief committee. Arrangements were made by the officers of the Red Cross to open stores here to receive supplies for the San Francisco sufferers. LIGHTHOUSE DESTROYED BY THE EARTHQUAKE. Astoria, Oregon, April 22.—Steamer Alliance, which arrived to-day from Eureka, reports that the Point Arena lighthouse was destroyed by the earthquake. The vessel while off Eureka on Wednesday morning was severely shaken. The captain thought the vessel had struck bottom, but found after making soundings that she was in 12 fathoms of water. The captain changed his course to westward. JAPS ARE SENDING HOSPITAL SHIP. London, April 22.—According to a dispatch from Tokyo to the Times seismographs in the Imperial university show that the San Francisco earthquake reached Japan in eleven minutes. The Red Cross ship of Japan is sending a hospital ship to San Francisco. TELEGRAPH COMPANIES RUSH REPAIR WORK. Oakland, Cal., April 22.—Three garlands of dynamo, telegraph instruments, etc., and a dozen Wheatstone operators arrived here last night from Chicago, consigned to the Western Union. A place will be immediately established at West Oakland and by tomorrow night it is believed the connection of messages will be greatly relieved. The Western Union cables to

TELL OF SCENES IN SAN FRANCISCO

The Indianapolis from Seattle last evening brought the first of the refugees from the destroyed city of San Francisco. These had come to Seattle overnight. Several of them remained only a few hours in the city, leaving in the evening for the mainland on their way to their homes. The most of those who arrived were tourists who had been spending a few weeks or months in the south. Alex. Crenby and wife of Los Angeles left their city the day before the earthquake happened. On their way they got definite news of the condition there and say that there was little damage done in that city. Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton arrived on the Indianapolis and left again last evening for Vancouver. Mrs. E. Nation, Mrs. Nation and their two children also arrived from the stricken city and are recuperating from the exciting experiences which they had before proceeding east. They are staying at the Rocabella. Mrs. J. Fuller, of San Diego, reached the city of San Francisco from the south on the day after the earthquake. She was on her way to Victoria to join her husband and had intended coming all the way by the Pacific Coast steamer. At San Francisco she was informed that the steamer's sailing had been cancelled and without further delay she crossed to Oakland and took the railway route for this city. She is staying at the St. Francis. LOST VERY LITTLE. Mr. Nation and Family Got Out of San Francisco According to Schedule. Mr. Nation when seen with reference to the disaster stated that it was impossible to adequately describe the situation in the city of San Francisco or the experience through which he had passed. He had arranged to leave the city the very afternoon of the day of the disaster. After a trying experience he got to Oakland with his wife and family and took the very train out which had arranged to take several days more to reach the city. It was not until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon that they got the ferry out of San Francisco, and at 4 o'clock they were on board the train for the north. The train was not crowded, as had been expected by Mr. Nation. On the contrary, there was abundance of room for far more passengers than left on it. As it was, Mr. and Mrs. Nation got away with very little loss in their personal effects. Mr. Nation and his family were staying at the Plymouth hotel, situated at the corner of Bush and Jones streets. When the shock was felt by them the parents instinctively made preparations to save themselves and their children. All were hurriedly dressed and Mr. Nation taking one of the children and Mrs. Nation the other they rushed out of the building. The sensation was a sickening one, they said. On reaching the street the effects of the earthquake were to be seen. The Plymouth had not suffered very severely, being a wooden structure. Adjoining it was the Cecil, and the whole front of that building had fallen out. Mr. Nation then hurriedly himself with the preparations for getting away from the city. It was very difficult to get information relative to the train leaving Oakland. The city was in a state of intense excitement. Finally about noon he decided to make his way to Oakland and finding it impossible to get a heck he had to content himself with an express wagon to carry the family and himself to the ferry. The ferry was crowded to its limit with people fleeing from the scene. At the railway depot, however, he found the conditions better and was enabled to leave as he had originally intended. Mr. Nation says that the earthquake seemed to have made little change in the physical character of the city. There were no wide fissures seen by him as has been described. The scene as the fire swept the business and residential blocks was one of grandeur, though also a sad one. WAS IN ST. FRANCISCO. Society Woman in Seattle Tells Story of Her Escape From San Francisco. Mrs. S. Praegenthal, one of the best-known society women in Seattle, had reached that city with her daughter Hilda, after having spent a terrible day and a night in San Francisco. She gives a very graphic story of the scenes she passed through. Mrs. Praegenthal told the following story: "It was exactly 5.13 a. m., last Wednesday morning, when the shock came. I was awake at the time. The first shock awoke my daughter, and she began crying. She begged me to hold her tight. I thought it was all over. The St. Francis shock like a reed in the wind. The plaster fell in a shower about us. It did not seem to me that the walls would ever right themselves, but they did. "We jumped hastily out of bed and rushed down the stairs. The water came down like a waterfall. Everyone seemed dazed, but the dis-

GOVERNMENT WILL CANCEL CONCESSIONS WHERE CONDITIONS HAVE NOT BEEN FULFILLED

Other Companies Warned that Leases Will Be Withdrawn if More Work is Not Done. (Special to the Times). Ottawa, April 22.—The Dominion government has decided to cancel some half-dozen hydraulic mining concessions in the Klondike because the concessionaires have failed to carry out the terms of their leases. Among those to be cancelled are the Bronson and Ray concessions. Some of the other companies will be notified that if they do not increase the amount of work on their concessions this year a comparable amount to that which they have worked on their concessions. If they are not satisfied to do this, then they can take suit against the interior department for the cancellation of the leases. The government is willing that the holder should settle the matter. An arrangement of this kind is necessary to prevent those who follow the present owners being subject to litigation. THE FIGHT FOR ALBERTA'S CAPITAL QUESTION WILL BE DEBATED IN HOUSE Crown Attorney Currie Says He Believes Case Will Be Pressed Against Joseph Phillips. Edmonton, Alta., April 22.—The first gun in the capital fight was fired in the legislature on Saturday when Hon. W. H. Cushing gave notice that on Wednesday next he would introduce a motion in relation to the location of the permanent capital. Hon. Mr. Cushing was immediately followed by John T. Moore, member for Red Deer, who gave the same motion, and Cornelius Hiebert (opposition) followed with a similar motion. The motions, according to the rules, will be taken up in the order given, so that granting that Hon. Mr. Cushing supports Calgary he will bring in a motion to have the permanent capital located at that city, and Mr. Moore, it is expected, will follow with a motion to place the capital at Red Deer. Cornelius Hiebert has declared himself in favor of Banff, but there is a rumor about the corridors that Mr. Hiebert, recognizing that the place of his choice has no chance, will move for Edmonton, thereby placing the Liberal members of the House in the position of having to vote for the motion. The Phillips Case. Toronto, April 22.—On Saturday Crown Attorney Currie stated that in his opinion the case against Joseph Phillips, of York County, would be pressed. Crown Attorney Currie also said the attorney-general was of the same opinion, the case should be pressed. Prince Arthur. Niagara Falls, Ont., April 22.—Prince Arthur and party, who arrived here yesterday, left the royal train at 11 a. m. and proceeded to the Horseshoe Falls in a private car. The party disembarked at Horseshoe Falls and went to Inspiration Point. The car then made the trip to Queenston. The party returned to the train for luncheon. They will leave for Toronto tomorrow morning at 10.15 a. m., arriving at 12.50. Thefts by Employees. Winnipeg, April 22.—The preliminary hearing of the C. P. R. employees, charged with theft of merchandise from cars and freight sheds, is arousing great interest, and the stories as told by detectives reveal a remarkable plot. Cars were burglarized in Winnipeg and then the thieves would seal them up at the next station after throwing the goods off at an appointed place. Everything was worked on a system, and all branches of the freight service almost were implicated. Several have pleaded guilty, and the cases will be vigorously prosecuted against the others. Caneoging Fatality. Winnipeg, April 22.—The first drowning fatality of the season occurred yesterday when a young Englishman, E. Y. Mitchell by name, lost his life when canoeing on Red river. EARTHQUAKES IN TUSCANY. Rome, April 22.—At 6 p. m.—Thirteen earthquakes were felt in succession this morning in the province of Siena, Tuscany. Several buildings were damaged, including the city hall at Pogsonnari. The inhabitants of Pogsonnari were panic-stricken.

PARDEE'S MESSAGE TO THE PRESIDENT.

Washington, April 22.—President Roosevelt to-day received this telegram from Governor Pardee, of California, dated Oakland, yesterday:

CHILDREN SUFFERED TERRIBLY FROM THIRST. "Los Angeles, April 22.—A fragmentary account of the terrible sufferings endured by the little children of San Francisco in the earthquake and fire was brought to this city yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huskey and Mrs. Kate Land who lived on Pine street.

OPERA SINGERS ESCAPED UNINJURED. Oakland, April 21.—The members of the Metropolitan opera company, of New York, all victims of the great disaster, are leaving to-day for the East.

WILL BE SAFER AND HEALTHIER CITY. New York, April 21.—In spite of the staggering property losses involved in the destruction of San Francisco by earthquake and fire, New Yorkers who have large interests at stake in that city and Californians resident here said without hesitation yesterday that San Francisco would be rebuilt as speedily as possible.

PORT TOWNSEND WILL SEND PROVISIONS. Port Townsend, April 21.—A citizens' relief committee was organized this morning. Mayor Hill being chairman.

Chief D. J. Sullivan, of San Francisco's fire department, died to-day from the effects of injuries received on the morning of the earthquake.

But Decide they are Not Prepared to Say Punishment Was Excessive. The special meeting of the board of school trustees, called for Saturday evening to investigate the charges of alleged brutal punishment to a boy of W. J. Ledingham's by W. N. Winsby in June last, developed some interesting phases.

SCHOOL BOARD HEARD COMPLAINT

INVESTIGATED CASE OF SEVERE WHIPPING

But Decide they are Not Prepared to Say Punishment Was Excessive.

It was the last meeting of the board prior to the departure of Chairman Huggett for the Old Country, and before the main business of the meeting was considered applications for the position of janitor of the South Park school, of which there were eleven.

Chairman Huggett then explained the object of the meeting. There were present, in addition to the trustees, the teachers concerned, W. N. Winsby and Miss Calhoun, and W. J. Ledingham, John Jardine and Mr. Waters.

Mr. Winsby next recounted the circumstances of the punishment. One morning in June last, he said, he was going around the school in Victoria Fire out. Weather cool. People cheerful and being quite well taken care of.

Secretary Eaton gave a lengthy explanation which caused a number of the members of the board to smile. Chairman Huggett asked Mr. Ledingham what he had to say to this.

Trustee Miss Cameron, however, was not satisfied with Mr. Eaton's explanation. She wanted to know if Mr. Eaton acknowledged Mr. Ledingham's letter of June 6th, to which Mr. Eaton stated that he referred the letter to Mr. Winsby, and had tried to arrange an interview.

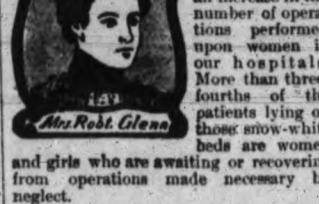

Trustee Miss Cameron was proceeding to further question when Mr. Eaton protested. He had explained everything, he said, so far as he knew, and he did not see what right Miss Cameron had to pursue the course she was taking.

In answer to Dr. Hall, Miss Calhoun said that she had seen the boy about fifteen minutes after the punishment, playing with other boys down the street.

Trustee Lewis also spoke against corporal punishment, and considered that no punishment should be administered by a principal except by the consent of the parents.

HOSPITALS CROWDED MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in your favor."

Just as surely as Mrs. Glenn was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from female troubles, inflammation, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Secretary Eaton gave a lengthy explanation which caused a number of the members of the board to smile. Chairman Huggett asked Mr. Ledingham what he had to say to this.

Trustee Miss Cameron, however, was not satisfied with Mr. Eaton's explanation. She wanted to know if Mr. Eaton acknowledged Mr. Ledingham's letter of June 6th, to which Mr. Eaton stated that he referred the letter to Mr. Winsby, and had tried to arrange an interview.

PHILIPPINE TOWNS SUFFER.

Marina Swept by Fire—Thousands Are Homeless and Starving.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—The war department received the following telegram from Gen. Wood at Manila: "Fire swept the town of Marikina, in Rizal province. Thousands are homeless and starving, and dwellings are ruined. The government is rushing assistance to the sufferers. Fire also destroyed Pasig, near the town of Cebu."

LARGEST FRENCH SHIP.

Havre, April 21.—The new French line steamer La Provence left here today on her maiden trip to New York. She is the largest ship of the French mercantile service.

strawberries, peaches, grapes and other fruits.
 "I believe that at least one-third of the island can be utilized in some way in connection with agriculture."
 The chairman—But your main reliance will be lumber and minerals?
 "Lumber, I believe, is the main resource, timber first, minerals second, agriculture third, but it is quite possible that development may reverse the order. Iron deposits are numerous, and some have been ascertained to be very large. They consist principally of magnetic iron of a very high grade, but there are also deposits of hematite."

The following extracts from the evidence describe the harbor facilities of Vancouver Island and show the views of the people of that island in regard to improved transportation facilities:
 Board of Trade:

"On this coast the harbors, which can be utilized in connection with ocean-borne commerce, are:

"Victoria—This harbor consists of two parts, the inner harbor and outer harbor. The inner harbor is perfectly landlocked, but requires to be deepened before it can be extensively utilized in connection with ocean-borne traffic. By the outer harbor is meant that water area bounded on the west by Macaulay Point and on the east by Holland Point. There is already docking accommodation in the outer harbor for steamers drawing 22 feet of water, and by the construction of breakwater, this could be extended so as to provide extensive and perfectly-protected facilities for vessels of any size or draught.

"Esquimalt—This harbor is adjacent to Victoria. It is safe, excellent and commodious. The general depth is six fathoms. The Royal Roads, lying between Albert Head and the entrance to Esquimalt, afford good anchorage for a distance of three miles anywhere within three-quarters of a mile from the shore.

"The approach to Victoria and Esquimalt from the ocean is by way of the Strait of Juan de Fuca. This Strait has the very great advantage resulting from the fact that soundings can be obtained at a distance of thirty miles out at sea from its entrance. Through the centre of the Strait there is a deep water zone running east and west, having 100 fathoms of water. This continues until the Race Rocks are passed, where vessels turn northward to reach Victoria or Esquimalt. Beyond this point the depth decreases to 60 and 70 fathoms. The water shoals rapidly on either side of the deep water zone. It is said that on no part of the Pacific coast of North America are conditions of this kind so favorable to navigation to be found.

"Barkley Sound—This is an extensive arm of the sea 30 miles west of the entrance to the Strait of Juan de Fuca. It has several arms, the principal being Alberni Canal, which extends inland 23 miles. Numerous islands lie at the entrance to the sound, the principal passage between them being what is called the Middle Channel, three miles wide in the narrowest part, with from 30 to 54 fathoms of water. The evidence of shipping men is to the effect that Barkley Sound is one of the best and safest ports on the Pacific coast.

"Quatsino Sound—This is the most northwesterly of the deep inlets characterizing the west coast of Vancouver Island. It penetrates the island 25 miles and has three arms. There is good depth of water throughout the whole sound. The entrance is easily recognized from the ocean by reason of high mountains, and sailing ships can enter it almost any weather conditions.

"Mr. Lugin: "Quatsino Sound is not only theoretically but actually for navigation purposes, as near the Orient as Port Simpson, while the distance from Yellow Head Pass to Quatsino Sound is little, if anything, greater than the distance from Yellow Head Pass to Port Simpson, while the advantages of these island ports are such that they greatly outweigh the disadvantage of the small additional rail haul.

"The whole coast of Vancouver Island is nearer Yellow Head Pass than Port Simpson or any other port on the mainland north of the entrance to Gardner Channel. It is submitted that the nature of Yellow Head Pass and its relation to the greatest producing areas in the prairie region of Canada, make it as adapted in any respect for a favorable degree to become one of the principal gateways of commerce through the mountains."

Board of Trade:
 "That it is desirable, in the interests of Canada and the whole Empire that the available routes by which the ocean front of Vancouver Island can be reached from railways on the mainland should be thoroughly investigated."

T. W. Patterson:
 "There is no doubt that the time is coming, and it may be nearer than any of us think at the present time, when it will be deemed of sufficient importance to the whole Dominion that a bridge should be constructed between the island and the mainland, and we think it would be well for the government to obtain all the information possible in regard to that matter. Such a bridge should be under the control of the government and free to all railways."

Board of Trade:
 "In his report to the Dominion government in 1877, Sir Sanford Fleming said: 'An unbroken line of railway from the railways in the eastern provinces to one of these harbors on the outer coast of Vancouver Island would be highly desirable. All the difficulties of navigation, to be encountered in reaching the mainland, from the ocean, would then be avoided. The exigencies of the future may render a continuous line of railway to the outer shore of Vancouver Island indispensable at any cost, and the board respectfully suggest that in view of the rapid development of Western Canada, and the great progress inaugurated in the Orient, the expediency to which Sir Sanford Fleming alluded is one which is all likely soon to arise, and therefore, that no time should be lost in arriving at a full understanding of the nature of the problem to be faced in reaching the desired result."

Mr. Lugin:
 "Three lines of railway have been surveyed from Yellow Head Pass to Esquimalt and to Quatsino Sound by way of Bute Inlet, and crossing at Seymour Narrows. One of these lines is shown in the map which accompanies that report of 1877. After passing through Yellow Head Pass, that line runs northwesterly, following the valley of the Fraser river and when it comes to the great bend of the Fraser it turns and runs southwesterly until it reaches Bute Inlet, where it was to cross by way of Seymour Narrows to Vancouver Island. The distance by this route from Edmonton to Quatsino would be 1,200 miles.

The Chairman—"How does that correspond with the distance from Edmonton to Vancouver?"
 Mr. Lugin—"The distance from Edmonton to Vancouver at present is 833 miles. A second line of railway has been surveyed from this same point, which instead of going north to the great bend of the Fraser, goes south by way of the Thompson river near to the mouth of the Clearwater river, whence it goes in a nearly westerly direction to Bute Inlet. The distance from Edmonton, by way of this route to Vancouver would be 833 miles, about the same as from Edmonton to Vancouver by the present route."

Mr. Lugin:
 "What the Victoria Board of Trade would like is that the commission would recommend that a further examination of this country be made, in order that the best line from Yellow Head Pass to Bute Inlet may be found."

"Supposing that a good route is found for a railway from Yellow Head Pass to Vancouver Island, it has been demonstrated that either Victoria, Esquimalt, Barclay Sound or Quatsino Sound can be utilized for a railway."

Your commission would call attention to the complaints made mainly on behalf of the ship-building and repairing works, saw mills, etc., of the want of a sufficient depth of water in the inner harbor at Victoria:

"No ships drawing more than 11 feet can safely navigate the inner harbor. There are a number of iron works here. The principal one is the Victoria Machinery Depot. There are three other iron works, all of whose business is ship repairing and ship-building.

"There is urgent need for locally owned vessels to profitably handle the two most important products of this province, namely: coal and lumber. Both of these products being bulky in nature, require a considerable number of vessels for transportation to foreign markets. Vessels of this class could all be built here if we had the needed depth, and depth of water to float them in."

An answer to the chairman:
 "We want the channel both widened and deepened. The Marine Works have $100,000 embarked in capital on plant alone. . . . The Albion Iron Works have an invested capital of about a quarter of a million. . . . But they cannot get the ships to their wharfs for want of greater depth of water and greater width in the channel."

A joint committee of the Victoria Board of Trade and municipal council, passed the following resolution:

"(a) That the harbor from its entrance off the outer wharf to Point Elliott bridge, within the lines marked red on the accompanying map, should be deepened to a uniform depth of 22 feet below the low water zero as recently determined by the tidal survey.

"(b) That the northern extremity of that portion of Laurel Point belonging to the provincial government, now below high water mark, should be blasted off and no wharf or any other interference with the free channel through the narrows should be permitted on that side of the said point.

"(c) That the material excavated should be used in the formation of the foundation for a breakwater from Holland Point to Brodie Ledge."

Your commission would, in view of the facts adduced, recommend:

That a further and exhaustive exploration and survey be made in order to find the best route from the plains of Alberta to an ocean port on the west side of Vancouver Island. That in case of the building of a bridge, Seymour Narrows or elsewhere, connecting the mainland of British Columbia with the island of Vancouver, such bridge and the approaches thereto, and the land on both sides of the water running back from same, such distance as may be deemed reasonably necessary to allow of free access thereto, be owned and controlled by the government of Canada, and with the view of acceding equal rights on and over such bridge and its approaches, to all railways desiring to use it.

That in view of the fact that in many cases the present charges for pilotage appear to be without warrant of law, but rather to be based on the desire of the board of pilotage commissioners to get away from the injustice of having to make heavy charges for service not rendered (many masters regularly and by preference, taking out or bringing their own vessels, whether paying the charge or otherwise), your commission would recommend that the regulations governing pilotage be amended to suit the circumstances of the port, and that no charge be made while no pilot is employed, in cases where it appears to be reasonable to allow all masters, or those of certain boats or lines of boats, to bring in their vessels without the aid of a pilot. That in accordance with the principle heretofore affirmed, the government of Canada proceed to obtain by negotiation, purchase, expropriation or otherwise, all such lands on the water front of the port of Victoria, or reasonably usable in connection therewith, as are owned or controlled by the province of British Columbia or the city of Victoria or other public bodies, together with such other lands as the circumstances show to be reasonably necessary, and all land obtained in the manner above described or otherwise, and all now in possession of or owned by the Dominion government, be thereafter owned, held, administered and controlled by the government of Canada for the public benefit, and with the view of the accommodation of all interests which now or hereafter may desire to centre at or use the said port.

That as soon as the land above mentioned has been obtained, a competent engineer be appointed to make a full report on the improvements asked for in the inner harbor, as well as on the question of breakwater accommodation so as to enable your government to deal with the matter of improvements and to decide what are advisable for immediate construction.

UNFOUNDED RUMORS.
 The Hague, April 21.—The rumors which reached New York of the eruption of the volcano on the island of Krakatoa, in the strait of Sunda, and of earthquake shocks in Java, appear to be unfounded. Nothing whatever has reached the minister of the colonies, nor have the newspaper correspondents in the East Indies mentioned any such disturbance.

"FAIR PLAY IS A JEWEL."

In common with a contemporary which seldom opens its mouth upon certain subjects without putting its foot in it, we rejoice that the Protestant Orphans' Home squabble has been settled in a manner that appears satisfactory to all concerned, and we are gratified beyond measure that there appears to be a prospect of "brotherly love" prevailing where "brotherly" love ought to prevail. At the same time we hope we shall be excused if in the density of our perception we cannot perceive the appositeness of the quotation from Holy Writ upon which the latest Sabbath discourse is founded. "So they hanged Harman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai." Will our contemporary be so kind as to designate the Mordecai in this case and to point out clearly, if it can, the person of the unfortunate who has been hanged high upon the gallows tree?

Our information, gathered from the reports of the far from creditable proceedings as published in the press, is to the effect that the Chief Justice, to whom the matter was referred for settlement, intimated that the case ought never to have been brought into court. This we take to mean that no injury could have been inflicted upon the orphanage had the procedure that had been followed in the past been strictly adhered to in the future. This being so, and the judgment of the Chief Justice expressing the opinions of persons whose amour propre had not been offended by the result of the elections, what was the object of those who attacked the validity of the proceedings? Was there nothing personal, possibly malignantly personal, in their act—nothing less commendable than a strong love for the welfare of the home and the well-being of the orphans in their attitude? There was no outrage upon the constitution of the institution as long as the appellants were illegally elected to the chief places upon the board of management; but as soon as the plaintiffs were ousted they were instantly aroused to a consciousness of the glaring irregularity of the proceedings, and they could not rest until the wrong had been rectified and the machinery properly adjusted.

In common with a great community of the regenerate and the unregenerate we dearly love to read stories which tell in a harmless and good-humored way against the clergy. The gentlemen of the "cloth," like their brethren of ordinary garb, have their weaknesses and their idiosyncrasies. In many cases their assumptions and the things they take for granted excite our risibilities. But they and the institutions they represent fill an important place in our civilization, if they do not exert as much influence upon our lives as they ought to do—which may be more our fault than theirs. And so, notwithstanding the frailties which the representatives of the churches share as the common inheritance of humanity, we say they ought to be treated fairly by the press. Misrepresentation and unfair criticism cannot but prove mischievous and pernicious. Irresponsible scribblers should read understandingly the texts with which they so freely garnish their "discourses."

CANADA'S PROGRESS.

A few days ago we published a dispatch from Ottawa giving the trade returns for the portion of the financial year for which the figures are available. Indicated that there is every probability of Canada's business hitting a mark no one in the country had any idea of aiming at but a very few years ago. On this subject and on the subject of the remarkable progress we have made during the past few years the Toronto Star says: "Writers and speech-makers are almost unanimous in saying that the trade of Canada is increasing by leaps and bounds, and that somebody invents a better one. This morning we learn that the trade is $396,859,395 for the past nine months, which is nearly fifty-six millions more than the aggregate for the corresponding nine months of 1904-05. If the average is maintained, this year will be noted as that in which the five hundred million mark is reached; the total cannot possibly fall far short of that figure. It will exceed the trade of 1901 by more than a hundred millions, and the trade of 1898 by two hundred millions; it will be about double the trade of 1897; if still be three hundred millions more than the average trade of the last few years of the N. P.; it will be about four times the trade of the first year of Confederation.

The most rapid increase was from $228,000,000 in 1896 to $467,000,000 in 1902—nearly one hundred per cent. in seven years. Then it looked as if high-water mark had been reached, the next two years being $467,000,000 and $470,000,000. This year the rapid rate of progress is resumed.

Coming down to details, the most remarkable increase this year is in agricultural products, from $24,484,114 to $40,274,628. These products rank second on the list, the highest being animals and their products, $54,000,000. The third is the product of the forest, $26,477,000, and the fourth the product of the mine, $25,515,445. Manufactures come next with $17,579,000, and fish, at the bottom of the list with $12,901,000. This shows how far we have traveled from the days when Canada figured in the geographies as a lumbering and fishing country. Minerals are now nearly equal to forest products, and manufactures five millions more than the product of the fisheries.

The increase since 1896 is far greater than in previous years. From Confederation to 1896, twenty-nine years, the increase was about a hundred millions; in the ten years from 1896 to 1906 it will be nearly three hundred millions. That this increase in the rate of progress coincides with a change of government is a fact upon which you may moralize according to your politics. Governments are naturally not averse to taking the credit. Oppositions more piously attribute prosperity to Providence. But as this government is accused of keeping the tariff too low, and thereby encouraging the entrance of a flood of British and American products, it may fairly take at least a fair share of the credit for these figures. The great list of free imports, $78,000,000, is an indication of prosperity in manufactures, for the benefit of which the free list is largely maintained. The growth of the export of manufactures is another indication of the same kind.

PULVERIZING A SOCIALIST.

The absurd conventions of society are a sore trial to the more radical of the reformers of the present day. The arrival in America of Mr. Gorky, the Russian Socialist, was hailed with joy unconfined until Dame Rumor maliciously insinuated that the reformer, in the practices of private life, exemplified his ideals in a manner objectionable to our straight-laced, narrow conceptions of the obligations man owes to his fellowmen or women. Notwithstanding the protests of M. Gorky, it has been assumed by writers whose horizon is limited compared with his broad expanse of vision, that the aim of the cult of which he is the prophet is to pull down the social as well as the political system the world in general has set up for the protection of the weak against the aggressiveness of appetites of the strong. America, judging by the welcome the Russian reformer has received in New York, is not yet prepared to substitute the "ethics of the barnyard" for the system which does at least circumscribe in a degree the operations of people holding what may with propriety be termed latitudinarian social views. Gorky has been ejected from numerous hotels as an objectionable person, and the woman whom he protests is his wife in the sight of God whatever persons who have not seen the true light may think about the relationship, has been compelled to go with him. The couple may gather a select company of soulful idealists around them and preach their propaganda in select circles, but the attitude of the press presages the failure of their mission. The New York Post deals with Monsieur Gorky in characteristically sarcastic fashion as follows: "Comic" is the only word that may be applied to the man who attempts to apply to the surprise and pain of our own rosewater and angel-cake Socialists, now that they have discovered that Maxim Gorky is not a hero for the Ladies' Home Journal. Gorky in turn is equally amazed and puzzled. He cannot understand why Americans who pine for that intellectual and moral freedom which will result from destruction of the existing social order, should look askance on a man who does a little destroying on his own account. Gorky is astonished at his own moderation. He has done nothing but leave his wife in Russia and come to America with another "spiritual affinity." The performance is not strictly legal, but—like all such cases—it has the sanction of the "higher law." Can it be that our own apostles of emancipation are still the slaves to groveling superstition? Do they still make a fetish of the bourgeois virtues?

Would Robert Hunter, James Graham Phelps Stokes and Edwin Markham shackle a man to one woman for all his days? When she has borne two or three children and has lost her youthful comeliness, must he still be compelled to gaze at her, fat and forty, across the breakfast table? This is to tie a soaring soul to earth and turn it to a cloud. Mr. Markham's Man with a Hoe has a jolly time of it compared with the Man with One Wife. Let us drop a passing tear for victims of cruel and stupid conventions, and then push to the goal of a revolutionized, glorified and polygamous humanity.

Again the straining eyes of the organs of the Conservative party have seen a sign which portends a dissolution of the solid forces of Liberalism. The Laurier tower has fallen in ruins, they say, filling the minds of superstitious politicians with dread and misgiving. The Laurier tower was never known as the Laurier tower until its collapse suggested the name and the insipid uses to which the fall in connection with the name might be applied. But the dread portent does not seem to have any effect upon the spirits of the representatives of the Liberal party. They are just as cheerful and sanguine as ever. They are as confident in the future of the party as the people of Canada are in the future of the country which has shown such marvellous progress under Liberal rule.

"Westward the star of Empire," etc. The Winnipeg Free Press pertinently says: "From the Western point of view there is something amusing about the Laurier's rebukes to Toronto's aspirations. Says the Montreal Gazette, for instance: 'One of the Toronto newspapers now demands that the Canadian Pacific Railway establish headquarters in Toronto, with full power to accommodate all the business without reference to Montreal. The fall should be allowed to wag the dog, so to speak, when necessary.' It is only a matter of time, of course, until Winnipeg becomes the headquarters city of Canada."

SAVED IN SNOW SHOVELLING.
 From the Hillsburg Beaver.
 The light snowfall and mild weather of the past winter effected a great saving in the snow shovelling bill. During the winters of 1904 and 1905 it cost the County of Wellington an average each winter of nearly $50 a mile to keep the road from Guelph to Erin open. This sum represented expenditure for snow shovelling and ice picking alone—there was no permanent improvement, nothing to show for it once the thaw came. But this winter what a change! The Beaver has been informed by Warden Alex. McKinnon that in his district, which, we

WOULD CALL IT AN ACCIDENT.
 From Harper's Weekly.
 Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court, despite his length of service on the bench, still preserves that elasticity of spirit and love of a joke that have distinguished him all through his career.

A learned counsel was arguing the question as to what circumstances constituted an "accident."

"Suppose, your honor," said he, "some one were to hit me in the eye, making it black in consequence. The fact of its becoming black could not be called an accident."

"Perhaps not," suggested Harlan, with a chuckle, "but you would doubtless explain it on that ground."

PRESIDENT HILL'S ADVENT.
 Toronto World (Conservative).
 The few Canadian minds which have turned towards annexation have only done so when times were hard. President Hill's advent is one of the fruits of prosperous times. It will contribute to further prosperity. It will tend to the enlargement of Canada, and not to the greater glorification of the Star Spangled Banner.

A SOMERSET BALLAD.
 There's a dream that comes when day-light's dying,
 And the noisy-crows are homeward flying,
 When the lewis and tolls of day are ended,
 The mavis abed, and the cattle tended;
 And I watch the veldts grow dim and dimmer
 In summer sunset's fading glimmer.
 While to and fro the bats go flitting
 About the porch where I am sitting.
 And there I the dusk I smoke and ponder
 Till forth on the wings of my dream I wander.
 Zime as some gentle spirit bore me
 To where my child has gone before me,
 Full forty years their tale have written
 On my brow by sin and sorrow smitten;
 But her white soul hath won my pardon,
 And opened the gates of Eden garden.

Oh! Eden garden's all a-flowers,
 By angels made for a children's bower;
 And our lost little ones go thither—
 Flowers of the spring that bloom and wither!

Smiling they go, with happy faces,
 For there's no more death in those fair places,
 No more weeping and no more crying
 For summer over and sweet things dying.

And there the childless women waken;
 The maid unloved, and the maid forsaken:
 The buds that never came to blossom;
 The empty lap and the barren bosom,
 For there the LORD of 'n' place hath set them.

Among the babies, to kiss and pat them,
 Their hearts are light; they call to each other,
 And every one is a happy mother.

Drop Eden garden I go straying,
 All in the midst of 'th' pretty playing,
 And I'm lost among a world of children,
 They pull me, they tug me, 'tis fair bewilderin'!

'Till sudden I hear my Janey's laughter;
 Hrd alone, but a cry comes after,
 Oh, my hungry arms are wide and ready,
 But she goes me first, and springs to be-dandy!

ELOQUENT ORATOR ADDRESSES MEN

SILVER-TONGUED SPEAKER HERE FROM AUSTRALIA

Mass Meeting of Men To-night at Which Rev. Mr. Marsh I and Mr. Parsons Will Speak.

Victoria is enjoying at the present time a visit from two leading Y. M. C. A. workers, one from the Australasian continent and one from this. They are Rev. A. N. Marshall, a Canadian who was born in Nova Scotia, but who has spent nine years beneath the Southern Cross, and is now pastor of a large church in Adelaide, South Australia, and Walter M. Parsons, the beloved field secretary for the Northwest of the International Y. M. C. A. committee. Mr. Parsons makes his headquarters in Minneapolis, and from that point he travels almost constantly over the vast territory to the Northwest, which those who live on this side of the Great Lakes are fond of terming the most important section of the continent.

Mr. Parsons is an indefatigable worker, and is known throughout the territory mentioned. Mr. Marshall is comparatively unknown, but it is safe to say that his work in Victoria and in Vancouver will create an impression sufficiently deep to insure him large audiences in other points which he will visit throughout Canada. He is a most impressive speaker to men. So great was the interest aroused at yesterday's meetings that these should be a crowded house at the Victoria theatre to-night, where he will again address the men of the city, and Mr. Parsons will leave this evening for the East, conducting meetings along the main line of the C. P. R. as they proceed.

Both gentlemen arrived in the city on Saturday evening, and met a large number of prominent business men, pastors, Y. M. C. A. workers, and others in the association rooms, at an informal luncheon. The main auditorium had been converted into a supper room, and tastefully decorated with flags and hunting, while three long tables accommodating sixty or seventy diners were filled with a jolly company. Among those who sat down were Hon. A. Smith, United States consul; R. Jones, collector of inland revenue; Dr. Ernest Hall, Geo. Carter, E. E. Wooton, A. J. Pines, R. Oves, Adams, Macrae, Gladstone, Clay, Dr. Campbell, Tapscott and Carson, Postmaster Shakespeare, E. M. Whyte, A. B. McNeill, President Knott, Secretary Northcott, W. Scowcroft, H. F. Pullen, R. Westcott, and many others. A tempting luncheon was provided by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the association, followed by an interesting talk from Mr. Parsons, on the progress and universality of the work.

The meeting in the Victoria theatre yesterday afternoon established at once for Rev. Mr. Marshall a premier position among the moral and religious speakers who have visited Victoria. His remarks were based upon the advice of Paul to Timothy to exercise himself into godliness and from this the speaker delivered an address of great force and beauty. He indulges in little generalization, and rarely raises his voice (an exceedingly well modulated one) above ordinary pitch, but his message is delivered with such intensity and in such chaste and beautiful language that he enralls the attention of his auditors from the start. His remarks were directed to demonstrate that the Christian life was the natural expression of normal manhood, and that any other course of life as depicted and confined the life as did the torture chambers of France, which permitted a man neither to stretch himself at full length or to stand erect.

Preceding Rev. Mr. Marshall's address Field Secretary Parsons delivered a brief speech, and the enjoyment of the occasion was greatly enhanced by solos from Mrs. D. C. Reed and J. G. Brown. The choir was occupied by the General Secretary Northcott of the local association, while a volunteer choir led the congregational singing.

Last evening Rev. Mr. Marshall addressed a large congregation at Calvary Baptist church. The speaker said he felt at home in the edifice as three successive pastors of that congregation, Revs. Trotter, Vicher and Tappan had all been class mates of his at McMaster University.

His sermon was based on the conversation of Christ with the woman of Samaria at the well. He dwelt first on the enmity between the Jews and the Samaritans which dated from the days of the captivity. Christ had therefore to break down from different lines of opposition, which he had to overcome. In an impressive way the speaker drew from the incident lessons of every day life, holding the attention of the large congregation rivetted to the close.

Mass Meeting To-night. There will be a mass meeting for men to-night in the Victoria theatre, which will be addressed by Rev. Mr. Marshall, and to which admission will be free. C. A. Steel will sing.

BLANCHE WALSH

The Noted Actress Appeared at the Victoria on Saturday evening—Albani Coming.

The Victoria theatre was well filled on Saturday night, when Blanche Walsh paid her annual visit to this city and appeared in Clyde Fitch's play, "The Woman in the Case." Since Miss Walsh laid aside the Sardon dramas she has appeared in a number of plays, but none of them has enjoyed a very long lease of popularity. In "The Woman in the Case" she has found a play which has been received with enthusiasm in every city in which it has been presented, and in New York last winter it ran for four months. "The Woman in the Case" is a melodrama in four acts, although the plot really ends with the third act.

Briefly, the story follows: Julian Rolfe has incurred the hatred of an abandoned woman because he prevents his dearest friend from marrying her. This friend in his insane infatuation deems death preferable to separation, and blows out his brains. Several years later (Julian himself being a happy bridegroom), this revengeful woman, Claire Foster, tells the district attorney a tale of murder, vowing that Julian Rolfe was her lover and that he killed his friend out of jealousy. This story she is able to substantiate by various kinds of circumstantial evidence, and by letters with forged dates until the case begins to look very black and Julian is torn from his wife's arms and cast into prison.

Margaret Rolfe, Julian's bride of a few weeks, recognizes that Claire alone knows the facts of the tragedy and determines to learn them at all costs. She has implicit faith in her husband and her love for him strengthens her in the task. She assumes the role of an honest, live in the same flat as Claire and tries by all means to learn the truth. All her efforts fail and the evening before her husband's trial she decides to make one more attempt to secure the information she so much desires. Margaret invites Claire to a champagne supper and over liquor and cigarettes the former skillfully directs the conversation into the desired channel, striving hard the while to hide from the other woman her anxiety to ascertain the story. Claire is pined with champagne until at length in maudlin whispers she tells of the suicide, the statement being heard also by two witnesses who had been sequestered in an adjoining room.

Miss Walsh takes the part of Margaret Rolfe and in the supper scene in the third act had an opportunity of displaying the ability which has placed her in the front rank of American actresses. While her better nature revolts against the role she had to play and her surroundings she showed what a sacrifice she was prepared to make for Julian, and was most effective as she played upon the feelings of Claire in order to get the confession, and when, having heard all she wanted to know, she sprang, with a shout of triumph at Claire's throat, the audience broke forth in enthusiastic applause, the curtain being raised time and time again. Miss Walsh has always been a favorite in Victoria and Saturday night added to her already many admirers in this city.

Dorothy Dorr was the Claire Foster of the east and filled the trying and thankless part in a capable manner. It is a difficult role that of "The Woman in the Case," especially in the third act, but Miss Dorr, having over-looked the difficulties, made the most plausible at the close of the scene. Eleanor Carey, as Mrs. Hughes, Margaret's mother, and Grace Gibbons, as Elsie Brewster, were other prominent ladies in the company.

Robert Connors was the Julian Rolfe of the east and played throughout in a quiet and effective manner, while Mr. Thomson, the lawyer, was excellently impersonated by Frank Sheridan. The other parts were all in good hands.

"The Rose Maiden." With four great soloists and a chorus of 100 voices, singing the "Rose Maiden" and a mixed concert beside for which in nearly every city in Canada thousands of persons were willing to pay $2.00 a seat to hear, the evening of May 15th may well be anticipated by local music lovers as being one of the most important and interesting musical events in recent years. The prices will be within the reach of all. No seat will be above $2.50, and they will run from that down to 75c. The local chorus stimulated by the prospect of singing with Madame Albani, are turning out in force to practice, and prospects point to the finest chorus work ever heard in Victoria. A record breaking audience is expected on this occasion, and when the plan opens Friday morning, the 11th, there will be a very great demand for seats.

The end-men and end-ladies certainly cut a dash in the Magpie Minstrels.

A Serious Question.
A persistent bad cold will run into consumption unless it is relieved in time. So it is with the little daily wants of the people—they grow serious if not promptly filled. You can afford, for instance, to have that house tenantless for a little while, but when it continues tenantless month after month it becomes a serious matter. The timely "want" ad. ends the trouble.

Sporting News

THE GUN. ACTIVITY AMONG TRAPSHOOTERS.

Spring and summer are the seasons of greatest activity among the trapshooters of this province. In this season all through fall and winter, so that here the gun barrel may be said to be kept warm from one end of the year to the other. This season promises to prove the most active Victoria has ever known for trapshooters. Various reasons have combined to stimulate this revival. One club has secured grounds in close proximity to the city, so that members and friends can devote a few hours to practice at any time or on any day they choose. It is said the other organization is soon to follow the example thus set, having already an option on quarters in the neighborhood of Oak Bay, close to the car line. In addition to this, one of the leading Canadian powder manufacturing companies has determined to make an effort to secure a fairly proportionate share of the market for cartridges, of which a large number are consumed annually in this province. The Dominion Cartridge Company has been in the business for a number of years, but for some reason or other, its goods have never been popular. The representatives of the concern candidly admit there may have been reasons for the disfavour with which their shells have been regarded by sportsmen anxious to make good scores. But they contend they have now placed upon the market shells which cannot be excelled by the best English or American manufacturers and loaders. They are prepared to prove this proposition, and have placed cups and medals in possession of the gun clubs to be competed for during the coming summer, holding that, all other things being equal, the home manufacturers have the right of a fair test being applied, and all other things being equal, a fair share of the patronage goes. The actions of the gun clubs in moving their quarters to localities easy of access and of the Dominion Cartridge Company in offering handsome trophies for competition account to a considerable extent for the increased interest in trap shooting.

CAPITAL CLUB SHOOT.

At the grounds of the Capital Gun Club on Saturday there were fifteen competitors and the Dominion Cartridge Co.'s medal was won by G. Ross. His score being 22 out of a possible 25. This is all the more creditable in view of the fact that the prevailing weather conditions were unfavorable, a high wind causing the targets to shoot upward or downward immediately upon the traps. F. W. Stevenson secured second place with 20 while W. N. Lester was third with 19. On the side of the three mentioned none of those participating did particularly well.

WELLER WINS TROPHY.

O. Weller won the Victoria Gun Club trophy with a score of 23 out of 25. The same score and shot of the trophy which resulted in a win for Weller by one bird. The next event was for the Dominion Cartridge Co.'s medal, which was won by T. Peden with a score of 23 out of 25. O. Weller having won the Victoria Gun Club trophy three times now owns it. It was won by the following: J. C. Macdonald, once; R. Sangster, once; O. Weller, three times; W. H. Adams, twice; H. N. Short, once; C. Canfield, once.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL. GARRISON THE CHAMPIONS.

"In a game declared by many to be the best ever seen in the city, the present season of the British Columbia Association Football League was brought to a close on Saturday afternoon," says the Vancouver News-Advertiser. "The contestants were the Celtics of this city, and the Garrison team of Victoria, and the game resulted in a goalless draw, thus leaving the Garrison champions of the league for another year. The day was an ideal one and so was the game. There was just sufficient cloud to make it pleasant playing, and the ground was in splendid condition. A large crowd gathered in the grandstand, and the greatest enthusiasm was displayed throughout the game. "The match was kept clean and well contested from beginning to end, the referee, G. A. P. Gill, of Chilliwack, having the players well in hand, and all his decisions were received without a murmur. There was no straggling or loafing of any kind shown; it was clean, sport all through. The teams were evenly matched, but the Celtics were swifter on the attack, and kept the ball hovering round the Garrison's goal most of the time, but the defence of the visitors was superb. Time after time the Celtics charged down on their opponents, but they were impregnable as the British infantry at Waterloo. Byrne and Williams in the back line and Worrall in the goal proved a combination very difficult to break. "The game started shortly after 2 o'clock, and the Celtics at once began to push the ball. Time after time the ball went down towards the Garrison goal, and time after time the strong kickers of the visitors' back returned it to the middle of the field. Once, indeed, in the first half, it looked as if the Celtics must score. Robertson took the ball with a skillful piece of dribbling, and amidst the applause of the spectators shot the ball straight and strong for the goal, but Worrall raised his hand and just managed to turn it over the bar. Then for a time the Garrison got the ball down towards their opponents' goal, but it was returned by Scott, and a series of splendid rushes by the Celtics followed, which were, however, broken every time by the defence of Byrne and Paley, backed by the superb goalkeeping of Worrall. "In the second half the Garrison contented themselves with playing a defensive game. Some splendid combination work was done by the Celtics, Stewart, Payne and Robertson showing up very strongly.

"At the end of the game spectators present round the ground, salute the Celtics on their splendid play. It almost seemed to their supporters that they were moral victors, and that they had a splendid tribute to the superb defence of their opponents."

NORTH WARD WON.
The game between the Vancouver juniors and the North Ward juniors of Victoria, which was played immediately before the senior match on Saturday at the Terminal City, resulted, "bye" to one in favor of the Victoria boys.

LADYSMITH SUCCESSFUL.
The Ladysmith Intermediate Football Club have secured the intermediate championship of British Columbia by defeating the Columbian College team by 3 goals to 1 in the final match at New Westminster on Saturday. The line-up was as follows: Ladysmith—Goal, A. R. Graves; backs, M. Kerr, J. Crossan; halves, G. Jackson, A. Saunders, D. O. Michie (captain), R. C. Under, J. Hughes and D. Winaby. New Westminster—Goal, S. Chan; backs, H. Leamy and S. Peck; halves, H. B. McEwen, R. Kilpatrick, O. Peck (captain); forwards, J. Brown, L. Turnbull, C. Gerby, R. Brown and T. Lennie.

T. Mahony, of New Westminster, acted as referee.

ATHLETICS. PROGRAMME ARRANGED.

At a recent meeting of the committee having in hand the arrangements for the public school children's field day sports, an excellent programme was drafted. As is generally known, the event takes the form of a competition between representatives of the various schools. Some slight changes have been made this year. For instance, throwing the baseball has been replaced by a half mile race. Hand-stands, it is understood, will be offered for each contest. In the general competition for the Swinton cup the

MUNICIPAL NOTICE

The members of the various sub-committees in connection with the proposed regimental smoker will meet at the drill hall next Wednesday at 9 p.m. The mystery surrounding the strange disappearance of D. Bately and C. Hallner, of Anstons, N. Y., two students, has been finally cleared up, says a Port Arthur dispatch. The young men had been holidaying on Isle Royale and were left stranded there when winter set in, but spent a fairly comfortable period hunting and trapping. The first boat picked them up. The corporation of Port Arthur has presented a silk hat to Captain Foote of the Huronic, which is the first passenger boat of the season to dock there.

CAN YOU RESIST DISEASE GERMS?

YES, AND BECOME "GERM-PROOF" BY DRIVING OUT BLOOD HUMORS AND RESTORING THE SYSTEM

Why are doctors and hospitals so busy in spring-time? Easily answered. People have not much surplus vigor in the spring; it was all burned up in fighting through the winter.

Your one protection is to get the abundant vigor that Ferreroze so quickly supplies. It gives spring sickness, that tired feeling, restores nerve, energy and instills vigor and force into every ailing organ of the body.

How to be Beautiful and Beautiful

Some Old Fashioned Spring Beautifiers

IN THE DAYS when our grandmothers were young, beauty specialists with fountains of youth in the way of skin creams and lotions were not so common, and few of us have heard that grandmother's skin was soft and rosy when she was a girl, and we have also seen with our own eyes the grandmother of today whose skin was as fresh and smooth as that of her daughter, in fact more so.

It was my good fortune to meet one of these dear old ladies very recently—she was 62 years old, although when looking at her clear eyes and fresh, well-preserved skin it was hard to believe it.

"How did you do it?" I gained courage to ask, thinking I might find out about some wonderful cream or lotion that would be an eternal boon to myself and others. Imagine my surprise when she told me that she had never applied any manufactured cosmetic or cream of any kind to her skin, but had always used the simplest of beautifiers, which nature provides, and which are within the reach of every woman, rich or poor.

TOOK A SIMPLE REMEDY.

Twice a year at least, usually in the spring and fall, she got her blood and general system in order by taking some simple remedy.

At the first rising of the sap in the trees, and before the first attack of spring fever overtakes you, take a course of sassafras tea. If you live in the country, you can go out and get it yourself, and if not, you can usually find a street peddler with bunches of sassafras bark for sale. Steep it in boiling water just as you would make any other tea, and for about a week or ten days drink copiously of this.

Another spring beautifier to be taken internally is the old-fashioned sulphur and molasses. It is generally taken, Oh, so! But think how it will brighten your eyes and clear up your complexion. Mix it in a glass of water and take a cup of sulphur to one of molasses, and take a tablespoonful three times a day for three days, then stop for three days. And so on until you have taken it nine days.

At the same time, you can clear the complexion even more by rubbing the face over just before washing it with a mixture of sulphur and buttermilk.

Buttermilk was another old-fashioned beautifier upon which our grandmothers relied. They used it generously at the first appearance of spring weather, when the sun's rays were hot enough to bring freckles and sunburn to their train.

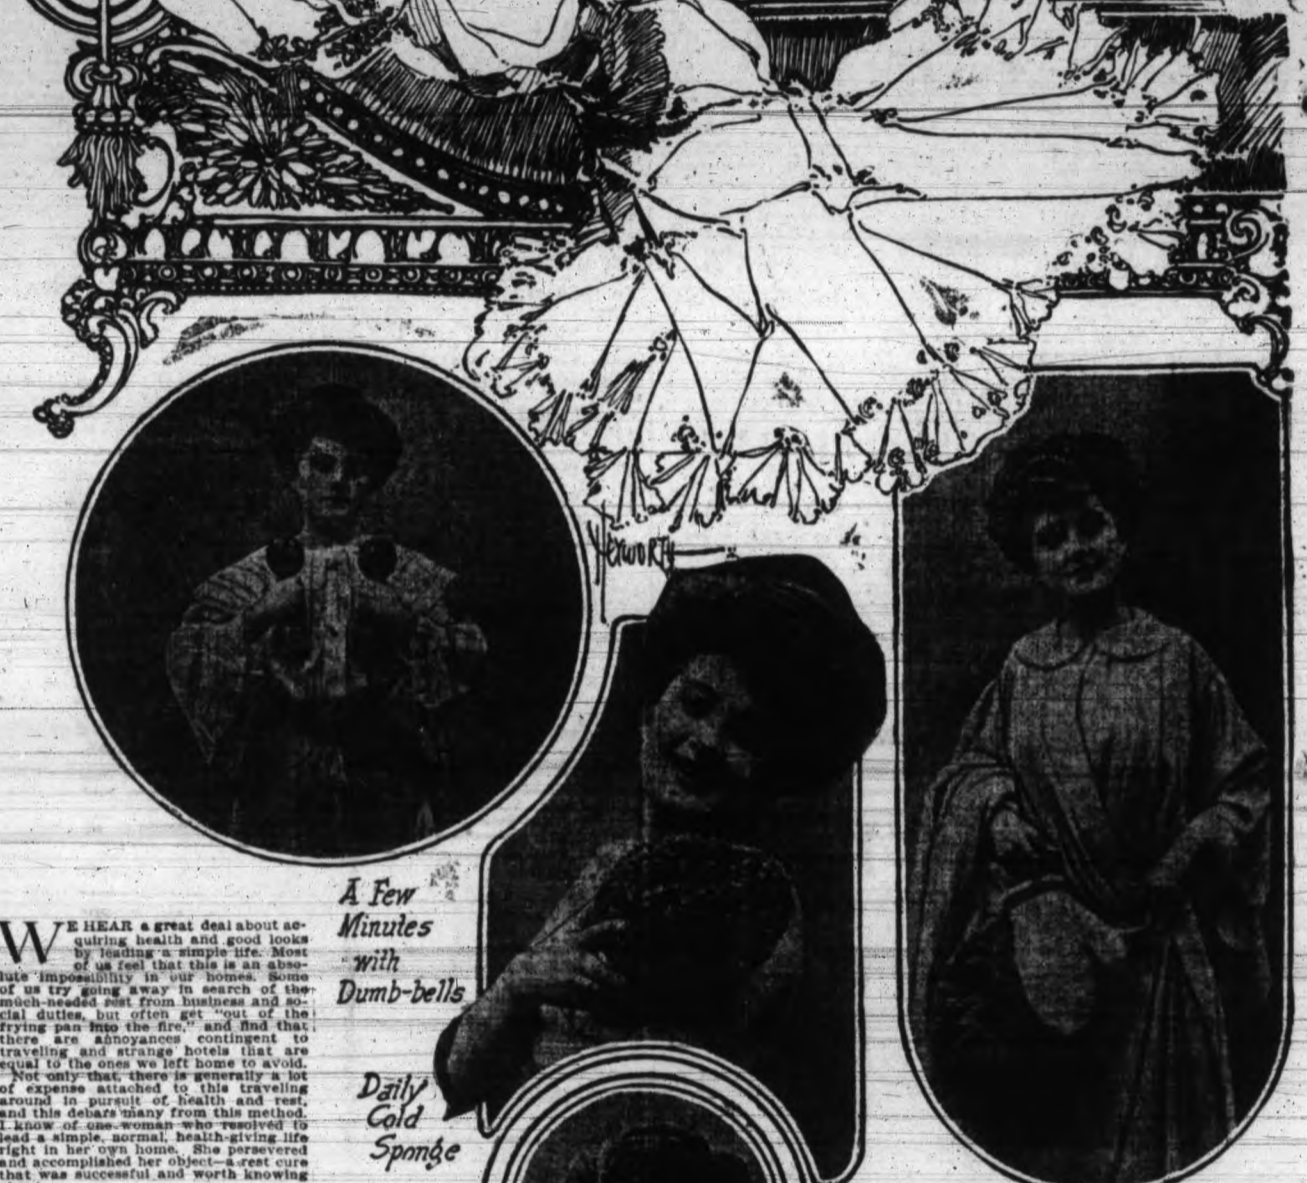

BUTTERMILK FOR THE SKIN

There is probably no better emollient for the skin than buttermilk, and it leaves the skin soft and white, with a fresh, sweet odor, superior to any manufactured perfume. If you sunburn and tan and are inclined to freckle, the buttermilk acts as a bleach. It also stimulates the pores and acts as a corrective for most of the minor imperfections to which the skin is prone. It should, however, never be applied to the face with a massage motion, but with a gentle little pat, until every portion of the face has been covered, and let it dry on the skin, as it will leave no trace of oiliness. It may be used generously on the neck and arms, which should be bathed first. Dry the skin by patting (not rubbing) with a soft towel, and then apply a delicate perfume to follow.

If your skin appears sallow in the spring, try another old-time remedy—take a course of sassafras tea, and take it for about two weeks at a time.

There are many more of these simple beautifiers, and in the pursuit of health and beauty I advise you to look up some old-fashioned beautifiers, which will no doubt impart some very useful knowledge on the subject.

Beauty TAKING A REST CURE AT HOME

A Few Minutes with Dumb-bells

Daily Cold Sponge

WE HEAR a great deal about acquiring health and good looks by leading a simple life. Most of us feel that this is an absolute impossibility in our homes. Some of us try going away in search of the much-needed rest from business and social duties, but often get out of the frying pan into the fire, and find that there are annoyances contingent to traveling and strange hotels that are equal to the ones we left home to avoid.

Not only that, there is generally a lot of expense attached to this traveling around in pursuit of health and rest, and the porters and waiters and the Turkish towel until it was warm and glowing. If reaction did not come quickly, she used rough ministrations.

She then dressed quickly and went for an early morning walk, while the day was fresh and cool. She ate a light breakfast, always starting it with either orange or grape-juice, and then she sat down to read, and spent in reading or doing some very light hand sewing that would not overtax the mind or body.

Whenever possible she sat so the sunshine poured in on her, frequently taking a short nap. Her hair, by its rays could penetrate to the scalp. At noon she ate a simple meal, limited to three articles of food, none of which was rich or greasy.

The afternoon was quietly spent, with another brisk walk, even though the weather was stormy.

The evening meal was always simple. After a short time spent in reading, a little time was devoted to scalp massage.

Plenty of Fruit Juices

SOME NECESSARY ARTICLES

Then the hair was carefully brushed and comfortably arranged for the night. So that the skin should be kept fresh and soft-looking, facial cream was applied; and by that time she was ready for a good night's rest.

Of course, there were moments of discouragement, but she was a resolute little body, and tried to find no troubles of body or mind intrude. At the end of a few weeks she was like a new being; friends and family were no more denied her society, and she took a happy, normal interest in life.

The still keeps her room, and will tell you with a laughing face that at the first sign of the old nervous restlessness, worn-out feeling she expects to see to this well-tried friend.

Probably if more women would adopt this simple method of regaining lost health and beauty, the number of haggard, nervous-looking countenances which are now seen would diminish.

How to Take Care of the Nose and Ears

By Dr. Emma E. Walker.
Copyright, 1906, by A. R. Barnes & Co.

THE mouth forms an important part of the expression of the face. The mucous of the mouth are, like those of the rest of the body, molded by habit. The habit of cleanliness and contentment gives to the mouth its greatest charm. No artificial tint ever added beauty to this feature. Like all other artifices, it can always be detected, and makes the face coarse. It also makes the mouth appear broader, and injures the texture of the lips.

The bad habit that so many girls have of biting their lips to make them red thickens them and dries them so that they become chapped and colorless and lose their delicate curves.

A DAINTY CREAM

The formula for a dainty cream to use on dry and cracked lips is: Almond oil, one-eighth pound; white wax, one-half ounce; spermaceti, one-half ounce; oil of almonds, bitter, one-twelfth drachm; oil of geranium, one-eighth drachm. These ingredients are to be well mixed, and the cream may be applied whenever the lips require it.

Nothing adds more to the beauty of the mouth than well-kept teeth. Their good condition has much to do with the state of the general health, for without thorough mastication of food perfect health is impossible. The care of the teeth should begin with the first set.

The teeth should be examined not less than twice a year by a competent dentist.

They should be washed with lukewarm water before breakfast, after each meal, and before retiring. There are so many excellent dentifrices that it is hard to decide which is best. It is a good plan to ask your dentist's advice, as he is well acquainted with the particular character of your teeth.

Precipitated chalk is always good, and may be rubbed about the gums after eating anything acid and also before retiring. It will relieve the sensitiveness of the teeth which is so common at the margin of the gums.

An antiseptic is also indispensable. It helps to preserve the teeth and also keeps the breath sweet. Peroxide of hydrogen is a good antiseptic mouth wash. It also bleaches yellow teeth and kills germs. Dilute alcohol is a refreshing antiseptic for the mouth.

Powdered pumice stone used once in a while is excellent for removing stains. An extremely important item in the care of the teeth is the use of dental floss always after eating. This, together with a soft orange wood or quill toothpick, will remove every particle of food from the teeth.

Use a brush of brushes that are neither too stiff nor too soft, and brush the inside as well as the outside, and do not neglect the flat crowns of the back teeth, for there are many germs hanging, it is better to brush the teeth downward from the gums than crossing along the line of the gums.

A mouthful of milk of magnesia taken every night before retiring, allowing it to penetrate into every nook and cranny of the mouth, will correct any tendency to acidity, and prevent the decay which comes from chemical decomposition.

A noted medical writer advises an occasional cleaning of the teeth with common salt. The gums should also be rubbed. Do not allow tartar to accumulate upon the teeth, as its effects are disastrous.

Diet has an important bearing on the condition of the teeth. If given flour we are substituted for the fine white flour, coarse breads might well replace the ordinary white bread of daily use.

Lime water—a tablespoonful in a glass of milk or water—contributes to the strength of the teeth.

Avoid exposing the teeth to extremes of temperature. Very hot and very cold substances have a tendency to crack the enamel.

A very good and simple formula for tooth powder is made up of equal parts of precipitated chalk and powdered orris root. To this may be added any flavoring essence that may be desired.

TO PROTECT THE TEETH

Medicines that injure the teeth are the liquid prepara- tions of iron and the mineral acids. Such medicines should always be taken through a glass tube. It is well, especially in the morning, to gently wipe off the tongue with a damp cloth or soft, wet brush, as the cavity of the mouth harbors many micro-organisms and impurities.

It is a great treat to a girl to realize that her breath is unpleasant. It is, perhaps, a greater trial to others, when they realize the fact and she doesn't in health the breath is nearly odorless, but there is a slight sweet odor about the skin margin around the nostrils.

Offensive breath is merely a symptom, however extreme it may be. Perhaps the most frequent cause of an impure breath is dyspepsia, either gastric or intestinal. The hurry, worry and excitement characteristic of this age are greatly to blame for this condition.

Overwork, sedentary habits and the habit of "boiling" food all have a tendency to cause the trouble.

There are certain local causes for this affliction—affections of the mouth, nose, throat and lungs. Mouth-breathers, whose nostrils are not well open, often suffer from bad breath.

Sometimes this trouble exists when no cause can be found for it.

REMOVE THE CAUSE

In treating it, the cause must first be discovered, if possible, and removed. Use a tooth sponge or retainer, a tooth-wash containing myrrin, or a tooth-powder containing menthol, to help to prevent the decay of the teeth. If the stomach is at fault, aside from special treatment, a bit of exercise, taken soon after meals, an excellent mouth-wash is: Thymol, seven and a half grains; borax, fifteen grains; distilled water, one pint. The mouth is to be rinsed frequently with this solution.

Did you ever stop to think how you breathe? Do you know that as you are actually too lazy to breathe properly? Well, we are, and so we do much to impair the beauty of both form and figure.

Have you not often noticed the ugly mouth-breather? This habit of breathing through the mouth is unattractive enough in children, but even more so in adults.

Nose breathing and deep breathing are most important and magical aids to health and beauty. There is a little volume entitled "Breathe Your Mouth and Save Your Life." Ringer, starting with "Breathe," is a startling thing often are.

Breathe through your nose, and keep your hearing till you die."

The deformity of the whole face results from shallow breathing. This can be prevented by appropriate medical care in childhood.

Nasal breathing is the best preventive of colds in the head (the nose strains out the bacteria from the air). Keep nose breathing in the open air, and the pure and clear air the deeper you should breathe. Try this once, and it will really become a pleasant pastime, and its results will surprise you should breathe. Try this straighter shoulders, better developed chest, clearer skin and sweeter breath.

FOR WHOOPING COUGH

FOR whooping cough an excellent syrup is the following:

Slice some onions thinly, sprinkle well with brown sugar, place between two hot plates with a weight on the top. In a couple of hours remove the weight, and tilt the plates in a basin so as to allow the juice to flow out. Give a spoonful occasionally.

Beauty Hints to Correspondents by Mrs. Henry Symes

To Remove Wrinkles

Will you kindly publish in your helpful column again the correct way to massage the face, and if it is not too much trouble, give the photographs showing the correct way? This information will not only help me, but possibly others also. If you will kindly do this, you will greatly help an anxious reader.

AN ANKNOUS HEADRIDER.

The best general movement for massaging the face are with the tips of the fingers, outward and upward. If the treatment is for increasing the flesh, let the movements be gentle and soothing; for reducing flesh firm, hard treatment is required.

Wants White Hands

Will you kindly tell me a remedy for red hands? My hands are warm, they still remain red. When I hold them down they get very red. I have been using the best cream on them at night, but have used mutton tallow, but it doesn't seem to do them any good. I will appreciate it very much if you can help me. I am an anxious reader to have white hands.

TO WHITEN THE HANDS.

Lemon, 2 grains; paraffin (liquid), 25 grains; extract of vanilla, 10 drops; oil of rose, 1 drop.

Mix and apply when necessary.

Hair Too Oily

I wish you would help me in regard to my hair. I have a very oily scalp, but unless I wash my hair every week it gets so oily and itchy, I can't make any progress. In the front it is so thin you almost can't see the hair. I would like something to make it grow thick, and something to make it dry and fluffy. My hair was always very thick till the last year, when it got so thin, B. E.

Try the following lotion, which will, I think, improve the condition of your hair.

Formula for Oily Hair.

Use the following mixture daily, rubbing well into the scalp. Extract of Yucca, 2 grains; Alcohol, 2 ounces; witch hazel, 2 ounces; rosewater, 1 ounce.

To Cure Pimples

I would like a remedy for pimples and blackheads. Will you give me a recipe for Pimple cream? I clipped it, but have lost my clipping. One of your readers in the paper speaks of another remedy for blackheads. Please give me that also.

Mrs. A. W.

Lotion for Blackheads.

Pure brandy, 2 ounces; cologne, 1 ounce; liquor of potash, 1 ounce. Apply at night, after washing the face thoroughly with soap and water.

Formula for Pimples.

Lacolin, 5 grams; sweet almond oil, 2 grams; sulphur precipitate, 1 gram; oxide of zinc, 10 grams; extract of Yucca, 2 grains.

Apply a little of the cream to each pimple; wait until the pimples are cured before using the face brush, which might irritate them.

How to Make Cream

Have you several attempts to make your orange flower cream, but each time my cream turns a failure, as the ingredients separate. Will you kindly explain why, and give me directions just how to prepare the cream? Is the cream effect owing to the fact of material not being properly mixed? I am a constant reader of your columns, and this being my first inquiry, I hope to receive an early reply.

Mrs. E. C.

If you follow the directions for mixing the cream given below, I do not think you will have any further difficulty.

Orange Flower Cream.

White wax, 1 ounce; spermaceti, 1 ounce; liquor of potash, 1 ounce; oil of sweet orange flower water, 2 ounces; oil of sweet almonds, 4 ounces; tincture of benzoin, 20 drops.

Melt the first five ingredients together, strain off the wax and heat until nearly cold, adding by little, the benzoin, and, lastly, the orange flower water.

Formula for Oily Hair.

Use the following mixture daily, rubbing well into the scalp. Extract of Yucca, 2 grains; Alcohol, 2 ounces; witch hazel, 2 ounces; rosewater, 1 ounce.

To Cure Pimples

I would like a remedy for pimples and blackheads. Will you give me a recipe for Pimple cream? I clipped it, but have lost my clipping. One of your readers in the paper speaks of another remedy for blackheads. Please give me that also.

Mrs. A. W.

Lotion for Blackheads.

Pure brandy, 2 ounces; cologne, 1 ounce; liquor of potash, 1 ounce. Apply at night, after washing the face thoroughly with soap and water.

Formula for Pimples.

Lacolin, 5 grams; sweet almond oil, 2 grams; sulphur precipitate, 1 gram; oxide of zinc, 10 grams; extract of Yucca, 2 grains.

Apply a little of the cream to each pimple; wait until the pimples are cured before using the face brush, which might irritate them.

How to Make Cream

Have you several attempts to make your orange flower cream, but each time my cream turns a failure, as the ingredients separate. Will you kindly explain why, and give me directions just how to prepare the cream? Is the cream effect owing to the fact of material not being properly mixed? I am a constant reader of your columns, and this being my first inquiry, I hope to receive an early reply.

Mrs. E. C.

If you follow the directions for mixing the cream given below, I do not think you will have any further difficulty.

Orange Flower Cream.

White wax, 1 ounce; spermaceti, 1 ounce; liquor of potash, 1 ounce; oil of sweet orange flower water, 2 ounces; oil of sweet

Red Knuckles

I have very large and red knuckles, and as the rest of my hand is very white, they show so very plain. Can you give me any remedy for this? I have been using the following: Massage your fingers with the following: skin food, starting at the tips of the fingers and working backward toward the wrist. Enlarged knuckle joints frequently indicate rheumatic or gouty tendencies, and, if they do not disappear, I advise you to consult a physician, who can probably give you an internal remedy.

Skin Food for the Hands.

Cocoa butter, 1 ounce; oil of sweet almonds, 1 ounce; castor oil, 1 dram; borax, 1 dram; oil of bergamot, 1 drop.

Carelessness in Use of Peroxide

I used the peroxide of hydrogen you recommended for bleaching the skin, but some of it got on some of my hair and has turned it red. Please tell me something that will turn hair back to natural color. I shall look anxiously for it in next week's paper. You did not recommend the peroxide to me, but some one else; but, as I needed such a remedy, I used it. Please say this for me.

H. U. Y.

Very sorry I cannot help you. I do not know of anything that will bring the color back to hair on which peroxide has been used, and the only way is to have the peroxide and hair removed and grow out naturally. Care should be taken in using peroxide as a face bleach not to get it on the hair, eyebrows or eyelashes.

Massage Makes Hair Grow

I have mentioned this your formula for stopping the falling of the hair, and equally good for gentlemen? I have been rubbing the scalp for some weeks and have increased the circulation, and a growth of the hair has appeared. But it is a question whether or not this rubbing to more than once the increase grows a little more. If I can keep the young hair growing by some means and prevent further falling out, a full growth would in time be restored. Can you advise me to continue the rubbing, perhaps you can advise an alternative, and a good one.

C. P.

If the new hair has appeared your greatest difficulty has been overcome, and I do not think you need a tonic to stimulate the growth. Very gentle massage will not cause the hair to come out. It will only keep up the circulation and make the scalp healthy. Continue it in moderation, and about once a week rub a little vasoline well into the scalp.
