voted against both Treaties

Pres. of All-Japan Village Industry Ass'n; graduate of Columbia University; author on rural problems

Nippon Times 4 Dec p.1

(1) Iddia, China and Japan are all located in the Orient, being connected with each other since the early days of the Buddha, and having the same current of tradition and culture. Therefore, I am deeply moved by the emotion, different from that of the Europeans for having the opportunity to talk with Japanese people.

(2) I mostly respect late Gandhi who was my teacher as well as the leader with whom I had struggled for more than ten years. Gandhi was born in the midst of the chaotic world, full of suspicion, fear and strife. He devoted his whole life to find the way thereby to enable the people of the world live like one family not under the minor hegemony while admitting the diverse mode of living by each people. I also have been working for the above purpose in pursuance to his will.

(3) I am very well aware of why the strife in the world cannot be rooted out. It is due to the lack of spiritual value, namely so-called morals, giving too much priority to the enconomical value, thus resulting in the suspension of sacred mental activity, degeneration of all the activities to that of animals, and self-righteous on, without giving the least consideration to such effect as may exert on the others. This is not so remarkable in the share of individual life, but not a bit of consideration is paid to relations between countries.

(4) The struggles in India are ones brought about by economical reasons, that is, thesagrarian laborers being oppressed and exploited by the land lord class, and those farmers who have no land to cultivate are completely doing without cloths, foods and houses. It boils down to that the monetary economy is its deep-rooted evils, end the key to dissolve this trouble lies in "the self-sufficiency", thus indicating that the moral and the economical lifes cannot be separated but is unseparable one thing.

(5) The causes of evils in China have completely been wipted away by the recent land reform, and the food situation there is plentiful and the people is enjoying the life throughout Kanton in the south and Mukden in the north. It does not hit the mark to call it a Sovietized China, for the revolution in the Soviet Union was that which had been forced by a part of upper ones but not which has arrisen up from the bottom. It succeeded by teaching the hate against the privileged class and brought up it, so its factor of revolution being "the hate" which naturally differs from that of the Chinese Revolution. so long as this "hate" remains as a factor, it is natural that this "hate" is consistent nationally or internationally, and so is the present situation.

(6) The words "Communist revolution" cannot be applied to the revolution of China, which is rather a collaboration of all the Political Parties. than anything else. We can therefore rightly say that the revolution has been carried through by each Party contributing its own better qualities thereto. For such reason the Chinese people are not necessarily Communist Party members. A part of the Communist Party members are commanding the respect of the people in general by the great seriousness of their living attitude. Such communist Party members and the people in general as a man are now supporting the present Central Government. The Chinese people with extreme selfconfidence peculiar to them are living afraid of nothing in the world. The leaders of China are leading the van in all the campaigns, always standing at the first front line of the masses of the people.

(7) I feel, in a word, a pity for today's Japan. In other words, Japan is now under a lion's paws. India is rising up even in moral aspect. China is rising to her own feet, attaching an importance to social justice.

(8) In my youth I respected Japan as a great country and adored her. But my first impression of her after landing in Japan was that the people looked like citizens of third rate in London. When I consider the very history of Japan for the past fifty years, I cannot but feel that her failure was really attributable neither to political nor to military reasons but to her culture. Her military and political flaws made their way above the surface because of the want of her cultural self-confidence. Japan lost confidence in herself by imitating foreign nations, and she was punished by such imitation. However imitaters may make progress, they cannot be true leaders. Sometimes imitation does not mean progress but it means even retrogression.

(9) The Japanese people hold the first place among the countries of the world in respects of her cultural capabilities and deligence. If they return to the true Japan and go ahead by making good use of those elements, I am confident that a brilliant, great Japan will see the light, by emerging from her present retrograded conditions.

As for the utilization of the agricultural warehouses, the officials of the said Federation made the following request.

1. The agricultural warehouses have been contributing to the storage of foods since its institution. Notwithstanding that the agricultural warehouses have for their principal object the storage of rice, wheat and barley, (so that the associations might receive storage charges), the Government has been transporting the greater part of the above products to the consuming places of rice without using the warehouses, insisting that it is done for the sake of distribution management. we desire that the transportation to the consuming places shall be suspended to a minimum extend, thus making use of the agricultural warehouses to the utmost in order that they might receive charges for storage of rice, barley and wheat which will be earmarked for the expense for maintenance of associations and others.

Interested Students of Meiji University.

Number of Attendants: 22 persons.

Gist of Proceedings:

This meeting was held under the sponsorship of the Social Democratic Party Reconstruction Faction. Recently the Social Democratic Party has split into two factions of the right and the left wingers. The Social Democratic Party Reconstruction Faction interprets it as the epochal period which the Faction already expected has just come round. At such juncture this meeting was held in order to expand the sphere of influence of social democracy and to consolidate the unity thereof by appealing to all the labor unions, men of culture, students, smaller enterprisers and farmers on as wide a scale as possible.

The gist of proceedings thereof is given as follows:

1. The split of the Social Democratic Party can be said to be "what ought to come has come at last." We don't interpret the split as such but as one development the leftists of the Social Democratic Party dared to undertake into a front for unification of genuine social democratic elements.

2. The rightists of the Social Democratic Party has already degraded into a Party quite in the service of the regime of monopolistic capitalism. As they do not stand on the support of the masses of the people, it is a mere question of time that their influence and strength should wane out. Why should the monopolistic capitalists get the Social Democrats under their thumb? It is because they find the masses of the people the most difficult to deal with. For that reason it crops up for us as the pressing need of the hour to alienate the rightists of the Socail Democratic Party from the masses of the people and thereby to have them completely isolated.

3. In view of the series of failures the Social Democratic Party fell into in the past, the leftists desire that they as the leading influence go on the right path in order to prevent recurrence of suc failures. At the same time it is to be hoped that labor union members, men of culture, students, smaller enterprisers and farmers who are in sympathy with our social democracy will assist and supervise us as the outside organizations.

4. The Democratic Social Party Reconstruction Group, the movement of which has not come to the fore yet, held meetings with members of the leftists of the Social Democratic Party to exchange views between them or to form liaisons with each other. We are going to achieve our object, making the above leftists its nucleus.

5. The people have got tired of political parties. If we preach them the purport of the Social Democratic Party which we are going to organize, the people will not follow us. Therefore, we should establish friendship associations working places and organizations first and develop into the Party which we are aiming at.

6. We cling to the parliamentary politics and take an attitude quite different from that of the Japan Communist Party. At the present stage, however, we should conduct our movement along the line of the anti-Peace Treaty and Security Treaty policy. It is needed for us to cooperate with the Laborers-Farmers Party, Japan Communist Party, etc.

7. In the expectation that a general election will be conducted in April next year, things are likely to form a plan for the transfer of the political power to the second conservatives which are now being organized, aiming at finding a way out of the current policy. We should to cooperate with each other so that we may stand against them before their plan is realized.

8, During the Pacific War, our country was managed by the monopolistic capitalists of her own. Those in favor of both Peace Treaty and Security Treaty consist of those who arebeing made a tool of by the monopolistic capitalists of the United States. The majority of the Japanese people are in opposition to both Treaties in their heart. This has been proved by the facts that KITAMURA Tokutaro abstained from voting thereon and ISHIDA Ichimatsu's dismissal from membership raised a discussion. We are in confidence that it is feasible to bring our country back again to the right track by our efforts.

9. At this session, each member could understand the others' opinions. Therefore, we are to study the establishment of the central organ of this movement at the next session.

Number of Attendants: 55 persons.

Gist:

A report was made on the progress of the camapign of Tokyo-to League for the abolition of the Public Security Regulations and the following agreement was reached on the policy for the camapign in the future.

1. Report of the progress of the campaign made by the headquarters of Tokyo-to League for Abolition of the Public Security Regulations?

(a) A signature campaign for the abolition of the Regulations was conducted from September 10 through November 20.

(b) The goal of signatures to be collected was 80,000, but it was surpassed in a short period of time and signatures collected to date by various branches amounted to 97,154.

(c) Including signatures collected by the branches in the three Tama Counties, the total is expected to reach 120,000 or 130,000.

Reports on the development by the representatives of the branches in the 18 wards.

(1) The substantial campaign for collection of signatures was started in October last, and it was somewhat late.

(2) The Tokyo Truck W.U.; the National Agriculture and Forestry W.U.; the Printing and Publishing W.U.; the National Warehouse W.U.; the Japan Movie News W.U.; the Physical and Chemical Research Institute News W.U.; the National and Local Government W.U.; etc., totaling 35 bodies, participated and cooperated in the camapign.

(3) Few as they were, members of city and ward Assemblies cooperated in the camapigns for collection of signatures and fund.

(4) As the camapign for pay-increase and that against retrenchment were not carried out jointly with that for the collection of signatures for abolition of the Public Safety Regulations, something was wrong with the W.U.'s, excepting the Tokyo Truck W.U.

(5) We have done rather well in obtaining large lots in the camapign for the collection of funds, but we had not made so good records in general ones. The accounting of the branches has run into red figures as a whole.

As the policies for the future campaign.

(1) To obtain the legal number of signatures (considering invalid signatures).

(2) To strengthen the campaign for abolition of the Public Safety Regulations among general signers, and members of the City and Ward Assemblies.

(3) To enlarge and reinforce the organizations of the League for the Abolition of Tokyoto Public Security Regulation and its branches.

(4) Each branch shall hold Round-Table Conference against Evil Laws and Conference on Local Administration.

(5) To hold meeting as occasion calls in order to report on the result of the camapign for the abolition of the Peace Preservation Regulations.

After report on the progress of the campaign up to the present was given and consultation on the policy for the future activity was made, the meeting was adjourned.

Gist of the Proceedings:

Regarding the so-called "Kyoto University Incident" that students of the Kyoto University encircled the Imperial Car, singing aloud the "Song of Peace" at the time of the Emperor's visit to the University on Nov. 12 while he was staying in Kyoto, two members of the Executive Committee, Dogakkai thereof explained the real facts of the incident to newspaper-men.

1. Papers blamed the Dogakkai, saying that it had taken such an action according to the plan contemplated beforehand. But it is far from the real facts of the incident. The article was criticism maliciously given thereon.

2. It is wide of the mark to blame the Dogakkai society for not having received him in good order.

3. It is not students of the Dogakkai that surrounded his automobile. They rather stopped it (Many students have witnessed it).

4. The Dogakkai neither welcomed nor rejected him, but took an attitude of opposing to invasion by policemen into the campus.

5. The university authorities ordered students to welcome him in front of the clock-tower; it is the university authorities themselves that directed them. They, however, could not control the students who gathered there. They brought more than 500 municipal policemen into the campus, and arbitrarily placed the university in a state of siege; and excieted students so much that even bystanders were involved therein.

6. The University authorities and the municipal police could not control the confusion, so the Dogakkai demanded the municipal policemen and the students to withdraw, and endeavored to save the situation. The students conplied with such request, but the municipal policemen did not leave the campus.

7. The number of placard was only three and what were written on them were "opposition to revival of Emperer system" and other similar thereto.

8. HATTORI, the Dean of the University intended to settle the matter within the University, but Ministry of Education Special Examining Bureau and National Police despatched investigation staff and are intentionally making the problem rather secrious by framing up a trivial matter into a big incident.

9. NAITO, Chief of General Affairs Section requested students through University official to raise cheers even if they should be beaten once or twice.

10. Such a fact is to oppress the problems within the campus with an external power, and deprive students of the autonomy.

11. President HATTORI is feared for committing suicide. We are absolutely against even of the retirement of the President. The Dogakkai of Kyoto University is going to by revealing the real facts of the case appeal to the country-wide students on the following two items in order to protect the university:

a. The order to dissolve the Dogakkai is entirely no sense;

b. To reverse the punishment of the seven students.

Name of meeting: Round-table talks between members of Social Democratic Party and women's organizations.

Date: Nov. 21st, 1951. (Wednesday), from 14:30 to 16:30.

The conference room used: The fifth conference room.

(SD, Lobby 23), Women's Department of left wing Social Democratic Party, Representatives of Japan General Federation of Private Railways W.U., All-Japan Express W.U., Women's organization in Chofu, Ota-ku, and Paulownia-Flower Medal Women's League.

Number of attendants: 13

Gist of proceedings:

The left wing of Social Democratic Party and women's organizations talked over the situation of the current Diet session.

1. Summary of address by TAKATA Naoko, member of H.C.

The left wing of the Social Democratic Party opposed to either the Peace or Security treaties. The reason for it is that Japanese peace and living right of workers cannot be secured by both treaties. The economical burden incidental to the ratification will drive the people's livelihood into miserable condition. We have to fight through this difficulties with mutual cooperation and underestanding.

2. Summary of address given by FUKUDA Masako (SD, Lobby 23)

Notwithstanding the Government is throwing the people into poverty, the Administration is making propaganda contrary to the real facts as if the Liberal Party were making good government, speaking of establishment of social security system or tax reduction. The national life after the ratification is feared to be more distressed, which may be attributable to the Government's policy neglecting people's livelihood. The responsibility for it should be pursued sternly.

3. Desires on the part of attendants:

1) While the Government declares that ten billion yen is needed in order to make investigations on the real situations of the bereaved families, it is desirable that the Diet will take measures for giving this investigation expenses to those bereaved families by causing this survey to be made by To, Do, Fu and prefecture, or by the municipal offices of city, town and village.

2) The Government announce that the investigation expenses for those ashes of war-deceased is to amount to ten million yen but we don't want to receive the ashes of anonymous war dead, so we wish that the Diet will make arrangement to grant this investigation expenses to the bereaved families as the education fund etc.

4. The meeting dispersed after agreeing to have hold at any time a round-table conference between the members of Social Democratic Party (Lobby 23) and women's organizations, at which to exchange informations and to talk over the real situation centering around the Diet.

Members of the House of Councillors, YOSHIDA and SATA.

Number of participants: 32persons.

Gist:

A meeting to promote the close connection between the Social Democratic Party and labor unions.

1. Various issues now being fought:

(1) The supplementary budget and the Compensation Law closely connected with it: The Law for Fixed Number of Personnel: Organizations Control Law: and the law banning a general strike.

(2) A joint Opposition has been formed in the Diet and it is fighting for the following vital issues with all its might, budget revision, opposition to staple food decontrol, putting into effectthe arbitration on the Monopoly Corporation, and increase in equalization grant --- all very important almost determining the fate of laborers. What makes the last effort of fighting more powerful at this serious juncture is the activities of labor unions centering around the Social Democratic Party and the General Federation of Labor Unions keeping close liaison with them.

2. On spreading and strengthening the Party influence.

To expand the Party influence, we must not simply appeal to leaders of labor unions. Some leaders are rightist Socialists. It is quite well to take the leadership of labor unions but it must not entail disruption of labor unions. The key point for expanding the influence of the Party is for the Party to actually represent laborers.

3. To hold conferences, as occasion requires, between the Party and labor unions (whose members, hailing from Kyushu, now reside in Tokyo) to maintain close liaison.

It was decided that the liaison office be set up in the room of YOSHIDA Noriharu, member of the House of Councillors, in the House of Councillors' Club.

After the above report, how to manage the campaign in the future was consulted with each other.

1. The Investigation Party of the Matsukawa Case (composed of Ishii, Nakata, Hara, Hashimoto, Watanabe and Yamanaka with Chairman Fujimori Seikichi) explained the results of the investigations as follows:

(1) This case, which took place under the strained international situation, was the exposure of the suppression on the Japan Communist Party, Labor Unions, etc.. The suspects were sentenced guilty at the first instance. But the judgement was entirely in conflict with the real facts clarified by the inspection of the scene of the crime.

(2) In spite of the alibi established by the accused, the judges did not acknowledge the truth of it.

(3) It is impossible to overthrow a train in 30 minutes by using a "spanner" and "bar".

(4) Hakamada Shigeshi (L), President, Sendai Bar Association, Lawyers belonging to ~~be~~ the Social Democratic Party and other interested members of the Sendai Bar Association exerted themselves for the protection of the human rights of the accused who were really innocent.

2. Concerning the dispatch of the Second Investigation Group.

The Second Investigation Group is to be organized by members of various cultural organizations and labor unions and citizens and is to start for an investigation tour on November 15. Especially those persons who are opposed to us in opinion (i.e. who consider the accused to be suspicious) are appealed to for conducting investigation likewise. The dispatch of the 2nd Investigation group has for its object an investigation into concrete matters in proof of the groundlessness of the fact accused for.

3. Concerning future propaganda and signatures collection campaign.

(4) The words of the accused are to be printed by the mimeograph for the perusal of the people by way of carrying out a campaign for settling the case and achieving the ultimate object of acquittal of the accused.

4. Finally Shimizu, who was once an accused and was later on acquitted in the Mitaka run-away electric train case, expressed his views as follows:

It is no good to oppose anyone for opposition's sake because one is "red" (sovietized). Truth should be treated as truth under any circumstances. Everyone should be caused to convincingly realize the true aspects of the Matsukawa case by telling one every detail thereof in such a way as will rectify the people's public opinion in connection with the distorted trial in the court of justice, thereby safeguarding the human rights of the accused. I appeal to all of you for energetic cooperation in the cause.
