MEMORANDUM FOR: PUBLIC SERVICE QUALIFICATIONS DIVISION

SUBJECT: ADMINISTRATION OF SCAPIN 548.

1. In view of the present status of the enforcement of the provisions of SCAPIN 548 and its implementing ordinances, it is considered imperative that certain measures be taken to force the Japanese Government into taking positive and continuing action in complying with the subject directive. The measures recommended are outlined in general, as follows:

a. Set up in the Ministry of Justice a section which is responsible for ~~the investigation and~~ enforcement of SCAPIN 548 in a manner similar to the section proposed in the Procurator General's Office for insuring continued enforcement of SCAPIN 550.

b. Give this section responsibility for investigating into societies, organizations, etc., old and new, in order to determine their status under the provisions of the implementing ordinances.

c. Review the activities of the Japanese Government in the discharge of these responsibilities and maintain a comprehensive check on the extent and thoroughness of action taken in a manner similar to the manner in which the Japanese Government's administration of SCAPIN 550 has been reviewed and checked.

2. In order that Government Section can discharge its responsibility in reviewing the action taken by the Japanese Government and in maintaining a comprehensive check on this action, it will be necessary to establish an Undesirable Organizations Branch in the Public Service Qualifications Division. This branch in order to discharge its functions, even utilizing the aid of existing agencies, must be staffed by a chief and a minimum of two properly qualified research analysts.

3. The function of this branch will be as follows:

a. To require detailed reports from Japanese Government as to what has been done to date in the way of collection of documentary evidence and relevant information, extent of Japanese Government files, and subsequent reports on activities and progress.

b. To utilize Military Government, CIS, CPC, Government Section files and Japanese sources as a means for obtaining information necessary to maintain a check on Japanese Government compliance with the subject division. The extent to which these sources will be useful is at present not ascertained. The assumption, on which all recommendations contained herein are based, is that the occupation agencies, Military Government and CIS, will be able to conduct prompt investigation and report of cases referred to them. In the event such is not the case, it will be necessary for Government Section to obtain additional qualified personnel and establish an investigation and enforcement branch; this, however, is not a problem of immediate concern, inasmuch as such a step may not prove necessary.

4. The initial operating procedure to be employed by the proposed Undesirable Organizations Branch should consist primarily of collecting appropriate information from all available sources relative to all societies, organizations, etc., for which there is any reasonable indication as falling within SCAPIN 548 and its implementing ordinances, correlating and compiling such information, initiating requests for investigation and report, analyzing such reports, conducting liaison with competent Japanese Government officials, issuing necessary routine instructions thereto, and recommending action to be taken by Government Section, if necessary, to insure adequate compliance and enforcement of SCAPIN 548 by the Japanese Government.

5. The sources from which ~~initial~~ information regarding suspect societies, organizations, etc., is believed to be available, with explanation and evaluation thereof, are as follows:

a. Japanese Government - Under the provisions of SCAPIN 548, the Home Affairs

Ministry has been authorized to obtain reports on all dissolved organizations. The Investigation Bureau of the Home Affairs Ministry is known to have had lists of members and other pertinent data on these and other secret patriotic, militaristic and ultra-nationalistic societies. This is substantiated by a statement of the acting chief of that bureau to the effect that such records were once on hand, but that they were turned over to CIS. Furthermore, the Investigation Bureau has been conducting a considerable amount of research for CPC with regard to new organizations and the property of dissolved organizations; the files established in connection with this work should be available. By transferring certain competent personnel and the pertinent records of this bureau to the proposed section in the Justice Ministry, the fruits of this past labor could be preserved and utilized.

b. CIS - A conference with Colonel Homan, Chief of Operations, CIS, revealed that that agency would be willing (if G-2 concurred) to make available any information in their files on societies, etc. to Government Section. He indicated that CIS was at the present time very busy in the prosecution of their primary mission which is the investigation of subversive activities; but stated that if the information contained in CIS files was not adequate and if Government Section requested an investigation which indicates subversive activity, supplying any leads, etc., available, that he would take the matter up with G-2 for approval. He stated that if he could obtain approval to conduct such investigation, he would do so, but expressed the desire that the volume of such requests be kept to a reasonably small number. The value of this source cannot accurately be assessed because so much depends on whether or not G-2 will approve this type of investigation. However, the value of CIS files can be considered good for basic information on a large number of societies, etc., fairly complete for comprehension on old better known societies, and lesser known old societies, and unknown for new societies.

c. CPC - Records contained in this section parallel to a large extent a part of the records on hand in the Investigation Bureau of the Home Affairs Ministry, plus the results of their own investigation. The information contained in these files should prove exceptionally valuable for checking the extent to which the Japanese Government is complying insofar as they are able by the use of Home Ministry files and should also prove valuable as a source of basic data required for decision as to the advisability of continued investigation.

d. CCD report and ATIS translations of letters of allegation - This source will be of great value in compiling lists of societies, organizations, etc., and in building up a compilation of assorted data on which further action may be based.

e. Military Government - With proper indoctrination on the needs of Government Section, the Military Government Teams should prove valuable as a source of initial information. The potentiality of Military Government as an investigative agency is unknown, but will probably very considerably vary depending upon the area in which investigation is requested due to the difference in work-load, composition, and nature of the teams. ~~A general overall evaluation of this agency for investigation would at best have to be evaluated as only fair~~ Because of the fact that Military Government Teams does not have regular investigative functions, It is believed that their contribution in this field could at best be evaluated as only fair, The utility of this agency could greatly be enhanced if the Public Service Qualifications Division had investigators which could utilize Military Government facilities; this would also remove from consideration the element of work-load of the various teams, for such investigators would actually conduct investigations and prepare the necessary reports.

f. Government Section Files - Relatively positive information is on hand regarding a number of societies which have been dissolved. Other wise the extent of these files is relatively limited except for the recently acquired photostatic copies of documents on hand in CIS and which were originally taken from the Metropolitan Police Board. These photostats, however, are in Japanese and difficult to read; the amount of work required to translate and utilize them is considered to be out of proportion to the useful information which they contain. The method which has been followed to date with regard to utilizing these photostats and which it is recommended we pursue in the future is that of providing the Japanese Government with copies thereof and spot-checking our copies to insure their utilization by the Government.

6. This memorandum does not contain recommendations of the liaison which must be maintained with CPC insofar as the activities of this Section and Government Section overlap due to CPC's responsibility for the property of dissolved organizations. A conference is arranged for Friday, 10 October 1947 at which time discussion on this matter will be held.

Rec'd OCT 13 1947
O. I. Aff. Div.

(This was submitted by HIRASAWA K. former employee of Foreign Office — presently an associate of MATSUMOTO Takizo.)

October 7, 1947

Some Considerations On The Re-Organization
Of The Japanese Foreign Office

1. The FO Has No Support From The Public

The FO had very little influence in domestic politics. It easily yielded to the demands of the military and monetary cliques. The mediocrity of those who were in responsible positions of the FO and its negligence to enlighten the public on international relations were two major reasons for the weak FO.

The FO failed to have even the intellectual people, much less the masses, understand and support its foreign policy. The FO was not well-informed of the actual political and economic development at home; its attitude towards the general people was cold and aloof. To the man on the street, the FO officials were regarded as snobbish and high-hatted. In democratizing Japan, the FO's role to enlighten the people on international affairs should be stressed all the more. The foreign policy of new Japan should be based on the public opinion of these enlightened masses. The FO officials should be so-called "Good Mixers" both at home and abroad.

II. The "American Service" Is Neglected

As long as personnel was concerned, the "Paris School" or "French Faction" was predominant in the FO, while, as far as the Foreign Service was concerned, the "China Service" was the FO's main current.

The Heads of the Personnel Section and Treaty Bureau of the FO have been more or less monopolized by the "Paris School". (The Treaty Bureau used to be influential because of its relationship with the Privy Council to which it had to report on diplomatic developments.) These European-minded career men of the FO failed to meet the demand of the time that the whole function of the FO should be centered around the American Affairs. The "Chine Service Men" also often failed to grasp the China problem in the light of broader international politics which were mainly propelled by the U. S.

The following facts will show how the FO personnel set-up has been unbalanced:

(1) The list of Personnel Section Chiefs S since 1933.

MITANI("Paris") - HIDAKA ("Paris") - S.MATSUMOTO ("Paris") - KADOWAKI ("Paris") - NAKRITA ("London"and "Moscow") - SHINTARO SATO. ("Paris") - YUKAWA ("London") - TERAOKA ("London")

None of these eight has ever been in the U.S.

(2) The list of Treaty Bureau Chiefs since 1933.

MATSUDA ("Paris") - KURIYAMA ("Paris") - MITANI ("Paris") - MATSUMOTO ("Paris") - ANDO ("Paris") - YANAI ("Paris") - SUGIHARA ("China") - HAGIWARA ("Paris")

(3) The two Directors of the American Bureau of the FO, T. TERASAKI and YAMAMOTO, who handled the American-Japanese diplomatic talk at its crucial period in 1941, belong to the "Paris School" and "China School"respectively. (TERASAKI once served in the Consulate-General in New York, but YAMAMOTO has never been in America.)

(4) Of the entire career men of the FO who are in active service now, FUKUSHIMA, CLO Chief in Osaka, is the only one who has majored in American Affairs.

In view of the "American Century", the FO should be streamlined by attaching more importance on the American Service in personnel as wll as in function. (Another direction of the streamlining is "international co-operation", cultural, scientific, and educational. The present Treaty Section and Information Section should be merged into an "International Co-operation Section" which should focus it fundtion on the UNO as well as international education at home.)

III. No systematic evaluation of efficiency

After our surrender, the FO rid itself of some career men of ability and "guts" through undemocratic means. Some of them were forced to resign on the accusation based on the private document prepared by HAGIWARA (present Treaty Section Shief) and OKUMURA (former Information Section Chief). Others were forced to leave for other Government offices because of the "whims" of Ex-Minister YOSHIDA and Ex-Vice-Minister T.TERASAKI who were more or less steered by SHIRASU, Deputy Chief of CLO and a group of some younger career men of FO Class '36 respectively.

In view of the undemocratic and personal character involved in the above-mentioned "Private Purge", the FO should have another all-out evaluation of its whole personnel including those who were dismissed by these unfair means. At the same time, however, the Screening which is based on the official Purge Directive, should be carried out most rigidly but openly and fairly to them all.

Memo for Record

Subj - Retention KAWACHI & TOKUNE

Since both Kawachi and Tokune have exercised policy-making functions in their respective companies they cannot now claim exemption from SCAPIN 550 on the ground that they are technicians. Their technical competence is merely a matter of background. The role they played in the alliance of government and business before and during the war was political.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Major Rizzo

SUBJECT : Request for Temporary Retention of Kawachi and Tokune

1. Kawachi's petition for reinstatement makes no effort to show that he was purely a technician. He served as managing director of Onoda Cement Company from 1933 to 1942, and he is admittedly a "responsible official" of the company. One of the main points contained in the petition is that Kawachi is of a truely democratic character and that he has never participated in military or political affairs. The main point of the petition originally submitted in July 1947 was his indispensability to the company, which was at that time not concurred in by ESS, consequently his petition was denied.

2. In Tokune's case every attempt was made to show that Tokune was purely a technician, and that he is currently the highest authority on cement production in Japan. Inasmuch as Tokune held the position of managing director of the Asano Cement Company for about three years and subsequently became the president thereof it is logical to assume that he did participate in policy decisions and in the management of the company. No evidence was submitted in support of his case which would show that he did not participate in the actual management and policy of the company. Inasmuch as his services have not been available to the company for over three months past his indispensability, which was not supported by ESS in July, is doubtful. However, if proof to the contrary exists which would show that Tokune's sole function in the company was technical then the proper recourse would be for him to appeal his case rather than to endeavor being granted a temporary retention.

3. ESS check sheet referred to in memos for record on each case is attached.

File No.: 230.033(18 Aug 47)ESS/IN Subject: Temporary Reinstatement in Office KAWACHI, Michisuke and TOKUNE, Shiro

From: ESS To: Legal Section
Attn: Mr. Straitiff
Rm 714 Meiji Bldg.

Date: 18 August 1947

3 1. ESS concurred in placing of Messrs. Kawachi and Tokune on the economic purge list because of inability to screen individually all those who are involved.

2. Later investigation, however, shows that Messrs. Kawachi and Tokune are highly qualified technical men whose histories as submitted indicate no connection with militarism. Due to the small number of companies, and the position in this industry held by Asano and Onoda before the war, it is almost inevitable that the best technical men should be employed by these two companies. Also the importance of technical knowledge to this industry is such that it was natural for these technicians to occupy higher positions in their organizations than is usual. The American concept of the engineer administrator is almost unknown in Japan, and the cases of Messrs. Kawachi and Tokune are unique in this respect.

3. Although it is not within the province of this Section to comment on the political and military characteristics of the subject purgees, the above opinion is submitted as a matter of information.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS
SUPREME COMMANDER FOR THE ALLIED POWERS

WFM/JZR/CO/PDL/hgs

File No.: 230.033(18 Aug 47)ESS/IN Subject: Temporary Reinstatement in Office KAWACHI, Michisuke and TOKUNE, Shiro

From: ESS To: Legal Section
Attn: Mr. Straitiff
Rm 714 Meiji Bldg. Date: 18 August 1947

1. ESS concurred in placing of Messrs. Kawachi and Tokune on the economic purge list because of inability to screen individually all those who are involved.

2. Later investigation, however, shows that Messrs. Kawachi and Tokune are highly qualified technical men whose histories as submitted indicate no connection with militarism. Due to the small number of companies, and the position in this industry held by Asano and Onoda before the war, it is almost inevitable that the best technical men should be employed by these two companies. Also the importance of technical knowledge to this industry is such that it was natural for these technicians to occupy higher positions in their organizations than is usual. The American concept of the engineer administrator is almost unknown in Japan, and the cases of Messrs. Kawachi and Tokune are unique in this respect.

3. Although it is not within the province of this Section to comment on the political and military characteristics of the subject purgees, the above opinion is submitted as a matter of information.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Major Rizzo

SUBJECT : Request for Temporary Retention of Kawachi and Tokune

1. Kawachi's petition for reinstatement makes no effort to show that he was purely a technician. He served as managing director of Onoda Cement Company from 1933 to 1942, and he is admittedly a "responsible official" of the company. One of the main points contained in the petition is that Kawachi is of a truely democratic character and that he has never participated in military or political affairs. The main point of the petition originally submitted in July 1947 was his indispensability to the company, which was at that time not concurred in by ESS, consequently his petition was denied.

2. In Tokune's case every attempt was made to show that Tokune was purely a technician, and that he is currently the highest authority on cement production in Japan. Inasmuch as Tokune held the position of managing director of the Asano Cement Company for about three years and subsequently became the president thereof it is logical to assume that he did participate in policy decisions and in the management of the company. No evidence was submitted in support of his case which would show that he did not participate in the actual management and policy of the company. Inasmuch as his services have not been available to the company for over three months past his indispensability, which was not supported by ESS in July, is doubtful. However, if proof to the contrary exists which would show that Tokune's sole function in the company was technical then the proper recourse would be for him to appeal his case rather than to endeavor being granted a temporary retantion.

3. ESS check sheet referred to in memos for record on each case is attached.

DRAFT

TOKUNE, Yoshio

1. TOKUNE entered the service of the Asono Cement Co. Ltd. in 1920 as analyst and inspector of the Hokkaido Branch; 1926 studied at Cement Research Institute of Berlin Engineering College, Germany, returned to Japan in Dec. 1928; 1929 production chief, Nishitama factory; 1932 production chief, Hokkaido factory; 1933 manager, Hokkaido factory; 1936 manager, Kawara factory; 1939 junior manager, technical department, 1942 director, participation in management; 1943 managing director, technical management of cement production; 1946 president, to represent and govern company, carry out determination of the meeting of directors.

2. No evidence was submitted in the petition for retention showing number of policy decisions made by board of directors and number in which TOKUNE participated; TOKUNE as a technician did not offer his services to other cement companies, but was affiliated with Asano Cement only; he was managing director from 1943 - 1946.

3. The request for retention contains ~~The only factor in retention is~~ a statement alleging that he was never given authority whatsoever in the management of the company while he was managing director. No facts accompany the statement. It is alleged that the management was controlled by members of the Asano Family.

4. Again, if the above allegations are accepted without proof, we are placed in a position having to accept other statements that ~~of saying the~~ other Zaibatsu families ~~alone~~ were done responsible for the management of their factories and all managing and standing directors under their organizations should be exempt from the purge. Such is not the case. TOKUNE is now president of the company with executive authority. It must be presumed that if he is of importance to the company he must have administrative experience since he "represents and governs the company, carries out determination of the meeting of directors". Because he was not affiliated with any other company it must be concluded that some of that experience was obtained as managing director when no concrete proof is offered to the contrary.

In formal conference with Mr. Murai on 3 Sept. revealed that Tokune occupied the position of managing director with usual responsibility.

~~It is recommended that the petition for retention be denied for the second time.~~

5 Tokune was removed from the company on 25 June 1947, his temporary retent having been disapproved at that time w/the concurrence of [illegible] Inasmuch as the company has been operating in the interim it is not believed that he is as indispensable as the company would have us believe.

DRAFT

The fact that previous petition was denied with less concurrance should be more clearly brought out.

KOCHI, Michisuke

~~Is not available~~

The petition does not clearly state the position occupied by KOCHI, however it appears that he was managing director of the Onada Cement from 1933 - 1942, then became president in 1946. Miss Hadley's-memo for record of 2 June '47 clearly states why the petition should be denied. No further information is offered in petetion of 11 July '47.

It is to be regretted that men of such obvious ability saw fit to direct their energies toward Asiatic expansion. However if one follows the logic that the president alone was responsible for the actions of the Onada Cement we soon find ourselves in the position of having to concede that these persons in turn took orders from Tojo therefore they too should be free from purge. It is ridiculous to say that one man alone managed such a company.

Men who are advanced to the office of presidency must of necessity have administrative ability. Is it even plausable to assume that this quality lay dormant while the position of managing director was being held and then blossomed overnight to such a point that as president he is now indespensible?

No factual material was set forth in the petition showing the number of policy discussions made by the board of directors and the number in which he participated. Nor did this man as a pure technician offer his services to a number of companies. His term of office was not a brief one. In conclusion there is nothing offered as evidence to show that he does not clearly fall within the purge directive.

An informal conference with Mr. Murai, 3 Sept, revealed that this man occupied the position of managing director with full responsibility. His questionnaire states "management of all business of above company".

It is recommended that the petition be denied for the second time.

1, ~~Inasmuch as~~ KOCHI was removed from his position as president of the Onoda Cement Company on 25 June 47. for the reason that he was a managing director of Japan from 1937 to 1945. ~~for~~ Duriy the ensuing period the Company has undoubtedly taken steps to compensate for his loss, and ~~with that~~ no evidence has been submitted to show gone into the ~~hands of the receiver~~ from his loss. the company cannot continue to operate without his services as it has for the past three months.

2. If the main point on which the ~~appeal~~ request ~~is based~~ appears to be based, ~~appears to be~~, the premise that KOCHI's position in the company was due solely to his technical ability and that he did not participate actively in policy-making, is true, then the proper recourse would be to appeal the case. ~~In~~ In view of the long time KOCHI has been away from the company another month, during which his appeal could

Statement of reason why this office submitted application in delay

All of the undermentioned persons are crew members engaged in the maritime safety business. In August this year as soon as we had taken over fifteen patrol-boats from 2nd Demobilization Bureau in order to keep watch on the illegal entry vessels we arranged the said persons to be on board to exercise surveillance over the stowaway boats.

However, as they were serving in the business night and day to collect the maritime surveillance information throughout the Kyushu area on the sea we had much time to complete the questionnaire of each person.

Consequently, to our regret, we could not arrange the documents concerned in time.

Re: Filing of Application for Rescission of Designation as a Person falling under the Memorandum.

As the designation of persons falling under the Memorandum has been completed, except for inadvertencies the Public Office Qualifications Examination Committee and the Public Office Qualifications Appeal Board were abolished after May 10, and as for the subsequent filing of appeal it is decided that only in cases where a grave error has been made in designation, the application for the rescission of the designation may be submitted to the Prime Minister; thus we hope that everybody who has been designated by mistake shall be reinstated.

And it shall be noticed that the cases where a grave error has been made in the designation, mean generally such cases as are inumerated below, and that mere insist upon the impropriety of the designation concerned is deemed not enough for rescission.

1. Those who, notwithstanding that they do not fall under the provisions of the Memorandum categorically, have been finally designated unnoticed as a person falling under the Memorandum as the result of the expiration of the protest terms, on the basis of an erroneous provisional designation; e.g. those who have been designated as person falling under the Memorandum because of regular officers, notwithstanding that they are in reality reserve officer; those who have been designated as a person falling under the Memorandum because of the branch head of Ex-servicemen's Association, notwithstanding that they are not as a matter of fact, etc.

2. Those who, though they have been designated as a person falling under the Memorandum, are to be decided not to fall under the Memorandum as a matter of course owing to the subsequent alteration in the interpretation of the designation criteria; e.g. the scholarship students, etc. who became regular officers after the outbreak of Pacific War as well as the military doctors prior to 1920.

3. Those whose designation has been made by a grave error in records and who are able to submit positive evidences thereof. It is provided however that any person on whose behalf counter evidence has been submitted or an appeal has been filed cannot again protest designation except by proof of gross material error not previously known in substantial factual elements of the legal basis for his designation.

Provision was made for appeals machinery to correct possible injustice in individual cases when, shortly after the issuance of the Purge Directive on 4 January 1947, the Japanese Government proposed there be created a special organ to which such cases could be referred. General Whitney, in an interview with Prime Minister Shidehara, voiced approval of the Government's proposal in these words:

"If compliance with the directive results in inequitable treatment of a few individuals, this can be remedied after compliance is completed. There is no objection to the establishment of the 'Commission of Inquiry', proposed in the Japanese paper for the purpose of holding hearings and making recommendations to the Japanese Government for the exemption of such individuals from excluded categories, provided that:

(1) The individual who now holds a public office is first removed from that office in compliance with --the directive.

(2) The individual, whether or not he now holdspublic office, is not made eligible to run for the Diet in the ensuing election.

(3) The action taken by the Commission of Inquiry is submitted to this headquarters for review prior to the reinstatement in public office of any official removed therefrom".

During the first year of the administrationof the purge, the Japanese Government found no need for an elaborate appeals machinery. Appeals from designation under the purge were insignificant in number. The few that did arise were given individual consideration by theCabinet, and, in some cases, recommendations for reinstatement were made to SCAP. Early in 1947, however, a nine-member body was set up to review appeals. Any person designated under the purge ordinance was eligible to fine an appeal to the Prime Minister, providing this action was taken within three months from the date of his designation, or in the case of persons previously designated, within three months from the promulgation date of the ordinance.

The Appeals Board announced the release of its first case in April 1947. Since this recommendation had not been submitted to SCAP for review prior to final action, as required by SCAP policy, General Whitney, Chief, Government Section, clarified the policy in these words:

"(a) The Supreme Commander has consistently recognized the propriety of appellate machinery within the Japanese Government to investigate and bring to light any injustice in the application of the Memorandum for the Japanese Government dated 4 January 1946 (SCAPIN 550). Accordingly, there is no fundamental objection to the continued existence of the Appeals Board in a purely advisory capacity.

(b) It is desired, however, that no person who has been designated as falling under the Memorandum and thereby removed or barred from the public service be reinstated until his case, with a report of the appellate proceedings, has been submitted to this Headquarters for review and prior approval."

On 5 July 1947 the Japanese Government was informed that individuals need not be removed from office prior to submission of their appeals, providing no person be retained in office awaiting the outcome of the appeal. The Board functioned for more than a year until on 27 March 1948 the Japanese Government, recognizing that the Purge Program was complete, issued a Cabinet Order abolishing it effective 10 May 1948. This order also provided that no appeals be accepted by the Board after 15 April 1948 and required that the final report of the Board be made prior to 10 May 1948.

To correct any gross injustice subsequent to this date provision was made for direct appeal to the Prime Minister. As of 10 May when the Appeals Board ceased to exist 1,471 persons had appealed and pursuant to the Board's recommendations the Japanese Government shortly thereafter recommended the release of 150. Of this number 143 recommendations were favorably considered by the Government Section and seven were rejected.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Japanese Representatives for Foreign Concerns

1. This Division has received requests for status of Japanese individuals whom certain foreign concerns desire to have as their representatives in Japan. Dr. Kenney, ESS, Foreign Trade Division, was contacted and informed that it would be necessary for all subject individuals to be screened before such clearance could be given. These individuals will be required to submit questionnaires and obtain certificates of eligibility from the Central Screening Committee.

2. The question arose as to what would be done in case it was desired that an existing Japanese company be the representative. Dr. Kenney was informed that in such cases if the company was not screenable then the president, vice-president and managing director of such company would have to be screened and cleared before that company could become a representative of a foreign concern. This latter is in keeping with the Supreme Commander's policy that representatives of foreign concerns must not come within the purview of SCAPIN 550. Inasmuch as companies not on the screenable list are in most cases relatively small, it was not believed necessary to require the screening of those below the position of managing director.

Language personnel - Request for Loan of

Govt. Section Commanding Officer ATIS 24 September '47
Thru: G-2 Administration

1. Reference is made to Staff Memorandum No. 13 (SCAP) dated 11 January '47, para. 3 which delegates to the Government Section responsibility for the implementation of SCAPIN 550.

2. The extension of the removal and exclusion program to embrace the media of public information has been accompanied by a tremendous increase in the amount of documents that must be translated by this Section and it has become apparent that our small translation division cannot effectively handle this vastly increased burden. It is feared that this shortage of language personnel will militate against the prompt discharge of Staff responsibility delegated in the reference Memorandum and further delay the purge program, completion of which at the earliest possible time is an announced objective of SCAP.

3. In order to expedite this phase of the program and reduce translation to a minimum it is intended that work be assigned and supervised by personnel of this Section who are acquainted with the criteria and policies of the Public Information Media Purge. Under these circumstances the usual method of utilizing ATIS facilities is not regarded as practicable.

4. It is, therefore, requested that six qualified translators be placed on temporary duty with this Section for approximately 60 days beginning 29 September 1947. Clearance for handling classified material is not required.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Public Service Qualifications Division

SUBJECT : Japanese Peerage - Provisional Designation thereof

1. On 17 September 1947 the Japanese Government's Central Screening Committee provisionally designated 61 members of the former Japanese peerage. The date of final designation is 17 October 1947 unless questionnaires and reports contaning counter-evidence are received and approved.

2. In addition to the above-mentioned 61, eight ex-peers received provisional designation under various economic, ultranationalistic or war criminal categories during August and September, 1947. Three of these, (IDA, Iwakusu, OKABE, Nagakage, and SAKAI, Tadamasa), were listed as designated last year under Category A (War Criminals) and, when released from Sugamo, received provisional designation on 10 September 1947. The remaining five were on previous lists of purgeable ex-peers and were provisionally designated as follows:

ARAKI, Sadao	Category	A	B	G	Prov. Desig.	3	Sept. 47
ARIMA, Yoriyasu	"	D			" "	5	Sept. 47
FURUKAWA, Jujun	"	G			" "	19	Aug. 47
HIRANUMA, Kiichiro	"	A	G		" "	2	Sept. 47
KIKUCHI, Takeo	"	A	B		" "	10	Sept. 47

3. Five persons were added to the list of ex-peers deemed to fall under the Memorandum and were designated as follows:

AWATA, Akitsune	Prov. Desig.		17	Sept. 47
ICHIKI, Yutaro	"	"	24	Aug. 46
NAGAOKA, Moritaka	"	"	17	Sept. 47
NOMURA, Motoichi	"	"	17	Sept. 47
YAMASHITA, Tomohiko	"	"	17	Sept. 47

4. A comparison between the lists dated 12 July 1947 (attached, TAB A) and the recent report dated 17 September 1947 (attached, TAB B) reveals that two more persons were discovered dead and hence not designated. One case, that of TOKUGAWA, Nobukata, is pending. Explanations from Mr. OTA and Mr. HINATA reveal that TOKUGAWA is a second class official with the Welfare Ministry, that he has already submitted a questionnaire under the Government's plan to screen second class officials, and that he will be designated in the regular course of screening.

5. Two persons were removed from the previous lists of persons deemed to fall under the Memorandum. Mr. HINATA explained their removals as follows:

NAMBU, Toshinari, Viscount, was, due to a clerical error, listed instead of NAGAOKA, Moritaka. The latter was added to the list of 17 September and provisionally designated on that date.

NABESHIMA, Naotaka, Baron, was removed from the lists as the Central Screening Committee decided he did not, as branch manager of the Bank of Taiwan at Banjermashine, Netherlands Borneo, fall under the purge. Miss Chick is currently checking the validity of this decision.

6. The current status of the project to designate purgeable members of the aristocracy is as follows:

a. Sixty-three ex-peers were purged in 1946 under the old ordinances, of which two are now dead.

b. Sixty-nine ex-peers have received provisional designation in August or September 1947, of which sixty-one were provisionally designated on 17 September 1947.

c. One ex-peer is pending final designation by the Central Screening Committee.

d. Six ex-peers are known to be dead. Of these, two are counted as purged and designated under the old ordinances; the remaining four have not been designated.

7. With the possible exception of one or two persons, all purgeable members of the former Japanese peerage have received final or provisional designation - a total of 132. By the end of this month, the Japanese Government should submit the remaining questionnaires on ex-peers and these will be screened by this Division.

10 August 1947

Subject: Petition

To : Public Service Qualification Division, GHQ

From : Kawaminami Industrial Co., Ltd., Kasho Island Fukabori Labor Union.

The Kawaminami Industrial Co. Ltd., which falls under category "A" according to SCAP directive, may appear to have been democratized outwardly with the removal of President Kawaminami, Hosaku, but the following statements will show clearly that actually it is not different from before. Three thousand employees of the Kawaminami Industrial Co., Ltd., request that C.I.C. of GHQ, Nagasaki MG, and Nagasaki C.I.C. Detachment would immediately carry out an investigation on the Kawaminami Family, which has cooperated in the execution of war, to confirm the statements, and that the unjust internal conditions which have been wrought by the influence of the said family in defiance of the actions of the MG be eliminated. We hope that a stern measure will be taken against the said family if the following information is found to be true.

1. The former President, KAWAMINAMI, Hosaku and two others who have been purged still go to factories and offices freely almost every day whenever they are in Nagasaki. Hosaku frequently confers with the present directors at the Nishiyama's, at his home in Fukabori or at the Nagasaki Office of the Kawaminami Industrial Co., Ltd. They still exert influence on the control of the company.

2. The former managing directors, KAWAHARA, Kinsaku (father-in-law of the president), and KAWAMINAMI, Tahachiro (elder brother of the president), who have resigned prior to the announcement of the purge directives, are holding key positions secretly. Ostensibly, they are not holding any office, but actually they are preserving the old influence of the former president.

3. The former president has also established a commercial firm called the SAISEN MARINE PRODUCTS on the island of Kasho investing the money of the company. He received fishing boats by going through the formality of business transaction; thus deriving profits. Saisen is a relative of Hosaku, but on the surface the firm they have established is a completely independent commercial firm. Saisen and Hosaku are working together behind the scene, and the family is making profits from the investment in the SAISEN MARINE PRODUCTS.

4. The company has also transferred the capital of the lumber company (Kano Ogawa) to a relative of Hosaku by the name of Kikuchi with the intention of establishing an independent company in the future. This, too, is under the complete supervision of Hosaku who is working behind the scene.

5. Katsuya who became a managing director after the war and who is the son-in-law of Hosaku's elder brother, Tahachiro, is now representing Hosaku's interests.

6. Katsurahara, chief of the Salvage Section, who also became director after the war, supported Hosaku even during the war while he was in the Army, and has worked in China as a representative in the capacity of branch manager in Shanghai area. Hosaku today maintains complete supervision over the Salvage Section through Katsurahara. President Ikegami of the Urazaki Factory is also one of his devoted friends.

7. Urabe, who became the president one of the Kawaminami's affiliated companies, Japan Sea Dock Company, which built concrete boats for the Japanese Army during the war in Dairen, also represents the interests of Kawaminami, Hosaku. The standing director, Mori, also represents the interests of Hosaku.

8. Kawaminami, Hidezo, who became director of the Japan Sea Dock Company as mentioned paragraph 7, is a relative of Hosaku, and was a representative of Hosaku in the Kawaminami Mine in Manchuria.

9. Even after being purged, the former president, Kawaminami, Hosaku, is maintaining complete control of the company through his relatives and through his trusted friends by using all known means. For fear of this fact becoming known, he has employed many former Army officers, mostly field grade officers, since the end of the war to spy on the employees and to intimidate them to maintain absolute secrecy. An investigation by C.I.C. will reveal how many former career Army officers have been employed in the company since the end of the war.

10. There are rumours that Kawaminami, Hosaku has been using a large amount of money of the company since the end of the war in other fields. I believe that if the accounts are audited this fact can be confirmed.

11. In making an investigation, if a secret investigation is carried out by summoning many office workers especially the accountants, the truth will be known.

12. Even though the facts are known to the directors and employees, excluding his relatives and devoted friends, they are keeping strict silence for fear of losing their jobs. Please relieve us from his evil hands so that we can all work together with clear conscience, and remove those former Army officers so that we may be free from further intimidation.

13. The reason why we have not written our names is that we are afraid of the Information Section, an organ of stooges, of the shipbuilding company on Kasho Island and those career Army officers who have been employed by the company since the end of the war.

14. Hosaku is a man who would continue with his supervision and continue to violate directives in defiance of C.I.C.

15. It is rumored that Hosaku is doing various things in Osaka and Tokyo with the money of the company. That is the reason why he makes trips to Osaka and Tokyo every month.

File No.:

Subject: Request for Retention of Former Career Army Officers in the First Demobilization Bureau.

Note No.	From: G-2	To: Gov't Section	Date: 19 SEP 1947 CIS/OD/IS/bls

1. Reference Checknote from G-2 to Government Section dated 19 July 1947, Subject as above, forwarded herewith are 371 additional applications for retention of former Japanese officers in the First Demobilization Bureau.

2. Information currently available to G-2 does not reveal facts sufficient to remove any of the 371 officers from their present jobs in the First Demobilization Bureau. The only derogatory information where SCAPIN 550 is concerned is that they were career army men and thus fall into Category B.

3. Reduction of high ranking employees in the First Demobilization Bureau has been progressively carried out by the Japanese Government and the operating and responsible agencies - Eighth Army, COMNAVFE, G-2 and G-3 - are in agreement that no further reductions are advisable at present since more than a million military and civilian personnel still await repatriation from Soviet held territories.

4. It is the opinion of G-2/CIS that these persons should be permitted to remain in their respective positions until the operating agencies referred to above are satisfied that their services are no longer necessary.

5. The remainder of the petitions are being screened and the results will be forwarded at a later date.

SUBJECT: SHIRASU, Jiro; Request for Information Concerning.

TO: The Commander Naval Forces, Far East

1. Request that the Government Section be furnished all information available to you concerning Jiro Shirasu.

2. Specifically desired are details concerning Shirasu's activities during the time that he served in a liaison capacity between the Imperial Japanese Navy and the Japanese fishing industry.

FOR THE SUPREME COMMANDER:

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD: 18 September 1947

1. On 16 September, Miss Chick of the Public Service Qualifications Division phoned Commander Hill in COMNAVFE in order to ascertain whether or not COMNAVFE had any information on reported espionage activities of fishing boats along the western coast of North America, and whether such information contained any references to Jiro Shirasu. Commander Hill stated that he did not know offhand, but would check into the matter.

2. On 18 September Commander Hill phoned Miss Chick stating that he had ascertained that such information was available in COMNAVFE files; however, that he could not make such information available informally, inasmuch as the information had been turned over to G-2.

3. G-2/CIS files had been previously checked for information on Jiro Shirasu; however, no information not contained in subject's questionnaire was found.

4. It is believed that information available in COMNAVFE files might prove helpful in determing subject's status under SCAPIN 550.

MEMORANDUM FOR: ALL EMPLOYEES OF PSQD

18 September 1947

SUBJECT: Temporary Duty

1. I was informed today by Miss Ann Kachilla of Government Section that regardless of the previous notification of field trips (ordinarily submitted by the 18th of the month preceding the month in which the field trips will take place) given to GS, not less than four or five days advance confirming notice on each individual MUST BE GIVEN to Miss Kachilla or any representative of GS Administration, otherwise orders will not be cut. She further explained that this past report was merely an estimate, and that orders were not automatically cut on that basis alone, since many changes might take place in the interim.

2. Our past understanding has been that orders would be cut automatically and it is stressed that the above new ruling be kept in mind in the future.

Kirsten Drivdahl

Note: It was also stated by Miss Gordon of GS yesterday, that Colonel Darnell's present orders were that no female employees will be permitted to go on temporary duty until further notice.
