

THE DAILY BEE,
G. F. WEISER & CO.,
PUBLISHERS,
D. BARRY,
D. BURGESS,
A. BURGESS.
Editorial office, 107 Royal Street.
Subscription price, $1.00 per year.
The Bee has been sold to another and will no longer be published.

The New Orleans Bee.

NEW ORLEANS, MONDAY MORNING, JULY 30, 1855.

THE DAILY BEE.

July 30, 1855, Daily No. 104.

THE NEW YORK MAIL came through yesterday with the latest news.

WHAT THE WAR COSTS.

It is stated in the English papers that the number killed and wounded in the course of the war of 1812, 1813, 1814, and 1815, amounted to nearly 1,000,000 men. Considering that we have barely lasted sixteen years, it must be acknowledged that the death rate is terribly terrific. The Confederates have been chiefly confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle. The result is that there is no reason to suppose that the war will be terminated at that place—upon even the most sanguinary hypothesis that it will be.

It will probably be tried to open a large number of new fields of battle, and the result will be the destruction of the country, and the increase of the subject, and to add to the misery of man already suffered by the ravages of war.

It is a bold and unfeeling act to do this, and the Americans will not only do it, but they will do it with the greatest relish. The imagination can conceive, however, no conceivable aggregate of human misery yet to be suffered to fit the feelings of those who stand by the Texas rebels.

The Americans have been chiefly confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.

The result is that the war will be

more and more destructive.

The Americans have been

confined to a single point, and our allies have been compelled to withdraw from the field of battle.