SHOPPING NEWS

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

Millar & Welch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

The Gem Shop, 601 Boylston St. (Copley Sq.), carry without doubt, the choicest and rarest collection of precious stones in the city, as to the particular stone which is to be considered appropriate to each month usages differ, and those different gems can be procured in large or small sizes at the above named place.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

Miss R. Butler, "The Hair Store," 29 Temple Place, the most comfortable, commodious and convenient establishment in Boston devoted exclusively to the sale of hair goods and toilet requisites, and for treatment of the face and scalp. Shampooing, hair dressing, manicuring.

Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, call attention to garments for hot weather ready to put on. Serges, blue and black flannel coats and trousers, alpaca coats, white vests, etc, etc.

The old established firm of John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston Street, show a summer line of Ladies', Misses' and Children's goods. A special line of Ladies' Underwear, and also Misses' and Children's Millinery at greatly reduced prices.

The shop of Walter Kimball & Co., at 19 Arlington St., will be found distinctive in its line and a very interesting place to visit. Paintings, Water Colors, Etchings, and Bric-a-Brac always on sale.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. Linen suits and up-to-date gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasinglv fashionable in 1909. It is well to consider, in buying such a suit, of all the leading stars, the only place you can get the originals.

The Antique Store, 390 Boylston St., appeals to those who are searching for unique pieces of old furniture, Sheffield plate, blue China and quaint bits from Colonial days. It is under new management and offers especially low prices during the summer. The Antique Store is one of the places of interest to visit while strolling on Boylston St.

De Olde Fern-Croft Inn

HOW TO REACH FERN-CROFT*BOSTON TO FERN-CROFT

TO reach Fern-Croft Inn by automobile, the most direct route from Copley Square is to run east on Boylston St. by the Public Gardens and the Common, through Tremont Street, by the North Station, to Charlestown Bridge; then follow the Elevated Railroad to Sullivan Sq., the terminus of the road; then take the road to the right, leaving the Terminal Station on the left. This is the old Newburyport turnpike. Continue on this road to a conspicuous sign-post which points the way to Fern-Croft Inn, a half mile to the left. ¶ Although this is the most direct route and through the country, if one wishes to make the run along the shore, from Copley Sq. go to Cambridge and West Somerville, then take the Revere Beach Boulevard, close to the water, to Lynn; thence to Salem, Danvers and Fern-Croft Inn.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

See WALTER JAMES the great Scottish Impersonator at the Orpheum Theatre with the Scotch Comedy Drama "Annie Laurie."

Walter James, acknowledged to be the greatest imitator of that celebrated comedian, Harry Lauder, who had the entire United States laughing last season, is to be at the Orpheum Theatre this week giving the true-to-life character imitations of Lauder, between the Acts of the sweetest comedy drama of the season. Mr. Chas. K. Miller, the celebrated Stock Co. leading man will play opposite Miss Edna Bruns, the latest "find" in stardom. Other such well-known artists as viz: Walter Walker, Mary Sanders, Rose Morison, Wyrley Birch, and others will make up the cast.

At Keith's Theatre an excellent vaudiville is billed headed by The Ladies' Fadette Orchestra under the leadership of Miss Caroline Nichols.

Bunker Hill Monument. A granite obelisk, 221 feet high, on Monument Square, Breeds Hill, Charlestown. Corner stone laid by Lafayette, June 17, 1825, and monument dedicated, June 17, 1843; Daniel Webster delivered the oration. Cost $150,000. The battle of Bunker Hill was fought, June 17, 1775, when 4,000 British veterans attacked 3,000 Americans behind rude breastworks, and after four hours' battle, captured the redoubt. The British lost 1,500; the Americans 450.

United States Navy Yard. Founded 1800; entrance on Water Street. The yard is between the Charles and Mystic Rivers, and has an area of eighty-seven and a quarter acres; surrounded by a high granite wall and a water front of one and one-half miles. There are seventy-five buildings in the enclosure; commandant's residence, naval museum, naval institute, machine shops and a rope walk, built of granite, 1,361 feet long, where rope is made for the U. S. navy. The great granite dry dock is three hundred and seventy feet long; built 1827-33, at a cost of $994,000. The receiving ship Wabash is moored off the yard, with other vessels.

To those who desire to see Boston and the surrounding locality, also to enjoy a ride on the finest trolley system in the world, take the Sightseeing Trolley Trip, leaving Park Square daily at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. See full particulars on back cover.

SHOPPING NEWS

"The Hair Store," No. 29 Temple Place, conducted by Miss R. Butler. There is no question as to being the most comfortable and convenient, as well as the largest establishment in Boston, devoted exclusively to sale of Hair Goods and Accessories, Hairdressing, Manicuring, Treatment of Face and Scalp, Chiropody-Pedicure. "One ounce of Satisfaction is worth a Ton of Talk."

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

Millar & Welch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

The Gem Shop, 601 Boylston St. (Copley Sq.), carry without doubt, the choicest and rarest collection of precious stones in the city, as to the particular stone which is to be considered appropriate to each month usages differ, and those different gems can be procured in large or small sizes at the above named place.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, call attention to garments for hot weather ready to put on. Serges, blue and black flannel coats and trousers, alpaca coats, white vests, etc, etc.

The old established firm of John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston Street, show a summer line of Ladies', Misses' and Children's goods. A special line of Ladies' Underwear, and also Misses' and Children's Millinery at greatly reduced prices.

The shop of Walter Kimball & Co., at 19 Arlington St., will be found distinctive in its line and a very interesting place to visit. Paintings, Water Colors, Etchings, and Bric-a-Brac always on sale.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. Linen suits and up-to-date gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1909. It is well to consider, in buying such a suit, of all the leading stars, the only place you can get the originals.

The Antique Store, 390 Boylston St., appeals to those who are searching for unique pieces of old furniture, Sheffield plate, blue China and quaint bits from Colonial days. It is under new management and offers especially low prices during the summer. The Antique Store is one of the places of interest to visit while strolling on Boylston St.

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

Millar & Welch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

The Gem Shop, 601 Boylston St. (Copley Sq.), carry without doubt, the choicest and rarest collection of precious stones in the city, as to the particular stone which is to be considered appropriate to each month usages differ, and those different gems can be procured in large or small sizes at the above named place.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, call attention to garments for hot weather ready to put on. Serges, blue and black flannel coats and trousers, alpaca coats, white vests, etc. etc.

The old established firm of John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston Street, show a summer line of Ladies', Misses' and Children's goods. A special line of Ladies' Underwear, and also Misses' and Children's Millinery at greatly reduced prices.

The shop of Walter Kimball & Co., at 19 Arlington St., will be found distinctive in its line and a very interesting place to visit. Paintings, Water Colors, Etchings, and Bric-a-Brac always on sale.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. Linen suits and up-to-date gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1909. It is well to consider, in buying such a suit of all the leading stars, the only place you can get the originals.

The Antique Store, 390 Boylston St., appeals to those who are searching for unique pieces of old furniture, Sheffield plate, blue China and quaint bits from Colonial days. It is under new management and offers especially low prices during the summer. The Antique Store is one of the places of interest to visit while strolling on Boylston St.

De Olde Fern-Croft Inn

HOW TO REACH FERN-CROFT

BOSTON TO FERN-CROFT

TO reach Fern-Croft Inn by automobile, the most direct route from Copley Square is to run east on Boylston St. by the Public Gardens and the Common, through Tremont Street, by the North Station, to Charlestown Bridge; then follow the Elevated Railroad to Sullivan Sq., the terminus of the road; then take the road to the right, leaving the Terminal Station on the left. This is the old Newburyport turnpike. Continue on this road to a conspicuous sign-post which points the way to Fern-Croft Inn, a half mile to the left. ¶ Although this is the most direct route and through the country, if one wishes to make the run along the shore, from Copley Sq. go to Cambridge and West Somerville, then take the Revere Beach Boulevard, close to the water, to Lynn; thence to Salem, Danvers and Fern-Croft Inn.

THINGS WORTH SEEING AT THE ORPHEUM THEATRE

This week will positively be the last week of "Quincy Adams Sawyer" at the Orpheum Theatre. Over 40,000 people have seen this wonderful rural comedy and many thousands have been turned away, unable to get seats. It is without doubt the greatest rural comedy that was ever written. A laugh in every line. The character part of Abner Stiles played by Boston's star press agent, "Bill" Leahy, is so true to life that one would think he was hurriedly drafted from away back country to play the part. Mr. Leahy's work in this show stamps him as one of America's foremost comedians in this particular line of work. Visitors in Boston, as well as residents, should not fail to make good this, their last chance, to see this great comedy of New England rural life.

The Gaiety, Columbia and Howard Theatres furnish High Class Vaudeville and Burlesque shows.

The Grand Opera House will run the current week that beautiful melodrama, "The Convict's Sweetheart." Mr. Woods, the producer, in mounting the play is said to have been most lavish. The scenes are laid in the West, some of them being a cabin in the heart of the Rocky Mountains; garden of Horace Wayland's home; a typical western saloon; the interior of a prison and a precipice in the Rockies. The cast is a large one. Matinees will be given as usual Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Keith's Theatre furnishes Vaudeville of the high class order, with the "petit Pop" Concerts by the Ladies' Fadettes Orchestra, Mrs. Carolina Nichols, leader. Lovers of good music should not fail to hear this wonderful aggregation of lady musicians. A concert is given every matinee and evening.

Lyman Howe's Moving Pictures and Travelogues are given daily, afternoon and evening, at Tremont Temple. The most wonderful picture shown is the picture of a runaway train.

Now is the time for visitors in Boston. For good sightseeing take a trip around the Hub and surrounding country, go by trolley and not only see the country with its many historical points of interest but ride on the best street car system in the world, barring none. Full particulars, see the back cover of this Booklet.

Miss M. E. Fisk. The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

The Antique Store, 390 Boylston St., appeals to those who are searching for unique pieces of old furniture, Sheffield plate, blue China and quaint bits from Colonial days. It is under new management and offers especially low prices during the summer. The Antique Store is one of the places of interest to visit while strolling on Boylston St.

"The Hair Store," No. 29 Temple Place, conducted by Miss R. Butler. There is no question as to being the most comfortable and convenient, as well as the largest establishment in Boston, devoted exclusively to sale of Hair Goods and Accessories, Hairdressing, Manicuring, Treatment of Face and Scalp, Chiropody-Pedicure. "One ounce of Satisfaction is worth a Ton of Talk."

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. It is well to consider, in buying such a suit of all the leading stars, the only place you can get the originals.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

De Olde Fern-Croft Inn

HOW TO REACH FERN-CROFT

BOSTON TO FERN-CROFT

TO reach Fern-Croft Inn by automobile, the most direct route from Copley Square is to run east on Boylston St. by the Public Gardens and the Common, through Tremont Street, by the North Station, to Charlestown Bridge; then follow the Elevated Railroad to Sullivan Sq., the terminus of the road; then take the road to the right, leaving the Terminal Station on the left. This is the old Newburyport turnpike. Continue on this road to a conspicuous sign-post which points the way to Fern-Croft Inn, a half mile to the left. ¶ Although this is the most direct route and through the country, if one wishes to make the run along the shore, from Copley Sq. go to Cambridge and West Somerville, then take the Revere Beach Boulevard, close to the water, to Lynn; thence to Salem, Danvers and Fern-Croft Inn.

The largest establishment in Boston devoted exclusively to sale of Hair Goods and Accessories. Hair Dressing, Manicuring, Treatment of Face and Scalp. For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s., 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. Linen suits and up-to-date gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1909. It is well to consider, in buying such a suit of all the leading stars, the only place you can get the originals.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

The Gem Shop, 601 Boylston St. (Copley Sq.), carry without doubt, the choicest and rarest collection of precious stones in the city, as to the particular stone which is to be considered appropriate to each month usages differ, and those different gems can be procured in large or small sizes at the above named place.

Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, call attention to garments for hot weather ready to put on. Serges, blue and black flannel coats and trousers, alpaca coats, white vests, etc., etc.

Hevins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

Millar & Weltch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

The Antique Store, 390 Boylston St., appeals to those who are searching for unique pieces of old furniture, Sheffield plate, blue China and quaint bits from Colonial days. It is under new management and offers especially low prices during the summer. The Antique Store is one of the places of interest to visit while strolling on Boylston St.

The old established firm of John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston Street, show a summer line of Ladies', Misses' and Children's goods. A special line of Ladies' Underwear, and also Misses' and Children's Millinery at greatly reduced prices.

De Olde Fern-Croft Inn

HOW TO REACH FERN-CROFT BOSTON TO FERN-CROFT

To reach Fern-Croft Inn by automobile, the most direct route from Copley Square is to run east on Boylston St. by the Public Gardens and the Common, through Tremont Street, by the North Station, to Charlestown Bridge; then follow the Elevated Railroad to Sullivan Sq., the terminus of the road; then take the road to the right, leaving the Terminal Station on the left. This is the old Newburyport turnpike. Continue on this road to a conspicuous sign-post which points the way to Fern-Croft Inn, a half mile to the left. Although this is the most direct route and through the country, if one wishes to make the run along the shore, from Copley Sq. go to Cambridge and West Somerville, then take the Revere Beach Boulevard, close to the water, to Lynn; thence to Salem, Danvers and Fern-Croft Inn.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Beginning Monday afternoon, The American Music Hall (formerly the Orpheum Theatre), opens the season with one of the greatest vaudeville bills ever seen in this city, composed of European and American Acts. The opening of this house completes a trans-continental chain of theatres booked and controlled by Wm. Morris, Inc. On this week's bill are the famous Romany Opera Co., in great operatic singing and scenic production, "La Festa Di Mezz Agesta." Herbert Lloyd and Company will present their burlesque on all the tricks of vaudeville, entitled "The King of Diamonds;" Cameron and Gaylord in their laughable travesty, "On and Off;" William Morrow, Verda Schellberg and Company in the musical satire, "Happy's Millions;" The Royal Musical Five in a very refined musical act. The balance of the bill will include Friend and Downing, "The Jew and the Irishman;" the "Harleys," Anna Armstrong and May Ashton.

This is the second week for "The Gay Hussars," at the Boston; Robert Edeson in "The Noble Spaniard," at the Hollis Street; Louis Mann in "The Man Who Stood Still," at the Tremont; Sam Bernard in "The Girl and the Wizard," at the Majestic; Emmett Corrigan in "Keegan's Pal," at the Park, and "The Round Up," at the Colonial.

Entertaining burlesquers have come to the Gaiety, Columbia and Howard.

Now is the time for visitors in Boston. For good sightseeing take a trip around the Hub and surrounding country, go by trolley and not only see the country with its many historical points of interest but ride on the best street car system in the world, barring none. Full particulars, see the back cover of this Booklet.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s., 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. It is well to consider, in buying such a suit of all the leading stars, the only place you can get the originals.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

The Antique Store, 390 Boylston St., appeals to those who are searching for unique pieces of old furniture, Sheffield plate, blue China and quaint bits from Colonial days. It is under new management and offers especially low prices during the summer. The Antique Store is one of the places of interest to visit while strolling on Boylston St.

The establishment of Kakas Bros., 179 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

De Olde Fern-Croft Inn

HOW TO REACH FERN-CROFT

BOSTON TO FERN-CROFT

To reach Fern-Croft Inn by automobile, the most direct route from Copley Square is to run east on Boylston St. by the Public Gardens and the Common, through Tremont Street, by the North Station, to Charlestown Bridge; then follow the Elevated Railroad to Sullivan Sq., the terminus of the road; then take the road to the right, leaving the Terminal Station on the left. This is the old Newburyport turnpike. Continue on this road to a conspicuous sign-post which points the way to Fern-Croft Inn, a half mile to the left. Although this is the most direct route and through the country, if one wishes to make the run along the shore, from Copley Sq. go to Cambridge and West Somerville, then take the Revere Beach Boulevard, close to the water, to Lynn; thence to Salem, Danvers and Fern-Croft Inn.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

William Faversham in Frederick Nierllinger's version, "The World and His Wife," opens at the Majestic Theatre this week. "The World and His Wife" is founded upon Jose Echegaray's famous Spanish drama, "El Gran Galeoto." The theme of this play is the curse of gossip, and taking the original play into account, might very well have had as a sub-title—The tragedy of gossip. When the play was given a single performance in Boston it scored a pronounced success, and in its original form the play has been a great favorite on the continent. Jose Echegaray is the author of over fifty plays,—his "El Gran Galeoto," on which "The World and His Wife" is founded is considered his best and most important play. Mr. Faversham has chosen his company with the idea of forming a permanent organization. Mr. Faversham's supporting company includes Julie Opp, Olive Oliver, H. Cooper Cliffe, Morton Selton, Lionel Belmore, Berton Churchill, and Harry Redding.

For the first time here, "A Gentleman from Mississippi," is at the Park. It is a play of political life in Washington, which has held the stage in New York for a year. It tells the story of the discovery by an honest old senator of an intrigue to swindle the government of which he is to be the unwitting tool, and in which even his children are enmeshed. He fights the intriguers to the end, and is victorious in part through the aid a reporter turned secretary brings him. Thomas Wise, one of the authors, plays the part of the mellow senator and Douglas Fairbanks is the reporter.

Frank Lalor in the great musical show, "The Candy Shop," comes to the Tremont.

"On the Eve," a Russian drama, comes to the Hollis.

Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," returns this time to the Colonial.

The American Music Hall furnishes a very "Classy" Vaudeville bill.

Burlesque at the Gaiety, Columbia and Howard Theatres.

Now is the time for visitors in Boston. For good sightseeing take a trip around the Hub and surrounding country, go by trolley and not only see the country with its many historical points of interest but ride on the best street car system in the world, barring none. SHOPPING NEWS

"The Hair Store," 29 Temple Place, conducted by Miss R. Butler. Synonymous for comfort, convenience and courteous treatment. The largest establishment in Boston devoted exclusively to sale of Hair Goods and Accessories. Hair Dressing, Manicuring, Treatment of Face and Scalp. Chiropody-Pedicure. One ounce of satisfaction is worth a ton of talk.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s., 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. Linen suits and up-to-date gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1909. It is well to consider, in buying such a suit of all the leading stars, the only place you can get the originals.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, call attention to garments for hot weather ready to put on. Serges, blue and black flannel coats and trousers, alpaca coats, white vests, etc., etc.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

Millar & Weltch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

The Antique Store, 390 Boylston St., appeals to those who are searching for unique pieces of old furniture, Sheffield plate, blue China and quaint bits from Colonial days. It is under new management and offers especially low prices during the summer. The Antique Store is one of the places of interest to visit while strolling on Boylston St.

The establishment of Kakas Bros., 179 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston St., call attention to their Fall suits and dresses now in for ladies and misses. Also nice line of embroidered pique and wash dresses for children.

HOW TO REACH FERN-CROFT

BOSTON TO FERN-CROFT

TO reach Fern-Croft Inn by automobile, the most direct route from Copley Square is to run east on Boylston St. by the Public Gardens and the Common, through Tremont Street, by the North Station, to Charlestown Bridge; then follow the Elevated Railroad to Sullivan Sq., the terminus of the road; then take the road to the right, leaving the Terminal Station on the left. THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall will see the Boston debut in vaudeville of that eminent Irish comedian, Fiske O'Hara. Mr. O'Hara will present a one-act playlet by Crane Wilber entitled "Captain Barry." In this he will be supported by a capable company of five players. The bill surrounding Mr. O'Hara will be one of the highest quality ever seen in this city. It will include that great pair of fun makers, Al Fields and Dave Lewis. These men are so well known that very little comment is needed. They are the creators and producers of everything in their act which is a comedy sketch entitled "The Mystery of The Hansom Cab." That great European change artist, Caesar Rivoli, will be seen in Boston for the first time. He is known as "the man of a hundred roles." A beautiful flight of fancy is a term that may be applied to the Phantastic Phantoms which is one of the decided novelties of the season. It is a girlish act in black and white in which a half dozen girls and two or three men disport themselves to the delight of the audience. Another distinct novelty will be the boxing Kangaroo who is able to take care of himself with the cleverest boxer in the world. With the Kangaroo will appear the Gordon Brothers. The balance of this remarkable bill will include the Sisters DeFaye in a dainty singing and banjo act, the Brittons in an extremely lively dancing act called "How's That?" and other feature acts.

"The Lion and the Mouse," a comedy drama familiar to Bostonians because of its successful run for many weeks at another house, is at the Globe this week.

The John Craig Stock Company presents "Our New Minister," a well written play, at the Castle Square.

The offerings at Keith's are attractive.

This is the second week of William Faversham in "The World and His Wife," at the Majestic; "The Candy Shop," at the Tremont; "A Gentleman from Mississippi," at the Park; Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Colonial; and "On the Eve," at the Hollis Street. "The Gay Hussars," is a continuance at the Boston.

Pleasing burlesque shows and vaudeville are on at the Gaiety, the Howard and the Columbia.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

The Fall and Winter suits shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street, are of the very latest in style and design for gentlemen's and Ladies' wear. This store ranks in first place with any in the world.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

The Antique Store, 390 Boylston St., appeals to those who are searching for unique pieces of old furniture, Sheffield plate, blue China and quaint bits from Colonial days. It is under new management and offers especially low prices during the summer. The Antique Store is one of the places of interest to visit while strolling on Boylston St.

Herwins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston St., call attention to their Fall suits and dresses now in for ladies and misses. Also nice line of embroidered pique and wash dresses for children.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

THE CANDY SHOP AT THE TREMONT

Charles Dillingham's newest musical gaiety, has scored a cumulative hit at the Tremont Theatre, where it will remain for a very brief period. Designed by its makers to provoke mirth primarily, and to please the eye and ear with its songs and dances incidentally, the production is fulfilling its sponsors' aims and is actually proving the biggest magnet of any musical comedy presented at this popular playhouse in several seasons. The cast is extremely rich in personalities familiar to and beloved by seekers of light entertainment. William Rock, Maude Fulton and Frank Lalor come fully into their own here as musical comedy stars, the first two named shining brilliantly in terpsichorean and travesty numbers and Mr. Lalor by reason of his droll pantomimes and his suave comicality. Then there is Mrs. Annie Yeamans, cheerier and more sprightly than ever; Louis Harrison, a finished comedian; W. J. McCarthy, Florence Morrison, Douglas Stevenson, Kinzie Higgins, Edmund Lawrence, Mlle. Rayo, solo dancer, and scores of girls of the chorus. Particularly comic are the intoxication scene between Mrs. Yeamans and Mr. Lalor, the Coney Island trolley car travesty, Rock and Fulton's scene with Chin Hong, a real Chinaman of the east, the helter skelter descent of the balloon vender in the Coney Island scene, and the "Googy Googy OO" absurdities of Miss Morrison and Mr. Lalor and the witty passages between Mr. Harrison and Miss Weston. The two stage pictures, the interior of a fashionable candy shop and a typical corner of one of Coney Island's mammoth summer amusement parks, bear the Dillingham hall mark of daintiness and fitness.

AT THE AMERICAN MUSIC HALL

A genuine sensation is promised in the appearance of the Divine Myrma who has created a furore at many of the swell French watering resorts. There is some mystery as to her identity but there is absolutely no mystery about the beauty of her face and form. She is a delight to look at and is the most graceful diver known. In her remarkable exhibition of swimming and diving she will be assisted by two young ladies who might well be called water nymphs. The costume she wears might be said to be a trifle daring. That always welcome pair of artists, John C. Rice and Sally Cohen, will contribute their latest laughing success, "The Kleptomaniacs." Everybody knows James J. Morton and everybody has laughed at him more than once. He is the monologue comedian who in his inimitable way asks and answers his own questions and is one of the strongest single comedy features of vaudeville. The balance of the bill will include that wonderful American soprano, Edith Helena. This woman is credited with having the highest voice in the world and is at the same time as sweet and mellow as that of any Grand Opera singer. The bill will also include Joe Denning and company and other acts fully up to the high standard of those mentioned.

THINGS WORTH SEEING THREE TWINS

WITH
CLIFTON CRAWFORD and BESSIE McCOY
AT THE BOSTON THEATRE

Jos. M. Gaites' musical comedy is playing to big audiences and is in every particular justifying the very laudatory advance comments that were made concerning it. The praiseworthy quality of this merry musical entertainment makes it worth while, which is more than can be said of many of the musical shows of the day. It does not fall into the rut of conventional horseplay, nor depend upon sensational vulgarism for the winning of popularity. Genuinely diverting in story and humor, with songs that have real catchiness and specialties that are novelties. "Three Twins" is a success and what is more, deserves to be. There is a charming beauty chorus which aids in the interpretation of the numerous songs, especially the clever "Cuddle Up A Little Closer Lovey Mine" and "The Yama Yama Man," which are now heard everywhere. Bessie McCoy is making one of the hits of her career and Clifton Crawford is adding to the fame he has already gained as an entertainer of merit. The electrical effects and the staging of "Three Twins" are brilliant in the extreme, as is demonstrated by the applause that greets each new surprise, of which the production has many. The big electrical swing, which is used in the finale of the first act, is probably the most costly feature of its kind ever offered in musical comedy, as it weighs over three tons and is covered with 1700 incandescent lights and requires nine men to handle it. The swing is in view of the audience for only a minute and a half.

JAMES T. POWERS IN HAVANA AT THE MAJESTIC

The season is not likely to give us a more delightful or exhilarating attraction than we have in James T. Powers in the new musical play in three acts entitled "Havana," which plays its only engagement in New England at the Majestic Theatre. Of the original book, by George Grossmith, Jr., and Graham Hill, James T. Powers has made a free adaptation for America. This play has a musical record. It has been running at the George Edwardes' Gaiety Theatre in London for two years and has been played for two seasons at the Casino, New York, and comes direct to Boston with the original cast.

The splendid music of "Havana" is by Leslie Stuart, composer of "Florodora." It is brimful of good things in a musical way, in flowing airs, lavish chorals and varying movements and the music has already become more popular than "Florodora." And it is said the composer has surpassed the famous "Florodora" sextette by the tunefully brilliant "Helle People, People Hello," while the other songs, about twenty in all, are said to be the best work the composer has done.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

The world's premier ventriloquist, Arthur Prince, will make his first appearance in the Hub for several seasons. Mr. Prince is the man whom the London newspapers credit with making the ventriloquism in London as staple a feature as the moving pictures. With his life-like dummy "Jim," he furnishes enough amusement to satisfy the most critical. Hand-cuff artists are always surrounded with more or less mysticism and this is particularly true of Hardeen the king of hand-cuffs who is another feature of the strong bill next week. Hardeen has broken out of jails, out of water-tight casks, and has even gone so far as to escape from a specially built boiler securely riveted without leaving any trace as to how he succeeded. That he will prove a sensation is a foregone conclusion. That dainty former star of the Pollard Opera Company, Daphne Pollard, will be an attractive feature on the bill. She has the unchallenged reputation of being Australia's foremost singing character comedienne. As an animal act, Lafayette's dogs is the greatest act of its kind on the stage. These dogs are marvels of canine intelligence and do about everything a man does except talk. Besnah & Miller, whirl-wind singers and dancers, Foster & Fester, presenting the "Volunteer Pianist," and four other big acts will complete the bill.

"THE BLUE MOUSE" AT THE GLOBE THEATRE.

With something near $20,000 expenditure for interior decorations coupled with many other improvements, the Globe Theatre opens its doors Monday night as a first-class house, playing nothing hereafter but first-class attractions, booked and controlled by America's foremost theatrical managers, Sam and Lee Schubert. The opening piece will be Clyde Fitch's much talked of comedy success, "The Blue Mouse," which is an adaptation from the German of Alexander Engel and Julius Horst. The Messrs. Schubert have brought here the original New York Lyric Theatre cast which has just concluded one of the most phenomenal runs of recent years.

ANNA HELD AT THE COLONIAL THEATRE.

Miss Anna Held, the renowned French comedienne, who has not appeared in Boston for two seasons, begins her second week at the Colonial Theatre, on Monday evening. She appears in F. Ziegfeld, Jr.'s massive musical comedy entertainment, "Miss Innocence," which is here following a triumphant run of over 365 times in the New York Theatre, New York. "Miss Innocence," which is the work of Harry B. Smith and Ludwig Englander, is in two acts and twelve elaborate scenes. It is staged by Julian Mitchell, and is said to be his master effort. Miss Held, has several new and catchy songs, and some late Parisian creations in gowns, some of which, are described as "stunners." Manager Ziegfeld has surrounded Miss Held with a cast of unusual excellence, which carries the names of such popular favorites as Charles A. Bigelow, Lawrence D'Orsay, of "The Earl of Pawtucket" fame, Gene Luniska, Frances Parr, Alice Hegeman, William Powers, Maurice Hegeman, John Reinhard, Marjorie Bonner, Millie Baker, and a chorus of beauties.

SHOPPING NEWS

"The Hair Store," 29 Temple Place, conducted by Miss R. Butler. Synonymous for comfort, convenience and courteous treatment. The largest establishment in Boston devoted exclusively to sale of Hair Goods and Accessories. Hair Dressing, Manicuring, Treatment of Face and Scalp. Chiropody-Pedicure.

Macullar Parker Company call attention to their Fall and Winter stock of Suits, Overcoats, Furnishing Goods, etc., for men, young men and boys.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

The Fall and Winter suits shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, 215 Boylston Street, are of the very latest in style and design for gentlemen's and Ladies' wear. This store ranks in first place with any in the world.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

Millar & Welch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

The establishment of Kakas Bros., 179 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston St., call attention to their Fall suits and dresses now in for ladies and misses. Also nice line of embroidered pique and wash dresses for children.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

HARRY LAUDER

At the American Music Hall

The always welcome Scotch comedian, Harry Lauder, will return and begin his engagement at the American Music Hall next Monday. Mr. Lauder has been termed a "miracle of vaudeville," and this seems to be about the best possible way of describing him. Without any doubt he is the world's greatest entertainer, but whether this is due to his clever selection of songs and characterizations or to his marvelous personality no one has been able to say. The fact that he is the most imitated man on the stage and the fact also that no imitator has yet succeeded in doing him justice would seem to be a point in favor of his personality. It is the seemingly unfathomable secret of his success which has caused him to be termed a miracle. During his present engagement which will last two weeks he will introduce several new songs and characterizations. His old favorites, however, including "She Is My Daisy," "I Love A Lassie," etc., will not be neglected and some of them will be presented at every performance. Surrounding Mr. Lauder on the bill will be an aggregation of stars the like of which are seldom seen on any vaudeville bill. Among them will be Rafayette's dogs, who because of their enormous success during this present week have been held over for another week. These dogs are marvels of canine intelligence and appear to be able to do everything a man can do except talk. The Marinba Band, will be another pleasing attraction for music lovers. This music is said to be the sweetest in the world, at any rate it is the only act of its kind in the world. There will be plenty of laughs in the original playlet of Estelle Wordette and company entitled, "A Honeymoon In The Catskills." Ventriloquism seems to be very popular in Boston just now, and for this reason J. W. Winton the renowned Australian artist is due to score heavily with his "McGinty From Australia." The balance of the bill will include Bruno, Kramer Tric, Europe's sensational gymnasts, Josie McIntyre, character singing comedienne, and other star features.

LAST WEEK OF "THE CANDY SHOP" AT THE TREMONT.

This is the last week of Charles Dillingham's newest musical gaiety at the Tremont Theatre, where it has played to crowded houses for the last five weeks, scoring a cumulative hit. "The Candy Shop" will not play a return engagement in Boston this season as it has been held over some weeks beyond its original booking on account of its proving to be the biggest magnet of any musical comedy presented at this popular playhouse in several seasons. The cast includes William Rock, Maude Fulton, Frank Lalor, Mrs. Annie Yeamans, Louis Harrison, W. J. McCarthy, Florence Morrison, Douglas Stevenson, Kinzie Higgins and Edmund Lawrence.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

The Fall and Winter suits shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, 215 Boylston Street, are of the very latest in style and design for gentlemen's and Ladies' wear. This store ranks in first place with any in the world.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

To arrange a bill to follow such an attraction as Harry Lauder is no easy task for any manager but William Morris has succeeded for the coming week in bringing together an aggregation of stars such as is seldom seen on any stage. Clarice Vance, fresh from her triumphant London success. This will be the first appearance of this world-famed artist since her pronounced European success. The Svengali Trio composed of two men and a woman. This act is called a musical and mimicry mystery because by whispering the name of any grand or comic opera to a person in the audience the lady on the stage receives the thought with a swiftness as of lightning and immediately begins to sing and play same. This also applies to a name of any celebrated person who will be described accurately as to appearance, costume and general likeness of feature. It is not merely the mystery attending the act that makes it a popular attraction, it is also the musical ability and the wonderful mimicry of the lady member of the troupe. As a close second to the Svengali Trio, the Boganny Troupe will prove one of the biggest attractions seen in Boston for a long while. They are called the lumatic bakers and they combine with wonderful acrobatic agility a comedy feature which in itself would make them masters of entertainment. More music will be furnished by Al Dumont and Mlle. Almont. These people are famous instrumentalists and will introduce Mr. Dumont's own melodious invention, the sentiphone. Will Dillon, so well known to Boston theatre-goers, that little comment is necessary. He is called the man of a thousand songs, and while he is on the stage the audience is kept continuously in roars of laughter at his antics while being at the same time delightfully entertained with his original songs. Other acts on this strong bill will be equally as strong as above mentioned.

"THE LOVE CURE" AT THE TREMONT.

"The Love Cure," a new Viennese operetta, comes to the Tremont this week, and is seen for the first time in this city. Lina Abarbanell and Charles J. Ross are in the chief parts. The plot follows the efforts of an actress to disillusion a lover, and the scenes and many of the personages are dramatic. The music by Edmund Eysler is commendable.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield Sts. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building, but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

SHOPPING NEWS

"The Hair Store," 29 Temple Place, conducted by Miss R. Butler. Synonymous for comfort, convenience and courteous treatment. The largest establishment in Boston devoted exclusively to sale of Hair Goods and Accessories. Hair Dressing, Manicuring, Treatment of Face and Scalp. Chiropody-Pedicure.

Macullar Parker Company call attention to their Fall and Winter stock of Suits, Overcoats, Furnishing Goods, etc., for men, young men and boys.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

The Fall and Winter suits shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, 215 Boylston Street, are of the very latest in style and design for gentlemen's and Ladies' wear. This store ranks in first place with any in the world.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

Millar & Weltch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

The establishment of Kakas Bros., 179 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston St., call attention to their Fall suits and dresses now in for ladies and misses. Also nice line of embroidered pique and wash dresses for children.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

Always on the alert to give his patrons the very best and latest novelties William Morris has arranged for next week to present at the American Music Hall for the first time in Boston the original copyright pictures of the great Johnson-Ketchell fight at Colma, California. Nearly every theatrical manager in Boston has endeavored to secure the right to use these pictures but to Mr. Morris' enterprise is due the fact that he has succeeded in getting them first. This championship contest was one of the most spectacular ever seen. The climax which comes in the twelfth round when Johnson is knocked down only to arise immediately and knock Ketchell out proved a hair-raiser. As the conditions for taking the picture were excellent, every movement of the fighters is shown with absolute clearness. The skilful battle such as the Johnson-Ketchell one, proved there is nothing degrading. It merely shows two well-trained athletes struggling for supremacy in which science counts far more than brute strength.

The vaudeville bill which will be seen previous to the picture will consist entirely of headline features. The Boganny Tronpe who created a sensation last week with their wonderful acrobatic stunts, will be held over for another week, while the seven Perezoffs will show what is possible for a group of jugglers to do in an up-to-date restaurant like Maxim's. Sam Curtis and company will present their laughable school-day skit in which boyhood pranks are indulged in freely, much to the delight of the audience. The balance of the bill will include W. E. Whittle, one of the most novel ventriloquists on the stage; Nelson Jackson, the pianologist and monologue comedian who has scored a big success since his arrival in this country from England; Cartmell & Harris, and other interesting and novel features.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE.

The Boston Opera House opens its doors to the public for the first time on Monday night. Mmes. Nordica and Nielsen are among the famous singers who make up the company brought together by Henry Russell, managing director. The repertoire for the first week follows: Monday, "La Gioconda;" Wednesday and Saturday evenings, "Aida;" Thursday evening and Saturday matinee, "Lakme;" and Friday, "La Boheme." "Lakme" is given in French on both performances, and the other operas are given in Italian.

Macullar Parker Company call attention to their Fall and Winter stock of Suits, Overcoats, Furnishing Goods, etc., for men, young men and boys.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

The Fall and Winter suits shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, 215 Boylston Street, are of the very latest in style and design for gentlemen's and Ladies' wear. This store ranks in first place with any in the world.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

Miss M. E. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., is having an Opening of Ladies' Taffeta Flannel Waists; a new material delightfully thin and while washing like a Cotton Waist is absolutely unshrinkable; they come in all colors in attractive models, being made to Miss Fisk's order for the mountains, sea shore and automobiling.

Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

Millar & Weltch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston St., call attention to their Fall suits and dresses now in for ladies and misses. Also nice line of embroidered pique and wash dresses for children.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

A glance over the list of headliners that will make up the bill at the American Music Hall this week will satisfy any theatregoer for seldom if ever has such an aggregation been seen together on the same program in Boston. At least five acts are so firmly entrenched in the headline position that this is the first time they have not singly enjoyed this honor. These five are: George Fuller Golden, America's foremost humorist; Genaro and Bailey, vaudeville's biggest favorites; Rinaldo, the wandering violinist; the Marco Twins and Gardner and Stoddard. George Fuller Golden has been credited with being able to produce a laugh at every word and with his new material he is sure to duplicate his former success in the Hub. Genaro and Bailey are the late stars of "Tony The Bootblack," and will present an up-to-date novelty introducing their latest sensation, "The Flirtation Dance." Rinaldo is one of the greatest attractions ever seen in vaudeville. On his last visit to Boston he was absolutely unknown but before the week was over he was the talk of Boston. In his violin playing he seems to pay no attention to technique or to any of the rules of the art but he gets more out of the violin than even the great masters. The Marco Twins will be remembered as the long and short of it for one is over six feet tall while the other is considerably less than half of that height. The contrast furnishes a great deal of comedy in addition to the natural fun there is in the lines between the two players. The balance of this really remarkable bill will include the Seven Perezoffs who will repeat their big success of last week. W. E. Whittle, ventriloquist, in his latest success, "9 P. M. at the White House," and other headline features.

For the first time in this city, "The White Sister," is presented at the Majestic by a cast including Viola Allen, Dustin Farnum and Minna Gale. The play is a serious one drawn from a latest novel of Marion Crawford. The scene is Italy; the period, the present, and there is unfolded an amusing tale of a woman's sacrifice and endurance under intrigue and misunderstanding.

Lillian Russell comes to the Hollis Street in a new play entitled, "The Widow's Might." The widow played by Miss Russell, inherits a small fortune, interested and disinterested friends seek to use it in the stock market for her advantage—and theirs; the widow circumvents them.

There is a revival of "The College Widow," at the Castle Square by the John Craig Stock Company.

The hold over plays are: "The Love Cure," at the Tremont; "The Three Twins," at the Boston; Elsie Janis in "The Fair Co-Ed," at the Colonial; "The Blue Mouse," at the Globe; and "A Gentleman from Mississippi," at the Park.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

The Fall and Winter suits shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, 215 Boylston Street, are of the very latest in style and design for gentlemen's and Ladies' wear. This store ranks in first place with any in the world.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

Miss M. E. Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

The great interest in the science of hypnotism at the present time makes the visit of Pauline, the world-famed French mesmerist, at the American Music Hall this coming week very timely. Pauline is not a lady as the name might suggest but a handsome, well-groomed, smooth-faced, piercing-eyed master of the power of mind over matter. Boston is familiar with the work of most of the so-called hypnotists before the public but Pauline is a shining exception to this class of performers. He has undergone successfully every test that the most competent body of physicians could put him to. The final test of controlling the circulation of the blood is the one that absolutely convinced physicians the world over that Pauline's work was legitimate. Unlike most professional hypnotists Pauline uses thirty or forty subjects in his act. A few of these subjects he carries with him but most of them are selected from the audience. During his stay in Boston Pauline promises to perform some remarkable feats and invites the closest scrutiny of his work and methods. The best possible opportunity of deciding on the relative merits of both James J. Jeffries, the undefeated champion of the world, and Jack Johnson, the present holder of the title, will be offered by the moving pictures of the battles which made both fighters famous. The first contest shown will be that of Jeffries and Tom Sharkey at Coney Island and the other will be that of Johnson and Tommy Burns in Australia. Owing to the length of time consumed in showing these sets of pictures only the best rounds of each contest will be presented. Sophie Tucker, the remarkable coon shouter, will make her first appearance in Boston since her sensational "discovery" by Zeigfeld for his "Follies of 1909" last summer. The balance of the bill will include Williams' and Walker's chocolate drops, America's foremost colored entertainers; Harry Jolson (late of Eddy Lenoard's Minstrels); Busse's dogs, marvels of canine intelligence and the Ishakawa Japs.

The Globe presents for the first time here this week, Clyde Fitch's last play, "The City." Walter Hampden and a notable cast act the play. The story has to do with the fortunes of a family from an inland town suddenly shifted to New York.

SHOPPING NEWS

Miss M. F. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., has a splendid showing of Gloves for Men and Women for Street and Home occasions, a special Glove of Mocha, Cape and Dogskin at $1.50 a pair, has acquired great popularity. Ask to see the $1.50 Glove.

"The Hair Store," 29 Temple Place, conducted by Miss R. Butler. Synonymous for comfort, convenience and courteous treatment. The largest establishment in Boston devoted exclusively to sale of Hair Goods and Accessories. Hair Dressing, Manicuring, Treatment of Face and Scalp. Chiropody-Pedicure.

Macullar Parker Company call attention to their Fall and Winter stock of Suits, Overcoats, Furnishing Goods, etc., for men, young men and boys.

For Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods the shop of H. A. Winship, at 16 Tremont Street, is easy the leaders in this line. Over fifty years in business. Always reliable.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

The Fall and Winter suits shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, 215 Boylston Street, are of the very latest in style and design for gentlemen's and Ladies' wear. This store ranks in first place with any in the world.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

Herwins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

Millar & Welch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

The establishment of Kakas Bros., 179 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

John J. Stevens & Co., 300 Boylston St., call attention to their Fall suits and dresses now in for ladies and misses. Also nice line of embroidered pique and wash dresses for children.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

The bill which will be presented at the American Music Hall this week will contain so many good features that it is difficult to select a headline but from a comedy standpoint there is no question but that the palm will be carried off by Kate Elinore, one of the famous Elinore sisters, who with Sam Williams will present the screaming farce, "The Last of the Suffragettes." Theatre-goers who have seen the Elinore sisters will recognize in Kate Elinore the comedy member of the pair. Her long lanky arms and her grotesque style of gesture make it impossible to keep a straight face while looking at her. Pauline, the great French hypnotist, surpassed all expectations last week and scored such a success that the management wisely decided to hold him over for another week. Although Pauline's work last week was considerably varied, yet he will this week present a complete change of tests and experiments. Pauline uses from twenty to thirty subjects and the complete mastery he has over them is a decided novelty when other so-called hypnotists are considered. Many doctors have witnessed his act and have pronounced him a legitimate demonstrator of the power of mind over matter.

Genaro and Bailey, late stars of "Tony The Bootblack," will present a comedy sketch which has been a winner in every city where it has appeared. Incidentally they will introduce their famous "Flirtation Dance." Diamond and Beatrice in a unique musical act; the Broadway Boys, one of the best quartettes on the stage; the Three Richardinis marvels of physical strength, and other acts will complete the bill.

New shows are here this week in large quantities for critical Boston to judge, at the Tremont, Channing Pollock's fantastic comedy, "Such a Little Queen;" at the Hollis, Hattie Williams in "Detective Sparkes;" at the Boston, Maclyn Arbuckle in "The Circus Man;" at the Colonial, Max Rogers in "The Young Turk." Maxine Elliott reappears in "The Chaperons," at the Majestic.

"Honor" is here for the first time at the Castle Square Theatre.

At the American Music Hall

After magnificent triumphs in all the leading cities of America and particularly in New York, Chicago and New Orleans, Julian Eltinge, conceded by all to be the world's greatest portrayer of feminine characterizations will return home to Boston this week and open an engagement at the American Music Hall. Julian Eltinge is the last word in the impersonating of characters of the fair sex. His beautiful costumes have at all times been the envy of the women and the admiration of the men. His methods of making up whereby he reduces a normal masculine waist into a dainty circle of twenty-four inches and encases a number six foot into a number three shoe has been the subject of more discussion perhaps than any other single act on the stage. While Mr. Eltinge will retain some of the favorite characterizations which have been seen here before he will introduce many new ones. He will also present his sensational dance called "The Goddess of Incense." Surrounding Mr. Eltinge on the bill will be a big list of stars including Joe Welch, the creator of Hebrew characters. He will have a bright new monologue. Blake's circus, a riot from start to finish. His unridable mule, Maud's sister, is a whole show in itself and the efforts of different youngsters to stay on its back is the very best possible cure for the blues. A real novelty will be presented by Staley and Birbecks, who are known as the musical blacksmiths. In this act a wonderful transformation takes place whereby a complete parlor scene is in the space of thirty seconds changed into a blacksmith shop and vice-versa. Aside from the sensationalism of the act it is chock full of good music. As a black face comedian, George W. Day is in a class by himself and is always a welcome addition to any vaudeville bill. Travesty also finds its place on the bill in the one act comedy, "A Lesson at 11 P. M." by Fred Hallen and Mollie Fuller. The sketch is the work of Fred J. Beaman, and has been pronounced a real gem. More music will be furnished by the Kohler Trio, vocalists of rare ability who will offer delightful operatic excerpts. The balance of the bill will include other high class features, the whole making a program that has been especially arranged to appeal to women and children. The policy of this house in the future will be to eliminate anything of an objectionable nature so that women may feel free in coming unescorted and bring their children along with them.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

The success of Julian Eltinge at the American Music Hall last week was such that the management wisely decided to hold him over for another week. Never before has Mr. Eltinge received the demonstration in Boston that he has during the present engagement. His new songs and his latest sensational "Cobra Dance" have added wonderfully to his act. His costumes are of the same stunning variety that characterized his former visit and his work shows a better finish all through.

The Four Mortons, that riotous family of fun makers, will this week make a strong bid for headline honors. This is undoubtedly the greatest family of entertainers on the stage. Father, mother, son and daughter are all comedians to their finger tips and every one of them is an exceptionally fine dancer. More comedy will be furnished by Murphy and Francis, America's foremost colored entertainers. The dancing in their act is far above the ordinary and at times borders on the sensational. Caron and Herbert, comedy acrobats, are not strangers to Boston and they strengthen any bill on which they appear. They are perhaps better comedians than they are tumblers which is saying a great deal when their acrobatic work is considered. Hawkins is a young Boston boy who does some phenomenal feats in jumping, and Allan Shaw as a coin manipulator is without a peer on the vaudeville stage. The balance of the bill will include Tyler and Burton, and other high-class numbers.

AT THE GLOBE THEATRE

The attraction at the Globe Theatre beginning Monday, will be Lew Fields' musical production, "The Jolly Bachelors." There are said to be 143 people with "The Jolly Bachelors" company. In the cast are: Stella Mayhew, Emma Carus, Elizabeth Brice, Jessie Sadler, Topsey Siegrist, Nellie Lynch, Gertrude Vanderbilt, Al Leach, Walter Percival, Lionel Walsh, Robert Dailey, Nat Fields, Billie Taylor, Henry Behman, and Lew Fullerton. In the chorus there are 80 young women and 48 young men. A feature of the production is Ned Wayburn's steppers—21 young men and women who do a buck and wing dance in unison.

Unlike most large productions "The Jolly Bachelors" is not a fairy spectacle. It is a musical comedy with a connected plot: Three young men—jolly bachelors—fall in love with a young woman, who is an heiress, but who, in order to conceal her identity and find a man who would love her for herself alone has gone to work in a drug store. By a mistake she gives a bottle containing poison intended to kill an elephant of the Zoo to a student who has come in for the morning-after, eye-opener. The three "jolly bachelors" start out to find the young man and save the heiress from an unintentional murder, and their pursuit and adventures constitute the action of the piece.

"The Jolly Bachelors" is in two acts and seven scenes which are located as follows: The Terrace Garden in Westchester, the exterior of a drug store, the interior of a drug store, the exterior of a college dormitory, the rear of an air ship garage in Mineola, the flight of an air ship, and on board the three-day ocean greyhound Insania.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

Consul, the wonderful man-monkey, will make his initial Boston appearance this week at the American Music Hall. Consul is the monkey who originated the big craze which has swept the country, and is the only monkey who has ever been received by King Edward and Queen Alexandra. Consul does everything but, and many things that the average man cannot do. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Walker and Rose Morison, the well known Boston stock favorites, will present the delightful one-act playlet, "Just a Fresh Air Kid." Junie McCree and his capable company will be seen in "The Man From Denver," in which Mr. McCree portrays his famous character of the "dope fiend." Joseph Sheehan, the South Boston boy and formerly a member of the Henry W. Savage Castle Square Opera Company, will sing operatic selections and Irish ballads. Other acts on the big bill will be the Hawaiian Trio, introducing the sensational Hula Hula Dance, Silent Tait and Aimee, Howell and Scott, DeWitt Young and Sister, the Reid Sisters and the Ameriscope.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"The Battle," the play that gave Cleveland Moffett his start as a successful dramatist, and Wilton Lackaye the soundest hit of his starring career, is scheduled for local production at the Majestic, Monday evening, Dec. 20th, with Mr. Lackaye in his original role of John J. Haggleton, the richest man in New York. The advance notices of the play also give John D. Rockefeller some credit for the creation of this star part, inasmuch as the great Standard Oil magnate contributed to the capitalistic arguments advanced by this character in the course of the play. The play has a record of a season in New York, besides uniform success wherever else it has been performed, adequate proof that it contains all the necessary elements of exceeding popularity. An excellent cast supports Mr. Lackaye, including Harry Hilliard, Thomas McGrane, Clara Blandick, Julie Herne, Charles Abbe and Gerald Griffin. Liebler and Company is named as responsible for the production, and Hugh Ford for the staging.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

The bill at the American Music Hall this week will be made up of all star acts delightfully varied to suit every possible taste. There will be plenty of singing, good comedy, animal stunts for the children and acrobatics. Of course Consul, the wonderful man monkey, will be the big attraction. Rarely has an act ever appeared in Boston before that excited the comment that Consul did last week. He is truly more man than monkey and does everything but talk. Since being brought to this country he has learned several new tricks and has begun to utter articulate sounds. Another big feature of the bill will be the Karno Comedy Company which will present its famous "Night In An English Music Hall." Sixteen of England's greatest comedians and comediennes and acrobats will make up the cast and a half hour of fun is assured. An act which will appeal to Bostonians will be that of the Divers and Diverines with Peter S. McNally the champion long distance swimmer of the world and Charles A. Bigney the champion high diver of the world and Miss Sadie Schuman and Miss Jessie Sutherland will be the performers. This act is positively the greatest water act ever seen on any stage. It will introduce every fancy dive, and these dives will be performed by the two young women in the act, not only singly, but locked in each other's arm. In addition to the several daring dives from the top of the flies, Bigney will reach his climax with a sensational dive for life from the top of the proscenium arch in full view of the audience. Mr. McNally will perform many of the feats that have made him famous as a natator. The balance of the bill will include some of the biggest acts ever seen on the vaudeville stage in Boston.

AT THE GLOBE THEATRE

An announcement of peculiar interest to the playgoers of Boston and vicinity is that of the coming of Eugene Walter's greatest drama, "THE WOLF," to the Globe Theatre, beginning Monday evening, Dec. 27th. There has been no more successful drama in the past decade than "THE WOLF" which is written in Mr. Walters' most virile and convincing style. It enjoyed a long run in New York and so successful was it that last season four companies presented it on the road but by some strange mischance it did not visit Boston.

"THE WOLF" tells the story of the Hudson Bay county with a tension that is absorbing at all times and tremendously dramatic in its climaxes. A New York Civil Engineer visits that country for the purpose of surveying the land for a projective railroad, and falls in love with the daughter of a Scotch settler in that Wilderness. This same Englishman had many years before, while in that same sedition betrayed the sister of a young French Canadian, by the name of Jules, who is also in love with the daughter of the Scotchman McTavish. She is a simple child who is known no mother and no civilization but possesses a sweet and trusting disposition. The Englishman unable to win her by fair means appeals to the cupidity of her father, who consents to barter her for his own greed.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

A laughing bill is always welcome and for that reason a real treat is in store for the patrons of the American Music Hall this week. The big humorous hit will probably be scored by Byron and Langdon in their comedy sketch, "The Dude Detective." It would be hard to imagine anything more excruciatingly funny than Frank Byron's impersonation of the "Dude." He is one of the few men on the stage who can make such a character ludicrous without becoming disgusting. It is not exaggerating to say that Byron assisted by Miss Langdon make the funniest pair in vaudeville. The great troupe of English comedy pantomimists, Karno's Comedy Company will remain over for another week presenting a new piece, "A Night In The Slums Of London." In addition to furnishing plenty of comedy this sketch throws much light on the "underworld" of London. It also furnishes ample opportunity for the dozen or more comedy acrobats to perform some hair raising stunts. Maude Odell, the famous $10,000 beauty, will return again to display the charms which have taken the whole country by storm. She is the one woman whose measurements correspond absolutely with the accepted standards of beauty. That great troupe of colored entertainers, Georgia Campers, will furnish more comedy. About a dozen people make up the cast and every one of them is an accomplished singer and rapid fire dancer. For sensational bicycle riders there is no troupe on the stage today that surpass the wonderful Jackson family. This family has won world renown as the star feature of big circuses such as Barnum's and Ringling Brothers. The balance of the bill will include Walter James, the well known imitator of Harry Lauder, Musical Lowe, Bertie Fowler and other high class vaudeville features.

WALDRON'S NEW CASINO THEATRE OPENS.

Waldron's New Casino Theatre on Hanover Street near Tremont Row, will open on Monday. It is hardly necessary at this time to describe this magnificent playhouse which will be devoted to high class musical burlesque. The opening attraction will be "Fred Irwin's Majestics," in a stupendous Musical Burlesque.

Points of Difference

and the

are invariably points in which the Underwood is the recognized superior.

It originated Visible Writing—it first introduced Built-in-Tabulators and Modern Bookkeeping Appliances. In all of these important improvements, other standard makes have gradually fallen into line. The business public, however, prefers the machine that has led the way, because it stands to reason that it is always far ahead of the "Trailers." Let us show you the points of difference between the Underwood and its imitators and you will understand why it is

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

Those marvellous young vaudeville entertainers, Felix & Cyne will head the big bill at the American Music Hall this week in bodge-podge boyhood and girlhood pranks that will make the old-timers sit up and take notice. In the past both these youngsters have confined themselves strictly to imitations in which line they were absolutely unexcelled. Their ability, however, was too great to be devoted continuously to imitating others. As a result they are doing a great deal of original work which stamps them as performers of the first order. Another big feature of the bill will be Nellie Wallace, England's undisputed premier character comedienne. Miss Wallace has a fund of humorous material and an eccentric method of delivering it which never fails to hit the right spot. Lovers of art will find much to interest them in Brongk's Bare Bronze Beauties who created such a sensation on their last visit to the Hub. Herman Lieb & Co. will present the one-act sketch entitled, "Dope," by Joseph Midell Patterson, author of "The Fourth Estate" and "The Little Brothers of the Rich." In the cast Mr. Lieb will be assisted by six capable actors and actresses. Atwood and Terry will present their vaudeville classic, "A Snapshot from Life," which fairly bristles with fun throughout. An eccentric novelty act will be offered by Silent Taite & Aimee. Magneto and other high class features will conclude the big bill.

LEW DOCKSTADER AT THE GLOBE

Introducing up-to-date subjects and popular fads, Lew Dockstader with "the only minstrel entertainment with a plot" will, with his one hundred comedians, singers, dancers and musicians, be the attraction at the Globe Theatre this week. Lew Dockstader has come forward this season with it is said the largest production ever known in this line of entertainment. Always an inventor of original stage effects and seizing upon popular themes from which to extract fun, Dockstader has gone himself one better and "puts over" the laughing and spectacular gem of his long career. As cohorts he has Neil O'Brien, Eddie Mazier, Frank Dumont, William H. Hallett, Pete Detzell, William H. Thompson, James Verardi, Master Nauty, Edward Miller, Edward Van Roy, John Daly, Gilbert C. Losee and a host of others who are the pick of the fun fold. Instead of the usual first part, Dockstader introduces the members of the Possum Aero Club on the lawn of the clubhouse where the fun begins. As Dockstader has an air ship it seems an easy matter for him to fly to the kingdom of Doughland, where the hypnotic president of the Possum Aero Club tells him he will find money growing on trees. The opportunities for picturesqueness have not been overlooked. Dockstader shows not only gorgeous scenic effects but he introduces several new song numbers that are bound to become very popular.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

The return of the great Severin, the wonderful French pantomimist to the American Music Hall this week will be welcomed by those who were fortunate enough to see his wonderful work on his last visit here and also to those who were unable to enjoy this privilege. Severin, who is the greatest master of pantomime in the world, plays a four-act drama without the use of a single word, expressing all his emotions and feelings with his hands and face. What Bernhard and Coquelin are to the legitimate drama, Severin is to pantomime. He will be assisted by a dozen capable French pantomimists who are all artists of the highest class. Cliff Gordon, the German Senator, will offer some more of his ridiculously foolish sayings. Gordon has long since taken rank with America's foremost monologists. A real social sensation is promised in the appearance of a Countess, who to hide her identity makes her debut on the stage as "The Lady In Black." She is gifted with a marvellous contralto voice which would easily land her in Grand Opera if the fear of her identity becoming known did not prevent her from trying this field. Wilfred Clarke and company will present their screaming farce, "What Will Happen Next." Mr. Clarke has a sterling reputation as an actor and he will be surrounded by a capable company. Nellie Wallace who scored so heavily last week will be held over for another week. As colored performers, Irving Jones and Grant have no superiors on the American stage. Jones is a comedian through and through while Grant is a regular Beau Brummell of the colored race. Rawson & June, a clever pair of singers and boomerang throwers with tropical scenic setting. Miss Alice Lorette and her dog "Ben" in a series of startling poses and other high class acts will complete this all star bill.

DOCKSTADER HOLDS OVER AT THE GLOBE

Lew Dockstader and his merry band of minstrels holds over for another week at the Globe. To see Lew in his aeroplane soaring gracefully over the audience nightly, and Neil O'Brien as captain of the fire-fighters is a treat worth going miles to see.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

The bill which will be presented at the American Music Hall this week will be a remarkable one in many respects. First, because it will contain as the big feature R. A. Roberts, the famous English protean artist, and again because every act in it will be of the headline variety. Mr. Roberts will present his latest productions, "Cruel Coppinger" and "Dick Turpin." In both of these productions he portrays every character and shows a versatility coupled with an ability to change costumes quickly which is nothing short of marvelous. The public is familiar with "Dick Turpin" but a word of comment may be necessary concerning "Cruel Coppinger." This is a fantastic pirate story in two scenes the action taking place in 1790. It concerns the character of Captain Coppinger the great wrecker, pirate and murderer and those who unfortunately were thrown in contact with him. The ability displayed by Mr. Roberts in the conception and construction of the play makes it an entertainment that one cannot well afford to miss. Wilfred Clarke & Company who scored such a success last week in "What Will Happen Next," will be seen in a new play fully equal to the one in which Bostonians have seen him. Fisher & Burkhardt will present a musical comedy which will furnish ample opportunity for a display of their talents. As an entertainer, Frank Bush has few equals on the stage and he may be depended upon to furnish comedy enough to satisfy the most blasé. Spellman's Bears, a troupe of trained animals, Scott Brothers, European Gymnasts, The Gilden Sisters, three dainty dancers and other big acts will complete the bill.

CAPT. BARTLETT'S LECTURE AT THE TREMONT TEMPLE

Capt. Bartlett, commander of the famous expedition ship, "Roosevelt," which made the successful trip to the North Pole, will give an illustrated lecture next Wednesday evening at the Tremont Temple. Capt. Bartlett will give a very interesting talk on the last trip that he made to the far north, with some very instructive views, the different slides will be the same as those used by Commodore Peary. Illustrated songs and The Mozart Ladies' Quartet will complete the bill.

are invariably points in which the Underwood is the recognized superior.

It originated Visible Writing—it first introduced Built-in-Tabulators and Modern Bookkeeping Appliances. In all of these important improvements, other standard makes have gradually fallen into line. The business public, however, prefers the machine that has led the way, because it stands to reason that it is always far ahead of the "Trailers." Let us show you the points of difference between the Underwood and its imitators and you will understand why it is

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the American Music Hall

James J. Corbett, former champion pugilist of the world who just now shines as brightly as an actor as he ever did in the ring will be the big feature of the all star bill at the American Music Hall this week. If Mr. Corbett were still the foremost living pugilist he could hardly receive more cordial welcomes than he gets in every city in which he plays. By his clean cut appearance, modish dress, easy bearing and quietly humorous method in story telling he quickly gains the good will and applause of his audience. He will present a new monologue which contains many humorous stories of his past experiences which will be apropos to the coming contest between Jeffries and Johnson. For his second week R. A. Roberts will present for the first time in the Hub his biggest success, "Cruel Coppinger." This is a fantastic pirate story in two scenes the action taking place in 1790. Interest centers around the character of Captain Coppinger the great wrecker, pirate and murderer. There is something of the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde flavor about this piece, for Coppinger the murderer and Paul Lavelle a gentleman from London, also portrayed in the piece, are one and the same person. In all, Mr. Roberts portrays seven characters, plunging from one to another with bewildering rapidity and making changes of costume that are startling. Cameron & Gaylord are not strangers to Boston. They present their original sketch "On and Off," which gives a glimpse of how performers act when they reach their dressing rooms. Tambo & Tambo, are a pair of marvellous tambourine spinners who never fail to score heavily with their wonderful dexterity. Pelletier and Messinger will present imitation of prominent stage personages, the principal one being that of Eva Tanguay in which Miss Pelletier shines. The Reid Sisters will present a dainty dancing skit that is refined and pleasing. The balance of the bill will be made up of other all star acts that have always proven big winners on the vaudeville stage.

AT THE NEW SHUBERT THEATRE

During the second week of the new Shubert Theatre, E. H. Sothorn and Julia Marlowe present "Hamlet," Monday and Tuesday nights; "Romeo and Juliet," Wednesday and Thursday nights, and "Twelfth Night," Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon

At the Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston Street, *Miss M. F. One of the almost indispensable articles at this the Opera season, is a good opera glass. Millar & Welch the West St. opticians, have anticipated the demand and have imported an excellent line and are prepared to show a large variety in plain and fancy mountings, also they make a specialty of thermometers, both for inside or outside use.

Macullar Parker Company call attention to their Fall and Winter stock of Suits, Overcoats, Furnishing Goods, etc., for men, young men and boys.

William H. Winship (formerly H. A. Winship), 16 Tremont St., are showing a fine line of Trunks, Bags and Dress Suit Cases for European Travel. A full stock of the latest designs in ladies' wrist and hand bags. Always reliable. Established 1842.

The soft Oriental materials to be seen in Davis' East India House, 373 Boylston Street, near Arlington Street, are different from anything to be found elsewhere, and one finds there, also, beautiful embroideries and many interesting novelties, from many parts of the world.

A. L. La Vers & Co., 190-192 Boylston St., 32-34 Park Square, are showing an unusually attractive line of moderate priced Furs, suitable for Holiday Gifts. A discount of ten per cent. will be allowed professional people on all cash purchases.

There is no question but that Raymond & Whitcomb Company, whose office is at 306 Washington Street, next to the Old South Church, maintain the best equipped and most complete ticket office for railroad and steamship tickets in the city. Correct information will be furnished with pleasure.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of English neckwear that will appeal to men of discriminating taste.

The establishment of Kakas Bros., 179 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s., 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns. Also Imported Brass and Leather Novelties in choice variety.

Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

are invariably points in which the Underwood is the recognized superior.

It originated Visible Writing—it first introduced Built-in-Tabulators and Modern Bookkeeping Appliances. In all of these important improvements, other standard makes have gradually fallen into line. The business public, however, prefers the machine that has led the way, because it stands to reason that it is always far ahead of the "Trailers."
