

A map of Greenland showing its geographical features and administrative boundaries. The island is colored in a light yellow-green hue. A red dot is placed on the northern coast, with a white rectangular label containing the text "Kayser Bjerg" positioned to its right. The surrounding ocean is light blue, and other landmasses are shown in a light brown color. The map includes several vertical lines across the island, likely representing administrative regions or major roads.

Kayser Bjerg