This year was different.
This year was special. A year unlike any other — 1986. We can remember every detail. But don't ask us to explain it. Why?
Because . . .
YOU HAD TO BE THERE!

YOU

... started the new school year with enthusiasm. Right from the start you were in the action. Walking the three flights of stairs with suitcases and boxes in hand, you were excited about the year before you. You enjoyed the last of the summer weather at picnics by the lake. And before you knew it you had settled into a daily routine — sleep, classes, eat, homework. Friendships blossomed as the leaves turned brown and the weather turned cold. Cornhuskin' spirit rose high. Picnics with cotton candy and ice cream sandwiches, waterfights by moonlight, big-sis songs that came from the heart, and the deafening noise of laughter and chants in Jones Auditorium. Halloween and Thanksgiving followed as the year flew by full of activities and class work. The grand finale of your year occurred the night of the Meredith Christmas dinner. After a full-course meal you and your friends lighted 5,000 luminaries. You created a breath-taking atmosphere and shared a joyous occasion. You made first semester special because you were there.

YOU

Made It!

Freshmen Orientation! Bumper to bumper traffic as you made your way up the Meredith drive, a rainbow of balloons, pamphlet after pamphlet to read, and smiling faces directed you to your new home away from home. The feelings you had at that moment? — Scared, sad, overwhelmed, and very excited. Your week was packed — hall meetings, information seminars, academic counseling, decorating your room, and making new friends. You are finally here — Welcome to Meredith College!!

YOU

... came back from break ready for the spring semester. You and your friends reunited to discuss Christmas excursions and to plan the new times ahead. Different classes aroused new interests, and you became even more involved in clubs and activities. Then it happened — Spring Fever! The sun came out — and so did you — on the breezeways, by the lake, in front of the dorms, and any place else that the sun shone bright. The seniors painted the beehive with their fondest memories and everyone enjoyed the outdoor picnics. It was a terrific year. You know why it was so terrific — you know exactly what happened. You Were There.

YOU . . .

felt the enthusiasm and spirit generated during Cornhuskin'. You were part of a family called a "residence hall." You were involved in the issues and you made a difference. You know what "Student Life" at Meredith College is all about because, "You Were There."

Meredith College Cornhuskin' 1985 was a high success. The sophomore class of 1988 broke-in the new freshmen with lovely morning "wake-up calls" and midnight "lullabies." The clanging of pots and pans, screeching whistles, and loud voices was enough to get the freshmen on their feet to fight back. The week continued with water fighting, courtyard rolling, and even late night phone calling. Amidst all the class competition, Big Sisters and Little Sisters expressed their feelings, serenading each other by candlelight.

The real competition started around four o'clock Thursday, November 7. Each class paraded into the courtyard yelling their theme songs in their loudest voices. The freshmen entered alone believing that "One Thing Leads To Another." The sophomores entered the courtyard by taking a "Walk on the Wildside." The juniors chose a more organized entry chanting boot camp phrases to back their theme, "Be All You Can Be." Finally, the seniors made a grand debut carrying balloons before a procession of moving history. It began with man's invention of the wheel and proceeded through time to the airplane that flew overhead trailing their theme "Nothing Lasts Forever . . . It Only Gets Better."

After a tremendous picnic, everyone headed for Jones Auditorium for the final competition of Cornhuskin' 85. This year's hostesses were Beth Cunningham and Karen Mann. They dressed up as Pebbles and Bam-Bam and helped carry out the overall Cornhuskin' theme — "Back to the Future."

As each class gathered in the auditorium, cheers and songs grew louder and louder. The competition started and the auditorium echoed with chants before and after each event as the classes anticipated victory. Benefiting from their previous experience, the seniors' program ran smoothly from event to event. The freshmen and sophomores, on the other hand seemed to be still trying to get their programs going. The juniors presented great competition against the seniors. It looked like the judges should have a tough time choosing a winner.

With the reading of the judges results, the evening came to a climax. Every class was a winner in at least one event. The victory was once again rewarded to the senior class, and spirits soared. Everyone left the auditorium to continue celebrating at Cody's on Western Boulevard, fraternity row, and other places off campus. Another Cornhuskin' that we would never forget was complete. It was great! But to appreciate how great it really was, you had to be there. You were!

Freshmen in the courtyard wait for others to follow their lead.

There's Loretta Lynn! There's Pee Wee Herman! And look, there's Stevie Wonder! What were all these stars doing in Jones Auditorium on the Meredith College Campus? Of course, they were here to host the 1986 Lip Sync Contest! Sponsored by the junior class, this year's theme was "MC TV." The Meredith College Women got together and performed with such acts as "Revised Edition" and the "Fat Girls." The winner? That world-wide famous group "Twisted Angel" singing their smash hit "We're Not Gonna Take It" — Congratulations! This year's event was a huge success — all the participants had fun and the audience loved every musical minute of it!

Above: The Elections Board got everyone excited for the upcoming elections.

The Meredith elections board worked hard to make this year's elections involve more students and be more fun and they succeeded. Sharon Knight, co-chair of the elections board, said their work had paid off because students were more enthusiastic about running and voting in the elections. The theme for the freshman elections was "Get Carried Away," but their feeling seemed to be present in all the elections. There was a greater number of students running than in the past. This provided good competition and resulted in more offices being filled. The statistics from the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd slates were as follows:

1st Slate .....	52%	Total Students Voted
Runoff .....	32%	Students
2nd Slak .....	42%	Students
Runoff .....	24%	Students
3rd Slate .....
Rising Seniors .....	44%	Students
Rising Juniors .....	28%	Students
Rising Sophomores .....	52%	Students
Special Elections .....	14%	Students

Congratulations to all the winners!!!

SPRING FLING

“Fun in the Sun”

On April 20, 1986, the island and amphitheater at Meredith was transformed into “The Celebration of the Year!” You celebrated the annual Spring Fling and, this year, you had it Mardi Gras style. Bright yellow, purple, green, and orange beads decorated Meredith women and their guests. The warm day perfect for eating yogurt, throwing frisbees, and canoeing. Blankets covered the island as you sat and listened or got up and danced to entertainment provided by Fat Ammon’s Band and The Fabulous Waller Family. It was a Sunday afternoon of fun in the sun for you and your friends!

MEREDITH PERFORMS

Nineteen eighty-five/eighty six was a productive year for the Meredith Performs program. A lot of enthusiasm was put into the extensive undertakings of staff and students. The season got off to a magnificent start with The Sound of Music. This familiar musical was one of the more elaborate productions Meredith has ever done, according to John Crea from the drama department. Lots of backstage work and a large cast made this musical a difficult one to produce. Many people helped pull the show together for its smooth success.

In keeping with its unofficial tradition of producing an unusual and unique performance every February, the Meredith Performs introduced Tales of the Jazz Age. This theater piece was created at Meredith and made its debut on February 7th. Legends such as Zelda Fitzgerald (Lisa Robie), Gertrude Stein (Dawn Hutchins), and Isadora Duncan (Carrie Schmidt), came alive on the Meredith stage to recreate the atmosphere and emotion of the "lost generation." Set in the roaring 20's, this dramatic production was interesting and enjoyable.

Following Tales of the Jazz Age, the dramatic angels took on another challenge. This challenge was the production of William Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew with an all female cast. This idea was adapted from the knowledge that Shakespeare's plays were usually put on by all male actors. Meredith decided that the play should involve as many students as possible so the single sex cast idea was adopted and was switched in gender. Many thought that this kind of show would reflect the Meredith creativity and also reveal the outdated, "sexist" views the play presents and make many of them amusing to the audience.

Meredith Performs has enjoyed a busy and productive year and will surely continue to bring great performances to the public and especially to Meredith students.

MEREDITH FACES IN FAR AWAY PLACES . . .

In the 1985-86 year Meredith students journeyed to many foreign places. They had fun in the sun in the sands of Bermuda and Morocco. Through the Meredith Abroad program Meredith faces were seen from Hyde Park in London to the green landscapes of Ireland. And the Meredith Chorale sang their way through Germany, Switzerland, Austria, and France. These Meredith women saw foreign cultures, had an unforgettable learning experience, and best of all had a terrific time.

Religious Emphasis Week

David Moore

Above: Many Meredith students were present in the chapel on Wednesday to hear David Moore speak. Right: The Bath Tub Ring added their talents to the festivities.

The Religious Emphasis Week theme, "Celebrate!", was chosen to brighten up the cold month of January and that it did. A "kick-off" for the celebration was held in the Chapel Common Room on Sunday, January 19. Monday morning, a special chapel worship was led by Reverend David Moore, a local member of the Baptist State Convention in the Youth and Campus Ministry Division. The Bath Tub Ring also shared with the congregation by rejoicing through song. An early prayer breakfast was held on Tuesday at 7:15 a.m. and the leader of the devotion was Dorothy Preston. The morning was also brightened by Crystal Lennin who sang for the group in the President's Dining Room. Chapel on Wednesday was made extra special by Mark Masters, a mime, and by David Moore. These two also took part in the evening communion. Thursday, the festivities culminated as Meredith students celebrated with David Meece and his musical talents. Christian rock, in Jones Auditorium, sounded the success of Meredith's Religious Emphasis Week celebration.

Building for the future, Meredith students observed Black Emphasis Week 1986 starting on February 9. That Sunday afternoon the foundation was laid by the St. Augustine's Gospel Choir and Louisburg High School Ensemble singing in the chapel. Sunday night A Soldier's Story intrigued movie viewers in Cate Center. Monday's construction began early with a ten o'clock convocation. Students and faculty watched as Sandra Dunsen Franks became Harriet Tubman on stage. Through Ms. Franks, Harriet Tubman's experiences and thoughts were re-created for the benefit of the modern audience. Tuesday, visiting high school students contributed to the atmosphere on campus. Dr. Grissom conducted communion in the chapel that night as a fitting end for the day's work. Dr. C. Eric Lincoln and the New Horizon's Gospel Choir built up students' expectations and fulfilled them in chapel on Wednesday morning. Another building block was the art exhibition by Minnie McMillan. A step show by Omega Psi Phi and Kappa Alpha Psi was a fitting peak for the building of Black Emphasis Week at Meredith.

Meredith women could have danced all year — and they almost did! The 1985-1986 dances started with the Sophomore Masquerade Ball on October 18. With Halloween approaching, Meredith students dressed up in their costumes early and joined their friends and their dates in the gym for a night of fun and surprises. November soon came and girls returned to the gym, this time with their families, for a Parents Weekend sock hop. Later that month, the Holiday Dance provided a good reason for students to get out their sequins and high heels and move to the music of "Kruze." February came and angels gathered with their friends for the Valentines Dance and Dating Game. A Best Lips at Meredith contest was also held at the Valentine's Dance. Many Meredith lips were judged from lipstick kisses on paper, but the prize was eventually awarded to Nan Henry. The traditional Spring Dances were held in April. The Freshmen/sophomore semiformal and the junior/senior formal were both occasions for Meredith angels to kick up their heels before summer. Looking back at this year, it's easy to see that Meredith women don't like to dance — they LOVE it!!

Very Important Visitors

Guests On Campus

This year our campus was privileged to have many very important visitors. These guests were not only distinguished in their own field of expertise but also because they brought their talents to share with Meredith students. C. Shaw Smith, from the National Association for Campus Activities, inspired student leaders at the beginning of the fall semester with his enthusiasm and charm. Carl Rosen and Tom Deluca entertained us with their talents as well. Dr. Thomas Grissom, the pastor of Salem United Methodist Church in New York, visited campus for Black Emphasis Week as did Sandra Franks, who brought us a realistic view of Harriet Tubman in a dramatic re-creation of her. Mr. John Crystal came to campus to speak on "Approaching the Job Market" for Founders Day Convocation. In October, we were pleased to see Molly Marshall-Green in Wednesday worship. Dr. M. Elizabeth Tidball also visited and spoke at the convocation on October 21st. Singing incredible harmony, the Duke Pitchforks serenaded us in November. David Meece and David Moore brought their energy to campus and succeeded in spreading it to the students. The Dorm Council provided visitors from nearby fraternities for a demonstration on automobile mechanics. The year was topped off with the musical guests Speidel, Goodrich, and Lille, entertaining us at a courtyard picnic. The "Very Important Visitors" in 1985-86 made this year special and exciting for all Meredith women!

Playday/Intramural Awards Day

"BLUE HAWAII"

MRA sponsored Play Day and Intramural Awards Day on April 23rd. The theme was "Blue Hawaii" and there was a lot of people turning blue in the non-hawaiian weather. Despite the unusually chilly air, students turned out in large numbers for the fun, food, and festivities. At 3:30 the games began. These included a water-balloon toss, a three-legged race, and a bat relay. Frisbees, rollerskates, hula hoops, oversized golf clubs, and a mound of sand also added to the fun in the courtyard. At 4:30 women lined up for hot dogs and hamburgers. Later the Intramural Committee presented awards to dedicated women who organized and participated regularly in intramural sports. The four main awards were the most participating dorm (Barefoot), the hall champions (4th Barefoot), the most participating individual (Carmel Swanson), and Intramural Representative of the year (Stephen Gay). A special award was also presented to Allen Jenkins for her special dedication as director of intramurals for two years.

TIME TO . . .

Having adequate time and a quiet atmosphere for studying is a necessity for Meredith women aspiring for success. The time needed to learn is found in different ways and the environment for thinking is found in different places. Many students go to Carl Campbell Library to prepare for tests, work on homework, or do research. Others like working outside on sunny days, when a book and a bench are all that is necessary for learning. Some students prefer to study in their dorms, in classrooms, or in Cate Center. Some even venture over to the library at N.C. State for a change in surroundings. Whether studying alone or with friends, a Meredith student always benefits from her learning time.

LEARN

ON YOUR TIME

Believe it or not, between classes, homework, and school events Meredith women find time for themselves! After classes students take time out to check their mail boxes and sneak a candy bar at Cate Center. Many students use their time to get in shape — they utilize the Weatherspoon Gym, walk or jog around the "Meredith Circle," or go cycling around Raleigh. Dates play a part in freetime — rarely do you only see females on this women's campus. Meredith women also spend spare time in the dorm, it's a great place to catch the soaps, eat some pizza, take a nap with your teddy and give a friend a perm! "On your time" YOU choose what you want to do!

Mmm . . .

Mmm . . .

Mmm . . . Mmm . . . Good! The aroma of pizza drifts down the hall accompanied by voices asking, "Who ordered the pizza? I want a piece!" Pizza is a popular food with Meredith girls, whether it comes from Domino's, PTA, or campus' service, ITZA Pizza. Some students order it for fun and some order it as a substitute for cafeteria food.

The cafeteria serves well-balanced meals all year to faculty, students, and guests. It also provides several special meals during the year. These include Thanksgiving dinner, Christmas dinner, and picnics.

GOOD!

Le Greenhouse is another good place to eat on campus. A student can go to this spot in Cate Center for a meal with her friends or just a snack between classes. The french fries and sandwiches are popular foods on the Le Greenhouse menu.

Many clubs and organizations sell food on campus to raise money. Ice cream picnics are held in the fall and big sisters treat their little sisters to dollar sundaes. Some groups sell M&M's, doughnuts, and popcorn to make money.

Students definitely have a variety of foods to choose from.

you and your own style

On a typical day on Meredith's campus, sweats, camouflage pants, t-shirts, and shorts seem to be the trend. But when Meredith Angels wanted to dress up, they knew the latest and most stylish clothes to wear. They were seen in anything from pasley blouses to silk blouses. Guess jeans to floral jeans, long skirts to mini skirts, and bulky sweaters to Forenza sweaters. And all of these clothes were popular items with Meredith women. In the fashion of the 80's, ANYTHING GOES!

Whatever the style, Meredith women completed their outfits with lots of accessories. With a pin on her collar; a gold chain; long pearls tied in a knot; bright, dangling earrings; a wide belt; lots of bracelets; and a swatch, an angel had it made. She was ready for anything.

The 1985-86 school year was one to wear what you wanted to wear and even to be your own fashion consultant. Nothing anyone put together was wrong. Meredith angels went into their closets in rags (sweats) and came out in riches — no matter what style they chose!

Interaction between students is as important at Meredith as it is at any other college. Students enjoy being with their friends, with their boyfriends and with other people on and off campus. Students interact with faculty members and office staff members. Meredith is different from most colleges and universities in that it is just the right size to enable these relationships to form between students and staff. The atmosphere at Meredith also allows the students to build strong friendships. Interaction between people occurs everywhere but at Meredith that interaction has a special, personal feeling.

Student

Workers

Many students at Meredith have jobs. Some work in Raleigh to earn extra money for spending or for their education. Some also work for experience in their field of interest. Many students also work on campus for the same reasons. You see student workers in the library, in the infirmary, in the cafeteria, in academic offices, and in the supply store. These are just a few of the places where students can earn extra money. On campus jobs are in abundance and easy to get to from the dorms. They usually have no requirements for experience and many students gain experience from their jobs. Students learn a lot and gain good references for their resumes along with the other benefits they receive from having a job on campus.

Out On The Town

Celebrating at TK Tripps, these angels look like they've made a new friend.

Is Mitch's ready for this group?

These angels love the mall!

Meredith College as most of its students know is not an isolated school. Meredith women love to check out the town. During the day students run errands like going to the bank, getting gas for their car and going to Winn Dixie or Kerr Drug. Afternoon is a great time to go to Crabtree Mall. Meredith women love to shop and check out the eating establishments. When the sun goes down the Angels really come out. Hot 'Lanta, Mitches, Trips and NC State are all favorite hangouts. Steves Ice Cream and TCBY Yogert also catch some girls attention. It is evident that even though these women call MC home, they love to go "out on the town!"

The Pavilion at Crabtree Mall is a great place for a casual date.

TCBY is a Meredith favorite!

Kerr Drugs Store is very convenient for Meredith students.

What's Your Sign?

Signs are present all over campus and all over Raleigh. These signs mean different things to different people, depending on the things the messages call to mind.

The McDonald's sign may mean just fast food to some. But, to students, it means a unique place, styled like the eateries of the 1950's, that offers juke box tunes and old movies along with their hamburgers and french fries.

Signs on t-shirts may not be important unless they reflect a big game in 1986 where the Wolfpack rose above the Tar Heels in basketball.

The parking sign probably means more to freshmen and sophomores than to juniors and seniors since it is reminiscent of some attitudes toward underclassmen parking on campus.

The Fraternity Court sign is a familiar favorite to many girls who are either little sisters at the frats or who just go there for fun.

The cinema sign is one that many Meredith students associate with the year's best movies, including Out of Africa and The Color Purple.

Hot 'Lanta is a new sign put up this year. Since the club's creation, it has climbed high on many students' lists.

Women Only not only stands for the dormitory policy at Meredith, but also for the graduate school issue faced this year.

Salute to STUDENTS

This year Meredith College sponsored two Awards Days — one for academics and one for student leaders. Both of these programs were a huge success. Meredith students were recognized for their outstanding achievements as friends and family proudly watched. We are all very thankful for these young ladies' contributions to our college. CONGRATULATIONS!!

1985-86 NEWS REVIEW

Men at Meredith???

On Friday February 28, 1986 a group of Meredith students, faculty, and alumnae held a demonstration to show how they felt about admitting men into the graduate program. The Board delayed the vote on the issue to gather more information.

This was a very emotionally issue. Some felt a very important tradition would be broken and the perception of the college would change if men were admitted. Others believed the graduate program itself was more important stating that having men was better than having no graduate program.

An SGA forum was held to present both sides. Students heard from faculty, alumnae, graduate students, and undergraduate students who held opposing positions. When the 1986 Oak Leaves went to press this issue was not resolved.

Transformer Blows

Brewer and Faircloth dorms were evacuated on September 8, 1985 after a transformer blew-up causing a power failure. Because of the power outage no fire alarms went off. The fire was inside the transformer so there were no flames or smoke, but there was the odor of smoke. Many students were concerned that had there been a fire they would have been trapped since no alarms sounded. Two girls who were riding the elevator at the time felt the elevator drop and were caught between floors. Firemen helped the two out. Both were scared but not injured.

"Angel" to the Rescue

On February 3, 1986 Meredith girls had some unexpected entertainment. Fraternity pranksters tied one of their "brothers" to the courtyard fountain. One Meredith student was nice enough to volunteer a towel and a security guard set the bewildered captive free.

Space Shuttle Disaster

A few minutes after take off on January 28, 1986 the space shuttle Challenger blew up. Seven astronauts, including the first teacher in space were killed. The flags at Meredith and all over the United States flew at half-staff. Meredith students also held a candle-lit midnight service for the victims.

Strange Visitor

A 200 lb. black bear paid a visit to the Meredith campus this year. Security spotted the bear by the stables. The bear was later captured in Pullen Park. No one was quite sure where the visitor came from.

Dr. Rose Retires

After 46 years at Meredith College Dr. Irma Rose retired. She has become a legend, not only in the English Department but all over the campus. There are few who do not know about the high standards that she upholds. Meredith College will miss Dr. Rose's teaching abilities and vital personality.

A New Look at Women

The Distinguished Faculty Speaker Convocation lecturer this year was Dr. Lois E. Frazier, professor of business and economics and MBA director at Meredith. The title of Dr. Frazier's speech was "A Women's Place." She addressed the "Women" in the home, community, the church, and the government."

The Yellow Boot

In the fall semester Meredith College security introduced "The Boot." Formally it is called an Auto-Boot Immobilizer and is placed on the front, left wheel when the car is parked illegally. A ticket is placed on the car first and if not moved within one to two hours the security place an immobilizer on your vehicle. The procedure was installed in order to cut down on towing.

Goodbyes

Rhoda Sowers, the Student Activities Director, left for graduate school this year and Francis Thorne retired after many years of service to the college. Thank you both for your special contributions — we will miss you.

New Home

The publications found a new and larger home this year. The Oak Leaves, Meredith Herald, and Acorn moved to the basement of the chapel.

Luminaries

Following the annual Christmas dinner on December 3, 1985, Meredith students lit 5,000 luminaires. This event was a fundraiser sponsored by the SGA for the Raleigh Food Bank. They raised $200 and made the whole campus shine.

ACADEMICS / GROUPS

A RAINBOW of COLORS

"To build the art program into a center for the education of women in art and a forum of the presentation of art by women is our goal for Meredith College," said Mr. Greene, the head of the Art Department. With over 600 students enrolled in art classes, sixty-two art majors, the largest exhibition ever, and thirteen students' works exhibited in different art shows for the academic year of 1985-86, it was evident that this goal was being reached.

During the year a period of change and growth occurred; the department became much more professional in its offerings and provided better opportunities in art. There was also plans made and money raised for a new art building. Among these achievements was the establishment of a new organization and Grant. The Student Art Organization reinstated the Meredith Art Guild, which was a service club that helped make art more visible. The Grant was from the A. J. Flecher Foundation; it provided scholarships for two incoming Freshman who were talented art students. As time progressed, the art department kept striving for its goal.

Problem Solving and Reasoning

The Biology Department upholds excellence in its endeavor to teach reasoning and problem solving. The department offers a B.S. or B.A. in biology and certification as a medical technician or physicians assistant. New programs include a Human Anatomy and Physiology Program and a Nursing Program. This year a Chemistry and Biology Alumnae Day was held and Dr. Bunn and Mrs. Sullivan attended the National Meeting of the American Society for Micro-Biologists in Washington, D.C.

Technology Takes Over Business

The Business and Economics Department continued to grow this year by leaps and bounds. Old courses went out and new, revised, and exciting courses moved in. These shifts made this department exceptional and prominent once again.

Courses in Marketing and Accounting expanded because of increased interest. With the new wave and fast times, computers replaced typewriters, allowing Meredith to comply with this growing need. This department's courses provided a stable basis for many fields. The Business Department at Meredith is progressive and naturally changed with the times.

Scientifically Literate

Becoming scientifically literate and gaining an understanding of what is happening in the world today are the goals the Chemistry Department has set for its students. Special events this year included the hosting of the Chemistry and Biology Alumnae Day and a visit by representatives from the American Chemical Society.

EDUCATION A Strong Foundation

The Education Department stressed excellence in teaching and did so by building a firm base for its students. They offered certification in K-4, 4-6, 6-9, and 9-12 levels and specialty area such as art, music, and reading. There were three special events during the Spring Semester. During the month of February, there was a Student-Teacher Banquet and a Hands on Science Activities. On March 24, Teacher

Network Day took place. Forty recruiters interviewed Meredith students. This first time event included thirty-two school systems. The Spring Semester also brought along a special course for elementary math teachers in the Wake County School System. It was taught by Dr. Clay once a week. This prominent department strived successfully to make the academic year one of excellence and structure.

Excellence in English

The English Department at Meredith College has always been recognized as a department with high standards of excellence. This year was no exception. From Freshmen English to advanced courses such as Shakespeare and Milton, the professors strove to teach their students to appreciate both grammar and literature. The professors also showed their personal excellence this year — Jean Jackson became

Dr. Jean Jackson, Gary Walton was recognized by the college for superior teaching, and Norma Rose ended a spectacular 46 years at Meredith.

DR. NORMA ROSE

The following article was reprinted from the Meredith Herald — May 7, 1986.

In class Dr. Norma Rose barely exceeds the height of the podium but her strong resounding voice echos in the halls. One day she is Hamlet; the next Lear or even Puck. While the dramatic personae changes from day to day, Rose remains true to her role as a teacher.

Rose's vanilla-colored hair, cat eye-glasses and plump figure give her the appearance of a typical, gently grandmother. Yet, most people who know her would agree she is anything but typical or gentle. Rose admits that most of her students think she is hard but few think she is unfair.

"I could have been more popular by lowering my standards, but I wasn't willing to do that. I'm glad I didn't." Rose said she was simply living up to the standards of her English professors at Meredith. The greatest compliment any teacher could receive, according to Rose, is "She's hard, but I like her."

Rose will retire in May after teaching at Meredith 46 years. "I didn't have a choice on this one," Rose said, referring to her retirement which is mandatory at age 70.

In "Legend of a Good Woman," a tribute to Rose at the faculty banquet honoring her, Dr. Louise Taylor confesses to overhearing an alumna burst into Rose's office, saying, "Dr. Rose, I can't believe you won't be here next year. It won't be the same without you." Rose replied, "No, it won't be the same. It may be better."

Rose dedicated her work at Meredith to the pursuit of excellence. "My greatest satisfaction is seeing students rise to their greatest potential," Rose said. Yet Rose is not one to "spoon feed" a student. "She made eminently clear what she wanted done and when. And then she got out of your way and let you do it. If it came to her attention that you were not doing what she expected, she let you know in a hurry," Taylor wrote.

When Rose first entered Meredith she had not thought of being a teacher, but instead entertained thoughts of going into journalism. She worked on the Twig Staff three years and edited the Oak Leaves her senior year, but "found the calling in teaching."

The Meredith community will mourn the loss of Dr. Norma Rose, but will continue to strive to meet her challenge of excellence, for in the words of Rose quoting Robert Browning, "A man's reach should exceed his grasp or what is the heaven for."

Bringing 4 Cultures Together

The Foreign Language Department provided many extra educational opportunities for its students during the year. The four languages offered were French, German, Latin, and Spanish. One of the activities arranged was a film series with the Spanish corridor.

It included ten different films to which students and friends were cordially invited. There was also a program in France under the direction of Dr. Pitts, a member of the faculty. The week of March 16 through the 21 held many occasions for students to get involved because it was Foreign Language Week. Two professors of the department, Dr. Comeaux and Dr. Winz, produced a French play during the Spring Semester. It was evident that this department strove to provide more than just a classroom lecture for its students' educations.

Making History

Through Community Involvement

The department of History and Political Science made the academic year an outstanding one by adding community involvement. It aided in setting up the Episcopal Archives for the North Carolina Episcopal Diocese headquarters and in the planning of the Celebration of the Federal Constitution in 1987. The department also brought Mr. Dexheimer of the West German Government to the campus to speak to the students. There were several interns who worked at the Mordecai Society in Raleigh doing research and writing in the history of Mordecai Square, and a few others who worked in the North Carolina Supreme Court Library and City Government offices. An exchange program with NCSU in the area of politics was developed by the department. A Politics professor from NCSU taught at Meredith and Dr. Clyde Frazier taught at State. The department also taught Soviet classes to the Raleigh Friendship Force. There were straight history and interdisciplinary majors offered to the students. All pupils were encouraged to prepare for the job world by taking related courses such as business, economics and computer science. This department was very effective in providing the community and the students with special services and a great education.

A Wide Variety

The faculty of the Home Economics Department at Meredith College stress the importance of marketability and becoming well rounded in all areas to their students. The wide variety of concentrations in this department include interior design, fashion merchandising, food service, nutrition, child development, and teacher certification.

Geared Toward Technology

The Mathematical Sciences Department provides a curriculum which will allow students to work in the technological world. Computer science has become an integral part of the program. This year Dr. Hans Sagan, a visiting math lecturer, taught a course in space filling curves. Math students also entered the Putnam Math Competition. Meredith held a Freshman/Sophomore math competition. The winners were as follows: 1st Place — Patricia Hall; 2nd Place — Mary Harper; Honorable Mentions — Gina Howard and Teresa Swafford.

Music to Your Ears

The Music Department did an excellent job providing our community with more than just beautiful music. Among the forty courses offered were ear training, theory appreciation and literature: There were many specialized classes such as Baroque and 20th Century Music. Among these courses there still remained the ones that produced lovely sounds, for instance — handbell choir, chorus, chorale, keyboard and much more. During the year the department was a buzz of activity as one event after another took place. There was the Sound of Music, a program with the Raleigh Orchestra, weekly Chapel services, and a series of organ recitals. On special occasions such as Parent's Weekend and Christmas, the handbell choir, chorus, and chorale performed. Chorale is the top performing group at Meredith. This year they traveled to South Carolina and Florida over Spring Break to share their music. During the course of the year, one-hundred recitals were performed by students. There were several other performances by faculty and guests. The music department did more than just provide music for our ears; they also succeeded in entertaining several communities.

“SPECTACULAR”

WOW! What a year Meredith College had in the Performing Arts. As usual top-notch productions and activities resulted because of hard and dedicated work. Not only the faculty, but also the students worked hard to make this one of Meredith's most memorable years.

The fall production was The Sound of Music. This was a reprise of Meredith College's first performance. Every year Meredith puts on an original production. The Tales of the Jazz Age was the original one this year. The roaring twenties dominated the stage in this production. The spring brought Shakespeare as never before. A cast of all women dominated the stage in the "manly" play Taming of the Shrew. This gave the school year an ending which could be compared to none before. The Dance Theatre, led by faculty member Alyson Colwell, also gave a spectacular performance.

Speech was an important part of the over all program this year. New faculty member Margaret Douglas helped the speech classes tremendously. Once again the performers and actresses of Meredith College showed what they can do, and once again it was SPECTACULAR!

Lifetime Fitness

The Physical Education and Health Department strives to build an interest in lifetime fitness in its students. They stress nutrition as well as exercise. Several events of special interest occurred in the department this year. On Nov. 23 Ann Ludwig taught a class and performed. John Bennett, Assistant Director for Health and P.E. in North Carolina, taught a folk and square dance class. Bill Evans, a Kenan Professor of Dance, taught classes and choreographed a number for the Meredith Dance Concert. A dance minor at Meredith performed at the American Dance Festival. The Aqua Angels performed at Meredith and at Duke. Yoga was introduced into the aerobic classes. Finally, a swimming and diving class was added to the curriculum.

Row 6: Tammy Young, Dr. Lyn Aubrecht, Tommie Allbrook.

Working Together

The students and faculty of the Psychology Department worked together in the 1985-86 school year to successfully plan and implement many important events. The department once again co-hosted the Annual Carolinas Psychology Conference, the largest undergraduate conference in the country. Dr. Huber, Meredith co-chairs Tara Boyette and Kelley Tilley, and many committee members worked hard to make this a success. The Psychology Club, with the help of their advisor Dr. Aubrecht, sold "State of the Mind" T-shirts. The experimental psychology class, also under the direction of Dr. Aubrecht, completed a study on mental rehearsal. After polling Meredith students and faculty and students from other colleges, the department held a winter retreat to discuss its role in graduate education. This decision is still in process. Dr. Marie Mason retired after many years of dedicated teaching and Dr. Rosemary Hornak was welcomed back from sabbatical leave. The Psychology Department was successful in its endeavors this year because of the hard work and cooperation between its students and faculty members.

FACULTY: Rosemary Hornak, Marie Mason, Jack Huber, Naomi Wagner, Lyn Aubrecht.

A Basic Element

Religion and Philosophy are two of the most basic elements at Meredith College. This year the department that teaches religion and philosophy had an outstanding program to offer the Meredith women. The department was lucky enough to have Kenan Scholar, Dr. Hugh Anderson as a professor for the first semester. This was his first visit to the United States since retiring. For the spring semester, Rabbi Martin Berfield taught a course in Judaism. As well as these special people, several speakers lectured throughout the year.

Each year the Religion department has presented the McLean award to a student for continuous church-related studies at a higher level. For the first time, two scholarships were awarded. They went to Susan Goins and Kelley Milstead.

The faculty, as individuals, experienced a good year, also. Dr. Crook had a set of Sunday School lessons used by the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Dr. Starkey had an article used as the lead article in the International Review of Mission. Meredith College has been very proud of these faculty members.

Religion and Philosophy have always been basic elements in the curriculum of Meredith College students. The women of Meredith, this year, obtained a well-rounded understanding of this basic element that affects us all.

Society and YOU

To get students involved in the world around them was the aim of the Sociology and Social work department. The six faculty members and two majors provided the Meredith Student many educational opportunities. This academic year held events to further the department. Dr. C. Tucker conducted a research on Meredith re-entry students and Dr. R. Zingraff went on sabbatical during the Spring Semester. Also in the spring, Dr. John Reed, a visiting scholar from UNC-CH, visited our campus to teach a weekly lecture class on Sociology of the South. This year the department received a very special gift in honor and memory of Dr. Ellen Winston who was chairman of the department during the 1940's. The donation was used to purchase a video cassette recorder and camera to teach interviewing in Social Work and for classroom instruction. The department made its overall emphasis on providing YOU the student with an outstanding education.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

In 1985-86 the Student Government Association sponsored alcohol awareness week, hunger awareness week, luminaries, and sham-a-grams. They also participated in and helped organize Orientation Week and held forums on the graduate program and the parking fee increase. The SGA played a key role in student life this year, working on important issues and sponsoring worthwhile events to better our community.

MEREDITH RECREATION ASSOCIATION

The Meredith Recreation Association is one of the most active associations here at Meredith. The entire Meredith community is included in MRA, but most of the planning is done by fifteen board members. The MRA board meets weekly to organize and coordinate the fun extracurricular and athletic events that are such a big tradition at Meredith. These activities include Cornhuskin' with the '85 theme "Back to the Future," Stunt with the '86 theme "Stunt-The Party," Play Day with the theme "Blue Hawaii," Intramural Awards Day, the Meredith Miler, The Outing Club, and Intramurals including Football, Volleyball, Basketball, Soccer, Swimming, Bowling, Badminton, and Battle of the Angelic Stars. Each one of these events allowed Meredith students to apply their talents, to have fun, and to participate in activities with friends. That is what MRA is all about — making new friends and having fun while promoting school spirit. Thanks to the fifteen MRA board members, the whole student body was able to do that this year in an extra special way!

MEREDITH ENTERTAINMENT ASSOCIATION

The Meredith Entertainment Association seeks to coordinate stimulating activities for the entire college community. Throughout the school year various types of events are offered to students, faculty, staff and friends of the college. This year has been a great year for MEA. The name change from the College Center Association was accepted very well. The new name better identifies exactly what the association does.

Events sponsored by MEA have been very well attended this year and went over much better than we ever could have dreamed. Annual events coordinated by MEA were better than ever. The Christmas Dance with the theme of Holiday Cruise featuring the "Kruze" was a huge success. Umbrella tables, colorful balloons, confetti and boat scenes decorated the Kerr Scott building and gave a great effect. Many students and their dates enjoyed a fun filled night on the cruise.

The movies offered this year in our movie series included — Beverly Hills Cop, Silkwood, Terminator. We offered the lowest admission in town at .99c and popcorn and drinks were always available.

The Special Events committee of MEA sponsored several events this year. The committee started off the fall semester with Carl Rosen who performed at the Luau that was held in the cafeteria. He made the Luau a huge success with his music and comedy.

Tom Deluca was the next performer sponsored by the Special Events committee. He is a comedian/hypnotist who performed in Jones Auditorium and amazed the Meredith Community with his one of a kind act. During Cornhuskin' MEA brought two acts to the campus. First were the Capital City Cloggers. A group of very talented young children that performed in the dining hall during dinner. Next was a group of good looking guys from Duke, the Duke Pitchforks, who also performed in dining hall during dinner. The Special Events Committee ended the 1985-86 year with a bang. Spediel & Lille put on a great show in the court yard as Spring rolled around. They won over the hearts of many Meredith girls with their renditions of many favorite songs.

MEA concluded the year with Spring Fling, the theme was Mardi Gras. The bands for the event were the Fabulous Waller Family and the Fat Ammons Band. Several booths circled the island including a dunking booth, face painting, cups & frisbees, ice cream, beach towels just to name a few. Canoe rides were available on the lake. Colorful Mardi Gras beads were passed-out to everyone that came onto the island. This fun and festive party truly topped off the long list of spectacular events. Thanks MEA for making this a special year!

The board members and committee members of the 1985-86 Meredith Christian Association were very busy planning and implementing activities for the entire Meredith population. These activities included worship services, Religious Emphasis Week, service projects at Dorothea Dix, Governor Morehead School, Women's Prison, and Glenwood Tower, outreach teams to local churches, unwindings, and the Crop Walk. Besides sponsoring these activities the MCA took students to several State Baptist Student conferences (Fall Convention at Ridgecrest, Spring Conference at Ravenrey, Missions Conference at Louisville, Kentucky, and the International Conference at Charlotte). The group also went on a ski retreat to relax and plan future events. Thanks to the organization and energy of these students, MCA once again had an exciting and successful year.

ASTROTEKTON SOCIETY

The Astros were very active this year. Their Spirit Competition during Cornhuskin' raised over 500 dollars. They also participated in Feed Raleigh and several members volunteered to help people with MS learn to swim. During Rush, the Astros had a Rush Party and at the end of the year they held a cook-out for all the members. The Astrotekton Society helped victims of MS while bringing Meredith students closer together, making 1985-86 an extremely successful year!

PHILARETIAN SOCIETY

The Philaretian Society is a service organization whose members have been volunteers for the Cerebral Palsy Center. They also provide several services on the Meredith Campus throughout the year. They sponsor a Book Sale year and "The Bathtub Ring" — a hillbilly singing group.

The following comes from the Phi prayer and exemplifies what the Phi woman stands for:

"Thank you for the golden star & philaretian sign
Thank you for these sisterhoods & friends kept close.
Let us wear upon our hearts the mottos that we teach
To know they will & do thy will — make this our goal to reach."

RESIDENT ADVISORS

Everyone who lives on the Meredith Campus comes in contact with a Resident Advisor. Located on every hall, these Meredith women run hall meetings, help deal with personal and academic problems, and are a friend to each person on their hall. Residence Halls play a big part in the lives of our students and these young ladies are there every step of the way!

RESIDENCE HALL ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Residence Hall Association is to enhance Residence Hall Life in whatever way possible. They accomplish this through programming (social, recreational, educational), through encouraging participation and enthusiasm for campus events, and through the Residence Hall councils. In the 1985-86 school year RHA sponsored the following: fire drills, Halloween Carnival, Lets Hear it for the Boys (Car Maintenance Workshop), Christmas Door Decorating Contest, Thanksgiving Dinner, Christmas Dinner, Valentines Dance, Roommate Game, Bloodmobile (once a semester), Exam Breaks, plus such educational programs as: Alcohol awareness, Anorexia & Blemia, jobs and the hidden market, dressing for success, "Men should come with instructions," and much more.

MEREDITH INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION

The purpose of MIA is to share knowledge and understanding of and to promote interest in different cultural values and social and political issues through interaction with the Meredith community. As part of this effort, the association sponsors an international worship and offers an international luncheon for the faculty annually.

SENATE

The Senate took action on several issues this year. The Post Office hours extended, proposing that student leaders must maintain a 2.0 GPA, suggesting changes in senior conferences so that needed classes could be added, and getting the legislative procedure changed to include regulations. Subcommittees were established to investigate the following issues: post office hours, rescheduling senior conferences, chain Poteat circle drive, phone charges, tuition charges, past due notices for tuition payment, male visitation, and a non-smoking hall. Several workshops were also held to learn legislative and parliamentary procedures.

HONOR COUNCIL

The Honor Council consists of the chair, secretary, two representatives from each class, the non-resident president, and four faculty members. The basic purpose of this branch of the SGA is to enforce the Meredith Honor Code.

TWIG/ MEREDITH HERALD

This year the name of the Meredith College newspaper was changed from "The Twig" to "The Meredith Herald." With this change came other changes for the publication. The staff altered the layout design of the paper and tried to cover more issues on campus. Cynthia Church and Beth Blankenship were co-editors first semester. Betsy Short was acting editor for most of the second semester. These girls have laid a foundation for the newspaper that future editors and staff members will be able to build upon.

The 1986 Oak Leaves theme "You Had to Be There," was not only appropriate for the school year but also for the yearbook staff. You literally "had to be there" in order to understand what it took to put this book together. Designing layouts, writing and typing copy, taking and developing pictures, and attending meetings were just a few of the duties of the staff members. It was definitely hard work and time consuming, but it also was fun. New friends were made and creative talents were used. The members of the yearbook & photography staffs gave their time and energy to put this book together for you and we sincerely hope that you enjoy the 1986 edition of the Oak Leaves.

SPORTS

Tough Competition

The 1985 Fall Tennis team ended its season with a very respectable 3-3 record. Three of the fall matches were against ECU, Campbell and Duke Club. "They were very strong teams and I was not disappointed with the losses as our team played well," stated Coach Massey. Meredith hosted the Eastern Collegiate Invitational Tournament in September with six teams participating. The team was proud of their number one and two players — Theresa Duffy and Barbara Bulla who made it to the finals in their respective flights. After the tournament Meredith went on to win 3 out of the final 4 matches, wiping out Queens 9-0 in the last match. Coach Massey was very pleased with the 3-3 record and is awaiting a successful in the spring.

Best Record Ever

With its best record ever, the Meredith College Volleyball Team ended its season at 24-4. The team was led by three seniors, Paulina Romo Leroux, Dalinda Dunn, and Nancy Ratcliff. Paulina received the MVP award for her outstanding play as team setter; she was instrumental in the success of the offense. She is extremely quick and an excellent setter, she allowed the hitters to use their talents. Recognized for their hitting expertise were Dalinda Dunn, Nancy Ratcliff, and Sue Reese. Joining the above mentioned as a regular starter was Susan Beck. The 1985 team played consistently well throughout the season; they played with great intensity. Another reason for their success was the Angel's depth. The players coming off the bench played extremely well. Returning next year will be juniors Susan Beck and Karen Mann; sophomores Beverly Gupton, Sue Reese, and Julie Jones; and freshmen Kim Eberle and Corina Porras.

A Winning Season

The Meredith College Basketball team had an 8-6 winning record for the 1985-86 season. "The team played very consistently this year" said Coach Marie Chamblee. The teams closeness enabled them to work well together.

The team's winning season was led by seniors and team captains — Theresa Duffy and Dalinda Dunn. Theresa led the team in scoring and rebounding, averaging 15 points and 8 rebounds per game. She received the MVP Award for her performance. Dalinda Dunn was the second leading scorer averaging 9 points per game. The team was especially effective at running pressing defenses. Along with Theresa, Lou Anne Stephenson and Karen Mann added tremendous quickness to our press. Returning next year will be juniors: Michelle Cox, Aileen Jenkins, Karen Mann, Becky Smith, Phyllis Karres, Vivi Poulos, and sophomores: Sue Reese, Lou Anne Stephenson, and Kelly Bagby. Meredith is looking forward to another successful season next year.

Mermaid by the Sea

The Aqua Angels are a group of synchronized swimmers who perform for Meredith College. They practice stunts and strokes all year, putting together a show for the end of the school year. Four swimmers returned this year, making it easier to learn and coordinate stunts. The girls performed in pairs, groups and individually so that each person had a chance to display her talent. The girls choreographed their own routines to music, with the exception of the finale. Coach Carol Brown choreographed it for all ten members to perform.

All of their hard work finally paid off on March 20-21, 1986. The show entitled "Mermaid by the Sea" was spectacular and was enjoyed by all who saw it. This year there were also guest performances by Duke University and St. Mary's College.

The Golfers of MC

The Meredith Golf Team had only two members return from last year. Two new golf players joined as the season began. The team's four members are: Senior Kimberli McMurray (captain), Sophomores Shelly Paul and Melissa Boggs and Freshman Jennifer Guyer. They were coached by Mike Farrington of the Raleigh Country Club.

The team plays both in the fall and in the spring. In the fall Meredith traveled to Longwood College, James Madison University and Duke University to compete. In the spring, the tournaments Meredith participated in were Rollins College, Duke University, UNC-Wilmington, and William and Mary College.

This year three players received an invitation to play in the Division II and III National Tournaments. These players were Kim McMurray, Shelly Paul, and Jennifer Guyer. It was held in Wilmington, NC on April 11-13.

The player with the best scoring average for the season was Kim McMurray.

First Year for Fast-Pitch

This was the Angels first year to play fast-pitch softball. The change from slow-pitch to fast-pitch required a big change defensively (strategy ect.) and offensively in the teams hitting. The entire infield, except Aileen Jenkins, was new. Therefore, it took half the season to learn the new strategy and to work together as a team. The outfield was made up of returning players. They played very well all season. As in the past, the girls major weakness was hitting. When they hit well they played well defensively. The success of the fast-pitch team centered around the effectiveness of the pitcher and catcher. The teams pitchers were Joan Wyatt and Debra Kirkland. Catchers were Carla Quinn, Susan Adkins, and Ann Harper. The Coach hopes to get one or two more pitchers next season so that they have more depth on the pitching staff. The Angel team was comprised of seven Juniors, five Sophomores, and four Freshmen. This year was a year for learning. "I expect a more successful season next year," said Coach Cindy Bross.

ADMINISTRATION

Meet Our PRESIDENT

President John Weems is in his fifteenth year of service at Meredith College. Weems' goal for the future is to maintain the vitality of Meredith. Weems feels that Meredith may be approaching a conservative period; however, he hopes that he can help Meredith continue the growth it has experienced in the last twenty years. As Weems has reiterated many times in his addresses and speeches to administration and students, he wants Meredith to be on the forefront of all areas.

Weems and his wife, Frankie, have three children: John, who lives in Los Angeles; David, who lives in Philadelphia; and Nancy, a Meredith alumnae who lives in Raleigh. Frankie is involved with the Raleigh Fine Arts Association and enjoys a good game of golf. Weems has a variety of hobbies ranging from painting to computer operating.

Weems often feels that photographs of himself portray him inaccurately — "I'm really a nice man."

Dr. Weems is designated as the chief educational and administrative officer of Meredith College. He is responsible to the Board of Trustees for the supervision, management and governance of the College and for interpreting and carrying out the policies of the Board of Trustees.

The Vice President for Administrative Affairs, Mr. Joe Baker, serves under direct authority of the President and is a part of the President's office. The duties of this office are assigned directly by the President and are varied. The Vice President for Administrative Affairs represents the President and/or the College on committees, at meetings, and at other functions, especially in the area of Alumnae. This Office serves as the liaison between College and outside groups. One primary duty is in public relations, particularly denominational relations with Baptist churches and agencies.

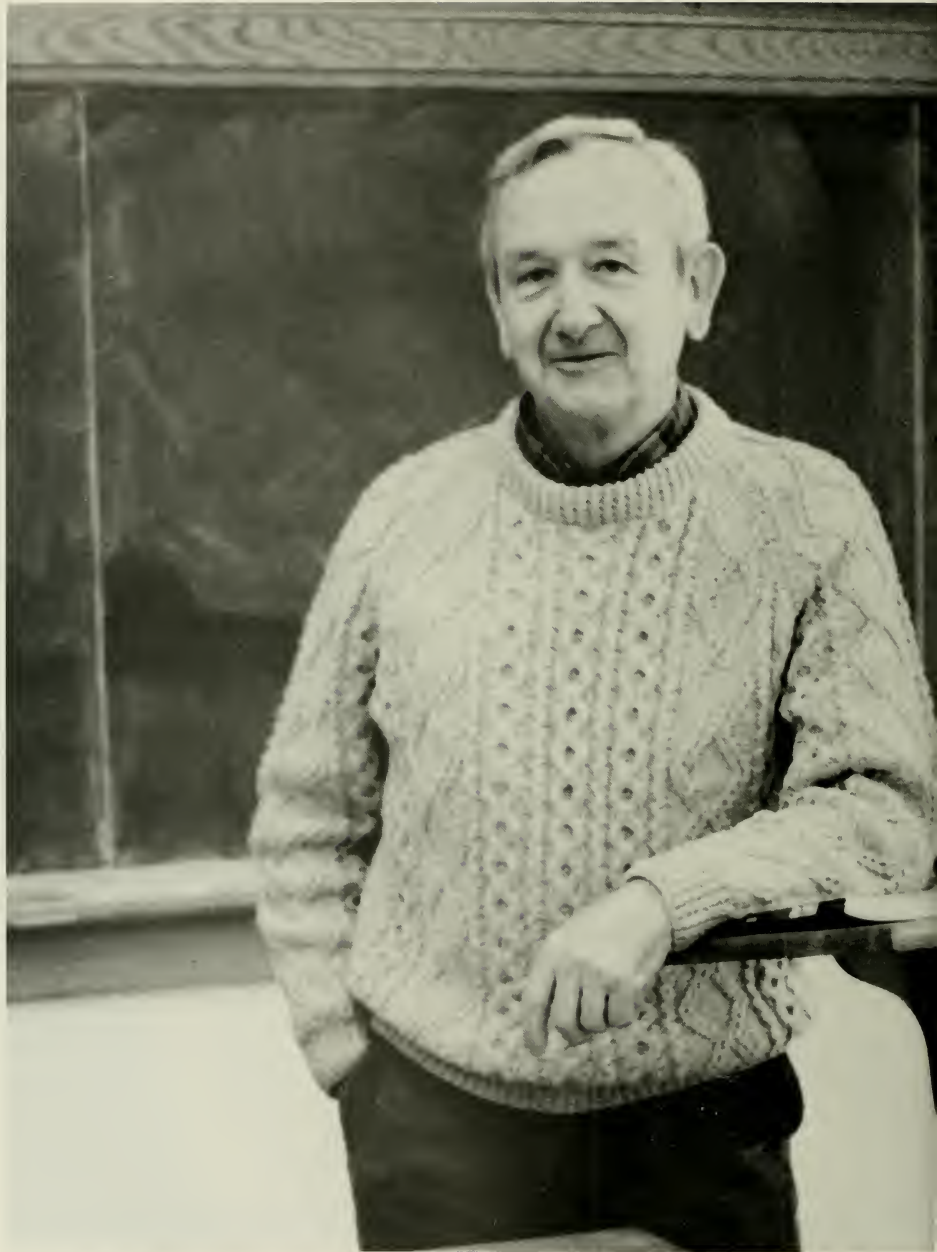

Dr. LaRose Spooner, Assistant to the President, stays busy working for Meredith College.

Administrative secretary, Sharon Woodlief, assists the President at all times.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES: Seby B. Jones, Chairman; David M. Britt, Vice Chairman; Hugh Ashcraft, Vice Chairman of Finance; William W. Lawrence, Vice Chairman of Development; Jane Byrd, Vice Chairman of Development; Jane Byrd, Vice Chairman of Instructional Programs; Claude B. Williams, Jr., Vice Chairman of Building and Grounds; Mary Virginia Poe, Vice Chairman of Student Development; and David Britt, Vice Chairman of Personnel Matters.

The Backbone of Our ACADEMICS

The vice president and dean of the college has general supervision over the academic program of the College and in the absence of the president, he may act in matters of a more general nature. Dean Allen Burris is available to students for advice and help in all matters of academic concern.

Dr. Burris also teaches a few courses at Meredith during the year, so he is active with students in and out of the classroom. He definitely works for the students.

The academic division of the College is under the supervision of the Vice President and Dean of the College and includes the faculty in fifteen academic departments; the Registrars' office, the Library, the Continuing Education office, the graduate program, and the honors program, and cooperative education. This division's responsibilities are to see that a curriculum is carefully planned to meet the needs of a wide variety of students, is adequately supported with books and other teaching aids, is well taught, and that the results are properly recorded on a permanent record.

Seated: Sandra Brown, Dorothy Quick, Frances Hannah, Carol Smith, Herb Williams. Standing: Linda Burton, Alice McNeil, Lynne Henderson, Janet Freeman, Margaret Sexton, Gerry Sargent.

Anne Pickard, administrative secretary, assists Dean Burris.

The Office of Continuing Education is the administrative unit, the contact and entry point for adults in this community who seek a variety of learning opportunities, to serve a variety of needs.

Seated: Pam Gerace, Barbara Willis, Anne Dahle. Standing: Dr. Ellen Ironside, Associate Dean of Continuing Education, Sue Cavenar, Betty Bass.

Dr. Rosalie Gates and her assistant, Mrs. Linda Ackerman.

The Registrar, Dr. Charles Davis, is responsible for the scheduling of classes, student registration, and academic records. His assistants are Cathy Sisk, Records Secretary; Sue Todd, Assistant Registrar; Martha Fonville, Administrative Coordinator of Graduate Program.

More Than Just A V.P.

Mr. Charles Taylor Vice President for financial affairs, is also an active member of Forest Hills Baptist Church, where he and his wife, Carol, have adopted two Meredith students, Jenny Beavers and Carol Asplen, in a watch-care program organized by Forest Hills. Taylor and his wife provide a home away from home for the girls.

"Sometimes we let them borrow the car," said Taylor, "or we take them to dinner."

Taylor and Carol have three daughters: Blythe 14, Anna 8, and Erin 5. According to Taylor, Blythe is already considering the possibility of attending Meredith. "Our kids love Meredith College," Taylor said with a smile.

The College's division of Business and Finance exists for the purpose of helping to provide an environment within which the educational process can operate effectively and efficiently. Such a purpose requires management of the College's financial and physical resources in the following ways: financial planning; cash and investment management; accounting and financial reporting; purchasing; salary and benefits management; data processing; facilities operation and maintenance; campus security and property control; and management of auxiliary services such as food services, housing, communications, and stores.

The College is protected 24 hours a day by college security officers under the direction of the chief, Mr. Dan Shattuck. The primary function is to provide for the personal safety and protection of students. The security guards constantly patrol the campus using radio equipment for all types of assignments, investigating complaints, regulating traffic, controlling parking, and supervising the fire prevention program.

Ginny Benner and Rhonda Bracknell serve as computer operator programmers for computer services.

Glen Sanderson serves as the Information Services Manager in the computer services.

Security (Not in order of picture): W. Adams, J. Fore, K. Fore, B. Griner, S. Jones, W. Bailey, V.C. Medlin, T. Morris, L. Pollard, M. Parrish, A. Underwood, D.G. Shattuck.

Seated: Lesia Goodwin — Central Services; Sheila Troxler — Postal Clerk. Standing: Rosemarie Sorrentino.

Virginia Scarborough, administrative secretary, assists Mr. Taylor with his busy schedule.

Mr. Terry Pearson — Chief Accountant.

Seated: Jill Collins. Standing: Clara Leigh Owen, Jill Breazeale. They are always busy in the accounting office!

Mary Anna Newman, Cleta Johnson, Marie Capel (Director of Career Services), Beth Taylor.

The Office of Career Services helps students locate employment — summer work, part-time, or full-time for graduates. They also provide individual career counseling for those trying to decide on a major. They provide many seminars and workshops on career planning, career resource information and job campaign. They assist in resume writing and provide a reference file. They also have on campus recruiters so students can interview with possible employers.

The Dean of Students, Ms. Dorothy Sizemore is responsible for the coordination of the following areas of student life: The orientation program and activities which serve to increase the new students' adjustment to the college community; student housing; the faculty-student advisory program; the Student Government Association program; Counseling for personal growth and development; residence and non-resident student programming.

College Health Services are under the direction of the Director of Health Services, Marie Mason, and the college physician in the Student Health Center. It is maintained not only for the treatment of minor illnesses but also for the teaching of good health-habits. A nurse is on duty 24 hours Monday-Friday, with nurses rotating emergency calls from their homes over weekends. Our nurses are Mrs. Ruth Pearce, Mrs. Georgia Stephens, and Mrs. Fronia Thacker.

A Very Unique V.P.

1985-86 was a year of "high energy" that "deepened our commitment to a women's college," said Dr. Sandra Thomas, vice-president for student development.

Thomas, in her twelfth year at Meredith, feels that this year emphasized the importance of student life interaction on campus and the collegiate interaction between the faculty, students, and administration.

Thomas' home is in Texas where her family still resides. "Texas has a certain charisma about it," said Thomas. Thomas visits her ranch home about once a year.

Madam Filuffette and Smokey, two cats, are the only members of Thomas' Faleigh family. "I love animals," remarked Thomas.

Thomas has several special interests and hobbies. She likes to stay in shape, play the piano, clarinet, and the harmonica. She's also into the latest fad of video filming.

Thomas has a special interest in travel, especially in Spanish speaking countries. She has taken many Meredith groups on trips abroad.

"International travel and education is a vital part of my life. The world is a teacher . . . we learn to live together by living with people around the world.

The campus minister, Sam Carothers, seeks to offer guidance for the development of religious programs of campus and seeks to offer ministry to the diverse needs of a college setting.

Sam Carothers serves as advisor for the Meredith Christian Association and actively involved in assisting with programs and plans of this organization.

The associate minister, Claire Clyburn Tharrington, focuses on the six service projects of MCA, outreach programs, major groups and other related areas.

The secretary for the campus ministry office is Gay Elliott.

Janice McClendon, Coordinator of Housing has the hard task of assigning everyone a room. For Freshmen, she fills out a card and puts it in the computer and it finds a match. She also honors any room or floor request if possible. She deals with room changes and makes recommendations on things that would facilitate housing.

Residence Directors live in apartments in the residence halls on campus. They perform a variety of duties on campus, working, through the office of dean of students, as well as being available to assist any student with questions or problems. Resident Directors supervise the work of residence assistants and serve as advisor and resource person for many organizations on campus.

The office of admissions sifts through applications and makes the decision of acceptance. They assist the incoming students with any problems. Sue Kearney, left, is the Director of Admissions. Above is her assistants — Seated: Glenda Hoffman, Jeanne Puckett. Standing: Ilse Wangerin, Anne Pugh, Julie Browning.

As our college counselor, Marge Shelton is always available to talk confidentially with any student who has a personal concern — academic, vocational, or social-emotional. She has information available on off-campus resources which may be pertinent to students' needs. Her major objective is the facilitation of personal growth and development of Meredith students. She also works with the Adoption and Divorce Support Groups. She is aided by Debra McGuire.

Meredith affords you many opportunities to become involved in extra-curricular activities. The office of student activities can assist you in selecting your areas of interest. These activities include clubs within apartments, student publications, student government and other associations on campus. Once involved in student activities, the coordinator, Rhoda Sowers, can assist you in finding programs, creating funding for special projects, and helping with promotion of the activities. Rhoda's assistant is Dina Durham.

WHO Helps Meredith Grow?

Mr. Jerry McGee, Vice-President for institutional advancement, is very active at Meredith trying to secure resources for Meredith to grow. He spends a lot of time traveling and meeting with possible donors. He regrets that he is unable to spend more time at Meredith with the students. He would really like to know the students better, but his job does not allow much time for that. Mr. McGee is also very active off-campus. He, along with his wife and two sons, enjoy watching the various theater productions that visit Raleigh.

Mr. McGee, is the chief administrative officer responsible for development, fund raising, publications, alumnae affairs, public relations, church relations, parent relations, estate planning, media relations, and related activities. Professional members of the institutional advancement staff are assigned specific duties in these areas. The staff also works with students in parents' association activities, Granddaughters' Club and college relations activities.

Fund-raising activities are designed to: secure resources for current operation expenses, capital improvements, and endowment.

Anne Purcell, Coordinator of Annual Giving, works with the phonathon in raising money and also with the parents programs (Parents Weekend, Little-Friends Weekend). She works closely with Cleo Perry in the alumnae office. On the left is Gay Elliott, her administrative secretary.

Mr. John B. Hiott, Director of Scholarships and Financial Assistance, counsels with students and parents on ways to finance education. He processes applications to Meredith and makes funds available based upon the application. His assistant is Alberta Hawes.

Institutional Advancement Office. Seated: Martha Anderson. Standing: Martha Harrell, Geraldine W. Myers.

The College Relations office is responsible for advertising, publicity, and news media. They do all of the college publications with the exception of students publications. They are responsible for all of the college photography, catalogue, and handbook.

Seated: Carolyn Robinson, Director of College Relations. Standing: Renee Keever, Connie Razzaghi.

Seated: Anne Ruey, Billie Jo Cockman. Standing: W.C. Lyon, Jr. Mr. Lyon, Director of Planned Giving, calls on alumnae and friends and helps them with estate planning, such as wills and trusts, for conveying gifts to Meredith. Billie Jo Cockman, Director of Corporate Relations, deals with different corporations and assists them with their donations to Meredith through foundations.

Cleo Perry, Director of Alumnae Affairs, works as a liaison between the college and alumnae. She helps get the 10,850 alumnae to contribute to the college through the Every Year Donor Club or the Loyalty Fund. She also helps operate various programs: Class Agent, Chapter, and various clubs.

YOU . . .

were part of a class. Your classmates will always be special to you. You know that your class was the best because, "You Were There."

CLASSES

"Freshmen"

Maintaining the tradition from years past, on the first day, Meredith College greeted her new freshmen with an arch of balloons in a rainbow of colors across the main drive. Orientation had begun. Soon, the worried parents and the even more nervous freshmen were welcomed by the glowing faces of their student advisors. After showing the unknowing student her "new home" for the next nine months and answering the first round of countless questions to be asked, the freshmen was left alone to unpack and bid farewell to her parents.

After settling in, the new students were allowed to show that they had the stamina to stick it out at the President's reception. Dressing up in their tea-length and semi-formals, the freshmen greeted President Weems and his lovely wife. A tour of his elegant home was also incorporated into the occasion. After a few exchanged niceties and a handful of mints, the new students were escorted by bus back to a special banquet in the dining hall where other important Meredith staff waited to greet them.

Within the first week, the freshmen feels the excitement about the idea of being a "Meredith girl" and all that these two words entail. She hesitates whether she will make it or not due to the mass amounts of information, pamphlets, and rules presented to her. The first week, she begins to think that classes will be a relief to all the meetings she has been subjected to. Hall meetings soon becomes associated with the word "Monday" to the new freshmen. The first hall meeting was more of an icebreaker sort of thing. The fun, however, was quickly followed by the rules as the Resident Assistances informed the new students of the materials in the Meredith Angel's "Bible," their handbook. Later, a required test was given which officially made the new freshmen "Meredith Angels." During the first semester, freshmen were introduced to various aspects of college life through Freshmen Seminars. These were informal meetings which incorporated many of the programs and activities offered at Meredith. All in all, they tried to prepare the freshmen for the things she would endure her next four years at Meredith College.

Nothing, however, could better prepare the freshmen for college life than attending class. Registration was an experience all in itself. Deciding what to take and then trying to get registered into the course was like finding one's way through an obstacle course in the dark.

Adjusting to college life was no easy task. The fine Meredith hospitality, however, made all the hustle and bustle of Orientation worthwhile. Now that their first year had come to a close, it was nice to think how beautiful the arch of balloons would be next year across the main drive and all the wonderful memories experienced during that unforgettable freshmen year at Meredith College.

Cornhuskin' 1985

While thumbing through a popular magazine Sarah Winslow and Amber Burris — the freshmen Cornhuskin' co-chairpersons, spotted an advertisement that read "One Thing Leads to Another." And that it did! The freshmen class gladly adopted this saying as their theme.

The freshmen class of 1989 had no idea exactly what Cornhuskin' 1985 had in store for them. The early-morning stampedes and the late-night rolling of the courtyard by the sophomores, however, soon made these new freshmen aware that Cornhuskin' had begun. Then as the events on the official cornhuskin night got underway, they quickly felt at home with their upperclassmen as everyone gave in to the overwhelming excitement. The events started with each class performing their parade depicting their theme. Next a selected group recited the Hog callin'. This was followed by the tall-tale which only one person dramatized. Surely enough as one thing led to another the cornshuckin', apple bobbin, and the theme song events occurred also. The night was a success. Freshmen participation proved to be the advantage on that traditional occasion since the freshmen placed first in the attendance category. Yet, as one led to another, that momentous night ended and the freshmen class was pleased to have placed third over-all.

Surely no one will forget the excitement and the competition that contributed to making this traditional Meredith occasion one of a kind.

Class of Nineteen Eighty-Eight

We Sophomores were definitely "On the Wild Side" this Cornhuskin' and throughout the entire year letting loose all our untamed spirit and energy into making our second year at Meredith even bigger and better than the first. With the help of class officers and other dedicated student leaders the Sophomores' enthusiasm was successfully directed into many areas — as student advisors helping the Freshmen through their first year, putting on the Masquerade Ball, raising enough money for the Spring Dance, and making a memorable Class Day for our big sisters. As Sophomores, we were more confident having conquered pre-registration twice already, having completed English III, being more experienced in Cornhuskin, and being used to a fire alarm going off at 2 o'clock in the morning. We have experienced and learned much in our first two years at Meredith, but there is still much of the untamed jungle before us — much to learn and experience. We Sophomores with plenty more wild enthusiasm and excitement eagerly look forward to the walk ahead of us and to adventuring into new parts of the jungle.

Living On The Other Side

For most, becoming a Sophomore meant a move from one side of the courtyard to the other. Living in Faircloth and Brewer dorms had both its advantage and its disadvantages. We were able to live closer to our big sisters and to the sun-bathing areas, but as well we had a longer walk to classes and to Cate Center. This posed no major change however, and life went on as usual in Faircloth and Brewer with pizza parties, deep discussions, crank calls, and no men! Most of all, living on the other side of the courtyard meant that we were Sophomores!

Masquerade Ball

Where else could one have gone on the night of Friday, October 18 and seen everything from witches and draculas to green M&M's and beach bums but to the Masquerade Ball, of course! The Sophomores put hours of hard work into making Meredith's Masquerade Ball possible, turning Weatherspoon Gym into an eerie ballroom — fleecy spider webs, creepy spiders, long black candles, goblins, ghosts, and a graveyard to make it complete. As day turned to night, and the full moon rose high in the sky, masqueraders dressed in a variety of costumes made their appearances at the ball all ready for a fun and bewitching evening.

On The Wild Side

As October neared its end and November came into sight there was one thing on the minds of all — Cornhuskin! This year, unlike last year, Sophomores knew exactly what was meant when someone mentioned "Cornhuskin," and Sophomores were wild with spirit and excitement. For the second straight year Sophomores clinched first place in Tall-Tale supporting Janice Bentley as she, dressed from head to toe as a Chiquita banana, told of her life in the wild jungle.

This year's Cornhuskin' was also a time for we Sophomores to become even closer to our big sisters who will be graduating this year. We will certainly miss our big sisters next Cornhuskin,' and we wish them the very best.

To Our Big Sisters . . .

Today, all the memories still linger on,
 We will always remember the love you have shown;
 A million tomorrows will all pass away,
 Ere we forget all the love that we've shared each day.
 You are the light that brightens tomorrow,
 We know who you are by the song that you sing;
 We'll cherish the good times, we'll share in

 You'll fly with success on your wings.

Declaring A Major

What should I major in? History? English? Business? Math? What classes do I need to take for my major? These were a few of the questions being asked by Sophomores during mid-spring semester as once again a list of classes was passed out to each student, and the time came to pre-register and declare a major. Deciding on a major is an important decision that we as Sophomores must make. It is a decision that will affect the rest of our lives. So, we sought the advice of our faculty advisors and carefully planned our schedules as each of us started down a different path to complete our education.

Picnics

The Sophomore ladies enjoyed several picnics this year, including a big sis — little sis party, a Luau, and Spring Fling. These picnics proved to be a great source of fun for everyone involved.

Class Day

Traditionally, the Sophomores play a big part in making Class Day a day that Seniors will cherish forever. It is a day in which the Sophomores honor their big sister class that will soon be graduating. The Sophomores were up early on the morning of May 10 to gather the daisies and ivy with which to make 2 long daisy chains. That afternoon the seniors marched through the daisy chains held by the Sophomores as they sang songs to their big sisters. It was a day that Sophomores as well as Seniors will remember for years to come.

Class Officers Get Involved

The Junior Class Officers worked hard and got involved this year. They sponsored the successful MC® Lip Sinc, set up an information booth at the election convention, and held several fundraisers to sponsor such events as the Junior/Senior spring formal. These young ladies, along with their committee members, were the backbone of the junior class. They were the ones who made things happen and the ones who made the year successful. Thanks from the class of 1987.

Junior Class Officers: Allison Powell, Mary Ellen Mcknown (President), Mary Scott Edmundson, Carmel Swanson, and Jill Hensdale participate in Lip Sinc.

Part Of The Community

The Class of 1987 is a vital part of the Meredith Community. Always ready to help, class members lit lumaries, provided entertainment for the elections convention, and made posters for various events. Each individual added to the community in her own special way, helping out when needed and having the initiative to make a difference.

"Be All That You Can Be"

On the back of the Junior Cornhuskin sweatshirts this year it said, "The Proud, The Few, The Junior Class." The class came into the courtyard lead by the class chairpersons all decked out in camouflage. The whole class marched in step up the brick walk lined by freshmen in their bright-red sweatshirts, cheering on their big sisters. All week long the juniors participated in traditional events — singing songs, having waterfights, and enjoying picnics. The long-awaited night arrived and the class of '87 put on a spectacular performance. They won the song contest with stunning renditions of favorite American songs. The class finished a close second to the Seniors in the over-all competition.

But, Cornhuskin doesn't mean competition. It's a time when not only one whole class becomes closer but a time when the whole college becomes closer. Cornhuskin '87 was a time for fun and friends that the Junior Class will always remember.

Dancing The Night Away

The women of the class of '87 work hard through their studies to get the best education possible. But, these ladies aren't all work and no play. Meredith dances are one of the ways the juniors have fun. The Halloween Ball, Holiday Dance, Parent's Dance, and Spring Formal were all attended by members of the junior class. These women know how to dance the night away.

Another way the junior girls had fun was to participate in Meredith picnics. Picnics this year included a Luau, Mardi Gras, senior picnic and several cookouts. It was obvious that the juniors had a great time at these events, eating good food and being with friends.

CLASS OFFICERS

Planning profitable fundraisers, developing the senior slide show and class history, holding class meetings, and appointing class council members were just a few of the activities accomplished by the class officers. From the Class of 1986 — thanks girls for making this a successful and memorable year!

CORNHUSKIN OFFICERS

For Julie Bell, Laura Cochrane, and the Class of '86 Nothing Will Last Forever — It Will Only Get Better. Julie and Laura led the seniors to the best cornhuskin ever showing the juniors they were not "all they could be!" Way to go seniors.

FUNDRAISERS

Lisa Britt, senior class president, proudly displays a sale banner for Meredith memo boards and bandannas. Although the items were not completely sold our freshmen year, the officers continued selling them up until graduation. The bandannas were often the center of attention at class meetings due to the humorous sales efforts.

FRIENDSHIP

"Miles may separate us
As life goes along but the bond between true friends will remain ever strong."

Laura Hollingsworth and Kim Howard learned the true meaning of friendship. Although miles may separate us all, we will never forget the close friends made at Meredith.

SENIOR PARTIES

At Meredith, there is only one thing we take more seriously than academics and that is fun. Even though it was the last party these seniors attended together the girls were able to hold back their tears and let the good times roll!

THE BATHTUB RING

The bathtub ring, sponsored by the Philaretian Society, entertained the student body at various functions with their hillbilly songs. Here, the seniors, adorned with graduation caps, performed at the senior picnic with their traditional songs which reminded the seniors of their four years of happiness. Thanks to Martha Ann Naylor, Susan Skinner, Susan Goins, Toni Beasley, and Kelly Milstead for a job well done.

SENIOR WORSHIP

"As a chapter of our life ends a new one begins." This was just one of the touching ideas expressed in senior worship. With a song called "Friends," sung by Bridgette Parker and Sheri Davis, seniors remembered cherished moments spent with their special friends.

HIDING THE CROOK

At Meredith tradition stands strong, and one of the many traditions is the hiding of the crook. The junior class has one week in which to interpret the clues and to begin the hunt. Many juniors searched diligently, but with much despair for the junior class the seniors prevailed. Charlotte Kinnard, Dalinda Dunn, Lisa Britt, and Amy Little proudly display the crook.

PAINTING THE BEEHIVE

It was a hot spring day, and the seniors began their ritual — Painting the Beehive. They squeezed into an old pair of shorts from their freshman year, took paint brushes in, and visually recorded their four years at Meredith. Susan Duck and Connie VanDerdoes enjoyed painting our goodbyes to Mrs. Thorne and Rhoda Sowers.

CLASS DAY

For many seniors, Class Day marks the end of the memorable four years spend at Meredith. The day begins with the procession of our little sisters carrying the daisy chain and ends with the formation of the class numerals. The class history is read, the doll presented, and songs are sung honoring the Classes of '84, '86, and '88. Lorrie Lippard, Carol Fabry, and Amy Datsun enjoy singing along with their sister class.

GRADUATION

As May 11th neared, seniors anxiously awaited The Big Day. Announcements were addressed, friends and family were contacted, gifts were opened, and thank-you notes were written. Finally, on a hot, sunny Sunday morning the senior class lined up and marched together for the last time. Much love and happiness goes out to the Class of 1986. May your dreams and wishes all come true.

In Memory of a Special Person
Jacqueline Edwards

Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold.
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down today.
Nothing gold can stay.

Robert Frost

will always cherish the memories from Class Day 1986. The members of the senior class and their Meredith little sisters all wore white dresses to celebrate the day. The sophomores entered first, carrying the traditional daisy chain. Then the Class of 1986 made its way into the amphitheater, lead by their class president Lisa Britt, who carried the crook. The crook being successfully hidden from the junior class in a 3rd Heilman window, was adorned with the classes colors, green and white. The four class historians reminisced about the important events that occurred during their years at Meredith College. They covered important national and local events and even touched on humorous occurrences. The class doll was also presented. Dressed in a long straight skirt, long sweater, matching pumps, and pearls, the doll, representing the fashion of the day, was definitely a hit. The day of memories ended with the traditional formation of the class numerals with the daisy chain. The seniors rushed toward the daisies to scoop up one last memory. The day was over and sights were set on the following day, Graduation.

YOU . . .

heard Pomp and Circumstance along with the rest of the class of 1986, as you marched into the Meredith Amphitheater. President John E. Weems welcomed family and friends and Louis E. Frazier, a professor of business, gave the scripture and prayer. The Baccalaureate address this year was given by Mrs. James G. Martin, the First Lady of the State of North Carolina. Her address to the graduates was entitled "Education for Excellence." The most exciting part of the afternoon was the conferring of the degrees. As each young lady walked across the island in her black robe and cap, shouts of encouragement and resounding applause greeted her from the onlookers. Sandra H. Bledsoe and Lisa M. Britt delivered farewell speeches to the graduates. After the ceremonies were completed the graduates rushed to meet friends and relatives. Cameras snapped, mothers made a big fuss, and fathers proudly watched their "little girl." It was a day that celebrated each girls years at Meredith College. But, it was also a day for celebrating each young ladies future. Everyone will miss the Class of '86. But don't worry girls — we'll never forget you. Good Luck Always — We Love You!

Editor's Note:

This was a building year for the Oak Leaves. All but 2 of the 37 members were new to the staff. Fortunately, most of those who joined were willing to put in time and effort. There were those who were not so willing, but I feel that they are the ones who have lost. The dedicated members of the 1986 staff will be able to look at this book with pride.

I truly hope that the whole Meredith community appreciates the work of the students who designed layouts and wrote articles and captions, and the students who took the pictures that made this book come to life. The 1986 Oak Leaves staff has set a new standard for Meredith yearbooks and, with continued dedication, this standard will become a tradition.

This book is for YOU and I hope that YOU will enjoy it for many years to come.

Sincerely,

1986 Oak Leaves Editor

P.S. Due to pressing deadlines we were not able to put captions under all the pictures and include the people in those pictures in the index. So please be sure to look at all the pages to find the pictures of you and your friends.

Special thanks to special people: I would personally like to thank Carolyn and Cindie for putting up with me and for working so very hard. And I would like to thank my mom, Gloria Yedlicka, for typing "thousands" of pages, listening to me, and for being a great person.

Colophon:

Volume 83 of the Oak Leaves was printed by Hunter Publishing Company.

The cover was designed by staff member Carolyn Hill. The final edition was completed by Design-X graphics.

The Oak Leaves contained 15 pages of 4-color. The total amount of pages was 216.

Class portraits and several of the candid shots were taken by Jim Loge of Yearbook Associates.

Typesyles were as follows: Freshmen Section — Optima, Senior Section — Antique Olive (Who's Who — Snell Roundhand), all other sections — Helvetica.

Staff members attended two retreats — one on Bald Head Island and one at Topsail Beach.

The Oak Leaves was prepared by an all-volunteer staff.

YOU . . . were involved in academics, organizations, sports, and life on and off the Meredith Campus. You know what this year was all about because . . .
