

CHIEF COUNCELLOR OF ROUND TABLE IS SELECTED

M. E. Hill of Tujunga Is Named at Meeting Held in Eagle Rock

M. E. Hill of Tujunga was elected last night to succeed G. N. Insley as Chief Councillor of the Troop Leaders' Round Table of the Verdugo Hills District Council at a meeting of that body held in the Eagle Rock Central school.

The meeting was held at 8 o'clock and although many of the Boy Scout leaders are away on vacations, a large enough attendance was secured to transact business.

Harold F. Benner, scout executive of this district, gave his report on the final arrangements for the Scout camp on Catalina Island, stating that an advance party is now preparing the site for boys who are to go over Thursday morning.

Explains Program The camp program and organization were explained in detail by Mr. Benner. The staff, according to his report, will consist of H. F. Benner, camp director; Edward H. Alling, assistant director and supervisor of Scout activities; Peter L. Perry, director of commissary; Leo L. Lang, director of equipment; C. W. Angier, director of boating; Spencer Robinson, director of camp fire program; F. M. Reusch, director of camp sanitation; Robert N. Taylor, master of ceremonies; Floyd Craft, Glendale Troop No. 3, chief bugler; James Gilbert, Pasadena Troop No. 19, chief K. P.; James Perry, Glendale Troop No. 1, chief radio operator.

Makes Address Following Mr. Benner's report, Ellis P. Moore, Jr., deputy scout commissioner of the Harbor District, and the speaker of the evening, gave an address on the "Necessity of a Prepared Troop Program."

"No scoutmaster or troop leader has any business conducting a meeting," he declared, "unless he has a prepared program worked out in advance. We request the scouts to be prepared; why not make the same request of the scoutmaster?"

Mr. Moore emphasized the point that each program should be broad enough in its scope to include three main elements: instruction, recreation and character training. (Continued on Page 10).

EZEKIEL McCALL'S AMBITION: LIVE TO 100 YEARS

He Is 92 Now and Going Strong; Long Experience in Business World

With the unique record of almost seventy years' experience in the business world, Ezekiel McCall of 426 South Adams street, this city, presents one of the most picturesque characters in Glendale as he gradually approaches his coveted 100th anniversary—an achievement which is expected by less than one per cent of the people in the United States. At the advanced age of 92 years he is well known by his many friends and neighbors for his kind disposition, alertness of mind and body and his uncanny ability to discuss subjects covering a large range of the world's current events as well as its past history.

Mr. McCall is the father of Mrs. J. M. Boynton of 410 East Colorado boulevard and the grandfather of Mrs. A. G. Hand of 314 East Colorado boulevard. His regular descendants consist of E. G. McCall and Louis McCall of Charlotte, North Carolina, son and grandson, respectively.

Western Wilderness Born in Glade Springs, Va., on October 25, 1829, Ezekiel McCall remained in the small settlement on the then "frontier" until he was 6 years of age, when he went with his parents still further into the "western wilderness" to Daleville, Ind. It was here that he grew to manhood, later serving as postmaster of Daleville during the terms of Lincoln and Buchanan.

Upon resigning from the postmaster's position, Mr. McCall entered the retail mercantile business, opening a general merchandise store in Daleville in 1867. Following the death of his wife, nine years later, he sold out his interests in Daleville and went to Ocala, Fla. Here he became the owner of a number of large orange groves and was also proprietor of a retail furniture store.

Completing his career of "pioneering," Mr. McCall disposed of his Florida holdings in 1890 and, with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Boynton, migrated to California. Upon arriving here they located in a city where Mr. McCall and Mrs. Boynton again entered the furniture business. (Continued on Page 10)

Rationing of Coal

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Coal rationing this winter, similar to that existing during the war period, already is virtually assured, according to opinions expressed today in government circles.

On Verge of Famine

BELFAST, July 18.—Western Ireland was reported to be on the verge of famine today on account of the continued commandeering of foodstuffs by republican rebels. The irregulars have driven off most of the cattle and have looted granaries and dairies.

Get 2000 Prisoners

LONDON, July 18.—Two thousand irregular prisoners have been captured up to date by Irish free state troops, according to a Central News dispatch from Dublin this afternoon. Sligo and Thurles have been cleared of rebels. Fighting continues in the region of Limerick. The city is isolated.

Mine Head Silent

WASHINGTON, July 18.—"We are sitting tight and saying nothing," this was the only response John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, would make today to inquiries as to the plans of his organization in view of the contemplated re-opening of the coal mines under state and federal protection.

What's Living Wage?

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Aroused by the alarming strike situation in both coal and rail industries, congress will shortly undertake the difficult task of determining what constitutes "a living wage" in industry. This announcement came today from Senator Cummins, father of the railway labor bill.

Elmer Dover Quits

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The resignation of Elmer Dover, assistant secretary of the treasury, will be accepted by President Harding, it was announced at the White House this afternoon. Dover was the stormy petrel of the most serious patronage row that has yet occurred in the Harding administration involving the shake-up of many of the bureaus in the treasury department.

No Recall of House

WASHINGTON, July 18.—President Harding does not contemplate calling the house back into session before August 15, the date set for the termination of the current recess, it was stated officially at the White House this afternoon. It was understood the president would not recall the house until some serious domestic situation made it necessary.

Goldfish Occupy Firemen's Bath Tub Only Temporarily

If the city firemen can't have fish one way, they'll have them another. Every few weeks some of the boys at Fire Station No. 1 make big preparations for a fishing trip, which is the general topic of conversation around the station for days beforehand. But all too often the trip is forgotten as soon as the fishermen return, and for obvious reason—no fish.

Visiting in Kentucky

Mrs. W. L. Yerkes, mother of Mrs. Walter A. Grayson of 364 West Lexington drive, has reached Paris, Kentucky, where she expects to spend the summer months with friends and relatives. Mrs. Grayson is in receipt of a letter from her mother stating that the trip, which was made via the Canadian Pacific route, had been the most enjoyable bit of traveling that she has ever experienced.

Camp Baldy Outing

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kling of 720 South Maryland avenue are enjoying this week with a party of Los Angeles friends at an outing at Camp Baldy. Their home is being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Englehorn of Los Angeles, former residents on Lomita avenue, this city.

NEWLYWEDS HOME FROM AUTO TRIP TO YOSEMITE

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Kroehle Return; Highways in Good Condition, Is Report

O. F. Kroehle of the Kroehle Real Estate company, 205 East Broadway, returned last night with his bride from a nine days' honeymoon trip through the Yosemite. They made the trip by automobile, driving in over the Madero road, and returning by way of Merced. Mr. Kroehle, who says that he has been in all of the National parks, is enthusiastic about the Yosemite, declaring that it has "all the other National parks beat for scenic beauty."

House Does Not Need Flapper

Teacher With Powder and Paint Is No Use There, Says Mrs. Larkey

Is the city flapper prepared properly to teach in the country schools? Mrs. Marie A. Larkey, recommended as a candidate for the position of state superintendent of public instruction at a meeting of the Democratic state central committee in San Francisco last week, emphatically says she is not.

Painted and Powdered

Mrs. Larkey pictured the situation as it now exists in the country school. The pretty little teacher, painted and powdered herself for a dance, gathers the little folks together to look at a bottle of bugs some of the reckless boys have gathered in the neighboring orchard.

Rural Education

"I will insist on a department of rural education in the colleges and normal schools training teachers," Mrs. Larkey stated. "If elected to the state superintendency, I will be glad to have a place on the same ticket with Attorney Mattison B. Jones of Glendale who seeks the nomination for governor at the Democratic primaries August 29."

Says Bobbed Hair Will Be Forgotten in Ten Years

MINNEAPOLIS, July 18.—Bobbed hair is a transitory phenomenon and will be forgotten in ten years, Professor O. A. Jenks, of the department of anthropology, University of Minnesota, who lectured on "evolution" here today, declared. Hair is as short now as it ever will be, Dr. Jenks declared. If it is cut any shorter women will lose their attractiveness and the race will die out, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. C. East Dinner Party Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carroll of 320 West Burnett street entertained at a dinner party on Sunday night in honor of Mrs. Carroll's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. East, who are visiting here from their home in Anderson, Indiana. Following the dinner the guests motored to Los Angeles where they enjoyed a theatre party.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolts Get Welcome Home

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey G. Kolts, who have been enjoying their honeymoon at Avalon, Catalina Island for the past week, returned to Glendale yesterday and are located at their home at 634 North Orange street. As they entered their house the newlyweds were confronted with a number of "gentle reminders," which had been placed in conspicuous places by mischievously-inclined friends and relatives. In addition to a number of articles of infants' clothing the "reminders" consisted of numerous cleverly worded signs.

W. E. Hewitt to Be Speaker On Sewers

W. E. Hewitt, chairman of the advisory committee on sewers, is to address a meeting of the recently-organized Glendale civic organization at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. The new organization is composed of the presidents and two representatives from each of the five improvement associations of Glendale and the civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce. At the last meeting Dr. Jessie A. Russell was elected chairman and L. H. Wilson, secretary.

HOME FROM CAMP TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter and children, Billie and Donald, of 107 East Lomita avenue, returned Monday night from a three-day automobile camping trip, which they spent on the beach near Santa Monica canyon.

Mount Lowe Visitors

A Sunday trip up Mount Lowe was enjoyed Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Esterly of 545 North Adams street, and their guests Mr. and Mrs. John Nensiel of Houston, Tex.

PASTOR GETS YEAR FOR WIFE ABANDONMENT

XENIA, Ohio, July 18.—Rev. W. W. Culp, Spring Valley pastor, pleaded guilty to abandoning his family in probate court today and was sentenced to one year in the Dayton, Ohio, workhouse, and fined $500 and costs as the result of his elopement with Esther Hughes.

ARGUMENTS CONCLUDE IN BURNS WILL CASE

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—With arguments to be concluded late this afternoon, it was expected today that the will contest for the $100,000 estate of Mathew P. Burns, late shoe dealer, would reach the jury of ten women and two men before nightfall. Attorneys for Mrs. Adeline Lou Burns, wife of the deceased, and mother of Miss Gloria Swanson, film luminary, were to open the arguments today.

30 FIREMEN HURT, ONE DEAD IN NEW YORK BLAZE

NEW YORK, July 18.—Thirty firemen were hurt, one of them so seriously that he subsequently died, in two terrific explosions during a five-alarm fire which wrecked the big sixty-story warehouse of the Manhattan Storage Transit company, 245 West Twelfth street, today. A dozen or more residents of the neighborhood, the majority of them women, were hurt by flying debris from the blasts. Early reports reaching police headquarters were that large quantities of smokeless powder, magnesia, potash, sulphur and other chemicals were stored in the building.

PARTIES IN NEBRASKA NOMINATING CANDIDATES

LINCOLN, Neb., July 18.—Nebraska Republicans, Democrats and Prohibitionists today are nominating candidates for the United States senate, six seats in the lower house of congress and full state and county tickets in a state-wide primary. Only one candidate has a "cinch." Mrs. E. Leulla Barton of Lincoln, seeking nomination for the United States senate as a Prohibitionist, was without primary opposition. Two other women are in the race for state superintendent of schools. Another asks nomination for secretary of state, as a Progressive, and Mrs. Irene Buell wants to go to congress as a Democrat from the fourth district.

PRESIDENT TO CALL FOR STATE AID IN STRIKES

WASHINGTON, July 18.—At a two-hour session of the cabinet today, devoted entirely to discussion of the grave industrial situation, it was decided that President Harding should address a communication to the governors of the forty-eight states of the Union calling upon them to protect, by troops, if necessary, the public interest which has been endangered by the rail and coal strikes. Beyond the brief announcement from the White House following the cabinet meeting that such a communication is being prepared by President Harding, there was no further insight accorded into the administration's policy of having the coal mines re-opened for production. The president's communication to the governors will be made public tonight.

AGAIN LENINE IS REPORTED POISONED, DROWNED

LONDON, July 18.—Nicolai Lenine, head of the Russian soviet government, is reported to have been murdered, according to advices received today from Copenhagen. Lenine has been ill for about six months and various conflicting reports have been received as to the nature of his ailment and condition. According to the Riga correspondent of the Evenska Dagbladet of Copenhagen, Lenine was reported to have been poisoned while on his way from Moscow to a Caucasian bathing place to take the cure. A rumor from Moscow said that Lenine's body was thrown from the train into the Don river.

ASSASSINS OF RATHENAU COMMITTED SUICIDE?

BERLIN, July 18.—The actual assassins of Dr. Walter Rathenau, late German foreign secretary, have committed suicide, just as they were about to be captured, according to information given out by the police today. More than a score of persons have been arrested charged with complicity in the plot. The assassins were known as Fischer and Ken. They shot themselves to death when brought to bay and surrounded at Castle Saaleck, near Koesen in Middle Greh. The self-inflicted death of the two assassins brings to an end the most dramatic manhunt in German history. News of the double suicide was received just as the reichstag was about to meet.

CRISIS IN COAL STRIKE AS U. S. OPENS MINES

WASHINGTON, July 18.—While coal operators were scattering to their districts today to re-open their idle mines under a mandate from the federal government, with the assurance of protection that such a mandate implies, President Harding went into session with his cabinet to map out a complete program of government procedure. That the long discussed show-down and crisis is actually at hand no one in Washington doubted today. The president has virtually ordered the coal mines of the country to reopen under a guarantee of protection of federal troops, if necessary, to insure coal to keep the country from freezing next winter. The expectation prevailed in Washington today that Pennsylvania mines will be the first to reopen. The fullest cooperation from the state authorities already has been assured by Governor Sprout.

RAIL SHOPMEN SEEKING PEACE, REPORTS INDICATE

CHICAGO, July 18.—The strike of railway shopmen was believed today to be moving swiftly toward a climax as the result of secret parleys held here during the last twenty-four hours. Conferences from which a plan of settlement is expected to emerge are still in progress, according to authentic reports. Officials of the United States railway labor board and of the shopmen's union, decline to confirm reports that a definite peace plan had been evolved. Persistent reports that a plan appeared closer than at any time since the walkout began, however, are not denied. According to these reports, the plan involved an agreement by the railroads to restore all seniority rights of the strikers and to abolish the practice of "farming out" shop work to shops not owned by the railroads.

HAMMER MURDER CASE CONTINUED THREE DAYS

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—A continuance until next Friday, at which time she will enter a plea, was granted Mrs. Clara Phillips, alleged "hammer murderer," when she appeared before Superior Judge Houser for arraignment today. The proceedings this morning were short and simple. Accompanied by her attorneys, the accused woman appeared in court shortly after 10 o'clock in charge of a jail matron. District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine appeared in person to represent the state, while Mrs. Phillips was being arraigned, funeral services were held in a distant part of the city over the torn and mutilated body of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, the woman who, it is explained, was the victim of her murderous rage. Huge crowds gathered at both places. The throng that surged about the courtroom and clamored for admittance was the larger. For those who gathered there went to see a woman accused of a most spectacular murder and there is no excitement in a funeral, even though it be that of the victim of such an unusual crime.

CALL CONFERENCE OVER NEW HOTEL PROPOSITION

Actual Construction Will Be Rushed; Sum of $15,000 Is Still Required

Final details for the new hotel will be discussed tonight in the office of Mrs. Mabel L. Tight, 612 East Broadway, so that actual construction work may be commenced as soon as possible. The meeting will be attended by the local committee, H. J. Tremaine, who is to lease and operate the establishment, will be present to sign an agreement. B. T. Wilkie, vice-president and general manager of the Universal Construction company, is expected to attend also and to have a contract for the erection of the building ready for signatures. The W. Ross Campbell company will be represented by George A. Whitney.

Committee Members

Members of the hotel committee are: Mrs. M. L. Tight, Dr. H. R. Harrower, F. H. Vesper, Dr. T. C. Young, Herman Nelson, C. W. Ingledue, Spencer Robinson, S. C. Kinch, J. L. McOmber, E. E. Harrington, R. M. Brown, W. W. Bennett, F. W. McIntyre, P. J. Hayselden and J. L. S. Perch.

About $15,000 Needed

"We need about $15,000 more and we have got to do a lot more work. But we are going to get it. Of course we want to get it as soon as possible." In order to get the support of the Chamber of Commerce in the final push of effort necessary to put the campaign over the top, a committee, consisting of C. W. Ingledue, Mrs. Mabel L. Tight and George A. Whitney, this noon (Continued on Page 10)

Large Quantity of Wine Being Guarded

Twenty-two hundred gallons of wine just south of the Grand View district today are being guarded by members of the Glendale police department. Mike Murario and Louis Liccetti, both Italians, are now out on $500 bail penalty. Their bondsmen are Mario Pastroni, a wealthy Italian of Burbank. A third man involved escaped at the time of the raid. His capture is expected at any time. Judge F. H. Lowe is trying the case this afternoon.

Miss Tessa Bott Is Wade Weyrick's Bride

With the remark, "We're going to town to get married," Miss Tessa Bott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bott of 108 East Elk avenue, yesterday morning went to Los Angeles with her fiancé, Wade Weyrick of this city, and carried out her "threat" in an elopement that was even a surprise to her parents and intimate friends. Although the couple had been friends for almost two years, their sudden wedding was entirely unexpected by their many friends.

Mattison B. Jones to Talk at Picnic

Mattison B. Jones, Democratic candidate for governor of California, is to speak at 8 o'clock tonight at the Verdugo Woodlands pavilion following the picnic dinner of the Business and Professional Women's club. The club members and their families are to leave Glendale at a special car at 6:05 o'clock, and those attending are to take lunches and wieners for roasting. The car will stop at Glorieta avenue at Verdugo Woodlands.

Seeking Horseshoes for Glendale's Park

Has your horse got any shoes he doesn't need? If so, F. E. Dickson, city purchasing agent, would like to get in touch with you at once as he is now in the market for some "hoss quirts" for the new municipal park. He is obtaining prices also on a carload of picnic tables and benches and hopes to have these installed before Aug. 16—the date of the big barbecue.

BACK FROM BIG ROCK

Charles A. Flagg and family of 149 South Pacific avenue, accompanied by A. W. Cartledge, also of this city, returned to Glendale Sunday night from Big Rock canyon. Mr. Flagg and Mr. Cartledge having motored to the resort on Saturday. Mrs. Flagg and her two daughters, Misses Gladys and Ethel Flagg, have enjoyed several weeks in the mountains in camping, swimming, horseback riding, hiking and other diversions that go to make a vacation a success.

Veterans' Daughters Plan Chicken Dinner

Plans for the chicken dinner August 11 for the Glendale G. A. R. members were completed last night at the meeting of the Nimble Fingers' Club of the Daughters of Veterans with Mrs. Daphne Lyons of 122 West Palmer street. The dinner is to be served at the home of Mrs. Joseph Griffin at 205 West Acacia avenue.

Robert Harkness to Give Music Program

Robert Harkness, well known composer and pianist, will give an evening of music at the First Baptist church tomorrow, Wednesday night, in lieu of the regular prayer meeting. It is announced. He will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Long, tenor and soprano soloists, and those attending will be taught several new choruses, it is planned. Mr. Harkness also offers to compose a chorus in a minute for any person who will furnish a scriptural text. He has done this little feat for years in company with evangelistic programs, and has yet to meet defeat.

Mrs. W. L. Marble Is Visiting Friends Here

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Marble, formerly residents of Glendale when their home was on North Maryland avenue, will be interested to know that Mrs. Marble and her family, Charlotte, Jackson and Webster, spent Sunday in Glendale looking up old friends and acquaintances. They were accompanied by Mrs. Marble's parents of Huntington Park, whose guests they are at present. Mr. Marble plans to join the family in two weeks and they expect to make the trip by motor to their former home at Gladstone, Michigan, where Mr. Marble will enter as partner in his father's business of manufacturing sporting goods. The family will make their future home at Gladstone, Mich.

Mrs. Walter Grayson Gives Birthday Party

Mrs. Walter A. Grayson of 364 West Lexington drive entertained a small group of friends at her home last night at an elaborately-appointed dinner party in honor of her husband's birthday, it being called a "bride and bridegroom" affair because it was the first party that the Graysons have had since their wedding several months ago.

Robert Harkness to Give Music Program

Robert Harkness, well known composer and pianist, will give an evening of music at the First Baptist church tomorrow, Wednesday night, in lieu of the regular prayer meeting. It is announced. He will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Long, tenor and soprano soloists, and those attending will be taught several new choruses, it is planned. Glendale Girls and Eagle Rock to Meet

The municipal playground for girls which opened yesterday under the direction of Miss Gladys Sharpe at the Intermediate school is open to girls of any age, and from any part of the city. Those attending will have the privilege of choosing any games or other activities preferred, with which the grounds are equipped, as tennis, indoor ball, croquet and checkers. Ball teams are to be lined up very shortly to enter into competitive games with the girls of Eagle Rock, and games will also be arranged with the boys on the Glendale playgrounds. If the splendid athletic spirit shown by the Intermediate girls during the past year is much in evidence on the summer playground the boys will find them no mean opponents. The Girl Scouts of any town may also take their Scout tests at the playground, which is open every day from 1 to 5, and Wednesday and Saturday from 1 to 7.

Glendale's Hiram W. Johnson for Senate organization has opened headquarters at 111 East Broadway with Miss Eva Daniels, secretary, in charge. Officers of the organization have asked that all Johnson supporters either visit the headquarters or communicate by telephone in order that they may all be enrolled.

J. H. Braly is chairman of the organization, and other officers are J. H. Franklin, vice-chairman; Mrs. Mary Gritley Braly, vice-chairman; Miss Eva Daniels, secretary, and C. D. Lashby, treasurer.

White Shrine Plans Elaborate Program

Installation of officers and an entertainment program will be given at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the Masonic hall by the Glendale chapter of the Order of the White Shrine. All members of the Eastern Star are invited to attend and all members of the White Shrine may bring guests. The White Shrine installation is said to be a most beautiful ceremony and a special entertainment program is being arranged to follow the installation Wednesday evening.

C. C. Moore Silent About Wright Bill

The declaration of principles by Charles C. Moore, an aspirant for the United States senate, have just been published. Voters will be interested in reading them. While, in general, they are good they do not go far enough. They contain not one line on the great question before the California voters in this election—its attitude toward the eighteenth amendment to the national constitution. California alone, of all the forty-eight states, is in rebellion, is withholding its support and cooperation. Our legislature passed the needed legislation and the governor signed it, but the liquor men of the state—principally San Francisco—have held it up.

It will be on the ballot this fall. The eyes of the nation will be focussed on the Golden state this election. And yet the candidate who pronounces himself on questions of remote interest and in generalities in the following language:

"I will encourage and favor all progressive and humanitarian legislation for the protection of the rights of all our citizens and for the betterment of the conditions of life," has not a word to say for the upholding of the constitution. To be deserving of the voters of upright, law-abiding, forward-looking citizens he should take a positive stand for law enforcement. For bringing California from the rear up to the front. The acid test of loyalty and patriotism in California this fall for both candidates and voters is, "How do you stand on the Wright bill?"

This is a perfectly legitimate question to put up squarely to every candidate. And, on general principles, it would seem unfortunate to have candidates that are not aggressive and progressive enough to take this stand voluntarily. And not want to be smoked out.

Local Dentists at National Convention

Roy E. Hogue, W. R. Crowl and J. L. Lucecock are among the Glendale dentists in attendance this week at the national dental convention in session at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles. This gathering is a biennial affair and is of great value to dentists in bringing them together for professional conferences and discussions of new developments in dental science. Although the convention is called national nevertheless there will be in attendance at the Los Angeles assembly this week men from Canada, Mexico and farther distant foreign countries.

"It is of practical, scientific and educational value," said Dr. Hogue this morning, "and our attendance at the meetings enable us to more efficiently serve our patrons. The program includes both table and operative clinics. Under the department of table clinics come all the exhibits such as models of work and data on dental hygiene and improvement of public teeth and health. The operative clinics cover actual dental work in illustration of dental methods.

"Another feature of the program are the papers presented by big men in the profession. These papers represent two years of research, study and practice and are of inestimable interest." The session Monday was devoted largely to organization and this morning the address of welcome was given by Dr. R. B. von KleinSchmid, president of the University of Southern California. Dr. Charles M. Benbrook spoke in behalf of the dentists of Los Angeles, and Dr. Thomas P. Hinman of Atlanta, Ga., Dr. Thomas B. Hartzell of Minneapolis, Minn., retiring national president, and Dr. J. T. Buckley, president-elect, were other speakers.

A move is in progress among the dentists to have the next national gathering at Dallas, Tex.

County Will Spend $35,000 on Highway

Burbank is congratulating itself today. The county board of supervisors, through the efforts of Supervisor Henry W. Wright, has authorized the expenditure of $35,000 on San Fernando Road north of Turkey crossing in the outskirts of Burbank to improve that highway for the benefit of the traveling public.

Burbank admitted it was incapable of maintaining the road which bears the brunt of north and southbound travel into Los Angeles so the county came to the rescue. One and one-half miles of rough spots will be repaved, it is understood, from the Empire China factory to the Burbank city limit this side of Roscoe where improvements last year were made on out to San Fernando.

Large Number of Elks Attend Session

A large crowd of Elks was present last night at the local B. P. O. E. clubhouse at the regular weekly meeting of Glendale lodge No. 1239. The session, which was presided over by Exalted Ruler Arthur H. Dibbern, consisted of the usual business routine and also a number of talks by visiting members. Following the meeting a "feed" and special movie were enjoyed in the Jinx room.

STRONG STORY OF NORTHWEST IS PICTURIZED

Lots of Real Action Put Into Film Offering at the T. D. L. Today

"I Am the Law," a blue-blooded story of virile and scintillating action, laid in that god-forsaken land of barren whiteness and the snow drifts of the northwest, where the derelicts of humanity drift to make their last gold stroke, where race or creed is forgotten in the mad rush for the precious yellow metal—there in that country is laid the setting of a powerful photodrama that comes to the T. D. & L. Theatre today, heralded as greater in story and cast than any other production that has come to this city in a decade.

Brimful of action, sparkling with scenes of wondrous splendor, and enacted by an all-star cast that bids fair to rank with the greatest aggregations of movie stars ever assembled, "I Am the Law" tells the story of the northlands—the country north of 54 degrees latitude, where it's fifty odd below, where the wastelands of civilization harbor a law of their own—there in that region of blasted hopes and blighted morality is placed the setting of a gripping story that will hold you enthralled as it has held thousands of others.

Runaway Methodist Pastor With Affinity

PORT HURON, Mich., July 18.—"Never marry without genuine love. If there had been real love in my marriage I would not be here today."

Thus the Rev. W. Culp, runaway Methodist pastor from the little town of Spring Valley, Ohio, who was arrested in Tashmo park by Sheriff John Maines of St. Claire county, together with his affinity, Esther Hughes, who eloped with him, explained his abandonment of his wife and family of nine children. Church funds, the exact amount of which is unknown, are missing and the minister admits taking them.

"My wife kissed us good bye and told us to go," the Rev. Mr. Culp declared. "She knew that Esther and I loved each other for a long time. She invited the girl into our home thinking perhaps conditions would be more settled."

"But after Esther had been in our home a while my wife became intensely jealous. She longed for my career, for my demonstration of love, I could not be demonstrative toward my wife, having no love for her. She saw the love caresses that passed between Esther and me and she grew daily more jealous and disagreeable."

"Finally conditions became unbearable. My wife told me to take Esther home. I said: 'If she moves I go with her.' My wife answered: 'Very well, then, you both go.'"

Eagle Rock Folk May Register at Their City Hall

Eagle Rock voters have only twelve days more in which to register if they wish to vote in the next election, according to Mary Coffey, assistant city clerk, who is registering them. A large number of Eagle Rock residents are being registered every day, she says, as the time limit on registrations draws near. July 29 will be the last day, the books being closed after that date and those who wish to vote at the primary election and have not registered since the first of the year will have to do so before the twenty-ninth.

Voters may register at the city hall between 8:30 a. m. and 5 p. m.

SECURING CLOSE VARIATION OF PLATE POTENTIAL

When the so-called "soft" or comparatively low vacuum tubes are used for detection it is found necessary to have a critical value of plate potential for maximum results. If the critical value is not obtainable the signals will not be as loud as they might be made. It is usually advisable to operate a vacuum tube at a constant filament voltage, in order to lengthen its life, so that not much regulation of current should be made when adjusting for maximum signal strength. The plate potential may, however, be closely regulated within limits if the proper means are provided.

Suppose that a potentiometer whose resistance is of 400 ohms is connected directly across the six volt "A" battery. The current taken by the potentiometer from the battery is only 0.013 amperes, not large enough to be any serious drain. The sliding contact of the potentiometer is then assumed to be connected to the negative terminal of the plate or "B" battery. If the voltage of the plate battery is 22 1/2 and that of the filament or "A" battery is six volts, there will be an available average potential between the plate and filament of from 19 1/2 to 25 1/2 volts. The closeness of the variation between these limits will be determined by the construction of the potentiometer. The customary types are quite suitable, however, and are called "A" battery potentiometers. As a matter of fact, the potential applied to the filament is usually around five volts because of the voltage drop in the rheostat and connecting wires. In this case the available average plate potential is variable between approximately eighteen and twenty-four volts.

The plate battery is sometimes tapped, so that only a certain number of its cells can be connected into the plate circuit if desired. The taps cannot be made so that the voltage variation is less than the voltage of one cell, and, therefore, the variation is not as close as can be secured by means of the potentiometer.

The use of the "A" battery potentiometer is better than a "B" battery potentiometer, although the latter could, of course, be used. The reason is that a small drain on the "B" battery would run it down quicker than the same drain on the "A" battery would run it down. This is because the latter has a higher capacity than the former. Then, also, as a matter of fact, the drain on the "B" battery would be greater because its voltage is greater than that of the "A" battery. Of course, a potentiometer of much higher resistance might be used to decrease the "B" battery drain, but the method first described is accepted as being more suitable.

Weekly Recital at School Is Enjoyed

At the weekly recital given last night at the Emerson School of Self-Expression at 739 South Glendale avenue, when the students appeared in a short program of music, readings and nature dances, a special feature, which brought a great pleasure to an appreciative audience, was the appearance of Gordon Rogers, recently of Ottawa, Can., a talented reader and entertainer, who delighted his listeners with his humorous readings, "Bill Adams at Waterloo," "His Only Hair," and "Call of the Yukon" by Robert W. Service, as well as numbers from James Whitcomb Riley, and "Mr. Dooley on Christmas." Mr. Rogers is a well-known magazine writer and author of several books.

Students appearing on the program were Bill Rhodes, Jim Rhodes, Elsie Whitney, Wayne Nelson, Charles Sawhill, Kathleen Custer, Doris Ash, Margaret Thomas, Earleen Kennedy, Robert Rhodes, Marcella Nelson, Act One, "The Servant in the House," given by Henry Biederman, was an interesting feature.

The closing of the program was followed by a social hour, and light refreshments were served.

Political Situation in Poland Serious

LONDON, July 18.—A grave political situation is arising in Poland as the result of hostility between President Pilsudski and Adelbert Korfanty, the newly-appointed Polish premier, according to advices from Warsaw today. The Polish army is said to be supporting President Pilsudski, but the supporters of Premier Korfanty are standing firm and declare that Korfanty will not heed the president's request that he resign.

ANIMAL LIFE ON MOON SCOFFED AT BY SAVANT

Astronomer Says Absence of Water Makes Orb Uninhabitable

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service.
LONDON, July 18.—Moon men and Martians are but the people of dreams. This is the conclusion which has been reached by Dr. Cromelin, one of England's leading astronomers, as the result of a series of investigations made at the Royal Observatory at Greenwich.

Dr. Cromelin believes that animal life is impossible upon the moon.

"The moon has practically no air or water, and this fact seems to prove that there can be no animal life as we know it," Dr. Cromelin stated.

"It is urged in some quarters that changes in certain regions prove the existence of vegetation. This is very doubtful, and if there is vegetation it must be of a very primitive type.

"These changes might be caused by the reflecting powers of different substances in the soil.

"The cracks, or what are termed 'canals' in the moon, are certainly not artificial. The word 'canal' is merely used as a convenient description of a straight marking. They may be caused by geological faults, one portion of the ground having subsided relatively to the other.

"As Mars, very little is known, but most people agree that there is some form of vegetation there, which would explain the changes in the markings.

Tells of Geology
"It is quite possible that there may be animal life there, but the density of the air is probably less than that of our highest mountains, so that we would not find it at all comfortable.

"The Martians must experience terrible frosts at night.

About Signalling Mars
"As to signalling Mars, that might be possible, assuming there is a rational race there.

"As the life of a planet is hundreds of millions of years, however, it is very unlikely that two would have reached the same stage of development simultaneously.

"If they are ahead of us in scientific progression they may have tried to communicate with the earth by wireless telegraphy and got tired of receiving no answers to their signals.

"On the other hand, they may not be so advanced as we are.

"It seems unlikely that our scientific progress should coincide, but until proved to the contrary talking to Mars remains a possibility."

Mr. and Mrs. Holden Entertain at Banquet

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Holden of La Canada entertained the Thursday club of that community on July 13 at a banquet given at their pretty country home, the meal being served in the arbor under the direction of Mrs. George L. Miller. Mrs. Charles F. Pate and Mrs. Willard Goodwin had charge of the program which included piano, vocal and poetical numbers, closing with "Bachelor's Reverie," a fantasy including everything from the school girl to the bathing girl and bride.

J. W. Seright, Robert Conlee and Wallace Tupper won guessing contests which concluded the evening's entertainment. All the guests report a wonderful time.

This Girl Anxious to Become Jockey

NEW YORK—Next year one may pick up a racing extra and read: "Whiskaway wins Aqueduct Stakes." "Trickey up." The "Trickey up" part will relate to Lorena Trickey, world's champion horsewoman, of Cheyenne. All this depends upon Lorena getting a license from the New York Jockey club.

"I have never understood," Lorena said recently, "why girls are not permitted jockey licenses.

"When I applied for mine the other day I asked them. They said it seemed sort of—well, rough work for a girl. It doesn't seem half as rough to me as sweeping floors or doing the week's wash. They reminded me that jockeys have to dress all in one room at the track, and that the language isn't exactly parlor talk, or the atmosphere attar of rose.

"My answer is that the days of women's squeamishness in such matters is past. Out on the ranch we sometimes have to string up a blanket to make two rooms out of one, and I guess we could manage in the race track dressing room, or make some better provisions.

"As for qualifications, girls should make better jockeys than men. They are lighter of frame, more sensitive to the horse's spirit and mood, quicker to see and act, more observant of details, and they are very devils of determination once their mind is on a thing, isn't it so?"

Miss Trickey was in New York for the purpose of receiving the McAlpin women's trophy, awarded her for all-around horsemanship at Cheyenne's twenty-fifth annual Frontier Day celebration last July.

Lorena is a small, slim, blonde person of 22, weight 98 pounds. She has won practically every prize there is for "relays" and "tricks," such as riding head down on a running horse, passing under him from one side to the other as he flies along and "riding Roman," two horses at once.

"When the round-ups are over, which means about five months each year," she continues, "I go to Tia Juana, across the Mexican line from California, and run my horses at the winter track there. I have a half interest in fourteen head of race horses. I am only allowed to ride in exhibition races, but there isn't a thing I don't know about horses, and some day I'll get that license and be a regular jockey and show 'em! It's my life ambition.

"I'm busy right now making arrangements for the show at Cheyenne, July 25 to 28, where I shall defend my championship title. But what I'm most excited about is that jockey license. The girl jockey is coming, sure as shooting. They might as well let her begin now."

The Reason Why

Why did I choose this bank of mine? The answer is a simple one. Its air of welcome suits me fine; I like the way its work is done. They greet me as a family guest; at home they always make me feel. Because it served me with a zest, I chose the bank with which I deal.

Scantly Clad Man Alarming to Woman

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Approached by a man clad only in his "B. V. D's," while she was waiting for a street car at Twenty-fifth street and Griffith avenue, Mrs. Helen Tabor, an employee of the county auditor's office, ran to a telephone and appealed for help. Deputy Sheriff Conly and Harrington responded to the woman's appeal but reported they were unable to obtain any trace of the man.

Four Railroads Win in Federal Courts

NEW ORLEANS, July 18.—Four railroads, the Louisville & Nashville, Texas & Pacific, Southern Pacific, and Trans-Mississippi terminal were victors in the federal court here when Judge Foster issued a permanent injunction restraining former employees of the four lines from interfering with new workers or molesting workers, or impeding transportation. The roads for the last week have enjoyed temporary injunctions issued by Judge Foster.

Troops Not Needed in Texas as Yet

WASHINGTON, July 18.—No federal troops will be used in Texas for the present at least, it was announced at the war department following an official report from Inspector General C. L. Lincoln, who had a conference with Governor Neff over measures to be used in quieting strike disorders.

Lincoln reported that Governor Neff "wants a few more hours" before deciding what troops are necessary. Neff believed, according to Lincoln's report, that local authorities should be made responsible for disorders.

AN EFFICIENT CRYSTAL RECEIVER

This receiver has an inductively coupled primary and secondary circuit which makes for somewhat more selective tuning than most of the single circuit receivers and copies of them now upon the market. A variometer is used in the primary circuit, together with a tapped coil, so that both rough and fine tuning may be accomplished. The secondary is untuned, since it has been found that this makes for somewhat louder signals. The coupling between the two circuits is, however, variable. The knob with the dial at the left of the panel controls the variometer inductance. The knob with dial at the right controls the coupling, and the switch controls the inductance of the tapped coil.

The wave length range of the tuner is 150 to 600 meters, with the average single wire antenna usually used for radiophone reception. By adding a loading coil wave lengths considerably in excess of 600 meters may easily be tuned to.

The crystal detector is quite simple in design, but is very easy to adjust. An improvement might be made by providing a glass case to keep out the dust. It is, however, very easy to see the surface of the crystal, and there are some advantages of doing away with the glass. If user graduates from the crystal detector stage the tuner may be used very nicely in connection with a vacuum tube detector and an audio frequency amplifier. In some cases, a loud speaker may also be added.

All connections within the cabinet are soldered, which is a feature lacking in some of the less well designed crystal receivers. All parts are ruggedly constructed, so that the tuner will withstand considerable rough usage which it might meet if carried on camping expeditions. The binding posts are plainly marked, so that it is a simple matter to connect up. The case has an attractive leather covering, which adds to the appearance of the instrument as a whole.

Postoffice Employees Safe Behind Netting

"Mosquito netting," as the wire caging in banks, postoffices and other public buildings is called, was placed over the front fixtures and up to the ceiling in the Glendale postoffice today.

According to Assistant Postmaster George Hallett, it will be impossible for the dear public to throw brickbats or oversized packages at the clerks hereafter.

IN GRATITUDE

IN order to express our appreciation to the public, we take this means of thanking one and all for helping to make our opening a grand success. Also for the many flowers and for the patience which was displayed during the evening when we had the misfortune to have trouble with some of our new equipment. This was unavoidable, being due to the breaking of one of our machines. Repairs have been made and in the future uninterrupted and prompt service will be given. We believe you will appreciate the difficulties under which we were working, and we ask that you come in again and note the improvement. We assure you that it is our desire to make our patrons comfortable in order that they may really enjoy their meals.

SPEEDY PADDOCK HAD CHANCE TO SET RECORD

Veteran Sportsman Declares Pasadena Lad Close to New Hundred Mark

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Charlie Paddock, fastest human, might have been a faster human if he hadn't been anxious to break too many unimportant records at the Santa Barbara exhibition July 4, according to Charlie Keppen, veteran sportsman of the Los Angeles Athletic club.

Keppen, who is a great admirer of the sprint hero, believes if Paddock had concentrated on the 100-yard dash instead of keeping his mind on intermediate distances he would have run the distance in 9.2-9.5 seconds.

"Conditions at Santa Barbara were ideal," said Keppen, "and Paddock was never in better form. No better track can be found in America. It is an old salt marsh along the ocean, smooth as a dining table, resilient, and yet with enough substance to hold spikes. I firmly believe that the champion would have set a new record if he had banked his all on that one dash and given Eddie Sudden a few yards' start so that he would have the incentive of trying to overhaul the Olympic club man."

Paddock broke five world's records for other distances and equaled the world's record of 9.3-9.5 seconds, which he had set himself.

Photographs of the finish of the 100, and several other events, showed Sudden scarcely a foot behind Paddock, the latter's famous jump to breast the tape at the finish being about the only advantage Sudden, former Stanford sophomore, who made such a remarkable record at the L. C. 4-A meet, is improving regularly. He is now running under the Olympic club colors, having taken residence in San Francisco, where he is engaged in looking after the interests of his uncle, Ed Christenson, wealthy lumberman, who was recently drowned during a yacht race.

Twilight Baseball Game by Churchmen

In an effort to show their friends that they are not all "has-beens" at performing the national pastime, the men members of the First Methodist-Episcopal church have announced that all baseball lovers in Glendale will be given a treat on Friday afternoon at the intermediate school grounds when they will stage a regulation nine-inning game. The contest will be of the "twilight" variety, as the umpire is scheduled to start the game at 5 o'clock.

Those who will take part in the fracas are the members of the Men's Bible class, the Young Business Men's class and the Baracas.

The peculiar fact in connection with Friday's game, which makes it different from most baseball battles, is—the result is already known. Here it is—sore arms and aching backs!

HARDER THEY ARE, HARDER THEY FALL, DECLARES HACKENSCHMIDT

John Hackenschmidt of Glendale, who is to meet Joe "Toots" Mondt in a two hour catch-as-catch can wrestling match on Friday night at the Odd Fellows' Hall.

Hackenschmidt will enter the ring weighing about 180 pounds and his opponent will top him about 20 pounds. There will be two preliminary matches. And the management assures plenty of excitement to fans.

John "Hack" Hackenschmidt, local wrestler, refuses to be frightened by mere man. Friday night at the I. O. O. F. hall, Ralphs building on West Broadway, "Hack" is to meet "Toots" Mondt of Colorado in a two-hour grappling party.

"Listen, Hack," he was told, "this guy Mondt weighs pretty near 200, and you'll only make somewhere between 175 and 180." "I don't care for weight," spoke up Hack. "Dis Bool Montana he'll weigh pretty heavy, too. But he's scared to meet me. I think I can 'crowd dis 'Toots' but if I don't, he will know he has 'trowed something'."

Hack is working out pretty steadily these days, preparing for what will be his first match in several weeks. But that doesn't mean that he's worried about the outcome, judging from the broad smile that occasionally flickers across his face.

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE

PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Clarence Pinkston, former national diving champion, has made a find at Coronado Tent City, California, in the person of a 9-year-old youngster which Pinkston declares will, some day, be the best performer on the spring board of all time. The little chap is, Neil Carlson. The former champion has been instructing the boy regularly and the youngster has been more than an apt pupil. He is becoming versed in all the various dives and already is acquiring the finish and poise so necessary to the successful diver. On Sundays, in particular, when Pinkston and Carlson are going through their paces, the water's edge is crowded with spectators watching the little chap.

Those who have been following the wrestling game are prone to remark the wonderful improvement made in the last half year or so of Renato Gardini, the Italian heavyweight wrestler.

Gardini, until recently, hardly figured as a contender among the top-notchers but, if he continues to make progress as he has in the recent past, it is more than likely he will have to be reckoned with by even such performers as Stecher and Lewis. Gardini has a fine build which is adapted to the game and is naturally an extremely powerful man physically. Therefore he has not displayed enough science to make his great strength count for all it was worth.

Recent press dispatches quote Dempsey as rating his probable contender for the championship crown in the following order: (1) Willard, (2) Brennan, (3) Harry Greb, (4) Georges Carpentier, (5) Harry Wills. In view of the fact that the great majority of ring followers, willing to make the best of a bad bargain under any circumstances, think Wills is the man for Dempsey to meet, it is curious to see Dempsey rate him last on the list of eligibles. As for Willard, it would seem that the public has not the slightest interest in seeing him in the ring again. And yet Dempsey places him first. Better, men than Dempsey have tried to flout themselves in the face of public opinion. It is not likely that he will meet with any greater success than those who have failed in the past.

FORM CHART FOR COAST LEAGUE CHECKED UP

Dopesters Had Seals About Right, but Fell Down on Los Angeles

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—With the Pacific Coast League season half over, dopesters are beginning to con the yellowed pages of predictions dating from last winter up to the training season time.

San Francisco, they admit, they had sized up about right. The Seals were universally considered a one-two club, and they are at present in second place.

Vernon has shown up stronger than was expected. While it was known the Tigers would produce a strong team, it was not believed they would be the ones to humble the Seals or Angels.

The Los Angeles team has been the one that has fallen down on the Chicago Cubs in the background. Red Killefer's outfit was touted as a pennant repeater.

But thus far the Angels have fallen down badly. The pitching staff has been eccentric, and something has been lacking in the club playing, no matter how the individual players may be rated.

The Salt Lake team, which last season vied with Portland for second place, has been one of the big surprises.

Duffy Lewis may not have the most brilliant players in the league, but he gets the most out of them. He has the credit of having developed a real ball club.

Portland was over-rated early in the season, as was Seattle. Both clubs have failed to show any brilliant stuff. As for Sacramento after last year's showing, it has proven a complete disappointment.

Tagging All Bases

After trying the score with a three-run rally in the ninth, the Yanks dropped their third straight to the White Sox when Strunk singled Falk across the plate with the winning run in the eleventh, 8 to 7. The Yanks made 19 hits, including Ruth's fifteenth homer of the season.

The Cards lost a ripe opportunity to pass the Giants in the National league race, when they dropped a 3 to 2 decision to the champions. It was the Giants' first victory in five starts.

Led by Ty Cobb, who obliged with five hits in as many trips to the plate, the Tigers made merry at the expense of three Red Sox pitchers and won, 16 to 7.

The Pirates came along from the rear in the late innings to beat the Dodgers, 8 to 5.

Jake Daubert's triple was followed by Babe Pinelli's single in the tenth and in consequence, the Reds went on about their business with an 8 to 7 victory over the Braves.

BY ADVICE OF COUNSEL

When I'm sitting there with a measly pair, In one of those pots that would raise the hair On a centipede's back in sheer despair, I've nothing to say for publication.

At the traffic post with the motor host, When I'm making as if to onward coast, And the gendarme gives me an awful roast, I've nothing to say for publication.

On a subway train the other insane, May argue it out with the six-foot Dane, Who tries his wiles on the bum-chewing Jane, I've nothing to say for publication.

In the barber shop where they trim my mop, With glittering steel from the nearby stroop, And a bloke starts kidding the peevish wop, Me? I've nothing to say for publication.

No, not a word.

DIFFERENCE IN METHODS

Prior to the bout with Leonard the worthy Mr. Kansas is said to have boxed behind closed doors. And during most of the fight he boxed behind closed eyes.

Eastern sharps who have waited a long time to get Charlie Paddock in a couple of sprint races with Murchison, Woodring, La-cony and others will have their patience rewarded at the national championships. In September, when they are for all to be determined whether it is a matter of the light air that prevails on the coast or the light feet that happen to be attached to Charley's ankles.

Interesting, If True

Tris Speaker claims he can throw a baseball much further than the ordinary man can throw a cornerstone.

CASEY'S COME BACK

The Giants boarded a train out of Boston at the finish of their last road trip and were all set to make the best of a bad night's rest when the discovery was made that Casey Stengel had no berth. "Sell right," quoth the philosophical Casey, "I'll sleep on the roof, and if I roll off nobody will miss me, anyway."

It was a funny crack, then, Casey had appeared in about ten box scores in two years, and after a decent interval would have passed on into the minors without a dissenting vote.

But, in the meantime, Shinnars was injured and Cunningham failed to make the raffle. McGraw, desperate, sent Stengel to center field one afternoon in Brooklyn and now Cobb couldn't beat the old boy out of his job. He is hitting in the neighborhood of .375 against all manner of pitching, running the bases with intelligence and a very plausible pair of feet, and ranging over the outfield with the best of them.

The late Signor de Leon's fountain of youth must be located at City Hall plaza, N'York.

The eastern invasion of May Sutton Bundy in her second attempt to regain the national women's tennis honors, last year being her first attempt since she last held the title in 1904, brings to mind the fact that certain British women have started an agitation protesting against the present system of physical education for girls as "injurious to future generations." These women maintain that athletics of any kind for women are a detriment to motherhood.

American educators and engineers have gone through the English argument from every angle and their findings are diametrically opposed to the British view. The English go further than the mere statement that athletics are injurious to girls and say—"Athletic women produce female offspring mainly, and seldom have sons. When sons are born to them they are apt to be puny and delicate, or generally emasculated or of inferior type."

May Sutton Bundy is a direct answer to the English contention and her record of being the mother of three splendid well-developed sons and a daughter is the American theory that athletics for girls is not a detriment to motherhood. The case of Mrs. Bundy is not an exception. Mrs. George Whitman, formerly Hazel Hotchkiss, four times national singles champion, is the mother of three fine children, her first-born being a son. Many other examples can be quoted and among some of the most noted girl tennis players now mothers of fine healthy children.

Sport High Spots

What promises to be the battle of the season at the regular Tuesday night Vernon boxing show tonight is the much advertised Danny Kramer-Young Brown match. Of late Kramer has been disposing of rivals with amazing rapidity and regularity, and as the same goes for Brown, the fur is scheduled to fly thick and fast.

Willie Kamm, the sensational San Francisco third sacker, who has started the baseball world by drawing down $100,000 for the Seal management for his sale to the Chicago White Sox, has been receiving additional publicity during the past few days regarding his alleged assertion that he would quit baseball if not given a healthy block of the hundred thousand. Merely some more of the Bay City owners' clever advertising and publicity.

Baseball fans throughout the southland are all "set" for the Los Angeles club, champion "in and outers" of the circuit, to wade through Bill Essick's Vernon Tigers this week in the race for the Pacific Coast league pennant. Until last week the Angels seemed to be diving headlong for the cellar, but, upsetting the dope as they have as long as one can remember Coast league history, they suddenly braced and took eight straight from the Portland Beavers.

"Look out for us from now on," is Wade Killefer's warning remark.

are Violet Sutton Boog, a sister of May Bundy, and herself a champion in her day, is the mother of six boys and girls. Mrs. N. W. Niles has two boys; Mrs. E. B. Cole, formerly Nancy Shea, a Boston champion, has two girls; Mrs. Adelaide Browning Greene, another Boston titleholder, has two boys and a girl; Louis Hammond Raymond has two boys and a girl, and Golda Myers Cross, at one-time champion of the Pacific coast, is now the mother of two splendidly-proportioned boys.

This somewhat shatters the English contention, but the surprising feature is that May Sutton Bundy, the mother of four children, should still retain her brilliancy on the courts to such an extent that last year she was a sensation in the national events and was only beaten in the semi-final rounds by Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, not because of any superiority in game technique, but purely due to lack of condition.

Mrs. Bundy this season at Forest Hills will be one of at least six coast women competing for the national title. The former champion—she won her last title no less than eighteen years ago—will surprise the eastern fans and critics this year. Last year she was of condition, particularly lack of wind, proved her undoing. That will not be the case this season and the popular May Sutton Bundy has been training as she never did before. The care and hard work of looking after and bringing up four healthy children has not undermined the former champion's tennis ability.

Should Mrs. Bundy and Mrs. Mallory face each other at Forest Hills next month there will be more than ordinary significance to the meeting. On one side of the net will be the reigning queen of the American courts who last month made her second unsuccessful attempt at Wimbledon, and on the other side May Sutton Bundy who in 1907, fifteen years ago, triumphantly won the honors of world champion on the same Wimbledon courts, and now challenger for Mrs. Mallory's title, of United States champion which May Sutton last held in 1904—eighteen years ago.

MYSTERIOUS FOOTPRINT

Tradition has it that the first Spaniards to land in Hawaii were wrecked on the southeast coast in 1575; but the clear imprint of a Spanish shoe has been discovered in the surface of an ancient lava flow on the west coast near Hananuanu, the "City of Refuge." Since the lava flow must antedate the building of the city in 1100, how the footprint got there is a mystery that will probably never be solved.

POCKET WIRELESS SETS BEING SOLD
Brenkman Electrical Store Offers Unique, Useful Message Receivers
Pocket wireless receiving sets are here!
They are now in stock at 1524 South San Fernando Road in C. L. Brenkman's electrical store.
A complete crystal detector receiving set now comes packed in a small box four and a half inches long and three and a half inches wide.
This box is covered with imitation leather and has a brass clasp and will fit a man's side pocket. The opposite pocket may be used to carry the phones.
Mr. Brenkman declares that the messages received over this set are very distinct.

Party of Friends at Ventura Co. Ranch
Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Reichenback of 1514 Gardena avenue and a party of friends spent the week end at their ranch in Ventura county near Pirn.
Those on the outing included Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Cruise of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Ramsey of Chicago, also; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffith; Miss Esther Griffith and Dave Griffith.
Mr. Reichenback's Ford and Mr. Griffith's Dodge had no difficulty because concrete roads pass within eight miles of their destination.

To celebrate the sixty-ninth birthday of her father, M. B. Conklin, Mrs. J. D. Rathbun was dinner hostess Saturday night at her home on West Colorado street.
The dinner table was decorated in pink and white, with a big birthday cake as the centerpiece, while handpainted placards in pink and white marked places for Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Conklin, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brown, B. W. Crowe and T. J. Kelly of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Rathbun.

BACK FROM SAN DIEGO
Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ambrosch of 614 North Pacific avenue motored back from San Diego, where they spent the week-end, yesterday morning. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wagner and their daughter, Miss Irma Wagner, their guests for a few months, also motored down and are remaining in the southern city this week. Mr. Ambrosch is proprietor of the shop at 1727 South Brand boulevard, occupied by the Glendale Monument Works.

HAVE TAKEN APARTMENT
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Murphy and their three children, Harry, Dorothy and Evelyn, have moved from San Fernando to Southern Glendale where they have taken an apartment at 1529 1/2 South San Fernando Road. Mr. Murphy is proprietor of the shoe repair shop at 1430 South San Fernando Road.

FRIED CHICKEN AT PICNIC
Topango Beach was visited on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Murphy of 1529 1/2 South San Fernando Road and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Darden of 204 East Cypress street. Fried chicken was a feature of the picnic lunch. "Bill" Darden hails from Virginia where he says the fried chicken runs wild.

LUNCH STAND IS SOLD

Ocean Is Full of Fish! That's News Being Circulated
A deep sea fishing trip was enjoyed Sunday by L. W. Russell and Ralph Pierce from 1529 South San Fernando Road, the Russell-Pierce Furniture company.
About fifty fish, mostly mackerel, were caught by them off Santa Monica. Many of them were over a foot long and some were twenty-two and twenty-four inches in length.
"The ocean's full of 'em!" exclaimed Mr. Russell upon his return. "Every day is going to be Friday this week."

LAY FOUNDATIONS OF NEW BUILDING
Glendale Sash and Door House to Have Place Ready by August
The foundations are now being laid at 1415 Gardena avenue for the new shop of the Glendale Sash & Door House.
The main floor space will be 40x100 feet in size while a room to one side will be 12x23.
C. S. Jordan and J. J. Murray hope to move from 1426 South San Fernando Road to their new premises before the end of the month.

Luring Green Hills Moved to Glendale
"The mountain wouldn't come to Mohammed so Mohammed went to the Mountain."
The S. W. Brown company of 463 West Los Feliz Road found itself in the same fix. The nearest hill is at least half a mile away and it was impossible to move the Green Hill beverage plant over there.
So pictures of alluring green hills have been painted upon the front of the building over the white plaster.

Uch! Sunburn on Bare Backs of Boys
Dr. A. D. Smith is busy doctoring several mild cases of sunburn at the Y. M. C. A. camp on Catalina Island, according to a letter from Rex C. Kelley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary and camp director.
The delegation from this district which left last Wednesday morning arrived at the camp in fine condition, although John Elliott and several other local boys were seashick on the way over.
One of the first camp activities after the boys were assigned to their tents was a "wood rush" to secure wood for the camp cook. The boys were divided into two parties, one under Howard Butterfield of Glendale and the other with Richard Brown of San Dimas as leader.
Brown's party received the most wood and a prize received large individual portions of peach cobbler. From Mr. Kelley's letter, however, it may be inferred that the losers did not lose out on the cobbler.
Clarence Hall, says the director, is the big fisherman of camp.
It is anticipated that others will give him a stiff race in the matter of catching fish. Strict orders have been issued by Mr. Kelley, it is understood, that no fish stories shall be told above a whisper.
In a ball game between an All-Star baseball team of boys, and a nine of camp leaders, John W. Cotton, local artist, covered himself with glory by slamming out a home run. This was not enough to win the game, however, and the boys came out with the long end of the score.
The 103 boys and the leaders at Camp Leon V. Shaw, as the place is named, are having the time of their lives, according to Mr. Kelley, and no accidents or sickness have occurred to mar the happy days.
A camp newspaper is being issued and an election is being held to decide upon a fit name for the sheet.

VISITORS AT CAMP BALDY
Camp Baldy was visited over the week end by a party from Southern Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bryant went up Friday morning and prepared camp. The others left at daylight Saturday morning and arrived about 8:30 a. m. before the sun had gotten into action. Those in the party were A. F. Barrett of 319 El Bonita avenue, who drove his Reo; Mrs. A. W. Welder, Miss Leo Vidler and Mrs. Hallie Harrower, all of 318 El Bonita avenue. Despite the heat, a pleasant time was had by all.

BACK FROM SAN DIEGO

OBJECT TO ORDINANCE
The new sign ordinance is not meeting much favor with Howard Buttery, proprietor of the Gateway Lunch Stand. He believes that its operation should have been limited to the congested business district.

REGAINING HIS HEALTH
H. G. Goss has recovered from an illness of several weeks' duration and has re-opened his optical shop at 1522 South San Fernando Road.

NAME IS SOUGHT FOR FRUIT STAND
Andy Peterson Buys Out H. C. Claussen; Making New Stucco Shed
Andy Peterson has bought out H. C. Claussen's interest in the fruit stand at 444 West Los Feliz Road and is now searching for an appropriate name.
Construction is now in progress for a new stucco shed which will front the sidewalk. The present building is twenty-five feet from the street.
Mr. Peterson lives in Los Angeles in order to get over to the wholesale market early in the morning before coming to Glendale.

Jack Harrison to Hold Auction Night
"I'm going to stir things up down here!" exclaimed Jack Harrison yesterday afternoon in Southern Glendale.
The Glendale Ark at 1508 South San Fernando Road, which is under his management, will be the scene Thursday night of an auction "spree."
Mr. Harrison promises a lively time for all who attend and incidentally many bargains.
The event is being extensively advertised locally and handbills have been distributed in Burbank.
Besides wicker furniture and other household items the hammer will fall on a one and a half ton truck, a Baby Grand Chevrolet and a 1919 Henderson motorcycle.

Operation Not Needed, George Harris Is Told
After a trip more than half way across the continent for consultation with the Mayo brothers of Rochester, Minn., George C. Harris of 1268 Mariposa avenue returned home Monday morning and his many friends will be glad to hear that he is much improved in health and that he will not have to undergo the operation he thought necessary.
Mr. Harris, who was formerly connected with the Glendale Pharmacy, had been ill for some time and under the care of western specialists, who recommended an operation. For final decision he went to the Mayo brothers.
The Mayo hospital and clinic is a wonderful institution, says Mr. Harris. So many thousand people come to the clinic that most of them are referred to one of the staff doctors. However, Mr. Harris was fortunate in consulting with both the Mayo brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Malch Visit Redondo Beach
The beach in the summer time and the mountains in the winter—that is the Sunday schedule of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Malch of 414 Fernando Court and their sons, "Bob," "Joe" and "Jimmy." Last Sunday they visited Redondo Beach. Mr. Malch, who is the proprietor of the blacksmith shop at 412 West Los Feliz Road, likes Long Beach, but says that it is difficult to find suitable parking space close to the ocean.
Rev. E. H. Willisford, former pastor of the First Congregational church of this city who is spending the month of July in Glendale, declares that "there is no rest for the wicked," so far as he is concerned.
Last Sunday he preached at the Olivet Congregational church at Washington and Magnolia streets, Los Angeles, and he is scheduled to occupy the pulpit of a Venice church on the first Sunday in August.
On Sunday Rev. Willisford took the place of Rev. Alfred Pomret, pastor of the Los Angeles church.

Reason as well as experience makes plain this fact: That adequate funeral direction can be furnished only with adequate equipment. Ability and experience also are essential but, without the fullest facilities for serving, right service is not possible. With most modern and most complete equipment, the L. G. Crooked Things In Store; Something to Be Done Away With Pretzels have at last come back to their own, according to F. W. Franklin, manager of the grocery department of the Gateway Market. He has received a large box full of these and says that he will sell them by the pound, by the curl, by the wiggle, by the knob or any other way the customer may desire. He makes no promises in regard to ability to quench the thirst generated.

Jellison Motor Co. New Name of Firm
The tire and tube business is holding up wonderfully well this summer, according to E. V. Jellison of the J. & K. Service, 1004-1006 South Brand boulevard, who is changing the name of his firm to the Jellison Motor Co.
In addition to conducting a garage, the Jellison Motor Co. is agent here for the Gardner Motor car line and Savage tires besides handling a full line of rims and rim parts and accessories. This week Mr. Jellison is offering a big bargain in non-skid fabric tires, 20x3 1/2 which retail regularly at $12.50. With each he will give a heavy red Michelin tube worth $2.80.
That ought to attract some attention at 1004-1006 South Brand boulevard, he says.

New Furniture Is Now Being Featured
"A vanity" is a fine name for a woman's dressing table, according to Ralph Pierce, who says that he doesn't believe many men have enough time now days to "make up" properly.
Several suites of new bedroom furniture are being displayed at 1529 South San Fernando Road by the Russell-Pierce Furniture company.
These are finished in Venetian Italian, Colonial and Tudor designs. All are constructed of walnut. Each set consists of four pieces, bed, chiffonier, dresser and vanity table.

SANDWICHES MAKE HIT
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mueller of 1417 South Central avenue and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Burkhard of St. Louis motored to the Tri-Beaches Sunday. Boiled ham, cooked from Mr. Mueller's butcher shop at 1414 South San Fernando Road made excellent filler for sandwiches and it was agreed that he was some sandwich maker.

ENTERTAIN FOR GUESTS
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Dick of 424 West Windsor Road had as their guests over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Frank Twaddle of Tulare. Mr. Dick is assistant manager of the Baldwin Shirt company's factory at 1725 South Brand boulevard. Mr. Twaddle will represent this firm upon his return home.

COME FROM SAN PEDRO
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Danner of 1631 Gardena avenue were visited Sunday by Dr. Danner's brother and brother-in-law, Ed Danner and G. E. Martin, of San Pedro. They motored up and were accompanied home by Mr. Danner's father, J. R. Danner, who spent last week in Southern Glendale.

VISITORS AT SANTA CRUZ
The Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company of 460 West Los Feliz Road have received word from Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bentley of 1361 North Columbus avenue that they have motored from Yosemite to Santa Cruz where they will spend this week before returning home.

RESIDENT OF GLENDALE
F. W. Franklin, manager of the Gateway Market denies this his new home will be in Los Angeles. Its number is 1822 Vassar street. He says that this is as much in Glendale as the city hall.

WEATHER BAD FOR RADIO MESSAGES
No Such Thing as Permanent Receiving Radius Because of Storms
The radius of a wireless depends entirely upon the quantity of static in the air, according to A. H. Mayne of the Gateway battery service station.
Yesterday afternoon he called attention to the fact that the present "thunder storm weather" is particularly unfavorable to wireless telephony because the air is filled with static.
He says that there is no such thing as a permanent receiving radius for a specified wireless set because a set which cannot hear over fifty miles in the summer may be able to hear several thousand in the winter time.
Mr. Mayne does not believe that the wireless business will be very rushing until the arrival of cold weather.

Deaths and Funerals

WILLIAM R. PIGG
Funeral services for William R. Pigg, proprietor of the Pigg Department store in Lankershim, will be held at 2 o'clock today afternoon, Tuesday, July 18, 1922, in the chapel of L. G. Scovren. Interment will be at Grand View cemetery.

Mr. Pigg was a prominent Mason and well known in the San Fernando valley. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Josephine Pigg, and several brothers and sisters in Missouri.

MRS. LOUISE MANUEL
The body of Mrs. Louise Manuel will be shipped back to her former home in Brewster, Minnesota, tomorrow, Wednesday, July 19, 1922, under the direction of Pulliam-Kiefer and Eyerick. It will be accompanied by her husband, Edward Manuel.

Mr. Manuel passed away Saturday, July 15, 1922, at 340 West Doran street, where she was residing with her daughter, Mrs. V. C. Anderson. She is survived also by three sons in the middle west.

Births

Twin girls were born yesterday morning, Monday, July 17, 1922, at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. Their mother is Mrs. W. L. Marsh of Los Angeles.

Balloons Get Tired Of Jazzing, Says Miss Sara Pollard

The R. L. Kent company of 130 South Brand boulevard is advertising Glendale Gardens' gold gifts by a flock of balloons being blown about by an electric fan in one of their display windows.

The green and yellow globes seem to survive the ordeal very well, but the red boys are burst and lay like wrecks of real balloons.

"I guess they got tired jazzing about," commented Miss Sara Pollard, bookkeeper for the Kent company, this morning.

John Bolen Tells About Palos Verdes

Palos Verdes and its possibilities were discussed by John J. Bolen before the Glendale Chamber of Commerce directors meeting this evening and officers to have E. G. Lewis, the head of this great development project, address the organization on the subject.

Many other minor matters were considered and the following list of new members submitted: Twedell's Lunch Room, Victor E. Twedell, 207 W. Broadway; Lexington Drug Co., S. C. Tackler, Lexington drive and Brand Blvd.

Two Restaurant Men Purchase Glen Inn

L. R. Boulais and C. J. Pagnones have purchased the Glen Inn in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce building at 223 S. Brand boulevard, and took charge this morning. Messrs. Dunning and Jassby, the former owners, are retiring from business here after the former has established one of the most beautiful cafes in the southland.

Messrs. Boulais and Pagnones come here from Los Angeles, although they are better known in Minneapolis, Minn., and Aberdeen, S. D., where they operated high-class restaurants. They have plans for improving the local establishment and standardizing its cuisine so that patronage will come from all over southern California.

Hot? Look What It Was at Coachella!

How warm is hot? is what Glendale people ought to figure out before they complain about the heat in these parts, says Mrs. Frank Echols, who spent the past week-end at the Echols date ranch in the Coachella valley.

"It was 112 degrees in the house," said Mrs. Echols, "and a whole lot hotter outside. I can't give the exact temperature for outside except to quote the U. S. government inspector, located a few miles from our ranch, who said that were the thermometer stuck in the sand under the date trees in the orchard, it would register 160 degrees, and that's hot."

LEAVE FOR NORTH

Mrs. W. S. Ingram and daughter, Jean, 326 West Broadway, left today for San Francisco via steamship. They were accompanied by Mrs. William Ingram of Oakland, who has been visiting at the Ingram residence here for the past two weeks. Mrs. W. S. Ingram and daughter plan to remain in the north about six weeks.

Seldom Engaged In War

"Despite the ferocious connotation of his name the primitive Hottentot seldom engaged in war. He was accounted gentle and tractable. His most explosive quality was his language, now rapidly disappearing which was easily enough so far as the noises that sound like a fuse had just burned out, and also in respect to its vowelized syllables, but the rapid combination of the two few white men could imitate. There was little reason for the Hottentot to fight, since all he required for his simple communal life was a patch of grass. In the evening he danced and sang and smoked. His musical instruments were few. The characteristic orchestral piece was the gorah, a crude sort of mouth organ made of a hollow stick and the entrails of a sheep. A drum and a reed which had the quality of a flute completed the list."

HOTTENTOT IS NOT ALL TO BLAME FOR METAPHOR

Primitive People, Said by Many to Be Ferocious, Very Rarely Fight

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Pity the poor Hottentot! He has been misused as a metaphor for irascibility, which he scarcely deserves.

His name represents a Dutch effort to imitate the speech, which cannot be spelled in Dutch, English or any other language.

And, after all, his quaint clicking and clucking is not so different from the method by which a farmer summons his chickens, a huckster signals his horse to move along, or the plain "tut, tut" of anyone who is annoyed.

These facts are set forth in a bulletin from the National Geographical society's Washington, D. C. headquarters concerning the recent outbreak among Hottentots in the southwest Africa which was formerly German but now is a British mandate.

Required New Symbols
"The philologists have done better by Hottentotese than they have by our own language," says the bulletin. "For they have devised symbols for tongue tricks that resemble the cracking of a whip and pulling a cork from an empty bottle whereas these and other symbols of our own everyday use can only be described, not written."

"If you will pronounce the three syllables of 'Hottentot' with snap and vigor you will gain an idea of the onomatopoeic quality of the Dutch appellation for the Khoi-Khoi, or 'men of men,' as they prefer to call themselves.

Formerly the Hottentots ranged through most of southern Africa. Today they are to be found mostly in the Cape Colony and in southwest Africa. Few pure Hottentots remain even in those places. Their origin long formed a fascinating problem for students of human races. Some thought they were an offshoot of the Caucasians, isolated in prehistoric times. Others believed them to be the missing Hamites. At present they are generally classified as a blending of many centuries ago between the Banu natives and the Bushmen.

Some Ways Like Ours
"There are some surprising parallels between the customs of this primitive people and those of our own civilization. They are good conservationists. They camp in places where pasture lands are rich, but move before the grass has been depleted. Their exercises upon settling in a new kraal resemble rural American 'house warming' ceremonies. Women bring flowers, herbs, and foliage to an arbor which forms the center of the homestead. Murder is punished severely but if the miscreant escapes and is not caught within a year he is immune, a legal practice suggestive of our time limit upon debt collection.

The chief levy a tax upon hunters consisting of certain quarters of the animals killed, and distribute this meat to the poor. But this communal care does not extend to the aged or to children who are deformed or crippled. Frequently both are killed.

"When the young Hottentot's fancy turns to love he informs his parents, they choose a wife by arrangement with the father of a likely maid, and then the prospective bridegroom and all his relatives drive several fat oxen to the home of his lady-love. The oxen are slain for the wedding breakfast, which is an all-day feast, and a tribal patriarch sprinkles the couple in a manner suggestive of Christian baptism.

West Virginia to Vindicate Her Name

HUNTINGTON, W. Va.—West Virginia is preparing to launch a nation wide campaign of vindication.

A long series of industrial troubles, dating from the Cabin and Paint Creek wars in 1912-1913, to the march of miners against Logan county in the late summer of 1921, has brought the little mountain state into disrepute throughout the country.

Newspapers and magazines have launched salvo after salvo of abuse upon West Virginia, characterizing the state as a sort of habitat of arch-criminals and gunmen, ruled with the iron hand of an invisible government.

Outside of the circle of mountains and rivers which surround West Virginia it is generally supposed that the inhabitants are mainly mountain desperadoes who "pack" big automatics "on their hips," and who sit in church with long Winchester between their knees.

The Huntington Kiwanis club fired the opening gun of the vindication campaign when a committee was appointed to prepare an outline of the publicity drive and to enlist the support of civic and commercial bodies throughout the state.

Mountain communities have always suffered because of their romantic character, it is pointed out. Chicago may be rocked with the explosion of bombs of an industrial war, a band of high-waymen may steal a half million dollars from a New York mail truck—these crimes are interesting and dramatic. Yet they lack some of the picturesque detail of the mountain crime. With the southern mountains as a background it's easy to throw in the bitter feud, the muzzle loading rifles and the zealous in a wild, craggy hollow for local color.

All this makes for headlines and front pages.
The life of the majority—the ordinary town and country existence, quite like that of any other state—is forgotten for the depredations of the minority.

A lot of miners have been living in tents. They were inspected by Rabbi Wise's committee. And true enough they have suffered and are yet, they are not nearly as unfortunate as thousands of occupants of metropolitan tenement houses.

West Virginia is spending millions for roads and schools. The development of the country, while naturally difficult because of the rough topography is making progress, and officials and leaders in civic work have expressed the hope that the state will take its place with others of America, provided some of its enemies from without forget their animosity and lend, rather than withdraw, the helping hand.

Official Dispatched Into Riot Section

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 18.—Following receipt of a telegram from Governor E. F. Morgan, W. Va., relative to the invasion of Pennsylvania by miners of West Virginia, Governor Sprout dispatched Major Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of Pennsylvania state police and twenty-five privates to the riot section.

Blame Radicals for Rail Yard Blazes

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Radicals, apparently taking advantage of the local railroad shop strike situation, have set two fires in the Southern Pacific yards, causing damage of more than $1,000, according to reports under investigation by the police and county officers. Three box cars loaded with merchandise were discovered ablaze in the yards near Elysian park, the report stated.

spirations, education and recreation. He took up each of these items and discussed them fully.

Way to Handle Boys

In his address Mr. Moore also spoke of the proper methods of handling boys. Mistakes which are often made by boy leaders who don't realize that they are wrongly treating the boys, were pointed out.

"The boy who succeeds should be rewarded," he stated, "but the boy who fails should be encouraged."

The Round Table discussion which followed Mr. Moore's talk was designed to permit the leaders to exchange experiences in handling boys, so that they might learn from each other's experience the proper stand to take under varying conditions.

Those present at the meeting were Ellis P. Moore, Jr., San Pedro; M. E. Hill, Tujunga; Leo L. Lang, Tujunga; F. M. Rentsch, Eagle Rock; Fred Schnoor, Eagle Rock; Robert N. Taylor, Glendale; Frank C. Ayers, Glendale; Walter Sullivan, Glendale; F. M. Gilmer, Tujunga; and H. F. Benner of Glendale.

Stephens Qualifies for Primary Ballot

SACRAMENTO, July 18.—Governor William D. Stephens qualified for a place on the primary ballot for re-election. Petitions from Sacramento county, carrying 2,506 signatures, served to place the governor's name on the ballot without the aid of petitions from other sections. The petitions filed here were the largest ever received from any candidate in this county.

Get $185 in Cash, Not Realizing It

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Cigarette thieves, breaking into a restaurant in South Figueroa street unwittingly stole $185 in cash when they emptied the tobacco supply of the restaurant into a suitcase and made their escape.

According to police reports, J. S. Baylis, proprietor of the restaurant, told them that when he had closed the cafe last evening he hid the day's receipts in one of the cartons of cigarettes which was stolen.

had lunch with the board of directors.

"We feel that the Chamber of Commerce is for Glendale," remarked Mrs. Ticht. "It should be behind this as strongly as possible and get in and finish this financial campaign up."

Excitement was reported from the vicinity of Broadway and Glendale avenue yesterday when surveyors in the employ of the Universal Construction company of Los Angeles arrived on the scene and took the actual measurements of the property.

Hold Conference

A conference was held this afternoon between C. W. Ingledue, president of the East Glendale Advancement association, and Charles Marshall of 525 South Central avenue, chairman of the hotel committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Meanwhile, the financial campaign is still in progress. Solicitors have been invited to call Thursday morning at the offices of Sam Seelig's and Chaffee's chain stores in Los Angeles. The Ralphs Grocery company has pledged a subscription already.

Among the latest to buy bonds are the following: George B. White, Harry A. Read, Alister Hart, Julius Kranz, Judge F. J. Lowe, R. C. Lowe Building company, Harry E. White, Inc., E. Rumble, Pendroy's Department store, Henry H. Pettit, Mattison B. Jones, Miss Sara E. Pollard, Glendale Plumbing company and Stephen W. Huntington.

Coal Operators in Favor Peace Project

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The bituminous coal operators have informed President Harding that they were willing to accept his arbitration proposal to end the national coal strike.

The operators, in accepting the president's peace offer, placed all their properties and their own services at the command of the government, in establishing tranquil operations in the coal industry.

They accepted the arbitration plan without reservations, but three supplemental reports were submitted to the president outlining difficulties in the more important producing fields which might make it impossible for the president's plan to be carried out as intended.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

What Does Mexico Think? Keeping Up With Glendale Greatest Woman Writer California Crops Do Well

By Gil A. Cowan

THE further the coal and rail strikes go the farther from peaceful shores they seem to be. Soon they will be swept out into the current and over the falls into the whirlpool to destruction.

When a walk-out is called one cannot appreciate the significance of its finish, the bitterness, the heartaches, the suffering. It is a waste of time and money and production, this strike business, and the government should have ways and means of stopping the bloodshed.

What must Mexico think to read of our mine battles? What must London say about the murders and crimes occurring here? Well, we have a good idea. Haven't you?

Glendale is experiencing a wonderful change. It is hard to keep up with the growth of the city, as evidenced what Dr. E. H. Willisford, former pastor of the Congregational church, who now has a charge in Houston, Texas.

The business men and merchants are hardly recognizable after a year or two of absence. Sure enough. There's one or two whom you can drag from behind the counters here and there as the boys of yesterday, but the people who are meeting you today have changed mentally, if not physically, with one or two exceptions.

And in those singular cases where a business man has not kept step with progress and prosperity it is almost pitiable, his plight. "Up and at it! Let's go. Grow with Glendale!"

Once a week we look to others for ideas. Here is one from the Hollywood Daily Citizen's editorial column:

Naming of the 12 greatest women seems to be a popular indoor sport these days. On almost every list are the names Carrie Chapman Catt and Edith Wharton. But now Mrs. Catt has prepared a list and omits Mrs. Wharton. We wonder if Mrs. Wharton will make us a list now and leave out Mrs. Catt.

Mrs. Catt names Mary Roberts Rinehart in the place of Mrs. Wharton. It will be admitted that Mrs. Rinehart is a distinguished personality and a pretty fair writer. But if popularity rather than art is the criterion of literary greatness, our greatest woman is Laura Jean Libbey.

"Crops Are Doing Well In California," says the Pasadena Star-News in the following dissertation:

Favorable reports come from the deciduous orchards and the grain fields of California. Weather conditions generally have been favorable to the ripening of fruits and the growing of grain. While the yield of fruits in some localities is much lessened because of frost damage last spring, yet the excellence of the crop and the scarcity of fruit bring the growers correspondingly larger returns.

This status prevails every year of lessened production. When either the deciduous or the citrus crops, or both, are damaged by frost and when the production is decreased thereby, a better market is found for the lessened yield. Seldom is there serious damage to fruit crops, the state over, and these infrequent seasons of lighter crops bring better prices, as stated. Consequently, orchardists are pretty well compensated, even in seasons of decreased production.

A practicable method for California growers is to diversify crops and not depend wholly upon one kind of fruit. If the grower has sufficient acreage, it is well to have several varieties of fruit and perhaps to raise some crops other than fruit, so that no season can he suffer a total loss.

EZEKIEL M'CALL'S AMBITION: LIVE TO 100 YEARS

He Is 92 Now and Going Strong; Long Experience In Business World

In 1900 the furniture store was sold, Mr. McCall going to Los Angeles, where he purchased a small grocery store "just to have something to do." This he conducted until seven years ago, when he retired from active business, coming to Glendale at that time.

Heard Abe Lincoln

Mr. McCall's greatest regret is the fact that, during the past twelve months, his hearing and eyesight have failed him to the extent that he is unable to longer enjoy his two favorite pastimes—reading and listening to lectures and speeches. Always a brilliant student and the possessor of an exceptionally keen mind he spent a large amount of his leisure time in attending high-class lectures. Among the many famous speakers which he heard were Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas in their historic Lincoln-Douglas debates.

According to Mr. McCall, his greatest enjoyment during his declining years consists of "talking to the women, playing cards, taking his daily walks and riding in an automobile." He is unusually vigorous, walking many blocks every day. With his sure step and mixed gray hair he appears to be around 70 years old.

Mr. McCall has as his two competitors in the "family" race to reach the century mark his two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Adeline Hart, 88, and Mrs. Caroline M. Sparr, 76, both of 234 South Jackson street, this city.

With a population of over 30,000 inhabitants it is hardly probable that Glendale can boast of but four persons over 90 years of age. If you know of a man or woman who has passed the ninetieth milestone kindly communicate with The Evening News so that their name shall be placed on our "roll of honor."

The present list includes: Charles Beck, 122 North Castle avenue, Eagle Rock, 92. Charles Mallett, 1111 East Lexington Drive, 91. Mrs. Lucinda Houghtaling, 137 West Acacia avenue, 92. Ezekiel McCall, 426 South Adams street, 92.

With a brisk step and broad smile Charles Mallett, 91-year-old resident of 111 East Lexington drive, walked into The Evening News office this morning to get a copy of the paper containing the sketch of his life.

"There's a nearby city," said Mr. Mallett with a chuckle, "that had a story in one of the papers the other day about a man who is 91 and one would think he was the oldest man in the world. When I looked at the date of his birth I found I was older than he, but even at that I'm a lively youth for 91, don't you think?"

Declines to Order Troops to Disorders

RALEIGH, N. C., July 18.—Governor Morrison declined to send troops immediately to Rocky Mount, where disorders are reported in the railway shopmen's strike and expressed the opinion that an injunction issued by Judge Connors would "bring the excited persons to their senses." Governor Morrison said, however, that if the threatened disorders did not cease immediately, he would throw "every military power in the state against them."
